

Rotarians Visit House of Correction Farm

CAPTAIN DENNISTON ENTERTAINS MEMBERS OF LOCAL CLUB AT LUNCHEON.

Last Friday the Rotary club was the guest of Captain Denniston, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, at a 12:30 dinner.

The club was then taken on a tour of inspection through the canning factory, administration building and cottages in the new women's prison.

In the other types of prisons in which all inmates, regardless of their experience in crime, were housed together it was often the case that a prisoner sentenced for the first and minor offense learned the devices of crime from those who were more experienced and with whom they were in constant contact in the prison.

This new idea which is sponsored at the House of Correction farm is probably one of the most forward steps in modern penology.

Plymouth Girl On Debate Squad

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 26.—Miss Josephine Schmidt, 643 Harvey street, Plymouth, has just been appointed a member of the women's international debate squad of Western State Teachers' college.

The three debaters on the British team are students, respectively, from Oxford, Cambridge and London universities. They will support the affirmative question, "Resolved: that the popular reading of psychology is undermining morality."

Other members of the Western State debate squad are: Clara Rook, Battle Creek; Sarajane Lintinger, Flint; Margaret Clark, Paw Paw; Viola Sebald, Mt. Clemens; Marian Lamphere, Grand Lodge; Viola Ribe, Muskegon Heights.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY A. BRIGGS.

Mrs. Mary A. Briggs, for many years a resident of Plymouth, passed away at an early hour Tuesday morning, October 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durham, where she had been making her home for some time.

The funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Walter Nichol, of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Ida Mae Bennett, daughter of Mrs. Maude Bennett of this place, was married October 13th last to John B. Harrison at Des Moines, Iowa.

PLYMOUTH HIGH AGAIN MEMBER OF DEBATING LEAGUE

PLYMOUTH HIGH WILL COMPETE FOR INTER-SCHOLASTIC DEBATE CHAMPIONSHIP OF STATE.

Plymouth High school has become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League this year and will compete for the interscholastic debate championship of the state, according to an announcement by Professor G. E. Densmore, of the University of Michigan, manager of the league.

The first step in the forensic race for state honors will be taken on November 16, when the local high school debating team, coached by J. D. Pordine, of the high school faculty, will meet one of the neighboring schools, to be announced later by the University, in a debate on the subject: "Resolved, That a Federal Subsidy for the Development of an American Merchant Marine Would Be a Wise National Policy."

Three other state-wide debates on December 7, January 11 and January 25, will constitute the four preliminary debates in which all schools will participate in order to compete for entrance in the elimination series of debates which begin on February 15.

Only the sixty-four schools with the highest percentage of victories will be entered in this elimination series and each of these sixty-four schools will receive the University of Michigan wall plaque trophy through the cooperation of the Detroit Free Press.

This trophy is in the shape of a shield, the design of which was taken from the well-known University of Michigan shield. Its base is of American walnut, 17 inches in height and 15 inches across the top, and the shield, super-imposed upon the shield, is 9 inches in diameter, three-eighths of an inch thick, and is cast in solid bronze with all lettering artistically embossed.

While the elimination series, beginning on February 15, is in progress the sixty-four schools will debate among themselves, with the defeated schools dropping out after each debate until only two undefeated schools remain. These two schools will be taken to Ann Arbor, at the expense of the university, for the state championship debate on April 28.

This year for the first time the University of Michigan Extension Division will recognize the success attained by the two semi-final schools by presenting each with a bronze trophy cup properly engraved.

A large number of high schools from all parts of the state have already joined the league, and it is expected that by October 20, the date when the league enrollment closes, the membership for the year will surpass last year's record membership of 244 schools.

Any four-year high school in the state may become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League by applying for membership to Professor G. E. Densmore, manager, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The Michigan High School Debating League, the largest forensic organization of its kind in the United States, was organized by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan in 1917 with a membership of sixty-four schools, which has steadily grown to the membership of 244 schools of last year. With this largest enrollment in the history of the league, 1,200 high school debaters participating in 600 debates, which were heard by 125,000 people of the state. The final state championship debate of last year, held in 1918 auditorium in Ann Arbor, where Royal Oak High school defeated Zeeland High school, was attended by 4,000 people, which is the largest audience ever to attend a debate in this state.

ANOTHER DINNER-DANCE AT THE MAYFLOWER.

R. J. Lorez, manager of the Hotel Mayflower, announces another dinner-dance at the hotel for Saturday evening, October 27. Finest's Rose Garden orchestra will furnish the music.

Woman's Club Held Interesting Meeting

MRS. LLOYD WALKER, OF DETROIT, ENTERTAINS WITH MUSICAL SELECTIONS.

A meeting of the Woman's club was held Friday, Oct. 19, at the Hotel Mayflower, with the president, Mrs. D. W. McKinnon, presiding.

After the usual routine of business had been disposed of the meeting was turned over to Mrs. B. R. Gilbert, who, in the absence of Miss Athalie Hough, acted as leader of Division II.

Mrs. Lloyd Walker, of Detroit, entertained the club with two piano solos, "Improvisation," by McDowell, and "Humoresque," by Macmillanoff. A book review, "New Shoes," from the immigrant's point of view, was prepared by Miss Athalie Hough and given by Mrs. W. H. Baker.

This is a subject which should be of interest to all, for our country is becoming so thickly populated with those from other lands. There are now in the U. S. about 4,618,000 foreign born or first generation descendants. The majority of these are farmers and nearly all become readily Americanized in the second generation except Lithuanians, Japs and Chinese.

"Ellis Island" was the title of the paper prepared by Mrs. B. R. Gilbert. An interesting picture of Ellis Island, which really consist of three islands, located in the upper part of New York harbor, was given. Since 1890, when the U. S. assumed entire control of immigration, many laws regarding this important question have been passed.

The meeting closed with two solos by Richard Valentine, singing in his usual delightful manner, with Miss Gladys Schraeder accompanist. He chose "Better Hand" and "Of Thee I Am Thinking, Marguerita."

Fatal Automobile Accident Last Friday

An automobile accident which resulted fatally for one and seriously injured another occurred in front of the Earl Mastie garage on Ann Arbor road last Friday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock.

A car driven by Harley Sallow, son of Fred Sallow, of this place, was about to turn into the garage, when a car driven by Victor Brown, Ann Arbor, going east, collided with the car driven by young Sallow. There were three passengers in the Brown car and one of these, Miss Helen Maleway, of Detroit, was seriously injured that she died shortly after her removal to the University hospital.

Harley Sallow suffered an injured spine and received some bad cuts. He was taken to the University hospital, where he is doing as well as could be expected.

ANNUAL REPORT A CREDIT TO TRAINING SCHOOL.

The Mail office has received a copy of the second annual report of the administrative board of the Wayne County Training School to the Board of Supervisors of Wayne county. It is a very comprehensive report of the year's activities at the school. The report says the present population of the school is three hundred and five boys and one hundred and ninety-nine girls, a total of five hundred and four. The book was printed in the printing department at the school and the work was done by the boys receiving training in this department and is a splendid piece of printing that would be a credit to any print shop.

PURITY MARKET WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY.

The Plymouth Purity Market has a large ad in today's Mail in which they announce an anniversary sale for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26-27. This market was established here in Plymouth just one year ago by David Galea, and during that time Mr. Galea has built up a splendid patronage. To properly celebrate the event, the Purity Market is quoting some exceptionally low prices on quality meats for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26-27. Be sure and read the ad.

AMERICAN RED CROSS ENROLLMENT CAMPAIGN

Annual Campaign Opens in Plymouth Monday, October 29, and Continues During the Week.

Booths Will Be Established, in Charge of Workers, in Usual Places to Carry on Enrollment.

The annual Red Cross membership enrollment campaign in Plymouth will commence Monday, October 29, and will continue for the balance of the week.

Booths in charge of workers will be established in the Plymouth United Savings bank, the First National bank, the branch of the Plymouth United Savings bank, and in the Hotel Mayflower. The booths will be open from 8:30 a. m. until 5:00 p. m.

It is to be earnestly hoped that there will be a most generous and prompt response on the part of our citizens in renewing their memberships in this great organization, which is doing so much for humanity, in the few days that has been allotted to the local campaign. The membership dues are $1.00, of which 50 cents goes to the National Red Cross and the remaining 50 cents goes to carry on the Red Cross work in Plymouth.

The following ladies, under the leadership of Mrs. C. H. Bennett as general chairman, have volunteered to act as chairmen for the local campaign, they to select their own assistants: Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. C. H. Buzzard, Mrs. R. E. Champe, Mrs. H. S. Doerr, Mrs. Albert Gayde, Mrs. F. W. Hillman, Mrs. D. W. McKinnon, Mrs. Robert Mimmack, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. Florence Webber, Mrs. George Bentley, Mrs. Isaac Gmussly will have charge of the work at Newburg.

We publish the following letter received by Mrs. C. H. Bennett from H. L. Gaddis, executive secretary of the Detroit chapter:

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 22, 1928. Mrs. Charles H. Bennett, Plymouth, Michigan:

We are glad to learn that you and your capable chairman have started your organization for the "Red Cross Bell Call." Red Cross is eager to gain a goal of five million members this year, because the increasing demands of national disasters make it imperative that the resources be maintained. The chapter officers make their appeal to a people who have repeatedly expressed their trust in Red Cross. They contributed four million to its two war funds, eleven million for Japanese earthquake relief, and in the past three years they have given thirty million for the relief of disasters. For the Mississippi valley alone they gave seventeen million to the relief fund.

Red Cross has every reason to go forth with confidence in its appeal for five million members. When people understand that in addition to the great relief tasks which we all know of, that Red Cross spent $600,000 of its reserve funds last year entirely aside from the contributions restricted to specified disasters, on seventy-seven disasters which attracted little public notice, then they can see why it is required to increase the number of memberships.

Please make it clear to your subscribers that all that ever is used for work outside of your community is fifty cents on each membership—not fifty cents of each dollar. This is so often misunderstood. If a member subscribes $1.00, $7.00 or $1.00, in each case everything above fifty cents remains for the use of work in Plymouth, and the fifty cents is for the work of the national organization. We wish you all success and feel confident that Plymouth will do its full share toward the Red Cross goal of five million members for 1928.

Yours sincerely, Wayne County Chapter, H. L. Gaddis, Executive Sec'y.

During the last fiscal year the American Red Cross rendered aid in 22 foreign disasters. In these over 650,000 people were assisted with clothing, food, shelter and medical aid. $15,000 was spent by the national organization for relief of flood victims at Leichensten, Switzerland, Sept. 25, 1927.

In March, 1928, the national organization gave $10,000 to help sufferers from the frightful landslide at Mt. Serrat, Brazil.

$5,000 from national funds were used during December, 1927, to relieve suffering in a famine in Northern Albania.

Victims of the April, 1928, earthquake in Bulgaria received $36,983.40 from headquarters.

$2,500 was spent by the national organization for relief after a fire at Manila, Philippine Islands.

Refugee relief in Russia was assisted by $20,000 of the national funds. The organization aided 1,900 persons after the April, 1928, earthquake in Greece and expended $5,020. The American Red Cross continued to support the world-wide work of the League of Red Cross societies. The purpose of the league is to promote the establishment of Red Cross organizations in all countries, and to encourage the development of those already existing.

The American Junior Red Cross continued to support various foreign projects, among these the Albanian Vocational school, where we spent $19,983.61 during the year ended June 30, 1928.

House Furnishing For Wayne County Women

Adding beauty to the old is the theme of the home furnishing course to be given in Wayne County this year.

After consulting the women in the home demonstration groups of the county, Miss Lois Corbett, Home Demonstration Agent, has selected the course from the Michigan State College Extension Service for the coming year. Miss Freda Gilmore, Home Furnishing Specialist, from the College will spend a day each month teaching the course to local leaders who in turn will take the work back to their local groups. Miss Corbett will explain in detail and help the different groups in their organization, will help the leaders with their teaching problems throughout the year and will be able to help the women enrolled with their special problems in home furnishing.

As last year, emphasis will be placed on the making of the most of the things already at hand. This project, "Adding Beauty to the Old," deals with four important factors that go to make a home into a home with little expenditure of money. And is not every homemaker's ideal and goal a lovely home which her family can really enjoy and look forward to coming to?

How important it is that the furniture takes its proper place in the scheme of the furnishings! It attracts too much attention by its upholstery the entire effect of the house can be upset. During the first meeting the women will study the problems encountered when selecting a piece of upholstery, the kinds of upholstery material available and their wearing qualities. It is fascinating to find all the different, very inexpensive, materials on the market that will make few chairs or couches out of old ones.

