

NORTHVILLE WAYNE COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK

Everything is in Readiness for the Biggest Fair Ever Held in Our Neighboring Town.

The Fair Opens Tuesday, September 27th—Thursday, September 29th, is Plymouth Day.

Everything is in readiness for the eleventh annual Northville-Wayne County fair, which opens to the public next Tuesday morning. For weeks officials of the organization have been working night and day bringing together the prize stock, poultry, fruit and vegetable products of western Wayne, Washtenaw and Oakland counties, and they have succeeded in entering probably the greatest number of exhibits ever shown in Northville.

Secretary Floyd Northrop, who has looked after every detail of the big event, today declared that he was especially pleased with the outlook for a very successful fair.

There is but one thing we ask now, and that will be good weather. We had a good fair last year, but we were rained out. I am hoping that the weather man will be good to us this year, and give us five days of sunshine. If he does that, we will do the rest, for we believe that we have planned one of the best fairs ever held in Michigan," he stated.

From the very first day until the close of the fair gates at midnight next Saturday night, there will be something out of the ordinary and something "different" going on all the time.

The association has been particularly fortunate in securing some of the best outdoor vaudeville features offered by the Western Vaudeville Managers' association of Chicago. The free acts are all of a very high class. Grandstand attractions at the fair are never complete without an exhibition of aerialists, and this year Secretary Floyd A. Northrop has announced that there will be the largest lineup of sensational performers appear here to amuse the visitors. One of the featured acts will be "The Flying Melzers," billed as America's foremost aerialists. The company of seven acrobats hurl themselves through the air on the flying trapeze. Their work excites favorable comment.

Another sensation feature will be "The Bolton Troupe." The ladies perform their numbers with the same skill and ease as the male members. One of the men dressed as a clown will be seen in many mirth-provoking situations.

An act to be seen here and one which will cause more than casual interest is "Pickard's Seals," always a sure fire magnet for the children. This act consists of four seals. They are deep sea pets, trained to do everything but talk. They are musicians, jugglers, vocalists, ball players and soldiers. The juggling of the five brands is certainly a wonderful feat and a very artistic number. At each performance they indulge in a banquet of fresh fish. These seals are conceded to be more skillful than human jugglers and their many difficult feats are astonishing.

And so on goes the story. Harry German, who has charge of the baseball tournament, has been exceedingly successful in lining up a series of contests that will delight every baseball fan.

The poultry show of the Northville fair, under the direction of A. E. Fuller, has been one of the outstanding poultry displays of the state for many years. It far outranks that at the state fair, and the entries this year indicate that it will be the most wonderful ever held in the state.

Fruit and vegetable exhibits, farm and livestock shows, with races, amusements—everything that helps to make a fair—will all be there.

PLYMOUTH DAY.

As has been the custom for several years past, Thursday, September 29th, has been designated as Plymouth day at the Northville Wayne County fair, and everybody in the village and surrounding country will attend the fair. The public schools will close at noon, and accompanied by the school band, the people will take in the afternoon at the fair.

The Plymouth Merchants ball team will take part in the baseball tournament at the fair, and they are scheduled to play the fast Checker

Cab team of Detroit on Thursday afternoon. Every ball fan in Plymouth is planning on being there Thursday afternoon to cheer the team on to victory.

Everybody is planning on attending one or more days next week and enjoy one of the very best fairs in Michigan.

WILL HEAR CONGRESSMAN SPEAK

PLYMOUTH LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO HOLD ANNUAL AUTUMN LUNCHEON, WITH REP. MICHENER AS SPEAKER.

The Plymouth League of Women Voters will have its annual autumn luncheon next Friday, September 30, at 12:30 o'clock. The luncheon will be served by the ladies of St. John's Episcopal church at the church house on South Harvey street.

The committee who are boosting the luncheon include Mrs. A. B. Vanaken, president of the local league; Mrs. Roderick Cassidy for tickets; Mrs. Nettie Dibble for publicity; Mrs. Coello Hamilton for the luncheon, and Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple for program. The program is to be on child welfare, a subject worthy of every citizen's attention. Rep. Earl C. Michener of Adrian, will be the principal speaker. It has been several years since Representative Michener has come before our local league. In view of this fact, in view of his splendid political record, and because of his interest in child welfare legislation, we are more than fortunate to have him as our luncheon speaker.

Mrs. Barbara H. Bartlett, who is Professor of Public Health Nursing at the University of Michigan, will speak on the subject, "The Development and Training of the Pre-School Child," a subject which is closely related to the civic problem in the child's later life.

All who attended the league luncheon last fall and heard Miss Fernbrook will surely want to attend the meeting Friday, September 30. League members from other Wayne county leagues will be present, but we are particularly eager to have Plymouth have a large local contingent to hear Rep. Michener.

Reservation should be made by Thursday night, with Mrs. Roderick Cassidy or other league members. Get your tickets today for the league luncheon September 30. Let us show Rep. Michener that Plymouth women are thinking citizens.

MERCHANTS LOSE TO NATIONAL GROCERY CO.

Plymouth lost another very close game Sunday to the National Grocery Company of Detroit. It took ten innings to decide which was to be victorious. After Plymouth tied the score in the ninth Detroit came back in the tenth and scored two runs and won the game.

Ward Walker pitched for Plymouth, and if he had had any kind of support at all should have won, as he was far ahead of the batter all the time and only allowed three hits up until the tenth. It is mighty discouraging for a pitcher to pitch a game like this and then be defeated because of errors by team-mates. What our boys need is practice, and this they must do, because we have some hard games ahead of us, and to stay in the race we must work. Now, all together for a bang-up, errorless game next Saturday, September 24th, when we play West Point over at their big jubilee day at West Point Park at 3:00 p. m. These teams have played two games so far this season and Plymouth won them both by one score. The last game went eleven innings. So, let's go over with the boys and help win another.

Sunday, September 25th, they play Wayne at Wayne.

And don't forget that next week, Thursday, September 29th, we play at the Northville fair, and we are all going to be there and help the boys take the big prize. Don't forget those dates if you want to see some good ball games.

Last Sunday's game by inning:

Batteries for Detroit—Denlin and Parson. For Plymouth—Walker and Strasen. Empire—Gray. Time—2:35.

THE "HUMAN FLY" CLIMBS NEW MAYFLOWER HOTEL.

Roland, the "human fly," climbed the east side of the new Mayflower hotel building last Saturday night without the aid of a rope. After reaching the top of the building the daring young man performed some thrilling stunts that gave the large crowd that filled the streets a real thrill.

DR. LENDRUM RETURNED TO PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

At the unanimous request of the members of the local Methodist church the Methodist Conference in session the past week at Port Huron, returned Dr. F. A. Lendrum to the pastorate of the Plymouth church for another year. Under the pastorate of Dr. Lendrum, the local church has prospered greatly, and all departments are in a most flourishing condition. The people of Plymouth, in general, are pleased that Dr. Lendrum and his estimable family are to remain residents of the village.

D. A. R. HELD MEETING

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D. A. R. was held Monday, September 19th, at the home of Mrs. L. R. Warner. Following routine reports and business, the following committee chairmen were appointed by the regent, members of the committees to be selected by the chairman: Program—Mrs. D. T. Randall. Monuments—Mrs. George Wilcox. Flag—Mrs. Holstein. Auditing—Mrs. D. N. McKinnon. Social—Mrs. R. E. Cooper. Magazines—Mrs. Walter Nichol. Nominating—Mrs. Carmen Root. Publicity—Mrs. S. D. Strong. National Defense—Mrs. Doerr.

The state convention is to be held at Albion October 4th, 5th and 6th. Plymouth chapter will be represented by our regent, Mrs. Frederick Lendrum, and possibly by several other members.

At the October meeting the chapter is planning to pack a box of sewing materials to be sent to Ellis Island. Many of the alien women who are detained there are tired and nervous from the long trip, and not understanding the reason for their detention, become very troublesome. The Daughters of the American Revolution have undertaken to supply them with material for hand work. When they are busy trouble ceases. The Plymouth chapter is planning to help in this phase of D. A. R. work by sending this box in October.

