

LOCAL SALVATION ARMY DRIVE COMMENCES JANUARY SIXTH

Home Management Group To Meet At Wayne School

Tuesday, January 7th, at 1:00 p. m. at the Roosevelt School in Wayne, Miss Evelyn Turner, Home Management Specialist for the Michigan State College, will meet with all the members enrolled in the Home Management project in the county to give a lecture on the Use of Electricity in the household.

The lecture on Use of Electricity in the household will include a discussion of first, "How our power comes to us," second, "The Care of Equipment," third, "Important points to consider in buying equipment." There will be a demonstration of repairing of cords, and charts illustrating the lecture.

Home Management is the wise spending of our time, energy and money. Every home-maker is faced with the problem of saving time and proportioning it. Equipment has a good deal to do with time and energy saved. Every home-maker who uses electric power has a great opportunity to put power to use. Wise purchasing and care of equipment are very important considerations.

Masons Attend Annual Services At Local Church

Last Sunday, celebrating the Day of St. John the Evangelist, the patron saint of Freemasonry, the members of Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 7, F. & A. M., and their wives, sisters of the Order of Eastern Star, attended the evening services at St. John's Episcopal church.

The brothers marched from the Masonic Temple to the church, and considering the inclemency of the weather and snowing hard, there was a goodly number present.

The Rev. Brother Oscar Seitz, the pastor, gave a very appropriate sermon taking his text from I Corinthians third chapter, verses 11 and 13, "For we are laborers together with God; ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building—According to the grace of God which is given unto us as a wise master builder I have laid the foundation and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon."

The church was well filled; there was a full choir, and the singing of the well-known hymns was heartily joined in by all present.

176 VISITED BY KIWANIS SANTA

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SPREE OF LOCAL CLUB BRINGS JOY TO MANY.

One hundred seventy-six persons of Plymouth and vicinity were on the annual Christmas list of the Kiwanis Club this year, and none of them were forgotten. Everything, stockings to candy was in the baskets that were distributed to Plymouth's needy by Chairman Robert O. Mimmack and his committee which consisted of Dewey Holloway, Charles H. Rathbun, George H. Robinson and Henry Ray.

On the day before Christmas a big sleigh was heaped high with gifts, and Santa Claus, in full uniform, assisted his helpers in distributing the gifts. The annual Christmas activities of the Kiwanis Club Committee are the high point of the year for club members and the thorough survey of the community made by this hard working committee assures an efficient and effective distribution. Only where need is, does Kiwanis Santa go, and then he brings just the articles that are needed most. Underwear, shoes, stockings and other articles of wearing apparel always at those to whom they are taken. Only hard work over many days makes such efficiency possible, and hard work fully explains the big success of Kiwanis Mimmack and his assistants.

Several hundred dollars are raised for this purpose each year. During the past year a minstrel show and a raffle sale were the chief means of raising the funds expended in the work this year.

PLYMOUTH PEOPLE INSPECT SALVATION ARMY HOSPITAL

Last Monday, several Plymouth people were asked, through the courtesy of Captain and Mrs. F. W. Wright, to inspect the Salvation Army hospital in Detroit, which is located on Grand Boulevard. The hospital, as one sees it, is just like a large comfortable-looking home, with clean and dainty curtains at the windows. The reception room is very homey, which appeals to everyone who enters.

A great many of you have no doubt heard about Lt. Colonel Shepherd, who did much active service overseas during the war, and while she was doing war work many called her "Ma Shepherd," a title which still follows her. Lt. Shepherd is at the head of this hospital, and is a very capable and wonderful woman with all the fine qualities which help those who seek an understanding.

Now we will go on to describe the many other rooms that make up the hospital. In one room, a group of leading club ladies in the city, called the sewing committee, meet every so often to make school clothes for the children of the orphanage. The membership fee is $1.00 per year, with which 437 garments were made. The "Out of Love Club" room has been fitted up like a regular sitting room for girls who have been banished from their homes for their own misfortune. can sit and visit and can be given advice and help.

The "Gypsy Tent" room is furnished very cozy for nurses who, at the end of day, like to rest or have a little recreation.

In each dormitory there are seven or eight beds for the girls who have no homes to go to and who are burdened with great adversity. There is the babies' room, which holds quite a good many of the cutest little fatherless babies, some crying and some laughing.

The laundry room is equipped with large boilers and electric irons manipulated by young girls and supervised by an older woman.

They have a dietitian kitchen, separate from the other large kitchen. Each nurse has her own room, and in case of an emergency, a house doctor is on duty continually. They have lost only three confinement cases in the twenty-three years they have been established.

There are many, many more things in the hospital of which we have not mentioned in this article of which we have given you just minute details.

Becker Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Becker entertained their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren at the annual Christmas dinner. Forty-five sat down to a delicious pot-luck dinner at noon; four of the grandchildren were not present. Twenty grandchildren and three great-grandchildren were present. There has not been any break in the family circle yet, and hope there will not be. Three new grandchildren have been added since last year, and one great grandchild.

Schrader Brothers Announce Big Sale

Schrader Bros. have taken a full page ad in today's Mail to announce a big 25 per cent off sale commencing Saturday, January 4th, and ending Saturday, January 11th. This sale means a 25 per cent reduction on everything in the big stock of furniture and rugs, with the exception of window shades and curtain fixtures. We call your attention to the ad.

"Bill" Colgrove, Evangelist, Here This Week

Starting last Sunday at the Baptist church, Evangelist W. S. Colgrove (Colgrove) opened a series of evangelistic meetings to cover a period of three weeks. Rev. and Mrs. Colgrove have been engaged in this kind of work for the past 15 years. Prior to their entering this type of work they successfully conducted a mission in Kalamazoo, for a number of years, and is of interest to know that Mr. Colgrove was the first convert of the nationally known Reshoe Mission Worker, Mel Trotter. For a number of summers they have conducted special evangelistic services for the Detroit Council of churches. Their many years of evangelistic work should prove a spiritual treat to the people of Plymouth.

Last Monday night a large delegation from Puritan Ave. Baptist Church attended the meeting. During the course of the service many bore testimony to the constructive work which Mr. and Mrs. Colgrove recently conducted at their church.

Along with the regular services there are others known as the "Booster" and "Win One Club." The Boosters include the children up to 13 years of age and the Win One Club those from 13 to 30.

They have a unique method of advising their meetings by the use of their Gospel Car. Watch for the Uni-Fun which will soon appear on the streets.

That Mr. Colgrove is keenly convinced of the importance of his work, is borne out in the fact that he shows how every one of the evangelical churches are the result of the revivals held under their founders, as was the case of the Methodist churches coming out of the mighty revivals held by the Wesleys. It shows how the prohibition victory in America came as a result of the great laborer campaigns which were so much in evidence before the war, and now that there is so much difficulty in enforcing this law is due to the lack of spiritual power in our churches. This condition can only be remedied by a wide spread religious awakening which has always been needed. In Plymouth it is used here to relieve distress and to interest the underprivileged men, women and children in a spiritual way.

Capt. Wright announces that during the coming year there will be no solicitation for funds from the local business men at the Saturday evening meetings, as has been done the past year.

The work accomplished by the branch here during the past year has been very satisfactory and helpful indeed. Capt. Wright gives the Mail the following interesting items of activities accomplished here:

Meetings held in hall, 267; meetings held in street, 153; total meetings held, 420; total attendance to these meetings, 3,714; hours of visitation by officers, 483; number of families visited, 926; number of families given clothing, etc., 43 (this does not include rubbers or galoshes); pairs of shoes given, 83; number of persons in families helped, 102; articles of clothing given, 40 (this does not include small baby clothes); pieces of furniture given, 23; Sunday-school and Young People's Work—Sunday meetings held, 43; weekday meetings held, 34; total young people's meetings held, 77; total attendance at these meetings, 2,100; Sunday-school papers given each Sunday, 50; toys given out at Xmas, 125; candies given out at Xmas time, 75 lbs.; also, a crate of oranges (approximately 200); baskets of groceries given out, 13.

This summer we also plan on sending some of the needy families to our camp for a 10-day's stay.

We print below one of the many letters received by Capt. Wright, asking for help:

"Sir: I am writing to see if I could possibly obtain through you some bed clothing, such as quilts and blankets. I am in need very badly for two beds and suffering for want of some. I am out of work, have been for some time with a sick wife all summer. And I have just returned from Northville and Plymouth looking for work, walking, nearly broke to death without a cent in my pocket. I have never asked any one for help in my life. But if I could get it from you I would gladly pay you just as soon as I get work.

"I suppose this is out of your jurisdiction, but desperate need takes desperate efforts."

$2,000 NEEDED TO CARRY ON WORK

Capt. Wright Gives Some Idea of the Work Being Done Here.

Work During Past Year Very Satisfactory.

