HOVER AND MIMMACK ELECTED VILLAGE COMMISSIONERS LAST MONDAY

REPUBLICANS NOMINATE TOWNSHIP TICKET LAST SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Caucus Held At High School Auditorium Well Attended By Nearly Two Hundred Citizens.

Annual Township Election Will Take Place Monday, April 7; Charles Rathburn, Jr., Again Nominated For Supervisor.

The Republican caucus held at the High School auditorium last Saturday afternoon was very well attended. Oliver Loomis, chairman of the township committee, called the meeting to order. J. W. Henderson was chosen chairman and Julius Kaiser secretary. The chairman appointed Harmon Smith and Herald Hamill tellers.

The chairman then called for nominations for the various township officers.

Charles Rathburn, Jr., was nominated by acclamation to succeed himself as supervisor.

For the office of township clerk there were two nominations, Miss Lina Durfee and Calvin Whipple. The present incumbent of the office. The result of the ballot showed a total of 140 votes cast of which Miss Durfee received 58 and Mr. Whipple 82.

Mrs. John Quartel was nominated by acclamation to succeed herself for the office of township treasurer.

For the office of justice of the peace there were two candidates, Ford P. Brooks and John L. Crandell. The result of the ballot was 116 for Mr. Brooks and 14 for Mr. Crandell.

Melburn Partridge was nominated to succeed himself as highway commissioner.

Floyd Miller was nominated to succeed himself as highway overseer.

There were two candidates for the office of member of board of review, Wm. B. Petz and Daniel Murray. The result of the ballot was 50 for Mr. Petz and 32 for Mr. Murray.

The following constables were nominated by acclamation: George W. Springer, Charles Thumme, Fred Stanible, Paul Groth.

The chairman appointed the following township caucus committee: J. E. Kaiser, Oliver Loomis and Phoebe Patterson.

The following is the ticket: Supervisor—Charles Rathburn, Jr. Clerk—Calvin Whipple. Treasurer—Lulu Quartel. Justice of Peace—Ford P. Brooks. Highway Commissioner—Melburn Partridge. Highway Overseer—Floyd Miller. Member Board of Review—Wm. B. Petz. Constables—George W. Springer, Charles Thumme, Fred Stanible, Paul Groth.

$500 MARKET IS CHRYSLER GOAL

W. P. CHRYSLER ANNOUNCES NEW SALES POLICY; PRICES ARE SLASHED.

Beginning Monday, the Chrysler corporation inaugurated a new sales policy, under which the company will compete in the lowest price automobile market.

At the same time, prices on all models of the Plymouth car were reduced from $65 to $70, resulting in a new low price range for the line of from $350 to $675.

The new price schedule is made possible by the fact that without redesigning its facilities or products, and without additional investment in plant, the Plymouth car can be profitably produced in large volume at the lower prices. The car is already designed and in production; more than 350,000 Plymouths or its predecessors have been sold, and the plants and facilities for larger production already exist.

The company will undertake an extensive advertising campaign to announce its new program. The 10,000 Chrysler, Dodge, DeSoto and Plymouth dealer organizations throughout the country have hailed the new plan with enthusiasm. It is the belief that this plan may constitute one of the most important contributions Chrysler corporation has made to the development of the automobile industry.

The reduced prices of the Plymouth models are as follows: Coupe $530; three-window, four-door sedan, $625; roadster (with rumble seat), $610; de luxe coupe (with rumble seat), $625; two-door sedan, $610; de luxe sedan, $675; touring, $625; all f. o. b. factory.

Announces Big Clearance Sale

Clrich's Men's store have taken a large space this week to announce a big clearance sale starting Friday, March 14th and ending Saturday, March 21st. A big reduction is being made on Men's furnishings of all kinds, luggage and shoes. Be sure you read the ad and see the real bargains that are being offered on seasonal merchandise.

Death of Little Child

Gerald Keith Humphries, ten-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Humphries, died at the Herman Ketter hospital, Detroit, Saturday, March 8th. Funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Monday, March 10th, at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Donald Riley officiating. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

Child Training Group Meeting

"Discipline and Your Child" will be the topic of discussion in the Child Care groups led by Lydia Ann Lynde, Child Care Specialist, from the Michigan State College Extension Department, for next week's program.

Scan through the following topics for discussion and decide for yourself whether or not you can afford to miss this last meeting if you have the discipline of your children or grandchildren at heart:

1. Is obedience always a desirable thing?
2. What shall we do with the toddler who handles everything within his reach?
3. Should children be rewarded for doing such necessary things as dressing themselves, cleaning their teeth, eating the right food, doing chores?
4. Is taking a child's favorite toy away from him a wise form of punishment?

Dr. Blanton says, "Many of the disciplinary problems that come up in our home should be avoided." How can we avoid them?

How can we teach our child to consider property rights?

Mrs. Lynde will give parents private interviews for the treatment of home problems to those who may wish to deal with problems privately.

Following is the schedule of meetings for Wayne County at which guests are always welcome:

Monday, March 17—Lindbergh School, Dearborn Hills, 1:30 to 4:30. Discussion No. 2.

Tuesday, March 18—Church House, Cherry Hill, 4:00 Mothers meetings, 7:00 Pot-luck supper, 8:00 Parents. Discussion No. 4.

Wednesday, March 19—High School, Plymouth, 4:00 Mothers, 7:00 Pot-luck Supper, 8:00 Parents. Discussion No. 4.

Thursday, March 20—Methodist church, Belleville, 4:00 Mothers, 7:00 Pot-luck Supper, 8:00 Parents. Discussion No. 4.

Will Vote On Lighting of Plymouth Road

The proposition to light the Plymouth road from the Livonia township line to the village limits will again be submitted to the voters at the coming township election on Monday, April 7th.

County Starts Building Plan

HUNDREDS OF MEN TO GET JOBS IN $1,667,000 CAMPAIGN TO OPEN SOON.

Drawing on funds already appropriated by the board of supervisors, Wayne county is planning immediate expenditure of $1,667,000 for needed construction. It also will provide jobs for hundreds of men now out of work, county auditors declare.

The construction work has been advanced ahead of the season to give employment and the auditors believe work may be done now at a great saving, because contractors will accept a lesser price in order to keep their men at work.

Contracts now awarded for buildings planned or already under construction total $311,804. William Gutman, chairman of the county auditors, believes that if this work were delayed until fall the cost would be at least $10,000 higher.

Construction under way includes the administration building for the juvenile court at Rivard street and Forest avenue, where work was begun a week ago. Workmen for several weeks have been altering the county building to provide additional quarters for the county treasurer, the court of common pleas and the auditors. The auditors have recommended that work be started immediately upon the new administration building and hospital at the Wayne County hospital at Eloise.

Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars has been appropriated for this job and bids already have been received. Construction also will be started soon on the military hangar at the Wayne County Airport at Middle Belt and Goddard roads. This undertaking will cost about $180,000.

To See How Bids Work was begun about three weeks ago on a series of buildings for the Wayne County Training school at Northville. Wayne county's own construction organization handling the job. The construction will include a fire house to cost $30,700; dormitories, $80,000; employees' residences, $50,000; farm colony buildings, $35,000, and garages, $22,500. The laying of water pipe extension to the school is nearly completed, at a cost of $107,064.

In a week or 10 days bids will probably be asked on an addition to the power plant and equipment at the training school, which will cost about $40,000.

Statement of Condition of Wayne County Treas.

County Treasurer, Godfrey Fretwald, issued the following statement of State and County collections and disbursements at the close of business for the month of February, 1930.

College Debaters Come Here Tuesday

The affirmative debate team of the College of the City of Detroit and the negative team of Michigan State Normal College will debate the question: "Shall the Nations Disarm?" in the Plymouth High School Auditorium Tuesday evening, March 18.

The colleges ask the local school to advertise the debate and to try to get an audience. No admission is charged for these debates, the project being an educational one that allows the teams to debate before an audience and gives the people of the town and the students an opportunity to hear an interesting question discussed.

With the Naval Arms Conference in session at London the question of "Shall the Nations Disarm?" should solicit much interest.

One of the reasons back of the increased emphasis on debating in high schools in this state is that it prepares young people to take part in public discussion. A debate is a public discussion. In this case by people especially trained in this field, from two well known colleges. Our citizens are invited to be present to hear the two sides of the much discussed disarmament question, Tuesday evening, March 18, at the High School auditorium.

Ypsi Paper Comments On Local Players

This is clipped from the Ypsilanti paper, the Daily Press; and is part of their tournament write-up.

After running up a count of 19-9 late in the third period, Howell was all but swept from its feet by a startling Plymouth rally which started shortly before the end of that session and was not checked until Plymouth forged into the lead at 22-20 as Knapp sunk a perfect tally from the corner of the court with just three minutes of play remaining.

It was a great exhibition of basket shooting by Knapp, DePorter and Ball from different angles that brought about the sudden and complete turn in events, but little more than a minute after the former had carried Plymouth out ahead Knapp tore loose under the basket to tie, the score. During the time that remained neither team was able to score from the field but Fournier and Noble each cashed in from the foul line and the brilliant effort of Plymouth's sensational rally went for naught.

OBSERVE 37TH ANNIVERSARY OF WOMAN'S CLUB WORK

A Large Number of Members and Friends Enjoyed The Splendid Program at the Penniman Allen Theatre Last Friday Afternoon.

One of the most delightful programs of the Club year was performed Friday last, in the Penniman Allen theatre, the interior beauty and stage fittings of which, added greatly to the charm of the entire affair.

Mrs. J. B. Gilbert, president of the club, welcomed a capacity house of members and friends, with a few pleasing remarks.

The opening group of numbers were lovely, including a mixed group of talent that speaks well for the training and ability of these young people.

Girls' double quartette, singing "In the Garden of Tomorrow"; Dutch Dance, Eight Grade Girls; Clarinet Solo, Arthur Moe; Dance of the Hours, Irene Humphries; Accordion Solo, Joe Ribbar; Hottentots, Dancin', Junior Gym Club; Mouth Organ, Joe Ribbar; Eccentric Dance, Vera Woods.

A one-act play followed, which portrayed a splendid bit of acting "Drums of Outie" by Austin Strong, under the direction of Miss Madge Johnson, dramatic teacher of Plymouth High school. The following is the cast:

Captain Hector McGregor—Russell Wallace. Lieut. Allen Hartley—Maxwell Todd. Sergeant McDougal—Phillip Reiger. Stewart, the Sentry—Frank Allison. The Hindustan Servants—Doris Holloway, Lawrence Rudick. Mrs. Jack Clayton, Hartley's sister—Hazel Rathburn.

A Private—Milton Partridge. At this time Mrs. J. B. Gilbert, to express the appreciation of the club for this splendid program, presented beautiful bouquets of roses with the assistance of little Dorothy Richards, to Miss Johnson, teacher of dramatics, Miss Gladys Schrader, musical director, Miss Luella Keys, girls' athletic director, all of Plymouth High school and Mrs. Kate E. Allen, owner of the Penniman Allen theatre, who is always so gracious in cooperating for the success of the club's interests.

The club is also indebted to the management of the theatre for the generous cooperation and assistance throughout the program.

The concluding number, an anniversary song, written in honor of the club, by Miss Nettie Pelham and arranged to the music of "Neopolitan Night" for the Girls' Double Quartet, by Miss Schrader, was sung in a pleasing and effective manner by the girls.

Will Give Dance

The Business and Professional Women's Club will give a dance at the Masonic Temple, March 21st. Music will be furnished by Laurie Heathcote's seven-piece orchestra, formerly of 107 Medical Regimental Band. This orchestra plays at Royal Gardens three nights a week, also broadcasts Wednesday nights over station WAGM.

Three Hundred and Fifty-four Voters Cast Their Ballots at Annual Village Election Monday.

The annual village election held last Monday brought out a total of 354 voters in the two precincts. The vote given each candidate by precinct is as follows:

Precinct	1	2	Total
Dr. F. B. Hoover	271	53	324
R. O. Mimmack	185	72	257
C. G. Shour	182	39	221
C. H. Buzzard	148	43	191

There were five void ballots. The proposition to amend Chapter 4, Section 4, of the charter of the village to provide for increasing the compensation of village commissioners from $2,000 to $5,000 for each meeting attended received the following vote:

In precinct No. 1—yes, 125 and no, 260.
In precinct No. 2—yes, 40 and no, 57.

County Prosecutors Address Kiwanians

Ralph Baker and Stephen Davidow, both assistant Prosecuting Attorneys for Wayne county, made short talks before the Kiwanis Club last Tuesday noon, and the youthful criminal problem that Wayne county is facing.

"Only one percent of the county's population is criminal," said Mr. Baker "and the worst of that one percent is the youthful element between 16 and 22 years of age." "I have found that in practically every case," he said, "the boys brought before us for questioning in connection with their criminal activities are boys who are sadly lacking in education and religious training, and therein lies the solution to the problem."

Submits Annual Report of The Michigan Bell

Net income of the Michigan Bell Telephone company during 1929 was $6,012,709.79, which was short of dividend requirements by $767,290.21, according to the annual report submitted by President Birch Foraker at the annual meeting of the board of directors, last week Thursday. This was the second consecutive year that the company's earnings failed to meet dividend requirements. The dividend shortage in 1928 was $411,293.25, and deficit under dividend requirements for the two years totaled $1,198,584.10.

Telephone operating revenues were $41,802,593.20, while the operating expenses were $28,930,848.60, leaving a net operating revenue of $12,871,744.60. Deductions of $3,840,598.39 for taxes and $222,063.37 for uncollectible revenues, leaves an operating income of $8,809,082.84. Non-operating income of $252,224.52, including interest on investments and bank balances, rent revenues, and miscellaneous items, brought the gross income to $9,061,287.16. Rent and interest paid, including miscellaneous deductions, totaled $3,048,577.37, resulting in the balance net income of $6,012,709.79. The dividend shortage of $767,290.21 was made up from the surplus earnings of prior periods, as was necessary also in 1928.

Gross additions to telephone plant during 1929 were $28,462,560, the largest amount spent for facilities expansion in any one year in the history of the Michigan Bell company. The total was divided as follows: Land and buildings, $3,842,100; dial and manual central office equipment, $5,763,483; new telephones, $3,940,608; exchange lines, $8,146,783; long distance lines, $3,908,042; general equipment and miscellaneous, $1,206,484.

Financing was confined to the issuance of $16,650,000 of six per cent demand notes to the American Telephone and Telegraph company. The articles of association were amended to provide for the issuing of $25,000,000 additional common stock, which was approved by the Michigan Public Utilities commission and will be issued March 31, 1930.

During the year 269,270 telephones were installed, and 259,758 were disconnected, resulting in a net gain for the year, exclusive of purchases, sales and transfers, of 48,512 telephones, or 4.414 greater than the net gain in 1928.

