PLANS COMPLETED FOR PLYMOUTH'S BIG CELEBRATION

COMMITTEES IN CHARGE ARE MAKING PLANS ON THE BIGGEST FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION PLYMOUTH EVER HAS HAD.

ONE OF THE FEATURES OF THE DAY WILL BE A MONSTER PATRIOTIC PARADE.

Under the auspices of the Plymouth Fire Department, the coming Fourth of July celebration and homecoming for soldiers promises to be the biggest and best that has ever been pulled off in the old town. If one is to judge by the splendid program that has been prepared by the various committees, there is going to be something doing every minute, and you are assured of the time of your life at the big doings. One of the big features of the day will be a monster patriotic parade at 1:30 p. m., which without a doubt will overshadow anything Plymouth has ever before attempted in the parade line. Prizes are offered for the best decorated automobiles. Bert Crumie is chairman of the parade committee, and he is leaving nothing undone to make it a splendid success. There are to be all kinds of small sports in the forenoon. Orlo Brown is chairman of this committee. Another pleasing feature of the celebration is a free dinner at the Plymouth Hotel for all soldiers and sailors in uniform. At 2:30 p. m. a grand water battle will take place on Main street. There will also be an address by a prominent speaker at 3:30 p. m. from the bandstand in Kellogg Park.

The Millard band has been engaged to furnish the music for the entire day, and this part of the program alone will be worth coming miles to hear. For those who like to dance there will be plenty of opportunity, as arrangements have been made for two big dances. One will be given in the Pentman Allen auditorium and one in Pentman Hall from 8:00 p. m. to 12 m. Chester Arthur is chairman of this committee.

At 2:00 o'clock there will be a ball game between Plymouth and Northville for a prize of $500.00. Plymouth will have a strong team in the field and our old rivals on the diamond will also have their best line-up, and the game is sure to be a battle royal from start to finish. Robert Walker is chairman of the baseball committee.

There will be a thrilling acrobatic fight and a balloon ascension with double parachute drop, and many other attractions. It is sure going to be a day of fun and enjoyment. Invite your friends and relatives to come to Plymouth the 4th, and enjoy the festivities of the day with you. They will have the time of their lives.

Anyone desiring concessions should apply to Fred Raiman, chairman of the committee.

EX-CHAPLAIN ACCEPTS CALL TO NEW YORK

REV. KARL PALMER MILLER WILL BE SECRETARY OF PORT SOCIETY THERE.

OLDEST INSTITUTION FOR SEAMEN IN COUNTRY; WIFE AND FAMILY REMAIN IN JEFFERSONVILLE UNTIL FALL.

The many Plymouth friends of Rev. Karl P. Miller, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this village, will be pleased to know that he has been chosen as general secretary of the New York Port Society. We take the following article from the Jeffersonville, Indiana, Evening News: "The Rev. Karl Palmer Miller, Mrs. Miller and their son, Joseph, have returned from New York City, and are the guests of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Marble, Locust Bluff. "During his visit in New York, Mr. Miller accepted the general secretaryship of the New York Port Society, the oldest institutional work for seamen in America, endowed and directed by the Presbyterians of New York. "Mr. Miller will go east to assume the duties of his new position the first of July, but Mrs. Miller and her children will remain with her parents in Jeffersonville until fall. "Before the war Mr. Miller was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Plymouth, Mich., and resigned his pastorate to go overseas as a chaplain. He returned recently from his war duties and has had a number of offers under consideration."

BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY OF FLOWERS

For some years people who have passed the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ray, on the Plymouth-Northville road, have admired the large and magnificent flower beds to be seen there. This year the number and assortment is more beautiful than ever, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray are daily called upon by visitors, even from a long distance, to witness the handsome sight. "General Jack" roses are there in great quantities, there being a bed about 200 feet long, the bushes hanging full of flowers in beautiful red colorings. There are also other fine varieties. Mrs. Ray has made a specialty of growing roses for 25 years, and has certainly been successful in her endeavor. It will prove interesting for admirers of beautiful roses to make a special trip to the Ray home and see the display.

WIND DID CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE

A terrific wind and rain storm swept over Plymouth late last Sunday afternoon, doing considerable damage. The roof on the Daggett and Gayde store buildings was completely lifted from its place, and landed in a vacant lot at the rear. An old roof underneath protected the stock of goods inside the store from probable ruin. Telephone and electric lines were put out of commission for a time. Shade trees were also considerably damaged about town. It was a regular hurricane for a few minutes.

O. D. Peck is driving a new Ford coupelet purchased from the Beyer Motor Sales Co., local agents. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schlosser and little daughter Thelma of New Baltimore and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vickery of Westland, were away from town at Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Burns.

Count among the nuisances that Plymouth business men have to put up with the man who comes through selling "ready-made ads."

Some of our Detroit subscribers inform us that they do not receive their paper until the first of the following week. The papers leave the Plymouth office about noon on Friday, and subscribers in the city should receive the paper on Saturday. The delay is probably due to the congestion in the Detroit office, and of course we are unable to remedy this.

The touring car has not yet been found and the matter has been placed in the hands of the Howell Insurance Co.

Another warrant has been issued, charging young Thomas with larceny of a magento from the garage of Mr. Menzer at Newburg. The magento was recovered in Detroit, where it had been disposed of.

COMMISSION HAD BUSY SESSION

The village commission had a very busy session last Monday evening. Aside from the regular routine business various other matters were taken up by the commission. The matter of the proposed Blunk avenue drain was laid on the table for further consideration. Supt. G. A. Smith came before the commission in the interest of the school playground. Mr. Smith asked that a light be placed on the playgrounds and that the village hire a playground manager during the summer vacation period, to look after the apparatus and maintain order. The commission granted the request for a light and will pay $2.00 per day for a playground manager until the next regular meeting, when if the experiment proves satisfactory the arrangement will in all probability be continued throughout the vacation period.

