BOY SCOUT COURT OF HONOR HELD AT ROSEDALE GARDENS

Rosedale Gardens Troop Host to Plymouth, Newburg and Training School Troops Last Week Thursday Evening.

F. J. Heavener, Field Scout Executive, Presented Scouts With Merit Badges Before Large Gathering of Relatives and Friends.

The Rosedale Gardens Troop of Boy Scouts was hosts on the evening of the 23rd to the other troops of this district at the Community Church in the Gardens. The occasion was a high court for the award of advancement and merit badges. The church was well filled by boys of the Rosedale Troop, the Wayne County Training School Troop, the Newburg Troop and the three Troops from Plymouth and their relatives and friends.

L. W. Snell of the staff of the American Boy magazine, acted as chairman, and had with him as a court members of the troop committees of the various troops. F. J. Heavener, Field Scout Executive of the Detroit Council, represented Scout Headquarters and presented the boys to the court for their various badges. After the opening exercises, consisting of prayer by Rev. R. A. N. Wilson, Jr., the scout oath and laws and pledge to the flag, the court proceeded to the business of the evening.

Milton Partridge and Charles Dreyour of P-2 were the first boys called. They received their certificates of second class rank. Sixteen boys were then awarded a total of one hundred and eleven merit badges. These badges are given for special work along various lines. This merit badge department might be called an experimental laboratory in vocational training for the boy may try his hand along any of nearly a hundred different classes of endeavor, some one of which may intrigue his interest to the extent of becoming a life work.

Business Women Attend "Friendship Dinner"

Detroit and Royal Oak Business and Professional Women were hostesses on Sunday afternoon at a Friendship Dinner given in the new Detroit Young Women's Christian Association Building, corner of Montclair and Witherell Sts., for business and professional women of Detroit and surrounding towns. Seven members of the Plymouth Club were present.

A reception was held at 1:00 p. m., giving the visitors an opportunity to make new acquaintances and to renew old ones and also to stroll through the beautiful building and inspect the many attractive rooms arranged for the pleasure and comfort of business women. At 2:00 o'clock, one hundred and fifty women sat down to a delicious dinner, after which the program of the day was presented.

Miss Marjau McClench, National President of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs comprising fifty thousand women of America, was present, also the State President, Miss Katherine Tuomy of Ann Arbor, and the First Vice-President, Miss Mary Brumfield of Royal Oak, all of whom spoke briefly. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Miss Estelle Downing, of the English Department of Teachers College, Ypsilanti, whose subject was "Enlarging Friendships of the World."

Groups of songs and violin and piano solos interspersed the program, giving the members a most delightful afternoon and one which all present hope will be repeated frequently.

Celebrated Silver Wedding Anniversary

Monday evening, January 20, Marie and Theodore Johnson entertained 40 guests in the crystal dining room of the Hotel Mayflower, in honor of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of their union. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson. A real wedding was carried out, and as Mrs. James Honey played the wedding march, the minister, James Honey, dressed in a long cut coat of 25 years ago, and wearing a plug hat, marched from the hotel lobby to the crystal room followed by Mrs. Fred Ballou as flower girl and Mrs. Fred Stauffer as ring bearer. Mrs. Albert Strenns and Mrs. Gilbert Howe as bridesmaids, followed by the bride wearing a long veil and carrying a beautiful bouquet of pink roses and lilies; the groom and Gilbert Howe, wearing a large red California poppy on the lapel of their coats, all took their places in front of the large mirror, where the marriage vows were quietly read from a Sears & Roebuck catalogue.

Five hundred was the amusement of the evening, followed by a two-course luncheon. After this the bride opened the gifts which were many and beautiful. At six-thirty o'clock an appetizing three-course dinner was served, after which a short business session of the club was held, with the president, Allen A. Horton, presiding.

The Rotary Anns had been invited to present the program for the evening and under the leadership of the secretary, Mrs. Alice Johnson, the chairman, assisted by Mrs. Carl Shear, the following surprise program was presented. The first number, a "Brownie Dance" composed of six members, was given in costume. Their funny dance and jokes amused the company immensely.

This was followed by a German Band numbering nearly a dozen, with Miss Gladys Schrader at the piano. Each member played a musical instrument. Many of them having never played the instrument before, it is needless to say that "A Bit of Close Harmony" was rendered.

The next number was a quartet composed of colored gentlemen in evening dress, who delighted the audience with several vocal selections, accompanied by the German Band.

The program closed with a mock marriage. The funny costumes of the bride party and the unique marriage service certainly filled the dining room with peals of laughter.

During the evening piano selections were pleasingly rendered by Mrs. Donald Sutherland, and several vocal numbers were given by Mrs. C. T. Sullivan, whose soft contralto voice was greatly enjoyed. Through the kindness of Harry Lush, the Rotary songs were thrown on a screen, and added to the enthusiasm of the singing.

At the conclusion of the program, a rising vote of thanks was extended to the ladies for their entertainment, and the ladies were satisfied for they had accomplished their purpose and had made through their foolishness, the tired business men forget the worries and cares of the day, and for one short evening made laughter and mirth prevail.

Hans Christian Anderson Visits Local School

Hans Christian Anderson, world famous Danish writer of fairy tales, together with a coterie of associates and brain children, made a first visit to Plymouth on the evening of January 22nd.

To those residents of Plymouth who were not on hand to welcome them, or who had supposed that Hans Christian Anderson, more than fifty years ago, this news will come as a surprise. History records that this esteemed friend of Caucasian childhood died in 1875.

In explanation of the seeming paradox it may be stated that it was only the impersonation of Mr. Anderson who came to town. Master Kenneth Kleinschmidt, fifth grade pupil of the Starkweather school, only played the part. The occasion represented a regular meeting of the Starkweather Parent-Teacher Association. The school auditorium was taxed to capacity— even standing room being at a premium—and several were unable to gain entrance to the room.

The meeting was called to order by President Mrs. Russell Roe. After a short business session the main feature of the evening was soon in progress. The fifth grade play, "Maker of Magic," depicted an episode from the life of Hans Christian Anderson. The three star roles were performed by Kenneth Kleinschmidt as Hans Christian Anderson; Jewel Starkweather as Inga; and Phyllis Stewart as Mrs. Helstrum, the landlady.

The other characters represented Hans Christian Anderson's brain children—characters taken from his fairy tales. The Snow Queen was there, as was the Little Match Girl, and so was the Constant Tin Soldier, Thumbelina, and many others. This admirable one act play, under the able direction of Miss Erma Hunt, teacher, was participated in by the entire fifth grade of the Starkweather school. There was not a single absentee on the night of the program.

The two-act play of the second grade also deserves favorable mention. This had the wholesome title of "Land of Health and Happiness." Much credit is due the teacher of the grade who directed the play, Miss Stader. Considerable ingenuity was displayed in arranging of paraphernalia and costumes of the characters. The chorus consisted of Kenneth Brown, Doris Starkweather, Lily Wickstrom, Maurice Thomas, Charles Peckay, Joe Gates, Lillian Fisher, Betty Ebers, Nina Fishlock and Helen Lisall.

Other features were a violin solo by Doris Hamill, accompanied by Evelyn Starkweather at the piano, and mouth organ renditions by Donald Blessing.

Parents and friends who have not yet attended the meetings of the Starkweather P. T. A. are missing something. However, officers say that it would be almost impossible to urge fuller attendance. Even in most inclement weather the auditorium has been filled to capacity.

Former Businessman Succumbs In Detroit

William Bassett of Detroit, for many years engaged in the furniture and undertaking business in this village, was found dead in his bed last Friday morning.

Mr. Bassett disposed of his business to the Schrader Brothers a number of years ago, and removed to Detroit, where he has since resided.

LADIES' NIGHT OBSERVED BY ROTARY CLUB

Rotary Anns Presented Surprise Program That Was Greatly Appreciated.

A pleasant meeting of the Rotary Club of Plymouth was held in the dining room of the Hotel Mayflower last Friday evening, January 24. The occasion was ladies' night and about forty guests were present.

At six-thirty o'clock an appetizing three-course dinner was served, after which a short business session of the club was held, with the president, Allen A. Horton, presiding.

The Rotary Anns had been invited to present the program for the evening and under the leadership of the secretary, Mrs. Alice Johnson, the chairman, assisted by Mrs. Carl Shear, the following surprise program was presented. DETROIT MOTOR BUS HOCKEY TEAM LISES TO PLYMOUTH 2-4

Battling cleverly against the Detroit Motor Bus team, the Plymouth Hockey squad downed the transportation boys 4-2, after sixty minutes of hotly contested hockey last Thursday night, the 23rd.

