$535,000 FOR BRIDGES IN WAYNE CO. DURING 1930

The development of our bridge system is proceeding steadily and is keeping pace with our concrete road building program, started Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines, recently.

Our bridge department carries on its construction activities throughout the entire year and there are usually carry-overs from one season to the other. The Meridian Road bridge at the crossing of the Thoreau Canal on Grosse Ile was finished last year but at such a late date that the paving was left for the present construction season and same will be completed at an early date. A road clear was provided so that traffic was not greatly inconvenienced.

The Warren crossing of the Rouge River east of Outer Drive is under construction. The north section of the bridge is completed except for wearing surface, sidewalks and handrail, and is being used as a detour. The remainder of the bridge is completed except handrails which are under construction. This bridge will be completed some time in June. The bridge is of two spans, each 50 feet in length, the deck slab being carried on steel beams, and provides a 60-foot roadway and two 10-foot sidewalks. Construction is such that D. S. R. tracks may in the future be carried across the bridge without any further changes other than tearing out a little of the wearing surface in the area covered by the track structure.

Reconstruction of the bridge at the Seven Mile Road crossing of the Rouge River near Berg Road in the City of Detroit (Redford) is nearing completion. The new bridge is of deck plate girder construction with a concrete floor and provides a 60-foot roadway and two 10-foot sidewalks in a similar manner to that used at the Warren Road bridge as mentioned above. Provisions have been made so that electric railway tracks can be carried across this structure when and if the future requires. This bridge will be completed some time in July. In order to provide for the uninterrupted use of this crossing by highway traffic, the bridge is being built on both sides of the existing structure and these two sections will be placed in operation before the old bridge is removed and the center section will thereupon be completed.

At the Outer Drive crossing of the Rouge River just west of St. Joseph's Retreat in the City of Dearborn a 50-foot reinforced concrete arch is under construction. This job was started last fall and work has been proceeding during the winter season. The arch rib was poured last week and the spandrel walls have just been completed. All that now remains to be done at this location is to complete the fill over the arch and build the wearing, sidewalks and handrail. This bridge provides a 60-foot roadway and two 10-foot sidewalks. The road approach to the north is carried over a fill approximately 17 feet above the low ground adjacent to the Rouge River. When the time comes for building a parkway along the low lands of the Rouge, the grade set for this bridge will fit in for the separate grades for the parkway and Outer Drive.

Plans have been prepared for a 30-foot reinforced concrete bridge at the VanHorn Road crossing of the Elizabeth Park Canal. This project is included in the development of the old Michigan Central Railroad right-of-way from River Road eastward across the Trenton Channel of the Detroit River to Grosse Ile and is intended that this bridge be placed under construction about July 31 so that it will be completed well ahead of the time at which it will be possible to develop the rest of the project. This bridge is laid out in such a way as to accommodate the southerly strip of a parkway drive and provide a 30-foot roadway and one 6-foot sidewalk. The arch will clear the water by the same amount as the other bridges built over this canal and will provide adequate room for the operation of pleasure craft on the canal. As in the case of other bridges, an ornamental concrete handrail will be provided which is in keeping with the development of Elizabeth Park just to the north of Van Horn Road.

The most important unit in the Van Horn Road project is the reconstruction of the old Michigan Central Railroad bridge across the Trenton Channel of the Detroit River. The old bridge was built about 1874 and served originally to carry railroad tracks of what was then known as the Canada Southern Railroad, later taken over by the Michigan Central Railroad. It consists of five fixed truss spans of 200 feet each and one swing span of 340 feet. Reconstruction of the bridge has been held up pending receipt of congressional authority. This authority has been provided by a special act of Congress, subject to the approval of the War Department, the plans completed, and the work advertised for bids. Construction will start about the end of June and it is anticipated that all work will be completed on the structure about December 15.

At the Inkster Road crossing of the Rouge River north of Warren Road plans call for a reinforced concrete tie beam bridge of two 40-foot spans, providing a roadway of 40 feet and two 6-foot sidewalks. This bridge will be completed by the middle of September.

Plans are also under way for the bridge at the Inkster Road crossing of the Rouge River just north of Michigan Superhighway. This reinforced concrete tie beam bridge, having two 40-foot spans, provides a 40-foot roadway and two 6-foot sidewalks. It will be completed about the first of October. Both of the Inkster Road bridges conform to the grade required for the future development of a parkway grade separation adjacent to the bridge.

At the Telegraph Road crossing of the Rouge River just south of Base Line (Eight Mile) Road the State Highway Department has under construction a single span bridge 70 feet long, providing a 60-foot roadway and two 10-foot sidewalks, the bridge slab being carried on steel beams. In order to eliminate several sharp bends in the stream, the bridge has been located entirely clear of the stream, thereby requiring considerable channel change. It is anticipated that the bridge will be completed about August 15th.

CELEBRATE FOURTH IN NORTHVILLE

RACES, BOXING, FIREWORKS, BALL GAMES—A GOOD TIME FOR ALL ARRANGED.

Everything is in readiness for the American Legion Fourth of July celebration that will take place at the fair grounds in Northville next Friday. Not only has the Legion planned an all-day celebration in Northville on the Fourth, with a big boxing match and "mid-way" in the evening, but there will be both running and racing events on Saturday, the day following.

The two-day running and harness races will be one of the big features of the event. There will be a mixed program both on the Fourth and on Saturday. A large number of the horses that will be entered have already arrived in Northville and are being trained every day at the fair grounds.

The Legion members are urging their friends from all over southeastern Michigan to come to Northville early in the morning on the Fourth and remain through the fair grounds until late at night. There will be something going on most of the time. The program of various contests starts in the forenoon and there will be no let-up until late at night. There will be some attraction worth seeing all the time.

The entry list for the harness races has surprised the committee in charge. There are a large number of pacers and trotters owned in this part of the state that will compete for the cash prizes offered.

Some of the best runners in this part of the country have been shipped to Northville and will be raced on both Friday and Saturday. The running races last year made a big hit with the thousands that came to see the races, and the entry list is so much larger this year that there isn't much question but what more exciting events will be staged than featured the race meet of the previous year.

The kids had not been forgotten. To provide amusement for the youngsters, a regular carnival of rides, swings and other amusement features have been booked and will be set up in Northville the day previous to the Fourth, so everything will be ready bright and early on the morning of the celebration. These will be in operation continuously from morning until late at night.

For the boxing show in the evening, Dr. L. W. Soov, who has been placed in charge of the program, has arranged five fast bouts. The main go of ten rounds will be between Pee Wee Wilson, burman weight champion of Michigan, and Jack Lorton of Pittsburg. This bout in itself will be worth the whole show.

In the semi-final, Don McLeod, a Northville lad who is fast making his way up in the boxing game, has been booked for eight rounds with Sammy Reed, a speedy youngster from Ypsilanti. This go will be one of the big hits of the show as both are out for a clean victory in the contest.

A special six-round bout has been booked between Sergeant Barocac of Dearborn, and Battling Criss of Rockwood. Both boys are well known in the ring and have appeared in some of the Detroit bouts. A six round bout between Steve McLeod and Martin Houck, and a four round go between Young Cuple of Plymouth, and Mike McFarland of Milford, consisting the remainder of the program. The boxing card is a dandy and will provide a full evening of amusement.

But for those who do not care to attend the boxing show in front of the grandstand, the Legion boys have arranged to keep the midway going full blast.

During the afternoon of the Fourth there will be ball games so all the ball fans in this locality can enjoy one of their favorite sports.

The Friday evening program will be completed with a wonderful display of fireworks.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a complete program of both trotting and running races. The Legion boys of Northville urgently invite everyone to come and take part in the celebration and enjoy the many attractions that have been secured.

WILL SHOW PICTURES ONLY ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY DURING JULY AND AUGUST.

During the months of July and August, the Penniman Allen Theatre will have no more pictures except on Saturday and Sunday, with two shows each night. Matinees on Saturday afternoon will also be discontinued during these two months.

Christian Herald Luncheon Held

A novel and interesting luncheon was enjoyed by about a hundred ladies yesterday, at the Plymouth Methodist church. The hostesses were members of the Baptist chess, and a committee of these ladies prepared and served a delicious meal under the direction of Miss Helen E. Jones, representative of the Christian Herald.

This luncheon was one of a series sponsored by the Service Department of the Christian Herald, being held during the past year throughout the country. Only five of these were held in Michigan, yesterday's luncheon being the last of the season. The purpose of the Christian Herald luncheons is to promote good fellowship and sociability among the church people at the same time helping the women to make money to carry on their church activities.

The tables in the church dining room were attractively decorated with crepe paper runners of ecclesiastical purple and fresh garden posies. At each place was a purple and buff menu card containing recipes for dishes served and a copy of the Christian Herald tied with a purple bow. The waitresses wore Christian Herald uniforms, white aprons and caps with purple ruffles.

The menu consisted of the following: Macaroni goulash, made with Mueller's macaroni; molded beet salad, made with Knox gelatine and served with Borden's Maple Mayonnaise; tea biscuits, made with Royal baking powder; Bookfield Weckelchard cheese and Brookfield butter; gingerbread, made with Brer Rabbit molasses; loaf cake, made with Royal baking powder and Burnett's vanilla; and Coffee Bavarian pudding and coffee.

The food and decorations, as well as the menus, tickets and posters, were donations of the Christian Herald, and cooperating food manufacturers, and the entire proceeds of the luncheon went into the Booster class treasury.

After the luncheon, Miss Jones gave a brief talk on the recipes for dishes served and food products used in their preparation. She also gave some interesting facts about the Christian Herald, which has been the leading inter-denominational religious magazine for over fifty years. Duane A. Poling, president of the Christian Educators of the World, is editor-in-chief. S. Parkes Colman, Margaret Sanster and Charles M. Sheldon are contributing editors.

