SPARTON FUND TO AID YOUTH BY RADIO SALES

Capt. Wm. Sparks of Jackson, Endows Foundation To Furnish Scholarships and Trips Abroad To Children of School Age.

Plymouth Auto Supply Will Join With Distributors and Dealers in Co-operating With Educational Authorities Nation-Wide in New Philanthropy.

Creation of the Sparton Foundation, a fund to compensate boys and girls throughout America who desire to earn their way through college or to enjoy the advantages of European travel under educational chaperoneage was announced recently at the national convention of Sparton radio distributors and dealers by Captain William Sparks, founder and president of the Sparks-Wilkinson Co. of Jackson.

CAPT. WILLIAM SPARKS
Founder of the Sparton Foundation

The philanthropy, pronounced by one of the most powerful sociological forces adopted in modern business, is to begin operations at once. Under its general terms, specific payments are to be made from the fund to youths, without restriction, to maintain or spread an education. It is an issue of national advertising separate and distinct from Sparks-Wilkinson commercial publicity, in form announcements and organization bulletins through civic and juvenile societies, churches, fraternal bodies and so on. The invitation to boys and girls between the ages of twelve and nineteen, of whom statistics show the present school enrollment to be approximately 7,600,000. One hundred scholarships and travel tours have been endowed for the present year, which begins the fund's operation.

The substance of the Sparton movement is that any grammar school or high school student desiring to enroll himself will be paid fees on a specific basis for every home demonstration of a Sparton radio set which he arranges for a Sparton dealer. It is expressly prohibited that the student shall in any part in the sale itself, as the founders of the fund do not intend to commercialize its activities in any way. Additional compensation is provided for introductions leading to the sale of Sparton instruments to schools or colleges, as it is considered by the Foundation that radio is one of the most effective educational forces. Scholarship headquarters through which Sparton distributors and dealers and the educational authorities locally may cooperate for proper credit for the students enrolling are being established now in all principal cities and towns and are now in operation.

The Sparton Foundation, Capt. Sparks said recently in a statement to THE TALKING MACHINE and RADIO WEEKLY, expresses the wish of himself and his family to devote substantial sums to the betterment of youth in a practical sense. "When I was a boy," said Capt. Sparks, "there were only a few forms of rough and general entertainment available to the young. We have come a long way since then, but necessarily there are as many ambitious youngsters today—in proportion to population—as there ever were who seek a helpful and cultural species of work throughout which they may advance themselves. We believe that working in radio, with its many phases of music, public affairs and general information, will probably be of as much direct benefit to the boy or girl as the compensation or credit toward university training or travel which he can immediately earn under our plan.

"I was led to include travel in the plan because at the recent gathering I inquired how many of the men present were university trained. Only twenty-five per cent. were. Of the remainder, when I asked whether they would have preferred a trip abroad to a first year at college, if they could have had it, a majority voted for travel. The Sparton Foundation is beginning to build, seriously and painstakingly and with a humble desire to benefit the younger generation without stressing the commercial aspects of the work to our company's advantage. We should be glad and proud to see the system adopted in other industries which have useful and pleasant occupation to offer to growing minds."

GIRL NEARLY DROWNS

Miss Peggy Loftus, aged 17 years, of Detroit, had a narrow escape from drowning at Naubin Mills early last Monday morning, when, in bathing, she fell from a diving board. The fire department rescue squad from Magraw Blvd. was called and with the aid of a physician the girl was resuscitated.

LONDON NAVAL TREATY WILL BENEFIT TRADE

Business men of Plymouth, as well as of all other communities in the country, have an important interest as business men and citizens, in the London Naval Treaty, which is now before the special session of the United States Senate for ratification. It is an issue entirely outside the confines of political party lines and should be considered purely from the standpoint of its bearing upon other phases of our national life.

The treaty shows that it provides for actual tonnage parity and proportionate combat strength as between the fleets of the United States and Great Britain, and for substantial superiority of the American navy over that of Japan, both in tonnage and strength.

From an economic viewpoint the treaty provides a number of material advantages. It limits the naval overhead of the three powers, including maintenance and construction costs, up to 1936. This limiting of naval overhead permits stabilization of the budgets of the three nations, which cannot fail to have a beneficial effect upon international trade and commerce. The treaty gives up parity with Great Britain and superiority over Japan through a mutual agreement between the nations, without endangering good will or necessitating the expenditure by the United States of enormous sums and increase of tax burdens upon our people, in a naval building race to catch up with our competitors. We have come a long way since then, but necessarily there are as many ambitious youngsters today—in proportion to population—as there ever were who seek a helpful and cultural species of work throughout which they may advance themselves. We believe that working in radio, with its many phases of music, public affairs and general information, will probably be of as much direct benefit to the boy or girl as the compensation or credit toward university training or travel which he can immediately earn under our plan.

"I was led to include travel in the plan because at the recent gathering I inquired how many of the men present were university trained. Only twenty-five per cent. were. Of the remainder, when I asked whether they would have preferred a trip abroad to a first year at college, if they could have had it, a majority voted for travel. The Sparton Foundation is beginning to build, seriously and painstakingly and with a humble desire to benefit the younger generation without stressing the commercial aspects of the work to our company's advantage. We should be glad and proud to see the system adopted in other industries which have useful and pleasant occupation to offer to growing minds."

While there are differences of opinion among our naval experts regarding certain technical features involved, the discussion has disclosed that this treaty would not jeopardize America's adequate national defense. It is conceded that the treaty will bring about reduction in naval armament and that it represents a definite step toward the establishment of good will and enduring peace among the nations of the world, in which great movement the United States has held a position of leadership. These are considerations of vital importance to the business men and citizens of this community. The advantages afforded by the treaty appear to far outweigh any seeming disadvantages that opponents of limitation of armaments have been able to present.

Another agreement has also been signed by the Pere Marquette Railway Company, the Detroit Street Railway Commission, the City of Dearborn and the Wayne County Road Commission for a grade separation at the intersection of Oakman Boulevard and the Pere Marquette Railroad. This project will cost $316,000, one-half of which amount will be paid by the Pere Marquette Railway Company and the balance will be divided between the Detroit Street Railway Commission, the City of Dearborn and the County of Wayne at large, stated Mr. Hines.

Sues Walled Lake Casino Company

Claims for $65,000 damages, the result of the death of Elizabeth Colby, 6-year-old daughter of Wm. and Mabel Colby of Detroit, in Walled Lake on May 11th, were filed recently in Oakland circuit court. The mother seeks $50,000, the father $15,000.

The child was killed, while swimming at the foot of a slide, when struck by Leslie Toobey of Detroit. The parents charge that the new Casino Amusement Co. of Walled Lake, which operates the slide, and Louis Tollman, an official of the company, were negligent in not roping off the lake at the foot of the slide.

The girl's neck was broken by the sled as she swam into its path.

The mother asks judgment for the pain she suffered as the result of the child's death. The father seeks compensation for the funeral expenses and for the loss of earnings until the child would have reached maturity.

The complaints were filed by Walter M. Nelson, Detroit attorney.—Northville Record.

Notice to Water Consumers

The recent long period of dry weather has increased water consumption in the Village to the point where water is being consumed as fast as it can be pumped into the distribution system. Due to the impossibility of increasing our water storage under such conditions, a serious situation has developed with regard to our water supply for fire protection purposes.

Until further notice water consumers are requested to lend their co-operation in reducing the existing fire hazard by shutting off all of their water services whenever the fire siren is sounded. With this measure of co-operation from our consumers the Village will be maintaining adequate fire protection service and consumers will be enabled to use all water that their needs may require.

A. J. KOENIG, Village Clerk.

IT IS EXPECTED MAIN BUILDING PROGRAM WILL BE COMPLETED BY FIRST OF YEAR.