Is every piece of furniture lovely in line? Do the colors harmonize with all those in the room? Perhaps the problem is an ugly piece of furniture which must be covered before the room can be a happy, harmonious one. During the second meeting the women will study the making of slip covers.

Do the lights give charm, beauty and comfort to the room? Do they seem to welcome guests? If not, what can be done to improve them? Do the lampshades seem to belong to the lamp? These and many more are the problems taken up at the third meeting.

The accessories, the little decorative things of the home, add interest, beauty and character to it, as well as express the personalities of the homemakers. What kinds of pottery will serve as decorative notes? When are candlesticks and candles of good design? How can some of the pillows which are truly lovely in design be made? These are a few of the problems taken up at the fourth and last meeting.

ANNUAL GRANGE BAZAAR AND SUPPER.

The Plymouth Grange will hold their annual bazaar and supper at their hall on Friday, Nov. 2. A splendid chicken dinner, with all the fixin's, will be served at popular prices. There will be all of the usual articles found for sale at the bazaar, with several special features. Don't miss attending the bazaar and supper, because it's going to be one of the events of the season.

Kiwanis Club Hears About Safety Patrols

MILES BRISTOL, OF DETROIT AUTOMOBILE CLUB, GIVES VERY INTERESTING TALK ABOUT HIS WORK.

Miles Bristol, organizer of the school safety patrols in the public schools representing the Safety and Traffic Division of the Detroit Automobile Club, appeared before the Plymouth Kiwanis Club at its luncheon Tuesday and gave some very interesting facts concerning the safety clubs and school patrols that have been organized in Michigan schools this year and told of the interest that school children, teachers, principals and superintendents are taking in promoting safety.

There are in the schools of southern Michigan in the three lower tiers of counties comprising the district of the Detroit Automobile Club and its branches, more than 6,000 boys and girls of acknowledged leadership who are charged with the responsibility of safeguarding street intersections in the vicinity of schools. It is no part of their duties to try to control traffic. What the patrol leaders do, is to line up the children and keep them in order at the curb until it is safe for them to pass over the street. And also these leaders have some supervision over playgrounds and disburse children from playing in the street and to exercise care in using playground equipment. The safety clubs are composed of younger children who enroll by pledge card to observe the safety rules of the school and to be careful at all times. Lessons in safety augment their regular studies in the grades and discussions of safety topics are designed to constantly impress the child with the idea of being safe.

There are nearly 75,000 school children enrolled in the safety clubs in Michigan's lower counties at the present time, said Mr. Bristol. "It is apparent that children themselves are helping to solve a big problem."

"Beverly's Balance," A Three Act Comedy

Will be given at the Penniman Allen theatre Friday evening, Nov. 2, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of Plymouth chapter, O. E. S.

"Beverly's Balance" is, first of all, laughable throughout. It is light, wholesome, clean and delightful, even if most of the story is about a co-respondent, because that co-respondent is Beverly Dinwiddie, an eminently respectable and level-headed Virginia girl, who has come to New York to earn her living and in utter desperation has been forced to accept this position, purely as a business proposition. Beverly acquires herself in a most decorous manner throughout, and in the end brings the silly couple together again, convincing them that they love each other too much to separate. Beverly has her own little love affair with Walt and also brings that to a happy conclusion.

The cast of characters is as follows: Walt Dinwiddie Jack Taylor Murphy Calvin Whipple Mrs. Maria Randolph Ruth Bangin Beverly Dinwiddie Fernie Block J. Courtland Redlaw Seth Virgo Mrs. Redlaw Wilma Briggs Mrs. Insky Ruth West Sears Lynn Felton Dierke Perry Hildebrand Reserve the date, Nov. 2, and buy your tickets early.

JEAN BARRY REVUE AT LOCAL THEATRE.

The Penniman Allen theatre announces another special attraction for Sunday and Monday, Oct. 28-29. It is the Jean Barry Revue, a musical comedy novelty, with five girls in a singing and dancing act. The feature picture is Olive Brook and Mary Brian in "Forgotten Faces." No advance in prices.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS.

The Plymouth League of Women Voters will hold its October meeting Friday, October 26, at the Hotel Mayflower at 2 o'clock.

This is to be a candidates' meeting, with Senator Seth Pulver, of Detroit, giving a Republican speech to balance the Democratic talk given by Mrs. Jobs at the September meeting. Other speakers will be Mr. Chenot, candidate for prosecuting attorney, and Mr. Fisher, of Dearborn.

Miss Lina Durfee will conduct a voters' instruction booth for those who want to know about the form, marking and folding of ballots. Copies of the State Bulletin on candidates will be on sale, 5c per copy.

Election day is only ten days away, so come to the league meeting Friday, October 26.

MANY BIDDERS FOR VILLAGE BONDS

VILLAGE SELLS $164,000 OF SEWER AND PAVING BONDS.

At a meeting of the Village commission held Monday evening bids were received and opened for the purchase of $164,000 of special assessment bonds for sewer and paving bonds of the village, these bonds being issued to cover the cost of drains and pavements installed in the village the last summer. Ten proposals were received from eight different bidders. The bonds were awarded to the Detroit and Security Trust Co. of Detroit, upon the basis of their bid of four per cent interest to date of delivery of bonds at a rate of 4 1/2 per cent, and a premium of $23.00, the village to assume the expense of printing the bonds.

The interest of bond purchasing notices in the bonds of the village, as indicated by the number of bids received, and the low interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent secured upon this issue, speaks well for the credit of the village with bond purchasers.

Following is an analysis and summary of the bids received: Detroit and Security Trust Co., Detroit, rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $23.00; net interest charges, $39,228.75.

Stranahan, Harris & Oatis, Detroit, $75,000 at 4 1/2 per cent; $80,000 at 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $17,000; net interest charges, $29,630.50.

Bram, Bosworth & Co., Detroit, $75,000 at 4 1/2 per cent; $80,000 at 4 1/2 per cent; premium, none; net interest charges, $39,777.50.

Stranahan, Harris & Oatis, Detroit, rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $1,295.00; net interest charges, $39,981.90.

First National Co., Detroit, $45,000 at 4 1/2 per cent, $19,000 at 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $12,000; net interest charges, $40,623.00.

Bank of Detroit, Detroit, rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $869.20; net interest charges, $40,408.30.

Union Trust Co., Detroit, rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $852.80; net interest charges, $40,424.70.

Guardian Detroit Co., Detroit, rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $525.00; net interest charges, $40,750.50.

First National Co., Detroit, rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $525.00; net interest charges, $40,752.50.

Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent; premium, $515.00; net interest charges, $40,762.50.

*Village to meet expense of printing bonds.

PLYMOUTH HOCKEY CLUB MAKE GOOD SHOWING.

Russell Ito, manager of the Plymouth hockey club, is being warmly congratulated on the showing his boys made in their second game last Wednesday at the Detroit Olympia last Sunday morning.

The game started with a bang from the first bell and was fast and furious throughout, proving to the many fans present that hockey still ranks as the fastest game in existence. As the score was tied at the end of the last period, two minutes of overtime was allowed. Plymouth scoring a goal in the last minute of play, making the final score 4-3 in favor of Plymouth. The boys feel that this was a decided victory, as the Dearborn team is hard to beat, having won most of their games last year. Lineup—Goal, Adleson; defense, Quirk and Rutherford; forwards, MacDonald and Clark; center, Dobbs. Substitutes—Garlett, Douglas, Arnold, Farwell. There will be no game this Sunday, but watch for future announcements.

"ROSETIME" A GREAT SUCCESS.

The musical comedy, "Rosetime," which was given by the Alumni association at the High school auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday evenings under the direction of Miss Esther Arthur, was a first well attended on both evenings and scored a splendid success in every particular. Each member of the cast did their parts in a very pleasing manner and are deserving of much credit for their efforts. The chorus numbers were especially good and came in for most generous applause. The High School orchestra rendered several selections during the performance that added much to the pleasure of the evening. Richard Valentine favored the audience with a vocal solo and responded to an encore in his usual pleasing manner. Miss Gladys Schraeder accompanied at the piano.

Miss Margaret Wood and Miss Elizabeth Strong were the accompanists for the musical numbers given during the play.

THE SNEEZING SEASON

We're again at the season of rapidly changing temperatures and the Plymouth citizen who boasts that he hasn't yet acquired a cold had better "knock on wood." It's the worst time of year for sneezing and coughing, and when pocket handkerchiefs prove a blessing to mankind.

Although serious epidemics are not as common as they once were, back in the days of our grandfathers, there is still good reason for safe-guarding one's health at this time of year. Especially should the children of school age be warned against dangers arising from common colds. In its first stages, a cold is not dangerous, but when allowed to run on without attention any number of fatal ailments may result or the victim's health may be impaired for life through a resultant attack of lung trouble. Children play in the open, their blood becomes heated to a high degree, and they sit for hours in a draft. Unless forewarned, they are almost certain to catch a cold from which can spring pneumonia or diphtheria.

There is no end to the "remedies" and "cures" for a bad cold. Every family has its own favorite prescription for such an ailment. But none are so good as the old proverbial "ounce of prevention." Tell the children in advance of the seriousness of catching cold. Then encourage them to play safe by studying and dressing in such a way as to avoid catching one.

IMPATIENT DRIVERS

One of the most outstanding facts about auto driving is the excited, nervous and impatient way a lot of people drive. You will often see a man tearing through the street, and then suddenly turning in somewhere to park his car, after which he doesn't seem to be in any particular hurry. No reason will often appear why he was in such haste. Yet he made people jump, and forced other drivers to give the right-of-way that fairly belongs to them. It is a difficult thing to control, because the number of impatient drivers is very large. If there was a general disposition heavy penalties for such driving there would be a powerful protest. But the time will come when our people will see the folly, and the danger, of allowing such driving, and they will take steps to put a stop to it. No man is warranted in getting into such a hurry that he has to endanger the lives of his fellow-men.

LOSING AN OLD FRIEND.

Most everyone around Plymouth recalls the poem of boyhood starting "Under the spreading chestnut tree the village smithy stands." And most everyone knows that the smithy has about disappeared with the coming of the auto. Few realize, however, that the chestnut tree is also fast disappearing. A steady drop in the chestnut crop each year has made Uncle Sam take notice, and he has found that a strange tree disease, caused by an insect of foreign origin, has been steadily destroying chestnut trees all over the country for at least 15 years. So slowly has been the work of destruction that few have noticed it. But now, with fewer chestnuts being harvested than ever before, it is apparent that it has been widespread. And thus are we being robbed of still another institution that for long years has been pretty closely linked with boyhood joys—the chestnut tree.

THE NEWEST FAKE

The craze for "that schoolgirl figure" among stout women of all ages has reached a point where three departments of the government—the Federal Trade Commission, the Postoffice and the Agricultural Department—have united to stamp out numerous get-rich-quick concerns and their fraudulent anti-fat remedies. The Division of Drugs in the Department of Agriculture has analyzed more than forty brands of these "reducers" and not one of them has been found to be either safe or effective. They say the country is full of fake anti-fat remedies and dieting schemes and the woman who values her health will take warning and be contented accordingly. We once heard a Plymouth citizen offer what we believe is the best method on earth of dieting, so we print it here in the hope of saving some of our readers from the fakers. It is: "Put your hands on the table and push back."

Sure Way to Stop Coughing

THIS PRESCRIPTION RELIEVES ALMOST INSTANTLY.

Coughing is usually due to causes which patent medicines and cough syrups do not reach. However, Thorfin, a famous doctor's prescription relieves coughing with the very first swallow. It works on an entirely different theory, has a double action, relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause.

Unlike most cough medicines, Thorfin contains no chloroform, dope, or other harmful drugs. Safe for the whole family. Also excellent for sore throat. Quick relief guaranteed or your money back. 85c, 90c, and $1.00. Sold by Dodge's and all other good drug stores.

NEW SYSTEM OF WATER COLLECTIONS IN EFFECT.

As a means of systematizing to a greater degree the work involved in collecting water rates through the distribution of collections throughout the three months of each quarter, the village is putting into effect a new system of collections, beginning with the present quarter. The village is being divided into three zones, numbered one to three, respectively, and meter readings are to be taken and bills rendered to fall due during each of the three months of the quarter. Thus, water consumers in the first zone, comprising the territory south of Tonquish creek and Ann Arbor street, are now having meters read and a one month's bill will be rendered during October. In this district the bills will fall due in October, January, April and July. Zone two embraces the territory north of Tonquish creek and Ann Arbor street, and west and south of the P. M. railway right of way. Bills for this district will fall due in November, February, May and August. The third zone includes all of that part of the village lying east of the P. M. railway right of way, the bills for which will continue to fall due as at present.

