

TAXPAYERS ASK OF BENEFITS

Requesting Members Of Legislature To Tell of Work

By ELTON R. EATON

Lansing, Mich., May 10.—Members of the state legislature are back home today talking face to face with the taxpayers of Michigan about the work of the longest special legislative session ever held in the history of the state. They are discussing in detail the various acts that were passed for the general benefit of the state, and are endeavoring to bring to the attention of the taxpayers some of the most serious economic problems that have ever known. For nearly six weeks the legislature was in session. Senators and representatives fully realizing the critical situation their neighbors and their constituents are facing, did not act in a hurry. They hoped through their work to bring about as much benefit as possible, they explained and because of this they believed it best to take plenty of time to make a full study of every piece of legislation before it.

With the exception of the additional reduction made by the senate in the administration budget bill, most of the legislation enacted provides for diversion of funds from one purpose to another. The funds that are paid into the state in the form of gasoline and automobile weight taxes will be to a certain extent diverted to the relief of counties that are unable to pay over road bonds and taxes. A bill, rewritten six times, amended in the senate and again in the house with more than thirty changes brought about by amendments, is not an easy thing for a legislative body of one hundred members to write in a hurry.

Counties that have built many miles of roads are anxious to secure as much money from the state as possible to pay off obligations that are now due and demand immediate attention. On the other hand northern Michigan and Upper Peninsula counties where only a small portion of the road program has been completed are anxious to retain in the highway bill as much money as possible for road construction purposes. Representatives from the northern counties declared that road building was absolutely essential to them as there was no other form of employment for thousands of men who have been thrown out of work by closed mines.

They have resented strenuously the term "Santa Claus Counties" applied to them by some who wanted all road work stopped. This term originated through the fact that northern Michigan has received in the past year or so more from the weight and tax funds than they have paid into the funds.

They resent the term because of the fact, as they contend, northern Michigan for years and years through its vast mineral and timber resources, poured much riches into the lap of all Michigan. Now that these resources have been very greatly extended, and that part of the state is dependent upon the tourist business they feel that they are entitled to more consideration than what some had figured they should have. It was the militant attitude of the representatives and senators from the upper part of the state that caused to be written into the bill amendments that provided for $2,000,000 of new road construction in the Upper Peninsula and $2,000,000 in the northern part of the lower peninsula.

Not only did they force these provisions into the highway bill but in the budget bill they forced the senate to require a sufficient amount which would permit all state parks to remain open this summer. The conservation department had announced that it proposed to keep closed this summer at least 20 state parks.

In addition to this the northern part of the state when it required the budget bill to carry a provision for complete forest fire protection, another item that had been cut in the original budget bill.

The independent group of senators that set out to force major greater reductions in state expenses than had been recommended, state that considerably over a million dollars was saved by their action. The state police were cut nearly half a million and the state prisons come in for considerably more substantial slashes. No salaries under $1200 per year were raised more per gallon than other sections.

City Finds Place To Use For Dump

Temporary arrangements have been made for the use of a parcel of land immediately south of the Pere Marquette Railroad and west of Ridge Road for a public dumping ground.

Certain restrictions have been placed on the use of this ground which will have to be enforced if the Village is to have the use of the same. It will not be possible to dispose of automobile bodies or other bulky material in the dump. In order to carry out the requirements it will be necessary to have the dump supervised during the days it is open to the public.

For the present time the dump will be open only on Saturdays from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. at which time local residents are requested to arrange for the disposal of their ashes, rubbish, etc. The property is at present fenced in and a gate will be installed in order that cars or trucks may enter the property under the supervision of a Village employee.

The manner in which this dump is conducted will determine whether or not this ground can be used permanently by the Village.

ELECTION DAY HERE MONDAY

Plymouth To Elect New City Officials And Pass On Charter

Monday is election day in Plymouth.

In addition to voting on the new city charter which has been prepared after many weeks of consideration and has met with the approval of the state, there are five city commissioners to be elected.

For the long term Village President Robert O. Mimmack and Dr. Freeman B. Hoyer are unopposed. Frank L. Learned, George H. Robinson and John W. Henderson of the present commission are candidates for re-election for the short term, with the following others who have entered the race: Russell A. Kirkpatrick, William J. Harrows, Henry Houdorp and Sidney D. Strong.

For Justice of the Peace: John S. Dayton, Roger J. Vaughn, Ford P. Brooks.

For Constable: George R. Whitmore, George W. Springer.

There are seven offices to be filled, namely five city commissioners, one Justice of the Peace, and one constable. The two city commissioners running for the long term are unopposed, while the three offices of City Commissioner for the short term have seven candidates. Not more than three of the seven candidates for the short term are to be voted for. In these elections have been placed on the ballot so that there should be no confusion in voting for a greater number of candidates than to be elected to each office.

Redmen Will Stage Home Talent Play On Tuesday Evening

Next Tuesday evening, May 17, members of the Improved Order of Redmen of Plymouth will stage a big home talent play at the High School auditorium. The story of the play is interesting. It was enacted at the House of Correction recently and made a big hit. There is plenty of fun in it.

Silas Bates has pretended to be married in order to get $100.00 from his Aunt Mary. She writes that she is about to visit him and Silas compels his friend Shirley Waters, a young fellow who has had some experience in acting, to impersonate his "dream wife."

Instead of Aunt Mary, Clara Belle, with whom Silas is in love, and her Aunt Louise arrive. Shirley appears as the wife of Silas and Clara Belle thinks she has been deceived. Shirley, to make matters more convincing, appropriates the baby of a neighbor. The Police come to find the kidnapper and this exposes Shirley, so all ends happily.

