

MORE WEDDINGS OF INTEREST

SEVERAL POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE THIS PAST WEEK.

SUTHERLAND-COE

One of the loveliest of the late June weddings was solemnized Thursday evening, June 27, when Miss Juanita Coe, granddaughter of Mrs. Addie Slade, became the bride of Donald Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sutherland, in the presence of sixty relatives and friends.

Reverend Frederick Lendrum read the marriage vows at eight o'clock in the beautiful chapel of the Women's League building in Ann Arbor. The altar was banked with baskets of peonies, roses and delphinium, intermingled with the fresh green of cyclodinum ferns. Burning cathedral tapers in tall candelabras brought into relief the low beamed ceiling and the exquisite, stained glass windows of the lovely little room.

Miss Margaret Miller, of Ann Arbor played an organ selection, "I Love You Truly," and then swung into the opening strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Miss Coe was radiant in her gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a snug sleeveless bodice and a long, full skirt of uneven hemline banded with tulle. Her tulle veil forming a long train, was dotted with orange blossoms and was fastened to a quaint little lace cap which enhanced the bride's dark beauty. For her bouquet she carried a sheaf of stately calla lilies.

Miss Betsy Smutz, of Philadelphia, was maid of honor and was attractively gowned in shell pink taffeta cut on much the same lines as the bride's gown, and finished in the back with a huge bow at the waistline. Her bouquet consisted of pink roses and pale blue delphinium.

Arthur Walker, of Ypsilanti, a fraternal brother of the groom, assisted as best man. The ushers were A. R. Howard of Lansing and J. L. Ross of Ypsilanti.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Sutherland chose a gown of powder blue chiffon, and with it she wore a shoulder bouquet of butterfly roses and valley lilies.

After the service a reception was held in one of the attractive lounging rooms and a luncheon of exquisite appointments was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland will spend their honeymoon in northern Michigan and upon their return will reside in their new home on South Harvey street. For traveling the bride chose a suit of beige, with which she wore a blouse of eggshell crepe with hat, gloves and slippers to match. A lovely fox fur completed her costume.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Matheson and son, McKay of Leamington, Ontario, Canada; Miss Ann Jones, of Lima, Ohio; Miss Hermine Beauchard, of Erie, Penn.; Miss Elizabeth Smutz, of Philadelphia; and Mr. and Mrs. B. Berdan, of Detroit.

HOKENSON-SMITH

The marriage of Frank Hokenson and Miss Helen Smith, both of Plymouth, was solemnized on Saturday, June 29th at the home of the bride's parents on Hamilton street by Rev. W. Nichol. The wedding march was played by Al Schneberg. At eight o'clock the young couple took their places under a beautiful arch where the marriage vows were made. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ward Smith, and by Miss Pearl Smith, sister of the bride, as flower girl.

The beautiful young bride wore a dress of white satin with bridal veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and gypsy lilies. The bridesmaid's dress was lavender orchid flat crepe, with a bouquet of pale pink roses and gypsy lilies. The flower girl, dressed in pale pink satin, carried a basket of pink roses, in one of which rested the wedding ring.

Among the many guests were a number from out of town. The many and attractive presents bore testimony to the esteem and popularity of this young couple.

After a honeymoon in northern Michigan, they will make their home in Garden City.

PROCTOR-LATSON

Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Smith and daughters, Miss Helen Smith and Mrs. Alfred Allen and children, Robert and Arlene, were in Ann Arbor Friday to attend the wedding of their niece and cousin Miss Lucie Smith Latson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Latson to Stanley Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Proctor of Salem. The rites were solemnized by Rev. Robinson, East Lansing, a close friend of the family, on the beautiful lawn of the farm home of the Latsons just north of the city.

Miss Latson was a lovely bride robed in white chiffon, carrying a shower

BILLINGS-WRIGHT

The scene of a very lovely wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wilkie of Detroit, when her sister, Miss Alice Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wright of this place, became the bride of George Billings of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, at eight o'clock p. m., Thursday, June 27. Rev. Mashner read the nuptial services in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The bride was lovely in white georgette and satin and carried a bridal bouquet of yellow roses. The maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Kizer, wore a gown of flowered georgette and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Orval Wright, brother of the bride, attended as best man.

The wedding party assembled before the fireplace banked with roses, larkspur and orange blossom. Following the ceremony a bountiful supper was served by the hostess. The table was beautifully decorated in a color scheme of pink and white. The young couple received many beautiful and useful gifts.

They left for a motor trip through Canada.

At the home of her mother, Mrs. Lillian Kuhn, June and Hamilton streets, Wayne, Miss Irene May Kuhn became the bride of Walton Brandon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brandon, Wayne. The ceremony was witnessed by close friends and relatives and was performed by Rev. John Hopkins, of the Baptist church, of Wayne.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, was radiant in her robe of white chiffon, with a large cape collar taking the place of a veil, with which she wore a large white picture hat, trimmed with a large white velvet bow and streamers. Miss Kuhn chose for her maid of honor her sister, Miss Goldie Kuhn, who was gowned in a peach and rose chiffon frock and carried yellow roses, Miss Alvera Brandon sister of the groom was bridesmaid and was gowned in peach and blue chiffon and carried pink roses. Each wore a large hat to correspond with their frocks.

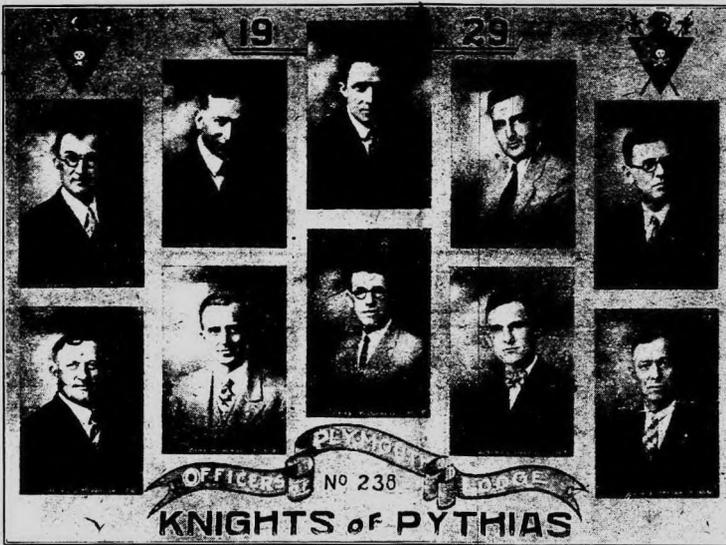

George Corwin of Northville, Almond Gestes, of Plymouth, and Earl Guerne, of Detroit, attended the groom.

The dining room was in yellow and white for the reception and dinner which followed the ceremony and in the center of the table was a three tier wedding cake baked by the bride's mother, and decorated with a little bride and groom. Mrs. Sylvester Gorney (Eula Kuhn) dressed in an orchid dress of crepe and Mrs. Marcus Clement (Ethel Kuhn) in a blue ensemble, sisters of the bride, helped at the reception of the guests.

There were guests from Detroit, Wayne, Perrinville, Plymouth, and Raubton.

OBITUARY

Charles H. Hinze was born in the city of Chicago on the 18th day of November in the year 1887. Being born of Lutheran parents, he was baptised into the Lutheran faith as a child and also confirmed in the same city. From Chicago he moved into the state of Michigan where he finally settled in the 1927 when he married Miss Thelma Paulger of Plymouth, who mourns him as his widow.

