

HARRY ROBINSON TO AGAIN START BIG FAIR RACES

FAIR OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE THE PROGRAM FOR MEET THIS FALL

President Nelson Schrader and Marvin H. Sloan, superintendent of speed of the Northville Wayne County Fair Association, have announced that Harry C. Robinson of Northville and Plymouth, will again start the races of the Northville fair this year. This is a duty that Mr. Robinson has carried on for the association for many years and the announcement of the officials that he will act in the same old capacity again will be pleasing news to the thousands of race horse followers who come to Northville every fall to see the races.

With the announcement of Mr. Robinson's selection comes also the full details of the track meet for fair week. The races will start on Wednesday, September 18th, and continue for the following three days of the fair, giving four full days of excellent racing. The race program and rules follow:

Wednesday, September 18th—2:15 Trot, purse $300.00; 2:20 pace, purse $300.00; 2 year pace, purse $200.00.

Thursday, September 19th—2:24 Trot, purse $300.00; 2:15 pace, purse $300.00; 3 year trot, purse $250.00.

Friday, September 20th—2:18 Trot, purse $300.00; 2:24 pace, purse $300.00; 3 year trot, purse $250.00.

Saturday, September 21st—2:17 pace, purse $300.00; Free-for-all pace or trot, purse $300.00; 2 year trot, purse $200.00.

An additional prize of a silver cup will be given to the winner of each colt race.

A. T. Association rules to govern. All races with exception of 2-year-old colt races, which are 2 in 3, will be on the 3 heat plan. Ten per cent of the gross amount offered will be awarded the winner of the event, the balance to be divided into three equal parts and raced for each event. In case of ties in the summary or there being three winners, those tied or the three heat winners shall race a fourth heat to determine the winner of the event. A distanced horse shall be out of the race, but retain any amount won.

Five to enter and four to start. Entries close Monday, September 16th.

Racing starts at 1:00 o'clock sharp. Money divided 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent of purses.

Two or more horses from the same stable can start in any event, but full entrance money must be paid on each horse.

Hay and straw free to horses entered in the races.

The association reserves the right to declare all races off on account of bad weather or track or other unavoidable causes in which case the entrance money will be refunded.

Rules of American Trotting Association to govern, of which we are a member.

The track has been given proper attention and put in the best possible condition.

Good track, good purses, a good "bunch" of fellows—come and have a good time.

The association will not be responsible for accidents.

F. E. VanAtta, clerk of course; M. H. Sloan, superintendent of speed; H. H. Hamilton, E. M. Starkweather and John Tinham, committee. George Rattenbury, Jr., superintendent of stalls.—Northville Record.

FORMER SALEM RESIDENT DIES

Wm. S. Packard, a former resident of Salem township, passed away at his home in Royal Oak, Thursday, July 11th, aged 68 years. Funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, last Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Interment took place in the Lapham's cemetery.

The deceased, Will S. Packard, was born in Salem township, Michigan, June 28, 1861, the first born of the late Harvey and Louisa B. Packard. He received his early education in the district school and the State Normal at Ypsilanti. He went to Dakota early in life, and there married. His wife died soon after, and he returned to Lansing, Mich. There he married Hattie C. Couley, who survives him. Later in life they removed to Detroit, where they have since resided, and where for many years he has been a faithful and efficient employee of the Standard Oil Co.

He died July 11, 1929, leaving his wife, Hattie, and only brother, Fred.

Local Rotary Club Enjoy Moving Picture

The Plymouth Rotary Club had the pleasure of seeing a moving picture show at their Monday luncheon last Friday. The pictures were provided by Rotarian Harry Lush, who took them on his recent motor through to the Pacific coast. The pictures are unusually clear and distinct, and provided a most interesting entertainment for the club.

REV. OLIVIA WOODMAN, GRANGE LEADER, DIES

PAW PAW WOMAN WAS FORMERLY UNIVERSALIST MINISTER HERE.

Funeral services for the Rev. Olivia J. C. Woodman, chaplain of the Michigan State Grange for the last 33 years, were held at Paw Paw, Mich., at two p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Woodman, who was nationally known as a Universalist minister, suffragist and agricultural leader, died Saturday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. Julia MacLaren, at the age of 82 years.

Born, June 1, 1847, in Orleans county, N. Y., she was not ordained a minister until she was 50 years old. Her first charge was at Dewitt, Mich. Later she held pastorates at Farmington and Plymouth.

She became nationally known through her work among the Grangers. She toured New England twice as organizer for the National Grange, and was the principal speaker on Grange Day at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo in 1901. She was the first woman to make a nominating address in a Michigan Republican convention. Her candidate was Mrs. Dora Stockman, who is still a member of the State Board of Agriculture.

Mrs. Woodman was a trustee of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League and an active worker in the prohibition movement in this state.

Business Women's Club Meeting At Mackinac Island

Perfect weather and the entrancing beauty of Mackinac Island served to contribute materially to the enjoyment of about two thousand officers, delegates and other members of the National Association of Business and Professional Women, who met on July 7th for a week's work and entertainment at their annual convention held at Mackinac Island, from July 8th to 15th.

Round table discussions on the various professions and occupations of the women present, was the order of the first two days. Addresses were made by outstanding successful women to their own groups, with much benefit to those interested.

The first mass meeting of the convention was held in Convention Hall on Tuesday evening, July 9th. Lena Madala Phillips, a successful lawyer of New York City, as president of the national organization, gave her annual address, with brief history of the club, and outlined plans for future development. With a record of growth from a membership of 200 women ten years ago, to its present membership of 54,000, one would hesitate to attempt to forecast the future of this great organization of progressive industrious well trained women.

Easily the outstanding event of the convention was the program on international night, held in Convention Hall in honor of visitors from several foreign countries. Dr. Maria Castellani of Rome, Italy, gave a most interesting address on the progress business and professional women have made in Europe. Knowing that Dr. Castellani held a degree in mathematics and also in medicine from leading colleges in Italy and United States, and that she was actuary for a government controlled compulsory life insurance organization in her own country, one might conjure up an idea of a rather forbidding female type and be most agreeably surprised to find her a charming, graceful little woman of thirty-five or forty years, speaking grammatically perfect English, but with such a decided accent that it required the assistance of her bobbed black head, tiny expressive hands and in fact her whole dynamic little self to get her message across.

There was no doubt as to her success in reaching her audience. They applauded her again and again during her address, and the many hundreds of women present, rose to their feet several times in appreciation. She was showered with flowers, gifts and honorary memberships in different

New Plant of The Trenton Fibre Products, Inc.

The Mail is pleased to publish this week a half-tone picture of the splendid new factory building of the Trenton Fibre Products, Inc. formerly of Trenton, N. J. A representative of the Mail called at the plant last Friday morning, and through the courtesy of Fred G. Hodges, Jr., the manager, was shown through the plant which is now just getting under production.

The new building, which is of brick construction, is 86x135 feet in size, and two stories in height. It is well lighted and ventilated, and is especially adapted for a plant of this kind.

The company manufactures what is known as kersey cloth, and the plant is capable of turning out 200,000 yards per month. This cloth is used largely by automobile manufacturers in the construction of tops. Lighter weights of this cloth are used for noise insulators in automobiles. The company has installed looms that are capable of turning out lining for room-size rugs. It is a most interesting sight to see the big looms in operation, and the rapidity with which the large bales of kersey cloth are turned out ready for shipment. The company is giving employment to about twenty men at present.

The Pere Marquette railroad has built a side track to the plant and they have every convenience and facility for receiving and shipping freight.

The company is manufacturing a superior quality of kersey cloth, and finding a ready sale for the product. The locating of the plant in Plymouth is a most valuable addition to the manufacturing industries of the village, and the Mail extends a most cordial welcome to the new enterprise.

Roy Strong, contractor and builder, had the general contract for the new building, and the Corbett Electric Co. the electrical work.

NOTED REALTOR SPOKE TUESDAY

110 GUESTS HEARD HARRY H. CULVER, PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL REAL ESTATE BOARDS, GIVE FINE ADDRESS.

One hundred and ten realtors, members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs and business and professional men greeted Harry H. Culver of Culver City and Los Angeles, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who was the guest of the Plymouth Real Estate Board at a luncheon at the Hotel Mayflower Tuesday noon.

Alfred Bukewell, president of the local board, presided over the meeting very ably. He first introduced State Representative Edward Fisher of Dearborn; George Smith, president of the Wayne Rotary Club; J. J. McQuade, president of the Pontiac Real Estate Board; Verne Markley, first vice-president of the Michigan State Association of Real Estate Boards; of Pontiac; Eddie Stinson, president of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation, Mr. Bukewell then in a few words introduced Mr. Culver, who is a most interesting and forceful speaker.

The need for elimination of obsolete provisions in the laws governing real estate transfer was emphasized by Mr. Culver and he also urged united action of realtors and property owners in securing modernization of state laws which are unnecessarily cumbersome the sale of real estate and in bringing to public attention the need for equalization in state tax systems, so as to bring about a more nearly fair distribution of the tax burden as between tangible and intangible assets.

"A million dollars worth of bonds can be purchased in one hour," he said. "The transfer of automobiles consumes only a trifle more time, but the transfer of real property is surrounded by legal safeguards and technicalities, some of which are wise and necessary but many of which are a heritage from the distant past and do not fit modern conditions.

"The instruments of finance used in real estate are in many states surrounded by legal limitations which retard the free flow of money and prevent adjustment of the relationship between buyer and lender on a business-like basis governed by economic considerations. The result is that certain types of real estate financing are unnecessarily difficult to obtain and are costly. It is important that we study this problem, and that we find a better solution than now exists."

Mr. Culver, who is using his private Stinson-Detrolter in making a year's circuit of visits to member boards of the association, touched on the part which he believes aviation is coming to have in affecting present day utilization of real estate.

"Railroads are buying additional yardage for aircraft," he pointed out. "Manufacturers of light articles are moving to airports. Homes adjoining airports are giving way to hotels, apartments and restaurants. Executive offices are being erected on the fields.

"As the automobile extended metropolitan areas, so that villages thirty

Sanislow-Hayball

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Elsie Hayball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Hayball, and Alexander Sanislow was solemnized Friday, July 12, at twelve o'clock noon, at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Wayne, Michigan. Rev. Peters performed the ceremony.

Miss Hayball was attired in a lovely afternoon gown of peach chiffon, made with a butterfly cape and with yoke of eggshell chiffon and lace. Her hat was of transparent horse hair in matching eggshell color. She carried yellow tea roses in a shower bouquet. Miss Hayball was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Lorraine Corbett, as maid of honor, was gowned in mauve chiffon with hat of natural colored straw. Her flowers were pink Ophelia roses and white rosebuds.

George Hayball, brother of the bride, assisted as best man.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. The long bridal table was decorated with tall vases of gladiolas and tall yellow tapers were burning at intervals.

After a wedding trip into Ohio, the bride and groom will be at home on Holbrook avenue.

MANY PLAY GOLF.

One hundred and twenty-five members and guests played the new Brae Burn course Sunday, and participated in the programme. The Kickers Handicap against par was won by Henry Goepple with 95-25 70. Howard Bates turned in a 108-38 71 for second. J. N. McLoughlin scored 100-27-73 to tie E. R. Snook, 90-17-73 and J. B. Terrill, 104-31-73 for third. Low gross score was recorded by S. P. Egglestone 90 and E. R. Snook, 90.

B. Patterson won the driving contest with a 250 yarder down the middle. Miss Betty Snyder and J. N. McLoughlin tied for first place in the approaching and putting contest, and Miss Snyder won the play off. Several prominent golfers who were in the gallery, predicted that Miss Snyder will be a headliner in the Detroit District.

On Wednesday, July 18, forty ladies will play the course and be entertained at a bridge luncheon, Mrs. McLoughlin acting as hostess.

Entertain At Smart Tea For Guests

We take the following from the Mt. Vernon, Washington, Herald of July 11th:

The luxurious interior of the C. J. Henderson home was enhanced with bouquets of magnificent flowers and greenery yesterday afternoon, forming a charming setting for the tea given by Miss Katherine Henderson, honoring her house guests, Miss Gladys Schrader of Plymouth, and Miss Sarah Wilson of Detroit. Miss Mary Velma Gilbert of Oklahoma, who is visiting at the Warren Gilbert home, was also an honored guest at this party.