Among the interesting points brought out in Miss Jones' talk was the fact that the Bowery Mission, New York City, the most famous in the world, is managed by the Christian Herald and supported by its readers. The magazine also supports Mount Lawley, N. Y., a children's home where approximately 3,000 slum children are taken care of during the summer; also an industrial school for Chinese orphans in Foo Chow, China, and a school for the colored in Mavesville, S. C. The Christian Herald has for years taken prominent leadership in relief of famine and distress all over the world. Its readers have contributed over $15,000,000 for its various welfare activities.

The committee of ladies who acted as hostesses and prepared the menu for the luncheon, is as follows: General chairman, Mrs. C. Lewis; tickets, Mrs. A. Koenig; dining room, Mrs. A. Soth; Mrs. S. Besse, Mrs. H. Brown, Mrs. H. Barnes, Mrs. W. Lee, Mrs. R. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. McLeod; kitchen, Mrs. F. Thomas, Mrs. C. Hammond, Mrs. F. Squires, Mrs. A. Groth, Mrs. F. Barrows, Mrs. W. McCullough.

Presbyterian Picnic At Riverside Park

The picnic of the First Presbyterian Sunday-school was held at Riverside Park, Plymouth, on Wednesday of this week and passed off very successfully. To begin with, the weather man provided a bright warm day with a long and delightful evening. The attendance was large and the spirit of good fellowship and of play was in the air. Melburn Partridge, superintendent of the school with the assistant, G. A. Bakwell made most effective leaders in planning for the picnic and in carrying out the plans. A fine group of women and men came to assist in their usual capable manner and everything went well and everyone had an excellent time.

The sports were interesting and varied. There were events that appealed to contestants of every age, from races for the little folk to ball rolling, slipper tossing and mail delivering for the women and horse-shoe pitching and ball game for the men. Sure it was a fine picnic.

Tuesday morning of this week two members of the Michigan State Police organization, upon orders from Lansing, came to the village hall and destroyed 150 gallons of moonshine whiskey, which had been confiscated by village police officers during recent months. The method of disposal was to pour the contents of the five gallon cans into the sanitary sewer, at the same time chipping a hole in the bottom of the can to effectively end its usefulness as a container. The destroyed liquor represented the largest single haul of whiskey ever confiscated by the local police department.

Plymouth's first Home Complete Exposition opened Wednesday evening at the Plymouth High school building, and continues today, Friday afternoon and afternoon of the Chamber of Commerce, has been well attended and a decided success.

A stroll past the handsomely decorated booths was a delightful surprise for everyone who has visited the exposition. The booths with their various displays present a very artistic appearance that lends a gay atmosphere to the whole affair. There are so many attractive booths and displays that it would be hard to judge which is the best one.

The Varsity Vagabonds, a popular dance orchestra, furnished splendid music for the opening night.

The various concerns making the display of the members of the local committees of the Chamber of Commerce and Secretary Moore are to be commended on the success of the exposition.

If you have not already visited the Home Complete Exposition, you should do so this afternoon or evening. There is no charge for admission.

Offer $112,000 Prize Money At Michigan Fair

Nearly $112,000 is offered this year by the state of Michigan for the encouragement of agriculture in a record-breaking premium and prize list that is expected to make the 1930 Michigan State Fair, August 31 to September 6, inclusive, the biggest and most successful in its history. Complied with this is an entertainment program, headed by the Stampede, with cowboy and cowgirl champions from the famous Cheyenne, Pendleton, Calgary and Fort Worth round-ups performing the hair-raising stunts of the early frontier days. This event, introduced in Michigan last year at the State Fair with record smashing attendance, will be presented on a scale far bigger than before. Al Street's cowboy band will play during the grandstand events.

An additional feature of the Fair this year will be the appearance of the famous Creators' Concert Band, which will present concerts each evening in the Auditorium and on the afternoon of the opening day.

The premium list, totaling $111,748, is $9,000 greater than last year, and is especially attractive to the boys and girls of the state, with a total of $13,000 in prizes and premiums. This is $3,000 more than was awarded last year and is in line with the policy of the state to encourage the farm youth and train them in the latest and most successful methods of stock raising and general farming. Another feature for the farm youth is the State Fair Boy's School. One boy from each county who has the highest average standing on the regular eighth grade examination and on a special agricultural examination, will be given a trip to this school with all expenses paid. During the Fair he will be given an intensive course in agriculture. More than 1500 alumni of this school have been invited to attend.

Many new features have been obtained for this year's State Fair. Including one of the crack troops of the New York State Police, which will present stunts in fancy riding and drilling. A company of infantry from Ft. Wayne will give exhibitions of drilling and army maneuvers.

An Indian village, with a large number of Indians brought direct from the Indian reservations of the West, will be established on the infield, directly in front of the grandstand, where the Indians can be seen going about their daily tasks just as they do on their reservations. They also will take part in some of the events of the Stampede.

Each evening a spectacular display of aerial fireworks will be presented in front of the grandstand at the conclusion of the Stampede performance. The Midway year will be bigger than ever, with many new and novel features presented by the Johnny J. Jones Exposition, noted from coast to coast.

The racing program presents $12,300 in prizes with the 2-15 trot for the Governor's Cup on Wednesday, September 3, the cup to be presented by Governor Fred W. Green in person. This day is set aside as Governor's Day.

The Canadian government is to take an active part in the Fair, with an exhibit in the Coliseum. This exhibit will show what crops are raised in Canada and give a comprehensive view of the Dominion's natural resources. It also will show prospective tourists the points of interest in Canada.

The Horse Show this year is expected to surpass any past endeavors. As a society event it is expected to take its place in the rank with those at Springfield and Brockton, Mass., with a large number of society exhibitors, who will show their animals in the show ring personally.

Auto races, with the foremost dirt track drivers of the country competing, will be the feature of the closing day.

Special efforts are being made this year to make the Fair a "big event" for the children, with free admission on Tuesday, designated Children's Day. Free tickets are to be distributed to the children throughout the state and many of the events will be free to them, with reduced rates on others. Thursday will be Farmer's Day and Friday Detroit Day.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

We have come a long way since the nation celebrated its first birthday, and we've learned a lot of things. We have discovered that it is not wise to make war, but the part of wisdom to be prepared for it. We have found that nations, like individuals, are sure of trouble if they hunt for it, but apt to escape it by being ready to meet it if it comes.

All of which is worth something to us as we come again to celebrate the birth of our country—its 154th birthday. This Glorious Fourth sees us farther from war than we have ever been at any time in history and with a greater hatred for war and the things that make war than we have ever had. The Fourth of July has come to mean more to us, since today it finds us meaning more among the nations of the world. Today they look to us for both precept and example. They honor us for our desire to maintain peace, and they are glad to join with us in seeking ways to make the happiness and prosperity and contentment of the whole world secure.

Fireworks and noise-making on the Fourth doesn't mean that we glory in warfare, or that we are boasting of our strength. It is just our way of celebrating an event that has had a lot to do with making the world both better and peaceful. We're happy because we are at peace with the world, and we want the world to know it. There's no chip on our shoulder; no hatred in our hearts; no ill-will toward other nations. We've grown from nothing to the world's greatest republic in 154 years—and what nation wouldn't be happy to celebrate such an achievement? The Fourth of July offers us an opportunity to unburden our happiness, which is just another name for patriotism, and to work off a lot of excess enthusiasm. And this year, the same as for 154 years, we're doing it in the hope that some day the whole world will have occasion to rejoice with us over the fact that a nation can be peace-loving and patriotic at the same time.

WEATHER SIGNS

It is always a good plan, on traveling into new country, to inquire of the natives regarding the prevailing weather signs and probabilities. For instance, there is always one wind that commonly brings rain, another that prevails only during fair weather, and so on.

Every district, too, has its old traditional signs, such as, for fair weather, cobwebs on wet grass; crimson sunset; swallows flying high; rainbow at night; heavy dew in the evening. Their bad weather indications are, woodpeckers and bluejays very noisy; swallows flying low; sun shining through watery haze; rainbow in the morning; a halo round the moon; dark clouds blown rapidly under lighter ones, at least, to give fair warning.

Motorists around Plymouth are now planning their vacations, or at least those fortunate enough to be able to take a little time off are doing so. So the suggestion that they pause along the route to talk over the weather with the natives of whatever section they happen to be driving in is a timely one. It may save a lot of traffic annoyances and disagreeable driving conditions. Consulting an almanac may still be popular with many people, but getting an actual line on the weather as you go along is far more satisfactory. Try it when you venture forth on any auto trip that keeps you on the road for several days at a stretch.

WATCH THE WATER

We read in a press dispatch from Akron, O., that seven members of one family are near death there as the result of drinking from a contaminated spring while they were motoring. It simply bears out a warning we have previously issued to Plymouth motorists. It is never safe to drink from a spring or well without first being sure of the quality of the water it is giving forth. Unless it has been marked "Safe For Drinking Purposes," as some states are now doing, it is always best to go thirsty until you can find someone who actually knows whether or not it is pure. Looks do not mean anything. With the season of typhoid and kindred diseases upon us, it is unwise to take even the slightest chance of contracting what may prove a fatal illness. Carry your own water jug for filling with pure water as you go along, or make sure of what you are drinking if you must depend on springs and wells. Don't take it for granted that the water is pure simply because it looks good.

OUR CHANGING TIMES

Straws still show which way the wind blows, and changing business conditions still serve to show how times have changed since our fathers were boys. We see where the J. B. Sickle Co., of St. Louis, the oldest saddle and harness makers in the United States, have gone out of business. Since away back in 1854 this concern was widely known throughout 15 western states. When St. Louis was the frontier of the west and all wagon trains started from there, this was the city's best known business concern. But with the advent in recent years of the tractor and truck and passenger auto the harness maker found it harder and harder to keep going. Many of them turned to upholstery. In towns like Plymouth ready-made harness and saddlery came to be a part of general merchandising, and the harness maker found a new competition undreamed of 25 or 30 years ago. There will always be a demand for harness and saddles, of course. But the harness shop, like the blacksmith shop, has seen its day and as a business both of them have just about passed into history.