The new plan will avoid the piling up of work in the village offices, resulting from water bills all falling due at the same time in each quarter. It also will result in more prompt reading of meters and mailing of water bills, thus making for much better service to water consumers in the handling of their water bills.

OBITUARY

Arnold August Procknow, infant son of Fred and Ida Procknow, was born at Plymouth, April 25th, 1927. On June 19th he received the Sacrament of Holy Baptism. Early this spring he took sick and after an illness of about three and a half months at Ann Arbor hospital, passed away on Friday, October 19th, at the age of 1 year, 5 months, and 24 days. He leaves to mourn their loss his father, Fred Procknow; grandfather, Ferdinand Stabenau; two brothers, Clarence and Fred; five sisters, Gertrude, Francis, Gladys, Dorothy, and Virginia, and other relatives and friends.

He was laid to rest from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home Monday, October 22nd, just one week after the burial of his mother, with interment at Riverside cemetery, Rev. O. J. Peters, of Wayne, officiating.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES.

The musicale and entertainment given at the church last Friday evening was a splendid success. Before time for the entertainment to begin every seat was taken and fifty extra chairs were brought in, and at least fifty people were unable to get a seat. There were thirty-two Negroes who took part. All showed splendid training. Proceeds of the evening were $18.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 31, there will be a "black cat" social given at the church. Each lady is requested to bring a box with lunch for two. Inside of this box please write your name and wrap the box with a newspaper. These boxes will be sold for 75 cents each and will contain supper for two. There will also be music and games and an old-fashioned Halloween party. Everybody invited. Hot coffee will be served.
Bazaar and chicken supper Wednesday evening, Dec. 12.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the children.
Next Sunday is a holy day of obligation—the Feast of All Saints. Masses are at 6 and 7:30. Friday of next week is All Saints day—a day on which all the faithful remember the departed relatives and friends—a truly Christian memorial day.
Masses will be offered up at 6, 7, 7:30. The last mass will be a requiem high mass offered up for all the departed relatives, friends and benefactors. The souls' envelopes will be given out Sunday and are to be returned before the high mass Friday.
The young people have again started their meetings on Monday night and extend a cordial invitation to all the young folks. A complete program is being worked out for the social events of the winter and spring. Watch these columns for further announcements.

The pastor attended the funeral services of George Chapman at Jackson last Tuesday. Mr. Chapman is the father of the Rev. Leo Chapman, of Detroit. The pastor likewise attended the funeral of Mr. G. Cook, the father of Rev. J. Cook, of Detroit.
A large reception will be held in the school auditorium next Sunday night at Ann Arbor, welcoming his new pastor, the Rev. T. Carey.
The sick list is made up of Mesdames A. Fleiger, T. Hamilton, E. King.

Wednesday, Oct. 31, is a fast and abstinence day—the vigil of all saints. The Rev. J. McCabe and L. Gaffney were callers at the rectory this week.

BAPTIST NOTES

"Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against Thee." The study on Wednesday evening of Paul's joy in Christ, as given in the book of Philipians, is creating much interest.

Mr. Allenbaugh's class of boys enjoyed the social at the church last Friday evening. There were 15 present.

Rally day for the Sunday school will be held Nov. 4. A special program is being arranged.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

A harvest home festival and service of thanksgiving will be held at St. John's church on Monday, Oct. 28, at 10 a. m. Offerings of food, such as jellies, fruits, vegetables and canned goods, may be brought to this service and deposited near the door. Children may bring their offerings to the church school. These gifts will be taken to Williams House, of which we heard such a splendid account at our recent parish supper. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these."
A Halloween party, for the entire parish will be given on Wednesday night, Oct. 31, at 7:30 o'clock. A masquerade, games for all refreshments. Come and bring a friend.
It should not be forgotten that Halloween has a religious origin. It is the eve of All Hallows, or All Saints day. Thursday, Nov. 1 is the feast of All Saints; there will be no special service that day. However, the holy communion will be offered on the Sunday following as a memorial for the souls of all the faithful departed. All Saints is the church's memorial day.

Next Sunday morning Dr. John Martin, of Ann Arbor, our district superintendent, will give the annual home missionary thank offering address. It is hoped there will be a large number out to hear this most interesting speaker. The thank offering goes to help pay the salaries of the teachers in our home missionary schools.

Every family in the church is urged to attend our church training night on Wednesday at 6:30 o'clock, when a co-operative supper is served, followed by classes in missions and Bible study. There is also a class for the children. Come and join our happy family.
Fourteen of our women went to Northville on Tuesday to a Home Missionary group meeting, held at the Methodist church. Several district officers were present, who told of the work of our great society and of the goals aimed at this year. The Northville ladies served a fine luncheon at noon.

With Halloween just in the offing, the classes are enjoying the usual social gatherings. Mrs. Charles O. Ball entertained her class at her home on North Harvey street on Thursday evening.
Mrs. Kaiser's class has been having a contest between chosen sides, and Friday evening the church dining room will be merry with the combined joy and enthusiasm of that class when losers entertain the winners in a social hour.
The women of the congregation are bending their efforts toward making the annual bazaar a greater success than ever. The date set is Nov. 22.

HOMES HOMEBUILDERS

Are you thinking of building? Are you considering a house or a HOME? A house may be a shell, consisting of walls, floors and a roof, which represents only shelter and privacy without offering the owner any of the comforts of a home. The A-A-HOME is the result of thoughtful and careful planning and brings to you a house that represents all that the word HOME means in its truest sense.

The Graf Zeppelin

Now that the Graf Zeppelin has arrived another major step has been made in man's fight to span the Atlantic Ocean. Despite rough weather and injuries to the Zeppelin, it came through nobly. Again the world is advanced a thousand years within less than the space of a week.

This is the ninth successful skirmish in man's battle with the Atlantic. On October 12, 1492, Columbus made the first voyage from Europe to America.

In 1878 the first submarine cable between the new and old worlds was laid by the Atlantic Telegraph Co., headed by Cyrus Curtis.

In 1901 the first wireless message was sent across the Atlantic.

The first transatlantic telephone message service was completed January 7, 1927, between London and New York.

The first picture was wireless from New York to London in 1924.

Three United States Navy boats flew from Newfoundland to Lisbon via the Azores, starting May 8, 1919.

The first airship crossed the Atlantic in the British dirigible R-34, in 1919, from East Fortune, Scotland, to Mineola, New York.

The first steamship to make the trip was the Britannia, built by Samuel Cunard, which sailed in 14 days from Bristol to New York in 1840.

Now comes the Graf Zeppelin, the first passenger dirigible to cross the Atlantic.

Thus the world progresses.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Amy A. Millard, who passed away October 23, 1916. Every day our hearts do wander to that grave not far away. Where we laid our dearest mother till the resurrection morn.

It may think we have forgotten the twelve long years that's passed, but her memory is as sweet today as the hour she passed away.

Her loving daughters,

CARD OF APPRECIATION

I wish to thank all friends and neighbors and to extend my deep appreciation of expressions of sympathy and regret received during my illness to members in the offices of the Dairy Manufacturing Co., members of Congregation of St. John's Episcopal Church, Brothers of Plymouth Rock Lodge F. & A. M., Companions of the Royal Arch Masons, Sir Knights of No. 20 Commandery of Knights Templar. Such expressions are deeply valued.
Arthur J. E. Torre.

A CARD—We wish to express our very grateful thanks to our kind friends and neighbors for their many kind acts and beautiful flowers, also for the comforting words of Rev. Strasen given to us during our very great bereavement, and also for the singing in the loss of our darling baby, Virginia.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett.

A CARD—We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness that were extended to us during our recent bereavement, especially do we wish to thank the railroad employes for the flowers and their kindness.
John Milliman and family.

OBITUARY.

The deceased, Agnes Marie Milliman, nee Lippert, was born in Sandy Creek, Monroe county, Michigan, August 19, 1864, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lippert. There in the Lutheran church she was baptized; later on instructed in the word of God and confirmed. In the fall of the year 1888 she was united in marriage with John Milliman and lived with him in Plymouth county and later on here in Plymouth. This marriage was blessed with fifteen children, thirteen yet living, six boys and seven girls. Mrs. Milliman had been complaining of heart trouble for several years and this brought her life to an end Monday morning, Oct. 22. She attained the age of 61 years, two months and three days, and leaves to mourn their loss the husband, thirteen children and seventeen grandchildren, also three sisters.

The funeral services were held from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment was at Riverside cemetery.

The Canton Community club will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hank Wednesday evening, Oct. 31.

Picked Up About Town

A South Carolina man converted an antiquated flyver into a still. Which probably means it will keep right on killing people.

Had Plymouth says the early bird gets the worm, but he usually gets it for some old bird who doesn't come to work until about 9 a. m.

It's a jumpy campaign, and we predict that it will be more so before it is less so.

CAN'T TALK TO WIFE, TOO CROSS AND NERVOUS

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me, I was so cross and nervous. Vinol has made me a different and happy woman."—Mrs. N. McCall. Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Dodge's Drug Store.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received at the Village Council Chamber of Plymouth, Michigan, by the Village Clerk up to 7:30 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard time, of the fifth (5) day of November, 1928, for the construction of approximately 2,800 feet of storm sewers on South Kewey street, Plymouth, Michigan. The quantities and sizes are further itemized as follows: Approximately 320 feet of 36-inch, 700 feet of 30-inch, 1100 feet of 24-inch, 200 feet of 24-inch, 500 feet of 12-inch, together with manholes and other appurtenances.

The plans and specifications under which the work is to be done may be examined at the office of the Village Clerk. Copies of the Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the Engineer by making a deposit of ten dollars ($10.00), which will be refunded on their return in good condition within five days after the date of the letting.

A certified check for the sum of seven hundred dollars ($700.00) will be required with each proposal as evidence of good faith on the part of the bidder.

The right to accept any proposal to reject any and all proposals and the right to waive defects in proposals is reserved by the village. Adolph Koenig, Manager and Clerk, Village of Plymouth, Mich. Herald F. Hamill, Reg. C. E., Plymouth, Mich. 4812c

NEWBURG

There was a large turnout Sunday to hear Dr. Martin, district superintendent, preach. The sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered.

Next Sabbath will be Rally day in the Sunday school. Each class is to contribute two numbers toward the program. Everyone is urged to invite others to attend and take an interest in the Sunday school.

Quite a number were in attendance at the quarterly conference, held in the church in the afternoon.

Don't forget the L. A. S. fair and home-coming this Friday afternoon and evening. Supper will be served from 5:30 until all are served. Come and meet old friends and enjoy a chicken supper.

As Friday, Oct. 26, is the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Mackinder, they will be at home from 2 until 5 o'clock and will be glad to see their friends who would like to call on them.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, of Plymouth, took their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, to the new Fox theatre in Detroit last Wednesday to see the movie, "Four Sons," the occasion being their forty-eighth wedding anniversary.

Clarence and Margaret Clemens, Ruth Kidder, of Saline; Robert Prino and Hans Noack, of Ann Arbor, motored to Columbus to see the football game between Ohio State and Michigan last Saturday.

Mrs. Ella Wight and cousin, Mrs. Charles Cady, Mrs. Harry Barrett and Mrs. John Seymour and baby, of Wayne, called on Mr. and Mrs. William Smith Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. C. E. Ryder and daughters, Fay Grimm and Deulah Smith, visited Mrs. Mary Paddock and daughter, Florence, in Highland Park last Wednesday, Mrs. Ryder remaining until Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder called on Mrs. Rouben Barnes Sunday, finding her about as usual.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES.

By Harold Stevens.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades have begun a nature project. The third grade is working on leaves; the fourth on wood, and the fifth on insects.

All the rooms are planning on giving health organization reports for Miss Reed when she comes Wednesday.

The Misses Youngs visited our school Thursday morning and played Indian music and sang for us. We enjoyed it very much.

All the rooms are busy filling the Red Cross Christmas boxes which will be sent to children in Europe. They must be on their way soon.

Miss Reed will do the weighing and measuring of the boys and girls when she comes Wednesday.

Lester and Warren Bassett are staying out of school all this week. Junior Ryder was taken to the hospital today. We hope he will not need to be there long.

