

It's Stein vs. Culbert in Canton Dem primary

Only one Democrat, Noel Culbert, has stepped forward to challenge Supervisor Harold Stein in the Aug. 8 primary. Both candidates filed before the 4 p.m. deadline yesterday to get their names on the primary ballot.

The winner of the Democratic run-off will face John Longridge, a reserve officer in the Canton Police Department, the lone Republican to file for the supervisor's job.

If Stein prevails in the Democratic primary, the struggle between he and Longridge will continue from the bargaining table to the ballot box.

Longridge, as president of the Canton Police Officers Association, bargained with the Canton administration for months over who among the reserve officers should get full-time jobs in the upgraded police department. The issue was settled two weeks ago.

Stein lives at 41955 North Dr., while Longridge's address is 7521 Provincial. Culbert lives at 1706 Woodbridge.

For township clerk, the Democratic incumbent, John Flodin, will run unopposed. No one else in either party filed for the job.

Three persons filed for treasurer: incumbent Anne Bradley, Jim Donahue and Maria Falkiewicz. Bradley, who ran with Stein on a slate in the last election said they will be running together again this time.

Donahue filed as both a Democrat and a Republican, and will have to drop his candidacy from one or the other.

Bradley resides at 6438 Canton Center Rd. Maria Falkiewicz lives at 43035 Hanford, and Donahue's address is 2022 Cavalier.

Will voters turn out for millage Monday?

BY CHAS CHILD

Two school board seats will be filled, and the fate of three millage requests will be decided in Monday's Plymouth-Canton school election.

Turnout is expected to be light, but it will probably be slightly higher than 20 per cent of registered voters that showed up at the April 27 millage election.

The same total millage before the voters in April will be on the ballot Monday, but in a slightly repackaged form. Two operating requests will be before voters - 3.0 mills up for renewal, and 1.5 additional - as well as 0.5 mill for building maintenance and repair.

On April 27, the 3.0 and 1.5 mill requests were lumped together into one request which failed, as did the 0.5 for maintenance.

The three candidates for the two board seats are: Carol Davis, William Johnson and Elaine Kirchgatter.

Davis and Kirchgatter are both board members now, although neither were elected. Both were appointed to fill vacancies created by resignations from the board. Kirchgatter was appointed in January 1978 and Davis in August, 1977.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. through 8 p.m. Absentee ballots can be filled out through Saturday at the administrative offices of the schools, 454 S. Harvey. The offices will be open from 9 a.m. through 2 p.m. on Saturday, June 10, for the latecomers.

In the campaign to pass the millages, the school administration has spelled out specifically what will be cut if one or both of the operating requests fail.

For example, if both fail, a lack of teachers will force a shortening of the school day in kindergarten through eighth grade.

If just the 3.0 passes, only 14 of the 36 teachers needed to handle additional growth in the district can be hired.

Also, if both the 3.0 and 1.5 requests go down, athletics in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades will be eliminated. If only the 3.0 renewal passes, seventh and ninth grade sports will be cut and all other sports will face reductions.

Cuts in virtually all school programs are planned if one or both of the operating requests are defeated by voters, however.

"The cuts we have mentioned are realities, not threats," said Superintendent Mike Hoben. "We feel we have a good program and we'd like to maintain them. I'm optimistic on all the issues on the ballot."

The two victorious candidates will serve four-year terms which will expire in 1982.

If you are unsure where to vote, you may check precinct maps at any school office or call 453-0200, ext. 422.

School hopefuls talk budget, boundaries

BY HANK MEIJER

In their only face-to-face debate, the three candidates for two Board of Education seats in Monday's election talked budgets and boundaries last Thursday before a League of Women Voters Candidates' Night audience at Pioneer Middle School.

Asked how they would cut the budget should Monday's millage issues be defeated once again, all three candidates, William Johnson, Carol Davis and Elaine Kirchgatter, said they would try to avoid cutting entire programs, instead of spreading cuts across the board. Davis said she feared the loss of an hour of high school class time, while Johnson suggested that all class periods might be shortened.

Davis and Kirchgatter gave the same answers several times to questions posed from the audience. Asked to cite weaknesses in the district, both said maintenance needs and the confusion surrounding busing for extended school year (ESY) students must be addressed.

All three candidates declared that attendance boundaries should not be re-drawn to create one high school for Canton and one for Plymouth. Said Kirchgatter, "We're part of the Plymouth-Canton community and I'd like the high schools to belong, too."

Asked if they favored expanding the ESY program to more schools, Davis said she would probably support expansion to more elementary schools, but that she had reservations about the effect of

There will be no November for candidates in Plymouth Township.

At the 4 p.m. deadline yesterday, not one Democrat had filed for any of the township offices at stake this year. The township's next supervisor, clerk, treasurer and two trustees will all be Republicans - the Aug. 8 primary election will decide everything.

Both Supervisor Tom Notebaert and Treasurer Joe West are unopposed in their reelection bids, with all the excitement concentrated on

In the two state representative districts which serve the Plymouth-Canton community, there will be only one run-off in the Aug. 8 primary.

In the 37th district, which covers a small part of Plymouth Township and all of Canton Township, incumbent Tom Brown of Westland will face Joseph Blitz of Canton.

The winner of that race will square off against Tom Sullivan of Westland in November. Sullivan was the only Republican to file.

The filing deadline for the primary ballot was yesterday at 4 p.m.

In the 42nd district, the Republican incumbent, Roy Smith of Saline, will run again, facing Democrat Thomas Kaas of Ypsilanti in November.

The 52nd district includes all of the City of Plymouth and most of Plymouth Township.

Joyner, Myers

in county fight

Among the six Democrats who will square off for the 27th Wayne County Commissioner District are two local residents, Robert Myers of Canton and William Joyner of Plymouth Township.

The other four are: Frederick Montgomery of Wayne, Robert Smith of Wayne, Walter Hink of Belleville and Berna Chenault of Sumpter Township.

Joyner now holds the seat. He was appointed by the Commission to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Royce Smith.

Myers is currently a Canton Township trustee whose term runs out in November. Hink is an attorney in Canton.

No Republicans filed yesterday by the 4 p.m. deadline.

Pursell unopposed in GOP primary

Primary races for the two U.S. Congressional seats which serve the Plymouth-Canton community will be quiet this year.

Why? Because only one Democrat and one Republican had filed in each district before the deadline yesterday.

In the 2nd District, incumbent Carl Pursell, Republican from Plymouth, will vie for the GOP nomination with Republican Earl Green of Ann Arbor. The two will face each other in November.

The 2nd district covers all of Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth.

In the 15th district, which includes all of Canton, Democratic incumbent William Ford filed, as did Republican Edgar Niëten of Romulus. They, too, with no primary opponents, will square off in the November election.

Geake, Faust face no primary fights

The primary in August will be meaningless in the 13th State Senate District race.

Only one Democrat, incumbent William Faust of Westland, and one Republican, Coleman Flaskant II of Canton, filed to get on the ballot before the deadline yesterday at 4 p.m. The 13th District serves all of Canton Township.

In the 14th State Senate District, which covers all of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, two Republicans and one Democrat filed.

Republican incumbent Robert Geake will meet Addison Bacon of Livonia in the primary. In November, the winner will face Paul Kadish, a Democrat from Livonia and chairman of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Southeastern Twp association forms

Are the citizens of the eastern half of Plymouth Township getting short-changed by the township government?

Many persons say "yes" and are forming a homeowners association to increase their clout in township hall. A potluck dinner will be held at Allen School on June 7 at 6:30 p.m. to organize the association.

Commercial developments are being put in the eastern half, while land speculators who own extensive acreage in the western half wait for a building boom, said a flyer put out by the associations' organizers. "If this happens then we will have a building boom like Canton. We will require more schools, more fire stations, and our own police department," said the flyer.

Also, more township parks should be built in the eastern half of the township, said the flyer.

Those attending the potluck should bring a salad, main dish vegetable, or dessert to serve 12 people, and their own plates and silverware.

For more information, call Sue Reed, 453-3876.

New bill may ease Township annexation fears

BY CHAS CHILD

Plymouth Township may not have to fear annexation by the City of Plymouth if a bill passed recently by the State House and Senate is signed into law by Gov. William Milliken.

Under the bill, if charter townships provide basic services like water, sewer and police protection, their boundaries would be protected from annexation.

Plymouth Township is a "general law" township, but by altering its status to a charter township, it could protect itself.

Milliken soon, Bill 4030 was approved by the Senate last Friday.

"I like the protection it affords," said Plymouth Township Supervisor Tom Notebaert.

The supervisor objected to one proviso of the bill, however. It says that to be protected the township must provide police protection through a contract with the sheriff beyond the sheriff department's regular patrols.

"It would be nicer to substitute the City of Plymouth's police protection for the sheriff's patrol. We took estimates from both departments

For 35th district bench 2nd judgeship created here

In a surprise move, the state legislature May 25 voted to create a second judgeship for the 35th District Court, effective Jan. 1, 1979, instead of 1981, as previously mandated by the state Supreme Court.

The filing deadline for candidates for either the new seat or the one now held by Judge Dunbar Davis was yesterday at 4 p.m.

"I was amazed that the legislature overruled the Supreme Court's recommendation," Davis said Monday. "I have no real concern; I'm able to do work very well and we're not behind on our docket."

The new position will be a four-year term, as opposed to Davis's six-year term. Although both positions will be on the ballot this year, each one will be voted upon separately in the future.

Davis is running unopposed this time. The two judgeships are on a separate ballot, with each judge taking office on Jan. 1.

Davis contends the second position is unnecessary. "It seems to me that it would be a waste of taxpayers' money, but if that's the way they want it..."