About the living room were tall French baskets filled with blue delphinium and pink LaFrance roses, while smaller bouquets in artistic arrangement peeped from everywhere about the lovely apartment. Under the softened lighting of floor lamps the scene presented was most inviting.

Beautiful in its exquisite appointments, the tea table featured a chic color motif in pink, green and lavender, with an artistic creation formed of sweet peas in these tints as the centerpiece. Platters of sandwiches and small cakes in the daintiest style, with candies carrying out the chosen color note, tempted the guests, while illumination was provided by gleaming tapers, also in harmony with the color scheme.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Thornton D'Arc sang a group of solos, her lovely voice having been heard at its best. She graciously responded to repeated requests for songs, and delighted the guests with her selections. Mrs. Robin V. Wells at the piano, accompanied Mrs. D'Arc in her usual understanding manner.

The three guests presented by Miss Henderson, and the hostess, presented a most charming picture of youthful loveliness as they greeted their callers. Miss Henderson wore a green flowered chiffon, fashioned with tight bodice and flare skirt, with an uneven hemline, while Miss Gladys Schrader, who is a cousin of the hostess, was charmingly attired in a smart three-piece frock of green printed chiffon, with touches of pink here and there.

Miss Sarah Wilson, in a beautiful blue and Miss Gilbert in dainty old rose printed chiffons, completed the group which received the callers. The girls each carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas, intermingled with maiden-hair fern.

Mrs. C. J. Henderson in a lovely gown of Alice blue chiffon, assisted her daughter in extending hospitality.

Mrs. N. J. Moldstad and Mrs. Sidney A. Warner poured for the first period and were relieved by Mrs. Guy H. Clark and Mrs. John A. Munch. The guests were served in the dining room by Ann Virginia Smith and Jeanne D'Arc. Others who assisted were Mrs. Sidney B. Lewis, Mrs. Frank C. Pickering, Mrs. Jerry Foster and Mrs. Frank Dowd.

Board of Directors Hire Berg D. Moore of Indianapolis For This Position.

IS EXPERIENCED MAN

The New Secretary Will Assume His New Duties On August 1st.

The board of directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce met Monday evening to consider the applications of several candidates for a full time secretary. After careful consideration, the committee who had this matter in charge, recommended the appointment of Berg D. Moore, who holds the position of membership secretary of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce. President Perry Richwine wired Mr. Moore immediately of his appointment, and he has received his acceptance, and will assume his new duties on August 1st.

The board feels that in the selection of Mr. Moore they have secured the right man for the job in Plymouth. The experience that he has gained in the larger city, will prove of great value to him in his work here. There is no doubt that the local Chamber of Commerce will accomplish great things under the guidance of a man of Mr. Moore's ability and experience. We believe that with a full time secretary on the job, the Chamber of Commerce will become a most important factor in the progress and growth of Plymouth.

A committee composed of George H. Robinson, Andrew Dunn, Alfred Bukewell and Frank Rundo was appointed to confer with the National Screw Co., who are desirous of locating their plant in Plymouth. It is hoped that the committee will be able to meet with the requirements which this company may want to get them located here.

was one of the smart affairs of the summer season, included young women from Ann Arbor, Sedra-Woolley, Standwood, Burlington and this city.

Miss Schrader and Miss Wilson will leave in about a fortnight for California, where they will visit other relatives, before returning to their homes. Both young ladies are members of the Chi Omega sorority of the University of Michigan and both have made a most flattering impression on those who have met them during their visit here.

Miss Gilbert, who will remain here for some time longer, has also proven very popular with the younger society set here, having been introduced by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Warren Gilbert, at a charmingly appointed bridge-luncheon given last Saturday in the Gilbert home.

The Garden Tea House on South Main street, conducted by Mrs. Nancy Birch-Richard, is meeting with popular favor by all who have visited the new place, where the most delicious food is served amid surroundings that are cheerful and homelike.

As the visitor enters the pleasant home, he is confronted with cream colored tables and chairs trimmed in rose color. Everything is so neat and clean that almost immediately one's appetite is aroused.

At the back of the house is an attractive garden and a pool over which protrudes the branches of a large tree, providing a cool and restful spot to serve cold drinks and sandwiches. The flowers which are planted artistically around the garden, add greatly to the beauty of the place.

A visit to the Garden Tea House will prove a delightful pleasure to those who desire the best of food amid home surroundings.

THE COST OF ROADS

The American people endorse good roads—until they get their tax bills for them. Then many have their doubts. Of course money is often spent extravagantly for this purpose. Many counties are still paying on bond issues for highways long since worn out.

Reasonable expenditure for good roads is different from most outlays. A fine public building advertises a town or a country, but it does not reduce tax bills. But when a good road is built autos run over it with less gas, tires wear longer and cars need less repairs. Time is saved to farmers, truckmen and business concerns. Many towns that think themselves economical are really extravagant because of money wasted in driving over rough roads, which discourages people from trading there.

Talk to a few Plymouth citizens, any number you like, and you will find opinion differs as to the best method of raising good roads money. Taxation of gasoline is regarded by many as the fairest and most practical. Like the dentist with his local anaesthetics, who gets the tooth out before you know it, this tax has a way of reducing the taxpayer of unconsciousness before he is aware he has to give up his money. And then he glides over the new roads as happy as the man whose toothache has been stopped. We are taxed for our roads, whether we improve them or not. If we allow them to decline, we do not realize the taxation, but it is there in the form of lost time, repair bills and injury to the town's business. And so like the man with the bad tooth, the best way when a road gets too bad is to have those rough surfaces out, and get over our taxation pains as soon as possible.

CATS AND BIRD LIFE

Don't kill the cat, control it. Tabby is a vulture in instincts when any birds' nests are near; she fails to distinguish between beneficial and undesirable species. They are all birds to a cat, be they friends of town and farm alike or not. Right now is hatching time for many birds that are beneficial to mankind. Many a roadside hedge hides their nesting places—and tabby is their natural enemy. Many farms around Plymouth owe much to the feathered tribe, since they destroy insect pests that would otherwise destroy or kill vast quantities of vegetation. Yet these same farm owners permit cats to roam at will. Conservation of birds has become a necessity if the country is to prosper. But they cannot be conserved as they should unless our common house cats are controlled, a thing declared to be both simple and effective if gone about in the right way and before the cat is old enough to start on its destructive forages.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Dedging among some old documents recently, a Marshal, Mo., man came across an old account book, used between the years 1818 and 1843. The records, kept at a Missouri trading post, throw interesting light on the good old days," as older residents of Plymouth are accustomed to refer to them.

In 1818 one customer drove three sheep to the trading post and received for the three the sum of $6.00 in trade. Corn was 22c a bushel, hemp linen 41c a yard and cotton linen 10c a yard. That year the storekeeper bought 10 pounds of pork at 2½c a pound, delivered. But 10 years later pork prices had gone up, for bacon was quoted at 6c a pound wheat was 50c a bushel; whiskey 50c a gallon, and enough jeans to make a pair of pants cost $4.16. In 1834 potatoes were selling at 33½c a bushel, meal at 50c a bushel, butter 10c, beef 3c, lard 6c, eggs 6c, and corn had dropped to 22½c a bushel. The price of enough jeans for a pair of pants had slumped to $2 the price for making them was 50c.

An entry in 1841 shows that a house rented for $1 a month, and it cost 50c to get a pair of shoes made if the leather was furnished. Times have changed during the 100 years, and we really believe for the better. We love to speak of "the good old days," but how many of us would want to return to them, all things considered.

TOO MANY FIGURES

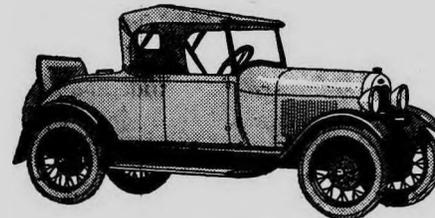

One of the big colleges of the country has decided that public school pupils are treated to too much arithmetic. The Plymouth man who has to help his kids get their lessons at night probably reached this conclusion a long time ago. But, seriously, the investigators declare that boys in short pants and girls in short socks are taught more different kinds of calculations and computations than the average grown man or woman ever needs or uses. Many hours are spent on figures and subjects we know will not be necessary later on. It is pretty much like forcing a boy to take piano lessons until he grows to hate music. There is no reason to regard the school curriculum of the past or the present as perfect. But there is no question that much time is lost in teaching that which will never be useful, and that which will have no bearing on the meat-and-bread end of the average boy's life when he grows to manhood.

THIS SETTLED HIM

The story is told of a traveling man who recently dropped into a hotel not so far from here and espied a new waitress in the dining room. "Nice day, little one," began the drummer.

"Yes, it is," she answered; "so was yesterday. My name is Ella. I know I'm a peach, have pretty blue eyes, I've been here a week and like the place. I don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working in a hotel; if I did I'd quit my job; my wages are satisfactory; I don't know if there is a dance or a show in town tonight or not. If there is I shall not go with you. I'm from the country. I'm respectable, my brother is a cook in this hotel—he weighs 200 pounds, and last week he wiped up this very dining room floor with a fresh $100-a-month traveling man. Now what are you going to have to eat?"

DE-HO-CO WINS ANOTHER; SALEM DEFEATED BY N. M. A. C.

Plymouth Merchants Lose to Pontiac Team at Pontiac Last Sunday.

Robinson Subdivision Indoor Baseball Team Defeats Ford Taps In Fast Game.

The Detroit House of Correction team chalked up another win at De-Ho-Co Park, Sunday, when they defeated the American Legion of Battle Creek, by an 8 to 4 score.

Hartner, hurling for De-Ho-Co, turned in one of his customarily good games, letting the visitors down with six scattered hits and striking out nine men. Timely hitting by Giles, Jaska and Smith also had a prominent part in determining the final result.

Moffett pitching for the Legion, went along in good style until the sixth inning, when the Farmers coupled two singles with a base on balls and a sacrifice fly, counting three runs and gaining a two run lead. To start the seventh, Jonas replaced Moffett, and was given quite a warm reception when Estefano, first man to face him, slugged and Giles followed with a home run. Jonas, however, put the brakes on immediately, and retired the next three batters in order.

Ovenshire and Servis was responsible for four of Battle Creek's six hits, each getting two singles. Dow encountered some hard luck on his long fly to deep right in the third inning, when Anderson raced far back and made what appeared to be an impossible catch. This play ended rather disastrously for both participating parties, as Dow was robbed of a possible home run, and Anderson was punished from the game. Captain Perry explained his reason for benching Anderson after such a brilliant catch, by stating that Anderson failed to throw the ball into the infield as quickly as he should have, and thus allowed Yenkey to score all the way from second on the sacrifice fly. The fans, however, didn't take very kindly to this summary of action, and spent the balance of the afternoon razzing Mr. Perry.

There will be no game at De-Ho-Co Park next Sunday, as the local boys journey to Flint for a two-game series with the Buick Majors of that city. One game will be played Saturday and the second one Sunday.

The following Sunday, July 28th, will see them back at De-Ho-Co Park, with the American Oil Co. of Jackson, as their opponents.

The Northern Michigan Athletic Club's baseball nine of Detroit, defeated the strong Salem team in the first game of the series, 9 to 4. This game was very fast, for both teams were evenly matched. Five scoreless innings were played before N. M. A. C. scored three runs in the sixth, followed by three in the eighth. In the last half of the eighth inning Salem came through with four runs, making the score 6 to 4 at the end of the eighth.

Watts was sent into the box in the ninth, for Atchinson had been tiring fast since the seventh inning. While Watts was on the rubber, he allowed three runs and five hits. Salem was unable to score in the ninth.

Journey out to Heene's Field, Sunday, July 21, and see the Salem boys meet Solo, in the second game of the series. Salem defeated Solo in the first. Remember, Heene's Field is four and a half miles west of Plymouth on Penniman avenue. Game called at 2:30 p. m.

The Robinson Subdivision Indoor baseball team won another game from the Ford Taps team Wednesday evening, the score being 9 to 6. This makes the seventh victory for the Robinson Sub. boys, with one defeat.

