PLYMOUTH WILL CELEBRATE "LIGHTS' GOLDEN JUBILEE"

The Event is Being Sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. Business Places and Public Buildings Will Be Decorated Appropriate for the Occasion.

In connection with every town and city in the country, Plymouth will join in the observance of "Light's Golden Jubilee" during the week of October 14 to 21. This event is being promoted to fittingly pay tribute to a great man—Thomas A. Edison, on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of one of his greatest inventions.

"Light's Golden Jubilee" will be one of the greatest tributes ever paid to a man, living or dead, because it celebrates the achievement of a man whose deeds place definitely among the immortals.

As the result of months of intensive work, there is a definite answer and a definite plan. It begins with the announcement that on October 21, 1929, the whole world will have the opportunity and the privilege of participating in "Light's Golden Jubilee."

Under the sponsorship of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth will do her part in paying tribute to the great Edison, and the observance of "Light's Golden Jubilee." The street lights in the village will be illuminated with globes that will cast a golden glow; public buildings and stores will do likewise. Merchants will be asked to decorate their windows with decorations appropriate for the occasion, and these will be furnished free of charge. The pupils of the public schools will write essays on Edison's achievements.

One of the big events of the week will be the dinner which Henry Ford will tender to Mr. Edison at Dearborn, at which Herbert Hoover, president of the United States, and other notables will attend. More details of the great event will appear in another issue of the Mail.

Plymouth Day At Northville Fair

About everyone in Plymouth who could do so, attended the Northville Wayne County Fair at Northville last week Thursday, Plymouth Day. The fair grounds presented a very nice appearance with all the buildings and fences repainted and many other improvements made. The exhibits in the various buildings were larger than ever, and many new features were added.

The poultry building attracted a great deal of attention, not only the large exhibit of poultry displayed, but the unique way in which it was decorated. The fair, as a whole, was larger and better than ever before.

The horse races were the center of attraction for many, and every race was well filled and some extra good time records were made. Harry Robinson was the starting judge, and as usual gave excellent satisfaction in this capacity. "Hobby" knows how to get 'em away.

A large number of Plymouth fans, of course, were interested in the ball games, and they surely got their money's worth when the Plymouth Merchants gave the De-Hot's team the first shutout they have had in a number of years. The score was 3 to 0.

The Plymouth High School band led the Plymouth procession to the fair grounds, and were given a place in the big grandstand where they played several selections during the afternoon in a manner that reflected great credit upon the director, Mr. Dijkshoorn, the band and Plymouth as well.

The officials of the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association are to be congratulated upon the success of the fair that has just closed.

ATTEMPT MADE TO ROB SAFE

TIMELY ARRIVAL OF OFFICER THUMME PREVENTS ROBBERY AT ECKLES COAL & SUPPLY CO.

An attempt was made to burglarize the Eckles Coal & Supply Co. office at an early hour last week Thursday morning. Officer Charles Thumme, making his rounds, noticed that the light usually left burning, was not in evidence, and made an investigation. It is thought that the would-be burglars heard his approach and hastily made their exit, leaving a crowbar and wrecking bar behind them.

The prowlers had gained entrance to the office through a small window on the north side of the building. They made their getaway through the back way of the building, leaving doors open as they went. The arrival of Officer Thumme just at the right time, without a doubt, prevented a robbery of this place.

MRS. AUGUSTA MIELBECK DIES.

Mrs. Augusta Mielbeck, aged 76, and resident of Nankin township, died Wednesday, September 25th. Funeral services will be held Saturday from the Livonia Lutheran church at Livonia Center, at 2:00 p. m., Rev. Oscar J. Peters of Wayne, officiating. A more complete obituary will be published next week.

Conference Returns Dr. Lendrum To Plymouth

CONFERENCE MAKES OTHER ASSIGNMENTS IN THIS DISTRICT.

At the Methodist conference of the Detroit district held in Ann Arbor last week, Dr. F. A. Lendrum was returned to the pastorate of the local Methodist church for the ensuing year. Mr. Lendrum's return to Plymouth was the unanimous wish of the membership of the Plymouth church, and very gratifying to the people of the village in general.

During Dr. Lendrum's pastorate, the local church has prospered and grown in every department. The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Lendrum are very much pleased to know they are to continue as residents of our village, where both fill large places in the religious and social life.

Other assignments in this vicinity are as follows: Ann Arbor, A. W. Stalker and S. H. Harrison; Belleville, F. M. Miner; Chelsea, F. R. Walker; Denton, E. W. Zoller; Dexter, Edward Hoeking; Dixboro, Robert Davies; Manchester, W. A. Johnson; Milan, J. J. Marsh; Northville, William Richards; Romulus, V. S. Darling; Saline, Simon Schofield; Willis, A. E. Breedon; Whitmore Lake, A. P. Richards; Ypsilanti, M. R. Reed.

CROSSING WATCHMAN STRUCK BY AUTO

An unfortunate accident happened at the Main St. crossing of the Pere Marquette R. R. last Sunday night, shortly after ten o'clock, when a car driven by Frederick Reiman, Jr., nineteen years of age, of this village, struck Joseph Robson, the watchman at the crossing and knocked him down. Mr. Robson suffered a fracture of the left leg, and was taken to a hospital in Ann Arbor.

According to reports, the watchman was in the center of the street, with his lantern as a freight train approached. Young Reiman states that he neither saw the watchman or the lantern. Mr. Robson was picked up by Fred Highfield who had just driven up, and he was taken to the office of a local physician and later to Ann Arbor.

This is the second time that Mr. Robson has met with an accident. Last September, the motor car of a P. M. section crew on which he was riding, was struck by an auto at a crossing, and he suffered a fractured shoulder.

Motor Bus Officials Meet C. of C. Committee

Mr. Bedford, superintendent of the Detroit Motor Bus Co., and his chief inspector met with the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce composed of R. R. Parrott, chairman, A. J. Koenig, Roy E. Crowe and Berg D. Moore, secretary of the board, to discuss the matter of better bus service between Plymouth and Detroit.

While no definite action was taken, the attitude of the motor bus officials was very favorable, and as soon as additional information is submitted by the local committee to the motor bus company, they have the assurance of faster service and the possibility of reduced rates between Plymouth and Detroit.

PLYMOUTH BABY WINS PRIZE AT NORTHVILLE FAIR

Rita Mae Mansley, twenty-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mansley of this village, was awarded a prize for being the prettiest baby in Class No. 2, or ages one to two years, at the Northville-Wayne County fair last week.

TWO FIRMS BURGLARIZED

The offices of the Plymouth Elevator and the Sturgis Motor Sales were broken into last Monday night. At the Plymouth Elevator Co.'s office entrance was gained by forcing a window. The combination of the safe was knocked off, thereby gaining access to the strong box within. Here the thieves secured $115 in cash. Nothing else was disturbed.

At the Sturgis Motor Sales, entrance was gained through a side door. Here, too, the combination of the safe was knocked off, but there was no money in the safe, and the thieves had their work for nothing.

As the thieves were running from the elevator office, night patrolman Charles Thumme came upon the scene. The officer pursued them, and fired four shots at the nearest thief, but apparently without effect, as the dense fog which prevailed at the time prevented the officer from clearly seeing the fleeing man. It is presumed by the officers that the robbery was planned while Officer Thumme was on the other end of his beat, and the thieves were in the elevator building watching the movements of the officer.

As a matter of precaution against burglary, it is a good thing not to keep money in office safes, and also to keep a light near the safe as an aid to the police department.

Anniversary Meeting

The Business and Professional Women's Club observed the first anniversary of their organization on Tuesday evening, September 25th, with a dinner meeting at the Hotel Mayflower, for members and their guests.

An enjoyable program had been arranged by the committee, consisting of musical numbers of Daniel Patterson, Robert Champie and Carolina Penney by the state president, Katherine G. Tuomey of Ann Arbor, and Georgia Priestly, of Kansas City, Mo., retiring corresponding secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Among other guests present was Miss Myrtle Stevens, also a member of the Kansas City Club, whose business brings her to Plymouth for a few weeks.

At the close of the meeting, the members of the local club and guests had an opportunity to become better acquainted with the out of town guests and to talk over with the state president, some of her suggestions as to future activities of the Plymouth Club. The next meeting will be held on October 8th, with Katherine Kahl as hostess.

The court has confirmed the sale of the General Machine & Iron Works building and land which was recently made to the Peninsular Metal Products Company, of Detroit.

Mehlhauser officiated. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Barrett. (Continued on page Five; Column Five)

Rotarians Hear Interesting Program

The Plymouth Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing a splendid classification talk by Cass S. Hough at the regular luncheon hour of the club last Friday. The members also heard a short talk by Mrs. Chamberlain, president of the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs, who spoke on the Woman's International Exposition which will be held in Detroit, October 14-19. Mrs. Chamberlain gave an interesting talk on the great international exposition that is to be given under the auspices of the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs.