Canton, cops reach pact

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton officials and its police officers have finally settled a six-month hiring dispute, paving the way for a full-time police department in the township starting June 11.

A consent judgement was filed May 25 in Wayne County Circuit Court ending the differences between the township and the Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA) on how the 10 full-time positions in the upgraded department should be filled.

No official announcement of the agreement was made by either side. Supervisor Harold Stein and the president of the CPOA, John Longridge, both said they did not want to make a political issue out of the police.

Under the agreement, Police Chief Walter MacGregor was given the power to choose the 10 officers from the 35 reserve officers currently working for the department.

"This is what we wanted," said Longridge. "We had 100 per cent confidence in the chief."

The township had wanted the officers to take written and oral tests and from those results make the 10 selections.

MacGregor said he chose the officers based on his observations of their competency.

They are Rob Cripe, James Hanna, Kurt Johnstoh, John MacDiarmid, Roger Pearsall, John Sherwin, Gordon Stevens, Robert Van Lith and Kenneth Winkler. Another reserve selected - Gerald Niezgod - declined the position for "financial reasons", according to MacGregor. And Robert while the negotiations between the CPOA and the township officials continued.

The hiring issue was settled on May 23 in a closed meeting attended by Longridge and his attorney James Garber; township attorney Bert Burgoyne, MacGregor; and the township board.

In the recall election in August of 1977, voters approved a millage to fund the full-time force.

Greenstein, the final selection, has not made up his mind whether to accept.

MacGregor said Monday that eight of the officers are already working full-time, and Sunday morning, the force will be patrolling around the clock.

The chief originally planned to start the full-time force on Jan. 1, 1978, but the hiring stumbling block kept the department part-time,

Martin succeeds Dodge

Plymouth City Commissioners Monday approved the appointment of Planning Commission Vice-Chairman Eldon W. Martin to replace City Commissioner Scott Dodge, who is moving to California.

Martin, who was out of town Monday when Mayor Tom Turner made his recommendation, is expected to be sworn in at the commission's next regularly-scheduled meeting, June 19.

A long-time city resident, Martin is a former chairman of the planning commission, and was a candidate for the commission some 15 years ago. He is a planner with Ford Motor Co. and lives at 880 N. Fairground.

Student hurt by firecracker

An eighth-grade West Middle School student was injured last Wednesday when a firecracker thrown by another student exploded near her eyes.

Sherri Orthnen, of 11932 Leewood, in Plymouth, received facial burns when a group of boys, apparently playing with a firecracker, lit it and tossed it down a stairway where she was walking, according to Wayne County Sheriff's deputies.

Det. Adolphus Allen said the matter is still being investigated and there is still some question if the firecracker was thrown intentionally.

West Middle principal Robert Smith said Thursday that "she was in the wrong place at the wrong time." The students responsible were suspended and returned to class Monday, Allen said.

Sherri was released an hour after being admitted to the hospital. No permanent damage was done, Allen said.

then the remainder of the township.

"I'd like to see the city withdraw those petitions," said Notebaert. "After all, sharing the services will have the same affect as annexation, since the goal of both is to spread the cost over the residents of both areas."

Under bill 4030, annexation is not prohibited. Rather than filing petitions with the boundary commission to annex parcels, and waiting for its decision, annexation can be done by votes of the governing bodies of the two communities.

The stipulation that charter townships must contract with the sheriff is the only one in the bill which Plymouth Township, with only general law status, does not already meet. Others include: a minimum population of 150 persons per square mile, a zoning ordinance, sewer and water systems and fire protection.

Getting charter township status may not be easy for the board, however. Township voters last fall rejected the move. Under Michigan law, general law townships can levy only one mill, while charter townships can levy up to five mills.

Flood recovery goes on

BY HANK MEIJER

The Great Flood of '78, leaving in its wake thousands of dollars worth of damage and perhaps even greater confusion about why it happened, will be the subject of a special Plymouth City Commission meeting June 21 at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Assistant City Manager Mark Wollenweber Monday described to frustrated commissioners the more than 10 years of bureaucratic delay that preceded one of the community's most memorable — and most short-lived — natural disasters.

It all happened so fast. The Central Business District was the center of a sudden storm which experts said comes only once every 50 years.

The city's rain gauge on Adams Street behind Central Middle School recorded four inches of rainfall in less than an hour between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. last week Tuesday. Eight blocks away, in the DPW yard, a gauge showed only 2.9 inches of rainfall in the same period.

Where did it come from? Wollenweber said the only warning had been a report over the city's police network of a thunderstorm heading south from the Alpena area.

A few minutes later, severe thunderstorm warnings were in effect here and water was rushing into basements and storefronts.

What happened? Apparently the Tonquish Creek, which the Army Corps of Engineers managed to leave off a 1974 survey of Southeastern Michigan flood-hazard areas, was swollen when it reached downtown Plymouth. It goes underground downtown, through a seven-foot-wide drain, and emerges once again on the east side of the city.

A south branch of the creek flows through the southern neighborhoods of the city, behind businesses on Ann Arbor Road.

In the sudden rain, the exposed stretches of both branches overflowed at several spots, washing into the walk-out basement of a house on Byron Street at Ford.

In the downtown area, the drain was not big enough to handle the excess flow. Storm sewers backed up and water pooled, creating a lake in the Central Parking Lot and sending currents down Harvey and Main streets.

Who was affected? Water seeped into perhaps hundreds of basements throughout the city, but hardest hit were businesses surrounding the Central Lot (see related story on page four).

In a matter of hours, it was all over — except the woe-full task of cleaning up debris and recovering what could be recovered from stacks of damaged merchandise.

Merchants helped other merchants carry goods from basements which had standing water. And the cooperation continued after the clean-up.

A disaster relief specialist from the State Police Post in Northville toured the damage area and helped city officials contact the maze of governmental agencies which can help flood victims. Wollenweber and his staff received a 42-page booklet from the federal Office of Emergency Preparedness that had to be filled out to qualify the area for special low interest loans and other aid. The Wayne County Health Department inspected downtown establishments which prepare food and advised affected residents on shots to guard against typhoid and tetanus.

City officials set up tables at Kellogg Park to distribute disaster relief information, and disinfectant was available at the DPW Yard. The city has also purchased two additional pumps — only one was on hand when the flood hit.

Culminating 10 years of studies and delays and governmental snafus at the local, county and federal levels, the county drain commissioner announced June 1 — two days after the flood — that Wade-Trim Associates engineers have been told to proceed with a three-month study preparatory to improving the Tonquish Drain and providing ponds upstream to handle future overflow.

Because the state of the Tonquish is closely tied to development in Plymouth Township, city officials said they may ask the county drain commissioner, who drew criticism for his lack of responsiveness to the local situation, to refuse to approve sewers for new construction in the township until the Tonquish is improved and the Flood of '78 a disaster that won't happen again.

Paid by the Citizens Millage Election Committee

Community Opinions

June 7, 1978

All 3 levies merit 'yes' vote

To meet increased costs caused by inflation and the growth of the student population, we urge voters to approve all three school millage proposals on the June 12 ballot.

For operating expenses, the schools are asking for 3.0 mills which are up for renewal and 1.5 extra. Also, 0.5 mill is being asked for building maintenance and improvement.

Considering that about 850 new students are expected next year and inflation affects the schools' budget just as much as it does your household expenses, these requests are reasonable. The budget they will support was written with a determined effort to keep costs down.

Many persons have charged that the schools are wasteful and overloaded with administrators. Some waste does exist; but what equivalent $30 million corporation runs without some waste?

Also, in figures recently published by the State of Michigan, the cost per pupil (or overhead) of the Plymouth-Canton School District is well below the average in both Wayne County and the state.

Vote "yes" on all three requests on Monday.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Davis, Kirchgatter are best for board

This year's Plymouth School Board election might have been a more rousing affair if one of the three candidates for two seats were hopelessly unqualified or the only clearly superior. But neither case holds.

Carol Davis, William Johnson and Elaine Kirchgatter are all intelligent people, competent to sit on the Plymouth-Canton School Board. All three are running for the first time, and all three are better-qualified than a couple of the board's current members.

