

IN AGREEMENT ON FLAG PLAN

Ex-Service Men and City Officials Work Out Plan For Display of Flag

Representatives of the Ex-Service Men's club of Plymouth appeared before the city commission Monday night and urged that the action taken at the joint meeting of the cemetery board and city commission held on July 27th, relative to the flags on the graves at the cemetery be reconsidered.

The meeting of July 27th was called for the purpose of discussing with all organizations of the city decorating graves at Riverside cemetery, the matter of removing the flags and banners which are usually put on the graves for Memorial Day.

At this joint meeting it was agreed by the majority of representatives that if the flags and banners were permitted to remain on the graves until Memorial Day to July 31st, they would have served their purpose and that there would be no objection to removal of the same after the latter date.

The cemetery officials had the flags and banners removed in order to improve the appearance of the cemetery, because it was felt that the appearance of such two-colored and city flags and banners of the services and fraternal organizations detracted from the natural beauty of the cemetery. No general attempt had ever before been made by any organization to keep the flags in good condition and, little by little, during the year they had been removed or destroyed. This year the cemetery board felt that by removing all of the flags and banners the work of maintaining the cemetery would be speeded up and the general appearance would be improved.

The Ex-Service Men's club was not represented at the joint meeting held on July 27th and therefore have taken this opportunity to present their objections to the commission. Commissioner Hoover suggested that a petition be circulated in order that the sentiment of the citizens of Plymouth could be obtained regarding this matter. The commission took no formal action, but suggested that action be taken when the petitions were presented.

At the joint meeting of the commission and the cemetery board a resolution was passed instructing the cemetery employees to fly the American flag on the flagstaff at the entrance of the cemetery each suitable day during the year and to take of respect to the men who have served in the military or naval services of this country. It was also suggested that a tablet be placed at the base of the flag pole on which would be inscribed the names of all deceased service men. This suggestion was made in lieu of placing an American flag on each individual grave, which plan would be much more appropriate and would permit better respect being paid to the American flag and would prevent it from being displayed contrary to the accepted rules and regulations concerning the American flag.

The commission has felt that the action taken was for the best interest of the cemetery and the citizens at large and has in mind the continued improvement of the cemetery grounds.

PLYMOUTH VOTE WAS DIVIDED

In connection with the discharge by the Wayne county board of supervisors of Arthur E. Whitcomb who has served many years as Wayne county tax commissioner, the vote of the supervisors from Plymouth on the discharge is of local interest, as they were divided on the subject. Whitcomb whose official duties placed him in touch with all the activities of the county, admitted that he made something like $4,000 in cash off the sale of the Goddard airport to the county and he also admitted that he was taking options on property in Detroit that the county had expected to purchase. When the matter of his dismissal came to a vote two Plymouth supervisors voted for his discharge. The other three local supervisors did believe that Whitcomb should have been discharged for his real estate activities.

BOOSTER CLUB PLANS MEETING

Plymouth Kivansians and Rotarians and their wives have been invited to attend a meeting in the Hotel Marlborough Tuesday evening, October 11th at 8 o'clock that is being sponsored by the Plymouth Pere Marquette Booster Club. The meeting is sure to be a most interesting one and doubtless will bring out a big crowd.

EARLY FALL WEDDINGS ARE INTERESTING SOCIAL EVENTS

WILCOX-THOMPSON

One of the prettiest of early autumn weddings was that of Miss Katherine Sally Wilcox, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox of this city, and Robert Deane Thompson son of Mr. and Mrs. Grand Rapids, son of Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler D. Thompson of Grand Rapids, which was quietly solemnized at seven o'clock Monday evening, Sept. 19th, at the St. Johns Episcopal church on South Harvey street. The marriage vows were spoken before an altar banked with hydrangeas, ferns and fall flowers. The bride was given in marriage by her father, with Reverend Henry L. Lewis, of St. Andrew Episcopal church of Ann Arbor officiating, in the presence of one hundred relatives and friends.

The bride was lovely in a rose-white satin gown fashioned on simple lines with a long veil of tulle and carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, Jessamine, lilies of the valley and swansonia. The bridal party included Miss Julia Wilcox, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Barbara Horton of this city and Miss Virginia Shumacher of Ann Arbor as bridesmaids; George L. Beard of Northville as best man and ushers Edmund P. Yerkes of Northville and John G. Staudt of Aurora, Illinois.

The maid of honor was attired in a gown of peach crepe with brown turban and brown accessories and carried an arm bouquet of tallgrass roses, delphinium, and maiden hair fern while the bridesmaids wore rose-copper crepe with turbans and accessories in brown and carried bouquets of sun-kissed roses and Jessamine.

Mrs. Wilcox, mother of the bride, was becomingly gowned in rose-beige crepe and lace while the groom's mother, Mrs. Thompson, wore pale-blue chiffon. Both wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Miss Ruth Allison of Plymouth played the wedding march and accompanied Miss Helen Hageman of Fort Wayne, Indiana, a classmate of Miss Wilcox, who sang "Ich Liebe Dich."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the parental home on Penniman avenue with only the wedding party, relatives and a few friends attending. This was also the silver wedding anniversary of the bride's parents.

The happy couple left immediately after the wedding trip through the northern part of the state. For her going away costume Mrs. Thompson wore a brown crepe ensemble with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will be at home in Ann Arbor at 928 Forest avenue after October 15.

The bride who has been a resident of Plymouth during her girlhood and a very popular member of her set is a member of the Chi Omega sorority of the University of Michigan. Mr. Thompson is a member of Tau Beta Pi and Triangles, engineering honor societies and is presently doing graduate work in the University toward his Ph. D. degree and is a teaching assistant in the Chemistry department.

Best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson for a long happy wedded life.

Those attending the wedding from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler D. Thompson of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Shumacher and Mrs. Blanche Gardner Tilton of Concord, New Hampshire; Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Underwood and Mrs. William Rice of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. S. Beard, Mrs. C. C. Yerkes and Mrs. F. McKimney of Northville; Miss Katherine Van Aken of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilcox of Dearborn; Miss Myrtle Fisher of Plymouth Road and Miss Grace Fisher of Redford.

YUCHAS-McILHARGY

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Saturday morning, September 17, when Mary Ellen Yuchas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Yuchas of Plymouth became the bride of J. McIlhargy, son of Mrs. Mary McIlhargy of Detroit.

To the strains of Lohegrin's wedding march, played by the organist, Miss Lehman, the bridal party proceeded to the altar where the marriage service was performed by the Rev. Father McGee of the Assumption Cottage, Sandwich, Ontario, it consists of the groom.

