BEALS POST NO. 32 INSTALL OFFICERS

Installation Ceremony and Banquet Held At Hotel Mayflower Monday Evening.

Department Commander Raymond J. Kelley Installed The Officers of New Post.

The installation of officers of Myron H. Beals Post No. 32, American Legion, took place at the Hotel Mayflower Monday evening, with eighty in attendance. The program of the evening was preceded by a splendid dinner with the following menu:

- Pickles
- Celery
- Olives
- Soup—A la Army
- Broiled Tenderloin of Beef
- French Fried Spuds
- Head Lettuce Salad
- Ice Cream and Cake
- Coffee

The dining room was profusely decorated with the national colors, and at each guest's plate was found a paper cap and various kinds of noise makers, which at intervals during the serving of the dinner were used with good effect.

A. J. Richwine, commander of the new post, presided as master of ceremonies. A moment of silence was observed in memory of the comrades who had made the supreme sacrifice for their country, followed by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Songs of 1918 were sung, with Irving J. Ulrich leading the singing.

Miss Marguerite Wood was the accompanist at the piano for the song numbers.

Commander Richwine then introduced Fred H. Lyons of Detroit, Junior Vice-Commander of Wayne County Council American Legion. Mr. Lyons made a few remarks in which he congratulated the members of the new post on the most auspicious start which the post had made, and predicted that it would grow and be a great force for good in this community as well as to the state and nation.

Other guests from posts in neighboring towns were introduced. The commander then introduced the honor guests of the evening, Mrs. Mirlam E. Beals, Mrs. Annie Henderson, Mrs. John Ratterbury and Mr. John Ratterbury, whose sons had made the supreme sacrifice in the late war.

The speaker of the evening, Raymond J. Kelley, Department Commander of Michigan, was then introduced. Mr. Kelley is a forceful speaker, and held the closest attention of his hearers throughout his remarks. He touched briefly upon a few of the many wonderful things the American Legion is accomplishing in Michigan and the splendid results which have rewarded their efforts. Among these he laid special stress upon the Legion's attitude upon the matter of preparedness, universal service, and the great program of caring for the thousands of disabled veterans. The speaker painted a vivid picture of the Legion's home for the children which has been established at Otter Lake, and the splendid work that is being done there for the kiddies of the veterans who had either passed on or were physically unable to care for their little ones.

He paid a tribute to the honored guests of the evening, and spoke feelingly of the comrades who had made the supreme sacrifice, and admonished his comrades to ever keep green the memory of those heroes who were sleeping the long sleep in the cemeteries across the sea or in their native country.

At the conclusion of his talk, Commander Kelley installed the following officers of Myron H. Beals Post No. 32: Commander—A. J. Richwine; Senior Vice-Com.—Irving J. Ulrich; Junior Vice-Com.—C. Donald Ryder; Adjutant—Phyllis; Secretary—John W. Joffe; Treasurer—Dr. F. B. Hoyer; Sgt. at Arms—Harvey C. Springer; Chaplain—John Straub.

At the conclusion of the installation ceremony, Commander Kelley congratulated the members of the post on their splendid organization and admonished them to cooperate with the officers in making it a flourishing and growing organization and a factor for great good in the community.

Commander Richwine responded with fitting remarks. The program was brought to a close with the singing of America.

The following is a roster of Beals Post No. 32:

- Russell S. Penney
- George I. Chapman
- W. J. Sturges
- Paul F. Hoyer

High School Band Entertains De-Ho-Co Inmates

On Wednesday evening of last week the high school band went out to the Detroit House of Correction farm and presented a musical program to the officers and inmates of that institution which was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by those who heard it.

The affair was arranged by John M. Larson of the local Kiwanis Club which sponsored the band, while members of the club provided the transportation for the musicians.

In addition to the band, vocal solos were rendered by "Bob" Champagne and Ted Raughn, while Joe Ribbar and Milton Rose provided music for the accompanying violin respectively. Miss Gladys Schrader accompanied the young artists.

Nutrition Specialist To Be At Wayne

MISS MURIEL DUNDAS WILL PRESENT THIRD DISCUSSION TO LEADERS OF NUTRITION PROJECT.

Miss Muriel Dundas, Nutrition Specialist from the Michigan State College, will meet the Nutrition leaders in Wayne, Tuesday, March 4th, at 10:00 in the Edison Electric Company's lecture room. The third topic for discussion will be "Eating for Health and Efficiency." Miss Dundas will also give a demonstration in the cooking of vegetables and will give suggestions for the vegetable dinner.

LOCAL TALENT WILL STAGE A COMEDY PLAY

"AUNT LUCIA" TO BE PRESENTED AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM MARCH 5TH AND 6TH.

On next Wednesday and Thursday nights, March 5th and 6th, the famous collegiate comedy, "Aunt Lucia," will be staged at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Extension Men's Club.

In the play proper, Bert Swadling plays the part of Jerry Watson, a college boy, who dressed in an old lady's outfit, is mistaken for Lucia Wakefield, an old maid, and consequently falls into a lot of unfortunate circumstances. He has several old men, such as the butter and egg man, played by Alton J. Richwine, the widower, Mr. Collins, played by Bert Giles, and A. J. Koenig who takes the part of Prof. Gaddis, falling in love with him and proposing to him. All at the same time, he is a hard-boiled college boy and a very little old maid aunt.

Other important characters are Harry Hunter and Dick Fishlock and George and Dick, the two college boys who support Swadling as the fake "Aunt Lucia." They help carry the comedy of the show and add a lot to the life and pep of the production. Mildred Eckles, Hilda Barnes and Irene Brown are the college girls. Betty, Molly and Ethel, Mable Dick is playing the part of the old maid college dean, who is in love with Prof. Gaddis. Irving Ulrich is the college president, and Vanita Alquire takes the part of the college president's wife. Dr. Hoyer is the fraternity president. A real comedy part are Ed. DePorter and Stephen Horvath, the two freshmen.

Besides the play proper, there are a number of special features in the show, the College Glee Club portraged by 18 business men, open the show and give a lot of entertainment. The famous flapper chorus is one of the highlights of the show. This chorus consists of 30 business men who portray college girls, types such as Clara Bow, Cleopatra, etc.

The opening of the show is featured by a certain raiser, the big baby program with over one hundred children between the ages of 5 and 8. The special dramatic reader is Mrs. Frank Dicks.

Another feature of the show is 25 high school girls in costume choruses and special song numbers. All in all, "Aunt Lucia" is a well rounded out production.

A list of all the characters will be found in an ad in this issue of the paper. Look them over. This promises to be one of the biggest shows ever staged, and is going to be well worth the price of admission. Tickets for reserve seats will be on sale at the Mayflower Drug Co. Monday, March 3.

Attend D. A. R. Meet

On Thursday, February 29, a meeting of the Ladies St. Clair Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held at the Institute of Art in Detroit, was attended by Mrs. D. T. Randall, Mrs. Carmen Root, Mrs. L. B. Warner, Mrs. Tracey McMurtry of Wayne, Mrs. C. H. Bryan, and Mrs. D. Terkes of Northville, members of the St. Clair Chapter, and their guests, Mrs. Arthur Griffith of Plymouth, and Mrs. Collin Morrison and Mrs. Emma Cheney of Wayne. The program was in charge of the National Defense Committee who presented N. E. Hewitt of Chicago, executive secretary of the American Intelligence Association. He told some startling facts regarding the spread of communism in the United States. The speaker was followed by the Rev. Fr. Connelin of the Shrine of the Little Flower who described very vividly the activities of communists in Detroit and the state of Michigan.

ROYAL TEMPERANCE LEGION WILL MEET.

On Saturday, March 8th, the Royal Temperance Legion will hold the usual monthly meeting at the home of Florence Gray, on Elmwood street, at 2:30 p. m. This society is for boys and girls of from ten to sixteen years of age.

Let me urge you to join our society. You will enjoy the meetings. To the parents, I would say this—The only way the evils of booze, bootleggers and crime may be successfully eradicated is by educating the children to hate and scorn these things.

"The ropes of today ring the bells of tomorrow," you know, and the children of today will be the citizens of tomorrow.

Mrs. R. C. Vaeley,
I. T. I. Director.

A New Country Club For Plymouth

Announcement was made Friday that the Plymouth Country Club of Plymouth had closed the deal for the purchase of 260 acres of land at Powell and Beck roads, for country club purposes.

The Plymouth Country Club representative stated that this organization is made up of prominent business men of Plymouth and Detroit, and that they will create on the above site one of the most beautiful recreational and social clubs in the Detroit district.

Crane and Company, architects, of Detroit, are designing a complete and up to the minute club house to be used not only for locker rooms, cafe and recreational features, but designed also for use as a social club and for social activities.

A 36-hole golf course will be constructed, and owing to the excellent lay-out of the land, this should be the best of all courses in the district.

A habbling brook runs through the property, and at one point a swimming pool will be built.

Stables will be maintained for those who are horse fans, and this sport will be ideal owing to the many beautiful spots in the vicinity for riding.

A habbling brook runs through the property, and at one point a swimming pool will be built.

An announcement will follow in the near future of the officers and directors of the club, and among these, it is learned, will be some names well known to the Plymouth populace.

This deal will represent an asset to Plymouth, as it will introduce the district to many suburban home-site buyers who heretofore had not known of the district and its beautiful surroundings, and this will mean, of course, new residents and natural increases in realty values.

EVIDENCE LINKS TRIO IN SLAYING

Warrants have been issued from the prosecutor's office, charging three men with the slaying of Benjamin Laframboise, 70 years old, alleged bootlegger.

The body of Laframboise, with the throat cut, was found on a burning bed in his one-room shack at the inlet of the Huron River at French Landing, three miles east of Belle Isle. Robbery was thought to have been the motive, as Laframboise kept large sums of money in the shack. It was said.

Juan Hurstado, Ignacio Barrajas and Ramon Mendez, Mexicans, who live in Plymouth were named in the warrants, after Assistant Prosecutor Weitzman had taken a statement from Barrajas. These men, with five other Mexicans and a woman living in the same house, were arrested February 13 by Chief of Police Springer and several deputies from the sheriff's office.

A coat, said to be owned by Hurstado and matching a coat belt found in the shack, was discovered in the Mexican's home. Hurstado and Barrajas were arraigned on warrants charging homicide last week Wednesday. Mendez, who is said to have admitted buying the revolver in Pontiac, was apprehended the next day.

Action on the arraignment was halted Wednesday when Barrajas said he would make a statement. He told officers he did not want to see "six persons suffer for a crime they did not commit."

According to the Barrajas' confession, Hurstado and Mendez killed Laframboise and set fire to the shack to cover up the deed. Barrajas said the other two told him afterwards they did not find any money in the shack.

Man Missing From His Home

Peter J. Schlaf, aged 65 years, who makes his home with his son, Wm. C. Schlaf, 598 Adams street, has been missing since Friday, February 21st, when he was last seen about 9:30 o'clock that morning. Mr. Schlaf is five feet two inches in height and weighs 135 pounds. He wore blue trousers with white stripes, gray coat, lumber jacket with red and gray checks. Any information leading to his whereabouts will be gladly received by his family or Chief of Police George W. Springer who has been asked to help locate the missing man.

Mrs. Volney Gunning Dies

Mrs. Volney Gunning, a life-long resident of Livonia, passed away at her home in that township, Tuesday morning, aged 75 years. Mrs. Gunning had been in poor health for some time.

Funeral services will be held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The interment will be made at Clarenceville.

A more extended notice will be given next week.

Wins First Prize In Poster Contest

Miss Maurine Dunn of this place, won first prize in the class B poster contest at the all-student art exhibit held at the J. L. Hudson auditorium in Detroit. The contest was sponsored by the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Dunn's friends extend congratulations on her success. The exhibit will continue to March 22nd.

Will Give Bridge Party

Benefiting the fund for the tenth anniversary and honor roll of the National League of Women Veterans, the Plymouth League is sponsoring a bridge party to be held at the Hotel Mayflower, Friday, February 28th, at 2:00 p. m.

