$396,090 VOTED FOR PRISON BUILDINGS

Work On Several New Buildings To Be Started At Once At House of Correction Prison Farm.

The building program at the Detroit House of Correction Farm is well under way, and Tuesday the Detroit City Council approved the building contracts that when completed will bring the entire Detroit House of Correction prison to the farm at Plymouth.

Among the new buildings that are to be erected will be an administration building; a cell block containing 100 cells and room for 100 more when needed; a receiving room and deputies' office; a dining room with a capacity for seating 1,000; a commissary and cold storage building large enough for the storage of 250 chunks of beef and many other articles of foodstuff. This building will also contain a 10-ton ice machine.

A new power house is being erected along the prison side track at the south end of the group of buildings. The power house will contain two 400-h.p. boilers, which will furnish the heat for both the men's and women's prisons. The building which now houses the power plant will be used for other purposes.

The hospital building has been enlarged and remodeled and a new office building has been erected to take the place of the old wooden structure which has been used since the prison farm was established here.

The present building used as a garage will be torn down, and another garage will be erected in another location. Several of the new buildings will be located upon the low ground, which is now being filled in just east of the orchard.

Eleven new dormitories are being built and are the last word in prison dormitory construction. The front part of these dormitories is given over to a large recreation room for the inmates. In the center on one side is a bath room, and on the other side is a laundry. Immediately back of these is sleeping quarters for forty men. At the extreme end of the building are officers' quarters.

All of the old buildings will be remodeled. All of the new buildings will be constructed of steel and concrete blocks.

The superintendent's residence is fast nearing completion, and Capt. Dennison and family expect to occupy the same within a few weeks.

The council gave the contract to Martin Grammann Company, low bidder. Their completion next February will permit transfer of the last group of prisoners from the old Alfred street prison and practical abandonment of that building. At the Alfred street prison there are 420 men prisoners, as compared to 700 three months ago.

The removal of the prison from Detroit, will, without doubt, bring many new families to Plymouth.

Work to be completed by February 1. Now that the work of construction of the new prison is actually under way and will be completed as early as February, it is vitally important that every interested citizen give his whole-hearted support and cooperation to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors and members of the housing survey and building committees who are working toward a solution of our present housing shortage.

16th Volunteer Infantry Held 50th Annual Reunion

The Sixteenth Michigan Volunteer Infantry held its annual reunion at Pontiac, last week Wednesday. When this regiment marched away for war in 1861, it was 1200 strong, and today, so far as known, there are but three surviving members, Charles A. Nesbitt of Pontiac, and Joseph Statler and Thomas Darcy of Detroit, the latter a former well known citizen of Livonia township.

Company F of Plymouth formed one of the units of the regiment which took part in many engagements of the Civil War.

The late Wm. B. Roe went out as lieutenant of the company, and was later promoted to captain.

This was the fiftieth reunion of the regiment, and it was the last. For a number of years these annual reunions were held in Plymouth, where the veterans were always royally entertained.

COUNTY TAXES TO BE HIGHER

32-CENT INCREASE IN RATE IS DUE TO WELFARE ACTIVITIES.

The County Budget for 1930-1931 was formally adopted Friday by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors. The total State and County tax rate, as approved by the supervisors, is $7.467 per $1,000, an increase of 32 cents over last year.

The increase is due to an increase in the budget total of $2,098,874.23 over last year, made necessary by the welfare activities of the County. No salary increases or new positions are contained in the budget, Councilman William P. Bradley, of the ways and means committee, which approved the budget, said, but the total appropriations were increased by the County's welfare and building program. One item alone, that providing for the Elsie Hospital and Infirmary, is for $1,428,887.78.

This year's budget is providing $570,000 for new buildings at Elsie. The total tax for Wayne County is $35,420,731.18, of which $14,030,219.08 is the State tax and $15,390,490.78 is the total County tax. The appropriation for County roads is $4,615,771.94 for special roads and drains, $587,250.08.

The State tax rate is $3.123, the County rate, $3.250 and the road tax rate, .085 cents, the total rate being $7.467.

Cooperate With Fire Department

Cooperation with fire departments by individual citizens is a most important factor in the successful prevention of fire losses, states the Insurance Department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which also finds that more firemen lose their lives on the way to fires than at the fires themselves.

It would seem enough for firemen to jeopardize their existences while actually working to preserve lives and property. Rules have been laid down often for guidance of motorists, as well as onlookers, which are honored mainly in the breach—especially those requiring motorists to draw up to the curb, parking beside fire hydrants and in the immediate vicinity of fire stations. These are prohibited by law, but it might also be remembered that such acts are violations of the rights of fellow citizens whose property is endangered. Crowding too close to firemen fighting a blaze has often seriously impaired their activities.

In the course of their duty firemen must make frequent inspections of property. It is their business to assist the property owner in preventing fire for his sake, as well as the sake of his neighbors. Consequently, they should be treated with the greatest courtesy and given assistance wherever possible. If, as is frequently the case, it is necessary for them to issue an order requesting that a dangerous hazard be corrected, cooperation should be offered readily and cheerfully. Such orders are never issued indiscriminately.

Favors Housing Survey

Plymouth, Mich., October 2, 1930. Mr. Berg D. Moore, Secretary, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Moore: I wish to congratulate the officials of our Chamber of Commerce in making the complete housing survey of our city. It seems to me this was the right and only method of finding out just where Plymouth stood in the matter of vacant houses available to care for the many families that are at the present time desirous of coming to Plymouth to live.

And to know how many of these families we could house you have certainly used good judgment in listing every available place in which a family could be located, and I should think now would be the time for every owner of a house for rent, to put such house in such a condition that it can readily be rented and at a rental price that would pay a fair rate of interest on the investment. No one can expect to rent a house without it being electrically adequate, heated, etc., to people who come to us from cities and communities where the housing conditions are up-to-date.

The survey you are completing will in my opinion show the owners who have rental property just where they stand.

Very truly yours,
C. H. Remert.

LOCAL AREA IS IN NEED OF NEW FEDERAL PRISON

MAY LOCATE NEAR DETROIT HOUSE OF CORRECTION FARM.

SUMMARY OF STEPS TAKEN TO DATE

About a month ago, our chamber of commerce was approached by Captain Dennison of the Detroit House of Correction, and Mr. Merry, a representative of the U. S. Department of Justice, relative to the need for a Federal Unit in the greater Detroit metropolitan area. For some time the Detroit House of Correction had been taking care of Federal prisoners both in Detroit and at their farm, but this practice was discontinued in June of this year. Since that time about four hundred (400) Federal prisoners have been housed in various Michigan institutions. Mr. Merry explained that similar conditions were true in other sections of the country and that the U. S. Department of Justice was taking steps to locate six or seven additional units for government buildings to both institutions to locate their Detroit unit near the House of Correction Farm.

An institution of the size contemplated, a $400,000 to $500,000 project, would necessitate about 40 to 50 employees most of whom would be married and would locate in the near-by well developed community. A large part of the institutional building would be handled by government bids open to anyone, and Mr. Merry explained that invariably much overlapping buying is found necessary and is conducted in the nearest community of any size. Add this institutional buying to the money spent for daily necessities by the employees, to the money belonging to prisoners spent by employees for articles wanted by prisoners, to institutional employees' and prisoners' money deposited in local banks, and you have many thousands of dollars accruing to the benefit of the nearest community.

A special meeting of the board of directors of our chamber of commerce was called Monday, September 8th, and other representative business and civic leaders were asked to be present. The result of the proposed project was thrashed out pro and con, and it was decided to add this institution to the ones of similar character already established in our vicinity could not result in any objectionable features, and that it was worth going after because of the large financial return available. A chamber of commerce committee was, therefore, formed, and many hours have been spent by members of this committee securing opinions on sites, and compiling information on numerous points requested by the government. Mr. Merry returned Saturday, October 4th, and inspected the sites he passed as satisfactory was sent out from our chamber of commerce office to the U. S. Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., last Monday, October 6th.

Mr. Merry stated that weeks might pass before definite word could be had, and that several other communities were being considered. He said that as news of this project began to leak out around Detroit and surrounding towns that the U. S. Marshall's office in Detroit was literally besieged by realtors and farmers offering options. While the time and work put in by members of this committee may have been spent in vain in this instance, it is a striking illustration of the necessity for a chamber of commerce organized and equipped to render intelligent service when the occasion demands.

Mrs. M. G. Partridge, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Reck, Mrs. Charles G. Draper and Mrs. I. N. Innis spent from Sunday until Tuesday at Fremont, Michigan, where they were guests of Mrs. Maude P. Brooks and daughter, Miss Dutha Brooks, former residents of Plymouth.

Sunday afternoon, all six ladies drove to Muskegon and also took the scenic drive along the shores of Lake Michigan, returning to Fremont by way of Hesperia, calling on Miss Haight, a former Plymouth lady. On Monday, they drove to Croton to see the Croton Dam, and on to Oshtemo, where they saw the Hardy Dam, which is on the Muskegon River and the largest dam completed with the largest dirt dam in the world.

Starting back again for Fremont by way of High Roadways, they had the novel experience of having two wild deer cross the road just in front of their car.

The ladies returned to Plymouth Tuesday, visiting Mrs. Brooks and Miss Dutha A. J. entertainers. Mrs. Brooks and Dutha wished to be remembered to all their Plymouth friends.

R. J. Lorenz has taken a half page ad this week to announce the opening of a new service station at the corner of South Main and Wing streets, Tuesday, October 14th. The new station is constructed of light brick with stone trimmings, and is very artistic in appearance. The station is equipped with all conveniences including two lavatories.

Mr. Lorenz will handle the Sunoco gas and a complete line of oils and greases.

As a special attraction for the opening day, purchasers of $1.00 worth of gas will be given coupons which will entitle them to one-half dozen fine water tubs, redeemable within one week. See the ad on another page of the Mail.

Kiwanians Hear Plumbing Talk

Henry Ray, who had charge of the Kiwanis program at the Mayflower last Tuesday noon, presented as his main speaker, Frank E. Stuart, state representative, Michigan State Association of Plumbing and Heating Dealers, who gave a talk on "A Plumber's Responsibility to the Public." Mr. Stuart stated that through the efforts of their association a bill had been passed by the state legislature giving the state of Michigan a plumbing code that was second to none; that it did not increase the cost of plumbing but on the other hand afforded a means of protection against the "gyp" plumber. It did not prohibit a man doing his own work provided the installation was made in an approved sanitary manner.

After the main talk, Henry Ray gave a five minute address that was certainly appreciated by the club. Much merriment was occasioned by the speakers becoming over anxious to put across their ideas and in so doing attempting to use certain expressions that are not considered good form in Kiwanis circles. They both caught their own slips and had the cash for their fines ready.

Women Voters To Meet October 13

Miss Carolina Penney will entertain with two piano numbers. All members and their friends are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Kiwanis Club To Present "Minstrel Echoes" Soon

It was arranged at a recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club to stage the latest production of the John H. Rogers Producing Company of Piquette, Ohio, "Minstrel Echoes," on November 19th and 20th, at the high school auditorium, for the benefit of their Christmas Fund. The Kiwanis Club plans to make this the most important event of the year in amateur theatricals. The Rogers Company will be remembered for their "Minstrel Echoes" last year and "Minstrel Echoes" is said to be still more attractive and elaborate.