DOES IT PAY

Scarcity of doctors in rural sections has commanded a great deal of attention from public men within the past few months. Numerous remedies to correct the evil have been proposed, and various reasons are assigned for the shortage. But none of them have hit the spot. The answer is simply—bad roads. Far distant communities that can be reached by hard-surfaced roads have no difficulty in securing medical attention. But the man away back at the end of a mud trail is the fellow whose family suffers most and oftenest. Nowadays a doctor can drive fifty miles on improved roads in less time than it takes to cover two miles of horrible mud road. As a result, the sick suffer and die. There's far more to good roads than their saving in time and money. There is the matter of human life. If we will look at it from that standpoint, instead of figuring on how much money we can save, maybe we'll do less kicking about the cost of roads and take a little more interest in getting every mile of highway in our territory improved.

This poster is being distributed by the Committee on Education, Safety Section, American Railway Association. The figures are taken from Interstate Commerce Commission reports, and include all reportable injuries, no matter how slight, to all classes of employees whether working in shops or offices. Considering that there was an average of approximately 1,700,000 employees last year, the fact that total casualties affected only about 60,000 or 3 1/2 per cent constitutes an amazing tribute to the safety work of the railways. Of the total casualties in 1929 to railway employees on duty, 60,090 were injured, a reduction of 60% per cent as compared with 1923; whereas 1,441 were fatalities, a reduction of 30% per cent as compared with 1923.

Germanium and Arsenic Found in Meteorites

Arsenic, favorite of poisoners, and germanium, a rare element that has been used in the treatment of anemia, are both present in some meteorites that fall to the earth from the skies. Dr. Jacob Papish and Zaida M. Hanford, Cornell university chemists, report on results of a series of analyses of six meteorites. Traces of germanium were found in all of them, while small amounts of both germanium and arsenic were actually extracted from two.

The meteorites were studied by placing portions of them in an electric arc and studying the light from the arc with a spectroscope. Certain lines, known to be due to germanium, were clearly apparent in all the specimens studied. By a complicated chemical treatment, which started with distillation of hydrochloric acid in which the meteorites had been dissolved, perceptible amounts of arsenic and germanium were extracted from one that fell in Mexico and another that fell in Canada.

Up to the present, the only place outside the earth in which germanium has been located is in the outer layer of the sun, where it has also been found with the aid of the spectroscope. Claims have been made in the past of the identification of arsenic in meteorites, but there has been some controversy about it—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

Chinese Leaders Split on Educational Plans

China, unlike most nations, has nothing that can really be called a national sport. Japan, in much the same circumstances, adopted baseball; but baseball in China has never caught on to any great extent. Mission schools and Y. M. C. A.'s, however, have done much to teach forms of sport to elementary and middle school students, with the result that basketball, tennis and football are beginning to prove fairly popular, but only among an extremely small percentage of the nation's many millions of youths. As far as the revival of folklore (which is being considered by the social education department of the ministry of education) is concerned, it is expected that the ministry will encounter difficulties. China is rich in folklore, but while with one hand the government is trying to encourage its revival, with the other hand the government is launching a bitter campaign against superstition. Much of China's ancient folklore deals with supernatural beings, and with historical and mythical characters endowed with supernatural powers. What is needed, according to educational leaders, is the development of a critical faculty among students and the populace which will enable them to dissociate themselves entirely from the million and one popular myths which form the basis of their mental texture, if not of their religious beliefs.

Demand for Dwarfs Met by Inhuman Exploiters

Dwarfs were the lapdogs of medieval times. And so popular were they that many merchants specialized in selling them to the nobility. "Marc Antony owned a dwarf," writes M. R. Werner in Liberty, whom he called, ironically, Sisyphus. In Rome there were dwarf merchants who, when they could not obtain natural specimens for the emperors and nobles, manufactured dwarfs by unceremoniously normal babies, or by binding their limbs to prevent full development.

Tiberius, Domitian and Hellogabalus paid high prices to their dwarf merchants, who experimented constantly to supply the demand. Catherine de Medici, in order to secure a regular supply of dwarfs for her court and as presents for her friends, caused all the dwarfs of her establishment to be married in a large scale effort to produce a race of midgets. The marriages, however, were uniformly barren, and her majesty was sadly disappointed.

Famous English Hotel One of World's Oldest

"Ye Olde Griffin hotel," at March, Cambridgeshire, England, one of the best known hotels in the eastern counties, dating back to 1600, has been sold. It was a noted house in the old coaching days, and the coaches at times drove through the space where the front doors are now into the courtyard at the back. An offer of $5,000 has been made and refused for the remarkable paneling in the commercial room.

The walls of the hall are of Indian carved teak, and all the ceilings are supported by the original massive oak beams, while the ancient card room is still in existence. The bath is of real Italian marble, hewn out of the solid stone, and was originally used by the Italian monks, and subsequently brought to England. The hotel has been the subject of articles by Charles Dickens, G. K. Chesterton, Hilaire Belloc, and others, and is visited by many distinguished people during the season.—Detroit News.

Dad Plymouth says that when the average man has reached a ripe old age he usually feels sort of rotten.

Dad Plymouth wants to know if you ever heard of a man admitting that he can't sleep on account of his conscience.

DOINGS IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

ROBINS TRIM FORD TAPS

The Robinson Sub. ball team defeated the Ford Tap nine on the Ford diamond last Thursday evening. It was a real contest up to the beginning of the seventh. With the score 3-2 for the Robins, and two down and one on in the seventh, Poney clouted out a single. Dobbs smashed out a home run chasing Houghton and Poney in ahead of him. "Howdy" Schryer followed with a single. Dick Hartung cleaned the bases with the second home run of the game. Ribar was the next man up, and he also cleared the bases making three homers in this inning. Eight more hits were secured off Britcher in the eighth and ninth innings, or a total of twenty for the game. Twelve hits were allowed by Schryer.

The Robins' fielding was poor, making more than twice as many errors as Fords, but their hard hitting won the game.

Cloudy In England

The occasional cloudy day Plymouth golfers have to put up with is as a clear sunny day compared with the mist that British linksmen have to grapple with. In the Halford Hewett Cup competition at Deal, England, the London Mail says, "the mist on the first day had every one guessing and more than 100 golf balls were lost off perfectly good shots."

WEST POINT BEATS ECORSE

Sunday, June 22, on the home diamond, West Point Park scored another victory over the fast Ecorse team, in a hard playing, fine pitching and hard hitting game, by a score of 5 to 1.

Constineau, pitcher for Ecorse, former pitcher for the Detroit House of Correction, started the game and it looked as though it would be a pitcher's battle and a very hard game for either team to win. Each team had scored one run, each in the sixth inning. West Point on a 3-base hit by Halvay and a single by Knoch, and Ecorse on a two bagger and a triple. In the seventh, West Point collected four hits and as many runs, which was enough for Constineau, and he was replaced by a southpaw who allowed no hits for the remainder of the game.

Goers, for West Point, pitched very fine ball, going the whole route for the boys and allowing nine hits. Nine hits were collected off Constineau in the seven innings he worked.

Many fine plays were features of the game. A great catch by Treadway, 3rd baseman, who climbed the bleachers to make the catch. A great catch by Knoch, who fell and somersaulted after the catch. Clement in right field, picked one off the corner of the school-house, and Charlie Wolfman made a great running catch of a hard hit ball that looked like a sure two-bagger. The last two men in the ninth were retired on an easy double play, a grounder to second forcing the runner at second and the batter at first.

A fine crowd saw the game. The boys are playing first class ball, so come out and boost for the home team next Sunday, when they meet Highland Park on the West Point diamond. Follow the team each week in the Plymouth Mail.

Possession Limit Set At Five Under New Code

Three months of spring discontent ended for the fishermen last Wednesday, June 25, when every inland lake and stream in Michigan was thrown open to fishing of all kinds. This meant that brook-trout, large and small mouthed black bass, catfish, white bass, rock bass, calico bass, and sunfish all can be tempted to take the baited hook or casting plug and fly. It also meant that the 560 inland lakes within a radius of 100 miles of Plymouth could be fished for the first time this year, for our conservation officials, in determining just what pike lakes existed in the state that could be fished for pike, walleyes and perch beginning May 1, found nothing in this category within each halting distance of Michigan's Village of Homes.

The State allows the taking of five large or small mouthed bass in one day. Any fisherman found with a greater number in his possession, regardless of the number of days he has fished is subject to arrest. An calico bass, white bass, strawberry bass, rock bass, bluegills, sunfish and perch the daily limit is placed at 25 of all kinds or of one species. Pike and walleyes are held to five in one day and in possession.

The legal lengths have been set at 10 inches for large and small mouthed black bass; seven inches for all other black bass; six inches for bluegills and sunfish and 14 inches for pike and walleyes.

As in other years there is no resident angler's license although non-residents are required to pay $3 for a license. In casting or still fishing each fisherman is limited to the use of one pole or line and in trolling the same holds true. Fishing by artificial light is also tabooed except during the spawning season in early spring.

May Troll Now.

The law of last year forbidding trolling out of motor boats in many of our inland lakes has been repealed and fishermen now can follow the sport on any lake.

Although a large number of inland lakes near Plymouth have been taken up by private interests and are closed to public fishing the number still presents a small majority of the lakes in this district and fishermen will have little difficulty in finding suitable waters for their sport within the 100-mile radius.

Brae Burn Golf Club Notes

The Mid-Iron Tournament staged at Brae Burn last week was long contested.

Early in the play M. R. Lynch turned in a card of 101, then Frank Johnson came in with a 92 and led the field until Ernie Snook, one of the last to finish, posted an 88 to take first prize.

Dee Kennedy broke the course record on Friday with a 70, his card showing a birdie four on the 545-yard double dog-leg number four hole and another birdie on number seven.

The first flight for the club championship will start July 1st and will be the fourth of a 4-5-6 tournament to be featured.

