City officials told of need for expansion

Cramped court seeks more space

BY HANK MEIJER

If more space can't be provided in Plymouth City Hall, Plymouth-Canton's 35th District Court may have to rent commercial office space to relieve its cramped quarters, Judge Dunbar Davis told city commissioners Monday.

Davis appeared before a joint session of the city commission and the city's planning commission, meeting to discuss projects that may receive federal revenue-sharing funds.

The judge described how in the present court facility, the jury meets in a former storage room, while felons wait for sentencing out in the corridor. And there's no place but the corridor where attorneys can meet with their clients.

"I'm proud of my courtroom, and proud of my office," said 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis, "But I hang my head a bit when an attorney asks me where he can confer with his client."

"I wouldn't want to be thought of as a complainer," Davis said, "but we have grown quite a bit."

The courtroom in city hall was built in 1962 to accommodate what was then a municipal court. When the district court system was adopted in 1969, the courtroom began to serve the townships of Plymouth and Canton as well as the city.

Last year Davis processed some 12,000 cases - heavy load which drew praise from commissioners.

His offices, he said, were designed for one full-time and one part-time clerk. Today the court employs 12 full-time clerks and five part-time, with three employees in an office originally designed for one, and two clerks and file cabinets in what was intended as the jury room.

With an average of a one jury trial per week, Davis said, the jurors can confer only in the city commission chambers - when they are not in use - or in a 5' x 12' former storage room.

"You can jam six people in there for a jury," he noted, "But I'm really embarrassed at the way we have to shift people around."

The court reporter doesn't even have a desk - just a file cabinet in the former jury room. The judge said another part-time clerk is needed, but there's no place to put one.

More disconcerting, Davis said, is the lack of any conference space where attorneys can talk privately with their clients. Said the judge, "I'm proud of the courtroom, and proud of my office, but I hang my head a bit when an attorney asks me where he can confer with his client."

Davis noted also that among the 12,000 cases he handles in a year, a small percentage involve people "who are dangerous," and for whom the court has no temporary cell.

"We have had people from Northville State Hospital and the Detroit House of Corrections," he said. "They often have to sit in the hallway for a couple of hours (awaiting trial) and that's not very desirable."

'Supersewer' plan wins townships' OK

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton and Plymouth townships voted to help build the Wayne County-sponsored "super sewer" last week, a move that could give both communities greatly increased sewer capacity in five years.

The townships agreed to pay their share of design and planning of the sewer which is proposed to run from White Lake in Oakland County, south through western Wayne County to the Huron River. It would then follow the Huron to a treatment plant at Lake Erie.

"It's hard to predict, but it might be finished in five years," said Canton Supervisor Harold Stein.

The decision to go along with the plan of Wayne County's Department of Public Works represents something of a switch for Canton.

Since last summer Stein has been working on setting up a breakaway sewer authority composed of just the communities along the sewer's route to float the bonds and build it.

Stein's work was prompted by a fear shared by many western Wayne communities that City of Detroit representatives, through the County government,

City joins suburb pact

With Commissioner Beverly McAninch dissenting, Plymouth City Commissioners Monday voted to join a newly-organized Wayne County Association of Local Government Officials.

Mrs. McAninch said she suspected the group, which is to include suburban officials, might further polarize suburban politicians and their counterparts in the City of Detroit.

Positions the group might take on major issues affecting communities throughout the county - transportation, for example, or sewers - might be in opposition to those of Detroit, Mayor Tom Turner admitted.

Govt. doors close

Plymouth City Hall and township offices in Canton will be closed all day Friday in observance of Good Friday. Plymouth Township offices will close at noon.

AFTER SWERVING TO AVOID another car going west on M-14, Frank Bennett, 54, crashed into a utility pole early Wednesday morning, Wayne County Sheriffs report.

Bennett was taken to the hospital, but was not believed seriously injured, a Sheriff's Department spokesman said. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

City to resurface several streets

Plymouth City Commissioners Monday directed City Manager Fred Yockey to draw up plans for a $204,000 resurfacing program which will affect portions of nine major city streets.

Due to be repaved in what is likely to be the city's 1978 resurfacing program are: Main Street from Ann Arbor Trail to Amelia, Penniman Avenue from Main to Union (adjacent to Kellogg Park), Fralick Street from Harvey to Main, Starkweather Street from Main to Mill, Burroughs Street from Main to Harding, Church Street from Harvey to Main, Adams Street from Church to Farmer, Hartsough Street from Main to Roosevelt, and Harvey Street from Penniman to Junction. The stretch of Church from Harvey to Main was last resurfaced in 1938, while none of the streets have been repaved since 1959.

Cost of the projects will be split between property owners on those streets and the city, with the rate of assessment for property with residential zoning lower than that for property with non-residential zoning.

The affected portions of Fralick, Main, Penniman and Starkweather have commercial or office zoning and will bear a higher assessment.

Jaycee jelly sale to aid ailing Joey

The Plymouth Jaycees will be selling jelly during the week of April 2 through April 15 at two shopping centers to help Joe Crissey of Plymouth.

Joe, a seventh grader at Our Lady of Good Counsel school in Plymouth, has dystonia, a rare muscle disease. He has been afflicted with it since he was six.

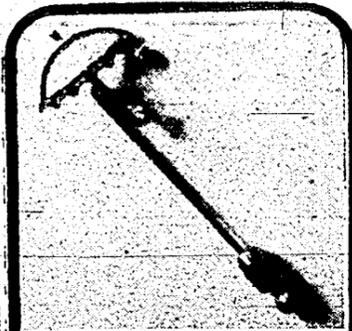

Joe is scheduled to undergo an operation this year in New York. While his hospital costs are covered, funds are needed to cut the travel expenses of his parents, who will have to make several trips to New York during Joe's eight week convalescence.

The Jaycees want to help pay those expenses, they say.

For each $1 jar of jelly sold, the Jaycees will contribute 45 cents to the Joe Crissey fund.

The jelly will be sold at the KMart shopping plaza on Ann Arbor and Haggerty roads and at Plymouth Square shopping plaza at Sheldon and Ann Arbor roads in Plymouth Township.

Schools: program requires levy OK

According to school officials, the 4.5 mills on the April 27 ballot are needed to keep class sizes at about 28 students, continue an adequate supply of textbooks and library materials, and employ enough "well-qualified professionals for a complete basic program."

PLUS starts kids learning

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday night heard a review of all the preschool learning program in the district.

The PLUS program, the Infant-Preschool Special Education program and the preschool nursery at Canton High School are all aimed at giving kids a head start going into kindergarten, the respective directors said.

For four-year-olds only, the PLUS program works closely with parents to give the child extra academic help, counseling and socialization adjustment.

The special education program, for handicapped children less than a year through six years, also puts a strong emphasis on helping the parents.

"Parents are the best teachers of the children," said Mary Nutter, supervisor of the program.

The 4.5 total is the sum of 3 mills up for renewal and an extra 1.5 needed for growth and inflation, say the schools.