NEW HOTEL FAST NEARING COMPLETION.

Work on Plymouth's new community hotel, the Mayflower, is fast nearing completion. The second and third floors are nearly completed and are now in the hands of the decorators. The plumbers are rushing the work of installing the plumbing fixtures and the heating plant. The elevator men are here and the work of installing the elevator is well under way. The new hotel is sure going to be a source of great satisfaction to the citizens of Plymouth when it is completed.

HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION GROUP ORGANIZES.

The Home Economics extension department of the Michigan State college offers two projects this year for the women of Wayne county. They are "Home Management" and "Home Furnishings." A group will be organized at the home of Mrs. Daniel Murray, 615 North Mill street, Monday, September 26th, at 1:30 p. m., and the same afternoon at 3:30 a. m. other group will organize at the home of Mrs. H. S. Doerr, 1279 West Ann Arbor street. All those in Plymouth wishing to enroll in either class please attend one of these meetings.

A special village election has been called for Wednesday, October 12th. See notice elsewhere.

MRS. SARAH HOISINGTON PASSES AWAY

In the death of Mrs. Sarah Hoisington, which occurred at her home on Union street last Sunday morning, September 18th, after a three weeks' illness, Plymouth loses one of her oldest residents. Mrs. Hoisington was 91 years and three days old. For many years she resided in Livonia township, until her removal to this village six years ago. She was a lady greatly beloved by all who knew her. She is survived by five children. The deceased had been a member of the Newburg church since she was 18 years of age.

Funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. F. A. Lendrum and Rev. P. I. Walker officiating. The interment took place in the Newburg cemetery.

Mr. Weberlein is installing a new and modern baking oven, with all necessary equipment. He expects to be in his new location Saturday, October 1st.

PLYMOUTH GIRL CHOSEN AS DEBATER AT WESTERN STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE.

Josephine Schmidt, of Plymouth, who has just entered Western Teachers college, Kalamazoo, was selected from 925 freshmen to take part in a program which was a special feature of the freshmen days. The program was held in the auditorium of Central High school, Kalamazoo, and attracted a large audience.

Miss Schmidt was first speaker on the negative in a farcical debate entitled: "Resolved, That the Freshman Class is the Most Important One in College." Charles Ferguson, of Ludington, was the second speaker on the negative, while the affirmative was supported by Lura Rowe, of Plainwell, and John Gorr, of Kalamazoo, all of whom participated in debates of the State High School Debate league last winter and who are now enrolled in forensic courses at Western State. There was no decision of the judges on the debate.

Other features of the program was a whistling solo of melodies from "The Student Prince" by Florence Brown, of Bloomingdale; a clarinet solo, "Merriment Polka" by Bernard, given by Lewis Hines, of Hastings. Freshman days is a short course offered by the Western State Teachers college to freshmen. The program continues for a week before the beginning of the fall term and includes educational as well as entertainment features.

NETHEM DEFEATS ST. MONICAS

Brightmoor was well equipped with a team to defeat Nethem last Sunday, but the fates decided otherwise and gave Nethem another victory over the strong St. Monicas team. The game was played at Brightmoor, with a very large crowd in attendance.

Hy Gale was in form and allowed the Brightmoor boys to go hitless and scoreless. So determined are the Brightmoor boys to win that they have challenged the Nethem boys to another game to be played at Newburg a week from Sunday—a post-season game. Next Sunday Nethem plays the strong Burroughs aggregation from Detroit at Newburg. It is the last game of the season.

DE-HO-COS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP OF INTER-COUNTY LEAGUE

De-Ho-Co Defeated Detroit Fire Department Last Sunday Afternoon, 17 to 11.

The Fire Department used three hurlers, Bolde, Burrell and Hayes, and De-Ho-Co used two, Rowland and Constantine. Both teams hit freely and often of the opposing offerings, the fire boys getting the jump on De-Ho-Co in the first inning by putting three around the circuit. The second and fourth went to De-Ho-Co with two and three, but in the fifth the Detroiters rallied and touched De-Ho-Co for six. In the seventh the local boys got victims in turn, drove Bolde and Burrell to the showers in rapid succession and were checked by Hayes, only after nine had passed over the plate.

The Fire Department, although nearly demoralized by an attack for three more in the next frame, succeeded in annexing two circuits before the game ended and died fighting.

The game was a fitting climax to an eventful and close league race, comprising in its roster besides De-Ho-Co and Detroit Fire Department, teams from Belleville, Redford, Grosse Pointe, Fordson, Wayne and Wyandotte, and another Detroit entry, The Municipal Employees Club.

Next Sunday, September 25th, at Navin Park, Detroit, De-Ho-Co will play Detroit Municipal Club in an exhibition game starting at 3:00 p. m.

LAW AND GOSSIP.

Kentucky is breaking into print now with the proud boast that she has set the other 47 states a good example in law-making. A year ago her legislature passed what is known as the "auto-gossip law." It provides a fine or imprisonment, or both, in cases wherein a man or woman is found guilty of circulating false and malicious reports about another. The fine is from $10 to $100 for each offense, and anyone who can furnish proof that reports detrimental to their character are being circulated can make a case against the one doing the gossiping.

The law is said to have worked perfectly during the first year it has been on the statute books. Several have been fined under it; but the best part of it is that it has served to break hundreds of others of the gossiping habit.

In view of this result it might be a good idea for our own state legislature to take similar action. We're as many gossips as they have in Kentucky. As much as we regret it, we've a few too many right around Plymouth. Everyone agrees that more crimes have been committed in the name of gossip; more hearts broken by malicious tale-bearing; more homes ruined by scandal-mongers than almost any other one thing. If a law will reduce it, then it is one law that every honest, self-respecting citizen will endorse. Every town suffers more than it should through gossip. If a preventive has been found, let's get hold of it without further loss of time.

FAMILY ALBUMS.

While we're on the subject of "how times have changed" why doesn't someone point to the rapid disappearance of the old family albums that used to have a place in almost every home? The old albums, with the red or green plush covers, may be gone forever, but they have in a way been replaced by the little "snap-shot" albums. Now we have kodak pictures of the family and friends instead of "tintypes." And tomorrow we may have all these recorded in the shape of moving pictures that can be shown right in the family sitting room, since enterprising concerns are now making movie cameras and reproducing machines for individual use. Older residents of Plymouth may miss the "tintype" albums, but their sons and daughters never will. They will sooner or later grow used to seeing pictures of father and mother, or grandpa and grandma, flashed on a screen in their own homes and the homes of their neighbors. It's a mighty fast age we're living in, and sometimes it seems pretty hard for a lot of us to keep up with it.

OLD KING COAL.

A few years ago experts were worrying about the coal supply. They said its consumption was so great we would soon be out of fuel, and the Plymouth man who takes every pessimistic report seriously actually worried for fear a lot of people might be frozen to death; but now such reports are not taken seriously, even in the face of a coal strike. Word goes out that the supply ahead is far greater than the demand and that there need be no suffering on this score anywhere in the country during the coming winter. More and more the big industries are deserting coal for crude oil as fuel for their boilers. This means more coal for the individual consumer. Steamships and locomotives, too, are now using oil. So the old familiar threat of a coal famine doesn't cause alarm any more. It is pretty good proof that there is always something to take the place of something else.

LOST MAIL.

According to word recently received at the Plymouth postoffice from Washington, more than $600,000 was wasted in 1926 on postage for mail matter that never reached its destination. The information shows that during the year 12,688,567 letters and circulars reached the dead letter office at Washington. Most of them had to be destroyed since there was no means of telling to whom they should be returned. Here we are, living in an enlightened age, and yet spending almost a million dollars a year for something that doesn't do a penny's worth of good. Is there any sense in such waste when a few dimes spent with a job printer for neatly printed return cards will prevent any piece of mail from going astray? Where $600,000 is involved, and some of that probably out of your own pocket, it is a matter worth studying over.

A NATIONAL PROTEST.

