UPTOWN WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH OFFICE SECURED

THE NEW OFFICE WILL BE OPENED IN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFICE IN MAYFLOWER HOTEL BLDG. APRIL 15TH.

The board of directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce held a busy session Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce room in the Hotel Mayflower building.

A letter was read from the Western Union Telegraph Company, stating that they would establish an uptown telegraph office in the Chamber of Commerce office, in compliance with the request made by the Chamber of Commerce recently.

The office will be opened on April 15th. The establishment of an uptown telegraph office will prove a great convenience to the public.

Through the efforts of Roy E. Crowe, local manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., one of the large display windows in the Detroit office of that company has been secured to make a display of Plymouth made products, which will be a great factor in helping to advertise Plymouth.

The committee who were appointed by President Deal to compile a budget for the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year, made their report at the meeting Monday evening.

The board decided to hold their meetings every Monday evening until a secretary has been elected.

An invitation has been extended to representatives of the Wayne Improvement association to meet with the board at their meeting next Monday. Wayne has a very successful association that has done much in promoting industrial enterprises and civic improvements in that village during the past two years.

The Chamber of Commerce have received several communications from industrial concerns who are looking for new locations.

FORD FARM IMPLEMENTS SOLD AT PUBLIC SALE

CROWD ESTIMATED AT 5,000 ATTENDS SALE OF FARM MACHINERY AT DEARBORN FARMS.

One of the largest auction sales ever held in this section was held at the Henry Ford farms at Dearborn, last week Thursday, February 21st. The sale included all makes of farm implements, harness and machinery. Harry C. Robinson, Plymouth's well-known and popular auctioneer conducted the sale in a manner that kept the interest of the prospective buyers at high pitch all during the sale.

From nine o'clock until late in the afternoon men rode to the field in cars until the crowd increased to about 5,000 men, practically all farmers. The buyers bought rows of farm implements, including hay-rakes, threshing machines, wagons, disc-harrows, and grain binders that brought prices ranging from $25 to 22 times that amount.

The prospective buyers were farmers from this immediate section and from every part of Michigan as well as men who drove to the sale from their farms in northern Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota. All participated in a noonday lunch served at the sale. The lunch consisted of sandwiches and soup, brought from a Dearborn lunch factory on trucks.

Three horses and several sets of harness also were sold during the afternoon.

The sale marks the close of the big farming activities of Mr. Ford at Dearborn.

FARM HOUSE BURNS NEAR PLYMOUTH

MAID RESCUES FOUR CHILDREN OF MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM DASCHNER AS ROOF FALLS IN.

A fire which completely destroyed the large house and contents on the farm just off the Wayne road, three miles east of Plymouth, owned by William Daschner, occurred last week Thursday afternoon about 1 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Daschner were in Detroit, while the four small children and maid, Miss Virginia Howard, were left in the home. Miss Howard was feeding the two little boys in the kitchen, when she discovered smoke, and entering the next room, where the 11-months-old twins were sleeping, was just in time to save them from death as the ceiling was caving in. She immediately rushed out with the other two, barely escaping before the entire roof fell.

There is a lake in the rear of the property, and a fence had been built around the yard to keep the children from the water, and they were obliged to remain in the greenhouse, in the enclosed yard, until men, attracted by the flames, broke down the fence to let them escape.

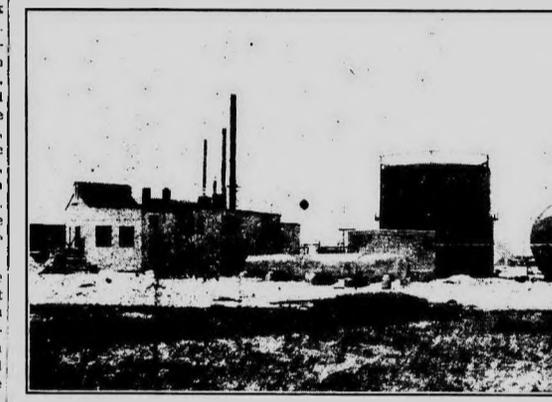

The house and contents were only partly insured.

The fire is supposed to have originated from an overheated furnace pipe, as it started evidently near the roof. The loss is estimated at about $15,000.

Local Merchants To Attend Trade Meet

A number of Plymouth merchants are planning to attend the third annual Better Merchandising Conference and Exposition to be held in the Masonic Temple at Detroit on March 13, 14 and 15.

Present plant of the Michigan Federated Utilities, Wayne County Division, at Plymouth.

The Michigan Federated Utilities Will Increase Capacity of Local Plant to 900,000 Cubic Feet Per Day.

The Expansion Program is Made Necessary With a Large Increase in the Sale of Industrial Gas.

The Michigan Federated Utilities will increase the capacity of the Plymouth plant from 500,000 cubic feet of gas per day to 900,000 cubic feet. In order to do this it will be necessary to install considerable new equipment and erect additional buildings. The expansion program of the local company is made necessary because of the increased sales of industrial gas which has come to the company recently by large users of gas in nearby communities now served by the local company. Among the new equipment that is to be installed is a five-foot water gas set and an additional coal gas oven. A new compressor house, 28x36 feet in size, constructed of brick, will house the present two compressors and one additional new one.

The storage capacity will be increased by the addition of a steel tank 25 feet and 7 inches in diameter and 107 feet in length, which has a holding capacity of 150,000 cubic feet of gas. Additional purifiers, exhausters and gas-cleaning apparatus will also be installed.

A brick garage and pipe shed, 30x30 feet in size, will also be another improvement. Two miles of 6-inch feeder main will be laid in Plymouth during the coming season.

The Michigan Federated Utilities not only serves Plymouth, but also Northville, Wayne and several neighboring subdivisions. When all the improvements at the local plant are completed it will be one of the best equipped and most modern plants of its kind in the country. The company renders a splendid service to their patrons and the rapidly increasing business which they are receiving is evidence that gas users appreciate this service.

Manager H. K. Wrench and Assistant Manager Perley H. Deal have had a large part in securing new business for the company and thereby extending their service over a large area of territory.

GENERAL PRIMARY ELECTION NEXT MONDAY, MARCH 4TH

Woman's Club Held Interesting Meeting

The Woman's club held a regular meeting Friday, February 22nd, at the Hotel Mayflower. Luncheon was served at one o'clock to about forty members. During the luncheon, the club, led by Mrs. Charles Ball, with Mrs. C. E. Walbridge at the piano, sang several patriotic songs, which were in keeping with the day.

Miss Carolina Penny entertained the club with a piano solo. This was followed by a reception for the new members, after which the business meeting was held, with the president, Mrs. D. N. McKinnon, presiding. The program was in charge of Division Ten, with Mrs. C. H. Buzzard as chairman.

A very interesting two act play, "The Lantern" was given by the Junior Dramatic club, under the direction of Miss Madge Johnson. The different parts were well taken and much praise should be given both director and youthful actors. The characters were as follows: Mrs. Brackett—Dorothy Hubert, Barbara Brackett—Irene Humphries, Deb Brackett—Zarepha Blunk, Tim Brackett—Billy Kirkpatrick, Jack Brackett—David Daly, Ben (cousin)—Bruce Miller, Alice (cousin)—Claire Roberts, Wat Roe (Tory Spy) Max Todd, Silak (Tory Spy) Joseph Ribar, British Officer—Harry Hallett, Capt. Dave Brackett—Gordon Roy, The General—Donald Proctor, Continental Soldiers and Sailors.

The next regular meeting will be held March eighth, at the Episcopal church. Luncheon will be served at one o'clock, by the ladies of the church. The program will be in charge of Division Eleven with Mrs. Charles Rathburn, chairman. Two one-act plays will be given, one by the members of the Division and the other by Mrs. Frank Bennett, of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Fred Burrows, and Miss Elizabeth Burrows.

AGED LADY PASSES AWAY.

Mrs. Rhoda J. Peck passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. T. Randall, 233 Blunk avenue, Friday, Feb. 22, 1929. Mrs. Peck had been ill for some time. She was the widow of the late Melvin Peck. The deceased was born in Delhi Center, Michigan, August 21, 1848. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. D. T. Randall, and three grandsons and two great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held from the Randall home Monday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. The remains were taken to Portland, Michigan, for interment.

OBITUARY.

Ansel Frederick Roddenberg, darling son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roddenberg, was born in Nankin township January 11, 1919, and departed this life February 21, 1929, aged 10 years, one month and 10 days. He spent all of his life in Plymouth. In 1919 his mother was called to the great beyond. He leaves to mourn their loss, a father, step-mother and sister and two grandmothers and one grandfather and a host of relatives and friends. The funeral was held at Schrader Bros. Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. E. A. Lendrum officiated and the body was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB CELEBRATED FOURTEENTH ANNIVERSARY TUESDAY

PROOF OF SCOUTING SEVENTEEN CLUBS OF DETROIT AREA SPONSORED BIRTHDAY PARTY AT BOOK-CADILLAC HOTEL LAST TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 26.

During Boy Scout anniversary week—from Feb. 8 to 14—Plymouth citizens saw the local troops of Boy Scouts on parade, so to speak. They went to church, decorated windows, demonstrated their oath and laws to a large audience, etc. Purposely the boys were in the public eye. But on the last afternoon of the anniversary week occurred an instance which proved the worth of the training the boys get in their membership in this great organization, and with true Scout spirit the tale of the good turn done would not have been known except that a Scoutmaster received a letter of appreciation from the mother of the boy who had been aided.

Chester Simpson, a Scout of Troop 12, and two companions were skiing. One of Chester's skis came off during a jump and his leg was broken—badly—when he landed. His two companions could do nothing for him, so went for aid to Harmon Roy's house on the Mill road. Mr. Roy, with Gordon Roy, a Troop 3 scout, and his younger brother, a Troop 3 boy, went to Chester's assistance. Gordon took two skis and with them and some overcoats belonging to the boys, made a Scout stretcher, which made it possible to carry the injured boy safely to the house, where the doctor and the boy's family were called. On the way to the hospital Chester told his mother that he didn't know what he would have done if "Ham" hadn't known just what to do. He would have lain in the snow for a long time otherwise. He didn't know any name for his friend but "Ham," but he knew he was a Scout from Troop 1, and so wanted his mother to notify Ham's Scoutmaster, and when Mrs. Simpson questioned Gordon the only credit the Scout took for himself was that he did no more than any other fellow would have done. Perhaps he didn't, but the fact remains that Gordon's Scout training taught him to "be prepared," and he was able to be of assistance because of that. Gordon is a good Scout.

HELD CANDIDATES MEETING.

A Candidates meeting under the auspices of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held in the Crystal dining room of the Hotel Mayflower last Monday evening with a good attendance. The speakers were Judge Clyde I. Webster, Judge Dewitt Merriman, Robert M. Toms, formerly prosecuting attorney of Wayne county and Louis Marina, attorney for League Aid in Detroit. The speakers touched upon the various problems that are coming up in the circuit court.

The speakers were introduced by Judge Phoebe Patterson of this place. It was a very successful meeting.

THE CENTRAL P. T. A. MEETS MARCH 4.

There will be a regular meeting of the Central School Parent-Teachers' association on Monday afternoon, March 4, at 8:30 o'clock in the kindergarten room. The program is in charge of Miss Farrand's room and consists of, first, a play, "The Coming of Spring"; second, a piano solo by Dawn Jacobs; third, two songs by four girls. Following the program there will be an important business meeting, it being the regular time for the annual election.

Local Grange Hear Interesting Lecture

Pleasantly transferred from their own world to the countries of the Balkan states, about eighty-five Grangers and their friends were entertained by a lecture given at the Grange hall at their last regular meeting on Thursday evening, Feb. 21, by Hackley Butler, of Ann Arbor. Mr. Butler, who has traveled extensively for the last 30 years, reviewed for us his journey through the Balkan states, describing the general conditions of those countries and giving interesting details of the quaint customs of the people of the different states.

The only part that disappointed us was the fact that owing to the lateness of the hour Mr. Butler shortened his talk, but he promised to come back in the near future with an illustrated talk on Russia.

Mr. Rounds, of the safety department of the Detroit Automobile club, entertained us with several songs and stories filled with humor and jokes, and the audience was kept laughing until he came to the serious part of his program by giving us a short talk on safety.

Both men were exceedingly interesting and all considered the evening very profitably spent.

SCOUTS AT THE SHOW

The three troops of Plymouth Boy Scouts and the Rosedale Gardens troop were entertained by Mansie Blunk at the second show at the Pennington Allen last Thursday evening while "Kit Carson" was being shown. Eighty-nine scouts and scout officers enjoyed Mr. Blunk's hospitality, which included candy bars at the close of the performance. All the scouts want to express their appreciation for this theatre party.

BETTER THINK TWICE.

There's an old saying that "what ever goes up must come down." That thousands do not believe in it is evident from the way the stock market has been conducting itself for the past year. A good many learned the truthfulness of the old saying a few weeks ago, when the Federal Reserve Board tightened up money rates and a lot of speculators "got hit." But thousands of others are still unmindful of the example. They are pouring their earnings into stocks that are now going up and up. Other thousands are even taking their hard-earned savings from the banks and using the money for speculative purposes. "Buy on a rising market" is Wall street's advice, and nobody seems to believe that "whatever goes up must come down."