The minstrel is in the nature of a radio minstrel and the characters and events are introduced in a novel way by that method. The setting represents an elaborate hotel and the minstrel is given by the bell boys to entertain the guests.

The different committees and local actors will be announced later, after more definite plans have been made.

W. G. GRIFFITHS, CONSUL, IS DEAD

COLOMBIAN REPRESENTATIVE HERE IN DIPLOMATIC CIRCLES FOR 37 YEARS.

We take the following from the Detroit Free Press of October 1st, relative to the death of the father of Arthur G. Griffiths of this place:

William G. Griffiths, consul for Colombia in Detroit, died at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday in his home at 138 Rhoads Island avenue, Highland Park. He was 83 years old.

The death of Griffiths closed a diplomatic career of 37 years, in which he distinguished himself in five important consular posts. He was British and later United States consul in Spain, and at various times Spanish, Colombian and Honduran consul in the United States.

Born in Gibraltar on December 5, 1848, the son of the British consul to Spain, his early life was spent in diplomatic circles.

He studied in various schools in Spain and England before he came to the United States to become a Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune. He came to Detroit 48 years ago.

Shortly after his arrival he became acquainted with the late Thomas Wilberforce Palmer, former United States senator from Michigan. When President Benjamin Harrison appointed Senator Palmer ambassador to Spain in 1880, Griffiths accompanied him as his secretary and an American consul.

He retained his secretarial post to Palmer when the ambassador was recalled four years later to take charge of the Chicago world fair.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James G. Laves, and three sons, Arthur G., Alfred W. and Albert A. Griffiths.

Funeral services were held at the residence at 2:00 p. m. Thursday.

Master Plan of Superhighways

The Master Plan of superhighways was adopted by the City of Detroit in April, 1925, following its adoption by the County of Wayne and the adjoining counties of Oakland and Macomb, and is in reality a regional plan, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines, recently.

Under this plan 21 highways with a right of way of 204 feet are laid out within a 15-mile circle in the Detroit region, spaced three miles apart east and west and north and south; all radials are also included in the plan. Several of the main radial roads entering Detroit are carried far beyond the 15-mile circle. The approximate total length of these 204 foot superhighways is 265 miles.

These 204-foot superhighways are being initially developed with either two 20-foot dual concrete pavement strips or two forty-foot dual concrete pavements. A 20-foot space is provided on each side for sidewalk development and where two forty-foot roadways are built, a center space of 84 feet is provided for future development, stated Mr. Hines.

That this is not merely a paper plan is attested by the accomplishment to date. During the five years that the Master Plan of superhighways has been operative, 103 miles have been developed with either the two 20-foot concrete roadways or the two forty-foot concrete roadways.

This development has taken place on Base Line, Kelly, Seven Mile, Gratiot, Stephenson, Woodward, Northwestern, Telegraph, Grand River, Michigan, Southfield, Mound, Fort and Schoolcraft Superhighways.

On all of this mileage the right of way of 204 feet is acquired and in addition thereto there has been acquired a considerable mileage of wider right of way on which the initial paving has not been placed, stated Mr. Hines.

Wider width of right of way are acquired by dedication through the operation of the platting law; by exchange of back property for frontage, by purchase and by condemnation.

In our 1931 budget we have included several widening projects notably Grand River through the old Village of Redford, Woodward Superhighway from Six Mile to Base Line Road, and Southfield Superhighway which is the north and south backbone of our superhighway plan. A special effort will be put forth on Southfield to bring about its early development.

Between forty and fifty people responded to the appeal made by President Blank of the Chamber of Commerce to attend a general meeting at the Village Hall last Thursday evening, October 7th. Many others would have been present had it not been for conflicting business and social engagements.

Secretary Moore made a definite report on the information received from the Detroit office of the Detroit House of Correction. This information is available to any member of the Chamber of Commerce and others interested, and can be gone over at any time in the Chamber of Commerce office. He also made a report on the actual work done and steps taken to date on the Federal Prison project, covered in another article on this page.

Quite a number among those present presented their views on the subject. Henry Hax gave a very significant and interesting account of the necessary character of the work done on the housing survey and the results found. Arthur Blunk stressed the importance of making it possible for our Chamber of Commerce to carry on this work and other projects arising for consideration. Both the speaker and others took the standpoint that this work must continue and that no thought of failure should be given a moment's consideration.

It was pointed out before that the beneficial results of this housing survey would be lost if the records in the Chamber of Commerce office were not kept up-to-date. A good example of this arose during the meeting. Secretary Moore reported that six of the more desirable vacant houses placed on record in the Chamber of Commerce office when this work was started about three weeks ago, had already been rented and that about an equal number had been added since members of the survey committee had last made the rounds.

This Meeting Served Its Purpose. If anyone attended this meeting in the hope and expectation that a solution could be had at one sitting, they were doomed to disappointment. It was felt by the officials of the Chamber of Commerce that a large general meeting was the best way to start the ball rolling. The more who are informed in a first hand way, the more talk and action will develop. The more talk, the more interest, the more interest, the greater possibilities of getting action.

No Time For Delay. Convincing proof that we must get to work on this problem is furnished by the article on this page announcing that the building appropriation for the new Detroit House of Correction Farm building has been definitely approved by the Detroit City Council, that this work is to begin at once and that the contract calls for completion February 1st next year. The variations, and in some cases conflicting opinions, expressed at last Tuesday's meeting is but added proof that concerted, intelligent, cooperative action is necessary to solve our housing problem. While the results cannot be had in any other way, several present at the meeting made the recommendation that this work be carried ahead by two committees, one a survey committee to continue the work they have already started of keeping every vacant house and apartment in the city up-to-date, while the second to form an executive, building or investigating committee whose function would be to secure the most up-to-date information available on small modern homes and apartments, construction and an actual development, or cannot be done on the basis of the information received from the Detroit House of Correction. Steps will be taken immediately to organize a second committee.

Construction on the new Union Building of the Michigan State Normal College will be started November 1, according to an announcement made by the building committee this week. Bids are already in order and will be opened October 15.

The new Union will be a valuable addition to the Normal College campus. It will house the student body the need for this type of building has been felt for several years. Five years ago definite action was started on the program, and during that time the fund for the building has grown to $305,000. Nearly $150,000 of this is in cash while the remainder of the money is in pledges made by students, alumni, and friends of the college. The new building is to be constructed at the cost of approximately $300,000 and $35,000 will be spent for furnishings, making a total cost of $335,000.

The site for the structure is to be on the plot between the old Training School of the Normal College.

The construction of the Union Building marks another step in the architecture of the campus. It will be built in a Gothic-Collegiate style of architecture, the exterior being built of brick and limestone.

There will be an all day meeting of the Wayne County Holiness Association in the Baptist church, Tuesday, October 14th. Hours of service: 10:00 a. m., bible reading, prayer and testimony; at 12:00 o'clock a pot-luck lunch will be served; at 2:00, a sermon by Evangelist Charles Jacobs of Charlotte, Mich. At 7:30 p. m. service at the Beech M. E. church of New Detroit. All invited.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid will hold a tea Wednesday afternoon, October 15, at 2:00 o'clock, in the basement of the church. Everybody welcome.

ANNUAL FIRE WASTE IS TREMENDOUS

President Hoover in his Fire Prevention Week Proclamation called attention to the tremendous annual waste of life and property in the United States from preventable fires. No where else are people as heedless of the potential dangers of fire, and the fire waste of the continent of North America is the greatest in the world. In 1900 the value of property destroyed by fire in the United States alone was approximately $161,000,000. In 1926 it amounted to over $560,000,000, an increase of 250%. Later years have shown a welcome decrease from that high point, though present indications are that losses are again mounting. Last year the value of property burned was in the neighborhood of $473,000,000, which was $9,000,000 greater than that of the preceding year. So far in 1930 reported monthly losses have been on the average, 7% higher than those of last year.

Undoubtedly, Fire Prevention Week which is being observed more widely each succeeding year, has to a great extent roused in citizens of the United States a realization of the necessity of exercising greater care in the prevention of fires.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has lent its full support to this effort. It reports that hundreds of local commercial organizations have perfected plans for a wider observation of the week than any attempted before and that many others interested in the humanitarian and economic aspects of the work are engaging in it whole-heartedly.

Fire prevention education so far has resulted in the saving of many lives and millions of dollars worth of property, and in order to counteract the natural predisposition towards an annual increase in fire waste, it will be necessary for each single community and person to exert a greater individual effort.

Only two days, today and tomorrow, to act on Fire Prevention week. Act now!

TIME TO PAY UP

Why general reports indicate the backbone of the season of depression has been broken, the fact should not be overlooked that prompt payment of taxes is one of the best means toward business betterment.

Your county is nothing more than a business institution. It takes money to run it. There are employees to pay, improvements to keep up, schools to maintain and past obligations to meet. Unless taxes are paid with a reasonable degree of promptness it works a hardship on every citizen. Postponing their payment only makes it harder in the long run, for then interest accumulates and eventually this must come out of the pockets of property owners. The county has bills to meet, the same as the individual or the privately owned company. Unless those bills are paid when they are due it means a weakening of the county's credit, and that is the worst thing that could happen to any community. Once credit is weakened the flotation of bonds for any necessary purpose must be at a lower rate of interest than can be secured by those counties that meet their obligations promptly.

No matter what the rate may be, paying taxes is to the average citizen more or less of a hardship. Yet it is absolutely necessary that they be paid. It is the citizen's most solemn debt to the community in which he lives. This county's tax books show more taxpayers in arrears than is good for it. It is not safe to let these obligations go unpaid. Even though it means sacrificing at some other point, past-due taxes must be paid if Plymouth is to meet its overhead and the credit of the county is preserved. Don't wait another week. It may pinch even more than now. Dig down and settle this most important of all debts and have it off of your mind.

RURAL SIDEWALKS

When someone suggested a few years ago that the time would come when states would give serious consideration to the construction of sidewalks for pedestrians along main-traveled highways, he was laughed at. Now it begins to appear that the laugh is on the other side of the mouth. Several states are actually giving it consideration.

In the old days cinder paths were placed alongside a good many roads to provide for the walker and for bicycle riders. It was a great convenience for families living in rural districts. But today such walks are needed not so much from the standpoint of convenience as they are for safety. The numbers of hikers has greatly increased. Farms are smaller than they used to be, and "neighboring" is more common, or would be if roads were safer. The surface of most roads is usually only wide enough to take care of two lanes of cars. Every Plymouth motorist knows full well the danger faced by those who walk on the paved part of a main-traveled road.

All this could be avoided in building and paving roads in the future. Money must be spent for construction anyhow, so why not devote a part of road funds to building a foot-path far enough off to the side of the traffic lanes to accommodate pedestrians? The saving in human life alone would compensate, and there would be fewer accidents since motorists would not then be forced to dodge the walkers and other autos too. It is not an idle dream. A couple of years more will prove that.

