NEXT WEDNESDAY, FEB. 15 IS BARGAIN DAY IN PLYMOUTH

Under the auspices of the Publicity committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, the business men of Plymouth have inaugurated a series of bargain days to take place twice each month. The first bargain day sale will be held, Wednesday, February 15th, and two full page advertisements, announcing the big event, appear in this issue of the Mail. The big sale is bound to bring a large crowd of buyers to Plymouth next Wednesday. The business concerns are offering some real bargains that cannot help but attract the attention of every person for miles around. Almost every line of business is represented among the forty business concerns, which makes this big bargain day possible. Extra copies of the Mail will be circulated this week, so that every person within trading distance of Plymouth may know of the many attractive bargains that are advertised in today's paper.

The publicity committee of the C. of C. are anxious that every person in Plymouth and surrounding territory know of the first bargain day that has been planned and arranged under their supervision, and to this end ask every person who has the welfare of Plymouth at heart to cooperate with them in making these special bargain days a success. Don't forget that Wednesday, February 15th is the day set for the first bargain day. Read the advertisements over carefully, and then make a list of the articles you are going to buy, and it will make your shopping easy. Come early and stay all day.

The business men of Plymouth and the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce cordially invite you to the first bargain day event of this kind ever staged in Plymouth. Tell your friends and neighbors about it too.

LARGE CROWD AT FIRST SUNDAY MOVIE

Next Sunday evening, the management have booked another of the big film successes, "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks as the star. This picture is being shown in all the leading theatres of the country, where it has been witnessed by great crowds of people, and has received flattering notices from the press.

The regular meeting of the Busy Women's Bible Class will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Baker, 139 Amelia street, next Tuesday, February 14. A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon. The ladies are requested to bring thimbles, needles and scissors.

Friends here have received word of the death of Dr. J. A. Kimmell, who died at his home in Findley, Ohio, Wednesday, February 1st. The deceased was 76 years of age and had been in failing health for some time. Funeral was held Saturday, February 4th.

PRIMARY ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY

The village primary election takes place next Tuesday, February 14th. The primary is held to nominate four candidates for the office of village commissioner, two of whom are to be elected at the annual election in March. The following are the candidates: Daniel F. Murray, George H. Wilcox, William J. Burrows, Karl W. Hilmer, William B. Wilske, William G. Jennings.

NEW STORE WILL HAVE FORMAL OPENING

H. W. Hovey has opened his new confectionery store in the Tighe building on Penniman avenue, formerly occupied by Woodworth Bros. Mr. Hovey certainly has a clean, up-to-date place. The store has been redecorated and modern fixtures installed, which include a fine soda fountain. Mr. Hovey will also serve light lunches, which is a feature of the new store that will be appreciated in this end of the village. He will use the rear of the building for the manufacture of candy. The formal opening of the new store occurs Saturday, February 11th.

ENJOYABLE EVENT

A goodly number attended the regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star held in Masonic hall last Tuesday evening. A short program has been one of the features of the business meetings for the past few months, and has caused considerable interest. At the conclusion of the business session, the members were invited to join in singing several old favorite songs. C. H. Rauch leading, and Miss Hall at the piano. A recitation, "Memory," by Elizabeth Murray, was enjoyed; also two piano selections by Corinne Howell. A pantomime play, "En Costume," "The Old Maid's Tea Party," created merriment, the following ladies participating, Mrs. Clyde Alexander, Mrs. C. G. Draper, Mrs. E. E. Gies, Mrs. Karl Hillmer, Mrs. William Freyman and Miss Anna Baker; Mrs. L. B. Samsen accompanying on the piano. Home-made candies and popcorn were served.

PROMINENT PLYMOUTH LADY PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Hulda Merritt Knapp was born August 29, 1856, in Livonia township, on what is known as the Charles Greenlaw farm, and early last Sunday morning, February 5th, God took her to be with Himself and her many loved ones in the Glory Land. Her childhood was mostly spent in Flint and South Haven. When a young woman she moved to Saginaw, where in June, 1904, she was married to Dr. E. R. Knapp, after whose death in 1910, she moved to Plymouth, locating at 1043 Penniman avenue. In this home, surrounded by friends and the flowers she loved so well, she spent the last ten happy years. Her mother, who before her marriage was Miss Sarah A. Sly, died when Mrs. Knapp was in her second year, and her father, Rev. A. C. Merritt, died nearly twelve years ago, at the age of 79 years, and their bodies lie here in Plymouth, awaiting the resurrection.

Mrs. Knapp was active in the Baptist church, with which she identified herself in early life; in the W. C. T. U., the Eastern Star and the Woman's Club.

She is survived by four brothers and two sisters, Charles S. of Plymouth; Walter H. of Chicago; William T. of Everett, Washington, and Ellen, Kate B. and H. Ernest of South Haven, all of whom but Ellen and William were present at the funeral.

Funeral services were held from the Baptist church, Tuesday morning, at 10:30, the pastor, Rev. H. E. Sayles conducting the services. The remains were taken on the afternoon train to Saginaw, where the interment took place.