Cast of Characters in Play: Silas Bates, A rich young bachelor. Marshall Pinkerton Shirley Waters, His friend in need. Galen Cripe James, A butler. Henry Goedel Aunt Louise, Silas' Aunt. Mrs. Oliver Showers Clara Belle, Silas' Angel. Miss Irene Larson Mrs. Willows, A neighbor. Mr. Darr, A very old man. Frank Smoot, A policeman. John Mastie

E. K. BENNETT IS MUCH IMPROVED

The many friends of E. K. Bennett of the Plymouth United Savings bank will be greatly pleased to know that he is showing considerable improvement. He has been confined to his home for the past two weeks, but if he continues to gain as rapidly as he has during the past week he will probably be able to be out within a few weeks.

Fire Loss Hastens Death of Farmer

Destruction of his home by fire, representing a severe loss due to lack of insurance, three weeks ago is believed to have had much to do with the sudden death of Albert Ebersole, 62 years of age, well known farmer residing just this side of Waterford. Mr. Ebersole had been in good health but worry over his loss is believed to have brought on the sudden heart ailment that ended his life so suddenly. He had lived in this locality for many years and was well known and highly respected by his many friends. The funeral was held Sunday from the Schrader funeral home in Northville, burial taking place in Riverside cemetery in Plymouth.

Plymouth L. O. T. M. Entertained by The Members at Wayne

On Thursday, April 28, 65 Lady Macabees of Plymouth journeyed to Wayne where they were royally entertained by the Lady Macabees of that place. Four Asst. Supreme Commanders, Ladies Minor Thorpe, Jones and Nicholson of Detroit were also guests.

At 6:30 a grand march led by Com. Lady Wood and Lieut. Com. Lady Honey of Plymouth terminated in the dining hall where the guests were seated at ten very pretty appointed tables and were served a lovely dinner. During conversal the Plymouth Lodge sang several Macabean rally songs ending with three cheers for Wayne.

Lodge opened in regular order by Com. Lady Wiles of Wayne who then invited the officers of Plymouth to confer the membership on a class of candidates from Wayne and Plymouth. The officers were bestowed in colonial attire and with the beautiful initiatory service of the Macabean order presented an impressive ceremony which will longer long with those present. The lodge room was artistically decorated with Macabean colors, flowers and potted plants.

Immediately following the initiatory work lodge adjourned and the Emerson Grand Team of Plymouth entertained the company with their drills and marches. They were highly commended for their drill by Asst. Supreme Com. Lady Minor who is captain of a guard team in Detroit and who has witnessed drills all over the State and in London, England.

As is always proper the best is saved until last, when several Wayne members enacted a school-room scene of the good old days with their roll-call songs recitations and orchestra with instruments fashioned from dish-pans, egg-beaters, pan-covers and curtain rods. Needless to say their antics and costumes were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The hour was late when the ladies bid farewell to Wayne hoping to soon have the pleasure of returning the hospitality.

CONFIDENCE IS GREATEST NEED

Supt. George Smith Tells Northville Club His Views

Supt. George Smith of the Plymouth public schools was the interesting speaker at last week's meeting of the Northville Rotary club. Taking for his subject problems of the present depression, he declared emphatically that confidence would do more to restore favorable conditions than any one other thing.

In fact he said: "The most dangerous thing for the average community today is the concentration of wealth in the hands of a few. Concentration of wealth necessarily means horizontal mergers or the merging of those companies producing similar articles into one large company doing away with the smaller, independent, locally-owned institutions. Then, as capital in this organization continues to increase, we get perpendicular mergers which mean the acquiring of the sources of all the raw materials needed in the specific production and then the acquiring of means of transportation for distributing produced goods and also selling units for those goods, eliminating independent mining, refining, lumbering, etc., and eliminating transportation and independent merchants as far as these specific articles are concerned."

AUDIT SHOWS BIG SAVINGS

Village Officials Have Been Able To Cut Cost Of Government

The annual audit of village books, just completed, shows a most favorable condition of village finances as told by the report of the auditors.

According to Village President Robert O. Mimmack, it clearly shows the results of the efforts of the village officials to conduct a most economy program in village affairs.

The village president stated: "This program of economy was inaugurated over a year ago and was done to aid the citizens in meeting the cost of his local government during a period when his income was reduced."

The audit shows total expenditures against the budget funds of $65,371.58 compared with an expenditure of $63,257.50 in the previous year. The assessed valuation of real and personal property was reduced in 1931 from $7,208,008.00 to $6,106,298.31 and the tax rate was lowered from $13.50 to $12.50 per thousand valuation.

"Throughout the entire year it has been the policy of the Commission to carry on the municipal work as in the past, but to eliminate every possible unnecessary expenditure. The necessary work required, both in the office and on the outside, has been conducted just as efficiently and in as great or greater amounts than in past years, but the principal saving has been in the reorganization of the various departments and the operation with a minimum number of employees."

"During the past year the Commission retired two temporary loans, one of which had been outstanding for more than three years, and the other for more than a year. The total of these two loans was $5,437.60. At the end of the year there were no outstanding temporary loans."

"The reorganization of the cemetery made possible the operation approximately within the income of the final figures showing a loss of only $246.54 compared with an operating deficit of $1837.26 in the year previous. A continuance of the present plan of operating the cemetery will eventually wipe out the existing deficit and allow the cemetery to finance itself."

The water department revenue shows an increase over any previous year and, during the past year completely paid up its operating deficit carried over for several years. The department, during the last year, was able, through its income, to take care of all expenses, including interest, and principal on the bonded debt.