Gas and electric bills, for example, will go up by 30 per cent, an increase of $380,000, "even with strict conservation measures," says a summary of the millage proposal written by the schools.

Other factors which mean higher costs for the district include: 36 new teachers needed for the additional students expected next year; six buses and three minibuses for 1978-79; continuation of Extended School Year (ESY) which "Prevents overbuilding, but costs us more than $400,000 for the six schools now operating on this calendar."

The other millage request on the ballot is a 0.5 levy for 10 years for building improvements and maintenance. "Over the 10-year period this 0.5 mill levy will provide approximately 4.3 million dollars that is earmarked and can only be used for buildings and facilities," the schools said.

The 4.5 mills are also needed to meet labor costs of negotiated contracts with teachers, aides, bus drivers, administrators, secretaries and maintenance staff, said the schools.

Also, the money is needed to "implement the goal-based curriculum to assure K-12 continuity and district-wide coordination."

Twp. receives new budget

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees was expected last night to approve a nearly $1.3 million general operating budget for 1978-79.

Planned expenditures of more than $1.28 million represent an increase of some $148,000 - or 12.9 per cent - over estimated expenditures of $1.139 million in the 1977-78 fiscal year. Anticipated revenues balance with those figures.

The township board was expected to approve the budget at its annual settlement meeting following a public hearing last night.

Spending increases are planned across the board, but only moderate ones that are expected to be offset by a jump in property tax revenues, said Supervisor Tom Notebaert.

The township approved a deficit budget last year, the first time in its history. But spending fell short of what was anticipated, and a $60,000 balance was carried forward into the new budget.

The biggest single item in the 1978-79 township budget is the fire department, which has been allocated $409,000 this year. The fire department received $426,000 last year, but this year Social Security and fringe benefit costs for firefighters and other township employees have been lumped in a single $109,000 budget item. Fire department expenditures are actually projected to increase.

Township officials say recent, more costly, labor contracts, along with rising utility costs and other price increases have forced township spending to increase.

But Notebaert insisted, "We operate very conservatively. I know sometimes people say we are too conservative."

In increasing its recreation budget from current spending of $41,000 to more than $69,000, the township is planning to make its part-time parks and recreation chief a full-time employee and improve roads and add shuffleboard courts at the Township Park.

Maternity leave set

Canton officials approved a maternity leave policy for township employees last week. Trustee Bob Myers voted no on the policy.

Employees on maternity leave will not receive pay during the time they are on leave, said Finance Director Mike Gorman, but insurance provided to employees will still be in effect.

Center probers meet

Governor William Milliken's task force investigating patient abuse at the Plymouth Center for Human Development will meet for a second session today in Lansing.

Sources report that the meeting will last from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and will be held at the Commerce Center Building in Lansing. Agenda items were not available by press time.

Hospital chief quits

John J. Zugich, director of Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, has announced his intention to resign April 7.

His resignation was accepted "with regret" by V. A. Stehman, M.D., acting director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, who announced that John S. Reynolds, associate director of the hospital, would become acting director pending selection of a new director.

Mr. Zugich, formerly associate director of University of Michigan Hospital, was appointed Northville director in Jan. 1976.

He said his decision to resign was made in January and "has nothing to do with the recent changes in Department administration.

"The reason," he said is to devote more time to family and personal matters and less to scheduled or professional activities."

Reynolds, 51 was formerly coordinator of mental health services in the Detroit-Wayne metropolitan region.

Anti-nepotism move fails

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: March 22, 1978

A motion to prohibit the hiring of relatives in Canton died for lack of support among township trustees.

Canton trustee Lynne Goldsmith introduced the motion, saying "as we continue to grow, it becomes important that we not hire relatives.

It looks like favoritism if we hire our own relatives?" Goldsmith' resolution would not have allowed a husband and wife to work in the same department, members of immediate families not to work in same department and hire no relatives of a board member, department heads or supervisory personnel. Trustee Brian Schwall said the motion was "unconstitutional and discriminating. Are we concerned with the appearance of hiring relatives or hiring relatives" he asked Goldsmith.

Planners eye compromise; sign limits still uncertain

A bonus system for using natural materials, 'carry-over' architecture from buildings to signs and new height and setback requirements in all zoning districts were discussed Monday at the Canton Planning Commission's study meeting on the controversial sign ordinance amendment.

According to Planning Commission Chairman Bob Padgett, the "most difficult issue" to resolve now in the ordinance will be deciding which signs in the township are to be non-conforming.

Canton Finance Director Mike Gorman said he wasn't sure about the legality of the motion, but mentioned that "sometimes there are problems with husband and wife working in the same department. They could bring their problems to work," he said.

"It is unfair to both parties," said Clerk John Flodin. "Lynne, I was in substantial agreement with you on this, but after hearing Brian, I don't know. Should the child pay because his parent is working for the township?"

Township Planner George Peek was directed by the planning commissioners to revise the sign ordinance draft and return in two weeks with a new one.

Following a slide presentation by a sign maker who endorsed making signs from natural materials and denounced merchants in the audience for being "insensitive to good sign design," discussion centered around a suggestion from the League of Women Voters on a bonus system.

Ruling late in Twp. Shooting

A ruling from the Wayne County Prosecutor's office on the shooting death of a Plymouth Township man Feb. 19 by two Wayne County Sheriff Deputies has been delayed, the Sheriff's Department reports.

School seats up

Two four-year terms on the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education will be filled at the June 12 school election. Candidates must be registered voters and live in the school district.

Gary Lowell, a sign maker who works primarily with wood and brick urged the planning commission to adopt a sign ordinance that would "go beyond the normal diatribe of sign usage in a community. When they are forced to do something tasteful, they'll do it," he told commissioners.

"These things take a long time," said Det. Alex Robertson. "Sometimes longer than we expect."

Candidates must file nominating petitions with the Secretary of the Board by 4 p.m., Monday, April 10. Petitions must be signed by a minimum of twenty registered voters.

"We're not out here to make signs look pretty for someone, I want them (customers) to know what we're doing," one merchant said.

Vester Holland, 54, was fatally shot at his home on Elmhurst Street in Plymouth Township after deputies responded to a call of 'family trouble' there, according to Det. Robertson.

Petitions are available at the Board of Education office, 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

However, Bill Tesen, spokesperson for the Canton Chamber of Commerce sign committee said, "We're not asking for

Hiring of cops barred in Canton

BY DONNA LOMAS

Chief Walter MacGregor of the Canton police force was prevented Monday night from recommending four full-time sergeants to the township board after township officials were served Monday afternoon with a court order barring them from hiring the four sergeants.

The four part-time sergeants of the Canton police, Roger Pearsall, Donald Tillman, Donald LaFramboise and Paul Goff filed the petition asking the court to intervene and allow them to become party to the Carl Silver's lawsuit. (see related story next page).