It is not our desire to meddle in the business affairs of anyone in Plymouth, but this is our town, and everyone here is our neighbor, in whom we have an interest. For that reason we want to urge them to do a lot of sound, sober thinking before putting their money into the stock market. Older bankers and brokers are cautious and do not hesitate to shake their heads in a suggestive way. That should be warning enough for the man who isn't as well posted in stock exchange manipulations as they are. If they "smell a mouse" it's about time for the amateur speculator to keep his money in his pocket. The bottom must be due to drop out pretty soon or these conservative financiers would not be reminding us that "whatever goes up must come down."

A DIRE PREDICTION.

From Philadelphia comes a statement to the effect that at a recent meeting of medical men held there the prediction was made that the advent of spring would witness a return of the "flu" epidemic which recently swept over the entire country.

To be forewarned is to be forearmed, so whether or not these medical experts are correct in their forecast, it behooves us to be on the safe side and guard against it. While it strikes the average citizen as peculiar that the medical world has not yet discovered the "flu" germ, and hasn't yet found a positive cure for the disease, no one will be foolish enough to neglect his health in the belief that he or she will not be among the next list of victims. We know that such a disease exists; we know that several thousand deaths have been caused by it in various parts of the country within the past few months. We also know that, like any other epidemic, it is just as apt to break out in Plymouth as anywhere else. Knowing this, we would be foolish to ignore the prediction of physicians that it will probably return with the end of winter and the arrival of spring weather.

We hope it turns out that the medical men were mistaken; but we have no means of knowing that they will be, so let us not run any unnecessary risk. It is easy enough to be on the safe side by doctoring a cold the moment you begin contracting it, and seeing that other members of the family do the same thing. There is no excuse for ignoring it and probably being responsible for an epidemic that might sweep the entire community.

FEWER CITY GARDENS.

According to the National Garden Bureau, city vegetable gardens are fast disappearing. Due to the auto, there has been a drop of 13 per cent in the sale of vegetable seeds in cities and a gain of 11 per cent in flower seed sales. City folks used to grow vegetable gardens for recreation but now autos provide them with pleasure more to their taste. They can spin into the country and buy vegetables, or get them about as good right in the city markets, for gardeners are now getting their stuff to market faster than ever before. But the vegetable garden is still popular among residents of our smaller towns. Residents in towns like Plymouth find gardens economical. Gardens enable them to keep down expenses not only in spring and summer, but provide them with much that they need for the fall and winter months. The garden hasn't been supplanted by the auto in our smaller towns—and it's a good thing for our smaller towns that it hasn't.

IT'S WORTH IT.

It strikes us that it's about time to give the beauty doctors, style experts and makers of wrinkle eradicators a vote of thanks. They are fast removing the line that for years marked the boundary between the young people and the old folks. There was a time, and older citizens of Plymouth can readily recall it, when at a certain age men and women were relegated to a place by the fireside to twiddle their thumbs, toast their toes and talk over childhood days. Today we recognize that youth needs old age and its experience. Experience is worth more today than it ever was before and the man who has experience to sell can readily find a market for it. No wonder we're spending millions of dollars annually with beauty doctors, barbers and lotion makers. We're wiping out the old age line, or at least setting it farther ahead—and that's worth anything it costs us.

WORTH LEARNING.

Nobody gets very far in the way of thrift these days, or lays by a decent saving account, until he learns that it costs just as much to have anything charged as it does to pay cash for it. It hurts to take the money out of your pocket and buy a suit of clothes or a hat. Charging it seems to reduce the pain. But the amount is just the same, and the chances are that next month you may find no easier to pay than it is now. The man who finds it difficult to make both ends meet should try the "cash and carry" method wherever it is at all possible to do so. Laying down the cash for something may not seem any more sensible than having it charged, but try paying cash for a month or so and see if there really isn't a difference. Try it and see if it won't reduce worries on the first of each month, as well as paving the way to a little fatter savings account, or more ready money when you need it most.

Employee Loses Teeth; Company Loses Lawsuit

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—An attempt to demonstrate to a jury that rubber his company produced was of high quality cost Edward Babcock two front teeth. A St. Louis rubber company was being sued for selling alleged rotten rubber. Babcock placed one end of a piece of rubber in his mouth and asked a jurymen to pull on the other. He did, and two of Babcock's teeth rolled across the courtroom floor. An outbreak of laughter came from spectators in the courtroom as Babcock opened his mouth and disclosed the gap.

Incidentally, the rubber company lost its case.

VENEZUELAN EXILE WORKS IN GOTHAM

Girl Driven From Country for Political Reasons.

New York.—Ten weeks ago Carmen Gil Martinez, a fragile girl of nineteen, was the glamorous heroine of a youthful revolt against dictatorship in Venezuela.

Today she is a New York factory girl, doing embroidery for $15 a week. She was snatched by police from the home of her parents and exiled from her native land. She had protested against the sending of college boys to slave beneath the tropic sun as conscripts on the fever-infested roads of the Venezuelan jungle because they had demonstrated against the dictatorship of the aged president, Juan Vicente Gomez.

It is mid-October in the capital city of Caracas, which for many months has been seething with student rebellion that violence cannot quench. Just now it is especially hotting, for within the week 300 boys, many in their early teens, have been sent to the road gangs. Their offense? Signing letters of protest against the political imprisonment of others.

Girl in Pulpit.

The last notes of Sunday morning's nine o'clock mass have just died away in the great church of San Francisco. Before the worshippers can leave their pews the slim figure of a girl springs forward into the pulpit. Over her short black hair is the black cap of students, a tight beret.

Students recognize her. See, it is Carmen!

"Brothers!" she cries. "Now pray with me for the lives of those students that are dying now upon the roads, of heat and starvation! Pray with me for the end of this tyranny of Gomez that for the last 20 years has slain us!"

The congregation falls upon its knees, and from a thousand throats rushes an impromptu litany. A priest stands motionless in surprise, but now he cries:

"Not so loud! They will hear."

Breaking away from the admiring students, she goes home and stays all day with her mother. Her father, a traveling salesman, is away. In the morning policemen come. Two sit inside the house. Two stand outside. They stay for two weeks, two weeks of suspense. What will be done to Carmen? They can't put her in a road gang.

Exiled from Country.
At last the word comes. She must leave the country. The government has bought her a ticket on the Red D freighter Lara, sailing, October 28 for New York. It will give her the $50 required to pass Ellis Island.

"But she cannot go alone!" cries Senora Gil Martinez, her mother. And so after some argument it is agreed that the government also shall pay the way of her brother, Guillermo, twenty-three, as a chaperon.

"I am sorry to see you go," says Rafael Maria Velasco, governor of Caracas, courteously. "I hope I shall see you some time in New York."

"Oh, when you are thrown out I shall return," says Carmen.
Carmen did not tell her story this way. She speaks no English. It came forth in fragments through the broken English of her interpreter, Amador Pardo, one of the thousands of young Venezuelans who have left their country because of political dissidence. When Carmen and her brother arrived in New York she had a letter to Pennan. He took them to live in his home. He got Guillermo a job with him, polishing brass. Carmen went to work with other Spanish girls in an embroidery place nearby, the first South American girl exiled from her country for political reasons.

Julius L. Berns for Circuit Judge

Speeding up work of the circuit courts in Wayne county has been the subject of much discussion since the opening of the campaign for the nomination of 14 candidates for judge-ships, to be decided at the primary election on March 4. The docket of cases in the circuit court is practically three years behind and the difficulty of procuring jurors is pointed to by many as one of the causes of delay.

Julius L. Berns, Republican candidate for one of the judgeships, strongly favors a plan for selection of jurors that he believes will result in increasing the efficiency of the whole court system, providing high class jurors on one hand and leaving the courts with adequate time each day to complete their labors.

Berns' plan is to have jurors serve in court sessions from 9 o'clock each morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, with practically continuous sessions during that period. This would enable business men called for jury service to have the afternoons each day of their term for their own business affairs, and also leave the afternoons of the judges open for chancery and other court work not requiring the presence of jurors.

"At present it is very hard for business men to give their time to jury service," said Attorney Berns, "as such service means that they must leave their business entirely while their terms as jurors last. The result is that the very class of men and women best adapted to be jurors are unable to serve at all and obtain expenses from the courts. If they had only to serve a half day and could devote the rest of the time to their own affairs it would be much easier to get the best qualified people to serve."

Long experience as municipal counsel for Grosse Pointe Park, Melvindale and other towns and cities adjacent to Detroit has qualified Julius Berns for judicial work and for constructive suggestions as to increasing court efficiency. He was the first candidate in the present campaign to go on record as opposed to the plan now before the state legislature to have judges appointed to life terms in office. Under the American system of government, he declares, authority is divided equally between the executive, legislative and judicial departments. To have the judges named to office would put the courts under the domination of the persons who do the appointing and would deprive the people of the right to pass on the merits of judges at elections, he holds.

His stand on these points has brought much support to Mr. Berns from persons in all walks of life.

ATLANTA BOY, 13, IS A SKYSCRAPER

Youth Is Growing Toward New Altitude Mark.

Atlanta, Ga.—How would you like to be thirteen again—but seven feet two inches tall?

That is the age and height of Henry Mullins of Atlanta. He hopes to be a football star at Georgia Tech some day. Doctors say the trouble—if it can be called that—is caused by overactivity of the youth's pituitary gland, a ductless organ below the brain. Such overactivity causes the rise of most giants.

Henry Mullins is in the seventh grade in school. His report card is usually worth showing to his father and mother—A's and B's. On top of that he is a good golf player. He goes around in the 80's and some of his drives are 250 yards.

Henry doesn't look toward golf for success, however. "All the club handles are too short, anyway. I want to be a boxer and a football player, but I can't find anybody to box with me," he said.

Henry's shoes are size 14. The rest of his attire is in proportion.

He plays end on the high school football team, center on the basketball team. He drops some baskets in without poking his hand over his head. He played first base in baseball and was utility man on the mound. Henry is a wow in sports!

C. E. Mullins, a six footer, brother of the young giant, claims his big brother eats only about as much as the average thirteen-year-old boy eats, "only it goes farther."

If Henry keeps on growing—and he doesn't want to—he will, by averages with normally sized humans—leap into something like ten feet of humanity—a world's record. However, doctors are going to give some treatments to that little pituitary gland.

Millikan Machine Picks It Out of Last Barrel.

Pasadena, Calif.—When one of Dr. Robert A. Millikan's electroscopes, developed in connection with his cosmic ray experiments, was enlisted as a detective, a problem as difficult as "looking for a needle in a haystack" was solved within two hours.

Through the use of the delicate instrument $4,000 worth of radium which was accidentally thrown out with some ashes at the Pasadena hospital was recovered.

John Ransom, California Institute of Technology technician, was sent to the hospital with one of the cosmic ray machines and, after barrel after barrel of ashes had been brought in front of the electroscopes the instrument indicated that radium was present in the last barrel.

While hospital officials anxiously watched the proceedings in the basement of the institution the barrel containing the capsule filled with fifty milligrams of the most precious substance in the world was emptied into small boxes. It was only when the observers were about to give up hope that the brass tube, about the size of a match-end, was discovered in the last box.

The electroscopes, it was stated, pick up the radium emanations, being so sensitive that it can record them from a radiolite watch. Two quartz fibers that are suspended almost together are charged with electricity, which repels them. When the fibers are exposed to radium, which absorbs electricity from the air, they are brought together, the speed with which they approach each other indicating the amount of radium in the vicinity. No matter how minute the radium particles, the instrument is said to be capable of detecting them at a distance of 100 feet.

The radium which was recovered is the property of Dr. Paul Ferrier, and is one of the two largest supplies of the precious substance in this city.

Sails Over Earthquake; Feels Ship "Hit Bottom"

Washington, D. C.—Sailing over an earthquake that was sufficiently severe to be felt by seismographs throughout the world was the experience of a British ship, the Magaldi, that has just been reported to the hydrographic office here.

The report incidentally confirms the location of the quake made on December 2, the day after it happened, by the United States coast and geodetic survey, with the aid of telegraphic data gathered from a number of observatories by Science Service.

Capt. W. S. Sumles, the steamer's commander, reported that on December 1, while en route from Talcahuano to Tocopilla, Chile, they felt three heavy bumps as if the vessel had struck bottom. Their position was latitude 35 degrees 33.5 minutes south and longitude 72 degrees 54 minutes west, where the charts show a depth from 400 to 600 feet. Careful examination showed that no damage was done.

According to Commander N. H. Heck, in charge of the coast and geodetic survey's earthquake investigations, the ship must have been very close to the center, or it would not have been felt as it was. The three bumps, he thinks, were due to three separate shocks, of which probably only one was severe enough to set up the earthquake waves which traveled around the earth and permitted the seismologists to locate it when they were received on the seismographs.

Dragons May Be Dead, but Their Blood Stays

Medan, Sumatra.—Fairy tales of knights and dragons may pass with more credulous generations, but trade in dragon blood goes on.

Only the modern dragon blood is a red gum obtained from the ripe fruit of palm trees growing in Siam and the Dutch East Indies, which finds prosaic uses in pharmacy and for coloring varnish.

Production is purely a native industry, the American consul reports. Although some natives have lands planted to palms, most of them use the wild trees as a source of supply and sell the blood, obtained by steaming, crushing or both, to Chinese traders in the villages.

When traders have acquired considerable quantities they ship to Chinese dealers in Penang and Singapore, Straits Settlements, whence the material is exported to Europe and America.

