Plymouth District Court of Honor Is Largest Ever Held By Organization.

NUMEROUS AWARDS TO PLYMOUTH BOY SCOUTS

Officials Highly Delighted With Success of Event—Plymouth Band Provides Concert For the Visitors.

The Boy Scout Court of Honor for Plymouth district, consisting of the communities of Newburg, Northville, Plymouth, Rosebale Gardens, and Wayne County, was held in the regular meeting to be held in the dining room of the Hotel Mayflower, at 2:30 p. m. Friday, November 20th.

Mr. Smith is a man who has had varied experiences as press correspondent for the News. A few years ago he accompanied Sir Hubert Wilkins on his Arctic Exploration trip. Mr. Smith made a personal inspection of Henry Ford's rubber plantation at Brazil. Among other prominent people he frequently interviews Henry Ford for the Detroit News.

Mr. Smith will give a talk on the subject in the club's year book, "What Is the Matter with the Press," following which, by special request, he will relate a few of his most interesting experiences in the Arctic. Mrs. Robert D. Shaw, a graduate of the Conservatory of Wesleyan College, Mass., will play two piano numbers. Chairman Wertz, in Charge Minor, The Page D'Amour Charlie Zwickler.

The committee in charge expect a large representation of club women to hear this interesting program. The committee is composed of Mrs. Walter Nichol, chairman, Mrs. H. S. Thayer, Mrs. Geo. Gramer, Mrs. Claude Buzzard, Mrs. R. H. Gilbert, Mrs. Frank Millard and Mrs. Elmer Lacey.

AUTO PLATES NOW ON SALE

Secretary Berg Moore Urges Auto Owners To Get Licenses Early.

Secretary Berg Moore of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has placed on sale automobile license plates for 1932. But there is a but about it; they cannot be used except on new cars before December 1st.

As another accommodation to the auto owners is the decision of the Secretary of State that 1931 plates can be used as late as March 1, 1932. But it urges every one to get their plates as soon as possible as the money will be used for the winter highway program that has been inaugurated to give work to unemployed men.

Approximately $300,000 will be added to the state's revenues in 1932 through closer supervision of the sale of crank license plates. Secretary Fitzgerald estimates.

In the past years, truck owners have been allowed to use any sort of a weight slip in certifying to the weight of trucks when securing license plates. Starting with the 1932 plates, truck owners will be required to use official Department of State weight receipts. Without a department receipt, license plates will not be issued.

In every city where the department has a branch office, one or more scales are to be designated as official and the owners will be supplied with department weight receipts. Before applying for licenses, it will be necessary for owners of trucks to weigh the truck in actual operating condition.

The owner and scale weighmaster then sign the receipt which will be accepted by the department in issuing plates. Last spring, several instances were discovered where drivers would wilfully attempt to defraud the state. Almost $90,000 in additional weight taxes were collected by department investigators from these sources. In addition, it is believed that many others pay less than the legal fee because of ignorance of the actual weight of their truck.

Truck and trailer license plates will be on sale at all branch offices of the department of state.

People who know needy families are urged to fill out cards and get them in the mail.

Plymouth and this section of Michigan experienced one of the heaviest downpours Tuesday night that the state has had during the present year. Not only was there almost a constant rainfall during the night, but a high wind made the storm one of the most disagreeable of the fall.

A warm day was followed by a sudden drop in temperature. From Tuesday morning until Wednesday morning, there was a change of almost 30 degrees.

SIX TEAMS FOR HOCKEY LEAGUE

The Southern Michigan Hockey League will function as a six-team league during the coming season, according to plans outlined by officials and clubs of the amateur circuit at a meeting held in Dearborn last Monday night.

It was learned at the meeting that two members of last season's six-team league will not be in the circuit this season. Roseville, which did not have a home hockey rink, has been replaced by the Royal Oak Merchants.

Wandaio announced their intention of withdrawing for a year to prepare the reentrance next season. Birmingham will probably replace Wandaio for this year.

Henry H. Schreiber, Dearborn, chairman of the Michigan Hockey Division of the A. A. U., was elected president of the league, with A. W. Pilon of Livernois A. C. and C. G. Gough of Pontiac being elected vice-president and treasurer, respectively.

Russell Roe of Plymouth was elected secretary to replace H. Smith of Dearborn.

Teams now represented in the league are: Plymouth, Pontiac, Royal Oak Merchants, Dearborn, Livernois A. C. and Birmingham.

Trucks and trailer license plates will be on sale at all branch offices of the department of state.

Thanksgiving Morn. Services Planned; Every One Invited

The Plymouth churches will join in a union Thanksgiving service to be held next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the Presbyterian church.

Rev. P. Ray Norton of the First Methodist church will be the speaker.

Every one in or near Plymouth is invited to take part in the special Thanksgiving service, a service that in the olden days was an important yearly event in the community after which Plymouth is named.

A special Thanksgiving musical program has been arranged and the service has been fixed at 9 o'clock in the morning so that it will not conflict with any of the various family events that have been planned for the day.

Plymouth pastors urge especially that every one attend the brief but interesting service that has been arranged.

The attention of residents of Plymouth is called to the fact that the burning of leaves or other material on pavements is injurious to both concrete and asphalt pavements. This practice is prohibited by village and county regulations.

Officials of the Wayne County road commission have asked the local officials to assist in the enforcement of these regulations. The cooperation of all local residents in this matter will mean longer-lived pavements and reduced maintenance expenses.

Last Thursday afternoon the ladies of the Plymouth Home Management Group made snappy work of the lesson "Buying for Household Food Budget," with Mrs. Ray Holcomb as leader. A lively discussion brought out the difference between the present and 50 years ago in food stuffs, the prices, variety and their relation to body building, with all members liberally on their toes with their individual opinions, making this meeting very decisive and interesting.

The next lesson of this group, "Buying Clothing for the Family," will be given Tuesday, Nov. 23, by the Purity Markets. Headed by George Manning, representative of the General Baking Co., Baskets for the carrying of the food are furnished by the Eckles Coal and Supply Co., and Hill's Dairy is furnishing the milk for each basket at half price to Mr. Gallin.

People who know needy families are urged to fill out cards and get them in the mail.

Plymouth's Public Welfare Committee at a meeting held Wednesday night in the village hall, decided it was necessary to make an immediate appeal for clothing for children. Shoes will also be very acceptable. The committee announced that it would have shoes that might need repairing fixed up for additional wear, but it requested that all clothing donated be cleaned.

The village hall has been made the official headquarters of the organization, and Capt. Wright of the Salvation Army will be there every morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. People desiring to have donations picked up can phone Capt. Wright at 368 between 12 and 1, and 5 and 7 each day. Or they may phone Mrs. Norma Cassidy at 206.

OVER $30,000 GOES OUT IN CHRISTMAS CHECKS NEXT WEEK

ACTION TO REDUCE TAXES

Existing conditions compel immediate and drastic action respecting taxes and public expenditures. Tax burdens are not only a major impediment to business recovery, but in some cases are confiscatory. In almost every division of government—federal, state, and local—we are spending too much. We must spend less.

I conceive it to be the duty of each association of business men—from the local commercial organizations to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States—to make itself an energetic and potential force in bringing about drastic reduction of expenditures by the several units of government. Business men have the responsibility of creating and effectuating public opinion in favor of rigorous governmental economy.

Through the efforts of public officials and representative business associations, appreciable retrenchment in public expenditures already is evidenced in some states and cities. Operating budgets are being sharply reduced. Services of doubtful value are being eliminated or curtailed. A halt is being called to the issuance of bonds for projects other than those of the clearest necessity.

The Taxation Division of the National Chamber will gladly assist any group or organization of business men who have the willingness and determination to reduce the cost of government, and hence taxes, in their own community and state.

It believes it can suggest plans based upon successful experience of similar groups in dealing with public expenditures. It cannot supply the best drive and motive power, without which no effort to improve fiscal conditions can succeed. Will you, as an individual and as a member of your local chamber of commerce, provide them?

SILAS H. STRAWN, President, Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Conditions in Russia, without color or bias, were pictured to members of the Plymouth Rotary Club last Friday night by Alfred B. Connable of Kalamazoo, who recently returned from a tour of several months duration in that country.

Mr. Connable and a party of friends left early last summer to spend a few months in the Soviet country. What they saw and what they heard does not present a hopeful picture from a point of view of the world's greatest experiment.

"Religion has been killed among Russians. They have snuffed it out completely. Possibly among a few of the older generation there remains a bit of divine worship, but among the younger generation there is no religion," stated Mr. Connable.

"They have abolished time. No one any longer knows what day of the week it is in Russia. Everything goes by the five day schedule that has been adopted by the Russian government. Women and men work five days, then rest a day. As a result of this staggered arrangement of their working time, one-fifth of the population is always idle and as a result the streets are always crowded with people standing and walking around.

"The workers get nothing for their labor except just enough to live on. Whatever they produce the government gets. Black bread is about all they have to eat.

"If a couple desires to get married all they have got to do is begin living together. They are supposed to register, but many of them do not. If a man or woman wants to get a divorce, all they have got to do is simply inform a government official and he will do it for them. The social fabric of the Russian government amounts to nothing.

"The government conducts a constant propaganda. Posters, newspapers and the radio are devoted almost exclusively to this purpose. Their entire campaign is against the so-called capitalist system of the rest of the world.

"They regard the United States as their enemy. I asked a government guide what the people of Russia thought of the assistance amounting to many millions of dollars given Russia at the time of its famine by the United States. She declared the charitable act of the American people was for no other purpose than getting the Russians by the throat, that it wasn't the spirit of charity which prompted our assistance at all. You can readily see from this how effective the government propaganda is."

Mr. Connable was able to get outside the Russian border a number of propaganda posters issued by the Russian government during the past summer. Plymouth Rotarians heard the explanation of them with exceptional interest.

Mr. Connable, one of Kalamazoo's outstanding business and civic leaders, who a number of years ago was drafted by the city to become its mayor, is straight on its municipal affairs, was the guest of Edward C. Hough, who introduced him at the Rotary meeting held in the Hotel Mayflower.

Plymouth Banks To Add To Holiday Happiness of Hundreds of Savers.

Bank Officials Busy Making Out Checks

Money Will Be In Mails Probably Wednesday For Those Who Have Saved During The Past Year.

Good news for Plymouth? Something like $30,000 will be in the mail Tuesday or Wednesday for the hundreds of Plymouth Christmas Club members who during the past year have saved a sufficient amount, plus the added interest, to make $30,000 in good American dollars that will be available for Christmas shopping and other purposes.

Clerks in both the Plymouth United Savings Bank and the First National Bank have been busy for several days getting ready the hundreds of checks that will be forwarded next week to the Christmas club depositors.

Coming at just this time, the addition of over $30,000 to the regular income of Plymouth residents will mean plenty of business for everyone.

Throughout the nation there will be distributed over $100,000,000 to about 12,000,000 members of Christmas clubs. More than 8,000 banks conducted savings clubs during the past year, according to Herbert F. Rawl, president of the Christmas club organization.

For the first time in the history of its twenty-one years of service, Christmas Club and its subscribing banks are conducting the distribution of $100,000,000 with the participation of thousands of local merchants. In more than 4,000 communities in a program to inspire wise and careful spending during the week beginning November 30th, to be known as Christmas Club Prosperity Week.

It is the belief of those identified with this plan that a slow and steady recovery to normal conditions will be a complete result of the country's work to stimulate spending public to spend wisely, not extravagantly, according to their present ability. An appropriate time to start such a movement is offered by the Christmas Club distribution of $100,000,000 in cash certificates and checks, November 30th. The average amount received by each member is slightly under $50.

While this same figure stood at $24.00 in 1929, this is about one-fifth of the amount on permanent deposit in each savings account on the average. In the banks of the country which several voluntary institutions in many sections of the country report an actual increase over last year, and outstanding in this group are the mutual savings banks in New York and New England, curtailed payrolls in industrial centers, and direct investments in practically all sections have occasioned a reduction of about six per cent in the total for the entire country as compared with last year's figures.

In a survey just completed, supporting the estimate for this year, bankers uniformly express the opinion that the Christmas Club has made an excellent showing in view of present conditions and that it will offer an outstanding contribution to stabilizing business conditions in the approaching pre-holiday season.

The survey shows, too, an increased use of the Christmas Club as a means of accumulating funds for many necessary expenditures other than normal holiday requirements, such as taxes, insurance premiums, and mortgage interest and bankers see in this application a trend to a larger Christmas Club distribution next year.

The inception of the Christmas Club idea, twenty-one years ago, anticipated the need of providing an easy, simple and practical method of systematically accumulating funds for the specific purpose of Christmas needs, but it has developed a real aid to permanent thrift in the banks of the country.

HARRY BARNES HEADS WELFARE

All Local Organizations Unite To Assist In Charity Work For Winter.

PLYMOUTH PUBLIC WELFARE COMMITTEE

That Is Name Organization Will Be Known by—Additional Details to be Worked Out in Immediate Future.

The local wide-spread feeling in the community, that there would be a need for a welfare organization this winter, two representatives from each civic organization met in a joint meeting at the village hall some two weeks ago. It was agreed at this meeting that one representative from each organization would be sufficient to form a joint committee and the representatives were so instructed.