Some of the important expansion projects completed during the year included the opening of the Niagara and Pingree dial central offices in new company-owned buildings in Detroit, and the completion of new central office buildings at Charlott, Howell, MacIntosh Park, Post Huron and Rockwood. New dial central offices were opened in new company-owned buildings at Pontiac, Grand Rapids and Rockwood, the latter being the first community dial office in the state. New manual common battery type central offices were placed in service in St. Clair and Wayne. A second long distance cable was completed between Detroit and Ann Arbor, and a similar cable was placed between Grand Rapids and Marne.

Construction was begun on several new buildings, including the Oregon central office building in Dearborn, the University central office building in Detroit, a six-story supplies building in Detroit, new central office buildings

OBITUARY.

Jennie A. Chilson, daughter of Austin and Angelina Chilson was born in Livonia township, January 3rd, 1855. Her young life was spent on the farm where she was born till the 18th day of April, 1877, when she was united in marriage to Volney A. Gunning. For fifty years she has lived on the farm where she departed this life February 25th, 1930.

She was the youngest of a family of nine children all of whom have preceded her in death.

She had been in failing health for several years, yet her passing came as a shock to her husband and friends. Her whole life was lived for her home and her greatest happiness was in ministering to the wants of her husband who survives her.

Burial took place in the family lot in Clarencerville.

ATTENTION PLAYGROUND BALL PLAYERS AND FANS!

There will be a meeting of the various teams and fans, relative to forming a league to play playground ball, this coming season. The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Hotel Mayflower, Friday evening, March 21st, at 8:00 o'clock. Robinson Subs, Dunn Steel, Ford Taps, Todd's All Stars, and all fraternal teams take special notice.

PROMPTNESS.

"In all things be prompt. Get the thing done. DO IT NOW. Delay is fatal. The only way for a busy man to get through with his work is to take up one thing at a time and stick to it until he puts it through. Never mind if the work is difficult—it must be done."
—Walter H. Cottingham.

THE VILLAGE ELECTION IS OVER.

Monday the voters went to the polls to cast their vote for two members of the village commission. The election is over and two good men were selected to fill the office of village commissioners. It is now up to every citizen to cooperate with the village commission in the conduct of village affairs in every way possible. We are all desirous of seeing Plymouth progress and go forward. The village commission, who control the village government can do much in the upbuilding of the community, but they must have whole-hearted support of the citizens if worth while things are to be accomplished. So it is up to every man and woman to get busy and make 1930 a banner year for Plymouth.

A STATE-WIDE NEED

Wonder if it has ever occurred to our state officials that one of the quickest methods of securing "farm relief" would be through greater attention to our secondary, or side-roads? A lot of money has been spent in recent years on main-traveled roads. Today we've a splendid system. But there are hundreds of farm families, living back off of these main lines, entitled to relief. County officials do the best they can with the money on hand, but in the aggregate that is mighty little. What is needed is a state-wide campaign that will bring the side-road farmers closer to market and the consumer closer to his products. If money can be found for main roads it certainly ought to be found for the others. They don't have to be paved; in most cases they don't need widening. But they do need to be surfaced to the point where they can be traversed quickly and economically the whole year round. It's a big job, but if tackled as a state-wide proposition we can get it done. And the sooner our legislature considers it the better.

FIRES IN HOMES

A large percentage of deaths from fires occur in the homes. This is hard to understand in progressive America, where so many advantages are in easy reach of every household. All homes can be made comparatively safe against fire and the loss of life can be greatly reduced. The possibilities of improvement are almost endless. We've noticed that most people around Plymouth pay too much attention to uncommon, but spectacular, accidents and too little to the common and ordinary risks of life. They read accounts of airplane accidents, train collisions, earthquakes and various other sorts of sensational news and draw great and deep conclusions from them. But they show little interest in such a common thing as fire, although it takes more life and consumes more wealth than any other single calamity. There is no good reason for this. Any family that will take proper precautions against ordinary risks will find the chance of disaster greatly lessened.

NO SUBSTITUTE

Calvin Coolidge found himself in a bad fix recently when he arrived in New Orleans. He started to bed and found he had forgotten to bring along a nightshirt. Any Plymouth man who ever did the same thing can offer Cal deep sympathy. They got the distinguished visitor a pair of pajamas, but he refused them, and would probably have been sitting up yet if someone had not tendered the loan of a nightshirt. Cal belongs to that generation that had its habits pretty well fixed before strangling, suffocating pajamas were introduced. He knows, like a lot of us, that there's something about the freedom of a nightshirt pajamas do not possess. Next to sleeping "raw," which isn't being done in the best circles a night-shirt affords the greatest comfort of all. Those who have refused to bow to the dictates of fashion, and who still refuse to recognize pajamas as a substitute for nightshirts, certainly hope that never again does Mr. Coolidge meet with such a calamity as that one which befell him in New Orleans.

THE PRICE COUNTS

This year, as usual, many farmers, their wives, sons and daughters will try to dispose of part of their farm products through the medium of the roadside market stand. In thousands of cases they will meet with success. Thousands will fail because of unbusiness-like methods.

Those who succeed will be the ones who realize that the price of the things they offer must be lower than that charged at the stores. From the consumer's standpoint, a lower price is one below what he can get the same thing for from a town or city merchant, though of course he considers freshness and quality. But if he stops his car only to find that even though it is a bit fresher the article is actually priced as high as in his home market, he is going to climb back into that car without making a purchase. And the chances are he will not from that time on be tempted to stop at roadside stands.

Our friends around Plymouth, who cater to the motorist trade, or who expect to do so for the first time this season, will do well to keep this in mind. Stands must be kept neat and the products for sale attractively arranged. This will tempt the motorist to stop. Then the prices must be lower than they are where he is accustomed to buying the same articles. He is willing to join in a "cash and carry" deal, but he wants to know he is saving at least a few cents. Until these simple principles are learned by the person now planning to start a roadside stand there can be little hope for success.

LET'S BRIGHTEN UP

Like death and taxes, spring clean-up time is something we can't get away from. An if every citizen of Plymouth realized the value of it all the dread it carries with it would vanish. But the trouble is there are too many procrastinators in this and every other community who keep putting it off until hot weather arrives, and then ignoring it altogether.

There is no better protection against disease and epidemic than a thoroughly clean town. There is nothing that will return as rich reward in the shape of health and comfort as a house that is clean inside and out, and premises surrounding it that are free from disease-breeding rubbish and filth. Paint and whitewash and lime and soap and water are cheaper than doctor's bills.

Instead of postponing it this year why not, regardless of whether your neighbor has started or not, begin your house-cleaning now. It can be gotten out of the way before your time is needed for other tasks and while every member of the family feels like "doing something," after winter months spent largely around the fire. Never mind about the other fellow. Set him an example. Get at your cleaning now and watch how your neighbors will fall in line. Don't stop with cleaning the inside of the house; clean up the premises too. Don't leave a single spot in which a pest of the insect family can live. It is a debt you owe the town you live in—it is a protection against sickness, and possible death, that you can't get in any other way.

To the Service Men of Plymouth and Vicinity

Learning that Myron H. Beals Post No. 32 of the American Legion has prepared to do its share, or more, in strengthening the Legion's ranks at this time when membership indicates the severity of the earnestness of World war in what the Legion is trying to do, nationally, I am taking this opportunity of appealing to each of you to help.

Some veterans do not realize the vital importance of their support to the national organization, especially in the Legion program for national legislation. The American Legion is chartered by congress. The Legion must make an annual report to congress, and each week the Legion membership is transmitted to the national capital to be available for the information of representatives and senators. If it is depressed by them.

Following the neglect of congress last winter, in passing the Rogers bill, which provided for the proper care of 5,543 mentally ill comrades who are confined in over-crowded state institutions, the Legion publicly announced, at the beginning of the present session of congress, that its membership would be an indication of the earnestness of veterans in the Legion's request for additional government hospital facilities. Advance 1930 membership broke all preceding records. The measure, appropriating $15,950,000, was passed just before Christmas, when some leaders in congress had said such early action was impossible. But the sincerity of the veterans of America was unmistakable, and congress took notice that the veterans of America are behind the Legion's efforts on behalf of the disabled.

Yet, that measure represents less than half of what the Legion is asking for the disabled at this session. It requires from two to three years, after an appropriation is made by congress, before the disabled receive any benefits in the way of additional hospital facilities. Every veteran, who subscribed to this Legion program of service through its membership at this time, is adding needed strength to the hands of the Legion leaders who are doing everything in their power to obtain a fair and just treatment for the men who paid the heaviest for victory in the World war. Such veterans, who thus add their strength to the Legion's program, are doing their share also in showing congress that the service men of the World war are determined that any future war shall be fought on the principle of "equal service for all and special profit to none," a study of which principle is provided in the Reed-Wainwright resolution which the Legion is urging congress to adopt at this session.

Some day you may need the Legion's help. It is your duty now, to do what you can to keep this Legion of ours vital and strong. You will be repaid many times in the pleasure you will find in the many activities of the Legion's work, and in the satisfaction of being a part of this greatest veterans' organization in the history of the world. Join with us today.

O. L. BODENHAMER, National Commander.

HARRY GERMAN ELECTED MAYOR OF NORTHVILLE.

Harry S. German was elected president of Northville over Charles Filkins by the narrow margin of three votes last Monday in a most exciting village election. All three commissioners on the German ticket were elected. Over 1100 votes were cast and local interest ran high on both sides. We understand a petition is being circulated asking for a recount.

It's all right to make mountains out of molehills, but there's no sense in making them out of old tin cans.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY PLYMOUTH REBEKAH LODGE NO. 182, I. O. O. F.

Whereas, in his divine wisdom, it has pleased our heavenly father to remove from our midst our beloved sister, Margaret Bolton, be it:

Resolved, That Plymouth Rebekah Lodge No. 182, I. O. O. F. has lost a member, one for whom we mourn. Who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard. We extend to the bereaved husband, children, grand child, mother and father, sisters and brothers, our deepest sympathy, and out of the darkness and sorrow may God's richest blessings shine as a comfort to those who remain to mourn her decease; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, that they be published in the Plymouth Mail and that they be placed upon the minutes of the Lodge, and the charter be draped for a period of sixty days.

Her toils are over, her work is done. And she is fully blest: She has fought the fight, the victory won And entered into rest. Emma Reiman, Lucetta Sherman, Lillian Stanible.

Howell Eliminates Plymouth In Tournament

Howell eliminated Plymouth from the District Basketball Tournament last Friday night at the Ypsilanti High school gym by two points. The final score was 24 to 22.

During the whole game the score was uncertain with the fast passing and shooting. At the end of the first period of playing the score was tied, 5 all.

Brayton opened the game with a field goal and Randall put the ball through the hoop for two points. DePorter sunk a foul shot. Wittse dribbled the length of the floor to score from under the basket. Rancour caged a free shot. Randall tied the score with a short shot.

In the next period Howell speeded up considerably and gained quite a lead. Wittse, Howell guard, was the big man of this quarter, dribbling with considerable speed and passing accurately. His special trick was while dribbling to draw the man out and then pass to the unguarded forward who looped it into the basket.

During the second half the Rocks displayed more speed. In this part of the game Ball committed his fourth foul and was replaced by Gust.

Wittse, the fast moving flyer, chalked up a total of nine points for the Green and Yellow. His teammate, Noble, was next with two field goals and two free shots. DePorter and Ball led the Blue and White with five markers apiece.

It might be interesting to know that Howell won the Class B District Title by defeating Ypsilanti Saturday night. Wayne, winners of the Suburban league title, captured the Class C banner by trouncing Northville.

Lineup	Field	Free	Total
Plymouth	9	4	22
Randall	2	1	5
DePorter (C)	2	1	5
Bell	2	1	5
Knapp	2	0	4
Ferguson	0	1	1
Carley	1	1	3
	9	4	22

Officials—Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti.

Senior Teams Play For School Championship.

CLASS BASKETBALL

With Clemens and Hondorp playing almost a perfect game, team eight triumphed over team seven Tuesday night in a postponed game of the regular season. Team eight thus closed the season without having lost a game although having had many close calls. Team eight won the game by the score of 15 to 8, but the score does not show what a closely contested game was played. Orr, the captain of team seven, kept urging his men, but he was put out on personal fouls early in the fourth quarter. Coach Matheson was the referee.

Home Ec. Club See Thelma Regean

Having read in the Detroit News that a fourteen-year-old girl has been in the Receiving Hospital for over twenty weeks, as a result of catching her own clothing on fire when she lit a match, the Home Economic Club decided to see if they could not cheer her up and make her little more comfortable. On Saturday, March first they all drove down to Detroit and went to visit Thelma Regean at the Receiving Hospital. They took her a very pretty new nightgown, fresh fruit and candy. We all hope with them that Thelma will have recovered from her burns soon.

Home Economics Classes

The Plymouth High School seems to be very honored for the Wright Bias Binding Company has very kindly sent the Home Economics department a display of six dresses on which Wright Bias Binding has been used as trimming. On the dresses, shades of the same color and contrasting hues have been used. In some cases the binding has been used as a facing at the hem giving a rather attractive effect. It is also used for modernistic designs on the sleeves and at the neck. Plymouth High School is very lucky to have this display for usually it is only sent to colleges. The dresses may be seen in the sewing room.

Senior Girl Reserves

Garnet Cool opened the meeting held Friday, March 8 by interpreting the line of the code called "Ready For Service." She read the following poem by Wordsworth:

That best portion of a good man's life,
His little, nameless, unremembered
Of kindness and of love.
The discussion meeting which was on ethnops was called "Dude Ranch" and it was led by Helen Bridge. Each girl wrote one question which she wanted answered and put it in a box, then these questions were drawn by the girls and answered. Some of the questions were: 1. Should a girl go out every night? 2. How is the correct way to introduce people? 3. Is it correct to say "Hello" to a teacher or "How do you do?"

Junior Assembly

Because money is needed to buy equipment for baseball and other spring sports, Mr. Emens reminded the pupils to buy their student council tickets in order that these appropriations may be made. It was then announced that Plymouth played Howell on Friday, March 7, in the eyesman of the Central High at Ypsilanti. If Plymouth should win this game, she would be eligible to the district tournament.

Harold Stevens announced that the contest in declamation and oratory will be held Thursday and Friday, at 3:45 p. m.

The winners will participate in the sub-district contest which will be held in Northville. The boys have started their writing on the desks and walls. Mr. Emens asked that those who have been doing so to cease if they care to keep up the cleanliness of the building.

The "Big Fifteen," the fifteen rah-yells, was led by Jimmy Stimpson, Harold Stevens, and Joseph Schroeder. "Ye, Team," concluded the yelling.

