

Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet Great Success

LOCAL LEGION ASKS ALL VETERANS' AID OF UNIVERSAL DRAFT

"The American Legion of this city is here to bid welcome to Commander G. L. Botenheimer in his attempt to have universal draft legislation passed at this session of congress," Floyd G. Eckles, post adjutant of the Legion here, said today, following receipt of information from the national commander that every attempt should be made at this time to strengthen the ranks of the Legion in order to have the legislation passed in congress at this time. The success of the legislation at this session depends a great deal upon the earnestness of the ex-service men, and those who believe in them, as shown by the necessary subscribing to this part of the Legion's program through their early membership in the organization, for weekly reports of this strengthening of the Legion is made available for the information of representatives and senators in Washington, as indicative of the veterans' sincerity.

"Every veteran of the World War who believes in a fair deal for our children, and the elimination of slackers and profiteers in any future war, should lend his support to this great objective of the Legion by joining our organization at this time, when it will count the most," the Legion official said. "Every citizen should understand what universal draft would do to protect this country."

The stand of the Legion, as described by the National commander, still is, as it has been since the World War, in favor of universal draft legislation because the underlying principle is fundamentally right and fair and just. The Legion believes that all men and all property should be proportionately benefited from victory, and that all men and all property, would share proportionately in the loss accruing from defeat. All men and all property, therefore, should share equally and proportionately the burdens of war. In order to share the burdens of war equally and proportionately, there are three things that all men and all property should share equally during the time of war and that they share equally the responsibilities developing after war.

The Legion holds this to be a fair principle provided it can be put into operation under a plan which would insure the desired results. Certainly, the principle is worthy of study and investigation, the National commander says, with the prospect of determining the proper plan of operation.

The purpose of war is victory, so far as each contestant is concerned. Every effort is made by each nation to accomplish victory. Certainly, a nation that uses all men and all property within the proper places of service, has the best opportunity for victory. If we should go to war again, we would expect to be victorious. We should, therefore, decide upon a plan by which all men and all property can be properly used in order to insure victory.

The Legion believes the existence of such a Universal Draft plan would tend to retard the declaration of war by our own country except when absolutely necessary. In other words, we would have no group or element of our people interested in a declaration of war provided it was understood that all citizens would be subjected to the punishment and burdens of war and that there could be no profit made out of such a war. With the profit of war made impossible, there would be no selfish interests in America which would encourage the declaration of war.

War on any scale whatsoever would be a principle which would have a peace of the world so far as America is concerned, certainly should be studied and investigated.

Would Retard War

The Legion also believes that the existence of the Universal Draft plan would tend to retard the declaration of war by any other country, because that country would know that this nation would be practically invulnerable provided we had a plan by which all men and all property could be thrown into the defense of our rights. Since it would be faced with inevitable defeat, there would be no nation which would desire to declare war against the United States. A principle, which thus encourages the peace of the world so far as America is concerned, certainly should be studied and investigated.

The existence of the universal draft plan with all of its advantages as suggested above would certainly encourage war if it is never declared, then the plan would never be put into operation. If war should be declared, then there would be a definite plan of procedure already in existence. A plan which has such possibilities for good and which does not cost one single dollar to put into law, certainly deserves to be studied and investigated, the Legion says.

And this is just what the Legion is asking for. The Legion wants the principle of universal service studied by competent people and the Legion wants these people to decide upon the terms and conditions of the plan to put this principle into effect. Certainly there is nothing unfair about such a request, the Legion says.

Draft to be Used, Anyway

The Reed-Walwright resolution in congress, which the Legion is supporting, was prepared by the Legion. This resolution, if passed, will create a commission composed of members of the senate and house, together with representatives of the different elements of American life and business for the purpose of studying this universal draft problem. This commission, after studying this problem, thoroughly, would recommend a plan for the consideration of congress. It is the intention to meet with the approval of congress, and thus it would be written into law and made a part of our national defense policy.

If such a universal service plan were made into law now, then it would be considered by other nations as a war pending. It would be considered by them as a natural development

Haley A. C. Hockey Team Ties Locals

PERE MARQUETTE WON, 2-1.

If the Plymouth hockey team fails to win another game this season, they accomplished something last Friday night which no other team has done this year, and that is to hold the Haley A. C. team to a 1-1 tie. Haley's, the leaders of the Detroit Municipal League, have won all their games with the exception of the Plymouth game which ended in a 1-1 tie.

In the first period the local boys out-played the visiting team and were able to secure the first goal which was made by Anderson. Haley's came back in the second and tied it up. Then in the third frame both sides tried hard to break the tie. Shortly after this period opened, Block was hurt and was out for the balance of the game. This left Plymouth without a spare, while Haley management had three fresh players to put in the game every three or four minutes. They pressed their advantage, but in spite of all they could do, they couldn't break the tie.

Considerable roughness occurred in the final period, however, nothing serious happened and opinion is about evenly divided regarding the starting of the rough stuff.

Pere Marquette Takes Game, 2-1

One of the best and clearest games of the season was played last Tuesday night with the Pere Marquette squad from Detroit, the P. M. boys winning by a narrow margin, the score being 2-1.

The visitors broke into the scoring column in the first period when they were fortunate enough to get one goal. In the second period they secured another during the first five minutes of play. Plymouth came back strong in the third, and a shot by Anderson just outside the defense zone, slipped by Drew making the score 2-1. This gave the local sextette new life, and for the balance of the period the P. M. goalies were busy stopping shots from every angle. In the last five minutes of play, both forward and defense men in the Plymouth line-up crowded down on the leaders in a strenuous effort to tie the score.

Seldom did the visitors get the puck out of their defending zone during this last minute on-rush, and the fans got a great kick out of this part of the game. Drew withstood the steady flow of shots until the final whistle blew before another shot could be put past him.

FORM OF SCHEDULE FOR 1930 CENSUS

The questions to be asked by the enumerator in the 1930 census of population, as announced by William M. Steuart, director, bureau of census, are as follows:

1. Relationship to head of family, including a statement as to the householder in each family.
2. Whether home is owned or rented.
3. Value of home, if owned, or monthly rental, if rented.
4. Marital set? ("Yes or No").
5. Does this family live on a farm? ("Yes or No").
6. Sex.
7. Color or race.
8. Age at last birthday.
9. Marital condition.
10. Aze at first marriage (For married persons only).
11. Attended school or college any time Sept. 1, 1929? ("Yes or No").
12. Whether able to read and write? ("Yes or No").
13. Place of birth of person. (State or country).
14. Place of birth of person's father (State or country).
15. Place of birth of person's mother. (State or country).
16. Mother tongue of each foreign-born person.
17. Year of immigration to the United States. (Foreign-born only).
18. Whether naturalized. (Foreign-born only).
19. Whether able to speak English. (Foreign-born only).
20. Occupation of each gainful worker.
21. Industry if employed.
22. Whether employer, employee, or working on own account.
23. Whether actually at work. (For each person usually employed but returned as not at work, additional information will be secured on a special unemployment schedule).
24. Whether a veteran of the United States military or naval forces, and for each veteran, in what war or expedition he served.

Among the most important of the new questions is that calling for the value of the home, if owned, or the monthly rental, if rented. This will make possible a classification of families according to the economic status or perhaps one might say according to buying power.

Another new question is that which asks for the age at first marriage, such tabulation to be based on the number of children reported in the families of women who have been married a stated number of years.

The question of radio sets will give a direct answer to the question as to how large the potential radio audience is.

Women doing house-work in their own home (or supervising such work done by servants) and carrying the other responsibilities of the home will be designated as home-makers.

A special schedule for unemployment will contain a number of questions designed to separate those not working into several classes, including, besides those absolutely unemployed, those who have a job but are for the time being on lay-off without pay, etc.

Provision is again made for the classifying the foreign-born which still form a very important element in our population, in five different ways, namely, by country of birth; by mother tongue (which is sometimes a better index of nationality than is country of birth); by citizenship to the United States; by citizenship (that is whether naturalized, having first papers, or alien); and by ability to speak English.

Persons who desire to make application for the position of enumerator may do so by writing to H. W. Klams, Census Supervisor, 18th Michigan District, 138 W. Michigan avenue, Dearborn, Michigan. The 18th Michigan District includes the 22nd ward of Detroit and the remainder of Wayne County to the west from the Detroit limits, the actual work of enumeration will start on April 1st, and shall be completed in five weeks in the incorporated communities.

TYPHOID SCARE IS UNFOUNDED SAYS MANAGER

TELLS KIWANIANS VILLAGE OFFICIALS ARE PROVIDING EVERY SAFEGUARD.

Village Manager A. J. Koenig appeared before the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting last Tuesday noon, and made a short address in which he endeavored to quiet the persistent rumors that have gained much headway during the past few days regarding the supposed epidemic of typhoid fever that an untruthful dame rumor has laid at the door of Plymouth milk supply. So much groundless suspicion has been broadcast through the village, that Mr. Koenig welcomed an opportunity to publicly state the true conditions and enumerated the action that is coming from the village hall to give all possible protection to the citizenry. "In the first place," said Mr. Koenig, "the reported number of cases of typhoid has been greatly exaggerated. Intestinal flu, which is more or less prevalent at this season of the year, presents symptoms so very similar to those of typhoid fever that conclusive diagnosis of any case is withheld by the physician until after several days' duration of the malady, and thus the whole scare has not yet lasted long enough for any definite conclusions to be arrived at."

"Health Officer A. E. Patterson," he continued, "is making every possible effort to get to the bottom of the situation and is receiving every cooperation from other physicians. Every milk dealer is actively cooperating with him to such an extent that samples of all milk sold in Plymouth are being examined by state health authorities, as is a sample of the village water supply, so that exact facts will be available to the public within a few days."

Koenig urges everyone not to let the affair cause them any undue worry and to believe nothing said about the situation without first calling the village hall for confirmation of the story. "Full and complete information is available at the village hall," he said, "and will be freely and cheerfully passed out to all callers. The undersigned is confident that his hearers 'you may rest assured that your village government will take every possible step to adequately protect the health of the people of Plymouth."

