LIVONIA HOME COMING AND GREATER BRIGHTMOOR CELEBRATION

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 20, 21, 22 Will Be Big Days at Bentley's Old Dutch Mill On Five Mile Road.

On another page of this paper will be found an advertisement announcing the Livonia Home Coming and Greater Brightmoor celebration, which will take place at Bentley's Old Dutch Mill gas station on the Five Mile road, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 20, 21 and 22. Nothing has been left undone to provide plenty of entertainment for each day of the celebration. Among the many attractions there will be the Wayne County Horseshoe tournament. The men's doubles will be played off on Thursday, and the singles on Friday morning at ten o'clock. Horseshoe pitching experts from all parts of the county have been invited and some close contests are expected in this favorite pastime.

There will be a ball game each day for the lovers of the great national sport. Rough & Ready, Shoreham Park, Howlett's Clowns, Wayne County Good Roads, Newburg, Plymouth Merchants, Northville and Brightmoor teams will be the contestants.

For those who love to trip the light fantastic, there will be a dance every evening, with a splendid orchestra to furnish the music.

Eddie Stinson with his flying squadron will be on the grounds every day.

Crane, the world's greatest parachute jumper, will endeavor each day to break his world's record of dropping 2,500 feet before opening his chute. You will want to see this great stunt.

Everybody is most cordially invited to attend the celebration. It will be an occasion of many old residents of Livonia township getting together again and renewing old acquaintances. All roads lead to Bentley's Old Dutch Mill gas station on the Five Mile road, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 20, 21 and 22.

CHARLES PARRISH PASSES AWAY

Charles Parrish, son of Asa and Mary Ann Parrish, was born in Canton township, Wayne county, Michigan, May 13th, 1853, and died Saturday evening, August 8th, 1925, aged seventy-two years, two months and twenty-seven days.

August 15th, 1873, he was married, at Denton, Michigan, to Miss Agnes Smith, who now survives him. Had he lived until this coming Saturday, he would have achieved fifty-two years of married life; about forty of them being spent on the farm where he resided at the time of his death. Mr. Parrish's interest in religion and benevolence found expression through his membership in the Helping Hand Society of King's Corners.

He leaves besides his wife, five children: Charles Parrish of Ypsilanti; Frank Parrish of Wayne; Mrs. F. A. Kohnitz of Detroit; Mrs. A. Hanchett of Wayne, and Mrs. Otto Kaiser of Plymouth. Three other daughters died in recent years. He leaves also one brother, William R. Parrish of Holly, Michigan; thirty-seven grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services at the late residence, were conducted Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth. Interment was made in the Sheldon cemetery.

HOME COMING AT WAYNE

Many Plymouth people will attend the home coming celebration at Wayne today, Friday, and tomorrow, Saturday, August 14th and 15th. The celebration is given under the auspices of the Wayne I. O. O. F. Several good ball games are scheduled. Today, Bonulus and Northville will be pitted against each other, and on Saturday, the Wayne County Good Roads team will play the winners of Friday's contest. On Friday there will be the annual business men's parade, when practically every business concern in the town will be represented with a float. There will be many other attractions, and a full list of athletic sports each day. The Wayne band will furnish music.

LOCAL LETTER CARRIER CHOSEN AS DELEGATE

Robert D. Walker attended the meeting of the Michigan Letter Carriers' Association held at Cadillac, last week. Among the speakers at the convention were Congressman J. C. McLaughlin and Postmaster John W. Phillip of Dallas, Texas, who brought a greeting from Postmaster New to the Michigan convention. J. H. Bachelor of Albion, was re-elected for his third term as president of the association. Mr. Walker was one of the delegates chosen to represent Michigan at the national convention to be held at Cleveland. Adrian was selected as the place for holding the 1926 convention. Mr. Walker reports a very interesting and profitable convention.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

The rains two weeks ago made the digging so wet on Holbrook avenue that the sewer contractor has stopped work in that section for a time, waiting for the ground water to lower. Meanwhile he has been making good progress on the South Main street lateral. The Ann Arbor street trunk sewer goes in slowly on account of the deep cut and the wet digging encountered. The concrete culvert on Tonquish creek is about half completed.

We have received ten more stop signs from the Detroit Automobile Club. These will be placed at several of the garage drives, where these open on a through street, and Church street at Harvey will be made a through street, all traffic on Harvey street to stop before entering or crossing Church street. Last fall among the signs placed by the auto club were three school signs. The paint on these peeled off badly, and we have three new ones to take their places.

Signs forbidding dogs, guns and hunting have been posted around the spring property in Northville. The birds and animals were being scared away by the use of the grounds for dog training and by promiscuous shooting.

Material is on the ground for the new warehouse in the rear of the village hall. This work will soon be started.

The extension of the Blunk avenue sewer from Farmer street to Junction avenue has been completed by Mr. Reideman and his men.

August 10th was the last day village taxes could be paid without penalty. The treasurer reports the largest collection that day since he has been in office—over $13,500.00.

Each time there are taxes or water rates to be collected, there are some people who protest losing the discount on these payments when they pay them after the specified time limit. These taxes were due at regular periods, which should be known to every taxpayer, and there is no valid excuse for not knowing when tax times come, and for how long the discount provision holds, even if for some reason the tax statements are late or are mislaid or lost. If for any reason at all you do not get to the treasurer before he is compelled by law or ordinance to add the penalty or refuse the discount, don't get sore at anyone but yourself, but pay up like a man.

A note in a Detroit paper the other day mentioned the new municipal flag of Columbus, Ohio. The last several years quite a few cities have adopted official flags, but none of those whose designs have been mentioned are any prettier than our own Plymouth flag.

The petition to have a new flag for the county drawn has been forwarded to Mr. Dingman. The county will now take steps to have the creek surveyed and the work laid out.

The County's Bouquet

MURRAY FAMILY HOLDS ITS FOURTH REUNION

The fourth annual reunion of the Murray family was held Sunday, August 2nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fishbeck with 61 in attendance. The rain Friday laid the dust and cooled the atmosphere so the day was ideal. Guests were present from Lansing, Detroit, Plymouth, Ypsilanti, Williamston and Ann Arbor.

At one o'clock all were seated at a long, well laden table where everyone ate and ate and still there was more. The president, Mrs. Katherine Murray, called the meeting to order. Election of officers resulted as follows: Pres. Mrs. Abbie Murray Morgan; vice pres., Mrs. Lella Murray Smith; sec-treas., Mrs. Ettie Murray Murphy. As all the officers were residents of Detroit, it is thought the next meeting will be held in Detroit.

Miss Gertrude Murray read an interesting letter written nearly 80 years ago by her grandfather, Chas. T. Murray to his mother, Mrs. Abigail Reeves Murray. He quoted prices on provisions such as butter, eggs, potatoes, etc., and stated he had just purchased a fine cow for $26, and told what fine "Johnny Cake" his little girl bride could bake. The letter was passed around so all could see the distinct beautiful penmanship.

There were many deaths in the Murray family in the past four years, but there were four marriages and four births in the past year.—Washtenaw Post.

PATCHEN SCHOOL REUNION

The annual reunion of the Patchen school, District No. 3, Nankin, will be held on the school grounds, tomorrow Saturday, August 15th. A basket picnic, games and visiting will be the order of the day. All who are interested come and enjoy the day. Refreshments will be sold on the grounds.

PHONE CO. TO RAISE RATES IN MICHIGAN

On another page of this paper will be found a legal notice of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., giving notice that an application will be presented to the Michigan Public Utilities Commission on the 20th day of August, 1925, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. of that day, for authority to put into force a new schedule of monthly exchange rates. We call your attention to the notice elsewhere in this paper, for the new schedule of rates.

A note in a Detroit paper the other day mentioned the new municipal flag of Columbus, Ohio. The last several years quite a few cities have adopted official flags, but none of those whose designs have been mentioned are any prettier than our own Plymouth flag.

The petition to have a new flag for the county drawn has been forwarded to Mr. Dingman. The county will now take steps to have the creek surveyed and the work laid out.

WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

A new $50,000 school building will be built in the Pierson School District No. 2, Livonia township, in the near future. This school is located on the Seven Mile road, near the Farmington road, and adjoins the Garden Grove subdivision, which is one of the most desirable subdivision properties in that locality. The school board has purchased two buses for transporting pupils to and from school. The new building will not be completed in time for the opening of the school year, so the board has leased a house of Harry Wolfe, in which they will hold school for the first four grades, and the four higher grades will be in the old school house.

LIBRARY BOOKS FOR VACATIONISTS

Suggestions for the vacationist at home: Adventures with Rod and Harpoon along the Florida Keys—Endicott. "He makes the reader realize something of the excitement and pleasure the occasion afforded. Nor does he ever forget for long the beauty of the surroundings. The infinite play of lovely and varied colors on sky and sea, the restfulness of palm-covered shore, the wonders and the beauty of the depths. Illustrations are noteworthy for their excellence and remarkable for the success with which some of them have caught the acrobatic stunts of the sail-fish."

Scoops—Greenwall. For many years the author made Paris his headquarters, and was there when the war broke out. He tells of his own experiences during the war and his meetings with celebrities, of conditions in France and in Germany today, of the collapse of the Austrian empire and of news gathering in the Balkans.

Soundings—Gibbs, A. H.—The normality of the characters, the same can-did-observations of the question of sex, and the picture of the delightful camaraderie that exists between Nancy and her artist father undoubtedly raise this into the class of deservedly popular fiction.

God of Might—Tobenkin. "The problem of intermarriage between Jew and Gentile as presented by a young immigrant, who, in spite of a life of apparent ease and contentment in the small mid-western community of which he is a part, eventually finds himself miserable and alone, hopelessly isolated in heart and in spirit from his friends, wife and family. Intelligently and simply handled."

MAY RESERVE SECTION FOR CATHOLIC BURIALS

A proposition has been brought before the cemetery board and village commission, to reserve a certain section of the new part of Riverside cemetery for the burial of those of the Roman Catholic faith. About four or five acres of the new plat, facing on the Whitbeck road and on the main drives laid out through the new section from the present cemetery, according to this plan, would be kept for Roman Catholic burials. The lots would be sold by the cemetery board, with the same provisions for perpetual care, and under the same supervision as the lots in the rest of the cemetery.

WILL MOVE TO NEW LOCATION

P. P. Patrick will move his grocery and meat market from its present location across the street into the building formerly occupied by the bakery. New shelving is being installed and the room will be redecorated, and the whole will present a very pleasing appearance when completed. Mr. Patrick hopes to be in the new location about August 22nd. Mr. Patrick is offering some special removal sale prices in his ad today.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT THE PENNIMAN ALLEN

Charles W. Wiggle, the McCormack of the Detroit police department, will sing several popular numbers at the two shows at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday evening, August 15th. Mr. Wiggle has appeared at the local theatre before, and Plymouth people will be glad of the opportunity of hearing this talented singer again.

COOK-MILLER

Harold Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Cook, of Wayne, and Miss Grace Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller of Plymouth, were married at Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Wednesday morning, August 12th, at nine o'clock, Rev. Fr. Lefevre officiating. They were attended by Miss Marie Miller, sister of the bride, and Leo Moranty of Plymouth. Mrs. J. Rousseau sang, "O Promise Me." After the services, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and dinner was served the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook will reside in Plymouth, and will be at home to their friends after September 1st.

A NEW BUSINESS FIRM

In this issue of the Mail, a new business firm makes an announcement. The name of the new firm is Green & Jolliffe, and they are the purchasers of the A. H. Dibble & Son stock of shoes, clothing and men's and boys' furnishings. For the past sixteen days a great closing out sale has been in progress at this store. Beginning today, a reorganization sale is announced by the new firm, who will continue the sale for the remainder of the month at least. A new and complete line of shoes, clothing and furnishings has been purchased by the new proprietors, which is arriving daily.

The A. H. Dibble & Son store was one of the oldest and best known firms in Plymouth, and has enjoyed a most prosperous business for many years. Harry Green, the senior member of the new firm, has been with the Dibble store for the past ten years, and before coming to Plymouth he was with the H. G. Wells wholesale shoe company of Chicago, Marshall-Field and the Sorosis Shoe Co. of that city. He has had a wide experience in every department of the business in which he is engaged.

Harold Jolliffe, the junior member of the firm has had considerable experience in the mercantile business, having been associated with his father, the late H. B. Jolliffe, in the general store conducted by him in north village. Both young men have a host of friends who will wish them an abundance of success in their new business venture.

DEATH OF MRS. EARL SIEDELBURG

Maude Krockner, daughter of Paul and Martha Krockner, was born in 1874, at Moyness, Wisconsin. March 9, 1922, she was married at Pontiac, Michigan, to Earl Siedelburg of Plymouth, who now survives her. She leaves also one son by a former marriage, Arnold Harper, of Plymouth; her father, Paul Krockner of Tripoli, Wisconsin; two sisters, Annie Mordy of Valparaiso, Michigan, and Heede of Ryland, Michigan, and a large circle of more distant relatives and friends.

Mrs. Siedelburg was a member of the Methodist church at Pontiac. After four months of suffering during which every possible relief for her disease was sought in vain, "God's finger touched her and she slept."

Funeral services at the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home were conducted Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock, by Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Calvin Whipple assisted as soloist, singing two selections. Interment was made in the Livonia Center Cemetery.

PERRINSVILLE SCHOOL REUNION

The Perrinsville school will hold a reunion on the school grounds, Saturday, August 22nd. A basket picnic dinner at noon will be one of the features of the day. There will be a ball game, sports and program during the afternoon. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy a good time and renew old acquaintances. It is expected that many of the former pupils and teachers of the school will be present at the coming reunion. Don't forget the date, Saturday, August 22nd.

NEW TRANSFORMER STATION

The Detroit Edison Co. have their new transformer station at the corner of Farmer and Theodore streets in operation. The establishment of the new transformer station here will be a decided advantage to Plymouth, as it gives us two feed lines into the village instead of one, and it is also more advantageous for manufacturing purposes. The Edison Company owns four lots at the corner of Farmer and Theodore streets. Plymouth people are much pleased that the new station has been established here.

LOCAL GAS COMPANY MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

The Plymouth & Northville Gas Co. has its crew of workmen in Northville at present laying mains on several streets in that village. Since the new company has taken over the plant they have added two hundred services in Plymouth and seventy-five in Northville. Last Saturday the plant put out 100,000 feet of gas, the largest amount ever consumed in a single day since the plant was established.

The company is now installing a new compressor or booster for the peak hours and as an emergency measure. Two new 10,000 foot storage tanks are also being installed, which will give the plant a greatly increased storage capacity, which will insure a good pressure and splendid service at all times.

BASE BALL

PLYMOUTH MERCHANTS VS. SHOREHAM PARK

Plymouth Merchants lost a close and exciting game to Shoreham Park team, last Sunday, by the score of 5 to 4. The visiting team presented a strong lineup, having several Alma players on the team. Millross pitched good ball for Plymouth and deserved to win, errors counting for most of the visitors runs. The Merchants who played and defeated the Plymouth Booster Club by a 9 to 5 score. Ebers was on the mound for the locals.

Sunday, August 16th, Burroughs Independents will be the attraction at Burroughs Field. Game called at 3:00 p. m.

WITCHELKS OF WINDSOR, VS. D. H. OF C. FARM OFFICERS.

The Farmers added another victory to their already long string of victories when they defeated the Witchelks of Windsor, 4 to 2, Sunday, at the Farm grounds.

The Canadians started out by getting two hits, and looked like a real ball team until Roman, the good south paw pitcher of the Farmers, started to throw his dark ball, which the Canadians could not see. Roman struck out 12 during the game, and allowed only nine scattered hits which were only allowed to develop into two runs by the Farm boys.

The two Jaska boys polished up their record brighter on Sunday, when Arnold pulled his famous hidden ball trick on the runner on second in the fifth inning. The Canucks had started a rally that filled the bases, but which wilted when the man was tagged off second. Walter Jaska used his bat to good effect, getting two hits out of three times at bat.

Archie Long, the right fielder of the Farmers, looked like Ty Cobb with the bat, getting two hits that counted for three runs, and was cheated out of another sure hit when Beausalls, the Canuck second baseman, ran into deep center to make the catch.