CHORAL SOCIETY MEET

A meeting of the Plymouth Choral society and friends was held at the High school, last Wednesday evening. A charming musical program given by two members of the faculty and two pupils of the Ypsilanti Conservatory was enjoyed before the meeting. Beginning next Monday evening, rehearsals of the Choral Society will be held once every week at the High school, in preparation for a concert to be given later. On account of this, new members cannot be enrolled after next Monday night. A regular weekly attendance at rehearsals is more desired by the director, to give the best results, than a splendid quality of the individual's voice. If you wish to join the Choral Society come to the rehearsal next Monday evening, or call Mrs. William Bake, secretary, and signify your intention of becoming a member. A very small fee will be charged for music and expenses.

Mrs. Celia Wooster of South Lyon, called on Mrs. William Smith, last Saturday afternoon. She was accompanied home by Ernest Smith, who visited relatives there over Sunday.

IT'S GROWING STRONGER

Government statistics for the past year show that the much-talked-of "back to the farm" movement is growing stronger. There was a falling off during the year in the number of boys who gave up farm life for the glare of city lights and the noise of city streets. The heavy salaries paid during the war in the cities of the land began to drop last year, and boys who had deserted the size of Plymouth, and those who had quit the farms for fancy salaries began to return to their old homes. Not only that, but the boys who hadn't left, but were wishing for an opportunity, changed their minds when they saw wages commence to tumble. The tendency of farm boys and girls to enter agricultural colleges was greater in 1921, too, than for a long time, and they gave the back-to-the-farm movement added strength. For it proves that at last our boys and girls are commencing to realize that slowly but surely the best paying jobs—and the ones that carry the most happiness—are not to be found where life is the "fastest" and gayest.

PLYMOUTH TEAMS ENTER STATE JUDGING CONTEST

Last week Thursday, ten members of the local school agricultural classes went to East Lansing, to take part in the judging contests held at the Michigan Agricultural College during Farmers' Week. The contests in live stock, grain and fruit judging were open to all the vocational schools of agriculture in the state, and about twenty schools were represented, out of a total of seventy. Over 200 entries were made in the three contests, and competition was of the keenest.

Over 100 contestants in stock judging placed the individual animals in rings of Jersey and Shorthorn cows, Duroc-Jersey hogs, mutton sheep and draft horses, each contestant being given 15 minutes to make his placings and give his reasons. Plymouth was represented here by Duane Sayles, Carl Aah and Lawrence and Herbert Miller, the same team which won the Northville contest last fall.

In grain judging, 90 contestants placed samples of wheat, corn, rye, oats and potatoes in much the same way. Plymouth was represented here by Alton Sayles, Lawrence Holmes, Clifford Cochran, Iris Palmer and Ruth Wilkin.

In fruit judging, five plates each of Northern Spy and Baldwin apples were placed, and 20 varieties identified. This was the first time a fruit judging contest has been held, and only about 30 contestants entered. Plymouth was represented by the grain judging team and also Duane Sayles, Lawrence Miller and Harold Rucker.

With so many contestants, it was impossible to make the results known at once, but notice of the outcome is expected by next week. After the contests, all the representatives of the various schools were entertained at a banquet at the Peoples' church of East Lansing, after which they listened to short talks by Mrs. Dora Stockman of the State Board of Agriculture, Prof. E. L. Grover, who has sponsored the state contests, and Mr. E. E. Gallup, the state Supervisor of Agricultural Education.

The trip was made by automobile and the expenses were borne by the High school "Aggie Club." The contestants were accompanied on the trip by Mr. Holcomb, instructor in agriculture; Mr. William Sutherland, of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Harry Miller. Everyone reported a most enjoyable time for every minute of the trip, and it is hoped that it may become an annual event with the students of the Plymouth High school.

PRESBYTERIAN PARAGRAPHS

In a certain case dealing with the enforcement of the Sabbath law, (State vs. O'Rourke, 35 Neb. 614) the learned chief justice used the following language: "The law, both human and divine, being thus in favor of abstaining from 'sporting,' etc., on Sunday, is a reasonable requirement and should be enforced. The deliberate violation of such a law, there is reason to believe, in many cases, is but the commencement of a series of offences that lead to immorality and ruin; and in any event, the influence upon the participants themselves has a tendency to break down the moral sense and make them less worthy citizens. The State has an interest in their welfare, and may prevent their violation of the law."

"The State, in order to prevent vice and immorality, may punish licentiousness, gambling of all kinds, the keeping of lottery, enticing minors to gamble, or to permit one under eighteen years of age to remain in a billiard room; to punish publishing, keeping, selling or giving away any obscene, indecent or lascivious paper, book or picture. The law also punishes the disturber of a religious meeting, school meeting, election, etc."

"These cases show the importance felt by the legislature of evils of the kind named, and others by means of which, in addition to wrongs inflicted on the persons injured, a spirit of insubordination is created and fostered, which incites to evil, and tends to subvert the just and equal rights of some or all. In addition to this, every person has the right to the quiet and peace of a day of rest. He has also a right to the enforcement of the law, so that the evil example of a defiance of the law shall not be set before his children. The State has an interest in their welfare also, that they may become useful citizens, and worthy and honorable members of society."

