DATE SET AND SPEAKER ANNOUNCED FOR ANNUAL MEETING

WILL ORGANIZE PLYMOUTH AMERICAN LEGION POST

The Organization Meeting Will Be Held At The Village Hall, Tuesday Evening, January 21st.

An American Legion Post will be organized in Plymouth next Tuesday evening, January 21, at 7:30 o'clock, at the village hall. At this meeting a name for the new post will be selected. There is every indication that the new post will start with a good membership. There are a large number of ex-service men in Plymouth and vicinity who have long desired that a post be organized here.

Irving Ulrich is one of the leading spirits in the local movement, and he would be pleased to give any information relative to the American Legion to any ex-service veteran who is interested. He also has the charter for the new post at his store, and which is new ready for charter membership signature.

The following is given, verbatim, the talk that was given over Radio Broadcasting station WJBC, Detroit, recently by Leo M. Drust, adjutant of Hawkes 32nd, Division Post No. 361, which we believe will be of interest to those who are contemplating joining the Post here:

"Honorable discharged veterans of the World War! Do you realize that the signing of the armistice did not end the World War? Armistice merely ended the actual combat and training for combat service. War, as you understand, is the responsibility of the entire generation in which it was born. This is an economic law. Therefore those who served in combat must now serve to repair the damage of conflict. We are faced with the process of rehabilitation.

"When you laid aside your uniform and your hobnail shoes, you ended your service in a military capacity... your discharge did not exempt you from a service to your community, state and nation; it did not state that from the date of your military discharge the ravages of war were to be borne by the victims of war alone, and by the wives and mothers and fathers of the men who never came back from the training camps and the trenches. You are still obligated to do active duty. It is but a question through what medium you can best discharge that obligation.

"The Legion is consecrated to the victims of war and their families. Through its concerted efforts you can administer your duty best.

"When I hear the remarks some men make when they are invited to join the Legion, I realize they have a conception of their obligation to their comrades and to their country.

"I'd like to take the man who is too busy to bother with the Legion, or the man who measures the merit of the Legion according to a yardstick of personal gain and pleasure. I'd like to take him to the Veteran's Hospital at Battle Creek and let him gaze on the men who are still suffering from the scars of war. I'd like to take him to the Legion at Otter Lake, the finest home of its kind in the country, and show him how the Legion is caring for the orphans of veterans and other children of daddies who are still fighting to come home to them.

"These are but a few of the welfare activities in which the Legion is interested. The Legion is also serving in civic welfare. It is sponsoring Boy Scout troops all over the country; it is sponsoring a Junior baseball league on the campus of the high school; it is sponsoring a band for tomorrow. The Legion is sending to school children in Michigan alone 7,500 flag codes yearly; it is erecting safety signs to protect our children and the grown citizens. It serves in peace as it serves in war.

"The Legion is consecrated to devotion to mutual helpfulness. We stick together and we play together. We aid ourselves in the hour of need.

"Time changes every man's life. You are happy today in the companionship of your kiddies and your wives. But have you a lease on life for a definite length of time? If fate should strike you down tomorrow, what of your wives, your kiddies, your mothers and your fathers? Can you sit in their presence today listening in without giving the Legion and its Auxiliary the privilege of extending to them comfort in the event of such adversity? Do you know the benefits your families are entitled to know as you are taken away from them? Is this service of the Legion to you sleek worth the nominal average dues of four dollars a year, in Wayne County. I think so.

"The Legion is all American in principle in that it does not restrict its membership to those who served overseas alone or domestically alone. Every man who wore a uniform honorably is entitled to its membership.

"The Legion is non-sectarian, non-political, it does not believe that war is the expedient way to settle international questions. It is not organized for financial profit. The officers of the 376 Legion Posts in Michigan serve with no financial compensation.

"If you cannot take an active part in the Legion, the least you can do is to add your moral support to its membership by becoming a member. You can not stand idly by. Your comrades and your country need you."

PLYMOUTH DEBATERS DEFEAT ST. THERESA

In one of the closest debates witnessed at Plymouth for a long time, the Plymouth debate team gained a 2 to 1 decision over St. Theresa of Detroit in the high school auditorium here Thursday, January 9. The St. Theresa team had the best of the argument until the last two Plymouth rebuttals which saved the day. The contest was interesting all the time. Both teams had fight and some real debating was exhibited. This was Plymouth's first contest on the negative side. Although there was a lack of preparation as was shown on the opposite side, the team debated better, showed more fight and adaptability. The Plymouth team was the same as on the affirmative—Harold Stevens, first; Marlon Gust, second; and Lester Daly, third. St. Theresa's team was composed of Mary Rose Donohue, George Franke and Bernard K. Gilne. Mr. Vaughn, city attorney, was chairman. Miss McGurk of Highland Park Junior College; Mr. Rosa, principal at River Rouge high school, and Mr. Myron, superintendent of schools of Belleville, were the judges.

Before the debate and during intermission, the girls' double quartette sang several delightful selections. Miss Alice Chambers also very ably gave a reading entitled "Rural Delights." In spite of the bad weather, about fifty people attended. Plymouth can well feel proud over this debate, for this is the first time in four years that St. Theresa has lost a preliminary debate. This ought to restore confidence in Plymouth. As a result of the Dearborn debate and St. Theresa's reputation, our team was nervous and somewhat shaky but they pulled themselves together to win Thursday night.

Our next debate will be at Howell, Friday, January 25. There is nothing definite decided yet except that we will meet Howell. The same team that met St. Theresa will meet Howell. We know its a long drive but all the same we should like to see some familiar faces there.

TWO LOCAL BANKS ELECT OFFICERS

The annual stockholders meeting of the Plymouth United Savings Bank took place at the main bank building Tuesday. The following board of directors were re-elected for the ensuing year: J. W. Henderson, E. C. Hough, L. W. Goodenough, C. M. Mather, E. O. Huston, P. W. Voorhies, Edward Gayde, C. H. Bennett, C. A. Fisher, E. K. Bennett, F. D. Schrader, L. B. Samsen.

Following the stockholders meeting, the board of directors met and the following officers were elected: President—C. A. Fisher; Vice-Pres.—J. W. Henderson; Vice-Pres.—Charles O. Ball; Cashier—E. K. Bennett; Asst. Cashier—R. A. Fisher; Teller—Harry Gebhardt; Teller—Lytle Alexander; Branch Manager—F. J. Pierce.

The annual stockholders meeting of the First National Bank took place at the bank Tuesday afternoon. The following board of directors were re-elected for the ensuing year: J. L. Johnson, John Patterson, J. L. Olsaver, Frank Rambo, J. B. Hubert, George Robinson, Arthur Blunk, J. M. Larkins, C. L. Finlan.

Following the stockholders meeting the directors met and elected the following officers: President—J. B. Hubert; Vice-Pres.—J. L. Johnson; Vice-Pres.—Frank Rambo; Cashier—F. A. Kehrl.

COLLEGE EXTENSION WORK

The Plymouth Nutrition Class met at the home of Mrs. W. W. Arscott, Monday, January 13, with thirteen members and one visitor present. A brief business meeting was held. Miss DuBord then gave a discussion of some of the benefits to be derived from the study of nutrition and pointed out the goals toward which one might strive, for the individual, for the family and for the community.

The meeting was adjourned to meet with Miss Bertha Warner, 287 Ann Street, February 3rd.

BIRTH INCREASE IN PAST YEAR

Vital statistics for Plymouth for the past year show an increase in the birth rate while the death rate is declining. In 1929 there were 36 deaths compared with 50 in 1928. The number of births in 1929 was 83 and in 1928 it was 54.

THIEVES ENTER TODD GROCERY

ABOUT $60 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE WAS STOLEN LATE LAST SATURDAY NIGHT OR EARLY SUNDAY MORNING.

Thieves broke into Todd's Cash Market at 1058 South Main street sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. Entrance to the store was gained by breaking the glass in the front door. The thieves took about $60 worth of merchandise, as nearly as Mr. Todd can estimate his loss. The articles taken were cigarettes, butter, meat, tea, coffee, etc.

Plymouth "Aces" Win Four In Row

Plymouth Aces playing Wayne's Builders team at Wayne defeated them 26 to 10.

The Aces then encountered Wood's team of Northville at the local M. E. church. The tide turned for Plymouth with the score tied at the final whistle, a five minute overtime put the game in the bag for the Aces with a 19 to 15 score.

Plymouth's next game, also played at the local M. E. church, with Salem team composed of former Plymouth High school graduates, ended with a score of 29 to 8 in favor of the Aces.

Lodge To Entertain Burroughs' Masons

The Masonic employees of the Burroughs' Adding Machine Co., of Detroit, will be guests of Plymouth Rock Lodge F. & A. M. No. 47, Friday evening, January 17th. A chicken supper will be served by the ladies of the O. E. S. at 8:30 o'clock. Following the banquet the Master Masons degree will be conferred upon three candidates by the degree team of the local lodge. Robert A. Campbell, treasurer of the University of Michigan, will be the speaker at the banquet.

By-Law Committee Met Wednesday Night

Attorneys John S. Dayton, chairman, Ford Brooks and Roger Vaughn met with Secretary Moore Wednesday evening, January 15 to finish the job of bringing the by-laws of the local Chamber of Commerce up to date so that the 1930 board of directors, when they are elected at the annual meeting, will have a model set of by-laws to govern future organization work.

As mentioned before, this work is not spectacular in character and perhaps cannot be pointed to as an accomplishment as Chamber of Commerce accomplishments are considered, but nevertheless these gentlemen deserve thanks because this work had to be done. The present by-laws had been changed and amended so many times that very few members of the Chamber of Commerce had positive knowledge on several important points.

DEMONSTRATION ON THE USE OF SEA FOODS.

A food demonstration on the use of Sea Foods will be given at the Plymouth high school under the supervision of Emma DuBord, county Home Demonstration Agent from Dearborn. Time—Friday, January 17th, at 2:00 o'clock in the lunch room.

The purpose of the meeting is to get a new group of women from the Starkweather school district interested in Home Economics work, organized to carry on the Nutrition Project which is already under way in several places in the county. Guests are always welcome.

SLAYER OF FATHER IS FOUND INSANE

MENTAL TREATMENT RECOMMENDED BY COMMISSION OF DOCTORS.

Joseph Malick, 19 years old, who several weeks ago pleaded guilty to slaying his father, Frank Malick, November 22, is in need of mental treatment, a sanity commission reported to Judge Alfred J. Murphy Monday. Judge Murphy appointed the commission after listening to the youth's plea.

The commission, composed of Dr. David Clark, Dr. Theophilus Raphael and Dr. Edward G. Martin, recommends that Malick be sent to the state hospital at Ionia. A court hearing in the case was scheduled for Wednesday at 9:30 a. m.

The elder Malick, a Nankin township truck gardener, was found murdered in one of his greenhouses. Fatal wounds had been inflicted with revolver bullets and the charge from a shotgun.—Free Press.

8 CANDIDATES NOMINATED FOR COMMISSIONER SEATS

Women Voters Held Meeting

A delightful informal meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held Monday afternoon, at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles O. Ball.

Mrs. Harriet Starr, field secretary of the Michigan State League, was the speaker. Mrs. Starr, in a most interesting manner, gave a brief history of the National League and told of its growth and achievements since its organization just ten years ago. Mrs. Starr gave the Plymouth League an outline of the Anniversary and Memorial Fund now being planned to commemorate this tenth anniversary and to honor the great body of women who struggled for many years to give to women the opportunities of complete citizenship. In a few years the public will forget that women have not always voted and the names of the wonderful women who led the movement for equal suffrage will be forgotten. So a natural desire has arisen to make permanent acknowledgement of the achievements of these women by means of a National Roll of Honor to be compiled by the states.

To Michigan goes the honor of nominating Anna Howard Shaw to this special Roll of Honor. A number of Plymouth people can recall Anna Howard Shaw and her visits here. Her service to Michigan is known to many of us. The complete plans for raising this memorial fund will be published soon.

Mrs. Starr made particular mention of President Hoover's message to Congress and the sections of interest to league members in connection with the study items in the league's program of work.

Plymouth is the first league in Wayne County to take advantage of the organization that now exists between the local and state leagues in furnishing a speaker made possible by the state headquarters now being located in Detroit. The members were delighted with Mrs. Starr. Mrs. Mark Chaffee and Mrs. John R. Emens were guests of the league at Monday's meeting.

During the social hour following the meeting, tea and sandwiches were served.

Mrs. Mary Patterson Succumbs Suddenly

Mrs. Mary Patterson the mother of Dr. A. H. Patterson and Mrs. E. D. Schrader of this village, passed away suddenly Thursday morning at 9:15, at the home of Mrs. Schrader, where she had gone to pay a morning call. A heart attack to which Mrs. Patterson had been subject, was the cause of death. Mrs. Patterson was greatly beloved by a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and her sudden death came as a great shock to them.

As the Mail goes to press no arrangements for the funeral have been made. A more extended notice will be given next week.

VOTERS' LEAGUE HAS OPEN HOUSE

On Friday, January 17, the Michigan League of Women Voters will observe that anniversary, in their new offices in the Francis Palma building. The new president, Mrs. John Langenhansen, Mrs. Hogue Swain, secretary, and Mrs. Cyril Schley, treasurer, with the staff, Mrs. Harriet Starr and Miss Gladys Hanzman, will receive from 11:00 o'clock in the morning until 5:00 o'clock that afternoon. Mrs. Hanzman, Nankin, president of the Michigan League, and Mrs. D. A. Bentley, president of the Wayne County league, will assist the state officers in receiving. It is expected that a large number of both Wayne county and Michigan women will attend the opening to welcome the Michigan League to Detroit.

Mrs. Starr of the league message Monday, gave the Plymouth women a cordial invitation to attend.

The Dr. Service Men's Club held an interesting meeting last Monday evening. Chairman, C. A. G. of the Sixth Michigan District, of Farmington, was present and made a talk to the club members.

Home Economics Group Meeting

MISS TURNER MET WITH WAYNE COUNTY WOMEN FOR SECOND DISCUSSION IN HOME MANAGEMENT.

Project leaders have met for their second training lesson in one of the demonstration rooms of the Detroit Edison Co., Tuesday, January 14th. The discussion was on how to gain personal efficiency. Every homemaker enrolled in this course is expected to study the working height, such as sink, work table, cabinet, to see that they are of such height that it is not necessary to stoop or maintain a poor posture while working in one's kitchen. A demonstration of methods of correcting working height was carried out by Miss Turner, Home Management specialist from the Michigan State College. Correct working posture was demonstrated and practiced, followed by a discussion on conserving human energy for the greater task of the housekeeper, which is home-making.

This work is supervised by Miss Emma DuBord, County Home Demonstration Agent from 303 Dearborn Building, Dearborn.