Silver's case is set to be heard March 30. The court order further bars township officials from hiring until then. "We feel forced into this position because of what the board did last Tuesday," said James Garber, attorney for the four and the Canton Police Officer's Association (CPOA). "We thought we were rolling along and suddenly the whole thing collapsed."

Garber said the four filed the petition in their own names, not CPOA's, although they are members of it. John Longridge, president of the CPOA, said "we're backing them."

One of the four, Goff, is not certified. Longridge said

Silvers says Canton broke his contract

Carl Silvers, former coordinator of the Canton reserve police filed suit last Tuesday against Canton township saying the township has breached its contract with him and "discriminated against him for political reasons."

Silver's lawyer, Andrew Muth of Ann Arbor, said that since Chief Walter MacGregor was to recommend four sergeants for the Canton force last Tuesday; (MacGregor was apparently not ready; the item was struck from the agenda before the meeting and before Muth spoke) "they had no choice but to make it (the suit) public."

Muth said informal negotiations had been going on with the township since last October.

The township is being charged with breach of contract, discriminating against Silvers "for political reasons" and facts, said Muth, that indicate Silvers was relied on as a commanding officer, and did rely on remaining as a commanding officer with the Canton force once it went full-time. Silver's position now is commander of the police reserve under Chief MacGregor's direction.

if the case is successful, Goff would be sent for certification "right away, no question about it."

"It is a question of returning what they have," said Garber.

"They are holding up the full time police department" said Supervisor Harold Stein, adding that with the sergeant's hiring the force would have been ready to go full time "almost immediately."

"We should consider setting the pay scale for sergeants that do not meet the qualifications for those we had advertised for and were to be hired this evening," said Stein.

Clerk John Flodin agreed. "While we feel they are capable they do not have the skills we advertised for, like eight years experience," said Flodin.

If the township is forced by the court to hire the sergeants as full time, Flodin suggested they set their pay at $12,443 - $100 more than a patrolman's salary.

Trustee Bob Myers was the only trustee to vote against the motion.

Last week, township trustees unanimously agreed to a resolution on hiring of full time police officers for the township.

Both Garber and township attorney Burt Burgoyne said it was "a compromise," but the CPOA took issue with three of six items in the proposal, saying they were "redundant."

Garber said the CPOA members who currently serve on Canton's part-time force have already "been through a battery of 40 tests taken in the past 18 months."

CPOA members objected to the written exam, the medical exam ("same as township secretaries take - a farce," Garber said), and the agility test.

"Why be redundant?" Garber asked. "Nobody can tell if those tests bear any relation to whether or not you'll get a good police officer."

Garber said the CPOA was in agreement with the oral interview by three qualified police professionals, five psychological tests and the experience and education factors.

"The proposal is fair to both sides," said Burgoyne. "It gives the CPOA their principal demand of not going outside their group to hire. I don't know how we could dispense with those three items."

Trustee Brian Schwall motioned to pass the resolution, saying "It seems fair and equitable and the best means of establishing a full time department."

Longridge said no decision had been made by the CPOA on filing a lawsuit against the township over the resolution on hiring practices.

Sign ordinance needs compromise

It is time for the two polarized sides in Canton's proposed sign ordinance discussion to face a few facts of life.

No ordinance in the township's history has led a more complicated, controversial or amended existence than this newest proposed change in the sign ordinance.

One thing is for certain: whatever the content of the sign ordinance once it is finally passed, it will be a compromise between beauty and bucks. Not everyone will be happy with it.

If both sides begin to accept that, Canton has a lot less chance in the future of becoming another avenue of sign eyesores or a deterrent to business because of its sign ordinance.

Shopkeepers in Canton certainly ought to be able to adequately advertise their goods and services. Residents in Canton shouldn't have to tolerate ugly signs.

But what is adequate advertising? How do you define ugly? When? Where? How?

The politics and emotions that cloud the issue make it worse. And with elections coming up this year, there is no telling what kind of havoc could be done in mishandling Canton's sign ordinance.

It is difficult enough to define aesthetics, and applying it to sign regulation is near impossible. It is all in the eye of the beholder and that is another fact both sides in the sign dispute should accept.

The purists who would have no signs at all (if they could get away with it) decry those who want signs as profit-minded, with no thought for the visual environment of the township and no regard for residents who must tolerate the garish, crass things. They bring emotion to the discussion and disguise their simplistic attitude as progressive.

The shopkeepers and merchants, on the other hand, are selfish. They have a legitimate need to advertise to the buying public. But they often connect bigger with better and suspect any sign that cannot be seen from a car going more than 50 miles per hour as ineffective. They foster politics and seem to care only for their individual signs — to heck with the rest of the merchants.

It isn't a question of which side will win when the sign ordinance is passed in Canton. It is a question of which will lose.

Both sides will lose too much unless the politics and emotions are put aside and the give and take really begins.

Appeals decision myopic

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education made a short-sighted decision when it granted appeals of the random selection process on a neighborhood basis.

For this year only, the board agreed to switch assignments of students who would be separated from their neighborhoods by going to one high school or the other.

It's always tempting to bend policies when a small group of parents complain, but for the sake of consistency and credibility the board must resist.

Although the board altered random selection to try to split neighborhoods evenly in the future, it's likely that some seventh graders getting their assignments this year will be separated from many friends in their neighborhood.

Will the board bend the policy again for these students?

Its decision last Monday will certainly increase the pressure.

More cop testing unfair

EDITOR:

In 1976 I felt that any police officer working for Canton should be certified or under very close supervision of a certified officer. The township eventually sent 14 men to the Criminal Justice Institute for certification; and, more recently, another eight officers were certified.

A certified police officer is a person who is deemed to be competent as a law enforcement officer by those who set the standards and train officers. The township now has 22 certified officers (not including Chief MacGregor or Mr. Silvers). Each of these men are fully qualified to be a police officer with no questions asked. Each is a resident of the township and have, for quite some time, been acting as a patrolman.

It is grossly unfair to these certified officers, who want to work full-time with the police department, that they undergo further testing and competitive examinations for patrolman positions with non-residents. Moreover, it is unfair to the people to wait for establishment of a full-time department while the township is playing games. We have enough qualified men to have a full-time department now.

Mr. Stein should be warned that he is making a political mistake by hedging against hiring present certified officers. He just might go the way of his predecessor.

The numbers game

In the beginning, there was 453. Then Michigan Bell gave us 455. Next came 459 -- somehow 457 never arrived. Then southern Canton got 981.

To that point, it had always been possible to gauge how long someone had been in the community by his or her phone exchange.

When Ma Bell added the new exchange for Canton, the old timers with former 453, 455 and 459 numbers there got new numbers. Nobody got really upset because with Canton's growth, it was evident that more phone exchanges were needed — there.

Now, Canton's rate of growth is slowing, while Plymouth and Northville townships' growth is catching up.

And starting next week, the northern part of Plymouth Township becomes part of a new phone exchange — 420. Many of the long-time 453 exchangers are put out by having to give up their status-symbol phone numbers to newcomers.