Baptist Notes

The Sunday-school orchestra gave us some fine music on Sunday. The special was much enjoyed by all. They also assisted the chorus of twenty-five voices in the evening service.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. Joseph Stanley on North Mill street on Wednesday afternoon. They are planning another community supper to be served at the church parlors on February 22nd. Make all your plans to be there. It will be worth while.

The cottage prayer meeting on Wednesday was held at the home of Mrs. Daly on Holbrook avenue. William Beers, who lives on Warren avenue, south of Plymouth, was leader. The subject was, "Man in the Bible You Most Admire."

Miss Alta Hamill led the B. Y. P. U. meeting, last Sunday. The subject, "Consecration." Henry Holcomb, read a dissertation of an ideal society of one of the Chicago churches, giving plans to enlarge the work of any society.

We are again called to mourn the loss of an esteemed member of our church. For many years Mrs. Knapp has supplied the pulpit with flowers, both summer and winter, giving cheer and brightness to the room. As a member she seldom missed her place at the right of the platform from the speaker's stand. Her interest also in the W. C. T. U. was marked. Last year she was president of the organization, and was very earnest in its work. The Literary club will also miss her smiling face and quaint sayings, as will also the Eastern Star, of which she was a member.

STILL BIND FEET

Chinese Have Not Given Up Practice of Centuries.

Wearing of Quases and Footbinding Are Institutions of High Importance in the "Flowery Land."

Through the writings and reports of foreign observers most of us have recently been induced to believe that all Chinese men have cut off their queues and that little girls and women are no longer subjected to the tortures of footbinding. But neither of these things is true.

It is true that there are not many queues left in the cities in which there is a strong foreign influence, nor are there many high-class Chinese anywhere who continue to cling to this one time so highly valued adornment; but if you would know something about the uncompromising attitude of the people as a whole you must get together, as I did, a little cart caravan and strike out into the railroadless and newspaperless interior.

On many a day's journey across country, through villages and towns and considerable cities, you would not see a single short head and all your ears about the awakening and the rejuvenation of China would find themselves hopelessly at variance with an incapable conclusion that anything in the nature of an actual change in this amazing land will probably take place in a too gradual way to be currently observable.

As for the cruel practice of binding the feet of little girls, I need only say that on a journey in the spring of this year I covered a large part of Shantung and Southern Chih-li, and except in Christian mission schools did not see one single little girl over 9 years of age with unbound feet. And a little girl with newly bound feet is a most pitiable creature. As she grows older either she begins to get used to the agony or her developing vanity helps her to bear it. But when she is a little girl, just emerged from footless childhood, the thing she is compelled to live through is not to be described.

She will sit for days on end and do nothing but cry—unto herself, as it were—softly, helplessly, hopelessly. And when she staggers out to play she stumps around on her heels, holding her little bound toes up, and one is likely to observe her at any moment giving way to a spasm of unbearable pain. It probably is the most dreadful thing in the world. But, strange as it may seem, a 4-inch foot is still an asset to a Chinese woman.

To be sure, the modern cities are filled with modern women with big feet—Nos. 2 or 3 at most, ordinarily, because the feet of Chinese women are naturally small—and such women even become proficient in modern dancing and may be seen in cabarets and fashionable restaurants froxtrotting, two-stepping and even toddling to American jazz music with smart young men from the universities, but the mass of the people has not ceased even in China to make up the bulk of the population, and the bulk of the Chinese population is still steeped in the traditions of millenniums past.—Eleanor Franklin Egan in the Saturday Evening Post.

Carbon Black.

In spite of the fact that West Virginia's output showed a great decrease for 1920, it still remains the leading state in the production of carbon black. West Virginia is followed in order by Louisiana, Wyoming, Montana, Kentucky, and Pennsylvania. Louisiana, however, is making great advances in the production of carbon black, and its output may soon exceed that of West Virginia. There is less demand in Louisiana for natural gas for fuel, but in West Virginia and Pennsylvania the consumers have demanded that the supply be reserved for domestic use. This fact, together with the development of large supplies in Louisiana and Wyoming, has caused the carbon-black industry to move to states where there is at present little demand for natural gas.

Carbon black is a fluffy, velvety black pigment, frequently confused with lampblack, which is gray in color and which is produced from oil or other carbonaceous material. For many of its uses carbon black is superior to lampblack in quality, but for some uses, as for certain pigments in paints, lampblack is superior.

A Parrot's Feat.

After being in captivity for twenty-three years a parrot at Shrewsbury has performed the feat of laying an egg.

Capt. B. C. Elwell of Granville street, Copthorne, Shrewsbury, England, brought home a parrot from west Africa twenty-three years ago and it is now in the keeping of his brother-in-law, S. Lawrence Corbett, assistant clerk to Shrewsbury borough education committee.

Parrots lay up to the age of thirty. They are long-lived birds. The death of one at the age of one hundred and nineteen took place recently in Australia.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Unrest.

"Do you have much trouble with constituents who want jobs under the government?" "Not as much as I used to," replied Senator Sorghum. "Most of the pathetic appeals now come from people who have been working for the government and who want me to get them a chance at the kind of salaries paid in private employment."

A Judicious Inquiry.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know it always cures. There is no less danger in giving it and for cold, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.—Advertisement.

