HELPING THE BANDITS

Arthur D. Gallery of the Tuscola County Advertiser, told considerable truth the other day when he wrote the following editorial for his paper:

"Next to the question of 'Who thinks up the foolish names on Pullman sleeping cars' comes the question: 'Who thinks up the color combinations on Michigan license plates?'"

"The 1931 plates, dark red on a black background, takes the cake as about the poorest combination of colors on record."

"Such a color combination is an aid to all bandits and hit-and-run drivers in the state. It helps defeat the purpose of license plates, this purpose being identification of cars. Numbers on this year's plates cannot be read by the person of average good eyesight across a narrow street with any degree of accuracy."

"One of the largest manufacturers of printers' ink in the United States has furnished to the trade a card, on which are listed 14 color combinations. These combinations are for the purpose of showing what combinations of colors are the most easily read, and which are most pleasing to the eye."

"Black-on-yellow (the combination of colors on the 1930 license plates) is the most easily read. This is followed in second place by green-on-white; red-on-white; blue-on-white and so forth."

"The color combination of red-on-black is not mentioned in the entire list of 14 combinations, and we suppose that this is so because the ink manufacturers referred to above supposed that nobody would be so foolish as to use such a poor combination of colors."

"Even the 1930 plates have been hard enough to read when they became slightly spattered with mud, or covered with dust, but with the 1931 plates in the same condition, we might just as well not have plates on at all."

"Here's hoping that next year the person or persons in charge of selecting the plate colors will use better judgment than has been used this year!"

LEARN THIS BY HEART

Folks, here's one of the finest bits of sentiment we have observed in many days; we count the man or woman very fortunate who, within the next day or two, learns it by heart—and forms the habit of repeating it mentally every 24 hours. Here it is, written by an esteemed gentleman whose name is James Allan:

"As you think, you travel; and as you love, you attract. You are today where your thoughts have brought you; you will be tomorrow where your thoughts take you. You cannot escape the result of your thoughts, but can endure and learn, and accept and be glad. You will realize the vision (not the idle wish) of your heart, be it base or beautiful, or a mixture of both, for you will always gravitate towards that which you, secretly, most love. In your hands will be placed the exact results of your thoughts; you will receive that which you earn; no more, no less. Whatever your present environment may be, you will fall, remain, or rise with your thoughts, your wisdom, your ideal. You will become as small as your controlling desire; as great as your dominant aspiration."

"LOOK OUT FOR FAKES"

Local merchants and professional men will please keep an eye open, as fake advertising solicitors are around the state. A couple of women invaded Grand Ledge to solicit advertising for a domestic science booklet to be put out by the school. An inquisitive business man spiked their frame by calling up the school and learning that no argument had been considered for such a project. No matter what kind of a gag is worked by strangers, if you are in doubt find out before signing on the dotted line or paying out any money.

UNDER THE BRIDGE

"Under the bridge" is a motto which some of us might well adopt. We are much given to fretting about something which has already happened and which cannot be remedied or changed. Acts that we have done or left undone, circumstances that have gone beyond our power to better or to change are like water that has gone under the bridge. It will not come back. It will never run between those banks again. When you are inclined to be miserable because of what you might have done and didn't or because of what you did and shouldn't have done, just say: "Under the bridge," and let it go at that.—The Dearborn Press.

A BAD SMELL

Editor George Averill of the Birmingham Eclectic says: "Grosse Ile, fashionable suburb in the Detroit river just below the Fourth City, put on several rabbit hunts recently; it appears that the Ile was over-run with the wild bunnies, as the result of state game protection provisions. Now if Detroit itself will take fresh encouragement on this game business, and go after a few skunks."

There is one thing that should be taken into consideration and that is the smell that might follow a skunk raid.

WHAT! NO CHICKEN DINNER?

L. D. Dickinson pulled a rather coarse one the other day for a home-dry. He went to Lansing one evening last week to attend a Press club banquet that is to be held on the same date in January.—M. H. DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

Ubiquitous Mr. Davis

The boys in the newspaper business can point with pride to the activities of Herb Davis, the genial editor of the Lake County Star at Baldwin. In addition to knowing more about conservation than any six officials of the conservation department, Herb edits up Baldwin paper, another paper published at Luther, is a justice of the peace, a coroner, a member of the township board, and has just been appointed clerk of Lake county.

Residents of the pleasant village of Baldwin can thus obtain a marriage license from Herb in his capacity as county clerk; be married by him in his justice of the peace role; read the account of their nuptials in the paper with Herb as the writer and printer; protest that their township taxes are too high to him, sitting as a member of the township board; get extensive information on all subjects relating to wild life in his capacity as conservation expert, and finally, after being hauled into the Pere Marquette river and drowned by one of those three-foot steelheads, Herb as coroner will render the last sad rites.

And some reporters think they have a lot to do on the city hall beat! We nominate Herb for the next Pulitzer prize.—Grand Rapids Chronicle.

A Suggestion For Lansing

Here's a suggestion for Michigan legislators to consider: introduce all the bills you want to, and then adjourn, for at least a 60 day period. That would enable the public and the legislators to study carefully all bills presented. No bills should be allowed to be presented subsequent to adjournment. When 60 days time has elapsed and enough opportunity afforded to know the import of proposed legislation, then the legislature should reconvene and enact such laws as its deliberation and public sentiment justifies. Such procedure would tend to eliminate hasty and ill-written laws. And the public would have a chance to know what all the "shout-in" was for, anyhow.

Of course, the proposal will not bear any immediate fruit.

Reforms as much in the public interest as the one just offered require years to permeate the inner recesses of a politician's mind. But, like world peace and other desirable objectives, it is something to think about.—Redford Record.

Is This Gossip?

When the inaugural ceremonies at Lansing were held a great deal of comment was made over the fact that long lines of people were anxiously awaiting a chance to shake hands with the retiring governor. This was a fine gesture, but it has since leaked out that all employees of the state in Lansing received written orders to get out, line up and make a demonstration of respect to Ex-Gov. Green. This was nice, very nice, to give the impression that he was retiring in a haze of glory, but if the governor or the people could have heard the comments of those employees who really had to get out on a winter's day to pretend what they didn't feel, the satisfaction to the outgoing administration would have shrunk to a minimum. Even the state employees have some dull and disagreeable moments. Dave Rubielet in The Crosswell Jeffersonian.