The deceased had been ill with tuberculosis for about a year and a half but remained diligently at his work until he broke down four weeks ago and had to be removed to the Herman Kiefer hospital at Detroit. Despite all efforts of men to preserve his life, it was the Lord's will to call him away, although he realized the fact and bravely faced death, in the sure faith and hope that his savior Jesus Christ, who he had confessed as his own, would gather him with the saints in Heaven.

On last Thursday, the 27th day of June at the age of 32 years, 7 months and 11 days, he passed away. He is mourned by his faithful wife, her father, Otto H. Hinze, of Chicago, and his two brothers of the same city, Herman and Otto.

Funeral services were held at the Schrader Brothers funeral home Saturday afternoon, Rev. Hoenecke, of Plymouth, officiating. The remains were taken to Clarenceville cemetery.

On Thursday evening, June 27th the Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 238, held their annual installation of officers. At six-thirty o'clock the members with their families gathered in the dining room in numbers of about seventy-five and enjoyed a splendid dinner. The tables were prettily decorated for the occasion.

After dinner the guests assembled in the lodge room where installation ceremonies took place. Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, Will E. Hampton of Ann Arbor, acted as installing officer and performed his duties in a very creditable manner. After the new officers had taken their places, Chancellor Commander Russell Bingley gave a short address in which he expressed the enthusiasm with which he is entering this new office also his desire to make the following year one of progress and prosperity as well as pleasure. He also related several very witty stories much to the amusement of his listeners. Following this talk, Past Chancellor Chas. McConnell expressed his best wishes for the success of the new Chancellor and also thanked the Knights and Pythian Sisters for their wholehearted cooperation during the past year.

Brother Hampton then called upon Brother Hampton who explained in detail a new project of the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Michigan, concerning the raising of a million dollar fund for the relief of Pythians and their families when in need. Brother Hampton's talk was followed by a few remarks upon the same subject by Brother L. L. Ball who has been appointed a member of the Grand Lodge Administrative Board and who has the handling of the endowments which are made by the members in this district.

Music for the evening was rendered by Ribar's orchestra who also played a few dance selections at the close of the evening's ceremonies.

The following officers were installed: Russell Bingley—C. C. Glenn Davis—V. C. Jay Winans—Pre. Chas. McConnell—M. of W. Chas. Thorne—K. of R. and S. L. L. Ball—M. of F. Geo. Gebhardt—M. of E. Albert Drews—M. of A. Archie Meddaugh—I. G. John Moyer—O. G.

O. B. Borck left for Amarillo, Texas last Tuesday for a several weeks' business trip.

FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1929.

THE FIRST SIX MONTHS

With the first half of the year 1929 gone, it is of interest to note that industrial, agricultural and financial reports for the nation as a whole indicate a healthy condition and one that need not cause any great alarm as to how the balance of the year will turn out.

Employment conditions throughout the country are said to be satisfactory; reports of labor disagreements are few. The volume of production equals that of the first half of 1928, and there has been no increase in prices to consumers, as a rule, over last year. Commodity markets in general are said to be in a strong position and money rates are not causing any comment outside of the Wall Street speculative district. In the agricultural communities and fruit belts crops are reported to be above the average in yield, and while prices are not, in many instances, all that producers could hope for, they average with those received at the same time last year.

The Plymouth citizen who inclines toward pessimism—and we still have a few of them left—seems to have little on which to hang his fears. There is no indication of a business depression in sight at this time. On the other hand, the country has passed through the first half of the year in satisfactory shape, and present indications are, according to government reports; that there will be no general cause for complaint during the final half, which we are now entering upon.

AIDING THE BOY

A few years ago a boy's club was regarded merely as a plan to keep the youngsters off the street and out of mischief. Today there is a membership in such clubs of over 200,000, and the movement has spread into every state. Everybody now realizes that the boy's club is the answer to the old question of what to do with the boy's spare time.

The boy's clubs, to which both town and farm boys are now swarming, are not only providing the boy's with entertainment but they are training them in scores of things that are going to be helpful to them in the years to come. They are learning the very things they will have to know later on to be successful men. It is a fine movement and we want here and now to urge every one around Plymouth to cooperate in any movement that seeks to establish such an organization, or that will serve to increase interest in those already established.

The average healthy boy has surplus time and energy to be spent in some way. Both can be usefully directed if his interest is captured and opportunities for improvement are provided him. This is best done through boys' clubs. They are solving a problem that is as old as the hills—how to enable the boy to put in his spare time with profit to himself. And as a result every community that encourages such an organization is not only aiding the boy but benefiting itself by moulding substantial future citizens.

MONEY IN IT

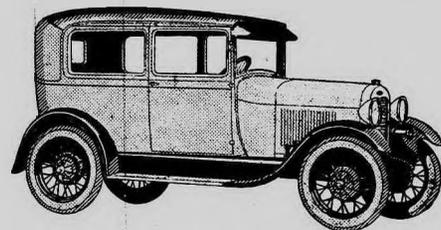

We see where an old “high boy,” the name once applied to a tall chest of drawers, recently brought $44,000 in New York. It was made in Philadelphia about 1770, and the price is said to be the largest ever paid for a piece of antique furniture. It reminds us that many pieces of antique furniture can even now be found in homes around Plymouth. Odd pieces of hand-made designs that have been handed down from generation to generation. It is worth real money—more than new and modern furniture brings—and the owner of every piece of this old stuff should hesitate before splitting it up for firewood or selling it to someone for a mere song. Every year it is more valuable; every year finds more and more people buying antiques. Hold on to what you've got in this line until someone who really knows the value of antique furniture comes along. Otherwise you may have cause for regret.

ABOUT FARM WAGES

It should interest our readers around Plymouth to learn that a favorable comparison between wages of hired farm hands and industrial wages has just been given out by the Department of Agriculture. In the survey 2,117 farm employes reported that the total average value of all perquisites—board, rent, food, etc.—was $30.34 per month and wages $46.44, or a total of $76.78 a month as the average wage of a farm hand. Should the farm value of perquisites, of which food is a larger part, be expressed in terms of retail prices, the total of perquisites and cash would compare favorably and in some cases probably exceed wages for comparable labor in industrial plants, say the experts. The average farm hand, in other words, is as well if not better off on ten or twelve dollars a week and his board and lodging than is his brother in the city factory who gets even three times as much but who has to pay for his meals and his bed.

TOO MUCH BUNK

A good deal of nonsense is said and printed on the subject of success. The average young person today is overwhelmed with advice. Success agitators have reduced the science to charts, blueprints, tables and statistical data without end. At the other extreme brood the sooth-sayers who will tell you that your progress in life depends on what the stars were doing the night you were born, how many letters there are in your name, the color of your hair, the tilt of your nose and the typography of your palms. You may throw away as pure bunk all the success hints that fail to tell you that you'll never get anywhere unless you are ready and able to stand the gaff. If a lot of preachers, teachers and business leaders would talk horse-sense and give the boys and girls the one genuine golden thought—that nerve and stamina stand highest in the list of virtues—Success agitators have reduced the science to something worth while for humanity.

NEW IRON AND STEEL FREIGHT RATES SEEN BIG BOON TO DETROIT

Adjusted Schedule Will Place This City On Equitable Competitive Basis With Other Industrial Centers.

BY C. C. MCGILL.

Secretary, Public Affairs Bureau, Detroit Board of Commerce.

