JUNE WEDDINGS

BLUNK-MATHER

The home of Charles Mather on North Main street, was the scene of a beautiful wedding Wednesday evening, June 6th, when, in the presence of fifty relatives and intimate friends, Edna M. Mather, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mather, was united in marriage with Irving Blunk of this village. Promptly at eight o'clock, as the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March were played by Miss Alvena Streng, the wedding procession, led by Rev. D. D. Nagle, passed through an aisle of palms and roses, and took their places in front of a bower of bitter-sweet in a lattice entwined with snowballs and chiffon. Master David Mather, the six-year-old brother of the bride, carried the ring in the heart of a rose. The groom was accompanied by Oscar Koch of Ann Arbor, who acted as best man. Little Zerapha Blunk of this place, the niece of the groom, and Miss Harriet Kenyon, cousin of the bride, dressed in pink organdie and carrying baskets of pink rose buds, scattered petals in the pathway. The bridesmaid, Miss Alma Bolgos, of Ann Arbor, carried a bouquet of pink rose buds, and wore a gown of orchid georgette. The bride carrying a shower bouquet of white rose buds and lilies of the valley, made a pretty picture in her coronation style veil with lace and clusters of orange blossoms, and her beautiful dress of white georgette with head trimming over satin. She came in on the arm of her father, who, after presenting her to the groom, took his place beside Mrs. Mather, who was tastefully dressed in gray crepe meteor.

After the impressive ceremony and the giving and receiving of hearty congratulations, a delicious three-course dinner, consisting of creamed chicken in patty, rolls, salted almonds, fruit and marshmallows, salad, wafers, ice cream, cake and coffee, was served by the Woman's Exchange of Detroit.

Later, when the bride ascended the staircase on her way to don her traveling clothes, many eager arms were outstretched for the bouquet. Miss Alvena Streng was the fortunate one.

After an extended trip through the east, Mr. and Mrs. Blunk will be at home at their new residence on Williams street, after July 15th.

The bride is one of Plymouth's most accomplished young ladies, while the groom is one of our most prominent and progressive young business men. The whole community unites in heartiest congratulations to this popular young couple, and wish them many prosperous years together. Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to these happy young people.

Guests were present from Detroit, Ann Arbor, East LeRoy, Farmington, Royal Oak and Plymouth.

GRIFFIN-PROSSER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Prosser, 566 Nona avenue, Dearborn, Mich., was the scene of a very pretty home wedding, Saturday evening, June 2nd, when their daughter, Mildred Estell, was united in marriage to Glenn Forest Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin of Plymouth. The bride was becomingly gowned in white crepe de chine over white satin, and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Clara Rutherford of Detroit, who was attired in pale blue georgette, caught at the side with a shower of pearls and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses, and lilies of the valley. The groom was accompanied by Albert Lee Jones of Detroit. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, roses and sweet peas predominating. As the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march began, rendered by Miss Anna Cable of Detroit, the wedding party descended the stairs and took their places under a huge wedding bell of roses. The bride was given away by her father, Rev. Fitch of Dearborn, officiating. After congratulations a delightful luncheon was served, which was enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts. Guests were present from Jackson, Farmington, Highland Park and Detroit of which the bride has always been a resident until the last year. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will be at home to friends at 566 Nona avenue, Dearborn, after June 9th.

HAUGER-PANKOW

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Pankow, 424 Main street, Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Mary Pankow, was united in marriage to Arlo Hauger of Northville, Rev. Bollens of Farmington, performing the ceremony. The young couple were attended by Miss Harriet Schroder as bridesmaid, and Charles Pankow, brother of the bride as best man. The bride was becomingly gowned in white georgette over white satin, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was attired in orchid georgette and carried pink and white roses. Mary and Laverne Kincaide, neices of the bride acted as flower girls.

The house decorations were spirals, roses and sweet peas, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white. At six o'clock, the relatives and friends to the number of twenty-four, were served with a sumptuous wedding dinner. After a week's wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the happy young couple will make their home in Northville, where both are well and favorably known. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

A PIANO RECITAL

Seven advanced pupils of Miss Czarina Penney, Mus. Bac., will be presented in one of the most interesting programs presented by the advanced pupils, Thursday evening, June 14, at Penniman Allen theatre, at 8:30 o'clock. The young ladies deserve much credit for the year of study that has been required to attain their technical skill and their interpretive ability.

The playing of Miss Hanna Strasen discloses to her hearer interpretive qualities suggestive of much more than ordinary talent. Miss Gladys Schrader will have another opportunity to delight her audience with two lovely numbers. Miss Juanita Coe, who was heard in an individual recital last year, will play in an artistic manner two difficult compositions. Miss Helen Fish plays with delightful technical finish, and shows much improvement. Miss Barbara Bake has appeared in many recitals, and her fine playing is always appreciated by the audience. Miss Alta Hamill plays the "Rosary" in a pleasing manner. Dorothy Hillman makes her first appearance in the advanced recital with equal ability for her years.

A pleasing feature of this recital will be the group of songs sung by Miss Florence Paddock of Detroit. Miss Paddock is a singer of rare ability and splendid training. Plymouth people should take advantage of the opportunity to study with such a capable voice instructor.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Children must be accompanied by their parents. The following program will be presented:

LADIES OF THE MACCABEES ENTERTAIN

One of the events of the year for Plymouth Hive, Ladies of the Maccabees, was given Thursday evening, May 31st, when the local hive entertained Wayne Hive. Over one hundred members of the two Hives enjoyed a very elaborate six o'clock dinner, prepared under the able chairmanship of Bessie Sallow. The tables were in charge of Ethel Micol and were decorated with lilacs, lilies of the valley, pink honeysuckle and myrtle. After the banquet a program had been prepared by Isla Mae Finn, which opened with the singing of America, followed by a recitation by little Miss Hondorp. Then "Mellow Moon" was sung by Commander Mable Dicks, who graciously responded to an encore. After this a very "catty" dialogue, entitled, "Meow" was given by Isla Mae Finn and Dora Wood. Then followed "The Bachelor's Dream," given by Ruth Rotnour, assisted by twenty ladies and little girls. All were then asked to join in singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," after which the guests departed, declaring they had had a very enjoyable evening.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Charles O. Scovill, a former resident of Plymouth, died at Long Beach, California, June 1st. Mr. Scovill had many friends in Plymouth. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. T. W. Connor of Detroit, and two sons, F. G. Scovill of Evanston, Ill., and W. H. Scovill of Long Beach, California. The remains were brought to Plymouth Thursday, and funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home at 2:00 o'clock. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK FOR PLYMOUTH.

E. O. Huston will erect a handsome business block on the site now occupied by his warehouse. Fred Rhead has the contract, and the work of moving the warehouse preparatory to commencing the new building has already begun. The new store will be 26 by 73 feet in size, will be two stories high and is to be constructed of brick. Fancy brick will be used on the front, and modern display windows on both the first and second floors will be used. When the new building is completed, it will make a fine improvement for Penniman avenue.

Mrs. Winfield Scott returned home last Friday, from California, where she has been spending the past six months.

D. D. Unruh left Wednesday evening, for Dinuba, California, on receipt of a telegram stating that his father was critically ill. Emil Schilling will have charge of Mr. Unruh's meat market during his absence. One hundred mile auto race, Detroit, Sunday, June 10.—Adv.