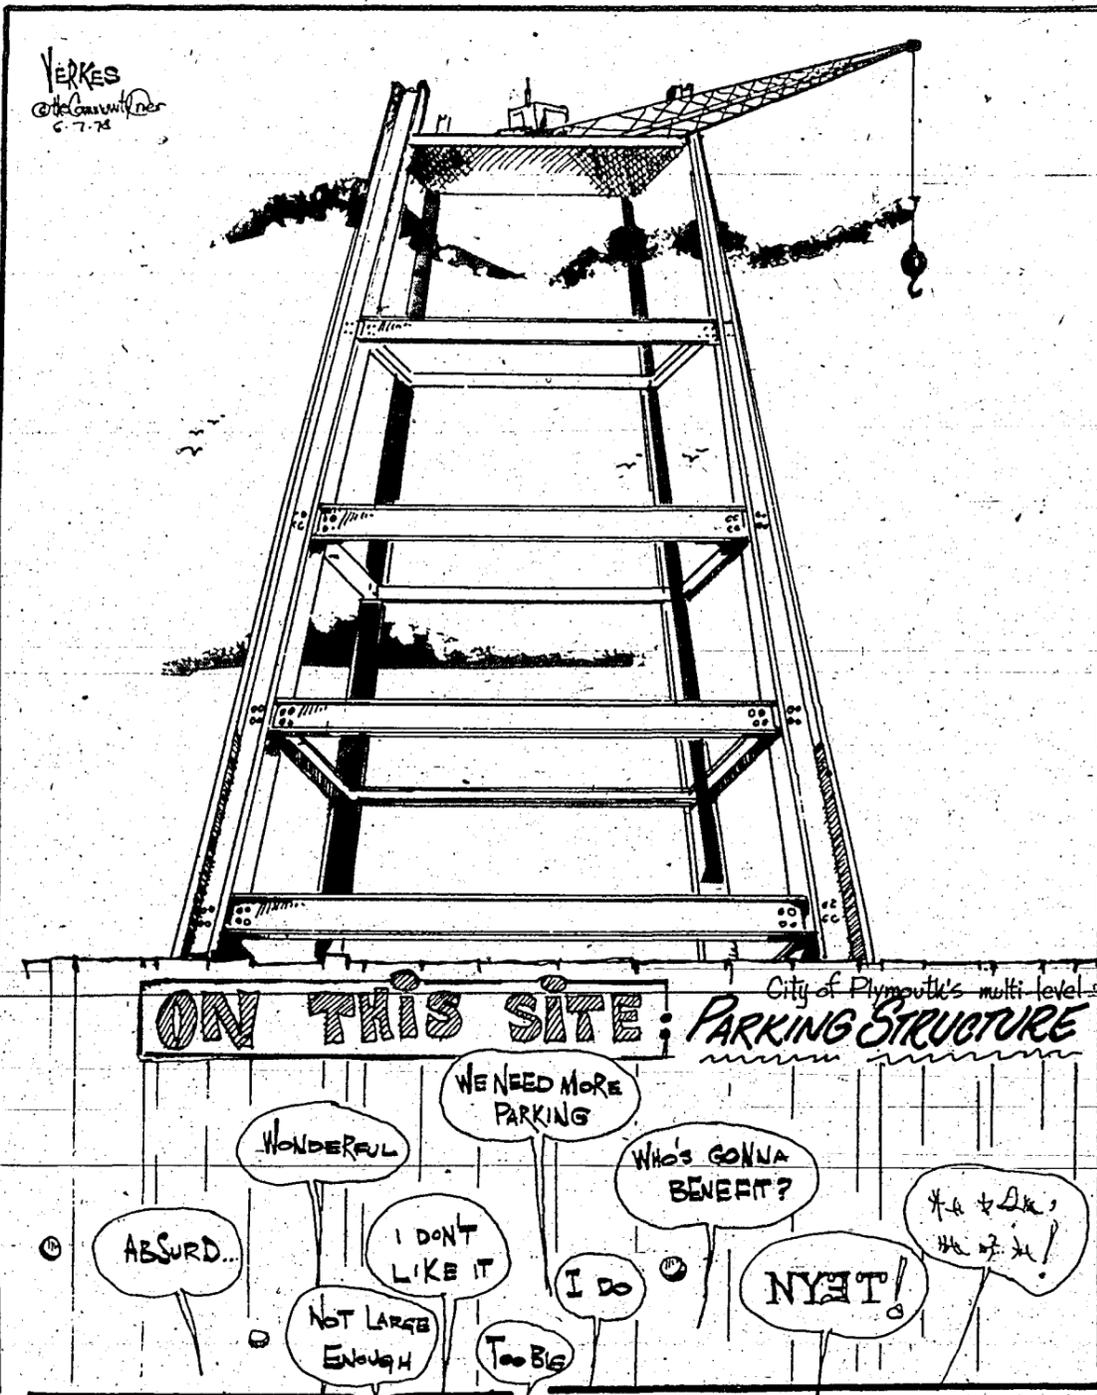

In part because Davis and Kirchgatter have experience (each was appointed to the Board: Davis last August and Kirchgatter last January), they appear best qualified to serve the district. Both have an understanding of the school system's complex problems of growth, attendance and communication. Davis has used her longer time on the board to good advantage, thinking through the channels through which complaints are dealt with and decisions made.

Johnson, a newcomer should be encouraged. Although he has attended few board meetings and displayed far less familiarity with the variety of issues a school board member must address, he seems to appreciate the demands-sensitive issues make on the board's judgment. We hope he continues to show an interest in school affairs — he could make a good contribution.

Overall, however, we find Davis and Kirchgatter the best candidates. They merit your vote in Monday's election.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

2nd judgeship was a surprise

While the state is to be commended for finally realizing our district court was being overwhelmed by our area's growth, it is to be chastized for the extraordinarily short notice it afforded the community to get qualified candidates in the race. In an analysis of comparative caseloads between other district courts and the 35th District Court made and reported by The Crier last year, it was found that Judge Dunbar Davis handles far more cases than most other judges under the system.

A second judgeship was originally scheduled in the 35th District Court beginning in 1981, but our community's rapid growth, increased policing activities and rising criminal and civil caseloads mandated the addition of a judge here much sooner.

We're pleased that the additional judgeship has been created.

But we're less than thrilled that there was only five days notice from the state before nominating petitions were due. That's hardly time for anything but a mad scramble among state bar members who heard about the judgeship through the grapevine.

If the legislature couldn't have seen its way to passing the special bill earlier, couldn't it have at least granted a two-week delay in the filing deadline? It seems, State Sen. Robert Geake should have seen to a more orderly process when he pushed the bill through.

We welcome the additional judgeship. It's just that for such an important step, our community should be given more time to weigh its decisions.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Stein kept cop pact quiet

On May 25, almost two weeks ago, the Canton Township administration settled with the Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA). The two sides decided how the 10 full-time officers should be hired to get the full-time police department underway.

One problem, though: They didn't tell anybody. No official or unofficial announcement was made.

The public, which pays the taxes and has been waiting for a full-time department since it was first promised in December of last year, was ignored.

Not until the newspapers heard it through the grapevine a week later did the citizens learn the details of the township's most important service — police protection.

Supervisor Harold Stein's neglect of the public's right to know is inexcusable.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Vote on saving farmland

Canton's Board of Trustees is due to decide whether to put a plan to buy the development rights of the open space in the western half of the township on the ballot in November.

Although Planning Commissioner Bart Berg said he would not like to see the land issue become a pawn in the election year, we believe the voters should have a chance to decide the issue.

Not only would it profoundly affect the future of the township, but it would cost the taxpayers a lot of money, at least for 10 years.

For these reasons, the voters should decide.

Despite doubts about school budget I'll still vote 'yes'

Last Words by Hank Meijer

EDITOR:

I am prefacing this letter by saying I have never voted against a millage proposal. With three children - two of whom are presently in the Plymouth-Canton school system - I have always considered their education important and have supported the local schools and teachers in their efforts.

Ideally, the June 12 millages will pass. However, if either the renewal or proposed increases fail and cuts have to be made, why does the bulk of the cuts fall on the children of the very taxpayers who are providing 70 percent of the schools' operating budget while only token cuts come from the administrative level?

Take a look at the central staff with salaries ranging from $45,555 to $26,304 (exclusive of fringe benefits) and you will find three assistant superintendents, three administrative assistants, and three directors under Superintendent John M. Hoben.

Two new directors were added to the administrative staff even this year with the knowledge that millage renewal was upcoming and consequent cuts would have to be made somewhere if voted down. The schools I attended as a child functioned quite efficiently with a superintendent and assistant superintendent along with the principal in each school building. I'm wondering if the bureaucracy of government isn't fast becoming a part of our school systems too?

Using figures from the 1977-1978 operating budget because current figures were not available, I found that from the administrative budget of $1,895,505 a token cut of $30,000 is proposed if the renewal alone passes June 12. Compare this to the $49,000 cut that will come from the schools' $239,000 athletic budget. Should both millages fail, $109,000 (or approximately

Blanche St. needs paving

EDITOR:

There is a street in Plymouth that is in desperate need of paving. The street's name is Blanche, it's between Penniman and Farmer.

If you've ever been down it, you know exactly what I'm talking about. Year after year the city just adds on more lumps of tar. (Half of the street is tar lumps the other half is covered by dirt and pebbles.)

Many of the streets in the area have already been repaved so Blanche is really a disappointment.

People in this area pay a lot for their cars, and shouldn't have to put up with streets like this one.

6%) will be cut from the $1,895,505 administrative budget, as compared to a nearly 42% cut of $100,000 from the athletic budget.

I feel it is unfortunate that Superintendent John Hoben quote, "without trying to scare anybody or be vindictive" has proposed such disproportionate cuts in this and other areas that effect our kids so drastically.

How many of the readers of this article have obtained a copy of the 1978-79 budget forecast for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools from the school board offices on Harvey? Do you know where your tax dollars are going - or do you even care?

If we are going to dole out tax dollars unquestioningly without voicing our opinions as to how they should be spent, then all we deserve is cuts for our kids while the increasing bureaucracy of administrators pocket big paychecks.

Let's vote "yes" on the millage June 12 but at the same time look into how those funds are being used. See you at the school board meetings?

League of Women Voters backs levies

EDITOR:

The League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi again urges voters to support the Plymouth Canton Community Schools by voting "Yes" on the three millage proposals on the ballot on Monday, June 12.

The League supports quality education in the Plymouth Canton Community Schools. We believe that the 3-mill renewal and the 1.5-mill increase are both essential in maintaining the current level of education in the school district.

The League also supports the 0.5 mills proposal for repair and improvement of buildings as it insures that vital operating funds will be used to provide for educational needs and that needed repairs and improvements will be possible through separate funding.

Are 2 camps headed for showdown in Canton?

Canton Township is at a turning point regarding its future development.

Two large entertainment complexes have been proposed for Ford Road. With the already-approved Center, a huge recreation complex on Haggerty Road, and two distribution warehouses (Farm House Foods and West Side Auto Parts) negotiating with the Economic Development Corporation the terms on which they will enter the township, Canton will be on its way to attracting even more large developments.

Running counter to this is a movement among residents to retain Canton's rural and rural-residential atmosphere. Their showpiece is the plan to buy the development rights on open land in the western half of the township.

