

$3,500,000 WILL BE SPENT FOR GRADE SEPARATIONS THIS YEAR IN WAYNE CO.

50 Per Cent of the Expense Paid By Wayne County. Eventually No Railroad Will Cross Any County Concrete Road at Grade.

Hand in hand with the widening and building of new concrete roads and with the reconstruction of the entire bridge system of Wayne County goes our program of railroad grade separations, according to a statement by Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines.

While we are believers in programs of safety education, we know that making a road physically safe by the elimination of crossings at grade, is far more important and for a number of years past we have been carrying on a definite, systematic continuing plan of grade separations as rapidly as funds become available and we are able to secure favorable action from the railroads involved. The railroads pay 50 per cent of the cost of any grade separation project including property damage.

Eventually, no railroad will cross any county concrete road at grade.

Our 1930 program provides for the expenditure of $1,750,000.00 as the county's share of the construction cost which will be matched by an like amount from the various railroads, stated Mr. Hines.

Edward N. Hines Files For County Road Commissioner

Petitions signed by 6588 voters have been filed with the county clerk, nominating Edward N. Hines to succeed himself as County Road Commissioner of the Republican ticket. This is nearly three times as many signatures as are required by law.

Mr. Hines has served continuously as road commissioner ever since Wayne County adopted the county road system. At that time there was no paved street, a mile of road paved or a modern bridge in Wayne County. Under Mr. Hines' leadership, the first mile of county concrete road in the world was built. At the present time Wayne County has a greater mileage and a larger yardage of concrete road than any like area in the world.

This county has also been the pioneer in road marking, snow cleaning, tree planting, public comfort facilities, elimination of grade crossings, planning for superhighways, etc., and is known nationally as the leader in modern road development.

Atkinson-Hallahan

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Atkinson, Grand River Ave., Novi, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday evening, July 5th, at eight o'clock when Miss Mary Ann Hallahan, daughter of Mrs. Anna Hallahan of Fenwick, Michigan, became the bride of George F. Atkinson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Richards, pastor of the First Methodist church at Northville, before a banquet hall with palms and flowers. The bride was charming in a gown of shell pink tulle and white net, made on long flowing lines with an ankle length skirt and natural waistline. The close-fitting bodice was adorned with tiny puff sleeves. The bride's bouquet was of Opelia roses, baby's breath and delphinium. The bride was attended by her sister, Kathryn, who was gowned in nice green chiffon and lace. A narrow belt marked the waistline and the skirt was of ankle length. She carried a bouquet of Columbia roses and baby's breath.

George Kahri served as best man, Carroll Wilken Atkinson, niece of the groom was flower girl. She wore a dainty frock of pink organdy and carried a basket of forget-me-nots and pink rosebuds.

Just before the ceremony, Miss Thelma Garlick of Farmington, cousin of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly."

The wedding march was played by Mrs. John Walter of Fenwick.

Miss Frances Shanks of Detroit, had a buffet lunch which was served to forty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson departed for a motor trip through Wisconsin and northern Michigan, and upon their return they will reside at 463 Ann Street, Plymouth.

A CORRECTION

The Mail desires to correct an error which appeared last week in the news story concerning the Millard Union High school. The Mail reporter unintentionally omitted the name of Jean Hamill from the program, and credited the piano number she played to Thelma Lunsford. The part played by Thelma Lunsford was "Arrival of Friends," by Lichner. Jean Hamill was very much in evidence during the recital, and the piano piece she played was "A Letter from Auntie," also by Lichner. The Mail and the reporter equally regret the omission and the error. It seems errors do creep in occasionally, and when they do occur we are always glad to have them reported.

Warren Road Grade Crossing

An agreement has just been signed with the Detroit Terminal Railroad, the City of Detroit, the City of Dearborn, and the Department of Street Railways of the City of Detroit providing for a grade separation at the Warren Avenue crossing of the Detroit Terminal Railroad at the limits of the two cities, stated Mr. Hines. This grade separation will provide two 37 1/2 foot roadways and two 8 1/2 foot sidewalks. The entire job will be completed about November 1st. We feel that this project is very desirable from the standpoint of the safety of traffic attracted by the County Airport, stated Mr. Hines.

Additional Grade Separations Under Negotiation

Negotiations are constantly in process for additional separation of grade crossings.

Notably at the present time is an agreement with the Pere Marquette Railroad covering the construction of two adjacent grade separations at Ford road and at Cassan Boulevard just north of Michigan Avenue in the City of Dearborn. It is quite likely that construction will be under way some time this summer so that these projects can be completed early next year, stated Mr. Hines.

Another Important Grade Crossing

Another important grade crossing which we hope to see completed is located at the Miller road crossing of the Michigan Central Railroad main line and the Ford Motor Company tracks in the City of Dearborn. It is proposed to carry Miller Road over the railroads with a full elevation, the approaches to be partially earth fill retained with reinforced concrete walls and partially viaduct construction, steel beam spans carried on steel bents.

Good progress is being made on Ford road grade separation with the Pere Marquette and Pennsylvania railroads just east of the Rouge bridge in the City of Detroit, stated Mr. Hines.

Three Grade Separations on the Southfield 204-foot Superhighway

Three grade separations on the Southfield 204-foot Superhighway began last year are completed and traffic is now using the facility provided to good advantage.

Big Fireworks At Edgewater Park

So great was the public reception of the gorgeous fireworks display, July 4, that Paul Helme, manager of Edgewater Park, has announced that every Wednesday night during the park's season, there will be a display of spectacular fireworks, free to the public.

Another big event is the coming of McKinney's Cotton Pickers to the Edgewater Park ballroom which has brought this popular amusement park the spotlight of the dancing world. The famous Cottonpickers are now at Jean Goldkette's Edgewater Park ballroom for a two weeks' engagement.

During the coming week Edgewater Park has been selected for some of the largest outings of the year. Tuesday night being in charge of the Happy Home Bakers, Friday of the Aero Gasoline Company, and in the near future, the Cocoa Cola Bottling Company will stage a night of merriment for every person who drinks Cocoa Cola.

On these special nights there are free rides and free amusements and in addition prices are reduced on nearly all other riding devices and shows.

Two of the latest rides of Coney Island are listed among the various new attractions at Edgewater Park and are proving popular with Fun-On-The-Farm, another new attraction this year, providing laughs and comic situations for thousands each week.

Early in August, the big celebration of the opening of the Grand River night way includes one big day and night of the celebration at Edgewater Park, free rides and free amusements to be given to the Grand River celebrants. Every one is invited by the Grand River merchants to attend.

Perry Richwine Writes of Air Tour

We are pleased to publish the following interesting letter from Perry Richwine, who last week made a trip to Los Angeles, Calif., by airplane.

