Two Women Called By Death

Mrs. James Cooper, 54, well known in Wayne, passed away last Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. F. Adams, on Brush street, Wayne, Michigan. Lela Wightman, of Wayne, was born January 28, 1875, where she spent most of her life until September 26, 1892, when she was married to George F. Gillard, of Saginaw. To this union was born one daughter, Reforde, now Mrs. E. F. Adams. From 1910 to 1928 she made her home in Chicago and since then she lived with her daughter, until July 2, 1928, when she married James Cooper of this place.

Mrs. Edson Huston Dies On Florida Trip

Mrs. Edson O. Huston was born Lillian Belle Metcalf in Saybrook township, Ashabula County, Ohio, October 10, 18— She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Metcalf, prosperous farmers of that community, and she was also the youngest of ten children.

After completing her high school education, she engaged in business in Ashabula. June 8, 1893 she was married to Edson O. Huston, of Canton township. After living a year in Mecosta, Michigan, she and Mr. Huston moved to Plymouth where they have lived for the past thirty-five years, at first in the old Coleman house on Penniman, then on Maple avenue, then for the past twenty-five years at their home, 923 Penniman avenue.

Mrs. Huston died at St. Vincent's Hospital, Jacksonville, Florida, Monday, March 11, at three o'clock in the morning after an illness of only two days. Mr. and Mrs. Huston and son, Oscar, left two weeks ago Thursday morning to drive to Florida. They had gone as far as Jacksonville when Mrs. Huston was stricken with pleural pneumonia. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Edson O. Huston; her son, Oscar M. Huston; her daughter, Ruth Huston-Whipple, and her son-in-law, Austin Whipple. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Fred Blvd. of Oxford, Michigan and Mrs. Matilda Carpenter, of Ashabula, Ohio; a brother, John Metcalf, of Saybrook, Ohio; two brothers and sister-in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Huston and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huston; beside five nephews and four nieces.

Mrs. Huston's chief interests were her home, her family, and her garden. She had been a member of the Plymouth Methodist Episcopal church for the past twenty-five years. She was also a member of the Plymouth Woman's club for many years, of the W. C. T. U. and the League of Women Voters. She enjoyed being with her friends and when her health permitted was happy in giving and attending parties, in attending the theatre, and in taking trips with her family.

Altho Mrs. Huston had a natural reserved and retiring disposition, her many friends knew and appreciated her courage, determination, unselfishness, industry, ambition and inherent kindness. She spent her life living for her family and friends. She thought of others constantly and did all she could for those whom she knew. No wife and mother was ever more deeply loved, more sincerely appreciated, or more deserving of love.

The funeral services will be held Friday (today) afternoon, March 15, at 2 o'clock at the family home on Penniman avenue.

ROTARIANS HEAR PONTIAC ENGINEER

The Plymouth Rotary club at its regular noon luncheon last Friday had the pleasure of hearing a very interesting discussion upon the subject "Municipal Airports," by Mr. G. Donald Kennedy, supervising engineer in charge of the construction of the airport recently constructed by the City of Pontiac. Mr. Kennedy discussed in very interesting fashion the problems which were met by our neighboring city in the building of their airport, and touched briefly upon the requirements of the federal government in connection with their rating of airports throughout the country. Mr. Kennedy supplemented his discussion by showing a hundred or more large photographs of the Pontiac airport, showing all stages in its construction. Mr. Kennedy's talk was instructive as well as interesting and was much appreciated by members of the club and their guests.

League of Women Voters Held Meeting

LOCAL CLUB MEMBERS ARE INVITED TO ANNUAL LUNCHEON AT STATLER HOTEL MARCH 27.

The annual meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held in the Crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower, Monday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Phoebe Patterson, president, presiding.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Charles O. Ball; First Vice President, Mrs. Phoebe L. Patterson; Second Vice President, Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple; Third Vice President, Mrs. Luella Chappell; Recording secretary, Mrs. Anna Nash; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Florence Packard; and Treasurer, Mrs. Paul W. Adams.

Satisfactory reports of the secretary and treasurer were read showing that the Plymouth league has made a splendid growth under Mrs. Phoebe Patterson's management.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Harry Adams, executive secretary of the Wayne County League, who is a popular speaker in the league, gave an interesting and instructive talk on the "Way of the League." Mrs. Adams stressed the remarkable accomplishments of the league through national, state and local organizations during the nine years of its existence.

An invitation was given to all members of the Plymouth league to attend the annual luncheon meeting and election of officers of the Wayne County League of Women Voters, which this year, will take place on Wednesday, March 27, in the Statler hotel.

The meeting, which will open at 10:30, will be presided over by the retiring president, Mrs. Henry Steffens, Jr. The committee and department reports will be presented to the members in printed form and will be read during the session.

A resume of the program activities of the year will be given briefly by Mrs. Myron T. Vorce, chairman of the committee, with her recommendations, together with those of other chairmen, will be made with regard to future activities of the league.

Mrs. Harris P. Baldwin of Washington, D. C., chairman of the living costs department of the National League of Women Voters, will be guest of honor and the principal speaker.

Since much emphasis is to be placed on a study of city planning during the spring months, Mr. Walter Blucher, executive secretary of the city plan commission, has been invited to address the meeting, giving a brief history of city planning and the part that Detroit has played up to the present time. This address will be an introduction to the sectional study groups and programs which the various districts will conduct during April and May.

Mrs. F. W. Lawrence is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, and is planning charming appointments for the luncheon. Mrs. Louis Ives will direct the decoration of the tables.

The nominating committee is headed by Mrs. Emerson Davis and working with her are Mrs. E. T. Ashman, Mrs. Henry Gray Sherrard, Mrs. Joseph Pinnock, Mrs. Benjamin Lambert, Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple and Miss Jessie Miller.

The following voting delegates were appointed to attend this meeting:

Mrs. Charles O. Ball, Mrs. Phoebe Patterson, Mrs. Don Packard, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Frank Mallard, Miss Mary Conner, Miss Almeda Wheeler, and Mrs. William Petz.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the Hotel Mayflower April 15th at which time the husbands will be guests of the league at a six o'clock dinner.

AWARDED HONORS.

Through their efforts, Amelia Zielasko and Warren Bassett, both seventh grade pupils in the Newburg school, have been awarded first honors in the popularity contest which was held in connection with the carnival given March 1. In token of their appreciation the P. T. A. extend to these their many thanks.

Maynard Larkins Selected for National H. S. Orchestra

MAYNARD LARKINS

MAYNARD LARKINS

Maynard Larkins, Plymouth high school student, who has shown special aptitude in his musical studies, has been selected for membership in the National High School orchestra and band camp at Interlochen, Michigan, according to a message received here this week.

Proposal of the youngster for membership in the camp was made by the local school authorities. The choice is considered especially complimentary in view of the fact that the camp has accommodations for only 300 and over one thousand applications were received for the 300 places.

The National High School summer music camp is sponsored jointly by the National Federation of Music Clubs, the Music Supervisors' National conference and the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music as an incentive to musically talented pupils and as a reward to students of outstanding ability by giving them a summer of study under master educators and musicians. Only students of excellent character and undeniable talent are accepted at the camp.

The camp's musical director is Joseph E. Maddy, of the University of Michigan school of music, and its supervisor of instruction is T. P. Giddings, supervisor of music in the Minneapolis public schools.

The camp will open on June 23 and close on August 18, thus giving the high school boys and girls who attend eight full weeks amidst the tall pines of the northern country. The major activities will consist of an orchestra of 150, a band of 90 and a chorus of 60. The concert schedule will include regular Sunday afternoon and evening concerts, with special features for each concert.

A visit to the camp at Interlochen reveals a veritable city of music—a community where life's activities are carried on with violin and horn. Cottages for the boy musicians and faculty dot the shore of Lake Wah-bee-ka-netta, while the girls and their counselors are housed above the beach of Lake Wah-bee-ka-netta, a mile away. Midway between the two stands Interlochen Bowl looking down upon its imposing orchestra shell appropriately built of giant oak pines. Here are held not only the orchestra, band and chorus rehearsals, but also the public concerts which are given at frequent intervals during the summer. The natural amphitheatre, affording a seating capacity of 6,000 people, is yet not big enough to hold the mass of humanity that swarms to the woods at the announcement of a concert.

Among the nationally-known figures under whose batons members of the 1929 camp are expected to perform are Walter Damrosch, Frederick Stock, Ossip Gabrilowitsch, Howard Hanson, Leo Sowerby and Albert Stoessel.

To Hold Second Booster Banquet Thursday, March 21

A real good speaker has been secured to talk to the citizens of Plymouth and all those interested in Plymouth's growth at the second booster banquet at the Hotel Mayflower next Thursday evening, March 21. The banquet will start promptly at 6:30 and will be over before 8:30.

BUGGLARS IN TOWN.

The rectory of Our Lady of Good Counsel on Union street was burglarized Wednesday night and a large quantity of loot obtained. Entrance was gained by loosening a window sash on the first floor. None of the members of the household, occupying sleeping rooms on the second floor, were aware of the robbery until yesterday morning. The residence of Mrs. W. R. Shaw was also entered.

Water Bond Issue Carries—Amendment to Village Charter Proposing to Increase Commissioners' Pay Turned Down.

The annual village election Monday called out 484 voters. The vote given each candidate was as follows:

George Robinson	271
Paul J. Wiedman	265

The amendment to the village charter to provide for increasing the compensation of inspectors of elections from four to five dollars per day and of gatekeepers at elections from two to three dollars per day was carried by a vote of 235 yes and 221 no.

The amendment to the village charter to provide for the increasing the compensation of village commissioners from two dollars per meeting and a maximum of sixty dollars per year to five dollars per meeting and a maximum of one hundred and fifty dollars per year was defeated by a vote of 249 no and 202 yes.

The proposal to issue water bonds of the village to the amount of $9,000 to defray the cost of installing new lead pipe water service, to replace iron pipe on streets paved the past summer, was carried by a vote of 307 yes and 162 no.

CENTRAL P. T. A. INSTALLS OFFICERS.

There will be a regular meeting of the Central School Parent-Teachers' association in the high school auditorium Monday evening, March 18, at 7:30 o'clock.

An interesting program has been prepared by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Rathburn, and the installation of officers will take place at this time. It is hoped that all members will be present.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET A BIG SUCCESS

Over 100 of Plymouth's business men and other public spirited citizens attended the Chamber of Commerce banquet in the Crystal dining room of the Hotel Mayflower Tuesday evening, March 12. A new spirit of enthusiasm in the future of Plymouth was shown by all present.

Attending the meeting were some of the most prominent men—business and professional men of Wayne county, including one of Plymouth's prominent former citizens, Paul W. Voorhies.