By owning the development rights (similar to owning

Community opinions

While we urge voters to support the three millage proposals, the League encourages the School Board to continue to press for effective tax reform.

mineral rights of land) the township could avoid the wall-to-wall subdivision and light industry of Westland or Livonia.

A study outlining the plan's cost to the township was presented to the Board of Trustees two weeks ago, and trustees are due to decide whether to put the plan on the November ballot.

Can the pro-development and anti-development forces resolve their differences?

The summer campaign and the election in the fall will hold the answer. Supervisor Harold Stein, who has pushed to lure business into Canton, will be trying hard to hold off the anti-development forces of candidates like former Supervisor Robert Greenstein, who filed yesterday to run for trustee.

As the floodwaters receded last week, a tide of generosity took their place, most notably among the merchants of the Central Business District.

When our senior advertising consultant, Fran Hennings, came to me with a plan to help our flood-wracked shopkeepers, I never thought she would pull it off.

Her idea was this: to ask merchants who suffered little or no damage to help to pay the advertising of those who were hurt. Usually it's challenge enough to convince people to advertise their own stores, let alone promote others who may even be competitors.

But Fran was convinced she could do it, and she did. (The commission she would have earned for those ads she has declined, choosing instead to donate it to the Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of the flood victims.) On the next two pages is the evidence of her success.

Not only the merchants, but the entire community pitched in to pull us through the sudden storm and its after-effects. Mark Wollenweber, assistant to the city manager, at the city's helm in the absence of recuperating Fred Yockey, responded to the disaster with quick thinking and patience. City department heads and crews pitched in from the start to relieve problems where they could.

The spirits we've seen this week may help just a bit to ease the pain when the flood sales are over and the grim damage estimates are finally assembled.

In Medieval Europe, the end of a plague was a time for celebration, establishing traditional festivities in many towns that flourish today. In Plymouth, when the floodwaters receded, the folks at the Penniman Avenue shops threw a party. Next year we'll have to have another one - just to remember the spirit of the flood.

County to request 2 mills

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners voted last Thursday to return to committee a proposal for the August 8 primary ballot that would renew an expiring five-year one-mill property tax.

The commission will vote this Thursday as the Ways and Means Committee on whether to put either a one or two-mill levy on the ballot.

According to 27th District Commissioner Bill Joyner, "the commissioners decided not to face the issue head on." He feels in all likelihood, that the proposal in August will be one mill.

Detroit commissioners, he said, voted to return the proposal to committee for fear that if a two-mill levy were approved in August, the money would be swallowed up by out-county areas. Several commissioners are facing re-election in the fall and did not want to lead their support to a higher levy, Joyner said.

Revenue from the one-mill levy equals about $14 million yearly.

Joyner said, that Lansing owes Wayne County $6 million for mandated programs, such as hospital patient care, and added that if the money is received, the one-mill proposal will be adequate.

But, Joyner added, if the money is slow in coming, the Board may have to put through the increase to balance the budget. He said the blame then, would rest squarely at the governor's door and with the budget director.

City OKs shuffle court

With the acceptance of an $11,500 bid from the only bidder Monday night, Plymouth City Commissioners gave the OK to begin construction of shuffleboard courts at the Cultural Center.

In another purchase approved Monday, a low bid of $2,673 was accepted for a new electronic typewriter to replace a 20-year old model still in service in the treasurer's office. Treasurer Ken Way said the National Cash Register Co. no longer made parts or provided service for the old machine.

Central fire damages restroom

An explosive in a second-floor girl's restroom at Central Middle School Monday destroyed a toilet and did considerable smoke and water damage to the room.

Masked city firemen ran several lengths of hose up a back stairway and as black smoke poured out, doused the facility.

According to principal Gus Gorguze, the school was evacuated in record time. No injuries to students or firemen were reported.

One fireman said that someone had put an explosive down the toilet.

The 730 students were assembled on the athletic field bleachers as the firemen assessed the damage. Said Gorguze, "If they are found, these one or two persons will be expelled and prosecuted. One or two of you are at fault.

"This is wasted money. Taxpayer's money," he continued. "When fire equipment is brought out, that is money."

Police said that they had no suspects.

According to city fire chief George Schoenneman, "there was some explosive device put down the toilet. There were rumors that it was a cherry bomb. The toilet was stuffed with papers with the cherry bomb on top and lit." This, he said, gave the person responsible time to get out.

Firemen wore masks to keep out the dense, black smoke and plastic smell from the burning seat. Schoenneman said that the fire was confined to the second floor women's room and that a fair amount of smoke and water damage was done.

Police are still investigating the incident and have no one in custody yet.

Another fire on North Evergreen while the school fire was in progress forced the city to request help from Plymouth Township. Lint in a basement dryer caused smoke damage to the home.

City rezones parcel for apartment complex

BY HANK MEIJER

Plymouth City Commissioners Monday approved the rezoning of a parcel of land along the north side of Ann Arbor Trail to pave the way for a proposed two-and-a-half-story apartment complex.

The rezoning had been sought by members of the Pilgrim Non-Profit Housing Corp., which bought the land several years ago with hopes of developing a senior-citizen high-rise housing project.

Opposition from state and federal housing authorities whose aid had been counted on killed the project, and the parcel has been languishing ever since.

Ex-Mayor robbed

A picnic table umbrella was stolen Friday night from former mayor Joe Bida of 585 Hamilton, police report.

Realtor Jim McKeon said an out-of-town developer had sought the rezoning, which decreased from 900 square feet to 500 square feet the amount of land required per one bedroom apartment unit. Overruling a recommendation from their planning commission, city commissioners agreed not to rezone the entire block bounded by Hamilton Street and the railroad, exempting those lots to the west which bordered Hamilton.

McKeon said the complex would likely offer a variety of one and two-bedroom apartments.

With Commissioner Jim Houk abstaining because of his participation in the Pilgrim Towers group, the commission voted 4-1 to approve the rezoning from RM-1 to RM-2.

Commissioner Beverly McAninch opposed the rezoning.

Schools have low overhead

Out of the 36 school districts in Wayne County, the Plymouth-Canton schools rank 28th in the amount of money it spends per student.

The comparison is part of a study ranking the districts in the Wayne County Intermediate School District released this year. The rankings, however, are based on the 1976-77 budget year.

The figure was obtained by dividing the operating expenditures by the number of pupils in the district.

In other comparisons, the study shows that in money spent on general administration per pupil, the Plymouth-Canton schools, rank 30th out of 36.

Comparing average teacher salaries, Plymouth-Canton is 25th out of the 36 districts. South Redford pays its average teacher $20,983 to lead the list, while Plymouth-Canton's average teacher salary is $16,832. The Huron school district pays its average teacher $10,857 in 1976-77 to end up on the bottom of the list.

In other figures, 2.7 per cent of Plymouth-Canton's students are of a racial or ethnic minority. And the drop-out rate is four per cent.

Howe's ghostly tale haunts fireside at 6th grade camp

BY CHAS CHILD

"Centuries ago, a great storm swept in from the north into this area. And during the thundering and lightening, a small organism in a tiny droplet of water was struck by a bolt of lightning.

"Altered genetically by the great charge of electricity, this small cell began to grow, and grow, and grow."

Telling the story of the Proud Lake Monster, Starkweather Principal John Howe paused for a moment to let the monster's image grow in the young minds of his audience. His listeners were sixth-graders attending camp at the Proud Lake Recreation Area.

"Years after that fateful storm, an Indian tribe discovered around the beautiful lake and decided to settle down. Shortly, though they discovered a strange thing. In the surrounding woods, no animals lived. There were no sounds. It was strangely silent.

"Thinking they had offended the gods, the Indians tried to appease them through dance and yes, even sacrifice, boys and girls," continued Howe, gesturing with his arms as he walked among the sitting children in the darkness. "But still there were no animals in the forest.

"Then one night, while the Indian village slept, a blood-curdling scream broke the silence. Grabbing torches, the Indians searched the lodges until they found where a small child had been snatched and dragged toward the lake. And there in the ground they saw a strange track.

"The Indians followed the track and it led to the lake-shore where it disappeared. And there on the beach they found a bloody mocassin."

"So, boys and girls, the Indians believed they had offended the gods too much so they left Proud Lake.

"Years later, white men arrived in the area. They built their log cabins and started to clear the land, but they too, like the Indians, noticed the strange silence in the area. There were no animal noises in the woods, no sounds of nature.

"Thinking the absence of animals was caused by disease, the settlers stayed. But then one night, as they slept in their cabins, the night was broken by a scream of death.

Jaycees join tax fight

The Plymouth Jaycees have thrown open the doors of their June program meeting to the public for a discussion of a campaign to limit the per cent of income Michigan taxpayers must pay in taxes.

One of the leaders of the statewide organization promoting the limitation, Taxpayers United, will address the local Jaycee chapter Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

Taxpayers United is trying to gather some 300,000 signatures to place on the ballot a proposal that the Michigan Constitution be amended. The proposed amendment would limit state income taxes to their current level of 8.3 per cent of the total personal income of Michigan citizens. The measure also calls for a tax refund if state tax revenue exceeds that limit.

Some 266,000 signatures are required to put the measure on the November ballot, but the group is aiming for 300,000. The Jaycees have pledged their support and are helping solicit signatures.

"The more people who are involved, the better," said Bill Jarmol, who, with Doug Ganzler, is coordinating the local Jaycee program on limiting taxes.

Canton staffers to give blood

NEW DEVELOPMENTS. Canton officials are considering the approval of the Walnut Creek Entertainment Center (above) and the North Shores Racquetball Court. Both are proposed for Ford Road. The pictures are artists renderings of the buildings.

Canton OKs new site plan for nightclub

The Canton Township Planning Commission Monday voted to approve the revised site plan for the proposed Walnut Creek Entertainment Center on Ford Road at Sandhurst.

