

WOULD PREVENT SERIOUS LOSS

State Banking Officials To Aid Northville In Its Troubles

In an effort to prevent a situation that may fear would result in almost a total loss of the deposits in the two Northville banks, the state banking department has worked out a moratorium plan for the Lapham State Savings bank and the Northville State bank which will conserve most of the deposits and resources of these two closed institutions, according to those who have been active in working out the new arrangement.

The details of the plan were presented last Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the depositors of the two closed banks held in the Presbyterian church house, Oliver Goldsmith of Plymouth, a member of the depositor's committee, composed of John A. Bopce of Redford, C. H. Horton of Northville and Charles Hamilton of Novi, stated that after a most careful consideration of every plan presented, it is believed that the new arrangement can be carried through it will solve the serious financial problems of the nearby community.

The plan, which has been to a very great extent worked out by the state banking department, provides that a moratorium be agreed upon which will extend over a period of five years. Forty percent of all deposits in the two banks shall go into a trust fund to cover doubtful assets held by the two banks. In addition to taking over this forty percent of the deposits, the state will make good impaired holdings of the two banks the other sixty percent will be placed to the credit of the depositors, but only ten percent of this amount will be available for withdrawal during the first year.

In addition to this agreement, depositors also agreed to agree not to withdraw more than ten dollars upon the opening of the two banks.

The banking department has added a further provision that 50 percent of the total of all deposits of the two banks must sign the agreement before any banks can be reopened. It is understood that a large number signed the agreement Saturday and early during the present week.

During recent weeks there has been a prevailing fear in Northville that if the two banks were permitted to continue in their efforts to liquidate the affairs of the two banks it would result in irreparable losses to depositors, stockholders and the community as well.

It is to prevent this serious loss to every one concerned that the state banking department has taken such an active interest in the plan to reopen the two banks under a moratorium plan, thereby permitting them to operate without the necessity of throwing out of the market all the assets at prices far below even a fair price.

Mr. Goldsmith stated that it is not the intention of the two banks to operate for long as two separate banking institutions. The plan provides for an early consolidation.

Meanwhile representatives of the banks are seeking signatures to the depositor's agreements in the hopes that some definite action can be taken within the next two or three weeks toward reopening these institutions. If the plan fails Northville faces one of the most difficult periods in its entire history, state those who are putting forth every effort to prevent what they fear will become a business tragedy, carrying with it losses not only to all the depositors but every resident of Northville who has property interests of any kind within the community.

Hamilton Rifle Is Jack of All Trades He Tells the Folks

C. J. Hamilton & Son, Plymouth manufacturers of that popular little .22 caliber rifle that has proven one of the best there is on the market, have just issued an interesting advertising letter that is receiving much favorable comment among rifle dealers. It tells in brief what a .22 can do. It follows:

"My name is Hamilton S. S. Bolt. Although I am young, I am a good worker and can promise myself a splendid servant."

"Why I can be a wonderful pal to thousands of boys. They like me because I am always accurate. They like my pistol grip stock. They like my buckhorn sight because with it they can find the mark quickly. They like me because I am light and easy to handle. I am sturdy and can stand the hard work they give me."

"And Sir, I have lots of good friends among the men. Take Mr. John Clark. Why he swears by me because I killed the rat his trip wouldn't catch. He had his rifle since he was a boy and he has taken such a liking to me, he says he is going to take me along with him on his vacation. There is also Mr. James Merchant, who got me to eradicate that alley cat, that has been breaking up his nights sleep. Mr. Henry Farmer says I make so much fun of getting rid of pests, he is really glad to see one. There are boards of others too."

"Really, you know I am not a ladies man but—What? Why surely I can't be blushing. Sir, I was only thinking how Mrs. Pal, who likes to shoot with her husband, makes such a fuss over me. Says she wishes her Henry would mind like I do. Then Betty Scout loves me. She says that with me she can always hit the mark. And can she shoot? Oh well, I guess I have said enough."

"How much will I work for? Why, Sir, just one cent. You can give me as low as you like and I will work for you. Just send for me or any of my brothers and you will be pleased to see how quickly we can be on the job and start working."

SEEKING RELIEF FOR TAXPAYERS

Legislature Begins Special Session Due To Depression

Lansing, Mich., March 31—Michigan's legislature is now in session in the old historic state house of the Wolverine state to consider the gravest and most important question that ever confronted any group of lawmakers since the organization of the state.

The representatives and senators are gathered here because the state of Michigan is in a desperate financial straits. The legislature is called to consider the gravest and most important question that ever confronted any group of lawmakers since the organization of the state.

When Thomas Conlin, veteran editor of the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill and one of Michigan's outstanding tax authorities, last winter at the annual session of the Michigan Press Association, declared the time had come for immediate action if Michigan was to be saved from a calamity, his appeal found a ready and responsive ear. Even Governor Wilbur B. Wood, who led the editors at the same convention he was not sure a special session would be of benefit. In recent weeks gave attentive consideration to the suggestion of Michigan newspaper editors and finally called the special session that before it could be called to order the Michigan history of one of its most interesting chapters.

Alert to the serious situation of their readers, Michigan weekly publishers kept up the demand for legislative action and the annual newspaper convention was followed by the appointment of a special taxation committee consisting of George Averill of Birmingham as chairman, State Representative Vern Brown of Mason, State Representative Frank Brown of Bellevue and Editor Conlin. This committee in cooperation with the association advisory committee consisting of Earl H. Rich of Midland, Schuyler Marshall of St. Johns and Joseph Haas of Holly has twice conferred with Governor Brucker about the tax situation, the last conference being given over entirely to points in the Governor's message.

In this message the Governor has opened many avenues for the lawmakers to travel and it is believed that through the wide latitude he has given that some good will come from the session. Never before in Michigan history has its legislature been summoned together for the purpose of finding relief for an overburdened tax paying public.

Important subjects are given by the Governor for consideration by the legislature.

He lists the Unemployment question first. This he declares is not a state problem but one to be dealt with by cities, townships and counties. He recommends the broadening of the law pertaining to the issuance of "charity" bonds by these smaller government subdivisions so that they might have sufficient funds to take care of their unemployed.

Delinquent Taxes

For the relief of the property owners who are unable to meet their tax payments the special message asks the legislature to provide a legal way for tax payments to be made on the installment plan. Not only does he recommend installment payment of taxes but he asks the legislature to extend the period for the redemption of property upon which taxes have not been paid since 1927.

Banking

Numerous banks are recommended in his governing banks. The Governor recommends that banks which have been closed be permitted to reopen under a depositor's agreement signed by 85 percent of the depositors. This would prevent a total liquidation and reorganization plans of a number of banks now closed. The present provision makes it necessary that 95 percent of the depositors sign.

He would give the legislative bodies of school district, townships and villages the right to sign these depositor's agreements if necessary in order to open a closed bank where public funds are on deposit.

Another important change recommended is the transfer of bonded responsibility from township, village, city and school treasurers to the depositors which might be named by the proper legislative bodies of these smaller political units of the state.

It is also recommended that the state banking department's authority be broadened and that the state banking department be made to conform to the national banking laws which make possible a more reliable system for the liquidation of a closed bank.

CUT SALARIES OF TEACHERS 10 PER CENT

The board of education at the adjourned regular meeting held Wednesday, March 23, voted to reduce all salaries (superintendent, principals, teachers, and nurse) ten per cent. The board also voted to discontinue the hiring of married women for teachers.

Veterans Plan For Community Banquet For Few Hours For Northville April 6 Plymouth Veterans

Plymouth public and members of all ex-service men's organizations and Auxiliaries are invited to attend the second Community Banquet to be held at the Presbyterian church house, Northville, Wednesday April 6th at 8:30 p. m. A delicious dinner will be served flavored with music by Chick Miller's orchestra and a male quartette. Following this an instructive and entertaining program has been arranged with Jack R. C. Gann acting as toastmaster, including such speakers as Herbert McKinley, member of the Detroit News staff and State Chairman of the American Legion chapter welfare, Leslie Korgan of Bay City, State commander of the American Legion and Judge Joseph Gilles of the Commonwealth court, Detroit. The tickets are 75 cents and may be obtained by calling L. H. Alexander at the Branch bank, phone number 110.

Give some one a job! Maybe it isn't much work, just cleaning up your basement, carrying out ashes, fixing up the garage possibly a bit of repair work somewhere.

Look about your place and if you can find a few hours work—or a few days, advise the American Legion or the Ex-Service Men.

These veterans are making a diligent effort to provide work for many of the veterans who have not had employment for many months.

Take a little time to look around and see if you can't find some work, even for a few hours for some of these veterans who are anxious to work and cannot find employment.

It is published in this issue of the Mail a coupon that can be filled out and mailed either to the Plymouth Mail office or to any official of the veterans organizations of Plymouth.

You Can't Have More By Producing Less

An excellent contribution thought.

In these times of economic distress people generally are inclined to listen to propaganda which is intentionally being spread through the millionaire controlled syndicates, radio claims, etc.

Every time two men are placed on one job, as is now the practice, production is cut one-half. In instances where a husband or wife has been discharged because the other was working, it is simply an evidence of belief that by lessening production we will somehow awaken from our economic nightmare. To anyone who wishes to think clearly it will be perfectly evident that poverty such as we are experiencing in this country of passing hours would be funny if it were not so awful.