WE'RE EATING MORE

The average Plymouth citizen may not know it, and he may be inclined to dispute it, but he is eating 150 pounds more every year now than he was eating in 1900. The increase is made up of sugar, fruits and dairy products. And that increase of 150 pounds goes for every person in the United States today. We are eating fewer cereals, particularly corn meal. Thirty years ago consumption of sugar averaged 61 pounds a year per capita, now it is about 105 pounds. Fats and oil jumped from 34 to 44 pounds; fruit from 169 to 192 pounds; dairy products from 840 to 1040 pounds. Meat consumption has changed very little, ranging from 142 to 145 pounds a year, depending on fluctuation in prices. These interesting figures are vouchered for by the foodstuffs division of the United States Department of Commerce.

THE TOURIST'S DOLLAR

The tourist's dollar didn't mean much to Plymouth ten or fifteen years ago. But every year finds it cutting a little wider swath in the local field of business. In fact, within the past few years the tourist's dollar has developed into an industry representing something like two billion dollars a year—to say nothing of that part of it that Canada corral. Already states are entering into competition for it, and ere long it promises to establish a new alignment of industry. Already in some states more money is circulated in a single year than is derived through agriculture or manufacturing. And since the tourist's dollar is just as welcome as that from wheat, corn, livestock, dairy products or cotton, the clamor to get it may really be said to have hardly started. He's worth courting now—the American tourist. So don't forget that anything you can say or do to persuade him to come back this way again is a good turn for the whole community.

HOME PERILS

The home is a man's castle. But it is up to the owner and his family to see that personal comfort and safety are not jeopardized by hidden enemies within the castle itself. That is to say, if there is a dangerous stairway, it should be repaired at once. If you have reason to believe flues are not going to draw perfectly, or that they might cause a fire that would destroy your home, see to it that they are put in perfect shape at once. If the back steps are rickety, why wait until some member of the family breaks an arm before repairing them? "Watch Your Step" holds just as good in the home as anywhere else. Figures show that there are as many accidents in homes as there are in factories or mines or on the railroads. Just because it is "home" does not mean that it is a perfectly safe place in which to be. You may be neglecting the very things that keep it from being safe. Why not take a look around and give home perils the attention they should have had long ago?

MOTION PICTURE

"THE TEXAN"

TOTALLY different in many ways, yet bringing the same carefree, swaggering, outdoor freedom of "The Virginian" to the talking screen, "The Texan," Paramount's second great romance of the West comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, October 12 and 13. Gary Cooper, "The Virginian," is also "The Texan." O. Henry wrote the original story, "A Double-Dyed Deceiver," from which "The Texan" was adapted. It first appeared in a collection of stories, "Roads of Destiny," by the famous author, and popular acclaim singled it out as one of the most thoroughly human pieces from the pen of America's best-beloved writer. Oliver H. P. Garrett, who wrote "Street of Chance," adapted O. Henry's story for the screen.

The story opens in Texas and climaxes on the pampas of South America. It tells of the Lairo Kid, a young bandit, who is persuaded to go to South America to pose as the runaway son of a wealthy and aristocratic widow. There he meets the widow's beautiful niece, and finds a mother's love. Although he went to rob, he finds he cannot destroy the older woman's happiness.

Filled with splendid outdoor scenes and action, the picture has a clean-cut appeal. Gary Cooper is a fast-riding, fast-shooting plainsman, whose true honesty is forced to the surface in a human and logical way. Fay Wray is the girl. She played opposite Cooper in "The First Kiss" and "Legion of the Condemned." Emma Dunn gives another wonderful mother portrayal, one of the best of those which have made her famous on stage and screen for nearly a quarter of a century. John Cromwell, who directed George Bancroft in "The Mighty" and William Powell in "Street of Chance," made this picture.

"UNDER MONTANA SKIES"

KENNETH HARLAN, who was the original "Virginian" of the screen, and who has made a big success of Western heroes, is again a cowboy in "Under Montana Skies," sharing stellar honors with Dorothy Gulliver. It's a Tiffany musical comedy-drama showing at the Penniman Allen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, October 15 and 16. This is Harlan's first talking picture and his return to the screen after more than a year in vaudeville. "Under Montana Skies," an original story by James K. Aubrey, is concerned with the adventures of a stranded theatrical troupe in a small western town. When the manager decamps with the money, the hotel owner, who also owns the local theatre, has them arrested for their board bill.

When the cowboys who chase the town of Red Rock as the locale for holiday whoopee because of the show advertised to appear, find that iron bars stand between them and a show by a lot of pretty girls, they try to remedy the situation. In doing so they run into a lot of adventure, excitement and romance that is a show in itself.

Slim Summerville, Ethel Wales and Harry Todd see that there are plenty of laughs in the picture, and others contributing to the entertainment are Nita Martin, Lela McKee and Christian J. Frank. "Under Montana Skies" is recorded by RCA Photophone and directed by Richard Thorpe, and the tuneful melodies are the work of Violinsky and Harry Tobias.

55% OF FIRES PREVENTABLE

Fire Prevention Week has been observed throughout the nation in an ever increasing degree, and despite the fact that the fire waste of North America is still the greatest in the world it is felt that at last the national conscience has been aroused.

Approximately 55% of all fires of known origin could have been prevented. The remaining 45% are only partially due to uncontrollable causes. Unpremeditated acts of carelessness and failure to correct dangerous fire hazards are responsible for probably no less than three-fourths of our annual losses both of life and of property.

"INSIDE THE LINES"

TO a public satiated by war screen drama that veritably thunders a barrage of noise, the new film appearing at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, October 17 and 18, comes as a genuine pleasure. "Inside the Lines," dealing as it does with those hidden byways of war showmanship, the espionage avenues along which men and women have risked their necks in spying out enemy secrets, reveals as much drama and as compelling, as the most sanguine display of carnage and noise in the trench-and-bullet pictures.

"Inside the Lines" is the story of the intrigues about Gibraltar that almost spelled the doom of the fortress during the bloody days of the great conflict. Its drama is confined to the thrilling maneuvers of crafty spies, and the powerful human struggles that arise out of questions of honor, love of country, or love of a woman.

Betty Compson, never more moving and convincing, is an admirable star for this film, playing her loveliness against the challenges of keen-witted men intent on her destruction as a spy. She is splendidly supported by Ralph Forbes, a good-looking and smooth-playing performer, and a supporting cast of genuine excellence. There is real depth and power in this picture, and a good share of the credit for this convincing vigor and realism must go to the director, Roy J. Fomeroy.

Briefly, the story describes the adventures at Gibraltar of Miss Compson and Mr. Forbes, both German spies, who have known each other in their childhood home before the war. They meet unexpectedly at the British fortifications in Gibraltar, assigned the duty of blowing up the Mediterranean fleet. The climax of the lovers' struggle comes when they try to save each other from the firing squad, the while remaining loyal to their mission.

Supporting Betty Compson and Ralph Forbes are such well-known players as Montagu Love, Betty Carter, Evan Thomas, Ivan Simpson, Reginald Sharland and Mischa Auer.

Use the same care with fire in the woods as you would at home. You must be careful around the home to protect your own property—do so with the State's property.

DE-HO-CO DEFEATS WEST POINT, 2 TO 1

The De-Ho-Co baseball nine defeated the strong West Point team at De-Ho-Co Park last Sunday by a score of 2 to 1. Hartner, who was on the mound for the Farmers, pitched a splendid game.

FIRE LOSS IS DECREASING

The Inter-Chamber Fire Waste Contest which is conducted by the Insurance Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Fire Waste Council, has provided an appropriate avenue for the practical expression of fire prevention doctrines. The Chamber first took an active interest in the prevention in 1923 at the behest of many state executives and commercial organizations which realized that fire waste was rapidly becoming a matter of national importance. Throughout the seven years that the Contest has been conducted, the fact has been conclusively demonstrated that fire waste can be prevented through education and an awakening of the individual sense of personal responsibility.

The Chamber finds that many instances of phenomenal reductions in fire losses have been reported by individual cities, while others have gradually and systematically reduced the amount of their annual property losses. In 1923, the per capita fire loss of the United States as a whole was $4.84. The per capita loss of cities engaged in the Contest was slightly more than half that amount. In 1926, the fire loss of the United States reached the unprecedented amount of $560,748,000. That year, although the number of contesting cities increased 34%, the total fire loss of competing cities was reduced over 5%. In fact, from 1925 to 1928 there was a constant decrease as follows: 1925, $3.77; 1926, $3.07; 1927, $2.70; 1928, $2.35.

A slight upward trend was noticed in 1929 when the per capita loss increased to $2.61. This was commensurate with the increase which was noted in general throughout the United States. However, the average per capita loss of competing cities of $2.61 was 46.6% less than the average of the preceding five years.

William Butterworth, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States said:

"The savings achieved have been made possible by the interest and public spirit of the personnel of those local organizations which have done such excellent work in the Inter-Chamber Fire Waste Contest. The far reaching and beneficial effects of their activities cannot be over estimated. To the citizens which these organizations represent there has been effected a savings of millions of dollars worth of values. Lives have been saved, fewer workmen have been deprived of their livelihood through the burning of industrial properties and no conflagrations have taken place to reduce once beautiful cities to blackened heaps and result in complete economic demoralization of the communities."

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the laxy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose. Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Bayer Pharmacy.

NETHEM BEATS NORTHVILLE 9-4

Last Sunday, October 5, at Northville Fair Grounds, Nethem defeated Harry German and his lads in the second game of a scheduled double header. Horvath was in rare form, and let the heavy hitting team down with five hits, and with the help of his near perfect support he had the boys eating out of his hand.

German pitched good ball, but his support was ragged at times, which kept him in the hole in the early innings, and it was at this stage of the game that Nethem made their hits count runs.

Nethem started the scoring in the second inning when H. Rebitzke led off with a single; then John Schomberger laid down a bunt and by fast legging made it an infield hit. With the count two and two, and the runners in motion, Ray Levandowski knocked a triple to left center. Then T. Levandowski struck out, and Joe Schomberger was safe on a fielder's choice, when R. Wood's throw to the plate was a little late. W. Horvath ended the inning by hitting into a double play, R. Wood to E. Wood to Finnigan.

A. Rebitzke opened the third and was safe on E. Wood's error, and Schultz sacrifice, and was safe when H. German, Sr., threw the ball wild to second, on his attempt to get Rebitzke and they both advanced on H. Horvath's infield out and scored on H. Rebitzke's second hit of the game which ended the scoring for the inning.

In the same inning Northville scored their first run when E. Wood walked and stole second and third, and scored when R. Levandowski let Moffet's grounder go through his legs, which would have been the third out.

Nethem scored three more runs in the fourth inning, after two were out. With one out, Joe Schomberger knocked a double to center, and went to third base on W. Horvath's hit, but was out at the plate on A. Rebitzke's grounder to short. At this point Schultz singled and stole second, and both scored on Horvath's single.

Both teams scored in the eighth inning. Ray Levandowski opened the inning with a double, but good and fast fielding by H. German, Jr., held this hit to a single. Ray then stole second and scored when Joe Schomberger hit out a sacrifice fly to Leo VanBonn in short center.

