

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR ANOTHER FACTORY

PLYMOUTH PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPTEMBER THIRD

REPAIRING AND CLEANING FINISHED. GYMNASIUM FLOOR SPECIALLY TREATED.

SUPTS. OFFICE OPEN AUG. 27-30

During the summer vacation which the teachers and pupils have used in study, employment, pleasure, etc., the Board of Education has been busy in having the school thoroughly cleaned and repaired ready for the opening.

All of the rooms in which alterations were made during the summer of 1928 have been painted along with the corridors and lunch room giving a wholesome welcome to the boys and girls upon their return in the fall. The gymnasium floor has received special treatment which will materially increase its usefulness for games and physical training.

As has been the custom in past years, the Board of Education will furnish at cost, books and supplies which may be purchased by the pupils at the opening of school and throughout the year.

The superintendent's office will be open each afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m., between August 26 and 30, for the purpose of considering with pupils and parents any problems which may arise relative to their entering and attending school during the coming year.

Mr. Emens, principal of the high school, will be in his office August 27 to 30, inclusive, for the purpose of classifying those entering the ninth grade, who come from other schools, and any others who are entering Plymouth High School for the first time.

While classification during these four days is not compulsory, it is particularly to the pupil's advantage to classify when special attention can be given to his individual needs instead of waiting for the rush on Tuesday, September 3.

The announcement of the opening of school, as usual, will find a large majority of the boys and girls counting the days for the arrival of September 3. To others it will mean leaving happy summer homes on the farm and at lakes. But whatever the reaction is, in a truly American community like Plymouth, the result will be that all will be back and well organized before the close of the opening day.

McLellan-Wagenschutz

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized last Tuesday, when Miss Alma G. Wagenschutz became the bride of William A. McLellan at high noon. Little Betty Jane Wagenschutz led the bridal group down the wide stairway, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by the bride's sister, Miss Beulah Wagenschutz.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charmingly gowned in white, carrying a shower bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and baby breath. She was attended by Mrs. Thurman Rodman, who was attired in pale tan, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Thurman Rodman acted as best man.

The bridal pair spoke their vows before an altar of ferns, gladioli and garden flowers. Rev. O. J. Peters of Wayne, officiating.

Following the reception and dinner served to about thirty guests, the young couple left for a short motor trip through northern Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of Plymouth High School in the class of 1929, and is popular among the younger set in the community. The groom is formerly of Detroit.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John McLellan and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lucas and son, Ruodd, of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. George Krumm and daughter, Viola, of Chelsea.

THE O. E. S. PICNIC AT BOB-LO FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1929

You can anticipate one of the most enjoyable times you have had this season, if you attend the picnic at Bob-Lo next Friday, in conjunction with the Wayne County Association. Every effort is being made to attain such results.

The Masons, their families and friends, also the DeMolay are cordially invited.

All further information as to boats and reservations can be had by calling Worthy Matron Mrs. Lucille Bussard, phone 200M, or any officer.

Ask Michigan Bell For Time of Day

Time of day service has been made available by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to telephone users in the Detroit exchange area, becoming effective Sunday, August 11. The Michigan Bell Co. has established a centralized time bureau, with which subscribers desiring to learn the time of day can obtain connections by calling or dialing "Greenwich 1212," a special telephone number selected to designate the bureau. Announcements of the time are given at 15-second intervals, and it is necessary only for a subscriber to call the bureau and listen for the announcement. In the interest of promptness and accuracy, the time service operators are not equipped with apparatus which will permit them to answer questions or to give out any information other than to announce the time in the prescribed manner. Time of day calls are charged for on the same basis as local calls from both private and public telephones.

To Widen And Pave Six Mile Road In '30

PROPERTY OWNERS AND THE COUNTY IN AGREEMENT FOR IMPROVEMENT.

Through an agreement that has just been reached between property holders along the Six Mile road between the Farmington and Northville roads and the Wayne County Road Commission, this important thoroughfare will be paved early in 1930 by the county.

The arrangement that resulted in this decision came as the result of the liberal action on the part of the property holders along the highway.

It has been the desire of the county road commission to make this road a much wider highway than it is at present when it is paved.

The agreement that has just been made provides that property holders on both sides of the highway deed to the Wayne county road commission a strip of 27 feet, making the roadway 204 feet wide. In view of the fact that the property holders are giving this land to the county without cost on the part of the county, the commission in return has decided to pave the road, which is fast becoming one of the heavily traveled highways out of Detroit.

The road is now paved as far as the Farmington road, having been built through Redford over a year ago. It will give to Northville another thoroughfare from Detroit, and will relieve to some extent the travel on Seven Mile road.

The agreement has been signed by every property holder with one exception.—Northville Record.

Plymouth Doctor Honored At Detroit

Dr. F. W. Bramlck, our local physician, a former resident of Germany, was elected president of a newly formed American academic society at a meeting of the organization Monday night, at Harmonic Hall, 267 East Grand River Ave., Detroit.

This organization has been formed to assist students and other new arrivals to the United States from Germany in becoming acquainted with the American customs, English language and successful professional and business men.

Rotarians Hear Interesting Talk

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing a splendid talk by R. U. McIntosh, president of the Mack-Craft Amphibian Corp., at their last Friday's luncheon. Mr. McIntosh's talk was on aeronautical engineering, and he explained the various phases of airplane construction. Mack is a versatile speaker, and his remarks were much enjoyed.

A new wing is being added to the Plymouth Plating Works plant, operated by Henry Hondorp and Frank Henderson. This concern which was established several years ago has had a steady growth, and they have outgrown their present quarters and need more room to care for their steadily increasing business.

A 1929 TRIP ABROAD

By M. Dunning

On June 26, four of our Plymouth residents, Mrs. Charles Dunning, Miss Helen Roe, Miss Rhea Peck and Miss Margaret Dunning, started for a tour of Europe. A train from Detroit took forty-four of the happy group whom they were to be with for the next two months, to Montreal where they boarded the S. S. Duchess of York. Two days down the scenic sheltered waters of the St. Lawrence River and through the Gulf found the group on the deep aqua-marine waters of the Atlantic Ocean. A few days later they were skirting the green banks of the northern shore of Ireland.

On arriving at Liverpool, they proceeded by train to the English Lake district, past hedge-bound fields and historic towns, past sloping green hills, spreading meadows and picturesque strips of tilled farmland. Quaint sky-lines of little old English villages made of brick or slab stone having slate roofs, dot the hills. The Lake District, 12 miles long, winds among the steep mountains marked by stone fences, the work of generations. At Wordsworth's quaint cottage they saw the spot on which he stood to look over the lake and receive his fine inspirations. The English poets could have been poor in wealth, but in beauty unsurpassed.

A little way from Ayr stands Robert Burns' thatched roof white washed cottage, and near by the Arch bridge where "Tam O'Shanter" was composed. At Glasgow, there is a fine old cathedral, and the splendid University of Scotland. Then across Loch Katrine, with its Ben Venue, a great lump in the background, passing the beautiful rugged Ellen Isle, made famous by Sir Walter Scott, down the unrivaled Trossachs the entire length of Loch Lomond, past historic and beautiful scenery used in "The Lady of the Lake."

A four-horse coach draws one across the heather-covered hills once ranged by the Scotch chieftain Rob Roy. At Stirling, the old ruins remain where many of the Scotch nobility was born, the best known perhaps, Mary, Queen of Scots. Many castles meet one's eyes as Dunbarton, Dunbar, Burthwick and Sir Walter Scott's Abbotsford which is yet perfect, nestled in a vale near Lindean Bridge. Milrose Abbey, one of the most picturesque ruins, was built in 1136, and was the resting place of Scottish kings and queens for two hundred years. The heart of Sir Robert Bruce is also buried there.

Another monastery or abbey as picturesque, is Dryburgh, built by the catholic monks in the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth centuries. It is the resting place of Sir Walter Scott, wife, son and son-in-law, Lockheart, his biographer. The late Field Marshall Sir Douglas Haig is also buried here, having the plain marker which marks the graves of those of Flanders field.

In Edinburgh, the world famous Edinburgh Castle, 240 feet high from the bottom of the moat, was visited; also Holyrood, the favorite residence of Mary, Queen of Scots, John Knox House, White Horse Inn and Princess Street, all of immense interest.

Kenilworth is the most magnificent castle of England. It was used under Henry VIII, and tells the story of Cardinal Wolsey. The well preserved Warwick Castle, which is still used, has many paintings done by famous painters. At Stratford-on-Avon, Shakespeare's birth place was visited, also Ann Hathaway's cottage. At Oxford, the twenty-one colleges were seen, where a full explanation of the work was given. The Joshua Reynolds windows look like tinted parchment. It represents temperance, hope, faith, prudence, charity, justice and fortitude. Windsor palace, which is now used by the king and queen, was partly seen. Eton College, the school of nobility for boys, was passed. At Stoke Poges made famous by Gray's Elleg, the Yew Tree still stands. Gray's grave and monument are a short distance away.

In London, there are many things to see, as the Old Curiosity Shop, coffee houses, the Cheshire Cheese, Palace of Princess Beatrix, house of the Duke of York, Buckingham Palace, Prince of Wales' residence, the famous Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral with its famous dome, law courts, London bridge wax figures and the grim old London Tower containing the crown jewels.

A night boat to Holland offers enough thrills, for the channel is always choppy. At the Hook, motor buses were boarded, and the short journey to the Hague took one through what is always held in minds as to what the true Dutch land and people are. Windmills skirt the country until the dykes close in the view. Canals of all sizes run here and there, many with old Dutch boats going back and forth. Bicycles whiz past, for everyone rides them, the oldest to the youngest.

Many are dressed in the Dutch costumes outside the towns. Most everyone wears wooden shoes, because the ground is so soft.

The Palace of La Hague is in great contrast to those of England or any other country, for it is built durable and in plain style, for use and not as a monument to kings and queens. The

Viggo O. Nelson Talks To Kiwanians

Viggo O. Nelson, lieutenant governor of the Sixth District of Michigan Kiwanis, was the speaker at the Tuesday noon luncheon of the local club. He is secretary of the Ann Arbor Y. M. C. A., and as such has made an enviable reputation throughout the state. He is a veteran of the world war, and for the execution of his heroic deeds on the field of battle was presented a medal for Distinguished Service.

His subject, "Focusing the Army Guns," dealt with his days of war service, and he very convincingly explained to the club the locating of targets and the system of focusing the big guns on the enemy strongholds.

In the absence of President Luther Peck, the meeting was in charge of Vice-President Paul Nutting, who passed the cigars as a compliment from our absent president who had wired this request to Paul previously.

Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. W. B. PETZ ENTERTAINED ABOUT SIXTY FRIENDS LAST MONDAY EVENING.