The visitors fought grimly from start to finish to even up for the triumph they took from Plymouth a few weeks ago, but the local team fought harder and refused to drop a game to them. They wanted their fifth victory and got it. Anderson accounted for two of Plymouth's goals, while Mason secured the other two.

Last Tuesday night Dearborn played off here, defeating Plymouth 5-4. The home boys done exceptionally well considering the four-man shortage in the line-up. Anderson, Charlett, Quirk and Dobbis being absent. Dearborn started the scoring in the first period when Page shot one in that Johnnie couldn't save. Plymouth soon tied the score. Then the visitors secured another and were able to keep ahead the balance of the game.

Mason bagged two goals for Plymouth, and Washburn one. Rutherford also got a marker, when he tricked the forward and defense lines and made a clean shot into the far corner of the net. Bill Brooks of Ann Arbor, refereed both games.

The University of Marquette, Milwaukee, Wis., wanted to book a game with Plymouth for Saturday night, February 1st, but as the local club couldn't guarantee the amount asked for expenses the game was not booked.

Plymouth To Play Northville Tonight

This is the annual home game between the two high schools, and it is the game which both teams are out to win. Both teams are on equal footing, and the game sure to be a thrill from whistle to whistle.

The standing of Northville and Plymouth in the league are identical, each having won two games and lost three. Northville having won from Plymouth and Farmington and lost to Dearborn, Belleville and Wayne; Plymouth having won from Belleville and Dearborn and lost to Northville, Farmington and Wayne.

This is the big game of the season for Plymouth High School, and the one which always taxes to the limit the capacity of our space for boosters for the two teams. The high school boys feel that the only ones who will have any regrets in regard to the coming game will be those who forget the date and fail to see the contest, because the local boys are certainly out to win both the first and second team games, the second team game starting at 7:00 o'clock sharp and the first team game immediately following the second team game which will be about 5:00 o'clock.

If you have been waiting to see this game, which will be hard to forget, remember the starting game is at 7:00 o'clock tonight.

At A Special Meeting of the Village Commission Held Last Friday New Rates Were Accepted.

At a special meeting of the Village Commission Friday, January 24th, a new Domestic Gas rate offered by the Michigan Federated Utilities, was accepted to be in effect for two years. The new rate will result in a lower rate for the average consumer as all over the first 300 cubic feet will be billed at $1.35 per thousand, net. This is a decrease of 25c per thousand cubic feet on all over 300 cubic feet.

Under the new rate the first 300 cubic feet or less will be at $1.20 and all over 300 cubic feet at 13.5 cents per hundred feet net.

An effort has been made in the preparing of this rate to make one whereby the average consumer will benefit. Inasmuch as the average household uses more than 300 cubic feet per month, the saving on the additional gas used will be almost universal. It will be especially noticeable to those who use larger amounts of gas.

The village commission at Wayne has accepted the same rate as above mentioned, and the village commission at Northville will be asked to consider the same schedule of rates for that village.

The gas company is making the lower rate with the view to increasing the number of gas consumers in the communities which they are serving.

7TH ANNUAL FATHER AND SON BANQUET

THE EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 4TH AT THE HIGH SCHOOL GYM.

The seventh annual Father and Son banquet will be held Tuesday, February 4th, at six-thirty o'clock in the high school gym. Tickets may be obtained for seventy-five cents, from any member of the H-Y or Torch Club. The banquet promises to be the best ever held in Plymouth because of a very fine dinner served by the Rebekah ladies, and a very interesting address by Dr. Spencer, president of Hillsdale College. In addition a very interesting program consisting of songs, speeches and music has been arranged.

The annual Father and Son banquet is always one of the outstanding events of the year in Plymouth, and the coming event will be no exception, and will without doubt be largely attended.

4 CANDIDATES WITHDRAW NOMINATIONS—NO PRIMARY

During the past week a sufficient number of duly nominated candidates for membership upon the Village Commission have requested permission to withdraw their names, to reduce the total number of candidates to four, and to make the holding of a primary election unnecessary. Those requesting withdrawal of their names are Paul J. Nutting, Henry Hondorp, Louis Reber and Perry W. Richwine, leaving as candidates to be voted upon at the general spring election: Carl G. Shear, Claude H. Buzzard, Robert O. Mimmack and Dr. F. B. Hoyer. Notices of the holding of a primary election are therefore being withdrawn.

Perry W. Richwine was the last candidate to announce his withdrawal. In requesting permission to withdraw his name, Mr. Richwine pointed out that he felt it worth while to save the Village and its taxpayers the trouble and the expense of holding a primary election, and that this constituted his sole reason for not remaining in the race.

At the general election to be held March tenth, the electors will therefore be asked to choose two commissioners to serve for the ensuing year from the foregoing list of four candidates. The list comprises a group of first class, competent talent for the public service, from which the choice of any two should guarantee the continued high standard of membership upon the Commission.

Business and Professional Women's Club Met

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Plymouth held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Garden Tea Room, with twenty members present. After a very delicious dinner, a short business meeting was held. Miss Marie Johnson was elected to membership in the club.

The hostesses of the evening, Misses Sarah Gayde and Hildur Carlson, were very fortunate in securing for the speaker of the evening, Miss Brumfield of Detroit, who has been a very active worker for several years in the State Federation. Miss Brumfield gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the purposes of the organization, and the work which it is undertaking.

MICHIGAN TRAFFIC DEATHS INCREASE

499 Persons Killed By Traffic In Wayne County In Eleven Months.

DRIVE MORE CAREFUL!

Michigan's traffic deaths are increasing, according to a report issued by H. O. Rounds, safety and traffic director of the Detroit Automobile Club, Wayne County, exclusive of Detroit, lead all other counties of the state for the first 11 months of 1929 in its increase of traffic accidents. During the corresponding period of 1928 Michigan traffic fatalities amounted to 1,223.

Although Kalamazoo and Jackson counties showed slight decreases over last year, Calhoun lead all the rest. Forty deaths were recorded on the traffic roll for the first 11 months of 1929 and during 1928 the county's total was decreased to 27.

Comparative fatals by counties for those having over 20 traffic deaths during the 11 months of 1929, according to Mr. Rounds, are as follows:

County	1929	1928
Oakland	71	61
Genesee	63	54
Kent	62	50
Monroe	51	30
Macomb	44	35
Washtenaw	44	42
Ingham	39	38
Berrien	30	25
Kalamazoo	30	34
Saginaw	29	29
Calhoun	27	40
Bay	25	12
St. Clair	22	19
Jackson	20	27

In Detroit during the same period, 376 persons lost their lives. When added to the fatals for the remainder of Wayne county, this section of the State showed a traffic fatality total of 499 deaths.

Mr. Rounds pointed out that safety education was one of the most instrumental weapons to combat the traffic situation. "It remains for the educators and safety workers throughout the state to instill in the minds of the youth of Michigan the message of safety," he said.

"Although increasing automobile registration and more miles of new highways will increase the danger of the roads of Michigan within the years to come, the growing generations through their early learning of safety will not be confronted with as serious a traffic situation as we have today. Their knowledge will make the streets safer, their understanding of the dangers lurking along the highways will give them a common sense background with which to combat a menacing traffic situation.

"Schoolboy patrols and youthful safety movements are spreading like wildfire throughout the state. These children of today will be the grown-ups of tomorrow who will broadcast the message of safety that will reach to every corner of the state.

Observes Eighty-Fourth Birthday

H. A. Spicer, one of Plymouth's oldest and best known citizens, quietly observed the 84th anniversary of his birth, Wednesday, January 23. Mr. Spicer came to Michigan sixty-six years ago the first of next April, and has made his home here ever since with the exception of three years spent in Marshall, Michigan, two years in Boston, Mass., and one year in Fort Scott, Kansas.

He has seen great changes in Plymouth and its citizens during the many years he has resided here, and none of the original business men and very few of the older residents are now here. Mr. Spicer is hale and hearty for a man of his years, and is able to read without the use of glasses. The staff and many friends extend congratulations.

THE AUTO BUSINESS

The automobile business has in recent years come to be one of the barometers by which we can forecast business generally. In fact, we've heard quite a few Plymouth people argue that the auto industry has become so numerous and widespread that our prosperity hinges on its success. There may be a lot of truth in it, when we consider all the products that go into autos, and the different kinds of employment affected.