Nethem Swamps Bohn Aluminum

W. Horvath let the strong hitting Bohn Aluminum team down with six hits and one run while gathering nine of the boys on strikes, to increase his strike-out record, last Sunday when the Nethem team defeated Bohn Aluminum, 7-1. He missed a shut-out when his mates gave a run away in the seventh inning. Nethem scored four runs in the second inning, which equals the total they have scored in the last three games.

R. Levandowski stole third and then stole home in the second inning to score the first run for Nethem since Decoration Day, or the first run in twenty-six innings.

W. Horvath surprised the large crowd by getting a hit in the seventh inning, with bases loaded, which scored two runs.

Sunday's game concluded R. Levandowski's turn as captain, and during the next two games Johnny Schomberger will be acting as captain. Next Sunday, June 29, the boys will take on the strong Electromaster Club from Detroit, at Rousseau Park, Newburg, at 3:00 p. m.

ROCKS DEFEAT DUNN STEEL

The Rocks kept up their winning streak by defeating the Dunn Steel team Tuesday night by the score of 13 to 18.

This was one of the free hitting contests of the year, both teams seemed to hit the ball at will. But the Rocks again came out on top.

Secretary Orr, of the Rocks was the star player—he collected four hits, of which two were home runs. Bill Curtiss of the Rocks and Bill Schlof of the Dunn Steel also got a home run apiece.

HAGGERTY NINE UPSET BURGER CREAMERY 6 TO 7

The Haggerty Athletic Club scored a 7 to 6 triumph over Burger Creamery Co., of Detroit last Sunday, at Canton Park.

This is the second game that C. F. Burgers have lost this season, opposing the best teams in and around Detroit. This victory makes eight games won out of nine for Haggerty.

Haggerty A. C.'s timely hitting was responsible for the victory last Sunday. The Detroiters found the delivery of Henry Hagmaler, but did not apply them well, with the result that nine were left on bases. The visiting pitchers were given shaky support, while Hagmaler's team-mates committed four misplays.

The Haggerty team grabbed a free-run lead up to the fourth and held it until the eighth when Burger Creamery pounded in four markers during the eighth and ninth. Haggerty A. C. obtained one each in the fourth and fifth.

Sunday, June 29, Detroit will send another of her best class A teams out to Canton Park, The Detroit, Free Press. The Free Press is the second oldest class A club in Detroit, some of the players have played together for twenty years. The game starts at 2:30 o'clock.

For the first time this year the Haggerty A. C. will clash in a double-header with the Burger Creamery Co., of Detroit on July 4th. The first game will start at one o'clock. Canton Park will be the scene of battle.

Rosedale Gardens

By J. W. WALKER

A Gardenite came home on Chester's bus (462) to the rainy evening, and found himself locked out. Taking shelter in the garage until his better half finally showed up with the key to enter their mutual luncheonette. "Where's the key?" inquired the interloper. "In the kitchen," replied the interloper. "Play it safe," interposed wifette. "Too bad you didn't play bridge between the corner 'n' here," sentenced friend B. G. as he slowly removed his wet socks and shoes. "Everything, which all goes to prove that all things are good in their proper environment."

Clare, our young new barber, considers himself somewhat IT with the girls, when he spoke to one on the U. S. 12 sidewalk to the north. "Don't know you from Adam," says lady gardenite, holding her chin toward sun. "Ouchto," says Y. N. B. very quick like, and smoothing out his new profession jacket. "I'm dressed different like." Whereupon we stop, stop right here!

We are offering congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eggleston on the birth of a baby girl, on Sunday, the 22nd inst. at the home, 11410 Monroe Ave. Now Junior will have a baby sister to play with, boast about and protect from all harm.

Joy—last Sunday was the first Sunday since (when?) it did not rain or snow in daylight hours. Which all goes to show why our local emporium run out of ice cream comes Sunday eve.

The Michigan Druggist says "Our idea of a genius is a fellow who can open a horseshoeing shop in Detroit and make it pay." Why stoppe at Horseshoppe, Buck ole top?

Another important coming event—the School Board Election. The present board kept down expenses below the previous year, and with an additional teacher, too. 'N' whaddyaun-abouts that? Pretty good, we'll say!

"Thank you for these nice things you brought from the city, Miss R. Lanke," said little Junior to the Sunday visitor who always comes out to see us when flowers are in bloom. "Nothing to thank me for, Junior, dear. 'That's what I thought first, but Daddy told me to say it just the same." Whereupon daddy gardenite squared the circle by plucking an extra large bouquet for nuptial from Detroit, and one extra big bunch (including roses) for Miss E. Lanke. Which all goes to prove that daddy gardenite thinks more of the children than the tariff.

The Land Co. grasscutters are busy after the rain again. Also black dirt hauling is in season again; never were so many gardens in nucleus at the same time, according to Supt. Alfred Honeke, who is busy answering the phone for more dirt while not hauling it.

Lady Gardenite comes along and says, sez she—Very absorbing thing, this here 'R' grocer business, and including the butters they gave away and all the good things to eat, 'n' everything. Very absorbing, I must say. "Everything but the cans the sardines are tight in, out madam! And the rubber aprons they gave away with them Graham wafers, as it were. And as well, in this same lady is speaking in lanches like grapes. She further orates about this school board election business next month, she says that wouldn't it be nice to have a lady Gardenite on the board (school we mean and so did she), while her antonazolist lady says why not let the board alone and just not bother with it this hot weather. Well, the truth of the matter is this, we must have an election and if money serves the observer right, neither of these orators were present last year or even your before at the school election, so that's that!

Anyhow, let's all go this year and argue it out. More news next week, as we intend to find out something.

The other post noon a gang of sickly looking men from Ills. looking same, and as if they had just escaped lead poisoning in the Windy City, stopt by our local apple orchard and had a nice lunch from the biscuit and cheese and cold cooked department of "R" grocers. Along came a state police. "Cheese it," says one which means something or other, for they all laid down in the grass till said police's putter pattered past and in the distance could be seen or heard no more; whereupon all aforesaid folks left their luncheon to some kitty pups that had accumulated about somehow, and jumping in car suddenly drove opposite direction that police cop did.

Speaking of the newly weds up Stark way, or is down Bonaparte?—Gus, the painter's apprentice was heard to remark, "He's so dumb he thinks a baby couch is a nut in charge of the kindergarten feet ball team." Wondered about it ourselves once. Gus ole denr.

The roses about the mixing bar at "R" vitamin "B" dept. are not real roses, but things in the fountain are, for instance the new "Straw-gin"—ask for it, made and guzzled at no other place. Jack Matfield was the first victim, and he is still living and came back last night for more.

The McDowell job is done, and well. Now we think Chief of Const. is O. Key and the McDowells are all moved in.

Will someone kindly inform our local manual training instructor in the art of what's what. He claims he used to shoot deer down by our church, (how old is Ann?) "There are no deer down there," says a Buttermilk. "Granted," says M. T. L. "I shot them all." On the way to church Sunday, to hear Bill Townsend, we saw some dears coming from Sunday-school, and from said church saw the Hancock cows, and have a mind to write something about somebody about it, or something.

Mrs. B. Lanke hastened to explain that her son Joe's black eye was his football letter. But Ephemerals knows different, as football is not in season, and another thing (oh, shut up). This business bus, or trackless track, or trolleys, whatever it is, must be a good thing for real eaters. Guess we better get together, or some such thing, and kinda venturioner it up for same said thing. It is only twelve thousand buck dollars a mile, so can't see why we all can't get our heads and feet together and kinda push or rush it thru. The buses are sometimes flat tired and we miss dates with our sweetie, or are late to work or luncheons or bridgeons or something, where if we had D. S. R. all the way to Plymouth town we would (probably) have oftener schedule service times. Whataya say folks? Lets boost this trackless business, all the time, now, today, and boost after we get it. Ready everybody! Friends, citizens and Gardenites! Boost!

Cats with kittens are awful things to monkey business with; ask Snell's fox terrier, his nose knows, and how.

Another new improvement—the rock-bird-bath in Peter's garden. And, the Gallagher's rock garden. Peas are in season, at least in Joe Schroeder's garden, or should we say Mrs. Joe.

Frank Brown, way down on the E. J. Goodhold farms, has been setting out a number of varieties of his wonderful giant asters, of fancy names. Watch them grow, the asters we mean.

The best of home grown strawberries are to be found at our centralized market. Excellent for home canning, and for delaying the supper hour somewhat. Ask us, we know.

A young pair who, we hope, will soon be wed in our church, have been building castles in the air for some time, are about to decide where they will build the luncheonette on the ground, which is all good news as we know some woodturners, and brickmasons who wish and hope and pray every day some others will "make up" who are already wed and with childer, who have been building air castles for some time, who have not yet "made up" to become home owners here or hereafter, or Gardenites or elyptics or just plain cits somplace or where.

The nation's birthday next week! No explosives in Rosedale, safer and saunter than—

Went up for a steak dinner at our inn with some country cousins from down East. We were quite proud of the place and all, but friend C. C. was remarking he just couldn't eat with the odor of paint all around. "If you gentlemen will sit on the porch awhile, I am sure these college girls will be leaving in a few moments," says Mr. Joe. Which we and they did. And an enjoyable time was had by all.

There said one lady on our street (to a lady on another avenue) who, in referring to a recent issue of this column and an item therein about her offspring, "Have you read Ephemerals?" "How dare you!"—from second lady gardenite, as she went on beating her sofa pillows on the front lawn.

Boy Scouts Joe Schroeder, Jr., and Herbert Kalmbach are cleaning windows to earn money for camp expenses. Give the little big boys a job.

The Wrights have left for a long stay in Akron, Ohio. The T. A. Smiths of Louisville, Ky., have left, and will reside in Dearborn for awhile. A. M. Lucas has returned home, convalescing after a more or less serious operation and illness at the Henry Ford hospital.

Junior Buttermilk's birthday was last Monday after meridian and his mother was in a quandry as to where she could hide his birthday gift. "In the bathroom," says daddy Gardenite. Which all goes to prove why the birthday chocolate cake was made, cut and dished by mamma. Gardenite Junior, Sis and the kiddies all during daddy's working hours.

