A GOOD TIME TO BUY
There is no reasonable doubt that, generally speaking, the shrewd Plymouth buyer will do well to take advantage of present prices. Newspapers everywhere are crowded with offers of real bargains, and the dollar goes farther today in purchasing necessities and many luxuries, than at any time since the world war started.
How long this condition of things may continue is a problem, and therefore, it is advisable for people intending to make purchases to make them before the tide turns, and prices take another upward swing,

as it is quite possible they may do with the conditions of production as they are.

To unduly delay purchasing, to hold back in expectation of a still greater decline, tends to render more serious the present situation and to lessen production in many lines.
While in some instances there may be a surplus of goods on the shelves of retailers, generally speaking production has a long way to go before it makes up for the losses we sustained in production during the war.

We are all in the same boat together, and in order to keep the wheels of industry turning and labor well employed at good wages, it is necessary that goods should move in a normal way, and the movement not be retarded by the unjustified refusal on the part of consumers to buy.
We have really been through something like a panic without realizing it. The best judges of business affairs take the view that the worst is over, and that, if the public generally will act in a normal way and satisfy their normal wants, the situation will brighten, and we will again enter a period of general prosperity.

GET BOTH SIDES

We don't want to discredit boys and girls of Plymouth, but we believe their parents would do well to remember in listening to their version of what happened at school that there are two sides to every question.
Very often the tender heart is susceptible to jealousy and quite often, too, the youthful mind is not capable of placing the proper construction of the statements of older people.
The scholar imagines the teacher is "making a pet" of another scholar, and is quick to magnify the matter
when relating school room occurrences to his or her parents.

If you know anything about children, you know it is hard to find two of the same disposition. For that reason it is a difficult thing for the teacher to please twenty or fifty or even more when no two of them are alike in temperament. Some of them are going to see things in a different light than the others, and those who have a tendency to become displeased when everything does not go their way are usually the ones who return home with a story that is apt to put the teacher in the wrong light.

If you know how difficult it is to train one child properly, then you can get a pretty good idea of what the teacher has on hand to train a flock of them. For that reason you will take any wild story brought home from the schoolroom with a grain of salt. In other words you will either fail to give it serious consideration or, if you do consider it, you'll be honest enough to recall that there are always two sides to every story.

OBITUARY

James Wilson died Sunday, Dec.
5th, at the home of his son, John D.
Wilson, Base Line road. Burial, Tuesday, with Rev. Marsh of Northville M. E. church, officiating.

Mr. Wilson was born February 21, 1826, in Glasgow, Scotland. Orphaned at an early age, he was bound out at the age of 12 as cabin boy on an ocean-going boat. When of age, he enlisted in the British navy, serving there for several years, and later going on merchant boats, during which years it was given him to see service, scenes and countries which is never to be forgotten. In 1854, it was his good fortune to be on Japan service when Commodore Perry negotiated the famous treaty opening Japan to the world, seeing Perry and his party. Later in the same year, he was detailed to service in the Crimean war.

In 1856-58, he fought in the English-Chinese war, being on shore duty part of the time. At about this time, 1857-1858, the British Indies made their great revolt against British rule; here he was sent into the interior on shore duty with British troops.

The first settlements in Australia were English prisoners, who were given their choice of prison or going to Australia. Mr. Wilson served on boats carrying these prisoners from England. His boat touching the island, he and a party visited Hawaii soon after the death of Captain Cook, but did not make an extended trip.

He was also in service with war vessels sent in quest of Malay, Chinese and other pirates, who made southern and far eastern waters unsafe for merchant boats in the earlier days.

There were no cozy steamboats those days and the life of a sailor was a hard one. Capes Horn and Hatteras, and the Indian Ocean were places especially feared for their violent storms. His was a varied experience, and few were the known countries or seaports which he had not visited.

