

AMERICAN LEGION POST ORGANIZED

The New Organization Will Be Known As Myron H. Beals Post.

A. J. Richwine Elected Commander; Village Manager A. J. Koenig Made Short Talk.

An American Legion Post was organized at the village hall Tuesday evening with a membership of seven.

Commander—A. J. Richwine First Vice—Com.—Irving Ulrich Second Vice—Com.—C. Donald Ryder

Adjutant—Floyd Eckles Chaplain—John Straub

Sergeant-at-Arms—Harvey Springer Welfare Officer—Dr. F. B. Hoyer

Irving Ulrich was elected as Wayne County delegate.

The new post will be known as the Myron H. Beals Post, honoring the memory of one of Plymouth young men who made the supreme sacrifice in the service of his country during the late war.

A. J. Koenig, village manager, made a short talk to the men present, in which he pledged every possible assistance from the village, including the village hall for their meetings.

The new post starts off most auspiciously and there is every reason to believe that its membership will grow and it will prove a great benefit and pleasure to the ex-service men of this community.

Lloyd K. Green Post No. 147, American Legion of Northville, invites the younger members of the newly organized Myron H. Beals Post of Plymouth, to their Victory Dinner, to be held in the Methodist church house at Northville, at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, January 28th.

Each member of the Plymouth post is asked to bring with him as his guest, one good prospect for membership in their post. Commander Raymond Kelly of the Department of Michigan, Col. Gus Gansser, P. D. C., and Jack R. C. Cann, editor of the Legion News, are expected to be present as speakers.

This dinner is being given for two reasons. First, to introduce the new Plymouth Legionnaires to the members of the Northville Post, that the spirit of comradeship may exist from the start, thus forming a solid foundation upon which we may work and play in the future. And second, to celebrate the successful attempt of the Northville Post to go "over the top" in membership this year.

On December 31, 1929, they had equalled their total paid up members for the previous year and in Legion circles, this is an accomplishment which is recognized by a citation from the national organization.

It is heartily urged by the officers and members of Northville Post, that each charter member of Plymouth accept the invitation and be present at this dinner which promises to be such a delightful affair.

Obituary

Mrs. Ella Delker, daughter of Joseph and Martha Merritt, was born in Salem township, Washtenaw County, November 13th, 1854, and passed away at her home at Northville, Mich., Mrs. Wm. D. McCullough, January 21st, 1930, at the age of seventy-five years.

She was united in marriage to Levi W. Rathbun. To this union were born three children. In 1893, Mr. Rathbun passed away, leaving her with the care and sole support of the three children. This task she faithfully performed. In July, 1922, she was again united in marriage to Peter Delker of Plymouth, Mich., who preceded her in death two years ago.

She was a quiet, home-loving disposition, always giving first thought, and consideration to those she loved. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and also of the M. E. Ladies' Aid Society.

Although she has been a great sufferer for the past four years, and has been unable to walk for the past year and a half, she has borne her suffering patiently, never losing her Christian faith, and was prepared to meet her maker.

She leaves to mourn their loss, three daughters, Mrs. Winnie Herrick of Salem, Mich.; Mrs. Bessie McCullough and Miss Ora Rathbun, both of Plymouth, Mich.; five grandchildren, four sisters and four brothers, several nieces, nephews, cousins and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, January 10th, at 2:00 o'clock, at Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Dr. F. A. Lendrum of the M. E. church, and Rev. J. J. Halliday of the Salem, Mich., Federated church officiating. Interment was in Riverside Mausoleum.

To Hold Nutrition Class Meet In Wayne

Miss Muriel Dundas, Nutrition Specialist from the Michigan State College, will conduct the second Training School in Nutrition to the Wayne County Leaders Wednesday, January 23, 1930 in "The Edison Electric Company's Lecture Room."

The topic for discussion will be "Seeing Ourselves as Others See Us." Each member will receive a general health and nutrition poster.

The training school will begin at 10:00 in the morning and continue until 4:00 in the afternoon.

This work is supervised by Miss Emma Duldorf, County Home Demonstration Agent at Dearborn.

RECORD ACHIEVED BY MICHIGAN GAS COMPANIES

38 BILLION CUBIC FEET OF GAS PRODUCED BY MICHIGAN GAS COMPANIES IN 1929.

Michigan gas companies achieved a record output of approximately 38 billion cubic feet of manufactured gas in 1929, according to records and estimates compiled by the Michigan Public Utility Information Bureau.

This is an increase of more than 3,500,000,000 cubic feet, or close to 11 percent, over 1928 gas sales. It maintained the pace set in 1928 when the gain over the previous year was 11.5 percent.

The greatly enlarged use of gas is ascribed to a combination of causes, each reflecting the economic and social advancement of Michigan.

These causes include: the growing employment of gas in industry; the larger use of gas in the home, particularly for water heating, refrigeration, and incineration; the development of household heating with gas; the extension of high-pressure gas service to outlying towns and communities from central manufacturing plants; and the growth of population.

The number of gas customers in Michigan grew from a total of 687,000 at the beginning of 1929 to around

Aces Take 3 Games

The Plymouth "Aces" playing the Northville Cardinals at the local M. E. church Tuesday, January 21, came out at the final whistle with the score 25-13 in their favor.

The Aces then played another game with the Salem team which ended with a 21-10 score, in favor of the Plymouth boys.

The Plymouth team now has a standing of eight games won and three lost.

Wm. Krumm Succumbs

William Krumm, for many years a resident of this village and community, passed away at Providence hospital, Tuesday morning, where he underwent an operation Tuesday, January 7, Mr. Krumm was 71 years of age. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Ethel Schilling of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Wm. Holmes of Plymouth; and Mrs. Charles Westfall of Detroit; also two brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Thursday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. E. Hoenecke officiating.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Mary Patterson

Mrs. Mary Patterson passed away very suddenly Thursday morning, January 16, at the age of 85 years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. D. Schrader, where she had gone to make a morning call. A heart attack to which Mrs. Patterson was subject, was the cause of death.

For the past thirty years she has resided in Plymouth, Mich., with her son, Dr. A. E. Patterson, Mrs. Patterson was a devout Christian and a member of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Patterson was born in Dunwich, Ontario, Canada. In 1867 she was united in marriage to Donald Patterson, who preceded her in death a number of years ago.

They were born seven children, five girls and two boys, and six of whom are living: the oldest, Mrs. A. J. McArthur of Beausville, Ont.; passed away in November, 1929; Mrs. John Buchanan, Dutton, Ont., Canada; Mrs. Fred D. Schrader, Plymouth, Mich.; Mrs. Bert E. Norton, Rochester, Mich.; Mrs. Claude Henderson, Mt. Vernon, Wash.; Dr. A. E. Patterson, Plymouth, Mich.; and John Patterson, Maricopa, Calif.

Funeral services were held from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home on Sunday, January 19th, at 5:00 o'clock, Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Interment was in Fairview cemetery, in Dutton, Ontario, at 1:00 p. m., Monday, January 20.

Woman's Club Mid-Year Luncheon

The music group of the Woman's Club of Plymouth, with Mrs. Charles O. Ball as chairman, is planning an interesting and enjoyable mid-year luncheon program for Friday, January 24th.

The music group of the Woman's Club of Plymouth, with Mrs. Charles O. Ball as chairman, is planning an interesting and enjoyable mid-year luncheon program for Friday, January 24th.

Through the courtesy of Earl V. Moore, musical director of the University School of Music at Ann Arbor, the committee has secured exceptional talent to assist with the program.

At one o'clock the members of the chapter, with their invited guests and friends, headed by Mrs. D. T. Randall, the regent of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, and Mrs. James H. McDonald of Royal Oak, the vice-regent of the State of Michigan, went to the dining room.

After a very delightful luncheon the meeting was opened by Mrs. Randall. A motion picture was shown with all business until the next meeting.

Arbor Players Present Successful Play

One of the most delightful treats of the season was the play sponsored last week Thursday night by the January Group of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church. The Arbor Players, a group of students from the University of Michigan, played a well-liked comedy entitled "All in the Family."

The play sparkles with brilliant dialogue and has many unusually funny situations. The Arbor Players did credit to themselves in performing it, for they maintained throughout an enthusiasm and technique that was surprising for young actors.

Miss Grace Darling in the role of Stella Johnson, the elder daughter, and the part of Joe Heller, the son, was handled in a splendid manner by the juvenile of the company, J. Richard Purser.

The managing-director of the company, James Dahl, appeared in two minor roles, both of which were interesting bits.

The play was preceded by a curtain-raiser in one act, "The Medicine Show" in which Mr. Purser and Mr. Dahl gave two characterizations of Southern river-folk that were very amusing.

ON DECORATION COMMITTEE

D. C. Carruthers, of Plymouth, has been named on the decorations committee for the M. S. C. Military Ball by the Military Department.

The Military Ball is one of the most brilliant social functions of the winter season and with such dignitaries present this year as Governor Fred W. Green; Colonel Edward Davis, commander of the Michigan State College R. O. T. C. post; Robert E. Shaw, president of the college; members of the state board of agriculture, and others of lesser note, it is anticipated that this year's ball will be no less brilliant than preceding ones.

It is planned to hold the ball in the ballroom of the new Demonstration Hall. Only military students in dress uniform are allowed to attend the party.

CULVER, PROSECUTOR'S CHIEF AID, ADDRESSES KIWANIS CLUB TUESDAY

Under the chairmanship of George W. Sprinker, chief of Plymouth's police and an ardent Kiwanian, Ward H. Culver, chief assistant prosecuting attorney for Wayne county, spoke to the local Kiwanis club at its regular meeting last Tuesday on "Some Problems of Law Enforcement."

The prosecutor stressed the duty of citizens to serve as jurors when called upon, except under unusual circumstances. "The jury is as important a link in the chain of law enforcement," said Mr. Culver, as the court and prosecutor. "Laws cannot be efficiently enforced without an aggressive, intelligent jury in every case," he continued.

Detection of crime is undergoing a constant evolution according to Mr. Culver. Science is adding its contribution to the policeman's work to such an extent that convictions have been obtained by analysis of a human hair in one case and the dust in another.

Mr. Culver was accompanied by Assistant prosecutor Stephen Davidson, who represents his office in the courts outside the City of Detroit.

D. A. R. HELD BIG LUNCHEON PARTY

A LOVELY LUNCHEON MARKS THIRD BIRTHDAY OF SARAH ANN COCHRANE CHAPTER.

On Monday, January 20th, at one o'clock, the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the D. A. R. held a very lovely luncheon celebrating their third birthday. The luncheon was held at the Methodist church, the ladies of the church preparing the banquet which was delicious in every detail.

The tables were beautiful in lavender and green, the centerpiece of each table was a large green glass bowl filled with lavender stock, baby breath and yellow roses.

After a very delightful luncheon the meeting was opened by Mrs. Randall. A motion picture was shown with all business until the next meeting.

The regent of the local chapter then introduced her vice-regent, Mrs. D. N. McKinnon, who is chairman of the program committee, and from then on the meeting was in her charge.

Death of Fred Gentz

Fred Gentz, a resident of Plymouth since 1872, passed away as quietly as he lived, at the home of his son, Ernest, in Detroit, last Tuesday morning at ten-thirty at the ripe old age of seventy-four years and twenty-two days.

Fred Gentz was born in the province of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Germany, on the 31st of December, in the year 1857. At the age of 17 he emigrated to America with his parents, who almost at once settled on a farm near Plymouth.

And here it is that he has lived since that time, these 57 years and more, though not in the focus of public notice on account of his retiring and unassuming nature, yet a man of thoroughly reliable character, diligent and honorable, a good friend and good neighbor.

In the year 1881 he was united in holy wedlock with Miss Margie Born, with whom he spent a remarkably happy and contented life. To increase and bless the happiness of their wedded life, they were given three children, two girls, who during the past years have preceded their father in death, and one son, Ernest, who lives in Detroit.