Harry Hunter played third base for the Farmers for the first time, and looked good enough for any man's team.

The Farm boys are playing a class of ball right now that is usually seen in professional leagues, in fact, it would not be surprising to see big league scouts around the Farm park during the coming games, as their fame is spreading far and wide.

A PRETTY PASS

Things are coming to a pretty pass when crime conditions get so serious that prominent citizens from the various states of the Union find it necessary to organize to stamp out murder and banditry. Yet an organization for that purpose is now in process of formation.

We live in peace and contentment here in Plymouth, and it is hard for us to believe that the United States is today taking its place at the top of the crime lists of all nations. But there they are, not one or two but dozens of them, chronicled on the first page of our daily papers every day. The climax came a few days ago with a daylight holdup in a big Chicago hotel, in which the clerk and two of five bandits met death. But the same day and practically every day since, other crimes of a most revolting nature were reported from other parts of the country.

Murder has become common in the U. S. within the past few years. It is impossible to pick up a daily paper any more without finding accounts of holdups and murders. Men are shot down on the least provocation and bandit gangs pick off the leaders of opposing gangs at will. This year will record more legal hangings and electrocutions than in any one previous year—and yet the number of cold-blooded murders is not decreasing. It seems strange a nation like this has to put up with such a record, or that it is necessary to form a committee of private citizens to get behind our laws and see that they are enforced.

A FLOOD OF LAWS

Doubtless everyone in Plymouth is acquainted with the old assertion that "ignorance of law excuses no one." And yet we would like for someone to point out to me one man, here or anywhere else, who is not ignorant of our laws. A learned eastern man has just finished an investigation that required several years of his time, and he has given out figures to show that there are in this country today a little over 2,000,000 laws. They are state, national and municipal—but they are all laws, and all are to be obeyed if a man always stays "within the law." Now where is the man who can claim that he is wise enough to know them all? And where is there any reason for blaming a man for happening on a new one occasionally—usually after he has broken it? Two million laws! Think of that! And yet here we are spending our hard-earned money in every state in the union to pay legislators to make more of them.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

The west has harvested her wheat crop, and for the first time in years she hasn't had to send out a nationwide appeal for harvest hands. This doesn't mean that her crop was very much smaller, nor that there is a greater amount of idle labor than in previous years. It simply means that those who are willing to work in the grain fields of the west during the harvest season can now get there without difficulty, and at less expense than when they had to depend on the railroad instead of the river. This condition is good for the grower and good for the man who really wants employment. He can go a longer distance to secure this kind of work than he could have hoped to go a few years ago, and he doesn't have to spend all he earns in the harvest field for a ticket back home. We will probably never again hear the old-time cry for help from states that furnish the world bread. The river seems to have solved still another problem for the "bouncing west."

TIME PIECES MUST BE ACCURATE AT THE FORD PLANTS.

In every great industry the element of time plays a most important part, but it would be difficult to find any institution where it requires such close attention as in the Ford organization which not only keeps one watchmaker continually at work, but in addition keeps a corps of clock men busy seeing that some hundreds of clock tick the time to the second.

This element of time radiates every division of the Ford industry, regulating the hour when lumber reaches the mills, when coal is loaded, when the ore reaches the blast furnaces, when molten metal is poured, when motor cars are completed, when Ford trains move, Ford ships sail, Ford airplanes wing their way into space, and when Ford employees come to work and quit.

Today a Ford ship, sailing for home after carrying the name of Ford across the Atlantic to European ports for the first time, is proceeding on its way with clocks that were checked and regulated in the Ford Engineering Laboratories at Dearborn, Mich., where precision in everything is the watchword. Another Ford ship, plying the Atlantic coast, likewise carries clocks regulated in these laboratories, the same as the giant Ford steel freighters, which ply the Great Lakes carrying coal and iron ore.

It is the business of a watchmaker, whose workshop is in a bright little room in the Dearborn laboratories, to see that the ships' clocks are in perfect time. He also keeps check on the watches used by the trainmen on the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad, the Ford railway, and this alone is an important job.

Incidentally, the D. T. & I. is the only railroad in America which supplies watches to its trainmen. Some 300 watches are constantly in use, with 50 "loaners" in the watchmakers' room ready to go out whenever the occasion requires. No employee of the railroad is permitted to either set or attempt to regulate the watch he carries. Any timepiece that is off standard time even a minute must be turned in for a "loaner" until it is repaired and regulated.

Four chronometers and two master clocks, checked daily by radio, are standards used for regulating all railroad watches and ships' clocks.

In the great Highland Park and Rouge plants of the Ford Motor Company more than 100,000 employees register in and out every day. Their time is checked on cards by more than 420 clocks, and a special staff of men is maintained to see that every clock registers the correct time day in and day out, serving impartially the workers and the company alike in the great scheme of manufacture, for it is essential, in order to maintain proper production costs and efficiency throughout the organization, that everything proceeds in exact order and upon the minute, so that people throughout the world who are using and desire Ford products may be served.

Clipping Coupons: Strip, don't gym trunks and take bonds and scissors into steam room of Turkish bath. Raise bonds and scissors over head, inhaling slowly, and elevate right knee as high as it will go. (If left-handed, elevate left knee.) Lower bonds and scissors to level of knee, exhaling slowly, and use knee-cap for a desk, resting hand upon it and clipping coupon. Repeat until day's supply of bonds is exhausted.

Opening Safe Deposit Box: This exercise, if faithfully followed, is a certain reducer of waist measure. Select safe deposit box on tier of boxes nearest floor unit, refusing proffered aid of vault attendant, lean down, bending from the waist, with knees rigid and feet together, insert key and unlock box yourself. Do this daily until apoplexy claims its victim.

Pushing Push Buttons: Have large flat-top desk in private office fitted with row of push-buttons within convenient reach of your chair. Inhaling slowly, instruct your secretary to carry chair around to opposite side of desk. Lean forward flat across inkwell and push buttons, calling in turn production manager (exhaling), sales manager (inhaling), efficiency engineer (exhaling), building engineer (inhaling), and special cop in the main hall (exhaling). Note: Care should be taken to inhale only after exhaling, otherwise half the benefit of this exercise will be lost.

Pounding Desk: This exercise may be taken alone, but more satisfactory results are obtained in the presence of a room full of people, preferably your employees. Inhaling slowly, summon employees, and, clenching fist, pound desk. Exhaling, raise arm, bending at elbow, and pound desk again. Keep this up ten minutes, or until employees are mildly fatigued. If deemed desirable, words may be spoken briskly during this exercise. Develop ego.

Picking Petals: An admirable exercise, especially for back, shoulder and arm muscles while riding to and from business conferences in limousine. Lean back in padded seat and, reaching forward with right arm, pick petal from rose in vase across the car. Alternate right, left, right, left, until no petals remain. As you become proficient, and your muscle and wind warrant it, daisies may be substituted for roses. They have more petals and more resistance.—A. H. T., in Kansas City Star.

Unconscious Prejudice

Senator Edwards said in a prohibition argument in Trenton:

"We can't argue prohibition fairly and squarely because we are all prejudiced about it one way or another. We claim we're unbiased, but we soon give ourselves away."

"We're like the man whose name was down for the murder jury."

"Mr. Jones," they said to him, "before we take you on this jury we must find out whether you have formed any prejudice about the defendant's guilt or innocence."

"No," said Jones. "No, I ain't formed no prejudice whatever."

"And, Mr. Jones, have you, or have you not, any conscientious objections to capital punishment?"

"No objections at all," said Jones. "In a case like this."

Cultivation of the Snail

The harvest of the succulent snail of the cultivated species for European consumption has begun in Switzerland and France, and thousands of men and women will be busy throughout the summer in this curious industry. The annual production in both countries is about three million pounds, but as the demand is far greater than the supply the devices of the adulterator supplement nature, and pieces of meat, generally veal, are introduced into the empty shells. The large fields which are prepared for the propagation of the snail generally lie at the edge of a wood or forest, sheltered from the sun. The soil of the farm is well sanded and limed, and round it is built a wall two or three feet high.