About 99% of our tennis players promised to help level up the courts. 7.19% responded to the call of the shovel and roller, and the other 91.81% are yelling like made as to whyfore and whenfore of the finishing. Brier Snell says it will be finished at about the same time as the 18th amendment is and Hoover doesn't know that. So let's all get busy and do something for our tennis, if not for our country. We don't want volunteers, we want regulars who will get busy now before Frost.

And the dancing dolls brought home the bacon again. Only it wasn't bacon—it was a brand new wrist watches. So it was that the Hollywood Theatre had some thirteen contestants, and our own Miss Loná Belle Robbe and Master Wesley Hoffman danced themselves into the good graces of the judges and audiences and were awarded the first prize last Saturday. Which all goes to prove our previous assertions that our kiddies are the best in all the world. (Will the parson kindly note we are not boasting but boasting and praising. And what's more, that's that!)

"What I'd like to find out," says Dad Plymouth, "is where the people who live beyond their incomes get the money to do it with."

STOMACH PAINS QUICKLY ENDED BY NEW KONJOLA

ILLNESS OF LIFETIME PRESENTS NO PROBLEM FOR FAMED COMPOUND—DETROIT MAN ENTHUSIASTIC.

MR. ERNEST DIONNE

"A plasterer by trade, it is necessary for me to keep feeling fit," said Mr. Ernest Dionne, 485 Vernon Highway, West, Detroit. "This has been practically impossible for me because I have suffered from stomach trouble for the past twenty years. In fact I have been handicapped by a weak stomach all my life. I have lived in Detroit since 1923 and during those years, and for many years previous, I tried many medicines and treatments but none helped me.

"I read of Konjola and its merits in the local papers. I can truthfully say it has relieved me of all my stomach disorders. I am glad to tell all my friends about Konjola and I am certainly happy to recommend it to all who suffer."

Konjola is a medicine that, when given a fair trial of from six to eight bottles, will amaze sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Every day of delay means just an added day of suffering.

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

The Treasurer called attention of the Commission to the maturity upon June 10th of a note in the amount of $4,514.17 together with interest, said note covering temporary loan for cemetery purposes. Kehrl the recommendation of the Treasurer was accepted and the interest upon the said note ordered paid, and authority given the President and Clerk to renew the said note. It was moved by Comm. Kehrl, supported by Comm. Hoyer that the tax rate for Village purposes for the current year be fixed at $13.50 per thousand and dollars of assessed valuation, and that the Assessor be directed to spread a roll upon the basis of the above rate and return same for approval of the Commission at a later regular meeting. Carried unanimously.

Upon motion by Comm. Kehrl supported by Comm. Hoyer the Commission adjourned.

GEORGE H. ROBINSON, President. A. J. KOENIG, Clerk.

Present, ERVIN R. PALMER, Judge of Probate. In the Matter of the Estate of BERTHA WOLFE ASH, deceased.

Charles Ash, Jr., administrator of said estate having rendered to this Court his Final Account and filed therewith a petition praying that the residue of said estate be assigned to the persons entitled thereto.

It is ordered, That the twenty-second day of July, next at ten o'clock in the forenoon at said Court Room, be appointed for examining said account and hearing said petition.

And it is further Ordered, That a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Plymouth Mail, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Wayne.

ERVIN R. PALMER, Judge of Probate. Theodore J. Brown, Deputy Probate Register.

JOHN S. DAYTON, Attorney for Mortgages, Plymouth, Michigan.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Fred J. Orr and Lena Orr, husband and wife, of Wayne County, Michigan, as mortgagors, to Charles R. Carson and Mary E. J. Carson, husband and wife, of the Township of Livonia, said County and State, as mortgagees, dated the twenty-second day of February, 1924, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Wayne and State of Michigan, in Liber 1248 of Mortgages, on page 484, on the twenty-fifth day of February, 1924, and the same mortgage has been deducted, under the terms of said mortgage, that the whole amount secured by said mortgage, has become due and payable, and that said mortgage there is claimed to be due and unpaid at the date of this notice, for principal, interest, taxes, and insurance premiums, the sum of Four Thousand Six Hundred Seventy-Six Dollars and Nine Cents ($4676.09), and no part or proceeds of law or in equity has been instituted to recover said money or any part thereof.

Orators Must Bow to Sentiment for Brevity

A shorthand expert says that Americans talk much faster than they did twenty years ago. In the old police and dignified deliberation weakening? Or is it the case, that if you don't talk fast, you don't get listened to? Do people regard it as an imposition that you should think you are entitled to all the time you like to make your utterance? Other people want to tell their stories, too.

It is irking to a long-winded though plucky person to have to whisk into the conversation and whisk out again. He wants time for his weighty observations to "sink in." Whereas, if he takes up too much time, some of his auditors on the outer fringes are sure to sink out.

The learned and verbose are at a disadvantage. The world has only so much time to spare and few are allowed to claim more than their share. Make it brief, is the universal sentiment. This being true, those who have something to say would better bide their time and keep their powder dry. "Don't fire till you see the whites of their eyes," said your best bombshell—F. H. Collier in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Qualities of Asbestos

The Emperor Charlemagne is said to have possessed a cloth of asbestos with which, after he had antonished his guests, after having partaken of a meal and imbibed freely of wine, his banqueting friends would be dulled to the proper degree of credulity. Then the emperor would grasp a corner of the tablecloth and sweep it from the rough-hewn table into the fire.

Startled, the guests would gather around and in amazement watch the flames vainly lick about the coverlet. Then the emperor would thrust in his hand and pull the cloth clear of the blazing coals, which had bleached it to whiteness, and return it to the table. A miracle, every one would exclaim, and it is said that even Charlemagne himself wondered.—New York Times.

Old-Time Party Emblems

Research does not reveal the continued use of the same emblems by the Federalist and Whig political parties. The black cockade worn on the hat was an emblem adopted by the Federalists during the troubles with France in 1798. Black Cocade Federalist was a term of reproach applied to members of the party during the days of its decline. The Whigs were sometimes called Snuff-Takers. Other names used particularly in illustrations were Cotton Whigs and Free-Soil party. This latter term was also applied to the later Democrats and Liberty party. In the Whigs' famous "Hoopla" campaign in 1840 there were torchlight processions carrying a miniature log cabin, a barrel of hard cider near the door with a pet rardoon chained to the roof.—Washington Star.

Divers' Perils Overcome

The greatest peril of the deep sea diver is that of his connections becoming entangled whereupon the diver is helpless either to get himself aloft or to signal for help. This danger is entirely overcome by the use of a diving apparatus which has been tested in England with entire success. It dispenses with the helmet and other impediments of the usual diving gear. The operator has a tank secured to his belt from which a supply of oxygen is obtained and a device for absorbing the carbonic acid gas of the exhaled air and thus the necessity of pumped air to him is disposed of.

Mollere's Death Dramatic

Mollere's last play was "Le Malade Imaginaire" and the story of that play is the history of his death. While critically ill he wrote this, one of his best comedies, around the figure of a man who was sick only in imagination. When it was produced he played the part of the man with the feigned illness. The night of its fourth production found Mollere much worse. He refused to disappoint his audience and went on. During the performance a convulsion seized him which he covered with a laugh. At the end of the evening he died.

Cradle for Baby Oysters

Paper cradles are being employed with success in the artificial culture of oysters. The cradles are cardboard lattices, like those used in partition egg crates, in which the baby oysters are kept. The system has been found to develop even-sized oysters, while eliminating the loss due to crowding and producing greater quantities of seed oysters from a given area than by the ordinary method of shell-planting.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Manganese in Steel Making

The steel industry takes approximately 90 per cent of all the manganese consumed in this country. The percentage of the metal which goes into the steel varies from around 1 per cent to as high as 12 per cent in steels in which particular hardness is desired. Manganese has long been used in removing oxygen from molten steel, but it is only of late years that its value as a hardening agent has been realized.

Ribbed Weaves

The ribbed silks are the epitome of style and practicality this spring. A navy blue or black frock in one of the ribbed silks with lingerie touches at neck and wrists, should be a first thought for office wear.

Warning for Those Who Have That "Help" Mania

He was the only one in the office who didn't smoke. Yet like Lord Nelson and those authors of sea stories who were proverbially seasick, he was continually thinking up something about an element not his own.

Always trying to help. The man at the next desk was struggling valiantly to rid the stem of his briar from a syrupy accumulation of eau de nicotine.

"Did you ever try the easiest way of cleaning out a pipe?" asked the man who was always trying to help.

All attention for the other. "If you've got any to clean this thing," said the pipe slave, "out with it."

"I was just going to say," suggested the first—"I was just going to ask—if you had ever tried oil?"

"Oil!—It was you, was it?" demanded the other. "It was you, was it? Every time I lay a pipe down on the desk, I come back and find you have saturated its insides with typewriter oil, and when I light it it smells!"

"Well, doesn't it clean it out—make it burn freer?"

A shower of pipes, the dictionary, the telephone book and the ink bottle was thrown at him as he dodged out of the door, whinnying:

"Well, I was only trying to help you."—Providence Journal.

His Age Catches Him

"The other day," remarked a comparatively young man who was beginning to lose the hair on the crown of his head, "I had the shock of my life. While doing some work in the basement I accidentally bumped into a low hanging pipe. I got such a bump that I feared I had broken the skin and I went upstairs to find out. I took a hand mirror and by manipulating it in conjunction with one in a dresser I finally was able to see the top of my head. I gazed in wonder and it took some time for me to realize that that nearly bald pate belonged to me. I couldn't, and don't realize that I had lost so much hair. As I look at myself ordinarily, that hair-my expansion doesn't appear to me, nor does it suggest itself when I brush my hair. I feel like a rapidly aging man. I wish I hadn't seen it!"

