LOOKING AHEAD

Where is the Plymouth resident who doesn't wonder along about this time of year just what the coming twelve months hold in store in the way of new and wonderful inventions? Right at the outset we read that Thomas A. Edison says he hopes before 1930 is ended to give the world a substitute for rubber, and that it will come through utilizing the goldenrod, which grows in great abundance in many states. If we get nothing else but that—the discovery of a substitute for rubber—we will have cause for rejoicing. Rubber has come to be a very necessary part of our daily life, and something we really could not get along without. It may not be good news to Great Britain, for she has a monopoly on it and has for years had us in her grasp. But it ought to cause rejoicing in this country, and it ought to bring a nationwide hope that Mr. Edison's scheme works out 100 per cent successfully.

BABIES AND PIGS

The government recently put out two pamphlets that are in great demand. One of them tells how to bring up babies, and the other gives instructions on how to raise pigs. Up to recently, according to a Washington newspaper, the pig book was in greatest demand. But lately calls for the book on baby raising have increased, so it took as though American families will eventually become as much interested in bringing up children as they are in making fat hogs out of little pigs. When that time comes there will be little use for prisons, police and poor-houses—institutions that are now necessary largely because too many people devote their time to raising pigs when they should be devoting more of it to raising their children.

A HIGHWAY ARGUMENT

When a Plymouth motorist drives over a good road, in preference to a sand or dirt road, he saves two cents a mile in tire and tube wear and consumption of gasoline. Some may dispute it, but the American Road Builders' Association offers the figures after a year of experiment with every kind of road and every type of road.

The report explains that tractive resistance on paved roads is reduced, and that this resistance is what wears tires; the least amount of "pull" causes the least amount of tire wear. Where a car will go 15 miles to the gallon on a paved surface it has been found that 1.47 gallons are needed to cover the same distance on unpaved roads.

Right here is argument enough for paved roads, though a hundred others just as good can be advanced. If motorists can save two cents a mile on paved roads then how long, considering the number of cars in operation in this state, would it take to pay off the added tax state-wide paving would cost? Not very long. Of course there is the saving in time to be considered, as well as the advantages of getting to markets that could not be reached over poor roads. But leaving all this out, it seems to us that the mere fact that paved roads save car owners two cents a mile in tire wear and gasoline consumption is enough to warrant them in demanding still better highways than we now have. And it ought to be sufficient to silence the fellow who is willing to drive along in the same old ruts rather than line up with the good roads boosters.

MORE WEATHER TALK

"Good old winters" and "good old summers" so much discussed by old timers around Plymouth are declared to be a myth by Charles Marvin, chief of the United States Weather Bureau at Washington City.

"If the weather changes from the time of Adam up to today were averaged by centuries they wouldn't show any variation in yearly temperature," he says. Since 1920 he finds winters have been unusually mild, but only in a little over half of the states. However, the winter of 1928-29 was below normal from the Pacific to the Alleghany mountains, even when compared with an "old-fashioned winter." In the same period, though, it was above normal on the Atlantic coast, so the equalization was maintained.

It is interesting to note that between 1778 and 1865 January 10 was the average coldest day of each year, while from 1870 to 1919 the date had shifted to January 19. But that doesn't mean anything, according to the weather expert, and neither does it follow because we had zero weather last November in many parts of the country that this is going to be a long, hard, disagreeable winter. He says it may develop into one of the mildest winters we have ever had—and we hope, it does—but that when any of us argue that we don't have as much severe winter weather as we used to have we are dead wrong. And he contends that the Weather Bureau averages over the past 50 years will prove it.

V-Type 8 Cylinder Motor Latest Oakland Creation

Two forward engine mountings are designed in the form of flat laminated springs. While rear rubber mountings restrain the engine from motion relative to the car frame, these front spring type mountings serve to absorb the normal reactions of engine operation. In order to prevent the spring type mountings from permitting the engine to respond to road shocks a new device—the "synchronizer" was invented. It provides a lateral tie rod, solidly bolted to the right side of the frame and extending through an opening into the crankcase. There its point of contact with the engine is a vertical rocker arm which is moved slightly from side to side by a cam on the forward end of the crankshaft.

Synchronized with the normal engine reactions, this simple device permits the springs on which the front of the engine is mounted to absorb these microscopic reactions but, through its anchorage on the car frame, prevents outside shocks from communicating extreme motion to the engine. This revolutionary engine mounting, in conjunction with the rubber cushion drive connecting the power plant and the propeller shaft, develops a high degree of engine smoothness. The carefully balanced clutch shaft and rear end all have been increased in size to handle the greater power of the new Eight engine. In the Pontiac Six four point rubber mountings insulate the engine from the frame.

The thermostatically controlled cooling system of the new "V" Eight provides a new "recirculation" feature which contributes importantly toward better performance and higher efficiency. In other types of cooling the water becomes stagnant in the cylinder block and head when the thermostat valve is closed, permitting water in some of the engine passages to remain cool while steam is being formed in other spots. This condition causes uneven expansion and inefficient operation during the warming up period. In the new Oakland a small by-pass connects the water pump with the cylinder head outlet manifold, thus allowing water, trapped in the engine by the closed thermostat valve, to keep circulating within the engine. Recirculation of this trapped water maintains uniform engine temperature until release of the thermostat extends the circulation on through the radiator.

Contributing still further to the effectiveness of both the new Oakland Eight and also the New Series Pontiac Six is the Cross-Flow design of radiator which remains an exclusive feature of these two cars. Because the Cross-Flow radiator so effectively prevents evaporation, it is asserted that one filling of alcohol or other anti-freeze solution usually proves adequate to protect the cooling system from freezing during an entire winter of driving.

Both cars which originally introduced the pump type of fuel feed to the automotive industry continue to employ the highly effective AC fuel pump which provides exactly the proper amount of fuel at all speeds and positively prevents "starving" on long up grades.

Many other late developments also are to be found on both the Oakland and Pontiac. One of these is the safety device by which danger of operating without lubrication is obviated in the remote event that the oil pump should fail to function. In such an emergency the shearing of a small pin would stop the distributor and halt the engine, preventing possible damage from lack of oil.

Another "mutual" feature of the two cars is an arrangement which prevents cold oil from piling up on the cleaning screen and hampering circulation when the engine is started during cold weather. When the oil is thick and cold, the overflow from the oil pressure regulator is returned immediately to the pump for re-circulation without having to work down through the cleaning screen.

Both cars are protected by crankcase ventilation of the combination pressure suction type which delivers crankcase fumes under the chassis. Removal of fumes and water vapor from the crankcase by the ventilation systems prevents condensation and consequent dilution of the oil. Chassis lubrication of both cars is by high-pressure oil gun. And both cars continue to use the aluminum plugged type of piston pin which prevents annoying piston pin rattle and the valve spring damper which prevents spring surge or breakage.

Possibility of pre-ignition troubles on either car has been practically eliminated by the adoption of smaller metric size spark plugs. The distributions on both cars automatically provide proper timing at all engine speeds. Both also employ a new type of semi-automatic starting motor. In this new design, the starting motor pinion engages the teeth of the flywheel at the first downward movement of the starter pedal, electrical contact and rotation of the starter armature being accomplished only after the starter pinion is in mesh with the flywheel. This eliminates chipping of the teeth on the flywheel gear.

Oakland's original contribution to driver convenience, the toe button control of tilt-ray headlamps, is retained in both the Oakland and the Pontiac for 1930. In the Oakland Eight, a brand new lighting innovation is represented by the indicator lamps, mounted on the two front fenders. They not only add a smart touch to the appearance of the car, but provide features of safety and utility as well. Spreading light both ahead and to each side, these lamps serve the same purpose as do the port and starboard lights of a ship by apprising drivers of cars approaching in cross traffic of the presence of the Oakland. Visible also to the driver of the Oakland and automatically turning on when the beam of the main headlamps are depressed, the indicator lamps thus keep the driver informed as to whether his headlamps are in the elevated or depressed position.

An important comfort feature on both cars is found in the rubber cups which seal the brake and clutch pedal openings when the pedals are in normal position, thus preventing summer heat or winter cold from entering the cars. The dash panels are heavily insulated against temperature extremes.

Increased flexibility in the front springs of both the Oakland and the Pontiac results in even greater riding comfort as does also the introduction of solid metal links connecting the Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers with the springs. These solid links, replacing the straps formerly used, assure instantaneous action by the shock absorber pistons. All springs are fitted at the factory with lubricated spring covers which preserve their original resiliency.

The service brakes on both cars are easier to operate and more effective than any previous Oakland-Pontiac brakes. They are of the internal expanding, self-energizing type individually adjustable and fitted with a new design of moulded linings which are said frequently to last for 20,000 or 30,000 miles of service. Ample clearance provides assurance against dragging brakes. Rollers have been placed on the toggle link pins, effecting an appreciable reduction in pedal effort. The emergency brake is connected directly to the service brakes.

Newly-designed and smartly appointed new bodies by Fisher confer a new appearance value on both the Oakland and Pontiac lines well in keeping with their greater mechanical excellence and larger capabilities. The seven body models offered in each line include two-door sedan, four-door sedan, custom sedan, standard coupe, sport coupe, sport roadster and sport phaeton.

Special equipment obtainable on all models includes trunk rack and sets of six wire wheels with the spare wheels and tires cradled in front fender wells and secured by chrome-plated retainer clamps.

The Smith Motor Sales are showing the new cars at their salesroom on South Main street.

According to fashion rumors, we are heading back to the time when what a girl wore underneath was nobody's business.