Perley H. Deal, president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting with a few brief remarks as to the purpose and ideals of the organization and set up the fact that the meeting was called by the board of directors to ascertain the amount of interest which Plymouth had in its own Chamber of Commerce and to determine the amount of support the citizens were willing to give to the present program laid out for the year. A portion of the program was also presented for the approval of those present, and the main items of "Trade in Plymouth" campaign, full-time paid secretary, industrial development and the advertising program were discussed and received the approval of all.

Among those invited was Harley Smith, president of the Wayne District association, which acts as Wayne's Chamber of Commerce. Mr.

Smith expressed in a few words the many accomplishments of the Wayne association and he also gave a brief synopsis of the program in Wayne for 1928. Mr. Smith stated that the greatest need of any organization for the promotion of the welfare of a community was an active, working group of public spirited citizens, united together with a common, progressive desire for the progress and advancement of the community.

Edward Smith, one of the prime organizers of Wayne's organization, expressed in a few words his belief in the work and also brought out a few of the problems which will confront the local Chamber of Commerce in carrying out their program.

The president closed the meeting promptly at 8:30. After the enthusiasm expressed it was decided that the second booster banquet would be Thursday evening, March 21, at the Hotel Mayflower. The banquet will start promptly at 6:30 and will be over before 8:30. A good speaker will be present. All of Plymouth's citizens are not only invited but urged to come. Tickets will be on sale at the Chamber of Commerce room in the Hotel Mayflower, at the Plymouth United Savings bank and at the First National bank. Price $1.00 each. Tickets should be purchased immediately in order that reservations can be made at the hotel for all who will attend.

AN UNUSUAL HONOR.

We read where four Ohio women were recently honored with the degree of "Master Homemakers" at a meeting of the farm bureaus of that state. And it strikes us as a strange situation that somebody is just beginning to reward woman for a task she has been carrying out in a masterly way for thousands of years. Since the beginning of time, women have been the homemakers. We know a good many right around Plymouth who are masters at the art. The only prize they seek is the love and esteem of their families and the respect of their neighbors and friends. Is it different in these days of bridge-parties and linen meals that prizes have to be offered to those who really know how to keep a house and how to make of it a real home? It might be necessary in some parts of the country, but we don't believe our own community has yet reached that stage.

A PATRIOTIC SUGGESTION

A suggestion is now going the rounds of the press of the nation that ought to appeal to everyone in the United States. It is that next year, in Washington City there be held, instead of the annual U. S. R. encampment, a joint reunion of all veterans of both the Union and the Confederate armies, and that the government itself pay the fares and act as host to every veteran who wore either the blue or the gray who is physically able to make the trip. Time has almost mustered out the members of both armies and, compared with the way we spend money for other things, the expense of such a proposition would be small. But whatever it costs, it would be a good investment. Where is there a taxpayer around Plymouth who would object to have a little of our public funds spent in such a way? We believe he would be hard to find.

THE FLOOD SEASON.

Great floods, resulting from violent rainstorms and heavy snows have devastated large areas of the country recently, leaving in their path bodies of the dead and property loss of millions. It is the usual toll from early spring freshets—the same thing that happens every year in some sections of the United States or another.

Engineers and statesmen, not too much under the influence of politics, have for years preached the importance of defense against these floods, yet nothing worth while in the way of protection has been accomplished. Here and there communities have spent their own money in constructing dams and reservoirs and deepening channels. But the United States government, while spending millions annually on an army and navy to defend us against outside attacks goes peacefully on suffering these interior attacks from an agency as deadly as war to continue.

It is not only a national matter, this thing of flood prevention, but it is a matter of concern right here in Plymouth. Anything that destroys human life and property in other sections of the nation injures us indirectly. Any kind of tragedy for one community is a tragedy for all. We are the richest nation on earth, and squander more than enough annually to make nation-wide flood prevention possible. Surely the events of the past few weeks—and others that are almost certain to come with the arrival of spring—ought to be sufficient to awaken us, and especially our public servants, to a duty we have already too long neglected.

OUTWITTING CROOKS.

According to a Washington dispatch the postoffice department will, beginning April 1, issue postage stamps bearing the name of the state in which they are sold. The order has been issued in the hope of eliminating the sale of stolen stamps. For the first few months the experiment will be confined to Kansas and Nebraska, but if it works out it will be extended to other states. It will include all stamps from one to five cents, as those varieties are stolen in the greatest quantities. Under the new rule thieves will hesitate to market their loot, since stamps bearing the name of one state will be looked on with suspicion if offered for sale in another. It seems queer that a nation should be forced to protect itself from its own citizens, but that is what this one is constantly compelled to do. This latest move is additional proof of that fact.

MEAT BY TRUCK.

Anyone around Plymouth who wants to get a good idea of what a wonderful change the auto has worked in marketing should spend a few hours at a big city stockyard. However, since all of us haven't that means of acquiring knowledge on the subject, maybe a few statistics will serve instead.

According to a report just sent out by the Livestock Journal of Chicago, 12,193,058 cattle, calves, hogs and sheep were hauled by motor truck to 17 major markets in 1928, an increase of 46 percent over the previous year. The money value of this stock hauled by truck in 1928 totaled more than $236,000,000 which means a million dollar load of meat to market by truck every working day in the year. The total weight was three billion four hundred million pounds, or about one million truck loads. As high as 873 truck loads were received at a single market in one day.

Somehow we've been so interested in the auto from a passenger-carrying standpoint we have not considered its part in providing us with the things needed to sustain life. Old methods of driving stock to market, or crowding it into railroad cars, have passed so swiftly that we hardly realize that more than one-half of all our livestock is now being carried in by motor. And more roads and better roads will increase that percentage. Talk about progress—where on earth can you find a better example than this?

"Hankered to Write" at 58; Back to School

Urban, Ill.—Because he had a "hankering to write," Alvanza S. Davis has turned his back on 30 years of army service to become the oldest undergraduate student at the University of Illinois. This gray-haired veteran of fifty-eight, however, is no newcomer to the college world. He studied for the ministry before he served Uncle Sam in Germany, Alaska, Cuba and the Philippines. His theological studies were abruptly terminated in 1888 when Blackburn college authorities found a bottle of medicinal whisky in his room. Davis was stationed at the university after more than twenty years abroad. In 1926 he was retired with the rank of technical sergeant. Psychology and science claim most of his attention as a student, though he claims "too much schooling tends to destroy a man's initiative."

Gold-Lined Tomb Built for Argentine Family

Buenos Aires.—Simple and unpretentious in its exterior appearance, one family vault in the Chacarita cemetery holds a vast store of wealth. It is a completely lined with gold and cost approximately 1,000,000 pesos ($420,000). It also contains a small statue of a woman, a work of Bitoff, said to have cost 70,000 pesos. Frescos of inestimable value adorn the upper part of the golden walls. The vault was constructed 19 years ago by Angel Roverano. Designs which were being worked out in the floor in small gold blocks were never completed, because the will of Roverano provided that the tomb must be closed on the death of his only surviving relative, a brother, who died several years ago.

Valley Well Named

Death valley received its name from the fact that in 1850 a party of gold-seekers with their families made a one-day camp in the valley and less than half of them survived, the remainder being overcome by heat and thirst. A few escaped over the mountains to the mountainous Californian plains; the others returned to the East.

Short Talk by a THOUGHTFUL Mother

A Pennsylvania mother speaks first: "I know the worth of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. We used it for years, and it never fails us. For croupy children, feverish colds, disturbing night coughs, it gives us a feeling of security to have Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house." No opiates, no chloroform, made under rigid sanitary control, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound carries a strong appeal to thoughtful mothers everywhere. Ask for it. Sold everywhere in Plymouth.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

The warning signals that the Michigan Public Utilities Commission ordered installed at the Mill street crossing of the Pere Marquette railway in the village were constructed and put into operation the past few days by the railroad company. These signals fill a long felt need at this dangerous crossing and should provide a factor of safety at this point that should go far toward eliminating crossing accidents.

Our dog licensing ordinance has been in effect now something over a month, and steps are to be taken to dispose of stray and unlicensed dogs within a very few days. See public notice upon another page of this issue of the Plymouth Mail.

One of the features of last Monday's election was the lack of interest displayed by some voters in the bond and charter amendment proposals, as indicated by the number of unmarked ballots turned in by voters. Over sixty such ballots were handed in, besides a number that were destroyed or discarded by the voters.

The recent windy weather resulted in a number of calls to the fire department to put out chimney fires which develop because of the excessive draft caused by the wind. This emphasizes the need of our observing the precaution to strictly check our furnace drafts during times of high winds as a preventative of chimney fires.

WHITBECK'S CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rengest were Saturday and Sunday guests of the latter's brother in Owasso, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gale.

Mrs. Walter Schiffe and daughter, Corrine and Mrs. Donald Wagensbuz and Betty Jane and Mrs. Arthur Hanchett, of Garden City, spent the day Wednesday with their cousin, Mrs. Penwrite, of Detroit.

Mrs. A. C. Procknow and Mrs. Parish attended the Lutheran Aid Society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hix Wednesday.

Mrs. Schiffe and daughter, Mrs. Redman, called on Mrs. Parish Tuesday afternoon, of Robinson subdivision.

Mrs. LaGrow, who has been on the sick list the past week is able to be out again.

Mrs. Donald Wagensbuz and daughter Betty, called on their grandmother Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dethloff and two sons spent Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk.

Usually the man who does the most lecturing about the blessings of poverty is the one who has his meals provided for a long way ahead.

A Supper Series by St. John's Church

The Men's club of St. John's Episcopal church, with the co-operation of the Women's Guild, are putting on a series of five supper entertainments this spring, similar to those sponsored last year. On next Wednesday, March 20, at 6:30 o'clock, the first supper will be served. The speaker will be Prof. W. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan, who needs no introduction to Plymouth audiences. His subject will be "Modern Science and the Bible."

On April 17 the second supper will be given. The program for this evening is not definitely fixed as yet.

On May 1 Prof. W. L. Carr, of the Latin department of the University of Michigan, will be the speaker. His subject will be "What is an Education?" Prof. Carr has not spoken here before, but enjoys a fine reputation as an after-dinner talker.

On May 15 there will be a musical program. Mrs. Harry Bacher, dean of women of the University School of Music at Ann Arbor and president of the State Federation of Music clubs, will bring some soloists and probably a quartet from the University Glee club, and will also talk on the value of music to the community.

On May 29 Captain Edwin Pollock, U. S. N., of Cranbrook school, will give a lecture on Samoa, illustrated with slides and films. Captain Pollock was naval governor of American Samoa for the regular 18-month tour of duty during 1922 and 1923, and so his first hand knowledge of this subject.

At all of these suppers except the school of music evening, there will be incidental music after the meal and before the speech.

The suppers will be served by the Women's Guild and will be up to the high standard set by these ladies heretofore.

This is a very unusual series of programs and will be well worth the money asked. The proceeds, of course, will go for the benefit of the church. Season tickets will be sold for the entire course, $5.00 admitting one to all the five suppers and five programs.

It is hoped that there will be a large and representative number of Plymouth people who will avail themselves of the double privilege of enjoying these fine suppers and at the same time helping St. John's.