Fred Gentz was a good provider and contrary to urgent advice and request could not be induced to retire and rest in his old days, preferring rather to die like a man with his boots on. Up to the day when he was finally stricken with a stroke last October, he worked faithfully and cheerfully. We should have liked to have him enjoy a rest in his old days, but it is far better this way, for he would never have been contented to have retired to idleness.

He passes on as a Christian, who hopes alone by the Grace of God in Christ Jesus to enter by death into life. The words of Simeon are uniquely true in his case: "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace according to thy word; for mine eyes have seen thy salvation."

A short funeral service is to be held on Sunday afternoon at two-thirty, at the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Rev. E. Hoenecke officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

The Salvation Army would like donations of furniture and clothing for a family of seven who have just been burned out. Please call 386 and let Captain Wright know.

Local High School Musician Honored

MAYNARD J. LARKINS TO PLAY IN NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

A combination of outstanding musical talent, energy and perseverance has won for Maynard J. Larkins, a student in Plymouth High School of this city an unusual honor. He has been chosen to play in the National High School Orchestra or 300 of the finest high school musicians in America, which will give concerts in New York, Atlantic City, Philadelphia and Washington next February.

The National High School Orchestra will be conducted by Walter Damrosch of radio fame and Prof. Joseph E. Madly of the University of Michigan, organizer of the orchestra and founder of the National High School Orchestra and Band Camp at Interlochen, Michigan, where the orchestra was trained for its eastern concert.

Maynard and his splendid record there won for him the honor of participating in the eastern tour.

The orchestra will meet in Atlantic City, Feb. 23 for several days of rehearsals and performance for the concert of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association being held in that city at that time. The Philadelphia concert, Feb. 27, will be sponsored by the Philadelphia Civic Music League, the New York concert, Feb. 28, by the Juilliard Musical Foundation and the Washington concert, March 1, by Mr. and Mrs. (Senator) A. H. Vandenberg of Michigan. The Washington concert will be an invitation affair at which a large number of government officials will be present.

Arrangements are being made for the members of the orchestra to meet President and Mrs. Hoover while in Washington and to visit an ocean liner while in New York.

Mrs. Leroy Naylor Active In Florida Society Circles

EMPIRE STATE SOCIETY MEETS; COMMITTEE OF TWELVE IS APPOINTED TO CONDUCT MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

We take the following from a St. Petersburg, Fla., paper, which will be of interest to the friends of Mrs. Leroy Naylor of this place, who, with her husband, is spending the winter in St. Petersburg:

"Combining a business session with an entertainment, the New York society had an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the Tourist auditorium, in which a talk by Secretary Muller on his travels in foreign lands was a feature.

"Presided over by the vice-president Chester Platt, in the absence of the president, H. L. Chandler, the meeting was opened with mass singing led by Mrs. E. P. Naylor, with Mrs. Poole at the piano, and was followed by a recitation of an original poem dedicated to the Empire state by Mrs. Naylor.

A committee of 12 was appointed to launch a campaign for new members, and three members were appointed as a welfare committee to collect and forward money to be contributed toward the work of the Welfare League. A substantial sum collected at the meeting was put in charge of the newly appointed committee, which consists of Mr. Gray, Mrs. Naylor and Secretary Muller.

The society will meet in Beverly hall on Jan. 27 for a luncheon to be followed at 1 p. m. by a card party to which all New Yorkers will be made welcome. The society is planning a number of activities for the near future, including a turkey dinner in the Suwannee hotel."

Death of Mrs. Walter Livrance

Many in this community were saddened by the death of Mrs. Walter Livrance on Thursday, January 16, 1930, after an illness of scarcely three weeks.

Mrs. Livrance was born in Noyl on May 11, 1860, and five years later she moved with her parents to Livonia township where she spent the greater part of her life. She was baptised into the Lutheran faith during her infancy, and in 1914 was confirmed at the Lutheran church in Livonia, where she remained a faithful member until her death.

On August 28, 1919, she was united in marriage with Walter Livrance. This union was blessed with one son, Allan Duane. Two years ago she, together with her family, came to make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucht, Jr., on West Ann street, where she lived the remainder of her life.

She leaves to mourn their loss her husband, her little son, her parents and her aged grandparents, besides a large number of other relatives. Though her life here was but a brief thirty years, she had endeavored herself to a large circle of friends by her cheerful and friendly disposition, who will also mourn her untimely death.

Funeral services were held from the St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Livonia Center, Sunday afternoon, Rev. O. J. Peters officiating. She was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

TOASTMASTER ANNOUNCED FOR ANNUAL C. OF C. MEET

A Serious Accident on Penniman Ave.

A serious automobile accident occurred at the corner of Penniman avenue and Moreland road last Monday evening about 5:30 o'clock, when a car driven by Donald King, who resides west of Plymouth, and one driven by Miss Genevieve Bartlett, of Detroit, collided.

The impact of the collision threw Miss Bartlett's car about twenty feet to the side of the road. Miss Bartlett sustained a broken limb and an arm, while Miss Shepler suffered three broken ribs. Both were given first aid by local physicians and later taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. King escaped without injury. Both cars were badly damaged.

The Misses Bartlett and Shepler are employed at the Wayne County Training School, and were returning to their homes in Ann Arbor, when the accident occurred.

PLYMOUTH PUCK-CHASERS WIN ONE, LOSE ONE

DETROIT CREAMERY LOSES TO PLYMOUTH, 2-1; PARK-DAVIS WINS, 3-2.

The local hockey team played the Detroit Creamery last Friday night, winning by one goal, the score being 2-1. The playing conditions weren't at all favorable, the snow was falling so fast that the players had considerable difficulty in keeping track of the puck. The ice was cleaned following each period, but about half way in each period the snow would pile so thick that combination playing was out of the question. It was as fair for one team as the other, and the local boys had the edge on the Detroit team.

The Creamery team started the scoring when they chucked up one in the first period. In the second, "Chuck" Garrett evened the score when he rifled one past the Detroit goalie. A few minutes later, Anderson chalked up one in the same period. The third stanza went scoreless, and the game ended, 2-1 for Plymouth.

On Tuesday the home team tasted defeat for the first time this season, when the Park-Davis Co. squad won by a 3-2 score. The Park-Davis boys secured the first goal midway in the first period. In the second, Anderson tied the score early in the period. The visitors again took the lead by securing their second counter after considerable see-sawing from one end of the ice to the other.

The Park-Davis right wing man and Butcherford were chased to the bench for five minutes to cool off after mixing it with hockey sticks, fists, etc.

Block evened the score before the second period ended, and with only four minutes to go in the last frame, Page shot the winning tally through.

It was a good game, good ice and good weather. Those not attending the games are missing some real sport. Games will be played next Tuesday and Thursday with Detroit teams.

Nominees For 1930 Board of Directors

Following are the names of the nominees for the 1930 board of directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. These men have been approached by the nominating committee and have given their consent to have their names placed in nomination.

Ballots will be mailed out next night of the annual meeting with instructions to vote for any nine. This will speed up the meeting, and will do away with the practice of having nominations made from the floor without the nominees' previous knowledge or consent.

J. B. Hubert, Herald Hamilton, Paul Hayward, Roy Crowe, Arthur Blunk, Harry Wrentham, Dr. J. B. Brisshel, Glenn Jewell, E. J. Alliston, Floyd Eckles, Russell Roe, Stewart Dodge, John Bickenstaff, Walter Smith, Earl Mastick, John Henderson, Roy Fisher, Robert Willoughby.

Rotarians Visit Fordson Club

Twenty-two members of the Plymouth Rotary Club attended an intercity meeting with the Fordson Club at Fordson, last Monday. The Plymouth club furnished the program. Robert Champe sang several numbers, accompanied by his mother at the piano. Robert's song numbers were greatly appreciated and elicited much applause. George A. Smith and Carl Shear each gave a talk on interesting topics that were well received.

The members of the local Rotary Club will entertain the ladies at a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Hotel Mayflower, this Friday, evening. The Rotary Annals will furnish the program.

Paul W. Voorhies Will Pre-side At Meeting.

E. C. Honch, acting as a committee of one for the Chamber of Commerce, secured the services of Mr. Voorhies to act as toastmaster of the evening of February 12th, for the annual dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Voorhies is well known by the citizens of Plymouth.

Born and raised in Plymouth, Mr. Voorhies made steady progress in his chosen profession, and is well remembered for his efficient service as prosecuting attorney for Wayne County. At the present time, Mr. Voorhies is a director of the Plymouth United Savings Bank and is greatly interested in the future of Plymouth. The Chamber of Commerce officials are very happy indeed to learn that he has consented to preside at this meeting.

ROTARIANS CHALLENGE KIWANIANS TO PLAY BROOM-BALL GAME

Considerable interest and rivalry has been stirred up in connection with the broom-ball game to be played between the local Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, Monday night, at the Plymouth Hooker and Skating Rink on Farmer street.

The Rotary Club last Tuesday, challenged the Kiwanis Club to a broom-ball game, which is played similar to hockey except a broom and soccer ball are used instead of hockey stick and puck. The challenge was quickly accepted, and Monday night at 8:00 p. m. the battle will be on. This promises to be a real interesting and exciting contest, judging from the list of players who have signed up.

Some of the Rotarians who will be in the game are as follows: Dr. Champe, Merle Bennett, Paul Hayward, Carl Shear, Glenn Jewell, Bill Wood, Lion Sutherland, George A. Smith and Harry Lusk.

The Kiwanians will bank on the following to bring home the bacon: Dr. Thoms, Roy Fisher, Jack Eimes, A. J. Richwine, Bill Sturgis, Harold Joffe, Irwin Pierce, Perry Richwine, "Chuck" Garrett, R. J. Joffe and Steve Wahl.

The game will probably be played on skates, however, some are of the opinion that a real interesting and exciting contest, judging from the list of players who have signed up.

Come well bundled up and enjoy the game. Bring your skates, also, as there will be skating until 10:30. The admission charge will be 15c and 25c.

Maccabees Installed Officers Wednesday

Wednesday evening, January 15th, a gathering of about one hundred fifty members of the local Maccabee Hive and friends witnessed the installation of the officers of Plymouth, No. 150, for the ensuing year. The installation ceremony was exemplified by Supreme Lecturer Emma E. Bower, who so kindly performed the services in the place of Assistant Supreme Com. Frances E. Burrus who is seriously ill and in the hospital. She was assisted in her work by Lady Grace Martin of Plymouth Hive, acting as Supreme Mistress of Arms, and Lady Dora Wood as Supreme Chaplain; also two little flower girls, Arlene Roth and Annette Brown, the little Misses deserving much praise as their work was perfect.

The following officers and been chosen for the coming year, and were duly installed by Lady Bower: P. M.—Ethel Micol Com. —Roscoe Sallow Lt. Com.—Alida Estep R. K.—Mayme Roth M. of Arms—Esther Minihorn Sergeant—Virginia Archer Chaplain—Jessie Terry Sentinel—Ledia Heller Dictator—Styvia Ellis Dolorah—Mabel Dieks B. B. No. 1—Margaret Daly B. B. No. 2—Marry Sackett B. B. No. 3—Emma Bolton First L. of G.—Mary Rengert Second L. of G.—Josephine Rorabacher

After the services were completed a rolid piece was presented to Lady Bower in appreciation of the splendid manner in which these officers were installed, and a potterd plant was given to Lady Sallow who is beginning her second year as Commander.

A fine program under the leadership of Lady Edith Honey assisted by Lady Carrie Hillmer was very much enjoyed by all present, each member of the cast meriting much commendation. The part of the program featuring three of our pioneer members, Ladies Alma Pinkney, Hattie Holloway and Flora Cline, portraying a scene from the Frances E. Burns Memorial Home at Alma, was worthy of special mention, and makes us thankful that our order has such a beautiful home for its aged members. If they care to take advantage of it, The Minstral Troop with its jokes, songs and specialties was thoroughly enjoyable, causing much laughter and praise. The serving of ice cream and waters completed a very pleasant evening.