It is expected that by the end of the present year the major building program of the Detroit House of Correction at the prison farm located in Plymouth township will have been completed. The residence which is being built at the farm for the superintendent, Capt. Denniston, will be completed by November 1st, and Capt. Denniston will move his headquarters to the farm, and he will supervise the old House of Correction prison in Detroit at the Plymouth prison until all of the prisoners have been removed from the old prison to the farm.

Work has been started on the $200,000 heating plant, and it is hoped to have it in operation by October first. This main plant will do away with the other heating units as it will provide heat for both the men's and women's divisions of the prison.

The administration building is also under way. This will include the superintendent's office, as well as the offices of the members of the prison staff.

Besides several new dormitories a cell block of sufficient size to take care of 1,000 prisoners by the end of next year will be erected. The four present wooden dormitories will be taken down and replaced with fire-proof structures.

A new garage will be erected and a kitchen and dining room large enough to take care of a thousand men. The industries of the prison will be provided in some of the buildings now contemplated.

The moving of the prison to Plymouth will bring quite a number of families to this locality and no doubt many of them will find homes in Plymouth where they will find a warm welcome awaits them.

Enjoyable Evening Closes Contest

The closing of the contest that had been under way since January first between Ladies Lucinda Archer and Esther Minthorn's teams in the Maccabeo contest, took place June first with Lady Archer the winning captain by a small majority. Each team had worked hard to win and it was a great satisfaction to have the score so nearly tied.

Forty new members were added to the Hive, the largest class ever introduced into Plymouth Hive at one time. Six juvenile members were secured, and protection written for one member for the St. Knights tent.

The losing side entertained the winners at a social evening Wednesday, July 16th, at their hall, with a short program, the playing of five hundred and luncheon, followed by the serving of a delightful lunch. All showed Lady Minthorn's side to be good losers.

Nearly one hundred members were in attendance, and judging by the continuous buzzing of the "Bees" they surely had a pleasant evening.

Cool Breeze At Edgewater Park

Edgewater Park, located amid the trees on the banks of the River Rouge at Seven Mile road, near Grand River, has become the mecca of thousands each week seeking relief from the city's heat. Swung by the breezes, the park daily is filled with picnickers, while each night crowds find amusement and coolness on the various rides, the milking roller coaster, the Lindy planes, the Hot Day and the dozen other devices.

Big days are featured through August, starting with the celebration of the opening of Grand River's White Way, August 5, and Coca Cola night the following night when bottles of Coca Cola will be given to all who visit the park, while the Arctic Ice Cream company will have a special night August 13.

The park has been selected by the City Department of Recreation for the outing given the boys of the school patrol who are at liberty to invite their friends for the day's frolic, August 15.

During the big celebration of the Grand River White Way, the night of August 5, more than $5,000 in gifts, to be donated by the Grand River merchants, will be on display at the park.

FOR BETTER TIMES

Next to the weather, the chief topic of conversation around Plymouth these days has to do with conditions that have come about since Wall St. went crazy. We read a lot on the subject, but much of it can be set down as the harping of idlers who would not work at a job if they had employment. Others, more serious-minded, are trying to point the way to better things.

A few days ago this statement appeared in many daily papers over Calvin Coolidge's signature: "If those who are working and have the means would pay all their retail merchandise bills, and in addition purchase what they need and can afford, a healthy commerce would quickly be created. Our nation has plenty of resources to support all its people comfortably through a mutual exchange of products if everyone will do his part. Those who have employment now run the risk of losing it by refraining from buying and paying within their means. No one who has the money can afford to postpone paying his bills. Paying them now will bring better conditions than we can bring about in any other way."

That is a sensible man's recipe for making things better and getting things back to normal—pay your bills so the other fellow can pay his. Buy whatever you can afford to buy and pay cash for it as far as you can. This will put money into circulation, and are the things everyone in the community should do if they want to make conditions better, or if they want to keep them from growing any worse.

GIVE THEM WATER

Everybody is now interested in keeping cool and comfortable. In fact most of us are devoting so much thought to the subject that we are apt to forget that human beings are not the only ones to suffer from torrid summer suns. It's just as hard on dumb brutes. They suffer, too, even though they can't get around and tell everybody about it and add to the general misery by broadcasting their complaints.

One thing especially we should not lose sight of is the need for seeing that water is placed where the family dog can get a drink any time he wants one. Medical men declare that rabies in dogs are caused from failure to place drinking water where it will be handy for them. They "go mad" from thirst, and their bite when in that condition is usually fatal. Children are their usual victims, since the little ones do not realize their danger and cannot protect themselves.

Plymouth citizens should not look on the mad-dog theory as a myth. It is very real, as newspaper dispatches from other sections of the country have shown in recent weeks. It is borne out by medical science, and hydrophobia fatalities are quite numerous along about this season every year. Don't deprive your dog of drinking water, even though it may inconvenience you a little to provide it. It is a protection you owe the community, and even from the dog's standpoint it is only a humane act to see that he gets plenty of drinking water during the hot days ahead.

LEARNING TO SWIM

Plymouth mothers are justified in being strict with their boys in the matter of letting them patronize "the old swimming hole." But we want to plead again, as we have in the past, that they use a little judgment in the matter and not go too far along this line. Every boy should learn to swim, and the earlier in life he learns the better for him. Of course, he should be in the company of older boys, or better still with his father or brother of more years, when he starts in to learn. And he should be in the company of older boys when he is near deep water even after he has learned. But to prevent a boy from mastering this art is to rob him of a protection that he may some day need and need badly. No man has lost anything by knowing how to look after his safety, or the safety of others, while in the water. Since few learn to swim after they reach manhood, it follows that they should be encouraged to do so while they are young. Don't let the boy deliberately court danger in the water. But don't, at the same time, handicap him by keeping him from learning, in a safe way, one of the things every boy and girl, and every man and woman should know—the art of swimming.

THIEVES IN AUTOS

Have you noticed how fields, woods and farms along the highways are gradually getting fenced in, so that the motorist who would like to stop in a shady grove to eat lunch often looks long before finding an opening? The motorists themselves are to blame. Farmers are fencing in their property, at considerable expense, for their own protection. Many motorists have long made it a practice to rob fields, groves, gardens and orchards of anything that struck their fancy. They act as if they did not realize that taking vegetables, fruit, nuts and the like from private grounds is stealing, just as much as if the farmer came to the town man's door and took off the door knob and carried it away. These motorists pretend to think there is "no harm" in taking these things, but would they take them in the presence of the owner? In the meantime they are getting all the highways strictly fenced off to themselves. No such fences have been built along the railroads.

ADVERTISING VACATION LAND

The Michigan Bell Telephone company through its advertising department has just concluded an advertising campaign setting forth the virtues of Michigan as the paradise of the summer vacationist. The campaign which began the first week in June and ended the week of July 20, included every section of the state, north, east, south and west. It appeared in 250 newspapers from the small country weekly to the metropolitan press and its value in attracting visitors to vacation land can hardly be estimated at its true worth.

This campaign was sponsored in the belief that whatever helps Michigan helps the Bell company also. We trust that this belief will not be dispelled and that a portion of the wealth that follows in the wake of the summer visitor will be reflected in increased demands for Bell company service.

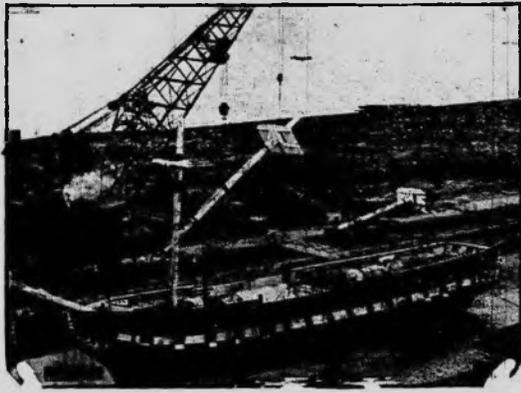

No other organization in Michigan at the present time is contributing more to a returning prosperity than the Michigan Bell Telephone company. In addition to $3,227,000 in taxes, $30,000,000 in operation in maintenance, the company is expending upwards of $30,000,000 this year for new construction and additional exchange and long distance facilities throughout the state. Such splendid confidence in the future deserves our heartiest commendation.