An organization meeting of this joint committee was held at the Village Hall, Thursday evening, November 12. The following official delegates were present: Melvin Algire, representing the Ex-Service Men's Club; Henry Ray, representing the Kiwanis Club; Paul Wiedman, representing the Rotary Club; Mrs. Norma Cassidy, representing the Business and Professional Women's Club; Capt. Wright, representing the Salvation Army. The following were present, but it was learned had been named to represent the following organizations: Mrs. Wm. T. Pettigill, representing the Woman's Club; Mrs. Walter Nichol, representing the D. A. R.; Mrs. Berg D. Moore, representing the League of Women Voters; Harry Barnes, representing the Myron H. Beal's Post, American Legion.

Arno B. Thompson, commander of the Ex-Service Men's Club, presided as temporary chairman. After some discussion, it was felt that it would be safe to defer the organization of the committee until some of the delegates were absent.

It was moved by Mr. Algire, and seconded by Mr. Ray that the Plymouth Welfare organization be known as the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee. Motion carried. It was moved by Mr. Algire, seconded by Mr. Ray, that Harry Barnes be elected chairman of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee. Motion carried.

It was moved by Mrs. Cassidy, seconded by Capt. Wright that Mrs. Pettigill be elected treasurer of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee. Motion carried.

A call was received at the Chamber of Commerce office last week from a party interested in making a donation in case Plymouth had a welfare organization, and this party was instructed to make his check payable to the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee, care of Mrs. Pettigill, treasurer. This, of course, applies to anyone else who might care to make a donation to this worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrave are the proud owners of a new Dodge Elmer, born Sunday, November 8th. Both mother and son are doing nicely.

One man is as good as another, and oftentimes better.

RAIN AND WIND SWEEP STATE

Plymouth and this section of Michigan experienced one of the heaviest downpours Tuesday night that the state has had during the present year. Not only was there almost a constant rainfall during the night, but a high wind made the storm one of the most disagreeable of the fall.

A warm day was followed by a sudden drop in temperature. From Tuesday morning until Wednesday morning, there was a change of almost 30 degrees.

Wednesday proved a bright, sunshiny fall day, but with the weatherman promising cloudy conditions for the remainder of the week.

The body of George Whaley, who drowned in Saginaw Bay, while duck hunting about three weeks ago, was discovered Wednesday afternoon by fishermen about one-half mile from the place where his boat capsized. From all appearances, Whaley had become entangled in a net and tried to swim but the weight of his body and the net held him under the water. The body of his companion has not yet been found.

P. M. Square Club Will Conduct Work Tonight At Masonic Lodge

The degree team of the Pere Marquette Square club and some of its members will visit Plymouth Rock Lodge this evening, Nov. 20, for a 4:30 supper, after which they will exemplify the third degree.

The "Square Club" was organized several years ago, and now has a membership of several hundred, all of whom are employed by the P. M. Ry., and members of some Masonic lodge. Nearly every state in the U. S. is represented through its members.

The work this evening will be the last under the present officers and also the last until next year. It is expected that a large number will be present to see the work of this very efficient degree team.

To correspondents and advertisers: So that the Plymouth Mail staff may enjoy the blessings of Thanksgiving with you and the rest of the world, we are asking that all copy be in one day early next week.

Plymouth's Public Welfare Committee at a meeting held Wednesday night in the village hall, decided it was necessary to make an immediate appeal for clothing for children. Shoes will also be very acceptable. The committee announced that it would have shoes that might need repairing fixed up for additional wear, but it requested that all clothing donated be cleaned.

The village hall has been made the official headquarters of the organization, and Capt. Wright of the Salvation Army will be there every morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. People desiring to have donations picked up can phone Capt. Wright at 368 between 12 and 1, and 5 and 7 each day. Or they may phone Mrs. Norma Cassidy at 206.

The committee has already been advised of several cases that require immediate attention and these will be taken care of at once.

CONFIDENCE

Nations and individuals all over the world are in a state of nervous hysteria. Governments are apprehensive not only about their ability to balance their budgets, but, in some cases, about their stability. Business is stagnant and business men are fearful lest they may be unable to pay their debts.

What is needed most is the restoration of confidence. Why should we not have this confidence? We have had at least 17 of these cycles of depression in the last 120 years. The depression of 1837 was, in many respects, much worse than this and lasted five years. Then there were the depressions of 1857, 1873, 1893, 1907, 1914 and 1921. We came out of all these valleys and went to a higher and greater prosperity than ever before.

While I would not minimize present conditions, I feel very strongly that we are emphasizing too much the evil factors and that we are overlooking the great natural resources of our country and the splendid courage and enterprise of our people.

Many of our ancestors endured and overcame hardships and reverses much greater than any you will experience.

Therefore, I say, let us awaken in ourselves the latent spirit of our forefathers. Let us have an abiding confidence in the fundamental soundness of our American institutions, in the enduring principles of our government. Let those who are complaining of their lot here go to some other country, any other country, and see how much better off we are than the people of any other nation on earth.

Let us cease to whine about depression and devote ourselves to the diligent performance of our daily duties, confident that the day is not far off when the sun will again begin to cast its warm rays upon a happy and prosperous people.—President Straun, U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

LIKE AN OLD WORLD CITY

Travelers to foreign lands have often told of the hordes of beggars encountered in many of the old world cities. But no longer will it be necessary for one to cross the ocean to be humiliated on every side by pan-handlers.

We do not know how much effect the heralding of Detroit's easy charity has had to do with it, but there is not the slightest doubt but what thousands of beggars have thronged Detroit as the result of the country-wide broadcasting of Mayor Murphy's use of public funds to support the unemployed.

The other day a Plymouth resident had occasion to walk a distance of some eight or nine blocks on one of the main streets of Detroit. He was stopped at least once, and in some cases twice, in EVERY block by a beggar for funds. Doubtless some of the cases, he states, were worthy, but most of the beggars had every earmark of being professional pan-handlers.

It is an unpleasant thing to say, but indications are that Detroit is fast becoming the mecca of America's beggars and unless the city remedies the situation, it will have a beggar class similar to those of many European cities. Outside Detroit admirers who love the city for what it has done and for what it is, hope that steps will be taken to stop this post-urban nuisance. Some of the beggars are so insistent in their demands for money that they will trail a "prosper" or nearly a block, even stepping in front of a person to stop him in order to present their demands for money. In view of the fact that Detroit claims to be taking care of all its unemployed, the officials of the city should make quick work in clearing the streets of its pan-handlers. They are a nuisance and a blot upon Detroit's good name.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

The action of Manager Harry Lash of the Pennington-Allen theatre in turning over to the Rotary Club the entire income of the theatre on Wednesday for Plymouth war-relief work, was a demonstration of a wonderful public spirit. The Pennington-Allen theatre management paid the entire expense of the show and gave to the club everything that was received during the afternoon and evening. Plymouth people, too, displayed their willingness to aid in any worthy cause. The Rotarians are to be congratulated upon the success of the event. It takes civic unity to bring about successes of this kind. And Plymouth has it.

THE SINS OF THE FATHER

And the sins of the father shall be visited upon the son, even to the third generation. Thus saith the Bible.

In these days when honored and respected men of the community suddenly are found to have betrayed their trusts and within a few days find the iron doors of a penitentiary cell closed against them, separating them from the sunshine of life and of all it holds dear, we sometimes wonder if all of today's crime is due to the fatalistic working of this moral law, or if men of today are making a moral law of their own. And if so, if the law laid down in the Bible is to work against their children for three generations.

If the man who goes wrong today could realize even one one-thousandth part of the terrible burden of sorrow and shame he is laying upon his parents, his sisters and his brothers, and his own wife and family, if he has one, it would seem that this thought and this realization would deter him from the first fatal step that leads to the career of crime.

Probably in some instances it does. But in the case of those who do go wrong either the man does not think on these things or else he puts away the thought deliberately. Youth is ever rash and thoughtless.

There died out in the state penitentiary in Arizona a convict who had been shut out from all life could hold dear for him for more than 40 years. In his youth he had blazed a trail of criminality that had included everything from common stealing to train robbing, ending finally, as almost always in such cases, with murder.

Just before he died this man wrote a warning to youth.

"There is nothing to be gained by being a criminal," he said. "If I had my life to live over I would never depart from honest endeavor. No criminal ever escapes justice, either at the hand of organized government or from his own soul. My last word to the young man of today is to avoid crime as he would something threatening to take his life."

This man's words are true. They have been repeated, in one form or another, by many men who have led lives of crime.

There is no escape from one's crimes. For a time the pathway may appear rose, and escape after escape from apprehension will lead the criminal into believing that he, at last, will not be caught. But the Nemesis of crime is always at his elbow and, sooner or later, it lays upon him the frightening hand of the law.

And when this time comes, he is humiliated, business executive and churchman, or he is whatever he may be. It is his parents, his family and those who hold him dear that must suffer most at this shock of his unswerving.—Willis L. Williams, Commercial West, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

IT PAYS

Hallowe'en is not some weeks in the past, but it is not too late to comment a bit upon the spirit shown by the boys and girls of this community. As one drove through the various places around Detroit the morning following Hallowe'en most of the store windows were so covered with soap and other markings that it was impossible to see through the windows. In one community wherever possible to remove soap were taken from porches, dozens and dozens having been removed. Other signs of disorder were evident. What about Plymouth? Not a store window in the whole town was "soaped," and police report there was not a single act of disorder. We wonder if the members of the A.M. club haven't a whole lot to do with this ideal spirit that prevails among the youngsters, that the interest school of girls' clubs in the boys and girls even when they are not in school, hasn't something to do with it all? Then, too, we have an idea that the thoughtfulness of Manager Harry Lash of the Pennington-Allen theatre in rewarding the boys by free admission to a good show for their orderly conduct on Hallowe'en hasn't considerable more to do with it.

GOING TO FIND OUT NOW

Announcement has been made in Lansing that the Michigan Securities Commission has now created a new department to find out if the defaulted bond issues it has permitted to be sold to thousands and thousands of aged Michigan people are any good. We were under the impression that the Michigan Securities Commission was created and paid for the purpose of finding out if these securities were any good before permitting them to be placed on the market.

In other words, just as most people believe, the revelation of the billion dollar security swindles in Michigan has been seized by the politicians in Lansing for the purpose of creating dozens and dozens of more jobs for political henchmen.

Editor Murt DeLoe of the Chronicle recently declared that the whole securities commission should be abolished for all the good it does. We agree with him, and would go a step further—repeat every law which permits any "blaming deed" of any kind in Michigan.

Did You Know—

That you can grow Roses in water. If elements essential for growth are supplied, and thereby have a "portable garden."

That a Massachusetts gardener moved two large climbing Roses in the month of August, and had a splendid crop of Roses from them the next June?

That the Rose garden of Mrs. Henry Ford at Dearborn is one of the great Rose gardens of the world in extent, in the spirit back of it, and in the results?

That even in the South you cannot have too much sun?

That you must not grow Crispin Ramblers on brick houses?

That there are many forms of roses that carry no thorns?

Days That Were

It was during the days of the acute housing situation following the late war, Mr. Smith was passing a river front when he was attracted by frantic calls for help. Approaching close to the bank he observed a man struggling in the swift running stream.

"Help! Help! cried the man.

"What's your name and where do you live?" called out Mr. Smith.

"My name's Brown and I have an apartment at 23 Riverside Drive," gulped the unfortunate one, as he was sinking for the second time.

"Thanks exceedingly," bellowed Mr. Smith as he rushed madly away. A few minutes later he entered breathlessly a real estate office.

"Quick, quick," he screamed to the man at the desk. "I want to lease Mr. Brown's apartment at 23 Riverside Drive. Mr. Brown is drowning in the river."

"Very sorry, sir," replied the agent, "you are five minutes too late. The gentleman who pushed Mr. Brown into the river has just signed a lease for three years."

You and I

by CHARLES S. KINNISON

ONE LITTLE LIE

If I, with you, would truthful be For twenty years, let's say— You'd have implicit faith in me That grew from day to day. And if some folks, upon my name Would try to cast a blot— Your confidence I still would claim, For you'd believe them not!

But let you catch me in a lie, Just once—I'd find, alack, Your faith in me would quickly die, And never more come back! However long the years may run, Through which I've held your trust— One lie from me and all I've won Of faith will turn to dust!

What Other Michigan Editors Are Thinking About

giving sanction to the selling of securities amounting on an average to a billion dollars a year during the past five years, the commission (Securities) now admits that approximately eighty per cent of the alleged securities are now frozen stiff. Interest is in default and millions of the principal is in jeopardy, much lost entirely.

These securities were sold in Michigan and elsewhere on a certificate of approval given by the commission to the high pressure salesmen out to get the savings of cautious investors. That these investors were beguiled by the certificate of approval and the existence of the law itself, goes without saying.

The purpose of the law, "To prevent fraud, deception and imposition in the sale and disposition of such securities," Masking behind such altruistic declarations the commission has served only as clever bait used by high pressure salesmen to turn prospering investors into frozen, shrunken, depreciated souvenirs of official disregard for justice plainly imposed.

The fact that Governor Wilber M. Bricker added his name to certificates of approval ought to lead him to very prompt and drastic action.

Too many innocent citizens of this commonwealth have been cheated and defrauded when they had every reason to believe the state was protecting them, to remain simply indifferent to their demands.

Probably four billions of saved dollars have been poured into the laps of inflation mad realtors and promoters. Distressful as unemployment and taxation problems are, they sink into insignificance when the drab record of fifteen years under the Michigan Blue Sky Law is written. That law should now be repealed and the commissioners kicked out of office. Verne Brown in The Ingham County News. Mr. Brown is a representative in the state legislature.