Foolish Suicide

Walter S. Gifford, who at forty is president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company with its payroll of 340,000 employees, said in a recent interview in New York:

"I saw in today's paper an account of the suicide of a young lawyer. He had a good future before him, but he permitted one or two failures to drive him to despair. Yet the most successful men have more failures than successes to their credit."

"This sad case," Mr. Gifford ended, "is just another proof that a man is never too old to learn, but often too young to realize it."

Looking to the Future

A gymnasium will be provided for the dormitory which Harvard university is erecting for its medical school, in presenting $125,000 for the gymnasium, the donor, Mr. H. S. Vanderbilt, stated: "The students will learn from experience of the good which it has done their own minds and bodies, the benefit which would accrue to their future patients and mankind by prescribing and encouraging exercises of a similar nature."

Marbles With Toes

Found guilty of bad posture, improper shoes and other foot defects, more than 100 girls at the Colorado Agricultural college have been ordered by the athletic department to play marbles with their toes as a corrective exercise.

GARDEN GROVE

"OUR RESTRICTIONS ARE YOUR PROTECTION"

To the Wise Investors

Who have bought in GARDEN GROVE (and there are many of you), we congratulate you upon your ability to see the future of GARDEN GROVE. We, with your co-operation, are going to make GARDEN GROVE the best and most desirable place to live that is possible. There are many dollars to be made here, and both you and we will profit. Your lot is worth far more today than what you paid for it. Just ask the price of any lot the size and location of yours in any subdivision within miles of GARDEN GROVE and they will ask much more than you paid for yours. The reason is that you bought your lot direct from the owner, and saved the profit of many middlemen. You are going to make THAT profit, or BETTER, why not use the lot to build on? You couldn't find a more desirable place for a home. If you do not have the money to build right now, just drop in the office at any time, and we will show you how easily you can build your own home.

To the Unwise Spenders

Who are afraid to invest a few dollars a month in a good SOUND proposition, we would like an opportunity to put you in the class of the wise investors. We would like a few minutes of your time to talk with you and show you why and how GARDEN GROVE is superior to any other Subdivision, either as an investment or a home building proposition. We are very busy these days, we can't call on everybody, that's why we are taking this means of putting our proposition up to you. We haven't any big sales force (we don't need one), and because of that we can sell our lots cheaper. But we feel that you need us. If you don't invest in GARDEN GROVE, you will be the loser, we won't. Somebody is going to buy the lots that YOU could just as well make some money on, or somebody is going to have a nice beautiful home of their own, when you are still paying rent. When you buy your lot from us you are buying direct from the owner of the land who has lived upon it for over twenty-five years. We don't have to get as much for the lots as if the land had been sold and resold several times as all of the rest of the land near us has, and more than that we are NOT getting as much. We are willing to pass that much on to you, if you will but grasp the opportunity.

To Mr. and Mrs. Housekeeper

Have you seen the new homes in GARDEN GROVE? It will surprise you when we tell you the low price we have on them and how easily you can own one of them. We are not going to make a dollar on the first few homes we build. There are two new homes now ready for your inspection and they are homes in which you will be proud to live. There is no mystery connected with owning your own home. It is the inherited right of every American. Let us show you how to claim that right.

Mail us the coupon below for further information, or come to the property located at the intersection of Farmington and Seven Mile roads (both paved), and talk it over with us. Our office is always open.

IT ONLY TAKES TEN DOLLARS TO START YOU, and it may be the start you need, anyway, it will be one you will never regret.

Today's Reflections

Out in the country life is what you make it, and in the city life is what you make.

There may be a few darning needles left in the world, but we can find girls right around Plymouth who do not know it.

A Philadelphia man faints three times while being married. Wonder what he'll do when the first month's bills come in.

Henry Ford can build a diver in 18 minutes. And a fool driver and a tree can take one apart in 18 seconds.

Our idea of a good sport is the Plymouth man who stops at the butcher shop on his way home from a day's hunt, and buys enough meat for supper.

We read where an Iowa man drove 500 miles in a day. He must have been hunting for a parking place.

Our idea of an "efficiency expert" is one of these fellows who is still living off of his wife's parents.

The Plymouth man's definition of relatives, he told us the other day, are people who come to visit you when the weather gets too hot for them to cook.

A government report says foreign nations owe this country about $12,000,440,921. And we suppose we can count ourselves lucky if we get the $921.

As we heard it explained by a well-known Plymouth man yesterday, the difference between a rent and a tear is that if you go on a tear you won't have enough money left to pay rent.

A Detroit girl was powdering her nose when she walked into a hole in the street fourteen feet deep. Pride goes before a fall.

The village blacksmith who used to work under a spreading chestnut tree, now tinkers under a tin roof with a pair of pliers and a battery tester.

If the average Plymouth woman ever got a chance to marry again, she'd pick out a husband who made so much money, she'd never have to hear the word "economy" again.

Maybe you've noticed that most of the big jobs in this world are done by fellows who don't even care whether there's a grease spot on their necktie or not.

Most vacationists tell you that a summer resort is a place where the mosquitoes start in just where the flies left off.

Don't go through life blindfolded. If your eyes are showing signs of distress our optometrist is competent to advise you after an examination that leaves nothing to chance.

Frigate Bird Used as Letter Carrier

The swiftest of all sea birds is the frigate bird. In certain of the equatorial isles of the Pacific this bird is employed as a letter carrier. Taken from the nest before it can fly, it is fed on a fish diet by the natives. In the course of a few months it becomes so tame that it can be set free during the day and will return to its perch at sunset. An American formerly in the foreign service, who had frequent opportunities of witnessing the performances of these birds as letter carriers, tells an interesting tale in this relation.

On Nanomaga, where the American lived for 12 months, he had two "frigates" which were given him by a trader on Nultao, 60 miles to windward, and in return the American gave two splendid and very tame birds, hatched and reared on Nanomaga. The four were continually flying across from one island to another; sometimes the Nultao pair would visit their birthplace and visit the American's pair on their perch outside his house, remaining one or two days, fishing on their own account together and being fed at dawn and nightfall by the natives and the American. Then all four would sail off to Nultao, the American's pair usually returning within 36 hours.

To test the speed of these birds, the American once sent one of them to Nultao by the bark Redcoat, in care of the captain, who kept it in his cabin. It fretted greatly during the 48 hours the vessel was beating up to Nultao against the southeast trades. The Redcoat arrived at Nultao at four o'clock in the afternoon. At 4:30 the trader there, after writing a few lines to the American, and rolling the paper into a small square of oilskin, tied it to the bird and cast it loose. It was out of sight in a few seconds.

Now, the American and his friends had been keeping a keen outlook for the bird. They could only guess at the time when the Redcoat would arrive at Nultao, but imagined it would be at least 60 hours. Before six o'clock on the day that the trader had liberated the American's bird it was settled on its perch at home, accompanied by another couple, which it had evidently met en route. All three birds were heavily gorged with flying fish and allowed themselves to be caught and brought into the American's house, where the note was removed from the messenger.

Here's a Real Record

Now, don't crowd. The Cape Girardeau Southeast Missourian says:

Having established records, as yet unbroken, for the most ancient collar button and the most aged and honorable key ring, the contest now leaps, with added zest into a different field. This is the field of the razor stop and the first to enter it immediately sets a record that would seem close to unbeatable. According to a reliable communique, S. S. Smith of 1438 Bessie street possesses a razor stop that has been in active service since James A. Polk was President of the United States. This remarkable razor stop was acquired by Mr. Smith, who speaks of himself as "only a boy of ninety-two." In the year 1845, he still uses it weekly, he says, thereby setting a non-stop record of 78 years.

Jade Find in Africa

An important discovery of jade has been reported from a farm near the town of Britts in the Transvaal, South Africa. The stone was found in the various shades of blue, white, pink and green, and in quantities large enough to warrant commercial exploitation. The discovery was made during prospecting operations for chrome iron.

A company has been formed with headquarters in Johannesburg, and has obtained permission from the government to bring in Chinese jade experts as cutters and polishers so that the jade may be marketed as beads and art ornaments.