Four games have been played with the Ford Taps team, the R. S. boys taking three and losing one. Three games were played with the Farmington and Five Mile road team, the local team winning all three. They also won from Todd's team last week, by a comfortable margin.

This evening at 6:45, another game will be played with Todd's team of Plymouth. It is understood they have their line-up strengthened, and a good game is expected.

A game was scheduled last Monday evening, with Newburg, but they evidently were frightened out, not a player showed up.

Next Monday evening, Ford Taps will make another attempt to stop the R. S. winning streak. Games played at corner of Francis and Gilbert streets, George H. Robinson subdivision. Indoor teams wishing to arrange for games, call R. A. Roe, 531W.

NEWBURG

Rev. Frank M. Purdy preached an excellent sermon Sunday, taking his text from John 12:24. There were 74 in Sunday-school. Miss Gladys Bayler of Ypsilanti, sang a solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain," by Harker. Miss Anna Youngs accompanied her.

Saturday, July 27th, was chosen as the date for the picnic to be held at River Rouge Park. Beech and Perrinville Sunday-schools are to unite with Newburg. Mrs. Cutler's class charge of the devotional exercises in Sunday-school. Mrs. Gilbert's class will take charge next Sunday.

The L. A. S. held at the hall last week Wednesday, was quite well attended. Quite a lively discussion was had on the advisability of repairing the hall. Mesdames McNabb and Joy were appointed on committee to see about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Chicago, spent a few days last week at the home of James McNabb.

The Misses Gladys and Luella Bayler of Ypsilanti, were guests of the Cutler family over the week-end.

Mrs. Emma Ryder spent last Saturday afternoon, with Miss Hattie Hoisington of Plymouth.

A card has been received from Miss Viola Lattermoser, stating she was touring Yellowstone National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Mackinder of Jackson, visited their uncle and aunt over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hatt of Jackson, were callers on Mr. and Mrs. C. Mackinder, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carney of Sandusky, Mich., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carney.

Miss Geneva Freed of Millersburg, is making a week's visit here.

Mrs. Beulah Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Smith and Mrs. Emma Ryder, called on Miss Edith Pickett at Northville, last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Arbaugh and brother, William, of Saginaw, took Sunday dinner with Mrs. Edith Blake at the Ryder farm.

Quite an excitement was caused here Sunday evening, by the burning of the old Swartz house on Wayne road. Old residents remember it as Swartzburg Corners, where General Swartz trained the soldiers during the Mexican war. George Chilson and family lived there for a number of years, then it passed into other hands. The present owners are Fred Schmidt and Harry McLain. It had been vacant for some time. No doubt it was set afire by someone smoking. Several hundred people gathered there to witness the passing of this old landmark. The fire department of Garden city came and extinguished the fire after the building was nearly gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Konkle and Mrs. Mary Paddock of Highland Park, called on Mrs. C. E. Ryder Monday evening. Mrs. Konkle was formerly Miss Florence Paddock.

FINDS WOMEN LIARS AND REAL PURSUERS

Judge Looks at 'Em for Six Years and Learns.

New York.—Lovely woman would be shocked to know how she appears to Magistrate Alexander Brough, who has been peering at her with judicial and unbiased mind during six years he has presided over the New York family court.

Magistrate Brough learned about women in court and he tells some of the things he said he learned, though he makes the statement that he does not mean all the women. He's talking of the type of women that come into court. Here are some of his conclusions:

Women are liars. They have no sense of law and order.

They have no consideration of fairness toward their husbands.

Instead of being the pursued, they are the pursuers, often seeking a wedding ring simply to avoid the social stigma (among women) of appearing undesirable.

They marry a $25 a week man and yell because they can't live on a $60 a week scale.

Given $15 a week as the maximum for the family budget, they will blow $10 on a permanent wave.

They are so lacking in sentiment that they don't remember their own wedding day. They say, "I was married three or four years ago," and that does them nicely.

"Why a woman was in court, yesterday wanting me to increase the payments her husband was making for her support," said the judge.

"Our social workers investigated and found he couldn't pay her any more. When I denied her request, she got so awry she slapped her husband right there in court. What can you do to her? You can't send a mother to jail for contempt and let her children go without care."

"Another woman wanted more money and said she wasn't working. Our investigator knew she was. "Oh, well," she admitted, "I knew I'd get more money if you thought I was dependent on him."

"And when I threatened her with prosecution for perjury she just laughed and said, 'I don't care.' All Have Some Old Clothes.

"They've all got old clothes to wear in court. They all dress to look seedy when asking money. Usually they accuse the husband of going around with other women. I figure the absolute minimum for a man to live on alone is $2 a day. And when he is paying $17 to her out of $30 wages, there isn't much left for other women."

"Usually they try to say the husband's wages are much higher than they really are.

"They feel that the courts must give them everything they want. They know all about their rights, but they recognize no responsibilities."

Having relieved himself of these views, Magistrate Brough expressed some of his ideas of what he thinks of the woman who does not get into court.

He still likes to believe that they are ladies riding behind their knights on milky white palfreys, eager to be rescued from dragons and grateful if they are.

Court Held in Plane
Over California Canyon
Los Angeles.—The "hear ye, hear ye" of a Los Angeles court sounded high in the skies as Superior Judge Albert Lee Stevens continued his airplane hearing on a land condemnation deal.

The airplane was called into use by Judge Stevens when he was confronted with condemnation proceedings brought by Los Angeles county in San Gabriel county, where a score of gold claims must be abandoned to make way for a dam.

To become better familiar, the judge held the hearings as the plane soared over the canyon, attorneys for both sides arguing their cases above the hum of the motors.

clubs, and during the vacation at the close of her address, the orchestra played the national airs of Italy.

Undoubtedly the visits of these foreign delegates to our country, and the good will tours of our own members to foreign countries will result in the formation of an international organization within the next year or two.

The business of the convention was disposed of in the usual manner, and on Saturday, six or seven hundred of the women made the trip to the Soo locks, the remaining members enjoying themselves on the island according to their various tastes, a program of golf, tennis and swimming having been arranged.

Many of the members lingered over until Monday, and Monday evening saw the last ones on their way back to their various occupations, refreshed and inspired by a most delightful week of new scenes, new friends and renewed interest in their great organization.

Woman Refuses Salary; Causes Political Stir

Annapolis, Md.—Mrs. Ethel Lorentz had a job with the city delegation in the general assembly, but she had no work to do. So she turned down her salary and it has no place to go.

Speaker E. Brooke Lee announced that the $3 a day that Mrs. Lorentz was supposed to get for her work as a clerk or secretary to the city delegation was paid to her by check, but the checks were returned un cashed and there was nothing for him to do about it.

The money will remain where it is—wherever that is—until the end of the session and then, according to Speaker Lee, it will be turned over to the Maryland general treasury.

"There it will go right in with the other money with no special ceremonies, just as if it didn't enjoy the distinction of being the first salary to be turned down by anyone on the Legislature's payroll."

Mrs. Lorentz accepted employment, she said, not for the money but for the "English-like experience."

miles from our city centers became parts of that city, so will the airplane shift and expand realty holdings in all directions."

Some High Points in Harry H. Culver's Speech.

"Honesty in business is the best policy."

The word "Realtor" will soon be a stamp of sterling on every real estate transaction.

A commission check plus a satisfied customer is worth more than a dozen checks without him.

Emphasized need for union of strength between realtors and property owners.

Higher standard of ethics and business conduct.

The motive in real estate organization is not only to improve our method but through the knitting together of our forces to successfully compete with other lines of business."

The realtors all over the United States and Canada have worked with determination and with success in erecting a dignified business structure out of what was once called a game.

The importance and significance of citizenship was particularly dwelt upon by Mr. Culver who stated that the city, state and national governments do not preserve themselves. That they can be preserved only by the vigilance of those to whose guardianship they have been committed. He emphasized, "there is a strong demand for clean men in both our commercial and political life."

Mr. Culver laid great stress upon the importance of aviation—its tremendous influence upon the shifting of real estate activity; and the opportunity for stagnation to any community that does not become air-minded.

Mr. Culver's inspirational suggestion to business men as a whole would prove beneficial to any community. Keep away from mental tallpines. "Nothing worth while is easy," he said.

"Shining seats of trousers and making money are not even on speaking terms."

"Necessity is the great weapon for success."

Mr. Culver dwelt upon the need for simplification of real estate transfer. Also the great benefit to be derived from the nation-wide "vacancy" survey by the national association to determine a complete information bureau covering supply and demand of real estate.

Any Plymouth married woman can tell you that the biggest babies are married men over 30 years of age.

This will be a perfect world when husbands are as liberal with their money as they are with their advice.

BY THE MANAGER

Free motion pictures will be shown Saturday evening, at Kellogg Park, by a representative of the Safety and Traffic division of the Detroit Automobile Club. The films, while dealing particularly with the problem of safety upon our highways, are so developed as to prove of great popular interest as well. It is hoped that those of our citizens who can will avail themselves of the opportunity offered to see these films.

Quarters formerly occupied by the County Library at the Village Hall, have recently been remodeled so as to provide a private office for the manager, and convenient office accommodations for the chief of police and the superintendent of public works. The general public will doubtless appreciate the better opportunity now offered to properly handle the many matters which must constantly be brought to the attention of village officials.

New Books At Plymouth Library

The following books are among recent additions to the Plymouth library on Main street:

"Strange Disappearance of Mary Young," by M. M. Propper. "Through the efforts of Tommy Hankin, attached to the local detective force, the perpetrator of the murder of Mary Young is brought to bay, after an exciting chase half way across the continent and back again." Bookman, May, 1929.

"Dark Princess," by W. E. R. Du Bois. "Dark Princess" is interesting because it is a Negro novel. Little has been done in this field heretofore, and such writers as Mr. DuBois are undoubtedly pioneers in a movement which is gradually revealing to the world that the negro race will contribute much to American poetry and American letters.

"Pathway," by Henry Williamson. To bring Shelley to life again in the twentieth century is no easy task, but it is what the author has done in depicting the hero, William Maddison, a character extraordinarily beautiful, noble, great-hearted and brilliant.

"Prince or Somebody," by Louis Golding. "As a study in abnormal psychology, it is arresting even though not penetrating; as a gently mocking and slightly amused study of two individuals in a somewhat curious relationship, it attains that air of sophistication which the author no doubt intended." New York Times, April 28, 1929.

"Sheila Both-Ways," by Joanna Cannon. The problem of Miss Cannon's book is so common that it is no exaggeration to call it universal; she has made her heroine choose what the majority of adults have, at some time or other, chosen. Her book has warmed and galety, shrewdness and humor.

"Rhinstones," by Margaret Wildmer. Few novelists can tell as delightful a romance as Margaret Wildmer, and she is at her best in "Rhinstones," a light, joyous love-story.

"Belinda," by Hilaire Belloc. There simply is no use writing about "Belinda," for the author has turned a lovely trick that must be witnessed at first hand. It is Mr. Belloc's bright garland at the feet of other times." Saturday Review of Literature, July 6, 1929.

Strange as it may sound, a man can always make a hit with a woman by telling her he missed her.

Today's Reflections

It may not be of interest to you, but the best minds are the minds that mind their own business.

Sometimes it looks as though everybody enjoys country life better than those who live in it.

After all there's just so much money and when Wall Street makes a new millionaire 3471 suckers lose their shirts.

It's a wise generation. Tell a Plymouth boy nowadays he is apt to grow up to be president and he'll offer to bet you 10 to 1 that you're wrong.

When we hear some Plymouth girls giggle we come to the conclusion that the silly season is the only season that lasts all the year around.

According to Dad Plymouth, there's something wrong in any home where the father gets more excited over his pipe getting clogged up than he does over the baby choking to death.

GRANGE NOTES

Three-County Pomona Grange picnic will be held at Victory Park, Belleville, Mich., Saturday, July 20th, with a cooperative dinner at noon. Bring your own dishes. Program at 2 p. m. If weather is not suitable, the dinner and program will be held at the M. E. church in Belleville. Speakers, National Lecturer James C. Farmer and State Master George Roxburgh. Other state officers will be present. Come and have a good time with the Grangers.

Hindu Theological Idea

There are many different conceptions in Hindu theology as to the origin of the first man and woman. The most general conception is that originally there descended upon the earth one lesser god who split into the male and female element. Under this theory Yami, the wife of Yama, was the independent self-poised sister, twin to Yama.