T. A. T.—MADDEX AIR LINES
In flight.

July 3, 1930,
10:30 Plymouth Time
8:30 Where I am

We are about 4000 feet up in the air over New Mexico. I can't read the license plates from here, but I know it to be true. We took off from the airport which is about five miles from the town and soon after taking off, the mate assistant to the Captain passed out the air necessities, namely a package containing some absorbent cotton to put in our ears and some chewing gum to help keep the breakfast down. It got rough going over the mountains the gum will be very handy. In front of me and fastened to the leg of the chair is a little round waxed cardboard carton, which looks like Vaseline's quart ice cream containers, with the following written on the top: "For your convenience in case of air sickness. There is one at every chair."

This plane is flying up very nicely with dining little drapes on the windows. The windows are made so that you can open them. Mine is open and I am enjoying a nice, cool breeze. There are, also, all kinds of magazines and writing equipment.

We are just getting over a slightly mountainous district and there isn't a sign of water anywhere. There was a rain storm last night and the water is all gone now, so you can imagine how hot it is on the ground. The small mountains have quite a few curves and look like ferns laying on the sand. This is very little vegetation and the houses appear to be about three or four sections apart which will be about three or four miles. It is very easy to distinguish the sections in most places. Counting the sections I would judge that I can see about fifteen miles in every direction.

It says to fly over the mountains and the only trees visible now are right near the houses, where they are practically a necessity because of the heat.

The pilot has just turned a little to follow along a small mountain ridge. The biggest objection to traveling by air is the speed which the plane appears to be traveling. It seems as if we were only going about five miles an hour, when, in fact, we are going about one hundred miles per hour. They have used nothing but trimotored planes in flight. From Detroit to Chicago, Ford Stout planes were used; from Chicago to Kansas City, Fokker trimotored planes; and from Kansas City to Ford Stout planes. We traveled about twenty-five percent faster by Fokker than by Stout plane.

The mate just came back and yelled in my ears that we were turning back to the airport to pick up two passengers. He just received a radiogram instructing him to turn back and pick up these passengers and then to change his course so as to get down as much time as possible. We left Clovis at the same time the fast train left and we should reach Los Angeles between four and five o'clock today. The train is not due there until 5:20 tomorrow afternoon. The distance by train is about 250 miles and about 900 miles by air.

We have a very congenial mate on this ship. He noticed me writing and has just brought me a fine lap board to use for a desk. This is a great improvement over the "Good Housekeeping Magazine" I was using to write on.

We are just about to the airport again to pick up the two important passengers who had nerve enough to radio for us to return and pick them up. They must be salesmen or newspaper men.

I have used up most of the stationery handy and we are dipping down toward the ground now, so will close.

Los Angeles, Cal.
July 4th

This morning we left New Mexico with a green pilot who was, apparently, substituting. He got lost over the desert and took an hour and a half to find himself, during which time, and after, he never missed an air pocket. The plane rocked like a rowboat in the ocean and believe me, air sickness has sea sickness beat all hollow because you can't stick your head out the window of the plane. I got out the trip, however, as I did not feel sick like most of the others.

We landed at Glendale at nine o'clock Plymouth time, six o'clock mountain time. The temperature was about 98 inside the plane every time we landed and we had to get up 20,000 feet before it would get down to 75 or 80.

STATE HOSPITAL WORK RUSHED

Construction of the new administration building of the Ypsilanti State Hospital is moving ahead and the rest of the building is advancing accordingly.

The site of the hospital is a scene of ceaseless activity during the working hours of the day, and the great amount of buildings is coming up out of the ground as if by magic. A fleet of trucks is constantly bringing in materials. Building steel has been added to the supply of sand, gravel, cement and reinforcing and miscellaneous materials. With the excavation of the dining room, administration, and bed patient buildings practically finished, excavation work on the warehouse and laundry buildings has been started.

Steam shovels have already begun the excavations in the southwest corner. Approximately 315 men are now at work and more are being placed as rapidly as work progresses.

Local Attorney Addresses Kiwanis Club Tuesday

Last Tuesday noon Attorney Paul L. Brooks gave an interesting talk on the Naval Pact and the question of disarmament. He stressed the fact that England did not want any other country to be master of the seas, and went on record as being in favor of reasonable preparedness as the best remedy to discourage war and make for universal peace. He also gave a number of excellent reasons why the United States should refrain from entering into entangling alliances and treaties with foreign powers.

Dr. Carl F. January was in charge of the program.

Big Time At Michigan Fair

Indians racing bareback, cowboys and cowgirls riding untamed and bucking broncos, and cowboys leaping from speeding ponies to twist a plunging steer to the ground, during cowboy galloping around the track atop a charging, maddened steer. All of these thrilling hair-raising stunts of the western frontier will be seen again at the Michigan State Fair, Michigan's greatest annual event, August 31 to September 6, when the Stampede is staged as a feature of the Fair. It will be shown each week-day afternoon and evening and will be on a bigger and more elaborate scale than when it was shown in Detroit the first time at the fair last year.

Cowboys and cowgirls who have won championships at the big round-ups of the west will be seen competing for the many thousands of dollars that are offered in prizes during Fair week and already entries are pouring in for the events. Until the entry lists close it will not be known just who will compete.

The contests are open to the world and will be under the direction of that veteran of western sports, "California Frank" Hanley.

Making the events even more realistic of early frontier days, an Indian village will be established at the Fair Grounds and the "Wahoo" of the redskins will mingle with the "yip yip eee-ee-yah" of the cowboys. These Indians brought from the reservations of the West through special arrangements with the government, will be augmented by representatives from the Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota tribes, all forming a great Indian congress. Mounted on their fleetest ponies, the bucks and the squaws will compete in bareback races and in the picturesque travois races, in which poopers in their baskets ride the bouncing boughs of the Indian drags. The Indian camp will be open to the public.

Steer wrestling, probably the most dangerous of western sports, will be the feature of the Stampede, an event that will thrill for every second. Out of the corral darts an angry steer. Two daring riders start in pursuit. At full gallop, our cowboy reaches out, seizes the steer's horns, slips from his saddle and baits the animal. In the next few seconds follows the most interesting contest between man and beast anywhere offered, usually resulting in the steer toppling on its side. The starter's red flag is lowered and the announcer states that a new record has been made. There, covered with sweat and dust, stands your world's champion steer wrestler.

But it is not quite so easy as it sounds. First, the steer is no paltry pet, but a long-horned lighter, weighing from 800 to 1,000 pounds, and selected for his ferocity. The lightning has a 30-foot start. The cowboy slips up on the "off side," and rushes up close to the steer's head. At just the right moment he seizes from his horns and grasps the beast's horns. In another split second, a half a ton of beef and a cowboy have landed amid a cloud of dust. Trained steer wrestlers tip the horns at just the right angle to throw all four feet off the ground, keeping the steer down until the hooker gets the time.

Hiding with Brahms steers is dangerous and thrilling. These beasts are a cross between the Mexican longhorns and the sacred cattle of India. All efforts to tame them have failed. Although the cattle may be herded without difficulty, the moment one is "bent" from the head he is ready to fight at the drop of the hat. To keep on though the cattle may be herded with high degree of daring and skill.