"Throughout the entire year the Village lived well within the income and it will not be necessary to borrow money to operate before tax collections start in July, 1932. The cash on hand at the end of the fiscal year amounted to $24,212.28. The surplus of cash on hand is at present used to operate during the three months period from April 1st to July 1st at which time the fiscal year, as provided by the new City Charter, begins."

"The annual report of the Village for the last year is now being prepared and will contain the complete Auditor's report. This publication will be available to the citizens of Plymouth within the next thirty days."

Select Judges and Announce Rules For Clean-up Campaign

Officials of the Plymouth Savings and Loan Association have announced a $25.00 cash prize as their part in the Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up and Home Modernization Program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, other civic organizations, and city officials. Inasmuch as this campaign and prize contest is based primarily on the desire to create jobs for our deserving unemployed fellow citizens, the prize award will be largely determined by the extent of improvement made.

Roy Parrott, Sidney Strong, and Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple have consented to act as a Judging Committee with Mrs. Whipple as Chairman. They have established the following rules and conditions to govern the contest:

1. Any property owner residing in Plymouth Township is eligible to enter the contest with the exception of officials of the Plymouth Savings and Loan Association.

2. All entries must be on record at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Mayflower Hotel building not later than 12 o'clock noon next Wednesday, May 18th. It is of course understood that only current improvements will be considered.

3. The contest will close at 12 o'clock noon Tuesday, June 7th. This allows three weeks for the duration of the contest, and a lot can be accomplished in that time. All improvements undertaken must be entirely completed by that time if they are to be given consideration by the judging committee.

4. In the opinion of the judging committee, it is rather difficult to set up iron clad rules, and they will have to exercise a certain amount of flexibility in naming the winner, but all entries will be judged in connection with these four major classifications: Paint-up, Clean-up, Fix-up, and Repair and Home Modernization. All structures such as houses, garages, fencing, etc., are included under Paint-up, and Clean-up. Fix-up is defined to include grading, planting, landscaping, etc. Repair and Home Modernization is defined to include necessary repairs and all remodeling.

5. The actual dollar value of expense involved in any improvements made will not enter into the decision of the judging committee. The members of this committee feel that the owner of a humble cottage can do as much on a comparative basis toward improving his property as the owner of one of our finest homes, and should therefore receive the same consideration.

It is possible that other prizes may be offered depending upon the number of entries in the contest.

As was stated editorially in the May 6th issue of the Plymouth Mail, the public is urged to enter into the spirit of this campaign and prize contest. Property owners are again reminded that by helping others they will be helping themselves because run down property loses in rental value, re-sale value, mortgage value, and living value, and because it is only being thrifty to take advantage of the present unprecedented low prices.

It is suggested that you use the entry blank printed below in entering the contest, although you can phone in your entry to the Chamber of Commerce office, Plymouth 497.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gale of Ypsilanti and Mr. Harmon Gale of Salem were callers on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Gale in observance of Mother's Day last Sunday.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

When fire broke out in a house in California, a 19-year-old girl picked up a large cedar chest filled with her most precious belongings and carried it outside to safety.

After the blaze had been extinguished the firemen gallantly offered to carry the box back into the house. It took three of them to do so.

This girl was just an ordinary girl, no prodigy of physical strength. But she did not intend that her treasures should go up in smoke. And from somewhere came the required strength at the required moment.

How true this is of all of us. When danger threatens we usually manage to do things that normally seem impossible. We never really know what we can do until we try, and we usually never try until necessity compels. Sometimes we fail, it is true. But more often we succeed, even to our own surprise.

"The occasion makes the man," says a proverb. But the Bible puts it into much more comprehensible form when it says:

"I will give thee strength for the day."

MORE FOREIGN MARKETS

Secretary Lamont, of the federal Department of Commerce, finds relation between unemployment and loss of foreign markets. We consume at home 90 per cent of our production, and, up to 1930, sold the remaining 10 per cent to foreign markets. Since foreign trade has declined, production has decreased and unemployment increased in America.

Our foreign trade has decreased first because other nations have been unable to buy, and, second, because foreign nations, recuperating from the effects of the World War, are again producing. These are the two main reasons, though there are others of less consequence. Yet these alone account, according to the secretary, for 80 per cent of unemployment in the United States.

Manifestly some time must elapse before foreign trade, declined because of the effects of the World War, can be rebuilt. But, as Mr. Lamont says, new markets can be found, and intimates that some already await trade agreements. Increase in foreign trade means decrease in local unemployment, hence the Commerce Department is working for more foreign markets.

THE LITTLE FELLOW'S DAY

The Department of Commerce has determined that approximately 80 per cent of our unemployed are chargeable to large manufacturing; also that wages have been cut by these to a greater extent than they have been by small manufacturing. This leads Dr. Julius Klein to conclude that "the day of small industries has returned," and he cites statistics to show they are more generally prosperous.

The small industry can more quickly and completely adapt itself to changed economic conditions. It is closer to the market and to demands of consumers. As a rule it can turn its capital over oftener, and has less need of bank credit. Costs are at a minimum. The result is products at lower costs and bigger sales, which enable the small industries to give employment at good wages.

The day of mass production is not wholly passed, not by any means. But big industry can not compete with small industry, can not crush it as in days gone by. There is therefore incentive for the capable unemployed of big business to start up small industries, rapid multiplication of which power companies already attest.

THERE'S PURCHASING POWER YET

On the basis of reports of 44 life insurance companies, the amount of insurance in force on Dec. 31, 1931, showed an increase of $1,059,335,000 for the year. According to reports of 71 railroads, public utility, manufacturing, and other corporations, there was a gain in the number of their stockholders in 1931 of 771,453. Life insurance was not any cheaper, but stocks were down.