New Forests Will Cost More Than $6,000,000

Washington. — Embracing Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, the new Great Lakes district, to be known as national forest district No. 9, already contains ten national forest units with a total of nearly 1,200,000 acres of government land.

W. M. Jurdine, secretary of agriculture, has appointed Earl S. Tinker district forester, with temporary headquarters at Madison, Wis.

In recognition of the acute need which exists in this region for reclamation of large areas of land adapted to timber production but at present denuded and unproductive, the national forest reservation commission has approved a program contemplating eventual acquisition of an additional 2,500,000 acres of land in the three states. The purchase program will involve the expenditure of more than $6,000,000 of federal funds.

Frogs Learn Geometry, Experimenter Declares

Berlin, Germany.—Frogs are not so dumb as they look. They can learn a simple proposition in geometry, as that a square is not a triangle. And they will remember their lesson for a little while at least if they are paid for it.

A European experimenter, S. Blodermann, has reported the results of tests on the learning capacity of frogs. He set square and triangular blocks in pairs before his squat pupils. One block would have a detachable insect attached to it, the other would have nothing. After a sufficient number of repetitions the frog would learn that one shape was associated with the idea of food, the other with the idea of remaining empty; and when both blocks were presented without the accustomed bait the frog would hop expectantly to the one that had hitherto served as his dinner table.

A number of different species of frogs and toads were thus "educated." Tree frogs proved to be the most apt pupils.

Baby of No Cash Value Ontario Court Decides

Hamilton, Ont.—Judge Elliot of Halton county has ruled that a nine-months-old child is of no cash value to its parents.

This ruling was made known recently in the suit of John Ashwood of Toronto against Ross McPhail of this city, for damages for the death of their son, William, in August, 1927. The men were involved in an auto crash near Oakville, the baby dying of a fractured skull.

The judge said a child was only a remote source of remuneration; that he was a liability, and that no allowance, but only sympathy, could go to the grief-stricken parents.

Bees Buzz Busily for 800,000 in U. S.

Madison, Wis.—More than 800,000 people in the United States are keeping bees and the value of the honey crop runs from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 annually, figures compiled by H. F. Wilson of the agricultural staff of the University of Wisconsin reveal.

Wilson says beekeeping has splendid prospects for the future and great possibilities in almost every state. However, he insists, the industry lacks leadership and finance.

R. M. Toms a Leading Candidate for Judge

One of the most active candidates for circuit judge at the coming judicial primary is Robert M. Toms, former prosecuting attorney, who retired from that office on Jan. 1, when James E. Chenot, his former chief assistant, took over the reins. Mr. Toms' candidacy is receiving widespread support in the county because of his creditable record for two terms as prosecuting attorney. It is also recalled that he assisted Governor Groesbeck's commission in drafting and sponsoring the new criminal code which placed Michigan in the forefront of progressive states in modern criminal statutes which were passed by the 1927 legislature. Speaking of the contention in the circuit court, Mr. Toms said: "Justice which lags is no better than no justice at all. Speeding up legal proceedings is very largely dependent upon the zeal and temperament of the judge, as well as upon more modern methods of court procedure. If the people are to continue to have respect for our laws and our courts every method must be employed to secure a prompt administration of justice."

Koscinski, Circuit Court Candidate, Well Known Here

Arthur A. Koscinski, candidate for circuit judge, known personally to many readers of this newspaper, comes from a family of Polish pioneers in the City of Detroit. He is 41 years of age. For nearly 40 years he has resided in the City of Detroit. He attended the parochial schools of the Sweetest Heart of Mary and took St. Adalbertus course of study at the St. Cyril and Methodius seminary. Mr. Koscinski was chosen as the president of the Mutual association of the St. Cyril and Methodius seminary. He completed his law studies at the University of Michigan in June, 1919 and since then he has been continuously in practice in Detroit. Mr. Koscinski was one of the first two public administrators appointed in Wayne county during the administration of Governor Groesbeck and was retained in this position since the advent of Governor Green's administration. As public administrator Mr. Koscinski is directly connected with the office of the attorney general of the State of Michigan and receives the aid and co-operation of that office in the discharge of his duties. For the past two years Mr. Koscinski has been a director of and attorney for the Michigan State Bank of Detroit, corner Forest and Chene streets, where he also conducts his law office on the second floor of the bank building.

TURKEY MAY LOSE PRETTY FATIMAS

Name Reform to Be Undertaken by Ghazi.

Angora, Turkey.—Fourteen million Turks are in frantic search of a family name. Warning signals have been up for some time that the ghazi was contemplating a name reform and now a commission has been formed to frame a law.

All the Fatimas, Mustaphas, Husseins and Hassans of this land where family names have never existed will be obliged to concoct a Turkish counterpart for Smith, Jones and Brown, and tag it to their given names. The confusion arising from the fact that hundreds of thousands of women are all called by the same name of Fatima and hundreds of thousands of men by the same tag, Mustapha, has brought about this next accidental reform of champion reformer Kemal.

In prescribing family names for his Turks, the ghazi is once again flouting Koranic precept. It is said that the reason for the absence of family names among the Moslem Turks is to be found in a verse from the Koran which exhorts: "Be not proud of your father's, your grandfather's or your ancestors' names. It is what you are yourself that counts."

Woman Chemist Delves Into Mystery of Coal

Pittsburgh, Pa.—The value of a lump of coal is engaging the attention of Milada Friedlova, twenty-four, research chemist from Czechoslovakia. Miss Friedlova devotes nearly all her time to the study of coal analysis and heat experimentation at Carozie Institute of Technology. She spent nine years at the University of Prague and the last four years has been doing chemical research work in the state higher industrial school of Prague. The young woman was among the forty or more graduates sent to the United States under the auspices of the Masaryk Academy of Work and the American-English Council for Research in the mutual interest of the homeland and the country visited. She is an attractive brunette and has translated several scientific Czechoslovakian publications into German and English.

GRANGE NOTES

The last regular meeting of Plymouth Grange, No. 388, was held at the hall last Thursday evening, with a very large attendance. In the absence of Worthy Master Spicer, our worthy overseer, John Hank, conducted the business meeting. There were fourteen new members given the first and second degrees, after which a fine program was presented by the lecturer.

Opening song—"America." Reading—"George Washington."—Lester Duly. Readings—Ruth Root. Mr. and Mrs. Rounds, who are with the safety department of the Detroit Automobile club, were next on the program and were met with a hearty welcome, as many from here have heard them before and knew what was in store, as they are very good entertainers. Hensley Butler, of Ann Arbor, who has traveled extensively in Europe, gave a very fine talk on "The People of the Balkan States," giving each one an idea of how people live in other countries, and was enjoyed by all, but regretted very much that the evening could not have been longer, as his talk was so interesting, but hope to have him with us again in the near future.

Louise Spicer and some other local members gave us a stunt showing how operations were performed at the Michigan State college, causing much laughter. The meeting was well worth coming to and hope we may have just as large a crowd at the next one. Wayne County Pomona Grange was held at the Grange hall Saturday, Feb. 23. A business meeting was held at 11 o'clock and about 1 o'clock one hundred and twenty-five people were seated in the dining room and served a delicious dinner, to which all did ample justice. In the afternoon a very interesting program was presented by the lecturer, Mrs. Ross, of Belleville, consisting of songs, readings and monologues. N. P. Hall, of Lansing, was the speaker, and his talks are always enjoyed. The Metrol children, accompanied by their mother, in their pleasing manner sang two songs, after which there were short talks by Mrs. Edith Wager and Louise Spicer. The muster then invited the Grangers to meet at Flat Rock for the next Pomona meeting. The next regular meeting will be held at the hall Thursday, March 7. The usual pot-luck dinner at noon and business meeting and program in the afternoon.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear loving husband and father, Fred Bever, who passed away five years ago, February 28. Gone but not forgotten. We loved him, yes we loved him. But "Jesus" loved him more. So He called him to yonder shining shore. The Golden Gates swung open And a voice said come. And with a farewell unspoken. He calmly entered in, and is at home. Wife and children.

NEWBURG

FATHER AND SON BANQUET.

The father and son banquet given at the Newburg Ladies' Aid hall was a huge success. The dining room was attractively decorated in red, white and blue, with pots of tulips and primroses as centerpieces.

The sumptuous dinner, served so nicely by the ladies, was enjoyed by about eighty-seven dads and lads. The program, which was interspersed with songs, led by Orson Bacon, was presided over by James McNabb, who served most proficiently as toast-master for the occasion. Rustling Cutler very capably gave the toast of the sons to the fathers. A fine piano solo was given by Oscar Luttermoser, which was followed by Fred Geney, who fittingly responded with a toast to the sons. Calvin Whipple rendered two appropriate solos, "The Poor Old Man" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile," which were thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Mr. McNabb then introduced Wallace Watt, Boy Scout executive of Washtenaw county, who in his fine way spoke to the fathers and sons on responsibilities to each other.

Prizes were awarded to the oldest father present, Samuel Guthrie, who is 86 years young; James Brand received the prize for having the youngest son; Samuel Guthrie, Jr., received the prize for being the youngest father; Floyd Bassett received the prize for having the largest family, and Donald Ryder for having the largest problem. Mr. McNabb was presented with a pot of flowers for his activities in making the banquet a success and for the attendance of "his seven sons."

It is planned to make the father and son activities an annual affair in Newburg. Everyone present felt that they were well worth while.

Rev. Johnson preached a fine sermon to the dads and lads that were present Sunday to hear him.

There were 95 in attendance in Sunday school. The blue side, with Clyde Smith as captain, had the most points in the hill-top race. A supper will be served by the losing side when the contest closes.

Wallace Watts, superintendent of the Boy Scouts of Washtenaw county, gave a very interesting talk at the church Sunday evening.

Mr. Watts, of Ann Arbor, with Rev. Johnson met at the home of Robert Holmes Thursday evening to see about organizing a Boy Scout company at Newburg. The boys of the community are very enthusiastic about it.

The hard times social at the hall last Friday evening was a decided success, given under the auspices of Mrs. Thomas' division of the L. A. S. Mrs. Harwood and James McNabb, Evon Hearn and Bud Holmes won the prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. March, of Detroit, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie.

Mrs. Melvin Guthrie and Mrs. Clyde Smith were guests of Mrs. Farwell Brand last Thursday at a luncheon and bridge party at the Dearborn Country club.

Harmon Smith, Mrs. Bessie Dunning and daughter, Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hayball, of Plymouth, were callers at the Ryder homestead Saturday afternoon.

Donald Ryder, of the U. of M., spent the week-end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ryder.

Miss Joy McNabb, of Albion college, spent the latter part of the week at the parental home.

Don't fail to hear Prof. Frey, of the State Normal, talk Sunday evening. Come and bring your friends.

Spearing fish at Walled Lake seems to be all the rage these days.

Last Thursday the house of W. J. Daschner, with all the contents, was burned to the ground. The family were all absent at the time. The house was built by Ebenezer Smith about 50 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder attended a Kiwanis banquet at the Book-Cadillac hotel, Detroit, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Ostrandor and mother, of Wayne, took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy.

Floyd Schultz, who has been ill for some time, was taken to the University hospital at Ann Arbor Wednesday.

Quite a delegation of young people went to Romulus Tuesday evening to attend a supper meeting of the Epworth league.

Elden Geney is suffering with an attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

REPUBLICAN BALLOT VOTE MONDAY, MARCH 4

WATERFORD

The Waterford Ladies' Community club met with Mrs. Rheiner last Thursday evening for their regular pot-luck supper and pedro party. The new name for the club is Get-together club. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Herrick on March 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gotts and children spent Sunday afternoon and evening with relatives in Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. King motored Thursday to Redford for the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, of Fordson, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Perkins.

Harward Endorsed By Prominent Lawyers

Frederic T. Harward, candidate for circuit judge on the Republican ticket, was born in Richmond Maine, Dec. 9, 1872, son of a Maine sea captain and ship builder. He graduated from Williams college in 1894 and from the law department of Yale university in 1897. He has been practicing law in Detroit 31 years and has been a trial lawyer for most of that time. He has tried some 1,500 civil cases and was admitted to the supreme court of the United States in 1903. He has been engaged in many important trials, some of which have had national prominence. He believes judicial elections should be strictly non-partisan. He has the endorsement of prominent lawyers of the city. Honorable Alexis C. Angell, formerly United States court judge and son of a former president of the University of Michigan, and himself a noted lawyer, says:

"I feel from my extended acquaintance with Mr. Harward that he is fitted by education, experience, character and temperament to be judge and I am therefore going to vote for him."

Mr. Harward was endorsed by the Bar association at the bar primary.

Signal Hill, Calif., Claims Title as Richest City

Long Beach, Calif.—The richest city in the world is Signal Hill. That is, for its size it is the richest.

The title was claimed in a report filed by the captain of its fire department. According to his statement, each of the 1,373 acres of producing oil land included within the city's boundaries bears an average assessed valuation of $19,500, or a total of $29,707,000 for the entire city.

The same report placed the per capita wealth at $6,920.

Signal Hill has existed as a corporate city for a little more than five years. It withdrew from the jurisdiction of Long Beach as a result of the enormous oil activities then going on. It is this wealth of petroleum products that is held responsible for its financial position.

Wood Outlasts Steel
The average life of a wooden sailing vessel is about 30 years; that of a steel steam vessel, about 20 years.