In 1863, he was joined in marriage to Miss Susie McAllister of Quebec, soon after moving to this country. To this union were born eight children, four of whom survive: Susie (Mrs. A. C. Tait) of Plymouth; John E. of Northville;
William J. of Plymouth, and James W. of Northville, also four grandchildren. His wife dying in 1883, at the age of 36 years, he was left with the task of caring for his family, which duty he did faithfully and well.

Of fine moral character, he always tried to do what was right; tried to use his fellow-man as he wanted to be used; asked for no more than he was willing to give.

We desire to announce to the citizens of Plymouth that we are pre-

A poultry and pet stock show will be held in Ann Arbor, January 12-15.

Two new subdivisions are to be placed upon the market at Farmington.

The Ypsilanti Savings Bank has moved into its newly remodeled banking home.

Scott Colby, aged 89 years, a pioneer of Washtenaw county, died last week Tuesday, at his home near Denton.

The Garden Club of Birmingham have planted 900 tulip bulbs upon a little triangular piece of ground in that village.

The Farmington Board of Commerce will give a banquet to the High school foot ball squad of that village, Tuesday evening, December 14th.

The Peninsular Paper Company of Ypsilanti, has placed a bronze tablet at the factory entrance, bearing the names of the 22 members of that organization who served in the world war.

The burning of the Owen House barn at Farmington, last week, removed one of the landmarks of that village. The hotel building and other property were in great danger of conflagration before the flames were subdued.

Robbers were interrupted in an attempt to crack the safe in the Ford garage in Howell, one night recently, when the city marshal discovered them at work. They made their escape with a little cash from the cash register, and without cracking the safe.

Birmingham voters emphatically turned down Monday a proposition to bond for $224,000 for the erection of a six-room school building. The adverse feeling was due to belief that the sum was excessive for the purpose, and that although the building is needed, it could be put up later for a smaller sum.—Milford Times.

Among the Pastoral changes announced by Bishop Gallagher, as effective December 1st, is one transferring Rev. Stephen Wilfitt from Brighton to St. Mary's at Adrian; Rev. E. Puydt of Mt. Clemens succeeds Father Wilfitt at Brighton, and a new parish is organized at Plymouth over which Rev. Frank LeFevre will preside.

A party of eight Masons journeyed to Plymouth, last Friday evening, and witnessed the conferring of the third degree upon two candidates by Plymouth Rock lodge. One of the candidates was the son of our fellow townsman, A. C. Wheeler. The party were royally entertained, and all enjoyed the trip and fraternal visit.—South Lyon Herald.

Fenton said they were going to organize a Chamber of Commerce, and they sure did. The town was thoroughly canvassed by hard working committees to enroll every interested citizen. It is called the Chamber of Commerce, rather than a Board of Commerce, in order to be a part of the national organization which goes by that name. A page ad in the Fenton Independent printing the by-laws and object helped in the publicity campaign.—Brighton Argus.

Supervisor Lanning was brought home from Grace hospital, Saturday, by Messrs. C. R. Benton and Stewart Montgomery. The physicians who examined him while at the hospital advised a complete rest and assured him he must be careful for a while until nature had an opportunity to exert itself.—Northville Record.

The Walled Lake Farm Bureau local has plans afoot for erecting a coal dock for handling coal for its members, and laying a spur track for co-operative shipping. This local has been doing a good deal of business this year in various lines and plans to considerably enlarge its scope the coming season.—Milford Times.

The Detroit Edison Company does the entire commercial lighting and industrial power business in the city of Detroit and serves the cities of Highland Park, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Mt. Clemens, Port Huron, Howell and Monroe, 44 incorporated villages and rural areas in 75 townships, all in Michigan. In the four years ending January 1, 1920, the number of customers served has increased from 136,000 to 245,000. The earnings of the year ending April 1, 1920, were as follows: Gross earnings, $17,885,635.17; operating expense, including maintenance, depreciation, reserve and taxes, $12,412,239.45; net earnings, $4,473,395.72. GIFT SELECTIONS

"Shop early and avoid the rush." We hear this same quotation every year. It is just as appropriate this year as it was last year. Most of us would obey this most excellent advice if we could just make up our minds what to buy.