Old fashioned flowers and the more highly cultivated types will be attractively displayed by the home growers of Wayne at the annual flower show to be held at Wayne on August 28 and 29.

Immediate construction of $1,160,000 worth of additions to Eloise hospital was authorized last Friday afternoon by the board of county supervisors on recommendation of its ways and means committee.

Work on the north south pavement across Washtenaw county, connecting Washnaw road and Milan by the M-23 route, will be rushed by the state and may be completed by fall. The road will pass by the Ypsilanti airport.

Dedication services of Duns Scotus college, the new Franciscan educational institute being erected on a 102-acre site at Evergreen road between Nine Mile and Ten Mile roads in Southfield Park, are set for the first week in October.

With legal action by the State of Michigan looming, A. J. Boatwright last week agreed to an easement by which the state will be allowed to build a sewage line across his property to serve the new state hospital in York township.

Approximately 10,000 Dearborn citizens attended the fourth annual Dearborn Day held at Bala last Wednesday. The youngest present was a seven-year old and the oldest eighty-two years old. All stores and business places in the city were closed for the event.

C. S. 12 is to be widened and relocated to permit through traffic to skirt the cities instead of passing through main thoroughfares. It is planned to make the entire highway forty feet wide. The first step in the program will be the improvement of the Ann Arbor-Jackson section, and work will begin next year.

Excavation work on the addition of a one-story brick or the building, 20x30 feet, to the Farmington Dairy company on Grand River avenue, was started last Thursday. The new building will house an ice making machine and will have a capacity of a ton of ice a day, although ice making will not begin until next spring.

One of the latest developments of the National Airways, Inc. at Plymouth and Middle Belt roads, is the erection of beacon and flood lights for night flying. The airway, which opened last fall, today houses seven ships in its hangar. One hundred and twenty-eight students are enrolled and receive instruction from transport pilots.

Dedication services will be held in August or September by the American Legion for the placing of two German guns on the Legion Memorial highway, formerly known as the Belt Line cut-off. The two guns, one a small bomb-thrower, and the other a captured field gun, have been moved from the court house square at Ann Arbor where they have stood for the last eight years.

A stretch of pavement exploded in Hillsdale Monday, under the intense heat when the mercury registered 100 degrees at noon, injuring Mrs. William Taylor, who suffered minor injuries when she was thrown against the top of the car, and another motorist who was cut and bruised about the face. The explosion is attributed to the laying of new paving over a solid road base. The moisture that seeped between the layers turned to steam which exploded.

Red Men by No Means

Lacking in Imagination

A recent visitor to the Agawa canyon, along the Algoma Central railway, was astonished to observe on the rock-face the well-defined head of an old man, as though roughly carved by some giant sculptor. The incident started a train of reflection covering the Indian legends of the Northland.

Naughty white men, greedily depriving the Indians of their ancient empire, long fostered the notion that the red men were "untutored" and possessed no imagination. As early as 1637, however, Father Le Jeune, a Jesuit missionary, found they were in the habit of entertaining themselves by fanciful tales, and wrote his opinion that "the savages, in point of intellect, may be placed in a high rank. Education and instruction alone are wanting." Charlevoix said: "Their harangues are full of shining passages which would have been applauded at Rome or Athens." Modern Canadian readers know the beauty of Indian oratory, such as those of Tecumseh, or the simple dignity and imaginative quality of the speeches of Crowfoot and other chiefs who met the whites in the seventies and made treaties for the surrender of the Canadian West.—The Globe (Toronto).

Famous Nuremberg Clock

Nuremberg is proud of the clock that stands in the Frauenkirche tower and shows the Emperor Charles IV remitting the Golden Bull while angels look on and glorify his name. This clock, which was first built between 1350 and 1361, finally rusted and stopped running at the beginning of the Sixteenth century. The records in Nuremberg show that Joerg Heuss, famed clockmaker, rebuilt this timepiece in 1506, receiving for his labors the enormous sum of 6,141 guilders.—New York Times.

Oh, Upright Judge!

It was in a Detroit intermediate school, and a student near the end of the line was given the word "had-dock."

"What does it mean?" he asked. "I think," said the pronouncer somewhat doubtfully, "that it's a sort of fish."

The pronouncer looked toward the judge for confirmation.

"Yes," said the judge, "it's a fish—and it's also a place where they keep horses."

MERCHANTS DEFEAT C. F. SMITH 6-1

West Point Leads League Haggerty Takes 2 Games

In a one-sided game on the West Point Park grounds Pennsylvania Railroad lost for the second time this season to the West Point team by a score of 14 to 6. The game was an easy one from the second inning, when West Point scored 4 runs on as many hits. Five more were chalked up in the fifth, two in the seventh, and three in the eighth. Penn R. R. scored one in the third, two in the sixth, and one in the seventh and two in the ninth.

Penn R. R. used three pitchers in a vain attempt to check the hard hitting West Pointers, but in the game they gathered 14 hits. Penn got ten hits against the two West Point pitchers who worked. Quinn started the game and allowed nine hits. He was relieved in the ninth by Jayska, who allowed one hit. Quinn struck out two men and Jayska one.

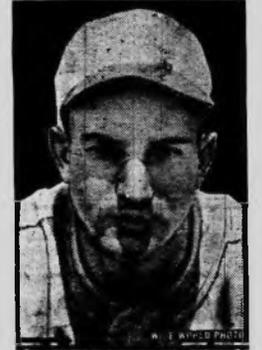

Six 2-base hits, two triples and a home run were made and two double plays were completed, one going to each team.

West Point has won nine out of ten games they have played in the Down River League. This gives them the top place with a percentage of 90.

Next Sunday, July 27th, West Point goes to Lincoln Park for their second game with them this season.

August 6th, West Point plays ball at the Millford Fair. Come out and get acquainted with all the boys.

Rookie's Fast Rise

Harry Rosenberg, sensational rookie of the New York Giants, had the quickest rise to fame of any player in the Pacific Coast league in years. He has played professional baseball for less than three months. A batting slump of one of the veteran outfielders on the San Francisco Missions baseball team gave the twenty-one-year-old player his chance. He held an average of an even .500 for 3 games.

Seeing Big League BASEBALL

By BILLY EVANS
Sports writer, Big League Umpire and General Manager of the Cleveland Indians

It seems as if most of the noteworthy incidents of my first couple of years in the American league involved either the St. Louis, Detroit or Chicago teams. Now I come to my first and only collision with a pop bottle—and it happened in St. Louis. And what a never-to-be-forgotten experience that was!

It was a day later that same year—1907. Detroit and St. Louis, hot in the pennant fight, had hooked up in one of those "crucial" games that always draw the crowds and call for special ground rules. The fans that day had

FARMERS WIN 2 GAMES FROM KALAMAZOO

The Detroit House of Correction nine overcame the Kalamazoo Moose Lodge Saturday afternoon by 14 to 1 at Summer Home Park, Long Lake. The score by innings: De-Ho-Co 0 2 0 0 1 5 0 0—14; Moose 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—1.

Batteries—Rowland and Freydl; Vanhoe, Woodhouse and Vanderberg.

On Sunday the game was won by the Farmers by a score of 4 to 3.

Next Sunday, July 27, the Farmers will play Pontiac at the House of Correction Farm.

Jack Sharkey will fight Victorio Campolo, Argentine heavyweight contender, at the Yankee stadium some time in September—but not for a $100,000 guarantee. Sharkey's asking price is a little too high for the Madison Square Garden corporation to meet, what with the Garden stock selling at 35 and the cash customers suffering at high prices for tickets and all this hullabaloo over the foul evil. But, according to Frank Bruen, general manager of the Garden, the fight will surely take place. "Such a guarantee is all out of proportion right now," declared Bruen. "But I believe we can get Sharkey to fight at our terms."