From indications it looks as though the hue and cry against ocean flying will bear fruit, and that when congress reconvenes it will be urged to give the matter attention. We have heard numerous Plymouth citizens express themselves as unable to see any reason for fool-hardy flights, or what more can be accomplished now that we have found the Atlantic can be crossed by plane. We believe this same sentiment is becoming pretty general all over the United States.

Several lives lost in the Pacific in recent weeks and a dozen lost in the Atlantic since Lindbergh achieved success makes up a deplorable toll. The year 1917 is passing into history as the one when a modern miracle was accomplished—that of flying across the sea; but it will also be recorded as the one in which many perished in trying it. Lindbergh warned against trying it without everything being favorable, and insisted that always an experienced navigator should be along. Yet offers of money prizes and the promise of fame is proving too much of a temptation and almost anyone who can fly a plane now imagines he can make the trip.

Nothing is being added to our store of knowledge nor to our happiness by these tragic attempts. Neither is science being advanced. It seems to us that the protests are justified and that it is high time congress outlawed the giving of prize money for flights and passed strict regulations covering all future attempts.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

By Catherine L. Compton

We are very proud of our beautiful new school building, and each one is doing his best to keep it beautiful and clean.

We have formed a school citizenship league, with each student as a member. Our duty is to keep our halls and rooms orderly and quiet. An Honor Roll on a bulletin board on each floor will show the names of the honor citizens. Each one is trying to become an honor citizen of the Starkweather school.

There are thirty-five children enrolled in the kindergarten of the Starkweather school. The children are making fruit posters, showing the different kinds of fruits ripening at this time of the year—Hazel Sundberg, teacher.

The first grade children are enjoying their new reading books, "Good Health Habits," which we all try to keep—Opal Lappo, teacher.

There are forty children enrolled in Miss Stader's room, seven first graders and the rest second graders. The children have completed a "Health March" poster, showing vegetables, fruits and milk marching to the "Health House"—Blanche Stader, teacher.

There are 32 children in the 3-B and 3-A. Ruth Holt, teacher. The fourth grade children are very sorry to hear that Richard Miller was hurt Monday night, and we hope he will be back to school soon.

There are thirty-five students enrolled—Luella Balfour, teacher. There are thirty-three children enrolled in the 5-B room—Mrs. Moies, teacher.

There are thirty-six students enrolled in the 5-A and 6-B room. We are enjoying our music periods with Miss Schrader. In our community room and our new piano. Mrs. Adeline Lee, teacher.

GRANGE NOTES

Pomona Grange will be held at Flat Rock, Saturday, September 24th. Everyone try to be present.

The following bids on our $43,800 special assessment bond issue were received Monday evening, September 19, 1927 at 7:30 p. m. by the Village of Plymouth:

- Braun, Bosworth & Co., Toledo, Ohio, 4 1/2% per plus a premium of $211.00.
 - Pruden & Co., Toledo, Ohio, 4 3/4% per plus a premium of $157.20.
 - First National Co. of Detroit, 4 1/2% per plus a premium of $40.00.
 - W. L. Clayton Co., Toledo, Ohio, 4 3/4% per plus a premium of $51.00.
 - Durfee Niles Co., Toledo, Ohio, 6% per plus a premium of $283.00.
 - First National Bank of Plymouth, 6% per plus a premium of $52.50.
 - Joel Stockard Co., Detroit, 4 1/2% per plus a premium of $76.00; 6% per plus a premium of $1,075.00.
 - Bank of Detroit, Detroit, Mich., 4 1/2% per plus a premium of $114.32; 6% per plus a premium of $1,063.80.
 - Guardian Detroit Co., Detroit, 4 1/2% per plus a premium of $8.76.
 - Detroit Trust Co., Detroit, 4 1/2% per plus a premium of $11.00; 6% per plus a premium of $1,506.00.
- All 6% bonds were rejected by the commission, and the 4 1/2% bid of the First National Co. of Detroit, for per plus a premium of $40.00, was accepted.

Please note the advertisement of a special election to sell bonds for the village's share of the cost of paving Penniman avenue from the west line of Harvey street to the east line of Moreland road, including the storm sewers in connection with the same.

Also the permission to borrow $25,000 for extension of water mains in the newly acquired territory.

The top of the village water tank has been repainted black, with the word Plymouth painted in large white letters on the top so that aviators can read it when passing over Plymouth.

From the estimate received from the engineers, Hoad, Decker, Shoecraft and Drury, we find that the cost of the pavement including the sewers for a 32-foot pavement, will average about $5.90 per lineal foot for the abutting property on each side of the street. This is for an 8-inch concrete pavement including curbing.

Grandfather used to graciously ask for a girl's hand—but his offspring today will be satisfied with nothing less than a neck.

PLYMOUTH-FERDALE GAME.

By William Baker

Lineup for Plymouth:
Charles Beagle, left half; Vaughn Ford, right half; Charles Foster, full back; Archie Crumm, quarter; Elmore Curney, left end; Russell Sockow, left tackle; Clare Lyke, center; Eugene Starkweather, right guard; Charles Leonard, right tackle; Lynn Partridge, right end; Lawrence Hanclett, left guard.

The first and third quarters of the game were scoreless. In the second quarter Ferndale scored 18 points. In the last quarter Ferndale scored 14 points. The final score was 32 for Ferndale and nothing for Plymouth. The Ferndale team was much heavier and larger than the Plymouth team, which accounts for the quick defeat.

The greatest trouble of the Plymouth team seemed to be fumbling. Plymouth seemed to lose steadily after a fumble in the last part of the first quarter. The ball went to Ferndale on Plymouth's ten-yard line, when it was fumbled by a Plymouth man, and pounced upon by a Ferndale man. The game was excellent practice for the Plymouth team and will help them to score better in the next conflict.

God's Greatest Gift

The Pall-Mall restaurant is a famous establishment in the Hay Market section of London. All prominent men and women go there at least once, if it be only to inscribe their names in the "Album of the House." Paul was there once and wrote beneath her name: "A beautiful voice is one of God's highest gifts." Some time after Yvette Guilbert was there, and having read Paul's inscription wrote down: "An ugly, but expressive voice, is also one of God's highest gifts." She thought, no doubt, to have the last word. Chance would have it that Sir Rider Haggard dropped in one day at the Pall-Mall and started leafing the album. He smiled and in turn wrote something beneath his name. This was it, "Silence is God's greatest gift!"—Pierre Van Panssen, in Atlanta Constitution.

Philosogin

There is no peace in hymns of hate, nor in the road that isn't straight; there is no joy in lifting fobs nor pertrating hold up jobs; there is no gain in drilling holes in men and letting out their souls. The good-for-evil stunt is great! Heap burning coals upon the pate of the guy who has done you dirt, and then stand back and watch it hurt! There may be profit in red gold, in robbing men, but when you're old, and you've lost even self-respect, you know indeed your life is wrecked, and all the schemes you've put across have brought you nothing else but dross. The good will of your fellow men and love are better than much yen, and peace, when life's noon turns to shade, beats all the kopecks ever made.—Judd Mortimer Lewis in the Houston Post-Dispatch.

Syrian Wedding Custom

An ancient Syrian custom which is sometimes observed even at the present time is the assumption by a newly married couple of a royal status. On the village threshing floor is placed a throne on which they are seated daily for seven days, during which time songs and hymns in their honor are sung and poems recited in praise of their beauty, etc. Some leading Biblical scholars have divided the Song of Solomon into seven sonnets or Idylls, which would furnish one for each day of the "King's week."

Language of Diplomacy

The French language was used extensively in Europe in the Twelfth and Thirteenth centuries. The French literature was greatly developed and spread throughout the various countries, and persons of culture studied the language in order to be able to read the literature. Many foreign students were attracted to the University of Paris, and this also helped to spread the language. As a language for treaties and foreign intercourse among nations, French became general in the time of Louis XIV.