Between the movie show and the radio the supper dishes lead a wild life in a good many Plymouth homes these days.

Now that the holidays are over we suppose there will be quite a falling off in Sunday-school attendance around Plymouth.

Band Plays At Plymouth-Wayne Game

The band played at the Plymouth and Wayne game which was held in our own gymnasium. Although all the band members were not able to play, the organization did very well, for they played with much enthusiasm. Some of the pieces were "Hall, Hall the Gang's Here," "Hall to the Victors," "Varsity," and our own, the "Fight Song."

Alumni Revisit School

It has seemed good to see the faces of alumni in the corridors during the past week. They visit old teachers, look at their pictures in the halls, and think of the glory that has departed, perhaps. Some of the visitors were Helen and Clara Tyler, the former at Michigan State and the latter a graduate; Margaret Dunning, Katherine Wilcox, Rhea Peck, Harold Hubert and David Nichol at the University; Heloise Travis from Michigan State; Alice Gilbert and Cecil Packard from Albion; Elizabeth and Louise Spicer, the former at Michigan and the latter a graduate; and Elizabeth Burrows from Marygrove College.

Let's Dance

Say, that's a good idea. Well then I'll see you January 17. I might just as well tell you where. At the High School Auditorium and if you don't know, the Freshmen are giving their first school dance. They've hired Rip Collins and his Melody Boys and they'll sure make it a peppy evening. Tickets are going to be on sale next Monday and they can be obtained from Mrs. Smith or any class officer at twenty-five (25c) apiece.

There's a game at Farmington that evening but you will have plenty of time to come afterwards. The dance starts at 7:30 and we'd like to see everyone there.

Those Back-Seat Drivers

"Oh, why don't you stay on the road? Can't you see where you're going?" Such were the inquiries made by her.

"Keep still! Who do you think is driving this car, anyway? My, it sure is slippery! O-o-o, there she goes again!" Such exclamations were made by him.

"Well, I don't think we will make this incline, do you?"

"Of course we'll make it! A Ford is a Ford, and it can do anything."

"Anyway, I should think you ought to have brains enough to put the chains on. They probably would help some."

"Oh, it doesn't matter whether I have chains on or not, if we're going to slide, we'll just slide that's all."

"E-ek! Oh-h! I was sure you'd land in the ditch that time! Oh, boy, I thought my heart would jump out of my mouth!"

"Now listen here. If you would only keep still a second everything would be all right. My word, you make me mad! If you think I don't drive well enough to suit you, why don't you drive yourself!"

"Well, you don't have to raise an uproar about everything. I'm just telling you. Oh-h! I'm scared! I wonder why the roads must be so icy anyway!"

"Here we are! It's great to be back home again!"

"I would just as soon go again somewhere if it weren't for your driving. Really, I'm scared stiff to be riding with you."

"So thus ended the trip home, SHE, however, as always, did have the last word.

Starkweather P. T. A. Buys Pictures

Since the Starkweather P. T. A. was organized, it has had as an aim the purchasing of good pictures for each room. Sufficient funds were raised last year, but some delay was experienced in obtaining suitable prints. The committee consisting of Mrs.

4-Cs CAMPAIGN

Clean living, clean speech, clean athletics and clean scholarship are the aims for which the H-Y, Torch Club, Campfire Girls and Girl Reserves work each year in the 4-Cs campaign. A general assembly on January 15 is to be devoted to a 4-Cs program. This program is the particular task of the H-Y. The Girl Reserves and Campfire Girls are attending to all publicity and are sponsoring a tag day. The Torch Club is expected to get the blotters which are distributed every year at examination time to remind the students of these four things. The campaign is carried on entirely by the students. Posters and announcements remind the students of the necessity for clean speech, clean living, clean athletics and clean scholarship.

The committee in charge of the campaign is: Gale Kenyon, Kenneth Gust, Viola Luttermoser, Mary Haakell, Catherine Nichol and Mrs. Crumble.

Ralph West, Grade Principal Mrs. Bird, and the teachers of the Starkweather school chose the subjects desired and last week the pictures arrived.

"A Distinguished Member of the Humane Society" by Lauderer, for the kindergarten; "Boy and Rabbit" by Roeburn, for 1-B room; "Dignity and Impudence" by Lauderer, for 1-A room; "Can't You Talk" by Holmes, for second grade; "Divine Shepherd" by Murlilo, for third grade; "Pilgrims Going to Church" by Boughton, for fifth grade; "Angelus" by Millet, for fifth grade; and "St. Gallahad" by Watts, for sixth grade; "Rehms Cathedral" by Becker, for Mrs. Bird's office; "Beethoven's Sonata" by Bayes, for the music room. A set made of pottery for use in pictures of still life, has been ordered for the art room.

The pictures are all colored prints, beautifully framed, and the committee feels well pleased with the selection.

The present president has plans for further beautifying the building with funds raised during this school year.

These pictures will be on display at the next P. T. A. meeting to be held in the school auditorium on Wednesday, January 15, and the public is cordially invited to come and inspect them.

Vocational Club Looks Up Past Seniors

The Vocational Club has been sending out questionnaires to the seniors of the past five years. The purpose of this is to find out their problems in school now that they are out of school. This will help us in the work on problems that we are about to start. Most of the questionnaires have been returned to us, we are summarizing them. Several have the same problems but this all proves very interesting to us in our work with them. We have found that most of the students after graduation went to College or are working.

Blue and Gold Team Swamps Rocks, 26 to 8

Unable to solve the fast teamwork of the Wayne crew, the local swimmers of their second league game by a lopsided 26 to 8 score. Combined with a stone wall defense, this made the visiting aggregation a very formidable one.

Culp started the ball rolling for Wayne with a basket in the first few seconds of play. From then on Plymouth seemed a hopeless one. Plymouth's only point in the two periods was a free goal by Gust. This made the score 14 to 1 in Wayne's favor.

In the second half Plymouth scored seven points, but was unable to overtake the lead of the flying Wayne team. Enot was the mainstay in offense with a record of eleven points, five field goals and a charity toss, though Culp, with seven points, was not far behind. Carley sunk four of Plymouth's eight points. Randall was next with three markers.

Both Plymouth and Wayne had new uniforms, and looked like good teams. With this loss, Plymouth is zero in league standings.

SECONDS SCORE A WIN

The Blue and White second team, however, chalked up a victory against a heavier and bigger Wayne squad. The Blue and Gold cohorts were unable to cope with the slashing attack unleashed by the Rocks. The Plymouth defense was really as good. Final score—9 to 5 in favor of Plymouth.

Central School News

Douglas Lorenz's name now appears on the perfect teeth chart in Miss Wilmore's room. Janice Covell, Cecil Glass, Owen Gorton and Rita Schief have been neither absent nor tardy during the first four months of school.

The little ones in Mrs. Root's room are busy making a border pattern for one blackboard of sunbonnet babies in red, rolling big snow balls and for the other blackboard they are cutting out dog sleds on which ride little Eskimo girls. This border will decorate the room during the month of January. The boys and girls in group three are working hard to master as many words as possible before promotion in February, and their attendance regularly is of the greatest importance. In nature study the children are talking about the formation of ice and snow and beauty of snow-fake patterns. In language they are looking at pictures of Eskimos and learning a little about how others live. Stewart Morton entered the room last week, from the Greer school, Superior township. In picture study they have heard the story of "Feeding Her Birds" by Millet, and have pasted the picture in their art books.

Miss Richard's room has the program for P. T. A. this week. There is a new blackboard border in the room for the month of January.

Miss Welman's boys and girls also have a part in the P. T. A. program. All of them are very anxious that their mothers and fathers be there. Murray Delmore, who has been absent for a month, came back last Thursday.

Benlah King, Warren Todd, Betty Martin, Arthur Guldner, Bonnie Thompson, Byron Covell, Maybell Wolf, Astrid Hegge, Mary Moon, Muriel Kelly, Elizabeth Hegge and Dorothy O'Leary all have their names on the honor roll in Miss Field's room. In health class, the children are writing Health Rhymes, and some of them have done surprisingly well. Earl Lyke is still absent with chicken pox. Harold Groth and Jack Finn have had their names added to the perfect teeth list in Miss Farrand's room. The 4-B section is working on U. S. maps. Bruce Richard spelled everyone in the room down last week.

The winners in the menu contest in Miss Fenner's room were: Margaret Barlow—first prize; Noble Schaefer, second; Ina Esch, third, and Frances Bridge, fourth. The fifth grade geography scores are: Madeline Weller, 47, and John Urban, 48. The scores in the sixth grade contest are: Bernard, 53, and Jean, 39. The last picture in art study was Sir Galahad. Virginia Chise is still room reporter.

Miss Hallahan's 6-A hygiene class has completed review. A great many boys and girls are absent because of illness. William Esch and Haldon Burden made a January calendar for the room. Fifteen people have perfect spelling records for the semester. Jack Kinsey's team is ahead in the contest.

Rocks Trimmed By Southeastern

Putting up a game but losing battle Plymouth was beaten in basketball Monday night by Southeastern of Detroit. It was only a scrimmage and no score was kept, but it was only too plain that the victors were getting many more baskets than the Rocks.

At the end of the first quarter the score was 6 to 5 in favor of Southeastern. Their coach then sent the regulars into the fray, and from then on it was a losing battle for Plymouth.

It is not so bad when you consider that Southeastern has two all city men on their team and they had a fast breaking offense that the Rocks could not solve.