It is possible to produce in the United States comforts for all and luxuries for many, but unless capitalists are willing to take their profits in something besides gold, it is impossible, under our present organization, to supply clothing, food, or other produced goods and hence our depressions.

The need, at the present time, is not a curtailment of production in general but for capitalism to so arrange its system of distribution that those who need and would buy will have money with which to buy.

We do not produce comfort by having necessities and articles which give comfort, science, but comforts and luxuries will be within possession of all when industry so organizes itself as to enable those who are willing to work to receive an income sufficient to enable those who wish to buy to be able to do so.

There have been more by producing more and finding a way to live in the hands of those who buy through increased wages. We can never hope to have more by producing less.

FORD EIGHTS AT LOW PRICES

Expect to Have Cars For Delivery Here in Next Two Weeks

De Luxe Sedan	590
De Luxe Sedan	645
Convertible Sedan	670
Chassis	350

The price of the new 8 cylinder car is somewhat lower than the prevailing prices for the present four cylinder car.

The new four cylinder car prices range an average of $50 lower on all models than have been fixed for the new eight.

Plymouth representatives of the Ford company who have been down to Highland Park to see the new line of cars, are high in their praise of the general appearance of the car.

While orders are being taken, delivery is not expected for ten days or two weeks.

As preparations have gone forward on the new models about 10,000 have been recalled. As production increases, the probability is that instead of hiring more the company will reorganize the factory system, moving them on a four-day schedule up to a full week, and those on three days up to four, and finally into the full time group.

Production figures were unobtainable Wednesday and will not be known until the figures of the 33 assembly plants throughout the country are in hand.

The V-8 has been in Henry Ford's mind for some years, although it is said that up to three months ago he did not think the country was "ripe" for it. Some 40,000 cars of the new Model A had been turned out by the time the V-8 was first overnight, decided to go ahead with the new engine.

Most of the designing of it was done in the old Thomas A. Edison laboratory brought up from Ford Myers, Fla., to become part of the Greenfield Village, and used for 40 years by the wizard of Menlo Park. When the staff working on the engine was at lunch or in the Dearborn laboratory and it was decided to go over to the Village to resume work on the Eight, it became a habit to say, "Let's get back to Ford Myers."

From the beginning the color Ford took an interest he had not shown probably since the days when he was bringing into the world his first engine.

Over 10,000 Patrons Of Branch Libraries

During the week of March 7-13 a survey was made of readers using the branches of the Wayne County Library, both those coming in to borrow books and those doing reference work. The count showed that over 10,000 patrons were in the following ten branches in the following ten days: Dearborn, East River, Allen Park, Ecorse, Flat Rock, Garden City, Gosport, Inkster, Melvindale, Plymouth, South Ecorse, Trenton, and Wayne. The ten thousand counted shows the large use made of the libraries. As the week when a count was kept, was one really disagreeable cold week of the year.

Sunday, March 20, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Collins, Miss Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eldred and daughter, Onales, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hinson, Mrs. Reka Mining, Jean Mining and Lucille, journeyed to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Robson's at Belleville to help Mrs. Robson celebrate her birthday. A delicious cooperative dinner was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Robson was presented with a lovely bouquet of snapdragons.

English prisoners made war on officials because they got no sugar. Over here, officials make war on criminals for the same reason.

GRADING FOR NEW PARKWAY

Excellent Progress Being Made On Extensive Improvement

Remarkable progress is being made by workmen on the grading for the new parkway paved road that will be built this year from the Plymouth-Highland park entrance to the Center street road in Northville just south of the fair grounds.

The fill that was required for the roadway from the Plymouth-Detroit road to the Pere Marquette tracks directly north of the park entrance has been completed. The opening for the subway under the railroad has been made and as soon as weather conditions will permit, the construction of the concrete abutments will be started. It is anticipated that this grade separation will have been completely finished by June 30.

During the past few days men have started filling for the roadway between the Northville-Plymouth road and the new bridge that crosses the Rouge river some 800 feet to the west. Much of the roadway from this point through the woods and along the Rouge river to a point back of the Ford Phoenix plant has been graded. There is also being made at the present time a fill back of the Phoenix plant across the low marsh. To prevent possible future sinking of the roadway at this point, big steam shovels have excavated the soft marsh earth down to the clay hardpan and as a result, many hundred loads of filling earth are being required to fill this place.

As a temporary provision and to do away with the necessity of constructing another grade separation this year, the county has decided to connect the new road up with the present paved highway just north of the Phoenix Ford plant. Traffic from this point will use the old highway to a place just south of the old Meads-Mills road where it will swing onto the new park thoroughfare that follows along the river away to the fair grounds in Northville.

To prevent also the necessity of building two bridges over the Rouge river at Meads Mills, the course of the river was recently changed for a distance of nearly 500 feet. The grading from this place along the river to the Six Mile road, then across the bridge back of the Case Benton park in Northville, was completed early in the winter.

That the county anticipates paying much of this thoroughfare early in the summer is evident from the fact that considerable construction material is being placed along the new roadway.

This improvement has provided later for thousands of men making the winter months who would have required public charity if it had not been for this work. In fact much of the improvement has been made in order to give needy men employment. It is stated that it is for the same purpose that the county is planning on doing considerable more work on the parkway this year than had formerly been intended.

Many From Plymouth Tuesday Make Visit Through Big Prison

Representatives of numerous Plymouth churches and the Boy Scout organizations Tuesday afternoon had the pleasure of visiting Jackson prison and seeing much of the world's biggest penal institution. The trip was arranged through the efforts of Officer Charles Thumme who served as a guard there for four years.

Considerably over 3,000 men are now confined in Jackson prison. The Plymouth visitors had an opportunity to see some of the prison industries in operation and to note the great care exercised by the state to prevent prison escapes.

Several changes have taken place in the industrial expansion of the old prison since the abolition of the contract system in 1912, the visitors were told. There are five industries now in operation at the old institution, i. e. the monument shop, brush shop, binder twine mill, metal stamping and engine plants.

The manufacturing process of the monument shop is to shape and letter memorials from rough granite. The very best grade of granite is used and the highest degree of workmanship is maintained.

A diversified line of brushes are manufactured in the brush shop. The materials that go to make up these brushes are secured from many parts of the United States as well as foreign countries. They are all hand made and manufactured in such quantities as to meet the requirements of all institutional needs.

An average of eight million pounds of binder twine are produced in our binder twine mill annually and sold throughout the mid western states. The twine plant has been in continuous operation since its introduction as a prison industry in 1907. It has proven to be our largest and most profitable industrial undertaking and furnishes work to a large number of inmates confined in the old prison.

Next in importance to the twine mill is our metal stamping plant. This industry manufactures automobile license plates, highway traffic and various other signs used for state purposes. Steel combination cabinets and workbooks are also manufactured for the state institutional requirements.

An ornamental plant is operated in conjunction with the stamp plant where all products are scientifically treated and finished with the finest points and emeralds obtainable.

Dr. Luther Peck Is Named On Reception For Big Convention

Dr. Luther Peck, active in the affairs of the Plymouth Kiwanis club since its organization and a past president of the local organization, has just been named of his appointment by Kiwanis International as a member of the reception committee that will serve during the sixteenth annual international convention to be held in Detroit June 26 to 30.

The appointment comes from President William O. Harris, of Los Angeles, California.

Joe DeLeon of Detroit, with offices in Hotel Statler, is general chairman of arrangements for the convention which will bring to Detroit delegates from all parts of the world.

The appointment of Dr. Peck as a member of the reception committee is a high honor and a sign of the esteem in which he is held by the Kiwanis International.

Dr. Peck is a member of the Plymouth Kiwanis club and has been a member of the club since its organization in 1912. He is a member of the Plymouth Kiwanis club and has been a member of the club since its organization in 1912.

Miss Nichol Named To College Board

Miss Catherine Nichol, of Plymouth, has recently been elected one of the representatives of the Junior class on the administrative board of the Women's Self Government Association of Wooster College.

The members of the administrative board, together with the faculty and the board, make up the Council of the association. The purpose of the Council is to enact and enforce laws for the government of the women of the college and to promote a high sense of honor and cooperation among the students. The direction of a social program for the women is also included in the activities of the Council.

REGISTRATION FOR TOWNSHIPS

That North township, along with other townships in the state, will have to provide for some form of permanent reorganization, is imperative under the new Michigan laws passed by the 1929 state legislature. Sec. 45 of Act 200, Public Act 1929, provides for the permanent reorganization of townships in all municipalities and townships throughout Michigan having a population of 5,000 or over.

Legal requirements for the adoption of some system of reorganization state that such adoption be made before May 1, 1932. Miss Walker, township clerk, said this week. Altogether there are 10 townships, approved by the state one of which must be adopted by Nankin township, Mr. Walker said. Many of these systems already have been presented to Mr. Walker for the consideration by township officials, but as yet, no action has been taken by officials in selecting one which would fulfill the needs of this township.

Plymouth Grange Has Interesting Event

On March 17th Plymouth Grange had a packed dinner at one o'clock. The table decorations and some of the dishes followed the green color scheme.

The program was of a St. Patrick's Day character. Roll call was responded to by Irish jokes. Judge, the applause, J. F. Root's took first place. A quartette sang "The Wearing of the Green" by Dion Bonham, an Irish poet and dramatist who was born in 1829 and died in 1890.