One thing that amuses an editor is the remarkable number of college graduates who can't spell.

Come to think of it, wonder why nobody has ever thought to invent an escapeless penitentiary?

"If we didn't have a few darned fools in this country," says Dad Plymouth, "where would the radical leaders find their following?"

Some high school boys know where they will attend college next year and others don't play football.

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK COMMEMORATION STAMP

Postmasters and others connected with the Postal Service are notified that the department is about to issue a new 2-cent George Rogers Clark postage stamp to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of Fort Sackville.

The new stamp is the same shape and size as the 5-cent air-mail stamp, 1 3/32 by 1 15/32 inches, and is printed in two colors; the border in red and the vignette in black. The central design shows the surrender of Fort Sackville at Vincennes, Ind., to George Rogers Clark, reproduced from a photograph of the painting by Frederick C. Yohn. The word "Vincennes" appears beneath the central design and at the top of the stamp are the words "U. S. Postage" in white Roman letters. Above the vignette is a ribbon bearing the words "George Rogers Clark" with the word "Commemorative" in a curved panel directly beneath. In panels on either side of the stamp are acanthus scrolls and in both upper corners are the years "1779" at the left and "1929" at the right. In both lower corners within circles with dark backgrounds is the white numeral "2" with the word "Cents" at the bottom of the stamp.

The new George Rogers Clark stamp was first placed on sale February 25, 1929, at the post office at Vincennes, Ind., and for the benefit of stamp collectors and dealers it was placed on sale the following day, February 26, at the Philatelic Agency, Division of Stamps, Post Office Department. These stamps will be placed on sale at other post offices as promptly as after February 25 as production will permit.

Trip to Cuba And Bermuda Interesting

NELSON SCHRADER TELLS OF THE SOUTHLAND AND HIS EXPERIENCES.

Back from a trip to Florida, Bermuda and Cuba, where he posed with Jack Dempsey for photographers, took a sun bath on the bathing beach at Miami while Irene Castle bathed in the ocean surf that rippled over his feet, bobbed with the wet and sugar nobility of Cuba, and with a fish story that almost won first page position in the Miami News and Metropolis, Nelson Schrader is busy telling his host of friends all about his brief vacation in Florida and the West Indies.

Mr. and Mrs. Schrader, accompanied by a number of Redford friends, have spent a most delightful six weeks on their trip. Favored with ideal weather all the time they were gone, there was not a single mishap to mar the delights of their vacation.

"The southern end of Florida and Cuba right now are one vast flower garden. I never before in my life saw so many beautiful flowers. We went down to Key West and crossed over to Cuba from that point. Key West is an old, old city, but you can see that it is going back. I was there a number of years ago and it does not look so progressive now as it did then," said Mr. Schrader.

"Havana is a beautiful city and the Cuban people go out of their way to make a visit to their island a pleasant one. There are no windows in the homes. Shutters are used. No flies or mosquitoes bother one over there. They have none.

"Over in Bermuda the water around the island is so clear that you can look down 50 or 60 feet to the bottom. It is clear as crystal. This place is under English rule. The weather was just like late spring here—ideal.

"They were picking tomatoes in one place in Florida and in another place we visited the potatoes were almost knee high. One grower told us they would be shipping potatoes north in three or four weeks. It was all very interesting and the people we were with were ideal traveling companions. They were among the party that went with us to the San Francisco convention of Exchange clubs two years ago."—Northville Record.

Waterford School Notes.

The boys of the Waterford school had quite an exciting time Monday noon fighting fire when the field east of school caught fire. The boys were burning grass in the school yard and it went over into the field.

The spelling bee for the grade champions will be held Friday, March 15. The best speller in each grade wins a dictionary.

The school championship bee will be held Friday, March 29. The school champion gets an atlas and competes in the district bee.

We have two new pupils in school, Billy Garrett and Geraldine Schrader. There are only 34 seats in the school and we have 38 pupils, so conditions are rather congested.

The City of Detroit raised over $110,000 in the Christmas seal sale to fight tuberculosis.

Mrs. Charles O. Ball, Plymouth chairman, attended a tea at the Detroit Athletic club given by Mrs. H. J. Maxwell Grylls, general chairman, recently, when plans were made for a benefit bridge tea to be held at the Detroit Leland some time in April. The proceeds will be used to pay for the Red Cross emergency kits that were given to each school in the county that sold Christmas seals. Mrs. Ball reports that one of these kits was given to each of the 20 schools in the Plymouth district.

Grand Duke's Widow Seeks to Sell Gems

London.—The Daily Mail says that two famous jewels from the Imperial Russian treasury are being offered for sale in London, but this time not by the Bolsheviks.

They are the property of the widow of Grand Duke Nicholas. The grand duchess is a sister of the queen of Italy, and it was from the Italian court the two gems were brought to England with a request to Commander Locker Lampson, M. P., a friend of the grand duke, to assist in their disposal.

The gems originally belonged to the Empress Catherine. One is a fifteen-carat rose diamond for which it is said the late Emperor Nicholas refused an offer of £150,000. The other is a seventeen-carat emerald. The paper says the grand duchess wants between £50,000 (about $250,000) and £60,000 ($300,000) for the two.

New Source of Paper Discovered in Alaska

Washington.—Southeastern Alaska is regarded by government foresters as a permanent source of pulpwood for paper manufacture, with water-power resources, tidewater transportation and a climate permitting a year-round operation of paper plants and shipping.

Pulpwood production is estimated at 1,500,000 cords yearly, enough for 1,000,000 tons of newsprint annually in perpetuity, or more than a quarter the present American consumption.

Get Many Queries.

"A steady stream of letters flows in to us from interested people seeking information on a wide variety of subjects," said a weather bureau official recently. "Immediately information may be wanted on the current or seasonal weather, or more particular facts concerning the climate or prevailing weather conditions of a particular locality."

"City governments and manufacturing plants often want to know the normal direction of the winds in a given region with reference to locating plants that give off undesirable odors in such a way that nearby dwellers will be least concerned."

"Statistics of wind force and direction assist also in the installation of water supply systems to be operated by windmills; in determining the origin of fires from flying sparks, or in avoiding such fires by proper placing of chimneys; in ascertaining the pressure to which buildings will be subjected under stress of heavy storms; and the surface movement of lake waters in connection with the disposal of city sewage. Sometimes this part of the bureau serves the useful purpose of warning would-be real estate purchasers of conditions they had not inquired into with enough diligence."

HUMAN WEATHER VANE IS THIS MAN'S JOB

All He Does Is Tell Which Way Wind Blows.

Washington.—Of all the queer jobs in the world probably none is stranger than that of official weather vane. Imagine having a position at a fair salary with nothing to do but to tell in which direction the wind is blowing—or likely to blow! This job exists at the weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture here and it is a busy one, for numbers of people all over the country write to find out in what direction the wind is coming from!

The inquirers are not humorists, professional or otherwise, who have nothing else to do and want to stir up a little annoyance and excitement. They are people with serious interests in life. The maxim that it is an ill wind that blows nobody any good has in a measure been adopted by the human wind indicator at the nation's capital. It is his business to find out if any air disturbance, variously known as a cyclone, a gale or just plain wind, is going to work any one any harm.

Must Report on Wind.

Those especially interested in determining air currents have specific objects in view, such as to find out the prevailing direction of a wind in a certain locality in which a glue factory or a garbage disposal plant has been or will be established. Officials of a city government, the heads of a manufacturing plant, real estate dealers or mere householders may all be interested in determining the prevailing direction of winds in a given region. It is a climatological point which must be investigated and determined upon. Who is better fitted to report on the knotty problem than the weather man at Washington?

And so the party interested sits down and writes a letter. The letter goes to the weather bureau and the human weather vane gets to work. It becomes his business to find out and report on all the actions of the suspected and, maybe, guilty air current. In other words, it is his business to know from which quarter of the earth a wind is likely to emerge and how often it may do so within a specified time.

Of course, if it is a no-account, shifty, unstable wind, or one that is likely to blow from all quarters at once, why he is supposed to know that, too. Anything is welcome to the inquirer if it sheds light on the kind of wind he or she is interested in. This sought after information may persuade the writer to buy or not to buy property in a location that the winds adversely affect.

AN ORDINANCE.

An ordinance to regulate hawking, peddling and street vending and to prohibit the sale of goods, wares, merchandise, fruits, vegetables and foodstuffs without a license.

THE VILLAGE OF PLYMOUTH ORDINANCES.

Section 1. No person shall engage or assist as a helper, in the business of hawking, peddling or vending any goods, wares, merchandise, fruits, vegetables or foodstuffs from door to door or from or upon the streets, alleys and public places, or from any hotel or rooming house within the Village of Plymouth, either by sample or by taking orders, or otherwise, for delivery then or in the future, without first obtaining a license from the village clerk.

Section 2. The village clerk is hereby authorized to issue a license to any person of good character to engage in the business of hawking, peddling or vending as aforesaid upon the payment of a fee hereinafter set forth. No license thus issued shall be transferred or assigned.

Before, however, any license shall be issued, such applicant shall furnish to the village clerk a true photograph of himself, his address, signature and physical description; and shall obtain and present a health certificate from a competent medical physician residing within the Village of Plymouth, who shall first have made a complete and thorough physical examination of said applicant to determine whether the applicant is affected with any contagious or infectious disease, which said health certificate shall bear a date not earlier than one year of the date of termination of the license being applied for. If the applicant proposes to sell fruits, vegetables or foodstuffs, he must, before offering same for sale, bring them to the village hall for inspection, and must obtain a certificate from the village clerk showing that said fruits, vegetables or foodstuffs are fit for human consumption, and that the means of conveying and delivering are sanitary and safe, so as to protect the health of the public.

The clerk shall also have the power and authority to require such other and further information as in his judgment may seem proper in order to determine whether the applicant is a fit and proper person to be given a license, having in mind the safety and welfare of the public.

The fees for the above licenses shall be as follows, to wit:

Daily	$ 5.00
Three months	35.00
Six months	50.00
Twelve months	75.00

The fees for each helper and assistant shall be as follows, to wit:

Daily	$ 1.00
Three months	10.00
Six months	15.00
Twelve months	25.00

No license issued hereunder shall extend beyond May 31st of each year following the date of issuance.

Section 3. The license granted hereunder shall be in such form as to contain a true photograph of the licensee, his address, signature and his physical description. All licenses shall carry with them, while peddling, the license above described. No license shall change, remove or obliterate any entry made upon such license.

In addition thereto every such licensee, while conducting the business, shall wear conspicuously on his outer clothing a badge or emblem, to be furnished by the village clerk, same to be stamped with the date of issue of the licensee's license, and term for which same has been issued. Failure to conspicuously and constantly exhibit said badge or emblem while engaged in said business in the village shall be sufficient cause for the suspension or revocation of such license by the village clerk.