Today, the Rotarians will be guests of Rotarian Dr. Robert Haskell, superintendent of the Wayne County Training School, at the training school.

LADIES OF THE MACCABEES WILL HOLD SUPPER

The Ladies of the Maccabees will hold another of their delicious potluck suppers Wednesday evening October 2nd, at 6:30, at their hall. Each member is given a cordial invitation to attend, and to bring dishes for their own serving, and a dish of food for the table. After the supper, the regular Hive meeting will be held, and a class of candidates initiated into the order.

The Hive is planning its activities for the winter, and is looking forward to several social events as well as enjoying each regular meeting, made unusually interesting through the cooperation of its officers and members. After each meeting, something extra is enjoyed this being planned by the Good of the Order and Entertainment committees previously appointed. So come and spend a pleasant evening with us. Visiting members of the order are always welcome.

C. OF C. EDISON ESSAY CONTEST

PUPILS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL WRITE ESSAYS PERTINENT TO "LIGHT'S GOLDEN JUBILEE" AND EDISON'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a school essay contest in connection with the "Light's Golden Jubilee," to pay tribute to Thomas A. Edison on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of one of his greatest inventions, the incandescent lamp, which will be celebrated throughout the country from October 14th to 21st.

The subjects to be chosen by the school authorities will be pertinent to Edison and his achievements. The schools will be split up into four groups—grades four, five and six at Starkweather school; grades four, five and six at Central grade school; grades seven, eight and nine in junior high, and grades ten, eleven and twelve in senior high.

There will be prizes given for each group. The essays will be graded down to the ten best for each group by the regular teachers. A special committee of school judges will then grade them down to the best five of each group. A special outside judging committee whose names will be announced later, will name the winner. The prizes will total $50 in value and are donated by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. The winners will be announced the week of October 14th.

This contest is sure to bring out some very good essays on the achievements of the great wizard of electricity, and the Mail hopes to be able to print the winning essays.

Kiwanians Enjoy Rev. Halliday

BRINGS MESSAGE CONCERNING AN EVERYDAY PROBLEM IN LIFE.

Dr. Carl F. January, program chairman at last Tuesday's Kiwanis luncheon, introduced Rev. James Halliday of Salem, Michigan, as guest speaker. Rev. Halliday taking for his subject, "Why Worry," delivered an exceptionally fine address.

"Seriously speaking, there is a good deal to worry about in life; but worry does no good. You Kiwanians build and you have built a fine moral and personal contact, but you can see your spirit wane if you worry."

Worry, analyzed from psychology, separating the conscious from the subconscious mind was treated at length by Rev. Halliday who stated that people indulge in excess pleasure to get away from worry. Any one actuated with a doubt creates worry. Worry is logic. Worry is doubt in action.

"It was the logic instead of the psychology that lost for the aggressors the greatest war in all history."

"It's the logical, and not the psychological that steers us onto the wrong road."

STARTS NEW SERIES OF ADVERTISEMENTS.

E. J. Allison has started a new and novel series of advertisements, the first one of which appears in today's Mail. It is a comic strip called "Mite-A-Minute Marty." We call your attention to the ad in today's issue.

An automobile accident occurred on the Ann Arbor road west of Plymouth, early Thursday morning, when a car in which Oscar Perkinson and C. A. Traphagen of Indiana, collided with a truck. Perkinson lost his left eye because of minor injuries. The two young men were on their way to Ann Arbor to attend the University of Michigan. Perkinson was brought to the office of Dr. Patterson, where he received surgical attention.

Local Theatre Reopened Sunday To Big Crowds

The re-opening of the Peninsular Allen theatre last Sunday attracted a large crowd of people from the time of the first showing until the last. Everybody was surprised and delighted with the new decorations and the many improvements which have been made during the past several months that it has been closed. It certainly presented a pretty appearance, the green and gold colors and the light effects blending in perfectly.

Sunday was the first time sound and talking pictures have been heard and seen in Plymouth, and for the feature picture the management could not have selected a better one than the "Rainbow Man," and it was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Plymouth patrons of the local theatre are assured the very latest and best pictures that can be secured, and at the same time they will enjoy the comforts and conveniences of one of the finest little theatres in the state.

A SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

A serious automobile accident occurred at Golden and Canton Center roads last week Thursday night about ten o'clock, when a Pontiac coupe owned by Wm. Meyers of this place, crashed into a car driven by Mrs. Eva Filkovich of 5018 Briggs St., Detroit. Meyers was travelling west while the other car was proceeding east.

In the car with Meyers were three other persons, Joseph Butler, Wm. Barker and a woman passenger. Barker suffered internal injuries, while the woman sustained bad cuts on the lips and head. These two were sent to the University hospital at Ann Arbor.

In the other car, a sedan, were Mrs. Eva Filkovich and her mother, Mrs. Rose Filkovich and the former's two children. Mrs. Rose Filkovich suffered a fracture of the left hand, and was taken to St. Mary's hospital. Both automobiles were badly damaged by the crash.

As a result of the accident, Wm. Meyers was arraigned in Justice Phoebe Patterson's court last Saturday, charged with driving an automobile under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He pleaded guilty to the charge. When the judge learned of the circumstances of the accident in which several people were injured, one of whom, an elderly lady, suffered a broken limb, she imposed the heaviest penalty on Meyers that she has ever given for a similar offense—$100 fine and 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

MORE GOOD NEWS

“Stealing from the farmer” isn't as popular a pastime as it was a few years ago, according to a report now being sent to newspapers by the American Automobile Association. There are 105 auto clubs affiliated with this organization, located in every state in the union, and they have filed reports of conditions in their respective territory, after a careful investigation.

Taken as a whole, these reports show that a new spirit of respect for the rights of those living along our highways is now to be seen on all sides. Motorists are beginning to appreciate the fact that the products they see in the fields form the farmer's means of sustenance, and that when they steal those things they are in reality taking the food out of his mouth. Apples on the ground, pumpkins in the field, grapes hanging close to the road—all these are treated with respect now by the average motorist. Of course, there still are thousands of thieves in the country, and the yearly loss to rural residents is heavy. But its nothing like it used to be and each year sees a decrease.

This should come as mighty good news to our rural friends around Plymouth. It not only signifies that the day is almost here when no one will be forced to remain at home on Sunday to guard his property, and when the auto will not be used for robbing those who live along the roadside of that which represents the sweat of their brows. And that kind of news is pleasing to residents of both country and town.

TEACHING SAFETY

Several states have recently seen fit to throw a stronger safeguard around their rural school children, realizing that traffic on all highways is now so heavy as to make them almost as dangerous as city streets. One of the latest laws of this nature, passed by the state of Ohio, makes it compulsory for a motorist to come to a dead stop upon reaching a school bus that is standing in the road in the operation of taking on or discharging school pupils. In other words it is as much of a violation of the law to drive by a school bus that is standing still on the highway as it is to drive past a street car that is standing still on a city street.

Teachers in our rural schools, too, are being encouraged to devote a few moments each week to warning the boys and girls in their care of highway dangers. Out in rural communities, where roads are unguarded by traffic officers or safety lights, it has become absolutely necessary for pedestrians to show a greater degree of care and watchfulness than ever before. This fact must be impressed on the minds of our children, and there is no better place to do it than in the schoolroom. We wish there was a law today compelling the teaching of safety in every schoolhouse around Plymouth. With the state devoting more attention to the safety of rural residents and teachers devoting more time to warning school children of traffic dangers, there is no reason why, even with an increasing number of machines, the mortality list cannot be greatly reduced.

A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK

If the opinion of A. B. Genung, nationally known authority on agriculture, is worth anything, and Uncle Sam values it very highly, then the Plymouth man who has money invested in farm land has little cause for worry. “Bit by bit agriculture is getting straightened away for a generation of prosperity,” he says in an article written for The Farm Journal. “The well located and productive farm lands of America are among the best bargains on the real estate market today. By the time we wake up to the fact they will be marking up the prices, for wise farmers are buying and when farm land starts to move upward it doesn't take it long to reach a good figure.” We are offering the gentleman's opinion merely for what it is worth. You can take it or leave it. But we do believe in it enough to advise the man with money to invest to put it into old-mother earth instead of changing it in Wall Street, with its crazy speculation flurries and paper profits that are wiped out over night.

THEY READ ABOUT IT

Speaking of sport—the world series will soon be on.

During the past 20 years there has been quite a change in sports. Every town had its baseball team. Everyone went to the games. Baseball was a great national pastime.

It may be yet, but it is different. Instead of going to games, people read the sports pages. Many issues of the larger metropolitan papers contain more news on sports than in all other things combined. The public hangs onto a street car strap and reads. In the smaller towns—where the news from the diamond is not as fresh—the radio supplies the latest information.

