

CUT BUDGET AND TAXES FOR THE NEW CITY

Tax Reduction of 35 Per Cent In Store for New City of Plymouth

The city commission has established a tax rate of $1.25 per thousand for the 1932 City Tax. This tax corresponds with the old Village tax and is payable to the City Treasurer between July 1st and August 10th.

The assessed valuation of the property in the City has been reduced approximately 11 per cent under the valuation as established last year. The total budget has been reduced approximately 13 per cent, which, with the reduction of 22 per cent in 1931, provides a tax reduction of 35 per cent for the tax payers of Plymouth in the past two years.

In addition to the above tax reductions the Township tax of approximately $2.00 per thousand has been entirely eliminated by changing to the City form of government. The tax reduction is made in line with the economy program which is absolutely necessary by all branches of government if tax payers are to be able to meet the tax obligations. It is hoped by the Commission that this further reduction in taxes will make possible the payment of City taxes without delinquencies being any higher than were experienced in 1931.

Word Contest Will End On June 25th

At midnight, June 25, Bob Willoughby's "Wear Enna Jettick Shoes" word contest will come to an end. The person making the greatest number of words of the letters used in spelling "Wear Enna Jettick Shoes" will be awarded a very substantial prize. Not only will there be a first prize, but the second and third nearest will be rewarded for their efforts. Mr. Willoughby has selected for his judges in the contest Supt. George Smith of the Plymouth public schools, C. A. Fisher and E. R. Eaton. Announcement of the winners will be made soon after the contest closes.

WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET JUNE 20th

Meeting of the League of Women Voters will be postponed from June 13 to June 20, as County League officials and those of Redford League, who are to be guests of Plymouth League, are called to a County Board meeting, June 13.

Several Plymouth Women Are Victimized By Smooth Talking Saleswoman-Warning In Issued

Berg Moore, secretary of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, is taking this occasion to issue a "fresh warning" against dealing with peddlers and solicitors who do not represent nationally known houses. Mr. Moore states, "I am again issuing this warning due to the fact that my attention has been called to financial loss suffered by several Plymouth women as a result of dealing with a smooth-talking saleswoman on an obscure concern located in a distant state. She told a plausible story, she bolstered her case by posing as a friend or at least an acquaintance of a well known local young lady, and she apparently created the impression in some cases, that the chapter of commerce had approved her merchandise, which in this case happened to be a line of knitted dresses. She asked for $5.00 deposits, the balance C. O. D. All deposits were lost, and one lady lost $25.00, the full amount of her investment, by the samples shown. Letters from some of the injured parties brought no satisfaction.

"The public residing in this trading area may rest assured that no one officially connected with the local chamber would recommend or endorse a line of merchandise of any form of solicitation without making a most thorough investigation, and then only by a signed statement. If approached, therefore, by any salesman or solicitor making the claim that he has already obtained approval from the chamber of commerce, demand a signed communication to that effect, and if not forthcoming, watch out.

"It is not often that I am approached by anyone wanting a written endorsement to cover community wide solicitation (probably because local chambers so seldom find anything having sufficient merit to qualify), but it is a common occurrence to be approached by a salesman with a 'sure-fire' scheme to bring increased business

Boy Scout Training Saves Life of Youth; Youngster is Hero

Fast thinking on the part of young "Billy" Swaddling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Swaddling of North Harvey street, averted what might have been a fatality in the waters of a small creek that runs from Phoenix lake last Friday afternoon.

Billy and a group of other young boys from Plymouth had gone to their favorite swimming hole to escape the sweltering heat of the day. William Fisher, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fisher was taken with cramps and was fighting a losing battle for his life when Billy jumped in after him. Fishing holds taught him in Boy Scout work young Billy was able to bring him close enough to shore where his companions lifted him on the bank. Boy Scout life saving methods were applied and the boys journeyed home determined to keep their adventure a secret. But as all deeds of valor out, news was soon spread and Billy became a hero over night.

Billy is a member of troop No. 2 of the Plymouth Boy Scouts and is in the fourth grade at Plymouth high school.

Words That We Appreciate

UNITED VETERANS OF AMERICA June 4, 1932

To the Editor, The Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan.

Dear Sir: At a meeting of the council of the local post of the United Veterans of America the Post collectively and as individuals wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the Plymouth Mail for the splendid notice which you gave to our unit covering the recent smoker held in the Crystal Room of the Mayflower.

As you know, this organization has been formed with the idea in mind: first to instill patriotism, second to create an interest in government and civic and especially the voting privilege and thirdly to study governmental and civic procedure.

Having these in mind and our objective, education, we note with pleasure and gratification that in many instances with which you have handled editorially, political, governmental and civic articles and with more than pleasure the uniformity, fair, clear and concise manner in which they were written.

Our schools could well use these as examples of good journalism and texts in the field of civics and political economy.

Respectfully, UNITED VETERANS OF AMERICA COUNCIL

"Pal Dinner" Proves Interesting Event

The fourth annual "Pal Dinner" of the Business and Professional Women's Club was held at the Mayflower Hotel, Monday evening, June 6th at 6:30 p. m.

During the regular business session, interesting reports on the State Convention, held last week in Kalamazoo, were given by the Club President, Rose Hawthorne, and by Irma Gunn, both of whom were representatives of the Plymouth branch at the convention. Their reports were most interesting and entertaining and brought to the homes an inspiration to be among those present another year. A convention item of interest to the local club was the appointment of Miss M. Safford to membership on the State Board of Directors.

In a social hour following the business meeting, each member in turn related the many mysterious factors shown her during the past club year, and was rewarded by hearing the formerly unknown name of her Pal.

Many expressions of appreciation were heard from the members for the courtesy shown the Club by the Hotel management, in decorations, special arrangements for their comfort and pleasure and the delicious dinner served them.

The final meeting of the year, to be held on June 24th, will combine the regular business meeting and a picnic.

The Daughters of the American Revolution request all members to display the flag of the United States of America from their homes on Tuesday, June 14, which is the National Flag Day.

to our local merchants. Investigation shows up the large majority of these schemes as little if any better than downright "rackets."

LAST MEETING OF P. T. A. HELD

No More Sessions To Take Place Until Fall Say Officials

Assembling Monday evening for the last time until next autumn, members of the Central School Branch of the Parent-Teachers Association heard an interesting talk by Mrs. L. A. Harrington, of Flat Rock, president of the Wayne County Council of Parents and Teachers.

The meeting was held in the Music Room of the Plymouth High School and was presided over by the president, Mrs. E. C. Humphries.

Mrs. Harrington concerned herself mostly with a report of the fifteenth annual state convention of the P. T. A., held in Kalamazoo in April, telling some of the highlights. She gave a comprehensive review of the affairs of the convention, which had for its keynote "character building. Among the most important visitors to the convention, according to Mrs. Harrington's reports were Mrs. Hugh Bradford, of Sacramento, Calif., national president, and Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, of Washington, D. C., chairman of the executive committee of the National Advisory Council on Hygiene, both of whom added considerably to the interest of the occasion.

Mrs. Harrington concluded her remarks with a cordial invitation to the Plymouth P. T. A. members to attend the series of council meetings next year which will have their program on the subject of "Child Hygiene."

