BANDITS HOLD UP FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLYMOUTH

Detroit Policeman and One of the Bandits Lose Lives, and a Farmer Shot Twice as a Result of the Robbery Last Friday.

Bandits Secured $5,506 in Loot From the Bank and Made Their Getaway in an Automobile.

Plymouth citizens have read about bandits holding up and robbing banks in our neighboring towns and cities, but it was not until last Friday afternoon that this has ever happened in Plymouth, and the whole town was thrown into a state of excitement when it became generally known that bandits had held up and robbed the First National Bank in this village, of nearly six thousand dollars, and after wounding one man and firing several shots at another citizen, had successfully made their getaway from the town.

According to citizens, the bandits, all young men, in an olive green roadster with a rumble seat, drove about town before invading the bank.

At 2:45 p. m., leaving their car parked in front of the home of W. T. Conner on Pennington avenue, and one of their number on the outside, three of the men entered the bank. Drawing pistols, they ordered John B. Hubert, president of the bank, who was in the front office conversing with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Benjamin, customers, Floyd Kehrl, cashier, and Jack Taylor, assistant cashier, to throw up their hands. The bandits then ordered Hubert, Kehrl, Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin into the back room, where Mr. Hubert's hands were tied with tape. He was ordered to stand still and not turn around, but he managed to edge along a little until he was able to throw the switch of a burglar alarm.

In the meantime the things had gone into the cashier's care where they were scooped up the money, which they rolled into a coat belonging to Mr. Hubert. About this time, the bandits began to run out of the bank, and at the door they met Mr. and Mrs. Ell Bolcan, who live near Plymouth, coming into the bank. Bolcan was ordered to throw up his hands, but instead of complying, he started to run, and the bandits opened fire upon him, two bullets finding their mark in Mr. Bolcan's neck and back. Mrs. Bolcan's screams brought people running from the stores while the bandits beat a hasty retreat down the street to their car. In their haste they dropped several packages of bills upon the street.

Emanuel Fatses, who is employed as clerk in the Palace of Sweets, was just coming out of the Wolf store when two of the bandits passed and saw packages of money lying upon the walk. He saw another man coming with a gun in his hand, but thought he was chasing the other two, and he began picking up the money, when a shot from the bandit's gun struck the walk in front of him, and as he turned to enter the store another shot went through the window, narrowly missing him.

On their way to the car they ordered Manna Blunk, who had just driven up in front of the Pennington Allen theatre, to get back into his car and stay there. They got into their car, and turning around they turned south on Harney street and east on Ann Arbor street and tore out of town at terrific speed. They were pursued by several Plymouth citizens in cars, but the bandits had too good a start and they were not overtaken.

Immediately after the robbery, the Detroit police, sheriff's office and state police were notified of the robbery.

At Eaton and Hubbell avenues, Kobinsky and McPherson, Detroit patrolmen, came upon the bandit car but, not being positive of the identity of the four youths, ordered McCarthy, the driver, to pull over to the curb. Instead of complying, McCarthy accelerated the speed of the roadster and McPherson fired. The bandits answered the fire and Kobinsky slumped in his seat with a bullet in his head. McPherson leaped to the street and, using a tree as a shield, continued to fire at the bandits and they at him as the roadster swung into Eaton avenue.

McPherson did not pursue the bandit car further, but drove at once with Kobinsky to the Providence hospital, where it was found Kobinsky had been instantly killed.

Meanwhile the three uninjured bandits had stopped on Eaton avenue, a block away from Hubbell avenue, where they abandoned McCarthy who was shot through the lungs. They removed their green slickers and overalls, worn during the holdup, and threw away their pistols and a number of steel jacketed bullets. In the pockets of one of the coats was found $1,200 of the money recovered. They then escaped across the fields.

McCarthy, after making a statement to Eugene A. Walling, assistant prosecuting attorney, died a short time later. McCarthy was only 18 years of age.

Last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, three youths, all of whom were armed, and with $4,000 in large bills and a deposit slip of the Peoples State Bank of Plymouth in their possession, were taken into custody by two Illinois state police, who stopped the touring car in which they were riding, a mile south of Marshall, Ill., who became suspicious because their car had its curtains drawn. The three said they were on their way to Arkansas. The three in custody are James Rylander, 23 years old; William MacFarland, 19, and Arthur Sheehan, 18 years old.

Investigation by the troopers, according to Sheriff J. M. Turner of Clark County, in which Marshall, Ill., is located, disclosed that each of the youths had between $400 and $500 on him, and each had a loaded gun, the weapons consisting of an automatic, a German Luger, and a Smith-Wesson .28 caliber pistol. Further search disclosed two boxes of cartridges, deposit slips on the Plymouth bank, and about $2,000 under the rear seat of the automobile.

Sheriff Turner got in touch with the Plymouth bank officials, learned of the robbery, and the shooting of Patrolman Kobinsky, and then notified the Detroit police.

All three waived extradition, but only one, William MacFarland would speak of the holdup. The others refused to break silence, even by denying they took part. They were brought to Detroit, Tuesday.

The First National Bank was amply protected by burglar insurance. Even if none of the money had been recovered, they would not have sustained any money loss.

Arthur Sheehan, youngest of the surviving bandits, was the "brains" of the gang, which figured in the hold-up of the bank, according to a complete confession of the trio to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Baxter, Tuesday. Sheehan admitted he planned the robbery three weeks before, and told of visits made to the bank to "get the lay of the land." When McCarthy slumped in his seat mortally wounded, they abandoned the car and made through the fields to Sheehan's home, where they took Sheehan's machine, and made their escape, driving out Telegraph road to Toledo.

While walking on the pavement on the new Ann Arbor road west, formerly known as Golden road, Tuesday about noon, H. A. Spicer was struck by a truck with trailer attached, driven by William Good. Both the truck and Mr. Spicer were going in the same direction, and the truck was meeting another car. Mr. Spicer who was walking on the right hand side of the pavement, was thrown from the road, and suffered a fracture of the left leg below the knee. He was brought to his home in the village, where he is getting along as well as could be expected.

FLAMES DESTROY FARM HOME

RESIDENCE ON C. H. BENNETT FARM ON DETROIT-ANN ARBOR ROAD BURNS TO GROUND LAST WEEK THURSDAY NIGHT.

The large residence on the farm owned by C. H. Bennett on the Detroit-Ann Arbor road, was burned to the ground, last week Thursday night, when fire broke out for the second time during the day. The house was occupied by Sam Machine and family and the farm was known for many years as the Moon farm.

The local fire department was called out during the afternoon, when an oil stove in the kitchen of the house exploded, and considerable damage was done to the interior of the house.

The origin of the second fire, which was discovered about 10 o'clock in the evening is not known, but it is thought it might have started from sparks of the afternoon fire. The fire department was called for the second time, but when they arrived the front of the building was a mass of flames, and without an adequate supply of water there was no chance to save the house, and they confined their efforts to saving the large barn which stands nearby. The household effects of Mr. Machine, which were insured, were practically all destroyed. The dwelling was also insured.

The house, which consisted of two buildings built together, had stood upon the site for many years, and was one of the landmarks of this vicinity. The fire attracted a large number of people, and the road for a long distance was lined with cars.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES TAIT

Mrs. James Tait died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. B. Clark, at Northville, July 8th. Alma Sarah Speck was born in Barcelona, Spain, November 27, 1855. She moved with her parents to London, England, when a few months old. She came to America with her parents at the age of 14 years. She was married to James Tait, in 1877, in Perrinville, Nankin township, where she has always resided. Eight children were born to this union, of whom six survive, and were all present at the funeral except one daughter, Mrs. Charles Taylor of Cleveland, who was unable to attend on account of illness in the family. The other children are Albert, Elizabeth Clark, Arthur, Roy and Alexander. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. John Bullen of Caro, Mich., and Mrs. Wm. Oliver of Brightmoor.

The funeral services were held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Clark, at 1:30 o'clock, last Sunday afternoon. Rev. Knowles of Northville, officiating. Interment in Maple Grove cemetery, Perrinville, by the side of her husband, who preceded her in death ten years ago.

Mrs. Tait was a member of the First Presbyterian church of East Nankin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chappel and Mr. and Mrs. W. Rosenberg motored to Alma, Saturday, to visit their aunt, Mrs. A. Rosenberg, who returned with them Sunday for a visit.

BASE BALL NEWS

PLYMOUTH MERCHANTS VS. WYANDOTTE MUNICIPAL CLUB.