One of the pleasant events of the season was the silver wedding anniversary celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Petz at their home on Ann street, last Monday evening. About sixty friends and relatives were present from Plymouth, Detroit, Mt. Clemens, Rochester, Birmingham, Grosse Pointe and Roger's City.

One of the unique features of the evening was the luncheon. The guests formed in couples, and to the strains of the wedding march, passed from the house to the garage which had been most appropriately turned into a leafy forest, with ferns and flowers intermingled. Here the guests were most agreeably surprised to find tables awaiting them in the form of a horse-shoe, spread with a most delicious and tempting repast.

Music was furnished by Miss Eleanor Bertram of Detroit, who had been Mrs. Petz's flower girl at her wedding. Miss Zadi Sullivan sang several selections, among them, "Love's Lullaby," "Longing, Dear, for You," and "I Love You Truly." Oliver Goldsmith read James Whitcomb Riley's "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," in a most splendid manner. To the accompaniment of music.

Games and other merriment furnished the amusement for the balance of the evening. One of the features of the evening was a mock wedding which produced no small amount of fun.

The bride and groom of twenty-five years ago were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Petz have resided in Plymouth for the past twelve years, and are among Plymouth's most honored and respected residents. They have a large circle of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes on this anniversary occasion.

Garner-Grainger

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the presence of immediate relatives at the Baptist parsonage in Wayne, last Thursday evening, August 15, at 8:30, when Miss Fannie M. Grainger of Wayne, daughter of Charles Grainger of this place, became the bride of Ward L. Garner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Garner of Wayne.

They were attended by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Garner.

The bride was lovely in a gown of pink georgette, and carried white tea roses. Mrs. Garner was charming in a blue ensemble, and carried pink tea roses.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Garner left on a brief honeymoon to Marquette.

A COAST TO COAST HOOK-UP AGAIN BY JUDGE RUTHERFORD

C. OF C. NEGOTIATING FOR INDUSTRY WHICH WILL HELP PLYMOUTH

GENERAL MACHINE AND IRON BUILDING IS BEING SOUGHT BY DETROIT MEN.

TO MAKE SHEET STEEL BLANKS

Plymouth has bright prospects for another industry that we believe will mean much to the future prosperity and growth of the village. At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Friday evening, several Detroit gentlemen were present and outlined their plan to purchase the plant of the General Machine & Iron Works.

The gentlemen present were L. H. and J. Killets and Dr. M. Rattner. These gentlemen propose to purchase the General Machine & Iron Works Co. plant at the site today, Friday, and equip the plant with machinery and start operations immediately. It is their purpose to purchase sheet steel which will be cut into blanks of the size and shape used for automobile manufacturers and other concerns.

According to Mr. Killets, the building is ideally suited to the needs of the new company. The senior Mr. Killets has had a large experience in this line of work. He has been identified in an executive capacity with some of the largest concerns in Detroit.

The Chamber of Commerce was asked to provide some financial assistance to the proposed new company, which was arranged for without difficulty. If the purchase of the plant is completed today, it is expected that the new company will be under operation within a very short time.

We congratulate the Chamber of Commerce in the good work they are doing.

Within a week after the first report of their activities, a newly organized chicken stealing ring from near Salem has been transported to prison by the sheriff's department and all but two of the fowl recovered.

Three men involved in the ring, John Hall, Lloyd Hamilton and Charles Chapman, were taken to prison Monday. Hall to serve from one and a half to three years at Ionia, Hamilton from four to five at Jackson, and Chapman from three and a half to five at Jackson.

MEN JAILED FOR STEALING FOWLS

NEWLY ORGANIZED RING NEAR SALEM GIVEN PRISON TERMS

The men, all of whom pleaded guilty, were sentenced Saturday by Judge George W. Sample.—Daily Ypsilanti Press.

These are the men mentioned in last week's Mail, who were apprehended by Chief of Police George W. Springer, and Frank J. Boyle of Salem. Mr. Springer overheard a conversation between two men the other day, upon the street in this village, that led to their arrest.

Tear Gas Released

Shortly after eight P. M. Monday night members of the fire department were called into service with gas masks to enter the Plymouth United Savings Bank where the janitor, accidentally discharged the tear gas bombs which are placed in the bank for protection against holdups with the result of being driven to the street until the gas cleared. Just how this accident occurred is not known. It proved to all who gathered around that the gas was a mighty effective weapon.

GRASS FIRE CALLS OUT FIRE LADDIES

About three o'clock Tuesday afternoon, a grass fire in the rear of the H. S. Lee Foundry & Machine Co.'s plant called out the fire department. The fire had gotten quite a headway, and before the flames could be controlled they had got into a pile of lumber in the rear of the John Merten's place. The blaze was finally subdued before any great damage was done.

THE FAIR SEASON.

Fruit and grain crops are pretty well harvested in most parts of the country now, and rural America has a breathing spell. As usual, that moment of leisure is going to be used by hundreds of thousands of them in attending their nearest county fair. It is an institution that has not been wiped out by the more modern forms of entertainment, and it speaks well for the nation that it has not been.

The county fair makes for progress and better understanding in the greatest industry in America today—agriculture. Today it is devoting more space and attention to the work of boys' livestock clubs and girls' canning clubs; that feature alone seems to have given it new life and another good reason for its perpetuation. Keeping alive the interest of our boys and girls in farm life is really keeping intact for the future the very foundation upon which the nation is builded.

We hope every Plymouth citizen maintains his old-time interest in this typical American institution. It is too valuable a form of education, too worthy a means of entertainment and too helpful from the standpoint of community welfare to be permitted to pass out. Speak a good word for the county fair whenever you can, and visit as many of them as you can. You will not only be bettering your own condition, but you will be helping to keep alive an institution that deserves the hearty support of every rural and small-town resident.

Washtenaw County Fair, August 27-31; Michigan State Fair, September 1-7; Northville Wayne County Fair, September 17-21.

PAINT AND BARN.

Here comes Uncle Sam to wreck another popular theory, the theory that to look right a barn ought to be painted red. The Department of Agriculture says rural communities can be beautified if farmers will get away from the idea that barns must all be painted this color. Flash them up a little by using a variety of colors, says the department. They also argue that all buildings on a farm should be painted alike. Such a suggestion might appeal to residents of some sections, but we are confident red will always be the popular color for barn painting around Plymouth. Not because it has always been, but because the best barns have always been red. It is a color that blends with the landscape in summer and fall and is homey and comfortable looking in winter and spring. It fades into the pattern of its surroundings, and it is economical. And if these are not enough reasons for sticking to red, we know where we can dig up some more.

WARRING ON WEEDS.

We're suffering one nuisance in Plymouth just now that there is no excuse for tolerating. That is the weed patch.

Despite the fact that everyone knows the harmful effect of high weeds at this season of the year, attention has to be called to the matter of cutting them every year. Even then some are not mindful enough of the health of the community to mow them, or have it done. Hay fever and kindred ailments are not the only things traced to weeds. There is always the danger of a conflagration that might burn up a goodly portion of the town. Nothing creates a more destructive fire during the dry days of late summer than a patch of weeds close to residential property. The very people who wouldn't tolerate a lot of loose powder scattered about their premises will close their eyes to something as dangerous—dry weeds.

It's true that frosts and rains will come along a little later on to level them. But a lot of illness can be occasioned by them between now and that time. And one match dropped into any single patch of them could burn several families out of house and home. We shouldn't wait to be told our duty in this respect. Civic pride and our personal interest in the appearance and health of the community should be sufficient to level every weed in town. Won't you do your part without further delay, whether your neighbor does his or not?

BETTER PREACH PEACE.

"If there is going to be war, let's be glad it will be in Manchuria, where it can't possibly involve us," says an exchange reaching our desk. It sounds good—but it's wrong. We thought the same thing in 1914 when some idiot assassinated away over in Serbia, a prince we never even heard of. That didn't mean anything at the moment, but the World War grew out of it—and we certainly got into that good and plenty. No sir, we don't want to hear of a war anywhere on earth any more. And neither do the fathers and mothers of Plymouth boys. Even one war in a generation is just one war too many, regardless of where it starts or what it starts over. So don't just sit down complacently and feel that we can't possibly be involved. Just feel that we might in some way be dragged into it—and keep on preaching peace.

CLOTHES AND FASHION.

We read recently where some fellow who was suffering with the heat weighed his wife's clothes and then weighed his own. Her garments, including shoes, weighed a little over a pound; his tipped the beam at seven and a half pounds. It does seem strange how men will weigh themselves down just to follow custom while women keep shortening their skirts and taking off something else to gain more comfort. Fashion and convention play too great a role in our everyday life, and while we laugh at the women and call them "style crazy" we are the ones who really dress uncomfortably and actually do the suffering. Maybe some day we, too, will get up as much nerve as the women, so we can tell the clothing makers, as they tell the dress designers, to either give us something comfortable or we'll quit wearing clothes altogether.

CAMP INTERLOCHEN AND WHAT IT MEANS TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF THE NATION

The following article will be of more or less interest to Plymouth people from the fact that a local boy, Maynard Larkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Larkins, is a member of this great orchestra and has been at Interlochen the past summer:

The summer camp idea for boys and girls has been spreading during the past few years with the wild fire rapidity customary with ideas in America that take the popular fancy. Wherever a stretch of woods or a lake of any considerable size is to be found there also one is sure to find some sort of a camp. Some of them are developed along military lines, others resemble Indian tribes, with chiefs, councils, pow-wows and tribal traditions. Still others feature western ranch life and win lusty converts to the joys of cow punching and lariat throwing, but none of these camps pretends to have so tremendous an influence upon American life as one that is located in Interlochen, Michigan, which did not come into existence until last summer and is only now becoming familiar to the general public.

Music is the controlling spirit at this unique camp, the conductor's baton sets the pace, concerts of almost professional excellence take the place of amateur stunt nights and harmony is the beginning, center and end of every happy day. It is safe to say that no camp in the country is more devoted to the carrying out of an inspired idea than is this National High School Orchestra's summer camp. Here, for eight weeks during the summer, two hundred and fifty boys and girls representing the most accomplished musicians of our high schools all over the country, are gathered together and, interspersed with the regular camp activities, pursue their musical education under an environment that is nothing short of ideal.

Here a symphony orchestra of one hundred and fifty players, a band of ninety skilled instrumentalists and a choir of sixty well trained voices are devoting all the vigor of their youthful enthusiasm to studying, practicing, rehearsing and performing with a zest for work not often found for play. Here some of the most famous conductors and music-artists of America gather to lead them—Carl Busch, Howard Hanson, Albert Stoessel, Leo Sowerby, Edgar Stillman-Kelly, John Erskine and many others. Truly, a remarkable camp!

Like most happy realities, this youthful camp where music reigns supreme is the outgrowth first of a dream, then of a hope and finally from something of a struggle.