'Come in and Cut Yourself a Piece of Our Birthday Cake and Save Money

It's our 7th Birthday—and don't think we're not happy—in fact, we're bubbling over with enthusiasm. And why not? Just seven years ago we started with one store, today we have 67. This was not accomplished with idle dreams, but through the graciousness of our many friends—you, in fact. We thank you and with this event we pledge ourselves to give greater values in acknowledging this trust and faith you have placed in us. To show this appreciation we list a few of the many items we carry at "real cut prices." Don't forget these are not just special prices for this Birthday Sale, but a great number of them are our everyday prices. We are celebrating and want you to celebrate with us and are giving you this opportunity. Every single item in our store is at cut prices never heard of before, so come and join our big party.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION

Plymouth, Michigan, July 1, 1929.

A regular meeting of the Village Commission held in the Commission chamber at the Village Hall, July 1, 1929 at 7:30 p. m.

Present: Commissioners Kehrl, Nutting, Shear and Wiedman. Absent: President Robinson.

Commissioners Shear, President Protem, presided at the meeting. The reports of Phoebe L. Patterson and Oliver Loomis, Justices of the Peace, for the month of June, were presented by the Clerk. It was moved by Comm. Kehrl and supported by Comm. Wiedman, that the reports as read be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

A proposal was submitted by the Manager from the Michigan Engineering Laboratories, of Detroit, quoting a price of two cents per square yard for the testing and inspection of all asphaltic materials to be used in the resurfacing of Pennington Ave. and Liberty St. It was moved by Comm. Nutting, supported by Comm. Wiedman that the services of the Michigan Engineering Laboratories be engaged at the price quoted. Carried.

A proposal was presented by Strong and Hamill, Engineers, to prepare plans and specifications and assist in the letting of contracts for all sewer work to be done by the village during the 1929 construction season upon the basis of 3 1/2% of the contract price, and to supervise the construction of sewers after the letting of contracts at 2 1/2% of the contract price; the work on the proposed culvert at Byron Ave. and So. Harvey St. to be done on a time basis. It was moved by Comm. Kehrl and supported by Comm. Wiedman, that the proposal of the Engineers be accepted. Carried.

George W. Richwine, Treasurer, presented the General Tax Roll of the Village for 1929 for confirmation. The Roll as presented comprised the following items:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Gen. Tax @ 15 mills per M $108,585.52, Special assessm. re-assessed 11,034.37, Re-assessed general tax 86.50, Excess of Roll 10.

Total of Roll $119,706.49

It was moved by Comm. Wiedman supported by Comm. Kehrl that the Roll as presented be accepted and confirmed and that the President be authorized to sign the Treasurer's warrant for the period ending August 11, 1929. Carried.

The following bills were approved by the Auditing Committee:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Police Payroll $ 57.00, Fire Payroll 82.00, Labor Payroll 737.33, Fred Thomas 5.00, G. W. Richwine, Treas. 7.06, Corbett Electric Co. 66.79, Humphreys Wedding Shop 11.00, Hunton & Co. 2.55, Plymouth Cartage 1.85, R. K. Parrott 52.20, P. M. Railway Co. 5.45, Plymouth Motor Sales 62.76, C. Heide 5.00, Addressograph Co. 4.17, Crane Co. 45.66, League of Michigan Municipalities 45.00.

Total $1,190.02

The following checks written since the last meeting were also approved:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Administration Payroll $ 529.58, Cemetery Payroll 155.00, Peoples State Bank 2,900.00, Police Payroll 282.40, P. M. Railway Co. 2.84.

Total $3,849.82

Upon motion by Comm. Kehrl, supported by Comm. Wiedman, bills and checks were passed as approved by the Auditing Committee.

This was the time appointed for the opening of bids covering the construction of a sanitary sewer in Pine St. and of storm sewers in Palmer Ave., Sutherland Ave. and Auburn Ave. also the installation of a 7-foot concrete monolithic culvert section at Byron Ave. and So. Harvey St. It was moved by Comm. Nutting, supported by Comm. Kehrl that bids received be opened by the Clerk. Carried.

The Clerk opened two proposals received covering each item in the construction program. It was moved by Comm. Kehrl, supported by Comm. Wiedman that the proposals received be turned over to the Engineers for tabulation and their recommendation. Carried.

The Engineers reported the following result of their tabulation of the bids:

Table with 3 columns: Bidder, Amount of Bid, Sewers, Culvert. Includes A. R. Crow Co. $10,619.00 $3,793.00, Orum & Company 6,718.50 2,394.00.

After discussion of the bids received, it was moved by Comm. Nutting, supported by Comm. Wiedman, that all bids covering the monolithic culvert section be rejected as being too high, and that the Manager be directed to have the culvert constructed by the Department of Public Works. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Kehrl, supported by Comm. Nutting, that the bid of Orum and Company, of Royal Oak, covering the construction of miscellaneous small sewers, and amounting to $6,718.50 be accepted, and that the President and Clerk be authorized to sign a contract with the said Contractor upon his presentation of a proper bond; and that the certified checks accompanying all rejected bids be returned to the bidders by the Treasurer upon their signing of a proper receipt. Carried.

Upon motion by Comm. Nutting, supported by Comm. Kehrl, the Commission adjourned. GEO. H. ROBINSON, President. A. J. KOENIG, Clerk.

INTERESTING FACTS ON FUTURE OF AVIATION

By R. T. McIntosh

While flying over the United States visiting most every state in the union, it was amazing to learn that most all large cities are located next to a river, ocean or gulf where the amphibian could be used most advantageously. Is it no wonder that Europe is using the flying boat and the amphibian so much? It convinced me that the United States will have to use the amphibian.

One year ago, I decided to get into the manufacturing business and build amphibians. It was while in Florida that I became acquainted with Glenn Curtis, who greatly encouraged me to build the amphibian and especially in Miami. Miami does not offer the best conditions for the manufacturing as in the vicinity of Detroit. It was in Miami and in Glenn Curtis' experimental laboratory where we designed and planned the amphibian that is now under construction here in Plymouth.

Many cities that we visited made attractive inducements to have our plant located there. For example Pine Bluff, a little city in Arkansas, has one of the finest equipped airports west of the Mississippi. I will not take the space in this article to tell you how this airport was equipped, but will tell you the inducement they made us to locate in their city.

One of the owners of the airport learned that I was desirous of building this amphibian, and suggested that I come to Pine Bluff where they would give me the necessary space and the use of the airport for testing our ships. I made known to him that there was no water and that these ships must be tested on the water. There was a little creek running on one boundary line of the airport, and he said, "We will get you all the water even if I have to dam up that creek over there." This made me feel very good because they were awake and realized what the aircraft manufacturing would mean to their city.

But here we are in Plymouth, and have started our amphibian, and have a plant under construction that many aircraft companies would be glad to start in.

It is the full cantilever type of wing on the airplane that will dominate the aircraft business. This type of ship offers less parasite resistance and is therefore capable of making greater speed. It was with the Cessna airplane company (also builders of the full cantilever wings that we entered into a race in Miami. The ship was equipped with the Wright J5, 200 horse power motor. It was capable at sea level of making approximately 153 miles an hour. We entered with two Lockheed's, one Bellanca and two or three others. It was on a three mile closed course. We were started one after another, unlike a horse race where they start all together. We were flagged by the starter. They knew our ship was fast. They took advantage of this fact and insisted on us staying in the line until the last. You can imagine the tremendous amount of dirt and dust flying over the field when these eight or ten ships flew off. We could not even see the man with the flag. We were unusually slow because the flag man had to run through the dirt to give us the signal to leave. In spite of the delay, we won the day's race. It made me feel very proud of our little ship because it was the smallest of them all, and also because it won over the two Lockheed's that were favored. We won the next day's race, also, which took away the first prize money.

We flew this little Cessna over many states, and we soon began to form an attachment for the ship the same as you would your favorite automobile or anything that gives faithful performance. I left my wife and boy in Miami when I went north, because it was warm there, and I was going into very cold weather. It was on this trip that we cracked the pretty little Cessna up. We were flying back to Wichita and fought a rain storm around Lake Okechobee. The rain was so thick and the drops so large that they beat like drums on our wing. After we battled this storm, and were out in the clear, our engine quit, commonly known as "cooked out." We were forced to glide to a field covered with palms. They call them in Florida, palm meadows. We made a very good landing but hit a hole that was covered with these palms, and our landing gear hit it with such force that it turned us over on our back, and broke up the ship to such an extent that we were unable to leave. The reason for this forced landing was due to water in the gas tank. This was caused by condensation in the gas tank. We had to send to the factory for necessary parts. We then repaired the ship and flew off the high-way some ten days later.

If we had had an amphibian we could have glided to Lake Okechobee, and would have saved the cracking up of the airplane. Florida has many thousands of lakes. It is an ideal state to fly over with an amphibian, but a very hazardous state with a land plane, because it is covered with cabbage trees, and the meadows are completely covered with palms about as high as your kitchen table. One may select a route over the United States in which an amphibian can be used and in case of a forced landing the danger of cracking up would be practically eliminated. Unless you are a pilot you can not appreciate the tremendous amount of worry the pilot has from the time of leaving the ground until he is back, as he is constantly looking out for a landing field in case of trouble. This causes him to become fatigued quickly. The amphibian will eliminate this and his mind will be at rest because a landing field is always within gliding distance.

I attended a luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel, Tuesday, and I have never enjoyed a talk as much as the one given by Mr. Culver of Culver City, Los Angeles, and president of the National Real Estate Board. If one of my readers attended the luncheon they should be convinced after hearing his talk the importance and what a promising future the aviation business has. Mr. Culver was to talk about the real estate board, it is just a guess on my part that he spent approximately ten minutes of his talk on the National Real Estate Board and the balance of his talk was on aviation. This should convince the business man of Plymouth the importance of encouraging aircraft industry to settle in their city.

Visitors Wreck Monkey's Nerves in St. Louis Zoo

St. Louis, Mo.—The seasonal epidemic of nervous breakdowns among the monkeys of the St. Louis zoo is approaching.

Watching the antics of human beings through the bars of their cages all day is very distressing to the nerves of the monkeys, according to the magazine of the Zoological society. Every year, as summer crowds throng the primate house of the zoo, several of the more impressionable monkeys collapse and give way to all sorts of complexes and mental ills.

The victims are sent to a "rest house," where the only human beings they have to look at are the keepers who feed them. Once a year all the monkeys in the zoo take their vacations in the rest house.

Gem-Eating Ostriches Lure Diamond Hunters

Washington.—The finding of 70 diamonds in the claws of two ostriches killed by hunters in the southern part of the Kalahari desert in South Africa has started a new industry, "hunting ostriches for diamonds." Samuel H. Day, trade commissioner at Johannesburg, has informed the Department of Commerce. One bird produced 53 diamonds and the other 17, all of exceptional quality. It is reported. These ostriches formerly roamed the Namaqualand district, where rich alluvial diamond deposits are said to exist, and, having an eye for shining stones, included diamonds in their diet.

Gold Fish Production Almost Million Dollars

Washington.—Nearly a million dollars worth of gold fish were produced in the United States last year, the Commerce department announces. The output of hatcheries numbered 21,500, 300 fish.

The gold fish industry had its inception in this country in 1878, when Rear Admiral Daniel Amey presented to the bureau of fisheries a number of fish he had brought from Japan. From that small beginning the propagation of gold fish has developed into one of the foremost fish-farming industries.

Where Florida Leads

While Florida has no metals, this state furnishes the main supply of fuller's earth in the United States and about three-fourths of the phosphate.

UNIFORM MARRIAGE LAWS ARE ADVISED

Would Check Rising Tide of Divorces, Survey Says.

New York.—Eleven states of the Union still permit girls of twelve to marry. In several states marriage licenses are issued by mail, without the appearance of either prospective bride or groom before the license clerk. In many places the license clerk is dependent upon the fees he receives for his entire pay, and consequently he issues licenses promiscuously and without questions.

There are at least 57 "marriage market" towns in the United States where law is so lax that justices of the peace and "merrying parsons" advertise that ceremonies will be performed at any time of day or night, and no questions asked.