More than a billion dollars were put into life insurance and stocks last year. Manifestly some people had money and spent it. If more had followed their example there would have been less financial stringency for the many. Yet this is neither here nor there, for the big fact is that purchasing power still remains, and, if it were utilized as it should be, the country would soon be rid of depression.

THE SIGN OF BETTER TIMES

With Al Capone back of federal prison bars, his defiance of law and order at last terminated, there is reason to believe that maybe decency will triumph in the administration of justice. Certainly one crook has discovered that money is not all powerful in this country.

FEATURELAND

Juss Fishin' for Fun

I ain't fishin' for fish;
 I'm just fishin' for fun.
 I sure like the dish,
 But my ketchin' is bum.

There are some whom I know,
 Not as candid as I,
 For a fish they would throw:
 For a trout they would try.

And you ask 'em "What luck?"
 "How's the fishin' today?"
 And they seem to be struck
 With your impertinent way.

With a scowl and a grunt
 And a cold look or two,
 "Pretty fair, Mr. Blunt:
 I've got quite a few."

It's different with me
 Who ain't got a rep:
 I just fish you see,
 To preserve my pep.

If the fish won't nibble:
 The mosquitoes will,
 And why should we quibble
 On the kind of a bill?

You can fish and fish,
 If you're fishin' for fun,
 And you can set and wish
 When the ketchin' is bum.

A Prayer

We pray that all our citizens
 May live upright obedient lives and that morality and intelligence may prevail. Do Thou make Thy bounty universal and hasten the day when all jealousies shall cease which have separated nations so long and those angry passions which have dashed one upon another.
 Quench the spirit of the lower feelings and may the teachings of the Master dwell with all mankind. O help the old weary and torn world until its tears shall cease, its groans shall end and it begins to sing in the morning light. —In the name of our Saviour
 —Amen.

There should be temperance in

New Every Morning

Every day is a fresh beginning.
 Every morn is the world made new.
 You who are weary of sorrow and slumbering
 Here is a beautiful hope for you:
 A hope for me and a hope for you.

All the past things are past and over,
 The tasks are done and the tears
 are shed:
 Yesterday's errors let yesterday
 cover:
 Yesterday's wounds, which smarted
 and bled,
 Are healed with the healing which night has shed.

Yesterday is now a part of forever:
 Bound up in a sheet which God
 holds tight,
 With glad days, and sad days, bad days which never Shall visit us more with their bloom and their blight.
 Their fullness of sunshiny or sorrowful night.

Here are the skies all burnished brightly,
 Here is the spent earth all reborn.
 Here are the tired limbs springing lightly
 To face the sun and to share with the morn
 In the chrism of dew and the cool of dawn.

Every day is a fresh beginning:
 Listen, my soul, to the glad refrain:
 And in spite of old sorrows and older sinning,
 And puzzles forecasted and possible
 pain,
 Take heart with the day, and begin again. —Susan Coolidge

GOOD ADVICE

It may seem strange, but the only way to get back to prosperity is to go forward.—Hiram Johnson in The Saranac Advertiser.

THE BIG PROBLEM

It seems to us that the big problem confronting the nation is not so much this shortage of money but keeping what money we have circulating in a normal manner. How can that be done? Well, we naturally suggest that advertising is one of the most essential elements.—Patrick O'Brien in The Iron River Reporter.

HEADS UP—MAY IS HERE AGAIN

With the coming of May, life again seems worth living. In the breath of Spring there is something that fills the human heart with new courage: something that compels the human soul to accept a new realization of this wonderful world in which we are privileged to live.

The buds begin to show on the trees, the robins are profuse with song, farmers are planting their new crops, and new life vibrates on every side. Nature responds to sunshine and warm rain, humanity smiles anew, and the whole world rejoices.—May is here again—Heads up.

The best part of the year is here or just ahead of us. Let us all feel the joyousness of it and take courage for the days ahead. Forgetting the darkness of the past, let us throw back our heads, take a deep, refreshing breath of clear Spring air and FACE THE WORLD.—Heads up.—Wm. Canfield in The Livingston County Republican Press.

THE STOCK MARKET

Several months ago this column expressed the belief that the stock market was responsible for the most of our financial troubles. We suggested further that the Federal government should either put the stock exchange under a rigid control or put the stock gamblers out of business entirely. We didn't know a thing about it but that was our hunch.

Now, at the suggestion of President Hoover, congress is investigating the New York Stock Exchange. What is being revealed, under oath, exceeds in crookedness and downright thievery anything that we or anyone else better informed, ever guessed at. The investigation of the international bankers brought out most startling and reprehensible transactions through which the innocent public was skinned alive, but the big bankers were the personification of virtue and square dealing compared with the big fellows in the stock market. It is true that some of them also lost a few hundred millions but most of them have plenty left and the money was never rightfully theirs in the first place.

We shall continue to remember and be guided largely by that old slogan, "Trust your banker," but the broker and the man behind him, when can we ever trust them again?—Geo. English in the Huron County Tribune.

State Owned Motor Cars Run Wild Over Michigan Highways

ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD ACCOUNTANTS ADMIT THEY CANNOT SUPPLY INFORMATION DEMANDED

Cost Runs To Millions As Hordes Of Officials, Inspectors, Troopers And Politicians Trail Each Other About The Commonwealth

By V. J. BROWN

Leaving for the moment the strict consideration of the payroll and turning attention to a discussion of an enactment which has grown to staggering proportions, let us turn to the state fleet of motor cars for the lesson of the week. And let it be said at the outset that figures given here are only approximately correct. However, they are as correct as the accounting division of the state administrative board is able to make them.