At any rate, if the auto industry is to be taken as a barometer, it looks as though we are in for a good year. At the New York show Ford alone hooked $20,000,000 worth of orders the first day; 23 different makers announced they are going to center their energies on the eight-cylinder car this year, and price cuts are numerous. Conservative leaders in auto-making declare the market will not be flooded with cars but that from now on makers will be governed more by actual orders than by a desire to force distributors to dispose of the output no matter how great it might be.

We have recently read much on the subject, and it strikes us that the auto industry is standing pretty solidly on its feet despite some hard bumps last fall. The men who have millions invested in it are optimistic; they believe they've learned a lot of things that will help them in the future, and they are confident 1930 will be a profitable year. If they can feel that way, with millions invested, then the balance of us, who haven't so much at stake but who do try to hope for the best, certainly ought to be satisfied over the outlook.

GOOD BUILDING YEAR

It was only natural that the building industry was the first to feel the effect of the depression which swept the country with the Wall St. crash, but which seems to have pretty generally subsided. So long as people live and work they must have shelter, and without buildings to house them and their families, as well as the machinery with which they produce, they are certain to suffer.

According to authorities, home-building fell off 50 percent while the wave of speculation was at its height, and when 1929 closed it was a billion dollars behind what it totaled in 1928. This can mean but one thing, and that is increased activity in the building line this year if we don't want to fall so far behind we'll never catch up. Then up will go rents, so we'll catch it either way we go.

Regardless of what other lines of industry are doing, our future is tied a little closer to the building of homes than to anything else. We'll feel it right here in Plymouth if this isn't a good year for construction work, for it is a kind of work that touches our lives in many ways. The announcement that last year was a poor building year on account of the stock market crash ought to be accepted as good news. It means that there has to be a sort of boom in building if we catch up. So here is hoping that it turns out that way—or at least that the whole country doesn't go crazy and turn to the stock market again with a still greater decrease in the number of homes actually needed.

THAT LOST LETTER

Do you always make certain that letters you mail are addressed correctly and clearly? If you do not, maybe your letter was among the four million that found their way to the “Dead Letter” office at Washington last year. One state alone sent more than a quarter of a million, the record for careless addressing in 1929. It takes but an extra second to give the address another glance before you post the letter, and that flash of the eye may be the means of preventing its total loss to you and the one you are anxious to have it delivered to. Of course no one who spends a few cents for printed stationery ever loses a letter in this way; if it is misaddressed or cannot be delivered it is returned to the writer instead of being sent to the “Dead Letter” office. But there still are quite a few who try to straggle along without the convenience of printed envelope return cards, so we suppose there will always have to be a “Dead Letter” office for their letters to go to.

GUESSING OUR SIZE

Now that the government is about ready to start taking a census to find out how many people there are in the U. S. Plymouth residents will be interested in a few advance predictions. Louis Treadel, who will have charge of the census, estimates the count to be taken starting April 1 will show a total of 122,000,000 people, or 17,000,000 more than we had in the census of 1920. He also estimates that of this number 46,580,000, or 39 percent, support themselves and the rest of the population. And while on the face of it that doesn't speak so well for our love of work, bear in mind that it includes the aged and infirm, sick and crippled, and all dependents of whatever nature. Also remember that, according to population, this is a larger percentage of actual workers than any other nation on earth can boast. We know we're a great nation in a lot of ways, but this new census is going to tell us many things we never dreamed of along this line. It ought to prove one of the most interesting things in the entire year.

TO STOP OVERPLANTING

While the Federal Farm Board was established with the broadest powers ever given to a government agency, few of our acquaintances around Plymouth have appeared to believe the power would ever be used. But now the board has put its finger on the weakness in all schemes for agricultural relief—over-production—and has put its foot down on it at the same time. The board announces it will not lend money to those who insist on excessive planting. They say that no matter how hard they may work to stabilize prices, and get them to where they will yield a fair profit to the growers, their work will be for naught if a very great number plant abnormal crops and bring forth a harvest so tremendous as to cause price slumps. The argument sounds good, and the fact that the board really has the power to prevent over-planting of any and all crops in any and all parts of the country makes its orders along this line worth listening to, and worth watching.

MICHIGAN FEDERATED UTILITIES

COOKERY PARCHMENT PAPER

Parchment paper, so named as it is an imitation of the original paper made from the skin of an animal, is certainly not the least of the many kitchen conveniences that are being brought forth to make the household run more smoothly.

Parchment paper has many characteristics which make it ideal as a cooking aid. It is inexpensive, non-absorbent, will not adhere to food, is toughest when wet or greased, water makes it as pliable as cloth, will stand any type of cooking, and is so durable that after using it, it need simply be washed, laid out to dry, and is ready for use again.

It is invaluable for steaming foods such as puddings, vegetables, etc. It will retain every bit of food material so is especially recommended for the cooking of weak-flavored vegetables. Strong vegetables, such as onions and cabbages, would probably be better if cooked in water alone as water always tends to draw out flavor. For steaming, merely place the seasoned food on the paper, draw the corners of the paper together and tie securely. The paper-wrapped food can then be set in the top of the steamer or lowered directly into the water.

Fish prepared in parchment paper is delicious. It will come out firm and swimming in its own juices with all flavors retained and no gummy taste. It may be placed on the bottom of meat pans to keep the fat from scorching, or put on top of a roast to prevent the meat from becoming too brown.

Parchment paper has its place in your baking problems, also. It can be used to protect the top of food that requires long baking, such as angel food or fruit cake. It may be cut to fit the bottoms of your baking tins, and used over and over again to prevent the batter sticking.

Some other practical uses for parchment paper are: Spread it on the table when you wish to prepare cookie dough, or cut ice box dough before baking. Use it in the preparation of vegetables, fruits or meats. It is much more sanitary than newspaper, will not stick to the food, and you are running no chance of having the bottom fall out from excessive moisture. It is splendid for wrapping lunches, especially salads, pickles, and soft fruits that ordinary paper will not hold. Use it to wrap or cover foods in the refrigerator. It will keep out moisture and odors from the surrounding foods.

If you have never done any cooking in parchment paper try it and see how well it works in your kitchen. The longer you have it around the more valuable it will become to you.

Steamed Date and Nut Pudding

Remove the pits from two ten-ounce packages of dates (one pound and four ounces), and cut the dates in halves; add one pound of walnut meats broken in small pieces, and dredge with one tablespoon of flour to keep the pieces of date from sticking together. Sift together one cup of flour, one cup of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls and one-half of baking powder; add the yolks of four eggs, beaten with one-fourth a cup of milk until light; add the date and nut mixture and lastly add the whites of four eggs, beaten stiff. Work the mixture with a silver knife. Turn into a buttered mould or tin and steam in parchment paper and steam five hours. Serve with whipped cream or hard sauce. This makes a delicious and rich pudding, but can be varied according to the number of guests, the occasion, and the amount of money desired to be spent. Raisins and currants may be used in place of the dates, grape nuts or bran may be used in place of nutmeats, and spices may be added as desired.

Civilization Has Brought EYE STRAIN

A national study of the eyes of workers in industries made by the Hoover Committee, showed that fully 50 per cent of the 42 million men and women employed in the United States are handicapped by defective sight.

Among school children 60 per cent have eye defects, and at least 25 per cent have defects that will seriously hamper their education if not corrected in time.

Nothing contributes more to our general well-being than early and regular care of the eyes. We will gladly help you keep your eyesight up to 100 per cent efficiency.

Hough School News

Miss Jameson visited our school January 8, 1930, and gave us 20 stars. The P. T. A. bought new black satin stage curtains.

There are 21 pupils that haven't missed a day in the month of December, and there are seven pupils that have been neither tardy nor absent this year.

There are 27 pupils that are on the dental honor roll, and nine that are going to the dentist.

Mr. Carr and Miss Eckhart visited our school January 15, 1930. Miss Eckhart played us the following records for music appreciation: Stars and Stripes Forever, Spring Song, Spinning Wheel, Three Bears.

For art work we have made posters of winter scenes. We are making vases out of old jars. Then we cut out some pretty paper and paste it on them. We paint them with black paint and then we varnish them.

One of the pupils brought some strawflowers to put in one of the vases. The P. T. A. bought us some new library books. We read in them every Friday, and our teacher, Miss Peck, tests us after reading to improve our reading.

The fourth graders were studying about crops and farming in geography. They made a farm in the sand table. They have animals, chicken house, barn and a house. They have a fence around their farm. They planted some crops, wheat, barley, oats and corn.

They water them every day a little, and now their wheat is 6 inches high and their oats and barley 5 inches high. Their corn is just coming up. Everything is nice and green on their farm.

