

Did owner mistreat horses?

BY DONNA LOMAS

A Canton horse trainer has been cited for improperly feeding and housing 24 horses at a farm on Geddes Road near Hanford.

A violation was issued last May by township Animal Control Officer John Swalley to Bobbie Jo Walton for the alleged mistreatment, following an investigation initiated by the Michigan Humane Society.

Last Friday, however, Wayne County prosecutor

Robert Sage adjourned the case for 30 days, Swalley said, to get a second opinion on the facts the township has presented as its case.

Swalley said Walton, who trains the horses as trotters for area racetracks, "appears to be complying with the ticket. But the ticket stands until this thing is settled in court," the animal control officer added.

According to township reports, Walton was "improperly feeding" the horses, and the barns in which they were kept were "in poor condition, with holes in the sides and the roof caving in — a general deteriorated state."

"The law doesn't require shelter," said Swalley. "There is a barn there, but not enough room for 24 horses — no more than seven."

The report also said the barns were poorly vented and dark. "The horses are very thin and appear to be underfed," it added. "Others are in slightly better condition."

"There were 12 food buckets, none contained any consumable food, and there were six inches of water in a slightly dirty trough," said the report.

Tom Goodman, director of the Westland Humane Shelter, said he saw "horses eating bark

Vote eyed to finance school renovations

Plymouth-Canton school officials will have the groundwork ready Sept. 1 for a bond issue that will ask district voters for funds to renovate existing school buildings to accommodate expected growth.

School officials were directed by the board to see when the bond issue could be put on the ballot, either this fall or next February or March.

At a workshop discussion Monday, School Supt. John Hoben said that although the schools planned "major changes in attendance areas," the district's Extended School Year (45-15) capacity would probably reach a saturation point in two years.

"We will have to decide soon whether to build new buildings or renovate what we have," Hoben told the board. "It takes about two years to build a school." "I don't think the community is going to support a bond issue to build new buildings no matter what," Board Member Elain Kirchgatter said. "Most don't realize that ESY is costing more than building a new school."

Said Member Joe Gray, "The only way to get the voters to pass it is to put elementary kids on split days — then they'll pass a bond issue tomorrow."

If bonds for a new school were approved, the building would probably be located near the huge Sunflower subdivision west of Canton Center Road near Warren, Hoben said.

"We need (a bond issue) for a $7 or $8 million renovation by the first of next year," Hoben told the five board members present Monday. He said another possibility would be to levy $11.2 million during 1979-80 without voter approval if the bond issue repeatedly failed.

"But that's all shot if this tax amendment (a statewide proposition to slash property taxes) goes through in November," Hoben added. "Other alternatives would be renting in other districts or installing portables."

Said Board Member Carol Davis, "We haven't built enough elementary schools, but if you think Lowell Junior High in Livonia would be available, I'd be for that."

Hoben said the district expects 750 to 800 new students each year for the next four years.

"We are planning major changes in our attendance areas," he said. "We're thinking of realignment of the north end of the district to ensure enrollment at Tanager and Farrand (in Plymouth Township's Lake Pointe area) and ease the pressure on Field and Eriksson (two of the district's newest schools in Canton)."

Detroit pull-out may doom DeHoCo

Wayne County Commissioners will consider closing the Detroit House of Corrections, located at Beck and Ridge roads in Plymouth Township, Dec. 1, after the City of Detroit turns over management of the correctional facility to the county.

"The law says it is the county's responsibility to handle all prisoners," said Judy Braak, spokesperson for the county. "The city can't continue financing it and doesn't want the overhead."

But Wayne County Commissioners are saying it will cost

"a small fortune" to bring DeHoCo up to code.

"The county has to satisfy new stringent codes Detroit didn't," said Braak. "It will cost multi-millions to renovate the facility."

Studies done in 1975 showed that updating DeHoCo's men and women's facilities were about $23 million, John Wiktor, administrative assistant to the commissioners said.

What we will probably do is go through the study and see what renovations are neces-

Parking ramp plan gets city's nod

BY HANK MEIJER

The City of Plymouth's parking commission Monday unveiled three alternate proposals for a $1.2 million parking structure planned for the Weidman Parking Lot on Main Street south of the Mayflower Hotel - - and the city commission voted to proceed with one of the plans.

Under each of the three schemes drawn up by the commission's consulting planners at Harley Ellington Pierce Yee Associates, some 300 cars could be parked accommodated on a four-level structure.

The report, presented at Monday's city commission meeting, is the result of a study requested by city officials this spring.

The scheme chosen calls for a 62-foot setback from Main Street.

The planner noted "the desire of the Mayflower Hotel to...maintain clear view of the hotel's facade," adding, "surface parking can be provided for that portion of the site since the hotel will be the major user of the proposed parking facility, it was generally felt that their support for this development is essential to its success."

The preferred alternative has entrances on Main Street, while the third would be entered and exited only from the alley to the west of the existing Weidman lot.

The planners place the cost of operating such a facility to be $50,000 annually.

Said the report, "the direct operating expenses include wages for a full-time cashier, a part-time manager and a part-time maintenance man, utilities, maintenance contract for an elevator, insurance, tickets and miscellaneous supplies."

The ground-level parking lot which remains along Main Street would probably be metered, the report suggested.

Also proposed are designated spaces for monthly parking for employees of the Mayflower Hotel and other adjoining businesses.

Commissioner Beverly McAninch voted against acceptance of the chosen alternatives.

New store coming

The new tenant for the Kresge's store on Main Street will be the Plymouth Furniture Store, now located at Plymouth and Evergreen roads in Detroit.

Owners of the store, Oscar Hertz and Gerald Shapiro, say they will employ 15 persons and expect to move in around March 15. "We're looking forward to it," Hertz said.

One of the building's landlords said they will take over the building in January next year and finish remodeling by March.

In Plymouth Township lawsuit Court to allow sewer vote, but will it accept outcome?

Although a Wayne County Circuit Court Judge will allow Plymouth Township residents to vote Aug. 8 on whether sewer lines should be extended into western areas of the township, a rejection by the voters may well not decide the issue.

Circuit Court Judge John R. Kirwan last Friday rejected a suit by three western township residents that would have cancelled the Aug. 8 referendum on sewer bonding. He said the question of whether bonds should be sold to finance the $2.8 million project, which would run lines from Sheldon Road out to Ridge, should stay on the ballot.

But as a result of a similar suit in 1975, the court had already ordered the township to proceed with the sewers, and Judge Kirwan's opinion suggested that if the sewer issue is defeated, the township will have to find another way to put the sewers through. That other way is expected to be Public Act 185, a state law which permits the local government to sell the bonds without approval of the voters.

The trio of residents who brought suit to stop the upcoming vote contended that western areas of the township, including the Plymouth Hills subdivision on Beck Road north of Powell, have an immediate need for sanitary sewer service. They cited state and county environmental agency reports which supported extension of the sewer service.

Also included in the proposed project is a line that would serve a portion of Lake Pointe Village in the north-eastern corner of the township which is not yet connected to sewer lines.

Opponents of the project contend that the extensions, particularly into still partly-rural areas in the west, will spur development of open land.

According to Supervisor Tom Notebaert, who had been named in the suit and was in court Friday when the opinion was handed down, the judge told the township to proceed "expeditiously" with the sewer extension, even if the vote fails.

Some township board members said the court apparently expected them to take action at their Aug. 15 meeting to put the sewer through should the referendum reject it, and to appear before the judge again Aug. 18 if they did not act.

In light of the suit of three years ago, Notebaert said he was surprised at last week's opinion. "I thought the judge would enjoin the election," he said. "But now we're under court order to proceed with it."

The suit to stop the election was filed by farmer Loyd Sharland, developer Loren (Bud) Gould and Leo Schultz, president of the Plymouth Hills Homeowners' Association. Opponents of the sewer extension were led by officers of the Plymouth Township Homeowners Association.

Jocks sneak into district when levies fail elsewhere

One of the drawbacks in having a millage renewal passed in the Plymouth-Canton schools is that residents of districts in which millage requests were defeated suddenly find enrollment here attractive, school officials said Monday.

"It is a problem and it's cropping up," Supt. John Hoben said. "And we pay the penalty for it because we are taking other districts' tax money. People give false addresses and sometimes the place doesn't even exist."

School officials said this year the problem appears centered on sneak enrollments of prep athletes from Dearborn, which cut four sports from its athletic program because of a recent millage defeat.