Captain F. W. Wright of the local Salvation Army branch, announces that the drive to obtain funds to carry on the work of the army in Plymouth for the ensuing year, will start Monday, January 6th. Last year the quota for this work in Plymouth was set at $1200, but this amount has been found inadequate to carry on the many appeals that have come for help in various ways, so this year the quota has been set at $2,000, and it is hoped that this amount will have been secured when the drive is completed. Plymouth citizens have been very liberal in their support of the local branch of the Salvation Army, and there is every reason to believe that they will continue to be so.

Capt. and Mrs. Wright, who have been in charge here, have won a large place in the hearts of the people for the sincere and earnest manner in which they have endeavored to carry on the mission of their work.

The plan of solicitation this year will be carried on the same as last year. In years past, the money contributed by Plymouth people was sent to Detroit to be used wherever it was most needed. In Plymouth it is used here to relieve distress and to interest the underprivileged men, women and children in a spiritual way.

Capt. Wright announces that during the coming year there will be no solicitation for funds from the local business men at the Saturday evening meetings, as has been done the past year.

1929 A BUSY YEAR FOR THE VILLAGE

BALANCED PROGRAM OF WORK CARRIED TO COMPLETION THE PAST SEASON.

Though no particular extensive program of public improvements was undertaken by the Village of Plymouth during the year 1929, a report of the activities of the village for the twelve month period, now being prepared for publication, indicates that the year was a busy one nevertheless, and that a substantial program of work was carried through to satisfactory completion by every department of the Village organization. The summary of Village activities for 1929, as given below, indicates in brief the main points in the year's record of accomplishments.

From the financial viewpoint the record is no less satisfactory. The report of the auditors covering the fiscal year ending March 31, 1929, indicates that a total of $32,092.10 remained as a credit balance in the budget funds of the Village as of the above date. In other words something over 30 per cent of funds raised by general tax remained unspent at the close of the budget year. Though no exact figures are at the present writing available it is assumed that the close of the present fiscal year will likewise find a substantial credit balance in all budget funds. This with no increase in the Village tax rate and increases in valuations only where improvements were made.

During the past year a dog ordinance was passed and put into effect. Under the provisions of the former, some forty stray dogs were destroyed the past year. The pedlar's ordinance is proving very effective in regulating the activities of peddlers and door-to-door vendors in the Village. In addition to the above, the Commission has authorized the preparation of a building code, an electrical code and a sanitary or sewerage and plumbing code. The building code has been completed and is now being considered by the Commission. The latter two codes will receive consideration in the very near future.

Following is a summary of the activities of the Village during the year just closed:

Street Improvements
South Main street widened and the east line straightened along Kelllogg Park.
Deming avenue resurfaced with sheet asphalt from South Main street to South Harvey street.
Liberty street resurfaced with sheet asphalt from Starkweather avenue to North Mill street.
All curbing upon Main street from Ann Arbor street to Mill street repaired.

Burch Foraker

President of Michigan Bell Telephone Company announces increased expenditures, totaling $62,000,000, for 1930. New construction, alone, is expected to total $20,000,000, he says. All parts of Michigan will benefit. See news story on page four.

Death of Louisa Hubert

Louisa M. Hubert was born March 2, 1861, in Nankin township, County of Wayne, Michigan, and lived her entire life near her birthplace. March 20, 1884, she was married to John Stewart. Four children were born to this union, Charles of Wayne; Grace (Mrs. Charles Stoneburner) and Edward of Plymouth, and Irving J., who died during the World War with the army of occupation at Raubach, Germany. The family made their home on a farm in east Nankin township, where Mrs. Stewart lived until 1924 when she moved to Plymouth. Here she resided until her death, December 21, 1929.

Mrs. Stewart was for many years a member of the East Nankin Presbyterian church, and for a number of years was president of the Woman's Missionary Society of that church of which organization she continued a member while she lived. Coming to Plymouth she united with the First Presbyterian church here, and soon proved herself to be one of its most helpful members, teaching in the Sunday-school and sharing in the work of the Women's Auxiliary. She loved the church and its services and her fine Christian character, coupled with an intelligent interest in the church's work, gave to her life an unusual influence.

Besides her daughter and two sons already mentioned, Mrs. Stewart is survived by three brothers, Marcus of Charlotte, Michigan; Hugh of Toledo, Ohio; and Frank of Royal Oak, Michigan; and by two sisters, Mrs. Fred Wilson of Elm, and Mrs. W. S. Roberts of Lansing. There are also six grandchildren, Vera and Margaret Stoneburner of Plymouth; Forest Stewart and Charles Stewart of Plymouth.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Monday, December 30, from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home to the Newburg cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Walter Nichol, assisted by Rev. Donald Riley. The many and beautiful floral tributes bore mute testimony to the esteem in which Mrs. Stewart was held. The body was tenderly conveyed to its last resting place by the hands of her two sons, her son-in-law and her three brothers.

"For all the saints who from their labors rest,
Who thro' by faith before the world confessed,
Thy name, O Jesus, be forever blest.
Hallelujah."

Studebaker Builds A New Erskine

In an ad in today's Mail, Studebaker announces a new and bigger Erskine.

It is a big car, full 114-inch wheelbase. It is a powerful car, its 70 horsepower delivers more power per pound than other cars in its class. It is a fast car, your darling dictates the speed you travel. It is a comfortable car with hydraulic shock absorbers, long springs, deep cushions and generous head and leg room. It is a safe car with never-failing four-wheel brakes, rugged double-drop frame, and a steel-core steering wheel.

Some of the new features of this great car are its 70 horsepower engine, 114 inch wheelbase, motor cushioned in live rubber, new Burgess Acoustic muffler, Lancheater vibration damper, Double drop frame, new type Erskine-Bendix Duo-Servo four-wheel brakes, Timken Tapered roller bearings, Adjustable front seat and steering column and Chromium plating.

You can drive the Erskine at 40 miles an hour when new.

The new model comes in seven body types: Club sedan, for five; Sedan, for five; Regal Sedan, for five; Landau, for five; Coupe, for two; Coupe, for four; and the Tourer, for five.

The Regal sedan stands out as a de luxe model. This sedan, for five, comes equipped from the factory with six wire wheels and trunk rack.

Last Saturday afternoon the Salvation Army organization gave a program at the Detroit House of Correction Farm, after which each inmate received a bag of fruit and candy.

BIG BUSINESS AT LOCAL POSTOFFICE LAST TWO WEEKS

One of the busy places in Plymouth during Christmas week was the local postoffice. The incoming and outgoing mail handled this year was the largest in the history of the office. It will be interesting to our readers to know that 74,594 pieces of outgoing mail passed through the Plymouth office. The handling and sorting of all this mail entails a vast amount of work on the part of employees so that the mail can be delivered on time.

It was necessary to make an extra delivery on Sunday before Christmas in order that carriers could have their sorting tables anywhere clear on Monday. The parcel post mail was not quite so heavy this year as last. Postmaster Miles, the postal clerks, city and rural carriers are deserving of much credit for the manner in which they handled the work and we believe the patrons of the office are duly appreciative of the splendid and efficient service which they rendered.

Woman's Club To Hear Noted Speaker

For the meeting of January 10th, we are to hear the celebrated writer and lecturer, Joseph R. Adler. His subject will be "Russia." Past, present and future. Mr. Adler has written many articles for leading periodicals. His address will be exceptionally interesting and authentic as he has just returned from that country making a thorough study of conditions in general, and we are very fortunate to hear him at this time.

Speech music is being prepared. Tea will be served by committee in charge.

NEW FORD AUTOMOBILES NOW BEING DISPLAYED

FENDERS HAVE NEW LINES, HOOD IS HIGHER AND SEDAN ROOMIER.

The new Ford car was on display at the showrooms of the Plymouth Motor Sales Tuesday and attracted a great deal of attention. The chief interest is centered in the new bodies and the new colors in which these bodies will be available, adding smartness to the car, many little refinements will also be observed.

For instance there is the new steering wheel. All passenger cars are equipped with a new type, made of hard composition, black in color and polished to a bright luster and add to the beauty of the car. They are distinctive, wide, with high crowns and follow the flowing lines of the car in graceful curves.

The front fenders flare up from the chassis frame in a pleasing line, carry well over the wheel, yet are higher at the front than formerly. The fender, on one piece, closely follows the flowing lines of the car back to the cowl.

The running board and balance now also in one piece, cling closely to the body lines, the running board tapering slightly in width from front to rear in carrying out this effect.

The rear fender, also carrying a high crown, sets well over the wheel wrapping down at the rear in an outward curve to a point two inches lower than formerly.

The new hood is higher and longer

CHEVROLET ANNOUNCES "GREATEST CHEVROLET"

In a full page ad in today's Mail, the Chevrolet Motor Company announces a new car for 1930 known as "The Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History."