A most enjoyable meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Thursday, January 23, at the home of the president, Mrs. E. R. Daggett. Despite the extreme cold of the day there was an unusually large attendance.

An excellent paper, "The Married Woman's Wages," by Mrs. I. N. Dickerson, was followed by a discussion, "Should a Married Woman Have an Allowance." The president read a very amusing poem entitled "The Farmer's Idle Wife," and Mrs. Bork gave three delightful recitations.

The next meeting will occur February 27, at the home of Mrs. Wynna Bartlett.

I. O. O. F. NOTES

Brothers, the first month of this term has passed away. The attendance of the brothers on Tuesday evenings has increased about 50%, and we expect to double in the next month. Can we depend on you being present at least twice during February?

Degree work will be renewed next meeting, under the leadership of Bro. Triakos, P. G.

One brother brought in two petitions last week. If the rest of us get busy we should at least have one apiece before March 1.

Don't forget about the euchre parties with the K. of P.s which had to be postponed last week. "Get in the habit of coming to lodge meetings. It is surprising how interested one can become if he just enters into the work. Trusting that I may see you at lodge soon. Yours in F. L. & T., Moritz Langendam, Sr."

The new rates of dues do not take effect until they have been returned from the Grand Lodge By-Law Committee.

All sick brothers were reported as improved Tuesday evening. There has been a committee appointed to work with a committee from the Rebekah lodge on a social evening Friday, February 14th. A good time is in store for you if you are present.

It is impossible to give the dates for the euchre parties with the K. of P.s until a later date.

Sixteen officers present; let's have the other one next week.

Trend To Chromium Noted In Factories Completed Products

RADIATOR SHELLS PROVE PUBLIC FAVOR; PARTS USED IN MANUFACTURE TREATED TO WEAR BETTER.

The widespread use of chromium in decorating was indicated at the recent Automobile show, where every make car but one employed this metal in places where nickel plating formerly was used. Its establishment as a fashion is further indicated by the modern bathroom fixtures that go into plumber's specifications today. Knobs and nozzles, formerly of nickel plating, have acquired the new brilliance of chromium finish.

The importance of chromium in industry is evidenced in the number of Detroit manufacturers who are adding long wear to tools used in the shops by plating them with hard chromium.

"Chromium plating increases the wearing of any surface to which it is applied," M. O. G. Heilman, a Detroit manufacturer said. "It has a durability of 200 per cent to 2,000 per cent over hardened tool steel," he said.

Used to Harden Dies. "All dies, extrusion and forming dies, show an increase of 100 to 500 per cent. Drop forging dies, shallow drop forging dies show an increase of 40 to 50 per cent."

"Chromium reduces sticking considerably. In arbors, tool holders, the shanks and wear surfaces are frequently chrome plated, as well as machine parts having abutting and bearings which are exposed to hard wear."

"Chromium plating is frequently used for building up the proportions for one or more surfaces of parts that have been ground undersized. This method is more economical and quicker than re-manufacturing the piece.

Ranks With Diamond. "Milling cutters used on brass and non-ferrous parts have been plated with chrome to show an increase of 100 per cent to 1,000 per cent in wear. Burnishing broaches always stand up better when covered with the extra wearing chrome plating," Mr. Heilman said.

"Chromium as a metal ranks next to the diamond in hardness and will not corrode. For hard plating it is placed in a solution and the current coming from a lead anode passes through the solution and deposits chromium on the piece which is on the negative end of the circuit. It has been used for a number of years in the manufacture of alloy steel."—Detroit Free Press.

Now that they've decided to lengthen skirts to the ground we'll soon find out if the crime wave was caused by the war or by legs.

Today's Reflections

A lot of fellows never put their best foot forward—now that brass balls have been abolished.

We see in an exchange that worry is deadly. Now that's something else to worry about.

Another hard thing for Plymouth merchants to understand is why Santa Claus is so prompt in giving out presents yet so slow in paying his bills.

Mary a man keeps his nose to the grindstone so his wife can turn up her's at the neighbors.

Experience is about the only thing in this world that you can't buy on the easy payment plan.

The community is safe as long as a majority of Plymouth men prefer the old-fashioned nightgown to undergarment pajamas.

Investigate Before You Invest

Here is a good thing to bear in mind: When an investment proposition offers big returns with very little chance of loss, it is not necessary to send salesmen around the country letting the public in.

The next time a stranger comes to you with a "sure shot" business opportunity, ask yourself if he isn't going to a good deal of trouble in order to let you make some money. Ask yourself why he didn't let a few big financiers handle it. If a thing is safe for you, it would have been safe for them.

Before you invest, investigate! The Plymouth United Savings Bank will be glad to obtain reliable information for you without charge.

LIBRARY NOTES

LIST OF BOOKS FOR MRS. LYNDE'S CHILD STUDY GROUPS

These books are at the Plymouth Branch Library, 204 Main Street:

"Problems of Childhood," by Angelo Patri.—It is all done with the greatest simplicity, although it is all based on the results of modern investigation and scientific research. His Miss Lavinia, his Story-Teller, Charlotte's Father, the music teacher who taught her class the "marching song" suggest priceless viewpoints and ways and means to the "average" parents and teachers for whom he writes.

"Child Guidance," by Blanton.—The authors have written this book out of their actual experience with the problems of childhood. In it they deal with the normal child, and addressing themselves to parents, explain the wisest way to train the child and guide him in acquiring right habits from infancy through adolescence.

"Parents and Children," by Groves.—Here are no charts, diagrams or statistics to point the way, but the quiet and deep observations of experience. It is a discussion of problems met in ordinary homes.

"Everyday Problems of the Everyday Child," by Thom.—The language is simple and non-technical; the problems chosen for discussion are those which practically every parent encounters in a more or less serious form. Persons who are interested in the practical aspects of child welfare should find much that is helpful in this book.

"Nervous Child," by Cameron.

"Job of Being a Dad," by Cheley.

"If Parents Only Knew," by Cleveland.

"Child Care and Training," by Feare and Anderson.

"Mothers and Children," by Fisher.

"Homemaker and Her Job," by Gilbreth.

"Living With Our Children," by Gilbreth.

Chance Query Recovers Ring Lost Six Years

Edgerton, Minn.—A ring lost for six years, was restored to Mrs. Wiekard because she said the right thing at the right time. While a tenant occupying the farm formerly rented by Mrs. Wiekard was visiting at her home she asked: "Did any one ever find a ring on your place? I lost one there about six years ago." Thereupon the visitor pulled the ring from his pocket and told that he had found it two years ago but never knew its owner.

There are three scout ranks still open to a boy after he becomes a First Class Scout. Five merit badges won and three months First Class service, entitle him to the Star Rank. These six boys received this badge: Gordon Roy and J. D. McLaren of P-1; Ernest Archer and Bruce Miller of P-2; Henry Bengert of P-3, and William Tuck of RG-1.

A Star Scout who has won ten merit badges, including five required badges and has served six months as a First Class Scout, is entitled to the Life rank. Three Scouts received this honor—Gordon Roy, P-1; James Hollaway, P-2; and Henry Bengert, P-3.

The Eagle rank is the highest attainable by a Boy Scout. An Eagle may win palm for his badge by additional work, but his title does not change. Twenty-one merit badges must have been earned during at least a year's service as First Class Scout. Eleven of these are required and are those particularly useful and necessary in promoting the "preparedness" for which a Scout is responsible. The winning of an Eagle badge is not easy and is a very real honor. Two Plymouth Scouts realized their scout ambitions at this court and were decorated with this very handsome badge.

In accordance with the custom of having an Eagle's mother or father pin on his new badge, Mrs. Ernest Allison pinned an eagle on her son, Frank, of P-1, and T. H. Connell in like manner decorated Arden Connell of P-3. Besides this, Don Sutherland, chairman of the P-3 Troop Committee, presented Arden with an Eagle ring in behalf of the Rotary Club, sponsors of the troop, and Scoutmaster Strong of P-1 presented an Eagle ring to Frank.

All the boys receiving honors were given hearty cheers by the audience, led by Joe Schroeder of RG-1. The pennant awarded at each court or rally to the troop having present the largest number of friends or relatives, was again won by the Rosedale Troop. Their 36 was closely seconded by P-1's 35. A really fine delegation of Plymouth people drove down to watch the ceremonies of this court, and enjoyed the pride and pleasure shown by the boys in receiving their awards.