The Historical Characters' Club under the direction of Miss Berg gave a play based on the witchcraft delusion which appeared in Salem in 1692. The setting was in a woods where in a short time a party of Puritans had assembled, all animated by the thought of preying witches. Mysterious noises were said to have occurred because of the "evil eye." On a certain day a small girl whose cap had been found on the dooryard of Goody Gorton's house was missing. Goody Gorton was, but soon after the little girl appeared, she was set free by a man who knew the old woman's kindness. The cast for the play was:

Goody Gorton—Eileen Drayton
Phillips Beaneor—Elwood Gates
Governor Bradford—Norvall Boyce
John Giles—Alex Konzeski
Barbara Williams—Pearl Smith
Dorcas Wordell—Wm. Highfield
Tashita Brent—Margaret Goble
Rebecca Wilton—Ruth Mesrin
Farnfoot—Goddie Tomney
Goodwife Williams—Blanche Curtiss

The honor roll of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade was read by Mr. Emens. The ninth, it seems is the best group in the high school. It made by the smallest awarded list and the highest honor list.

The fight song was led by Miss Schrader with Marguerite Wood accompanying.

Locker Meditations

The world looks pretty good to me this morning. You see, I slept well last night, since my teacher is so nice and orderly. When those books and papers are just jumbled in any old way, it affects me as an indigestion or stomach ache effects you. Please excuse me if my grammar ain't so select for association with my present owner is giving me bad habits.

It must be almost time for school to begin, because big and little are rushing up and down the hall at a great rate, and my owner hasn't come in sight yet. The five minute bell has sounded and still—oh there she comes, but what a scowl! Jerks open my door! Ouch! You know better than to dig me like that when you take out a book? Slam! bangs the door, and off she goes on the run leaving me with a much darker outlook on this sunny day. (Anyhow, I'll have a little rest for the torment of my life doesn't usually come back before noon.)

Ho-hum is it noon already? Oh yes, and here she comes blacker than ever, muttering maledictions on the teacher that picked on her, or so she says, while she slambags her belongings in any old way. It's all her own fault too, because she know she didn't study, since she look out that new library book this morning.

Back again afternoon and at the end of every hour, she is muddling my poor insides worse and worse. No wonder I cannot think straight and talk in such a cloudy fashion. Oh at last, the long tormenting day is ended, and I'm left almost in pieces with a last grand bang I cannot even sleep tonight because I am suffering so terribly from locker indigestion. Tomorrow I shall be just as cross and ugly as my owner was today and I shall be just as contrary as possible. Do you know I am afraid such treatment is going to spoil me for a gentle, systematic owner. If I ever get one.

"Los Gitanos" In France

France was visited by "Los Gitanos" Thursday with the guidance of Clarice Hamilton. Paris was the first stopping place. Here they decided to climb the Eiffel tower and from its dizzy height look down on Paris, the fashion metropolis of the world, picking out points of interest that they would see in detail later. Then gaining entrance at the Louvre they sauntered through the halls gazing at masterpieces on every side. From here they sought the solemnity of the Cathedral de Notre Dame where they rested while their guide explained the different objects of art. Their imagination then took a grand flop and these gypsies found themselves in Versailles, the historic playground in Louis XIV's time when his court favorites enjoyed luxuries in his forty million dollar castle.

Beautiful Normandy and Brittany were included in their travels. Here they met the peasants whose manners and queer costumes interested the made these wanderers realize the conditions of the peasantry class in all countries.

Suddenly and with a jolt they realized, as the warning bell rang, that they were in Plymouth High school and not in far away France.

Starkweather Notes

The Starkweather Kindergarten children have been talking about the March wind and decorating their room with windmills and kites. They have made pussy willows and birds which are sure signs that spring will soon be here. A bowl of gold fish arrived creating much excitement; the pupils have decided to name the fish Curly, Floppy and Pinky. The names were chosen from a story about the three big boys.

The first B's discussed the wind and what it does. Pictures of windmills, boats, and kites decorate the black boards and windows. The first B's are working hard in learning to write their numbers. They can do them well up to ten. The children have a gold fish whose playmate died but they are getting another to take its place. The first A's and second B's have started their model reading contest. The first grade own automobiles, the second airplanes for the race. Each pupil gets a start for having ten points or ten perfect reading lessons a week. A picture of children, umbrellas, balls, Easter rabbits and eggs being blown about by a strong March wind is at the top of the March calendar. For wall decorations, they have kites and birds. So many are absent that the children have not been weighed to see who are perfect.

The children of the fifth A grade language class are making booklets to put the plays in that they write during this term. The reading club gave a program about Robert Lewis Stevenson last Friday. The fourth A language class wrote letters telling what they are going to be when they grow up. The fifth A geography class has been reading and reporting on the characteristics and customs of the Japanese people.

The children of Mrs. Mole's room have sent presents to the University Hospital for Audrey Hartzog's birthday party. They are sorry to hear that William Darnell is ill again after one day at school in six weeks. Donald Milbeck is improving and will return to school soon.

The sixth A arithmetic class made some plans and graphs. The children are learning the poem "The House by the Side of the Road" by Sam Walter Foss. Ten pupils received a free period Friday for being good citizens. Some very neat penmanship fixing made by the first A group, are on the bulletin board.

Interesting health books and maps of Asia and South America were posted on another bulletin board.

Central School News

In Mrs. Root's first grade class, group one is cutting phrases apart and pasting them in the correct places. Group two have finished the Elson chart and feel rather proud to be able to read in their new large primers. Group three is cutting up pictures and pasting them together in the right places. All are busy with their silent reading, seat work pads, which they do independently of the teacher. Grace Squires brought a robin's nest which was found on the roof of her home, Janet Peterson brought a Teddy Bear in which there is a music box. Whenever the pupils become noisy, he makes music for them and they at once become quiet again. The visitors during the past week were Mrs. Glenn Scharer and Mrs. William Squires. Mrs. Mary Jane Martin and Doris Rose sang a good-night song. Robert Marshall is a new one on the perfect teeth chart. There are now eleven children on the list. Ruth Wendt, who has been absent since the first week of the second semester, is back again. Carlton Brown is a new member of the class.

Miss Richard's first grade class has been very busy. Almost twenty were in "Aunt Lucia." During the week they were weighed and measured. Miss Richard put up a new border with fairies in black silhouette. The teacher is reading the story of the "Dutch Twins" to them; they are making Holland booklets to correspond to the story. The children draw pictures of baskets of fruit, and animals such as elephants and the rabbit. All are practicing penmanship in order that they may get buttons from the Palmer Method Writing Company. There is a radio made of paper and the children put on various programs at the close of every program.

The second graders in Miss Weinman's room are dramatizing "The Golem in the City." taken from the Elson Reader, book one. Twenty-five received stars for spelling.

In the reading contest held in second B class the Navy is ahead of the Army, the Robins ahead of the Bluebirds in the second A class, and the Butterflies are ahead of the Bees in class two.

Irene Beeman is leaving for Laingsburg, Michigan. Miss Dixon's third grade class, Betty Brown, entered from Rosedale Gardens. All are working hard to earn buttons in penmanship.

The Packards are ahead of the Fords in the second grade A arithmetic race. Patsy Bronson is absent on account of illness. The children in the second A and third B were weighed and measured. Mrs. Strasen is explaining the Turkey Field. Mrs. Strong visited the class last week.

In Miss Field's fourth grade class the pupils are busy practicing for the P. T. A. program. There are eleven pupils on the honor roll for the past week.

The Music Dept.

The orchestra made a splendid appearance last March 5, at the play "Aunt Lucia" given by the Ex-Service Men's Club. This was the first appearance in their all-white uniforms with a black bow tie for the boys.

The Girls' Quartette sang at the Women's club meeting held in the Pentamian Allen Theatre last Friday. They were dressed in old-fashioned costumes and they sang "In the Garden of Tomorrow" by Jessie Deppe. The girls ended their program with "A Tribute to the Woman's Club" the words of which were written by Miss Reilman, a member of the Women's Club.

Arthur Moe played on his clarinet; this was his first appearance in Plymouth. Joseph Ribar gave another performance on his accordion which the people enjoyed very much.

Announces Special Assembly Program FOR 1930-1931

Having already enjoyed several programs planned by the National High School Assembly Association, the students of Plymouth High School will be especially glad to know that a contract for three more entertainers has been signed for 1930-1931.

To insure getting only the best for the programs there are elaborate elimination contests in which every one who wishes to try out, may—before an advisory board of school men. Only those picked for these programs are 100 per cent entertaining and interesting to students of High School in Michigan.

Telexov, the mechanical man, is to be on one of the assembly programs for next year. There is certainly nothing more interesting in the line of applied science than this mechanical man or robot. The term itself is the Hungarian for workman and this man can accomplish work now done only by humans. Telexov was constructed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and is to be used exclusively by the National High School Assembly Association during the next year.

Annual Girl Reserve Banquet

It was a merry group of girls who boarded the special bus for Detroit, last Saturday around four o'clock. They carried large boxes very cautiously and if you had been able to glimpse the inside of one of them, you would have seen a miniature state of Michigan, a view of the woods of Maine, or some other peculiar specimen of handcraft. As the girls were all dressed in spotlessly white middieys and skirts, it would have been taken much insight to guess that they were Girl Reserves bound for the eighteenth annual banquet of the High School Girl Reserves. But that does not explain the picturesque scenery which you have just glimpsed does it?

I guess that is beyond the field of psychology anyway so I will explain the very year at the annual banquet each school decorates its own tables, and then the decorations are judged for five things: effectiveness, originality, amount of work, detail and cost.

The decorations for this year represented Canada, Alaska, the Canal Zone, Mexico and the eighteen states. Since we had two groups which were eligible to go to the banquet; we represented two of the states. The Junior Girl Reserves represented Maine and the Senior Girl Reserves Alaska.

There is also competition among the different groups to see which one can write the best song. On the way to the city the girls practiced theirs industriously, so if you heard a very musical bus, Saturday, you can be sure that it was not a calliope, but rather the Girl Reserves. However, they don't usually disturb the peace in this manner, so don't be influenced against them.

It was some of the girls' first visit to the new Y. W. C. A. building so as soon as they had arranged their decorations on the table, we had a large table right in the middle of the room and with thirty-four Plymouth girls present, we made a splendid showing. They went down and saw the gym, the swimming pool, and several other interesting places.

At 6:30 the girls lined up two by two and marched around the dining room looking at the other groups' decorations. The most outstanding decorations and the ones that won recognition were Washington, D. C. because of its inexpensiveness, (it only cost 10c.) This was represented by paper replicas of the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Memorial and the famous imported cherry grove; Canada because of its originality—this was represented by a tiny Ambassador bridge, little boats under the bridge and a maple leaf crepe paper table cloth;—Mississippi, because of its completeness of detail, it was a miniature Mississippi River with a tiny boat on it;—Mexico, because of its effectiveness—this was adobe huts surrounded by paper Mexican and Alaska for amount of work—this was tiny igloos, icebergs and dog sleds.

After looking at the decorations the girls sat down for dinner and they had a jolly time singing between courses. The speeches were given in the form of a convention. Child labor, mining conditions, textile mills and the American Indian were discussed.

Local Speech Tryouts Held

The preliminary tryouts in declamation and oratory were held last Thursday and Friday, the 6th and 7th. In declamation Zephra Blunk, Alice Chambers, Emma Rowe and Casier Stevens survived the preliminary contest and participated in the final contest held Monday. The other four participants were Mary Mauk, David Daly, Edwin Patrick and Albert Miller.

In oratory, the following people will enter the final tryouts: Mildred Gilbert, Harold Stevens and Ralph Lorenz. The other four contestants were, Marjorie May, Garnet Cool, Steve Dudek and Harry Mallett.

The final tryouts were held Monday, March 10th, a special assembly held for the purpose. Zephra Blunk giving in declamation. Alice Chambers, with "A Vision of War," received second. In oratory, Harold Stevens speaking on "Criminal Reform," received first place and Ralph Lorenz, with "War," as his subject, won second honors.

Zephra Blunk and Harold Stevens will each receive medals from the school for winning first place and they will represent Plymouth in the sub-district contest. These contests to be held in Wayne this year on April 10th. Last year it was held in Plymouth and our entrants received two firsts. Help to make it so again this year by supporting our representatives at this sub-district contest at Wayne April 10th, and there will be as good a record this year. One way to insure it is to support our representatives, and they would like to see you all present at Wayne April 10th.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ANNOUNCEMENT

The Commercial Club banquet has kept the members of the club busy for the past few weeks. The banquet takes place on April 8th. The meetings have been turned over to the different program committees.

Inter-class Basket-ball

FOR BOYS WHO ARE NOT MEMBERS OF EITHER THE FIRST OR SECOND TEAMS AND ALL THE GIRLS IN SCHOOL.

The inter-class basket-ball season just closed has been the most extensive and the best ever carried on in our local high school.

The girls elimination contest under the direction of Miss Keyes consisted of teams from the Junior, senior, sophomore, and freshmen classes and the junior elimination consisting of teams from the 7th and 8th grades. Each competing class played each other class three games and the champion and runners up teams were determined by the percentage basis.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING.

The Senior class dues for this semester will be twenty-five (25) cents.

The committee for the Stunt Night program has been chosen. Martha Schultz is the chairman. Russell Wallace, Fred Shear, Catherine Nichol, M. Shingleton, C. Lyke and Helen Bridge composed the rest of the committee. The Seniors say they are going to be hard to beat. That's the spirit!

The class games for boys and girls were run before school in the morning, starting at 7:40 in the morning, at noon, furnishing recreation at the noon period, and after school at night using the two cross courts in the high school auditorium and the Methodist Community Gym.

The officials for the elimination series consisted of boys and girls from the senior high school assisted by Mr. Matheson and Mr. Emens.

An inter-class program of athletics, while not as outstanding and spectacular to the general public, is really the essential and most worth while part of the physical training program. It means that 60 girls and 98 boys participate in a series of games in competition for the student council ribbons which they will have to treasure in years to come.

KONJOLA PUT SAGINAW MAN BACK TO WORK

VICTIM OF SEVERAL ILLS, HE THOUGHT HE NEVER WOULD SEE ANOTHER WELL DAY.

MR. JOHN GUTHRIE

Konjola, master medicine for the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness, is not designed to give mere temporary relief. Its goal is new and glorious health. Read the words of Mr. John Guthrie, 133 South Oakley street, Saginaw:

"Konjola put me back to work. I had stomach trouble so bad that many a time on my way to work I had to sit down until the attack of pain passed. My kidneys gave me trouble, too, and I was bothered with night-sweats. Then neuritis developed in my shoulder and left arm. Finally I had to give up work altogether.

