

WIRE TAPPER WAS PRESIDENT OF PLYMOUTH

Police Find Charles Haggy is Escaped Murderer From Colorado

Charles Haggy, a former resident of Plymouth whose wife was employed as Western Union operator here until about a year ago, is under arrest in Detroit charged with one of the biggest wire tapping scandals that has ever been worked in this part of the country.

Not only is he charged with this offense, but officers have learned that shortly before he came to Plymouth to reside that he escaped from the Colorado State Prison at Canon City, Colorado where he was serving a life term for the murder of a Denver real estate man.

Haggy when he first came here a little over two years ago was employed for a time by the Pere Marquette. He soon formed an acquaintance with the operator at the Western Union office in Plymouth and they were married. After their marriage, he was for a time employed about the office in Plymouth, but left here about a year ago to live in Detroit where he told Plymouth acquaintances that he was running an oil station.

He left here with his wife soon after a babe had been born to them. People who knew him say no one would ever suspect him of wrong doing.

That the Western Union officials have for some time suspected Haggy was confirmed some three weeks ago when they came here and made a most careful check to see if the wires running into the Plymouth office had been tapped. Assisted by Chief Vaughn Smith a most careful investigation was made but no traces of wire tapping were found.

Haggy has confessed to the escape from the Colorado prison and Detroit officers say he has also confessed to his part in the wire tapping scandal and that a woman known as Florence Hadley, 30 years of age, arrested with him, has admitted her part in the scheme.

One of the swindlers of the gang netted $75,000. A search of Mrs. Hadley's baggage, in a Columbus hotel, resulted in the discovery of $2,105 in cash, a wig, spectacles used in a disguise, telegraph instruments and passports for England for herself and Haggy.

New Supervisors To Join Board Monday

When the Wayne county board of supervisors meets on Monday, Plymouth will be represented on the board by four members instead of one, the recent change to the city form of government giving this place the additional representation.

Regular Dividend Of 5 Percent Paid By Savings & Loan

The Board of Directors of the Plymouth Savings and Loan Association declared the regular semi-annual dividend on the basis of 5% per annum.

During the last two years the association has maintained a steady growth. The reverse and surplus accounts have increased over 25% in the same period.

Due to the new members of the association together with the principal and interest received on loans during the past two years it has been possible for the association to make loans during the time when other associations have found it impossible to do so.

The Plymouth Savings and Loan Association is purely a local organization and its investments are confined to First Mortgages on modern homes in the City and Township of Plymouth.

If it were not for the local association it would be impossible for people in this locality to secure financial assistance of the type that a building and Loan Association offers as other associations do not make a practice of lending on homes in this vicinity.

'Twas Our Fault

Errors happen in the best of families. That's just what happened in the Plymouth Mail last week. But unlike the Chicago Tribune which finds it necessary to run a "Be-Your-Parole" column every day to set itself right with the world, the Plymouth Mail finds it necessary to do so just once in a great while. But this time the Mail is going to eat its own black crow, because it was not just one error, but a double-barreled one and happened twice to the very same concern.

In some inexplicable way the Red and White stores names did not appear in the list of the merchants offering theatre tickets, neither did the name of the Red and White store appear in the list of names extending congratulations to the Plymouth high school's largest graduating class.

For all of which the Plymouth Mail assumes sole responsibility and asks the pardon of the Red and White stores, Gayle Brothers and Robert J. Joliffe and makes such assurance as it can that an effort will be made to never let it happen again.

Northville Will Celebrate Fourth

The Northville-Wayne County Fair association has perfected plans for a celebration to be held at the fair grounds on July 4. There will be horse racing, ball games, sport contests and a street dance at night. The village government of Northville is sponsoring the portion of the program that will be presented in the evening.

At the same time, he was taught to read or sing, or to play some instrument. A knight taught him how to handle and ride a horse, how to wield a sword and use a shield. Our fundamental teaching not only consisted of learning to manipulate letters and numbers, but also, to speculate and develop our faculties and abilities. Thus you see, we were like him. We graduated from the eighth grade; he became a squire.

Dr. Haskell presented the Eagle Awards and made some very timely and interesting remarks to the scouts and their friends assembled.

Did You Know That

Anna I. Youngs will present 24 piano pupils to a public recital at the hotel Mayflower, Monday evening, June 27 at 8 o'clock. The pupils and teacher extend a cordial invitation to all their friends to attend.

Former Plymouth Girl Directs Big Music Conference

Under the able direction of Miss Nellie Huger, a former Plymouth resident, the Waldenwood School of Sacred Music at Hartland this week has been conducting a most interesting series of recitals and discussions of sacred music. Many choir masters, ministers of music, orchestra and band leaders and music directors have been in attendance. The conference will end Saturday of this week.

Miss Huger is chairman of the church music committee of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs and through her efforts the Hartland conference was brought about. It will be recalled that the Hartland school of music was created as the result of an endowment created by a former wealthy resident of that place. The announcement of the conference had the following comment about Miss Huger:

Nellie Beatrice Huger, Minister of Hartland Area, is State Chairman of Church Music in the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, Director of the Waldenwood School of Sacred Music; Miss Huger brings to the school a wide experience in church music and years of training under Daniel Prothman, William Howard, Carl Ludgeron, Clarence Dickinson and Homer Rodheaver. Miss Huger is one of the recognized leaders in the new Ministry of Music movement and does her work with a distinct spiritual objective in view. The place and purpose of the Junior and Intermediate choirs, developing the child voice, qualities of leadership, the dramatization of hymns, the use of pictures, stories and special anthems as a part of the worship service. This class will be practical and Hartland children will be prepared for illustration work. Miss Huger will teach this class and will be available for private conferences by appointment.

Plan Old Fashioned Church Services

On Sunday, June 26, at ten-thirty o'clock the Salem Federated church will feature an old fashioned service, one that will remind folks of "the little church back home." At least it is hoped that the hour will take the worshippers back to the memory of their childhood days when God seemed very near in the quiet and cool of the old village church. The music on that day will be in charge of Mrs. Sarah Staabro who will play the organ. Mrs. Staabro who is in her eighty-fifth year, plays the organ in a way that makes us sing in our hearts. "Faith of our fathers living still," At the time of the Centennial last winter, the story of Mrs. Staabro's faithful service of more than sixty years as organist in the Salem church was copied in newspapers from New York to Texas. The sermon theme will be "The God of Elijah." Salem has many enthusiastic flower gardeners and every Sunday rare flowers are brought to make glad the Lord's house. Those who desire flowers for the sick and shut-in may have them on request.

Alumni Banquet On Friday, June 24th

All arrangements have been completed for the annual banquet of the Plymouth High School Alumni Association which will be held this Friday evening, June 24, in the auditorium of the Plymouth high school. The banquet will begin at 6:30 o'clock and it is expected that the attendance this year will be exceptionally large.

Mrs. Ruth E. Houston-Wildgale will be toastmaster and the chief address will be made by Verne C. Amberson, assistant prosecuting attorney of Wayne county. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and was a member of the successful University debating team during his freshman year. He was also chief judge advocate at Camp Custer during the World War and for a time had charge of a colored regiment of soldiers. Mr. Amberson is an excellent speaker.

WORK IS GIVEN TO UNEMPLOYED

Jobs Provided For Those Who Have Been Aided By Welfare

The City Welfare Department this week put into effect the wage-work plan of relief. Under this plan the heads of families receiving aid from the city are required to contribute in labor the amount of aid given. The weekly allowance has been established after an investigation and a work schedule set up so that each man has definite days each week on which he reports for work. Failure to report for work during the week will indicate that no aid is required by the family during that week.

Since taking over the responsibility of handling the public welfare by the city, forty families have been registered. Six of these families are cases which are paid for by other cities or counties. Not all of the families are receiving aid each week, only twenty-six having received orders last week.