Junior Drama Activities

Craftsmen as well as budding actors are the members of the Junior Drama Club, for lately they have been building model stages and constructing their own furniture. They are working on novel and attractive color schemes. Since the scenery in the miniature stages is modeled after that on our own stage, some day we shall probably be treated to an eye-pleasing surprise.

Last week Wilhelmina Rocker and Vera Woods brought in two models for inspection. These stages are both made of cardboard. One has the square type of background with a child's metallic toy furniture aptly completing the illusion of a real living room, even to the extent of a tiny candlestick and holder on the mock fireplace. Gold and pink is the dominant note in the color scheme, and dark velvet curtains used as rug give a contrasting note. Through draped arch leading off-stage, may be seen a dining room, and through another door in the rear glimmers the brightness of a garden. The only thing lacking is windows.

The other model has the rounded curved back design. The furniture is made very cleverly by hand, and is painted to resemble varnish. Colorful curtains are given by a green rug, colorful miniature lamps and a roll pillow on the tiny daybed. Windows in the rear are covered by net curtains.

These models are displayed in Miss Johnson's room, and are very well worth looking at.

Cooking Classes Make Us Hungry

"Doesn't that smell good?" "Gee, I'm hungry!" The reason for these two popular phrases in the course is that the girls in the ninth grade cooking class have been making angel food, devil's food and marble cakes, and these tempting odors waft from the first floor way up to the third. They have also tried making French fried potatoes, fried cakes, cream puffs and ice cream. An outside project for the girls was making cookies at home and bringing their recipes and cookies to class where they discussed the merits and demerits of their cooking.

Extra! Extra!

While studying the American Revolution, the 7-A history class thought they would like to make a newspaper. One class chose the "Boston News" to be their's and the other class chose "The Boston Gazette." Each pupil pretended he was a newspaper reporter of that time, and wrote articles on each event; then the best articles were chosen to be published in the newspaper. Exciting accounts appeared under such headlines as "Paul Revere's Ride," "Hill," "A Victory for Us."

Both newspapers were displayed on the history bulletin board and each student enjoyed the work of his fellow classmates immensely.

Debate Preparation

The Plymouth debating team held two practice debates Monday and Tuesday nights of this week in preparation for the league debate with St. Theresa which took place last night. Monday after school the squad went into Detroit and debated against Cass Technical High School. It was quite an interesting contest, both sides showing up quite well. Tuesday, after school, the team from Ferndale High School came to Plymouth. This was another interesting contest. Plymouth having slightly the better of the argument.

The Plymouth five team is the same as the affirmative with the exception of the arrangement. Harold Stevens speaks first, Marion Gust second, and Lester Daly third. On the affirmative the first two speakers were reversed. These three people have been working hard all year and have earned their positions. The squad is set back somewhat on account of Christmas vacation. Notwithstanding, they are going in with every determination to win.

A Dad's-Eye View of Girl's Basketball

My sister and I came home from school very much excited over the girls' basketball tournament. We were talking about it at the table when my Dad remarked that he couldn't understand girls' basketball—it looked so silly to him. A bunch of girls run to a line on the floor and stand there craning their necks and leaning way over reaching for something that isn't there. When the ball comes, they all jump up a little and scream and let it pass above their heads; then they all rush to another line and hang over there.

Oh, well, that's terribly sarcastic but it doesn't make any difference to me. I still like basketball.

Alumnae Autocrats of The Dinner Table

If you had been near Church street last Friday at about five-thirty, you would have seen many girls, some wearing Girl Reserve uniforms and all wearing smiles, going into the Methodist Episcopal church. The grand occasion was the third alumnae banquet of the Girl Reserves. About seventy-five, both alumnae and present members, were grouped in the order of their classes around the tables arranged in a hollow square, and a delicious dinner was served by the women of the Methodist Missionary Society. Between courses each class chose one of its favorite songs, and Hazel Rathburn led the singing.

Mary Haskell, the present president, opened the meeting, and Elizabeth Strong introduced the speakers. The Girl Reserves, being a very thoughtful organization, did not allow the speakers to tread their speeches and spoil a perfectly good dinner, but had the presidents of the other years make impromptu speeches. The former presidents were all there, although some had to come from quite a distance.

The president of 1925 (the year in which the club was organized in this school), Mrs. Juanita Coe-Sutherland, had two years at Oberlin College, Ohio, and two at the University of Michigan, graduating with an A. B. degree and specializing in library science. The president of 1926, Julia Wilcox, had two years at the University of Michigan, received a scholarship to Smith College at Northampton, Mass., and is a senior there, specializing in psychology. The president of 1927, Katherine Wilcox, is a junior at the University of Michigan, and just lately she had the honor of leading the Pan Hellenic dance. The president of 1928, Joy McNabb, is a sophomore at Albion College, where she is specializing in either Latin or literature. The president of 1929, Alice Gilbert, is also at Albion, and a specializing in public speaking. The Girl Reserve are a very proud of their past presidents.

A few other girls, Mary Parrott-Richwine, Josephine Schmidt, Ruth Allison, Rhea Peck, Lorraine Corbett, and our sponsor, Miss Allen, were called upon to make speeches. The reunion was closed by the girls singing "Follow the Glean," and all went home glad to have belonged to such an organization, and still "following the gleam."

The Usual Resolutions

It seems as if the Needlework Club simply cannot concentrate on sewing for at their last meeting part of them spent the time making New Year resolutions. I wonder if one of them is to sew a little every day? However, if they do not keep them any better than the rest of humanity, it was just so much time wasted.

Again the entertainer, Evelyn Williams this time, was absent, but nevertheless they got along very well since Marie Chapman read an interesting story to them. Gertrude Miller is to be entertainer next week, and perhaps by that time the members can really settle down and get to work.

But who can blame them for being restless with semester exams looming closer every day? Who can sit and stitch with such a weighty thing on his mind?

A Study of Evangeline

Miss Johnson's eighth grade reading class has been reading Longfellow's "Evangeline," and drawing pictures showing the geographical location of Grand Pre and the grounds surrounding Evangeline's home. Each one drew his picture from the description given in the story and many interesting ideas were illustrated from the various interpretations.

"TAMING OF THE SHREW"

Girls, what would you do if you were waiting at the church, dressed in beautiful bridal robes, your guests were assembled, your attendants were read, the organ was playing; the minister was becoming impatient—and the bridegroom was missing?

When he does finally put in an appearance dressed like a tramp—what would you do?

That is the problem faced by Mary Pickford in "Taming of the Shrew," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, January 12, 13 and 14.

And it is just one of the hilarious situations furnished by Shakespeare in his immortal glorious comedy which brings "America's Sweetheart" and her famous husband, Douglas Fairbanks to the screen for the first time as co-stars.

Up to this time in the famous comedy, Katherine has held the whip hand. Through tyranny and downright orneriness she has succeeded in making life unbearable for everyone in the vicinity until her meeting with the magnetic Petruchio.

Director Sam Taylor, the man who directed Miss Pickford in "Coquette" has given the production of "Taming of the Shrew" a deft touch, a subtlety which makes it one chuckle from beginning to end, enhanced by the original Shakespearean dialogue in the all-talking picture.

Supporting the two stars, as members of a featured cast are Edwin Maxwell, as Baptista; Dorothy Jordan, as the beautiful mild-mannered Bianca; Geoffrey Wardwell, as Hortensio; Joseph Cawthorn, as Gremio, and funny Clyde Cook as the faithful servant Grumio.

After two long engagements on Broadway, first as a stage play with Blanche Yurka and more recently as a First National Vitaphone picture, "The Squall" comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, January 15 and 16.

"The Squall" is an all-talking and singing production with Myrna Loy as Nubi, the gypsy gale of passion from which the picture gets its title.

It is an adaptation of the stage play by Jean Bart and has been transplanted to the screen with very few minor changes.

However the screen offers a much wider scope for presenting the gypsy customs and manners of which little was seen in the stage version.

The story concerns a peaceful Hungarian family into whose home comes Nubi, the gypsy girl. She seeks sanctuary, claiming that she was stolen by a band of gypsies and that she is not a gypsy at all.

Myrna Loy plays the role of Nubi. Others in the cast are Alice Joyce, Loretta Young, Richard Tucker, Zasu Pitts, Nicholas Soussanin and others.

The Tiffany-Burlington production featuring Betty Compton, George Barrard and Juliette Compton, will be the feature picture at the Penniman Allen theatre on Friday and Saturday, January 17 and 18.

In from other points in the raw and semi-finished state.

In the past few years an impressive list of new companies has been added to the producers of steel established long ago in or near Detroit.

Manufacturers of automobiles, parts, and other industries make market for semi-finished materials.

While the state of Michigan produces little steel, it is one of the largest consumers of iron and steel products shipped in from other points of the nation in raw or semi-finished state.

Transportation and warehousing facilities are the most important factors in the traffic of steel in Detroit and the Detroit area.

Recent Expansion Noted. The years 1928-29 were years of industrial expansion in the United States and to the industries is credited a large portion of the 125,000 tons of structural steel used for only the major building operations of Detroit during 1929.

Although Detroit is the center of the automotive industry, not all of the warehousing companies of Detroit depend on automobile plants for the consumption of the products they handle.

While the steel industry in Detroit today is not the most important industry, considering the value of products, the production of steel ranked first in value of manufacture in 1929 when Detroit produced $2,499,000 worth of steel compared with the total manufacture of $30,000,000.