The Electric Cooking Cabinet

Is the ideal means for summer cooking—a whole meal can be cooked at one time from a lamp socket without any attention from the housewife and without any noticeable heat in the room.

It is Automatic—merely put in the food and set the clock, which will turn on the heat at the desired time and cook the full meal without further attention.

It is economical too—connects to any lamp socket and costs only about one cent per hour to operate.

WHERE MUCH FAULT LIES

Many Plymouth people look too far in trying to find the cause of their troubles. They blame the government, or social conditions, when the fault usually rests with themselves. Lame judgment, unwise investments, luxurious habits of wild spending cannot be justly charged to one's town or neighborhood or to society in general. The government cannot order people's brains relearned and redistributed. When we do foolish things for which we have to suffer, we should not employ a spyglass to locate the cause, but take ourselves out into the back yard and talk over shortcomings privately and quietly, and fix the responsibility where it belongs. At the same time we ought to resolve to try and remember that when affairs don't go exactly to suit us, the chances are that we can better them a lot quicker by working to change them than by sitting down and moping about them.

ABOUT HIGH PRICES

Now that we are in a period of high prices, and probably will be for a long time to come, there is nothing more interesting around Plymouth than to hear discussions as to whether or not such a period is desirable. Personally, we believe high prices simply mean that labor and the products of labor are in demand. When people can no longer pay the higher prices, you can rest assured prices will begin to tumble. They are unpleasant when we have to pay them, but we should try to look on them as something that will help the masses of the people. You remember the story of the man who said that he once had a chance to buy a well-stocked farm for $50, and when asked why he didn't take it replied that he couldn't raise the $50.

The best thing about the whole situation in this country today is that no matter what may come later on, everybody is working now. Labor creates the wealth of the world, and when labor is busy we know wealth is piling up.

High prices also tend in a large way to check extravagance and waste. People don't throw money away when prices are high, even though they have more money than when prices were lower. The report of every bank in this country will show that. Maybe we are wrong in our deductions. But we can't refrain from arguing that so long as everybody is working at good wages we ought not to expect prices to be back where they were when a man had to slave from sunup to sundown to earn as much as two dollars a day. There's no politics in this argument; it's just common horse-sense of the brand that anybody can understand.

GRANGE NOTES

Let us not forget the meeting this Friday evening, when the children will feature a special program with drills. Ice cream will be served to the little people free. Ladies please bring cake. Remember that it's the children's night and all come.

COMMUNITY HAPPENINGS

Friday, May 25th, the sewing group met with Mrs. E. W. Moyer. Miss Woodworth's Ford failed, but a Ralph Carr brought her there, and a busy few hours ensued in working out some tailor finishing employed in the making of different garments. Also the use of some of the sewing machine attachments. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. C. W. Root, Friday, June 22nd.

The Canton Community Club met Wednesday, May 30th, at Mr. and Mrs. George Gill's, with an unusually large number present. Mr. Gary's talk on the extension work and its relation to the Farm Bureau, was fine, and the discussion following brought out points both pro and con, which made for a better understanding of its purpose. Miss Mary Jamison presented “The Trail Blazers,” as to its origin, objects and achievements in a very able manner. Music by Blanche and Henry Hutton was enjoyed by all. The next meeting will be Wednesday, June 27, with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Gale were in Superior, Wednesday.

Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers were: Mr. and Mrs. David Crist and daughters, Mildred and Lavina, Mr. and Mrs. Hance and baby of Flint, and Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers of Wayne.

Today's Reflections

Where is the Plymouth man who can't remember when he used to consider a fellow a spendthrift if he paid $5 for a pair of shoes.
And many a man spends almost an entire day getting out of one morning's work.
England has a new Premier. They change cabinet heads over there almost as often as we change socks over here.
The Plymouth boy who thinks his girl looks good enough to eat will find that she is good enough to eat—if he'll buy the eats.
The trouble is Washington City is spending too much time in trying to find out what made sugar go up instead of trying to find out what will make it come down.
We are willing to bet a week's receipts that the girl who can dance 50 hours would be a physical wreck if she had to spend a half-hour over the wash-tub.
Most Plymouth men are truthful. They'll tell you that about the only time they are boss in their own home is when the family is away.
Don't get worried when you see a boy driving his auto with one hand. The other arm is around somewhere.
We can remember when boys didn't have ambitions to be moving picture stars. They were satisfied to hope that some day they might be president.

Why is it that some Plymouth men never realize that they have a stomach until it commences to ache?
It may be great to be a king or a queen, but nowadays you've got to have plenty of "jack" to get through the world.
We've seen enough of married life around Plymouth to believe that all some men have wives for is to blame them when they can't find what they want.
We read in a Paris dispatch that the women over there are wearing pantalettes. Maybe there's a safety-pin shortage over there.
Wise Plymouth people are the only ones who know it won't help their crop any to look over the fence and count the weeds in their neighbor's garden.
Another example of love at first sight is when a Plymouth chicken lays its eyes on a new garden.

SCHOOL NOTES

The High school notes were furnished by Juvvia Rowland; those for the grades by Avis Blackmore; the account of the girls' track meet by Bonnie Mueller, and of the game by Kenneth Bartlett.

GRADE NOTES

Fifty first grade children will receive a health certificate for faithfully keeping the eleven health chores prescribed by the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit. This certificate gives each child the title of Squire in Health Knighthood.

Two pupils of the first grade, Clayton and Viola LaPearl, have moved to Dixboro.

After having practiced since Christmas, seventy-five pupils of the third grade have penmanship drill ready to send to the A. N. Palmer Company. This week in the sixth grade is one of review and drill.

Geography in this grade is being studied by the use of pictures of Canada, Alaska, West Indies and Panama. Miss Gertrude Walker was a visitor, last Friday, in Mr. Walker's room.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The eighth grade literature class is finishing the classic, "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Winnie roasts seem to have been very popular during the past week; on Tuesday evening the Aggie Club had a wienie roast at the tourists' camp; Thursday afternoon the seventh hour geometry class and the eighth grade had one at the flats.

The Aggie Club members expect to receive their club pins this week.

Twenty-nine seniors are leaving for Niagara Falls, this afternoon, where they will visit the different places of interest. They expect to return Monday.

You might ask the Girl Scouts if thirteen is an unlucky number. All packed in one car they went over to Walled Lake, last Monday, where they enjoyed their first swim of the season.

DUAL TRACK MEET

Although the girls beat Wayne by a score of 39 to 19 in the Dual Track Meet held here last Friday, it was no easy matter, as our opponent's team is very much better this year than it was last. All of the teams in the Four Square League have been practicing very hard and diligently for the past few weeks, and it is thought that Plymouth will have a harder time getting the championship this year than they did last. The only strong points in Wayne team are their high jumpers and their runners, while Plymouth has promising contestants in every event. The events and results are as follows:

- Shot Put—M. Shogren, 1st, P.; Baxter, 2d, W.; M. Amrhein, 3d, P.
- 50-Yard Dash—M. Shogren, 1st, P.; Reiser, 2d, W.; Herriman, 3d, W.
- Broad Jump—E. White, 1st, P.; E. Schrader, 2d, P.; Reiser, 2d, W.
- 100-Yard Dash—M. Shogren, 1st, P.; Herriman, 2d, W.; Reiser, 3d, W.
- Base Ball Throw—M. Shogren, 1st, P.; K. Learned, 2d, P.; McFarland, 3d, W.
- Relay—Plymouth 1st contestants were M. Griffith, E. White, M. Amrhein, M. Shogren.
- High Jump—McFarland, 1st, W.; F. Cline, 2d, P.; J. Whipple, 3d, P.