HANFORD P. T. A.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 17, the Hanford school held their third P. T. A. meeting of the year. Supper was served before the meeting, which was a Halloween supper.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Sadie Smart, and all joined in repeating the Lord's prayer, after which the program was turned over to the teacher, Miss Horton. Recitations by several girls and a drill by eight girls in Halloween dress, also a piano solo by Miss Powell, of Detroit, and a piano solo by Mr. Sarwell, of Detroit, also a piano duet by Miss Powell and Mr. Sarwell. Then all assisted the teacher in playing games, which all enjoyed.

You will have a good time at the Halloween party at the Masonic temple Friday evening, October 26.

MUNICIPAL NOTES
BY THE MANAGER

The commission sold a $164,000 issue of storm sewer and paving bonds Monday evening to the Detroit and Security Trust Co. at a rate of 4 1/2 per cent, plus premium of $23. This low rate of interest will apply to all deferred installments of special assessments covering storm sewers and pavements installed the past summer.

A new dog ordinance will soon be upon the books of the village. This ordinance will have for its aim the control of all dogs running at large in the village and the elimination of all homeless dogs and those whose owners do not care enough about them to have them properly licensed and keep them under control.

By resolution of the commission Monday evening it was decided to extend 1928 storm sewer assessments over a period of five years and pavement assessments over a ten-year period.

Application was made by owners of Coventry Gardens subdivision, located at Farmington and Five Mile roads, for fire protection from the village of Plymouth. After some discussion the commission decided to provide this protection on the basis of $75.00 per call as a minimum rate and an hourly rate of $35.00 to apply where the time spent at a call justified a charge beyond the minimum rate.

In Italy it is now a felony to use profanity. But then, they probably haven't your brand of cigarette lighters over there.

A CARD—I wish to thank all of my friends and neighbors for the kindness shown me while at the hospital and since my return home. Everything has certainly been greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE

In the Matter of the Estate of VIOLA WESTFALL, Deceased.

We, the undersigned, having been appointed by the Probate Court for the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, Commissioner to receive, examine and adjust all claims and debts hereof, give notice that we will meet at the First National Bank, Plymouth, Mich., on Monday, the 17th day of December, A. LATEST OAKLAND CAR ON DISPLAY

SMITH MOTOR SALES, LOCAL DEALERS, ARE DISPLAYING THE NEW MODEL AT THEIR SHOWROOMS.

Completely new and original in appearance, with a host of advanced engineering features, the latest Oakland All-American Six went on display here today at the showrooms of Smith Motor Sales, local Oakland and Pontiac dealers.

Smarter, roomier than a year ago with bodies of distinctive design, and a chassis said to be the last word in Mechanical refinement, the latest All-American model bears only a passing resemblance to its famous predecessor—the first All-American Six brought out by the Oakland Motor Car Company a year ago.

Briefly, the new line offers a bigger, faster, more powerful engine; new Oakland type internal expanding 4-wheel brakes; most useful body creations by Fisher; new Duco color combinations; higher, larger cross flow radiator with grill front; adjustable driver's seat; chrome plated bumpers of new design; sturdy ten-spoke wheels; Lovejoy shock absorbers and spring covers as standard equipment; new steering gear; sturdier frame, and a host of other improvements that are destined to make the car a distinguished addition to the aristocratic motor car family of America.

Many months have been spent in developing the car to a point where it offers everything that a discriminating public has learned to expect in the way of style and performance. Every detail has been subjected to exhaustive tests that the car might represent the crowning achievement of twenty-two years of successful automobile building by the Oakland Motor Car Company.

Into the perfection of power plant and body lines have gone the pooled resources of Oakland and General Motors engineers, General Motors Research Laboratories, General Motors Proving Ground, and craftsmen of the Fisher Body organization. Many months have been spent developing and proving every detailed change to bring the finished product up to the rigid standards called for on the specification charts.

Already a million miles have been piled up by test cars on the General Motors Proving Ground. Although brand new to the public, it is a thoroughly seasoned product with the equivalent of many years of owner service already to its credit.

Seven passenger types comprise the line: sport roadster, sport phaeton, coupe, 2-door sedan, 4-door sedan, and a new landaulet sedan and convertible.

Artisans of the Fisher organization with Oakland engineers have achieved a new grace of body lines and a symmetry and proportion exclusive in the Oakland field. The new landaulet sedan, with its fabric covered rear quarter section which may be quickly raised or lowered, has an air of certain-built distinction.

The rear seats of all five passenger models are two inches wider this year to provide increased elbow room and to add to the comfort of passengers. This change has been effected without increasing the tread.

Closed bodies all have adjustable driver's seats, reveals around side windows set off by a narrow head, single belt moulding starting at radiator and completely encircling the body, smart side cowl ventilators, new type military sun visors, and hard-ware designed exclusively for Oakland. On individual body types are walnut finished door panels, Axminster carpet in tonneau, embossed leather smoking seats, package space, luggage room in rear deck and many other popular features adding to the luxury of the interiors.

A new instrument panel finished in black imparts a dignified touch to the front interior. Instruments are individually mounted on the dash and directly illuminated by two soft shielded lights. On the dash are an eighty-mile speedometer, gasoline gauge, oil gauge and ammeter mounted on a raised panel on the center of the board. On either side are the ignition lock and lighting switch button, and the check and throttle control buttons. The windshield wiper control and light switch buttons are below the speedometer. All instrument dials are black with white figures.

A striking new outside appearance is provided by the head-on view of the car. The chrome plated radiator has been raised so that the line from the base of the cowl to the new flat radiator cap appears practically level. The shell is high and narrow with an unbroken outside curve line. A new grill or radiator front lower effect, is of chevron design with a vertical chrome plated bar extending the full height of the front in the center of the grill.

The Oakland emblem has been redesigned this year in the form of a shield, red, white, and blue enamel, with a beaded edge and a 71-inch spread. Rear fender ends have been extended lower than the hub cap to assure increased protection and added beauty.

The newly fashioned hood has a chrome plated top hinge and vertical louvers in five groups of four, each on either side to achieve a swanger air. Parking lamps are mounted on a chrome plated cowl bar.

Small diameter wood wheels are standard equipment on all models. Ten heavy spokes, eight-inch flanges and large hub caps stamped with the new Oakland shield offer a picture in line with the current mode. The size remains at 20 by 5.50, oversize for Oakland weight.

A powerful new engine, offering flashing performance at every speed range, has been achieved by stepping up the cylinder displacement to 228 cubic inches as against 212 in the earlier model. This, in conjunction with other engine changes, results in a top speed of well over seventy miles an hour and quick acceleration of from ten to twenty-five miles an hour in high gear in six seconds flat.

Increased displacement was brought about by enlarging the cylinder bore from 3 1/4 inches to 3 3/8 inches. The improved engine develops 68 brake-horse power at 3,000 revolutions per minute.

A new and exclusive Oakland feature is the four-pole rubber engine mounting adopted on this model. By means of special rubber "discs" which insulate the engine from the frame, there is no metal-to-metal contact, a feature which eliminates noise and engine vibration.

Other features contributing to better performance are permanent mould type semi-seal pistons combining lightness with long wear; an improved oiling system to assure better lubrication of cylinder walls, piston and pins; larger oil pump which circulates 200 gallons of oil every sixty minutes at twenty-five miles an hour; larger carburetor and manifold; more rigidly supported transmission housing and latest improved M'Farlane cleaner consisting of a chamber filled with copper shavings dipped in oil.

Increased braking power with a minimum of pedal pressure is achieved by new Oakland designed brakes, of the mechanical four-wheel type, self-energizing, with internal expanding springs covers as standard equipment on all models. By the retention of spring grease, and the protection of springs from outside dirt and grit, the covers eliminate the necessity of oiling the leaves except at extremely long intervals.

Greater steering ease is achieved by an improved type steering gear in incorporating the worm and half-out principle. The new 18-inch steering wheel is of alloy finish with flat spokes and a small wood rim with convenient finger grips. Horn button and the cap on the shift lever also are black to harmonize with the instrument board.

The frame has been strengthened for increased ruggedness and safety. A heavy corrugated rear plate completely covers and protects the oval gas tank, which has been increased in size this year to fifteen gallons.

Running boards are of all metal construction of new design, with distinctive rubber armament, aluminum moulding on all edges. Lovejoy shock absorbers are standard equipment.

Among other refinements of the chassis are an improved universal joint; larger muffler; and new fender tie rods, front license supports and spare tire carrier.

Special sport equipment consists of six wire wheels is available for all models. Spares are carried in front fender wells and are provided with tire locks and chrome-plated hub caps bearing the Oakland emblem in colors.

The interior of all bodies is finished in pleasing harmony with the smart new exterior. Duco combinations. Heavy mohair upholstery material in plain colors is used for the interior of all closed types except the new convertible coupe, where trimming is of leather. The form-fitting cushions and backs are deep and luxurious.

The driver's seats on all closed bodies is quickly adjustable, forward or backward, by an easily operated control located at the side of the seat. A foot control conveniently opens or closes the smart side cowl ventilators.

All bodies are slightly wider also across the dash to make for increased comfort of passengers in the front compartment. The semi-coincidental transmission lock is retained this year, as is the theft-proof door lock which will not yield to the application of a wrench to the door handle.

Production on the new line is going forward as fast as precision manufacturing methods will permit. Cars are being shipped to dealers with the utmost dispatch so that they may have on hand models for prompt delivery.

The striking new beauty of this latest All-American, and the better stamina and performance built into the sturdier engine and improved chassis, lend substance to the confidence of Oakland officials that the car will prove the most successful Oakland brought out since the organization of the company more than twenty-two years ago.

BARRINGER METEOR BEING EXPLORED

Long Enshrouded in Mystery and Indian Fable.

Winslow, Ariz.—Mining operations are under way to explore and determine the actual content on the giant Barringer meteor of northern Arizona, greatest known meteor on earth and hitherto enshrouded in mystery and Indian fable.

The Barringer meteor, 22 miles from Winslow, created a crater a mile across and approximately 1,000 feet deep when it crashed to earth thousands of years ago.

It displaced over 300,000,000 tons of rock in the impact.

The crater thus created has been the center of scientific and geological interest for 50 years, and for the last 25 years various efforts have been made to reach the great shooting star itself and determine its content.

Named for Geologist. The work has been carried on principally by D. M. Barringer, Philadelphia geologist, for whom the meteor was named.

Barringer finally located the main body 1,375 feet from the south rim of the crater. Tests showed it to be approximately 400 feet in diameter and to contain 90 per cent meteoric iron, 7 per cent nickel, 2 ounces platinum and 1 ounce iridium per ton.

The main body is estimated to weigh 100,000,000 tons and the metal content to be worth approximately $50 per ton.

Age-old rumors that diamonds existed in the ore were disproved by the tests, which showed only so-called microscopic diamond points of no commercial value.

Actual mining operations just started are under the direction of Barringer and Quincy A. Shaw of Boston of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company. The enterprise is being conducted privately.

Contracts for erecting power plant and hoist machinery and sinking a two-compartment shaft have been let, and initial construction work is under way.

Thousands of dollars have been spent in past years in futile efforts to locate the great star and its estimated wealth of $500,000,000 of metals. The United States Mining, Smelting and Refining company, one of the largest corporations of its kind in the United States, gave up the attempt after spending over $100,000.

Largest Ever Found. Barringer, however, has stayed with the problem for over 25 years, and after expending his personal fortune finally located the great ore body with sufficient exactitude to bring to his aid the funds and engineering assistance of Eastern mining capital.

The attempt this time will proceed with more data and directness than any of its predecessors.

The most valuable mineral found in the diamond drill tests is iridium worth $275 an ounce.

The Barringer meteor is the largest of the only three Siderite meteors (containing ore) ever found on earth. The other two are the Cape York meteor, weighing 37 tons, discovered by Admiral Peary and now in the New York Museum of Natural History, and the Bacubirito meteor found near Bacubirito, Mex. Neither of the other two Siderites contained platinum or iridium.

You who are reading this are undoubtedly listed in this office and your card has a record for good or bad pay as was illustrated in the last two advertisements.

Bad news always travels fast, but in the case of Credit good news travels just as rapidly. The individual makes his own record.

The Bureau merely hands this record to the member merchant. Every retail house of consequence is a member. The Service Bureau is a great protection to the merchant, but is even a greater protection to the individual.

Few references of character could be better than one stating that a subject's credit is good anywhere. Then if he does ask for a piece of merchandise for which he cannot pay until the first of the coming month, he gets it.

You can fool your preacher, you can fool your wife—sometimes, but it's pretty difficult to fool the Service Bureaus of the United States. Like a diamond of the clearest water is a man's or woman's good credit rating.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE PIANO

If you were limited to one book you might want the dictionary. Some people would want the Bible. If you were limited to one piece of furniture in the house you chose should be the piano.