Interstate LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATES Again Reduced

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1930

On calls from points in Michigan to out-of-state points, 60 to 300 miles distant, Station-to-Station day rates are reduced 10% in most cases. For example, the day rate for a station-to-station call from Detroit to Cleveland is reduced from 70c to 60c; from Grand Rapids to Chicago 85c to 75c; from Jackson to Fort Wayne, Indiana 65c to 55c; from Lansing to Cincinnati, Ohio $1.30 to $1.20; from Marquette to Milwaukee, Wisconsin $1.25 to $1.15; from Saginaw to Toledo, Ohio 85c to 75c; from Kalamazoo to Indianapolis, Indiana $1.05 to 95c.

This is the fourth reduction in long distance rates within little more than three years. The present reduction will result in a saving of more than $5,000,000 a year to telephone users of the United States.

It is part of the fundamental policy of the Bell System to provide the best possible telephone service at the least cost to the public.

Uncovering Temples and Tombs of Ancient Egypt

Excavations, with the aid of native labor, in progress at the ancient temple of Deir El Bahri which has been uncovered by the Egyptian expedition from the Metropolitan Museum of Art under the direction of Herbert E. Winlock. Among the sensational ruins brought to light is the magnificent tomb of Queen Meret-Amun, believed to be about 3,000 years old. Evidence was found that robbers had been at work nearly a thousand years ago, and made off with many of the priceless treasures.

Some Plymouth men seem to think there is no finer way for a woman to spend her life than devoting it to keeping a husband well fed and well taken care of.

You'd very seldom read in the papers of a divorce if it was as easy to stay in love as it is to stay in debt. The old-fashioned worry was how to keep the women of the family in clothes. So is the new-fashioned one.

Our idea of a spunky woman is the Plymouth wife who can tell her husband where to find the needle and thread when there's a button off of his shirt.

Dodge Brothers Offer A Straight 8 and Three Sixes

signed power plant with eight cylinders in line has been pronounced by eminent engineering talent as a marvel in the quiet development and smooth application of tremendous energy. It is of the bloc cast L-head type, with 2 1/2 inch bore, 4 1/2 inch stroke and a piston displacement of 230.7 cubic inches. The power plant develops a maximum of 70 horsepower. Four-point engine suspension system is used, with rubber insulation at the rear supports to absorb vibration.

The crankshaft, which is statically and dynamically balanced, is drilled to permit the forcing of oil at 25 to 30 pounds pressure to all bearings. To the size and perfect balance of this shaft, plus the rigid bearing support, and the effectiveness of an impulse-neutralizer is attributed the smoothness of engine performance throughout the entire range of operating speeds.

Pistons are of the light alloy, ventilated bridge-type, each being fitted with three compression rings and one oil control ring.

Metric thread spark plugs with heavy electrodes, similar in design to those necessary in racing car and airplane motors, permit the engine more capably to meet the requirements of both idling and high speed-driving. The latest type of gasoline and oil filters further insure engine efficiency.

The Down-draft carburetor, introducing a new fuelization principle of extraordinary importance, is an outstanding feature. Fuel is "dropped" into the engine, assisted rather than resisted by the forces of gravity.

Fuel from a 15-gallon supply tank is fed to the engine steadily in measured quantities by a new fuel pump, driven from the camshaft.

The improved transmission, unusually quiet in operation, is a unit with the engine. Clutch is the single, dry plate type. The rear axle is semi-floating with two roller bearings supporting each wheel.

Steering is of the semi-irreversible worm and sector type, adjustable for wear. Ball thrust bearings at the steering knuckle head, together with other refinements in design, make steering responsive to the slightest touch.

Dodge Brothers hydraulic, internal-expanding weatherproof four-wheel brakes in 12-inch drums provide a total braking area sufficient to insure positive control of the car at all times.

Exceptional riding comfort at any speed is made possible by the unusually long semi-elliptic springs, mounted in rubber. Spring action is controlled by four hydraulic, double-acting shock absorbers. Balloon tires (5.50 x 18) with non-skid tread on all wheels, properly complete the roadability of the new Eight-in-Line.

On top of the steering column are the light control switch, gasoline throttle and horn button. Gear shift is standard, three speeds forward and one reverse. The gear ratio is 4.6 to 1 on all models.

Conical type headlamps of the most modern design with cowl lights following the same general design, are said to achieve a new effect in body blending with the symmetry of art lines.

The New Dodge Six
A Four-door Sedan, Coupe with rumble seat, Business Coupe, Convertible Coupe with rumble seat, Roadster and Phaeton constitute the body types available in the new and lower price six-cylinder line.

Basic simplicity of design gives the new six its dignity and richness of style and appearance. Simple lines that lend impressive beauty to the car as a whole are carried out in all details. The instrument panel and all other interior hardware appeal strongly to the discerning because of their plain surfaces, set off with a delicate fringe of laurel decoration.

Velour and leather are the materials used in upholstery in the six cylinder models. In the open cars, a taupe, seal-grain leather is used throughout.

Dodge Brothers engineers state that in experimental and road tests extending over a period of many months, the new six cylinder power plant has sustained a consistent record for pulling power, durability, speed and general efficiency. It develops a maximum of 61 brake horsepower, has a bore of 3 1/2 inches, stroke of 4 1/2 inches, and a displacement of 489.8 cubic inches. The cylinder block is integral with the heavily-webbed crankcase. Rubber engine mountings, like that of the eight are used.

Lubrication is forced under pressure to all crankshaft, camshaft and connecting rod bearings.

The heavy crankshaft is fully counterweighted and balanced both statically and dynamically. It is supported on four main bearings of much more than average size.

Piston and spark plug specifications, and the design of the cooling system, fuel feed, brakes, transmission and rear axle follow closely that of the Eight-in-Line.

Rear axle gear-ratio on the new Six is 4.9 to 1 on all models. The fuel supply tank has a capacity of 11 gallons. Artillery-type wood wheels give maximum strength and beauty.

Earl S. Mastick, local representative for Dodge Brothers cars is showing one of the new models at his salesroom at the corner of South Main street and West Ann Arbor road.

OBITUARY

Floyd Walter Mielbeck was born September 8, 1923, and slipped away to the better world December 31, 1929. His total earthly life was therefore crowded into three months and 23 days.

His health was normal up to about four days before his death. At that time, he contracted an ordinary cold which, in spite of the doctor's skill developed into pneumonia, which speedily brought on death. While his life in this world was brief and his leave-taking most sudden and hard to bear, yet his short stay brought untold blessing and joy to his parents and little brother, Wesley.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, January 3, at Newburg church conducted by Rev. Frank Purdy. Misses Joy McNabb and Catherine Purdy, accompanied on the piano by Miss Margaret Purdy, sang "Above the Bright Blue." The beautiful flowers attested the sympathy felt for the bereaved family.

Interment was in the Livonia Center cemetery.

Beautiful spirit free from all stain, Ours the heartache, the sorrow, the pain;

Thine is the glory and infinite gain. Thy slumber is sweet.

SORE THROAT AND COUGHS
QUICKLY RELIEVED BY THIS SAFE PRESCRIPTION.

Here's a doctor's prescription that is really throat insurance. Sore or irritated throats are relieved and soothed almost instantly with the very first swallow. About 90 per cent of all coughs are caused by an irritated throat; consequently for most coughs too there is nothing better than this famous prescription—it goes direct to the internal cause. It is put up under the name Thoxine and is guaranteed to stop coughs and relieve sore throats in 15 minutes or your money will be refunded. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves almost instantly, it contains nothing harmful, is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Ask for Thoxine 35c., 60c., and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Dodge Drug Co. and all other good drug stores.

ON DISPLAY TODAY

THE NEW OAKLAND 8

$1045 AND UP

General Motors' Lowest-Priced Eight . . . the Car with Superior Performance

Today a new eight-cylinder motor car makes its appearance. It is the newest General Motors eight and by several hundreds of dollars the lowest in price. It is the New Oakland Eight with smart new bodies by Fisher.

Superior Performance
The New Oakland Eight develops 85 horsepower and is the first stock car of its size and weight to employ an engine of such high power. Since performance depends largely on the ratio between horsepower and weight, the New Oakland Eight is exceptionally fast and powerful because it produces one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight.

Eight-Cylinder Smoothness
The New Oakland Eight has all the smoothness which results from the overlapping power impulses inherent in eight-cylinder engine design. In addition, it enjoys exclusive mechanical advantages which make it even smoother and more delightful to drive.

Sound Basic Design
Several of the engineers who participated in creating General Motors' first eight back in 1914 were responsible for the development of the New Oakland Eight. To this latest task they brought a wide knowledge of eight-cylinder design. It is reasonable to expect that the Oakland is a finer eight because of this fact.

Moderate Price
We believe the New Oakland Eight will appeal to you all the more forcibly when you consider its very moderate price. And a demonstration will reveal how well it merits the description "the car with superior performance."

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

A Famous Name—A Finer Car . . . Introducing Important Improvements

The announcement of the first Pontiac in 1926 brought to the low-price field a new order of beauty, performance and reliability. And each Pontiac announcement since that time has introduced a car which represented an improvement even over its own highly regarded predecessors.

Important Improvements
Now comes the New Series Pontiac Big Six—an even finer car with a famous name. It retains all the qualities responsible for Pontiac's success in the past. And in addition it introduces many improvements.

New bodies by Fisher make this latest Pontiac Big Six more beautiful than ever.

Greater Smoothness and Safety
The smoothness of Pontiac's 60-horsepower engine is further increased by the use of improved type rubber engine mountings. Pontiac's large non-squeak four-wheel brakes have been made even more efficient. A new sloping non-glare windshield also adds to its safety. Handling ease is increased through the use of a new type of steering mechanism. Improved Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers give increased riding comfort.