INVESTIGATING MAIL THREATS

Through information that leaked out from the sheriff's office in Detroit Monday, it became known that Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson of Northville some two months ago received a number of threatening letters. Although both the sheriff's office and postal inspectors have been conducting a careful investigation of the matter, they have not been able to secure a clue as to who wrote the letters. Neither have they been able to discover the motive back of the mailed threats.

While the contents of the notes are known only to Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and the officers conducting the investigation, it is stated that they did not contain any threats of bombing or made no reference to the Lindbergh case as some of the Detroit papers said. It is known however that there were threats of kidnaping.

There is no way of knowing the purpose back of the letters from any of the contents it is said.

As soon as they were received they were immediately turned over to officers in Detroit. Not until Monday of this week did it become known outside of official circles that threatening letters had been received by the Richardsons.

Mr. Richardson is a lifelong resident of Northville and vicinity. Following the closing of the two local banks he was made a member of a committee to try and work out some plan for the opening of a bank in Northville. The report the committee presented was opposed by some of those who were affiliated with the two closed banks. Officers have been unable to connect his efforts towards the establishment of a bank in Northville with the letters they have been investigating.

Close Schools at Northville Early

Due to the lack of funds, the Northville school board Wednesday night voted to close the public schools of that place Friday of this week, two weeks earlier than had been planned. The schools will not reopen until October first, a month later than has always been the custom. This action cuts the expenses of six weeks of school operation. A mass meeting of the citizens of that community has been called for Monday evening to be held at the school when a full statement of affairs will be made by school officials.

CARL SHEAR MADE LOCAL PONTIAC AGT.

Through appointment of the Pontiac Automobile company C. G. Shear has been officially designated dealer for their products in Plymouth. A complete line of cars will be carried by him and a service and parts shop is now in operation at his garage.

Pontiac dealers will find every service required on their cars at his local agency and it will not be necessary to wait for parts as they will be stocked at all times.

Flag Day To Be Generally Observed In Plymouth Next Tuesday, June 14

Tuesday, June 14, Flag day in America, will be observed in Plymouth probably more generally this year than ever before due to the fact that the day will carry tenfold significance, as the nation celebrates the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. For to General Washington, from the thirteen original colonies, the very designing of the flag, and what he did to give it meaning is and will be known to every American as long as our country lives.

On June 14, 1777, Congress resolved: "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

In these simple words, authority was given to General Washington to design the flag, and on the same day tradition has it that he went to the house of Betsy Ross on that visit which has become one of the finest pages of American folklore.

It was according to the account, went Robert Morris and George Ross, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and the uncle of Betsy Ross' deceased husband.

On entering her modest home in Arch street, Philadelphia, they are said to have found Mrs. Ross busy at her needlework and humming a tune—softly, however, so that she might hear the tinkle of the bell on the door of her shop at the front of the house and General Washington thus simply stated his errand.

"Miss Ross, we have come to ask you to help in making a flag for our country. We do not feel pleased with the grand union flag because of the King's colors in the canton, so we have planned another."

The "grand union" flag referred to by Washington was the one he himself had designed and first flown to the breeze on January 1, 1776, during his siege of Boston. It was a flag with thirteen stars and thirteen stripes, but the stars and stripes were not arranged in the British King, but his ministers; hence Washington's flag consisted of the thirteen alternate red and white stripes, but here in its canton the king's crosses of St. George and St. Anthony.

By 1777 the revolutionists were fighting solely for an American nation, and they wanted an American flag. Mrs. Ross, it is said, undertook the making of the flag eagerly, and with an exalted sense of the unusual honor conferred upon her. Not only that, she even suggested to Washington a slight correction in the design, which she depicted star instead of the five-pointed star of heraldry. With a snip of her scissors she cut a fold of paper and held forth a perfect five-pointed star to show what she meant. For a few minutes longer the design was discussed, and as quickly as nimble fingers could execute the task, Mrs. Ross had the flag in being.

So, in this homely fashion which so well suits the American spirit, was born the emblem designed by Washington, coming almost like a direct gift from him, to fly ever since over the nation that he also designed. Today, every American is privileged to ponder on the stupendous human events and influences that have flowed from this simple incident at the house of Betsy Ross a century and a half ago.

When that flag was designed and made there was not a true Republic in existence. Hence, then the principles set in motion by George Washington and his fellow patriots have extended themselves to the uttermost parts of the earth. More than an emblem of sovereignty, the flag that Washington planned has been a symbol of human freedom, of equal opportunity, and political liberty wherever mankind has sought and fought for these things.

New Golf Course To Open Saturday

All arrangements have been completed for the formal opening of the new Wyld Golf course, Saturday. This is the new golf course that John Patterson has made on the old Patterson homestead on the Fire Mill road, near the Farmington road.

The new golf club, is for public use and those that have tried the place declare that the course is an excellent one.

The green fees are consistently low for such an excellent course and Mr. Patterson believes that as a result he will be able to work up an excellent business. The new club house has been completed and has all the features that golf players like. The opening takes place, Saturday, June 11.

Detailed Program For Flag Day - Picnic In The Park

Elaborate preparations are being perfected to properly celebrate Flag Day, next Tuesday, June 14th, as a part of the nation-wide, year around Washington Bicentennial Celebration. An outstanding feature of the interesting, instructive, and inspirational program will be the closing ceremony of the two hundred school children under the direction of Miss Luella Mae Kees. The occasion is scheduled to be observed at beautiful Plymouth Riverside Park, although in case of a downpour, the program will be switched to the High School auditorium. In either case the program will begin promptly at 6:30 p. m.

The program will be ushered in by music by the Plymouth High School Band. The first event will be a patriotic ceremony of raising the flag by a color guard and squad composed of veterans under the leadership of Melvin Algire, America will next be sung followed by a flag drill by Mrs. Ross' first grade pupils.

The next event will be an illustrated history of the flag by Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple with the assistance of Girl Reserves and Boy Scouts. Following the singing of another patriotic number, a group of veterans will display the correct use of the flag. The same detail of veterans will have charge of the closing ceremony, the lowering of the flag at sundown to the strains of the Star Spangled Banner.

Every man, woman, and child is urged to revitalize love of flag and country by attending this patriotic ceremony held in commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington. It is suggested that the parents of children taking part in the program and others make up parties and bring basket lunches to the park. The program itself will be staged on the field and hillside directly across the pavement from the park comfort station.

The Committee under the General Chairmanship of George A. Smith in charge of the Flag Day Program is made up of Miss A. Safford, Chairman, Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, Miss Lina Darfee, Arla A. Emery, Arno B. Thompson, Mrs. R. E. Cooper, Sidney Strong, Robert Joffe, and Mrs. Flora Rathburn.

Joint Memorial Is Held By Lodges

About 500 oldfellows and Rebekahs and their friends attended a joint Memorial at Plymouth, Sunday, June 5, fifteen lodges participating. The program began at 2 o'clock with a selection by Northville's splendid fifty-five piece band which was very well rendered. The Memorial drill by Collins Rebekah Lodge of Wayne composed of twenty-one ladies and two little girls was very impressive after which a prayer was offered by Bro. Roy Wheeler. The Grand Master of Michigan, Bro. Dow of Stanton gave the address.