Everyone who has been following educational trends in this country at all is aware of the remarkable growth of interest in music on the part of secondary schools during the past few years. From being a rarity, a school band and orchestra are customary activities and rank in standards with any other course in the curriculum and credit is given for work accomplished.

Back in 1922, Joseph E. Maddy, head of the public school music department of the University of Michigan, looked over the high school orchestra at Richmond, Indiana, and found it good. He considered it so superior, in fact, that after developing seventy of its best members into a symphonic unit, he took them down to show off his prize before the national conference of school music supervisors in Nashville, Tennessee, and two years later to the same assemblage at Cincinnati.

So great was the enthusiasm shown for their efforts that Mr. Maddy was inspired still further and, culling the best from all the high school orchestras in Indiana, formed the Indiana State Orchestra. Now anyone who understands American psychology at all knows that one state isn't going to let another keep any idea as good as that all to itself. In no time at all, state orchestras began springing up in all parts of the union until now after a bare half dozen years, no less than twenty-one of the states have their own state high school orchestras. These states are Indiana, Ohio, New Jersey, North Carolina, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, California, Utah, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas and West Virginia.

From these sporadic organizations the next logical step was the formation in 1926 of a National High School Orchestra, brought about again by the indefatigable Joe Maddy. This was done by judiciously selecting from all the state orchestras the best of each type of musician who, put together, would compose a perfectly balanced symphony. This orchestra has appeared before a number of large and highly critical audiences of musicians and music instructors in Detroit, Dallas and Chicago, and by means of a radio hook-up has even been heard in far-off England. Tremendous enthusiasm was in every instance expressed at the high degree of musical merit shown by the children but still Mr. Maddy was not satisfied.

For a symphony orchestra to put on a finished performance requires a greater degree of co-ordination than can humanly be expected from a scant week's association no matter how well they have been trained as individuals or with what vigor they approach their task. Realizing this, Mr. Maddy conceived the idea of getting this orchestra together not for a few feverish days but for eight weeks of solid work and concentration, away from the distractions of city life, and with the added stimulus of a woodland environment. With this resolution in mind, the National High School Orchestra and Band Camp came into being.

Interlochen was selected as the ideal spot because of its central, relatively central location in the country, its wooded seclusion, natural attractions. The camp is located fourteen miles southwest of Traverse City, Michigan.

Of course, Mr. Maddy could not do this all alone. Thaddeus P. Giddings, Minneapolis supervisor of music, was an enthusiastic co-operator with him and initial realization was brought about through the generosity of Willis Pomington of Detroit, who donated the use of twenty thousand dollars' worth of beautiful pine woods between the two lakes of Wah-Ba-Ka-Ness and Wah-Ba-Ka-Netta. It becomes the legal property of the National High School Orchestra Camp Association after five years' use. Fifty thousand dollars worth of building and equipment have been added through the donations of individuals and groups who are convinced of the miracle-working powers of music in the lives and hearts of the youth of the nation.

The boys' camp is near Lake Wah-Ba-Ka-Ness and the girls' at Lake Wah-Ba-Ka-Netta. The two camps are run as separate units without fraternizing between the members of the two camps except under the supervision of the counselors or instructors. Twenty counselors, a faculty of thirty, the majority outstanding symphony orchestra leaders, nurses and physicians make up the staff. Each camp has its own group of cottages in which from eight to twelve members are housed, mess hall, bathing beach and camp equipment. There is also the "little red school house" where lessons are recited, an infirmary, cottages for the faculty, a guest house at which the relatives of the children can be comfortably put up for a visit, and the Interlochen Bowl where the concerts are put on for an audience of many thousands, drawn from all parts of the countryside under the spell of their music. At a single concert, license plates of 26 states were counted on parked automobiles.

Three hundred members is to be the maximum number allowed in attendance at the camp. In 1928 the first year of the camp's existence, 150 were enrolled, this year there are 250 students at Interlochen representing forty-two states in the Union and two members from Hawaii. Seventy-five are girls and 175 are boys.

Selecting the personnel is a double-headed task. Not only must the candidate be sincerely and wholeheartedly recommended by his instructors and musical supervisor both as to character and musical ability but means must be found to provide his scholarship at the camp and to pay transportation both ways. The cost of the eight weeks of instruction and living expenses is three hundred dollars. Many of the students are sent by funds raised by their schools, their local chamber of commerce, Kiwanis, Lions or Rotary club or other public-spirited group who wish to bring recognition and glory to their community by having a representative at this national organization. In some instances the pupils are sent by the parents and sometimes an ambitious youngster manages to earn a goodly part of his own scholarship.

But raising three hundred dollars and travelling money is no slight undertaking for a school boy or girl with lessons to keep up and music to practice and for the most part the scholarship must be donated by interested individuals, groups, music associations or industrial companies.

Once at camp, the fortunate boy or girl who has succeeded in being selected as a candidate out of the thousands of names sent in and who has received a scholarship, finds himself in a veritable beehive of activity. First he is assigned to a cottage and gets into the camp costume—blue shirt and corduroy trousers or knickers,—it is hard to tell the girls from the boys. Each student selects some one course of study, such as harmony, composition, conducting, score reading and teaching, becomes a member of the orchestra, band or choir and in addition receives instruction in and has to practice on the instrument of his individual choice. Altogether seven hours a day are spent in study and practice. Every hour of the day from seven to ten brings its own particular occupation. Here is a typical day's program:

- 7:00—Rise, setting-up exercises, dip in lake
- 7:30—Breakfast
- 8:00—Clean up cottages
- 8:25—Inspection
- 9:00—Classes
- 12:00—Dinner and rest period
- 1:30—Music classes, recreation
- 2:30—Band, music classes, recreation
- 4:00—Sectional rehearsals, recreation
- 5:00—Recreation
- 6:00—Supper
- 7:30—Ensembles choir, recreation
- 9:00—Everyone in his own cottage
- 9:30—Quiet
- 10:00—Taps, Lights out

This is a pretty full program, but with all this there is plenty of time for play, swimming, canoeing, tennis and volley ball being the favorites. Art classes, handicraft and dramatics are also on the curriculum, and a camp paper, "The Scherzo," is published by the students. There are no classes Saturday afternoon, Sunday is given over to church in the morning, a formal concert in the rustic bowl by the camp band in the afternoon and a symphonic concert by the orchestra in the evening. Thousands of people for miles around drive over to hear these concerts and their admission fees constitute one source of income for defraying expenses.

How the boys and girls thrive under this regime may be judged from the fact that the camp infirmary last year had only two patients and both of these were not students but counselors. The children were weighed when they came and as they left. One child lost one pound, while the average gain was 54 pounds for the boys and 63 pounds for the girls. Good food, fresh air, exercise, a happy environment and a regular daily schedule are given credit for this healthful record.

Plans for the camp for next year are already under way. By then it is expected that the full quota of three hundred members will be reached, judging by the response of philanthropic individuals and civic-minded organizations in the matter of scholarships. Instead of selecting a majority of high school seniors on account of their being the more proficient musicians, from now on candidates will be chosen from the freshman class up. This is in order that the student may have an opportunity of more than one year's training at the camp and also that he may take back to his school the message and spirit of the National High School Orchestra.

One fact should be strongly emphasized. While a great deal of real talent is unearthed and developed by the national orchestra, it is not the purpose of the organization to cater to genius. A few of the members will undoubtedly find their way to the concert platform and may even become world famous. For the most part, however, these children will simply be well-trained, musically intelligent amateurs. Music will probably always be a part of their lives, even after the business world and the home have claimed them. They will learn to be competent performers instead of passive listeners as is the tendency in America. About half of the students now at the camp have expressed their intention of becoming professional musicians, many of them instructors and supervisors, for which there is a great demand.

Pewter and Pewterware

When in 1750 Ebenezer Coffin of "The Crown and Beehive" Cornhill, Boston, imported fifteen barrels of pewter dishes, he did not foresee that a day would come when these plates and platters, porringers and drinking cups would be worth as many dollars as they were then worth shillings.

There were three grades of this metal: Common, Trifle, and plate pewter.

We are offering some of the most distinguished patterns in modern Pewterware

Pewter played a prominent part in Colonial households. In many homes it was the only tableware, and there was scarcely an important event that was not connected with it. Candle-cups were used at christenings, wedding guests toasted the bride from high tankards; and baked meats at funerals were served on the great round chargers. It was the age of pewter and for more than a century it was supreme. After the Revolution it lost its prestige and slowly gave place to English crockery.

But time has again turned the scales in favor of this old metal. Recognizing its importance in modern table service

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

At its regular meeting last Monday evening, the Commission approved the grading of Farmer St. from Irvin St. west to Moreland road, the work to be done at once. With other grading work previously authorized and now completed in the west part of town, the improvement brought about must be seen to be appreciated. Graveling of the newly graded streets will follow later in the season.

The prolonged drought has seriously dried out lawns and grass areas in our parks and cemetery as well as upon private property throughout the village. Kelllogg Park, sprinkled every day, shows least the effects of the dry weather.

The Commission has approved the request of the Wayne County Park Board for the installation of a water main along Park Ave. from Mill St. to the west boundary of Plymouth (Riverside Park), the work to be done during the 1930 season. The Park Board expects to install a complete water distribution system in the park within the next year.

The recent dry weather makes the building of bonfires a serious fire hazard unless these are carefully tended while burning. Two fires within the past week were traceable to lack of care with fire in dry, inflammable surroundings.

HOW TO GET TO THE STATE FAIR GROUNDS

Michigan State Fair officials are recommending what they consider the most desirable auto routes to the fair grounds so that upstate visitors to the fair, September 1 to 7, may follow the most convenient roads, enter by the most accessible gate and be certain of finding parking space and of seeing the exposition.

The officials' concern is prompted by the conditions of last year, especially on Labor Day when 12,000 autos filled all parking space within the grounds and for a mile around, and congestion at certain points was so great many visitors either did not see the fair until late or at all. Meanwhile other gates were almost unused.

Supplementing their route suggestions, fair officials have provided parking facilities for an additional 5,000 cars by grading 15 acres just south of the race track, increasing parking space 50%.

Fair visitors from the Saginaw-Flint section and using Route US-10, are advised to turn east on the Eight-Mile road and enter at the Eight-Mile road gate.

Jackson-Ann Arbor district visitors coming on US-12 should turn off on Telegraph road, follow it to Seven-Mile road to Livernois, then turn north the 8-Mile road, and enter the grounds at the 8-Mile road gate.

Turning onto the Seven-Mile road from Gratiot avenue is advised for those coming in from the Port Huron-Mt. Clemens district, on US-25, continuing to John R, then turning north to either State Fair avenue or Eight-Mile road and west to the gates on those routes. Thumb district visitors should follow the VanDyke or John R routes into Detroit and enter at the Eight-Mile gate.