Brown Well Qualified For Judicial Office

The many friends of Arthur E. Brown, prominent attorney and Republican candidate for circuit judge, declare that he has a depth of human understanding which always is a desirable quality in a judge.

Mr. Brown is 36 years of age—old enough to have judicial poise and young enough to have many years of usefulness ahead of him.

He is a native of Michigan and is a member of the Kiwanis and Cadillac Athletic clubs. He is a past commander of George Washington post of the American Legion. Mr. Brown holds a commission as captain in the 182nd Field Artillery, Michigan National Guard, and has command of B. Battery.

Mr. Brown has made an enviable record as a practicing attorney in all of the courts during the past ten years, and is highly qualified for the judicial office he seeks, according to various leading attorneys.

Mr. Brown believes that the present congested condition of the Wayne circuit court can be in a large measure relieved by commencing a new docket of all new cases started and placing all old cases on a special docket and additional judges from outside circuits in the state be brought here and, put to work on the old docket.

Writer Is Sponsor for Big Turnip Marathon

Orlando, Fla. — Katherine Holland Brown, who won a $25,000 magazine prize in the latter part of 1927 with her novel, "The Father," believes that there are other things in life than the business of being a successful novelist.

One, she believes, is conducting turnip-growing contests among the negroes of Orlando, where she maintains her winter home, and in five nearby towns.

Miss Brown offered prizes for the best "back yard" turnips grown within a limited time upon the premises of the contestants in Orlando. She turned her awards upon the decisions of a trio of judges. The plan received approval of interracial welfare workers, and coincidentally with her work on another novel and a group of short stories, the author is conducting turnip contests in five towns in central Florida.

WILL STUDY PLANS FOR HOME GARDENS

Use Train To Show Best Kind of Seed

HIGHER COST OF BETTER SEED IS RETURNED WITH EXTRA DIVIDEND.

East Lansing—Improved seed corn for Michigan fields costs less per acre and probably returns a greater extra dividend than a similar grade of seed for any other crop which is grown in the state. One of the lessons taught on the "better seed train" which will visit Michigan towns.

The importance of better seeds of all kinds has caused Michigan State college and the New York Central railroad to co-operate in running a special seed train through several counties in southeastern Michigan. Lectures and moving pictures will be used to tell the story of increased profits from good seeds.

Barley will be one of the crops featured on the train. This cereal is becoming increasingly popular in the state because it yields a large amount of excellent feed per acre. A limited quantity of Spartan barley, a variety recently developed at the college, will be distributed for demonstration plantings from the train. The schedule announced for the train is: March 4, Lapeer; March 5, Chesaning, Owosso, St. Charles; March 6, Saginaw, Bay City; March 7, Munger, Reese, Vassar; March 8, Owendale, Caro, Millington; March 9, Oxford; March 11, Lapeer, Metamora, Columbusville; March 12, Grass Lake, Choseua; March 13, Jackson, Leslie; March 14, Mason, Hanover; March 15, Hillsdale, Litchfield, Albion; March 16, Eaton Rapids.

Minnesota Leads All in Radios in Homes

St. Paul.—Minnesota leads all the states in the ratio of radios to homes. California is second, according to a recent study of radio distribution. Of every 100 homes in Minnesota, 68 have radio sets. California is second with 58 sets per 100 homes. Florida third with 48, and New Mexico is lowest with 6 sets. Of each 100 homes in this country 20 have radio sets, according to the survey.

COURSE OFFERS PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE AS WELL AS THEORETICAL TRAINING.

The gardener has his innings in the short course which will be given by the horticultural department at Michigan State College, March 25 to 29.

The course furnishes material for plant growers, whether they are interested in growing vegetables to supply the table or flowers to enhance the beauty of the home or its grounds. The students will get theoretical training and then will be required to put this information into practice in the laboratory periods which are a part of the course.

The most effective planting plans and the most suitable means for starting the various plants will be discussed the first day. Seeds, bulbs, slips, and cuttings will be used in acquainting the students with the various methods of plant propagation.

Friendly insects which are the gardener's aids and bugs which are the bane of his existence will be measured and finger-printed during the week, and the best ways of preparing poisonous lunches for plant assassins will be considered.

The College horticulturists say that properly planted shrubs attract birds to the home grounds, and these feathered friends are not only decorative but also aid the gardener in his warfare against insects. One period during the week is devoted to a discussion of the plantings which are attractive to birds.

Anyone interested in plant propagation is invited to enroll in the course.

Ice Cream Now Popular Dessert in Switzerland

Washington.—Switzerland has ratified America's choice of ice cream as a national dessert, the Commerce department has been informed by its Swiss representative.

Before the war ice cream could be obtained only in the better restaurants and clubs of Switzerland. Among the common people it was almost unknown.

Then several big dairymen started a campaign to popularize this American dessert. As a result, Switzerland now consumes 125,000 gallons, or an estimated per capita quota of one eighth quart, each year.

Family Has Prodigy

Paris, France.—Jean LaForge, restaurant and clarinet soloist, has a prodigy in the family. His son three and one-half years old, plays the violin and nine other instruments. When fourteen months old he hummed.

Extreme Temperatures

A drop of 300 degrees in an hour or two is experienced on the moon during a total eclipse. Observations indicate that the normal temperature of the moon's surface drops from 170 degrees Fahrenheit immediately before the eclipse to 100 degrees below zero during the total eclipse.

PASTOR TAKES POST ON "LONELIEST ISLE"

Dauntless Padre Sees Rats as Worst Problem.

Southampton, England.—An adventurous clergyman, Rev. Augustus Partridge, has sailed from here for his new station in "the world's loneliest island," Tristan da Cunha.

The dauntless padre—a bachelor—already has suffered the perils and hardships of frontier posts in distant South African and South American fields.

With his Bible and "vest pocket" organ, as inspiration and aids to his labors, Mr. Partridge is taking with him to Tristan a huge supply of rat poison. For rats are the fiercest creatures in this lonely ocean oasis.

The traveling preacher—still on the sunny side of middle age—has a vigorous frame and trim figure. It was just recently that he returned home to London from his ministry in Brazil. But when he heard that the chaplain at Tristan da Cunha was sick and must be relieved he volunteered at once for the uninviting task.

Serves in Africa.

After serving during the war in the British Red Cross, Mr. Partridge entered the Anglican ministry and soon responded to the call for foreign service in the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. He went out to South Africa and in the Johannesburg mining districts—rough and unruly as mining countries are—he took charge of three churches, one of these for natives.

"I had to rush about from one church to another on my motor bike," he said, in relating his adventures, "and they called me 'the Flying Parson.'"

"One day a native woman came running to me, her face streaming with blood. She had been attacked by some superstitious persons, both Christian and non-Christian, who charged that she had buried a charm in front of the church and caused the death of a native deacon."

"I put on all my canonical vestments to overawe the crowd. Then I went out and dug up the ground myself to show them there was no charm there. I had to excommunicate the church members who had attacked the poor woman."

Santos a Hard Field.

After other like trials, Mr. Partridge was transferred across the Atlantic to Santos, the great Brazilian coffee port. The young clergyman found this city a strenuous field. Carousing sailors, reckless beach-combers, and down-and-outers of many nationalities destroyed the peace of the place and made his life one fight after another.

But in this new island station the preacher no longer will have to struggle with violent men and worse women. Tristan's population is not much more than 100. Its farmers and fishermen are described as moral and religious, industrious and hospitable; they have no alcoholic liquors, and they have no crime among them.

The new chaplain will have charge of the education of the children of the island, who are contented prisoners on the little area of 16 square miles.

Filipino Students Told to Learn Trades in U. S.

Manila.—The Philippine government will henceforth tell students who are sent to the United States what courses to study. An oversupply of physicians and lawyers in the islands has led to a shortage of technically trained college graduates.

In view of the big demand for technologists and experts in the industrial arts they will be permitted to study only fish, meat and vegetable canning and other such industries.

Heretofore government students, or pensionados, as they are known locally, were free to choose their careers. In most instances they took up law, medicine, education and similar academic courses. Upon returning to the Philippines they found difficulty in obtaining work, since these professions were crowded. Many of them returned to the United States, thus yielding the Philippine government no return for the money spent for their education.

South America Buys German Made Planes

Berlin.—Germany's aircraft industry will bid high and vigorously for a lion's share of the South American demand. The move will be aimed at powerful French competitors.

Germans have done much pioneer work in the development of aerial transportation in various South American republics. In the first ten months of 1928, ten German machines were shipped to Brazil, where the Condor syndicate maintains a regular service from Rio Janeiro to Rio Grande do Sul, with planned extension to Montevideo and Buenos Aires, while a German group in Peru has secured a concession for establishing air services with neighboring countries.

In Bolivia the Aero Lloyd Boliviano, a German enterprise operating with a German staff and German machines, conducts that country's air services.

Knew Where to Look

Milwaukee, Wis.—Not in the haunts of the underworld, but in a courtroom. Milwaukee police started to round up persons suspected of being vagrants or crooks. They arrested 15 men in Judge George Shaughnessy's court.

Merrill E. Silverstein A Competent Candidate

The candidacy of Merrill E. Silverstein for circuit judge is going forward with great strides.

Mr. Silverstein has long been known as a friend of the needy, and has on a great many occasions protected the interests of those who were really in need of services for which they were unable to pay.

Mr. Silverstein was the attorney for Fred Smith, known as the "mistake prisoner" at Jackson prison, and who was forced to serve six years of a sentence and on a crime of which he was not concerned in. This case received nation-wide publicity when it was shown on a hearing at Jackson in July of 1928 that Smith was a victim of mistaken identity.

Mr. Silverstein is a Michigan man, having been born in Harrison, Mich.; is 39 years of age and was graduated from high school in 1907 and the law department of the University of Michigan in 1911. In 1915 he was appointed circuit court commissioner for the County of Charlevoix by Governor Albert E. Sleeper and served in that capacity until he entered the military service. After his discharge from the service in 1919 he commenced the practice of law in the City of Detroit.

He has been engaged in the general practice of law for a period of 17 years and the practice being both civil and criminal; all phases of litigation have been covered. By virtue of such general practice he is well qualified for the position on the Wayne circuit bench which he is now seeking.

Mr. Silverstein is advocating the abandonment of the two months' vacation period for judges until such time as the docket of the Wayne circuit court is brought up to date so that all litigants may have their day in court.

Durability of Wood

The time of cutting wood has very little effect upon its durability if the timber is properly cured for after-ward. Late fall or winter cutting is simplest, as the wood seasons more slowly and with less checking, and by winter weather is seasoned enough to be less susceptible to borers and fungi. There is, however, practically no difference in moisture content of green wood in winter and summer.

Dean of Circuit Court Up for Re-election

On the ballot for Circuit Court Judges for next Monday, appears the name of Judge Clyde I. Webster.

Judge Clyde I. Webster has been a member of the Circuit Court bench for this county since November 6th, 1917. It is understood that he has served on the bench in this county continuously longer than any Judge on the Circuit Bench and is therefore the Dean of the Circuit Court.

CLYDE I. WEBSTER

Before being elected to the Circuit Court bench he was appointed U. S. District Attorney by President Taft in 1912 and served in that capacity until 1916.

Judge Clyde I. Webster is a native of Michigan and has lived in this county for a good many years.

We urge the re-election of Judge Clyde I. Webster to the Circuit Court bench of this county. His past record is sufficient for the people of this county to recognize him on their ballots next Monday, March 4th.

Pepys' Birthplace

ELDERLY MAN SICK 10 YEARS LAUDS KONJOLA.

"Konjola is the Medicine I Should Have Had in the First Place," He Declares.

MR. A. C. FERRIS.

"Even though I am sixty-eight years old, Konjola went to the source of my ten years' illness, and soon gave me new, lasting health," said Mr. A. C. Ferris, 714 North Warren avenue, Saginaw, Michigan. "I praise this medicine so that others may profit by the lesson my experience teaches. My stomach was so disordered that everything I ate caused intense distress. I often became nauseated because of the sour condition of my stomach. I lacked appetite, pep and energy, and lost weight and strength. I was also troubled with constipation.

"I heard of the wonderful accomplishments and success of this new Konjola, and wondered if it would benefit me. The only way to find out was to give it a trial. What a blessing it is that I did. Right from the start I was benefited, and by the time I had finished the third bottle I was a different man. My digestive organs have been cleansed and regulated, and I now get the proper nourishment from my food. I have gained in weight and strength, and know the relief is lasting. Konjola is the master medicine of them all, and I have heard it called the medicine with more than a million friends. Well, it certainly made a lifelong friend out of me."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth, Mich., at Community Pharmacy drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

DETROIT IN FOREFRONT AS WHOLESALING AND "KEY" DISTRIBUTING CENTER

THIRD BETTER MERCHANDISING CONFERENCE HERE, MARCH 13-15, STRESSES CITY'S POSITION AS LEADER.

By S. E. Sangster

Detroit as one of the colossal industrial centers of the country has occupied the center of the picture to such a degree during the past two decades that this city's logical position as a wholesaling and distributing hub has been lost sight of.

Retail merchants throughout Michigan and northern Ohio were permitted to drift to other markets for their needs and millions of dollars were, as a result, lost to the wholesale houses of the city. Modern business methods and particularly mass production have created new problems in the distribution of goods; the large manufacturer must have nationwide distribution and has been compelled to seek new ways and means to reach his customers and keep them regularly supplied.