Time-Tried Performance

In speed, power and pick-up the New Series Pontiac Big Six continues to uphold the Pontiac reputation for spirited performance. Come now to our showroom and inspect this finer car with a famous name—the New Series Pontiac Big Six.

ROSDALE GARDENS EPHEMERALS

J. W. WALKER

There are some things one cannot get in the cracker epiphany, which we found out just yesterday. And that is, went to our local pill rollers and overheard a conversation between a couple farmer boys, who were admiring the watch in the case, the one that made the dollar famous, only now they don't say that, only say, dollar four bits, really quick and snappy like. Well, to go on with the story, they wanted to know if the resident chemist furnished insect powder with each and every watch. Thinking they meant some sort of cleaning polish the case attendant, who we will call "S" for short, hastened to explain that the cases were rust proof, so says older farmer boy, "but what about the ticks, they keep us awake nights, 'S' being douser than usual, then thought that they wanted sleeping powders and suggested an alarm clock to wake them up. Whereupon the younger lad bought the dollar and four bit watch and told the erstwhile "S" something about him being in reverse gear. Which all goes to show that eggs do not grow on trees, or balloon tires come in pint bottles.

It is cold enough without throwing cold water over every little thing. Or should we have said warm water? As a card from Mrs. Emma Brown, who is wintering in Miami, Florida, tells of catching the largest fish of the day, and going in bathing every day. Thus reserving a story for the Ladies' Night at the Buttermilk Session this spring. Miss Estelle M. Ludwig has recovered from her injuries enough to get back to her vocation in the big city, though not being able to use her left arm and hand. She is doing all the pencil work with her right hand and giving orders orally. Miss Ludwig has been home from the hospital since September 16, which is some long spell for a mere matter of a fractured arm and wrist.

The National Bureau of Economic Research advances the information that there are 119,000,000 persons in this here United States, and that the population has increased some 14,000,000 in the ten year period ending last July 1st. We have wondered if they have kept track of these columns during the past four years, as this section of Livonia township, (34) has increased enormously in fact we may not had time to count that fast. However it might be said that we have done our share, and probably more than our share, as is evident on a nice sunny day when the school is in session and the baby buggy parade is parading.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Mitchell have packed up and departed for that nearby seaport—Lansing—where they will remain indefinitely. We are missing both of these amiable young folks, but in going, wish them luck, and good luck and plenty of it. Roy has a better position with the Durant Motors.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we wish to convey the report of the finance committee of our church, in that they say that sufficient money is forthcoming from members of the community to put the church on a permanent working basis, they wish to express their appreciation to all who have so generously contributed to the program for a very active year. Now we will have services whether we have weather or not, and it is up to you, and you, and all of us, to "make the most of it." Show your interest in the church and the community by showing up at least once a week. (Which is a good place to go these cold winter Sunday mornings and evenings, there is always something of interest to all as well as benefit to all.

And for the Love of Mike, or should we say something more strenuous? There comes along a guy who complains that the golf courses are all wet and overrun with snow drifts. Asked what he had to do with regarding around dressed up like the Fourth of June years or some such thing with pins fours and all, said that he "was just out for such exercise that he could get considering the weather." Pointing to the snowdrifts in front of his bungalow and garage, says he "there's all the exercise that you could wish for, suppose you get on the small end of a coal shovel or snow scraper or such like, for instance even a broom strong and stout." Says he, "why that's too strenuous! That's work!" Whereupon he just now hired one of the Boy Scouts to do it what he termed his toolbits by the fire and listened to the radio. Now may we ask, nice and quiet like, "what would you do with a guy like that?"

Went along by the school house the other day, and heard the kiddies of Miss Doris Smith's room singing something about "Dreams for sale, Dreams for sale," just nice like. Well, here we have been either keeping our dreams to ourselves all these fifty odd and odd years, more or less, so to speak, or else we have been giving them away to folks who charged us for interpreting them. Such is the rising generation—raising losses into profits, seems now that even dreams can be turned into cash. But we suppose it is just like lots, have to find someone willing to buy them.

Local Weather Report: It will probably be colder if not the same or warmer. With some snow, rain, or clouds to partly cloudy, but then clear. And that is what we call correct, unless the wind blows more or less too there may be quite a calm. Last year, at this time, we had expected President-elect Hoover to come over, but as he was busily engaged at the time, radio told us he was thinking of us and would put our favorite scheme over if given enough time, say eight years. Which all goes to remind us of the state of affairs lately, and that is connecting us up with the "Lakes to the Sea Waterway." No better time than the present could be found to start our numerous lakes. And it sounds so nice and soaking, too, to be able to say, now that Niagara Falls has fallen into the discard for honey-moaners, "Rosedale Lakes to Europe by Boat." Just think what that means to go down in posterity, to have our children say that we were foresighted enough to purchase land on and along the great waterway. Which, also at present, we deem ourselves fortunate, for the boys of the land company, Messrs. Al Art and Walt, got only two or three hour naps for several days past, owing to the necessity of being on the job when the great thaw came, and, with little rain and the snow banks melting, the sewer pumps kept our basements dry and our streets well drained. Seems that those boys just get into one mess after another. Long comes snow, then blows, and snows and blows, and blows and snows. They were kept continually at work with pumps and trucks and shovels day and night for awhile and now comes along the

The average woman does not have the opportunity to acquire a knowledge of financial matters.

Even if she be a business woman, there are likely to be occasions when banking or investment problems may perplex her.

If she be a widow, or a single woman with property, she is likely to have financial responsibilities and virtually no experience in business matters.

Keen-Eyed Indian Caddies Are Popular

Banff, Alberta.—The keen eyes and passiveness of the Indian braves are proving the ideal combination for caddies at this Canadian resort. Members of the tribe of Stony Indians, many of them old braves, are employed as caddies. Their ability to see balls driven for great distances has won them popularity among golfers. Caddy masters say they have not yet lost a ball. A topped shot never brings a smacker, nor do they ever speak unless spoken to. Chief Sitting Eagle, descendant of famous warriors, is one of the best liked of the Stony Indian caddies.

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

The mild weather of the past few days has caused the disappearance of the heavy snowfall, and has again made all of our streets passable. The run-off of water resulted in a heavy flow of water through the two branches of Tonquish Creek in the village. Incidentally the two culverts built across South Harvey St. within the past year and a half were carrying practically a full load at the peak of the run-off. Several trees, too nearly dead to warrant preservation, have been removed from Kellogg Park during the past week, to make room for additional new trees which will be planted in the spring. Dead and dying street trees are also being removed, where the fall of branches, etc., may endanger the life and limb of the public.

The annual report of the village, outlining in detail the activities of all village departments during 1929, is now in process of preparation, and should be off the press sometime in February. Copies will be available to taxpayers and citizens without cost after that time. Wedding Bells in Salem—Bridegroom a Plymouth Boy. A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Congregational parsonage New Year's day at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, when Miss Ellen V. Pennock of Salem, was united in marriage to Albert W. Sump of East Lansing, formerly of Plymouth, by Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, pastor of the Congregational church in Salem. The simple ceremony was very impressive, the ring service being used.

The bride was very charming in a sky blue georgette silhouette gown and carried pink carnations and Gypsophila gracefully tied with great bows and streamers of silver ribbon. The bridesmaid was lovely in a black georgette gown trimmed in red and carried red carnations and baby breath with silver bows and streamers.

The happy couple were attended by Miss Reutha Mastro, Inkster, and Ralph B. Wagenschatz of Plymouth. Miss Pennock had been operating a beauty parlor in Lansing the past year. Mr. Sump is a student at the Michigan State College, and will graduate from the department of forestry and horticulture this spring.

He was a member of the Baptist church. Funeral services were held at the Schrader Bros. Funeral home, Thursday afternoon, December 26th, at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, pastor of the Congregational church of Salem, officiated. Interment was in Newburg cemetery.

Christian Science Notes

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, January 5.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest." (Ex. 33:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Divine Being must be reflected by man, else man is not the image and likeness of the patient, tender and true, the One altogether lovely, but to understand God is the work of eternity and demands absolute consecration of thought, energy, and desire." (page 3).

Salvation Army Notes.

On Wednesday, January 15th next, at 8:00 p. m., the Rev. F. M. Purdy of the Newburg M. E. church, will give us an interesting talk of some of his experiences as a missionary in Uruguay, South America.

The Rev. Purdy spent quite a few years in this interesting country, and so will be able to give an interesting review of some of the things that happened while there.

The Ann Arbor Salvation Army Band will also be coming over for this occasion. You, who have heard this little band of instrumentalists will be glad to have the opportunity of again listening to them.

This will all be held in our hall at 796 Penniman Avenue. Don't forget the date and time, January 15, at 8:00 p. m.

METHODIST NOTES

"BE THOU AN EXAMPLE"
 (Timothy 4:12)
 If all the others came like you, Would there seldom be a vacant pew? Or would the opposite be true, If all the others came like you?

If all the others gave like you, Then how much giving would your church do? Would the bills be paid as they fall due, If all the others give like you?

If all the others worked like you, Then how much service would your church do? Would the Master's plans be carried through, If all the others worked like you?

Wednesday, January 15th, Mrs. Hillman's circle of the L. A. S. will meet with Mrs. Lendrum on Church street. All members are urged to be present. The hour is 2:30 p. m.

Wednesday evening 7:45 to 8:00 o'clock, the mid-week prayer and praise service, to which all will be welcome.

Thursday, January 16, at the High School Auditorium, Mrs. Koenig's circle of the L. A. S. will sponsor the play, "All in the Family." For further particulars see front page.