The piano is easily the most important instrument in the world.

It is the greatest common denominator of all musical instruments.

Most music that is written for an orchestra or a band, a saxophone or the human voice is reducible to a piano score, and usually is first composed on the piano.

There is no doubt about music being the most cultural of studies. It connotes rhythm and harmony, two things that are essential in all departments of human activity. Rhythm is necessary even in the motion pictures, and you must have a sense of harmony if you are going to be an orator, a painter or a sculptor.

The piano is the best door to the knowledge of music. Almost everybody enters into the field of music by that door.

The piano is the heart of the home. About it naturally groups all the family. A silent house is essentially a desolate one.

The piano is the life of every social gathering.

If anyone can play the piano, even manage solo with accompaniments, a group gathers around him and the house is enlivened by the voices of the young, or partners are chosen for dancing.

Almost every child can learn music if he is taught young enough. Modern methods of instruction are so simple that even the dullest can understand.

It is a deprivation for any child not to know the piano.

It is the best form of self-expression. As Thomas Moore's Anacreontic runs:

"Music! Oh how faint, how weak, Language fades before thy spell!"

Oh, why should passion ever speak, When thou canst breathe her soul so well?"

Our moments of greatest delight, perhaps, are our moments of self-expression. Nothing is better suited to fully set forth our phases of emotion than the piano.

No substitute will do. It is not enough to play the harp or the violin without a basic acquaintance with the piano.

Of course there is pleasure in attending concerts, or listening to band music, or singing, but no pleasure is so full and so profitable, without, as the joy we get in making our own music. Again I say that if you are to buy only one piece of furniture for your home, let it be a piano.

HOW BANKS HELP

Bankers and business men are beginning to realize that the general public is in need of a better understanding of just what service a bank can render the average individual, as well as how it actually functions to aid the community in which it is located. In other words, the public needs to be shown that the bank is just as much a part of the community's daily needs as the grocery store.

Too many people, and they are to be found around Plymouth the same as everywhere else, are unacquainted with the functions of a bank. Too many have long misunderstood, or have failed to comprehend, the real reason for the existence of banks. This is especially true among the younger generation, though we must admit that banking is now better advertised than every before. The great extension of our credit system, and the payment of bills by check, as well as the financing of farming and other business activities has given the banking business a new meaning, even to those who do not make use of them for their own convenience and the safety of their money.

But the general public needs to know more about banks and encouraged to patronize them more. The younger generation needs to be taught that the bank represents the habit of saving—the most beneficial habit that can possibly be formed. Everyone, old and young, should be made to realize that nothing bespeaks the prosperity, comfort and happiness of a community more plainly than a safe, substantial bank. We are glad to note that the banks themselves are realizing this and are trying hard to educate the public. We'd be a happier and a far more progressive people if everybody knew how much our banks are worth to us.

The drug store business is booming considerably with the Fall, all wise mothers being busy preparing for the football season.

The Germans claim to have beaten the United States air-gliding record. But they ought to see a Plymouth flyover on a wet pavement.

Clarence Pelley, who was taken to the Simpson Memorial Institute at Ann Arbor four weeks ago, is very much improved at this writing.

Those dingy draperies can be given back that royal look of dignity if we dry clean them. We can dry clean your tapestries perfectly.

Dainty Dorothy says that "can refreshen and clean every tric used in the home and ward."

She says that the men who patronize us say it saves them money and pleases their good-dressing sense.

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

The decorators tell us that every living room should have a screen. If it is not needed to match the entrance to the dining room or bedroom, then it is invaluable as a "high piece" to balance the tall secretary, bookcase or upright piano on an opposite wall.

Most attractive screens can be made at home at very little cost by covering the bare frame with antique wall paper or a delightful modern paper may be used if the modernistic touch is wanted in the room.

Another effective screen that can be made at home is the screen of prints. Wall paper in a tiny gold star, diamond or cross stitch pattern makes a good foundation; then mount old-fashioned flower prints, Gaily or quaint French prints in panels at the top.

A Dessert the Children Like.

A substantial dessert for little folks is cold fruit pudding made by dissolving one package of fruit-flavored gelatin in one pint boiling water. When beginning to thicken, stir in a handful of seedless raisins, a few nuts, chopped dates and figs and a sliced banana. Mold and serve with or without cream.

For Flakier Pie Crust

Your pastry will be much finer and more tender if prepared cake flour is used instead of bread flour.

Beef Stew en Casserole.

Use one pound lean raw beef cut in inch cubes, three cups tomato pulp, three sliced onions, two tablespoons melted butter, three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, one and a quarter teaspoons salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Mix all together in casserole and bake covered in moderate oven for one hour, stirring occasionally. Delicious with baked potato.

Use Left-Over Meats in Patties.

Dice cold cooked lamb, beef or veal, heat it in gravy to which a little softened onions, celery and green pepper (chopped) have been added. Bake patty shells of pie crust arranged in muffin tins and while still hot fill with the meat mixture.

PLYMOUTH ROUTS YPSILANTI ROOSEVELT

Using a running and passing attack to great advantage, Plymouth's powerful eleven routed wildly over the Roosevelt eleven, 37 to 0, at Ypsilanti last Saturday morning.

Herick started in both defense and offense, and made three touchdowns while Carney, Miller and Orr contributed the others. The local boys could have piled up a much higher score but they used good sportsmanship and substituted the second team men for the first.

The Plymouth team has a good chance to capture the Suburban League Championship and the boys are out to finish their task which was poorly started.

First Quarter

Herick kicked off to Spike, who was stopped on Roosevelt's 25-yard line. Spike tried to smash through the line, and he did for 2 yards. No yardage was obtained by Herick, who again tried to smash through the line. Carney blocked Wood's punt, Fockler recovering the ball for Plymouth. Herick hit the line for 6 yards. On the next play both teams were offside. Orr made a yard through the line. Herick plunged through the line for 20 yards and the first touchdown. No goal was made. Herick kicked to Johnson, who was tackled on his 34-yard line. Roosevelt failed at the line. The next play Roosevelt fumbled and Fockler recovered for Plymouth. Orr hit the line for 11 yards. Beegle gained 5 yards on the next play. Herick ran around left end for 15 yards and another touchdown. Herick failed to kick goal. Herick kicked the ball for Plymouth. Both teams were offside on the next play. Orr made 9 yards on a line plunge and he fumbled but Kenyon recovered the ball. Gust made first down through the line. Herick scored a touchdown through the line but missed the try for extra point. Ypsi kicked off to Wood, who on the second try, kicked to Straub. Beegle hit the line for 2 yards. Herick lost 3 yards around end. Herick punted to Hutchinson who was stopped in his tracks. Ypsilanti made an incomplete pass. Hutchinson tried an end run but was stopped for no gain. Wood punted to Johnson, who on the second try, kicked to Straub and it fell incomplete. Beegle made 7 yards around right end. Herick punted to Ypsilanti's 29-yard line. Wood tried the line but failed.

Second Quarter

Roosevelt failed twice at the line and then Wood punted. Orr fumbled and Johnson recovered for Roosevelt. Spike hit the line for 1 yard. Roosevelt tried a pass which was grounded. Wood punted to Beegle on Plymouth's 31-yard line. Beegle carried the ball around end for 3 yards. Herick cut through the line for a 25-yard gain. Beegle passed to Gust who gained 6 yards. Herick made the first down through the line. Herick ran 35 yards around end, within 3 yards of a touchdown. Dudek failed twice to score. Plymouth fumbled and Wood recovered. Franklin punted to Dudek. Herick lost 2 yards trying to carry the ball around left end. Orr lost a yard. Beegle punted out of bound. Franklin punted out of bound on the first down. Beegle failed to break through the line. Orr hit the line for 1 yard. Plymouth tried a pass which was grounded by Wood.

Third Quarter

Luke kicked off to Wood who carried the ball for 16 yards. A pass was intercepted. Spike gained 2 yards through the line and on the next play was stopped for no gain. Franklin punted out of bound. Straub was penalized for holding. It was Roosevelt's ball and first down. Greer failed at a line plunge and Roosevelt asked for time out. Spike lost 2 yards around left end. Franklin punted to Plymouth's 50-yard line. Orr went around end for 50 yards and a touchdown. No goal was made. Miller kicked off to Able. Greer failed in trying to break through line. Wood put over a good pass to Johnson for 20 yards. Wood tried a second pass but it fell incomplete. Greer made 3 yards at the center of the line, and then passed to Johnson for 15 yards. Greer hit the line for 2 yards. Roosevelt gained 3 yards and then fumbled. Wood recovered the ball. A pass over to Plymouth on their 20-yard line. On the first down Herick carried the ball to Roosevelt's 30-yard line. Gust lost 7 yards trying to run around left end. Beegle gained 20 yards and on the next play Herick went over the line. But the ball was called back and Plymouth was given a penalty. Beegle cut through, gained for 2 yards. Herick made 10 yards around left end. Beegle lost 3 yards on the following play. Herick was thrown for a loss of 5 yards. It was Roosevelt's ball on downs. Wood passed to Johnson for 10 yards. The same play was tried again but failed.

Fourth Quarter

Greer failed twice at the line. Able punted to Orr. Time was called by Roosevelt. Herick passed to Carney for a touchdown. Herick kicked the goal. Herick kicked off to Greer and he brought it back to 4 yard line. Able punted from behind the goal line and Miller made a good block, and recovered it for a touchdown. Herick failed to place kick. Able kicked off to Beegle, on the first play, ran around end for 40 yards. Herick attempted and lost 7 yards. He made 3 yard trying to cut through the line. Beegle made 4 yards around right end. Herick made the first down for Plymouth and 3 yards. Beegle hit the line for 7 yards. Ypsilanti recovered the ball on a fumble. Able punted to Gust who made nine yards. Herick made no gain through the line. Plymouth called time out. Herick made 3 yards through left tackle. Curtiss obtained 11 yards through center. Herick again tried the line but was thrown for no gain. Orr cut through the line for 4 yards. On an end run Herick made 5 yards. A lateral pass violated the rules, giving Ypsi the ball as a penalty. Ypsilanti tried a pass, which was grounded. Wood then passed to Able for 10 yards. There were two more incomplete passes. Ypsi was offside on the next play and was penalized 5 yards. Able punted to Rodman. Curtiss made no gain through left tackle. Orr was thrown for a loss of 6 yards trying an end run. Curtiss punted to Wood just in time to end the game.

ped and lost 7 yards. He made 3 yard trying to cut through the line. Beegle made 4 yards around right end. Herick made the first down for Plymouth and 3 yards. Beegle hit the line for no gain. The line was opened for Herick to get through for 7 yards. Ypsilanti recovered the ball on a fumble. Able punted to Gust who made nine yards. Herick made no gain through the line. Plymouth called time out. Herick made 3 yards through left tackle. Curtiss obtained 11 yards through center. Herick again tried the line but was thrown for no gain. Orr cut through the line for 4 yards. On an end run Herick made 5 yards. A lateral pass violated the rules, giving Ypsi the ball as a penalty. Ypsilanti tried a pass, which was grounded. Wood then passed to Able for 10 yards. There were two more incomplete passes. Ypsi was offside on the next play and was penalized 5 yards. Able punted to Rodman. Curtiss made no gain through left tackle. Orr was thrown for a loss of 6 yards trying an end run. Curtiss punted to Wood just in time to end the game.

A CHEMISTRY ESSAY CONTEST

To encourage interest in science and the fantastic wonders of the universe the American Chemical Society is sponsoring a prize essay contest for high school students. Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee, is chairman of its National award committee, some of the other notables are Lawrence Abbot, publisher of the "Outlook"; Dr. Angell, president of Yale University; Robert Cuddihy of the Literary Digest; Leo Frankel, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; J. C. Morrill, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington; Mary Roberts Rhinehart, the famous authoress; Miss Ida M. Tarbell; and many others superior in some phase of study.

The national prizes are six four-year scholarships at any recognized college or university in the United States each providing tuition fees and $500 in cash annually. The prizes for each of the fifty-one separate contests conducted in each state, Alaska, Hawaii, District of Columbia, Porto Rico and Philippine as a unit are six $20 gold pieces, one for each subject given below, and six certificates of Honorable Mention.

- 1. Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease.
- 2. Relation of Chemistry to the enrichment of Life.
- 3. Relation of Chemistry to Agriculture or to Forestry.
- 4. Relation of Chemistry to National Defense.
- 5. Relation of Chemistry to the Home.
- 6. Relation of Chemistry to the development of an industry or a Resource of the United States.