Because of a near conflict in dates with the Canadian Open championship at Ancaster in which several of Michigan's leading professionals are entered, the dates for the Michigan Open tournament at Bald Mountain have been set back a week to Aug. 4 and 5. This also forced the changing of the date for the National Professional Golfers Association qualifying trials at Thorncill from Aug. 4 to Aug. 11.

Interest in Recreation League baseball in Pontiac is at the highest pitch in years as a result of a close race. Until recently the Department of Recreation charged 15 cents admission to its games. The policy was abandoned and a voluntary contribution system adopted. Larger crowds resulted. Recently a crowd of 1,500 saw an important game.

Ed. "Strangler" Lewis will make a six months' tour of Australia. Lewis was recently quoted as saying that for the past few years he has wrestled an average of a week for an average $2,000 purse for each appearance.

NETHEM SWAMPS GR. RIVER MERCHANTS 19 TO 9

Nethem scored nineteen runs in the first six innings to hold a nineteen to two lead, and then relief pitchers were rushed in for work-out. In last Sunday's game with Grand River Merchants.

Sluippe and Johnson took the hitting honors for the Grand River Merchants, each getting three hits out of four trips to the plate, while R. Levandowski took the hitting honors for Nethem, although H. Rebitzke was second with three doubles out of five trips to the plate. Errors helped swell Nethem's run total, while the local lads played air-tight ball except for an error by Joe Schomberger. Nethem pulled four double plays to stop budding rallies of the Grand River Merchants.

The Highland Park Red Sox were to be the local attraction last Sunday, but couldn't come out on account of the vacation period at the Highland Park plant.

Next Sunday the Detroit Police will make their second appearance at Rousseau Park, Newburg, at three p. m. The local lads are seeking revenge as the police defeated Nethem in ten innings last June.

Last Sunday completed Schultze's term as captain, and during the next two weeks, Zielasko will be acting captain.

Today's Reflections

Early to bed and early to rise—and you'll miss a lot that doesn't go on in the daytime.

We'd like to hear the rest of the story about that New York man who put a ball and chain on his wife.

Most Plymouth girls want to marry an economical man but none of them want to be engaged to one.

A college education seldom hurts a man if he is willing to learn a little something after he graduates.

One rotten egg doesn't spoil the whole dozen, unless you scramble them.

Poverty in some families around Plymouth was unknown until someone wanted a better car than the neighbor's.

The average Plymouth boy is like a thermometer. If you make things hot enough for him at the bottom he'll climb.

BIDS WANTED

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned Clerk of the Village of Plymouth, up to 7:00 o'clock on Monday, August 4, 1930, covering the construction of a frame garage building of three car capacity to be constructed for the said Village of Plymouth. Plans and specifications for such building may be secured without cost at the office of the undersigned Village Clerk. A. J. KOENIG, Village Clerk.

Seeing Big League Baseball

overflowed into the outfield and were rapped off. The rules were that any ball hit into the crowd was to go for a two-base hit. Any ball hit out of the park, of course, went for a home run.

Now—and this little detail had an important bearing on the events of that memorable day—in the extreme corner of the left field fence there was a little hole through which the concession man passed their sandwiches and soft drinks and such. There was a gate to the opening and the gate usually was kept closed. If it had remained shut throughout the game, everything would have been all right for me that day. As it was, the mere fact that it was left open for a while nearly cost me my life.

Late in the game, with St. Louis at bat, Harry Howell, Browns' pitcher, came up. Home runs are unusual for pitchers to make, especially in "tight" games. But Howell saw one to his liking, swung hard and connected. The ball went on a line, straight for the left field fence, and without deviating an inch from its arrowlike course, disappeared through the little opening. I was watching that ball like a hawk. Naturally I expected to see it land in the crowd. But I saw it disappear, plainly enough, and when Howell reached second and stopped I waved him home.

And then the inevitable argument! Immediately the Detroit players rushed at me—Bill Coughlin, Germany Schaefer, Davey Jones, Hughie Jennings and all the rest of the team. Jennings, of course, as manager, was chief spokesman.

"Home run! Are you crazy, Bill? Don't the ground rules say that any ball hit into the crowd goes for two bases?"

"Come on now, Hughie, you saw that ball. Didn't it go through the hole in the fence?"

Jennings was nothing if not honest. "Yes, Bill, I did. But it's still a two-base hit."

"Well, if it went through the hole in the fence, then it was hit out of the playing field, and as it didn't go into the crowd, it's a home run. The ball went out of the lot, Hughie."

"All right, but what right has that hole got in that fence?"

At this point many of the fans, seeing the Detroit team clustered around me in argument, began to jeer at Jennings and his players. Pop bottles began to fall on the diamond, but we paid little attention to them.

Then Jennings, for the first time, seemed to realize that we were in danger, standing out on the diamond a target for the hundreds of bottles that were flying through the air. He glanced around him. "We'd better get out of this, Bill, before somebody gets killed."

And then—"Look out, Bill!" he cried.

I, too, saw it coming, coming straight at me—but too late. Crash! There was a terrible racking sound in my ears as the bottle struck, a few inches away from my temple. A sudden darting pain and the world seemed to drift away from me. And then—oblivion. The bottle, I learned later, smashed into a thousand pieces, and Jennings, although he had ducked, was cut badly about the face by the flying glass.

MONROE WINS

The Monroe Merchants easily defeated the All Star Ranger girls baseball team of Chicago at Monroe Wednesday afternoon, 18 to 6.

Sport Notes

Panama Al Brown, generally recognized as the world's bantamweight champion, pounded out a 10-round decision over Domenico Bernasconi, of Italy, at Ebbets field, New York last Wednesday evening. Both fighters weighed 122½ pounds.

Shortstop "Rabbit" Warstler, of the Indianapolis Hoosiers, has been sold to the Boston Red Sox, the Indianapolis management announced at Toledo last Wednesday. Warstler already has left to join the American league club.

For a time this season the leading two batters in both major leagues belonged to Philadelphia club.

Outright trade of Bobby Barrett, Buffalo third baseman, for Ralph Skinner, outfielder, and Russell Wrightstone, infielder, both of the Newark club, was announced by Frank J. O'ferman, president of the Bisons.

COLLEGE PLAYERS NEED BENCH PILOT

Many Eastern and Western Schools Differ.

College baseball in the East and West differed in one unimportant respect. To keep the coaches from haranguing the umpires the Big Ten had an agreement to keep the coaches on the bench, but in the East the tendency was to keep the coaches off the bench.

Fifteen years ago, when Tack Hardwick was Harvard's baseball coach, Yale asked that the coaches be kept off the bench during the Harvard-Yale series and the same arrangement was in effect in the sixty-second annual series this spring.

Hardwick, however, says that the system is no good. "College baseball is miles and miles behind professional baseball in strategy, skill and everything else," he says. "Yet the professionals have directors on the bench. It will take a lot of argument to convince me that college players do not need a bench director."

It really takes the college boys to prove how intricate baseball is. They play pretty smart football and basketball, but it is really astonishing to see how many simple and fundamental mental mistakes they make in almost every game of baseball they play.

Glen Harneson, who has signed a three-year contract as freshman football and basketball coach at Purdue, is acting as athletic instructor at a boys' camp at Eagle River, Wis. this summer. Jack White and Alex Yunevich, Boltermaker backs, are employed at the same camp.

Fred Spurgeon, utility infielder of the Kansas City Blues, was talking of the days when he was with the Cleveland club, and Tris Speaker, known as "Spoke," was the manager.

"Spoke" used to tell his pitchers to walk luth any time the Babe was up with the bases filled and a run needed to tie or take the lead," Spurgeon said. "Under that situation one run didn't seem so much. But Ty Cobb always made his Detroit pitchers pitch to the Babe, and many a game Ruth busted up for Detroit."

Willie Hoppe probably will return to active competition next season. The famous cueist, who has been out of little play for almost two years and at present is the holder of no billiard titles, is anxious to regain some of his lost laurels. He now realizes that the only way to do this is through the medium of championship tournaments and matches.