BASKET BALL GAMES

Girls' Basket Ball Game

The girls played on the Wayne floor, Friday, winning 29 to 11. The score at the end of the first quarter was 7 to 4 in Plymouth's favor.

Neither side really got into the game until the beginning of the second quarter. Wayne did not seem to be able to make the baskets at first, as they had the ball as much as the Plymouth girls. The latter could have made a much larger score if the forwards had made a majority of the baskets that they shot for during the first part of the game. During the second quarter the forwards played a little better, making nine baskets. The beginning of the second half the ball was kept under the Plymouth basket the greater part of the time, giving the opposing team just one field basket with two foul throws, but of the foul shots thrown, the Plymouth forwards made one out of eight and the Wayne forwards made three out of fourteen. Dorothy Freydel, Plymouth's jumping center, was put out of the game during the last quarter on account of five technical fouls. The line-up, baskets and fouls were:

Wayne—Taylor, R. F., 2 foul throws, 3 field throws; 2 technical fouls. Truedell, L. F., 3 field throws, 1 foul throw. Colburn, J. C., Dittmar, S. C., 1 personal foul. Nichols, R. G., 1 technical foul. Hermar, L. G., 2 personal, 1 technical fouls. Plymouth—Kiely, R. F., 1 foul throw, 10 field throws, 2 personal fouls. Amrhein, L. F., 7 field throws, 1 personal foul. Shuts, L. C., 5 technical fouls. Hake, J. C., Kidder, S. C., 1 technical foul. Mueller, R. G., 2 personal, 1 technical fouls. Shuts, L. G., 1 technical foul. Referee—Venus Walker of Ypsilanti Normal.

Salem vs. Young Men's Club

The "Rocks" played their fourth basket ball game of the season at Wayne last Friday night against the team of that town. Before the game, the lads from the "Rocky soil" were confident that they had a good chance of winning. They took the floor with the best lineup they have shown this season and they at once demonstrated that they are still to be feared by all teams in the league. During the first quarter and almost up to the half, they showed as good basket ball as any team in the league has shown this season. The score at the end of the first half was a little in Wayne's favor.

During the "resting period," the "Rocks" must have seen a bear or maybe they saw the whole zoo, at any rate, it was plain to see that they were not the same. Something was decidedly wrong. They could not get under way and at the end of the third quarter it was plain to see that they were deeply mired in the mud. From then on, it was a matter of how accurate Wayne's center and forwards were at throwing goals unguarded.

Wayne has what is probably the poorest basket ball court in the league because of the low ceiling. Because of this, it was almost impossible for Doudt and Stevens to throw any long throws, this keeping Plymouth's score down.

The game from start to finish was exceedingly rough but it must be noted that the roughness was all on the part of the Wayne players and not on the part of the Plymouth players. Doudt especially used good sense when he did not try to return "a little love pat" which one of the Wayne players gave him. The Wayne player was put out of the game for this little act of "friendship." It was very prominent at Wayne to notice how the town people back their team, not only in attendance, but also in their yells. They do not listen to the student body give them but they join in, this giving great volume to all their yells. Northville plays here tonight and the team needs support of the townspeople as well as the support of the student body. Let the slogan be "Come and yell for Plymouth."

Boys' Basket Ball Game

The game was a continuous fight and full of pep from the beginning to the end. Salem team work was superior to Plymouth. Salem, being unable to get their hall for practice last week, lost their game by not being able to shoot baskets when the ball was in their territory. Cook, taking the ball from Salem's territory into our own was the cause of most of the baskets made by Plymouth, the final score was 27 to 11, in Plymouth's favor.

The Young Men's Club is working on a new system of signals. They proved to work good in the Salem games, so they expect to have a more successful season than they did at the start.

Wayne plays their return game on February 17th. Plymouth was defeated when they played at Wayne, but they expect to turn the tables when Wayne plays here. If you miss the game, you will be missing the best game of the season, so don't fall to be there.

Fouls and goals for Plymouth were: Schrader—3 goal throws; 1 personal foul, Burch—7 goal throws, 2 field goals, 2 personal fouls, 1 technical foul, Cook—2 goal throws, 2 personal fouls, 1 technical foul, Wollgast—1 personal foul, Hanchett—3 personal fouls, 1 technical foul.

Occasionally we run across a Plymouth man who will confess one bad habit in the hope of hiding a dozen others.

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and sympathy, for the many beautiful floral offerings, and for the automobiles furnished, during our sad bereavement; also we wish to thank the choir for the singing rendered, and Reverend Mr. Seyles for his comforting words.

Walter E. Kingsley, Ira Kingsley, Louis, Riley, Harry and Charles Wolfson.

Methodist Matters

A group conference is to be held all day next Tuesday at the Northville church. It will be an echo meeting of the splendid conference held at Chelsea last week. Dr. Keeler, a forceful speaker and a returned missionary from China, will be present; also other notables who will help to make the meeting one of interest and profit. A large number of folks from Plymouth church will be in attendance. The conference opens at 10:00 a. m.