River Kept in Order by Chinese Engineer

In view of the disastrous Mississippi floods it is interesting to note that 2,100 years ago a Chinese engineer, Li-ping, laid down the correct engineering principle for controlling the flood conditions of a river flowing through a flat alluvial plain. The works that he and his sons established for controlling the waters of the Min river in Szechwan province and distributing them across the great Chengtu plain are still in perfect operation. The Chengtu plain is an area 100 miles long and sixty miles wide. Across this plain the Min river is distributed in eight main branches converging at the lower end of the plain to form a single river again, which empties into the Yangtze above the Gorges. Throughout the 2,100 years, the engineering principle laid down by Li-ping, without which the whole system would have destroyed itself centuries ago, has been followed. Flood conditions are still unknown. On the walls of the temple built to the memory of Li-ping and his sons at Kuan-hsien, is written this saying, familiar to every Chinese student: "Shien tao lan tso yen," meaning "Dig the bed deep, keep the banks low."—Minneapolis Tribune.

Fragments of Bottle Good Legal Evidence

Fragments of a broken bottle once settled a legal dispute as to the location of the original corner post of a surveyed tract. It was customary in the old surveys to place broken bottles, crockery or other articles that would resist decay in the holes where the corner posts were to be set, and notes of such deposits were recorded by the surveyor in his book. On this particular occasion, when an effort was being made to establish the location of a post in Canada which had been set sixty years previously, the surveyor's gang dug for two days over an area covering more than fifty square feet. Finally the diggers unearthed broken glass with engravings that corresponded to the notes in the original surveyor's book. With this point established, more than thirty posts in the vicinity were restored and the dispute over the boundary lines was settled.—Kansas City Star.

Optimism vs. Pessimism

The talk was of the pessimism of the young. "I do not understand why," said one. "You would think that young people would be all optimism with the future before them. You would think they'd see life as a rosy path. It seems to me the middle-aged and the old have more reason to be pessimistic. They have seen their illusions and their enthusiasms go one by one." "Because they are middle-aged and old is the very reason for their optimism," said another. "They have learned by the time they reach mature years that nothing is so bad as it seems and that this is a pretty good old world after all."—Springfield Union.

Satisfied

A short-sighted man who was also very inquisitive was walking in the country one day when he saw a notice board nailed on a tree that stood in a field. As he could not read the notice at that distance, curiosity prompted him to climb over the fence and walk across the field toward the tree. A few moments later he managed to scramble back over the fence just in time to escape the horns of a raging bull. "Well," he gasped breathlessly, "I had the satisfaction of finding out what the notice was." It said, "Beware of the Bull."

Flowers at Weddings

It is impossible to state when flowers were first used at a wedding, since this is a very ancient custom. Orange blossoms were worn and carried by brides from the earliest times, as they portend luck and happiness. Spencer and Milton were of the opinion that the orange was the golden apple presented to Jupiter by Juno on her wedding day. It was customary for the Anglo-Saxon bride to give her friends small knots and ribbons to wear or carry on the wedding day. This custom still survives in the bouquets of the bridesmaids.

A Vermont man is reported to be the father of 32 children. It looks like it's about time for him to join the League of Nations.

The Judge's Joke

The Strangle Hold

Winnie: "I can't understand why I was so dizzy last night. I only had one glass."
Guy: "Yes, but they kept filling it."

Might o' Been

"Am I the first girl you ever kissed?"
"Now that you mention it, you do look familiar."

So It Goes

"Arthur seems to find it hard to meet his expense in school."
"Gosh, not me. I meet them wherever I turn."

Anne Hour

She: "I just blew myself to a new dress."
He: "Do you always put them on that way?"

Anything Wrong?

"May, I'm surprised! Your dress barely covers your body."
"Well, what's the matter with my body?"

They Are Like That

Dame: "You dear little man. Where did you come from. What are you?"
Man: "I'm a college professor."
"Isn't that too cute for words. Oh, please do something absent-minded."

There's A Difference

"I'll have you know sir, that I'm used to having people treat me like a lady."
"Do they ever discover their mistake?"

A Bad Trait

Jeweler: "I don't like that new clerk you've hired."
Manager: "Why not, sir?"
"He takes things too easily."

And A Real One

Five-year-old Arthur awoke at three o'clock in the morning.
"Tell me a story, mother, he begged."
"Quiet, dear," replied his mother. "Daddy will be in soon and tell us both one."

Suggests a Telephone Night for the Young Folks Away at School

You can experience the pleasure of talking regularly with the son or daughter attending school, although they are far away. Establish a certain night of the week as Telephone Home Night, where they can place a call for the home telephone number.

Such a call is known as a Station-to-Station call, and costs appreciably less than a call placed for a Particular Person. It is the kind of call to make when you are reasonably certain the person to whom you wish to talk will answer the telephone or can be called to it quickly.

In placing a Station-to-Station call, if you do not know the number, say to the Long Distance Operator, for instance, "I want Mr. John Smith's residence, 250 Sayre Street, Lansing, Michigan." Be sure that you do not specify to the operator that she call any particular person. A call placed for a particular person is known as a Person-to-Person call, and costs more than a Station-to-Station call.

There are reduced Evening rates on Station-to-Station calls, from 7:00 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., with further reduction during the Night rate period, 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m.

Is Your Iron Growing Old?

EVERY housewife uses an Electric Iron and blesses the inventor. But don't forget that the electric iron, in spite of its virtues, doesn't possess eternal life. It wears out in the course of time, like everything else.

A worn-out iron naturally fails to do the satisfactory work of its prime. It should be retired from service. But don't imagine it is a dead loss on that account. It has a "turn-in" value. You get one dollar for it when you buy your new iron. The stuff that's in it is worth a dollar to us and you are welcome to its value.

Don't keep on using a worn-out iron. It doesn't pay. Bring it in and buy a new one. It's as good as a dollar bill to you on your purchase.

COOPER'S CORNERS SCHOOL NOTES.

By Edward Ringle.
 Our helping teacher, Miss Mary S. Jamison, visited our school last Thursday. She announced the handwriting contest for the boys and girls of Wayne county. We are working hard toward winning a prize.

Our visiting nurse, Mrs. Strasen, was here Friday. She talked to us about our health and hygiene. We want to earn a gold star by having each boy and girl practice the rules of the modern health crusade.

We have improved the appearance of the schoolhouse by putting up new shades.

The eighth grade is using the project method in studying agriculture.

The third grade has made some pretty posters that are on our bulletin board.

At the last meeting of our "Endwell Club" the committee reported their work very satisfactory. As new business, we elected Louis Molnar as yard and flag manager.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THERE'S BUNK IN CLEVERNESS PLEA

Whether it is a phase of inferiority complex or not, it is true that people are always suspicious of clever people. They resent their cleverness as an implied superiority, and the best means for creating a prejudice against them is to pretend that they are cleverer than ourselves.

It is a favorite pose of lawyers before a jury to discard all oratory or arts of reasoning and proclaim themselves as simply presenters of facts.

Those who wish to enhance their own personal reputation may pose as clever men, but those who wish to gain their particular point renounce any appearance of cleverness.

One of the favorite arguments against doing business with other nations is to claim that they are much cleverer than ourselves, much more tricky and resourceful. Every nation wishes to consider itself as simple, faithful and trusting, and all others as wily and deceitful.

We heard a great deal about President Wilson's being taken in by Lloyd George and Clemenceau. We are now deluged with news to the effect that our representatives abroad in another conference are being cozened by the statesmen of other nations.

All this is pure bunk.

The Yankees are as clever as anybody and abundantly able to take care of themselves. If anybody leaves them with the heavy end of the stick to carry they will have to be pretty sharp.

Suspicion of foreigners is all too common and a frequent cause of misunderstandings. It would be much better to be honest and frank ourselves, to lay the cards on the table and to trust other people to do the same. Much animosity and antagonism are aroused by suspicion. Trust hardly ever arouses anything but trust in return.

A man some time ago wrote a book entitled, "My neighbor is Perfect."

If everybody believed in his neighbor and trusted him we would have much less trouble than we do at present.

It is often said that the Golden Rule needs an amendment. It is not only necessary to do unto others as you would they should do unto you, but to be bold enough to take the first step in trust.