Home Building Ass'n. Held Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Plymouth Home Building Association was held at the association's office at 215 Main street, Monday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—E. O. Huston; Vice-Pres.—W. T. Pettinill; Sec.—R. R. Parrott; Asst. Sec.—Harry Richwine. The above with W. J. Burrows and F. D. Schrader constitute the board of directors.

Like all leaders of the business world, these men have surrounded themselves with capable executives. Mr. Bernet, president of the Pere Marquette, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Hocking Valley is such a man. Vice-President Boman and Vice-President Probert of the Pere Marquette are such men. The record of the Van Sweringens and their associates has been one of uniform success in railroad management and it is reasonable to assume that the Pere Marquette under their direction will grow in strength and service and as the Pere Marquette prospers, the communities along their right-of-way will be benefited.

We repeat, therefore, that anything Vice-President Probert may care to tell us will be interesting and instructive. Mr. Probert was a vice-president of the Erie Railroad before coming to the Pere Marquette. Among other activities with the Pere Marquette, he heads their Industrial Development Department. He is also assistant to the President of the Chesapeake & Ohio and Hocking Valley roads.

LET US SELL PLYMOUTH TO THE PERE MARQUETTE

We must keep in mind that every community served by the Pere Marquette wants improvements, which cannot all be granted simultaneously. Vice-Presidents Boman and Probert are still comparatively newcomers in this section of the country. It will take these men time to become well versed as to the needs and possibilities of the various communities they serve. There are larger communities along their right-of-way but we believe that

DETROIT EDISON TO SPEND $27,000,000

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY'S 1930 CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM.

About twenty-seven million dollars will be spent by The Detroit Edison Company during 1930 for construction of power plants, for substations, for transmission and distribution lines and for miscellaneous equipment. The plans which follow are only tentative and are subject to revision during the year; they may be expanded or reduced depending upon how urgent the need for these new facilities be.

L. C. Probert, Vice-President of the Pere Marquette, to Talk at the Chamber of Commerce Meeting to be Held Evening of February Twelfth.

In securing Mr. Probert to speak Secretary Moore feels that he has obtained a man who will bring a message of interest to everyone regardless of rank or station, who wishes to see Plymouth and surrounding territory grow and prosper. The Pere Marquette Railroad with two divisions crossing in the heart of Plymouth will be a vital factor in the growth of our community.

MARVELS OF AMERICAN BUSINESS.

Before telling you a little more about Mr. Probert, we wish to briefly relate a bit of history, which reads like a romance. Every man and woman in business has heard of the Van Sweringens. Oris P. VanSweringen and Mantis J. VanSweringen, brothers, began their great career together as young real estate operators in Cleveland, Ohio. Men of vision, they believed that the logical direction for Cleveland to grow was toward Youngstown. East of Cleveland lay a sleepy old community known as Shaker Village, which they developed into the great Shaker Heights section by utilizing a gulley which many saw only as an obstacle, for a rapid transit roadway from their properties straight to the old center of Cleveland. Before they could build the railroad they had to find a place on which to erect their terminals. The old Nickel Plate owned the property they wanted and wouldn't sell. Space will not permit our telling the whole story, but learning that the New York Central was about to give up control of The Nickel Plate Road, they secured the control for $5,500,000.

Having acquired this railroad they had to find a man to run it. They secured that man in the person of John J. Bernet, who had been a vice-president of the New York Central. It was not long before Bernet had the Nickel Plate on its feet and paying dividends. It must have been at this stage that the vision of creating a great railway system began to appear to the Van Sweringens. They secured control of the Clover Leaf, then the Lake Erie & Western, then the Chesapeake & Ohio and Hocking Valley. The Erie Railroad, for years a plaything in the stock exchange, was badly run down. The Van Sweringens needed it, they bought it, and it prospered.

WHERE THESE MEN STAND TODAY AMONG THE GREAT RAILROAD SYSTEMS.

The Van Sweringens now have enough roads to make a fourth great Eastern system, which they are asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to authorize, because they saw the Chesapeake & Ohio, Hocking Valley, Nickel Plate, Erie and Pere Marquette as the logical frame work for a fourth major railway system in the eastern territory.

From young real estate operators these men have grown until they rank among the great railroad leaders of our day.

THESE MEN PICK CAPABLE LIEUTENANTS.

Like all leaders of the business world, these men have surrounded themselves with capable executives. Mr. Bernet, president of the Pere Marquette, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Hocking Valley is such a man. Vice-President Boman and Vice-President Probert of the Pere Marquette are such men. The record of the Van Sweringens and their associates has been one of uniform success in railroad management and it is reasonable to assume that the Pere Marquette under their direction will grow in strength and service and as the Pere Marquette prospers, the communities along their right-of-way will be benefited.

We repeat, therefore, that anything Vice-President Probert may care to tell us will be interesting and instructive. Mr. Probert was a vice-president of the Erie Railroad before coming to the Pere Marquette. Among other activities with the Pere Marquette, he heads their Industrial Development Department. He is also assistant to the President of the Chesapeake & Ohio and Hocking Valley roads.

LET US SELL PLYMOUTH TO THE PERE MARQUETTE

We must keep in mind that every community served by the Pere Marquette wants improvements, which cannot all be granted simultaneously. Vice-Presidents Boman and Probert are still comparatively newcomers in this section of the country. It will take these men time to become well versed as to the needs and possibilities of the various communities they serve. There are larger communities along their right-of-way but we believe that

Wineburg, who was secured to fill the gap caused by the injury to Dan Quirk, started the scoring when midway in the first period he secured the puck in center ice, wormed his way through the forward and defense lines to make a shot that the Wyandotte goalie couldn't save.

"Chuck" Garlett was next to bulge the twine in the second frame. The second period ended 2 to 0.

Wyandotte came into the third period to even the score. Before many minutes, Anderson had slipped in the third counter on a rebound from a hard shot made by Claire Block. Wyandotte broke through the forward and defense lines and drew Johnnie far out of his net and easily beat him for their first tally.

The Plymouth defense, composed of Rutherford and Debs, was in good condition and played well. The second forward line, Douglas, Wislars and Arnold, continually harassed their opponents, their back-checking being very effective.

Friday, tonight, another game will be played, with the Detroit Creamery Co. as the opponent. A broom ball game will probably be arranged to be played just previous to the hockey game. This game is played the same as hockey except no skates are used. Brooms and a soccer ball are used instead of a puck and hockey sticks. If you want to see some fun, come tonight. A fast hockey game is also expected.

Mrs. Charles O. Ball attended a luncheon at the home of Mrs. George Bee on Fairway Drive, Detroit, last Friday. The luncheon was given by Mrs. Bee for the executive board of the Wayne County League of Women Voters. Mrs. Bee is the national secretary, was the speaker.

no other community on their system is so strategically situated for industrial development as Plymouth, located as it is in the heart of southeastern Michigan and served by two divisions of the Pere Marquette.

In other words, these men will not become greatly interested in Plymouth until Plymouth is sold to them. The best way to sell Plymouth is the new management of the Pere Marquette is to convince them that we have a wide-awake, progressive Chamber of Commerce, well organized and equipped to give them the utmost cooperation at all times. The wrong way to sell Plymouth to them is to ask for improvements which the present population and needs of Plymouth do not warrant.

LET US GIVE MR. PROBERT A FINE RECEPTION.

Let us give Mr. Probert a real welcome the night of February 12th. By a large enthusiastic turnout of interested citizens, let us convince him that we are alert, progressive, alive to our possibilities, and sold to our community. When he greets his associates the next morning in their offices in the General Motors Building, let him be able to say, "Gentlemen, it will pay us to keep an eye on Plymouth."

HOCKEY TEAM WINS THREE IN SUCCESSION

Last Friday night the Plymouth Hockey team won another game when they defeated the Barton Plumbers of Detroit, 2 to 1. It was a hard fought game from start to finish. Neither team could chalk up a tally in the first twenty-minute period, but midway in the second, Bartons secured the first counter. This period ended with the score tied at 1 for Bartons. Early in the last period "Chuck" Garlett snatched the puck from a face-off in front of the net, made a hard shot that beat the Barton goalie without giving him a chance to save. This tied the score, and the local boys started right in for the winning goal, while the Bartons also had the same object in view.

Claire Block, Plymouth's plucky left winger, played a lone hand in the scoring of the winning goal in the last period, and it was a clever individual effort that saw Claire throw the Bartons defense out of position by faking a pass and then riding in clear to beat their goalie with a hard drive. The visitors almost tied the score a minute or two later, but one counter was all Plymouth's goalie would allow.

The first two periods were somewhat rough and wild, with some line play going on either side, although both teams worked hard. The last twenty minutes saw more teamwork and better hockey. Dan Quirk, the sturdy right defense of the Plymouth team, was playing a wonderful game when he accidentally slid into the boards and hurt his ankle. An X-ray taken Sunday showed that a bone had been broken, which means that Dan won't be able to play again this season. The Plymouth team and fans will miss Dan in the line-up and are very sorry the accident happened.

Wednesday night, in a fast clean game, Plymouth took the Wyandotte team to camp to the tune of 3 to 1. This makes the third game the local boys have won, with no games lost so far. Only two goals have been scored against Plymouth, who in the seven games they secured a total of seven goals. The game with Wyandotte was a better game than the one played with Bartons, more combination plays and better, cleaner hockey. The goal tender for Wyandotte was in excellent form and saved many a hard shot.

Wineburg, who was secured to fill the gap caused by the injury to Dan Quirk, started the scoring when midway in the first period he secured the puck in center ice, wormed his way through the forward and defense lines to make a shot that the Wyandotte goalie couldn't save.

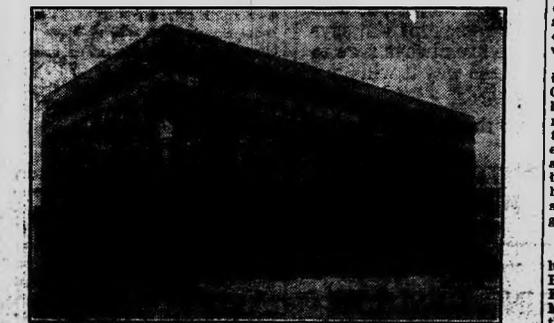

"Chuck" Garlett was next to bulge the twine in the second frame. The second period ended 2 to 0.

LIVE AND DEAD TOWNS

Here are two questions often asked by residents of towns like Plymouth: “What is the difference between a live town and a dead town?” and “How does one community earn the reputation of being enterprising while another is called stagnant?” Both towns may look the same, and both have the same natural advantages—yet one has the reputation of being dead and the other alive. As we see it, the difference lies in the attitude of the citizens themselves. A live town is one in which there are plenty of men and women ready to take hold and put over any worthy community enterprise, and a dead town is one in which every man is too selfishly engrossed in his own affairs to spend any time on community matters. That answers both questions—now you fit the answers to your individual efforts and see if you don't notice an improvement in your own community before 1930 has run its course.

COAL—$1 A TON

New York papers are making much over a secret locked in the brain of an Austrian chemist whose fare was recently paid to this country by an American citizen with the understanding that he was to reveal to the American a secret formula whereby a fuel equal to coal can be made out of water and coal dust and sold profitably at $1 a ton. The Austrian changed his mind and refused to write out the formula after reaching the U. S., and now the American has secured an injunction to prevent him from disposing of it to anyone else. But the balance of us are about as unlucky as the American who paid the man's fare, since the secret of cheap fuel can't do us any good so long as it's a secret. There isn't any law to force it out of the man's brain, of course. But maybe if some way could devise some method of worming it out of him. We'd be tempted to do a lot of things in this community for dollar-a-ton coal.

THE AMERICAN HOG

Now that 1929 has passed into history and we are being flooded with reviews of every description, it will be of interest to Plymouth people to learn that the great American hog is the only thing that kept our farmer friends out of the poorhouse last year.

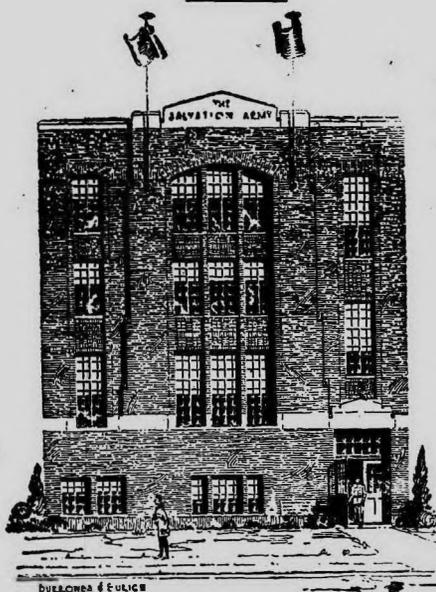

Chicago stockyards officials have recently sent out some interesting figures, and these show that the hog offset losses on sheep and cattle during the past 12 months. There was a decrease of $7,000,000 in cattle revenues from 1928, while sheep showed a total decrease of $500,000 on the year. But along came the hog and increased revenues $18,000,000 above those of 1928, or more than double the drop shown by both cattle and sheep.

We could go on and give a lot more figures showing how farm products in this country ran far into the millions of dollars during 1929, and how prices in a lot of instances could have been far more satisfactory. But we just want to pay this tribute to the great American hog and stop here. We just want to show that when it comes to keeping the wolf from the door, and keeping the door of the poorhouse closed, the hog is in a class by himself, no matter how many complimentary things may be said about the way he conducts himself around the trough along about meal time. May his tribe never decrease.

WHERE WOOD GOES

Most residents around Plymouth would say that more wood goes into making lumber than any other purpose. Some might guess furniture or pulp, a substance from which all our paper products are made. But notwithstanding the consumption of coal and gas and electricity, more wood is burned for fuel than for any other purpose, according to a bulletin sent

Proposed Salvation Army Building In Highland Park

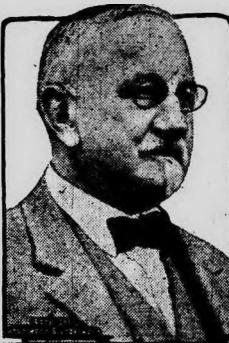

One of the eleven building projects made possible by the Salvation Army's successful part in the joint May campaign of the Army, Grace hospital and the Narcotic Educational association, from which the Army alone derived $1,025,000, are now underway.

Lieutenant-Colonel Albert S. Norris announced yesterday that the Highland Park branch, located on LaBelle Ave., will be ready for dedication around the first part of February. The new Highland Park citadel will be three and a half stories and will have a small auditorium to accommodate 100, a main hall with a seating capacity of 250, a fully equipped gymnasium with shower baths and accommodations for the Women's Home League, band and other activities for the Young People's work. Relief and emergency rooms also are included. This branch of the Army was opened in 1922 and was housed in rented properties until the purchase of the present site in 1924. Meanwhile, the Army has occupied a temporary steel building on the property.