The purpose of this advertisement is to make just a few suggestions about Christmas gifts. Below you will find listed a few articles suitable for this purpose. You may feel assured that as usual our prices are considerably below the average. "It pays to Shop in Elm."

Our Candy Department will carry the most complete stock of Christmas candy and nuts we have ever attempted. New goods are arriving almost daily for this most important of Christmas Departments.

Be sure you have a sufficient supply of "Sweets" on hand for the Great Day.

Candy and Nuts are of course very important, but most important of all are the gifts to be selected for the little folks. If the youngsters are perfectly satisfied and happy with the articles "Santa Claus" brings them, you folks who have long lost faith in "Santa Claus" cannot help but enjoy your Christmas.

For the little folks we have many interesting Toys, Sleds, Dolls, Blocks, Mechanical Toys, Children's Books, Cut-outs, etc.

For the men folks we have a complete line of such appropriate gifts, as Neckties, Suspenders, Garters, Shirts, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Warm Coats, Flashlights, Cigars by the box and Cigarettes by the carton.

What to buy for the ladies is always a big question, at least most men find it so. We will be more than pleased to assist any man with this ticklish problem. Our stock for the ladies includes such acceptable gifts as Fancy Dishes, Aluminum Ware, Aladdin White Ware, Pyrex Glass Oven Ware, Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Perfumes, Hair Nets (six nets in a pretty box).

Christmas stocks are coming in every day. We feel perfectly safe in saying that we can supply the wants of any member of the family.

Methodist Matters

The number partaking of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper in the Methodist communion service, last Sunday morning, was the largest in the history of the local church. One extra tray of individual communion glasses has been added to the set since the last previous communion, but still there were not enough for the large number present.

The pastor preached a stirring sermon on, "The Faith of Our Pilgrim Fathers," in commemoration of the landing of the Pilgrims three hundred years ago.

Christmas plans are well in hand and promise a most impressive observance of the Savior's birthday. With so much need of suffering and starving children confronting us, we could not think of anything but a giving White Gifts Christmas again, and preparations are being made in accordance with this beautiful idea.

An impressive Christmas cantata, entitled, "The King's Birthday," will be given under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Cook, Mrs. Frank Dick and Mrs. Frederick Thomas. This will be presented with striking oriental costumes, and will make an unusual program. The date is Wednesday evening, December 22nd. The gifts for the birthday of our great King will be of three kinds: Substance for the relief of His children, service in His name, and self in consecration to Him. The gifts of substance are to be divided between the Methodist Children's Home in Highland Park and the starving children of Europe.

Every Methodist Sunday-school in the country is asked to remember this last fund under the direction of the board of Sunday-schools. For the primary department children an additional treat will be furnished in the nature of a Christmas party, given under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Cook, Saturday afternoon, December 25th.

The pastor has been called upon for administration in the house of sorrow on two occasions this week. On Monday afternoon, he conducted the funeral service of Mrs. George Hiltz at the home on York street. Mrs. Hiltz, although not a member of this church, was a Christian believer of another denomination and was an interested worshiper here when health would permit. A large representation of the Friendly Bible class, of which she was a member, attended the service. On Tuesday, Rev. Field made an eighteen mile drive into the country to conduct a funeral service for the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, five miles west of Northville.

Miss Roxie Jones, assisted by Miss Ada Daggett, conducted an unusual meeting of the Epworth League, last Sunday evening. The attendance was the largest in many months. It was Epworth Herald night conducted as a "Hike up Pike's Peak." The mountain pictured on a large chart was scaled by subscribers to the young people's paper. Ten subscribers made it possible to reach the summit, and the list is still growing. The League meeting next Sunday evening will be led by W. B. Lombard, with the topic, "Progressive Living."

A. M. Johnson's class of boys, which was organized three weeks ago with five boys, jumped to nine the second Sunday, and last week to ten. The class is for boys nine and ten years old.