"I read an endorsement of Konjola by a man I knew, and I talked with him about this new medicine. He urged me to try it. He said Konjola was what I needed. Well, it certainly was just that, for after the third bottle I was able to go back to work. I took in all eight bottles, and am feeling fine in every way, and a different man in disposition and health."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

ROSEDALE GARDENS EPHEMERALS

J. W. WALKER

Sunday, being an unusually bright, cool, calm and collected day, we rose early with the sun (?) and repaired our way to look at the traffic and the budding shrubs and listen to the birds, and to hear the preacher preach and the singers sing, and so through the day, the ground being too wet to dig a basement or play at golf or ping pong we just paused and pondered as to what we had previously thought of as being an important event of the day, and bethought ourselves that it was evident that we should think, so we ended our way Pembrokeward and W. Chicagoward to our church once more. Upon arrival we found numerous others who came down to listen to the others sing and to take our lesson in singing with the rest this lovely Sunday Eve. The treat of the evening was Master Forbes Smith with his trumpet, and Master George Ulrich of the Pianoforte. The boys did the music well, as reflect with credit on their teacher, one Chuck Duryee of W.W.J. fame as a trumpeter. The boys came all the way from Plymouth to give us their music, and before they left made them promise to come again with their fathers and mothers, though Forbes brought his father with him this time. And then too Forbes has been with us before and the other time was in company with the other boys of the Plymouth Boy Scouts and had his bugle then, so now he can play the trumpet too. Mr. Professor Charles (Chuck) Duryee also promises some others of his pupils will visit us from time to time, which we are very grateful and thankful for. We had some crumbe cake and cookies and learned that Mesdames Hodson, Jr., Reindell and Pope were the chefs of cocoa 'n' pastry, which was very nice, as it was nice of the Girl Scouts to wash the dishes.

On the way home met Willis Huron, Herbert Klambach, Joe Schroeder Jr., and Donald Johnston, all Boy Scouts, returning home all tired and hungry after a twenty mile hike someplace, which also reminds us who is the connoisseur who examines in this? And does he have to hike 20 miles too?

The James' are erecting some arbors on their acres to the north of their home on Ingram Avenue, and from what perennials they placed last year it will be some flower garden this year. It was so nice the other afternoon that we had visions of ourselves getting the fever and emulating some of the younger set and getting a nicker from mother to buy a soap bubble outfit at the local toy shoppe in the north window of the pharmacy, and were just about to give in to this when we saw some of the boys coming out so we followed them and watched and gave counsel as to how to fly the kites they had purchased, and on the way back to the office to write up about it when we ran right over several more playing at marbles, so gave them some advice about knuckles and how to play.

It was in watching a couple of the little ladies on the sunny side of the office blowing at these very same soap-bubble outfits. Which all goes to show that times have changed, but some habits have not.

Little Freddie Wehnert now has a yard to play in, as his father has had quite an artistic fence erected, driveway gate and assembly way gate, and all done up nicely with green and white paint to match the trimming on the home numbered 9909 York Avenue.

The Wayne County good roads folks are out and at it repairing the shoulders on the road after the heavy winter wear. And now if you get a flat tire you will be safe to pull up along side of the paved-way, as the many signs indicate "Do not park on Pavement" if changing a tire could be called parking, however it is safer, so why not take to the shoulder.

A little fellow just popped his head in the door and wanted to know what the little worms in the same apple had to talk about all day long, psychologically speaking we don't give a . . .

A certain lady Gardente on our street spied four of the Buttermilkers wearing derbies to church, she wants us to talk her husband into doing the same, she got away during the laughter, and now we have been wondering if she got to church or wear a Derby she meant.

Al Honcke, the new Land Company Superintendent moved in his new home numbered 10007 Arden Avenue, and can now be on the job at a few moments notice, and can set his alarm clock a few minutes later and be home every day for lunch.

Harry Cecil, comedian, and trick artist paid us a visit Wednesday after lunch, and held out a parcel to our stenographer, who thought that some trick would be played on him as per Oswald, or someone, he just kept his hands in his pockets, we smiled and Harry showed the parcel at us. We took same, and it was just a nice box which is refillable at the local candy cases hard by the local soda water and Vitamin "B" counter. Investigating same, we came across a whole flock of miscellaneous assorted, beribboned chocolate boxes filled with dairy sweets of all sorts, shapes, sizes, colors and fillings, everything from pecans to pineapples and other things.

And another thing—Don't forget the Boy Scouts Fried dee nite at push-pollen. Meet us at the church!

Baby lunges up much in evidence these nice afternoons, and "B" grocer keeps the parking space open inside the store, so that Jr. will park his bicycle outside and not interfere with the huggy traffic. Here mothers may park the baby with a cookie while she can do her shopping without running outside every moment. The new marshmallow, containing with dairy dressing color scheme is causing much favorable comment. The only thing we have not been able to figure out is how to make salad dressing stick to the wall, though the wife says it the dikkens to get out of table cloths and napkins.

From the vicinity of Plymouth road, and the Arden Ave. corner, comes one Clyde Masters, who reports that business in Spring Hair Cuts is quite brisk, by which he means, or so he explains, that while the hairs of the head are cut shorter, the hairs of the upper lip and the cheeks are cut longer, and since vegetable is being called for more than quinine water.

A fellow Gardente, who some time back scoffed at this here green Faces Idea that was set forth as advance fashion in these columns, now comes in with the statement "Your lowly colymbus are not appreciated by my family as much now as they will be yet, as when I came home last night I told the wife of one fastidious blonde in our store. She verified my statement this past meridian in every detail as well as your former dialogue, sub-titled Green, green, green. The wife not only saw, but she violently averts the head! This same blonde appeared for work this ante meridian with her fingernails tinted a ghastly green. And, that's that, and how!

Which all goes to show why President Hoover has had a commission appointed to inquire into the matter of why fashion must be served before sanity, O ye of little faith, go in for Selah and Sesame! Oul and Yaahba! Heil!

Carpenters Russ Thompson and Herb Stone were discussing the ways of modern professions, and during the noon hour hardly ate their lunch over this same question. Joe Schroeder calling himself an electrician, this Rice-Tack fellow a Refrigeratorer, Art Bruggeman and his pal W. First, for the Shovelteers when it come to snow shoveling, they finally thought it out that the most ancient and honorable art of carpentering should be either a Hammerteer or Sawtriclean, the Flannette, Sawteer, Squarelist, and Levelist were among these descended we have nothing better than we know of unless it is Woodbitchcraftians, have you gentle reader?

Now that the frost is out of the ground, it is very likely that some of the powers that really are, and not those who pretended to be but are not, will decide very shortly on our building programme for the coming year, or rather the present season. It would not surprise any of us that it would be in order to phone up the excavators and the building materials salesmen. All our workers, mechanics and salesmen are on the job every day, not excluding Sunday.

Bulletin No. 15. The Rosedale Gardens church, calls attention to the fact that next Sunday, the sixteenth instant, that there will be an election of officers in our church. Also the fact that we must be on hand, not only for this very important occasion, but also at the evening worship where the old-fashioned song service will be in order at seven of the clock, after which the social hour is in order down in the banquet hall. The ladies, as per their usual custom will be on hand with some home-made cookies and cake and cocoa and coffee. So all come over.

The Woman's Association held their White Elephant Sale with Moon pictures including Wendell eye last, and many went to buy two or three for something worth more and with coffee and cake thrown in for good measure, not to say anything about the picture show, which just was o. k. and couldn't have been better all round. Only they could have had a four bit show and possibly with a some future date, and call it a blue giraffe show, where everybody has to rubber neck over a fence or something for their prizes.

P. T. A. HAVE ANOTHER BIG MEETING.

The Lady P's and the T's had a time all to themselves early last Friday evening, so can't say much about it, only that the Boy Scouts interrupted their feast, as it was Boy Scout night and they got the lady folks over to the school house where the best time of all for the lady folks was had.

The election of officers was the order of the evening—we should say the election of officers (singular), as only one was elected, the others having done their work so well that they were unanimously selected and duly elected. Miss Doris Smith was nominated to succeed herself, but at first she declined, then protested, then re-nounced and then absolutely refused and they almost got angry and said she just wouldn't and that was that. So after all this fuss we had some more fuss and with the result that another of our good looking teachers got the job for the ensuing year. The net result was that the following will be our P. T. A. officers for the ensuing year with all eyes voting and the contrary says none. Then there came the question of meeting nights. We have tried out Fried-dees, but the far greater majority wanted Whens-dees so the Whens-dees finally won out; so from and after April two, which is Wednesday on the calendar, we will have these here P. T. A.'s on the first Wednesday evening of each month of each and every school month.

President—Mrs. A. Cromer Burton.
Vice-President—Mr. Burt Porteous.
Secretary—Miss Margaret Rowe.
Treasurer—Mr. Roy Snell.

We probably made some error in the first paragraph above, but it was made intentionally, and everyone who reads this and can find the error of our ways therein and therein, we will invite to the flower show and escort them there to, provided on two essential things, and they are that the discoverer provide the transportation and also our ticket to the show, as we are anxious to see some of the ten foot $15 roses.

Our president, Mrs. Burton, not (hoover), introduced the speaker of the house, (school), one Dr. William D. Henderson, A. B., A. M., Ph. D., professor of the extension bureau, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, U. S. A., who greeted us with one of those soothing smiles, and stated that he had several lectures up his sleeve or some where and that he would take for his subject of the evening, "What is it for?" And then with words to the effect that he would give some very pointed statements, and that we would agree on some, but not others, which at the end we did and didn't as the particular spirit moved us. Well, to make a short story long, we listened with tears, smiles, laughs and gasps and eyes wide open for nearly two hours on this P. T. A. business. As the lady folks had had a set out earlier, Prof. Henderson was not limited to any length of time, though he did hint several times that he wished he had the inevitable fried cake and cafe on laid, but no one being hungry he had to do without, which, Dr. Willie says, was the first time in years and years of teaching and preaching at P. T. A.'s that he mentioned the humble doughball and its liquid chaser.

Fellow reporters can tell you of the time when we went to Gettysburg to hear Abe Lincoln's speech there, and all us reporters were so thrilled at the words of Lincoln that we forgot how to move our pencils in shorthand notes and take down what he said. Well, it was the same Fried-dee eve. We just couldn't keep our eyes off Ph. D. Henderson, so can only give you the essential points of his talk, leaving all jokes aside, of what A. B. Henderson said, so the following is about it, and if you don't agree on it, it will be just as it was set forth in the meeting, and the purpose of same is to start discussion if it is or if it isn't, and if so—why and how? So here goes:

"The changes we have to contend with today over yesterday are: Political, industrial, economic life and religion." "Thirty years ago 70 per cent of the people were rural, and 30 per cent city folks. Today it is reversed, 70 per cent of folks are in big cities and the balance in country districts and farms." Now the growth education has become a complex thing.

Before saying what a P. T. A. is, I will say what it is not. . . . It is NOT a mothers' club but IS a mothers', fathers', and teachers' club. . . . It is NOT a business organization, and the rules are unnecessarily cumbersome, and will look up the state officers and see what can be done about it. It is NOT a means of furnishing entertainment, but is for serious business of the ways and means of teaching the children. . . . The first two years set the child's future life, he is born without habits and acquires most all his habits before the age of eighteen. . . . The P. T. A. is for a great many things. First, for the parents to learn what is going on in school, the how's and why's. Every parent should visit the teacher occasionally. . . . As you have nine meetings a year, suggest that three each be allotted to teachers, parents and miscellaneous things (fried cakes).

Every member should act as sort of an intermediary or liaison officer between the school and the public, as no one can say unless they would not know as to what is going on in the school. . . . Should know what the cost of our school is, the tax rate, etc. . . . A child-should first learn respect for authority in the home and then will have as great respect for his teacher. . . . Mr. Henderson kept us smiling and crying in between these highlights and when he said good night we hardly believed our eyes as the old clock said 11:11 p. m. E. S. time, so after Mrs. William Hodson, Jr., and Mr. Clarence Hoffman were named on a committee to "do something" and whatever it is it to be given fitting and full and proper publicity in these columns and otherwise noted abroad, we said good night to each other and to Prof. Henderson and went our ways to try and be better dogs and girls.

Here Comes The Wind

Some places are more vulnerable than others . . . . . Some spots are visited by tornadoes and cyclones while others are not . . . . . but no place is immune from destruction by wind, evidenced by the fact that windstorm insurance is being demanded in many cases, with the customary fire insurance, when a mortgage is given.

The low cost justifies your carrying it no matter where you live.

THIS DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION GIVES QUICKER BETTER RELIEF.

Don't suffer the pain and discomfort of sore throat. Use a doctor's prescription called Thoxine guaranteed to relieve with the very first swallow. Gargles and salves are too slow and if they do relieve, it is usually only temporary.

Thoxine has a double action—it relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause. It contains no harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant for the whole family. There is nothing better to stop aching and inflamed throats. Thoxine put out ready for use in 5c, 6c, and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. Sold by Dodge Drug Company and all other good drug stores.

AUSPICES NATIONAL FEDERATION OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE FEDERATION SLOGAN: BETTER BUSINESS WOMEN FOR A BETTER BUSINESS WORLD

Message From Our Local President

(By Alice M. Safford)

The development of the local organization of Business and Professional Women into a well established club affiliated with the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs has been a joyous adventure in friendship extending over a period of the past eighteen months.

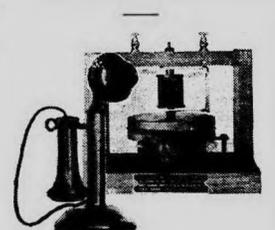

Organized with a membership of seventeen, the membership committee, with Miss Rose Hawthorne as chairman, has approximately doubled this number and today thirty-three active and interested members respond to the roll call.

In the very near future, an accurate survey of Plymouth will be made to find out just how many women in Plymouth are engaged in gainful occupations and what these occupations are. This information will be forwarded to the National Secretary of the National Federation to contribute to the National survey now being made. Previous estimates have put the number of employed women in the United States at eight and a half million and the present national survey will either confirm or correct these figures.

The Plymouth club organized with little previous experience in club work—and no capital—has through its efficient and devoted committees and members, laid the foundation for a harmonious and successful branch of the National association, and is already beginning to realize some of the advantages of membership in such a group, whose aim and motive is to promote the interests of business and professional women and bring them into relations of mutual helpfulness.

The Plymouth Club is fortunate in numbering among its members many accomplished young women who have given freely of their talents for the pleasure of the members at their meetings. It has also been noticeable that much hitherto unsuspected talent is being discovered and developed, which will be available in the future as changes in officers and committees are made necessary. The results of the organization most gratifying to club members are the opportunities for closer acquaintance, enlarged friendships, the development of loyalty and affection for the club and for each other and the privilege of preparing themselves to be of service to young women just starting out on a business or professional career, who are in need of financial aid or friendly encouragement and companionship.

The Largest Employer of Women

The New and Old Telephones

A communication service that is vast in its scope, and so personal in its performance, requires the largest organization of women ever assembled together for one great purpose. Along with the daily service rendered to the public comes a great satisfaction in having developed many of its employees to a point where they become successful business women in their field of endeavor or in some other vocation that is the outcome of their training in the telephone business. Each year brings forth demands for an improved service and each year the requirements are met by its women employees.

Gradually through the preceding years the service has developed from a rather poor conversation over one wire a few hundred feet long to an interchange of conversation totaling several million daily and almost worldwide in their scope. Should your friends or business associates be in Canada, England, Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, France, Italy, or on the Levantine, the present day telephone will put you in almost instant touch with them. Business women have had a big part in this progress and have done it well. Their success compares very favorably with the progress that has been made in developing the present day telephone to its high state of efficiency.