Board members suggested

No funds for bigger course

The federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation notified Plymouth Township last week that the township's application for funds to buy land for expansion of its Hilltop Glen Golf Course had been denied.

The township had been seeking matching funds to help finance the purchase of 33 acres to add nine holes to the course. The proposal is scheduled to appear on the Aug. 8 primary election ballot.

Part of the acreage, which adjoins the course to the north, had also been envisioned as the site of a storm water retention basin to relieve water runoff into Tonquish Creek.

Township officials said they were uncertain what course negotiations for purchase of the parcel would now take.

Canton is parched, conserving urged

Canton officials are requesting residents to conserve on water during these hot summer days and to water their lawns on alternating days.

Those residents whose addresses end in odd numbers should water on the odd numbered days of the month and those residents whose addresses end in even numbers should water on the even numbered days, said Canton Supervisor Harold Stein.

Stein said the township has started new construction that will improve the low water pressure situation and is modifying existing meter pits so that the water pressure can be regulated.

The Township Board will be asked at the Tuesday, July 25, meeting to pass a resolution authorizing the Canton Police to enforce the watering schedule for the "health, safety, and welfare of the community," said Stein.

Are Canton's sewers enough?

BY DONNA LOMAS

When and if the long talked about 'Super Sewer' is built, most local officials agree that Canton Township won't have to worry about sewer capacity.

But until that time, the issue of how many residents can use Canton's sewers before they won't hold any more will continue to flare up.

This election year, the question has arisen again. Trustee Lynne Goldsmith, who is not up for re-election, has long contended that the township should find out what its real sewer capacity is. A few of the candidates running for trustee and supervisor have also brought the issue up.

The question is one of numbers: no one - county, public works officials, township planners, or state officials - agrees just how many people and businesses can move into Canton before its sewers reach the limit. Each calculates sewer usage with different figures.

According to Township Engineer Dale Townsend, Canton can have a population of 200,000 before it will need the 'super sewer' which is scheduled to be built in four to five years.

According to its calculations, the township now has a population of 36,000.

Prep booze use on rise

The use of alcohol among students is on the increase at Salem and Canton high schools, while the use of drugs is declining, school officials noted Monday.

"Do we have a problem with heroin or pills out there?" Trustee Steve Harper asked school administrators during a workshop discussion of student suspensions from Canton High School.

"No, there is no problem with that out there," said John Telford, director of secondary education.

"There is an increase in the use of alcohol out there, but it doesn't result in suspension (from school) as much," Supt. John Hoben said.

School officials said 49 per cent of those students suspended from Canton for "various infractions" are ninth graders. Hoben said there was a seven per cent drop in suspensions for the park from last year. Only Canton High school submitted a report to the board on suspensions.

The number of students suspended is highest with ninth graders and steadily decreases as the students advance, the schools said.

Analysis

According to Goldsmith, Wade and Trim Associates, the township planning firm, told the board of trustees more than a year ago that it was within 2,500 people of its sewer limit.

"We've approved three new subdivisions since then," said Goldsmith. "What about downstream? Do we have a moral obligation (to the communities) downstream? If the sewers back up here, they may downstream" (en route to the metropolitan wastewater treatment plant in Monroe

Noel Culbert, a candidate for the supervisors seat in the Aug. 8 Democratic primary, said the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) told him Canton would exceed its sewer capacity during rains within one year. Gary Roberts, a Republican candidate for a trustee seat, said plat approvals should be halted in the township because Canton is already at sewer capacity.

At a meeting held in Plymouth recently, EPA officials said the department was considering Oakland County out of the super sewer route, a move that could increase the costs to tax payers in Canton and Plymouth.

Dave Sprow, a spokesman for the state Department of Natural Resources, said he was not concerned. "The Huron Valley interceptor (super sewer) planned will provide extra capacity for Canton," he said. "But we're waiting to see how the EPA program goes," he said Friday.

The Environmental Protection Agency, which would build super sewer, told an audience at a meeting in Canton last week they planned to review SEMCOG population estimates because several communities had already passed

Canton chief wants reservist hired

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: July 19, 1978

Canton Police Chief Walter MacGregor is expected next Tuesday to request the board of trustees to allow the hiring of one part-time reserve officer.

His initial request was turned down by the board last week. Trustees said he had not followed the township procedure for hiring reserve officers.

"We're short on manpower," MacGregor told the board. "Some part-time reservists aren't even able to work." The chief said he could use 10 more reserve officers.

When asked by Trustee Lynne Goldsmith if he had given "preferential treatment" to the candidate to be hired, MacGregor said, "No special treatment, but you tell me who will work for $3.80 per hour and not need a full-time job? This man is already a certified officer," MacGregor said.

Trustee Brian Schwall, Clerk

John Flodin and Supervisor Harold Stein voted to approve the hiring. Schwall, Flodin and Trustee Eugene Daley are on the township's police commission.

3 Canton hopefuls complain of snub

A trio of candidates for seats on the Canton Township Board of Trustees say they didn't get a fair shake last week at the township Jaycee's annual fair.

Candidates Larry Bowerman, Carol Bodenmiller and Gary Roberts said the Canton Jaycees, planning an informal "Meet the Candidates" session July 9, did not send them written invitations to the event which other candidates received.

"Nobody ever said a thing to me about it," said Bowerman, who said he had to call a Jaycee official to find out more about it, and then was told there would be no politicking allowed at the event.

The Jaycees said they had not intended to slight anyone in failing to send letters to the three, and called the confusion "an oversight."

Canton trustees last week approved to spend $7,209 from the township capitol improvement fund to buy additional equipment for the new township hall.

Trustees voted to purchase a projection screen for $1,020; a flag pole (including installation) for $769; floor mats and frames for $500 and an envelope deposit box for $500.

Township buys new fire truck

Plymouth Township Board members last week approved the purchase of a $63,412 pumper truck for the township fire department.

Trustees also approved the purchase of 400 stacking chairs for the meeting hall, at a cost of $4,400. Deferred until the board could get bids were signs and display panels, estimated at $7,294.

Finance Director Mike Gorman said those purchases could not be made with grant money because costs have increased from original estimates and since no provisions were originally made for sewers and site development around the building, the grant money had to be used for those items.

Supervisor Tom Notebaert said the township had received estimates of up to $115,000 for a comparable piece of equipment, and had been given a quote by another manufacturer of $82,000.

Plymouth Township planning commissioners are expected tonight to consider site plan approval of a nursery school proposed for Joy Road west of Canton Center.

Finance Director Mike Gorman, Canton residents will not be able to call Canton police through township offices after noon that date. Residents should call 397-3350 for police assistance, Gorman said.

Township offices will be closed Thursday, Aug. 10 and Friday, Aug. 11, Gorman said, however, emergency calls will be taken for police at 397-3350 and for fire at 981-1111.

All Canton employees will be working overtime both days and through the weekend to complete the move, Gorman said.

What now for DeHoCo?

The Detroit House of Corrections, that gray and foreign presence in a pastoral corner of our community, may be our best-known local institution.

Johnny Cash sort of immortalized it with a reference in an old hit, "Detroit City," and tales of its escapees strolling through Plymouth have become a part of local folklore.

Now, with its co-operators staring costly remodeling in the face, it may be closed.

The City of Detroit built the sprawling complex out on Five Mile Road back in the Depression. Now it's withdrawing its participation in maintaining the place.

That's probably not surprising, since in recent years only five per cent of DeHoCo's inmates have been city residents. But the news has our financially-uneasy county fathers in a quandary.

The county jail is no place for the minor offenders now sentenced to a weekend or a month in DeHoCo's light-security confines.

Some prisoners are already being housed in a building on the Wayne County General Hospital grounds, and those facilities could be expanded - perhaps at for less than the "small fortune" old DeHoCo would be expected to consume.

Nobody likes to live near a prison, so most township residents would probably be relieved to have the old complex on Five Mile fall vacant. And it's hardly an architectural landmark that could attract defenders. (It's not even an asset the township can boast of in consolidation talks with the city.)

The township's new master plan projects residential development all around that corner of the township anyway, and that might be considered a more appealing use of the land.

But we can't help but notice what has happened just across Five Mile Road, in Northville Township. There, the county's old Child Development Center stands empty, like a sprawling college campus with only one of its many buildings in use. Politicians have talked for years about all sorts of schemes and dreams for the place, from branch campuses to alcoholic treatment centers, but today it still stands empty.