Key Distributing Point.

Thus Detroit is not only a distributing center for the wide range of products sold by retail merchants which are manufactured locally, but is one of the key distributing points for manufacturers of nationally distributed products. Many have established Detroit branches. Here we have giant wholesaling houses, many of them in existence long before the automobile was thought of, prepared to make quick delivery of their goods anywhere in the state.

It has been said by merchandising authorities that the life of the nation is today largely ruled by the automobile. It has changed materially many conditions in a wide range of other manufactured products and in retail selling. For example, according to no less an authority than William Nelson Taft, nationally known merchandising consultant and editor of the "Retail Ledger" of Philadelphia, the closed car almost drove the manufacturer of heavy underwear out of business and the auto has been responsible for the fact that American men have quit walking, and as a consequence, the sale of men's shoes has slumped greatly.

The automobile industry has in a large degree been responsible for the money-spending habit the people have adopted and has also revolutionized the buying habits of the nation. It has done much to tone up business conditions and created a higher standard of living.

Ideally Located.

Detroit is ideally located to serve the retail needs of Michigan and northern Ohio. Nowhere does there exist a better or more complete system of transportation facilities—railroad, truck or water. Next to New York and Chicago, this city lies in an intensely populated buying area.

That Detroit should be a much greater center of distribution of retail needs is recognized by the Wholesale Merchants' bureau and the Detroit Board of Commerce. In order to promote a better knowledge of the city's facilities by merchants in the state and the northern portion of Ohio, in 1927 the bureau sponsored the first better merchandising conference. Last year a second affair of this character was held and drew a much larger attendance of retailers. These better merchandising meetings have proved their worth and have done much to bring into closer contact the wholesalers and the retailers and create a better understanding of their common problems.

The third better merchandising conference and exposition, which is scheduled to be held in the Masonic temple, Detroit, March 13-15, promises to exceed in point of attendance and in the program and exhibits, either of its predecessors. Chambers of commerce throughout the state are more actively than ever giving their close co-operation and support to this affair and urging their local retail merchants to attend.

Program Comprehensive

A very strong program has been completed for this year's gathering. Outstanding speakers are to address the three days' general business sessions on merchandising matters, treating of such subjects as "Practical Advertising for the Small Store," "Salesmanship—the Great Opportunity of the Retailer," "What Research Reveals About the Retailer," "Selecting and Training Employees," "The Home-Owned Store Plan," while departmental or group sessions, window trimming demonstrations and a great exposition of more than 100 booths of goods manufactured or distributed from Detroit will serve as a veritable three-day retail merchandising school for those attending. Its educational value cannot be overestimated.

Through such an annual merchandising conference, the Wholesale Merchants' bureau hopes to materially advance Detroit's position and regain the commanding place as a distributing center that the city should hold. —Detroit Free Press.

EARLY TRADE UPTURN SEEN AS INDUSTRIES ATTAIN NEW RECORDS

OHIO PENITENTIARY HAS NEW O. HENRY

Literary Ability Wins Convict a Pardon.

Columbus, Ohio.—Another O. Henry has been discovered behind the drab, gray walls of Ohio state penitentiary.

He is John R. Murphy, a former soldier, whose adeptness with the pen has won him a pardon.

Murphy, or "Murph," as he is known by prison guards, was sent up for ten years for a robbery at Marion, Ohio.

In 1898 the far famed O. Henry, whose real name was W. S. Porter, began his literary career behind these same walls.

Like O. Henry, Murphy developed a craving to write.

"When I came here," he said, "I thought over the folly of my past life.

Realizes Folly.

"I realized how hopeless it was, and since I had an itch to write I decided to satisfy it, trying meantime to do something useful.

"I had never written anything, but I always felt that I could turn out magazine stories.

"I took a correspondence course in English and studied every book I could get my hands on.

"Warden Thomas was good enough to assign me to night duty in the library so I would have time to write.

"I do not write easily. It is real labor for me, but I like it.

"Naturally, when checks for my stories began to come in I was greatly encouraged."

Murphy has made $7,000 since he was imprisoned. Although he has never been within thousands of miles of a battlefield, he writes war stories so realistically that hundreds of readers believed him a battle scarred veteran.

Thinks Him Soldier.

His publisher, writing to Warden Thomas, expressed the belief that Murphy was a World war veteran, and said:

"Judging from his stories the man was a soldier in every sense of the word, and he must have gone through some of the worst campaigns in the A. E. F."

In a communication to the state parole board Murphy admitted that his past life did not entitle him to any consideration and called himself a "plain, unvarnished fool."

Before entering the prison Murphy was in the army, but was arrested for desertion and forgery and sentenced to McNeil island, off San Francisco.

He escaped from there and was recaptured and sentenced to Leavenworth. He was sentenced to the Ohio prison in 1923.

Murphy has been writing under the name of Bert Stokes and is hailed here as another O. Henry. Some insist he is better than the famed Henry. He has developed an exceptional talent and is capable of drawing an extremely subtle, humorous and thrilling plot.

Upon receipt of Murphy's plea for a parole, the state clemency board forwarded it to Gov. Vic Donahey with a favorable recommendation.

The governor, convinced that a man with Murphy's honest earning power will "go straight," issued a parole.

In convict life Murphy is known as No. 52410.

Potassium Ray Found;

Stronger Than Radium's

Berlin.—Discovery of rays from potassium, which he says are more penetrating than those from radium, is announced by the physicist, Prof. Werner Kolhoerster of the Federal Techno-Physical institute here.

The fact that potassium is radioactive has been known to physicists, Professor Kolhoerster says, and they know also that it emitted rays known as beta emanations. But the activity he found is something different.

While making tests of minerals that stretched in the shape of layers along the bottom of a mine near Strassburg, he detected very intense rays, described as gamma emanations. Experiments caused him to believe that these rays were reaching him after penetrating blue rock salt, which he says sodium rays do not pass through.

"Heat Lovers" Cause

Bad Flavor in Milk

Richmond, Va.—A source for bad flavor in milk, that does not seemingly endanger health, however unpleasant to the palate and had for the milkman's business, was announced at the meeting of the Society of American Bacteriologists here recently.

This source is bacteria known under the name of "heat lovers," because they germinate only in considerable heat. If pasteurizing containers in a dairy have to stand more than thirty minutes waiting for milk, the heat lovers may develop, so fast do they grow.

HEAVY PRODUCTION SCHEDULES IN EFFECT IN AUTO AND ACCESSORY PLANTS OF STATE.

By Wayne Putnam,

Assistant Vice-President, Union Trust Company.

Business generally throughout the country continues in a sound state and, for the most part, active. Important basic industries have been expanding since the turn of the year and the trend is definitely toward higher levels. As spring approaches, an upturn of trade earlier than usual is in prospect on account of the stability in employment and the farmer purchasing power. On practically every hand there is evidence of greater activity than at this time a year ago.

Steel Production High.

Steel production in January was at a record height for that month. Mills are now operating at 87 per cent of capacity, as compared with 83 per cent at this time last year. Automobile factories, the steel industry's largest customer, produced more cars last month than in any previous January, a factor of much significance in view of the wide influence of the motor industry today in general business. Commodity prices continue to move within a narrow range. Car loadings of revenue freight have been increasing steadily since the first of the year and each week have shown a gain over the corresponding period in 1928. Copper companies continue to prosper as a result of heavy demand and higher prices.

By far the most outstanding event in recent weeks was the note of warning sounded by the Federal Reserve board on the employment of reserve credit for security speculation. It will be recalled that it was in the first half of last year that the reserve authorities, alarmed by the stock speculation wave that was spreading over the country, began to sell government securities and to raise the discount rate in an attempt to correct the situation. The effect of these measures was only temporary. Brokers' loans have since climbed to new high levels until at the beginning of February they aggregated almost $6,750,000,000.

Money Rates Issue.

Whether this latest gesture of the reserve board will be sufficient to bring about a diversion of credit from stock market channels remains to be seen. There can be no doubt but that high money rates have been largely responsible for the slowing down in the building industry in recent months. Construction contracts awarded in January were 4 per cent under those for the same month in 1928. Spring commercial borrowing will soon be felt, and there is, accordingly, little reason for anticipating lower money rates in the near future.

Michigan's industries as a whole are exceptionally active for this season of the year. Most factories have completed their annual stock taking and have stepped up production rapidly. Passenger car and truck production for the month exceeded 400,000 units, as compared with 240,191 vehicles in the corresponding month in 1928. Heavy production in this industry is starting earlier than usual this year.

New Output Record.

If the same rate of activity that prevailed the first part of the current month continues during the latter half, February output will reach a new mark for that month. Total assemblies at the Ford factories are averaging 7,200 daily, although numerous parts are being manufactured at a considerably higher rate. The prospects for the automotive industry in the spring months are very promising. March will probably be the peak production month. Output is being synchronized closely with consumer demand.

In keeping with the tenor of activity in the automobile factories, heavy schedules are in effect in the parts and accessories plants located throughout the state. Furniture manufacturers are doing a fair volume of business. A little improvement is noted in the paper industry. Stove and furnace factories are seasonally quiet. Drug, radio, cereals, textiles, farm implements and copper are operating on heavy schedules. The oil industry in the western part of the state has been active.

Electrical energy consumed in January by industrial users in Michigan totaled 208,854,000 kilowatt hours as compared with 158,667,000 kilowatt hours last year, a gain of 33 per cent.

Employment Improves.

Employment conditions have improved steadily since the first of the year. In some localities there is a surplus of common labor, in others there is a shortage of skilled workmen, but by and large supply and demand are well balanced. Employment in Detroit, as reported by the Employers' association, whose members employ two thirds of the industrial workers in the city, amounted to 294,903 on February 12, which is only 5,856 below the high mark established in September, 1928, and a gain of 65,106 compared with this time a year ago. Ford employment on February 15 reached a new high record of 130,922.

Building permits issued in 23 Michigan cities in January had a total value of $8,791,380 as compared with $8,200,678 in January 1928.

Debits to individual accounts in Battle Creek, Bay City, Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, St. Joseph and Lansing for the month of January aggregated $1,915,070,188, an increase of 42 per cent over the same month a year ago.

Banks throughout the state report a fair to heavy demand for loans. Fifty of the 53 reporting cities have sufficient funds to take care of local needs.

Trade Condition Good.

The trade situation generally is quite satisfactory. Seasonable weather has stimulated the sale of winter goods. Excessive snow and ice, however, in some parts of the state, especially in the northern portion, have affected retail sales adversely. Both wholesalers and retailers report collections fair to good. Reports from downtown stores and shopping centers in Detroit record a substantial increase in sale for the month of January as compared with the same month a year ago. Increasing employment is adding further strength to the trade situation in Michigan and merchants are optimistic over the prospects for spring business.—Detroit Free Press.

STATE FARMERS GREW HOGS BY WHOLESALE

HUNT FOR EARLY AMERICAN LIFE

Prehistoric Man May Have Lived in This Country.

Denver, Colo.—Scientists are digging into the earth in many sections of the western plains country, seeking more light on fairly well established contentions that prehistoric man existed in America millions of years ago.

The work being done contradicts to a great extent the common belief that the life of man in America did not approach the antiquity found in Europe.

Harold J. Cook, honorary curator of paleontology at the Colorado museum of natural history, gave a synopsis of recent scientific achievements in this region when he addressed the Colorado-Wyoming academy of sciences at Denver university.

"During the Pleistocene age we have ample evidence that various races of man invaded America from Asia," he said. "In fact, Asia is now generally admitted to have been the center of development and dispersal of mammalian life throughout tertiary times."

"Now, with all these things in mind, is it not logical to believe that early man, developing under such conditions, could migrate into America quite as well as the game he hunted, at any time they could get there?"

Following out this line of thought, Doctor Cook told of recent discoveries tending to substantiate the theory. At the town of Colorado, in southwest Texas, were found skeletons of a new type of extinct, flat horned bison, and remains of two races of elephant, a large camel, various extinct horses and other typical Pleistocene mammals.

"In taking out an articulated skeleton of one of these flat horned bison," Cook said, "representatives of the Colorado museum found three arrow heads definitely associated in the matrix with it and under conditions that preclude the possibility of error. They were undoubtedly shot into that very buffalo."

At about the same time fossil remains of a large extinct bison were found near Pelson, N. M.

"The American museum, New York, was invited to participate in the work this last summer," said Cook, "and did so. Here, associated with the bison, sixteen flint points were found of an absolutely new type and of the finest grade of workmanship known in flaked stone."

"Fortunately, four of these were exposed undisturbed in position where found during the course of these excavations. There is no question of definite association here of these flint points with a race of extinct bison."

Island of Heligoland Slowly Crumbling Away

Heligoland—This little German island, English North sea outpost until 1890, has lost 13,000 square meters swallowed up by mountainous waves when recent fierce gales caused havoc along the west European coast as far as Norway.

The damage done here and to the neighboring East Frisian island chain has led the Prussian survey department to appoint a commission to make a scientific study of the whole coastline to ascertain if there is any dangerous acceleration in the gradual subsidence of the German North sea shores.

It is known that the whole coast is sinking, but only at the rate of about ten inches in the last 100 years. Coming investigations are expected to show whether the sinking process calls for extra precautions.