Killingly Funny

Warden Lawes of Sing Sing Prison, probably wishes he hadn't done it now. Being given a supply of football equipment by a professional team, Warden Lawes announced that sectional football teams would be formed. Immediately the "student body" began to limber up and ask about eligibility. That was easy for the warden, who decided that no eligibility would hold, and that every one of the 2,300 inmates could try out for teams representing various cell blocks, whether "freshmen" or "postgraduates." However, it was discovered that no class songs or yells had been devised, and Warden Lawes, being a kind-hearted gent, must have been a bit shocked over the glaucous wit of an inmate of the death house who, it is reported, suggested a slogan with the words, "I could die for dear old Sing Sing."—Harry L. Izor in Durand Express.

Too Late To Reform

We doubt if reformation at this stage of the game can re-establish the Michigan Securities Commission in the confidence of the people of Michigan. Just now the State Banking Commissioner seeks to engender confidence of our people in the financial stability of our state yet the banking commissioner is and was the head of the commission, now technically and literally considered one of the biggest farces ever perpetrated in Michigan. Now stired by the revelation of the non-stop fleeing of Michigan investors the Governor and the commission propose certain reforms to re-establish the body as a valuable protective agency of government.

Whatever the remedy, it must be found. Begin anew again. Let the stern, unpleasant and distressful experiences and facts of 1930-31 form a new basis for adequate supervision and investigation. Build integrity in the law coupled with a penalty that has teeth. Forever forbid the use of misguiding names such as "Federal," "U. S.," "Michigan," etc. where they may be used only for bait, or provide real supervision by the agency whose name is capitalized upon.—William H. Causfield in the Livingston County Republican-Press.

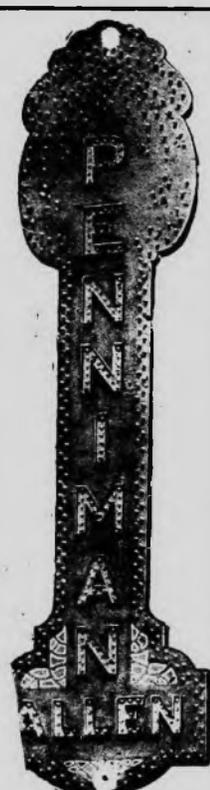

Has Growing Pains

Dearborn is mowing and the announcement of increased space for the post office only emphasizes the necessity of pushing the appropriation which has been allocated to Dearborn by the government for a federal building, at the next session of that body.—William Klammer in The Dearborn Press.

"GIRLS ABOUT TOWN"
Joel McCrea, who was Constance Bennett's leading man in "Born to Love" and "The Common Law," is now to be seen and heard as Kay Francis' leading man in "Girls About Town," the Paramount comedy-romance showing at the Penniman-Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, November 22 and 23.

In this sparkling and pungent story of gay go-getting in the big city, McCrea is a member of a wealthy Midwest firm who joins its president, Eugene Pallette, in a business trip to New York. There they meet Miss Francis and Lilian Tashman, super gold-diggers who, under the guidance of their own crafty boss, Allan Dinehart, get busy on the two visitors, attempting to charm them out of their money by the subtle and familiar methods of auto-suggestion and other bythe feminine tricks.

Miss Francis loses the zest for a business-like pursuit of her craft when she falls in love genuinely with the handsome McCrea. The denouement is a happy one, nicely spiced in spots with drama, and generously flavored throughout with comedy.

"Girls About Town" which is an original story by Zoe Akins, author of the scenarios of many big film hits including "Anybody's Woman" and "Sarah and Sapp," is the first picture for Paramount in which McCrea has appeared.

"THE BELOVED BACHELOR"
"The Beloved Bachelor," appearing at the Penniman-Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, November 25 and 26, is Paul Lukas' first picture in which he plays the title role. He was assigned to this important part because he has earned screen distinction through his excellent work in such pictures as "The Right to Love," "Unfaithful," "Anybody's Woman," "The Vice Squad" and many others.

Headlining the support is Dorothy Jordan, who recently appeared in "Shipmates," with Robert Montgomery, and in "Min and Bill" with Maris Dressler and Wallace Beery. She is beautiful—and a sincere effective actress.

Charlie Ruggles provides the bulk of the comedy. He upholds his reputation as a mirth-maker in elbow-slapping bachelorette roles. He was the big hit of "Charley's Aunt" and the star of "The Girl Habit."

Vivienne Osborne is cast as the girl who loved and lost in this story. It is her first Paramount talkie. She is a vivid, appealing girl, with a trace of sophisticated poise that provides an interesting contrast to her youthful charm. She created the lead in "Alma of the South Seas," later playing it in London for Belasco. She scored in "The Three Musketeers" with Dennis King on Broadway.

"MOTHER'S MILLIONS"
If you're worried about not having enough money, you'll get double your share of enjoyment out of "Mother's Millions," the Universal picture which will be shown at the Penniman-Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, November 27 and 28. This picture presents a highly diverting and, at times, strongly dramatic story of folks who had to fight their wealth for their own happiness.

Frances Dade, one of the fastest-rising youngsters on the screen today, has a leading part in the picture which was written especially for her by May Robson, bloved character star of the legitimate stage. Others in the cast of screen favorites are James Hall, Lawrence Gray, Edmund Breese, Elinor Flynna and Lillian Harmer.

The picture was adapted from the stage play, "Mother's Millions," by Howard McKen Barnes. It was adapted for the screen by Winifred Dunn. James Flood directed.

Want to Talk To The Queen of Roumania?
Just Ask Roy Crowe

Any Plymouth telephone can now be connected with any telephone in Roumania, according to Roy E. Crowe, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Telephone service between the United States and Roumania was opened Monday, November 9, following a telephone conversation between representatives of the United States Department of State and ministers of the Roumanian government.

Calls to Roumania are placed by calling the Plymouth long distance telephone operator. The rate from any Michigan point is $42 for a three minute conversation over the 6,000 mile transatlantic connection and $14 for each additional minute.

Service is handled over land lines from here to New York, and thence to London by the radio channels which now connect North America with practically all of Europe. From London, calls go over wire lines under the English channel and across Europe.

Mr. Crowe says an average of one telephone call a day is made between Michigan and European points.

Thanksgiving

What an inspiration it is to consider that first Thanksgiving in October, 1621. How inspiring also, to observe that the spirit of that first Day of Thanks, and the fortitude which made it possible are prevalent today. America is, and has always been, an aggressive, courageous nation. Hardships in the history of our country have been but stepping stones to greater achievement. And on Thanksgiving Day, 1931, when the whole world struggles in the throes of economic disorder, when internal and international strife cloud the blessings of a world virtually at peace, the example of our Pilgrim forefathers points the way to new laurels and to hope intermingled with thanks.

D.A.R. Members Hear Reports of Activities of The Organization

Mrs. George Holstein was hostess to the members of Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at their regular meeting Monday afternoon, November 10th, at her home on Rose St.

The recent Mrs. Dwight T. Randall, president over the business meeting at which three new members were presented to the chapter, and copies of the budget for 1931-1932 were given to each member present.

Mrs. Walter Nichol, as the representative of the chapter on the committee on welfare work told of the progress being made along that line, and Mrs. Hattie Baker related an interesting account of some of the relief work now being done.

Mrs. Sidney Strang, chairman of the committee on Patriotic Education, told of packing, with the assistance of Mrs. W. T. Rattenbury, and sending five boxes of clothing and other materials, all suitable for use in this climate to the school at Crossnore, N. C., this school being maintained almost entirely by such contributions from D. A. R. Members.

Mrs. Strang also gave a report of the Historical Essay contest which her committee is offering in both Plymouth and Northville schools, and mentioned the active cooperation of the teachers, also the great interest taken by the students in the flag and the proper use of the flag.

Mrs. Charles Root, chairman of the Flag committee, reported that the students in Plymouth schools are being drilled in the salute to the flag and the proper use of the flag.

A paper, "Colonial Women of Affairs," written by Mrs. Henry S. Isner, was read by Mrs. Hattie Baker, and Mrs. Roger Vanden led in singing "Michigan, My Michigan."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Wilcox on Pennington Ave., December 21st. The subject of the program will be "Americanism," with Mrs. Robert H. Beck as chairman.

BOGUS REDUCING

MRS. JONES is twenty-six and she weighs ten pounds more than she ought to weigh, according to the table of averages, and no less than twenty pounds more than she ought to weigh according to her own standards. "But I am reducing," she tells you. "I have been reducing all summer and I don't see why I don't lose weight. I get along without breakfast entirely, and all I eat for luncheon is a little fruit or lettuce."

I have known other women like Mrs. Jones—active, hard working young women who do almost all of their housework, who according to all the rules of the reducing game ought to be losing weight at the rate of four or five pounds a month. I have always been puzzled about them—

Until I chanced to spend a few days with Mrs. Jones. She ate no breakfast—not even a cup of coffee, but sat heroically drinking a glass of water while we broke our fast on coffee, fruit and rolls. At ten we were ready for a mid-morning walk for reducing purposes. In the kitchen just before she started Mrs. Jones paused and blithely ate a well buttered roll with a large piece of cheese, and brought with her for the walk a tin of peanut brittle. We paused on the way back for an ice cream soda. Mrs. Jones said that if we did this we would have no appetite for luncheon. So luncheon passed and Mrs. Jones managed on a plate of salad—generously laden with mayonnaise. As dinner approached, the edge of Mrs. Jones' appetite began to grow sharp, so to keep up the good work of spilling her dinner appetite she visited the pantry—and after her visit, there were two cucumbers, a banana and a piece of cake left in the larder than before she went in.

That I suppose is an extreme case, but it did suggest the possibility that the reason why so many hard-working housewives don't lose so much weight as they think they ought to is because they count calories only at meal times and don't count the calories they consume between meals for the sake of spoil-

Those who received the star award, which is given upon the achievement of earning five medals above a First Class Scout and having three months of service, were: Thos. King, Edward Zander, George Hoshov, Rogmund Green, Slade, Freeman Gregory, Lester Morland, all of N-2; Max Ash, Stanley Jednak, of N-3; Edward Martin, Clifford Cool, Jean Brocklehurst, Levi Sockow, Emerson Rollinson, George Statazki, Jack Sello, William Holdsworth, all of P-1; Albin Krizman, P-2.

The stars were presented by Mr. Greany, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction at the Wayne County Training school. Those receiving life awards representing ten merit badges beyond first class scouts and six months service were: William Statazki and Albin Krizman. The awards were presented by T. J. Kinpp of Northville. The Eagle Palm, which is the award beyond the Eagle rank, entrusted by William Hodson, Jr., who is attending college, was presented to his mother, Mrs. Hodson, by Major Greany.

A five-year veteran award, representing five years of service in Scouting, was presented by Mr. Heavener to Forbes Smith of P-1, Plymouth. The Court was then turned over to District Commissioner Hodson, who determined the number present from the several communities and presented the dinner for largest attendance to Troop P-1 of Plymouth, which had a delegation of which any troop might well be proud at any Court of Honor.

A special Headquarters Troop was then formed, consisting of the Scoutmasters, Ass't Scoutmasters, and Life Scouts of the several troops. A short, inspiring and interesting talk was given by Major Greany of the Wayne County Council, and the Court of Honor was closed with the sounding of tags by Forbes Smith of P-1, Plymouth. Everyone left with the feeling that it was the largest and best Court of Honor that Plymouth District has ever enjoyed.

Curiosity of two boys resulted in the discovery a number of days ago of two homing pigeons that had flown from Shelton, Conn., to Plymouth. Wilbur and Norman Kincaid, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Kincaid who reside east of Plymouth on the Plymouth road, had for a number of days observed two pigeons roosting on one of the buildings on the Kincaid place. A few nights ago they secured a ladder and climbed up where the birds were roosting and placed them in a cage. They discovered that both of them had nestable bands on their legs, the name of Tomson Knox of Shelton, Conn., being imprinted on them. The boys have written Mr. Knox about their discovery and will doubtless hear from him within the next few days.

Claude Taylor is Buried in Riverside. Claude Taylor, age 28, who resided on the Northville Road, passed away at Ford Hospital, Detroit, on Friday, November 13th as a result of poisoning. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, Plymouth, from which funeral services were held, Sunday, November 15th, at 3 P. M. Interment was in the Riverside Cemetery. Rev. Richard Neale officiated.

Plymouth A. C. To Play in Detroit Sunday Afternoon

Due to an error in schedules, Plymouth A. C. again plays away this Sunday, playing the fast Vernon A. C. team. Any local fans wishing to see the game can leave with the team at 1:00 p. m. from the Hotel Mayflower, or their field is located at the corner of Vernor Highway and Dix Ave. Sunday, Nov. 29, Plymouth A. C. plays the Golden Nuggets, and a game is also being arranged for Thanksgiving, both to be played at Burroughs field. Look for handbills. Last Sunday the team met its first defeat at Port Huron, losing 6 to 0.

Have Narrow Escape When House Burns

Mr. and Mrs. James Latture had a narrow escape from death early Sunday morning, when the home on Amelia street in which they lived caught fire and was partly burned. Flames were shooting into their bedroom through the register before they were awakened by the heat and smoke. A considerable portion of the interior of the house was burned and much of the furniture damaged. The house is owned by Mrs. Rosa Rheiner, and the loss is only partly covered by insurance.