One of the best games of the season was played at Burroughs field, last Sunday, the Merchants winning 5 to 3. Many spectacular plays were unrecorded. Wyandotte was leading 3 to 2 until the fifth, when the Merchants tied the score at 3. In their half of the inning, in the seventh, two more runs crossed the plate, and the score was 5 to 3. The Merchants held the Wyandotte club scoreless after the fourth inning.

It was a flashy game throughout and one worth-while seeing. Millross showed some flashy base ball in the fifth, when he nabbed McLevie's hot grounder barehanded, and then threw him out at first. The play looked impossible. Ritchie made two pretty shoe-string catches in left field that brought the crowd to their feet. Walker pitched a good game, allowing only five hits. Although he had air-tight support, much credit is due him. The team as a whole played air-tight ball, and surely deserve backing.

Come out next Sunday and help them on to victory. The game next Sunday will be Plymouth Merchants vs. Detroit Ring Casting Co. at 3:00 o'clock at Burroughs field, Plymouth road. Up to date the Merchants have won 9 and lost 1, out of 10 starts.

DEHOCO TEAM WINS AT NORTHVILLE.

The long looked for ball game between the Detroit House of Correction team and the Northville team was played Sunday, under ideal conditions, the farmers winning 9 to 3. German's pitching for the home team was good but his support was wobbly at critical times, while Constan's pitching for the farmers was better supported. The fans for the Dehoco Club were given a scare in the seventh inning, when the Northville team made three runs on two hits, one base on balls and one sacrifice fly. This, however, was not sufficient to overcome a lead of four runs gathered by the farmers in the early part of the game. Two were made in the first on one triple, two singles and one base on balls. Again two runs were made in the sixth, on one base on balls, one triple and a single. In the eighth, to make the game safe, the farmers, on one double, two singles, one base on balls and two errors in right field by Stimpson, they scored five runs.

The fielding of Hammond and Bathey in the outfield was exceptionally good, Hammond accepting five and Bathey seven without an error. Constan, up to the eighth inning, had allowed Northville but one hit. In the eighth, however, they got two singles, which was all they could gather off his delivery. Had the game been played with perfect support, the farmers would have won by the score of 2 to 0. Northville did not get an earned run, while the Dehoco Club earned one in the first and one in the fifth.

WAYNE COUNTY VALUATION NOW

Increase in the value of personal and real property in Wayne county during the last year is four times what it was in 1921, according to figures presented to Wayne county board of supervisors.

The total increase for the county is $482,177,217, of which Detroit contributed $402,748,140. The present assessed valuation of the county is $4,002,865,779, which is larger by 13.69 per cent than the valuation of last year. The increase in 1922 over 1921 was $141,270,975.

The tax assessments for the county will be made in October, when the budget committee has made its report.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee and daughter, Grace, left today for Houghton Lake, where they will spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee and family, who are spending the summer there.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING LAST MONDAY NIGHT

C. H. Bennett Elected Trustee to Succeed Himself; 241 Votes Being Cast.

Meeting Approves Proposal of Board to Erect a New Twelve-Room School Building on Walker Site.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT GAS PLANT

NEW ADDITIONS AND THE INSTALLATION OF NEW EQUIPMENT ARE PROGRESSING NICELY AT LOCAL PLANT OF MICHIGAN FEDERATED UTILITIES.

The work of making improvements at the local plant of the Michigan Federated Utilities, Wayne County Division, is progressing nicely. In company with Manager H. K. Wrench, a representative of the Mail visited the plant Tuesday morning, and saw the several additions and improvements that have been made and those under way. The mammoth 100,000 cubic feet gas holder is now in operation. It being placed in use last Sunday. This holder with the two old storage tanks gives the plant a total storage capacity of 240,000 cubic feet of gas.

The new brick water gas house and boiler room is nearly completed. The contract has been let for a new brick coal gas building and retort house. Another gas bench will be installed, giving the plant three benches, which will be adequate for some time to come. A new washer-cooler is being installed with a capacity of 500,000 cubic feet, and also a new 1,200 bushel purifier is being installed.

When all the improvements are completed, Manager Wrench says there will not be a more modern and completely equipped plant in the country, with every facility for giving the best kind of service at all times.

The gas mains are all completed to Rosedale Gardens and Newburg, and patrons in those communities are now enjoying the great convenience of gas. It is expected that service will be started in the village of Wayne about August 1st.

The steady growth of new patrons in Plymouth and Northville is ample evidence that the citizens of these two towns appreciate the splendid service the company is giving its patrons.

MRS. MARY BLAICH PASSES AWAY

Mary E. Whitaker was born in Plymouth township, June 29, 1857, and departed this life July 9, 1926, at the age of sixty-nine years and ten days.

On April 13, 1887, she was united in marriage to Charles Blaich, and to this union, three children were born, a son who died in infancy; son, Carl, of Plymouth, and daughter, Laura of Wayne.

She was a consecrated wife and mother, and a devoted home maker. Being possessed of many sterling qualities, she was held in highest esteem by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held from her late home, Monday, July 12th, Rev. Hallday officiating. Interment in Lapham cemetery. She leaves to mourn their loss, her husband, son and daughter, two brothers and a wide circle of other relatives and many friends.

Wm. Blaich, Mrs. Harold Burrow and daughter, Jane, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Margaret Blaich, Mr. and Mrs. George Wacker and daughter, Marguerite of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitaker of Howell, and Mr. and Mrs. George Blaich of Ann Arbor, attended the funeral services.

The entire community extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Knoch have returned from a motor trip to the Sesqui-Centennial at Philadelphia. They also visited New York City and Boston, returning via Niagara Falls and Canada. They report splendid roads all the way. They would advise anyone going to the Sesqui-Centennial not to go before the first of September, because the buildings are not yet completed.

The annual school meeting of District No. 1, Fr., was held at the High school auditorium last Monday evening, and was very largely attended. J. W. Henderson, president of the board of education, presided over the meeting. Mrs. D. F. Murray, secretary of the board, read a statement of the receipts and disbursements for the past year, and the report was accepted and adopted by the meeting.

The budget of expenditures as estimated by the board was then read by the secretary. The board has estimated an expenditure of $94,527.76. Together with the estimated receipts from primary school fund, tuition, Smith-Hughes fund, the board recommended the sum of $70,827.76 be raised by taxation in addition to the $7,373.45 mill tax which the law provides for. $3,000 of the above budget is to pay for the Walker site for the new school.

C. H. Bennett at this time made a few timely remarks regarding a circular which had been passed about the village. Mr. Bennett explained the attitude of the board relative to the building of a new school building on the recently purchased Walker site, stating the board had decided to ask the citizens for a twelve-room school building, and that the matter would be presented at this meeting. He made it plain that with the board there was no north side or south side, but that it was Plymouth, and that the board was making every effort to serve the whole district to the best of their ability. His remarks were greeted with hearty applause.

President Henderson then appointed F. D. Schrader and R. O. Minumack as tellers, and the meeting proceeded to elect one director to succeed C. H. Bennett, whose term of office had expired. Two nominations were made, the names of C. H. Bennett and Oliver Goldsmith being presented. The ballot resulted in a total of 241 votes being cast, of which number Mr. Bennett received 160 and Mr. Goldsmith, 81. Mr. Bennett was declared elected.

President Henderson then outlined the plans of the board for a new school building on the Walker site. He stated that the board planned to erect a 12-room building to be completed and ready for occupancy September 1st, 1927. He stated that a special meeting would be called to submit a bond issue to the voters, when plans and estimates had been prepared by an architect. The proposal met with the approval of the meeting, and the board will proceed accordingly.

A motion was made to purchase the Kuhn property on Adams street for school purposes in anticipation of there being need for more room for High school expansion in the future. This was voted down by the meeting.

The annual financial statement of the school district will appear in next week's paper.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR SAFETY WORK.

Plans have been completed by the Detroit Automobile Club whereby safety work will be actively carried into Plymouth, under the direction of the local police, the state police safety department and the branch of the club.

Starting this fall, as soon as school opens, the state police and the automobile club will co-operate in a campaign to reach every school in the state with safety talks and educational programs on safety work, and the work of the patrols, of which Plymouth has one. These patrols are formed with the idea of appointing boys who are competent to see that their smaller brothers and sisters are not injured while playing in the school yard or in crossing the streets adjacent to the school. Medals will be given by the club for heroic work.