(It is the same feeling that many of the old-timers show towards the new growth whenever a Plymouth-Canton School millage or bond proposal are up for a vote.)

Whether it's because of Ma Bell or the school district, even the oldtimers will realize some day that the new growth affects them too.

Insurance payment slammed

Plymouth City Commissioner Beverly McAninch Monday attacked the commission's decision at its previous meeting to pay the Pilgrim Non-Profit Housing Corp. nearly $14,000 in insurance money the city received from property once intended as the site of a senior citizen housing project.

The Pilgrim investors, including current Commissioner Jim Houk, had purchased land along Ann Arbor Trail west of the C & O tracks, transferred it to the city, and then taken it back again when the proposed project fell through.

A house on one parcel burned while the city held the land, and the city received the insurance settlement.

Mrs. McAninch, at the time, opposed turning the insurance money over to the Pilgrim investors.

Said Mrs. McAninch, "This commission has no moral obligation to keep investors from losing money when they make poor investments."

"I have searched commission minutes and find no commitment by the commission to encourage this project (the Pilgrim Towers senior citizen complex) until it was fully committed. A previous commission did, over my objections and the objections of the city manager and one current commissioner, protect the investment of this group after the project was in trouble."

She charged that ties between the business community and the commission were sometimes too close, alluding to Houk's membership in the

New light for Main

State Highway officials have notified Plymouth Police Chief Tim Ford that a new traffic light with a left-turn signal will soon be installed at the intersection of Main Street and Ann Arbor Road.

State officials have also recommended construction of right turn lanes on westbound Ann Arbor Road and southbound Main, because with traffic waiting for the separate left-turn signal, existing lanes will suffer a "loss of capacity."

Pilgrim group and legal assistance provided to the senior citizen project proponents by Commissioner Scott Dodge.

"I feel when a proposal involves at least two city commissioners and is being strongly supported by a realtor who is a former commissioner, (former Mayor James McKeon) we should have either rejected the proposal on its lack of merit or postponed the decision until a more careful review was possible," she added.

Houk, who abstained from the vote to return the insurance money to the Pilgrim group, declined to comment on Mrs. McAninch's statement.

Cold cuts crime rate

City of Plymouth Police Chief Tim Ford reports that freezing winter weather cut the city crime rate, but was also one cause for increased traffic accidents in the city. Ford reported that records showed an "increase of domestic disturbances" relating to too much human proximity. There were the usual rises in domestic disturbances and personal combat between people who are, ordinarily, rather mild mannered," the Chief said in his monthly report to City Commissioners. On traffic accidents, Ford said the weather was a cause in almost every accident. This year, there were 44 accidents compared to 35 in 1977, Ford said.

Canton OKs golf course contract

With the exception of Trustee Bob Myers, Canton board accepted the Fellows Creek golf course contract last Tuesday. Myers said he could not vote approval for the contract if there were no special rates for Cantonites. Canton Finance Director Mike Gorman said senior citizens would "get a break" in paying to use the golf course, but that after "long discussions" it was decided no one else would.

Township. Ross's contract will be for five years and it stipulated he pay the township $100,000 per year or 50 per cent of revenues from the newly purchased Canton golf course, whichever amount is greater.

Canton gets sidewalk law

Standards regulating sidewalk construction in Canton township were introduced to trustees last week.

According to township attorney Walter Guth, the proposed ordinance was "in proper form and proper" for the township to accept.

The ordinance requires sidewalks to be kept clean by the owner of land nearest it. If the township finds it necessary to clear the walk, the proposed ordinance says, the expense of clearing it will be charged the property owner.

"There could be internal problems of cash handling, or a foursome where only one player was a Canton resident or a Canton resident who left his or her wallet home," Gorman said. "What do you say to that person?" The contract was made between Canton and Dan Ross, manager of the Hilltop Glen Golf Course in Plymouth

'Disorderly' law passed

An emergency ordinance to deal with disorderly persons in Canton was accepted by the Canton trustees last Tuesday. Township officials said that "by and large, it is something the township needs."

Supervisor Harold Stein entertained a motion to approve the ordinance. Clerk John Flodin moved to approve the item as an emergency ordinance. The approval was unanimous.

The ordinance, among other things, prohibits disrupting meetings or disturbing people in a public place; racing car engines, interfering with the police department, interfering "with the regular course of township business"; loitering, indecent language, cruising the grounds of any school or college or take from township property "any soil, grass, vegetation, tree, shrub, etc".

The supervisor of the township can close any park whenever he thinks it is necessary, and also can prohibit drinking alcohol in township parks.

Stein motions affirmed

Canton Township Supervisor Harold Stein can now make and support motions following a 5-2 vote of the

City to list more voter numbers

After April 1, voters registering in the City of Plymouth will have four more numbers on their voter identification card to carry around.

Public Act 260, effective March 30, requires the district numbers of the United States Representative, the State Senator, the State Representative and the County Commissioner listed on the i.d. card along with the voter's name, address and precinct.

The city has ordered new identification cards to send to voters registering after April 1, City Clerk Paul Brumfield said.

Villagers sought

City of Plymouth officials are seeking residents, particularly those who live in the Old Village area, interested in serving on a panel that would participate in a federally-funded Community Neighborhood Rehabilitation Area project centered largely in Old Village.

Elderly and low and moderate-income persons, as well as members of the Old Village Association, are among candidates sought for the council. The project will involve the use of federal funds to improve much of the Old Village neighborhood of the city.

For further information, contact Mark Wollenwebber, assistant city manager, at Plymouth City Hall.

Objectives listed

A list of 65 long and short range objectives was presented to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday night.

Written by the school's central administration, the board is due to modify and put them in order of priority at its April 17 meeting.

With the slogan "back to basics" echoing through the school corridors, it's certainly reflected in the school lunch menus this week. Instead of the usual 18 muddled lunch descriptions, only six of the ESY schools appear. The cooks are in agreement with the new motto and all the basics are clearly seen - hot dogs, spaghetti and pizza.

The Irish danced, sang and drank through the weekend in respectful observance of St. Patrick's Day. Those of us who are Irish for only one day of the year put on a bit o' green and joined in the festivities.

Cy and Nancy Trainor of Anne Ct. in Plymouth hosted a St. Paddy's day party Saturday night for many friends and neighbors. Chatting among the leprechauns who were heard but not seen, were Mary Lou and Keith Boyd, Joan and Frank Leary, Carolyn and Jim Anulewicz, Gerry and Tom Bing, Yuko and Fred Mills and Mary and Bill Baxter.

Seen sipping some delicious green punch were Shirley and Joe Ezzo, Sallee and Mike Burns, Judy and Rick Harvey, Evelyn and Tom Longworth, Sharon and Jack Neville and Connie and Frank Santorelli.

Others claiming Irish ancestors for the evening were Jane and Neal Boyle, Jean and Marv Yagoda, Valerie and Al Counard and Bob Fisher.