Friday, January 17, the Booster class will hold their annual meeting, with election of officers, at an evening meeting.

All are cordially invited, and will be welcome at the church services both morning and evening.

Mrs. Irwin's circle of the Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Hammond, 558 Ann street, Wednesday, January 15, at 2:00 p. m.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The annual parish meeting of St. John's church will be held on Tuesday, January 14, beginning with a cooperative supper at 6:00 p. m. The supper will be under the supervision of a committee from the Woman's Guild.

Following the meal, the business of the evening will include reports of the rector and vestry, reports of organizations, and plans for the ensuing year. Every member of the parish should make an effort to attend.

Have you attended a service of the united week of prayer this week? The concluding service will be held tonight (Friday) at 7:15 o'clock at the Methodist church.

Be a regular worshipper. Reserve one hour every Sunday morning for God and His church. It will make the whole week finer!

The church-school continues to grow; several new pupils last Sunday. Everyone keep coming regularly, just as regularly as to day school! Parents are always very welcome visitors in any of our classes!

CATHOLIC NOTES

Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for all of the men of the parish. It is the feast of the Holy Name. Let all begin the year 1930 with a good record and continue each month. The Holy Name Society will hold its spring rally in our city and parish this March, so let us build up this organization.

Do not forget to adjust your church sunnee before January 15 as this is the date set for the Episcopal report. There are still a few 1930 calendars left. If anyone desires one of these beautiful calendars they can be obtained from the pastor.

Next Sunday is Crib Sunday, all are asked to make a visit to the crib. Do not forget to bring the little children anytime Sunday for a visit. The congregation can make their visit after the masses.

Saturday at 9:30 a. m. the catechism instructions will begin. Let all the children be at their places. A report will be sent to each family next week telling them of their standing in the financial matters of the church—just a New Year's greeting.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Rain didn't dampen the spirit of the Busy Women's class which met at the home of Mrs. Gus Gates, Moreland on Tuesday last. The attendance was large, the dinner excellent, and the business meeting full of interest. As the roll was called, Mrs. Merryless responded to each name with a cleverly written verse to the surprise and entertainment of all. The program was brightened by readings by Mrs. Ebbett, Gals, Mrs. J. Bennett and Mrs. Merryless.

Rev. Whitfield will be installed as the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville in the Northville church next Monday evening, January 14th.

Growing Revival At Local Baptist Church

The revival meetings conducted by Evangelist Colegrove, at the Plymouth Baptist church, are growing in interest and attendance. Rev. Colegrove's messages have stirred the hearts of the people in such a way that a wide spread revival and spiritual awakening is inevitable. His messages are of a constructive type and deal with those underlying truths which are essential to the Christian faith. The fact that the attendance is steadily increasing is a testimony to this truth.

The meetings are carried on in a dignified manner with enough freedom to give them life and attractiveness. The matter of finance has been provided for in such a way that no offerings will be taken at any meetings except Sundays.

One of the outstanding features of the meetings is the booster club composed of boys and girls under 13 years of age. They meet every afternoon, except Monday and Saturday. They meet to sing songs, and Mrs. Colegrove usually tells a story.

The Win-One Club is composed of young people between the ages of 13 and 30. They, as the name implies, work among the young people. This department is growing in interest and numbers. They are divided in two sections and the rivalry is always keen.

Found Paddling Around With Seat as an Oar.

Bingham, Mass.—A strange tale of the sea was told in the Second District court by Arthur Bickford, fourteen, of East Boston.

He had been picked up, while being blown out to sea, by a boat which towed him into the Bingham harbor, where he was observed paddling about the bay in a row boat using one of the seats for a paddle.

The police were notified and Patrolman George Bery went to the yacht club at Crow Point, where Bickford was found aboard the Foster Trainor yacht, Grey Goose, whose lookout had discerned him paddling about the bay.

Before Judge Edward B. Pratt, where he was arraigned on the charge of stealing a row boat, Bickford said the boat from the East Boston Yacht club and rowed to Governor's island where he went ashore. Coming back to the boat he discovered that the oars were gone.

In his effort to get back to East Boston the tide carried him down the bay and far out to sea. All the time, he said, he tried to make headway by using a seat.

He stated far down the bay near a light-house a power boat came along and offered him a tow and when inside a point of land which he believed was Nantasket they cast him adrift. He then continued on paddling until sighted by the lookout on the Grey Goose.

He was fined $15 and allowed by the court to pay the amount in $2 weekly payments.

Too Poor to Buy Milk;

Mother Burns Infant

Los Angeles.—Because she was "ashamed to face the milkman," to whom she owed a three-weeks' bill, Mrs. Josephine Valente, nineteen, burned her eight-month-old son, Don, sick, to death in his cot, she confessed to the police, Mrs. Valente, held recently on a murder charge, declared her husband, Sabatino, twenty-one, refused to give her money for the baby's milk.

The young mother said she often tried to help by going to work, but could find no job.

"And I couldn't afford to put our boy in a nursery," she explained. "I knew the milkman would leave us no milk." Mrs. Valente related, "and I got to wondering what I would do. So I got a match and threw it into the baby's carriage after I put him to sleep in it."

Valente, employed by a motion picture studio, insisted he had given his wife $9 for groceries one morning. Detective Lieutenant Frank Condruff said a $375 insurance policy on the baby's life was issued recently.

Budgeting The Family Income

By HELEN SUZANNE TAYLOR

Good books to read and the leisure to read them; deep-cushioned chairs with convenient lights around them; a convenient kitchen; a car paid for; good music; income always ahead of expenses; security; peace; repose—so we dream. Sometimes the "stuff that dreams are made of" is not substantial enough to carry us through, then again as long as these dreams last or are renewed reality is bound to come.

All about us in the business world we are hearing rumors of inventories, budgets, balancing books and plans for the coming year. What a laughing stock a business man would make of himself if he shrugged his shoulders and said that he hated bookkeeping and just wouldn't keep accounts. And still, everywhere we find homemakers, eager to call their life work a profession, but at the same time unwilling to put it on a strong foundation and run it according to a systemized, orderly plan. A household will go on the rocks just as quickly as will a business, and the manager, whoever she may be, is the one responsible for its fall. Many people feel that a household budget tends to make one petty and stingy, that it has a depressing effect upon the family and that it requires too much time. However, when all we know about our income is that we put our money in the bank at the beginning of the month and find it all gone at the end of the month—then comes the depressing moments when insecurity, dread of sickness and of being out of work grips us and causes us to make worthless vows for the coming month.

If you have never kept an account of your household expenditures, your first attempt at a budget will probably be rather a failure. Accounts will refuse to balance, group percentages are bound to appear unfair, figures will have to be juggled, and money spent just can't be accounted for. However, mistakes are part of the game if they don't swamp you. Even a poorly kept budget has hope of success so long as it is checked on but a budget which is not completed has no use in this world no matter how carefully it is entered in your books or how wonderful a system is planned at the beginning.

It is impossible to measure what should be the exact expenditures or definite distributions of accounts for all families in general. Each family must make out its own budget according to individual circumstances, needs, ideals, and ambitions. A family with growing children to be educated will necessarily allow more of the income for what we term as Advancement; a family interested in social activities will need a large percentage of the income to spend for Clothing and Food; a family having poor health will probably be interested in insurance to a large extent and will need to allow a goodly sum for Health. Check up as closely as you can on your past expenses noting where you have made your mistakes. Then with your yearly income before you and with the aid of the different members of your family begin a working plan for the coming year. Get the most out of your income before it is gone by means of wise, orderly spending. Budgeting will never increase the size of your income nor will it give you more money to spend, but it will give you the inward joy of knowing where you stand, of knowing that you are putting your money out for the right things and that you are saving for the future.

One method of keeping a budget is to divide the yearly income into several different groups and to allot to each group a certain per cent. A typical grouping would be: Maintenance 25%, Food 15%, Clothing 10%, Health 4%, Recreation 20%, Advancement 8% and Savings 20%. Or again, the yearly income may be divided into just four groups: Family Checking Account, Expenses that wife is responsible for, Expenses that husband is responsible for, and Savings.

The main thing to remember in budget-making is that it must be made and carried on by means of the cooperation and interest of the whole family. The days of the "doling out" "allowance" methods of spending the family income is past. Today we deal not only with an actual income but a psychic income as well which means that satisfaction, inward joy and peace of mind are being dealt with in a business-like manner.

AIR MAIL MAKES IMMENSE GAIN

SEVEN MILLION POUNDS FLOWN OVER FIFTEEN MILLION MILES DURING 1929.

Approximately 7,000,000 pounds of airmail were flown over the 25 domestic air routes in 1929, according to a report issued today by the American Transport association. The statement pointed out this represented a gain of nearly 100 per cent over 1928, when but 3,542,079 pounds were carried.

"While the 14,387-mile length of airways remained about unchanged during last year," the report read in part, "the pilots flew 15,686,000 miles, or an average of 43,000 miles a day. In 1928, 7,846,296 miles were flown.

Lights Aid Flying.
 "The association attributes the huge increase in poundage and miles flown to the addition of lighting equipment on many routes.

"A total of 12,255 airway miles now connect the United States with Mexico and Central and South America. During last year routes were opened linking Miami and Havana; Miami and Cristobal and Paramaribo; Miami and San Juan and Port of Spain; Miami and Nassau; Brownsville, Texas, and Mexico City and Guatemala City, and Santiago, Chile, and Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Montevideo.

"Within a comparatively short time, under authority expected to be granted by the postoffice department, the airmail service will be extended to completely cover South America, with all routes being operated by American companies.