The City received 200 loaves of bread last week from the Wonder Bakery in Detroit to be distributed to the needy families and a like amount will be furnished for this purpose each week. Arrangements for this bread was made through the Gayde Bros. and Robert Joliffe groceries.

Immediately after taking over the welfare functions, Mr. Rathburn turned over to the City 150 sacks of government flour and arrangements have been made for distributing 40 additional 25-pound sacks of flour to be delivered after July 1st. This flour is furnished to needy families and is a means of lightening the burden on local families. The flour is furnished gratis by the Federal Government and is manufactured from the stock of surplus when purchased and held by the Wheat Stabilization Board.

D. A. R. Entertained At The Horton Home

On Monday afternoon Miss Barbara Horton, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Allen Horton, and her able social committee, extended a charming and hospitable welcome to the D. A. R. country home near Plymouth to the members of the Sarah Ann Vochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. This meeting opening at 2:30 was the last before the summer recess, and after an interesting business session, a feature of which was the presentation of a Past Regent's gift to Mrs. Dwight Randall, the retiring Regent, the guests enjoyed visiting and strolling thru the lovely garden. Tea, sandwiches and little cakes were served in the dining room with Mrs. Randall presiding at the tea table which was covered with a linen and lace cloth and centered with a bowl of pink roses. The same lovely roses were dispersed in the living rooms adding to the beauty and enjoyment of this delightful occasion.

LEARNED GOES TO CONVENTION

Frank Leimert, city commissioner, will leave for Chicago Sunday to attend the Democratic national convention to be held in that city next week. Mr. Leimert is one of the delegates to the convention from this congressional district. "I can't tell you who are going to nominate, but you are rest assured we are going to pick someone who has got a chance to be elected. Maybe it looks as though we are battling one another just now but when we emerge from the Chicago convention, we will be together," stated Commissioner Leimert yesterday.

A Communication

Maybury Sanatorium Northville, Michigan June, 1932 Editor Plymouth Mail: I take this way of thanking Supt. Geo. A. Smith, the Sophomore Class, the Girl Reserve Groups, and the Plymouth High School in general for the unending kindnesses they have shown me during my sojourn at the Wm. H. Maybury Sanatorium the past year.

Only a person having a similar experience can know how much happier a remembrance of old friends and classmates can make of an otherwise long, dreary day. It always cheers me and gives me courage to fight harder for the health I have lost to know that I am not forgotten.

Thanking you again and wishing you all a very lovely vacation, I remain Very sincerely yours, Kathleen Ford

P. S. I shall be very glad to see any of you who can come over here during the summer vacation. The visiting hours are from three to five on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD FORMED

Women Of Plymouth Join Great Charity Organization

At least seventy Plymouth women, E. P. Cookingham, City Manager, and Berg D. Moore, Secy. Mgr. of the local chamber of commerce attended a meeting held in the Crystal Dining Room of the Mayflower Hotel Tuesday afternoon at the invitation of Mrs. R. E. Cooper to hear Mrs. Truman H. Newberry of Detroit explain the purpose, operation and methods of organizing a local branch of the Needlework Guild of America. Mrs. Newberry is Honorary President of the Guild, and is State Chairman for the states of Michigan and Florida.

Mrs. Newberry sounded the keynote of the purpose and operation of the work of the Guild by explaining that the organization is non-sectarian, that it is the charity that helps all other charities, by repeating the Guild Slogan, "Old Garments Imperize - New Garments Equalize" and by stating that all donations of garments, all sewing and money is utilized in the community where the local branch is located.

"She went on to state: "The work is easy for all. The annual contribution of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or if preferred, a donation of money, constitutes membership. Men, women and children may become members, giving to some Director of a local Branch of the Guild. "All kinds of wearing apparel are useful, but one can readily see that there is greater demand for warm underwear, nightwear, sweaters, dresses and blouses. These are the kinds that all ages will be taken care of, from new-born infants to those advanced in years. It is easy to visualize the many articles that might be contributed for the Needlework Guild supplements the work of hospitals, for warm beds patients may leave for cold, bare, windowless homes. A cold, poor clothing that relapse or disease is a likely consequence. It aids homes for children, the aged and friendless, and many organizations that urgently call for warm, serviceable clothing. Take, for example, child welfare agencies, where children brought under their care are usually found not only in proper clothing, but what they have must be burned immediately. "A total of 1,998-751 garments was turned over to some 10,000 charitable organizations in the United States in 1931. This was an increase of 10,000 garments over the previous year. The work and usefulness of the Guild has never known a decrease. There are over 700 branches in the country.

"In Michigan there were 14 branches in 1927. There are now 36 branches, 12 city branches and 24 town branches. For the year 1931-32 the Guild, a city is defined as a community of 25,000 population and over. A total of 133,757 garments were turned over to charitable organizations in Michigan in 1931, an increase of 20,000 over the previous year.

At the conclusion of her interesting and instructive remarks, Mrs. Newberry turned on Mr. Moore and Mr. Cookingham for comments. Mr. Moore stated, "The work of a Plymouth Branch of the Needlework Guild should be of great practical value to the community. It should be of value to everyone, and there will be need for serviceable clothing this Fall and Winter." And he added later, "The members of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee and Captain Wright of the Salvation Army will surely be gratified to learn that in all probability hundreds of new articles of wearing apparel will be made available as a result of organizing a Plymouth Branch of the Guild."

Mr. Cookingham stated, "From first hand observation, it is apparent that the limited supply of old and in some cases half-worn clothing and the forward of hand in the room in the City Hall, and the collection and distribution of such material is inadequate. Repeatedly members of families on the welfare list have returned to my office to inform me that they have been unable to find anything that they believe that a Plymouth Branch of the Needlework Guild of America could help in a very valuable and practical way in the solution of our welfare problems this coming Fall and Winter."

Settlement being decidedly favorable, steps to organize a Plymouth Branch followed immediately. From the large number of women present representing every woman's organization in Plymouth including all church groups, the following officers and directors were chosen to proceed with the work of organizing and directing a Plymouth Branch: Mrs. B. E. Cooper, President; Mrs. F. A. Dibble, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, Mrs. Otto Reyer, and Mrs. George A. Smith, Vice-Presidents; Mrs. Harry S. Lee, Mrs. R. A. Casaday, Miss Myrtle Fisher, Mrs. Max Moon, Mrs. C. E. Elliott, Mrs. Peter Millie, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. E. H. Starkweather, Mrs. A. J. Baker, Mrs. Morris Woodworth, Mrs. Roy Wheeler, Mrs. I. L. Bell, Mrs. Alicia Estep, Mrs. Melvin Alguire, Mrs. Floyd Eckles, Mrs. H.

Regal Finance Co. Enlarges Offices

Because of increased business and to make more convenient their office space, the Regal Finance Company, located at 821 Pennington avenue, has during the past week more than doubled its office space. Mr. Shannon, who is manager of the Plymouth office of this large finance concern, states that for sometime past the company has been greatly in need of the additional space that has just been taken over. Much more filing capacity has also been added.

Not only has office been considerably enlarged, but the company has created a new electric sign in front of its location that can be seen for a long distance.

FISHER SPEAKS TO GRADUATES

Last evening concluded the 1932 graduation and program of Plymouth high school's largest senior class, Dr. Frederick B. Fisher of Ann Arbor, former bishop of the Methodist church in India, delivered the commencement address to a crowded school auditorium. His address will appear in next week's issue of the Mail.

The Baccalaureate service Sunday night was outstanding both as to music and baccalaureate address. The Methodist choir, under the direction of Mrs. O'Connor and augmented by solos by Mrs. Sterling Eaton and Piero Kingston, rendered music of a very high quality. The Class Day program given Tuesday evening, June 21, was in the form of a play in which the president's salutation, history, prophecy, poem, guffaw, and class will be distributed. The musical solos by Herbert Sawyer and Joe Blair were outstanding as well as the brass quartette consisting of Joe Blair, George Todd, Maynard Larkins and Doris Hamill.