The temple was prettily decorated with baskets of lilies and peonies. The program closed by the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." The band marched to the cemetery where the grave of Bro. Dean was decorated, he being the oldest member in Michigan at the time of his death.

NOTICE

Prices on Wonder Growing Maah at Eckles Coal and Supply Co. were quoted in an advertisement in last week's Plymouth Mail at $2.85 per 100. This price should have been $2.25 per 100. Starting Maah is listed at $2.65 per 100.

JUDGE TELLS OF ESTATE WORK

Rotarians Hear Judge Palmer of Wayne Probate Court

Probate Judge Ervin L. Palmer of Detroit, long regarded as one of the outstanding authorities on probate matters in Michigan, was a guest of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday. He made a brief talk on the work of his court that proved of more than ordinary interest because of the way the subject was presented by the speaker.

"There is always something of interest in probate work, always something new to be worked out," he said. "Especially is this true of wills that are presented for probating."

"Permit me to suggest right here that in view of the tremendous changes that have come about in economic conditions during the past year that even though you have prepared a will, it is advisable to have a new one drafted. Conditions that suited a will a year ago will not do today, so great have been changes in property values."

"Good is going to come out of this depression. People are coming down to earth and those who have been living way beyond their means, are now starting to live within their means."

The probate court has been termed the clearing house of sorrow. Possibly it is, but we try to make it a much different place. Proper and just administering of estates is an important task, especially in these times."

E. C. Hough was chairman of the program last Friday and in his introduction recalled the fact that Plymouth had provided Wayne county with a probate judge whose name will live for generations in Michigan history, Judge Durfee. It was Judge Durfee that Judge Palmer received his first appointment to work in the probate courts of Wayne county.

Business Stops During Funeral

Plymouth last Saturday afternoon paid a most fitting tribute to Edgar K. Bennett, whose death occurred a community wide, by the one of its most devoted citizens. During the funeral hour, all business places in Plymouth were closed, a mark of respect to one who had always found time to be of assistance and service to his friends and neighbors.

The Scherer funeral home was crowded with friends and the numerous floral tributes filled the chapel.

An unusual feature was the fact that Mr. Bennett's funeral was held from a place that during his boyhood was his home. The structure that in the years gone by was one of the attractive homes of Plymouth has been enlarged and remodelled into the beautiful Scherer Funeral home.

Rev. Walter Nichol declared the passing of Mr. Bennett had left vacant a place that will be difficult for the community to fill. He briefly told of the long and unselfish service and of the devotion of Mr. Bennett to the place he had always called home. Burial took place in Riverside.

Did You Know That

A dance will be given for the public by the Elk's Lodge, of Ann Arbor, No. 325, Friday, June 10, at Whitman Lake, Dusenberry's 14 piece orchestra.

Cherry Hill Golf Club green fees are only 25c including Saturdays and Sundays.

E. J. Brown attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, R. L. Robinson, in Toledo, Monday.

Window shades can be required and cleaned and done right in Plymouth at the National Window Shades factory. Also that we sell fine linoleum for any room in your home at unbelievably low prices.

Mrs. Fred R. Edwards of Detroit spent the week-end at the home of her niece, Mrs. Anthony Kregger.

Don't forget you can buy good used furniture at 828 Penniman avenue any time, Call No. 7 or 203-W. Buy anything you have to sell, Harry C. Robinson.

Plan Street Dance For Saturday Eve

Plymouth's first public street dance last Saturday night drew an excellent crowd but rain brought it to an end early in the evening. An Arab street, near the telephone office, had been roped off for the use of the amusement seekers, the place providing an excellent one for the dance.

There will be another dance held Saturday evening in the same place. Incidental entertainment and old time music will be added features. The "public address system" proved successful and the music could be heard plainly everywhere.

Frank Coward

Prominent young state banker now associated with Plymouth United Savings bank.

Grant Extension of Contest Time

Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, chairman of the judging committee in connection with the $25.00 cash prize Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up, Repair, and Home Modernization Contest, has announced a week's extension in the time for the final judging and naming the winner. Several requests for a brief extension were received from participants in the contest due to the fact that frequent rains and uncertain weather has retarded progress in connection with plans for repainting and redecorating.

The winner of the $25.00 cash prize will therefore be announced in the Friday, June 17th, issue of the Plymouth Mail.

Mrs. J. D. Horton and children were Sunday visitors at the Anthony Kregger residence in Robinson Sub.

The Plymouth School Dollar, How It Is Spent And Sources From Where It Comes

MAINTENANCE OF PLANT INSURANCE AND RENT CAPITAL OUTLAY LIBRARY, HEALTH WORK

In the last two issues of the Plymouth Mail relative to school costs of Plymouth schools in comparison with other similar schools were discussed from the standpoint of tax rates and, second, from the standpoint of pupil costs. The concluding article upon the school dollar, how it is spent, and the sources from which it comes ought to prove both instructive and interesting to the residents of Plymouth.

The Plymouth school dollar is spent as follows:

Under instructional costs are included all salaries of teachers, all teaching supplies and Commencement expenses.

Under operation of plant are included wages of the engineer and janitors, fuel, water, light and power, janitors' supplies, etc.

Under debt service are included payment on bonds and interest on bonds.

Administration includes the superintendent's salary, total expense of the Board of Education in maintaining elections, salary of the superintendent's secretary who keeps books for the school district, supplies and other expenses incurred in general control by the Board of Education.

The library and health work imply just what the term signifies. Maintenance of plant includes general repair and replacement of building and equipment.

Capital outlay includes all new equipment.

It will also be good news to the community to know that it has been unnecessary for the Board of Education this year to borrow any money (during the first time in years that it has occurred) and that there are sufficient funds with which to finish the school year. Further, it will be possible under the economies which have been effected by the Board of Education, to materially reduce the burden of school taxes for the year 1932-1933.

FRANK COWARD JOINS STAFF OF UNITED BANK

One Of Best Known Young Bankers of State Comes Here

Announcement has been made by officials of the Plymouth United Savings bank of the appointment of Frank L. Coward of Port Huron as an assistant to President C. A. Fisher, the selection having been made necessary by the illness and death of E. K. Bennett who had served the bank as cashier for a long period of years. Desiring to keep the bank up to the high standard it has always maintained and to which the customers of the bank are accustomed, officials of the bank used exceptional care in the selection of a new employee.

After a most careful inquiry among prominent bankers and business men of the state, the board of directors of the Plymouth United Savings bank announced this week the selection of Mr. Coward for this important position. Mr. Coward comes to the bank as one of the most highly recommended young bankers of Michigan.

He began his banking career in his home town of Bronson, Mich., where his father is at present president of the First State Savings Bank.

Mr. Coward, after leaving Bronson, served some time with the state banking department as an examiner of Michigan banks. After acquiring the knowledge he sought of the state banking department Mr. Coward took up active work in one of the large banks of the state and was finally sent to Port Huron to help consolidate two of Port Huron's large banking institutions. Mr. Coward assumed his duties at the Plymouth United Savings Bank on Wednesday last, June 1st, and intends to remove his family from Port Huron to this city immediately. We speak for Mr. Coward the confidence and respect of this community to which from all reports he is entitled. All bid Mr. Coward a hearty welcome to the community.