R. Wood opened the eighth inning for Northville with a single, but was out on a fielder's choice when L. German hit to second, then Moffet singled and H. German, Jr., popped out, but Strasen ended the scoring for the day with a home run.

Next Sunday, October 12th, at Rousseau Park, at Newburg, Horvath will pitch against Ray Levandowski and his Newburg Tigers at 2:30 p. m. Don't forget the time and place.

Eliminate the rubbish heap and you eliminate the greatest fire menace

Fifty per cent of all fires originate from rubbish and waste—one out of every two. No home that has an accumulation of papers and rubbish about the premises is safe from the menace of fire. You might argue that the members of your family are careful—matches are never left laying around—nor are burnt matches thoughtlessly discarded.

However, that does not materially lessen the fire hazard as fire is often caused by heat, friction and in many cases inexplicable causes—briefly, the rubbish heap oftentimes needs no human agency to start a conflagration.

The Gas Garbage and Rubbish Incinerator absolutely eliminates the danger or fire due to the accumulation of rubbish. It is a safe depository for all manner of garbage, kitchen refuse and rubbish. When filled, it is merely necessary to press the Automatic Lighter and in a few hours, the Incinerator will thoroughly burn and reduce three bushels of garbage to about three pounds of fine ash. 4-M CLUB

By K. H. Starkweather
The recently organized Plymouth Four "M" Club seems to have struck a responsive chord in the hearts of the boys and young men for whom it was intended to benefit and honor. Indeed, the boys seem jubilant and enthusiastic over present plans and prospects for the future. The movement, which in scope may sweep beyond local bounds, has proven exceedingly popular. And the boys are sticking.

Every red-blooded boy and young man between the ages of twelve and eighteen, inclusive, and living within the environs of Plymouth, is eligible to membership. The club is neither classish nor exclusive. While it may be semi-religious in character, it is non-denominational. The most impoverished and under-privileged boy in Plymouth is invited and urged to attend. Scions of the most well-to-do are equally welcomed. All are urged to register as members.

The first few meetings of the club were held in private homes, but the organization, now numbering about thirty-five members, and rapidly growing, has finally attained the dignity of a regular meeting place. Captain Wright of the local Salvation Army post, has granted the use of the Hall on each Wednesday night at 7:00 o'clock.

The main purposes of the club are implied within its name. The four Ms stand for Mind, Morals, Muscles and Manhood. During the first few meetings the club stayed nameless. Several names had been suggested but none definitely decided upon. Finally, when the general principles of the club were related to the reporter of this story, the writer proffered the suggestion—"Four M Club"—and this name was unanimously adopted by the boys at the ensuing session. Later, a committee of six boys called at the Starkweather home to personally present thanks for what they termed so suitable a cognomen and for what they styled the appropriate and clever phraseology accordingly indicated.

Organization of the club came about solely through the efforts of Plymouth's own big angled police officer—Charles Thumme. When the Mail reporter sought the details, Mr. Thumme cheerfully furnished them but insisted that his own name not be used in connection with the story. He insisted that it was the boys themselves who deserved the credit and that his own desire was to keep in the background. It is plain that Charlie is in this work for the delight of his own soul and not for notoriety. However, one might as well talk about automobiles without mentioning the name of Henry Ford as to talk about the Four "M" Club without indicating the name of Charles Thumme. He is the sponsor and the big brother behind these boys and the whole community should not be slow in granting him favor for his result-getting efforts.

It seems that organization of the club came about in an unusual way. Last summer Plymouth had a recalcitrant gang problem. A more or less organized gang of underprivileged boys were becoming a menace to certain stores, bread wagons, oil stations, etc. Details may be spared but eventually the boys met up with the strong arm of the law. Officer Thumme was assigned the case. The boys, although they had accomplished some serious mischief, were not essentially bad. "What these boys need," said Officer Thumme, "is not jail, but some one to extend them love and the sympathetic attitude. Prove to any boy that you love and care for him and you can make that boy do anything you want him to do. Spend time with him, laugh and play with him, rather than bitterly upbraid and censure him, and you can make any ordinary so-called bad boy a real asset to the community."

Officer Thumme was willing to practice what he preached. He organized the so-called bad boys into a self-respecting and highly idealistic boys' club. And the club works. Members of the local Rotary and Kiwanis clubs have become interested and have pledged support. So far, the club has been addressed by Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson, Dr. Frederick A. Lendrum, Rev. Oscar J. Seltz and Captain Wright. Each speaker carried an interesting message of special import to the boys. Rev. Seltz illustrated his talk with personally drawn cartoon and chart.

The club was organized only last August, but, even so, the whole story cannot be told in one week's issue of the Mail. Special mention must be made, however, of the sojourn to Flint, participated in by nearly the entire membership, on Sunday of last week. The occasion was the result of an invitation extended by the Rev. Frank M. Field, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Plymouth, but for the past seven years pastor of the Oak Park Methodist church in Flint, to come to Flint on that day as his guests.

Through the offices of the Mail, the club especially wishes to thank the Eckles Coal & Supply Co. and Mr. Sunford Shattuck for their offer of trucks and drivers to convey the members to and from Flint. The Shattuck truck was not needed on this occasion but the generous offer was appreciated nevertheless. The Eckles truck was driven by Clyde Glass. The day was Sunday and the place was church, but nevertheless everybody was royally entertained.

During 1929, Rev. Field had spent much time in Egypt and in the Holy Land. While there, part of the time in special school, he made about 1,800 interesting and instructive photographs. These were later transferred to lantern slides. The Plymouth Four "M" Club attended church both morning and evening in Flint, and in addition were entertained by a private showing and special lecture about several hundred of the slides. The pictures were good ones and all acclaimed this part of the program a treat rare to behold.

But it seemed there was no end to the genial hospitality of Rev. Field and his enviable wife and other members of the Field family. The boys had brought their own lunches, but Mr. Field had been a boy once himself and knew how hungry boys could get and also how well they liked good things to eat. So, completely to the surprise of the members of the Four "M" Club, the Field family had provided a hot, tasty and plentiful feast for them in the basement of the church. This over, the boys became members of a certain dish-washing brigade. If the youths found themselves incapable of expressing their thanks for everything in full Lord Chesterfield fashion, the appreciation they really did feel was nevertheless sincere.

It is hoped that there will soon be fifty to seventy-five members in the Plymouth Four "M" Club. It is reiterated that all youths between the ages of 12 and 18 attend. The next regular meeting of the club is scheduled to occur next Tuesday evening in the Salvation Army Hall. Every boy is implored to come and find out what it is all about. Those in charge report that it is not to be a preachy affair and that no one need be afraid to come. And it is said that if any "nice" boys stay away for fear of getting mixed up with any "bad" boys that such fears are without foundation. All members of the Four "M" Club are red-blooded boys with true hearts and all are intent upon developing the four Ms individually for themselves and collectively for their fellows.

New Extension Project Costs About A Million Dollars

STORM-PROOF CABLE BEING BUILT FROM GRAND RAPIDS TO BIG RAPIDS.

Pushing northward at a rate of several thousand feet a day over the 54 miles from Grand Rapids to Big Rapids, Michigan's newest long distance highway is one of the big construction projects being carried on in the state this year. It is a storm-proof cable, being built by the Michigan Bell Telephone company at a cost of nearly $1,000,000. The cable is designed eventually to span the state to Mackinaw City. Besides carrying the long distance telephone circuits, the new cable will also provide greatly increased long distance facilities for the industrial and resort cities of Western Michigan and extend the trans-state cable now connecting the most important points of the eastern, southern and central sections of the commonwealth. Replacing open wire circuits, it also will assure increased protection for the service against interruption by storm and other agencies. The project, according to R. E. Crowe, manager for the Michigan Bell company in this area, is in line with the company's policy of not only building in advance of actual need, but also of adequate service to be furnished, but also of improving the plant and service constantly.

Big State-Wide Program
The Michigan Bell company is pushing work on one of the largest state-wide construction programs in its history. Included in the work is the erection of new buildings, extension of main exchange and connecting lines, and the addition of central office apparatus at many points. The telephone construction program is providing work for many men throughout the state. In addition, the use by the company of large quantities of Michigan materials is giving employment to many people.

The new cable will connect with the company's long distance system through Grand Rapids, at the south, and the new central office building now under construction in Big Rapids, at the north. At the Grand Rapids end, also, it will join the present northern terminal of the trans-Michigan cable, increasing its length to more than 500 miles. It is expected to be completed early next March, and following six weeks of testing, to be placed in service May 1. Cost of the state's long distance telephone cable plant will be brought to approximately $11,280,000.

Six hundred and four wires, or 302 wire circuits are contained in the Grand Rapids-Big Rapids cable. The number of talking circuits can be increased to 450, however, by means of an arrangement known as "phantoming," whereby a wire of one circuit and one of another are utilized to create a third. To care for the present volume of telephone traffic, 106 circuits will be placed in use initially and others will go into operation as required.

Plan to Meet Future Needs
Erection of poles to carry the cable began last fall and was completed this summer, provision being made to meet the needs of the future in that the poles are sufficiently heavy so a second cable can be strung on them when required.

Four tow-ways along the route of the new cable will be connected to it. They are Rockford and Howard City, each one and three-quarters mile from the cable route, and Cedar Springs and Sand Lake, each approximately a quarter mile from the line. Where the cable enters the limits of Grand Rapids and Big Rapids, it will be placed in underground conduits. For the remainder of the distance, with the exception of approximately a mile, it will be built overhead. The mile exception is in a wooded area where there is possibility that forest fires would damage the cable.

Four other sections, totaling 101 miles, have been added this year to the trans-Michigan long distance telephone cable system, building of which began in 1921 with the first section connecting Detroit and Dearborn. The four new sections, completed at a cost of $1,382,000, are the Jackson-Lansing section, the Benton Harbor-South Haven section, the Marne-Grand Haven section and the Grand Haven-Muskegon section. The latter is owned jointly by the Michigan Bell Telephone company and the Michigan Home Telephone company, operating at Muskegon.

Connects Many Cities of State.
The trans-Michigan cable extends from Bay City, Saginaw, Flint, Pontiac, Mt. Clemens and Port Huron, on the east, to Detroit and Toledo, and west from Detroit, through Plymouth, Spedant, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and Niles, to South Bend, Indiana.

Two sections extending north connect with Lansing, Ionia and Grand Rapids and intermediate points. Other sections connect Niles and South Haven through Benton Harbor, and Grand Rapids and Muskegon through Grand Haven. It also connects at South Bend and Toledo with the transcontinental cables of the Bell System, which have reached Chicago and St. Louis, on the west, from Boston and New York, on the Atlantic seaboard.

Along several sections of the system, two to three cables are required because of the demand for long distance service. A third cable is now under construction between Detroit and Toledo, and will be placed in use next summer. It will cost approximately $210,000.

"Nowadays," says Dad Plymouth, "Every man is entitled to an automobile in which to pursue happiness since life and liberty have been taken over by the reformers."