Section 4. Licensees under this ordinance shall comply with all traffic rules and regulations in effect in the village, and shall not remain standing at one place on any of the streets, alleys or public places for a longer period than five minutes while engaged in said business.

Section 5. It shall be unlawful for any such licensee to stand or be on any public street, alley or public place, or in any building or place of business abutting on any street, alley or public place, and to cry out or make any noise of any kind whatsoever so as to attract persons or induce persons to congregate on any public sidewalk, street, alley or public place so as to tend to obstruct traffic, whether pedestrian or vehicular. It shall also be unlawful to call out or make any noise of any kind whatsoever with a view of attracting persons to buy the goods which said licensee has for sale.

Section 6. It shall be the duty of every such licensee to exhibit the said license and badge or emblem to any policeman or other authorized person when requested to do so; and failure to show same upon request shall be deemed a violation of this ordinance.

Section 7. It is not the intent of this ordinance to prohibit the sale by mechanics and artisans of products of their own manufacture; nor the sale by farmers of their own products, either produced by themselves or by their regular farm employees; nor any person who is soliciting for goods, wares, merchandise and foodstuffs who has first obtained a license pursuant to Act 353 of Public Acts of 1921, but all such persons must furnish satisfactory proof to the village clerk that they are the one and same persons that they represent themselves to be, and they must agree to comply with all terms and conditions of this ordinance, and upon so doing the village clerk shall furnish a license free of charge.

This ordinance is not intended to affect any person who is soliciting orders for goods, wares, merchandise and foodstuffs from retail or wholesale dealers, nor to persons selling or offering for sale books, papers or magazines; nor to any person engaged in interstate commerce. Neither is it intended to apply to any vendor of wares, merchandise or foodstuffs who is regularly established in the business of selling the same wares, merchandise and foodstuffs at a definite business location in the village.

Section 8. Any license granted under this ordinance shall be accepted upon the express condition that it may be suspended without notice by the village manager whenever in his judgment it is for the best interests of the community so to do, having in mind the welfare, safety and health of the community; and same may be revoked by the village manager after giving the licensee reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard.

Section 9. It shall be unlawful for any licensee to sell or deliver any goods, wares, merchandise and foodstuffs which are ordinarily sold by weight or measure, by the use of any other than standard weight or measure.

Section 10. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not to exceed FIFTY DOLLARS, or imprisonment in the Detroit House of Correction not to exceed ninety days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Section 11. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed; especially all provisions of an ordinance providing for the licensing of hawkers and peddlers, made and passed by the Council of the Village of Plymouth on the 23rd day of August, 1926, entitled "An ordinance to regulate the sale of goods, wares and merchandise by street peddlers and others of like character in the Village of Plymouth, Michigan, and to establish a schedule of license fees therefor."

Section 12. This ordinance shall take effect on the 20th day of March, A. D. 1929.

Made and passed by the Commission of the Village of Plymouth, Michigan, this eighteenth day of February, A. D. 1929.

J. W. Henderson, President.
A. J. Koenig, Clerk.

Wills Kept on Record

Lawyers and searchers in titles frequently apply for permission to scrutinize old wills in the records of the New York Surrogate's court, in some cases where the influence of the dead hand is still felt. Often they play a part in resolving title to a piece of property that may have been originally secured from the first Indian resident of Manhattan or granted later by the Dutch or by King Charles or King James.

Should Have Weight

Home truths may hurt, but usually they are prompted by an affection that the more flattering outside world does not possess. The family is the closest organization on earth, and in estimating oneself it is not wise wholly to ignore the family verdict.—Exchange.

HIMALAYA YIELDS OLD TEMPLE RUIN

Important Excavations Made by Germans.

Berlin.—After severe hardships and perilous Himalayan ascents the German explorer, Dr. Emil Trinkler, has returned from his year and a half's travels in central Asia. At a reception given in his honor in Bremen Doctor Trinkler described the valuable findings which his expedition made in the fields of history, science and art.

The journey started from Cashmir at the foot of the Himalayas. During 13 months the German explorers pushed their way across mountain passes, all at an altitude of 17,000 feet or more. Using caravans, they traversed vast desert expanses.

The most important scientific findings were made in the Tukla-Makan desert, where the Germans remained for four months, digging out ancient villages which had been buried during sunstorms. These excavations revealed temple ruins, valuable works of sculpture and amulettes, mostly characteristic of the era of Greek-Buddhist culture. This civilization arose between 2000 B. C. and 1000 A. D. and was swept into central Asia from northwestern India.

The Germans brought with them significant relics of the Eighth century, notably manuscripts, textiles, and paintings. During their geological researches they ascertained that huge glaciers had descended upon and covered central Asia in prehistoric ages.

Relics of the expedition will be presented to the Bremen municipal museum.

Doctor Trinkler, on his return, spoke highly of the assistance rendered him and his companions by the British authorities in India. He complained bitterly, however, regarding the attitude of Chinese officials, who, he said, had placed many difficulties in the expedition's path and attempted to prevent removal of the relics. Doctor Trinkler said that the Chinese difficulties were surmounted only after the German legation in Peking had intervened.

WORLD EMPLOYS ODD WAYS TO GET WATER

Ferris Wheels and Treadmills Old Devices.

Washington.—Windmill water pumps, long characteristic landmarks of Holland, are giving way to electric power plants.

"This evolution," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society, "suggests many odd ways in which the world pumps its water supply."

"While American farmers on hither-to arid areas of the West are having their water delivered to them for irrigation purposes, Chinese farmers, known the world over for raising from one to four crops a year on their less-than-acre plots, are still using devices which antedate the windmill by many centuries."

"The Chengtu plains of Szechwan province are dotted with huge water wheels, which resemble the Ferris wheels at state fairs. Upon close inspection, however, a ride on a Chengtu irrigator would be a bit damp, for water cups and pipes occupy the space where seats would be if the wheel were in an amusement park. As the wheel turns, the cups dip water from the canal. When the containers reach the level of the field, the water is discharged into a trough."

"In Chihli province, even within sight of Peking, farmers irrigate their farms largely by foot power," continues the bulletin. "One device consists of a long, open trough with one end in the canal and the other on the edge of the farm. Three or four Chinese boys tread spokes extending from a hub which, revolving, causes a chain with loose boards attached to push water from the canal through the trough until it reaches the field."

One-Man Footpump.

"Japan's footpump is a one-man affair. Instead of treading 'spokes' the Japanese farmers tread the paddles of the irrigating wheel."

"Korean farmers are content with their spoonlike scoops which are tied to tripods placed on the bank of a stream. When the scoop is filled with water it is hoisted to the field and emptied."

"African water supply systems range from gourds carried on the heads of native women to the great Aswan dam, which controls the Nile's flood waters. Drifting down the Nile, however, the traveler sees several interesting contrivances used by the natives to augment the natural irrigation of the Nile valley."

"The Shindof, the most commonly used device, consists of a wood 'H,' the uprights of which are driven deep into the river bank. On the crossbar between the uprights a long pole is balanced. The end over the water bears a reed basket, while on the other end a clod of mud acts as a counterbalance."

"The Persian water wheel resembles wheels used in our Northwestern states until the early part of this century. On the sites of several western irrigation projects water wheels, similar to paddle wheels on Ohio river boats, pumped water for irrigation purposes. In remote districts some of the old wheels are still in operation."

"Among the Indians of the West, the tribal womenfolk still carry water jars on their heads in much the same manner as the natives of central Africa."

Easy for Indians.

"The American Indian needed no pumps for he moved where there was abundant water supply. Civilization, however, makes it difficult to move, so man has devised numerous ways to have his water brought to him. A tunnel 110 miles long and large enough to accommodate a railroad train supplies New York city with water. Los Angeles' water flows through an aqueduct 250 miles long, crossing the Mojave desert in its course to the city. Chicago, however, has not gone far for its water source; its aqueducts are laid but a few miles out into Lake Michigan. The Nadral aqueduct in India, which carries water from the lower Ganges to irrigation canals in the northwest, would reach from New York city nearly to Cleveland, Ohio, were it in the United States."

"The Queen Mary reservoir at Littleton, England, which supplies London's water, is the world's largest entirely artificial reservoir, with a capacity of about 7,000,000 gallons. The Elephant Butte irrigation dam on the Rio Grande river, although not entirely artificial, holds more than a hundred times as much. There are several dams in the United States more than 300 feet high, with the Arrowrock on the Boise river, Idaho, topping all of them at 350 feet."

Railroad Man Retires

After 52 Years on Job

Fresno, Calif.—When E. K. Eby, assistant station master for the Southern Pacific in this city, closed the iron gates at the railway depot February 1 it was for the last time.

On that date, Eby completed 52 years of railroading, and was retired on pension.

Eby celebrated his seventieth birthday early in January and is in good health and doesn't want to quit his job. He has never lost a day due to illness, he says.

COAL TURNS FACTORY WHEELS, LIGHTS CITY, COOKS PLYMOUTH'S FOOD

Gas, Electric Power Chiefly Derived From Plants Where Coal is Raw Material—400 Retail Dealers Found in Motor City.

Detroit, though noted the world over for its energy and progressiveness, often loses sight of the importance of the elements which supply this energy. One of the chief of these is coal. Coal is an old factor in civilization but upwards of 400 retail coal dealers in Greater Detroit can testify to the big part it plays in Detroit's civic life, according to information gathered Saturday by the Detroit Convention and Tourist Bureau.

Coal may be termed the life of industry. Every business house, every industrial plant and every home in Detroit is directly dependent upon it or on its by-products. Electrical power is being transmitted to this city from some of the northern counties in Michigan where great water power harnessing projects have been completed. But with all that Detroit is still dependent upon coal for the bulk of its power for all weather and all year round usage.

East Sends Trains.

Coal supplies transportation. Long trainloads of this fuel arrive daily from Pennsylvania, from West Virginia, Indiana and other points. Returning, they carry away Detroit's products built with the aid of the fuel they brought.

Although generally classed under the one heading—coal; mines located in different sections of the country supply us with widely different types of this fuel. And these products are put to different uses. From Pennsylvania comes the hard anthracite. From West Virginia comes a softer grade of coal and the mines of Indiana supply a chiefly industrial fuel.

Scientists credit these differences in coal to varying conditions under which it was formed by nature. It is explained that at one time the land which comprises the coal mining states was covered with a dense forest and underbrush growth, similar perhaps to the jungle growth which now abounds along the Amazon river in South America. Leaves and brush on the ground rotted and formed a kind of peat, not unlike that which is gathered from swamps in Ireland, dried and burned as fuel in that country.

Coal Formation Explained.

Eventually land upheavals burned all this growth in North America. It was subjected to terrific pressure under dirt and rock for hundreds of years until it developed into the black, hard product we know today as coal. Anthracite is said to have been formed under greater pressure and over a longer period than the softer grades of coal mined in less mountainous sections of the nation.