We would not like to see that happen here. Growth is not always desirable, but neither is another governmental ghost town.

What should taxes buy us?

When we Plymouth-Canton residents talk about our governments, we often refer to them in terms of the services they provide us.

Service, after all, is government's reason for being.

And, as the so-called taxpayers' revolt turns into a revolution with an uprising that grew into a revolt and finally became a revolution, governmental services will come under more and more scrutiny.

There are certainly some services provided by our local governing bodies that we could do without.

For example, the residents of Adams Street in Plymouth would no doubt gladly give up the constant street repair work that fills their lives with jackhammer pounding from dawn to dusk. There is probably no other street in our community which has suffered as much constant upheaval by the gas company, the city water department and the city street department. Now that the street's been repaved, there reportedly is heavy betting among Adams residents about how soon the new asphalt will be torn up in the name of better services.

Township residents, on the same hand, would gladly give up the overzealous water meter readers who arouse homeowners at 8:30 in the morning. Oh sure, water is a necessary service and the meters must be read - but at 8:30 a.m.?

Canton residents wondered aloud whether the township really needed the new DPW truck that didn't fit into the garage. And they've wondered why money is spent to erect large "Canton is growing" signs for every new ice cream stand that goes up.

Plymouth-Canton School Districts critics find fault with whatever innovative program - from helping the learning disabled to buying new books - is suggested. And every time a new administrator is added at the board offices, the teachers' union cries, "Trim the fat," just like the taxpayers do at teacher contract time.

There's just no end to criticism of governmental services.

As it becomes more popular for us taxpayers to evaluate what we get for our money, governmental services will come under closer scrutiny. Some things that are done for us now may be cut back, others may be eliminated all together.

The end result of the current vogue among overburdened taxpayers will be more and more prying into affairs at city and township halls

W. EDWARD WENDOVER WITH THORNS ALICE

and at the school district office.

Many services, viewed for decades as sacred cows, appropriate for taxpayer support, could be slaughtered and that may mean that some public employes will be put out to pasture.

As the heat gets put on our governments, there will be no easy answers as to what services can withstand cutbacks. Expect no miracles - the proverbial miracle worker is a product of fiction, not of politics.

We're not only taxpayers, we're the users of the services our governments provide and we must begin to evaluate more closely what we get for our taxes before we can look for ways to cut back.

But you can bet the bottom line of your property tax bill that a major change is on the way. Let's see to it that the changes we make in the Plymouth-Canton Community are rational and well thought out.

We can start by closely examining the services we expect our governments to perform and how they measure up to our expectations.

Don't tarnish Canton with 'Great Wall' tag

One of the hurdles confronting Canton's identity is its sometimes unwarranted, bad image problem in the eyes of others.

Take for example how some journalists have labeled the I-275 concrete wall sound barriers as "The Great Wall of Canton." Maybe it's supposed to be a play on the Chinese origin of Canton's name, but that seems to be stretching it a bit.

For the record, half of the walls are in Plymouth Township so why didn't those wags tag it the Great Wall of Plymouth-Canton? More appropriately, it should be called The Great Wall of the State of Michigan.

Don't condone hunters' turtle-killing

PG 7

EDITOR:

Last week The Crier ran a picture showing two persons who shot and killed, with bow and arrows, a snapper turtle. I am writing to say I am in full agreement with the editorial of your Production Manager, Mike Carne.

I also think the act was repulsive, considering how fast we are losing our wooded and farm areas in today's world.

I myself have done a little work in the area of archery and can say that it could not have taken any skill to kill the old snapper. What the two persons did was not hunting but slaughter of the innocent. These two "great hunters" should try for something more challenging, where they would be required to do a little more than just kill.

I also feel that The Community Crier should not have carried the picture in the first place, giving these two a false sense of accomplishment. I feel that The Crier, by carrying the picture, is condoning the act. I am disappointed that a paper "with its heart in the Plymouth-Canton Community" would publicize this type of action.

Let's see what schools' administrators are paid

EDITOR:

As taxpayers of the Plymouth-Canton school district - do we not have the right to know our administrators salaries and their proposed salaries?

At the last school board meeting the administrators increases were tabled - to be voted on at the July 24th meeting.

Plymouth-Canton taxpayers ask yourselves - can our school board be representing us and our children if they vote to give huge increase to our administrators and tell us of all the cuts that must be made in our classrooms?

When our millage increase did not go through, we were immediately told of the cuts but we have heard nothing of any cuts at the office on Harvey St.

Why cut our children, but increase wages in administration?

If our school Superintendent and all his assistants are more concerned with their welfare and their big salaries, they have the wrong jobs.

Wouldn't it seem more like a Board of Education if its attitude was to cut back in the office on Harvey, double up on some work in the office, and keep those whose jobs are really necessary. Lay off those that they could do without.

Please don't give huge increases to administration and take away from our children.

We the people elect you to office as qualified, caring people - caring for the children.

In closing - I think our local paper should print the 1978 salaries and the proposed 1978-1979 salaries for all school administration.

Other school districts have cut back by not giving huge increases. Why can't we?

Old Village Assn. merits tip of hat

On the heels of another successful Dearie Day, it's appropriate to put in a word of praise for the Old Village Association (OVA).

Few community groups which have as much support from the business community as does the OVA take much effort to aid residents of the community as well.

The OVA has not only helped its area's commerce, but the community's other facets too. Once known derisively as "Lower Town" or "The other side of the tracks," Old Village has been transformed into a vital part of the Plymouth-Canton Community largely through the efforts of the OVA.

We all benefit from the continued work this group performs and it deserves our thanks.

Thank kid who cuts lawn

EDITOR:

Some recognition should be given to the gentleman who cuts the lawn, levels the road, and, most of all, makes driving and planting much easier at the garden plots located at Lilley and Warren roads.

This young man is doing an excellent job in maintaining the grounds. This subdivision of land is looking better every summer.

Let this be my thanks to this hard worker. He musn't go unnoticed.

I'm not Chas...or Mary's hubby

EDITOR:

To avoid any confusion in the coming August primary election, I think I should tell everyone who I am not!

I am not the husband or relative of Mary Childs, Pro-Tem Mayor of Plymouth. Mary is a very talented and capable person and her husband Eric is a great guy, but as far as I know we are not related in any way.

Another person I am not is

Chas Child of The Community Crier. Chas is much younger and better looking than I am, and obviously a good writer. Please note that he spells his name "Child" and my name is spelled "Childs".

If I should be lucky enough to win in this primary election, I would like to do it on my own and not because of a mix up of names.

Community opinions

Apathy reigns

To many sports aficionados, baseball is the slowest and most old-fashioned of games.

Many prefer to see a soccer match or participate in ever-popular football than to, well, waste an afternoon watching a baseball game.

Perhaps this mood has struck parents of children who play in the Plymouth-Canton Junior baseball leagues. With the exception of a few hardworking volunteers, parents have steadily disappeared from participation following registration and payment of the fee.

We doubt if it is because they are bored with baseball or with the thought of spending an afternoon coaching their children and others the finer points of sportsmanship.

It is probably because they don't care and haven't even considered helping out. We are sure they all have good excuses.

The parents who have assisted in taking care of the community baseball program have finally said they can't do it all themselves. The board recently resigned because the management of the growing summer baseball program was too much to handle for so few volunteers.

A vital sports program in this community needs active parental guidance and help.

The apathy that led to the resignation of nine people from the PCJBA board is deplorable. Junior baseball gave hundreds of kids here a good game to play during the summer, not to mention things taught that aren't usually learned in a classroom.

Legion Post sells Sheldon Road hall

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Economics is the reason given for the sale of the Passage - Gayde American Legion Hall on Sheldon Road.

"Our bills have become higher than our income," according to Ernie Koi, Legion spokesman.

The hall was too small for most rentals, parking was limited, and the lack of volunteer help were other reasons, Koi said.

After meeting in the Sheldon Rd. hall for 17 years, Post 391 is now meeting at the Veterans Memorial Building on Main Street in Plymouth.

The Post was named after the first Army man and the first Navy man killed in world war II, Passage - Gayde.

"The post is going through a transition period," said Koi. "Some of the members are retired and live in Florida, while others are too old or disabled to participate."

Koi said they are planning a membership drive for this fall. "We need new people to work on projects and new ideas."

For the future, Koi said the Legion was "content" meeting in the memorial building for now, but would probably soon look for another building.