Those who are competing from Plymouth are: Iouanna Segnitz, Foster Howell, Arndt Burden, Janette McLeod, Virginia Giles, and Veda Larkins.

LOST—ONE STRING WITH STONE TIED ON

That loss was not very expensive in dollars and cents but it wasted several minutes of time for several people. Two girls were on the roof of the school building finding the height of the same for an experiment in Physics. Now when these girls led the string down, they never thought that it might be seen through the windows. On the first string they let down the stone was too light, and so they tied on a heavier one and let that slowly down. But to and behold when it had nearly reached the ground a hand was thrust out at a window on the third floor and grasped the twine. The girls were "dumfounded" and one of them murmured to say "Please let the string alone." But all in vain, the twine was captured, and captured it stayed. The girls finally got the height measured from another side. A class, says the cord and thinking some pupils were playing, told his class that he was going to find the suckers on the other end of the cord. And so to the room above he went as fast as he could and not mildly asked who has been playing with the cord. Whereupon Miss Cary seized—and she gently cord and stone. Finally Mr. Smith found out from Mr. Dykehouse what caused the trouble and went back to his class, telling the pupils that the suckers had a legitimate right in doing that. So ends the episode of the cord and stone—little things cause more trouble sometimes than large ones.

THE JUNIORS ENTERTAIN

Into a room, which was in reality the high school gymnasium transformed into a room of attractive coziness by the cheery cretonne-decorated wicker chairs, divans (furnished by Mr. Schrader) and lamps, the first dance of the season was given by the Junior class. At eight o'clock Shaffer's orchestra ushered the enthusiastic young folks in for an evening of frolic. Several parents of the Juniors served as chaperons—these were Mrs. Sidney Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shear, and Mrs. Ada Murry, representing the school board. Teachers present were fourth B. The 5B class is finishing its review of South America. Helen Bojorean moved away this week. Miss Johnson's sixth graders conducted a very interesting debate Friday. The question was "Resolved, That the toothbrush is more important than the hair brush." The affirmative was taken by Both Northrop, Kenneth Davis, Arnold Ash and Elaine Shingleton; and the negative by Elwood Elliot, Doris Fishlock, Sterling Borascher and Kostany Dudek. They leaves serve as stamps for the letters which are sent in airplanes. Goldie Tonery is the collector of the airmail, which is sent once a week. Mrs. Lee's room has studied forty common weeds and collected the seeds. These have been mounted.

In the Honor Club meeting last Friday, the following program was given: "The Lone Star State"—Mary Price; "The Nutmeg State"—Harriette Mattison. Duo—Joan Cassidy and Ione Packard. "Talk on Snakes"—Ralph Patsert. "Talk on Icebergs"—Eva Scarpulla.

This room has also learned the names of our thirty presidents and mounted their pictures. CENTRAL NOTES By Madelon Shingleton There are four people in Miss Williams' room having perfect teeth. They are: Samuel Virgo, Alice Pluchta, Wilbur Clark and Lynton Ball. In Miss Orr's room the pupils are making copy-note-books. William Riddick has just entered this room.

In Mrs. Holliday's room the children made fruit posters and maps of South America. Vivian Towle received the highest mark in the spelling and reading test. The language classes are having book reports. Farrand's room has chosen sides for the arithmetic drills—"The American League" and "The Navy." Watch for the scores next week. Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mrs. Charles Robinson visited Mrs. Root's room last week. Miss Hadley has been teaching the children the games of "Reuben and Rachel," "Squirrels in Trees," and "Tom Tom and Awa." Miss Cooper is helping them make little favors for their Halloween party next week. As soon as the children have a letter from their dentist saying their teeth are perfect they get a gold star after their names.

WAYS AND MEANS Have you seen the beautiful Christmas cards which the Senior Girl Reserves are selling? They are manufactured by the Metaltone company and are very nice for personal and business use. Dainty little four-piece miniature sets in bright colored and leather cases are also finding ready sale. They are just the thing to carry in one's purse or pocket. This is the means by which the club's hungry treasury is being filled.

WE HAVE STARTED Carrying out its plans, the Stamp Club has subscribed for Scott's Monthly Journal, which is to be placed among the magazines in the library. Will Hodson has distributed his packets of stamps among the boys and so now they have a large basis on which to continue their collections. An interesting discussion has been given by Will Bronson upon water marks and perforations.

A PLEA FROM THE JUNIOR CLASS On Wednesday last Junior class consisted into their various groups where roll was taken, after which they assembled into room 18 for a class meeting. Each Wednesday in fifth hour a general high assembly or separate class meetings are held, where class activities, interests and ambitions are discussed. At this time our ticket selling for the Excursion Club dominated the talk. As yet, however, the co-operation has been poor and the junior class in general just cannot accept a failure. We beg of the school and public to do some observing as to what is really being offered to them—live evenings of interesting, informing, amusing entertainment all for $1.50. The annual junior play offering is included this year. Miss Johnson, who has so very successfully directed "You and I" and "All of a Sudden Peggy," directs this, also. Tickets may be obtained at the High School.

THE CLOGGING CLUB Click-click-click-click. The clogging club is practicing. They are working on two dances, Swance and Slegh Bells, which they hope to use in future programs.

NINTH GIRL RESERVES The ninth Girl Reserves, a new group in the Girl Reserve triangle is using as a guide for their programs this year, the code of that organization. They plan to make a scrap book illustrative of all the points in the code.

H-I-Y The invitation to join the H-I-Y has been passed out to a group of boys and the club is now planning the induction service. Last Wednesday in assembly, the H-I-Y boys passed out song sheets of old-time popular songs that we all like. It is such fun to sing them! [Herald] Everybody better come to the "Wine" game and support our team for the H-I-Y boys are going to take all the Bleachers down to the field to support us. In their last meeting the group joined with the Torch Club to discuss the conference at Camp Ohlyesa on Fish Lake. Charles Ball, Edward DePorer, Alvan Van Bonn, Beryl Smith and Mr. Ferdue gave reports.

STARWEATHER NOTES By Madelon Shingleton The first graders are sorry that their teacher, Miss Spiegelberg, is ill and hope that the will soon be back. Mrs. Bird, the principal, is substituting. In Miss Balfour's room the pupils are making a chart for perfect teeth and twenty children out of the thirty-two have their names on it. Patricia Cassidy has been promoted into the GIRL RESERVE MATIN SERVICE "Where God is, a spider's web is a wall but where God is not, a wall is but a spider's web." This wonderful influence of God was impressed upon the minds and hearts of seventy-five Girl Reserves last Thursday morning at a short but beautiful service conducted by Reverend W. Nichol at the Presbyterian Church at an early morning worship.

In his sermon Rev. Nichol brought to the presence of God at all times. "Things that seem almost miraculous may have a scientific explanation but above that nevertheless, reigns the Supreme Power. Above all we must believe and trust in our Creator" was another thought. When we are undergoing the greatest trials and facing the greatest temptations we must not forget Him but come for counsel and strength. With these beautiful thoughts in mind the Girl Reserves certainly have been encouraged to carry out the ideals of their organization.

SOMETHING NEW. P. H. S. has a new marking system! Instead of having six complicated passing marks we have now adopted the new method set forth by the Michigan Education association. This is much more uniform than the former one. The marks are: A (Excellent) B (Very good) C (Good) D (Fair) E (Failure) F (Incomplete)

The percentage of failures and incompletes of the various grades were: Sophomores, 0.6% Freshmen—0.2% Juniors—0.2% All persons having no marks below B were entered on the honor list.

AN OLD HYMN Some of the German churchmen can have a chance to demonstrate their vocals. Ruth Foster brought to school a German hymnal used by her great grandmother in Esson, Germany, in 1844. We could read the numbers! It's much thicker and narrower than our psalm books. In fact it looks like a two-inch volume of Webster's small dictionary that had been clipped in half. Of course it is in one hand and turns pages with the other to find the song, but I doubt if I could find a psalm in this book if it were resting on a stand with both hands free! The pages are about three inches wide and somewhat yellowed with age (from use, maybe, too) running up over eight hundred and freshmen. It will be noticed that Martha Schultz and Evelyn Ash have an all-A record.

A SCRAP BOOK At the last meeting the Junior Girl Reserves brought scissors and magazines and with the help of some friendly paste made a scrap book of Girl Reserve ideas. They have placed it in the school library and if any of you have ever looked at scrap books you know how interesting they are. The club is going to sell bread boards to earn money.

IN THE HISTORY DEPARTMENT The most ancient of history must be illustrated by modern methods and so our history department points proudly to a new globe and some maps. The latter are heartily endorsed by "yours truly" because last year it was necessary to call all hands on deck when we wanted to change the map to keep those half tort off from forsaking the holder entirely. However, the school did not think pictures necessary to a busy classroom and Miss Asman settled it by bringing a picture of "Old Ironsides" under full sail, shining in the sunlight. It is painted in beautiful color contrast—the rosy line of the sails blending with the tranquil blue of the ocean. Resting so peacefully on its book at the present, one wouldn't believe that this is strictly private now; the juniors hung it in the back of the room where its beauty was lost on the unconscious backs of our attentive students, and so Miss Asman had it removed to a more prominent place in front. It does look nice now and it was so small on the bare white wall in the rear where one lone heating pipe affords the only decoration.

HERE'S A NEW ONE Everybody knows that newspaper articles and story books have deceived us but who would think that history would do so? It has, though, and here is the "latest" about Paul Revere's ride. Nearly everyone thinks that he approached the whole alarm through Concord, Middlesex and the other towns. A few know that there was another rider, Dawes, who rode around the other way but hardly anyone knows that there were three horsemen and here's how it came about! While Revere waited impatiently for the signal lights in the Old North Church, "one if by land and two if by sea," Dawes stamped the ground anxiously at the Boston neck where the land broadens out and where the British would come if they came by land. At the signal they mounted and as they galloped they met at Menotomy, traveling together. Upon reaching the Hancock farm house the two aroused John Hancock and Samuel Adams, sleeping there, who were wanted by the "Redcoats," telling them to flee for their lives. Just then Prescott, who had been visiting his lady-love, appeared and asked if he might join Revere and Dawes. Thus the three ran on for about a mile where they were stopped by a British sentinel, Prescott however, leaped over a fence and galloped across the fields by a short cut, known only to himself and carried the alarm to Concord while Revere and Dawes were taken prisoners.

Who hasn't seen the picture of Washington crossing the Delaware in a single boat carrying twelve men and holding aloft the stars and stripes? Recent events have proved that a boat of those dimensions could not carry twelve full-sized men and keep afloat. So Washington either took two boats or swam. One man is holding on high the stars and stripes. This was not known until a year later when it was accepted and flown for the first time at Fort Mifflin in August 1777. Most of these facts have come out since the story of the Revolution was put into motion pictures. The Liberty Bell did not crack while ringing for independence on the fourth of July, 1777. It was exactly fifty-nine years later to a day that the crack occurred while proclaiming the death of Chief Justice Marshall in 1835. Pretty soon teachers will have to discard our history books entirely and just teach the real traditions about what happened in our earlier days.

Laying New Cable Across Straits

One of the most important and difficult telephone engineering feats of a decade in Michigan, the laying of another submarine telephone cable across the junction of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron, at the Straits of Mackinac, was started Saturday, Oct. 20, by engineers and plant crews of the Michigan Bell Telephone company. Nearly four miles of especially made, heavily armored cable, weighing 238 tons, or 476,000 pounds, was spliced and dropped into place that day, connecting the two peninsulas of the state, according to J. J. Foley, of Menominee, commercial superintendent of the telephone company in northern Michigan.

The project is one that involves unusual engineering and construction difficulties, because of the nature of the floor of the straits, the great depth of the water at various points and the possibility of severe storms interfering with the work. Construction crews already are on the job at St. Ignace, where the preliminary work is being done preparatory to the laying of the cable.

The cable will cross the straits from points approximately two miles west of St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, and will be 13,400 feet in length. It will be laid from the northern shore, where it now is being hauled onto the cable boat. The cost of the job will approach $75,000, Mr. Foley says.

Two earlier cables are in service at this point, one of which was laid in 1889 and the other in 1918. The latter was expected to care for the telephone traffic between the peninsulas for approximately 15 years. However, following the breaking up of heavy ice in the straits in the spring of 1927, it was found that several circuits in the cable were out of order. Investigation showed that the cable had been severely damaged by ice packs and it was necessary to raise more than a mile of it to make repairs. Similar trouble developed again last spring, thus making the life of the cable uncertain, and the placing of a new and larger one was decided upon.