Lower Fares

Some of the large western railway lines are lowering passenger fares to two cents per mile. We believe eastern and in fact all railroads will follow suit, and when they do they will begin to put up a formidable battle with the auto bus companies who have been collecting all of the short hauls and have also invaded the field of trans-continental hauls. When the railroads come down to a two cent fare trains will fill up again and it might bring back a resumption of messenger carry-over that will wear the rust from present unused rails.—Al Weber in The Cheloygan Observer.

Candy is a good energy food, and can be eaten by older children, but always in small quantities and only after, not between, meals. The best kind of sweets for children are not too concentrated and irritating, and contain, along with sugar, other materials such as minerals, which the child needs.

USE OF ELECTRIC POWER REFLECTS STABILITY OF STATE INDUSTRIES

ONLY TWICE BEFORE HAS THE AMOUNT USED EXCEEDED THAT OF LAST YEAR

Electric power production by Michigan public utilities in 1930 reached a total in excess of four and one-quarter billions kilowatt hours or five and two-thirds billions horsepower hours, according to figures given out today by the Michigan Public Utility Information Bureau. The approximate total announced is 4,258,817,000 kilowatt hours.

This aggregate production has been exceeded only twice in the history of Michigan, despite the unusual industrial conditions which prevailed all through the year. It was 2.2 per cent less than the total production in 1928 and 9.3 per cent less than the total in 1929. It was 12.8 per cent greater than the production in 1927, which was far ahead of any year up to that time.

Applying electric power production and use as a test of economic and social conditions, it may be judged that Michigan is fundamentally sound regardless of financial pains suffered by businesses and individuals during the 12 months just ended.

Seventy-seven per cent of Michigan's 1930 electric power aggregate was generated by fuels, mainly in large modern steam turbo-generator plants. Twenty-three per cent was generated by water power in hydro-electric plants. This ratio indicates Michigan's relative dependence upon fuel and upon water power for the production of its supply of electricity.

Ordinarily with a slackening of demand due to industrial conditions as in 1930, hydro-electric production might have been expected to cut down the steam production percentage. It happened, however, that 1930 was deficient in rainfall and so hydro-electric production fell off. It was 10 per cent below hydro-electric production in 1929, and 13 per cent below the hydro-electric output of 1928, which was the largest on record.

The steam generation output was larger than in any year except 1929, which was 9 per cent greater.

Michigan's steam turbo-generator plants advanced still farther in efficiency during the year as is shown by the decreased consumption of coal per kilowatt hour of product. The average for the state during 1930 was slightly under 1.30 pounds of coal per kilowatt hour.

The state's electric power systems added 73,613 horsepower to their generating capacities during last year. Of this, 55,733 horsepower was in steam turbo-generators and 17,880 in hydro-turbines. Capacity increases planned for the coming year include 13,250 horsepower in steam turbo-generators and upwards of 60,000 horsepower in hydro-turbine plants which are expected to be completed during the year. These latter include developments under way on the Muskegon, Ontonagon and lower Sturgeon rivers.

Business conditions during the year cut down the industrial power load in various sections of the state, but domestic consumption of electricity continued to increase.

Outstanding gains were made in farm electrification. The total number of farm customers was increased to approximately 27,000, or 16 per cent of all the farms in the state. Five years ago there were only 5,800 farm customers. During the year 6,600 farm customers were added. Mileage of farm lines was increased 1,342 miles to a total of 6,620 miles. Construction of farm lines during the year cost approximately one and one-third million dollars.

SEE YOUR FIREMAN

A news item from a western city states that during a recent day, the fire department was unusually active, because of a strong east wind. The item then brings out the fact that such a wind always results in abnormal numbers of fires, and that the department does its fighting "to-immediately when that wind appears."

It would be a good plan for all property owners to find out from their department the local conditions which are conducive to fire loss and how to avert them. Fire departments would rather tell you why your fire might start than why it did.

Most of us allow our flues and chimneys to go unattended until they become extremely hazardous. And corrective steps are seldom taken until we have had a fire. Preparedness against seasonal fire risks would require but little time and money, and would pay high dividends in protection to life and property.

In the United States most of us take fire for granted, not realizing the gigantic economic waste it entails. During 1930 the total waste was higher than in several preceding years. And it will continue to grow until individuals understand the common hazards that exist in every home and guard against them.

Name Does Not Make a Rose

It is proposed, in Pennsylvania, to abolish the present appointive "Public Service Commission" and replace it with a "Fair Rate Commission," to be elected by the people. The change in name will do nothing to reduce the cost of serving the public with power, or to improve the character of commissioners. The change in method is certainly not a revolutionary one, as it is already in effect in a number of states. The proposal originates with opponents of privately owned power companies who claim that electric rates are excessive. Such a claim is either unfounded, or public officials have been flagrantly lax in their duty.

There are good grounds for believing that electric rates in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, are as low as operating costs, taxes, and a fair return to the investor, will permit. If that is so, one wonders what the Fair Rate Commission can achieve. If it finds that rates are not as low as possible nothing will have been gained. And if, in the face of all financial evidence, it does lower rates to the point where utilities are unable to earn an adequate income, the result must be a decline in the standards of electric service in Pennsylvania. There are good arguments both for and against the appointive and elective systems for "regulators." But facts are facts, and no service industry can be deprived of necessary and fair revenue without the public suffering. The Pennsylvania proposal seems to be a play on words.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

1931—A YEAR OF RECOVERY
By W. S. Knudson
President and General Manager
Chevrolet Motor Co.

We expect 1931 to be a normal year in the automobile industry, and on that expectation we are working on a production and sales program of 1,000,000 new Chevrolet sixes. This represents an increase over 1930 and parallels within our own organization the three-year production cycle evident in the industry since 1918.

This cycle resolves itself into a year of recession, a year of recovery, and a year of a new peak in volume. We have just come through the year of recession, we are now entering the year of recovery, and we expect—barring extraordinary developments not now apparent—to see 1932 set a new all-time volume mark.