C. A. Fox of the Plymouth & Northville Gas Co. was before the commission asking that an ordinance be enacted to permit the gas company to make a meter rental charge of 25c per month on all gas meters. Mr. Fox stated that the cost of operating the plant had almost doubled, and that the company was facing a very serious deficit unless they were able to increase the revenue of the plant in the manner asked for. The gas company only ask that the meter rental charge remain in effect until such time as conditions will warrant them to discontinue the same. He stated the same request would be made of the Northville council at their next meeting. The matter was laid on the table until the next regular meeting.

MRS. FREDRIKA WOLFROM
Mrs. Fredrika Wolfrom, mother of the Wolfrom brothers, who are prominent farmers in this section, passed away last week at her home at Beech, Mich. Mrs. Wolfrom had attained the ripe old age of 78 years. She had been the head of the family, working hard and sacrificing for her family since Mr. Wolfrom's death some years ago. Her six stalwart sons have been near her, and were with her when she fell asleep and entered that rest which she so truly earned. Funeral services were held at her late residence, and were conducted by Rev. Luther Moore Bicknell, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Plymouth. Mrs. William Baker sang two very beautiful and appropriate numbers. Interment was made in Grand Lawn cemetery.

MRS. ANNA BUSSEY

Anna McCormick died at her home in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, May 24, 1919. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick, and was born in Salem township, August 22, 1873, where the early years of her life were spent. In 1896 she was married to Calvin L. Bussey, also of Salem, soon after moving to Detroit, where she resided until 1911. Since that time her home has been in Pittsburgh. She leaves to mourn their loss, besides her husband, five children: Helen L., Harold J., Ralph L., Florence and Stanley C., and five sisters, Mrs. Burton Galpin of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Anson Hearn and Mrs. Van Vleet of Tiffin, Ohio; Mrs. Claude Larned of Battle Creek, Mich. Since early childhood she was a devout Christian, and at the time of her death was a member of the Wabson Memorial Presbyterian church, and will be greatly missed in church circles. She was an ideal wife and mother, and appreciated best by those in the home. The God she worshipped and the Christ she loved, shall walk with us till we too have reached through toil and conflict our eternal rest.

MERLE D. JOHNSON

Merle D. Johnson passed away at his home in Livonia, Sunday June 16th. He is survived by his wife and two children. The funeral was held from his late residence, Tuesday afternoon, June 18th, Rev. L. M. Bicknell conducting the services. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

STORM PLAYED HAVOC WITH TELEPHONE LINES

The windstorm at Plymouth, Sunday, June 16th, practically cut the telephone service of Plymouth from the outside world, destroying a quarter of a mile of one of the most important toll lines in this vicinity. The conservative estimate given out by the Telephone company to replace the same will cost $2,500. In order that Plymouth and other nearby affected might not be out of service on Monday, the telephone line crews worked Sunday night, and communication was restored at 5:30 Monday morning.

Incidence of Flu.

An interesting example of the incidence of influenza was given by Sir St. Clair Thomson. In a sanatorium for consumptives seven miles from the nearest town there was an outbreak of influenza. There were 100 consumptives and about 100 on the duty staff. Among those of the consumptives who caught the disease none had any complications, and none died; several of the cases among the staff proved fatal. Sir St. Clair Thomson said that the consumptives probably escape because the systems were already organized to fight disease and they could be considered in the same position as vaccinated people.

By Sea and Land.

"Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink!" wailed the ancient mariner.
"Yea," said the mermaid. "Prohibition is surely a success. Even the ocean is entirely 'dry.'"

AINU BEAR FEAST

Festival That Is Really a Communion Service.

Ceremonial One of a Number of Similar Celebrations That Have Religious Significance Among Peoples of Lowest Culture.

The most important object of the Ainu chase is the bear. At a certain season of the year it is the ambition of the hunters of every village to capture a we bear cub. It is taken home and treated with affection. If, as is often the case, the little creature is too young to have been properly taken from its mother, it is turned over to the young women of the village, who suckle it at their own breasts. A special pen made of logs is erected for the cub, and here it is reared, the pet of the entire village, until fairly grown. When the day of the feast comes the invited guests assemble from all quarters; food and drink in plenty have been prepared. The signal given, the bear is led out from its wooden pen; it is tethered by a rope to a post and everyone tenses and irritates the unfortunate creature; it is set upon, struck, prodded, beaten. When the scene has become one of wild excitement, and the tormented creature snarls and turns and runs in every way to escape from its tormentors, young men come forward with two poles, one of which is placed upon the ground. They then throw themselves upon the stunned creature, and, seizing him by the legs, place his head upon the pole in such a way that the lower jaw rests on it. The second pole is now laid across the back of the head, above. A group of the young men now throw themselves with all their might upon the upper pole. The head of the animal caught between the two poles is subjected to the pressure of the whole mass of struggling brutes. Leaning over the dying creature, one of the old men strokes both sides of his head and prays, at the same time catching and inhaling the creature's dying breath. When the bear has breathed his last gasp—and he must be killed without the shedding of blood—the corpse with the head in the middle, and the rest of the body in taken inside and prepared for cooking. The skin and head are now carefully laid out upon a handsome mat. When the flesh is cooked a bowl of soup is first brought out. This is offered with prayer to the skin and head of the animal. He is begged to take a portion of the soup; he is reminded of the kindness which the village has shown him; he is begged to carry their petitions and regards to his parents and to send favor and prosperity to them in return for their respect, attention and kind treatment. Pieces of the flesh of the animal are then brought out and offered to him. After these acts of prayer, thanksgiving and worship, the people themselves begin to feast. Abundance of millet beer has been provided, in addition to the food, and the celebration ends in a scene of wild intoxication.

The bear feast is really an interesting communion service. To kill the god, to eat his flesh and drink his blood is a commonplace in many religions of lower culture. The bear feast is the most startling ceremonial of the Ainu, but it is only one of a considerable number of similar celebrations. Thus they capture and rear hawks and other birds of prey, eagle-owls, rooks and foxes. All are treated with kindness. All ultimately are sacrificed with prayer and offerings, to secure from the creators of their kind blessings and favor for the people.—Asia Magazine.

Talked Navy Slang.