Another dream the Legion has according to Koi is starting an American Legion Baseball Club for high school students and those just out of high school.

New members are always welcome, said Koi, no matter which war they served in or where they served.

Landscaper's zeal scorned

CANTON RESIDENT Larry Book, Plymouth Landing condominium owner, says the landscaping in front of his home is an improvement and several of his neighbors have complimented on it. However, the management company and board of directors said Book did not write for permission from them for the landscaping additions. (Crier photo by Donna Lomas.)

Big project has edge in liquor license bids

BY ROBERT KIAN

With the approval of the Walnut Creek entertainment center on Ford Road, it became the eighth holder of a Class C liquor license in Canton.

A Class C license, the most common type, is granted to establishments selling liquor by the glass.

According to Township Clerk John Flodin, "The Township Board is more favorably disposed to places offering entertainment and food," such as bowling alleys and restaurants, when they get requests for licenses. The board also prefers to issue licenses to businesses that will make "a substantial investment in the area," not to someone simply wanting to open up a bar.

"There are enough just plain bars in Canton Township, and nobody's suffering for the lack of a drink. There is room for good restaurants," Flodin said.

The annual fee for a Class C liquor license is $500. The application process involves sending a request to the State Liquor Control Commission, which then forwards it to the township Board. Approval comes in 90 days usually, if the local trustees are favorably disposed.

Flodin noted that licenses are difficult to obtain, particularly for persons owning bars. "But I'm not saying that you can't get them," he concluded.

When Plymouth Landing Condominium owner Lawrence Book spent $500 to landscape the front of his home, he thought the neighbors would be pleased with his apartment.

Most were - many complimented his work and asked him to do similar projects for them, Larry said - but a few neighbors complained he had broken the condominium by-laws without first seeking written permission from the board of directors because he hadn't first sought the written approval from the Landing's board of directors.

"I wasn't aware of any written consent - no one approached me until the project was almost finished," said Book. "It's appropriate for the area and the maintenance men have said it's easy to clean around. If it was an eyesore, I could see it, but it isn't."

Book said there were several other homeowners who had not followed the by-laws and no complaints were filed against them.

Sue Goodchild, a member of the condominium's board of directors, said Book didn't follow "more than one" by-laws, but then said, "I don't want to talk about it, enough has been said."

"It makes me uncomfortable to live here," said Book. "But if the harassment keeps up, I may move. I don't have to live like this."

Head Start funds coming

Plymouth Canton Schools will receive $64,648 in Head Start funds this school year, part of a 60 per cent increase for the Wayne county.

Head Start funds, administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, are distributed for preschool classes for children from low-income families.

Tapes taken

A black and white television, a tape deck and 20 eight-track tapes, along with a metal tool box, a set of fog lamps, tire cover and barometer were reported stolen from a van in Canton last Monday, State Police report.

Scott Bjerkel of Brookpark told police someone broke into his van while it was in his Stoneybrook Apartments' parking lot.

Real Estate

BY WILLIAM DECKER

MOTIVATIONS FOR BUYING

Strong forces are keeping the single home market very much alive despite the increasing price trend over the past several years. A probe of the motivations behind current sales has found that buyers are convinced that home ownership is worth the financial sacrifice for environmental reasons. A better place for their children to live and the farther from the city the better.

A second powerful influence is inflation. Buyers are convinced that the housing inventory is too short to see any significant over supply or reduction in value in their lifetime.

Another influence, not to be ignored, is retirement. In many cases, home ownership offers the only hope to enter retirement in a condition other than poverty. Since Social Security was designed as a supplement and not sufficient to live on, a free and clear home, or the investment potential of home equity, provides a solid base for retirement.

Youth killed in bike accident

Eric Tillotson, 13, of Canton Center Road in Canton was killed last Monday when he was struck by a car as he tried to cross Canton Center and Geddes on his bicycle. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital.

According to Canton Police, witnesses at the scene said Eric apparently tried to cross Canton Center against a red light at the corner of Geddes when he was struck by a southbound car driven by a 22-year old Canton woman, Jill Barrett.

Eric's father, Lawrence Tillotson, said the boy had left a friend's house nearby and had said he was "going to a store to pick up some chocolate chips."

Eric would have been a ninth grader at Stevenson High School this fall.

He said he wanted to have "word sent that the driver has my sympathies."

Canton Police Chief Walter MacGregor said no tickets were issued and reminded residents to always obey traffic safety laws.

Eric is survived by his parents, Lawrence and Paula, brother Mark and grandparents, Clifton and Gladys Tillotson and several aunts and uncles.

Canton trustee wants court re-located

A move by Canton Trustee Lynne Goldsmith to move the court location of the township to the new administration building instead of renovating the township meeting hall was nixed by fellow trustees last week.

However, Goldsmith said Monday she hopes someone else will put the item on the agenda for next Tuesday's meeting, because she will present an estimate on the cost of installing a courtroom in the basement of the new building.

"We've spent a lot of time studying the cost of renovating the hall into a courtroom and multi-use room," Supervisor Harold Stein said. "Why are you bringing this up now?"

Goldsmith said the township planning firm of Wade and Trim recommended centralizing services to residents in one location, "yet our actions are indicating otherwise."

"The meeting hall is not adequate for a court," she said. "There is no storage space, lock-up and not enough seating."

"Our original Jan. '77 floor plan of the new building was to use the basement as the courtroom," she added.

"The advantage to (locating in the new hall) is additional parking space, more adequate court facilities and prisoners could enter from the dock area and not interfere with activities upstairs."

Her motion to move the court into the new hall was defeated 5-2. Trustee Robert Myers and Goldsmith voted 'yes' to the proposal.

Local Yachtsmen race to Mackinac

HIGH HOPES were in evidence Friday night aboard the Great White - Plymouth's representative in the Port Huron to Mackinac Island sailboat race. The sloop, which is registered in Cheyenne, Wyo. (reportedly because lakeless Wyoming charges $2 less for a boat license than Michigan) is owned by Gary Hall of Plymouth Township (in cap and glasses facing camera) and was crewed by several Plymouthites, members of the "No Class Yacht Club." The Great White didn't fare well in the race, however. While final results were not in by press time, The Crier learned the Great White did not win in its class, although no hands were lost during the journey. (Crier photo by W. Edward Wendover)

Candidate assails hall plan

BY DONNA LOMAS

One of the Democratic candidates for trustee in Canton said last week she thinks the township administration is "forcing out" all activities from the new township hall which is scheduled to be completed in August.

Carol Bodenmiller, of Woodbridge Court, said in a letter that at first Supervisor Harold Stein told citizens that "by accepting this free grant of $2.7 million . . . we can house all current township activities as well as future needs - a court, library, meeting rooms and activity centers."

But now, charges Bodenmiller, "slowly but surely, the activities which were to be held in the new building are being forced out."

She cites the senior citizens and the court as two that will now be housed elsewhere in the township.

The township recently purchased a building for $105,000 on Michigan Avenue for senior recreation activities, and has plans to renovate the meeting hall on Canton Center Road into a courthouse.

"So, we have in our new Township Hall, Mr. Stein, Mr. Flodin, Mrs. Bradley; the building, water, sewer department and possibly the recreation department," Bodenmiller wrote.

"Who will occupy the basement, second and third floors?"

Will the township officials create new positions and hire people to fill these floors? But the most important question is," Bodenmiller said, "Who will pay for the purchase of the Recreation Hall - $105,000, and the $30,000 renovation of the Fire Hall to house a Court?"

Local artist Richards revives art of chair caning

SANDRA RICHARDS, a Plymouth resident and author of a chair caning book has been weaving cane since she was a child. To Sandra, chair weaving is "fun, not a chore." (Crier photo by Phyllis Redfern)

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN
The art of chair caning is being revitalized in many parts of the country. It is especially popular in areas like Plymouth where people are interested in restoring antique furniture.

Sandra Richards, author of the book, "Let's Be Seated," started chair seat weaving as a young child.

Through her new book she hopes to help others learn this ancient art. She does admit, however, "that a book of instruction can be most helpful to a student, but no matter how good the book, it can never replace an experienced teacher."

Nothing is really new when it comes to caning, according to Sandy. "Most patterns and designs have been around for years." She said fancy chair caning isn't as popular here as it is in England.

Sandy has picked up many patterns from designs she has seen in old chairs.

"One year at fall festival I learned the spider web from an old man in the park," she said.