STANDARDIZATION AND ADVERTISING CUT COSTS

I heard a speaker the other day criticize advertising for standardizing our lives and then launch into a long and eloquent appeal for a special kind of patriotism that he considered essential.

As I heard him, I felt that he was wrong on both issues. Not wholly wrong, perhaps, but wrong for the most part. It strikes me that there are two kinds of standardization, physical and mental. You can't separate them completely, because each affects the other, but somewhat of a line can be drawn.

Physical standardization, up to a certain point, is a good thing. We are living in a machine age. It offers us comforts and luxuries such as have never been possible before. But it offers us these only through the adoption of mass production, which means standardization, and through advertising, which is the most potent means for distributing the standardized products. Thus we get sound, reliable products at a price that we can pay. Standardization generally reduces prices. What, for instance, would we have to pay for an automobile if every car were custom-built by a small group of mechanics who produced cars only for the people of a little community? This is the way carriages were built at one time. It is the way all articles used to be produced, except the considerable list of things, from soap to trousers, that were made in the individual home.

I admit that something has been lost in the shift to standardized products. The old idea of craftsmanship is not prevalent any more, and it was—and is—a fine ideal. Even so, however, it has not disappeared altogether. Some time ago I saw an exhibition of modern French furniture which was strictly craft work. It was as beautiful, to my eyes, as any furniture that I have ever seen. Yet it would have cost approximately four thousand dollars to furnish one moderate-sized room with it. Craft work can still be obtained, but the price is prohibitive to most of us. As a matter of fact, it always was. The average person's home today is much better furnished than the average home was at any previous time in history. The fine furniture, the fine food, the fine homes, of older days belonged to the rich. Mass production and advertising have brought something of fineness into the physical surroundings of everyday folk.

Moreover, mass production and advertising have shortened the hours of labor in industry, in trade, and in the home. A degree of physical standardization gives us more leisure.

But if we use this leisure in an effort to standardize our thinking, as the speaker that I heard urged, it will be about the end of progress. Standard brands of opinion and ideals have never done any good. We do well to keep some physical standardization, but use the leisure it gives to keep our minds free and individual as we need as much variety of opinion as we can get.—Nelson A. Crawford, Household Magazine, Topeka, Kansas.

WHAT TAXES COST YOU

"At the beginning of the World War every man in the United States worked 25 days for the national, state, and local governments combined.

"Ten years later, in 1924, he worked 46 days a year to pay for these governments.

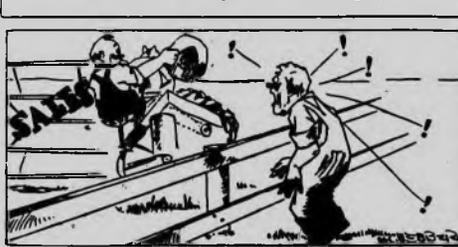

"Today he works 61 days out of every year to pay for the support of all forms of our government."

These figures, used by President Hoover in his plea for governmental economy before the recent congress of governors of our states, tell their own story. And they tell it in a way every taxpayer, every voter can comprehend.

If You Expect to Reap

What is being done about it? Nothing. Congress is adding more than a billion to our national tax bill, and at the same time refusing to make any reduction worthy of the name in expenses.

The budgets of the various state governments reach new record figures each year.

Only in local city governments, in closer political contact with the people, has there been any disposition to cut expenses and taxes.

What can be done about it? This is up to the taxpayers, the voters themselves. When their ballots turn out from places of public power the men now engaged in wasting public money, then, and then only, may they expect their taxes to return to a reasonable figure.

THE SPIRIT OF OUR FOREFATHERS

An old man in Philadelphia, who lost his only son during the World War, has written the federal government saying that he wants to help it meet expenses, offering the $2,000 he has saved from his war risk insurance payments and his monthly pension of $57.50.

"I gave up my boy to help the nation carry on in war times," he wrote, "and the least I can do is to give my money to help carry on now."

Refreshing indeed is this view of the present situation. Most men are bent on seeing how much they can get out of the government, rather than what they can give to its up-building. One can not help wonder what some of the able-bodied emergency officers on "disability" pay think of the gentleman in Philadelphia.

If a lot more of us had the same viewpoint of government as this patriotic old man we would be much farther ahead as a nation. The United States grew to its present size because of what its citizens gave to it, not took from it. And it will continue to grow and to flourish as we contribute to its welfare, not as we grab from its resources.

UN-MISSING LYNX

Business men of South Wheelock, Vt., are making the fur fly, not as the outgrowth of one of those small-town rows that divide the combatants into opposite camps, but the banding together against a common menace. And yet this menace is not so common, either. It is wild cats! Driven from their usual haunts by lingering snows in the hills, these undomesticated Tommies and Tabbies have invaded the town. The merchants of South Wheelock wish it understood that they do not ordinarily neglect their business to go a-hunting, but that when the wild cats began to infest the main street it was necessary to draw the feline somewhere.

HUSH RACKET

A Los Angeles man and his wife have complained to the authorities that they were mulcted out of $170 by two men who halted their car, searched it for liquor and, finding a small quantity, accepted the money as the price of silence. There is one sure way of outwitting this type of racketeer, and that is not to haul liquor in cars.

A Prayer

Almighty and eternal God, whose will doth sway the destiny of the universe and of human life, before whose eyes nothing is covered or concealed; preserve us in our secret life from all idle reverie, from all impurity of thought, from moments of self-pity, pride, and petulance, and give to us the inner calm, the due serenity of soul, principled in faith and hope and love.

Touch Thou our lips with kindly wisdom, that with grace and clearest insight our words may rise on winged feet above confusion's wide expanse, clothing our thought with the rare bloom and fragrance of that knowledge which reveals the constant inflowing of God into the affairs of men. ### Joy

There's joy a-plenty in this world
 To fill Life's silver cup
 If you'll only keep the corners
 Of your mouth turned up.

Rambling Around with Michigan Editors

LET THE SKUNKS TRY IT!

One of the chief beneficiaries of the state pay roll said the other day that Vern J. Brown would be hog-tied and hamstring when the personnel commission to investigate salaries began their work. This man indicated that there were enough friendly politicians on the commission and enough influence to make Brown's effort to clean out the loafers and the pensioners die aborning.

Perhaps this is so. If it is, we shall look to Mr. Brown and Mr. Espie, both members, to keep the taxpayers of Michigan informed of who, why and how sensible economies are defeated. There is no question but that Brown has incurred the animosity of several hundred soft-job holders. His kind of publicity is poison to them. They will not lose their jobs without a struggle.

It is going to be interesting to watch the outcome of this commission. If it fails we feel sure that the seventy newspapers which have carried Brown's articles will go further. As has been suggested a number of times "if Brown's articles are untrue why has not some person started a libel suit?" There will be no libel suits. In fact, the half has not been told.—Schuyler Marshall in the St. John's Republican-News.

SHALL WE BECOME A CITY?