The present year should compare favorably with production in 1928 which was 4,600,000 cars just as 1928 exceeded 1925, 1925 exceeded 1922, and 1922 in turn was better than 1919. These were the previous recovery periods in the constant three-year cycle since the War.

In arriving at our own program for 1931, we took due account of this cycle of the industry, and fortified it with exhaustive reports and forecasts from within our organization and reliable outside sources, for the automobile manufacturer needs to be a business prophet. He needs to be more deliberate in his estimate of the future than the statistician or economist because he must back up his judgment with dollars. He must know in advance of the year what to expect of that year, else his organization will suffer in profit to the extent that his judgment was wrong.

New Models Out Early
The best index of our estimate of the future is revealed by our own program. We brought out our annual new models early in November, nearly two months ahead of the customary date.

We made this move because our study of conditions convinced us that the recession was ended, that the upturn awaited only an aggressive move by some manufacturer with a national manufacturing and distributing organization, and that the public—the key to the whole condition—was impatient with talk of a "psychological depression" and ready to demonstrate its desire for a change by returning to normal buying habits.

The response to our move was immediate and most gratifying. Output for the last two months of 1930 set a new record, and the tentative schedules for the early months of this year compare favorably with any similar periods in the past. With the addition of 10,000 men to our payroll in January, the total is nearly 40,000 our normal operating force.

A happy result of that change in our annual program was that we were able to help relieve unemployment by putting thousands of people dependent directly and indirectly upon us to work, and keeping them at work. Another was that we were able to help pioneer business back to normal by demonstrating our faith in the immediate future to certain other manufacturers who soon adopted similar policies. The underlying motive, however, was the conviction that a change for the better was due.

Professional Integrity

We do not make a practice of featuring prices on the service and merchandise we supply. We believe that the nature of our work is too sacred to admit of this kind of advertising. Our relation to the public is that of the professional man, whose integrity stands as the guarantee of all his dealings. Those who call upon us in their time of need find that their confidence has not been misplaced.

Practice What They Preach

One of the best guarantees of a continued steady upturn is the fact that industrial leaders have finally begun to practice what many of them have been preaching. Last summer and fall they were constantly urging the public to "buy more," yet they themselves were not buying. They were either not buying at all, or their commitments for stocks and raw materials were made only on an extremely short-term basis.

Inventories went down. Mills of suppliers had to suspend operations through lack of orders. Shelves were depleted. How aggravating this situation came forcibly home to us when we required certain materials for the announcement of our new models. A search over the country revealed such a shortage of canvas that several mills had to get into 24-hour production to fill the order.

With commodity prices at rock bottom, however, progressive manufacturers have begun buying in larger volume at the favorable prevailing prices. Where commitments for raw materials during the past few years were generally made on a thirty, sixty or ninety-day basis, they are now commonly being made on much longer terms at advantageous prices, so that the savings thus effected might be passed on in terms of lower-priced products.

These long-term commitments work to the advantage of the supplier as well as the consumer, for they mean constant and steady operation of his plants and mills, and work for his employees. They mean work for the cut-over picker, the lumberman, the steel worker, the iron miner and steel worker, the tanner and leather tradesman, copper and brass worker and those many others identified with basic industries which depend upon the automobile more than any other industry to consume their raw materials.

By lending impetus to this renewal of buying, the automobile has started the march back to prosperity, and will continue to lead the march just as surely as it made possible the unprecedented prosperity of the past decade. Steel, cotton, lumber and other basic industries can be great only as the automobile is greater and opens up a market for their raw materials.

Limitless Future

During the past ten years more genuine progress has been made in and by the automobile industry than in the previous twenty. Yet just ten years ago a "saturation point" loomed on the horizon and pseudo-prophets freely foresaw the end. We know now that until cars are built to run forever, or human nature foregoes its desire for change, there is a limitless future before the automobile and it is destined to lead America on to the greatest prosperity the world has ever seen.

With 1931 a normal year, and 1932 promising a new high record, there is only the limit of a man's imagination to restrict the picture of what the coming years hold for an industry which is not only the backbone of our industrial prosperity but its entire structural framework.

Many farmers cut brush in summer or early fall because they think it is not likely to sprout again if cut at these times, but it is just as effective to cut it in winter, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. There will always be some second and even third growth regardless of when it is cut.

THE COPPER TARIFF

The principal tariff debate of recent months has been over copper. It has brought forth a multitude of conflicting opinions.

On the one hand, it is pointed out that imports of copper from countries where working and living conditions are low have been partly responsible for the demoralized condition of the copper market. On the other hand, it is said that over production is the principal bane of domestic producers—coupled with the general industrial depression—and that a copper tariff would serve no useful purpose.

This, like all other economic problems, must be divorced from personal prejudice and examined on its merits. American industry is entitled to necessary tariff protection—and the American public is likewise entitled to protection against the overly-high prices a tariff sometimes creates. Copper producers and public officials will undoubtedly give great consideration to the "copper tariff" war during 1931. Whatever action is taken, it is to be hoped that it aids in restoring a necessary basic industry to normal conditions.

Retail potato dealers in the East prefer potatoes ranging from 2 1/4 to 3 inches in size, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics found in a survey of market preferences in six eastern cities. Very large sizes of tubers weighing more than 14 ounces, called "bulls" or "jumpers", are not wanted by any class of trade. Although most dealers do not want small potatoes, some independent retailers carry "seconds" for certain classes of trade. Of 418 dealers interviewed by the bureau, 192 preferred Maine potatoes; and 55 preferred Pennsylvania Rural type stock. Prince Edward Island potatoes ranked third and the Long Island product fourth. Idaho bakers are handled as a specialty.

ELECTRIC AND GAS COMPANIES HAVE EXTENSIVE PROGRAMS OF DEVELOPMENT

Michigan electric power and gas utilities are planning to spend approximately $40,000,000 in new construction during the coming year, according to a compilation of budget estimates just completed by the Michigan Public Utility Information Bureau.

This $40,000,000 will be well distributed throughout the state, from the southeastern industrial section to far away Keweenaw Peninsula.

The gas companies of the state are planning to spend close to $7,000,000 and the electric power companies have budgets running close to $33,000,000.