Besides bridge there will be tables for five hundred and pedro. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. You are cordially invited to attend. Tickets are 50c. Call Miss Lina Durfee, Mrs. Harry Reck or Mrs. Paul Wiedman if tickets are desired.

The proceeds will be presented to the National League as a gift honoring the name of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw—a pioneer in every field of endeavor for the advancement of women—who gave her life to the cause of womanhood. This gift will be added to the permanent fund that is being raised throughout Michigan in her honor.

Rainbow Girls Entertain

The Rainbow Girls, members of Mrs. Charles O. Ball's Sunday-school class, entertained the boys of Claude Dykehouse's class at a dinner party at the First Presbyterian church last Thursday evening. Covers were laid for forty-two. This dinner was the outcome of a contest between the two classes which was won by the boys. Besides the members of the two classes, Ray and Mrs. Walter Nichol, Mrs. Dykehouse and Mr. Ball were present. Following the dinner guests were enjoyed.

Police Find Car Laden With Liquor

Last Saturday night about 9:00 o'clock, a Hudson sedan was driven into the alley just off of Davis street, and became mired in the soft ground. Unable to get out, the car was abandoned by the driver. People nearby notified Officer Charles Thumme, who made an investigation and found 150 gallons of liquor in the car. The car was taken to the village hall, and the car turned over to the state authorities. The car bore the license number 109-002, and the owner's name given as Frank Grande, 123 Sullivan, Wyandotte, Mich. The police have been unable to learn the identity of the driver of the car who evidently thought local officers were after him.

Woman's Club Meets

If you feel blue, see the "Womanless Wedding," for it is a sure cure, or if you feel like a good hearty laugh, be sure to include this funny show in your plans for next week.

Just think, seventy of the local men will be dressed as men, women and children. They will sing songs and have stunts that you have never before imagined them capable of. There will be the "Fashion Plate," "Charlie Chaplin," "Like Rosenfeld," "Twin Sisters," "Mary Pickford," "The Bad Little Brothers," and countless others.

The bride and her attendants will conclude the procession, and if you are curious you will wonder who the groom is, but he is a sure cure, or if you are not prepared to be on from seats at the "Womanless Wedding," March 6th and 7th, Thursday and Friday, at the Northville High School gymnasium. Seats on sale at Horton's Drug Store, John McCully's and Fred's, Northville, and First National Bank, Plymouth. Reserved seats for Monday, March 8th, at Northville Drug Co.

A complete line of fresh and smoked meats, baked goods and dairy products will be carried in stock.

For the opening day some very attractive special prices are being made. With every meat purchase of a dollar or more, a Loaf-A-Bread will be given away. Free also one can Beech-Nut prepared spaghetti or one can Beech-Nut pork and beans with purchases of two other Beech-Nut products. There will also be given away free shopping bags for the ladies and cake, cookies and candy for the children.

The Purty Market, under the ownership of Mr. Gollin, has met with phenomenal success since its establishment here two and one-half years ago. It is the success of the first market that prompted Mr. Gollin to start another one, that he might in the future give a better service and greater values.

The people of Plymouth and vicinity are most cordially invited to visit the new Purty Market Saturday, the opening day. See the big ad for further particulars.

Mrs. F. Bolton Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Marguerite Kahl Bolton, who died suddenly last Saturday, February 15, was born April 3, 1880, in Salem township. She attended the Slegen public school and at the age of eleven years moved to South Lyon, where she continued her schooling in the high school.

In July, 1908, she was married to Frank M. Bolton of South Lyon. To this union were born five children—Freida (Mrs. George Walker), Melvin, Merle, Clarence and Glenn, the youngest child, Glenn, having died in infancy.

After her marriage, they resided in South Lyon for two and one-half years, then moved to Northville, where they have since made their home. While living here, Mrs. Bolton has attended the Methodist church. In January, 1929, she became a member of Orient Chapter, No. 77, O. E. S. She was also a member of the Rebekah Lodge, No. 182, of Plymouth, for three and one-half years.

She was ill but sixteen hours before her death. She leaves to mourn their loss, her husband, a daughter, three sons, her own parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kahl; two sisters, three brothers, a number of nieces and relatives and a host of friends.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. William Richards at the Schrader funeral home. Burial took place in the family lot at South Lyon. Northville Record.

Mrs. Bolton was the sister of Miss Katherine Kahl of this place.

A Stabbing Affray

A quarrel which resulted in a stabbing affray occurred at 706 Blunk avenue Tuesday morning about eight o'clock. Carl Hollis, who is employed at the Dunn Steel Products, was the victim of the stabbing, and Wm. Hollis, aged 22 years, is charged with the murder.

Henry Ray and Fred Ballen were standing in the alley in the rear of Mr. Ray's plumbing shop, when Hollis staggered out of the rear door of the house at 706 Blunk avenue, and exclaimed that he had been stabbed and to call an officer. Mr. Ray called Chief of Police Springer, who hurried to the scene of the stabbing, but when he arrived, the wounded man had been taken to a doctor's office by Hukill, where his wounds were dressed and he was later taken to his home in Northville. Hollis was stabbed in the back, and although he was badly cut and lost a large quantity of blood, it is thought that he will recover.

Chief of Police Springer placed Hukill under arrest when he came to the doctor's office where his victim's wounds were being dressed. He was taken to the prosecuting attorney's office in Detroit, where he made a statement. The prosecutor recommended a warrant charging him with felonious assault.

Hukill lives with his sister, Margaret Agrusa, at the above address. His examination has been set for next Tuesday.

5,000 Attend Ford's Surplus Farm Sale

Harry C. Robinson conducted one of the largest automobile sales held in this vicinity in recent years, when more than 5,000 persons thronged Henry Ford's farm on Ford road, near Southfield road, last week Wednesday. About $25,000 worth of stock and farm machinery was sold by Mr. Robinson.

The sale commenced at 9:00 o'clock and lasted until 5:00 p. m. The evening before the "gavel" fell on the final deal. Prices ranged from $100 for a batch of wagon shafts to $500 for a Case threshing machine.

Notable among the bargains were the 34 saddle horses, some of which went as low as $150. These horses were brought by "Tom" and "Ben" Edson, who were sold by Mr. Robinson. The horses went to the Belle Isle Academy and eight others to the Six-Mile Road Riding Academy.

The other livestock included work horses, driving horses and two race horses. There were also 36 wagons (dump and flat-tops), corn binders, grain binders, hay loaders, hay rakes and cutters.

Mr. Robinson estimated the replacement value of the goods at about $60,000. A free lunch consisted of a bottle of coffee, two sandwiches, two pieces of cake, piece of pie and an apple or orange.

Death of A Young Baby

Alice June Zammer, five months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zammer of Livonia township, passed away February 22. The funeral services were held Sunday, February 23 at 1:30 o'clock from the home. The interment was at Riverside cemetery, with Rev. Taylor of Highland Park officiating.

FRUGALITY

Frugality is good, if liberality be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last bestowing them to the benefit of others that need. The first without the last begets covetousness; the last without the first begets prodigality.

—William Penn.

DANGEROUS DAYS

The season of shifting temperatures is with us again, and for the next several weeks to come you'll probably encounter more "sniffing and sneezing" around Plymouth than you'll notice at any other time of year. Doctors call it the most dangerous season of the year, and they never cease to warn us to be careful of sudden atmospheric changes, that bring colds and lung ailments. And these often develop into an illness that results fatally. Get plenty of fresh air—but avoid drafts. Drink plenty of fresh water and sleep with a window open. Avoid over-heated rooms. Keep your feet dry and, if you should get wet, don't wear the garments while they are drying out but change clothing immediately. Simple hints, every one of them, yet sufficient to save a life. Fresh air never yet killed anyone, and neither did anyone ever get too much of it at this season of the year. Keep that in mind. See that the children get their share, too, and we'll have both a happier and healthier community, with little to fear from this season of sudden changes.

IT WENT THROUGH

We're more than glad to announce that the Senate has passed the Dowell-Phipps bill which increases federal aid for highways from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 a year for the next three years. Every good road enthusiast around Plymouth should throw his hat in the air, for it took a long, hard fight to get it. It may not mean a mile of new road in our immediate vicinity this year or next. But every mile of road built anywhere in the United States helps this and every other community in an indirect way. Later on we will benefit directly because our own state will now have a greater opportunity to get its share of federal road aid when it is prepared to meet the requirements necessary to securing it. It's a big victory for the good roads advocates of the nation, this increased appropriation. It means, too, that still more of our federal taxes and revenues are going to be put where it will bring real benefits.

THERE'S A MORAL HERE

Did you ever stop to think that hard times mean nothing to a hen. She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs regardless of what is said about conditions. If the ground is hard, she scratches harder. If it's dry, she digs deeper. If she strikes a rock, she works around it. But always she digs up worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits as well as tender broilers. Did you ever see a pessimistic hen? Did you ever know of one starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface? Did you ever hear one cackle because times were hard? Not on your life. She saves her breath for digging and her cackles for eggs.

We're not mentioning any names—but we wonder how many of our readers can find the moral in this.

WORKING IN TOWN

We've often wondered how many people around Plymouth who still consider the auto a luxury have taken into consideration the fact that it has produced an entirely new class of workers in the United States. This is the combination farmer-industrial worker, men and youths who are essentially farmers but who can now work in nearby towns and cities and still look after the farm.

Back in horse-and-buggy days this was impossible. The farm boy, or man, could not get his chores done and get to the canning factory, cotton gin, packing plant, sugar mill or other industry in time to start with the regular force. And it would have taken too long to get home after the day's work was done. But it's different now, for by using an auto, and with good roads constantly getting better, they can live on a farm and still work in a town or city five, ten or even 25 miles away.

There is no doubt but this development is doing much to keep the present rural population on the farms. In time it ought to increase it. It also is bringing the factories from the big cities to the smaller towns, since the labor question—the thing that has kept so many factories away from the smaller towns—can now be solved satisfactorily. The process is not complete, but each year sees more and more rural residents using the auto to hold down industrial jobs in town. And more roads and better roads will add to the number, as well as to the general prosperity of the country.

PROTECTING CHILDREN

When figures covering deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. were recently given out by the National Safety Council it revealed that more than 300 children had been killed in rural school buses in 1929. And the states in which the accidents occurred got busy doing what should have been done long ago. They began taking steps to safeguard the lives of rural children.

In Ohio alone 20 children have been killed this year as the result of school buses being struck by trains. In every instance the accidents could have been avoided. Now the state is going to compel all school bus drivers to pass a rigid test as to ability to drive. And other states are preparing to enact laws that will safeguard childish lives.

It certainly is high time. Children in our larger cities are protected by traffic officers, junior patrols, signal lights and other devices—why are not the children of our rural communities entitled to equal consideration? We believe everyone around Plymouth will agree with us when we say that in the past state legislatures have devoted too much time to enacting laws to regulate traffic in the more congested centers and not enough time to the passage of laws that will afford protection to rural communities and the smaller towns, where life is just as precious. The staggering death toll of innocent children recorded in 1929 is all the argument needed to prove the truthfulness of this.

DON'T ENCOURAGE HITCH-HIKING

Don't encourage the hitch-hiker by giving him a free ride. He is one of the pests who should be eliminated from this motor age. In many states attempts have been made to outlaw the practice of giving free rides. These attempts have not succeeded. Because they can get free rides many nifty youths have been traveling all over the United States without paying anything for transportation when they should be at home working at a job.

Giving free rides results in a many-sided evil. It teaches the hitch-hiker the idea of getting something for nothing. He is not long in carrying it into other channels. Free rides hold a double peril to the generous motorist who sometimes finds he has invited a robber into his car, or who may be sued by his hitch-hiking guest for damages in case of accident.

The average motorist hesitates to turn down a request for a ride on the highway—the man may be deserving. The professional hitch-hiker knows this and takes his chances. Only by refusing all requests for free rides can the problem of the road-cluttering thumb-jerker be solved.