Grand Rapids-Lansing visitors coming in on US-16 are urged to turn off Grand River avenue at Seven-Mile road and follow the route outlined for those using US-12.

Detroiters are urged to use the Second, Livernois and John R avenue routes to the grounds and enter by the Bauman gate on State Fair avenue.

While in the Vatican, they had the honor of an audience with Pope Pius 11th. A train along the rugged rock-lined shore of the Mediterranean, brought the travellers to Genoa, Columbus' birthplace, and where the most wonderful compensante in the world is. From Nice, a bus on the high and low corniche roads leads to the principality of Morocco. Monte Carlo, the fortune and life breaker, is the scene of many tragedies, for one turn calls for another.

A train to Marseilles, thence the Rhone valley to Lyon, via Dijon and Fountainbleau, brought Paris in view. Paris is like Rome in the respect of places of interest to see. The places visited were: Eiffel Tower, Arc de Triomphe, where the impressive soldier's grave is, and the flame that never dies; Opera, Statue of Jean of Arc, Palace of Justice, The Parthenon, Latin Quarter, Notre Dame, Town Hall, Place de La Bastille, Grand Boulevard, Madeleine Church, Place de La Concorde, Tuilleries Gardens, Tomb of Napoleon, The Louvre, etc. A day at Versailles, brought them to the Malmaison, Palace of Versailles, Grand Trianon, Petite Trianon, and Farm of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette. Paris is very gay in its night life of follies, opera, casino and night clubs. Everyone joins some of these, for Paris is not Paris without. A train to Cherbourg through a typical French farming district and towns where streams bubble in and out among the rocks, brought a happy group to a tender which conveyed them and collected luggage to the Em-press of Scotland. The sailing was fine until they neared the gulf, and then a heavy fog settled down compelling them to anchor among the icebergs for 27 hours. But ship life is restful, so it mattered not. On landing at Quebec, a train hurried them to Detroit, with the exception of Miss Peck, who was met by her folks in Plattsburg, N. Y. But we people here in Plymouth say now that we have returned, "The sky is a little bluer, the home a little nicer and a friend a little dearer in a little Michigan town named Plymouth."

INTERESTING FACTS ON FUTURE OF AVIATION

By R. U. McINTOSH

Do you realize that there were eight thousand or more drawings made by the engineering staff in the Dornier factory in Germany, in the building of the hundred passenger "Do-X" flying boat, and that after tests were made it functioned perfectly and not even the center of buoyancy or the water line off.

Designing, engineering and building flying boats, amphibians and airplanes is very similar to that of the ship building business. Capable engineers are able to calculate very exactly just how an airplane will perform when finished. It is a question today just how many passengers or pay load the plane is supposed to carry.

You, no doubt, read about Miss Marvel Crosson being killed when her parachute failed to open. It is a very sad accident. I happen to know this young lady, and will say that she was a very capable flyer. We read of the failures and mishaps, but we do not read of the thousands of times that the parachute does open.

A good pilot does not necessarily have to be a good flyer and have a record of no crack-ups and several thousands hours of successful flying, but a good pilot in my judgment is one who knows how to crack up an airplane and save his neck. In case of a forced landing, it is sometimes necessary to land in very dangerous places. It is the wise pilot when he knows that his life is at stake that can crack up his airplane to avoid personal injury. Sometimes it is far safer to stay with the airplane than to jump with the parachute.

Automobile racing, air meets and air racing are all dangerous, and the public expects to see an accident. Some are very disappointed if they witness thrilling air races and do not see an accident. Just as long as they will continue to have stunting and racing, there will be accidents.

Did you read in the paper about Lieut. Al Williams racing in his Mercury, making in excess of three hundred miles an hour? It is estimated that it will do in excess of three hundred and thirty-four M. P. H. It is equipped with the Packard X twenty-four cylinder one thousand one hundred horse power motor. We look upon this speed as terrific, but within ten years the passenger planes flying across the continent will be flying at the same rate.

Many years ago man wanted to fly, and after many unsuccessful attempts did succeed to stay in the air one minute. Man wanted to learn what made his funny looking contraption fly. After many years of study experiments, etc., man learned what made his heavier than air craft stay in the air. Then man wanted to carry more weight, and to do so it was necessary for him to develop wing curves known as air foils capable of lifting heavy weights, and thus after years of development man can use his pencil and paper and figure out exactly how much an airplane can lift, its speed, weight and many other such requirements as needed by his airplane. Today it is merely an engineering accomplishment to build an airplane to fit anyone's specification.

If a new business was easy to put over, and if success was yours for the wishing, what a terrible lot of dissatisfied people there would be in the world. Success does not come easy to those who can withstand the trials and tribulations that accompany everything new that is started.

The aircraft business in the United States has been developed to the tremendous proportion that it is today with very little set backs. It seems that they have been thoroughly financed over-night, and that they did not suffer any loss of time, but attained success over night. I could name many companies that sprung up in just a few weeks, and are building airplanes on a night and day shift.

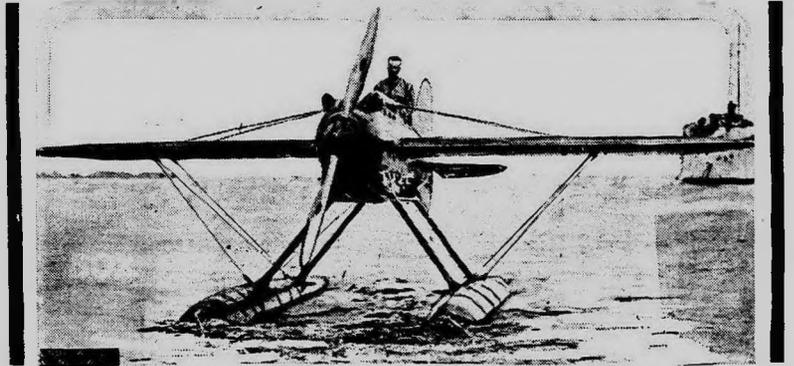

Indeed it is the psychological time to enter into the aircraft manufacturing business. You, no doubt, have read in my previous articles about the assured success of the amphibian in this country. Let me emphasize again, the importance and the safety factor the amphibian offers to the transportation companies. They must carry a great deal of insurance, and the rates are high. If they operated an airplane that could land both on water and land, the insurance would be far cheaper.

You, no doubt, read of the accident that happened to one of the Loening amphibian air yachts of the Thompson line. The reason for this accident should have been avoided if the boat hull was designed to stand a landing speed on the water at excess speeds. I understand that the bottom came off because of the terrific speed with which the boat struck the water. The pilot, being unable to see the water due to the thickness of the fog, could not ascertain the difference between the fog and the water. Fog sometimes becomes so thick and so low that it cannot be separated from the water. Of course, fog flying is dangerous. They should not have ventured into the fog when they learned of the seriousness.

Our amphibian is built to withstand fast landing on water because when landing in high altitudes on lakes, the air is thinner, and especially if our plane is heavily loaded it will be necessary to land fast. We are learning many lessons from the experiences of others.

This company has received numerous letters from transportation companies seeking information about our amphibian. One company wants to know if we can build a forty-passenger flying boat. These inquiries merely bear out my prediction that the amphibian will in a very short time dominate the air.

Snakes Impede Work of Power Line Patrolmen

Newburgh, N. Y.—Hundreds of poisonous snakes have impeded work of patrolmen on the high tension power line along the Delaware river near Port Jervis. One patrolman, J. E. Marsh, said he has killed 90 reptiles in a few days. Other patrolmen are carrying clubs to combat the many copperheads, rattlesnakes and other dangerous snakes which are rampant in the region. Excessive rains and hot weather is believed to have brought the serpents out in unusually great numbers.

Who Is Bee's Partner? Puzzle to Scientists

Boulder, Col.—A strange team of the insect world, the busy carpenter bee and a tiny mite defies the analysis of scientists. The mite, according to Norma LeVague of the University at Colorado, is found in a peculiar abdominal pouch in female bees and in their nests. They are found only in tropical regions of the Old World. The relationship of the two has not been clearly solved. The suggestion is offered that the mites keep down the fungus growth in galleries which the bees drill in timber and that they protect their hosts of the excess pollen which may adhere to the hairy body after raids on flowers.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

YOUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO BE AFFILIATED WITH U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

What Tapping the Digested Experience of Nearly 1,000 Active Chambers of Commerce Means to Local Business and Professional Men.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, by affiliating with the national chamber, has at its disposal the digested experience of nearly 1,000 active chambers of commerce throughout the United States over a period of many years. By joining the National Chamber, we add to our organization their staff of specialists dealing with industrial development, community advertising, street and highway traffic, aviation, retail and wholesale trade, city planning, and other problems.

In referring a problem concerning commercial, industrial or civic activity to the U. S. Chamber, a local business man should realize that an opinion from Washington has a two-fold advantage. As a clearing house of practical information, the National Chamber has the advantage of knowing what methods have been tried successfully in other communities, and, moreover, what methods have been tried and found wanting.

Service To Members.
Service in the more restricted sense of answering inquiries and supplying information in the whole wide range of trade matters forms a considerable and useful part of the National Chamber's activities. The various departments are provided with staff men capable of dealing with the policy issues arising in each of the broad divisions of American commerce and industry.

In carrying on the policy work members of the staff establish contacts and become familiar with sources of information and service in every field of business. They accumulate, as a by-product of the policy work, a large amount of specific trade information. The National Chamber is at all times ready to place such information at the disposal of its members.

The National Chamber does not attempt to do everything itself. It recognizes that other organizations are specialists in particular fields, and that other agencies, including government departments, are primary and expert sources of information and service on particular subjects. The National Chamber does not undertake specialized work which other organizations or agencies are better equipped to do. It does know, however, what these other institutions and agencies are doing and how to place this knowledge at the disposal of its members.

A Few Examples of the National Chamber's Service To Members.

Developing a community as a retail shopping center is a matter of major interest. Much time and money have been wasted in going at the matter in the wrong way, for example, in attempting to stimulate buying at local stores in any community by basing appeals solely on sentiment. The Domestic Distribution Department of the National Chamber is in a position to advise as to the methods which have been and are being used successfully—as to how merchants pull together through trade surveys, collective advertising, education of salespeople, good will promotion, and special sales events.

Getting new factories is an activity of interest to many chambers of commerce. The methods of handling this work have gone through a great change. Chambers of commerce have learned, as the result of bitter experience in many instances, what are and what are not resultful methods for inducing new factories to locate in their communities. It would be impossible to estimate the costs of this experience, but they would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. A member chamber of the National Chamber may obtain the benefits of this experience by addressing the Commercial Organization Department.

The National Chamber can also assist in investigating a particular industry. For example, a western chamber recently received a proposal for the relocation of an eastern plant. The business had been established for some years and apparently was successful. The proposition required the refinancing of the company. Several hundred employees might be needed. It seemed a very attractive proposal.