Manufacturing expense in Detroit and throughout the industrial areas of Michigan has been reduced by millions of dollars each year, to manufacturers whose products involve the use of iron and steel. This comes about as the result of an order issued last week by the interstate commerce commission compelling the railroads to publish adjusted freight rates on those commodities not later than October 20 of this year.

Based on the latest available tonnage compilations the saving to Detroit shippers and receivers of iron and steel is more than $2,052,000 annually. With the tonnage increasing each year the amount of savings rises proportionately.

On Competitive Basis

While the reduction in rates is an important item and reduces the overhead cost of doing business for metal manufacturers, greater importance lies in the fact that Detroit is now on an equitable competitive basis with manufacturing communities elsewhere in the United States. Up to this time Detroit's position has been decidedly unfortunate.

This fact was emphasized in the proceedings brought before the I. C. C. by L. G. Macomber, director of traffic-transportation of the board of commerce, who headed the fight for equitable rates. The proceeding was started back in 1925 and not until last week was a decision reached. The effect of the four-year fight was to bring about a reduction in rates for Detroit and an increase for the cities that heretofore have been profiting by the discrimination.

The report of the I. C. C. gives an example, in an exhibit, of Detroit's unfortunate situation up to now. It tells that the present rate on iron and steel from Detroit to Defiance, Ohio, a distance of 110 miles, is 20 cents a hundred pounds. From Youngstown, Ohio, to Erie, Pa., the same comparative distance, the rate on the same commodities is but 13 1/2 cents.

Under the I. C. C. order issued last week, the rate from Detroit to Defiance will be 17 cents, a reduction of three cents, while the rate from Youngstown to Erie will be increased 3 1/2 cents.

Commenting on the iron and steel rate structure as it applied prior to the I. C. C. change, Mr. Macomber says: "The rates applying to and from Detroit are unreasonable and therefore in violation of the interstate commerce act. But more important than this, they are discriminatory and prejudicial to Detroit's industries."

"The mileage scale of rates that the commission has prescribed will apply generally throughout the entire eastern seaboard and central west sections of the country and will do much to eliminate the inconsistencies of the present rate adjustment. While it is a distinct benefit to Detroit in actual freight rate savings, it is the effect of increasing rates between points that were formerly on a lower basis relatively than Detroit."

"This levelling off process or making freight rates on a mileage basis is being used quite extensively by the I. C. C. and the carriers in establishing rates. In such cases as the iron and steel rates investigation involving commercial competitive conditions and freight rates that have been made to foster and promote the industry, it becomes necessary to create new rates for the purpose of recognizing changing competitive conditions and new markets.

To Attack Industries.

"The unusual and exceptional growth of Detroit, using one-thirteenth of the total iron and steel production of the United States, or more than three million tons of iron and steel a year, has required the establishment of these rates on the proper basis, and will give new opportunity to Detroit in seeking industries to locate in this area."

"Furthermore, the establishment of these new rates on a basis prescribed by the I. C. C. will be an added attraction to industry already located in this area and a distinct saving in the cost of the raw materials in scores of Detroit's plants using iron and steel as a basic metal."

Thus users of iron and steel in Detroit are now assured of as much transportation value for their dollar as their competitors in adjacent states.—Detroit Free Press.

AMERICANS NO LONGER PLUNGE

Few Are Seen at Monte Carlo and Resorts in French Riviera.

Monte Carlo.—Are Americans abroad beginning to lose their proverbial interest in gambling, and are the famous casinos of the French Riviera falling to attract the American visitor as they used to? This possibility is fast becoming a reality. If what has been seen recently along the azure coast may be taken as an indication.

Americans, by tradition the most conspicuous and daring players around the green cloth, are to be seen less and less among regular gamblers at Monte Carlo, Nice and Cannes, where during the winter season baccarat and roulette are the chief diversions of smart society. By curious contrast, German visitors—who ever since the war have been increasing in number here from year to year—are now as numerous in the big casinos as the English.

"Americans are playing less and less," an official of the Sporting club in Monte Carlo, said. "A few of the old standbys are as much in evidence as ever, but in general the American element is getting smaller each winter. Even the most casual tourist used to try his luck on a few rounds at least. Now, if he plays at all, he's as cautious as a pawnbroker and gets scared away at the slightest turn of luck."

Schwab a Regular.

One of Monte Carlo's "old standbys" is Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, who for 40 years has visited the famous principality every winter. He arrives at the Casino at about 11 a. m., plays until one, often returns after lunch, and is nearly always there in the evening. The duke of Connaught, uncle of King George, is another perennial visitor. He frequently plays beside Lord Melchett, who has had a brilliant run of luck this season at baccarat and is still winning steadily.

But it is the Cannes Casino which has gained the reputation in recent years of entertaining the smartest international crowd in the world. Here the absence of Americans from the gaming tables is most remarkable.

In Cannes sensational gambling coups are the order of the day, but Americans are seldom found in the play.

Some great gains and losses have been registered since the opening of the season. Princess Hohenlohe of Austria, one of the most indefatigable players, has in the last three weeks watched $3,000,000 francs vanish from her hands.

Lord Derby, Lady Conns, and the famous Marquis de Solfano, Spanish sportsmen, have been steady winners. Americans are few in number, and have chalked up no unusual feats one way or the other. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Gilroy, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewisohn, and other prominent members of the Cannes villa colony play nightly.

Gene Tunney a Visitor.

Mme. Paul Dubonnet, who was Mrs. Jean Nash, "the best dressed woman in the world," is a consistent winner among the Americans. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunney spent several days in Cannes recently and were seen in the gambling salons, but the fighter did little playing.

Among the many German enthusiasts, Prince Schauenburg-Lippe is the most frequent winner in the big stakes. He is a yearly visitor to Cannes, and well known at Monte Carlo also. King Olaf of Norway and King Gustav of Sweden were recent interested spectators in the Casino.

The Dolly sisters, famed for their sensational play in casinos all along the Riviera, have not visited here as yet this year.

Frank J. Gould's newly opened pleasure palace, the Palais de la Mediterranee at Nice, which was recently rumored a financial failure and may be abandoned at the end of this season, has seen little gambling of any importance up to the present. When the great casino first opened its gambling license had not been issued by the French government, and for some time there was no play allowed. The luxurious salons are now in full swing, but the delay in starting is supposed to be a chief reason why the Mediterranee has been somewhat under the wet blanket.

The other big casinos in Nice, especially the Municipal casino, are reported to be making money as fast as the Gould enterprise is losing it. At the most recent estimate the Palais de la Mediterranee is said to be combating a loss of 75,000 francs daily.

Michigan Bell Co. Pays Big Tax

Total taxes of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for 1928 amounted to $3,725,000.00 or $6.15 for each telephone in service. The earnings available for taxes and return from 104,000 telephones, or nearly one-third of the 606,000 average number operated by the Company in 1928, were required to meet the Company's tax payments for the year.

The state of Michigan benefited from the Michigan Bell company's 1928 tax payment in the amount of $2,799,672.00 for 24 per cent of the available earnings. A check for that amount was delivered to Auditor General Oranuel B. Fuller at Lansing on Saturday, June 29. The federal income taxes totaled more than $100,000.00.

The Michigan Bell Company's assessed valuation was set at $92,000,000.00, with a tax rate of $30.4247. The taxes paid by the Company for 1928 showed an increase of more than half a million dollars, compared with the 1927 payment, the state receiving nearly $350,000.00 of the increase.

THE UNION LAKE RECITAL

By Karl H. Starkweather.