To accomplish this objective it is necessary that the business women in the telephone business constantly achieve greater success for themselves and train others to a higher standard of public service.

Governor Green's Proclamation

It is with pleasure that I call the attention of the people of the Commonwealth of Michigan to the celebration of Business Women's Week from March 10th to March 16th, Nineteen-hundred and thirty.

The business woman is a Twentieth Century product and is the natural result of an evolutionary movement which had for its purpose the improving of conditions in this nation, spiritually, socially and economically.

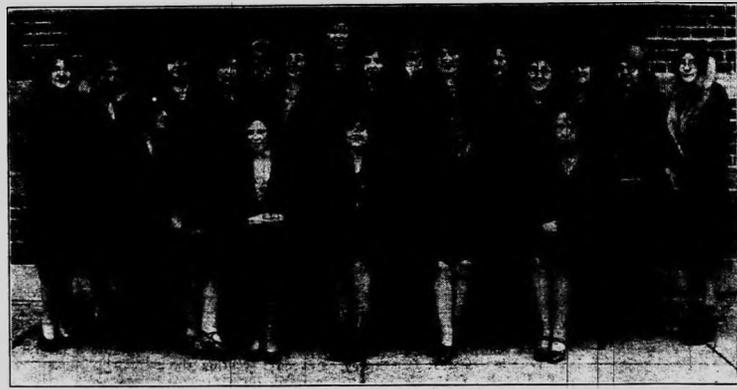

For half a century the women of America have stood upon the threshold of their narrow confines, willing and anxious to go into the world and take their places by the side of their brothers in the battle for human advancement.

With the granting of the franchise and the opportunity afforded the women of the nation in the solution of many problems which confront a people, they have assumed an added responsibility, and I think I can truthfully say that they have discharged their obligation in a masterly manner and with credit to the nation of which they are a part.

The Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women, Inc. is a splendid organization and their endeavor to raise the standard of business and the standard of women in business, should meet with the approval and have the encouragement of every citizen of the Peninsular State.

FRED W. GREEN.

A Pioneer In The Teaching Profession

Interesting indeed was an interview with Miss Anna Smith, who cited various staid experiences during her career as teacher in the Plymouth schools for the past fifty-five years. "When I first started teaching school," Miss Smith said, "I received a yearly salary of $280." When asked about the conditions, she said, "A school teacher was always looked up to. The school marion could make her place in the community by her title alone. She lived with the nearest neighbor to the school and was indeed an outstanding personage in all groups in the town."

"Times surely have changed. In the earlier years of my teaching, eight grades studied, and recited in one small room. Equipment in the school included little more than desks, globe, and Webster's dictionary. The teacher served in the rolls of instructor, general counselor, and janitor as well. The main subjects taught were reading, writing, arithmetic, and geography. The now popular subjects of music, athletics, and home economics were later introduced into the regular curriculum by women."

"And now," continues Miss Smith, "look at the present teacher. The salary she receives, the school she works in, the equipment she works with—all have changed. The days of the necessarily strict and prim school marion is past. She has more freedom, and is looked upon as a human being on equal terms with other women interested in their professions."

In reminiscing, Miss Smith mentioned some of her fellow-teachers in past years. Miss Lina Durfee, Alice Safford, Rose Hawthorne, Mrs. William Pettigall, Hattie Baker and Delia Entrican. And the old school which held such a prominent position is now occupied by the Plymouth Artificial Ice Co., located on Ann Arbor street.

JUDGE PHOEBE PATTERSON, for eleven years Justice of the Peace in Plymouth, is chairman of the committee in charge of the Public Relations Dinner held in the Mayflower Hotel, March 13th, by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Another trouble with the Plymouth young man who is waiting for opportunity to knock at his door is that he expects her to do it with a sledge hammer.

Thelma Smith, Winner of Poster Contest

A glance into the window of Paul Hayward's Men's Shop or Schrader Bros. furniture store will be ample proof of the splendid success of the poster contest sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club. The judges, Mrs. Maude Cooper, Mrs. Paul Hayward and Rev. Oscar Storz, found it very difficult indeed to make their decisions due to the exceptional work displayed by the students of Miss Cooper's High school art class. The winners, Thelma Smith, first; Louise Doherty, second; and Mary McKinnon, third, together with the other contestants are to be congratulated on the originality and workmanship shown in their posters.

RUTH HUSTON WHIPPLE, author of "Behaving in High Schools" which was published during the past year, is not only Public Speaking Instructor in Northwestern High School in Detroit, but is also Vice-President and Chairman of the Program Committee of our Business and Professional Women's Club.

EXIT FOREVER—THE STRICTLY FEMINE JOB.

Are there women's jobs and men's jobs nowadays, or just jobs?

Look at these examples, for instance, taken from the files of our Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club, which tend to show not only that women can do men's jobs, but that in many fields they can make just as conspicuous successes as men! Irena E. Eckles holds a very responsible position as General Manager of the Eckles Coal and Supply Company. Rose Hawthorne has held the position of Assistant to the Postmaster of Plymouth for the past twelve years. Lucile L. Colquitt, a partner in Brooks & Colquitt, Attorneys.

Alice M. Safford, President of our club, is a Real Estate and Insurance dealer. Eleven years ago, when Judge Phoebe Patterson became Justice of the Peace of Plymouth, she was the first woman Justice of the Peace in Michigan.

Mrs. Miriam Beals is carrying on the Insurance and Magazine Agency started by her husband many years ago. Marie Johnson not only owns and operates the Teela Shop but is also Manager of the Merchants Service Bureau.

Mrs. Frances Sullivan is forelady of the Ford Motor Phoenix Plant.

THE EMBLEM

A Business and Professional Women's wall plaque is soon to be hung in the lobby of the Mayflower Hotel. The ship of commerce to denote the business woman, and the caduceus to denote the professional woman, the torch to light the way of the women of the future and the Winged Victory of Samothrace, symbol of triumphant womanhood—these are the outstanding figures in the emblem of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"Improvement in the business world will not be brought about by feminine ideals nor by masculine ideals alone. Rather it will be a compound of both sexes that will bring about the millennium for which we yearn. Too many people expect women alone to purify business, when as a matter of fact, they are there to earn a living just as are men. I expect them to contribute a high degree of idealism to business, but I do not expect them to bear the burden alone. The responsibility belongs to John Smith just as much as it does to Jennie Jones." Marion McClench, President National Business and Professional Women's Club.

Plymouth Business Women In The Late Eighties

Mrs. C. O. Dickerson, who now conducts a millinery shop on Harvey street, learned her trade from Mrs. A. M. Potter in 1885 and started her own business in 1891. Nell McLaren and Fannie Bailey had a millinery and dressmaking shop where Strohauser's store now is. Later Nell McLaren moved over in the Corner Inn street, where she sold out to Bertha Bartholomew and Elizabeth Giles. Elizabeth Giles sold out to Miss Thompson in 1916. Minnie Heide, now Mrs. Albert Gayde, had a dressmaking shop on Liberty street in about 1900 and had about six girls in her employ most of the time. Anna Hardenburg, now Mrs. William Minehart and Mary Starkweather, now Mrs. Mary Hillmer, had a millinery shop in the Starkweather store on Liberty street in the years 1886 and 1887.

Mary Conner was bookkeeper in her father's store after she graduated from school in 1886. She was active in the business until 1915. Mrs. Hattie Baker, the mother of Mrs. Norma Cassidy, one of our club members, was in the millinery business from 1888 to 1892. For awhile she had her place of business over one of the stores, then moved into a building now occupied by the site of the Voorhies block. Miss Cora Pelham was Mrs. Baker's trimmer.

WHAT IS NATIONAL FEDERATION?

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs of the United States, under whose auspices National Business Women's Week will be celebrated March 10 to 16, numbers 56,000 members, located in 47 states and the Hawaiian Islands. It has approximately 1,100 clubs and 47 state Federations, and expends an annual budget of $120,000. At its recent National convention in Mackinac Island, Michigan, the sum of $25,000 was raised from the floor in approximately 40 minutes as the nucleus of a building fund to establish permanent headquarters in Washington, the National Capital.

A business reciprocity program whereby business women, members of the Federation, pledge themselves systematically to promote other business women was launched at the same convention.

The Federation operates The Independent Woman, only magazine in the world published exclusively in the interests of business and professional women. This appears monthly and carries stimulating articles from leading writers dealing with various phases of business women's problems.

The organization is non-partisan and non-sectarian. It is made up almost entirely of self-supporting women and numbers on its roster Mrs. Hoover, wife of the President of the United States; Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the ex-president of the United States; seven of the eight women who are now members of the Congress of the United States; Judge Florence Allen, our woman Supreme Court Justice in the world; and Nellie Taylor Ross, first woman governor in the United States.

"I believe every woman should have special training for her job. I believe in systematic savings, dependable investments, and insurance in all forms during the period when women are earning so that they may put by enough to protect themselves in their latter years. I believe in the joy of the job. We Americans are far too serious-minded. We do not get pleasure enough out of our work. Joyous self-expression, I believe, will help women immeasurably to develop the kind of leadership which is much needed in the settlement of the complex problems facing America today."—Emily Kneubuhl, Secretary National Business and Professional Women's Club.

That's Something

Little Mary was sent to a strange school, so was somewhat bewildered and inattentive. Her first test came suddenly and by surprise. Little Mary's grade was just one below passing. She came home and told about it, explaining that only four in the class had passed. "But," said her father, "why were you not one of the four who passed?" Little Mary was distressed for a moment, then said triumphantly: "But, Daddy, I was the best failure."

Long-Legged Look to Be Essential

Lengthening of Line Will Be Prominent in Spring, Summer Outfits

It is now the Paris beginning of the summer season. The clothes worn in the mannequin parades of the next few weeks are those destined, for the most part, for you to wear weeks from now, excluding, of course, the few models designed for the South.

There are no indications of any radical changing of the silhouette, other than an emphasis on curving lines, writes a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York World. Angularity of silhouette is definitely a thing of the past. When we are all grandmothers and can look back over the pictures of Twentieth-century fashions, we'll probably find that in 1930 the fashionable figure looked quite like a human being.

The most important exaggeration will be a lengthening of the line from waist to ankle. That long-legged look will be an essential of every spring and summer outfit, from the tennis dress which just covers the knees to the dance frock that trails the floor. It is responsible for the maintenance of the normal waistline in some form on every single costume.

Skirt lengths themselves will probably not be much different than those you're by now accustomed to. A chart of the average wardrobe designed by any of the better Paris couturiers show a hemline that begins, in morning clothes, from three to four inches below the knee and slants on down to floor length for formal evening clothes. Your skirt by luncheon will have lengthened two inches; for tea, two or three more; at dinner it will just clear your ankles.

Unless something very unusual appears in these openings, even hems will probably continue to be preferred. This is no dead set rule, however. There are certain women who always have slightly more grace in a dress that is not too severely horizontal. A skirt that droops ever so little at the sides or the back may often be smarter than one which is strict in its evenness. For evening clothes there are prophesies of less and less petal effects (though these are not to be completely discarded) and more of the type of skirt which hangs straight from the waist and gets its fullness by means of draping.

An interesting Parisian afternoon dress is of maroon-colored georgette crepe. Tan velvet flowers are applied on the material. The frock is effectively draped at the neck and the hemline.

Draped lines and devices which get the effect of drapery are noticeable in models shown in the majority of houses and hence are on the list of fashion points slated for spring and summer importance. Blouses in particular, are expected to show a defined influence of draping in preference to cutting. There is an example in the blouse or the dress which has a normal waistline, but which achieves the effect of a drooping back by the way its back is draped, so that there is a U-shaped line in its folds. The entire backs of certain blouses are draped in this manner, giving a U-shaped neckline at the top and a boiere-bouise effect that hangs over the belt at the back.

Lopsided Frocks Brought Out by Paris Designers

Paris is going more and more lopsided. Not only skirts, but now collars have a slant on. Vionnet started it by making coat collars that were ruffled high about the neck and extended farther down one side of the front than the other. Now dresses and blouses have taken up the idea, if only to the extent of allowing a loose end of collar to hang down in a tab after the collar has fulfilled its normal function.

Today's Reflections

Who ever thought he'd live to see the day when a Plymouth girl considered a powdered nose as important as putting a stamp on a letter?

The man who said the lesser could never contain the greater never sold a woman a pair of shoes.

After David killed Goliath that time we suppose somebody asked him to endorse some kind of shaving cream or cigarettes.

The average Plymouth woman's idea of a mean husband is one who never raves over the new dress until he has to pay for it.

Maybe alimony was invented so that a married woman could make something out of her husband.

Cleanliness may be next to godliness, but with three or four kids around the house it is also next to impossible.

This is the "die" age. We're debunking our national heroes, detouring our automobiles and denaturing our alcohol.

Now and then you meet a man on the streets of Plymouth who acts as though he might have had a happier married life if he had been a wild animal trainer.

If styles go back to those of the gay 'nineties Plymouth girls are going to find undressing for bed far more complicated than it is now.

Ink's High Importance

Some one has said that the art writing "consists in putting black marks on white paper." The histo of this modest essential both of writing and printing, has recently been traced back 3,000 years. The Egyptians are credited with using ink early as 1200 B. C. Later, the Greeks imported both papyrus and ink for their neighbors on the banks of the Nile. It is difficult to imagine the learning could have progressed or the records of the past have been handed down without ink. It has been faithful soldier in the procession which we call civilization.—Exchange.

Rice Long Recognized
Staple American Crop
Rice, according to a legend, was introduced into South Carolina accidentally in 1693, when a vessel bound for Liverpool from Madagascar was driven from her course by a storm and compelled to put into Charleston harbor for repairs. The captain, says the legend, presented Landgrave Smith and the settlers with a small bag of rice for seed, and from this seed sprang the entire American rice industry. Although this story has been retold by many of our best historians, there is ample evidence that it is a myth, says a writer in the Pathfinder Magazine. Two years before the incident is supposed to have occurred—1691—the rice industry had become so important in South Carolina that the provincial assembly granted a patent to Peter Jacob Guerdard, who had "lately invented and brought to perfection, a Pendulum engine, which doth much better, and in less time and labour muske rice, than any other heretofore had been used within the Province." As a matter of fact a considerable quantity of rice was being raised in South Carolina within a few years after the first settlements were made. The promoters of the colony in England had not overlooked the possibilities of rice culture in the new territory and stated in their prospectus that "the meadows are very proper for rice." Sir William Berkeley had made an unsuccessful attempt to raise rice in Virginia as early as 1647. 1p

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

Despite repeated published announcements since last November that registrations were being received during the business hours of every day at the village offices, many of our citizens found themselves unregistered and therefore unable to vote at the regular election last Monday. Of course nothing can be done now to remedy that deficiency. However, registrations will be received at the village offices at any time during business hours, and anyone otherwise qualified to vote, but who hasn't registered should take care of this civic duty in anticipation of the next regular election.