The feature film for next Monday night is a winner. If you have just a bit of feeling around your heart for some of the old-time songs; if you want to see something that will bring back the smiles and drive away the frowns, come to see "The Old Oaken Bucket," next Monday night. This six-reel drama of the heart is the story of "The Old Oaken Bucket" acted out in picture. It charms by the sweet simplicity of its story, and appeals by its rare beauty. Such is the verdict, wherever it has been shown, and it is one of the real popular pictures. A one-reel comedy will also be shown. No charge for admission, simply a free-will offering at the door. We are running these shows purely for the entertainment of the people of this community.

The Missionary Societies met at the home of Mrs. H. A. Spicer, last Wednesday. It was the day for the opening of the foreign mite boxes. Mrs. Nagle led the Study Book discussion.

Mrs. Kenter's Division is holding a rummage sale this week. See other announcements.

The Ladies' Aid society has postponed its meeting one week. It should have been held next Wednesday. Will be held Feb. 22nd.

Mrs. Kenter's Division will give an entertainment at the church, next Wednesday evening. It will be in the nature of an excursion. You will surely want to be there.

The pastor is contemplating taking up the study of the book, "John Wesley, Jr.," at the prayer meeting circle on Thursday nights. The Teacher Training Class still meets at 8:00, following prayer meeting.

Subject for Sunday night's sermon discussion, "A Bull-Dog or a Bull-Frog."

The Epworth League Mission Study contest is in full swing. Better be on hand Sunday evening.

The Sunday moving picture show is unlawful, unfair, and strikes at the very foundation of christian civilization. Go to church next Sunday and find out more about this matter.

IN-GAME OF LIFE

Success Means That One Must Make All Sacrifices, Keeping in Mind the Great Object.

If you desire to be an expert in the game of life, you must concentrate on your aim as an expert chess or baseball player concentrates on his play and game. Babe Ruth's skill lies in the fact that he has studied batting and great batters. Napoleon's tremendous power lay in his ability to sacrifice everything which conflicted with the one unwavering aim. Nothing could stand in his way—society, friends, wife and amusements—everything must give way to his mighty ambition. To succeed, we must pay the price and sacrifice—a sacrifice a great many things we are fond of for the great aim and ambition in life.

Life is usually what we make it, and we get out of life just what we put in it. Many great men in life have made good and were handicapped from the start. Voltaire, with his many fits in childhood, ill all his life; Pope sewed up in a canvas jacket each morning, that he might sit up for his work; Caesar with fits; Keats, sickly, a consumptive; Poe, yet with all these things against them, they had the grit to persevere until they made good. Gypsy Smith, coming from a gypsy tent, with the use of a Bible and dictionary, has made good as a great evangelist.

A man must play to win and overcome everything that would deter his progress. Sacrifice makes great men. John Forsythe, who was the owner of a large leather company, was hurt with a number of his men. When the ambulance came, that would only carry three, Forsythe said: "These men must go first," although he was more severely injured. Sir Robert Sidney, on the battlefield, pushed away the cup of water, making a wounded private drink his share. He knew he must die, but he died knowing that even the love of life had not conquered in his soul. He realized that the rule of life, others must come first.

Really great men have self-confidence. It is true, great men fail to accomplish what they set out to do; but, in the main, they succeeded. The timorous man only wags his empty head, and says it can't be done. Bill McAully is a type of man that can can the can't. A few years ago there was a riot in a little Texas town. The sheriff sent an S O S call to the governor. The governor wired back: "Rangers en route." The sheriff anxiously met the trail. One lonely ranger (Bill McAully) got off. The sheriff threw up his hands in despair. "Oh, Lord, where is the rest of your outfit?" he cried. "Rest, h—!" replied Bill, as he carelessly took a big chew of tobacco. "You ain't got but one riot here, have you?" This is the kind of timber and confidence that it takes to reach the top and win the game of life.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Germes Combat Paralysis

It is reported that rather remarkable results in the treatment of general paralysis have been obtained in Hamburg, Germany, by inoculating the patient with the germs of malaria and recurrent fever. Professor Weygandt made this announcement concerning his experiments at a recent meeting of the Hamburg Medical association:

"As a result, the remissions and the improvement were much more marked than they had been previously, when the cases were left untreated or were treated by the older methods. In the 50 cases treated for from four to 22 months, the following results were secured:

"Ability to resume duties of calling, 2 per cent; partial resumption of calling, 22 per cent; ability to work at something, 10 per cent; ability to work part time, 6 per cent; domiciliary care now sufficient, 22 per cent; no improvement, 10 per cent; progressively worse, 2 per cent.

"Accordingly, there was a remission in 88 per cent and a marked remission in 48 per cent. The neurologic and senologic improvement was not equal to the clinical and practical progress."

Where Her Thoughts Went

"A tall, blonde, handsome fellow, just returned from 'over there' came in quite frequently to see my boss and naturally I became interested in him.

One day, during dictation, while my boss was deciding what to say, my thoughts became centered around this young man, whom, for convenience, I will call Mr. Smith.

"At this juncture my employer said, 'Will you please read what I have said so far?'"

"And to my discomfort and his intense amusement I said, 'Referring to attached letter from Mr. Smith'—instead of the correct name.

He laughed and said, 'So that's where your thoughts are, young woman.'—Chicago Tribune.

Out West

"Is that a genuine cowboy?" "Yes, you can always tell 'em by the cactus spines a-clinging to their jeans."