New Routes Planned
 "Extensive increases in routes and cities served by airmail will be made in 1930. A new southern transcontinental airway will be opened between Los Angeles and Atlanta, serving among other cities, El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Shreveport, Jackson and Birmingham.

"New York and St. Louis will be given direct airmail service on a route operated via Pittsburgh and other middle western cities. Another route will operate with Louisville as a northern terminal and Fort Worth as the southernmost stop."

REAL ESTATE PAYS UNDUPE TAX BURDEN

MORE EQUITABLE LEVIES URGED BY DOCTOR H. B. HIBBARD IN ADDRESS AT EAST LANSING.

Taxes on real estate which have approached or reached the point of confiscation in many states could be replaced by taxes which would fall upon the people able to pay if the states would take up the problem as a unit instead of as 48 individual bodies, according to the statement of Dr. H. B. Hibbard, University of Wisconsin, in an address given at Michigan State College recently.

An income tax, which was cited as an equitable tax by the Wisconsin professor, can not become fully effective, he said, as long as individuals can avoid payment by moving their taxable property from a state which has a high income tax to one which has a lower one.

Doctor Hibbard stated that a company which sell goods nationally and which has a relatively high income and small holdings of real estate can also afford to change its business address to another state when the one in which it is located attempts to levy a high income tax.

Tax levying units which were of proper size when the tax system was inaugurated have become obsolete thru the enormous growth of the country and the units should be enlarged to meet changed conditions, he said.

Taxes which can be shifted from the seller of the taxed article to the buyer were not recommended by Doctor Hibbard.

"KONJOLA ONLY MEDICINE THAT DID ANY GOOD"

NERVOUSNESS AND STOMACH TROUBLE VANISH WHEN NEW MEDICINE GOES TO WORK.

MR. HENRY MULDER

"Konjola is the only medicine that did any good," said Mr. Henry Mulder, 415 Graham street, S.W., Grand Rapids, Mich., "and I endorse it because what it did for me I am sure it will do for others. I was in a highly nervous condition for some time. This was no doubt, due to the misery I suffered from stomach trouble. After every meal I had gas pains and due to pressure my heart palpitated, became weaker and weaker as first one medicine and then another failed to bring relief.

"More to please my friends than anything else I decided to try Konjola after they kept insisting that it was just what I needed. And that's what Konjola proved to be—just the medicine I needed. Quickly my digestion was restored and my nerves quieted. Surely my case is a mighty good proof of Konjola's merits."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Report Hurts Sale of Dairy Products

HERD OWNERS ASKED TO AID IN CORRECTING STORIES ABOUT SOURCES OF UNDUPE FEVER.

All persons interested in the prosperity of the dairy interests of the State of Michigan should aid in correcting printed reports which have stated that raw milk is the principal means of distributing the germs of undulant fever, according to statements by members of two departments at Michigan State College.

A bulletin written by the animal pathology and the dairy departments at the College shows that undulant fever is probably not a new disease, that it attacks relatively few people, and that there is evidence to prove other causes are much more important than raw milk in its spread.

The germ which causes undulant fever is apparently identical with the one which causes contagious abortion in cattle and the theory has been advanced by some individuals that the fever is caused only by drinking raw milk from herds which are infected with abortion.

Studies made in Michigan and by members of the University of Iowa disprove this theory. Dairywomen of this state are asked by the authors of the Michigan bulletin to continue their campaign to clean up abortion in their herds to avoid economic loss but they are advised to make no radical changes in their business plans because of stories concerning undulant fever.

Fisher School Notes

Primary Room
Harold Tuck has been absent since Christmas because of an operation for tonsils and adenoids. He was the only one from our room who was neither absent nor tardy during December.

Miss Scheel gave our room ten new games to be played during recess and the noon hours on rainy days. We especially like the modeling wax.

Our room looks quite bare since we took down our Christmas trimmings, but we are working hard on Eskimos now, and expect to have it attractive again as soon as possible.

Second and Third Grades
Mrs. Watson was ill during Christmas vacation. Her sister, Marjorie Peck, taught our room last Thursday and Friday.

We have heard that Florence Kory, who moved to Toledo last month, has died of pneumonia. We are very sorry.

Mrs. Watson gave our room ten games for a Christmas gift. Margaret Jane Robertson and Rose Evans are ill this week.

Our floors were all waxed nicely during vacation.

Una Mae Roberts, our Citizenship Club president, has gone to Florida to live.

CADY NEWS

Miss Medaugh is substituting during the absence of Mrs. Truesdell. The boys and girls of Mrs. Glenn's room won the first aid kit from sales of Red Cross seals.

Mrs. Walter and Ralph Schrader are absent due to mumps.

We are entertaining an epidemic of measles at our school. Many pupils are absent due to this sickness. Visitors at our school this week were: Myrtle Laffin, Hilda and Esther Schmittling, Tracie Dittman, Harriet Handyside, E. Frost, Hilda Eichelberger.

We are learning new poems for the month in our room—"Recessional," "Ring Out Wild Bells," and "Not Mine Nor Thine." Doris Wheeler is a new pupil of the second grade.

Mr. Rebentisch is organizing a Boy Scout group in our school.

It wouldn't surprise us a bit if the time comes when the only place you can see short skirts in Plymouth will be in the family album.

If you want to try something hard, try to make the average Plymouth boy understand that when a girl says "Yes" to his marriage proposal it only gives her a chance to say "No" the balance of her life.

SHOW PLANS READY FOR FARMERS WEEK

BEST CROPS AND LIVESTOCK WILL BE EXHIBITED AT EAST LANSING, FEB. 3-7.

Farmers Week visitors at Michigan State College, February 3 to 7, will see the prize samples of field crops produced in the state this year, and also livestock which turned back all competitors at the Chicago International Stock Show.

Six shows are already listed for that week. The livestock will be shown at the Little International where students will have charge of fitting and showing the animals. This show will replace the livestock parade which has been a feature of other years.

Michigan grains and seeds will compete and the winning samples sent from this state to the Chicago Hay and Grain Show will be exhibited. Winners of the five-acre corn growing contest will be announced and an exhibit will show their methods of producing the crop.

The best samples of potatoes from the seven sectional shows previously held in the state are to compete for championships. Michigan's 300 bushel potato club members are to be announced during the week.

A new show to be held for the first time this year is the colt show which will bring together prize-winning colts from the contests held at various county fairs last fall. These colts are entered in the Michigan colt production contest.

A rural electrification show will have exhibits of all the latest developments in farm machinery and equipment adapted to that form of power.

I. O. O. F. NOTES

"I want to congratulate our junior past grand, Brother Hearn, on his successful term of office. Brother Hearn has worked hard to make his term a success, and I believe all the members who have attended meetings regularly during the past month will agree that it has been a wonderful success, and it is my hope that I will receive from the members the same cooperation and support that our junior past grand has enjoyed.

"There is plenty of work and enjoyment in store for every member and their families during the six months. "I have adopted a slogan for this term which is—More members, better degree work, shorter meetings, exemplify brotherly love daily, more fun. Yours in F. L. & T., Albert Fisher.

Brother Scott of Genesee lodge is able to be out around again.

Brother Criger is laid up with rheumatism at his home in Los Angeles, California.

Brother McVicker has arrived and enjoying the climate in Florida.

Brother Oscar Matts entertained friends from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Pontiac, Detroit and Plymouth on New Year's eve, and not Canton No. 17 as stated last week. There were over one hundred present.

The new officers were installed in their several offices Tuesday evening, and have gone to work in earnest. They are listed elsewhere in this paper. Good luck, brothers.

Let's have an Odd Fellow directory of Plymouth. What say?

Rebekah meeting tonight, Friday. F. S. Wilson, P. G., has not missed a meeting this term, and C. A. Hearn, N. G., has missed only one meeting.

Today's Reflections

There are still a few old-timers around Plymouth who can remember when they put up "No Smoking" signs because some women objected to smoking.

A lot of us would be more interested in that South Pole land Byrd has discovered if he could bring it up here where it could be used for parking purposes.

Funds for prohibition enforcement are the intake for the upkeep of the downput of the output.

Insurance is what a Plymouth husband works his head off to keep up so his wife's second husband can have things pretty easy.

Wall Street is no place for a thin-skinned man. He gets skinned too often.

After a reckless driver has burned up the road it's still there—but he may be missing. A typographical error means little to a woman when it's in a newspaper, but you'll hear plenty from her if it happens to be in a cook book.

This new paper money seems to be about the fastest moving thing around Plymouth for its age.

One relief the farmers are now getting is less talk about relief.

Nobody has as much the matter with him as a Plymouth man who has just looked over a patent medicine almanac.

An Arkansas boy had to sing for his sweetheart to convince her he wasn't dead, and after that perhaps she didn't care.

The announcement that Edison is going to make rubber out of goldenrod is nothing to be sneezed at.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The instinctive reaction of the average man when approached to be a member of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, especially in a small community, is to decline. Let us analyze the reasons for this attitude to determine whether or not the various objections offered can be overcome. The best way to go about this is to list the objections most commonly heard, and then reply to them.

The Objections.

1. "I am too busy."
2. "I have served my time. Let some one else tackle the job."
3. "I used to attend board meetings. Nothing ever came of them."
4. "You receive nothing but criticism."

The Answers.