Documents Prove Origin of Vatican Art Works

London.—A small but valuable collection of manuscripts relating to work done by eminent Italian artists for the Vatican is to be found in Soho, the foreign restaurant quarter of London. They are the property of Barberi, the padrone of the Taverna Medicea.

So precious are these manuscripts that Barberi exhibits them rarely. They bear the signatures of such illustrious artists as Bramante, Donatello, Mantegna, Raphael and Pietro della Francesca. All were acquired by their owner in London during the World war.

The most important was written by Michaelangelo in Italian. It is his agreement to erect the tomb of Pope Julius II in St. Peter's, and is dated 1513.

CASSOPOLIS MAN HOLDS STATE RECORD FOR QUANTITY PORK PRODUCTION.

East Lansing—Sales of hogs in carload lots are not exceptional experiences on the farm of Karl Smith, Cassopolis, according to reports by animal husbandry specialists at Michigan State college.

The Cassopolis farmer marketed 155 pigs Sept. 15, 1928; he sold another bunch of 275 on Feb. 13, 1929, and still has 225 pigs waiting for market. All these hogs were grown on the Smith farm during the past year.

The pigs were raised from 75 brood sows, some of which farrowed twice during the year. Mr. Smith believes that pigs which can be placed on the late summer and early spring markets return better profit than those which reach the market in the fall or winter months.

Corn and tankage in self-feeders were used to bring those hogs to market conditions, and Mr. Smith says that his profits would have been greater if he had used more tankage in the ration. A mineral mixture of bone meal and salt was placed where the hogs have access at all times, and the hogs were run on alfalfa pasture.

Animal husbandry specialists at Michigan State believe Mr. Smith is the Michigan champion wholesale pork producer, and he has 45 sows entered in the Michigan pig-crop contest for 1929. This contest has replaced the ton-litter work which was conducted for several years in this state.

Knitting Craze Sweeps Through Smith College

Northampton, Mass.—A knitting craze has broken out like an epidemic at Smith college.

The more severe manifestations are as yet confined to dormitories, but it is feared that campus and classrooms may yet feel the effects of the sweep. In its wake are found such utilitarian articles as sweater suits, rather than the more strictly domestic comforter.

The most desolate locality in the stricken houses is the dining room. Students, according to a newly passed regulation, are not allowed to bring their knitting to meals, lest, perchance, the yarn become confused with the food, it said, including that food with the Italian name.

The Victorian pastime is explained by the victims, not as a return to naive artlessness, but as a triumph of sophistication.

Old Trolley Cars as Resort Cottages

Benton Harbor, Mich.—J. J. Bachunas, proprietor of the Tabor resort, a romantic spot on the St. Joseph river six miles east of here, announces that he has purchased old interurban cars and expects to convert them into summer cottages.

At least six of the huge interurbans have been in service twenty years on the run from Benton Harbor to Eau Claire, Indian Lake and Jowagiac.

First to Protect Oysters

Rhode Island was the first state to set aside water territory for the propagation of oysters. As early as June, 1799, this state set aside a small tract for the cultivation and propagation of oysters by private parties.

Sure Way To Stop Coughing

THIS PRESCRIPTION RELIEVES ALMOST INSTANTLY.

Coughing is usually due to causes which patent medicines and cough syrups do not reach. However, Thorine, a famous doctor's prescription relieves coughing with the very first swallow. It works on an entirely different theory, has a double action, relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause.

Unlike most cough medicines, Thorine contains no chloroform, dope or other harmful drugs. Safe for the whole family. Also excellent for sore throat. Quick relief guaranteed or your money back. 35c, 60c, and $1.00. Sold by Dodge's and all other good drug stores.

Today's Reflections

It is our belief that every man should marry. Ever man needs someone to help him worry.

There wasn't any such thing as "snap judgment" back in the days when a Plymouth man would get out his knife and whittle awhile before returning an opinion on any subject.

It has about gotten so in this country that when a man finds a parking place he hurries around and buys an automobile.

A seat on the New York stock exchange sold recently for $575,000. Wonder if a cushion and a cuspidor went with it.

What we need in Plymouth homes more than anything else is a radio that will also wash the dishes.

Rockefeller's profits from Standard Oil run $144 a minute. Wonder if he insists on the company giving him car fare and lunch money on top of that.

The world is speeding up in some ways, but it still takes six reels to kill a moving picture villain where it once took only two.

Wonder how the Plymouth man who longs for the good old days would go about seating a couple of girls wearing hoopskirts in a rumble seat?

President Coolidge never swears. Maybe that's the reason he seldom discusses the weather.

Though history doesn't say so, we can't help but feel that Columbus invented the slogan, "See America First."

Everyone around Plymouth who is depending on the agricultural bill is hoping congress takes up its bills in alphabetical order.

We read where a Chicago groceryman has 11 daughters. Imagine 11 sons-in-law working in one grocery store.

Ford is said to be hunting for an auto he sold 23 years ago. Can it be possible someone has missed a payment on one?

As a usual rule the Plymouth man who complains that he never had a chance wouldn't take a chance if he did.

A peace pact is something that gets picked to pieces and then a little later on gets shot to pieces.

And just to think that there was a time in Plymouth and not so very long ago that we thought pink cheeks was a sure sign of health.

Applauding a movie actor is always a safe proposition. They can't come back and give an encore.

A pious air is no more a sign of real religion than a wagging tongue is a sign of real knowledge.

Maybe that Tennessee counterfeiter who raised a one dollar bill to a ten was only trying to rig it up so it would buy a dollar's worth.

ESSEX THE CHALLENGER

Twice now... in 30 days... production has had to be increased

Essex the Challenger sweeps aside the barriers of price class. It challenges the performance, the style, the luxurious roomy comfort of any car at any price, on the basis that no other car gives you back so much for every dollar you put in.

A glance at its 76 advanced features reveals at once why Essex exceeds no car in its challenge. For point after point in fine car construction, performance and detail, brings you directly to costliest cars to find comparison.

With above 70 miles an hour top speed, Essex the Challenger, in thousands of demonstrations, is proving the endurance and ability to do 60 miles an hour all day long.

It is the finest, largest, roomiest, most brilliantly performing Essex ever built, and the price the lowest for which Essex ever sold—but little above the lowest priced car on the market.

That is why the acceptance of Essex the Challenger is the talk of motordom. Join the van of 1,000,000 Super-Six owners who are demonstrating its right and ability to challenge the best that motordom offers.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The Woman's Auxiliary will hold the annual meeting of the Society on Monday next, March 4th at 4 o'clock. The year has been a busy and active one for the women and the reports to be presented on Monday will review the work of the past year. The report of the treasurer is awaited with unusual interest. All the women should be present. The election of the officers for next year is also a matter of special interest.
Monday evening the Annual Congregational meeting will be held. At 6:30 p. m. the congregation will sit down to a pot-luck supper for which the women are arranging, and afterwards the business meeting will be conducted. There will be reports from different church organizations, including the Session, Board of Trustees, Sunday School, Woman's Auxiliary, organized classes and officers for the incoming year will be elected and matters pertaining to the life and work of the congregation will be discussed. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance of those interested in this church.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

"When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh in dry places, seeking rest, and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out. And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished. . . . and the last state of that man is worse than the first."—Gospel for 3rd Sunday in Lent.
The Holy Communion will be celebrated this Sunday, at 10 o'clock.
The speaker at the Sunday evening service will be the Rev. Davies, assistant missionary at Old Mariners' Church, known as the Episcopal City Mission, Detroit. The work done by the staff of the Mission embraces nearly all the hospitals and penal institutions as well as work among the "wayfaring" men that drift in and out of our larger cities. No doubt Mr. Davies will tell something of this interesting field.
These two services are opportunities for all who wish to make a good use of the "dear feast of Lent."

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is the first Sunday of the month. Report Sunday.
Lenten services are held each Tuesday and Friday nights at eight o'clock. Tuesday nights the Rev. L. Gaffney delivers the sermon. A goodly attendance was present at the services last Tuesday. This is encouraging, and as the weather becomes more clement, it is hoped all will be at these services. A kindly invitation is extended to all Protestants.
The Nethem clubs' boys and girls are making tentative arrangements for the St. Patrick's dance to be held on March 18 in the auditorium. The plans to date promise a very good time and efforts are being made to surpass the previous festivities. This is our 7th annual party.

Louis Mueller, was buried from the church last Monday morning. The sympathy of the parish is extended to all that mourn his loss.
Do not forget the Lenten services Tuesday and Friday nights at eight o'clock.

SALVATION ARMY.

The following meetings will be held in the hall on Main street:
Thursday, 7:30 p. m., public praise service.
Saturday evening, 8:00 o'clock, public praise.
Sunday morning, 11:00 o'clock, holiness meeting.
Sunday afternoon, 1:30 o'clock, Sunday school.
Sunday afternoon, 3:00 o'clock, public praise; also Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock.
Everybody is invited to these services, especially the children. Send them all along to Sunday school. Come one and all to praise the Lord with us.
Captain and Mrs. Wright.

METHODIST NOTES

"And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me."
Next Sunday morning will be "Religious Education" day in the Sunday School and there will be a program by Mrs. Beatrice Schultz.
The mid-week service will begin at 6:30 Wednesday evening, with a co-operative supper, followed by a praise and song service and a class in Religious Education. There will also be a class for the children, so bring the whole family and join our happy crowd.
The official board will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock following the mid-week service, to which all are invited.
Next Wednesday at 2:30 P. M. the L. A. S. will meet in their room for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Geo. Hugor, Sr., will have the devotions. Mrs. Czar Penny the program, and our hostess will be Mrs. Liddy Fillmore, Mrs. William Sutherland and Mrs. W. C. Smith. The success of the bazaar will be made known. All the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to come.

Chromium Reflector for Auto Headlights

Washington.—Chromium, which can be electroplated on steel and is more permanent than nickel, has been found particularly suitable for reflectors in automobile headlights after an exhaustive research made by the bureau of standards.
The research, undertaken to study the reflecting power of chromium, was extended to cover not only light in the visible portion of the spectrum but also the ultraviolet and infra-red. As a result it was found that chromium has much higher reflecting power than nickel in the ultra-violet and since it is less affected by ultra-violet rays, it is more useful as a reflector of these rays.

3 Chinese Work on Law Book Translation

Washington.—The task of translating China's complex laws into English has been undertaken here by three Chinese students at the National university.
They expect to take three years to the job, which will necessitate their deciphering a maze of Chinese hieroglyphics scrawled on parchment long before the tramp of Roman legions was being heard throughout the civilized world.
The first of the three volumes to be translated dates back to 216 B. C. The second, the Tonz code, was adopted by the Chinese in 630 A. D., and the latest, the Ching code, promulgated under the Manchu dynasty came in 1644.

LIGHT

A Sales-Assistant for the Merchant's Payroll

Light is an able assistant for the store-keeper's sales staff—it works at a very modest salary. But it must be allowed to show goods to proper advantage.

You may believe your store lighting is excellent. It is entirely a matter of measurement—in "foot candles." Two serious errors are common: dimness and glare—too little light at one point, too much at another. Both conditions are unfavorable to merchandising; both are easily corrected.

A telephone call will bring one of our illuminating engineers for an inspection of your lighting. This is part of our service.

NUMBER XXI

PLYMOUTH CAGERS ARE WINNERS

TWO POINTS GIVE ROCKS VICTORY OVER FARMINGTON 17 TO 15.

One lone goal in the last minute of play sent the Farmington high school five down to defeat before Plymouth, in a closely contested basketball game at Farmington last Friday night. The game ended with a score of 17 to 15.

When the half was over Plymouth was leading 9 to 5, but in the last two periods Farmington tied and then passed the Rocks, only to be tied again, later being sent to defeat. This game is one in which Plymouth played an air-tight defense. It was so difficult for Farmington to penetrate that they ran around the floor amazed.

At the time the winning score was made the teams were tied at 15 all and it looked as if the contest would end in a deadlock. Then Knapp, Plymouth's left forward, broke away from the Farmington defense and caged his sixth basket of the game from the corner of the floor near the basket. Although Farmington made a last desperate effort to retrieve the error, the Rocks, playing a conservative defensive game, managed to keep their opponents from shooting, up until the final whistle blew.

Plymouth Farmington
Knapp L. F. Olin
DePorter R. F. Lapham
Socokow C. Schwein
Foster L. G. Cox
Beagle R. G. Drake

Substitutions—Plymouth: Orr for DePorter, Gust for Foster, Foster for Gust, Farmington: McCully for Drake.

Score at half—Plymouth 9, Farmington 5.

Baskets—Knapp 6, Lapham 2, Cox 2, Schwein 1.

Free throws—Knapp 3, Orr 1, Beagle 1, Lapham 1, Cox 4.

Official Referee, Shaw (Ypsilanti).

"B" TEAM NOSED OUT

FARMINGTON HAS NO DIFFICULTY IN TROUNCING RIVALS 17 TO 9.

The Farmington B team set back the Plymouth B cagers, 17 to 9 last Friday night in a Suburban league contest, enlivened by erratic play.

Weakened by the loss of their two regulars, Straub and Pankov, the Plymouth five could not cope with the strong defense of the Farmington team and the uncanny basket shooting of Cox. Farmington's left forward.

Starting with the opening whistle the Farmington team took the lead and forged ahead without much opposition. At the half the score was 7 to 3, and in the second half the Rocks were able to gather only one field goal and two foul throws due to the close guarding of the Farmington players.

