G.A. STARKWEATHER& CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G.A. STARKWEATHER & OO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

PLYMOUTH MAIL.

PLYMOUTH, . MICHIGAN.

Published Every Friday Evening.

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR,

J. H. STEERS, Editor and Proprietor.

Office Taylor Block, opposite Postoffice, Main str

ed at the Postoffice at Plymouth, Michigan, as Second Class Mail Matter,

WHAT THEY SAY.

SEE HERE! If you are not already taking the MAIL, send us 25 cents for three months, or 50 cents for six months trial. The paper will be sent to any address in the United States or Canada free of postage. If more convenient send us two or one cent postage stamps. Have it sent to your friends at a distance.

Miss Eva Leach, is visiting at Ionia, Miss Olga Dohmstreich, who has been visiting here for a couple of weeks, returned home Tuesday.

Wm. Rhead, of Hudson, has been visiting in town for several days. His family came a few days before him.

-L. C. Hough and son Ed. returned from Cincinnati Monday. They took in the exposition and pronounce it a great affair.

We have a number of excellent bargains in real estate. Look over our list, then call on or address J. H. Steers, Plymouth, for particulars.

-We would like to hear from all our correspondents every week if possible. We would also like correspondents at other places not yet supplied.

-A social party is to be given at the Cherry Hill hall next Friday evening Aug. 10, by the "S. G. C. B." society. The bill is fitty cents. Harmon's full orchestra will furnish music.

There will be a meeting to lay plans for building a tence around the cemetery. near O. Kinyon's, held on the grounds, Saturday Aug. 11, at two p. m. All interested are requested to be present. -Jack Brady returned home Saturday night from Wayne where he had been at work for about ten days in the molding room of Bailey's novelty works. He tells they are having prenty to do there. The remains of Mrs. Eva Robinson, of Detroit, were brought here Saturday and funeral held in the M. E. church. Rev. J., M. Shank officiating. The deceased was a daughter of Edward Baker. -The grand army boys and sons of veterans give a party at Central Hall, Wayne, this evening. The bill is fifty cents and everybody invited. The hall is large and and has an excellent floor for dancing.

-Susan, wife of A. A. Mosher, of this lace, who has been sick for a long time, died at 10:30 a. m. Monday, at the age of eventy years. The funeral was held at he residence Tuesday afternoon at five

-Tailor Weiss thinks it was a good oke on the two young men who went out driving in such style on Sunday and when a few miles from town broke their carriage and were obliged to get a friend to bring them home.

The Misses Mary and Anna Butters. of Niagara, N. Y. who have been guests at the Rev. G. H. Wallace's for the past two or three weeks, lett for home Tuesday. They will make short atops at Detroit, Windsor and possibly other places before hing ho

John Mourer, of Detroit, shot and killed his brother's wife while in a fit of seion last Friday. Mourer who was out of work had been boarding with his brother until he owed over $100 for board. Last Friday his sister-in law intimated that he ought to pay some of his board bill, when he shot her and also himself. The woman died but he is likely to live.

-A young lady's dress was discovered on fire, on Woodward avenue, Detroit, Bunday, and several men who happened near were trying to tear her clothes from her to save her, when J. L. Hudson, the clothier, who was passing, took off his coat and wrapping it about her, smothered the flames and thus saved her life. Both the lady and Mr. Hudson were slightly

The bis team ran away from the D. L. & N. depot Friday night, where they were left standing under a shed, and made good time through town, turning the corner at Conner's store and going est about a third of a mile before being d. They made the run of about a and a quarter without serious injury her themselves or the bus. They ting about tired out when caught. | nue Detroit.

-F. B. Clark is still laid up with his ore hand.

-Will Scotten spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

-Mrs. Geo. Burnett and child are visiting friends at Otisville.

-Ed Merrrtt, of Pontiac, rode over here Monday on his bicycle.

-Frank Hendrick was home from Howell for a few days this week.

-A. K. Wheeler and tamily returned from California Saturday night.

-Little Edgar Peck returned home last week from a four weeks visit at Trenton.

Eight, twelve, fifteen and eighteen fnch Akron sewer pipe for sale by C. A. Frisdee. -Charles Berdan and Miss Mary of this place, the latter part of last week -The new $56,000 wings to the county house are beginning to make a show. The walls on the east one are about com-

Hough spent Sunday and Monday with friends at Lakeville, Oakland county. -Mrs. Boutelle, of Ypsilanti, visited her grandmother, Mrs. Michael Conner.

-August Blonk, who with his team and load of wood broke through a bridge over the Rouge, last spring, has sued the town of Livonia for $10,000 damages for the old man arrested for an alleged criminal assault on a little child, which was set down for Monday, was again adjourned and will take place to-morrow. -Mr. and Mrs Maro Wheeler and daughter Belle, of Toledo, Mrs. A. E. Worden and two sons, Harry and George, of Grand Rapids, have been guests at C W. Valentine's for several days past.

-The examination of Seth Brannock

-The first installment of copy for the premium list of the fair to be held here Sept. 25, 26, 27 and 28 has just been handed in. Those wanting advertisments in the same should get their copy ready at once so as to make no delay.

Fred Shaffer is agent for the West Park steam laundry, Detroit. Those wishing fine work without injury to goods should leave their laundry with him at H. Dohmstreich & Co.'s wall paper department, before Tuesday noon, each week.

-Prof. Mead, who has had charge of the school at Wayne for the past two years, was in town Saturday evening. He was moving his goods to Midland at which place he has been engaged to teach. He stopped off here to take the D. L. & N. train to one of the towns west of here for a few days visit.

-We believe that the law makes it necessary for parties peddling through the country to have a license from the state treasurer. If such is not the case it should be; and further than that, the law should be such that every peddler or canvasser while plying his vocation should be obliged to wear a badge procured from some officer authorized to issue them; said badge to be numbered and a register kept of it, together with a description of the party, so that if any misdemeanor is committed by the party they can be more readily traced by the number of the badge. And still further, that no liceuse or badge should be issued to a person who cannot show proof of having a fair reputation. Such a law would prevent much of the swindling and other crimes now practised by the army of lawless persons who roam the country for that purpose, ostensibly as peddlers or canvassers.

-A man and woman in town last week who claimed to be selling a rig at the livery stable Thursday and drove west of town, stopping at Mr. Packard's where the man ordered Mrs. Packard to get breakfast and otherwise behaved in such a manner as to frighten that lady so that the services of a physician were needed. When Mr. Packard learned of it he followed the party for several miles on horseback, but was unable to overtake them. The next heard from them was on Friday by a message to the effect that the livery horse could be found at Wayne, where H. C. Robinson went after it. Friday evening about seven o'clock the woman drove up to Gale's drug store and got two packages of Zoa Phora medicine which they had left there, and departed northward. Burnett, of the livery, hearing of this, accompanied by his hired man and one of their best horse started after them. They got on their trail and followed them east for about nine miles before overtaking them. Be fore leaving them they got pay for the horse they had hired and left at Wayne expense of going after it and for chasing them up. A business card left by them gives their location as 33 Lafayette ave-

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. G. A. STA G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A.STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A.STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A.STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

A new sewing machine at the Mail of-fice. Will be sold very cheap.

P DEAD SHOT ON MOLES! IF YOUR LAWN IS Being Destroyed

> MOLES! Send $2.50 to

W. N. WHERRY,

PLYMOUTH, MICH.,

merchant at Wayne, Mich. than one yard space. We aught twenty-nine in les can name many others who have had equally good

GO TO H. WILLS,

Wagons and the Wayne

Buggies. All Styles. ough the factory at Wayne, at they use good material.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Wagon and Carriage Painting!

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEAT

Always has been, is now. and ever shall be,

Reliable ::

:-: Goods G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO.

Lowest Living Prices.

G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A:STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO: G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.M. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A.STARKWEATHER& CO. G.A.STARKWEATHER& CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER& CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G.A. STARKWEATHER & CO; G.A. STARKWEATHER&CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER

G. A. STAREWEATHER & CO. G. A. STAREWEATHER & CO. G. A. STAREWEATHER & CO. G. A. STAREWEATHER G. A. STARKWEATHER: & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER: & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER & CO. G. A. STARKWEATHER

This is the Book WE ARE GIVING AWAY.

BUT

To FAMILY PHYSICIAN

INCHES INCHES

We propose to give a copy of this $3 book to each of our customers (old or new) who will trade with us, and we hope that every one who reads this notice will avail themselves of our offer.

PURPOSE. OUR

We are making this new departure in our business for two reasons. First: We wish in this way to express to our old customers our appreciation of their patronage. Second: We hope to induce a large number of new customers to trade with us at least long enough to thoroughly test the quality of our goods, our prices, our reliability and our way of doing business.

OUR PLAN.

We shall give a copy of this $3 book to each one of our. customers who will, in Ninety Days, buy Twenty Dollars worth of goods from us, and pay for them.

ROUND A QUEAT STATE.

John Moures, boarding with Ma. hrother's family at 130 Napoleon et., Datroit, shot and ifilled his sister-in-law, has. Many Mourer, on the 37th inst. He had not been paying for his board for 13 months past, and when asked by Mrs. Mourer to pay he became enraged and abot her in the hack of the head. She died 20 minutes sikerwards.

Mourer then shot Alice, the 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mourer, but missed be and the shot himself in the left side, in-slicting serious injuries. The murderer was taken to Harper hospital.

PENINSULAR POINTERS.

Albert Dodge, chairman of the probliftion state central committee, advertises for 2,000 relamices prohibition speakers for the campaign. They are to have their expenses paid.

A forest fire destroyed a logging rallway on Pickerel creek, near Hig Hapida, burning about $30,000 worth of logs ewned by the Milchigan ahingle company, Trowbridge Broa, C. J. Hood and James Aiken.

Hall and rain did considerable damage in St. Clair county July 24.

Mrs. Maggie Leet, wife of E. T. Leet, proprietor of the Arlington hotel of Coldwater, shot at him with a self-cocking bull-dog 44-caliber revolver, but Leet seized the pistol before she could shoot again. They had a quarrel and she had threatened to shoot him.

Over 300 sick people are being treated at the Battle Creek sanitarium.

the Battle Creek sanitarium.

A big black bear carled off a fine fat calf belonging to a farmer a few miles from West Branch the other night.

A babe born with two heads and one body in the vicinity of Greenville recently, died when three days old. Another in the city, a girl, weighed when born I pound and it ounces, and is alive and doing well.

Dr. Arthur M. Rassom, Kalamazoo free department surgeon; fell in trying to jump upon a hook and ladder truck and one wheel passed over him, breaking his leg.

Bartley Breen, who was nominated by

Passett over nm, presking his leg.

Bartley Breen, who was nominated by the democrats for anditor-general to coacliliate the labor vote, which was pushing him for the tenuenat-governor, declines to accept the nomination.

william Smith and Richard Meservy, the men arrested in Detroit on charge of burdary, viz: Breaking open the safe in the Kalamasoc spring and axle company's office, pleaded guilty in the circuit court in Kalamasoc, and were sentenced by Judge Buck to five years in Jackson prison each. The Lext night they attempted to escape, but were discovered by the sheriff. They were taken before the judge again, and Meservy was sentenced to ten years at Jackson instead of five, and Wm. Smith nine years in place of five. Closes inspection of their persons revealed the indisputable fact that Meservy had saws concealed in his shoe soles when arrested.

Prof. S. W. Smith has resigned the prin-

Prof. S. W. Smith has resigned the prin-cipalship of the Saranac schools to take a clerkship in the war department at Wash-

The Lake Shore railroad company is lay-ing a track to the Lake house at Baw Beese lake. The botel is to be enlarged and an effort will be made to attract summer resieffort will be made to attract summer residents to the beautiful spot.

W. W. Sackett and his daughter, Lucy Groyer of Grand Rapids, have been arrested on the complaint of the woman's hus band, who charges incest upon the accused Senator Palmer is trying to secure some prominent republicans and good speakers to work in Michigan in the campaign. Senator Fry, one of the best orators in congress has promised to put in a week in Michigan.

Dead body of John Bunting, a Franklin township farmer who recently attempted to murder B. G. Willis and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Pawson, was found on Pawson's farm by his son Fred Bunting, the other morning.

The Big Rapids district camp meeting will be held at Riverside park in Reed City this year, commencing July 31 and closing Aug. 9. Half fare on all railroads and a lot of distinguished preachers are the leading attractions.

Dan Shannon, a farmer, tried to row across the lake from Houghton with a half-dozen kegs of beer in his boat, but a squall over-turned the vessel and drowned the white two Indian lads were picking berries in the north part of the Isabella reservation the other day they found a pair of cubs, which they captured and tried to carry home. but the cries of the youngsters brought their dam and she clawed and bit one of the boys so that he died of his wounds. The bears are supposed to have wandered in from Clare county.

Thurman will attend a mass meeting to be held in Port Huron.

A Masonic temple, to cost $100,000, will be rected in Grand Rapids. Measles are epidemic in the state public

Leon Reyes, aged 40, was crushed to death between two logs at Black River the lic schools at Pentwater, was drown Lake Au Sable, near Shelby, the other Earnings of Michigan railroads for May follows: Total earnings, 86,489,668; in-crease ever same mouth has year, 3194,668. Earnings from Jan. 1 to June 1, 1888, 829,-994 519; increase over time period last year,

J. M. Young of Michigan has been pro-moted to the $1,800 grade in the postolic

C. E. Dexter, a Michigan man, has be populated a postoffice inspector at a sale

C. C. Weber of Michigan has been ap-pointed a copyist in the office of the secre-tary of the interior at a salary of $000.

Muskegon republicans want Charles H. Hackley to represent them in congress. Min editors visited Sault Ste Marie party will be held in Detroit August 15.

The state convention of the union lat party will be held in Detroit August 15.

Patrick Burke and Henry Halverson was saffected by foul sir while digging a well near Crystal Falls. Barke went down first, 25 feet, and at once called to be palled op. His fellow-shorer, supposing he had sait, took a small pall of water and went down to help him, and saffered the same fate. In attampting to resoue the bodies, Orlando Peterson, Wm. Bird and Heary Winkler aurrowly escaped dosth.

The F. & P. M. company is building a handsama dupot at Saginaw City.

J. W. Harden, late a teacher in the public shocks at S. Charles, History of Large and Frankfort, in this state, has been sominated for congress by the democratic in Dahoth.

n Dakota.
Churles Johnson and W. H. Rober are under arrest at Grand Rapida, charith assembling a night watchman and lang him of 201.
Tip Alpin has been phosen chief ra there are in in all at Centralile, charged with rape on the person of a 14-, year old ciri in Mendon.

Fin E. Stevens, lafe cashier of the First National limb of Paw Paw, convicted of making false entries and returns, has been sentenced to five years in Detroit house of correction. correction father's will.

Shley, of the firm of Sibley & Bebringer of Saginaw, a sen of the late Hiram Sibley of Hochester, N. Y., gets $0,000,000 by his father's will.

A rich deposit of coal has been found near Reese. It is overhald with four feet of rock. The find will be worked.

A company has been formed at Ashley to manufacture chairs, tables and stands.

A traveler named J. D. Masten dropped dead at the depot in Hillsdale the other day as he was about to take a train for Leroy, N. Y.

Gov. Luce wants a Michigan man to orate t the centennial celebration at Columbus, ohio, Sept, 4. Onio, Sept, 4.

Peach orchards in the fruit belt are loaded down with peaches.

ed down with peaches.

The Fulier Washboard Co., St. John Plow Co. and the Woolsey Wheel Co. have about completed their buildings at Kalamazoo. Four hundred bands will be employed in the three factories.

Gen. Alger. Gov. Luce, Col. Duffield, Col. Atkinson, Col. Mathews and Hon. John D. Norton will attend Oakland county G. A. R. encampment at Stoney Lake, Oxford, Aug. 28, 29, 30.

23, 29, 30.

Larry Pfeifer of East Saginaw, has become insane from the effects of a sabre cut received on the head while scaling the walls of Fort Donaldson, during the war.

walls of Fort Donaldson, during the war.

Anna C. Williamson of Cadillac, who brought sult against the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Cadillac railway for throwing her boats and property stored in her boat house out, and moving the building away, has obtainod a judgment of over three hundred dollars damages for same.

Luther James, for 50 years a resident of Ann Arbor, dropped dead the other day.

Charles S. Sheldon of Marlette was the Charles S. Sheldon of Marlette, was the successful candidate in the competitive examination in the seventh district for a cadetahip at West Point.

amination in the seventh district for a cadetahip at West Point.

The weather crop bulletin issued July 28 by the Michigan weather currean says: The weather conditions of the past week have been more favorable to the growing crops, and the light rains have benefitted the crops very much, but more rain is needed for oats, corn and potatoes. The wheat harvest is progressing fairly well, being delayed somewhat by the rains, and the cut is finished in the southern tier of counties, and will probably begin in the northern section next week. Oats harvest began this week in the southern tier of counties and the reports state that there will be a large yield. Smut is reported in the oats in St. Joseph county, and some rust in the wheat in Genesee county.

At the recent session of the state board

wheat in Genesce county.

At the recent session of the state board of health the question of impure or adulterated milk was discussed. The law relative to the sale of such milk is imperfect from the fact that no standard of burity is established. Dr. Baker has drafted a bill which will be presented to the committee on legislation for its consideration. Milk that has less than 12 per cent. milk solid and 5 per cent. fat is impure, according to Dr. Baker's standard. Dr. Henry Duffield makes his standard at 18 per cent. milk solid and 8 per cent. fat.—Lansing Republican.

can.

C. S. Conely, a Canadian working in the lumber woods, while drunk, started to walk to Ogemaw, and was run over by a log train about half a mile north of West Branch. Hoth legs were cut off below the kaces.

Some time ago Mrs. Alico Potts of Port Huron got, a decree of divorce from her husband, Lewis Potts, and with it adecree for $10,000 alimony. Mrs. Potts has levied on $20,000 worth of property which stood in the name of Emily Willard, but is supposed to belong to Potts. In fact Emily is the "other woman" in the case.