This program of the club and the state troopers will be carried on in every community where the local authorities manifest a desire to co-operate in these teachings, according to Alan G. Straight, state commissioner of public safety.

BETTER GO EASY

This month and next are the most dangerous in the entire year for those who cram their stomachs to capacity with the many tempting things now easily obtainable for the dinner table. Ask any doctor around Plymouth about it and he will tell you that July and August are the two months when thousands of people dig their graves with a knife and fork. He will give you the same advice we are giving you—only he may charge you for it—and that is to eat lightly, stay out of the sun and don't keep your stomach chilled with ice water. This advice is hard to take, we'll admit when we are right in the season of the best "eats" to be had during the entire year. But the man who heeds it now and for the next few weeks will live to eat another day. So be among the wise ones, and watch your knife and fork closely as long as the dangerous days are here.

LET HIM HAVE IT

In a report now being sent to newspapers throughout the country the National Safety Council declares that thousands of fatal accidents were caused last year by motorists contesting the right-of-way; by each one refusing to show the other a little consideration. Several hundred others met death in accidents that would have been avoided if drivers had held out their hand to signal a left turn or a stop. So it all goes to show, as we have argued before and as every motorist in Plymouth will agree, that when the facts are sifted down it will be found that almost every accident could have been averted by a little display of care. "Courtesy Means Safety" is just as sensible a slogan as one can adopt and follow, for seldom do you hear of anyone being killed when one or both drivers are showing a little consideration for each other.

BREAKING ALL RECORDS

The fact that bond prices in Wall street are higher now than at any time since the World War, that steel stock has recently gone skyward and that a number of auto stocks are soaring, ought to bring out the savings stored away in a lot of old socks throughout the country. There was never a time, possibly, when the returns from good, safe investments were as great as right now. On the other hand, there was never a time when as many worthless stocks were being floated, so choosing between the good and the bad is more difficult than ever before. We believe real estate around Plymouth is still as good an investment as any man can put his money into. But if the flurry of stocks and bonds is too tempting for you to resist, then be fair enough with yourself to consult a banker or a neighbor who knows something about securities before you invest your money.

SERVICES AT WEST POINT PARK CHURCH.

Next Sunday, July 18, 1926, at 11:00 a. m., at West Point Park church (in the Pearson school house) at Seven Mile and Farmington roads, George E. Gulien will deliver the second sermon in the series on, "The Three Greatest Doubts." The second special topic is, "Is There Anything After Death?" or "Is There Conscious Personal Survival after Death?"

Sunday afternoon, July 25, 1926, at 3:30 o'clock, the cornerstone of the new church will be laid. James Schermerhorn of Detroit, will speak. Ladies' quartet from Detroit and children's chorus will sing. Dr. Richards of Northville, will conduct the ritualistic service. One thousand are expected to be present.

WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR NOTES.

County Banks Offer Premiums
The banks of Washtenaw county have contributed pro rata the sum of seven hundred dollars ($700) for special premiums to be offered at Washtenaw County Fair, August 31 to Sept. 4. Five hundred dollars ($500) of this is offered on Boys' and Girls' Club Exhibits and two hundred dollars ($200) for Washtenaw county livestock sweepstakes.

Building Program

Work on the grand stand addition and roof is well under way and progressing very favorably. When completed this structure will provide seating capacity for 2,500 persons. Dressing rooms for members of county base ball teams are being built under the new west section.

In addition to the grand stand, work on the sheep barns has been commenced, and a new fence has been erected along the south and west sides of the fair grounds.

Educational Exhibits

The revised educational classification listed in the 1926 Washtenaw County Fair premium list, with the addition of the declamation contest and judging for Smith-Hughes students are greatly increasing the interest in this very important division of the fair.

Messrs. H. H. Laine, Lincoln Consolidated school; George Allen, Milan; G. Jacobs, Manchester and Charles H. Osborne, Ypsilanti, are holding weekly judging classes with their students in preparation for the Smith-Hughes contests, which will be held Friday, September 3.

Keen interest in the declamation contest is manifest throughout the county. Exhibit space for educational exhibits in the boys' and girls' building has been enlarged and altogether the educational department will be one of the most interesting features at Washtenaw county's greatest fair, August 31 to September 4.

Another thing that makes a farmer angry is that it often happens he raises nothing but blisters.

Sport and crime are to be barred from Italian papers. It looks like they're putting a ban on news from America.

If everybody in Plymouth would speak as kindly of the living as tombstones do of the dead, the balance of the world would be wanting to come here to live.

LOVE AND ROMANCE IN INVENTOR'S LIFE

How Alexander Graham Bell Helped the Deaf.

While to the average citizen the name of Alexander Graham Bell is associated only with the invention of the telephone, to humanitarians the world over he is equally well known as the man who first brought to the deaf in America the privilege of intercourse through speech and speech-reading, and it was of this latter achievement that the inventor was proudest. In fact, when Bell knew that his telephone invention was to bring him wealth, his first remark was, "Now we shall have money enough to teach speech to little deaf children."

In Washington there stands the Volta bureau which he established with prize money bestowed upon him by the French for his invention of the telephone. Although the bureau was founded primarily to aid deaf children, it has since branched out into the larger field of work for those who have had normal hearing but have lost all or part of it. True to the idea of its founder, it is an institution of service.

It was no accident or purposeless plan of a careless fate which bestowed on Alexander Graham Bell the mind to comprehend the heart to understand great needs and their remedies. The life story of the man who gave to the whole world the means of quick and sure communication, and to the small world of the deaf, a new hope, is the story of cause and effect, glorified by love and romance, is the testimony of a writer in the Washington Star. His mother was "hard of hearing," his wife, to whom he was devoted, had been left, when a child, without a trace of hearing. He taught her to talk.

In 1879 Bell secured a position in the Boston school for the deaf. At that time those thus afflicted had been consigned to a small world of their own where thoughts were inadequately expressed only by means of signs. They were known as "deaf and dumb" people. Bell refused to believe that they need remain "dumb" and so worked out a system which taught them to speak. Within three years the leading institutions for the deaf in the country were employing the system in their daily work.

"Call Again"

We were building a new home and had hired a man to dig the trench for the water main in our yard. I had been waiting for him to come all morning, when at noon there I heard a rap and went to the door. A well-dressed gentleman was there, and I said, "I have been looking for you all morning," and pointed out the place where my husband wanted the main laid.

"Well," he said, "I didn't come to dig the trench, but was in the neighborhood looking over the water-main situation, as I am superintendent of the plant."

My face reddened, and forgetting myself completely, I said, "Oh, thank you; I hope you will call again soon."

Smith Name Ancient

The great family of Smiths bear a name which is not only common, but the oldest in the world. Professor Mahaffy, when deciphering the Petrie papyrus, came upon one bearing the name of Smith, unmistakably written.

"We have never," he says, "found anything like it before, and it is surely worth telling the many distinguished bearers of the name that there was a man known as Smith in the twentieth year of the third Ptolemy, 227 years B. C., and that he was occupied in brewing and selling beer."

Perfection in Tribute

In a theater in South Africa a beauty competition was held, each person present being asked to write the name of the lady he or she considered the most beautiful in the town.

A little boy who had been present was telling his mother all about it the following morning. He informed her that he, too, had voted. She was surprised, as the boy was rather shy and reserved. However, she did not express any surprise, but simply asked him for whom he voted.

"I just wrote 'Mother,'" was the reply.

Just Say "No"

"The way to win arguments," says a Cass avenue young man, "is to take the negative side. All one has to do on the negative side is to show that nothing can be proved absolutely. Once that is admitted, the affirmative side must resort to faith, and when it comes to that one belief is just as good as another, except in degree of acceptability. Since my own beliefs are acceptable, at least to me, there is no way to attack them, and so I win the argument."—Detroit News.

Progressive Rome

The building program for Rome in 1926, supported by the national government, includes the construction of 2,900 small apartments, totaling 6,900 rooms, at a cost of 80,000,000 lire (current rate of the lira is $0.04), according to Vice-Consul Ralph A. Boernstein, Rome. The lots selected for the sites of the apartment houses lie on the outskirts of the city, but in sections already partly developed, where there are water mains, gas pipes, street car service, etc.

Fifty Detroit children, the average age of whom was five and one-half years, died of diphtheria in June, according to a bulletin issued by Dr. Carl E. Hunk, epidemiologist of the department of health. The death rate for this period was 71 per cent, fully 12 per cent above normal.