A Plymouth resident for 17 years, Sandy has been teaching adult classes for eight years, the evening at Greenfield Village, and continuing education classes in the Ann Arbor School District.

The age span in the classes varies from 17 to 70 said Sandy, with an average class 12 to 15 students. "I prefer a smaller class size for the more advanced classes."

Her book, "Let's Be Seated," was recently introduced at the Caravan Antique Show in Centerville. Plans for sale in local book stores are underway, Sandy said.

"Anyone can do it and enjoy doing it," said Sandy, "it's a fun thing, not a chore."

Beth testing scout survival skills

Beth Martinek of Leicester in Plymouth, a local Girl Scout, will soon be testing herself for survival on the nearest that one can come to a desert island these days in Michigan.

Chosen from applicants throughout the nation, Beth is participating in SOS, Scouts on Survival, designed by the Michigan Capitol Girl Scout Council of Lansing, Michigan, to teach the skills of wilderness survival.

Beth lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Martinek of Plymouth. She is a member of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Last week, Beth went to East Lansing to meet her fellow participants, 47 other young women, aged 15 through 19, from 23 different states.

On the campus of Michigan State University, the girls are attending classes and laboratories conducted by extension specialist and wilderness survival expert, Dr. Paul Risk.

Later, at Camp Deer Trails near Harrison, they will receive further training and will practice what they have learned about trapping, fishing, edible wild plants, shelter construction, fire building, first aid, and compass and map navigation.

The final test will begin next week when the scouts are ferried to an unpopulated island in northern Lake Michigan. There they will be located by groups of six to eight in segregated remote areas. Equipped only with survival kits and space blankets, they will be expected to derive from the environment all their needs for food and shelter over a period of several days and nights until their unannounced "rescue" occurs.

Returning to East Lansing, the girl scouts will be the guests of scouting families and spend a last night together comparing notes on their unique experience.

New Culbert

"Born in the heat of politics" was the way Noel Culbert announced the birth Saturday of his second child, a boy, in Detroit's Metropolitan Hospital.

Both the mother, Chris, and seven-pound, seven and one-half ounce Steven William are reported doing fine.

Culbert is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Canton Township Supervisor in the Aug. 8 primary.

New Canton hall gets final touches

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Cramped quarters in the Canton administration offices on Geddes Road will soon give way to 52,000 square feet in the new administration building on Canton Center Road.

"We've got room to grow," said Canton Finance Director Mike Gorman, as he showed off the spaciousness of the new building.

Canton officials, who are anxiously awaiting the completion of the new building, have set the moving dates as Thursday Aug. 10 through Saturday Aug. 13. The township offices will be closed Aug. 10 and 11, except for emergencies and the new offices will open Aug. 14, according to Gorman.

The new township hall stands out as the only building in an undeveloped portion of the township. The public will have easy access to it from Canton Center Road with parking in the back (on the west side) of the building. There will be an exit road leading from the parking lot north to Proctor Road.

Entering the building from the front which faces eastern Canton, visitors will be greeted by a circular reception area. To the left of the entrance is the clerk's office, with an alcove nearby where tax records will be stored. Across the hall is the treasurer's office where residents can pay taxes and water bills.

The meeting hall is near the east entrance with glass windows separating it from the reception area. The hall will seat 150 people and if there is an overflow, speakers have been installed in the reception area which will hold 50 people, according to Gorman. He said the meeting hall will be equipped with projection screens and provisions are being made for an elaborate recording system to record minutes of the meetings.

The supervisor's office, the largest of the officials' offices is in the northeast corner of the building. Adjoining it is a conference room which will seat 10 to 12 people.

The recreation department is on the second floor, with offices and meeting rooms. The meeting rooms will be used for arts and crafts as well as other classes offered by that growing department, said Gorman.

The building department will be housed on the second floor in the canopy that extends over the first floor entrance. The water department, the Canton planner's office and the trustees office will be nearby.

The third floor will house Canton's library, tentative (on the ballot in November), which will have a special section for children and an area designated for study rooms.

The large open area of the basement will be used for storage, except for a small emergency preparedness room.

When asked about using the excess storage space as a court room, Stein said "you'd just have to move it out in a few years when we need the storage."

"We are finally going to have enough storage space," he added. "We are so crowded now that we keep some of our records at the DPW garage, and it's hard having to ask a secretary to go over there among the rats and mice to pick up a record."

"This building was built with complete flexibility," said Gorman. "All the interior walls are divided by portable, sound proof partitions." He added that the size and shape of a room could be changed overnight. Gorman stated that the building was energy efficient. "We can shut off the heat or air conditioning in any section that we're not using."

Canton officials (and cramped employes) are counting the days until the move to the new administration building. A public open house is scheduled for sometime in August, according to township officials.

THE SPACIOUS LOBBY of Canton Township's new hall on Canton Center Road south of Sheldon is being finished in a contemporary style.

LOOKING SOUTH from the old Canton Center School, the three-story hall looms large on its barren grounds. (Crier photos by Bill Bresler)

WORK CONTINUES on a covered driveway which will be the new facility's main entrance.

Student re-visits

When Anneke Thasing came to Plymouth in 1959, it all seemed very strange, but then that was her first visit to the United States, and the 16-year old Dutch girl hadn't seen much of Europe either.

This week she returned to Plymouth, and again things seemed a little strange — the quiet town she remembered had grown into a busy suburban city.

Anneke, now Mrs. de Ridder-Thasing, was here to visit Mr. and Mrs. Joe West of Plymouth Township, with whom she spent a school year as an exchange student 19 years ago.

In the interval, she notes, America and Europe seem to have grown more similar. The cultures have taken on characteristics of each other, and many of the problems are the same.

She is now a teacher of English in the city of Amersfoort in the Netherlands, and has been fluent in this language since before beginning her stay here with the Wests.

She had trouble recognizing some parts of Plymouth. "Now all the buildings are new," she said. "It's gotten very, very big," she said. "But Plymouth High (now Central Middle School) is still there."

Seniors get check-ups

Senior Citizens in the Plymouth-Canton area can take advantage of a special health screening project conducted by the Wayne County Health Department and supported by a contract with the Detroit-Wayne County area Agency on Aging at Tonquish Creek Manor July 31 through Aug. 4.

Any person 60 years of age and more is eligible to participate in the screening program.

A health team consisting of a physician, social worker and registered nurses will provide a wide range of screening services to include a health history, height and weight measurement, blood pressure, temperature, pulse, respiration, pap smear, glaucoma, hearing and vision testing. Minor laboratory tests will also be done.

The goal of the health project is to assist Senior Citizens in gaining access to necessary medical care.

Persons interested should call the Health Department at 274-2800 or 729-2211, ext. 251 for an appointment. Tonquish Creek Manor is located at 1160 Sheridan.

Were horses mistreated?

 off trees" during one early morning stakeout of the Geddes Road farm where the horses are kept.

But since May, the Humane Society's interest in the case has dwindled, Swalley said, and it is now up to the township to proceed with the case.

"Apparently the Humane Society has lost interest in it," he said. "But the case isn't closed, just adjourned."

A family that lives across the road from the horses says "it's about time someone did something about it."

"They came here last fall," neighbor Caroline Newhart told The Crier. "I noticed all winter how the animals stood in the ice and snow without any shelter. One tub of water was filled with dirt, sticks and bugs. In June, when the veterinarian came by, he said the animals were infested with worms, had open sores and were standing in about six inches of manure."

Mrs. Newhart said one morning last December a car hit one horse that had strayed onto the road.

"The car was totalled," she said. "The horse later had to be shot. We were awakened several times by angry drivers who said they had almost hit a horse that had strayed onto the road."

Robert Delaney, Walton's attorney, said state and local veterinarians have said the horses received good care and are in good condition.

"The township won't tell him (Walton) what's wrong," Delaney said. "It's plain harassment. If something is wrong, we'll correct it. This is threatening Walton's business, he's been training trotters for at least 20 years."

 sary," he said.

County Commissioners aid they are seeking cheaper alternatives to renovating DeHoCo and that closing it down is one that will be discussed at a meeting Monday, July 24 at 7 p.m. at the City-County building in downtown Detroit.

Five per cent of the prisoners at the Plymouth Township correctional facility were from Detroit and 85 per cent were from other communities in the county, Wiktor said. Only 10 per cent of the prisoners at DeHoCo were from out-county communities.