LEGION WILL HOLD PUBLIC INSTALLATION

ALL EX-SERVICE MEN AND THEIR WIVES INVITED TO ATTEND DINNER AT HOTEL MAYFLOWER

To start of the newly formed Myron H. Beal Post of the American Legion with a bang, the local post has made arrangements for a public installation of its officers at a big dinner at the Hotel Mayflower on February 24th, which will be attended by such notable members as Commander Raymond H. Kelley, of the Department of Michigan; Col. A. H. Gansser, General Guy H. Wilson and possibly General Fred W. Green. ### ROTARIANS WIN FROM KIWANIANS, 3-1

The third game of broom-ball between the Rotarians and Kiwanians was played last Monday night, resulting in a victory for the Rotarians. The game was played on skates and the first period ended without any scoring. The second ended 1-0 for the Kiwanians, but in the last fifteen minutes saw the Rotarians take the lead. Their first goal was allowed by the referee on a penalty. Both sides had been equal in competition with piling up too close in front of the goal. This warning was not heeded which resulted in the Rotarians being allowed a goal.

The next goal is still being talked about. The referee allowed the next goal which broke the tie and put the Rotarians in the lead. The game was held up a short while in discussing why the goal was allowed. The referee ruled it was a goal and the game continued.

Interest was at high pitch, fans and players were keyed up when shortly before the game ended, Glenn Jewell made a goal which could not be disputed.

If weather permits, another game may be played Monday night, and it is hoped the losers, regardless of which side it is, will be good sports and not take it too seriously. It's all for fun and recreation.

PERRY W. RICHWINE ADDRESSES KIWANIANS CLUB

Taking the motto of the Kiwanis Club, "We Build," as a text, Perry W. Richwine gave a fine talk to the members of his club at their Tuesday noon meeting. "We Build," said Mr. Richwine, "where you stop to analyze it, covers a big ideal. It implies to operation, creation and a definite desire to establish progress in a community. Abraham Lincoln said, 'Today we celebrate tomorrow, was an outstanding man of the 'We Build' type. Lincoln would have been a great Kiwanian," he said.

The program committee of the club is endeavoring to discourage the practice of listening in outside speakers, and hopes in this way to develop some public speaking talent within the ranks of the club.

Nearly Two Hundred Attended Most Successful C. of C. Meeting In History of Organization.

Seward Merriam, General Counsel of Pere Marquette Railway Was the Main Speaker of the Evening.

Just about two hundred people were in attendance at the eighth annual supper meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Mayflower, Wednesday evening. Not all of them could be accommodated in the crystal room, and twenty or so ate in the coffee shop. Each diner found at his or her place an attractive menu and program and a blue envelope containing a prescription calling for cooperative effort in behalf of Plymouth as an antidote for the depression of feeling many people have been experiencing. At each place also was a ballot for the election of the nine directors for 1930 and for the acceptance of the financial report for 1929. This ballot was also carried and collected before the program, in order to minimize the time taken up with routine business.

The supper was naturally first in order, and consisted of the following:

Cream of Tomato Soup
Pickles and Olives
Tenderloin Steak
Baked Potatoes
String Beans
Rolls and Butter
Lincoln Mold Ice Cream and Wafers
Coffee

This disposed of Perry Richwine, president of the Chamber of Commerce for the past year, called the meeting to order and welcomed the guests and members. He introduced Berg D. Moore who has been the chamber's secretary for the past six months. Mr. Moore set forth the Chamber of Commerce as having a three-fold purpose—to promote the civic, commercial and industrial interests of Plymouth and its environs; and a two-fold responsibility—to protect as well as promote the community welfare.

During the supper Miss Uzarina Penney rendered several piano selections for the entertainment of the guests.

Under four headings, Mr. Moore contended that concerted effort is necessary to meet the conditions arising from the growth of Detroit in Plymouth's direction. That progress cannot be stopped, but must be shaped and guided by this effort united in a grand chamber. That project of civic character must be slowly, carefully and thoroughly worked out and fitted to the community sentiment, much educational aid publicity work being necessary. And this in the way of industrial expansion, much work and investigation is needed to weed out the undesirable prospects and to attract those which might be assets to Plymouth.

The progressive element and the conservative element present in the makeup of every town can unite in Chamber of Commerce work with the result of harmonizing both viewpoints in the common interest and of making up the indifferent element to the possibilities of concerted effort.

President Richwine introduced Paul W. Voorhies as toastmaster, or rather he presented him, for Mr. Voorhies needs no introduction in Plymouth where he has lived and practiced his profession and where he still has so many friends. Mr. Voorhies took the work of the old Plymouth Improvement Association of which he had served as president, and indicated the present trend of Chambers of Commerce toward the employment of paid secretaries, the work of whom in his opinion is well worth the salary invested. He expressed his conviction that the work of silent protection against frauds and the attraction of people to the interesting of them in Plymouth was even more important than that of bringing new industries to the village.

The toastmaster called on the various guests, presented a stand-up, received recognition from the audience. Four Pere Marquette officials headed the list—R. C. Bowman, vice-president; C. M. Booth, traffic manager; A. E. Badger, general superintendent; and Seward Merriam, general counsel. J. C. and W. T. Lashley, Cal W. Shantle and Charles Erickson of the city were Detroit real estate representatives. E. E. Pine and L. G. Macomber came from the Detroit Board of Commerce. Thomas Bedford represented the Detroit Motor Bus Company. Dr. Wickman was there from East Lawn Sanitarium, and Dr. Douglas, in charge of the St. Charles Sanitarium, Peary S. Deal, last year's president of the Plymouth Chamber, came from Alma to attend.

Vice-president Bowman of the Pere Marquette, speaking briefly, expressed his pleasure in seeing Plymouth for the first time, and suggested zoning as one of the needs of the village—to properly locate the industries which might be attracted here. He spoke of the Pere Marquette's interest in Chambers of Commerce as means of getting in touch with the citizens of the towns it serves, and of its desire to help develop these communities.

Seward Merriam, general counsel for the Pere Marquette, father of Judge David C. Merriam of the circuit court in Detroit, spoke in place of vice-president I. C. Probert, who could not be present. Mr. Merriam complimented Secretary Berg Moore for his earnestness and aggressiveness. He enlarged on the unsung virtues of substitutes in general, with humorous reference to himself. He very interestingly sketched the reorganization of the Pere Marquette and linked up the success of this and its program of improvement with the industrial welfare of the state.

In compliance with a congressional mandate calling for the merging of railroads into competitive systems, the Pere Marquette, the Nickel-Plate, the Erie and the Hocking Valley have been united under the Chesapeake and Ohio as parent company. This, the speaker said, means more to the state of Michigan than any other happening in rail-

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB CONVENES

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Plymouth held their regular meeting at the Hotel Mayflower, Tuesday evening, February 11, with twenty-three members present. The tables were prettily decorated with Valentine place cards and candies. After a delicious steak dinner which was enjoyed by all, a short business meeting was held. Mrs. C. O. Ball was elected to membership. Plans were discussed for a benefit dance to be held in the near future, also plans for the National Business Women's Week which comes in March. The hostesses of the evening, Frances Sullivan and Lucile Colquitt, entertained everyone with games and music. A Valentine box was enjoyed by all present and the evening, closed much merriment.

WOMAN'S CLUB MET

The Plymouth Woman's Club met Friday, February 7th. After a short meeting at which the president, Mrs. B. R. Gilbert, presided, the Modern Novel Group under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest L. Thrall took charge of the meeting.

Mrs. W. J. Bradner, Mrs. Lewis Cable and Mrs. E. R. Gilbert acted as hostesses. The opening number on the program was two piano selections, Tarantelle by Pielczonka, and By the Waters of Minnetonka, played by Mrs. Boomhower of Rosedale Gardens. Mrs. Boomhower came to the club through the courtesy of Mrs. William Hodson. All who heard her hope to have the pleasure of hearing her again.

This group is particularly fortunate in having as a member, Miss Edna M. Allen, whose book reviews are always so greatly appreciated. Her study of Hugh Walpole, which included a review of one of his earlier books, "The Cathedral," and comments on "Hans Frost," his latest book proved most interesting. The various types of character portrayed in The Cathedral were made most vividly real. To those who had read the book she brought a keen appreciation, and to those who had not a desire to read not only The Cathedral, but other books by Hugh Walpole.

Coffee and sandwiches were served at the close of the program, by Mrs. Thrall and Mrs. Setz.

The club accepted the Northville Woman's Club's invitation to their Drama Day program at 2:30 Friday, February 14.

Dr. Robert Haskell will speak at the next meeting of the Woman's Club of Plymouth, Friday, February 21st.

Lincoln's Birthday Celebrated By Ex-Service Men

GOLDSMITH AND BLUNK SPONSOR SUCCESSFUL PARTY.

The Jewell & Blach hall was beautifully decorated in the national colors last Wednesday night, in honor of the birthday anniversary of the great emancipator and also in honor of those "who offered their all on the country's altar in 1917." Oliver Goldsmith and Arthur E. Blunk had sponsored a dance to celebrate the occasion, and the sponsors, together with the members of the Ex-Service Men's Club had succeeded in selling more than two hundred tickets. About eighty couples were on hand for the dancing, and to the scintillating tunes of lovely music by Livingston's orchestra, waltzes, two-steps, square dances and an occasional fox trot, the crowd enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

During the festivities, Mrs. Fred Hoffman of Northville, was introduced by Mr. Goldsmith as a prima donna from the Metropolitan Opera Company, and sang "Love's Old Sweet Song" to the accompaniment of Miss Livingston. On another occasion the music was halted while Mr. Goldsmith spoke a few words in praise of the Civil War President and his "ex-service boys," after which he read a poem by Edwin Markham entitled "Lincoln, the Man of the People," a poem which was chosen out of two hundred fifty Lincoln poems by a committee headed by Chief Justice William Howard Taft, to be read at the dedication of the Lincoln Memorial, at Washington D. C.

The proceeds of the dance amounted to a tidy sum, and they were added to the treasury of the Ex-Service Men's Club. Needless to say, the generous action of Messrs. Goldsmith and Blunk was greatly appreciated by the former soldiers.

WOMEN AND MONEY

Financial experts report that 41 percent of the wealth of the U. S. is in the hands of women. This includes real estate, stocks, bonds and cash in the bank. It leaves 59 percent of the wealth owned by men. Yet if the pay envelopes issued to husbands, and bank accounts in their names were credited to the wives who really control them, the percentage would be reversed. We take it of course that these figures will prove out in Plymouth as everywhere else. So if they are true the male end of our population can commence to draw in its horns, for it is far worse off than it had any idea. Pretty soon, if this keeps up and any more of the nation's wealth gets into the hands of the women we'll be arguing that wives should give their husbands a general allowance, instead of insisting that they are the ones entitled to be on the receiving end of the proposition.