Bronco busting, another sport to be seen, provides a thrill a second. The plunging outlaw horses are led or driven from the corral to the arena. At the starter's gun the cowboys desperately endeavor to saddle the snorting broncos. After a thrilling struggle, one of the cowboys manages to buckle his cinch and mounts. But the bucking horse starts on a stampeed in the wrong direction. Then another mounts and off they go, pitching, rearing and whirling until they come to the first turn of the oval track. Here one of the horses refused to follow the course and crashes into the fence. Here, skill only can save the rider from injury. In the fraction of a second, he is either going to slick or "eat dust." Broken necks and world champions are made so fast that the eye is unable to catch the events. "Bite in cowboy," "Fetter buck," "re-chocor the cry. Whether it be in Cheyenne, Calgary, Pendleton or at the great western Stampede on the Fair Grounds, followers of frontier sports will be there to boast the cowboy to success—or the hospital.

Plenty of entertainment and lots of red thrills await those who take in the Stampede while visiting the Fair—and a record crowd from all over the state is expected at the 81st annual exposition this year. The Stampede will be seen each week-day afternoon and evening. The fair will open Sunday, August 31, with a sacred concert by the Creation's band, and continue through September 6.

VAN DER VRIES GIVES INTERESTING DISCUSSION

U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE EXPERT SHOWS WIDE KNOWLEDGE OF CURRENT ECONOMIC PROBLEMS.

John N. Van der Vries, manager of the Northern Central Division of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce with headquarters at Chicago, and Mrs. Van der Vries were guests of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Monday evening, July 7th. Mr. and Mrs. Van der Vries were entertained at dinner by Arthur E. Blunk, president of the Plymouth Chamber, and Mrs. Blunk and Secretary Moore and Mrs. Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Van der Vries were overnight guests of the Hotel Mayflower, and left for Wayne Tuesday morning, where Mr. Van der Vries addressed a noon meeting held under the joint auspices of the Wayne Chamber and Wayne Rotary Club. They are making an extensive motor trip through Michigan and Wisconsin, and as Mr. Van der Vries humorously explained, he took much like the old-fashioned pasture making protracted calls on his dock and string to it that calls made around the dinner and supper hours fall at places where he can count on a good meal.

Due to the warm weather and vacation period, the attendance was not large, but a representative group of Plymouth business and civic leaders were present to listen to Mr. Van der Vries' intensely interesting and instructive observations regarding the work of the National Chamber, the problems which have beset our country since the stock market crash of last fall, and the forecast for the future.

Mr. Van der Vries strongly recommended that the local chamber form a National Affairs Committee to study and pass on matters of national and sometimes international scope and interest which from time to time are submitted to all member organizations of the U. S. Chamber for referendum vote. According to Mr. Van der Vries the standpoint of the National Chamber is strictly impartial. For example, when a subject or question of widespread interest arises, the National Chamber of Commerce forms a committee composed of the best informed minds available to study the subject from every angle. When this committee reports their findings they are submitted to member organizations, such as our chamber of commerce, for a vote for or against. The National Chamber, however, takes no stand for or against. They merely give every conceivable and reasonable argument for and against. By this procedure the National Chamber is able to present the views of the business men of the entire nation to the U. S. Government on important issues. If the vote cast is two-thirds for or against, against the recommendations of the committee, that is the stand adopted by the National Chamber, but if the vote falls within these two points, the U. S. Chamber takes an impartial stand.

Mr. Van der Vries stressed the important and valuable service advice, information, facts and figures furnished by the various departments of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce such as the Finance Department, Domestic Distribution Department, Industrial Development Department, Foreign Commerce Department, etc. From their wealth of nation-wide experience they can furnish worthwhile information on practically any problem pertaining to merchandising, production, distribution, municipal taxation, advertising, etc.

Mr. Van der Vries contended that the stock market crash of last fall was the most severe in the history of our country, and that it might have been followed by a genuine panic such as have followed other crashes had it not been for the brakes being applied and a constructive program having been adopted as a result of the series of conferences of business leaders called by President Hoover. It is his observation based upon first hand knowledge of business conditions in the midwest and northwest (this territory for the U. S. Chamber), and upon his many nationwide contacts that business is on the upgrade although it is still spotty, good in some places and poor in others, and although there will be some drifting in activity due to seasonal influences. By fall, however, he predicts a decided improvement.

Those who heard Mr. Van der Vries are unanimous in hoping that it may be possible for him to return later in the year for a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs under the auspices of our chamber of commerce.

AUTOS AND CHURCHES

Things are not going to be as we would like to see them around Plymouth until a lot of us wake up to the fact that while the auto is a wonderful vehicle it is, in a way, a liability instead of an asset in still another way. The most serious complaint we have to register against it is that it detracts from church attendance and threatens the greatest of all institutions. We haven't the figures at hand to show how rural and small-town churches are suffering, more and more each year, through decreased attendance. But such figures are easy to obtain.

One thing we are all pretty much agreed upon is that the present generation needs the church fully as much as did the generation that preceded it. And the next generation is apt, from all indications, to need it more. Because the auto permits one to attend church at a great distance from home does not mean that people are using it for that purpose. Church attendance has dwindled, especially during July and August, in every section of the country, and is not in proportion to what it once was during the other ten months in the year.

Anything that discourages church attendance is harmful. But the auto would take people to church as easily and comfortably as it takes them elsewhere if they would only head it in that direction. We read in the good book that Elijah was carried to heaven in a chariot of fire. Can it be that a lot of present-day citizens are going to be carried to the other place in a more modern vehicle—the automobile?

THINK THIS OVER

Whether we are willing to admit it or not, every one of us who sticks to his work 52 weeks in the year on the ground that he "can't afford" to take a vacation is wrong about it. There is no doubt but most of us is in such a position financially that the loss of income for two weeks, or even a single week, would impose an additional hardship on us. And yet, figured from the standpoint of health, instead of from a dollar-and-cent angle, we would be ahead in the long-run if we took at least one week out of every year for a genuine rest.

Even a piece of machinery will run better and last longer if it is permitted to remain idle occasionally. Then why isn't the same thing true of the human machine? Owners of big industrial plants have found that they get greater production out of their workers if they give them a two weeks' vacation every year; they actually do more work in 50 weeks than they would in 52, working straight through without the brief mid-summer rest.

When all is said and done, we're only going to be here once, and it is up to each one of us to try and prolong his stay on earth as long as possible. Nobody in Plymouth is going to starve to death if he lays down his work for a week or two each year and gets away from it, if only for a few miles distance. He is sure to come back so greatly improved physically that he can easily make up for the loss in actual money; he's pretty apt to save it in doctor's bills and medicines. We'll have to admit since we've studied both sides of it that a vacation is, after all, a sensible investment. It's just an old-fashioned idea that it's a luxury. Figured from the standpoint of health, and adding to our years, it's a necessity. The man who says "I can't afford to quit work even for a day" is wrong.