"I see. Out here the chaparral proclaims the man."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SLANDERS ON MANY RACES

The origin of national slanders is a mystery. Some one starts them, others continue them, and the rest of us accept them as gospel, and give them further currency.

Englishmen are alleged to be super-shy and reserved. Our life on an island is said to be responsible. Rubbish! We have been, and are, the biggest travelers of all nations, observes a writer in London Answers. If Englishmen were shy and reserved they wouldn't have been the pioneers in colonization, empire building, conquest, commerce, and the like.

As a matter of fact, the average Englishman is supersocialable, and if any proof of that is needed it is to be found in the fact that this country is par excellence, the home of sport. Sport demands sociability. Imagine a tennis boom among "super-shy, reserved" people!

Scotmen are alleged to be mean-uncle careful w/ the barbees. Thousands of jokes have been built upon that slander. But, as a matter of fact, the Scot, as all who have had to do with him know, is extraordinarily generous and kind-hearted. Ask the treasurer of any hospital. There's the test.

The Irish are doubly slandered. They are alleged to be a gay, witty race, carefree and careless. This is a slander. The Irish are a sad people. All their beautiful melodies are in a minor key. "Irish humor" doesn't really exist. The Irish are really intensely serious. And as to being "careless," it is a fact that they are thrifty, clean, and supermarial.

The French are supposed to be irresponsible and excitable. An obvious slander, which the great war killed—or ought to have killed.

Then there is the "wily, unspokeable" Turk. For a fact, he is about as simple as they make 'em! The Dutch are alleged to be "stolid," and all that the term implies. It's a slander for the Dutch are very much all there! The tale might be continued, but the result would be the same, whether dealing with the "cute" Yankee, the "emotional" Welshman, the "treacherous" Spaniard, or the "gay" Italian. Slanders all!

Meiba Gives Way to Youth

Mme. Meiba said at the close of a concert in Australia, a Melbourne dispatch reports, that she must now make room for younger singers.

Meiba made her debut in Melbourne (her birthplace) when she was 6 years old. Owing to her father's opposition she sang only once more in public before her marriage. She was considered in those days to have greater talent as a pianist than as a singer.

When she was 20 years old she went to England, where Sir Arthur Sullivan told her: "In a year I'll put you in the 'Mikado' if your performance accords with your promise." Within a short time, however, she was a brilliant success in grand opera.

Her career in London began May 24, 1888, with a performance of "Lucia." Meiba is reputed to be very wealthy. Her jewelry alone is said to be worth $1,000,000.

Carries Aid to Miners

Because the California mines are inaccessible to the standard mine safety railroad car, a special rescue truck has been provided by congress for that state, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The car seats ten men and carries an oxygen-breathing apparatus for each man; a supply of oxygen totaling 900 cubic feet, distributed in six cylinders, two oxygen inhalators; ten safety lamps, two army stretchers; an ample supply of regenerating material; caustic soda and sodium hydroxide, for use in oxygen breathing apparatus; a high-pressure power pump, to pump oxygen into the bottles for the breathing apparatus; a complete first-aid kit, and a 1,000-foot life line. Gas masks are not included, since they have been found useless in mine fire.

Wonderful Liberality!

Passengers in one of the sleeping cars from Hot Springs were aroused before daylight recently by the announcement of one of the passengers that he had lost his 11-carat ruby stickpin, which he asserted was worth $10,800 or more.

On demand of the passenger a telegram was sent to the St. Louis police. When policemen met the train at Union station they were informed that the pin had been found by the porter in an upper berth, a few seats from the lower which the Little Rock man occupied. The owner said the mistake was his, and gave the porter a quarter for finding the pin.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Sanctifier State Reflection

The thing that made me sick on my motor trip this summer, was the thought that after we are dead and gone the next generation will have good roads.—Manchester Mercury.

Today's Reflections

Some fellows contend that prohibition is only a joke, but a lot of other fellows are proving that it's a business.

They say the cost of living is changing, but to us it still costs all that we have.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who was always saying to his neighbors in Plymouth, that "it ain't the money, it's the principle of the thing."

The worst thing about jazz and chewing gum is the sound.

Now that mothers can vote, the candidates don't seem to be doing so much baby kissing.

No bug worries the farmers of this great nation half so much as the humbug.

The Plymouth man who is always complaining that his neighbors don't understand him ought to be glad of it.

We have all eaten sponge cake in our lives that tasted very much as though the cook had rotten hold of the wrong sponge.

Let the bootleggers alone. If they weren't bootlegging that they might be writing poetry for the newspapers.

The Buick Disc Clutch is the Great War Tank Clutch

These monstrous, powerful war tanks, plowing their way through swamp and forest—over trench, embankment and shell hole—battering their way through every obstacle—required above all things a clutch absolutely positive, dependable, and easy to operate.