Hard coals, formed over this longer period, create less smoke and ash, and give off a greater volume of heat than softer grades in the same amount. They are, therefore, better suited for home and office building use.

Soft coals, easier to mine because they are found much nearer the ground's surface, are satisfactory for industrial use.

Coke Is By-Product.

While the average citizen of Detroit thinks of coal only in connection with winter and his own furnace, it is well to think of its other uses—even in the home. Every time gas is turned on in the kitchen range or in the fireplace heater some coal is burned. In Detroit, as well as in other cities where natural gas is not obtainable, great plants are located in which coal is placed in ovens and subjected to terrific heat. This forms gas while the residue is a light clinker known as coke.

The gas is piped from the oven to a huge round flexible reservoir, the top and walls of which raise and lower with the gas supply. Their weight causes a constant gas pressure throughout the city gas mains.

Ordinarily every time the electric light is turned on some coal is burned. In Michigan during recent years great high voltage electrical transmission lines have been connected up so that during some summer months when less power is needed a big percent of the power used in Michigan cities is furnished by northern Michigan water power plants. But every electrical power company maintains a lookout.

Power Supply Forehanded.

Should a sudden afternoon thunderstorm loom up the lookout flashes his message. Idle fires are given an open draft. Dormant boilers are again throbbing with energy. Huge generators begin to turn. And when the storm descends and office lights are turned on Detroit's activity carries on and Detroit's workers finish their day's work and return home unaware of the help they had that day from the product they know only in basement bins.

Coal plays a big part in Detroit's activity and in its citizen's comfort.

Bible in 42 Tongues Needed in Brazil

Rio Janeiro, Brazil.—Three million five hundred copies of the Bible, in 42 languages and dialects, have been distributed in Brazil during the last 50 years by the American, British and foreign Bible societies.

More copies are issued in Portuguese than in any other language, with Italian, Spanish, German, French and Slavic ranking in order.

On account of the recent immigration of Syrian-Lebanese people a large number of Bibles have been issued in Arabic, and with Japanese immigration on the increase there has been a demand for the Scriptures in that tongue.

"I SHOULD HAVE HAD KONJOLA LONG, LONG AGO"

Business Man Gives Enthusiastic Indorsements to Powers of New Medicine.

MR. FRANK TRACEY.

"My business partner recommended Konjola to me, and I shall always be in debt to him for this," said Mr. Frank Tracey, 31 Peterboro street, Detroit, Michigan. "I had been ill with kidney troubles for five years. I had to get up four or five times every night, and this broke my sleep so that my general health was affected. I was nervous and lacking in vitality and resistance, and was unable to find anything to give me even temporary relief. I was in a pretty bad fix.

"My partner insisted that I try Konjola, and I should have had this new medicine long ago. It went to work right away and in a very short time I was feeling like another person. I am sleeping well every night now, and the terrible back pains are gone. My digestion is perfect, and I am picking up weight and strength right along. My friends are amazed at this sudden change in my appearance and demeanor. I have no hesitation in recommending Konjola, for personally I think it is the world's greatest medicine."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth, Mich., at Community Pharmacy drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

FLOWER SHOW NOW ON AT CONVENTION HALL, DETROIT

Englishman Bequeaths Money to "Good People"

Tingwick, England.—Virtue realized a material reward in the will of Corbett Charles Barrett, a property owner of Buckinghamshire.

Mr. Barrett bequeathed to an old person or persons, inhabitants of Finsmere, "who have worked hard and lived good lives," his three cottages in Finsmere, a neighboring village.

These lives of good lives, says the unusual testament, preferably will be church-goers. The choice of those who will benefit by this legacy is left to the discretion of the rector and church wardens of Finsmere.

Joy for Dogs

Athens, Greece.—Prime Minister Venizelos, lover of animals, has abolished the office of dog catcher.

Copenhagen.—Sunny Greenland! Government advices are that there are no snow and ice to speak of in the ice box of Europe and that there are seal hunting and fishing just like in summer.

Geranium Has Fatal Attraction for Bug

Washington.—If Japanese beetles start hanging around the home garden, some attractive beds of geraniums probably will reduce their numbers.

Charles H. Ballou of the United States bureau of entomology, Washington, finds that these beetles feed on cultivated geraniums and that the diet paralyzes them.

The North American Flower Show is being staged in Detroit, starting Wednesday, March 13 and ending next Thursday, March 21. This is a state project staged by the Allied Florists of Detroit and vicinity, aided by the Michigan State Florists Association and the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society. Many Michigan florists have sent exhibits to Detroit to compete with the best that the country has to offer.

As in previous years, the show is being held in Detroit's Convention Hall, the largest single exhibition area in the United States. Several acres in extent, the hall is converted into one mammoth garden by exhibitors. The show is hailed by the sponsors as the "garden of a million flowers." The value of the many exhibits is inestimable, as the blooms are of a rare quality never grown commercially.

The show opened with a colorful ceremony marking the coronation of the "Queen of Flowers," selected from the most popular girls in the Detroit high schools.

The feature garden this year is a mammoth tropical garden, 15,000 square feet in area. The garden will contain a lake 150 feet long, on which will sail fragile gondolas. A crew of men was sent into the Ozark Mountains and into the bayous of Louisiana for the carloads of material needed in constructing this lake. It will be quite the most ambitious indoor garden ever attempted, officials say.

Greenwich Village Goes a-Calling in Pajamas

New York.—Making calls in pajamas is now a convenient commonplace in Greenwich Village. Young couples get ready for bed and then put on their overcoats and sully forth to other attics and studio apartments for a midnight chat.

It's wholesome, healthful and as respectable as can be. Pajamas cover more of the anatomy than do evening gowns, and they conceal the figure rather than reveal it. They give wives that cozy, domestic look.

Pajama parties, formerly undertaken as a lark, are not infrequent now, nor are they considered fantastic, exotic or any of those things. They make a pleasant, comfortable way of dress. Light, colorful and fancy are pajamas, and the doctors approve them.

Conversational Bankrupts

"A woman's expenditure of speech is astounding," says a writer. And it so often exceeds her income of ideas. —London Star

Kans., on the south, and Philadelphia Baltimore and Boston on the east. There are six airplane factories in Wichita and five of them already have entered their product for exhibition, Mr. Cooper said.

Gold Seekers Will Take Canoes in Air

New York.—Canoes as airplane equipment will be used for the first time next summer when the Dominion Explorers, Ltd., begin their projected four-year aerial gold exploration of the Canadian Northwest.

Capt. Charles Sutton, chief pilot, who came here to purchase three more cabin monoplanes for the explorers' caravan, told how preparatory work with four pontoon-fitted planes last summer demonstrated the advantage of taking canoes along for ready transportation on the lakes and streams.

Captain Sutton plans to test canoe-carrying under practical conditions here within two weeks.

Another flying innovation is a special pontoon with which Sutton is having his planes equipped.

With double bottoms built into them, the pontoons are provided with a longitudinal water-tight compartment as a double protection against puncture. Should one of the surfaces become damaged against a submerged rock in landing on the uncharted lakes and streams, the pontoon would fill only half full of water and be enabled to take off again without emergency repair.

100 PLANES ENTERED IN DETROIT AIRCRAFT SHOW

Ray Cooper, manager of the All-American Aircraft Show, to be held in Convention Hall, Detroit, next month, reports more than 100 airplanes, from small sport jobs to three-motored transport planes, already have been entered for exhibition.

In addition there will be approximately 100 displays of parts and accessories. The exhibition will cover 100,000 square feet of floor space.

Last year, according to Mr. Cooper, there were 69 ships on exhibition. Besides the planes manufactured in this country, three foreign ships will be on exhibition. These are the Moth and Avron-Avion planes, manufactured in England and the Savoia-Marchetti, of Italian make. They have been entered by the American distributors for the manufacturers.

Mr. Cooper said that invitations have been sent to 5,500 owners of planes to come here for the showing. Pilots and owners from all over the United States were here last year. More than 120,000 persons visited the show.

The transport planes which will be on exhibition will be the Ford tri-motored all-metal planes and a Fokker transport. The latter are manufactured at Wheeling, W. Va.

The other planes will be brought here from Los Angeles on the west; Minneapolis on the north; Wichita,

SHELLS ONCE SERVED AS MONEY IN AMERICA

Wampum, Cotton and Corn Also Used As Cash, While Private Mints Operated.

Picturing vividly the period before the American Revolution, when money was so scarce that substitutes, such as shells, wampum and commodities, such as tobacco, cotton and corn, were used in its stead, the current folder in the series being distributed by the Plymouth United Savings Bank draws a striking contrast between the past and the present.

In reading this folder, one is reminded of the recommendation of Thomas Edison—that gold should be abandoned as the standard of value and that the world should return to a commodity dollar.

In fact, Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale, in his book, "Stabilizing the Dollar," developed the formula for establishing such a dollar.

The methods of our forefathers were less scientific but quite as effective for a time, the book's folder relates. But in view of the difficulties later encountered, it is doubtful if very much support ever will be developed for the idea of repeating their experiments. Under the title "Early American Money," this latest publication in the series on "Money and Civilization" presents many little-known facts. It describes the first American mint established in Massachusetts in 1652, to which the colonists took whatever metals could be spared—copper pots and kettles, silver candlesticks and buckles and gold ornaments of all kinds—to be melted down and worked over into the coins that could be exchanged for luxuries from abroad for which the young Colonies hungered. There is much of interest in this review of that little-known stage of American commercial development. To study those ancient experiments and make-shift arrangements is to appreciate how far the United States and the world at large have gone along the road of commercial development and how much more general is the understanding of the principles that underlie American currency.

The remaining numbers of this series, the bank announces, will cover the development of money and banking in this country. And it is promised that they will be unusually interesting and informative.

"They've built an engine that can pull a train a mile long and Dad Plymouth says he doesn't suppose it will be long now until a motorist will have to take along a book to read at the railroad crossing.

"The seed catalogues are just as promising as ever," declares Dad Plymouth "but the weeds, as usual, will thrive best when the garden is planted."

Woman, 80, Never Lived Outside of Poorhouse

Charlottesville, Va.—A lifetime spent with no other home than that provided by a charitable organization is the story of an eighty-year-old woman inmate of the District home, near Waynesboro.

The woman was born in the county almshouse and the records of her parents and her childhood are deep in the archives of the old institution, if they are preserved at all. She can neither read nor write; has never traveled more than to make the trip from the old almshouse to the splendid District home. She knows nothing of the world and, happily for her, she is contented in her ignorance. The District home is a much finer place than the old "po' house," and she has derived "a bit of living" from the change.

Lion Steaks Popular in London Cafes

London.—Lion steak is now the most fashionable dish in exclusive London restaurants. Enterprising restaurant managers have ordered from big game hunters in South Africa a couple of lions.

They are being sent to England in the same way that beef comes from Australia. This new fashion of eating lion has been established by the duke of Gloucester, who shot his first lion during his recent trip to central Africa.