A COMMUNICATION.

Mr. Editor—
I have been wondering how many of the one hundred and forty or fifty people who attended the caucus at High School auditorium, noticed what I did. I noticed a dirty, smoky, wrinkled old drop curtain that is a disgrace to our school district and our town. It was all right years ago, but its day has long gone by. Now I don't believe there is a graduate or student or a citizen who is not public minded enough to put his hand in his pocket and hand out a dollar or more to buy a decent new drop for our High School auditorium.
What do you say, citizens?
Yours truly,
ONE OF THEM.

How to Plant the Home Orchard

Permanent Trees
Semi-permanent Trees.
Temporary Trees

1. When first Planted
2. Temporary fillers Removed
3. Permanent Trees Only

Fruit Trees Should Be Properly Spaced
The diagram will prove helpful in securing the maximum returns from your orchard property.

The modern orchard is usually planted in a mixture of two or more varieties of fruits. There are good reasons for this. Some of the most desirable fruit trees do not come to bear for several years but eventually make large trees and are very long lived. Others are not long lived nor of large growing habit, but bear very young. Therefore, the more important trees are classified as "permanent," "semi-permanent," and "temporary." The general mode of planting is this: Permanent trees are spotted forty to fifty feet apart in squares. Also spotted in these squares, fifty feet apart, are the semi-permanent trees, or if none of these last are used, then temporary trees may be substituted. Finally, at a point midway between the permanent trees, temporary trees are planted.
These last come to bear very early and the orchard, thereby, begins to make immediate returns to the owner. Later, when the semi-permanent trees are bearing and need more room the temporary trees are cut down. Still later, when the permanent trees are fully developed and bearing, the semi-permanent trees are cut out and the orchard continues to bear at full capacity with no time lost. The time elapsing between the planting time and cutting out of the semi-permanent trees is usually 15 to 20 years. The land is much enhanced in value when the final trees are bearing. Altogether this is a very satisfactory arrangement.
Sharp tools are important, for those that chew and tear instead of cutting cause more grief than no pruning at all. In cutting back branches be careful to cut close to a bud. Avoid leaving stumps even half an inch long. Careful pruning is decidedly important if you hope to have well-formed trees.
And unless you are shaping a shrub to fit into a deliberately formal effect, never cut back shrubbery with a straight edge as though it were a hedge, but study each shrub and try to help it realize its natural habit of growth.
The prevailing practice of cutting the ends of all stems has the effect of destroying the natural habit of growth and producing stiff, leggy plants having all their green at the top and bare, ugly limbs beneath.
Consider your apples and pears and spray them at the right time. First when the cluster buds show pink and are separate; later when three-fourths of petals have fallen and calyx end of the apple closes.

Why Are Prices Low At A&P Stores?

Because in one year American women make 1,500,000,000 visits to A&P Food Stores! Naturally these many visits enable A&P to achieve proportionately vast economies which are passed on to A&P customers in form of Lower Prices.

NEWBURG

Rev. Purdy took his text Sunday from Luke 10-33. The church was not well filled Sunday, due to the fact, we suspect, that there is much sickness around. We are glad to learn that little Rosemary Gutherie is recovering nicely from an attack of pneumonia. Miss Margaret Purdy of Albion College, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Purdy. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kreeger, on Saturday, March 8th, an 8 1/2 pound son. Mrs. Hattie Ostrander is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mark Joy, for a couple of weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ryder and son, Charles, attended Dr. Savage's church in Pontiac last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Gadey of Denton, and Mr. and Mrs. Tishler of Detroit, were dinner guests of Grandma Zielasko, last Sunday. James McNabb is spending several days this week at East Lansing. Word from California, states that Mr. and Mrs. Horton are enjoying their visit there. Friends of Mrs. James Joy will be glad to learn that she is improving nicely and is now in the convalescent hospital.

FRAIN'S LAKE

Mrs. Gust Eschels. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Staebler of Ypsilanti, were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Albert Staebler home. Mr. and Mrs. Gust Eschels attended a curl party in Detroit Saturday evening. A large crowd attended the dance at Dixboro hall Friday evening, given by the P. T. A. of Frain's Lake school. Mrs. Harold Nelson and son, Robert, are spending the week in Detroit with relatives. Mrs. Herman Nankee, Mrs. Gust Eschels and Miss Thelma Fisher were Detroit visitors Wednesday. George P. T. A. will meet Friday evening at the school for election of officers. Florence Hayes entertained the teachers of Mr. Lord's group at a luncheon party at her home Saturday evening. High scores were won by Mr. Lord and Miss Wiseman and low scores by Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Rawsonville. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her mother. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Springborn and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Detroit were Thursday afternoon visitors at the Gust Eschel home. Mrs. Mable Fishbeck attended the meeting of the South Superior Home Makers' Club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William Connor. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mavis of Scottville are spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nankee. Will Lyke and son, George Lyke and family, are moving this week to a farm near Manchester, which they have purchased. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nankee and daughter, Ceil, and Clarence Sherwood, spent Saturday evening in Detroit with Mr. Sherwood's sister, Mrs. Thorne. A farewell party was given Monday evening for Will Lyke and his son, George and family. The evening was spent in playing cards.

SALEM

Mrs. E. Geanghy and Mrs. Lizzie Tait were Friday guests of Mrs. Don Packard, to the Ladies' Club of Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lyke and family were Sunday dinner guests at the W. J. Lyke home. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Smith and family of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sage of Plymouth, were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brokaw. C. W. Mowrer, wife and daughter, and E. Mowrer, wife and granddaughter, of Ypsilanti, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanbro. Mrs. Harry Atchinson underwent a very serious operation Friday at Dr. Atchinson's hospital, Northville. We are glad to report that she is recovering nicely. Mrs. Henry Whitaker spent the week at Howell, visiting her son and wife, and her daughter, Mrs. Claud Sellars and family. Miss Ethel Doane was a week-end guest of her father and Henry Whitaker was a Sunday dinner guest. Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown and daughters, of Ypsilanti, were Sunday callers at the Charles Stanbro home. Mrs. Amelia Perkins is spending several days with her grandson, Warren Perkins and family, in Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Foster Smith and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Renwick and family were Sunday afternoon callers at the G. Foreman home. Mr. and Mrs. E. Herrick and son, of Plymouth, were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. John Herrick. Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Roberts and daughter and Miss Frances Anderson, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Myrtle Murray in Plymouth. Donald Herrick of Ypsilanti, spent the week-end with his parents. The Misses Dorothy and Ruth Foreman, with friends from Detroit, were Sunday dinner guests of their parents. Their mother and son, Hugh, accompanied them and they were afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. James Dickle, of South Lyon. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCullough of Plymouth, were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Herrick. Mrs. E. Youngs, who fell and broke her hip some time ago, is still confined to her bed, but is improving slowly.

Sharp

Psychologists claim the late Marshal Foch as one of their own because he did not take his problems to bed with him. He dismissed them from his mind and devoted bedtime hours to sleeping. In the mornings, refreshed, he had the solutions, which apparently had worked themselves out in his sleep. Foch, however, put a different construction on the apparent miracle. He said: "It seems to me that the mirror before which I shave myself gives me the answer."

Dad Plymouth declares that his idea of a cultured wife is one who never thinks of throwing a cup at her husband without first removing the spoon.

Wonder what ever became of the old-fashioned silver dollar a fellow used to occasionally get in change?

Dad Plymouth suggests that Henry Ford add to his museum a glass case displaying the home-made remedies for stone bruise.

ON REARING CHILDREN FROM CRIB TO COLLEGE

Compiled by the Editors of THE PARENTS' MAGAZINE

You want your children to see interesting, wholesome motion pictures. You find that perhaps 95 out of every 100 pictures are stupid or dull or perverted or, at best, designed for adult appreciation. The other five are so delightful that you realize the possibilities of the "movies" as an artistic and educational influence. In spite of the defects at the U.S., your children persist in seeing them. You wonder what you can do about it. For one thing turn a deaf ear to the propagandist who advises you to help Hollywood make "bigger and better pictures." That won't work! Educate a new public to prefer better films. It will take time and money, but will be worth the while.

There should be classes for parents in every public school, every private school and every college and university in the country. Already many institutions of learning have seen the light of the new day that is dawning, and in such places classes in parental education and child training have been started.

Though linen sheets are not in everyday use in any but wealthy homes a fine sheet which approaches it in texture is the percale sheet which is coming more and more into general favor because it retains its freshness longer than a real linen sheet and at the same time has a softness and luxurious texture which is very desirable.

It is not an overstatement to say that care of the teeth should begin before the birth of the child, for the first set of teeth is already formed in the gums at birth, and upon the quality and quantity of the mother's nutrition depends her baby's dental start in life. A good start must be followed by eternal watchfulness. Teach the child to brush his teeth invariably after eating, brushing with a rotary motion of a stiff-bristle brush, as this method aids in preventing the gums from receding. Give the child plenty of rough food to make him exercise his teeth.

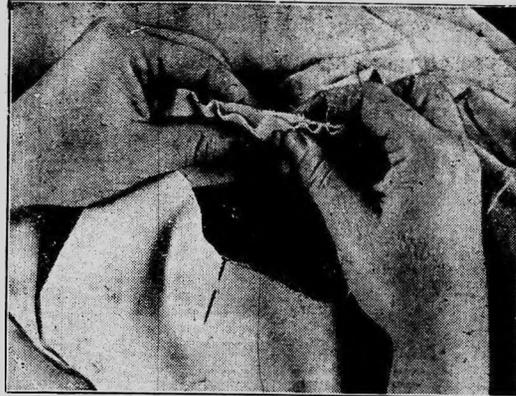

Overfeeding the baby is almost impossible. The baby has a perfectly responsible mechanism by which he can get rid of any surplus, even if you should be successful in getting him to take it—which you practically never can do. Too frequent feeding—yet that is far too common; and it is practically always bad. But too much at one time—that never happens if feedings are three or four hours apart. The old belief in the possibility of overfeeding a baby is dwindling away to nothing. It is underfeeding, not overfeeding, that we have to fear.

Vitamins C always bears watching, for it is a fragile substance. It is sensitive to heat, hence to cooking processes. Exposure to air destroys it, as do long periods of storage and contact with baking soda. What foods contain this health-promoting substance? Oranges and all citrus fruits are gold mines of it as are tomatoes, raw, cooked and canned; raw cabbage and raw turnips. Uncooked bananas have a good supply, as do raw carrots, lettuce and spinach.

Good Manners

I take it that the essence of good manners is the gift of putting people at their ease, not the chosen few people whom one likes, but all people. Yes, ease is the word that describes good manners. The great lady is at her ease with the gardener, the housemaid, the ragamuffin, the outcast, and she makes them all feel comfortable in her presence. And bad manners is the faculty of making every one uncomfortable, whether by being abruptly rude, or overwhelmingly gushing, too cordial or too lacking in cordiality, too contemptuous or too flattering. Too much of anything is bad manners. It destroys ease and makes people edgy. A manner that makes other people nervous is a bad manner, whether it be frankly unpleasant or too pleasant by far.—Mary Borden in Harper's Magazine.

SET-IN SLEEVE BASTED INTO ARMSCYE

How to Hold a Garment When Basting in a Sleeve.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

The fit of the sleeve depends first of all on having the correct armhole line, which should lie parallel to the center front and center back and pass over the tip or highest point of the shoulder in a good curve, and fit the underarm as closely as is comfortable. The fit of the sleeve is also determined by the accuracy with which the sleeves were cut from the pattern, by the method used in attaching them to the armhole, and by the cut and style of the sleeve used. When properly placed, a set-in sleeve should have no fullness in the lower half of the armhole, except in the case of very fleshy arms, when some extra room is needed. There is seldom any gathering over the upper half, although the sleeve edge should always measure an inch or more longer than the edge of the armhole. This is eased in when the sleeve is set in and prevents an uncomfortable and unattractive strain across the arm.

The illustration, made by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, shows how a set-in sleeve is basted into the armhole. Locate the highest and lowest points on the armhole line of the sleeve. These are the only points on the sleeve edge where it is not bias, if the sleeve has been cut correctly. Then locate the quarter points of the armhole. To do this, fold from the high point of the shoulder to the opposite or lowest point of the armhole, and mark these points with pins. Place the highest and the lowest points together and thus locate the quarter points. The upper and lower halves will also be established. To determine which is the right or left sleeve, fold it through the center lengthwise with the sleeve seam edges together. In the shirt or middie-blouse type, the armhole edges coincide and either sleeve may be armhole, provided there is no right and left finish at the bottom. If one side of the sleeve is only slightly higher than the other and the top curve of the front and the back lie in the same general direction, the high side is the back. The underarm and sleeve seam will also be continuous in this type of sleeve.

Place each sleeve in its correct armhole, having the right or wrong side of the garment out, depending on which side the first seam will be stitched. For a felled or french seam, the first stitching is made on the right side of the garment and the sleeve is wrong side out as it is drawn up into the armhole. When the seams are to be stitched on the wrong side of the garment first, the sleeve is right side out when placed into the armhole. Pin the highest and lowest points of sleeve and armhole together, and pin the sleeve to the quarter points of the armhole so that there is only slight fullness in the lower half of the sleeve. This will leave most of the fullness in the top half.

Hold the sleeve side of the seam toward the worker when connecting these points and when basting the sleeve in position. Hold the edges in place with the left hand. Ease in the extra length of the sleeve edge. Its ruffled appearance does not indicate that there are gathers over the top of the sleeve. Be careful not to stretch the rounded top of the sleeve edge at any time. With some material, especially wool, it is necessary to place two rows of fine gathering over the top of the sleeve and adjust the size to the armhole. Before the sleeve is stitched, shrink these gathers out by steaming over a pressing cushion with a damp cloth.

LENTEEN NOTICE

Willy-nilly, being a child of Adam and Eve, and therefore a sinner in need of the Grace of God, every human being must at some time or other before the door of death close the opportunity of salvation for him, answer for himself the question of Pilate: "What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ?" There is no loophole here for evasion: the answer will be either Simon Peter's: "Lord, to whom shall we go; thou hast the words of eternal life. And we believe and are sure, that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God,"—or that of the Jew's: "Let Him be crucified."

Lent affords you an excellent opportunity to hear the Message of Pardon, to behold the Savior in His Glory: His sufferings and Death!—and to prepare your heart to answer the question favorably. The theme-sermon for our Lenten meditations which are to be held every Thursday evening during Lent, beginning at 7:30, is to be found in Philipians 2, 5-11.

The sermons are as follows:
March 20th—Our Savior Betrayed—Matthew 26, 47-56.
March 27th—Our Savior Denied—Luke 22, 54-62.

April 3rd—Our Savior Accused and Condemned to Death—Luke 22, 66-23, 25.

April 10th—Our Savior Bewept by the Women of Jerusalem—Luke 23, 27-31.
April 17th—Our Savior Forsaken of God—Mark 15, 33-38.