"ROCKS" WIN FINAL

By defeating Wayne at Wayne last Tuesday afternoon by a score of 10 to 4, P. H. S. team secured its sixth victory of the season, which, with the only four defeats, easily cinched third place in the league standing, and incidentally closed the most successful baseball season that P. H. S. has enjoyed in five years.

The "Rocks" were able to do this mainly through the efforts of Trimble, who not only pitched them to every one of their six victories, but was also their leading batsman. He got at least one hit in every game played, and was the only "Rock" player to hit a home run.

When a pitcher turns in a two-hit game, it is already conceded that he deserved no win—such was the Wayne game. Trimble not only pitched a two-hit game, but also turned in 14 strike-outs.

Hickey, first up, started Plymouth's offense by walking. Rowland sacrificed, and Trimble singled—Hickey going to third. Sutherland walked, filling bases. Bartlett also walked, forcing in the first run. Bases were still crowded when Cline struck out and Sayles fied.

The second was uneventful—Wiseley, Sump and Hickey going out in order.

In the third the fireworks started. One was out when Trimble got his second hit—a single over second. Sutherland walked a second time. Bartlett singled over third, and Sutherland romped home. Cline struck out, but Sayles singled Bartlett home. Wiseley walked and Sump hit, sending Sayles across with the fourth "marker" of the inning. At this time Wayne's pitcher was taken out and the scoring stopped for the inning.

After that Plymouth scored one in the fourth and fifth and two in the sixth. The final score was 10 to 4. Line-up—Hickey, c. f.; Rowland, 3rd; Trimble, p.; Sutherland, l. f.; Bartlett, 2nd; Cline, c.; Sayles, 1st; Wiseley, r. f.; Sump, s. Substitutions—Taylor for Cline; Seger for Wiseley, Milliman for Hickey.

METHODIST NOTES

The Sunday-school board meets next Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. All aboard for the big picnic of the Missionary society, at the home of Mrs. Griffith in the country, to be held in connection with the annual meeting of the society, next Tuesday, June 12th. A pot-luck dinner will be served at 1:00 o'clock.

Anyone having old linen or anything useful for hospital supplies, please bring to the meeting at Mrs. Griffith's.

The Epworth League folks have been waiting patiently for that social that Captain Parrott has been planning. And now the time has arrived. Next Friday evening, a big time, and all the members will surely be on hand. A big roast.

Mid-week prayer service on Thursday evening at 7:30.

The official board at their monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, decided to adopt a change of hour for the Sunday evening service for the summer months, and hope it meets with the approval of everyone in general. Owing to the longer days, and the warm evenings, which are due, the evening service will begin at 8:00 instead of 7:30, and will be kept within the hour, so that everyone will be out at 9:00 at the latest. Plans to come next Sunday evening. Good music and an effort will be made to have a sermon that will prove satisfactory for spiritual hunger.

Topic for this Sunday evening, "Weeds."

Children's Day exercises will be held one week from Sunday in the morning. A number of children will be christened at that time. The pastor will be glad to perform this sacred and beautiful ceremony for all parents who desire to have their little ones thus dedicated to Christ.

The Junior League picnic is coming soon. A glorious time in store for these youngsters.

LIVONIA CENTER

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Riordan and William Robert of Lansing, and Miss Mary Noriarty of Portland, were guests at the homes of Frank and Harry Peck, Wednesday, May 30th.

Mrs. Julius Landau visited her daughter, Mrs. Herman Ladzick, in Detroit, Monday.

Scott Davis and Mrs. Clea Kintigh were quietly married at the bride's home in Reading, Saturday, June 2. Following the ceremony, they left for a short motor trip through Ohio, and returned to this place, Monday, and will go to housekeeping on the Fred Lee farm, where the groom has resided during the past year. Their friends extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Nass and daughter, Ellen, of Ypsilanti, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peck and family were Sunday guests at the Frank Peck home.

There was a meeting called by the cemetery association for Tuesday of last week to attend to the business so small that no business was transacted. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, June 13th, at the hall, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The purpose of this meeting is to elect a corps of officers, and transact other important business. There are needed improvements to be made at the cemetery, and sufficient funds on hand for that purpose, but no legal business can be transacted until the association is re-organized, so everyone who owns a lot or is interested in keeping up the cemetery, is urged to be present at this meeting. Keep the date open—Tuesday, June 13th, at 8:00 p. m., at the hall.

Mrs. Emma McEachran and son, Glen, also Miss Lillian Maney and friend, Mr. Robertson, of Detroit, were Memorial Day callers of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peck.

The highway commissioner, with a force of men and teams, is improving the Waterford road.

Miss Anna Davis of Northville, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Chilson and Mr. and Mrs. Gould of Redford, were calling on center friends, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Krumm are entertaining a young son, who arrived at their home last week Tuesday.

A meeting of the board of review was held at the hall, Tuesday afternoon. Another meeting will be held next Monday, June 11th.

SOUTH SALEM

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sietoff, sons, Mafoed, and Louis, motored to Royal Oak, Saturday afternoon.

Ada Graves of Ypsilanti, was a week-end guest of Louise Rorabacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Coda Savery and children, George Walker and daughter, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Dixon of Denton.

Over fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rorabacher gathered at their home, Tuesday evening, May 28th, and gave them a birthday surprise party. Both birthdays occurred within the week. Several young people from Ypsilanti were present.

Mrs. Laura Smith has returned from Pontiac, where she was assisting in the care of her sister-in-law, Eugene Bartlett, who died at his home in Ypsilanti, Sunday, was for many years a resident on the town line. His funeral was held Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at his home and burial was in Leland cemetery.

Salem milk producers met Tuesday evening, June 5th, at the hall. Mr. Potts, president of the Macomb Farm Bureau, talked. William Geiger, Gilbert Thompson and W. B. Rorabacher were chosen delegates to the meeting in Detroit, June 22nd.

The tenth graders of the Salem village school held their closing exercises at the town hall, Friday evening.

Louis Bohling is the only pupil from the Jarvis school who was neither absent nor tardy during the past year. Walter Clinesmith nearly won though, but was taken with measles the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Perkins, Mrs. Minnie Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. Coda Savery attended the races at Ann Arbor, Memorial Day.

The Federated church will hold Children's Day exercises, Sunday evening, June 10.

Miss Marie Prochnow was a Thursday night guest of Velma Nelson.

NEWBURG

On account of the illness of Rev. Wise, Sunday last, there were no church services. However, there were twenty-seven in Sunday-school, with Jack Taylor filling the place of superintendent. The children under the direction of Mrs. Edgar Stevens have commenced practice for Children's Day exercises, which will be held the third Sunday in June. There will be church service next Sabbath. Everyone welcome.

The L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting at the hall, Wednesday afternoon, June 13th. Picnic supper will be served. Everyone invited.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Gonsouli attended the funeral of Mr. Conklin in Detroit, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy and family and Mr. Joy's mother, Mrs. Vina Joy, of Detroit, spent Sunday with James Joy and family at New Hudson.