Worn out Baptist ministers of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and Illinois are to find shelter at the home in Fenton. The home will be opened about the 1st of September, and will be in charge of a matter, Mrs. O. M. Fisher.

Ex-Senator Fitch Phelps of Big Rapids has sold a tractof land in Missaukee county on which there are 10,000,000 feet of pine. Hovey & McCracken of Big Rapide are the purchasers.

President Hyde of the Michigan state agricultural society makes formal announcement of the fact that the 40th annual state fair opens at Jackson, Monday, September

A North Muskegon syndicate has leased the Inter-lake park for 15 years, and will erect a mammoth hotel and make other improvements. The planing mill and warehouse of the Weston lumber company at Manistique were destroyed by fire July 29. Loss, $50,000, with no insurance.

The customs officers at Port Huron are kept busy watching for opium smugglers. A building and loan association has been organized at Ishpeming.

new coal vein has been discovered at Standard mine near Jackson.

Senator Palmer declares emphatically that he is not a candidate for re-election. Hattie Olney, the young woman who, it is alleged, threw her child under a moving train in Lapeer county, has been in a semi-unconscious state for two months at her unconscious state for two months at her parents' residence in Vanderbilt with but little hope of her recovery.

Soldiers and sailors of northern Michi-ran will hold a reunion in Cheboygan Aug. 1. 22 and 23.

Sault Ste. Marie is to be bonded for acover and paying improvements.

An effort is being made at Flint to have Mrs. Delia Stewart Parnell, mother of the great I risk leader Charles Stewart Parnell, come to that city to lecture soon.

It cost a Brockfield farmer $25 for breaking the Sabbath by working in his hay

A mica mine recently discovered near Republic is being worked, and promises most excellent results. Prof. George O. Howe of Niles: committeed suicide. He was a wictim of whisky, a habit he tried in vain to control.

A soldiers' encampment is to be hald a Stoney Lake, near Oxford, August 28-30. Mrs. Nancy Tiffany of Pulaski was found lead in bed the other morning. She died

The W. R. C. of Holly are talking about creeting a soldiers' monument at that place Rev. Washington Gardner, state commanger of the G. A. R. and passor of the Methodist church at Albion, has received a unanimous call to St. Paul's M. H. church at Cincinnati.

at Cincinnati.

hischnei Weis was found near the Handock & Calumet depot in Calumet the other day with his head blows completely off at the neck. The brains and skull were scattered for 80 feet around. It is, thought that he committed suicide by placing a stick of heroules powder in his mouth and touching it off.

James L. Harry, an ex-mail carrier of Grand Hapids, has been convicted of steal tag letters from the mail and sentenced to the Detroit house of correction for three ment at Washington.

Cynthis E. Cleveland of Pontisc has been promoted as clerk in the treasury department at Washington.

Miss Esther Ford of Lansing, sister of Congressman Melbourne H. Ford of Grand Rapids, and of Miss Fannie Ford, assistant secretary of the state board of corrections and charities, was found dead in her room at the house of Dr. Bartholomew, where she boarded, on the morning of July 30. She was in her usual good health, excepting a toothache. Her sister found her apparently sleeping on the hed, but when the time for retiring came, tried in vain to arouse her, and then saw she was dead. At the inquest it was shown that she had purchased a small vial of chloroform for her toothache, but it did not contain enough to produce death by its direct effects. However, she inhaled some of it, and then it is probable her head fell forward on the pillow and she was smothered. mothered.

E. A. Carroll, proprietor of the national hotel at Reed City, jumped from a moving train the other morning, fracturing his skull. His recovery is impossible.

John S. Gage, one of the first and most prominent actilers of Wayne township, Cass county, is dead.

C.H. Hackley, who gave the Muskegon school board $100,000 with which to erect and maintain a public library, has given $25,000 more with which to purchase books

E23,000 more with which to purchase books for the library.

Eli Hoover, the West Bay City octogenarian who fasted for 40 days, is dead. A few days before his death he was induced to take a little milk, but he was too far gone.

During the past 20 years over 4,000,000,000,000 feet of logs have been rafted out of the Menomines river boom, and in 24 years the Tittsbawassee boom company has rafted out 8,630,000,000 feet.

The new Central depot at Battle Creek is completed.

completed.

"Aunt" Laura Haviland of Lenawe county, the well known abolitionist and temperance worker, has tasted no tea, coffee or pork in 50 years.

Hon. Mr. Bowell, Canadian minister of customs, says he is investigating the alleged act of the collector of customs at Port Huron, Mich., in refusing to allow a gang of Canadian laborers to cross from Saraia to the American side.

Don Jewell of Port Austin, has been mis-

Don Jewell of Port Austin, has been mis-sing for seven months, and his friends are auxious about him.

A stave and heading factory has been established at Gladwin. Grand Rapids has 42 furniture factories, giving employment to 12,000 persons.

Every clergyman in Monroe refuses marry a couple, either one of whom heer divorced.

een divorced.
Quincy boasts of the fact that more stock is shipped from that place than from any thersown on the Lake Shore road.

DETROIT MARKETS.	7
WHEAT, White $ 881/ 0	89
" Red 88 @	8816
COEN, per bu 46 @	47
OATS. 4	37
	1 30
	1 00
	2 55
	5 00
	4 60
	5 05
	4 60
Rye per bu 60 @	63
	3 50
Brans, picked 2 40 @	2 45
" unpicked 1 75 @	2 00
BEESWAY 23 @	30
BUTTER 14 @	17
CHEESE, per Ib 8 (4)	9
DRIED APPLES, per Ib 8 (@	9
Eggs, per dos	16
HONEY, per lb 14 (4)	16
Born per lh	18
HAY, per ton, clover11 00 @1	2 00
" timothy 14 00 @1	5 00
MALT, per bu 90 (a)	1 05
ONIONS, per bbl 3 50 @	3 60
POTATOES, new per bbl 2 00 @	2 25
	3 75
RASPBERRIES per bu 2 75 (c)	8 00
	8 50
PEACHES, per bu 8 50 @	4 00
POULTRY-Chickens, live 8	9
CHOOSE 6 HO	7
Turkeys 14(@	10
Ducks per lb 7 (a)	8
Provisions -Mess Pork 15 00 (2)
Family16 25 (c)	6 50
	8 75
Lard 7 @	8
Hams 11 @	13
Shoulders 8	836
	1034
	91
Tallow, per ib 8	179
firms-Green City per lb 314	279
Cured 4	51/9
Balted 61/2
Sheep skins, wool 50 @	1.01

heep skins, wool...

LIVE STOCK.

CATTLE—Market slow; quality poor; steers 33 50±5 50; stockers and feeders, $2 10@3 70; sows, bulls and mixed, $1 50@346; Texas cattle, $1 90@4.

Hoss—Market strong, 5@15c higher; mixed, $6 10@6 70; heavy, $1 20@6 67%; higher $2 00@6 67%; higher Market dull, weak; natives, $2 75@4 10; Western shorn, $3 40@4; Texas shorn, $3 65@4; lambs, XX, $4 50@ wool.

Fleeces—Fins, 20@2ic; medium, 14@25
coorse, 22@2ic; unwashed, unmerchan abla, cotted and black, ½ of; bucks, ½ o

Carriages containing a wedding party. their way to the preacher's house, at Ply-month, Luxeroe county, Pa., the other day ran over and killed a little girl. The whole party were arrested, and the wedding did not take place.

During the drill of sallors aboard the steam er Forest City at Boston recently, they ran from a point between decks, unfastened the lifeboats and lowered them into the water in the remarkably quick time of one minute and

A Maltess cat almost precipitated a tragedy on the Fleetwood track. It darted in front of two races, causing them to shy, throwing both their drivers and smashing to p of the sulkies. Fortunately there was no serious lujury done either jockey.

On the lat of June, 1844, there was a frost shout Philadelphia which blackened the corn, and on the 7th of June that year a frost in chusetts which cut the corn there. lighteen hundred and sixteen is famous for having a frost in every month of the year. That was a strikingly pathetic incident of Descrition Day, where an old comrade out on parade in Brooklyn fell dead of heart disease in front of the reviewing stand. He discose through the war in ariety, but died to make and in the cold uniform at last.

The make and in the cold uniform at last.

BELONGS TO US.

England Holds $30,000,000 Worth of Our Property.

of Our Property.

Summary of Washington News.

In response to a senate resolution calling upon him for evidence in the treasury department relating to property of the United States, or to which the United States has a valid claim, which is held in adverse possession, the secretary of the treasury has transmitted to the senate reports of the solicitor of the treasury and the commissioner of internal revenue on the subject.

The acting solicitor in his report says there is no personal property in charge of his office, but it has been suggested that there is personal property now held in adverse possession to which the United States has a valid claim. If this be true it would probably be advisable to recommend an appropriation for its detection and recovery. According to a letter from Mr. Littlepage, lately employed as agent of the treasury, department, to the solicitor of the treasury, department, to the solicitor of the treasury, detection of frauds upon the customs revenue."

Continuing he says: "After my several Continuing he says: "After my several Continuing he says: "After my several conversations with you I infer: that my especial assignment will be to recover such properties belonging to the late confederate states as have been fraudulently or improperly diverted or concealed." In concluding, breasys: "Above all, I desire that my special assignment shall be kept a profound secret."

cret."

In a letter dated Nov. 17, 1887, he says he went to his home in King William county, Va., to examina his old confederate papers made and received while in Europe under the orders of the confederate state govern-Va., to examine his old confederate papers made and received while in Europe under the orders of the confederate state government, to obtain accurate data. He says he found that in the winter of 1854 he was ordered to the confederate ship the Texas, alias the Pampeiro. The vessel was built at Glasgow as a No. I ship-of-war, and waste have received her armament and equipment while lying off the coast of England by another vessel. Capt. Henry Sinclair of the confederate states navy, superintended the construction of the vessel, her cost being $1,400,000, all of which was fully paid by the confederate government. The vessel, he says, started out to sea, but having been reported as a confederate cruiser, was seized. Capt. Sinclair rather than carry her through the confederate cruiser, was seized. Capt. Sinclair rather than carry her through the confederacy until they should be entitled to have her. He then chartered her, and when a few months after the confederacy collapsed, she was sailing under the same charter. He adds that this vessel was fully paid for by the confederate government and should belong to the United States. She is still valuable and is now trading between Edinburgh and Copenhagen.

He adds that there are several other Clyde built steamers constructed by the confederate government, similarly disposed of by their agents or captains, which should now belong to the United States. There were also two powerful rams, built by Laird & Co., on the Mersey, ostensibly for the Chinese government, but inspected and tested by confederate officers. They were, he says, seized by the British payther confederate and were finally disposed of by their agents or captains, which should now belong to the United States. There were also two powerful rams, built by Laird & Co., on the Mersey, ostensibly for the Chinese government, but inspected and tested by confederate officers. They were, he says, seized by the British paythe confederate seen by Admiral Luce at Bermuda flying the British flag.

Mr. Littlepage also speak

Sinclair's house found that its linen, crockery, cutlery, etc., bore the letters "C. S. N. 3," which are supposed to have come from the Texas. He adds that two new Clyde-built steamers, the City of Peters burg and Old Dominion, which were built for the confederate government and paid for by it, are now running between Liverpool and Dublin.

Mr. Littlepage files an itemized statement of confederate property unrecovered by the United States government amount, ing to $30,000,000, most of which is in English hands. He estimates that there are ix millions worth in the United States, not including the value of many millions of dollars worth of cotton belonging to the confederate government shipped from Brownsville, Galveston and Metamoras since the war. since the war.

During the fiscal year the commissioner finternal revenue collected $124,326,470.77, f which the First district of Michigan paid 1,566,897.79, and the Fourth district $207,11.22. This was on tobacco, liquors and

Senator Sherman, from the finance committee, has reported favorably an amendment proposed by Senator Spooner to the sundry civil bill, providing for the refund of the direct tax paid by the several states and territories under the act of August 5, 1861, and for the remission of all moneys still due to the United States on account of the tax. The amendment is substantially identical with the bill for the refund of the direct tax which caused a prolonged deaddirect tax which caused a prolonged dead lock in the house of representatives this

Senate bill for the erection of a statue to Gen. George Rogers Clark at Louisville, Ky., reported favorably in the house. It appropriates $25,000.

The house has passed the bill increasing the number of army officers eligible to detail at military colleges and making naval officers eligible also. This bill is the one which Col. Rogers and the Orohard Lake academy have been much interested in.

The internal revenue collections for the past fiscal year were $124,836,474 as against $118,837,301 for the year before. The cost of collection was $3,983,000. There was an increase of 278,220,900 cigarettes and 56,421 207 cigars manufactured during the year.

The house committee on commerce will report favorable on Phelan's bill to pre-vent discrimination in selling literary matter on trains, steamships, penalty of $1,000 to $4,000.

The house has passed the senate bill appropriating $20,000 for an appraiser's warehouse at Chicago; also the senate bill prohibiting transmission of transparent envelopes through the mails.

Postmaster-General Dickinson has iss Postmaster-General Dickinson has issued a circular letter instructing postmasters that, under the provisions of the postoffice appropriation bill recently passed by congres a, the postage on seeds, cuttings, bulls, roots, scions and plants will be charged at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. The former rate was one cent per ounce.

The congressional committee appointeds to look into the immigration affairs of the country at large has commenced its work.

Senator Hiscock has introduced the mor-sion at the rate per month of one cent for each day's service.

Republican senstors are preparing a tar iff bill, which will make a out of $40,000,000

Representative Ford's bill placing Hiram R. Ellis on the pension list has passed the senate. It pays him a pension as first lieutenant and adjustant of the Twenty-eighth Michigan infantry, in lieu of the pension allowed him under the general pension law of the rank of sergeant of company I, Fifth Michigan Cavalry.

Representative Tarsney says he is prouder of his vote on the tariff bill than of any other vote he has ever cast.

By direction of the secretary of war, Lieut. Frank T. Van Lew, second infantry, is detailed as a professor of military science and tactics at the Michigan military scademy, to take effect Sept. 8. First Lieut. Fred Strong, fourth artillery, is detached from Michigan military academy and orderfrom Michigan mined ed to join his battery.

The President has sent to the senate the nomination of Orlando M. Poe to be colonel in the corps of engineers. He is now a licut.-colonel. There is no doubt whatever of Gen. Poe's prompt confirmation. The President also nominated Maj. S. M. Mansfield, now in charge of the work in Western Michigan, to be lieutenant-colonel.

The state department has been informed of the establishment of telegraphic communication between the Dutch colony of Curacoa and North America.

The President has vetoed the act granting The President has vetoed the act granting the right of way to the Fort Smith, Paris & Dardanelle railway company to construct and operate a railroad, telegraph and telephone line from Fort Smith, Ark., through the Indian Territory, to or near Baxter Springs, Kan., and says in his veto message that the Indians have rights which the government is bound to respect.

John N. Mueller, a Michigan man, for many years a clerk in the interior depart-ment, is dead.

President Cleveland and Postmaster-General Dickinson have been on a fishing excursion on the Atlantic.

The house committee en appropriations has completed the fortification appropriation bill. It provides for the ultimate expenditure of a little more than $13,000,000, but the appropriation for the current year is limited to $8,202,670.

The senate has passed the army appropriation bill, with Mr. Hawley's amendment appropriating $750,080 for an armory gun factory at Watervleit arsenal, New York; $5,000,000 for the purchase of steel for high power coast defanse guas: $500,000 for the purchase of submarine mines, and $100,000 for submarine controllable torpedoes

The house has passed a joint resolution providing for the support of the army until September 1.

Another effort is being made to have the government buy the Portage canal for $350,000.

The value of the United States's mineral The value of the United States's mineral output for 1887 is reported at $588.056,945, which is about $100,000,000 greater than the great yield of 1885. In pig iron alone the increase was $20,000,000, and copper showed a large advance. The present year already indicates a considerable falling off.

The house has passed the bill increasing the pension of Emanuel Custer of Monroe, father of Gen. George A. and Capt. Tom Custer, to $50 per month. The pension is given him as father of Capt. Tom Custer, the general's widow also being in receipt of pension.

The house committee on military affairs recommends non-concurrence in senate amendments to army appropriation bill. Chief Justice Fuller will take the oath of office in September.

The facts clicited thus far in the investi-gation prove indisputably that the emigra-tion laws of 1882 have been violated.

The commissioner of the general land office has called upon the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad company to restore 90. 827 acres of land to the government. which was erroneously patented to the Atlantic & Pacific railroad company, to which the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad company succeeded.

Representative Wheeler of Alabama introduced a bill directing superintendent of the eleventh census to ascertain and publish birth and death rate among pure whites, and among Negroes, Chinamen, Indians, half-breeds or hybrids of any description or character of human race found in the United States.

The following Michigan men have been admitted to practice before the interior department; Thomas J. O'Brien, Grand Rapids; Melvin E. Peters, Coldwater; Pater Sharp, Ridgeway.

Senator Palmer has introduced by request in the senate a bill proposing to substitute silver bullion for one-half of the $100,000,000 gold held by the treasury for the redemption of United States notes. To effect this change, the bill authorizes the purchase, with gold coin, of $5,000,000 worth of aliver bullion a month, which is to be substituted in the redemption fund for the gold coin withdrawn. The bill also to be substituted in the redemption fund for the gold coin withdrawn. The bill also provides for redeeming United States notes, with gold coin and silver builton or standard silver dollars, and for coining the silver bullion in the redemption fund when the normal ratio 15½ or 76 to 1 between gold and silver is reached.

Rev. Father Tolten, of Quincy, Ill., is the only colored Catholic priest in the United States. He was born in alavery. He speaks several languages and is highly regarded by the clergy.

A poor old washerwoman in Brooklyn has hung out the following sign, which strikes some passers by as indicrous and for others it has a touch of pathos: "Martha Holmes washes every day." Ap old horse at Beaver Falls, Pa., long noted for its slowness, suddenly became re-markably lively, and now is almost as frisky as a colt. There are some who think the animal has gone insane.