The idea of claiming that other statesmen or diplomats are wily and slippery, while our own are rugged and honest, is a vicious one, and all who help to spread it are not doing a very commendable job.

Today's Reflections

We've never been able to feel sorry for the man whose wrinkles came from minding somebody else's business.

There was a time when the other sought the man, but that was away back when people rode high-wheeled bicycles.

The Plymouth boy who once offered to "hold your horse for a dime" now hanks violently for the Cadillac to get out of the way of his little red-striped flyver.

A "flapper" is a girl who can't explain why she likes one young man better than another.

Some young people around Plymouth don't mind their parents' knowing when they go out, but seem to think it's none of their business when they come in.

The Plymouth man who is continually cracking jokes about women's clothes has very little to talk about.

When you glance at some of the side dishes served in the cheap restaurants you begin to realize that a whole lot of garbage escapes the can.

Great oaks from little acorns grow—and charred stumps from the matches we throw.

Nowadays Plymouth girls call it "netting" but in the old days they simply didn't mention it at all.

Educators say that one of the nation's greatest problems is what to do with the illiterates. Why not put 'em to writing popular songs?

A Wisconsin girl has killed a bear with a rolling-pin, but we doubt that the feat will bring her a single offer of marriage.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth girl who used to say "I wouldn't walk around the corner for the best man in the world?"

One good thing about such a war as they're pulling off in China is that they won't owe anything. They collect as they go.

You wouldn't hear youngsters sighing for a thrill if they still had to use a bucksaw on stove wood.

Solves Your Home Heating Problems

Here's a book on home heating—just the book you have been wanting so you will know how to get the best heating system for your particular home. This little book explains basement arrangement, chimney construction and how to save heat by insulating your attic.

More important than anything else, however, this book tells you how to get just the right amount of measured heat for each room, depending on size, area, window exposure, etc. It explains air circulation—how to have warm floors—how to avoid cold corners—how to have heat alike in all rooms. It tells how to save fuel—how to make your heating system last for years and years.

Better get the book before you build or remodel your home, or, if you are going to repair or alter your heating system, because it tells you how to have cleansed, moistened, circulated air to breathe. It also tells how to arrange for a permanent local service to look after your heating system—to adjust regulators, dampers, drafts and chains to get full value from fuel and to have regular furnace cleaning, inspection and repair service so you don't even have to think about them.

SEEING THE COPPER COUNTRY

By F. W. Hamill
(Concluded)

"She saw the sun on a summer sky. And clouds of amber sailing by. A lovely land beneath her lay. And that land had gleams and mountains gray. And that land had steeped and heavy piles. And pearly lakes and a thousand isles. Its fields were speckled, its forests green. And its lakes were all of a dazzling sheen. Like magic mirrors, where slumbering lay The sun, and the sky, and the cloud let gray."

The most enjoyable side trip was a two-day camping party of four families in three autos to Bete Gris. Now Bete Gris is a French name meaning "best gray," or "gray best," and pronounced Bata Gree. Just what was this gray beast we were going to see? We were told it was near Lac La Belle, another French word meaning "Lake the Beautiful." Note, the French put their adjectives after the nouns, or the cart before the horse, as we would say. So Lac La Belle means "the beautiful lake."

We crossed the long swinging bridge from Houghton to Hancock, they turned to the right and took the low paved road through Dollar Bay, Hubbell, Lake Linden, Laurium to Calumet. These are all copper mining towns of from two to fourteen thousand. A pathetic thing is the number of deserted villages in this whole region. We saw dozens of such villages. One to two hundred fairly good houses around a deserted mining shaft, with windows boarded up and not a sign of life, even to a stray cat to mark the passing of a once prosperous community. Machinery has been so much improved since the old days, some of these shafts are being reopened with profitable results.

At Calumet we take U. S. 41 north through Ahmeek to Phoenix. Along this road, the west side is lined with grand cliffs and crowning crags some three to five hundred feet high. Very beautiful scenery, and you will use your camera more than once to try and capture some of the scenic beauty. From Phoenix we go about fifteen miles east, mostly through uninhabited primeval forests, with hardly an evidence of the destructive hand of man. When near the eastern shore you discover you are up on a table land some fifteen hundred feet above sea level, and have to make a descent of a succession of hills which bring you down to lake level. Not far from this point is a mountain with Lake Patty on its top. No road, but a blazed trail for a foot path. Beautifully surrounded by fir trees which are reflected by the mirror-like surface of the still lake.

Following the shore a short distance, we came to the "Gray Beast." And what do you think it was? It was a rockbound protected harbor or bay. There was a three hundred foot wide canal running west half a mile to Lac La Belle. On the further side of this canal was the government lighthouse, Mendota, what with Lake Superior beyond the bay, Mt. Houghton towering above the Beautiful Lake on the other side, and the setting of evergreen trees made a panorama of great beauty and grandeur.

We camped on the edge of the canal. We were told there were no wells needed as everyone used the water out of the canal. We went down to look and decided we would be very thirsty before drinking that dark dirty water. However, in about thirty minutes one of our party who had been there before, took a pail saying he was thirsty and brought back a pail full of as nice pure cold water as you ever dipped from a spring. The secret was, the water in the canal changes current about every twenty minutes. When the water from Lac La Belle is flowing into Lake Superior the water is dark and mucky, but when the current comes in from Lake Superior it drives the muddy water back and then it is clear as crystal. To anyone giving me a plausible reason for this change of current every twenty minutes, I will send a picture of the canal entrance to Lac La Belle.

The harbor is a refuge in case of storms and in the late fall or early spring, as many as thirty large ships have sought its protection at one time.

The daughter of the lighthouse keeper was in our party from Houghton, so we were assured every courtesy. We were shown through the lighthouse and the boats and fishing tackle were at our disposal. This was the only camping place up north where mosquitoes threatened. However a rousing campfire quickly dispelled them.

We returned to Hancock via the upper cliff road, very scenic indeed. At 4:00 p. m. Friday we started on our seven hundred mile trip home. Made Marquette by dark, and camped there, reaching St. Ignace at noon. It took us until 4:00 p. m. to get across the Straights, owing to the amount of traffic and having to wait for three boats. We then drove around via Potoskey to Grayling for our camp Saturday night. With several stops with relatives, we completed our trip Sunday night, an outing long to be remembered, and I hope to duplicate it again some time.

MICHIGAN STOCK WINS HONORS IN SHOW RING

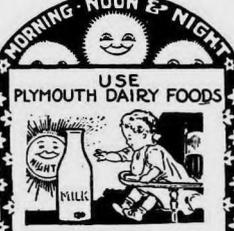

STATE FAIR EXHIBITS FIND LOCAL ENTRIES ON TOP IN MANY LIVESTOCK CLASSES.

That Michigan livestock, competing against the pick of many other sections of the country at the recent Michigan State fair in Detroit, won high honors in most of the classes of competition is shown by a review of the premium winners for this year.

Local entries in horse, cattle, sheep and swine sections all held their own against the nation's best, furnishing a striking tribute to the quality of Michigan's best stock.

In addition to the private exhibitors who brought back championship ribbons, the state owned herds at the Michigan State college alone won nearly 75 places in the final awards. The famous M. S. C. horse string alone was responsible for 31 prize places, while sheep and beef cattle also were high in the standing. Manitoba De Rubis, sensational Belgian mare in the college herd, repeated her winnings from the Ohio State fair, being crowned senior champion and grand champion at Detroit, while Belle Phoenix came home as junior champion Belgian.

Michigan livestock men are reported to be taking a great deal of satisfaction in the fact that local animals were able to win such signal honors in the really international competition of the various state fair classes.

Power

When we tell you to judge Havoline oil by the power it gives your engine, we are describing its superiority in the most direct and practical way.

Power is a sure test of value—in men, materials or machines. It separates winner and loser, champion and pretender—the quick and the dead. It's only human to desire it.

Any car can test oil-power. Try your own car with Havoline. Once you feel it "come through" for you, you'll never deny your engine the extra pep and vim that result from the use of quality oil.