TO START SUIT IN SETTLEMENT

City Seeks Division Of Its Assets Claimed Due From Township

On motion of Commissioner Frank K. Learned, the city commission unanimously adopted a resolution directing City Attorney A. A. Emery to institute suit against Plymouth township for an accounting and division of the assets of the township. Under state law, when a portion of a township is incorporated as a city the assets and liabilities are required to be divided between the city and the non-incorporated portion of the township in proportion to their respective assessed valuations.

Shortly following the incorporation of Plymouth as a city, the City Commission instructed the City Manager, L. P. Cookingham, to arrange for a settlement of the city's claim against the township.

Mr. Cookingham reported to the Commission at its meeting last Monday evening that he had been unsuccessful in his attempt to arrange a meeting with the township officials. He stated that the reason for the delay in meeting the city was that the accounts of the township were not in shape and that as soon as the audit was completed and the book-keeping brought up-to-date that the township officials would confer with him. He stated that approximately six weeks had elapsed since he was advised that the accounting work was completed, but still was not able to arrange a meeting.

After a discussion by the Commission the city manager reported, Commissioner Learned offered a resolution referring the matter to the city attorney with instructions to proceed with the suit for an accounting and a division of the assets. The resolution was unanimously adopted, without debate.

After the ceremony a beautiful breakfast was served to one hundred guests in the auditorium of the church, followed by a short talk by Father Lafere and Father McGee, who wished the bride and groom the joys of a long and happy wedded life. A reception was then held at the home of the bride for about two hundred friends and relatives from New York, Indiana, Canada, Northville, Detroit and Plymouth.

The happy couple left late in the afternoon on their wedding trip to Indiana and Canada. On their return they will be at home to their many friends at 1540 Ferry Park avenue, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart visited relatives at Imlay City, Sunday.

YERKES PLEDGES TICKET SUPPORT

In a letter to The Plymouth Mail Robert G. Yerkes, who made a strong bid for the recent Republican nomination, urged his friends to support the Republican party and George Dondero, the successful candidate. The text of his letter follows:

I want to thank you for your wonderful support in my recent campaign. I did the very best I knew how to fight, clear and hard battle for the nomination, based on my own qualifications, not the disqualifications of other candidates.

I believe I made a host of friendships, friendships that I will not know how to simply forget. I defeated Theodore Wendt and I feel more than repaid for the time and the energy that I expended in the race.

I hope you will support George Dondero. His honesty and reputation are above reproach. His sincerity is unquestioned. He is sane and progressive and in these troubled times it is well worth any effort we may put forth, to have men like Mr. Dondero in Congress. I have offered my services also to the Republican Party. I believe in the soundness of its national program and in the ability of its leaders to better our conditions. Their program is based upon sanity and common sense and not upon empty promises and vote catching planks. The Republican party needs your loyalty and I urge you to support it now as you have in the past.

Again, my thanks to you all. I have no regrets—and I hope you, too, are satisfied that your vote was not wasted.

The Young Ladies of the Lutheran Church had an enjoyable picnic supper Wednesday evening at the home of the Misses Elsie and Dorothy Melow on Farmer street. A business meeting followed the supper.

Rotary Governor

EMMETT RICHARDS

OUR COUNTRY, ITS FUTURE

Government Solves Economic Problems Of World Wide Importance

By E. R. EATON

It was a rare privilege of the editor of the Plymouth Mail to be a member of a group of Michigan newspaper publishers who were invited to meet President Hoover Monday evening and hear him discuss for a period of two hours the problems of this nation and the rest of the world. It was a discussion such as the president seldom enters into and one that every publisher present felt perfectly free to take part in.

Out of it all came a clear picture of the tremendous efforts this country is putting forth to help the world right its economic problems, and out of it came the knowledge too, that the stability of the nations of other continents depends entirely upon the success of our country in meeting the rapidly changing business changes that every business and every person is confronted with.

The United States government for nearly two years has been bearing the brunt of the business problems of the world. First came the collapse of the Austrian business structure. Then followed that of Germany, with its financial system completely wrecked. With its business system in Central Europe in chaos, it did not take long for the economic affairs of England to become involved.

When England went off the gold standard it provided the climax that led to the near business collapse of every nation and directly affecting the affairs of the United States.

With this background in mind, the twenty Michigan publishers had but little difficulty in understanding the vastness of the task that confronted Washington, and that it set out to accomplish, not only for the protection of our own country, but in an effort to stabilize the affairs of the world. America can no longer look upon itself as a country entirely immune to other nations.

Out of the depression, it is clearly evident that there is to come a new economic standard, a new method of doing business—and that adjustment is now taking place.

Every one associated with the Washington government believes that the critical period was passed in June, that it was in the spring when this country faced its greatest danger and overcame it. For months there has been a steady improvement in the general conditions not only the United States, but most other parts of the world as well. The legislative program advanced by President Hoover and supported by both Democrats and Republicans provided the methods for blocking the inroads that were being made into the business morale of the nation.

It brought back the confidence of the people and it checked the demands being made upon banks and insurance companies for money. If not only checked this onslaught on the resources of the nation, but it provided the financial institutions with the reserve that was necessary to offset the money that went into the old shoe in the closet or into banks across the border line.

The Michigan publishers while in Washington learned for the first time the seriousness of the situation brought about a year or so ago when people began "hoarding" their money. But most fortunately this thing has ended. People who took their cash to England and Canada are now bringing it back to America in sums anywhere from $20 to $50,000.

PROBATION FOR GAS LARGELY

Arrest Follows Discovery Of Illegal Use Of Domestic Gas

Leonard L. Blair, 142 Pearl street, Plymouth, was found guilty, in municipal court, Tuesday night of stealing gas service from the Michigan Federated Utilities. The unauthorized use of gas by Blair occurred after service had been discontinued by the company for an accumulation of unpaid bills. Blair admitted in court that he had made the connection that furnished the unmetered supply of gas.

In passing sentence, municipal judge Brooks, suspended sentence and placed Blair on probation for a period of six months with instructions to report regularly each week to chief of police, Vaughn Smith. Judge Brooks stated that the lenient sentence probably was not justified, but in view of the fact that the Blair family probably would become a city charge if Blair was sent to the House of Correction caused him to place Blair on probation in order that he would provide a livelihood for his family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman of Wayne and Mrs. and Mrs. John Johnson of Portland, Oregon, were guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hillman on Peuniman avenue, Friday evening.

President Charles Bennett of the Plymouth Rotary club has announced that the local luncheon organization will be visited on Friday, October 21 by District Governor Emmett Richards of Alpena. Needlework Guild Busy During Oct.

Under the direction of its president, Mrs. R. E. Cooper the Plymouth Needlework Guild of Ancient and Modern Sewing for October 10 to 15 is National Membership week for the Guild which means that everyone who is not already a member and who is ready to give two new garments for the needy of our city will be asked to join the Guild. The initiative of the other will offer a day for the gathering of the gifts.