CORN STALK FUEL

When we announced along last year that the manufacture of paper from cornstalks had actually begun, our readers around Plymouth accepted it as just another step toward the conservation of wood and, possibly, another bit of farm relief. But now comes announcement of still another important product to be derived from cornstalks—a fuel and illuminating gas. Dr. Arthur Burwell of the University of Illinois says the stalks are pulped and put in a tank, kept at 60 degrees. The heat generates a gas that may be used for heating or illumination. He says 40 acres of cornstalks will supply heat, power, cooking fuel and light for an average farm for one year. Four acres would provide enough gas for a year's lighting. And the refuse remaining after the gas is made can be purified and sold for paper making. Score one big discovery for 1930. And if anyone has others that would prove as beneficial as this one may turn out to be, let's have them without delay.

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT

We darsay a number of local citizens recall when Clarence Saunders, originator of the "Piggly Wiggly" stores, went to New York a few years ago with a determination to beat Wall Street. He took $16,000,000 with him. And he not only lost that but his business as well. He started at the bottom again—this one-time grocery clerk—and he has built up a new chain through which he has amassed more money than he had before. But he is through with Wall Street. He didn't lose a penny in the recent panic. And that his advice may be given a little serious consideration in this neighborhood we quote it here: "It's foolish to try to beat the Wall Street crowd. In the end there is bound to be only one result—disaster. No matter what the temptation, don't try it; it's only gambling. And when you get through you'll have gambler's losses more times than you will have gambler's luck."

DANGEROUS HOUSE PETS

Newspapers throughout the country have been making much over the discovery of a new disease called "parrot fever." It is said to be common among parrots, yet easily contracted by humans who may handle them. A number of deaths have been attributed to it in various sections.

We often wonder, in considering house pets scattered in homes around Plymouth if some of these animals that live so close to man do not have diseases that we know nothing about which may not attract attention yet which may, when transmitted to humans, prove serious. It is generally believed among doctors that cats carry diphtheria, and it has been proved that the mosquito carries the germ of yellow fever into the human body, and also the germ of ague.

We love pets, and we feel that there is something fine missing out of the make-up of anyone who doesn't. But even our regard for them cannot blind us to the fact that they should be watched more closely than they are for the appearance of disease, and given more careful attention in the matter of cleanliness. We have no means of knowing how many cases of illness might be prevented if this plan was more generally carried out, but we do know that it would be a far more sensible thing to do than to wait until an epidemic was traced to the animal and then have to stage a wholesale slaughter of them, as has been the case since "parrot fever" developed.

CHEAPER CAR FUEL

Plymouth motorists who find the purchase of gasoline a burden will be among the most interested citizens in the country in a report that there is early promise of applying the Diesel principle to passenger car fueling.

We read where a six-cylinder car recently made a 792-mile trip on $1.38 worth of fuel oil. At that rate a car could be run from New York to San Francisco at a cost of $8.40. To get the same results from gas a gallon of it would have to run the car 120 miles—and who ever heard tell of anything like that? If the Diesel principle can be made practical for all types of passenger autos we are due for nothing less than an industrial revolution. For one thing, we would never have to worry about a shortage of gasoline. And until our present laws could be changed or amended we would affect quite a saving in gasoline taxes.

Automobile engineers are frank in saying that there is no reason to scoff at the attempt being made to build a Diesel engine for auto use. In fact, they intimate that there are quite a number of reasons for believing it will be successfully done within the year. So successful have experiments along this line proven up to this time that it really gives us something to think about. And the figures furnished us as to the cost of such power, once it is in general use, gives us something new to hope for.

Mrs. Leslie, chairman of a special committee on membership, reported twenty new members and $10.00 in dues, and $7.00 contributed by others interested. Under new business the president appointed a nominating committee for the coming election. They are Mrs. Huron, Mrs. Schroeder and Mrs. Leslie. The meeting was adjourned by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

The program following consisted of interesting talks by Miss Mary Jameson, supervising teacher of zones A and B; Miss Olive Gwinn, social service worker for Wayne County schools, and Prof. Pike, principal of Wyandotte schools. Miss Jameson and Miss Gwinn explained their work in the county. Prof. Pike chose "Lincoln" as his subject. Then followed the Founders' Day program planned by the president, Mrs. A. C. Burton. This month being the thirty-third anniversary of the Parent-Teacher Association, a birthday celebration was in order. A beautiful birthday cake was placed on the table, and all present took part in the candle lighting ceremony. This was followed by delightful refreshments served by the refreshment committee under Mrs. Burton. The meeting was adjourned, and all present reported a good time.

ROSEDALE SCHOOL NOTES

Citizenship Club Meeting
Best of the year. Why? Because it was prepared before hand. How? How did we have it? This is the answer. The president took her place at the head of the room. The secretary read the minutes. The president then read the names of the people that were on different committees. Motions were made and carried. One motion was that we have a Valentine party; everyone of course agreed because who doesn't like a Valentine party? So probably in the next news items you will hear about the wonderful Valentine party we had. This was the best meeting we had, and we hope all the rest are as good and better.

ROSEDALE GARDENS EPHEMERALS

J. W. WALKER

Hereafter the P. T. A. meetings will be held on the first Friday evening of the month, to begin on and from March seventh, nineteen hundred and thirty. Notice we spelled it out, as we have not yet got used to the new year, as we have dated some 1,031 letters, etc. 1929, and it looks a mess to change by erasing and very careless to let it go, which we did and didn't. So let us see a few more than have been these last couple meetings out. The most we could count, and that was at the last meeting on the seventh instant, was thirty-eight, and we had to sorta strike a neurotic attitude then so Mrs. Lloyd Huron would cut an extra slice of that birthday cake, and believe that we counted Mr. Pike or ourselves, twice at that to get in the extra cake (Clever—what?)

Mrs. Burton forgot it, and we almost forgot it, too, but now is the time for all good nominating committees to show their good work, so here you have it, the following mesdames have been appointed the nominating committee: Mrs. Lloyd B. Huron, chairwoman, Mrs. Frank Leslie and Mrs. Joseph Schroeder, members.

Mrs. H. S. Malloy, writer on Child Psychology, University of Michigan, and for the Detroit Evening News, will be with us at the school house Friday evening, March seventh. Make a special effort to be present at that place and time from an after seven o'clock. There are one or two things that you must not forget and both of them are this date and the place and to be there.

Citizen Charles F. Pike will come way over from Wyandotte some time again if we promise to have all the kiddies, both large and small, along. All who have offspring, and who have not, should come out and hear him, you'd walk a mile for a camel, why not a half mile for PIKE. You'll have proper notification and suitable introduction WHEN.

We were about to keep quiet on this subject, as we thought we might get knocked senseless, if such a thing were possible, but it is necessary for us as suitable explanations have been made to the proper parties. Well, to get it off, it is this, a certain group of the young ladies, while waiting for the cards to be shuffled at a recent bridge game listened to the hostess read about our first wedding at our church, when she had to stop to admonish her lady to keep still and stop grinning so loud. Thereupon got the answer that was just waiting for her to read on the item till she got to the funny part, and then he WOULD LAUGH RIGHT LOUD LIKE—whereupon the door bell rang and Van Ho saved the day or at least saved the card for Van Ho. Van wanted to examine the meter and wiring that had burned out on the washing machine. So the bridegroom returned and Dearly G went down the basement to help Van by watching. We do not know what explanations were made after that, but we know something that we don't dare to tell. Was just going to say eh—?

The change in the weather for a trifle warmer brought the kiddies out to play in the softer, damper snow, and now we can see, here and there a number of grotesque figures, emblematic of the Venus de Milo or Hermes of Praxiteles, suggestive of the time when we wore short trousers and longer skirts. Which just reminds us where the old broom from down the coal bin way has disappeared to, thought there was something more or less familiar about that broom in the Venus's missing arm. We don't know whether or not this groundhog business had or has anything to do with these, but believe it or not, we heard a chirp, chirrup down the basement the other evening, and investigating found a real live cricket jumping after another of his kind and about the kiddies galoshes. And then comes along Adolph and Sir Edward from way down Bonaparte way. Adolph claims we will have another six weeks winter, and Ed says that we will not, because he oughta know, for his red flannels have been itching him like the breaking up of precisely heat now for the past ten days, and that is sure some sign that he'll have to dig down after his B V Dees.

P. T. A. Meeting, Feb. 7, 1930

The business meeting over with its usual promptness when anything special is coming off, we were given special treats in the way of interesting talks, and though we are sometimes when it comes to good things. However, the inevitable rule of three held forth, viz: First, Miss Mary S. Jameson, our helping teacher, gave us an interesting talk on the organization work of the school commission's office and her duties, troubles and joys as a helping teacher. Then, Miss Olive Gwin, social service worker, held us spellbound for a good half hour with a resume of just the high lights of one day's work. Charles F. Pike, principal of the Labadie High School, Wyandotte, Michigan, held us breathless for ever so long. Mr. Pike had been invited by the president, Mrs. A. C. Burton, to speak on Founders Day, which he refused to do, saying that February held too many other things of interest to all good Americans to think of Founders Day, but for necessary talk, so he spoke on the life of Abraham Lincoln, tracing his ancestry down for several hundred years in the most interesting manner. Friend Pike also had some good stories for us all.

Our social hour commenced with the lighting of candles on the birthday cake. In all, thirty-three candles were lit by as many persons, each with her or his appropriate little speech setting forth the aims and purposes of the organization and its various divisions. The candle lighting over, we all turned to the sandwiches, cake and coffee. Breaking up into small groups for gossip and story telling, several tables set or not, there must have been some stories from the swish-swish-whispers etc. emanating from the men's corner, and judging from the hearty laughs that succeeded each whispering there must have been several jokes among the said stories. Miss Evelyn Porteous sang a couple of dinky songs something about sweet potato pickin' and wanting a doggy all yeller, and friend Boomhower played at piano-forte.

AROUND ABOUT US

The cornerstone was laid last Wednesday for the new Dearborn Township Hall which will be located at Michigan and Princess avenues.

The Livingston County Fair will be held September 2, 3, 4 and 5, at Howell.

After reaching a depth of 1300 feet, the test oil well which was driven by the Shell and Sun Oil companies on the Tracy Crandall farm near Howell, has been closed up. Small quantities of gas and oil were found.