1. "Every man with a business of his own or a worth while job to hold down is busy. If you were not that type of citizen, we would not want you to be a member of the board because it is the busy man who gets things done. Knowing that the men who have served and will serve on our board are busy men, we are constantly striving to cut down the time necessary to do the work. We realize that there are other boards which may demand part of your time—bank boards, service club boards, church boards, village commission, hotel board, and so on until if a chap does not start being selfish at some point, he may find evening after evening taken up.

2. With this in mind, we hope during 1930 to return to a luncheon meeting basis, and we feel that a meeting once every two weeks is often enough to conduct routine business. We pledge ourselves to have a brief snappy program prepared IN ADVANCE of each meeting so that no time will be lost in waiting for someone to make the first suggestion. Any matter of such outstanding community interest that it could not be given adequate consideration during a normal lunch hour can be taken care of by calling a special meeting. Any man regardless of how busy would be glad to make an extra effort to attend such a meeting because the issue at stake would justify the extra effort.

A man would have to be busy indeed to be unable to spare a lunch hour every two weeks and possibly a few evenings throughout the year to an organization which can do much for his community."

3. "That is a perfectly natural way for you to feel, but remember that in a community with the present population of Plymouth that there is a limited number of men to go to for public service, and that this limited number can only be added to as we win over men of great potential value to our chamber of commerce who have not taken an active part to date. No community ever started out with a strong well organized chamber of commerce, but many communities have built them up to that point. At the outset a comparative few must shoulder the responsibility and do most of the work. It has always been that way, and always will be that way, but when the job is done and a powerful, smoothly functioning chamber of commerce is the reward, the loyal, courageous men and women who stuck right through from the start can enjoy the deepest kind of satisfaction—that of sharing in a hard job well done."

4. "That condition can be overcome, and in fact to overcome that condition is one outstanding reason for employing a full time secretary. No board member, regardless of his interest, can return to his office, factory, or store after a meeting and drop everything in order to carry out the plans and projects discussed at the meeting. It is the 'carrying out' the 'following thru' that takes the time. It would be easily possible at one meeting to recommend enough work to keep a chamber of commerce busy for months, if not forgotten, forsaken because of no one on the job to see that it was carried out.

Your secretary pledges himself to do everything in his power to build up interest and keep it alive in every project recommended by his board or by their committees until the project has been put over or definitely abandoned for some cause."

4. "Quite true that is the penalty for public-spirited service, and after all is the penalty so severe? Most of it is quickly forgotten, and much of it will gradually turn to praise as the results of the changes and improvements which caused the criticism, become apparent.

It is safe to say that the board of directors who receive the most criticism in most cases is the board which is working the hardest and getting the most accomplished. The more they have talked about, the more they have done, the more they have accomplished. Temporary criticism should never discourage them. It is the results at the end of the long pull which count."

It is of course understood that these comments are impersonal. There are men willing to give of their time and energy for the good of the community. It is our hope that others can be prevailed upon to accept a post of public service, if convinced that they will not be imposed upon and that their efforts will not be wasted.

The Picture to Always Keep in Mind.

Cities are made. Worthwhile improvements never just happen. There are certain definite factors that contribute to their making. The highest of these factors is good citizenship. The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is far from perfect. The fact that it is still in existence after years fraught with trials and discouragements is due to the courage of a few—few in comparison to the manpower available—and what these few have been able to accomplish is an indication of what an awakened interested community could accomplish. Our Chamber of Commerce is the best agency for general municipal advancement that we have. Service in its ranks or among its officials embodies the obligation, not to accept all of its conclusions, but to seek to improve its methods and extend its usefulness.

The director who approaches his responsibilities from the standpoint of good citizenship, eager to do his best in the interests of his community, can contribute much to the chamber of commerce movement and to the general welfare.

LIGHTS & GRANT DIXON of NEW YORK

Rich Man Pays

Pity the poor rich man. Rich men's children are sometimes pitied because they are so closely watched by governesses and tutors, but give a thought to father, who is under the stern finger of his public relations counsel. Witness, for instance, the story of an American Croesus, who bought a world famous painting a few years ago, inasmuch as he intended to bequest the painting to a museum, the millionaire thought it would be a fine idea if the public were acquainted with the fact that he had bought it. It was a very expensive piece of art. The matter of publicity was passed on to the public relations counsel, who immediately vetoed it. "Times are hard," he told his employer, "and it won't help public regard for you if it becomes known that you have spent so much money." So the painting remained unheralded for many years, until the present era of prosperity brought the public to its current devil-may-care attitude.

Amazing Golfers

Golf clubs are becoming bitter reactionaries against aviation—I mean clubs whose courses lie near air fields. Nothing will make a man dub a tee shot or footie hopelessly in the rough so much as a playful plane cavorting not so far above his head. There is a real feud between members of one golf club and the adherents of Roosevelt Field No. 1. The pilots, the golfers maintain, find it altogether too easy to land on their fairways, and the tall skid of a plane bleeds up more divots than a whole army of divoters. They have been threatening to erect a spite fence, which would force pilots to take off in a direction away from the golf course.

Feminine Secret

The other day a truly charming woman confided to me a secret that should be the despair of perfumers whose scents cost $25 to $100 an ounce. She has been, she said, the envy of all her feminine acquaintances, who have been wondering where she finds the distinctive, elusive and disturbing perfume that she uses.

"I used to tell them what it was when they asked me," she said, "but none of them seemed at all grateful for the tip. I'll tell you, however, even though you didn't ask me, because it will interest men. It's barbers' talcum powder—the kind that comes in big tin cans.

"About a year ago I had to catch a train in a hurry, and I forgot to take any face powder along. I dashed into the railroad station barber shop, and asked if they had any powder. They sold me one of those big tin cans. It isn't as good as women's face powder, but you men certainly do know your perfumes."

More Fish

The goldfish, they tell me, is coming back in style. A generation ago every house had its aquarium in the parlor and it was usually a very elaborate aquarium. Then goldfish passed from popularity, and the parlor aquarium found its way into the junk shop or the trash heap. But now the shabby little fish are in greater demand than ever. Instead of being put on display in the parlor, however, they are put in private outdoor ponds and pools. Nearly every suburban home has at least a bird bath set in the lawn, and lily ponds are to be found even in small yards. These ponds, naturally, are fine housekeeping sites for mosquitoes. Goldfish simply do not eat the mosquito larvae—hence the present demand. There is, I am told, one gold fish for every five persons in the United States.

The Ready Answer

As often happens on Broadway, a well-known actor and his frau recently had a battle and he indignantly stamped out of the house, returning about five o'clock in the morning. In the meantime, his wife's temper had not cooled off during his absence. When she examined his summer palm beach suit the next morning she discovered traces of lip stick on it and this kept her at a boiling point throughout the day until his return at dinner time. In fact, it was a hot day and did not serve to cool her off at all. As he came in she said: "Did you know there was lip stick on the suit you wore last night?" To which he replied nonchalantly: "That's easily fixed; send it to the cleaner."

Whereupon there was a loud and violent explosion.

Soldier Under Five Flags

in 31 Years Serves U. S. San Antonio, Texas—A soldier of fortune, William G. McIlsh, 3300 sergeant at Brooks Field, has served under five flags in the last 31 years. At eighteen, he fought with General von Steuben at Santiago. Later he took part in a Honduras revolution, fought pirates in the Indian ocean and served in the World war under three governments.

McIlsh, a full-blooded Chickasaw Indian, first joined the French Foreign Legion. He was gassed, and later joined the British navy. With the Canadian army he went back to France, was wounded, captured, and enlisted in the United States army in 1918.

principals it is certain to come off very shortly.

We expect to announce a special meeting of the Business Club very shortly, and it is so well, we just will not wait for you as members of the club. We will have a special dinner and refreshments at the club on Saturday, January 11, at 2:30. This is the last of the year for the club, and we will have a special party and refreshments at the club on Saturday, January 11, at 2:30.

come, the sesame remains the same—see?

Cake plates are, in season, at least the plates are, at "R" grocers, and as a gentle reminder to the wife, haven't had a chocolate cake now since New Year day. Which same reminds us it would be a good thing to have Clarence send one down, sorta gentle hint, what's what!

The Detroit buses are becoming more popular of late, especially these snowy blustery days and evenings. Every bus brings good tidings to us, as we know that the loved ones have arrived safely, which is a great big load off many a Garbent's mind, as she would be worried, yes. "Just worried sick" if daddy took the car down town. Then, speaking of buses, a medal or some sort of thing must be given to several of our bus drivers. Should anyone know the name and number of the driver who started out from Detroit on the 4:30 p. m. bus on Tuesday, January 7, 1930, these paragraphs would be glad to know it. This driver, of all, must be commended for his courtesy and carefulness, not that he is any more careful than the rest, but that fact of his extreme courtesy toward a lady who was sadly deficient in English and who had lost her way. If we do not get his name ever, it is hoped that this paragraph will meet the eyes of his superiors in busdom, and he will be suitably rewarded. All are also extremely appreciative of the thoughtfulness of the Sheldens in their furnishing us with tickets, which is only another incident in the day with the numerous other things that have manifested themselves in the past months, which are fast growing into years.

The observer, or information artist, or whatever you may call it, has been asked on numerous occasions of late what the building program will be for this section thirty-four this year. Well, we will tell you the truth, we don't know. BUT, we do know that it is planned for the best ever, and that as soon as all plans are made and the details thrashed out it will surprise us all, which is saying a lot, as the world seems to be full of surprises lately. Even to getting the neckties for Xmas, which being the first Xmas last year, and in fact the only one, it was a surprise. Well to get back to the subject, we have had many calls for prices and plans and terms and whatnot lately, and from all indications it may mean that we will start off with a number of homes built to order, rather than for sale.