ABOLISHING POVERTY

Our attention was called by a Plymouth citizen recently to a newspaper article in which a prominent electrical engineer said machinery will in time abolish poverty in this country. That is certainly a nice prophecy, for there is hardly anything more desirable among human beings than to get away from poverty and drudgery. But those of us who have been watching these big power magnates and utility millionaires can't help but feel that the abolition of poverty is for them more than it is for the balance of us. They've been abolishing their own poverty, all right, but it has been through charging two or three times what they should be charging for service. They really are not helping the consumer abolish his poverty very fast. If all of this great mechanical power now being developed were distributed equitably and fairly among us it would help a great deal of course. But since development and distribution in this machine age is in the hands of a few it is hardly likely no matter how many machines we invent, that many of us are going to see the day when poverty will be a thing unknown.

CAN ANYONE ANSWER

We've often wondered why it is that when the average Plymouth motorist always has a sort of hostile feeling, the moment he seats himself at the wheel, toward the driver who is coming toward him or who is trying to pass him. Why is it that he harbors a suspicion that the other fellow isn't driving right, or doesn't know how to drive, or ought not to be allowed to drive? Even a pretty girl, charming everywhere else, arouses a certain suspicion when she gets back of a steering wheel. When they meet face-to-face while walking, or in a crowd, these same drivers are cordial, polite and friendly. But let them get out on the road on a Sunday afternoon, for instance, and start cutting in, squeezing the other fellow and honking horns, and they become enemies and can't see any good in each other. Every motorist will have to admit it's true, and yet he can't explain it. Can it be that the feeling of power that comes from sitting at a steering wheel makes the average man a sort of despot, and brings back the old prehistoric desire to "rule or ruin"? It looks like here is another chance for a sort of disarmament conference.

PITY THE POLITICIAN

The wets and the dries will never agree on whether prohibition has been a good thing or a bad thing for the people, and they will continue to argue the thing indefinitely. But there can be no doubt whatever that the prohibition question is hard on one class of men—the politicians. A candidate for office does not like to limit his appeal to wets only, or to dries only. He wants votes from both camps. So he is faced with the hard problem of trying to walk on both sides of the fence. Of course if his supporters are all on one side or the other that makes it easy for him. He will be for what they are for. But standing one way publicly and another way privately has its inconveniences. There was, for instance, the confidential document seized by the Senate lobby committee containing names of members of congress who drank in private, but voted dry in public. Doubtless a number of those poor fellows were trembling in their boots until the committee decided there was no use publishing the names. Verily, the life of a politician is an unhappy one.

Clare Lyke of Plymouth, Tuesday, who has been seriously ill and was taken to the Dr. Atchinson hospital in Northville last week, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lyke were on a motor trip in northern Michigan. They returned Sunday, not hearing of his illness until they reached home. He is much improved and was brought home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Stanbro left Monday on a camping and fishing trip to the northern part of the state. Mrs. Ada Chapin of Traverse City, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Breakaw.

Mrs. Edith Crane and daughter of Wilkes Barre, Pa., will leave Friday for their home, motoring through, after spending two weeks with the former's mother, Mrs. Amelia Perkins, and also with the F. C. Wheeler family in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buers and son, George, spent the Fourth in Detroit, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Buers remained until Sunday for a longer visit.

Today's Reflections:
The good old days in Plymouth were those when meals were opened with blessings instead of can-openers.
When a chair becomes old and worn out it is an antique and brings a good price. But it's different with an automobile.
We need just one more law in this country and that's one to prohibit people from calling over the phone and saying "Guess who this is."

The man who invented the "Painless Dentist" sign must also be responsible for calling them "Safety zones."
Hard times are those when we save our money because we are jobless and are jobless because we don't save our money.

WEST POINT PARK LEADS DOWN-RIVER LEAGUE; TRIMS DEARBORN 5-1

West Point Park, who are leading the Down-River League in baseball, added a few more points to their average last Sunday by defeating Dearborn in a fast contest which meant a great deal to both teams. When the game began West Point led the league and Dearborn stood second. Had Dearborn won the game it would have changed the standings but as West Point won they are still at the top, having won seven games and lost one.

The game progressed rapidly with few hits until the fourth inning when West Point scored two runs on a double, a walk and a pair of singles. West Point had made one run in the first inning on a triple by Halverson and a duplicate by Knoch. This was tied by Dearborn in the first half of the fourth and it looked as if it would be a hard job to win the game but the home boys came back getting the two in the fourth and an additional two in the seventh which made the final score 5 to 1.

Quinn, well-known pitcher, who has won some great games in the past for Plymouth was in the box for West Point. In the nine innings only 31 men came to bat against him and they gathered 5 hits, while 3 were struck out.

The star player was Halverson, second baseman who had 12 chances during the game and took them all without an error. In the fifth all three men to bat were retired by Halverson to Robbins at first.

The game at Northville, July 4th was capped by West Point Park. It looks as if the boys have a fair chance to grab the honors at the end of the season if they continue playing the high class ball they have all exhibited up to date.

The boys go to River Rouge next Sunday, July 13. River Rouge won the game the first time they met this season and the boys are out to return the compliment.

ROCKS DEFEAT FORD TAPS, 6-5

In an eleven inning contest Tuesday night the Rocks again came out in front to turn back the Ford Taps by the score of 6 to 5.

In the ninth inning the Rocks scored two runs which tied the score. After the seventh inning the Taps were unable to score a run or get a clean hit off Matheson. Some class fielding by Stevens and Orr helped the Rocks considerably in the late innings. And timely hitting by Meyers and Rogers won the game for the Rocks. Johnson, of the Taps, also played a beautiful game at third. Britcher, the Taps pitcher, pitched fouls all the way through.

HAGGERTY A. C. WINS DOUBLE HEADER FRIDAY

The Haggerty nine turned Independence Day into a Roman holiday last Friday, by slaughtering the C. F. Burger's in both games of a double header, and advancing their string of victories to twelve. The scores were 11 to 7; and 9 to 2.

"Dutch" Atchinson, who started for the Haggerty boys, had to be replaced by Hagmaler in second after being touched for six runs and seven hits.

The Detroiters were held completely under control by "Dolly" Dolstine in the last contest, allowing two runs and four hits, striking out sixteen disappointed batters. Fowler, who was on the mound for Burger Creamery, was easily conquered.

The Haggerty club did some very good clotting by collecting twenty-eight hits in both contests.

OUTBOARD DRIVERS LURED TO BAY CITY

Prizes totaling $5,000 have been posted by officials of the Eastern Michigan water carnival, to be held August 1, 2, and 3 at Bay City, under the auspices of the National Outboard Association. Approximately one-half of the money that has been posted will be used in the form of purses for outboard racing drivers, and it is thought that many of the outstanding drivers of the country will be attracted to the three-day meet.

The first two days of the regatta will be taken up with sprint races, time trials and ladies' outboard races, while August 3 will be given over to the running of a 100-mile marathon on the Saginaw River. The regatta will be sanctioned and there will be prizes for the first five place winners in each event. The three-day outboard meet will climax a week of pageantry at Bay City in connection with the annual Eastern Michigan homecoming celebration.