"Now, this stripper takes me up in the eyes and shows me a little gadget, where all you had to do was press a doobickey, turn over a gimick, and bloosy—it would sink every tin fish within a mile." So said the sunned and wind-burned young sailor of the U. S. S. Florida. Everyone on the subway platform turned to look at him. What he was talking sounded like English, but it wasn't the English spoken in New York. In the latest form of navy slang the sailor was telling how an ensign had shown him how to work a death bomb down at Guantanamo bay, Cuba. A "striper" is an ensign, and the "eyes" the front of the ship. "Gadget" and "gimick" are words that fit any contrivance the sailor doesn't know the name of, and "tin fish" is the latest word for submarine.—New York Sun.

Fish With a Long Name.

The sciplopattidecs is here. But how it ever reached this section of the country is a mystery to ichthyologists. The sciplopattidecs hasn't anything to do with the jass, neither is it good to eat on your head or eat. It is nothing more or less than a poor fish. But it is here and how it ever migrated to these waters is what is puzzling the followers of Isaac Walton. It was caught here the other day 8,000 miles away from its sporting grounds. The new immigrant's name is not found in ordinary dictionaries. He has a head like a walrus, a tapering tail, ground along his sides. This was 29 inches long. Anglers are agreed that the sciplopattidecs must have accompanied a Brazilian schooner which passed this way last summer.—New York Times.

Proper Place.

"The Germans will have to sign the peace treaty in the Hall of Mirrors."
"Then they will have plenty of reflection about it."

Chronic Constipation

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the bowels. If you get the abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle cathartics. Strong and harsh cathartics will irritate the lining of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.—Advt.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are particularly susceptible to opium and the various preparations, all of which are well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the disposition and growth of the child which are almost permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as neuritis, nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy.

They are the filters of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys in one form or another, they will cause you a victim.

Cussing at a Fox. While sitting on the bank of a small stream, writes a Companion subscriber, a friend and I heard some hounds baying on the opposite side of the creek. We were guessing what they might be chasing, when all at once we saw a two-thirds-grown rabbit come from the weeds and slowly walk into the water until it got so deep that he was compelled to swim.

No Help. "Now that the war is over I dare say your boy can write you where he is located in France." "Oh, yes," said Mr. Cobble, "but the information doesn't do me an' mother any good. 339TH DUE HOME NEXT WEEK. Companies E, G, I, L, M and Machine Gun Unit On Way Across.

New York.—Following receipt of a cable from Brest saying that 1,600 oficers and men in six companies of the 339th Infantry are on their way to America, army transport authorities announced that the vanguard of the American force that made up the North Russian expedition would reach the first of the 339th, now reported.

An unofficial cable received from England said all the Michigan troops in Archangel, except the sick or wounded, would return to the United States by way of Brest, as the army believes it can get them out of there faster than via England.

And the great, underlying inspiration of the world war was lunacy run amok. Boldness is the best defense.

COMMERCIAL KEYMEN STRIKE. Indications Point to Bitter Fight—20,000 Walk Out First Day.

Chicago.—Claims of the rival organizations notwithstanding, the strike of commercial telegraphers against the Western Union and Postal-Telegraph companies gave every indication of settling into a protracted and bitter fight.

According to S. J. Koenekamp, president of the union, the first day of the strike took between 18,000 and 20,000 men and women from their keys. Koenekamp maintained that other operators would go on strike until the number is increased to 40,000.

Analyzing the reports received from various sections of the nation, it is evident that, except in a few localities, the Western Union is not affected by the strike to an extent that would seriously hamper the operation of the system.

PEACE TREATY RE-WRITTEN. Virtually New Document Submitted to Germans for Signature.

Paris.—The Peace Treaty with Germany was entirely re-written and re-printed for the incorporation textually of the explanations and clarifications contained in the Allied reply to the German counter proposals. While unchanged in principle, virtually a new document was presented to the Germans.

Naval Appropriation Gets Deep Cut. Washington.—As reported to the House, the 1920 Navy Appropriation Bill carries $441,500,000, a decrease of $75,000,000 from the estimate submitted by Secretary Daniels and $120,000,000 less than the amount carried in the bill as it passed the House last session. One of the principal items of $125,000,000 for continued construction of the 1919 building program. The bill provides for a permanent 10 per cent pay cut without other cuts.

AIR LANE PATROLS

Britain Already Looking Into the Future.

Necessity of Having Force to Guard Country's Merchant Ships in the Clouds Against Sudden Attack is Pointed Out.

The Dutch paper Telegraaf reported that on November 15 airplanes dropped bombs on the castle at Swalmen, where the ex-crown prince of Germany is staying.

No suggestion is made as to the nationality of the airplanes, except by the parenthetical remark that Swalmen is only three miles from the German frontier. The report does not mention any casualties, nor does it say how the ex-prince bore himself under fire, though it would have been interesting to have known, since, according to popular report, he has had no previous experience during the war of being under fire, having left all that to the German "cannon fodder," which he so recklessly and cynically sacrificed.

The report is vague in the extreme, but whether or not true, it suggests various exciting possibilities in the future. Piracy and smuggling by airplane are possibilities not to be overlooked. Of course, while all Europe is still armed, and the German army resembles a pack of wolves without a pack leader, nothing could be easier than for some German airman who disapproves of the ex-crown prince's conduct in general and is resolved that no counter-revolution shall ever make him emperor, to paint out the national marks on their machines, fly high above the clouds into Holland, dive upon his residence and release their bombs. In any force still retaining its discipline and the discipline of active service at that, such action would be wildly impossible.

In times of peace such raids would be less easy. All airdromes and their airplanes will of course be registered; the movements of aircraft will be even more strictly under observation than those of seagoing ships, for the simple reason that their periods of absence from terra firma are necessarily much briefer.

Moreover, air pirates could never stop a commercial airplane and call on it to "stand and deliver." They could never get away with booty, and therefore their operations could only be destructive and not profitable.

But one must not overlook the possibility that a power as evil disposed and reckless as Germany was in 1914 might suddenly begin a systematic attack on all the aircraft of a rival. The experiences of the past warn us to be cautious in the future.

It will be the task of the royal air force to guard the air merchantmen of Britain. For years their work may be as bloodless as was the work of the navy from Navarino to 1914, but it would be very rash to declare that the royal air force will never again send a foe down in flames.