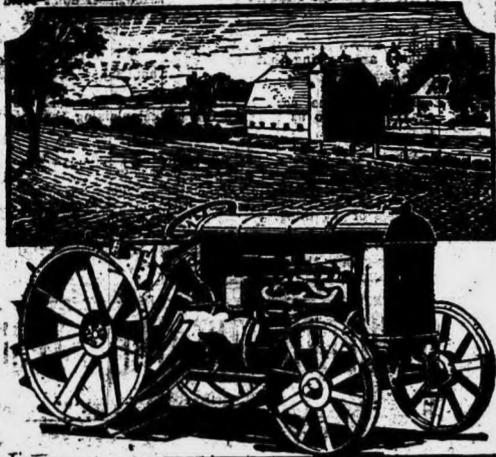

This is the clutch that is used in Buick cars. It provides the same certainty and safety either for ordinary service or unforeseen emergency.

This disc clutch is a development of twenty years of consistent effort. Rome was not built in a day—neither is a perfected clutch.

FORD SENDS RADIO MESSAGE TO DEALERS

The first announcement of the big cut in the price of the Fordson tractor was made through Henry Ford's radio message, Thursday evening, January 26th, from the Dearborn Radio Station to Ford dealers attending a Fordson Tractor Industrial Show in Cleveland, Ohio. The contents of his talk, which was very plainly heard in Cleveland and surrounding districts, is quoted below:

"It is certainly wonderful to sit here in my office and say a few words of greeting to you Ford dealers of the Cleveland territory. The radio is an outstanding tribute to man's inventive genius. They say there is nothing new under the sun, but we are constantly inventing new things, every day bringing some big improvement over the previous day's methods.

"Manufacturing operations have undergone some wonderful revolutionary changes during the past few years. We are all familiar with the big improvements in transportation methods, but the oldest industry has been the most backward in the acceptance or adoption of the new and up-to-date methods of doing things, and that is the farming industry. Being a farmer, I am vitally interested in all farm improvements, and with this in mind, I have spent years of time and millions of money in the development of the Fordson tractor, which I really think is one of the biggest possible helps to profitable farming.

"As a general thing, the farmers have bettered their financial condition during the past 18 months, but the production costs of farm products are still too close to selling prices to allow fair margins of profit. What the farmer must do to put his business on a paying basis is to lower the cost of planting, cultivating, and harvesting of his crops. This alone will increase his profits, and with this thought in mind it has been our constant aim to lower the price of the Fordson tractor, so that every farmer in the land could afford to own one. It is a pleasure therefore, to announce thru you Ford dealers that we have today decided that the tractor price should again be reduced, and in considering a reduction, naturally my thought has been to make it possible for the largest number of farmers to share in the benefits to be derived thru the use of our tractor, and consequently tomorrow, January 27th, 1922, the new price of the Fordson tractor will be $395.00, F. O. B. Detroit. This is a cut of $230.00 off the present price, and while in making this big reduction we have taken upon ourselves a gigantic task in the reduction of manufacturing costs, still that task, in my opinion, is not larger than the farmer's problem of today, and I am glad to do my part in bringing about a period of increased prosperity for the farmer. Your part is to carry this message to the farmer, thereby enabling him to produce more with less cost and shorter hours.

"I am glad to have had this opportunity of talking with you and you have my best wishes."

Episcopal Notes

Franklin L. Gibson gave a very inspiring and helpful address, last Sunday morning, on "God's Love," taking his text from 1 Samuel 16:14. The church service was bright and there was quite a large congregation. In the course of his address Mr. Gibson spoke on the movement being put forth in Plymouth protesting against the movie show on Sunday evenings. He for one wished it placed on record his disapproval of Sunday shows, and he urged his congregation individually to seriously consider the movement.

Sidney Strong was asked last Sunday morning to explain the movement and the results of the committee's investigations in regard to teaching the bible in the public schools. Mr. Strong, who is one of the committee and who recently paid a visit to Royal Oak, where the system is in force, gave a very interesting account of the committee's investigations. The congregation appeared to be in favor of such a system, and as it will involve a certain outlay or financial quota for St. John's parish, the matter will be decided and we hoped passed, at the next vestry meeting.

The Ladies' Guild will meet this week at the home of Mrs. Annie Henderson on Wing street, for a social afternoon tea. Each lady is requested to bring a friend.

It has been decided that in the future the president of the Ladies' Guild shall attend all the vestry meetings. This is an excellent plan, as the voice and opinion of the Guild will be taken into consideration in cooperation with the vestry's decision.

Next week will be Fathers' and Sons' Week, and we are going to put by one evening convenient to all for a supper in the Grange hall, and Mr. Gibson wants everyone of the congregation to bring a male friend. The date of the supper will be announced on Sunday.

In the course of a week or two, the Detroit Edison Electric Company will have a gang of men in Plymouth trimming trees. They will go over the streets where the Edison people have wires and generally look after their circuits. The work will be under the supervision of a graduate forestry engineer from the University of Michigan who thoroughly understands his business. They will assure the Plymouth citizens that this trimming will be no haphazard tree butchering, but will be done to the benefit of the trees.

The building outlook in Plymouth for this year has every promise to be as great as that of 1921. Many people are beginning to talk building plans, which is very encouraging for the further growth and progress of Plymouth. During 1921 about forty-five new houses were erected, which is a very good showing when the general conditions of business and finances is taken into consideration. With the reduction in prices of building material, many people who have been holding off from building, will no doubt plan to build the coming season.