"Dirty" Story

The lady missionary was telling about her work among the heathen Chinese. "The children in the slums of China are dirty, very dirty. I hardly know how I may make clear to you the superlative degree of dirtiness that marks the children in the Orient. Perhaps this illustration will best suffice: Cherry Blossom, one of the maids employed at the mission, one day lost her daughter, Lotus Lily. She went out on the street and washed a dozen children's faces before she was able to find her own child."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Telephoning to Europe

When a person in the United States telephones to some one in Europe, the voice is brought over land wires to New York city, then on by land wires to the radio transmitting station at Rocky point, Long Island. From this sending station it goes by radio to Cupar, Scotland. Then it goes by land wire to London, and on the long-distance wires to its destination. The radio sending station in England is at Rugby, and the American receiving station is at Houlton, Maine.

Digging Holes With a Hose

When laying pipe under ground and it becomes necessary to go under a sidewalk, do not tear up your sidewalk, but use the following method: Take your garden hose and fasten a piece of pipe on it about ten feet long. Turn on the water and start digging with it. The water washes the dirt away so fast that it will surprise you how fast you can get under a sidewalk. This is much better than digging with a shovel and it does a better job.—Science and Invention.

Find Indian Snow Houses

A recent expedition of the Field Museum of Natural History has found that the Naskapi of Labrador build snow houses; and this is the first known instance of Indians using snow as house building material.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

Our reaction, as a pedestrian, to this new rubber type of pavement will probably be upward.

A mile of concrete pavement will shrink approximately 1 inches for the first 12 days after setting.

Engines really breathe through their breather pipes. That is why vented caps are used on these units.

Perhaps some day it will be practical to steer an automobile by talking to it, but it never will be possible to change the color of a traffic light by tooting at it.

It makes no difference what the weather may be; the three commonest causes of overheating generally are the same. In the order of their frequency they are: lack of water, lack of oil, and a broken fan belt.

Poison Proof Cups

A collection of rhinoceros horn cups, which the ancient Chinese thought were poison-proof, has been added to the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago. The belief came from the fact that the huge animal devoured poison weeds and herbs without injury to himself. The Field collection includes cups ranging from the Ming dynasty (1368-1644) to the Manchu dynasty (1644-1911).

Where Babies Thrive

New Zealand, which has so far beaten the world in saving the lives of infants, has again broken its own record. According to latest available records the number of deaths of infants for 1,000 live births during a year was very slightly over 84.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says his idea of a life-time job is membership on the committee just appointed in Chicago to check crime.

They say there will be music in heaven, but we hope that when we get there we don't find a lot of mosquitoes singing in the chorus.

The Plymouth man who wants to get a word in now and then after he is married ought to try marrying a woman who stutters.

There was one drawback in the lives of Adam and Eve. They couldn't brag how much better everything was "in the good old days."

SEEKS RICHES IN CITY; DIES CROOK

Police End Crime Career of Tennessean.

Toledo, Ohio.—Police concealed in ambush at a bandit's home for several days shot and killed the robber, Claude Allen, thirty, in a pitched battle with his gang while Allen's wife, Edna, twenty-six, and their son, John, three, crouched in a bedroom and looked on. The wife and child had been kept prisoners by police.

The other members of the bandit gang escaped. The discovery of several hundreds of dollars worth of loot in the Allen home definitely linked the gang with robberies in Flint, Jackson and Lenawee Junction, Mich., police say.

When officers arrived at the Allen home Mrs. Allen was packing a suitcase preparatory to leaving her husband because he would not give up his career of crime. Because of her imprisonment in the home she was unable to get any word of warning to him. Mrs. Allen and her son were asleep when the gun battle started.

Standing beside her husband's body Mrs. Allen related the story of the Alens since they came from Tennessee. She said:

"Claude didn't like farming. He got letters from up North, written by his boyhood friends, who had left Tennessee.

"They told how they went to dances, parks and theaters. They said they even had automobiles and wore their Sunday shirts to work.

Falls to Get Work. "Claude said: 'That's the place for us.' So we came up here in January. But he was disappointed when we got here, because there was no work. He got to walking the streets. He kept his lips tight and wouldn't say anything.

"While he was idle he met up with a couple of men. One of them was called 'Jem.' This 'Jem' made a proposition that he and his wife move in with us—that we get a bungalow together so as to cut down expenses. We thought that was a good idea and we did it.

"Then 'Jem' and Claude started staying out later and later at night and saying less and less when they come home. But they weren't working and Claude began bringing home all these things you say were stolen in Michigan. I knew something was wrong but Claude wouldn't say they were stolen.

Pleaded With Husband. "I pleaded with him. Got down on my knees and pleaded with him. I was crying but he wouldn't heed me. 'I don't know what you are doing,' I told him, 'but I don't like the looks of things. I want you to cut out this running around nights.

"But my tears were in vain. Then 'Jem's' wife and I talked things over and decided if our husbands were going to carry on that way we would leave them. We had a suspicion there was something wrong.

"I had had a job and had been taking the money I earned and buying furniture for our home on the installment plan. But I had to give up the job for a while because I'm going to have another baby in a few weeks.

"I couldn't keep up the payments on the furniture. The store was after me for money all the time and threatening to take it away. Recently I called them up and told them to come and get their furniture, that I was going back to Tennessee."

Mrs. Allen is being held at Beech house, a refugee home, until such time as her relatives in Tennessee arrange to take her home.

Michigan Happenings

Three hundred members of the retailers division of the Flint Chamber of Commerce soon will begin a new service designed to protect them against shoplifters and check swindlers. It is planned to have a member telephone headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building as soon as he hears of the presence of a shoplifter or bad check passer in his store, giving all the information in his possession. The information then will be relayed by two telephone operators as rapidly as possible to all other members.

Stephen Witter Dunwell, 87 years old, a pupil of James A. Garfield, who later became President of the United States, at Hiram College, in Ohio, died at Plainwell recently. Dunwell had as prized possessions several class reports signed by Garfield. Dunwell, born in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, and Garfield were reared in adjoining districts and were well acquainted prior to their connection with the institution. Dunwell moved to Michigan in 1865. He had been a Mason since 1864.

Word has been received at Hillsdale of the death of Prof. Eric P. Jackson, at Grenoble, France, where he was on a year's leave of absence from Hillsdale College doing research work at the Sorbonne and the University of Grenoble, under an American Field Service Fellowship awarded in 1929. Prof. Jackson was returning from a trip and was riding on a motor truck when a huge boulder crashed down the mountain side and onto the truck, killing four persons.

Because Alpena does not have a good landing field, Ed Dunn had to tow his new airplane all the way from Fort Wayne, Ind., to Alpena behind his auto. Dunn removed the wings from his light two-place ship, fastened them to the top of his auto and attached the tail of the plane to the rear of his car for the long drive. Since then he has been able to do some flying from a fairly level field 11 miles west of Alpena. An airport is to be built near the city soon.

The first official move by the city of Lansing to acquire an airport was taken by the city council when a temporary lease from the State Administrative Board of the State-owned airport west of Lansing was ordered drawn and returned to the council for approval. If approved, the next Legislature will be asked to give the city a permanent lease. The airport at present is being operated under a State license in the name of a Lansing aviation firm.

What is claimed to be the largest brook trout hatchery house in the United States has recently been completed at Manistiquette by the division of fisheries of the State Conservation Department. The building contains 250 standard fish hatchery troughs with a capacity of three and one-half million eggs. The trout hatched here will be distributed to rearing stations each Spring. The output this Spring was 3,225,000 brook trout and 521,000 brown trout fry.

Thomas J. Sippy, 12 years old, son of a noted Chicago specialist who died about a year ago, was injured fatally near Casnovia when struck by an automobile. The boy was riding on the rear of a motorcycle driven by Hugh Riddle, also of Chicago. In attempt to dismount his foot caught in the cycle brake and he stumbled backward into the path of a car driven by Jack Preston, of Casnovia. The boy died in a doctor's office.

The Rev. Able Brink, 65, of Lyndon, Wash., was fatally injured and the Rev. Martinus Dykshorn, 45, of Foremost, Alberta, was slightly hurt when a car driven by Lloyd Passmore collided with one driven by Dewey Hamerlund in Grand Rapids and careened on to the sidewalk into a group of delegates to Christian Reform Synod meeting there.

Europe Has Developed Another Billiardist

Europe has developed another billiardist who has a rating close to that of Edouard Horemans, Roger Conti, Felix Grange, Edmond Derbier and other noted cue stars from abroad. This latest headliner is Marcel Leemput of Belgium, a southpaw.

Van Leemput, when only nineteen, made an American tour with Horemans, a fellow countryman, about three years ago. At that time Horemans rated him the most promising billiard player in Europe. Just before leaving for Belgium he remarked: "I am coming back to America and when I do it will be to win the world's 152 ballkline championship."

And that was only three years ago. Since then Leemput progressed to such a point that he felt he had a chance to wrest the Belgian title from Horemans, a former world's champion, and challenged Horemans. But this far Horemans has not accepted.

London Exchange Fund for English Derby Cut

The extent to which the public participated in the English Derby Stock Exchange Members' Mutual Subscription Fund of London last year is shown by the official announcement that this year the amount shows a decrease from a record total of £1,000,000 to £87,000. Last year no ban was placed on the number of tickets purchasable by members of the London Stock Exchange. This year each member could obtain only 25 £1 "subscription receipts," thus limiting the fund to a maximum of about £100,000. The chief losers of the limitation are various charitable institutions, which used to receive a portion of the 10 per cent allotted to charity. Last year £100,000 was given for this purpose, and in all £250,000 has been distributed.

Friendly Enemies Meet

Accidentally in Detroit. Manager Jess Altenburg of the Hamilton team of the new Ontario league dropped into the office of the Detroit Tigers a few weeks ago to arrange for the transfer of some young players to his club. Just as Jess was leaving the office, he walked Knotty Lee, manager of a rival team, evidently bent on a similar mission. "You're just a few minutes too late, Knotty," said Jess. "I've arranged for the purchase of Bob Fothergill and several other stars." "You'll need them," retorted Knotty, "if you expect to win any games from my team."