Each member of this year's graduating class received a gift from the Redford State Savings Bank. The gift took the form of a savings deposit pass book for each girl and boy, the recipient being duly credited in the book with one dollar, the gift of the bank.—Redford Record.

Probably not many residents of this locality are familiar with the attractions of the Dodge state park, just east of Highland, as a place to spend a day or a week's outing. This tract of 115 acres presents a great variety of woods, hills and vales and pleasant picnic spots. Wells of good water are found at convenient points, as well as benches, tables, stoves and other facilities for the comfort of the visitors. A mile or more of new road has been graded this season. A caretaker on the grounds will furnish any information desired.

PERE MARQUETTE EARNINGS SHOW GAIN OVER LAST YEAR.

Pere Marquette gross earnings for May, 1926, totalled $3,648,723, as compared with $3,307,384 in the same month last year. The net operating income was $573,830, against $480,368, and surplus after deduction charges was $386,108, against $275,430.

Figures for the first five months of 1926, as compared with the same period in 1925, show increases of $1,770,790 in gross earnings, $824,377 in net operating income, and $885,386 in surplus after deduction of charges.

Today's Reflections

If the girls of the present day don't catch husbands and make good matrimonial bargains it isn't because they don't put all their stock in the show window.

If pork prices go any higher it won't be long before you can make a Plymouth man feel complimented by calling him a hog.

The thing that creates suspicion about a gasoline tax is the way the price holds up in states where it is not assessed.

It is estimated that 86,432 astonished stonemasons are now having their first experience of brides' biscuits.

It is well to remember that the Plymouth man who will come to you with a mean story about some other man, will go to some other man with a mean story about you.

If you want to see a Plymouth man polish up his table manners, sit him down to eat opposite a pretty girl who watches every bite he takes.

The woodshed where the old-fashioned boy was corrected is now a place where the modern boy parks the flivver at 2:00 a. m.

A Boston man drew seven years in the pen for kissing a girl. But lots of Plymouth men were sentenced for life after similar misdemeanors.

PLYMOUTH A VILLAGE OF BEAUTIFUL HOMES

Last Sunday's Detroit News contained a splendid article on Plymouth, written by Donald C. Cameron. The article was accompanied by pictures of the Methodist church, Main street, village hall, residence of Harry S. Lee, High school building, mill pond on River Rouge and residence of J. M. Larkins. The article reads as follows:

Prominent on the seal of the village of Plymouth is this slogan, "The Village of Homes."

"That," said Sidney D. Strong, village manager, "is our proudest boast. The activities of our home owners in improving their houses and lands have made our town one of the most beautiful in Wayne County. We would rather have it that than one of the largest or richest."

In those assertions Mr. Strong, it seemed, voiced the foremost thoughts of the large majority of Plymouth's residents who are intensely interested in the welfare of the village.

In 1825, 14 men took up government grants on the site of Plymouth. Two years later the township of Plymouth was formed. In 1807 the settlement, known for some time previously as Plymouth Corners, was incorporated under its present name. Since that time the village has grown steadily and substantially, until now it is a thriving community of more than 4,000.

A Suburban Center

Plymouth is called the hub of suburban Wayne County west of Detroit. Within a radius of 15 miles are, to the north, the communities of Salem, Northville, Farmington, Novi, South Lyon, Wixom, Walled Lake and Milford, and, to the south, Newburg, Cherry Hill, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Belleville, Wayne, Romulus and Dearborn. Fine concrete roads, connecting most of these towns, afford beautiful drives for the motorist.

The Detroit City Hall is just 23 miles from the village. Plymouth road, which runs westward from Grand River avenue near the city limits, is a direct automobile route along modern paved highways. The drive requires about an hour.

An hourly bus service is maintained to and from Detroit. Electric cars on the Detroit United Lines run at frequent intervals and several passenger trains run daily on the two Pere Marquette Railroad divisions passing through the village.

80 Acres of Parks

Eighty acres of public parks within Plymouth's one and one-half square miles of area are evidence that the residents have given more than a passing thought to preserving the natural beauty of their village. Kellogg Park, a large triangle containing statues, a playground for children, a band stand and a grove of tall trees, is located in the exact center of the village, facing the main business district. A park at the north limit of the village, along the River Rouge, affords a beautiful walk beside a mill pond, where water tumbles over a small dam. Others are scattered about the town:

There are five-eighths of a mile of vitrified brick pavement in Plymouth and two miles of concrete. The rest of the village streets are gravelled, and are alled twice each season. Every street has wide sidewalks on either side.

The village has a modern street lighting system, with boulevard lights on the main streets; its own water supply from natural springs, and a village-owned filtration plant; a gas system maintained by the Michigan Federated Utilities Corporation, that serves nine-tenths of the residents; an up-to-date fire department with two modern motor trucks, and an efficient motorized police department. The sewer system, which now covers practically all the village, will be augmented by five miles of new sewers and a large sewage disposal plant this summer.

Valued at $6,000,000

Plymouth's assessed valuation is about $6,000,000, and the tax rate is 15 mills. The village's two banking institutions showed resources of $3,225,000 on their 1925 statements, attesting to the financial soundness of the town.

The schools are housed in two modern fireproof buildings, completely equipped for both academic and vocational work. A staff of 38 teachers cares for the enrollment of 1,100 students. The High school is one of the smallest to be accredited to the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

The Daisy and King air rifles and Hamilton .22 caliber rifles, known around the world, are manufactured in Plymouth. Eleven other small industrial plants provide employment for many skilled and semi-skilled workmen, who make up a large part of the community.

Two Libraries

A total of 8,000 volumes are contained in Plymouth's two libraries. One of the libraries is located in the High school building and one in the village hall.

Seven churches—Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic and Christian Science—care for the religious life of the community.

Harry S. Lee, president of the H. S. Lee Corporation and of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, is one of the many who drive daily from their homes in Plymouth to offices in Detroit.

"Like most city dwellers," Mr. Lee said recently, "I always had a dread of moving to a small town where I would be several miles from my work. Now I wouldn't do anything else. I spend two hours a day in driving to and from my work, and except when I strike heavy traffic on Detroit streets, I find the drive pleasurable and beneficial."

Manager Strong prophesies great growth for Plymouth during the next few years.

"A glance at a map of Detroit, showing recent annexations, will show that this village is in the direct line of the movement of the metropolitan population," he said. "More and more it will appear to those whose work lies in the city, but who desire the comforts of village life, Plymouth is bound to grow. Last summer a hundred houses went up. We only hope we can wisely direct this certain growth so that our village may keep its charm for succeeding generations."

The Plymouth Real Estate Board held their regular meeting at the Plymouth Hotel restaurant, last week Thursday evening, where they enjoyed a splendid dinner. Herald Hamill gave the members of the board a splendid talk on the use of tamped earth for building purposes. It was very interesting as well as instructive.

THE sense of security that comes with control of an estate is often comprised by the annoyance of having to manage its numerous details. Let us assume this task for you.

Why Throw Away A Home?

You are paying for a home and giving it to the landlord. Why not own it at the end of a few years' time, instead of a bunch of worthless rent receipts?

We lend you the money to build at a low rate of interest. You pay it back in monthly installments like rent. And after a few years you get a clear title to your property with no more rent days to worry about all the rest of your life.

ODDFELLOW NOTES

Our meetings are growing stronger week by week, and we expect by fall to have our lodge room filled and overflowing, so be one of the crowd.

Our sick list is larger this week than ever, and our sick visiting committee have a lot of work ahead of them, but they are doing it in a cheerful spirit.

Our initiatory degree captain, Bro. Floyd Sherman, sure is to be congratulated on his ability, for he sure handled his team in fine shape, and put this work on in due shape, last Tuesday evening.

Bro. A. Meddough has his first degree team about filled, and next Tuesday evening he will show us the results of his work. So every brother come out and see this new team in action. They have a large class to confer this degree on.

Our regalia committee have purchased a complete outfit for the first degree team, and it's going to be some class.

Our meeting last Tuesday evening was one of the most interesting, as well as one of the largest attended held for some time. It looks as if our new officers are going to see a whole lot of new faces along the side lines.

The committee in charge of entertainment has started action, and a special meeting is called for next Tuesday evening, when the program for the coming term will be outlined. Bro. Hunter, our chairman, says his committee is going to be the most active one that old Tomquish has seen for some time.