Kenneth Green, accompanied by Miss Carson at the piano played several selections which were very much enjoyed by all. Other gave Irish selections including a brief account of the life of St. Patrick who was not of Irish descent nor was he born in Ireland. However he spent 3 years there as a missionary and was so successful in his work that Irish people adopted him as their patron saint.

On April 7 there will be a pot luck dinner at one o'clock followed by the regular meeting. Do not forget to share in the program.

WILL ROGERS RIGHT

Writing in his special column a few days ago, Will Rogers said: "The crime of taxation is not in the taking it, it's in the way that it's spent." Mr. Rogers could have written an entire column on taxation and he could not have made more clear the reason for the present general uprising against the administration of public affairs.

RIDING THE STORM

There have been more indications that business has turned for the better in recent weeks than we have had for over a year. Not only are the indications of a brighter aspect but the sentiment of the people seems to be of a more optimistic nature. With congress and the legislature both in session trying to do something for Mr. Average Citizen maybe before the summer is over we will again be back on our feet, plunging ahead as strong as ever. There really hasn't been anything the matter, except that during the past few years we have over-indulged. In fact before the war the scribe was not a pound over-weight.

AN EXCELLENT SELECTION

It was a very thoughtful action taken by the newly created commission at its recent organization meeting in electing William J. Burrows as chairman of that group. Mr. Burrows has been a resident of Plymouth for a great number of years and during that period he has always taken a keen interest in municipal affairs. He has served many times as village president and on the village council. He was a member of the charter commission that helped draft the present excellent charter for the village. In speaking of charters, due to the excellent work of the commission that drafted the charter for the present village organization, it did such a good job that the new commission will find that its chief work will be in doing the few things that are necessary to transfer the village form of government into the city form. As stated in the Mail last week, the community is indeed fortunate when its most active citizens will give their time to a consideration of local problems. The Mail with hundreds of others extends to Mr. Burrows its congratulations.

BETTER THAN EVER

Plymouth's third annual Home Exposition will be over tomorrow and to the credit of the Chamber of Commerce and the committee that had charge of the affair, the event was a far greater success than the other two that were given. It was a real event and reflects high credit upon a community. The attendance was excellent and much good came from it. It is not too early to predict that next year's exposition, judging from the interest of this year will be a far greater success. The Chamber of Commerce committee has announced that it will start earlier on its plans and will take more time to develop exhibits. The exhibits this year were excellent ones and those from the three nearby institutions were indeed interesting. Now is the time to start work on next year's Exposition and make it the outstanding event of the year.

PASTORS AND PATRIOTISM

How big a claim does our country have on us? How far should we go in sacrificing our own opinions for the benefit of all?

A recent convention of Protestant church pastors in the state of Ohio adopted this resolution:

"We shall never again sanction or participate in any war. We shall not use our classrooms or pulpits as recruiting stations. We deplore the action of making military service, against conscience, a test of citizenship, and military training in college a requirement."

These are pretty strong words. In time of national trouble we should call them treason. Even in times of peace they seem unpatriotic to say the least.

There come times in the life of every nation when the public welfare demands the sacrifice of personal opinion. War is one of these periods. To say in advance that public welfare can go hang, that personal wish is greater than the public weal, is not true Americanism. It smacks too much of complicated pacifism. It spins a fine theory, but utterly disregards facts.

DISCOURAGING PRIVATE BUSINESS

It matters not on which side of the political fence one happens to find himself, if he be at all reasonable he must admit that whenever the government, using the taxpayers' funds, enters into competition with its own people it is likely to be discouraging to the development of private enterprise.

There are some public matters which the average citizen should just as easily discern as the problems of "two plus two equals four."

The matter of governmental subsidization of business, in whatever form it shows itself, should be equally intelligible to the average workaday citizen as it is thoroughly understood and properly evaluated by the thorough student of public affairs.

Governmental operation of the railroads during the war was a most glaring illustration of "inefficiency run wild." The annual postal deficit, running well above the ten-million-dollar mark, would not be countenanced by any private corporation. Everybody's money, like everybody's business, is nobody's.

Entirely too much paternalism has already been allowed to insidiously creep into our administrative structure. And paternalism is a half-sister to socialism and communism. Upward of a half hundred various commodities and types of service, from envelope printing to manufacturing ice, are being fostered and financed under one guise or another by the federal government.

Let us, tell our senators and congressmen in no uncertain terms exactly what we think of this growing tendency of self-seeking scoundrels to hide economic inefficiency under the transparent cloak of governmental paternalism.—George Richard Desch, Editorial writer, Republican, Santa Rosa, California.

OF COURSE THE PEOPLE ARE SHOUTING 'EXTRAVAGANCE!'

In 1916, the ordinary expenses of the Federal Government were $742,000,000. In the current year they are in round numbers $4,000,000,000, or 5 1/2 times as much, and the people are shouting "Extravagance!"

What has happened meanwhile? A war has happened; and this is what the war has done to the annual budget of the Government, and the pockets of the taxpayers:

It has swollen the interest on the public debt from $23,000,000 to $640,000,000. It has increased the fund for redeeming the public debt from practically nothing to $497,000,000. It costs us this year some $1,100,000,000 more to carry the debt than it did in 1916.

In 1916 the pension bill was $160,000,000. This year the Veterans' Administration is costing $1,072,000,000. Again, the war.

The War and Navy Departments are down today for $767,000,000. In 1916 they cost the country $337,000,000.

The postal deficiency in 1916 was $5,500,000. For the fiscal year 1932 it is budgeted at $155,000,000.

Three-quarters of the budget is earmarked to pay the expense of past wars, and for preparation for possible future wars. All other services are costing about a billion dollars. But that figure is five times what it was in 1916.

Where is this billion dollars going? A large amount is going to the Department of Agriculture, whose expenses have increased from $25,000,000 to $197,000,000. The District of Columbia is costing the Government $47,000,000 instead of $13,000,000. The Treasury Department, which spent $97,000,000 in 1916, is carried in the next budget at $294,000,000, due partly to the increased building program. The Department of Commerce expenses have grown from $11,000,000 to $45,000,000. Judicial expenditures have increased from less than $11,000,000 to $54,000,000. In the face of these huge increases, the cost of the legislative establishment has grown only from $14,000,000 to $22,000,000, and of the executive office from $39,740 to $429,380.

Economize! Yes, but where? The figures give the answer. The debt charges can not be cut. Relief for veterans will not be cut. But the departments can and should be cut. Why pay twice as much for the Army and Navy as we were paying when all Europe was in flames? Why maintain a lot of departmental and independent bureaus chiefly for the sake of job-holders? Congress has begun to inquire into the necessity of many of them; it should make that scrutiny hard and earnest, since they are its creations. Let Congress see that we get our money's worth for every dollar we pay; and where we are not getting it, let the appropriation be eliminated, no matter whose head falls into the basket.—The Detroit News.

ALWAYS ALERT

No matter what else may be said about Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, he has done more for conservation in America than any other man with the possible exception of Theodore Roosevelt. Governor Pinchot is just now active in trying to block a scheme which would do much, he declares, to offset the good work that has been done. A letter he has addressed to the newspapers of the country thoroughly presents the problem. It follows in full:

A most dangerous attack on the Roosevelt's conservation policy is now under way in Washington. For more than a generation we have been fighting to save the forests, the minerals, the lands, and the waters of the public domain for all the people of the United States, and great progress has been made. We are likely to lose a very large part of it if the Evans Bill (H. R. 5840) goes through.

This Bill puts the National Forests at the mercy of a board of five politically appointed men in each State which still has 400,000 acres of public land. Each board, at its own sweet will, with no public hearings, no public notice, no publicity by advertisement or otherwise, no investigation or study on the ground, no review by any authority, and no cooperation with any other board, is authorized secretly to throw out of the National Forests any land it may choose to decide is not chiefly valuable for forest purposes.

This is about as bad as it could be. The National Forests belong to all the people of all the States. They are immensely valuable. Their timber and other resources are worth billions. If the Bill passes, these boards will turn large parts of them over to individual States, and open the way for exploitation by selfish private interests.

Our National Forests were selected after many years of thorough-going investigation on the ground by trained men. The proposed boards are not required to include trained men and are given no money to employ them. Not a cent is appropriated for investigation of any kind, and there is no requirement that any investigation shall be made. The only information the boards are likely to get will come from people with an axe to grind.

For forty years National Forest lands have been included or excluded only by Presidential proclamation or Congressional action. There can be no good reason why that policy should be changed. Yet this Bill gives the boards, not the President or congress, the unrestricted power to decide what lands shall or shall not be included in National Forests.

Most significant of all, the boards are required to do their work within a single year after the passage of the Bill, which means within less than a year after the boards can be organized. In that brief time they are required to decide the fate of a total area of National Forest land larger than all new England and the Middle States, with Virginia added.

In addition, and within the same ridiculously insufficient time, they are required to pass upon innumerable military reservations, reservoir sites, power sites, and other similar reservations and withdrawals, and upon 170,000,000 acres of unreserved public lands. The total area whose fate they are authorized or required to decide in secret within less than a single year is as large as all the Atlantic Seaboard and Gulf States from Maine to Louisiana. They could not do it intelligently, and in the public interest if they were all supermen, and they are far from likely to be that.