Donald Soenen, of Plymouth Township, one of the developers, altered his plans for the berm, a decorative earth mound designed to prevent auto headlights from disturbing the residents of nearby Village Squire Apartments, paving the way for the commission's OK.

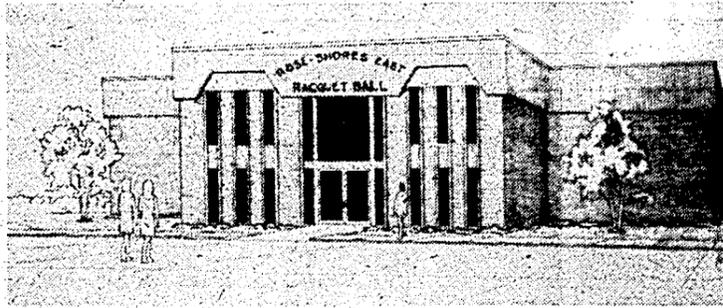

At the last meeting, the developers were asked to bring the berm within the height specified in the Township ordinance. The berm will be 15 feet long and four feet high, Soenen said.

Approval was given with the provision that the developers come up with a way to save as many of the trees on the plot as possible.

Said Soenen, "We still plan on doing so. There's a variety of trees and we're going to try to save those pines." Commission Chairman Robert Padgett noted that a Township ordinance requires the sparing of any tree over three inches in diameter.

Bart Berg suggested taking an inventory of the trees along Lotz Road to determine how many can be saved.

The Township Board at its regular meeting last night, was scheduled to act upon Walnut Creek's request for a Class C (liquor-by-the-glass) liquor license.

BY CHAS CHILD

Is Canton Township going to be the center of recreation complexes in Western Wayne County?

It could well happen, if projects now before township officials are approved. The Board of Trustees was scheduled last night to hear a request for site-plan approval from backers of an entertainment hall that could hold 1,000 persons proposed for the corner of Lotz and Ford roads.

Also, the proposed Rose Shores Racquetball Center, with plans for 16 racquetball courts, is currently before the Canton Planning Commission.

The racquetball center is proposed for the south side of Ford Road between Haggerty and Lilley roads.

Already approved last year was The Center, a huge recreation complex scheduled for Haggerty Road, just south of Ford Road. Its plans call for numerous racquetball and tennis courts, as well as 72 bowling lanes and perhaps four movie houses.

The recreation complexes would mean a lot of tax dollars for the township, but also a lot of traffic headaches.

Ford Road already crowded will carry virtually all of the traffic to the developments, and plans to widen it are before the State Highway Department. Canton's trustees recommended two weeks ago that state increase Ford to seven lanes as part of the planning process for the widening.

Ghostly tale thrills camp kids

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: June 7, 1978

"The village awoke, lit torches and searched until they found in one of the outermost cabins a torn night gown. And in the ground was the same strange track leading to the lake.

"The situation was indeed grave," Hose said.

"Following the track to the lake, they found a bloody shoe, where the track led into the water.

"A town meeting was held and they tried to decide whether to stay or leave. The crops were in, however, and they chose to stay. But they set up sentries around the village to stand guard.

"Everything was quiet for four days, but then another scream rang out in the night. A sentry had been killed and again the odd track led into the dark waters of Proud Lake.

"Another meeting was held and the villagers decided to search the nearby swamp for the monster. Walking shoulder to shoulder, the settlers fanned out across the swamp until they found a huge mud cavern strewn with bones. There was no doubt: They had found the creature's home.

"So the villagers ran back to their homes, gathered their weapons, returned to the monster's cavern and waited for him to return from his nocturnal prowling.

"Silently they waited. Then at the first light, the settlers heard branches breaking in the swamp. The creature was approaching. As he entered the clearing, the settlers raised their rifles, and..."

What happened? In the name of suspense, The Crier can't reveal Howe's secrets. The end of the story is only for sixth graders at the camp.

The story of sixth-grade camp is no secret, however. For years, all sixth graders in the Plymouth-Canton schools have had a chance so spend one week in the year at the camp in the Proud Lake Recreation Center in Oakland County north of Wixom.

Howe's story, which he's been telling for years, is one of the camp's traditions, along with roasting marshmallows, and singing around the campfires. The regular classroom teachers become the counselors at the camp where they teach outdoor subjects to the students.

The camp's future is uncertain because it is on the cut list of both operating millage requests on the June 12 ballot fail. "It's a fun week," said Howe. "The kids have a great time."

Holding a pocket jack knife with a four to six-inch blade, the pair stole his wallet which contained $150 in cash, said the police.

The two persons returned to their car, which had two other passengers, and left the scene, said the police.

Canton set to hire full-time planner

A full-time planner for Canton Township was scheduled to be hired from three candidates by the Board of Trustees last night.

The planner will take over much of the duties of the township's current planner, George Peek, who works for a private planning firm, Wade, Trim Associates.

"We will still use Wade, Trim, however, especially for major planning jobs that require a large staff," said Clerk John Flodin.

"Our new planner will be in the Canton offices to handle all the problems that come up," said Flodin. "Persons who come in on a zoning or development question won't have to get shuffled down to Wade, Trim."

One sticky question has not been determined by the board: Whether the new planner will be hired as a civil-service employe, or given a contract.

Under a contract, the planner could be released by the board if it disagreed with his planning philosophy. Civil service workers, on the other hand, have more job security.

The Michigan Municipal League narrowed the field of candidates down to three finalists: Gordon Ruttan, William Caya and James Kosteva, all of whom the board interviewed at a special meeting last Wednesday.

Ruttan, of Detroit, is now an urban planner for the Wayne County Planning Commission. He holds a BA from Alma College and a masters degree in urban planning from Wayne State University. He is 36 years old.

Kosteva, of Westland, is completing his masters degree in urban planning at the University of Michigan. From 1974 through 1977 he was a project specialist for the City of Westland Planning

Human Center boosts staff

Plymouth Center for Human Development will begin a process which will increase its professional and para-professional staff by almost 130 persons within the next two weeks, the Center has announced.

They will be in addition to those called for in the United States District Court Consent Order of March 3, 1978, the Center said.

In announcing the staff expansion, David Rosen, acting director, said, "each program unit must have increased supervision, increased programming capabilities, and a complete interdisciplinary team of professionals."

Department. He earned a BA from North Central College of Illinois and is 25 years old.

Caya, of Taylor, is Director of Planning for the City of Taylor Planning Commission. He has a masters in urban planning from Wayne State and received a BS from Eastern Michigan University. He is 29 years old.

The planning position's salary has not been determined but will be between $17,000 and $21,000, Flodin said.

The final salary figure and whether a contract will be offered to the planner will be decided by the board "shortly" after he's hired, said Flodin.

Briefcase

Dave Rotarius, owner of Dave's Carpet Cleaning of Plymouth, became the newest merchant in Old Village last week, buying the inventory and carpet business of Blunk's Inc. at 640 Starkweather.

Rotarius, a 1968 Plymouth High School graduate, will continue to operate his two-van carpet cleaning service, and will manage the store with his wife, Karen, and sister, Tari.

The 28-year old merchant said the store will be open six days a week. "We're trying to give the business and the building a facelift," he said. "In the next couple of weeks we'll be closer to a neater showroom."

Rotarius, a Colonial Kiwanian, has owned his own carpet business since 1974.

The Blue Jean Station on 308 N. Main Street in Plymouth opened June 2.

"We've dedicated the store, like we've dedicated our lives to Jesus," said co-owner Ralph Mazon, a devout Christian.

"I think that's a different approach to running a business, but it's the best approach I don't think that there's anything negative about it," Mazon said.

Mazon is a three-year resident of Plymouth. He and the other co-owner, Harry Smith, are both members of the Cavalry Baptist Church of Plymouth.

The Powder Keg Gun Shop on Main Street in Plymouth won an award for best display of modern guns at last week-end's Gun-A-Rama held at Cobo Hall. The display was created by store manager, Jack Dean.

Patricia S. Pulkownik of Plymouth has joined Schostak Brothers & Company Inc., a Southfield-based real estate firm. She will specialize in commercial office leasing.

Mrs. Pulkownik is a graduate of the Eastern Michigan University and the mother of four children. She lives with her husband, Lawrence, on Woodland Place in Plymouth.

As we swing into the month of June, many clubs and organizations plan end-of-the-year picnics and parties. It's a great way to celebrate a year of hard work, knowing a relaxing summer lies ahead.

The Plymouth Community Arts Council held a cocktail party last Saturday night, June 3 to benefit PCAC projects. The party was held in six different homes with more than 600 members, friends and community leaders attending.

Hostesses for the evening were: Janet Brass of Crabtree Court with co-hostess Marilyn Carl and Jan Gerish; Krys Hasley of Drury Lane, with co-hostess Marg Moon and Diane Millard; Jane Hoerner of Beacon Hill Drive, with co-hostess Dotty Magee, Judy Slade and Betty Utter; Jo Hulce of McClumpha, with co-hostess Elaine Kirchgatter and Wilma Newton; Judy Morgan of Woodland Place, with co-hostess Peggy Fisher and Sharon.

A few of the things the PCAC does to acquaint the community with works of art are: they provide the art ladies in the schools; sponsor the art rental up stairs at the library; and set up the art show at the Fall Festival.

Another art related party was held Saturday night. Brian Watkins of Plymouth had a champagne party to open a month long showing of his etchings. Brian's works in photography will be on display through June 29 at the Arcade Gallery in Nickels Arcade off State Street in Ann Arbor.

Friends and neighbors of Tim and Karen Westphal bid farewell to them last week when they moved to Dallas, Texas. Tim, an engineer with Detroit Diesel was transferred to Texas. They lived on Provincial in Canton.