A leprechaun by the name of Kathleen Brown appeared at a local beauty salon last Friday singing Irish songs and playing the piano. An Irish woman who has been singing since she was a child in school, Kathleen has sung in choirs at St. Mary's in Monroe, St. Theodore's of Westland and the Community Chorus of Monroe. She has been a solo for the Irish Society of the Monroe Country Club since 1956. She picked the beauty salon to entertain on Friday because her granddaughter, Charlotte Austin works there as an electrologist.

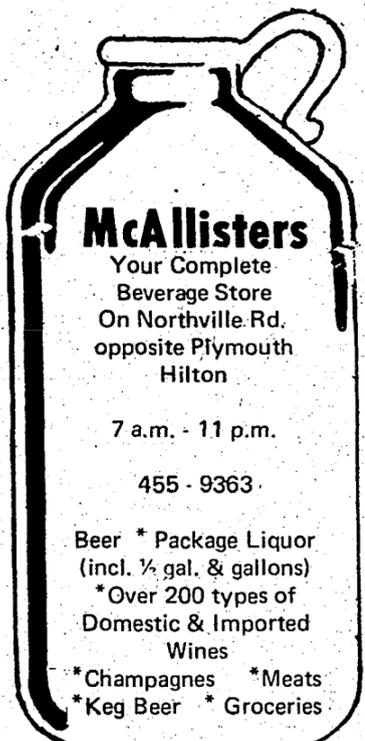

Bob Jones University in Greenville, South Carolina has announced its honor roll for the fall semester. Those students earning at least a B average from the Plymouth area are:

Celeste Ann Lovelady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Irvin Lovelady of Carriage Hills. Celeste is a senior in the School of Religion.

Charlotte Joy McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. McGuire of Palmer in Plymouth. Charlotte is a senior in the School of Education.

Plymouth Business and Professional Womens Club will host a fashion Show Tuesday, April 18 at the Plymouth Hilton. Fashions for children, men and women (including maternity-clothes, shoes and jewelry) will be provided by Jacobsons.

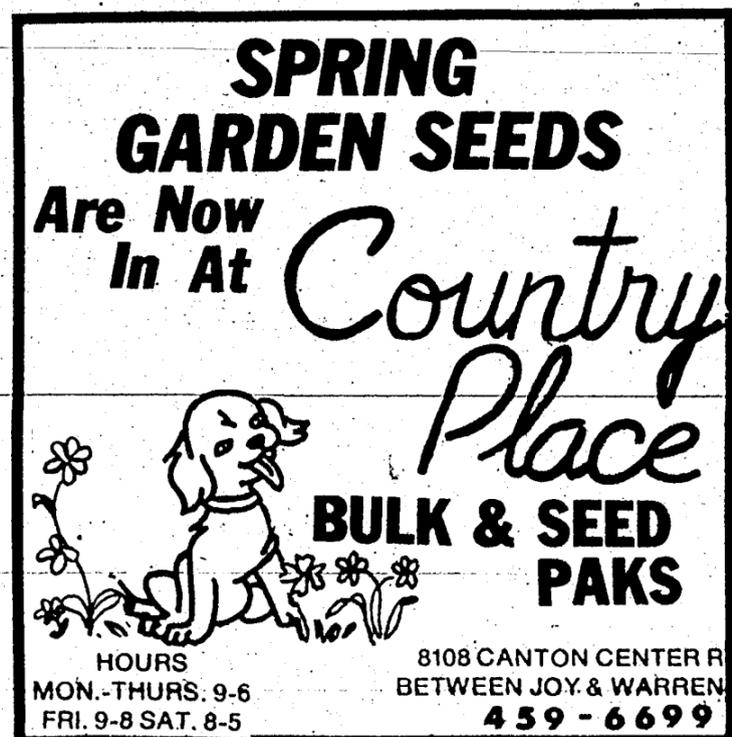

Tickets may be purchased from ticket chairman Betty Pint at the National Bank of Detroit Ann Arbor Rd. and Harvey, or from the general chairman, Lois McAllister at McAllisters Party Store on Northville Road. Tickets are also available from club members or may be purchased at the door.

A rite of spring: tapping for syrup

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

The beginning of the maple sap run is a sure sign of spring at Sugarbush Farms on Gottfredson Road.

As the snow melts and the temperature begins to climb, most of us start thinking of daffodils and spring clothes. For the maple syrup farmer, the beginning of warm weather means getting out sterilized aluminum buckets and tromping out in knee-deep mud to tap the sugar maple trees.

Usually the sap starts running in late February, but this year spring came late and the sap is running about a month behind. But once the season starts, according to Farmer Joe Tashnick, a farmer can spend 24 hours a day collecting sap and operating the sugar house — and he often does, laughed Farmer Joe.

Maple syrup can be produced from the sap of most kinds of maple trees, Farmer Joe said, but the sugar maple and the black sugar maple have the highest sugar content.

The amount of sugar in the sap can range from one to nine or 10 per cent.

"The average sugar content is 2.5 per cent," according to Farmer Joe "and it takes about 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of maple syrup."

Old-time farmers believed that if they tapped a tree on the south side they would get more sap, but modern farmers tap a tree at the most convenient place.

Farmer Joe said it doesn't hurt to tap it, but the tree should be at least 40 years old and have a diameter of 10 inches. Each tap will yield about 15 to 20 gallons of sap during the average four to six week season.

Once a hole has been drilled and a spigot inserted into the tree, the sap begins to run. Modern farmers use plastic tubing, but the farmers at Sugarbush use the old fashioned bucket containers, said Joe.

Spring is maple syrup

It takes almost 24 hours for the syrup bucket to fill up. The sap is then taken to a gathering tank in the 'sugar house'.

In the sugar house, a sort of small wooden shack, the sap goes from a holding tank to flue pan (where it is boiled and then flows into a finishing pan. A gallon of standard maple syrup weighs 11 pounds and has a sugar content of 66 per cent, Joe noted.

The same tree can be tapped every year, but according to Joe it was best to tap the tree six inches from the original to give the tree a chance to heal. Once a tree has been tapped, it is scarred and will never be used as lumber.

Farmer Joe said it would be ideal to have maple trees growing along a road instead of in the back woods of Sugarbush Farms, where the mud is knee deep. "It would be easier to tap trees and get the sap to the sugar house," he said.

Anyone can make maple syrup, said Farmer Joe.

"Remember, all it takes is 10 gallons of sap to make one quart of syrup - a 40-to-one ratio."

A 40-to-one ratio of plain hard work helps we suspect.

NEXT, a spile (a spigot) is tapped into the tree. The sap then can flow into the bucket. The piece of aluminum is placed behind the spile so no bark or water muddies the sap. Usually, a maple tree is 40 years old and 10 inches in diameter before it is tapped.

On the path to Paducah

Bob's midnight ride begins...part 1

BY ROBERT CAMERON

The sign on the bus says 'Paducah Express' and though you may have seen it many times leaving Plymouth's downtown stop at Main and Ann Arbor Trail, you still wonder if such a place really exists.