"ARM OF HONOR" FRATERNITY ELECT OFFICERS.

The Arm of Honor Fraternity of the Michigan State Normal College has elected the following officers for the winter term: Walter Dierkes, Detroit, commander; Spence Edwards, Hecklinger, N. Y., vice-commander; Charles Grosvenor, Ann Arbor, secretary; Edward Gabel, Fremont, Ohio, treasurer; Marvin Simms, Mt. Clemens, chaplain; Kenneth Hawk, Freeport, Ohio, commandant at arms; Joe Bradley, Detroit, pledge-master; James Hickey, Plymouth has been appointed the new Lord High to replace Edgar Kallman who failed to return to school this year.

Auto Struck By Train

An Overland coupe driven by Lloyd Mason, who resides on North Mill street, was struck by the 2:20 west-bound Pass Marquette passenger train at the Mill street crossing Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Mason sustained two broken ribs and had one of his legs injured. The car was badly smashed up. The injured man was taken to his home, where he is getting along nicely.

ADS IN MAIL BOXES

Distributors of advertising do not want to be prosecuted under a City ordinance or be called on the "carpet" before Postoffice officials for violating Postoffice regulations when they place advertising matter in private mail boxes, they should desist in this practice. Postmaster E. E. Giles warns complainants of congestion of private mail boxes of residences and apartment houses by the placing in same advertising matter. Advertisers are advised that the Postoffice is committed to place mail in these advertisement stuffed boxes.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL MEETING

An event of more than ordinary importance is the coming annual meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. It is an event that should claim the attention and interest of every citizen who is interested in the future growth and prosperity of Plymouth.

A chamber of commerce is a most important factor in the welfare and life of any community. In fact a town without a Chamber of Commerce is like a circus without a band. What a Chamber of Commerce can accomplish depends wholly upon what the citizens of a community put into it and no more.

The annual meeting should be largely attended, and thus show the officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce that their efforts to carry on the work of such an organization are appreciated. Make plans now to attend the annual meeting at the Hotel Mayflower, February 12th.

ROADS THEN AND NOW

So rapid has been the improvement of rural highways in 10 years, yet almost without our realizing it, that the entire diet of the American people has been changed in that brief period of time. Not only that, but the paving of roads has caused a revolution in agricultural methods as well. For every mile of improved highway laid down some farmer has added something to his production of green vegetables marketed in the big centers of population.

In North Carolina, for instance, farms where nothing but tobacco was grown for years and years are now grown with truck crops of all kinds. Dairying, too, has sprung into prominence in many states where it would have been impossible to get the milk to a city 10 years ago. Farmers who once depended almost entirely on one staple crop—corn, cotton, tobacco, wheat—are now going in widely for vegetables and fruits which would have been too perishable to have been grown profitably under old transportation conditions.

You can note a big change of this kind right around Plymouth if you want to study the subject a little. Our people are now able to grow many things they didn't grow 10 years ago because good roads and the auto have made it possible for them to get such products to market. We're in better position to fight for our share of prosperity than we ever were before. We have found out that paved highways are essential to farm success. And since success in practically every field depends on success on the farm, it looks as though there is no longer any place in the United States for the man who fights a good roads movement of any kind.

WATCHING THE GROUNDHOG.

Old Father Time has a way of moving down weeks and months in a hurry, and here we are back to the time when the men who make our weather forecasts take a back seat while the groundhog makes his.

Customs change, but not this one. There will be just as many people around Plymouth wondering this time “if the groundhog saw his shadow” as there was before on February 2. And this community is not an exception to the rule—the groundhog's movements will be watched and inquired about in every state in the union. Older citizens accept it as gospel that if he sees his shadow we are due for six weeks more of winter weather. And even though the younger generation of weather sharks wink an eye when discussing the subject they, too, always manage to cock the other eye skyward on February 2 to see if the sun is going to shine.

There may or may not be anything to the belief that the little animal can forecast for a period of six weeks ahead; we don't know and we don't want to get into an argument by venturing an opinion, since sentiment is pretty well divided. But this we do know, that if the groundhog can offer as many alibis for missing it as are offered by some of our local forecasters then he is entitled to qualify for the Ananias Club.

THE CLOSED GARAGE

There is hardly a newspaper that does not at least once a year publish a warning about those death-dealing fumes emitted by running auto engines in closed garages. Yet in spite of this people are still careless and insist on warming up the old bus behind closed doors. The result is a large number of deaths each winter. We are not yet over the dangerous period. That is why we want to sound once more warning to Plymouth auto owners. Exhaust from auto motors contains from five to 13 per cent carbon monoxide, a colorless, tasteless, odorless gas that is capable of producing death in two minutes. In warm weather it evaporates before it can reach the lungs. In cold or chilly weather, however, it does not pass so easily. Enough will come from the exhaust pipe of an ordinary car, running in a closed garage to kill a dozen people. Don't be thoughtless; don't take chances. Open the garage doors—and leave them open before you start the car.

WHY NOT TRY IT?

Edward Hurley, one of President Wilson's assistants during the war, says the industrial leaders of the world can forever abolish war by a mere gentlemen's agreement. In a letter to the president of the International Chamber of Commerce, Hurley urges industrial chiefs to control the world's supply of iron ore, coal, rubber, manganese, nickel, aluminum, petroleum, mercury and other things in such a manner that these materials will not be available in sufficient quantities to enable any nation to wage war effectively. This is a big program, but comparatively simple. Financial leaders of America alone could prevent war by a gentlemen's agreement. There is not a nation in Europe that could finance a war for two months—probably for two weeks—without calling on Uncle Sam for the money. That being true, we are wondering why our big business men do not set about a gentlemen's agreement at once. Anything that promises to end war is certainly worthy of a trial.

CLEANING OF HEATING PLANTS IS ESSENTIAL

Thousands of dollars are lost each year by home owners who fail to have their heating plants cleaned. Cleaning the furnace is just as essential as changing oil in an automobile.

“Things have come to such a pass in this country,” asserts Dad Plymouth “that some few fellows will actually buy bread when they haven't got a drop of gasoline in the tank.”

SALEM

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Taylor entertained a company of friends Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Clifford Cruckett and little daughter spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whittaker.

Mrs. Jennie Smith spent Sunday with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Gale.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Burnham were in Detroit on business, Monday.

Mrs. R. Kehrl and daughter, Irma, and Mrs. G. C. Foreman were Ann Arbor shoppers Friday.

Emerson Kerr, principal of Salem school, and Miss Frances Anderson, primary teacher, attended the mid-year conference, which was held in Ypsilanti, Friday and Saturday.

Harold and William Benjamin of Detroit, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Benjamin.

Mrs. James Dickie of South Lyon, was a Tuesday dinner guest of her parents.

We are glad to report that nearly all of the pupils who have had whooping cough, have returned to school, again.

Mrs. R. Kehrl, daughter, Irma, and Mrs. G. C. Foreman were South Lyon visitors Thursday.

Mrs. Emerson Kerr, who has been very ill with quinsy, is much improved, and able to be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Stanbro, Lewis Haab, Mrs. Jennie Smith and Mrs. G. C. Foreman attended Church Night Friday evening, at the Methodist church at Walled Lake.

The Misses Ruth and Dorothy Foreman and friends of Detroit, were Sunday visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Foreman.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Waller of Flint, were Monday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whittaker.

Stark School Items

Parents! Please do not forget the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday, January 23rd. Refreshments served after the business meeting.

The following were visitors at our school during the past week: Fred C. Fisher, Deputy Commissioner of Schools; Miss Jameson, Helping Teacher, and Miss Boyd, School Nurse.

Miss Reid found that most of the children were up to weight. There were seventeen children in the school receiving a rating of A in posture.

The Zone work for this month is the study of appreciation in Poetry, Art, Music and Story Telling.

New decorations have been put up for this month.

The primary pupils are studying the life of the Eskimos.

The girls in the third year sewing are beginning to make their wool dresses. The first year girls are beginning their second article.

FARMINGTON TRIMS ROCKS 22 TO 16

The Farmington basketball artists defeated the Blue and White quintet last Friday at Farmington, by a 22-16 score. The loss of this game gives Plymouth a 250 standing in the league.

At various times the fans voiced their disapproval of the referee's decisions, and when two men, DePorter and McCulley respectively from Plymouth and Farmington, were expelled for four personal fouls, they fairly roared.

Cox, the home team right forward, carried off the high scoring banner with five field goals and a free toss to his credit. Gust took the Plymouth banner with three field goals.

The initial period witnessed heavy scoring on the part of Farmington. The score at the end of this time was 13-6. The Rocks put on a sport to the score in the second stanza.

However, they were unable to contain the offense of the Farmington forwards. The final score was 22-16 in favor of the home aggregation.

Free Goals—Randall 2, Ferguson 1, Ball 1, Cox 1, Maas 1, McCulley 1, Drake 1.

Substitutions—Plymouth: DePorter; Farmington: Fendt and Turner.

FARMINGTON'S ALSO WIN

Helped by wave after wave of fresh substitutes, the second team of the victors took a hard game from the Rock boys. In this game also two men were expelled, this time both from Plymouth. Bronson and K. Gates broke the rules four times and were taken from the game.

Starting the game with a hurricane of shots, the home goal was in danger throughout the game. The contest ended in the following fashion, 10 to 7.

The opening line-up was as follows: Plymouth: Blunk, Rodman, Bronson, K. Gates, Materis. Farmington: Brooks, Kerr, Nicholson, Ross, Marsh.

Campfire Notes

A group discussion called College Entrance Requirements, was led by Jean Strong in the Campfire Club January 10. In this she told what marks are necessary to enter college and the University. To enter college one must have an average of C plus, and to enter the University, an average of B.

Each girl was given a health and thrift chart which she is to keep for one month. On this she is to keep track of her health and of the money she spends during this time.

Margaret Haskell, who is working for her torch better ring, has organized a group of Junior Campfire girls called "Bluebirds." This club exists because of the constant demands of mothers for a program for children too young to be Campfire girls.

Following The Trail of Greek Myths

At first it was necessary to gain a clear idea of the topography of Greece in order to have a clear understanding of Greek religious practices and beliefs. Gaining this knowledge was the first step of the Mythology Club.

It was discovered that the isolated groups solved their own economic problems in different ways. Having together a common basis of thought not means and incentives to constant communication, they could not help developing different ideas of a higher power that would aid them in their several needs.

Next, the club studied the beginning of all things. The Greeks taught that in the beginning was Chaos, a vast formless void, and after countless ages it resolved into two great beings, Gaia, earth, and Uranus, heaven; from Chaos also sprang Eros, love, the most beautiful of the immortals.

Zeus, who in turn was conquered by his son, Zeus. The kingdom was divided; Zeus became overlord of the gods and men and ruled as king on Mt. Olympus, Poseidon, brother of Zeus, was assigned the government of the ocean, and Hades, the sway of the underworld. Bounded up with this story is that of the birth of man, his downfall and the deluge.

The home of the gods, their appearance, manner of living, social organizations, their very human qualities, and the extent of their powers have all been considered in the order of their importance; and also what the gods expected from men, and men from the gods. The legends concerning them have not been neglected.

Never will be forgotten Prometheus' great gift to man; how Democallion and Pyrrha veiled their heads and threw bones of their great mother behind them; how Athena sprang forth from her father, Zeus', head radiant in beauty and wearing full armor; the story of Cupid and Psyche, of Echo and Narcissus, and many more.

Neither shall be forgotten the stories of the great heroes, Perseus, Bellerophon, Theseus and Hercules.

Next semester the club will begin the history of the Trojan War, which has been the subject of a great cycle of legends, and the deeds of whose heroes have inspired the imaginations of the Grecian poets, and of those of other lands through the ages since then.