Local Fire Dept. Aids In Drowning

The body of George W. Hugh, 16 year old Garden City youth who drowned in Nankin Mills pond near Horton, Michigan, was recovered by the Horton Fire Dept. after he had been dragging the pond for nearly 12 hours. The drowning was reported to deputy sheriffs Scott and LeClair at midnight Saturday and they immediately called Fire Chief Wagonmaster of Plymouth who with Harry Hays Monday took the grunting loads of the fire department and dragged throughout the night.

Young Hugh had been swimming with his brother and two other boys and was within five feet of them when he went under. He was the son of Mrs. Frances Hugh, 12235 Street avenue. He is survived by his mother, a brother and three sisters.

Paul Christensen has sold his 1 1/2 acre property that he recently purchased from E. B. Sumner of Newton Falls, Ohio, to Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens of Plymouth. G. A. Bakwell, realtor, negotiated both sales.

I. Brishol, Mrs. F. R. Hohelsel, Mrs. E. C. Veeley, Mrs. George Kramer, Mrs. C. O. Ball, Miss Madge Spier, Mrs. George Wilksy, Mrs. Jacob Strong, and Mrs. Silbey Strong, Directors, All officers and directors are responsible for ten garment members and one money member making twelve in each group or a total of 22 garments in each group. Additional directors in all probability will be asked to assist in the work of organizing gatherings momentous.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beck were guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Tallman at Adrian.

Salutatory and Valedictory Addresses By Members of 1932 Graduating Class

The following Salutatory address was made by Miss Beulah Wagenschutz, who had been selected by members of the Senior class for this honor:

The Salutatory Classmates and Friends: Tonight, friends, we are here to receive our spurs of gold, our diplomas. What are we going to do with them? Are we going to let them rust, or are we going to keep them bright and polished? Are we going to be King Arthur, achieving the highest of Sir Kay's, swordsmanship to the noblest, valiant knights or sizzards? For twelve long years we have been endeavoring to become knights. Just as a candidate advanced from a page, to a squire, and to a knight, so we have passed from a grade school, to high school and now, instead of being a page, we are knights. It seems but yesterday that we were pages. As such, we remained with our mothers until we were six or seven years old. Then, as the page was sent to a castle to engage in seven years' training under nobles for knighthood, so we were sent to school, under the guidance of instructors, to prepare ourselves for life. The page, who was attendant upon people at services, ran errands, and waited on table.

REV. NORTON LAUDS SPIRIT OF GRADUATES

Tells Senior Class It Means Much To Succeed In School

Members of the 1932 senior class of the Plymouth high school, their parents, relatives and friends, Sunday evening had the pleasure of hearing an exceptionally inspiring baccalaureate sermon delivered by the Rev. P. Ray Norton.

In part his sermon follows: "One of the chief functions of education is to give us vision of the future. It is almost impossible for one to go through four years of high school and not during that time stand on some mountain of vision from which one can look down the vista of the years and see some worthwhile service one can render the cause of brotherhood. The Bible says 'Where there is a vision, the people perish.'"

"I bring you tonight the word of a man whose life has changed the history of the world. That is a big contrast, isn't it? He lives in a land that is a word of his which was the secret of his life. He said, 'Forgetting those things that are behind and reaching forth unto those things that are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.'"

"That had unusual qualifications for greatness. He was a Roman citizen in a day when Roman citizenship was given only to the very few and carried with it world vision. He was a graduate of one of the four great Greek universities of that day, at Tarsus, and he was a religious leader and teacher of the Jews, the people who have given to the world its religious faith and energy. He also took the work of the Olympic games, for Paul lived in a day when the original Olympic games were held. He thinks of himself here as a runner in the great races, one who has trained every nerve and muscle, and now in the race puts that last ounce of strength into the race. He fixes his eyes on the goal and stuns his ears to the shouts of friends and jers of foes and presses toward that mark, which is the prize not of a laurel wreath, but of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus, the call of the service of world brotherhood."

"There is contrasting picture in the new testament of another young man who also has great qualifications, and who came to Jesus to enquire and Jesus held before him the vision of world service, but this young man had not the courage and went away sorrowful, back to his money and his pleasure. You will notice the white Paul changing the world's history, this other young man is never heard of again.

"The Scripture lesson tonight was a series of biographical sketches of men who had stood on mountains of vision, and then had set their faces toward those visions to do it. The vision of life of these has contributed to the life of all time. Abraham went out, not knowing whether he went. The Jews tell us that Abraham's father name featured idols. Abraham had a vision of a nation that should put its trust in the living God, and went out to build such a nation. He knew not whether he was going, he was not at all sure, but he kept his eyes on this vision of what he was to build, Joshua, and Elijah, and Isaiah, followed him in that same vision and made the world grateful to their memory. There are literally millions of statues of other individuals on this side of the globe who have done this same thing.

At the same time, he was taught to read or sing, or to play some instrument. A knight taught him how to handle and ride a horse, how to wield a sword and use a shield. Our fundamental teaching not only consisted of learning to manipulate letters and numbers, but also, to speculate and develop our faculties and abilities. Thus you see, we were like him. We graduated from the eighth grade; he became a squire.

Squire was a title of more dignity, for with it came heavier duty. Not only had to be a squire, but also, to be a knight. In general, he became an attendant of some particular knight. He took care of the knight's armor, accompanied him on hunting expeditions, followed him to battle, and was ever ready to give assistance when needed. Have not you high school boys been similar? For we, too, have been armor bearers, assuming more difficult work each year, choosing special subjects, and giving assistance by helping in extra-curricular activities. As a squire was allowed to assist in battle, we were permitted to demonstrate our personal talents. We served and were served.

A NEEDED VACATION

Trustees of Kalamazoo College have just voted a year's leave of absence for Dr. Allen Hoben, president of that institution. After reading an extract of his commencement day address, we are quite in accord with the trustees of the college that he is in need of a good long vacation, with a rest away from the world he says is on the road to hell.

If you didn't read all of it, following is a portion of what he said:

"I feel that our national folly and excess as registered in hectic and superficial pleasures, in wild speculation, morbid and gruesome social scandal, in ridiculous ballyhoo and in sex mania are but a loud blind cry to heaven for all those lovely and real values which liberal education at its best should and does supply.

"We have thought that we were smart, emancipated, educated, sophisticated and omnipotent when at the time we were hacking at the limb on which we sit defying the very laws by which we exist. We thought that truth and honor, modesty and thrift, domestic fidelity and religious accountability to God were the myths and fakes of Puritans and Victorians. The enlightened knew better than to heed such dead and fire-some moralizing.

"What has been the result of this flippant secularization of life high and low, in business and in Government? In education, manners, drama, fiction, press and even pulpit, it has yielded a decade of disgrace, scandal and defalcation in high places of trust; domestic misery, wild speculation, the voracious racket and in general public standards that cannot discriminate truth and falsehood.

"Such an indictment rests on sober history. It is documented at Washington and attested throughout the Union. It is the era of Fall and Capone, Forbes and Dougherty; the hip flask and the bull market; football as big business; the Bernarr MacFadden epidemic of sentimental slop; prosperity and Bruce Barton's "Jesus The Founder of Modern Business"; Big Bill Thompson; beauticians, cosmetics by the ton; Hearst's prostitution of the press; the sainthood of Will Hays, movie mentor; the deification of Rudy Valentino in ten million half-baked female minds; nudism, jazz, futuristic art; frantic salesmanship and romantic advertising. Nothing like it ever—lunacy rampant—the American Jamboree.

"And the most terrible indictment of all is that the shameless graft in every quarter awakened no vehement resentment, no popular protest. That is the ultimate proof of our moral decay and of our unfitness for democracy or self-government. In Russia, the firing squad for any smallest graft as being a prime offense against the people; in America only a smile as much as to say—they all do it, what's the use?" he said.