Trees That "Make Good" on the Home Grounds

Elm and oak trees are ideal for the home grounds, not only because of their beauty and long life, but because their shade is not so dense as to kill plants and grass beneath them.

Oaks are considered to be slow growing trees, but they will grow almost as readily as the elms. The burr oak, which grows with a widespread head and rugged branches, is the finest for the yard and the pin oak for parkways. Red oaks do best in light dry soils. Oaks are not difficult to transplant if one buys nursery grown trees of the small sizes and prunes them back severely at planting time. If this is neglected the oak is quite likely to die even after it puts out leaves.

Black walnuts are fine shade trees and grow readily. They produce nuts whose merit is recognized by all good cooks and their wood is the most expensive of native woods.

The ginkgo biloba or maiden hair tree, which has a leaf shaped like that of the maiden hair fern and which grows in a perfect cone, is much used for parkway planting in eastern cities. It is especially immune from insects and disease attacks.

Opinions Vary Greatly Concerning Model City

Inspired by talk about a "model" city, the question arises, What is a model city? It cannot be answered, for the reason that the answer depends on the cultural viewpoint, with reference to the word "culture," in its dictionary application to "refinement of mind, morals or taste."

To say that a city is great or opulent or beautiful conveys a meaning more or less satisfactory to every one. But a "model" city in the sense here understood raises a conflict of opinions. Your model city may, for instance, be either too puritanical for some tastes or too wicked for others.

One man's meat is another man's poison. My model city may not be your model city.

New Orleans would not suit Boston as a model city.

Washington, as a model city, may not please Wayback or Nicketille.

The model city of a Washington, a Jefferson, or a Lincoln might be to others Sodom or Gomorrah.

And so it goes. What we should do is to make our city a better city, not a model.—Washington Post.

Water Supply Important

Of the thousands of privately owned water supply companies, a few hundred have been brought together in the last few years into holding companies which were able to give each individual unit up-to-date management. Able engineering brains were introduced. Improvements and extensions were scientifically planned, and, in this way, the needs of the communities were anticipated in advance, so that the growth of the communities was, in many cases, furthered instead of retarded by lack of water facilities for industries, home developments, fire protection, sanitation, street cleaning, etc. The importance to the communities of a progressive water company can scarcely be overstated because an adequate supply of pure water is the basis of a higher standard of living, greater comfort, better fire protection and industrial progress.

Wooded Setting Effective

Consider a wooded setting for your brick house wherever it is possible. Nothing is quite so effective in enhancing the charm of a richly colored common brick wall as the constant change in the play of sunshine and shadows. This is especially appealing where the color tones are varied and sharply defined.

A ray of sunshine focusing suddenly upon a single brick of unusually vivid coloring, searching it out as a branch is swayed in the breeze, endows it in a twinkling with a flash of new and startling beauty akin to the glow of a firefly in the dusk.

UNIQUE PHONE SYSTEM AT MT. CLEMENS BANK

An intercommunicating telephone system, the first of its kind to be installed in Mt. Clemens, has been completed at Mt. Clemens Savings Bank. The new system was installed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Henry O. Chapoton, president of the bank, states that the system is admirably adapted to the needs of the bank and is working smoothly and efficiently. The key to the whole system is an operator who is located on the second floor of the bank, behind a bullet-proof glass screen, who receives calls coming in from outside. She has a perfect view of the entire banking hall before her and rings the person wanted. If by chance, the person or department which receives the call is not the correct one, the switchboard operator does not have to interfere, since the call can be relayed from phone to phone until the right person is located. Since, in the bank, officers are continually moving from one desk or counter to another, it is a simple matter for the operator above to locate all officials.

Another feature of the phone system is that a party calling through cannot interfere with other departmental phoning, which can easily be conducted on other lines, and through lines. Incidentally, the operator sitting behind the bulletproof screen above receives all alarm calls, and, with perfect safety can see whether the alarm was accidental: where the trouble is, how many burglars have entered, and on a thru line can get police immediately. 12 hold-up alarms are situated at all spots in the bank, and their operation is immediate and efficient. To prevent false alarms, hold-up signals are pressed up with the toe of the shoe, and not "stepped-on."

Immature Grasses High in Much Needed Protein

Some tests which have been run on the feeding value of immature grasses by the Wisconsin department of agriculture indicate that many people have failed to appreciate the relatively high percentage of protein which they contained. Some samples of the first clippings of timothy and clover which were analyzed showed as high as 20 per cent of protein on the basis of dry weight. Samples of immature June grass ran equally as high, while a sample of immature rye was found to have 24 per cent of protein. Mature timothy hay has only about 6 per cent of protein and rye straw would have but little protein when mature.

Such figures as these would indicate that when grain is fed to cows on pasture during the spring and early summer, such feed would not need to be as high in protein as is sometimes considered necessary.

Agricultural Notes

Muddy water indicates wasted means.

Good land is constantly increasing in value.

Keep your soil and your soil will keep you.

Cod liver oil should not be fed to broilers the last two weeks before marketing. It taints the flesh with the odor of the oil.

When sweet clover is being seeded either alone, with some grain crop, or with a mixture of grass seed, it is essential that the seed be inoculated.

A tractor that is idle in winter makes its owner no money. On most well-managed farms there are winter jobs to do, such as sawing wood, grinding feed, baling hay, building, terraces, etc.

Mulch paper is said to be worth while for certain early crops of high market value and in some home gardens where it is desired to eliminate cultivation and to utilize space to the best advantage.

New Zealand spinach is harvested as soon as the tips of the branches may be cut back about two inches. After a few days new branches, bearing leaves, will be put out. A constant supply until frost is possible with this treatment.

IN IRELAND

Now they are in Erin these members of the Travel Club, Jewell Renger was the guide that led them through the Emerald Isle, and she particularly stressed the linen industry for they spent most of their time in one of the numerous linen factories.

Some of these factories only spin and weave the flax, the final score being the flax is taken through the whole process. First to the roughing rooms, where the flax is prepared; then through a combing process done by a backer, a wonderfully queer machine, the strong thread of which rises the flax of all stalks, dirt and short broken fibres.

The thread now goes to the weaving room from which it comes out as the finest damask or the coarsest sheeting. The damask designs are made by a pattern control, that resembles the rolls in a player piano.

Second's Win By Large Margin

The Rock B team swamped the visiting seconds by a 20 to 4 score. After taking the first half, 11 to 4, Plymouth was in no danger as to the result of the game. Don Bronson took the scoring lead with five field goals which totaled ten points. Measell of Farmington caged three field goals to come the closest to Bronson's total.

Plymouth Enters District Tournament

Having definitely decided at a Student Council meeting that the Plymouth basketball team should be entered in the district tournament, the entry fee was sent in about a week ago. This tournament includes class A, B, C and D teams. It is held every year at the same places. Plymouth goes to Ypsilanti for their games. Class B, C and D teams all go to Ypsilanti and play. The winner and runner-up of each class come back a week later for the regional. This continues until the winner and runner-up of the state are sent to Chicago. The pairing of the teams is drawn out of a hat. The drawing for the district will take place next week, and then we will know whom we have to play.

Plymouth Wins Double Header

Playing a greatly improved game the blue and white basketballers successfully turned back Farmington's attack to win, 23 to 20. This revengeful Plymouth's defeat by Farmington earlier in the season.

Plymouth Wins Double Header

DePorter, who caged every one of his free shots, opened the game by sinking one. Ball followed close behind with a field goal. Farmington took the lead in the third quarter, but Plymouth tied the score at 20 points apiece. Randall's field goal put the game on ice for the Rocks.

Plymouth Wins Double Header

Lapham and DePorter shared scoring honors with 11 markers each. Cox, Farmington's ace, failed to score his usual allowance of baskets. This marked Plymouth's third consecutive victory. One more game is left to play, that with Belleville, over there. As this is the last game, a good crowd ought to be there.

Plymouth Wins Double Header

Summary: PLYMOUTH Field Goals Free Goals Total. Carley 1 0 2, Randall 3 0 6, DePorter 3 5 11, Ball 2 0 4, Ferguson 0 0 0. FARMINGTON Field Goals Free Goals Total. Lapham 5 0 10, Fondt 1 0 2, Maas 1 1 3, McCulley 0 1 1, Cox 1 1 3, Howarth 0 0 0. Final: Plymouth 23, Farmington 20.

Second's Win By Large Margin

The Rock B team swamped the visiting seconds by a 20 to 4 score. After taking the first half, 11 to 4, Plymouth was in no danger as to the result of the game. Don Bronson took the scoring lead with five field goals which totaled ten points. Measell of Farmington caged three field goals to come the closest to Bronson's total.

Plymouth Enters District Tournament

Having definitely decided at a Student Council meeting that the Plymouth basketball team should be entered in the district tournament, the entry fee was sent in about a week ago. This tournament includes class A, B, C and D teams. It is held every year at the same places. Plymouth goes to Ypsilanti for their games. Class B, C and D teams all go to Ypsilanti and play. The winner and runner-up of each class come back a week later for the regional. This continues until the winner and runner-up of the state are sent to Chicago. The pairing of the teams is drawn out of a hat. The drawing for the district will take place next week, and then we will know whom we have to play.

Freshmen Win School Championship

The freshmen debate team emerged triumphant in the race for the school championship. The final debate was forfeited to the winners by the seniors. The championship team is composed of Ernest Archer, Odene Hitt, and David Daly. This team has won two debates and lost one. Their two victories were from the sophomores, while their solitary loss was to the seniors. The seniors had won two debates and lost none, but circumstances and other activities entering in, they forfeited the final contest. The final standings of all teams are: Freshmen won three, lost one; seniors won two, lost one; sophomores won one, lost two; and juniors lost two. The winning team will be given awards by the National Forensic League.

Seventh Grade Class Meeting

Duroll Cline, president of the seventh grade, brought one of the finest conducted meetings to order last Monday, for the purpose of electing two new officers. Ruth Edson and Billy Swadling have passed into the debating and extended the benefits over a wider area. Some good material was uncovered which will probably be of great aid next year to the school team.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"LITTLE JOHNNY JONES"

"Little Johnny Jones, an elaborate First National production of the famous George M. Cohan stage hit, comes to the Penman Allen theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 2, 3 and 4, with Eddie Buzzell in the title role as the Yankee Doodle Jockey. Alice Day opposite him as the heroine, and a large cast of film favorites in support.

The story in the modern screen version packs a triple punch. Its greatest thrills come in three big horse races, the last being at the world-famous English Derby, and they provide plenty of gasps throughout the picture. Buzzell's comedy, famous on Broadway, keeps the spectator laughing; and the love story is said to be charming and unusual.

A great diversity of settings also figures in "Little Johnny Jones." Starting in a small town, it goes to New York, giving a moving panorama of the night life in the theatrical circles of the Big Town.

Then the scene shifts to the slums of Liverpool and the London waterfront where our jockey, disgraced in America, has gone to hide and work for another chance. And that chance comes at the historic Epsom Downs race course, when he rides to victory on the American horse Yankee.

"Little Johnny Jones" is a picture for everybody. It was directed by Mervyn Le Roy, and among the favorites in the cast are Edna Murphy, Donald Reed, Robert Edson, Wheeler Oakman, Raymond Turner (the inimitable colored comedian) and many others equally noted.

"BEHIND THE MAKE-UP"

Three excellent performances, a smashing good drama and a strange and surprising love story will thrill audiences who witness the opening performances of "Behind the Make-Up," Paramount's latest all-talking picture at the Penman Allen theatre Wednesday and Thursday, March 5 and 6.

Hal Skelly, who won such favor here in "The Dance of Life," contributes another of those human performances which cling to the heart. As the "happy-go-lucky" vaudeville comedian in love with Fay Wray, Eric von Stroheim's lovely heroine in "The Wedding March," Skelly gives a realistic picture of a young man, clever, intelligent but hampered by an inferiority complex.