Announcement of the new car today comes right at the close of Chevrolet's greatest year, for the sensational success of the six-cylinder Chevrolet, introduced just a year ago, resulted in an output of 1,350,000 cars last year, breaking by a wide margin all former Chevrolet annual production records.

In making public Chevrolet's plan for 1930, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, declared that with the improvements incorporated in the new car, Chevrolet was anticipating a volume of business that will equal, if not surpass, the phenomenal record of 1929. And, in order to accommodate an early demand, production is being speeded with all the haste consistent with the precision methods for which Chevrolet manufacturing operations are famous.

New car shipments have been going out to dealers for the past ten days with deliveries to owners scheduled to start today. The cars went on display this morning in thousands of Chevrolet showrooms from coast to coast, while at the same time the announcement of the new car was being broadcast through the advertising columns of more than 2,500 newspapers.

Scores of distinct improvements have been made in the 1930 Chevrolet line, the factory announces. Greater beauty, added safety factors, improving riding

NEW FORD AUTOMOBILES NOW BEING DISPLAYED

(than that now in use, and a distinctive feature is the moulding, which starts at the radiator and runs on a straight line back to the cowl moulding.

Another feature, and one which adds much to the appearance of the hood, is the arrangement of the louvers. They are long, of graceful lines and effectively set off in a panel.

The new fenders, designed along ultra modern lines, contribute to types that were shown do not constitute a big model but are new bodies on the present Model A chassis. Virtually no change will be found in the mechanical part.

While the mechanical construction of the Model A car is constantly being improved in accordance with the Ford policy of giving greater value, no need for any major changes has been shown. Nearly 3,000,000 Model A type cars are now on the roads and they are proving their reliability.

Another distinctive feature is glistening head-lamps, set higher on a new arched tie rod, radiator shell and hub caps of new material, which has a polish fully as high as that of nickel plate. Nor will this polish tarnish.

No matter whether brought into contact with water, ice, snow or steam, the specially treated metal does not rust. And its silver gleam is not plate. It exists all the way through.

A new atmosphere of stability is produced by the smaller steel spoke wheels and large tires, which bring

NEW KIWANIS PRESIDENT TAKES OFFICE TUESDAY

Dr. Luther Peck Hands Over Gavel to His Successor, Dr. F. A. Lendrum.

Lieut.-Governor Nelson and Other Prominent Kiwanians Present.

At the regular luncheon hour of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club held Tuesday, Dr. Luther Peck, who has so efficiently served the club as president for the past year, handed over the gavel and placed the emblem of president in the lapel of Dr. F. A. Lendrum, president elect. In turning over the presidency of the club to his successor, Dr. Peck made some most fitting remarks in which he spoke of the club's progress during the past year and the hearty cooperation which he had received from every member. He especially commended the work of the committee under a wide spread revival of great importance that have been mentioned in this article of which we have given you just minute details.

ALL HANDS ON DECK!

If you heard that command on shipboard you wouldn't lose any time taking your place on deck.

And you would obey the captain's orders, even if your own life was needed as a sacrifice to save the rest.

President Hoover is commander of our great ship of state. As a citizen you are a member of the crew.

He has called all hands on deck and all that he asks you to do is to go to work. Certainly not much of a hardship in following out such an order.

When nearly two million people quit work to engage in speculation of all kinds the economic loss to the country was tremendous. No wonder there had to come a day of reckoning.

But your ship and my ship is going to ride safely through the storm—have no fear about that. The present situation serves as a warning to watch closely for dangerous shoals in the future.

All that we need to do during 1930 is to give the best there is in us. Work, always a salvation, is America's best friend. Let's have plenty of it during the next twelve months.

A TERRIBLE TOLL

Yearly reports are now in order, and we are being flooded with figures covering practically everything under the sun. But we believe the most significant to come to our attention are those offered by the National Safety Council in which is shown an increase of 15 percent in the number of people killed by autos and in auto accidents. Here is something for every Plymouth motorist to ponder over, something for parents who are not constantly warning their children of the danger of carelessness to reflect upon.

But the real shock is being told that 15 percent more people met death in 1929 than in 1928 comes with the statement that 80 per cent of those fatalities could have been prevented. Now think that over. Something like 25,000 people—enough to make a city in itself—losing their lives through carelessness!

Here are facts that no sensible man will pass by without heeding their warning. They are tremendous in their importance because life itself depends on how widely and how faithfully the warning is heeded. When 25,000 people are killed in a single year through carelessness, it's time for everybody to do a little sober thinking. We are entering a new year and with a clean slate. Wouldn't it be a good idea for every man who takes hold of a steering wheel this year to keep the warning constantly in mind?

WOMEN AND WOMEN

The United States Department of Agriculture has been doing a little experimenting in the office of farm women, and now they tell us that the average rural housewife needs 40 hours a week. They report that 10 hours of it consists of that time she spends...

his criticism of his home town is not such as we are anxious to have strangers hear. We are thankful that we have a minimum of such citizens in Plymouth and yet as long as we have a single one of that type it is one too many for the good of the community.

Just as every human being has faults, so every community, which is but a collection of human beings, has its defects. And considering the number of human failings it's a wonder every community doesn't have more defects. The community, this and every other one, is only what its citizens make it, and if one "knocks" his home town it reflects upon him as much as it does on his neighbors. By fault-finding he admits he has failed to do his part in helping to make his home town what it should be.

The citizen who is most generous in his praise of his own community is best serving his own interest and the interest of his neighbors. If there are things to be condemned, then condemn them. But at the same time be sure you have a remedy, and that you are willing to do your part toward correcting whatever evils or defects in need of correction. It might be a good idea to keep that at the head of your new resolutions for 1930.

FIREARMS BY MAIL

At Columbus, Ohio, a man is under arrest on a charge of having killed his father. He testified that he could not, on account of Ohio laws, buy a pistol in his own state, so he ordered one by mail. And his confession brings forward a question that must be settled sooner or later—the sooner the better. How much longer will the sale of firearms by mail be tolerated? Some of the largest mail-order houses have discontinued the practice. But hundreds of others are still peddling deadly weapons by this method, selling to anybody, and asking no questions. What is needed is a federal law to regulate and control the sale of firearms. People who have proper use for weapons are entitled to have them. But nine out of ten who carry pistols have no business with them, and the government could do no wiser thing than step in and say who shall have them and who shall not.

FOR THE NEW YEAR

At this season of the year, when the making of resolutions is a subject close to the heart of most everyone, a few pledges suggested by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association are singularly appropriate. What comes closer to happiness than health? And what is more true than the fact that health, in nine cases out of ten, is lost or preserved as the individual himself guards it?

All of us might therefore consider with profit the proposed resolutions—and reasonable as they may be the words of a child's copy book, we might remember in considering them that a child's rosy health comes through good food, long hours of sleep, plenty of out of doors play, and frequent medical and dental attention.

If you would enjoy a child's good health, then promise yourself to:

1. Get plenty of outdoor exercise in winter as well as summer.

2. Sleep eight hours each night in a well ventilated room.

3. Eat sleep, work and digest.

4. Visit the dentist at least once a year—keep your teeth and play in mud.

Newburg School Notes

Ruth Schmidt School opened Monday, December 30. Most of the children were present.

Miss Reid, our school nurse, visited our school Thursday, December 19th, and weighed us.

Miss Jameson, our helping teacher, visited our school Tuesday, December 17, and gave us our stars for the following: Clean, neatly kept and well drained grounds; Citizenship code; officers inaugurated, constitution signed and adopted before November 1, and organization with five officers.

The sixth graders will begin their geography notebooks; the seventh graders their geography and history notebooks, and the eighth graders their citizenship notebooks.

We had our Christmas program Friday evening, December 20. The program consisted of:

- The Glad Christmas Song—Upper grades
- A Merry Christmas to All—Lucille Bennett
- Play, "Getting Ready for Christmas"—Primary room
- Recitation—Angeline Schmittling
- Play, "Seeing Santa Claus"—Primary room
- Song, "The Christmas Dolly"—Olive Mae Bakewell
- Dialogue, "Boastful December—Intermediate boys"
- Song, "Santa's Coming"—David Gites, Lionel Coffin, Lewis Gilbert, George Dehn, Wesley Bakewell, Elton Bakewell, Francis Scheffer and Marvin Wilson
- Play, "The Birth of Peace"—Alice Bakewell, Dorothy Schmidt, Berdina Ballen, Eldora Ballen, Nettie Osten, Thelma Holmes, Evelyn McMullen, Dorothy Hearn, Elizabeth Stevens, Junior Ryder, Olive Mae Bakewell and Clara Scheffer
- Play, "Wherever the Star Shines"—Upper grades
- Piano Solo, "Star of the East"—Evelyn Stutzner

The P. T. A. furnished our Christmas tree and candy for all the children. Mr. R. Holmes wired our tree with lights.