One presentation, made after the pennant had been disposed of, was not on the printed program. In response to a call from the chairman for remarks from Troop representatives, George A. Smith came forward and in behalf of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, presented Sidney D. Strong, P-1 Scoutmaster, with a very handsome wristwatch in appreciation of his work for the last seven years with the Scouts of Plymouth. The thoroughly surprised and embarrassed Scoutmaster voiced his thanks as well as he could, and the court then adjourned after the Great Scoutmaster benediction and taps sounded by Angler Forbes Smith of P-1.

Since skirts have become longer and dollar bills smaller it takes more money to cover a girl.

Not all of the people who are hard to talk to are deaf. Some of them are just dumb.

When we asked Dad Plymouth who he thought would win the latest revolution in Mexico he said "The Standard Oil Company."

You may have noticed that those people who boast that they "say what they think" are either old, crippled or too puny to withstand a nose punching.

J. W. WALKER

Our Boy Scouts are also thankful to Mr. Bennett of the Plymouth United Savings Bank for the appropriate calendar hanging in their room at the church.

We had been thinking of changing the sign west of Pembroke Road from Boys' Flying Field to Girls' Skating Field, but the weather was and has been too cold for to get the painters outside. But it needs no sign there at present, anyhow, as all who skate know of the excellent skating field. Nice, open and fresh air like. And all are taking advantage of it when the weather is not too severe and some of the big boys and girls as well when it is not as cold as our three shovelers have reported, which was that the weatherman had said that it would be fair and warmer on the morrow, but it would have to be a heck of a lot warmer and it would still be cold, and they didn't say heck either, but it means the same only more so. However, some folks from the city have been taking advantage of the Flying Field Ice Field evenings and Sunday afternoon, as there is safe parking space for their cars and plenty of light from the hoortle lights of Plymouth Road (U. S. 12), for those who may read this and come from Detroit and Highland Park or some other foreign seaport. We say seaport, because we consider Detroit and River Rouge a seaport, and if President Hoover and the Buttermilk Club have their way it will be more than ever, and that is no bulldozing dream either.

Traveler on way to California just stopped by for further information on highways thereto. We took "spec. palm" in telling him the best we could as it was still colder thinking how warm he would be there. As he drove away, we noticed the sign on his spare tires (plural), "May sure Kar and my Kar Never Meet." Which was good at that. Several of the little folks had been watching our carpenter, Russ Thompson, and his mate, one Herb Stone, trace out chimneys and windows on a couple of homes whilst perched on ladders. Queried they of Herb, "What-cha doing mister carpenter?" Being a playful chap always, and down on these folks who try to de-bunk Santa Claus, replies Herb, nice and quiet, like the tone that pa uses when he wants ma to bake a nice chocolate cake, says he: "Well, you see children, Santa Claus had such a big pack last Xmas that he just kinda spread the chimney away from the house when he went down and now I hafuh go around and use this here caulking compound to sorta glue the chimney back onto the house again"—and how? After working hard for several days and evenings and up to Saturday night and bean and brown bread, time, the boys had hoped to have a Sunday off. Which they did. And now, as if to split them for the first sunny Sunday that they had off for a long time, old Windy Weather himself comes along in person from another direction and the three Shovelers, Art, Al and Walt, had to man the shovels and blows again, for the snow has all blown in again, and, at the present writing Art stuck with the plow and truck over Pembroke road trying to get the way clear for those on the "church street" to get in and out.

We have welcomed little Jeanne (7) and Mary (3) to our school and Sunday-school. They have moved in their new bungalow on Melrose Avenue with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ames, formerly of Wayne. Broken bones are in season, in Detroit as well as here. Mrs. Walker's doctor reports that one afternoon last week he had seven and another day five broken legs, no more, no less! Gosh, be careful, brother, and watch your step, sister.

Went down to "R" Grocers this a. m. and thought another cyclone was raging inside, or some such disease. Lot to behold, counters, tables, cake racks and all sorts of things were all turned around, but found everything quiet and tranquil like, just the same as if Clarence and Chuck had been playing at checker tournaments with said same, and there was Clarence placidly sawing away at a chunk of dead pig (pork hams) and Perry Smith also sawing away at wood butchering.

It was explained that they were going to make the store sorta modernizing like, and that Perry was busy making new shelving and Clarence making ready for the regular evening's rush for pork steaks and what nots. Whilst there also did a good turn for the Boy Scouts and got several new recruits for the examining council, from a couple gents who had not heard a thing about Monday's evening session of Buttermilkers on the subject. We thereupon waded thru the increasing snow drifts to the pill rolling marte, thereupon feeling all lit up like last Xmas tree did the evening of the rite before, and asked our local chemist if he would also act on the committee for the examination of the boys. He immediately agreed YES, so now the boys can go to Jordan for Chemistry, First Aid in all its branches, and other appropriate subjects that are poison ivy to the others who are more proficient in the arts and crafts.

And there just came along one of those tin insects with a retrogressive motor and whose radiator was working like a water or some such bird, says he sez: "Kinda cold today ain't it partner?" Well we didn't think we'd melt standing out there on the Plymouth road sidewalk, so we asked him in by the fireside where he could light his pipe with a single match and after telling us that he was on his way back home, as he had been down to Hank Ford's place in Dearborn way to get a dog and found out that they were only taking on natives first, decided that Cross-Corners was the safest place for him. Thus Wayne County lost another prospective citizen for a time, at least.

Upon opening up the shop for the day's business (?) we found the following stuck in our typewriter:

$500.00 REWARD

Five hundred and no-100 dollars in good American money will be paid to the boy scout, Girl Scout, Gardener, or any other man, woman or child who will give information leading to the discovery of the person or persons who are guilty of poisoning the dog "Bruce." Bruce, the great police dog of the Melrose Avenue neighborhood, was poisoned sometime on or about January 29, just past, and as noted in the News, he died last week, and was buried January 30 in a vault, after much suffering and a valiant effort on the part of his masters, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Weaver and dog doctors summoned to the bedside of poor Bruce. There have been rumors, and rumors of rumors about the neighborhood of the Melrose Avenue section of who was and who was not the guilty party, and according to Mr. Weaver, the tales have reached his ears and therefore he offers the said sum of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS for CONFIRMATION THEREOF, and promises that he will resort only to the due process of the laws on the subject of poisoning of animals, which, from all accounts, is a very serious thing in all parts of Michigan.

Mrs. Frank Ames is entertaining her parents from way out South Dakota way, in her new home on Melrose Avenue.

Mrs. James Kinahan is entertaining her father, Mr. Murphy, at her home on Newberry Avenue.

New headline, "Barish Market Forces Liquidation" certainly wish that some kind of market, or some other thing, an abnormal spring for instance, would liquidate this snow and ice business and give us the good old summer time once again. We don't know whether or not the sun spots have anything to do with it, but we do know that SOME spots have to do with broken arms.

Lady comes by the other afternoon from here, there or Detroit, some place or other, and says she, in words to the effect, that she had attended an open meeting of the Northwestern Club on Monday p. m. and said meeting was held at and in the weather being colder than today, the Ionic Masonic Temple. The meeting was O. K., many lady folks and others there, and they all enjoyed the talk on the Art of Living by the pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, but what she liked most of all was a trumpet playing by a young fellow hereabouts, possibly Rosedale Boy Scout is it?

Thinking that it might be that Chuck Duryea and Miss Edna, who are up to such tricks as playing over the radio on WGHF, and it is said have a date with our friend Leo Fitzpatrick of WJR, next month sometime, we there and then described said young folks to said aforesaid lady, and she immediately recognized them by our oral picture of the musicians. She, that is the lady from somewhere, wanted to know if this here Charles Duryea, could teach her boy the cornet or trumpet. Not that we wanted to say it, for it certainly wasn't Boy Scout like, but we did—"If he is teachable, guess Chuck can do it, as he is full of those tricks." Said lady replied that her offspring was just as smart as any Gardener boy, but all he needed was a good patient teacher.

We assured her that no better could be found, and if she cared, too, our neighbors, who always were welcome to the woods behind the barn at the Tea Room any day from sun rise to sun set, and upon giving directions to where we thought Chuck was changing a tire or oil or something, she thanked us, and returned half an hour later and thanked us again, for she had got Chuck to promise to visit her home and her boy to visit Chuck and he would either teach him to blow the old horn or would blow himself out in an honest attempt. So for getting a new pupil for him, we will have Chuck and Miss Edna play for us some Sunday evening at our church coffee klatch.