William Powell's portrayal of an Italian artist is probably the most entertaining thing he has ever done for the screen and this in spite of his immortal performances in "The Canary Murder Case," "The Green Murder Case" and "Interference."

"Behind the Make-Up" is the story, behind the smiles and snirks of the Lover, to be shown at the Penman stage performers. Skelly drifts along, his inferiority complex preventing him from exploiting his really fine ideas to advantage. He falls in love with Fay Wray, a little French waitress in a restaurant where he eats. Then Powell comes along, carries Skelly to Broadway fame but steals his ideas and his girl. Both Skelly and Miss Wray are fascinated by Powell's scintillating personality and it is only when events dim this fascination that they find their true selves.

Quaint scenes of old New Orleans: brilliant glimpses of Broadway's night life, and several interesting shots of some motion pictures in the making give added entertainment value to this delightfully intriguing picture.

"THE VAGABOND LOVER"

Not unlike the strolling minstrels of old who went about the country charging their hours and propagating love for a new type of entertainment, are the members of Rudy Vale's "Connec-ticut Yankees" orchestra, appearing in and supplying the orchestration for Radio Pictures' "The Vagabond Lover," to be shown at the Penman

Allen theatre, Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8.

For nearly two years, they have followed their leader, Rudy Vale, from radio station to theatre to night club, bringing with them King Jazz's latest innovations, establishing an international reputation as entertainers—going at last to Hollywood.

Members of the band include Joe Miller, saxophonist who teamed with Rudy Vale six years ago; Jules de Vorzon, first violinist; Maudie Lowy, second violinist; Harry Patent, bass viol; Ray Tolan, drums; Charlie Peterson, pianist and arranger.

The outstanding characteristic of the octette are youth, enthusiasm for new scores and a loyal admiration for Rudy Vale—the man who led them to success.

Kentucky Wonder Beans Will Return Big Yield

The Kentucky wonder bean has pods which grow from eight to ten inches long that are very fleshy and tender, and when very small, are delicious cooked whole. The vines bear quite heavily, beginning early in the summer and continuing till frost. It is as good as any bean while young, but is especially desirable to shell for late fall use and also for canning or drying, says a writer in the Farmer. Early frosts do not injure the beans in the pods for cooking purposes. At this time the shells fairly pop open, each yielding a generous amount of deliciously flavored, large, dark beans.

This bean requires a pole on which to climb. One woman gardener first planted four hills in the back yard. These hills stood in the form of a square, each hill six feet apart, and the runner poles were tied together wigwag style. The vines grew luxuriantly and provided an excellent little playhouse for her two little girls. With the resulting shade provided by this overhang, the ground underneath retained much of its moisture which no doubt helped to account for the abundant yield, for the family of four had all they could use from these four hills of beans.

Another Victory Over Rheumatism For New Konjola

NIGHT WATCHMAN PRAISES NEW MEDICINE WHICH GAVE HIM PROMPT AND COMPLETE RELIEF.

MR. GUSTAVE ZECH

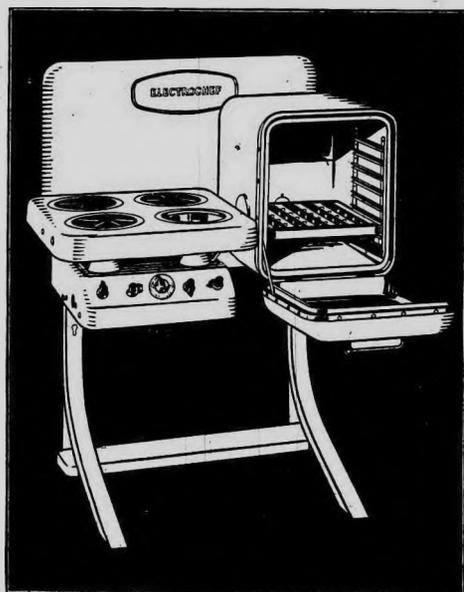

"I know from my own personal experience what a wonderful medicine Konjola is, and am very glad to recommend it," said Mr. Gustave Zech, 230 Corrine street, S. W., Grand Rapids. "I was bothered for years with rheumatism. I am a night watchman, and my work requires me to be on my feet a great deal of the time. This rheumatism in my feet and legs made it very hard for me to do my work, as at times I could hardly get about. I also had stomach and kidney troubles; could not eat without being in agony afterward; and my rest was broken by frequent bladder actions.

"But now I have taken five bottles of Konjola and my aches and pains are all gone. My appetite is better and I can eat almost anything I want. Kidney trouble no longer bothers me. I feel like a different man."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

FOR years many of the large hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, and chefs famed for fine cooking have chosen electric cooking. And once you have enjoyed electric cooking, you will never again agree to cook with fuels. The rich, natural flavor of meats and vegetables—the melting tenderness of even the cheaper cuts of meat—and the delicious cake and pastry secured through accurate oven controls; are all distinguishing features of this modern way of preparing food.

Now a new achievement in electric cooking—Electrochef—brings electric cooking within the average family income. Electrochef makes use of radiant reflected heat to achieve speed, cooking efficiency, and low cost of operation never before equalled in any other electric range. Advanced engineering design and mass production methods make it possible to give you so remarkable a range at so low a cost.

Electrochef has seven distinct features of superiority. It is full size—has four burners on the cooking table and an oven which will roast a twenty-pound turkey. It is completely finished in glistening porcelain enamel, with all metal parts in bright Chromeplate. It is easily cleaned—its smooth surfaces need only be wiped with a damp cloth. Accurate heat control insures any desired oven temperature. It is clean and convenient—the heating element screws into place like a light bulb. Radiant reflected heat means economy of operation. It is fast—the oven comes up to 400 degrees in less than five minutes, and the burners on the cooking table furnish an instant flood of heat at the snap of the switch.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

Serving The Appropriate Dessert

"What's the dessert?" is a rather famous query in most families. Many times this question is left unanswered in order to save the final course as a surprise. Again, an insight into the type of dessert which is to follow gives a clue as to how much should be eaten during the main course, for what is more tantalizing than to be served a favorite dessert when the appetite has been entirely squandered on the preceding courses.

In order to make a meal a success, it must be made up of contrasting but harmonious dishes; therefore, the dessert must be considered as an integral part. It must help to carry out the nutritious balance of a meal and at the same time satisfy the appetite. For instance, if the main course is heavy in fat and sugar, a very light dessert, such as Orange Ambrosia, a mixed fruit dish, or even crackers and cheese, would be appropriate, while a main course low in the above would allow the hostess to serve a heavy chocolate dessert, one containing plenty of whipped cream, or such rich foods as Graham Cracker Roll, Date and Nut Pudding, or Fudge Cake. If the milk content of a meal is low it may very easily be added in the form of Custard, Cornstarch Pudding, or Caramel Cream. Now that the automatic refrigerator has become so popular, a careful home-maker can serve many behind new desserts, the degree of richness depending upon the preceding course. So after all, contrast is the main point to consider in planning a meal, contrast as to hot or cold foods, well-liked or unpopular foods, light or heavy foods, hot or cold foods, and finally, rich or poor foods as to the necessary food essentials.

Orange Ambrosia
3 oranges
1/2 cup shredded coconut
1/2 cup powdered sugar
Peel oranges, slice crosswise, and lay a layer in bowl or serving dish. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and a layer of coconut. Repeat until ingredients are used. Chill.

Graham Cracker Roll
1 10-ounce package dates, cut fine
1/2 pound marshmallows, cut fine

7/8 cup pecans, cut fine
20 graham crackers, rolled
1/2 cup whipping cream
Roll 16 graham crackers and mix with dates, marshmallows, pecans and whipped cream. Form into a roll. Then roll in the crumbs of 4 graham crackers. Chill. Slice and serve with whipped cream.

Apricot Manhattan Mousse
1/2 cups canned apricot pulp
3 tablespoons lemon juice
4 tablespoons sugar
1/2 pint whipping cream
1/2 cup confectioner's sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
4 teaspoons gelatine
4 tablespoons cold water.

Prepare apricot pulp by rubbing through a coarse sieve. Add lemon juice and sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Soak 2 teaspoons gelatine in 2 tablespoons cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add to apricot mixture. Whip cream until about stiff and add confectioner's sugar and vanilla. Soak remaining 2 teaspoons of gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water and dissolve over hot water; add to cream mixture. Put apricot mixture in two glass refrigerator trays, cover with whipped cream and allow to freeze about 4 1/2 hours.

Date and Nut Pudding
1 cupful flour
2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder
1/2 teaspoon of salt
1 cupful of dates cut in pieces
1 cupful of mince
1 egg
1 cupful of sugar
1 teaspoonful of vanilla
1/2 cupful of milk

Sift the flour, baking powder, and salt together. Mix the sliced dates and mince, chopped coarse, through the flour. Beat the egg; add the sugar gradually; then add the vanilla. Stir in the dry ingredients, alternately with the milk. Pour into a well-oiled baking pan or individual custard cups. Set the baking pan in a large pan containing boiling water. Cover. Bake in a slow oven (275 degrees) for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Serve cold with whipped cream or with a ball of vanilla ice-cream.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS DROP APPRECIABLY IN PAST SEVERAL WEEKS

MATERIAL PRICES DEFINITELY LOWER AND MAKE SUBSTANTIAL SAVING POSSIBLE.

Various components of building construction have reached definitely lower price levels in the past two months of business recession and while all declines have not been alike in degree they make possible in the aggregate a substantial saving in total construction costs, according to A. J. Eken, vice-president of Starret Brothers, Inc., one of the country's largest construction concerns.

"No reduction in labor costs have materialized and none is to be anticipated at the moment," Mr. Eken said, "but labor in the building industry has become more efficient and this greater efficiency tends to offset the high labor cost. Some savings may develop in sub-contracting as recent contracts show a willingness to take work at lower figures."

"Material costs, on the other hand, are definitely lower and now make possible substantial savings. Brick and terra cotta can be bought at a very favorable price, in fact, brick is now selling at the lowest price in ten years. Steel shapes are likewise lower, the base price having dropped $1 per ton, and lumber supplies, influenced by intense competition, are also at low levels. Higher prices are being asked for cement, an advance of 30 cents per barrel taking place in the last 30 days, but it must be remembered that cement was recently selling below cost of production."

"Much building is, of course, being completed and there is every evidence that speculative building of dwellings and apartment houses is rapidly coming to an end. This elimination of the speculative element is not without beneficial effects and there is enough economically sound, legitimate building in prospect to make a wholesome construction year."

NEWBURG

The attendance at church Sunday was very small, owing to roads being almost impassable.

Mr. and Mrs. James Norris of Detroit, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. Mackinder, and attended church.

Remember the party at the hall this Saturday evening, in charge of the team of young people from the Wesleyan Guild of Ann Arbor. Ladies are asked to bring sandwiches or cake. These young people will also have charge of all the services on Sunday. Mrs. John Rattenbury and Mrs. Mark Joy spent Thursday with Mrs. Vina Joy.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Joy and family of Farmington, were Friday evening callers at the home of James McNabb.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clyde were visitors at the home of Robert Holmes on Wednesday. Callers on Mrs. Grigg at the home of Mrs. Thomas on Saturday, were: Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gordon and Mrs. Castle of Macomb County; and on Sunday, Mrs. George Beardsley and sons, and Mrs. Elizabeth Beardsley of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barrett and daughter of Linden, and Rutherford Barrett of Ortonville.

Fifteen boys and girls met at the home of Donald Ryder last Saturday.

The March meeting of the North Superior Home Makers Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Ella Staebler on March 6th, at 10:30.

Perry Woodworth purchased the house formerly occupied by Howard Fishbeck family, and moved it across the road on the property which he bought from W. J. Lyke.

Mr. and Mrs. Linton Proctor were Detroit visitors, Friday.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says his idea of one of the bravest men in the world is the one who marries a woman for her money.

The main cause of all these prison riots over the country seems to be that the convicts think they can get away with it.

Reading that a million new telephone poles were put up in the U. S. last year, Dad Plymouth says he supposes motorists have to have something to run into.