The boys and girls are having a delightful time this wintry weather, playing in the snow and sliding down the hill.

Marvin, Dorothy and Donald Schmidt are spending their Christmas vacation in Florida. We expect they will have lots to tell us when they get back.

Third, Fourth and Fifth Grades We are all back to work after our vacation.

The following people are starting the new year out right, by getting a gold star in spelling: Betty Jane Joy, Thelma Holmes, Norma Coffin, Evelyn Ballen, Jennie Bassett, Lewis Gilbert, Kenneth McMullen, Elizabeth Stevens, Edward Bassett and Dorothy Hearn.

Louis Jennings is spending his vacation with his aunt.

Wesley Bakewell has a new pet. It is a guinea pig.

Primary Room Rose Todovnik is absent from school on account of illness.

WOMEN AND WORK

The United States Department of Agriculture has been doing a little snooping into the affairs of farm women, and now they tell us that the average rural housewife works 63 hours a week. They report that 52 hours and 17 minutes of that time are devoted to housework alone. The remainder is spent in gardening, looking after poultry, and such tasks. It takes 25 of the 63 hours to prepare the meals, serve them and then wash and put away the dishes; straightening up the house takes eight hours a week. No figures are offered covering the thousand and one other things she has to do, so we are left to wonder when she gets a minute to call her own. We are willing to accept Uncle Sam's figures as correct, and we are not going to dispute them. But we still believe, and we feel every woman around Plymouth believes that the best report on the subject ever submitted was the one which said: “A man works from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done.”

A GOOD RESOLUTION

It is indeed a poor community about which nothing good can be said. But power still in the citizen is hindered by petty prejudices and self interest that

General Assembly

Mr. Emens announced that the conditions in the halls were improved, but that they still could be better.

That the first league basketball game was played with Northville, Plymouth's enemy, on December 18, was announced.

The surprise was the presentation of the three national boy orators by Harold Stevens. An annual national contest was sponsored by the government, for quite a period of time, but just three years ago the international contests have begun to create a feeling of friendship and understanding among the countries.

Mr. Moore of Somerset, Kentucky, the United States representative of the oratorical contest, was the first speaker. It was no easy task for Mr. Moore to win this contest, as he said that he has competed for three successive years. The fourth year his persistence won him the honor of being the winner. The subject orated on was "The Advantages of the Government of the Country in Which I Live."

Not only Mr. Moore but also the other champion orators spoke on the same topic. Mr. Moore stated that it was through the courage, endurance and patience of our forefathers who have undertaken hardships and struggles for a long period of time that they and their posterity are able to enjoy the rights of free men. All wars, hardships, arbitrary movements to the time of 1789, when the fundamental document was ratified by all colonies was the background for the development of our Constitution.

It has been hard for the early patriots to win this national unity as they had no distinctive leader to follow. The people were led to their actions only by common opinion. For seventy years no leader has been acknowledged to pave the way to the formation of the Constitution. At the same time the ideals of the time have changed. The people saw that they lived in the time when they would have to set up new ideals. In the Constitution one hundred and fifty provisions are embodied to protect and preserve these new ideals which the patriots felt were sacred to themselves and their forthcoming generations.

Mr. Moore introduced Mr. Fox, Jr. of Canada. Mr. Fox spoke only once before the contest. His was a marvelous accomplishment, for in the high school he attended there was no public speaking course and no public speaking coach. To this difficulty the students in the Canadian high schools are compelled to take six solid subjects. Mr. Fox remarked that the twentieth century belongs to Canada. It is just now emerging into full mankind of life. It will progress at an accelerated velocity for lack of it it has courageous and energetic men and vast natural resources. Good agriculture is available for over three billion acres of land are lying at waste, which could be profitably cultivated. Only one-sixth of the land is cultivated. In Canada, there are vast hinterlands. Water power is easily obtained. Canada ranks third in the production of gold. It produces sixteen percent of the world supply of minerals. Sixty different minerals are obtainable. Only recently huge deposits of cobalt were found, a substance which is very much desirable in our industries at the present time. In the future Canada expects to be a mighty and a very progressive nation. The whole development of this country is entirely the confidence of its people.

Efrain Rosado, the Mexican champion orator, was introduced by Mr. Moore in Spanish. The Mexican school system is very different from ours. The students attend six years in the senior high school, taking eight solid subjects a year. Mr. Rosado attended a high school in Mexico City, consisting of about three thousand pupils. Here, too, as in the Canadian schools, no public speaking courses are offered. Mr. Rosado expressed his eagerness to be able to speak to the audience in a short introduction in English. He finished his speech in Spanish, expressing the ideas of his country which is eager to carry on friendly relations with the United States.

Mr. Moore concluded the program by thanking the pupils for their eagerness and attention.

per it to a soul, Santa was Eleanor's brother.

Christmas games of various types filled in the evening and, eventually, a very good lunch filled up the fun-makers. At least, sandwiches, cocoa, fruit jello and wafers do fill up the average girl. On the whole they voted it a most enjoyable evening and regretted that Christmas comes but once a year.

Plymouth "5" Loses To Northville

The Northville basketball team scored an impressive 14 to 4 victory over the Docks, December 18, at the Northville gym. The Plymouth shots failed to connect, and the Orange and Black goal was never seriously menaced.

Greenlee, the Northville left forward, was the big man of the evening with a record of four field goals and one free throw. Shear and Gust scored Plymouth's points each getting a field goal.

The first quarter saw the score tied at two all, but Northville soon forged ahead and the half found them on the long end of a 9 to 2 score. The last two periods were all Northville's except for Shear's shot in the third.

The score indicates that the Plymouth attempts were few. On the contrary their shots ranged in the vicinity of forty, but the unfamiliar floor made the results poor.

PLYMOUTH		NORTHVILLE
Randall	R F	Dusenburg	Gust
Gust	L F	Greenlee	DePorter
Ferguson	R G	Johnson	Barr

Score by quarters: 1 2 3 4—Total
Plymouth 2 0 2 0—4
Northville 7 2 4 1—14

Officials—Riskey, Michigan State Normal, and Nebling, U. of M., member of baseball team which went to Japan.

Substitutions—Plymouth: Shear, Lanker, Straub, Hondorp; Northville: Tiffin, Lyke and Beach.

SECONDS ALSO LOSE

In a hard overtime battle, the Northville second team finally edged out the Blue and White team. Materali put Plymouth in the lead with a foul shot, but F. Kerr caged a field goal to decide the contest. Final score—Plymouth 8, Northville 7.

Plymouth Meets St. Theresa

Plymouth High School's next league debate will be with St. Theresa, a parochial school in Detroit. The debate will be held in the Plymouth auditorium, Thursday, January 9. The time will probably be around eight o'clock.

As yet, the judges and chairman have not been chosen. The question is the same pertaining to the abolishment of the jury. In this debate Plymouth will uphold the negative. During the first two debates Plymouth had the affirmative.

So far, we have aggregated five-out of a possible eight points, four from Ypsil and one from Dearborn. The Plymouth team has not yet been picked for this debate, but so far the candidates seem to be Emma Rowe, Marion Gust, Harold Stevens and Zephania Blunk for the first position; Ruth Hetsler, David Daly and possibly Marion Gust or Harold Stevens for the second position, and Lester Daly is the only candidate for third speaker.

Plymouth must win her next two debates to enter the elimination series. Two unanimous verdicts would total thirteen points, which would guarantee our entry. A split and one unanimous verdict would make us fairly sure of entering, while two split decisions would just make it a matter of luck to get in. A loss now would put us definitely out of the race, so we must win. The team is out to win, and is putting forth every effort.

Needless to say we want your support. You have been told that times without number, but the more it is said the more truthful it becomes. So we want your support. Remember, the high school auditorium, Thursday, January 9, at eight o'clock.

Christmas Assembly

A general assembly was held December 20, 1929.

Mr. Emens opened the assembly with a short talk, telling that Christmas is one of the national and international established holidays. All pupils then sang "Jingle Bells."

The Junior Chorus sang "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and Luther's Cradle Hymn.

Joseph Ribbar played trumpet solos, accompanied by Miss Schrader at the piano. "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "I Hear the Bells on Christmas Day," and "Up on the House Top," respectively. The boys' glee club sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are." The girls' double quartet, consisting of M. Wood, C. Nichol, D. Hubert, M. Dunn, J. Strong, D. Gallimore, H. Rathburn, and D. Holloway, sang the "Canticle of the Noel." Little Mary Jane Martin entertained the pupils by singing "How Would You Like to Go to Santa Land?" and the school fight song.

The girls' glee club presented a pageant depicting Silent Night. Mary Haskell, posed the Virgin Mary; Mary McKinnon, Edna Proctor, Winona Kenter, Mary Lovens, Angela Watson, the Christ Child; Lois Caldwell, Kathryn Pennell and Janet Blickestaff, the three Wise Men; the remaining girls, angels singing "Silent Night."