The electric utility plans call for added generating capacity in power houses, construction of transmission lines to reach new territory and to better serve old territory, the erection of office and service buildings, the building of farm lines, the establishing and improving of switching yards and sub-stations and like betterments.

The gas companies are planning improvements in generating and distribution facilities, the construction of new holders, and the building of high pressure lines to take gas to communities and sections which have hitherto had no service. It is expected that between 18 and 25 additional communities will be supplied with gas before the end of the present year.

During the industrial lull both the gas and electric utilities have gone ahead with their construction programs so as to be in a position to provide ample service when normal conditions are restored. There has been a solid and substantial growth in the use of gas and electricity for purposes closely related to the advancing standards of living of the people of Michigan. This growth has been maintained despite the industrial set-back. Added to it are growing industrial loads as various adaptations and applications of gas and electricity to Michigan manufacturing and producing operations are developed. Enlargement of capacities and facilities are necessary to take care of this new business as well as to meet the demand from established users of gas and electricity when they resume their customary production activities.

The forty million dollars budget is evidence both of the healthfulness of the present utility business and of the faith of the utility managements that Michigan after the temporary lull will resume its vigorous activity and steady advancement.

It is better to winter coniferous seedlings by protecting them in the beds than by lifting and storing them, say horticulturists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In late fall, mulch the beds lightly with pine needles, leaves, or similar material that is free from weed seeds to guard against lifting or heaving of the roots by freezing and thawing. Protect the seedlings from rabbits and mice during the winter. Early spring is usually the best time for transplanting. Some kinds of seedlings may be large enough—from 3 to 6 inches—to transplant the first season, but slow-growing species such as spruce and pine may require two or more years in the seedbed.

METHODIST NOTES

"He giveth power to the faint, and to him that hath no might he increaseth strength." Isaiah 40:29.
 Men have long looked with covetous eyes at the vast power of the tide and have longed to run their engines with it. Several inventors have solved the problem, one by causing the tide to turn a great turbine, another by taking advantage of the differing temperatures at different sea-levels, and so on.

"The energy locked up in the sea is as nothing to the energy available from the one who spoke and the sea came into being. Religion is a utilization of the Force of forces. Religion, at the touch of faith, does more than all patent contrivances are able to accomplish."

There is very little activity at the church during the reading week, of course we are all expected to be there on Wednesday evening from 7:15 to 8 o'clock for the mid-week family night. "Come with us and we will do you good."

On Wednesday immediately following school the Junior Missionary boys will meet for the first time this year. All the boys of the Junior Sunday School department are invited. There will be the lesson and a story.

On Saturday, the 24th the Junior Missionary girls will hold their postponed meeting with Annibell and Betty Brown at their home, corner of Maple Ave. and Deer street. All come. The meeting begins at 2 o'clock.

BAPTIST NOTES

Next Sunday morning's message—continuation of Matthew Chapter 9. Sunday evening, "World Events and the Bible."

Sunday evening messages for the next few weeks will be based on the scripture 1 Peter 3:15. "But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear." Have you a hope? Let us help you solve your spiritual problems.

We preach Christ crucified, risen and coming again!
 Prayer meeting Wednesday, January 21st, was led by the Men's Bible Class, which is taught by George A. Field.
 If you want to know your Bible better, the Men's Bible Class of the Plymouth Baptist church can help you in this regard. Mr. Field says, "We are starting to study the Bible from the beginning." Next Sunday the Men's Class will consider the 2nd Chapter of Genesis.
 Bible school begins at 11:30 a. m. Classes for all ages.
 The B. Y. P. U. meeting will be largely musical. Gospel choruses will be sung after which a Chalk Talk on "Four great Realities" will be given. Mrs. Beckwith's Bible Class will have a potluck supper in the church parlors, Friday evening, January 23, at 6:30 o'clock. All members urged to be present.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Young People's Day will be observed in the Presbyterian church next Sunday. The evening service will be in charge of the young people, and they will use the order of service prepared by the Board of Christian Education for this day. A number of young folks will take part assisted by a young people's choir. Everyone is urged to attend.

A new class is being added to our Sunday-school. Beginning on Sunday next, Miss Edna Allen will have charge of a young woman's class to which all young women of the congregation are invited.

On Tuesday last, under the direction of the Ready Service Class, a group of women met at the church and prepared the quota of hospital supplies which had been allotted to the Plymouth church. These supplies are used in the great far flung hospital work of the denomination.

The Mission Study Class will meet on Tuesday evening, January 27th, at the home of Mrs. Segnitz, Main St. There will be co-operative supper at 6:30 p. m., which will be followed by the regular business and program meeting of the class.

St. Peter's Lutheran Notes

In the annual meeting of the congregation, Mr. Abel Hayball and family and Mr. Fred Bartz and family were admitted as members.
 Walter Schultz, Otto Beyer, Albert Rohde and Emil Groth were re-elected into office on the Board of Directors. A committee consisting of O. Beyer, M. Trucks, W. Schultz, A. Hayball, P. Groth, O. Goldsmith, W. Gayde, and W. Petz was formed to prepare for the housing and entertainment of the fifty pastors of the Michigan District of our Synod, convening at Plymouth from June 30th to July 2nd inclusive. This committee is to work in cooperation with a similar committee of the Ladies' Aid.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Tonight, Friday, January 23, card party, bridge and five hundred, given by the Guild. Bring your friends!
 At the annual meeting of the Woman's Guild the following officers were elected: Mrs. A. L. Innis, president; Mrs. Paul Ware, secretary; Mrs. Howard Gladman, treasurer. Every woman of the church should be a member. Next meeting, Friday, January 30, at the home of the president.

The Men's Club met for reorganization on Tuesday night and elected the following officers for 1931: Sidney Strong, president; Wilbur Murphy, vice-president; Leslie Evans, secretary and treasurer. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, February 3, and all men of the congregation are urged to be present. Some very interesting plans for activity are under way.

The members of the Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew have unanimously adopted the following by-law: "Any member missing three consecutive meetings without excuse shall be placed on probation. A probationer missing two consecutive meetings shall be dropped from membership." Wonder what would happen if that rule were applied to church attendance?