Club Members Given Trips To St. Louis

YOUNG OWNERS OF DAIRY CALVES RECEIVED AWARDS FOR OUTSTANDING WORK.

County, state and national organizations have combined to honor a group of 41 calf club members who will be guests of these organizations at the National Dairy Show, St. Louis, Oct. 13-19, according to an announcement by Michigan dairy club department at Michigan State College.

Two teams of club members will represent Michigan in contests held at the show to determine which of the nation's youngsters are the best judges of cattle and which can give the best demonstration of some phase of dairy herd improvement.

Michigan's dairy judging team members will be Beal Anderson, St. Johns; Lovel Spike, Ypsilanti; Earl Haas, Ravenna; and Wilson Kirk, Fairgrove. The dairy demonstration team who will uphold the honor of Michigan is made up of Bernard Rollston and Ray Holben, both from Kent City.

Complimentary trips offered by companies interested in the dairy industry were won by Frank Stevens, Greenville; Wallace Keskielo, Republic; and Gotfried Graf, Stockbridge.

Forty other boys who won local honors in their counties will be sent to the show by fair boards, breeders associations, or other local groups. Club leaders, county agricultural agents and dairymen from the state will accompany the boys.

Plow Teams Ready For Unusual Show

CONTEST AT MARSHALL WILL PROVE VALUE OF USING MORE HORSES IN ONE HITCH.

Four, five and six-horse teams are ready for the first multiple-hitch plowing contest to be held in Michigan which will be staged at Marshall, Wednesday, October 15, at 1:00 p. m., under the supervision of members of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College.

The teams will compete for 200 dollars in prize money, and one eight-horse team will be worked to show what can be accomplished with that number of horses when properly hitched and handled by their driver. The eight-horse team is owned and worked by a Michigan farmer who uses them for ordinary farm operations.

The two Michigan teams which hold world's records for pulling, will be at the contest and will be worked as a four-horse team. These teams owned by R. L. Langley, Flint, and by Wayne Weatherwax, Cement City, will not compete for the prizes but will show how four horses can exert a pull which would be rated as over 50 horse power by the method used in computing the power of tractors or engines.

State and national associations of horse breeders are cooperating in planning the contest and will have representatives there. The judging will be done by members of the College staff.

The ability of the driver to handle his team, the quality of work done in plowing, and the amount of ground plowed in a designated length of time will determine the winners in the various classes.

Hough School News

We were very pleased this morning when school called to have Miss Janning arrive. She gave the first, second and third grades their reading tests, and told us that we are going to study on arithmetic next month. We are especially pleased with our Gold Star Certificate which we earned last year by having a gold star school. She gave the certificate to our president, Barbara Hix, to put in the frame.

The spelling chart is having a close race of all the grades, the seventh graders are ahead, the eighth grade next, the sixth next, and the rest are lower.

In our citizenship club we are having dues. They are five cents a month. Almost all of them have paid up to date. Barbara Hix and Robert Alloubaugh have paid for the whole year. We have four dollars and twenty-two cents in our treasury. We have spent seventy-five cents for our fish bowl and twenty cents for secretary notebooks. So that leaves us three dollars and twenty-seven cents in our treasury.

Miss Ried and Dr. Miller came to weigh the children and examine their teeth. Katherine Miskerick had perfect teeth, and received a pin.

The eighth grade agriculture class has been testing wheat.

We have a new motto on the wall. It says: "Good English is a matter of habit."

The pupils of Hough school have decorated the bulletin board for Columbus Day. We have a picture of Columbus and one of his ships. There is also a picture of an Indian chief. Miss Ford brought a beaded head band like the Indians make, and it is on the board, too.

—Marian Hix, reporter.

Christian Science Notes
"Inceally" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, October 5.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it: ye are even my witnesses. Is that a God beside me? Yea, there is no God: I know not any." (Isa. 44:8.)
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Be fogged in error (the error of believing that matter can be intelligent forces of evil), we can catch clear glimpses of God only as the mists disperse, or as they melt into such things that we perceive the divine language in some word or deed which indicates the true idea—the supremacy and reality of good, the nothingness and unreality of evil." (p. 263).

Rosedale Presbyterian
Christianity is a way of living rather than a creed to be believed. People argue and disagree about creeds, but there is little disagreement about a beautiful life.
It will be generally accepted that courage is better than cowardice; good will is superior to malice; to smile is finer than to sneer. No one will deny that usefulness has more friends than greed and that love conquers where hate fails. It is more noble to "greet the unseemly with a cheer" than to cringe before life's last great adventure.
The better kind of living is not easy of achievement; it requires power. The church is in the world to help make contact with the source of strength. Your aid is needed to make the church effective.
Last Sunday morning the pastor preached on the subject "The Way of Life."

Rally Day was observed in the Bible School last Sunday, and the largest attendance was reported. The school is reaching a splendid group of young people.
One week from Sunday the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed.
The address of the pastor is 2672 Cortland Avenue, Detroit. Telephone, Arlington 7481W.

EPISCOPAL NOTES
Confirmation
Every member of the parish, young or old, will wish to be present on Sunday morning, either at the service of confirmation at 10:00 o'clock or at the church-school immediately following, to greet our Bishop when he makes his annual visitation of the parish.
Confirmation is not only a great day in the lives of those who are to be confirmed, but for the entire parish as well. It should be used as a time for the re-dedication of ourselves to God and the work of His church. We are sinners fortunate this year in having the bishop come to us on a Sunday morning, and it is certain that he will have a great message for us all. Invite your friends to this service.
The teachers of the church-school are attending the Church Normal School in Detroit on Tuesday evenings. This means trained leadership for your children. Parents are requested to give their hearty support and to see that the children attend the Sunday-school regularly and on time.
A sale of baked goods will be held by the Woman's Guild on Saturday, beginning at 1:30 p. m., with tables at Wolf's Market and at Pfeiffer's Market.
Don't forget—tomorrow afternoon! Fried cakes—a specialty!

Sore Throats And Coughs
QUICKLY RELIEVED BY THIS SAFE PRESCRIPTION.
Here's a doctor's prescription called Thoxine that is really throat insurance. Its success is due to its quick double action. With the very first swallow it soothes the sore throat and stops the coughing. It goes direct to the internal cause.
The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves almost instantly it contains nothing harmful, and is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Your money back if not satisfied. Sold by Dodge Drug Co. and all other good drug stores.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is Holy Name Sunday. Men take notice and let all be present and receive Holy Communion.
There will be a meeting of the officers at St. Mary Magdalen church, Melvindale, Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock. All are welcome.

Don't forget the Franciscan Monastery will be solemnly dedicated next Wednesday at 10:00 o'clock a. m., with the full ritual of the church; several dignitaries of the church will be present. The location is the Evergreen and Nine Mile roads.
Catechism instructions for the children began last Saturday. A large number were present, but there are still a few to be heard from. Let all the children who have not completed the 8th grade attend these instructions. The final collection is in order for this month; do not forget your offering toward this necessary need. Winter will soon be with us. So heat is needed.

The Pastoralist Fathers have been appointed chaplains to the various institutions around here, and hold services each Sunday in one or the other institution.
St. Aloysius new church on Washington Blvd., Detroit, will be solemnly dedicated next Sunday at 12:00 o'clock noon. This church is one of Detroit's most beautiful, and has a seating capacity of 82,000. The Detroit Holy Name will meet there at 3:00 o'clock.

METHODIST NOTES
"If we ask anything according to His will, He heareth us." 1 John 5:14.
"God answers every prayer, but some prayers are answered with a 'Yes' and others with a 'No.' There is, however, a kind of prayer which God is sure to answer with a 'Yes,' and that is the prayer which is in harmony with His will. Such a prayer is God's own prayer just as much as ours, and so He is certain to grant it. If we wish to be able to say, 'All my prayers are granted,' we have only to attain our desires to the desires of our Heavenly Father. No one ever yet asked to be, as the days pass by, more and more noble and sweet and pure and heavenly minded—no one ever yet prayed that the evil spirits of hatred and pride and passion and worldliness might be cast out of his soul—without his petition being granted, and granted to the letter. So let us pray in faith, and get others to pray in faith, and glorious results are sure to come."
Sunday morning service at 10:00 a. m. Church-school, 11:30. Evening service consisting of a song service and sermon, 7:15. All are cordially invited to attend.
Wednesday evening, mid-week prayer and praise service, 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock. All the members of the church are especially urged to come, and any others desiring to join with us are also welcome.
Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, the circles of the L. A. S. will meet as follows: Mrs. Koonig's circle at Mrs. J. Miller's, 254 Irving St.; Mrs. Hillman's circle will have a tea at the home of Mrs. Jessie S. Noy, 1167 Ann Arbor St., each member is to bring at least one guest; Mrs. Lendrum's circle at Mrs. Baker's, on Turrows Ave. Mrs. Kenyon's circle will not meet on Wednesday, but will meet on Thursday afternoon, at her home, 1415 Sheridan Avenue.

The annual district meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held at the Wayne Methodist church, Tuesday, October 14, beginning at 9:00 a. m. The principal speakers will be Miss Clara Merrill and Miss Desjardens, both missionaries home on furlough from China. It is hoped that a large number of women will attend this meeting.
Don't forget the L. A. S. Harvest Supper at the church tonight, Friday, beginning at 5:30 and until all are served. Everyone is cordially invited to come and make this a social event. You cannot afford to eat at home at the price: 40c for adults and half price for children.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.
On Tuesday of this week the Busy Women's Class met at the home of Mrs. Lewis H. Root on Ann Arbor road. There was a large attendance and a very enjoyable time was spent. The dinner was all that the most fastidious could desire, and the program provided laughter and thoughtfulness.
The Woman's Auxiliary met on Wednesday afternoon. The woman from the Presbyterian church of Northville, attended and provided the program. An account of this meeting is found elsewhere in this paper.

The pastor is beginning a Wednesday night class which is to study India. The text to be used is "India Looks to Her Future," by Professor Oscar MacMillan Buck.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR SATURDAY AND SUNDAY
Ensign and Mrs. Kelly, who have been in the field of the Salvation Army for a number of years in the State of Indiana and other states, are to be the special speakers for Sunday evening, at 8:00 o'clock. Ensign Kelly comes from a Salvation Army family of a number of years of service, having a brother of the same rank in St. Louis. The Ensign will doubt bring to the people of Plymouth something very interesting to hear.
Ensign W. A. Brown, field representative of the Salvation Army, who is here at this time to put on the Home Service Drive to raise funds for the local work, will also be present to help in all the services. Ensign Brown has had long years of service in the Army work in four different states.
Special services starting Thursday night, October 9th, conducted every evening until Sunday evening, Oct. 19.

Today's Reflections.
We've also noticed that no politician ever builds his fences so high but what he can straddle them.
Girls around Plymouth no longer marry a man for better or for worse. They marry him for more or less.
In Turkey a woman never sees her husband before the marriage. And in America she doesn't see him very much afterwards.
There's this much to be said for the old-fashioned Plymouth girl who married for a home—she generally could be found living in it.
The old gray mare ain't what she used to be. At least it takes a lot more money to make her go.
Still another thing that never fails to work out is a big hole in a little hole of the sock.