MANY YACHT CLUBS

There are approximately 450 yacht clubs in the United States with an average membership of 250 and a total of 112,500, according to a list published in the July issue of Motor Boating. Yachtmen belonging to American clubs pay average annual dues of $31, which would amount to a total of $3,487,500. Average initiation fees are $76, equal to a gross of $8,550,000.

July the Fourth the Cass Palmer Lions started out with a roar by scoring six runs in the first two innings. Starting the third inning Horvath settled down to work and let the boys down with six hits the remainder of the game and struck out ten of the heavy hitters.

Sally took the hitting honors for the day when he gathered four singles out of five times up.

Johnny Schomberger and A. Redtzke took the hitting honors for Nethem when each gathered three singles out of four times at bat.

Schultz made the best play of the game when he ran to left center to take Larry's fly while on a dead run the catch was made with his back to the plate.

Sunday, July 6th Nethem reversed their attack by starting the run making in the first and second innings.

Bailey and Omes took the hitting honors for the White Stars, while H. Horvath took them for Nethem when each got three hits out of four.

Next Sunday C. F. Burger Creamery from Detroit will be Nethem's opponent at Rousseau's Park, Newburg.

Also next Sunday the new captain will be Schultz who is replacing John Schomberger who has just served his term for the past two weeks.

HAGGERTY A. C. BEATS BREAD AGGREGATION

The Haggerty boys, who have won twelve straight victories, showed their baseball ability over the strong Taystee Bread team last Sunday at Canton. They won when they upset the visitors, 10 to 0.

There was no way to compare the game with either of the Fourth of July engagements except in the likeness of their results that were strictly of Haggerty complexion. Mechanical and mental errors were mixed with the hitting and but for the fact that there is a limit to endurance even in trained athletes, the rumpus that required two hours and twenty-one minutes to settle might have been carried into twilight. One feature of the game came in the fourth when Finnigan got hold of Siny's fast ball and sent a clean triple to left field, lucky the bases were empty or the game might have been shorter.

Going into the ninth with the score tied, Finnigan rolled out, B. Smith and G. Simmons walked, O. Atchinson rolled out, and E. Wood walked. L. Simmons singled to left center on the second pitch.

One of the strongest teams of the year will oppose the Haggerty club Sunday, July 13, at Canton Park. Games always start at 2:30 o'clock.

BIRDS APLENTY KILLINGS SHOW

Minnesota sells 110,000 small game hunting licenses each year and a bag census reveals that 2,000,000 game birds were killed by Minnesota residents last fall. Mallard ducks lead with 398,535, bluebirds were next with 326,502 with rails and gallinules bringing up the rear with less than 300 each. Over 4,000 mourning doves went for pot pie and only 2,000 Canada geese fell. Prairie chickens totaled 10,574 and jacksnipe 13,476.

With Michigan selling over three times the number of small game licenses, our total kill, using the Minnesota ratio as a basis, would run well over 6,000,000 birds.

Photographer's Troubles

A photographer, compelled by the exigencies forced upon him by the physiognomies of his customers, hung a neatly framed sign in his studio bearing the epitaph of Oliver Cromwell, spoken to the artist who painted him without the warts which are said to have ornamented his countenance: "Paint me as I am, nose and all, or by my halldome, I won't pay for the portrait!"

To the gentle intimation promulgated by this sign, one of the photographer's sitters added in pencil: "When I pay you, it will be for making me look handsomer than I am. When I wish to behold myself as I really appear, I can always look in the mirror."

It cost $2,000 a day to keep the Graf Zeppelin at Lakehurst, N. J. But it costs more than that to keep some of our big gas bags at Washington.

SWIMMERS PREPARE FOR MILE RACE AT DETROIT JULY 12

Woman's Aquatic Club will stage its annual one-mile river swim on Saturday, July 12, starting from the Edison Boat Club and finishing at the Detroit Yacht Club. This race is one of the most important events offered amateur swimmers in Michigan and always attracts a large entry. Last year's race was won by Suzanne Wittwer of the Detroit Yacht Club. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded the first three place winners. A prize will be given to every swimmer finishing. Entries closed last Tuesday.

TURTLE TRAPS ARE FORBIDDEN

While there is no law or regulation in this state protecting turtles, the use of traps that might injure fish is forbidden, according to the Division of Fisheries of the Department of Conservation.

Turtles may be killed in any manner, in any numbers at any time of the year, with the exception of that one method of capture.

The division has received several inquiries relative to the edibility of the various kinds of turtles found in Michigan, the habits of those turtles and as to the market for them.

The soft shelled turtle and the snapping turtle are the best known forms of edible turtles found in this state.

The soft shelled turtle is highly esteemed as food, and is easily taken in traps. The common snapping turtle is also used as food although only the smaller specimens are desired as the older turtles have a disagreeable odor and the flesh is tough. This turtle feeds on frogs, fishes, crawfish, young water birds and such other forms of life as it can capture. The snapping turtle is vicious. The oil made from the turtle is said to be valued for medicinal properties.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

TRADE AND INDUSTRY REFLECT USUAL SEASONAL INFLUENCES.

By E. E. Kramp
Secretary, Industrial Committee, Detroit Board of Commerce

On the cover page of the June 25th issue of The Business Week appears a thumbnail review of business with some trenchant observations that are well worth re-producing here. It says:

"The slight spring stimulus to business has spent itself, and activity has been declining since the middle of May. The opening of summer finds the volume of general business at the lowest point so far reached in the recession. Our weekly index of production and trade stands at 88.7% of normal, as compared with 90.5% last week and 100.1% last year this time.

"Productive activity has been holding up somewhat better than general trade, but is now giving way to the usual seasonal slackness. Commodity prices are slipping to pre-war levels, stocks toward last November lows, in a universal blue-funk about world business conditions and anxiety over effects of the new tariff.

"American business is giving a pretty poor exhibition of its proverbial spunk and shrewdness. After six months of scraping along the bottom, 120,000,000 people have swallowed all of the water and bruised all the hide they care to, and are bound to come up for air before long.

"The bright boys who see them coming a few weeks ahead are going to plant a new crop of fortune in this slough of despond, while other folks are still nursing their tender feelings and keeping their money in their socks. The record low Reserve Bank rate may be the signal."

While the above refers to national business conditions, it depicts in rather accurate fashion the local situation. The volume of trade during the first six months in the Detroit area has been about 85% of the volume conducted in the same period last year. There has been a noticeable sagging in business since the first of June, which has been all the more disappointing because it was the general hope that a slow but steady improvement would continue through the usually seasonal dull months of summer.

There will be probably more pessimism and gloom than the situation warrants during July particularly, due to the number of large industrial establishments in the Detroit area which will close down for a mid-season inventory or vacation. With many factory employees thus idle, there is bound to be more or less gloomy conversation and predictions as to the future outlook. It will be overlooked that it has been the practice of local manufacturers and particularly a number of our automobile producers to thus shut down during the summer slack season in previous years.