Nature Study Club

Our bird list for 1930 is steadily growing. Since January first the following birds have been reported in Plymouth and vicinity: Crows, screech owls, quail, pheasants, snow birds, robins, bluejays, cardinals, titmice, starlings, chickadees, song sparrows, white-breasted nuthatch, downy woodpecker and the hairy woodpecker.

The snow birds, or snow buntings, have been seen in greater numbers this winter, than formerly. They are pretty little birds, mainly white below with black and chestnut above. They are well known visitors in all parts of the state, more numerous in some years than in others.

They delight in flying about in flocks in the stormiest weather. Its appearance in numbers is considered a harbinger of snow, and during heavy snow storms they are most active and restless.

It is quite evident from the testimony of the English 12 class that superstitions are not dead. One week the class has discussions from material in their weekly paper, Current Literature, and this week's topic was "Try the Spirits," an article by Mrs. Norman, which dealt with people's most common superstitions.

For instance many hotels omit the number thirteen in their rooms. The Fisher building has also ignored it. In the elevator one finds himself going from the twelfth floor to the fourteenth.

The old wedding-dress rhyme that the bride should wear "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue" is not altogether a superstition, but was probably observed at one time and was true. This is called a soothsaying. The bride is happy if she doesn't lose touch with the past by bringing "something old," who has the confidence of her friends for "something borrowed," and who may wear "something blue" because it is the color of the Virgin Mary.

"If thirteen sit down at the table, one of them will die within the year." This is undoubtedly derived from The Last Supper inasmuch as this saying has come down through the ages for 1900 years.

"See a pin and pick it up, all the day you'll have good luck." The day will be happy because the eyes are clear and the alert and energetic and to grasp for such trifles.

Student Council

Many people wonder for what the student council spends money. Within the last week bills totaling well over $200 have been received. The school's new basketball suits cost $176.30. These are practically a necessity inasmuch as the old suits had numerous holes in them and the second team had none at all.

The student council takes care of all home games in all sports. They pay the officials, get and sell the tickets, sponsor stunt night, give the honor banquet, give phys. sponsor assembly programs, pay for group pictures in the gymnasium, and sponsor the student association tickets.

Manual Training Department

The manual training department is doing much more this year than last. The 7-A and 7-B classes have been making various useful things such as magazine racks, book shelves, end tables, book ends and flower boxes.

The advanced manual training class consists of twenty boys from the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades. A few of the pieces that have been made are end tables, piano benches, foot stools, library tables, book shelves and racks, smoking stands and sewing cabinets.

The manual training classes made 150 toys which they sent to the Maybury sanitarium at Northville, as Christmas gifts for the children there.

National League of Nations Contest

This is announcing the National League of Nations contest to be held March 14 in Plymouth High School. Twelve have entered so far and little booklets have been sent for which cost fifteen cents each.

The Plymouth debate team is going to Howell this afternoon, to meet the Howell debate team at three o'clock. This is the last debate in the preliminary series. The Plymouth team will consist of either Ruth Hetsler or Harold Stevens as first speaker, Marion Gust, second, and Lester Daly, third speaker.

Plymouth Debates Howell Next

Plymouth must win the debate by a unanimous verdict in order to reach the elimination series, but if a unanimous verdict is won, it still will be a matter of chance whether we reach the eliminations. At the present time Plymouth has a total of eight points. A unanimous verdict will total twelve points. This year it is quite uncertain whether or not twelve will absolutely get a school in, but it is probable that the schools with twelve points will have to draw for entrance.

Plymouth High Annual 4-C's Campaign

Gale Kenyon, chairman of the 4-C's campaign this year, acted as a radio announcer. The stage was arranged with radio in view so that the scene looked like a regular tuning in on a station. Voices back of the stage were "broadcast" over the radio.

1. Girls' Double Quartet. 2. "Clean Scholarship"—Richard Smith. 3. "Four Cs Will Shine"—Miss Schrader and audience. 4. Announcements—Mr. Emmons. 5. "Fight Song"—Miss Schrader and radio audience. 6. "Clean Speech". 7. Robert Champe. 8. "Clean Athletics"—Ed DePorter. 9. "Four Cs"—(Jingle Bells). 10. Yells—Cheer Leaders. 11. Violin Solo—Milton Moe. 12. "Clean Living"—Charles Ball. 13. Girls' Double Quartet. 14. "Follow the Gleam"—Miss Schrader and audience.

Freshmen Defeat Sophomores

In the semi-final inter-class debate the freshmen won a very close 2-1 decision. This was the closest debate that has taken place so far in the series. This is the second time the freshmen have defeated the sophomores.

The freshmen were rather ragged, but this last was very close and hard fought all the way. The freshmen team consisted of Ernest Archer, Odene Hitt and David Daly. The sophomores who participated were Alice Chambers, Zerepha Blunk and Billy Kirkpatrick.

The freshmen are now ready to meet the seniors for the high school championship. This debate will take place Friday, January 31, at 12:00 o'clock noon, in Mr. Winkelman's room.

Girl Reserves Devotional Meeting

The first devotional meeting of the Girl Reserves was held Tuesday morning, January 21, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Methodist church. The Campfire girls were invited and each girl was permitted to bring a friend.

Ninety-five girls joined in worship under the leadership of Dr. Londrum. The service opened with the singing of "Sunlight is Gleaming" followed by responsive reading and prayer. After the hymn "Holy, Holy, Holy," Dr. Londrum gave a most inspirational talk on what things a girl should do to make her life worth while.

Vocational Club

Perhaps there are some students who are undecided as to a definite occupation they wish to take up in planning their life career, or maybe they have some questions in their minds concerning the vocation they have chosen.

Different types of problems are always arising, and it is no easy task for the student to master them alone. This is the purpose of the Vocational Club which meets on Thursday fifth hour in Room 27.

Their program last semester was very interesting, and this semester their aim is to make it even more so.

Last semester questionnaires were sent to the graduates of Plymouth High School of the past five years. In their replies we have obtained information concerning their present day problems, their choice of occupation when in high school, how much further information they obtained, their present occupation and salary, how they obtained their positions, and whether or not they are satisfied with their career.

Four large charts, which we used quite extensively last semester, proved very useful. The types of occupations are listed under nine classifications. Regarding each occupation are several headings, such as personal qualifications, average salary, special requirements, outstanding features, and men, women and children employed.

Central School News

Jack Talbot has had a gold star placed in his name on the teeth chart, making a total of thirteen boys and girls with perfect teeth in Mrs. Root's room.

In oral reading, Group One is reading the book "Johnny Rabbit and Jenny Rabbit." Group Two, in silent reading is trying to finish the seatwork pads by the time of promotion.

In language everyone is memorizing a poem, "On Mother," and they are hearing stories from a book called "Better Living for Little Americans," which teach them kindness, unselfishness, courtesy and good manners.

Agnes Shromberger, Jack Butz, and Clarence Hesse have entered Miss Richard's room since Christmas. Each one is making a poster of the Three Bears, the best ones are to be put on the bulletin board.

The first of last week they made posters of Jack and Jill. Mrs. Michaels visited Miss Weinman's room last week. Ruth Kirkpatrick and Lynton Ball are still absent. Over half of the boys and girls get a very day in spelling review.

The man who always kicks at the market when he buys, Will want the biggest price; And sell the smallest size; He'll never fall to grumble Because the market fell; He kicks because they waited Until he had to sell. He will grumble at his wife Because she is so slow; He'll fuss about the biscuit And swear it's only dough. He will grumble at the gravy Because it is so thick. For he is never satisfied, He's only fit to kick. When he reaches Heaven's gate He's pretty sure to find, That no one ever enters there Who is the kicking kind. If he kicks about the weather, And kicks when he is fed; He'll be so used to kicking, That he'll kick when he is dead. —G. B. D.
A new lodge was instituted in Detroit on Saturday, January 18th, to be known as Wayne County Lodge No. 507, meeting every Monday evening at Brotherhood Temple, 1551 Hart avenue.
Brother Niles Helm is reported not so well as of late.
Brother Wm. Vedder has been moved from Maybury Sanitarium, Northville, to the Herman Kelfer hospital, Detroit. Bovee and Smith are reported improved.
Rebekah meeting tonight, and the committee in charge of the entertainment has a surprise for you. Let's be there and see what that surprise is.
The noble grand just told me that he had a surprise to spring on the brothers next meeting. Are you going to be present and enjoy that surprise?
Fifteen officers were present last meeting. Why not the other two?
The anchor parties with the K. of P.s have been postponed to a later date which will be given next week.

Record Achieved By Michigan Gas Companies

725,000 at the end of the year. Homes continue as the best customers of the gas companies. According to an analysis by the statistical department of the American Gas association of data reported by four companies whose sales constitute 91 percent of the total sales of gas in Michigan, domestic sales comprised 70 percent of the total sales of these companies in the first eleven months of 1929; industrial, commercial, and miscellaneous sales comprised 28 percent; and house-heating sales comprised 2 percent.

In this period, domestic sales grew 8.4 percent over the corresponding period in 1928, house-heating sales grew 58.4 percent, and industrial and commercial sales grew 16 percent.

House-heating is just beginning to figure appreciably in the sales of Michigan gas companies. Three years ago the idea of heating a home automatically with gas seemed rather much of a dream so far as Michigan was concerned. The cold winter climate made it appear a cost-prohibitive luxury. Now improvements in piping apparatus and in house insulation together with the approval of special gas heating rates by the state utilities commission are making the dream come true. This is shown by the fact that gas for house-heating now represents 2 percent of all sales.

Industrial use of gas has grown rapidly in Michigan, the increase for the year being around 15 percent. Gas is used extensively in heat treating, in baking enamels and finishes, in japanning, in forging, in motor testing, in baking foundry cores, in melting metal, in heating solutions, in baking bread, in making food products, and the like.

The expansion of community gas plants into systems through the extension of high-pressure mains into surrounding territory—another new development in Michigan during the past several years—continued as an outstanding feature of 1929 as it was of 1928. Plans for the new year call for still further extensions in 1930.

Revenues of the Michigan gas companies aggregated around $34,750,000 for the year, a gain of approximately 10 percent.

Natural gas appears noticeably in the reports of the Michigan gas industry for the first time in 1929. The past year witnessed the rise of natural gas utilization at Muskegon and also the beginning of the decline. The Muskegon Traction and Lighting company delivered 300,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas to its customers during the year. It is continuing to deliver natural gas from the local gas and oil field, but the supply is so near exhaustion that arrangements have been made to return to manufactured gas on short notice.

Discussion On Child Training

Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde returns to Plymouth for the second discussion in child care and training, a course in child psychology extended by Michigan State College.

The meeting was opened with a short business meeting for the purpose of reading minutes, report of librarians, changing time to Wednesday, February 19, and Wednesday, March 19, for the next two meetings in order to accommodate the Cherry Hill group, and announcements by Miss Emma DuBord. Mr. Adler, a psychologist of reputation, will give a free and public lecture in Hudson's auditorium on Friday, January 24, at 1:30. His private appointments cost $1.25. It will be well worth anyone's time to hear him on Friday.

To begin the class work this time, Mrs. Lynde reviewed and recalled some of the work of last time. Then the discussion on "Your Child's Emotions and His Behavior" was begun with topics handed out from last time.

A. How do you feel when your child responds to a request with "I won't"? Angry?

B. What effect do long, fast automobile rides have upon your child? Nervous? Exhausted?

C. What effect does your emotional condition have upon your child? Is his behavior a result of your pent-up feeling?

Concerning automobile rides, Mrs. Lynde said that it used to be her boast that she could ride anywhere with anyone for twelve hours, then dance the remaining twelve hours without feeling exhausted. But, she adds, that was before we had so much speed.

We received a new vocabulary. Is it new to you too?