These conditions, brought to light in the recent survey conducted by the Russell Sage Foundation, explain a big percentage of the constantly increasing number of American divorces, according to F. Emerson Andrews, who analyzes the foundation's report in the current issue of the North American Review.

Approximately 700,000 persons in the United States, it was found, have participated in marriages involving girls under sixteen. Hundreds of thousands of others have taken advantage of these lax conditions to marry bigamously, or while intoxicated, or while mentally or physically incompetent.

Practically 100 per cent of such marriages, Mr. Andrews points out, are doomed to end in the divorce courts. The states where marriages of girls of twelve are permitted are Maine, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Florida, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Tennessee, Virginia, Colorado and Idaho. Twenty-four states, including such highly developed commonwealths as New York, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania, still recognize the common law marriage, in which a man and woman may live together under a mere secret agreement between themselves.

Adoption and enforcement of uniform marriage laws throughout the country could quickly check the rising tide of divorce at its source, it is shown. Recommendations for such laws, made by the Russell Sage Foundation investigators and published in the North American Review article are:

- 1. Raise the minimum age for marriage to 16 years everywhere. 2. Require a notice of intention to marry to be filed five days before the license may be issued. 3. Issue licenses at regular hours only, on the basis of proved age and in the town or county where the bride or groom resides. 4. Abolish the fee system for payment of license clerks. 5. Abolish the fee system for the civil solemnization of marriage by justices. 6. Let religious bodies establish in theological seminaries thorough instruction regarding marriage laws, and deal rigidly with the commercial practices of "merrying parsons." 7. Establish a bureau of marriage law supervision in each state.

Seeks Jail as Bondsman Fails to Put Up Funds

Pueblo, Colo.—William "Wild Bill" Hill, of Boone, may or may not be guilty of violating the national prohibition law, but Pueblo city and county officials concur in admitting "Wild Bill" is an honest man.

Hill was arraigned on a charge of operating a still and possession of liquor. His bond was fixed at $2,500. Hill was released, but later one of his bondsmen failed to put in an appearance at the commissioner's office, and Hill was at liberty with no bond against him.

Hearing of the situation, Hill did what officers claim establishes a precedent of local law cases. He boarded a train car and went to the county jail where he proposed to wait until his bond could be raised.

Shakespeare's Productions

Historians say that several of Shakespeare's tragedies were not printed until the publication of the author's collected works after his death. Of Shakespeare's 37 plays 17 were printed separately in quartos and, it appears, without his cooperation.

CHANCERY NOTICE

No. 171412 STATE OF MICHIGAN IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF WAYNE IN CHANCERY GEORGE A. SMITH and BERNICE E. CHAMPE, Plaintiffs.

HORACE BLACKMER and his unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, KATHERINE ALLEN and all of the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns of EBENEZER J. PENNINGMAN, Defendants.

At a session of the said Court held in the Wayne County Building in the City of Detroit, Michigan, on this 3rd day of June A. D. 1929.

PRESENT, The Honorable Circuit Judge, Adolph E. Marschner. On reading and filing the bill of complaint of the plaintiffs herein and the affidavit for an order of publication and it appearing from said bill of complaint and said affidavit for order of publication that the heirs at law, devisees, legatees and assigns of Horace Blackmer are unknown and that the plaintiffs herein are without any means of ascertaining the identity of said heirs or their whereabouts.

It further appears that the bill of complaint in this cause has been filed for the purpose of clearing the title and removing certain clouds from the title to the following described property:

All that part of the east 1/2 of the northeast 1/4 of Section 28 which lies north of the Sutton Road, except a strip 4 rods wide off of the west side thereof and the cemetery out of the southeast corner thereof, which said cemetery is 10 rods from east to west and 12 rods from north to south, containing 29 acres more or less. Also that part or parcel of land commencing in the middle of Sutton Road and at the southeast corner of lands now owned by George S. Durfee, thence running north one degree and 53 minutes west and along the east line of the said Durfee's land to the north line of said section 28, thence east to the south line of section 21, 3.55 chains, thence north 0 degrees and 40 minutes west and along the east line of the said George S. Durfee's land to the fourth line of the Pere Marquette Railroad Company's land; thence easterly along the south line of the said lands allocated to Fred W. Durfee from the Estate of Rubens S. Durfee, thence west along the south parallel with the east line of the said George S. Durfee's land to the south line of section 21, thence west on the said south line of section 21, 2.01 chains to a stake; thence south 2 degrees and 15 minutes east to the middle of the Sutton Road, thence west along the middle of the Sutton road to the place of beginning, and containing 23.29 acres of land more or less. Also that part and parcel of land commencing at the southeast corner of said section 21, running thence northerly to the east line of said section 21 to the south line of the Pere Marquette Railroad Company's land; thence westerly along the south line of the said Pere Marquette Railroad lands, 24.42 chains to lands owned by Emma E. Mills; thence south 40 minutes east and along the east line of the said Emma E. Mills land 22.97 chains to the south line of said section 21; thence east along the south line of said section 21, 14.95 chains to the place of beginning and containing 60.74 acres more or less. Said land located in Plymouth Township, Wayne County, Michigan.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the defendants and each of them appear and answer the bill of complaint filed in this cause and that the Guardian Ad Litem appointed by this Court appear for and in behalf of any heirs possessing a disability and make answer to this cause within three months from the date of this order or said bill of complaint will be taken as confessed. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that this order of publication be published as required by law in the Plymouth Mail, one of the newspapers printed, published and circulated in the County of Wayne.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of the said order be deposited in the Registered mail addressed to the defendants herein at their last known addresses. ADOLPH E. MARSCNER, Circuit Judge. A. BLESSING, Clerk.

ROOSEVELT EIGHT SETS NEW WORLD'S NON-STOP RECORD

(Run made under official observation. Record subject to final confirmation.)

ROOSEVELT EIGHT FLASHING PAST STANDS on famous Indianapolis 2 1/4-mile brick track during its record-breaking run.

MARMON-BUILT STOCK CAR RUNS 440 HOURS WITHOUT SINGLE STOP

New proof—official proof—of Marmon quality workmanship and the outstanding dependability of Marmon's low-priced straight-eight—the Roosevelt. This car has just established a new world's non-stop record which far overshadows any previous accomplishment of gasoline propelled vehicles on the ground or in the air. The best previous non-stop car record was 162 hours. For 440 hours (over 18 days) this Roosevelt carried on—through blinding rains, pitch black nights and burning suns—over a punishing brick course—taking gas, oil and water from a "mother" car on the fly—fresh drivers going in every eight hours—without car or engine making a single stop.

BUSY WOMAN WHOLE WORKS IN HER TOWN

Does About Everything There Is to Be Done.

South Platte, Colo.—With the game fishing season just getting into full swing in Colorado, Mrs. Charles Walbrecht, one of the busiest women in the West, is preparing for one of the most active years of her thirty odd summers as this town's ruling power.

Mrs. Walbrecht is a pioneer of the West, and as such her only enjoyment is derived from hard work. Since the death of her husband several years ago, Mrs. Walbrecht has "carried on" and run this haven of fishermen to the satisfaction of everybody. She occupies every office from mayor to marshal.

South Platte, 65 miles by highway from Denver, is on the junction of the north and south forks of the South Platte river and is in the heart of the trout fishing territory.

Runs the Hotel.

It has a hotel capable of caring for 25 guests. Mrs. Walbrecht is the proprietor. She does the bulk of the housework, much of the cooking and serving of meals.

A typical day for Mrs. Walbrecht starts before dawn when she cooks breakfast for the early fishermen. She then prepares the outgoing mail, for she also is the postmistress and has been for years.

With the arrival of the narrow-gauge train that puffs its way up the Platte bringing sportsmen, come new guests to be cared for. Mail then is distributed by the postmistress in the little picturesque post office, a 10 by 12-foot affair, one of the smallest in the state.

Then she sells tickets to outgoing travelers, for she also is the depot agent and "baggage smasher."

After milking the cows and tending other live stock, "the busiest woman" takes a hand at the churn, for she makes butter for the hotel "in her spare time."

By the time the hotel is "straightened" there is lunch to serve for the fishermen and guests who are not casting in the waters for the elusive trout.

Shot by Bad Man.

What part of the afternoon is not spent in cooking, more cleaning, feeding the chickens and live stock, Mrs. Walbrecht is making the wives of fishermen who lounge on the front porch "feel at home."

Then after it is too dark to fish, the dinner hour has past, Mrs. Walbrecht mingles with the crowd in her Log Cabin inn, a small recreation hall where men play pool and cards.

If a town needed a chief of police old-time residents avow Mrs. Walbrecht would be the chief for "she just runs the town and must be busy."

But since South Platte burned 20 years ago the town has been tranquil. Mrs. Walbrecht bears scars of the memorable burning of the town. John Ben, stage driver, endeavored to shoot up the town when drunk. When Mrs. Walbrecht interfered she was shot and severely wounded.

County Agricultural Winners Go Free To Michigan State Fair

Organization of the 1200 alumni of the Boys' State Fair School, numbering some of the most successful farmers in Michigan, will be undertaken at the eighteenth annual exposition of the Michigan State Fair, September 1-7. The school, established 15 years ago as an agricultural educational proposition, is made up of county winners of an annual state-wide agricultural contest. Selection of this year's students took place late in June.

The attempt in September will be the first to organize an alumni association. Invitations to attend are being sent to all former students. A huge tent will be pitched on the grounds to house the organization program. Annual meetings are planned.

The Boys' State Fair School is a prominent educational feature of the State Fair. Entrants in the annual contest which determines its students are selected mainly for their knowledge of farming, though any boy of good eighth grade standing is eligible. The test, however, is such that no boy not carefully prepared can enter and have a fair chance of victory. Previous winners are barred. The examination in each county is under the supervision of the school commissioner. At the fair the boys, with all traveling and other expenses paid, are guests of the fair management. They are housed and fed on the grounds, and given an intensive agricultural course and daily physical exercises under qualified instructors. Admission to all entertainment at the fair is free and the boys are taken on motor trips around Detroit.

The interest in both agriculture and the state fair aroused by these contests and selections has been so great, fair officials report, that many of the boys have become annual visitors to the fair, which prompts the organization of an alumni association.

ORIGIN OF "NOT WORTH A CONTINENTAL" TOLD

BANK FOLDER TELLS HOW THIS COMMON PHRASE ORIGINATED.

How business and misconceptions always have surrounded the subject of money is strikingly illustrated in the history of the development of paper currency, as outlined in the current folder in the series on "Money and Civilization" being issued by the Plymouth United Savings Bank. Only a century or two ago, the latest folder shows, it seemed the easiest thing in the world to pay a government's debts by setting the printing presses to work.

Private enterprises copied the rulers of nations, and banks, land companies and other organizations issued money of their own against a credit that, for the most part, was purely imaginary. At the time of the Revolution our own paper money became practically worthless. It was then that the phrase "Not worth a Continental" originated. Inevitably the crash came and fortunes were wiped out, and still the heresy persisted. Within the past ten years the world has witnessed the rise and fall of the German mark and has seen the paper money of several other countries sold at a price that was less than the value of the paper on which it was printed.

That, however, is only one side of the picture, as the folder just issued by the local bank points out. The paper money of the United States is "as good as gold" and has always been so within the memory of those people now living. The constant value of this government's promise to pay should be a source of pride to every American.

The article, "The Story of American Paper Money," covers the entire period of the United States Government, and will make clear to every reader just what paper currency is and what it can do.

Tracing the history of money through the ages, this interesting series is covering the history of both real money and credit money, the banking systems and financial policies. As an educational effort, it is most praiseworthy.

STOUT MORNING PLANES HAVE EARLIER SCHEDULE

Morning departures of planes operated by the Stout Air Services on the Detroit-Cleveland and Detroit-Chicago air lines was moved up by a change in schedule effective last Monday.

On the Detroit-Cleveland line, the morning plane will leave the Ford Airport at 10:30 a. m., arriving at Cleveland at 11:45 a. m. The west-bound ship will leave the Cleveland Airport at 4:45 p. m. and arrive in Detroit at 6 p. m. The west-bound morning plane will leave Cleveland at 10 a. m. instead of 8:45 a. m., arriving at Detroit at 11:15 a. m. Fifteen minutes has been clipped off both east and west-bound schedules.