Discussing the values which should result in liberal education, Dr. Hoben said: "If the college graduate is not distinguishable from a coal heaver or stevedore, if he has no way of reading the wonderful book of life in its wonderful setting of sky, sea, earth and air, or no insight into the realm of mind, then indeed have we failed. Let wealth come, he will still be poor. Let the world be in the throes of re-making, he will not get beyond meals and sleep, the sport page, his golf score, and possibly the American Magazine."

There is no use in reading on. One who has such an outlook on life is better outside the halls of learning.

Our country is not going backward. True the world is passing through one of its great economic changes. The method of our living will doubtless change somewhat. Five or six years from now we will be doing many things different than we are now but that does not mean a return to conditions that are worse than they have been at any other time in our history. With all of the faults President Hoben enumerates, we believe the United States to be a better place in which to live than in any other place in the world and we believe that it is better to be living today than at any other time in the history of the world. Yes, the educator surely is in need of a good long vacation.

THE NEXT FOUR YEARS

What the next four years will be in the United States depends entirely upon the outcome of the national election this fall. There is no use in disputing the fact that conditions at the present time are bad but you may rest assured that if there is a complete over-turn of the national administration, they will be worse. Never in the history of the United States has a prosperous condition resulted from a policy of free trade and other anti-protection politics. Unfortunately for President Herbert Hoover who has faced the country's greatest crisis with the determination and will of a veteran warrior, he will have to answer for all the sins of congress, and if he goes down to defeat it will be because of the apparent inability of members of the house of representatives to realize the full necessity and intent of what the president has been endeavoring to do. For weeks congress has been wrestling with a bill to reduce the expenses of government as recommended by President Hoover and it is to this day far from being concluded. Unfortunate for millions of Americans, it has been the dilly-dallying tactics of congress, their political pettifoggery and utter disregard of the serious problems before members that has delayed enactment of worth-while legislation. America has been asked to pay more taxes before congress has cut expenses and today the men and women of Plymouth and every other community in the country are pouring into the national treasury vast amounts of money that will be spent for purposes that are unessential in times like these. It has been a case of getting the cart before the horse. Why didn't congress cut expenses FIRST and then ask the country to raise a sufficient tax to pay such expenses as might be necessary after the enactment of the so-called economy bill? There is little use in discussing the situation. At a time when affairs of the nation are in a deplorable condition, congress has failed to meet the emergency and one of the outstanding presidents of our history is threatened with defeat because of the inability of representatives in congress to look beyond their own personal selfish purposes. Maybe during the next four or five months the people will thoroughly appreciate the situation confronting the president and the calamity so many fear will not come to pass. If they do not everyone better learn to pray for the next four years.

HIS GOOD JUDGMENT

Michigan has one public official who possesses exceptional judgment, an official who knows just how and what to do. That officer is Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state. He was the first to reduce the expenses of his department, cutting salaries of every one in his office early last fall, at a time before others had barely thought of taking such action. Recently he started a plan to provide as many with work in his department as possible during the summer months, at a time when his force is always reduced. Now as a result of the staggered plan of part-time employment put into effect June 15,

I can not say that I don't care
 What people think of me down here;
 I want to be in all I do,

the Department of State is furnishing work to more persons than ever before during the slack summer months, while departmental payrolls, starting July 1, will be lower than during previous summers.

By the part-time plan of work, the department kept 33 workers upon the payrolls, who otherwise would have been dropped because of lack of work. The new system affects about 125 persons, whose duties for the most part, are of a routine nature.

Those who have no dependents, work two out of every three weeks. Married employees, whose husbands or wives are dependent upon them, work four out of every five weeks, while employees with more than one person wholly dependent upon them for support, work six out of every seven weeks. Four exceptions to this rule have been made in cases of employees with six or seven dependents. These work full time.

Although the plan of staggering work has been in actual operation but a few days, inquiries have been made regarding the details of the plan with a view to adoption by other departments.

BREATH UPON THE WINDOW

If you are not on hand to hear a radio broadcast at the moment it is given, can you "turn back" the radio and pick up the report when you want it?

No. But if you are not at liberty to read a newspaper the minute it is issued, the newspaper is available for your instant use at any time you want to pick it up.

If an important speaker gives a statistical report over the radio can you "turn back" the radio in order to compare the speaker's closing statement with his opening statement?

No, but your eye can compare the last paragraph of a newspaper's report of a public address with the paper's report of the speaker's opening remarks.

If you are listening to something you want to hear over the radio, and neighbors drop in, can you ask them to wait until the broadcast is over, before you receive them?

Or if the baby screams, or something boils over on the stove, can you holler at the announcer to "Wait!" while you investigate the baby or take the pot off the stove?

No, you cannot. But you can lay down your newspaper when a domestic emergency arises. You can attend to the duty required of you, return to your paper, and resume reading where you left off.

Can you file a radio talk for reference. Can you refer at will to information gained over the radio? Can you accurately quote from memory what you have just heard over the radio, even five minutes after you have heard it?

Does your mind absorb data vocally given as rapidly as the next man's?

No. No. NO! Dozens of No's to all these questions. The newspaper will continue to serve, as it always has served, every citizen's need for a stable source of information and knowledge. It is readily available, it may be preserved for record, it may be referred to, taken up and put down, at will. It may be glanced at or pondered over. The section you wish may be singled out when and as you wish it.

Radios were originally designed for entertainment, and as a successor to the talking machine in providing music in the home.

It ably fulfills these purposes, but as an advertising media, as a news source, it is as a breath upon the window, here this minute, then gone, FOREVER.—Courier, Orosi, California.

AN ESSAY ON HOOEY

The cheapest commodity in politics is hooey. It cascades over the landscape in great clouds—particularly as campaign time approaches—obscuring the vision and filling with goo the ears of honest voters.

This year the principal content of the billowing banks of hooey has been economy talk. There has been and will be much ballyhoo to the effect that a recent special session of the legislature saved the state by cutting down appropriations and "economizing." Governor Wilber M. Brucker and other office seekers will endeavor to drape laurel wreaths around their heads and pose as the gents who put the grand old state on an economy basis.

No one can blame earnest candidates for grabbing whatever straws they see floating around. However, before this economy talk gets entirely out of hand and completely submerges the countryside, it may not be out of place to point out just how much hooey it contains.

Let us then, gentle readers, address ourselves to a few facts that cannot be denied, although it is true every effort will be made to hide them beneath a downy blanket of camouflage.

(1) The state tax collectible this year on real estate was $29,000,000.

(2) The legislature, called into special session, cut appropriations made by itself in 1931, to a point where the governor says the tax to be levied next year will be about $25,000,000.

(3) The legislature cut appropriations because prices have dropped so far that the same amount of governmental activities can easily be carried on for $25,000,000 as with $29,000,000 last year.

(4) It is apparent that nothing was cut out of government. Appropriations were simply pared down enough so the same expenditures, and the same expenses, could be continued at prevailing reduced rates.

(5) No one can deny that prices, for materials, labor, food and everything else are lower now than they were in the period from 1921 to 1927.

(6) Nor can anyone deny that in those years between 1921 and 1928 more building was done by the state than was done last year or will be done this year.

(7) In the years between 1923 and 1927 the average state tax was less than $18,000,000. This year and last year the average state tax was $29,250,000. An increase of more than $11,000,000.

(8) With all prices down, with virtually no state building going on, the state tax still is more than $11,000,000 above the level maintained by Alex. J. Groesbeck. If Governor Brucker succeeds in cutting it to $25,000,000 it STILL WILL BE $7,000,000 ABOVE THE GROESBECK FIGURE.

It may be, dear reader, that you can explain about these economy claims. It is possible that you can tell why the state tax should be so much higher than it was seven years ago, with so much less building going on. You know that you can run your own household, your own business, on far less than you did in 1928. Yet the state cannot. We should be glad to have an explanation.