Sports take up as much space in the newspapers as they do because the public wishes to read about its games.

Whatever may be said, sports news is better than the lurid accounts of crime and murder, which, by the way, seems to be getting of less importance than heretofore.

GOOD-BYE ROCKING CHAIR!

Is the rocking chair to fall by the way, a victim of the fleeting whims of fashion? One alleged authority on home decoration insists that the “ensemble idea” is now the thing and that the rocking chair simply will not “fit in” with any grouping of furniture. Will we yet come to the time when the courts will recognize a valid reason for divorce in the fact that the husband simply will not “fit in” with the fashion of the furniture, or the color scheme of the parlor decorations or some other requirements of the fashions of the day in household matters? What every man knows—and most women, if they will but admit the truth—is that there is no seat more grateful to the tired human frame than an intelligently modeled rocking chair. By that we mean a rocking chair built in complete forgetfulness that there is any such thing as “fashion” in chairs; we mean chairs that are made to sit in instead of admire. Style has robbed us of a lot of things and we haven't done much protesting. But we'll be dog-gone if we don't propose to have something to say before we'll give up the good old-fashioned rocking chair.

Christian Science Notes

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, September 22. Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away; and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit." (John 15:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must reserve our feeble flutterings—our efforts to find life and truth in matter—and rise above the testimony of the material senses, above the mortal to the immortal idea of God." (Page 202).

The Lesson-Sermon for next Sunday, September 29th will be "Reality."

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is the last Sunday of September. Is your envelope in?

Joseph Woin is seriously ill at his home on Harvey street.

Mrs. F. Voss has returned to her home after a serious operation at Harper hospital.

Nethem baseball team submerged Salem last Sunday, 22 to 9. Next Sunday is the big event of the season—Rosevale Garden will cross bats with Nethem at Newburg. An exhibition game—lots of fun—come out and join the merry-makers.

Smith, about six miles west of Plymouth, on the Ann Arbor road, Thursday, October 3rd. This will be an all day meeting, and a pot-luck dinner will be served at 12:30 p. m. As this is the last meeting before the annual bazaar and chicken supper, all members are urged to be present.

The annual bazaar and chicken supper will be held at the church on Thursday afternoon and evening, October 24th.

The annual business meeting of the church was held Friday evening, September 20th. A pot-luck lunch was served at 6:30. A business meeting called at 8:00 p. m. A large crowd was present to attend in the business of the church, which shows that a large number of people really are very interested in the welfare of the church.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

METHODIST NOTES

"If any man thirst, let him come unto Me and drink." Jno. 7:37.

We are pleased to welcome our pastor and his family back for another year.

It would be a splendid thing for every member to re-consecrate himself to God, and with prayerful cooperation make this the best year in the history of our church. With God's help it can be done. May we "lengthen the cords and strengthen the stakes." "Put on the whole armour of God, and having done all, to stand."

Next Wednesday, October 2, the Ladies' Aid Society will meet at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Dickerson will have the devotions. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Fred Thomas and Mrs. Arlo Smith, and the hostesses will be Mrs. Wm. Sutherland, Mrs. W. C. Smith and Mrs. Carl Hillmer. All the ladies are invited and urged to come.

On Thursday evening, October 3rd, a union service under the auspices of the Anti-Slavery League, will be held in the Methodist church, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. The speaker will be Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Philadelphia. The public is cordially invited to come and hear this noted speaker.

Of course, we will all be at Sunday-school at 11:30 a. m. on Sunday. There are classes for everyone from—three 3 to 100 years old. Also let's get the habit of spending forty-five minutes on Wednesday evening at the mid-week prayer and praise service, an interesting and inspiring service, which should be attended by every member. Yes, Wednesday evening, 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock.

Heard after service last Sunday night: "Wouldn't it be nice if we could have the Boosters to sing every Sunday night." It certainly would be nice. Why can't we?

Many inquiries are being received in connection with sidewalk repair notices recently sent out, as to whether owners will be permitted to make their own repairs if they wish. The village has no objection to the owners making such repairs so long as the completed job leaves the sidewalk in perfectly safe condition for public use.

Removal of the old band stand from Kellogg Park, which was completed this week, very appreciably improves the general appearance of this uptown beauty spot.

Work is progressing rapidly upon the culvert installation job at South Harrey St. and Tonguish Creek. The excavation has been completed and forms are now being set in place. Another week of this good weather should see this improvement about completed.

RURAL SCHOOL ITEMS

ROSEDALE GARDENS SCHOOL NOTES
By Gwendolyn Dunlap
Our schoolroom nurse, Miss Ried, visited our school room, Monday, and gave a test on posture.
The Northville fair caused great excitement in our room, mainly because we got a half holiday.
Our menagerie consists of a turtle, tomato sphinx and a snake. The turtle gets very little to eat, for we don't know what to feed it. It's a wonder it lives. The snake didn't like it inside and insisted we let it go, so we had to let it go. The tomato sphinx buried itself and when it came back up it was brown (when it went down it was green).
We also have a yellow jacket's nest. It looks like a wasp's nest, but Miss Ried saw a yellow jacket with no wings crawl out as if it had just been hatched. The nest is gray and the bees chew wood to spray, which he makes his nest of. It is wound around tight so that the rain won't hurt it.
A fire bell rang one day during school, which made everybody hurry downstairs and outside. But set not too fast in case of somebody falling. We got out in one minute, which was very good time.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES
By Yvonne Hearn
The boys and girls of the Newburg school were given Thursday afternoon to go to the county fair at Northville.
Miss Ried visited the school Friday afternoon, and weighed the boys and girls.
The P. T. A. will give a bunco party at Newburg school the second Friday in October. We hope it will be well attended.
Jack Goodsell was out of school four days while he and his parents made a trip to Niagara Falls.
The kindergarten room is the proud possessor of a new set of building blocks.
The boys and girls of the grammar school hope to finish up their review work this week.
The seventh graders are beginning to make a map study of South America.

WATERFORD SCHOOL NOTES
The children had Thursday off for the Northville fair. Nearly all of us attended, and had an enjoyable time. Miss Ried, the nurse, visited us Friday. She weighed us and tested our posture. Many had excellent posture. The others are working hard for improvement.
Some of the children are out with colds. We hope they will be back in school soon.

We hear a lot of talk these days about "advance records" but what about the Plymouth woman who has washed dishes three times a day for the last forty years?
There are usually so many other things to complain about around a house that no man should raise a fuss just because some members of his family fail to put the tops on the tooth-paste tubes.
A man inherited a fortune so large and so securely invested that he enjoyed a life annuity of $1,000,000. He changed wives three times, but they kept getting worse. So he took to starting Monday, September 30, we will have three deliveries daily—7:00 a. m., 9:00 a. m., and 2:00 p. m. Phone 40.

KROGER STORES

STORE WILL HAVE 2nd. BIRTHDAY PARTY

(Continued from page One) has been in business here, he has built up a wonderful patronage, not only from Plymouth and vicinity, but from neighboring towns as well.

The Hayward store features the celebrated Kuppenheimer suits and overcoats, and the Wilson Bros. haberdashery, widely known for their smartness in styles and fabrics. The present showing which the store is making in these lines contains all the very latest and smartest ideas known to the creators of men's wear.

During the past year, Mr. Hayward has greatly increased his stock of merchandise in all lines, and has just lately added the Smith Smart line of men's shoes which he is featuring.

As a special attraction for the big party of Saturday, Mr. Hayward is making some very attractive prices on various lines of merchandise in the big ad in today's paper that will surely be of especial interest to everybody.

The big ad in today's Mail contains four interior views of this up-to-date store, which add much to the attractiveness of the advertisement itself.

Mr. Hayward is to be congratulated upon the success he has attained upon the second anniversary of the store; which is not only a credit to himself but to the village as well.

A most cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the birthday party Saturday. There will be flowers for the ladies and cigars for the men.

CAMPAIGN NOTES

Candidates who fail to do their very best during the few remaining days of the present vote offer are sure to meet with disappointment when the big campaign comes to a close on October 10th. The office will remain open late Saturday night to take care of all subscriptions that come in during the late hours.

Kampaign Komments. Only a few short weeks and the big subscription campaign will be a thing of the past, and the candidates who are now improving their time gathering votes will be the proud possessors of those fine prizes.

Several names have been dropped from the list of candidates due to the fact that they have never availed themselves of this chance of winning themselves a fine prize by turning in at least one or more subscriptions. Please do not hold up votes for persons whose names do not appear in our published list of candidates. No one is authorized to solicit subscriptions as a candidate whose name is not in this list of candidates.