Quick work on the part of the fire department prevented complete destruction of the house. Mr. Latture is an instructor in the Plymouth public schools. Mrs. Wm. Hawley of Howell, was the guest of her sisters in Plymouth and Livonia several days this week.

Saline's First Season As A City

By Mark B. Sugden
Mayor, City of Saline

To be a fifth class city in Michigan just now seems to invite a great deal of correspondence from other villages contemplating that step, especially so, it seems, in the case of Saline because our city was the first, I believe, to adopt the model charter practically as recommended by the Municipal League staff.

While Saline will not be a year old as a city until the middle of January, practically all of the members of the present council were members of the council during the last year of the village of Saline, and we have had an excellent opportunity to observe and compare the workings of the two types of government in our city.

Saline is located on U. S. 112 between Ypsilanti and Clinton, ten miles south of Ann Arbor in Washtenaw county. The location is peculiar in that the village was on the corner of four townships, making five voting precincts—the village and four townships. Three of the four township voting places were located five or six miles from the village. Voting at general elections was a considerable nuisance for that reason, and so was the payment of township, school, county and state taxes, to treasurers scattered in the four townships. Now all of our elections are held in the city, and only one municipal election is held every two years, at the same time as the state and county biennial fall elections, and all our taxes are paid to the city treasurer.

While eliminating these troubles of being a village, we also eliminated the payment of township taxes, saving our citizens from $2,000 to $3,000 each year, depending upon the rates and valuations in the four townships on village property. Since our valuation approximates $1,000,000 elimination of township taxes has saved our citizens from $2 to $3 per $1,000 valuation per year.

The elimination of township taxes, however, constitute the greatest saving in becoming a city, if our first year's experience is any criterion. Under our city charter this year we planned the first detailed budget the municipality has ever had. We began by cutting our valuation about 5 per cent and our tax rate 50 cents on each $1,000 valuation, which was approximately an 8 per cent cut in our municipal taxes. But more than this we have spent about $3,000 for new work over and above normal maintenance expenditures of the average year, and our budget is not over-spent considering the period of the year. These expenditures included $1,000 for curb and gutter, $2,000 for new walks (the city paid half of these two items); $300 for water main extensions; $300 for water tower improvements; $440 for fire sirens and alarm system; $325 for city hall repairs and roof, etc.

We were fortunate, too, this year in having our city treasurer under a surety bond, as demanded by the city charter, instead of the old-fashioned personal bond formerly used, because one of our banks has closed with a considerable amount of city money on deposit.

Besides the tax reductions and improvements paid for out of this year's budget, the city has taken care of $3,000 of a $6,000 land contract, although this represents payment of two years' savings on this contract because part of it was left over from the last year under the village form of government, although in previous years the village did not have this payment to meet.

From this first season's experience as a city, I believe that the savings due to the improvement in our form of government by becoming a city will be not 3 per cent but 20 to 25 per cent. Most of this saving seems to be a direct or indirect result of the change in our governmental organization.

Under our city charter we were able to make an immediate saving of $800 to $1,000 by eliminating and combining jobs, and centralizing management of municipal activities. Formerly the treasurer received all tax collection fees on village taxes, amounting to about $115 yearly. Now the tax collection fees on both the summer and winter taxes will total about $450 annually and will pay the salaries of the treasurer and clerk and most of that of the assessor, in spite of the fact that the clerk now receives $200 a year as against $100 under the village government. This increase in the clerk's salary was not due to any corresponding increase in the duties of the office as a city, but to the fact that we discovered in making up the budget that the clerk was not receiving a salary in proportion to that paid the treasurer and assessor, considering the work of the respective offices.

The other principal salary savings were made through combining several jobs in the city superintendent. Mr. Charles Alber, formerly our street and water commissioner. The city superintendent under our charter has charge of and is responsible for operation, maintenance and construction on outstreets, walks, waterworks, sewers, cemetery, etc. Mr. Alber is also one of the city's police officers, replacing a part time officer formerly paid $10 a month.

A single little job we used to have indicates what can be expected of this system of centralized responsibility. As a village we had an elderly man taking care of the public rest room, paying him $5 a month. Responsibility for this has been turned over to the city superintendent; it is now done twice as well as formerly and the extra $90 a year is saved.

Under our charter, the city is run by a council of five, one of the five being chosen mayor. Other elective officials are a justice of the peace and a constable. All other officials are appointive by the council. This arrangement makes the council more responsible than formerly, and any complaints registered with the council can be immediately taken care of because all appointed officers are responsive to the wishes of the council.

It has been amazing to me what a difference there is between a council of five and a council of seven, as under village government, in getting things done. I can not say definitely how we accomplish so much at our council meetings in so little time, except that there are two less to argue about details, but our meetings do move along much faster and easier than formerly; yet we discuss every matter thoroughly and bring out every fact. At the time Mr. Clarence V. Smazel of the Municipal League staff suggested this change in drafting our city charter I could see some possible advantages in it, but I would not have believed that so much change could have resulted as our experience has shown.

For bringing about this improved setup of our government we are indebted to the Michigan Municipal League, as well as for assistance previous to elections which are necessary in making the change. Mr. Smazel of the League staff, with our attorney, Mr. Roscoe Bonsteel, checking legal matters, assisted the charter commissioners in drafting our charter, and it is my opinion that we have a very good one. The voters at the charter election agreed, as they voted for adoption three to one.

We in Saline are proud of our charter and happy to have made the change from village to city government, not because the word "city" sounds more important than village, but because our government is more economical and efficient. We would certainly strongly recommend this change to any village.

The good die early, which is not saying much for grown-ups.

Christmas Seals Will Go On Sale Thanksgiving Day

Facing the threat of greatly increased tuberculosis, arising from the hardships of the past two years, the twenty-fifth annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals will begin on Thanksgiving Day, November 26. At that time sixty-six million seals will be released throughout the state, 32,000,000 of them going to Wayne county residents.

With the state and county sanatoriums filled and long waiting lists at most of them, the threatened increase in tuberculosis must be met at once by greater preventive work, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Tuberculosis Christmas seals are the only support for anti-tuberculosis organizations in Michigan.

Urging the people of Michigan to buy Christmas seals more generously than ever before to meet the greater need for immediate tuberculosis work, T. J. Worle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, said "Insufficient food, poor housing and inadequate clothing have opened the way for increased tuberculosis infection and disease among our people, particularly children."

The Christmas seal sale is the cheapest as well as the most effective means of meeting the new danger. Christmas seal funds are put to work, quickly and wisely, to prevent tuberculosis deaths. They go straight to the heart of the tuberculosis problem. Christmas seals also offer everyone in Michigan a chance to help those caught with the disease—peas, dimes and dollars all help fight tuberculosis.

Building up Chain of Oil-Gas Stations

Plymouth friends of Ralph Willis, who for many years has been active in Northville and Plymouth realty sales, will be interested in knowing that the Northville resident has been elected secretary and treasurer of the Robertson Oil Company, which has a chain of gas stations on the west side of Detroit. One of the new stations will be opened Saturday and Sunday. It is located at 2244 Grand River. Three other stations have recently been opened, one at the corner of Telegraph and Five Mile road, Grand River and Eight Mile road, and another on Telegraph road near the Five Mile road. In addition to general gas and oil service, the company handles tires, tubes and auto accessories. The officials of the company have been highly pleased with their success.

Charity Show Is Successful Event

Three big truck loads of groceries, vegetables and fruits, besides over $100 in cash, was the result of the Pennington-Alten Theatre and Rotary Club charity show, Wednesday, Nov. 17. Mrs. J. J. Wollgast spent from Thursday until Sunday of last week with her aunt, Mrs. G. M. Clarke, in Detroit.

President Walter Nichol and other officials of the Rotary Club were delighted with the success of the event. Every cent taken in at the theatre and all donations made will be used in Plymouth welfare work.

Rotarians expressed their appreciation to Manager Harry Lush of the theatre for his part in making the affair such a successful one.

The Pennington-Alten donated the use of the theatre, paid for the pictures and paid for all the other expenses in connection with the three shows given for the Rotary club benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Rogers and Mrs. John Oldenburg have returned home from Toledo, Ill., being called there by the death of Mrs. Rogers' mother, Mrs. Bernella Stone, aged 85 years.

He Has Lived Under Administration of 18 U. S. Presidents

J. W. Adams, born in Plymouth nearly 78 years ago, brought to the Mail office the other day a list of presidents who had served the United States. His life span has been under 18 of those presidents, over half of the men who have served as presidents of the United States. He was born during the administration of Millard Fillmore, the 13th president of the United States.

Mr. Adams lived in the old hotel before a tree had been set out in Kollagz park.

"The park was a clearing made in the woods by Mr. Kollagz. The idea of a park back in those days was a clearing where there were no trees. A little later they set out some trees in the park, the trees that now are some of the biggest around here. The park used to be a sort of meeting place for folks that had settled in this part of the country," said Mr. Adams.

The presidents that have served the United States since his birth are: Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Jackson, F. G. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, Grover Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

Presidents who served before Mr. Adams was born were: George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson, Martin Van Buren, William H. Harrison, John Tyler, James K. Polk and Zachary Taylor.

The third meeting of the Newburg Child Care and Training class will meet Friday, November 20, at 2:00 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John Campbell on Wayne road. The subject of this meeting is "Your Child's Clothing," a study of clothing that develops good habits, health and the self confidence of good appearance.

Funeral Home, Plymouth, where funeral services were held Thursday, November 19th, 1931 at 9 a. m. from Our Lady of Good Counsel Church. Interment took place in Rural Hill Cemetery, Northville.

LOCAL NEWS

Wednesday evening, several ladies of Plymouth attended a "personal" shower at the home of Mrs. Clara Todd. The guests in honor of her niece, Miss Marguerite Wood of this place, whose marriage to William Foreman of Northville, will take place in the near future. Those attending from Plymouth, were: Mrs. Fred Gentz, Mrs. William Gayde, Mrs. Albert Gayte, Mrs. Amelia Gayde and Mrs. O. F. Royer.

On Thursday evening of last week, Mrs. C. Harold Bloom of Northville, and Mrs. Jack E. Taylor delightfully entertained at bridge honoring Mrs. George H. Straker of Northville, at the home of Mrs. Clara Todd. The guests included Mrs. Frederick Bar, Mrs. Payson Gregory and Mrs. Maurice Laplam of Detroit, and Mrs. Orlov Owen, Mrs. T. J. Knapp, Mrs. P. G. Brennan, Mrs. Arthur Steele, Miss Mable VanVleet, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Miss Rena Schrader, Mrs. M. McKinley, Mrs. Harry Wagonschutz, Mrs. Robert Coolman, Mrs. C. M. Zimmerman, Miss Margaret Tank and Mrs. Sterling Eaton of Plymouth.

Mrs. Clara Todd is now able to get about the house, and is getting better rapidly after her long and tedious illness of over four months. Jean Webber of Pontiac, and Mrs. Edith Green of Farmington, called at Mrs. Nina Fishers, Sunday, to see their father, Robert Webber, who is very ill.

There will be a meeting of the Plymouth Child Care and Training Group, Tuesday, November 24th, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. F. R. Habel, 489 Blunk Ave. The subject of the lesson this month is "Your Child's Clothing." All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Ralph Lorenz entertained her home on Sheridan avenue, about twenty ladies Thursday evening at her home on Sheridan avenue, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Daisy Roberts of Detroit. The house was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums in the fall colors. Bridge was the main pastime of the evening, followed by a delicious lunch served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brower of Wayne, visited Plymouth relatives Wednesday.

THE cranberry keeps better than any other berry because it has in its own composition an acid which is a preservative—salicylic acid. As this acid acts upon metals care should be taken to cook the berries in porcelain-lined aluminum dishes—never in tin.

Fresh Cranberry Conserve.
Take two cupsful each of cranberries put through the meat chopper, add the same amount of apples, one cupful of sugar and one-fourth cupful of pecan meats slightly broken. Let stand until the next day to season. This will keep for weeks in a cool place.

Cranberry Conserve.
Wash five pounds of carefully picked over berries, chop them coarsely. Put two pounds of seed raisins through the food chopper, mix with the berries. Roll the thin yellow rind of four large oranges in water to cover until the rind is tender, then chop fine. Put all the ingredients into a saucepan with ten cupsful of sugar, the pulp and juice of five large oranges. Heat slowly and cook until reduced to a jam.

Cranberry Frappe.
Boil one quart of berries (add two cupsful of water) for ten minutes. Strain through a coarse cloth, add two cupsful of sugar, stirring until it is well dissolved. Add the strained juice of two lemons and freeze to a mush.

Cranberry Drink.
Put two cupsful of cranberries to cook with a little water. Boil two quarts of water with three tablespoonfuls of oatmeal and the peel of half a lemon for ten minutes. Now add the strained cranberry juice and sweeten to taste, boil twenty minutes, then cool and add one cupful of orange juice, strain and serve.

Cranberry Bavarian Cream.
Whip a pint of double cream until stiff, add one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of gelatin which has been dissolved in water and liquidized over hot water. Mix with the cranberries, strained and sweetened, to which four tablespoonfuls of maraschino syrup has been added. Fill the molds and pack in ice and salt for four hours.