Joe McCarthy's Chicago Cubs also carry the good wishes of fandom over a wide stretch. When Hal Carlson broken and Rogers Hornsby suffered a dried ankle he looked like "taps" for the Cubs. But Blair proved a capable understudy for Hornsby, Cub pitchers began to round into form, urged no doubt by sheer necessity, and when the Brooklyn Robins came to town the Cubs rose up and threw back the eastern charges in three out of four games. The Robins, however, have refused to crack and are hanging in with a brand of ball that indicates they'll be factors in the race all the route.

Bobby Jones has been elected an honorary member of the Huntington Valley Country club of Philadelphia.

American and Japanese residents of Brazil will be responsible if baseball ever "takes" in this land, where soccer is the popular game.

During the present season five teams are playing in Sao Paulo, Brazil, the majority of the players being either American or Japanese, but with Brazilians taking a keen interest and trying to learn the fine points of the game.

Rabid fans believe that within a comparatively short time the Brazilians will develop pitchers and base runners able to hold their own with the veteran American and Japanese players.

Like baseball, cricket has a vocabulary of its own, phrases, terms and expressions that find no place in the rule book of the game.

When a bowler turns the "bat trick" he retires three batsmen in succession on three consecutive balls. In the old days a bowler received a new hat as a reward for performing this feat and ever since it has been known as the "hat trick," although bowlers no longer receive new hats for "mowing down three in three."

If a bowler bowls an over without having a run scored on him it is called a "maiden." Bowlers bowl only six balls at a stretch and few "maidens" are recorded.

Adolfo Luque's early experience as third baseman for Long Branch came in good stead after he became a major league pitcher. Few pitchers have been more agile and dexterous in fielding their position. As Doctor Henriquez once put it, he is over the ground like a cat.

He hit back in his minor league days and he still can hit. For years he used to be regarded as one of the real hitting pitchers and frequently was employed by Pat Moran as a pinch hitter. Then for a few seasons the batting knack seemed to leave him. Perhaps he no longer concentrated on getting hits. Adolfo again is on a club with a pennant chance and his hits have been a big factor in games he has won.

Helen Jacobs, second ranking women's tennis star, arrived from Europe aboard the Mauretania recently. Miss Jacobs' immediate competitive plans call for participation in the Seabright and Maidstone tournaments and the national championships at Forest Hills, New York, starting August 18.

"Frosty" Peters, former Illinois quarterback, is reported signed by the Providence Steam Roller team of the National League. Peters follows Bud Edwards of Brown University and Tony Holt of Alabama, who also are to sport the Providence team's colors this year.

Harold M. Osborn, world's record holder in the high jump, has signed as instructor in physical education at Virginia Poly.

Mule Haas, of the Athletics, brought the Athletics Trackers of the Southern Association $18,500, the most the Crax have received for a player.

For the second year the Mobile Bears of the Southern Association have become a road club because of poor home crowds.

NEWBURG

City-Bred Cow Beats Her Country Cousins

The "back to the farm" movement received a rude jolt in Washington when this city cow, Lady Dodo Tehee, II, bred and owned by the United States Soldiers' home, carried off honors from her country cousins by producing 18,136 pounds of milk, with 539.3 pounds of butter fat, in a year.

There was a very good attendance at church and Sunday-school, considering the extremely hot day. Robert Holmes furnished beautiful baskets of gladioli, and Mrs. Thomas furnished snapdragons for the altar. Charles Paddock has fitted up a classroom in the basement for his class to meet which will be nice and cool for the summer.

Sunday-school will meet before church service from now on, promptly at 11:00 a. m.; church service at 12:00. Everyone most cordially invited to attend.

Those who attended the dedication of the new Beech church last Sunday, were well repaid. A very fine program was given.

Mrs. Jesse Thomas visited Mrs. Warren Peeler in Detroit, Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Anthony Kreger and two children visited her aunt, Mrs. McGregor, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Harwich and child of Samaria, were over Sunday guests at the parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raymo of Wayne, called on Mr. and Mrs. Clark Macklinder, Friday evening.

The Misses Anna and Ada Youngs entertained Mrs. M. Eva Smith and Mrs. Emma L. Ryder for dinner last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gutberle are driving a new Cadillac.

ting up. She is very glad to have her friends call on her.

Mrs. E. Ryder and grandson, Raymond Ryder, and granddaughter Virginia Grimm, motored to Higgins Lake, Wednesday morning, where they will be guests of Mrs. Francis Ross for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Seymour and daughter, Eleanore of Wayne, spent Monday and Tuesday with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, all going out to Cass Lake Monday night for fishing and picnic lunch at Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schroder's.

The remains of Frank King of Ypsilanti, were interred in Newburg cemetery, Monday afternoon.

A St. Louis medical man says we are not eating as much as our grandfathers ate. Maybe not, but we're paying twice as much for it.

Now that there's getting to be a gas station on every corner, where would the saloons go if they did come back?

WHITBECK'S CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rengert, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bolton and Mr. and Mrs. George Gorton and daughter, Marian, are spending this week camping and fishing in the northern part of the state.

Sidney Dethloff of Stark, spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother, Walter, and family at this place.

Warren Packard, while at work with a tractor on the good roads last Saturday, had the misfortune to get two fingers of his left hand injured so that it was necessary to amputate them at the first joint.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hix and two daughters are spending a few days at Portage Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Attabury spent the last week at Washington, D. C., and other places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dethloff and two sons visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klatt, in Perrinsville, Sunday.

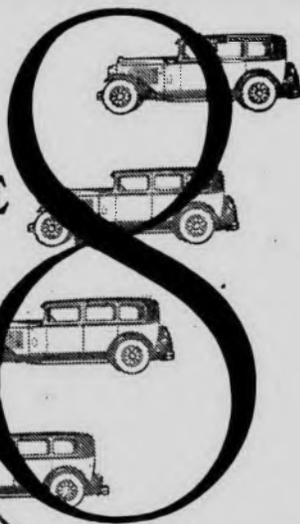

"The only way to get the best of this used-car business," declares Dad Plymouth, "is to be the first one to use the car."

Christian Science Notes

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, July 20. Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment" (Luke 12:22). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When spiritual life is understood in all its perfection, continuity, and might, then shall man be found in God's image" (p. 325). The Lesson-Sermon for next Sunday, July 27—"Truth."

St. Peter's Lutheran

Sunday-school will be dropped during the month of August, and will be resumed on the first Sunday in September. Our this year's enrollment was closed with 48 children. Let us increase this next fall.
Do not forget the Tashmoo Excursion to be held August 7th. Everyone is invited to have accommodations to the dock and back. Valuable prizes given in many games and contests.

METHODIST NOTES

"But as for me, I will come into thy house," Psalm 57.
"Be honest with yourself. When tempted to substitute a morning out of doors for attendance at public worship, it is particularly appropriate to recall Theodore Roosevelt's words: 'In this actual world a churchless community, a community which men have abandoned or scoffed at or ignored their religious needs, is a community on the rapid down grade. I advocate a man's going to church work for the sake of showing his faith by his work. Church work and church attendance mean the cultivation of the habit of feeling some responsibility for others. Yes, I know all the excuses. I know one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or in his own home. But I also know as a matter of fact that the average man does not thus worship.'"
In his talk on Sabbath observance last Sunday, Rev. Wormer of Detroit told us that many of the places of amusement that are open on Sunday would have to be closed if all who are church members withdrew their patronage on Sunday. It was a thought provoking statement and one that should be given consideration by every church member. It would be well for us to remember that Jesus said: "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath."