The new cable is unique in design. Ordinarily, submarine cables are protected by a single steel armor, whereas this new cable has a double armor. The core of the cable contains the copper wire circuits, insulated with paper wrapping, surrounding which is a heavy lead sheath approximately a quarter of an inch in thickness. Outside of that are a wrapping of waterproof jute, the first steel armor, another jute wrapping and the outer steel armor. It differs from the 1918 cable in that it has the outer steel armor and contains a greater number of talking circuits. Incidentally it is the first double armored cable used in Michigan.

The original cable crossing the straits, placed in 1889, was a crude affair in comparison with either of the later ones. The circuits were insulated with rubber and lacked the protection of the lead sheath. It contained eighteen circuits. With one exception all of these circuits have become useless and have been abandoned. The one remaining circuit is leased for use as a private line.

The cable laid in 1918 is the longest inland submarine telephone cable in use in the United States. It is approximately four and three-quarter miles in length, or nearly 5,000 feet longer than the new one, which will cross the straits at a narrower point. The second cable contained 28 wire circuits, but eight have been damaged beyond repair and are not in use.

When this cable was taken up for repairs last year it was found that it had been badly crushed, internally, although the outer armor showed little damage. The internal insulation had given away under a tremendous pressure, allowing some of the wires to come into contact and form short circuits. Ice jams forced to the bottom of the lake over the cable crushed it against the rocks. When the pressure was removed the steel armor regained its normal shape, but the lead casing had been damaged.

To prevent a recurrence of such damage, the new cable has been supplied with the double armor and is being laid at a point a mile and a half west of the present cable, where the bottom of the channel is less rocky.

The new cable was manufactured in the Western Electric plant at Kearney, N. J., and was shipped to St. Ignace on seven large wooden reels. Each reel weighs approximately 34 tons. Each section is spliced to the others as it is placed on the barge. Ten days will be required to complete the unloading and splicing.

Tire Air for Trees

Compressed air, forced in among the roots of large trees that have been transplanted, have been found to be of assistance in causing the tree to recover quickly from its disturbance. In most planting operations the dirt is thrown back into the soil with so much water that it puddles and prevents the roots from getting needed air from the soil.

Dearest Little Girl

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copyright.)

IT DID not seem to Mr. John Billings as if the old town of Caryville had changed any during his five years' absence. Thank Fortune, he had escaped while the escaping was good. Otherwise he might have been caught like his friend Bill whose wedding on the morrow was the reason for his return. In fact, he might have been standing in Bill's very shoes for there had been a time when both had been sweet on Elinor Seaver and John had never entirely recovered from the feeling that, had he stayed on he might have cut Bill out.

But here he was, footloose and fancy free, striding up town in preference to boarding the one-man car, and glad enough that he was in Caryville for the night and not for a lifetime.

Twenty minutes later, he stood on Bill's familiar porch where of old the "gang" had been wont to congregate. "Johnny! Say, old man, this is awfully decent of you to take Kent's place as best man on such short notice. I couldn't very well explain over the phone how I would have asked you in the first place, could I?" "Cut it out, Bill. Glad of the chance to help put the lundens on you." John found himself drawn in to meet Bill's folks again.

"Will I see the 'dearest little girl in the world' as you call her, before the fatal hour?" he asked later.

"Hardly think so," said Bill with a worried little frown. "She's rather done up. Rehearsal last night kept us out to a late hour. Kind of thought you and I might go down to the Opera house and take in a show together. Man needs a little relaxation with all this going on and the youngster gave me leave to spend my last evening as a bachelor any old way I pleased."

The musical comedy which they witnessed that night proved better than the usual run of such entertainments and occupied their minds to the exclusion of what lay ahead on the morrow. Afterwards they drifted into Caryville's small lunch room and over cigarettes and a wetch rarebit hashed over old school days.

But morning brought a different Bill to the breakfast table. One fully aware of the day's cares and significance. Would John be sure to produce the ring without hesitation—would he see that the train tickets were placed in the pocket of his gray suit?

John, secretly smug over his own secure bachelorhood, was calmly reassuring about everything. "Cut out the worry, Bill. The show will move like clock work and by this time tomorrow you and the dearest little girl in the world will be on your way to Canada."

A few hours later arrived that vital moment when, in the midst of flowers and expectant guests, he and Bill stood waiting the entrance of the wedding party. The organist, who had been giving a short preliminary musicale for the benefit of the early comers swung suddenly from the Priest March of Mendelssohn into the strains of Lohengrin and John became aware of movement at the farther end of the church.

Slowly the procession advanced. Four ushers—four bridesmaids—the maid of honor with a sweeping bouquet and a droopy hat that hid her eyes—the bride on the arm of J. Daniel Seaver.

"Elinor has grown plump," thought John, critically, and wondered if, when she lifted her veil, he would find her as pretty as he remembered her.

The service began. John, not particularly attentive, was brought to his senses with a shock. "Margaret Jane Seaver, do you—" Margaret Jane Seaver! Margaret Jane—Had Elinor changed her name or who the Dickens was Bill marrying anyhow? Elinor had no sister. He recalled vaguely a cousin who had come to visit her once. Peggy—Peggy Jane. So that was . . . Bill wasn't marrying Elinor after all!

For the rest of the ceremony John muddled the thing over in his mind. In fact, he had rather lost touch with Bill and Caryville until suddenly had come this short notice request on Bill's part to fill the place of Kent Stone who had fallen ill.

At that point in his cogitations and just as he handed the ring to Bill, his eyes met those of the maid of honor. Lucky that the ring was safely in Bill's fingers or it might have fallen to the floor. The maid of honor was Elinor and not only was she as lovely as he had remembered her, but far, far lovelier with the beauty that maturity sometimes confers on even less attractive girls than Elinor had been.

But did he ever tell her of his mistake? He never did. Not even after they were married and had settled down in Caryville with John taking over J. Daniel Seaver's real estate business.

Yes, Caryville points to Mr. John Billings as one of its chief boosters, and it is at his house that Bill and Peggy Jane always stay when they return for a brief visit to the old town, although Bill, in the privacy of their room, is apt to exclaim that he is glad he escaped while the escaping was good.

A German society has condemned the saxophones as indecent. But not at a word was said about pianos flaunting their bare legs in public.

Dependability, Satisfaction and Honest Value

The Old Legend of Halloween

Halloween is the name given to the evening before the Festival of All Saints, the Vigil of All Hallows. In Old England it was the custom to crack nuts, duck for apples and indulge in other harmless amusements on that eve. Older yet is the custom of building fires, dating back to ceremonies of the Druids.

On Halloween, tradition has it, the witches upset everything. And for years and years American children have been upsetting everything on Halloween and blaming it on the witches. But, alas, their zeal is dying out. Halloween is no longer the "grand night" it was. A few chalk marks made here and there, a few children in costumes, a few stockings filled with flour that are banged over other children by their possessors, are all that is left of Halloween. This and some dignified parties where favors are distributed.

In the old days luggies were placed on roofs, gates were broken ajar, everything was made topsy-turvy. And Halloween was spread over an entire week of mischief.

We can't believe this healthy spirit of mischief is dead.

It must be, alas, that our children have forgotten the traditions of Halloween.

This new condition makes us all safer—but we just can't help missing something.

Today's Reflections

One way to make the punishment fit the crime would be to have every man who criticizes present-day dress styles spend an hour every day looking through the old family album.

Little did old-timers in Plymouth think the day would ever arrive when the steering wheel would be the family circle.

If all prophets were good prophets two men now running for president would both be elected.

Since we know more about raising them, why didn't nature give us other people's children?

The Plymouth man who lives to nurse a grievance should remember that it's never safe to bring one up on a bottle.

When a fellow proposes and then acts like a fish out of water he knows he has been caught.

Wonder why nobody ever thought to invent an automatic windshield wiper for horned-rimmed glasses?

How many people around Plymouth can remember when you could tell the size of a grafter by the size of his watch charm?

Another reason why there are so many divorcees is too many people think that as soon as they get married they have to quit making love to each other.

Nature isn't so smart. She frequently gives nice children to parents who don't know how to raise them.

If everybody around Plymouth would read their Bibles as much as they read mail-order catalogues we'd have the most religious community in the United States.

It's about time for a new religious sect to be organized. People have to have paying jobs.

One nice thing about traveling by airplane is you don't have to read a lot of billboard advertising.

And, verily, we say unto you, the Plymouth man who cleaneth up his back yard is worth more to the neighborhood than the one who can get 40 miles out of one gallon of gas.

You can't eat your cake and have it, but doughnuts will stay with you quite awhile.

Men are supposed to be braver than women, but try to imagine a Plymouth man with only a dime making a clerk take down $500 worth of dry goods.

English Clerics' Wives Forced to Take Jobs

London.—Penury and even starvation among British clergy are advanced as reasons for a sharp decline in applicants for ordination in this country.

Four London clergymen's wives are working as waitresses in cafes, others as housekeepers and "lady helps" in order to make ends meet. In Birmingham, the wife of a curate was found working as a charwoman. A certain London minister with six children to support, has learned to repair boots so that he can make extra money in his spare time.

Self-Aiming Plane Gun Invented by Estonian

Tallin, Estonia.—The Estonian inventor, Karl Papello, has perfected a mechanism for airplanes which he claims will be able to locate the direction and position of other planes by their sound and fire a machine gun automatically.

This invention has attracted the notice of the British air ministry, it is reported here, and Papello is expecting an order from the British government. Papello spent eight months in British military schools and was invited to go on a lecture tour there last year.

Farmers Should Use Proper Fertilizers

APPLICATION OF UNSUITABLE ANALYSIS DOES NOT GIVE BEST RESULTS.

In an effort to assist Michigan farmers in the choice of fertilizers for use on different soils and for different crops, the soils department at Michigan State College has prepared a list of the fertilizers analysis recommended for use in this state.

This list was submitted for the approval of a group of 125 men who met at the College recently and who represented the companies selling fertilizer, the field extension men, and the farmers themselves.

Three factors must be considered before fertilizer recommendations can be made for any specific farm: the type of soil, the treatment which the soil has previously had, and the kind of crop to be grown on the soil must be known before worthwhile advice can be given.

An example of the different analysis of fertilizer which may be desirable for the same crop on varying soils is given by the recommendations for the use of fertilizer on corn ground.

On light sand where manure has not been used and legumes have not been grown the previous year, the analysis recommended by the soils department for corn is 2-16-2; on clay where manure has been applied the previous year the proper fertilizer is 0-20-0; and, on muck, the use of 0-8-24 is advised.

THE THEATRE

"FORGOTTEN FACES"

An authentic detail of prison life, copied from the regular daily routine at a real penitentiary, was enacted at the Paramount studio in Hollywood recently. It was the night lockup, during which all of the convicts are returned to their cells and locked in.

It was taken during the filming of "Forgotten Faces," a contrasting melodrama of society and crook life, which will show at the Penman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, October 28th and 29th.

Convicts, marching in irregular order, passed down a long cell block, falling out as they came to their respective cells to be locked in by a trusty and a uniformed guard. Above the cell block corridor on a high guard walk paced other uniformed guards, armed with rifles.

Fifty extras, garbed in regulation convict garb, were used in this scene which was filmed in the tremendous prison set erected at the studio for the picture. Olive Brook and Fred Kohler, two featured members of the production's all-star cast, were also among the screen convicts herded to their cells.

In order that all prison scenes of the picture might be absolutely authentic, Director Victor Schertzinger and Howard Estabrook, writer of the screen play, visited a state prison and, through the courtesy of the warden, made an exhaustive study of conditions there.

"THE SINGAPORE MUTINY"

With a refreshing novelty of theme and locale, in these days of cinema sameness, and presenting two sterling screen players—Ralph Ince and Estelle Taylor—in leading roles that give ample expression to their outstanding artistry, "The Singapore Mutiny," an EBO production that proved to be of notable merit and worth, will be shown at the Penman Allen theatre Wednesday and Thursday, October 31st, and November 1st.

The story is laid aboard ship—a grimy freighter bound for Singapore from San Francisco—among the four passengers on which is dangerous, dashing Daisy Martin. What the wiles of Daisy, liberally distributed among the two-fisted seamen from captain's bridge to the stokehold, bring about in the way of battle, turmoil and actual mutiny, culminating in shipwreck, makes up a thrilling sea classic.

Ralph Ince, who directed the picture and also divided honors in the leading roles with Estelle Taylor, was impressive as usual in his finished performance—this time as a hulking, cruel stokehold bully, whose slant on life in general undergoes a marked change due to Daisy Martin's influence.