Until one is made, however, the only answer to the question "where is the money going" is this—

Since building is far less than it was during the Groesbeck regime, since maintenance costs in institutions are way down, there is only one place the extra money can be going, and that is into increased state payrolls. If this be economy let us have something else.

Why there should be $11,000,000 worth of added state employees during a period when every individual and every business has had to retrench is a mystery.

The "economy" you have been hearing so much about, gentle reader, is a several million dollar jump from the high tide era of 1928. About $5,000,000 has been stricken from appropriations because costs have dropped that much.

A TRUE ECONOMY BUDGET NOW WOULD BE ONE BELOW THE GROESBECK BUDGET OF 1928. IF $17,000,000 WAS ENOUGH THEN, WHEN PRICES WERE HIGH, WHY IS $25,000,000 OR EVEN $25,000,000 NEEDED NOW?

OH, MINNESOTA!

A St. Paul married woman has the nerve to suggest that tax relief be brought about by taxing every bridegroom $700.00 for the privilege of getting married. Even if the lady is right, she has no business offering her private relief measures as a national panacea! Besides, during a depression does she want to be anti-Rooseveltian enough to propose race suicide as a cure-all for hard times? Oh, Minnesota, why do you do this!—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

NOT FOR DOLLY

It's a pity Davies or some other he man didn't consent to stand as a candidate for vice-president, for then we might inside of a year see Sister Gann fade from the picture of state functions in the city of Washington, and thereby restore to our Allee Longworth her rightful place with the hups.—J. ## DEBT

The noted economist, Irving Fisher, has pointed out that, because of the dollar's increased purchasing power, one dollar borrowed back in 1919 has become a debt of $3.33. In other words it takes three times as much of basic commodities to retire a debt as it did back in 1919.

Because of this, a person with an old obligation to meet now finds the debt more burdensome. This means that additional self-denial must be practiced to accumulate the necessary funds.

One of the best ways to save money to pay a debt is to deposit some amount regularly in a savings account and then apply the accumulation against the amount you owe.

Famous Scientist Honored by U. of M. And Old Home Town

Dr. Sergius P. Grace, internationally known scientist, telephone engineer and lecturer, Monday received the honorary degree of doctor of engineering at the University of Michigan. Dr. Grace, who was born in Farmington, Michigan, October 11, 1875 was graduated from the University of Michigan's department of electrical engineering in 1896. He is assistant vice president of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York.

Tuesday evening he was the guest of honor at a banquet given in his honor by the citizens of Farmington, Roy Crowe, manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone company of this place, being one of the guests at the banquet.

The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Dr. Grace at Notre Dame university June 5. It is unusual for two degrees of equal rank to be conferred upon a person by two great schools in the same year.

Dr. Grace has made outstanding accomplishment in the design, construction and operation of telephone plants, large and small, and as a research engineer in work particularly applied to the electrical transmission of speech. In his public appearances the last few years, he has done much to bring about a clearer understanding of the research and development work that has made possible today's world-wide telephone system and its by-products, such as the telephotograph, television, teletypewriter, artificial larynx, hearing aids for the deaf, talking motion pictures and orthophonic phonograph. He has helped greatly to popularize the work of the scientist and to bridge the gulf between science and business. He is a fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Shortly after graduation from the University of Michigan, Dr. Grace was employed by a telephone company then operating in Detroit and suburban communities. He early achieved recognition of experimental work in methods to prevent electrolysis, or erosion of underground cable sheaths, a critical problem then facing telephone engineers. In 1898 he superintended the building of the first underground telephone cable system in New Orleans, overcoming the problem of underground water by using specially constructed cable that had the characteristics of present day submarine cable.

Going in 1903 to a Bell company operating in Western Pennsylvania, Dr. Grace developed many of the telephone plant standards in general use today. In 1904, while on that work, he received the degree of electrical engineer from the University of Michigan. In 1914 he established himself as a communications consulting engineer in New York City, and was appointed chief telephone engineer for the New York State Public Service commission. Following that work, he was employed by the New York Telephone company as assistant chief engineer, but in 1920 took a year's leave of absence from telephone work and helped develop the radium and vanadium industries with France which produced quantities of radium, vanadium and uranium from the carnotite ores of Colorado.

Returning to telephone work, he spent the next few years in research executive positions with the New York Telephone company, the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the Western Electric company, and went in 1924, to the Bell Telephone Laboratories, to become head of a department for the commercial development of research work.

Elected president of the New York Electrical society, in 1926, he undertook the development of that organization into a science forum for discussions and demonstrations of late developments in communications and electrical science. The meetings attracted the attention of representative business and professional men, and Dr. Grace began to receive numerous invitations to appear before civic, business, educational and technical organizations throughout the country. He since has taken the story of the marvels of sound transmission to more than a third of a million people.

Report Progress in Efforts Towards Re-opening Banks In Northville, Wayne And Milford - What Newspapers Say

Efforts towards reopening the banks in Northville, Wayne and Milford are meeting with success, from reports appearing in papers of those communities, and it is probable that within the next few weeks all of these places will again be enjoying banking facilities. Depositors and business men of those places are working hand in hand to try and re-establish more satisfactory conditions.

Following is from the Northville Record pertaining to the situation in that place:
Making slow advances day by day, Northville determinedly and surely is going forward to the goal of a new bank.

Both of our closed banks now have sufficient signatures to put them within "shooting distance" of the required 85 per cent for opening of a new institution that will merge the assets of the Lapham and Northville State Savings bank. The Lapham bank has practically reached the 80% mark while the Northville State has about 82%.

In view of the fact the nearby towns are reporting an increase in business from Northville territory, due to the refusal of our citizens to get together to open the bank, a complete move is on foot to make every effort possible to complete the agreements in the very near future. The loss that the community is suffering is more than the average person realizes.

Both banks have received some large agreements the past week. The Wayne Dispatch has the following report of progress in that community:
Indications that only a small number of signatures on the depositors agreement blanks are necessary to assure the reopening of the Wayne Savings bank were voiced Wednesday night at a meeting of a large number of business men and residents, who have been assisting in the work. The exact percentage of the deposits which have been secured could not be definitely ascertained, but reports from those who attended the meeting showed that the work is practically completed. It is thought that the complete total of 85 per cent of the deposits will be obtained shortly.

The meeting last night was the third large meeting which has been held since plans for reopening the bank under depositors agreements were started several weeks ago. It was called for the purpose of making a check on the amount of signatures each of the workmen had obtained, and to determine the number of deposits that still remain to be obtained. Each of those attending the meeting reported that unusual success had been evidenced, and that few depositors who had been approached had not willingly and readily signed the agreement after it had been fully explained.

The business men's committee, which was formed at the first meeting of the group, include William Mitholland, chairman, Rollo Reiser, and T. A. Jamieson. Three other men were added to the committee at the second meeting of the group, these three being August Brewerton, Harold Dietrich, and Walter Auning. The addition of these three men, and the increased activity of all of the other men and women who are interested in the plan has been instrumental in bringing this large task to its present encouraging state.

Following the obtaining of the required number of signatures, definite steps towards the reopening and reorganization of the bank will be taken, and little doubt now exists in the minds of any of those engaged in the work that the bank will be reopened. Complete confidence that it will be reopened and doing business very soon was voiced by the entire group.

The Milford Times tells of the developments towards reopening the banks in that place as follows:
Up to this Thursday noon officials of the First State Bank had received nothing definite from Judge Doty relative to an order providing for reorganization and reopening of the bank. The fact that this is the first bank in Michigan to seek reorganization under the new law may possibly account for some of the delay as it would naturally take longer in the first instance to conform to all contingencies than it would if there were precedents to go by.

Depositors of the First State Bank to the number of 20 or 25 attended the bank hearing at Pontiac last Friday in Judge Frank L. Doty's court. The hearing was for the purpose of presenting to the court facts regarding the state of the bank, the plan of reorganization and for affording opportunity for depositors objecting to the plan to file their objections in writing.