With this vast area, whose resources are of paramount importance to the people of the United States, these star chamber boards are authorized to play ducks and drakes. By their mere say-so they can undo the work of thousands of trained men throughout a generation, and cripple the whole Federal policy of conservation.

When Secretary Fall made his notorious attempt to give away to private interests the oil reserves set aside for our Navy, he got as far as he did only because of exactly the same kind of secrecy which is provided in this Bill.

Public business ought to be done in the open. Any open attack upon our National Forests will have small chance of success. This Bill opens the way for a secret attack, and that is why it is so dangerous.

The Bill has other faults, but the foregoing are enough to condemn it. There is, however, one more that should be mentioned, for it would reduce the future allotment of Federal money for roads to the States which do not have 400,000 acres of public lands.

The States to which the Federal resources are to be handed over by this Bill are now allotted a larger portion of Federal road funds in consideration of the Government lands within their boundaries. This Bill provides that they shall go on drawing the same extra allotments, thus reducing the allotments of the other States, for ten years after the Federal lands are handed over to them. The bill will give them both the lands and the extra allotment, which is altogether unfair.

The Governor has given to the state legislature his message. The message has been supplemented by bills covering all the subjects he opened for consideration. What he said in the message doesn't count. What he had put in the bills DOES count. We shall know in the next few days what his REAL program for saving taxes really is.

Work and Visualize

Edison, perhaps our greatest visualizer, said that his attainments were due to 1 per cent inspiration and 99 per cent perspiration. But as we all know many common laborers use up as much perspiration as Edison and only eke out a miserable existence.

Many psychologists say that the average success is due to 10 per cent talent and 90 per cent hard work. But if work were King then China and Japan, where the people still work long hours, would be far in advance of many of the less hard working nations. So man's great stride past the animal kingdom is beyond doubt due to his ability to see ahead. We commonly say of an ignorant person that he "cannot see any further than the end of his nose."

Therefore visualization must make the model or lay the track upon which the wheels of industry must roll. It must be the strongest link as well as the most important step in man's upward climb to attainment. Having conceded this, let us ask this question: From where does visualization arise? The answer is that it arises from man's instincts but is directed by his intellect and experience.

Who Was He?

The color of the ground was in him, the red earth;
 The tinge and odor of the primal things—
 The rectitude and patience of the rocks;
 The gladness of the wind that shakes the corn;
 The courage of the bird that darts the sea;
 The justice of the rain that loves all leaves;
 The pity of the snow that hides all scars;
 The loving kindness of the wax-side well;
 The tolerance and equity of light that gives us freely to
 The shining wood as to the great oak flaring to the wind—
 The grave's low bill as to the Matherhorn,
 That shoulders out the sky.

And so he came
 From prairie cabin to the Capitol,
 One fair ideal led our chieftain on,
 Furthermore, he burned to do his deed
 With the fine stroke and gesture of a king;
 He built the rail pile as he built the State,
 Pouring his splendid strength
 Through every blow.
 The conscience of him testing every stroke
 To make his deed the measure of a man.

So came the captain, with his mighty heart,
 And when the step of earthquake shook the house,
 Wrenching the rafters from their ancient hold,
 He held the ridge pole up and spiked again
 The rafters of the home. He held his place—
 Hold the long purpose like a growing tree.
 Held on through blame and falter—
 ed not at prayer,
 And when he fell in whirlwind he went down
 As when a kindly cedar, green with boughs,
 Tosses down with a great shout upon the hills
 And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

Gems of Thought

A friend that you have to buy won't be worth what you pay for him, no matter what that may be.—George D. Prentice.

Woe to the man that first did touch the cursed steel to bite his own flesh, and make way to the living spirit.—Spenser.

Such as thy words are, such will thy affections be esteemed; and such will thy deeds be as thy affections; and such thy life as thy deeds.—Socrates.

Society is a more level surface than we imagine. Wise men or absolute fools are hard to be met with; and there are few giants or dwarfs. Hazlitt.

Grill upon the conscience, like rust upon iron, both defiles and consumes it, gnawing and creeping into it, as that does which at last eats out the very heart and substance of the metal. South.

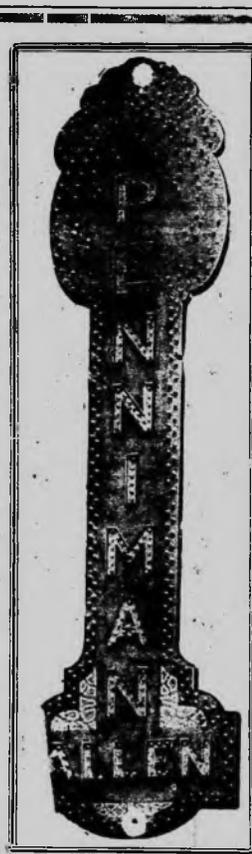

The palm tree grows beneath a ponderous weight, and even so the character of man.—The petty pang of small daily cares have often bent the character of men, but great misfortunes seldom.—Kossuth.

A Prayer

O Thou who art absolutely pure, breathe into our souls a love for Thee, for one another, and for mankind. Thou who art marvelous in mercy, in patience, and in long suffering for our sake give us a deeper insight into Thy holy nature. If any are adverse to one another, be their friend; if the shades of trouble are about, be their light; if others are stingy of their joys, be our comforter; if there is no compass to direct the way, be their leader. Bless us abundantly that our souls may be rich in God. Do Thou answer every longing for knowledge, every yearning for wisdom, and all that springs forth from hearts overflowing with love. So direct us in the labors of this day that we shall not look back upon it with any vain regret. Through Christ our Saviour.

Your Reward

You will receive from life in dividends, happiness and otherwise just what you put in through work and honesty of purpose.

A FREE FERRY?

A movement has been started through the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau for free ferry service at the straits. The question has been agitated before, but not, so far as this writer knows, by this body which is supposed to speak with some degree of authority in matters affecting the upper peninsula.

The state service at the straits was a success from the first year of its inauguration. The one little boat put into service in 1922 has been displaced by three larger boats, with schedules arranged to accommodate traffic. Always the state has maintained a high type of service, seeking every reasonable means to make the trip pleasant for the traveler. And best of all, the service has been rendered at a profit, the earnings taking care of the capital investment as well as the running expenses.

There is no doubt but that free service would bring more people into the upper peninsula. Also it is no more unreasonable to provide free passage there than it is across bridges built at heavy state expense. The one danger is that free service will induce many to cross with no particular objective other than the trip, delaying others whose travel is entirely proper. This phase of the question needs to be studied further. Hasty action might easily do more harm than good. Perhaps the answer is for lower rates—Joseph Sturgeon in The Gladstone Reporter.

FARM LAND VALUES

A township treasurer called at attention the other day to a certain school district in his township where most of the farm property is being sold for taxes this spring. The picture he painted of unprofitable and untenanted farm lands is not a pleasant one. But a trip down Woodward avenue and off on its side streets will convince the most skeptical there are worse farms of investment than land. Among them are hotels, apartment houses, office buildings, and retail buildings in a city which has overbuilt itself.—Vern Brown in The Ingham County News.

SOAK 'EM

"Soak the Rich" is now the slogan of the majority in congress. But, just a minute, who is going to put up all the cash for "campaign expenses" if the rich have to pay out all their money in taxes? And how can Truth, Justice and Right prevail if there's no dough to hire brass bands, open campaign headquarters and fill the mail full of printed holocaust? How can the eminent statesman view with alarm and point with pride if there's no coin to pay for railroad tickets or gasoline for the auto? Go ahead, congress, soak the rich and see if we care; kill the goose that lays the golden egg.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

TROUBLE CAUSE

The system of delegating to school superintendents full authority to hire and dismiss teachers, and refusing teachers direct access to the school board in the case of any and all misunderstandings that may arise while it relieves the board of much inconsequential detail, is pretty sure to lead to trouble in the long run. Like most rules, this one should have exceptions. Where conditions arise which involve the retention of a teacher, the board should be sitting in the interests of fair play, to hear both sides. G. S. Rowe in The Millford Times.

CURSES

Ever have trouble with your windshield wiper? Coming home on some dark and stormy night did it fail to clean the glass to give you proper vision for safe driving? Have you ever been forced to seek service frequently or get out in the rain to bend it into position? Possibly you may have been the victim of a traffic accident from this very cause. Two serious accidents have been recently reported where it is stated the wiper was bent so the driver could not see through his windshield.

If these things happen to you, it is a safe bet they were caused by some hill peddler who lifted your wiper to stoke a dodger under it. You probably cursed the advertiser who did it and if you later had trouble you cursed him again. An good results from such advertising is more than offset by the ill will created by the practice. In many cities ordinances have been adopted, imposing severe penalties upon violators who persist in the practice.—Vern Brown in The Ingham County News.

SCHOOL NOTES

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

In Mrs. Carpenter's room Janet Mitchell, Wesley McCartney and Marjau Oldenberg can count to fifty. This room won the Thrift banner again last week.