We must remain prepared on land, on the sea and last but not least, in the air.—London Mail.

Life of a Collier.
A Scottish correspondent of the Yorkshire Post living in a colliery district, writes: The sentimental pity extended on the "poor devil" who never sees the light of day" is sheer rubbish, and when uttered by union leaders is merely clap-trap. I meet plenty of our local miners coming home daily between two and three in the afternoon, having done their shift from 7 a. m., and probably earned $5 in the meantime. If you stopped one of these men to commiserate with him on his "dreadful" employment, he would stare at you in amazement, and wonder what on earth you were talking about. At a singing concert some months ago one of our miners sang a song called "Down in the Mine." It drew a lurid picture of a miner's life, and one line referred to his "toiling for a bare existence." The miners roared with laughter, in which the singer joined.

Novel Counter-Claim.
A novel plea was put forth by Lie-fur Sigurdson, an Icelander, described as an accountant, who was committed for trial at the Guildhall, London, charged with embezzling money belonging to his employers. When the chief bookkeeper of the firm was called to the colors, Sigurdson was engaged at $12 a week, and later it was discovered that smaller sums had been paid into the bank than had been received. Questioned, he agreed that he had used about $1,000 for his own purposes, and after arrest added: "I have a heavy counter-claim against them for lacing a young man to commit forgery." He went on to argue that by not keeping a sufficient check on him the firm had induced him to use their money, and that he had a claim for damages against them.

As the Parade Passed.
Smith (glancing at friend)—What's the matter, old top? You look pale around the gills.
Jones (smiling bravely)—Oh, I don't know, Sam. Thinking of what those boys went through has kind of demobilized me.—Buffalo Express.

Four Dollars a Peck, Ap Peolal
"By the way," suggested the facetious fellow, "didn't you notice how loud some of these vegetable peddlers cry hollers about prices?"—Indianapolis Star.

Chronic Constipation
Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.—Adv't.

OUTLOOK IS GOOD FOR MICHIGAN CROPS

The present crop outlook in Michigan offers no serious ground for complaint. While oats are two, and hay one per cent below the 10-year average, all other crops except some of the fruits are up to or above the average, according to the June 1 field report issued by Verne H. Church, field agent, bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture. Hot and dry weather during the latter part of May was favorable for the growth of most crops, and for the planting of corn, potatoes and sugar beets. Corn is germinating quickly and is making excellent growth. The condition of winter wheat is 97 per cent, 1 per cent below last month, 16 per cent above the 10-year average, and 42 per cent better than one year ago. The crop is estimated at 21,063,000 bushels. If to this is added 1,261,000 bushels, the estimated production of spring wheat, we have a total wheat crop for Michigan of 22,324,000 bushels. "Clover seedings suffered severely from drought last year, which reduced the acreage and lowered the condition of the hay crop, especially in the south-central and southwestern districts. Meadows and pastures have improved constantly since the recent rains.

Presbyterian Notes

Rev. Mr. Bicknell was in Detroit, last Monday, attending the summer meeting of the Presbytery. Some very interesting and important questions were discussed and progressive action taken.

The Children's Day exercises, last Sunday morning, were unique and somewhat unusual. A quartet of children, trained by Mrs. William Bake, were the only children on the program. The quartet comprised Misses Barbara Bake and Evelyn Schrader and Masters Edwin Schrader and William Bake. They sang beautifully and were enjoyed very much. Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Bake and Miss McClumpha sang a beautiful trio, and Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Bake rendered a most melodious duet, both numbers adding very much to the beauty and inspiration of the program. Rev. Bicknell gave a short story as the scripture lesson, and a brief sermonette on the theme, "We love Him, because He first loved us." The sacrament of baptism was administered to three babies, which added much to the reverence and significance of the service. Mr. and Mrs. William Bake furnished the beautiful flowers which made the church auditorium very summery and fragrant. The pastor and people are very appreciative of the services of all those who stood by so loyally to make the service interesting to the children.

Be sure and come to the services next Sabbath. Rev. Mr. Bicknell is planning a special sermon for the morning service, and he hopes you will enjoy it. At least you will enjoy the service and the opportunity to worship with God's people. So come and encourage the rest of us. Remember the communion service scheduled for June 29th. New members will be received and the sacrament of baptism will be administered. Those wishing to unite with the church see Mr. Bicknell or any member of the session and see that your letters from other churches are at hand. Let us make this a great day in the history of our church.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find the family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.—Adv't.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Model T Trucks

The Ford Model T One-ton Truck is now a little over three years old, and we have yet to hear of the first trouble it has given. That's because of the worm drive. Not a bit of the power of the motor is lost through the worm drive. It simply cannot be. Up to the introduction of the Ford Motor Truck, you could only get the worm drive in the highest priced motor trucks. It is too expensive an equipment for ordinary priced trucks. That's one reason why we put it on the Ford Truck. Quality in materials, scientific application of transmission of power, dependability in service and economy in operation are cardinal virtues in Ford production. These are what made the Ford "The Universal Car," and these are the qualities that will make the Ford One-ton Truck "The Universal Motor Truck." In town, in the city, in village and farm, the Ford Motor Truck is the essential necessity because it solves the problem of economical transportation. Come in and let us give you a demonstration. Let us have a chance to point out the superior merits of the Ford Motor Truck. The firm listed below will be only too glad to take your order and give you the delivery with the least delay possible, and assure you of splendid "after service." The Ford Motor Truck sells at $550.00 without the body, but we will supply you with such a body as you may desire.

What a Former Plymouth Citizen Is Doing In California

The Mail is always glad to publish anything pertaining to former Plymouth citizens and what they are doing in their homes far distant from the old home town. We are especially pleased this week to present an illustrated write-up taken from the Hollywood, California, Citizen, regarding a former prominent citizen and manufacturer of Plymouth, Mr. W. F. Markham, founder of the Markham Air Rifle Co., of this village, and for many years a resident of Plymouth:

Marking a new era in the history of Hollywood's business district, the Markham building, the first four-story business and office building in Hollywood, has just been completed and is now ready for occupancy.