E. G. Cary, Commerce Township commissioner, has a copy of a tax receipt for 1848 on 50 acres of land near Commerce on which the taxes for that year were $2.78. The taxes this year were $120.00.

Four thousand yards of "fill" dirt required for the Grand River road stretch east of Brookdale in Farmington, have been found and state officials have declared that, as a result, paving this year is certain.

The board of directors of the Detroit-Wayne Industrial Airport last Tuesday authorized spending $414,050 for clearing and grading work and building of hangars on the 640 acre site near Wayne, Mich.

The new Romulus school building which cost approximately $72,000 has been completed and the six highest grades moved in last Monday.

It was announced last Thursday by Stanley E. Knauss, vice-president and general manager of the State of Lines, that his company was taking over the $125,000 Austin company hangar at Cleveland, which will be used for housing Stout planes on the Cleveland, Dearborn and Chicago air line.

A water main system for the village of Inkster will cost $864,403. W. Brown, village engineer, informed the board of commissioners. Bids will soon be opened.

The Williams, Heywood, Co., who are erecting a plant in Wayne for the preparation of new lacquer, varnish and the mixing of paint, is rapidly nearing completion. It is estimated that they will employ between 25 and 40 men.

The ill-fated S-51, salvaged submarine, which sunk with a loss of 38 men and which has rested in the Brooklyn Navy Yard nearly three years, will be added to Henry Ford's collection, as will a "wooden" horse, which has stood for many years before a harness store in Kansas City.

Removal of the water tower, 25-year-old land mark of Northville, was begun last week. It was erected some 25 years ago for the protection of the old Stimpson Scale works.

In a report from the Department of Conservation it is noted that the state owns land in all counties excepting Wayne and Branch reaching a total of more than 1,684,892 acres.—Brighton Argus.

Another excellent record was made last month by the Dearborn police department, according to the report of Chief Carl Brooks, as out of 59 automobiles stolen, 56 were recovered.

F. W. I. Will Protest DON'T DRIVE RECKLESSLY

Through the application of expert engineering knowledge, the Oakland Motor Car company has designed a new type of shipping case of such efficient design that formal protest is reported under consideration by the executives of the Freight Wreckers International, parent body of the so-called Baggage Smashers of America.

Weighing from 230 to 235 pounds less than the shipping cases previously used for the export of Oakland and Pontiac, the new cases are far stronger and also less expensive.

Their strength, according to Ray Chalmers, the designer, lies in the fact that they absorb shocks instead of offering solid resistance. Furthermore, the new case eliminates the former method of mounting the car on its axle shafts, a procedure that required 23 pieces of 2x12 lumber. Instead, the car, with wheels removed, now is cushioned upon its own springs which are securely held and slightly compressed by four bolts extending up through the case bottom. Incidentally, the bottom is equipped with four skid planks which keep the case off the floor and increase the ease of handling. Water-proof paper protects the top of the case from dampness.

The cars are boxed on an assembly line very similar to those used for assembling the automobiles themselves.

The cases are built in panel form, complete tops, bottoms, sides and ends being delivered to the shipping case assembly line ready to be nailed together.

The Oakland Motor Car company reports heavier sales at the 1930 New York and Chicago automobile shows than were registered during the 1929 shows.

There is not much consolation for the reckless driver in the action of the state supreme court, which a few days ago came out strongly for the validity of the negligent homicide act. Heretofore the court had been divided on this question, with the result that many prosecuting attorneys were reluctant to prefer charges under the act against drivers of automobiles involved in fatal accidents.

Although we have no speed limit under the Michigan law, the driver of an automobile is supposed to have his car under control at all times. The court by its latest ruling says that this is all that a jury needs to know in deciding whether a driver was negligent or reckless in causing death.

The law says in effect: "You may not drive recklessly, you must have your car under complete control, you must be able to stop within the assured clear distance ahead, and if there is an accident your failure to stop is prima facie evidence of recklessness on your part."

Still Plenty of Wild Land Left

Despite the rapid increase in private hunting club lands from which the public is being excluded, much land as yet, form but a relatively small percentage of the wild lands available for hunting purposes in the northern part of the state, according to figures gathered last year and recently compiled by the Game Division of the Department of Conservation.

Digging for Gold

Few fortunes are made by digging in the earth for gold. For most of us income is the product of labor of arm or brain.

We work hard for all we earn and must watch sharply lest we spend it all as quickly as it is received.

Opening a bank account has been the starting point of many a small fortune—and some large ones.

We will be very glad to have you open an account here.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold thou art there." (Ps. 139:8)
Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is neither place nor opportunity in Science for error of any sort. Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power." (p. 232).
The subject for next Sunday, Dec. 16 will be "Soul".

"KONJOLA MADE ME FEEL LIKE ANOTHER MAN"

AFTER ALL ELSE HAD FAILED, DETROIT MAN FINDS QUICK RELIEF THROUGH NEW MEDICINE.

MR. WILLIAM STEVENS

"Konjola made me feel like a new man," said Mr. William Stevens, Box 2017, R. F. D. No. 7, Detroit. "My liver was badly out of condition for years. My eyes and skin were yellow. I had no end of bilious spells and these grew more frequent and severe as medicine after medicine failed to help me. At last I had to go to bed, too sick and miserable to be on my feet."
"The outlook was dark, for I had not the faintest idea what to try next. Then my attention was attracted to Konjola. Words fail to express my delight when the first two bottles proved to me that I had found the medicine I needed. Two more bottles set my liver right, and as the poisons were swept from my body, my eyes and skin lost their yellow tinge and my general health began to climb. Today I feel like I did years ago."
Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

pullets lay in October, reports E. E. McKee

MAKE your poultry pay big profits. Follow the example of E. E. McKee, also a National Prize Winner. He found that hatching his own chicks didn't pay. He decided to buy Hatchery Chicks. Received 1000 chicks on April 1st. Put 480 pullets in the laying house September 20th. For the month of October, he says, "we have received 8764 eggs. We receive four per dozen locally. To do more for the world than the world does for you—that is success.

Wayne Romps Over Plymouth, 25 to 8

Wayne High basketball team today is the outstanding favorite to capture this year's suburban league title. The blue and gold team kept its place at the head of the list by whipping Plymouth, 25 to 8. It was the fifth defeat of the season for the Rocks.

Wayne took the lead in the first few minutes of the game and outplayed the Rocks in all but the last quarter. Only one point was scored in this period. The defense of the blue and white team tightened up considerably in this last part of the contest.

Allen, Janky Wayne center, rolled up twelve points to win the scoring honors. Enot, the star offensive player, failed to get started and counted only four points.

Summary of basketball game statistics for Wayne and Plymouth, including field goals, free goals, and points.

Starkweather Notes

The first Bs made valentines for their mothers, and they are going to have a valentine box and a party. As it is near Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, they are reading stories about these two great men.

The first As and second Bs have a spelling club. Twenty received stars for perfect work during last week. Nib, Fishlock received a prize for winning the last contest. Charles Pelkey and Chloze Vanderve have been out with chicken pox.

The fourth grade wrote letters to Audrey Hartzo, who is in the hospital. The fourth Bs are starting the study of geography which they think is fine. The children in Mrs. Mole's room are trying very hard to receive stars for perfect spelling lessons every Friday.

The fourth A group are making hygiene booklets illustrating their health habits. Pupils of the fourth and fifth grades made valentines and sent them to Audrey Hartzo.

The sixth graders have started a spelling contest with the girls ranged on one side and the boys on the other. It has started with plenty of enthusiasm and bids fair to be an interesting one. We are having a valentine box and party also.

Jeanette Bauman is the only student who received all As on her semester exams in the sixth grade room. The following received As and Bs: Doris Fishlock, Robert Herter, Harry Fishlock, Audrey Moore and Jack Stevens.

We are much interested in the book of "Further Adventures of Lad" by Albert Payson Terhune, that is being read to us. The 6-A class wrote some interesting stories about "Harreda in the Magic Prison" for language.

All through the building are evidences of the three holidays of this month: Lincoln's birthday, Valentines day, and Washington's birthday.

Want To Be An Actor?

If you want to be a successful actor or actress, forget yourself. Never say "Oh, I can't do that," or "They'll laugh at me," for you will never get anywhere in that way. This warning and three other things are Miss Johnson's principal precepts in directing of the Drama Club.

Careful observation of the character to be enacted, an absolute memory picture so that when you shut your eyes, the character is before you, and then as exact mimicry as possible forgetting no little detail, are the other three. To tell the truth all these things roll up into one, live in the part you are playing entirely forgetting your real self.

At the present time only the senior club is working at a play. This they practice not only their one hour a week, but also after school. The play is generally rehearsed before the other clubs, so that the younger members may get a better grasp of the way characterizations are developed from the first crude attempts to the polished finish.

The greatest trouble, as Miss Johnson says, "our greatest handicap is that we cannot reach enough people individually to meet once a week. Only those that stand out can be developed and quieter talent is absolutely missed for lack of time."

Junior High School Assembly

The first junior high school assembly of the semester was opened by a pep rally led by the cheer leaders. It was announced that there was to be a debate with Trenton on February 6, after which the three debaters told of the debating league of Michigan.

The question of this year and points up the question forwarded by the debaters. Trenton eliminated Plymouth last year and we hope to eliminate them this year. After the announcement of the game Friday with Wayne at Wayne, the "Big Three" yell was attempted, the second attempt being more successful than the first.

The first surprise was indeed a surprise. Harold Hill, a sixth grader of Central school, played three numbers on his Hawaiian guitar. This was quite a novelty.

Then a new Student Council ruling was announced, which said that all players on any class team must have the same scholastic standings as are required by the state for school teams. A player must have three passing grades the previous month to play in a game. If he has more than one semester failure he cannot play the next semester.

Another important announcement was that no pupils will be allowed on school grounds after 4:00, unless they are with a teacher or studying in the library or study 3. All necessary things must be taken from the lockers before 4:00 o'clock.

After another yell, Little Mary Jane Martin sang a song about her dolly which she was holding, and "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star."

It was announced that Mr. Camp would be at the school next Tuesday to take the remaining Plythean pictures, and all organizations with uniforms were reminded to bring or wear them to school that day.

Then after singing some old favorites from the grey books, the honor roll for the fourth marking period was read, and assembly was dismissed.

History Theses

Part of the review work of Miss Flegel's history classes was writing theses on some topic studied in history. It was sort of a miniature historical research because it was necessary to browse around in old books about these topics.