April 18th—Our Savior's Death on the Cross—Luke 23, 46-49.
German Lenten Services every Sunday evening at 7:30. Good Friday, April 18th at 10:30 a. m. with Holy Communion. Holy Communion in the English on Easter Morn.

Christian Science Notes

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, March 9.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?" (Rom. 8:35).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Even though you aver that the material senses are indispensable to man's existence or entity, you must change the human concept of life, and must at length know yourself spiritually and scientifically." (p. 350).
The Lesson-Sermon for next Sunday, March 16 will be "Substance."

METHODIST NOTES

"For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angles, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord," Romans 8: 38, 39.
Sunday, March 16, morning worship at 10 o'clock. You are invited to worship with us.
Sunday evening at 7:15, church service. Our Juniors will again be there to sing for us. Come and enjoy them with us. They are a real inspiration.

Wednesday evening our Family and Church Training Night. Cooperative supper at 6:30 o'clock. Bring some sandwiches, and some other dish; but don't forget to bring the family and enjoy this happy time with us. We are reviewing Mr. E. Stanley Jones' latest book, "The Christ of Every Road." It is very interesting and we will be dismissed by eight o'clock, so as to not keep the children up too late.

Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Hillman's Circle will meet with Mrs. Borek, 405 Starkester avenue. All members are urged to be present.
Mrs. Utter's Circle will meet at the same time with Mrs. Doerr, 447 South Harvey street, and all her members are also urged to be present. Remember the time, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Sunday evening, March 23rd, the Juniors are to have an interesting program, and the older girls a playlet, entitled, "The Way of the Cross." All interested in the children are cordially invited to come and enjoy this entertainment that they are practicing for under the leadership of Mrs. Card, Mrs. Fluelling, Mrs. Groth and Mrs. Doerr?

BAPTIST NOTES

"I am the light of the world, he that believeth in me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

Our choir is preparing a cantata "The Holy City," which will be rendered Easter Sunday evening, April 20th. On that date our evening service will consist of musical numbers composed for the Easter season.

The Social Commission will have charge of the young people's service Sunday evening.
Beginning Sunday morning the pastor will start a series of sermons dealing with the resurrection and the forty days Christ spent on earth prior to His ascension.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The thirty-first of March is the end of the church year. The annual meeting comes April second. Reports should be prepared for presentation at that time.

The Ready Service class is looking forward to a special meeting next week, Thursday, March 20th. The meeting will be at the church, at 4 p. m., the class will gather for the regular business session. This will be followed by a dinner to which the husbands and boy friends are invited, and then will come a program specially prepared for the occasion and loaded with fun. Do not miss this one.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

A GOOD BEGINNING.

Many of our people made a good beginning in Lenten church attendance last Sunday. The number present at both morning and evening services was very encouraging, and it is believed that they will continue and even increase this season progresses. Those who failed to hear Mr. Midworth missed a very worthwhile address.

Our guest speaker at 5:00 p. m., the second Sunday in Lent, will be the Rev. Charles Wesley of Detroit, formerly in charge of this parish. There should be a large congregation to welcome him on his first visit to Plymouth since the conclusion of his ministry here two years ago.
Many people are disturbed over the religious situation in Russia; not so many are seriously facing religious problems right here in America. Prayers are to be offered this Sunday for the relief of persecution in Russia. The rector's sermon on "Atheism in Practice" will offer some points of view on this subject; you may not agree, but you will probably be interested.

Parents of children in the church school are reminded of the children's services on Wednesday afternoon, and are urged to visit the services and to use the parent's prayer cards.

A fish supper will be served by the Women's Guild on Friday night, March 15th, beginning at 6:00 o'clock. Tickets are very reasonably priced, at fifty cents for adults, half-price for the children! Come!

CATHOLIC NOTES

An invitation is extended to all to attend the big St. Patrick's card party Monday night in G. L. of G. C. auditorium. Bridge, Five Hundred and Pedro will be played. The players at each table will pivot, and two beautiful prizes will be given the high and low score at each table, besides three door prizes. After the playing the "Sons of Erin" will entertain the crowd, with Irish folk songs and merriment. All are welcome. Come fill a table and enjoy the occasion. The admission is fifty cents a person.

Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the ladies. Mrs. J. MacDuff is seriously ill at her home on Michigan avenue.

Lenten devotions each Tuesday and Friday nights at 8 o'clock; all are exhorted to attend these devotions.

The parish has taken out a twenty-five dollar membership in the Chamber of Commerce.

The pastor buried his Aunt Mathilda from Mr. Clemens, to the Grotto parish Monday morning.

Send your children to the instructions on Saturday morning.

Time in on the Catholic hour each Sunday evening, 6-7, WWJ.

Attend the Lenten devotions.

Records Show Gain In State 4-H Clubs

ONLY TWO COUNTIES FAIL TO ORGANIZE CLUBS TO TRAIN RURAL CHILDREN.

Eighty-one of the 83 Michigan counties last year had one or more of the 2,406 4-H clubs in which 24,174 boys and girls received training in habits of success, according to the records of the state leader of boys and girls clubs.

The 1929 enrollment figures showed a gain in club membership as compared with previous years. The 1928 figures were 1909 clubs with a membership of 19,022.

Michigan boys and girls may choose from 16 subjects when they organize a club. The list includes crops, livestock, canning, home management, handicraft, poultry, forestry, and many others.

Forestry clubs are growing the most rapidly and this is one of the latest lines of work offered to the youngsters. Fourteen of these clubs with a membership of 213 were organized in the State last year. This year, many more counties are asking for this project and the leaders expect to have 40 forestry clubs.

Each of the forestry club members agrees to plant 1,000 seedling trees. The most popular species for Michigan are white pine and spruce inter-planted so the spruce can be harvested for Christmas trees in a few years. Upper Peninsula members will plant their seedlings in community forests instead of individual lots on their home farms.

GRANGE NOTES

The third and fourth degree was conferred on a class of eleven candidates March 6th, after which all partook of a bountiful pot-luck supper.

Next regular meeting will be held March 20th, and the lecturer informs us that our speaker of the evening will be Mr. Emous, principal of the High school. We desire all members to be present and bring along your friends for the meeting.

NEW FACE POWDER STAYS ON LONGER

A wonderful discovery is the new French process which gives MELLO-GLO Face Powder its unparalleled smoothness and makes it stay on longer. The purest powder made—its color is tested. Never gives a pasty or flaky look! Will not smart the skin or enlarge the pores. Gives a youthful bloom. Remember the name—MELLO-GLO. Community Pharmacy, "We Serve You Right."

Pennington Allen Theatre Plymouth, Michigan MOVIE PICTURE PROGRAMS

"THE GREAT DIVIDE"

A lavish expenditure for sets and players was made by First National to bring to the screen "The Great Divide," the famous stage success by William Vaughn Moody, recognized as one of America's footlight classics.

Many big studio sets, and an outstanding cast, headed by the star, Dorothy Mackall, lent their aid in screening this dramatic romance, which has been booked by the Pennington Allen theatre to be shown Friday and Saturday, March 14 and 15.

One of the most picturesque sets ever seen on the First National lot was that of the Mexican village, in which a gigantic festa with hundreds of persons was filmed. The village covered three acres, and has a broad plaza, streets, houses and saloons.

Another large set was the Indian reservation and mining settlement. A whole stage was taken up by the mountain setting, which included a pine forest surrounding a log cabin. The company went on location to Zion Canyon in Utah for exterior shots.

Ian Keith appears opposite Miss Mackall. Myra Loy portrays a half-breed Mexican girl, one of the unusual exotic characterizations that have captivated her into prominence in her past few pictures. Lucien Littlefield and Claude Gillingwater have character roles, while others of importance are Roy Stewart, Ben Hendricks, Creighton Hale, George Fawcett, Jean Laverty, James Ford, Frank Tang, Jean Lorraine and Gordon Elliot.

Over 500 atmosphere players took part in the big scenes. Reginald Barker directed.

SON OF THE GODS

Richard Barthelmess' expert horsemanship stood him in good stead during the filming of "Son of the Gods," his newest starring feature which comes to the Pennington Allen theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 16, 17 and 18.

The production opens with a thrilling polo game between two college teams. Barthelmess in the role of Sam Lee is the star of one team and is called upon to make several spectacular plays. Having received his training as a boy at Hudson Military Academy, Barthelmess is an excellent horseman.

The sporting sequences were filmed at the polo grounds of the Uplifters Ranch at Santa Monica, an exclusive California country club. Regular polo games were played between the "Uplifters" team and the Army team from the presidio at Monterey. The scenes were recorded with sound and dialogue via the Vitaphone system.

"Son of the Gods" is based on the sensational Rex Beach novel with Constance Bennett in the feminine lead heading an exceptionally large supporting cast of twenty prominent film players. Frank Lloyd directed.

LILIES OF THE FIELD

The feature attraction at the Pennington Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, March 19 and 20 will bring Corinne Griffith to the audible screen in her first all dialogue picture, "Lilies of the Field," directed by Alexander Korda. In this latest

First National and Vitaphone production Miss Griffith is supported by an exceptionally fine cast including Ralph Forbes, John Loder, Eve Southern, May Boley, Rita LaRoy, Jean Barry, Betty Boyd, Virginia Bruce, Wilfred Noy and Tenen Holtz.

"Lilies of the Field" is a brilliant comedy-drama from the pen of William Hurlbut, author of "Bride of the Lamb," "Chivalry," "Fighting Hope," "Engaged," and other well known plays.

The story presents Miss Griffith in the role of a society woman unjustly divorced by her husband who is forced to earn her living as a show girl in a Broadway cabaret, where she mingles with a group of gold-diggers who attempt to draw her into their easy-going manners and morals. Although there are several tense dramatic situations which give the star ample opportunity for emotional acting, there are also many comedy sequences of back-stage life.

A big feature of the production is a lavish cabaret program of songs and dances, including a Ballet Mechanical of a hundred girls in futuristic costumes with a background depicting New York City in the Machine Age of 2400 A. D.

2 Glasses Water, Not Too Cold, Help Constipation

One glass water is not enough—take 2 glasses a half hour before breakfast. You get quicker and better results by adding a little simple glycerin, saline, etc. (known as Adlerika) to one glass.

Unlike other remedies, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old poisons you never thought were in your system. Adlerika stops GAS and sour stomach in 10 minutes! Relieves constipation in 2 hours. Beyer Pharmacy and Dodge Drug Company. —Ad.

CHERRY HILL

The mother and daughter banquet will be held at the church house, Friday evening. The meal will be served by the men.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. Walter Wilkie Thursday afternoon.

The meeting of the Young Peoples' class was held at the home of Miss Ruth Salts, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Losey celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at West's hall, Friday evening. A large crowd attended, including guests from Detroit, Romulus and Belleville.

The Parent-Teacher meeting was held at the school house Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hank and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hank of Sallie, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Moessner, Mrs. Bessie Baker and family, of Pontiac, called on Mrs. Jennie Hank and family Sunday afternoon.

ELM SCHOOL NOTES

We had our P. T. A. meeting Friday evening. The pupils entertained with a program. This was followed by an old-fashioned spell-down. Mrs. Fred Wilson, Sr. was the champion.

The pupils are making school history books. These are to contain the history of our school from the year 1870 until the present time.

Wednesday morning our Citizenship Club enjoyed a short talk given by Mr. George Bentley. He told us about our school at the time he attended it and later when he was its teacher.

We have an honor roll which all of us wish to have our names on. There are four virtues of good citizenship, which we must live up to in order to be honor pupils. They are diligence, helpfulness, courtesy and promptness.

We are studying for our grade spell-down which will take place on Friday of this week. Each of us is hoping to win the Webster dictionary, which is given by the Detroit News to the one who wins the spell-down in each grade.

The boys and girls are making spring booklets in which they are going to put all of the signs of spring.

We were visited Friday by our County Fourth Club leaders, Miss Eckhart and Mr. Carr. We are working hard to finish our articles before our Local Achievement Day, which comes on March twenty-fourth.

HOUGH SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Jameson visited our school March 3rd, 1930, and gave us four stars. We received our start for attendance.

We have had only four pupils tardy all the year.

We have only six pupils that should have their teeth O. K. and then the school will be on the dental honor roll.

Miss Eckhart and Mr. Carr visited our school March 6th, 1930. They talked with the club children and Miss Eckhart played some records. They are as follows:

"Amarraalls," "Flitby of the Bumble Bee," "Music Box," Harriett Tillotson is ill. The pupils brought fruit and also cloth to make doll dresses for her. We miss her very much.

We have sold pencils for the reforestation project with "Hough for reforestation" printed on them. We are also selling ready jello for the purpose of planting trees in the waste land in the northern part of Michigan.

We got a flag for selling pencils. The seventh grade enjoy their reading books of Sandy McDonald's Man-

One of the pupils brought some pictures of Mackinac Island and places he passed on his journey.

The eighth grade are studying about the World War in history. Mr. Fred Fisher, one of our neighbors, who was a Lieutenant in the war, came to our school and told us a very interesting story about the war, education, homes of our foreign neighbors.

We were indeed very much pleased with his story. He showed us pictures, also some of the articles that were used in the battle.

Marie Miskerik, Reporter.

D. A. R. Notes

The Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the D. A. R. will meet at the home of Mrs. Hattie Baker Monday afternoon, March 17, at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be an interesting program after the business meeting. Mrs. Strong will give a book review of "The Lonesome Road," by Lucy Farnham and Mrs. Casady's daughters will play.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

By Ethel Bennett

Eugene, Olive, Mae and Elton Bakewell are back in school again after a long illness.

Mrs. Schultz visited the Early Elementary room Monday.

Miss Jameson sent the third, fourth and fifth grade, a card from Washington, D. C.

Evelyn McMullen has the chicken pox.

Howard Holmes has been ill for the last week, but he is back with us now.

The Handcraft and Sewing Clubs will hold their local Achievement Day, the evening of March 24. We will entertain three other schools, Stark, George H. Fisher and Rosedale Gardens. We hope that as many parents and friends as can will come and join with us in this event.

The Parent-Teachers' meeting will be Friday evening, March 14. Miss Youngs has offered to help us give a short musical program. The orchestra will play. We hope to see many parents and friends with us Friday evening.

The list of short course graduates who recently finished their work at Michigan State College, prove that the home folks favor this practical scholastic work as only one of the 137 graduates are not residents of Michigan.

The dairy production course was the most popular this year and 32 men received diplomas in that subject. Many of the testers who work in the State dairy herd improvement associations receive their training in this course.

The course in poultry attracts both men and women. Twenty graduates obtained training in modern production methods.

Two courses in general agriculture, one of eight and the other of 16 weeks, had a combined graduation list of 48. Home Economics was not so popular, only two women receiving diplomas in that subject.

Studies of the manufacture of dairy products held the attention of 28 students, and 14 specialized in agricultural engineering. The use of power machinery on farms has given impetus to this subject.