Adrenal gland
Adrenalin
Glycogen
Visceral system
Skeletal muscles
Conditioning

The biological purposes of emotion are: (1) Anger outwits a temporary increase in physical strength and endurance which helps in overcoming difficulties. (2) Fear causes flight or withdrawal from danger. (3) Love causes approach to the loved one and leads to mating and reproduction.

We received charts for charting our children in emotional response and emotional stability. If we know our child's type and stability, we can plan his development and adjust his environment to meet his needs.

Do you know what happens in the body at the time of an emotional outburst? The senses plus the nervous system plus the adrenal gland cause a very decided change in our physical condition at the time of an emotional outburst.

The last part of the lecture was on anger; its cause, conditioning, temper, tantrums and methods of handling.

The topics for discussion for next time deal with fear and love.

These meetings are open to anyone who cares to attend beginning at 8:00 and lasting until 9:00 with a pot-luck supper for both parents at 7:00 to 8:00 on Wednesday, February 19 and March 19.

Fair To Be Held Third Week In Aug.

and treasurer showed that the fair association had had a successful year, there being a balance in the treasury.

Following the stockholders meeting upon the suggestion of Elmer Smith, William H. Maybury and Phil Grennan were made honorary members of the board of directors during their lifetime. Courtesies of the fair were also voted to Mr. Grennan, Mr. Maybury, Dr. Robert Haskell, Capt. Dennislon and Harry Robinson.

Another pleasing feature of the annual meeting Tuesday night was the fact that Fred Schrader of Plymouth appeared before the association and said he had been sent to attend the meeting by Plymouth business men, who wish to assure the association that the neighboring community was back of the fair 100 per cent, and that Northville could count on Plymouth's fullest cooperation.

Upon the recommendation of Marvin Sloan, the date of the fair was fixed for the third week in August. This will follow the Milford fair and precede the Ann Arbor fair, giving Northville an excellent time of the year in which to hold the fair without conflicting with any other similar event.

The old Northville Driving club formally passed out of existence at this meeting. Under the laws of the state, the state and county could appropriate no monies to this association for fair purposes and the fair has been conducted under the name of the Northville Wayne County Fair association. By a vote of the stockholders all of the stock will be recalled in a resolution under the name of the Northville Wayne County Fair Association, the name under which the organization has been incorporated at Lansing.

The following were appointed members of a committee to attend the annual meeting of the fair associations to be held in Detroit soon: Nelson C. Schrader, Floyd Northrop, Fred Lyke, and Elmer Smith.—Northville Record.

NEWBURG

Rev. Purdy took for his subject Sunday, "The Prodigal Son." The extreme cold kept a good many away who otherwise would have been there. The young people still continue 7:30 Sunday evening. Everybody welcome.

Gerald Newman of High River, Alberta, Canada, spent last week at the home of his uncle, Levi Clemens.

Mrs. C. E. Ryder entertained for dinner last week Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryder and son, Bert of Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Ryder and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farley of Plymouth.

Miss Anna Youngs gave an interesting talk on music last week Wednesday evening, at the Hanford school. Miss Youngs is out in the interest of the county to get teachers of music in the rural schools.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Horton, who are spending the winter at Van Nuys, California, reporting that they are having a fine time, only the nights are cold. They are smudging the orange groves on account of frosts.

Miss Vera Fitzpatrick who is staying with her sister, Faith Fitzpatrick, who is in Grace Hospital, Detroit, spent Tuesday night with her cousin, Mrs. Ira Carney. The doctor's say there is no hope for Faith, only to put her in a steel frame.

Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb went to New Hudson, Wednesday, to talk Mrs. James Joy to the University Hospital, Ann Arbor, for treatment.

Don't forget the oyster supper at the schoolhouse this Friday evening, under the auspices of the P. T. A. Supper served at 5:30 until all are served. Tickets 50c and 85c. A barbeque party will be given in the evening.

State Editors Meet In Annual Session

PUBLISHERS OF MICHIGAN WEEKLIES AT M. S. C. FOR FIFTY-NINTH YEARLY CONFERENCE.

Editors and publishers of Michigan's home town newspapers are at Michigan State College this week-end for the fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Michigan Press Association, January 23, 24, and 25.

Every county in the state, from the western end of the Upper Peninsula to the sections along the Indiana and Ohio state lines, are represented at the conference. More than 400 of Michigan's 350 community newspapers are included in the registration.

To "see themselves as others see them" will be the aim of the newspapermen during part, at least, of the conference. Selected speakers from leading business and professional fields have been invited to tell the editors frankly what they think of Michigan newspapers, and what they conceive the real function of the community paper to be.

The entire program is hinged around the general theme of constant improvement of the state's home town papers, in order that greater service may be rendered the communities themselves.

The annual banquet of the association was held in the Union Building at Michigan State College last evening.

Best Teams Will Be In Pulling Contest

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED FEBRUARY 6 AT EAST LANSING.

Three teams which each have been holders of the state record for pulling during the year will meet Thursday evening of Farmers Week, February 6, to settle the argument of who owns the best horses in the state.

The teams are owned by J. F. Gohr, Lansing; George Abbott, Elwell; and R. F. Langley, Flint. The horses made their records at county fairs held last fall. The Gohr team holds the record now with a pull of 3275 pounds.

The amount of energy expended by the teams in the contest is measured by a device which records the number of pounds which the team can drag for a distance of twenty-seven and one-half feet. The pull exerted is the same as lifting an equal weight vertically.

The world's record pull is 5600 pounds, and the teams entered in the East Lansing contest will try to beat this as well as their opponents. Ten thousand people watched the pulling contest at one fair and the event has attracted crowds in all sections of the state.

Little Girl, 10, Eats So Much Mother Amazed

"My 10-year-old daughter had no appetite. Then we gave her Vinol and now she eats so much we are amazed."

—Mrs. W. Joosten.

Vinol cleanses the body important mineral elements of iron, calcium with cod liver phosphorus. This is just what this nervous children or adults need, and the QUICK results are surprising. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Vinol tastes delicious! Dodge Drug Company.

Electric Signs Put Across Industry's Message To Public

BUSINESS LEADERS REALIZE IMPORTANCE OF GETTING FIRM NAMES BEFORE CUSTOMERS OF GREATER DETROIT.

Transforming dim dark streets into a maze of color and design and direction, and extending daylight far into the night, with live, projecting and calculating names and locations, time services, and information, are the multitudinous signs that are continually sorting and selling the industry of Detroit.

Time was when a name projected in printed letters was regarded by the public as a gesture of vanity on the part of a manufacturer. Now it is a source of pride to the citizen who can easily see the location of the factories, the shops, or the theatres that he has read about in the newspapers. Manufacturers endorse it. The manufacturers have come to include signs in their selling program, recognizing their value in focusing the street through's attention upon their name, location and what they sell. Sign writing today has assumed such proportions that "sky writing," the fleeting spelling of a trade name in the sky by an airplane, costing more than $100 per hour, becomes a part of a two weeks' consistent sales campaign by a national advertiser. The prominence of red in outdoor poster signs, as well as in electric signs, is attributed to its maximum attention value, while blue, the psychologists contend, holds greater attention value for men.

Gains Good Will. Automobile manufacturers have nurtured good will of Detroiters by providing them with the time, by sending signs in electric flashes; theaters by posting, illustrating, and repeating the highlights of a week's program; large factories by merely erecting in imposing letters the name of the manufacturer.

Smaller manufacturers aid the buyer by displaying their location, in addition to establishing their business in the mind of the public who, while they may not be buyers, are subtle aids in the promotion of good will for any business. In the city, in the suburb, on the highway, these signs lead the way to business. There are poster, panel display signs, electric tube lighting signs, spectacular, fasher, painted, raised glass, roof, wall lacquer and canvas signs, with every style of lettering.

Business Adopts It. From the costly illumination down to the modest gold letters on the door, business is fast adopting with its other advertising programs, the sign way of selling. Many are leased instead of bought. The most successful are maintained in brilliancy and effectiveness. A missing letter results in a sign with one eye blinking and decreases the efficacy of the impression on the critical observers. Their most direct effect is traced at the point of sale, in both exteriors and interiors, in the salesrooms, on the counter where the merchandise is priced and named for sale.

Manufacturers employ the signs as a follow up to newspaper advertising, reiterating their selling slogan and directing buyers to the point of sale. According to executives of a large advertising agency, sign writing and newspaper advertising pull stronger for industry when worked together, either simultaneously, or in quick succession.

LOCALS

Mrs. Inez Thomas of Detroit, spent Sunday with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wright left Wednesday for a several months' visit in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sage and son of Detroit, were guests of Mr. Sage's parents last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Watters (Florence Marie Miller) announce the birth of a daughter, January 22. Charles Carmichael left last Wednesday on a business trip to Toledo, where he will remain for a few days.

Miss Vera Woods of Penniman Ave., entertained a number of her friends on her fourteenth birthday, last Saturday evening. They all enjoyed a sleigh ride, together with the delicious refreshments which followed.

EARLY HATCHED CHICKS CAPTURE HIGH EGGS PRICES

There may be some question about the value of the old saying that "the early bird catches the worm," but there is no question that the early-hatched chick catches the high egg prices in the fall, when supply is small and demand is heavy. Mr. Field, who operates the Ypsilanti Hatchery at Ypsilanti, said: "Market statistics over a number of years indicate that prices in late September and early October are highest, with winter eggs next in value," the local man said. "Early-hatched chicks, which mature in time so the pullets can be put into the laying houses in time to produce for this high priced market offer one excellent way of insuring the largest profits from the farm poultry flock."

Experiments conducted with many flocks indicate that the early-hatched lots produced eggs of a total value of $6.71 per bird, as compared with $2.97 for the late-hatched chicks, the local hatcheryman pointed out. Profits from early-hatched chicks depend, to a considerable extent upon the high quality of the stock which makes up the flock, he said. Increased profits which farmers have been realizing from poultry during the past few years is due, almost directly, to the efforts of hatcherymen, who have spent thousands of dollars building up good laying strains.

The local hatchery is a member of the national organization, operating under the slogan, "Hatchery Chicks For Greater Profits," to continue further the improvement of chicks, and to insure fair business dealings with all customers. Replacement of poor stock by good flocks on thousands of farms is taking place yearly, under urging of agricultural leaders, the local man said. Continued progress points to poultry as one of the leading farm profit-makers within a very short time.

Municipal Notes

A primary election will be held February 10th to reduce to four the number of nominees to membership upon the Village Commission for the next year. The primary election is in some respects even more important than the general election, for the result of the primary determines whether the candidates whom you favor will be eliminated from the ballot or not. To vote in the primary you must REGISTER. See registration notice on page ten.

ROSEDALE GARDENS EPHEMERALS

Friends, citizens and Buttermilkers, lend us your ears and time.—Come over to the church Monday evening, the 27th instant, at about half past seven. We are asking no financial aid, but sort of moral support, as it were. There are a few things to take up, and wish all to hear about with reference to the Boy Scout movement. Let's not have Will Hodson, Jr., do it all, but go over and lend a helping hand. You who have boys, you who have girls, you who are childless—all HE-MEN are urgently requested to show up at aforesaid place and time. It is not necessary we say please come!

Detroit Council BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
51 W. Warren Avenue
Columbia 1600
January 20, 1930.

Dear Friend: You do not need anyone to tell you that you have Boy Scouts in Rosedale Gardens. You have seen them as they have helped deliver Christmas mail, distributed church bulletins, helped take care of families in need, and other good turns in your community. But do you know that the whole burden of work with these boys has been carried by one man? Do you know that in addition to his work with the Troop, the Scoutmaster has had the responsibility of all examinations and tests for his boys? The Scout Program provides for the boy to advance. He must pass certain tests and examinations and the giving of these tests and examinations becomes quite a job. Because the Scouts of Rosedale Gardens live at quite a distance from other examiners, the Scoutmaster has had to give of his time for that purpose. Please understand that he has done this willingly and without complaint. But he would like to interest the men of the community, so they would, by each helping a little, lift some of the burden from him.