The Westward Course of Empire. "Westward the course of empire takes its way"—thus wrote Bishop Berkeley long before America had even been discovered. After the discovery of America the course still ran westward. But where should one begin to tell the history of this west? Where does the west begin? Washington would have said western New York or the Ohio valley. Jefferson and even Jackson would have said the Mississippi valley.

Later our ancestors have considered Texas and Iowa west, until finally California and the Pacific were reached.

Thomas Jefferson, democratic, economic and eager to benefit his country, made the Louisiana Purchase. Neither Spain nor France had ever attempted to colonize it, but France certainly would never allow the continued use of the Mississippi, and consequently Jefferson sent Livingston and Monroe to France to try to make the land change owners.

Thus began the train of covered wagons, the great tide of immigration which continued for years. In 1804 Lewis and Clark left St. Louis with a company of 45 soldiers. They traveled sixteen hundred miles up the Missouri river before winter, and the next spring they crossed the Rocky Mountains and found another river which they followed to its mouth.

Soon after the Lewis and Clark expedition, the restless spirit of the times led many men to migrate westward. In those days people believed that where trees didn't grow nothing else would, and they quite overlooked the great mineral value of these prairie states. The houses that those settlers made were not the proverbial log cabins but why houses made of grass and clay because of the scarcity of timber.

Of the vast Louisiana Purchase the first state to enter the union was Louisiana. This made itself a constituency and supported slavery. By its townships slavery was not made an issue in this state's entrance, but the next state, Missouri, wanted slavery while the free states didn't want her to have it. Finally she entered as a slave state, and soon Arkansas and Iowa were admitted.

At this time, men were settling two other sections of our country. Dr. Whitman was one of the first whose feet trod the Oregon Trail. He and his wife with their wagon rolled across the prairies, over the Rockies, and then through the forests of Oregon. After they reached their goal, Oregon city, they did not rest, but went back after more settlers and built a colony. Soon it was populated. Perhaps its woods lured many of the prairie people, for certainly, the far west was populated far more quickly than the prairies.

The other settlement on a large scale in California, John Fremont, who was one of the makers of the Santa Fe Trail, skirted the Rockies and settled here where many other Americans soon came. He aroused those all so that they wished to join the union, and likewise he played an important part in the Mexican war by which the U. S. gained the Great Southwest.

At last the U. S. had reached the Pacific, although every obstacle had been put in her way. And now these pioneers, these strong, sturdy, courageous frontiersmen had only to build themselves into states to secure good constitutions, and to establish schools.

But there is still a wave of settlers sweeping towards the west. Those of the ones who fill the patches the others have left vacant. We might compare this wave of immigration to a prairie fire. It sweeps toward the west but it leaves behind it little patches where the fire has met farther ahead and swept swiftly onward. It runs irregularly along the ground. Parts of the flame reach the ocean before others, but they all reach it eventually. Then the fire the farthest behind burns the grassy spots the rest has left. This is what the forty-niners did to our country. They started for California lured by one small word—gold! While the rest of them went for it, but few ever found it. In fact, most of them got discouraged or found a lovely spot to live and dropped out of the race. But they found instead the gold of the sun on their wheat fields and finding this as wonderful they settled down some place between the Mississippi river and California. Such were our ancestors who have been.

These lusty pioneers an impulse felt which their less hardy sons scarce comprehend. Alone in nature's wildest scenes they dwell. Where crag and precipice, and torrent blend; And stretched around the wilderness as rude. As the red clovers of the solitude. Who watched their coming with a hate profound. And fought with deadly strife for every inch of ground." —Frederick W. Thomas.

State Conference Girl Reserve

Six Local Girls Attend. The mid-winter conference of the Girl Reserve of Michigan, held in the new Y. W. C. A. building, Detroit, February 7 and 8. There were about 100 delegates and about 60 advisers present from various high school groups over the state.

The delegates all met at the Y. W. C. A. building in Detroit. The building is a fine one, and the delegates were given a tour of the building. The ladies who were to be the girls met the weekend. Two of the Plymouth delegates were Mrs. Wm. Pralaken of High School and Miss Anne Kate Gilbert, the National Girl Reserve member from New York City, was the honor guest of the conference.

Saturday noon there was an informal luncheon for the delegates. The girls were given a bit of fun and social with every fourth girl to serve the rest and those sitting around the table. The girls were given a tour of the city and saw various sights. The girls were given a tour of the city and saw various sights.

Charm Discussion

Saturday morning, February 8, at 10:40 o'clock, the group met in the Y. W. C. A. building. The speaker for the evening was our own inter-club council representative, Elizabeth Strong. Her topic was "Charm," and it was enjoyed by all the girls present because it was really the summary of the whole conference. Miss Gilbert, a leader at conference, led the group in singing some folk songs that she thought we all should know. After singing we all went to the auditorium where the Lansing club girls gave a play called "The Souls of the World." This play was very cleverly worked out and it served as an appropriate ending for such an enjoyable evening.

She then told us a story of the White Lily, which pushed its way up, through all the mud and slime of a stagnant pool, to the rays of the sun. She said that we could do that, too, if we would not let the obstacles of our life stop us. She said "You are just what you want to be and no more or less." She then asked us to give a pledge to our life. She received this answer from an attendant of the group, "Charm decides your position in the world and your place in the lives of your friends."

Great Decision Reached

South Not Justified in Seceding from Union. In the three American History classes, two out of three debates have decided that the South was not justified in seceding from the Union. The debate question was, "Resolved, that the southern states were justified in seceding from the Union." The number of arguments brought up for the south would be surprising to one who had not thought or read much about their side.

The debators on the question were Kenneth Gust and Vivian Smith, affirmative; Richard Heuer and Irene Anderson, negative, in the first hour class; Francis Leonard and Francis Lugal, affirmative, Doris Jewell and Clarice Hamilton, negative, in the fourth hour class; Joan Strong and Hazel Rathburn, affirmative, Gale Kenyon and Carl Denton, negative, in the eighth hour class.

In the first hour class, the affirmative won, and in the fourth and eighth hour classes the negative won. These debates were judged by the classes, each pupil handing in a constructive and destructive criticism with his vote.

GREATER SAFETY DUE TO BANK'S COOPERATION

INSTITUTIONS OF WHOLE NATION IN GREAT CHAIN TO PRESERVE PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY.

Bringing to a conclusion the Money and Civilization series of folders, the current publication just sent out by the Plymouth United Savings Bank relates how banks in all sections of the country are united through an endless chain, so that they can help each other in time of need and thus keep financial affairs on a sound basis throughout the nation.

Previous folders in the bank's series have traced in interesting, instructive fashion the origin and development of money from the earliest times and have shown how it marched step by step with the advance of civilization. In speaking of the series yesterday, officers of the local bank declared that many customers had told them that the folders had clarified ideas that have always been associated with the use of money in their minds of some people, and which have been the cause of many political and economic mistakes in the past.

Not so long ago, according to the historical facts given in the Money and Civilization series of folders, it was a case of "everyone for himself" among the banks. Today, financial institutions of this country form part of a great chain in which each link is strengthened by its fellows. The strain on that chain is never evenly distributed. If one part of the country needs money, some other part has money to lend. Through the nationwide system of banking, city and country no longer are working at cross purposes, and under our modern methods of communication distance is no bar to the quick transfer of funds to wherever they may be needed.

Cooperation such as this is one of the big factors in instilling confidence in depositors in Maine and Oregon, in Minnesota and Texas. However small the institution with which he deals directly, the forces behind that institution are neither small nor needless. To deposit in an American bank is to rely on the American banking system, the bank folder points out, and so long as the local institution is wisely and honestly administered, the support of the system will never fail.

The world owes every man a living, and there are a lot of folks who are getting it a dollar down and a dollar a week.

FOREST FIRES COST $43,968

Forest fires in Michigan during the year 1929 created damage estimated by the Forest Fire Division of the Department of Conservation at $43,968.

This figure is to be compared with $59,664 damages caused by forest fires in the state in 1928, and $65,034 in 1927. The damage resulting from fires in 1929 is the lowest for any one year in the history of the Division. The 1929 season is reported as having been more hazardous than in 1927 or 1928. Practically twice as many fires were reported in 1929 as in 1928.

The Division's report shows that of the total damages, $7,458 was for forest products; $382 to standing merchantable timber; $202 to equipment in the woods, and $35,023 to young, unmerchantable second growth.

The report of damages includes only tangible damages as determined by the Forest Fire Division. The reported damages do not include those intangible values, such as loss of fertility to the soil, loss of game cover, loss of animal and bird life, and losses thru depreciated values for tourist and scenic purposes.

Of the total number of acres burned over during the year, 46,030 acres were on private lands and 3,780 acres were on state owned land. The average acreage burned over for each of the 2,395 fires was 20.8.

The cost of extinguishing the 2,395 fires is reported as $33,140. It is pointed out, however, that this figure does not include the costs of keeping tower-men, special fire wardens and keymen constantly available for forest fire duty during the fire season, or the construction and maintenance of fire lines, district garages and warehouses, or the purchasing of fire fighting equipment, such as trucks, tractors, power pumps, hose, axes, hand pumps and shovels.

Practically all of the fires last year were confined to small areas. Of the total number of fires 13.07 per cent were on areas under a quarter of an acre; 60.92 per cent were on areas from a quarter of an acre to nine acres in size; 22.01 per cent were on areas from ten acres to one hundred acres, and 3.0 per cent were on areas of over one hundred acres.

Copies of the complete Forest Fire Division report for 1929 listing in detail all forest fire information for every county in the fire districts, are now available on request at the office of the Forest Fire Division, Department of Conservation, Lansing.

In commenting on the success of the past season, H. R. Sayre, chief fire warden says, while the record of recent years has been increasingly good and while a further and steady improvement is being planned and is to be expected, it is always to be remembered that at intervals of about seven to ten years, there comes a season of exceptional hazard. Such seasons occurred in 1891, 1911 and 1921. Fire control organization and equipment which is adequate for the average season and which may be expanded so as to carry very heavy overloads during short periods, may prove inadequate when such "conflagration periods" develop.