Jill Hochlowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hochlowski of Amelia in Plymouth, graduated from Michigan State University with a Bachelor of Science degree. Jill was in two national honor sororities and received the MSU award for two national chemistry awards. She is a '74 graduate of Salem High School and this fall she will resume her graduate studies in chemistry at San Diego.

The Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will hold its annual meeting this year at the Black Point Inn in Prouts Neck, Maine. Mrs. Bruce Richard, past president of the Plymouth Branch, and Mrs. Jack McCrumb and Mrs. Wayne Miller, members of the Lakepointe Village Branch, will attend the national meeting. They will be staying at Prouts Neck, known as Winslow Homer country (American painter) which is a lovely resort area on a peninsula on the Atlantic coast.

Scott Tasker, a fifth grade student at Hulsing school sent a balloon up May 6 with his name and address. He recently received a letter from a couple in Churchville, Pennsylvania saying they had found the balloon. Brian figured his balloon traveled about 477 miles.

The Penniman Avenue Shops gave a party Sunday in Central Parking Lot to show their appreciation for all those who helped during last week's flood. Hot dogs and hamburgers were grilled and many other picnic gourmet specials were served. Joining in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Ford Anthony formerly of Plymouth who were in town visiting friends.

School hopefuls discuss issues

ESY on extra-curricular programs at the middle schools.

Said Johnson, "The system seems to be working. As a taxpayer, I like the cost-saving." Kirchgatter also cited the reluctant of residents to approve a bond issue to finance new schools. "I'd investigate the possibility of more schools going on ESY before going for another bond issue," she said.

While none of the three said the district should do away with the controversial random selection attendance policy at the high schools, Johnson, whose son appealed his assignment last year, favored a more flexible appeals process.

Davis said the current selection process was "the fairest way we know."

Davis is a Plymouth Township resident and former English Teacher. She was appointed to the board at the end of August, 1977. Kirchgatter, a Canton resident, who had served as a member of the district's boundary committee, was appointed to fill another vacancy in January, 1978. Johnson lives in Plymouth Township and is a lawyer specializing in patents for Ford Motor Co.

City names EDC

Plymouth City Commissioners Monday approved the appointment of nine city residents to a newly-formed Economic Development Corporation that is expected to seek additions to the local commercial and industrial tax base.

Named to the panel were Cliff Tait, Jack Wilcox, William Leonard, Ralph Kenyon, Roland Schmidt, Richard Pierce, William Odom, City Manager Fred Yockey and City Treasurer Ken Way.

Students will be given their final meal next week before looking down that lonesome road to the next grade. Despite popular notions, the food grading does not parallel the educational one. Eight schools will be offering a "Cook's Choice" day or two during the week. Even the kitchen employees want to get in on the loosely-knit days' free-for-all.

Schools crying wolf on cuts?

EDITOR:

Once again the taxpayers of the Plymouth-Canton School District are getting the usual warnings about cuts in the school day, sports, etc. if the millage requested by the Administration is not passed in the June election.

When is the Administration and School Board going to realize that the taxpayers are getting tired of all the waste and duplication in the school system?

When George Smith was superintendent, he had Dora Grubner as his secretary and the two of them, along with a principal at each school and students who were taking Office Practice as a subject, kept the system running very well. (And the system included all high school students from Livonia who were bused into Plymouth).

They ran the system so well that students graduating were able to get jobs that now pay good money without ever attending any other learning institute.

We now have doctors, co-ordinators, aides, assistants and counselors, plus secretaries by the number, and still a call or visit to some schools or the

Vote 'yes' on school millages

EDITOR:

On June 12 you will have a second chance to continue the quality of education that now exists in the Plymouth-Canton School District. The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women urges you to vote "yes" on proposals one, two, and three - 3.0 millage renewal, 1.5 millage increase and 0.5 millage for repair and improvement of buildings.

The three millage proposals will maintain schools and programs as they now exist. Inflation hits our schools as it does our own finances; the additional millage is necessary to offset rising costs.

For the benefit of our children and our community vote "yes" on millage proposals one, two and three June 12th.

JUDY STONE
President, American Assoc. of University of Women
SHARON FLOWER
Incoming AAUW president

Administrative Offices will get you nothing but waiting for a "Gab Session" to end or the opportunity to talk to five or six individuals before you finally get someone who can assist you.

The money wasted on fancy offices, unnecessary co-ordinators and other administrative personnel, weekend junkets to the Sheraton Inn in Romulus, plus fences and other needless, useless purchases would keep the schools operating with no cuts without tax renewal or increase.

It seems that every tax increase is a signal for the Administration to hire more doctors, co-ordinators, or Administrative personnel and waste more money on needless projects. A return to efficiency in the school system would go a long way to balancing the budget. The taxpayers are getting tired of big salaries for unneeded personnel.

If a handful of people could run the schools in George Smith's time and do such a good job without dictating to the taxpayers, as is now being done, it certainly should not take so many more to do such a poor job now.

Granted there are more students and schools now, but proportionately there are not that many more to necessitate such an overload of administrative personnel. We have more chiefs, running fewer Indians, with a lot less quality. When is it going to change?

This is why the taxpayers turn down tax increases. They can see too many places where cuts can be made without affecting the students.

Things like random selection are unnecessary. Canton residents could go to Canton High and Plymouth residents to Salem. Any balance could be filled with volunteers. The dictation of the school board on this subject (and others) is not necessary and only makes hatred.

Cars take brutal pounding on city's potholed streets

EDITOR:

The City of Plymouth should be very "proud" of their so-called streets.

If I were a prospective customer to Plymouth, I would think twice about subjecting my automobile to the horrendous pounding it will receive on streets such as Starkweather, Mill Street and Wilcox Road from Mill Street to the Ed. Hines Parkway.

Even Main Street has many spots that are guaranteed to put rattles in your new car and shake the rust out of your old one. The drive out Joy Road to the Educational Park is a jarring experience.

It isn't bad enough that the railroad crossings are similar to the "Belgium Block" road on a test track, but do we have to have streets that finish the job of shaking our cars apart?

EDITOR:

On behalf of the Plymouth Jaycettes and the Babysitting Clinic committee, I would like to thank you and your staff for the excellent coverage of the clinic.

Because of your support, we ran not only an April session but a May session also, due to the large response for these classes.

Without the support of our local media, we would not be able to let the public know of our community projects.

Again, thank you so much for your time and effort to help us make the Plymouth community a little happier and a lot safer.

Don't speed in sub

EDITOR:

Please print the following in your Community Crier. Hopefully it will help to alleviate Green Meadow's traffic problems:

This is a mother's plea to everyone who drives through Green Meadows Subdivision, whether you live here or are just passing through PLEASE WATCH OUT FOR OUR CHILDREN!

I have lived here for six years, and witnessed six traffic accidents, three of them serious. But, yesterday's accident at the intersection of Elmhurst and Marlin really hit home. A young boy 14 years old delivering his newspapers was struck and seriously injured.

Traffic has increased substantially within our sub due to the growth in the area. I feel our sub is being used as a shortcut by people who are not obeying the speed limit and not yielding at the intersections. We have no sidewalks and our children have to ride their bikes in the road.

So, once again, I plea PLEASE SLOW DOWN!

Chiefs sweep district

BY ERIC OLSON
 "How many times do you see a team give up no walks, make no errors, and have two three-hit games pitched in the districts?" asked Fred Crissey coach of the Canton nine after they did just that on Saturday in Southfield.

In the semifinals Canton beat Milford Lakeland 4-0 on a three-hitter by Brian James and in the finals they downed Walled Lake Central 4-0 behind the three hit pitching of Scott Dawson and five hits by Scott Collins.

The two wins earned the Chiefs the district championship and their next stop is the regionals in Wyandotte.

"Right now, those two kids (James and Dawson) are my bread and butter. They are throwing strikes which is about all you have to do in high school," said Crissey. "And Doug Smith is my key reliever."

"Basically it has been pitching and defense that have carried us so far. Because if you don't let them on with walks and errors then they have to get on by hitting - and that's the hard way," added Crissey.

Collins opened the scoring in the championship game by tripling and scoring on a wild pitch. He scored again in the third after smacking a double and coming home on an error.

In the fifth the Chiefs pushed the margin to 3-0 on a run producing single by Russ Mandle. Dave Weise walked with the bases loaded later in the inning forcing in Canton's four.

Dawson tossed a complete game and struckout six. In the semifinal contest James fanned nine in going the distance while picking up his eighth win.

Canton scored the only run it needed in the first inning without the aid of a hit. Jeff Campbell and Mandle both walked and Campbell came home on a passed ball after he was sacrificed to third.

Campbell accounted for another run as he singled home Collins, who had doubled, in the second inning. Collins doubled again in the sixth to bring home Weise and Tom Norton. Weise had doubled and Norton drew a base on balls.

Canton now goes on to Wyandotte on Saturday to play in the regional against a yet to be determined opponent. The Chiefs are now 22-3 on the season.

In hardball action earlier in the week Canton crushed Sterling Heights 10-3 on Thursday behind the hitting of Collins. The shortstop had three RBIs on a single, a double, and a triple.

Mandle added a double and a triple while Campbell and Dawson had two hits apiece. James pitched the first four innings to get the win and Dawson threw the last three.

...regional foes next

Will history repeat itself?

When a Plymouth team last won the state baseball championship (Salem in 1975), the finals were played at Wyandotte Memorial Field.