The Village of Bloomfield Hills is going to become a city. It believes that by changing its identity it will save considerable in taxes that it now pays to help support the township governmental unit. Birmingham is studying the same proposition, and in the near future will vote on the question. Now is the time for free and open discussion on the proposed change. Now is the time to bring forth, without personality or prejudice, the objections to the change, so that the whole community may have the benefit. This newspaper, after studying the matter at much length, believes the change will help Birmingham's pocketbook. We welcome, however, criticisms of the proposed change.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

NOT A HOPEFUL PICTURE

We believe it is hopeless to try to reopen closed banks in the average village. In the first place, where is the ability to operate the bank, under present conditions, and over a five year period where are the depositors coming from? We do not anticipate any more failures in this county but five years from now will see three or less parent banks in Eaton county through a policy of consolidation. The last legislature provided for branch banks within a radius of 15 miles which act was aimed to cover counties like Eaton but the thought of trying to operate banks in diminishing villages is no longer practicable.—Muri DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican.

FOOLS EVERYWHERE

We are wondering what kind of a sour son-of-a-gun must be in charge of that branch of the U. S. post office department that forbids the planting of the usual pretty flower beds around the local federal building. That extra interest being taken in the beautification of the post office property wasn't costing Uncle Sam a cent, but it was inspiring some employees to acts that were not only beneficial to themselves, but enjoyed by all, and then to have an official mandate come along that they shall not plant or grow flowers on a post-office site. That's the last stretch of absurdity.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

SOMETHING MONEY CAN'T BUY

Thank God money, as useful as it may be, does not buy everything. It buys neither peace of mind or contentment. It may bribe judges and jurists, priests and preachers, passports into clubs and orders, but it cannot undo the first wrong act of the boy or man who in the moment of temptation yields to the baser nature, nor can it restore the virgin color of innocence to the maiden's cheek, nor give the dying man or woman a single grain of comfort on their passage to the other shore, and all because these most desirable conditions are of the spirit and have nothing to do with the outside dash.—J. E. McMullen in Linden Leader.

Thoughtlets

A strong will is firmness. A strong won't is obstinacy.

Polltiness is a coin that passes current in every land.

Tell your pipe stories to the plumber. He enjoys them.

Kissing comes as natural to a girl as a fly does to a bald head.

Things That Count

By Spencer M. Free
 'Tis the human touch in this world that counts.

The touch of your hand and mine,
 Which means far more to the fainting heart.

Than shelter and bread and wine,
 For shelter is gone when the night is o'er.

Our bread lasts only a day,
 But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice

Sing on in the soul alway.

THE OLD PRECEPTS OF THRIFT

The old precepts of thrift as first elaborated by Benjamin Franklin are certain to play an important part in the lives of all of us who hope and expect to get ahead financially. Big money and easy profits have temporarily been relegated to the past.

The financial salvation of each individual depends upon his spending a little less than he earns and conserving the difference. A savings book is the best aid yet invented to assure the success of such a program. We have one for you.

FREEDOM FOR SPINSTERS

IN EVERY book on social decorum written within the last 75 years there is a special chapter or series of paragraphs devoted to the spinster, the bachelor girl or the old maid, as the writer chooses to call the unmarried woman who is no longer in her first youth. Even in books written comparatively recently there appear a great many special rules for this individual. Sometimes we are informed that "even a distinctly middle-aged spinster" observes certain laws of chaperonage.

Now in a very limited group of persons found usually only in the large cities or fashionable summer colonies, which by reason of wealth and position sets the fashion in many matters of social propriety, the fact is that the unmarried woman of maturing years is still hedged in by a lot of curious and Victorian prejudices. An absurd suspicion is cast on her by those who would insist that she travel only with a woman companion, and that she refrain from going to places of entertainment with any man save a near relative.

The idea apparently once was that an unmarried woman had to do a sort of penance for never having succumbed to the charms of any of her suitors and for having steered clear of the obligations of matrimony. And so by the authorities on social decorum of fifty years ago she was reminded that she must wear caps earlier than her married sisters, that she must affect somber colors, as gay hues were unseemly on the woman who was unmarried.

But now we laugh at such notions. Unmarried women no longer feel that they must attach themselves to the homes of others in the capacity of maiden aunt to other people's children. If they have a taste for housekeeping they keep house and are as domestic as they choose to be, they adopt children if they have a well-developed maternal instinct, they are even called upon nowadays to act as chaperones for younger maids, though once, of course, even a spinster of seventy would have been regarded as an unsuitable chaperone, and if she were well bred she would have blushed to travel without a chaperone herself.

BEFORE we know the spring is here
We find the summer all about.
And then the first faint frosts appear
And summer's skies are blotted
Before we note the falling leaves
The leaves are covered by the snow.
Yes, all the things the earth receives
As swiftly come, as swiftly go.

So suddenly the seasons pass
Not even winter lingers long;
The hills again are green with grass,
The skies again are filled with song.
And so it is with joy and grief,
For grief and joy are always strange;
The bursting bud, the falling leaf,
So quickly do the seasons change.

We find some comfort even in this.
We know how fragile joy can be;
And, wise with sorrow, when we kiss
Perhaps we kiss more tenderly,
Love better and live better, too,
And grieve, perhaps, with greater hope
From having seen the gray grow blue,
The grass return to the sward.

Slap! That Big, Fat Fish Dropped From High Up in the Air, Had Hit Buster Full in the Face. ment of watching Plunger try to get away from King Eagle. At first he hoped that Plunger would get away from King Eagle. Then as he saw how nearly over him they were he wished that Plunger would drop that fish. If he should drop it fish perhaps, he Buster, might dine on fish after all. And such a fish as it was! The very sight of it was enough to make Buster's mouth water.

When Buster got his wits together and could see straight he saw that the fish had fallen a little to one side after hitting him, and he also saw that King Eagle was hovering over it and just reaching down to seize it in his great claws. Now Buster may be clumsy looking, but I know of no one who can move more quickly than he can. He moved quickly now. "That's my fish," he roared, rushing at King Eagle so suddenly that King Eagle didn't have time to get the fish, and was thankful to get out of Buster's reach.

Newburg

Children's Day exercises will be held Sunday next at the usual Sunday school hour. There will be no preaching service. Parents are especially invited to present their children for baptism at this service.

Last Friday evening the Epworth League put on a play, entitled, "Mother Mine," under the direction of Mrs. Frank Purdy. One can safely say it was one of the best they have ever given here, the entire cast taking their parts exceptionally well. The following numbers were given between acts: a piano and violin duet, by Dorothy and Donald Schmidt; piano solos, by Alice Bakewell and Thelma Holmes; reading, "Roller Skating," by Miss Henrietta Winkler; the entire cast sang, "John Brown's Ford." Owing to the lack of publicity there were not many in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swanson of Saginaw, spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Purdy and family. They are on their way to their new home in Holyoke, Mass.

Mrs. Purdy called on Georgia Watchell of the Stark school last week. At the U. of M. hospital, five weeks ago she was operated on for a ruptured appendix. Sorry to say, she is not improving at this time.

Mrs. Marlin Simmons underwent a major operation Saturday at the Highland Park General Hospital. She has the sympathy of her many friends.

Miss Marlon Stiffen of Grand Blanc and Joe Liday of Detroit called on Mrs. Elton Moyer last Saturday evening.