BAPTIST NOTES

The evening services of the Baptists will continue at the regular hour throughout the summer months. While the weather is hot the services will be held in the basement. Last Sunday evening while the temperature was 88 degrees in the auditorium it was only 69 in the basement. The scriptures say: "I was glad when they said unto me, come let us go up to the house of the Lord." God's house has always been a place of attraction and since our place of worship offers such comfort these hot summer Sundays it should be a further inducement for people to attend our Sunday evening services.
A tea social will be held this afternoon by the ladies, in the basement of the church, to which the public is invited. A splendid program has been arranged.

Salt Formation

Salt is found in many countries in the world, and, of course, in every ocean and in certain "dead seas." It almost may be said to permeate all earthly substance; the sodium line is the strongest in the spectrum, and sodium chloride is by far the commonest compound.
Geologists have guessed that the immense deposits of rock salt found in so many places are the result of evaporation of sea water during the eurytertiary periods and also have guessed that the sea water was confined in basins formed by volcanic eruptions. It would have been easy to guess that the salt was a fire product, and that fresh water melted the deposits to form the salty seas.
The worst of it all is that the fish always seem to go for a vacation just about the same time we do.

SPEND YOUR VACATION IN MICHIGAN

Penniman Allen, Theatre Plymouth, Michigan MOTION PICTURE PROGRAM

"HOT CURVES"

"Hot Curves" brings Benny Rubin, R. X. Lease, Alice Dur, Ferr Kelton and some other excellent screen artists to the Penniman Allen Theatre on Sunday, July 27, in a story of baseball. It's a Tiffany all-talking production with music interpolations, directed by Norman Taurog, written by Frank Mortimer and recorded by RCA Photophone. The story begins on the train that is carrying the Cougar team south for its Spring training. Jim Dolan, son of a famous player, is a rookie eager to make good without any favors. He wins the admiration of Benny Goldberg, a peanut butcher who gets on the team through a funny fluke, by being the only person who didn't laugh at the photograph of Benny's faddish and madder, who, he seriously informs you, was died before he was born. Benny sticks true to Jim through adventures that are romantic, thrilling and comic, and when Jim's misconduct gets him temporarily suspended, it is Benny who gets him back again and it is the two of them who, at the last moment, win the last game of the World Series for the Cougars and capture the pennant.

"THE MEDICINE MAN"

The story of how a parent's cruelty drove a beautiful girl and her little brother to seek the protection of a Medicine Show doctor is told in the Tiffany all-talking production of Elliott Lester's play, "The Medicine Man," showing at the Penniman Allen

Theatre Saturday, August 2. Jack Benny and Betty Bronson are featured in the leading roles and supported by Eva Novak, Billy Butts, George Stone, Tommy Dugan, E. Alyn Warren, Vadim Uraeff, Adolph Milar, Caroline Rankin and Dorothy Wolbert. Eve Unsell and Ladye Horton adapted "The Medicine Man" to the screen and Scott Pembroke directed. The story tells of Dr. John Harvey, a Medicine Show doctor who boasts a heart conquest in every town. He is being pursued by a Swedish girl when he reaches the small town where Mamie and Buddy Goltz live. Mamie lives a sorrowful existence, beaten and over-worked by her widowed father, who is cruel, stingy and selfish. She dreams of a handsome hero who will some day come and take her and Buddy away. Then the Medicine Show comes to town. Dr. Harvey, always on the lookout for a pretty girl, spies Mamie and invites her to the show. Mamie is shy, but ripe for romance and Doc Harvey knows just how to win her—but what he doesn't count on is falling seriously in love for the first time in his life. How he saves Mamie from a hateful marriage forced upon her by her father and himself escapes the clutches of the sheriff is told with plenty of adventure, humor and thrills in "The Medicine Man," recorded by RCA Photophone.

A sucker is a fellow who wears a dunce cap and sits on the stool in the school of experience. At this season of the year the line of least resistance to the average man is the fishing line.

CHERRY HILL

The Young People's class enjoyed a picnic at Whitmore Lake, Friday evening.

Our pastor, Rev. Zoller, and family are spending their vacation touring the west. They will be gone about three weeks. During the time, the pulpit will be filled by Rev. Brewer of Ypsilanti.

The West family attended a picnic at the Irish Hills, Sunday.

The Hauk-Kern reunion was held at Riverside Park, Sunday. It was largely attended by relatives from this place.

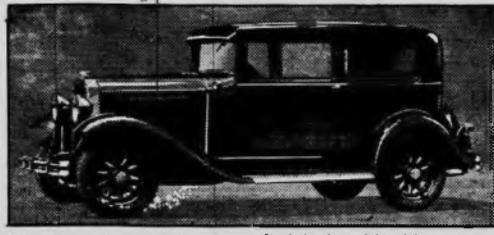

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkie and family attended the wedding of the latter's sister, Miss Dorothy Schultz, at Dearborn, Thursday evening.

Felix Hawker has been visiting her cousin at Whitmore Lake.

Irene Freeman of Kalamazoo, visited relatives of this place, last week.

The sudden passing of Luther Losey at an Ann Arbor hospital, was a great shock to this community. His family have the sympathy of all. The funeral was held at the home on Cherry Hill road, Thursday afternoon, and was largely attended by his many friends of this place and former home at Wallaceville, where he was born and lived until moving here about five years ago. Burial was in Grand Lawn cemetery.

Community Building

Community's Big Task, to Avoid Deterioration

There is a fine element of enthusiasm in creating greatness, which too frequently falls in defending and maintaining greatness achieved, says a writer in the Detroit News. The principle works in the simplest phases of community life. The young couple with all-absorbing zeal toil to complete the new house and view with huge content its varnished floors and newly decorated walls and well-fenced garden. But too easily they slip into the relaxed mood with the sense of an objective reached. The varnish mars; the walls soil; the garden fence is broken and the owners lose the pride of possession which came to them in the struggle to obtain it. Not different may be the fate of any civic enterprise however imposing and costly. There is "upkeep" to be reckoned as an essential with every community undertaking and the biggest task is to keep community enthusiasm up to the supporting point. Too often with tremendous enthusiasm a people bring about changes in their government and establish it in conformity with high ideals; then, trusting too confidently to the perfected machine, forget their obligations. How quickly comes deterioration. "Neglect of the city's business by business men, explains" many evils of which business men often complain," writes a critic of civic affairs. The citizen forgets that "Keeping a city great is a bigger task than making it great."

Real Estate Investor Must Wait for Profit

Real estate, like growing things, requires a certain period of time to mature as an investment. The length of this time varies with the location, with the development activities in the surrounding area, and the honesty, the seriousness of purpose and the financial ability of the developer. While the completion of a new highway or transportation line will greatly accelerate this maturity and thus reduce the logical term for the investment, it is very apt to be followed by a period of repose and, in the long run, the maturing process is practically stabilized. It is much like the forcing of plant life. The harvest may be artificially hastened, but at the cost of plant vitality, and the plant or tree requires the remainder of the growing season to recover from the experience.

Beautyify the Home Place

Many realtors say that the right kind of planting and gardening adds to the financial value of property at least 20 per cent. Amateur gardeners, however, must be careful to lay their plans skillfully lest the effect be marred and the value all lost, it is pointed out. The landscape problems of the small home owner of course vary greatly from those of the man with a large estate. The latter may go in for formality and elaborate effects while the man who has to deal with limited space will find his planting must serve a two-fold purpose; that of being useful as well as ornamental.

Builder Should Look Ahead

Restrictions providing that houses in certain areas must reach a certain cost level or even be of architectural design harmonious with its neighbors now control many residential sections throughout the country, but there are many places where no such restrictions exist, where the entire matter is up to the home builder, and where it would pay him to be extra careful to see that no mistakes are made to the improvement he puts on his lot.

Design Essential

If the garden is to be along formal lines, then there is a nice little problem in proportion. Repetition, balance, rhythm and accent play their part in the formal design. The holder of a completed garden may not be conscious of anything but the beauty of the picture, but the requirements of good design have to be met, if there is real beauty expressed.

Markers on Highways

Markers describing historical points of interest for the benefit of tourists are to be erected along Massachusetts highways within a year. One hundred such markers are to be put in place as soon as possible, and plans call for the erection of 100 or 200 more later. The markers will be fashioned after those now in use throughout Virginia.