The National Chamber, when consulted, suggested that the local chamber have a further study made of the eastern plant. This study revealed that much of the machinery and equipment was out of date, that processes were equally old, that markets were scattered and strongly competitive, and that the new capital required was very much in excess of the value of the property.

The Civic Development Department can give helpful information on such matters as community building, city planning, zoning, housing, citizenship, recreation, public health, and education.

It is impossible to go into further detail at this time. If you have a problem which you believe the U. S. Chamber could help you with, the way to get action is to communicate with YOUR chamber of commerce. We will present your case to the National Chamber.

Next Sunday, August 25th, the Filers from Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, will be seen in action at De-Ho-Co Park. The Filers have a strong team capable of taking the measure of the De-Ho-Cotes.

Big Rodeo At State Fair September 1-7

The life that the early-day cowboys followed with its hazardous work and equally dangerous games will be lived again, with no decrease in its thrills, in the rodeo which will be the outstanding entertainment attraction at the Michigan State Fair, at the state fair grounds, Woodward Avenue between the Seven and Eight Mile roads, September 1st to 7th.

The rodeo will be the first of its type to be seen in this section of the country. Performances will be given each afternoon and evening. It will be on a plane with those that have become famous as yearly events at Calgary, Cheyenne and Penitente. A large number of cowboys, cowgirls and Indians will take part. Many of the men riders are champions, following years of competition. All are veterans of the old cattle days. A number of the cowgirls are world champions in their own right.

Three of the main events, bronco-busting, steer bull-dogging, and the chuck-wagon races, have never been in this section in the fashion in which they have actually occurred as part of the work, danger and play on the cattle ranches. The bronchos used in the bucking and wagon racing have never been tamed to harness and the steers used in the bull-dogging are Brahmas, a cross between the Texas longhorn and the sacred bull of India, and possess the greatest fighting spirit of any breed of cattle.

W.C.T.U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will have a lawn party Thursday, August 29th, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John Rattenbury. Leader for the day—Mrs. E. C. Vealey. Paper—Women as Cigarette Smokers. Is the habit growing? The Cigarette Advertisement. The Next Great Issue. After the program a co-operative tea will be served, and the usual silver collection taken. Everyone will be made welcome.

The Michigan Union of August says: W. C. T. U. women visit at least 1,000,000 patients in hospitals and institutions each year. They give annually at least 300,000 garments to people in distress; they will take 100,000 invalids for automobile rides this year. They make annually at least 5,000 visits to prisons with comforts or encouragement for the unfortunate. In addition many state and county W. C. T. U. organizations maintain special charities such as homes for friendless and aged.

Belleville Home-Coming

The Belleville home-coming committee is busy working on the details for the event to be held here on Labor Day, September 2nd.

Numerous important features have already been scheduled and the committee is busy finishing up preparations for the biggest and best home-coming that Belleville has ever had.

Vandeville, baseball, boat races, dancing and many other things are featured as headliners this year. An auto show will be held. Dinner and supper will be served on that day by the Rotarians.—Belleville Enterprise.

SPEED OF 22 MILES BEST ON ALL CROWDED HIGHWAYS

A speed of 22 miles per hour permits the maximum capacity of a crowded highway, according to investigations made by the Pennsylvania department of highways.

If all drivers maintained this speed, it would be possible for 1,980 vehicles to pass a given point in one hour on a one-lane highway.

If the speed is increased, it becomes necessary for the vehicles to stay farther apart and the capacity of the road is decreased. If the vehicles go slower and closer together, the capacity of the road also decreases.

MILES OF WIRE.

The copper highways of the Bell System reach out to the most isolated places. 19,500,000 telephones—68,000,000 miles of copper wire—are making America one vast community. There are more than 2,500,000 telephones on American farms, practically all of which connect with the Bell System's nation-wide network of wires and cables. And eight times as much wire as is seen is tucked away in underground and aerial cables.

You can always tell when a Plymouth man's wife is coming home from a visit. It's when he starts in and waters all those yellow things that were once flower plants.

"Gem-Studded Tree" Fireworks At Fair

Trees that grow in a second and die in a minute—palm trees studded with gems—will be part of the spectacular aerial fireworks display to be staged nightly at the Michigan State Fair's eightieth annual exposition, September 1 to 7. It will be the first time this type of fireworks will be seen in this part of the country. They will be one of the main events of the nightly grandstand show to be made up of the Wild West rodeo, the type made famous at Pendleton, Ore., Cheyenne, Wyo., and Calgary, Alberta; 15 vaudeville acts, and a concert by Al Sweet's band in cowboy costume. The renowned 91st Highlanders "Kiltie" band of Canada will be heard each evening at the horse show in the coliseum.

The palm trees seen in the display are "Jeweled Palms." Huge bombshells, exploding high in the air, release lines of green color which look like the fronds of palm trees. Along the fronds and at their tips are tiny brightly colored globes which give the trees a gem-studded appearance.

"The Photographer's Nightmare" is another mystifying effect. A huge shell releases more than 5,000 tiny particles, brilliant and white, which flash intermittently, each like the bright illumination of a flashlight charge, and lighting up the firing ground and the entire surroundings.

Other unusual effects are "The Flight of the Glow Worms," made up of thousands of tiny globes that flash on and off in the air like fireflies; the "Screaming Geysers," producing showers of steaming silver color belched into the air with screaming sounds; the "All Star," brilliant fiery stars of many colors and sizes that chase each other about the sky and fall gracefully to the ground, and "Aerial Searchlights," duplicates of those used to light "No Man's Land" during the war. The most awe-inspiring is said to be the display, "The Union Screen," an immense battery of mammoth gold-on showers cascading in the air.

It has about reached the point around Plymouth where the only thing that can be planted close to the road is something the tourist can't eat.

We can't abolish Wall Street. We've got to have a place where the fellow who is too high-brow to shoot craps can do his gambling.

The family knows where old Dad can get the most rest. It's the place where the family can have the most fun.

63 Cars Sold For Each Mile of Road Built

There were approximately 170 new motor vehicles registered in 1928 for every mile of highway constructed on the Federal aid system of interstate highways and 33 for every mile of road surfaced throughout the nation, according to the American Automobile Association, which has petitioned Congress for an increase in annual appropriation for Federal aid from the present amount of $75,000,000 to $125,000,000.

The estimate of the A. A. A. is based on an increase in motor vehicle registrations of 1,330,883 in 1928, with approximately 8,000 miles of highway built on the Federal aid system and 36,000 miles surfaced throughout the country.

The fact that road building agencies are unable to keep pace with the gain in motor vehicle registrations offers an unanswerable argument for speeding up the construction of highways," declared Thomas P. Henry, president, "and deserves the attention of the legislative branch of the government."

Today's Reflections

Another way to improve on present-day married life would be to invent cans that open with a push-button.

When it comes to a lovers' quarrel, most Plymouth girls are willing to compromise by keeping the ring and returning the heart.

We are told that a saxophone has 167 distinct parts. The mistake was in assembling them.

Falling arches are said to be increasing among girls, but not from standing too long in front of a dishpan.

With styles what they are now, no man around Plymouth can accuse his wife of putting everything on her back.

The fellow who is doing his share of pulling on the car never has time to rock the boat.

Nowadays early to bed and early to rise entices many parents to look up in surprise.

If all the big powers reduce the size of their navies who's going to go out and hunt for lost ocean flyers?

Do you know any car of its price that matches America's finest medium-priced automobile?

Read the chart comparing today's Oakland All-American Six with twenty other leading medium-priced cars.

Thirteen of these cars are higher-priced than Oakland. Yet despite this fact, in 878 individual comparisons Oakland is definitely superior on 451 or 51.37 per cent. And the competing cars, all combined, are able to equal Oakland on only 382 or 43.50 per cent.

Let us show you the detailed results of these comparisons—all serving to substantiate the statement that today's Oakland All-American is America's finest medium-priced automobile.

What these features mean to you

Large piston displacement is needed to develop high power at moderate engine speed. Moderate engine speed is an important factor in the life of a car.

No name in automobile coach building means so much as Fisher. Fisher bodies are famous for style, luxury and roominess. In addition, they hold such advantages as sturdy composite hardwood and steel construction, VV windshield, side cow ventilation and adjustable drivers' seats.

Reasonably long wheelbase gives greater riding ease and road balance. Also permits use of longer, smarter, roomier bodies. At the same time, a small turning circle is essential to handling ease.

Oakland All-American Six, $1145 to $1375; f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Spring covers and Leaning Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and for financing when the G. M. A. C. Time Payment Plan is used.

THE New BUICK

The Greatest success in all Buick history

More people have purchased New Buicks during the past two weeks than in any similar period of any previous year

The New Buick with Body by Fisher has met with a veritable landslide of public demand, many purchased before ever seeing the car—many thousands of others placed their orders the first few days it was on display—other thousands have been taking demonstrations and then making Buick their choice.

More Buick owners have entered orders—more men and women who owned other cars have turned to Buick—more people who formerly paid from $1000 to $2000 higher for their automobiles have purchased Buicks—than ever before during a similar period in Buick's twenty-six year history.

The total demand during these two weeks is from three to five times as great as that for any other automobile priced above $1200.

Popularity so overwhelming carries an unmistakable message to every prospective motor car buyer: See the new Buick—drive it—compare it—and you'll quickly discover that it's the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the entire quality field.

Saratoga Lake, N. Y.—Summer guests in South Bouquet valley report witnessing a mother bear cuffing some cows because they came too near her cubs, which were playing in a pasture. The mother had remained in the shelter of the woods, while the cubs played about in the open. The cows, at first afraid, later began to group about the bear babies. The mother rushed into the open, and rising on her hind feet, cuffed the cows right and left. One cow, in particular, she followed so closely that it jumped a fence to escape the blows.

SEASONABLE DISHES

As almost every one likes a good potato salad here are two worth adding to your card index:
Potato Salad.—Take ten small boiled potatoes, three small cucumbers, three stalks of celery, four hard-boiled eggs, one small grated onion. Cut the vegetables into thin slices and use any desired dressing with salt and cayenne to season. The charm of a good potato salad is lost unless the dressing has had plenty of time to season the potatoes and cucumbers. The potato should be parboiled at least two or three hours with a snappy dressing. Then the cucumber and onion may be added a short while before serving.

Salad Dressing.—Take the yolks of seven eggs, gradually beat in four tablespoons of the best olive oil and one-half cupful of melted butter, the juice of a lemon, three tablespoons of salt, one-half cupful of vinegar, one tablespoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of mustard. Cook over hot water until thick.

Cheese and Celery.—Take a cream cheese, add enough cream to make slightly soft, season with salt and a delicate green. Make a mound of browned, salted and peppered water and roll in the stalks of celery around the mound. Serve with crackers as a salad.