The Brotherhood Bible class is planning for a Christmas party next week Tuesday evening.

The annual Christmas party for all the women of the Methodist church or any of its affiliated organizations will be held at the church, next Wednesday, December 15th. There will be a "pot-luck" dinner at one o'clock, followed by brief sessions of the Ladies' Aid society and the Missionary society, after which a social hour of Christmas fun will be enjoyed. This gathering takes the place of the December meetings of the different women's organizations. Last year the plan proved to be a splendid success, with a large attendance and a good time.

A special invitation was recently extended to the members of the Dairy Employees Association to attend service together at the Methodist church some Sunday evening. The invitation was graciously accepted, and next Sunday evening, December 12th, has been selected for their visit. The pastor, Rev. F. M. Field, will deliver an appropriate message, and Mr. Tracy, one of the Dairy men, will sing a tenor solo. The chorus choir will also render special music.

A telegram this week announcing that the set of stereopticon views on the Life of Christ, which were to have been shown this coming Sunday, would not arrive until next week, so that the first set, covering the birth of Jesus and his boyhood, will be shown December 19th, the Sunday before Christmas. This will make a delightful Christmas treat.

Thermo-Seal Inner Lining

The Thermo-Seal Inner Lining is the very foundation of successful heating with a pipeless furnace. Consider this carefully. Because—Warm air must keep on coming from the furnace, and cold air must keep on going in. If this circulation is retarded there will be no heat! Circulation will be retarded unless the cold air is kept cold until it reaches the bottom of furnace. (Note the direction of travel shown by arrows.) The Thermo-Seal Inner Lining, consisting of heavy asbestos covered with heavy galvanized steel plates, keeps the cold air chamber permanently cool. It maintains air circulation—in assurance of plenty of beautiful heat.

It Heats Less Fuel It Ventilates Less Heat It Satisfies More Heat

CONTRARIES

By MILDRED WHITE.

(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

"Tain't no use," said Leslie, "I'm too homely."

Mrs. Cy Cummings looked her over speculatively.

"Homely is a lot as folks make themselves," she replied. "Now look at Hanner West. Take her sweepin' in the morning, her hair in pins, homely as kin be. Then take her at a social in her plaid silk with her hair tussled up, an' she's a good-lookin' girl; happy, too, an' always comin' to see her home."

Leslie smiled; it was a good-humored smile which betrayed no regret in her loss of Cy Cummings.

"However," her sister went on, "let's get back to the subject. A well-to-do, sensible single man has bought the Wilby place. His stylish sister kept house for him over to Webster's Corners till she died six months ago. Now Nate Dixon is in search of a wife. Every one knows that, 'cause he told Mary when he engaged her to housekeep, that she needn't consider her position permanent. They's four women in our society this minute willin' to be Mrs. Dixon. Aigue of 'em's nice. But, they's no reason why you shouldn't cut 'em all out if you had a little of your sister's ambition."

"Maybe," said Leslie, with a flush, "I wanted to lose out, Ellen, where I wasn't interested."

Ellen smiled.

"Well, you look interested enough now, whenever Nate Dixon comes our way. Noticed it yesterday when he stopped over to ask a question. And you'd better know that a good house and bank account is worth takin' the trouble to smile for."

"I bought this pink muslin for you at Hanner's today," she said. "We can start makin' it up this afternoon. An' I'd trim my black hat over if I wuz you—black looks real well with pink. Then we'll get busy with your hair."

But Mrs. Cy Cummings dominated this situation just as she had dominated every situation of her household, and Leslie, dressed in pretty frocks and becoming headgear, went obediently—if rebelliously—upon her gay-clothes way. The new object of village interest was most perplexing in his attentions. For though he noticed her not at all the four women who never failed to be present at each entertainment, his attention to Miss Leslie began at first encouragingly, caused her managing sister much anxiety and heart burning. For after a long and romantic drive through the country in Leslie's company, Mr. Dixon would absent himself from her presence for weeks at a time, reappearing unexpectedly at meeting some evening to walk home by her side, and thereupon disappearing again from any chance encounter.