Old Pharaoh Giant of Financial World

Herodotus, Diodorus and Plutarch give us a few dazzling glimpses of wealthy men in antiquity. First of them, almost lost in the mists of legend, was the Egyptian Pharaoh Ramesses III—also known as Rhampsiutius—who reigned about 3,000 years ago. He surpassed all predecessors in the wealth he possessed and in his fondness for its accumulation. Diodorus estimates this pharaoh's fortune at 400,000 talents, which would be about $500,000,000 in actual money today. In the purchasing power of that period it was equivalent to twenty times this amount. Ramesses, therefore, was worth $10,000,000,000 in the buying value of his day.
To show how far money would go a thousand years before Christ, it is only necessary to mention that a fat ox could be bought for $1 or less; that a bushel of wheat would bring 12 cents in the market; that a day's wage was from 12 to 20 cents.—New York Times.

How Vanderbilt Earned First Hundred Dollars

Cornelius Vanderbilt, later to be the commodore, was a strong, big, healthy boy who worked on the farm and tended his father's boat. He was a great lover of horses and when he was six years old raced bareback with other boys. He played truant to go sailing and swimming and gallivanting across the countryside and sometimes he talked of running away to sea.
On May 1, 1810, he sought $100 from his mother, to buy himself a harbor boat, a piragua, and become a boatman. She promised him the money if he would plow and plant a certain rocky eight-acre field by May 27, his sixteenth birthday. He persuaded the neighborhood boys to help him and on the morning of his birthday he got the $100. About seventy years later, he had increased the $100 to $100,000,000.—Meade Mintigerrode, in Collier's Weekly.

A Walk With Thoreau

To take a walk with Thoreau, one must rigidly adhere to the manners of the woods. He could lead one to the ripest berries, the hidden nest, the rarest flowers, but no plant life could be carelessly destroyed, no mother bird lose her eggs.
First he would give a curious whistle and a woodchuck would appear—a different whistle and two squirrels would run to him. A different note yet and birds would fly and even so shy a bird as a crow would alight on his shoulder. The children must be mute and very motionless till each pet was fed from his pocket and had departed. Thus the children were introduced to his family, as he called them.—Mary Hosmer Brown, in "Memoirs of Concord."

The Insult

The old lady entered the room where her husband lay on his bed of sickness. She was trembling with suppressed wrath and indignation.
"What's the matter?" asked the old man.
"Why," she said, "I just went into the vicarage to tell them you weren't any better, and they wanted me to bring you a bottle of wine."
"Have you brought it?" asked the sick man eagerly.
"No, not me, indeed," was the indignant reply. "I heard the vicar's wife say it had been in the cellar since 1800 and when she offered it to me I just walked off without a word. We don't want the nasty stale stuff."—London Tit-Bits.

Conscientious Borrower

One morning Mrs. R— answered a knock at her kitchen door. There stood Helen, three years old, who lived in the other half of the duplex.
"I want to borrow a match for mother's sake," said she, would bring a back when the grocer boy comes," announced the child.
In a few minutes Mrs. R— was summoned to the door again. There stood Helen, holding a burned match between her thumb and finger.
"Here is your match. Many thanks. Mother did not use it all. She was busy, so I thought I might as well bring it back to you."—Indianapolis News.

Persians Fond of Tea

Tea drinking is a universal social habit in Persia. One of the social institutions of great attraction is the tea-house, some of which are furnished quite elaborately, while others are rude in their surroundings. Business men often make appointments here, and it is very common for loafers to seek out these tea-houses. The common pipes, cigarettes and the kafeen, or water pipe, are much used. In the water pipe the smoke passes through the water and is drawn into the lungs. Lemon Juice and other flavors are sometimes mixed with the water.

Ancient Stone Unveiled

The "Brus Stone," which dates from 1304, and was lost for 150 years, was recently installed permanently in the staircase of the town hall at Annon, Scotland. At the ceremony the unveiling was by Sir Robert Bruce. The stone was originally part of the ancient "Castle of Brus" at Annon. After its disappearance for a century and a half it was found ten years ago in a North Devon garden.

METHODIST NOTES

What is Sunday, October 9th, to be in the Sunday-school? Look for the answer next week.

The reception the young people staged last Friday night for the school teachers, was a delightful affair. Our Leaguers certainly know how to entertain. Ask anyone of the hundred who were present if they weren't kept busy. And the fruit punch and wafers were good, too.

In speaking of Rally Day, why not have a Rally Day in the church as well as in the Sunday-school? In what better way could the congregation show their joy in having Dr. Lendrum and his family remain with us for another year than by every member being present at the ten o'clock service next Sunday morning? I am sure the thrill of seeing all his members together at a service would be a great inspiration to him. Let us try it. All together now next Sunday morning.

The Junior Missionary boys and girls will meet at the church Wednesday night, September 28th, directly after school. At this meeting the 25c dues are payable for the year. Mrs. H. S. Doerr and Mrs. George Card, leaders.

Our sympathy is extended to the various members of our congregation who have recently lost their loved ones. May they find consolation in the fellowship of Christian friends and in attendance at the church services.

We are going to miss the boys and girls who are leaving this month to attend the various colleges. However, we are glad they have the opportunity to go, and we shall welcome them at the various services whenever they are at home.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday Holy Communion Sunday for the children. Let all be present.

Choir practices are now in order and each choir will resume activities again.

A meeting was held last Wednesday of the married people to make arrangements for the coming fall and winter activities. A more detailed report will be made later.

Instructions for the children begins the first Saturday in October. All children not completing the eighth grade are obliged to attend these instructions.

Our forty hour devotions will be held in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Carby are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a baby girl.

Sunday is the last Sunday of September. Have you given your monthly offering?

Nethem defeated St. Meniens team from Brightmoor last Sunday 5-0. Sunday Nethem plays the strong Burroughs team from Detroit at Newburg.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Rally day exercises employ the attention this week. The date is next Sunday, Sept. 25th. There is to be a special service at the Sunday school hour which promises to be very fine. Everyone should attend. All who are taking part are asked to be at the church at 11:15 a. m.

The young people are taking charge of the evening service at 7:30 o'clock. These services are always of unusual interest.

Mr. Nichol's subject Sunday morning is to be "Whence Comes the Soul."

A fine meeting of the Ready Service class was held Tuesday last at Mrs. Venley's home.

Mr. Nichol attended the meeting of the Presbytery of Detroit on Tuesday, November 17th has been set as the date for the annual bazaar.

Drug Inspector Calls at SHINGLETON'S STORE

He said "I see you carry patents, toilet preparations and other drug store lines." He informed me of a few items which could not lawfully be sold without the employing of a registered pharmacist. I assured him of my desire at all times to comply with the law without the employing of a high-salaried pharmacist. I am satisfied to carry the hundreds of drug store items which can be sold by any merchant. Our lower prices for the same nationally known articles would not be possible if we were obliged to keep high-salaried registered pharmacists as clerks.

Sylvan Lake village is to have a new $75,000 school building.

A garage building and six automobiles were destroyed by fire Friday morning, September 19th, on Grand River avenue a short distance east of Fourth Gate, Charleville. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The people of Dearborn voted last week Tuesday by an overwhelming majority to accept the city charter and become a city in place of a village. Six-five per cent of the registered voters of Dearborn cast their ballots.

There was a good representation of the Missionary society of the Methodist church at Plymouth, Wednesday, guests of the Missionary society of the Methodist church of that place at dinner and an afternoon meeting.—South Lyon Herald.

Director Fielding H. Yost of the University of Michigan athletic department announced last week that 30,000 high school students in Michigan had been invited for the opening game in the new stadium with Ohio Wesleyan, October 1st.—Washtenaw County Tribune.

Work of installing the new ornamental lighting system is progressing as rapidly as conditions will permit. Bases are being erected along Main street, and places cut in the walks for connections. It will probably be a month before the work can be completed.—Northville Record.