Last week's issue of the Mail contained a general account of the musical holiday and picnic given June 25th under the generous auspices of Plymouth's veteran music master, Frank Millard, Sr., at Union Lake in Oakland county. The occasion represented a grand round-up of the many pupils of Mr. Millard who were thus brought together in a most unusual kind of happy and sympathetic contact. Because of limitation of space the Mail last week presented only the general festive nature of the occasion and did not describe the details of the recital itself. While the day provided plenty of games and fun, the recital itself was the main feature of the occasion. Herewith are presented details of the recital:

1. "Ding Dong Bell," by George Spaulding—Jane Burley.
2. "The Tiny Elf," by Aut. Gills—Edwin Dunham.
3. "Tommy's New Drum," by M. L. Preston—Ralph Borch.
4. "March On," by Mari Paldi—Kenneth Thumme.
5. "Drifting Along," by M. L. Preston—Harold Thorne.
6. "Little Elves," from "Fairytale"—Jean Hamill.
7. "Ivy," by R. R. Forman—Roberta Chapple.
8. "Skipping On The Lawn," by R. N. Kerr—Phyllis Rotnour.
9. "Hungarian Folk Song,"—Helen Ribbar.
10. "Harvester's Dance," by F. Boscowitz—Iva Shaw.
11. Duet: "L'Angelus," by C. Gonnard—Jean Hamill and Ralph Borch.
12. "In the Swing," by Brino Brenner—Orlan Egloff.
13. Violin Ensemble—1st. violins: Denar Taylor, Kenneth Greer. 2nd. violins: John Dunham, Alton Bakeswell. 3rd. violin: "Bud" Read. 4th. violin: Melvin Michael. Accompaniment by Delite Taylor at the piano.
14. Duet: "Hungarian Dream," by H. F. Farber—Helen and Catherine Compton.
15. "A Dream," by Lita Lynn—Evelyn Starkweather.
16. "Little Charming," by Wallace Smith—Jimmie Stimpson.
17. "A Dream Song," by R. R. Forman—Jeanette Loth.
18. "Wistful," by Rudolph Friml—Irma Shaw.
19. "Bollocking Tarantella," by Geo. F. Harner—Thelma Lunstford.
20. "Minnette Classic," by Johnson—Elva Hill.
21. (a) "Etude," by Behri; (b) "Forest Voices," by J. F. Cook—Delite Taylor.
22. "Patriotic Song," by Grieg—Richard Smith.
23. (a) "Etude," by Lemoine; (b) "Tuscan Dance," by Paul Valdemar—Jeanette Edson.
24. Violin Solo: "Adoration," by Borowski—Doris Hamill, Mrs. Ralph Borch at the piano.

Except where noted this recital was done entirely on the piano. Mr. Millard has pupils on other instruments—in fact, he has long been an expert instructor in all brass and wood wind work—but for this occasion he did not deem it expedient to further diversify the program.

The recital took place in the spacious summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Plaskowski on the beautiful shore of Union Lake. It may be stated that Mrs. Plaskowski, herself a musician and organist of talent, is the daughter of Frank Millard, Sr. Mr. Plaskowski is a prosperous Detroit druggist and also landlord over considerable business property there. Pupils of Mr. Millard, together with their parents and friends, continue to thank both Mr. Millard and the Plaskowskis for the delightful time afforded them at Union Lake.

BY THE MANAGER

Contractors are now at work upon Liberty street and Pennington avenue installing the new sheet asphalt surface to the existing concrete pavements which have been in service for a long term of years but which have been seriously damaged by heavy traffic during recent years. The work should be completed upon both streets by Friday evening if nothing unforeseen interferes to prevent.

Motorists, when parking their cars in the uptown district, are requested to see that their cars are properly parked between the traffic lines which are laid down for their accommodation.

NO LONGER DEPEND ON MIDNIGHT SUN

Electric Lights Installed by Eskimo in Arctic.

Edmonton, Alta.—No longer will the midnight sun reign supreme in the far reaches of the Arctic circle, according to word reaching here from officers of the Canadian Royal Mounted police whose duty it is to patrol that territory.

The story told illustrates the advance of modernism. The icy igloo associated with the Eskimo has gone. The kayak is still used for traveling on the water for short distances but gasoline motors and sturdier boats are also used. The marriage customs remain practically the same, but the exchange of wives is rapidly passing into the limbo of forgotten things.

More than all this, however, is the forsaking of the old seal-oil lamp for electricity.

According to the Mounties, Pavo Poliak, Eskimo, whose home is up near Akavik, within the Arctic circle, came out as far as a mission post. There he saw a lighting plant similar to those used on farms, in operation. He inquired the price. With the proceeds of his trapping and fishing he found he had sufficient cash to purchase one and did.

Loading it on sleighs he started back to his shack home, miles away. All the way he thought of the superior position the possession of such magic would give him, and the way seemed short. Arriving at his home he installed the plant according to directions and issued invitations to a house warming.

Eskimos from miles around came and when they were assembled Pavo turned a switch. Shouts of surprise resounded as the bulbs burst into light. The guests were astounded. Pavo showed them how the switches worked, and then, one after the other, the visitors turned lights off and on. This lasted for hours until Pavo had fed them all and sent them home.

Hypnosis Shows Anxiety Plays Havoc With Body

Atlanta, Ga.—New evidence that anxiety can play havoc with the body no less than with the mind has been obtained by use of hypnosis. The tests were made by Dr. J. C. Whitehorn, Dr. Helge Lundholm and G. E. Gardner of McLean hospital, Waverley, Mass., and were reported before the American Psychiatric association here.

The experiments indicate that when an individual becomes extremely anxious and fearful his body engine may race like a motor under pressure and strain. On the other hand, moods of depression, elation, or irritability do not appear to produce any certain increase in the metabolic rate, that is, the rate at which the body engine converts food into tissues and energy.

Obtaining data on bodily processes during an emotional state is difficult because an excited individual is not likely to remain sufficiently quiet to permit the making of accurate tests with apparatus. A psychologist who consented to be hypnotized was used for the tests.

Rebels' Tractor-Tanks Are Returned to Farms

Mexico City.—Farm tractors in Mexico led as hectic a life during the recent military rebellion as some of the participants themselves.

Among the "spoils of war" captured by the federales after the rebel retreat in Chihuahua were several farm tractors which had been commandeered from private ranches, armed by rebel blacksmiths and turned into war tanks.

The Mexicans dubbed them "Co-chinitas" (little pigs) when they waddled up to the firing line for the first time. Several which have been brought here are now being de-armored and will be put back to their former peaceful pursuits.

Madrid Women Are Not Old-Fashioned

Madrid.—The women of "old Madrid" are by no means old-fashioned these days. Twenty-year-old Senorita Pilar Crosa, pretty student at the school of engineers in the capital, recently drove the Madrid-Gijon express train over 350 miles of winding and dangerous road.

SULTAN OF SULU NOW AIR MINDED

Potentate Has Plane Ride and Enjoys It.

Washington.—The sultan of Sulu, one of the few Filipino potentates still ruling under the protection of the United States, has become air minded.

According to advices reaching the War department, the sultan was taken on his first airplane ride recently in an army machine and liked it.

A few years ago tribesmen in the Philippines were overcome with fear when the "giant birds" of the air soared overhead. They could not understand the roaring machines driven by army aviators on cross-country flights across the island and often the planes spread fear and consternation.