Also, he said, that while great credit is due the regular field men of the Forest Fire Division for the success of the past season, full recognition should also be given to the cooperation of field men of the other Divisions, and to the law enforcement officers of the Conservation Department in particular. When the fire season was at its worst, the conservation officers were always available to fill the gaps and to loan their years of experience and knowledge of the country and people. Acknowledgment should also be made of the increasing cooperation received from the public in reporting fires, in making available various types of fire fighting equipment, and in numerous instances, assuming charge of fires until the forces of the Fire Division arrived.

Chrome Plating Cuts Ford Tool Costs

Important savings in time and costs have been effected in the use of gauges, tools and other equipment by the Ford Motor company, as the result of the successful application of hard chrome plating to these gauges and machine parts.

For many years, it was known that the use of hard chrome plate would add greatly to the length of life of these tools. The problem was to find the right kind of steel to use, as well as the right method of manufacture, so that the hard chrome plate would stay on, instead of peeling or chipping off. In some cases, the plating was so soft that it could be filed through.

Experiments were conducted to find the kind of wheels to use in grinding the steel and the proper method of heat-treatment. Having finally solved these problems, company men are now obtaining results that seem almost startling.

By use of the plate gauges are now giving 218 hours in certain grinding operation, where formerly four was the limit. Costs have been reduced more than one-half. Gauging applications that cost 8 1/2 to 9 1/2 mills dropped to 3 1/2 and 4 1/2 mills.

For example, the snap gauge used in gauging the diameter of the crankshaft pin bearings has a wearing surface limit on each side of .0001 of an inch. After this was used up, the gauge went back to the tool room. The short life was caused by the fact that the surface of each gauge had an uneven wear, varying in depth from a few millionths to a possible thickness of .0002 of an inch. It may have been annealed by the heat of the grinding wheel at the time the gauge was ground. When the surface was tested for hardness, the machine normally used penetrated the soft portion and for that reason failed to check the wearing surface.

Another example was the plug gauge used on the small end of the connecting rod. Before it was plated, it could be used only about 1,300 times before it had to be retired because of wear. Since the perfection of the plating, this has increased to 18,034 holes. The cost has gone down from 3 1/2 mills per application to 1/4 mill. The wear allowed on this gauge before scrapping is only .00005, or one-half a ten-thousandths of an inch.

The amount of scrap or rejected parts in production has dropped because the gauges retain their close limits so much longer. The assembly line thus has wider limits within which to work.

On tool fixtures such as multiple heads, grinding spindles, drill press spindles and similar steel parts, some cold heading dies and sliding surfaces where friction develops, the parts will show a saving of from 6 to 20 times after plating. The life of gauges, tools, cutters and machine parts on the job is being increased manifold.

The fixtures are so impartially tested and thoroughly checked that there can be no doubt as to the accuracy of the results obtained. The manufacturer's name as well as the trade name are removed, and each piece is assigned a number. Its measurements are taken by a specialist in a constant temperature room. A card is made out for the tool or gauge and filed, after which the part goes out into the plant for eight hours.

A count is made of the number of applications made or pieces checked. The gauge, plug or whatever it happens to be, then remains in the constant temperature room for another eight hours, after which it is rechecked and sent back to the job.

This process continues until the surface has worn down and the tolerance is used up. In that manner the life of the tool or the method of manufacture is determined.

Since the introduction of the Model A Ford engineers have worked steadily on the problem of maintaining close limits without slowing up production, or increasing costs. Development of hard chrome plating has marked a big step forward in the solution of this problem.

Dad Plymouth says until he heard of people dying from this new-fangled disease called "parrot fever" he never knew what ailed Congress.

A. R. Glancy, president of the Oakland Motor Car company, recently presented checks and General Motors stock aggregating $214,695 in value to 342 Oakland members of the 1024 General Motors savings fund class. The payments represented a return of nearly five dollars for each dollar invested by the employees.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The February meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held at the home of Miss Lina Durfee and Mrs. Sarah Armstrong on Penniman Ave., Monday afternoon, February 10. During the business meeting Miss Lina Durfee emphasized the necessity for all voters who have not already done so to re-register before March 8th, in order to be eligible to vote at the spring election. Each elector must sign the new registration card. This registration is necessary because of the fact that the village has recently been divided into two voting precincts.

The Plymouth League pledged their support to the Wayne County League in their efforts to raise money by means of a rummage sale to be held in one of the needy sections of Detroit during March. All members who have articles to contribute to this sale are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Paul Wistman who was appointed Plymouth chairman by Mrs. George Bentley, president of the Wayne County League.

It was decided to have a benefit bridge party at the Hotel Mayflower Friday afternoon, February 28th. The money raised will be donated to the permanent fund of the National League of Women Voters in honor of the name of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the name from the three honor names in Michigan that Plymouth has chosen to honor. Miss Lina Durfee is chairman of the Honor Roll Fund.

Mrs. Harry Adams, secretary of the Wayne County League, a most popular speaker in the county and greatly admired in Plymouth, gave an interesting talk on "County Government." Mrs. Adams spoke of the favorable publicity she gave the Plymouth League in last Sunday's issue of both the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News as the first league in Wayne County to take up the study of County Government preparatory to the support of the County Government Home Rule bill to be presented at the next session of the legislature.

Miss Zsuzanna Penney delighted her hearers with a piano solo. Miss Penney selected "Concerto—First Movement" by Arensky. This was a very difficult number but excellently played. Following the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by Miss Durfee and Mrs. Armstrong.

The next meeting of the Plymouth League will be the annual luncheon to be held at the Hotel Mayflower, March 10th. At that time officers for the coming year will be elected. A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Thoshe Patterson, chairman, Mrs. Wm. Peltz and Mrs. Arscott, was elected at the last meeting.

Business experts report that "the family pocketbook is now in good trim." They probably put the accent on the "trim."

The Plymouth boy who broke off with his best girl just before Christmas is using the telephone now to re-establish relations.

According to Dad Plymouth a genius is a husband who can make his wife believe she looks better in the $20 coat he can afford than in the $100 one she has her heart set on.

Wayne Has Finest Airport In The U. S.

Michigan was assured one of the finest airports in the country when the directors of the Detroit-Wayne Industrial Airport authorized spending $444,656 for clearing and grading work and building of hangars on the 640-acre site near Wayne. Designed according to the highest government standards, the completion and operation of this mile-square flying field before September should greatly strengthen Detroit's position as an aviation metropolis.

By June completion of the new flying field and buildings the directors ordered the issuance of 175,000 shares of par common stock at $10 a share. The directors themselves had previously subscribed and paid for 24,000 shares of the stock at the same price.

The Stinson Airport Corporation already has erected its new factories on the Detroit-Wayne Industrial Airport, and the Detroit Aircraft Corporation plans extensive construction of machine shops and hangars on the ten-acre plot it has acquired adjoining the Stinson properties. Detroit Aircraft also has an option on 20 additional acres and is expected eventually to centralize its manufacturing activities at the new industrial field.

H. E. Smith, president of the port, declares his company will make it the last word in modern flying fields. "In addition to buildings of unique and artistic design housing factories, hangars, and schools," said Mr. Smith, "we will provide modern hotel accommodations, restaurants, news stands, and the best facilities for express, mail, telephone, telegraph and taxi services. One of the main features will be the observation tower, which will provide the traffic director with 100 per cent visibility of the field at all times.

The Detroit-Wayne Industrial Airport is located 35 minutes by motor from Detroit City Hall, and is reached via Michigan avenue. The field is bounded by Ecorse road, Van Horn road, the Ford Marquette Railroad and Logwell road; the Michigan Central R. R. main line is a short distance away. All factory sites are within these boundaries.

Designed by B. Russell Shaw, nationally known airport engineer, the new field will have adequate room to accommodate the most extensive aircraft events. Two hundred acres have been set aside for parking automobiles along while runways have minimum length of 3,500 feet and maximum of 4,800 feet. The port stands directly on the Detroit-Chicago and Detroit-Toledo-Cleveland air routes used by most air travelers in this part of the country.

GRANGE NOTES

The regular meeting of the Grange will be held the 20th of February. The first and second degree will be given to six candidates so we will expect a full house.

The degree team are requested to meet Tuesday the 18th at 1 p. m. sharp at the hall. Hope everyone will be present to take their place.

Lily club was well attended and was entertained by Roots, Gardners and Grammels. Mrs. Shower and James Gates being the fortunate ones for the first prizes and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Tracy were consoled.

Hey, Hi, Ho! All set for the party tonight at the hall. Come and join up for a jolly good time. Everyone invited and as it will be card playing and dancing there will be something doing for all.

Reading that a baby was born in an airplane as it flew over Miami Fla. Dad Plymouth says that's his idea of meeting the stork half way.

It is pleasant tasting, and safe for the whole family, and is guaranteed to relieve sore throats or coughs in 15 minutes or money back. Just ask for Thoxine, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. ### Aces Unofficially Dedicate $750,000 Gymnasium

Plymouth Aces basketball game with Wayne County Training School team played in their new gymnasium. The extreme length of the floor prevented any record breaking scores and the Aces took the game with a 12 to 7 score against Wayne County Training School.

Their gym is the last word in athletic plants. Ceiling and walls are cork lined to prevent ringing sounds to carry. Back boards are made of plate glass giving spectators behind the board a view of games at all times. The Aces record stands in 14 games with 4 losses and 10 victories.

MARKETING

"On Wednesday we to market go—So early in the morning." This little fable may well have been hummed by the girls of the domestic science department, recently, for on January twenty-ninth the whole advanced class marched gayly off to Stever's market for a practical lesson in choosing meat.

The whole class gathered around the counter and the meat block to see the proper way to cut up a chicken and the right way to grind hamburger.

The girls were next shown through a practical demonstration how the heart of an animal works. Water was poured into the passages of the heart and by pumping each side the reaction was seen which would have taken place had the animal been alive.

Lamb was prepared for cooking in three ways. The leg and breast were cut up for stew and the loin for chops and pot roast.

The class learned that beef was divided into a hind and fore quarters. The fore quarters, when cut up, made into skirt steaks, shoulder roasts, pot roasts, soup bones, rib roasts, prime ribs and briskets. From the hind quarter comes flank steak, round steak, T-bone steak, club steak, porterhouse steak, pin bone steak, and sirloin steak.

Pork was cut into four styles, the loin, center chops, shoulder chops, and Boston butts.

To protect all consumers of meat the United States Government inspects all meat and only that which is found clean and not contaminated may be sold. To do away with ill-contrived sale of meat the government inspectors use a purple stamp which cannot be erased. In this way the shopper is sure the meat is fit for use.