Clyde Smith, Beulah Ryder, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder and little son motored to Toledo, Sunday, bringing home Mrs. M. Eva Smith, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Albert Smith, since Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clark, at the LeVan home, entertained their friends, Mr. and Mrs. S. Egunow of Highland Park, last Sunday.

Mrs. Clara Grimm is suffering greatly from the effects of an abscess in her head. She was operated on by Dr. Robb in Detroit, last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong and family of Detroit, called at the Ryder homestead, Decoration Day. Burt Paddock and two sons of Detroit, spent the day there.

Mrs. Eimer King from West Plymouth, called on Miss Beulah Ryder, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Emily LeVan spent part of last week with her daughter, Mrs. Hilliker, in Ann Arbor.

A CARD—We desire to express our hearty thanks and appreciation to the neighbors and friends and the Plymouth Fire Department for their splendid work in saving our property at the time of the fire, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reddeman.

One hundred mile auto race, Detroit, Sunday, June 10.—Adv.

MRS. JOHN FORSHEE DIES SUDDENLY

FUNERAL SERVICES WERE HELD FRIDAY AT THE HOME IN YPSILANTI.

After an illness of one week, Mrs. John Forshee suddenly died, Wednesday morning, May 30th, of heart failure. Her death was a great shock to her family and friends, as her illness had not been considered serious. Sarah Forshee was born on a farm nine miles from Ypsilanti, seventy years ago. She was one of a family of nine, three of whom survive her, one sister, Mrs. Ida Culver, California, and two brothers, John, of St. Louis, and Fred of Detroit.

A brother, James, was buried one year ago on Memorial Day. On Christmas Day fifty-five years ago, Sarah J. Bouck united in marriage with John Forshee. To them were born two sons. The eldest, Archie, is now pastor of a church at Mt. Vernon, New York, and the second son, John, lives in Detroit. The husband, two sons, four grandchildren and two great grandchildren are left to mourn their loss.

Three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Forshee sold their farm and went to Ypsilanti to live at 712 Congress street. In Ypsilanti were many old neighbors and friends making their homes there. To them were added new friends and neighbors, all of whom regret her death and offer sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Funeral services were held at the home last Friday, at two o'clock. The Rev. Dunning Idle officiating. Mrs. Forshee was a member of the M. E. church, bringing her letter to the Ypsilanti church from the Free Church of Superior township. Interment in the Geer cemetery.

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday was hot and quite a number wilted before the time for church, but they will be all O. K. for next Sunday. The pastor spoke on "The Value of the Soul and Its Loss." The men made a good quartet for Sunday morning service. Alton Sayles sang the solo, "Surrender."

The Young People's service was led by the president, Elbert Seger. The 23rd Psalm was taken up for discussion. Many good things were said about the subject. B. Y. P. U. social was last Wednesday evening at the church.

The Sunday evening service was opened by the Young People's church assisted by two cornets, a French horn and piano—that's some music. "Looking Back and Back Sliding" was the evening topic.

The flowers were many and beautiful, last Sunday.

The sad news came to the community Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, when it was announced that Mrs. Charles Grainger had passed away. For many years she had been a leader in the Baptist church, always singing in the choir. She will be missed in many places in the church, for she lived for that and her home, but she is at rest. The church extends its sympathy to the family.

Where the Apples Go To.

The question, "Where do all the apples go to?" is answered in part by the export figures which show that in the last three months of 1922 we sent 705,801 barrels to Great Britain, as compared with 387,372 barrels in the corresponding period of 1921. Most of these, however—400,000 barrels—were from the Far West, while the remainder were produced chiefly in New York, Virginia and Maine. We would not feel aggrieved over the export of the Far Western fruit if our Eastern orchardists raised more. What has become of the Belgians, Russes and Giltflowers of New England that used to delight us every fall and winter?—Providence Journal.

Lives Life of Service.

The youngest daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, has dedicated her life, even the honored name she bears, to become a servant of the poor who are victims of incurable cancer. Today she is known simply as Mother Alphonsa of the third order of St. Dominic founder and mother superior of St. Rosa's home, New York, and of the Rosary, at Hawthorne, N. Y., the only free hospitals for incurable cancer.

In the cheerful sun parlors of the hospitals, in the simple gardens, or in the best outcasts who were once alone in their terror find that life still holds some comfort and companionship.

ATTO RACE IN DETROIT SUNDAY, JUNE 10.

The one hundred mile automobile race on the Michigan State Fair mile speedway, Sunday afternoon, June 10th, is attracting attention all over the middle west. Twenty-two of the leading pilots have entered their cars and twelve of them, the fastest dozen in the qualifying trials, will compete for $10,000 in prizes. This is the largest prize offered outside the Indianapolis Speedway, and is the medium that has attracted the leading drivers to Detroit.

The track is hard and fast, and wonderful time may be expected. The cars will qualify at three o'clock, and the one hundred mile race should start about four o'clock.

NOTICE

An adjourned meeting of the Plymouth Township Board of Review will be held at the village hall on Monday and Tuesday, June 11th and 12th.

STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX TOURING CAR $975

More Cars Shake Themselves to Pieces Than Ever Wear Out

Charge that up to vibration. Vibration causes cars to grow old prematurely by racking their chassis, destroying the "metal life" of vital parts, loosening up their bodies and causing squeaks and rattles. Frequent, costly repairs are the result.

The Studebaker Light-Six is freer from vibration than any car of its approximate size or weight yet produced. This has been accomplished largely by a complete machining of the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces—a practice used by Studebaker exclusively on cars at this price and found only on a very few other cars whose selling prices are from three to ten times as high as the Light-Six.

There are 61 precision operations in the manufacture of the crankshaft alone, 40 of which range in accuracy from one-quarter thousandth to one thousandth of an inch.

The Light-Six motor embodies the most advanced design known to automobile construction. And no chassis at any price is built to more exacting standards of materials and workmanship.

Aside from its mechanical excellence and its consequent long life, the Light-Six is handsome in design, extremely comfortable, sturdy, and we believe the most economical car to buy and operate ever offered at $975 or anywhere near this figure.

Its substantial all-steel body, one-piece, rain-proof windshield, ten-inch cushions upholstered in genuine leather, cowl lamps—these are among many features heretofore to be had only in higher-priced cars.

For 71 years the name Studebaker has stood for integrity, quality and value.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Has the Punch

It follows through — there is no halfhearted piston stroke; neither is there a slapping piston stroke to rack your engine. Instead, Red Crown imparts a steady, steam-engine-like pressure to the piston that sustains and follows through the length of the stroke. That explains both the smooth flow of rhythmic power and the abundance of sustained pulling power. Red Crown offers to the motorist

The Utmost of Service

It has all the intrinsic merit that science has been able to put into any gasoline. It is manufactured so that it will vaporize at just the correct temperatures, to cause instant starting — a quick, snappy get-away — a smooth, gliding acceleration — tremendous power — racing speed if you want it — and most miles per gallon.

Fill your tank with Red Crown today.

Studying the Cycle of Life

By MORRIS SCHULTZ

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

PROF. CYRUS STRONG looked into his test tube with amazed satisfaction of one who sees the dream of a lifetime realized.

Eighty years old, he was still strong and active. He had lived a recluse for many years, devoted wholly to one purpose.

He believed that it was possible to create life by a chemical admixture of certain elements in water containing sodium and calcium chloride.

And a year before he had accomplished it. He had seen the solution of sterile water become infused with swarming animalcules.