Vegetable Salad.
Grate six or eight medium-sized carrots, or better, shred very fine on a vegetable shredder; add one finely minced onion and one green pepper also finely minced, a few stalks of tender celery chopped fine, a cupful or more of finely shredded cabbage and one small cucumber cut in dice. Add to three packages of lemon gelatin dissolved in three pints of hot liquid and put away to mold. Chill before adding the vegetable and let thicken slightly.

Grief Over Death Of His Companion Of 65 Years Hastens The Death Of Friedrich Luecht-His Illness Brief

Friedrich Luecht, who died last Friday, was born in Ludwigslof, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Germany, August 10, 1845. He attended catechetical instructions and was confirmed in the Lutheran church at Ludwigslof, April 3, 1858. In this same church also he was united in marriage with Fredericke Sliow, May 3, 1866. This union was blessed with nine children, six of whom, in 1871 the deceased brought his family to this country, settling in Livonia township of Wayne county. He resided on several different farms in this township until 1911 when he removed to the village of Plymouth.

September 25 of this year his wife and life-long companion departed this life after a marital union of more than 65 years. He survived her by less than two months. After a short illness he died Friday afternoon, November 13, having brought his earthly pilgrimage to 88 years, three months and three days. Grief over his wife's death is believed to have hastened his end.

He leaves to mourn: two sons, Fred and Charles; one daughter, Mrs. J. Staman; seven grandchildren and one great grandchild, besides a circle of other relatives and friends. The deceased was one of the charter members of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Livonia, and was faithful from that time, 1872, until his death to his church. He was laid to rest from this church on Monday afternoon, November 16, with interment at Livonia Center cemetery, Rev. O. J. Peters officiating.

SOMEWHERE BETWEEN

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

ALL things must be tempered. The wind from the sea is warmed by the sunlight; the shade of the tree Lakes cooler the summer; whatever God sends Is tempered a little before the day ends. And so must a mortal, in dealing with men, Mix mercy with justice, forgiving again. The sisters who stumble, the brothers who fall, As God has so often forgiven us all.

If others offend you, be stern, if you must, And yet, in the heat of the quarrel, be just. Yes, speak and yet listen, and argue yet hear; The fool is all shouting, the wiser give ear. The wrath of the righteous, if wrathful, is wrong; The kind are the noble, the quiet the strong.

All things must be tempered—the wind from the sea, And anger whatever the quarrel may be.

For justice with mercy a monarch adorns; No man is all error, no rose is all thorns. And fairness with firmness, whoever offend, Whatever the quarrel, the matter may mend.

Yes, ruling with reason, a judge, be yet just, The heart, not the mind, we may finally trust. All things must be tempered—the truth will be seen. Not this side nor that side, but somewhere between.

Chic Evening Dress

This lovely evening dress is of wine colored flat crepe. The two pleated shoulder straps on the right and the one on the left give the dress a unique touch. The belt is pleated at waist and forms a bow in back with long streamers. The skirt is a word and circular effect.

The Old Gardener Says:

THE ripper squashes and pumpkins are the better they will keep. Still, immature squashes and pumpkins will keep well if properly cured for. After being picked they should be thoroughly dried by being placed in the sun in some airy place where the temperature will not run higher than 45 degrees at night. A covering of hay or blankets must be ready in case of frosts. When well dried they may be put into winter quarters. A furnace cellar, if not too warm, is a good place to store these vegetables. A dry chamber or an attic near a chimney will also serve. The best temperature is from 50 to 55 degrees, or varying from 48 at night to 60 during the day.

Ostriches Busy Supplying Demand for Plumes

OSTRICHES all over the world are busy these days growing plumes, the reason being the vogue for the Empress Eugenie hat, on which a feather is placed. The owners of ostrich farms are happy and the birds are producing eggs and young ostriches as fast as they can. A few months ago there were twenty-odd feather factories operating in the United States. Now about three hundred of them are going full blast, employing probably four thousand workers. The prices, too, while below those of twenty years ago when a choice ostrich plume brought as much as $30 (that kind isn't needed now) have climbed away up about 70 per cent in the last six months.

BOWSER, THE HOUND, FINDS PETER

TIME was when Peter Rabbit looked on Bowser the Hound as a very dangerous enemy. But that was when Peter was young and knew less of the Great World. Also it was in the days before Farmer Brown's Boy had put away his terrible gun. Then the sound of Bowser's great voice sent a chill of fear over Peter, for he knew that unless he could fool Bowser's keen nose Bowser would surely lead Farmer Brown's Boy to where he was, and then—well, then there was that terrible gun.

But since Farmer Brown's Boy had put away his terrible gun and no longer hunted Peter and the other little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, the sound of Bowser's great voice no longer sent shivers of fear chasing one another all over Peter. Truth to tell, Peter rather enjoyed an occasional run with Bowser. It kept him in good condition. He felt that it was good for him. Peter especially enjoyed such runs in cold weather. They set his blood racing and made him feel warm and full of high spirits. He would run trying to think of some way to get back to the dear Old Brier Patch without giving Old Man Coyote a chance to catch him, he was not in the least bit frightened or troubled when he heard a rustling of feet among dead leaves, and peeping out saw Bowser himself sniffing and sniffing as he tried to find the scent of some one to chase. He knew by the way that Bowser acted that his wonderful nose had found just enough scent to tell him that some one had been along that way, but not enough for him to be sure which way they had gone, for after a few hours scent disappears. Hunters say that it grows cold. So the scent left by Peter and Old Man Coyote in the night had grown cold. There was just enough of it left in damp spots to tell Bowser that they had been there, but not enough for him to be really excited about.

Now Bowser is very patient, and he ran this way and that way sniffing the ground all over so that he would be able to find a trail fresh enough for him to follow. For Bowser was feeling just like a good run that morning. So presently he came to the old bramble-tangle where Peter was hiding, and then a wandering little breeze brought him the scent of Peter fresh and strong. Instantly Bowser knew that Peter was somewhere in there, and right away he became very much excited. His tail began to wag as if he would wag it off, a way he has of doing when he is hunting. Peter almost laughed aloud as he watched.

All around the edge of the old bramble-tangle went Bowser, sniffing, sniffing, and whining as he looked in among the brambles trying to see Peter, and at last he did see him sitting right in the middle. "Bow, wow, wow!" roared Bowser fiercely and tried to crawl in through the old brambles. But the old brambles scratched Bowser's tender ears and made him yelp, so that he was glad to back out and try another place.

"Bow, wow, wow!" roared Bowser again. "Come out and run, or I will come in and get you!" and he made himself look as fierce as he could.

But Peter sat right where he was and chuckled. He knew that Bowser never could catch him in that old bramble-tangle, and he wasn't the least bit frightened. In fact, he enjoyed seeing Bowser try so hard to frighten him. Besides, it took his mind off of the worry of how he was going to get back to the dear Old Brier Patch without falling into the clutches of Old Man Coyote, who he knew, was hiding somewhere along the way there. You see he told Peter that he never would go back there again.

Dance, Sat. Nite
says sign at corner of Pembroke road and Plymouth road, with arrow pointing to St. Michael's Parish Hall.

It was unfortunate that the committee picked a rainy day and dismal nite for the first dance of the Hall and the Season. Notwithstanding the weather, however, the Hall was filled, but not crowded, the Brothers Harry Eggleston and Walter Culey had the place all lit up, inside and out, the floor was pretty fast too, for the boys had worked day and night to sand, steel wool and wax it.

There was room for nine sets for the square dances, which our "country" folks entertained some old friends (of the Pastor) from Dearborn and Detroit. A number were noted from Northville, Plymouth, Wayne, Ann Arbor and countryside.

The Ladies of the Altar Society refreshmented the jolly crowd with coffee, nice sandwiches, and sodas, in between dances and at intermission time.

The ladies prize was taken home by Miss Pauline Hubel of Detroit, a frequent visitor here, and the man's prize was pocketed by Mr. William H. Halton of Berwick Ave., Rosedale. Wonder who will do likewise this week end.

Rev. Fr. John E. Fontway made a short address of welcome to those assembled and stated that the dances would be a regular Saturday nite feature, except during Advent and Lent.

Miss Norma Schaffer and her orchestra, of local fame, kept music on the air and feet off and on the floor from a little after eight 'till midnight, when prizes were distributed and all went home happy.

Sewer Pump
had their first tryout last Fridze Eve, owing to the heavy thunderstorm, so Supt. Al Hencke and Asst. #### VEGETABLE SOUPS

VEGETABLE soups of various sorts made without meat stock are a nourishing and inexpensive addition to the every-day bill of fare. A dinner consisting of some such vegetable soup, followed by a meatless second course of let us say, tomatoes and spinach, or succotash and tomatoes, makes an adequate and inexpensive dinner.

The usual way of making creamed vegetable soup is to simmer the vegetables to get the vegetable stock and then to add this to thickened milk. Here are some other vegetable soups that you may like to try:

Cream of Lettuce Soup.
This calls for the outer leaves of two heads of lettuce. Fry one-half tablespoonful of minced onion in three tablespoonfuls of butter until soft and then add the lettuce shredded, with three cupfuls of stock and three tablespoonfuls of rice. Let simmer in double boiler, adding water to keep it equal to three cupfuls. Add one cupful of milk and let simmer again in double boiler until rice is tender. Strain, pressing the rice through the sieve.

Celery Soup.
This calls for a pint of stock made by boiling ends and coarse parts of a bunch of celery with a few slices of onion. Add a pint of milk, boil together. Have ready a half-cupful of cooked rice, add to the milk and let cook in double boiler for five minutes. Have ready an egg slightly beaten in an earthen bowl. Pour the soup over the egg and let stand for two minutes, stirring constantly. Season to taste.

Onion Soup.
Two cupfuls finely chopped onion, two tablespoonfuls butter or bacon drippings, four cupfuls of rice water or vegetable stock, one teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful white pepper, one-eighth teaspoonful paprika, two tablespoonfuls chopped parsley, one tablespoonful of caramel. Cook onions and butter or drippings in covered saucepan, shaking pan often. When onions are tender add to rice water or stock; boil five minutes; add salt, pepper, paprika, caramel and chopped parsley.

Receives Data On Interesting Case

Dr. F. H. Stauffer has received a copy of the original executive order issued by Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma, which created a vast amount of comment in that state. The order provided that the University Hospital in Oklahoma City, shall permit chiropractic doctors to have the same rights to practice in the hospital as regular physicians. The governor's order was the outgrowth of the insistence of a patient in the hospital to be treated by a chiropractor. The medical superintendent in charge had refused to permit the practitioner to enter the hospital to give treatments. Gov. Murray threatened to remove the entire hospital staff if his order was not complied with.

Has Wood Knot That Looks Like Cave Man

The Great What Is It, or what the petrified cranium of a pre-paleolithic cave man—and a very robust one at that—probably looks like. This thick-lipped concave-faced specimen was found five miles west of Plymouth by William M. Strenich, a Detroit landscape architect, who is a brother of Jake Strenich of Plymouth.

It is composed of gnarled red maple, a veritable mass of knots. Mr. Strenich found it growing on a stump, apparently an ancient one, while searching for trees to use in landscaping. The face, now treated with a wood preservative, is one of Mr. Strenich's studio ornaments in Detroit.

Revive the Spirit of Your Forefathers

The Pilgrim forefathers of this country didn't rely on anybody, they didn't wait for opportunity to knock. They made their own opportunity. They sailed across an unfriendly ocean in a frail ship and landed in a wilderness—then made their own way. When we recall those Pilgrims this Thanksgiving Day, let's resolve to revive their spirit of go. Too many of us are waiting for some one to hand us the platter—successful men are not made that way. They fight their own battles, make their own opportunities—SAVE their own money. You can do it to.

The Menace of the Jaywalker

No, it wasn't the driver's fault. The fellow he hit was one of the species of jaywalkers—the sort of menace who regards himself as a one-man parade. But the pity of it is that the driver, having no liability insurance, stands the risk of losing several thousands of dollars if the jaywalker wins his case—and you know juries! The only thing is to protect yourself in advance by adequate Liability Insurance.

The Friendly "500" club was very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Josephine Flak on North Harvey street, last Thursday. The next meeting will be a cooperative supper Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Freyman on Ann street.

Mrs. Henry Ray and Mrs. George H. Robinson were guests of Mrs. Dugald Duncanson of Ann Arbor, at a play given by the Ann Arbor Woman's club in the Woman's League building, Ann Arbor, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Duncanson, who is a cousin of Mrs. Ray was one of the players.

Mrs. A. E. Brautner, who had been the guest of relatives at Birmingham, Detroit, and Plymouth the past few weeks, returned to her home in Piqua, Ohio, Saturday, in company with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Chapman, who returned to Plymouth, Sunday.

More than forty ladies attended the Silver Tea Party of the Executive Auxiliary given last Thursday afternoon at the spacious home of Mrs. Harry Brown on the Ridge road with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Harry Barnes as joint hostesses. A most enjoyable afternoon was passed playing bridge and delicious refreshments served.

Frank Gottschalk, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Salow and daughter, Madeline, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorne with sons, Harold and Edward, and daughter, Marie, surprised George Gottschalk, Monday evening by being dinner guests in honor of his birthday.

Word was received here of the death of Mrs. Meeker, mother of William Meeker, on Oct. 26. Mrs. Meeker resided with her son in Plymouth, on Adams St., a number of years, until a year ago they moved to Bay City at which city the burial took place.