"Mr. Dixon," Leslie remarked one day, "showed me some pictures of his sister last night. My! she must have been fine; looks like a fashion cover in all of 'em an' every one different. Used to play an' sing an' take part in public entertainments, he told me, an' gave teas an' parties herself besides."

"Probably," Mrs. Cummings answered crossly, "that's why some dull stay-at-home folks ain't up to the mark with him. Anyone can see, Less Saunders, that you ain't enjoyin' yourself out in company even when you're dressed up an' pretendin' to be."

It was then that Leslie revolted.

"Well," she answered calmly, "there ain't going to be any more pretendin' I'm through."

When Leslie appeared at breakfast next morning she was garbed in her neat print dress with sleeves rolled up at the elbows. And when she went out later to the apple trees with her sewing she returned her sister's disapproving frown with a smile. Leslie beneath the apple trees was just a wholesome, cosy-cheeked woman who sang as she rocked comfortably to and fro. Her sister's parting slam of the door as she left the house failed to disturb Leslie's satisfied calm. And presently upon one of his unexpected visits came Nate Dixon. Leslie motioned him indifferently to the bench at her side, but the color left her cheeks as she laid aside her sewing. The village prize stared wonderingly at the woman before him.

"Why—" he stammered, "you look real different some way, Miss Saunders."

"It's the dress," Leslie answered frankly, "and the plain way I've done my hair. This is it's natural way," she laughed shakily. "Reckon this is jest my natural self you're seeing to-day, Mr. Dixon."

A light came to the man's eyes as he leaned eagerly toward her.

"You mean," he asked, "that you aren't altogether a pleasure woman after all? Forgive me," he quickly added, "you see, my sister was never contented to stay in her own home—always running after excitement, never finding much happiness, either. So I never had much of a home, shifting most of the time for myself. So I hoped when I did come to like a woman—to love a woman—that she'd be the kind who could make a real home for me. Didn't want to tie her down, either, unless I was sure she'd be happy there. Leslie," he ended solemnly, "you look now like the woman who might be content in that home. Are you that woman, Leslie?"

And when she had wiped the tears from her eyes Leslie beamed upon him.

"Beats all," she said, "how my whole life has gone by contraries, right up to this minute, when I thought you'd never care for the real me—that I am."

Mrs. Bullock Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter when my children were sick with colds and were coughing a good deal, I gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. C. M. Bullock, Gotham, N. Y. "It relieved them at once, and under the treatment all symptoms of the cold gradually disappeared. My experience with this medicine warrants my recommending it to others."—Adv.

Stop-See these Xmas phonographs

YOU never saw more exquisite cabinets.

The world has never produced any more exquisite cabinets.

These cabinets are descended out of the Golden Age of Furniture.

This was the age when Europe built its most luxurious palaces, created its greatest works of art, developed its finest types of craftsmanship.

Mr. Edison's designers went back to the furniture masterpieces of this period. They adapted 17 of them for the modern American home. They made every Edison Cabinet a period cabinet, —even the least expensive.

You must see these cabinets. Only then will you appreciate what wonderful richness and atmosphere one will add to your home.

Ask about our Xmas Budget Plan. It manages your money economically. It makes 1921 help pay; and that's good business.

A Word About Prices

In 1914, as you can ascertain through practically any investment banker, the Edison Laboratories were selling phonographs on a narrower margin of profit than the other manufacturers. Since 1914, the price of the New Edison has advanced less than 15% —and a portion of this is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

TIMELY HINTS FOR SENDING XMAS PARCELS

The local postoffice is getting ready for the Christmas rush, and Postmaster Hill has supplied us with the following timely suggestions, which will help the local office force in handling the many Christmas parcels, and at the same time supply valuable information to the sender of gifts and parcels at this time. Here are the suggestions:

Address should be placed in lower right hand corner.

Name of sender should be placed in upper left hand corner.

Both of the above should be as clear and plain as possible.