Groups one and two did very well in the "Word Tests" given them as there were no failures and several received one hundred percent for knowing all the forty words. In silent reading seat work the children are reading questions and drawing rings around the right answer to test comprehension and retention of the facts in the story. They are also cutting apart sentences and pasting them in the right place to test ability to classify sentences under headings. In handwork they made Easter cards for their mothers and large Easter rabbits with pretty checkered jackets. They also made very pretty Easter baskets for their party, hoping the rabbit will see them when he visits. Mrs. Henry Baker, Mrs. Robert Fletcher and Mrs. Stanley Hart were recent visitors in this room. The children are working hard on their penmanship papers.

The pupils in Miss Mitchell's room have talked about Easter and have heard many Easter stories. They colored and cut out pictures of Mrs. Bunny Rabbit. In the second B class they have had many number games, or drill. They enjoy the work in their "Work and Play in Numberland" books.

Both grades under Mrs. Alban have been working on their final penmanship papers. For handwork they have made bunny and his basket, chicks and its broken egg, bunny and the egg shot, and some rocking rabbits. Iris Dewitt, Margaret Jean Nichol, Kathryn Vatiek, Jo Ann Gorton, Alan Candell, Beth Ann Hubeisel, Jack Kenyon, Noel Haver and Bobby Johns were on the honor roll last month. Mrs. Kenyon, Mrs. Keefer, and Mrs. Haver were visitors in this room last week.

The pupils in Miss Wetherhead's room are also working on their penmanship papers. Mrs. Bird has marked sixteen sets of penmanship papers. D. K. for the Palmer Method Pin and three sets of D. K. for the Merit Pin group. One of their B grade have finished their Peter and Polly books and have started the Elson third grade reader. Wilbur Mant brought a lovely geranium to class last week to put on the desk.

The pupils in Mrs. Wilcox's room have finished their Dot and David readers and are starting the Peter and Polly readers. Kenneth Burk was the winner of the B class spell down in Miss Dixon's room while Kenneth Wright was the winner in the A class. Wallace Whipple entered this room from Starkweather last week. Mrs. James Sessons and Mrs. William Keefer were recent visitors in this room.

Ann Johnson won the spell down given to the B class by Miss Field last week and Danial Oliver was the winner in an arithmetic down in the B class. The four A class have been making maps of the South Central states.

Edith and Fred Whipple have entered Mrs. Holliday's room from Starkweather and Rex Berger has entered from Fordson.

In Miss Penner's room the following are entering the spelling book. From the sixth grade class are Dorothy O'Leary, Paul Thomas, Mary Katherine Moon, Doris Shellenbarker, Lorence Smith, and Betty Mastick. From the fifth grade are Glenn Kaiser, Ormand Tennant, Billy McAllister, Lillian Holutz, Cletus Pelkey and Earl Beckwith.

The pupils in Mrs. Atkinson's room made booklets on China, Japan and India last week. Ninety-seven and one-half percent of the room for canned pears, to quote: "Buy Henkel's brand and you'll never buy another." I suppose this one is pertinent for there is a White Tower hamburger grill on Grand River just three doors from a dog and cat hospital, and immediately upon entering, one is confronted by the placard, "We grind our own meat. All in all it's nothing if not disconcerting, and I was told by the proprietor that he sold more pie than any other White Tower in Detroit. Clifton Sackow—32

Howing to the great white prophet and being constantly reminded of the Allah! Allah! seven new members were initiated into the Commercial club last Tuesday night at Annabelle Hauk's home at the first party of this semester. Laughs were frequent and plentiful and several games were enjoyed. Besides these the new members went through a routine of initiation. Clifton Sackow was chairman of that committee and the results furnished many laughs. Harlow's would be held in the near future. The new members initiated were Amy Evers, Carol Kaiser, Jack Gilles, Matthew McLellan, Bob Champ, Ernest Archer, and DeWard Taylor.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON ASSEMBLY

A motion picture was shown last Tuesday afternoon in a special assembly through the courtesy of the Eastman Kodak Company. The picture dealt with the life of Washington and showed many interesting things which influenced the character of the first president of the United States.

Everyone thought the scenes showing Washington going to school in a rowboat, dealing with the army on various occasions, meeting Martha Curtis, and taking the oath of presidents office were very interesting. All the important happenings of Washington's life were not shown, but only those which gave a clearer knowledge of his character.

The pictures of Washington crossing the Delaware, at Valley Forge, and taking the oath of office were instructive, and made Washington seem more like a human being to the students.

Alexander Hamilton was prominent at the meeting of Washington's cabinet, and it looked as if there was an argument.

If the students could have heard the various people talk it would have been fine, but nevertheless they enjoyed the picture very much, and received a finer, truer picture of George Washington's life and character.

Experience is a dear teacher, and we are never too old to learn.

This will be a Tom Thumb golf course year for many Presidential homes.

Newburg

A large number of people were in attendance at the Easter service, Rev. Frank Purdy took for his text John 11:44. The Young People's choir under the direction of Mrs. Purdy accompanied on the piano by Miss Joy McNabb sang two beautiful Easter anthems.

The Easter program given by the Sunday school was very well rendered, under the supervision of the Superintendent, Mrs. McNabb, 112 being present. Altogether it was a happy occasion.

Bob Holmes and Don Ryder go to the Robinson subdivision every Sunday bringing a number of people and children to church and Sunday school.

The Boy Scouts had their meeting Thursday night, March 24, in the Newburg school house at 7:00. Most of the time was used for passing test. About 15 boys were present. The two patrols, Flying Eagles and Stags, are having a paper raid. Get all of your old papers or magazines together and if the scouts do not call on you, please notify Marshall Purdy or Charles Thompson and they will see that your papers are collected. The papers will be sold and the patrol making the most money will be entertained by the losing patrol.

Miss Ada Youngs and brother, Ed were called to Kingston last Friday afternoon on account of the illness of their aunt, Kate Youngs. Newton Youngs and sister, Anna, motored there Sunday morning bringing their aunt back with them.

Clark Mackender accompanied Mr. and Mrs. James Norris of Strassmore to spend Easter with his son, Vern and family at Grand Rapids.

Mr. Hahbargar who came from Oregon recently to visit his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Halm, is leaving this week to visit relatives in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willson, daughter, Loretta and son, Marvin spent Easter Sunday with the latter's sister at Armada.

E. A. Paddock and sons, Charles and Dwight had Easter dinner at the Ryder homestead.

Mrs. Jesse Jephell was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holmes.

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of our wife and mother, Minnie Blunk, who passed away one year ago April 1, 1931. Often as we watched her there from our lips there fell this prayer: "God give us the pain to bear! Let us suffer in her place. Soothe her with thy holy grace." Then the angels came, and they took her lovely soul away From the torture house of clay, As we'd prayed, they brought release, Smoothed her brow with gentle peace, But our pain shall never cease. Lovingly now her life shall be safe through all eternity. Always beautiful to see: Now the pain is ours to know, But we prayed to bear this blow That she need not suffer so. William A. Blunk and family. Proper signs have been furnished all officers by the Conservation Department. These signs will be posted around the temporary refuges, at the shore and docks and at nearby boat landings. The signs will be removed and the areas declared open to fishing as soon as the fish have completed their spawning.

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of our dear father, Isaac Smith, who died one year ago today, April 3, 1931. Dearest be thy rest, dear father. It is sweet to breathe thy name. In life we loved you dearly. In death we do the same. There is one who still will linger. At the spot where you are laid. Who will come and scatter flowers In the grave that Christ has made. His lonely children. (Too late to classify) FOR SALE—40 acres Lake County Mich. Near Cadillac, will take small house lot, or small farm Southeastern, Mich. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES OF INTEREST

This is addressed to the man in overalls—behind the grocery counter and in the cab of a motor truck—everyone known as a working man. It is addressed especially to that man who says: "I don't pay income taxes why should I worry?"

The reason you should worry is that those whose job it is to provide you with employment and who do pay income taxes are being gradually driven out of business by government competition and federal taxes. You read perhaps of the great new government office building in Washington with 5,000 windows, or you join with others in celebrating the opening of a new $1,000,000 postoffice in your town. Without realizing it you are applauding the spread of a system, or in more modern language, a racket which is slowly but surely going to put all private institutions out of business and eventually kill your job.

Log Rollers
How is this being done? Kansas City needs a new postoffice, but does congress vote the construction of that building solely on a basis of the needs of Kansas City? No, indeed. Votes for a postoffice in Kansas City are only obtained by the Missouri congressman agreeing to vote for an unnecessary postoffice in Tennessee where some other congressman has an axe to grind and jobs to provide. Eventually the postoffice in Kansas City is built, but simultaneously congress appropriates an equal number of millions for other projects which are not needed. Who pays? The man who provides your salary or your wages.

Washington celebrates the opening of the largest office building in the world (the new $17,500,000 Department of Commerce Building) situated, ironically enough, opposite the bureau of internal revenue, that collects income taxes. Does anybody question whether such a building is needed? Does anybody question whether the department of commerce is spending wisely the money already appropriated for it?

Do you realize—just as a typical institution—that this very department of commerce is going to spend $45,000,000 this year—is sending out millions upon millions of circulars, books, letters, etc., by franked mail, the great majority of which is thrown into the waste basket?

Have you any idea of the cost of preparing these millions of government publications? Can you visualize 24,000 employees in the commerce department alone—living on the taxes you and your employer pay?