With this in mind, a meeting of all the men of the community has been called for Monday evening, January 27th at 7:30 p. m. The meeting is to be held at the Community church, and the part you can take will be explained. Will you set aside that evening and be present? No financial aid will be asked and your attendance will entail no obligation on you. But we do want you to be present and hear about the needs of the Scouts in your community. Cordially yours, H. W. WHITE, Scout Executive.

Miss Georgia J. Reid, the zone nurse is making arrangements for all the kiddies hereabouts to take the rest and toxin treatments. Let us all help to make diphtheria a disease of ancient history. Those children that have not already had the treatments are expected to report at the school for treatments, which are three—one week apart, starting at 9:15 a. m. January 23, 1930. The fee is one dollar for the three treatments for any child over six months of age. The nurse states that the treatment administered is harmless, and while there may be a redness or tenderness of the arm and a little fever, that would be all, and there is everything to gain and nothing to lose. So let's have all our kiddies over, regardless of the rest of the world. And make the Gardens a still safer place in which to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazier held a reception in their new home at Dexter Court, last Tuesday evening, for their associates in business and play. We should have called it a "house warming," but as they are our first to be wed in the new church, we have called it what it did. We also heard that they probably will go to Florida, where Mr. Frazier has business interests. Which same makes us wish that we had a honeymoon especially at this day and zero weather. Would you like to have a good cup of coffee or cocoa and some cake or cookies next Sunday evening? Well if that is any bait, we will have some then, and in the banquet hall of the church, our church. The social hour is immediately after the evening worship. We are not going to chronicle the doings and sayings of the evening's talk by the Rev. A. A. N. Wilson, Jr., but being persons of acute action, will say that the Buttermilkers hold forth with hymns in the auditorium above at 7:00, giving a fine imitation of Walter Damrosch or some symphony, and then at 8:00 lead forth below over the coffee cup and smokes whilst children and the women folks talk and play. Now don't forget, if you have company, bring them too, members of the special session of the Buttermilk Club and bringing the company to church finally consummated the bringing together of the principals for the first wedding here. And let us hope for the best, that it will bring forth others. We had in mind and then we tried to get it out of our mind, as we didna' see with to call it. It was a mistake! Meaning that there happened to be nine buttermilkers all in a row singing their heads off, and boy, such harmony too, and we caught the person and several others keeping quiet for a verse or two now and then.

Funerals are in, lathers and plasterers are at work on both the Hauchett and Shoensmith castles, and, in the meantime the carpenters have been shipping their saws and the painters cleaning their brushes preparing to make a quick job of both, so that they may be ready for some open air work when the building program gets under way in another couple of weeks, providing wind and weather work in harmony with building requirements. Miss Ethel Belden is getting along right nicely with her kiddies dancing class every Saturday afternoon. With exception of Christmas week, the kiddies have all showed up on time and will surprise us all Sunday with a little set-to of their own on a P. T. A. nite, we suppose. Then there is to be a bake sale tomorrow, Saturday, the twenty-fifth instant from and after eleven of the clock until the cakes are all sold. "B" grocer has reserved space for the ladies of the Friendship Circle to hold forth with their wares at this time. "L"urice says that Saturday is always a busy day for "R" grocery, but from past experiences, (as noted in these columns many times, Gardente ladies are the best cooks and bakers on earth) they will not bother the cheese slicers very long, for the cakes are always taken out fast. So, you who are on the outside of this perfect circle, just get over right after breakfast dishes and dining has been done, or you will have to bake your own cake this week-end. They had baked beans too, hope they have some more tomorrow, as they were the beaniest beans that you ever beaned or ever has-been.

MICHIGAN'S TREE PLANTINGS. The forestry division of the state department of conservation and the forestry service of the United States government, planted 29,013 acres in forests in Michigan in 1929. Of the total, the state planted 17,596 and the federal service 11,417 acres. During the past year the federal service planted 18,825 acres in the entire United States. Of the acreage planted by this service in Michigan, 5,000 was made possible by the Michigan Kiwanis Club. At the beginning of the year 1930, Michigan had planted in its twelve state forests, 71,851 acres of trees. A program as extensive as that of this time, is planned by the forestry division for the coming season. The 1 1/2 state forests now have a total of 468,295 acres. The largest is the Lake Superior state forest in the upper peninsula with 87,941 acres. The smallest is the Alpena state forest with 14,061 acres. Any Plymouth woman who wants to find how a touch of indignation feels might try turning the kitchen over to her husband.

Christian Science Notes

“Life” was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, January 19.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: “But ye that did cleave unto the Lord your God are alive every one of you this day.” (Deut. 4:4).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, “Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,” by Mary Baker Eddy: “Man in the likeness of God as revealed in Science cannot help being immortal. . . . In Science, man's immortality depends upon that of God, good, and follows as a necessary consequence of the immortality of good.” (page 81).
The Lesson-Sermon for next Sunday, January 26 is “Truth.”

METHODIST NOTES

“If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.”—St. John 15:7.

The usual Wednesday evening service will be omitted January 29th on account of the Congregational Rally Supper on Thursday, January 30th, at 6:30 o'clock. This supper, as the name implies, is for the families connected with the Church, and is the first of three to be given during the year. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. George N. Nuckolls of the Nardin Park church. No one will want to miss hearing him. As the ladies are preparing for only two hundred, it would be a good plan to get your tickets early. The tickets are 50 cents and children at half price.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is communion Sunday for the children. Let each child be at instructions Saturday morning at 9:30. The Sisters are here each Saturday to take care of the children.
The yearly report will be read next Sunday.

During the past week, the business men were called to the aid of the church and each responded well despite the present day conditions. The pastor is grateful to all for their generosity. A statement was sent to all the parishioners the previous week, and it is hoped that those in arrears will adjust matters as soon as possible.

The Rev. J. J. Ihour of the cathedral was invested as a domestic prelate last Wednesday, with the title of a Monsignor. Fr. Lefevre attended the ceremonies.

The ladies will hold their election next week, and it is hoped all will take an active part in the work assigned them.

Mrs. C. Ostberg, formerly of this parish, is seriously ill at Providence hospital, Detroit.

Mrs. J. Rousseau has been confined to her home with a cold for the past two weeks, but we are glad to report that she is able to be around again.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

On Monday evening last, seventeen members of the Mission Study Class enjoyed a sleighing party. After Prince and Fan had navigated most of the streets of the town to the jangle of one bell and the shouts of the happy company, they unloaded their passengers at the Presbyterian church. There, to the tune of hot coffee and sandwiches, the fun went on.
Presbyterian missionaries direct the operation of 89 hospitals and 121 dispensaries, which last year treated 394,862 individual patients and gave 942,128 treatments. Supplies for these hospitals come, in part, from the home churches. A fine group of the women of this congregation spent Tuesday in working on the hospital quota. The work was directed by the Ready Service class under the new president, Mrs. C. G. Draper, and with the assistance of a very efficient band of women was completed in good time.
A leadership training class led by Mr. Nichol, began on Wednesday evening—a course of study on the Life of Christ. The course will run for ten weeks, and anyone caring to join will be welcome.
The regular meeting of the Mission Study Class will be held at the museum on Main street, next Tuesday evening, January 29th. There will be cooperative supper at 6:30 p. m. o'clock. This will be followed by the business meeting of the class and the program.

BAPTIST NOTES

The B. Y. P. U. program for next Sunday will be conducted by the devotional commission. A very interesting program is being arranged.
The promised banquet for the Wayne Club, which is the outcome of the Plymouth Wayne contest, will be held Friday evening, January 31. This should be one of the most attractive events of the season, that is in a social form. Plymouth is planning on having at least 60 present for the occasion.
The three weeks of revival meetings recently closed at the Baptist church have proven a great blessing to the church in many ways. Evangelist and Mrs. Colgrove left Monday morning for Calumet, where they will open a meeting Friday evening.
The Plymouth Baptist church is now entering into her one hundredth year. We hope to make this one of the greatest years in her history. An attractive program is being arranged leading up to the Easter season. Starting Sunday evening, the pastor will preach a series of sermons on the prophetic element in the Christian religion. This series will continue each Sunday evening for a period of six weeks. A very definite evangelistic program will be adopted for the Easter season. Then in the first part of October the Baptist church of Plymouth will celebrate her centennial.

KONJOLA PUTS RAILROAD MAN BACK ON JOB

HAD ABOUT ABANDONED HOPE OF EVER HAVING HEALTH—NEW MEDICINE WINS FINE VICTORY.

MR. M. F. TAYLOR

“Konjola proved much more than a medicine in my case,” said Mr. M. F. Taylor, 1008 Clay avenue, Detroit, an employe of the Grand Trunk railroad, “for it put me back on the job after having had to lay off for quite some time. For three years I suffered from stomach trouble, and ailments of the liver and kidneys. I could not digest sufficient food to keep me going. I suffered from pains and bloating, and my system filled with poisons.
“A friend who called at my home recommended Konjola. I told him that I had lost faith in all medicines, but he insisted that Konjola was different. It surely was different, for just seven bottles restored my digestion, corrected my liver and kidneys and put me back to work. I am feeling better in every way than for years, and my wife and three boys are now taking Konjola.”
Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Penman Allen Theatre Plymouth, Michigan MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"PARIS"

Piquant Irene Bordoni, French accent and all, will be seen and heard here for the first time in a motion picture with the opening of "Paris" at the Penman Allen Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, January 26, 27 and 28.

The brilliant Broadway favorite was captured by the First National Vitaphone Studios to go out to Hollywood and make a talkie of her New York hit. The camera has caught the vivid personality of the actress, who began her career at the Theatre Varieties in Paris and has since become renowned in both hemispheres.

"Paris" is the spicy story of a Boston family with Mayflower ancestry who land in the French capital to prevent the marriage of their son to an actress. It is an all-dialogue production with musical sequences depicting the French theatre. And some of the lavishly brilliant scenes are made in Technicolor.

Bordoni seems destined to become as popular with screen audiences as she was with New York theatregoers. In Hollywood she gained a large following as soon as the first "rushes" of her picture appeared. Through Vitaphone another unique personality has been transferred from the stage to the synchronized screen.

Jack Buchanan, English comedian, and Louise Closser Hale, who played in the first production of "Paris," take prominent supporting roles. Jason Robards, Margaret Fielding and Zasu Pitts are also in the cast.

The original version of "Paris" was written by Martin Brown, the screen play being by Hope Loring. Clarence Bagger directed.

"YOUNG NOWHERES"

One of the most interesting scenes in "Young Nowheres," the newest First National and Vitaphone starring production for Richard Barthelmess, which will be shown at the Penman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, January 29 and 30, presents unusual problems in handling mobs and traffic.

The scenes were filmed at night at Ocean Park, California, and thirty policemen and fifteen special officers were required to hold back the beach crowds and stay the flow of traffic. An entire section of the beachfront extending down to the ocean was roped off and guarded, but the crowds were so eager to watch Barthelmess at work that the ropes were trampled upon and several hours elapsed before the throng was under control again.

Twenty are lights lit up the beach and attracted huge crowds from the other beaches, increasing the policing problems, but when finally Director Frank Lloyd finished the last scenes, he was satisfied that he had recorded a realistic sight-and sound picture of a summer night at Coney Island. Unknown to the mobs, there were microphones placed over their heads and their incessant chatter was recorded. In addition to this, the roar of the waves made a fitting sound-background for the scenes.

"Young Nowheres" is the love story of an elevator boy and a chambermaid, two atoms among the human millions of New York. Barthelmess' role resembles his famous characterization of "Tolable David." The film is based on a short story by I. A. R. Wylie. Marlon Nixon plays the feminine lead.

"TANNED LEGS"

No two youngsters in moving pictures could be paired more effectively than June Clyde and Arthur Lake, who have the leading roles in "Tanned Legs." Radio Pictures' tuneful show which is to be shown at the Penman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, January 31 and February 1.