Carl F. Eckfeld, custodian of the physical assets of the bank took the stand and testified as to the assets of the bank, also the amount of stockholders' assessments paid in, as to the percentage of deposits represented by the signed depositors' agreements and as to preliminaries with reference to holding the hearing.

Wm. Nelson, a state bank examiner, testified that he knew the facts regarding the condition of the bank and regarding the proposed reorganization. He said the state banking department approved of the plan. The direct examination was conducted by Sil A. Erwin, assistant attorney general.

D. F. Noble, acting for himself and as attorney for the estates of Lincoln D. Gay, Augusta Kinsley, Albert B. Fullmer, John Hale, Frank M. Hudson and also for Della M. Noble was the only one presenting objections. These objections were presented under four heads. Objection one read as follows:
"Because by resolutions of the Board of Directors of said bank passed July 6, 1931, an assessment of One Hundred Dollars a share was made against all of the stockholders of said bank which assessment was paid into the assets of said bank on or before August 1st 1931, and at once became part of the assets of said bank. That under the plan of reorganization said assessment moneys are to be taken from the assets of said bank and become the capital stock of the reorganized bank, which proceeding would be unfair to all depositors in said bank who do not join in said reorganization plan.

Objection two, quoted from paragraph three, four and fifteen of the Depositors' agreement, which were claimed to be inequitable to non-signing depositors for the following reasons:
"By said depositors' agreement for said reorganization depositors subsequent to July 6th, 1931, and who had no moneys on deposit in said bank prior to said date are eligible to sign said reorganization plan."

"Depositors who had no money on deposit in said bank prior to July 6, 1931, under said reorganization plan, could withdraw all of their said deposits from said bank as soon as the bank re-opened under said reorganization plan, which would be an injustice to depositors in said bank who failed to join in said reorganization plan, and would violate one of the fundamental principles of equity in a court of chancery."

Objection three related to a report that several of the largest stockholders of the bank had transferred their stock to financially irresponsible parties in order to escape their liability in case of receivership.

Objection four related to the payment in full of school savings system deposits which was declared would be inequitable and would of injustice to depositors not joining in the reorganization plan.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Doty announced that he would further confer with those representing the several interests before issuing the order.

Wayne Remains a Village - Its Tax Rate Now Goes Up

The tax rate for the village of Wayne for 1932 has been set at 19 mills or $19 per $1,000 of property valuation, which is an increase over the tax rate of last year of $2. The rate was determined, following the presentation of complete assessment figures to the village commission by George C. Walker, village assessor.

In determining the rate of taxation which taxpayers of the village will pay on real and personal property, the commission pointed out that the increased rate to $19 will be offset by the decreased assessments on real property and that the actual amount of taxes paid by each citizen will be practically the same, varying only a few cents. In making the assessment roll, which was reviewed and checked by the board of review recently, Mr. Walker announced that a 10 per cent reduction was made on all improved properties, and 15 per cent reduction was made in the assessments on unimproved properties.

The total assessed valuation for the village for this year is $4,441,110, which is a decrease of $634,890 under the assessment figure of $5,075,940 in 1931.

It was at first thought that little chance would be made in the rate of taxation for the village, but members of the commission meeting with Mr. Walker found the increase necessary. A tentative figure was set at $18, but this was raised to $19.—Wayne Dispatch.

Nethem Has Opener Sunday, June 26th

Nethem will play at Rousseau's Park at the corner of the Ann Arbor and Plymouth Road about three miles east of Plymouth next Sunday at 3 p. m. against the strong Liberty A. C. of Detroit.

Manager Ray Levandowski will have the same strong team that finished last season with twenty-two victories against eleven defeats.

Joe Schomberger the team's leading hitter along with Tom Kovich and Schultz will be back there next Sunday hitting the old ball all over the lot.

Andy Gale star pitcher of last season and a winning pitcher for Ann Arbor Moose this year will be in the pitcher's box.

Manager Ray Levandowski needs

a star infielder and a relief pitcher to complete his team. Any player capable of filling either of the above positions kindly report for practice next Friday night.

Don't forget to come out and see the Babe and his gang at Newburg next Sunday.

Anyone wishing to help back the team, kindly get in touch with the manager as soon as possible, and your donations will be greatly appreciated by the team.

Ray Levandowski managed the Newburg Tigers back in nineteen twenty-six, when they won sixteen and lost six, and last year he managed the strong Nethem club. This marks the beginning of his third year, and we all wish him success.

Cherry Hill Given Trimming By Allens

Cherry Hill lost to Allen A. C. Sunday in a close hard fought game. The game was much closer than the score indicates, being tied until the last half of the eighth inning. The Thistle Cutters scored first in the fourth inning, when C. Wil-kin walked, stole second and third, and came home on W. Thelens' single. Allen A. C. scored two in the sixth, to take the lead, being aided by an error and W. Carr's hard hit, which he made a home run on when the Cutter's right fielder was out of position. Cherry Hill fought back in the eighth to tie the score, when Shoner walked, D. Wilkin singled, an infield out and C. Wilkin's single brook in two runs. But the tie was soon broken up, when Minler weakened and Allen A. C. scored four more runs to sew it up. Next Sunday Cherry Hill travels to Ypsilanti to play Pittsfield. Box Score:

MERCHANTS SHOW BRINGS CROWDS

The first night of the special merchants show given at the Peunthman Allen theater brought large crowds for the second and third shows of the evening. Manager Harry Lush said that the number of people attending was greater than he had anticipated for the first week and that if the crowds grew in proportion during the next few weeks that the local merchants would pack the theater during all three shows.

The patrons of the show were given tickets during the week by several merchants when they made a purchase amounting to 50 cents or more. These tickets presented at the theater with ten cents were admittance to the show.

Western Attorney Visits In Plymouth

C. J. Henderson, well known attorney of Mt. Vernon, Washington, who was a delegate to the national Republican convention in Chicago, this week came to Plymouth to be a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson. Monday the father and son left for Washington, D. C., where Attorney Henderson had some legal business to look after for some of his clients in the far west. Upon returning from Washington he expects to remain in Plymouth for a few days longer, visit before returning to his home in the Pacific northwest.

Scout "Open House" Brings Big Crowd

The "Open House" program at Camp Brady sponsored by the local Scout Council, Sunday, June 19 was very successful. Eight hundred or more parents, and friends visited Camp sometime during the afternoon and about six hundred witnessed the unveiling of the new totem pole carved by Assistant Commissioner John J. Core.

E. E. Gallogly, Chairman of the Council Camping Committee, was in charge of the unveiling ceremonies. Assisting him were Council Commissioner Floyd T. Morsick and the Scout Executive Henry W. White. Twenty-four members of the Camp Brady Staff, under the leadership of Director F. J. Heaver, conducted tours of inspection around the 80 acre camp site.

"Open House" will again be held next Sunday, June 26 from 12 to 6 p. m. at which time the public is invited to receive information regarding the Summer Camp program. Brady officially opens to the Scouts next Monday morning, June 27.

Camp Mills, in the Huron National Forest, ten miles north of Rose City, also officially opens Monday, June 27, under the leadership of Walter P. McKenna.

Alpena, "City Among The Lakes," To Be Host To Mich. Editors

The annual summer meeting of the Michigan Press Association will be held at Alpena on Thunder Bay, June 30, July 1 and 2. Alpena is one of the most hospitable towns to be found anywhere, and the largest in northern Michigan. With a country ideally situated on the shores of Lake Huron and Thunder Bay, it has every advantage to present visitors looking for a quiet summer retreat, with all the outdoors anyone wants, with fishing—the best, golfing, bathing, boating, tennis, and every outdoor sport at your doorstep, regardless of where you may pitch your tent or rent a cottage, and at rates surprisingly low.

Long Lake, eight miles north of Alpena, will be the gathering place for the visitors. This body of water is from a mile and a half to two miles wide, and nine miles long. Several resorts dot the south and east side of the lake. There is the Oak Grove Hotel, operated by G. T. Montroy, that can care for nearly a hundred people.