The building, which has a frontage of 50 feet and depth of 150 feet, is at the corner of Cosmo street and Hollywood boulevard, and was erected some time being the largest owner of houses in Hollywood, and the erection of the business block, which bears his name is but another proof of his abundant faith in the future of Hollywood.

The new Markham building is of brick construction, the front being of red pressed brick with stone trimmings. The lower floor is one large store room, with lobby and stairway, and a suite of offices for Mr. Markham's personal use. The front of the store room is unique, in that it provides a double set of display windows, a passage way running between. The windows are of plate glass, with beautiful leaded and stained glass windows at the back. Two doorways lead into this room, which is finished with highly polished hardwood floors and mahogany woodwork.

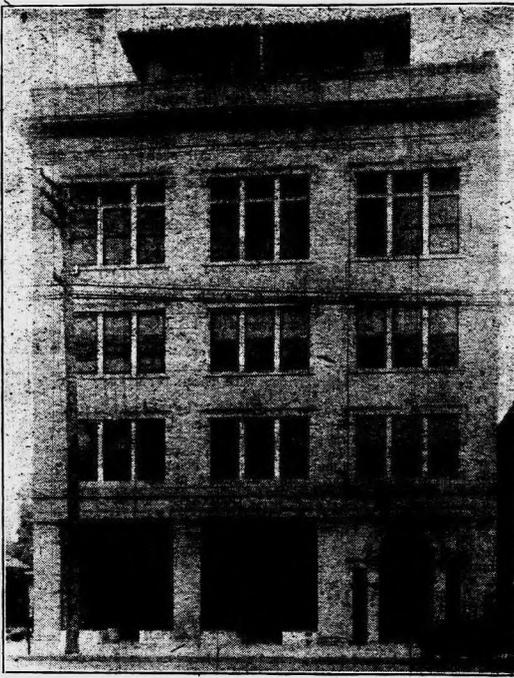

The lobby is finished in marble and tile, and is lighted by a spangled chandelier. An electric elevator, automatically operated, connects with the three upper floors.

The second and third floors are divided into thirty-six offices, both single and en suite, these, too, being finished in mahogany. The front suite, on the second floor, consisting of three rooms, is already rented and will be occupied in a few days by Dr. H. B. Munro of 1410 Stanley avenue.

The fourth floor is being left unfinished, save for hardwood floors. It is especially adapted for club rooms and when the opportunity arises, Mr. Markham will finish it, installing a kitchen if necessary.

On the roof of the building is a beautiful sun room, with large glass windows, on all sides, all of which can be opened. This, in itself, makes the building unique from other office buildings in Hollywood. This room was built especially for Mrs. Markham and will be beautifully furnished.

Steam heat will keep the building warm in the winter days. A large vacuum cleaning plant, which cares for the entire building, is in the basement. The building is plentifully supplied with lavatories and toilets. Besides the elevator there are two stairways, one in the front and the other in the rear, connecting all floors. Ample fire escape facilities and an automatic sprinkler system throughout, having over 400 sprinklers, will provide protection for the tenants. In fact, Mr. Markham has spared neither time nor expense to make his new building one of the most desirable in Hollywood.

Mr. Markham came to California seven years ago from Michigan, where he still has large manufacturing interests, intending to retire and live an easy life. But, to one who has always been active, such a life soon grows tiresome. Leaving his home one morning, he decided to get busy with something and before night had purchased over $30,000 worth of real estate and began operations, which have made him the largest owner of houses in Hollywood.

Mr. Markham now owns eighty-seven houses, with over one hundred tenants. Sixteen of these houses are on De Longpre avenue, eight on Wilcox avenue, eighteen on Cahuenga avenue, sixteen on Sunset boulevard, twenty-one on Morningside Court, six on Selma avenue, and two on Leland Way. All of these houses are rented and it is seldom that a vacancy lasts more than one day.

Mr. Markham's home on Vine street is one of the show places of Hollywood. The property has a frontage of 360 feet on Vine street and a depth of about 150 feet on Sunset boulevard. The large concrete house is surrounded with a varied assortment of shrubbery with a spacious lawn in front. To the north of the house, and connected with it by a pergola, is a Roman pavilion, in front of which flow a number of fountains. In the rear of the house is a summer rest room and dining room, both literally buried with the foliage of shrubbery. Here the summer days are whiled away, away from the heat which then prevails. There is a large aviary on the rear of the property, and here Mr. Markham has collected about eighty varieties of birds, many of which are very rare and valuable. He also has two very rare specimens of monkeys, and to them he has given the names of "Mary Pickford" and "Ty Cobb." To remind him of the old home state, he has had sent to him a half dozen squirrels common to Michigan.

He has been unusually successful with his tenants, and this is largely due to his treatment of them. All places are kept up by Mr. Markham, the lawns and flowers cared for and the building kept in repair.

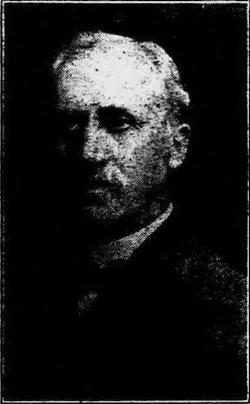

Prior to coming to Hollywood, Mr. Markham was engaged in manufacturing business at Plymouth, Michigan, where he was familiarly known as Captain Markham. This title was obtained when in earlier years, he was a marine engineer and it has clung to him through all the years which have passed. He is one of the largest stockholders of the Markham Air Rifle Co.

Mr. Markham is not only a loyal citizen of Hollywood, but a thorough patriot as well. At the beginning of America's hostilities with Germany, he was employing twenty-five men. Purchasing a number of small flags, he went among his men and asked them to put the flags on. Five Germans refused to do this and were dismissed on the spot. "I will not have a pro-German working for me, neither will I patronize one as long as we are in this war," says Mr. Markham.

GLASS HEAR BAGGALAUREATE SERMON

REV. LUTHER MOORE BICKNELL GIVES SPLENDID SERMON AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM, SUNDAY EVENING.