Calleo print works at Providence, R. L. are running night and day, and with an extra force of 200 hands, to fill an order for 2,000,-000 bandanes. The manufacture of all other

A manager of a woman's exchange rep A manager of a woman's exchange reports that during the past year she has given advice to 518 women. Some law, one have not hase more beay, and faw, probably, were obliged to solve cases in equal variety.

Herman Seville's Blunders.

BY BERTHA BERTON

A scrawl, of 'not available," across the top of a prim looking sheet of manuscript, and it was refolded and passed to the the left hand of the table with an air that bespoke its finel disposal; then the young editor gave his attention to a more interesting subject.

That literary men, especially editors, should have time to devote to sentiand love making, would hardly be supposed when one takes into considstation their audious duties, and as Herman Seville sat in his cosy sauctum with a formidable pile of bulky packages before him, while at his side, and gaping like a hungry, young robin. stood the capricious and suggestive waste-basket, no one would have sus pected that he was penning a tender little note, most carefully worded, and literally brimming with sentiment and

Incredible as it would have seemed, yet, so it was; and he has sandwiched it in as a sort of relish among less delectable business.

Twice he read it over to see that he had said exactly what he meant to say, to see that he had used rhetoric, impassioned and eloquent language. Yes, as he carefully folded the note and laid it by itself upon the table, he felt that he had left nothing unsaid; and well satisfied with the effort, calmly confident of its effect he proceeded to the business of the morning, which was the consideration of the vast accumulation of manuscripts before mentioned that awaited his verdict of approval or disapproval.

There they lay in various shapes and sizes according to the fancy and conrenience of their respectable writers, and through that long summer morning Herman Seville read and criticised and crossed redundant words and phrases, and into the hungry basket dropped rejected articles.

A few marked accepted were pushed to his right hand, but those were fortunate ones, for the editor was extremely fastidious, and inferior articles never appeared in his columns, consequently the aspirants to the heights of excellence contained in that Weekly Journal were kept in a continued and a decidedly uncomfortable state of suspense regarding their articles.

One there was among the number that particularly pleased the young A sketch, short and lively and interesting, interspersed with plenty of dialogue, the language beautiful and flowery, the sentiment tender and pure, and that was unhesitatingly ac-

A new wrter, it seemed, and the tather euphonious nom de plume of "Pans Blussom" was given, the real name Lillie McKar, and the editor repeated it to himself musingly.

She was evidently a writer of ability. and he would just write her a little note of acceptance, with a request, also, that she would become a regular contributor to the "Journal."

Then be thrust it into an envelope and laid it beside another undirected wrapper which contained the little poem with the fateful words, 'not available," branded upon its first page.

It was almost dinner time, and editors, is well as more commonplace mortals, feel the cravings of appetite. Herman Seville began to think of the wants of the inner man; then his thoughts went back to the sentimental note he had written to the girl he loved, and glancing at the first lines, that there should be no mistake, he placed that also in the envelope.

Just then the telephone set up such a jabbering that he sprang up and answered a message; then he directed those letters and mailed them on his way to dinner.

And as he seated himself at the notel table, a trifle impatiently, perhaps, awaited the filling of the bill of are, he had the calm self-consciousness of having done a big stroke of busi-

Yes he had really done much more than he gave himself cred t for.

That same evening he called at the nome of Ethel Vinton, the young lady so whom he had that forenoon, penned such a tender little note.

He was to be her escort to an opera, and the anticipation of spending the evening by her side was very pleasing.

His surprise, therefore, may be im agine when, instead of his charmer. he found a note awaiting him. She had decided not to attend the opera, he maid handed him a letter. Ahl hat would doubtless explain. Ferhaps the dear girl was ill; and with that rigretful thought, the editor consigned the note to a breast pocket in the immediate region of his heart. then he went back to his sanctum.

A listy, tall and angular, with her veil, that quite enshroused her m, arose from his office obser, as to her early training. Then, in precise and measured words, she proceeded to express her gratification at being at last appreciated. That her little poem must be a success she had been contident, and she was delighted at his request. Certainly, she would furnish a poem weekly, on any subject, in any style of verse, and of any desired length.

"It was so easy for her to rhyme." she said, and she threw back the folds of vivid green that had concealed her face, and revealed the thin, lank visage of a ma den of forty-five summers.

She had a sallow complexion, hor piercing, black eyes were small and glittering, and about her temples she wore short cork-screw curls that bobbed up and down in her earnestness.

Her gaze was fixed upon the editor's face, and he seemed quite mystified regarding her meaning; but when at last she paused for breath, he gave utterance to his thoughts.

"My dear madume," he said, conciliatingly, as the elderly aspirant for poetic fame stepped expectantly forward, think there must be a mistake."

How, or where the mistake had been made he was still at a loss to determine.

"A mistake!" exclaimed the woman. in a high pitched tone. "How can it be? You needn't deny that you wrote this; your own name is signed to it;' and she held before him the note which he had written to Millie McKay, the acceptance of her sketch, the request that she should become a regular contributor.

Yes, there at the bottom of the page was his name, but the address on the envelope was to Mehitable Smith.

"The dickens! What have I done?" Herman Saville ejaculated, and he drew from his breast pocket the note which he had been to impatient to read; the precious note that was to explain why Ethel Vinton had refused to attend the opera in his company. The wrapper enclosed his own note to Ethel, but inside of it instead of the tender sentiments which he had written was Mehitable Smith's poem, the "not available." and he passed it to the indignant lady. "You see I have made a blunder," he went on, apologeticallv. "This, madam, was designed for you, and I sincerely regret that I should have raised any false hopes regarding your poem; but really, we have more articles of that kind on hand than we shall be able to use for a long time."

"You may spare your regrets," Miss Smith exclaimed, indignantly, as her small, black eyes flashed fire. 'Men are false, all of them, and I might have known that your word could not be depended upon;" then, drawing the green veil over her sallow visage, she dashed from the room, and Herman Seville began to pace the floor.

It was an unfortunate m stake, but he would call at Mr. Vinton's in the morning and Ethel would laugh at the ludicrousness of the affair.

But he was not through with trouble; for, although he slept that night, his visions were haunted with elderly maidens, maidens with piercing eyes and huge bundles of poems, and he arose an hour earlier than usual and aided his digestion by a morning walk.

That forenoon he called at Mr. V nton's residence, but again Ethel sent excuses, and he returned to his sanctum with the uncomfortable feeling that he had not been guided by heaven's first law in his literary work of the previous day.

Another surprise awaited him. Seated at the street window of his office was a lady, young and bright, and piquant in expression, with large, hazel eyes, and fair, thoughtful face: her vivid lips had a bewildering fascinating curve, though they seemed a trifle too firmly set and in her cheeks was tint like the lining of a rare seashell.

She arose and met him with an open letter in her hand.

"I do not think that this is intended as an insult," she said in a low, musical tone, which the editor thought was inexpressibly sweet, 'but I cannot put any other construction upon it. Perhaps you can explain;" and the beautiful, hazel eyes looked up questioningly to Herman Seville's face, as she placed in his hand the note designed for Ethel Vinton.

The note, which he had penned so carefully, which he had read and reread that mistakes there should be none; and what a mess he had made of

"Have a seat, Miss McKay." the editor said, as he drew forward the most comfortable chair of which his sanctura could boast, and the young lady settled down to listen to the untangling of mishaps that Rerman Seville had brought upon himself, through his own carelessate, and in spite of all efforts to retain harfulf, Millie McKay's amuse-ment at his misfertures found vent in he entered, with a bow which did credit a low, musical laugh, at which, actwithstanding it was at his expense, the editor took no offense.

That explanation, however, did not make it appear that Ethel Vinton was anything more than a good friend, nor that the tender, little note which have so awkwardly fallen into Millie Mc Kay's hands was aught but sheer non-

May the editor be forgiven for his untruthfulness, for be seemed to be verifying Mehitable Smith's assertion regarding the falsity of mankind.

That it was exceedingly gratifying to Millie McKay to learn that her sketch had been accepted may be be lieved, and also that she was desired to become a regular contributor to the "Weekly Jonenal;" for she was dependent upon her own exertions, and from her indifferent success in the passhe had about decided to relinquist. authorship.

When the young authoress left Herman Seville's office it was with a light er heart than when she entered it. The note, that she had felt as insulting, had not been designed for her; indeed. it had meant nothing at all, or so that handsome editor had made her believe. and she went back to the small, thirdstory room, that was kitchen, parlor. sleeping-room and study all in one. and commenced another story forth-

And when she had gone, Herman Seville leaned back in his chair and fell into a reverie, the burden of which was that he did not much care if Ethel Vinton was offended, or Mehitable'Smith, either, and because a certain article was not available, he was sure he was not to blame; (was man ever known to be since Adam's day?) and of one thing he was certain, he had secured a fine writer for the Journal.

She was a very agreeable girl, too; she would be a pleasant acquaintance, and so she proved, in time, more than acquaintance, or even friend, for Millie McKay finally became the editor's wife, and was not obliged to write sketches for a living.

And thus the mishaps that were caused by Mehitable Smith's unavailable poem, resulted also, in bringing to Herman Seville true love and happi-

Curiosity.

der who those people are That live across the way; I wonder what their business is, And how they pass each day?

I wonder who she is that lives . Upon the upper floor? And if those children both are hers. If she be rich or poor?

And who is she that always wears That deep-dyed crimson sack; Whose face as pure as marble gleams, Neath hair of raven black?

And who is he with whitened locks And who the maiden fair, With roses in her rounded cheeks And sunlight in her hair?

I wonder if I always will Go wondering on this way. Or shall I get acquainted, And know them all some day?

Know who they are, and what they have, And how they came to be The tenants of the house that stands Right opposite to me?

Know who the man is that goes out So early in the morn; And why the parlor window shades Are always closely drawn?

And why-but there I must arrange Inside that house to see, Or I shall die! I know l aball! -L. H. Latimer.

It Went, All the Same. They were seated as usual. I be lieve I do not need to explain. They had reached that confidential state when, after months of anxiety and doubts and fears as to whether she loved him or not having found out that she was only too willing he felt like backing out

"Well, you see I am poor, dearest. "I don't care. It does not cost much to keep a wife."

"No, I suppose not."

"Not when one loves, George." "No. I suppose not."

"Ah, you think I am extravagant. I am not. It's all well when pa pays, you know. That's all right. But if I were your wife-"

"Dearest!"

"Yes, I can be so ecomical. It doesn't really cost any more to keep two than one."

"O, I can keep house."

"Yes, dearest, but can I?"
"I cast ok".

"My love, I would not wish you to do any hard work. I would not wish you to soil your dainty hands. Don't you think, dear, we might live at the restaurant until-until

"Intil when P" "Until I could brace myself to eat

what you cooked.'

Even that did not help him. She said, "All right," and laughed and the wedding goes. — San Francisco Chron-

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson VI, August 5, 1888. THEME: THE BURET OFFERING. LIEV.

And the Lord called unto Mose, and spare unto bim out of the tabernacie of the congregation, saying, 2. Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, If any man of you bring an offering unto the Lord, ye shall bring your offering et the cattle, even of the herd, and of the flock. 3. If his offering be a burnt sacrifice of the herd, let him offer a male without blemish: he shall offer it of his own voluntary will at the door of the tabernacie of the congregation before the Lord. 4. And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make atonement for him. 5. And he shall kill the bullock before the Lord: and the priests, Aaron's sons, shall bring the blood, and sprinkle the blood round about upon the altar that is by the door of the tabernacie of the congregation. 6. And he shall flay the burnt offering, and cut it into his picess. 7. And the sons of Aaron the priest shall put fire upon the slate, and lay the wood in order upon the fire: 8. And the priests, Aaron's cons, shall lay the parts, the head, and the fat, in order upon the wood that is on the fire which is upon the shalls: 9. But his inwards and his legs shall he wash in on the fire which is upon the altar: 9. But his inwards and his legs shall he wash in water: and the priests shall burn all upon the altar, to be a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the him the iniquity of us all.—Isaiah 53:6.

GOLDEN TEXT.—The Lord hath laid on im the iniquity of us all.—Isaiah 58:6.

The book of Exodus closed with the account of setting up and dedicating the tabernacle and the inauguration of the priesthood. Leviticus opens with a description of the system of sacrifices. The book is named for the Levites, who were given charge of the ceremonials described. The instruction, divinely given, without doubt issued from the Presence which overshadowed the mercy seat. Equipped with a constitutional government, to which they had sworn allegiance; a common religion; God their leader, they were ready to move forward as a nation and establish themselves permanently in the land of promise. Among the various offerings, the sacrifice of atonement stood first. It was a "whole burnt offering," expressing atonement and consecration.

LESSON NOTES.

V. I. And the Lord-called unto Moses. Men in every age have been called of God to the work for which they have fitness; a work higher and better than human appointments. Providence never calls to disappoint or degrade. There are many voices and many calls; the devil speaks also. He calls to a life of self-seeking, a life of self-indulgence—the divine call is to beneficence and a higher type of living. The voice is sometimes heard in the shaping of circumstances, the advice of friends, or in the intuitions of the heart. As Moses was convinced that he was God-sent, so may God's people now know that they are divinely commissioned.

may God's people now know that they are divinely commissioned. V. 2. If any man of you bring an offering. It is noticed that the command is not that every man shall bring an offering—this is to be voluntary; but if the individual elects to bring an offering unto the Lord, the acceptable manner of so doing is explicitly stated. The animal was not to be a wild beast, a useless beast or a mained beast, but domesticated, "clean," fit for food, in the perfection of young life—forming a part of the individual wealth. The first idea of an offering is the giving of that which the owner prizes; that which costs something.

which the owner prizes; that which costs something.

V. 3. A burnt sacrifice. The word sacrifice originally meant an offering made to God, a real destruction of the thing offered, in contrast with oblations, such as tithes, first fruits, etc., which suffered no change of substance in their designation. The sacrilicial atonement not only embraced the idea of death to a living creature, but a consumption by fire. The origin of sacrifices was doubless divine, for all nations from earliest antiquity have been accusfrom earliest antiquity have been accus-tomed so to do. The universal opinion of the heathen was, that in the shedding of the neather was that in the shedding of blood there was pardon for violation of law. According to Levitical law, the entire animal was laid upon the attar and consumed by fire; ascending, visibly and invisibly (in greater part), to-ward heaven. This voluntary offering was the voice of the heart addressing heaven,—a symbol of the freewill submission of self to the Lord. The victim, perfect in every part, was a type of Christ, the perfection of excellence It taught also that the best we have is none

It taught also that the best we have is none too good to give to God.

V. 4. And he shall put his hand upon the head of the offering. This act was a pledge of faith in God, implying consciousness of sin and need of atonement, coupled with the confession that the punishment of sin, (the sinner's desert), was transferred to the victim whose life was accrificed instead. Placing the hand upon the head was to indicate that the weight of sin rested upon the sacrificial head, and it was at that time slain,—the punishment of sin, as it were, being diverted from the original to the substitute; a foreshadowing of the blood of Christ, voluntarily offered, once for all, for those who would, with outstretched hand, accept it.

eccept it. While the Israelites did not fully under while the israelites and not raily understand how this ceremonial cleanesd from sin and made them better, it helped to impress upon them more fully the hatefulness of sin, and that they were far from God, and could only approach him through appointed means. There is between the deserts, even of the penttent and believing soul and the pardon and blessedness for which it hopes, an immeasurable distance, an impassible chasm which can be spanned or filled only by the mercy of God as revealed and manifested in Christ.—Peabody. There was sacrifice for sin in general, not the special and individual sins of which each was guilty. It was necessary that Israel be impressed that all sin was the result of an evil nature, this fact acknowledged, greater care would be awakened to nip in the bud individual wrong. As a national offering, the victim was stain by the priests and Levites before the holy place (before the Lord) where his presence was specially manifested. The sacrifice for the individual was stain by the sinner himself.

presence was specially manifested. The sacrifice for the individual was slain by the sinner himself.

The efficacy of blood is everywhere enforced. As it was the material vehicle of the life of the victim, it was the symbol of the life of the offerer. It was also a symbol of the spiritual life, given as an offering to Jehovah. As the blood was ponred out on the altar before the burnt offering was kindled, it typified the fact that no offering of life or body is acceptable unless the soul has first been given to Jehovah.—Lange.

Does blood typify death! No, blood typifies life; we pour out life in one libstion of love. It is thine, thou giver of all sufficence. I would daily give back the life, and have no life, save as it is re-given me by the God to whom I dedicate it.—Parker.

V. &.—He shall flay the beauti offering After the animal was attemed it was out in pieces signifying the laying open to the eye. Saith. The sone of Asson these whill put live a the life; it is a the laying open to the year of God the inmest motives of the offerer.—Saith. The sone of Asson these while put live by stirring or other process. The fire has been a there is the fire the put that is lineared the life.

ification, it is the pover at. What does the wall It means that all in and g d heap meant it means that all in said was that is of the fiesh, impure, earlity, worthly is being consumed. This is divisualisation. This is the only form is whithe fiesh can pray. It is the trath white burning victim illustrates, that is sweet savor to God.—Parker.

Unwilling gifts, relactant worship, forced service will find no more acceptance with God to-day, than would the blemished offering in the days of Modes.

ordering in the days of Moses.

We may not understand how atonement saves, yes we may accept God's way—the way which he stirms is complete, full of meaning and satisfactory to him,—trusting where we cannot where we cannot see.

We cannot see.

We cannot forgive our sine against a neighbor, only the one wronged can forgive. Our part is to accept the graciously offered conditions. Obedience is an essential to christian living. Adam did not fall in attention to the garden, but he did fall in trusting, loving obedience.

MINOR MENTION.

A new scarf-pin is a pearl believe with, a golden car

Bricklayers at St. Louis get $5 for Minneapolis charges this year $1,200 for a

Atlanta rivals Chicago in the number of its divorce suits.

The dime-saving craze has made them scarce in Maine.

Black silk bathing suits are to be the fashion this summer.

ANew York critic speaks of a teple audi-Alarms of fire are given at Nogales, A. T.,

by the shooting of small arms. Condensed milk is being shipped from Lansing, Mich., to Busnos Ayres.