Brotherhood boys, remember your Bible reading!
 Sunday, January 25, is the Feast of St. Paul, the great missionary Apostle, who kept Christianity from becoming a narrow Jewish sect. Without his work the western world might never have known Christ. So wonder we set aside a day in his honor. Keep your life from becoming narrow by going to church regularly! Be a missionary, bring someone else to church!

The Diocesan Convention will be held Wednesday, January 28th at St. Paul's Cathedral. A dinner for all churchmen and women will be held that evening at the Masonic Temple, Detroit. It is hoped that we may have a good representation, as we did last year! Plan to attend!

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the children. Their confessions will be heard after instructions Saturday morning.
 Mrs. Rose Anna MacDuff of Denton, the wife of Louis and mother of Mrs. H. Volkman, died January 25 and was buried Monday from our church, with interment at Mt. Olivet. Assisting at the solemn services were Revs. F. C. LeFevre, J. G. Schuler and F. Kelly.
 Gertrude Stelzer, the sister of Mrs. G. DeBar, of Carol St., died January 15, and was buried from St. Alphonsus church, Dearfield, Mich., with interment there. The Rev. J. Crowe conducted the services.

The following ladies have been appointed officers for 1931: Mrs. P. Miller, president; Mrs. A. Yuchas, vice-president; Miss Mary Mertens, secretary and treasurer. A card party will be held in the auditorium with last night and a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

The financial statement of the parish for 1930 will be read Sunday morning at both masses. The pastor was called to Detroit Thursday to assist at the funeral of Frank Schulte, who was shot down by two negro bandits.

Lent begins February 18 this year with Easter falling on April 5. Sunday is the last Sunday of January. Do not forget your envelope. Start right and end well.

Fisher School News

Primary Room
 Mrs. Nichols
 We are working on an Eskimo project. Every one has a definite part to work on. Last week we made the grounds and igloos. Also the water holes and snow blocks.
 We have a posture chart on our blackboard. We cut out pictures of snowbirds, colored them and wrote our names and posture ratings for December on them. Mrs. Nichols drew a tree on the board for us. Then we pasted these on or near the tree. The birds that are flying belong to children with "A" posture. Those that are sitting on the limbs of the tree have "B" or "C" posture.

Second Grade children have been studying about some trees since Xmas. After we had talked about them we had pictures to color. We liked the pine and palm trees best.
 The First Grade made some lovely poster pictures of Eskimo life last week.

The kindergarteners are learning to read the names of colors. They are making a color chart, and working color puzzles every day. They like the puzzles.
 When we were weighed this week we found that a great many of us had lost weight! We are going to try hard to gain it back before next month by eating a lot of vegetables and milk.

Third Grade Room
 Our room has started our store project. The children have brought samples of groceries and drugs.
 Dorothy Brown went to the dentist last week, Wednesday. She is now on the Dental Honor Roll.
 We have been making snow men in the yard.

We were weighed last Thursday. All of us have gained this month except Robert Hyatt.
Fourth Grade News
 Our room painted flowers during art class last Thursday. We are learning to use paints. Raymond Hegwood will be last week, our room "saw" him some oranges. Viola Zink's house burned down last week, Thursday morning. She has left our school. We are having Music Memory period every day after lunch. We were weighed last Thursday. Only seven of us gained weight this month.
 —Alleen Ciesielski

Intermediate Room
 Dental Honor Roll—We have a dental poster and Alleen Sweeney, Thelma Hegwood, Marie Kaper, Ebel Tuck, Marlan Tuck are on the Dental honor Roll.
 —Frederick McNulty
 P. T. A. News
 Our room had 50 per cent attendance at the last P. T. A. meeting thereby winning the banner for this month.
 Art Work
 The fifth and sixth grades painted parrots that are very bright and colorful and they make our bulletin board very attractive.
 —Alleen Sweeney
 Albert Zink's home was burned to the ground early Thursday morning. They are now in Detroit.
 —Clifford Hill

Mid-Year Conference
 The teachers of the school attended the Mid-Year Conference at Ypsilanti, Friday, January 16.
Volley Ball Equipment
 We now have our volley ball equipment up and played our first game today. We hope to have our basket ball equipment ready for next week.

CORRECT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, DIZZINESS, DIABETES WITHOUT DIET.
 Avoid paralysis and stomach troubles in advanced years. Do it with San Yak Pills for the kidneys. They give ease to stomach, antiseptic laxative deodorizing bowels, cutting down the growth of bacteria in the colon, preventing 95 per cent of all human ills, including swelling of limbs and feet.
 Dr. L. P. Bailey of Michigan says of San Yak: "It will do all you claim. It is fine medicine for the blood and has cured rheumatism of long standing. When one treats to kidneys with San Yak he is renewing the whole body. One can always depend on San Yak." Other physicians of Michigan say San Yak is the best medication of any disease.

New Library Books

Miss Loletta Dawson arrived safely (and departed same way) with several boxes of new books which Miss Vera had ordered for the more select. So you see all good things come to those who wait, which in the case of R. L. Library is but a few days. So order what you will and Miss V. will order it and Miss L. will bring it, and you will get it without shipping.

Passed

has Walter B. Huron, from his studies and gown and that hat and all, so now he is contemplating further studies to equip himself someday with an office and shingle. The Huron family has a name of many professional gentlemen—Physicians, Dentists, Pharmacists, whichever he selects, we wish him luck and good luck.

Vacationing

are Mrs. William J. Trepagnier and children, visiting grandma (Mrs. John Lahring) way down New Orleans, La. Also, Mrs. Fred C. Winkler is at her sister's home in just the opposite direction—Windy and Leady Chicago, Ills. Mrs. Paul Harsh's sister, Mrs. Arthur G. Treen and Mr. Treen of Pontiac, Mich. are here for the week-end.

Away on Business

Mr. M. E. Stover is at Saginaw, Mich.; Mr. Edgar Reinold in New York City; Mr. Fred C. Welbert in Buffalo, N. Y.—all out for bigger and better business, and getting it, too!

The Ill

Mrs. James W. Martin, York Ave., Jack Weaver, Melrose Ave., have been on the ill list, but are recovering nicely thank you.