It is now more than three weeks since a senate resolution was adopted ordering the state administrative board to disclose to the members of the legislature the number, type and uses of the state owned and used by its employees in the various departments, boards, bureaus, institutions and agencies of government. The resolution also asked for information regarding the numbers of miles these cars are run during an average year, the purpose of the trips and such other information regarding the cost of operation as might be of interest.

Reports Not Correct

Two reports were made. The first was checked with heads of several of the departments and found not correct. Another report furnished with certain reservations but this report, too, has been found not exactly correct in at least some instances. The fact is, the state owns cars of which the administrative board has no record. Its method of keeping records regarding the purchase of gasoline and oil, minor motor and tire repair costs, and other charges with which the average car owner is familiar is so crude and incomplete that officials of the administrative board and its accounting officers threw up their hands and admitted it would take weeks, perhaps months, to supply the complete information sought. They promise now they will have the figures by next January.

However a few facts have been discovered—facts which remain undisputed.

Huge Fleet

The state has a record of 641 passenger cars owned and operated and 508 trucks of various makes and type. It is known that more cars than this are being operated under state license, gas and other charges with which the average car owner is familiar is so crude and incomplete that officials of the administrative board and its accounting officers threw up their hands and admitted it would take weeks, perhaps months, to supply the complete information sought. They promise now they will have the figures by next January.

If these cars and trucks were lined up along Michigan avenue from the state capitol east, spaced for lawful driving, the procession of state owned and operated motor cars only would extend into the village of Williamston, nearly 15 miles away.

If these cars are being driven an average of 25,000 miles each per year, and many exceed this number of miles by four times and more, the total car miles which the state drives in a single year exceeds 30 million miles. A single car operating for the whole 1200 hours would not drive so far. And yet none can tell the legislature how many cars there are, who drives them or why, when they are driven or on what mission, how much the cost per mile for gasoline or oil or tires may be or whether it would be cheaper to travel by train or air.

The state highway department holds the record for most cars but they also hold the record for using cars of the Ford and Chevrolet type which are most economical in first cost as well as in operation costs. The department of conservation comes next with 143 and the state police third with 116. The prison group operates a fleet of 107 cars and trucks. Other large users of motor car transportation include the department of health, the utilities commission, the department of agriculture, the military establishment and the welfare department.

Fancy Cars

A generous and indulging commonwealth supplies some very good cars, too, for its "mad-about" officials. Included in the number listed by the secretary of the administrative board are found two Lincolns; three Packards; eight Cadillacs; 56 Buicks; and 41 Reos, most of the latter being of the Royale type with all the trimmings and gadgets included.

It is common talk around Lansing that these state cars may be found parked outside the homes of state officials almost any morning of the week. Morning is used advisedly because most of them are not there during the evening and early night, not that these officials work until late hours of the night but the family is always ready for a jaunt somewhere after dinner.

The reader is reminded, too, that these cars are not confined to Michigan highways—not by any means. One state car at least has been Florida on a winter vacation trip, others have been far west. During summer months many visit Canadian scenic and recreation centers. And on a Sunday afternoon almost any day of the year, the highways of our own state are literally crowded with cars bearing state license plates which indicate that no tax is paid on the fuel consumed.

ed. A convenient system of coupon books is provided to assure the driver that wherever he may show up at a filling station his wants will be ministered to—at state expense.

Vacation Trips

One young sprout employed in a state capacity was recently heard boasting in a Lansing restaurant that he was going to have a new Oldsmobile for his vacation trip. He explained that his wife objected to going back home in a Chevrolet. It was the first visit home since her marriage and she wanted to impress her girl friends with the match she had made. He told just how he had gone about it: gratify his young wife's wishes and sure enough within a few days he proudly drove his new Olds up in front of the same restaurant to prove he was not spoofing. He is still driving the Oldsmobile furnished from state funds.

Another recently appointed minor official had more pull at the outset and on a very recent meeting when he sat down to the desk to fill a position newly created, he found the new law books right to go along with his shining new office furniture. He explains his need of so fine a car by calling attention to the fact that he calls upon many distinguished jurists of Michigan and that he could not hope to impress them sufficiently if they discovered him disembarking from a car of lesser grandeur.

Huge Sum Invested

Figured at $1,000 each as the average cost of the 1152 cars and trucks, Michigan has invested in this type of transportation the sum of $1,152,000. Figured at five cents per mile for each mile of the estimated 30 million miles driven each year, then this huge fleet of motor cars costs the state at least an equal sum. Michigan officials have proved themselves good travelers.

Now let the reader return for a brief inspection of this payroll question.

While these lines are being written, citizens of Michigan are digging down into their pockets for driver's license renewal fees. What do they get for this money? One sergeant of state police at $1800; one investigator at $1500; one trooper at $1200; seven clerks costing $8160 annually; three stenographers costing $4000 annually; one trooper headquarters building estimated to cost $100,000, funds for which were recently released by the state administrative board over the vigorous protest of at least one member of the group. The 1931 operator's license law was passed under the whip of the present administration as a means of building up a thoroughly trained traffic division of the state police to guarantee the safety of the highways. One trooper has been provided this far.

There is another office which should have received attention in an earlier article but was overlooked. Perhaps this is as good a time as any to speak of it.

Employment Agencies

Back in the halcyon days preceding 1929 there had grown up in Michigan a lot of so-called employment agencies. The state operates the larger industrial centers but some how these private agencies appeared to be getting the business and so a law was enacted requiring a license to operate and creating a new office to supervise. This was in 1925 and at first this new venture into the realm of licensing business was made one of the functions of the department of labor. In 1929 for certain political reasons this was made a separate office to be filled by the governor. Since then it has continued as the Detroit political headquarters for the administration.