An English canal company makes use the locomotive upon the towing path. It is expected that a thousand lealanders vill arrive in Manitoba during the st The Greek Christians of Chicago are to erect a church edifice, the third in the com-

More than one million men are employed by the various railway lines in the United Blates,

An Albany gentleman, under probusiness, forgot his wife had died and missed the funeral.

Miss Catherine T. Simonds has ulty years of service as teacher in the Franklin School, Bouton.

A gun for projectiles of 100 pounds has en completed by Armstrong. It fires seven shells a miunte. Long Island cultivated brook trout cost

$1 per pound; Canada wild trout cost fifty cents per pound. After this year all executions in New York

State will be by electricity instead of by hanging as now. In New York the other day Coroner Levy and his deputies broke the record by holding 49 inquests in two hours. Capt. Douglas, of Daytona, Florida., is training fourteen pupples to carry out his nets for him when fishing.

A shark weighing 400 pounds, of the man eating species, was caught in a welr Cosnitport, Mass, recently.

It has recently been decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania that Sunday marriages are null and void.

The largest railroad system in the world is the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fs, which operates about 8,000 miles of road. For the first time in the history of Chicago woman, Mrs. T. B. Corse, has been elected member of the Board of Education. A man near Bangor, Ma, is trying the experiment of grafting apple twigs into a pine tree. He wants to raise pineapples. One of Forepaugh's elephants had to be covered with mustard the other day to ease his pains, and it took twenty-two pounds to do it. The average watch is composed of 175 different pieces, comprising upward of 2,400 separate and distinct operations in its manufacture.

A mass of copper weighing about twenty tons has been found at Copper Falls, Mich., and is being cut up into merchantable sized

By supplying herself with the purest artesian well water, Memphis, Tenn. thinks she has broken the "best holt" of all contagious A Brooklyn woman is undertaker and em balmer. It was her husband's business, and she took it up after his death and is making money at it. Ice cream was responsible for the death of de last season, but such of survived should not feel discouraged. Its

An authorized committee of citizens sake Philadelphia for $30,000 in voluntary sub-acriptions to spend for a regular old fashioned Fourth of July.

It is said that an Italian count is about to marry a New York shop girl. He is stack on the way she yells "cash!" and thinks there must be money in it.

A sparrow has built a nest on one of the trucks of a Delaware, Leckawanna & Western passenger coach and makes regular trips to Syracuse and return.

The four-legged efficken at Allentown is discounted by one in Montgomery county, Pa., which has two fully developed hashs, is two weeks, old and healthy.

Japanese engineers propose to adopt a tem of caribwork datemes producted an iron shield one fact in thickness, extending twenty-five feet seeh side of

The lastest he abroad: It Miss Rossa Emme, notoriety has been helped along by her postrait painted and, hong is th Societies.

Annoco, w. H., S. C. Softy, Secretary, and C. Softy, Secretary, S. Softy, S.

BUSINESS CARDS.

PELHAM,

Resident Denist PLYMOUTH, - MICHIGAN.

Electric Vibrator for extracting teeth without pain. All work of the best and at prices to suit the TE YOU ARE GOING

East, West, North or South,

GEORGE D. HALL, Agent, F. & P. M. W. R., Plymouth, for Mars. Barrs and Involmation. 221 I. F. HATCH, M. D. AND SUBGEON.

Office over Boylan's drug store, room form

F. BROWN, ATTORNEY, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY PUBLIC Office over Postoffice. 22-29 Plymouth, Mich.

WHAT THEY SAY.

-Mrs. Orange Butler, and Miss Emma Simonds, of Northville, were guests at J. H. Steers' Wednesday.

An item last week said that C. L. Wil cox had succeeded D. B. Wilcox and son in the Phoenix Mills. We intended it to read "Plymouth Mills." .

-The D. L. & N. road will give a grand excursion to Detroit on Wednesday of mext week. A special train starts from Howell, passing through here at 9:20 a., m Fare for round trip 65 cts; children under twelve years 35 cts. This includes a free boat ride of two hours on the river and Lake St. Clair.

-John A. Smith and wife met with a serious runaway accident in this village, Saturday morning. They had driven into town in a single rig, and when going down Adrian street, the horse became frightened and began to kick, the first blow going than that this trap will catch them. Any through the dashboard, then it started on a run. At the first street corner, the buggy was turned bottom up, with Mr. Smith and wife underneath, in which unpleasant position they were dragged a few rods, when the animal broke loose and ian up into the church yard where it sopped. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were both considerably bruis-d and the lady sustained a broken nose. The vehicle was badly wrecked, but the horse escaped without a scratch. Saline Observer.

The August Lippincott opens with au unusually strong novel by Maud Howe, entitled "Mammon," which has a vigorous and stirring plot, and is interesting as a return to that satirical vein which the author first opened in her maiden effort, "A Newport Aquarelle." Her pictures of the nouveau-riche society of New York are evidently drawn from the life, and are drawn with a pencil steeped in vitriol. Many of the characters are familiar types in our great cities. W. H. Babcock gives a very pleasant description and historical sketch of "The Eastern Shore of Maryland," with which this author is intimate ly acquainted. An excellent autobiographical sketch, "My Reasons for Becoming a Woman-Suffragist," is by Elizabeth L. Sexon, well known as an advocate and lecturer on the woman question. One of the most interesting features is the close or the prize competition, which began in the February number, and the announcement of the winners' names with the comarative standing of all the competitors. The publication of the best answers to se questions is begun, and proves great. learning and diligence on the part of the petitors. Many of the questions are on hitherte unsettled points in literary history, and the answers will be found to taining in themselves and invaluthe for purposes of reference. The poetry is by Frank Dempster Sherman, Clin-ton Scollard, and William H. Hayne. The departments keep up their interest.

Its Delicacy of Flavor
And the efficacy of its action have rende ed the famous California liquid fruit ser r, Syrup of Figs, immensely popular licenses and Tunes up the clogged an eriah System, and dispote Headsole this, and Fevers. Sold in 500 and $1.5 ties by all leading Druggists. 47 ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

There are 223 inmates in the cour

M. Conner has been spending several days at Petoskey.

-Men are engaged this week in trimming the trees in the park. - J. C. McClumpha picked ten bushels of red raspberries last Saturday. A few more of those eight-piece slaty cent water sets at the Star Grocery.

-The new fast train on the D. L. & N. Lost.—In Plymouth, on Wednesday, a door key. Finder please leave at this of--The Detroit and Chicago ball clubs have dropped behind and New York has a good lead.

-Miss Minnie McGran left Wednesday for a few days visit with friends in Ypsilanti and Rawsonville.

-The remains of Mrs. Robinson were accompained here from Detroit by her paren's, husband and daugnter.

-Mrs. S. A. Kendrick and her sister Miss Jennie Seelye, of Dexter, are rusticating at Bay View for a lew weeks.

Harry Bennett left Tuesday evening for Ottawa, Ill., where we understand his mare Flora D. is to take part in races.

heating-stoves, this weather, yet Council & Son are filling up their store-roon with

Czar Penny has left the employ of taken his place.

H. H. Safford and family, A. K. Wheeler and tamily, Mrs. Fannie Coleman and daughter Emma, Mrs. Worden and sons and possibly others went to Walled Lake Wednesday for a day's outing.

-Mrs. F. C. Steers, of Detroit, and Mrs W. C. Steers, of Wayne, were guests at Mrs. J. H. Steers', last Saturday, the latter returning home the same day and the former will return to-morow.

-Birthday cards, school cards, playing cards, visiting cards, tissue paper, blank books, notes, receipts, legal blanks, scrap pictures, photograph albums, autograph albums, scrap albums, etc., at the MAIL

-Flat Rock and vicinity was visited by terrible storm of bail, rain and wind Tuesday night. Eighty-five trees are reported blown down in one orchard and numerous chimneys, fences, small buildings etc. were destroyed.

-If any of our rearders are troubled with ground moles destroying their lawns or crops we can recommend to them the Wherry mole trap shown on the first page of this paper. There is nothing surer number of the very best references can be given—in fact they are guaranted to do the work.

-Wednesday evening, witnessed a very pleasant visit of the young people of Plymouth to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rauch, of Northville. It was in the way of a surprise, by Mrs. Voorheis' Sabbath school class, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jed Noyes and Rev. J. M. Shank. Ice cream and cake, music, a bearty welcome and a good time was richly enjoyed by all. Long live Mr. and Mrs. Rauch. The following list comprises the guests: Charles Shattuck, James Clark, Claude Briggs Julius Wells. Bert Bennett, J. H. and Mrs. Noyes, Jenuie Westfall, Mary Rodgers, Retta Collins, Olie Paddack, Maggie O'Brien, Emma Boylan, Cora Rae, Isabel Beam, Phila Safford, Allie Noyes, Rev. J.

Editor of the MAIL.

SIR. -An account of a very interesting meeting was not mentioned in last week's issue of your paper. That of the annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the Baptist church July 19th. The president's address was as usual, good and the reports of the work done in the past year by the other officers given in a concise and business like manner. Every pains was taken by the committee on entertainment that the occasion should be a pleasant oue. The church was quite elaborately decorated and a repast served to over one hundred and twenty members and guests. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Voorhies; recording secretary, Mrs. Edward Manning; corcorresponding sec., Mrs. Frisbee; treasur er, Mrs. Beals.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colda, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and chest affections. Trial bottles from at J. H. Boylan's Drug Store, Large You cannot afford to waste time in ex t J. H. Boylan's Drug Store,

Letter From Rev. G. H. Wallace.

Invinction-on-Hubson, New York. Editor MATL:

At the present time the west has some advantage over the east. The atmosphere along the whole Valley of the Hudson, from Albany to New York, is very hazy and heavy, without there being any apparent cause for it. This spoils the view of either bank, and the puffing steamers that constantly ply their way up and down the river. The weather is quite cool and cloudy, but not a great deal of rain, road is the finest that passes through town The farmers are later getting in their hay than with us, and on the road I noticed many a field uncut. The country estates In this vicinity give us an idea of what Eden might have been, so fresh and green sunshine and shade, groups of trees, and clumps of many-colored loveliness, all arranged with artistic taste and grace. It is a good thing that some men have abundance of money, so that we poorer in pocket may enjoy the sight at least, of some of the beautiful and useful things money can buy. I had the pleasure last Sunday the 29th, of preaching in the Presbyterian church here, and among my auditors were a number whose names and wealth are almost universally known. I have also had the pleasure of being sick, of having a doctor, and a prescription, honors not usually given to strangers. My sleep has also been disturbed by the constant rum We can't see any particular use for ble and roar of trains on the N. Y. Central, which go speeding past every fitteen or twenty minutes. But we country folks must expect that when we venture far from home. Public events are few and Dohmstreich & Co. and is laboring on a far between just at present, as many of farm. George McGill, of Ypsilanti, has the principal actors are resting at Saratoya, or traveling in Europe. Jay Gould who left here for the former place last week, may not be sick, but it is noticed that his physician is in constant attendance upon him. Wealth has its hardness

Yours etc.,

Tuesday, a. m. July, 31

as well as its advantages

The inneral of Win. Hull's baby took place at the Cong'l church on Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Spane has taken charge of the child ever since the death of their daughter, the child's mother, and had become very much attached to it. Eivin Doolittle has gone to Hammoud, Ind., to work.

Nowland, Stringer, and Gordon, hardwood lumbermen, were in town on Mon-

Mr. Blacksmith, who has had charge of the Tremont House here for several weeks, but which passed out of his hands by the sale of the property to Frank Stringer, will embark in other business

Ida Crosby and Katie Varney left for Hudson on Saturday last and will be absent for some time visiting triends.

Our stree's are being repaired with clay. The base ball game on Saturday last beween the Wayne and Yp-ilanti clubs, resulted in a victory of 12 to 4 in favor of the Waynes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bilby, of Detroit, are guests at Wm. Corlett's, this week.

The Allardyce property has been raised and new underpinning put under it, and the building is undergoing other improv-

Harry Robinson, of Plymouth, was in town on Friday last.

A new man has taken charge of the photograph gallery. Mr. Munger, who purchased the stock and instruments of Mr. Gorham, died last week at his home in Detroit, of consumption.

We had a good shower on Tuesday eve-

Mrs. Pettingill is on the sick list.

Detroit.

Justice Cullen has moved back into his old quarters, in the Doolittle block. Miss Kirkwood, clerk in the post office, s spending her vacation in Bay City. The enterprising town of Hand Station on the Wabash railroad, has a hickory pole raised and a Harrison and Morton banner floating on the top. Jim Woolsey has a bulletin board in front of his barber shop, announcing the score of league base ball games.

David Sherman, an old resident in the outheastern part of the township, is not expected to live.

Miss Ella Fitzgerald, who has been vis iting friends in Pontiac, has arrived

Miss Katle Curtiss is visiting with the Fishers' and Curtis' at Belden. Miss Jessie Southed, of Detroit, is visiting here. The Cong'l. church gave an excursion to Port Huron, on Tuesday of last week.

liew Advertisements.

Save the Cents,

BASSETT & SON.

Main Street, PLYMOUTH.

THE FINEST STOCK, THE LARGEST CHOICE. THE TRUEST VALUE.

PARLOR and BED-ROOM SUITS.

Patent Rockers, Reed Rockers, Easy Chairs, Lounges, Bureaus, Tables of Every Description, Commodes, Bedsteads, Mattrasses, Window Shades, Chairs of All Kinds, Pillow Feathers, Etc.

Moldings and Picture Frames. Mirrors, Brackets, Oleographs, and Oil Paintings.

COFFINS AND CASKETS,

And a Full Line of Burial Goods, which are Second to None. Prices Reseonable. We aim to be Promp Considerate and Reliable.

GO TO THE

Red Front Drug Store.

For Physicians Prescriptions.

For Fine Drugs and Chemicals.

For White Lead and Linseed

For Peninsular Liquid Paints.

JOHN L. GALE.

CALL ON

Mrs. Pettingill is on the sick list. Mary Curtiss is visiting D. B. New-GABLE.

Gasoline Stove. -

Fence Wire of All Kinds, Glass, Nails and Putty.

Decorative Paints for Household Use.

White Lead. Linseed Oil. Varnishes. Neal's Carriage Paints. Floor Paints. Liquid Paints.

Alabastine.

Whiting. Paint Brushes. White Wash Brushes. Colors in Oil Wood Stains. Tube Colors and Brushes. Putty.

PRESCRIPTIONS A SPECIALTY

Newburg.

The ice cream festival, social and donation at C. H. Armstrong's last Wednesday evening was a success, netting $83 cash.

All were pleased to see the smiling face of C. D. Paddock bere last week.

Mrs. N. Bovee is quite sick.

M. King does not improve very fast; he can only walk with a cane.

Irs. I. J. Bradner is quite sick yet. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Phelps, of Birmingham, are visiting triends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Picket visited Walled Lake last week. Our B. B. C. was billed to play at Walled Lake last Friday, but on account of a they stuff the voter. — Duluth Paragramitunderstanding they did not.

The addition and stage of our hall are fast nearing completion and will soon be ready for opening publicly.

Livonia.

No free whisky and tobacco on our plate.

George Smith has two children on the sick list.

Parmers are threshing out their wheat and rye. A fine tomb stone has been erected st the head of little Annie Helmes. fol. Lockhead's daughter, of Lansing, is the guest of Miss Vina Leach. Frank Berger called at the Centre one day last week. His home is in Detroit. It. Packard and wife are very happy over a new eight pound boy, born July 27. Vina Hedden, of Flint. is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Maria Leach, of this

A. P. Ferguson, of Ann Arbor, made his brother C. L. Furguson, a flying visit last Minday evening.

What wheat has been threshed in this tewnship goes about 25 bushels to the acib on on average.

August Blonk, who went through the Bokes bridge last spring, has begun suit against the township for ten thousand dolfart damages.

Several of the patrons of this post office received packages of turnip seed from Wishington. Sent by the Hon. J. Logan Chipman last week.

If people dont want their letters to go estlay they should not be too lazy to put the County on them, as well as the State, as there are so many offices so near alike, for instance, Leoni and Livonia, one as in Jackson county the other in Wayne.

I new kind of insect has made its appearance in this town, on the oat heads. It forms around the butt of the kernel, from five to fifty in a place. There are millions of them in some fields. They are green in color. Can any one tell us what

Subscriptions for this paper recieved at your postoffice. Three months 25cts.

Mead's Mills.

The farmers about here are very busy securing their wheat and oats. The oats are a good crop but very smutty.

Miss Belle Downey spent a few days last week in Plymouth with her sister, M'm McKeever

Mrs. H. C. Burdick is on the sick list. Huldah Hughes made a party for her lithe girl triends last Saturday afternoon, and they all agreed that it was complete.

James Downey took advantage of the low railroad rates to Hamilton, Ont., and is there at this writing visiting his sister, Mrs. Newcomb.

A cousin of H. C. and G. B. Benton, residing in New York, paid them a visit sermon to a crowd of negroes. Shortly

Miss Clara Benton and Maud Burdick expected to take a trip to Grosse Isle, this week, but are obliged to defer on recount of sickness in the latter's family.

Olarenceville.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dickinson, daughter, Sunday.

We learn with regret that Jack Wardell has started a saloon at Five Points, two males from here.

Ray Coates, of this place, shot 15 squirrils in three days, going out three times. Pretty good for a boy of 13.

A little girl from Redford is staying with Mrs. Wm. Talman. She is a daughur of Mr. Thos. O'Brian.

A brass band has been organized at

A man passed through here Monday with a nice span of carriage horses, buggy and harness and he offered the whole tiling for two hundred and fifty dollars. He was through here before ten o'clock in the morning and said that he drove from

Alpens that day. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dickinson, who renta farm six miles from Detroit, are now aying with Mrs. Dickinson's father, Mr.

HUMOROUS POINTS

"What a perfect picture Mrs. Mournful is this evening!" "Indeed, yes. She is exquisitely painted."-Harper's Beegr.