It does. The idea of a large passenger bus leaving from downtown Plymouth at 9:25 p.m. - "sharp"! the dispatcher will tell you - to travel to a small city in the Kentucky flat lands creates curiosity and excitement.

The urge to travel this mysterious route struck when I tired of the sight of snow. Until then, I was content to look wistfully at the Paducah bus as it departed and imagine its colorful destination. Finally, the day came when being an interested viewer no longer would do.

A phone call to the Detroit office of the Brooks Bus Line and I had my reservations.

The family-owned bus line first carried passengers between Kentucky and Michigan in touring cars. Polk Brooks, now 72, was one of the hundreds of workers that migrated to the defense factories up north from the hill country of Kentucky and southern Illinois before World War Two.

With so many friends and neighbors working together up north, it soon became apparent that transportation 'home' to Kentucky and Illinois would be necessary. What better way than to travel together and stay employed while still serving the workers, thought Brooks.

At first, a 1924 seven-passenger Buick touring car was used.

The one-way fare was eight dollars, and often Brooks would accept a note for it until the passenger could find work. Back then the Interstate Commerce Commission didn't require a license for passenger service, Brooks said but as business grew, licensing became necessary. The factory job was no longer the only reason for the trip north and Brooks Bus Line became a business.

The years before World War Two were ones of rapid growth, and in 1941, Brooks bought his first bus, a 21-passenger 'Flexible' model.

During the war, the Brooks System grew and soon it had expanded to include routes throughout the entire south plus a Charter service.

Even with all that, the company stayed a family-owned business and is that way now. Three generations of the Brooks family are active in the operation.

Typical of the close-knit spirit of Brooks' Line is that drivers today are sons of former drivers. They drive sleek new 47-passenger GMCs with red and white company colors.

Judson Rehrer Jr., 38, is district manager of the northern end of the line, and owner of the charter service. Rehrer's late father Judson Sr. was with Brooks Line for 25 years as a driver and agent.

As Judson Jr. puts it, "I've grown up with the Brooks Line and the Brooks family and that's how we think of it - one big family. I've been around the system since I was 10, and some of the drivers that are with us today were driving with the company then."

One of those drivers is J.C. Powers of Paducah, Ky. He likes to be called J. C. and he is a 32-year veteran with Brooks and a Jimmy Carter look-alike. J.C. shows the spirit of the bus line when he says "They must be good folks, they put up with me for 32 years!" All of the drivers seem to have a quality they display in the fondness shown for their passengers and friends along the Paducah Express route.

....Cont. next week

CITY HALL in Marshall, Ill., at 5 a.m. is used as a bus stop for Paducah Express passengers from Plymouth. The stop in Marshall marks the end of the first part of the Paducah journey. The bus switches drivers and the Paducah Express is on its way south again - after coffee and doughnuts. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron.)

Haze Wilson, Community Relations Manager, Livonia, reminds you:

"If anyone in your family is handicapped, you should look into these services..."

We have a wide range of services that can help the physically impaired to communicate by telephone. For people with difficulties in hearing or speech, there are amplifying devices. For example: A telephone handset that allows adjustment of volume for hearing and another that permits amplification of speech.

As an aid for those with speech loss, Michigan Bell has an artificial larynx. And people with motion impairments should know about services such as easy-to-use card dialers, speakerphones, telephone headsets, and School-to-Home telephone service for students unable to attend class.

If you think any of these services might help you or someone in your family to communicate more easily, just call your local Michigan Bell Business Office.

Silvers sues Canton

Muth said Silvers was seeking a second in command position with the Canton full-time force and possibly back pay and wages from the time Chief MacGregor was hired (last August.)

The reason Silvers has been discriminated against is because he was an appointee of the previous administration, Muth noted.

"The law provides protection for someone fired for political reasons," Muth said.

Silvers would not comment on the proposed suit, except to read from a prepared statement. He said it was on advice from his attorney. It read, in part:

"I consider this action deeply, regrettable. I had hoped that the informal discussions would resolve problems but it did not, thus forcing court action. I have complete confidence in my lawyers to bring this to a just resolution.

"I will continue to devote my time and best efforts to the citizens of the township as commander of the Canton Police which I have done since the beginning and indeed, since beginning as a police officer 30 years ago.

Canton officials and Chief MacGregor said they had no comment on the matter.

A show cause hearing at Wayne County Circuit Court will be held March 30.

Planning and design

could control the rates of the sewer if the County's road commission built it, as originally proposed.

The new authority failed to get off the ground, however, because four of the 18 communities affected failed to support it, Stein said.

The supervisor urged Canton to go along with the County's Board of Public Works (BPW) because it "now affords the out-County area the representation we requested." Only one member on the BPW is from Detroit.

Furthermore, Stein said, the balance of power in the County government should shift to the out-County areas after the 1980 census, due to population growth out-County.

The out-lying communities will also have one member on a rate review committee and will be able to choose an outside auditor for the system.

The Canton Board of Trustees voted 4-3 to go with the super sewer plan and Plymouth trustees voted 6-1.

Plymouth Township Trustee Lee Fidge was the lone "no" vote on her board. She said that the rate review board and the right to select an auditor are tokens. "We still won't have any power over the actual rate," she said.

Also, she does not like the insurance policy in the contract. "We can be sued separately and jointly," Fidge said.

"The communities will be very vocal to have the contract changed for Step three (actual construction) of the super sewer," said she.

Fidge estimated Step three would be before the super sewer communities in about a year.

Rowland whips Greeks

The Plymouth Panhellenic recently held a card party and more than 70 women participated in the annual affair. Sally Rowland won first prize while Jane Clark finished second.

The proceeds from the party will fund two $100 scholarships given each year by the organization. To be considered a recipient for the award, a girl must be a graduate of the Plymouth-Canton Community School District, and be a pledge or active undergraduate member of a national social sorority. Names of possible recipients may be given to Marianne Garber at 455-7119. The winners will be announced in early May.

Maguran held

Thomas M. Maguran of 41330 Schoolcraft in Plymouth Township was arrested by State Police Saturday on charges of possession of stolen property.

A description of a car driving away from a scene of a robbery led the police to Maguran, police report.

He is being held on a $10,000 bond in Wayne County Jail.

Hubcaps filched

A rash of hubcap thefts struck the City of Plymouth last weekend.

Police report the following persons said their cars' wheel covers or hubcaps had been robbed: Dorothy Lawrence, 1600 N. Territorial; James Courtney, 1199 S. Sheldon and Blythe Schmidlein, 1199 S. Sheldon.

Sunbird swiped

A 1977 Pontiac Sunbird automobile belonging to Virginia Russell of 14041 Shadywood, Plymouth Township, was stolen from her driveway Thursday night, State police report.

Court overflows City Hall offices

Standing before the commission in his black suit and silver tie, the judge described what he said was a typical situation: "Yesterday I gave a man 60 days in the House of Corrections. There was no one there to guard him, and I thought he'd just walk away." He didn't, the judge added, but others have.