Soup

was served at R. Emporium last Saturday all ante meridian, so all the same received some good old fashioned vegetable soup; and the kiddies enjoyed peanut butter and crackers, whilst daddy had to be content with a slice or two of cucumber pickle. However, all had a good time, and all resolved to serve vegetable soup soon.

Welcome

to the community are the William E. Coleman family, Hill 5, June 4, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15, 17, 19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 31, who have moved in the William Kenly's home, 1123 Blackburn Ave.

Winter

may be here, but weather whether we want it or not is still the topic of opening and closing conversations at R. Church, R. Emporium, R. Lubricatorium and at R. Tonsorial Parlor, and elsewhere.

Wings

"Miss Rowe had carefully lectured on 'Gravity' for a full half hour, then the class wrote briefly on same. One of the briefest of the briefs was 'Gravity is a thing that if we had one we would all fly away.' (Editor's note: Correct so far, but where do we go from here?)"

Politics

The children were being given the usual noon-luncheon-civinet-talks by Ma Gardente, who wound up with the also usual 'not to ever ask for a second helping of dessert.' "Ma," says Dale, "Can I have another plate of ice cream?" "Why, Jr., says ma, "Mildred, haven't you been listening to mother?" "Yes, but how's a fellow goin' to practice on only one plate?" And Dale got more—and so did Rose (that one time).

Tobogan

Marilyn Holton has a slide of her own, that her Daddy made, and is wishing for snow and cold at the same time, as a. m. for the slide and p. m. for the skates would just about be Xmas every day for Marilyn. But we did not forget school, either, but after school we find Supt. Al always has the skating pond in first class shape, and slick!

Granpere

Or some such cognomen, will be affixed to the new playette by those of Miss Peck's directorate. It will be presented at the most opportune time, so right here, to be on the safe side, we predict a full house, a good play, a good time at the show and after when dunking doughnuts in coffee will be permitted, and above all a rainy nite (outside). Buy your reserved seats in advance.

Subscriptions To This Paper are being taken by the Ladies' Aid of Our Church, and for its benefit, so when Mrs. So and So, of the Auxiliary calls, you will know she is on serious business and means it. The ladies have apportioned the streets so that the curvans and cabs may be over quickly. Please give the little ladies a welcome and a subscription. O Key,

Toxin-Anti-Toxin
Wednesday, January 14, 1931. Miss Rehl and Dr. Nichols came to our school to give the Toxin-Anti-Toxin and Schick test against diphtheria. A great many of the pupils took it so that now in the upper room there are 21 children that have had it. Quite a few preschool children took the test.

Health Pins

Before Christmas we kept Health Crusade Cards, and all those who got above 75% for twelve weeks, received some very nice health pins. There were about 28 who received pins.

Miss Jamison visited school Wednesday afternoon. Miss Jamison brought a few new books called, "I Wonder Why" by Milton Goldsmith. They are very interesting.

The Health Project

The pupils of the upper grades have worked out a health project. It is a magazine or paper entitled, "The Care Taker." The sixth and seventh grades were studying the subject on "Tooth," and wished to bring the project out in an interesting way. Miss Rowe took it to zone meeting, and a letter came asking us to keep it for further use, as it would be used in an exhibition. We're really proud of our paper.

Girls' I-H Party

The leader of our I-H Club, Mrs. Loftus, with the help of Mrs. Metzger, presented a party January 12, at her home. An enjoyable dinner was given and later in the evening songs were sung and exciting bunco games were played. Miss Rowe and Miss Smith were our guests. Each one received a gift through exchanging names. The girls went skating before dinner, at York Ave. We certainly had a fine time, and wish to announce again, "Thank you Mrs. Loftus."

Two new pupils entered our room last week, Mildred and Alfred Dretts, from Cooper school. Second and third made posters on posture. The best ones were made by Warren Hoffman, Mildred Walker and Frank Bryant. Miss Smith took them to zone meeting at Fisher school, Saturday.

Miss Jamison will visit us Tuesday. Miss Reed and Dr. Nichols will give the first dose of T. O. T. and Schick test to those having had T. O. T. Wednesday at 9:30.

We have attractive doll furniture in it. We have a little play called "The Trashes Quareel," which we are working on. We have many interesting characters in our play. They are "King Toothbrush, Mr. Broom, Clothes Brush, Hair Brush, Health Brush, Sink Brush, Bottle Brush and many others."

We are working on lettering now. We like this work very much. Some of our work is very neat. Douglas made a very pretty pottery vase out of clay. We are proud to have it in our room.

LIBERTY BELL MAY RING AGAIN

Famous Bell, Silent For Ninety-six Years May Ring Out on Washington's Birthday

The famous old Liberty Bell, which so joyously rang to announce the Declaration of Independence and which tolled so sadly when George Washington died at Mount Vernon, may again ring forth from Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, on Washington's next birthday, February 22, 1931.

Efforts are being made by officials of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission to arrange for a national-wide look-up on this date and have President Hoover press an electric button in Washington which will strike the nation's most historic bell ringing again after a silence of almost one hundred years. It is proposed to have the bell strike thirteen times, once for each of the thirteen original states.

According to noted Philadelphia historians, the last ringing of the bell was on July 8, 1845, in honor of the funeral services of John Marshall, Chief Justice of the United States, who died in Philadelphia on July 6, 1835. While the bell was being solemnly tolled it suddenly cracked. An attempt was made to repair it in 1846 for the celebration of Washington's birthday ceremonies, but this attempt failed. It is believed, however, that while the cracked bell will not give forth its once famous clarion notes, it will nevertheless ring sufficiently loud to be heard by all radio listeners, if it is tapped thirteen times on the anniversary of Washington's birth next month.

Before it cracked, the Liberty Bell had lived a life of eighty-two useful years and had become one of the most famous bells in the world. All thru the Revolutionary War the Liberty Bell was used for the purpose of calling together the inhabitants of the city to learn news from the battlefields. At one time during the war, however, it became necessary to remove the bell hastily from its fastenings and take it out of the city. This exciting event took place on September 18, 1777, when the news came that the British Army was about to occupy Philadelphia. The bell was carefully loaded on a wagon and conveyed along with the heavy baggage of the American Army in a supply train of seven hundred wagons, guarded by two hundred North Carolina and Virginia Cavalry, to Allentown, Pennsylvania, where it was hidden in Zion's Church until June 27, 1778, when it was taken back to Philadelphia and again placed in Independence Hall.