Another thing happened that wasn't very nice. That tricky little devil on winds, Jack Frost, went and stole our water-tower-like. And now we just hafuh kinda watch out for the street post lights every now and second so that we do not pass our happy hunting grounds until the weather warms up enough to let some one go up and fix it. It looks as though the cold on Saturday morn., and the wind that knocked the bulb surrounding the electric lamp was blown cock-eyed, or whatever you say when it is not straight and leaning toward the northeast, which reminds us that all the storm and snow this winter has come from the southwest, which is why the southwest, especially in California, are having an abnormally dry winter while we suffer with a sub-normal zero-wet one, we explain it that way, for if we did not, the weather man would explain it some other way, and we would like to have it correct the first time.

Mrs. Joseph Schroeder John A. Murphy of Traverse City, is spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Kinahan of Berwick Ave. Mrs. M. James entertained Mr. and Mrs. O. Price, Mr. and Mrs. L. Huron and Mr. and Mrs. J. Schroeder, Wednesday evening. Bridge was played and luncheon served. STARS OF BIG-TOPS GATHER IN DETROIT

The Shrine Circus will stage one of the largest, and without exception, the best Mid-Winter Circus ever held in the City of Detroit, February 3rd to 15th inclusive (excepting Sunday), according to T. E. Stinson, chairman of the circus committee for the past eight years.

One of the marvels of the age will be Clyde Beatty, who will enter the arena with his forty wild beasts—lions and tigers. No animal trainer ever before has attempted to risk his life in a cage with so many wild animals.

Lillian Letzel, who has gained international fame in trapeze endurance act, will be another great feature.

Walter Powell, the world's greatest somersaulting wire walker, will dare the audience breathless with his "dare devil" feats.

Then, there will be the Reiffenach Sisters, the great bareback riders, who have thrilled thousands.

The Wallendas, who will entertain us in one of the most daring high wire acts that has ever been seen in the country.

The largest single act in the circus, will be the Flying Wards, with a personnel of eighteen.

Another great innovation will be the presentation of fifteen acts simultaneously. A total of sixty acts will be presented.

On the opening afternoon, nearly ten thousand children, including those from every charitable institution in Detroit, are to be the guests of the Shrine. William Gutman, county auditor, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. All those who can supply automobiles for the purpose of transporting children to and from the circus, the afternoon of the third, will kindly call Miss Lavine Carter at the Community Union.

Reserve seats are now on sale at the Shrine Club, Glendale, 7600, Detroit, Michigan.

"Just off hand," says Dad Plymouth, "members of the younger generation don't seem to be able to find anything else as foolish as spending half of the day in bed."

Hearing that Chicago is going to celebrate "a century of progress," Dad Plymouth says he supposes that means from tomahawk to machine gun.

Christian Science Notes

"Truth" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, January 28.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "By mercy and truth iniquity is purged; and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil" (Prov. 16:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue" (p. 142).

METHODIST NOTES

"And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment. And the second is like him, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these" (Mark 12:30,31).

"Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord, to thee; Take my moments and my days; Let them flow in ceaseless praise; Take my silver and my gold; Not a mite would I withhold; Take my intellect, and use Every power as thou shalt choose." We all enjoy singing. Come out Sunday night (7:15 to 8) and join in the song service, preceding the sermon, sing the old hymns we have loved so long.

Wednesday, February 28th, at 2:30, the L. A. S. will meet in their room. Our hostesses will be Mrs. E. H. Partridge, Mrs. Guy Fisher and Mrs. Albert Groth. Mrs. Terry will have the devotions, and the program will be sponsored by Mrs. Wynan Bartlett, Mrs. Frank Blunk and Mrs. J. B. Hillier. This is the last meeting before our annual bazaar, on February 29th, and all the ladies are urged to be present.

The Official Board will meet Wednesday evening, following the prayer and praise service, to which all are invited.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The Mission Study class met Tuesday evening at the manse. There were twenty-two present, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Supper, a cooperative one, was excellent. Then Mrs. Rose Holstein took charge of the meeting and conducted the business. Among other decisions a bazaar for the manse was arranged for. Mrs. Clyde Smith gave a very interesting review of a book on pioneer American life in Nebraska, "A Lantern in Her Hand" by Bease Streeter Aldrich.

The Leadership Training class has had an encouraging beginning. It meets Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m., and is open to all who wish to attend. Sunday evening, February 9th, a group of the young people of the Dodge Community House, Detroit, will present a play, "The Finger of God," in the church here. It promises us a real message.

The Busy Women's Class will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. C. Leach, on Main street. There will be cooperative dinner at noon, with the afternoon devoted to business, a program and a social hour.

BAPTIST NOTES

About sixty young people are expected to motor to Wayne tonight to attend the banquet furnished by the Wayne Baptist church. The banquet and program is to be furnished free of charge. Everyone who participated in the winning of the contest is entitled to a seat.

Beginning Sunday evening the pastor will preach a series of six sermons dealing with prophecy and the Christian religion. The first four are in relation to Christ and fulfilled scripture concerning Him. The last two are in regard to prophecy concerning our present generation. These messages should be of interest to everyone interested in the things pertaining to their spiritual life. A cordial invitation is extended to the public. Special features will include the orchestra and vocal numbers.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is Candlemas day, February 2nd. The candles will be blessed before the high mass, and those wishing candles can obtain the same after mass.

Monday is the feast of St. Blaise, and it is customary to bless the throats of the faithful on this day. Throats will be blessed after mass and at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Saturday there will be instructions for the children at 9:30 a. m.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The Chief Service in the Episcopal Church

In the Episcopal church the chief act of public worship is the Lord's Supper, the Sacrament of Holy Communion. This is the distinct command of Christ, who said, "Do this in remembrance of me." More than that it is a great privilege! From a careful reading of the Acts of the Apostles we learn that this was the regular weekly service of the early Christians who came together on the first day of the week for "the Breaking of Bread." A regular participation in the Holy Communion is the duty of every Christian as well as an opportunity which should not be neglected. The Holy Communion will be celebrated at St. John's church this Sunday at 10:00 a. m.

Next Sunday, February 9, there will be a special "Father and Son Service," to which it is especially urged that all men and boys of the parish should come; in fact not only father and their sons, but all members of the family should participate.

The annual convention of the Diocese of Michigan and the House of Churchwomen will meet next week, February 5 and 6, in Detroit. The meetings are open to visitors.

Attend church next Sunday; every Sunday. If a communicant, plan to make your communion. Our aim should be "Every member a worshipper."

Did Plymouth think another way to help the farmer would be to exempt the bootleggers to make whiskey out of corn instead of old rye, commuted rye and things like that.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES

The usual morning service was held in the school building last Sunday morning owing to the fact that the church was being newly decorated. Every seat in the room was taken as well as many chairs being occupied.

The pastor, Rev. Paul Taylor did not preach a sermon but rather gave his people an explanation of the article which had appeared in the Detroit News on Wednesday, January 22nd. At the close of the service a business meeting was called by the trustees of the church with E. C. Smith presiding.

In most instances of the kind there is a difference of opinion, but not in this case. Every member of the church was given the opportunity to voice his or her opinion and everyone was of the same opinion. Every person present expressed the confidence they had in their pastor, that he was not a gambler as one might think by reading the newspapers, but that he was an innocent party who unfortunately fell into the hands of a gang of gamblers, and had any one of them been placed in his place they would have had to do exactly as he did.

Next Sunday morning services will be held at 10:30 as usual in the newly decorated church.

Plymouth Annexes Victory From Belleville

The Plymouth bluebirds grabbed a close decision from the visiting Belleville basket ballers last Friday night. The closing moments of play saw the boys from Belleville come within one basket of tying the score.

Seitz left forward for the Black and Orange team. opened the evening with a field goal from short range. DePorter's shot knotted the score. However, Belleville was ahead at the whistle, 5 to 7.

During the second quarter the Rocks scored twelve points to assume an eight point lead. This was not for long, because the visiting aggregation tied the score with an offensive that netted eight points. This happened in the early part of the third quarter.

In the last period the score was tied at 22 points all. Randall sunk a shot to give the Blue and White team a two marker lead. Here Belleville took time out but fifteen seconds was too short a time to tie the score. The final score was 22-24 in Plymouth's favor.

Plymouth Wins From Howell

In the fourth debate in the preliminary series, Plymouth won from Howell, 3-0, at Howell, January 24th. The debate was quite close, the Plymouth group piling up enough arguments in rebuttal to swing the verdict in their favor. The Plymouth team was composed of Harold Stevens, Marion Gust and Lester Daly. The Howell debaters were Marion McDowell, Elizabeth Spencer and Alice Wrigglesworth. The

Junior Sleigh Ride

The juniors held their annual sleigh ride party Monday evening. The class met in front of the school at 7:30. Two sleds had been hired, but one failed to show up, making it a rather complex problem to place some forty-five students into the one sled.