Dad Plymouth contends that your bank account will indicate how fast you are going far better than a speedometer will.

Maybe another reason why women do not make good after-dinner speakers is because by that time they're run down.

"A peculiar thing about the human frame," says Dad Plymouth, "is that elbows never seem as attractive as knees."

And come to think of it, many a man has a kick coming that never reaches him.

Our idea of a nice, soft, easy job would be that of secretary of an Anti-Horsechier Association in Detroit.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of "Fred Beyer" who passed out of this life six years ago today, February 28th. Just when his life was at his very brightest. Just when his hopes were at his very best. The blow was hard, the shock severe, "God" only knows how we have missed you our "Dear." You left us here in this "World" of sorrow and pain. Only for us all to meet you some day again. 1p
Loving Wife and Children.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Jennie Geates, who passed away three years ago, March 1st, 1927. The blow was hard, the shock severe, "God" alone knows how we miss her here. And only those who have lost can tell the pain of parting with no farewell. Days of sadness still come over us. Tears in silence often flow. For memory keeps you ever near us. Though you died three years ago. Her loving husband and children. Mr. William Geates, Mrs. Nellie Mone, Mrs. Lillian Kuhn, Mr. Clinton Geates. 1c

A CARD—We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness during the sickness and death of our loved one. Especially do we thank Rev. Nichols for his comforting words, Mr. Whipple and those who furnished cars. August Schaufele and family. 1c

A CARD—We do most sincerely appreciate the kindness extended to us during our recent sorrow. We were so dependent upon you kind friends and your kind acts were very gratefully accepted. Mr. Schrader for his sympathetic attention; Rev. Riley for his words of comfort; Mr. Whipple and Doris Hamill for the music; The beautiful flowers; those who furnished cars; those who supplied sleeping quarters; those out of town guests; those who assisted Mrs. Burrows in caring for the children, and in any way helped in making these guests comfortable. Our deepest gratitude goes forth to you. Byron Willett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swick, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spiller, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rankus, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Burrows. 1c

MOTHERS STORY OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Most women suffer needlessly before their baby is born due to constipation, gas and sour stomach and vomiting. Every expectant mother will be glad to know how Mrs. F. J. Booker of 2732 Grand Ave., Detroit, Mich. overcame this trouble. Mrs. Booker writes as follows: "Before my baby was born I suffered greatly with constipation and stomach distress until I began taking Mul-Solax. It helped me wonderfully, in fact my physician told me I owed my easy time when my baby was born to its use. I found it pleasant to take, even when I felt sick to my stomach, and I am glad to recommend it to any woman." A large 16 oz. bottle $1.25 at All Leading Drugists everywhere.

You can get this great remedy in Plymouth at The Dodge Drug Co. Proprietor.

A Wedding Of Interest To Many Plymouth People

Mrs. Belle Driver of Ann Arbor, was very quietly married at her home at Edward J. Drewry of Howell, Saturday, February 22, at high noon. Dr. A. W. Stalker of the Methodist Episcopal church of Ann Arbor, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Drewry is a sister of Henry Steinhilber of this place, and will be remembered by many Plymouth people, having made many friends during the times she has visited here. Mr. Drewry is well and favorably known in Howell, holding the office of county abstractor there.

Mr. and Mrs. Drewry will make their home at 330 Thompson St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

Home Ec. Executive Committee To Meet

Within the last six months a change has been made in the Wayne County Home Economics Executive Committee. Where it formerly consisted of five members, it presently consists of twelve, each member representing one township in the county. This committee of women are now working with Miss Emma DuBord, County Home Demonstration Agent, formulating plans for the next four months in the County Home Economics Extension program.

The meeting is scheduled for Friday, February 28 (today) at the Dearborn City Library at 10:00 to continue to 4:00 in the afternoon.

The chief topics for the committee to consider are:

To form plans for the county achievement day, May 14th.

To consider the possibility for a rural women's camp in June.

To make tentative plans for the Farm Women's Institute to be held at the Michigan State College in August.

Miss Rosalind Jewett, Assistant State Home Demonstration Agent, Michigan State College, East Lansing, will be present at the meeting to make suggestions so that the county program of work will conform with that of the state.

It is the duty of each committee member to stimulate the interest in the communities of her township in Home Economics Extension Work and to assist the Home Demonstration Agent in organizing groups for project study.

Following are the township representatives already on the County Executive Committee:

Norville—Mrs. Albert Ebersole, Route 3, Plymouth. 1511c

Plymouth—Mrs. S. W. Spicer, Plymouth. 1511c

Union—Mrs. Perry Campbell, Route 4, Plymouth. 1511c

Romulus—Mrs. Ernest Brink, Route 1, Wayne. 1511c

Brightmoor—Mrs. W. Ward Hansen, Brightmoor. 1511c

Brownstown—Mrs. H. Schrandt, Flat Rock. 1511c

Dearborn—Mrs. Albert Simmons, Dearborn. 1511c

Musical At St. John's Church

Last evening a musical program was presented at St. John's church by members of the choir and congregation, to a large and appreciative audience. The program, as shown below, was a medley of choruses, quartets, duets and solos, recitations and dances, and brought out the varied talent available in St. John's. The numbers were all sung in costume, the effect of which added much to the program's effectiveness. The stage lighting, used for the first time, was the work of John Birchall.

THE PROGRAM FOLLOWS:
FIRST PART
Chorus, "Happy Days"
Song, with orchestra accompaniment, "I've Got a Cold in My Nose"—Leslie Evans
Song, "Vagabond"—Ralph Tongue
Song, "Sleepy Hollow"—Jean Strong
Song, "Neopolitan Nights"—Frank Tongue

Recitation—Mrs. Ed Woolley
Song, with chorus accompaniment, "Good Old Summer Time"—Ed Woolley
Song, "Honey Song"—Mrs. John Birchall

Duet and Dance, "Rio Rita"—Mrs. Ed Parker, Frank Tongue and Dora Gallimore
Solo, with chorus, "The Powder Monkey"—James Gallimore, with sailor's hornpipe dance by Dora Gallimore and Ralph Tongue

SECOND PART
Chorus, "Tell Me Pretty Maiden"
Duet, "Garden of Tomorrow"—Mrs. James Gallimore and Dora Gallimore
Solo, "Kashmiri Song"—Ben J. Stewart

Song, "Alice Blue Gown"—Mrs. Frank Tongue
Duet, "Keys of Heaven"—Mrs. John Birchall and Ben Stewart

Quartet, "Lasey O' Mine," and "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes"—Mrs. Tongue, Mrs. Birchall, Frank Tongue and Ben Stewart

Song, "Old Grey Bonnet"—Mrs. Ernest Evans
Song, "Wearyin' for You"—Mrs. Tongue

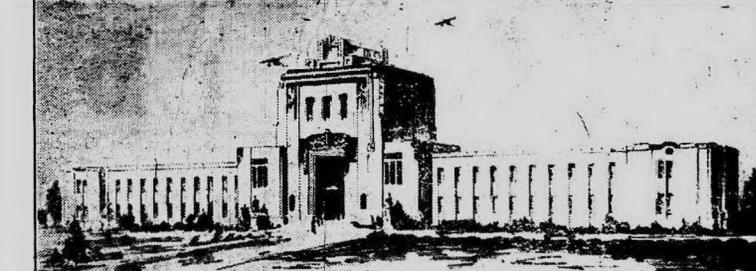

Quartet, "John Peel"—Messrs. Gallimore, Woolley, Tongue and Stewart
Chorus, "End of the Road."
John Birchall, at the piano, accompanied all the numbers. The proceeds of the entertainment are for the benefit of the church.

They're making a motor car that runs by itself, without a driver. But they'll never get it made one that will stop by the repair bills.

Maybe the reason that Georgia bootlegger set up his still in a cemetery was so his customers could see their dust.

A CARD—We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness, also Captain and Mrs. Wright, in our bereavement, the death of our husband and uncle. Mrs. Spaulding, Delbert Cummings.

Terminal Building Planned for Detroit-Wayne Industrial Airport

Located in a beautifully landscaped setting on Van Born Road, one mile from Wayne and less than forty minutes by automobile from the Detroit City Hall, this terminal building is to house the executive offices of the Detroit-Wayne Industrial Airport and to provide space for permanent exhibits of aircraft and aircraft units and accessories as well as sales offices for the makers or their representatives. There will be, also, the ticket offices and waiting rooms and other facilities for accommodation of the passengers of the air lines whose planes will arrive at and depart from the port and receiving rooms and offices for the companies handling air freight and express.

On top of the building is to be the control tower from which the operations manager will direct all activities of the port. Here will be the switches which control the marker lights imbedded in the runways, the field floodlights and signals used to inform the pilot flying at night which of the runways is available for landing or for taking off.

Remarried At Ypsi After Fifty Years

The Lutheran Church was the scene of a beautiful golden wedding anniversary Saturday when Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reengert, Sr., of Plymouth, were remarried in union by Rev. Hugo Fenker. The couple was attended by Mrs. William Richter, Sr., and Emil Lidke, Sr., sister and brother of the bride. Mr. Lidke attended the couple when they were married 50 years ago in Germany.

The bride was attired in blue and lace and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow roses and golden freesias. Mrs. Richter was attired in brown satin and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow roses.

After the ceremony the guests went to the church parlors where a bountiful dinner was served to the 75 relatives and friends. The bridal table was very lovely with its color scheme of gold and white; a basket of 50 yellow roses, the gold and white wedding cake and the yellow tapers tied with white bows presented a very artistic setting.

The children, Mrs. Robert Gardner, Charles Reengert, Jr., Mrs. Leo Keller, Mrs. Frank Geates, Mrs. Ernest Klaville and their families were present; and guests came, too, from Salem, Plymouth, Superior, Dearborn, Aurora, Ill.; Birmingham and Ypsilanti.

Among those who attended the wedding, and the silver and golden anniversaries, were Mrs. Emily Lidke, Sr., Carl Lidke, Frank Lidke, Sr., and Mrs. William Richter, Sr.

Held Child Care Meeting Here

CHILD CARE AND TRAINING HELD IN PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL, FEBRUARY 19.

"Children thrive on love," says Mrs. Lynde, specialist in Child Training at Michigan State College, "but too much parental love may blight them also." To show parents how, by loving wisely, they can help their sons and daughters to normal emotional development was one of the purposes of the third discussion meeting of the Extension "Child Study" group.

The subject of the discussion was "Your Child's Fears and His Affections." Fear and its effect upon the child's behavior is an interesting study which will help parents in handling behavior problems in the home. They should know how to avoid fears for their children, and how to help the child to overcome them. The evening part of the meeting was given to the consideration of "Jealousy."

In Wayne County, at the last discussion, 26 reports were handed in. These twenty-six people had read 43 books and 98 articles on child care.

The next lesson will be "Discipline for Your Child," on March 19th. Though these meetings are regularly scheduled for Michigan State College Extension groups, anyone interested in child care may attend.

Maybe if the Plymouth girl of today used the same old hair-cloth sofa her mother used she'd wear six petticoats too.

A Personal Message to the people of Plymouth and Vicinity:

Friends and Patrons: .

I take this opportunity to thank you one and all for the hearty support you have given me in the past. It has been my sincere endeavor for two and one-half years to conduct my business in such a manner as to deserve the trust you have placed upon me.

I am proud of the many friends I have made in this wonderful, friendly community. This mutual friendship I consider as my biggest asset.

On October 28, 1927, I made a promise that I was starting business in Plymouth based upon the principle that you above all must be satisfied. I worked hard and tried my utmost to live up to it and today I am repeating the same promise and assurance that my new market will be operated on the same principle.

It is your approval of the way I have conducted the Purity Market in the past that prompted me to start another one so that I might in the future give you even better service and greater values than I have in the past.

That the people of Plymouth will benefit through this new Purity Market is a certainty in my mind for it has always been my policy to give the public the full benefit of any and all price reductions at all times and now, with a greater buying power, you have the right to expect greater values.