Now, brothers, remember our slogan. Every brother bring a brother, and help put a lot of pep in our meetings, as well as filling our brothers with the real Odd Fellow spirit, which is gradually drifting back.

The Booster Club picnic, which was held last Sunday at Bishop Lake, was so well attended that our little journeys in print will have to be discontinued for this week, but we will be at it again next week.

PERRINSVILLE

The gloom of sadness was spread over this community last Friday, when the news of grandma Tait's death was brought here. She passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, near Northville, where she had been spending a few days. She had been in poor health for some time, but her condition was not thought serious. She was taken suddenly worse, Sunday, and passed away in about a half hour. She had lived in this community since about twenty years of age, and died at the age of seventy-one, leaving two daughters and four sons besides a host of friends. Her life was an example for all to follow—a true Christian, a loving mother and a true friend. The family have the sympathy of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hjerpe of Detroit, spent Sunday at George Bach's.

Mrs. Rosa Bronte of Detroit, spent Saturday with Mrs. J. Kubik.

Billie Sherwood is spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Bennett, at Newburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Theuer and family, Charissa and Arnold III and Raymond Hanneft spent Saturday at Bob-lo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kubik and son, Frank, spent Friday in Detroit.

Mrs. John Kubik is entertaining her aunt from Detroit.

Beginning Sunday, July 18th, the church services will be changed to 7:30 in the evening. We are trying this hour for the remainder of the summer. Everyone please come and help us out. One hour of helpful service.

SOUTH SALEM

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Curtiss spent Friday in Dexter, visiting their grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Means entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hemming and Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw of Detroit, last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Mae Bacon of Detroit, who has been spending the past two weeks with her cousin, Dorothy Fallot, returned Tuesday of this week.

Myrtle and Eleanor Fallot are spending a week with their grandparents at Pearl Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waterman spent Sunday at Coda Savary's.

Mr. and Mrs. Manley Cline-Smith, Stanley and Flossie, spent last week in Canada, attending the Cline-Smith reunion. Mrs. Guy Cline-Smith and children stayed with Mabel while they were gone.

The Worden Ladies' Aid meets with Mrs. Charles Fisher today, Friday, at Leland's.

Mrs. Ortha Cole spent last week-end with her parents at Wauseon, Ohio.

Mrs. Bryant and daughter of Dearborn, spent part of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Cole.

Mrs. Ed. Smith was in Pontiac, Saturday morning. The boys each drove home a new Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Townsend and Louise Rorabacher ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Curtiss, Sunday.

The Foreclosed Aid of Salem was invited to Mrs. Roy Larkins' Thursday afternoon, to meet the Northville Aid which she entertained at her home.

Mrs. Sietoff and Ted, Jr., were calling out this way Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mager and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of Ann Arbor, were callers at Ed. Smith's, Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Blach, who has been sick two weeks, passed away Friday night. She was 69 years, 10 days old. She leaves her husband, a son, Karl, and a daughter, Laura, married, who lives at Wayne. Funeral services were held from the home Monday afternoon. Burial at Lapham's cemetery.

Miss Ruth and Marion Vandoren were out Sunday morning, to Salem church.

Mrs. Harry Cooper's little sister is spending the summer with her.

Little Bobby Hansen has the whooping cough.

Mrs. Miska and two children of Chicago, are spending a few weeks with her childhood friend, Mrs. John Hansen.

The school meeting at Jarvis school was well attended. Manley Cline-Smith was elected treasurer.

Sailors Lived Up to

Chivalry of the Sea

The stately little captain of the Antioch lined up his men when the President Roosevelt's boat was tossed alongside and set them in the order of the worth of each life. The married men were at the head of the line. They were to be taken off first. The men with largest families were the select ones of the married men's class. If only one husband could be taken these fathers would be the only ones to be saved.

Trailing off toward the end of the line were the bachelors. They would be the last to go. If all could not be saved these unmarried quits would be left to perish. In perishing they would be regretted, but they would not be taking away the support of others.

This is a refinement of the code of the sea. "Women and children first" is not heard on a tramp freighter for there are no women and children. But the spirit prevails. No women and children to save, but women and children to think of when men are to be saved.

All the men of the Antioch were saved, thanks to the heroic persistence of the men of the President Roosevelt. But when the bachelors lagged behind under the watchful eye of the stately little captain they did not know they were going to be saved. And they gave words of good cheer to the married men going over the side.

This is, in its way, as fine as the stories of the great lost liners, whose men went down that the women and children might not die. A tramp crew is a rough outfit, but it has its ideals. And nowhere is the ideal of manhood more sacred than among the men who sail the seas. No rough labor or cruel hardship can kill it. There is never a coward among those who go in ships. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hawk Preys on Snails

A hawk that hunts snails is the unusual Florida bird discussed in the Auk, publication of the American Ornithologists' union, by Donald J. Nicholson, of Orlando, who has made a detailed study of its nesting habits. The name of the bird is the Everglades Kite, and it is found over a large part of the state of Florida. It likes to roost low over its marshy hunting ground, or perch on a post or stump, watching for its creeping prey. Once it spies a snail it swoops down upon it and deftly picks it off the plant on which it is feeding. It is able to extract the snail without breaking the shell, sometimes even performing this feat on the wing. More usually, however, it hurls its prey back to its roosting place, which may frequently be recognized by the large number of empty snail shells scattered about it.

Basis of Jitney as Name

One more reason why "jitney" as a term is applicable to the automobile is discovered in an analysis which is made public by C. A. Vane, general manager of the National Automobile Dealers' Association, which shows that only 5 cents of the American wage and income dollar of 1925 was spent for motor vehicles. This in comparison to 6 cents which went for pleasure resorts. The analysis of the American dollar is based on federal figures from a study of retail distributions made by government departments.

Magic Word Did It

Credulity is one of the most engaging attributes of childhood. During an illusionist's performance at a certain theater, two boys were discussing the mystery. "What do you think makes the lady stay up in the air without anything holding her?" one youngster asked. "Oh, that's easy," the other replied. "The man just says a magic word and that's all there is to it. You could do it, too, if you knew the magic word."

Wedding Cakes Smaller

Remember when the most important factor of a wedding next to the bride was the wedding cake standing three feet high, with frosted pyramids? Well, they have all but disappeared, according to a Boston caterer, who says it is several years since he sold a wedding cake weighing more than 30 pounds or costing more than $30. Most people are satisfied with a wedding cake that costs about $15, though 15 years ago some were sold at as much as $3,500.

Harmonizing Clocks

It is said that during his retirement at the monastery of St. Justus in Spain Charles V indulged his mechanical tastes by making wooden clocks. He tried to make two clocks which would tick together and run in absolute unison, but he finally gave up the attempt as impossible, observing that if he could not make two clocks run together how foolish it was for him to try to bind a number of men to the same sentiments.—Exchange.

GOOD CROP OUTLOOK

IN STATE REPORTED

The crop outlook for Michigan on July 1st, was considerably better than on the same date last year, with the exception of corn, spring wheat and beans, says the official report which was issued July 13th, by Verne H. Church, U. S. agricultural statistician, and L. Whitney Watkins, commissioner of agriculture. However, the only grain crop above the ten year average was oats, and the only fruit crop peaches.

Corn was the most backward of any of the grain crops because of the abnormally cold weather. The condition is rated at 62 per cent, equivalent to a predicted production of 39,500,000 bushels.

Winter wheat gave promise of a crop of 14,126,000 bushels from the revised average of 900,000 as compared with 13,900,000 bushels last year produced on 818,000 acres. The condition of oats is rated at 84 per cent. The forecasted production is 28,445,000 bushels. The barley outlook is for a production of 3,241,000 bushels. The potato estimate is 249,000 acres and the condition is placed at 86 per cent.

The condition of beans is rated at 73 per cent as compared with 82 per cent last year and 87 per cent, the ten year average. The condition figure translated into bushels is equivalent to a crop of 5,603,000.

The estimate of sugar beet acreage planted is 136,000 and the condition of 83 per cent is equivalent to a production of 906,000 tons.

The condition of apples is placed at 65 per cent, a total production of 7,973,000 bushels and a commercial crop of 1,382,000 barrels.

The prospect for peaches is excellent. The condition is 85 per cent or a total crop of 1,414,000 bushels. Peas show a condition of 63 per cent or a production of 822,000 bushels. The grape outlook is much better than a year ago. The prospective crop is 57,000 tons. On July 1, the condition of cherries was 54 per cent against 72 on June 1. The plum crop is rated at 71 per cent as compared with 37 per cent last year.