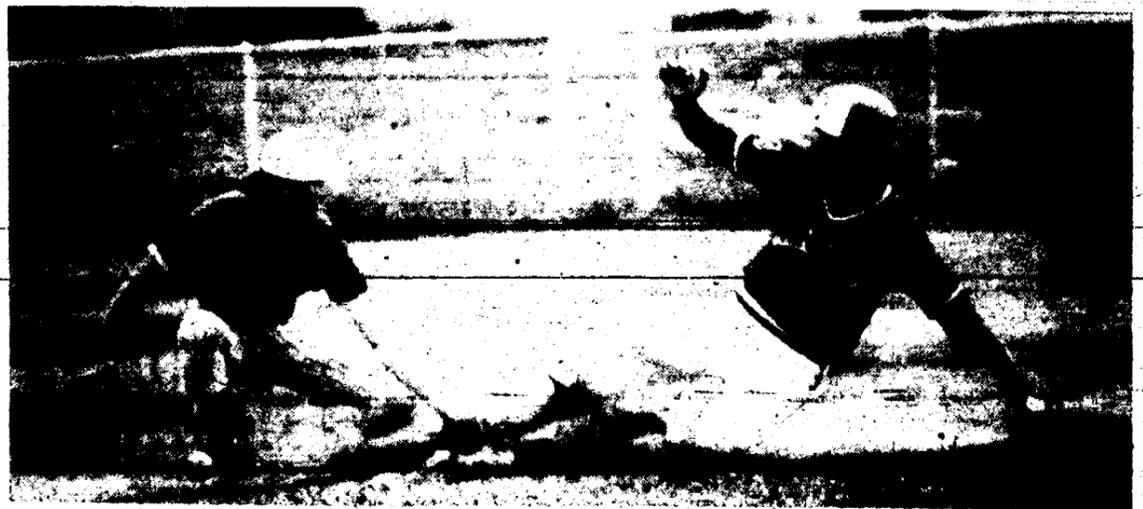

This year, the same field will be the site of not only the finals, but Canton's regional.

By sweeping through the district on Saturday, the Chiefs will battle for the regional title on Saturday, June 10 with Taylor Truman, Dearborn Heights Annapolis and Westland John Glenn.

The pairings look like this: Canton vs. Truman at 10 a.m. and at 12:30 p.m. Annapolis squares off against John Glenn. The winners play for the crown at 3:30.

To get to the field, take Southfield to Fort Street. Turn right onto Fort and travel to Grove Street. Turn left onto Grove to 20th to the park.

Rocks tie for first

BY CHAS CHILD

Behind a four-hit pitching effort by Bruce Piper, the Salem baseball team wrapped up a share of the Suburban Eight League championship last Wednesday, by downing Dearborn, 4-2.

With the win, Piper ended the year 10-1 and a perfect 7-0 in the league. Hurling all seven innings, Piper struckout six, and walked four.

The Rocks tied Livonia Bentley for the title as the Bulldogs won games last Wednesday and Thursday. Both teams finished the Sub-8 season with 10-4 marks.

"We were happy to be co-champs, said Salem Coach Brian Gilles. "It was definitely one of our goals when the season started." Overall, the Rocks finished the season 17-7, and the title is their third in four years.

Against Dearborn, Matt Etienne got Salem on the scoreboard with a solo home-run in the second inning. Joe Goodsir kept the rally going with a walk and a steal of second base.

The theft was his 27th of the year which set a school record.

After Mike Michalek's singled, Piper hit a sacrifice fly which sent Goodsir in, giving the Rocks a 2-0 lead.

In the third inning, Billy Kral singled and Bob Waite singled and stole second to put Rock runners on second and third base.

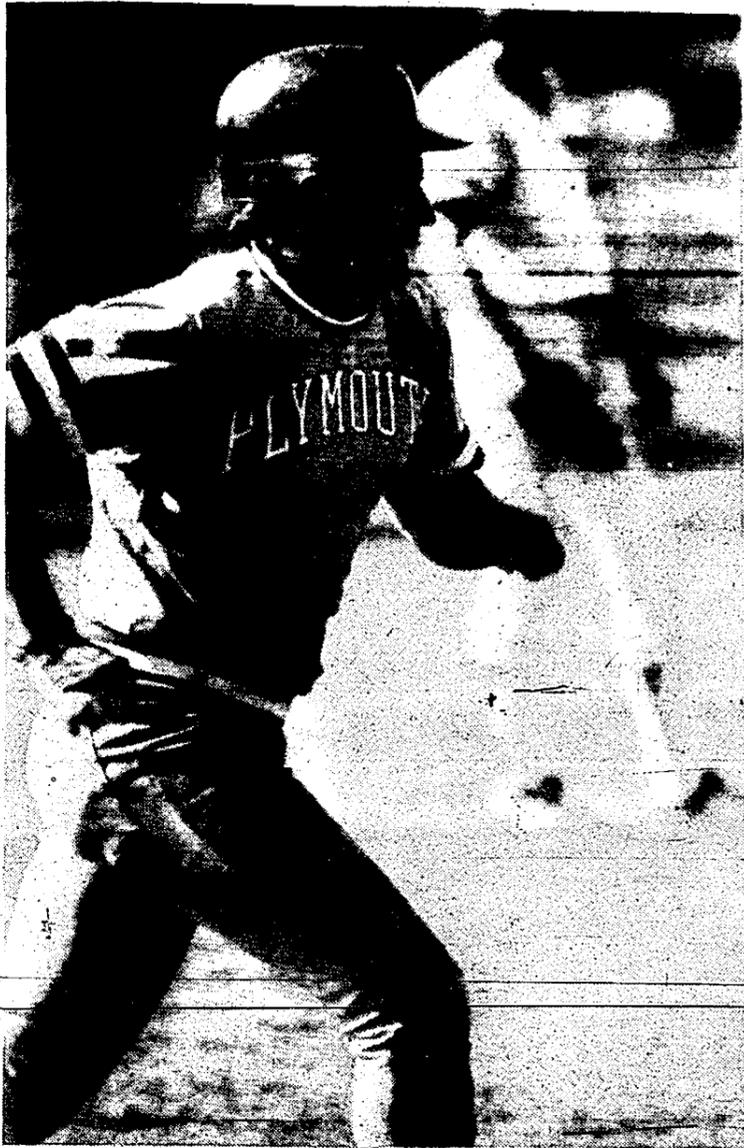

Dave Wilco, then picked up two RBIs with a single.

Dearborn picked up two runs in the seventh inning but Piper hung in there to preserve the victory.

Despite the league championship, the Rocks are still pondering a few "what-ifs." First, four of the seven losses came by the margin of one-run, including the 1-0 loss to Farmington Harrison which knocked Salem out of the state playoffs in the first round.

"A few timely base hits could have given us just a great season," said Gilles.

The other major disappointment was the state tournament loss to Harrison. Hitting well over .300 all season, the Rocks fell into a slump after a rainy spell had given them too many days off, and Salem only managed two hits in the game.

SALEM'S BOB WAITE

Rock girl golfers tenth in state meet

BY CHAS CHILD

In only its third year of competition, the Salem girls golf team proved itself one of the top 10 teams in the state Monday. Led by June Delaney, the Rocks finished 10th in the state meet on Burroughs Farms course in Brighton.

"I'm very pleased," said Salem Coach Bob Waters. "It's been a heck of a season."

Behind Delaney's score of 99, Beth Maggio fired a 102, Betty Delano carded a 104, and Meg McGee was right behind with a 105.

Cindy Figg of the meet's winning team, Mt. Pleasant, earned medalist honors with a 79 on the ladies par 73 course.

Unlike other sports, teams from classes A, B, C, D competed together at the meet. Against just other class A teams, Salem would have finished fifth.

For Waters, the 10th place finish was especially sweet, since in the fall, his boys golf team also placed 10th in the state meet.

"It reflects the caliber of golfers we have here at Salem," said Waters. "Even in the girls program after only three years we're starting a tradition."

Salem wins triple crown

By wrapping up a share of the Suburban Eight League championship in baseball last week, Salem High copped the triple crown of major sports titles this year.

Earlier, the football team won an undisputed crown and the basketball team tied Bentley for the title.

Register for hockey

Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association Registration will be held at the Plymouth Cultural Center on June 10, 1978 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The cost is $50 for the first child, $20 for each additional child. A birth certificate is required and there will be no registration raffle. Late registration will be on August 21, 1978.

Surprise! Chief softballers win title

BY JEFFREY

Going into the Districts as underdogs, the Canton softball team became the first team in the school's history to clinch a berth in the regionals by defeating Redford Union 7-5 in semifinals action and then edging Salem in the finals 8-6.

Lucy Howe Canton's pitching, mainstay picked up both wins for the Chiefs to notch her seventh and eighth victories of the season against 7 losses.

Against RU, Howe allowed only five hits, and also gave up four walks and struck out one.

Kathie Peck went two for two at the plate and Pam Schipani managed three hits for four times at bat.

During the finals which were played Saturday afternoon, the emotions ran high as the two cross-park rivals met for the first time this year.

"We knew they we're going to be tough," said Coach Joan Ryan. "They had a 15-2 record and had already won their league, but we weren't intimidated we just stayed cool and concentrated on the game."

Salem, although noted for a good defensive game, gave up seven errors which accounted for four of Canton's eight runs.

The Rocks jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first. Canton scored their first two runs in the top of the second when Schipani came home on a single by Maureen Morahan and Lucy Howe flew out to sacrifice Vickie Cavallaro home.

Salem came back in their half of the second with a run to take a 3-2 advantage. The Chiefs scored one run apiece in the two middle innings both on wild pitches which allowed Cindy Stevens to come home in the third and Cavallaro to score in the fourth.

The Rocks rallied in the fifth scoring their final three runs of the game to jump out in front, 6-4.

Canton managed to close the gap by one in the sixth when Judy Freiman's third strike was dropped allowing her to get to first safely and permitting Val Harven to score from third.

The seventh inning was destined to decide the final outcome and the Chiefs were obviously "up" for the occasion.