Parcels should be wrapped with heavy wrapping paper and tied with stout twine.

Christmas seals and stickers should be placed on the back of letters and parcels, and not on the face with the address.

Parcels may in addition to the name of the sender and address have endorsed such words as, "Do not open until Christmas" or "Open on Christmas."

Parcels sent to Germany shall not weigh to exceed eleven (11) pounds, better make them 10 1/2 pounds for safety, and should be marked, "Gift Packages," and in view of the fact there is so much suffering in the country, that persons sending parcels which for some reason cannot be delivered, that they mark on the parcels, "Wenn unbestellbar, für die Armen" (when undeliverable, for the poor). This is a suggestion from the Berlin Postal authorities.

Send your parcels as soon as possible, so they will be sure to reach the parties by Christmas.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Wayne, Michigan, to be held at Detroit, Dearborn, Plymouth and Wyandotte, on January 8, 1921, to fill the position of rural carrier at Dearborn, Detroit, Inkster, Redford, Rockwood, Romulus, Wayne and Wyandotte, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily route of 24 miles is $1,800 per annum, with an additional $30 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 24 miles. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post-office in the county, and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointment unless they are the widows of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines, or the wives of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. Form No. 1977 and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

Baptist Notes

The Lord's Supper was observed last Sunday. A large number partaking. The right hand of fellowship was given by the pastor to a young lady at the close of the service. Rollin Allenbaugh sang the solo in the morning, and Miss Fanny Grainger and Miss Dorothy Hinnau, the duet at the evening service. These young people are helping what they can, to make a good and profitable service on Sunday.

The banquet last Friday night in the church parlors was well attended, about 100 were present. Old-fashioned spelling schools and guessing contests and games were the order of the evening. The Reds gave a vote of thanks to the Blues for the good time and splendid supper.

We were pleased to receive into the membership of the church, Rev. Horace E. Sayles, wife and five sons. The Young People's class are making a fine growth under the leadership of Harry Sayles.

We wish that more teachers would advertise for scholars to fill up the number sought for. Mr. Allenbaugh advertised for five last week, and got three new ones this week. Good work, boys, keep it up.

We were delighted last Sunday with our special—Miss Fannie Grainger at the piano, Marion Beyer and Gertrude Grainger with violins.

Last Sunday, we missed very much our superintendent and organist.

Glad to see our superintendent of missions is working in her subject in our Sunday-school.

New scholars are welcome at all times, and some classes are working as hard as ever.

SCHOOL NOTES

Boys' basket ball practice has started with a great deal of enthusiasm. More than 20 fellows are trying out, and there is to be real competition for every position. Fred Millard is to assist Mr. Holcomb with the coaching, and if coaching, enthusiasm, and quantity of the material can make a winning team, Plymouth will have one. New suits have been obtained, and hopes are high that the Blue and White will be the winners of the basket ball season. Five of last year's letter men are back: Wilcox, Miller, Randall and Tait. Besides these, Freydl, Doudt, Wisley and Walker, who played last year in one or more games, are out. Cook, of last year's team at Northville, is another contender.

The Four Square League schedule will open with Northville here, Jan. 21st, but other games are expected on January 7 and 14. One of these will, no doubt, be at Trenton, the other at home.

Louis Strab and Marjorie Wolf have entered the fifth grade. Elizabeth Murray re-entered school Monday.

There are fourteen girls of the High school trying for the girls' basket ball team this year. With the amount of enthusiasm displayed, the future of the team should compare very favorably with that of last year. Of course, the team this year will be practically a new one, as only two of the regular players of last year are with us. But with these two, Edith Pierce and Merle Roe as centers, we should surely be able to "put it across," all right, as they did last year. The girls out for forwards are Lenore Wright, Marion Kiely and Ione Bird; for guards, Hanna Strasen, Ila Roe, Bonnie Mueller, Wanda Schut, Fay Herick, Dorothy Freydl, Catherine Darby, Margaret Clemens and Marion Bennett. The forwards are doing very good work, and are quick, which is one of the most important requisites of a good forward. The guards are good fighters and some of them are doing very good work getting the ball and guarding their opponents. In picking the team, the competition will be close, as all of the girls are showing true basket ball spirit.