The Long Lake Lodge adjoins the hotel property. This was formerly the Alpena Golf Club, and has a nine-hole golf course in connection, with ample sleeping and dining room accommodations. It is operated by Walter Hagan.

Many people desire a cottage so that they may take their entire family, so on the east side of the lake there is Tebo's Resort, operated by Charles Tebo. Mr. Tebo has about a dozen of the most comfy cottages you ever saw. Each one has three bedrooms, a fireplace and a kitchen.

Next to Mr. Tebo's is the Synour Resort, with cottages comparable to Mr. Tebo's. In front of both these resorts is one of the finest bathing beaches in Michigan—pure white sand with a gradual slope of two hundred feet before it becomes deep.

The Michigan Press Association, which includes nearly 300 weekly newspapers of the state, is first of all "Michigan-minded" for it realizes that Michigan is one of the most desirable states in the Union, with every advantage to be found elsewhere, and many besides.

Alpena in itself is one of the leading towns in the state and does not depend upon its resorts for summer business.

About 4,000,000 tons of limestone is quarried at Alpena annually. One of these quarries operates electric cars, which are operated from a central station, and it is amusing to watch them start, stop, back up, switch, and load without apparent human aid.

With the famous Turtle Lake Club, which is perhaps responsible for most of the deer propagation northern Michigan, and its 25,000 acre state forest, Alpena has everything to offer tourists, resorters, and home seekers.

The visit of the publishers to Alpena will be featured by numerous trips of inspection, a banquet at which Malcolm Binney, editorial director of the Detroit Free Press will be the chief speaker, numerous contests, and a big fish dinner at a dinner to the three days of fun and recreation.

Eloise Population Growing Rapidly

Almost 1,000 homeless men were transferred Wednesday to the Eloise infirmary from the Fisher lodge, Detroit, which closed at that time, the move being favored by both county and Detroit officials.

Much discussion followed the announcement of the change, and

John F. Ballanger, superintendent of welfare, Detroit, said the cost of feeding a man two meals a day at Fisher lodge was 12 cents and his bed for a night 2½ cents, which is cheaper than the cost at Eloise. Benjamin Pelham, county accountant, said the men will be given three meals a day at Eloise at a cost of 15 cents. He figured that each person at Eloise costs 70 cents per day. In reply to the criticism in regard to the increased cost resulting from the transfer, Mr. Pelham pointed out that the overhead at Eloise was going on anyway, and that the men might as well be there. Detroit also is pressed for money. Mr. Pelham said, and it is a relief to it to have that financial burden transferred to the county.

At Eloise, the men are assured of good food, good quarters, medical and dental care, and generally good accommodations. They will have all the food they can eat, clean sheets, and comfortable lounging rooms, he said.

Tomatoes Need Care To Prevent Plant Diseases

Tomatoes, which are often the chief pride of the home gardener, are attacked by several diseases which can be prevented or controlled by simple treatments, according to experts on plant diseases at Michigan State College.

Two types of blight, early and late, at times cause serious losses. Plants attacked by early blight show brown spots with concentric rings or ridges about the spots on the leaves. Black spots which become covered with a black, velvety growth appear on the fruits. This disease appears early in the growing season.

Late blight usually does not occur until the latter part of July, and the plants attacked by it show dark, water-soaked areas on the leaves, an appearance similar to that caused by freezing. A white, downy growth appears on the undersides of the leaves. The fruits usually show rot near the stem end and this spreads around the circumference of the fruits faster than it penetrates into the interior.

Spraying with a 4-4-50 solution of Bordeaux mixture at intervals of a week or 10 days will control both the blights of tomatoes.

Another enemy of the tomato plant is called Gray Rot, a disease because it first appeared near that city. The symptoms of this disease are a progressive wilting of the leaves from the bottom of the plant upward. Rough, brown spots surrounded by a white halo may occur on the fruits and make them unmarketable. Sprays and dusts will not control this disease. Affected plants should be pulled and burned to lessen the spread of the disease.

Interesting bits of news Taken from Plymouth Mail

Fred Gentz is giving his house and remnant house a new coat of paint.

New cement walks were laid last week for Henry Sage, George Springer, Caroline Kensler, Peter Shimmer and Mrs. Starkweather. We now have a cement walk from the depot to the other end of town, excepting the railroad property at the elevator.

The Conner family will go Monday to their cottage at Walled Lake to remain for the summer.

James Hanford, William Minhart and A. R. Cady of Canton are building new barns on their places. Must be these farmers are at least expecting good crops in spite of the cold weather.

The village dads can obtain an object lesson in the neatness in which the school park is kept in comparison with the town commons. What's the matter with the park committee, anyway?

A horse became frightened Tuesday evening while standing in front of Brown and Pettigall's store, by the explosion of some firecrackers and ran away. We understand orders have been given by Marshall Vanecar to arrest boys shooting off firecrackers previous to the fourth, and the enthusiastic small boy, and some larger ones too, better take heed.

"Daisy Day" will be celebrated by the employers and employees of the Daisy Manufacturing company a week from Saturday.

Two barns from the W. O. Allen farm have been moved onto lots recently purchased on Harvey street and will be made into comfortable dwelling houses.

Work on Ford Dam At Ypsi Will Be Finished Soon

The Ford Motor company's 1,400-foot power dam, with a 215-foot span of concrete, is nearing completion on the Huron river below Ypsilanti.

When completed, the dam will impound a body of water covering about 1,000 acres of river bottom. The lake thus formed will be about three miles long, with an average width of approximately 3,000 feet. About 3,000 horsepower will be developed, according to Ford engineers, for use in the company's new generator factory in Ypsilanti.

The dam is a combination earth embankment with a clay core and concrete spillway of the multiple arch type. There are interlocking steel sheet pile cutoff walls under the earth embankments and concrete spillway for a depth of 25 feet below the lowest concrete footings. The total height of the dam from the footings to the overflow crest is 47 feet.

A feature of the project includes a 30-foot highway linking the north and south river roads, with a highway bridge supported on piers forming a part of the spillway supports. The bridge also will have a 30-foot roadway, with two six-foot sidewalks.

One hundred and sixty men are working on the project, and about nine months will be required for completion.

GUM-DIPPED CORDS The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 25% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD

Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

"SIX CYLINDERS no more-no less" says America

Since January 1st, buyers have chosen more Chevrolet Sixes than the combined total of all fours and all eights priced below $1000

Look at what happened when America began lifting hoods and counting cylinders: Overwhelming preference for "SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No Less." A sweeping endorsement of the soundness and correctness of the Chevrolet six-cylinder engine!

America knows its motor cars. And America knows that six is the largest number of cylinders you can have in a low-priced car and get unexcelled economy! That six is the fewest you can have in a car and still get built-in smoothness!

America prefers the Chevrolet Six—because it strikes a happy medium between two extremes. It gives economy—the lowest operating and upkeep cost of any American car. It gives smoothness—the built-in smoothness that makes driving really enjoyable! And it gives many other advantages that are just as essential as six cylinders! Big, spacious, luxurious Fisher bodies. Free Wheeling, Synchro-Mesh shifting. An advanced chassis of proved design. Four parallel-mounted springs. Four hydraulic shock absorbers. And new reduced prices, as much as $50 and $55 lower than they were before!

Chevrolet is able to give you all this value, because Chevrolet is the world's largest producer of motor cars. Largest for three out of the past five years! Largest for the first six months of 1932! First in value—first in sales!

being sold in front of the Russell's Pie Factory Sunday when our local constable got busy and they (the sellers) disappeared with the eggs and cars in the general direction of Detroit's Chinatown, from whence they come out. A ready market is seen for the eggs at the latter place, as we learned, or heard once, about how old an egg must be in China before it is true delicatessen, or what, ver the word for it is in Chinese. A reliable word war is to be waged this summer on all the "squatters" who are trying to sell eggs or whatnots in the township without licences, farmers and producers excepted, thus protecting our local industry and taxpayers.