Harben's bases loaded ground ball could have put an abrupt end to the Chiefs season, but Salem's costly seventh error allowed Schipani and Cavallaro to score the tying and go-ahead runs. The Chiefs tallied for the last time on a fielder's choice which allowed Jean Krashevitz to come home.

Canton now goes into regional action on Saturday at Trenton.

Wyandotte, John Glenn, and Waterford are the other schools that Canton must beat on Saturday in order to go on into State competition the following week.

Rocks clinch tie for Sub-8 crown

BY ERIC OLSON

Although the Salem softball team lost in the district finals to Canton 8-6 on Saturday they did manage to clinch at least a tie for the Suburban Eight League crown by outlasting Dearborn 8-7 in 14 innings on Thursday.

Debbie Pitera, the winning pitcher for the Rocks against Dearborn, opened the top of the 14th inning with a single, stole second, and went to third on an error on Donna Goodrich's ground ball. Pitera then came home with the winning run on an error off the bat of Becky Crespo.

Salem took a 7-4 lead into the bottom of the seventh, but could not hold it as Pitera gave up four straight walks forcing in one run and two more runs scored on an error by Goodrich.

By scoring three runs in the first Salem jumped to an early lead, but Dearborn bounced back with runs of their own in the bottom half of the inning.

A single by Pitera, a fielder's choice to Goodrich, and home run by Crespo accounted for the Rocks first three runs.

In the fourth Salem tallied three more runs as Cindy Cindrech lead-off with a double, Doris Hoelscher singled, and Horwood walked to load the bases for Pitera whose base hit drove in two. Goodrich followed with an RBI hit.

run in the sixth on a base hit by Horwood who stole second and scored on a bunt single by Pitera and a bad throw.

"We put them down one-two-three, but we just couldn't get our runners around," said Salem Coach Livi Way on the length of the game. "We had runners on in most of the innings."

Pitera came on for the starter, Jan Boyd, who went the first 2 2/3 innings to pick up the win and check Dearborn on one hit the rest of the way.

In order to get to the district final against Canton the Rocks had to beat Bishop Burgess in the semifinal. And they did, 6-0, behind the six-hit pitching of Pitera.

Pitera struckout eight and walked four and scattered six singles in getting the victory. It was Pitera's second shutout of the season. The other came against Churchill.

Salem blew the game open in the first inning by scoring four runs. Kathy Dillon tallied the first run of the game after she walked, went to second of a sacrifice bunt by Pitera, and rode home on error. A base on balls to Crespo, a base hit by Horwood, and a single by Sue McDowell pushed to more runs across.

They also scored single runs in the second and sixth. In the second Hoelscher tripled and scored on a single by Pitera and in the sixth Crespo slammed a homerun.

Right now, the Salem softballers are in a wait-and-see situation as far as the Sub-8 race is concerned as they may or may not have to play Allen Park. The Allen Park game is dependent on Edsel Ford winning its remaining two games.

Rocks to honor Hank

The fourth annual Hank Rupert golf tournament will be held on June 10 at Hilltop Glen Golf Course. For Salem High School seniors and graduates, the tourney honors Rupert, a school employe who is the Rocks' No. 1 sports fan.

Among the Salem athletes ready to tee off on the 10th are: Doug Agnew, Bob Dasher, Tom Ellinghausen, Bob Waite, and Joe Goodsir.

Craig Bell, the new Canton varsity basketball coach and former Salem JV cage coach, will also compete in the fun event as will Salem golf coach Bob Waters, and Jim Ellinghausen and Jim Kline of the Ohio State basketball team.

The first group will tee off at 8:30 a.m. and afterwards the group will enjoy a picnic party.

In Sub-8 Salem runs to third

BY JEFF REY

The Salem track team closed their season with a third place finish at the league meet on Wednesday.

Edsel Ford won the Suburban Eight meet with 100 points, Dearborn finished second with 83, and Salem was third with 79.

The Rocks won two events; one of which was a relay and the other in the field events.

Bob Dasher took a first in the Discus with a 160 feet 7 inch toss and the 440 relay team of Greg Stevens, Dave Booker, Mike Christie, and Chris Ritchey snatched first place honors turning in a 44.5 finish.

The Rocks had a host of top finishers starting off with Dasher who also took a third in the shotput with a toss of 52' 3". Mike Skone took a seventh in the high jump with a height of 5' 10", Rich Hanschu placed fifth in the long jump at 20' 8 1/2" and Kurt Lewis managed a seventh in that event with a 20' 2 1/4" leap.

Kappler finished second at 14' 11" and Dennis Ogdon stayed right behind taking a third at 13' 6".

Mike Christie gave a superb performance in the 330 low hurdles to grab a second place with a time of 39.5 and a third in the 120 high hurdles with a 15.4 clocking.

Tom Rubadue grabbed a third in the half mile turning in a 1:57.4 finish and Greg Davis took two seconds, in the 100 yard dash recording a 10.3 and in the 220 at 23.3.

Lewis took a sixth in the 100 turning in a time of 10.6 and Booker grabbed a third in the 220 with a time of 23.8.

Salem's 880 relay team took a second recording a time of 1:31.9 and the mile relay of Tom Covington, Tom Carl, Rubadue and Lewis snatched a third turning in a 3:32.9 finish.

"I can't say enough good things about these guys," said coach Gary Balconi. "I think everyone performed their best possible effort."

"Edsel Ford was just too strong in the long distances and we didn't get enough help from some of the other schools like we hoped for."

On Saturday seven runners from Salem participated in the state meet in East Lansing.

Dasher recorded Salem's highest finish grabbing a sixth place in the discus with a 159' 5" toss. Rubadue finished 12th in the half mile with a time of 1:58.9, and the 440 relay team took a fourth in their heat, but it was not good enough to qualify them for the finals.

"We had a lot of fun," said Balconi. "Dasher did tremendous job in the discus and I'm proud of all these guys."

Salem will be graduating 25 seniors, but nonetheless Balconi is still optimistic about next year.

"This was a great year for all sports as well as track," said the Salem mentor, "but with guys like Ogdon and Hanschu coming back and a lot of our underclassmen returning it should be a good year."

Chiefs 4th in loop

BY ERIC OLSON

Rich Fleischer got to the semi-finals of the 220 yard dash before being ousted in the state meet. He was third in the preliminary heat and fifth in the semi-finals. He was the only Canton thinclad to survive the first round of competition.

"His mother (Fleischer's) said that he had a sore throat so we decided not to let him run in the 440, but he will be back next year and finish in the top ten," said the Chiefs track coach Mike Tiano.

Detroit Cass Tech won the state title with 43 points and defending champion Flint Southwestern was second with 34. The meet was held at Flint's Houston stadium on Saturday.

On Wednesday, Canton placed fourth in the Western Six championship meet with 34 points while Churchill dominated the meet with 95 points, 42 more than second-place Waterford Mott.

"We were only nine points out of second place and that's the best we've ever done," said Tiano. "Our goal was third place and we were only four behind Northville who had 38."

For the Chiefs, the meet was punctuated with school records. Martin Hinkle's school record time of 41.1 in the 330 low hurdles was good for fifth place, Fleischer took a first and set a new school mark in the 440 in 51.4, and the 440 relay (45.4) and the 880 relay (1:33) both set school records and took seconds. Fleischer also had a first in the 220.

John Tarr, Brent Eckels and Dan McGlinn all ran on both relay teams. Mike Phillips was a member of the 440 squad and Fleischer was on the 880 team.

Eckels also captured a first in the 100 in 10.4 and a second in the longjump with a leap of 19' 9". Andy Lewis added a fourth in the discus with a throw of 137' 10" and a fifth in the shot put (44').

"Churchill was very strong as they took several firsts and even swept some events," said Tiano.

Chief girl thinclads 4th

Competing in the Western Six League championships last Wednesday the Canton girl thinclad placed fourth with 65 points behind Churchill 92, Walled Lake Western 86, and Waterford Mott 81.

Kelly Heaton took one of the two Chief firsts in the shot put with a toss of 34 feet even. She was also third in the discus with a throw of 91 feet. Jeri Shufelt added a first in the two mile with a 12:52 timing.

"I was fairly pleased with our performance," said Chief Coach Ken Zornes. "We were in first place after the first six events."

"If we had had more depth in the sprints we would have been right up there at the end. Next year we should be better if we can get a couple of sprinters because our middle and long distances will be strong again and the field events really came through for us in the league by scoring 28 points," added Zornes.

Others who placed for Canton were: Brenda Bigelow, a third in the highjump, Lynn Rudolph with a 13:00 clocking in the two mile which was good for second, Cathy Brophy a fifth in the 880 (2:30.9), Veronica Gray in the 220 yard dash with a third (27.1), and Melinda Breen a third in the shot with a put of 32' 10".

Farmington-Harrison was fifth with 61 points and Northville last with 57.

Salem girl thinclads take sixth

The Salem girl Striders took sixth in the Sub-8 league championship held last Wednesday at Dearborn Edsel Ford. Dearborn was first with 84 points and Trenton second with 75. The Rocks totaled 27 points.

Erin Lucas and Diane Perich tied a school record of 5' 2" in the highjump to finish second and third respectively. Lucas was also fifth in the hurdles in 16.6 seconds.

Kathy Sample broke a school record in the two mile with a 12:06 running and she was third in the mile in 5:39. Lisa Morris in the longjump (14' 9") and Jenny DeVonny in the two mile (12:47) added fifths.

Park, Beth Horner, Kathy Zilke, and Ann Meixner copped a fifth in 4:35.

"I was very pleased with the outcome as we won a lot of points with very few people participating," said Coach

Scott Kurtz.

Carin Ford, the lone Salem representative in the state track meet, did not pass the first round of competition while competing in the shot put.