Yours for better quality, greater service and continued friendship.

David Galin

Mr. Wilbur Ebersole, formerly of the Community Cash Market, upon retirement from business in Plymouth, wishing to bid farewell to his many friends and patrons in this vicinity, has kindly donated his services to us and may be seen at our Main Street market this Friday and Saturday.

Christian Science Notes
 "Mind" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, February 25. Among the churches which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; bring an offering, and come before him; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." (1 Chron. 16:29).
 The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The infinite never began nor will it ever end. Mind and its formations can never be annihilated." (p. 245).
 The Lesson-Sermon for next Sunday, March 2 will be "Christ Jesus."

EPISCOPAL NOTES
 LENT
 "Could ye not watch with me one hour? Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation."—Matt. XXVI:46.
 Lent—Challenge and an opportunity. Its emphasis on penitence is a challenge to more watchful warfare against temptation; its added hours of prayer offer to everyone who seeks them abundant opportunities for closer companionship with the Master. Keeping lent can be made a period of positive spiritual growth the influence of which is felt throughout the year. Christ Himself offers you this challenge this opportunity.
 The Holy Communion will be celebrated this Sunday at 10:00 o'clock. To anyone in earnest about his religion this is the fitting approach to lent.
 On Ash Wednesday, March 28, the Litany will be read at 7:30 p. m., followed by a brief address.

In addition to the regular Sunday morning services, with a series of special addresses by the rector, there will be introduced a Family Vespers service at 5:00 p. m., beginning Sunday, March 9. The sermons at these evening services will be delivered by guest speakers from out of town. The first preacher will be the Rev. Harry M. Worth, for many years minister of this parish. The service will be followed by a social hour. The time is suitable for the entire family.
 The children's Lenten program, "Crucifixion of the Cross," consists of seven mid-week services on Wednesday afternoons at 4:00 o'clock, beginning Ash Wednesday, March 5. This is a continuation of "Adventuring With Christ," which proved so truly inspiring last fall. Visitors both young and old will be very welcome. Parents of boys and girls in the church school are especially urged to send or bring their children to these services and to give them every possible encouragement in their devotional life, particularly by using the parents' prayer cards at home.
 With a faithful use of the services which the church provides this lent can be a power for good in the life of every willing soul.

METHODIST NOTES
 "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." (Luke 12:34).
 Notice to all the Sunday-school teachers: Sunday school meeting tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock, at the church.
 Sunday morning, March 2, all the mothers and daughters are invited to come to a special service at 10:00 o'clock. "O come, let us worship.... for he is our God."
 Tuesday evening at 7:45, the official board will meet at the church.
 Wednesday, March 5th, the L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting in their room at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. David Taylor and Mrs. Arthur White will be our hostesses.
 Mrs. George Huges, Sr., will have her devotions, and the program will be sponsored by Mrs. John Kenter and Mrs. Esther Jacobs. All the women of the congregation are cordially invited to be present.
 Wednesday evening, 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock, the mid-week prayer and praise service, to which all will be welcome. We are studying and discussing the book of Acts.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.
 The Sunday-school attendance contest between Mrs. Dykhouse's young men and Mrs. Hall's class of young women, was won by the boys, and the girls entertained the winners at a fine dinner at the church Thursday evening, February 20. Everyone reports an excellent time.
 The Misses Study Class met on Tuesday evening last at the home of Mrs. B. E. Champe. After a delightful cooperative dinner, Mrs. Rose Holstein called the meeting to order and proceeded with the regular business. Then came the program in which Mrs. M. W. Hughes led in a study of "Napoleon Crossing the Rockies" by Percy McKay. There was a fine attendance and the meeting was much enjoyed. The next meeting will be held in the church, March 26th.
 The church year ends March 31st, and the annual congregational meeting will be April 2nd.
 The Busy Women's Class will meet at the manse on Tuesday, March 4th. There will be cooperative dinner at noon and the usual business meeting and program.

CATHOLIC NOTES
 Next Wednesday, March 5th, the season of lent begins. Ashes will be blessed before the mass and distributed. The services in the evening will begin at 8:00 o'clock. All are urged to begin this season with promptness and perseverance, so that this time of penance means something to all the faithful.
 On Friday next there will be Way of the Cross and Benediction.
 The Lenten devotions will be held twice a week thereafter, each Tuesday and Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. A little more thought about God and our soul, and about the Cross, is good for all mankind. Now is the acceptable time.
 Betty Ebers, eight years of age, and a victim to the epidemic of typhoid fever, died Tuesday afternoon, and was buried Thursday morning from the Schrader funeral chapel. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elbre.

 A search is being made for Peter Schlaff, who has left the home of his son, William, last Friday morning, and has not been seen or heard of since. If you have any knowledge of him, notify the pastor, Fr. Lefevre.

The following clergy were guests of the pastor Monday evening: Fathers Kelly, Chapman, Gaffney, McQuillan, Schuler, De Puydt, Huver and Urmberg.
 Do not forget to send your children to the instructions, Saturday morning at 9:30. These instructions are in charge of the Dominican sisters.
 Sunday is the first Sunday of March. Did you get your envelope? Times are not so prosperous, but do not forget the church entirely. Friends you cannot shake are bills, so let us treat them with consideration. It's an affair for all.
 Do not forget lent—and start the same right, in the spirit of penance.

BAPTIST NOTES
 The young men's Bible class will hold their regular monthly business meeting Monday evening, March 3. Interest is growing in the class, and plans are being laid for larger and better service.
 The Y. P. U. program for Sunday evening will be presented by the Service Commission. The subject for discussion will be one of interest and should prove profitable to all. There is no better place for young people to meet than in church on Sunday. Come—you will not be disappointed.

Grange Notes
 March 6th will be regular meeting of the Grange, and the third and fourth degrees will be given at that time. A pot-luck supper will be served by a committee of men.
 Team practice, March 15th. All members are to be present at 10:00 a. m. dinner at noon, so we can have a good drill in the afternoon.
Spring Shades in Hats for Southern Resorts
 How far milliners have progressed from the days when felt was the only fabric may be seen in collections of hats for southern wear. There is a great diversity of fabric, pliable straws having the lead. Such straws as may be treated like felts, tacked, plaited and so on, have won the especial admiration of the style world, and while models are remarkable for a greater width of brim, there are endless berets and such types intended for resort Vogue.
 Spring colors begin to clarify. Such tones as are shown for the winter resort season—a prelude to spring—include blues, some of which have a purple tonality. Others border on a light navy, while others again are linen blues. Greens of course are highlighted, both in yellowish and bluish cast, and pinks seem to be especially liked for Palm Beach.

Proper Mulch for Crops of Considerable Value
 The process of mulching, though not much practiced, is known to have considerable value in dry seasons. One of the noticeable results is the saving of moisture which enables the roots to get their nourishment more readily from the soil. Tests that have recently been made indicate that heat is also retained by a mulch layer of dark color which takes in the sun's rays better than a light dusty surface. Growers of sugar cane in Hawaii have been using a paper mulch which keeps down weeds, while a California strawberry grower found that he was able to get 30 per cent more fruit by this method.

SCHOOL NOTES

February 11, 1930, at our P. T. A., we had a valentine program. We had songs, a play, and poems. After the program we had an old-fashioned spelling bee. We gave prizes to the winner and to the first one down.

We had a party Friday afternoon at school. We made valentines for our mothers, which we gave to them. We played many games in the afternoon which we all enjoyed very much. Some of the older girls dressed candy lolly-pops for the visiting children that came to the party.

Friday night we had a social at Manfred Beckers. We danced, played cards and had a fish pond. For lunch

Are Observing Founder's Week

What has been called the most remarkable individual step in merchandising progress toward mass production and distribution of any multiple line of products is being celebrated here and throughout 34 states of the Union today, and in Canada, too. It is Founder's Week, commemorating the first conception of the chain store idea which was born in the brain of George Huntington Hartford in 1859.

The idea, greatly amplified by its originator and his successors since then, was the backbone foundation of all similar chain systems that are such essential and integral parts of all business, financial and domestic life today. And back of this idea of mass gathering and distribution, particularly of foodstuffs, was that of thrift as preached by Benjamin Franklin. One of the innate precepts of that mellow philosopher's life was, in effect, as lovers of Franklin know, "Keep down costs and sell for less."

It was with that principle always uppermost in his mind that the founder of the great A & P grocery store chain built the organization from a single shop in Vesey Street into a close-knit but far-flung organization that today comprises 15,000 stores in 34 states and in the Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and whose customers number more than 5,000,000 daily.

Founder's Week has been annually celebrated by the A & P organization for some time. It has a peculiarly significant phase this year in view of the recent announcement by John A. Hartford, that this oldest of chain store systems has decided to open twelve units next month on the Pacific Coast at Los Angeles, thus bringing to a realization the dream of its founder of a chain of stores whose links actually stretch from the shores of the Atlantic to the shores of the Pacific.

The dozen stores to be opened at Los Angeles eventually will be followed by other units to be established all up and down the west coast of the continent.

Eighteen railroads in the United States which formerly operated entirely by steam now operate electrically on about 4,300 miles of track, according to a survey of railroad electrification by the Copper & Brass Research Association. This electrification represents about 1,900 miles of route, while of the 4,300 miles of track approximately 3,150 miles are in main lines. In the electrified territory the railroads have in service 465 electric locomotives and 2,750 multiple-unit cars for passenger service. Of these cars, 2,150 are motor cars and the rest are trailers.

In addition to the electrification already completed, six railroads have similar work under construction, two railroads have definitely announced further electrification programs, and six new projects have been tentatively announced. Definitely authorized projects, says the survey, will within five or six years almost double the present electrified mileage of the steam railroads.

The survey further points out that although less than 1 per cent of the route mileage of American railroads is now electrically operated, more than 100,000,000 pounds of copper have been required for the various undertakings and that other definite projects will within a few years practically double the percentage of copper applied in railroad electrification.

"Sister Frocks," for Six and Nine-Year-Old Girls Are Made of Flesh-Colored Georgette, Trimmed With Hand Tucking. Paris Handwork on the Dainty Dresses is Greatly Appreciated by the Little Misses Who Attend Social Functions.

Young Set Copies New Party Frocks

Simplicity Marks Dresses Worn to Social Affairs by Little Girls.

It is difficult indeed to be a wall flower in the lovely frocks that fashion has provided for parties of the younger set—from the cradle up. Even the youngest "sub-deb" writes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, hardly graduated from her pram, appreciates a touch of Paris handwork on her flower-like frock of batiste or organdie. While her older sister finds her heart's desire in the long skirts and generally grown-up evening mode of the moment.

Clothes for the tiny tot, of course, are classic in their simplicity. Yet it is astonishing what variety may be found in these little dresses. Since the feminine young person begins to assert her personality even before she can talk, it is well to consider the type of the child before selecting her first party frock, for there are dresses for the plain and the picturesque, the blonde and the brunette.

Fabrics remain much the same from year to year, but there are interesting new developments in color and detail which show the effects of the adult mode. Many colors are now considered suitable for children which were once confined to their elders. Delicate orchids, greens and yellows vie with white, pale pink and blue, once considered the only suitable shades for the nursery. Fine handwork from the convents of France and Belgium continues to adorn many of the loveliest of the little party frocks. But there is an increasing tendency in Paris clothes for children to use hand applique and unusual seamings, such as appears on more grown-up frocks.

Paris Makes Contribution. Sheer batiste, dotted swiss, french voile and handkerchief linen are favorites. And from Paris come diminutive frocks in pastel or naive floral-printed crepe de chine for the very young person. These are made with the utmost simplicity, depending upon a bit of hand smocking or a narrow contrasting piping for their decoration. The English type of smocked dress of dotted swiss or batiste is still worn by the more conservative members of the younger set for all occasions.