Through the work of Miss Schrader and Miss Johnson, the program was one of the finest that has ever been presented of its kind.

Mr. Emens announced that the four Cs campaign would soon begin. He urged the pupils to try to write a play concerning this campaign. The Girl Reserves and the H-Y clubs will offer a prize for the best play written by any pupil.

Gorgas Memorial Contest

Ten history students of the eleventh grade submitted essays to compete in the Gorgas Memorial Contest which is being held throughout the United States. It is dedicated to the wonderful achievement of Dr. Gorgas, who helped get rid of the yellow fever and other diseases at the Panama Canal by cleaning and draining the swamps and marshes there. The topic each student wrote about was "The Gorgas Memorial and its Relation to Periodic Examinations." Misses Allen, Ford, Pleasant and Berg, the judges, chose Kathryn Pennell's the best of the ten essays, and have sent it to compete with many others at the National Contest.

Cobb-Bainbridge Wedding

Upon her parents' forty-fifth anniversary and his parents' thirty-ninth wedding anniversary, Miss Vivid Bainbridge was married to Hawley C. Cobb, at the home of the bride in Howell, on Christmas day at eight o'clock in the evening. The decorations were of pale yellow and white, and the ceremony was performed under a decorated arch of those colors.

The bride wore a gown of pale green and silver tulle, and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Miss Maxine Bainbridge, a niece of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a gown of peach color tulle, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The best man was Herbert Cobb, a brother of the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Schwartzentz using the double ring service.

The bride is a graduate of Howell High School and Anthony Wayne Institute. She received her A.B. from Michigan State College, was a member of Lambda Chi, sorority, and held honorary membership in Phi Kappa Phi. The groom is a graduate of Montgomery High School, received his A.B. from Hillsdale College, took a special course in education at Michigan State College, and attended International College, where he received an accounting diploma. For three years he worked in the accounting department of International Harvester Company. He has taught in Plymouth High School for three years.

The bride teaches history and civics in Northville High School.

After the wedding, the newly married couple took a short trip, then returned to their home on Plymouth-Northville road.

Pre-Holiday Fun

It's a good thing Christmas comes but once a year, for just see how frivolous it makes otherwise industrious people. Animated by the Christmas spirit, the Needlework Club found it impossible to see that last meeting before Christmas, but instead spent their hour very pleasantly with the help of Miss Smith.

Ten cents was taken from the treasury and divided into five cent prizes. Geraldine Schmidt won one nickel for making the most words out of "Merry Christmas," and Audrey Barlow won the other for making out the most words of a letter to Santa Claus. At that they were not so frivolous since the program was educational as well as interesting.

Seniors Conquer Freshmen

The senior-debate team extended their winning streak to two victories Tuesday, December 21, by defeating the freshman team 3 to 0. The seniors, Martha Schultz, Philip Rieger and Russell Wallace upheld the negative, and the freshmen, Ernest Archer, Odene Hitt and David Daly, the affirmative. The judges were Ruth Hetsler, Clyde Ferguson and John Randall.

This was the third debate in the inter-class debate schedule. This victory puts the seniors into the final debate. In the fourth debate, which will take place Thursday, January 7, at 12:00 o'clock, the freshmen will meet the sophomores. The winners of this debate will meet the freshmen, and that winner will meet the seniors for the championship of the school.

Scripts About Scrapbooks

The Ancient History students decided to make a scrapbook, and each pupil is submitting his bit toward the making of it. This clever poem composed by Doris Wallace, will have a prominent place in the scrapbook:

THE GREEKS
The Aegean World came first in line,
Chief food being bread, oil and wine.
Here it was warm, being in a sunny zone,
Yet these people's origin is quite unknown.

The island of Crete comes next in my track,
Introducing bronze and sun-dried brick
In Crete, Cossus was the chief city,
To these people we owe no pity.

For after all, they grew quite smart,
Even though they had a bad start.
To these people, our lives we owe a part,
For here we find the first real art.

The Illad and Odyssey were written by Homer,
We would imagine him a great roamer,
For to accomplish his one and only ambition,
To establish a new and united religion.

During the age of the Tyrants, it was easily seen,
That they would rule,—perhaps be mean.
What cared they, what the people say?
Their rules were laws the people must obey.

But of these Tyrants there were only three
First was successful, two forced to flee.
And now, we find these comes a pause,
Two men introduced a Greek code of laws.

This code of laws helped a great deal,
One of them being "The Right of Appeal."
"Equal Rights in Court," "Voice in State,"
It had come at last, after this long wait.

Plenty of Snow Says A Teacher

Leaving Detroit at 8:30 Friday night, and arriving at her destination at 9:30 the next night, Miss Berg, a local teacher, was anything but pleased. Miss Berg wanted to go to her home up north for her vacation; so she went to Detroit and took an excursion train. As the train proceeded, the snow became so bad that they were held up about every hour. The snow is so deep up where she lives, that people do not attempt to shovel it away, but pile it up on the roadsides. Having got about half way there, the lights went out, and the train could not get up enough steam to climb a hill.

Finally, twenty-six hours after leaving Detroit, the train pulled into the Ishpeming station.

Penny Matching Is Not Always Harmless Sport

Niagara Falls, Ont.—W. W. Knapp of Bridgeport, Conn., came to witness the night illumination of Niagara falls and because he came too early and struck up a casual acquaintance with a stranger he is minus $100.

Knapp was waiting for the spectacle to begin when a stranger appealed to his sporting instinct in order to while away the time. The stranger suggested the old and inexpensive pastime of matching pennies. Knapp readily assented but found his acquaintance could win more at matching pennies than some people do in high stake poker sessions.

Gold Strike Fatal to Family of Ducks

Oroville, Calif.—Mrs. E. R. Lewis of Swayne flat found a gold nugget worth $10 in the craw of a duck she was cleaning.

Sixteen other ducks waddled contentedly in the Lewis ranch yard at the time of the discovery. A few minutes later they had passed on to an other life.

In quick succession duck after duck had felt the edge of the ax. When it was all over Mrs. Lewis had $10 worth of gold and 17 dead ducks.

Live in Same House 30 Years Without Speaking

Little Rock, Ark.—Two sisters sit in identical chairs on a prim front porch facing a busy highway near here, separated by a high board wall and a sillence of 30 years. Two front gates stand side by side in the white-washed fence. Two front doors give entrance to the house. Between them, dividing into exact halves the front yard, front porch, the house itself, and 20 acres of ground on which it stands, runs the mysterious wall.

On one side sits Miss Sarah Mercer, a wrinkled old lady with proud black eyes, rocking the long years away. On the other side sits her younger sister, Miss Rachel, a slight and careworn figure, whose eyes speak of tragedy but whose lips are forever sealed to curious passers-by. For three decades no word has been exchanged across the dividing line.

Two sisters and the man who could love but one, are the actors in the Mercer melodramas, and the man looted ago disappeared. He was the sweet heart of Sarah, in the eyes of the persons in the community, but Rachel loved him as well.

Thirty years ago a storm raged in the old house, and then the lover was sent away and the two sisters were left to nurse their pride alone—one with only her memories for comfort and the other to endure the stigma of ostracism and to rear as best she could in a conventional community her baby son, the son of her sister's fiancé.

MINES BUREAU ACTS TO CURB DISASTERS

Conducts Research Work to Prevent Blasts

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Possibilities of disaster in coal mines have been minimized by research work of the United States bureau of mines, a survey of the bureau's work here indicates.

The Pittsburgh branch is the largest of eleven experimental stations. The activities of the bureau require a personnel of 250 persons, many of whom have made mining their life work.

Activities are divided into two major groups, general tests in the experimental mine at Bruceton, and laboratory and research investigations at the bureau of mines building located on the Carnegie Institute of Technology property.

Not only does the bureau attempt to find solutions for most of the mining accidents, but it also strives to have the knowledge thus won passed on to the operators in order that the greatest benefit may evolve upon those who toil far below the surface of the earth.

Three Calls a Year.

An average of three calls to disasters are answered a year. In all, the entire bureau has eleven rescue cars stationed at various points through the country. This system enables a car to be in every section in which a coal mine accident might occur.

The reverberating sounds of explosions and the crash of the fall of slate are heard at the experimental station. They are part of the regular investigations in the daily routine of the work.

The laboratory tests include delving into the dangers of the various gases which are encountered in mines. Efforts are made to determine means to counteract the deadly fumes. The magnitude of these gas experiments is shown by the bureau's report that 300 gas samples are analyzed a month, many being subjected to as many as six separate tests.

Electrical Tests.

A large section of the bureau building is used to make electrical tests. According to George St. J. Perrott, superintendent of the bureau, there are five hazards connected with the use of electricity in mines.