Another advantage about modern courting is that when a young fellow falls in love now he doesn't feel the need of going around and getting a half-dozen cabinet photos "struck."

Today's Reflections

The truth of the matter is that any Plymouth boy likes to be made a fool of if the right girl is doing it.

If a man hit a dog nowadays it might be news, but it would be more apt to be a publicity stunt.

Some states are so strict now that when a woman shoots her husband she has to give a reason for it.

You don't have to go to church to learn that the missionary movement isn't anything like the Charleston.

Gray hairs make a man look distinguished—and they make a woman look for hair dye.

A French scientist has just announced that there is vegetation on the moon, so a lot of Plymouth people can quit worrying about it.

We've never been able to understand why some Plymouth men delight in leaving the impression that they are a dove of peace down town and a "bear cat" at home.

LIVONIA UNION NOTES
St. Patrick's Supper.

There will be a big St. Patrick supper tonight at the Livonia Center Union Church, Five Mile at Farmington Roads. Supper will be served in cafeteria style. After supper there will be an "Our Gang Comedy" and other features, including singing and musical solos. Come and bring your friends.

METHODIST NOTES

Then said Jesus unto his disciples, "if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me."

Next Wednesday will be the last family night until after Easter. Everybody is invited to come to supper at 6:30 and remain for the class at 7:00 o'clock. Mrs. Koenig will be the teacher. All are welcome.

Next Wednesday, March 20, is L. A. S. circle day. Mrs. Passage's circle will meet with Mrs. E. J. Allison, 1160 Williams street. Mrs. Partridge's circle is invited to meet with Mrs. Albert Groth, 311 North Harvey street. Mrs. Honey's circle will enjoy a co-operative luncheon at 12:30 o'clock at Mrs. Mauna Blunk's, 209 Irving street. The members are to bring their "sunshine" bags.

On Friday, March 22, at 6:30 o'clock, the Booster class will enjoy their monthly supper, followed by a business meeting and a social period. All members are invited to come and are urged to be on time, 6:30 o'clock.

The newly organized Methodist Men's club are to have their monthly get-together and dinner next Thursday night, March 21. The committee is busy securing a good speaker for the occasion.

It is with sadness that we note the sudden passing of two of our members last week, that of Mrs. Ed. Huston and of Master Richard Gordon. Our hearts go out in sympathy to these bereaved families. May our loving Heavenly Father be very gracious to them in their hours of need.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Busy Women's class on Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Leach. When dinner was over and the business transacted Miss Anna McGill and Miss Nettie Pelham took turns in delighting the class with readings.

The Sunshine Circle class held a Charles O. Ball as teacher, has organized, with Marian Tefft as president; Mary McKinnon, secretary, and Jennette Blikenstat, treasurer. The class also decided to contribute $10.00 to the church budget.

The Sunshine Circle class held a very enjoyable meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hondorp on Tuesday evening. There was dinner and a program and all had a fine time.

Tuesday of next week the Ready Service class will meet at the home of Mrs. Flora Rattenbury, Penniman avenue. There will be a co-operative dinner at noon and this will be followed by a business meeting and a social hour.

Mrs. Shaw's class will meet at the church on Tuesday evening, March 19. Co-operative dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. The election of officers will be held and plans for the year's work discussed.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the ladies. Let all turn out and make a good showing. It is Passion Sunday. All the statues will be covered with purple.
Next Monday we will celebrate St.

Patrick's feast day. A dance will be given in the auditorium. The young people have worked hard to make this event a success. The auditorium will be very neatly decorated—a truly Gaelic setting. An invitation is extended to all the parishioners and the public. Music, favors and a good time is assured to all.
Lenten devotions are held each Tuesday and Friday night. Let all make use of this opportunity. Just two weeks more and we will have Easter. You cannot enjoy the beauty of this day unless you have prepared yourself for it.

Holy week services will be conducted in our church again this year. Notice of the services will be placed in these columns next week.
Instructions for the children are held each Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Have you disposed of your "hope chest book"? Remember you can have another. Try your luck—it is worth it. A very valuable prize for the small donation of a quarter. The proceeds are for the benefit of the church.

Remember the St. Patrick dance Monday night, March 18, in the O. L. of G. C. auditorium.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

"Jesus said, which of you can vineeeth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me? He that is of God heareth God's words."—Gospel for fifth Sunday in Lent.

We enter the Passion season, the last two weeks of our Lord's life, with the hope that even more of our people will take advantage of the church's services between now and Easter. No one can approach Easter day except by the way of the cross, as the Master did. Unless we keep the solemn season of preparation, Easter becomes "just another holiday."

The speaker at the evening service this Sunday will be the Rev. Andrew S. Gill, of St. Mattheus' church, Detroit.
The first of the spring supper series will be given on Wednesday, March 20, at 6:30 p. m. The speaker will be Dr. W. D. Henderson, of the University of Michigan, who will speak on "Modern Science and the Bible." Dr. Henderson is a splendid speaker, well known to Plymouth people, and his talk will be a real treat. This is the first of five supper evenings, each of which will include a program of outstanding merit. Nothing less than the hearty support of all our people can do justice to such a splendid opportunity as this affords.

In times past, the backbreaking toil of bending over a steaming tub, with wet soapy hands all day, was simply part of woman's work. It was a thing that could not be avoided. But washing for the modern housewife is a different matter—and a far pleasanter one. Now, her labor is reduced to a few minutes of attention while an electric washer works speedily. The work of turning a wringer is reduced to guiding the clothing through motor-driven rolls. With the up-to-date method, there is no rubbing to pull and stretch fine pieces—no scrubbing to wear and tear good clothes—an electric washer dissolves the dirt.

TRAVEL CLUB VISITS FREE PRESS BUILDING

A bright sunny day greeted the members of the Travel club as they hurried to meet in front of the school house last Saturday morning.

who was so cold it was really quite terrible. After dinner we enjoyed a ride around Belle Isle where we saw a man feeding the squirrels in one place and they were so tame as to sit on his shoulders.

HONOR ROLL. We publish below the honor roll for the first five weeks of the second semester: Seniors. Bentley, Dorothy—1A, 3Bs.

FORENSIC ACTIVITIES. For the education of ye unenlightened, I hereby do quote from the Webster's dictionary, which doth define forensic as 'pertaining to contest to determine ye best orator or declaimer.'

COMMERCIAL CLUB PROGRESS. During the past month the Commercial Club has been having some very interesting programs, which were planned by a committee of five members with Hazel Beyer as chairman.

NATURE STUDY CLUB. The Nature Study club was formed to create a greater interest in common birds, trees and flowers. Under the able leadership of Miss Cary the club has grown until it is one of the largest in the school, having a membership list of forty people.

Arriving at the Free Press Building which was the club's first stop, they found a guide waiting for them. The editorial room was first visited, where the articles for the paper are written.

From here we drove around the boulevard to the Fisher building, which we explored, being sent down from one place. We enjoyed immensely the elevator ride to the twenty-eighth floor where the broadcasting station is located.

Juniors. Ash, Evelyn—4As. Carr, Helen—1A, 4Bs. Gorton, Carrie—1A, 4Bs. Gust, Kenneth—2As, 2Bs.

SCHOOL CALENDAR. March 18, Monday—March 19, Tuesday—March 20, Wednesday—Friday's 5th hour classes and clubs.

At another meeting we were each handed a typewritten sheet and told to find on it the names of twenty-five textiles. We searched diligently for these elusive fabrics and by making part of a word or the end of one and the beginning of another finally found them.

The next week different members made short reports on topics pertaining to business. One talk was on training the blind to typewrite and take shorthand notes, and another about the various new inventions which will increase speed and efficiency in a business office.

Some birds arrive just in time to freeze their feet in the last snows of February. They are quite common and well known. There are a few of these early visitors: Wild Geese, (three flocks were seen some of these birds sitting on an icy bough all ruffled and fluffed out to keep warm.)

In here we also saw the mats upon which the printed advertisements are placed. These mats are made of blotting paper and tissue paper pressed very thin. The finished mats are taken to the foundry where the metal plates are made of a manganese, tin, zinc and lead mixture.

THE GIRL RESERVE ANNUAL BANQUET. The dining room of the Ionic temple in Detroit was in an upset condition Saturday afternoon when all the groups of Girl Reserves were at their respective tables trying to make this the most attractive. The girls were lined up in their groups in the ball-room and marched down to the dining room singing "Follow the Glean."

Sophomores. Ashton, Camilla—5Bs. Coats, Mary Nell—2As, 4Bs. Dunn, Marjorie—1A, 4Bs. Holloway, Doris—2As, 3Bs.

8th Grade. Edwin Ash—3As, 1B. Mary Bennett—3As, 2Bs. Alice Chambers—3As, 2Bs. Elizabeth Currie—2As, 4Bs.

At the last meeting we played what is known as the "B" game. By taking the letter "B" and one, two, three, four, or five others we were to make words which were synonyms to those given us. For example, "B" and three letters meaning a security would be a bond. The Commercial club members enjoyed this and the other programs very much.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY. The chairman of the assembly this week was Florence Schmidt. The following announcements were made: Elizabeth Burrows of the Plythean staff requested all people to place their orders for Plytheans soon.

JUNIOR GIRL RESERVE. The Junior Girl Reserves are an active group. We have finished our codes and now have entered into an extensive and intensive magazine sale campaign. Mr. Tedrow told us how to sell magazines to unwilling or "onery" customers and you might just as well eliminate "no" from your vocabulary when we start our selling talk for we won't accept "no" for an answer—not if we can help it.

The colored pages have a separate machine costing $175,000. It has a number of different rollers on and as the paper passes over each roller a different color is added to the picture until it finally comes out finished.

NEW LAW CLUB. The Parliamentary Law club has been organized as a part of Public Speaking classes and meets every Monday. They are learning to organize and conduct their meetings according to the parliamentary rules.

7th Grade. Blanche Curtis—1A, 7Bs. Ruth Edson—2As, 6Bs. Jane Packard—3As, 5Bs. Delite Taylor—3As, 4Bs.

FRENCH CLUB. The French club began to make a scrap book of all things which it thought would be interesting in the study of French. So far there is not much advancement. Madelon Shingleton made the book of light green Bristol-board. Dora Gallimore sketched a gargoyle for the design, and Mrs. Weier furnished most of the material.

At the last meeting we played what is known as the "B" game. By taking the letter "B" and one, two, three, four, or five others we were to make words which were synonyms to those given us. For example, "B" and three letters meaning a security would be a bond.

After the paper is printed it is sent down to the mailing room where it is distributed throughout Detroit and surrounding towns. It is also sent to Canada, Europe and different parts of the United States. It takes a week to print the Sunday paper and when we were there they were printing the "funny" paper for March 17.

PLYMOUTH LOSES TWO GAMES IN TOURNAMENT. The Plymouth basketballers were downed in two games in the district tournament, one by Ypsil Central and the other by Adrian High.