Christopher Columbus was no painter, but all the same he was the first landseer of America. - Rochester Post-Express

According to our experience, it takes longer to run down a hen than it does to run down a mountain .- Burlington Free Press.

Congressman Long, of Massachusetts, never forgets a name. Why not make him minister to Russia, then?-Youkers Statesman.

We hear a good deal about policians stuffing the ballot box, but that isn't a circumstance compared with the way

Stranger-"What is this? Ink, pens and paper—one thaler! What writing have you had to do for me?" Landlord -- "Why-the bill!" - Fliegends Blastler.

She (at a revival)-"Is it possible that the little fellow sitting on the platform is the boy preacher?" He— "Oh, no, he is the boy preacher's little grandson."-Life.

"Did you hear the news, Katle?" asked one little girl of another. "No," was the reply. "Well, my uncle George and his wife are going to Delaware on their honeycomb -Exchange.

Flat Hunter-"And this, you say is the icebox?" Landlord-"Yes, madam. We call this the icebox, although the last lady that was here used it for a servants bedroom."—Harper's Bazar.

Preacher Sim Gooseberry-"De collection will now be taken up. I jis want to express it upon you dat de watshs ob salvation am free, but I am hydrant."-Puck.

The question of how to heat the cars is now superseded by the more serious one of how shall I ever raise this swollen sticky window, without spraining my wrists and spliting my eye balls open? - Puck.

Masnma- 'My dear, did you not ask God last night to make you a good boy?" Richard (who has been throwing stones at the gardener)-"Yes, mamma, I asked him to, but it looks as if he wouldn't."—Exchange.

Freaks of Memory.

Cardinal Mazzofant, the linguist who is said to have known 100 languages, declared that he never forgot a word he had once learned.

Idiots bave been known whose memory for names and words was so retentive that they could repeat a sermon verbatim, and indicate where preacher blew his nose and coughed while delivering it.

To a friend who congratulated Leyden on his remarkable memory he replied that he often found it a source of great inconvenience. On the friend expressing surprise he exclaimed that he had often wished to recollect a particular expression in something that he had read, but could not do it until he had repeated the whole passage from the beginning to the expression he desired to recall.

An English clergymen mentions a man who could remember the day of burial of every person who had died in the parish during 35 years, and could also repeat the name and age of each deceased person and the names of the mourners at the funeral. But so weak was he intellectually that he could not be trusted to feed himself.

Mr. Maffat, the distinguished African missionary, and the father-in-law of Br. Livingstone, once preached a long fter he had finished of negroes gathered about a simpleminded young savage. He went to them and discovered that the savage was preaching his sermon over again. Not only was he reproducing the precise words, but imitating the manner and gesture of the white preacher.

Scared Goodness Into Him.

Justice Duffy, of New York, believes he power of fear as a means of correc-Last year he had a 10-year-old tion. boy before him charged with disobedience to his mother. The judge gazed at the youthful offender in ferocious manner and ordered him te stand back so that one might see him plainly. The boy did so, trembling with fear.

"You ungrateful wretch!" thundered the judge. "You highway robber! You braggadocio! You swashbuckler! This was too much for the youth and he began to cry. "You bandit!" continued the judge. "Go home and behave yourself?" The boy went, and, to all accounts has been a model son ever since. The cheeky man is one of metal-Whitehell Times.

Plymouth in Brief-

Plymouth is a village of about fifteen hundred inhabitants, twenty-two miles from Detroit—with two railroads, Detroit, Lansing & Northern and Flint & Pere Marquette—beautiful for situation—health-Lansing & Northern and Flint & Pere Marquette—beautiful for situation—healthful in location—good schools and churches—land plenty and cheap for residences or for manufactories—a prime newspaper—and a fine farming country on all sides. Persons seeking for homes or manufacturing advantages cannot do better than look this ground over. For particulars, write editor of this paper or any prominent citizen of the place. Subscribers will please send marked copies of this notice to their friends.

Syrup of Figs

Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to Cleanse the System when Bilious or Costive; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers, to cure Habitual Con-stipation, Indigestion, Piles, etc. Manu-factured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, California. Sold in fifty cents and $1.00 bottles by leading druggists.

Resolutions.

Resolutions passed by the Plymouth auxiliary of the Womans Foreign Missionary Society.

Whereas, The Plymouth auxiliary has been called to part with a beloved member, Mrs. Mary E. Shank, wife of Rev. J. M. Shank, and

WHEREAS, In her death the society has lost a sincere friend, therefore

Resolved, That we bow humbly in submi si to the will of Him who doeth all things well, and

Resolved, To cherish the memory of her precious life, and strive to so live that ours may be her triumphant and victorious death.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathies to her bereaved hesband and relatives, also

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed on our records. Also sent de hydrant, an' you got to pay fo' de to the Heathen Woman's Friend; and to our local papers for publication.

Mrs. Mary Dean. Mrs. Julia Hough. Committee

A Sound Legal Opinion.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney, Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters, with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely vise of the medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky, adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had it not beeen for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price fifty cents and $1, at J. H. Boylan's Drug Store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, sait rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. H. Boylan, druggist. 63

$500 REWARD!

We will pay the above reward for any case of liver complaint, dyspippins, sind headacha, indigestion, construction or contiveness we cannot ourse with West's Vegetable Lives Pills, when the directions are strictly compiled with. They are purely vegetable, and never fail to give astistation. Earge boxes containing 30 sugar costed pills, 25c. For sale by all drugglets. Bewers of counterfaits and imitations. The genuine manufactured only by JOHN C. WEST & CO., 862 W.Maddson St., Chicago, JR.

Estray Notice

Came into my inclosure on or about first of June, one bay mare, white star in forehead, one eye gone, would weigh about 1,100 The owner is requested to call ind pay charges and take her away. call ind pay charges and take her away.

EDWIN WHIPPLE.

Plymouth, July 30, '88, 47-52

Old Stoves Made New

Newly Nickel Plated

All kinds of Nickel Plating done in the best manner and at reasonable prices.

Plymouth Air Rifle Co.

The Beam Road Cart!

BEST IN THE MARKET!

W. BEAM. Plymouth, Mich.

Wanted.—To exchange an organ of ewing macrine, new, for a gentle horse. Inquire of editor at this office.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Conghs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remody? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10a, 50a.

Bargains in Real Estate.

For particulars concerning any of the following bargains, call on or address J. H. STEERS, Plymouth.

DARGAIN NO. 1. Farm for sale; 30 acres, 3½ miles from Plymouth; house, barn, orchard, good well; excellent location, short distance from achool house. Unable to work it is the reason for wishing to sell. Price $1,400, part down.

DARGAIN NO. 2. Six acres land, 40 rods on the road and 24 rods deep, 1½ miles from Plymouth good house, barn and other outbudnings; in excellent condition. Plenty of good fruit; good "drive" well, which never falls; beautiful place. Price $1,300, with very easy terms.

with very easy terms.

DABGAIN NO 8. Only 2½ miles from Plymouth on best road; 3½ acres fine garden land; 58 trees choicest apples and cherries. House has 10 rooms and spleadd large cellar; rooms newly papered walls and ceilings, and well painted throughout; everything convenient and in perfect repair; double floors; weights and pulleys in windows etc.; 30 rods from good school; 10 rods from post office, church public hall and store. Spleadid well of never falling, pure water and a very large stone cistern. First-class n-ighborhood and the most desirable place of its size within ten miles. Title perfect; no encumbrance; casy terms. Buildings all new or equivalent to new. Will be sold dirt chesp.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Wayne, ss. At a session of the Probate court for said county of Wayne, held at the Probate Office, in the city of Detroit, on the second day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight: Present, Cornelius J. Beilly, Acting Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of REUBEN S. DURFEE, decessed.

On reading and filtre the presence of Managing and Managing and DURFEE, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Mary Durfee, praying that administration of said estate may be granted to George A. Starkweather or some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that Tuesday, the seventh day of August next, at ten o'clock in the forescon, at said Probate Office, be appointed for hearing said petition.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order on billshad three successive weeks previous to said be published three successive weeks previous to said lay of hearing, in the PLYMOUTH MAIL, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county of Wayne.

Wayne.

CORNELIUS J. REHLLY,
Judge of the Circuit court, for and county of Wayne and acting Judge of Probate.
(A true copy.)

HOMER A. FLINT, Register.
44-46

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.—In the matter of the estate of John W. Dodge, deceased. We the undersigned, having been appointed by the proba e court for the county of Wayne, state of Michael and the cased, do hereby give notice, that we will meet at the office of C. W. Valentina, in the village of Plymouth, in add county, on Saturday, the twenty fifth day of August, A. D. 1888, and on 'hursday, the sevenemh day of January, A.D. 1889, at 10 o'clock a. m. of each of said days, for the purpose of examining and allowing said claims, and that six months from the 17th day of July, A. D. 1888, were sllowed by said court for creditors to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

WILLIAM H. HOYT.

WILLIAM N. WHERRY.

Commissioners.

Dated July 18, 1888.

KENNEDY & KOESTER. MANUFACTURING

JEW ELERS

AND WEGLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS DE

WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, TOOLS AND MATERIALS Watches and Jewelry Repaired in the Best Manner. We are Sole Agents for the Bookford Wat best watch for Bailroad Men.

Cash paid for Old Gold & Silver 20-17

MACKINAC.

Summer Tours. Palace Steamers. Low Rates.

DETROIT, MACKINAC ISLAND B. Lynses, Cheboygus, Alpena, Harrisville Oscoda, Sand Jesses, Port Huren, St. Claff, Oskiand House, Marine City, Evmy Week: Day Between

DETROIT AND GLEVELAND OUR ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS by your Tights Agent, or address. E. B. WHITCOMB, Gen'l Pass, Ag

Detroit & Cleveland Steam Nav. Co.

Because it is the only paper in America that advocates American rule in the United Because AMERICA gives each week or ten cents the equivalent of the contents of a thirty-five cent monthly.

Because AMERICA has a larger corps of distinguished contributors than any paper

In this country.

Because it prints each week stories, essays, poems and miscellaneous articles from such authors as these:

FENATOR ALLISON, SENATOR CULLOM, SENATOR MINCHELL, SENATOR TELLER, SENATOR MINCHELL, SENATOR TELLER, SENATOR STEWARD, SENATOR STEWARD, SENATOR STEWARD, SENATOR STEWARD, SENATOR STEWARD, Hon. Loweller, SETH LOW. Hon. A. D. WHITE, SETH LOW. HON. A. D. WHITE, SELLA W. WILCOX, BUSHOP COXE, HONJAWES D. WARNER, JAMES W. RILEY, FRANK R. STOCKTON, EDGAR FAWGETT, J. T. TROWREIDGE, EDGAR SALITUS, BOBERT GRANT, JULIAN HAWTHORNE, W. OLAKE RUSSELL, And scores of others qually famous.

THE AMERICAN PUBLISHING CO., 120-28 MONROE STREET, CHICAGO.

FOR SALE

nve several piscos of good property h Wes ale on very seay terms. A dwelling on Nor f, nine rosens, excellent cellar, detern, we sto, very desirable. The property now on shed, st., war desirable. The property now cupied by the Wayne County Beriew. The lost west of the Eavisw office. The first for west of the Eavisw office. The first lost of the Eavisw of Plymouth National Bank.

T. C. SHERWOOD, L. D. SHEARER, President. Vice Presid

T. C. Sherwood, L. D. Shaarer, L. C. Hough, E. F. St. John, O. R. Pattengell, Milliam Geer, L. N. Starkwesther, S. J. Springer, L. N. Blanett, Alfred D. Lyndon.

Three per cent. interest paid on demand

Latest - Newspapers, and Periodicals, Pocket Librarys,

At the Postoffice News Depot, PLYMOUTH

IN MICHIGAN.

As well as the Handsome can get a

INSPECT OUR WORK

Second to None in Excellence!

We Defy Competition. We Guarantee Satisfaction.

TO MY OLD PATRONS!

 $oldsymbol{D.L.s.N.Elevator}$

And prepared to pay the Highest Market Price!

ALL KINDS OF PRODUCE,

Salt, Lime, Buffalo Cement.

Also, Agent for J. J. LANGDON'S CELEBRATED

BLACK DIAMOND COAL

DE. E. O. WEST'S NEWVE AND BEAUSTREATS, guaranteed specific for Hysteria, Diskinses, rulatons, Fits, Newyors Neuralgia, Heedacha. rous Frestration cansed by the use of alcohol acco, Wakefulness, Mental Depression, Soft of the Brisin resulting in insanity and leading the Brisin resulting in insanity and leading the services, Loss of power in either sex, Involutioness, and Spirmaters hash caused by over-ex-of price.

WE CURENTEE SIX BOXES

To ours any case. With each order received by us for six boxes, accompanied with $5.00, we will made the purchase our written guarantee to rading the money if the treatment does not effects cure. Guarantees issued only by O. A. Pincharg, Red Front Drug Store, Sele Agent, Flymonth Mich.

57

ertificates.

YOU . WILL . FIND!

Books, Stationery, Etc.,

Subscriptions taken for any Publication.

Paralle Agenia for the Parisian Steam Laundry, of W. J. BURBOW, Proprietor, The Homliest Person!

FINE PORTRAIT!

And you will be convinced that it is

We Invite Criticism.

Gibson & Brown,

PLYMOUTH, - MICH.,

Portland Cement, Calcined Plaster, and Hair,

BOTTOM PRICES.

The Best Coal ever Divings to a cal and I was a sale as I sold last year. Give me a cal and I was a reason.

B. POOLE.

The Plymouth Mail

WESTINGHOUSE, he hir-braker, will build a $1,000,000 house near Lennox. Mass.

MRS. HASTINGS, a missionary Ceylon, is a sister of Presiden Cleveand

A subscription is being raised in Paris for a sword of honor to be preionted to Gen. Boulanger.

MORRISON R. WAITE, who graduates at Yale this year, is a grandson, and not a son, of the late Chief Justica

THE faculty of the University of Tennessee has been reorganized under the Presidency of Dr. C. W. Dabney.

SIR DONALD SMITH of Montreal owns a painting by Jules Breton worth $45,000, and a piano which cost $27.

SENATOR FAIR, despite the reverses be has met with in recent years, is esumated to have a fortune of $20,000, -

A PORTRAIT of Gen. Sheridan; by Mrs. Darragh is on exhibition in Philadelphia. It is a gift of Mr. Childs to West Point

GEN. DANIEL E, SICKELS has been in Washington urging Congress to vote $25,000 for building barracks on the Gettysburg battle-field.

CHRISTIAN K. Ross, the father of the lost Charlie Ross, has been reappointed Master Warden for the port of Philadelphia for thrue years.

THE Grand Duke Alexis, brother of the Czar, is said to be able to drink more champagne than any other European Prince, even in Russia.

THERE is talk in England about celebrating the two hundreth anniversary of the birthday of Pope, with a festival in his honor at Twickenham.

PRESIDENT DWIGHT, of Yale, in 1870 said the college would need $1,-000,000 within the next ten years. In fifteen years Yale has received $2,500-000.

THE full name of the new Emperor William IL of Germany, is Frederick William Nicholas Charles. He is in his thirtleth year and has four chil-

THE beirs of the late Sir Joseph Whitworth will give to the city of Manchester, England, $675,000,000 for a Whitworth Institute of Art and In-

PAUL FECHTER, a son of the actor, was fencing with his brother-in-law. and the button of his antagonist's foil chanced to be forced into his eye through to the brain, killing him.

Ex-PRESIDENT HAYES will deliver the annual address at the National Prison Reform Convention in Boston July 14. Phillips Brooks is down for an address on the same occasion.

WILLIAM A. SMITH, who died a few days ago in Richmond. Va., enjoyed a unique distinction. He resigned a seat in Congress because he did not think he had sense edough to properly represent his constituents.

DE McCosn is preparing a set of lectures on "Fundamental Proof." which he intends to deliver to the graduate students of Princeton next Penobscot and then to the White Mountains.

THE late Emperor Frederick wrote a book, entitled "My Journey to the Orient," in 1876, as a result of his visit to Egypt. Only forty copies were published, and these were sent, with the Imperial author's autograph, to personal friends,

M. CLEMENCHAU and General . Boulanger recently met by accident at the dinner table of a lady who is a friend of both. They sat one at each side of their host, and to avoid seeing each other so as to compel a salutation which would have been distasteful to both, they sat with their backs toward

ELDER T. W. EVANS, the great Shaker, in celebrating his eightieth birthday, says that he will live ten years more, and will in that time see his theories realized—to wit: State own erable of land, the holding of public office by calibates alone, equal suffrage and the ownership and aducation of children by the State

OLD UNCLE DAN:

Away from Shot and Shall Story of Hampton Boads

T the mouth of a little creek on the scal-loped shore of Hamp-ton Roads near New-port News, Va., early in the spring of 1862, there stood a little shanty which was occupied by a family of negroes. They had left slavery and a plantation near the mouth of the James, when the steel-crowned steel-crowned columns of McClelland's army had reached this region.

The family was composed of Old Uncle Dan, the grandfather, Cato, a very black and lusty fellow, his son, with Nutty Cato's wife, and two pickanninies, on which it seemed that charcoal would have left alight mark, but they had gues as his as seemed that charcoal would have left a light mark, but they had eyes as hig as buckeyes and as white as this paper, except the pupils which were as black as ink.

Uncle Dan, to use his own remark on the subject, was "gittin" monst'oue nigh de stoppin place." His kinky hair and beard were as white as that of his old misster, who was a blue-blood from the F. F. V's. (It is: strange that an old black man can raise a white beard. Where does it come from!) The old man leaned heavily on his hig hickory stick, too, when he walked. Indeed he almost tottered, for he had tickled the soil of old Virginia with his hoo for more summers than he could remember and had seen harvests come and go until, in the eye of his remembrance they spun around and blended like the spokes of a rapidly-turning wheel

Cato and Natty had other children; one was a girl of fourteen, who had gone far South with the family as the waiting maid of her young mistress, and the other was Luke, a son of sixteen. Luke had become Luke, a son of sixteen. Luke had become the servant of an officer in the Eleventh New York Zouaves, then in camp on the hill above the shanty at Camp Butler, and he was as happy as young darkies nearly always are. He was a smart, bright boyand was what a negro-trader would have called "a likely nigger feller"—and although he could sing the folk-songs of his race in a rich and meiodious tenor, of minor key and catch and meiodious tenor, of minor key and catch time time? "In a manner that ded could "pat juba" in a manner that de lighted all who saw him in such per-formances, he had a yearning for Thook-larnin" and absorbed the alphabet quickly and soon learned to spell under the teaching of the Colonel's orderly, a handsome young fellow from the metropolis of the North.

fellow from the metropolis of the North.