The scientific waste in the commerce department is rapidly being duplicated in the department of agriculture and in the labor department. Similar armies of parasites are growing in other Washington bureaus day by day. It is proposed to spend in the present fiscal year $103,642,050 in the judicial, law enforcement and regulatory commission, which include prohibition, against $91,337,755 last year, while in the all-important currency and banking division, with 8,000 failed banks in the United States, and where added expenditures would be most helpful, the budget has been cut down $600,000.

In the postal department there will be an estimated deficit of $135,000,000. Do you believe for a minute that the deficit need be $158,000,000 if the government bureaus, commissions, congressmen and others were required to eliminate the tons upon tons of useless mail sent free? Are you willing to pay higher postage rates in the face of this waste?

By the official statement of the government printing office, nearly four billion pieces of printed matter were turned out in 1930; yet the government printer acknowledges the receipt of only $215,000 from the sale of such publications. Is this efficiency?

Privilege
The impudently assistant secretary of commerce, Dr. Klein, who beguiles the public over the radio with tales of the usefulness of government publications and other "bedtime stories," as his talks have been dubbed, is given free use of facilities which the broadcasting companies would charge private business about $3,000 a week for. This is at the rate of $150,000 a year. Eventually the cost comes out of somebody's pocket.

The department of commerce controls the radio—the radio companies furnish the departments of commerce with free broadcasting facilities. What is the difference, as a matter of principal, between free radio service to bureaucrats and passes on the railroads for legislators which were abolished years ago?

Competition
The government uses part of the taxes paid by the railroads to build competing highway and water lines. It used 500 millions of the people's tax money to help the farmers by trying to stabilize the price of wheat. What is the result? The laws of supply and demand kept right on operating; the price of wheat is right down to the figure which it undoubtedly would have reached even without this huge waste of money. Who profited? Certainly not the farmer, your employer or yourself.

The department of agriculture is even putting out calendars—suppose you happen to be working for a calendar manufacturer—perhaps have spent your life working up—bare a home half paid for. Along comes the government (using the taxes you employer pays) and now begins to compete unfairly with him by selling calendars below his cost. Is your job in danger?

The foregoing are but a few of the many activities in which the government—using the taxes you pay—under the guise of aiding industry and agriculture or regulating competition, is driving private enterprise out and building a huge political army in its place. Before the collapse of 1929 few were aware of the weight of this drag on the taxpayer, but now that the pickings are slim, a double danger arises:

First—the government wants more taxes.

Second—because of the depression, huge losses and government competition in business, the taxpayers have little or nothing with which to pay.

Third—if the government tries to cover its deficit by issuing more government bonds, the price of government bonds will go down still further.

The sure loss with you, Mr. Workman! These surplus government employees—these unnecessary government taxes—this unwarranted competition of government with private business—is exactly like taking into your home a star boarder who contributes nothing to his keep—does no work around the house—pays no taxes, and yet who goes out and competes with you for your job.

Will you, when congress regards as not interested in government, take action and throw that boarder out?

Write your sentiments across the bottom of this page. Return it to us. We will send it to your congressman. The country is still rich, but the day that congress balances the national budget by cutting down needless expenses—that day and not until then—will the depression begin to wane.

"The fewer jobs in Washington, the more jobs at home."

 "Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 27.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 21:1): "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea." A Corollary passage read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 573): "This testimony of Holy Writ sustains the fact in Science, that the heavens and earth to one human consciousness, that consciousness which God bestows, are spiritual, while to another, the unillumined human mind, the visible material."

Catholic Notes
 The Easter services held in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church were a real inspiration for all; and joy must have come to hearts of the large congregation that was present. A solemn high mass was offered up by the Rev. F. C. Lefevre assisted by the Rev. Victor Sands and Mr. Chas. Stever, the latter a theological student at St. Mary's Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio.
 Easter means much to the Christian world and the resolutions made should endure the vicissitudes of time.
 At present we are passing through a depression that seems to rob many of all his confidence and faith in things material; but, despite this fact we still have a God to whom we can lay bare our heart and in return receive a fortitude that is lasting and able to weather the present storms.
 Be constant and faithful then to your solemn pledge to God, for only a heart tuned in with the divine can stand up under these trying conditions.

Famous Airmen At Aviation Dinner
 The Grand Ballroom of the Detroit-Leland Hotel doubtless will be the scene of the largest Assembly and banquet held in conjunction with the National Aircraft Show of 1932.
 The enthusiasm exhibited among the 29 Exchange Clubs of this Area indicates that this, their 5th Annual Aviation Dinner, will be a Major Event.
 In addition to Major-General J. E. Fechet, who is to be the speaker on this occasion, the Exchange-ites will be honored with the presence of their National President, Dr. Alfred A. Jenkins of Cleveland, and National Secretary Herold M. Hunter of Toledo.
 Many National and State Officers of Exchange also have indicated that they will be present. Entertainment will be provided by the

THE MOUTH TEST
 Tells The Real Antiseptic Story

It is easy to show unusual deodorizing or germ killing power under unusual conditions! Some antiseptics repeat in use. Others do not. We wanted to be sure about Mi 31. So we tested it in the mouth.

Mi 31 neutralizes even onion odors instantly—prevents their return. In normal gargling time, it kills the germs that cause sore-throat. Mi 31 is sold only at Rexall Drug Stores.

State Takes Over Beauty Spots For More State Parks
 Property on two points of great scenic beauty, the tips of the Leelanau and the Grand Traverse peninsulas are now owned by the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation, and as soon as funds are available they will be developed into state parks.
 Formal approval of the gifts of the property from the federal government, was made by the Conservation Commission at its March meeting.
 The state has been given 140 acres at Old Mission point on the Grand Traverse peninsula and 31 acres at the Northport Lighthouse on the Leelanau peninsula.
 The state park site at Old Mission includes a considerable amount of birch, maple, birch and oak, together with excellent camping sites. There is about 5,500 feet of water frontage. The property surrounds on three sides the Old Mission Lighthouse.
 The property given the state at Northport adjoins the Northport Lighthouse and has 1,500 feet of water frontage.
 Acquisition of the two properties by the state are the indirect result of recommendations made by President Herbert Hoover when he was Secretary of Commerce. At that time he recommended that all surplus lighthouse properties on the Great Lakes be given to the states for park purposes when requested to do so. To that time all of the lighthouses held considerable adjacent lands retained for possible future uses.
 As a result of this recommendation, Michigan has obtained considerable property through gift from the federal government, and most of it has had excellent water frontage and virgin timber areas. Part of the Port Wilkins State Park was obtained through such a gift. More recently 1,104 acres in Mason County, connected with a lighthouse, and 800 acres of light-house property near Mears in Oceana County were given to the state for park purposes.

 The sites at Old Mission and Northport were obtained for the state through the efforts of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg who introduced a bill in Congress and in March 1931, this bill was approved and signed by the President, to deed the property to the state of Michigan. The deeds have now been turned over to the state.
 Both of the new park areas are accessible by roads and are the northern terminal of roads leading through some of the most beautiful spots in the southern peninsula of Michigan.
 Although it will not be financially possible for the Parks Division to make any improvements in these parks until after the close of the present biennium period, July 1, 1933, it is expected that when these parks are opened to the public they will attract large numbers of visitors and campers.

Livonia Resident Traded Down Once Notorious Kidnaper

Recent headlines or news dispatches concerning kidnaping of the Charles Lindbergh baby, recall to mind by the more recent citizens and taxpayers certain deeds and episodes in the career of Gus J. Adam, a former deputy sheriff of Wayne County and now candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace of Livonia Township.

by William Gazner is recalled to mind, which after the following and exploding of many clues, this kidnaper was finally trapped and brought to justice by Gus Adam, after the trail seemed all but lost and abandoned.

One of the most thrilling kidnaping episodes was that of Patricia Maxwell, whose after a period of nineteen days, the kidnapers were finally tracked. At the point of time, Mr. Adam entered their shack and captured the desperadoes and rescued Patricia. Pictures of the little girl, shack and surroundings as well as the interior showing the kidnapers with their stacks of arms, forged highlights in newspaper clippings of that day.

Being non-violent and wandering through the hole of days gone by, these self-same citizens recall to mind that Gustave J. Adam or Gus as he is familiarly known, has figured in many other deeds of daring, both in times of war and in time of peace; that he has always served his fellowmen well, and his honesty and capability has earned him a host of friends, not only in Livonia Township but throughout the State.

When deputy sheriff and when serving a writ of execution, no poor man was unduly deprived of his tools of trade or of his domestic animals or other means of livelihood. Rather his sympathies, and his assistance always went to the poor and unfortunate. A virtue which is to be regretted, is not always present in some of our present incumbents of office.

And in thus calling these things to mind, it is recalled that Gustave J. Adam is our candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace in Livonia Township, and in this recalling this fact to mind, they wished him a well deserved success and assured him of their hearty support.

CADY SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Glenn is ill at her home and Mrs. Skerrett is substituting in her place.

Our spelling champions this year are Helen Vincent, 8th grade; Margaret Marotte, 7th grade; Harold Meredith, 6th grade and Viola Keeney, 5th grade. This is Helen's fourth victory and Harold's second. Cady P. T. A. will meet Friday, April 5. This is recreation night and a fine program has been planned.

Thursday evening our 4-H club presented a program of interest to all.

The following 4-H members will represent Cady school on achievement day, 1st year sewing, Katherine Chamberlain; 2nd year Sewing, Margaret Marotte; 3rd year Sewing, Helen Vincent. Helen Vincent was also chosen as style show delegate.