Then the sultan of Sulu visited Manila. He was invited for a short flight.

Capt. Donald Wilson piloted the sultan 5,000 feet above the city.

The potentate's retinue waited with quaking hearts until the sultan landed safely and grinning over his novel experience. In short excited sentences he explained the sensations of flying to his aides. They immediately besieged the army flyers to be taken up.

The pilots obligingly consented and others in the sultan's staff learned of the joys of soaring through boundless spaces far above the earth. News of their flights spread and the president of Davao expressed the desire for a short hop. Other members of the non-Christian tribes of the Philippine archipelago were flown and the news spread still further until the army air corps station in the islands was flooded with requests for flights in the "giant birds."

Teacher Urges "50-50 Dates" for Young Folks

Columbia, Mo.—Fifty-fifty dates for young men and women in college are advocated by Miss Nellie Lee Holt, instructor in religious education at Stephens college here.

Such dates are not only an economic necessity of the younger generation, Miss Holt believes, but are in keeping with the spirit of modern times.

Romantic Victorian love is dead, she points out, and in its place has grown a love based on "friendship, understanding and willingness on the part of the girl and boy to share responsibilities." "Boys and girls should learn to share," said Miss Holt. "That is the reason I have become such a strong exponent of the 'Dutch' date. Generally speaking, girls receive as much allowance as boys. Then why shouldn't they pay for what they eat, for the show they attend and for the costly entertainment they enjoy?"

Girls of today, Miss Holt characterizes as "sound thinkers who do things in a wholesome and understanding way."

"Guardian Angel" Aids Travelers to Safety

Pilgrim Springs, Alaska.—One northwest Alaska trail has a strange guardian angel, according to a weird tale by travelers returning from a region over the Sawtooth mountains. In a valley across the range, they say, storms occur every day. The best dog teams are often bewildered. But when the visibility is exceptionally bad, so goes the story, drivers and their passengers are guided safely along the way by some well-outfitted form, resembling a hooded monk, who is always accompanied by a huge dog. Old-timers claim the monk is an apparition or mirage encountered as the temperatures in various altitudes change, but it is difficult to convince those who have encountered the mystic trail blazer.

Many Important Crops Ruined by Insect Pest

Washington.—Man's battle to master insect pests that annually destroy one-tenth of the crops in the United States is an uphill struggle which may never be wholly won, Dr. A. L. Quaintance said. Damage will be much heavier this year unless the Mediterranean fly which has just appeared in Florida is checked.

Telling of the effects of science to reduce the damage by the insect scourge, Doctor Quaintance said many important crops could not be grown without the entomologists.

Without the checks now provided by science, insects would multiply so rapidly the world would soon be completely overrun, he said. Insects have several million descendants in the course of a year.

ED BIRD FLIES OVER SEA TO AFRICA

Route Followed Mystifying as Feat Itself.

Washington.—The finding of a dead bird on a beach in South Africa may unlock a secret which has long puzzled American naturalists.

The bird, an Arctic tern, carried a small metal band on one leg with the number 548,138 and, in abbreviated form, the address of the bureau of biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture.

O. L. Austin banded the tern at Turnevik bay, Labrador, on July 28, 1928. Four months later it was found in South Africa.

Scientists have recognized the Arctic tern as the Lindbergh of the bird world. It makes the longest migration of any bird, summering in the Arctic and wintering in the Antarctic. Eleven thousand miles to a winter resort is an all-time record.

What Route is Mystery. By what route does the Arctic tern fly from the North pole to the Antarctic? That has been the question.

H. J. S. Heather of Durban, Natal, has communicated to the National Geographic society the circumstances of the important find, which may answer the question:

"The tern was picked up by Mr. Wackrell of Johannesburg, a few miles south of Port Shepstone. His discovery, the biological survey wrote the finder, was the most remarkable case that has been reported in any country. It suggests that the Arctic tern leaves the northern reaches of North America, flies to Portugal, crosses the length of Africa and then 'hops' to the Antarctic continent."

The new evidence adds about 2,000 miles to the previous 11,000 miles estimated airline flight of the species. The Arctic tern enjoys more daylight than any other living creature because it lives in regions where the sun never sets and only experiences night on its semiannual journeys across the equator.

Terns and other shore birds travel more widely than any other feathered creatures. The golden plover raises a brood in Ungava or northern Labrador and in the fall wings out over the ocean, never stopping until it reaches Bermuda. On it flies, pausing perhaps at the Bahamas, or the Lesser Antilles on the way to South America. The first of the golden plovers have been reported arriving in Paraguay before the last have left the breeding grounds. They "winter" on the Argentine pampas where the summer sun makes food plentiful.

Even unadventurous appearing warblers travel far to escape the cold breath of winter. Of our American species and subspecies twenty-two winter in the West Indies, forty-four in Mexico, thirty-seven push on to Central America, while twenty-two reach South America. It is a fact for never ceasing wonder that some warblers and other small birds fly 500 miles across the Caribbean sea without resting.

Probably the most remarkable non-stop overseas flights are those of the Pacific golden plover. Coming south from Alaska it touches at the Aleutians and then takes off for Hawaii. It crosses 2,800 miles of open ocean. How plovers are able to locate the Hawaiian islands in the middle of the Pacific is a mystery of nature.

Remarkable Flight Records. Birds that nest in the southern hemisphere also have remarkable records for travel. The slender-billed shearwater makes a circuit of the Pacific ocean. It breeds in southern Australia, flies north along the Asia coast and returns south by the American coast.

Promotion of bird-banding has revealed many unknown and unsuspected facts of bird migrations and habits. Telltale bands have shown the male wren to be an extremely inconstant fellow who ought to be paying heavy worm alimony and have also supplied facts on which practical plans for the conservation of birds life can be made.

"At present nearly 1,200 banding stations are in operation in all parts of the country," writes E. W. Nelson, formerly head of the bureau of biological survey, in the National Geographic Magazine.

"The operators send the data regarding each individual bird banded to the bureau, which has established an indexed card file of such records. Widespread interest is expressed in reports of the capture of banded birds, of which 13,734, representing about two hundred species, have been taken, either alive or dead."

Farmer Catches Muskrat, Then State Exacts Fine

Billings, Mont.—Just because he caught a muskrat by the tail and impounded him in a box with the idea of starting a muskrat farm, F. G. Kell was fined $25 for possessing a fur-bearing animal without having obtained the proper permit or license for its capture. The muskrat was running around in Kell's barn when the capture was made.

Sights Whale School

Eureka, Calif.—One of the largest schools of whales seen off the coast near here in recent years was reported by Capt. Willard Cousins. Cousins said there appeared to be about fifty of the marine monsters in the school. The spouts thrown up by the whales, according to Cousins, resembled a field of geysers.

Northern Lights

The northern lights are not a reflection, but a discharge of electricity in a rarified atmosphere, at a very high altitude. The causes are not yet satisfactorily explained.

GARB DOESN'T MAKE THE MAN IN RUSSIA

Sheer Necessity Forces Outlawry of Style.

Moscow.—In the Soviet capital, at least, clothes do not make the man; nor the woman, for that matter. Style is among the antiquated "bourgeois" notions thrown into discard by the Bolshevik revolution.

Sheer necessity—the lack of textiles and of cash—had more to do with outlawing style than did Communist principles. In the bitter years of civil strife and famine people were happy enough to have their bodies covered without bothering about the cut or color of the covering. While conditions are incomparably better, those who can afford to worry about the bang of their trousers or their skirts are still a small minority.