6th Grade. Phillip Doerg—1A, 5Bs. Andrea Kreager—3As, 1B. Dorothy Stauffer—3As, 3Bs. Mary Urban—3As, 1B.

STARKWEATHER NOTES. The Sixth grade is very much interested in preparing for the Spelling Bee and is getting ready to select the team. The champion spellers so far have been Arnold Ash, Margaret Goebel, Gertrude Schryver, Beulah Starkweather, Miriam Brown, Grace Hildebrand, Margaret Brandie, and Kenneth Davis.

At the last meeting we played what is known as the "B" game. By taking the letter "B" and one, two, three, four, or five others we were to make words which were synonyms to those given us. For example, "B" and three letters meaning a security would be a bond.

In the library are kept for reference 450,000 pictures, cuts and clippings. This room was previously known as the " morgue " but in the last two years it has become so widely used that the name has been dropped. The last place was the circulation department, where newspapers are kept track of and also every person who takes the paper. It is here that it is seen that everyone receives his paper promptly. This ended the visit and thanking our guide we left knowing not where to go. Miss Asman called up several places but to no avail, so we finally decided to try the Arctic Ice Cream Company. In going there we went out of our way somewhat, so that we might see that huge structure of steel—the Ambassador Bridge which is made possible by present day science.

Substitution—Gust for Knapp. Plymouth closed the basket ball season playing Adrian High at Ypsil gym Saturday.

5th Grade. The children of Mrs. Root's first grade, under the direction of Miss Schrader, are learning songs about the wind, pussy willows and birds. They are also learning singing games.

CLIFFORD PARMENTER FROM NORTHVILLE has entered the fourth grade, while Frank Prince left last week to live in Cleveland, Ohio.

At the last meeting we played what is known as the "B" game. By taking the letter "B" and one, two, three, four, or five others we were to make words which were synonyms to those given us. For example, "B" and three letters meaning a security would be a bond.

The Arctic plant reminded us of our geographies, especially the Arctic part for it was cold there. We saw the ice cream from the time it was poured into the containers until it was ready to be sent out. The mixture is all made at Grand Ledge and shipped down here in glass-lined tanks, where it is put into huge vats and flavored. As the ice cream is poured into the containers, before being frozen, air is put in so that we may eat it easier. It is said that if this were not done eating ice cream would be like eating a brick, and well may one believe it for we were given some to eat and it was so hard we thought we would have to melt it to be able to bite it. As this is the month of Saint Patrick, they were busy making shamrocks and trays of them were to be seen in the freezing room which is about 15 degrees below zero.

DePorter, forward; Guest, forward; Sockow, center; Beegle, guard; Foster, guard. Substitutions—Rittenhouse for Sockow, Shear for Gust, Johnson for Rittenhouse, Orr for Beegle. Score—Adrian 20, Plymouth 5. Plymouth, losing this game, was eliminated from the regional.

6th Grade. In handwork the children have made a blackboard border of boys flying kites. This is in connection with the discussion on how the March winds helps Mother Nature.

One interesting thing was watching them make frost bites. Another was watching a man decorate fancy dishes of ice cream which have been ordered. It was very fascinating and we all wished we could be chief sampler. One cupboard was filled with forms to be used on special occasions—there were an aeroplane, hatchet, bunch of grapes, cupid, heart, wedding bell, etc. We also saw how they made ice and how they stored it. The process of refrigeration was also very interesting. Amongst gas is used which is put under a pressure and liquefied, and then the liquid is piped to the rooms and the heat which it draws from the air changes it to a gas again and the process is repeated. When we got through there we all were hungry as bears and so we proceeded to get dinner. This made us feel a lot better and we all got warmed up, especially Nettie Hawkins.

VOLLEY BALL TOURNAMENT. Volley ball teams are being organized in each grade and several games will be played between them to decide the champions. Eleven players make up a team. The scoring is based on sets, one of which consists of 15 points. To win a game a team must take two out of three sets. Ribbons will be given to the Junior and Senior Champions. Schedule. PORK NOW MUST MEET
DICTATES OF STYLE

CONSUMING PUBLIC DEMANDS BUTCHER FURNISH LEANER
PORK CHOPS.

Flapper fashions have now invaded the pork market and only those cuts which are mostly lean meat sell readily over the butcher counter, and this change in the taste for pork has led to the establishment of feeding trials at Michigan State College to locate types of hogs which will supply the lean meat.

Most of the American breeds of hogs were developed to supply a carcass with a high percentage of fat and the College now intends to select strains from these breeds, and develop these strains into a type of hog which will furnish pork which conforms to the new styles.

Pure bred hog breeders are asked by the College to sell to the College a limited number of pigs which are from stock of the type now wanted and for which certain breeding records are available. The pigs must be from sows which farrowed seven or eight living pigs in the litter.

The pigs which are bought by the College will be put on feed and a record of performance will be kept of their gains in weight, and the percentage of lean meat in each carcass will be determined. These records over a period of years will show whether there are strains within the breeds which will furnish the kind of pigs needed for the modern market.

Breeders who wish to have their pig's ability to produce lean pork tested should make application to the animal husbandry department of Michigan State College. Applications must be made within 10 days of the time when the pigs are farrowed.

Scottish Piper Idle
During King's Illness

London.—The saddest man in Buckingham palace while King George of England lay ill was Private Macintosh, the Scottish piper attached to the royal household.

Each morning from 8 a. m. until 10:30 the royal piper plays Scottish airs beneath his majesty's window. But the king's illness became so serious that the strain and drone of the bagpipes disturbed him. Macintosh therefore was ordered to fold up his beloved pipes until a brighter day.

It was Queen Victoria who first brought a piper from the Scottish highlands to the palace and ordered him to play each morning under the royal chambers, as is the custom when the royal family is in residence at Balmoral, their Scottish estate. The queen also had a favorite highland attendant, who, dressed in kilt and plaid, accompanied her on all her travels.

When King Edward VII came to the throne, he abolished the custom of a highlander as a personal attendant, but having the same love for the music of the bagpipes as his mother, he had a piper play to him each morning. King George continued the practice.

Need Lots of Time To Fit Show Steer

MONTHS OF FEEDING PRECEDE
APPEARANCE OF ANIMAL IN FAT STOCK CLASSES.

Exhibitors of steers in the fat steer classes at the Michigan State Fair next fall are already fitting their animals for their appearance in the show ring, according to statements by members of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College.

Showmen who win top premiums in the fat stock shows must be able to visualize what an animal will look like in the future months, and they must be able to carry through a feeding program which will model in living flesh the show points which catch the judge's eye.

All animals entered in the steer show are entered subject to sale in the auction ring. Last year's winner was auctioned off by Governor Fred W. Green for 80 cents per pound. The governor will call for bids on the 1929 champion.

Animal husbandry men at State College say that Michigan exhibitors of fat steers are showing better fitted animals each successive year. Fat stock shows now feature the baby beef type of cattle as the show ring reflects the type of animal demanded by the consumers of beef.

Five hundred dollars of prize money a silver trophy for the champion, and a very attractive auction sale price are the awards which will be given to the winners this year in the fat steer show.

Hilo, Hawaii.—In order to further enhance the natural wild beauty and charm of the big island of the Hawaiian group, the chamber of commerce of Hilo is importing song birds to increase the bird population of the island.

TEXAS CITY FRÖWNS ON MEXICAN REBELS

San Antonio No Longer Seat of Revolutions.

San Antonio, Texas.—This city, once famous as the hotbed of Mexican revolutions, is no longer the center of plots and movements against the various governments of Old Mexico. The one-time home of political refugees who were warmly welcomed by the citizens as refugees from persecution is no more, and the citizens of San Antonio are unconcerned with conditions below the Rio Grande.

Made famous in press and novels by Tex Ornelly, Stansbury Jack Roberts and other war correspondents, the starting point of many revolutions which changed administrations in Mexico, the place where Madero made his final plans for the revolt which swept Porfirio Diaz from power, San Antonio was known for years as a haven for all Mexican politicians.

From a pro-Mexican city, where business men listened to the golden promises of every revolutionary leader, the garden city of Texas has changed into a busy center of industry little troubled with affairs below the border. Busy with building a greater San Antonio, business men now have no time to listen to stories of Mexican intrigue.

Full of Politicians. Although San Antonio is full of Mexican politicians, yet the revolutionary activities have ceased. The one-time hearty welcome to all political exiles who arrived breathing fire and blood full of promises of changing administrations in Mexico for ones that would give big business to San Antonio is no longer extended. The business men, anxious to extend trade, listened to these promises but now conditions have changed and refugees are met with suspicion. Merchants, remembering how much export and import businesses have suffered through the constant turmoil in Mexico, are too busy trying to take advantage of the present friendly relations established by Ambassador Morrow to listen to the woes of the newly arrived exiles.

Not only have the business districts changed in their customary habits of assisting the refugees, but the Mexican colony, numbering some 70,000, has also changed. No longer are purses opened to help the politicians and offers of homes extended to the exiles. Disheartened by the constant troubles which have caused thousands of Mexicans to abandon their native lands, the Mexican colony has settled down to make the best of conditions and has put aside the idea of returning again to Old Mexico.

Children Grow Up Americans. Thousands of Mexican children swell San Antonio's public schools, where they are being taught modern ideas. These children, eagerly taking advantage of the English classes, soon develop into bright pupils, and thousands, refusing to speak Spanish, are now being transferred into Americans, filled with ideas of modern education and growing up with American boys and girls. The majority of the Mexican children have lost contact with Mexican life and are now real Americans, and, although the parents bewail the changes, the pressure of the children upon the older folk is so great that a large majority of the Mexicans who have lived in Texas for more than a year have abandoned the idea of returning to their motherland.

Enjoying modern comforts practically unknown in Mexico except in the largest cities, making good wages, and possessing automobiles, the Mexican youths have no time to listen to the promises of the Mexican exiles and are content with conditions in Texas. Lacking the sympathetic feeling which for so many years characterized San Antonio, the majority of the Mexican politicians, former diplomats, ex-governors and cabinet ministers have abandoned San Antonio and are now concentrating in New York and California. The former center of intrigue is dead and the one-time hotbed of revolutionary activities is no more. San Antonio has lost her fame as the leading revolutionary center of America.

IN THE THEATRE

"SUNSET PASS."

Seven hundred cattle, milling wildly in a night stampede, and a raging range fire devouring everything in its path, provide two of the many spectacular scenes of Paramount's Zane Grey production, "Sunset Pass," which features Jack Holt, and comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, March 17 and 18.

These scenes were filmed in the cattle country of Arizona, a few miles from the old trading post of Tubai City. The film company spent two weeks in that region making exteriors for the production with the aforementioned range fire being the highlight.

The cattle stampede was a dangerous task assigned the cameramen. They were in the midst of the frenzied animals, and Roy Clark, chief photographer, was brushed to one side by one steer, but fortunately escaped serious injury. His camera, which fell upon him, also escaped injury, and the thrilling "shots" which had been recorded by Clark were saved.