DETROIT COUNTRY SCHOOL GOD GAME HERE TODAY

ROCKS CRUSH STRONG RIVALS

Playing a smart brand of football, a blue and white avalanche completely smothered one of their strongest rivals in years. This team was Dearborn. If the game had lasted longer, the score would have been larger for Dearborn had the ball within Dearborn's 10-yard line when the final whistle sounded.

The game was scattered, with long runs. Parkerhurst won 80 yards for his team's only score. Both Horton and Wagenschutz got away for long dashes. These runs were made possible only by nearly perfect blocking and interference by the rest of the team. Captain Lanker played one of the best games of his career. The line men rose to great heights in stopping the heavy Dearborn line. Hall, Bannerman, Ferguson, Myers and Amrhein were all there when needed. The ends, Hoffman and DePorter, played fine games. The backfield, Curtiss, Dudek, Wagenschutz, Horton all did fine playing.

Some credit, however, must go to the Dearborn players for their courageous fight.

Couch Matheson's boys have a nice list of ground gaining plays and worked them for good gains.

FIRST QUARTER

Bannerman, kicking off for Plymouth, ran it back to the 25 yard line. Rese went off tackle for 2 yards. Parkerhurst tried the opposite side for three more. After trying the center for a yard, Higgs kicked to Wagenschutz who fumbled and Dearborn recovered on Plymouth's 30 yard line. A pass, Merritt to Higgs, gained 10 yards. Higgs got 3 yards at tackle. Merritt failed to gain at end. Merritt passed to Higgs for 5 yards. The fourth down was an incomplete pass, and Plymouth received the ball.

A pass, Lanker to Dudek, gained 20 yards. On the next play, Dearborn recovered a fumble and took possession of the ball. Higgs poked up three yards at end, but Dearborn was given a 15 yard penalty. Higgs then kicked outside on the 29 yard line. Dudek lost 2 yards at center. Lanker made 3 yards at tackle. Dudek was given the ball but failed to gain. Lanker punted to Parkerhurst on the 30 yard line. Parkerhurst picked up a yard at end. Higgs made 7 yards at end. Merritt smashed tackle for 2 yards. Parkerhurst circled end for 3 yards. Higgs kicked to Wagenschutz on the 30 yard line. Lanker gained 7 yards in two plays.

SECOND QUARTER

Lanker punted to Parkerhurst on the 40 yard mark. Merritt went off tackle for 2 yards but Dearborn was given 15 yard penalty for holding. After a pass was incomplete and two plays at the line failed, Plymouth received the ball. Lanker sprinted around end for a 15 yard gain. A short pass was incomplete. Lanker then went through tackle for a touchdown. Curtiss' kick for point was wide.

Plymouth 6, Dearborn 0.

Bannerman kicked to Merritt on Dearborn's 26 yard line. A pass to Twork behind the line lost 7 yards. Higgs made 4 yards at left guard. Merritt gained only a yard at end. Rese kicked to Curtiss on his own 31 yard line. Dudek made 4 yards at tackle. Curtiss failed to gain at end. Lanker made it first down at tackle. Dudek took the ball for 7 yards at guard. Lanker got through center for 11 yards. Dudek took the ball again, this time for 5 yards. Wagenschutz failed to gain at end. Lanker took Earl's place and Miller made Merritt's place and Horton substituted for Wagenschutz. Dudek failed to gain at center and a pass was incomplete. Dearborn received the ball. Rese made 5 yards. Miller shot through tackle for 5 yards. Curtiss went around end for 4 yards.

HALF

DePorter kicked to Merritt, who was tackled a yard from the goal. Rese kicked to Curtiss on Dearborn's 35 yard line. Lanker made 8 yards at tackle. Dudek made first down. Lanker made 12 yards at tackle. Dudek failed to gain. Lanker made 7 yards at center. Dudek picked up 2 more in the same place. Lanker fumbled the ball across the touch-down line and Dearborn recovered and received the ball on their own 20 yard line. Dolan gained two yards at end. Merritt made 2 yards at guard. Dolan made 3 yards at center. Merritt made 5 yards at center. An end run netted two yards. Higgs kicked to Lanker tackle for 8 yards. Lanker made a yard at center. Dudek failed to gain. Lanker punted to Parkerhurst who ran 80 yards to a touchdown. The place kick went just under the bar.

FOURTH QUARTER

Higgs kicked to Horton on the 25 yard line. Dudek made 2 yards at tackle. Lanker failed to gain. Curtiss made 7 yards at tackle. Lanker kicked to Parkerhurst on the 48 yard line. After three line plays gained only 6 yards, Higgs kicked outside on the 10 yard line. A pass was grounded. Wagenschutz for Dudek. Towle for Rodman. A pass to DePorter was incomplete. Another pass failed to connect and Plymouth received a 5 yard penalty. Curtiss went around end for 9 yards. Lanker kicked to Parkerhurst on the 30 yard line. A

Mr. Bentley Visits New Mexico

During the summer vacation, Mr. Bentley and his brother took a six thousand mile trip through the western part of the United States. After four days of traveling westward, they arrived at Bione, a typical New Mexican town. They went to Pike's Peak and here they and a number of travelers were filled with awe and wonder by watching the sun rise from the summit of the peak.

New Mexico was the next place of interest. Mr. Bentley said that Santa Fe is a typical Mexican city with its low wooden and clay buildings. Here he saw the oldest house in America. As he traveled through Arizona, the heat was intense, and there were no trees under which to find shade.

The next stop was at the Grand Canyon. The quietness, majesty, and beauty of the vast depths and magnificent colors almost takes one's breath away. "Any colors used by artists in painting of the canyon cannot be over emphasized, especially the yellows, reds and blacks," says Mr. Bentley. This deep gorge is two hundred seventy miles long and seven thousand feet deep and is one of the mightiest chasms in the world.

Mr. Bentley then went through the Painted Desert, so called because of the various colors of sand and rock. As there were no good roads, but only rough wagon tracks and Indian trails, it took three days to travel little more than two hundred miles. It is on the Painted Desert that the government has set aside a reservation for the Navajo Indians, a typical North American Indian tribe who have practically no permanent dwelling or shelter but like to sleep out in the open.

In coming through Utah, they came through a tunnel cut through nearly a mile and a quarter of solid rock. This tunnel is in the new Zion National Park. In visiting Salt Lake City, he and his brother attended a recital of the world's largest pipe organ in the Mormon Tabernacle. Of course, they were swimming in the Great Salt Lake, a lake so salty that no one can sink in it. After coming out of the water and standing in the sun, their bathing suits became white with salt.

After spending three days at Yellowstone National Park, where bears got into their automobile and damaged the seats of the car, they traveled across the Bad Lands of Wyoming consisting of nothing but clay, sage brush and cactus. They came home through the Black Hills of South Dakota and the Dells of Wisconsin, after having been gone for nearly a month.

Mr. Bentley has many folders and snapshots which he will gladly show to anyone who is interested in his trip. He also brought home some horned toads and cactus plants from the Painted Desert.

History Classes Stir Up The Past

An imaginary trip to dusty, historical Egypt was made by bands of investigators consisting of the students in Miss Ford's ancient history classes last Thursday. Going up the Nile River, they came to the Royal City of the ancient Nile dwellers. Of course, being enthusiastic travelers, they wandered about the vast decayed mound of pyramids, which they found filled with models, statues, jewelry and furniture of the old Egyptian Pharaohs. They studied the way in which these ancient kings lived by trying to interpret the pictures representing their daily life carved on the walls of their tombs.

Upon entering the Great Sphinx, they found many beautiful carved coffins, weapons, statues and portraits inside. The research workers brought home models of the Golden Obelisk and the Great Sphinx.

The medieval history students were also bringing the past to light on Friday. They were living in the years about 771, in the Frankish Empire, for they were acting as jewelry and Charlesmagne which they were themselves. This medieval ruler's life was acted from his early days to his death. The outstanding event of the play was that of Charlesmagne, acted by James Holloway, being crowned king by the Frankish Italians.

Early Colonists Come To Life

A terrific scramble for books on Colonial America took place in the library a week ago Friday, and good reasons why, too, for Miss Flegel had asked all her American History classes to write letters in the character of some plausible colonial person. The chronic grumblers grumbled of course, but nevertheless, having to write an account of the everyday and social life of the colonies could not but arouse their interest and give more life to the study of the early settlers. Too often pupils regard history as a series of wearisome facts, instead of being a story of real people. But, by their having to think, or attempt to think, and feel as the colonists probably did these old time people acquire a vividness and life that they otherwise lack.

American History students are also required to give themselves daily examinations. Two are named each to day to make out a list of questions to be written in a certain time limit, and later conduct a discussion of these questions. The pupils are required to do this so that they will learn to ask specific questions and also to answer the questions asked.

In the matter of notebooks, the General History classes score, for Miss Flegel says that they are turning in excellent notebooks. These books are divided into epochs and so far they have finished two. Early Civilization and Greek. The next or third epoch will be the Roman.

Club Has Weenie Roast

The members of the Historical Characters Club had a little party at Riverside Park where they roasted weenie and marshmallows, last Monday after school. In spite of the fact that there are but twelve students in this club, they are practicing on a play of the time of the Civil War, called "Blue and the Gray."

G. R. Secretary Describes Her Work In The Girls' Summer Camp In Syria

As a means of widening the foreign club spirit among the girls, Miss Still, United States Reserve Secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association in Detroit, gave a most interesting account of her conduct of a camp for girls last Friday to the local Girl Reserve groups. She superintended forty girls at Camp Friendship, near Damascus in Syria, during the summer.

Upon reaching Damascus the remainder of the journey, which was twenty-five miles, was covered on camels at night, as it is very injurious to one's health to travel in the heat of the day. The camp was situated at the top of a high hill, at the foot of which was a camel's rest—used for caravans—crossing the desert. Each group of camels numbered nearly one hundred. Grain, marble and provisions needed further into the desert are carried in this way. At the top of the hill an old hotel had been erected and had never been used because of the great distance from any enterprise; this was used for the camp. There was running water and several cold water faucets. The girls were not employed at camp. This location was not an asset in teaching the girls camp life.

This new idea of camping was very difficult to convey to the parents because they are extremely strict with their daughters. Only a few had been allowed to attend the camp before. The girls are never allowed to be out after six in the evening and have public chaperons to escort them during the day when need be. They do not enjoy the privilege of choosing their own husbands, as the father's word is law in the family. In case of his death, the oldest son inherits the property.

The Syrian girls may mean any of many nationalities, as they are a mixture of Turks, Palestinians, Persians, Jews and Armenians, among which seventy-nine religions are practiced at present. These people have been influenced by both streams of civilization, the western and the eastern. Both have left their mark upon the present day Syrian people. The castles and fortifications of the crusaders are still standing; the furnishings are now being sold in eastern Asia.

Vocational Club Discuss Problems

The Vocational Club, seven in number, sponsored by Mr. Cobb, elected the officers at the first meeting. They are: President, Viola Luttermoser, and secretary, Geraldine Schmidt.