Each of the 32 directors of the Plymouth branch now has 10 members who will contribute 2 garments. However, no director is limited to 10 memberships, so many of our Plymouth directors are inviting more to join their group. Men may become money members of the Guild, so many a Plymouth husband, father, son, or nephew will be asked to contribute his bit toward clothing Plymouth's needy this winter.

A letter from the Guild's National headquarters in Philadelphia stresses the need of underwear for boys and men, of underwear for women and girls, more than any other type of clothing. To become a member of the Guild, one must contribute money or two new garments. However, conditions are so serious this year, that the National Guild recommends the collection also of emergency garments, old clothes which if given to a director of the Guild may be made over and classed as new garments.

Plymouth has two of its members experienced in this work of remaking old clothes and ready to perform this service. So give your old garments to your Guild director when you take her your annual membership gift.

All of the garments collected by the Guild are to be used in Plymouth. They are to be distributed by our welfare agencies, so your gifts will help those here at home. Garments for children should be purchased for the ages from 2 to 16 years. The infants layettes are being provided by the Guild from other resources.

If you are in doubt about what you want your Guild gift to be, watch our window at Cal Simon's, Paul Hayward, Goldstein's Department Store, and Irving Blunk are prepared to help you. See their window displays next Thursday, September 29.

CREDIT BUREAU CONVENTION TO BE HERE IN 1933

Plymouth Lands Meeting Of This Well Known Group

Through the efforts of Berg D. Moore, secretary of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth has landed the next annual convention of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Michigan. The members of the organization in convention at Traverse City voted unanimously to accept the invitation of this community.

The convention will be held here at the Mayflower hotel and will be the headquarters of the organization. The fact that Plymouth had sufficient hotel accommodations to take care of the visitors was one of the deciding factors that brought the meeting to this place.

There will be considerably over 50 delegates and in addition to this number, there are other visitors as well as the wives of many of the delegates who generally attend. The convention will continue for two days and will be the first of a series of smaller organization meetings that Secretary Moore of Traverse City has commerce hopes to bring to Plymouth next year.

Secretary Moore, who attended the convention held at the Park Place Hotel, Traverse City, September 18, 19 and 20, and who placed an invitation for the Spring Convention in the name of the local bureau before the directors of the state association declared, "In view of existing conditions and the geographical location of Traverse City, the attendance and interest displayed at this Fall Conference of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Michigan was a revelation to me. It must be taken as an indication of the strength of the State Association and the reassured of the member bureaus to render efficient valuable service to the business and professional interests of their respective communities. Geo. C. Morrison, Manager of the Merchants' Trade and Adjustment Company, Toledo, Ohio, complimented the Michigan Association by stating that it is one of the outstanding state associations in the entire country.

"This is the fine, capable, and earnest body of men and women who the local bureau will have the pleasure of entertaining in May next year, and it is hoped that the state of assisting conditions of Northville and Plymouth will not only cooperate toward making the 1933 Spring Convention a lasting success, but that they will take advantage of the opportunity provided by the convention by attending the most important evening session of the two day meeting."

The following officers of the State Association were elected at Traverse City to serve during the current year: J. R. Armstrong, Barth Creek, president; L. C. Fox, Detroit, first vice president; W. L. Kirby, Lansing, 2nd vice president; and Earl H. Becker, Royal Oak, secretary-treasurer.

Gets Ninety Days For Station Theft

Ninety days out in the Detroit House of Correction for grabbing a fist full of money is the penalty that Herbert McDowell of Detroit is paying for his offense. McDowell is the young Detroitier who walked into the gas station of Miller and Durant at 10th Street and while no one was looking, opened the cash till and ran from the place with something like $4 belonging to the station.

Officers were immediately called but it was some time before he was captured. He had climbed into the water hoses and station near the corner of Starkweather and Mill street where he had hidden when he found he was being trailed. One other arrest was made, but the prisoner was released because of the fact that no evidence could be secured that he had anything to do with the theft. Another member of the party has never been arrested.

LEARNED GOES TO DEM CONVENTION

Frank Learned was Tuesday selected at the Democratic county convention held in Detroit as one of the candidates from this county to attend the Democratic state convention to be held Tuesday in Lansing. The democrats at the county convention passed a resolution which asks the state convention to endorse a plan providing a tax on beer, the revenue to be used for the payment of the bonus claimed by the soldiers.

FEAR STIFLES INITIATIVE

The only thing that keeps most of us from realizing our own possibilities and of getting the highest satisfaction out of life is fear. There are very few human beings in the world who are not afraid of something, and as long as one is afraid of anything he cannot achieve perfect happiness.

Primitive man must have lived in a state of almost constant terror. He was afraid of wild beasts, afraid of enemies of other tribes, afraid of the thunder and lightning, afraid of evil spirits that lurked in the darkness of the forest—of real dangers and of unreal dangers which he imagined. Very few people in these days have the perfectly natural physical fears that surrounded the lives of our ancestors. But who of us has not some mental fear, fear of something that has not happened but which we think may happen to ourselves or our loved ones?

In the past two or three years the people of the United States have been the prey of a new kind of fear. They have been afraid that, in the popular phrase, the bottom has dropped out of everything. They have feared that never again would they have a job, that the factories that have shut down would never start up, that they would never be able to sell the products of their farms—those and a thousand other fears which have no relation to common sense or reality seemed to take possession of perhaps the majority of Americans.

And that is one of the reasons we have been so slow in coming back from the economic crisis. We have been afraid to use our intelligence and common sense and go ahead when everybody else was afraid to do anything but accept conditions as they are and paint them, mentally, much worse than they are.

We see signs that this widespread fear is beginning to disappear. We do not believe it ever had any real foundation, and we believe people are waking up to that fact. If we are right, and hope and courage are beginning to replace fear, then we have made a good start toward the return of good times.—Northern Lyon County Journal, Allen, Kansas.

WHY MISREPRESENT

A man who deliberately misrepresents another has committed a grave offense. However, there have always been people in every community who delighted in leaving a false impression concerning some one, or some business, etc.

Some people will misrepresent their competitor, thinking that they will be the gainer, and might be for a while, but it will eventually become known, and when it does it always rebounds on the one who has thus acted.

We have seen innocent people suffer on account of a misrepresentation of their character, and in various other ways, all on account of some misstatement of some envious person. There is a golden rule which it would be well for us all to follow: "If you can't say something good about your neighbor, don't say anything."

You take most campaigns for office, and there are always a few who will stoop to misrepresent their opponent. This is wrong, and one reason why we have never had any desire to be a candidate for office. You will hear one fellow speak, and you would think his opponent was the crookedest fellow in the world, and he will come along and tell you about the other fellow and you just don't know which one is telling the truth. In such cases, we wonder sometimes if they both are not right in their assertions. If they are, then both should go down in defeat.