TEMPLE THEATRE

Detroit, Michigan

Gus Edwards' Juvenile Follies, headline the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre, starting Sunday matinee, July 18. This is Gus Edwards' latest song and dance production and is presented by a cast of newly discovered "protégés" including Sandy, Herbert Hoey, Virginia Martin, Pincus, Left, Esther Rule, Ruth McDonald, Delores Potter, Doris Walker and a group of typical Edwards' beauties and a new batch of typical Edwards' songs. The costumes are beautiful and the stage mountings elaborate and novel. Virginia Martin is a Detroit girl and an aerobatic dancer of great promise. Others billed: Jimmy Nervo and Teddy Knox in "Fantastic Follies," assisted by Billie Beryl and Jolly Stunt; Craig Campbell, American tenor; Frank Van Hoven, "The Mad Magician;" Rubini and Rosa in "Tunes and Trimmings;" Oxford Trio offer "Basketball on Bicycles;" Angel Brothers, unrivaled balancers, and the screen subjects.

Crumble & Wood are roofing the first of the homes for Mr. Becker out South Main street.

"I can't understand why men have to have lady entertainers at a stag party," remarked a lady in our presence yesterday.

"Who said they were ladies?" inquired the husband.

A Chicago man who came home found his wife gagged and fifty dollars gone. The loss of the fifty entirely spoiled the pleasure of the occasion.

Top off that new home with a Winthrop roof and you have the finishing touch of beauty.

Fred Rhead has nearly all the rough work finished on the home of Mrs. Franks on Virginia avenue.

Isn't it a fact? Ants are educated animals that know where picnics are held.

Fred Rhead started a new house this week, for Mr. Pierce, on the Ecorse road south of Wayne.

Most Men HAVE NEED FOR Work Clothes

The farmer, the tradesman, the railroader, the mechanic, the man who owns a car—even the man who has a garden or clothes about the house—work clothes of some sort are essential to most all men. And, naturally, they all want the most comfortable and longest wearing work garments at the price they pay. Selling work clothes that give maximum wear and comfort at the minimum price is a specialty with us. A small margin of profit, a big volume of business, painstaking care in providing superior values, are reasons why you can do better at this progressive store.

Men's blue denim overalls that are extra big, full and roomy. Plenty of large serviceable pockets and other special features. All points of wear and strain are strongly reinforced. Jackets to match. Priced at $1.50 to $2.50.

Men's grey shirts of blue or grey chambray that washes easily and wears well. Deep armholes and roomy "sleeves," double stitched seams, attached collar. Two large pockets. Standard sizes. Priced at $1.00.

Men's unionalls of strong and durable khaki. Made large and roomy for freedom, comfort and easy access. Plenty of roomy pockets and well-made through-out. Priced at $2.50 to $3.25.

Khaki Clothes for Work, Camp or Tour

In summer, it's khaki, everywhere. The workman, the camper the fisherman, the tourist and the hiker—all want khaki clothing for coolness, comfort, looks and for its dust resistance. You, too, will want something in khaki for work or play. And you can find your kind of garment here, at the price you want to pay.

Men's Khaki Pants $1.75 to $2.00
Men's Khaki Breeches $2.75
Men's Khaki Shirts $1.00 to $2.00

Old Mexicans Masters of Horticultural Art

Not only the gardens of Montezuma but the picture writing of his subjects prove the ancient Mexicans to have been great horticulturists. Their descendants still use their complex system of botanical names, a system which conveys information as to qualities, characteristics and habitat of many plants.

Wilson Popenoe, formerly of the United States Department of Agriculture, in a paper on "Plants of Aztec Picture Writing," gives a long list of botanical figures used in Aztec hieroglyphics. The flower symbol recurs constantly in all sorts of combinations as a place name. Maize, an important feature in all Indian life, appears frequently, along with the sweet potato, the black bean, the cherry plum, avocado and various less-known native fruits. Most interesting is a combination of the water sign with the conventionalized sign for cultivated ground, meaning "place where the land is irrigated." The familiar desert features, the yucca, the cactus and the mesquite, are all represented, but the gem of Mr. Popenoe's collection is the picture symbol which, directly translated, means "flea pepper," a fitting name for the biting, red-hot pepper of the Southwest.

The floating gardens of Mexico City, so famous during the conquest, may still be considered one of the best expressions of the native horticultural art. Willow trees are planted in the shallow water of Lake Xochimilco in plots varying from 200 to 2,000 square feet. Their interlacing roots form a sort of basketwork that holds the soil with which the plots are filled, while their tops are kept pruned so as not to shade too heavily the plants cultivated on the islands. The inhabitants of Mexico City are supplied to this day with vegetables, corn and flowers raised on these esthetic truck farms.

Used to Dine With Dukes

A few years ago Victor Tchekotareff was a master of 22,000 acres, had 12 to 19 wolf hounds and had a thousand men and women employed on his estates. Then he was Count Victor Tchekotareff, captain of the most famous regiment in the world, the White Hussars of Russia, the czar's own household regiment. Today as Victor "Taroff" he is riding master of a 10-horse hunt club. A dozen years ago Taroff frequently dined with the czar and the grand dukes, and his family was one of the wealthiest in Russia. Seven years ago he fled from Russia in rags with what was left of his fortune hidden in a cake of soap, and in a loaf of bread a great diamond-set badge once given him by the czar. Now the former count and countess are soon to be Uncle Sam's folks—the largest noble family in the world.—Capper's Weekly.

Blackmailing Lotteries

Chinese have long been known as dyed-in-the-wool gamblers, but the extent of their flirtations with Lady Luck has never been fully known. However, some light has been shed on the subject by the knowledge that Shanghai lottery companies have agreed to pay $40,000 a month to Gen. Sun Chuan-fang, tapan of Kiangsu. In return for his pledge got to impose his proposed tax on the lottery business. Some months ago General Sun announced that he found it necessary to tax all sales of lottery tickets and a protest was raised. This new agreement will serve to eliminate the tax. Each of four of the larger companies will pay $8,000 a month toward the $40,000. Smaller donations will be made by the smaller companies.

A Detroit man believed that his wife was an angel, but didn't suspect that his chauffeur was one until they flew away together.

Honeymooning with the aid of Long Distance

They were married in Saginaw—and John and Mary left on a tour of Michigan that would take them to Detroit, Ann Arbor, Lansing, Grand Rapids and up to Potoskey; thence across the Straits of Mackinac.

Wise John changed plans, at the last moment, to outwit the well-wishing jokers, however.

And so he telephoned ahead, changed hotel reservations and got into touch with Aunt Jane at Grand Rapids, a friend at Potoskey, and another at Sault Ste. Marie. The value of Long Distance appealed to him.

"BITIN' AND GOUGIN'" TOO MUCH FOR BEAR

Pioneer Easy Victor in Rough and Tumble.

An idea of the early pioneer's notion of "playful" antics may be obtained in the following incident related by Rev. J. H. Finley, a pioneer preacher in Kentucky and the Ohio valley, says Arthur Woodward, in Adventure Magazine.

According to Finley, one of the principal meats of the backwoodsmen and their families was that of the black bear. In the fall of the year, when the beechnuts were about ripe, the Kentucky hunter repaired to the place where the beech trees were thickest, for the nuts from those trees were especially liked by him.

Before the nuts were ripe, the bears often climbed the trees and raked the nuts from the branches. This was called lopping by the settlers. While the animal was thus engaged, it was an easy matter for the hunter to steal upon the unsuspecting bear and shoot him.

One autumn day a Kentucky emigrant, whose name is not recorded, went into the woods with his ax to cut a brownstick and, observing a bear in a tree, decided that it would be an easy matter to climb up behind the enormous animal and slay him with the ax.

He reached the foot of the tree all right, but, to his surprise, Mr. Bear didn't wait for him to make the climb, but slid down the trunk and confronted the alarmed man. He swung his ax valiantly, but the bear, stretching out a huge paw, warded off the blow and seized the man's left arm with his teeth. In retaliation, the borderman played border tactics of a rough-and-tumble fight and promptly set his teeth into the bear's nose.

In the ensuing struggle the heavy weight of the bear threw the man to the ground. Again the fighting custom of the frontier was brought into play. The man used his thumb and calmly gouged out both eyes of the brute. The doleful screams of the agonized animal brought aid to the frontiersman and bruin was soon dispatched.