Harvey Proctor, of Fraun's lake, had the misfortune to have his new Chevrolet truck badly damaged while in Detroit recently with a load of grain. A careless driver ran into him and before the car could be righted again a street car crashed into the machine. No one was hurt.—Washtenaw County Tribune.

Lehr Bishop and Fred Henry, members of the South Lyon Potato club, who represented Oakland county at the state fair, won fourth place in their demonstration. The boys were recently selected as the best demonstration team in the county and were chosen to make the trip to Detroit.—South Lyon Herald.

Holly Masonic bodies dedicated their new temple on Wednesday evening, with banquet and ceremonies. The temple was bought from the Maccoebes but was so changed inside and out as to appear like a new building. Several thousand dollars have been spent in the transformation and it is very finely adapted for a fraternal home.

The heaviest traffic ever known on Grand River road passed over that highway, the Saturday preceding Labor Day, reports being to the effect that cars were passing at the rate of 900 per hour. Four accidents near Howell attested to the congested condition of the road, two of the guilty drivers taking advantage of it to make their escape leaving their victims to their fate.—Brighton Argus.

E. F. Foster, owner of the former Michigan Store Fixture plant, is installing a gravel washing plant on the premises at the north of the present buildings. The gravel will be taken out of Prospect hill at the rear of the plant and the water is to be pumped from the mill pond. A railroad side-track already runs to the north end of the property and can be used in the new project.—Milford Times.

The school house in the Blackwood district, near South Lyon was broken into some time during the past few weeks, and the school's most valuable books, revised encyclopedias in twelve volumes, a number of other books and other paraphernalia taken. No clue is left that will lead to the apprehension of the marauders who pried down a window from the top in order to gain access to the building. Brighton Argus.

Miss Leitha Rowland, who has been the very efficient cashier of the Michigan State Telephone office in Northville, has resigned her position with the company to accept a place at the Wayne County Training school. Dr. Haskell has made a valuable addition to his office staff by the employment of the Northville girl. Phone company patrons will regret to see Miss Rowland leave the service.—Northville Record.

Gertrude Johnson, eight years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Johnson, 16631 Salem avenue, took two first prizes at the state fair in Detroit, for flowers displayed in the Boys' and Girls' Garden Clubs competition. Gertrude is a Yost School pupil, who also was school winner and second in the district among those who entered the Detroit Times piano contest. As a result of this honor she was asked to play over the radio.—Redford Record.

H. S. Greenc, who since 1905 has worked in the fruit department at the Michigan state fair, brought to his home in Northville the other day a number of apples that were given him by L. W. Lovewell. The apples that were displayed by Mr. Lovewell were picked a year ago, and when displayed at the fair were just as hard as they were when picked. They were the only old fruit displayed at the fair, and attracted considerable attention. Mr. Lovewell, who resides in South Lyon, kept them in the cellar of his home just as anyone would store apples away for the winter. They were Jonathans, picked from an orchard in South Lyon.—Northville Record.

WHO WILL BE THE MAN?

THE VANISHING BOB. PROGRESS AND SACRIFICE. BREWERY STOCK.

Now is the time to pick your candidate, with President Coolidge "not choosing," which means that he does not intend to be a candidate.

Hoover, Mellon, Hughes, Lowden or a dark horse, who will it be?

Charles Evans Hughes is back from Europe, with "nothing to say to reporters," a dangerous sign with a national convention near.

Mr. Hughes never said, "I am too old to be President," that would be preposterous, from one of the most hard working men in public life. He did say, "I am too old TO RUN for President."

Secretary Mellon is back from Europe, also "with nothing to say to reporters."

Secretary Mellon was walking up Park avenue in New York City last week, looking about half his age and going at a rate that would have taken him from his desk in the Treasury building to the front door of the White House in considerably less than a minute and a half.

The Smithsonian Institution will have a weather station in southwest Africa. There, high up in the air, in the dry, clear atmosphere, science will study the sun, calculate solar radiation, and, if hopes are realized, predict weather as much as a week or a month, and even one year, in advance. It has taken men a long while to find out that what they have and what happens to them depends largely on the big star that lights their short lives.

A gentleman, occasionally posing as a nobleman, was arrested recently accused of marrying fifty women and getting a million dollars in money and jewelry from them. There is nothing to be said about that except that it is in the nature of a woman to trust men, unfortunately for women.

"Girls are coming back," says a professor of physiology, even "puff girls" and the "shingle" will pass. Common sense is with the hob. Romance with the puffed curl. You could not imagine Martha Washington with a hob.

No great thing is achieved without sacrifice. Those distressed by loss of life in flying may remember that the total number of deaths in trans-Atlantic flying is smaller than the number killed automodding on any one Sunday. The thing is to keep on and conquer.

C. V. Miller, of Toronto, left brewery stock to seven Methodist ministers and Ontario Jockey Club shares to opponents of race track gambling.

At the end of nine years, the proceeds of his estate go to the parents of the largest family born in the province during that time.

Methodist ministers, to get the $75,000 brewery stock, must draw the dividends and vote on the company's management "to see whether their avarice for money was greater than their principles."

The ministers, of course, will do what is necessary to collect the money, and use it for the prohibition propaganda, thus thwarting Satan.

Leaving your money to the biggest family is dull. The mouse would beat any human being the shad would beat a mouse, and the female oyster, with her millions of youngsters each year would make the shad look like birth control. Leaving money to poor parents that take the best care of their children might be a good idea. But money left for benevolent purposes—excepting science and education—is usually wasted. The work you do while you live counts; there's no knowing what your money may do after you.

Great Britain intends to protect ignorant investors against get-rich-quick stock salesmen and other schemers. Peddling stocks from door to door is to be stopped, selling stocks through the mail restricted and watched. The oil, real estate, and mining schemes that rob investors in this country would not be possible in Great Britain.

Eddie Hope says: "The Atlantic, it turns out, is an ocean, after all, not just a notion."

The Department of Commerce announces that marriages in Illinois increased during 1926. Evidently the citizens are going on the theory that, "in union there is strength"—and safety. Organizing to gang the gangsters, eh?

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION.

Plymouth, Mich., Sept. 6, 1927. A regular meeting of the Commission held in the commission room of the village hall Tuesday evening, September 6, 1927 at 7:30 p. m.

Present: Commissioners: Hondorp, Learned, Pierce and President Fisher. Absent: Commissioner Henderson.

The minutes of the regular meeting of August 15th and the adjourned regular meeting of August 19th were read and approved.

Mr. R. R. Parrott was present and asked that the matter of the petition for sanitary sewers in the Virginia Park Subdivision be laid on the table and included in the 1928 sewer program, this was granted.

The petition from Mr. Honeywell was read protesting that the taxes assessed against property were excessive and asking that they be adjusted. This petition was laid on the table and the manager was directed to reply with a letter explaining that the taxes could not be adjusted at this time and why the assessment was made as it was.

The treasurer reported that Mr. Charles Ash, Jr., had been assessed on sanitary sewer rolls the second time and that Mrs. Esther Dotts on Hardening street had been assessed for a sanitary sewer benefit and that the outlet to the sanitary sewer was not low enough so that she would receive any benefit from same and asked that they be relieved from the payment of the assessment. The commission ordered that they be released from the special assessment on sanitary sewers.

The manager reported a discrepancy in the assessment of sanitary sewers. On motion of Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Hondorp, the assessor was asked to go over the assessment roll and make the suggested adjustments.

A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp seconded by Commissioner Pierce that John Gray be given the job of painting the top of the water tank in park at the rear of Presbyterian church property. The top to be painted red and the word Plymouth printed in white letters, the price to be twenty-three dollars.

A petition was received for a storm sewer to Harvey street to extend from the north line of Eckman Subdivision south to a branch of Tanshish Creek in Sunshine Acres. On motion of Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Learned the petition was granted to be built in 1928.

On motion of Commissioner Pierce, seconded by Commissioner Learned, the period of the collection of taxes was extended from September 10th to October 1st, 1927.

On motion of Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Pierce the village attorney was instructed to draw up legal notices to be sent to property owners on South Main street whose buildings are projecting into the street, and that Friday evening, Sept. 16 at 7:30 p. m. a hearing would be held and all interested property owners be invited to appear at that meeting.