The Baccalaureate sermon at the High School auditorium, Sunday evening, was well attended. The absence of the electric lights, owing to the storm in the late afternoon, made it rather inconvenient, but substitute lights were provided for the emergency. The platform was nicely decorated by the Sophomore class with flowers, ferns and the class colors.

At eight o'clock the class of 1919 marched in and took seats immediately in front of the stage, which had been reserved for them. The quartet from the Methodist Episcopal church, composed of the Misses Ada Leach and Evangeline Foster and Messrs. Evered Jolliffe and Austin Whipple rendered two beautiful numbers. The invocation was offered by Rev. Frank M. Field. The address to the class was made by Rev. Luther Moore Bicknell. His sermon was on the text, "I Will," and it was filled with many splendid thoughts and a real message to the class of young people who are about to step out and take their places in the world. It was a masterly effort and we wish we were able to publish it in its entirety. He said in part:

"If you would know my text, I would send you scamping through the Book of Hebrew poetry, The Psalms. There you will find amid those lines of religious sentiment and spiritual reflection, the oft repeated, soul encouraging notes of volition, 'I Will'."

"We are all familiar with the Psalms because they seem so human. Their authors seem to be men of like passion with us, and are penning in these lines our own experiences and feelings. These men not only tell us what they feel and think, but what they are going to do in the circumstances. Some two hundred times in these human documents they give expression to the will note of volition."

seemed turned away; through it all ring their clear, strong note of volition—I will.

I would have their stirring, soul impelling words impress you with the power and glory of your imperial will. Your young manhood and womanhood are imperial. They are crowned already by the glory of your strength—strength of body, mind and spirit. But the will must be controlled and directed by will. The will life—this triumvirate of regal power. We are conscious, intelligent beings, capable of self direction and self determination—that is, we are controlled and directed by will. The will is essential to personality. Nothing can be done without qualification, except a good will. All the other gifts of nature may become bad and mischievous, if the will is bad. The important question is one of will. What is the controlling purpose of my life?"

First cause of motion and activity lies in volition. My arm moves only as I will it. These fine men of God willed toward God—God's will was sovereign—they found relief in acting toward God. They knew He was in His heaven and all was well with the world. "Our wills are ours, we know not why; our wills are ours to make them thine."

Paul says: "I can do all things through him that strengtheneth me." Only as these self centered, whimsical wills are lost in His will, we never can have a good will. Note some of the conduct coming out of such confidence and assurance. "I will lay me down in peace and sleep." "I will look up." "I will pray." "I will dwell in the house of the Lord."

Only as these self centered, whimsical wills are lost in His will, we never can have a good will. Note some of the conduct coming out of such confidence and assurance. "I will lay me down in peace and sleep." "I will look up." "I will pray." "I will dwell in the house of the Lord."

Then it is refreshing to note that these men of God never name the conditions— which they will do these things. "It is not in their vocabulary. We are always going to do wonderful things." But the work of the world is not done by those whose philosophy is "I"

Only those who are worthy who can say: "Though a host encamp against me my breast shall not fear; though wars should rise up against me, in this will I be confident." The world is blessed by men and women who can say, "as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord"—we will do our duty whether "all the tiles in the roofs be devils to hurl their denunciations and blasphemies in our faces."

"Lose this day loitering, 'twill be the same story Tomorrow—and the next more dilatory; When indecision brings its own delays, And days are lost lamenting o'er lost days. Are you in earnest—then seize every minute."

What you can do, or dream you can, begin it! Courage has genius, power and magic in it. Only engage, then the mind becomes heated; Begin it! then the work will be completed."

You are looking forward, not backward, this is the happiest moment of your young lives. My message to all is one of inspiration and encouragement. If you would be great, you must possess a good will. You will have a good will only as your will is sunk in the will of God. Thy will not mine be done is the prayer of the consecrated life, the successful life—

"Our wills are ours we know not why; Our wills are ours to make them thine."

THE Buick Valve-in-Head motor is designed to get the most out of every gallon of gasoline—and does it.

In this motor the cylinders have no "alcoves" or side-pockets. The full force of the explosion is received by the pistonhead,—where it means power,—increased vigor, lessened wastage—conserved energy.

And these cylinders, lacking side-pockets, are quickly and thoroughly cleared of dead gas after each piston stroke—insuring a capacity intake of fresh gas for each explosion.

Monday morning A. L. Wilbur brought to this office the "real thing" in the 17-year locust, which he had had picked up on his uncle's farm in Superior township. He said they were quite numerous, and that they could be heard fully a mile away; that they were working on the trees; but that as far as he could tell, had done no damage to the crops yet. This is the first report of the locusts we have heard of in these parts. Mr. Wilbur was taking them to the Normal.—Ypsilanti Record.

That the Detroit postoffice is rapidly developing into a bad state of disorganization goes without saying. Not only are country papers going into the city, delayed from two to five days, but other mail matter coming out is simply handled when convenient. Last Friday evening, June 6, the Herald received its complimentary tickets to the auto races, held at the grounds, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 30, 31 and June 1. This letter was no doubt mailed the week before. And the worst is yet to come. Monday morning, as previously stated, the delegation of 64 farmers, bankers and business men of Arkansas, headed by the governor, C. H. Breakfast was served at the Michigan Union, after which a visit was paid the university, after which they were taken to Brookwater farm, owned by Prof. Herbert Mumford, which is the home of one of the best breeds of Duroc Jerseys in the world. After a luncheon at the union and a short program they visited the State Normal college in this city, and then on to Saline to inspect the farms in that vicinity. Returning to Ann Arbor, they left on the six o'clock train for Lansing to visit the Michigan Agricultural college.—Ypsilanti Record.

PAYMENT OF TRAVEL PAY FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

In an act of Congress approved February 28, 1919, it is provided that:

"Enlisted men honorably discharged from the army, navy and marine corps since Nov. 11, 1918, shall receive five cents per mile from the place of his discharge to his actual bona fide home or residence, or original muster into the service at his option."

SOLDIERS
Due to controversy over the intent of the law, many soldiers and sailors have received only three and one-half cents, or have been paid only to place of muster in. All such claims the war department is now prepared to adjust. To secure such settlement, the soldier must send in his discharge paper or copy thereof certified by the nearest recruiting officer, and a sworn application.