Naturally a "good time" was had by all for that is what they came for, and to admire our rose and new baseball field, which they agree to come over and play on providing they can use their own umpire, which same we referred to the Executive Staff of R. B. B. C.

Everybody Invited to the Grand Opening of the Rosedale Ball Field this Sunday (the 24th instanter) at 3:30 post meridian to witness the contest between R Club and the Detroit Questions. These Detroit 's have lost only one game this season, and that to R own boys; so you may rest assured that all will not be well with one of these two teams Sunday after about 5:30 of the clock.

However, win or lose, it will be a good game and everybody is certain of a good time, so drop the garden tools for a couple hours and come on over.

for supper at the Rosedale church, this tonight is to be in keeping with the opening of the season tomorrow.

So all you fish hounds needs bring your families down to the boat and fishes and everything in keeping with same. And have the Gardolite Matrons can rook fish, boy, oh boy, what fish!

SALUTATORY, VALEDICTORY ADDRESSES BY MEMBERS OF 1932 GRADUATING CLASS

(Continued from page 1) At last, we have reached the day that we have been anticipating. Our spurs of gold, our diplomas, are ready for us. We have spent many days in preparation for our ceremonial, our graduation exercises. Our caps and gowns represent the armor we have chosen to wear upon this occasion. Presently there will be a talk, perhaps not upon the duties and obligations of a knight, but surely an address befitting the completion of our course. Then will come the final ceremony. Dressed in our full armor, we will appear before our lord, our superintendent, and, in the presence of not court members and knights but friends and past graduates, be dubbed knights or graduates by receiving our spurs of gold. All of this is and will be re-enacted tonight. The golden spurs, our diplomas, are to incite horses; our diplomas should stimulate us to action. A knight was solemnly bound to chivalrous conduct, bravery, courage; classmates, we are as solemnly pledged to give the best that is in us. Do you remember what Sir Launfal said as he was about to start out upon his adventure? "My golden spurs now bring to me. And bring to me my richest mail. For tomorrow I go over land and sea. Within a few hours each of us will become a Sir Launfal entering the tournament field of life for the first time. We have enjoyed the distinction of being entered as a group forming a knightage. We are seniors even now, but tomorrow recognition will not come from belonging to a group but from each individual's merit. Some of our shields are much more highly decorated than others; some of us have been more cautious about our preparation, but whatever our background may have been, our struggles will be similar. Some of us will find the road easy with few obstructions, but for the most part it will be filled with participants, this exciting from us our most beneficent qualities—physical, mental, and moral. Some of us will become knights of a profession; the majority of us will probably be knights of industry, and perhaps even some may become knights of the road or highwayman, but let us hope that the class of 1932 contains no knight errants. There are no barriers in this tournament of life except the field itself, which is the world. We are out to conquer, although the road may not always be smooth. As Alfred Noyes said, "The road is wide

The problem of dealing with the criminal is more difficult than before. The criminal formerly was of the masked ugly sort who relied more upon strength and his ability to work quietly than violence to obtain his end. Today the criminal is generally of the well dressed, good looking type of average intelligence and either a native or foreign descent, who has expensive automobiles, a good home, and money in the bank. He organizes with his fellow partners in crime and they in turn through their wealth are able to mingle with the political boss and grafter. They are also able to bribe police officers into leaving them and their places of business unmolested. Also through their wealth they are able to hire clever lawyers who through legal technicalities are able to gain acquittal and thereby to settle their clients. The criminal of today is always armed and does not care when or where he shoots when caught in a tight spot. The present generation is called upon to end a war, as it is a war which we are fighting, not against other nations but against crime within our own country. This fight cannot be ended at once, for as soon as the criminal is ousted from one field of lawlessness he will turn to another. No person with as much contempt for the law as the criminal can be made to settle down over night and lead a peaceable life. There are several possible solutions to relieve the crime situation. Capital punishment would make the criminal think twice before shooting and in this way reduce the number of fatalities. A card index of all persons in the United States on which is recorded the name, occupation, home and other particulars of each person would help check crime as the police could then as easily trace all persons as the police of foreign countries can now in their records. Better organization and picking of the police force so as to eliminate bribery and political graft would bring more convictions and break the criminal's alliance with the police. The surest way to remove crime is to remove the legal technicalities which forewent swift justice. A needed reform is that of our whole judicial structure which works for the criminal rather than society. Classmates: Into such a world as we tonight have graduated (and thousands of others all over the country). As we meet for the last time as a class, let us think solemnly of the high duties we as citizens are called upon to perform. Let us carry our ideals with us, let us do our part to make the world a better place for graduates of the future.

Ford's Help Proves God-send to Inkster

That Henry Ford's generosity in doing a great deal to alleviate the cost for poor relief in Nankin township is evidenced by the fact that more than 500 acres of land is being worked by residents of the village of Inkster, many of whom previously had received aid from this township. Residents of Inkster are allowed to raise vegetables and small crops on this land irrespective of whether they are Ford workers or not, and this has done a great deal to cut township welfare expenses. Peter J. Snyder, township supervisor, informed The Dispatch that much of the relief work in this township was necessary in Inkster, and that approximately 80 per cent of the people who were dependent upon the township for aid were Ford workers. Henry Ford's policy of providing land for his employees has grown to such proportions that 25,000 workmen now are raising crops on this land, covering more than 2,000 acres. The 2,000 acres it was said, has been loaned by private owners on solicitation of representatives of the Ford company. Most of the land lies in the vicinity of Ford and Inkster roads and Michigan avenue, Ford's, although various plots are distributed throughout the county. It was reported by the company that additional land will be solicited under the same circumstances and turned over to the general public. More than 50,000 workmen at the River Rouge plant have received application blanks for garden space, and the company expects that each employee will farm a small plot. Seeds and implements are furnished by the company, and pamphlets are given which contain excellent advice on the raising of various crops.—Wayne Dispatch

Cost Her $4.25 To Reduce 65 Pounds

"Worth It," Miss Bates Says.

If you're young and fat read what Miss Bates of Beech, Iowa, has to say about Kruschen Salts— if you are middle age or old Kruschen shows you the way to lose fat the SAFE way.

To lose fat the safe, sure way—take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—eat less fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar that costs but a small sum lasts 4 weeks. Get it at Mayflower Drug Co. or any drug store in the world—but be sure for your health's sake to ask for and get Kruschen Salts. It's the little daily dose that does it.

"About all most people know of St. Patrick is that he drove all the snakes out of Ireland, which is not true. It is true that he was born either in Scotland or England, and that he was captured by Irish pirates when he was sixteen years old. He was taken to Ireland and made to tend sheep as a slave. For six years he worked as a slave before he escaped, but at the age of twenty-two he found himself in France and flew to Ireland, where at such new-found freedom was sweet. Who would have blamed him if he had no thought of himself alone? But Patrick thought of Ireland. He was sorry for those P'rites who had enslaved him. Like Christ, he forgave those who had persecuted him. He determined to return and help them. He knew that to teach them the Christian religion would bring them happiness. So he studied for the priesthood for fourteen years and returned in middle life as the Bishop of Ireland. He founded over three hundred churches and left Ireland a Christian. That is how the life of this world is built. Life is not easy, but it is simple. If you will fix your eyes on some such vision of brotherhood and keep your thoughts and ambitions there, you will live.

I congratulate you young people on graduating in a time of depression. Perhaps you have not been so congratulated before, but the greatest siren voice of modern times that lures men from the real happiness of life is gold. Just now at the bottom of this depression the world has somewhat lost faith in gold as a Saviour, and it will be easier for you to get your ambition fixed on truer riches.

God of our youth to whom we yield The tribute of our eager praise, Upon the well contested field And amid the glory of these days God of our youth, be with us yet Let us forget, lest we forget."