Improve This Fall
The situation admittedly, is not everything that could be desired. There is considerable unemployment, and it is likely that the condition will not be entirely remedied this fall. It is probable that industrial activity during the last six months will not exceed the levels of the first half year. By comparison with last year's figures or with the usual fall volume of business, however, the last four or five months of 1930 should make an excellent showing.

President Hoover, in his radio address last Monday, was optimistic as to the business outlook. The administration has done an extraordinarily good piece of work in the promulgation of a national public works construction program exceeding any previous year and serving excellently as a stop-gap during a period of business recession. During the first six months of this year, public works construction totalled $1,700,000,000, exceeding by more than $200,000,000 the peak year of 1929.

Activity Holding Up
The results of a survey covering the first five months of 1930, which was made public a few days ago, by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the National Business Survey Conference, appointed by President Hoover after the stock market crash last fall, shows that trade and industrial activity in the United States has been holding up fairly well, in some instances, to 1929 levels, although below the abnormally high figures of last year.

Credit conditions were reported easy, with adequate funds to meet all legitimate needs at low rates. Many authorities consider that with the money factor as favorable as it now is, and with the record of past depressions so suggestive of the country's ability to regain its stride, there seems every reason for confidence that business will soon begin the climb back to normal prosperity.

Umbrellas Via Slot Machine
Forgetful people of Berlin, Germany, no longer have fear of getting caught in the rain while their umbrellas are somewhere else. By dropping the equivalent of 15 cents into a slot machine they get a folding emergency umbrella composed of a hood of oiled paper and a handle of wood.

"If it's true that a cat has nine lives," observes Dad Plymouth, "then feline insurance premiums ought to be pretty low."

Popular Cotillon

The cotillon is a dance of French origin, and is performed to quadrille music. It was a fashionable dance at the court of Charles X, where it had been adapted from a peasant dance. At first for one, then for two performers, it soon became a ronde dance, in which form it was introduced into England. There are hundreds of possible figures in the modern dance, and the accessories are most elaborate. The cotillon is begun by a small number of couples, who occupy the floor while the rest of the guests sit about the ballroom. These couples select others from among those seated, and, after going through a figure, all take seats and are replaced by other couples until the whole company has danced that particular figure. Another method is for each set of couples to dance a different figure.

Prominent Estonian City

The second largest city in the republic of Estonia, Tartu, holds rank with the capital, Tallinn (Reval), as an intellectual center of Estonian nationality. It was begun in 1030 by the Russian Grand Duke Yaroslav, son of Vladimir the Holy, who conquered the Esthes, and its celebrated university was founded in 1632 by Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden. It has a library of more than 200,000 volumes, a famous observatory, and a botanical garden. For nearly 200 years it was one of the principal seats of learning in Russia and the chief school for its Protestant clergy.

Justice in Abyssinia

In one respect the Abyssinian courts would meet the approval of that Shakespearean character who urged the killing of all lawyers. The legal profession is practically nonexistent in Abyssinia and each man tries his own case. For important cases there are regular courts presided over by appointed judges. The chief justice of Abyssinia rejoices in the title of "Breath of the King." For minor cases, however, impromptu courts are called and any passerby may be called on to act as judge.

Today's Reflections

Another thing against wild oats is that you never see them quoted on the business market.

Our advice to the Plymouth girl who is about to fall in love is to first make sure that she will alight on her feet.

It's easy enough to love your neighbors as you love yourself, providing they mind their own business.

After a man has eaten a meal that was prepared only for women, he is still hungry enough to go out and rob the mouse-trap.

They say cannibals won't eat a man who chews tobacco but we never knew a Plymouth man with nerve enough to tell his wife that was his reason for chewing.

The FORD TRUCK has a Sturdy Chassis

In the chassis of the Ford truck, you will see features—many of them unusual—which add greatly to its reliability, strength, safety and economy.

The front axle, for example, is twice as strong as formerly. The front spring is heavier, with wider leaves. Front radius-rod is heavier, and king-pins, wheel bearing and thrust bearings are larger.

A 4-speed transmission gives an increased range of speed and power. Internal expanding brakes of the mechanical type provide a high degree of safety. Front brakes have been enlarged to the same size as those in the rear and all are fully enclosed.

Dual rear wheels are available at small additional cost. Balloon tires of one size are used throughout with the dual equipment, so that all six steel disc wheels and tires are interchangeable all around. Only one spare need be carried.

The rear axle has a spiral bevel gear of special Ford truck design, with straddle-mounted pinion. Axle shafts are heavier than formerly, and because of the three-quarter floating type of construction, they serve only to turn the wheels, without carrying any of the weight of truck or load.

These and other features make the Ford truck a value far in excess of the price. Come in and let us show them all to you.

MOTION PICTURE

"SUNNY SKIES"

A VERITABLE carload of talent will be found among the leads and principals of "Sunny Skies," the Tiffany all-talking musical production that will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre on Sunday, July 13. The story is from the pen of A. P. Younger, and Norman Taurog directed. The dialogue and music was recorded by RCA Photophone.

Heading the cast is Benny Rubin, famous all over the country as a vaudeville artist, singer of dialect songs, eccentric dancer and master of ceremonies. He plays the role of Benny Krantz, the son of a delicatessen dealer, and is just starting his freshman year in college.

Marcelline Day plays the role of Mary Norris, a fair co-ed, who, against her own better judgment, falls in love with Jim Grant, played by Rex Lease who made such a success of his role in Tiffany's "Troopers Three." Opposite Benny Rubin is Marjorie Kane, the "Babe" Kane who originated the famous "Varsity Drag" in the Pacific Coast "Good News" Company, and, incidentally, Miss Kane and Mr. Rubin get ample opportunity to display their own peculiar dance steps which are described as the acme of pep.

Wesley Barry makes much of a small part—the same Wesley Barry who made freckles famous a few years ago when he was the greatest kid actor on the screen.

"Sunny Skies" is the story of Benny Krantz, the heir to a delicatessen business, who goes to college. As a "collegiate," he doesn't promise much, but his room mate, Jim Grant, a wise-cracking wise guy, but a star football player, takes him in hand and introduces him to certain phases of college life.

For the musical sequences, Earl Burnette's recording orchestra is heard in several numbers by Val Burton and Will Jason.

"THE CUCKOOS"

FILLED with mad waggery, riotous fun and delirious nonsense, "The Cuckoos," all talking musical to be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, July 19, is an innovation in sound pictures. Radio Pictures has stepped out into the lead among producers by introducing an all-comedy entertainment at the time audiences are satiated with drawing-room dramas, back-stage stories and underworld melodramas.

"The Cuckoo" is not a musical revue. It is a full-length production based on a well-developed plot, with the comedy sequences holding full sway. Gorgeously produced, with hundreds of scenes in Technicolor, "The Cuckoos" stands alone as a brand-new type of screen entertainment. It is an extravaganza of delicious nonsense, starring the mad wags of "Rio Rita" fame, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, and boasting a notable cast of featured players.