Any soldier in my district desiring to present such claim may secure the necessary blanks at the office of the Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Mich., and after it is properly filled out may send it, together with his discharge papers, to me at the address given below, and I will present them to the war department and return the discharge paper with check.

SAILORS
No affidavit is required by the navy department. Simply send me your discharge papers.

I am indebted to this newspaper for its generous space in bringing this matter to the attention of soldiers and sailors.

HOW TO GET YOUR AUTO LICENSE

Application blanks for license to operate motor vehicles will soon be in the hands of the chiefs of police, sheriffs and county clerks of the state ready for distribution, and the state department expects to begin issuing the licenses July 1.

An operator's license will be required of every person in Michigan after August 14, when the new law goes into effect. No person under 16 years of age can be licensed or legally drive any kind of a motor vehicle after that date.

All automobile drivers are advised to secure their application blanks early, fill them out properly and present them to the chief of police in cities, and the sheriff in rural communities. When O. K'd by this official the applicant forwards it to the secretary of state, who will in turn mail to him his license. The fee is fifty cents to accompany the application.

TOWNSHIP ROADS IN GOOD SHAPE

The roads of Plymouth township are in splendid condition at this time. Highway Commissioner Nelson Cole has about completed the grading of nearly every road in the township, and the few pieces yet to be graded will be gone over as soon as possible. Mr. Cole is now engaged in graveling a stretch of road at the west end of the Ann Arbor road. The hill near the Sam Hicks farm will be graded next, and this always bad spot will then be in first shape. There is much traffic on the Ann Arbor road, and at times this spring it was almost impassable. This road should be taken over by the county and a cement or gravel road built. Mr. Cole has hopes that he will be able to place some gravel on the east end of the Ann Arbor road, between Whitbeck's corner and the township line, this summer.

GRANGE NOTES

The next regular meeting of Plymouth Grange will be held July 10th in the evening. The winning side of the Victory contest was pleasantly entertained at the last meeting with a fine program, after which ice cream and cake were served to the losing side.

Methodist Mention

The Mary Pickford picture, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which was the attraction at the open house program, last week, brought out the largest crowd but one since the picture programs were started at the church. No more could have been accommodated. Everyone seemed to enjoy this splendid story. An offering of $21.00 fully met the expense. This week a miscellaneous program was given, consisting of a two-reel feature in the natural tint, entitled, "The Love of the Princess Yolande," a picture of animals at the zoo, and the picturization of the child's story, "Sleeping Beauty." The open house night each week will be dispensed with for the next few weeks, during the hottest weather. Children's Day came with its usual charming program and the delightful exercises by the boys and girls. The program given last Sunday morning reflected credit on each participant, as well as on the committee who prepared the program, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Edna Wilson and the Misses Florence Newell and Roxie Jones. The Children's Day offering, which is used to help worthy young people get a christian college education, amounted to about $11. The sacrament of baptism was administered to Florence Marie, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gray.

Miss Florence Newell and Harry Hill were chosen as delegates to the State Epworth League Institute at Albion from June 20 to July 7, with Miss Wilma Smith as alternate. A fund of $15 to pay part of the expenses is being raised by individual subscription, and money may be given to F. L. Barrows, Miss Lonera Terry, Mrs. Edna Wilson or to the pastor.

There was no prayer meeting at the church this week, on account of the commencement exercises at the High school.

Recent additions to our membership were made by the transfer of Miss Adah M. Leach from the Methodist church at Fenwick, and of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanchett from the Methodist church at Perrinville. Miss Leach has filled a useful place in the church as director of the choir for the past year, and will be greatly missed during the summer vacation. Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Field and Mrs. H. S. Doerr expect to spend a week at the great Centenary celebration at Columbus, Ohio, leaving Plymouth by Ford on Monday, June 30th. It is estimated that 250,000 people will attend the celebration, which is in reality a religious world's fair.

Today's Reflections

People sigh for the things they can't have, and you never saw a Plymouth man but wanted to smoke worse when he had left his pipe at home than at any other time.

Mr. Burleson has given back most of the telephone and telegraph lines, retaining just enough, as we see it, to keep things balling up.

If some Plymouth women had their way the state legislature would not be allowed to rest until it had passed a law making it a penitentiary offense for a man to wipe his face on the tea-towel.

"Don't cross railroad tracks" is the headline we came across yesterday in one of our exchanges. What does that editor want us to do—go around one end of the thing?

Wouldn't it be nice if we could get through congress a bill imposing a penalty on any man who dodges you when you go to collect your bill.

The Plymouth girl that says her husband must be a man with good common sense may be wrong about it, if he marries her.

We read the newspapers closely, but we have so far not been able to learn that the Bolsheviks has started trouble because their working days are too numerous.

Sometimes we run across the Plymouth man who is so busy that he doesn't have time to knock anybody, and then we wish the town was populated by people exactly like him.

We can't get it out of our head that Germany would have secured a little of the sympathy she is now trying so hard to secure, if she had shown a little of the same thing toward Belgium and France.

We have heard some uncomplimentary things about Texas, but they are all outweighed by the fact that she can have corn on the cob and as much of it as she likes before the other states get theirs in the ground.

The Plymouth man who longs for a place where he can "do as he pleases" usually winds up in a place where he finds everybody else is doing the same thing.

And if we should go to war with Mexico, we'd never see anything on the Mexican casualty lists but generals.

Every Plymouth man is ready to admit that getting married was one brave deed that he couldn't perform single-handed.

If Austria had any doubt about being in the same boat with Germany during the war, it must have been dispelled when she heard her peace terms read out.

NYE WAS 'WAY OFF

How Humorists Were "Stung" in Business Venture.

Anecdote James Whitcomb Riley Used to Tell, Dealing With the Wiles of the Publisher—All They Got Was a Feed.