In handicraft the following boys will be sent as delegates: 1st year, Merlyn Furlong and Paul Marotte; 2nd year, Frank Swambo; 3rd year, Walter Schrader and Morris Loyd; 4th year, Alexander Vincent.

Our health champions for this year are: Junior, Grace Reynolds; and Walter Schrader; senior, Morris Loyd.

The 4-H club members presented their leaders with gifts, in appreciation for their services the past year. The leaders are Mrs. C. Erbanak, Mrs. H. Gervels, H. Gohn and A. Berger.

The 7th graders are studying their new books called "Tales of Courage" in preparation for state examinations.

Geraldine Fowler has left our school to enter the Detroit schools. Mary Ann Vincent has returned school after several weeks of illness.

Interesting bits of news Taken from Plymouth Mail

E. K. Bennett was a Detroit visitor Tuesday.

Miss J. R. Rauch is visiting in Ann Arbor and Jackson.

H. R. Merrill of Detroit visited his daughter, Mrs. C. G. Draper, yesterday.

A. M. Eckles has been drawn for jury service.

Mrs. Julia Stewart exhibited a hen's egg yesterday that weighed over three ounces and measured six inches around it.

A. W. Chaffee has purchased an automobile and is having a house built to shelter the machine.

Miss Carrie Stewart will leave the Ranch store Saturday, having decided to quit work. Miss Margaret Joy will take her place.

Miss Alice Safford who has been in Detroit for the past year, has accepted a position in the office of the Michigan Air Rifle company and will assume her work Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Armstrong returned Tuesday from Los Angeles, California where they have been for six weeks. They were well pleased with the western country.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Boyer of Detroit spent Sunday with Mrs. Peter Gayle and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sage and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Sutherland spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Liverance in Livonia.

A horse owned by Charles Gottschalk and driven by his young son ran away Wednesday morning, going over the crosswalk at Bennett's corner, the white-freak broke permitting the horse to break loose from the rig. At Cady's corner it slipped and fell on the walk and was caught there by Anson Hearne.

Roads in the vicinity of Elm are almost impassable. People had better hold off from driving at present until the roads get better as the undertakers must invariably call on the farmers with their teams to help them out.

C. P. Smith purchased a fine horse recently and has it on his farm at Livonia Center.

Bean Growers To Cut Acreage

Prospects of a reduced acreage of field beans and a continued increase of barley in Michigan were features of the intentions to Plant report which was released by the Department of Agriculture today. No material changes were reported for the acreage of other spring crops, according to Irvin Holmes, Assistant Agricultural Statistician, and Herbert E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture.

While Michigan bean growers reported on March 3 that they intended to plant 546,000 acres of this crop, eleven per cent less than was harvested last fall, such an acreage would still be five per cent larger than the average acreage harvested in the State during the ten years 1921-30. Bean growers in other states are also planning on decreased acreages for 1932. In New York the report showed 92 per cent of the harvested acreage for last year. For the Great Northern area, Montana and Wyoming each reported 70 per cent while Idaho reported 75 per cent. The Pinto states are planning smaller reductions, the Colorado report being 90 per cent of last year and that for New Mexico 97 per cent. In California the intended decrease was the same as for Michigan or 80 per cent. If such change are carried out this spring, it would result in approximately 1,640,000 acres being planted in the United States, or 88.2 per cent of the 1,860,000 acres harvested in the fall of 1931.

Michigan potato growers are not planning on any marked change in acreage this year. The March 1 report indicated 248,000 acres as the intended plantings or 1 per cent less than was harvested a year ago, but about 6 per cent less than the average acreage. However, in the North Central group of states growers were contemplating an increase of about 5 per cent, while the entire country intentions were reported at 10.7 per cent of the 3,328,000 acres harvested last fall.

The Department called attention to the fact that these reports are collected each March in order that farmers may make such changes in their plans for 1932 plantings as may seem desirable. The acreage actually planted may differ from these early intentions reports, due to weather conditions, price changes and other factors.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

There was a unusually large attendance at the meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, held Thursday, March 24, at the pretty home of Mrs. B. Havershaw of Harvey street.

It was regretted that Mrs. W. O. McLeod, who was to have been the speaker for the day, was unable to be present on account of sickness. But the program in charge of Miss Cora Pellam and Mrs. C. R. Ross, was excellent. A number of very interesting readings, bearing on the subjects "Child Welfare," "Health," and "Narcotics," were read by the members. Mrs. Ross read a fine selection entitled, "Is Society Wet or Dry?" And a delightful concert was given by Mrs. Havershaw's quartette who evidently felt that they belonged on the program, and so did their best to entertain the guests with some of the latest songs and duets.

Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd gave a short but interesting talk about the W. C. T. U. Regional Conference, in Columbus, Ohio, which she had just attended, and where she had listened to talented speakers from the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, April 28, at the home of Mrs. E. R. Daggott.

Where Order is Brought Out of Chaos—by Efficient Employees Having the Use of Modern Equipment

Bereavement often disrupts an entire household to the extent that no one feels capable of assuming the responsibility of making funeral arrangements.

Here is where we are prepared to make every provision to assure that services for those who have passed on may be held with smoothness and dignity, removing many irksome burdens from the shoulders of the bereaved.

In this service we are assisted by particularly capable employees. We feel that we have reason to be proud of the men and women who carry on the work of this organization. They are all people of high character and wide experience in their work. We feel that any one of them is worthy to represent us under any responsibility.

Our funeral home is modern in every respect and provides complete facilities for our organization to render efficient service. All of our equipment is new and of the latest design. Our Nu-3-Way, side service hearse equipment is unsurpassed anywhere.

Springer Has Letter From Mrs. O'Rourke

George Springer, who was chief of police of Plymouth at the time of the shooting of Peter O'Rourke, New York policeman on the Plymouth-Ann Arbor road two years ago, has received an interesting letter from Mrs. O'Rourke.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Rourke have been spending some of their time in Vermontville, Michigan. Her husband, who was blinded by the shots, has not given up hope that his sight will be returned and has been receiving treatments in this state.

After telling Mr. Springer of their intention to return to New York, she adds: "You will be glad to know that we have sold the story of the hold-up to a well known magazine who have paid us $150 for the material. It will appear in a near issue. Will send you a copy when it is out."

"We were sorry to hear of your misfortune after being so long in public service and we hope you have been successful in being re-established. We know you are a good man and you were the only one to come to our assistance that night because others were physically afraid. Remember we could get no doctors or ambulances and he says we will not rest for you and if we can do anything to help you we will be only too glad to do so," says the letter in part.

Doctors here stated that there is no chance to save the eyesight of Mr. O'Rourke, who has been placed on a pension by the New York police department.

Big Business Failure

On Cranston Avenue! What heretofore was considered to be the largest enterprise hereabouts has been "judged" an infortunous failure, every hour every minute, every drop of water expended, every drop of gasoline burned, every cent invested and went in this great and noble undertaking has been lost.

Investors and prospective users heads are bowed with grief and the promoters heads are turned down with dismay.

For our Skating Pond never froze over, and the pond just powdered away, and is now amalgamated with the Atlantic Ocean somehow.

Boy Scouts news of the Court of Honor is too late for this column this week. As it only happened last night at the St. Michael's Parish Hall, will have all about it next week.

Easter Sunday our churches had more than the usual gatherings. St. Michael's Altar were beautifully decorated with lilies and other seasonal plants in bloom and white carnations. The Rosedale Presbyterian received new members.

Many city visitors were present at church and as dinner guests of gardeners.

Chap Sney and Cards for luncheon from noon till two, and for past time afterwards, were the events at St. Michael's Parish Hall yesterday past meridian.

Several score folks from the city and numbers from country side were on hand for the tasty luncheon by the Ladies of the Altar Society.

Of course the kiddies were there for luncheon heavily from school, and prizes were offered for the door and cards.

This is the first of a series of neighborly luncheons and card party, sort of post Lenten, so look anxiously for next date and come over.

The Steds are thrifty and the banks of Jennie Doon are still solid.

Don't Get Up Nights Make This 25c Test Physic the bladder easily. Drive out impurities and excessive acids which cause irritation that results in leg pain, backache, burning and getting up nights. H-KETS, the bladder physic, containing linum, juniper oil, etc., works on the bladder pleasantly and effectively as castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box (5 grain size) from your druggist. After four days, if not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. You are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Locally at Beyer Pharmacy, C. R. "Jim will Never Realize how much this gift means to me"

IT'S AN ELECTROCHEF... "Weary hours of work and drudgery, standing over a hot stove, the disagreeable task of scouring soot-blackened pots and pans and cleaning a grease-caked stove: My Electrochef ends these troubles forever. Jim doesn't realize what a burden he's lifted from my shoulders! My new Electrochef makes cooking a pleasure. I thoroughly enjoy using my range - it's so clean, so convenient, so modern in every way. Kitchen utensils stay as bright and shiny as when they were brand new - and no wonder! There is no flame, no smoke or soot to soil my kitchen walls and curtains - only pure heat from a glowing wire! It's such a change in cooking methods. All my friends admire the snow-white porcelain and sparkling chrome-plate finish of the range. It's really lovely... I think my Electrochef has made over my kitchen!"