We danced and obtained our refreshments at the barbecue. Despite the fact that we were all bothered with the "flying" hay, we all had a good time.

Starkweather News

Charles Pelky is absent from Miss Stader's room, with chicken-pox. The room won the P. T. A. banner for having the largest attendance at the last P. T. A. meeting. Nine Fishlock won a prize for having the most stars on the Spelling Club poster.

Swartz Street Band

The Swartz Street Band played at the Belleville-Plymouth basket ball game last Friday night at our school. This band is not the regular school band, although composed of all high school pupils. It has eleven members whose names are Dick Hower, Joseph Ribar, George Todd, Albert Miller, Steve Horvath, Louis Sherman, Albert Gates, Forbes Smith, Claude Hocker, Lester Daly and Max Todd, drum major. The Swartz Street Band did very well in the pieces that they played during the intermission.

Bernice Meeker and Phyllis Campbell are both out with chicken-pox. In art, the children have made jumping-jacks.

Semester's End Terrors

With what trepidation did I approach the high school all the latter part of last week. Why? Do not be stupid, semester exams of course. My knees trembled so that at the beginning of each test hour, I did not sit down, I fell down. As for my heart, I cannot tell yet whether it was in my stomach or throat; more likely my stomach because it had such a sinking feeling, and yet I know I swallowed some large object several times.

G. R. Conference

At the Girl Reserve Conference held Saturday, January 25, at the new "Y" building in Detroit, it was decided that at the mid-winter conference, February 7, 8, 9, Girl Reserves not acting as delegates from their clubs may attend the mass meeting during which Miss Annie Gilbert, head of the national Y. W. C. A., will speak.

"Talkies" are being installed in the Washington Theatre at Brighton. The William Ford school and the cafeteria of the Ferson high school were broken into last week and were robbed of the sum of $39.25. St. Joseph's Catholic church of Howell, will build a new parochial school. It is planned to have it completed by September 1st, 1930.—Brighton Argus. The hospital board of Dearborn approved the purchase of 20 acres, just north of the Henry Ford school, at a cost of $175,000 for a municipal hospital, last week Tuesday. The Dearborn Press, Dearborn's oldest newspaper, has purchased the Dearborn Star, Dearborn's youngest newspaper. The Star will appear on Tuesdays and the Press on Thursdays. The Bopp Steel Corporation has started the first unit of its plant in Dearborn, which will be completed by April 1, at a cost of $50,000. The concern will manufacture cold rolled strip steel and will employ 300 men.

Work was begun last week on the new bus station at Wayne. Perry has an excellent fire record. No hose has been used and but four calls were answered by the department with practically no damage. One hundred and nine dollars covers the cost of fires in the village for the past two years.—Brighton Argus. The Tower Rubber Company has taken over the plant formerly occupied by the Chelsea Rubber Company, and has installed over 80 tons of heavy rubber machinery. The concern will make rubber stair treads, kneeling mats and a general line of rubber goods. MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"FOOTLIGHTS AND FOOLS" "Footlights and Fools" the newest of Colleen Moore's entertaining screen stories, and the first of her dialogue pictures, to include episodes in Technicolor, has been secured by the management of the Pennington Allen Theatre, and will be shown Sunday and Monday, February 2 and 3. This Vitaphone special offers the popular little star a wide scope for her exceptional talent in characterization. For her role includes highly interesting variations. She appears as a supposedly exotic French actress, with an intriguing Parisian accent, in part of the story; impersonates a slangy Broadway chorus-girl in another episode of the plot, and plays the greater part of her characterization in her own charming personality. Although "Footlights and Fools" recounts the humorous and dramatic adventures of a Broadway revue star, it is not solely a story of backstage life. Miss Moore's two leading men, Raymond Hackett and Frederic March, do not portray theatrical characters, and the plot is built around a three-sided romance, with the eventual winner of Colleen not being disclosed until the final moments of the picture. Technicolor has been employed to enhance the beauty of several stage numbers, in which Colleen is supported by a huge ensemble of seventy-two brilliantly costumed show girls and dancers. It is in these color episodes that the popular song hits "I Can't Hate You," "You Can't Believe My Naughty Eyes" and "Pilly Pom Pom Plee" are introduced, all of which are sung by Miss Moore. In addition to Hackett and March, the supporting cast of "Footlights and Fools" presents Virginia Lee Corbin, Edward Martindel, Adrienne d'Ambri-court, Mickey Bennett, Cleve Moore, Andy Rice, Jr., Frederic Howard and Sidney Jarvis in other important portrayals. John McCormick produced this First National and Vitaphone picture, which William A. Seiter directed from Carey Wilson's scenario.

approximately half of the picture, extended a liberal invitation for comedy, as well as mystery and thrills, with some to be brighten each incident. There is a touch of Heloise in "Welcome Danger" with Lloyd creating a tension in several spots underground with only a darkened screen and the voice to hold an audience taut. These moments have been handled in masterful fashion, abetted by dialog that commands unerring audience attention. Nonb Young, as a young police rookie in San Francisco, plays a wonderful "straight" for Lloyd in the underground faction, and helps materially in putting over the comedy business. Barbara Kent, besides being decorative as leading lady, has a splendid voice, picture personality, and acting finesse. William Walling and Charles Middleton contribute much to the support, as do the eminent Chinese actor, James Wang, and the boy, Douglas Haig.

"WELCOME DANGER" Variety has been the keynote of Harold Lloyd's success. He never covers the same territory in any two pictures. When he started lining up his first talking picture, "Welcome Danger" he sought a locale for his action that had never been touched by himself. After considering a dozen suggestions, he decided that underground Chinatown offered a great latitude for comedy, and in that decision he made no mistake. Judging by the ultimate results in "Welcome Danger," which comes to the Pennington Allen Theatre on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 4, 5 and 6. In his initial audible offering, Lloyd has extremely colorful background throughout the entire story. The sequence in Chinatown which covers ap-

"POINTED HEELS" After completing the solution of two murders as Philo Vance in Paramount's "The Canary Murder Case" and "The Green Murder Case," William Powell will return to the all-talking screen at the Pennington Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, February 7 and 8, in a role similar to those which brought him earlier fame in the silent films. He is performing the central character part of Robert Courtland in "Pointed Heels." In this role he portrays a man of the world, a sort of urbane demi-villain who tries to break up the happy marriage of a show girl friend and her youthful composer-husband. It is a perfect Powell role, and the suave William plays it to perfection. Fay Wray is the show girl. She is more bewitching than ever. Phillips Holmes, handsome Princeton man, and the son of Taylor Holmes, favorite of stage and screen, is the youthful husband. Helen Kane of radio and phonograph record fame—the same who played coquettish roles in "Nothing But the Truth" and "Sweetie"—is co-featured with Powell. She plays the role of Dot Nixon, crooning singer of the song and dance team Dot and Dash Nixon of which Richard "Skeets" Gallagher is the Dash. Eugene Pallette, who was Powell's team-mate, the Sgt. Heath of the S. S. Van Dine murder mystery picture, is cast in the part of Joe Clark, stage manager for the revues which Powell finances on Broadway. The production, which is an all-talking Paramount one, was directed by A. Edward Sutherland. The story of "Pointed Heels" was written by Charles Brackett, New York dramatic critic. The adaptation was written by Florence Ryerson and John V. A. Weaver.

"NO MEDICINE IN THE WORLD LIKE KONJOLA" LADY WAS TOLD SHE MUST HAVE OPERATION—NEW MEDICINE SCORES COMPLETE VICTORY. "In my estimation there is no medicine in the world like Konjola," said Mrs. Frank Letson, 130 South Third Street, Saginaw. "For a long time I suffered terribly from indigestion and eventually my heart was affected. Then other troubles developed, and I was told that I would have to undergo an operation. I suffered such agony that I had to walk the floor. I dreaded the operation and determined to keep on taking Konjola. "This medicine had greatly relieved my indigestion and I had a world of faith in it. Well, one day, after I had suffered an unusually bad attack of pain, I noticed a change. It seemed to be the turning point, and thereafter I improved rapidly. Day by day I got better, and today I am not only blessed with fine digestion but the other trouble has disappeared. Is it any wonder that I praise Konjola?" Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Cold Water Thrown on That Milk Snake Story

I am reminded of a conversation that I once had in the pine barrens with an old darkey who claimed to be an expert on snakes. I had that day caught a large specimen of a king snake—that black and white serpent which is immune to the bite of any snake in North America, and which will kill in a fair fight any rattlesnake which it may meet. The sight of the king snake started my colored friend on a line of snake stories. Among them, I remember, was one about a cow on his father's farm that suddenly went dry. When she was watched it was found that every afternoon she would go down into the far end of the pasture and low, faintly, whereupon a milk snake would creep out of the grass and milk her. When the snake was killed several quarts of milk gushed out of its mutilated body. After its death the cow pined away and died. It was a very sad story and quite as true as most snake stories. The stomach of the largest milk snake holds about four teaspoonfuls, and it could no more milk a cow than could a bird—Samuel Scoville, Jr., a "Wild Honey."