Ford Offers New De Luxe Sedan

Ford De Luxe Sedan

THE De Luxe Sedan, recently added to the Ford line, is designed for those who desire distinctiveness and unusual comfort in an automobile. The interior is inviting and roomy with wide doors to both compartments. Absence of rear quarter windows gives the car a striking individuality and affords privacy to the occupants.

Other refinements include arm rests for the rear seat, mahogany finished garnish moldings on the windows and beneath the windshield, flexible robe rail and hardware in an attractive pattern.

The front seat is adjustable within a range of four inches to suit the convenience and comfort of the driver. It is moved quickly and easily by a small, inconspicuous handle in the front center of the seat just above the floor.

The De Luxe Sedan, like other Ford body types, can be obtained in any one of several color combinations.

Christian Science Notes

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, June 22.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And God saw everything that he had made and behold it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day" (Gen. 1:31).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is deathless, spiritual. He is above sin or frailty. He does not cross the barriers of time into the vast forever of Life, but he co-exists with God and the universe." (p. 298).

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Parish Picnic
The annual parish picnic will be held Saturday, June 28, beginning at 5:00 p. m., at Riverside Park. All members of the parish, children of the church school and their parents are invited and urged to attend this last social affair before the summer vacation. Bring your own lunch and join with all the rest in having a good time.
Ice cream will be furnished and games with prizes will be held for the young people. Children coming without their parents and having no means of transportation should meet at the church promptly at 5:00 o'clock. All others meet at Riverside Park, near the children's playground equipment, at the same hour. This picnic is sponsored by the Men's Club who urge all their members to be on hand. Everybody come.
Sunday, June 29, will be the closing season of the church school. Let us make an effort to have all the children present for this last school day until fall (and all the adults in church!). Let us keep as our motto: "God first; then all things in due order." Sunday is a day of "rest" and recreation for many, but it should be first of all a day of worship. Go to church next Sunday; it will make the rest of the day and week finer.

BAPTIST NOTES

Experience pot-luck supper social will be held in the Baptist church Friday evening at seven o'clock, to which every member and friend of the church is invited.
Rev. Riley will be in the pulpit this Sunday.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Mission Study class met with the Misses Rose and Gladys Foulton at their home in Canton township on Tuesday evening. The sumptuous board was set on the lawn and the evening passed merrily.
Mr. Nichol and family expect to spend the month of July on vacation. Rev. R. A. N. Wilson, Jr., will supply the pulpit of the Plymouth Presbyterian church during the absence of the pastor.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is the last Sunday of June, and with it closes one-half of 1930. How do you stand with the church and its affairs?
Beginning with Sunday, we will run our summer program. Each mass, 8:00 and 10:00, will be a low mass, with an instruction of 3-5 minutes.
The Rev. E. Paddock was with us last Sunday, and offered up the solemn high mass, imparting his priestly blessing to all. He was ordained to the priesthood June 8, and is an alumnus of the first graduating class of Sacred Heart seminary.
Next Friday, July 4, Rev. F. C. Lefevre will be ordained a priest fifteen years, and a pastor of his church almost ten years.
Delbert Klug and Naomi Block were married last Tuesday morning.
Nathan defeated Bobn Alumnus of Detroit, last Sunday, 8-1. Come out next Sunday to Newburg and watch the boys play.

Famous Phrases Traced to Their Right Origin

It seems that the public has been wronging the memory of that doughty merchant and railroad builder, Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, these many years. It wasn't the commodore, to whom the phrase is usually attributed, but his eldest son, William H., who made that famous declaration of policy, "The public be damned!" according to the Golden Book Magazine.
The phrase has lived, it is found, since 1833, and was ejaculated by the second of the railroad dynasty on an occasion when he was asked whether the customers of his railroad should be consulted about the service and equipment of his trains.
The magazine, seeking out the authentic sources of other famous phrases, finds that "To the victor belong the spoils" was coined by Senator William L. Marcy in 1832. Marcy was defending Andrew Jackson's policy of ousting opposition office holders in wholesale fashion and substituting his own followers.
"A square deal" was made famous by Theodore Roosevelt, who used it in a speech for Spanish war veterans in 1903: "If they are good enough to shed blood, they are good enough to get a square deal afterward."
"I would rather be right than be President," another phrase whose origin is sinking into obscurity, was first spoken by Henry Clay in 1850, in his compromise speech which is generally credited with helping postpone the Civil war.
"The almighty dollar," it is found, first appeared in Washington Irving's account of southern Creole villages where he found that minted ditty "seems to have no genuine devotees."

Franklin "Wonder Man"

of Eighteenth Century

Biographers have written about Franklin an American. Professor Fay presents not only the American but also the man of the world—the first bourgeois in the world. Search the annals of the Eighteenth century from beginning to end in every corner of the world; nowhere will you find such a figure. Franklin's accomplishments are simply astounding. He did not live in an age of specialization. He was a master of many trades.
He was at once the leading journalist in America, printer and publisher of a far-famed almanac, internationally known scientist, inventor of the first wood-burning stove and a dozen other comfort-giving and useful appliances, the best swimmer in America, founder of the first public library in America, founder of the University of Pennsylvania and various learned societies, diplomat par excellence, master propagandist and pamphleteer, early advocate of world peace, Constitution maker, politician, philosopher—and a man among men.

Early Horseback Riders

Disdained the Saddle

Ancient Greeks rode bareback or used a saddlecloth. Even the saddlecloth does not appear to have been used until the Fifth century. Xenophon says that the saddlecloth had been adopted by the Athenian cavalry, and from his advice as to the seat to be adopted pads or rolls seem to have been added. There were no stirrups until the time of the Emperor Maurice, 602. On a funeral monument of the time of Nero, in the museum at Mainz, is the figure of a horseman on a saddlecloth with something resembling the pommel and cantle of a saddle, but the first saddle proper is found in the so-called column of Theodosius at Constantinople, usually ascribed to the end of the Fourth century A. D., though it may be more than 100 years earlier.
In medieval times the saddle was much like that of the oriental saddle of today. In the military saddle of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth centuries the high front parts were armored. The side-saddle is said to date from the end of the Twelfth century.

South African Prudishness

South Africa has been through the turmoil of a public morals campaign so far as dress is concerned. At Durban the police actually used a tape measure on the bathing costumes; at Capetown headdress bathing suits were banned, and in Johannesburg a magistrate sent a man to prison because he turned up in court in "rational dress"—shorts and an open-necked collar.
This need surprise nobody, because it is all the spirit of the founders of the country. For instance, the sumptuary laws of the Dutch East India company in 1755 stipulated that:
"None but persons of highest rank can carry umbrellas in any weather. Ladies are forbidden to wear trains, and bridesmaids and brides have to dress according to their station in life."
For no one but the governor and the council of polity, his advisers, may dust, the sign of woe, be sprinkled before the door after death."

"Charmed" Away Disease

The magic word "abracadabra" is supposed to be derived from Abrasax and was used as an incantation against fevers, inflammation and agues, according to the earliest known authority, Serenus Sammonicus, agnostic and physician in the Second century to the Emperor Caracalla (Marcus Aurelius). Serenus prescribed that the word be written in the form of an inverted cone, the paper to be folded in the form of a cross and worn on a linen band as an amulet for nine days and then before sunrise thrown backward into a stream flowing east. This procedure made the spirit of the disease lose its hold on the patient.

Old Shipbuilding Center

Amesbury, Mass., only six miles from the sea on the Merrimack river, was one of the most important shipbuilding towns of the country during the most of the Eighteenth and the first quarters of the Nineteenth century. The Polly, which survived until it was the oldest American ship afloat, was launched there, as was the frigate Alliance, which was one of the fleet commanded by John Paul Jones in the memorable engagement in which the Bon Homme Richard and the Serapis engaged in a memorable sea duel.—Detroit News.

THE MOTOR QUIZ

(How Many Can You Answer?)

- Q. How does the United States compare with other countries in the number of airplane factories?
- Ans. The United States has 180 airplane factories, compared with 71 in other countries.
- Q. How do automobile and airplane operating costs compare?
- Ans. The "average" automobile costs 0.43 cents to operate, compared with 0.33 cents a mile for the "average" airplane, costing $3,000 and powered with a 30 horse power motor.
- Q. In 10,000 miles of car travel, what is the saving in cost of oil if the engine is equipped with an oil filter?
- Ans. About $21.
- Q. What is the average amount of dirt and abrasives removed by an oil filter in 10,000 miles?
- Ans. About two pounds.

Many Windshield Wipers Bothersome by Slipping

Many types of windshield wipers cause trouble when not in use by slipping down into the line of vision. A simple and positive wiper holder is illustrated. Drill a one-eighth-inch hole through the glass and fit a short screw and nut so that the end of the screw will project just enough to act as a retaining pin. While this arrangement necessitates reaching outside the windshield in closed cars, it is ideal, because of its neat appearance, on sport roadsters.—Popular Science Monthly.

This suggests a practical way of keeping the windshield wiper out of the line of vision.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

"I want one of those horns," said Brother Charley to the clerk in the auto accessories place, "the kind that sounds as if its voice is changing."

If you have trouble starting the car, hold the clutch pedal down as you step on the starting button. This will give the engine less work to do as it turns over.

Back home in the early days of motoring you could drive around in the winter ruts for miles at a time without putting a hand to the steering wheel.

We don't know that there is as much demand for an automobile that can be controlled by the human voice as there is for a horn that will respond to "Sh!"

If the spark plugs are dirty or burned, the motorist provoked with the slow starting of his car has a handy remedy in cleaning or replacing the plugs.

An oil soaked fan belt can be cleaned with kerosene and then treated with castor oil. In an emergency, some fullers earth can be sprinkled on the leather or fabric.

MOPTON PICTURE

"PLAYING AROUND"

ALICE WHITE'S latest picture for First National, "Playing Around," with Chester Morris as leading man, will be seen at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, June 27 and 28.