Many men, of course, threw off the yoke of a tailored jacket for the freedom of a peasant blouse out of revolutionary ardor; but the overwhelming majority did so because their jackets had fallen to pieces and they could not buy a new one.

The Russian Flapper.

A generation of Russian girls adopted rough boyish attire and scoffed at female finery. One may be pardoned for guessing, however, that many of them were making a virtue of necessity. Certainly the first sign of easier economic conditions here, as in the rest of the world, was the better-dressed young woman. The Russian "flapper"—a boy's cap pulled rakishly over her close-cropped head and a man's overcoat over her nondescript dress—is definitely on the decline.

Between poverty and principle, however, style has fared badly enough. Anything but stark nakedness (and the rigors of Russian climate discourage that) passes muster. Moscow undoubtedly holds the world record for diversity of costume. The queerest sartorial combinations will attract not the slightest attention on Moscow streets. The most grotesque patch-work passes unnoticed.

Can't Judge by Clothes.

Another result of the discarding of style is that one can no longer judge anyone's social status from his or her clothes. The fellow you bump into on the stairway may be the commissar or the humblest of his clerks—you can't tell from his apparel. Indeed, if he shows a tendency towards elegant European dress he is most likely to be the clerk.

Foreigners who have visited Moscow over a period of years agree that in general people here are enormously better dressed than a few years ago, although the standard is still far below western Europe, or even a city like Warsaw. Smartly dressed women are more in evidence and the popularity of "Modes," a pitiful little magazine devoted to the Paris fashions, may be a sign of the times.

Fruit Growers Profit From Europe's Winter

Lindsay, Calif.—"It's an ill wind—" adage was borne out literally in Europe this year. With California orange growers reaping the benefit of the suffering of European growers.

The most severe European winter in 230 years caused great damage to the Spanish citrus crop, next largest in the world to that of California.

One result was that the California Fruit Growers' exchange has already moved its first shipment of oranges to Europe, docking in London the latter part of April. Others are being loaded, and before the season ends it is estimated California citrus growers will have benefited to the extent of marketing 2,500 carloads of their product that never would have been able to compete with European growers under ordinary circumstances.

The extra market proved extremely fortuitous to California growers, burdened with an unusually large Valencia crop. It is estimated more than 1,000,000 boxes of oranges will go to Europe this season at prices that will net the grower from $2 to $4 a box.

New Hampshire Man Has Wagon 113 Years Old

Franklin, N. H.—Frank E. Gerlach says he owns a wagon one hundred and thirteen years old and in perfect running condition. It has original tires and paint, he says, and he has absolute proof as to its age.

It is said to be one of the very first wagons that Abbott Downing, the famous builder of the Concord coach, constructed. It has no springs similar to the leaf springs in use on wagons and automobiles today, but it nevertheless rides like a cradle. In place of springs there are leather straps running from the front to the rear axles and the body of the wagon is suspended upon these similar to the manner in which the stage coaches were constructed.

At the places on the leather where the front wheels hit when the wagon is turned there is a protection in the shape of steel plates to prevent the tires from wearing out the leather.

Orders Dress for Maid Tattooed on Tar's Arm

Lynn, Mass.—Gordon Smith wanted to join the navy. He passed the mental and physical examinations, but during the latter process, recruiting officers discovered the tattooed figure of a nude woman on his arm. Before approving his enlistment papers they forced him to have a dress tattooed on the offending picture.

Christian Science Notes

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, June 30. Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord." (Isa. 60:1). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the "Christian Science" textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the year 1806, I discovered the Christ Science or divine laws of Life, Truth, and Love, and named my discovery Christian Science. This unpolished Principal points to the revelation of humankind, 'God with us,' the sovereign ever-present, delivering the children of men from every ill 'that flesh is heir to.'" (p. 107).

The Flower Mission Day meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the home of Mrs. E. C. Vealey, Thursday, June 27, was very interesting. A picnic at Bentley Park kept away a number of the Methodist ladies but members who attended found the meeting most enjoyable.
The program for the day was in charge of the Flower Mission superintendent, Miss Cora Pelham, who read two selections bearing upon the work of her department. Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd gave a very interesting talk upon the work of the Detroit Unions at the Wayne County Home.
The Flower Mission work means not only the gift of flowers but also other gifts. In short, anything that will bring comfort and happiness to the recipients.
As Mrs. John Rattenbury, leader for the previous meeting, was unable to be present for her program, she gave several excellent readings at this time.
A dainty tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Vealey, assisted by Mrs. Clara Todd.
The next meeting will occur July 25 with Mrs. L. Clemens as leader.

BIG FOREST PARK ON BORDER IS PROPOSED

To Preserve Huge Area in U. S. and Canada.

Minneapolis, Minn.—An area of lake and forest four times larger than Yellowstone National park and lying in the heart of the continent along the border lakes of Ontario and Minnesota will be dedicated for all time to a mansyded and far-reaching project of conservation if the conservationists of Canada and the United States have their way. It is proposed to set aside by treaty under a uniform policy of balanced forestry administration some 10,000,000 acres of forest lands containing more than 3,000 connected lakes.
What is known as the Itany Lake watershed, lying in the two countries, will be devoted to the maximum production of forest and related crops but with all the natural features of its lakelands—the rapids, waterfalls, islands, and wooded shores—kept inviolate as in a park. These rock-bound lakes with their original flora and fauna, their abelent Indian tribes and their historic past will become a wilderness sanctuary for man and beast.

Backed by Walton League.
An organization for the purpose of fostering and achieving such a dedication has received the enthusiastic support of distinguished men and women from every part of the continent. It is associated with the Izaak Walton League of America and is known as the Quetico-Superior council, with headquarters in Minneapolis. The name, merely emphasizes its international character, being derived from the two forest preserves established in the region twenty years ago—the Quetico provincial park in Ontario and Superior national forest in Minnesota. The council is a temporary international body for mustering the support and directing the efforts of all individuals and societies in both countries, who are interested in its purposes.

Officials Distinguished.
The council announces a list of ten honorary vice presidents, as follows: Dan Beard, national scout commissioner; Anna Rorstedt Comstock, professor emerita of nature study, Cornell university; Dr. Henry van Dyke, president National Institute of Arts and Letters; Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus Leland Stanford university; Stephen Mather, founder and former director United States park service; Jack Miner, Canadian conservationist; Clifford Pinchot, founder and former chief United States forest service; Kenneth Ross, well known sportsman; Ernest Thompson Seton, naturalist, artist, author; George Sistras III, famous naturalist and wild game photographer.
In addition the council has associated with itself a board of advisers representing every aspect of this international project.

School Class to Study Insects 55 Years Old

Nebraska City, Neb.—Giant grasshoppers fifty-five years old have been presented to the biology classes of the local high school for dissection study.
These same "hoppers" dead many years in a bottle of alcohol on the shelf of a deserted house, were of the phenomenal swarms which, like a great rain cloud, appeared out of nowhere in the summer of 1874 and wrought havoc in several crop-growing states of the Southwest.
With the fading of the picketed insects, revealed when house wreckers tore down an old home here, pioneers recalled the grasshopper "clouds" of '74 which suddenly devastated crops and all growing things.
Billions of them appeared from the skies, stopped momentarily, and passed on to nobody knows where. Their appearance was one of the mysterious and tragedies of the pioneer West.
Old timers say they appeared as suddenly as a thunder storm, settled down upon growing corn, grain and pastures and proceeded to devour all edibles in sight.
Believe it or not, not Nebraska and northern Kansas grandparents will tell you the hoppers were in such numbers that they darkened the sun, ate so fast that "you could almost see the corn go down," and when through with growing things, attacked the curtains on the windows of homes.
Some even claim, in all seriousness, that the noise of the grasshoppers' eating could be heard for some distance. Others said trains were delayed when locomotive wheels "spun" over the bodies of "hoppers" gathered on the tracks.