"All things are created for a purpose," once sez our S. S. teacher. It took us many years to figure lots of things out. One thing, however, has attracted the attention of observer—the poor dead rise in the Weinerts' door yard. It has been turned into a haven for birds, with its several bird houses, bird bath, flower beds and cooling spray from its top. The birds have a great time these hot days, and pass is afraid of the water and the birdies know it. So that's that.

Brickmasons are busy on the Bond job, and it looks fine, we are proud of it, and the Bond's must surely be. Electrician Joe Schroeder is also stringing and boring away at Uncle Robert's woodwork; top had the knots don't grow even so all Joe would have to do would be to knock them out instead of having to bore away this hot weather.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lattall have leased the Marshall home at 11225 Arden avenue. Mr. Lattall is associated with the Koenig folks who are building a new yard east of here in anticipation of the big building program of all realtors and real-estate agents about U. S. 12 and abouts.

Garden hose much in evidence and the kiddies in bathing suits are keeping lawns green and having a good time with sed same.

Some of the big boys have or rather are going to get themselves in dunch with our manual training instructor, that is if he finds out who it was that did it—now boys you all know what, so be good Boy Scouts and go down and help Mr. Al Rhode do the fixin' right away tonite.

Another dizzy fliverist almost broke U. S. 12's glass medal Friedee ere, by driving east and to the left of the white line. Only good brakes on at least five cars saved Hank Ford, Inc., twenty bucks multiplied by six, and also several M. D. doctors from hurried calls that very hot evening. State Policers had just passed a few moments before or possibly Judge Patterson would have had another paper to sign.

And came the rain Monday evening—what a blessing to all, and rest for the garden hose.

If last Friedee was hot, Satdee was hotter and Sundee hotter. Ready relief for many motorists, fliverists and Gardenites was found at the coolest spot in Wayne Co., and that was R. Soddee dept. (local emporium). People, folks from the big village at the east reported in, sezing they didna know how they ever got out so far. Attest also many blow out men on the road. We were thinking seriously of baking the Sunday joint of beef on the sidewalk, when the good wife suggested that we have a selection of cold cooked meats from R. dept. dispensing same. Which he did, and also some fancy cheese and some nice cold omelette with a side of ice cream all rainbow eating lightly of all, and with the garden hose dispersed as kitchens "fore the thread spool. So to bed, for the nite was fairly comfortable like.

The many friends of our champion burlyardzoffer—Frank Wagner—having heard of the accident last Satdee, did not believe he could have lived through it all, and came out to view his body and inquire of flowers and music. Frank turned on the radio and took them all out in his garden—so there! And now the Wagners have a new fliver!

Mr. R. Loftus and family, 11303 Cranston, and the children's cousins the Woods, recently met with serious accident over on Five Mile Road. With exception of a damaged car, and a few good bumps to all, they returned home apparently none the worse for their trying experiences. Too many riders in a fliver wore the causes—which all goes to prove the saying "You gotta watch out for the other fellow."

We say the woodbutcherians figuring out this snow and wind had business the other hot afternoon, which cooled up the atmosphere for the time being, as we bethought ourselves of last winter when the snow was blowing and the Boy Scouts delivering Xmas mail were in season.

The Peter Kusley's and children have returned to their home on Cranston Avenue, after a six month's sojourn away from Gardenite influence. Joe says he came back in time to watch the apples ripen "by our office" as he learned from bitter experience last summer that green apples and little boy's stomach's are not in accord.

Notwithstanding the intense heat of Satdee after morning, our dancing dolls brought first prize home again. Miss Lona Belle Rhode and Master Wesley Hoffman, Jr. the first prize this time being a beautiful loving cup presented at the Hollywood theatre. This all goes to show that we are still boosting and praising the kiddies for their good work. One only has to go to see what others call good to appreciate the best of all us with us all the time, and proving the fact is that our Wesley and our Lona Belle have brought home the first prize each time they appeared together in public as tap dancers or what not. This time it was to the tune of "Take Off Your SKIN and Dance in Your Bones," or some such hot weather business. Three whoops and a whoopee!

Trees Hurt by Wires. Wires of heavy ropes drawn tightly around a tree trunk or limb may slowly strangle the tree by retarding or stopping the free circulation of water or food, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The careless use of a long running line or other instrument for breaking off small dead twigs should be avoided, the department adds.

Pecan Trees Line Highways. Terrell county, Oregon, has a pecan highway. By means of donations from various civic organizations more than 1,500 pecan trees have been planted along the highways.

To Beautify Roads. More beautiful highways are sought by the Missouri highway department. County and city schools are being asked to aid in improving the appearances of roadsides.

It has been our observation that while most Plymouth girls are not anxious to take up cooking they certainly do love to put it down.

MRS. HOOVER'S AIDE

Miss Helen Greene of Rochester, Minn., recently appointed private social secretary to Mrs. Herbert Hoover, is a graduate of Leland Stanford university. She has formerly been associated with the Mayo Clinic at Rochester.

Dad Plymouth thinks the fellow who kicks about the weather man's guesses ought to be glad Uncle Sam hasn't got women forecasters.

Dad Plymouth declares some girls give him the impression that they adore short hair because they can fix it to look so outlandish.

"Another trouble with the world," asserts Dad Plymouth "is there are too many fellows trying to reform others who ought to be working on themselves."

Farmers around Plymouth are lucky at that. If they were prosperous the government would soon start in to regulate them.

The farms have given this country its greatest men—and now look at the fix the farms are in.

Free of Stomach Troubles Thanks To New Konjola

ANTOUNDED AT QUICK AND COMPLETE RELIEF NEW AND DIFFERENT MEDICINE GAVE HIM.

MR. D. W. GOUGH

"Before I tried Konjola, my stomach was in such poor shape that food did me no good," said Mr. D. W. Gough, 354 Ferry Avenue, Pontiac, Michigan. "It did not digest properly, and I had pains in the pit of my stomach all the time. Terrible headaches made it almost impossible for me to do my work. I tried different medicines, but could not get the slightest relief.

"I heard and read a great deal about this new medicine, Konjola, and thought I would give it a trial. The first bottle did me no more good than any other medicine tried. Four bottles relieved every pain in my stomach and the headaches are a thing of the past. I am going on with this wonderful medicine, knowing that new and glorious health will be my reward."

That's the kind of medicine Konjola is... one that keeps the faith; that brings results; that makes good. From six to eight bottles are recommended as a complete treatment.

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

For Want Ad Taker TODAY

They knew what they wanted—

Several years ago a play with this title was popular. A tale it told, of life in the vineyards of California—and how the members of a little household there solved their problem of domestic happiness because they had the good fortune to know what they wanted.

Today successful housewives everywhere are solving the problems of housekeeping—simply, easily, happily—by knowing what they want before they start out to buy. And knowing what they want isn't a matter of good fortune. It's a matter of foresight and forethought.

They read the advertisements—regularly, thoroughly! They save hours of shopping time by having their minds made up before they begin to buy. They know quality brands, comparative values, dependable merchandise. They don't waste time and risk money in investigating "unknowns" and "just-as-goods."

When a merchant places himself on record in the printed page, he is forced to guarantee you consistent quality and service—or the disapproval of thousands quickly forces him out of the market. Advertised goods are reliable. Read the advertisements—Know what you want before you spend a cent.

Reading the advertisements is an important part of successfully managing a home.

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

That the water supply of the Village is adequate to meet all demands likely to be made upon same for a long time into the future has been amply demonstrated during the recent spell of hot dry weather. With the average daily demand for water during the summer months averaging from 450,000 to 500,000 gallons the past several years, we find that for the first three weeks of July the demand has averaged 710,600 gallons per day and reached a high figure of 846,000 gallons on July 16th. Although the demand for water has been so pronounced, and for a period of several weeks the water department has been able to meet every demand made upon it, and it has not been found necessary to restrict in any degree the use of water by consumers. As a precautionary measure, however, to keep our fire protection service up to a satisfactory standard, a notice is being carried elsewhere in this issue of the Mail, requesting that water services be shut off whenever the fire siren sounds. This restriction will be applied only during the present period of dry weather, and will be lifted as soon as rains have fallen in sufficient quantity to reduce the present heavy demand for water for sprinkling purposes.