On the Detroit-Chicago line, the morning plane will leave at 9:15 a. m., arriving in Chicago at 12:05 p. m., and the east-bound ship will leave Chicago at 10:15 a. m., arriving at Detroit at 12:45 p. m. The afternoon schedule is unchanged, planes leaving Chicago and Detroit at 4 p. m.

This country is going to be in a terrible fix if the Mediterranean fruit fly ever attacks the political plum crop.

Today's Reflections

When you consider all the exercise she gets from jumping at conclusions, you wonder how a woman ever gets fat.

Ever notice that the Plymouth citizens who are most in need of advice are the very ones who are trying to give it away?

In the old days there were fewer children with "awful tempers." There were also more apple sprouts to effect a cure in those days, too.

There'd be an awful lot of work done in this old world if we would all do as much today as we intend to do tomorrow.

Even when a Plymouth girl has a red face she is proud of the fact that her skin is white where you can't see it.

When a fat man gets sick the doctor doesn't have to make a diagnosis. He simply tells the patient not to eat so much.

The difference between a liar and a hypocrite is that you can trust a liar once in awhile.

Wonder how many deaths there'd be in Plymouth if somebody shot every man who hasn't fixed that screen door he promised his wife last spring that he was going to fix.

It has been our observation that the Plymouth man who fishes for compliments finds that the bait is mighty expensive.

FRANCE ALARMED BY CRIMES OF YOUTHS

Ghostly Murders Committed by Children.

Paris.—The number of crimes committed by young people in France in the last few months has given rise to serious alarm, since if events continue as now the prisons will soon be full of juvenile murderers.

Hardly had the padlock been placed on the cell of two boys, one aged twelve and the other thirteen years, who had slain an old woman at Vaucresson, at the gates of Paris, than the newspapers were occupied with a new sensation—a butcher's boy at Franconville had battered in the head of an elderly widow, copying exactly the deed of the youths of Vaucresson.

While alarming enough in themselves, these crimes have stirred French public opinion doubly because they follow upon a sequence of other brutal outrages by young folk, apparently inspired by both blood lust and callousness.

Douraud Guillotine. Some months ago, an example was set for other youthful murderers when young Douraud's head fell under the guillotine at Caen for the shooting of a French army officer in a train from the Riviera. But instead of striking terror to the boyish heart of France, the crime was imitated soon after by Adolf Steffen, aged eighteen. A student at Paris, he boarded the express train for Nancy one morning and during the journey climbed along the footboard and shot dead the guard in his compartment.

After a grueling examination in jail, Steffen confessed. He is now awaiting trial and it is almost certain he will follow the youth he imitated up the steps of the scaffold.

The fate which will befall the children who committed the Vaucresson crime will be more lenient, although they have shown themselves the most cold blooded of recent murderers. According to their own confession, they mounted by means of a ladder to the bedroom of the old woman whom they had selected as victim with the intention of killing her if she refused to hand over the money.

One boy, Le Guel, held a lamp while the other, aged thirteen, battered in the old woman's head with a steel bar while she slept. A few days afterward they re-enacted the murder in the bedroom for the benefit of the police and were completely unmoved.

Can't Be Guillotined. Under French law, any one under eighteen years cannot be guillotined, therefore Le Guel and his accomplice will be kept in a penitentiary until they reach the age of twenty-one, when they will be drafted for service as conscripts in a regiment serving abroad. After the period of service they will be required to report their movements to the authorities, but their crime will be considered as practically expiated in law.

The latest recruit to the youthful criminal gang—Marcel Morice—was arrested by gendarmes after a chase through a forest near Montigny, in the department of the Orne. He had delivered meat to the widow whom he made his victim, hattering her head with a brick.

He returned to his master's store, took about $20 from the cash register and fled.

Among many high medical opinions evoked by these repeated crimes by children, most constructive is that of Doctor Heuyer, director of the Clinic of Infantile Neuropsychiatrics. He considers that the educational system is wrong.

He urges that the German method of re-education of children should be copied. Under this method, children suspected of nervous debility with tendencies towards crime are removed to special observation schools supervised by mental experts who treat them and educate them according to their mental peculiarities.

"There are eighty-three such schools in Germany," Doctor Heuyer points out, "which should be sufficient proof that there is need for the same thing here in France, where there are only three nonspecializing schools."

An Expression Of Appreciation

Founded by a group of men who recognized that every community has need for a banking institution dedicated to helpfulness to individuals and to the community, and conducted on safe, progressive, business-like lines, the Plymouth United Savings Bank was opened for business in 1890.

This year marks our thirty-ninth anniversary. In the congratulations of our friends there is a frequent voicing of tribute to the cooperation this institution has rendered with constantly increasing efficiency since those early days of 1890.

To our customers and other friends of Plymouth and the surrounding territory, however, belongs the real credit for the progress this bank has made. Your confidence and patronage have formed a heritage of trust that we cherish. Your prosperity has enabled us to prosper until today our assets total $3,280,800.38.

As we enter upon another year, there is before us an even greater obligation—to prove by continued helpfulness our right to serve as the depository for your money, as your ally in business expansion, as your friend and advisor in investments or in handling any other banking or money matters.

Quick Service!

Graham-Paige Quality at $855

(Two door sedan at factory, special equipment extra)

Outstanding, by Any Measure of Value

Model 612 is a powerful car, built to give good, dependable, and lasting performance. With prices beginning at only $855, at factory—its quality is outstanding, by any measure of value.

Its large engine, with a seven bearing crankshaft (2 1/2 inches in diameter) delivers 62 horsepower smoothly. Overheating is practically impossible, and uniform cooling is assured by water jackets extending to the very bottom of every cylinder.

Not only in the motor, but all through the 612, you will find extra size, extra weight, and extra strength. Ready for the road, it weighs 3,125 pounds. Experience has convinced us that every pound of this greater weight is essential to better performance, greater comfort, long life and safety.

The four wheel hydraulic, internal expanding brakes are larger than usual in a car at this price, and fully protected from dirt and water. Service and emergency brakes are entirely separate—to provide the safety to which we believe every motor car buyer is entitled.

Bodies are beautiful and roomy, finished with upholstery of genuine mohair carrying a guarantee of long life attached to every cushion.

We ask you to see Model 612, and to enjoy its performance—before you buy any car.

Electric Cooking Is Tastier

FOODS cooked electrically retain their natural flavor, because the natural juices are sealed in. Meats and vegetables are tastier, cakes and biscuits are lighter, and pies more flaky. Once you have enjoyed electric cooking you will never again agree to cook with fuel.

You can enjoy electric cooking in your kitchen now. Convenient time payments and a liberal allowance for your present cooking equipment make it unusually easy for you to own a modern electric range. Come in and inspect the many attractive models.

OUTLAW HORSE TO BE HARNESS BROKEN AUG. 2

ANIMAL WHICH HAS DEFEATED
OWNER'S EFFORTS WILL FEAT-
TURE FARMERS DAY,
AUGUST 2.

The training of an outlaw horse whose owners were unable to work him and had decided to sell the animal for glue will be one of the features of Summer Farmers Day at Michigan State College, at 10:30 a. m., Friday, August 2.

The horse was bought by a Clinton county man for 152 dollars, but, as this owner was unable to handle him, he offered the horse to a neighbor for 70 dollars if the neighbor could break the animal. The neighbor, Frank Pope, St. Johns, found that the horse had developed an outlaw temperament and that any attempt to work the horse would result in the injury of his driver. Mr. Pope decided to sell him to the glue factory.

Members of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College are going to stake their reputations as horse trainers that they can take this horse Farmers Day and break him so that he can be driven on a wagon without injury to the driver or the trainer.

The confidence in their ability to train the horse is based on the experiences which they have had at 44 horse breaking demonstrations this year. At each of these meetings, the meanest horse which could be found was broken to harness.

Inspection of experimental work and demonstrations are scheduled for the forenoon of Farmers Day, and the speaking program will be held in the afternoon. A banquet for women and one for dairymen will conclude the day's events.

PLAN TIME TEMPLE FOR WASHINGTON

National Educational Center of Horology.

Washington.—The Horological Institute of America announced at its annual meeting in the National Academy of Sciences building that plans are under consideration to erect in Washington a $1,000,000 "Time Temple." The building would become the national educational center for the science of horology, and would contain a great horological library and masterpieces of the watchmaker's craft.

A nucleus for the exhibit in the proposed time building is now being shown, comprising the collection of 30 watches, valued at $30,000, from the estate of the late James Ward Packard, automotive engineer and inventor. These watches represent masterpieces of the watchmaker's art. Several of the watches are 53-jeweled, and all represent the finest achievements in the manufacture of accurate and complicated timepieces. An astronomical watch of extraordinary intricacy, valued at $7,000, keeps track of the seconds, tells the day, the week, month and year, the mean solar time and the apparent solar time, and the time of sunrise and sunset each day.

The watch adjusts itself automatically at the end of each month, making the correct change of 28, 30 or 31 days, as may be required, and automatically adding a day for leap year. In the back of the watch is a miniature sky dotted with gold stars. The mechanism of the works is so fine that these stars change with each season.

The institute has started a survey to determine the feasibility of securing funds for a building and for an endowment to support a larger and more active institute which now functions as a member of the national research council. A campaign to arouse public interest and to secure new members along with an endowment is one of the objectives of the institute.

Gold Key's Use Puzzles New Vice-Chamberlain

London.—As Vice-Chamberlain of the royal household, a post which he is expected to assume shortly, J. H. Hayes, labor member for Edgehill, Liverpool, and a former London police sergeant, will have to carry the famous gold key when he bears messages from the king to the House of Commons.

This key is noted because nobody seems to know what it is used for. Neither Mr. Hayes nor any of his predecessors have learned its use, though it is believed to be the key of a royal palace, either Buckingham, Windsor or St. James.

When the king opens parliament in person the Vice-Chamberlain has to await his majesty's return to the palace. The key is said to have originally been connected with the re-entry of the monarch to his palace.

Another duty which the Vice-Chamberlain undertakes is preparation of the daily report on parliament for the king's personal use. He also acts as general assistant to the Lord Chamberlain, and in this capacity will have an indirect association with the licensing of stage plays, of which the Chamberlain's department and the producers have often held widely divergent opinions.

Irish Hills Catholics Prepare for Festival

Among the Irish Hills, where nature plays in riotous beauty and dimpls the waters of many lakes with diamond clusters, preparations are in progress for the diamond jubilee celebration of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, the little wayside shrine that attracts thousands of tourists each summer from all parts of the country. Tourists of all faiths stop instinctively to marvel at the way nature plays among these hills and lakes and at the quaint little Spanish church with its red tile roof and mission tower, and those who have the curiosity to enter are struck with the simplicity of the interior with its Roman altar glittering with rich mosaic and onyx stone inlaid by the deft fingers of some Tyrolean craftsman. A goodly number are seen here daily kneeling in silent reverence before the Blessed Sacrament, or saying a prayer in the grotto, which is a replica of the grotto at Lourdes. In the grotto, little Saint Bernadette is seen kneeling before the apparition of the Blessed Virgin, who is placed in the upper part of the grotto. The entire grotto is built of var-colored natural stone.

The church stands on a bluff above Iron Lake where nature's nimble feet have put the imprint of perennial loveliness, where the eyes of the morning flash in exultant radiance, where a moonlit sky is mirrored in silver ribbons as if the clouds were eager to picture their whiteness before a breeze takes their snowy sails away. Here smiles are wreathed in a thousand undulating hills, and springs gush from cavernous depths to lave the muffled surfaces of the lake, or to whet the moisture blunted in the flames of summer.

Nature has been more prodigial here with her gifts than man, but soon, over the strayed windows of Iron Lake, thousands who travel the Chicago Turnpike will see the figure of Christ Crucified in beautiful Carrara marble with the sorrowing women at the foot of the Cross. The placing and dedication of the Crucifixion Group will be part of the religious ceremonies of the diamond jubilee which will be celebrated in 1930. The mission is 75 years old this year, but the necessary improvements cannot be finished until next year, according to the Rev. Fr. Joseph V. Pfeffer, who is pastor of St. Mary's Missions, of which the Irish Hills church is a unit. Plans to grade the cemetery in the center of which the stannary will be placed are now under way, and a stone wall will border the highway studded with huge stone pillars 16 feet apart. Inside the church, the walls and ceilings will be tinted in beautiful frescoes of soft Spanish mission.