These private employment agencies have long since gone out of business for the very good reason they had no jobs to sell. But the state administrator is still on the state payroll for $5000 a year. He occupies a suite of offices in Detroit provided at state expense. He has a $1200 stenographer. Outside of playing politics he has little to do.

every one voted last Saturday Nite, during and after each of the many dances, at the St. Michael's Parish Hall, and then as all were saying goodbye the voting still continued. when the hard time costumes were to be continued and costumes, speakeasies, dancers, and card bridges would meet at 8:00 post meridian with the same snappy boomers and his cronies and music mechanics.

The only things we are sorry for are the good time some folks mist for no coming, and that the folks from Ann Arbor, Dearborn, or maybe it was Mt. Clemens, (we forget just where) well as we were risen to remark is that they did not come in hard time costume and win the faces or pillows.

had last meeting of the School Year last Wednesday evening, at which time it was voted to purchase a dozen more seats to accommodate the increasing membership, as our Vice Pres. put it "to keep the Butter-milk Club Members from sitting on tables."

The Two Dollar Federal Reserve Notes went to Mrs. Marjorie Beckers' class, they having a count of seventeen parents present against Miss Doris Smith's class with sweet sixteen. Miss Ethel Holden at fifteen and Miss Margaret Roe with fourteen.

Wayne County Parents and Teachers met on Thursday evening last, coming "way over" here to the Rosedale School in all the big thunder storm, at invitation of our local unit as guests.

The home P. T. A. voted unanimously to hold the fifth annual School Picnic at the Plymouth-Riverside Park, game as last year, and to invite as our guests the Elm School. Ice cream and charcoal for coffee is ordered, so if it is as cold as last year we will need the coal and coffee. Home made cakes, baked-beans, salads, sandwiches and in fact all good things to eat are the plans and talk of all children. Volunteers are needed to "buss" the kiddies and mothers to and from.

Guest Speaker

A fine evening was given by Fr. John E. Conway, St. Michael's Pastor. In his brief, but "to the point" address, Fr. Conway stressed the importance of the vital relationship between the home and school, the duties of parents in mental, physical and moral training of the child, which was the God given right of all mothers, which neither church or State has no right to take away; later the School completes the work begun at home through the teachers, though education in one form or other had been in vogue for thousands of years, it was only in the last few years that Education has been recognized as a Science and the Teachers recognized today as of a profession.

Fr. Conway quoted from the "Proverbs 4:13: Take fast hold of the instruction; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life." in speaking of religion as the Science of Salvation and remarked that in the school and home it was all important that we give much thought to the religious atmosphere, which it had always been done we would not be confronted with the many atrocious crimes taking place every day, seemingly more now than ever, of the child, that a child is the light of day and night, child light never fails, though others may.

In closing, Fr. Conway pledged his support to our school, and said he would be only too happy to give us encouragement in any way.

The ladies of the refreshment committee then went to labor at the usual coffee, sandwiches and homemade cake, which all enjoyed whilst the usual topic of "our teachers" and "my best" or "my girl" was the order of the balance of the evening "till the lights went out and so did we—and to home they had: considering we had an evening well spent with a most excellent talk and a snappy business meeting with happy thoughts of the school picnic.

And "nothing"

The Men's Club met on Monday eve last, and had the usual golf fest, ball games and all. More than usual number being present, as most everyone came with another one.

something more or less important is to come before us all, so don't fail to come and bring another one, even if it is a visitor from the City to the west or the City to the east of these here Gardens.

Mothers and Daughters

had the dandiest time last evening, lots of fun having at least a few daddies wait on table, and wash dishes—sure they know how. Then the entertainment was a treat for some surprise too (so they say). Anyhow one of the mothers is to write up the story for next week's column.

Man Lost 26 Lbs. Looks 100% Better

Feels Stronger Than Ever

Bear in mind, you fat men, that there is danger in too much fat—try the safe way to reduce—one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on fatty meats and sweets—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—get it at Mayflower Drug Co. or any druggist in the world.

Candidates Must File Petitions By July 26 Says State

Candidates required by law to file petitions with the department of state in order to secure places on the ballot at the primary election Sept. 18, must do so by July 26.

In this category are included candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, candidates for the national congress except those from the 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th districts; state senatorial candidates except those from the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 13th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 21st and 22nd districts; and candidates for the house of representatives from the Alger, Alpena, Antrim, Arenac, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Mecosta, Midland, Newaygo, Ontonagon, Presque Isle and Wexford districts.

Candidates to fill vacancies on the circuit court benches in Wayne, Kent and Branch-St. Joseph counties, also must file petitions by July 26.

Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor must file petitions bearing at least 5,136 names in order to be given places on the ballot. Democratic candidates for these positions, however, do not have to file more than 2,310 names. A provision of the law requires that at least 100 electors of at least 20 different counties sign the petitions and not more than 25 per cent of the names may be from any one county. Candidates of other parties must be selected by caucus or convention.

The republican candidate for congress from the sixth district is required to file the greatest number of signatures of any of the other congressional candidates who file with the department of state. He must submit 400 names. The democratic candidates for the house of representatives from the Antrim district is required to file the fewest number of names. He must submit a list of seven signatures.

The amended election code, now in effect, removes all question regarding withdrawal of candidates after filing. It now provides that all withdrawals must be made within three days after the final filing date. This year the final withdrawal date is July 29.

"MISLEADING LADY"
A he-man duped into a proposal and scorned; an abducted beauty given retributive "taming" treatment by the jilted swain; a lunatic, mad and amusing by turns, and loose in a hunters' arsenal chosen by the lovers for a hideaway, ought to give theatre patrons all the excitement, laughs and romance that can be covered.