Three other buildings will be announced by Lieutenant-Colonel Albert S. Norris in a very short time which will include the Young Women's Boarding Home, Scandinavian Center and a new Children's Home which will be known as the Edwin Denby Memorial Children's Home. Mr. Denby was the chairman of the Greater Detroit Salvation Army Advisory Board when he passed away and took an active interest in the great building program of the Army which was so successful during last May.

LAWMAKER INDICTED

Representative Stanley H. Kunz of Chicago, who has been indicted by a grand jury, together with his son, on charges of conspiracy to commit bribery, and obtaining money under false pretenses, in connection with an appointment to the Chicago police force.

“If they keep on making laws at the present rate,” says Dad Plymouth “it will soon be simpler to tell people what they can do instead of what they can't.”

Al, Cal and Julius Distribute a Fund

Left to right: Alfred H. Smith, Calvin Coolidge and Julius Rosenwald, as they met as a committee to decide on the distribution of a $2,000,000 charity fund left by the late Conrad Hubert, founder of the Bond Electric Corporation of New Jersey, and originator of the flashlight. His entire fortune was made through the manufacture of flashlights.

Take care that the face which looks out from your mirror in the morning is a pleasant face. You may not see it again all day, but others will.

Cheerfulness is a tonic for the mind and body; it is one of the greatest forces in winning and keeping friends; it is the antidote to worry, fear, discouragement, perplexity and discord; it is the builder of life vigor.

ROCKS DEFEAT DEARBORN 16-15

The Blue and White basketball team defeated the Dearborn quintet here last Friday, by the close 16 to 15 score. This game marked the first league victory for Plymouth.

Randall broke the ice with a free throw, but Hansen sank a field goal to put Dearborn in the lead. In the next period, however, Carley's free shot tied the score. The half closed with Plymouth on the winning end of a 9 to 5 score.

The last half was a nip-and-tuck battle with Plymouth fighting to hold its narrow lead.

The last part witnessed a desperate rally by the orange and black. Though Ball scored a shot to advance Plymouth's score, Soper and Hansen both added a basket to their list making the score 14 to 11, still in favor of the home squad. Even though Hansen got another basket, making his total five, Ball, Plymouth guard, dropped two free tosses into the basket to keep the Blue and White lead. Before another score was made the whistle blew ending the game.

In every period but one Plymouth was outscored. This was the second in which four long field shots fell through the hoop. Though DePorter, Plymouth captain, did not play in the first half, he redeemed himself by scoring all Plymouth's points in the third period.

As in previous games a visiting player was the high scorer. Hansen sunk five field goals for Dearborn.

LINE-UP Dearborn: Wilson, Soper, Kant, Gorbart, Hanson. Plymouth: R. F. Wilson, L. P. Soper, C. Kant, R. G. Gorbart, L. G. Hanson.

Substitutions—Dearborn: Lake for Hanson, Hanson for Wilson, Hagler for Kant, Plymouth: DePorter for Randall, Randall for Carley.

Field goals—Plymouth: Carley 1, Randall 1, Ball 2, DePorter 1; Dearborn: Wilson 1, Soper 1, Hanson 5.

Free goals—Plymouth: Carley 1, Randall 1, Ball 2, Ferguson 1, DePorter 1; Dearborn: Wilson 1.

Score by quarters—1 2 3 4—Final Plymouth 16 3 3 4—16 Dearborn 15 2 3 4—15

Officials—Mullich, Michigan State Normal; Risky, Michigan State Normal.

"B" TEAM LOSES TO DEARBORN RESERVES

Though dazzled by the swift play of the Blue and White reserve squad, the Dearborn boys came back in the second period to win a hard game 23 to 11. This gives the Plymouth team a record of two lost and one won.

In the first seconds of play Blunk, received the ball on a pass play and rolled it into the hoop. Then the visiting aggregation came to life and sunk four baskets.

The two leading scorers were Sallenger and Lucas, Dearborn center and forward. Each had five shots to his credit.

Plymouth seemed about to catch up with the leading team in the third period when they made a total of nine points.

Sallenger's height greatly benefitted the winning team. He was especially good on the follow-up shots.

Alaska Not So Cold

Yes, you may take Evelyn Ash's word for that, that Alaska as far as cold is concerned, is a much maligned country. Last Thursday Evelyn conducted the Travel Club there on imagination's magic carpet aided, of course, by many excellent pictures.

Indeed, they traveled clear up to the Arctic Circle, passing through the dreary, desolate barrens for what coveted glimpse of the midnight sun. Report has it that they did not get cold at all, and that, really, Alaska cold is greatly over-rated but, come to think of it, did they actually leave a steam heated room? Most people will undoubtedly agree with them that that way is the best possible manner to visit Alaska without slipping off a few fingers or toes, and maybe an occasional nose. Don't misunderstand me for I mean a group.

As for the people, even though most of them do live in igloos, the Travel Club was very surprised to find just how up-to-date they are. Quite a few radios keep them in touch with the outer world; therefore never again can a whole year or more pass before those at the tip-top of the world know of the joys and the sorrows of the rest of the earth.

The Travel Club has carried out admirably its program for the semester, visiting in imagination parts of America, Africa, Europe and Alaska. Not very many people are fortunate enough to see all these in the space of five months.

Next week another interesting hour awaits the club, for Miss Ny will tell of her trip to California.

P. H. S. Music Department

The High School Girls' Double Quartet entertained at the debate last Thursday evening. The music department is now busy preparing for the 4-C program to be given in assembly January 15. Milton Moe will give a violin solo, Robert Champe will give a new vocal number, and the Girls' Double Quartet will be there with some surprises. The sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades are busy preparing for the next Music Memory Concert, January 22, at Orchestra Hall, Detroit. There has always been interest shown to see who can obtain a 100 per cent paper to go.

Mr. Smith Gives Annual Talk To Senior Assembly

The senior assembly was held Wednesday, January 8. Marion Gust, the first speaker of the Plymouth debate team, announced that the debate with St. Theresa would be held Thursday night, January 9, at 8:00. The question is, "Resolved, that a judge or a board of judges be substituted for the jury." The program consisting of singing by the girls' double quartet and a humorous reading would furnish additional entertainment at the debate. Russell Wallace, president of the senior class, led a yell for the debate team.

Mr. Emens read an extract from the last issue of the Pilgrim Prints concerning the Gorgas Memorial Contest. This contest was given throughout the United States in honor of Doctor Gorgas who relieved the Panama Canal Zone of yellow fever. A letter from the president of this organization, which stated that the essays will soon go to the state judges and that the winners of the state will probably be announced by March, was also read. Kathryn Peinell, winner of the contest here, was given a memorial medal for the school.

"Plymouth Will Shine" was sung led by Miss Schrader, with Marguerite Wood at the piano.

Mr. Emens stated that the Plymouth basketball team will play with Dearborn here, and that both teams will play with both teams of Belleville the next week after this game.

Since the cheer leaders have been working on some new yells, several were presented to the pupils in practice. These new yells will be tried a week between the halves of the class games.

Mr. Emens stated that the Plymouth program for the annual 4-C campaign will be given then. A week after that the senior examinations will be under way. All pupils were reminded that they should know when their examinations will take place. The teachers, too, will remind them beforehand.

The annual Father and Son banquet will be held on Tuesday, February 4. President Spencer of Hillsdale College, Michigan, will be the speaker for that evening. The freshmen wish to see as many pupils as possible at their dance on Friday, January 17.

In his annual talk to the Plymouth High School pupils, Mr. Smith referred them to the theory of the divine right of kings, which had been popular during the reign of the Stuart kings in England, but during the reign of William III it was noticed that this theory began to fail. Not only kings but families such as the Adams family, have been dominating for many years.

Even at the present time merchants and professional people hold this theory, but they have a right to think because of being long established or the first in town. It is not surprising, too, to find that pupils in the schools believe in this right somewhat. One is able to exercise the divine right theory only when he does not conflict with the good of the many. At the present time no one is able to cling to individual rights to liberty, for to all belong equal rights. The rights of the people must be exercised so that no conflicts will arise. These rights are applied nowadays to politics, industry and society.

Today the people are the king, and it is they who must exercise the rights of the many. The rights of a superintendent are to make such rules as will be for the best interests of the pupils. If any detrimental rules are passed, there is a body who will appoint someone to be more efficient; and if that body fails to do what is right, the people will see that what is wanted will be accomplished. The pupils of the school must then work for the best interest of the community. To do this they should be of some use to their community. Now is the time for inventories for all except the housewives, who do theirs in the spring. It is advisable for the pupils to take the inventories that is, to look back to see how much was accomplished in the past and to look ahead to see what is left for profitable use. No one has any right to believe that he has certain individual privileges unless he has a justification for them. A diplomat is not an evidence to the world that the graduate is useful; it is not an evidence of kingship. A diploma is only an evidence of having training in order to be useful. After one is graduated and goes out into the world, the world will be interested only in how much one is able to do for it.

To conclude the assembly all sang "Singing in the Rain." Then "Reuben and Rachel" was sung, the boys taking the part of "Reuben" and the girls of "Rachel." Several yells followed, and the assembly was finally ended by "Row, Row, Row Your Boat."

Toys As An Art

Such toys could not be anything but an art under the direction of Miss Cooper, as you would readily admit if you could see them. One, a cub bear, is the awkward, babyish, lovable doggy. Deer kneeling and grazing, and dogs, many dogs, pointers, playful pekes and others just simply dogs that are sleeping or alert, are still other toys. Of course, cats keep company with their eternal enemy. One is a kitten half sitting in a mischievous mood. All these are simply animals very true to life.

But still another type of toy is the animal dressed as a human character. There is a "Great Person" slouching along in his patched up clothes with that long, bare tail of his tucked up the side; and a man in a top hat and a top hat and a top hat and a top hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rabbit, of course, are very much present, dressed neatly as belts their story book characters; also old Mr. Chuck, with his high hat and dandified clothes. Oh, never must one forget that faithful companion of the garden, old Father Toad with his jovial, contented expression and patched knees.

All these are in the brightest and gayest of colors. The clothes were never left from the list, though several fellows that bring back memories of the happiest hours of childhood when the circus came to town, saw the animals that come to mind when circus is mentioned. There is a "Great Person" slouching along in his patched up clothes with that long, bare tail of his tucked up the side; and a man in a top hat and a top hat and a top hat and a top hat.

All these and more have the youngsters in the Toy Club finished, and now they are working on their notebooks.

The Value of Sportsmanship

The score was tied; from the center of the floor came a shot; as it dropped through the hoop the referee blew his whistle and said the basket did not count. The game ended a minute later, the opposite team winning by a field goal.

The boy who made the shot that did not count over and congratulated the referee on the game. He could have made a fuss when the basket was called no good, but he thought that the referee was right and although the crowd might have supported him he did not kick. This is an example of good sportsmanship.

Here are some rules on sportsmanship for the spectator or student, published by the Michigan High School Athletic Association:

- 1. Remember that a student spectator represents his school the same as an athlete.
2. Learn the rules of various sports.
3. Accept decisions of officials without question.
4. Realize that the name of the school is more valuable than any game won by unfair play.
5. Express disapproval of rough play and poor sportsmanship on the part of the players.
6. Don't use abusive language on the sidelines.
7. Be considerate of injured on the visiting team.
8. Applaud good play or sportsmanship on part of visiting teams.
9. Insist on courteous treatment of members of visiting team.
10. Acquaint the adults of the community with the rules and code of sportsmanship.
11. Insist on truthful, fair and courteous accounts of games in the newspaper.

The January Teachers' Meeting

Final instructions were given the teachers at the meeting Tuesday which was addressed by Mr. Smith and Mr. Emens. Mr. Smith gave each teacher a set of instructions. Final examinations are to count one-third (1/3) and classwork, recitations, and other projects to count two-thirds (2/3).

Because of the fact that some teachers' estimates for an A or B might vary from others, Mr. Smith has given the following chart which all teachers are to follow:

- A-97
B-91
C-83
D-77
E-assign a value below 75.
Report cards are not to be given out this month but credit slips are to be given. These white slips are pupils' receipts for the work done this semester. These slips should be kept in case a mistake in the permanent cards should occur. It can then be corrected and in case of a fire in the school such as in 1917 when the school books burned and all records were destroyed, they could be reconstructed.

Teachers are expected to be at school during the examination period. Also, no teacher is to fall a pupil without first talking to the superintendent over his or her case.

It was also emphasized at the meeting that all student permanent cards are to be marked by February 14th.

Drama Clubs

To make actors is the motive of all the Drama Clubs but, of course, the senior group is much more advanced. The largest share of the time of all the clubs is spent on regular class work learning proper diction, gestures and kindred things.

However, the Senior Drama Club is now going to learn a one-act play, "Drums of Oude" by Austin Strong. The method of try-out for those entirely new to the teacher is calculated to bring out all aptness of characterization.

The member first memorizes any selection not in the play; then going to Miss Johnson, he gives it with all the gestures and proper inflections that he is capable of. Next he learns some selection from the play, also giving this with as much characterization as possible. By this means it is easy to discover just how good talent each has and to further it if any is discovered.

Starkweather Notes

Group One in Miss Stader's room has finished the Child Library Readers and is reading in Work-A-Day Deings on the Farm. There are now sixteen boys and girls who can spell every one of the terms words.

The fourth graders have made New Year's resolutions and written them on green leafy borders.

Hunt's 5-B geography section is making interesting booklets describing an imaginary trip to Europe. The 5-A section made some splendid free-hand maps of Asia.

Some of the boys dressed as belts their story book characters; also old Mr. Chuck, with his high hat and dandified clothes. Oh, never must one forget that faithful companion of the garden, old Father Toad with his jovial, contented expression and patched knees.

English Experiment

An experiment to eliminate mistakes in grammar has been tried by Mrs. Stevens with her twenty-five 8-B English students and has proved quite successful.

The Pringle-McCrory Diagnostic Tests in Practical Grammar were given October 31. The test covered verbs, pronouns, adjectives, adverbs, nouns and sentence recognition. After the tests were scored, Mrs. Stevens talked individually with each pupil about his mistakes and listed his errors for future help. The class was then given sentences from which the various parts of speech were listed. Each day every individual checked his paper and listed his mistakes. At the end of the week the student and class percentage in each part of speech was determined. The student average was fifty-four errors for the week.

The next week was spent entirely on drill work, checking up on the most numerous grammatical errors. The third week a new set of sentences was given, each student keeping a chart as he had done previously. This time the class average was forty mistakes per pupil for the week. Verbs and pronouns were found to be the most troublesome of all the parts of speech.