Our honor roll will be in effect next week showing who the active candidates are. The honor roll is given to the candidates who turn in the most cash collections each day, and carries with it a daily bonus of 10,000 honor roll votes each day. Be sure and ask about the honor roll at the campaign office. Candidates will be interested in this fine feature.

Mrs. Nellie Beyer of Rosedale Gardens, is coming along with a stride that will place her in the "I WIN" class. Mrs. Beyer says the subscriptions are all taken, still they continue to come in for Mrs. Beyer. Miss Helen Beyer is attending school and has her evenings and Saturday only for the work, but her score continues to climb up where the big prizes grow. Miss Helen is popular, and that means win for Helen.

LOST—A candidate named Kenneth Cook, last seen of him was about two weeks ago, walking toward home. The campaign manager would like to learn Kenneth's whereabouts. If you are alive, Kenneth, better get in touch with the campaign manager. He has some news for you.

Mrs. Goodwin Crumie is running away with the record of NEW subscriptions to date. Mrs. Crumie deserves to succeed, and we know she will. Her efforts will be rewarded on October 10th. Watch this score, folks, and see results of haste.

Mrs. W. L. Freyman is making her own record in the face of some discouragements, as she was late starting, but her score of votes shows what a spirit worker can do with the proper spirit applied. We say she will win October 10th.

Mrs. Esther Hillman continues to be one of our best workers, and is seen every day calling on her host of friends and well-wishers to support her in the big race. Hillman has the determination and the will to win, and that is what wins every time. Mrs. Hillman has a score that we are proud to publish as it shows results that are most gratifying to her many friends.

Don't forget THE HONOR ROLL next week. Ten thousand votes given each day to the candidate turning in the greatest amount of campaign collections at the close of business each day. Try for the HONOR ROLL next week.

John Quartel is setting a pace that will have to be reckoned with at the close of the campaign, October 10th. Brother Quartel says they are getting scarce and hard to find but his score has a healthy glow and seems to be growing apace. What say, Brother John? Good roads, finest climate on earth.

and a thriving community, a good newspaper, and plenty of loyal support. Boost for our home town paper and the future is assured. Everybody wins.

Mrs. Kenneth Stevens of Robinson Sub., is coming slowly but surely, and is building clubs for the rainy day. Come along, Mrs. Stevens, the end of the big drive is just around the corner.

Mrs. Clara Todd's friends are sending in subscriptions for her which shows who is popular in Plymouth. Mrs. Todd says there are no more subscriptions to be had so her friends are leaving them in the office for her. Watch Mrs. Todd's score, folks.

Mrs. Ida Thomas of Newburg, is out hustling in those winning votes and getting results, too. Mrs. Thomas seems to have time to attend social gatherings, and at the same time pile up a winning score of votes. One of our most active candidates.

Little William Wolfram, Jr., of Wayne, Route 3, has stepped into the race with a splash that is most refreshing, and is showing some of our none-too-active candidates how to get results. A glance at his score this week shows what a real hustler can do. Don't overlook this bustling youngster, folks. He has some surprises in store for his friends and well-wishers. William says work will win, and let tomorrow take care of itself. William works every day and brings in a fine score.

Who is going to win that handsome Chevrolet coach? That is the question asked of the campaign manager every day. No here's the answer. The candidate who works every day from this time until the finish and has no time to listen to those wild stories about "It can't be done." Don't say there are no more subscriptions when NEW candidates are entering and making a fine showing. What's the answer?

We begin by fooling others and end by fooling ourselves.

Tuesday noon, September 24th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist church, when Miss Florence Grainger, eldest daughter of Charles Grainger, became the bride of Howard Salisbury of Omaha, Neb., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Salisbury of Kingston, Ont.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

Why Zone Plymouth?

UCH has been said in this column, much is heard in a conversational way every day about the future that is sure to come for Plymouth, Plymouth, as it stands today, is a nearly ideal community with few sore spots and unsightly sections to displease the eye. BUT if Plymouth is to retain its identity as a village or community of homes, FUTURE EXPANSION MUST BE PLANNED FOR IN ADVANCE SO THAT IT CAN BE CONTROLLED WHEN IT ARRIVES.

An Invisible Traffic Force.

Big city traffic would become a hopeless snarl without traffic lights and traffic officers. It is not farfetched to think of city planning or zoning in the light of an invisible traffic force always on the job directing the future growth of our community along the most desired lines.

Business Is The First Consideration.

Business created Plymouth. Business must keep it going. Consequently in planning for tomorrow's business must be given the first consideration. Industrial expansion must be provided for and then controlled. The territory in and surrounding Plymouth best adapted for manufacturing should be allotted for that purpose. Those sections best suited for commercial enterprises should be zoned for commerce, and in both connections, future needs rather than present convenience or desirability should be the factor in the minds of the citizens who concern themselves with this important subject.

But Business Is Not The Only Consideration By Any Means.

While the remarks of the preceding paragraph are true, the real purpose of business is to make life more enjoyable, more worth while. While business provides the income from which we derive our purchasing power for better homes, more complete education, a greater participation in all forms of recreation, it would be defeating its own purpose if ever permitted to materially damage the things which it makes possible.

The Wisdom of Zoning.

City planning or zoning recognizes this danger, and protects our residential sections, our schools, our parks, our hospital of tomorrow, by making

Why Mention The Obvious?

Of course all of this is true, you say, but the point is this, it is time to prepare for the future by taking steps to stabilize both present and future property values, to make them better investments. To quote from an article prepared by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, "In residential, commercial and industrial districts, zoning brings order out of confusion. IN THOSE FORTY-NINE TOWNS WHICH ZONE THEMSELVES EARLY IT PREVENTS THE DEVELOPMENT OF CONFUSION."

To Zone The Plymouth of Tomorrow.

TO ZONE THE PLYMOUTH OF TODAY WILL PREVENT THE DEVELOPMENT OF CONFUSION IN THE PLYMOUTH OF TOMORROW.

Thomas Alva Edison.

During the week of October 10, to 21st, a world-wide tribute will be paid to the genius of a great man on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of his invention of the incandescent lamp. It will be termed "EDISON'S GOLDEN JUBILEE" and will culminate in a master celebration in Dearborn, Monday, October 21st.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

wants to go on record as being in favor of enthusiastic participation on the part of the citizens of Plymouth.

He has led no armies into battle—

he has conquered no countries—he has enslaved no peoples—yet he wields a power the magnitude of which no warrior ever dreamed. It commands a devotion more sweeping in scope, more world-wide than any other living man—a devotion rooted deep in human gratitude and tinged with bias of race, color, religion or politics." From "The Life of Thomas A. Edison," by Arthur J. Palmer.

Historical Series To Honor Edison

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL STARTED GROUP OF INTERESTING MEMENTOS LAST FRIDAY.

In today's issue of the Mail will be found the second of a series of historical mementos reviewing Thomas A. Edison's achievements in electrical development. This series will appear each week in the Mail until the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the electric lamp on October 21st.

This series is unique in that it is editorial in style, and the advertisements contain no merchandising or institutional copy. They include a wealth of authoritative information that will be of special value to teachers and students interested in this field. That amazing chain of inventions which made practicable the generation, distribution and utilization of electric energy, and contributing so greatly to comfort and convenience, is set forth in chronological order. A wide variety of subjects are touched on, ranging from the incandescent filament lamp to the ponderous Juambo dynamo.

This series of advertisements takes up the progress of electric light and power following the Civil war, and presents in detail Mr. Edison's many contributions. The series is published in his honor by the Detroit Edison company.

FORD TESTING A NEW PLANE

SINGLE-MOTOR MACHINE MAY BE PUT INTO MAIL AND FREIGHT SERVICE.

Experiments with a single-motor freight and mail plane similar in design to the Ford tri-motored passenger plane, are being made by the Ford Motor Company at its Dearborn air port.

When tests are completed the new type plane is expected to be put into production, probably before the end of the year. It is to be of all-metal construction, with 78-foot wing span, almost precisely similar to the well known tri-motor passenger planes.

Its fuselage is to be equipped for freight and mail; not passengers, however, as the Ford Motor Co. believes there is greater safety in three motors for passenger carrying.

The single engine used in the experimental plane, which already has undergone extensive flight tests, is a Pratt & Whitney Hornet of 350 horsepower. This is almost as much power as was furnished by the three Wright engines combined, for which the tri-motor was originally designed. There is further compensation in the loss of the weight of two motors.

Quick takeoff, rapid climb, slow landing, high cruising speed and a large payload are aimed at in the new development.

Ford officials said Saturday that although one of the new type planes had been entered in the 1929 National Air Tour for the Edsel Ford Trophy, it probably would have to be withdrawn as experimental work is not likely to be completed in time.

A building concern in San Antonio, Texas, has inaugurated the custom of presenting a solid gold key to each buyer of a home built by that firm.