This attraction, to be seen at the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, May 18 and 19, co-stars Edmund Lowe, who has a strong way with women, and Claudette Colbert, who has a silent but equally effective way with men. Starring Edwin, George Meeker, Selma Boyle, Robert Stranoe and William Gargan are among those accorded conspicuous supporting parts.

"MAKER OF MEN"
Everyone who has ever felt their heart throbbing in their throat or a shuddering chill creep up their spine with fear—and brave men have said that the man who denies fear is a falsifier—will understand and sympathize with the lad whose particular problems are the subject of the thrilling drama told in "Maker of Men," at the Penniman Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, May 18 and 19.

Jack Holt is starred with Richard Cromwell, Joan Marsh, John Wayne, Robert Aldon, Natalie Moorhead and Richard Tucker playing important roles and Walter Catlett and Paul Hurst carrying the burden of comedy with their usual skillful ease. The story is chiefly concerned with Holt as the father and Cromwell as the son—or Holt as the "maker of men"—the college athletic coach, whose slogan for human behaviour was "loyalty and courage" and Cromwell as the boy who couldn't take physical punishment.

"DESTRY RIDES AGAIN"
Bellowing pistols, cracking whips, wild riding—the roaring West turned inside out in a whirlwind of screen action.

Plymouth Veterans To Make Poppy Sale May 28 a Real Event

To be out of work in these days of depression places a man in a very difficult situation, but to be both out of work and physically disabled make the situation doubly difficult. That is the very situation in which many thousands of men, who, thirteen years ago, were hailed heroic defenders of the country, find themselves today.

These men, our disabled World War veterans, have great difficulties even in normal times finding work which their shattered bodies and reduced strength will permit them to do. Today the position of those not eligible for government compensation or who are receiving only a few dollars a month from the government is desperate. They have only one hope and that is from their former comrades.

Veterans organizations are carrying out a nation-wide and continuous program of relief and rehabilitation work for the disabled and their families. The public sees little of this work and has little chance to participate, but on Saturday, May 28, every person in Plymouth will have an opportunity to contribute to the welfare of the men who sacrificed health and strength in the nation's defense.

This opportunity will come through the memorial poppies which are to be offered on the streets Saturday, May 28, by the Veterans organizations and their Auxiliaries. The poppies have been made by the disabled men, themselves, thousands having been given employment in this work during the winter and spring. All of the money raised through the sale of the flowers will go to decorate the graves of the dead and support the relief and rehabilitation program for the living. By wearing one of these poppies we all can pay honor to the war dead and perform a real service in their honor of greatest need for those men who served their country at such tremendous cost to themselves in its hour of greatest need.

How soon will the poppy work begin again? In government hospitals in many parts of the country and in the poppy work rooms this question holds first importance.

During the winter and spring several thousand disabled veterans have been given employment making the little red flowers which will be offered for sale on "Poppy Day," May 28, to be worn in honor of the World War dead. Now nearly ten million of the flowers have been completed. The job is nearly done. Until they start making poppies again there will be scant opportunity of employment for these disabled veterans.

How soon these men, who are barred from most occupations because they sacrificed their health and strength in the country's defense, can be placed back at work making poppies depends entirely upon the public response to the poppy sale May 28. If the ten million poppies which the disabled veterans have made for this year's sale are taken readily by the public they will feel able to begin work early on a larger supply of poppies for next year's sale.

The situation for the disabled veterans is especially desperate this year. Even in normal times it was difficult for them to find any means of earning money and under present employment conditions the poppy program offers almost the only possibility. Wear a poppy on "Poppy Day" this year, first, to pay tribute to the war dead; second, to provide funds for relief work among the disabled men and their families, and finally to create more employment for those heroic men who have nowhere else to look for work.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 8. Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 7:17): "For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them into living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."
Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 557): "Popular rheology takes up the history of man as if he began materially right, but immediately fell into mental sin; whereas revealed religion proclaims the Science of Mind and its formations as being in accordance with the first chapter of the Old Testament, when God, Mind, spoke and it was done."

Detroit Starts Big

Clea-up Drive
The annual Clean-up drive was officially opened on Monday, May 2, in Detroit with a parade starting at the Art Institute and dispersing at Jefferson and Cass avenues. A truck drawn by the seven prize horses of the Detroit (Crescent) Co. headed the parade followed by the Northwestern High school band and forty decorated cars containing captains and workers of the Civic Pride Association of Greater Detroit. Through the joint proclamation of the Mayors of Detroit, Highland Park and Hamtramck, the period of May 2-14, is set aside for the clean-up, modernize campaign which is to continue indefinitely. Its committee of which H. A. Harrington of the Board of Commerce is secretary, has worked consistently with the Civic Pride Association for the last seven years in the clean-up drive and it is the hope of the organization and the committee that this drive will stimulate interest in home remodeling and rehabilitation to provide work for thousands of unemployed citizens.
The first days activities showed a total of three hundred and forty three projects for civic betterment already undertaken and the Civic Pride workers are thoroughly canvassing their forty-two districts and reporting unsightly vacant lots littered with rubbish and abandoned automobiles, property owners who neglect to provide suitable receptacles for ashes and garbage, unsanitary conditions of alleys and uncollected waste paper in back yards and streets.

The annual Clean-up drive was officially opened on Monday, May 2, in Detroit with a parade starting at the Art Institute and dispersing at Jefferson and Cass avenues. A truck drawn by the seven prize horses of the Detroit (Crescent) Co. headed the parade followed by the Northwestern High school band and forty decorated cars containing captains and workers of the Civic Pride Association of Greater Detroit. Through the joint proclamation of the Mayors of Detroit, Highland Park and Hamtramck, the period of May 2-14, is set aside for the clean-up, modernize campaign which is to continue indefinitely. Its committee of which H. A. Harrington of the Board of Commerce is secretary, has worked consistently with the Civic Pride Association for the last seven years in the clean-up drive and it is the hope of the organization and the committee that this drive will stimulate interest in home remodeling and rehabilitation to provide work for thousands of unemployed citizens.