One manufacturer says he will soon produce a fool-proof airplane. Shucks! Give us a fool-proof automobile first.

Nothing around Plymouth that we know of looks as pathetic at this time of year as the family coal bin.

College Sets Date For Garden School

AMATEUR FLOWER AND VEGETABLE GROWERS GIVEN A CHANCE TO STUDY LATEST METHODS.

A one-week course for those people who combine profit and pleasure by growing flowers and vegetables in home gardens will be given by the horticultural department, Michigan State College, March 24-29.

Anyone who does not enjoy continuous work had better save the dollar which it costs to register, as the program of the course shows that the students will begin work at 8:00 o'clock in the morning and will still be going strong in the evening.

Both rock gardens and vegetable gardens are included in the course, but the outline of the studies does not state whether or not the rocks are assembled to give the vegetable garden convenient missiles for use on trespassing poultry.

Insect control, the use of fertilizers, and proper sprays for plant diseases are other subjects which will be discussed by the instructors during the week. The care of fruit and nut trees are also listed in the study outline.

THE BUSINESS WOMAN PLANS A ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARTY

St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, was captured while tending his sheep, by a band of Irish bandits. Later he escaped and eventually made his way to a monastery where he lived for several years and studied the principles of Christianity.

While in the monastery he had a dream in which the voice of his people seemed to be calling him to come back to his native country again. So he decided to return to Ireland as a missionary. At first the Irish were ready to stone him for bringing in a new religion—but he explained his faith by means of a shamrock, picked up from the roadside at random, and he illustrated the principle of the Trinity so well by means of his simple comparison that his hearers were impressed and allowed themselves to be baptized.

And so the celebration of St. Patrick's Day has become a universal custom especially among the Irish.

The business woman, like the full-time home-maker, undoubtedly is tempted to answer the call of spring with some form of entertaining—and what better excuse could be found than St. Patrick's Day with its gala green coloring and its characteristic emblems, such as the shamrock, pipe, and harp, which can help so much in the carrying out of an unusual party. Unlike the woman who has the whole day in which to prepare her lunch, the business woman must plan to do her work in advance so that she will not have to rush home from the office and dash frantically around in order to meet her guests in a calm, untroubled manner. However, with the many recent labor-saving methods and devices which the modern business woman undoubtedly employs she can proceed to entertain in a more matter-of-fact manner than ever before.

With so many beautiful spring flowers in the market, a charming centerpiece may easily be planned which will carry out the planned color scheme for the occasion. And accordingly the favored nut cups, tallies, place cups, and the menu may very successfully carry out the St. Patrick's idea.

KILLARNEY CANAPES.

These may easily be passed to the guests before entering the dining room or served on breakfast-sized plates at the table. Appropriate canapes could be cut in the shape of shamrocks and decorated with parsley butter or green pepper. Killarney canapes are very striking indeed for a first course if your party is in the form of a luncheon or dinner.

GREEN PEPPER CUPS FILLED WITH CHICKEN AND MUSHROOMS.

Peppers could be prepared in the morning and left standing until time for cooking.

SHAMROCK ROLLS

Made from ordinary ice-box roll dough, they are very convenient for the business woman, as they can be kept on hand and baked when they are desired. To make in the shape of shamrocks, pull off bits of dough and work into smooth balls one inch in diameter and set these in groups of three in a well-buttered muffin pan. When very light, bake about twenty minutes. Brush over the tops with white of egg, slightly beaten and diluted with a little cold water. Return to the oven for two minutes to glaze.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD.

Fruit of appropriate coloring could be used in the regular recipe for frozen fruit salad, consisting of whipped cream, mayonnaise and fruit. Fresh green grapes or mint cherries would carry out the green color scheme. The salad might also be cut in shamrock-shaped slices.

If green pepper is not used previously in the menu, a very nice salad for a plate luncheon can be made by stuffing a green pepper with a mixture of cream cheese and chopped pecans. Leave in the ice box over night, then slice and sprinkle with a dash of paprika and serve on lettuce leaves. Green vegetable "Puffles" make an attractive garnish for salads.

GREENGAGE ICE CREAM SMALL CAKES.

The ice cream is served in balls, rolled in chopped pistachio nuts. The little cakes are frosted white with white shamrocks, alternated with white shamrocks on green-frosted cakes.

Helen S. Taylor, Home Service Director, will be glad to assist you in planning your parties.

Plymouth Township Registration Notice

To the qualified electors of the Township of Plymouth, County of Wayne, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the Michigan Election Law, I, the undersigned, Township Clerk, will any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township not already registered, who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the second Saturday before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for general registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters' Law. (See registration by Affidavit).

March 22, 1930, is the last day for general registration by personal application for the township election to be held April 7, 1930.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my office at Plunk Brothers Department Store on March 13th, and March 22, A. D. 1930, from 8:00 o'clock a. m. until 8:00 o'clock p. m. on each said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said Township as shall properly apply therefor. The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Registration by Affidavit.

Sec. 10—Registering of Electors: Regular Session of 1925—Any absent voter as defined in this act whose name is not registered and who shall claim the right to vote by absent voter's ballot at any election or primary election, may at the time of making application for absent voter's ballot, present to the township clerk an affidavit for registration.

Registration of Absentee by Oath.

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the TOWNSHIP TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election or primary election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself or some member of his or her family, or owing to his or her absence from the TOWNSHIP on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration, he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election or primary election. If such applicant shall in said matter wilfully make any false statement, he or she shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Dated March 8, 1930.
GALVIN WHIPPLE
Township Clerk

The Story of Damon And Pythias

Each society, or order has its great ideals or prototypes in human life, in whose deeds they have found traits worthy of emulation. The friendship of Damon and Pythias has furnished the inspirational story upon which the Pythian ritual is based. More than twenty centuries ago, in an age of violence, rapine, plunder and superstition, these two followers of the philosopher, Pythagoras, demonstrated a love for each other that has become famous in song and story. It was to such an unselfish devotion that the Master referred, when many years later he uttered the sublime truth, that, "greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend."

The friendship of Damon and Pythias shines through the mists of centuries, a glowing tribute to the humanity of the past. It was made the sweet song of ancient Greece and is immortalized in the permanence of this Order.

Damon, a patriotic senator of Syracuse, had incurred the displeasure of the tyrant Dionysius because he had dared to openly proclaim his villainy, and was under sentence of death.

Many delighted to honor him when he wore the robes of office. Now he has but one friend in all Syracuse the companion of his brighter, better days. Pythias was true, and knowing Damon's love of home, he begged the tyrant to respite his friend, that he wife and child before he dies. For died. The hero of many battles; a stranger to the art of speech, his love for Damon inspired a most eloquent appeal.

"As thou art a husband and father, bear me! Let Damon go and see his wife and child before he dies. For four respite him. Put me in chains. Plunge me into his dungeon as pledge for his return. Do this, but this, and may the Gods themselves build up thy greatness as high as their own Heavens."

The fervor of this strange request touched the heart of Dionysius. It was to him a mystery. He had lived for self alone. He had sacrificed his friends, his honor, his home, upon the altar of a boundless ambition for place and power. Friendship was to him, ambition's ladder.

"Whereunto the climber upward turns his face? But when he has attained the summit of his goal, he turns unto the ladder turns his back: Looks in the clouds; scornful the base degree By which he did ascend."

The request was granted and Pythias became a hostage for Damon, who hastened toward his home by the distant sea.

The mystery deepens; the Tyrant cannot solve it. Disguised as a friend, he goes to Pythias in the Dungeon cell and tells him Dionysius has determined to take his life by preventing the return of Damon. He then urges him to fly for liberty and take refuge on a ship which is in readiness in the harbor and sped away where dangers cannot come.

He will not go! He has pledged his word; Honor is more to him than life, and in his refusal the tyrant marvels still the more.

Will Damon return? The love of home, of wife and child; the tender memories that shine like burning stars amid the gathering gloom, hold him until ere he knows, the last hour of respite is hastening by. Giving a last fond embrace to his loved ones, a last, long lingering look at his once happy home, he starts for Syracuse to redeem his promise and to save his friend.

The hour of execution is at hand. Damon has not returned and his host-ess is brought to the block to suffer in his stead.

The evening sun shines golden upon the temples and towers of ancient Syracuse, as Pythias looks out upon that vast throng, who taunt him with the seeming falseness of his friend.

Relying upon the honor of Damon, trusting in his word, proud of his friendship; he calls upon the Gods to prevent his return, and in response to the cruel jeers of the mob proclaims the fidelity of Damon and turns to meet his fate.

At the last moment, when the headman's axe is raised, a horseman is seen in the distance coming with the speed of the wind. "Tis Damon! He has been true to his promise, he has saved his friend."

The air resounds with the shouts of the populace in recognition of a virtue that has long been buried under the weight of Human selfishness. At the strange scene Dionysius looks in wonderment, and as he looks the cruel purpose of the hour passes away and he not only pardons Damon and Pythias, but begs to be admitted into this sacred bond of friendship.

Those heroes still live, and will live as long as friendship warms the heart of man. That virtue is the corner stone of Pythianism and from it springs the many beautiful lessons unfolded to those who would attain the rank of Knighthood, in the order of Knights of Pythias.—Plymouth Lodge No. 238, Plymouth, Michigan.

Will Exhibit Planes

Three planes will be exhibited by the aviation division of the Ford Motor Company at the Third Annual All-American Aircraft Show in the new city hangar at the Detroit City Airport, April 5 to 13.

Descriptions of the exhibits have not been disclosed by the company but it is believed that one of the ships will be of the "cabin" type which made its debut recently.

That ship, a tri-motor luxurious airplane of the 5-AT specifications, is equipped with folding berth, davenport, kitchenette, lavatory and combination radio cabinet, writing desk and book case. Complete night flying equipment also is included, comprising parachute flares, landing lights, instrument lights and navigation lights.

The entire exterior—surfaces, wings and fuselage, are damascened in "bird's eye," a sparklingly rich ornamental design.

A CORRECTION

We desire to correct an error in last week's Mail regarding the finding of the body of William Schlaf in the River Rouge. The article stated that the body was seen by two boys who were walking along the river bank.

This was a mistake as the body was discovered by a son, Wm. Schlaf, who with John Downs, Ed. Bertram and Bernard Bertram, were dragging the river with grappling hooks secured from the Harbor Master's department in Detroit. The body was taken from the water by Bert Swadling and Jack Johnston.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

Dame Fashion has sometimes been accused of being fond of adjectives, but when one hears of a beauty with "delphinium eyes, gleaming gold hair and rose petal skin," how could adjectives be avoided? Not very many of us have as many sources of beauty as all that, but some have been apportioned to every one. A famous artist once said: "Every woman is beautiful, put her in a good light,"—though once in awhile it does seem as though that light would be hard to find, on sea or land.

But ten thousand—or more nearly, perhaps, ten hundred thousand individuals are planning by day and night to make things so that women shall be happier, and of course more beautiful. If Dame Fashion believed that just buying pretty dresses and new styles and becoming colors and costume jewelry and new shopping bags and spring hats was the whole of the matter, she would stop her study of styles at once.

All of these pleasant things are aids to happiness, and happiness, in its own beautiful giving, tends to sanity and long life and usefulness and general world uplift. So, think of it, when you buy the next gay necktie, or almost flaming scarf, that after all you are adding to the gaiety and cheer of the nation, and hence to this entire big universe.

Dame Fashion admits a great weakness for bracelets. For years she wore one in the night as well as by day, and more or less of them lie around in shonks or her dresser. So think what a kiship she felt to some clever glove designer, when she saw the pretty tan gloves of spring that have bracelets all their own! These bracelets are of a smooth bone substance, in a clouded brown color of oval heads and are genuinely useful, for being strung on elastic, they hold the wrist of the glove exactly where it should be placed.

Tweed hats have been well worth having during the winter, and now in the spring tweed is almost universal material. But the straw manufacturers are cunning. They know there is promise of a great straw summer ahead and they have designed a straw hat which would almost deceive the elect into thinking it is made of tweed, so well is the rough tweed appearance carried out in the straw.

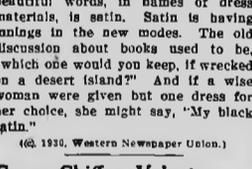

Here is a practical suggestion from a well-dressed woman, of use in regard either to dressmaker-made gowns or creations in the shops. She declares that she not only wishes to walk up and down many times while wearing a new dress before she accepts it, but also wants to sit down in it at least six times before a mirror, before she decides upon it.

With skirts larger and longer, it is entertaining to notice how like an echo that word "larger" appears on many sides. Handbags promise to be larger, and of every delightful material, from tweed and tpestry to suede and morocco, or even the precious plin-seal. Watches for women, whose ideal for years has seemed to be to grow smaller, are distinctly larger in some of the new models.

Dame Fashion has always thought that one of the most harmonious and beautiful words, in names of dress materials, is satin. Satin is having unlings in the new models. The old discussion about books used to be, "which one would you keep, if wrecked on a desert island?" And if a wise woman were given but one dress for her choice, she might say, "My black satin."

Green Chiffon Velvet; Chic Spring Ensemble

An attractive ensemble for spring—a one-piece dress with coat to match, of boned, green chiffon velvet, with red fox trimmings and insets of white and darker green velvet and gold lace.

"They have learned the art of painting on a blush," declares Dad Plymouth, "but a smile has to come naturally."

Weak Bee Colony Never Makes Surplus of Honey

Spring is the time when bees are in the most danger of starving. If they should be short of honey, feed them so they will keep up brood rearing and be strong in number of young bees at the time the honey flow begins and they will store surplus honey rapidly. A weak colony never makes surplus honey, but in many cases is completely destroyed by moths. You do not need a patent of any kind to keep away moths. They can never trouble a colony of strong bees. When pollen is scarce in the spring, put some flour where the bees can get it to use instead of pollen.

Registration Notice Livonia Township

To the qualified electors of the Township of Livonia, County of Wayne, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the Michigan Election Law, I, the undersigned, Township Clerk, will any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township not already registered, who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the second Saturday before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for general registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters' Law. (See registration by Affidavit.)

March 22, 1930, is the last day for general registration by personal application for the township election to be held April 7, 1930.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my office in the Livonia Town Hall, on March 15th, and March 22nd, A. D. 1930, from 2:30 o'clock p. m. until 5:00 o'clock p. m., on each said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said Township as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book. Registration by Affidavit. Sec. 10—Registering of Electors: Regular Session of 1925—Any absent voter as defined in this act whose name is not registered and who shall claim the right to vote by absent voter's ballot at any election or primary election, may at the time of making application for absent voter's ballot, present to the township clerk an affidavit for registration.

Registration of Absentees by Oath. If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the TOWNSHIP TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election or primary election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself or some member of his or her family, or owing to his or her absence from the township, he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election or primary election. If such applicant shall in said matter willfully make any false statement or shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Dated March 11, 1930.

JOHN HARLAN, Township Clerk.