"Depending on the availability of another facility, we will try to phase out DeHoCo," Wiktor said. "But where we don't know."

Sewers

projected 1995 population estimates, on which sewer capacities are based.

However, SEMCOG said Canton would reach 54,000 by 1995. "SEMCOG estimates for Canton were reasonable," Townsend stated.

"The trunk sewers in Canton were originally set to accommodate 200,000 — the full development of the township," Townsend added.

"It is my understanding that we have 36,000 population, but only 27,000 of them are using the sewer system. About 9,000 Canton residents are being serviced by other systems — septic tanks, by Ypsilanti sewers," the engineer said.

"The plats the township approved by consent judgment will bring it close to its 36,000 purchased capacity from Detroit," Townsend added.

"The Canton township population would probably never really get above 80,000, and when super sewer is built, that will help."

"I don't see a problem with the physical capacity of sewers in Canton," Townsend told board members last week. "We'll never have a back-up here."

"We will do detailed studies on Canton's sewers if we think other alternatives are not available," said DNR spokesman Sprow. "But we will wait and see how the super sewer goes."

Alcohol blamed

The death of Thomas S. Abbott, 51, former purchasing agent for the Plymouth-Canton Schools, has been attributed to natural causes, apparently as a result of high alcohol consumption, Wayne County Medical Examiner Dr. Werner Spitz said Friday.

Abbott was found dead in his car early the morning of June 30 near the C&O railroad tracks and Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township.

County commission hopefuls quizzed

Meet the candidates at 2 LWV sessions

The League of Women Voters in the Plymouth Canton area assembled the following questions and answers from candidates for a Wayne County Commissioner seat. The Crier, in cooperation, with the League is printing the results below.

WAYNE COUNTY COMMISSIONER CANDIDATES

1. Would you favor putting the question of having a County Executive on the ballot? Explain.
2. Are services such as police, protection equitable to townships and cities? If not, how would you correct this?
3. What suggestions do you have for improving the structure of Wayne County government?

R. Myers

1. Yes, but not until 1980 when redistricting is complete to allow for Western Wayne County to have larger voice in selection of drafting of qualifications of candidates.

2. No. We have watched as sheriff patrols, road maintenance, helicopter patrols, and other county services have been cut back. At present 64 percent of the Wayne County budget comes from out county areas while only 34 percent is returned in services.

3. a) Move Circuit Courts closer to Western Wayne County. b) Provide for greater utilization of rail and bus service in Western Wayne County. c) See that the rates are fair for Super Sewer for all communities, not just the Drain Commission. d) See that the sheriff's patrol and road maintenance is continued and increased.

B. Chenault

1. In favor of having County Executive on Ballot, provided Veto Powers are explained before the Vote not changed after, with clear - cut guidelines as to her (his) powers. Remove temptation of Representatives favoring their constituents and neglecting other Municipalities within their district. Out-county tends to lose on most issues.

2. County Law Enforcers should be more flexible, fluid and cooperative in shifting services in order to adjust the areas of inequities. They should not sit still, for example, in one area writing tickets. Crime in out-county areas tend to be seasonable and shifting, should also adjust to accommodate those seasons.

3. The computer is an excellent device and can be used to reach areas of greatest need. There should be a shifting of monies and more rapid response to problems. Money

The League of Women Voters will give local residents an opportunity to meet with and ask questions of candidates who are running in the Aug. 8 primary by sponsoring two "Meet Your Candidates Nights."

The first Candidates Night will be Wednesday, July 26, 7:30 p.m. at Miller School, 43721 Hanford in Canton.

The following night July 27, voters in Plymouth Township can hear candidates at 7:30 p.m. in Pioneer Middle School, 46081 West Ann Arbor Road.

Both meetings will introduce candidates vying for the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the second judicial seat in the 35th District Court.

In Canton Township, the audience will meet three candidates for supervisor, three for treasurer, and six for the two trustee seats.

Three candidates for clerk will top the bill in Plymouth Township and eight candidates for the two trustee spots will be presented.

Although the LWV is non-partisan and does not support candidates, they believe the public should have an opportunity to meet with and ask questions of candidates they will vote on in an election. The public is cordially invited and encouraged to attend, said LWV president Kari Miller.

should not be earmarked for one year. Surplus should be placed back into General Funds to be used somewhere else.

Frank Yonish

1. I favor placing the question of a County Executive on the ballot. The Commissioners at present, are faced with the almost unachievable task of regulating the operation of County Government. It is therefore necessary that Wayne County establish a County Executive to see that the County Commissioners' policies are carried out.

2. Police protection is equitable to certain townships and cities. The sheriff's department furnishes police protection in many unincorporated areas, and to the city of Romulus by contract. Although with the recent population growth in such townships as Canton, sheriff's patrols should be increased in proportion to the population.

3. I suggest establishing a County executive as one way to improve the structure of County government, as was put forth in question number 1. Also, I suggest the County provide services to its taxpayers, but with a cost effectiveness approach toward spending and a hold the line approach toward taxing.

A. Montgomery

1. Obviously need exists for bearer of responsibility. Recent Board Chairmen used post only for political appointment to higher paying positions. Lack of overseer has lead to neglect and part-time attendance by Commissioners. Plan apparently working in Oakland County. Only fear, one more highpaying, non-functioning office taxpayers must support.

2. To this point, question has been out of my sphere of County government experience. Although, Wayne Police have always proven courteous, responsive and professional in my contacts with them. HB 1517, if signed, would greatly increase protection to all Townships in 27th District.

3. Commissioners accept position and pay as being full-time; should be held accountable for attendance, and participation. More controls placed on County agencies, commissions, revision of Districts, possible reduction of number. Insist on equity for tax dollars for 27th District. Seek out, maximize State, Federal monies available.

Walter Hink

1. Yes-Wayne County is at this time faced with bankruptcy due to the deficit spending by the Board of Commissioners. One of the solutions to this financial crisis is total reordering of the county budget at the direction of a County Executive with enough power to eliminate mismanagement and waste.

2. No-the townships in Western Wayne County must rely primarily on the Sheriff's Department for its police protection (road patrol). The County Commissioners only allocating a larger percentage to the Sheriff.

3. Bankruptcy is the most pressing problem facing Wayne County today. 60 percent of the budget is spent on Health and Welfare ($210 million). $90 million is mismanaged and wasted on Wayne County General Hospital. In order to eliminate this situation, we must reorder the budget, spending money on essential services.

W. Joyner

1. Yes. I am finally convinced that the people of Wayne County must have the opportunity to vote on this needed reform. Wayne County government lacks the leadership necessary to be a truly dynamic force. I want to see the people given the chance to make a needed commitment for change.

2. No. County has obligation to provide services and protection for residents on a 24 hour basis. As long as townships exist without police then we must provide police protection. Should the legislature override the Governor's veto of SB 1517, Wayne County will be financially better off to provide the protection.

3. First, provision for a county executive or county manager. Second, full time commissioners that can provide full time legislative leadership and resident service (ombudsman). Third, perhaps fewer commissioners. We need to make people more aware of the County Government. We need leadership.

7 seek new district judgeship

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: July 19, 1978

All seven candidates for the second judgeship in the 35th District were asked questions by The Crier editorial staff on subjects ranging from railroad fines to youthful offenders. Below are the answers.

1. Why are you a candidate for judge?

2. What experience do you have of the Plymouth-Canton-Northville area that will make you an effective judge?

3. Are the railroad fines for blocked crossings adequate? Why?

4. What is your attitude towards juvenile offenders? Is the present system effective in keeping young offenders to a minimum in this area?

5. Will you hold night court to accommodate citizens whose work hours don't allow them to appear during the day? If not, why? How many nights?

6. Do you think police officers spend too much time in court? Why? How would you change it?

Maurice Breen

1. I believe my legal and community experience best qualifies me for this new judgeship. My community activity will enable me to work with each separate unit of government to ensure speedy, dignified and fair judicial treatment. My law experience before numerous district courts provides me with first hand knowledge which will benefit and guide my actions as a district judge.

2. I have had extensive district court experience representing clients in both civil and criminal law. My tenure as a Township Trustee, Supervisor and Planning Commission chairperson has required an ability to make judgments based on fact finding. I believe my performance in the community this past 15 years has shown me to be of even-natured temperament and concerned that every person receive a fair hearing.