Plymouth (9) Farmington (17)
Hondorp L. F. Cox
Ferguson R. F. McCully
Bredin C. Maas
Mattiva L. G. Measell
Ball R. G. Cairns

Score at half—Plymouth 3; Farmington 7. Baskets—Bredin 2; Cox 4; McCully 1; Measell 2.

Free throws—Ferguson 2; Hondorp 1; Randall 1; Mattiva 1; McCully 2; Maas 1.

Substitutions—Farmington: Fendt for McCully, Jube for Cox, Taggart for Jube, Nicholson for Cairns, Grimm for Measell. Plymouth: Randall for Hondorp, Hondorp for Ferguson, Cline for Matera.

Official Referee—Shaw.

KIDDY KAPERS

Would you like to hear how the average student conducts himself in class? There is a certain "rep" that one can gain in a schoolroom which tickles classmates and vexes teachers—that of the class comedian. A senior acquired such the other day. It is customary for the teacher to assign each student a topic in the Literary Digest upon which he is to report the following day. This certain smart senior had been absent the day before and so missed his assignment, but, instead of choosing an article or asking for one, he decided to be a little different. He very calmly stood up and discussed five advertisements. He did not break any rules—oh, no! Crafty boy, for one is supposed to take something beneficial and are not arch-supporter shoes, hot water bottles and breakfast cereals beneficial? Um afraid the teacher did not appreciate his originality.

Lacking amusement after he had finished his talk, the high and mighty person happened to find a picture of the ideal business man, sitting at a desk—you have seen them in advertisements of typewriters and such. Having also a piece of orange paper he decided to brighten up the old boy a little. By making slits in the picture and inserting pieces of the orange paper, the man was soon the proud possessor of a brand new nose which was only a trifle loose and did not lie quite so close to his head as the former one had. There was also a new tie and "shower" hanky for him. Well and good, but then our comedian found he had a big piece left over so he carefully folded it, punched a hole in the man's hand and behold! He held a fly-swatter. These boys!

You must know that that was only one class in a whole day, however, so enjoy the joke—our senior is not always that way.

SPEAKING CONTESTS

The annual declamation contest, which is open to freshmen and sophomores will be held Monday, March 4, at 12:45 o'clock in the High School auditorium. Each year Plymouth has been well represented in the sub-district and district contest. Last year our declaimer won the sub-district contest, and we hope this year we will have an equally good representative. There is a large number of pupils trying so we ought to have one or more good declaimers.

The annual oratorical contest will be held three days later, on Thursday, March 7, at 12:45. This contest is open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. As in Declamation, Plymouth has always been well represented in Oratory, last year's orator winning the sub-district contest and placing second in the district contest. The public speaking class is furnishing most of the contestants, but there are five or six outside of the class entering this contest, and as there are some good speakers it ought to be a good contest.

The public is cordially invited to attend these contests, and see what is being done along these lines.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Alvin Collins and Lawrence Livingston opened the assembly by playing two selections, "You're the Cream in my Coffee" and "Me and the Man in the Moon." Russel Sockow acting as chairman introduced the speakers. The first announcement made was by Lester Daly concerning the oratorical and declamation contest. Last year Plymouth placed second in the district contest. On Monday March fourth the oratorical contest is to be held and Thursday March seventh the declamation contest. In spite of losing our debate with Trenton high school, Mr. Smith thinks that the team has had a very successful season, winning fifteen out of a possible sixteen points. The senior girls played the freshman at basketball after school last Friday. The Seniors won by a score of twenty-four to four. Alvin Van Bonn representing the H-Y, Torch club and Boy Scouts thanked the Girl Reserves and the Orchestra for their help in making the Father and Son Banquet a success. Richard Smith from the Junior class asked that all people who desire invitations to the J-Hop and whose names are not on the Senior mailing list to hand the names to Katherine Tuck, chairman of the invitation committee.

In place of the time honored carnival a stunt night has been decreed by the student council. Each class will be given the opportunity to show their ability along what ever line they may choose. The stunt is not to last longer than thirty minutes. Fifty per cent of the proceeds are to be used by the student council for school needs; the balance is to be divided among the classes having the best stunts and selling the most tickets.

The Plythean, the school annual, will be on sale the week of March fourth. A larger and more complete annual has been assured us as many interesting additions have been made to its contents.

The Senior Prom was a success both financially and socially and Ted Johnson as their representative thanked the students for their cooperation.

Fred Alderman, member of the American relay team at the Olympia Games, gave us an interesting talk about the games. Mr. Alderman made his talk even more interesting by telling a few of his personal experiences on the trip over to Europe and during his stay there.

These games were said to have been instituted in honor of Jupiter around the year 1367 B. C. They were then held every fourth year but were abolished in 394 A. D. After a lapse of more than 1500 years in 1896 these games were revived in Athens. Then some of the principal contests were won by Americans. Since then these contests have been held as before, every four years in the principal cities of Europe. In 1904 they were held in America at St. Louis. In 1932 they will again be held here at Los Angeles.

The tryouts for these games were held in Detroit last June. About ten men were chosen from the state and they were sent to Philadelphia for the finals where about thirty were chosen to represent the United States.

The assembly was closed by Alvin and Lawrence playing two selections "Doing the Racon" and the "Varsity Drag."

HISTORICAL CHARACTERS CLUB.

On Tuesday, Feb. 12, Abraham Lincoln visited our Historical Characters club in person and even brought Stephen A. Douglas along and debated for us.

Then, too, Harriet Beecher Stowe presented a sketch from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and told us about herself.

Monday night, Feb. 18, the Historical Characters club met at Willie Golden's house to initiate all their new members. Everyone had a fine time. There were light refreshments. After the members were initiated everyone told a joke and then we sang songs.

Tuesday, Feb. 19, Betsy Ross visited our Historical Characters club. She told us the story of the first flag. Then the poem of Barbara Fretchle telling us about her great patriotism to our country was read by Frieda Kilgore.

LIFE PLANNING CLUB.

This club has been organized in order that its members may look into the future and plan not only their vocations but prepare for the emergencies of life.

The topic for this week's discussion will be the question of how one should face life in all its moods.

Madelen Rice has been elected president of the organization and Viola Luttermoser as secretary. The club is a great aid to the thinking student who is not certain of the future when he leaves the sheltering wing of dear old Plymouth High.

SENIOR DRAMA.

The Senior Drama club for the past few weeks has been working on the technical principles of dramatic art. As a text book, we have been using Rosworth's "Technique in Dramatic Art." As a project, each person was handed a picture cut from a magazine, depicting some dramatic incident. Given this picture we were required to write a dramatic sketch suggested by the clipping. After the sketch was written we were required to come before the club and dramatize it.

Our next step will be the reading of a number of plays with the idea in mind of selecting one for production.

H-Y

The Father and Son banquet is now over and we are going strong again. We feel that we have been fully repaid for our efforts and wish to thank the United Savings Bank, Sutherland Greenhouses, the High School Orchestra and the Saxophone Quartette and also Calvin Whipple and all those who helped in any way to make the banquet the success it was.

Kenneth Gust, our new treasurer, has given a financial report showing that forty-two dollars was cleared on the banquet. This money is to be divided among the three clubs who sponsored this annual dinner.

Our new officers are now actively carrying out their duties. They are: Alvin Van Bonn, President; Norman Atkinson, Vice President; Cecil Packard, secretary; and Kenneth Gust, treasurer. The club feels that they made a good choice as their work has been very satisfactory so far.

Erwin Foster is to give a talk on Vocations, Friday, March 1. This discussion is taken from facts and points heard at the State Older Boys' conference.

Mr. Holcomb, a former teacher here, will be our leader and speaker on Friday, March the First.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The annual music memory contest is coming. Approximately fifteen members from the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades are working to reach the point of perfection needed in order to win honors at the finals which are held in Orchestra Hall on March 15. The day preceding the trip to Detroit a preliminary contest will be held here in the school. The winners of this will represent Plymouth on the big day.

The girls' double quartette sang last Monday at the Episcopal church. They have been quite well received since they were first organized. We of Plymouth High are rather proud of them.

JUNIOR DRAMA CLUB.

"The Lantern" by Abbie Farwell Brown was given at the Hotel Mayflower for the Women's club last Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

"The Lantern" is a Revolutionary play and takes place in a New England sea coast hamlet controlled by British troops.

The first scene takes place in Captain Brackett's Cottage just after tea time of a spring day. Captain Brackett is a staunch American patriot and is engaged in carrying supplies to the Americans in his boat "The Genevieve." It is necessary for the Captain to land his cargo on the rocky coast near his cottage and, to guide him off the rocks, Mrs. Brackett has placed a lantern in the window.

In the first scene we see Mrs. Brackett and her children clearing away the tea things. It is growing dark. As night approaches, Wat Roe, a neighbor, comes in and tells Mrs. Brackett that she is needed over at the sickbed of one of the neighbors. Wat Roe is really a Tory spy and he succeeds in frightening the children so that they leave their home and go to their aunt's, a mile up the road. However, Barbara, the Captain's oldest daughter, refuses to flee and hides in an old sea chest.

Wat Roe returns shortly much elated over the progress of his plans and takes the lantern from the window. He calls Slink—another disreputable fellow, and they plan to destroy Captain Brackett and capture his cargo. After they have left, taking the lantern with them, Barbara comes out of the chest and searches for another lantern to replace the one taken by Wat. Upon discovering that the house is now without a lantern she climbs the ladder to the window with her apron full of candles and holds the lighted candle at the window all night.

The next morning Wat and Slink bring a British officer to the Brackett cottage. As they open the door they find Barbara lying on the floor in a faint. Later they find that she has heard their plot and they decide to punish her. Just at the moment when they start away with her, Captain Dave Brackett and his crew land at the cottage. The British officer, Wat and Slink know that they will be overpowered; so they surrender. At this point General George Washington appears on the scene. He says that the Patriots are now in possession of the town. He praises Barbara for the heroic deed. The Brackett family are reunited again and the curtain falls on their happy smiling faces.

The part of Barbara was taken by Irene Humphries who made a lovely Barbara. She acted the part very naturally and convincingly. Dorothy Hubert made a very nice Mrs. Brackett and when she received her daughter into her arms after believing her captured by the British we were convinced that she was in earnest.

Captain Dave Brackett was played by Gordon Roy. Gordon is not a member of the Junior Drama club but he took the part to help us out, and we couldn't have found a better Captain Dave Brackett. Thanks to you, Gordon.

Special credit must be given to Maxwell Todd who played the part of Wat Roe, and to Joseph Ribar, who played the part of Slink. Both of these boys show promise and we hope they keep up the good work.

Harry Mallett had the true military air of a British soldier. Good work, Harry.

The part of General Washington was taken by Donald Proctor. Donald gave this part a certain dignity that was very pleasing.

Deb Brackett was played by Zerepha Blunk. As the impulsive daughter of the Captain, Zerepha created a very interesting part.

We must mention the work of David Daly as Jack Brackett. David has a sure sense of the dramatic.

Billy Kirkpatrick made an understanding Tim Brackett. Bruce Miller had us convinced that he was really afraid of the Redcoats.

Claire Shonts was good in her part of Alice, cousin to the Bracketts.

We wish also to thank James Roberts, Merle Wehler and Floyd Dicks for being such good soldiers and sailors.

LINCOLN MEMOIRS

During February there have been a number of new "stories" that have come out about our famous heroes of other days. Ruth Hamilton gave a report for American History on Abraham Lincoln, taken from the Golden Book. It seems that our revered emancipator had the complexion of an octoroon which was off-set by the good humor that lurked in the numerous wrinkles. That only shows that complexion and character have no relationship. In his dress he is supposed to have been very careless—wearing clothes that were too short for him, especially his trousers. An old-fashioned stiff stock encircled his neck, which, when he became interested in speech, he would frequently take off, and then unbutton his shirt to give room for the play of his Adam's apple. If anyone knocked at the door, Lincoln would answer in stocking feet, careless and without the stock which he removed as he reached home. Sometimes in this state of undress he would go to Gouley's, next door, to borrow a table necessity, except that he wore carpet slippers, which clapped merrily as he walked. Mr. Gouley particularly noticed on one occasion that a single suspender held up his trousers. On the circuit he carried a dilapidated striped carpet bag and a stout umbrella of faded green, which was well-worn, with the knob gone. The name "A. Lincoln," cut out of white muslin, was sewed inside while a string about the middle kept the rain-shedder from swinging open. He slept in a home-made, yellow flannel undershirt, reaching half-way between his knees and ankles. A young lawyer who happened to see him thus attired said he was the "ungodliest figure" he had ever seen.

Another interesting pointer about Lincoln is the fact that he had a high-pitched voice. Somehow, that seems strange because usually most everyone laughs a great statement as having stentorian vocals. Though this did not prevent him from giving out some of the most famous words in American History.

In his early days at Springfield when he had leisure time, he would read Byron or Burns for an hour or two, then close the book and stretch at full length on the office lounge, feet projecting over the end and his arm under his head, he would digest the mental food he had just taken. At home he would lie on the floor with his head resting against a chair turned up side down. Try it—it is necessary to think to keep your mind off the hardwood chair.

Lincoln was a kind and considerate father. On Sundays, in his shirt sleeves, he could be seen drawing his children in a little wagon up and down in front of the house. So engrossed was he in thought that if one of them tumbled over he would keep on pulling until his attention was finally drawn. Then he would go back, pick the little one up, comfort him and go on as if nothing had happened.