Wheeler and Woolsey, who scored sensationally in their first picture, "Rio Rita," carry practically all the action of "The Cuckoos." They frolic merrily through the broadest of comedy which is said to be the most amusing of its kind ever brought to picture. They are assisted materially by Dorothy Lee, also a featured player in "Rio Rita," and Jolynna Howland, a new find for pictures.

Romance is not neglected, however. Jane Clyde and Hugh Trevor provide the heart interest in most capable fashion. Margarita Padula, who will be remembered as the "Lavinia" of "Hit the Deck," is heard again with her great "blues" voice, and Mitchell Lewis, leading screen "heavy," is the menace.

Ten rollicking song numbers composed by Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby, dancing choruses with hundreds of performers, and a thousand extra players make "The Cuckoos" one of the outstanding pictures of all time.

The posts being transplanted on the Strachle lot, a nice new fence will soon be growing there.

The O'Dea's have about completed additions to their home, and having the Land Co. boys grade away the surplus occasioned by so much more excavation. This makes the O'Dea home the largest in the development.

In getting back to normalcy again, we note the hole in Bond's lot is taking form for a good old fashioned two floor plan, with up-to-the-spirit of the times in modernism of improvements.

Owing to continued ill health of Mr. Lucas, the family will leave for an extended vacation in the blue grass country. Mr. Lucas plans to return in a few weeks' time and to continue his work with the Ford Companies.

Once upon a time we heard of a grocer boy who broke a date with a she, but promised to keep it on the morrow—but they had to issue rain checks at the races, and—goodby—she has moved far, far away. So now rain checks or dates, it does not make up much of a difference.

Perry Smith has returned from a brief sojourn way down east.

We know a secret, and we won't tell who. But a guy tried to bribe R. valiant grocer into ordering some fresh fish next Whensdemas, as he was going fishin' Tuesday, and he wished to make sure of getting the fishes home, we wouldn't care to say a word about catchin' them, or to anyone about it, would you?

There seems to be a quite spirited rivalry in amateur picked takers this season. We have on display numerous snags of gardens, convention silks, fishing catches and a heterogeneous collection of the kiddie sexes; which encourages all to strive for bigger and better of each the aforementioned.—ask L. B. H. Esq.

The U. S. 12 is undoubtedly entitled to the glass medal (glass because it is easily shattered)—for from all accounts we have not had a serious accident for some time. Touch wood!

Neighbor realtaster is making a nice pretty parkette down his way. We must say that J. C. and brother Bill have an eye for beauty. Which all goes to make our way home the more pleasant.

For the seventh time, Junior had lost either the change from his trip to R store, or mother's order on the way there. Ma had been scolding him for it, promising to see the doctor, when Jr. up and says, sez he—"Dr. M. D. said last time we saw him, that I must be okay if I didn't lose my appetite, and its lunch time now and I am hungry too." Which all goes to prove little pigs sometimes have big ears.

The latest freak of creations for the kiddies who cannot make up their minds what kinds ice cream cones they want is Rainbow. Embracing all colors of the ice cream world. And Mrs. Bock delights the little folks with a candied cherry topping it off.

The largest crowd yet, for an usual Sundee morn was last Sundee at our church. If the heat didn't affect them we have a sneaky suspicion that it was all Bill Townsend's fault. Which it may be and is.

Grandmas Weinert, Schroeder, Huron and others have been guests of their respective sons' homes lately, and are enjoying themselves with the kiddies, both vacationing, so to speak.

"Flower seeking" company are still in evidence, and possibly will be as long as the weather holds forth hot and dreary in the dirty city. We have no cause to complain, as many have come and a few have eventually chosen this spot as their Eden. Which same reminds us of another kind of flower, i. e., to-wit, flour that adv. says—Eventually why not now.

Owing to the fact that the weatherman spoofed us on rain-shine, Supt. Al had to go on the red, red water wagon for the first time, last Monday past meridian.

Chester now has the toy bus, which is more sensible than them there big ones. Note the no.—two double O-two, to-wit 2002. Look for the face with a smile.

From all indications, knowledge and belief, we are of the opinion that Miss Ethel Belden will have a larger class than ever in her kindergarten room. Which is a nice way of saying some of the "babies" are becoming big boys and girls.

Whistles (field, not air rifle) have chased most of the dandelions, and the children are making the most of it by fashioning garlands and be-loves-me, loves-me-not games, as well as a nice bouquet for mother.

According to the grass-cuticians, weeds are in season, but are fast disappearing from our streets under careful cultivating, and some of the sickly ones are being replaced, as well as some that some city folks feloniously stole, tooked and carted away to the little village southeast.

We are pleased to report, with pleasure, we saw Mrs. Chas. McKinney sitting on her front porch, Kinada nursing the broken ankle back to normalcy, but feeling fine and much better, thankyou. Possibly Chuck may be back on the golf courses at September morn. Here's luck, Chuck.

Like the young blood sliding into what he thought was second base, while playing based balls down in the Hanchett cow pastures, we go to Elm school next Monday eve at eight bells, e. s. t. for the school election. We know what we have, what we want, and if we want what we have, then why change it by just staying away or sliding in with boys eyes shut. Think over the matter between now and Monday eve, and come over with the crowd. We never yet heard of an anti-mule kicking down a box stall. By which we mean non-voters should not kick.

We were wending our way home "tother nite and thought we were there and in bed dreaming—for on passing by the second (fr. west) window of our new trade center, we be thought ourselves of days to come when we would have more store frontages. Here we noted syrup pitchers, condiment shakers, triplicate washers, roasters of oval and round shapes, and in fact we cannot remember them all. But best of all the sign thereon and at says "Free." Which means R grocer and Pill Rollers are giving tickets with purchases, and when you have two bucks for a hit and a neckle in chits you get a jelly mornid, or you can get up fifteen bucks and a dime in ducats and get one of them there jelly cake pans which the bottom falls out of in a snap—x!—O just like that! And other things come and go—just like

Way, way down on Ingram Ave., where Flannigan and his anti-mules are diggin' a hole to put the Bond house in, we overheard the digticians at luncheon: i. e., "Gee, me boardin' 'ouse indee is gettin' weery kind like," says Pat, "looka the big hunks, cocconut cake in my box." "That's not you're box," retorts Tom, as he snatches it away. "It's mine, an' the bride is some cook!" Which all goes to prove that one can't tell their lunch by its box.

Sand lot baseball and barnyard golf are in season, along with supper pease and breakfast radishes from our gardens.

Hollyhocks and climbing roses are in all their glory, as attested by many house corners and back grounds about the development. It appears to the observer that they are more in evidence this year than ever, especially well is Mrs. Hill's, the Chapmans', Browns' and others too numerous to count.

Mrs. A. J. Anderson and son, Bill, and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Villorot and son, Eugene, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hanchett, Berwick avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Webb and children spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanchett.