The Mayflower bridge club held a most delightful meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Jennings on Ann Arbor road.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Illinois of Detroit, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowlick, on Ann Arbor street, on Sunday. Wayne Rorabaecher, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Rowlick, of Grand Rapids, and friend, Miss Althea Dalos, were also their guests.

Mrs. Ralph Baker of Detroit, spent several days last week at the home of her friend, Mrs. W. S. Jackson, on Sheridan avenue. Elm Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Strong entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Blossom, Mr. and Mrs. J. Merle Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fletcher, Saturday evening at bridge and a cooperative dinner at their home on Park Place.

From letters received here it has been learned that the Dearborn High school vested choir of fifty-eight voices under the direction of Harold F. Koch, gave a musical cantata at the Presbyterian church in Alton, last Sunday, of which Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, formerly of Plymouth, is now pastor.

Guests at Mr. and Mrs. Patton's, Whitebeck road, the past week, were Mrs. Ross Mickle, daughter, Lillian, and Mrs. Vanstone of Ingersoll, Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mickle and Miss Johnston of Detroit.

Mrs. Arlo A. Emery entertained at luncheon last Friday, Mrs. E. S. Lunley, Mrs. C. LeRoy Cropp, Mrs. Holmes and children, Kathryn and Barbara Jean of Detroit.

Those who attended the thirteenth annual DeMolay frolic at the Book-Caselle Hotel in Detroit, Friday evening, were the Misses Vera Woods, Lola Mae Barlow and Elvira Losey of Plymouth, and Madeline Halstead, Jessie Nelson and Margaret Norton of Northville, and Leroy Segnitz, Arden Connell, Chase Willett, Dewey Taylor, Harvey Segnitz and Charles VanVleck of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mulvey of Canton, were surprised by twenty-four masked Detroiters, last Saturday evening. After guessing who was who, the playing of games followed. Grand prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Bales and Fred Dezenor. Prizes for costumes went to Mrs. Fred Dezenor and Ed. Liebetreu. At midnight a buffet lunch was served. Amateur theatricals and dancing followed, prizes for dancing going to Mrs. Lillian Cox and Harold Storz.

This week Wednesday night at 7:15, will be the second of a series of five big mid-week services for the discussion and adoption of our church program from now to Easter. Members of the official board and heads of all organizations are especially requested to be present. Win-my-chum services will be held in the church each night of next week, November 23 to 27, by the High School Epworth League. These meetings will begin promptly at seven o'clock and close promptly at eight o'clock. The pastor will speak each night on the Ideals and work of the Epworth League. The public is invited.

Methodists will unite in the Union Thanksgiving service to be held in the Presbyterian church at nine a. m., Thursday morning. At the Sunday-school hour next Sunday, members of the Booster Club will present a dramatic sketch of the Sunday-school lesson during the opening exercises at 11:15 a. m.

ROSEDALE GARDENS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 Milton L. Bennett, Minister
 Sunday services—10:00 a. m. Bible-school, 11:00 a. m. Morning worship; subject, "The Fifth Commandment."

ROSEDALE PRESBYTERIAN NOTES
 Mrs. J. D. Bond has been secured as teacher for the group of high school girls and will begin her work on Sunday. Mrs. Bond brings in the class splendid training, experience, and personality. Girls of high school age are invited. Persons who desire to contribute food for the Thanksgiving baskets to be distributed to the needy, are invited to send their donations to Mrs. Bond.

The Sunday morning sermons deal with the Ten Commandments and their application to modern life. The Fifth Commandment concerns the home.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH NOTES
 Service for worship, 10:30 a. m. Bible school, 11:45 a. m. Cottage prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30. The theme for Sunday, November 22, will be "I and My Friends." Request of the interest in last Sunday's message, the pastor plans to speak soon on another phase of "Word Cartoons from the Book of Daniel."

Episcopal Notes
 There will be no service at our church Thanksgiving Day, but our people are urged to join in the union services at the Presbyterian church.

Baptist Notes
 The topics for the pastor's sermon Sunday morning will be "Foundation Facts of the Bible," and for the evening service, "Christ in the Old Testament." On every Tuesday evening is held a meeting for the young people, which consists both of a social time and a period of Bible study. On Wednesday evening is the regular prayer meeting, and on Friday evening will be held a special prayer meeting at the home of George Wiske, on Mill St. in the interest of Stewardship.

Christian Science Churches
 "Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, November 15. Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "In the Lord shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory" (Isa. 45: 25). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is deathless, spiritual. He is above sin or frailty. He does not cross the barriers of time into the vast forever of life, but he exists with God and the universe" (p. 286).

Presbyterian Notes
 There will be a union Thanksgiving service in First Presbyterian Church on Thursday of next week, Thanksgiving Day. The service will be held at 9:00 a. m. o'clock. The hour has been judged the most suitable one. Rev. Mr. Norton of the Methodist Episcopal church will be the preacher. Other ministers will take part in the service. The usual thank offering will be taken. "Bless the Lord and forget not all His benefits."

A Junior Light Beaver's Club was organized on Tuesday of this week with Mrs. Russell A. Roe as leader. Meetings will be held each Tuesday at 3:45 p. m. o'clock. Already plans have been worked out for a series of meetings with plenty of interest and hand work. This group of juniors are sure of a fine club.

Catholic Notes
 Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the children of the parish. Instructions Saturday at 9:30 a. m. for the children. The Altar Society at a meeting held last week, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. J. C. Rutherford; vice-president, Mrs. J. T. Moore; secretary-treasurer, Miss Mary Mertens.

Donka Crocuna was buried from the church last Thursday morning with Rev. J. G. Schuler officiating. The special collection for the missions will be taken next Sunday at both masses.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. A special prayer should be offered up on this day to God for help during these trying times. Mass will be offered up at 8:00 o'clock, and a special prayer said for the times. God and God alone can adjust the situation, so do not fail Him in these times. "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find," says He. All nations, and His people, should turn fervently to God in prayer, and sacrifice, and thus shall we be compensated for our wants. All Christians should attend church each Sunday, and all Catholics should assist at Mass each Sunday. "For Without the grace of God we can do nothing." Rev. F. C. Lefevre is somewhat improved, and is able to Mass again on week-day mornings. A happy Thanksgiving Day to all.

If you don't believe honesty is the best policy, try it.

Our Hearse Meets Every Modern Traffic Condition

It is often said that the people of a community may be judged, to a great extent, by the respect they show for the dead. We are glad to say that in our experience funeral corteges invariably meet with the greatest consideration from the motorists of this community. Funeral arrangements sometimes work a considerable hardship on everyday traffic. The patience of the public under such circumstances is greatly appreciated. One provision we have made to lessen conflict between our services and ordinary traffic is to make use of the New-Way, side servicing hearse. With this hearse the bearers never have to take the casket out into the street. The casket can be placed thru whichever side of the hearse traffic conditions make most safe and convenient.

USES OF CRANBERRIES

The cranberry keeps better than any other berry because it has in its own composition an acid which is a preservative—salicylic acid. As this acid acts upon metals care should be taken to cook the berries in porcelain-lined aluminum dishes—never in tin.

Fresh Cranberry Conserve.
 Take two cupsful each of cranberries put through the meat chopper, add the same amount of apples, one cupful of sugar and one-fourth cupful of pecan meats slightly broken. Let stand until the next day to season. This will keep for weeks in a cool place.

Cranberry Conserve.
 Wash five pounds of carefully picked over berries, chop them coarsely. Put two pounds of seeded raisins through the food chopper, mix with the berries. Boil the thin yellow rind of four large oranges in water to cover until the rind is tender, then chop fine. Put all the ingredients into a saucepan with ten cupsful of sugar, the pulp and juice of five large oranges. Heat slowly and cook until reduced to jam.

Cranberry Frappe.
 Boil one quart of berries (add two cupsful of water) for ten minutes. Strain through a coarse cloth and add two cupsful of sugar, stirring until it is well dissolved. Add the strained juice of two lemons and freeze to a mush.

Cranberry Drink.
 Put two cupsful of cranberries on to cook with a little water. Boil two quarts of water with three tablespoonsful of oatmeal and the peel of half a lemon for ten minutes. Now add the strained cranberry juice and sweeten to taste. Boil twenty minutes, then cool and add one cupful of orange juice, strain and serve.

Cranberry Bavarian Cream.
 Whip a pint of double cream until stiff, add one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of gelatin which has been softened in water and liquidified over hot water. Mix with the cranberries, strained and sweetened, to which four tablespoonfuls of marshmallow slrup has been added. Fill the molds and pack in ice and salt for four hours.

SEASONABLE DISHES
 WHEN preparing salad for more than the usual number, a few packages of lemon gelatin will make a fine foundation for the various fruits or vegetables. If one wishes, add in place of the water, to dissolve the gelatin, fruit juices, strained broths or both, made with bouillon cubes; they add flavor as well as nutriment. When giving a luncheon or serving a church or society club, a molded gelatin salad is always well liked. It may be set in small molds, or in large flat dishes and cut in serving-sized cubes, or it may be lightly broken up with a fork and served in nests of lettuce.

Fine, clear, dazzling morning, the sun an hour high, the air just tart enough. What a stamp in advance my whole day receives from the song of the meadow lark perched on a fence stake 20 rods distant! Two or three liquid-simple notes repeated at intervals, full of carefree happiness and hope. With its peculiar shimmering slow progress and rapid-noiseless action of wings, it flies on a way, lights on another stake, and so on to another, shimmering and singing many minutes.
—WALT WHITMAN.

CANDY FLAVORED DISHES

A FEW varieties of candy used to flavor or enhance the appearance of a dish add variety to the menu and a delight to the eater. The following dish has been used for several years, so is not new; but for those who have not tried it, here it is:

Cinnamon Apple Jam.
Quarter and peel two and one-fourth pounds of apples and simmer for five minutes in a half cupful of water in a covered saucepan. When the apples are soft put them through a sieve; add five cupfuls of sugar, two-thirds of a cupful of cinnamon candies, and boil hard for one minute. Remove from the heat and add one-fourth cupful of pectin, skim and pour into glasses or jars. Cover with a thin film of paraffin while hot; when cool cover with another layer to insure perfect sealing.

Peppermint Cup Cakes.
Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add two-thirds of a cupful of sugar and two beaten eggs. Mix and sift two cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Add to the first mixture, alternating with three-fourths of a cupful of milk. Stir thoroughly, then drop the mixture into muffin tins. Sprinkle the tops with peppermint sticks that have been ground fine through a food chopper. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes.

Gum Drop Orange Sherbet.
Cut six squares of angel food, arrange on a serving plate and spread each portion with a mound of sherbet, topped with cream and garnished with quartered gum drops. The quart of orange sherbet may be made at home if convenient.

California Custard.
Bring three cupfuls of milk to the boiling point, add a half slice of lemon rind in it. Remove the rind and add one-half pound of uncooked spaghetti in small pieces and one cupful of raisins. Cook gently until the spaghetti is tender, stirring frequently to prevent burning. Mix one-half cupful of sugar, a pinch of salt and two slightly beaten eggs, with one-half cupful of milk. Add to the spaghetti with one-half teaspoonful each of lemon extract and cinnamon; cook gently until the egg is set. Serve with cream.

THE ARCTIC NULF-NULF
The nulf-nulf is a mournful creature, weeping continually for the good old days. On account of this, the Eskimoes keep them for igloo pets, where they can conveniently use their blubber. The nulf-nulf whenever possible will shed crocodile tears, but cannot depend on this because of the rarity of crocodiles in the Arctic regions. Except for the crocodile tears, the nulf-nulf is easily constructed.

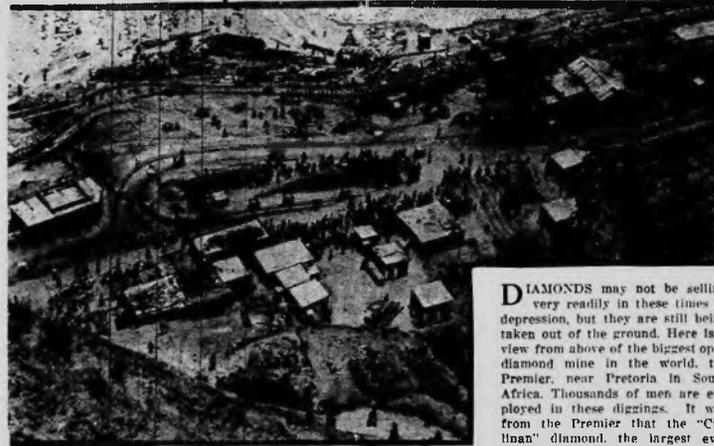

The body is a paper-shell peanut, and the head a double peanut. Popcorn in the popped stage forms the topknot. The legs are cloves, and the feet split lima beans.

Looking Down Into Largest Open Diamond Mine

DIAMONDS may not be selling very readily in these times of depression, but they are still being taken out of the ground. Here is a view from above of the biggest open diamond mine in the world, the Premier, near Pretoria in South Africa. Thousands of men are employed in these diggings. It was from the Premier that the "Cullinan" diamond, the largest ever found, was obtained.

Plymouth's Big Fair
Now in Full Swing
Down at the Corner

The "county fair" is in full swing! Never before was there ever such a display of prize winning fruits and vegetables and grains direct from the orchards and fields of this locality as displayed at Plymouth's big "county fair."

Right at the corner of Main and Penulman avenue—in the big window of the Plymouth United Savings Bank.