There is a decided vogue at the moment for "sister dresses," and the problem of finding suitable clothes for several young daughters is simplified by ordering the same model in assorted sizes. Frequently, however, the dignity of Miss Nine or Ten is affronted at the proposal that she appear in a costume identical with that worn by her younger sister. This difficulty is cleverly solved by the sister frocks chosen for illustration, which are the same in fabric and color, but sufficiently varied in design to suit the different ages.

These frocks, from Paris, are made of flesh-colored georgette crepe. The six-year-old wears a straight little gathered frock, with square yoke made of hand-fagotted bands, and the skirt trimmed with hand-run plis tucks and narrow platings. Older sister's dress has the same tucks and platings, but is cut on slightly more sophisticated lines, the skirt gathered to a straight bodice, as befits her years.

One's first evening party, even though it be only from eight to ten, is a real milestone, and should be treated accordingly. Therefore the choice of a dance frock for the girl of twelve or thirteen is an almost impossible one as well, but there are now many designers devoting their attention to the creation of frocks of real charm and suitability for the "difficult age."

The sheer fabrics, georgettes and chiffons are especially adapted to the needs of the younger girl. August-bernard makes a charming dance frock of pale blue chiffon, caught in at the natural waistline with a narrow sash belt. The skirt, just below the knees, is finished with a series of graduated bias folds of the material. Simplicity is the keynote.

Young Set Copies New Party Frocks

Simplicity Marks Dresses Worn to Social Affairs by Little Girls.

Our frocks form a quaint shoulder cape, which may be untied and slipped off, after the manner of a cocktail jacket. Taffeta is a favorite. Taffeta has always been a favorite fabric for the schoolgirl, and this year it is shown in more attractive models than ever. What could be more appreciated than a dance dress of red taffeta? One that has an almost festive design as well as a fitted bodice with a belt marking a high waistline, a tiered peplum skirt, slightly longer at the sides and back, and a square décolletage finished with a saucy bow on each shoulder.

An adaptation of a Paris model makes a smart frock for the young girl. It is of flat crepe in a soft shade of green, and has a sleeveless halter bodice and flared skirt, which is fitted over the hips and finished with a narrow belt and jeweled buckle. The simplicity of this frock and its clever cut have a decidedly slenderizing effect on the adolescent figure.

Even satin, so high in favor for formal evening frocks, has been adapted to the needs of the younger set. As for the real sub-debutante, the girl of fifteen to seventeen, there is literally no end to the fascinating frocks from which she may choose for dances. Almost every one of the leading Paris couturiers showed at least one youthful model adapted to her needs in the mid-season collections. An interesting model is from Lanvin—past mistress of the art of creating frocks at once smart and picturesque for the young girl. It is sea-green taffeta made with fitted bodice and youthful flared peplum. The full, gathered skirt of the taffeta, cut in deep points, ends just below the knees, but a deep border of matching net gives an effect of length very gratifying to one who is just beginning to feel grown up. A yoke of the net is cut in a modest round décolletage suited to the girl of fifteen or sixteen. Almost every fabric used for the debutante and her mother is also presented in models suited to the younger sister.

Jewels for Sub-Debutante. Jewelry for the sub-debutante is now, as ever, a fine point in the mode. Costume jewelry has helped somewhat to solve the problem, for it is, after all, not really and truly jewelry, and misses and even juniors are now wearing the bright-colored necklaces and bracelets that are made of everything from wood to glass. Rhinestones seem to meet the longing for something that sparkles like diamonds to wear with evening frocks of filmy fabrics, and these are now permitted to the girl in her teens if they are handled in a manner suggesting simplicity rather than sophistication. The newest are delicate, shimmering strands of tiny stones, some set in a single row, others in lacy, knitted or braided chains. A strand of diamond-cut rhinestones a little longer than a clover has for a pendant a double tassel of the rhinestones finely strung. A similar necklace is made of rhinestone and tiny pearls, with a flower-shaped pendant combining the two stones.

Another necklace is a slender shining strand of haquette crystals, made in long links joined with clusters of rhinestones. It has a crystal clasp in front with rhinestone tassels. On the order of the festive Hawaiian "lei" necklace is a choker made of round links of cut crystal, with rhinestones in bunches like berries between. Most of these necklaces, chokers or chains are worn in sets, with bracelets to match.

This season, as last, Chappel's collection shows some charming necklaces of crystal especially adapted to the young girl. Several of these necklaces are in flower form, made of sparkling crystals in white or delicate opalescent tints—a perfect finish for the new party frocks of tulle or taffeta, with their bouffant skirts and demure little sleeves or shoulder capes.

Puff Sleeves. Party frocks for those under twenty-five use the puff sleeve occasionally with great success. A purple net, very long gown has wide, square décolletage and full short puff sleeves.

AROUND ABOUT US

There are 28 Republican candidates for offices in the township of Nankin. Washburn County expenses for January totaled $10,396.48. Nankin township voted down a $70,000 bond issue for the erection of a new school. Population of Dearborn is now nearly 56,000, and school attendance has increased 1,000. Harry Barrows, George Gerbstadt and Jerry Parre are running for office of Wayne Village President. The city of Dearborn ranked fourth in the state for value of building permits issued during January. L. Lovewell has been named president and Arold L. Glenan secretary of the South Lyon Board of Commerce. Northville business men are talking very favorably for the organization of a chamber of commerce in that village. The names of 13 women appeared on the jury panel for the February term of court in Genesee county.—Dexter Leader. The Stinson Aircraft Corporation has announced the price of the new Junior Detrolter will be $3,775 instead of $10,500. Within 30 days, excavating operations will begin for a new $100,000 building for the Union Savings Bank at Bart and Fenkel roads, Brightonmoor. The Fitz-Gerald building at Milford which was burned some time ago, has been rebuilt. The Virginia Cafe has moved into part of the new building. Petitions are in circulation among Farmington residents of the school district, requesting the promotion of Principal Arthur R. Crawford to the position of superintendent. Prospects of a cut anywhere from $11,000 to $15,000 in the village budget for the ensuing year were indicated at a meeting last Monday of the Northville village commission.

The closing of the milk stations at New Boston, Waltham and Romulus means a loss to farmers and milk producers, and a movement is being made to get a new company in that section. The Saginaw and Flint electric line will soon be something of the past as men are busy erecting poles and loading them on P. M. R. R. cars ready for shipment elsewhere.—Brighton Argus. Last Tuesday the Dearborn city council authorized the city clerk to advertise for sealed bids for the furlishing of 1,500 shade trees to be placed in the Aviation subdivision north of Warren avenue. Mrs. Jennie White, Northville's oldest pioneer resident, tells that Northville was named north village or Northville when it was first established because it was four miles north of Plymouth. The Oakland county Tuberculosis Sanatorium is having a children's unit added to the main structure. This sanatorium is located in Waterford township and the annex will house 100 patients and will be built at a cost of $170,000.—Brighton Argus. A new summer camp which will be available to workers and their children is being planned by the Workers' Educational Association, a Detroit organization which has taken over a farm of 76 acres northwest of Farmington, located on the Old Mill road, near 12-Mile road. The Detroit Creamery Company is planning a big expansion program at Fowlerville this spring. The Webberville plant has been closed down and all milk will be taken to Fowlerville where an addition of about 60x78 will be built on the east end of their present plant. Milk will then be taken care of from all the surrounding territory including Howell, Brighton, Pinckney, Webberville and Cohoetah.

Good Roofing Material Less Costly Than Poor
It is only natural for you to want your home to look beautiful. You want it to be the best looking house that money will buy. Even if it is a small bungalow, your pride demands that it should look well. You don't want to feel ashamed of it and you don't want it to look shabby after a year or two. The roof usually has the largest and most prominent surface in the building, and therefore its color should strike the dominating note, says a writer in the Chicago Post. A roof of dull black or uninteresting gray gives a shabby appearance and destroys a beautiful effect that might otherwise be produced in harmony with properly designed walls and architectural ornaments. The roof is the point where so many otherwise good looking and well built houses fall. So often the home builder cuts the corners on his roof, thinking that he will save money. In the end he usually finds his saving to be costly. He ruins the beauty of his home through the use of roofing material which is flat and uninteresting, which lacks distinction and which soon loses its original color and freshness. Incidentally, it might be mentioned that he soon finds that the cost of repairing and replacing this roof costs more than a roof of beauty and permanence would have cost him in the first place. He has not only sacrificed beauty but has spent more money in doing so. This thing has happened time and again.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION

Plymouth, Michigan, February 3, 1930.
A regular meeting of the Village Commission held in the Commission Chamber in the Village Hall, February 3, 1930, at 7:30 p. m.
Present: Commissioner Shear, President Pro-tem; Commissioners Kehr, Nutting and Wiedman.
Absent: President Robinson.
The minutes of the regular meeting held January 20, 1930 were read and approved.
Mr. Russell Roe appeared before the meeting, representing the Plymouth Hockey Club, to request that a bill rendered by the Village for the installation of water service at their hockey rink on Farmer Street, and amounting to $5,534, be reduced in consideration of the fact that the rink provides a safe place for skating for the children of Plymouth. It was moved by Comm. Nutting supported by Comm. Wiedman that the bill in question be reduced to $25.00, which amount covers approximately the cost of materials used in the installation. Carried.
Petitions were presented by Mr. William Eckman, 292 Forest Ave, requesting the installation of a lateral storm sewer and a water main in Beech St. between S. Harvey St. and the west line of Lot 7, Wm. Eckman Subdivision. Upon motion by Comm. Nutting supported by Comm. Kehr the petitions were approved and the Manager was instructed to take the proper steps toward installation of the improvements in question as soon as possible.
The Treasurer brought to the attention of the Commission the fact that special assessment rolls have not up to the present been spread to cover the cost of installing water connections and sewer services which were installed in advance of paving of streets which were paved during recent years, said installation having been made to all vacant lots and other parcels of property not provided with these services at the time. It was moved by Comm. Kehr supported by Comm. Nutting that the assessor be authorized to prepare special assessment rolls covering the improvements in question, said rolls to be payable in four equal annual installments, and that the clerk be directed to advertise a review of the rolls in question for February 22, 1930. The clerk reported the request of Louis Reber and of Perry W. Richwine that they be permitted to withdraw petitions filed with the clerk and nominating them for the position of Village Commissioner. Upon motion by Comm. Nutting supported by Comm. Wiedman their requests were granted and their names ordered withheld from the ballot.
The report of Judge Oliver H. Loomis for the month of January, was presented by the clerk. Upon motion by Comm. Nutting supported by Comm. Wiedman the report was accepted and ordered filed.
The following bills were approved by the auditing committee:
Blunk Bros. $ 2.49
Conner Hardware 4.97
W. B. Imbhall 5.00
Jewell & Blatch 27.75
Mich. Bell Tel. Co. 19.75
Plym. Motor Sales 47.58
Tob. Rationary 1.40
G. W. Richwine, Treas. 10.00
City of Pontiac 6.60
Pacific Fish Tank Co. 4.16
Peerless Handoff Co. 9.00
Total $145.21
The following checks written since the last meeting were also approved: Detroit & Security Trust $13,886.00
Geo. H. Robinson 6.00
Geo. W. Richwine Treas. 2,000.00
Administration pay roll 514.58
Police pay roll 348.40
Cemetery pay roll 79.80
Labor pay roll 266.55
Fire pay roll 78.00
Total $17,179.33
Upon motion by Comm. Wiedman supported by Comm. Kehr bills and checks were passed as approved by the auditing committee.
The treasurer recommended the advisability of negotiating a temporary loan of $1,000 for cemetery purposes. It was moved by Comm. Nutting supported by Comm. Kehr that the recommendation of the treasurer be approved and that the president pro-tem and the clerk be authorized to arrange for the borrowing of the aforesaid amount. Upon motion by Comm. Nutting supported by Comm. Kehr the Commission adjourned.
C. G. SHEAR, President pro-tem.
A. J. KOENIG, Clerk.

Knights of Pythias To Increase Their Membership

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN TO EXTEND THROUGH MONTH OF MARCH.