And as the capable Daisy herself Miss Taylor scored an emphatic success in a rather trying role that called for all her coquetry and much dramatic power in the climactic incidents that bring the story to a whirlwind finish.

"The Singapore Mutiny" has an especially well-balanced cast supporting the two principal characters and much difficult work in the blistering stokehold and on the sunswep decks in tropic seas, devolves upon the seasoned players.

"HELLO CHEYENNE"

"Hello Cheyenne!" a Fox Films production starring Tom Mix, which will be shown at the Penman Allen theatre Saturday, November 3rd, is a rather unusual Western. The contest between two rival contracting companies in laying a telephone line between Cheyenne and Rawhide is the basis for an engaging photoplay.

Mix heads a noteworthy cast and is responsible for many thrilling episodes. The spectacular race between the rival companies brings to mind the difficulties our earlier telephone companies experienced while laying the first transcontinental telephone line.

Jack Baston, one of the most widely known screen heavies, is again seen as the "menace" in the Mix production. Baston, who has a long list of successes to his credit, enacts the role of Buck Overland, head of one of the rival companies, with diabolical finesse.

In this absorbing drama Caryl Lincoln, a newcomer to the screen, is cast as Diana Cody, opposite Tom Mix. As Diana Cody, Miss Lincoln falls in love with Mix and aids him in a thrilling manner to win a race that is the changing point in their lives.

The picture is adapted from an original story by Fred Myton and was directed by Gene Forde. The others in the cast are Joseph Girard, Al St. John, Martin Faust and William Caress.

Another Abnormality

The health inspector was paying a hurried visit to a very overcrowded school.

He rushed hither and thither from room to room as if he had barely time to breathe—together an astonishing sight.

"Are there any abnormal children in this class?" he asked one harassed teacher.

She nodded briefly. "Particularly," he snapped. "There are two with good manners," answered the teacher.

ATHEISM VIA RADIO

THANKS, MR. WILBUR
OLD HEARTS NEED CARE
AMERICANS ARE TALLER

The American Association for the Advancement of Atheism demands a high powered radio station in New York City and does not get it, although the easiest way to make an atheist ridiculous is to let him talk.

It is hard to understand how anybody could talk atheism, knowing that his voice propelled by a power beyond comprehension, travels around the world through the mysterious ether.

Atheists, young ones, especially, might meditate on one of Bacon's collected apothegms:

Simonides, being asked of Hiero "what he thought of God," asked a seven night's time to consider of it; and at the seven nights' end he asked a fortnight's time, at the fortnight's end, a month.

At which Hiero marvelling, Simonides answered "that the longer he thought upon the matter the more difficult he found it."

The more glibly you answer King Hiero's question the less you know.

Congratulations to Secretary Wilbur, who has ordered for our navy two dirigibles that will be the biggest in the world.

They will be three times as big as the Los Angeles, one third bigger than the German giant Count Zeppelin and each will carry, under the great gas bag, five airplanes for scouting.

The Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation will build them and friendly nations abroad are informed that we do not intend to be taken by surprise.

A fleet of such dirigibles, each carrying fifty tons of explosives and modern war gas, able to unleash one hundred fast destructive planes, could leave with Uncle Sam's compliments a visiting card in Europe or Asia that would not soon be forgotten.

We make war on no nation, but we should be ready and able to fill with subsequent regret any one attacking us.

William W. Breck, retired business man, fell dead while playing golf. He was sixty-four years old.

At sixty-four, make no violent effort, unless a good doctor has pronounced your heart "fool proof."

Golf is good for old men that play, as they should, talking, laughing, walking slowly. It's dangerous for those that strain and strive to better their game.

Remember, old gentlemen, that whether you go around in 130 or 103, the cosmos will roll on, just the same. Treat an old heart as you would a delicate vase, not as you would treat an old rubber boot.

Americans are not going backward, PHYSICALLY, at least. Girls are taller and stronger than ever. And among one hundred candidates reporting for freshmen crew practice at Cornell yesterday, 48 were 6 feet tall; a good sign.

A well-balanced body, of good size, about 6 feet, is the right sort.

In the old days, a Napoleon had to be short. If he had been a little taller he would have been killed by the first of the bullets that went an inch above his head.

No wonder American boys and girls grow. The nation's food bill is TWENTY-THREE THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS.

Forty-seven thousand, nine hundred and eighty-five factories of different kinds turn out food products, assisted by 6,448,366 farmers. And twenty-two per cent of the food plants produced nine-tenths of the food products. Shiver at that, if you dread monopoly.

It is a rich country that can afford to eat twenty-three billions worth of food in a year. Much of it, unfortunately, is wasted.

This country, after all its spending for food, clothing and other necessities, has a "social surplus" of TEN THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS, more than the country needs for its living. That is what builds up values, savings, bank accounts and Wall Street prices.

Decease Reduce Poultry Profits

EXPERTS SAY SANITARY PRECAUTIONS WILL PROVE TO BE GOOD ECONOMY.

The belief that it is cheaper to prevent epidemics of disease in poultry flocks than to cure sick fowls has caused the poultry department at Michigan State College to schedule a series of poultry sanitation meetings through the state during October and November.

The poultry specialists say that healthy breeding stock is the first point to consider in disease prevention. The owner should cull his birds rigidly to eliminate weak individuals, and, when stock is bought, the birds should be kept separate from the home flock for two weeks.

Poultry houses should admit plenty of sunlight and the ventilating system should keep the house dry at all times. Concrete floors are an aid in keeping the house clean. Roosts should have screened dropping boards beneath them.

In cleaning poultry houses all loose dirt should be removed before any liquid cleaning solution is used. One pound of lye dissolved in 40 gallons of water makes a good cleaning agent. Coal tar disinfectants should be used after the cleaning solution has thoroughly dried.

These sanitation measures and many others will be stressed at the meetings to be held in Jackson County, November 1-2; Ottawa, November 7-8; St. Clair, November 13-14; Allegan, November 20-21; Kent, November 27-28; and Mecosta, November 29-30. Meetings may be held also in Ingham and Oakland counties.

Increase Telephone Facilities at Wayne

Telephone facilities in Wayne are destined to undergo a complete transformation during the coming ten months, states R. E. Crowe, local manager for the Michigan Belle Telephone company, who today announced plans for a considerable expansion of the local telephone plant, which includes the establishment of a new central office, to be housed in a modern office and store building, and the addition of considerable outside plant facilities.

The approximate cost of the project, exclusive of the building itself, will be approximately $70,000. Mr. Crowe says. The new central office is to occupy approximately 5,000 square feet of leased space in a new store and office building that will be erected at the junction of Park, Biddle and Monroe avenues, opposite the city hall and the Wayne City park, by Dr. Edwin R. Lee and George Gerbstadt.

According to the plans, drawn by Nettleton & Weaver, Detroit, architects, the building will be two stories in height, with a full basement, and will be constructed of brick with neat limestone trimmings. It will be triangular in shape. The telephone company will occupy the basement and space on both floors, under a long term lease in which provision is made whereby the company can acquire additional space when the telephone growth of the city warrants. Space unoccupied by the Bell company will be leased for store and office use, the owners of the property state.

Separate entrances to the building will be provided for the telephone company. The company's business offices and the plant terminal room will occupy the first floor, facing the city hall. Local and long distance cables will terminate in a specially constructed cable vault in the basement. The battery room and space for miscellaneous equipment also will be located in the basement. The second floor will accommodate the operating room, an operators' class-room and operators' quarters, which will include a well-furnished rest room and a modern kitchen and dining room of ample size to accommodate the employees.

The telephone company will change the type of equipment in use in the Wayne exchange from the present magneto system to the common battery system. With the new type of equipment, a subscriber will signal the operator merely by lifting the telephone receiver from its hook.

In addition to the new central office equipment, which will cost in excess of $30,000, approximately $40,000 will be spent during 1929 in extending the outside aerial and underground cable plant in various sections of the community, where additional growth is anticipated. This is a continuation of the company's expansion program here, as plant additions made last year, and to date this year approximated $98,000.

The residential and business growth of Wayne during the past few years is reflected in the telephone growth. During 1928 a total of 138 telephones were added, and last year the number was 138. It is expected the 1928 increase will equal that of last year. The telephone company anticipates continued community growth.

The present central office equipment consists of five sections of switchboard, with a capacity of 600 lines and 1,000 telephones, whereas the new equipment will include 11 sections of switchboard, with a capacity of 1,000 lines and 1,500 telephones. There are approximately 950 telephones in use here at the present time.

Building operations will be commenced within the next 30 days and will be finished about March 1. Equipment installers are expected to complete their work about July 1. Following several weeks of trial operations and after thorough tests have been made, the new office will be ready for service.

The per capita wealth in the United States at the beginning of this month was $49.25. Well, it's nice to know it, anyway.

Luring Autumn Folders

By JOHN GREGORY

(Copyright.)

SHIRLEY could never pass them by—the luring folders that come out with autumn, like robins and buttercups in spring. She helped herself to them, although it might well be questioned what use they would ever be to her. For poor young girls supporting invalid mothers on an assistant librarian's salary do little traveling.

Shirley's mother liked to look them over, too, while Shirley tied on a rubber apron and cooked supper. "There's a fjord at Mt. Desert, Shirley, just fancy! And look at the regular street cars running to Waikiki Beach!" she would call out. She took even shorter trips than her daughter's daily ride to the library. From her couch to the easy chair. From easy chair to couch.

Her husband had died before he could get together enough to support his family in case he should die, and Shirley was really fortunate to land a job of any kind, considering the inadequate training one had had at seventeen.

A trustee of the library who had been a friend of her father's had given her the position, and it was his son, young Curtis Metcalf, who had taken to running in for a chat with Shirley.

He was fond of telling Shirley that her eyes were as blue as the Aegean sea, and she had not corrected him because he had seen the Aegean sea and ought to know. Suppose—just suppose she played up to him and he fell in love with her and they were married! Why, she, too, might see the Aegean sea! More than that, her mother would be provided for the rest of her life. No more worry as to what would happen if she, Shirley, fell sick or her mother's illness demanded new medical skill.

Dallying with temptation to lead him on made Shirley appear more attracted by him than she actually was, and Curt was not slow to press his advantage.

On the evening that she returned to her mother with the news of her engagement, she was very nearly persuaded in her own mind that she did love Curt, that marriage would reform him, and that she could be happy as his wife.

Her mother's reaction of the announcement did not dampen her pleasure. She suspected a prejudice induced by well-meaning neighbors who had often dropped in with some gossip story of young Metcalf. He had been arrested for reckless driving, had been named among those present at a raided roadside inn. Besides, wasn't she marrying partly for her mother's sake? Thus can ignorant seventeen pull the wool over its eyes.

Yet Shirley had not been engaged a month before she came to realize that seeing the Aegean sea or any other sea would not compensate for having to put up with Curtis the rest of her life. But any suggestion on her part, however tentative, that they had made a mistake, merely threw him into an unreasonable rage and threats of suicide on the spot.

It was after such a tempestuous half-hour in a library alcove that Shirley decided to tell the whole truth to his father. The Metcalfs had been very sweet to Shirley and as she walked down the long, tree-shaded avenue to the great white house in which they lived she shrank from exposing what she felt were the unworthy motives for her present predicament.

Mr. Metcalf was not at home, and it was Curtis' step-brother—a tall, serious young man just back from bridge building in South America—who rose to meet her. Before she realized what she was doing, led on by some kindly expression in his eyes? Shirley was telling him the story.

"I—I was dazzled by Curt," she confessed, "and—and by his background. I fooled the two of us into thinking I cared and now—now he won't let me go!"

"Sort of a case of catering the bull by the tail!" commented her listener gravely. "Now, don't worry, Miss Shirley. You have really helped us out a lot. My father wants to send Curt on a trip around the world with a companion-tutor. He is too unbalanced for marriage. We knew it was merely a question of time before this fell through and our great concern was lest you actually called for the lad."

And so might the Metcalfs have gone forever from Shirley's life. Yet smaller things than a gaudy railroad folder have determined destinies. Shirley, turning away, saw on the library table a colorful advertisement of some coast resort or other. Her itching fingers reached for it.

"That's a beautiful spot," said the young man pleasantly. "I stopped over on my way home."

Something in Shirley's blue eyes as she lifted them made him catch his breath. "Why, the child is lovely!" he said to himself. And then, "I'm going to drive you home, if I may!" he said aloud.

A year later Shirley, on her honeymoon, called the blue Aegean.