It was a balmy spring morning in the region about the mouth of the James when the great frigates Congress and Cumberlandiay on the light ripples of Hampton Roads, laxily swinging to their anchors off Newport News. The sails were loose and flapping idly in the wind and the sailors lounged about the decks. There was allowed. most a Sabbath quiet among the camps of infantry on the shore, and the thunders of the great gins of the land batteries as well as those of the towering men-of-war were all asleep. Suddenly a black spot appeared in the mouth of the Elizabeth river, up which stream, a few miles, lay Norfolk and the famous navy yard. The black spot the famous navy yard. The black spot emitted a volume of smoke, and as it floated seaward it took, for a time, the appearance of a little island which had got loose. As it came nearer it grew formidable and was scon outlined as an immense iron-clad, floating battery. Soon it began to belch cannon balls and bursting shells, and thus showed that it carried fell destruction in its vitals. This fighting monster was the terrible Confederate ram, the Merrimae, and following her came a shower of wooden gun boats.

The Cumberland and Congress, towering frigates, which had been suttornate of the seas, now bristled for the fight, and rearing broadsides burst from their gans, and the land batteries grumbled in detonating thunder, but the measter came steadily and sullenly on, while the heavy shot bounded from her iron deck.

When all this began Aunt Natty was at a fire beside the shanty, boiling soap, Cato was mending a sein and Uncle Dan sat was mending a sein and Uncle Dan sat within doors crooning a rickety old plants-tion song.

The first roar of artillery and the nasty whine of shot in the air changed the aspect of matters about the cabin. Cato stopped the act of tying a knot and Natty droopped the stick with which she had been stir the stick with which she had been stirring the boiling scap-fat.

THE WARNING SHELL.

The plokaniantes quit their play in the sand and clung to mammy's petticoats, and old Dan busiled from his seat and limped to the door with the remark: "Dis yar ain't no good place to stay. Rompen moustons gwinter happen heah. Jis lissen at dem bung-abells a hissin' an' a bustin'."

Cato ran to his downt cance that law helf Cato ran to his dugout cance that lay half way shore on the sands. Nutty threw her oblidren into the narrow boat, and, while cato pushed with a pole at the stern and Nutty infeed at the bow, the old man scuffled along and took a place in the fwill craft, which was seen gliding along the shore, and in a few misutes the terrified family had run the little vessel around a point, out of range, and were secure from the hurting shot, having brought with them only their lives and the scunty clothing which they were.

Under cover of the shore the cancellation about the sands and run up to the cancellation and run up to the cancellation. Cato ran to his dugout cance that lay half side on which lay Fortress Monree, all time exemplifying the old saying: "Lit-tents should besy close to shore." he day was far spent when the little say was far spent when the little say has a small cove on western shows of Old Point Comfort. and there having tied the affair to a sap pling on the bank, they started on foot to-ward the fort to ask shelter and food, which they readily obtained as refugees from the battle, which, on this day, had been disas-trous to the blockeding squadron of the James. The Merrimon had by that time sunk the gallant Cumberland, which went down with nearly all on board, her guns rearing antil they were submerged, her col-ors flying at her peak the red flag of "No Surrender." The Congress was a wreek, and was floating the white flag, around which flames were playing, and her colors dragged in the water at her sinking stern. The St. Lawrence, Poanoke and Minnesota were aground, and at the mercy of the iron-clad monster, for the little Monitor was yet buffeting the storms of occan be-tween Fortress Mource and New York, though she arrived in time, toward the carly hours of morning, to save the other vessels from destruction and prove herself the mistress of these waters.

Best on which lay Fortress Monree, all

Cato and Nutry soon found a way to make themselves useful about the fortress and old Dan and the picaninnies had another, a better and s safer home. And Dan talked about the "biggitty gunboats" which came in and drove him "a'mos' pe'ahin' "from his home and he crooned his rickety songs, and picked at hock-bones with his barlow-knife until a fatal disease fastened itself upon him and quickly carried him to the "stoppin" place" which he had long been expecting to reach.

After is few months Cato made the way, with his family, to New York, where his willing heart and strong arms easily made a good living for many years for him and his.

During these years Luke had seen many changes. He joined a colored regiment as seen as black troops begen to be enlisted, and being learned for a darkey, he was made a sergeant. The surgicon of the regiment, a white man, of course, struck by Luke's sprightliness took a fancy to him and he was detailed as a member of the surgeon's corps.

The dector taught Luke the art of pulling teeth, putting on a bandage and numer-ous other accomplishments in primary surgery, gave him surgical books to read, called his assistance in many amputations and kindred operations, and altogether taught him much in surgery and the science of physics. After the war this surgeon or physics. After the war this surgeon, who was a wealthy man, paid Luke's tuiton at a medical college, and with his natural bend that way the colored student soon graduated with honor and became a full-fielded ht. D. especially inclined toward that branch of the physician's art—surgery, in which it is said that those who are the most surgessful are those who have the most successful are those who have the eyes of an eagle, the hands of a lady and the heart of a lion.

Having received his diploma, Luke began to cast about for a place to practice his pro-fession, and wisely settled upon New York City, as there, on account of the more coscaty, as there, on account of the more cosmopolitan character of the population, he would have less to antagonize in the way of race prejudice. There he settled and soon acquired a good practice, especially among the people of his own race. He had married in the meantime a sensible woman, an octoroon in blood, and as the years went on accumulated a fine fortune and lived in a handsome home.

One night he was callled into a squalid place in one of the poorest quarters of the city to see an old black man who was very near his end. The man was so far beyond earthly help that Dr. Luke at once saw that nothing could be done for him. He had been bed-ridden for many months, and thus his family had come to want. About the old man were his two daughters and his old wife, and while the Doctor waited the old man died. In order to make out a death certificate the dector took the dead man's

It was Cato Lightfoot. Astounded. Luke Lightfoot made other inquiries wept over the dead body of his own futtion, who with his family had suffered there, in the same city when his son lived in luxury and elegance, from disease and dire poverty which had brought him low. He made himself known to his mother and sisters who could hardly believe their own eyes, and after seeing the remains of his father prop-erly and decently interred, Luke took his mother to his own house, where she wan tenderly cared for all her other days, and sent his young sisters to a proper school for education and training. His mother when coming to the grand house in which her son lived wanted to go right into the britchen, as the parlors of the "big house" were too overwhelming for her, but by do grees the awe of the situation was over come and she is a happy old black mammy in Luke's home and sings songs of the old South to her children and children's children in a piping but still musical voice, in which is the pathos and tenderness of a mother in Israel. Will Viscosin.

The Alphabet of Gems.

Some one has got up an alphabet of recious stones as follows: Amethyst, taxyl, chrysoberyl, diamond, emeruid, taxyl, garnet, hysonib, idecuse, lyanite, garnet, hyadisth, idecuse, lyanite (more commonly cyanite, a blue mineral) lyan sapphire, milk-opal, marrishite, pyrope, quartz, ruby, sapphire, tops, tranite, ventianite (a species of re, xanthite, zivun &

Funeral Customs of An American Tribe of Indiaus -- Death Foreshad owed and Warded Off Mr. Frank La Fiesche, an Indian

who has for some years been employed in the Indian office, read an interesting paper before the Anthropological society Tuesday evening, says the Washington Star, on "Funeral Customs of the Omahas." "The approach of death," he said, "is believed to be foreshadowed in various ways, not only to the person himself, but by others, who, by reason of their supposed skill in seeing the coming of death, gain reputation as prophets. They either have visions, or pass through apparent death. The dreamer lies in the open air, in the midsummer, with the thunder rolling in the heavens, and listens for voices. These come to bim from animals, clouds, or merely the air. Such persons as can foresec death are eligible to membership in the 'Ghost society.'' One vision is that of a woman walking, but not on the ground, surrounded by a halo of brightness and always leaving a village or lodge. If one wear a placid, pleasing expression the death will be from natural causes, from accident or in war; but if the face is distorted it is an indication that the person will die while in a quarrel with another and the soul is full of bitterness. Those who foresee can always prevent death, and are often called upon to render this service. One method is pouring hot water at right angles to the path leading to the lodge; while another consists of occupying, with one whose death is foreseen, a sweat-lodge built by the latter, pronouncing certain incantations, and sprinkling the body of the client with the powder of the artemsia, supposed to be the food of the

"The howling of a dog is also a token of coming death, but is not so infallible as the spectacle of a dog mounting the side of an earth lodge and peering through the opening at the top. Then with trembling limbs, the warrors seated around the fire selze missiles, chase the dog and kill him to propitls to the ghosts. To see or hear the voices of dea d relatives is also a sign of approaching

"As soon as the person reaches the last moments of life those around begin to wail in voices that can be heard for two miles or more. This cry has sometimes been mistaken for a song or chaut, but it is merely a cry of deep anguish, interspersed with terms of relation. When the person is known to be dead those nearest related to h m strip themselves, with frenzied zeal of every article of ornament on their body, and even clip their bair. The young women only cut it a little, and the young men often not at all, but the elders of both sexes cut it short. The young men and women cut the flesh off the legs below the knees. With every fresh arrival the wailings begin anew. The relatives become exhausted by the wounds they inflicted on themselves and the constant crying long before the time of burial. As soon as death occurs the body is propped in a sitting position so that it may stiffen in that attitude and is dressed in gala costume. The face is painted first a deep red, and then a black line about the width of a finger is drawn acrose the forehead and down the cheeks, meeting another line drawn horizontally across the chin. thus forming a square.

"If the deceased be a member of one of the societies the organization takes entire charge of the funeral. It is carried to the lodge of the society and is placed at one end in the position of a host, painted and dressed as in life. Members of the society call the deceased brother. One of the most impressive of all the customs of the Omahas occurs at this time, while the body is lying in state. The young men, anxious to do homage and pay respect to the memory of the dead, gather in the village, strip themselves to the breechcloth, and cut in the right arm a slit in the skin between the elbow and the shoulder. Willow twigs bearing leaves are then thrust through this slip of the skin, with the foliage hanging down. The wound is kept open and the blood trinkles down and spatters the leaves. The young men then march in silence to the lodge containing the body, and, standing in a line across the entrance, sing. This is the only funeral song of the Omahas. and has been sung in the same way for YORTS."

Mr. La Flesche then asked a young Omaha Indian in the audience to come forward. He did so, bringing with him four short paddles of willow wood, two of which he gave to the lecturer. The two Indians then began the funeral song, or chank which ounded weirdly amid the ings of civilization. There words audible, simply a nasal drone or wail that rose and fell in accented cadence much as the wind sounds through the wires at night. The younger Indian closed his eyes and threw back his head in native unction, but the lecturer sang without movement. Both kept time with the movement of the chant by beating the paddles together at regular intervals.

"At the close of the song," continued Mr. La Flesche, 'the chief mourner emerges from the lodge and all sound dies away. The mourner passes down the line, saluting each of the visitors. Then, passing back, he pulls from the arm of each the bloody twig. which he casts aside. The company of young men is then presented with a horse, which is usually given back to the family after the funeral.

The Agents Were Amusing for Once.

An Allegheny matron smiles whenever any one mentions agent in her presence, and recounts with pleasure how she got even with two of the itinorants last week. She had sent her maid out, and was taking a siesta on the couch in her sewing-room, when a ring at the bell aroused her. She answered it and a female stalked in, and seating herself, announced that she was sole agent for the greatest; furniture polish in the world, guaranteed to remove any stain or scratch from any piece of wood, to renew the finish and make defaced pieces as good as new. The lady of the house pointed to a terribly rubbed piano, and the peddler of the patent goods was at once down on her knees rubbing away for dear life. Her face got red, she rubbed up, down, across and round in a circle, but the polish did not return. Exhausted, she seated herself and began to get real cool, when another ring at the bell interrupted the flow of conversation. This time it was a book agent, who sold only on subscription, the very latest cook book. With malice afore-thought the matron declined to purchase, but set the book agent on the furniture polish vender. Not allowing an interruption, the former began a recitation of the virtues of the book. Whenever the latter tried to interject a word into the conversation, she went at it with renewed energy and talked the curl out of the polish woman's bair. Seeing no chance to get in a word, the attacked female took from her handbag a bottle of polish and held it up. The effect was electrical. That book agent's face showed her discomfiture, and without another word she rose and made for the door. She was followed by the other, and the lady of that house vowed that she had not enjoyed herself so much for a month, and that she forgives them for spoiling her after lunch nap. -Toledo Biad 2.

The New York Swell at Home. ..Where do you suppose that fellow lives?' said a man about town yesterday to a real-estate broker, pointing to a faultlessly-dressed man who sat opposite in a street car.

"He looks as if he might live in bachelor apartments at a good club or at a first-rate hotel," was the answer.

"Well he doesn't live at any such place. See he's going to get off here. Let's follow him up." The suggestion was accepted and ten minutes later the subject of the conversation was seen to enter a door leading to rooms above an humble grocery in Fourth Avenue.

"How did you know where he lived?" "I didn't know exactly, but I knew he was hard up and I learned his babits years ago. He lives up to his income and sometimes a little above it. When he is hard up he economizes by and pay respect to the dead, bringing taking cheap lodgings. Fourth Areoffice and singing the favorite songs of Broadway and the fashionable quarter, and rooms over here are not expensive. There are some snug old-fashioned flats in Fourth Avenue, occupied by a sort of people you'd hardly expect to find here. The genuine Tichborns claimant lived in modest quarters on Fourth Avenue for a long time when he was hard up."

"And do many really fashionable men have lodgings here?

"I don't know that; but New York is so big that a man may lodge almost anywhere and his friends be none the wiser. You'd be surprised at the lodgings of some men who belong to swell clubs, dress well, and know the sons of millionaires. A hall room costs from $2 to $4 a week, and when a frequent diner-out gets his lodgings down to that figure the problem of living is almost solved. Poor men who wish to shine among swells must economize somewhere, and that's the point at which most of them begin .- New York Telegram.

Champagne documents—yellow labels.

Mickey Finn's Raft.

Rain had been falling steadly for more than a week. Sometimes it came down in sheets, and again it fell in a slbw drizzling mist which gave a depressed look to the landscape. The trees in Lindsley's wood dripped rain and the two streams which fed Brown's pond were changed from trickling silver rivulets into roaring, muddy torrents, tearing madly along between their banks.

Mickey Fint's tame crow refused to go out of doors, even when urged to do so by Mrs. Finn's broom, but sat moping and croaking hoarsely under the the stove. The three little yellow goslings peeped plaintively and hid under the doorstop, but the belligerent billy spoat came out of his barrel and stood in the rain, as though in defiance of the elements. Mrs. Finn remarked one day that she hoped he would get the 'new monya," which remark her son thought uncalled for and unneceswarily severe. Whether the flood at Cooney Island saggested it, or whether it was a delibas well as profane history into the rainds of his pupils, is a matter of no importance. At any rate Mr. Flaherty, the nompous and superficial teacher of the little red school house under the hill, read the story of the deluge to his one afternoon, among whom was Mickey Finn.

Little Mike was profoundly impressed with the story. As he was an im-aginative bor, he lay in his little trun-dle bed at night listening to the patter of the rain upon the roof, and saw in fancy that great ungainly ark floating appoint he waters. He pictured to him-helf Shem. Ham and Japhet peering anx ously out of the windows in search of the land, and to the ears of his fan-cy came the bleating of a namy goat and the lowing of a cow.

It happened that the teacher said nothing to his scholars about the bow set in the heaven as a sign that there should be no more flood, and so Mickey reasoning that the earth and especially Cooney Island, was to be inundated, began to think about some means of deliverance. So troubled did he become over the momentus question that his mother not ced his abstrac-tion. She feared that her boy was go-ing to be ill. Still the thought of how to save his mother and father and the animals from the threatened destruction stuck to him like a burdock. At last, after hearing from Jack Doolan some incidents in the adventurous life of Robinson Crusoe, an idea came to him. He would build a

"I can make it out o' the rails in th' Stumpy Field lince." said he to himself. The dea tickled him so much that he began dancing a jig in his mother's newly-scrubbed kitchen, and she boxed his ears and sent him down cellar to chen some wood. down cellar to chop some wood. Here he confided his scheme to the namy goat with an admonitory shake of the head that she was not to tell "any wan, not even th' billy." He would be sure to save her and the three goslings, but the crow could take care of himself, bekase he had

Mickey decided to keep his scheme a profound secret from everyone; not even Jack Doolan was to know it until the raft had been completed and the flood began to come in at the kitchen door.

Although little Mike was possessed of more of the resources of civilization than fell to the lot of Mr. Noah, the ark builder, still be was hampered by the necessity for secrecy. And so three days passed before the raft was finished. Mickey mesured the raft with a top cord and found it to be two cubits in length and one cubit and a span in width, al-though he did not figure according to Hebrew methods.

So pleased was Mickey with the sucby the most herculean efforts that he restrained the secret within his bosom. There were his parents, unconscious of coming danger, and he had the means of saving them from a terrible fate. The only relief he had was dailt communion with the billy goat.

"Now billy," he would say, "ye
"endo" to be afeerd. Faix, thare's room on th' rait fur you an' yer wife. If ye'll only kape still an not be buckin' ye'll not be drowned like thim other billy goats."