Cheese Nests Salad.—Take cream cheese, but a delicate shade of green and roll into small cones around a peanut or almond. Decorate with finely minced parsley and a few with chopped nuts. Lay into lettuce nests and serve with a mayonnaise dressing.

Sherry's Dressing.—Mix one-half cupful of olive oil with five tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one-half tablespoonful of powdered sugar, one small chopped Bermuda onion, two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, one-half teaspoonful of chopped red pepper, one tablespoonful of chopped green pepper and one teaspoonful of salt. Let stand an hour in a mason jar; shake for five minutes before serving.

RELISHES AND PICKLES

Now is the time to get ready for all the good things which add so much to the table during the whole year.

Be sure to try one or two jars of these attractive pickles:
Cucumber Circlets.—Select cucumbers one and one-half inches in diameter, pare, cut into halves and remove the seed portion with an apple corer. Now slice into half-inch thick pieces. Simmer for a couple of hours in half vinegar and water, to cover, salting to taste; drain. Make a sirup of one pound of brown sugar, three cupfuls of mild vinegar and boil five minutes with a bag of mixed spices; skim and pour over the rings. Stand over night; repeat two days more.

Peach Conserve.—Scald and peel six pounds of ripe peaches, add an equal quantity of sugar, the shredded kernels of six or eight pits, two oranges put through the meat chopper and the juice from a small bottle of maraschino cherries. Cook, stirring frequently until well blended, adding a few minutes before taking up, the cherries cut into fine pieces. Store in jelly glasses or half-pint jars.

Watermelon Balls.—Cut the pink but firm part of the center of a ripe watermelon into balls with a potato scoop. Soak over night in weak alum water. In the morning rinse and pour on ice water, drain and put into boiling sirup made of three-quarters of fruit in sugar and just enough water to cover the balls. Add one-half each of a lemon and orange thinly sliced to each pound of fruit and one ounce of ginger root cut into small pieces to each three pounds. Cook until clear, skim out the fruit, boil the sirup until thick and rich, reheat the fruit and pour into jars. This is a very pretty conserve as the balls keep their color fairly well.

REVIEW SHOWS BUSINESS GOOD

REDISCOUNT RATE ADVANCE SIGNIFICANT IN COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

AUTOMOTIVE OUTPUT LOWER THAN JUNE, BUT HIGHER THAN JULY, 1928.

By WAYNE W. PUTNAM, Assistant Vice-President, Union Trust Company.

Although moderately curtailed by midsummer influence, business by and large during the past month continued active. Much of the vigor which characterized industrial operations during the first half of the year was still in evidence during recent weeks. Trade also was good. The general level of both industry and trade continues above that of a year ago. Such barometers of the movement of goods into consumption as freight car loadings and bank clearings bear witness to that. The attention of the business world is now being focused on credit and crops, the two influential factors that will largely determine the state of business for the remainder of 1929.

Dediscount Rate Important

The most important and significant development in recent months was the advancing of the rediscount rate of the New York Federal Reserve bank from 5 per cent to 6 per cent, accompanied by the lowering of the buying rate on bills from 5 1/4 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent. The announcement of the reserve board's decision followed closely on the heels of the report that brokers' loans, after eight consecutive weekly increases, had reached a new high level of $6,020,000,000. This long threatened move, which was wholly unexpected at the present time, was made primarily to stabilize money rates and secondarily to check the flow of credit into security speculation. Sufficient credit for the movement of crops and for the requirements of commercial borrowers for fall expansion is now assured. Easiness in the credit situation generally may not result from the federal reserve board's action, but it is a step in that direction. Although the indicated yields of 34 important crops combined, according to the department of agriculture forecast as of August 1, is 4.8 per cent less than last year's harvest and 1.4 per cent below the average of the last 10 years, the estimated value of those crops on the basis of August 12 prices is at least equal to the income received by American farmers for last year's harvest. The larger income from a smaller yield is due principally to the recovery in prices for wheat and other grains. Viewed in the light of agricultural prosperity the outlook for fall trade is bright.

Iron and Steel Active.

The iron and steel industry continues to make a most substantial contribution to the country's prosperity. Steel ingot production the opening week in August stood at 94 per cent of capacity as compared with 72 1/2 per cent last year. The strong support given to the business situation by the automotive industry was somewhat less during recent weeks. Building and engineering activity in July was 12 per cent above June and 20 per cent above July a year ago. It is probable that this recovery in construction will prove to be merely temporary.

Michigan Business Good.

Business in Michigan, as reflected in reports from bankers and business executives in all sections of the state, is maintained at a high level for the month of August. It is doubtful whether commerce and industry in this state have ever experienced a more active summer. A few lines have slowed down to the normal seasonal pace, but numerous other lines have contracted only slightly. Radio production has turned upward. Paper mill operations recently quickened but the improvement was only temporary. The industry is almost equally divided between the mills that are running normal and those that are operating below normal.

A firmer tone is evident in the furniture industry and the outlook is for steady improvement. The July furniture market was fairly satisfactory. Canning factories are well occupied. Furnace and stove manufacturers report an improvement in business during recent weeks and a better outlook for the latter half of the year. Paint, varnish, pharmaceutical and chemical output is holding at a satisfactory level. Business in the Upper Peninsula is in a healthy condition. All copper and iron mines are working and lumber mill activity is better than usual.

Auto Output Is Up.

The chief source of strength in Michigan's industrial situation is coming, of course, from its automotive plants. July production for the industry amounted to 524,155 cars and trucks, which was 42,589 units below the June output, but 106,843 vehicles above the number manufactured in July a year ago. Several companies bringing out new models are now working on heavy schedules. August production is expected to equal that for July and may exceed it. The industry produced 3,828,000 units during the first seven months of this year and stands a good chance of reaching the five and one-half million mark by the end of the year.

Employment conditions throughout the state are highly satisfactory. Industrial employment is reported normal in 44 cities, increasing in 13 and decreasing in 9. The Detroit employment index, prepared by the Detroit Board of Commerce, stood at 131 on August 1, as compared with 128 on July 1 and 123.5 on August 1 a year ago. Ford plants are now employing 117,326 workmen and output is averaging 8,200 units daily. Employment in Muskegon is at the highest peak in that city's history.

Consumption of electricity in Michigan industries in July totaled 200,048,353 kilowatt hours, a decrease of 6 per cent in comparison with June, but a gain of more than 8 per cent in comparison with July a year ago.

Twenty principal cities in Michigan issued construction permits in July aggregating $17,895,064, in comparison with $16,812,965 in the previous month and $18,029,721 in July last year.

Bank debits in Detroit in July totaled $2,331,137,000, which was 5 per cent above the debits for June, 1929, and 38 per cent above those for July 1928. Savings deposits of Detroit banks and trust companies on August 1 amounted to $348,576,000, in comparison with $318,922,000 on the same date in 1927, and $230,000,000 on January 1, 1922.

Michigan's crop production will be nine per cent less than that of 1928, according to the forecast prepared by the Michigan department of agriculture. Higher prices for potatoes, fruits, wheat and other grains should offset the decrease in this year's harvests.

The volume of wholesale and retail sales is good. Retail trade, however, is quite spotty. Tourist trade has been heavy during the past month. Men's furnishings and dry goods are making the best showing. Building supplies is the lowest line in wholesale trade. Retail collections are fair to good. Wholesale collections are fair to good. —Free Press.

FINDS HAPPINESS IN SHARING RICHES

Wealthy Man Cuts Down to Moderate Means.

St. Louis, Mo.—Giving away a fortune has provided happiness in the declining years of life for Robert S. Brookings, of this city. Thirty-three years ago Mr. Brookings was a wealthy man. Today he has only a moderate income—because he believes a man can enjoy money more by spending it wisely than by hoarding it. Mr. Brookings is now seventy-nine years old.

The philanthropist began his business career as a shipping clerk at a salary of $25 a month, which was just enough to pay for his room and board. He was promoted time after time until he was high in the employ of a large manufacturing business operated by Samuel Cupples, in St. Louis.

Just 33 years ago Mr. Brookings and Mr. Cupples held one of the strangest conferences in history—the former asking his employer just how was the best way of getting rid of all his money except what he would need to support himself.

The ultimate result of that conference was that Mr. Brookings has organized three institutions for study and research in problems of government, developed a tottering little college into an institution of world-wide fame, Washington university, and devoted much of his time and money to patriotic service for his country. There are hundreds upon hundreds of homes in St. Louis today which are more luxurious than his. But he is happy!

Says Garden of Eden Was in South Africa

New York.—The cradle of mankind, the spot where man came into being as a new species and from which he spread throughout the world, can now be placed with fair assurance in South Africa. It was announced recently by Logan W. Pond, assistant curator of Logan museum, Detroit, Wis., who returned on the French liner De Grasse from an extensive exploration of prehistoric sites in Algeria.

Pond brought back skeletons and parts of skeletons of 13 individuals, two of whom he is convinced lived more than 80,000 years ago and 6,000 flint and bone implements which he collected from the 47 prehistoric habitations which he excavated. Beside these he found charred fruits which may furnish information as to the character of the vegetation in North Africa 20 to 25 centuries ago.

The wealth of prehistoric material which he found almost wherever he searched in the Sahara strengthened his belief that the scene of the actual "Garden of Eden" might be found in Africa and his investigations just concluded provided much additional evidence. Included in Pond's investigations was a detailed study of the routes which man has followed in his migrations.

We can escape neither death nor taxes, and it appears that death herself cannot sidestep the tariff. Six traveling skeletons, a short time ago, were assessed a 10 per cent ad valorem duty before being admitted to the United States. —New Orleans Times-Picayune.

The Manager reported that an agreement had been reached with Mr. Wm. Gow, 1292 Penniman Ave., relative to the price at which the Village may secure the northerly 25 feet of Mr. Gow's property for street opening purposes, the agreed price being $250. It was recommended that the Commission authorize purchase of the land in question, and payment to Mr. Gow of the above amount. It was moved by Comm. Shear supported by Comm. Kehrl that the Village Manager be directed to secure a proper deed to the aforementioned parcel of property and that a check for $250.00 in favor of Mr. Gow be ordered drawn up in payment thereof. Carried by the following vote:

Ayes: President Robinson, Commissioners Kehrl, Shear and Wiedman. Nays: None.

Petition was presented by Perry W. W. Richwine, representing the Chamber of Commerce, requesting that the Commission direct the Treasurer to defer collection of the two per cent penalty on tax collections for a period of one month after the expiration of the regular tax collection period on August 10th. After considerable discussion of the matter, it was moved by Comm. Kehrl supported by Comm. Wiedman that exemption from the payment of the said two per cent penalty be extended to and including August 25th; and that the Treasurer's warrant be extended for a period of thirty days after expiration of the tax collection period. Carried unanimously.