Among the many comical stories told of James Whitcomb Riley's experiences with Nye was the history of a book called "Nye and Riley's Railway Guide," which gave them a broad personal and legal experience with publishers. From their first turtur to 1888 their fancy ran riot with the idea of a comic railway guide for just such poor, ill-fated travelers as they themselves proved to be, for the man, as they wrote in the introduction, "who erroneously gets into a car which is sidetracked and swept out and scrubbed by people who take in cars to scrub and laundry."

"Nye and I," Riley used to say, "thought a little book made from our readings might perhaps stanch a long-felt public want. In fact, we grew enthusiastic as our eyes swept the prospect. Nye, indeed, thought there was money in it. I remember that, in his optimism, he wrote: 'Let us make some money, be goosh, and put it in our inside pocket. It feels hully.' Riley always chuckled reminiscently at this point in the story.

"Well, we went to Chicago to look for a publisher, and there we found one Ketchum & Skinnem who had a sign on the door, 'Drop MSS. Here.' We dropped ours and went away feeling pretty good."

Riley then told of a long wait, during which they wondered whether the manuscript would be accepted; then how glad they were to find the book on sale at the news stands, and finally how they paid a visit to the publishers to inquire timidly into the matter of royalties. The door was locked. Some months later, in response to their letters, came an invitation to a banquet given by the publishers in their honor. Hopefully they presented themselves. "As we fled in to dinner Nye whispered to me, 'Think they'll hand us checks with the cigars?' Well, when the cigars were passed at length the publisher at the head of the table pushed back his chair, put his fingers tips on the cloth, beamed on us, and said:

"Gentlemen and publishers, we have met to do honor to our two illustrious humorists tonight in an unusual way. We appreciate their humor, especially that which has made our book so successful. And in token of our appreciation we now present to them one hundred shares apiece in our great company. Ahem—I believe that is all!"

"It was all. Nye and I hoped at first for the best, but neither of us secretly could find any market for our shares and the company never paid any dividends before it went out of business."—Harper's Magazine.

His Fortunate Investment

Sosthene Gallais, former wholesale oyster and ice cream dealer, who entered into business in St. Louis as a scissors grinder, and who accumulated a fortune estimated by his family at $3,000,000, through investment, several years ago, of $30,000 in Oklahoma land, on which oil later was found, died recently at his home in Tulsa, Okla.

Gallais' rise to riches is one of the most interesting of the many oil romances in Oklahoma. His original investment had lain dormant for years and he did not know that oil had been discovered on his land until he received his first royalty. Since then his wealth had increased by leaps and bounds until it enabled him to become the largest individual property owner in Tulsa, caused him to erect a 10-story office building there as a monument to the city near which he found his wealth and carried him into affluence.

The Kaiserin's Baggage

The kaiserin is said to have been more fortunate than some queens in the matter of luggage in her flight to Holland, since her luggage, though described as rather shabby, was apparently plentiful. As a rule escaping queens have been badly provided. When Charles X and his entourage were turned out of France one who went down to see them remarked that they had nothing in the way of "furnishings" though they had money. Louis Philippe and his queen crossing the channel as Mr. and Mrs. Smith, were ill-provided, and there is the case of the ex-empress Eugenie, whose message to a friend when she reached England was "Come to me; I have nothing—not even a handkerchief!"

Decay of Mourning Wear

Nothing is more remarkable in our social life at this time than the rarity of conventional mourning, says London Daily Chronicle. There are millions of bereaved people in these islands, yet it is uncommon to encounter anybody who wears the "trappings and the suits of woe." We have found a juster way of showing respect for the dead than by changing the hue of our clothes. Only at the two extremes, east and west, will you now discover a woman wearing widow's weeds.

New Telephone Toll Rates

Effective June 13th, 1919

By order of the Postmaster General, new schedules of rates for telephone toll calls became effective 12:01 a. m., June 13th, 1919.

Under these new schedules the "station to station" rate is the base rate upon which all rates for the various classes of service offered, are computed. This rate is determined by the air line distance between toll points and is computed, for the initial period, on the basis of 5c for each 6 miles up to 24 miles and 5c for each 8 miles beyond that distance.

For toll calls where the calling party does not specify a particular person to be reached at the called telephone, the "station to station" rate is charged. This method provides the cheapest and quickest form of telephone toll service.

"Station to station" calls should be made as far as possible by giving the telephone number of the called telephone. Where the number is not known and telephone directory information is not available, the name and address under which the telephone is listed together with the information that it is a "station to station" call should be given to the toll operator.

For toll calls where the calling party specifies a particular person to be reached at the called telephone and the connection is established and conversation held with that person, the "person to person" rate is charged. As this service requires a greater amount of operating effort, the rate for such calls is about one-fourth greater than the "station to station" rate. (Minimum "person to person" rate 15c).

For toll calls on a "person to person" basis, where the calling party, in placing the call, designates a definite time at which he will talk and the conversation is held, the "appointment" rate is charged. As this service involves the making of the appointment in addition to the operating effort necessary for a "person to person" call, the "appointment" rate is about one-half greater than the "station to station" rate. (Minimum "appointment" rate 20c).

For toll calls made on a "person to person" basis where messenger service is required to secure attendance of the designated person at the called telephone the "messenger call" rate applies. This rate is the same as the "appointment" rate, plus any necessary charge for messenger service.

In connection with all toll calls other than those made on a "station to station" basis where the connection is established but the conversation is not held, because of any reason beyond the control of the telephone company a "report charge" is made equivalent to about one-fourth of the "station to station" rate. (Minimum "report charge" 5c, maximum $2.00).

Reduced rates, applying only to calls made on a "station to station" basis are quoted for toll service between the hours of 8:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m. The rate between 8:30 p. m. and 12 midnight ("evening rate") is about one-half the "station to station" day rate, and between 12 midnight and 4:30 a. m. ("night rate") about one-fourth the "station to station" day rate. The minimum night rate is 25c. Where the "station to station" day rate is 25c or less no reduction is made for evening or night service.

The time at which connection is established at originating point governs the rate determining whether the day, evening or night charge applies on "station to station" service.

Day rates apply on all calls other than those made on a "station to station" basis, whether they are made during the day, evening or night.

"Collect Calls" or calls for which the charges are reversed (that is, collected from the subscriber at the called station) are allowed only in connection with "person to person" calls.