Mr. Wilbur Custer of Yale, Mich., called on Mrs. C. E. Ryder, Memorial Sunday.

Mrs. C. E. Ryder called on Mrs. Vina Joy and sister, Mrs. Wade last week Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell spent Decoration Day in Lansing.

Those that graduated from the 8th grade were as follows: Dwight L. Paddock, Howard Holmes, Ethel Bennett, Lionel Coffin, John Parrish, Irvin Geer, John Reginski, Edmund Zedasko, David Gates, Donald Himes and Frank McGary. The diplomas were presented last Saturday at Elizabeth Park. Only a few of those were able to attend, on Friday evening, June 10th, there will be held in Newburg a Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts of the Northville, Plymouth, Rosedale Gardens and Newburg Troops. The ceremonies will be held on the plot of ground belonging to Mr. Rossman, north of the Perkins' home. The hour is 6 o'clock in the evening. Anyone may attend and every one is urged to come. Let us show our interest in our boys! The troop with the most friends present will receive the honor banner. Last court of honor banner was won by Rosedale Gardens, Newburg turn out and let's win.

Sunday evening, June 12th, Mrs. Blanche Francis, wife of our Methodist pastor in Rosedale, Michigan will speak at the Epworth League service. She is especially anxious to meet young people, but every one will be more than welcome. You will want to hear her!

An opportunity will be given next Sunday at Children's Day service for the baptism of babies.

When the Tigers Play at Home

25 YEARS AGO

Interesting bits of news Taken from Plymouth Mail

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James Burnett, Sunday, a girl, W. T. Pettigill and Charles Butterfield were Walled Lake visitors yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Draper spent Monday and Tuesday with friends in South Lyon.

The Plymouth Creamery is now receiving about 28,000 pounds of milk and making over four tons of butter per week.

The council made a new and legal tax levy Monday night which now provides six mills for the general fund and four mills for the street fund. New seats were ordered for the park and it was also voted to have the "tall" grass in our "handsome" park mowed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Riggs visited in Reed City this week.

C. H. Rauch and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Park were at Walled Lake this week. Crops look rather slim so far and hay looks like a very short crop.

Almost every home in Livonia Center has a rheumatic patient this kind of weather.

SALT AND PEPPER DESCRIBE LOST SUIT

Reporting to police in Charles, W. Va., that his salt and pepper suit had been stolen, D. C. Coleman prepared a package of salt and pepper carefully mixed so the sleuths could not go wrong.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"LENA RIVERS"
One of the best known of the old melodramas is "Lena Rivers," Tiffany Productions' picture playing at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, June 12 and 13.

Tiffany executives have chosen an excellent cast of talented actors for the picture and the adaptation of the Mary J. Holmes book by Stuart Anthony and Warren B. Duff handles the old story of a child left to suffer for her mother's mistakes with many refreshing touches.

Charlotte Henry as Lena Rivers will be remembered particularly for her work in "Huckleberry Finn," although Miss Henry has had other notable successes on both the stage and screen.

Morgan Galloway, the youthful sweetheart of Lena Rivers, is somewhat of a newcomer to the screen. Already an established juvenile favorite on the stage, Mr. Galloway brings much of the charm of the old South as well as real ability to the screen.

Beryl Brewer, James Kirkwood, Joyce Compton, Betty Rhyne and John St. Polis give fine performances.

"WHILE PARIS SLEEPS"
The swash-buckling, back-breaking, globe-trotting Victor McLaglen star of such screen masterpieces as "What Price Glory," "The Cocky World" and a host of others, comes to you on Wednesday and Thursday, June 15 and 16 at the Penniman Allen Theatre in a new type of role. He leaves behind him the devil-may-care character of his past performances to devote himself to portrayal of a father's devotion for a daughter who does not know him. The picture is "While Paris Sleeps" and its treatment is filled with the intrigue, the mystery and the romance of Paris at night.

In the cast with McLaglen is Helen Mark, a Fox Debutante Star of the current season. William Bakewell, another promising youngster, is cast opposite Miss Mack.

Cherry Hill
The young peoples Sunday school class met Friday evening at the home of Marjorie Gill.

Mrs. Jennie Houk and Jane Oliver spent Friday evening and Saturday in Detroit with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williams.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday with Mrs. George Gill.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hawker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hays spent with Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Hearl of Whitaker.

Little Rose Sallies spent the week-end with her father, Peter Sallies of Ypsilanti.

TOOTH MAY CAUSE LOSS OF EYE
While he was extracting a molar from a patient, the tooth slipped from the forceps and struck and shattered one of the eyeglasses of Dr. F. R. Hamilton, of Paus, Ill. A piece of the broken glass punctured his eyeball. Physicians fear he will lose the sight of the eye.

CRIPPLE SAVES LIVES
Awakened by smoke, Danny Ylanti, five-year-old cripple, cried the alarm that aroused 12 persons in two families and prevented their being trapped by flames in their two-story dwelling, at Rochester, N. Y.

Sundays—Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass.
 Week-days—Mass at 7:30. This hour makes it convenient for the children to attend on their way to school. All should begin the day with God.

Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society.

Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 9:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

 Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the men of the parish. Each mass on Sunday will be a low mass and a short instruction. Religious instructions for the children will be discontinued until October. Parents are urged to take special care of their children during the vacation months.

 8:30 p. m. Junior League.

At the ten thirty service a pageant entitled "Of Such is the Kingdom" will be presented by the Junior and Primary departments of the Sunday school for the annual Children's Day exercises. The scene of the pageant is a beautiful garden, flowers, birds, trees and sunbeams are represented by children. A rose fairy appears to eight girls who go out seeking the loveliest thing in the world. This proves to be children, because Jesus said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

A part of the service will be the promotion of the Junior and Primary Departments. There will also be a service of baptism for children, and reception of new members.

Last winter a large number of teachers and prospective teachers of the Sunday school attended two classes of teacher training. Credit for this work is given by the International Board of Sunday schools and these credits are now on hand and will be given to those who have earned them in a recognition service which also will be a part of the morning program.

The Sunday school will hold its June meeting tonight.

Plenty of Crime In Russia, But People Know Little Of It

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club who within the past few months have been three different addresses on Russia by Americans who have been in that country during the past year, will be interested in the following article written for a New York paper on the crime situation in the Soviet:

Moscow pays scant heed to crime and it is not much affected by it. It is not that the people are not interested in murder and robbery and their attendant motives, gold and love; it is because the newspapers publish little or nothing on the subject unless the crime has a political element like the attempted assassination of the German Ambassador or the activities of engineers accused of trying to throw a wrench into the cogwheels of the five-year plan.

No people is more curious than the Russians and nowhere do crowds gather more quickly on the street around a minor accident. They would be delighted to have lurid killings dished up in their morning papers, but the Kremlin does not believe in this sort of fare. It believes this would take their minds off completing the five-year plan and building up socialism. All this leads to the question, "Is there crime in Russia and do its cities have underworlds?"

There are murders, for occasionally the newspapers mention one but without going into detail. One such was published recently, but only in order to establish the identity of the slain man. Subsequent investigation showed he had been killed for 1,000 rubles and a fur coat, but this was not printed.