Considerable discussion was entered into relative to the need for more stringent regulations governing the maintenance of public alleys in the Village in clean, sanitary and possible condition; also regulating the burning of rubbish in such alleys. It was moved by Comm. Kehrl supported by Comm. Wiedman that the Manager and Attorney be directed to draw up a suitable ordinance covering the matter under discussion to be presented for the approval of the Commission in the near future. Carried.

The following resolution was presented by Comm. Kehrl and supported by Comm. Wiedman:

Yes, Germany Still Has Quite an Army

With as much of an army as is permitted by the peace treaty, Germany keeps well up to date in military matters. Above are seen members of a gun crew, equipped with gas masks, firing their gun during recent maneuvers at Dohertiz.

was not fast enough, it was decided to substitute a body similar to that carried by the Delage. The desired effect was obtained, and the Graham-Paige eight surpassed the Delage record by averaging 93.88 miles per hour for 200 kilometers, and 92.52 miles per hour for 200 miles.

Besides these two new records, Graham-Paige also holds five international records in Class C (cars of smaller displacement), a standard six-cylinder Graham-Paige 621 with a 4-passenger touring body having set new marks, in a continuous run, for 4,000 kilometers, 3,000 miles, 5,000 kilometers, 4,000 miles, and 5,000 miles. These records were established by a team of three British drivers on the Montlhery track near Paris, France.

GUNS BELCH LEAD IN CATTLE DIPPING

Arkansas Politician Charged With Murder.

Texarkana, Ark.—L. K. Person, wealthy plantation owner and politician, is being charged with the murder of L. H. Simmons, range rider and former police chief of Texarkana, as a result of the latest outbreak in the cattle dipping war which has raged in southern Arkansas for the last three months.

Simmons, engaged in checking up on undipped cattle in connection with the joint federal and state tick eradication program being carried on, was shot to death a short time ago. Simmons and three other range riders had caught some of Person's cattle which had not been dipped and were driving them to a vat when intercepted by Person. The latter was alleged to have threatened to kill one of the range riders, and Simmons interceded. He was shot three times and died a few hours later. In a dying statement Simmons said that Person opened fire when he told him he was under arrest and that he was shot twice before he could fire. Person was uninjured. He declared that Simmons fired first.

Person, who was an unsuccessful candidate for the Arkansas legislature in 1928, declares that he has been in favor of the dipping program, but dipping officials declare he has not dipped any of his cattle and that he fired at several negroes assisting them in dipping several days ago.

The death of Simmons is the first casualty in the dipping war, but there have been numerous other outbreaks in Miller, Howard and Pike counties. Numerous vats were dynamited in all three counties when the dipping program opened. Howard and Pike county gentlemen sought injunctions against the dippers and held demonstration parades and secret mass meetings and otherwise opposed the program.

When range riders were sent into the counties to check up on cattle that had not been dipped and with orders to seize them and forcibly dip them, a mob of 500 or more Miller county cattle owners marched on the courthouse and demanded that the range riders be recalled and there were open threats that they would be killed.

At Nashville, in Howard county, a mob of 300 or more cattle owners attacked a group of range riders engaged in dipping cattle, and one was hurt seriously. One prominent Howard county man was arrested and is now held under a $2,500 peace bond by the state and under $10,000 federal bond on charge of interfering with federal authorities. His hearing is set for November 11.

Riders Are Mobilized. After the mob action at Nashville, state and federal range riders were mobilized from a large area and dipped most of the Howard county cattle. Evidently that federal warrants had been issued for several other prominent men in Howard county, including several state and county officials, apparently broke the force of the opposition. Work of dipping was reported to be progressing rapidly until the killing of Simmons.

During the last few days opposition has been renewed and smoldering flames have flared again in Howard county with the assault on W. W. Honeycutt, enforcement officer, and H. P. Aldridge, county supervisor. Will Branch was fined when convicted of the assault in Municipal court at Nashville, but a group of cattle owners promptly paid his fine.

Person has been at liberty with a guard appointed by Sheriff Flect Moore since Simmons' death. This leniency on the part of the sheriff has aroused the ire of state and federal dipping officers and federal officials have indicated they will take a hand in the prosecution of Person, since the range riders are working under joint supervision of state and federal authorities.

Britain Planning Bar on Gaudy Gas Stations. London.—If the government adopts the recommendations of the special committee of the home secretary's office, Great Britain will be rid of hideous, many colored gas filling stations. In order to safeguard the scenery of the countryside, the committee has proposed that all stations may be painted only in one color, that flashing electric signs be prohibited, that advertising lettering be made smaller, and that corrugated or galvanized iron be forbidden for roof construction.

The committee is also seeking a "standard" advertising sign for use along the roadside eliminating the hideous variegated billboards now employed.

America Regains Two Speed Records

After winning two records early last spring, only to have them exceeded later in the season, America has regained the 200-kilometer and the 200-mile international records from France, through the performance of an eight-cylinder Graham-Paige on England's famous track at Brooklands.

Covering 200 kilometers at an average speed of 93.88 miles per hour, then continuing to complete 200 miles at an average of 92.52 miles per hour, the four-speed Graham-Paige again took title to the international records for these two distances in the class of cars from 300 to 400 cubic inches piston displacement.

The record-breaking run was made by D. M. K. Marendaz, driving a standard Graham-Paige model conforming to the regulations of the governing body that officially observes all attempts to break existing records.

The Graham-Paige achievement at Brooklands is the climax of an interesting rivalry between France and the United States.

At the opening of the present season, the International 200-kilometer and 200-mile records stood to the credit of a Delage, a French car famous for its high speed. In April, its records were successfully attacked by the Graham-Paige eight, which raised the figures to nearly 80 miles per hour. On this occasion, the run was made with a five-passenger sedan carrying full equipment, the first time a closed car had ever gained a speed record at Brooklands.

Spurred on by the victory of the American car, a Delage equipped with a sports body set out to retrieve the record for France, and exceeded the Graham-Paige sedan's figures by a wide margin, averaging 93.00 miles per hour and 88.87 miles per hour respectively for the 200 kilometers and 200 miles.

Recently the American car was again taken to Brooklands, but preliminary tests showed that while it could touch 88 miles per hour, the sedan body was so great a handicap that the track could be lapped at no more than 90 miles per hour. As this

AROUND ABOUT US

Two factories will locate at Farmdale this fall, manufacturing tool steel and fabricated tubing. Construction of a Sunday School building for the Farmington Baptist church was started recently. Contracts were awarded for laying of water mains in various sections of Dearborn and installation of sewers. A Perry, Mich., farmer harvested 180 1/2 bushels of wheat from 4 1/2 acres, or an average of 40 bushels to the acre. The machinery from the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Company has been moved to Dearborn recently. Construction of the new airplane hangar at the Redford township hall was begun last week by the United States government. The Michigan Central Railroad Co. will install signal lights on all principal crossings of their railroad between Dearborn and Wayne.

E. E. Brown, former editor of the Northville Record and Chelsea Standard, has bought an interest in the Washtenaw Tribune. A $175,000 bond issue approved to provide funds for laying of water mains and consolidation of four schools into one district at Garden City. Dearborn school officials held ground-breaking ceremonies last Monday evening, August 13, for a new school to be erected at Arthur and Mead avenues. An attractive entrance and fence that will eventually encircle Grand Lawn cemetery is being erected on Grand River avenue just west of Berg road near Redford. Clayton Lanzbacker, 20, of Orchard Lake, a painter engaged in painting the Dix Avenue bridge over the Rouge River, was drowned early Tuesday morning, when he was thrown from the bridge which was being raised to let a steamer pass.

Construction of the new Ann Arbor city garage and storehouse is now underway, C. C. Kingsley, contractor having started Tuesday. The building is to be located near the Ann Arbor railroad tracks and Summit Street. It is estimated that it will cost $27,000. David Gage celebrated his ninetieth birthday Sunday, the 11th day of August at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. L. Thompson, at 405 Dunlap street, Northville. His three sons, Clement E. and wife, Stephen C. and wife, of Saginaw and Clayton of Flint, were present to help celebrate the event. Plans for a city owned hospital at Dearborn will be drawn up as soon as the council acts on the selection of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls, by the hospital commission to prepare specifications for the new hospital. The firm was selected from four architects which were being considered for the city job, and were notified of its selection by the commission. Here is not a "whopper" of a story, but the story of a "whopper" brought back from Houghton Lake by Norman Lee and vouched for by him. Adolph Nacker of Farmington, who with Mrs. Nacker has been vacationing up north, astonished the natives around Houghton Lake the other day by hooking a wall-eyed pike weighing fifteen and one-half (15 1/2) pounds. Veteran anglers say that this is an exceptional size for wall-eyed pike. Indications are that Julius Porath & Son, well-known Detroit contractors, will get the contract for the building of the Farmington cut-off on Grand River. The state has asked for bids for the work, which will probably be started early this fall. The cut-off will leave Farmington entirely off Grand River except those who care to travel an extra mile or so in order to go through the town. This is the stretch of road that Farmington residents so strenuously opposed for the past few years. Some believe that it will be an aid to the community, as it will give the town another paved street at the expense of the state—Farmington Enterprise.

FRIENDS REBUILD HOME OF ORPHANS

Provide New Shelter When Farmhouse Burns. Florence, Wis.—A plucky orphan boy and his two little sisters were dealt with harshly when fire destroyed their farm home and all their belongings at Fern, a community near here, but folks at Fern and in Florence made up for the blow in a hurry. The three are living in a new home—even if it is just a shack—they have new furniture and clothing and the boy, Charles Moller, nineteen, can keep on with his man-sized program. Charles has been pegging away two years, and has made payments on a 40-acre farm, where he lived with Leona, thirteen, and Rose, seven. Leona was the "mother" of Rose and did the housework. Charles worked for Earl Biller at a small farm sawmill. He helped Leona with her work after his regular hours, and the three were putting up the bravest fight anyone in these parts has ever seen. One night Charles went over to Louis Tampack's farm, a quarter-mile away, for milk. He stopped to visit a while and started home after 9 p. m. Halfway home he saw flames, and when he got there he found the two girls shivering in their nightgowns outside the burning house. They had been awakened by smoke and had barely escaped. It wasn't long before the news spread through Fern and Florence, and telephones began to ring. "Did you hear about the Moller children; what can you give for them?" was the casual greeting. Women crossed backyards to carry the news. Biller, at the sawmill, said that they could live in a shack near the mill and soon after a table, a bed, then a chair appeared. Clothing for the girls had been brought early. By the end of the week the place was completely furnished and the children had more clothes, a stock of groceries, and even some money.