Could Not Work; Konjola Scores Quick Triumph

MODERN COMPOUND PROVES MORE THAN A MEDICINE—A BODY-BUILDING TONIC.

MRS. ERNEST HALE

"I had stomach trouble so long that my general health was depleted and undermined," said Mrs. Ernest Hale, 14943 Stratmoor avenue, Detroit, Mich. "I finally became so low in vitality that I could not attend to my household duties. I lost in weight, too, and was completely discouraged over the outlook.

"Konjola was strongly recommended to me and I decided to give it a trial. Day after day the improvement was more marked and when I had completed the twelfth bottle I was not only completely well, but had gained weight and strength. Konjola not only restored my health, but built up my sadly worn down system. Now I can put in a good day's work around the house and still not feel all run-down and tired in the evening. Konjola is certainly a wonderful medicine and I praise it highly."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth, Mich., at Community Pharmacy drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Flow of "Golden Stream" Unceasing

MEN OF ALL AGES AND CLASSES COVETED IT—ONCE USED ONLY FOR ORNAMENTS.

Giving a brief but interesting account of the discovery, mining and minting of gold, a folder entitled "The Golden Stream" has just been issued by the Plymouth United Savings Bank as a part of the series on Money and Civilization.

Equal in interest to the story of the finding and production of gold is the consideration of the part which this metal has played in the history of mankind. Men of all races and in all periods of history, the folder points out, have been attracted by the glittering metal. There was a time when the only use for gold was for personal adornment. Its very scarcity added to its value.

The fact that gold was practically the only commodity generally accepted in exchange by the people who represented the most advanced civilization is responsible in large measure for the fact that it today is universally accepted as the standard of value.

But gold, as the bank skillfully shows, has other characteristics that have added to its popularity. It is practically indestructible, and there are some authorities which contend that even today some coins in circulation contain gold which was first mined in prehistoric times and which has served many purposes down thru the centuries. Modern mining methods and new discoveries in recent times in this and other countries have increased the supply of gold, but these gains have hardly kept pace with the increasing population and the growing demands for it.

Wealth of nations, however, is more exactly measured by the things that are produced and that can be exchanged for gold than by the metal itself. Spain and Poland both have had large gold deposits, and yet they have been backward and, for the greater portion of the time, poverty stricken. "The Golden Stream" is still the very life blood of a nation, but, as the current folder declares, it is a stream that must be kept moving. The dollars which are hoarded benefit no one, but dollars properly invested mean individual and community and national progress.

Rubber Firms Publish New "Tire Tip" Booklet

"Tire Tips" is the title of a new booklet on the care of pneumatic tires for passenger cars issued by the Rubber Manufacturers' Association, in the interests of tire users, to promote a better understanding of simple precautions necessary to obtain long wear from tires. Photographs are used to illustrate common tire failures resulting from misuse and the text explains the best way to avoid them.

The first edition will consist of three and a half million copies. The majority will be distributed to purchasers of new cars—a copy accompanying the instruction book supplied by the car manufacturer. The balance will be distributed to the public by the tire manufacturers through branches and dealers.

P. H. S. BAND

In their sleek and span uniforms, the band, under the direction of Mr. Dykhouse, presented a pleasing appearance at the Northville Fair Thursday. Several selections were given in front of the grandstand.

The band consists of thirty-five pieces, a bass horn being added this year. There are four new members. It has met regularly every week this summer for practice, and last Wednesday played at the Junior High assembly.

Central School Notes

Robert Bachelder entered the morning section of kindergarten, bringing the enrollment to twenty-five. The children in both classes have decorated the windows with leaves.

The children in Mrs. Root's room who have not been to school before are matching colors in their seat work. They are also being given training in neatness in coloring and are learning the color names.

As we had to choose between three members or five members, the Life Planning Club, under the direction of Mr. Cobb, has changed from Tuesday to Thursday. This club is organized for the purpose of giving help to people who have various problems.

Mrs. Richard's children have been observing caterpillars also. Each member of the class drew pictures of the things he saw at the fair which interested him the most. This week they dramatized "The Three Bears."

Miss Welman's pupils dramatized "Little Red Riding Hood." In connection with the health posters which were made, a health crusade contest was started. During the week different members worked on scrap books.

Incredible! The Fords are ahead of the Buicks this week in the second grade arithmetic contest. Bob Kenyon was absent last week because of illness.

In Miss Field's 3-A section, the boys and girls made health booklets very attractively colored and neatly written. Her 4-B class has planned an agriculture project which will be finished with the completion of a booklet of maps, graphs and charts.

The two groups are contesting for the highest percentage in health inspection which is given every morning by the two health inspectors which are chosen by the class.

Brrr! Winter is coming! Miss Farrand's 4-B is planning an Eskimo project. The 4-A is having an arithmetic contest for review. Both sections are working on a chart for care of the teeth.

Each week a period is set aside on Wednesday for current events in Miss Hallahan's room. The 6-B language class is memorizing our old friend, "The Charge of the Light Brigade."

Elizabeth Whipple and Roland Rhead are the health officers for the room. A new idea has been introduced in Miss Fenner's room in the way of a health chart. This time it is patterned after a clock.

Starkweather School Notes

The bulletin board in the lower hall of the Starkweather school was decorated last week by the kindergarten. The display consisted of fruit posters, squirrels, free-hand cut-out flowers which were made by the morning class and colored flowers made by the afternoon section.

The first graders are very interested in penmanship and little stories told by Miss Stader help create interest in perfect position and movement. There is a new window box filled with budding geraniums, and this adds a great deal to the attractiveness of the room. A spelling club has been established, the only thing necessary to become a member is a perfect spelling paper on Friday. Each Friday a gold star is given to the writers of perfect papers. The child having the most stars at the end of the term will be rewarded.

Spelling books are all going home in the fourth grade and everyone is trying to earn a red star by having a perfect paper Friday. In the past three weeks the health inspectors have had to send only one child to wash his hands.

Donald Burns, Phyllis Steward, Norma Jean Roe, Murray Kilgore and Kenneth Kleinschmidt are health captains in Miss Williams's room. A reading contest was started Monday, and every Friday a test will be given on speed and comprehension and the results will be recorded on individual graphs. Health posters were started Friday and the best one will be saved for the exhibit. Jewell Starkweather had an A in spelling all last week.

The students of Miss Lee's room organized a "Hobby" club with the following officers elected: Doris Fishlock, president; Jeanette Bauman, vice-president; Eleanor Smith, secretary; Richard Miller, treasurer. Each child has a hobby box of collections in which he is very much interested. The Friday afternoon meetings will consist of series of interesting facts concerning the hobbies, preceded by a business meeting. The health club chose Doris Fishlock and Norman Kincaid captains for this month. Inspection is held first thing in the morning and again in the afternoon. The health chart shows a gold star for each one passing inspection.

An enthusiastic Citizenship Campaign has been organized, and each "good citizen" receives a free period at the end of four weeks. Current events are being studied in connection with American history. Also maps are being made of South America and Europe.

Only Five In This One

As we had to choose between three members or five members, the Life Planning Club, under the direction of Mr. Cobb, has changed from Tuesday to Thursday. This club is organized for the purpose of giving help to people who have various problems. We discuss different problems, and as one person had a problem on words that are slang, Emma Rowe is going to lead a discussion on slang words.

We hope to have more join this organization.

Random Notes From The Nature Study Club

Twenty-six enthusiastic boys and girls answered roll call at our last regular meeting. They eagerly discussed various things they wished to know about birds, trees, flowers, reptiles, moths, etc. Leland Rorabacher was elected president, and Elva Hill, secretary, for this semester.

Do you know that there are about four general classes of poisonous snakes in the United States—rattlesnakes, moccasins, haterquins and coral snakes?

Last week we averaged a snake a day. Among those brought in were the common water snake, a milk snake, hog-nosed snake and the little green grass snakes?

Some beautiful gentians were found near here, both the closed and the fringed. Do you know that the lovely fringed gentian will not grow in our gardens? It is a true child of nature, and refuses to bloom in our hot houses?

The following birds are reported in Plymouth during the last week: Owl, crow, grackle, blue-jay, mourning dove, robin, song sparrow, starlings, goldfinch, golden crowned kinglet, red start, humming bird, white-throated sparrow, nut hatch, downy woodpecker, juncos and flickers.

Elva Hill, Sec.

Receiving The Freshies

As is the custom every year, the senior class gives the freshmen a reception. This year the seniors decided to give them one in the form of a hard-time party. We met Friday evening September 20, at 7:30, in front of the school. We were divided into four groups, freshmen boys, freshmen girls, senior boys, senior girls, and each given a room to dress in. Before leaving the room a number was pinned on our backs, and we went to the gym, but before entering a rhyme was given to us.

The gym was transformed into almost a nightmare. There were funny-faced farmers and farmerettes, Toppies, pirates, etc.