In after years the man who had thus unceremoniously fought his shaggy foe was asked by a friend who came to visit him:

"Well, how do you and the bears make it?"

The Kentuckian laughed. "H—!" he said, "they ain't stand Kaintucky play. 'Bitin' an' gougin' air too hard fer 'em."

Telling Him Off

In the kindness of his heart Mr. McGregory Smith opened an account for his wife at the local bank. A few months later the manager, Mr. Jones, meeting him, remarked, "Would you kindly tell your wife that her account is overdrawn?" The news was duly passed to Mrs. Smith, and next morning she handed her husband a sealed envelope addressed to Mr. Jones, requesting him to deliver it. The manager, having opened the letter, remarked, "Perhaps you would like to see what your wife says," and handed the contents of the envelope to Mr. Smith. It was a half-sheet of note-paper, on which was written in large letters, "Sneak."

The Essay

Is, then, the essay in literature a thing which simply stands outside classification, like Aaron among the elements, of which the only thing which can be predicted is that it is there? Or like Justice in Plato's republic, a thing which the talkers set out to define, and which ends by being the one thing left in a state when the definable qualities are taken away? No, it is not that. It is rather like what is called an organ prelude, a little piece with a theme, not very strict perhaps in form, but which can be fancifully treated, modulated from, and colored at will.—A. C. Benson.

The Oldest Dogs

Greyhounds are supposed to be the oldest members of the canine race, and one enthusiast has traced back their history for 30,000 years.

They certainly figured in Egyptian frescoes of the early Pharaohs, and were used for coursing by Xenophon, while a fine sculpture in the British museum of two greyhounds at play proves that they were known to the Romans.

These swift and graceful dogs were popular with all sporting sovereigns from Canute to the Stuarts.

Ban on Student Drivers

Beginning next fall, University of New Hampshire students will not be allowed to operate their own motor cars during the time the university is in session. This action was taken after it was found the grades of the car owners are much lower than those of their fellow students. Written permits will be needed before students can operate cars, and it is thought these will be granted only to students commencing.

Knew Better

A young bride-elect was ordering her trousseau in London before going out to New Zealand to be married.

The dressmaker suggested only very warm clothing, and when she demurred, asserting that the climate was beautifully mild, she was immediately informed:

"I assure you, madam, you are mistaken. New Zealand is where the frozen meats come from."

THE THEATRE

"MISS BREWSTER'S MILLIONS"

A bird in the hand is worth five in the bush."

That is what Polly Brewster found out. You see, Polly was a poor little extra girl in Hollywood, struggling along from day to day, when all of a sudden, like a heaven sent gift, she was informed by a handsome young lawyer, that she was heiress to a million dollars.

It seems that an old uncle had died, leaving her his entire fortune with but one stipulation—she had to invest the money—not spend it. Then to save a seemingly hopeless situation, along came Uncle Ned Brewster, who promised Polly five million if she'd spend the money his hated brother had left her.

That sounded a little queer, but what the deuce, five million was a lot better than one. So she started out on an intensive money spending spree. Polly gave staggering entertainments. To her guests, as souvenirs she distributed glittering diamonds. And she bought clothes—reams and reams of them. "Instead of using water in her bath—perfume was substituted. And in place of a personal maid—Polly had ten. Yes, sir, she lived—while it lasted.

Now, while one million dollars is more money than most people ever acquire in a whole life-time, if it's spent like water, it just doesn't last very long. So, of course, it soon disappeared. Then she went to Uncle Ned to ask for his present. But he told her he was broke, having had everything taken away by the Wall Street bears. As the world turned black an unusual thing happens which saves the day for Polly. But you'll have to see "Miss Brewster's Millions" at the Penniman Allen theatre, next Saturday, July 17th, to find out what followed.

"Miss Brewster's Millions" is the first farce comedy to be produced by the special comedy unit which Paramount has given Bebe Daniels. Bebe is starred as the rich little poor girl, while Warner Baxter, as the attorney, and Ford Sterling, who has a great role as Uncle Ned, are featured.

"THE BLIND GODDESS"

Arthur Train's exciting novel of contemporary New York life, "The Blind Goddess," has at last reached the screen via Paramount and the directorial chaperonage of Victor Fleming. Jack Holt, Esther Ralston, Ernest Torrence and Louise Dresser are featured at the head of a large and competent cast.

The mock pageantry of the law and the unequal struggle between right and wrong form an interesting and powerful theme for this new romance drama, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, next Sunday and Monday, July 18 and 19.

The story, in brief, portrays the thrilling romance of a young prosecuting attorney, who is forced to sacrifice the girl he loves to adhere to his ideal of duty. The action is laid in a background that ranges from the grim routine of the criminal courts to the smart social atmosphere of Fifth Avenue's exclusive homes.

Every sequence in "The Blind Goddess" is said to be a climax in itself, and each sequence as it is unfolded leads up to the tremendous courtroom scenes where Esther Ralston, daughter of Torrence, the murdered political boss, demands the life of Louise Dresser, the woman charged with the crime, who later proves to be her own mother!

"THE FAR CRY"

Blanche Sweet scores a personal triumph in her latest First National picture, "The Far Cry," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday, July 21st.

Not a little of Miss Sweet's success arose, it seems to this reviewer, from the extraordinarily artistic direction of Balboni. Balboni is a new name in the movies. From information coming this way from Hollywood, however, it is learned that the director is a young Italian screen marvel, who recently showed such convincing proofs of film genius that First National officials lost no time making him a director. As shown by his work in this picture, this step was eminently wise and is bound to be profitable.

As in the stage play, the story of "The Far Cry" concerns an American mother who has become Europeanized, and a European daughter, who is weaned back to American ways through the love of an American artist.

The other featured roles in the production are capably held by Myrtle

Stedman, Jack Mulhall and Hobart Bosworth. The supporting cast is artistically satisfactory.

A feature of the film is a gay banquet scene, ending in a spectacular conflagration. The colorfulness of the episode is heightened by being screened in natural colors. This is done by the Technicolor process, a new method which seems to have brought at last perfect coloration to the screen. June Mathis is responsible for excellent editorial supervision. Katherine Kavanagh made the adaptation.

Picked Up About Town

Almost every year a small army of housewives learn that by painting the kitchen they can make everything else look shabby.

"I guess by this time," says Dad Plymouth, "Congress has spent enough time and money in investigating to find out that some of the people want liquor and some of them don't."

Ever notice that the cheaper the politician the more he costs the people who elect them?

Dad Plymouth says the most fortunate farmer in America is the one who can look to a couple of husky sons for relief instead of to congress.

The fact that school is over doesn't mean that mother has any more help with the dishes.

"What the country really needs," says Dad Plymouth, "is stronger men instead of stronger beer."

And the more expensive the fishing tackle the more it is apt to amuse the fish.

"If marriage isn't dangerous," asks Dad Plymouth, "why is it most men wait until after they are married to take out an insurance policy?"

NEWBURG

LUTY-DERSHAM

Newburg church was the scene of a very pretty wedding, last Friday evening, at eight o'clock, when Miss Lily R. Dersham became the bride of Richard Henry Lutey. Rev. Paul R. Havens read the impressive ring service, after which he introduced Mr. and Mrs. Lutey to the large number of guests assembled. Before the arrival of the bride party, George Martin (lyric tenor voice) of Detroit, impressively sang, "O Promise Me."

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Frank Lowry of Detroit, the bride party advanced to the altar, preceded by the ushers, Cornelius and Charles Leonard. The ushers were followed by the pastor. Then came Mr. Lutey, accompanied by Roy Sanyon of Detroit, cousin of the groom, who acted as best man. Miss Marion Bennett of Pontiac, acted as bridesmaid. Two little girls, Aletha Jane Little of Detroit, and Mary Vivian Havens, carried baskets of roses, strewing petals along the path of the bride.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white crepe, wearing a bridal veil with orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of tea roses and baby breath. Miss Bennett was gowned in rose pink crepe de chine, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and white daisies.

The young couple received some very handsome gifts.

About fifty were present at the reception held at the parsonage, which presented a pretty appearance with its decorations of pink and white. The beautiful wedding cake was the center of attraction in the dining room. Ice cream and cake were served by several of the young girls of the neighborhood.