The plans to make this chapel a wayside shrine similar to those that sanctify the highways of the Old World are progressing rapidly. Seventy-five years ago the early Irish pioneers built a little chapel where they might perform their religious exercises and increase the spirit of devotion among the faithful. In 1820, the Rev. Fr. Gariel Richard, then one of Michigan's representatives in congress, persuaded the United States Congress to pass a bill to have the old Indian trail cut through as a permanent road between Detroit and Chicago. For a period of the last hundred years the road then laid out has been known as the Chicago Turnpike. It has become a national highway, one of Michigan's busiest thoroughfares. The increasing rush of tourists through this scenic spot every year necessitated a larger church, and the present building was completed July 1, 1928, and dedicated by the Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, Bishop of Detroit, the following month.

Michigan State Fair To Feature "Kiltie" Band

The most famous "Kiltie" band on the American continent, the 91st Highlanders of Hamilton, Ont., and which has entertained British Royalty, has been engaged as the leading musical attraction at the eightieth annual exposition of the Michigan State Fair, September 1 to 7, fair officials have announced.

The 91st Highlanders is one of the great bands of the world. It has appeared only infrequently in the United States, and never before in the Mid-West section. It will give an afternoon and evening concert daily during the fair, the program to be in keeping with the occasion to which the day has been dedicated.

The 91st Highlanders band has been a military unit since 1904, a year after the formation of the Canadian branch of the famous Scotch regiment to which it is attached. Its uniform is one of the most picturesque of Highland costumes, the tartan being that of the renowned Argyll and Sutherland clan. It has played before the present king and queen of England and previously when these rulers were still the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York; before many other English and Canadian notables; at the peace conferences at Niagara Falls in 1912 and Fort Erie in 1913, and at all leading Canadian expositions. It was on a 10,000-mile tour of the United States and Canada in 1914, when the war broke out. The band cancelled all engagements and offered itself for service overseas, where it was made the Overseas Staff Band of Canada. Since 1918 the "Kilties" have had a remarkable revival and are functioning 100% effective again after the crippling and exhaustive effects of the war. Its director is Capt. Harry Stares, the first bandmaster in Canada to be awarded a Bachelor of Music degree, and who has led it ever since its military beginnings.

Just how difficult a task it was for the Michigan State Fair management to obtain assurance of the band's coming is shown by the laborious efforts entailed, involving finally the American and Canadian governments. When the invitation to come to Michigan was received, permission was asked of headquarters of its regiment, the 91st Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (Princess Louise's). In turn the regiment sought approval from its military district commander who relayed the message to Dominion defence headquarters at Ottawa. The latter then negotiated with the government at Washington for approval of the band's visit into American territory.

Mr. and Mrs. Erhard Bridge of Plymouth, called at George Baehr's Sunday night.

Rushin Cutler and Clinton Baehr left Monday morning for a trip through northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baehr and family spent Sunday afternoon in Detroit, with Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher.

Mr. Burr Green and son of Dearborn, and George Baehr enjoyed a fishing trip Tuesday and Wednesday.

The old land mark on the Ann Arbor Trail and Wayne road, known as the old Swartz place, burned to the ground Sunday night. It is thought to have been set afire by boys.

It was decided at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society held at Mrs. Wm. Wolfson's at Walled Lake last week Wednesday, to hold the church anniversary July 28th. They hope to see all former pastors present as well as former members and friends.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth wants to know if anybody ever heard of a man so mean but what he could find some woman willing to marry him.

Why is it that the average man never grows sensitive about his hat until he hasn't any?

"The most interesting man in the world to a married woman," says Dad Plymouth "is the one she could have married but didn't."

Dad Plymouth says that sometimes a man finds that he has either got to ride on the water wagon or in a horse.

A slow-poke is anyone whose car we can pass and a speed fiend is anyone whose car can pass us.

Built to Endure

The beauty of strength and endurance is obvious in American architecture. We can tell you of a beauty just as lasting and more surprising in the most delicate parts of an American watch. In our line of business it is particularly important that we make no mistake in the value of our merchandise. When we must stand back of the watches we sell we recommend eagerly the great American line which we know from years of experience is built to endure.

Our varied selection of Illinois, Elgin, Hamilton, Waltham and Howard is a representative collection which we invite you to inspect. The newest style cases and dependable movements will fill your requirements for every need.

50 Cents Would Cover Cost of Thunderstorm

Washington.—A half dollar probably would pay for all the electricity expended in the average thunderstorm, the bureau of standards estimated today.

At the prevailing rate of 5 cents a kilowatt hour, a single flash of lightning is worth about four-tenths of a cent. While a flash in a severe storm generates power of 1,000,000 kilowatts, capable of doing appalling damage, its duration being 3-100,000 of a second, it represents but 8-1,000 of a kilowatt hour, the basis upon which commercial current is sold.

"It is surprising that there are not more deaths by lightning," the bureau said. "Reports show that about 500 persons are killed every year by flashes. The property damage, especially in rural districts, however, is tremendous."

Explaining the phenomenon, the bureau said that large raindrops containing electrical charges, on striking the upper current of air are broken into smaller drops and the energy released.

Many Locusts
 Chicago.—An expedition of the Field museum found locusts so thick in one place in the Sobat section of Africa that one could not see the ground.

Church Roof Acts as Radio Receiving Set

Winnipeg.—Midnight strollers in Victoria, B. C., passing new Christ Church cathedral this spring heard phantom music and the rippling swell of a Bach fugue rolling from the half finished church. Out from the chancel rang the sound, though no organ is installed. Moonlight and mystery joined hands to send shivers down Victorian backs, and the shivers quickened as the sound of a priest intoning his Benedicite was heard when the sound of the organ ceased. Scientists who investigated stated that the great expanse of copper roof had caught the waves of some broadcast signal from the United States and acted as a receiving radio set.

OUTLOOK CONTINUES BRIGHT FOR MICHIGAN INDUSTRY AND TRADE

PRODUCTION WELL SUSTAINED IN SPITE OF CUSTOMARY RESTRICTIONS OF SUMMER SEASON.

W.C.T.U.

Midsummer finds general business in the United States relaxing seasonally, says Wayne W. Putnam, assistant vice-president, Union Trust company, Detroit, in a review of Michigan business conditions. Both commerce and manufacturing, however, are displaying more vitality than they usually do at this time of the year, which is especially noteworthy in view of the brilliant showing made in the first half of 1929.

Steel ingot production in June continued practically at capacity. Output for the first six months exceeded the volume in any other half year by a substantial margin. Close to capacity operations in the steel industry are indicated for July and possibly August. The automotive industry made 3,380,088 cars and trucks in this period, surpassing production for the same months a year ago by well over one million vehicles. Agricultural implements, cotton textiles, tires and numerous other products also established new records, while many others showed impressive totals. Reports of corporate earnings generally for the half year were highly satisfactory. Wholesale and retail trade exceeded that of a year ago by a comfortable margin.

Basically Sound.

So basically sound is the nation's economic structure that it is doubtful whether a continuance of credit stringency and declining construction in their present proportions would seriously obstruct the flow of business in the months that lie just ahead. Some readjustment, however, would seem inevitable, possibly at the end of this year or in the early part of 1930. But the momentum of the first half of this year was such as to assure a good volume of industry and trade throughout the third quarter.

Production and trade in Michigan are being well sustained in spite of the customary summer restrictions. Manufacturing, especially, is displaying considerable vigor for the month of July. The automotive industry continues to be the outstanding leader. Manufacturers of electrical refrigerators, radios, cereals, farm implements, vacuum cleaners, adding machines and some furniture lines report a good rate of activity. Copper and iron mining, also the oil industry, are very active. Chemicals and pharmaceuticals are doing a normal volume of business, but operations in the paper industry are somewhat below normal.

Heavy production in the Ford factories is tending to largely offset the reduced output of those manufacturers who are making preparations to bring out new models. Cars and trucks produced by the entire industry in June amounted to 536,369 units, as compared with 425,195 vehicles in the same month last year.

Car Requirements Rise.

Car requirements for the third quarter, as estimated by the Great Lakes regional advisory board, will be 42 per cent larger than in the same quarter last year. The estimated requirement for automobiles, trucks and parts in this region in the current quarter is 5.2 per cent greater than last year. Net tonnage passing through the Sault canals in June totaled 10,043,132 tons, which was 3 1/2 per cent above the amount in June, 1929.

Consumption of electrical energy by Michigan industries last month aggregated 212,768,606 kilowatt hours, a gain of 19 per cent compared with the amount consumed in June last year, but a decrease of 8 per cent compared with the month of May, 1929.

Michigan's employment situation is very satisfactory. More men are employed in the automotive industry this summer than in any corresponding season in the history of the industry. On July 10, 118,178 men were at work in the Ford plants in Detroit. Industrial employment in Detroit in June averaged 7 1/2 per cent greater than in the same month in 1928.

Twenty-three principal cities in Michigan issued permits in June for buildings costing $17,613,496, which was $2,616,845 below the total in May and $675,900 below the value of permits issued in June, 1928. Bank earnings in Detroit, St. Joseph, Bay City, Muskegon and Lansing in June totaled $2,003,588,000, as compared with $2,295,806,000 in May and $1,868,600,000 in June a year ago.

Both retail and wholesale trade are making a better showing than they did a month ago. Warm weather and tourist business have helped to bring about the improved tone. Collections are fair. Among wholesale lines dry goods, tool hardware, paper and drugs are taking the lead. Builders' hardware is slow. Wholesalers report a good volume of orders for fall delivery, and the outlook bright for autumn trade.

Olive, From Live Long

While olive trees are not profitable until they are thirty years old, they bear from 700 to 1,000 years, some specimens measuring 20 feet around. Nearly 1,500,000,000 pounds of olives are produced in the orchards of Spain each year.

FIRING HIM—won't pay your LOSS

"Well, he got away with it!"

That's what goes through the ranks of your employes if all you do is fire one that you discover has been robbing you.

Fidelity Bonds pay your loss if an employe goes wrong. Furthermore, the mere fact that your employes are bonded is frequently a sufficient deterrent to keep the weak ones out of temptation.

There is a form of Fidelity Bond (Honesty Insurance) to fit your business at a cost that is surprisingly low.

THE NATION HAS NAMED IT
"A GREAT PERFORMER"

BUILT BY BUICK

Marquette

$965 to $1035

"A Great Performer" the Marquette is being hailed, the nation over. Never before in a car of moderate price have there been such acceleration, speed, control, handling ease, roadability, flexibility, balance! Only Buick could offer such performance.

In Marquette you get an engine of remarkably large displacement. You get speed that holds an honest 68 or 70 miles an hour with unexcelled ease, steadiness and security. You get acceleration of from 10 to 60 miles an hour in high gear in 31 seconds.

And this great new car introduces many more unusual features: Beautiful Fisher bodies. Exclusive new upholstery proofed against water, dust and wear. Dustproof tilt-ray headlights. An exclusive new sloping non-glare windshield. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers. Easy-acting, completely enclosed brakes.

The Marquette is easy to own on the liberal G.M.A.C. terms. Come in and see this complete car. Take the wheel and learn the thrill of Marquette performance.

Pierce Home to Be Made Historic Shrine

Billsborough, N. H.—Plans are being made for the establishment of the Pierce mansion here as a historical shrine. The birthplace of Franklin Pierce, only resident of New Hampshire ever elected President of the United States, was built in 1804. One room, known as the council chamber, remains today just as it was more than 100 years ago.

AROUND ABOUT US

Dearborn is considering the building of outdoor swimming pools.

The Walled Lake Home Telephone Co. has been sold to the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Sunday, July 28th, is the date set for the dedication of St. William's chapel at Walled Lake.

Edward Mills, district agent of the Detroit Edison Co., is the new president of the Northville Rotary Club.

The Oakland County Fair Association at Milford, has purchased twenty acres of additional land adjoining the present fair grounds.

William Wood of Plymouth, was a guest of the Rotary club meeting Monday noon. "Bill," as he is best known to his thousands of friends, runs a big insurance agency in the nearby city. He is a former president of the Plymouth club—Northville Record.