ADMISSION—10c and 20c

VILLAGE COMMISSION RECEIVE PETITIONS

At a special meeting of the village commission, held last week Thursday evening, petitions containing about 400 names were received by the commission, protesting against the showing of motion pictures in Plymouth on Sunday, at the local theatre. The commission instructed the village manager to place the matter before the prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, expressing their desire that the prosecutor take the necessary legal steps to enforce the state law governing the same.

The commission also instructed the manager to ask the village attorney to draft an ordinance regulating and licensing moving picture theatres in Plymouth.

At the regular meeting of the commission held Monday evening, this ordinance was presented and given its first and second readings. The ordinance provides for a nominal annual license fee to be charged, and also provides that theatres shall not be open from 12 o'clock on Saturday night until Monday morning at eight o'clock. There are also other provisions. A period of fifteen days must elapse before the third and final reading can be given.

Petitions are now being circulated protesting against the passage of this ordinance. The whole village has been aroused over the matter, and the final outcome will be watched with interest.

Flag With a History.

The flag that waved over the capitol building in Washington while the national congress was passing necessary legislation during the troubled days of the World war and which flew more joyfully on November 11, 1918, the day the armistice was signed, was unfurled on Armistice day this year over the state capitol of Connecticut in Hartford. The flag was presented to Connecticut by former Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass in appreciation of that state's having under the best record in the last Liberty loan campaign Connecticut raised 149.85 per cent of its quota, with Michigan second, credited with 135.35 per cent.

Rambo's Ramblers rambled into a tie for first place. The hootch the Moonshiners handed out was not strong enough.

Burley's Bums refused to feed on the Prunes. The table was set right for three helpings, but one helping seemed to be enough. No hungry Bums in town.

The Fish were too cunning for the Dubs, too. They would not nibble, eh? Dibble?

PRODUCT OF MANY BRAINS

More than two thousand years ago a barber in Alexandria discovered that in moving his mirror air was forced through the tubes which were common in mirrors at that time. This caused a curious musical sound to be emitted.

So struck was he by this peculiarity that he set about making an instrument which was the foundation of the modern organ.

After several experiments he made a water-flute, in which air was forced by bellows through an inverted cone which fed to flutes controlled by a keyboard, the pressure being kept uniform by water.

After a thousand years a rival instrument made its appearance. This was a similar pattern, but, instead of water, weights regulated the pressure.

In 1851 an organ was erected at Winchester, England. It had twenty-six bellows and ten pipes to each key. The two men who sat at the keyboard "blew and sweated" enormously.

Later, a firm of organ makers in Germany succeeded in erecting the first really big instrument. The primary stops did not differ very much from those of today, although various novelties were introduced.

Among the innovations were the nightingale and cuckoo stops, while others represented cock-crowing and goat-bleating. Though these novelties have now fallen into disuse, an organ with one of these nightingale stops is still to be seen in Rome.

It was not until the Nineteenth century that the problem of the regulation of air pressures was solved by the introduction of the hydraulic blower.

Virgin Land in the North.

For 132 years white men have been traveling the Mackenzie river route to the Arctic, yet that stream flows through a land the possibilities of which are as yet unrealized. Vast stretches of forest reach away to every horizon. Great lakes and rivers swarm with fish. Untapped mineral wealth abounds. Yet in more than a million square miles of vast possibilities are to be found not more than 5,000 people, and of that 5,000 perhaps 250 are white.

Here to the north lies a vast, undeveloped expanse of untold resources. It is the least developed land of North America, furnishing now only a few barrels of fur each year. Iron, gold, and copper abound. Oil may be there in quantity. Great veins of coal are often visible along the river banks, where some of them have been burning since before Mackenzie first traversed the river that bears his name.

Development of this land must come. How long will it be before cities stand where now are trading posts? How long before railroads make mere memories of the steam packets of the Mackenzie?—Lawthorne Daniel in the World's Work.

Never Too Old to Dance.

It is a fact, dancing masters of the fashionable world say, that the English dance craze has reached such a height that septuagenarians are among their most enthusiastic pupils.

"And they do very well, too," one of these toddling tutors declares. "Some of them come for the sake of exercise, not with the idea of swooning in the ball room. But they insist, invariably, on being taught the latest thing, even though they claim to view the dancing class as a sort of modern gymnasium."

"When they take to the cafes or ball rooms, however, they strengthen their domestic ties, for mother, whatever her age, is becoming keener than ever on dancing."

"The modern husband, whatever his age, doesn't murmur when he has to take up dancing. That is the only way he can keep 'em eye on his wife."

Not to Say Travail.

That afternoon he had bought a copy of Roger's "Thesaurus" without which the literary life is more vexatious—From "The Betsy Bunch," p. 88. Even with it, though, the literary life is often mental suffering, pain, doubt, ache, smart, displeasure, dissatisfaction, discomfort, discomposure, inquietude, malaise, inquietude, dejection, annoyance, irritation, worry, infidelity, visitation, plague, bore, bother, step, mortification, chagrin, care, anxiety, solicitude, trouble, trial, ordeal, care, dole, fret, burden, load, grief, sorrow, distress, affliction woe, bitterness, heartache, unhappiness, incubus, pang, anguish, agony, hell, and even if you use, employ and bend to your will Roger's "Thesaurus" also, it still means the literary life is hard work.—P.