These hazards are electrical shock, unintentional ignition of explosives by stray current, ignition of coal dust by electrical arcs, and fires of electrical origin.

Because of the increasing use of electricity in mining, the department in which these experiments are made is considered among the most important at the bureau.

Mining regulations permit the use of 135 different kinds of explosives. Governmental experiments with mining explosives date from 1908 when blasting tests were begun by the technology branch of the geological survey. Since then the tests have been continued by the bureau of mines.

Many of the tests incidental to construction of the Holland, vehicular tunnel between New York and Jersey City were conducted at the Bruceton mine. These tests were made wholly to determine the system of ventilation needed to keep the air in the great Hudson river tubes free from impurities.

Cannibalism in Poultry Flocks Worries Owners

Hayward, Calif.—Ranchers and citizens of this section, as well as professors of the University of California, are greatly concerned over the recent outbreak of cannibalism here.

The cannibalism is among poultry flocks, one of the major Howard industries, and there are several theories as to its cause, although all authorities agree that it is contagious and once it enters a flock drastic measures are necessary for control.

Deficiency in diet is sometimes blamed, and the feeding of additional bran, meat, or salt in some instances will check the epidemic.

Alaskan Tribe Speaks
Same Tongue as Navajos

Anchorage, Alaska.—Dwelling 3,000 miles apart, a small tribe of Tanana Indians on a tributary of the Yukon speaks the same language as the Navajos, native of New Mexico and Arizona.

How the two distant tribes presumably possess language and history in common is of interest to anthropologists. Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKean have departed for the Upper Tanana to discover their traditional and actual history.

The Tananas hunt, fish and trap. They make no connections with other Indians or Eskimos, and except for exchanging furs for supplies have little to do with white men. One or two have attended a government school and from these the scientist hopes to find an interpreter.

Stowaway Wants to Get Back to His Laundry

Havana.—Being a stowaway in these days of world travel has become an ordinary affair, but to become a stowaway against one's will—that's news!

Rafael Casado, Key West laundryman for the P. & O. liners' sailors, took the wash to the steamer recently as usual and asked for his money. While waiting for it, however, the steamer cast off and Casado found himself going to sea, hence he did.

Upon arrival of the steamer Governor Cobb in Havana, Cuban authorities asked questions, and as a result of their interview the journeying laundryman was sent to Tiscornia, the immigration station, to await the return of the P. & O. boat to Key West and the laundry.

Final clearance sale of winter millinery begins next Tuesday, morning, January 7, at 8:00 o'clock. Just two prices, $1.00 and $2.00. All children's hats, $1.00. There will be velvet, felt, and metallic hats; all good styles. Don't miss this sale. Mrs. C. O. Dickerson, 122 North Harvey St. 1p

Headlights Aid Night Landings in Belgium

Brussels.—Successful experiments conducted with headlights on airplanes to facilitate night landings have been made in Sabena, the Belgian air line, at the Haren airport in Brussels. A plane was equipped with a light which, reflected by a parabolic Phillipps reflector, was projected 3,000 feet when the plane flew at an altitude of 900 feet. The success of the tests has prompted the Belgian government to provide all planes with such beacon facilities.

FARM WOMEN STILL WORKING OVERTIME

Modern Machinery Hasn't Removed All Drudgery.

Washington.—Modern machinery has lightened the load of men in industry and the city housewife, but a survey by Hildegarde Kneeland of the Agricultural department indicates that for farm housewives the old saw, "Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done," has lost none of its verity.

Judged by the eight-hour standard day, with Sunday off now generally prevalent in industry, all the 700 farm housewives studied are overworked. On an average their records show 68 hours and 30 minutes of working time for the week. This compares with the 44-hour week in industry.

Not all of the time, Miss Kneeland pointed out, is spent in housework and care of children. Most farm women carry a double job, being a farmer as well as homemaker. In a few instances she adds a third paid job to the traditional two. This double or triple role accounts for the longer hours of work for farm housewives as compared with women in the city.

In Superior Group. Study of the 700 farm homes disclosed the women in them work an average of 52 hours and 17 minutes a week on home making alone, and an additional 11 hours and 13 minutes in care of poultry, gardening, and other farm tasks. While this was the average in these 700 farm homes, Miss Kneeland expressed the view if the facts were obtained for all the 6,000 farm homes in the country the average of working hours would be found much higher. Women included in the study represented a superior group of farm homes containing many modern conveniences.

Almost half the 52 hours in home making was spent in feeding the family, and most of this in preparation of meals and dishwashing. Cleaning and straightening the house was the next largest item, requiring 8 hours and 15 minutes weekly. The other items in care of the house—care of fires, lights, water supply, repairing, care of surroundings, added another 2 hours and 17 minutes. Five hours and 21 minutes went to laundering, 4 hours and 11 minutes to sewing, 1 hour and 45 minutes to mending, and 12 minutes to other care of clothing.

Care of Children. Care of children and other members of the family required another 2 hours and 28 minutes, while 1 hour and 47 minutes were spent in planning, purchasing, and other management, and 5 minutes in miscellaneous duties. "Clearly this is a very different picture, indeed," Miss Kneeland said, "from the one which is usually painted concerning the modern home maker. According to the current version, we should expect to find her housekeeping tasks reduced to a mere hour or so a day, with the care of children and the management of the family income absorbing the major part of her limited working time. For the city home maker this may be somewhat true. But for the farm woman it bears little resemblance to the actual situation."

"It would be unjustified, however, to conclude that the farm home has been untouched by the industrial revolution. For, though the working hours of the farm woman are still long, they were undoubtedly even longer 50 years ago. And much more help was given the home maker then than now by other members of the household. One-fifth of these housewives studied did all their work themselves, and on the average they received only one hour a day of help."

Town of Nellie's Apron—Name Is Changed

Conway, Ark.—The town of Nellie's Apron henceforth will be called Napron. Railroad men are responsible for the change to what they consider a more dignified name.

Napron cannot be found easily on the map, but nevertheless, it lies midway between Cotter and Yellville, on the White River division of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

The legendary origin of the name is that a girl named Nellie was drowned in the White river and the only trace of her ever found was her apron on the river bank near the site of the present town.

Sidewalk Repair Program Launched and Nearly Completed During 1929

Village Hall repaired and remodeled so as to provide more satisfactory office accommodations.

Night fireman placed on duty every night, sleeping room accommodations having been provided over the fire hall. Additional fire hose and other equipment installed.

Telephone system in Hall rearranged and improved to give more efficient service to the public.

Three assessors' plats completed and approved; others being prepared. Street lighting system extended and improved.

A number of improvements installed at Riverside Cemetery. Improvements made in our system of assessing and of keeping Village records.

The above accomplishments are entirely in addition to the routine work carried on by the various Village departments, such as maintenance of streets, sewers, parks, Village property, etc., keeping of records, tax collections, conduct of elections, preservation of the peace and the numerous other duties comprising the daily program of the various branches of the Village administration.

GIVES TEN MILLIONS

Mauriee Falk, multi-millionaire philanthropist, who announced that his Christmas gift to Pittsburgh, his native city, is the creation of a $10,000,000 foundation for the public welfare and established as a memorial to his wife, Mrs. Laura Falk. A board of seven managers will be empowered to spend the entire amount within the next 35 years.

THE GREATEST CHEVROLET IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

Today, Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with beautiful new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1929. But it is a greater car in every way—for there are scores of vital improvements which contribute to every phase of comfort, performance, endurance and safety!

An improved six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower; four Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; fully-enclosed internal-expanding weather-proof brakes; a new dash gasoline gauge; heavier and stronger rear axle; Fisher non-glare windshield; larger tires—

—these are typical of the many improvements found throughout the entire design of this greatest of Chevrolets.

But most impressive of all—this smoother, faster, better Six is available—

--At Greatly Reduced Prices!

During 1929, more than a million three hundred thousand persons bought six-cylinder Chevrolets. This enormous volume has made possible many savings in the Chevrolet factories—and, in keeping with its long-established policy, Chevrolet is sharing these savings with the public. No written description can do justice to the extra value and quality provided in this new car. Visit your Chevrolet dealer—see this car—check its new features—ride in it—and judge for yourself the sensational value it represents.

Christian Science Notes

“Christian Science” was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, December 29th.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: “Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.” (Isa. 60:1).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, “Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,” by Mary Baker Eddy: “Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God.” (Page 271).

METHODIST NOTES

“Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove one now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.” Malachi 3:10.
Starting a new year, let us remember that the influence of its passing days will also be carried forward; that each year strikes an inevitable balance for good or ill.
If we will build into this new year a loyalty to our church, increased financial support of its work, glad assistance to our pastor, joyous development of our spiritual life, and a sincere and spontaneous service to mankind, no need to wish for a Happy New Year. It is assured.