Birds Follow Icebergs

Each season when the icebergs break away from Greenland and start to the south in the Atlantic they are followed by ever increasing flocks of sea birds, says the Ohio State Journal. Officers of the coast-guard cutters, on duty near the icebergs to warn shipping, report the bird life with the bergs is much greater this year than in the past. Fulmars, shearwaters, murres, kittiwakes and divers are there in large numbers, apparently to get the food supply that is provided when the waves dash against the bergs and dislodge the little people of the water, or the melting of the ice releases food imprisoned in the Far North ages ago.

To Make Study of Dams

To determine the weakest parts of dams and just why they sometimes fail, the Engineering foundation, the joint research organization of the American societies of civil, mining, metallurgical, mechanical and electrical engineers, proposes to construct a dam at an expenditure of $100,000 and then cause it to burst. The experiment is to be made near Fresno, Cal. The main object to be achieved is the knowledge of how to build dams of maximum safety, yet with minimum thickness of construction and consequent economy of material.

Russian Dancing Prodigy

Among the most promising dancers in the Russian ballet season in London this season was Serge Lifar, aged eighteen, who had a dramatic escape from the bolsheviks at Kiev.

It is always a good idea for Plymouth families to remember that when heirs fall out others fall in.

Always Stimulating

A drowsy body makes a drowsy mind, and a congested liver causes both. Keep your liver active, mind and body alert and vigorous with Chamberlain's Tablets. They have a stimulating effect on stomach, liver and bowels, with no unpleasant after effect. Only 10c. Try them—no experiment.

Out Where the Paving Ends

Ever noticed the cars you meet in the out-of-the-way places, approached by narrow, twisting trails, or rough country roads? They are Fords—nearly every one.

To the Ford car no going is too hard. Every road is open to it—by-ways and highways alike. It is so light it rarely ever "mires in", so powerful that it can pull through where heavy cars must balk.

Take your Ford this summer and explore. There are delights awaiting you away from the beaten path that few know. Leave the crowds and the highways behind you. It costs but little—and it will be a vacation you will never forget.

COSMOPOLITAN HOST WITH 101

When the big Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch Real Wild West and Great Far East comes to Ann Arbor, Thursday, August 20th, you'll see the most cosmopolitan and picturesque host of people in all the wide world. A tour among the 1,400 folks with the show is an education in itself, and that's why the world's largest street parade (Miller Brothers' parade) is so enthralling. Famous Indian chiefs, cowboys, cowgirls, Indian warriors' Mexican rurales, South American vaqueros, Chinese irregular horse, Manchu pony soldiers, French zouaves from Indo-China; hard riding Cosacks, Turkestan cavalry—these, many others, to the number of six hundred ride in the parade and performances. European nationalities are represented, of course, in native garb, and there are six bands, all sorts of historical and allegorical floats, elephants, camels, buffalo, and longhorns in the street pageant. Then, too, Ezra Meeker, only living person who crossed the continent, as an adult, on the old Oregon trail of covered wagon fame, will drive a prairie schooner and ozen just as he did seventy-four years ago.

Less Housework-More Leisure

There is no need nowadays for the housewife to spend the best hours of the day in toilsome household duties and deny herself the pleasure and the advantage of abundant leisure.

The heavier and more troublesome tasks are now done quickly, pleasantly and cheaply by electricity. The electric household appliances used in the modern home are a boon and a blessing; and they are available to all. They are not a luxury, but a necessity.

If you are still sapping health and strength doing hard household tasks in the old-fashioned way, come to our office and let us show you how easily and how cheaply you can lighten your labor.

TEMPLE THEATRE Detroit, Mich.

A big midsummer festival bill with plenty of singing, dancing and pretty girls is announced at R. F. Keith's Temple Theatre for the week commencing Sunday Matinee, August 16. Headline honors will be divided between "Pickard's Chinese Syncopators," a jazzy fantasy of the Orient, with the famous eight China rosebuds and Craig Campbell, distinguished American Tenor. Pickard's Chinese Syncopators, is one of the big novelty acts of the season. Mr. Campbell offers a diversified song program assisted by Allen Stuart at the piano. Others billed Johnny Berkes and Sheila Terry in an episode of the sea entitled, "Easy Sailing," a melange of mirth, melody and dancing, with Florence Clark, Virginia Sully and a company of eight beautiful shipmates; Joe Weston and Grace Eline in "Character Interpretations;" Joseph E. Bernard and Trid Jason in a comedy playlet by Willard Mack, "Who Is She?" Carroll and Gorman, harmony comedians; Monroe and Grant, with eight girls in the novelty, "Go 'Head Charley;" Aesop's Fables; Topics of the Day and the Pathe Weekly.

The Burroughs Independents will cross bats with the local Merchants team, Sunday, August 16th.

Ranger Couldn't See Skunk at Family Pet

United States Forest Ranger Lewis Hanson of the Two Medicine valley in Glacier National park fed flapjacks all winter to a mink, a weasel, a skunk and two gray squirrels. The mink, weasel and the squirrels got so tame they ate out of his hand, but he left the skunk to wait on itself "cafeteria fashion."

Veteran trappers of the Rocky mountains declare this is the first time they ever heard of a mink or a weasel getting tame enough to eat out of a man's hand.

The incident came to official notice when Ranger Hanson kept reporting a shortage in flour rations. The chief ranger, when he discovered what Ranger Hanson was doing with his flour, was first inclined to reprimand the subordinate, but on looking over the rules and regulations, he changed his mind and allowed the extra supply.

In Uncle Sam's manual, forest rangers are instructed to be kind to animals.

Ranger Hanson's amiability has extended to more species than any other ranger has yet made pets of in the wilds of the Rockies.

"Of course in the tourist season it's different, but during the lonely months of the long winter a fellow has a friendly feeling for anything with life in it," Ranger Hanson volunteered.

"These animals evidently felt the same way about it, for they kept hanging around my cabin door all winter, and I sure couldn't regard 'em as anything but companions of the willis."

"But that darned skunk! I just couldn't bring myself to fondle him, although the poor devil almost wagged his tail as friendly as a dog when he approached me begging for the flapjacks which he had seen me feed to the other animals. I had to laugh at myself at times when I was almost convinced that he was sincerely friendly in the wagging of that tail."

"Once I was on the verge of giving him the hand offerings, just to show that I had no partiality for the other animals. I guess if I had had two suits of clothes I might have done it."

Weak Defense

General William Mitchell said at a dinner in New York:

"Our air service is in a bad way, and its defenders put up as had a defense as the tramp."

"A very dirty tramp was charged with chasing a lunch-joint attendant all around the lunch-joint with a knife. 'What time was it when I chased you?' the tramp demanded of his accuser."

"Eight o'clock in the morning," said the lunch-joint man.

"There, gents," said the tramp, running his dirty hand through his disheveled crop of whiskers. "That lets me out all right all right. That shows you what a liar he is. At eight o'clock every mornin', winter and summer, I takes me bawth."

Mixed Metaphor

Sir Almeric Fitzroy, who was clerk to the English pely council from 1506 to 1523, is writing his "Memoirs" for the London Morning Post. In the first installment he quoted from his diary some incidents that came to his knowledge during an official visit to Queen Victoria at Balmoral in October, 1898. One of these was the prayer of the Scottish minister who officiated at Craighall church and "in the royal presence petitioned the Almighty that 'as the queen became an auld woman she might put on the new man, and in all righteous causes stand before her people like a he-goat upon the mountains.'"

No Record Available

Mr. G. G. Grey, who conducts a bookshop in Trinity street, Cambridge, England, has traced the line of occupants of his establishment back to the year 1581. The names of those doing business there prior to that date seem to be lost in oblivion. Mr. Grey is anxious to learn if any person knows of an older bookshop. It was in 1581 that Queen Elizabeth knighted Sir Francis Drake, who had discovered New Albin two years earlier; but there is no record of his having established a bookshop at Drake's bay, so Mr. Grey need expect no help in his researches from this quarter.

Got Off Cheap

The late Samuel Gompers, condemning the pardon of two notorious law breakers, said one day to a Washington correspondent:

"The short time these men have served, about a tenth of their actual sentences, reminds me of a story. It's a story about a bogus oil stock millionaire who motored a friend out to his new home on Long Island. The friend gazed in awe at the vast pile."

"Holy smoke, George," he said, "what did this cost you?"

"Three months is all," answered the millionaire."