Occasionally you will find a business man who will misrepresent his competitor, thinking he will get business that his competitor has been getting. He might succeed for a while, but when you find a fellow like this he will finally lose the confidence of the people and when he does he is going to get a hard fall; and he deserves one and has it coming.

Let us be square with each other, and when we say anything about anybody, let it be the truth.—The Democrat American, Sallisaw, Oklahoma.

HATS OFF TO NEBRASKA LEGIONNAIRES

If the spirit of sturdy American independence retains the admiration which the people of this country traditionally have bestowed upon it, the cry of "Hats off to the Legionnaires of Nebraska!" should resound from Portland, Ore., to Portland, Me., and from the Canadian boundary to the Rio Grande.

Those strapping, and, if need be, scrapping sons of a prairie state formed in marching rank on the streets of the western Portland, and entered the American Legion parade with a banner bearing the proud slogan:

"The American Legion Was Formed to Serve the Nation, Not to Exploit It. Nebraska Votes No on the Bonus."

If the Legion had made that slogan unanimous it might well have marched with chins high beneath Nebraska's banner, and the plaudits of America would have sounded in every town and hamlet as they did when its men came home from the far battle fronts with the scars of sacrifice and the glory of victory.

It is a fact to be deplored, however, that police and military authorities persuaded the Nebraskans to furl their banner and suppress the ringing sentiment it displayed. The excuse given was fear that the challenging affirmation of true Legion purpose, and its uncompromising application to the bonus issue, might provoke disorder—truly an amazing excuse. It surely does injustice to the rank and file of the American Legion.

The ideal expressed in the Nebraskan slogan is the ideal by which the Legion must live in order to maintain its influence for good and to retain its high place in the country's affection and confidence. Nebraska's trumpet blast has not been stifled by the order of over-anxious authorities.

"To Serve the Nation, Not to Exploit It"—the echoes of that call will vibrate long in American ears. It is a rallying cry for an hour of crisis. Hats off to the Nebraska Legionnaires!—Chicago News.

SETH PULVER

One important factor in the victory that Governor Wilbur Brucker won in the recent primary election should not be overlooked, and that factor is a personality—Seth Pulver of Owosso. Mr. Pulver was the chairman of the Brucker committee. Probably no one person in Michigan, no one organization, brought to the support of the Governor more voters than did Mr. Pulver. Never a member of any faction and a very delightful person to know, he won unlimited support for the Governor; not alone because of the appeal that the Governor was entitled to a second term, but because Republicans should support him for the good of Republicanism. No individual could have more forcibly presented this claim with as much effect as did Mr. Pulver. Governor Brucker's chairman is entitled to enthusiastic congratulations for the splendid part he played in the primary contest.

Bringing Her Into Port

SMALL TOWN IS NECESSARY

Two things have come out of the depression that are worth noting. The large centers of population have discovered that they cannot get along without the country. The small communities have discovered that they can make their own life without much worrying concerning large cities. For long it was a habit of big cities to display airs of superiority to the so-called "rural communities." They have pretended to believe that the small town was passing into eclipse, and that people would flock to big cities and make them more and more important and influential. And, also, a lot of "country" people, lured by the glamour of the cities, have left the countryside. They have discovered, many of them too late, that life in the small communities has a thousand advantages not possessed by large centers, and that the mushroom development of big cities has been a bad, not too good thing. Today the small city is taking on a new dignity and individuality. We see everywhere the proof that the small community is realizing its possibilities, forgetting to ape the manners of the more artificial "centers of population," and attending enthusiastically to the duty of building a destiny for itself. As the small community becomes strengthened, and as the farm community becomes more independent, the large city will prosper too. What we need in America is vitality of individual effort, and this is what the small city will give in the next generation as it did in the past. The disillusioned folk who thought that the bright lights were what made life worth while, will be drifting back to the country, eager to capture once again the peace, the sincerity, the integrity, the gladness that abides where neighborly comradeship is possible.—Herald, Slayton, Minnesota.

TOWN BEAUTY AN ASSET

In spite of the apparent commercialism of the age in which we live, it is evident to any observer that the American people are developing a greater appreciation of the beautiful. This is not confined to the wealthier classes, but extends to the great masses in the towns and villages, and in the rural districts. New towns and new sections of the older ones are being laid out with wider streets, with provision for larger lawns, more trees, shrubbery and flowers, and a more attractive setting generally.

New houses show better architecture and greater harmony with their surroundings, while unsightly yard fences have largely disappeared. The net result of all these modern developments is beauty. And aside from the satisfaction which it affords the eye, it pays in dollars and cents.

Beautiful cities, towns and villages attract people. They attract permanent residents, they attract tourists, and they attract trade. It is natural that a person selecting a trading center will choose a town that is beautiful and clean in preference to one that is unsightly and dirty, if other conditions are anywhere near equal.

Therefore, it behooves the authorities of any community, as well as each individual citizen, to make the most of their opportunities for improving the appearance of the place in which they live. Beauty and cleanliness are a town's best assets.—The Culver Citizen, Culver, Indiana.

A PAIN IN THE NECK

It didn't take the Democrats of Michigan long to find out that the candidacy of Claude Carney of Kalamazoo for the Democratic nomination for Governor was nothing more than a big pain in the neck. Seeing that he was getting nowhere in his campaign, he thought that he might create a stir by making one of his perfectly natural vicious and malicious assaults upon the character of William A. Comstock, the successful contestant. Mr. Comstock, one of the real gentlemen of Michigan, did just what any gentleman might be expected to do, he ignored the snapping at his heels. Mr. Carney's stinging defeat in his own party primary was a merited one.

INFORMATION DESIRED

The Plymouth Mail is anxious to learn the name of the Michigan editor who some time ago offered to take farm produce in exchange for subscriptions and secured in return some 160 gallons of corn liquor.

THE WAY IT GOES

The Democrats of Michigan were exceedingly fortunate in their selection of a candidate for governor. They were most unfortunate in their selection of a worthy candidate for congress from this district. He cannot be said to represent his party because he has never before been associated with it.

Rambling Around with Michigan Editors

"RISE UP, YE PEOPLE!"

Our American form of government, allowing each citizen a voice in public affairs, has endured many human struggles—it has emerged with varying degrees of success in keeping with the amount of INTERESTED INTELLIGENCE manifested by its people. Right now our country is engaged in perpetuating popular government with too much DISINTERESTED APATHY of its people. No government or other form of human activity, can be sustained without intelligently directed effort. Unless people in high places in the United States evidence more unselfishness and a higher type of leadership, they will be consumed by the stampeding herd of voters who have come to mistake ballyhoo for ability, promises for performance, and corruption for character. See George Averill in The Birmingham Ecceentric.