Mrs. Stever told the girls that they might send to the National Livestock Company in Chicago and ask for the 1930 book of "Seasonable Meat Recipes." This book tells the best and most economical methods of preparing delicious meat dishes.

GIRLS' BADGE TESTS

The badge tests taken by the girls' gym classes include: first, balancing for poise and muscular coordination; second, running for short distances and introducing where possible the element of skill as well as speed; third, throwing events; and fourth, events which require ability in the fundamentals of games. No height, weight or age limits are needed for girls to enter these tests. There are three tests, each of which is divided into four parts. These four parts give a choice of about three activities of which one may take her choice. Each badge pictures a girl in her gym suit. After one has completed one test, one receives one star on her badge; two tests, two stars; three tests, three stars. Some of the tests are: swimming, potato race, all-up Indian club race, fifty yard dash, and basket ball goal throw. In the different tests one is allowed a certain time in which to do it. The second test is harder than the first, and the third is harder than the second. Girls are allowed to practice on these before they have the try-outs to see who gets stars.

These tests are a part of the Department of Interior outline for physical education.

Rocks finally came out on top, 9 to 7. K. Gates won the game with his baskets. Wayne had plenty of chances to tie the score but the ball just wouldn't go through the hoop.

The defense of both teams was good and very little scoring was done. No player had more than two field goals each. Both teams used very few substitutes.

The Rock second team has now won two games from the league leader's second team. This looks like good material for 1930-31 basketball season.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The band is working very hard on some numbers for the Musiele which is still several months away, and a concert which is to be given next Monday at the Detroit House of Correction. This concert will include a duet on the violin by Milton Moe and Maynard Larkins, an accordion solo by Joseph Ribar and a few vocal solos by Robert Champ and Ted Baughin.

The orchestra has been practicing on "Song of India" by Rimsky-Korsakow which they have been preparing for the Musiele. If the orchestra keeps up the fine rehearsals which it has been having, it will offer a fine entertainment to the public in the spring.

For assembly this Wednesday, Milton Moe and Maynard Larkins were the two violinists who played the "Song of India" by Rimsky-Korsakow as a prelude for the play which was given under the direction of Miss Johnson.

Joseph Ribar and Robert Champ will journey to Salem tonight (Friday) to entertain at the Father and Son Banquet. Joe will entertain on his accordion, mouth organ and his trumpet. All Joe has to do now is to add a few instruments that he can play with his feet and he will be a "One man band." Bibbie will sing some of the old favorite songs.

By Maynard Larkins.

THE FRENCH CLUB

Parley-vous francais? They have to in the French club, or as Miss' Nye says, they are supposed to. But who can blame them for their frequent rhapsies. Just think how difficult it is to grope for necessary words in a foreign language when one is in such a tremendous hurry to say something.

All seven of the members, the six who entertained the assembly recently, and Virginia Tallon, belong to the second year French class. Yes, the second year for it would be just too much for the morale of the first year French pupils to speak nothing but that language an entire hour when it is all they can do to string a simple sentence together in English.

The members are rather disorganized after giving the play they had worked out during the first semester, at the Senior Assembly, and have not yet decided on any definite program except that Madelon Shingleton is to direct the February activities.

OUR TRAVELERS

REACH ENGLAND

All ashore! The "Empress of Scotland" has arrived at England after making a record trip. Look there, does not that group just leaving the steamer look familiar? Why, of course, our globe trotters of the Travel Club have landed in England all set for the grand tour.

We shall sneak after them and see what they consider worth seeking. We might have known that in London under the leadership of Helen Bridges, they head straight for the Parliament, that center of such string-kings between the "I am a God given king" and the determination of the people to govern themselves. Next to Westminster Abbey to view the mouldering tombs of those who hoped to remain posterity forever of their greatness by the elaboration of their sepulchres, but I will wager that our tourists knew but few of them; so much for man's dream of everlasting fame.

Then to the Tower of London, the grim reminder of the fate of those in royal disfavor and even of royalty itself. Nor could the great bridge be passed up for does not the nursery jingle "London bridge is falling down" ring in one's ears, arousing curiosity concerning the stability of that famed structure.

Next, following stealthily in the tourist's footsteps, we find ourselves treading the queer old streets of Dickens' themes and, of course, visiting the "Old Curiosity Shop." Now since the weighty things are off our minds, heigh ho for the shopping district! Naturally, the girls will wait and get the majority of their things in Paris, but just think of the satisfaction it gives one to say "Oh, that's just a little thing I picked up in London."

A Line or Two About Oaklands

Approximately forty tons of trimmings and scrap from the sheet metal plant of the Oakland Motor Car company are remelted into iron castings each day at the Oakland foundry.

After it had been placed in production, the new Oakland V-type Eight was found to out-perform the carefully hand-made experimental cars of identical specifications. This exceptional performance is attributed by Gordon Lefebvre, vice-president in charge of operations to the fact that the experimental chassis were equipped with the slightly heavier bodies which had been used on the Oakland Six.

Otto Hillman, president of the Hillman Fuel Company of Salem, Oregon, is a cross country motoring enthusiast who remains undaunted by inclement weather. Recently on one of the coldest days of the year he left the Oakland Motor Car company at Pontiac, driving a new Pontiac custom sedan back over snow covered roads to Salem. The car is Mr. Hillman's fourth Pontiac Six.

ELECTRIFYING THE FARMERS

Approximately 18 per cent of all Michigan farms will be electrically equipped before the end of this year, according to Prof. H. J. Gallagher, of the Michigan State College. He bases his estimate on the fact that there are about 180,000 farms in the state and 20,000 of these are now using electricity. If the present rate of increase is followed 12,000 more farms will be connected with power lines during 1930. The increase in the number of farms installing electric equipment during 1929 was more than 30 per cent over that of the past 20 years, the college expert says.

EVERY SHOE goes on the BARGAIN BLOCK---You Certainly SAVE!

How Much Do You Value Your Feet

Sixty per cent of the people have foot trouble due to ill-fitting, cheap shoes. This store has always taken pride in handling only shoes that we would guarantee and shoes that we know fit the feet perfectly. Shoes that fit comfortably allow the foot to flex in walking as nature requires. Cheap, ill-fitting shoes distort the foot and rigidly prevent it's natural flexing movement, tending to not only cause pain but lowering vitality and frequently breaking down the arches. Avoid weak feet. Our job is fitting shoes—not just selling them. And during this sale we will be just as careful to give you a REAL FIT.

Now Is Your Big Opportunity

It isn't often that the buying public has a chance at a high grade stock like this one, to get the finest quality shoes at such low sale prices. But our policy is that every shoe must be sold in the season for which it was bought. If real shoe savings interest you, then we predict that this well-known store will be kept crowded. Every shoe in the store is on SALE and marked with a special low price tag. You can see for yourself just what you save. Bring a friend with you who knows good shoes. Seeing is believing, so see for yourself just what this big sale means to you.

CABBAGE

Who would ever dream that the lowly and inelegant cabbage, of which we have read so much, should finally come into its own. No apologies need now be offered when it is served to family or guest, providing precautions are taken to prevent its lasting, and might I say, disagreeable aroma, in the home. This aroma may be done away with by adding 1/4 teaspoonful of soda to the water in which it is cooking. Also it is a wise idea to cover the cabbage pan securely and to change the water once or twice during cooking. Remember that cabbage will become mushy and lose its attractive appearance if boiled too long. A dash of paprika, a garnish of parsley, slices of hard-cooked egg, pepper, or pimento may be used to dress up cabbage just as it is used for other dishes.

Those who have admired cabbage publicly, and those who crave it secretly have finally united in an effort to find new and interesting ways of serving it. Many a prayer has been answered by the new recipes which have been brought forth as a result of the changed attitude toward cabbage. Following are a few which quite recently appeared in a leading food magazine.

Cabbage en Casserole
 Wash, quarter and boil cabbage in salted water. Remove from fire and cut no too fine, place in buttered casserole with sliced cold meat (beef or cold roast pork), add small onion cut fine, and one potato, medium size, also sliced, add a teaspoonful of chopped green pepper, pour over cup of meat stock, cook thirty minutes; remove from oven, cover with bread crumbs, return to oven, brown, and serve very hot.

Cabbage in Pepper Cups
 Boil cabbage which has been quartered, ten minutes, drain, chop fine, add chopped onion, roast pork, or left-over boiled ham, or sausage, add salt and pepper, and mix thoroughly. Cut out cups of green peppers, number wanted by members of family and their appetites—remove centers, dip shells in cold water, drain and stuff with cabbage mixture, cover with bread crumbs dotted with butter. Place in a shallow pan, the bottom of which is covered with boiling water, cook until tender over a slow fire and serve hot.

Cabbage Au Gratin
 Shred one medium head of cabbage. Mix one cup of milk thoroughly with flour, cheese, pepper and salt. Slice three hard-boiled eggs and arrange in alternate layers in casserole with cabbage, first layer of cabbage then egg slices. Add milk mixture, cover and bake in oven one hour.

Coleslaw
 Select a small, heavy cabbage, take off the outside leaves, and cut in quarters; with a sharp knife slice very thin. Soak in cold water until crisp, drain, dry between towels, and mix with cream salad dressing made as follows: Mix in top of double boiler one teaspoonful of mustard, and one of salt, two teaspoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of powdered sugar, a few grains of cayenne, one teaspoonful of butter, the yolk of one egg, and slowly add one-third cup of vinegar, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens; cool and then add one-half cup of cream beaten until stiff.

Scalloped Cabbage
 Take off outside leaves, cut in quarters, and remove tough stalk. Soak in cold water twenty minutes, cook in boiling salt water about twenty-five minutes, cut in small pieces, put in buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and add one cup of medium white sauce. Lift cabbage with fork, that it may be well mixed with the sauce, cover with bread crumbs, dot with butter and bake until brown.

Cabbage Hollandaise
 Boil as far as scalloped cabbage, cut into small pieces, place in baking dish, add hollandaise sauce made as follows: Divide one-half a cup of butter into three parts, place one piece in a saucepan with one tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar and the yolks of two eggs; place the saucepan in a larger one containing boiling water and stir constantly. Add the second piece of butter, and as mixture thickens, the third piece. If left over the fire too long the mixture will separate. By adding a small quantity of milk or water the trouble will be corrected. Pour over the cabbage, garnish with slices of hard-boiled eggs and serve very hot.