From these he had built up a higher order of multicellular organisms. Starfish and minute sponges had appeared, the creation of his will.

But if these things, why not man? On that he had concentrated, and now this miracle was being accomplished before his eyes.

Well, why not? Man had evolved from lower forms of life; why could he not evolve in the test tube?

And it was happening, and with incredible rapidity. As he watched he saw the vegetable produce the animal; he saw the tiny reproduction of the extinct saurian evolve into the rodent; the rodent became the monkey, the primitive long-tailed monkey swinging grotesquely from the tiny twig that lay afloat in the water. It was a gilled monkey, but now the lungs came into existence, and the little creature scrambled out of the water upon the piece of rock—minute rock within the tube, and sat sunning itself in the glow of the electric light.

And even this was changing. The hair fell from the body, the limbs lengthened, the chin appeared, the jaws receded, the hair of head became long and flowing.

And a woman stood on the rock, looking about her in wonderment, as Eve might have stood in Paradise.

A tiny woman, not more than three inches long, but perfectly formed. It was primeval woman, with a warm, golden-brown skin, and the glance of intelligence in the brown eyes, no larger than the heads of pins.

Cyrus Strong, doctor of innumerable colleges and with honorary degrees from innumerable universities, had produced human life.

For hours he sat watching the little creature, whom he had transferred to a larger enclosure, a little sphere of glass, filled with air under light pressure. Therein he had provided a tiny hut, with straw, there was cool water for drinking and a supply of a delicate paste containing all the necessary ingredients for life.

It was like a god presiding over creation, and it was extraordinary to see how the woman adapted herself to her environment. She drank the ste, and every few minutes she would retire within the hut and sleep for thirty seconds or so. That was the strangest part of it to the professor. Her vital processes seemed extraordinarily accelerated.

Suddenly the tinest of pipings came from the tiny hut. Out she came running, and after her there came a spider, which had somehow found entrance unperceived. A monster half her size, now stalking her, a film of thread dangling from its horrid mouth, evidently intent upon a meal.

Instantly the professor dipped in a finger and thumb and removed the monster.

The woman sank to the ground, and suddenly—how it touched him! If this was not prayer, instinctive prayer, it was uncommonly like it.

His finger and thumb, he recognized, constituted a miracle, the first miracle of this paradise.

He wondered if the woman were lonely. He must create more of these little people. He had no control over sex, but on the morrow he would make several. There would be men among them. Then he would watch the increase of his little community, would see them progress through barbarism to civilization . . . he grew enthusiastic.

But now a great sadness came over him. What right had he to call them into life, after all? Was life such a boon? He averted his mind, undecided . . . and then he noticed that the little woman did not look quite the same as before.

She was changing, she was aging, her hair was growing white. She grew feeble in her movements, and presently she sank to the ground; a thrill ran through her . . . she died.

A whole life cycle of little more than an hour. Professor Strong sighed with relief. His problem was solved. He would create no more human life.

Not to be advertised.

The pretty girl sat on his knee. "Ethel," he said, "you have your father's bonny blue eyes."

"Go on," she laughed; "don't be so silly."

"But you have, dear. And you have your mother's golden hair."

Then she clasped a hand over his mouth and whispered in his ear: "Sh! Don't speak so loud, John; she doesn't know I'm wearing it!"

His Part.

McIntyre—When I was in the army I was considered a hero.

Brath—What did you do in the army?

"I done picket duty."

"What is picket duty?"

"De soldiers catched de chicken and they got me to pick it; dat's what I calls picket duty."—Judge.

The Home of the Soul

In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order.

For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.—Advertisement.

OLD CROSSBOW SELF-LOADER

Chinese Weapon Was Also a "Repeater," Much Like the Modern American Rifle.

The invention of the Chinese self-loading, repeating crossbow has been credited to Gen. Chu-ko-Liang (181-234 A. D.), but earlier records show that self-loading crossbows are referred to in Chinese literature several centuries before Christ. In all probability this weapon is not a Chinese contrivance, but belongs to the culture of the Lolo and Malo-tzu, aboriginal tribes in the southwest and south of China, says a writer in the New York Evening Post.

Their national weapon is still the crossbow, and they have influenced Chinese culture to a certain degree since oldest times. In the Chinese collection on the third floor of the American Museum of Natural History are to be found excellent examples of implements of warfare, including a well-preserved repeating crossbow.

The weapon consists of a wooden arm about a foot and a half in length. In this is a perforation through which the bow passes. On the stock there is affixed a magazine holding from seven to ten small darts which can be shot one after another in quick succession. On the arms there is a lever connected with the magazine, through which passes a string of neat leather.

In moving this to and fro the crossbow may be shot several times consecutively, the darts sinking by their own weight into the catch. The principle on which the arrow case is constructed tallies with the magazine mechanism of our modern rifle, first constructed in America in connection with the Winchester rifle in 1837.

In Peking house owners still make use of the crossbow to scare away burglars.

Men of Genius.

It is a fascinating procession that moves before the mind's eye: W. B. Yeats, in voice and bearing very nearly the ideal of the poet reader; John Masfeldt, looking and speaking less like a victim of the one-night system than anyone you could name; John Galsworthy, manifestly resenting the pressure that would make a speaker out of a man whose single instrument is the pen.

Alfred Noyes, the one English poet of his time who has succeeded in the public recital of his own verse; John Drinkwater, in the surprising position of helping Americans to understand their own greatest man; Hugh Walpole and Gilbert Cannan, discoursing of the English novel to the most enthusiastic novel-reading public in the world.

St. John Ervine and Granville Barker, alike in the ability to speak with convincing force on the stagecraft they practice; W. L. George, whom in a moment of expansive humor someone seems to have commended as an authority on the soul of woman; Norman Angell, following up his international thesis with quiet pertinacity and with a sense that the post-war world is somewhat too full of corroborative illustrations.—From "The English Lecturer in America," by S. K. Radcliffe in The Century.

Magic in Eagle Feathers.

With one exception, eagle feathers have been looked upon by all Indian tribes from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Kuit to the Patagonian, as the most desirable and of greatest magic potency. The exception is the Plains, or Buffalo Indians, and adjacent tribes, who considered the plumes of the road-runner, the wakan, or medicine bird, as the most powerful and sacred.

In procuring plumes for the feathered head-dresses, medicine lances, pipes and other purposes, a certain ritual was necessary and was always rigidly followed. No blood could be shed in their acquisition; killing at un-prescribed times or not in the prescribed manner being considered an act of sacrilege and rendering the feathers valueless for any purpose.

The full and wing feathers were most used, having a greater significance as well as being larger and more adaptable for general purposes than the lesser plumage.

Desk Man Verbatim.

Fred Loucks, desk man at police headquarters, when not sending policemen to investigate murders, burglaries and other crimes, composes quips and jokes which he delights to "spring" on visitors. A few of his compositions follow:

"I'd hate to be like a window sash—always full of panes."

"I feel sorry for a box of matches. Always boxed up and then struck on the head."

"Why is a watermelon full of water. Because the seed is planted in the spring."

"Why is a dog's tail like the heart of a tree. Because it's farthest from the bark."

"The letter 'k' is like a pig's tail because it is on the back end of pork."—Indianapolis News.

Its First Use.