After singing, we were told to look for our partners. Each one of us had part of some nursery rhyme, and we were to find the rest of it, such as: "Little Bo-Peep has lost her sheep and don't know where to find them" and the partner would have "Leave them alone and they'll come home, wagging their tails behind them." After we had all found our partners, we lined up and the senior class president, Russell Wallace, with Margaret Sackett led the grand march.

Then we were given some imitations by the freshmen of some of "us" seniors. Billy Langendam gave the best imitation. He mimicked Kenneth Gust, football captain. As the prize, Billy received a nice rattle-box.

Charlie Hamilton, as Raggedy Ann, received a prize for the cleverest costume, and Marguerite Wood was the least recognized.

Order and ruckies were served, and Miss Schrader played the piano for those who wished to dance. At 10:30 we left for home, deciding that indeed the freshmen were accepted.

Junior Assembly

Here they are again! Jimmie Stimpson, Marvin Partridge and Frank Leonard led the junior assembly with several yells last Wednesday, September 18.

Because almost everyone knows that Robert Champ can sing and can sing well at that, he was induced to entertain his fellow members. Anyway, "The Carolina Mour" and the "Pagan Love Song" were not such bad numbers.

So far it seems that the theme of the assembly was in partnership with the idea of the present day, that is, sound. As no program is complete without singing the Plymouth fight song, everyone joined in with the directing of Miss Gladys Schrader.

The Ancient Arts

Basket weaving newly taken up by moderns, is an ancient but instructive and ornamental art. This handicraft has been started in a club under the able direction of Miss Traut, and at the last meeting work was begun on simple baskets. As practice makes perfect, they will undoubtedly be weaving very complicated things at the end of the year.

This is a thing that will never come amiss for its members in the future, but will provide many constructive and profitable hours.

Mythology Club

Our purpose is to become familiar with the classified myths in their relation to literature and art.

We shall try to study the origin of the myths, and the tracing of their sources, and to use a general knowledge of classical mythology as a key to the origin and meaning of many words in every day use.

We may find that the under-ocean caves of Father Neptune's waters are also on our north Atlantic coast. Eudymion sleeps as soundly in the moonlight of Michigan as on Mt. Latmos; the Sirens will sing in our rivers and lakes as well as in Ionian seas; that the mystic fires of Vulcan's forge smoulder in Hawaiian volcanoes, and from the heights of the Hudson Zeus hurls his thunderbolts.

BEAUTIFYING AMBITIONS

With the aim in view of renovating the teachers' restroom and redecorating the fitting and lunch rooms, the home economics club is busily studying various phases of interior decoration. At the present time a study of certain material is occupying the members; consequently it is to be hoped that curtains will be made for all the rooms they are planning on beautifying.

With the experience the members will get this year, their future homes should and will be the envy of all the neighbors.

Debate and the Informed Person

The practice of law, medicine, education, religion, the task of the engineer, all rest on the broad and deep foundation of facts, or information concerning them. Children and adults fail to appreciate government, home, school, and behind many such failures to appreciate lies uniformedness. The failure of our projects from the field of oats that is half sown, to the unwise investment, can be traced more than to uniformedness. There is a premium placed on facts.

The physician incising the human body must know the facts concerning the human body. The engineer, with his hand at the throttle of the night flyer, must know the facts of the flyers before him and of the schedule of other trains that run on the track. The teacher must know the facts of his subject in order to teach. An individual's intellectual growth can advance only as that individual increases his store of facts.

Without demonstrative facts at hand with which to demonstrate a viewpoint of an ideal, it can be of little value to the person to whom it belongs and of no value to others. We like the man who "knows his business." We all go sooner or later to the man who truly has the facts.

Debating begins by gathering, scrutinizing, classifying, studying, learning all possible facts concerning a proposition. Its first essential is informedness. It teaches the helplessness of anything else. Support debate as a valuable educational activity.

YUM! YUM!

This already the second week of the school year since the high school lunch room has opened. Students, especially those who have sensitive noses, can distinguish some of the mingling kitchen smells quite easily even on the second and third floors. In fact, one may know the menu a little ahead of time for this very simple reason.

For the first time in the school history of Plymouth, have the pupils been given the advantage of eating their lunches at school all year round. Previously the lunch room has been run only in winter time. Because the dishes are placed as near cost as possible and no dish costs more than ten cents, the pupils are able to purchase a well-balanced lunch with not much drain on their pockets.

It is very advantageous during winter to those who live at a considerable distance from home or to those who live in rural districts. One hot dish, another dish such as a vegetable one, warm rolls, milk or cocoa, plus a dessert, make up the menu for each day. Cookies, frostings and ice cream are also on hand.

For carrying on more business and giving the workers more conveniences, the partition which heretofore has served as the dining room was torn down during the summer when all remodeling was done. At the present time a new General Electric Refrigerator is being tested in the kitchen on the basis of power consuming.

Although almost all work is done by the members of the school, the lunch room does well when it pays for itself, its various expenses plus the fact that meals may be purchased at such low prices swallow up the profits.

Girls' Tennis Tournament

A girls' tennis tournament having been in progress since last Wednesday, it is now in the second round. Miss Rees, the new physical training instructor, is proving herself a real leader. There are about thirty-six girls entered, and Miss Rees has their names on the bulletin board, and also the time they play their matches. There have been no upsets so far, and all the matches have run according to school dope. To make this tournament more interesting, there are points given toward a letter. It takes a thousand points to win a letter, and in this tournament fifty points are given to the winner, thirty-five to the runner-up, and ten points to all the rest that enter.

G. R. Campaign For Membership

In order that all the girls in high school may know what the Girl Reserve Club is, there was a special meeting held Friday fifth hour.

That the Girl Reserve organization is a junior group of the Young Women's Christian Association, was the point that Catherine Nichol brought out in her speech. Hazel Rathburn stated that religion plays one of the most primary parts in this club.

LES VAGABONDS FRANCAIS

We held the first meeting of the French club Tuesday, under the direction of Miss Nye, French and Latin teacher. At present we have only five members. Teddy Baughn, Madelon Shingleton, Dick Smith, Carl Denton and Phillip Rieger. Teddy Baughn was elected president, Madelon Shingleton secretary. We had some difficulty in selecting a name, but finally all decided upon "Les Vagabonds Francais," meaning "The French Vagabonds. We have dues of fifty centimes a meeting.

The purpose of the club is to create a greater interest in the French language and increase fluency in speaking it. Once a month we plan to have a luncheon a la table francaise in the school cafeteria. We will write letters to people in France, study French literature and customs, and stage a French play. We hope to have a successful year and increase our membership.

Madelon Shingleton, Secretary.

This motive also brings the girls closer together. Social work enters in also, and many good things are done for the poor and destitute, explained Elizabeth Strong.

To belong to the Girl Reserves, each girl must abide by certain standards. The different rules were explained to the girls by Miss Allen.

At the close of the meeting, Vaughn Campbell passed out paper blanks which stated the Girl Reserve code, purpose and slogan, to all those interested in joining.

Home Economics received first prize for their display at the Northville fair. Dresses made by Marion Riech, Eileen Jordan, Mary Urban, Christine and Elizabeth Nichol were there. A doll dress made by Joan Cassidy won first prize also.

In mathematics display, Miss Wells had geometry notebooks, and Mrs. Crumble had algebra notebooks.

Plymouth's commercial department was complimented on its book-keeping books. Manual training was represented by Joe Charipar's sixteen foot motor boat and Rupert Kincaid's writing desk. There were four smoking stands, five end benches and lamps and a piano bench.

Yes, We Have Some Music In Plymouth

Some of the music clubs were wanting in members when they started. The orchestra has many new members. Almond Gates is playing a tuba; Carrie Gorton is playing the clarinet; Lester Daly is back with the trombone; and George Todd is playing the trumpet. We have many new saxophone players. Stephen Horvath, Charles Ball, Herbert Saylor, and Edward Gates are filling positions in this section. We also have new players in the violin section. Maynard Larkins, Bruce Miller, Louis Norman and Clifford Sackow fill these new places. Harold Stevens is taking up the work of Alvin Collins on the banjo and Arnold Hix is carrying on the work of Howard Dicks, our last year's drummer. But we must not forget our old standbys, Claud Ecker and Floyd Dicks in the violin section. Joe Ribar is in the brass section, Edwin Ribar playing a tenor Saxophone and last but not least Marguerite Wood at the piano. The members of the high school orchestra are working hard and will surprise you when you hear them. Watch for their first appearance.

The male quartette has four new members this year. Richard Smith is singing first tenor; Teddy Baughn, second tenor; Charles Ball, first bass and Kenneth Groth, second bass. Wait until you hear them!