No Matter

"Mr. Johnson, the baby has poked beans into his left ear until I fear the hearing is permanently affected," said Doctor Slash.

"Aw, well," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "He's got another ear left, and there hain't nuthin' of consequence to—p'tu—listen to these days, no-how."—Kansas City Star.

America Greet New Nash Models with Record-Breaking Crowds

By the hundreds of thousands American men and women have thronged Nash showrooms from one end of the country to the other since Announcement Day, Thursday, July 23.

And the nation-wide enthusiasm these new Special Six and Advanced Six models have already created has launched Nash on a new year bound to eclipse by far the phenomenal success of the past twelve months.

Attendance has been so heavy that hundreds have been prevented from adequate inspection of the new models so we are extending the Special Introductory Exhibition for a period of two weeks more.

EXPECT LARGE ATTENDANCE GARDENERS FIELD DAY

EARLY RETURNS FROM FARGO AND SMALL MICHIGAN MARKET GARDENING CENTERS POINT TO SUCCESS OF ANNUAL GARDENERS' DAY, AT M. S. C. AUGUST 26.

Commercial garden truck growers from the Detroit, Grand Rapids and Bay City sections, as well as gardeners from smaller sections have already sent word to Prof. George E. Starr of the Michigan State College horticultural department that they will attend the second annual Gardeners' Field Day to be held there Wednesday, August 26th.

From a successful experiment of last year the field day plans this year will take in much the same inspection of experimental plots and discussion but greater attention will be devoted to greenhouse exhibits, according to Prof. Starr who is in charge of the program.

At 10:00 o'clock, the gardeners will begin their tour of the station grounds. Numerous examples of the better as well as the poorer varieties of vegetables will be shown, forming the basis for discussion upon vegetable varieties. The college greenhouses have been completed since last year's meeting and a visit to these is included in the morning tour.

One of the most extensive experiments ever undertaken in the culture of the early tomato is certain to interest the gardeners. Another experiment, among the many conducted is that with cucumber pickles. The object in this experiment is to produce a better and more uniform type of cucumber pickles.

The short afternoon program of speaking has been planned to discuss subjects of vital interest and also to permit the gardeners from widely separated sections to get together and exchange ideas.

American Eagle Well Named Monarch of Air

The American bald eagle is really misnamed. His head is well clothed with feathers, being pure white in the adult, which gives rise to the name "bald." The tail also is white, the remainder of the body is dark brown.

The young bird is dark throughout, three years being required for the assumption of the full white markings. In this immature stage the bird was once considered distinct and was variously known as the Bird of Washington and as the black or gray eagle. Young bald eagles are very like golden eagles and the two are often confused, but on close inspection the bald may be known by the fact that its legs are bare of feathers for some distance above the toes. There is little difference in extent of wing and total length between the golden and bald eagles, but the latter is stouter and heavier in body. It is a strange fact that immature bald eagles, due to greater length of feather, average larger than adults.

In aspect the bald eagle unquestionably is a noble and inspiring bird. The beak is heavy and strangely hooked, while the corners of the mouth have a downward curve, which gives the bird an appearance of severity. A hoarse place extends over the eyes and has a curious resemblance to the bearding brows often observed in men of strong character. The body is heavy and muscular, with a suggestion of latent strength, while the powerful legs and feet, with their tigerlike talons, confirm the impression of a creature able and willing to hold its own under any conditions.

In flight the bald eagle is magnificent. With pinions wide spread and floating with hardly perceptible effort, it glides through the air with an ease and grace which no man-made machine has ever equaled. Aided by favorable air currents and swinging in great circles, it rises to tremendous heights, often beyond the range of vision of the naked eye.—Lee S. Crandall, in Men tor.

Too Much Water for Fish

Even the finny inhabitants of old Father Thames suffered inconvenience on account of the floods of the past season. The first rush of water drives the fish from their customary swims, and in order not to be driven into unfamiliar waters, they take refuge in eddies and quiet corners where they can hold their own against the current, and into which food is borne and collects. As the river rises so the water colors and darkens, until light fails to penetrate to the bottom, so that food becomes invisible and the fish are driven to shallow water. When the stream overflows its banks and spreads over the adjacent meadows the fish quickly follow it in search of quiet water and the feast of drowned insects and earthworms to be found there. There is, however, always the risk that they may be stranded by a rapid subsidence of the flood.

Competition a Stimulant

A runner seldom breaks a record unless he is closely pressed. A baseball team plays its best game against a close adversary. A horse scores its best mark when pitted against fast horses.

The retail dealer plays his best game when pressed by competition. The one sure way to make a merchant slough into mediocrity and slipshod methods is to take away his competition. Honest, ethical competition develops good merchants and makes fine, alert citizens. A lack of competition breeds laziness and insolence. The greater your competition, the greater your opportunity for growth.—Good Housekeeping.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. S. CONGER HATHAWAY, A. M., PASTOR

Joins the Church at Eighty-Nine

Hon. Joseph Cannon, for many years a United States Senator from Illinois, and affectionately known as "Uncle Joe Cannon" joined the Church at Danville last Sunday morning. Make your own comment; but do not consider yourself too old to

Attend Church Next SundayPRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The pastor will attend the Bible Conference at Winona Lake, Indiana, for a few days next week. The prayer meeting Wednesday night will be in charge of one of the elders.

The violin solos given by Mr. Rogers last Sunday morning, were thoroughly enjoyed. We hope to have him with us again in a few weeks.

Plans were started last Sunday, for a Sunday-school picnic. It will be the biggest and best ever. Why not?

Superintendent, Weaver is dividing some of the classes that have become cumbersome from size. Thus the church grows. We only hope that room can be found for the added classes to meet in. The teachers are already in sight.

Let us make this the best year of church activity and life. We have the message, the motive and the men to do it. Also an unusually fine lot of women and children.

Popular music has a place in the service of the church. At least we might gain inspiration from this one when we are thinking about redecorating the auditorium and painting the mause.

"Simplest thing, there's nothing much to it:

You don't have to sing. Just doodle-doo-doo it."

You see "dough, dough, dough," are not the only notes in the scale of Christian activity.

NEWBURG

Word has been received from Rev. and Mrs. Paul Havens that they arrived at Ironwood, Wednesday night, making the trip of 750 miles in two days, and are enjoying the beauties of northern Michigan.

The Radio Carnival held last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Helen was quite a success, considering the weather. A nice sum was added to the treasury of the second division.

The second division of the L. A. S. will hold a bake sale at the gas office, this Saturday afternoon.

The Newburg Patriotic Society will hold their regular quarterly dinner and meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Titus Ruff in Plymouth, next week Thursday, August 20. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. C. E. Ryder and Mrs. R. A. Ryder and children, Donald Raymond and Adabelle, and Mrs. H. Grimm, Jr., and daughter, Virginia, took a trip to Rob-Lo, last week Thursday. Mrs. C. E. Ryder and Mrs. R. A. Ryder spent Thursday night with Mrs. Mary Padlock in Highland Park.

Mrs. Stewart Hanson and two children are spending the week with Mrs. John Thompson.

William Smith is visiting for a few days with his sister at St. Johns. Mrs. Margaret Stilling is quite sick at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jesse Thomas.

Little Howard Holmes has been suffering from a bad abscess, the past week.

Mrs. William Smith was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. H. Eldred of Detroit, the forepart of the week.

Mrs. Raymond Ryder and daughter, Adabelle, returned to her home in La Grange, a suburb of Chicago, Wednesday morning.

Misses Anna and Ada Youngs are spending a pleasant vacation with their aunt, Miss Kate Youngs, at Kingston.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown and granddaughter, Miss Gladys Brown of St. Johns, arrived Wednesday at William Smith's, to attend the Patchen school reunion.

The work of cementing the Federal road off of Plymouth road, commenced Monday.

SOUTH SALEM

Mabel Callen was a guest of her sister in Ypsilanti, Friday. Helen and Lolita came home at the close of summer school, and will remain until the opening of Normal College, when they will return to Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cline-Smith and sons, Charles and Cameron, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Cline-Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Lewis and children and Josephine Lewis drove to Fairgrove, Saturday and visited relatives, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayford Sioff drove to Detroit, Friday evening, and were on the market Saturday morning, with produce. Leslie Curtis was on the market also.