THE SMALL CAR

If reports of auto manufacturers are to be taken seriously, the day of the "big car" is over. Our readers will probably realize now that they have seen fewer powerful machines on the highways during the past year than back during the time when money was plentiful and a lot of people wanted to make a "big show." Motorists have gotten over the idea of "show" today for it is not demanded.

The main thing auto owners want today is a car that will fit their pocketbooks. They want a car that is economical in the use of gasoline; one for which license tags are not high in cost; one in which they haven't got much money invested and can pay for it easily.

During the past year there has been the great and widest appeal for the small car. It has many advantages over the larger models. Other than the ones mentioned above is the fact that you can park it in a small space.—Chas. Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

RAIN

Ingham county has been visited with two heavy rains within the past two weeks. In fact, within a period of five days more than the average rainfall for two months fell. Last Saturday the water came down all day. It was refreshing.

Here in Michigan we do not appreciate our climatic advantages until a drought like that of 1930 arrives. Water is precious. Here in Michigan with a heavy annual rainfall and surrounded as we are by lakes in every direction, burdened by the world's largest fresh water seas, we are apt to forget our blessings.

In arid sections of the west water is the crying need. Cities and irrigation districts are continually quarreling over water rights. Even states can't agree on water supply problems.

We read of the sun worship of former primitive people. But they always prayed for rain. We listen to westerners sing the praises of a land where the sun always shines. We should speak up and praise nature for giving us plenty of rain along with our sunshine.

Michigan has advantages possessed by no other state. We should not be backward about saying so. Sunshine and rain in the right proportions is better than a lot of sun and but little rain.—Vernon Brown in The Ingham County News.

HOW TO DO IT

Many business men spend a lot of time, waiting for the day to come when business will happen their way. Such men are blind to the eternal fact that business comes where it is invited and stays where it is well located. No true business man loses any time waiting for business to happen; he gets busy advertising and makes it happen.

—Robert Gifford in The Easton Rapids Journal.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

Up in Bessemer the school patrons are aroused over the fact that the man the board of education has selected for the position of athletic coach has declined to accept the position at a cut wage. This is another exhibit of the excess of which these educational appendages such as football, basketball, etc., have gone to. We'll risk wagering a nice ripe apple that there isn't a school patron in Bessemer that has the education of the students at heart in their ballyhoo over an athletic coach. What they want is a winning football team even though that team is made up of morons or blockheads. Of course the Bessemer students are not morons or blockheads; they are average American young men thrown into the vortex of an athletic ego by an over-developed athletic complex. Bessemer isn't any exception; almost all schools have 'em. The production of students with a well developed idea of getting on in the world and acquiring an education that will make them fit into the niches they will be shoved into by circumstances in after life isn't what's bothering the Bessemer school patrons; they want a football team that can beat any other team in the peninsula. Well, that's what we've come to in these days of high priced athletics.—Thomas Conlin in The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

Maybe the people own the government. But a man who owns a plow horse doesn't try to dodge feeding it.

Adversity Begets Strength

Adversity begets strong men. Our pioneers were resourceful and determined because the conditions they faced demanded these attributes.

The changed conditions of the past three years have called for courage and for strength. Men as well as institutions have had to change their policies and practices to meet the changing times. Strength, courage and resourcefulness have again become necessary in meeting the many problems.

This bank has faced the situation squarely and will continue to serve the financial interests of this community in every way possible.

WHERE IS THE CLASS OF '32?

What are our pals and buddies of the 1932 graduating class going to do this year? Think a few are going to stay home and rest from the strain the last twelve years has put on their minds. But here is the dope on some who are going to pursue further knowledge. Jim Stimpson, Cass Stevens, Margaret Roediger, Herbert Saylor, Persis Fogarty, Maryann Parkins, and Jim Meyers are going to Ypsilanti Normal Janet Bickenshaft (we are not sure about Frank Allison), Howard Truesdell, Bill Kirkpatrick, William Henry and Clifford Smith are going to try out Michigan State. Margaret Haskell is following the footsteps of her sister and is going to Lake Erie College. Marshall Purdy is going to Albion and last but not least Bruce Miller, the former editor-in-chief of this page is going to attend Houghton College of Technology.

Here's wishing them the best of luck in the years to come.

PILGRIM PRINTS STAFF UNDER WAY

So far, the Pilgrim Prints staff is to have the following members of which Ernest Archer was elected editor-in-chief. Jack Wilcox, sports; Darold Cline, sports; Ernest Archer, forensics activities; H. Y. and Torch club; Beulah Sorenson, feature work; Catherine Daugan, class activities; Irene Zlasko, drama clubs and assemblies; Miriam Jolliffe, music; Girl Reserves, and class room work; Jane Whipple, Central Grade school notes and class room work; Jeannette Bauman, clubs; Jack Sessions, clubs; and Russell Kirk, clubs.

There will probably be a few more students join the club and a few minor changes made. There are only four of last year's writers back. The staff will strive to do its best in giving the public work of first class quality.

LARGE CLASSES FOUND IN 1932

In spite of the fact that Latin is considered a difficult subject for freshmen, there are about 80 freshmen taking it. This is the largest number of freshmen Plymouth ever had taking Latin.

There are 38 beginners in book-keeping and 23 advanced pupils. Both classes are the largest Plymouth ever had.

Mr. Smith has the largest law class consisting of about 56 students.

THE LUNCH ROOM IS BIG BUSINESS

According to statistics the school lunch room last year, under the supervision of Mrs. Dykhouse, did a rather large volume of business judging by the food purchased. Here are a few of the items used: 11 gallons of olives, 14 gallons of beans, 32 gallons of spinach, 60 gallons of peas, 24 gallons of corn, 30 gallons of beef, 50 gallons of soup, 613 gallons of ice cream, 364 loaves of bread, 438 pounds of meat, 34 bushels of potatoes, 158 pounds of butter, 54 dozen eggs, 48 pounds of store cheese, and 2,805 half pints of milk. There are also many other kinds of foods used, but the above are the most outstanding.

BLUE AND WHITE GRID-TERS MEET WALLED LAKE ELEVEN TONIGHT

The Rock's grid team start the season this year with the Walled Lake eleven tonight (Friday) at 4:00 o'clock. In the past two years when these teams met they broke even. Last year Walled Lake were the victors and the year before Plymouth gave Walled Lake a triumph. The game tonight will be played on the new gridiron which is located at Riverside Park. The Rocks will be out there with good equipment and fighting hard to win the first game on their new field. The backfield will have only two regulars from last year and those are our captain, James Williams at half-back and Mel Blunk who will either call signals or play at half-back. Lester Bassett will put in his fourth year at the center of the line while his brother, W. Bassett, will play tackle and Art Ransnerman will be back at guard position. Don Bronson will be at end as a regular also. There are some other very promising backs and linemen who will probably get in this Walled Lake game.