Supporting Holt in this story of cattle rustling and romance are Nora Lane, hazel eyed leading woman who appeared here recently in "Marjorie Preferred," with Adolphe Menjou, Chester Conklin, the fussy little comedian with the walrus mustache, John Loder, popular leading man, and others. Otto Brower directed.

"LILAC TIME."

The Penniman Allen Theatre has booked one of the biggest productions of the year.

The picture is "Lilac Time," First National's special production in which Colleen Moore is starred, with Gary Cooper opposite, which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, March 20 and 21, with an established record as one of the most charming love stories ever recorded on the screen.

Adapted from the celebrated stage play by Jane Cowl and Jane Muffin, "Lilac Time" is the story of a little French girl who grows from childhood to young womanhood under the shadow of the world war. She lives with her grandparents in a village near the allied front through which day by day troops pass on their way to the front. She jokes with them and she sorrows with them.

All of the drama, the pathos of a girl caught in the maelstrom of the great conflict, is said to be admirably depicted by Miss Moore, who, as Jeanne, reaches dramatic heights that far outshine any role of her career. Gary Cooper, a comparative newcomer to the films, handles the chief supporting role, while the direction of George Fitzmaurice, it is claimed, establishes him as a supreme genius.

"Lilac Time" was produced for First National Pictures by John McCormick.

"SINS OF THE FATHERS."

Portraying a character that is not unknown to the American audience, Emil Jannings scores another tremendous triumph in his latest Paramount starring picture, "Sins of the Fathers." As a German-American, Jannings is ideally cast for the part that he portrays. The film will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, March 23.

In "The Sins of the Fathers," Jannings plays the role of Wilhelm Spengler, a saloon keeper, who becomes a fabulously wealthy bootlegger only to have his life crash around his shoulders, bringing him in the end back to his original status.

In the leading feminine role is Ruth Chatterton, the famous star of the legitimate stage, who makes her screen debut in this picture. Her role is thoroughly an unsympathetic one, but one which will serve to introduce her to American screen audiences under the best of auspices.

Also featured in support to Jannings is young Barry Norton, who earned fame in "What Price Glory" as the baby-faced soldier. His role is that of Jannings' son. Others in the cast who help to elevate the picture to a high dramatic level through their performances are ZaSu Pitts, called by Erich von Stroheim, the star-director of "The Wedding March" the greatest tragedienne on the screen today; Matthew Betz, Jack Loden, Jean Arthur, Harry Cording, Arthur Housman and Frank Reicher. Ludwig Berger directed the picture. Berger directed Pola Negri recently in "The Woman from Moscow."

"Sins of the Fathers" is based on a story by Norman Burnstone, with the adaptation and continuity written by E. Lloyd Sheldon.

MICHIGAN TAKES THIRD PLACE IN EXPORTS

Exports of merchandise from Michigan were valued at $92,091,388 during the second quarter of 1928 compared with $94,463,076 in the corresponding period of 1927 according to figures made public by the Department of Commerce and reported through District Manager A. J. Barnard, of the department's Detroit office. Michigan was third among the states in the value of its foreign shipments during the quarter. In the first quarter the state's exports were $86,074,265.

Passenger automobiles, valued at $45,843,803, ranked first in order of value among the commodities sent from Michigan to foreign markets during the second three-month period. Exports of parts of automobiles (except tires) were valued at $19,412,795 followed in order by motor trucks and buses, $9,019,943; refined copper in ingots, $1,420,546; accounting and calculating machines, $1,006,355; medicinal and pharmaceutical preparations, $802,188; iron ore, $730,673; construction and conveying machinery, $707,870; coke, $658,205; power-generating machinery (except electric), $642,210; automobile accessories and parts, $438,917; lead, $412,515; sodium compounds, $353,478; household and personal effects, $349,412; rubber tires, $304,020; pigments, paints, and varnishes, $298,077; metal-working machinery, $286,693; furniture of wood, $253,180; tractors and parts, $227,808; motors, starters and controllers, $185,471; printed matter, $173,756; musical instruments, $163,724; vegetables and preparations of vegetables, $148,460; brass and bronze, $139,774; iron and steel scrap, $132,519; iron and steel castings and forgings, $127,152; boards, planks and scantlings, $123,049; and boxes and cartons, $114,872.

Automobile service appliances, printing machinery, batteries, iron and steel plates, sheets, etc., refined petroleum products, coal, paper-board and strawboard, hardwood flooring, pepper, oil, wheat flour, corn, furs, milk and acetate of lime were included among the commodities exported from the state during the three months.

Total exports of merchandise from the United States during April, May and June of 1928 were valued at $1,149,946,627 compared with $1,135,803,219 during the corresponding period of 1927, an increase of $14,137,408.

New York ranked first among the states in order of value of exports during the second quarter of last year with foreign shipments of merchandise valued at $214,818,670. Texas was second with $139,476,902, while other states numbered among the first ten were Michigan with $92,091,388; California, $76,167,055; Pennsylvania, $69,895,180; Louisiana, $58,167,087; New Jersey, $55,242,633; Ohio, $50,381,465; Illinois, $40,963,586; and Wisconsin, $33,705,758.

Dr. Julius Klein, Director, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, under whose direction the figures are compiled, calls attention to the fact that the statistics are based primarily on through bills-of-lading and, therefore, in the case of some states, show but a part of the total export trade and for others includes goods produced elsewhere.

The new money we are soon to get is smaller than the kind we now use, but don't get the idea that it will be any easier to pay back.

Plymouth men have the advantage of their women folks in one respect—they don't have to take a day off to get their hair washed.

Number teams, 85; total prizes $170. Tuesday Plymouth I. O. O. F. came from behind and defeated Wayne I. O. O. F. by 58 pins. The Wayne boys' inability to pick up spares caused their downfall.

Saturday, March 16th, Fraternal I. O. O. F. of Detroit will meet the Plymouth I. O. O. F. in the second series of their home and home match. Fraternal gained a lead of 218 pins on their home alleys last week.

Several of the boys are already asking for another tournament. The management will endeavor to arrange one which will decide the singles championship and at the same time allow the mediocre bowler to share in prizes as well as the better bowler.

All entry money will be returned in prizes on a similar basis as the mixed Doubles. Duck pins and five back may be rolled on Alleys number 1 and 2 now.

The oldest continuous service electric street railway in the United States, the City Electric railway of Port Huron, ceased to exist, officially, at midnight Feb. 28. Its franchise, granted by the city March 1, 1899, and which bears the signatures of Hernan W. Stevens, mayor, and W. F. Wagonsell, city clerk, has expired. The franchise expiration marks the beginning of the end of the street car as an institution here, for receivers of the railway company have not asked, and will not ask the city to renew its franchise. A. H. D. Van Zandt, public relations counsel for the receiver, said:

By request of Mayor John J. Bell, the company will continue to operate its cars until April 10 to give the city time to grant a bus franchise. If bus service cannot be started by April 10 the company offers to continue the street car service from day to day for an additional time at a 10-cent fare.

Among the original stockholders of the street car company here was Thomas A. Edison, whose inventions were used in the operation of the railway. He was later "hornswoggled" out of his interest, he said. Edison himself put in operation the first life-size demonstration street car at his laboratory grounds at Menlo Park, N. J., in 1882, but it was used for exhibition purposes only. The Port Huron street car system, which is about to pass out of existence, was the first continuous service electric street railway in the country.

Actual operation of electric street cars here started in 1889 on the tracks of the old horse-car system, but the franchise was granted in 1883, at which time there was no electric street railways in existence. The old horse-car line, which this line supplanted, was first put into operation in 1868. The City Electric Railway company was formed in 1891. For a time two rival horse-car companies had earlier competed here, with separate tracks laid by each company on Huron avenue and out Grand River avenue to the docks. The old horse-car tracks were later re-laid and extended. Control of the electric railway passed into the hands of Fred J. Dixon, Albert Dixon and W. L. Jackson about 1900 and they later sold it to Detroit capitalists.—Port Huron Times Herald.

Kentucky Man Leases Land to Hunt Cave.

Lexington, Ky.—Six barrels full of precious silver and coins valued at about $400,000 is the objective of J. D. Stamper, who has taken a lease on land in Carter county, about 80 miles from Lexington, where the treasure is reported to be.

Mr. Stamper said: "I feel confident the treasure is there and that I will find it. I am the only man that has ever found all the earthmarks noted on the map and that actually came across a cave such as described in my treasure map."

The treasure is said to have been buried by Indians who left Kentucky after the arrival of the white man. Silver was plentiful with the redskins, and when they made their hasty exit they buried the treasure in a cave in Carter county.

They drew a map of the cave, its location and the ground marks that distinguished it, and in 1811 one Robert King, a fugitive from Europe, came upon a band of Indians camped in Kentucky. King made himself at home with the tribe.

King had no intention of leaving Kentucky with the Indians, and when the tribe left they gave him the back skin treasure map as a farewell gift.

King searched for the treasure, but was forced to give up, due to lack of aid. When he died in that vicinity he gave the map to an Indian by the name of Robert Tindor. Tindor was unable to find the cave, and when he felt the approach of death called an old friend, J. A. Rhoden, now living near Nevada, Ohio, to his bedside and gave him the map.

Rhoden gave the map to Stamper, who is a native of Carter county and familiar with the land in the section where the cave is located.

Washing Oranges
Oranges are plunged into a soap suds bath with revolving brushes when they come from the orchard. They are then washed in a soda or borax solution to kill any mold germs on the skin, then under a shower bath of clear water, after which they are dried, sorted to size and wrapped in paper.

The Thrill of
Two High Speeds

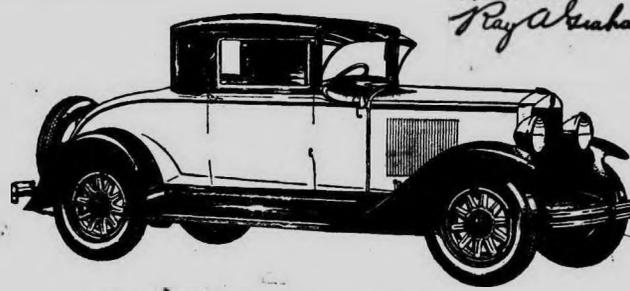

[[Four Speeds Forward]]
[[Standard Gear Shift]]

The new Graham-Paige sixes and eights are distinguished by the thrilling performance of two high speeds, standard gear shift. With the time-proved, Graham-Paige four speed transmission—fourth, used most of the time, gives a new smoothness and swiftness; third, a quiet internal gear, provides rapid acceleration in traffic and up steep hills. The gear shift is standard—you start in second; first, in reserve, is instantly available but seldom used. You are invited to enjoy a demonstration.

Five chassis—sixes and eights—prices ranging from $999 to $2495. Car illustrated is Model 615 Coupe—six cylinder, 76 horsepower, 115" wheelbase, $1195 (special equipment extra). All prices at factory.