Our famous girls' double quartette is very fortunate in having six old members. The two new members have been found. Dorothy Hubert is going to sing soprano and Doris Holloway, alto. Their first appearance occurs at assembly September 25th.

We are all keeping Bobbie Champe busy these days. September 18, Bobbie Attention Candidates!

The attention of all club members is again called to the importance of EXTENSION SUBSCRIPTIONS. This means an extension of any subscription you or someone else has taken earlier in the campaign. The importance of these EXTENSIONS cannot be too plainly stated and every candidate is strongly urged to get in every extension possible during these last few days of the exciting race. Just one subscription now is liable to turn the tide and register the difference between a wonderful motor car and a smaller prize.

EXTENSIONS COUNT BIG NOW and in putting them on your list be sure to mark them plainly "EXTENSION" also stating how long the former subscription was paid for and by whom it was turned in. A subscription given during the first period will always earn first period votes on an extension. The same applies to those given on the second vote period. A subscription given during the first vote period for one year and later extended for another year would give 3,000 votes making a total of 5,000 votes for the two years, plus the club votes, but be sure to mark these subscriptions "EXTENSION" and the name of the candidate turning in the former subscription. These will then be looked up on the original report sheets and if found correct, the extension will be allowed. Be sure to add your totals, votes and cash and see that the amounts at the top of your report sheet correspond to the correct total of your subscription.

Explain the tremendous voting power of these extension subscriptions to your friends and have them give you an "EXTENSION." This will pay you handsome dividends. WORK EXTENSIONS STRONGLY.

"He maketh a path to shine after Him"

—Job, 41:32

SHORTLY after the Civil War, arc lamps began to be used in a few light-houses, even the yacht Napoleon was thus illuminated. While satisfactory for streets and large open spaces, it was not suitable for the illumination of homes or small, confined interiors.

"Let There Be Light"

Thomas A. Edison decided that a system must be developed in which, unlike the series arc lamp systems, any one lamp could be lighted or turned off independent of the others in the system. It was evident to the young inventor, then thirty years old, that if electric lighting was to replace the gas jet, the sine qua non must be an electric lamp economical of current and operating at a safe, low voltage.

FOR two years Mr. Edison and his staff labored through long nights and days without much success. Tying one night with a piece of lampblack mixed with tar (prepared for use in his telephone transmitter) he rolled it between his thumb and forefinger, and the thought struck him that a spiral made of it might be made to emit a good light. The experiment was tried, and it worked but not well enough. The inventor next tried the carbonized remains of a piece of sewing thread. Time after time he attempted to secure the thread in a bulb from which he next exhausted the air; each time the fragile filament would break before the current was turned on.

On October 16, 1879, the staff decided that they would make a lamp before they slept, or die in the attempt. On October 19th and 20th several variations were attempted, all without success. On the morning of the 21st, success crowned the long vigil. The effect was surprising. The slender carbonized sewing thread emitted a beautiful light. "It is as though the Almighty had decreed it," observed Mr. Edison reverentially. Mr. Edison decided to raise the candle power very high to see how long the filament would survive the strain. A high illuminating power was sustained through forty hours; then the soft glow faded and the tiny filament burned itself out.

THE pioneer light of the first Edison incandescent lamp had been burning scarcely twenty-four hours, when the entire force in the laboratory at Menlo Park was instructed to carbonize every material which gave the least promise of yielding a satisfactory filament. Platinum and other metals had already been tested. Attention was now turned to cardboard, tissue paper, fish line, shavings from woods, lampwick, plumbago, and an endless variety of substances. Mr. Edison refused to commercialize his achievement until he had improved the filament lamp to withstand a service of 600 hours.

ONE day, early in 1880, he noticed an ordinary palm-leaf fan lying on a laboratory table. He examined it and observed that it had a binding rim of bamboo. He instructed his assistants to carbonize as many filaments as could be made from the long bamboo strip. When these were tried in lamps they proved to be more successful than anything previously used. He dispatched three botanical expeditions to scour almost inaccessible portions of the world for filament fibers, and, after 6000 experiments costing $40,000, the spring of 1881 gave birth to the first incandescent lamp commercially satisfactory to Mr. Edison, this lamp enduring a life test of 1589 hours at 16 candle power.

After reading the test results on this lamp Mr. Edison remarked, "Just wait a little while and we will make electric light so cheap that only the wealthy can afford to burn candles." His prophecy has come to pass.

FOR almost ten years the bamboo filament lamps were unexcelled. The year 1894 saw the adoption of squirted carbon filaments, greatly reducing the cost of manufacture. The well-known "Gem" lamps, in which the carbon filament was metalized, were introduced in 1905, these being superseded in 1911 by the modern high-efficiency tungsten filament, which reduced the current required per candle power by 66 per cent.

The principle of the electric lamp developed by Mr. Edison in 1879 is still in use today with but few alterations. The shape of the modern lamp is strikingly like Mr. Edison's original, although in the meantime it has assumed divers other contours.

TIDE-WATER SHIPPING MAKING PROGRESS IN PORT OF DETROIT

FORTNIGHTLY DIRECT SAILINGS TO EUROPEAN PORTS GIVES PROMISE OF GREAT FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

By C. C. McGill, Secretary, Public Affairs Bureau, Detroit Board of Commerce.

Detroit has already accomplished the preliminary steps in tide-water shipping and an example of the vast benefits of lakes-to-ocean water traffic is being provided in regular fortnightly direct sailings from here to European ports. Last Tuesday, September 24th the freighter Elfstone, of the Central West-European Transport Company, sailed from the foot of South Clark street with a cargo of Detroit products for various European ports.

This was the sixth regularly scheduled sailing from this port to Europe by this line of freight boats. After a rather humble beginning, the operators of the lines now express great confidence in being able to not only continue the bi-monthly sailings but to increase their service to weekly sailings. Constantly increasing tonnage will insure this service for Detroit.

A close study of this export facility is being made by the foreign trade committee of the Board of Commerce. The accommodations for shippers are equal to the best of any other port in America. Cargoes for the ships are transferred with equal ease from railroad cars or motor trucks at the ship's side.

In addition to the benefits of easy accessibility to the ships for Detroit manufacturers and merchants, shipment to Europe by this means obviates transfers from rail-to-ship at Atlantic seaboard cities and thus reduces loss and breakage of goods in transit to a great degree. Fewer handlings reduce the ultimate expense of shipping, the foreign trade committee declares.

Hope is expressed that this example of the many benefits of tide-water shipping will inspire greater progress in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tide-water project. With the culmination of that effort will come ships in greater numbers and of greater capacity. Of course, the present ships carrying cargoes from Detroit to Europe must be small enough to pass through the Welland canal and must limit their loads to enable them to negotiate the shallow waters of the upper reaches of the St. Lawrence.

Cargoes of pig iron, finished automobiles, drugs, stoves, machinery, cotton waste, paints and varnishes have already left Detroit for customers in England and Continental Europe on ships loaded here. While this service is heralded as only a beginning, it gives a taste of the bigger things which may be realized when Detroit is a full-blown tide-water port.—The Detroit Free Press.

BUILDING OPERATIONS LACK STRENGTH OF OTHER LINES

Building operations are lacking pick-up says a weekly business report from New York. No one has put on the brakes, but capital has lifted its foot from the accelerator. The industry is coasting along with speed not noticeably slackening, but there is no power behind the operations for the moment.

This is causing readjustment in the lumber, brick, cement and other building material lines. Comment on the building situation is putting the worst business foot forward today. Industrial activity is at a markedly higher level than a year ago. This is apparent in the other two key industries, steel and automobiles. Steel mills are running at better than 90 per cent of capacity, and 90 per cent today means fully 120 per cent compared with plant productivity five or even three years ago.

Copper is in keen demand. This applies also to many of the other non-ferrous metals including nickel, aluminum, tin and lead. Shipments of iron ore down the lakes which will be used for winter furnace requirements have been at record proportions.

The amount of money which will accrue to producers of farm products now seems almost certain to equal or closely approach that earned in 1928. The drought has hurt some crops and has caused a delay in waterborne river shipments of grain but the lack of moisture in the Argentine has improved the technical position of world wheat.

There is a strong possibility that in view of recently improved conditions, the print paper producers may be enabled to demand a higher price next year. Textile output is high although profit margins have shown no improvement. The railroads, with record-breaking freight loadings piling up, are buying equipment and supplies more freely.

The oil situation is bettering slowly more from the improved distribution methods employed than from readjustments of supply of crude oil to demand for refined products.