The way out of the present depression is to take the spotlight off from accumulated wealth and place it upon producing new wealth because unless new wealth is produced, the only place for the government to get revenue is by taking part of that which has been already created and now owned by individuals. In other words, our government always hunts for bears where there are, if, however, instead of spending millions of dollars in continuing the bank of high pressure advertising, industry generally would agree to take no profit in the form of money for a period of three or four months and by placing back into circulation the part which they do receive in the purchasing of new equipment, improved buildings, and larger wages, then there would be sufficient buying power during this period to purchase all goods produced. Dinner pails of the men would again be full, faith in each other again restored, banks would again be able to furnish credit, and industry would be again headed to recovery and business prosperity, but if we continue to follow the foolish practices of inflation, speculation, and attempting to store large cash reserves we would be happily headed towards another crash, depression, and misery.

United Veterans Ask Your Support

The local organization of veterans known as United Veterans, part of the nation-wide movement among veterans to stimulate national, state and civic consciousness on a basis of straight-forwardness will have its test in Plymouth this coming week.

From the inception of most veterans' organizations, previous to this period, when the bulwarks of public faith have been broken down for unnumbered thousands, the veterans were content to function as a purely social and charitable unit, working pitifully if at all, behind a smoke screen of fine ideals.

The fine ideals remain, but the expression of them from henceforth will be couched in plainer and unmistakable terms, suitable to the common man, who was, in more hectic days, merely the buck private who thought straight and such accurate.

Such men bore the brunt of war's combat and such men are bearing the brunt of economic combat now.

They, the common veterans have not been responsible for the enforced wandering in the maze of political by-paths into which they have been led by leaders who deluded them with idealistic phrases and betrayed them into the economic situation in which they now find themselves.

The local organization speaks with the thousands of independent units throughout the nation in plain terms. A new deal must be dealt and a spade must be a spade.

Two veterans are being supported for office in our new city government by the organization. Each of their opponents are capable and honest, but the men sponsored by this organization are also capable and honest and have further earned the right through meritorious service to their country in time of war to ask for your support and votes in time of peace. Roger J. Vaughn, who seeks the office of Justice of the Peace, and George R. Whitmore that of Constable, have the unqualified support of their comrades and their comrades ask the support of the citizens of their city in their behalf.

Much Work Being Done In Cemetery

The work of preparing the cemetery for the summer season has been under way for the past ten days with from two to seven men engaged in the work each day. The new seeding which was put in last fall has a good start, and the recent rains have aided in the growth and development of the newly seeded sections.

All Sewer Service Work to be Done By Village in Future

The cemetery will be completely in shape before Decoration Day, and from the present appearance of the cemetery it will be in better condition on Decoration Day than at any time in the past few years.

The new regulations at the cemetery have made possible improvements which were heretofore unobtainable. The policy of prohibiting the filling in and mounding of lots is a step forward in the beautification of the grounds. The valleys between these mounded lots are now being filled in and seeded and it is the plan to have a smooth, even surface throughout the cemetery. This will make possible the moving of the lots with a power mower at a much greater speed than was possible with the hand mowers.

The new policy also forbids the construction of concrete or stone curbing around the outside of lots, and it is planned to make a concerted drive to secure permission from lot owners on which curbs have been built to permit the Village to remove the curbs which will greatly improve the appearance of the entire cemetery.

Helen Morgan Wins Right to Appeal Her Case to High Court

Helen Joy Morgan, film actress, has been granted the right of appeal by the State Supreme Court in her conviction and sentence of 20 to 25 years for the murder of her garage-mechanic sweetheart, Les Castrol.

The convent-reared actress to the $500,000 estate of her mother, Mrs. Carrie Morgan, has been in the Detroit House of Correction since January 16. Every prison employe with whom she has come in contact declares that her conviction was a miscarriage of justice.

The high court's authorization of a right to appeal is a partial fulfillment of her elderly, deaf mother's vow not to relax her efforts until Helen was cleared of the murder. Bail fixed by the Supreme Court is $20,000, which it was expected would be posted at once.

The appeal fight began almost as soon as the gates of the House of Correction closed behind the actress. Mrs. Morgan went to Chicago and engaged Barrat O'Hara to carry the battle to the higher court.

The defense appeal is based on two points, that Judges James S. Parker erred in instructions to the jury in relation to the law defining justifiable homicide committed in self-defense and that Miss Morgan was prevented from giving important testimony in her own defense by ruling of the court.

Miss Morgan has been in the dress-making and clothing repair department since she entered the House of correction.

Ralph M. Freeman, prosecuting attorney, who conducted the case for the state in the murder trial of Helen Joy Morgan, when informed the Supreme Court had granted Miss Morgan the right to appeal and ordered her release on $20,000 bail, said:

"I am surprised that Miss Morgan has been admitted to bond. I don't believe that anyone convicted of murder in any degree should be free on bond. However, so far as the appeal is concerned I think that anyone is entitled to an appeal."

Cheap Paint Is Too Expensive To Use

Cheap paint is the most expensive paint that can be purchased, according to well known paint manufacturers and dealers who in these times urge people to get as much for their money as possible.

It has been demonstrated time and time again that good quality of paints will cover much more surface than cheaper qualities. Not only will they cover a greater surface but their lasting qualities are far superior.

During the clean-up and painting campaign it is urged that if you are to do any improving with paint, be sure and get the best quality as cheap paint is most expensive.