Subbu's wife had been urging him to have a telephone put in, and one morning he said: "Oh, by the way, Helen, the telephone people will be here today. When they get through, call me up to see if the line works all right."

Late in the afternoon the bell rang in his town office.

"Is that you, James?" asked a familiar voice.

"Yes."

"Will you please go out right now and mail that letter I gave you this morning?"

He had forgotten it, of course, and he obeyed.—Boston Transcript.

A Business Woman

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE great day that Edna Harkness had been looking forward to for 15 years had come. She had had a letter from Robert announcing that he was coming East for a visit.

Fifteen years before they had been engaged. They had quarreled and separated, and Robert had gone West. Now, a prosperous business man, he was coming back to see the old folks. And Edna. Did she remember him?

Fifteen years before Edna Harkness had been a shy, timid girl stenographer with Jones & Co., the big importing house. Now she was head of one of Jones & Co.'s principal departments, earning $75 a week. She had an apartment uptown, and owned her furniture.

And, since business had absorbed all her active life, she had never married.

"If I'd married Bob," she often thought, "I'd be mothering a pack of brats, and darning Bob's socks, and scrubbing dishes, instead of coming home to my comfy little apartment, going out when I want to, and having a good time in general."

And as her friends dropped one by one into the matrimonial noose, she looked on them with wondering pity.

Bob had never married, and in her mind Edna was hoping that the old attraction would revive sufficiently on his part for him to make her a proposal.

She liked Bob a great deal, but she couldn't help remembering that last quarrel of theirs, and she meant to lead him on very imperceptibly, and then throw him down hard.

"Good gracious, any woman would be a fool to leave all this, even for a rich man like Bob!" she said.

And she thought of all that she had gathered about her in the way of material comfort. There was $4,000 in the bank, too. No, no, Bob, thank you!

When the great evening came she was spruced up to receive Bob. She looked at her reflection in the mirror. Yes, she was still a pretty woman, at thirty-five. And Bob—Bob must be forty, if he was a day.

And fat, probably. Oh, she was going to be particularly nice to Bob.

But when he came into her apartment, the same well-remembered figure, only a little older, when he took her in his arms and gave her her first kiss in fifteen—no, ten years; there had been a little flirtation one evening—for a moment the old spell held her.

"You shouldn't have done that, Bob," she said, a little indignantly.

What right had he to reawaken those memories, those sentimental memories of the past?

"Edna, you look perfectly stunning," said Bob, sitting on the arm of the chair. Oh, just the way he used to do. "And I hear you've been successful."

"Yes, pretty successful," answered Edna. "And you, too?"

"Why, the fact is," said Bob, "I've made a darned fool of myself. Came East in connection with an old deal, and those sharks in Wall street got under my skin. Yes, I've dropped twenty thousand, every penny I'd saved. However, the old job's waiting for me, and it's just a matter of going back and ninking good again."

"Poor Bob! Edna's pity overcame her little plan of revenge. Bob, prosperous, well-dressed, and good-looking, was a foeman worthy of her steel. But Bob, well-dressed and good-looking, but without a penny, was an object of pity.

So she would not have to show him that she preferred her independence and her comforts to a husband.

"I shan't be able to come to see you again," he was saying. "I've had a wire from the firm asking me to hurry back to Denver. So I'm going back tomorrow to take up the old deadly grind. But I should feel better now I've seen you, Edna."

He rose. "Edna, I may as well tell you," he said, "that you're the only woman who has meant anything much to me in my life. And when I started East I meant to ask you something—which I can't ask you now that I've dropped everything. Because it would mean just a small house outside Denver, and not even a car."

What was that absurd woman saying? Edna listened to herself in amazement.

"I shouldn't mind if you—wanted to take me back with you, Bob."

Care of the Eyes.

If your eyes are red or inflamed, or if reading gives you a headache, or if any use of the eyes gives you pain, you should consult a physician at once. Never abuse the eyes by trying to look cross-eyed, or turning the eyes in an unnatural way. Looking at bright lights, such as the sun or electric lights, is injurious.

If by chance dirt or dust get into the eyes, do not rub the eyes, but look down toward the ground and gently pull the upper lid down over the affected eye. This usually brings away the dirt. As soon as possible bathe the eyes (or better, use a clean eye dropper) and use cool boric acid lotion (teaspoonful of boric acid powder dissolved in a tumblerful of boiling water) to relieve the smarting and remove any dust that remains under the eyelids.

Tobacco smoke is bad for the eyes. It weakens and inflames them, and often makes the eyelids red along the edges.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to anyone afflicted with rheumatism.—Advertisement.

You Can Help to Lessen Accidents at Railway Crossings

AMERICAN Railroads are conducting a nation-wide campaign to minimize the number of accidents at highway crossings. This intensive campaign to save individuals from their own folly will continue throughout the months of June, July, August and September.

The Railroads are doing their part; won't you do your share? All of these accidents are due to sheer and wanton carelessness.

Do not attempt to cross a railroad track without heeding the advice STOP, LOOK and LISTEN to see if a train is coming, and after a train has passed make sure no other trains are approaching in either direction.

Do not walk on railroad tracks or bridges.

Do not allow children to play around tracks, stations, turn tables, cranes, cars or other railroad property.

Do not crawl under or between cars.

Do not crawl under crossing gates after they are down. Stop until train passes.

Use the streets and highways instead of the railroad tracks in going to and from your destination.

This is but one of many problems which our complex civilization imposes upon the railroads and this, like the other problems, cannot be solved except with the sympathy and co-operation of citizens generally.

NOTHING CAN STOP ME

I came here to reduce this big stock of high grade merchandise for Martin's Dry Goods Store.

And I'll do it, for I have the authority to make the prices and I allow no one to undersell me.

I have locked the doors and employed extra salespeople. They are working like sailors marking every article in this stock to a point far below its worth and arranging it for easy inspection and selection.

Folks, when I leave here you will know me, as I am known throughout this state as the "Price Cutter." People who know me will tell you that I stop at nothing to sell the goods.

I am going the limit to move it and if good old-fashioned, legitimate price cutting will sell merchandise, nothing will be left undone to make this the greatest price-slashing of clean, up-to-date merchandise ever seen in this state. Don't let anything keep you away. The crowds that will flock here will move this stock as if on rollers.

Yours for real bargains.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Franklin Gibson was at his best, last Sunday morning, when he preached on the subject, "Launch out into the deep and let down your nets." He delivered a very impressive sermon, and as one of his parting messages to us gave his congregation some earnest advice and great encouragement, as to the future of our little mission church.

Next Sunday morning, the Rev. H. K. Hughes of Detroit, will be with us. He will administer the holy communion and preach the sermon. As this is Rev. Hughes' first visit to Plymouth, all the members are asked to be present.

Next Sunday will be Rebekah day at St. John's, and their annual service will take place Sunday evening. The members of the order of Rebekahs will attend, escorted by the members of the order of Odd Fellows. Mr. Gibson will preach the special sermon, and members and friends of the church are also asked to be present. Next Sunday evening, at 7:30.

There was a fine attendance at the Sunday-school, last Sunday morning. All the pupils were present with the exception of perhaps two or three, and we were pleased to welcome and enroll two new pupils. Some of our children certainly realize the pleasure of doing something in the service of the Master. The two new pupils were obtained by a little fellow of about 12 years of age, who spoke with the family during the week about his church and school, with the result that they have decided to come and join, and their parents have signified their intention of coming to the church services, too. This fine little soldier saw the opportunity for service of the King, and grasped it. What a fine example for the elder ones of our school and church.