At last the day memorable in the annals of Cooney Island came. The dawn was murky and gloomy. Little Mike arose with the sun and dropped softly but of the window. He was about to test the raft to see if it was pond-worthy. He first took the billy down to the pond and tied him to a bush. The name followed. The gos-lings were safely stowed away in the boy's pockets, where they kept up an unavailing peeping against the close confinement. The dog went along without any urging. The billy, the name any urging. The billy, the name, and the dog each had a corner of the raft to itself, while the goslings were granted the freedom of the deck. The raft was propelled by a language. The raft was propelled by a long pole. Out into the muddy waters of the pond Mickey urged the raft, while the crow dew around in wide circles overhead. The rait floated and behaved beautifulty. It rode the troubled waters like Mrs. McGee's drake. The floating domestic menagerie was getting along swimmingly until that according gossip. Mrs. Murphy, looked out of the kitchen window and naw the raft.

She uttered a yell of terror and ex-

God save us! there's that larrup Mickey Finn floatin' around on a big boord wid goats an' dogs; an' phwat's thim little yaller things on th' boord? Musha, but there's goslings! Run, Paddy, an' tell his mother."

In less than five minutes all the residents of the island were on the margin of the pond, including the elder Finns. Mrs. Finn was in a paroxism of fear lest her son should be drowned, while her husband contented himself with brandishing a stout hickory stick in Mickey's direction and threatened to direction and threatened to use it if he did not "stheer th' boat

In the meantime the sluice gate of the pond had been lifted in order to relieve the dam of too much pressure. The raft swung around into the current made by the sucking sluice gate. The dog began to how and tug at his cord. The goslings ran hither and thither upon the raft, and their feeble peeping wrung Mrs. Finn's heart with

'Ah! werra, werra! me goslin's'll go down th' mill race!

All the time Mickey was working with all his might with the pole, and at last succeeded in getting the raft out of the current. Encouraged by his mother's pleadings, and frightened by his father's threats, he poled the raft toward the shore on which his parents were standing. The water was full-ing rapidly, and the raft caught upon a post. Before little Mike could re-lease h s ark from its precarious position it began to east alarmingly. dog became alarmed, and breaking loose, sought refuge near the billy. This old veteran, who, through all the excitement had preserved his equanimity resented the dog's intrus on on his territory and bowled him into the pond. This roused Mrs. Finn to a paroxysm of rage. She shook her fist in the direction of the billy and shout-ed hoarsel. while the rain beat down on her unprotected head;

"Wait till ye come ashore, me laddy buck, wid yer wicked horns! Wou't I lix ye, though! Won't I bate your head in wid me fist!"

By this time a clothes line had been procured and the raft showed signs of breaking up.

Mr. Finn was becoming alarmed for the safet of his boy, and he cried out, as he whirled the clothes line around

"Now, Mickey, grab hold 'o this au' we'll pull ye ashore. Niver moind th' anim ls! But our hero was made of more hor oc stuff than to desert his mena-gerie. He tied the rope around the namy's body and she was drawn by a dozen willing bands, kicking and splashing through the water. Here the rope flew through the air again and little Mike proceeded to lasso the billy.

But Mr. N. persuaded his brother-inrope flew through the air again and little Mike proceeded to lasso the billy. To this the billy had pronounced objections. Despite his struggles, however, the rope was secured around his horns, and with a "heave ho altogethhorns, and with a "heave he altogether!" the angered animal was jerked iner!" the angered animal was jerzed into the water and towed ignominiously ashore. He landed dripping, but mad as a hornet. The crowd parted retooms the house contained, and the wapons handy. The second and back as a hornet. The crowd parted respectfully to let him go through, but Mrs. Finn, forgetful of her usual caution, ran up to the goat and shook her the middle of it stood a large kettle somewhat like those used now for boilwas a cry of alarm from the crowd, a commingling of laughter and cries ofterror, a glimpse of flying skirts and a rampant object with wavery horns and a dripping beard. Then the skirts disappeared over the hill, and the "divil wid wicked horns" faded away into a dim speck against the eastern horrizon in grim pursuit. pursuit

Mickey put the goslings in his pock-et, secured a board from the raft, which was fast breaking up, and swam ashore. His father received him warmly. In fact, so hearty and unrestrained was his welcome that Mr. Finn's horny hand were stung by the force of his punishment. There was a time when Mickey would have cried at such treatment from the hands of his father, but that time had now gone by. Secure in the rectitude of his own motives he bore this little misunder-standing with fortitude and wended bis way homeward. He found the door closed and the billy standing guard. After securing this intractable animal the kitchen door was opened by his mother. Little Mike then hung his wet clothing before the fire they found that the charges of both to dry. As the steam began to rise had been drawn and the revolver was to dry. As the steam began to rise from the wet garments there were signs of animation in the trousers, the from pockets bulged, and a plaintive peeping arose in the kitchen. Mickey raisad himself in his trundle bed—he had only one suit of clothes—and listened. Then he jumped to his feet and ran into the kitchen wrapped in a quilt

"Faix," said he, with a quiet grin,
"I forgot t' take the yaller goslin's out o' me pockets!" out o'

His Defective Memory.

A small boy is rather slow in committing prayer to memory, and requires a good deal of prompting. The other night he began in his regular

"Now-1-lay me"-and there he stuck fast.
"Down"—said his mother prompt ing. Whereupon Johnny set off with great alacrity and fluency-Whereupon Johnny set off again "Down came a blackbird and nipped off her nose! This fable teaches that the prefereace of the present generation for sec-ular over sacred literature begins at an early age .- Boston Transcript.

Why tell fire alarm bells when a good man

! A HAUNTED HOUSE

trange Fights Beheld by Two Ven turnome Texans-A Ghastly Voodoe +acrifica A Sartartia (Tex.), correspondent of

be St Louis Globe-Democrat says: Jpon the country road leading from his place to Richmond, the county seat, is an old deserted house that bears be reputation of being baunted, and in consequence is avoided by the colored people at night, and is only passed in broad daylight when company is to be and. The house presents a most desoate appearance with its shutterless windows and ruined chimney. It is a within one hundred feet of this house. All around is as bare as if fire had laid waste, but outside this barren circle in mense oaks and lofty elms stand ike giant sentinels draped in the gray noss that adds, with its funeral hang-Various extravarent stories and Various extravagant stories are in irculation regarding this haunted iouse, but no one has possessed any mourate knowledge of its history and mystery. The oldest inhabitants in mystery. The oldest inhabitants in the county say that thirty years ago he place looked very much the same is it does now. Indeed, decayed and uined as it is it seems as if time has to power to demolish it. That it has been left as a monument of a frightful rime was proved by the sights wit-nessed within it a few nights ago by two well-known farmers of this neighborhood. One of these gentlemen was rding along the road which runs about two hundred yards from this house, when his horse suddenly shied and all but threw him. The animal was his ordinary saddle horse, and had gever been known to do such a thing pefore, so Mr. N. concluded that some small insect had bitten him, for the moon, shining brightly, showed that there was no one near, at least in the most unnatural manner, and about the Whether the gentleman would have tarried to investigate the matter alone. had not his horse decided in the nega-tive, will never be known, for the saguns, a revolver, and plenty of candles, the two departed. On reaching the had been there long before there was tuch a thing as a sugar mill in the country. This kettle was red with rust, road. The large trees and undergrowth on both sides, however, prewented him from seeing any great dis-tance to the right or left. The borse refused to stir, and on being struck with the whip restred up and then be-gan to whinny, as if in fright. Mr. A.

now decided to alight, and was about to do so when something ran across the road, emerging from the under-brush on the left and darting in the lirection of the house. It was gone a human form, bent and twisted in a in a second, but Mr. A. saw that it and entirely empty.

The gentlemen, after a brief inspec-tion, returned to the front room. The windows were guiltless of glass and the butters, as I said before, were gone, to that the wind caused the candles to glare fitfully. An unnatural silence reigned, which Mr. A. found so oppressive that he proposed a game of cards to his campanion, who consented. They played about an hour, when a st fling odor, like the fumes of sulphur, filled the room, and a hand, long, hairy, and gnarled, with cruel, hooked fingers, made a clutch at the cards and flung them to the floor. The hand alone was visible. All about and berond the wrist was curling smoke. The men sprang to their feet and Mr. A. made an attempt to seize the hand, but had been drawn, and the revolver wa dripping wet, though all three weapthe game of cards. The interior of the room was dimly but sufficiently lighted by the candles to show them every object in it, and the sulphurous smell was unaccompanied by any smoke. While they gazed uneasily at each other the bouse was violently shaken and cries of exultation, terror, and pain broke out from every part of it, making a horrid medley. There was a sound of horrid medley. There was a sound of running, naked feet in the back room, and the two men made a rush for it. The crazy door between the two spartments was slammed loudly as they passed through. They found the room illuminated with an unearthly, yellowish light, which, curiously enough, appeared to emanate from the old kettle. which, upon being approached, was found to be filled with a simmerlog. transparent mass, evidently hot, sithough there was no fire beneath the kettle. While they looked the sound of the naked feet firing about the room

was still heard, and presently the gen-tleman perceived a child of a delicata, hair fell about the face, the eyes of which were gleaming like coals, and fixed with an indescribably greedy look on the child. The two men found themselves held fast in an icy chain of terror, unable to interfere in the horrible scene that enamed.

The child was overtaken by the monster, and with incredible quickness was dismembered and the various portions of its body thrown into the quivering mess in the kettle, which, as it received the parts, bubbled and worked as if alive. The hideous being are the floor, and stamped its bare foot on the floor, and instantly a stream of colored people entered. Each face had that dull. dead absence of color seen only in the face of a dead colored man, but their eyes glowed with an unholy fire. After performing a frantic dance they closed bout the kettle, and the woman-fiend that presided over it produced a skull from some part of her strange dress, and, dipping it into the bubbling con-tents of the vessel, gave them one after another a long drink from it. As each received he portion a sort of costacy seized him, and, falling upon the floor, rolled and twisted, uttering sharp, short yelps like a dog going mad. When all had drank, the distributor included, she sprang into the kettle and laid her body in the contents. Her head she would dip down into the mess repeatedly, until her un-kept har stood out in stiffnened, separate strands. This singular bath en-joyed for some time the creature leaped from it with amazing agility and proceeded to take a promenade over the prostrate bodies of the colored men, who had grown quiet. Faster and faster this walk grew until it became a dance. Suddenly, with a shriek, the colored men sprang up and the room became filled with their whirling dabolical figures.

Mr. A. says at this point he recovered himself and his blood resumed its interrupted flow. Stepping forward he cried aloud: "In the name of God!" and found himself instantly in the dark. Directed by the lights in the next room he had his companion groped their way to the door. The front room was just as they had left it, but the candles had nearly burned and found himself instantly down. Not even stopping to put these out they seized their weapons and went home. Your correspondent called on these gentlemen the next day, and, though undisguisedly shuddering at the re-membrance of their horrable experience, they related what I write. Being asked his opinion of the meaning of the dreadful sights he had seen Mr. N-roplied that he could only say that they recalled an old story told him by his father who was one of the garliest settlers in the country. It was to the effect that voodooism and its un-holy rights had been practiced by some colored people in the neighbor-hood just about the period when a little child of one of the pioneers had disappeared. It was thought at the time that it had strayed off into the canebrake and there had faller a prey to the panthers, which were very numerous and ferocious. 'Pie child's bones, white and clean, having been found in the brake, confirmed this belief. A party of gentlemen is now being made up to visit the accursed house and to demolish it.

In a German Crash.

An American woman who attended the funeral of the German Emperor in company with her son, a lad of 11, says: "It was a shockingly managed affair. We came near being crushed to death. I was hustled one way, my boy another. For hours I was frantic in the crowd, without being able to stir hand or foot. A gentleman had the boy with him, but the excitement of the mob was so great I feared he couldn't hold him. Women were killed; one old lady was walked right over; a horse was thrown down and trampled on; one man put his hand up to reach for a cane a friend was trying to hand him, and he couldn't get his arm down again for apward of an hour. We saw all the pageant and came out safely, but we waited from 5 until 8 a. m. for it to begin; then came the rashing and crushing. At 10 o clock the soldiers and police led the detach ment pass to which we belonged. At 10:30 we entered the dome, and the aight we saw was some compensation for the trials we endured, but nothing ho risk I never would attempt such a thing again. A German crowd is not ill-naturned expression, but a man would trample on his mother if she were in vay. The number wounded and killed was great, but there was not a word about them in the German papers; all reports of the sort were suppressed."—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

From Mnd Baths to Snicide. When it comes to genuine cures, Las Vegas, N. M., can show up some tall stories. Most of the cures are effected by mad baths, which are a novel feature. The patient is plastered over from head to foot with extremely hot mnd, made by mixing prairie loam with the hot mineral water. The nose, mouth, eyes and ears are left uncover-ed. He is then placed in a tub of the mnd and left there half an hour, after which his dirty coating is scraped off. A shower bath of hot water follows, then a plunge in a tank of it; after wh ch comes the massage by a professional; half an hour's siestatient sleeping wrapped in a sheet, in a room the temperature of which is lamar perceived a child of a delicata, fair appearance running round and round the kettle, pursued by the strange object which had frightened Mr. R's horse the night betwee. This creature had almost lost all resemblance to a human being but possessed the feetures of a woman. Long, light shont 98 degrees—and after this another rubbing. It rheumatism survives this treatment long, the patient's only hope for relief lies in suicide.—Allanta Constitution.

A Remisciple Iwere so.

Mr. David T. Day, chief of the division of mising statistics, has submitted a summary of the mineral products of the United States in 1887, in advance of the Official report. The total value is $538,056,345. It shows a wonderful gain over 1886 and is $100,000,000 greater than the output of 1885. The United States leads the world in the production of minerals. The principal gains in 1887 were minerals. The principal gains in 1887 were in the production of metallic ores and the fuels necessary for melting them. The proin the production of metallic ores and the fuels necessary for melting them. The piroduction of pig iron alone increased more than $26,000,000. The high price of copper caused a notable expansion in that industry. The product of coal is the largest ever recorded. Taken as a whole the report shows great prosperity for the mining industry. The grand total value of more than half a billion dollars, the report says, resulted not only from an increase in the quantity of minerals but also from a general advance in the prices of metals. It may be several years before this total is exceeded, and the year 1888 will fall considerably below it. Among many reasons for the decrease this year is the decline in railroad building.

A Bomb Maker Arrested.

A gunsmith named Rudolph Sevic was arrested in Chicago the other morning, and is now in prison under bonds of $1,000. charged with having furnished dynamics to the conspirators was intended to as assist the conspirators was intended to as-assi nate Judges Gary and Grinnell and Inspec-tor Bondard for Bonfield.

Inspeator Bonfield also captured several infernal machines. Bonfield will not say whether or not these machines were found in Sevic's house. Bonfield says there is no doubt of Sevic's connection with the conspirators. The identity of the dynamite itself proves that. Then Sevic is a friend and countryman of Hronok, Chaptek and Chieboun. One of the bombs might have killed 50 men. "Indictinents have been found against all of the men now under arrest.

Simply a Dumping Ground.

Paul Wolff, Washington correspondent of the New York Statts Zeitung, testified before the congressional immigration com mittee that he discovered years ago that societies in Germany and Bayaria were sending discharged convicts to this country. In 1853 there were sent 37 of these convicts, and witness knew of several cases as late as 1887. Mr. Wolff added that the class of as 1887. as 1887. Mr. Wolff added that the class of immigration from Germany is much better than in former years. Farmers with money are coming, and they go west to improve farms. In the opinion of the witness the emigration frem southern Europe is generally of a forcod character or induced by false representations.

To Work a Mexican Mine

A company has been formed in Pittsburg, with a capital stock of $1,000,000,000, the object being to open a tim mine in Mexico, near Durango. An expert who assayed the ore says it will yield from 25 to 35 percent of tin, which is the largest in the world. The distributing point will be El Paso, and from there pig tin will be shipped to New York. A number of factories will be started soon to manufacture tin, and it is believed the preduct from England, which amounted to $24,000,000 last year, will be shut out entirely after the different works are started.

Death of Dr. W. S. Pierce.

Death of Dr. W. S. Pierce.

Dr. Winslow S. Pierce diel at his residence in Brooklyn, recently, aged 69 years. He was twice the brother-in-law to the late Vice-President Hendricks, and was the life long friend of Stephen A. Douglass. He was a cousin of President Principles was a cousin of President Principles the Prescotts and Bunegaits. He went to California in 1840. Roturning to Induna in 1855 he married a sister of Mr. Hendricks. Some years after her death he married another sister in 1867. The latter died a few months ago. months ago.

Several Men Killed.

Several Men Killed.

The Rock Glycerine Co.'s factory, two miles south of Lima, Ohio, was set on fire July 30 and soon after was reduced to splinters. Eight thousand pounds of nitroglycerine exploded, tearing up the earth for several hundred feet to the depth of from fifteen to twenty feet.

Two or three tramps were in that vicinity just before the explosion and as a number of pieces of fiesh were afterwards found in the vicinity of the wrecked building it is supposed they were killed.

Wisconsin Labor Party.

Wisconsi Labor Party.
The state convention of the Union Labor party in session at Oshkosh, Wis., adopted a resolution requiring all candidates to pledge themselves in writing to support the party platform and national labor candidates, although it nearly resulted in a row. Dr. Powell of Lacrosse, a former Indian scout, who once travelled with Buffalo Bill, and is known as White Beaver, was nominated for governor. The platform opposes fusion with either of the old parties.

Threatened Gladstone's Life.

Threatened Gladatone's Life.

A German named Clotten has been arrested for threatening to murder Mr. G.adatone. Clotten when questic-red by the police said he had sent the manuscript of a story to Mrs. Gladatone with the request that she result it. When he saked for the return of the copy he was told that thad been mislaid and could not be found. He then wrote the letter to Mr. Gladatone.

Mr. O'Connell, chief clerk of the New York court of common pleas, has ledged a complaint with the authorities in Dublin. detectives, and he asks to be relieved of this unwarrantable surveillance.

Gladstone's Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gladstone celebrated their golden wedding July 25. They were the recipients of hundreds of letters and telegrams congratulating them upon the event and also numerous presents in commemoration thereof.

Three Burned to Death.