Rosedale Gardens

Monday, April Fourth is the day when all good gardeners, lay out as well - go to the polls and do their Spring Election Voting. Everyone is hoping for a nice clear, warm day, no cyclone or tornado or anything like the Plymouth Day, when it blew the names out of the ballots. And another thing, according to the Election Board, don't forget to X BEFORE your favorite candidates name in the little square box provided just for that purpose, and don't just fold the ballot up without Xing at all.

FORD EIGHTS

Tells How to Grow The Family's Food

He was at the laboratories some mornings so early he had to turn on an electric bulb to see his way around. Repeatedly, he beat his eyes to the plant. New eagerness crept into his eyes, new alacrity into his step. He assisted on each detail, instead of following his old practice of plotting out what he wanted done and then putting it up to the engineers to carry out his ideas.

He was so thoroughly painstaking that some of the men closest to him thought they could never satisfy him.

One man after a particularly trying time, said to another official: "I don't know what to do. You could put that engine on the floor alongside another engine the way he wants it, and I'll guarantee that a master engineer could study them for five days and not be able to discover any difference."

"He has been that way about everything. He looks at it 62 times, and sometimes 63," said the other official.

Simplification was one aim. His idea was not so much to put things on as to take them off. Every time something was taken off there was more computing to do.

Asked whether he did not find it difficult to break with the four on which he had built up his vast company, he told friends that so long as the eight was merely a multiple of the four, he felt no twinge.

Fortunately, it was a six that Mr. Ford built years ago as his first automobile engine, but he backed away from the idea quickly. The new eight, as a matter of fact, did not meet with his full approval until about two weeks ago.

Hours of debate and study preceded the adoption of the price list. In the end Mr. Ford had the final say, as usual.

"The longer you figure costs," he said, finally, "the higher the price seems to be. We'll fix the price and then we'll learn how to make it at that price."

Most men like to argue about things they know nothing about.

Good manners are made up of pretty sacrifices.

Life is made up of sectional reactions and finals.

Mr. and Mrs. Sile Mattinson of Pearl street entertained a few girls at supper Easter in honor of their daughter, Marguerite's birthday anniversary. The invited guests were Lola Smith, Irene Beckwith, Helen Norgrove, and Gertrude Schryer.

The production of the families supply of food which has become a subject of acute interest to many Michigan people has been made the subject of a bulletin printed by Michigan State College.

Directions for growing vegetables, beans, potatoes, fruit and for the production of pork, poultry, milk and butter are all included in the one bulletin, and the material is prepared to apply especially to cases where only small areas of ground are available for the production of these foods.

Another section of the bulletin tells the amount of the various foods which an average sized family will need during the year, so plans can be made to utilize to the best advantage any acre of soil which the family may own or rent.

While this bulletin was written especially for people who own small plots of ground, studies made by the farm management department at Michigan State College show that farmers in this State could produce a great deal more of the food which their families need each year. The study showed that the only food produced on each of the 57 farms which reported potatoes, No other food was grown on every one of these 57 farms.

Anyone who wants the bulletin on home production of the family's food supply will receive it free by requesting Circular Bulletin No. 140 from the Director of the experiment station at East Lansing.

BIG FISH CATCH IS MADE DURING 1931

The greatest catch of commercial fish in the Great Lakes waters adjoining Michigan since 1928 is reported for 1931, according to the Department of Conservation. The figures are based on monthly reports submitted by the more than 1,500 commercial fishermen operating under Michigan licenses.

The total catch of all species of commercial fish during 1931 was slightly more than 31,624,487 pounds. A few reports not received will but slightly raise this figure.

The 1931 catch of commercial fish is slightly above the 1930 catch reported at 30,702,438 pounds. The total has been increasing each year since 1928 when the catch was reported at 21,000,000 pounds. The catch, with one exception is also the greatest in twelve years, being exceeded only by 1927.

While the value of the fish taken probably reached $3,000,000, it is not believed to have exceeded the 1930 figure. The price of fish dropped considerably during the past two years.

Saginaw Bay proved to be the greatest source of lake fish in Michigan waters, yielding 9,919,457 pounds of all species. Lake Michigan, with a take of 9,100,252 pounds ranked second in importance. However, the take in Lake Michigan in 1931 was smaller than in the previous year. Lake Huron ranked third in the importance of its fisheries with a catch of 7,724,843. Lake Superior reported 3,410,821 pounds of commercial fish taken in 1931, and Lake Erie 1,469,114 pounds.

Lake trout, once constituting the largest catch for Michigan commercial fishermen, has given way to the whitefish, according to the 1931 reports. Last year 7,553,338 pounds of whitefish were taken with lake trout ranking second in importance with a yield of 6,508,422. The herring constitutes the third largest catch with 6,724,136 pounds.

More than three and a half million pounds of suckers were taken and sold by Michigan fishermen last year.

Caviare is now listed among commercial fishing products and the take is reported to the Department of Conservation. The 1931 reports show a total of 1,402 pounds of caviare taken. The entire take was from Lake Michigan. A large market for whitefish caviare is the cause of the increased interest in this product on the part of commercial fishermen.

The commercial fishing reports list only 400 pounds of smelt taken by fishermen and sold. This figure, however, does not include the large catches made with hook and line by individuals on inland lakes. The sale of smelt taken in some of the inland lakes has been constituting a source of income for those taking the diminutive fish in this manner.

The report for 1931 lists 10 species of fish having commercial value and taken in Michigan waters. The fish and the total catch in pounds for each species during the 1931 season follows:

Lake trout 6,724,136; whitefish 7,553,338; perch 1,382,888; suckers and muller 3,508,508; yellow-pike perch 977,142; grass pike 301,882; buffalo 5; catfish 43,117; chubs 1,034,873. Herring 6,724,176; burbot-lawyers 55,372; carp 1,846,937; Menominee 172,192; sheepshead 50,121; rock bass 13,878; hullheads 290,458; saugers 156,003; smelt 400; dog fish 4,006.

Ways to increase business volume are adding units of livestock or increasing the production of those owned, increasing the acreage of cash crops or securing greater production per acre, acquiring additional good land through purchase or rental, procuring special markets which will pay better prices, or working for others when the labor can be spared from the farm.

The prospects for all lines of crops and livestock produced in Michigan are outlined in the agricultural outlook which will be sent to anyone who requests Extension Bulletin No. 122 from the bulletin clerk at East Lansing.

Real Estate Bonds A temporary commission consisting of three state officials is recommended for the purpose of assuming authority over the handling of defaulted real estate bond issues, and to assist in the organization of bond holders committees. The object, he explains, of this recommended legislation is to bring to light affairs of this class of business.

U. S. Amendment The legislature is asked to consider the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States which, if passed, would do away with the so-called "lame duck" sessions of congress.

Refunding of Local Debt Charges It is recommended that the smaller political units of the state be granted authority to provide for the refunding of bond and note obligations, subject to the approval and supervision of the state administrative board. He would limit this right to a period of five years.

Soldier Bonus Bonds To provide for the payment of $5,000,000 soldier bonus bonds due in July, he recommends that $1,000,000 be paid and that the state plan to refund the remaining balance for the next four years, taking $1,000,000 out of the annual tax levy each year to pay the balance.

State Government Expenses He recommends that legislation which, if passed, would permit the reduction of all personal service expense of the state fifteen per cent beginning with July 1st. He would cut fifteen per cent from the salaries of all state officials and

OBITUARIES

MARY JANE SHACKLETON Mary Jane Shackleton was born September 19, 1848 at St. Catharines, Ontario, Canada. She was united in marriage to John P. West of Canton Township, February 18, 1872, who predeceased her in death May 11, 1911. Mrs. West always resided in Canton Township, until about six years ago, when she and her son went to make their home with her daughter, Mrs. Allen Borthine of 11830 Howe Ave., Detroit, Michigan, where she passed away March 22, 1932, after one year and five months of patient suffering. She leaves to mourn her loss, one son, J. J. West, two daughters, Mrs. Allen Borthine and Mrs. Emily Bouch, also one brother, E. K. Shackleton, six grandchildren, four great grandchildren, other relatives and a host of friends.

RUSSELL GEORGE DENSMORE Russell George Densmore was born Nov. 26, 1905. He died March 24, 1932, at the age of twenty-six years, three months and twenty-seven days. He spent his boyhood days at his farm home at West Branch, Mich. At the age of sixteen he came to Plymouth and worked at various places in this vicinity. For the last five years he has been working for Wayne County.

He was united in marriage to Laura Wilson; April 30, 1927. To this union was born one daughter, Helen. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and little daughter, rather than four brothers besides a host of friends.

Services were held at the Wilkie Funeral Home Wednesday, March 23, Rev. Nichol officiating. Interment at Cherry Hill.

FIT FARM RECEIPTS TO FIXED CHARGES An attempt to make the amount of farm receipts, which are sold each year for the size of the fixed expenses of the farm is recommended in an agricultural outlook published at Michigan State College.

The fixed charges include taxes, interest on the investment, depreciation on buildings and equipment, and the labor contributed by the owner and members of his family. These expenses occur regardless of the amount of crops and livestock produced, and a certain volume of sales necessary to meet these costs.

The farmer's profit can be assured only after the fixed charges are paid, and, unless the volume of business more than pays the overhead, there will be no profits.