Mrs. Elva Proctor and little daughter, Shirley, and Mrs. R. Hanchett spent last Thursday with their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Villorot of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Robert had as their guests Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Villorot and son, Eugene, Mrs. R. Hanchett and sons of Rosedale Gardens.

Picked Up About Town

"A wise husband," asserts Dad Plymouth, "is one who buys his wife costly dishes so she won't trust him to help her wash and dry them."

We feel sorry for the woman who has been on a diet for so long that a stuffed olive looks like a full meal to her.

Dad Plymouth says that many a girl keeps her youth by being nice to him.

"Some women," declares Dad Plymouth, "seems so pleased with her first wedding that they can hardly wait for the next one."

According to Dad Plymouth things are speedin' up so fast in this country that it won't be long until a fellow can take a two weeks' vacation in four days.

Our advice to the citizen who wants to put an end to gossip in Plymouth is not to be guilty of starting it.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN

There will be no services in this church on Sunday, July 13. All our members and their friends are cordially invited to take part in the ninth annual church dedication festival at Wayne, Michigan. At Wayne there will be German services at 11:35 a. m. Rev. H. Richter of Detroit will deliver the sermon. English services will begin at 2:30 p. m. Rev. E. Buchheimer of Detroit, will deliver the sermon. At noon the ladies of the church will serve dinner to all worshippers in the basement of the church. Come and bring your friends.

Christian Science Notes

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 6.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth" (Rev. 19:6).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, worshipping no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God" (p. 140).

BAPTIST NOTES

The Baptist Ladies' Aid will hold a tea Friday afternoon, June 11, at Mrs. Joseph Stanley's home on North Main street.
There will be a bake sale given by the ladies at Pfeiffer's meat market, Saturday afternoon.
A picnic and ball game will feature the results of the contest which the Plymouth B. Y. P. U. won from the Farmington B. Y. P. U. Farmington is coming over/abundantly strong and along with them they have promised lemonade and food in abundance. Farmington seems to believe in doing things well. They not only supply the dinner which they promised, but they have shown their superior generosity in that they have brought it over to us. The voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth? Other activities may give recreation of mind and body—but only this can give peace of soul!
If it were not for the religion of the church there might very well be no "day of rest" in every seven. Sunday is the Lord's day, and if we are honest, we owe at least a part of it to Him.
The summer services will be made brief, but reverent and inspiring, and offer you a much needed opportunity for spiritual refreshment. Take advantage of them!

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The Lord's Day
"Take time to go to church. Other things will make time for themselves. It is God and His church who have given us Sunday, not merely to be used for our bodily rest, but for His worship. And what better use can we make of this day, than to spend it, (or even a brief part of it) in communion with Him? Other activities may give recreation of mind and body—but only this can give peace of soul!"

Ann Arbor Man Enthusiastic Over Konjola

Victim of Stomach And Kidney Troubles Found New Medicine First One To Help Him.

MR. WILLIAM HALLEN

"I had tried everything recommended, but not a medicine nor treatment touched by case of stomach and kidney troubles," said Mr. William Hallen, 612 North Main Street, Ann Arbor, Michigan. "Everything I ate lay in my stomach undigested, creating gas, bloating and pain followed every meal. My kidneys caused intense pains across my back, and at night I had to rise frequently. I became weaker daily.
"But Konjola changed everything and did it quickly. Daily my stomach returned to more normal condition, and the kidneys responded just as steadily. In three weeks I found that I could eat anything and that I could sleep all night. Since then, my system, free of poisons, I have been gaining weight, vitality and energy. Konjola proved a life-saver to me."
Konjola is designed to give thorough and lasting relief. Like any worthwhile treatment Konjola should be taken from six to eight weeks giving it a chance to produce the best results. And the results will amaze you—as they have countless thousands of men and women.
Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

BY THE MANAGER

The recent dry weather has again raised the need for further attention to the laying of dust upon the gravel streets in the village. Another carload of calcium chloride has been ordered for delivery within another day or two, and will be distributed directly to the streets from the car.

The village has recently completed the installation of a 34-inch sewer in Park avenue, from Mill street to the west line of Plymouth Riverside Park. The county, following completion of the sewer installation, has graded the driveway to a width of approximately 40 feet, which will make of this winding entrance to the park a drive equal to any to be found hereabouts.

Michigan Happenings

A 19-year-old girl was burned to death in attempting to remove the furniture from her father's burning home, seven miles east of Vanderbilt, near Gaylord. The girl was the daughter of Herman Miller, a farmer. Miller and a son had gone to Vanderbilt to purchase groceries and during their absence the house caught fire. The girl made sure that four other children in the family had gone outdoors, then began to carry out the furniture. She was overcome by smoke and fell inside the house. The house was destroyed.

For more than a hundred years, Massachusetts had more people than Michigan, but Michigan now has more than Massachusetts. In the 1930 line-up of the "big ten" states, their respective ratings will read: Michigan, population 4,828,371, a 31.3 per cent increase; Massachusetts, 4,364,972, a 13.3 per cent increase. The manufacturing census, still incomplete, probably will explain Michigan's increase. Of the world's output of 4,890,321 motor cars in 1925, 3,131,524 were made in Michigan.

A freak reptile 11 inches long, resembling a snake, lizard and fish, was caught at White Rapids in the Menominee river by Henning Thorson, of Norway, while he was fishing for pike. The freak has the head and front feet of a lizard. The hind feet are the same as the front, but are more elongated with the toes divided differently. It has a snake body and fish tail. The color is muddy brown except for a strip of olive green extending the length of its body. The skin is smooth like that of a lizard.

Just a Taste

Three-year-old Betty Lou, who lives in a town, delights in trips to the farm with her next door neighbors. Recently while on one of these trips she saw the pet lamb fed from a bottle and was very much interested. After the bottle was emptied she thrust her little hand through the fence to pet the lamb. She drew it back hastily. When asked whether it bit her she replied: "No, it just tasted my hand."

Make Practice of Giving

Giving is much more important in life than getting. And so much better. Let us be the first to give a friendly nod and smile, to speak first, give first, and if such a thing is necessary, forgive first and forget first. —Grit.

The board of supervisors of Monroe County, by unanimous vote, decided to submit to the voters in November the question of bonding the county for $50,000 for the purpose of erecting a new unit to the county jail at Monroe and remodeling the present building. The action followed notification from the state welfare commission that the present jail had outlived its usefulness and that if a new one were not provided, the prisoners be transferred to an adjacent county.

Miss Angelina Stone, 17 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving K. Stone, prominent socially in Battle Creek, died from poison she took by mistake at 2 a. m. after returning from a party. Before Age of Baths

In the days of Cromwell public bathing, no matter how heavily attired the bathers were, was strictly forbidden and our Puritan forefathers brought this rule over to New England with them, so it is very likely that on warm days 300 years ago what bathers might be found on the beaches of Massachusetts were Indians, with, perhaps, an occasional backsliding Puritan.

Another Puritan law was that if a person must bathe, it should be in a dark room, with no mirrors, alone, and at night.