Not a fair? Well, it is almost big enough to be one and no fair ever had a finer display of fruits and vegetables than displayed in this window at the present time.

D. D. Packard, who lives two miles west of Plymouth, is going to walk away with first prize for winter banana apples.

E. C. Rider, who lives between Plymouth and Ypsilanti, surely has first prize in his pocket for the best display of yellow dent corn. His turnip exhibit has already been given first place.

It looks too very much as though William P. Kenney, whose place is east of Plymouth, has first, second and third prizes for the best display of Grimes' Golden Winter Banana apples.

No exhibits from Plymouth? Sure there is. William Gayds has already been awarded first and second blue ribbons for his display of Stark's Delicious apples. They were grown right in Plymouth, over on Mill street.

Then C. W. Honeywell has a prize winning display of Red and Golden Delicious apples grown on his farm out on the Ann Arbor road.

Just to add a touch of the unusual to this big "fair," Russell Cunningham of Garden City has a display of peanuts and a big sweet potato grown on his place over in Garden City.

Mr. Fisher of the bank has awarded first sweet potato and peanut prizes to the Garden City exhibit.

Cashier E. K. Bennett thinks the merry-go-round, no, nor the Washington Merry-Go-Round—will be in operation for the kids in a few days.

Harry Robinson declares that because of the cold weather and rain the horse races have been called off.

Plymouth Girl In Debate Discussion

The Wodeso Club, Michigan State Normal College, which is an organization composed of women interested in debate, recently sponsored a discussion of current problems.

Anna Martin, Detroit, spoke on "Belgian Settlements;" Elsie Stotzenburg, Traverse City, spoke on "Liberty Loans;" Benigna Gatzke Alpen, reported on the "Bank of International Settlements;" Kathleen Cotter, Dearborn, spoke on the "Davies Plan;" and the "Young Plan" was discussed by Ruth Root, Plymouth.

A continuation of discussion was led by Myrtle Krug, Blissfield.

Issue Warning On Tax Payments

The village treasurer has been advised by Herman R. Lau, treasurer of Wayne County, that taxes are being collected in Wayne County under false pretenses by some very polished crooks.

Mr. Lau advises that there are no tax collectors working out of his office. There are also no tax collectors working out of the Village Treasurer's office or any other tax collecting office which we know of.

Local residents are requested to notify the Village Hall immediately in event any such person calls at their residences and pretends to be collecting taxes.

DEMOLOY NEWS

Six couples attended the DeMolay Frolic at the Book-Cadillac, Detroit. The total attendance was nine hundred. A good time was had by all.

Don't forget the meeting on Thursday, Nov. 19, also Wednesday, Nov. 25. Let's have a large attendance at both of these meetings.

Following Is 'List Of 'Best Novels' Of The 20th Century

For the information of readers of the Plymouth Mail who enjoy thought-provoking novels, Ruth McLeod has prepared a list of what in her opinion, are the best among the outstanding novels of the 20th century.

A qualification is added to the announcement, that what some might regard as "best" might not be so placed by others.

Miss McLeod's list of novels at the Plymouth library, follows:

GOOD EARTH, by Pearl Buck. A story of Chinese peasant life.

WAY OF ALL FLESH, by Samuel Butler. Brilliant satirical novel attacking fiercely certain honored conventions of society.

MY ANTONIA, by Willa Cather. Story of a Bohemian immigrant girl.

THE MOTHER, by Deledda. A drama of the mental and spiritual conflict in the souls of two people.

POWER, by Lion Feuchtwanger. An historical romance taking place in the duchy of Wurtemberg in the early eighteenth century.

HER SON'S WIFE, by Fisher. A mother trying to adjust herself to a cheap, vulgar, and ignorant girl her son brings home as his wife.

A PASSAGE TO INDIA, by E. M. Forster. A study of native India in conflict with the Anglo-Indian official class.

THE FORSYTHE SAGA, by John Galsworthy. The history of a typical English family.

BARREN GROUND, by Ellen Glasgow. Study of life, hardship, and suppressed romance.

MARIE CHAPDELAIN, by Louis Hemon. Story of French Canadian farm life.

POBRY, by Du Bose Heyward. Story of negro life in Charleston, South Carolina.

Dairy Herd Assn.
To Hold Meeting on Monday Evening

The Wayne County Dairy Herd Improvement Association extends an invitation to the dairymen and dairy farmers of this vicinity to attend a dairy meeting at the Plymouth Grange Hall, Monday evening.

November 23, at 8:00 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss feeding and weeding of dairy cows and to learn something of the value of testing also something of the market milk situation. Speakers are expected from Michigan State College and from Detroit. Lunch will be served, according to Fern C. Kinne, tester for this locality. The same opportunities exist alike for all men. ROCKS LOSE FINAL TO WALLED LAKE, 32 TO 0

The Blue and White squad ended their season last Friday suffering a bad defeat from Walled Lake. The Plymouth line did not play up to its usual standard and the team play was not so good. Also several of the regulars were not able to play due to injuries. This was the fifteenth win in a row for the Lake riders. Their team had for its nucleus several first year men who had gained experience.

Eno outplayed Williams by a big margin and his place kicks enabled his team mates to tackle the receiver quite near the Plymouth goal. Blunk at quarter, did a good job directing the team for Plymouth. The Plymouth pass defense was rather weak and several passes were completed for large gains against them. Dudek played his usual good game backing up the line very well. The end run was the main offensive weapon for the home team and it was a big advantage. They splinter plays were hard to fathom and always gained.

FIRST PERIOD
Banerman kicked off to Welch on the five yard line, the latter bringing the ball back to the fifty yard line. Tuttle went around left end for six yards. Harris went around end for seven yards. Tuttle then fumbled, a Plymouth player recovering. Dudek went around end for no gain. Plymouth was then penalized fifteen yards for holding. Williams kicked outside on the thirty-seven yard line. Tuttle went around left end for seven yards. Welch hit center for one yard. Eno then plunged through center for a first down. Harris dashed around end for three yards. Welch hit center for six yards. Tuttle dashed around right end for a touchdown. Harris then passed to Tuttle for the thirty yard line, who brought the ball back to the twenty-five yard line. Harris hit center for no gain. Walled Lake was then penalized fifteen yards for holding. Harris dashed off right tackle for four yards. Welch passed to Tuttle for five yards. Eno hit left tackle for three yards. He then passed but it was incomplete, the ball going to Plymouth's possession. Dudek hit center for one yard. Wagenschutz went around right end for three yards. Blunk hit center for three yards. Williams punted to Welch on the thirty yard line, who brought the ball back to the forty yard line. Harris dashed around left end for eight yards. Welch plunged through center for two yards. Tuttle went around end for four yards. Welch dashed around right end for thirty yards. Tuttle went off left tackle for three yards. Eno went around left end for three yards. Harris went around right end for one yard. Welch went off right tackle for five yards, ending the first period.

SECOND PERIOD
Eno plunged at center for no gain. Tuttle went around end for five yards, giving the ball to Plymouth on the twenty yard line. Williams went through center for one yard. Dudek hit center for three yards. He then went off left tackle for a first down. Blunk went around left end for no gain. Dudek plunged through center for four yards. Wagenschutz went around end for three yards. Williams punted outside on the forty-three yard line. Harris dashed around left end for fifteen yards. Tuttle went around end for three yards. Welch plunged through center for two yards gain. Eno hit center for two yards. Welch hit tackle for no gain, giving the ball to Plymouth on the nine yard line. Williams passed but it was incomplete. He then punted to Welch on the fifty yard line, who brought the ball back to the thirty five yard line. Eno dashed around end for a touchdown. He then kicked to Blunk on the twenty yard line, who brought the ball back to the forty yard line. Williams passed but it was incomplete. Dudek hit center for one yard. Wagenschutz hit four yards at left end. Williams then punted outside on the forty yard line. Conkle Dudek was then put in at left tackle for Amrhein. Harris dashed around end for thirty-five yards. Tuttle went around end for no gain. He again went around end for four yards. Harris passed to Tuttle for fifteen yards, Harris then hit center for no gain, ending the half.

THIRD PERIOD
Bunkheart went in for Small at right guard for Walled Lake, and H. Micol for Ash at end for Plymouth. Tuttle kicked off to Dudek on Plymouth's twenty yard line. Dudek took the ball four yards before he was tackled. Williams then passed to Dudek who was tackled before he could make any gain. Dudek trying right end gained two yards. Williams tried a long pass but it was incomplete. Dudek gained four yards on a push through center. Williams again tried a pass but it was again incomplete. On the next play he kicked off to Eno on the forty yard line. Harris trying center gained nothing. Eno trying center made one yard. Welch kicked to Blunk who caught it and was tackled on Plymouth's one yard line. Williams kicked to Eno on the fifty yard stripe. Eno hinged on this game. The contest was not decided until the last period when Steve Dudek plunged for the score. The last two games resulted in losses. Wayne was first and downed the Rocks 7 to 0. The "Zebras" were tied for the lead with Dearborn and were considered heavy favorites to win. Plymouth kept the ball in their territory for the majority of the game and lost several good scoring chances. The Walled Lake game was the worst defeat of the season. The end of the game saw the Blue and White on the short end of a 32 to 0 score. The Walled Lake series was thus made even with each team winning two games.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

Donald Kilmer entered the kindergarten under Mrs. Carpenter last week. He comes from an area in North Dakota. This room has been talking about the story of the first Thanksgiving. They colored turkeys, ducks and geese to represent the story.

Mrs. Root's first graders have an "Open City Class" after school to which the boys and girls come to need help in reading, writing, or number work. Group two had their first "Word Test" last week, and Iris Dene Hill, Joan McGee and Walter Patrick received one hundred per cent. Group one had their second test and Jack Kenyon, Ned Barley, Borj Anderson, Jo Ann Gordon, Margaret Jean Nichol, Patricia Conery, Bobby Johns and Elizabeth Ann Hobbsall received one hundred per cent. They are making covers for their "Art Picture" books in drawing. Group two has finished the first term and are reading in the large Elmer's Books. Jimmy McAllister has entered this room, coming from Clair, Michigan, making an enrollment of forty-one. The children are making Indian chiefs, squares, wigwags, and head dresses of colored papers and are studying Indian songs. An Armistice Day, the entire room marched with small flags.

The children in Miss Mitchell's first-A are taking every precaution to prevent colds. They have seven health rules which they are trying to obey. Last week, they spent their second lesson on the Pilgrims and the Indians. The stories "West in a Covered Wagon" and "Little Humpty Face" were read to them. This room also marched with flags on Armistice Day and sang "America" in handwork. They made owls and pasted them on the orange moons.

Six notes in Miss Wilcox's room had no colds and are in good health class. The Plymouth Rocks are ahead of the Victors in spelling. In Miss Field's room, Margaret Erdelyi won in the arithmetic down in the Fire-Fly group, and Caroline Ossenheimer won in the Butterfly group. Linton Ball received the highest score in the reading test, and Margaret Erdelyi received the highest score in the self-testing drill.

The Five-B's in Mrs. Holiday's room are making product maps of South America and are studying the picture "Tans Indian Roasting Corn" by Couss. In picture study, and the five-A's are studying "Down Plowing" by Bonheur. Grace Whitmer has returned to school after four weeks of illness. Barbara Ol-saver received the highest score on the spelling test.

The sixth graders in Mrs. Atkinson's room were sorry to lose Dorothy Reynolds, who was absent because of illness. Suzanne Libkicher has been absent several days because of illness. Eleanor Cline received the highest score in the spelling test in the sixth-B, and Mary Holdsworth received the highest score in the six-A. The six-A English class are preparing oral book reviews. The six-B English class are studying letter writing.

ORCHESTRAL PROGRAM

The first orchestra played: October 5—Installation of officers of the Junior Citizenship Club at the Plymouth High School. October 19—Meeting of the county officers of the Junior Citizenship Club at the Hotel Mayflower. October 27—Eastern Star dinner at Masonic Temple. The first orchestra is planning to play a selection of small ensembles for the Senior play in December. In the first orchestra there are twenty-two, and in the second, which has just been organized, fourteen. In both orchestras violin players are needed.

OOH! A SURPRISE PARTY

Meeting at Couch Matheson's house a week ago last Tuesday, twenty-one lively football fellows were ready to surprise Melvin Blunk at his home. Mr. and Mrs. Blunk planned a party and asked Mr. Matheson to assemble the varsity squad. For a couple of days mysterious winks and conversations were withheld from Melvin. When the whole troupe of fellows walked in on him, he was stunned, the surprise was complete. The whole squad including Mr. Matheson participated in playing games. Very interesting prizes were given such as loud hiss, toys for little children and many other things that brought roars of laughter. About 10-45 the fellows had a very good lunch, and "Coach" kindly informed them that a later practice session awaited them the following day. Everyone had a wonderful time.