Wednesday, January 5th, the missionary societies will meet at the home of our president, Mrs. L. N. Dickerson, on Fairground avenue. Cooperatives luncheon at 12:30, with Mrs. Tait and Mrs. Wellman in charge. Mrs. F. Brown will have the devotions and Mrs. L. Clemens has charge of the program. All the members are urged to be present, and we would be pleased to have other women who are not now members, join us. It is a privilege to belong to the great missionary societies of the Methodist church.
Wednesday evening, 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock, praise and prayer service, followed by a meeting of the Official Board.
Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, Mrs. Koenig's circle, L. A. S., will meet with Mrs. Frank Barrows, 837 Church street. All members are urged to come.
Next week being set aside as the week of prayer (and what better way could one start the new year?) the churches of the town are holding union services as follows: Monday night, 7:15 o'clock, Baptist church; Rev. W. S. Colgroves, who is conducting services at that church, will be the speaker. Tuesday evening, Presbyterian church, Rev. Riley will preach; Wednesday evening, each congregation will worship at its usual hour and place. Thursday evening, Episcopal church, Rev. Nichol will preach; Friday evening, Methodist church, Rev. Seltz will preach. The public is cordially invited to attend these various meetings.

Save the date and bring the whole family to see the play, “All in the Family,” at the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, January 10.
The Pulltabla Class had a delightful, postponed Christmas party at the home of Mrs. J. Glass on Burroughs Ave. on Monday night. Twenty-four were present, there were gifts for each one, a program and refreshments.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Begin the New Year with God! A week of prayer will be observed in the churches of the community, as last year. This is a united effort. Services will be at 7:15 p. m. and close at 8:00 p. m. Monday night at the Baptist church, Tuesday at the Presbyterian, Wednesday is kept free for churches to have their own service if desired, Thursday at St. John's church, and Friday at the Methodist church. 1930 is being observed as the ninetieth hundredth anniversary of our race! Let us pray that the Spirit may work in us, too!
A clean slate! What will you make of 1930? Come to church, and help to make this a happy new year for yourself and for those about you!
Have you gotten your new pledge envelopes? They were given out at the services last Sunday. Let every one start together in full force.
It was a pleasure to have as our guests the members of the Plymouth Rock Lodge of Masons last Sunday night, a good turn out for a bad night. The service was enthusiastic and the most rounded good under the leadership of the choir.
Choir practice will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.
A meeting of the Men's Club will be held on Wednesday, January 8, being postponed one week on account of New Year's Day. Smoker and entertainment. Plans to be made for some future activities. Everybody be there. Bring a friend with you!

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The Presbyterian church will join in the union week of prayer meetings next week. The meetings will be held in the different churches through out the week, at 7:15 p. m.
The Busy Women's Class will meet at the home of Mrs. Gus Gates on Tuesday next. There will be cooperative dinner at noon, followed by a meeting for business and a program.
The Women's Auxiliary will meet on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the church parlors. Members are asked to think of the donation table and the January division will serve refreshments. All women of the congregation are welcome.
Sunday morning next, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed.

Copies of The Plymouth Mail are on sale at the following places: The Plymouth Mail office, Penniman avenue; Community Pharmacy and Dodge's Drug Store, on South Main street; The Beyer Pharmacy, Liberty street.

BAPTIST NOTES

The young people's contest with the young people of the Wayne Baptist church came to a close last Sunday evening. The contest up to the last two Sundays was very closely run, however at the close Plymouth was able to come out 75 points in the lead. The young people are now eagerly looking forward to the supper and program which awaits them at Wayne. In the meantime, they are actively engaged in supporting the meetings and boosting the Win One Club.

STUDIES VOLCANOES' THROATS FROM AIR

Scientist Uses Planes to Make Observations.

Washington.—The use of an airplane to permit a scientific observer to look down the “sore throats” of active volcanoes, is one of the latest developments of aviation.

On the Island of Hawaii, where the eruptions are feared, three navy seaplanes have been used for volcano inspection trips. Aboard one plane was the veteran volcano observer, Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar.

No monarch or President receives more careful attention than that given by Doctor Jaggar to the volcanoes of the Hawaiian Islands. While his fame rests largely on his practice in these American possessions, Doctor Jaggar is subject to call as consultant in the Aleutian Islands, Japan and other volcano centers.

His house on the lip of Kilauea gives the scientist the right to be considered a “bedside volcano observer” in practically constant attendance on his most chronic case. His instruments, especially his seismographs, have their fingers on the pulse of the volcanoes at all times.

As some eruptions have arisen to fever heat earthquakes became stronger and more frequent. The numerous earthquakes that have shaken Hawaii recently aroused fears of impending eruption.

Studied Mount Pavlov Area.

During the summer of 1928 Doctor Jaggar led a National Geographic society expedition to the little-known Mount Pavlov volcano area in the Aleutian Islands, one of the most active volcanic regions in the world today.

On the expedition to the Pavlov area Doctor Jaggar found evidence of a four-and-a-quarter-year cycle of activity among the Aleutian cones.

“There are no more earthquakes or eruptions than there have been in the past,” declared Doctor Jaggar, in a report to the National Geographic society. “But more and more people are living in congested areas where disturbances inflict disasters now, whereas they would have passed unnoticed not so many years ago.”

Hence the need for skilled observers to keep tab on dangerous volcanoes.
How one eruption prediction saved thousands of lives and much property, was reported by Doctor Jaggar, in a communication to the National Geographic society, on the eruption of Sakurajima, Japan's greatest volcanic convulsion within historic times. The Hawaiian specialist was an eyewitness of the last phases of this eruption.

Although 20,000 people were living on the tiny island center of destruction a few days before the disaster, the volcano killed no one.

“The remarkable record of life-saving in the Sakurajima eruption,” wrote Doctor Jaggar, “was partly due to good luck, but also to the instinct of the people, to the wisdom of the government, and to scientific foresight.”

Hopes to Learn More.

To determine whether earthquakes, more common in the United States than volcanoes (Lassen, in California, the only active cone), have a close relation to volcanoes, has been one object of Doctor Jaggar's study.

“It is only a question of time,” Doctor Jaggar continued, “and of additional observations at several volcanoes, for science to learn more about earthquake portents than anyone dreamed of 50 years ago.”
“The late honored Professor Omori was a martyr to science in the Tokyo earthquake. He devoted all the later years of his life to studying the relation of earthquakes to active volcanoes in Japan. He found that volcanoes were keys to the earthquake problem. He had almost reached the point of unlocking the mystery. An honor to his memory, and may science take up the key where he laid it down.”

Which of These Types Fits Your Store?

THREE general kinds of lighting provide adequate illumination for almost every commercial purpose. The first type, and probably the most common, is a soft, comfortable light of good intensity and distribution. It is well-adapted to the following stores—Automobile Supply, Bake Shop, Book Store, Cigar Store, Confectionery, Florist, Grocery, Hardware, Notions, Shoe Store, and Sporting Goods.

The second type is a light which makes merchandise sparkle, and is especially suitable for displaying jewelry and china. The third type is designed to bring out the color values of merchandise, and is much in use in Art Stores, Clothing and Dry Goods Stores, Millinery and Tailor Shops, and Furriers.

Without charge, our illuminating engineers will gladly study and discuss with you the lighting of your store.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"THE MYSTERIOUS DR. FU MANCHU"

Mysterious destruction and sudden death have been associated with dragons in the Orient since time immemorial and research into ancient Chinese lore uncovered many amazing facts for use in the new Paramount all-talking mystery melodrama, "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," which will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, January 5, 6 and 7.

The dragon in mythical history and early oriental legends is regarded as a symbol of evil and destructive forces and the earliest conception is embodied in the Babylonian myth of Tiamat, the great she-dragon. Tiamat played havoc with humanity until she was slain by the demigod, Merodach. From the Orient, the legendary conception of the dragon spread westward. As the highest feat of courage, mythical heroes set out to slay some mythical dragon.

In selecting a blood-stained dragon as the emblem of a sinister and unseen menace in "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," Director Rowland V. Lee makes use of the fact that, because the dragon has made its greatest impression on the oriental mind, it has come to be associated with deep, mysterious happenings with an oriental background. Hundreds of authentic photographs of oriental dragons were studied before the emblem used in the picture was finally selected.

Throughout the story of "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," the dragon mysteriously appears in the hands of those marked for a sudden and terrible end. In addition to Warner Oland in the title role, the cast includes O. P. Heggie, Jean Arthur, Neil Hamilton and William Austin.

"SMILING IRISH EYES"

Enacting an appropriate role as a roguish little Irish girl of Killybeg, Colleen Moore has demonstrated her ability in taking pictures to the entire satisfaction of all who have seen "Smiling Irish Eyes," a First National Vitaphone production, coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, January 8 and 9.