A three-story boarding house in the coal mining village of Maynard, Belmont coun-ty, Ohio, was destroyed by fire at an early hour the other morning, and the proprietor and his sou and a boarder perished in the

A Modern Borela

Near Bentonia, Miss., the daughter of Dolph Miles poisoned her father and three brothers, all four of whom are dead. The mother was absent from home and thus escaped her portion of the poison.

To Hunt for Stanley.

Prof. Jamison, the naturalist, writes from Kasongo, on the Congo river, that he is pre-paring to leave with Maj. Bartellott, Tippoo Fib and 900 men to search for Henry M.

A Thousand Killed.

A volcanie eruption at Bandasian, 50 leagues from Yokohama, destroyed several villages and killed 1,000 persons. The eruption is still active.

Corsage plus in dull and Roman link pat-

MINOR MENTION

A Massachusetts quarrying company has socived a Government contract for supplying 5,300 headstones for the national com-

Grand Ranida, Mich. is the great furniture making center of the United States. It has forty-two furniture factories which employ

A Homing pigeon released at Liberty, Va-reached its home in West Philadelphia, a dis tance of 295% miles, within five hours and

In Belgium drunkenness is punished by elling the man or woman caught in this condition to sweep the streets for two hours after they get sober.

The monument to Moses Cleveland, founder of Cleveland, O., will be set up at that city next month. It consists of a life-eized bronze statue on a polished granite pedestal.

Miss Minnesloger, of Beaver, Pa. wants $10,000 from the estate of an invalid cousin, whom she nursed for eight years—and the wonder is that anybody should oppose her

William Dandy, free man of color down in Georgia, rests his hope of fame upon the fact that he can kill, pick and clean a chicken in the nicest possible way inside of thirty-three seconds.

A Georgia man has a mule that is driven to school of week days and to church on Sun-days, and he is so intelligent that if given the reins he will go straight to his destina-tion according to the day.

A St. Louis physician says that the quinine habit is gaining strength among the people every year, and that many cases of deafness are produced by overdoses of the drug and by the long-continued use of it.

Three statues of Roman art were discovered at Athens on May 29; one of the Emperor Hadrian, another of Antonius and the third amail Racchus. All three are well preseryed and of excellent workmanship.

In 1880 there were only 5,000 Jews in Jen maslem, now there are said to be 30,000. The ersecutions in Russia are said to have caused the greater part of this increase, and many are said to have come from Germany.

Ned Stallings, while hunting in Buffalo Gap, Tex. fell asleep under a tree. His companion took advantage of the nap to drop a horned toad on Stalling's face, which so en-raged the latter that he blazed away at the joker with his Winchester rifle, fortunately missing him.

The Seminole Indians are now repairing to Cow Creek, on the east of Lake Okeechobes Fig., for the purpose of having their annual dance, known as the green corn dance. It will commence about the last of this month and will continue through nearly the entire month of July

Catherine Crowell, of Lancaster, S. C., who married at the age of 16 years, died last week, aged 99, leaving 16 children, most of whom followed her early-marriage example. She left 156 grandchildren and other descendants, including six great-great-great-grandchildren, to the total number or 422.

Some of the handsomest old mansions in the country may be seen in Annapolia, Md., where they have stood with but little alterca-tion since the early colonial days. A few of the houses date back to the seventeenth century, but the more imposing of them were built just prior to the Revolution.

A farmer while driving along a country road near Sulphur, Springs, Tex., saw an old pot which had been washed up by the hard rain a few days before. Picking it up to examine it he was astonished to find it contained $18,000 in gold. The money is supposed have been hidden by guerillas in was times.

southwestern part of Madison county, Fig., that is a vertible bee hive, and from which large quantities of honey are taken throughout the year by merely cutting the comb and catching the liquid honey, which pours from it. The bees have sealed the interior of the house with comb.

John T. Andrews, of Knoxville, Ga, has a Panama hat that was worn by his father to the Georgia legislature, of which he was a member in 1840. The hat has been worn constantly for forty-eight years by the different members of the Andrew family, and yet is sound, there being no hole in it, and no breaks of any consequence.

A New York art dealer has invented a novel picture frame. It is of broad oak, with real iron, set across it from side to side. Imita tion hinges on one side and a very real look ing padlock on the other increase the resem-blance to the barred door of a cage. With picture of the head of a lion or other beast hind it the effect is very startling, if no strictly artistic seases the only tree in the place, with a large, strong limb at the proper distance from the ground, which he was in the babit of renting out to lynching parties at $5 per meeting The advent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, with their long telegraph ; ruined the industry completely and destroyed a valuable source of income to the owner

The Walker county (Ga.,) Messenger tells of a man finding a cave full of honey in that county. He noticed bees issuing from a hole in the ground and he began excavating the dirt and soon atruck honey in vast quantities. After much labor and fighting bees he succeeded in procuring several hundred pounds of hopey, and left a considerable amout of it on the ground. He is of e opinion that the cavern extends a long distance and that it is full of sweet stuff as far as it reaches

A big spider was placed on a rock in the center of an aquarinm in a recent experiment, and a larva of a mater beetle put near. The bettle promptly selzed the spider and pulled it into the water, but after a sharp patied it into the water, but after a sharp struggle the spider broke away and escaped. The beetle soon afterward renewed the at-tack, and fastened itself on the spider by its pinchers. The spider also not a good hold, and the duel resulted in the death of both. It is said that if two of the larve are placed in the same aquarium they will fight until one or the other is dead, and the victor will

HERE AND THERE

Goerge Gould shaves himself. New York is liouizing Mr. Oliphant. John Bright's health is on the mend. Lady Dudley sleeps in black silk sheets Mrs. J. H. Riddle, the novelist, is a native

Cardinal Gibbons resembles Heavy Clay in addearance.

The income of Oxford University for 1887

Fingerless kid gloves are the latest whim in feminine society. The British Order of Odd Fellows shows membership of 52,000. Gen. Sheridan fought seventy-five battles and was never defeated.

ed in a New York market.

passionately fond of music.

Porto Rico pineapples, nine pounds each, are $1 aplece in Eastern markets.

Grave & Gay have made a failure in the retail grocery business in Chicago.

There are said to be several churches in Illinois without a single male member.

A Florida railroad prospectus has rediscov ered Ponce de Leon's fountain of youth.

This year is the bi-centenary of Alexander Pope's birth. He was born on May 22, 1688. A bust of the late Matthew Arnold is to be placed in Poet's Corner, Westminster Abbey. The official report on Russia for 1885 shows that the population of the empire is 109,000,-

It is estimated that the girl who dances eighteen waltzes travels about fourteen

Gen. Lew. Wallace took his mother as the nodel for the noble mother of the hero of "Ben Hur."

Miss Bertha Von Hillern is at her studio, at Fisher's Hill, Va., where she will remain

Philadelphia will have twenty-seven thea ters when the two now in process of erection are completed

Epes Sergent wrote the song, "A Life on the Ocean Wave," but Henry Russell composed the music.

Gen. Lew. Wallace is an expert angler and took part in the recent fly-casting tournament of the fishermen of Indiana.

Robert Browning won't write for magazinea. A Boston periodical offered him $1,000 for a short poem, but he declined.

Lewis G. Clark, the "George Harris" "Uncle Tom's Cabin " is to be on exhibition at a Minneapolis museum. Dr. John Hall, of New York, has been pointed a member of the Board of Visitors to the Anopolis Naval Academy. The price of diamonds has fallen. It was over 22 shillings per carat in October, 1887, and it is now less than 18 shillings. Mesers. Munball and Towner, after a month's work in St. Paul, Minn. saw 2,000 persons publicly confess conversion.

Laurence Oliphant has published a new book dealing with "scientific religion." It is pronounced very daring and original. Louis Huller has bought $5,000,000 acres of Mexican hand on which he proposes to settle

German families fresh from Europe. Society papers are coming to use the terms woman and women in lieu of lady and ladies

-aa improvement all the way round. Dr. Richard Garnett, of the British Museum, is the author of a biography of Emerson, which is soon to appear in the "Great Writers Heroic treatment saved the Emporer A west side gentleman joined the Oxygen gas and hypodermic injections of cofficients. preserve the patient from syncope.

dock at Duluth, edjusted six receiving spouts, took on 52,000 hushels of wheat, and was off work, and not only blew him up every with her load in forty-nine minutes.

doctor in that city. It was her dying request lecture that she intended giving the no-

Dr. Theodore Gay, who attended ex. Vice less brute, and along about one o'clock, President Wheeler during his last illness, has the lady way in a mild way, furious. As presented a bill for about $14,800 Mr. Whest the clock struck three, she rose from er's executor has refused to pay the bill and her chair, threw a book at the cat, the matter will go to the courts.

A son of Browning is said to have replied some time ago to a New York artist, who saked him if he understood ha father's Ha would probably have never known poetry, "Some of it," and related that his father observed, after reading a passage in had not she aroused him and told him one of his rooms referred to him for expansion: "That passage certainly did have a meaning some years ago when I wrote it, but I have really forgotten now what it was."

I have really forgotten now what it was."

STRANGE FREAKS OF BABIES.

A Startling Mania Which Seems t Have Taken Hold of Little Ones. Within the past three months the police have reported a number of cases where children not over 13 years have either attempted or did kill themselves, says the Philadelphia Telegraph. Three of these cases resulted in death, and were subjects for a coroner's inquest. The evidence adduced before Coroner Ashbridge in these three cases has been carefully analyzed, and proves that a suicidal mania is now prevalent among children of tender years in this city.

A most remarkable circumstance connected with these inquests is the

A deep sea cel of twenty pounds is exhibited in a New York market.

Shoe soles of wire net, outlasting leather, it to 18 years. The last attempt occured a new idea in Germany.

The Queen of Denmark is very deaf, but year-old Florence McCielland, of 2526 passionstely fond of music. Mutter street, tried to take her life by awallowing a dose of laudanum. The little girl not only attempted to kill herself, but actually begged an elder sister to take her life at the same time, The elder sister, named Mamie, was instrumental in driving the thought of suicide from Florence's erratic mind.
The first attempt at suicide brought to the attention of the police occurred on March 9, when 12-year-old Annie Niblick, at 2911 E street, was found dead, hanging in a room at her home. She, prior to her death, was a play-mate of Florence McClelland. An inquest held before the coroner proved conclusively that the youngster had deliberately taken her life. The facts in this case as brought out by the cor-oner were to the effect that the girl had stolen a number of handkerchiefs, and being afraid of chastisement from her father, which was threatened if she did not return them to the owner, caused her to take her life. Not long after that Florence McClelland, atter that Florence modification as stated above, attempted suicide and left a note addressed to her mother, stating: "I am going to fain Ameia Wilblick." The swallowed 5 cents worth of laudanum, but the timely arrival of the stomach-pump saved her from death from death.

Only three days elapsed and then George Simon, aged 18 years, of 1905 Gerhardt street, was found hanging to a tree in the outskirts of the First ward by a policeman. An inquest was held, when it was shown that the lad was incorrigible, and had ended his life in preference to chastisement,

Two months passed by after the sui-cide of young Simon before 11-year-old Katle Kearney, of 2620 Hope street, was found dead hanging by a picture-cord to the wall in the third story of her home. She and a number of com-panions had introduced a new pastime called 'playing hanging,' which re-sulted in Katie's death on Saturday last. Coroner Ashbridge gave this death considerable attention, and thoroughly investigated it. The evidence adduced before him showed that Katie had no reason whatever to take her into no reason whatever to take her life, but was accidentally strangled while engaged in a pastime which she and her playmates had originated. A few hours later another little girl named Fitzgerald attempted to take her life at the rope's end, but was discovered in time to be cut down before death annual.

death ensued. In speaking of these deaths and exwhich is soon to appear in the "Great Writers Seriea."

Miss Julia Bryant, a daughter of William Cullen Bryant, who has been living in Paris since the death of her father, has returned to New York.

A monster frog swallowed a chicken at Ocoace, Ga., the other day, and seemed to be reliables the bits immensely when the owner. Oconee, Ga., the other day, and seemed to be reliabling the bite immensely when the owner killed him.

Ruskin dislikes foreign translators and not short Simon, no doult wanted to be a long ago wrote a letter telling a man who saked permission to translate his works to let them alone.

The smallest baby in Chicago was born a few days ago to Mrs. Danske, the wife of a teamster. The diminutive infant weighs sixteen ounces.

Miss Leoline Daniel, of Athens, La., while preparing for her wedding, became suddenly preparing for her wedding, became auddenly or allowed to read such nonsense, as the preparation of the hour she was to have it is liable to affect their minds and Russell Sage is the Director of three banks, and it is very seldom that he even misses a meeting. For each meeting that he attends he receives $10.

Heroic treatment.

to occasion several times to remain out The other day a steamer made fast to a was very much against this kind of time, but sat up for him on each oc-Baby, two years old, has heard pearl moment he entered the house. A few spoken of as "mother-of-pearl." One day she ran in with a piece in her hand, cry. ing: "Here's the mamma! Where's the was lodge night, and she immediate it was lodge night, and she immediate. A queer flower, which grows in Yucatan, the manito (little hand) of the guarumo. It is in the exact shape of the human hand, with fingers, thumb, nails and knuckles all part of the house, he quietly sneaked up stairs and went to bed. As the The Chicago Times says that his sweet evening wore on, the lady grow very heart's skull serves as a paper weight for a cross, and mentally rehersed the little that he (then a student) be given the skul ble Elk upon his return. Hour after hour crept by, and still no sign of the heartthe matter will go to the courts.

Went to bed, where she found the object of her wrath, innocently sleep-

DETROIT, LANSING & MORTHERN R. R. Time Table, Taking Effect July 15, 1968.

WEST. (STATIONS) EAST.  MEAST.

 MIA. M. D. M. D. M. D. Dep. Ar.  ...m. | p.m. | p.m. | p.m. |

 705 | 0 00 | 1 20 | 5 05 | Detroit ... | 11 25 | 3 45 | 9 40 | 10 40 |

 753 | 10 57 ... | 5 58 | Plymo | 11 02 | 2 55 | 8 52 | ... |

 848 | 13 02 | 2 5 5 6 68 | Howell ... | 10 6 | 1 86 | 7 53 | 9 11 |

 9 48 | 1 10 ... | 7 59 Trowbr's | 9 06 | 12 36 | 6 51 | ... |

 9 55 | 1 35 | 3 50 | 8 10 | Lansing | 9 00 | 12 30 | 6 25 | 8 10 10 25 2 03 4 20 8 37 GdLedge 8 30 12 03 5 58 7 45 11 10 4 52 9 30 L Odes a 7 53 5 13 7 13 12 10 5 45 10 20 G.Rapids 6 55 4 10 6 20

CONNECTIONS.

Detroit with railroads diverging.

Flynonth with Flint a Fers Marquette R'y.

South Lyon, with Toledo, Ann Arbor and Grand Trunk Eallway.

Chicago June. with Obicago and Grand Trunk

Trunk Bailway.

Chicago Junc. with Chicago and Uraning Railway.

Lansing, with Michigan Central R. E.

Lonia, with Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwanke R.

E., and Stanton Branch.

Howard City, with Grand Rapids and Indiana R. R.

Edmors, with Chicago, Baginaw & Canada B'y.

Big Bapids, with Grand Rapids & Indiana R. R. R.

Grand Rapids, with Chicago & West Michigan Crand Rapids, with Chicago & West Michigan Corollor, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

J. B. MULLIKEN, W. A. CARPENTER,

Gen'l Pass, Agt.

LESS THAN ONE CENT A DAY

Complete NEW Novels, besides Ease stokes, Poems, etc. Each number is a me in itself. One year's subscription NEARLY TWO THOUSAND PAGES of the choicest works of the best American authors, mong the Complete Noveliwhich have already appeared by the Complete Noveliwhich have already appeared. Best Made Man, "Man Defarge, "Binder," A Self-Made Man, "Kenyon's Wife, "Douglas Draw, "The Desertar," The Whistling Buoy," "Atchehor," "A Land of Love," "The Red Mountain lines," "Apple Seed and Brier Thora," "The Terracita Bust," "From the Rabks," "Cheek and Conntaracta Bust," "From the Rabks," "Cheek and Conntaracta Bust," to the Monthles "is but $300 a year. Sample copy sent a receint of 16 cents in stamps. Adverse in receits of 16 cents in stamps. Adverse LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, PHILADELPHIA.

Plymouth

YEAR

C. A. FRISBEE.

Lumber, Lath, : : Shingles, :

and Coal.

ent of Bough and Dre A complete assortment of Lumber, Hard and Soft Coal.

Prices as Low as the Market will allow.

Yard near F. & P. M. depot, Plymouth

TIME TO BUY!

Fertilizing Salt to sow on Wheat and Grass.

Grand Rapids and New York Plaster for Clover and Potato

Diamond and Homstead Phosphates for Oats and Corn. Etc.

Linseed Meal for Stock. Also. Flour, Feed, Corn, Oats. Grass Seed, Peas, Etc.

-At the-

F. & P. M. Elevator.

LIVERY.

SALE STABLE.

Ligs to let day or night at REASONABLE PRICES!

Orders left for draying immediately executed.

Anyone contemplating buying a Cutter or buggs should look over our stock of Carriages,

: Cutters, :

and Steighs.

Burnett & Robinson, PLYMOUTH, - MICH.

SEWING MACHINES cleaned and repaired. New parts furnished when required. J. H. STEEMS

Plymouth Mills,

We have just remodeled our mill, and are now prepared to furnish

FULL ROLLER PROCESS FLOUR.

Superior to Most and Second to None. Every Pound Warranted.

To be found at the stores of

C. A. Pinckney, Red Front Drug and Grocer Geo. A. Starkweather & Co., Dry Goods and Groceries, A. A. Tafft, Dry Goods and Groceries, Peter Gayde, Groceries and Crockery, H. Dohmstreich & Co., Dry Goods and Groceries. John L. Gale, Boots and Shoes. E. J. Bradner, Star Grocery. H. C. Bennett, Postoffice Grocery.

C. L. Wilcox,

DETROIT WHITE LEAD

WORKS MIXED PAINTS,

-AT THE-

STAR GROCER