On leaving the church, the bride party proceeded to Northville, where they had photos taken. On the return trip, the newlyweds failed to return to the parsonage, much to the disappointment of the young people who were prepared to give them a send-off with rice and confetti.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutey have both contributed much to the church services the past winter, in musical talent. They will make their home, for the present, at the parsonage. They expect to take a trip to Europe to visit Mrs. Lutey's parents.

There was a very good attendance at church and Sunday-school, considering that so many are away for the week-end at this time of the year. The Sunday-school is planning on a union picnic some time the first of August.

The L. A. S. will hold a bake sale this week Saturday afternoon, in Stever's meat market in Plymouth. Everyone is urged to bake or contribute something for this sale. The money goes toward reducing the debt on the church.

There was a very good attendance at the L. A. S. meeting at the hall, last week Wednesday. The mite boxes were given out, and all were requested to earn as much as they can to put in them before the December meeting, as the interest money comes due at that time. After the business meeting several selections were read. A card received by Mrs. C. E. Ryder from Mrs. H. Gihum, who is spending the summer in Germany, was read. She says she is having a wonderful time, only that it is cold there. The country is beautiful, especially the forests. One could walk for days and never stumble over a broken limb. There are many birds and all so tame. She says the houses are not pleasant like ours. This card was written from Stettin. At the present time she is visiting in Berlin.

Mrs. Clyde Smith called on Mrs. Melvin Guthrie at the hospital, last Friday. She is gradually improving and hopes to come home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith called on their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. H. Eldert of Detroit, Sunday afternoon.

Clare Lord of Mt. Clemens, was calling on several of his young friends around Newburg, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gamore and Merritt Lemm of Detroit, attended church here, Sunday, after which they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ryder on a trip through the Irish Hills, which are very beautiful. They also visited the old Springville Inn, which was erected in 1840, and contains many pieces of antique furniture and numerous other things of interest. From the tower you can count seven lakes. The new concrete road that extends through the hills, when completed, will be a direct road through to Chicago. After visiting the old stone house that was built in 1854, situated on Evan's Lake which is owned by Mr. Lemm, they went to see Mrs. Lemm and family, who live not far from Clinton.

Someone surely has their nerve, when they will enter anyone's premises, which was done Monday night, helping themselves to all the tires on Mr. Greer's machine, taking a trailer, a basket of clothes from Monday's wash, and also a number of electrical tools that were of value. The state police were notified.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lutey of Akron, Ohio, who were visiting at the parsonage, spent Saturday in Pontiac with their aunt, Mrs. Bennett, who is ill, and was not able to attend the wedding of her nephew, Harry Lutey.

Miss Loretta Wilson is enjoying a week's outing in Detroit at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Facer. They spent over Sunday at Cranberry Lake.

A crowd of young folks were entertained at the Taylor residence in Newburg, on Tuesday evening of this week. The porch and interior of the house were attractively decorated in multi-colored paper and balloons. A light luncheon of sandwiches, cake and lemonade was served at 10:30. The hostesses were Marian Taylor and Gladys Horton, with Mrs. Jesse Thomas and Mrs. Wm. Lomas acting as chaperones.

Church Being Re-decorated

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday was a most glorious day. The shower and the sunshine made the world beautiful and fresh. The beautiful flowers in the church made us think of "The land that is fairer than day." The pastor's sermon had to do with the robbery of the bank in Plymouth. The text was taken from Rom. 3:18, "There is no fear of God before their eyes." Men and boys who follow this kind of business are those who seldom hear a sermon or study in Sunday-school or go to church, and what we sow as a nation and people, we must reap.

A large attendance in Sunday-school last Sunday. The pastor's class has held the banner for two Sundays. Won't you be there next Sunday.

The B. Y. P. U. was held last Sunday by Duane Sayles. It was a pep meeting to "keep on" and "no slip." The president, Stillman Warner, spoke of his desire for the society from the first of the year. Miss Sarah Daly played an instrumental solo. Roland Allenbaugh told of the day dreams of his life and the interruption, still he kept on until through school and college. Ira Kingsley told some of life's experience, and still he keeps working and does not expect to give up until he is through college. He said the B. Y. P. U. has the talent, and if we will only work, can make it a great success. Miss Scott told the young people the best way to work was God's way. Sometimes we may have to change our plans for His, but His way is always best. It was a great meeting.

The Ladies Aid Society of this church will hold a bake sale at Pfeiffer's market, next Saturday afternoon, July 17th.

Death Never Frightful, Old Physician Asserts

In all my experience I have seen but one human being who, when death actually came, was rebellious and afraid. I have, it is true, seen men die in delirium tremens. But their terror had nothing to do with death. They were simply a part of the delirium, the phantasies of a disordered mind. I have seen only one case of a human soul which, to the very last, was bitter and afraid.

No, we need not fear the moment of death, for nature is never more kind to us than then. Very, very often she sees to it that we do not even know. Our minds drop asleep, as it were, and death is then only a physical change.

But even though our minds remain awake and conscious, she gives us peace and contentment. This is not strange, perhaps, when people are weary and worn with long illness. But I have seen it over and over again when conditions were entirely different.

I have seen people die as the result of accidents, perhaps only an hour or two after they had been in the full vigor of life. Yet for them, too, nature performed her kindly service, and they were neither rebellious nor frightened.

This is true even of people who have lived careless and ungodly lives. But to those whose souls are "stayed on God" the moment of death is not merely free from terror, it is often so radiant with peace and joy that the onlooker is moved almost to envy. I do not see how any physician could know death as I have known it without acknowledging the power of religion. If he worked only in his laboratory, absorbed in material things, possibly he might be a materialist. But if, again and again, he has seen death glorified by faith in a living God, it is inconceivable to me that he can be without that faith himself.—Dr. Thomas Wilson, a Country Physician for More Than Fifty Years, in "The American Magazine."

Put Boycott on Men

The Amazons were a race of warlike women ruled by a queen who suffered no man to dwell among them. Their husbands having been killed in war, they resolved to form a state of their own, and declared marriage to be servitude. Three nations of Amazons are mentioned by the ancients, the Asiatic, the Scythian, and the African. The Asiatic Amazons, from whom the others branched off, dwelt on the shores of the Black sea and among the Caucasus mountains. They were said to have founded the cities of Ephesus, Smyrna and Cypre, and were famous for their three queens: Hippolyta, who was conquered by Hercules; Penthesilea, who was slain by Achilles while aiding the Trojans; and Thalestris, who visited Alexander the Great, with 300 maidens in her train.—Exchange.

Two in the Moonlight

Winters in Florida aren't so worse with the warm, mellow moon—the Spanish moss making everything just a trifle hazy.

And few girls were nicer than Sally. Said Sally: "Oh—I think it is wonderful to tonight. Let's not go in and dance, let's sit out here, just you and I and talk." Came the answer: "You may, if you wish. I want to dance—see you later."

You don't believe it—but it is true. Because, after all, what fun is there for two girls to sit out in the moonlight together?—Boston Reaport.

The interment took place in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

All our water pipe and supplies ordered recently for the 1926 extensions have been received.

We expect the county to start next week grading South Main street. The work of preparing the street is nearly finished.

The traffic lights on Starkweather avenue have been bothering us again. A short circuit seems to be the cause of the trouble.

Three of our labor crew have had the misfortune to be hurt the last few days. Charles M. Smith has an infected finger from a cut handling water pipe, and Louis Schwab had a foot bruised on the same job. Loten Baldwin was badly squeezed Tuesday afternoon, on South Main street, when a ditch caved in, burying him up to the neck.

We have been trying to get waste oil from garages and service stations to help out some of our worst dust spots, but the supply seems to be about nothing. Not more than a barrel or two has been found available.

Four fires have called out the department the past week. The afternoon of the 7th, a grass fire on Junction caused a run. The morning of the 8th, a fire in several small barns and sheds at Junction and Irving, called for the services of the pumper in putting it out. The blaze had a fine start with a good breeze, but didn't last long after the big stream hit it. Thursday afternoon and evening, we made two runs out the Golden road to the house owned by C. H. Bennett. In the evening during the destruction of the house, all we could do was to stand by to protect the barn, which fortunately was not damaged.

NOTICE

The trustees of the Livonia Union Church Society herein announce that there will be a meeting July 30, 1926, at the Livonia Union church for the purpose of electing a new board of trustees.

(Signed)
C. B. Weaver, Chairman.
Fred Lee, Secretary.

NOTICE

Wm. Sutherland wishes to call the attention of people living in his subdivision to the resolution of the village commission, prohibiting the use of village water for anything but domestic uses.