Because it provides court facilities, the city receives all fines that come out of local sentences. Last year, those revenues amounted to nearly $25,000 more than the cost of maintaining the court.

City officials have proposed that the second floor of City Hall be expanded to give the court more room and to create more space for city police and firefighters. The project, which includes plans for an elevator, and a price tag of $70,000 when it was proposed last year.

The 35th District is expected to get a second judge in January, 1980. He will likely have court space in the Canton Township Hall now under construction.

Added Judge Davis, "Northville Township (which currently shares a branch office of the 35th District Court with the City of Northville) would love to have a court (that township is also building a new civic center), but I think it should stay in Plymouth."

City officials seemed to agree, and are expected to seek federal funds for the expansion.

Said Commissioner Jim Houk, "I think it's the number one priority we have."

Larger signs pushed

huge, gaudy signs. We're paying 39 per cent of taxes in Canton and if we don't come up with a compromise on this thing (signs) your taxes will go up," he told residents in the audience.

"We still have a proliferation of signs and we are trying to get away from the communities that surround us - we'd like to avoid what their signs look like," said Cantonite Jerry Cheske. "Businesses will have to exist with residents."

Peek told the commission that in order for a sign "theme" to work in a community "there has to be a great deal of agreement - especially between the businesses - and the other problem is you can't translate or legislate aesthetics.

If you have support, you can achieve these kinds of things," he said.

Bart Berg commented, "I can't help but say this: we are not like Birmingham, Aspen, Colo. or Williamsburg. We are different here - what will work for us?"

A slide presentation by Padgett led to discussion of 'architectural carryover' of signs. He noted that attractive signs were those that matched the buildings.

The commission agreed to draft a concept of the 'carryover' into the next draft, as well as look into a bonus system for signs made from natural materials like wood or stone.

Canton coach Cavell retires

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: March 22, 1978

BY CHAS CHILD
After 17 years of coaching, Canton Basketball Coach Casey Cavell has retired.

"The main reason for retiring was the huge amount of time it takes," he said. "I was tired and I wanted to spend more time with my family."

"It was a hard decision because I enjoyed working with the kids a lot. But I thought it out thoroughly," Cavell said.

Cavell took over the reins of the Canton varsity in the 1973-74 season and guided the Chiefs to their first winning season this year (11-9) and a second place Western Six League finish.

"I made the decision about halfway through this season so I wouldn't be affected by how it ended," he said.

"It seems there's no good time to retire - there's always a new team coming up you want to work with," said the Canton science teacher. "It was a hard decision but it wasn't sudden."

Athletic Director John Sandmann said he accepted Cavell's letter of resignation on March 15 with regret.

"I was surprised and sorry to see him go," Sandmann said. "He did a super job. I wish him well."

Sandmann said he will try to fill the job with teacher or coach presently employed by the Plymouth-Canton schools. "There are definitely many well-qualified people here," he said. The internal posting for the position will end April 10.

A native of Plymouth, Cavell played basketball for Sandmann at Plymouth High School. In 1961, he started coaching at Waterford High School as assistant track mentor. The following year he started teaching and coaching football and basketball at East Junior High School in Plymouth.

When Salem High School opened in 1971, Cavell was named junior varsity basketball coach. The 1973-4 season saw him take over Canton's varsity.

Moshimer rehired

Tom Moshimer, who resigned as head coach of the Salem High School football team in August, has been rehired.

Salem Principal Bill Brown said the decision to give Moshimer his job back was the result of a number of discussions between the two since the football season ended.

Before last season started, the coach announced his resignation effective after the end of the campaign. In a conflict with school administration, Moshimer reportedly wanted his last hour off.

LAURIE LOUGH, a seventh grader at Pioneer Middle School, led Livonia Girls Teen B Team to the state girls hockey championship this season. In the championship game against Southgate recently, she scored the tying and winning goal. Her other accomplishments include leading the team to first place in the Inter-City Girls League with a team-high 31 goals. She was also captain and the squad's youngest player. Her coach was Gary Gibson of Plymouth.

Ellinghausen, King named MVPs

Canton's Butch King and Salem's Tom Ellinghausen were named the most valuable players of their teams this year at awards banquets last week.

A senior, Ellinghausen led the Rocks to a share of the Suburban Eight League championship and a district title.

King, a junior, sparked the Chiefs to their first winning season ever and a second place finish in the Western Six League.

Both players were their respective team's high scorer for the season.

The coach's awards went to Canton's Russ Mandle and Salem's Rich Hewlett. Mandle led the Chiefs in rebounds while Hewlett was second in points to Ellinghausen.

Two other awards were handed out at Salem Doug Agnew won the most improved player award, while Mike Christie won the inspiration award.

Both teams also said goodbye to the graduating seniors. For Canton, they are Captain Randy Rienas, Keith Fuelling and Brent Eckles; while Salem will lose Agnew, Christie, Ellinghausen, Steve Horton, Dave Monk, John Broderick, and Bob Hissom.

WATCH THOSE STATISTICS

You see the headlines in the newspaper quite often . . . "Home prices up 6%" . . . "Home prices up 10%." The situation looks discouraging for potential home buyers. But before you shake your head and say you can't afford those prices, dig a little deeper and see what's behind those statistics.

The prices that are quoted in the papers are usually MEDIAN prices. The median price is the middle price. Remember this when you read the real estate news. If the headline says "Median Price of Homes in West Northville Reaches $52,500" it simply means that half the homes sold went for more than that figure, and half went for less. Bear in mind that the median price figure only gives a rough idea of home prices. The only real way to know what's available and at what price is to find out. Remember that statistics view the whole picture, surveying a group of homes and arriving at a median figure. YOU are only interested in one home! There might be one out there just for you at the price you want to pay. Come in and talk to us about it. You might be able to laugh at those statistics as you move into your own home!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455-8400. We're here to help!

TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BOARD OF TRUSTEES -- REGULAR MEETING MARCH 14, 1978

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by Supervisor Notebaert, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance. All members were present.

Mr. West moved approval of the minutes of the regular meeting of February 18, 1978. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.

Mr. Gornick moved approval of the payment of the bills in the total amount of $33,583.38. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried on a roll call vote of 6 approving same with Mrs. Fidge abstaining because of a payment to Thomas Fidge for the preparation of the operating manual for the Township offices.

Helen Richardson, Clerk

Re: Establishment of Reserve Accounts from the 1977-78 Budget.

Mrs. Fidge moved approval of the establishment of the Reserve accounts as itemized in the Clerk's correspondence, dated February 22, 1978. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.