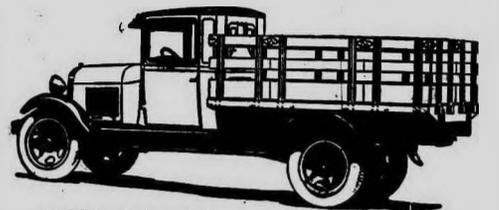

Air Provides Power For Stoves On Graf Zeppelin

When the chef aboard the Graf Zeppelin is told to send up a nice juicy steak, he executes the order without the use of a coal or gas stove. Nor does he draw electric current from a battery or the airship's generators. Instead, to provide power for the electric stoves, a generator equipped with a propeller is mounted on an arm or bracket and swung outside the galley into the air stream. The rapid turning of the propeller operates the generator, which supplies the electric current for the cuisine.

THE NEW FORD 1 1/2-TON TRUCK

...does its work long and well...at low cost

EVERY part of the new Ford truck is designed and built so that it will serve its purpose as directly and efficiently as possible. The fuel, lubrication, electrical, ignition, and cooling systems are of simple design, for that reason. The lubrication system has only one moving part—the pump—and no pressure oil-lines to bearings. The fuel-line from the tank to the carburetor is only 18 inches long, and the feed is by gravity. In the ignition system, there is but one high-tension cable—that from the coil to the distributor.

Care is also shown in the choice of materials and by the development of special metals for specific purposes. Forty different kinds of steel are used in the chassis of the new Ford truck. Each kind will wear longest under the conditions it is most commonly called on to meet.

Precision gages in the hands of expert workmen make possible unusual standards of accuracy in manufacture. The diameter of pistons, for instance, must come within three ten-thousandths of an inch, (.0003) of the specified size. Main and connecting rod bearings on the crankshaft are held to true round within limits of one-quarter of one-thousandth of an inch. Weight of pistons and piston-assemblies also is kept within close limits, as are sizes and weights of every part of the new Ford where accuracy is known to contribute to long wear and good performance.

To the owner of the new Ford truck, these features mean long service, reliability, economy, and because of low first cost, unusual value. Come in and see the trucks today and let us explain them more fully.

Body by Fisher

During 1928, a large public utilities corporation operated 996 automobiles of 33 different makes. And according to its own accurately recorded cost figures, its Pontiacs cost one cent less per mile to operate than any other low-priced six in the field at that time. Yet even that great record of economy is being surpassed by the Pontiac Big Six because of a number of refinements and advancements which this latest Pontiac includes.

FARMINGTON MILLS

Why wait another year to own an Eight...?

You'll be out of date within a year without an EIGHT!

It's evident on every hand—America wants to stay in high gear!

The public knows that extra gear shifting and other engineering devices applied to a six-cylinder motor will not give the smoothness and flexibility of an eight.

The fine cars started it. Today every fine American motor car is an Eight. Now we find the same sweeping trend among cars of more moderate cost. In eight key states for the first six months of 1929, new car registrations above $1000 showed a 90 per cent increase in Eights while sixes above $1000 showed a decrease of 16 per cent.

Spurred on by an Eight-minded public, Studebaker set out two years ago to build a high-quality Eight that could be sold at moderate six-cylinder cost.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that are champions—holders of 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Before investing in your new car, drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Measure it point for point and feature for feature against the best six that you know. Then remember—your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!—for Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with sixes.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"STREET GIRL"

One of New York's most colorful sections, known as "Little Hungary," supplies the locale for "Street Girl," Betty Compton's first all-talking and singing Radio Picture, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 29, 30, and October 1.

Miss Compton is seen as an impoverished Hungarian violinist "adopted" by four boys, who are members of a band. Through the maneuvers of the girl, the little orchestra is given a trial in a Hungarian cafe, to which comes a European prince on a sight-seeing tour of New York's night clubs.

The attention paid by this prince to "Freddie" leads to their gaining a reputation which wins for them their own night club. It also complicates the love story in which John Harron plays opposite the lovely blonde actress.

Ivan Lebedeff, young Russian nobleman who came to Hollywood following the revolution, is cast as the prince. Jack Oakie, Ned Sparks and Joseph Cavorthorn, for years a favorite on the New York musical comedy stage, carry the generous portions of comedy in the picture, while Guy Bucella and Eddie Kane appear in supporting roles.

Wesley Ruggles directed.

"CLOSE HARMONY"

"Close Harmony" will prove to be aptly named at the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday and Thursday, October 2 and 3, when Buddy Rogers and Nancy Carroll, popular screen lovers, appear in a peppy, zesty Paramount production in which the "red hot" music of the jazz age forms the medium for a fine presentation of their musical and dramatic talents.

The play, an adaptation from the original story of the same name by Elsie Janis and Gene Markey, is a portrayal of the lives and loves of those who gain their livelihood behind the footlights on the vaudeville stage of the big cinema palaces.

Buddy is the ambitious leader of a jazz orchestra, and Nancy is the headlined song and dance girl of the theatre whose Buddy and his musicians get their chance. Mousie and comedy debate, music and plays. This year it will try to continue to maintain the best of sportsmanship, the best of conduct in the hall, the noon recreation period, and the splendid cooperation of the administration with student activities.

It is interesting to note that at this time last year the Student Council owed about two hundred dollars, while this year they have about ten dollars in the treasury. The Student Council is hoping for an even more successful year than was last.

About $503,000,000 is spent every year in the United States in drilling new oil fields, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

Iowa has joined the list of states which have lifted arbitrary maximum speed limits and left it to the driver to proceed safely.

The average length of a rural free delivery mail route in this country is 30 miles.

Ohio has 6,000 class rooms in 900 of its schools equipped with either an individual radio receiving set or loudspeakers connected with a master set.

Swedish mothers put money into their children's first bath to bring them future wealth.

like are furnished by Jack Oakie and Richard "Skeets" Gallagher as a song and dance team, and by Harry Green as the high-pressure manager of the theatre.

The general tone of the picture is that of sparkling, tuneful music and peppy dancing blended with throbbing romance. Its sound reproduction is "lispless" and comes nearer to absolute perfection than anything yet heard from the silver screen.

"Close Harmony" then, is worth seeing if you enjoy your eye and ear entertainment sliced thick and richly spread with zesty, peppy relish.

"INNOCENTS OF PARIS"

When Maurice Chevalier, soldier of France, and lion of the continental stage, comes marching into the silver-sheet at the Penniman Allen theatre Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5, he will take his audience a great big thrill, and keep them enthralled every moment that his spirited voice—and body are before them.

For with Chevalier it is not alone the animation of vocal tone which "gets" people, young and small—but it is also that temperamental language of the lips, the face, the feet. With Chevalier it is well, we might say just "it," but the man's artistry calls for a more elaborate definition. It is genius born of spiritual inspiration.

In his current, and first, movie—"Innocents of Paris," at the Penniman Allen theatre, Chevalier plays the part of a happy-go-lucky push-cart singer of the Flea Market district of Paris.

He gets a chance to go on the stage with his songs and pantomime, and the plot affords him every opportunity to present the gorgeous values of his full repertoire of songs—lyrics and ballads which have established him in actual life as the reigning king of entertainment in Europe.

The picture is all-talking, and it might be added, all-Chevalier—but the work of his supporting cast is none the less adequate and pleasing. Sylvia Beecher, a beautiful young actress recruited from the stage, is the purveyor of the love interest with Mr. Chevalier.

A Proclamation

By the Governor

OF some years past it has been the custom to inaugurate a campaign of education and action for Fire Prevention, with the view of reducing the great unnecessary fire losses which cause an enormous destruction of property each year.

The time designated for this commendable undertaking is the second week in October of each year, therefor as Governor of Michigan I proclaim the week from

OCTOBER 6TH TO OCTOBER 12TH, 1929
FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

The work which will be accomplished during that period will result in a great saving of life and property, therefore it is essential that it be given the cooperation which movement deserves. It should be observed in cities, villages, and rural communities to the fullest extent.

Heretofore there has been a lack of extending fire prevention week activities into the rural districts where it is so much needed. A scattered population, numerous buildings grouped and no means or apparatus for fighting fire, the farmer is quite helpless in case his buildings take fire, facing the complete destruction of his accumulations of years. Therefore, it is hoped that the work may this year be extended into the rural districts.

Great benefits would follow in the years to come if teachers in rural schools would instill in the minds of the growing pupils the most common dangers of fire on the farm, and how to combat them, with the suggestion that they closely watch for fire hazards, that their parents be advised and the property made safe.

With the near approach of time for the starting of heating plants, furnaces, stoves, pipes, chimneys, etc., should be placed in safe condition, rubbish removed and burned, all combustibles, gasoline, oils, paints, varnishes, etc., should be safely stored.

The marked interest shown by the Michigan Fire Chief's Association, in their efforts to make Michigan safe from fire furnishes an example of what may be accomplished by other similar organizations.

Through the united action of the citizens of our state, it is hoped that we may be able to continue to decrease the great unnecessary fire waste.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the state this twelfth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-third.

By the Governor: FRED W. GREEN, Governor.
John S. Haggerty, Secretary of State.