The results, tabulated from the two sets of sentences were used to make up a new Diagnostic Test, and the points stressed are the parts of speech most commonly missed on the Pringle-McCrory test.

This project was strictly individual one, helping each student with his own errors.

He who watches the clock will always be one of the hands.

Heracles—Hero of Thebes

The Mythology Club is now beginning the study of Heracles' life, the hero of Thebes. No Greek hero was more widely known in ancient times than he, none won more admiration for manliness, strength, willingness to serve, athletic prowess, and achievements in ridding the world of evil monsters. He has appeared in the tales of poets and the representations of painters and sculptors. Even today his name appears frequently in our magazines and newspapers as an evidence of the fact that the world is slow to forget strong men and brave deeds.

Heracles was largely responsible for the fact that the hero's whole life was spent in the midst of danger and toil. Her dislike doomed him to a life of service even before his birth. His extraordinary strength showed at a very early age, for at the age of ten months, he strangled two serpents sent by Hera to destroy him.

The career of Heracles was, on the whole, one of service to his fellowmen. It is related of him that in early manhood there appeared to him in a vision two women who stood at a cross road. "I am pleasure, said one, 'follow me for I have many gifts for you—ease, luxury, wealth and friends. You shall know no sorrow or toil nor shall you want anything.' Then up spoke the other, 'I am duty. Choose me and a life of hardship shall be yours. Often shall you suffer pain and grief, but mankind will remember you with gratitude. Your name shall live forever. Choose me!'" Heracles chose duty, and today duty is often called Heracles' choice.

The outstanding achievements of Heracles were the "Twelve Labors." Tasks so difficult they seemed beyond man's power to accomplish. They were: Slaying of the Nemean lion, destroying the Hydra of Lerna, capturing the Erymanthian boar, catching the Cerynean doe, clearing the Augean stables, destroying the Stymphalian birds, taming the Cretan bull to Greece, conquering the horses of Diomedes, King of Thrace, gaining the girdle of Hippolyte, capturing the cattle of Geryon, securing the golden apples, and bringing the three headed dog Cerberus from the lower world to the earth.

These "Heracleian tasks" resemble those of Samson. It is interesting to follow the geographical range through which these labors took him. Beginning at Corinth, through swamps, forests and mountains, along the Aegean sea, to Crete and back again, and far to the west. Many years passed before these tasks were completed. At last Heracles who had wrestled with death and forced him to give up his prey, fell victim to the treachery of the centaur Nessus, realizing that death was near, he built a huge funeral pyre and threw himself upon it.

As the smoke rolled to the sky, lightning flashed and thunder crashed, or Zeus could not endure that his son should have so inglorious an end. The myths say that the hero was taken up to Olympus and made a god, and that he married Hebe, thus becoming son-in-law to Hera who had caused him so much trouble in his mortal life. Since Heracles has been limited to the "labors" of Heracles about twice that number of mighty deeds attributed to him?

The answer is, that Heracles was in the first instance a national hero about whose stories grew up, as in the case of our own Washington and Lincoln, here in the United States. The stories would grow far beyond the bounds of credibility. People were more interested in dramatic effect and interest of a story than in its truthfulness. So the stories grew in number and exaggeration until they did attract criticism. Then people began to wonder what the character could have been about whom such incredible tales had been told.

It happened that some of Heracles' victims corresponded with some of the constellation forms within and without the zodiac. The conclusion was jumped at that the tales of Heracles were stories told in olden times about the travels of the sun and his imaginary contests with these monsters in his path. The number of zodiacal constellations had already become fixed as twelve; hence Heracles' labors must be twelve. Men then tried to combine two together and disposed of the rest by saying that they were performed early or late in his career and therefore did not belong in his real "labors."

Baskets Galore

Round, flat baskets—on these the Basket Weaving Club bravely started at the first of the year, perhaps a little bunglingly. Then, then, who can do such an intricate thing the first time he tries? However they did not stop with these first attempts, but went on with more difficult work, gaining greater skill, naturally. Since then they have finished flower and fruit baskets and are now working on flower baskets. Some members have finished and the baskets near proud combed heads high, one or two surmounted with a graceful handle and others finished simply with little loops around the top. The baskets of others not so swift also rear their heads, but in such an untidy manner! Inasmuch as the others give the appearance of being neatly combed, the unfinished ones remind one of people whose course hair has not been combed for weeks.

Considering that only forty-five minutes a week is given to their task, good work has been done by the members in finishing that many baskets. But without the help and encouragement of Miss Trant so many could not have been completed.

He who watches the clock will always be one of the hands.

Senior Girl Reserves "Applying The Brakes" At Girl Reserve Honor Court

"Applying the Brakes" was the subject of a short tableau given by the Senior Girl Reserves, Friday, January 10. The characters were: Sue, a loud, noisy type, very much overdressed and overpainted, played by Dora Gallimore; Sarah, very much ill at ease, never with an opinion of her own, and always doing the wrong thing, played by Winona Kenter; Kate, the ideal girl, well dressed, with a charming manner, and a pleasing personality, played by Catherine Nichol. The scene was a High School cafeteria. The three girls entered together, and Sue was telling in loud tones about the all night parties she had been on, and about her "guys." Kate told about the school parties she had been to, and about the skating parties that the pupils go to after school. Sarah did not say much, and when she did it was just to agree. Sue and Sarah did not know how to act at the table and Kate did.

Applying the brakes was brought out in this little sketch by showing that while a person uses rouge she should not use too much, and while one can be happy never be boisterous and loud in showing happiness. The tableau was planned by Hazel Rathburn and Mary McKinnon, and was under the supervision of Mrs. Crumble.

Juniors Fall Before Sophs

In the fourth class debate the Juniors were defeated by the Sophomores, 3-0. A spirited attack in rebuttal gave the sophomores their victory. The sophomores who participated were Alice Chambers, Casler Stevens and Billy Kirkpatrick, while the Juniors were Laurence Rudick, Bernete Kilgore and Kathryn Pennell. The judges were Odene Hill, David Daly and Louis Stramb.

This debate might have been termed the quarter final debate. As a result the Juniors are eliminated and the Sophomores will meet the Freshmen to determine who will meet the Seniors for the high school championship. So far the seniors have won their first two debates which automatically puts them into the finals. The Sophomores and Freshmen have each won one debate and lost one, while the Juniors have lost two.

The Sophomores' Freshman debate promises to be interesting. The two teams met before, the Freshmen winning, but the Sophomores have a vastly improved team and will make a real debate. This will be held Thursday, January 23, at 12:00 o'clock noon, in room 35. Everyone is invited.

AFTER THE SLEET STORM

A new day dawns! A promising glow appears! Then, behold, the glorious East heralds a smiling sun. It even glorifies the smoke from countless smoke stacks. Blue smoke! With delicate pink edges! Diamond studded trees cast reflections of myriad lights! Cut glass fences separate gem be-hecked fields. Fields wrapped in shimmering white satin! Crystal weeds proudly flaunt their branches! Telephone wires become ribbons of spun glass! Roads wind leisurely through an endless, sparkling fairytland! Do these roads lead up to God? —Kathryn Pennell.

Basketball Team Gets New Suits

Making their second debut in their new suits, which were voted for by the Student Council, Plymouth's five turned back the Dearborn cagers. The ten new suits cost about one hundred and eighty dollars, but they are easily worth this as they consist of four pieces: shirt, pants, sweat shirt and sweat pants. The suits are navy blue rimmed in white. The shirts are trimmed with a white stripe at the neck and armpits. The pants are trimmed with a white stripe on both legs with an inch-wide white belt. The sweat shirts are trimmed with a stripe at the cuffs, the neck and around the bottom. The sweat pants are all navy blue with stripes on the bottom. The suit altogether gives a very nice appearance, a tribute to Coach Matheson's taste, for he picked them out and the stripes are his idea.

One of the main reasons Coach Matheson selected all blue is that the suits are very easy to see in a basketball game; they seem to show up better than do the lighter colors.

Senior Class Party Held In Ann Arbor

Because the Blue Squadron has won in the magazine sailing contest, the Red Squadron of which Kenneth Gust was captain, gave a party at the Women's League Building in Ann Arbor, Saturday, January 11. Miss Felgel, an adviser on the Red side, was able to reserve three dining rooms for the senior party at the building.

While the crowd was slowly coming, Miss Felgel showed the building such as the library, living room, ballroom, dining room. The cave room on the fourth floor, was the "apple of the eye." Here no men are allowed. The structure of the room of Gothic-like and does very much resemble a cave.

DETROIT AUTO SHOW STARTS TOMORROW

Success of New York Show Arouses Interest In 29th Annual Display.

41 MAKES ENTERED

Stirring of the imagination of the motoring public here by descriptions of the array of technical improvements and style innovations revealed at the National Auto Show in New York promises to attract a great opening attendance at the twenty-ninth Detroit Automobile Show when Mayor Charles Bowles turns on the lights in Convention Hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

The Detroit show will be made more attractive by the second Custom Body Salon, to be held in the North Cass avenue annex, where coachwork by Fleetwood, Dietrich, Le Baron, Bruun, Willoughby and Judkins will be shown on chassis built by Lincoln, Packard, LaSalle, Pierce-Arrow, Franklin, Cadillac and Duesenberg.

Begin Decoration
Embodying nearly all that could be desired in the way of harmony of design, upholstery and special appointments, these offerings by the world's famous custom body builders will have a price range of $5,000 to $20,000.

Artists from one of the leading Eastern decorating concerns have begun the work of transforming Convention Hall into a background of dignity and restfulness that will center attraction on the new cars. For the main display a modern garden effect will be brought out. For the Custom Body Salon the atmosphere of a rich ball-room is planned. Paneled walls and colonial crystal fixtures will beautify this section. The car exhibits will be arranged so as to enable each visitor to inspect each model. In fact, the entire show has been laid out to enable the public to view everything with the least amount of effort.

Lures Executives
Because of the experience of the motor car industry at previous shows in this city, show week closing Saturday, January 25, again will find executives of the leading automobile factories here to make sales observations and to confer with distributors and dealers who will be in attendance.

Of the major events of the week are the annual conventions of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Michigan Automotive Trade Association.

Vying with the new eight-cylinder lines and the 16-cylinder Cadillac for public attention, the accessory exhibits to be found in the North Woodward street annex will introduce many new devices that will add to the convenience and comfort of driving. One will not need a highly technical mind to enjoy these exhibits, for competent attendants will be at hand to explain them in plain terms. Spotlights, shock absorbers, bumpers, displays by color and color contrast, and fascinating interior fittings and many other things will be there to study.

Traffic Plans
Police officials are cooperating with the show management to provide adequate parking facilities adjacent to the Cass avenue entrance while the D. S. R. has issued orders for Woodward avenue cars to stop at Garfield avenue during show week for the discharge of passengers directly in front of the entrance there. The bulk of the automobile traffic will be swung over to Cass avenue, leaving the Woodward avenue entrance free for visitors coming by street car. Buses also will feed the Cass avenue entrance.

The show will be a tribute to the progressive spirit of the Detroit Auto Dealers' Association, which for almost three decades has made it possible for the people of this territory to visualize each year the progress attained by the automobile industry in Michigan and other states. Inasmuch as the manufacturers make their annual exhibition in the two national shows in New York and Chicago, this city otherwise would go without its automobile display.

Special Events
Joseph A. Schulte, manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Co., Detroit branch is chairman of the show committee of the D.A.D.A., being assisted by Walter J. Bomb, of the Bomb-Robinson Co.; James M. O'Dea, Graham-Paige of Michigan; Walter J. Judd, of the Miller-Judd Co., and John W. Neumann, of William F. V. Neumann & Son.

The manager of the show is H. H. Shuart, who has directed this enterprise for the last 15 years.

Monday, Jan. 20, will be observed as S. A. E. Day in honor of the Society of Automotive Engineers; Tuesday has been set aside as Manufacturers' Day; Wednesday, Michigan Day, when the Michigan Automotive Trade Association holds its annual banquet, and Thursday, Detroit Day.

In the passenger car sections occupying three of the enormous halls the following makes will be represented: Auburn, Buick, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Chrysler, Cord, DeSoto, Dodge, Durant, Erskine, Essex, Franklin, Graham, Hudson, Hupmobile, Jordan, LaSalle, Lincoln, Marmon, Marquette, Nash, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Reo, Roosevelt, Studebaker, Viking, Whippet and Willys-Knight.

These models will be displayed in the commercial car exhibit in the North Woodward avenue hall. Antcar, Chevrolet, Diamond T, Dodge, Fargo, Federal, Ford, Gortfredson, Paize, Reo, Studebaker and White.

To reach Convention Hall from Plymouth drive on Plymouth road to Grand River Avenue, to West Grand Boulevard to either Cass or Woodward to the Hall.

I. O. O. F. NOTES

If you have a friend who is not an Odd Fellow, and is eligible, why not do him a good turn by bringing him in to No. 32. Let's make the membership larger.

Brother Fred Bovee is not able to be out of the house because of rheumatism. Hope you can be with us Thursday, January 23, Fred.

"It is too far to walk," is a poor excuse for not attending lodge, when one brother walks three miles and another way from Northville last meeting.

We have the following brothers on the sick list:

Bro. Gordon Smith, Mill St., City; Bro. Fred Bovee, Union St., City; Bro. Wm. J. Stewart, W. Ann Arbor St., City;

Bro. Geo. Criger, Los Angeles, Calif.; Bro. Scott, W. Ann Arbor St., City, member of Genesee Lodge No. 24;

Bro. B. Erickson, Wm. Vedder, members of American Eagle Lodge No. 441, are at Maybury Sanitarium, Northville.

Bro. Miles Helm, R.F.D. 3, Plymouth;

Bro. T. G. Masters, Northville, Mich.

If you are laid up by sickness, it is your duty to see that the Noble Grand, Albert Fisher, 1056 Holbrook Ave., phone 210R, is notified immediately.

The entertainment for Tuesday, January 21, is under the leadership of Brother Roy Wheeler, P. G., and a good program is being arranged.

If you have not attended lodge this month, there are still two meeting nights remaining. "I am not in good standing" is a poor excuse.

The first of a series of euchre games I. O. O. F. vs. K. of P., will be played at the K. of P. hall Thursday evening, January 23, at 8:30 p. m. The second series will be at the I. O. O. F. hall on Tuesday, February 4th, and the last series at the K. of P. hall Thursday, February 13th. All members of both orders are requested to be present at these meetings. If you don't play euchre but can tell a club from a spade, be present, and we will teach you the principle points of the game. Let's see if we can make it 25 tables this year, what say?

Brother Wilson Reeder is enjoying himself in Lisbon, Florida.