The Kiwanis club at Chelsea has placed a large electric sign at the intersection of S. Main street and U. S. 12. The new sign, which is about twelve feet in length, has been erected on the north side of U. S. 12 with the word "Chelsea" and an arrow pointing toward the village.

Rev. John F. Dowdle, a former pastor of St. Mary's church, has been transferred from Deerfield to St. Paul's parish at Gross Pointe. Father Dowdle has been in Deerfield for about five years, and the new appointment is considered one of the best in the Detroit diocese.—Milford Times.

The Northville Record was sixty years old last week, and is still going strong. The paper has never missed an issue since it was started. During the past year or so, under the present ownership, the paper has made a steady growth, and is one of the best weekly papers published in Michigan. We congratulate Brother Eaton on his success.

Building permits in Dearborn have passed the million dollar mark for the fourth consecutive month in the history of that place. June's total was $1,220,665. The Stout Metal Airplane factory addition, a 16-family apartment, and a store building at a cost of $55,000, and the First Presbyterian church of Dearborn at $50,000 are the outstanding items in the June list.

When William Hubble was 21 years of age he was presented with a gold ring by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hubble, with his name and the date engraved thereon. William had the misfortune to lose the token which he prized so highly while working in a sheep barn on his farm, twenty-five years ago. Mr. Hubble sold the farm which is now in possession of Albert Trepo, who while plowing in the field Wednesday of last week found the ring. The ring had been carried from the barn to the field while removing manure and the field had been plowed over and over again in the last twenty-five years. Mr. Hubble is overjoyed to get his birthday present returned to him, and in as good condition as when he was twenty-one years of age.—Oxford Leader.

Edgewater Park Has Many Attractions

With the addition of the Whip, Edgewater Park, on the Seven-Mile road near Grand River, has the greatest number of riding devices of any park in the Detroit district. The park has become the mecca for picnickers and within the last few days a number of big Detroit industries have given their annual outings beside the shady lagoon. One of the biggest attractions is the mile long roller coaster, and the Topsy house is a close second. The latter, which has three separate amusement features, gives the impression of falling, and of walking upside down, by means of an arrangement of mirrors.

DREAM VILLAGE SOLD AT AUCTION

Proceeds of Sheriff's Sale Go for Taxes.

Pawhuska, Okla.—The doleful rap of an auctioneer's hammer has started the small village of Herd in Oklahoma's vast Osage district toward a place in the realm of "ghost cities."

Virtually the entire town, twenty-five miles north of here, has been auctioned off on the steps of the county court house. Behind the sale is a story of a shattered dream of "Old Bill" Easley, territorial rancher and landowner who envisioned the village.

Hardly had the echo of cattle's hoofs died away than the then new Oklahoma town sprang into existence. The Santa Fe promised a railroad through the vast Easley ranch. The road agreed tentatively to build a station on a section of the proposed townsite.

Visiting a city on his ranch, Easley mortgaged his land and invested a small fortune in the town of Herd. He induced a few grocery stores, a lumber yard and other businesses to locate there.

But railroads are no respecters of individual fortunes and plans were changed. The road never came through.

A detailed survey by the Santa Fe disclosed that Herd had been built on a grade which would be costly to cut through.

Easley became embittered toward the railroad company. He fought the building of the right of way through his ranch at all. Armed with a rifle, he guarded Yencor on his ranch from workmen. He was jailed for violation of a court order.

Three years ago the ranchman died. His property was mortgaged, taxes were not paid and the village had become a place of empty buildings.

The sheriff's sale was to satisfy mortgages and collect taxes. A Se-dan (Kau.) bank took five whole blocks, twenty-five scattered lots over the town and an undivided half of a land allotment, which Easley had owned, for its assessed valuation when no other bidders made an offer.

The 415 acres which had composed Easley's home estate was purchased by a Pawhuska man at $5 an acre. Thirty-two other lots went to scattered bidders at prices ranging from $1.50 to $7 per lot.

Mexico Imports Faculty for Its Summer School

Mexico City.—Savants from several points of the Americas will participate in the faculty of the summer school of the National university of Mexico, the university authorities have announced. The United States, Chile, Costa Rica and Ecuador are among the countries which will send professors to give instruction and lectures.

Waldo Frank, author of "Our America," "Virgin Spain" and "The Rediscovery of America," will lecture on the "The United States, Spain and Spanish America."

Dr. Gonzalo Zaldumbide, minister of Ecuador in the United States and a noted sculptor, will lecture on "America and the League of Nations."

Pedro Prado, Chilean novelist and diplomat, is to speak on Chilean literature and "The Political Action of America."

About the Limit

"I want to go on record for this one," said plump Penelope, "because I saw it myself. It was in the subway the other morning. You wouldn't think a person hurrying to his office bright and early would be absent-minded, would you? But the well-dressed man right in front of me topped his time to the floor and stepped on it and then tried to drop his cigarette into the turpentine."

Peru Had First Rail

Peru was the first South American country to grant a railway concession. This was done in May, 1826. The line from Lima to Callao did not go into operation until April 8, 1851, but this was the first railroad trip ever taken in South America.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of East Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers of this place, and little granddaughter, Barbara Jean Holmes of Detroit, spent Sunday at Tecumseh, Tipton and Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rhead of Lepeer, were Thursday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Glympe who returned with them for a few days' visit at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Edith Rhead.

Mrs. H. C. Robinson was called to Mackinac Island last Sunday on account of the illness of Miss Rose Hawthorne, who has been attending a convention of the League of Business Women, and was taken ill while there. It was expected that Miss Hawthorne would be able to return home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Robinson and children of Plymouth, have moved to Northville, and are at present occupying the residence of Father Joseph Schuler on Thayer boulevard. Mr. Robinson is associated with the Detroit Steel Products company. It is their plan to make Northville their future home. Mr. Robinson is well known in steel products manufacturing circles and has been with the Detroit company for a number of years.—Northville Record.

Old Dad Plymouth says its a good thing that a woman doesn't faint every time she has a faint idea!

While motoring to Detroit on the Plymouth road last Saturday afternoon, Earl Ryder met with an auto accident that did considerable damage to his car. Four cars were coming from Detroit when another car traveling the same way turned out to pass them, and although Mr. Ryder got off the pavement to avoid an accident, the other car collided with him. Luckily no one was injured.

Teller Tricks Bandit With Mutilated Bills

London.—A lone gunman escaped with $1,100 in mutilated bills from the main branch of the Bank of Montreal at 10:45 a. m. the other day after presenting a note to a paying teller, S. B. Dunn, demanding cash. Dunn held the packet of bills toward the robber. The teller's presence of mind in utilizing the mutilated bills saved the bank several thousands of dollars which he had in his cage.

A customer made a clutch at the fleeing bandit but failed to hold him.

Prisoners Pick Berries

Cassville, Mo.—With the strawberry season in the Ozarks in full swing, Judge Emery Smith released three prisoners from the city jail to pick strawberries.

Plans Plane to Fly 600 Miles an Hour

London.—Breakfast in London and lunch five hours later in New York—such will be the speed of modern air transport if W. D. Verachoye's gravitation conquering air machine will work.

The inventor has just applied for a British patent on an invention which he claims will make possible the construction of a machine capable of flying 600 miles per hour, or from London to New York in less than five hours.

Briefly the theory behind his invention is that gravitation is similar to magnetism and is therefore controllable by electricity.

If Verachoye is able to control gravitation his air machine will arise and descend vertically, thus dispensing with large and unrequited landing fields. There will be no planes, gas bags or helicopters, the motors being able to attain a speed of 600 miles an hour after conquering gravitation.

Family broils should be confined to the cook stove.

Candy-Stuff

Marjorie, age seven, was much interested in the flowers her mother had growing in the yard, and had been eagerly watching for the first blossoms to appear. Among them were several plants of candy-tuft. One day she came running into the house much excited, saying: "Mother, that candy-stuff of yours out there in the yard is blooming."

KONJOLA ROUTES RHEUMATISM AND CATARRH QUICKLY

ONE DISEASE HELD SWAY FOR 15 YEARS AND OTHER FOR 25; FORMER SUFFERER BACK ON THE JOB.

MR. JOE LAZARUS

"I can hardly believe I am the well man I am today," said Mr. Joe Lazarus, of Assyria Center, near Battle Creek, Michigan. "I suffered 25 years with catarrh and 15 years with rheumatism. My limbs, arms and shoulders were practically paralyzed. I was nearly deaf from the catarrh; my head roared and buzzed, and vomiting spells, because of mucus dropping into my throat, were frequent."

"Four bottles of Konjola drove the rheumatism away, and now the catarrhal condition has totally disappeared. I am feeling fine for the first time in 25 years. Konjola put me back on the job again."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at Community drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Christian Science Notes

"Sacrament" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 14.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." (Matt. 18:2-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbooks, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As aforetime, the spirit of the Christ, which taketh away the venemous and doctrines of men, is not accepted until the hearts of men are made ready for it." (p. 131).
The Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, July 21, is "Life."

The Rev. J. O'Shea, pastor of St. Gertrude's church, St. Clair Shores, died last week.

Nethem baseball team played a scoreless game against the strong C. F. Smith team from Detroit, until the eighth inning, when the Smith boys scored two and then four, closing a well played game 6 to 0. Next Sunday, Nethem vs. the strong Burgess Creamery aggregation at Newburg. Nethem has strengthened its team a great deal, and is now playing a good brand of base ball. A large crowd was present last Sunday to witness the game. All are invited to this shady spot. Our hookie, Ray Levandowski, selects only the best in sandlot base ball, so there is always a good game, win or lose.

GIANT STRIDES MADE IN AIR TRANSPORT

Progress in 1929 to Exceed Three Years' Total.

Washington.—The development of the aeronautics and air transport industry during the three years' life of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce has been "among this country's outstanding achievements," Secretary of Commerce Lamont declared recently in surveying the present state of development of the industry.

"With the increasing interest being shown in this subject by the general public, there is every reason to believe that the immediate future will bring forth even greater accomplishments," he added.
Secretary Lamont predicted "the foundations have been laid for a great transportation system over which swift aerial carriers will bear their cargoes of mail, express and passengers to every corner of the globe."

Outlook for Big 1929 Record.
A statistical estimate of the condition of the industry appended to Secretary Lamont's statement indicated that if the present rapid growth in air transport operations continues during the remainder of the year, the operations for 1929 will exceed the total for the last three years.
The report estimated that the mileage flown by air transport operators for the first half of 1929 would total 8,000,000 miles as against 10,500,000 for all of 1928, 5,870,489 for 1927 and 4,318,087 for 1926.

The average of miles flown daily by air transport operators for the first half of the year, estimated to be 70,000 miles, is almost three times as great as the average for all of 1928, which was 26,606, more than four times the average of 16,083 miles for 1927 and almost seven times the average of 10,830 miles for 1926.

Thirty Thousand Miles of Airways.
The total length of the airways network, estimated now to be 30,000 miles, has jumped from a total of 16,687 miles at the close of 1928; 9,121 miles at the close of 1927, and 8,404 miles at the close of 1926. Ten thousand miles of airways, or one-third of the total, are lighted, as compared with 6,988 at the close of 1928; 4,468 at the close of 1927, and 2,041 at the end of 1926.

The greatest increases were shown for the income-producing activities of air transport companies. It was estimated that 40,000 passengers were carried during the first six months of 1929, as against 35,000 in all of 1928, 8,679 in 1927, and 5,872 in 1926. Total mail carried was computed at 3,400,000 pounds, as against 4,061,210 pounds in 1928, 1,654,165 in 1927, and 810,855 in 1926. Express volume was fixed at 1,200,000, as against 2,000,000 for 1928.

There are now 45 companies operating air transport lines, compared to 37 at the close of 1928, 18 at the close of 1927, and 14 at the close of 1926. They have 400 airplanes in service, an increase from 300 at the close of 1928, 128 at the close of 1927, and 66 at the close of 1926.

Bloodthirsty Period
That period of the French revolution known as the "reign of terror" is generally considered to have extended from January 21, 1793, the date of the execution of Louis XVI, to July 28, 1794, when Robespierre and other sanguinary leaders were guillotined.