The epitome of all the infectious gaiety, the ebullience of youth in their portrayals of Peggy Reynolds and her man, Bill, leaders of the "Dynamite Division," the jolly young crowd at a beach club.

This is June Clyde's first important role before the camera, although she has gained considerable prominence on the west coast as a singer and dancer of ability. According to RKO executives, who recently signed her to a long term contract, she is one of the most scintillating personalities to reach the screen in many months.

Arthur Lake has carved an enviable niche for himself in filmdom by his juvenile characterizations and is already in the front rank of youthful players. The two head a cast of outstanding quality which includes those Broadway favorites, Ann Pennington and Allen Kearns. Others are Sally Blane, Dorothy Revier, Albert Gran, Edmund Burns, Nella Walker and Lincoln Stedman.

A chorus of 40 sun-tanned Hollywood beauties adds greatly to the entertainment value.

PERRINSVILLE

Margaret Kubic
Peter Kubic and family attended the Automobile and Furniture show at the Peoples Outfitting Company, Detroit, Wednesday.

Erma Seely spent the week-end in Detroit, with friends.

Callers at the home of Peter Kubic during the week were: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGregor, of Detroit, Mr. William Stevenson, of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Avery and family of Wayne.

Miss Leona Beyer, of Detroit, and Vera Stoneburner spent Sunday afternoon with Leona's father and grandparents.

ROSEDALE GARDENS EPHEMERALS

J. W. WALKER

Chips, our carpenter apprentice, has been attending night school of late. He says he now knows why business in the building industry has been slack the past couple of years. He philosophizes that it was the feminine fashions and claims that now that the dresses are becoming longer, and with less interest in sock (ings) that the builders will have more time to attend to board feet instead of human feet, and in figuring costs of buildings instead of the female figure. Which all goes to show that the younger generation are not so dull in observing after all.

The boys down by the National Airways school are not getting many credit hours in the air lately, and from the looks of everything they just got their new hangar built in time for the winter. However they seem to be taking advantage of every available minute of good weather, and are up and around as if a little bird trying out wings for the first time.

Don't know a thing about this here peltacross business, but what we think is that a lot of folks we know have had parrot fever for a long time if it has anything to do with talkativeness, which same may be just that or that, or something that has to do with the

Comes there a chap who says that it used to be the fashion for a baby buggy to be included in the first furniture outfit of every newlywed family that moved in his neighborhood, but he further states that that was a long time ago. Well, chippie old wear, it seems to be still the "fashion" hereabouts anyhow, if not when, then it is surely not very much later, and from the numerous contraptions on parade on a nice afternoon, it is not only fashion but "tres fashionable" in Rosedale to be behind one on said nice p. m's.

Perhaps there is nothing that is more common target for ridicule than the fellow who thoughtlessly runs out of gasoline. If it is as true all over the countryside as it is in this mile of Plymouth road then we suggest that Commissioner Hines or President Hoover or some one appoint a commission to investigate the matter. Now, even on the cold Saturday just past, the eighteenth instant, the jokesters could have found ample grounds for witticism, for during the day and evening there happened to be no less than eleven motorists who "ran out of gas." And all were driving or at least had been driving, some of the latest models of big cars. This predicament comes mostly from fellows who do not "use their head." Which same reminds us of the last carpenter's apprentice we had who nailed up a couple of weather boards the wrong side up, and who quit the job when the foreman told him that the next time he put up weather boards to use his head. (joke)

"Is your liver nice and fresh?" asked Lady Gardemite of "R" grocer's boy the other day. "Same as 'twas last week when I got zaminated for 'surance," replied he. Thereupon said L. G. ordered pork chops. Which all goes to show how and why certain psychologists refuse to entertain the superstition that a person may be too old to learn.

The weather man was wrong eight times out of seven last week. But on Thursday morning when they said a cold wave was coming it did. But not until late Friday night and early Saturday morning. We could have taken the temperature of the various flippers with an icicle, but refrained from doing so as it would have been no use for the best of one or two reasons, and they were both because it was too cold. Nine below at nine a. m. to be exact. Then when the Stimpson's big Buick would not start and had to be towed as far as "R" grocery, where it got smacked by a big truck and stayed there bethought ourselves it about time to go on the bus.

Little Jimmie Boyd is recovering from scarlet fever at Ann Arbor, while his playmate, Billie Chapman is doing as well at home. Sorry for the boys this nice weather, as skates and sleds are hung up in the garage waiting for their masters.

Almost got the blind staggers, or something, when we were informed that a phone message was on hand early last Thursday morning to the effect that to tell the parson to be sure and stay home on Thursday evening after seven. We knew that something was about to happen, and several things did: the first one Mrs. J. W. Walker fell on an ice sheet and severely fractured her right arm. Now there happens to be two of said fractured arms in the same family. Now the second thing to happen was that the Women's Auxiliary meeting almost broke up in a riot when it was announced that they would have to cut their meeting shorter than usual, or as the case turned out to be—longer than usual. Our first wedding in the new church was solemnized by our new pastor, the Rev. R. A. N. Wilson, Jr., as said above, we knew that what that phone call was for, well it was this—Miss Carrie Sole and Charles Frazier, both of Detroit, were the happy young couple, erstwhile bride and groom. Miss Estelle M. Ludwig acted as the bridesmaid, and J. W. Walker, the bestman. The bride was prettily dressed in a purple crepe gown with pearl necklace, etc. (will the society editor please help here), and the groom in the usual black. However, the plain or ordinary ceremony was read with some score or more of the Gardeners as witnesses. Mrs. Paul Harsha, on behalf of the Women's Auxiliary, presented the bride with a most useful gift in color and to match the new home's kitchen color scheme. The Fraziers have been frequent visitors to Rosedale and to our church, so they were not entirely strangers. We wish these young folks the best of luck.

Rain, snow, blow and ZERO are in season, but you would not think that more than the ordinary was happening, as entering "R" grocery one finds all the latest fresh vegetables from the south and farther. It must be a long way, for we not only found tomatoes, lettuce and other greens, but reds as well—red, red, ripe strawberries. We sorta radioqueried the price of the berries, thinking that they might be a dollar apiece, or something, but we found them reasonable enough, even with the price of a bit of ice cream, so got some, and there you are. They are going to have more, for some others bought the rest of the crate.

Beginning tomorrow (Saturday) and all the month I will sell any Velvet, Velvet and Satin or Metallic bar in stock for $1. I have all headsizes. Mrs. C. O. Dickerson, 122 N. Harter Street. 1pd.

Rosedale School News

New School Hours

Starting January 13, school started fifteen minutes earlier, making the time 8:45 instead of 9:00 o'clock. The first day everyone was on time. We hope to keep it up.

The P. T. A.

Wednesday, January 23, the P. T. A. held their first meeting of the year 1930. The first and second grades sang two songs, accompanied by Miss Smith at the piano. The children of the fourth and fifth grades told original stories of strange experiences they had had. As it was nearing Michigan Day, five children of the upper grade room were chosen to give special talks on the Michigan Flag, coat of arms, and the Founders of Michigan. The last on the program was a reading on the "Home and the School," by Miss Rowe. Cocoa, cookies and doughnuts were served as refreshments.

Girls' 4-H

At the last business meeting of the Girls' 4-H Club, it was decided that a small program at our meetings would make them more interesting. At our last meeting "Lucky Jim" was sung by Gwendolyn Dunlop and accompanied by Jean Loftus at the piano. A poem, "Because," by Dorothy Metzger, ended the program. The girls are now planning a Valentine party for our mothers, to show them what we have been doing.

Baseball Game

All the boys and girls in Mrs. Knill's room know the multiplication tables because we play the game of baseball. One is a pitcher and throws arithmetic problems. It is very exciting. Correspondent—Jean Loftus.

MOCHA FROSTING

One-third cup butter, one and one-fourth cups confectioner's sugar three tablespoons breakfast cocoa, hot coffee. Cream butter and add sugar gradually, continuing the beating; then add cocoa and hot coffee. Beat until smooth. Spread on cake just before serving, or use as a sauce for pudding.

Read the want ad column every week—there is always something interesting in them.

50 horsepower six cylinder engine

Not until you drive the new Chevrolet Six can you appreciate what a wonderful improvement has been made in its famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine. With its capacity increased to 50 horsepower, it has great reserve energy for sweeping up the steepest hills—for swift acceleration —and for sustained high speeds. Its power flows evenly and smoothly. And it is extremely flexible in traffic. In fact—it does everything you could possibly want a motor to do. Yet it is remarkably economical in its use of gasoline and oil. Come in today for a demonstration.

Fire destroyed the plant of the Superior Felt Products Co. at Grand Blanc, with loss placed at $150,000, covered by insurance.

In the first mid-year graduating class of the Redford high school, the boys outnumbered the girls. Of the 48 to receive diplomas, 27 are boys and 21 are girls.

Plans are under way for a new theatre and commercial building at 713-5 North University, Ann Arbor, to cost between $40,000 and $60,000.—Brighton Argus.

Michigan hunters spend $15.00 for hunting equipment, supplies, etc. for every dollar they spend for a license to maintain and protect game.—Brighton Argus.

A flock of about 50 birds was seen in South Lyon a couple of weeks ago, which investigation showed to be evening grosbeaks, very rarely seen in this section of the country.

Twice within a month the two-story brick and frame structure being built by Sart E. Retchie, Inc., at Virgil Ave., Redford, has caught fire. The loss was estimated at $7,000.

Baptist leaders of Michigan will go to Farmington for dedication of the new Baptist church educational unit, to be held Sunday, February 2, according to the announcement made by Rev. Elmer W. Palmer, pastor.

There will be no more free fairs held by the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association, as the plan did not work out as successfully as they thought it would. Hereafter, there will be a gate charge as well as for the grandstand.

The installation of Rev. Harold G. Whitfield as pastor of the Northville Presbyterian church took place last Monday evening, with Rev. J. R. McWilliams, pastor of the Redford Presbyterian church preaching the installation sermon.

Fred M. Crum up to the present time this season has taken the biggest pile through the ice at Walled Lake. The other day he landed one that weighed over nine pounds. Some bigger ones were taken last winter, but this is the largest catch reported so far this year.—Northville Record.

Two armed men escaped with $234 Saturday, January 11, after holding up a grocery at Novi, just before it was closed. Sheriff's officers, along Grand River avenue, the route the bandits were believed to have followed to Detroit, were notified but were unable to find the robbers.—Brighton Argus.

The four-track relocation of the Grand Trunk from Detroit to Pontiac, it has been announced, will be finished in 1936. Birmingham will have a new station, freight house and yards. The commutation service on this line, the first in Michigan, will eventually be electrified. Two million dollars will be spent.—Brighton Argus.

While driving in the vicinity of Fowlerville on Dec. 27, an employe of the telephone company saw a snake squirming down the road in the wheel track ahead of him. To prove his story the man caught the snake, which was of the streaked variety, measuring 32 inches long and about three inches in circumference.—Redford Record.

While on his way home from Northville, Saturday night, to his home in Plymouth, two horses ran in the road almost directly in front of the car driven by Mr. Middleton, near the Cass Benton park. One of the horses was struck and a leg broken, and it was necessary for Chief William Sanford to kill it. The horses were from the riding club located on the Six Mile road near the corner.—Northville Record.

Richard Wilson, who was sentenced to Jackson prison from Washtenaw county last fall, to serve a term of 7 1/2 to 15 years for stealing chickens, and Elmer Shemuel escaped from the prison about two weeks ago. The two escaped convicts stole a car in Jackson and were being followed by state troopers and prison guards when they wrecked the car they were driving several miles east of Chelsea. They were later captured in a barn several miles south of the scene of the wreck.—Chelsea Standard.

Gingerbread

By HELEN SUZANNE TAYLOR

"When I'm a'coming home from school Or in the garden raking, There's nothing quite so fine to smell As ginger cookies baking."