If hated Kolaks slay Communist supporters the news is invariably printed. The motives here are greed and lust, but there is the added political coloring which constitutes these acts counter-revolutionary as well as criminal. Kolaks murder peasants because the peasant want to join collective farms and support the Soviet Government rather than work for the Kolaks. If one man kills another in an ordinary quarrel the maximum penalty is ten years in prison, but if he kills him for political reasons the sentence generally is death. Right now the Soviet Supreme Court is sitting in Tashkent judging the Ussuekistan chief prosecutor and other court officials for their lives on the grounds that they aided and abetted local Kolaks in nefarious activities. Armless, tongueless and earless peasants have testified that Kolaks malmed them because they went over to the side of the Reds.

In the towns petty thievery is widespread. But the penalties are light when the thief is caught. It is safe to say that there is no organized crime in the non-political sense and no organized gangs. Occasionally the activities of a band crop up in the press; for instance the case of the fifty railway employees who were arrested in Moscow for mulcting railway and citizens of all sorts of supplies. This band had keymen, guards, scouts and printing presses for preparing false documents and licenses. But in general it is difficult to carry on any organized crime owing to the efficiency of the police, which check up on every one and keep a line on every one's pursuits.

It is rumored that there still are some bandit gangs in the wilder corners of the Soviet Union—rough nomads living mostly on horseback, but not on land about them unless it is troopers stationed in those regions. If there is no publicity given to internal crime in the Soviet press there is still less space given to crime in other countries. No mention is made of the Lidborgh tragedy, either in news reports or editorially. Czarina's name is sometimes seen, since Vlaschenov Molotov, President of the People's Council of Commissars, has used him as an instrument to satirize capitalist nations, but otherwise there is no reflection in the Russian newspaper of foreign gangsters and bootleggers and their deeds.

Rosedale Gardens

Coodenors of all are extended Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Russell who buried their son Gale at the Riverside Cemetery last Friday.

Rev. Milton Bennett, of Rosedale Presbyterian Church, conducted services both at the home on Ardou avenue, and at the graveside beneath the old oak trees. Four of the little fellow's former playmates, Misses Pauline Taylor, Mary Jean Cluffie, Patricia Kimball and Jean Ames acted as pall bearers. A large number of beautiful floral pieces were sent by the many, many friends of the family.

The many, many friends of the late Mr. Edgar K. Bennett, cashier of the Plymouth United Savings Bank were shocked to hear of his death last week.

Though a greater loss to Mrs. Bennett, the family, and the bank, of Rosedale Gardens had no less learned to admire him in our business dealings, and love him for himself. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to his widow and daughter, his sister and brother.

Ball Club Dance of the Rosedale diamond players will be held at Perriusville tomorrow (Saturday the 11th) instead for the uniform funds, and then another dance on another Saturday week or two at the St. Michael's Parish Hall, Rosedale Gardens.

The boys have completed their organization work, having elected Dale Wilson, manager, profem and everybody as a committee to work on the new home grounds, and to sell the four bit tickets per couple for the dances.

Every evening they are working hard at the home club grounds just north of the Parish building and expect it will all be complete for practice play next Saturday and game on Sunday afternoon, which is scheduled for a good live contest with the Detroit Questions, who they beat three weeks ago.

Rev. Fr. John E. Conway, our Parish Pastor, has led several athletic teams to victory in parishes where he has served, and in helping our Ball Club here by giving the grounds and the use of the Hall, he has again helped in making a club a social, financial and sporting success as well as earned additional praise from the lovers of a good clean and typical American sport.

We have hopes of having the best ball club in rural community life in addition to the best home grounds. Let's all help boost the home club. Children's First Communion next Sunday at 8:00 a. m. Mass will bring forth a number of our kiddies for their first communion for the first mass of its kind in the St. Michael's church. The Pastor, Rev. Fr. John E. Conway is particularly anxious that the parents of the little folks to receive their first communion be also present and receive the sacrament at the same time as their children. Cards, Luncheon at the Parish Hall this week was another success. Mrs. Walter Colley and Mrs. Roy Mason were hostesses yesterday.

Board of Review

In session last Tuesday and Wednesday will again meet next Monday and Tuesday, 32121 Plymouth Road, where all complaining taxpayers may enter their complaints, if any, and get the Messrs. Ernie Ash and Johnnie Walker to "see what can be done about it," or something, or nothing. However the little fellows will try and do their best for all concerned, and that's that!

Gone and Moved and to be missed by everyone are the Don Woods and Dan MacConnell families.

Just Gone have the yellow roses, spirea, and the dandelions in all their glory, the lilacs and iris going fast, but roses and June brides are here.

Rain Showers kept R. Pampalunas busy all night last week Thursday and all pumps working for a little while one time, but Supt. Alfred Houke, and Walter Geisler and Stuart Wank kept the grease cups filled and the wells way below automatic normal levels in case of another cloud burst. Of course the rain is welcome on R. new shrubs and growing gardens, even if the land is real wet "underneath."

MOVIE REVEALS BROTHER

Twenty-five years ago, Robert Wright of Sea Cliff, N. Y., parted from his brother, Alex, in Scotland. He had never seen him since and had lost all trace of him until he entered a theatre and saw the name of his brother flashed upon the screen as technical director of the feature picture. Robert wrote to Alexander D. Wright, of Pasadena, Cal., and found he was his brother.

WIFE FORGIVES HUSBAND

Near death from blows of a hammer wielded by her husband, Mrs. Alice Lewis, of Milton, Mass., was able to write a note of forgiveness before she lay down with him to die from asphyxiation by gas. "My dear husband did not know what he was doing when he struck me with the hammer," read the note. "I want to go with him."

SUMMER PLEASURES await them in MICHIGAN URGENT relatives and friends who live outside of Michigan to spend their vacations in this great summer-playland. Michigan's scenic beauties, her resorts, hotels and fine highways are world renowned. Summer visitors return again and again. The millions of dollars spent each year by Michigan's thousands of visitors add to the prosperity of the state. Let us also spend our own vacations in Michigan this year, thereby contributing still further to its prosperity. And wherever you go, dispel worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call friends to tell them when you will arrive. Telephone ahead for hotel accommodations. Long Distance rates are low.

"FLAVOR" ... more delicious than you've ever tasted before—that's ELECTROCHEF electric cooking!

To bring out the fullest flavor in foods, it is necessary that they cook in their own juices, preserving all of their delicious natural elements. This is one of the most popular features of electric cooking. The modern Electrochef SEALS-IN nourishing and healthful juices in roasts, and cooks meats and vegetables to melting tenderness with the addition of very little water. This conserves precious minerals and food values. The Electrochef oven is practically self-basting, like a pressure cooker. You will appreciate, also, Electrochef's cool cooking on these hot summer days. No matter how much you use the range, it will not overheat the kitchen. See Electrochef at any Detroit Edison office.