Bruce Rorabacher was a Plymouth and Ann Arbor caller, Sunday.

The Hollis family reunion was held at the home of Leslie Curtis, Saturday, with about forty present.

A daughter was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mack. Mrs. Mack was formerly Gladys Thomas.

Lily Berg recently accompanied some friends on a trip to Niagara Falls. She has resumed her work at Phoenix.

Mayford Sioff and Bruce Rorabacher have been trucking wheat to the elevator at Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bauer and two daughters were Sunday callers of Mrs. Vivian Kaercher.

Mrs. Zenside Merritt-Larkins attended summer school at Ypsilanti, and received her life certificate at the convocation ceremonies August 6th.

Arthur Cline-Smith is employed on the grounds of the Wayne Training school.

Loretta and Edwin Gale of Superior, are guests this week of their aunt, Mrs. I. W. Hamilton.

SIXTH ANNUALWASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR*September 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

Everything to make the fair a big success! Base ball game, band concerts, auto polo, farm exhibits. Splendid vaudeville acts. Wonderful display of fireworks. A midway that will surprise you. Unique displays by progressive merchants that will be pleasing and educational. Just a real good fair!

Children Stay On This Farm

Because a septic tank and farm water system have made living on the "home place" just as attractive as the city.

Everyone enjoys the modern water closet; and modern bathing, under a shower or in the tub. Mother and the girls appreciate the snow-white kitchen sink and modern wash-tubs. Water is abundantly supplied by the farm water system; and all waste water is safely disposed of by the septic tank, without any hard and disagreeable work. The boys and hands keep busy, on jobs more profitable than swinging a pump handle. During dry seasons, there is plenty water for garden and yard.

These inexpensive improvements reduce work, protect health and increase farm production.

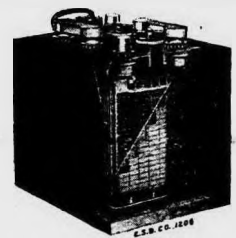

Let us tell you how your home can have "city comfort."

The Critic's Pan

Frank Harris, the novelist and critic, spent the winter on the Riviera, and one day on the Promenade des Anglais in Nice a rich young poet accosted him.

"The poet, who belongs to the new expressionist school—he has leanings besides toward diabolism, dadaism and dactylism—said with a smile of tremendous self-assurance.

"Ah, good morning, Mr. Harris. What did you think of the volume of poems I sent you last week?"

The critic laughed and answered in his melodious bass voice:

"So bad it couldn't be worse."

True Love

In speaking of the proposed revision of California's marriage laws and the community property bill, Governor Richardson remarked:

"In the old days, subjects like this did not exist. Those were the days of romance and these are the days of finance. In the old days, sweet sayings and sweetmeats used to count, but nowadays it's different.

"Are you sure he loves you?" Evelyn asked her friend.

"Of course I'm sure! Why, my dear, every time we're out in a taxi-cab he keeps his eyes on me all the time—never looks at the meter once."

Similar Gait

Out on the edge of the desert a rancher owned a popular-priced car, which he had painted white. He entered a near-by village one day, slightly madder than a wet hen.

"Look at my car," he said. "Sho! plumb full of holes!"

"Meet some bandits?" chorused the corner loafers.

"No," he snorted. "As I was drivin' in to town some 'blame' tenderfoot hunters mistook it for a jackrabbit."—American Legion Weekly.

CHANCERY NOTICE

No. 124667

STATE OF MICHIGAN, The Circuit Court for the County of Wayne, in Chancery.

John L. Staman, et ux., plaintiffs, vs. John Dickerson, Luther Lincoln, Jr., Luther Lincoln, Austin Durfee, Ruben S. Durfee, Reuben S. Durfee, Joseph C. Snell, Timothy Lyon, Alfred Hartshorn, and Simon Westfall, defendants. At a session of said Court, held in the Court Room thereof, in the City of Detroit, said County and State, on the 29th day of July, A. D. 1925.

Present: The Hon. Clyde L. Webster, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the Bill of Complaint in this cause, from which it satisfactorily appears to the Court that title, interest, claims or possible rights to the premises described in said Bill, and hereinafter described, which title, interests, claims and possible rights of said Defendants, and each of them, if they ever had any validity, said Plaintiffs aver to be barred by the continuous, open, notorious, undisputed, adverse and exclusive possession of Plaintiffs and their grantors for more than fifteen (15) years last past, and for more than fifteen (15) years last past since the several rights to the possession thereof accrued in said respective Defendants, which said possession has been, during all of said time, and still is, adverse and hostile to the title, interests, claims or possible rights of said respective Defendants; and upon reading affidavit of Plaintiff John L. Staman that it is not known and could not be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry, whether their title, interests, claims, or possible rights have been disposed of by will, and that it cannot be ascertained in what state or country said Defendants reside:

ON MOTION OF John L. Crandell, Attorney for Plaintiffs:

IT IS ORDERED, That John Dickerson, Luther Lincoln, Jr., Luther Lincoln, Austin Durfee, Ruben S. Durfee, Reuben S. Durfee, Joseph C. Snell, Timothy Lyon, Alfred Hartshorn and Simon Westfall or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, and the unknown persons who are, or may be, entitled to claim under them, cause their several appearances to be entered herein in the manner provided by Law on or before THREE (3) Months from the date hereof, and that this order be published or served as required by Law.

CLYDE L. WEBSTER, Circuit Judge.
Wm. McBrearty, Deputy Clerk.

SALU SUIT involves the title to, and is brought to quiet title to, the lands and premises described in said Bill of Complaint, as follows: In the Township of Livonia, Wayne County, Michigan, to wit:

The east one-half (E-1/2) of the east one-half (E-1/2) of the northwest quarter (NW-1/4), and the west one-half (W-1/2) of the west one-half (W-1/2) of the northeast quarter (NE-1/4) of Section 19, Town 1 South, of Range 9 East.

KNOWS MAN IN HIS INFINITE VARIETY

Coed Writes as the Spirit Has Moved Her.

There may be a lot of them over at the University of California, and there probably are, but I KNOW of ONE gay young coed who certainly knows about men.

Just listen to her:

"Once upon a time I thought I understood Man, and could marry one with one hand tied behind me and my eyes shut.

"But I have discovered: 'If you flatter a man, it frightens him to death.

"If you permit him to make love to you, he soon tires of you.

"If you don't let him be offended from the start.

"If you agree with him on everything, you soon cease to interest him.

"If you don't believe all he tells you, he thinks you are a cynic.

"If you do, he thinks you are a fool.

"If you wear gay colors and rough and startling hats, he hesitates to take you out.

"If you wear a little brown toque and a tailored suit, he takes you out, but gazes all evening at some other woman in gay colors.

"If you are jealous of him, he can't endure you.

"If you are not he can't understand you.

"If you share in his gayeties and approve of his smoking, he vows you are leading him to the devil.

"If you disapprove of his gayeties and urge him to give up smoking, you are driving him to the devil.

"If you are affectionate he soon tires of your kisses and seeks consolation in some other woman's.

"If you are a sweet, old-fashioned clinging vine, he doubts if you have any brains.

"If you are modern, advanced and independent, he doubts if you have scruples or a heart.

"If you are cute and hoylish, he longs for a soulmate.

"If you are brilliant, he longs for a playmate.

"If you are temperamental and poetic, he longs for a helmsman.

And all the time he's falling in love with you he's trying to make you into what you are not, never were or never will be.

"Now, please do not ask me how I discovered all these things about Man."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Chinese Palaces Cheap

Hard times and the rising cost of living are having a mournful effect upon survivors of the late Imperial house of China. Princely mansions and royal Manchurian helms are freely being offered on the market with only a mild response. (Owing to financial pressure, Prince Tsai Tso, uncle of the boy emperor, Hsiao Tung, has disposed of his palace and extensive grounds in the north city to a foreigner for a sum reported as $150,000 Mex.—about $80,000 in American money. That price is remarkably low. Prince Tsai Hsiao, another uncle of the deposed young monarch, has sold his residence to a foreigner and several other palaces are to be had from Manchurian princes who either need the money or are afraid that a radical change in the government may bring about the confiscation of their properties.