Today's Reflections

Maybe the reason the price of shirts remains so high is they use so many pins in doing up the new ones.

No wonder the average Plymouth woman's mind is clearer than a man's. She changes it oftener.

The best way to get rid of an agent is to out-talk him on the merits of his wares, even though you know you are lying.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth woman, who used to help the children say their prayers at night?

The only drawback to buying something on the installment plan is the installments.

The girl who wants to be loyal will say, when her beau hands her the Christmas present, "Thanks, did you buy it in Plymouth?"

One of the big problems with the suffragettes now is what to tackle, since they've got the ballot.

Some crops fail every year, but the crop of people who think they can run other people's business successfully never fails.

Some Plymouth men seem to go on the theory that it doesn't matter how they dress away from home, nobody knows them; and that it makes no difference how they dress at home, everybody knows them.

We've noticed that there's more notice taken of one typographical error in the paper than there is in a whole column that is correct.

The Plymouth man who insists that he knows all about repairing his own car soon finds that "a little learning is a dangerous thing."

We'll serve notice on the women right now, that if they try to put through an amendment prohibiting tobacco, we're going to come right out in the open for an anti-kissing law.

With eggs threatening to sell at 10c each, the Plymouth man who invents a way to eat half an egg at a time will have his fortune made.

Plenty of wheat, no cars; no cars, plenty of wheat. So wags the world.

MICHIGAN FARMERS WIN SHOW HONORS

MAJORITY OF PRIZES IN SMALL GRAIN CLASSES CLAIMED BY STATE GROWERS—MICHIGAN EXHIBIT WINS PRAISE.

Pulling down far more than their share of awards in all small grain classes, and scoring practically a clean sweep in certain fields, Michigan farmers exhibiting at the Chicago International Hay and Grain Show, last week, brought home the lion's share of honors. This show, which is held annually in connection with the famous International Live-stock Exposition, is the biggest crop exhibit of its kind in the country, competitors from all over the United States and Canada competing for the $10,000 prize money.

The first twenty-two awards for exhibits of rye were pulled down by Michigan growers, George Hutzler, of South Manitou, ranking first. Rye, a Michigan variety developed by the Michigan Agricultural college some years ago and now grown all over the country, took 23 of the 30 prizes awarded for rye.

Another triumph for Michigan came in the wheat judging. Red Rock wheat, developed at the M. A. C., took 9 of the 14 awards in its class.

Fine showings were made by state growers in other small grain classes, but the biggest victories were recorded in the rye and wheat fields. Charles Langhin of Three Oaks, took first corn honors for the northern district at the show, while A. W. Jewett, Jr., of Mason, won the second place in clover hay.

An educational exhibit of Michigan crops was one of the outstanding features of the entire show. This exhibit, which was prepared by the Agricultural college, showed the co-operation of the college, the Michigan Crop Improvement association, and the Seed Department of the State Farm Bureau in developing, producing and marketing fine quality seeds. An idea of the diversity and scope of Michigan crops was given by the exhibit, which attracted the attention of thousands of visitors at the big show.

J. F. Cox, head of the Crops Department at M. A. C.; A. L. Billings, secretary of the Michigan Crop Improvement association, and H. C. Rather, college extension specialist in farm crops, were in Chicago all the week in charge of the Michigan exhibits.

ONE WOMAN TOLD US

"Five minutes in the morning with an electric iron makes wash day so much lighter."

This woman realized how often blouses, frocks and even lingerie found their way into the laundry bag ahead of time, just slightly mused.

Even a hint of untidiness made dainty things un-wearable and added to the weekly washing.

Now she uses an electric iron: With just a twitch of the switch and a few moments of gentle ironing, crumpled garments become smooth and lovely—all together wearable.