Brother Wm. Strenz, P. G., spent the week-end visiting friends, Brother Fitch and family, Earl Vandike and family and John Strenz, in Flint.

If your receipt is not up to date, get in touch with the financial secretary by coming up to meeting.

In Odd Fellows' prayer written by P. G. M., Henry S. Sweeney:

"Dear Lord, let me not in service slip, Keep me worthy of my membership. Let me but know when I am tried That brothers true are by my side. Let me see, dear Lord, and ever realize, That others give and others also sacrifice."

So in all I am, in all I do, Make me an Odd Fellow through and through.

For all the principles, Lord, let me stand Unstained of soul and clean of hand. Dear Lord, let me not in service slip, Keep me worthy of my membership."

Michigan Is Great
Producer of Electrical Equipment

117 MANUFACTURERS IN STATE, WITH DETROIT BOASTING THE LARGEST VACUUM CLEANER PLANT IN THE WORLD.

Michigan plays a large part in the production of the world's supply of electrical equipment for industrial, commercial and household use. Detroit has the largest vacuum cleaner manufacturing plant and the largest number of domestic electrical hummers in the world as well as a number of producers of electrical control apparatus, health promotion equipment, and electrical office appliances that rank among the leaders of the United States.

One of the leading manufacturers of electrical medical equipment is located in Battle Creek and Jackson has one of America's largest plants producing radio sets and automobile horns.

Altogether there are 117 manufacturers of electrical equipment in the state, statistics compiled by the Detroit Board of Commerce show. Fifty-one of these are in Detroit and the metropolitan area of Wayne county. The number of wage earners in this industry has grown to 9,300 for Michigan in 1929, and 4,700 of these are employed in Detroit. During the year that ended December 30, 1929, total wages paid to workers in this industry exceeded $13,000,000, more than half of which was represented in Detroit payroll.

The economic importance of manufacturers of electrical goods may be realized when one learns that last year more than $38,500,000 was paid out to suppliers of raw and semi-finished materials going into finished electrical products. Detroit alone purchased more than $20,000,000 worth of such supplies.

With the last two months of 1929 estimated, the value of electrical products manufactured in Michigan in the year just closed was more than $87,000,000. Detroit's share of this total was in excess of $47,000,000. All of these figures are in addition to the electrical equipment which is component to automobiles and manufactured by the car makers. An automobile maker who manufactures his own generators, distributors, etc., is not included in this consideration—Detroit City.

Many traffic accidents in the United States occur on city streets Saturday afternoon between 4 and 8 o'clock than at any other time of the week.

Approximately one-half of all accidents occurring in Detroit on city streets are due to automobiles.

HAVE YOU SEEN THESE TWO GREAT NEW CARS?

THE NEW OAKLAND 8

GENERAL MOTORS' Lowest-priced Eight—

$1045 AND UP Three years of actual designing and testing preceded the announcement of the New Oakland Eight. In addition it incorporates General Motors' sixteen years' experience in building fine eight-cylinder automobiles.

The New Oakland has an 85-horsepower engine. This is the highest power ever employed in a car of Oakland's size and weight, racing cars excepted. Oakland develops one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight. That is the reason for its superior performance.

With its high speed and fast acceleration, the new Oakland combines the smoothness inherent in eight-cylinder design. This smoothness is intensified by its complete down-draft fuel distribution and other exclusive features.

Only a close inspection and a demonstration will enable you to understand fully the many advantages provided by the New Oakland Eight. Come in and see it.

A FAMOUS NAME— A Finer Car—

$745 AND UP Once again Pontiac has improved upon a car already noted for its excellent qualities. To the hundreds of thousands who own Pontiacs, and to everyone who is interested in low-priced automobiles, this announcement is important. For it introduces the New Series Pontiac Big Six—a new and finer car with a famous name.

four-wheel brakes and a new sloping non-glare windshield add to the car's safety.

With these and other improvements Pontiac offers all of its basic big car excellence.

STEEL MILL TO START SOON

The Newton Steel Co. of Monroe, has taken over the remaining work on its new sheet steel plant and it will have about 400 men engaged in completing the construction and installing the machinery. The Arthur G. McKee Co., engineering consultants of Cleveland, who have been in charge of the work, have completed their contract. No statement has been made as to when the plant will get into production but it has been learned unofficially that the actual fabrication of steel will begin about February 15. Construction work began last March and has proceeded at a rapid rate. It is estimated that between seven and eight millions have been spent here on the first unit of a ten year construction program.

FIND NEW GAMBLING SCHEME IN UNITED STATES CAPITOL

Pool Is Based on Weather Bureau Reports.

Washington.—Daily temperatures of the United States weather bureau have been revealed as the newest vehicle for large-scale gambling operations in the Capitol, backed by the operators of the "numbers" game, whose activities, confined to the daily report of the New York clearing house, have been badly crippled by the campaign recently undertaken by the United States attorney's office.

Through the scores of runners, who have been collecting the bets and attending to the pay offs for the backers of the clearing house "numbers" game, went the word recently that a new pool, based on the weather bureau report, would be started and offers were made of prizes ranging from $500 to a few cents for the winners in the pool. An outlay of 60 cents for a week's play was all that was asked.

Like Baseball Pool. Resembling more the baseball pool gambling that flourished here until the "numbers" game came into tremendous vogue with the gambling fraternity, the weather report gambling was reported in sporting circles to have already caught the fancy of many of the small sum wagers, who have been the principal clients of the "numbers" operators during the brief popularity that form of gambling has enjoyed here.

According to one runner, the backers of the weather report gambling will take almost any sort of bet on the temperatures as issued to the newspapers by the weather bureau. They advertise a wide range of combinations of figures available for the gambler to place his money on, and promise to pay handsomely to the winner in regularly worked out systems similar to those instituted in the "numbers" game.

At the weather bureau it was stated that this form of gambling is not a new one except as it concerns the Capitol.

"We have had considerable trouble in several cities, especially in St. Louis, which seems to be the center of this form of gambling, where attempts have been made to bribe officials of the weather bureau to issue false temperature reports," William Weber, chief clerk of the bureau, declared.

Attempts at Bribery. Mr. Weber declared that in some cities bribes running as high as $1,000 have been offered weather bureau officials for the issuance of false figures supplied by persons anxious to make a killing in the weather report gambling.

In St. Louis, he said, the situation was such that the bureau made agreements with newspapers that the latter were not to accept any reports from the weather bureau that showed signs of exasperation. Tampering with the temperature figures while they were en route from the bureau to the newspaper offices in the hands of copy boys had been uncovered from time to time.

"Regardless of the gambling on these figures, we can't very well withhold such important information from the public," Mr. Weber stated.

Europe should remember that every royal family begins with a flea-bitten rough neck called a distator.

A Chicago charity bureau says it will not help poor people who have autos. Good gosh! They're the ones who need it most.

UTILITIES MAP HUGE PROGRAM

STATE GAS AND ELECTRIC INTERESTS TO EXPEND $61,000,000 DURING YEAR.

Construction plans of Michigan electrical and gas companies call for expenditures in 1930 exceeding sixty-one million dollars, according to budget compilations just completed by the Michigan Electric Light Association and the Michigan Gas Association. This $61,000,000 program indicates the substantial manner in which the Michigan utilities are backing up President Hoover's campaign for the stabilization of employment, industry, and general business.

The building and improvement schedules are, in the aggregate, the largest ever drafted by the state's utilities. They go beyond even the high record 1929 figures.

Expression of Confidence. "The construction plans do not represent a temporary spurt on the part of the utilities," says A. C. Marshall, vice-president and general manager of the Detroit Edison company and chairman of the Michigan committee on Public Utility Information, commenting on the budget figures. "They are based on the hard-headed, sound-business calculations of executives and engineers as to Michigan's immediate and near future needs in power and gas resources. They are thus expressions of confidence in Michigan's fundamental health and strength as a forward-going state."

The electric power construction budget aggregate approximately $47,000,000. Leading items include enlargements of steam turbine generating capacities, water power developments, additional transmission and distribution lines, necessary substations, new office buildings, hundreds of miles of farm lines, and various other facilities for bettering electric service to 1,000,000 existing customers and carrying service to 60,000 expected new customers.

The demands for power made upon Michigan electric companies in 1929 were the greatest in history—approximately 4,700,000,000 kilowatt hours—being more than twice as great as the total demand in 1922, which was a record breaker up to that time. These demands, however had been anticipated in previous budgets and were, as a rule, met promptly and fully.

Gas Budget $10,500,000. The gas utility budgets total approximately $10,500,000. They include provision for additional generating facilities, new holders, many miles of new mains, and further extensions of high pressure lines from city plants to outlying communities which never before have enjoyed gas service. Gas sales in Michigan in 1929 reached a total of approximately 38 billion cubic feet, a gain of 11 per cent over 1928, which in turn showed a gain of 11.7 per cent over 1927.

Five years ago only 100 Michigan communities had gas service. At the beginning of 1930 gas service is being given to 214 communities and to 87 rural townships. The 1930 expansion program includes further advancement in this direction.

Shameless Profiteer. Unjustly condemned to death for treason, by the state which he had served uprightly, Phocion, Athenian statesman, found himself also the victim of extortion in his last moments. He was to perish in the approved manner—by drinking the hemlock. He required more of the poison to make the potion effective, and asked the jailer to procure it. That grasping functionary refused the price which was offered him, and Phocion had to put in the man's outstretched palm additional money before he could take his own life as the law demanded.—Detroit News.

Thrifty Meal Planning and Marketing

By HELEN SUZANNE TAYLOR

There is a great deal of difference between being stingy, meaning miserly, and being thrifty, meaning economical or thriving. The housewife who would make her money go as far as possible and who is earnestly trying to keep her family in good health is anxious to know what foods to buy and how to buy them. In other words, she realizes the importance of food marketing. Nowadays it is the smart thing to be a thrifty buyer. Great war salesmen at the store are equal and he won't criticize you; on the contrary he will admire you because he, like you, realizes that going to market is quite the thing from a social as well as from the economical standpoint. Mrs. Herbert Hoover is probably recognized today as one of America's foremost housewives. In spite of her manifold duties she does not fail to note certain points which a competent homemaker should remember. Quoting from an article in Better Homes, "Those of us who live in Washington have frequently seen her (Mrs. Hoover) driving to market, threading her way skillfully through the maze of traffic and buying there fresh fruits, vegetables, and flowers."

Personal marketing is of utmost importance. When you shop by telephone you are likely to lose pennies in many ways; you may not learn of special bargains, you may not see the variety of good things you had not thought of, and finally, you do not see the condition of the food you buy.

Marketing hours should be hours of real pleasure as well as profit. They should be preceded by a few minutes of planning at home; planning the menu for the day, knowing the quantities necessary, and resulting in a complete list of the food you will need. By all means, however, keep your plans flexible so that you may change them when you see market conditions and prices. When you arrive at the market be business-like, know your prices, ask for definite weights and measures and watch to see that you receive what you ask for. Get into the habit of reading the labels on packages—they tell you more than you realize. Buy products in bulk rather than in packages where sanitary conditions prevail. Know the brands and sizes of standard foods so that you may order over the telephone if necessary. Satisfy your family appetite yet do it without waste.

The most expensive food is not always the most nutritious. Usually a high price means that a food is rare, hard to ship, out of season, or unusually good looking. It does not mean that it is more healthful, or purer than a food that is cheaper. Consequently money can often be saved and the family nevertheless supplied with good, wholesome food, if only some time and thought is devoted to meal planning and marketing.

Staple foods that keep should be bought in large quantities as can be stored. The cost of large bags or packages if compared with the cost of the same food in smaller packages, will show how easily such savings can be made. Although space is at a premium in small kitchens, sometimes room can be discovered for an extra shelf, or by careful planning a better use can be made of the old space, and larger quantities can be stored than would have seemed possible.

Spilled food is usually a sign of poor marketing, careless meal planning, or bad housekeeping. In the summer time, the food saved by using ice may more than pay for the ice. In cold weather, a small outdoor cupboard will keep food from spoiling.

Most families need to spend from one-quarter to one-third of their income for food. To be sure that they are getting the food they need and are not over-spending for any one kind of food, they should follow a few simple rules:

1. A quart of milk for each child and a pint for each grown-up should be bought every day.
2. The allowance for meat should not exceed that for milk, unless the ideal amount of milk has already been bought.
3. The outlay for vegetables and fruits should be as much as for meat and fish.
4. One-sixth to one-half of the food money, depending on income, should go for bread, cereals, macaroni, and rice. The smaller the allowance for food, the more should be spent on the inexpensive cereals.
5. Enough butter, margarine, and other fats should be bought to supply between one-half and seven-eighths of a pound of fat for every member of the family over three years.

Put your meal planning and marketing on a systematic basis according to your income and you will find yourself "dining on dimes" instead of "pinching on pennies."

Detroit Edison To Spend $27,000,000

comes. Moreover, this budget is for construction work only, and is entirely independent of the money which the company must spend to operate and maintain existing power plants and equipment.

New demands for Edison service—which require these large construction programs—come from two sources: (1) Demands of new users of electricity; (2) increased use of electricity by persons who are already Detroit Edison customers. During the coming year, the Edison Company expects to connect about 28,000 new customers to its lines—nearly three times the total number of customers served by the Company in 1928. Besides, the use of electricity in homes, stores and factories increases year by year. All these demands must be anticipated and arrangements made to meet them wherever they occur in the area of 4,400 square miles served by the Company.

The 1930 budget calls for an expenditure of more than $2,000,000 at the Connors Creek plant on the east side of Detroit, to build a new switch house to replace the present switch house which is fast approaching obsolescence. It is expected that work on this project will be completed early in 1931. Moreover, funds will be required for additional super-heating surface in all the Connors Creek boilers, making it possible to raise steam temperatures and, thereby, to greatly improve boiler efficiency. All this work is being done preparatory to a general rebuilding of the Connors Creek plant.

During the past year, two 67,000 horse power turbine generators went into service in the new Delray power house on the west side of Detroit. More than $500,000 will be spent during 1930 to complete essential auxiliary equipment for these generators. The new Delray plant is designed to contain ultimately seven such units. Work has been already begun on the substructure and superstructure of two new boilers to supply steam to generators which will be added in the near future. This work will require $450,000 during 1930.

A new 67,000 horse power turbine generator is to go into service at the Marysville power house near Port Huron. This unit is almost identical with the Delray and Trenton Channel generating units, and will provide electric energy to meet the growing demands of Port Huron and environs and any excess current will be transmitted to the Detroit area. The wisdom of installing nine identical steam turbines in three different power houses of the company becomes evident when it is learned that the inside moving parts of one such steam turbine assembled on a shaft, is kept as a spare at the Trenton Channel power house ready to be transported and quickly inserted in any one of nine machines in case of a break-down. This ability to make immediate repairs is the next thing to providing additional spare generating capacity and costs considerably less. An expenditure of more than $2,000,000 will be necessary before the new 67,000 horse power unit goes into service at Marysville in the fall of 1930.