Never from that time until 1845 did anything of importance happen that was not announced by the ringing of this historic bell. It was joyously rung when the news came of the surrender of Cornwallis to General Washington, which ended the Revolution. It stands on the ground floor of Independence Hall, where it is viewed daily by thousands of visitors from all sections of this country.

The Liberty Bell has been a great traveler in its day. In fact, it has seen more of the United States than a vast majority of the people. In addition to its wartime trip to Allentown, it has made the following wartime journeys: July 23, 1885: To New Orleans for the World's Industrial and Cotton Exposition. July 25, 1883: To the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago. Oct. 24, 1886: To the Cotton States and Atlanta Exposition, Atlanta, Georgia.

The pupils in our room had an enjoyable vacation, but we are all glad to come back to school. The pupils in the fourth grade read a story about seed testing. We decided that we would like to test seed. We are using the sand box for a seed tester. We have a Boy Scout calendar. We also have a new picture of Lincoln. We had a Citizenship meeting today. Our program committee had a good program planned.

—Crystal Nichol.

Jan. 6, 1902: Interstate and West India Exposition, Charleston, South Carolina.

June 15, 1903: Bunker Hill Celebration, Boston, Massachusetts.

1904: Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis, Missouri.

Oct. 23, 1913: Historical Street Parade, Founders Week Celebration, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

July 4, 1915: To the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, Calif.

George Washington very often heard the ringing of the Liberty Bell, due to the fact that he spent more time in Philadelphia than any other place, except his home State of Virginia. He first went there as a member of the Continental Congress. His next official visit was as the presiding officer of the Convention which framed our Constitution. His longest stay in the City of Brotherly Love was as President of the United States from 1790 to 1797.

The history of the Liberty Bell, ever before the American Revolution, is so interesting one. In the year 1751 the Assembly of the Province of Pennsylvania decided that the State House at Philadelphia (Independence Hall) needed a new bell. A resolution was passed, instructing the superintendents of the building to secure one. The superintendents, Isaac Norris, Thomas Leech and Edward Warner, wrote the following quaint letter to Robert Charles, the Colonial Agent at London:

"Respected Friend, Robert Charles: "The Assembly having ordered us to procure a bell from England to be purchased for their use, we take the liberty to apply ourselves to thee to get us a good bell, at about two thousand pounds weight, the cost of which we assume may amount to one hundred pounds, sterling or perhaps with the charges something more. "We hope and rely on thy care and assistance in this affair, and that thou wilt procure and forward it by the first good opportunity, as our workmen inform us it will be much less trouble to hang the bell before the scaffolds are struck from the building where we intend to place it, which will not be done till the end of next Summer or beginning of the Fall. "Let the bell be cast by the best workmen, and examined carefully before it is shipped, with the following words well shaven in large letters around it, viz: "By order of the Assembly of the Province of Pennsylvania for the State House in the City of Philadelphia, 1752. "And underneath: Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof—Leviticus XXX, 10. "As we have experienced thy readiness to serve this Province on all occasions, we desire it may be our excuse for this additional trouble, from thy assured friends, Isaac Norris, Thomas Leech, Edward Warner.

"Let the package for transportation be examined with particular care and the full value insured thereon." The careful directions by the superintendents were duly carried out by the Colonial Agent at London. The bell was cast by Thomas Lister of Whitechapel, London, and reached Philadelphia in August 1752. It, however, was not a success. When placed on trusses in the State House yard for a trial ringing it was soon cracked.

An American firm was now given a chance to see what it could do in the way of producing a satisfactory bell. The name of this firm was Pass & Stow, "two ingenious workmen" of Philadelphia. These two young men broke up the English-made bell, melted the material, added an ounce and a half of American copper to each pound of the old metal to make it less brittle, and re-cast it with all the original inscription on it, with the exception of the substitution of their own names for that of the London manufacturer and the date and place of manufacture. Certain defects made a second casting necessary. The bell as it now stands is the result of this second casting. The bell is considerably larger than most people imagine, it being twelve feet in circumference and with a clapper three feet, two inches long. The early official ringers of this famous bell were Edward Kelly, from 1753 to 1755; David Edward, from 1755 to 1758; and Andrew McNair from 1758 to 1770. It was McNair who had the honor of ringing the bell announcing the Declaration of Independence.

Many people pay little attention to the furnace unless the house gets too hot or too cold, but it should be attended to at regular intervals, say engineers of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Don't shake down a fire more than twice a day; usually twice is sufficient, in the morning and late afternoon. Unless the fire has been burning hard, continuously and coal has been fed frequently, take care not to shake it too much. Don't shake live coals through the grate. In mild weather let some ashes accumulate on the grate. Clean out the ash pit prevent air circulation, hinder combustion, and damage the grates.

4 C'S ASSEMBLY A SERIES OF PLAYS

As a means of bringing to the students' minds the importance of clean speech, athletics, scholarship and living, the H-Y and Torch clubs, the Girl Reserve groups and the Campfire Girls club have sponsored, for the last six or seven years, a 4-C's campaign.

The assembly was opened with a group of announcements by Mr. Dykhouse. He reminded the students that examinations would begin Wednesday afternoon, January 22, and that every-one should be sure of the time and place of each examination.

THREE SENIORS END HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING

The fourth debate of the first series was held at Wyandotte High School Thursday evening, Jan. 8. For the three speakers who represented Plymouth High School it was the last debate of the season and the debate that closed their high school debating career.

Along with drama, music, and athletics which emphasize and seek to develop different capacities in students taking part in them, debating has become well established in high schools as a major activity.

The season for the Plymouth representatives closed last Thursday evening with three debates favorable by decision, and one loss. Plymouth's opponents in the Michigan High School Debating League were Dearborn High School, University High School, Ypsilanti High School, and Wyandotte High School.

ROCK SECONDS WIN PRELIMINARY GAME, 19 TO 13

By taking the lead in the opening minutes of the first quarter, the scoring of Rock "B" team was never reached by the Orange and Black quintette. The Plymouth offense was slow in starting, but during the last quarter speeded up to gain a comfortable lead.