Editorial ANOTHER LESSON TO BE LEARNED

Because Registrar Ira M. Smith's office at the University of Michigan is the busiest on the campus these days, Mr. Smith has something interesting to tell which furnishes food for thought. This was taken from the Michigan Alumnus, published by the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan. Here it is:
"Admission requests are slightly below the total of a year ago, but only under one classification does the loss show to any appreciable extent. While there has been little falling off in applications from boys and girls contemplating definite courses of study such as prelaw, premed, education engineering and the like, a marked difference shows in that group of students who annually enter without having already made up their minds as to the field of specialization eventually to be adopted. The so-called "casual" student, in other words, is not going to college this year in such large numbers. The boy or girl who knows what he is going to do has been able to find a way, or his parents have found a way; but the others are staying at home.
"it is just another lesson to be learned from the times in which we are living."
It may be interesting to know that the senior class of '31 of Plymouth had seventeen of its members entered in different colleges in 1931 while the senior class of '32 so far has a representation of fourteen students in colleges.

COMPARISON OF CLASSES

Larger last year's senior class was a large one, this year's class is larger by two pupils. The class of 1931 consisted of 93 seniors, at this time of the year, while the class of 1932 consists of 95.
There is also one more junior this year. This makes a total of 100 juniors.
In 1931 there were 111 sophomores, and in 1932 there are six more, making a total of 117.
Although last year's class of freshmen was considered a large one, the class of 1932 consists of five more making a total of 158.
Both the seventh and eighth grades have a decrease in number as compared to last year. In 1931 there were 91 seventh graders, and this year there are 90. Last year there were 97 eighth graders, and 92 this year.
It is interesting to note the present total enrollment of the high school which is 833, and the comparison made in last week's Plymouth Mail in the column headed "25 Years Ago Today" which stated that the total high school enrollment was 87.

TORCH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At the first meeting of the Torch Club, under the direction of Mr. Cobb, the following officers were elected: president, Darold Cline; vice-president, Marcus Scheffer; secretary, Lawrence Max; treasurer, Arnold Ash; chairman of membership committee, James Livingston; chairman of program committee, Jack Norris; chairman of activity committee, Elwood Ellett; and chairman of food committee, Max Swigels.

PLYMOUTH TO HAVE TWO DEBATE TEAMS

Judging by the rush for debating material among eight students in Mr. Lature's room during the last week, there will be great competition for a place on one of the two debating teams. Although there is a shortage of material as yet, it is probable that there will be plenty of material in a short time to quiet the demands of the contestants for a little while.
The question for debate this year is as follows: "Resolved, that the State Income Tax Should Be Adopted in Michigan." Even though the question is quite serious it is very interesting.
One of this year's rules states that no debater can participate in more than four debates. The last debate will be a dual debate, that is Plymouth High School will defend the affirmative side of the question in one town, while at the same time uphold the negative side of the question with another school in a different town. This makes it necessary to have two teams.

A SUMMER CAMP AT TORCH LAKE

Ask Bob Shaw and Melvin Blunk about the food they put in "Doodley" had some weeks ago while representing the Plymouth H-Y boys at camp Hayo-Went-Ha from August 20 to August 30.
Ask Donald Bronson or Darold Cline to tell you what the "hot tail" is. Donald was also a representative from the H-Y while Darold Cline and Mr. Cobb represented the Torch club. There are numerous other things that you would have liked to ask these boys about had you enjoyed the privilege of hearing them tell of their trip to Camp Hayo-Went-Ha.
Here is a rough sketch of the routine carried out at camp: bugle call at 6:30; set up exercises and morning dip at 8:00; breakfast at 8:30; after breakfast beds were made and camp duties performed; morning conference from 9:00 to 11:30; a dip if one had time, and then dinner; afternoon spent in playing baseball, tennis, ping-pong, hiking, or using the library; afternoon dip at 4:30; supper at 4:30; the use of bath and canoes; evening conference; and then to bed at 9:30.
There were one hundred and thirty fellows at camp. There was also the serious side of camp composed of interesting talks given by such leaders as Mr. Cobb, Mr. Ollenbach of Bloomfield Hills, Mr. Lee of Ohio, and Ray Johns, camp director.
And so, with the closing of Camp Hayo-Went-Ha for the summer, a happy group of one hundred thirty fellows and advisors returned to their homes carrying with them memories of a worthwhile vacation.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten class of Miss Cavannah are making a baby scrap book and the girls are making aprons. They will start a new kindergarten band soon.
There have been twenty-nine enrolled in Miss Stucky's room, first B. They are learning to write numbers through the use of colorized colors, and to read by illustration.
There have been thirty-seven enrolled in Miss Stader's room, first A and second B. On the reading list are Alfred Woodard, Kenneth Anderson, Dorothy Helen Smith, Bonnie Harger, Dorothy Marie Fisher, and Bernard Jursky. They have been making fruit baskets to decorate the wall border.
The third A and fourth B in Miss DeWaele's room are gathering health posters. The composition that was read to them is on the board.
The fourth A language class of Miss Hunt's room have learned the poem "September." Eighteen recited starts in spelling Friday. The five A will make health posters.
Rev. Norton visited Miss Farland's room. They have chosen their spelling captains, Jacquelyn Schoof and Marie Fisher. The sixth A had one hundred per cent in spelling Friday.

GRIDIRON

The gridiron on which Plymouth will play all of its home games this year is located at the Plymouth Riverside Park near the tennis courts. This field is about the best that any high school team could wish to play on. The entire field is very level and the grass is in good condition for the amount of time it has had to grow. The new gridiron is taking the place of the one which used to be over below the big hill opposite of the comfort station. The goal posts are made of heavy steel piping and they will stand all the bumping that any player could give them. Any school in the district would be proud to hold a football game on this new gridiron.

AD. LIB.