Call Miss Taylor at the Gas Office if you wish help in preparing any one of these recipes.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"THE KIBITZER"
 Just what constitutes a "kibitzer" will be graciously and very humorously shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, February 16, 17 and 18.
 Harry Green, who has made a rapid rise to film laurels by way of the all-talking screen is "just this type" as the "kibitzer" himself in this scorchingly funny comedy.
 Green owns a cigar store where his cronies play pinochle every night. He doesn't take part in the game ordinarily, but he puts in his two cents' worth every time he thinks some one makes a false move. He just can't help telling everybody how to play the cards, for a kibitzer is that kind of a guy.
 The plot thickens when Green is entrusted with a quantity of bonds and he installs a stock ticker in his cigar store. The humor gets faster from that point onward and excitement is at a high pitch. Green tells everyone how he is going to clean up. But the stock crashes and he loses. Then a rebound in the plot shows that he had made thousands, through a lucky break, and through no stroke of genius on his part. Then the true quality of kibitzing shines through, for Green tells his friends that he knew all along he was going to win.
 Mary Brian, as Green's daughter, and Neil Hamilton, as the struggling young architect, supply the romantic phase of the story. Both are splendid. There is a substantial amount of excellent character support by Lee Kohlman, Henry Fink, Guy Oliver, Tenny Holtz and Eddie Kane.
 "The Kibitzer" although exuberantly funny at every moment is, at the same time very real.

"HER PRIVATE LIFE"
 A dramatic role of great power is portrayed by Miss Dove in her newest First National Vitaphone picture, "Her Private Life," which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, February 19 and 20.
 Opening in London, the story moves to the colorful background of English country life, where Miss Dove portrays a titled English woman. Then the action swings to New York, where the heroine is shown pawing her last jewels so that she may eat. Only at the end does the light of happiness and love dawn upon the horizon.
 It is a role that is by far the most difficult that this beauty of the screen has portrayed, and the coming of "Her Private Life" will be awaited with interest by her many admirers in this city.
 Miss Dove has a new leading man in "Her Private Life." He is Walter Pidgeon, former stage favorite, and he is ideal as the handsome lover in this story. Pidgeon sings the theme song.
 The fine supporting cast includes Montagu Love, Holmes Herbert, Roland Young, Thelma Todd, Zasu Pitts, Mary Forbes and Brandon Hurst.
 "Her Private Life" was directed by Alexander Korda, the noted Hungarian director who was also at the metropole on Miss Dove's "The Yellow Lily" and other pictures.
 The picture is 100 per cent dialogue, and is Miss Dove's third all-dialogue screen offering.

"HARD TO GET"
 It takes a playful and spirited cast to make really "human" movies, according to William Beaudine, famous cinema director.
 That's why "Hard to Get," which Beaudine directed for First National Vitaphone, is so human, the director believes.
 Dorothy Mackall is starred in the picture, which is coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22. The cast supporting Miss Mackall is composed almost entirely of funsters who sang and romped and played tricks throughout the making of the picture.
 Charles Delaney, former World-War "ace," plays opposite Miss Mackall. Louise Fazenda, Jack Oakie, and James Finlayson formed a grand comedy trio for the picture itself and vied with the star and Delaney in off-stage fun. "Larisa" Sedovane and Edmund Burns have quite dignified roles in the film, but they too held up their end in frolic out of camera range. So did Margaret Beaudine, the director's little daughter.
 "For the picture with or without predominant comedy interest, such a cast makes for real, warm, human film character portrayals," Beaudine declares. "I encourage the spirit of fun that pervades all of my companies."

Cady School Notes
 Clifford Keeler is absent on account of illness.
 The kindergarten and first grade have been discussing thrift this month. Several thrift books were made.
 The kindergarten planned the Eskimo sand table, while the first grade made Eskimo posters and booklets for language.
 Russell Bakewell, Robert Gourly, Ruth Golin, Harry Koroski, Gerald Kitchen, Eugene Newman, Earl Opliger, Alfred Welland, Billy Johnson and Christine McArthur were here every day last month.
 The kindergarten and first grade are enjoying new reading books and new work books.
 Every month we make a health poster. This month's poster tells us to take a bath more than once a week.
 The girls are busy making curtains for the doll house.

AN OPEN LETTER
 TO EVERY CITIZEN OF PLYMOUTH AND SURROUNDING TERRITORY FROM MR. HEABER REED WHO LOST ALL OF HIS BELONGINGS IN THE DISASTROUS FIRE WHICH OCCURRED AT HIS PLACE EARLY MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 10th, 1930.
 Plymouth, Mich.,
 Feb. 10, 1930

To Whom It May Concern:

Having been unfortunate enough to lose all of my household and personal effects in the fire which occurred at my place early Monday morning, February 10th, 1930, the thought occurred to me that I might pass along a word of warning to others who might not have insurance or who might be under insured.

The amount of insurance which I carried will not come anywhere near paying for my loss and as a result I stand to lose a great deal of money.

Just a word of advice; keep your fire insurance coverage well up to value. The cost of full coverage will not hurt nearly as much as that terrible feeling after a fire when you know you are "out of luck".

Sincerely,
 HEABER REED

This Insurance Agency had the above mentioned loss adjusted to Mr. Reed's complete satisfaction within twelve hours of the time the fire started.

Making Uncle Sam's Submarines Safe for Crews

Various devices have been adopted by the United States navy for the safety of submarines and their crews. This picture of the new S-29 shows the "pad eyes" near the water's edge. These rings will permit cables to be attached in case of sinking and pontoons will then raise the sunken ship. Other safety equipment on the S-29 includes Momen "lungs" (quickly attachable breathing devices for the crew), a safety escape lock on deck from which the crew can escape; a marker buoy which will serve as a marker for a rescue ship, and a telephone buoy which also will go to the surface and serve as a means of communication with the crew below.

NOTICE All kinds of electrical utensils repaired at 614 Deer Street. 1c

NOTICE I wish to assure the people of the Village of Plymouth and community that the present "Typhoid Scare" has very little basis of fact. Three cases sent to Ann Arbor hospital as suspects were pronounced by interne doctors as "Typhoid."

We got in touch with the doctor in charge of these cases, gathered these facts. The diagnosis of Typhoid was a tentative one, based on their first findings. Since then the "Widal test"—the real test for Typhoid has been negative on all three cases and the doctors would not say positively that they were Typhoid.

We have no evidence that either the water or milk supply from any source is contaminated with Typhoid. Doctor Slater of the Health Board at Lansing came Thursday and will further investigate the matter. Full reports will be published later.

Father and Son Supper At St. John's Church

Fifty-five fathers and sons gathered at St. John's Episcopal church on Wednesday night for supper and a surprise entertainment, sponsored by the Men's Club. The menu consisted of escalloped potatoes, meat loaf, Waldorf salad, buttered rolls, coffee or cocoa and ice cream and cake served by a committee of women from the church. After supper and a brief talk setting forth the purpose of the Father and Son movement, the fun of the evening began. Two comic recitations in Jewish dialect, given by Joseph Tracy, delighted the boys. These were followed by a series of short sketches, representing well known funny paper characters drawn by the rector, Oscar J. F. Seltz. The headline numbers of the program, in so far as laughter and applause may be taken as a register, were two "shadowgraphs" given by James Gallimore and Edwin Woolley. The first represented a scene in a "painless" dentist's office of Lincoln's day and age. The second, a round of "shadow boxing."

Blame Flat Feet For Failure Of Many in Business

The secret of why some succeed and others fail is out at last. Flat feet. It is all very plausible, according to a foot specialist. It is impossible for anyone with a fallen arch to be 100 per cent efficient. He said "As civilization has progressed, the great sciatic nerve which runs through the leg from foot to spine has caused the arches of the feet to grow higher. Man has got more and more 'on his toes' as his energy and ambition have expanded. And so, when the arch falls, he loses ground. Both mind and body suffer."

Nine-Year Record Broken by January Building Contracts

$323,975,200, TOTALS IN 37 STATES EAST OF ROCKIES, EXCEEDS DECEMBER, FIRST TIME IN NEARLY DECADE. For the first time in nine years, the January total of building and engineering contracts exceeded the total of the preceding December, according to F. W. Dodge corporation. It is true that last month's increase over the immediately preceding month was only 2 per cent, but the month of January normally falls behind December and has done so consistently even in the highest boom years such declines having ranged anywhere from 5 to 29 per cent. In January, 1929, the contract increase over December, 1928, marked the turning point from a prolonged building recession; this January's contract record may likewise mark the turning point of the current recession. In addition to the 2 per cent increase in contracts, January had the highest recorded volume of contemplated new construction. Building and engineering contracts let last month in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains amounted to $323,975,200. In addition to the 2 per cent increase over December in dollar volume, there was a 4 per cent increase in number of projects reported. The month's contract volume in dollars was 21 per cent behind that of January, 1929. Among the important classes of construction expenditures contracted for in January were: $112,065,200, or 35 per cent of all construction for public works and utilities; $86,931,900, or 21 per cent, for residential buildings; $54,052,300, or 17 per cent, for commercial buildings; $38,266,200, or 12 per cent, for industrial buildings, and $19,009,200, or 6 per cent, for educational buildings. Contemplated new work reported in the 37 states during January amounted to $1,455,349,600, by far the largest total of newly planned work recorded for any single month. These contemplated projects represented a 68 per cent increase over the amount reported in December, 1929, and a 78 per cent increase over the amount reported in January, 1929. Out of this enormous total $808,211,400 consisted of plans for public works and utilities projects, including large sub-

Two State Milk Inspectors Here

At the request of the milk dealers supplying Plymouth and vicinity, two state inspectors were in town Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of investigating the local milk supply, under the direction of the Michigan Department of Health. As the first step toward a more complete and thorough investigation a preliminary inspection was made of the two local dairies. Though no report as to their findings was made to the local authorities, assurance was given that nothing was found that would place the slightest suspicion upon the portion of the milk supply handled by either of the two local dairies. In view of the present typhoid scare, however, the state department of health is ordering a thorough and complete investigation of the entire supply of milk coming into Plymouth to be made at once. Only in this manner can we know positively that our milk supply is entirely safe in all respects. Dad Plymouth says those fellows who claim the auto has not reached its saturation point should try riding in a rumble seat during a rain. The way a Plymouth man treats the family dog depends a good deal on the way the family treats him. Airplanes may be as safe as autos, but few cars would collide if they had four ways in which to dodge.