As a fitting tribute to the devotion, loyalty and labor of Supreme Chancellor Alva L. Lumpkin, the supreme lodge, K. of P., has requested the various lodges throughout the U. S. A. to put forth special effort during the month of March to make a substantial gain in membership.

As this month, Plymouth Lodge No. 238 extends a cordial invitation to every man in this community, who is in accord with the teachings of Pythianism, to join us in disseminating the principles of our order. That the people of this community may obtain a clear conception of the ideals and purposes of this great American institution, we herewith give a brief outline of its history. A resume of the origin, aims and accomplishments of the order, together with a sketch of the lives of two great prototypes, Damon and Pythias, should prove delightfully entertaining and intensely interesting.

It had its inception in the mind of Justus H. Rathbone, a schoolmaster at Eagle Harbor, Mich. But not until the outbreak of the Civil War, while Rathbone was serving as government attaché in Washington, D. C., were the Knights of Pythias formally organized. To appreciate the difficulties under which it came into being, let us imagine for a moment that time has been reversed by the commander of the universe, and we are suddenly transplanted amid the scenes that attended the birth of the order.

"This the winter of 1864. The greatest struggle that had ever crucled the world is being enacted upon the American stage. Borne to our ears by every blast, wafted on every breeze, are the groans of the wounded and dying, the sighs and wallings of bereaved and sorrowing friends, mourning the loss of loved ones. Hovering over a nation of brothers fighting their brothers are the sable wings of darkness and despair.

"As we listen intently the mingled voices become more confused, and we note an undertone of daring and determination that pledges life—and life till death—to the struggle until the triumphant paens of victory shall proclaim the Union restored with justice and liberty for all.

"While yet we listen, there comes to our ears from the historic soil of old Virginia, the tramp, tramp, tramp of armed squadrons preparing for the desperate struggle that is about to take place. Around the base of Look-out Mountain, the invincible army, of the Tennessee bids old Tecumseh take the lead to victory or to death. The sun goes down upon the scene while a million hearts would fain forget, in dreamless sleep, the darkest hour America ever saw. And yet, amid the gloom, amid the blood, amid the throes and convulsions of that interminable tempest.

Pythian Brotherhood Was Born!

"It's cradle was rocked by the red hand of revolution. The boom of cannon, the screech of shells, the rattle of musketry and the clash of arms, proclaimed that hate and malice were reaping their harvest of destruction and death.

"How beautiful the thought to summon from her throne of peace and beauty the Goddess of Friendship and Love! How strange and yet how grand the scene when she fearlessly mingled with the turbulent masses. The discordant elements of war and woe, and on that Friday evening, the nineteenth day of February, 1864, at Temperance Hall, united with bonds and fetters stronger far than triple steel the hearts and efforts of that band of man who, led by J. H. Rathbone, organized Washington Lodge No. 1, the first lodge of Knights of Pythias in the world."

Who can wonder as he contemplates the issues of that hour, that love should almost have been driven from our midst and in its overthrow, banish in its incipency, an order based upon friendship, charity and benevolence?

Although founded upon the purest and noblest motives known to man, the infant fraternity was not without suspicion. Indeed, it was rumored in official circles that it was an organization of men plotting against the Federal Government. These rumors reached the ears of Lincoln who ordered an investigation behind closed doors. The leaders of the movement went before the president, and with confidence in his honor and integrity laid bare the secrets of the order and explained the true purposes of its existence. Having fully satisfied himself of the merits of the order, the president praised it in glowing terms, and recommended that it be officially recognized. Thus the Knights of Pythias came to be the one and only true American fraternity, endorsed by the immortal Lincoln, and recognized by the congress of the United States.

"The Womanless Wedding" Coming

The meeting of the Woman's Club last Friday proved satisfactory in every way. After a brief business meeting in charge of the vice-president, Mrs. Frank Burrows, who acted in the absence of the president, Mrs. B. J. Giherr, the chairman, Mrs. D. Packard, introduced Miss Gertrude Willmore, in charge of the Central School Kindergarten Band. This troop of darling little tots, with their triangles, bells, tambourines and drums, etc., twenty-two in all, kept perfect time to the accompaniment of "Chinese Fan-Tan" and "Jingle Bells," also singing a chorus of the latter. Each member wore a cap and cape of blue lined with yellow. Miss Willmore is to be congratulated for her success with this little band.

Young Master Howard Walbridge next delighted the company with three lovely numbers, Romance by Roulett, Spanish Dance by Rogers and The Crown by Kerns. Howard, who is just eight years old, played with a style and touch that would do credit to a much older musician.

Dr. Robert Haskell, superintendent of the Wayne County Training School, gave a very interesting talk on "Human Wasteage," stressing the fact that "this fine large institution so close to Plymouth's back door, is playing a big part in alleviating this terrible human wasteage and sending back in the active world a large group of normal, healthy young citizens, who otherwise, without the special training and personal help that such an equipped school alone can give, would possibly end up in Eloise, Marquette or some such other institution.

Doris Hamill, accompanied at the piano by Evelyn Starkweather, played two fine violin solos, La Paloma, by Yradier, and The Golden Wedding, by Mariotti. They were lovely, and it is hoped the girls will play for the club again.

The 37th anniversary of the Woman's Club will be celebrated Friday afternoon, March 7th. The program, in charge of the dramatic group, with Mrs. Charles Humphries as chairman, will be presented in the Pennington Allen Theatre at 3:00 o'clock. You will not only hear musical numbers and a play, but will also see beautiful costumes, natural dances and have the privilege of listening to the "champion" reader of the state.

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. J. Schroeder

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McKinney celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary Saturday evening, February 22. About forty guests were present. C. H. Schaefer entertained at a pedro party at his home on Plymouth road, last Friday evening.

C. H. Brown of Arden avenue, moved to Plymouth, Wednesday. Several of the men of the Gardens have formed an athletic club. They meet every Monday and Thursday at the store next to the drug store. Jack Nicols, who is staying with Harry Hanson on Ingram avenue, is the athletic director. Those present last Monday evening were very enthusiastic. Anyone interested will be welcome.

The next P. T. A. meeting will be held at the school next Friday evening. The annual election of officers will be held at that time. The speakers of the evening will be Prof. W. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan, and Miss Reed, nurse for Wayne county.

Mrs. A. C. Burton of Ingram avenue will entertain ten tables of bridge, Saturday evening, March 1.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rosedale Presbyterian church held a meeting at which new officers were elected for the new year, starting April first.

The following were elected: Mrs. W. Hodson, Jr., president; Mrs. E. G. Rainiel, first vice-president; Mrs. R. A. No. Wilson, second vice-president; Mrs. E. P. Parsha, secretary, and Mrs. C. Metzger, treasurer. The auxiliary has planned a white elephant sale for Tuesday, March 11th.

The Five-Hundred Club will meet at the home of Dan McKinney on Melrose avenue next Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holton will be at home at 11405 Herwick avenue, after Friday, February 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hodson, Jr., visited the Mitchells, formerly of Rosedale Gardens, now in Lansing, last Sunday.

Mrs. L. B. Huron's grandmother of Tipton, Indiana, passed away last Tuesday, February 25th. She was 95 years of age, and had been able to read and make quilts until her last illness a couple of months ago.

Mrs. Roy Mason of Blackburn avenue, had a painful accident in front of her home as she hurried to the Loftus car on the way to Dearborn to nutrition class. She slipped on the ice and fell on her ankle, pulling the ligaments. She was removed to the home of Mr. Mason's mother in Detroit, to be cared for.

Lloyd Huron's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Huron of Tipton, Indiana, while in Florida, were on their way to Clearwater to attend a lecture at the Peace Memorial Presbyterian church, when they met with an accident and both were seriously injured. They were sent to the hospital at Clearwater, but have been removed to the home of his niece at Safety Harbor, where they are slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kenly of Black-linn avenue, who have been staying in Detroit, are returning to their home March first. If the weather is favorable.

Mrs. C. A. Pope entertained at a bridge-dinner Thursday evening. Places were set for twelve. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Grant White, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. W. Banks, and Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Adams.

Mrs. H. Adams of Pembroke Ave., entertained at luncheon and bridge on Wednesday, in honor of Mrs. Frank Gooding of Highland Park. Places were marked for Mrs. P. Harsha, Mrs. R. W. Mason, Mrs. T. Dorn, Mrs. C. Pope, Mrs. F. Winkler and Mrs. J. Kinahan. High score of the afternoon was held by Mrs. C. Pope.

Mrs. H. Eggleston entertained the Bi-Weekly Luncheon and Bridge club. The honors were won by Mrs. Fisher. First: Mrs. S. James, second: Mrs. F. Chavre, consolation, and Mrs. C. Price, booby.

Testing Seed Is Important Task

Ordinary Unglazed Newspaper Cut Into Strips Is Found Useful.

Recent experiments at University farm with newspaper testers have developed speedy and cheap methods of testing seed, particularly seed corn.

Use Wet Paper. "Ordinary unglazed newspaper may be torn or cut into strips about 8 inches wide and 12 to 14 inches long," says H. K. Wilson, assistant agronomist of the Minnesota experiment station. "About six sheets of paper should be thoroughly soaked in water by kneading it into a wet roll. It is important that all sheets be wet. The strip of soaked paper is spread on a flat surface and kernels of corn to be tested distributed in the same manner employed in making a rag doll. About 50 kernels can be placed in each doll.

Next, another strip of several thicknesses of soaked newspaper is placed on top of the corn, the edges of the paper are crumpled together and then rolled into a compact doll. The ends should be tied loosely and the roll placed in a two-quart jar.

"This jar does not require a lid but should be turned upside down and set in a warm place. A small nail placed under one edge will permit air circulation. It is unnecessary to give any further attention to the test until the results are taken one week later.

Carefully Tested Plan. "This plan was carefully compared with the plan of placing a lid on the jar and punching a hole in it for air, which has been recommended in some quarters, and gave 9 per cent higher germination and much more vigorous seedlings."

Manure and Flies Are Big Menace to Health

It is a well-known fact that flies breed in manure and that they are not only a nuisance but also a menace to the health of both man and beast. It is equally well known that if manure is left lying in the barnyard till the corn is laid by a very large percentage of its fertility will be lost through fermentation and leaching, says the Iowa Homestead. If the bulk of the manure accumulated during the winter months can be hauled out before spring work begins there will be a chance of killing two birds with one shot—of reducing the fly nuisance and of saving valuable elements of fertility that are so much needed by our soils.

Let us get busy with the manure spreaders as soon as possible. If there is no better place for the manure than the pasture it may be used to advantage to increase its live stock carrying capacity.

Wear on Roadways. Experience has shown that fine crushed rock and gravel roads are worn down at the rate of an inch a year by traffic of 800 vehicles a day.

Keeping Ahead. Every town ought to keep three or four blueprints ahead of its achievements.

It won't be long now until the tin-can tourist will again be changing tires oftener than so changes shirts.

Poor Rabbit Gets No More Vacation

ECONOMIC VALUE OF HIS MEAT AND FUR CAUSE COLLEGE TO GIVE SPECIAL COURSE.

Poor old Bred Rabbit, after playing around in the story books all these centuries, now finds himself haled out of the tortoise race into the economic race where he will be a subject for investigation in a special school to be conducted at Michigan State College, March 10 to 14.

Professors and laymen will conduct classes during the five days, and people who are already growing rabbits for sale or who are interested in the financial possibilities of the business are invited to enroll in the course.

The first rabbit show to be sponsored by the College will be held during the last four days of the school. This will give prospective breeders an opportunity to see all the types of rabbits which are now popular.

The class work will include study of feeding methods, disease control, marketing and judging. Judge John C. Fehr, Indianapolis, Ind.; Dr. E. G. Baxter, Webster, N. Y.; Prof. F. H. Langworthy, Abbot; and prominent breeders in the state will act as instructors for the classes.

The school is being conducted by members of the poultry department at State College, and members of the department state that there is a rapidly growing public interest in the business of growing rabbits for fur and meat.