"Smiling Irish Eyes," in which Miss Moore makes her dialogue debut, is quite deserving of the enthusiasm that welcomes it, for never has charming Colleen been presented in a more entertaining picture. Through the addition of Vitaphone, Colleen not only adds an effective speaking voice to her delightful screen personality, but reveals new talents by singing several melodies in a pleasing soprano. The fact that she scores so decisively in her first talking picture, despite her lack of stage experience, indicates that the screen will not be monopolized in the future by recruits from the footlights.

The story of "Smiling Irish Eyes" is a romantic tale of a Killybeg colleen and her Irish sweetheart, portrayed by James Hall. The boy's ability to compose love songs on his violin results in his going to New York to seek success on the stage, and Colleen is left behind. Heartbroken because she doesn't hear from him, she remains in her native village.

America to find him. She discovers that he has attained success as a song writer through the popularity of a melody he had written just for her, "Smiling Irish Eyes," and his apparent faithlessness to her crushes Colleen completely. She returns to Ireland before she knows she has been in New York, and the manner in which they meet again gives a charming twist to the end of the story.

"Smiling Irish Eyes" is liberally sprinkled with comedy episodes, a particularly laughable portion of the story occurring at an Irish county fair, while one of the choicest comedy scenes in which Colleen has even appeared finds her with her "Irish up" in a scene with the lord of the countryside.

The popular melodies introduced by the picture have been cleverly built into the story, "Smiling Irish Eyes" and "A Wee Bit o' Love" occurring most naturally as the plot unfolds.

Two comedy characters, portrayed by Claude Gillingwater and Robert Romans, deserve special mention, as these splendid actors never failed to draw laughter. The entire cast acquitted itself well, Aggie Herring, Robert Emmett O'Conner, Betty Francisco, Tom O'Brien and Julianne Johnston playing their respective roles with ability.

William A. Selter is to be credited with splendid direction of "Smiling Irish Eyes," which was produced by John McCormick for First National Vitaphone Pictures.

"THE LOCKED DOOR"

When Rod LaRocque, co-star of United Artists' "The Locked Door" coming to the Penniman Allen theatre Friday and Saturday, January 10 and 11, first satired in his crib and turned a speculative, wondering eye on the world about him, the Gods tumbled a generous assortment of talents into his lap and then retired to their native thrones to smile down upon him.

La Rocque is handsome, six feet three inches tall, pleasing to meet and know and at thirty-one is fabulously rich. He is a gifted actor, a slinger of merit, a bibliophile of no mean attainment. His work in the field of amateur photography has won him many medals. In addition he is married to Vilma Banky, the screen star. Born in Chicago of non-professional parents, he gravitated to the stage at the age of seven when he played with Willard Mack at the Lyceum Theatre in Duluth. After that initial engagement he played further child parts in "Salome Jane," "The Middleman" and "Shore Acres."

The possession of a high falsetto voice and an ability to yodel with more than fair success earned him a leading role in "The Blue Girl" while he was attending an Omaha high school. The promotion to pictures was of course inevitable and Essanay's Chicago studios being the nearest, he journeyed there and was featured in George Ade's Fables and played villain roles in a group of Bryant Washburn productions. When the Essanay studios were closed, La Rocque went to New York, where he appeared both on the stage and in pictures. He became one of the stellar lights of the profession through his performance of one of the two leading roles in Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments."

Incidentally, it is interesting to note that La Rocque's first and latest picture assignments find him in villainous roles. In "The Locked Door" he portrays the character of an amusing, though not villainous, cad.

The "talkies," he believes, have brought a new impetus to the show business and an era of prosperity for showmen. He expects that 5,000 additional theatres will be wired by the end of 1930.

"The Locked Door," the latest production from the United Artists studio, features an all-star cast composed of Rod La Rocque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd, Betty Bronson and Mack Swain, Zasu Pitts and other stage and screen celebrities.

WORLD'S OLDEST MAN 262, LIVES IN CHINA

Survives 23 Wives, Present One Is Sixty.

Peking, China.—The world's oldest man, who, if his given age is correct, would antedate the American republic by almost a century, has been found in Kalsien, a town in southern Sze-chuen province, according to Prof. Wu Chung-chieh, dean of the department of education at Minko university here.

The man in question is Li Ching-yung. Dynastic records verify to the professor's satisfaction that Li is now in his two hundred and fifty-second year, or more than one-fourth as old as Methuselah, the old man of the Bible, who lived 969 years.

The professor is interested especially in Li because he is reported to have found a "fountain of youth" in the shape of medicinal plants growing on the hills of Yunnan and Kweichow. Doctor Wu has gone to Sze-chuen province to teach and is urging the patriarch to visit Peking, so that the secret of his longevity can be investigated.

Survives 23 Wives. Professor Wu was told that Li has survived 23 wives and is now living with his 24th, who is a mere sixty years of age.

Shanghai newspapers recently printed a picture of Li, showing him to have a long chin, prominent ears and a beard, which legend says turned white a century ago. Li still walks with the firm tread of a man in his prime and has a large appetite. Wu was informed.

Li Ching-yung, according to the professor's informants, has records to show he was born in 1677, during the reign of the Emperor Kang Hsi, the second emperor of the Manchu dynasty. He was a druggist in his youth and during his research for medicinal plants on the mountains of Yunnan discovered the herbs which have so remarkably prolonged his life. Verified by records.

When Li attained the age of one hundred years, in 1777, his "old age" was considered remarkable, and the provincial authorities petitioned the imperial government for an appropriate recognition. The government at Peking consented, and it is declared in the order for this action is contained in the dynasty records.

But Li kept on living, the reports go, and astonished his neighborhood by reaching his two hundredth year. The imperial government was surprised to get a petition urging further recognition and according to Pre-fessor Wu, verified the old man's great age in the records.

Now the residence of Kalsien report Li seems well on his way to his three hundredth year without showing signs of senility. Last spring Gen. Kang Sen, the leading militarist in Szech wan, invited Li to a banquet in his honor.

Chevrolet Announces "Greatest Chevrolet"

A variety of colors, carry the famous Fisher stamp of craftsmanship. Eight models, three of which are new to Chevrolet, comprise the line.

The six cylinder valve-in-head engine introduced a year ago, after four years of research and development, has been further improved and refined.

Working with Chevrolet's chief engineer, were General Motors engineers and Proving Ground engineers, with 18 Chevrolet engineers assisting their chief in supervising the development.

The brakes horsepower has been increased over the entire speed range. At 1000 revolutions per minute 24.5 horsepower is developed and the maximum of 60 horsepower is attained at 2,600 revolutions per minute.

Smother operation of the engine and longer life are assured through the use of light weight pistons. Steel-bucked crankshaft bearings have been adopted because they are more durable.

The oil pump has been increased in capacity and improved in efficiency, while the carburetor has been improved in respect to both its accelerating pump and jet size.

The same sturdy 48 pound crankshaft which proved so satisfactory during 1929 has been retained in the new car and a further contribution to smoother engine operation, improved distribution and increased economy has been made by the new intake and exhaust manifolds of the heated T design.

When confronted with Mrs. Thomas, Brownfield continued to remain calm and coolly stated he did not know her and had never seen her before.

When sentenced to be hanged, Brownfield took the sentence in the same unruffled manner he has maintained since being arrested for the crime.

Restaurants Expect to Lose Spoons, Not Phones

density. These combined refinements result in better engine performance by insuring delivery of clean, cool air to the carburetor in larger quantities.

The clutch on the new car has been improved by the adoption of an integral disc, made in one piece of high carbon steel. This will give the 1930 cars smoother and easier clutch action, with quieter operation and longer service.

Another improvement bringing about easier riding, is found in the Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers in the form of a rigid link rod instead of a strap connecting the operating arms with the chassis and insuring positive transmission of all rebound movements.

A new type of gasoline gauge of unusual accuracy is found on the new Chevrolet. A double float in the tank insures correct reading of this gauge regardless of the position of the car.

Appearance and riding qualities of the car have been improved through a change in the tire size from a 28.5 by 20 to 4.75 by 18. The rim diameter has been reduced one inch.

Disc wheels are provided as standard equipment on all models except the sport roadster and sport coupe. The wire wheels on these models are equipped with drop center rims and are demountable at the hub.

Any possibility of the hood rattling has been eliminated through the addition of a rubber bumper mounted on the upturned flange of the fender skirt, against which the hood bears.

The instrument panel design and arrangement this year is entirely new. The instruments are all mounted on a single carrier plate which is assembled from the rear.

The sport roadster and sport coupe are equipped with wire wheels. Both have rumble seats, that in the sport roadster being of the flush type. Spare wheel and carrier are mounted on the back.

When confronted with Mrs. Thomas, Brownfield continued to remain calm and coolly stated he did not know her and had never seen her before.

When sentenced to be hanged, Brownfield took the sentence in the same unruffled manner he has maintained since being arrested for the crime.