Abraham Lincoln was one of America's greatest men, politically and morally. If not the greatest. His name stands for freedom, independence and truth.

IN THE THEATRE

"ROMANCE of the UNDERWORLD"

"Romance of the Underworld" is the title of one of the finest pieces of screen entertainment that has come this way in many months and will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, March 3 and 4. It was made by the same director who produced "Dressed to Kill" for Fox Films, Irving Cummings.

Radically different in theme from his former epic, it is nevertheless a story of underworld characters. The story is of a girl who is forced to make her living as an entertainer in a speakeasy, who tires of it all, tries to redeem herself in a new environment, meets and marries a good man but who is ever in fear of a former acquaintance, "Derby Dan," a phillanderer, thief and blackmailer.

Only the help of a friendly detective saves her from ruin and disposes of "Derby Dan" in a sensational manner.

Mary Astor is the girl. Ben Bard is "Derby Dan" and Robert Elliott is the detective.

Elliott's part deserves particular praise. Noted for his stage role of the detective in "Broadway," he brings the screen one of the most life-like representations of a big-city "bull" that has been seen in a long time—if indeed ever before. And if you don't believe detectives get any fun out of life you should see "Romance of the Underworld"—this detective not only gets fun out of life but he passes considerable of it along to his audiences.

Nor are the others to be slighted. Miss Astor's work is equal to that which has made her steadily better known, and Bard's fan mail should continue to grow on the strength of his performance. Oscar Apfel, John Doles and Helen Lynch are others who fill important parts with considerable ability.

It's a corking picture and one that lovers of real human entertainment on the screen should not miss.

"THE NIGHT WATCH"

Beautiful Billie Dove has her most dramatic and emotional role in First National's mystery drama, "The Night Watch," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday and Thursday, March 6th and 7th.

She plays the part of the wife of the Commander of a French battleship on the night following the declaration of war. She attends a dinner on board for the wives of the officers and determines to spend the night on board with her husband. He orders her ashore with the others without explaining that the ship has been ordered into action. She goes to the cabin of a lieutenant to whom she had at one time been engaged. The ship goes into action. There is a murder on board and the Commander, on the eve of his triumphant return from an engagement with an enemy vessel, is charged with the murder.

When he is about to be convicted by a French court martial, his wife takes the stand to free him at the cost of her reputation. Who killed the man, and why, are points in the mystery explained in the flashbacks which tell the story of the wife's presence on board the ship.

Supporting Billie Dove is an unusually excellent cast. Paul Lukas plays the part of the Commander, Nicholas Soussanin, the villain who is killed, and Donald Reed, the former fiance.

"HIS PRIVATE LIFE"

Refreshing comedy-drama is "His Private Life," starring Adolphe Menjou, a Paramount production which is to be shown Saturday, March 9th at the Penniman Allen theatre. It is refreshing comedy-drama in the sense that Menjou gives his admirable characterization of a swank, sophisticated Parisian boulevardier, the type of character that has delighted admirers of Menjou.

In a story written originally for the star by Ernest Vajda and Keene Thompson, famous playwrights, Menjou rises to the occasion the story demands in an exceptionally fine manner. His wife, the beautiful Kathryn Carter, who has the leading feminine role opposite him contributes no little to the performance and the two combine in giving two hours of real screen entertainment.

Margaret Livingston the "vamp," also comes in for a share of the honors and fairly breathes Parisian atmosphere throughout the picture. Eugene Pallette, who handles the comedy in the film, delights as the jealous husband of the "vamp."

Menjou, as the round-the-town blade, tells a friend that no longer will he pursue the beautiful women. The words are hardly out of his mouth when Miss Carter, as Helene, glides by. Menjou promptly goes in pursuit, but for all of his previous experiences, he finds her exceedingly difficult to approach and it is not until he uses a former love that finally he is enabled to win her. In the interim many laughs are furnished and no little gentle excitement on the part of the jealous husband.

Frank Tuttle, termed the "ace" director of comedy-drama, handled the megaphone and his deft touches in the humorous, romantic and exciting situations is typical of the work of the director.

NOTICE OF REGULAR ELECTION.

Notice is hereby given that a regular election will be held Monday, March 11, 1929, for the purpose of electing three candidates to membership upon the Village Commission of the Village of Plymouth, and to vote upon the following propositions:

1. Shall the village issue $20,000.00 of bonds to meet the cost of replacing iron water services with lead pipe, the cost of the same to be paid from the receipts of the water department as they mature?

2. Shall the Charter be amended to provide that Village Commissioners shall receive five dollars ($5.00) per meeting for each meeting attended, with a maximum of one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) in any one year? (Two dollars per meeting and a maximum of sixty dollars per year allowed at present.)

3. Shall the Charter be amended to provide that inspectors of elections receive five dollars per day and gatekeepers at elections three dollars per day for their service at elections. (Four dollars for inspectors and two dollars for gatekeepers now allowed.) The election will be held at the usual polling place at the Village Hall. Polls will be open upon the day of the election from 8:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

A. J. KOENIG, Village Clerk.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that all qualified voters of the Village of Plymouth, who are not at present duly registered with the village clerk and who wish to complete such registration for the regular election to be held in said village March 11, 1929, will be given the opportunity to register at the office of the village clerk during the usual office hours of every business day up to and including Saturday, March 9, 1929. The Board of Registration will be in session from 9:00 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. March 9, 1929, to register those who have not up to that time been registered.

Worry does no good

---but this does!

Some facts about safe deposit protection :

If you possess $500 or more—in removable valuables—here is proof that you cannot afford to do without the absolute, constant protection of a safe deposit box.

Because all your care and worry will not protect you from inconvenience, perhaps serious loss. If you keep deeds, securities, insurance policies, your will, contracts, heirlooms and other valuable things at home.

One of our safe deposit boxes removes the hazard, removes the useless mental burden—fully protects your property without thought or vigilance on your part. Practically ends your concern about fire or burglary. And remember, statistics show that the greatest fire and burglary loss is suffered by people in moderate circumstances—not by the wealthy.

And what is the cost? Less than half of 1% yearly on a $500 total of such valuables.

You will find it interesting to visit our safe deposit department. And we will consider it a privilege to have you do so. Why not come in today—and get specific, detailed information?

GIRL RESERVE MID-WINTER CONFERENCE.

Ruth Louise Hamilton.

Last Friday the mid-winter conference of the Girl Reserves of Michigan was held at Grand Rapids. There were four girls from Plymouth who attended. Ruth Louise Hamilton, Irene Krauter, June Jewell and Viola Luttermor, and our adviser, Mrs. Goodwin Crumble. We had a special car with the Detroit delegation. Late in the afternoon we arrived in Grand Rapids tired of our ride and glad to be there. We went immediately to the Y. W. C. A. building and registered.

After procuring our dinner we went to the gymnasium at the "Y." where there was a get-acquainted party. Each girl told her name and her home town, and all joined heartily in the games. After this we sat on the floor and sang Girl Reserve songs.

Miss Pearl MacDermid, president of the Grand Rapids Inter-club Council, welcomed us to Grand Rapids on behalf of the Girl Reserves of that city; Miss Helen Carpenter, general secretary of the Grand Rapids Y. W. C. A., welcomed us to the building; and Mrs. A. L. Albee, president of the board of the Y. W. C. A., welcomed us to the city on behalf of the Y. W. C. A. Our meeting was closed by a bright ceremonial given by the Hillsdale delegation.

The Grand Rapids Y. W. C. A. is a very beautiful building. As you walk in you find yourself in a lounge room with a fireplace at one end and at the other a desk and two offices, a check room and an elevator. This room is softly lighted, has writing desks and comfortable chairs and couches. The upper floors have offices, private rooms, exhibition rooms, and on the fourth floor there is an auditorium with a stage.

Saturday morning the conference opened at 9:30 and we all gathered in the auditorium and began the meeting by singing. Miss Dorothy Freeman then led the devotions, after which we heard three very interesting talks on "The World We Live In—Prepare to Have It a Part," by Miss Helen Hutchens, of Bureau of Occupations of Chicago, who discussed vocations for girls and women; "Breathe the World Though, Do the World Deed," by Mrs. Katzenmeyer, of Hillsdale, who discussed religion and religious thoughts; and "When Men Speak Strong for Brotherhood," by Miss Florence Sprague, of Detroit, who discussed international fellowship. The whole conference then divided into sections and joined discussion groups to talk over these three subjects.

Saturday afternoon we also began by singing and then divided into groups to discuss music, prose and poetry, art, trees and flowers, Girl Reserve ceremonials. Then we had a period to do anything we liked.

At 6:30 o'clock we had a banquet in the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria. A string trio played during dinner. The after-dinner program was very interesting. The Rockford quartet sang several numbers, which were followed by a soloist, who sang in English and Dutch. The speaker, Miss Florence Sprague, told us about the "Girls I Have Seen Around the World," a most interesting talk which she divided into acts and scenes. The first act was set in the Orient and the second in Europe. She told us about the Girl Reserves in Nankin, Burma, Estonia, Rumania and other countries.

Sunday morning the Detroit girls closed the conference with a very beautiful ceremonial on the seven great religions of the world, beginning with man's first yearnings for a great God and showing in tabular the religions, Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Zoroastrianism, Moslem Faith, Jewish Faith, and the Christian Faith.

After the ceremonial the girls formed a double line and, led by three girls carrying the American, Girl Reserve and Church flags, proceeded to Park Congregational church, where the entire center section had been reserved for them. Dr. Merrill, the pastor, delivered a most impressive sermon on "Fellowship with the Unseen." The service closed with the Girl Reserve song, "Follow the Gleam."

STARKWEATHER NOTES

Phyllis Stewart of the 5 B grade is on the highest step of the Silent Reading chart.

In the 5 A class, which is divided into two teams, the Silent Reading chart is made up of red and purple kites. Ruth Norman is captain of the Red team which has a total of seventy-three points, while Norman Kincaid is captain of the Purple team with a total of sixty-six points.

Donald Blessing heads the list in the 5 B Arithmetic class, while Norman Kincaid carries away the honors in the 5 A Arithmetic work.

A new pupil, Leda Sherman, from Geer, has entered Miss Johnson's group, making a total of thirty-eight in the room. The others are very glad to have her among them.

They are now making a "Who's Who" book in Language.

Miss Stader's students have made some attractive covers for booklets showing cut-out pictures of birds and flowers. They are anxious to begin the study of the various birds and flowers which these booklets are to contain.

Last Wednesday something unusual happened; all except three received A in Spelling.

One of Miss Spiegleberg's pupils, Albert Blair, is absent because he has scarlet fever.

PERRINSVILLE

Mrs. May Kubic is on the sick list. The sad news of little Ansel Raddeburg's death was a shock to this community. The first three years of his life were spent here. The family have the sympathy of friends in this community.

Bobby McGee celebrated his birthday Friday night with a good old-fashioned dance to which all did justice to their feet. We hope Bobby will celebrate many more.

A good number of old neighbors and friends spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bock, west of Salline. The evening was spent in dancing. All had a good time.

The young folks of this place amused themselves sliding down the hill Saturday evening. When tiring of that they spent the remainder of the evening at Mr. and Mrs. Cutler's, in games and old time dancing. At twelve o'clock a sumptuous lunch was served, after which they returned home hoping to have another one soon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baehr and Mrs. Effie Baird spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tait.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cousins and daughters Mrs. Smith and Frank Outhwaite of Wayne, called at George Baehr's Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baehr spent Thursday with Mrs. Alma Bridge and family at Berkley.

Tom Bridge, of Plymouth, had the misfortune to wreck his car sliding against a tree on Ann Arbor Trail Thursday.

Miss Mildred Lawrence spent Wednesday evening in Detroit.

Clinton Baehr, Margaret Bassett and friend spent Sunday at Lake Orion.

The house on the old Mining place, on Wayne road, was burned to the ground Wednesday afternoon. The people were away from home and the cause of the fire is unknown.

The reels met with Mr. and Mrs. Cutler Monday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent in games and various topics.

Come one, come all—join the contest at Newburg Sunday school.

URGE REFORM IN HOUSE OF LORDS

Would Limit Membership of British Body.

London.—The house of lords is demanding a reform which would limit its membership and provide for certain peers to be elected.

It seems likely that the country will eventually adopt some sort of plan like this, since it is widely asserted that the present constitution of the British upper house renders it not only impotent but inefficient. There are many who would like to see it on a par with the United States senate. Others would like to see it abolished altogether.

Would Limit Members. This situation is recognized by the house of lords itself. The latest move was to vote by 52 to 8 that "it is desirable that early steps should be taken to limit the number of members of the house of lords and to make provision for an elective representative or nomination as would insure to each political party a fair position in the house of lords."

Three Parts to Parliament. Theoretically, parliament is divided in three parts, the king, the house of commons and the house of lords and the assent of each component is required before an act of parliament can become a law, with certain exceptions. Actually, the house of commons makes the laws, because the king supports its decisions and the commons control the lords with the threat of creating any number of peers needed to pass a bill through the house of lords should the upper house prove recalcitrant.

An expert has figured it out that the electrical energy developed by 5,000,000 persons, all talking at once, would keep just one incandescent light going. That helps us to understand how little illumination comes from most conversations.—Manchester Union.