We discussed problems of our vocations. Each member brought in a list that confronted him. One of the problems in this list was handouts. Herietta Winkler gave a report on this topic. Everyone gained something by it. They club thought it helpful to experiment in the making of a budget. Each member keeps a record of the amount of money spent each day.

Mr. Dykhouse made a report about the handouts for the freshmen. These handouts give students a wide range of the different courses of study. Another problem was that of clothing. Amy Blackmore gave an interesting report on this item. We know, when selecting our clothing, what points should be taken into consideration. Clothing should be thought of as a very essential element of success. When working a girl should dress in a practical and simple style.

Starkweather Notes

The Kindergarten class have been making booklets illustrating the story of "The Pancake." William Upson brought some interesting seed pods to school. The class opened them to see how the seeds were stored. Then the children wrote stories about the wind planting the seeds. Nearly everyone in the morning class can skip now. The B class have been dramatizing the story "The Three Billy Goats Gruff."

The children in Mrs. Mole's room are learning about the migration of birds. They have wild geese flying south across the windows.

The 4As and 5Bs are studying the poem "October's Bright Blue Weather" this month. Each month they will recite their own poem. In arithmetic the 4As have gone up three points on their progress chart. Twenty-nine of the children earned stars in spelling last Friday.

Mrs. Lee's sixth grade children have made hygiene posters. They have also made maps of South America. These showed the states and their capitals. The states were colored in different colors.

"Enter Dora Exit Dad" Presented

A treat was in store for the members of the drama clubs last week. A play, "Enter Dora Exit Dad" was presented for criticism by the audience. The cast included Don Bronson as Dad; Irene Humphries, Dora; Harold Stevens, salesman; Bill Bronson, Dora's country boy-friend; James Holloway, errand boy.

How Did They Do It?

A two-man orchestra? Impossible! But in the general assembly Wednesday Joe Ribar and Russell Eloff proved that it was possible. With Russell playing both the piano and a mouth organ, and Joe playing an accordion, a mouth organ, cymbals and a bass drum, the boys played two groups of four numbers each.

The assembly was opened with the announcement of the score made Friday—Plymouth 12, Walled Lake 7. Saturday, Plymouth sent 275 students to Ann Arbor to the game. Free tickets are given each year by the University to schools throughout the state. Doris Williams reported for the student council that there are still a number of tickets that have not been sold, and asked that they be bought as soon as possible.

Steve Horvath made the announcement that there would be a senior dance, the first dance of the year, Friday night at eight o'clock, the orchestra to be the Blue Serenaders. After the first group of pieces by the two man orchestra, there were two yells.

Mr. Dykhouse asked that all incomplete work be made up by Friday after school. All articles lost or found should be reported or brought to the office. He also asked that when anyone spilled ink, he should clean it up before it dried. He asked that any student who had any questions about the number of credits listed after his name, see him about it within the next few days.

After the whole assembly sang "There's a Long, Long Trail Awaiting" and the round "Row, Row, How Your Boat," Bobby Champagne sang "Just Like a Story Book." Joe and Russell played another group of pieces, and the assembly closed with the singing of the "Fight Song."

Home Economics Classes Have Visitors

Miss Ruth Fregard, state supervisor of home economics, and Miss Florence Falkater, from Washington, and a federal agent of twelve north-central states, visited the Plymouth High School home economics classes on Wednesday, September 25. Plymouth was one of four schools in the state of Michigan visited.

The eleventh and twelfth grade home economics girls have been making silk underwear. They have finished combination outfits and are making slips now. They are using a new pattern for these, having a fitted top and a circular skirt. Next week the girls will start on dresses. These will be two-piece dresses with wool skirts and silk waists or three-piece suits with skirt and jacket of wool and waist of silk. The girls are studying color to get suitable colors for themselves and color harmony to harmonize their winter outfits.

In the commercial home economics class, Mrs. Strasen gave a talk on health. She spoke about various children's and contagious diseases, about personal cleanliness, about the diagnosis of simple diseases and simple precautions about them, and showed them how to take temperatures. This talk finished the health work of the class, and the girls have also been studying personally traits shown in a person's face. They were given pictures of noted people they were not acquainted with and wrote a paragraph about the traits found in that face. They then read about the life of that person and found how accurate their judgments were. The girls have been studying introductions, greeting after introduction, courtesy in school and public dressing rooms, on street cars, on the street and in offices.

The ninth and tenth grade classes have finished their canning units. They have been making jellies, jams, conserves, relishes and have done some oven canning. They are now studying main luncheon dishes, macaroni and cheese, Welsh rarebit, etc. For classroom work each Monday the girls are weighed. They are keeping personal weight charts and charts of their weight. From these they make a weekly chart on which the perfect score is 105.

herds and their docks create an atmosphere entirely unknown to us Americans.

The program practiced in camp was a similar to ours as could be carried out under the circumstances. It was a difficult task to convey to them the idea of responsibility in planning programs. They are not as active as people who live in cooler climates are. Inspection was enjoyed by the girls as they were not accustomed to this responsibility. Games were introduced and played actively for short periods; since they were reluctant to undergo long exercises. The arrangement of over-night hikes was impossible as a common fair rests upon the people. There have been so many messes and battles near them that they have become tired. Also the fear of the night air is so great that the windows are left closed at night. Still, a large piece of which was presented to the Detroit Girl Reserves by them.

An attempt to cultivate the feeling of beautiful friendship was made. These camps are possibly the only social activities open to the girls; consequently they have had little experience with friendship.

The girls were very interested in the American Girl Reserves; some of them even correspond with girls from our own groups.

The American Young Woman's Christian Association has been quite successful in helping girls of foreign lands to cultivate a greater range of activity.

—Irene Livingston.

Tickets To Be Sold To Outsiders For Football At A Big Reduction

People outside of the school may buy student council tickets, admitting them to all football games, for $1.00. The single admissions are thirty-five cents each, so that this price means a considerable saving. Call 610 for tickets.

Public Speaking Class Works Parallel With P. H. S. Debate Squad

"Didn't we have a lot of fun in public speaking last hour?" remarked one girl enthusiastically to another.

"I'll say we did! That was good," answered the second.

Another girl passing by said in a gloomy voice, "Fun, how on earth can you have any fun here?"

"Oh, we had a debate on chain stores; all the class, you know. Gee, it was good!"

"Well, well," snapped the pessimistic one, "maybe you enjoyed it, but I—" and the voices died out in the usual between hours racket.

SENIORS MAKE MONEY

The Black Pirates won the magazine contest which was held last week. They were captured by Darls Holloway and Lynford Eloff. The losers, the Red Pirates, captained by Norman Savory and Edwin Towle, will treat the other side in the near future. The contest turned out successfully, the seniors adding $67.50 to their treasury.

MUSIC MEMORY STARTS

As the concerts for high school students at Orchestra Hall in Detroit are about to commence, the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils of all the Plymouth schools are preparing for them. On the 25th, the first one will be given by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Tickets will be sent out and a test will be given to determine who shall go. Those having the papers nearest perfect will be allowed to attend.

On Tuesday, October 14, Bob Clumpe, Milton Mrs. Joe Ribar and Russell Eloff will entertain at the Home Schoolhouse.

There is a group of about 25 students in the junior high school who play either the Jew's-harp or mouth organ. Miss Schrader has succeeded in organizing these people into a harmonica band. They are practicing as often as possible, and soon will be able to play in public.

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

The morning kindergarten girls have finished their scrapbooks. Charles Ann Stokler has left this group for the Ludington school.

Mrs. George Hance and Mrs. Kenyon Olds were visitors in Mrs. Lout's room this week. Tramp one has finished the Elson chart and are now reading the Elson reader. When the children know all seventy-five words used on the chart they receive a gold star. Next week these first graders will start writing with pencils and papers instead of on the blackboard. In handwork they are busy making pretty things to decorate the room with at Holloway's.

Miss Mitchell's children have made a very pretty Halloween border for their room. Lillian Quinn is a new girl in the A1 division, and Max Ellis has left this group for Ohio.

In Room 6, twenty-one children have perfect teeth. Billy Rutherford has been absent because of illness. The boys and girls all hope that he will return soon.

Plymouth High School Teacher Gets Degree

For eight weeks this summer, Mr. Cobb, chief and social science instructor, attended the University of Michigan, to complete his study of education and student personnel. At the end of that time he was given his M. A., master of arts, degree. This degree is obtained at the completion of one year's specialized work beyond the bachelor's degree. Besides his regular courses, Mr. Cobb took part in several round-table discussions of modern problems. These are just being introduced at the University and are at the disposal of any student who is interested in that kind of work. The enrollment was one of the largest the University has experienced in its summer course, about 4,000. In previous years Plymouth has stood very high in regard to the number of teachers having master's degrees. With the addition of Mr. Cobb, there are at present five teachers who have these. Mr. Cobb, Mr. Dykhouse, Mr. Smith, Miss Flegel and Miss Allen. This number is considered very good for a school of this size.

Campfire Girls Start Handwork

After the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read, Mrs. Stevens drew on the blackboard several designs for bookmark handles, which are to be made of tongue depressors which will be cut, punched and cut to suit the designer. Mrs. Stevens then gave out the tongue depressors and the room was filled with the sound of sandpaper upon the wood. There were discussions upon the relative merits of round or pointed blades, and how to produce the pointed blade best.

A ceremonial was held at Elizabeth Nichols' home September 28. It opened with the solemn procession, "We come, we come to our council fire," the girls filing in slowly and giving the hand sign as they entered the council circle. After the candle lighting ceremony, the girls sang "Wahelo for Ayu." Everybody took part in a discussion of adventures and of family trees, and everybody had something of interest to contribute. The girls tried a new campfire song, "The Sun is Sinking in the West," after which the honors were awarded. Everyone received at least four beads. After the fire extinguishing ceremony, Zephora Blunk led the girls in the saving of the girls leaving the circle singing, "We go, we go from our council fire." After refreshments and a discussion of present day topics, the girls left, planning to do a great deal this year.

"B's" Hold Redford Township 0-0 Tie

The Plymouth "B" football team displayed a strong brand of football in holding Volney Smith, the Redford township school, to a 0-0 tie last Saturday at Redford. The game was well played neither goal being scored at any time. Plymouth was the more consistent ground gainer, earning seven first downs to one for the opposition. The Plymouth ends were perhaps the best performers on the field, no gains being made around Ash at right end, and only three yards well played neither end being thrust beyond Bannerman's. Chamberlain quarter back played a heady steady game for Plymouth. Otherwise, though, the backfield was not exceptionally strong.

This is but the first of the second squad's games this year. They have yet to play two games with Farmington Reserves and two with the Newburg Scouts. The purpose of these games is to provide experienced material for the varsity next year, and so the Reserves should be given a hand and they would appreciate very much a little patronage.

The rest of the schedule is as follows: Oct. 8—Farmington, here; Oct. 21, Newburg Scouts, here; Oct. 28, Newburg Scouts, here; Nov. 4, Farmington, here.