Additional to the boiler room—to supply this new steam turbine and to provide spare boiler capacity—will demand a further outlay of $1,150,000, of which, about $300,000 will be disbursed during 1930. Changes to the present electric equipment of the plant to improve the voltage of outgoing electric lines will cost another $80,000.

In Trenton Channel power house, which already has a capacity of 375,000 horse power—a new 13,500 horse power high temperature turbine-generator will be installed this year at a cost of $625,000. The use of steam at a very high temperature (about 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit) is a new development in power plant practice, and is a further step in improving power plant efficiency. Numerous refinements and additions to the present generating equipment and the installation of additional coal preparation machinery (Trenton Channel plant burns pulverized fuel) will cost $400,000 more.

Construction of new substations and the rebuilding of others in Detroit and surrounding territory will cost approximately $6,200,000. The company expects to construct 13 new substations and to completely rebuild seven others during the year, of which seven are in Detroit and the remainder are scattered throughout the service area. It is advisable to construct new substations along a number of suburban and rural lines to improve voltage regulation and to eliminate distribution lines of unwieldy length.

Extensions, reinforcements and enlargements to existing underground lines are expected to amount to $3,070,000. This item grows larger every year as concentration of loads in the congested business areas forces underground more surface lines.

The construction cost of new overhead lines and replacements will equal $1,800,000 during 1930. The new high tension transmission line is to be strung on the present steel towers which extend from Marysville to Detroit. By the end of 1930, an additional high tension tower line may be erected to Monroe to provide for future growth in the Monroe area.

The construction of numerous additional overhead lines and the moving of existing lines on account of public improvements account for a large portion of this budget item.

The Edison Company will continue to extend electric lines to customers now out of reach of electric service. This effort will be directed especially to reach farms which do not, as yet, enjoy the conveniences of electric service. It is estimated that farm line extensions—of which the customers pay a part—will cost $275,000 during 1930. Service lines to all other classes of new customers will cost more than $600,000, and $200,000 additional will be disbursed to supplement street and highway lighting systems. The 1930 budget calls for a total expenditure $2,800,000 for these purposes. This estimate includes the cost of meeting the increased consumption of electricity as well as the cost of the transformers for reducing the voltage of the current to a level where it can be supplied to residential and commercial users.

The 23,000 new customers, who will apply for Edison service this year, require most of the $0,000 new poles that are expected to be set in 1930.

The Company plans to install two small turbine-generators in its steam heating plants during the coming year at a cost of $180,000. These turbines will utilize to good advantage the steam generated at times when the load on the plants is very light. Extensions and additions and replacements to the Central Heating System, which serves the downtown business section of Detroit and the new business

INDIAN NATIONALIST

President Jawaharlal Nehru, young leader of the Indian Nationalist congress, who in a fiery speech before 50,000 delegates demanded complete freedom from England.

center around the General Motors and Fisher Buildings, will cost about $570,000.

The Port Huron Gas Division, which supplies gas to Port Huron, St. Clair, Marine City, New Baltimore, New Haven, Romeo, Armada, Richmond, Memphis, and neighboring communities, will extend its transmission mains from Perch Point to New Baltimore at a cost of $80,000, so as to form a complete gas transmission loop. Miscellaneous extensions to lines and services will amount to $60,000.

A great variety of other items, individually unimpressive but collectively aggregating a very large sum, complete the 1930 construction budget. The construction of new sales offices, warehouses and other buildings and the acquisition of land for these structures are among these items. Trucks and tractors are in demand for certain kinds of work, and there is always a need for office furniture and fixtures and for tools and miscellaneous equipment for workmen. These items, together with the cost of planning and engineering, which includes drafting and the other usual expenses of an extensive construction program, complete the $27,000,000 budget.

The Company expects to add about 900 new customers in its Grand River and Livingston Districts during 1930. These districts extend northwest along Grand River Road from Clarencville to Williamston, north to Commerce, North Farmington, Rose Center and Harland and south to Plymouth, Brookville, South Lyon, Hamburg and Vicksburg. The cost of extending service to these new customers will amount to about $33,000. In addition, it is expected that $50,000 will be disbursed for farm expansions, part of which is invested in this undertaking by the new farm customers themselves. New transmission lines in these districts are estimated at about $40,000 and the rebuilding and rerouting of present overhead lines will probably amount to $68,000 more.

Plans for the erection of two new substations in the Grand River and Livingston Districts have been approved and work will be started soon. The new Clarencville Substation at Grand River Avenue and Eight Mile Road will serve the Detroit Street Railway and will ultimately replace the present Farmington Junction station.

The Company plans to replace the high tension equipment at Howland Substation with an outdoor station at a cost of $135,000. The new equipment will include a synchronous condenser unit to further improve the regulation of voltage of electricity supplied to customers.

NEWBURG

The announcement made by Rev. Purdy last Sabbath in regard to the young people of the U. of M. coming here to give a party Saturday evening, also to have charge of the Sunday services has been called off until some future date.

L. A. S. held a very pleasant and profitable meeting in the hall, last Wednesday. Several men came to partake of the fine dinner served by Mrs. Gilbert and her committee. Mrs. McNabb read the first chapter of the book on foreign missions, which they will continue to read at their meetings. Mrs. Bertha Joy's committee will have charge of the dinner at the February meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farley of Plymouth, attended the L. A. S. meeting last Wednesday.

George Carney of Sandusky, Michigan, and Miss Ruth Carney of Detroit, spent the week-end at the Carney home.

Faith Fitzpatrick of Millersburg, the girl the Free Press has told so much about is a cousin of Mrs. Ira Carney of Newburg.

Mr. Cutler's mother of Detroit, is spending the winter at his home, Mrs. E. M. and Mrs. Ed. Yonkman, Bedford, were Sunday visitors at the Yonkman home.

Fred Geney and John Thompson, were working on the community hall, last week.

Mrs. Ada LeVan left for Cincinnati, Monday night to see her sister, Mrs. Arthur Pattula, who is very ill in a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt and family returned from their Florida trip Sunday morning.

Mrs. Emma Smith of Fowlerville, is spending the week with her friend Mrs. Bertha Joy.

A very pleasant surprise was sprung on Miss Lydia Joy by her mother, who entertained Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb and Mrs. Vina Joy, also the Queen Esther Circle, in honor of Mrs. Lydia's birthday, last Friday evening. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Needless to say they had a lovely time.

Several from Newburg attended the revival service held at the Baptist church in Plymouth Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Donald Ryder is on the sick list this week.

Rev. William Johnson and son Billie of Manchester, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Tuesday, day.

It isn't instinct that makes a mother kiss the back of a baby's neck. It is appreciation of a clean spot. The only thing that irritates a man more than the dullness of his hair is the sharpness of his wife's tongue.

METHODIST NOTES

"Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; bring an offering, and come before him; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." I Chronicles 16:29.

Tuesday, January 21st, the first Quarterly Conference will meet at the church at 7:30 p. m. All the members are urged to be present. Dr. Martin will be with us.

Wednesday, January 22nd, the Junior Missionary children will meet, directly after school. We hope all the boys and girls will come for this first meeting since the Christmas vacation. Those who haven't done so, and can bring your dues; but come anyway. The dues are 25 cents for the year. You will not want to miss any of the stories about children of other lands.

Wednesday evening, 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock, the prayer and praise service. You will not want to lose out on any of these interesting meetings. It is a most profitable forty-five minutes. Come and see for yourself. All are welcome.

Thursday, January 23rd, Mrs. Uter's Circle, L. A. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. William Hayball, 1090 Williams St., at 2:00 p. m. Mrs. Uter is anxious to have all the members present.

Friday, January 24th the Booster Class will have their monthly cooperative supper at 6:30 p. m. followed by the annual election of officers. It is desired that all members will be present to help choose the new officers.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The meeting of the Woman's auxiliary last week was a good one. The review of "Our Women" by Mrs. C. H. Buzzard, was particularly enjoyed.

What a contribution to the church service a flower makes. The thanks of the whole congregation is due to the thoughtful women who provide the flowers from week to week.

The Ready Service Class will meet at the church on Tuesday of next week. There will be a cooperative dinner at noon, and the day will be devoted to work on the annual hospital quota sent down to the Plymouth church. All the women of the congregation who can be present are asked to come and help. "Many hands make light work."

Next week Wednesday, January 22, the January division of the Woman's Auxiliary will give a tea, musical program and social afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. H. Haskell at the Wayne County Training School. Every woman is invited. There will be cars at the Presbyterian church, Plymouth, at 2:00 o'clock p. m., to take all who wish a drive to Mrs. Haskell's. A charge of 25 cents will be made.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The annual parish meeting was held Tuesday night, preceded by a cooperative supper, and was well attended. Reports from the various parish organizations gave evidence of splendid work done during the past twelve months, and indicated certain points of growth in the life of the church. Facing many problems and responsibilities the utmost loyalty and cooperation on the part of every member is necessary to carry the work forward during the new year. We are looking ahead toward even greater things.

Two social events occur next week. The men's club will have a novel and exciting time of entertainment in store for all men of the parish and their men friends, Wednesday night, January 22. Ask a member of the club more about it.

The woman's guild will entertain on Thursday, January 23, with an afternoon of games. All women of the parish and their friends are cordially invited. Make table reservations with some member of the guild.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is general communion Sunday for the ladies of the parish.

Instructions for the children Saturday morning at 9:30. Let all the children be present for these instructions.

The Rev. Elmer A. Guettler of St. Anthony church, Detroit, died January 11, and was buried from his home parish last Tuesday, Monroe, Mich.

The annual parish report is ready and will be read to the congregation the latter part of this month. The report is good, considering the times; it does not, however, equal the report of 1928.

Salvation Army Notes.

If the weather is permissible we will hold tag day Saturday, January 18.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT BAPTIST CHURCH WILL CLOSE SUNDAY NIGHT

Evangelist and Mrs. Colegrove will close their meetings with the Baptist Church, Sunday evening, January 19. The meetings have been a marked success, in that the spiritual life of our church has been quickened and a number have come to know the Lord. The meetings have been well attended considering the season of the year and weather conditions.

One of the outstanding features of our meetings has been the interest in Bible reading. To date there has been more than 4,000 verses read. This should prove a blessing to any church.

On Friday evening the Booster Club will have a very prominent part on the program. This club is made up of children under 13 years of age. They will have a number of songs to sing and other items of interest which will prove a blessing to the service.

Mr. Colegrove's messages have been of a very constructive spiritual type and we extend a cordial invitation to the people of Plymouth to take advantage of these meetings.

Mineral Salts Give Her Tired Hubby New Pep

"My husband took 2 bottles of Vinol. Now he has good appetite and more strength, pep and vigor than he ever had."—Mrs. Edith Starkey.

Doctors have long known the value of mineral elements iron, calcium with cod liver peptone, as contained in Vinol. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how Vinol gives new strength, sound sleep and a big appetite. Get for more PEP to enjoy life! Vinol tastes delicious. Dudgeon Drug Company.

DR. HUGO ECKENER TO GET GOLD MEDAL

Awarded in Recognition of His World Flight.

Washington.—The National Geographic society announced the award to Dr. Hugo Eckener of its special gold medal in recognition of his recent round-the-world flight and of his other noteworthy achievements which have contributed so much to the advancement of the science of aeronautics.

Notification of the reward was communicated to Doctor Eckener through the German embassy at Washington. Doctor Eckener has called that he will come to Washington in March, at which time the medal will be formally presented to him at a meeting of the Washington members of the society.

Byrd and Lindbergh Among Medalists.
The presentation ceremony will be similar to those occasions upon which Commander Richard E. Byrd was given a medal for being the first to reach the North pole by airplane, and when Col. Charles A. Lindbergh received the society's medal for his flight from New York to Paris.

On both those occasions presentation of the medals was made on behalf of the society by President Coolidge, now a trustee of the society.

Doctor Eckener's association with the development of dirigibles, paradoxically, dates from the time when Eckener was the editor of a Frankfurt newspaper and printed bitter attacks upon the experiments then launched by Count Zeppelin.

Count Zeppelin sought out his editorial foe, took him up on some of his flights, and both narrowly escaped death later when one of Zeppelin's early airships exploded just before landing.

After this disaster Count Zeppelin threatened to abandon aviation and it was Eckener, then converted to the future of the dirigible, who persuaded him to resume his work, and fostered the popular subscription which enabled him to do so.

Thenceforth Doctor Eckener was closely associated with Count Zeppelin. Hitherto he had been a passenger and observer, now he became a pilot, and studied all other phases of aircraft operation, which was to be his life work. Upon the death of Count Zeppelin he became acting head of the Zeppelin construction works, and last year was made president of the Zeppelin company.

Two flights to America won Doctor Eckener world renown before he made his epochal flight around the world last August. In October, 1924, he brought the Los Angeles from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J. In 1928 he piloted the Graf Zeppelin from Germany to the United States and back to Friedrichshafen, carrying passengers on both trips.

Doctor Eckener's services to the science of aeronautics include not only his important work in helping develop the semi-dirigible to a passenger vehicle of the air, and in demonstrating its utility by his famous flights, but also in his observations on atmospheric conditions of the upper air which have contributed notably toward "making the skies safe for future aviation."

The Man-Lifting Kits.
Since aviation's earliest days the National Geographic society has aided the advancement of the science. Its National Geographic Magazine printed an article in 1908 on the experiments of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell's Man-Lifting kite—an article written by Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, now president of the society.

In 1908 the society appointed a representative to aid Walter Wellman in his preparations for the balloon flight by which he hoped to reach the North pole.

Since then it has published aviators' own accounts of many notable air voyages, including those of Byrd, Lindbergh, Macready's nonstop flight across America, Sir Ross Smith's flight from London to Australia and Capt. St. Clair Streett's first Alaskan air expedition.

Commander Byrd received his first far northern flying experience on the society's expedition of 1925 to the vast area north of the Beaufort sea and the society's chief cartographer, Albert H. Bonstead, devised the sun compass of which Commander Byrd said: "Without it we could not have reached the pole." Commander Byrd is using the compass in his Antarctic flights, toward which the National Geographic society has contributed $50,000.

Some young folks around Plymouth invite only close friends to their wedding while others invite anybody who is apt to bring along a present.

A Cleveland man married a Texas woman by telephone, and he'll probably wish more than once that the line had been busy.

PILGRIM PRINTS

It is not, however, a replica of an ancient cave, but of a very ultra modern one. The building was completed last May, and is open to all co-eds of the University.