I have heard that it is best to give a good impression when you first begin a job. So I had determined to create a good impression when I first tackled this column. But, after I had chewed three pencils to atoms and ripped up numerous beginnings, I decided that I'd just write the thing and let heck with the impression.
First of all, I want to explain that this is not a scandal sheet. It's worse. Numerous members of the faculty have approached me, offering various bribes to keep their names out of print. Let me tell you, the Ad. Lib. column is a free and independent column and will be influenced by none! If I wanta ruin your rep., I'll do it, whether you want me to or not. And the same goes for the rest of youse bloinks.
Miss Ford's room, dear old 42 to you, seems to be as popular as ever. Regular visitors are Jack Smith, Mary Trapps, Norval Boyce, Big Herbie, and the Thoms. Big Truck, Carvel Bentley and Little Kenzie Greer. There are others, but space and time prohibit their names from being inserted and besides I can't spell half of them.
Getting out this column is no picnic.
If I publish original matter, they say I lack variety.
If I publish things from other papers, I'm too lazy to write.
If I stay on my job, I should be out rustling news.
If I don't print contributions, I'm not showing proper appreciation.
If I do print them, the column is full of junk.
Like a not some guy will say I swiped this from another paper. He's right—I did!
And as I was saying to the gent who teaches physics up here to the jail, the more some people tell you the less you know. Also, still speaking of the same gent, I heard a fellow give a definition of a master of ceremonies which just about fits said gent as he leads his band into deeper and more desperate things. It is: A master of ceremonies is one who is sufficiently well acquainted with the music to keep fairly accurate time with his baton.
About the time you folks start to read this paper, the H-Y boys, under the apt leadership of those old masters Tuck and Shaw, will be giving the newcomers a very interesting and warm time Friday noon at Riverside. For that is the date for the Informal Initiation. It ought to call for a couple of humorous bits which we will pass along, come next St. Swifthen's Eve.
And that children ends our little discussion. We will be back next week with some more gas and gab, and hist! we oughta be able to scrape up a nice new nose bit of gossip about the school's quartet loters, and a mysterious third party who is trying to intrigue the heroine into, ah, wait and find out. By the way, any scandalous bits of news I miss, will be published if you will just hand them to Mistah Ernest Archer, Esquiah. (He's only my agent.)
So long, little ones.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The following figures show that there is a large attendance this year. Some of the teachers have their rooms rather crowded. The attendance is as follows: Miss Wurster, forty-three; Miss Crannell, thirty-four; Miss Mitchell, thirty-three; Miss Frantz, thirty-five; Miss Weatherhead, forty-one; Miss Sly, thirty-nine; Miss Dixon, forty-five; Miss Field, thirty-seven; Miss Holliday, forty-eight; Miss Holt, forty-two; Miss Exleben, forty; and Miss Fenner, forty-eight.

A HEALTH TIP Bread The Cheapest And Best Of Food

Greater bread consumption would not only help the farmers to get a fair price for their wheat, but at the same time it would add tremendously to the health of the American people.
For some strange reason thousands of women have the idea that by refraining from the eating of wheat bread they may be able to reduce.
Nothing can be more foolish. Any reputable doctor will tell you that wheat products build bone and muscle BUT DO NOT PRODUCE FAT.
Bread always has been the great staple food of the American people. This country not only produces the finest wheat, but it makes the BEST bread in the world.
Any bread today remains the cheapest food that can be found. The cost of the wheat used in bread is a fraction of the expense of making it. Yet if more people ate bread in generous quantities and ate more wheat products of every kind, there would be no need of congressional relief for the wheat growers.

A PRAYER

Hear us as we look toward Thee, Heavenly Father, and make us men of sturdy codes of morality, of business sagacity, of fidelity, and of noble tenets of religion. Thou whose hands fling back and lift up, from whose fingers slip the stars, be Thou our light and our salvation. Lay restraining fingers upon the lips of unwisdom and hush rash words to silence. Almighty God, may we feel that there is something above us and beneath us that is fundamentally divine. Bless our city and Nation; help them both so that they may become the city and the country of God's love. Let us see Thy leading face and be satisfied. In the name of Jesus our Savior.

But he had more than brains and imagination to recommend him to his big business associates and later to the public. Too busy, too pre-occupied to think enough of his personal appearance, he became marked for his careless attire. His tie seldom centered in his collar; the barber shop visit was invariably overdue; his clothes looked often as though they had been borrowed from a friend more fortunate; but the man's clear, gray-blue eyes, his large kindly mouth, and his charming sincere speech cancelled all criticism.

So absent-minded was he, when intent upon a particular problem, that when a conductor on a Pullman told him it would be all right even though he could not find his ticket, Morrow replied, "Well, it may be all right with you, but how am I going to find out where I'm going?"
I'm waiting now to see my Lord Who's been to me so kind; I want to thank him face to face. For this my quiet mind.

A QUIET MIND

I have a treasure which I prize. It's hidden in every kind. It's far beyond what earth can give. 'Tis this—a quiet mind.
But 'tis not that I am stupefied, Or senseless, dull, or blind; 'Tis God's own peace within my heart. Which forms my quiet mind.
I found this treasure at the Cross. And there, to every kind Of weary, heavy-laden souls, Christ gives a quiet mind.
The love of God within my heart My heart to Him doth bind; This is the peace of heaven and earth, This is my quiet mind.
I've many a cross to take up now, And many left behind:

What worries us most is hearing a fellow blame world conditions for making him like he has always been.

What's the use when a fellow who quit at the fifth grade now hires a $30 college man to do his spelling?

Don't think his job soft because he handles it quickly. The car that travels fastest burns the most fuel.

Mr. Hoover should be grateful to America's mothers-in-law. They are one kind of trouble that nobody blames on him.

Report Shows How County Road Work Has Been Curtailed

The fiscal year of the County Road Commission closed August 31st and shows the smallest amount of concrete laid in many years, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines, yesterday. 525,400 square yards of concrete pavement was built representing 13-1/2 miles of new road and 9 miles of widening and reconstruction. Our peak road construction was 1928-1929 when 1,815,617 square yards of concrete road was built. During the past year $2,240,935.57 were expended in widening employment to large numbers of so-called cannon labor and relieving the unemployment situation to a very material degree. Labor was paid the going rate of wages and for the most part was staggered, giving each man a 55 hour week every other week, stated Mr. Hines.

The principal roads built during the year were a new 30-foot concrete road on the north side of Michigan Superhighway from Inkster to Wayne, a distance of little over 4 miles; the widening of Grand River Superhighway thru the old Village of Redford; the widening of Woodward and Gratiot Avenues in the City of Detroit; 1-1/2 miles on Airport Drive; 1-1/2 miles on Gibraltar Road; 2 miles on Lake Shore Drive in Grosse Pointe Park; a section of Wayne County Park Drive, and six miles on Outer Drive. All of these projects are not wholly completed but will be done this fall. In addition, there are a number of smaller projects scattered all over the county were completed correcting bad traffic situations, said Mr. Hines.

Nine highway bridges were completed and three additional bridges are under construction.

We have also had under construction 12 grade separation projects, one of which is at the intersection of two superhighways and the remainder at railroads. While all but three have been completed to a stage which permits highway and railroad use of them, a considerable amount of work remains to be done on two others before final completion of all details. Maintenance work has been kept up to our usual high standard, said Mr. Hines.