Casual Visitor Seldom Seen in Italian Home

If it is possible to reduce Italy to a number of cities, it is further possible to reduce those cities to a number of families. I have never lived long in Italy, but all my Italian friends—and I have had many—and all my non-Italian friends who have lived long in Italy, agree that family life is more jealously guarded from outside influences than that of any other European country. One can stay for a score of years in Rome and be intimately acquainted with nobles and politicians and officials and the middle classes and the masses, meeting them in assemblies and in clubs and getting on the most confidential relations with them; and still, at the end of a score of years, realize that one has rarely if ever been invited to cross the threshold of an Italian household and to mingle intimately with an Italian family.—From "Europe in Zigzag," by Sisley Huddleston.

Senatorial courtesy is something well understood but difficult to define. One authority defined it as indulgences extended by one senator to another. Another suggests that the term "senatorial courtesy" is one applied to a custom in the United States senate by which the procedure of that body is based, chiefly, on the honor of senators rather than upon strict rules. For example, it is customary (usually) when a former senator's name is sent in for the nomination for some appointive position to inform him as a matter of course, without going through the regular routine. It is also customary for the senate to refuse to confirm the nomination of an appointment to office in any state whose senator (or senators) objects to the person nominated, on the ground that the nomination is personally objectionable.

English King "Held Up"

Lawlessness was rampant in England during much of the Eighteenth century and the streets of London were so unsafe that even royal personages were stopped and robbed. A highwayman once dropped over the wall of Kensington gardens, and with every expression of respect took from George II, who was walking there alone, his purse, watch and shoe buckles. Mail coaches were special objects of attack and they proved vulnerable until in 1792 an armed guard for the mails was provided.—Detroit News.

Medical Confession

A young medical graduate was still in the stage when the scientific interest in the case concerned him far more than the welfare of the patient. A nurse told him one day that one of his patients had died. "That is terrible—perfectly terrible," sighed the doctor. "Was he a friend of yours, doctor?" asked the nurse. "Oh, no," said the physician. "But I gave him two prescriptions, and now how shall I ever know which was the wrong one?"

Alarming Showers

Real showers of blood have been known. Some time ago a couple of falls of this kind occurred in the little town of Missigami, in the south of Italy, causing much alarm. Samples were sent to Rome and pronounced by analysts of the Ecole d'Hygiene to be real blood. The suggestion was made that it emanated from some large flock of migrant birds caught up by a whirlwind and pulverized through being swung violently against other objects, which, being heavier, dropped out at sea.

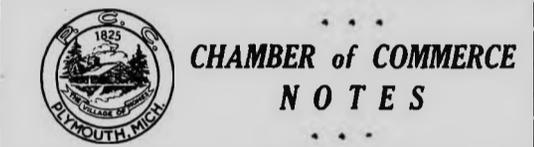

Wide-Awake Lawyer

Court was jammed as usual. One petty man fell victim to afternoon drowsiness. Disregarding the court, he slumbered on. The case of a negro charged with petty theft was called. The assistant district attorney almost finished with the first witness when the defendant, his face a perfect picture of something wrong, leaned over and asked the deputy sheriff: "Mistuh sheriff, wud y'all min' wak-in' up dat man—he's mah lawyer." The case was dismissed.

One secret of success is to go off where nobody knows you and pretend that you amounted to something where you came from.

Had Plymouth says he has heard of a lot of things done by absent-minded men but the one who stepped on his wife and kissed the self-starter taken the prize.

An eastern doctor holds all candy is healthy. But even at that gum drops are none too popular with people who have store teeth.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

LET'S STEP DOWN TO GEORGIA

Let's step down to Georgia, and learn what they think of the chamber of commerce idea in the heart of the progressive south. You know it helps at times to get clear away from ourselves, and to look at things from the other fellow's, the other community's viewpoint.

In a recent communication from the Commercial Organization Department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce appears the following quotation:

"The Macon Chamber of Commerce has never conceived its purpose to consist primarily in the promotion of growth. Our philosophy is that our only excuse for existence is that we hope to increase the prosperity, living standards, happiness and welfare of the people of Macon. Growth is necessary to this end and is within itself purely an incident and not an objective."

Colvin B. Brown, manager of the Commercial Organization Department, follows with these comments:

"Back of programs of work and plans for growth is the human element. Business and industries have been developed by men as part of their effort to make life richer and better. Material progress is an outgrowth of man's effort to increase comfort and happiness of increasing numbers of people by improving and more widely distributing the satisfactions of life.

"Chambers of commerce have come to be more than commercial bodies. The commercial motif is inevitably and properly and perhaps even dominantly present; but it is now accompanied by a distinct civic overtone. Business does not live to itself alone. It recognizes the presence and the influence of factors of life remote from the business field. But the remoteness is only apparent. The life of a community is a fabric. No thread can be neglected.

Why is it that the bet you intended to make but didn't always turns out to be a winning one?

Many a man who boasts of being an optimist looks just like an ordinary fool to other people.

"The booster idea of making everything bigger and better is gradually yielding to one that is not only idealistic but scientific—that of making things better for their own sake, knowing that bigness will then either follow or will not greatly matter."

WE ALL HAVE OUR OWN IDEA

Every citizen of Plymouth has his or her own idea as to how the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce can best serve the community. We cannot all look through the same pair of glasses. When our conception of what a chamber of commerce is primarily organized to accomplish disagrees with our neighbors, it is wise to get back to fundamentals.

The "Object" of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is stated in our By-laws as follows: "The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is organized for the purpose of advancing the commercial, industrial, and civic interests of the Village of Plymouth." In our opinion, the chamber of commerce which forgets its tri-fold purpose, or its two-fold responsibility, to protect as well as to promote the interests of the community, is at least a partial failure.

Engrossed in our daily life with its intimate problems, we are apt to dwell on a narrow horizon, we forget at times to look beyond our present borders. Plymouth has a distinct community identity which we want to preserve. We must never forget that Detroit is slowly but surely growing in our direction, and it is far from a remote possibility that this growth might come with a rush. This growth will bring many problems. It is not good business, sound judgment to prepare for these problems insofar as possible in advance, and to be equipped to cope with them when they arrive?

Plymouth needs a strong, well organized, well financed C. of C.

Auto makers are advertising a lot of new features about 1930 cars, but none of them have the nerve to claim they're fool-proof.

After a few years of married life a wife's birthday becomes just something else a husband forgets.

Who can remember when if a fellow asked for a pin a girl didn't have any trouble in digging up one?

Many a Plymouth man who can't sing a note often swears he can't sign one, either.

Simple as That

Over lunch in a London hotel one day not long ago a certain wealthy but unlettered man was invited by a friend to join his shooting party in Scotland later that week. "Man," said the prospective guest, "that's a splendid idea. I'll get on the telephone at once and get my man to clean my gun."

He rose and rang up his house. "Is that you, Forbes," he said to his servant. "Well, I want you to go ahead at once and get my gun cleaned." "Beg pardon, sir," said the man, "did you say 'gun'?" "No," shouted the Scot. "I said 'gun'—G for Jew, U for union, and N for pneumatic."

Street of Monuments

"Victoria Embankment, London," writes "Looker-On" in the London Daily Chronicle, "may well hold the world's record for monuments in any thoroughfare of the same length. For variety, too, it takes a lot of surpassing. Monarchy is represented at each extremity by queens: Victoria at Blackfriars and Boadicea at Westminster. In between are statesmen, scholars, poets, soldiers, journalists, musicians and composite memorials. Everybody, of course, 'knows all about it.' Yet I doubt if one person in ten could put on paper six of the names or deeds represented.

Up to the Barber

Bill had bright red hair. He had heard so much about it that he hated it even though he was only three. One day his mother told him she was going to take him to the barber shop to get his hair cut. "Then take me to a barber who will cut it black," said Bill.

Another trouble with the world is that there is too much face powder and not enough baking powder.

Women can love some queer-looking creatures, but no woman can love a man who can't be jealous of her.