3. My answer to this question is a question. If habitual criminal offenders are given progressively stiffer penalties for repeated violations then why not the railroad? As a frequent cross-town traveler, I am disturbed by the disregard of railroad personnel to the public. If maximum fines will minimize the problem, I am in favor of it and I would not hesitate to levy that fine.

4. I believe the district court must emphasize a process whereby young criminal offenders are identified as to the reasons for their activity. If drug use, then supervised treatment programs. If there is a history of malicious conduct then the young offender must be made to compensate his victims. Repeat offenders must learn they have to pay for misconduct. Community help must be available but the individual must do his part.

5. Yes, I believe night court is necessary to accommodate those who would otherwise incur economic loss. It's necessary to encourage witness participation. I do not know how many nights but hopefully the new judge will dedicate himself in the manner of Judge Davis. I know I will! The expense of extended court hours could be managed through a system of flexible work time.

6. We all spend too much time waiting in the corridors. This district, with two hard-working judges, can alleviate this problem by coordinated scheduling of law enforcement personnel through the present court administrator. As Judge, I would discourage adjournments, require parties to be prepared for trial as scheduled and devote myself to uninterrupted hearings. I would expect to spend a maximum portion of my time "on the bench"

James Garber

1. Because I believe that I have the background, experience and temperament to be a good Judge. In 20 years as an attorney I have practiced in courts of every level as a Governmental Attorney, Prosecutor and Private Practitioner. In addition, I have served as an consultant to the Institute of Judicial Administration, the Michigan Supreme Court and the Presidential Commission on Standards and Goals for the Criminal Justice System.

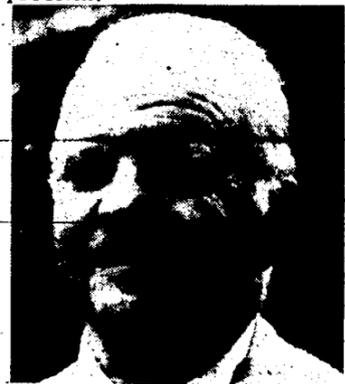

2. I have lived in Plymouth for 25 years and have held appointive positions in government; served as presiding officer of the Jaycees; P.T.A.; Y.M.C.A.; a Homeowner's Group; and my Church Council within the community. As chief of the Criminal Division of the Prosecutor's office, I was responsible for prosecuting all crime within that area. I now practice law in Plymouth. I know the job. I know the community.

3. No! Anyone who has lived in this community for any length of time is aware that trains are the standing excuse for being late. Unfortunately it is too often the case. The Railroad Companies look upon present fines as a fee for a license to violate the law. It is cheaper to pay the fines than to correct the situation. Until the economics are changed, blocked crossings will remain.

4. Juvenile Offenders must be made to realize the seriousness of their actions whether it is the usurpation of others' rights to enjoy the local parks or the commission of a serious criminal offense. The present system of dealing with the Juvenile is a travesty. The courts, however, are not to be blamed. It is the structure and philosophy of the Juvenile Justice System which must bear this stigma.

5. Yes! Judges are employed by and work for the public. They should accommodate themselves to the needs and convenience of the public. Those court matters which do not require the presence of civilian witnesses or other private citizens can be scheduled for an evening session. The number of these sessions would necessarily be determined by the number of such matters.

6. Yes, I believe they do. Police Officers now attend Court for two basic reasons: 1. To provide information to the prosecuting official, and 2. In anticipation that they will be required to testify. Often the information can be obtained in other ways and the testimony is never required. This unnecessary court time creates scheduling and fiscal problems for departments and inconvenience for the Officer. A radio on-call system and a court liaison officer would curtail this problem.

Walter Guth

New judge will preside in Canton

WALTER J. GUTH JR.

1. A judgeship is an opportunity, granted to few, to apply the experience of a lifetime in the practice of law to direct service to the total community. My continuing local experience with district court proceedings, combined with 30 years' general practice as an attorney, has given me special insights which can be of immediate help in relieving the 35th District case overload and speeding court service to district citizens.

2. For the past seven years I have served as Canton Township legal counsel, and in both this office and private practice, regularly present cases before district court. Judge Davis has been an excellent teacher. In addition, during 1977-78 I served as magistrate in the adjacent 16th District, performing many of the functions of district judge.

3. It remains to be seen whether the latest increase in fines reduces the frequency of railroad crossing tieups. Fines at best are a temporary economic deterrent that provide no adequate solution either to motorists' frustration or railroad scheduling problems. Automobiles and trains should not have to compete for traffic right of way at rush hour or any other time.

4. Justice for juveniles requires the same objective consideration of each case on its merits as justice for adults. Youthful inexperience and immaturity are legitimate grounds for exercising special care with juvenile offenders. But this does not require condoning juvenile criminality, generating disrespect for law and the criminal justice system, or denying the community's right to adequate protection.

5. Court should be conducted at times and places convenient to the needs of the citizens and agencies that must use it. As soon as the second judge takes office, the 35th District should schedule enough special sessions to ease the current case overload. Then the court should include regularly scheduled sessions at night, or at other times as needed by its patrons.

6. For some time the 35th District has had to carry the largest workload of any single-judge district in Michigan. This in itself has contributed to tying up police officers in court too frequently and for too long a period. Addition of a second judge should make the caseload more manageable, reduce the backlog and permit more precise scheduling both for police, attorneys, and other trial participants.

Allen Ingle

1. The present system developed by Lansing has resulted in the Courts wasting the time of parties, witnesses, officers, and attorneys, not to mention the financial burden. Judge Davis has been doing an excellent job and I believe that together with our combined past experiences, this District Court will be the finest in the State in spite of the Lansing mandates. I wish to do my part to restore the Courts to the People.

2. I have lived in the District since 1965 and have practiced in the former Northville and Plymouth Municipal Courts as well as the present District Court. Prior to moving to this District I was Judge first in the City then the Township of Farmington for 12 years during which time I handled over 50,000 criminal and civil cases.

3. Yes. Under the City Ordinance a fine of $500 or a jail sentence up to 90 days can be imposed. I believe that investigation will show that the same engineers and conductors remain in this area. Violations should be issued against both the engineer and the conductor. Each case must be decided on its own merits, however, if it appears that there is a disregard more than once by a certain engineer or conductor, I am sure that a jail sentence will correct the problem.

4. The District Court does not have jurisdiction over Juveniles. If the question refers to teens 17 years of age or over, then it must be made clear that there will be law and order and that the personal and property rights of the people are going to be protected. During my prior service as a Judge, I feel that I had the respect of the teens in spite of being known as a tough Judge, but at the same time I would not stand for any nonsense or harrassment against the teens either.

5. There is no discretion on my part, since this District will now have two judges, the state statute requires that evening and Saturday sessions be held to accommodate those persons who work for a living or pay taxes to support the court. As to the number of nights, this will be controlled by the number of cases requesting night court and could vary from week to week.

...answer questions about post

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: July 19, 1978

6. Yes, there is no need for it. The present practice of waiting until the court date to discuss the case with the officer by the prosecutor, while everyone sits and waits must be stopped. Cases should be prepared ahead of time, which will enable the people to present their cases better, will prevent the useless waste of time to the parties, witnesses, attorneys, and the Judge. Cases can also be scheduled throughout the day so that the entire police force does not have to sit around waiting for their cases to be called.

Philip Ogilvie

1. I believe that based upon my 29 years of practice in this area and over 23 years of service as Village and City Attorney for the City of Northville, during which time I have handled all of the ordinance violations for said city and my close relationship with the operation of the 35th District Court, that I am the best candidate for the new judgeship.

2. I have the following experience: A. Former Municipal Judge, City of Northville, having held this position from July 1, 1967 until the Court was superseded by the District Court. B. Established the volunteer probation department for the Northville Municipal Court, which was expanded by the Honorable Dunbar Davis to serve the entire district. C. Complete familiarity with the 35th District Court and probation department operations and good working relationship with the Honorable Dunbar Davis.

3. No. The railroads are simply treating the fines levied as a part of the cost of operation and are apparently making no real effort to cut down on the blocking of the railroad crossings. Higher fines might cause them to make a greater effort to cut down on the time wherein crossings are blocked, but the only real solution appears to be the elimination of the grade crossings.

4. I am very unhappy with the present method of the handling of juvenile offenders. I find that too often the cases against juvenile offenders are either being dismissed, or the offenders are merely being warned. I have been trying to get the law changed to allow our local volunteer probation departments to supervise our juvenile offenders. I feel that we can do a more effective job then is done by the probation department of the Wayne County Probate Court, Juvenile Division. If elected as District Judge I am hopeful that I will be in a better position to press for this change.