Something About The Candidates For Next School Board

At the suggestion of one interested in school matters, the Plymouth Mail this week requested various candidates for election as members of the school board, to provide the voters with some information pertaining to their qualifications. The following responded:

CARLTON R. LEWIS
Carlton R. Lewis is a candidate for election to the School Board. Mr. Lewis is a native of this section. He was born at Cherry Hill thirty-eight years ago, and has been five years a resident of Plymouth. Mr. Lewis is a tax payer, and has long been interested in matters of education, both as the father of two children, and for two years as Vice President of the Parent-Teachers Association. Mr. Lewis is not a politician, but neither is he a stranger to public confidence, having served acceptably as Treasurer of Canton Township. He is the type of citizen who assures us a combination of honesty, energy, and efficiency in office. RUTH E. HUSTON-WHIPPLE

Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple is one candidate for the Board of Education who knows the Plymouth school system both as student and teacher. She attended the first kindergarten established in Plymouth and graduated from Plymouth High School in 1913. After that she attended Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts for a year, and then was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1918. In 1925 she took her Master of Arts degree in Public Speaking from the same institution.

The following record of her debating and teaching success over a period of 13 years in Michigan is taken from the section, "Who's Who" in "The Michigan Alumnus" for Jan. 1, 1932:
RUTH E. HUSTON-WHIPPLE, '18, A. M. '25
was the first woman to try out for debating at Michigan, and while on the Campus was a charter member and the first President of the Athena Debating Society. As a teacher of public speaking, she has amassed an imposing record—her debating teams having won six Detroit city championships, two State championships (four times runners-up for state honors), three city cups, eight Detroit Free Press cups, four state cups, and 107 out of 120 decision debates. She has been Secretary, Vice President and President of the Michigan Association of Teachers of Speech, and is the present Treasurer of the Detroit group. To have this recognition in the Alumnus is an educational honor in itself, because only 10 women are so honored each year.

Ruth Huston-Whipple is also the author of a number of magazine articles, and of two books—"Debating for High School" published in 1929 by Glan & Company, and the other "Debate Coaching," published in 1931 by D. C. Heath and Company. At present she is writing a third book. She is also active in local civic affairs; she is a member of the Woman's Club, the Business and Professional Woman's Club, and vice-president of the Plymouth League of Women Voters. At present she is chairman of the civic Clean-Up committee, and has been active in the work of the Washington Bicentennial committee. She has also been closely associated with the interest of the Plymouth schools. She taught English, Civics and public speaking here for four and one-half years; she coached the debating team that in 1929 made Plymouth one of the 14 high schools that have won the state championship, and 2 other years she coached Plymouth teams to the state finals at Ann Arbor. She has been vice-president and twice president of the P. H. S. Alumni Association, and chairman of the Scholarship Loan Committee.

Her platform for the Board of Education candidacy follows:
1. Teachers should be hired or fired on the basis of teaching ability.
2. Local applicants should be given preference, when their ability warrants it.
3. Taxes should be kept as low as possible, especially at present.
Throughout her educational career Ruth E. Huston-Whipple has shown unusual initiative, energy, independence of thought, and teaching ability. These are qualities which are needed in a school board member. Every board of education also needs the point of view of a woman, a mother, and a teacher. As a mother, as a woman keenly interested in civic affairs, as a taxpayer interested in getting the most for our money, as a teacher in the Plymouth school for four and one-half years, and as a successful teacher for thirteen years, Ruth Huston-Whipple stands as a very desirable candidate for the Village Board of Education.

Last Meeting of PTA

At the business meeting, it was voted to hold the meetings next year on the second Tuesday evening of each month instead of the second Monday as heretofore.
Mrs. Maxwell Meon was announced as the new secretary, succeeding Mrs. Harold M. F. George, who resigned. Mrs. Humphries appointed the following committee chairmen: Membership, Mrs. J. C. Rutherford; program, Mrs. William Bralder; entertainment, Mrs. Milton Laible; publicity, Mrs. Harold M. F. George; leader of the intermediate study group, Mrs. C. H. Buzzard; leader of the primary group, Mrs. John C. Crandall; library, Mrs. Ada Murray; music, Mrs. James Sessions.
Following the meeting, Mrs. James Sessions led community singing, with Mrs. James Honey at the piano.
Refreshments were served in the school lunch room, under the direction of Mrs. Henry C. Onker and Mrs. Mark J. Chaffee.

SALAD DRESSINGS

ONE may vary a salad in countless ways by the dressings used. Adding a tablespoonful or two of apple butter to a boiled salad dressing will take it out of the ordinary class.

Standard Mayonnaise.
Mix in a small bowl one-half teaspoonful of sugar, the same amount of salt and a dash of cayenne. Add an egg yolk and half a teaspoonful of vinegar. Now add three-fourths of a cupful of olive oil, drop by drop, until the mayonnaise begins to thicken, then add a little faster, beating well; add two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and lemon juice or all lemon.

Potato Mayonnaise.
Boil a small potato, take off the skin, wash and add one teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, the same amount of mustard, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, three-fourths cupful of vegetable oil, one cupful of hot water, one egg, put the egg, unbeaten, with oil, salt, vinegar, mustard and sugar well mixed. Cook the cornstarch and flour together with the cupful of water, mix with a little cold water, cook until thick, then add at once to the hot mixture with the other ingredients and beat until smooth. Put into a pint jar and keep in a cool place. It will keep for two weeks or more.

Economy Dressing.

Take two tablespoonfuls each of cornstarch and flour, one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of mustard, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, three-fourths cupful of vegetable oil, one cupful of hot water, one egg, put the egg, unbeaten, with oil, salt, vinegar, mustard and sugar well mixed. Cook the cornstarch and flour together with the cupful of water, mix with a little cold water, cook until thick, then add at once to the hot mixture with the other ingredients and beat until smooth. Put into a pint jar and keep in a cool place. It will keep for two weeks or more.

"STRAIT-JACKET" BANK

An old-fashioned "strait-jacket" corset locked in a bureau drawer was the safe deposit vault of Mrs. Sarah Dobbins, 75, of Santa Paula, Cal., who died recently. After the estate had been settled by the administrator Mrs. Anna Dobbins, with whom the woman lived, told him about the locked bureau drawer. He investigated and found $2,000 in the vault.

The Clerk read a communication from the Detroit Washington Bicentennial Committee requesting that the City cooperate with Detroit in a Fourth of July celebration. It was moved by Comm. Henderson seconded by Comm. Robinson that the Commission be referred to the local Bicentennial Committee, Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Learned seconded by Comm. Robinson that the Manager be instructed to purchase groceries for the Department of Public Welfare where they can be obtained at the lowest price, Carried.

The Commission discussed the proposed budget for three hours.

Upon motion by Comm. Henderson seconded by Comm. Robinson the Commission meeting adjourned.

ROBT. O. MIMMACK, Mayor.
L. P. COOKINGHAM, Clerk.

FLAG DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Flags have flown for the vanity of kings. Flags have been hated by millions of people, as representing nothing but conquest and oppression. Many of the crucifixes, prejudices, injustices that men have forced on each other have been wrought under the sanction of some similar emblem. The flag that will fly from thousands of masts today, is the one given us by George Washington, to float as the first bright banner of an unstained honor over a people for whom he prepared a great destiny.

It drew the early patriots from comfortable homes, from the security of their occupations and from the love of their families, to fight for the larger world which we inherit. What to them was a far ideal is to us the great reality. No good American will neglect to ask himself how well he preserves the courage, the spirit of sacrifice belonging to those men and women who gave us this priceless heritage.