A Great Scheme

"Are there many snakes in this region?" asked a tourist. "Yes," replied Gan Johnson of Kansas Ridge. "Some fellows raise 'em for use at picnics. They promote matrimony right sharply."

"How is that?"

"If a fellow has been keeping company with a girl, or for that matter, a Gent with an old maid, about so long, she goes to the snake-man and pays him. He turns a mess of snakes loose at the next picnic, and directly all over the place you see girls and old maids jumping right into young fellows' and older gent's arms, a-hollerin' 'Save me, boy!' and so forth. And about the next thing you know they're married."—Kansas City Star.

Many Use Elevators

Nearly every one rides in America. In addition to the large number of people who use horizontal transit, such as railroads, trolley cars and subways, one of every ten persons in the United States takes a vertical ride every day. This means that the passenger elevators in the various buildings of the country carry up and bring down about 14,000,000 persons every day. Study made by the National Association of Building Managers and Owners' Associations shows that for every 15.9 square feet of rental space a passenger must be carried. The office space area of the United States is placed at 22,600,000 feet.

The Wrong Method

"The French expect to pay their war debts, and all this pretense of refusing to pay is just bargaining—the Latin method. But to try such a method on us Americans is certainly tactless."

The speaker was Mayor Hilary Howse, of Nashville. He went on: "Such tactlessness reminds me of the Nashville man who used to go around saying to people in trouble:

"I'm not as old as you are, but my advice to you is: die."

Have you been looking for some good, light, straight lumber, Mr. Contractor, lumber that will save you carpenter time and give complete satisfaction to the owner? Then drop down and look at our White Fir 2x's and shiplap. They can't be beat.

There are many old homes in the Plymouth community that could be wonderfully improved. Some slight modern additions might make a much more salable house. We'd be glad to talk the matter over with you.

M. A. Sheldon's Sons, the owners of Rosedale Park, are starting a second subdivision, Rosedale

Our theory on the way to make peach cobbler is to make plenty of it.

Did your roof leak during the recent heavy rains? Prevent it doing so during the next ones. Re-roof your home with Mule Hide Shingles. They are water tight, air tight, reasonable in price and make a good looking roof.

THE THEATRE

"BEYOND THE BORDER"

"Beyond the Border" is the first Harry Carey picture we have booked for several years, but we assure you that it is a fine picture. It will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday evening, August 15th.

As an added attraction for this evening, Charles W. Wiggle, the McCormack of the Detroit Police Department, will sing several popular songs at both shows.

"LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS"

Flashing on the heels of that epic of the Great West, "The Thundering Herd" comes another powerful Zane Grey story, in which are woven the might, the romance and the outlawry of frontier struggle, "The Light of Western Stars," directed by William K. Howard, the man who produced "The Thundering Herd."

This latest Paramount production, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre next Sunday and Monday, August 16 and 17, has the popular and virile Jack Holt in the hero role, with Noah Beery and Billie Dove sharing the featured honors.

The setting is laid in the Southwest at the time when the admission of Arizona and New Mexico to statehood enlarged the realm of the cattle country. It is essentially a story of cowboy drama, of deeds of valor that overcome villainy and of gunfighting with the love of a beautiful girl as the prize.

As in all picturizations of Zane Grey's fascinating and colorful western dramas the locations were chosen with the greatest fidelity possible to the actual settings of the novel. Much of the story was photographed in the mountain and desert country of southern Arizona through which winds the historic Apache trail. And for many of the scenes Director Howard took his players into the hauntingly beautiful recesses of the Superstition Mountains.

"The Light of Western Stars" has much of interest to film fans quite apart from the entertainment values. Dealing as it does with one of the most violent periods of American history, it is tremendously absorbing because it gives us a realistic glimpse of the rip-roaring life in those hectic border days.

Picked Up About Town

"I've often wondered," says Dad Plymouth, "why some men imagine that they can reform the weather by cussing the thermometer."

Those who find that revenge is sweet usually suffer later from moral indigestion.

Dad Plymouth declares that in his opinion the laziest man on earth is the one who stretches out right after the evening meal and sleeps until it's time to get up and undress and go to bed.

After all, the people who show good judgment are those who have the good sense to attend to their own business while the other fellow is attending to his.

"It has about gotten so," declares Dad Plymouth, "that a fellow will do more fussing and fuming over picking a canteloupe than he does in picking out a wife."

After he has been married a few months and the bills commence to come in, a man realizes that his arms were made for something else besides hugging.

"The only thing worse than putting your nose to the grindstone," asserts Dad Plymouth, "is putting it in somebody else's business."

"I know a man who is so stingy," says Dad Plymouth, "that he eats bananas all the time to keep from wearing out the gold in his teeth."

Sale to Detroit parties of the Charles Pettibone farm, just north of Farmington village is reported. The consideration is said to be over $100,000. This property has long been sought by real estate men. The terrain is admirably adapted for country residences of a superior type.—Farmington Enterprise.

The Milford Silver Black Fox ranch is to be moved to a location in Highland township about three miles north-east of Milford. Here a house will be built and a 40-acre ranch established with all other necessary buildings. The reasons for the move is that there being two gravel pits and a main road near the present location, it is too noisy for the animals especially during the breeding season. Work has already commenced on the new location.

The DIAMOND
~ more popular than Ever ~

THE present vogue of the diamond is due in no small measure to the very attractive new White Gold Mountings, which Fashion has decreed shall take the place of yellow and green gold.

And these diamond rings ARE more than a vogue—never did gems sparkle with such contrasting beauty before. We have long been known as experts in the matter of diamonds and have a selected stock from which you may choose. Diamonds, of course, are an INVESTMENT.

The new line of W. W. W. 18-K Diamond Rings in White Gold settings strike an absolutely new note. As in the case of all W. W. W. Rings, they are guaranteed.

Come and see this remarkable exhibit of diamond rings. (We specialize in re-mountings, with a wide selection of White Gold designs—creations of the present season).

Tuesday afternoon, September 1st—two games: 2:30, Saline and Ann Arbor Times News; 4:00, Salem and Dexter. Wednesday, September 2—10:30 a. m., Manchester vs. Unadilla; 4:00 p. m., DeMolay of Ypsilanti vs. Chelsea.

The winners of Tuesday's and Wednesday's games play respectively on Thursday and Friday at 4:00 p. m. Saturday the winners of Thursday and Friday play for championship of Washtenaw County Fair. V. O. Nelson, secretary of Y. M. C. A., Ann Arbor, and Everett De Ryke, editor of the Milan Leader, are committee in charge of tournament. Harold Guy of Milan, has been engaged to umpire. The series is arousing great interest throughout Washtenaw and adjacent territory. A good clean keenly contested tournament is anticipated.

Ann Arbor Public Health Nursing Association has kindly offered to operate and supervise "Rest Tent" for ladies and children during entire week of fair, September 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. This association has rendered excellent service at previous fairs. Their tent has proven very helpful and is well patronized especially by ladies with small children. Infants may be left with the competent nurses, who are in charge of the tent, for the nominal fee of ten cents an hour. This service gives mothers an opportunity to see the fair without having to carry their small children. Every visitor at the fair is invited to make use of the Rest Tent.

Secretary C. J. Sweet is pleased to announce the entertainment offered at Washtenaw County Fair, September 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, will eclipse any fair program previously offered in this county. The acts shown in front of the grandstand include "Fred's Pigs," a distinct novelty trained animal act which will amuse young and old; "Al Golem & Co." gorgeously gowned Persian entertainers who perform sensational acrobatic stunts. Their "pole act" is a distinct oddity, absolutely unsurpassed in technique. This act was one of the main features of the "Awakening," recently given in Detroit.

The fireworks program includes: "Venice," the beautiful city of sunny Italy, showing the Santa Maria Della Cathedral; Italian Homes; The Grand Canal with gondollers and their warders drifting along in picturesque gondolas. Suddenly the scene changes. The great beauty of the city takes on the hue of the Mardi Gras; colored Roman candles and jets of beautiful light illumine the canals and the background disc out in a fairy-like glow of radiant fest. Nightly programs include: "Star Shells;" "Enchanted Messenger;" "Radio Wheel;" "Cross of Malta," done in many colored fires; and "Old Glory."