The annual summer camp for church boys from the age of 15, will be held this year at a camping ground chosen about 30 miles from Port Sanilac, on the shores of Lake Huron. The camp is under the directorship of Rev. H. C. McCurdy of Birmingham, assisted by two other responsible co-directors. Our boys who went last year report a very enjoyable time, and are going again this year. There are about forty boys usually. Ask George Merryweather about the camp and the daily routine there. From the morning plunge to bugle sound for prayers and "lights out," there is something doing all the time. Any Plymouth boy belonging to other churches is eligible and welcome. They can have full particulars from Franklin Gibson, or from Rev. H. C. McCurdy, rector of Birmingham, Mich., or from George Merryweather. The camp opens July 2nd, and applications and inquiries may also be made of any of our church vestry.

Do You Feel Tired After Eating?

A tired, nervous feeling may be a sign of poisons in your system which prevent proper digestion. Food turns into more poison and gas, making you nervous and weak. Simple backthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerka's expels poison and gas from both upper and lower bowels. Removes old matter you never thought was in your system, which poisoned stomach and made you tired and nervous. Adlerka is EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. Pinckney's Pharmacy.

Game Called Russian Scandal

By ANTHONY REIMERT

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

DO YOU know the game called Russian scandal? It is very interesting. Of course it doesn't often work out as well as it did in Seaton's case. But then Seaton lived in one of those gossip small towns where people are interested in their neighbors, and Seaton was the sort of unfortunate man who lends himself to that sort of thing.

So was Doris Bright. She lived at the other end of the town and knew Seaton slightly. She was an unusual sort of girl—the kind that men are afraid of, then try to take liberties with, then go away and scandalize about.

Seaton was a clerk in the bank and sometimes went into the teller's cage. He was engaged to marry Mabel Lake. She was older than he was, and she didn't love him—didn't love any one, in fact, only she wanted to get married, and she saw her chance in Seaton, who was an inoffensive sort of fellow. Got him to kiss her under the mistletoe, or something, and then said they were engaged. Seaton was sore about it.

He happened to meet Doris at the door of her boarding house. She was a stenographer, and they had been to the same school. They stopped to pass the time of day. Seaton thought she was a nice girl, and wished he were going to marry her instead of Mabel. He said good night, sighed, and went on his way.

Doris looked after him and wished he were not going to marry Mabel. Old Miss Prim saw them talking from her window. She told old Miss Briggs:

"There's that Mr. Seaton talking to that Doris Bright. What's he want to be talking to her for when he's going to marry Mabel Lake? There's something wrong there."

"I thought he looked peculiar when he cashed a check for me yesterday," said Miss Briggs. "I wonder what he's planning!"

Old Miss Briggs met Miss Sutphen at the church sociable the following evening. "Have you heard what folks are saying about Mr. Seaton?" she asked. "There's something queer going on between him and that Doris Bright. And he's been acting queer at the bank."

Miss Sutphen met Mrs. Lowndes, the wife of Doris' employer, a few hours later. "Have you heard about that girl your husband has in his office?" she asked. "They say she's carrying on dreadfully with Mr. Seaton, and him going to be married. Something ought to be done about it."

Mrs. Sutphen had always been jealous of Doris, said to her husband: "John, I wish you would discharge that Miss Bright. People are saying all sorts of things about the way she's carrying on with married men."

So Doris got a week's notice without explanations.

Mrs. Sutphen met Mrs. Hallory, the wife of the bank president, who was talking to Miss Prim. "Yes, my husband's promised to discharge that Bright woman," she said. "She's been carrying on a clandestine intrigue with that Mr. Seaton, who's going to marry Mabel Lake."

"I guess that's why he's acting so strangely in the bank," said Miss Prim. "Why, don't you know, Mrs. Hallory? They say he carries like a gully man in the cashier's cage."

Mrs. Hallory told her husband, who investigated Seaton's record, and found that he owed a bill of $200 to Joseph, the Jeweler. It was for Mabel Lake's engagement ring, but Joseph didn't go into particulars.

Hallory, who was a timid man, called Seaton up next morning and discharged him with a month's notice, saying that the bank was cutting down its staff.

Mabel Lake, in tears, consulted to a postponement of their marriage.

"Did you hear Mr. Seaton's being discharged from the bank and thrown over poor Miss Lake?" asked Miss Prim of Mrs. Rogers. "They say he's a regular bad one. And that Doris Bright's at the bottom of it."

Mrs. Rogers was a member of the ladies' chapter of town society. The following evening a band of six hooded men, with horsewhips, forced up behind the wall of the Ninth Methodist church.

Seaton had one friend in town—a little tobaccoist whom he had once lent $5. He ran to him.

"They're going to whip you and Doris Bright and ride you out of town on a rail," he gasped. "My wife's gone and warned her."

Seaton thrust a few things in a bag, hurried round to Doris, and found her at her door, suitcase in hand.

"What are you going to do?" he asked.

"Get out of this town," said Doris succinctly.

Seaton took out his watch. "We can make the 10:10 from Southport, if we hurry," he said. "We can get married in Lancaster. Lemme take your bag." They kissed hurriedly and started off into the darkness.

THE THEATRE

Tom Meighan a football coach! He is seen in such a role in his latest Paramount starring vehicle, "The Ne'er-Do-Well," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday, June 10th. At the opening of the picture, Mr. Meighan is on the sidelines at a football game between two of the foremost colleges in the country. A victory for his eleven is a signal for wild excitement. Pandemonium breaks loose, and Meighan and his men are carried from the field on willing shoulders.

At night the usual celebration in honor of victory is held in one of the cafes in town, and it is here that Mr. Meighan, in the role of Kirk Anthony, meets a certain strange man, and thereby hangs a tale. As a result of this meeting, Kirk finds himself stranded in Panama without a cent. It is then that other things begin to happen and in rapid succession.

In this strange country, Kirk decides to lose his title, the ne'er-do-well, which his father has given him because of his indolence and inattention to business. And lose it he does. The love interest in the story is supplied by Lila Lee, who is Mr. Meighan's leading woman. Included in the supporting cast with Miss Lee at its head, are Gertrude Aster, John Miller, Laurence Wheat and several other screen players of note.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Ladies' Auxiliary held the last meeting of the season at the church, last Wednesday, closing with a pot-luck supper and program.

Little Lillian Blake and Miss Ellen Gardiner have both been seriously ill with pneumonia. And we are glad to say that at the time of this writing, both are improved.

Last Wednesday night, only men attended the prayer meeting. Ladies, it's your turn next.

C. E. Stevens of Ann Arbor, led the singing in Sunday-school last Sunday.

This is commencement week at Alma College. Wallace Kemp, formerly of Plymouth, is one of the graduates.

In the cigarettes consumed every nine minutes, there is enough of poison, if taken directly into the human system, to kill every inhabitant of this country. Much of this poison is dissipated into the air, but still enough is left in the body to deaden ambition, weaken the will, stunt physical growth, injure the mind, rob the pocketbook, and close a door of opportunity for every boy who makes the cigarette his friend—so says the Presbyterian Magazine in its June issue.

Wanted, 50 Houses!