The members of this year's team have behind them in the debates in which they have participated, two years of debate history for the school. In this history they have ten times represented Plymouth High School in interschool contests.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

Robert Johns, Buddy Johnson, Marion Goodman and Lincoln Hale now have gold stars on the perfect record chart. This makes a total of twenty children having perfect teeth.

BEAUTIFUL PAGEANT MARKS HONOR COURT

Aladdin's Lamp, that beautiful song that all Girl Reserves know and love, was made the theme of the present Y. W. C. A. Honor Court held at the Y. W. C. A. in Detroit, Saturday, January 17.

Next, some pictures of Miss Keller were shown including some taken during her visit to Detroit, especially those scenes established for the way, was the man who introduced Mrs. Keller over the radio.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Wiltse's children received the banner for the largest percentage of children banking. They are very proud of it.

AMBITIOUS SOPHOMORES

To go or not to go on a sleigh ride party was the question discussed at a sophomore class meeting held last week. Because of the examinations that are coming, the class decided that the time should be spent on school work, so the party was called off.

SENIORS BUSY WORKING ON PROM

The seniors are busy making preparations for the senior prom which is to be held February 20, 1931, in the high school auditorium. The chairman for the following committees were appointed: General, John Randall; decoration, Viola Lattin; orchestra, Milton Moe; invitation, Marion Gust; publicity, Steve Horvath; door, Lynford Fritz; and refreshment, Edwin Towle.

"A FULL HOUSE" GIVEN SOON

One of the most important events of the second semester will occur at the High School Auditorium on February 12, and 13. This is the junior play, "A Full House." This play has been selected from a great number, and because of this fact the junior class feels they may safely say that their venture will be successful.

ROCKS PREPARE FOR NEXT GAME

After last Friday's hard game which they lost, the Rocks are preparing for a hard struggle against Lincoln Park High School, whom they tied for football championship this season.

TERM PAPER IN COM'L GEOGRAPHY

Russell Stevens, of the eighth hour commercial geography class, taught by Miss A. Cook, wrote a very interesting term paper on the subject of "Cotton." The students in the commercial geography classes have each written two term papers about various topics studied in this course, and this is submitted as the best of those recently taken up.

THE STORY OF COTTON

Cotton was cultivated in India and in Southern Asia long before the new world was discovered. It was first known as tree wool. It was very highly valued and was used for clothing. Columbus found a variety of the cotton plant growing in the West Indies in 1492.

The Movie REVIEW

"ONLY SAPS WORK"
"Only Saps Work" to be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, January 25 and 26, is a carefully constructed farce comedy.

Written by Owen Davis, who is one of the foremost of American play-writers. He wrote "The Nervous Wreck" upon which the stage and screen "Whoopee" shows were based.

Adapted by Percy Heath, Sam Mintz and Joseph Mankiewicz, they had hands in making, respectively, "Let's Go Native," "The Santa Fe Trail," and "The Social Lion."

Leon Errol heads the cast as the chief fun-maker. He became famous several years ago on Broadway, work- ing as a star in Ziegfeld's "Follies" and "Larks the 14th."

Richard Arlen and Mary Brian have been teamed in "The Man I Love," "The Light of Western Stars" and "Burning Up."

Stuart Erwin is the comedian who made stably laughable in "Sweet- ies," "Young Eagles," "Hungry for McGrew" and "Playboy of Paris."

Charlie Grapewin is a veteran of vaudeville comedy acts, and recently has appeared with Anna Chase in Christ- ie talking playlets.

It's a great cast—and a great show, for the laughs reach everyone from youngsters to oldsters, plain folks to sophisticates.

"DERELICT"
Do you want to be thrilled? To hold your breath with a drama of life and death, of hate and love, to fight itself in ever mounting action against a background of storms at sea, of ships crashing in the night, of daring rescues and perilous encounters?

Then see "Derelict," the feature at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednes- day and Thursday, January 28 and 29, in which the great George Ban- croft depicts a marvellous character, taken right from the salty ocean, in a manner that is thoroughly moving and convincing.

We have seen the mighty Bancroft in "The Mighty" in "Ladies Love Brutes," since that first tremendous offering, "Wait of Wall Street," but never have we seen him so much at home, so dominant in his situation, so completely the man. Bancroft is real in "Derelict," and "Derelict" is a real story.

A belligerent, two-listed sea captain, fighting to keep a sluggish tramp steamer afloat through the fury of a tropical storm. Out of the angry night comes the frantic searchlight signal of a ship in distress—"K. O. S. K. O. S."—and he knows that aboard the thundering craft is the one man in the world he hates, and the woman who double-crossed him.

That's the climactic situation of "Derelict," and if you can imagine anything more full of possibilities for dynamic Bancroft action, we can't. William Boyd, seen with Gary Cooper in "The Spirit," is Bancroft's rival in "Derelict," a fighting seaman, who can battle with both fists when the occasion demands. Jessie Royce Landis is both beautiful and capable. She adds distinction to her part in "Derelict."

"HEADIN' NORTH"
The usual run of Westerns present the hackneyed plot set in the outstren- uous background—it seems to be the fate of this type of movie. But that isn't the case with Tiffany's "Headin' North," starring Bob Steele, which will appear at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, Janu- ary 30 and 31.

For the story of "Headin' North" is as unique as the talents of its star. A boy whose father had been dipped into "borrowing" the American Ex- press payroll, and whose evil genius had skipped with the money, leaving the old man to hold the bag, takes his father's blame on his own shoul- ders and goes to the penitentiary. He escapes after two years, and starts to track down the villain. With a posse after him, the picture takes him through amazing adventures, not the least of which is his impersonation with a friend of two "ham" actors in a lanky look.

Bob Steele's talents as a singer and trapper are by no means ordinary, and the whole film is a delight to see and hear. Perry Murdoch acts the role of his friend, and Barbara Luddy fur- nishes the girl-interest. The photog- raphy is beautiful, the country nat- urally selected for its breadth and scenery, and the dialogue is natural.

FORD SMOOTHNESS

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all — an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.