The dining rooms have panel-like walls, and these having been pushed back, the three rooms were transformed into one large room. As the seniors were gathering after their explorations, they began to dance to the music provided by an orthophonic phonograph. About nine o'clock the party was in full swing, with forty seniors enjoying themselves. Mr. Cobb, Miss Cary and Miss Fetsel, the class advisers, were also there. About ten o'clock games were played, such as Am I a Goat?, followed by Crambo, Blind Man's Buff, and Winkum. Sandwiches and coffee were served at the building in the lunchroom about half past ten.

On the way back home, the drivers were confronted with glaring, icy roads. Around the large curve just outside of Ann Arbor, nine cars were standing in a long line. These were skidding, the wheels spinning, but no headway could be made, so that two hours of very nerve-racking driving were necessary to get to Plymouth.

Home Appreciation

Home appreciation is the goal of the Home Economics Club. In learning the proper interior decoration, restful color combinations and other things that make up a real home, the members develop a keener appreciation of this up-to-now rather neglected art, home making.

Last semester they made curtains for the lunchroom of green theatrical gauze, which greatly softens that rather bare room, thus learning what one little detail can do. At Christmas the club made stockings for the sanitarium developing the unselfish spirit that every true home lover has. At the time, the girls are reading "Mother," by Kathleen Norris, to further home appreciation. In the next semester more advanced interior decoration will be the object of their study, and in this connection a project will actually be worked out.

Sophomores Meet

The sophomore class meeting was a very busy affair. The announcement was made to bring suggestions for Stunt Night. Zerepha Blunk spoke to the girls interested in basketball. Class colors were chosen which are red and white. It was also decided to have both the boys and girls represent their class in colors. A sleigh ride party will be held as soon as favorable weather prevails. The committee to attend to the party is composed of Janet Blikenstaff, Beryl Proctor and Casler Stevens. Elaine Hamilton, Caslie Rowland, Carman Ellis, Jimmie Stimpson compose the Stunt Night committee and they are very active to make this a real success.

Central School Notes

Group One in Mrs. Root's room has finished the Silent Seatwork Reading Pads and are now illustrating stories with colored drawings and free paper-cuttings. Rosemary Schomberger entered last week from the Kenyon school in Canton township. In individual reading, many of the little folks have finished the Child Library Primer and are reading in the Fun Book, another supplementary primer. Doris Ruse has had her name put on the perfect teeth chart with a gold star beside it. The children completed their art books last week when they pasted "The Helping Hand" by Renout.

Miss Richard's room gave the P. T. A. program last Wednesday. The chief item was the play of "The Three Bears." The twelve boys and girls with perfect teeth are: Sammy Virgo, Melvin Krumm, Ann Johnson, Elmer Fulton, Jimmy Muiholland, Mary Jane Olsaver, Albert Blair, Donald Jewell, Phyllis Campbell, Laura Ewing, Ruth Wellman and Marie Agrove. Ten mothers visited the room during the past week.

Miss Wellman's room earned the victrola again for January, with an attendance of 39 at the last P. T. A. Group One has finished the readers and a supplementary book is being used.

Isobell Nairn spelled everyone in Miss Weatherhead's room down. The Buicks are still ahead of the Fords. Betty Mastick and Astril Hogg were absent all last week because of illness. Mary Moon received the highest score in the last reading test: The Honor Roll for the week was: Beulah King, Earle Lyke, Harvey Shaw, Warren Todd, Betty Martin, Bonnie Thompson, Gerald Cooper, Lois Schaufele, Mary Moon and Dorothy O'Leary.

David Hale has been absent because of chicken-pox. The following are on the McCall's Spelling Test Honor Roll in Miss Farrand's room: Bruce Richards, Ruth Reddeman, Marguerite Broegman, Allida Lavers, Betty Barnes and Jack Finn. In the 4-B: Eleanor Cline, Bobbie Soper, Margaret Helitz, Ruth Pennell and Frank Konzeski. In the reading test, those on the Honor Roll are: Bruce Richards, Betty Barnes, Ruth Reddeman, Bernice Goldner, Jack Finn, Donna Anderson, Marguerite Broegman, Gladys Charlipar, Robert Soper, Ruth Pennell, Genevieve Pinkerton, Delores Plachta, Joe Archer, Margaret Helitz, Lloyd Green, Eleanor Cline, Harold Groth, Carol Howard, Keith VanAmburg, Herbert Campbell, Frank Konzeski, Althea Shoemaker and Wray Bailey.

Virginia Williams entered Mrs. Holliday's room last week. Everyone in the room has made maps of Europe and they are working on Health Posters now.

The fifth grade arithmetic section in Miss Fenner's room is studying "Discount Sales." Pollyanna's spelling team is ahead of Russell's.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnson visited Miss Hallahan's room last week. All work has been completed and reviewing has been started in every subject. The sixth grade orchestra under Miss Schrader's direction is progressing rapidly. The members are Haldor Burden, Roland Rheind, Vernell Hitt, James Johnson and Gordon Hartford. In the standardized reading test last Thursday, Phyllis Ratnour received the highest score in the room. There are sixteen children in Miss Willmore's room with perfect teeth.

Cherry Hill

The Cherry Hill Ladies Aid are sponsoring a three-act play, "Tourists Accommodated" to be given by members of the Methodist Ladies Aid of Plymouth, on the evening of January 18th. Plan to come, and tell your friends about it.

The Parent-Teacher meeting was held at the school Monday evening. Our teacher, Miss Alta Fisher, who has been so seriously ill, was able to open her school Monday morning.

Jerome West and friend, Miss Nera Butcher and Wilbert West and friend, Miss Lila Harrison, were supper guests Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Joe West of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. August Hauk and family spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkie and family.

MELBA TOAST

Melba toast used for diets has found a permanent place in the kitchen cupboard. Creamed chicken, tuna, chipped beef and other favorite dishes are especially good served on this toast that does not soak up.

Next time you have an extra loaf of bread, slice thin, lay on racks in oven and toast an hour at 225 degrees, which means a slow oven. Store all by itself in a five-pound marshmallow tin or other airtight container. Rounds cut from day old bread may be toasted and the trimmings toasted and rolled for bread crumbs. Rings for the top give a pretty effect.

Cooper School News

Fred Fisher was a visitor at our school last Tuesday afternoon. He left the "Michigan Manual for 1929" with us.

We are very proud of the new Seth Thomas clock which we bought with the money received from our box social.

Miss Jameson spent Friday morning with us. A Seventh grade oral language demonstration lesson was taught, after which she told us a very delightful story. At Miss Jameson's request we repeated some of our Christmas program. Tests were given to the first and second grade children. We received many gold stars.

We made baskets of apples and oranges for the blackboard borders this month. We cut out pictures of children representing the four seasons, as decorations for the windows.

Twelve children were given toxin-anti-toxin as protection against diphtheria and seven children were vaccinated for small pox. All vaccinations were plus.

Friday afternoon everyone engaged in a spelling bee. Irene Smith, of the seventh grade, was champion for the school.

At our last Citizenship meeting it was decided that each boy and girl bring his own coat hanger to school, as a means of keeping our cloak rooms in better order.

The boys from the upper grades have formed a model airplane club. The purpose of the club is to learn all they can about aviation, and each member is to construct three airplane models. Chester Gercozakowski has been chosen as president and Eugene Szymanski as secretary and treasurer.

Visitors at the school the past week included: Mildred, Charles and Bobbie Dawson; Bernard Showers; Viola Roddenberg; Madge Smith; Alfred Clement; Joe Hayden; and Thomas and Harold Loop.

Farm Accounts Kept With Little Effort

Only two hours to set up the inventory and 15 minutes each week for entries are needed to keep a complete book account of the average Michigan farm business, according to statements by members of the farm management department at Michigan State College.

Two thousand farm account books printed last year by the College and sold at cost to farmers failed to meet the demands. Organized groups in 38 counties contained 850 men who were given personal instruction in farm accounts by specialists from the College.

In each of the 38 counties the

Graduate Nurse Has High Praise For New Konjola

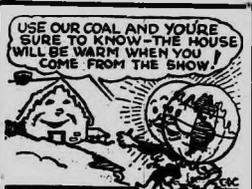

LONG STANDING STOMACH TROUBLE AND OTHER ILLS YIELD QUICKLY TO MODERN MEDICINE.

MRS. BERTHA OLSON "I am only too glad to have the privilege of saying a few words of praise for this wonderful Konjola," said Mrs. Bertha Olson, 1219 Fitzhugh Street, Saginaw. "I am a graduate nurse, but my training and experience with illness did not seem to help me to conquer my own severe case of stomach trouble. Some of the milder chies I tried helped me, but the relief did not last. I could not eat any acid fruits; not even an orange at breakfast time. My general health was undermined, and dizzy spells were frequent occurrences.

Almost immediately after I started taking Konjola I noticed a change for the better. In all I took eight bottles of this medicine and am a well woman. My stomach is in excellent condition. I am stronger and more energetic. Konjola proved its merit to me in my own case."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

groups were called together at the beginning of the year and assistance was given in setting up inventories. Later, a visit was made to the farm of each man and the books were checked for accuracy. The farm account books made it possible for the farmer to determine the returns from his business, profit or loss, and his labor income. The keeping of books does not directly increase farm receipts but it does allow the farmer to find which farm practices gain or lose money, and he is able to change his methods to avoid the losing enterprises.

The College has printed seven thousand books this year to supply the increase in demand. These will be sold by the farm management department and by county agricultural agents for 20 cents each.

The state is divided into four districts for taking inventories, and the dates for starting the books are Jan. 1, Feb. 1, March 1, or April 1.

GOOD APPEARANCE HELD ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS

Good appearance is essential to the success of a business man today and a good head of hair is necessary to good appearance. The average man today believes that of the man with whom he is doing business is careless about his hair he is careless in matters pertaining to his business. Hair growing and prevention of baldness has been made an accurate science available to all.

This Meter MEASURES LIGHT

YOUR electric meter accurately measures the electric current consumed in your store. But have you ever accurately measured your illumination? It is equally important—unless your lighting installation is adequate, the current you pay for is not producing maximum effect.

The foot-candle meter measures intensity of light, scientifically and without guesswork. It tells you definitely whether your store lighting is good or bad. You may have your lighting inspected without charge by Detroit Edison illuminating engineers, who will study your store and make whatever recommendations are necessary to improve your lighting. This is part of our service.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAM

"WHY BRING THAT UP"

Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows, now add to their phonograph and radio fame by making their first screen appearance in Paramount's all-talking comedy "Why Bring That Up?" a rapid fire story of the vaudeville stage introducing many of the numbers that they have recorded, and will be shown here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, January 19, 20 and 21. In addition to these they present many new Moranisms and Mackisms.

"Why Bring That Up?" is from an original story by Octavius Roy Cohen, the famous author of negro stories. In the picture you see Moran meeting Mack, the forming of the famous team—their struggle for recognition and you climb with them to success. They show you just how they make up their funny patter and best of all you see them in real life as well as black face, doing their rib-cracking dialect.

Moran and Mack, the two Black Crows, have the backing of an elaborate musical show. In the final scenes of their opus. A jazzing array of stage talent. "Why Bring That Up?" is real, you fairly feel every situation and they are all of such character, just like their records, that a child of eight years can fully understand.

"NIGHT PARADE"

Bringing Broadway with its scintillating night life to the screen in the most realistic manner, "Night Parade," Radio Pictures' glamorous all-talking drama, will attract large crowds to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, January 22 and 23. Audiences which have attended previous showings of the film hail it as one of the most entertaining and gripping all-dialog shows to be seen here this year.

W.C.T.U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet Thursday, January 23, at two-thirty o'clock with the president, Mrs. E. R. Daggett.

There will be a paper—"The Married Woman's Wages" by Mrs. I. N. Dickerson and a discussion, "Should a Married Woman have an Allowance?" Everyone will be made welcome and it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

From the Michigan Union of December: "The Dominion of Canada, thru its Bureau of Statistics, has issued a bulletin which removes all justification for support of government sale of liquor on the grounds of 'temperance' or 'moderation.' Official Dominion figures show that the sale of whiskey instead of being retarded by the popularizing of beer and wine, has increased more than sixty per cent in the last two years and is increasing more rapidly than the sale of beer and wine; that drunkenness is increasing; that in 1926, for instance, convicted 13,700 drunks in 1926 and 16,000 two years later. Deaths from alcoholism in Canada have more than doubled since 1921. Convictions for drunken driving in Canada increased thirteen hundred per cent in the six liquor control years. Motor accidents show almost a double death toll in four years."

Newburg School News

By Ethel Bennett

We are glad to have Marvin and Dorothy Schmidt back to school after their trip to Florida. This week the orchestra played the following: "Michigan, my Michigan," "In the Springtime," "The Pagan Love Song," Alice Bakewell played "The Dance of the Golden Rods."

The third, fourth and fifth grades have twenty-five new library books. Donald Schmidt is back from Florida. He has many interesting things to tell us. We are glad to have him back. Nearly every one in the third grade got 100 in Spelling this week.

Angeline Schmittling has returned to her home and will re-enter the Cady school. We are sorry to lose her from our school.

The P. T. A. will give an Oyster Supper and a Bunco party at the school, Friday evening, January 24.

We are very anxious to make this a big event. Come and boost your school. Tickets will be on sale.

Adults 50c, children 35c. Supper will be served from 5:30 on.

The P. T. A. was entertained by the boys' and girls' orchestra. The parents and teachers joined in the singing.

NOTICE OF BOARD OF REVIEW MEETING

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Board of Review will be held in the Commission Chamber at the Village Hall from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock p. m., of Saturday, January 19, 1930, at which time the following special assessment rolls will be reviewed:

Jener St. storm sewer roll

Jener St. water main roll

Evergreen Ave. sanitary sewer roll

Special assessment districts assessable for each of the above improvements comprise the following areas:

Jener St. storm sewer district: Lots 91 to 99 inclusive, Nash-Plymouth Subdivision;

Jener St. water main district: Lots 90 to 99 inclusive, Nash-Plymouth Subdivision.

Evergreen Ave. sanitary sewer district: Lots 91 to 126 inclusive, Sunset Addition.

Opportunity will be given all interested persons to be heard relative to the assessments in question.

A. J. KOENIG,
Village Clerk.

The movement of New York life makes a fascinating enough study in itself, but "Night Parade" carries along with it tense drama which attains an unusually powerful climax.

Celice are hailing this Mal St. Clair production as the director's best to date. The work of Hugh Trevor and Dorothy Gulliver in the leading roles has been received enthusiastically. Lloyd Ingraham's delineation of the father who sees his lifetime idol about to fall through the machinations of a crooked gambler and a designing woman, is styled one of the most gripping bits of reel-talking pictures have yet brought to the sound screen.