The opportunity is here. Shall we meet it or be found wanting? Every day there are people here looking for homes. They want to rent, of course. That is the way most of us started. There is a larger per cent of home owners in Plymouth than in most towns of its size, but a great many of them started by renting. There must be houses to rent. If we who are residents of Plymouth haven't faith enough in our home town to build, how can we expect strangers to come here and buy? For those who say there is no profit in renting, let them prove it. If there is no money in financing building operations, how can these Mortgage firms pay seven and eight per cent for money, large salaries, overhead and big advertising bills and still make a profit? Build now.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR SCOTT MARKLE

The funeral of Scott Markle of Detroit, and a former resident of Plymouth, whose death was mentioned in last week's paper, was held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, last Saturday afternoon. There was a very large attendance of fellow employees from the factory where Mr. Markle was employed. Rev. H. E. Sayles conducted the services, the Masonic order taking charge of the services at the grave in Riverside cemetery.
Mr. Markle was employed as an assembling foreman for the United States Radiator Co. in the city, and suffered fatal burns, Saturday, May 25th, while saving five other men from injury or death. Mr. Markle, it seems, was making his rounds, when he saw sparks flying from an acetylene torch. Below were five of his men, cleaning and painting machinery. A spark flew into a pail of paint and gasoline, and he saw it. He knew it would explode and set other pails afire, and the men would either be hurt or killed, he yelled to them, and grabbed the pail, hoping to throw it from him before it exploded, but it blew up in his arms. None of the other men were hurt, but Mr. Markle was fatally burned upon his face, arms and right side. He dived into a vat of water, and he was pulled out unconscious, and taken to Grace hospital, where he died Wednesday.

DEATH OF MRS. CHARLES GRAINGER

Mary Ida Singer, daughter of Samuel and Mary Singer, was born in Thamesville, Ontario, Canada, September 2, 1871, and died at Plymouth, Michigan, June 5, 1923. She was married to Charles W. Grainger, October 16, 1895, at her old home in Thamesville, Ont. The next spring after their marriage they came to Plymouth, Mich., about March 30th, to make their new home, and which place has been their home most of the time since coming to Michigan. There were born into the family three daughters, Leta, who died in infancy, Fanny and Gertrude. Mrs. Grainger became a Christian and joined the church at about the age of fourteen. She has been a devoted Christian and earnest worker ever since. She began singing in the choir early in life, and has for the past fifteen years sung in the choir of the First Baptist church of Plymouth, of which she has been a member since she came here. Her life has been helpful in many ways, she taught in the Sunday-school, trained the boys and girls for Children's Day and Christmas, and was always ready and glad to help in time of sickness and sorrow. Her testimony always had the genuine ring of real salvation. She will be missed in the church and community, and so much in her own home, where she has always been a good wife and mother. As she is at rest. She leaves to mourn their loss, her husband, Charles W. Grainger, and daughters, Florence, Fanny and Gertrude; two brothers, Oscar Singer of Howell, Mich., and George Singer of Chatham, Ontario, and a host of relatives and friends.

The funeral was held from the home Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, Rev. H. E. Sayles officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gorton, Mr. and Mrs. William Micol, Mr. and Mrs. William Rengert, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bolton and families and Russell Robinson spent Decoration Day at Walbridge Park, Toledo.

Frank Whitbeck of Oklahoma, Neb.; and F. L. Smith of Dayton, Ohio, traveling representatives of the Detroit Vapor Stove Co., are visiting P. B. Whitbeck and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rathburn.

While the gasoline tank of an auto was being filled in front of the Hillman & Rathburn garage, Tuesday night about eleven o'clock, a lantern which set in the car, caused the gasoline to ignite, with the result that the blaze left a badly damaged top and cushions. The fire department responded to an alarm.

Miss Dorothy Livrance and Miss Avena Streng entertained fourteen young ladies at a miscellaneous shower on Saturday last, at the home of the former, in honor of Miss Edna Mather, whose marriage to Irving Blunk occurred Wednesday evening. The house and table were beautifully decorated in pink and white. The bride received many beautiful and useful presents.

Mrs. Ed. Shaw, who lives east of town on the car line, was badly burned on Saturday of last week, as she attempted to light the gasoline stove. Her arms, limbs and body were burned deeply. Her husband, who attempted to put out the blaze, was also badly burned on arms and hands. The ambulance was called and the patient was taken immediately to Harper hospital. They report her now out of danger.

Misses Edna Allen and Helen LeVan were hostesses at a kitchen shower last Friday evening, in honor of Miss Glenadine Hall, at the home of Mrs. F. Burrows. The lady teachers and the wives of the gentlemen teachers of our school being the guests. The evening was made merry by a sewing bee for the bride-to-be, dust clothes, dish towels and holders, being the articles made. Miss Ursula Carey of Huntington, West Va., and Miss Jene Sawyer of Grand Rapids, were out of town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Fisher were in Detroit, Wednesday evening, to attend a wedding at the Metropolitan M. E. church, when Mrs. Fisher's niece, Miss Sadie Lester, was united in marriage to Thomas G. Hartman of Albany, New York. Miss Mildred Lester, who has often visited in Plymouth and is well known to many here, was bridesmaid. Dr. Rice performed the ceremony, and a reception followed at the bride's home on Euclid avenue. The happy couple will make their home in Albany, N. Y.

President Harding has appointed Irvin Cobb a major in the reserve army in recognition of his services in the World war. Irvin will function in the intelligence branch of Uncle Sam's army. As all Kentuckians are born colonels the President's intended compliment to the distinguished journalist and author is a demotion rather than a promotion. Major Cobb may now add to his long list of stories that of the Englishman who presented himself at the leading hotel of Louisville and asked for a room with tub. The obliging and smiling clerk, one of the last of his ilk, placed the register in front of the visitor and handed him a pen that he might inscribe his name. After registering, the Englishman scanned the list of colonels on the hotel book and astonished inquired: "Is this a barracks? I thought it was a hotel."—Los Angeles Times.

Helping the "Policeman."

Little Mary was rather willful and inclined to have her own way. She was especially fond of slipping out of the front door when her parents were not looking. So often did this occur that they were afraid that one day she might get lost. So they instructed her, should this happen, never to speak to any one but a policeman.
One day she was out for a walk with her father, who was anxious to know if she had grasped her instructions correctly.

"Now, Mary," said he, "let's pretend that you're lost and I'm a policeman."

He crossed the road, and Mary followed, tearfully saying:

"Please, Mr. Policeman, I'm lost!"

"What's your name, dear?" inquired the policeman.

"Mary Jackson, please," was the correct reply.

"Where do you live?"

"Come on, I'll show you!"

Honor Long-Dead Saint.

Half a million pilgrims gathered in Goa, India, for the exposition of the body of St. Francis Xavier, who died in China 500 years ago. The body was taken afterward to Portuguese India. The festival, which occurs about every ten years, draws all races and religions, including many crippled and infirm, who hope for a cure. The festival proper began when the saint's body, which lies ordinarily in a magnificent shrine in the church, was exposed to view. The body is still in a fair state of preservation, though it is denied that any embalming process was used. The face is brown and appears mummified, but is recognizable.

Wheels by the Million.

Eight million wheels, exclusive of spares, wheels for replacement purposes, were used in the manufacture of motorcars and trucks during 1922, according to statistics compiled by the Motor Wheel corporation. Pinned in line, with rims touching, these wheels would extend 3,000 miles, or across the American continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.