Rosedale Gardens

By J. W. WALKER

The Camp Fire Girls (all of them) of the Umligi group, R. G. gave, or rather should we say "sold" at a bake sale at R emporiums last Satdee. The girls and their mothers and many friends gave the little girls a hand—or a cake—or some home made jelly or other edible delicacy for the event. The proceeds of this sale are to be placed in the camping funds for next summer. So far every girl is resolved to attend next summer's camp, and the girls are planning other events for the coming winter. We will hear, heed and help them along, won't we?

The Land Co. boys are counting out all the dried up shrubbery and trees. Supt. Houke expects some new stuff to fill in. About 15% drought damage. Not so bad. But the dred water wagon saved 85%.

Santa Claus will not come around Sod's sex this Xmas, 'cause after dropping the milk several times, Mrs. S. admonished Sod to be more careful or he could not go to the store again for mother. He tearfully begged to be permitted to go to R emporiums just once more, and promised to hold everything tight, "oh, so tight." Which he did, and upon arriving home with the vital ingredients, it was sadly discovered that the Hen Fruit was held "oh, so tight" and the shells being no thicker than they usually are, why—well, that's why father Bud Schaffer had omelet for supper and also is why Sod cannot go to the store any more, unless it be for a mop or a soup bone, or, anyway, something that won't break.

Ewel says to put something funny in the paper about Mrs. Souzle and visa versa. The only thing so funny about Ewel is Ewel himself, so we guess that's that!

Marion Virginia would like to have a grocer for a daddy, or an uncle or something, as she delights in "Mister Hopf's" building houses of dehydrated soap sud boxes and cans of ramsberries or what is it for the Satdee Special. Like all the younger youngsters she also delights in upsetting them so she may help her idol build them up again, so they'll look pretty 'till sold.

Now that the World's Serious is over with, our perpetual setting (or is it betting fans) or both, will probably turn their serious minds on U. of M. football.

Several of our Gardenites have signified their willingness to trade in the lawn mower for a snow shovel. Is this pessimistic or optimistic, Dad Plymouth?

And now we are introducing our new Scoutmaster, Mister Harold C. Church, 10077 Ingram Avenue. Mister Wm. Hodson, Jr., was retired, with highest honors, last Fridee nite. From everyone—Scout G. H. Q. to the boys, and usall, Mr. Hodson, Jr., has the praise and thank you of the community, we cannot give him all that we should. Mr. Scofield of Gran Dale fame, was selected and duly installed as an assistant to Scoutmaster Church. Now we'll be going to get right smack up behind these two leaders and give them support and encouragement in their great and good work with and for the boys—Our Boys. Programs are being made up, and everyone looks forward to a prosperous, lumpy and instructive season's work.

The boys of the M. T. C., assisted by and under direction of Instructor Al Rohde, profess of carpentry, have neatly constructed a rack for the two wheelers who ride to school. We might suggest another one for R emporiums, as we fear that one lone bike will eventually go thru a nice plate glass window. Not that that will be hid enough, but the several parts might do serious damage to some one or ones.

Reports from all sides of us, and within our midst tend to prove business is getting better all over. And now we have a guy who told you so, and always said so, just what Mister Hoover said in his speeches. That is, that is what this here guy claims he said; but he didn't—we did!

Last Sundee was Rally Day at our church. The Sunday-school is growing, and before long will have as many as the day school. As a number of day school kiddies go to Fr. LeFevre's school, it cuts down the Sunday-school attendance somewhat. Last Sundee we had 64 in S. S., and the morning worship, under the direction of Rev. Milton L. Bennett, our new minister, was very well attended by community gardenites.

Last Satdee we had our first foot-hall-fan accident directly north of the Drug Store, on US-12. Three cars, six drivers (three back seat). None killed, dead or injured, three corner fuss, and one car had to have first aid from Rough & Ready. After all, they went on to Ann Arbor, but late for the game, which probably helped their ingrowing grouch for one another.

ROSEDALE SCHOOL NOTES

Second and Third Grades
Miss Smith
A dental clinic was held in our school Tuesday. Nine people in our room received pins for having their teeth in perfect condition. Those whose teeth need attention are making appointments with their dentists to have work done in order to make our room 100% O.K. soon.

The third grade reading class has been reading fairy tales.
Richard Dunlop and Frank Bryant drew a beautiful picture to illustrate the story of "The Dancing Shoes."

For art work, both grades have been making color charts with cut paper showing primary and secondary colors.

Fourth and Fifth Grades
Miss M. Peck
Miss Jameson gave the fourth grade reading test this week. We hope to improve our reading during the year.

The fourth and fifth graders wrote poems Friday. Some which we liked best are:

A CLOUD
I saw a fluffy cloud,
It floated like a bloom,
It looked like a giant's pillow,
But it went away too soon.
—Wilbur.

THE ELF AND THE FAIRY
There was a little elf,
Who lived on a shelf,
He knew a little fairy,

They both were very merry. —Jean A.
We have a book chart. When we read a book we put a paper book on our shelf. There is a shelf for each pupil.

We have a book club, too. The officers are: President, Crystal Nichol; vice-president, Douglas Kalmbach; secretary, Robert Webster.
We had our teeth examined last week. There were five boys with perfect teeth. They have earned the pretty buttons for perfect teeth. We all hope to have one before December.
Reporter—Lona Belle Rohde.

Initiation of 4-H Club Boys
Initiation time is in the air. The girls have been initiated, and now the boys are going to be. Next Friday the initiation will take place.
Visitor on Health

Last Thursday, Mrs. Kiernan, of the health society, visited our school to see how we were getting along with our health cards. We enjoyed her talk very much.

Dentist Visits School
A dentist from Plymouth inspected our teeth Wednesday. Several were O. K. The following are the ones who had perfect teeth: Virginia, Mary (girl), William, Daniel and Lois. These people received very nice pins.
Reporter—Gwendolyn Dunlop.

This Is Fire Prevention Week

It should be an occasion for thorough self-inspection of one's premises. See that all rubbish is removed from the basement, have chimneys put in proper condition, have your electric wiring checked up, inform your family of the dangers of handling inflammable fluids. These and other common-sense precautions will greatly increase the fire safety of your property.

Cards and Memoriams

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Vida Louise Burr, who has been gone two years, October 5.
In my lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of her are always near; I, who loved her, sadly miss her. As it dawns another year.
Her Mother,
Mrs. Lena Losee. 1p

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Fred Procknow, who died two years ago, Oct. 11, 1928.
Death has robbed us of our dear mother,
We shall meet on earth no more;
She has gone to dwell with angels
Or on the other shore.
And around her grave we stand weeping.
At the close of the setting sun,
Softly comes a voice from heaven
With these words, "Thy will be done."
Sadly missed by her loving children. 1p

A CARD—We wish to thank our many relatives and friends for their kind expressions of sympathy and floral offerings at the time of the death of our son, George H. Ross.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waldecker and Family.

Dad Plymouth declares that the only farm relief that will ever benefit some farmers will be to relieve them of their farms.

Nothing strikes us as more pathetic than the aged Plymouth citizen whose rheumatism doesn't always agree with the weather.

Plan Song Contests For Village Choirs

LIBERAL PRIZES OFFERED TO GROUPS REPRESENTING CHURCHES OR FARM ORGANIZATIONS.

Choirs from churches located in towns having less than 2,000 population or choruses composed of members of any farmers organization will be eligible to enter the singing contests held under the direction of Michigan State College short course department at each of the four regional potato shows.

The dates for the contests are: At Escanaba, October 25; at Gaylord, Oct. 31; at Reed City, Nov. 5; and at Mayville, Nov. 7. Both the choruses and the choir must contain six or more members. Entries for the contest may be made by writing the short course department, M. S. C., East Lansing.

Each group will be required to sing two selections one of which must be "The Radiant Morning Hath Passed Away." The other number to be sung is left to the option of the singers.

Prizes totaling 500 dollars, provided by the R. O. Olds Community Singing Fund, will be awarded the winning groups at the four shows. Choir singing contests held annually at the College during Farmers' Day have proved very popular and have drawn many groups of contestants.

The contests will be judged by members of Michigan State College music department.

The good old days around Plymouth were those when there were more cows than cars caught on cow-catchers.

Wonder what old Adam would think if he could come back now and take one glance at the human race?

It has about gotten so that the first thing a college boy learns is how to get along without hat and garters.

Every married woman around Plymouth believes in law and order. That is, she believes in laying down the law and giving the orders.

If a woman would try as hard to keep a secret as she does to keep her youth there'd be a shortage of gossip.

We wouldn't be surprised if, even after the meek inherit the earth, they'll still have to call on their wives to help them run it.

Getting right down to brass tacks, does the average child need spanking any more than its parents do?

In running the government it is not always the overhead that costs so much. Usually it's the underhand.

COMMON MALADY

"I say, Tom, are you ever troubled with sleeplessness?"

"I am. Some nights I don't sleep three hours."

"I pity you, then, I've got it awfully bad. I've been afflicted now about two years. The doctor calls it 'neuro insomnia paralytica.'"

Tom grunted and said: "I've had it about six months, but we call it a baby."

DREAM OF A DRESS

She—Isn't this dress a dream?
He—Er—yes, but didn't the dress-maker wake up too soon?

The Test
To tell a mushroom, merely eat
The specimen that you may meet,
And note, next day, with studious care,
If you've stayed here, or gone elsewhere.

Identity Lost
"So our engagement is at an end?" said the man.
"It is," replied the girl.
"I suppose you will return the engagement ring?"
"Certainly, if you wish it. Call round some evening and we'll pick it out."

Immune
"That young man never pays the slightest attention to flattery."
"No," answered Miss Ouyenne. "It would be impossible to devise any form of flattery that would correspond to his good opinion of himself."

The First Person
Mrs. Brown and family were standing before the lion cage at the zoo.
Suddenly she turned toward her husband and said: "John, if the lions were to escape, whom would you save first, me or the children?"
"Me," said John without hesitation.

A & P Establish New High Record

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company report sales for September of $77,628, establishing a new high record for the month. This compares with $75,245,845 for the corresponding period of 1929, and is an increase of $1,776,813 or of 2.36%.

Actual quantity of goods sold was 478,627 tons, compared with 336,309 tons for September of last year, a gain of 42,318 tons or of 12.58%.

In a statement issued with its September sales report the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company said:

"The physical volume of business indicated in the Company's tonnage figures for September, 1930, shows a percentage of increase greater than that of the dollar sales because of the decline in commodity prices. The average price per ton of goods sold in our stores during September, 1930, was $203.43, whereas in September, 1929, it was $223.74. This means that last month consumers received 10% more food for a dollar than they received a year ago."

Sales for the first nine months of the year ended September 30 were $800,108,590, compared with $750,945,457 for the first nine months of 1929, a gain of 6.55%.

Tonnage sales for the same period were 3,860,144 tons, compared with 3,449,067 tons in 1929, a gain of 11.92%.

Average weekly sales for the four weeks in September were $19,255,065, compared with $18,811,461 for the corresponding four weeks a year ago, an increase of $444,294.

Average weekly tonnage sales were 14,657 tons, compared with $4,077 for September a year ago, an increase of 10,580 tons.