Unearth Remains of 48 Ancient Villages

Zurich, Switzerland.—One of the most interesting archeological discoveries of recent years was made when the remains of 48 villages of lake dwellers were found on the shores of Lake Constance. A majority of the villages were away from the water, indicating the lake probably was ten feet higher ten thousand years ago than it is now. One village is believed to date back to an age when man was unacquainted with agriculture.

Advanced American Trade
The first treaty between the United States and Japan was signed on March 31, 1854, whereby the oriental nation inaugurated her famous "open door" policy in permitting American shipping free access to a hitherto inaccessible domain. With American merchant shipping at her peak at the moment the Stars and Stripes soon became a common sight in the harbors of the mikado's coastal cities—and an important new market developed for the American traders.

"KONJOLA BEST MEDICINE EVER GIVEN MANKIND"

Former Sufferer, Long a Victim of Rheumatism, Finds First and Only Relief in Modern Medicine

Mr. J. R. FEICHTNER

"I was crippled with rheumatism," said Mr. James R. Feichtner, Cottage Grove, Highland Park, Michigan. "I could not walk up stairs; it seemed that every joint in my body was afe with pain. I got scarcely any sleep and had to be so careful of what I ate that I was undernourished. I took just three bottles of Konjola and then a change came over me that I shall never forget. The swelling in my joints subsided, the pains became fainter and fainter, my appetite improved, indigestion disappeared and today I am feeling like a man completely made over. I think the world should know that there is a medicine like Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at Community Drug Store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

DE-HO-CO DEFEATS DETROIT CLOWNS--ACCIDENT MARS GAME

De-Ho-Co defeated the Detroit Clowns by a score of 7 to 5, at De-Ho-Co Park Sunday.

The Clowns, who had been heralded as a comic strip outfit, had little opportunity to live up to their reputation. The heavy rain of the morning made it appear as though the game would have to be called off on account of wet grounds, and the Clowns had given up the idea of appearing. However De-Ho-Co Park is one of the best drained diamonds in Michigan and when manager Prough got in touch with the Clowns' manager and told him the grounds were dry, he was very much surprised but agreed to get as many of his players together as possible and come out. They arrived at 3:30 o'clock with just nine men in uniform. As the game was then 30 minutes late in starting they forewent clowning and got right down to ball playing.

Hartner was on the rubber for De-Ho-Co, with Doherty behind the plate, while Nye and Milligan formed the Clowns' battery.

An accident occurred in the second inning when Destefano fled to left center. Both Cody and Glades went after the ball and as Cody caught it, Glades crashed into him and was knocked unconscious. It was impossible for him to continue, as the Clowns only had nine players with them it was necessary for De-Ho-Co to loan them a player. Anderson was loaned to them and he went to center field.

This accident although regrettable, proved a blessing to the Clowns, all on account of Anderson. This is the Big Boy who tried out this spring with Toronto Maple Leafs and his exhibition Sunday demonstrated why the Toronto scouts picked him up. He came to bat three times and got three hits, two doubles and a single. One of his doubles was the hardest hit ball that has been seen at De-Ho-Co Park in quite some time. It was driven on a line towards left and crashed against the dining room just a foot below the roof. It was hit so hard that the ball rebounded clear back to the shortstop, thus preventing Anderson from going beyond second. There is no question but that if the ball had cleared the dining room it would have been lost forever. He also accepted four chances in the field one of them a hard one in deep center, in big league fashion.

Smith, with a home-run and a single, Jaska with a triple and two singles and Martin and Hartner each with two singles accounted for most of De-Ho-Co's hits and runs.

July Fourth will be a big day at De-Ho-Co Park when Kellogg's of Battle Creek pay a visit. The teams are tied with one win apiece and the tie will be broken on the Fourth. Prior to the game the inmates of the farm will hold their field meet in front of the grand stand.

Sunday, July 7th, Dexter, Michigan, will play at De-Ho-Co Park. This should be a very good game and the fans will be able to look over some former University of Michigan stars.

there are several of them on the team, one is Ernie Vick who gained an enviable reputation as a backfield man on the University of Michigan eleven.

LABORATORIES TO SHAPE BOYS' LIVES

School Will Test Aptitudes by Freedom.

New York.—As a means of testing the theory, long held by educators, that if a boy were allowed access to the paraphernalia of a number of trades and professions he would choose the one for which he was best fitted, $300,000 will be spent at Hill School for Boys, Pottstown, Pa.

This sum, for a new science building, was given to the institution by Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, who donated the famous Widener library to Harvard as a memorial to her son, drowned on the Titanic.

It is the hope of the authorities of the school that by placing at the disposal of the students various laboratories, work rooms and study halls in which will be placed all kinds of apparatus, the students, after roaming through all of them and stopping to familiarize themselves with each, will find, by natural processes, the fields for which they are best fitted.

To this end the new science building will have all sorts of laboratories in which a student may carry on any experiments that strike his fancy.

There will be a chemistry group where boys can claim an individual room if they are interested in this line. On the top floor will be a miniature observatory with a telescope.

In the basement of the building will be all manner of heavy machinery for boys who are mechanically inclined. Radio and photographic laboratories also will be provided.

The room about which most interest doubtless will center will be the aviation room. In this space will be tools, instructions and literature for use in building model planes which will fly under their own power.

Michigan Homes Buried Under Shifting Dunes

Lansing, Mich.—"Blowout" in the dunes of Michigan are making "walking dunes" of them and burying houses, forests and fruit farms, and the state conservation department has opened an investigation to determine some means of remedying the situation.

Large dunes along the shores of the Great Lakes, heretofore protected by heavy vegetation, are being literally transferred to other localities by action of the lake winds, it has been found. This is caused by removal of forest growth to make way for summer homes. Once a "blowout" as these shifting are termed, is started, nothing has been discovered that will stop it, and thousands of dollars worth of property is endangered by the movement.

Development along the lakes furnishes Michigan with one of its most profitable industries—tourist trade—and the problem is being attacked with the idea in mind that such development must not be interfered with.

Co-operation of the geological division of the University of Michigan has been enlisted in the campaign to prevent the dune blowouts.

Astronomical Instrument

Astrolabe was the name formerly given to any circular instrument for observing the stars. Astrolabes were of two kinds—spherical and planispheric. They were used mainly during the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth centuries.

INTERESTING FACTS ON FUTURE OF AVIATION

By R. U. McIntosh

Do you really realize the importance of air transportation? Do you really know the great time saved by flying? If you take just one trip by air, you will no doubt be converted to air transportation. I just read in the papers where one of the trimotored Fokker Monoplanes of the Western Air Express of California made 385 miles in one hour and fifty-nine minutes. It takes all night to make the same trip by train, all day and part of a night by stage. The most pleasant trip that I made by air was flying over the big hump, in other words, the Ridge route over Los Angeles over a blanket of clouds that covered the Great Valley of California. In order to escape the mountain peaks, it was necessary to fly at a very high altitude. We were sailing along about 120 miles per hour, not a thing in sight except this beautiful silver blanket. It would remind one of foam, when suddenly we noticed a little black speck in the distance. As we flew on, the spot became larger and we soon could see the outline of an aeroplane. In a few moments there appeared before us a Ryan Brougham heading for Los Angeles. We had to descend a little and we noticed that he climbed a little in order that we pass parallel. It was a ship belonging to the Department of Commerce, a very close friend of mine. He recognized my ship and put his hand out of the window and waved at us as we passed by at a speed of approximately 250 miles per hour. One could visualize that the highways of today will be the skyways of tomorrow.