The story is an adaptation of Vina Delmar's "Sheba" and is supposed to be one of the best vehicles in which the little blonde-haired, brown-eyed actress has appeared. As Sheba Miller, a stenographer, she is awed by the manners and money of a gangster-about-town, sufficiently so that she gives up her soda jerker boy friend. But the drug store boy makes good with Sheba.

Four clever song hits were written by the well known team of Green and Stept for the lavish musical numbers, which occur in the "Pirate's Den," a night club. They are "You're My Captain Kidd," "The Lowdown on the Lowdown," "You Learn About Love Every Day," and "Playing Around."

Miss Delmar, author of "Kept" and other widely read stories, personally selected Miss White for the leading role in the screen adaptation of her novel.

Chester Morris and William Bakewell portray the men in the case. Others in the company are Richard Carlyle, Marion Byron, Maurice Black, Lionel Belmore, Shep Camp and Ann Brady.

"TRUE TO THE NAVY"

THE new Clara Bow, who caused such a furor of excitement in the brief glimpse possible in "Paramount on Parade," is back with an eye-filling of charms in her latest "IT" hit, "True to the Navy," to be seen at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, June 29 and 30.

She is slim, lithe, peppy, and has all the famous vitality and vivaciousness which have made her the most popular female star in motion pictures. In "True to the Navy," she brings a real enthusiasm, a new beauty and appeal.

"True to the Navy" is all Clara Bow. A soda-fountain girl with a great personality, she has all the sailors from the fleet wild about her. Every boat that comes into port brings a special boy-friend for the "Redhead." She has only about half-a-dozen steady beaux. Each thinks himself the only one. Clara is whole-hearted, a good sport, none of the gobs means more than a good friend to her. Then the whole fleet drops anchor at once, and Clara's clamoring boy-friends try to settle their rights by force. When this doesn't work, they all declare war against her.

Then Clara meets a new boy-friend, Frederic March, and loses her heart. Just as March is about to pop the question, to which Clara is eager to answer yes, her discarded suitors warn March that Clara is a heartless flirt. March veers off. But Clara goes after her man, proves she loves him and adds a wedding ring to her collection of souvenirs.

In addition to Clara and March, who will be remembered as Clara's boyfriend in "The Wild Party," Harry Green, the funny man of "Kibitzer" and "Honey," furnishes loads of laughs. The supporting cast is exceptionally good, and includes Sam Hardy, recently seen as the race-track promoter in "Burning Up."

"True to the Navy" is a fast-moving romance with a nautical tang. Doubtless a forest-fire of "IT" Frank Tuttle, director of "Sweetie" made it

"LOVIN' THE LADIES"

RICHARD DIX, in the role of an electrician who masquerades in high society, comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre Saturday, July 3, in the all-talking comedy-romance, "Lovin' the Ladies." It is the star's second Radio Picture, an adaptation of the successful stage play, "I Love You," by William Le Baron, vice president in charge of RKO production.

Instead of the traditional heroine, Dix is involved with four women. They are Lois Wilson, formerly co-starred with him; Rita La Roy, Radio Pictures' "IT" girl; Rones Macready, English actress and Virginia Sale, sister of Chile.

When the star becomes involved in this "quintangle" story, excitement, suspense, drama and hilarity are the result. The direction was in the capable hands of Mel Brown, who has directed a number of Dix's most successful silent and talking pictures.

Others in the cast are Allen Kearns, Anthony Bushell, and Henry Arno. "Lovin' the Ladies" is both philosophical and farcical in nature, presenting Richard Dix in a romantic comedy role that promises to win favor with all of his admirers.

Another good way to tell Plymouth mothers and daughters apart is by looking at their hands. Mother's are slightly red from dabbling in dish-water.

Today's Reflections:

This old world would be a much nicer place in which to live if all wild life was confined to the woods and fields.

By the time the average college boy of today succeeds in accumulating horsehide, the pigskin, the coonskin and finally the sheepskin, poor father hasn't much hide left either.

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Bayer Pharmacy.

Canny Modern Youth

A staff of copy boys employed at one of the local morning papers has a new—and lucrative—trick.

Just before edition time, when the rewrite men and copy-readers begin to yearn for food after a hard night, the boys are kept on the run to the restaurants. If asked for suggestions they readily answer.

Some of the boys suggest milk shakes and malted milk; others, near-beer.

It was recently learned just why these suggestions were always made. When a milk shake is ordered there is generally enough made up for two glasses. The boy drinks one and brings the other down.

When you purchase near-beer you must leave a 5-cent deposit for each bottle. The boy collects and pockets this when he returns the containers.—Philadelphia Record.

'CHUTES STUDIED BY EXPERT FOR NAVY

Recent Improvements Are Being Given Tests.

Washington.—J. E. Sullivan of the aeronomics bureau of the Navy department, has been assigned to study parachute problems.

A cotton substitute for the silk used in parachutes is being subjected to experiments. The substitute is cheaper, according to Sullivan. While commercial interests are employing cotton to a certain extent, the bureau has not arrived at any definite conclusion regarding its use for naval purposes, he said.

There are four major manufacturers of parachutes today, while there were only one or two five years ago, he pointed out.

A recent improvement made by one manufacturer has been to make the pack perform the functions of the pilot parachute.

The pilot parachute on the ordinary chute is the first to open, and drags the larger one after it. When the rip cord releases the spring on this new type, the bottom of the pack opens and replaces the old type of pilot.

Another manufacturer has improved his product by reducing the size, which, although it makes the rate of descent faster, opens more quickly. Still another manufacturer is working on a triangular shaped parachute, which is claimed to have the feature of being steerable.

Improper operation in the releasing device and improper packing are the two principal causes of accidents in the use of parachutes, the bureau's study shows. The present development of parachutes is being worked out to a large extent on increasing their performance characteristics—making them stronger, more durable, with smaller packs, and less bulky.

The features which the navy desires to see stressed, according to Sullivan, are the certainty and rapidity of opening, slow rate of descent, which must be about twenty feet a second, and non-oscillating action.

Refused the Hint

Although Emerson and Thoreau, the naturalist, were fellow townsmen, they did not meet until after Thoreau—who was the younger by fourteen years—had left Harvard and set up as a school teacher in Concord. Then they often went for rambles together and during one of these walks Thoreau told Emerson "a good story about a boy who went to school with him, Wentworth, who resisted the school mistress' command that the children should bow to Doctor Heywood, Concord's town clerk, and other gentlemen as they went by, and when Doctor Heywood stood waiting and cleared his throat with a hem, Wentworth said: 'You needn't hem, doctor. I shan't bow.'"—Kansas City Times.

Woes of Restaurateur

The gag about the proprietor of a restaurant who always went out for lunch is misty with age, but a near duplicate of it in real life was discovered the other day.

In Times square there is a manager of a cafe who always appears dejected about something. He confided in a friend the other day at 3 p. m. that he had not had a thing to eat that day.

"Watching people eat all the time ruins my appetite," he said, as he surveyed the smart interior of the restaurant. "They always are eating sweet stuff."

"My favorite dish? Corned beef and cabbage, my boy, every time!"—New York Sun.

Rules for Laying Shingles
The bureau of standards says in general it is advisable to apply new wood shingles over the old. All loose shingles should be securely nailed, protruding nails driven in, and warped edges of shingles cut off with a chisel to make the surface as uniform as possible. To obtain a neat job and to retain good roof lines, cut away a few inches of the old shingles at the eaves and gables and lay in, where they are cut away, a furring strip, or batten, to hide the sides and butts of the old shingles.

Smooth Pavements Lower Expenses of Surfacing

Bump-consuming balloon tires and shock absorbers do not constitute an excuse for building wavy or uneven pavements.

Although the modern automobile is a finely devised mechanism, comfort and low vehicle operating costs are still dependent upon the smoothness of the road surface.

Recognition of this is given by practically all state highway departments in the placement of hard-surfaced pavements. Samuel Eckels, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania department of highways, recently announced Pennsylvania's noteworthy achievement in building 276 miles of "excellent" concrete rural roads—pavements on which the motorist cannot detect any perceptible vibration.

The Pennsylvania demand for the grading "excellent" is that the "roughometer," a wheeled device that measures all tiny ridges and valleys in the pavement surface, shall not show more than 25 accumulated inches of roughness per mile.

Medieval Danzig Attracts

Though much is said about the busy modern city of Danzig—free city on the Baltic—the medieval Danzig is much more attractive to tourists. Above the steep roofs of the town stands St. Mary's cathedral, dating from 1334. It has a massive tower 247 feet high, and 10 slender Gothic turrets—a magnificent monument. The town hall is one of the finest fourteenth century buildings in Europe, and all the streets are lined with beautiful old houses and public buildings made of mellow brick. And where else can be found a city that has an equally attractive setting on the water and with a background of fir-tree forests as has Danzig?

Just the Thing

"I want to buy that book in the window called 'How to Captivate Men,'" said the little girl to the assistant in the bookshop.

The man looked dubiously at the little girl.

"That's not the sort of book for you," he said; "what do you want it for?"

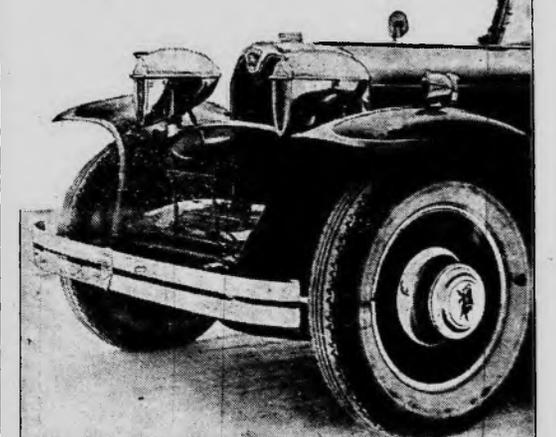

"I want to give it to my daddy for a birthday present," replied the child. "But surely there are hundreds of books he would rather have," advised the assistant.

"No, I know he would like that one," persisted the little girl. "You see he's a policeman."