5. Yes. I would fully expect that there would be night court held for the convenience of the citizens. I do not believe I am in any position to say how many nights court would be held, since this would depend on the volume of cases that are requested to be held at night and also the schedule would have to be worked out with Judge Davis and the staff.

6. Yes. The primary reason is the amount of cases scheduled for hearing on each court day. It is quite common for me, as Attorney for the City of Northville, to have 20 to 30 cases to be heard at one time. This necessitates my calling in five to six of our officers to be ready for trial. Once we have two judges, we should be able to reduce the number of cases per court session, thereby either allowing the officers to spend more time on patrol, or eliminating a lot of the overtime that the City of Northville and other communities have to pay in connection with the court attendance of their officers.

A. Suchy

1. My extensive trial and appellate experience, my knowledge of the law, my experience in a major, decision-making position as Corporation Counsel for the County of Wayne, and my temperament and ability to endure decision making responsibilities, qualify me for the judicial post which I seek. I have dedicated 28 years to public life and wish to continue in public service.

2. Although experience in the local community is certainly important from the standpoint of background, it should play only a minor role in the effectiveness of any judge. A judge is effective when the current demands of the justice system are handled with dispatch and impartiality.

3. The schedule of fines for blocked railroad crossings is set by the legislature, and not by the local courts. A district judge, realistically, has very little impact on controlling the occurrences. Fines are "adequate" when they serve as a deterrent to committing the act for which the fine is imposed, or when the injured and aggrieved party is adequately compensated for a loss. Solving the problem of blocked railroad crossings does not necessarily lie in more severe punishment through stiffer fines, since many economic and other factors are involved.

4. It has been sorely ineffective in stemming a steady rise of violent crimes committed by youths. There are many obvious shortcomings. As a society, we must flatly admit that there are some juveniles that must be locked up. With only some 600 spaces in the State system, however, and the State's current decision to not build the critically needed facilities, the violent offenders are literally turned back into the streets to commit further crimes - a fact not limited to just youth!

5. Yes, I certainly feel that evening and Saturday sessions of the 35th District Court should be held to accommodate citizens. The frequency of night sessions and Saturday sessions must be determined with consideration given to citizens' needs and the attendant costs to the district control unit.

6. The community might be better served if police officers spent less time in Court. Officer court time might be reduced by a more careful scheduling of cases, and a more careful consideration of adjournments, which often occur after the officer is in Court.

Craig John

1. I decided to become a judicial candidate so that I could work to correct what seems to be inadequacies in the present judicial system operating in Michigan. The major problems I see in the present operation of our court system are overcrowded dockets, seemingly impersonal dispensation of justice, and too much concern with disposing cases for the sake of disposing.

2. My experience with the Plymouth-Canton-Northville area is indeed limited. However, this area is exactly like any other area in one extremely important respect - the people of this area run into problems at times which can only be resolved by the judicial process. True, there may be problems unique to this locale. It is inevitable, though, that the problems will involve people and the solutions must be fair and just regardless of the nature of the problem.

3. If the railroad fines for blocked crossings were adequate, would there be a continual problem? The assumption here is that the fines were initiated to reduce or totally eliminate the blocking of railroad crossings for lengthy time periods. If that is the purpose of the fines, they appear to be woefully inadequate. As long as it is desirable to reduce or eliminate the incidence of crossing blockages, the fines for violations must be increased until their impact is noticed.

4. Juvenile offenders cannot be cast into a single category. Certain juvenile offenders, must be dealt with by less severe means than the more mature juvenile who understands that he has violated the criminal law. The present system is inadequate to deal with the varying types of juvenile offenders. However, much of the blame may lie with those charged with the duty of implementing the juvenile code. Many juvenile offenders must be held totally responsible for their actions so that after they are released from the criminal justice system, they will refrain from further criminal activity.

5. I would not, totally foreclose the possibility of holding night court. If, due to the size of the docket involved, it were necessary to conduct sessions at night, I would be willing to do what would be required. I would estimate that one night per week might be sufficient to fulfill the need. I would certainly be willing to conduct such sessions if they would be helpful.

6. As an assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorney I can say that through my experience, police officers often spend too much time in court. In most instances, this is through no fault of their own. These problems can be alleviated by setting realistic scheduling goals. Many courts set more cases from their docket for a particular day than can be handled. Both the court personnel and the judge should insure that the caseload for a particular day is realistic.

Next week,

for the unopposed
incumbent,
Dunbar Davis

Tackle tough trimming chores.

We'd like you to see the Toro trimmer/edger 1400. Here's the performance you expect in a gasoline trimmer but at a lower price than you'd expect. A strong 14cc engine gives you power you usually find only in much more expensive gasoline trimmers.

It also has Toro's fully-automatic line feed that eliminates hand feeding. Just tap it on the ground and new line is fed out and cut to the proper length automatically.

Jr. grid parents to meet tomorrow

The Annual Parents Night for Junior Football Players will be held tomorrow Thursday, July 20 at the Canton High School Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

The upcoming seasons schedule for games, practices, and other activities will be detailed and officers of the Junior Football Program will be there to answer any of your questions. The registration fee will be payable at that time.

The Junior Football Program consists of two units of three teams each, ages varying from nine to 13 and weights from 65 lbs. to 125 lbs. with equipment.

The program needs parents to help in administering the football program.

A minimum of 24 coaches is needed, said Paul Meador of PCJBA. There are six coaches so far. Since middle schools are not offering seventh grade football this year and without the help of qualified coaches, the number of Football Players will be limited to 105, Meador said.

"We have equipment now for 210 boys, so to make the program successful, get involved," Meador added. If there are any questions, come to family night or call 455-2138.

sports opinion

BY ERIC OLSON

Soccer is more than just a kick in the grass.

It is the world's most popular sport, and interest in it is growing rapidly in the United States. The Plymouth-Canton area has become a hotbed for young soccer players, as local participation in the Great Lakes Soccer League shows.

What makes soccer so popular?

Probably most appealing to the parents is the low cost of the sport, and for children it requires neither great physical strength nor a musclemans build.

All the equipment a player needs is shorts and shoes — two things needed in most sports. Soccer shoes run between $20 and $40, which is no more than football cletes or hockey skates. Full football garb can add up to $200, and a hockey uniform is not much less. And in baseball there are the gloves and the spikes.

The New York Cosmos' Pele, who is considered to be the best player ever, is only five feet-7, and one of England's foremost players, George Best, is five-eight and a skant 140 pounds.

It is also important to note that a soccer match is 90 minutes long, whereas football is 60 minutes and basketball is 48 minutes in game time. A survey taken on the 1976 Super Bowl showed that the ball was in play for just seven minutes, while a survey taken at the 1978 World Cup showed that the ball was in play for 55 minutes.

In soccer there are no timeouts, and in international matches only two substitutes are allowed for each team during the game. Also in soccer, when a player is ejected his team must play short, unlike in baseball or basketball.

Since the game is low scoring, it teaches the player patience, discipline and how to make the 11 players work as a team. One player usually cannot dominate a soccer game.

A hospital report showed that soccer has fewer emergency room injuries than football, baseball, basketball or hockey.

Other things that make soccer popular are that boys and girls can both play, practice is fun, and the role of the coach is reduced, allowing the players to make more decisions and to get more of the limelight.

Maybe soccer's popularity will level off and it will not become the nation's favorite pastime, but it will be a favorite among the players.

And in our local recreation leagues, it seems to be growing as fast as coaches can be found to supervise new teams.

When everybody used fans, nobody cared about EER.

Years ago, when summers got hot enough to fry an egg on the sidewalk, you could switch on the fan and hope for a change in the weather. The last thing you cared about was energy efficiency rating, or EER.

Today, air conditioners keep people comfortable during the summer heat. And it's important to know that some units use less electricity than others to do the same job.

So, if you're buying a new portable air conditioner to cool one room, or central air conditioning to cool the whole house,— look for a model with a high energy efficiency rating—or EER number. You'll save energy and money if you buy a model with an EER of 8 or more.

Air conditioners, like refrigerators and other major appliances, are big energy users. And the more efficient they are, the less they cost to operate.

So it's important to use all your major appliances properly and keep them in good operating condition.

Detroit Edison has helpful booklets on the wise use of electricity. Stop in at any Customer Office and pick up what you need.