Spreading Demand for More Beautiful Roads

Strange things are happening to the Great American Road. For several years the American Civic Association has been giving prizes for the most attractive, the most neatly kept wayside refreshment stands, in an effort to improve the looks of the usual rickety food purveying shacks of the traveled highways.

In New Jersey they have passed a law putting billboards under state control, charging a tax on space used, and reserving the right to bar excessively unsightly structures.

And in New York Governor Roosevelt has asked for an appropriation to be used in setting out trees along highways in certain districts. He says: "These plantings would be primarily to demonstrate that the highways could and should be made more sightly."

An increasingly large body of public opinion recognizes the beauty of tree-lined highways, as well as their economic value.

What the present concern with roads really means is that America, after spending its entire career to date getting ahead in the world, is setting itself in order for more civilized living.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Worth-While Comment by Southern Newspaper

More and more public officials, civic organizations and citizens generally are paying more attention to trees and other natural assets that add to the beauty of urban centers. Certainly no community has finer trees than Mobile has, nor is there anything connected with the city's life that is more attractive to strangers who visit Mobile.

While it is proper to save these trees when they can be saved the people here also should pay more attention to planting trees. Some of the older trees are dying out. Young trees should be planted to take the place of these when they can no longer hold out against time and the elements.

Along many of the streets of Mobile, and in some of the park areas there are trees that will not last many more years. Young trees should be coming on to take the place of these old trees. It would not cost much and it certainly would be worth while.—Mobile Register.

Farmers Day Brings Best Pulling Teams

LIGHTWEIGHT HORSES WILL REPRESENT FOUR COUNTIES AT COLLEGE AUGUST 1.

The old call of "Bring out your 2:40 horses," which challenged owners at the old half-mile tracks will be replaced by a call for 2000 pound horses for the horse pulling contest for lightweight teams which will be held at Michigan State College, Farmers Day, Friday, August 1.

Four of the best teams in the state will carry the colors of four counties into the contest and there will be plenty of rooters for each of the teams. Teams already entered are owned by the Hall Orchards, Belding; Peter Horn, Charlotte; C. C. McWilliams, Olivet, and Fay Williams, St. Johns. All the horses have conquered competition in county contests and two of them have made state records. The Horn team holds the record at present with a pull of 2925 pounds. The Hall Orchard team has the old state record of 2900 pounds.

While the lightweight teams do not hold quite as high records as the heavy weights, the latter horses have better records in proportion to their size. These teams are pulling practically their own weights. The horses must weigh less than 3000 pounds for this division. The contest will be held in the College stadium at 11:00 a. m.

Coffee Important Factor On Antarctic Expedition

Coffee—hot and lots of it—was the drink that made the greatest contribution of any beverage to the success of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. In the long, bitterly cold months during which the forty-two men wrote history upon the ice of Little America they drank sixteen gallons of coffee a day. At the base, on the trail with the dogs, in the air, hot coffee helped to fight off the penetrating cold and to stimulate tired brains and muscles. As one member of the expedition put it: "We melted the ice with coffee."

In the annals of polar exploration Rear Admiral Byrd's gallant attack on the wastes of Antarctica was unique. Never before had an expedition been fitted out with such thoroughness and foresight. Never before had such exacting preparations been made for the sake of scientific achievement. The advancement of science, not merely romatic exploration, was the goal of the great undertaking.

Architect's drawing showing the final accepted plan of the Golden Gate bridge which will cross San Francisco Bay from Oakland to San Francisco.

How thoroughly the expedition was equipped to attain its objective is illustrated by the medical record of those fourteen months on the ice. There was not a trace of an epidemic of any kind. There was less individual sickness than such a group of men would be subject to at home under ordinary living conditions. And—most important of all—the men were consistently cheerful. Perhaps the most potent factor behind this amazing record was diet, which was entirely in the hands of George W. Tennant, chief cook.

There are many men of the Byrd expedition who will say that Mr. Tennant was the most important member. Beside being chief cook, he was the one and only cook for the forty-two adventurers whose main diversion on many days, was eating. For fourteen months he began his labors at 5:00 o'clock in the morning and stayed at the range until 8 at night. Nor did he confine his menus to simple, easily prepared dishes. Every Sunday, for instance, there was roast turkey with all the trimmings, and to top it off he made pie and ice cream. Holidays and the birthdays of every man on the expedition were celebrated with feasts—he baked more than fifty birthday cakes during the long stay on the ice.

"I never stinted the men on anything," Mr. Tennant said. "I figured out nearly one hundred cake recipes while we were down there so that they wouldn't get tired of it. Everything I had to cook with was frozen—eggs, butter, lemons, meat—but it was of the best quality. "Every morning the first thing I would do was to put two and a quarter pounds of coffee in a four-gallon pot. Fill it two-thirds full of water until it boiled, and then add the rest of the water. Often I had to tell the men it wasn't done when they made a rush for it before everyone was ready for breakfast, because if those lads ever got ahead of me I was a ruined man. As soon as the first four gallons of coffee began to go I started a second pot, and there was a pot of it on the stove every minute of the day. I used nine pounds of coffee a day—sixteen gallons—and I guess they would have drunk more if I'd had time to make it for them.

"The cook stove was in the room where the men slept, and that caused a little trouble. I couldn't fry anything for breakfast because the smoke would fill up the room and we didn't dare open the door when it got down to 72 degrees below. I used to bake bread at night, and sometimes when the air outside was way up to around zero the bunk house got pretty hot. Somebody would open the door and my dough would fall and then I'd get blazes next day because there wasn't any fresh bread.

"The Commander came up to me one day and said, 'Any kicks from the men, George?'

"No, sir," I said.

"Everything going all right?" he said.

"Yes, sir," I told him.

"Haven't you got any complaints or suggestions yourself, George?'

"Well, sir," I said, "I wish you would have Dr. Conan (the medical officer) operate on about three dozen of these lads and take out their tapeworms.

"These men are an awful lot of food down there. I've been cooking for thirty-two years, on and off, and I never saw anything like it. I was with the commander when he flew over the North Pole and I cooked for him when they were getting ready to fly the Atlantic, and I've cooked for lots of other crews. But this one won the all-around eating championship.

"On account of the cold, the men got away with a great deal of hot drinks—coffee, tea, cocoa, chocolate and some prepared beverages that were real good. But they drank over twice as much coffee as all the rest put together. They took vacuum bottles of coffee on trips over the ice and you can bet there was some on the flight over the South Pole. They also had coffee cached at the supply bases on the ice and it was included in all emergency rations along with pemmican and other concentrated foods.

"Coffee laced the men up and stimulated them when they had work to do, and it made them cheerful when they were just shivering around wishing they had something to do. When they came in off the trail they almost knocked me over getting to the pot that was always steaming on the stove. In some ways, I think coffee was about the most valuable thing we took down to Little America."

Mr. Tennant is not sorry he went with the Byrd expedition, notwithstanding his fifteen hours a day over the cookstove and his pay of a cent a month. He would do it again for "The Commander." But he's had about enough of cooking. His first job was in the galley of a Great Lakes steamer when he was 16, and now he is 48—healthy, alert and single. He has cooked on every continent in the world, although he points with pride to interludes of farming, gold mining and being a traveling salesman.

Following the round of entertainment in New York and other eastern cities when the expedition returned, Mr. Tennant went to Manistee, Michigan, his home town, for a Fourth of July celebration in his honor. After that he "sort of has an eye on Seattle," where there is a school teacher he used to know who rallied to him in the Antarctic that she was still single.