Although the atmosphere of the prize ring prevades "Night Parade," it is secondary to a father's love for a son who is the idol of millions. The romantic interest stirred by the love between Dorothy Gulliver and Hugh Trevor is another strong point of appeal.

"Night Parade" is a faithful talking picture version of the famous New York stage success written by George Abbott, Edward Paramore and Hyatt Dabb.

"PAINTED FACES"

The all talking picture, "Painted Faces," will be the attraction at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, January 24 and 25.

Laughs, tears, thrills and shrieks in the love story of a clown acrobat who took a great heart tumble. A tent full of entertainment. See Joe Brown on the spring-board! Hear his delightful German dialect—his side-splitting funny lines! Hear those red hot song numbers "Somebody Just Like You" and "Bashful Baby."

The cast for this picture is Joe E. Brown, Helen Foster, Barton Hepburn and Dorothy Gulliver.

How To Properly Start Your Auto

Big Reduction in Gasoline Consumption by Proper Method of Starting.

Much overdone as it is, the axiom, "Haste makes waste," stand repetition to bring home to motorists the importance of taking their time when starting their motors on a cold morning.

There is a way of starting a cold engine in winter that saves fuel, avoids ill temper, and trouble and marks the experienced motorist. It is quite simple and easy to remember.

Very little fussing with the choke or throttle is necessary. The engine won't stall under the circumstances and there will be no undue strain on it.

With the automatic spark now on most cars, this starting is made even easier. All that's needed is patience and a few extra minutes in the morning.

The plan is to retard the spark if not automatic, and advance the throttle at the wheel or dash a little not all the way. Pull out the choke lever all the way and then press the starter button.

As soon as the engine has started, push the choke control half way back, advance the spark and let the engine warm up slowly with the choke in the halfway position until it operates smoothly.

With the throttle keeping the engine going a little faster than idling and the choke control halfway out, the combustion chamber walls will become heated sooner than under ordinary running conditions and so enable the fuel to burn more thoroughly. When this occurs the throttle can then be pushed back to idling and the choke pushed in on the dash.

The choke should be out only so long as is required for the engine to idle without danger of stalling. As soon as this is possible the choke should be put into its normal position. Thus there will be no waste of fuel.

The air that is taken into the fuel mixture by the carburetor is warmed up quickly by its passage alongside the exhaust manifold before entering the carburetor. This permits the fuel mixture to become volatilized sooner and so leaves little to be wasted. In many cases the entire mixture is warmed by the exhaust.

As a result, the warming-up process nowadays is much shorter than it was in previous years.

It should be remembered that too much chugging will overheat the carburetor, besides overflowing the cylinders. This not only causes much of the unburned fuel to seep down to the crankcase, where it dilutes the lubricating oil, but it allows whatever water there is in the fuel to collect in the bottom of the carburetor.

When a cold snap comes along, this water residue freezes and then there is real trouble in starting. The frozen water clogs up this important element, keeps the fuel from entering and prevents operation until it is thawed down and drained out.

That's a job for an auto mechanic or a nasty one for the motorist. The judicious use of the choke, therefore, is essential.

Because of greater danger of oil dilution from overflowing fuel, it is good practice to test the crankcase oil every 500 miles. Diluted oil is thicker than a lubricant should be and it contains black sediment.

If the oil is too thin and contains such sediment, it should be drained out and replaced with fresh lubricant. This should be thinner than the oil used in summer, for the cold weather tends to thicken it and retard its circulation.

Quick Relief For Coughing Spells

FAMOUS PRESCRIPTION STOPS THEM ALMOST INSTANTLY.

A Strong Foundation for Your Christmas Tree

To both the kiddies and grown-ups, perhaps Christmas is the happiest time of all the year.

But the Yuletide has its unpleasant aftermath—the bills. Christmas is an expensive occasion.

Many customers of the Plymouth United Savings Bank have found that by saving a small sum each week, and depositing it in a Christmas account, they completely remove the financial shadow from the Christmas season.

What could be a stronger foundation for a Christmas tree than a Christmas club savings book?

D. A. R. Notes

The annual luncheon of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held at the Methodist church Monday, January 20th at one o'clock.

Mrs. Bartrick, the state regent of the D. A. R., who was coming to Plymouth as speaker for the D. A. R. luncheon January 20th, has been unable to come on account of illness. Mrs. James H. McDonald, the state vice-regent, has kindly consented to come in her place. Many of the chapter members having heard Mrs. McDonald and knowing what a very interesting and forceful speaker she is, are looking forward eagerly to her being here at their annual luncheon.

Those desiring tickets for the luncheon should get them now of Mrs. Braut Warner or Mrs. Roger Vaughn. Those desiring to bring guests may do so or outsiders interested in the D. A. R. are welcome.

There's nothing more useful than money, but when it turns people's heads it's about the most useless thing in the world.

The hostesses of the evening were Misses Irene Brown and Lila Tesge.

OBITUARY

Ella Merritt, daughter of Joseph and Martha Merritt, was born in Salem Township, Washtenaw County, November 13, 1854, and passed away January 6th, 1930 at the age of seventy-five years, one month and twenty-four days.

In 1876 she was united in marriage to Levi W. Rathbun. To this union were born three children. In 1893 Mr. Rathbun passed away leaving her with the sole support of the three children. This task she faithfully performed.

In July 1922 she was again united in marriage to Peter Deiker who preceded her in death two years ago. She was of a quiet, home-loving disposition, always giving first consideration to those she loved. She was a member of the local Methodist Episcopal church and also of the M. E. Ladies Aid Society.

Although she has been a great sufferer for the past few years she has borne her suffering patiently, never losing her cheerful faith and was prepared to meet her Maker.

She leaves to mourn their loss, three daughters, Mrs. Winnie Herrick, of Salem; Mrs. Bessie McCullough, of Miss Ora Rathbun of Plymouth; five grandchildren; four sisters and four brothers, besides several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, January 10th at two o'clock at Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, Dr. F. A. Leandrum and Rev. J. J. Halliday of Salem officiating. Interment took place at Riverside Mausoleum.

YOUTH FINDS PAL IN "JOVIAL" GHOST

Lad Said to Enjoy Spirit's Companionship.

London.—A jovial ghost who obligingly produces money from thin air, eats apples and leaves his (her or its) teeth marks in the core, and throws ink bottles when she (or it) is angry, is said to be the constant companion of a ten-year-old boy who lives in Poona, India.

The story was related before the National Laboratory of Psychological Research by Miss Helen Kohn, a E. A. of London university. The boy, said Miss Kohn, is her young nephew, Damodar Ketkar, who was adopted by Miss Kohn's sister when he was four.

The youngster is coming to England soon, and the National Laboratory is arranging to have a committee of reputable London doctors investigate his ghostly companion.

"Sometimes," said Miss Kohn, "the manifestations are harmless and at other times definitely destructive. There was a time when it seemed that this mysterious spirit was making a determined attempt on the boy's life.

"Things were smashed so rapidly with no human explanation, that Damodar had to be fed by hand and all glass objects had to be removed. As the child moved through the room he was surrounded by broken glass, and scattered liquids, particularly saccharine, to which the spirits appeared to have an especial aversion.

"Once Damodar put out some fruit for his ghost. In a few moments it had disappeared and later the skins were hung from nowhere bearing the marks of teeth.

"Another time a five rupee note suddenly appeared in the air in the middle of a dinner party. Nobody claimed it and it was marked and locked in a trunk. It disappeared and was never found."

Will Spend $7,800,000 for Bird Conservation

Washington.—A total of $7,800,000 will be expended under authorization of the migratory bird conservation act, of which $200,000 has been provided for the fiscal year ending June, 1931, $600,000 for the fiscal year ending in 1932, and $1,000,000 each for the seven succeeding years. Thereafter $200,000 is authorized for the year ending June 30, 1940, and for each succeeding fiscal year.

Before proposed areas are definitely settled on as sanctuaries following investigation by the Department of Agriculture, the commission consisting of the secretary of the interior, and two members each from the senate and house of representatives must endorse the selections.

Under the act establishing the bird reservations, provision also is made for the maintenance and improvement of the areas. The establishment of the sanctuaries and administration of the act is only one of the features of the program in which bird lovers have been actively interested.

Elusive Rabbit Leads Pursuing Dog to Death

Newark, N. J.—A hound dog owned by Walter Sereda of Caldwell township, died under unusual circumstances. The dog chased a rabbit which took refuge in a lead pipe about a foot long. The dog died after it and its head caught in the pipe.

The hound managed to stagger home with the pipe in its head, but neither Sereda nor anyone else was able to help and the dog died with it on.

Napoleon's Diamond Necklace Now in U. S.

New York.—The diamond necklace, which Napoleon I presented to Empress Maria Louisa on the birth of their only child, the duke of Reichstadt, has been brought to this country. The necklace consists of 47 large diamonds set in silver and gold and is valued at $500,000. It is owned by the archduchess of Austria, Marie Theresa, now seventy-four.

Navy Orders 18 Planes at Cost of $1,670,829

Washington.—The Navy Department has contracted with the Keystone Aircraft corporation, Bristol, Pa., to construct 18 airplane of the "VP" type with landing gear, at a total cost of $1,670,829.45. Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, described the ships as "flying boats."

Woman Deserts Baby in Theater for Crying

Newark, N. J.—Angered because the walls of a three-week-old baby boy interrupted her enjoyment of a motion picture show, a woman abandoned the infant at night in the women's lounge of a theater here. The woman, appearing to be about thirty-five years old, got up from her seat, the baby in her arms, when the child's cries became insistent.

"This brat will never let me sit through a show," she said to Miss Bernice Bernstein, of Perth Amboy, a patron of the theater. The child is now in the Babies' Hospital here.

A COMMUNICATION

Postmaster Giles hands us the following letter from a firm of attorneys in San Antonio, Texas. If anyone knows the whereabouts of these persons please communicate the same to Postmaster Giles:

United States Postmaster, Plymouth, Michigan.

Dear Sir:

Dr. H. E. Sucholtz, formerly of this city, died a few months ago leaving a will, one paragraph of which reads as follows:

"When I came to America as a poor immigrant there accompanied me a beloved sister, Dorothy, Richter, nee Sucholtz. She is now deceased. I give and bequeath to such of her children as may survive me the sum of one thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each. The residence and names of such children are not known to me but one lives in Brighton, Michigan, and one lives in Brighton, Michigan."

We will thank you to advise us whether you know of anyone answering to the description contained in this clause and if so, and you can get word to them, please have them communicate with us. The will has been probated and in due course of time distribution will be possible.

Yours truly,
ESKRIDGE & GROCE.

Nowadays young people around Plymouth don't think anything of kissing, and the older folks don't think much of the kind of kissing they do, either.

You can't make eggnog from the stuff they sell nowadays. Most of it would hard-boll the eggs.

They say Scotland is the only country in the world where there's a detour at every toll-gate.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF PLYMOUTH

The following letter was sent out from the chamber of commerce office this week to many citizens of Plymouth. It would be impossible with our limited facilities to mail this letter to the hundreds of people who might be interested. With so many details to follow through on in planning a large meeting, it is entirely possible that we neglected to mail this letter to some who would not want to miss the annual meeting with a fine program in the making.

To anyone overlooked it should only be necessary to point out that the business of the chamber of commerce is the public's business, and that the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce is open to the public. There are no closed doors or locked files in the chamber of commerce. Everyone is invited, and we are planning for a record attendance. The letter follows:

"WILL IT PAY US TO SELL PLYMOUTH TO THE PERE MARQUETTE?"

The mere fact that you received this letter is evidence that in our opinion you are vitally interested in the future of Plymouth. Many influences could help Plymouth, some could hurt it, but none could have a more pronounced and beneficial effect upon our community than the railroad, now part of a great system, whose two divisions cross in our midst.

The Pere Marquette is now under new management. Negotiations and acquaintanceship with the old management, improvements promised and left undone, what they said or failed to say, are now without significance. It is now up to as many of us as possible to become acquainted with the new management, part of a group of railroad executives whose record is one of uniform success in railroad management. We cannot go into detail in a letter. You will find a more complete story in The Plymouth Mail, Friday, January 17th.

"L. C. Probert, vice-president and one of the leaders of the Pere Marquette will speak at our annual dinner meeting the evening of February 12th. I do not know what he will tell you, but I know that it will be interesting and instructive. He may tell you something about the great system they have built up. He may tell you about the industrial survey being made under his direction by the Industrial Development Department. With a network of rails spread over much of the eastern part of the U. S., with agents and connections all over the country, they are constantly receiving industrial "tips." When they learn of an industry seeking a location in southeastern Michigan, we hope to make them want to sell Pere Marquette service and a location in or near Plymouth at the same time.

"How can we sell Plymouth to the Pere Marquette? By selling Mr. Probert the evening he is here. If he returns to Detroit favorably impressed, his impressions will spread to his associates. How can we sell Mr. Probert? By a large enthusiastic turnout at the evening of our annual meeting, by making him realize that we have a strong, well organized chamber of commerce in the making which will be able to put things over, by convincing him that we are sold on our community and alive to our possibilities.

"It will pay Plymouth to sell itself the new management of the Pere Marquette. Every man and woman present that evening will add to the sales argument. Plan now to attend.

Sincerely yours,
Secretary.

"D. S.—No nominations for the 1930 Board of Directors will be received from the floor the evening of the meeting, nor will subscriptions be asked for."

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Next Thursday evening, January 23, occurs another Boy Scout Court of Honor for the award of advancements and merit badges. This one is to be held in the Community church at Rosedale Gardens with the IG-I Troop as hosts.

The Plymouth troops have about eighty merit badges coming, besides several Star and Life ranks. The outstanding feature will be the presentation of two Eagle badges, the highest award in Scouting, one to Frank Allison of P-I and one to Arden Council of P-II. There will be the first Eagles won in Plymouth since "Bob" Teft and "Bill" and "Stew" Rambo got theirs some four years ago. Incidentally this meeting will be the first appearance of Bill as Scoutmaster of P-II. This troop is to be congratulated on its new leader.

It is hoped that a large number of parents and friends will accompany the boys. That "parent pennant" for the largest number of friends and parents present ought to come back to Plymouth this time. The Rosedale troop has won it several times, and now the Plymouth fathers and mothers owe it to their boys to make an effort to win it for one of the Plymouth troops. Let's all go.

Believe it or not, but the Plymouth town who seems a five-ton truck down town isn't much more than a trailer at home.

"Some women marry because they want to travel," says Dad Plymouth "and then do all their traveling back and forth to the kitchen."

They say taxi drivers in cities are getting hard of hearing. We suppose they're at their worst when you tell them you haven't that much money.

Reading that the average man speaks about 12,000 words a day, Dad Plymouth says he knows now why some men speak of their wives as above the average.