Huron Valley Wastewater Control System. Mr. Breen moved that we authorize the Supervisor and Clerk to sign the proposed contracts covering Steps I and II in accordance with the Contract submitted by the County for our approval, but in addition the Supervisor be authorized to send a letter, along with the Contract to the Department of Public Works covering certain areas and very briefly the areas he would like to see more definitively answered are in the form of the following questions:

1. Why will the D.P.W. not notify the local unit of cost changes as they are anticipated?
2. Why would the local cost share percent ever change?
3. Why is the administrative cost not expressed in percentile so that the amount can be easily monitored?
4. Why must the individual local unit agree to assume liability "severally" when it has no control of the project and the D.P.W. does not set forth the amounts of insurance it will require of contractors performing work on the project?
5. Why can't the local unit be assured of a definitive formula governing allowable discharge? Paragraph 10 merely being an agreement to submit to further determinations by the D.P.W.
6. Why is it so difficult for the D.P.W. to accept a rate review committee which could impose an impartial arbitrator for rate charges in excess of the amount deemed necessary to meet bond obligations?

Supported by Mr. Gornick.

Motion passed 6-1 with Mrs. Fidge voting "no" Mr. Breen stated that for the record, that in the event that payments have to be made, the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees has not determined what source the money will come from.

Mr. West moved that the Township approve the adding of Elton McAllister's name to the list of applicants for a Class C Liquor License, which is on file in the Clerk's office. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously. The Clerk was directed to update the list of applicants as soon as possible.

Mr. Breen moved that the Township Board approve the proposed contract for the Byron-Sly-Tonquish Sanitary Sewer between the County of Wayne and the Township of Plymouth pursuant to Act 342, Public Acts of Michigan, 1939, as amended, and further that the Supervisor and Clerk be authorized to sign, and the Clerk be authorized to sign the Notice of Intent to enter into Tax-supported contract and the right to petition for referendum thereon. Supported by Mr. West and carried 5-2 with Mrs. Fidge and Mr. Gornick voting "no". Mrs. Fidge reiterated the reasons for her "no" vote as 1) reference to the September 13, 1977 minutes where it was spelled out by Mr. Gornick and herself and 2) with the Township over their capacity on the sewer of 9.6 she believes that a further extension of the sewer pushes the Township into the Super Sewer even though the Board has approved Steps I and II, her feeling is that this is premature until Step III is approved.

Resolution clarifying interpretation of Article V, Section 5:04 (12) with regard to Service Entrance Conductors.

Mrs. Gornick moved approval of the Resolution regarding Service Entrance Conductors. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.

Mr. West moved approval of Mr. Kincaid's request to purchase Sepia Tracings from Brender-Hamill and Associates Inc., at a cost of $10.00 each, not to exceed a total cost of $2,500.00. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.

Mr. Gornick moved approval of the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the Plymouth Township Supervisor, Thomas G. Notebaert, be authorized to submit the pre-application for the 1978 Land and Conservation Fund for the expansion of the Township of Plymouth's Recreation Municipal Complex, said expansion being the acquisition of an additional 34 plus or minus acres to the existing 122-acre site presently owned by the Township of Plymouth. Supported by Mrs. Fidge and carried unanimously.

Mr. Breen moved approval of the request and recommendation of the Clerk for the Transfer of funds as set forth in her communication. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.

Mr. Breen moved approval to purchase a Transcribing System from the Dictaphone Corporation, a Thought Master Series No. 250, at a total cost of $407.00. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.

Mrs. Richardson moved approval of the recommendation of the Fire Chief to reimburse Fire-fighter Larry Groth for the Arson School, the amount of $25.00. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.

Mr. Gornick moved approval to purchase the 2 1/2" and 1 1/2" fire hose at a total cost of $1,785.00. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.

Resolution honoring Thomas Sullivan for his service to the community of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission. Mr. West moved approval of the resolution as submitted by the Clerk. Supported by Mr. Breen and carried unanimously.

Mr. Gornick moved to adjourn the meeting. Supported by Mr. West. Supervisor Notebaert adjourned the meeting at 9:55 p.m.

Approved, Respectfully submitted,
Thomas G. Notebaert, Helen I. Richardson,

A motion was made by Goldsmith and supported by Daley and unanimously carried that approval be given to install Sanitary Sewer on Haggerty Road from the E-W 1/4 section line to approximately 100' South of the railroad tracks and to install approximately 3600' of 12" water main on Haggerty Road South of Michigan to VanBorn Road at an approximate cost of $150,000.00.
12. A motion was made by Bradley and supported by Goldsmith and unanimously carried to adopt the following policy:

WHEREAS, recent developments in the law at the Federal and State levels have raised legal questions about whether persons employed by the Township in more than one job, even where the second job is wholly voluntary with the employee, must be paid at premium rates for hours worked in excess of the standard work week; and

WHEREAS, the practice of the Township of permitting Township employees in some instances to take second jobs with the Township must be re-evaluated in light of these Federal and State developments; and

WHEREAS, the Township Board of Trustees does not believe it is justified to hire work done at premium wages when the same work could be hired at straight time rates;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Township shall not hereafter hire any of its employees to a second or additional job with the Township.
2. Each of those two township employees who is presently employed in a second Township job as Police Reserve may be retained in his Police Reserve job if his is agreeable to voluntarily subscribing to the terms of the form of agreement prepared for this purpose by Township legal counsel.

13. A motion was made by Bradley and supported by Schwall and unanimously carried to appoint Murray J. Powelson and Andrew Smith to the Economic Development Corporation.

WHEREAS, a program to alleviate the aforesaid conditions and accomplish said purposes has been initiated by the Economic Development Corporation of the Charter Township of Canton hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation"; and

WHEREAS, the Corporation in conformity with Act 338 of the Public Acts of 1974, as amended (Act 338), has designated the herein-after described project area for such a program to this Township Board for its approval thereof; and

Announcing Trust Services in Western Wayne County

Wayne Bank is pleased to announce that the experienced services of Ann Arbor Bank & Trust Company are now available to Western Wayne County through our offices. A representative of Ann Arbor Bank & Trust will be here regularly and at your convenience to meet with you, review your financial and estate planning, and answer all your questions.

This is an important opportunity for the residents of our area to benefit from the financial protection that a trust can offer. If all your assets—including your life insurance—total $60,000 or more, you should consider a trust.

Essentially, a trust is the professional management of assets by a person or institution for the benefit of someone else. A good definition, but just what does it mean for you?

Trust services can provide you and your family with financial security, offer you substantial tax savings, and help to protect your assets from changing economic conditions.

There are two basic types of trusts to consider: A "living trust" provides you with consistent, professional management of your assets during your life, and for your heirs after your death. A "living trust" can be especially beneficial to retirees.

Another form of trust, the "testamentary trust," is designed to manage your assets for the benefit of your beneficiaries beginning at the time of your death. We recommend the responsible and profitable management of your assets and your family's resources that a trust can provide; that's why we've made these new trust services available to you through our offices. You don't have to be a Wayne Bank customer to take advantage of these trust services. They're for anyone.

To find out more about how trust services can be important to you, telephone 721-4151 or send for a copy—it's free and without obligation—of "Our Family of Trust Services." It could be the most profitable reading you've done in years.