On motion of Commissioner Pierce, seconded by Commissioner Hondorp the money included in the budget for 1927 for a sinking fund to take care of the retirement and interest on water bonds be invested in bonds that can be readily purchased for the purpose.

Mr. Charles Rathburn, supervisor of Plymouth Township, was present and suggested that the village commission cooperate with the township and county auditors regarding the replating of portions of the village of Plymouth not now plated. On motion of Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Pierce the village president was authorized to appoint a committee to consult with the county auditors regarding the plating of said districts. The following were appointed on this committee: Frank Learned, John Henderson and the village manager to meet with the supervisor, Charles Rathburn.

The village manager reported that certain tourists were using the Plymouth tourist camp for permanent camping. On motion of Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Hondorp, it was ordered that no tourist would be permitted to camp in the tourist camp for a longer period than three days without a permit issued by the village manager.

A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Learned that the action of the cemetery committee of August 16th, increasing the price on cemetery lots to one dollar per square foot be approved.

A motion was made by Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Hondorp that the school board be permitted to build two sidewalks through the village park opposite the Starkweather school provided the trees be properly protected.

A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Pierce that the electric switches and wiring at the Booster station and pump houses at the spring be properly installed to insure safety.

A motion was made by Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Hondorp that the contract with the Detroit Edison Company for power at waterworks pumping station be changed from the present plan to an energy contract.

A motion was made by Commissioner Pierce, seconded by Commissioner Hondorp, that the bill of Mr. E. C. Hough for the construction of storm sewers and the laying of water mains in Hough Park Subdivision be paid.

A motion was made by Commissioner Learned that the cost of storm sewers constructed in the Nash Subdivision be turned over to the assessor to be assessed to the property benefited.

A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, that the village attorney be instructed to draw up proper resolutions for the holding of a special election.

A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Pierce that the manager be authorized to advertise for bids for the sale and removal of the old hose house located in the park opposite the Starkweather school on Holbrook avenue, bids to be opened September 30, 1927 at 7:30 p. m.

They Arrived at
Farrow Street

By ROSE MEREDITH

AMY FARROW was waiting for the last trolley car home. She had been spending the evening with one of her friends on the outskirts of the city, and had stayed later than she intended. Now she blamed herself for being so late—it had been a mistake to leave her grandmother alone, though Phoebe Riddle had promised to spend the evening with the old lady, and Phoebe was their best friend and next-door neighbor.

When at last it came she got in and settled down in a corner, for it would take fifteen minutes to reach the street where the Farrow's lived.

The conductor thrust a grimy hand forward and Amy dropped a nickel in it, and went on thinking about Jane Mason, whose wedding presents she had come out to see this evening. Jane was to be married next week and the girls had been full of the coming event. Now that Amy was alone, her thoughts reverted to her own affairs—she might have been planning her own wedding if she had not broken her engagement to Billy Wakefield so long ago! It was perhaps a year since her father's sudden death at a critical point in his business affairs had brought utter ruin to the family—and when they had had to sell the large house and all of its contents and go to live in Granny's old-fashioned house, Mrs. Farrow had mourned so over her husband's failure and death that her own fragile health was weakened, and it was not long before she, too, joined her departed husband. That left Amy all alone with Grandmother Farrow in the old Farrow homestead.

Amy was very proud in those days, and because she could not bring money with her love, she had broken her engagement to Billy Wakefield, who was the son of the richest man in the state! Billy did not go near Amy again. She had taken a teaching position in a fashionable girls' school in the town, and she and granny lived comfortably enough.

At this point in her musings, the conductor came around for another fare and this time it was a different hand that was presented for payment—a clean-skinned, brown, muscular hand, wearing on the little finger a true lover's knot of twisted gold and platinum. It was a ring just like the one that Amy had given her lover when they became engaged—and which he had never returned to her.

Amy pulled a ten-cent piece from her purse, it slipped from her fingers and bounced out of the seat and fell somewhere on the floor.

"Oh, that is all I have!" declared Amy, looking up at the conductor, and then, staring fascinated, at the handsome, good-looking face was that of Billy Wakefield!

As for Billy, he stared at her from deep blue eyes, as if he could not speak.

"That is the last cent that I have with me," declared Amy in a faltering voice.

"Never mind—we will find it in the morning," and he fetched out the proper amount and put it in his pocket, as he rang up the fare, handing her a bright nickel in change.

"Thank you," said Amy. "You are quite sure that you can find the ten-cent piece in the morning?"

"Sure as can be," he said, and touching his cap went to the front of the car.

After while the last passenger got off, and Amy was left alone. As she sat there, she wondered why Billy Wakefield should be working for the trolley company—she had not heard that Mr. Wakefield had failed.

Just then, Billy Wakefield, looking so smart and trim in his new dark blue uniform, came down the car again and removed his cap.

"There is another fare due, Miss Farrow," he said in a low tone, and then Amy, her eyes hidden under long lashes, dropped the nickel in his extended palm. His hand closed on her small one and he bent over the seat.

"Amy," he said tensely, "are you happy, dear?"

"No, Billy, never without you!" she said with a little sob in her voice.

"Then," whispered Billy, slipping into the seat beside her, "will you marry me, Amy?"

"Yes, Billy," she whispered, her tear-wet cheek against his.

"You don't mind my being a trolley conductor?"

"I just don't care at all—about anything except you!"

"You haven't asked once why I am on this car," accused Billy after awhile. "Have you heard that the Wakefield fortune is a thing of the past?"

"No! I hadn't heard!" declared Amy. "I am sorry for your father and mother, Billy—it is hard for old people to be deprived of—"

"Rubbish, my love," declared Billy. "The Wakefield millions still stand, firm as a rock—I am doing this job on a bet with dad who is a big stockholder, and all the money I earn goes into the trolleyman's union fund! Next week I have to go back to the office again—do you still love me, Amy?"

"Always—Billy, I cannot help it," she confessed, and then the motor-man sang out—

"Farrow street!"

So Amy could dream of wedding plans all over again!

THE THEATRE

"ALL ABOARD"

If advance opinions count for anything, Johnny Hines' new First National picture, "All Aboard," produced by C. C. Burr, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre next Saturday, Sept. 24th, should be the funniest comedy of the season. Following its advance showings in the outlying theatres of Hollywood during its tryout stages, "All Aboard" was hailed by film critics and officials as the Yankee Doodle comedian's outstanding picture. Audiences were said to be kept in gales of laughter from the opening reel to the final fade-out.

"All Aboard" is an adaptation of the story of Matt Taylor, who contributed "Stepping Along" to the comedian for his last vehicle. In brief, it depicts Johnny as a forgetful young man who works as a shoe salesman and eventually loses his job because of his continual absent-mindedness. Fortune smiles on him, however, and he finds another position as a tour conductor with the responsible duties of taking a party of tourists across the Atlantic and into the Algerian desert.

The tour is declared to be a hilarious laugh cruise from start to finish, with a number of thrills thrown in for good measure when Johnny rescues the girl from an amorous sheik. More thrills come in the sheik's stronghold when the comedian finds himself face to face with a huge lion. Indeed, animals play a big part in the comedian's picture, including his famous parrot, Loretta, a herd of camels, donkeys, sheep, goats, and so on.

Johnny Hines marked his return to the west coast for picture production after an absence of a few years by assembling a veritable galaxy of comedians to surround him in his comedy. Edna Murphy has the leading feminine role.

Dear Friends:

I think I'm going to like this ad writing job. I've been reading up on the thing this last week.

As I understand it, the idea is to get people to come in and buy your goods. That's the way the boss understands it, too.

Which ought to be easy.

I can't see how anybody can come in here without buying something.

Just for instance:

If you were going to have a party you would want invitations, or possibly correspondence cards, crepe paper for trimmings, nut cups, table covers, birthday candles, napkins, tally cards, score cards, place cards, and for prizes. Our gift line comprises an endless number of articles to select from.

I know this isn't the way to write an ad, but I had to make a start of some kind.