Hunters Will Seek Rare Gyrilloblatta Wisconsin—A hunting party in search of the rare and elusive gyrilloblatta has left for Moraine lake. The quarry is the great-great-grandfather of the cricket and cockroach who lived during the ice age. The hunters are Miss Marjory Ford of Ottawa, Ont., Miss E. Hamilton, lecturer at Toronto university, and Miss Abldh, East Indian student at Toronto university. The gyrilloblatta is a primitive and abnormal form of insect life that survived and adapted itself to the ice age when the continent was buried beneath glaciers. Upon mossy logs at the foot of the glaciers it has lived ever since, and today its haunts are about Moraine lake, whose beautiful glacier is one of the attractions of the Rockies. It dies of heat if exposed to a temperature over 10 degrees above freezing, and thrives in subzero weather. To be preserved alive it must be taken away in pans of cracked ice and kept in a refrigerator. The peculiar habits of this etymological marvel were discovered by Dr. Norma Ford of Toronto university, and the insect itself was first found by Dr. F. M. Walker of Toronto some years ago upon Sulphur mountain, near Banff, Alta. There are few specimens in existence, and Moraine lake is one of two or three places in the world where they can be found.

29 Americans in Newly Started German School Berlin.—Twenty-nine of the forty-two students enrolled in the newly opened German Music Institute for Foreigners are Americans, according to a recent announcement. The remaining students come from England, Finland, Holland, Hungary, Rumania, Russia, Sweden and Switzerland. Classes are being held in the Charlottenburg castle in the western section of Berlin. Special rooms in the castle have been set aside for this purpose by the Prussian minister of education, one of these rooms being the famous golden gallery which was for the first time opened to the public during the recent Berlin festival. Wilhelm Furtwaengler is president of the institute.

Town Needs Doctor, Judge Sets Him Free Frederica, Del.—The large number of sick persons in this town saved Dr. Claude Keith from a prison sentence for driving an automobile while intoxicated. Joseph Cross, president of the town board, pleaded for him. "He is badly needed in Fred erica," he said. "The town will suffer greatly if this man is sent to jail. There is only one other physician, an aged man, and Dr. Keith does most of the work." Judge Lynn fined the physician $200 and gave him a suspended sentence of three months. He was placed on parole for two years on his promise that he would not drive his car during that time. Doctor Keith was arrested in Wilmington, where he was not known.

RESPONSIBILITY

One of the irritating circumstances of motoring is that in which some irresponsible driver, in a car long due for the junk heap, goes tearing down the road regardless of other motorists. All right may be on the side of the careful drivers whom he brushes by, but the knowledge of being right does not help them if the reckless one forces them off the road and into a serious accident. Even were he caught and imprisoned for his recklessness, those who suffered from it could not be recompensed for their losses because of his lack of financial responsibility. It is to avoid such a situation that the American Automobile Association is sponsoring what it terms a "safety responsibility bill" in the various state legislatures, by which a person once in an accident and unable to make amends for others' losses would be deprived of his automobile license until such losses are paid. A driver's license law is a necessary adjunct to such a bill, and so the A. A. A. advocates such regulation in every state. Thus, if a driver has been convicted of reckless driving, driving while intoxicated or for any other serious offense, his license is taken from him and isn't restored until he shows he is financially responsible, by insurance, by a surety bond or by a cash deposit, for any possible claims that may be made against him. This is an answer to the drive for compulsory automobile insurance, such as is established in Massachusetts. It is considered a sane, conservative way of attacking a problem that has long troubled the authorities and made motoring difficult for the responsible drivers. It pays to carry liability insurance in case you meet with an accident while driving. Work Two Ways Laws are always useful to those who possess and vexatious to those who have nothing.—Rousseau

In estimating the merits of the Milford fair which closed Saturday night, the general verdict, both of visitors and promoters seems to be that the fair as a whole has never been equalled on the Milford grounds. The exhibits were pronounced better in many departments and the entertainment features were all that could be expected. As to concessions, stands, and shows, there were undoubtedly too many of them for any fair not in a center of dense population. The receipts from various sources have not been announced. Gate receipts will be about the same as last year's, but grand stand receipts, owing to the pageant, are much larger than ever before. Receipts from concessions should also show an increase.—Milford Times.

Construction of the new Ann Arbor city garage and storehouse is now underway, C. C. Kingsley, contractor having started Tuesday. The building is to be located near the Ann Arbor railroad tracks and Summit Street. It is estimated that it will cost $27,000. David Gage celebrated his ninetieth birthday Sunday, the 11th day of August at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. L. Thompson, at 405 Dunlap street, Northville. His three sons, Clement E. and wife, Stephen C. and wife, of Saginaw and Clayton of Flint, were present to help celebrate the event. Plans for a city owned hospital at Dearborn will be drawn up as soon as the council acts on the selection of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls, by the hospital commission to prepare specifications for the new hospital. The firm was selected from four architects which were being considered for the city job, and were notified of its selection by the commission. Here is not a "whopper" of a story, but the story of a "whopper" brought back from Houghton Lake by Norman Lee and vouched for by him. Adolph Nacker of Farmington, who with Mrs. Nacker has been vacationing up north, astonished the natives around Houghton Lake the other day by hooking a wall-eyed pike weighing fifteen and one-half (15 1/2) pounds. Veteran anglers say that this is an exceptional size for wall-eyed pike. Indications are that Julius Porath & Son, well-known Detroit contractors, will get the contract for the building of the Farmington cut-off on Grand River. The state has asked for bids for the work, which will probably be started early this fall. The cut-off will leave Farmington entirely off Grand River except those who care to travel an extra mile or so in order to go through the town. This is the stretch of road that Farmington residents so strenuously opposed for the past few years. Some believe that it will be an aid to the community, as it will give the town another paved street at the expense of the state—Farmington Enterprise.

29 Americans in Newly Started German School Berlin.—Twenty-nine of the forty-two students enrolled in the newly opened German Music Institute for Foreigners are Americans, according to a recent announcement. The remaining students come from England, Finland, Holland, Hungary, Rumania, Russia, Sweden and Switzerland. Classes are being held in the Charlottenburg castle in the western section of Berlin. Special rooms in the castle have been set aside for this purpose by the Prussian minister of education, one of these rooms being the famous golden gallery which was for the first time opened to the public during the recent Berlin festival. Wilhelm Furtwaengler is president of the institute.

Town Needs Doctor, Judge Sets Him Free Frederica, Del.—The large number of sick persons in this town saved Dr. Claude Keith from a prison sentence for driving an automobile while intoxicated. Joseph Cross, president of the town board, pleaded for him. "He is badly needed in Fred erica," he said. "The town will suffer greatly if this man is sent to jail. There is only one other physician, an aged man, and Dr. Keith does most of the work." Judge Lynn fined the physician $200 and gave him a suspended sentence of three months. He was placed on parole for two years on his promise that he would not drive his car during that time. Doctor Keith was arrested in Wilmington, where he was not known.

Christian Science Notes

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, August 18th.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness." (Isa. 26:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul and Spirit being one, God and Soul are one, and that one never included in a limited mind or a limited body. Spirit is eternal, divine. Nothing but Spirit, Soul, can enlive Life, for Spirit is more than all else. Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality." (p. 335).

The Lesson-Sermon for next Sunday, August 25th is "Mind."
All are welcome.

ESKIMO BOYS FLEE TO ESCAPE DISEASE

Ends Experiment With White Civilization.

Toronto.—Ben and Sam, two Eskimo boys on whom the hopes of their race had been pinned in an experiment with the civilization of the white man, are fleeing for their lives back to the safety of the Arctic wastes. Not from the roar of the cities are they fleeing, nor from the white man's learning, but from a mightier agency—disease. The experiment has failed.

Two years ago an Eskimo chieftain, far up in the silent Arctic, asked the head of the missionaries to send his son to the unknown lands to the south to learn the ways of the white man. "My people haven't a chance unless they are able to meet the white man on his own ground," he said.

Attend White Man's School.
And so nine-year-old Ben, son of Chief John Eli, head of the Southampton Island Eskimos, accompanied by his friend of the same age, Sam Pudbutt, of Lake Harbor, Baffin Land, were handed over to the headmaster of the Lakefield Preparatory school, near Peterboro. They had been brought down from the North by Rev. F. H. Gibbs, a returning missionary.

It is of the utmost importance that these boys should be considered in every way on the basis of white men," were the instructions of Venerable A. L. Fleming, archdeacon of the Arctic.

Ben and Sam knew no English, but they were good-natured, good sports and intelligent. They were unanimously acclaimed as general favorites by their new white playmates.

But Ben and Sam were forced to relinquish their studies to face an ordeal of sickness, from which they barely escaped with their lives. After influenza they took pneumonia, measles, tonsillitis and underwent operations for mastoids and adenoids.

It had been pronounced that for them to remain here means only one thing—death.

Sail for Arctic Wastes.

So Ben and Sam sailed from Montreal on a Hudson Bay company's ice-breaker, the Nasopla. They will be taken back by returning missionaries. They do not want to go back to the land of the midnight sun, and the reason they expressed was just "Eatin' Lan' too cold."

"This experiment has been thoroughly satisfactory from one point of view," declared Ven. A. L. Fleming, who bore the responsibility and expense of the enterprise. "It has shown that the Eskimo is in no way inferior to the white man."
The archdeacon said the Eskimo was an intelligent but undeveloped race. The way Ben and Sam picked up the white man's language and customs in such a short time was remarkable. "I wish white men could learn Eskimo as quickly as these two picked up English," said the archdeacon.

Surgeon Gives His Own Blood to Save Friend

St. Paul.—The story of how a surgeon performed an emergency operation on an old friend, gave the patient a transfusion of his own blood and then hurried away to perform another operation was revealed here by attendants of a St. Paul hospital.
The patient, J. M. Riegel, widely-known northwest newspaper man, underwent an operation for the removal of a kidney. As he lay on the operating table it was seen that he needed a transfusion; both a nurse and an anesthetist, promptly gave some of their blood.

Riegel was taken to his room where his condition was found to be growing steadily weaker. Close friends and relatives of the patient gathered at the door, eager to give him some of their blood.

But with only moments to spare the physician, whose name was not revealed, refused to take the time necessary for tests, but bared his own arm and gave the patient some of his own blood.

The surgeon then hurried back to the operating room to complete the day's work, which included another major operation. Shortly after the transfusion Riegel began a steady improvement.

Find Cache of Tear Gas Buried in Berlin Suburb

Berlin.—Residents of the fashionable west end suburb of Wilmersdorf were thrown into a panic last night when an extensive cache of poison gas was discovered in the heart of their district, buried only a few inches under the surface of the streets.

Workers found layers of small glass bottles under the surface. Not knowing the contents, they broke a few. Several were so severely poisoned they were taken to hospitals.

The police discovered the cache was located on the site of a war-time tear-gas factory and that 100,000 bottles of the gas were buried there when the production of the poison was abandoned.