Fog flying is very dangerous. Have you ever walked in a dark room feeling around for a light? Fog flying is the same. You keep flying hoping that you will soon reach the top of it, and hoping that you do not fly into a mountain. I have had some experience in fog flying and will say that it is a real thrill. In fact, I do not want very much more of it. When we got through the fog, we were about 200 feet over a hightop. Imagine our embarrassment if we failed to make a little altitude a few minutes before we came through the fog. The hazard of fog flying will be overcome in the near future, and will be just as safe to fly in as it is to ride in a fast express being protected by block signals. Radio and radio beacon will be the solution. For example, an aeroplane will start off on its course and immediately get in communication with the operator at the other end who will start a dot and dash system. There will be a constant buzz on one side and an interrupted buzz on the other side. Now if a ship is on its course and should drift a little to the west it would come in contact with the constant buzz which would tell the pilot he was drifting too far west. He would then shift his course and keep in the middle of the two waves. Upon arriving at his destination, if it were covered with fog, he could talk with the attendant at the air port and arrive at his position for descending after the attendant had sent up a sky rocket directly from the center of the air port.

There will be instruments on the aeroplane in the future that will tell exactly how high an aeroplane is from the ground. Today we have an instrument called the altimeter which tells us how high we are above the sea. This is a very valuable instrument, but when we know how high we are above the ground, it will be a blessing because blind flying will then be safe. The Neon Gas used in some of our electric signs can be seen through fog for a great distance. In fact, if one of these Neon signs were put in the center of an air port, a pilot could circle around and lose altitude slowly and would soon be able to see the glare and would thereby get into position for a landing.

The public is under the impression that flying is difficult and that an aviator is possessed with unusual mentality to fly an aeroplane, but this is not true. The aeroplane of today can be so perfectly balanced by adjusting the stabilizer that it is able to fly for indefinite periods without touching the controls. Some aeroplanes are so perfected that it is impossible for them to fall off into a tail spin.

My boy is five years old, and has the perfect feel of an aeroplane. He can keep it on just as even a keel as I can. In fact, he had no trouble in keeping it on its course, but when it comes to landing, it takes one with an older mind who has a good judge of distance and has had practice in landing. This is the hardest part of flying. The rest comes to you very suddenly.

There are many who believe that they will experience dizziness, sickness, in the air, but usually are surprised and disappointed that they did not experience even a thrill, for they did not know when they left the ground. If the air is still, and you were reading a paper and would not look out the window, you would never know you were in the air. To the first time flyer they immediately notice the lack of speed. This is due to the distance you are away from any moving objects. The further away you are from the objects the slower you appear to be moving. If you came down and flew within fifty feet of the ground, at the same speed you were at 5,000 feet, you would certainly be surprised how fast you pass telegraph poles.

I was once told by an old lady that she was going to go up for a flight, but she was going to instruct the pilot to go very slowly and low. This, of course, is most dangerous practice and would no doubt end in disaster. As a matter of fact, speed is control and there is safety in altitude.

There will appear in this column every week an article on the future of aviation, written by R. U. McIntosh, president and general manager of the Mack Craft Amphibian Corporation.

After making a flying survey of the United States, Mr. McIntosh made a study of the Air Craft manufacturing business and will write many interesting articles of his trip.

Today's Reflections

Every Plymouth boy should strive to be a great man for then he can sell testimonials to the medicine and cigarette manufacturers.

Insurance companies say the suicide rate in the country is showing a great increase. Must be that a lot of folks are running out of places to go.

An Ohio man fell dead in his attorney's office, which should be a hint to lawyers to mail their bills.

You never hear a Plymouth man with a telephone bill to pay arguing that "talk is cheap."

The old bearskins on the floor never attracted as much attention as the bare skins on the street now do.

One reason why we have so many divorces is because people do not tell enough truth before marriage and tell too much after marriage.

You can always put a lot of dependence in the Plymouth man who boasts that he has the best neighbors in the world.

One thing about the days of the horse, a second-hand Dobbin was worth just as much, if not more, than a brand new one.

We're willing to bet our last year's straw hat against a German mark that there are more men afraid not to go home than there are men who are afraid to go.

Another reason why marriages around Plymouth were happier in the old days is that women didn't get married then thinking that they wouldn't have to work any more.

Maud Muller on a summer day went speeding down the crowded way, and when the traffic cop yelled "Hey" she smiled and kept right on her way.

Before marriage a girl likes a man to make love, but afterward she is more concerned about his making money.

When a Plymouth man reaches the point where his back aches without any reasonable excuse for doing so, he can bet that he has reached middle age.

People who think the country is a trifle crazy will be glad to know that it will come to its census in 1930.

If there is one too many for the seating capacity of the car the one who doesn't care to go this time is mother.

There's little hope left for a Plymouth girl once she claims you have discovered that dishwater hurts her hands.

Fatal Superstition

The superstition about anything being done on a Friday led to a woman's death at Leicester, England, recently. She was taken ill on a Friday, but refused, because of the superstition, to see a doctor until Saturday. It was then too late; she died on Monday from heart failure following influenza.

Clubs Will Encamp At Michigan State

FEW SPARE MOMENTS SHOWN ON PROGRAM OF EVENTS FOR WEEK OF JULY 8-12.

The eleventh annual encampment of county champions in boys and girls club work will be held at Michigan State College, East Lansing, July 8 to 12, according to the announcement of the State Leader of boys and girls 4-H clubs.

The program for camp week outlines activities beginning at 8:15 each morning and continuing until taps at 9:30 p. m. Members of the College staff will appear on the program each day to give talks on the subjects which are taught in their departments.

The contest to determine the healthiest boy and girl in the camp will be held Tuesday, July 9. The two who are chosen will represent southern Michigan in the state contest which will be held at the State Fair in Detroit next fall.

Apparent favoritism has been shown toward the boys by the people who made up the camp program as baseball games are scheduled for them while the girls are participating in music memory contests and a style show. The girls, however, are allowed time off to watch the baseball finals on Thursday.

Camps for northern Michigan club members will be held at Gaylord and at Chatham, August 5-9. A new club building for which the money was appropriated by the state is being constructed at Gaylord.

Pursuit of Moth Hazardous Task

Philadelphia.—Pursuit of moths and butterflies in the tropical jungles of Ecuador is a hazardous occupation, according to W. Judson Coxe, member of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, who returned from a protracted expedition. Coxe told of meeting bird-eating spiders the size of dinner plates and killing venomous reptiles in the haunts of rare and beautiful butterflies. One of the spiders encountered, Coxe said, he was forced to shoot with a revolver as it was about to spring at him.

Rattlesnakes which give no warning when attacking were brought back by the scientist. They are known as "Ecco" or "X" snakes because of their markings and have "rattles" which make no noise.

Fear

Fear, of itself, does not kill, it often produces effects in the body—the heart and brain especially, which are fatal.