I most can see them crisp and brown And say to my dog, Snooky, Come on, Old Feller, let's go beg A big brown ginger cookie."

The charm of spicy ginger will live on forever as something reminiscent of home, family gatherings, and Mother's cooking. What could be more delightful than ginger cookies for in-between-meal repasts, gingerbread for lunch, and ginger cakes in modern form for dessert? How many times the enthusiasm of a guest, who eats all of his meals in a restaurant, dies to quiet politeness when he finds himself being served a "company" dinner including possibly bakers rolls and cake and confectioners' ice cream. A change for the family, but containing no honey flavor to delight the heart of the appetite of a guest.

How well I remember the generous portion of gingerbread which I received at a tea room a short time ago. Served warm and covered with whipped cream, it carried with it memories and associations unequalled by any other dessert I can recall.

QUICK GINGERBREAD

(To be eaten hot)

Sift together two cups and one-third of flour, one teaspoonful and two-thirds of soda, two teaspoonfuls of ginger, and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Mix thoroughly one cup of molasses and one cup of sour milk. Combine the mixtures, add two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, beat well and bake in moderate oven.

GINGER CAKES

Stir one teaspoonful of soda into one-half cup of molasses; melt one-fourth a cup of butter in one-fourth a cup of boiling water. Sift together two cups of flour, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, one-half a tablespoonful of ginger and one-half a teaspoonful of cinnamon. Combine mixtures, put into well-buttered cupcake tins, and bake in a moderate oven. When cold, cut a cone-shaped piece from the top of each cake, fill with whipped, unsweetened cream, replace the crust of the piece removed.

GINGER ICE BOX COOKIES

One cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 4 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 cup molasses, 3 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon soda. Cream the shortening and add the sugar gradually. Add the well-beaten eggs and the molasses. Sift the flour once before measuring. Mix and sift the flour, soda, salt and ginger together, and stir gradually into other mixture. Mold into loaf and place in ice box for at least 24 hours. Slice thin cookies as desired and bake 10 or 12 minutes in a moderate oven.

GINGERBREAD

Two cups flour, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons ginger, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup molasses, 1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1 egg, 1/4 cup shortening, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Sift all dry ingredients and mix well. Fill a well greased shallow pan one-half full. Bake in a 325 degree oven for about thirty minutes.

Sore Throat?

Don't Gargle!

THIS DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION GIVES QUICKER, BETTER RELIEF.

Don't suffer the pain and discomfort of sore throat. Use a doctor's prescription called Thoxine guaranteed to relieve with the very first swallow. Gargles and salves are too slow and if they do relieve, it is usually only temporary.

Thoxine has a double action—it relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause. It contains no harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant for the whole family. There is nothing better to stop coughing due to irritated throats. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 25c, 50c, and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. Sold by Dodge Drug Co. and all other good drug stores.

TO See OR TO Sell?

THERE is a big difference between using light to see and using light to sell. It is the second application which is important to store owners and merchandising executives.

Good lighting is a profitable salesman in your store. It will—if you let it—subtly attract attention to merchandise on counters and on shelves. It will display to good advantage the wares in showcases and wall cases, and by means of color, work wonders in your windows.

Without charge, our illuminating engineers will study your store illumination, and discuss with you the type of lighting best suited to your conditions.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

WHAT IS THE PERFECT METHOD OF ELECTING A BOARD OF DIRECTORS?

Probably it would be more accurate to state the question, "What Is the Best Way to Elect a Board of Directors?" because there is no perfect method, no method which would meet with the approval of everyone. According to the advice of trained experts in organization work, the primary system of nomination and election has spread rapidly in recent years, has proven the most satisfactory and once adopted has seldom been discontinued.

This method calls for two ballots, a primary ballot and a final election ballot both to be mailed to the membership with numbered stamped return envelopes. The primary ballot asks each member to nominate a certain number from the membership roster for the board of directors keeping in mind the qualifications (printed on the ballot) which an ideal director should possess. In our case the number would be 9. When these are returned, a duly appointed election committee would pick the eighteen names receiving the highest number of votes, and after obtaining their consent, their names would be mailed in the same way to the membership with instructions to vote for any nine.

To adopt this method would mean a lot of office work in preparing and mailing the ballots and in seeing that they were returned, but it would have this in its favor. It would afford every member an equal opportunity to nominate and elect the board of directors, it would not take up time at the annual meeting, and it would do away with unsatisfactory practice of making nominations from the floor the evening of the meeting.

WHY WE DID NOT RECOMMEND THIS METHOD FOR 1930.

At the present time the membership of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is admittedly inadequate, and does not begin to represent the potential membership. In other words, the many additional citizens of Plymouth who should take their rightful place in its financial support and activities. This would mean that a mail ballot to the present small paid membership would not reach the many other citizens of Plymouth who we hope are beginning to realize that much could be accomplished for their community by a strong well financed, well organized chamber of commerce. When our membership grows to the point where it represents fully 75% of the available membership, the mail ballot method might be seriously considered.

The present Board of Directors and many other members consulted feel that the Nominating Committee Method adopted for the 1930 election is at least an improvement on the former method of nominating from the floor the evening of the annual meeting, but we do not contend that it is the perfect method. It has its weakness.

It opens a loophole for criticism. It gives people, who do not realize how hard it is to obtain the consent of busy men to give up time for public service, and who do not appreciate what it means to take any time away from their business and personal affairs, a chance to say that the affairs of the chamber of commerce are being controlled by a few. This of course is absurd. The comparative few who with their faith and loyalty have kept the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce alive during its fight for more general recognition welcome and deserve the support of those who have not taken a more active part to date.

D. A. R. Held Big Luncheon Party

of greeting from their various chapters. Mrs. Walbridge of Rosedale Gardens, also played two beautiful piano numbers which were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. McDonald, speaking briefly on the law of immigration, told how the D. A. R. stood for limiting the numbers of immigrants coming into the country. Letting in just the number that can be well cared for by the nation. She told how the D. A. R. went to them at Ellis Island, letting them know that some one cares and are looking out for their welfare in this new home of theirs. The D. A. R. start classes for them to learn the American customs and language, giving them manuals, in every way teaching them to become better citizens, helping them when they are ready to take on their Americanization papers. The chapters also go to the women immigrants and show them how to make their handiwork saleable in this country, bringing the lovely embroidered and fancy work before the people here.

The remainder of Mrs. McDonald's speech was taken up with the topic so near her heart, "National Defense." She spoke of Communism which is menacing the government, the religion and the homes of the world today. How the society of "Young Pioneers" formed in schools, the shameful demonstration at the President of Mexico's arrival in Detroit, the Sweet case in Detroit, the revolt in China are all Communistic powers at work on their world plan.

Mrs. McDonald's talk was so enlightening and forceful that many friends of members expressed the desire to learn more of these conditions and help in the good work of controlling them. The guests of honor at the birthday party were: Mrs. James H. McDonald, state vice-regent, Royal Oak; Mrs. Hentley Green, regent, Louisa St. Clair Chapter, Detroit; Mrs. James J. Kelly, regent, Sarah Caswell Angell Chapter, Ann Arbor; Mrs. Benjamin Boyce, regent, Ypsilanti Chapter, Ypsilanti; Mrs. Glenn H. Hoppin, regent, Aquila Sturgis Chapter, Dearborn; Mrs. R. Clyde Ford, vice-regent of Ypsilanti Chapter. There were sixty-three members and guests present, and the success of the luncheon was due largely to the hard work of the committee in charge. Mrs. Brant Warner, Mrs. Roger Vaughn and Mrs. Earl Mastick, with the untiring efforts of the regent, Mrs. D. T. Randall.

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. M. P. Gardner gave a shower in honor of Mrs. C. E. Brown at the home of Mrs. J. Schroeder last Wednesday afternoon. The refreshments were furnished by members of the bridge club. Eighteen ladies were present. The afternoon was spent playing bridge. Mrs. Brown received many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. Walker fell and broke her arm last Wednesday afternoon in front of her home on Berwick avenue. Mrs. S. James of Ingram avenue, entertained Mrs. J. B. Kinahan, Mrs. H. Eggleston and Mrs. W. Flanagan Friday afternoon. Bridge was played.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holton and daughter, Marilyn, have purchased the Barmeg house on Berwick avenue. The Holtons are very anxious to occupy their new home. They expect to move in about the first of March. Mr. Holton is a brother of Mrs. J. Schroeder, also of Berwick avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Huron entertained the monthly bridge club Monday evening, all members being present. Before luncheon was served, honors were awarded to the following: W. Flanagan, first; C. Price, second; Mrs. S. James, consolation, and E. Hoskins, booby.

Rosedale Gardens school's P. T. A. will celebrate founders' day next Friday. A special program has been arranged.

Mrs. F. Chavey of Blackburn avenue, attended the graduation exercises of Miss Frances Chavey, at Redford high school, Wednesday afternoon. Miss Chavey is a sister of F. Chavey.

Mrs. McQueen is spending a month with her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Burton of Ingram Ave.

Eleanor and Jimmy Boyd of York Ave., are quarantined at their home with scarlet fever. Billy Chapman of York avenue, is also quarantined at his home for the same disease.

ROSEDALE SCHOOL NOTES

Scarlet Fever
When we heard of the first case of scarlet fever, a report telling the symptoms and causes of the disease was given by Jean Loftus and Eleanor Straehle. The symptoms of scarlet fever are sore throat, vomiting and the next day the person's chest is red. As soon as there is a case of scarlet fever, it should be reported to the board of health. Then a placard will be put on the house to warn people not to enter. The isolation period is 21 days.

Dental Honor Roll
The sixth, seventh and eighth grades are trying to have a 100% dental honor roll. There are seven pupils on it now. They are Frances Cooper, Willis Huron, Judith O'Dea, Marie Desmond, Jean Loftus, Anna Bagdonas and Eleanor Straehle.

Experimenting
The upper grade room pupils are trying an experiment showing the action of the digestive juices in the stomach.

Scrapbooks
The sixth grade finished their scrapbooks on South America, and are starting new ones of Europe.

Entertainers To Amuse Farmers Week Visitors

Music, drama, athletic events, military maneuvers, and after-dinner speakers are all included in the list of entertainment features which will be interspersed throughout the Farmers Week program, February 3 to 7.

Three bands, the College Cadet Band, the State Vocational School Band, and the Swartz Creek Band, are scheduled to appear on the general program. A rural drama contest will be held in which groups of players from Ingham, Clinton, and Eaton counties will compete.

College athletes and members of the cadet corps are being given exhibitions during the evening meetings. After-dinner speakers will find their opportunities at the 26 banquets which will be held.

NOTICE OF PRIMARY ELECTION!
Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 2, Section 10 of the Village Charter, a Primary Election will be held in the Village of Plymouth Monday, February 10th, 1930, for the purpose of reducing to four the number of duly qualified nominees for membership upon the Village Commission for the ensuing year.

Electors will also be asked to vote upon the question of amending Chapter 4, Section 6 of the Village Charter so as to fix the compensation of Village Commissioners at Five Dollars per meeting.

By resolution of the Commission passed March 4, 1923, the Village will be divided into two election precincts for Village election purposes, the P. M. Ry. right of way to serve as the boundary separating Precinct No. 1 to the west from Precinct No. 2 to the east. Polls will be located at the Village Hall for Precinct No. 1 and at the Starkweather School for Precinct No. 2.

Polls will be open upon the occasion of the said Primary Election from 8:00 A. M. to 7:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time.

A. J. KOENIG, Village Clerk.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS
This is to call attention to the fact that owners or occupants of property within the Village are required by ordinance to remove from sidewalks abutting their property all snow or ice within twenty-four hours after same may have fallen or accumulated thereon. In case of neglect or refusal of the owner or occupant to clear such walks the Village is authorized to do the work at the expense of the owner, the cost of such work to be assessed against the abutting property if not paid.

A. J. KOENIG, Village Clerk.