G. R.'S HIKE TO HOUGH'S WOODS

The Senior Girl Reserves last Friday visited the Hough Woods in search of seasonal beauty and a hidden treasure. It was planned that the girls would take their picnic to the woods, but because of the heavy rain, they decided to eat in the auditorium instead. At the girls had enough sandwiches, hot chocolate and apples. Ethel Wout, Girl Reserve vice-president, called the business meeting to order. Reports were given, and an announcement made concerning the "Thanksgiving" party for this week. At 12:30 the group left the schoolhouse for the woods. As the route had been previously outlined, the girls found it great fun following arrows and landmarks. Upon reaching the woods the girls followed the directions left in notes placed on the bark of trees or hidden at the bottom under leaves. After pacing giant steps, taking baby steps, walking right, following your nose and other similar directions, the treasure was finally found by Cora Rowland. Its contents were candies, favors or lollipops. On the way back the entire group stopped momentarily to pay a visit to Mrs. Roy Strong who was in the middle of cookie baking. After returning to the school, the thirty mob murdered the remaining chocolate. Don't forget, girls, that you are responsible for an essay on the beauty you acquired during this hike.

JUNIOR DANCE

The Junior dance is to be held Friday night, November 20, at 8:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The Blue Seniors will play six pieces. The admission is 25 cents, only school pupils being eligible to attend.

H. S. PRINCIPAL WRITES FOR BULLETIN OF NATIONAL DEPT

In the October 1931 issue of the Bulletin of the Department of Elementary School Principals there is a very interesting and suggestive article, written by Claude J. Iyk-house, principal of the Plymouth High School, and entitled "The Desirable Characteristics of the Home-much time on the subject." The article is a principal's prepared from the angle of a principal writing to the parents in his school district. Points discussed are concerned with the factors in the home that render a child successful in school. Among these are the experience that broaden a child, the incidental instruction that may be given from things lying close to the early environment, parental discipline, the temper tantrums, and various physical characteristics, such as the "I don't like this" or that attitude toward food. The article shows how much of this early training and the attitude toward society are dependent on the home.

TORCH PREPARES FOR CONFERENCE

The theme of the State Older Boys' Conference, which is to be held at the Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor on Nov. 27, 28 and 29, is "The Modern Boy and a Christian World." As a result of this, the Torch Club has devoted some time in discussing areas of thinking suggested by the theme. Some of the questions discussed were "Is the modern world christian? What about us is most un-christian. What about poverty? What about the worlds revealed by science? The discussion, led by Wesley Kaiser, became so interesting and so many new ideas were brought out that the boys were sorry more time could not have been spent on it. There was one question in particular which Mr. Cobb wished that more time could be spent on and that is "What has a modern boy to do with building a more Christian world?"

HOME ECONOMICS THEME

During American Home Education week, the girls in the commercial home economics class wrote themes on various topics showing how they are benefited by attending high school. Mary Mank wrote the following: "My High School and My Future." In my high school course I am being prepared for a stenographer or secretary. Most of my subjects stress accuracy, speed and executive ability. The other subject, Home Economics deals on the social aspect of the present and future. Every day I meet people—my school friends and those older than myself and talk with them on current topics and other things of interest. This tends to broaden my mind and get me in the habit of keeping up on events. This also does away with any tendency toward shyness. If we meet people roll in spelling. John Moore, Charlotte Williams, Bobby Beyer, Marlon Rulsen, Douglas Eckles, Marguerite Mattinson, Ellen Mystrum, Helen Norrgore and Genevieve Spaulding have not been absent or tardy this semester.

Armistice Assembly

Through the Centurians with Education, an original pageant by the Senior Drama Club, was presented in the first part of Wednesday's general assembly, last week during National Education Week. The old Chinese school, where everybody talked out loud, was dramatized first. Greece, Rome and Palestine also were represented. The monks, who represent most of the education of the Middle Ages, were shown. What men had to do to become knights was told. The age of science and discovery, where men began to investigate and discover new things in medicine and science was shown mostly by the mounting of Colonial America, the church still represented the educated group, and its schools taught the boys to read and write. Last the interior of the little red school house of our parents' day was shown.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS

A religious questionnaire was sent around to high school students two weeks ago and of 544 that answered, 330 were Sunday-school. This means that 61.8% of the students go to Sunday-school. There are 163 students who do not attend Sunday-school but they have a church preference. There are only 45 students who have no preference. The percentage of students not attending Sunday-school is 38.2%. It is interesting to know that 61.8% is a very high percentage. This material is available for all churches.

NEEDLEWORKERS SOLVE PUZZLE

Materials are puzzling even to needleworkers. Thus Barbara Hubbard and Marion Orton, acting as program committee, kept the other members of the Needlecraft Club busy. They worked up a very interesting construction puzzle which had to be filled with the names of materials used in sewing. Grace Highfield and Lillian Howland were chosen to take charge of the next club meeting. We believe there's more fun in store.

Join our Christmas Club

P. H. S. DEBATERS WIN OVER MILFORD HIGH

The locals opened the league debate season by its debaters shutting out Milford, on the subject of unemployment insurance, with a unanimous decision. Public speaking in any form is new to two members of the team, while debating is new to all three.

The Plymouth team, upholding the affirmative, consisted of Irene Humphries, Evelyn Rorabacher and Odene Hill; and Milford team, defending the negative, consisted of Ruth Taylor, Hettrice Grey and Joseph Kingsbury.

The question for debate was "Resolved that Michigan Should Enact Legislation Providing for a System of Compulsory Unemployment Insurance." The following is the interpretation of the question—"A System of Compulsory Unemployment Insurance" shall be understood to mean one which meets the following requirements: (1) At least part of the costs shall be borne by the compulsory contributions of all employers of six or more persons; and (2) All persons who are employed by such employers for six months or more are insured. The constructive speeches were ten minutes and rebuttal five minutes.

It has been the custom of Plymouth to have three judges for a debate; however, this season only one expert judge will be used. The latter type is preferable for it is more economical, and it eliminates any chance for prejudice to enter into the decision as the judge gives his decision and a full explanation of it in the presence of both teams and the audience. The expert judge used in this debate was Professor Fred K. Riley, Professor of Speech at the University of Michigan.

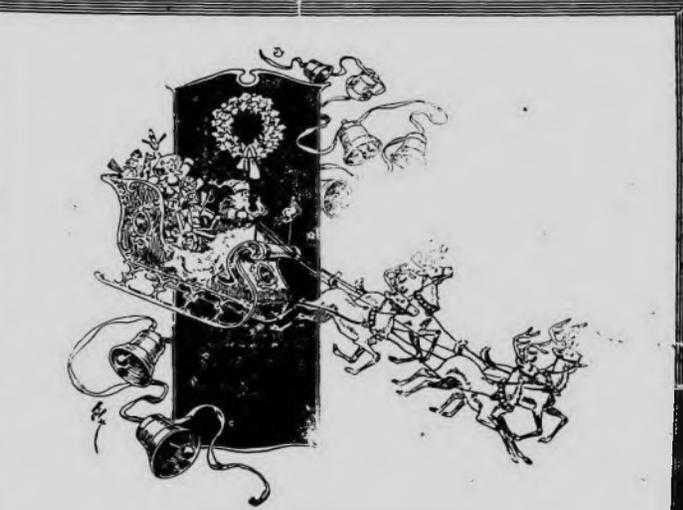

The affirmative team based their case upon three contentions: (1) A serious situation exists demanding a remedy; (2) Unemployment insurance is the best possible remedy; and (3) Unemployment insurance, passed by several states, is the best remedy to meet our particular needs. The negative based their case on two contentions: (1) Unemployment insurance would not be a good remedy for it would not attack the causes which were seasonal, cyclical, technological, and voluntary unemployment; and (2) Unemployment insurance should not be made compulsory but voluntary. Milford became confused and inconsistent in proving the second contention and as a result it was

REPORT CARDS TO COME OUT

Report cards for the second marking period will be given out November 25. Some report cards for last period are still out, and if not brought in the persons will receive no grades. Have your report signed and returned as quickly as possible.

GIRLS PLAN WARDROBES

Because the commercial home economics class is finishing the study of proper clothing and cosmetics for the business girl, each member of the class has selected an imaginary girl and has prepared for her an imaginary boat trip, automobile tour, or a week's vacation. In order to portray the necessary clothing and accessories for these trips, the girls have made brightly decorated booklets showing pictures of the girls' wardrobes, estimating the cost of each article from a typical business girl's salary, and containing a story of the way in which the vacation was spent.

Rosedale Gardens

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Rosedale Presbyterian church was held Wednesday evening, November 11. The fate for the winter carnival was definitely decided upon as Friday, December 4th. A delicious dinner will be served by the ladies from 5 to 7:30 p. m., at a very reasonable price of 25 cents a plate. Everything served will be home cooked and baked. There will be choruses, various booths, music and other entertainment. The women of the church are busily making attractive things for the booths. The carnival will be held in the basement of the church.

The children, Alice and Wesley, of Mr. and Mrs. Bakewell of Plymouth road, entertained with a piano recital and reading. Also Mrs. Bakewell sang appropriate selections for Armistice Day, which were much enjoyed.

Rev. Nichol of the Plymouth Presbyterian church, honored the meeting with his presence and gave a very encouraging and inspiring talk. His talk was so splendid that he was invited to speak again in the near future.

Mrs. Clark, a new neighbor, was introduced and welcomed. Light lunch was served after the meeting and concluded a pleasant evening.

Bridge Tea

A delightful affair was given by Mrs. Stover of Chicago, Blvd., who entertained at a bridge-tee Thursday, November 12th, for the benefit of the Winter Carnival. Among those present were: Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Doran, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Huron, Mrs. Church, Mrs. James, Mrs. Houdlear, Mrs. Van Deventer, Mrs. Leslie, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Sturgis, Mrs. Bond, Miss Allen and Mrs. Burton. Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Stover presided and poured. Mrs. Huron and Mrs. Taylor were winners of the honors.

Thanksgiving Baskets

Anyone having an article of food, no matter how small a contribution, that they would like to donate for the Thanksgiving baskets the Women's Auxiliary is making up for the needy at Thanksgiving, will please send same to the president, Mrs. R. Porterson of Blackburn avenue. They will be gratefully received.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hodgson, Jr., spent the week-end of November 7, with their son, Billy Hodgson, at Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo.

Saturday, November 14th was Scout Day at the Stadium at Ann Arbor. A. C. Burton of Ingram Ave. took the following Scouts from Troop 16-1: Archie McDowell, Joseph Kinsley, Willis Huron, Bob Jones, Daniel Burton and Herbert Bozani. In spite of the inclement weather the boys enjoyed the game very much.

C. Metzger of Blackburn Ave. took his Sunday-school class on a picnic to the woods Saturday morning, November 4th. The boys reported having a fine time.

NEWBURG

The first quarterly conference will be held in the church next Sunday evening. The new district superintendent will preside. Everyone is cordially invited to be present by the pastor.

The Epworth League commenced a contest Sunday evening for new members and good attendance.

Next Sunday is the annual hospital day. 873 children have been taken care of in the wards of Bronson hospital since they were opened in March, 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Badelt of Wayne, called on Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kubie, Sunday evening.

No fine things will bear, or want, comparison; every fine thing is unique.

Nature has given us the seeds of knowledge; not knowledge itself.

Interwoven is the love of liberty with every ligament of the heart.

How One Woman Lost 10 lbs. in Week

Mrs. Betty Luedeker of Dayton, writes: "I am taking Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, safely and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—an 8 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—Get it at Community Pharmacy, or any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—money back.

LOCAL NEWS

The T. A. B. club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. R. H. Reck on Blunk avenue, last Tuesday afternoon, at a desert-bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnes and daughters, Betty and Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Eckles, were guests Sunday of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Barnes at Hudson.

Mrs. Lynn Felton delightfully entertained the Octette bridge club Wednesday, at a desert-bridge at her home on Sheridan avenue, Elm Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Streng will move from their home on Park Place to the Stewart house vacated by James Baughn on Church street, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oakes will occupy the Streng house.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Walte of Royal Oak were guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stocken at their home on Davis street. Dr. Walte is Director of the Michigan Narcotic Association.

The Laugh-a-Lot Club held their cooperative supper Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Garton on Forest avenue. First honors were won by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Micol; second by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bolton, and consolation by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sallow.

The Old Gardener Says:

GARDEN makers who have been growing Witloof chicory will find it very easy to force. As many plants as are likely to be needed should be stored in a cold place, as few at a time being taken into a furnace cellar where a temperature of about 50 degrees can be maintained. The roots are best forced in deep boxes such as can be obtained at a grocery store. The boxes should be filled with good garden soil, and the roots set in them so that the top is just even with the surface. Then a little water should be given unless the earth is damp. Many growers like to use two or three inches of sand over the earth. If the corner of the cellar where the roots are being forced cannot be darkened readily, a box having a few holes bored in it for ventilation may be inverted over the box containing the roots. The salad plant obtained in this way is much relished in the winter months.

NORGE ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR WITH ROLLATOR

It's so simple

ONLY 3 MOVING PARTS

It would be hard to imagine a cooling mechanism simpler than the Rollator—the stout heart of the Norge Electric Refrigerator.

A roller rolls—and there's ice! That's the whole story of Norge operation.

But simplicity of operation is only one of the reasons why so many thousands select Norge. They like the lasting beauty of cabinet design and finish... the thoughtfully planned shelf height and arrangement... the porcelain interior with rounded corners... the spring hinged door to the freezing compartment... the conveniently placed freezing control and defrosting switch. They like the Water-voir, always ready with a cold drink without ice.

You too will like the many improvements and refinements you'll find in the Norge. That's why we say, by all means see the Norge before you buy.

The Norge is manufactured by Norge Corporation, Detroit, a Division of Borg-Warner, one of the world's largest makers of automotive parts, including free wheeling.

The Water-voir shown in the model illustrated in this advertisement is extra equipment.