Another important change in policy is the widening of the trunk line highways to their planned 120-foot width of right of way through the downtown area of Detroit as a County undertaking. A beginning has been made on Gratiot avenue from Brush street to Ripelle street. Additional sections of Gratiot, Woodward and Michigan Avenues will be recommended for widening to the Board of Supervisors at their coming annual session, stated Mr. Hines. A start has also been made on Jefferson Avenue through the downtown sections of River Rouge, Ecorse, Wyandotte, etc. and on Darison Avenue in Highland Park. All of these widening projects will go slowly as the right of way is an expensive item. No assessment is being levied on the abutting property and road funds are cut in half through the elimination of any direct property tax for County Road purposes stated Mr. Hines.

The State Highway Department is cooperating financially in the widening and reconstruction of the trunk lines.

During the year 156 miles of township roads were taken over by the County to provide betterments and maintenance. Within the next four years all of our township roads will be absorbed into the county road system for maintenance and improvement, abolishing the township highway system in its entirety, stated Mr. Hines. Practically all of the township highway bridges which were built in the horse and buggy era need widening and reconstruction to meet present day needs. A modest start has been made this year with the building of new bridges on the Beech Road south of Six Mile Road and on Liller Road north of Michigan Superhighway.

Remember that no clothes are cleaner than the last water in which they are rinsed, and they are seldom as clean.

Among the questions the election will settle is that of the bard's: "What's in a name?"

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK PLAN OF AID

Michigan home owners will be benefited by the new Federal Home Loan bank system which was established in the closing hours of the recent session of Congress. President Hoover promptly appointed the following board of directors: Franklin W. Fort, banker of New Jersey, chairman; Wm. E. Best, lawyer, of Pennsylvania. President of the U. S. Building and Loan League; H. Morton Hoffsh, of Illinois, executive manager of the U. S. Building and Loan League; Nathan Adams, banker, of Dallas, Texas; Dr. John M. Gries, economist, of Ohio. These men are all very eminent in their business and professional lines.

The new board has divided the country into twelve districts, each to have a home loan bank. Michigan and Indiana comprise the sixth district and a home loan bank will be located at Indianapolis with a capital of $8,000,000.00. The members of the home loan banks, that is the subscribers of their stock, are confined to building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, co-operative banks, home-stand, associations and insurance companies.

Building and loan associations who become members of the home loan bank will have to make an original stock subscription of one per cent of the aggregate of the unpaid principal of the subscribers' home mortgage loans, but not less than $1,000.00. The Government will put in a part of the capital on the start, but this will be gradually withdrawn. It is impossible to go into all the details of the home loan bank system in this short article. The following contains the chief points relative to the functions and objectives of the Home Loan Bank System:

- 1. To refinance existing mortgages with a view to reducing installment payments, and to meet the needs of withdrawing members and depositors of the subscribing institutions. In the present depression many such individuals have found that their funds are frozen and unavailable.
- 2. To provide members with funds temporarily to carry worthy bor-

Lost 20 lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "In only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a luxury moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast — it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce six tons of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Mayflower Drug Co. or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

Rosedale Gardens

at the home of Mrs. Fred C. Weirter, 9909 York, brought out 'most all the Ladies Gardenite; last Thursday.

Tables were set about the garden (one of the prettiest hereabouts) and a nice luncheon of sandwiches, cake and tea was served, whilst ladies talked over plans for the coming social season at R Presbyterian Church.

The party was a success, socially and financially, as a neat sum was realized for the Church.

The Loss of a loved Gardenite family this week is mourned by all.

Mr. LeRoy Snell, the Misses Marion and Betty and Master Charles Snell, long resident of the last home on York avenue, have left us, and the School Board has lost a good worker, both on the Board and at the P. T. A. and School.

2nd Annual Bazaar
of St. Michael's Parish will be on all the day of October 30, 1932, which is a year (by Sundays) since the dedication Sunday last October 25, 1931.

Now do not make any dates for any other place than Rosedale Gardens on that particular day, even for dinner, as it is a well known fact that they are feeding the poor little chickens up with milk and corn for the Big Chicken dinner (by Gardenite ladies) on this 2nd Annual Day.

Tea Party
came off real nice like last Sunday past meridian.

Beautiful day, and all the late blooms out in all their glory, shrubs and trees and the green all calm and the weather just cool enough to enjoy the dairy sand-wiches, cookies, cake and tea prepared by the Lady Gardenites in the Parish Hall.

Friends of far and near drove out to church, to visit and lunch, old friends meeting new friends, and taking all in all, now that the planning has been done to make the community a new place for the many yet to come.

Card Party
this Saturday Eve sponsored by the Ladies of St. Michael's Altar Society will be the really first get together of the season indoors pastime.

The Ladies are planning a nice time for all lovers of the great indoor pastime "bridge" and 500 and luncheon.

Congratulations
are being received by the bushel basketful, or something full, by neighbors the Honorable Levi Clemens and Daniel McKluney, who, among a string of self starters, received the most number of votes to the Wayne County Conventions, of any man.

Bro. Levi received something like 38 votes to send him to the Republican Convention, whilst runners up were Al Hirsch and Johnnie Walker, with an untold number of others with one, two and three votes.

Bro. Dan received two votes to send him to the Democratic Convention, tho' Dan never claimed to be a Democrat; and then there were others (all the others) who received just one vote each on the 100 tickets.

Which all goes to prove that the minority rules for this time, and if all is watched closely on this past Primary it will be seen that it is indeed a sorry fact that the fellow with a minority of all the votes cast has invariably won out with the selecter vote, as having had more votes than any one else.

A Change
in the Democratic and Republican Rosters are seen this past Primary Election and more change in November 8 General Elections is forecast. For example, 47 votes in Rosedale Precinct, and 102 votes in the second precinct were of Democratic Party, which is an increase of over 100 votes in the Demic columns from last elections with practically no change in numbers of the qualified electors.

Too Late
to vote were about 25 citizens, staunch and true in everything but promises.

12 hours is a long time to get around to vote, and the hours 8:00 a. m. 'till 8:00 p. m. were considered as reasonable for everyone to get out and cast one little ballot.

So, brothers and sisters, remember the times the next time and come prepared, betwixt times.

Complete
is it new iron fence, but Cousin Adolph has a lot to do in grading the alley of US-12; which, pending more intelligence is to be seeded and rolled and rolled again into a nice crassy greensward.

Then Cousin MacLean is busy selecting R new shrubbery at the nurseries thus to replace those dead and gone at cross road corners and to beautify the new parkway behind the ever talked of fence.

of Rev. Fr. John E. Contway organized for the season after the 8:00 a. m. mass last Sunday, and will continue to meet at this same time every Sunday morning. The Parish Pastor is particularly anxious to have all the catholic children of the St. Michael's Parish meet in the Parish Hall after attending the first mass of the morning.

Catechisms are available on application at the Rectory 11412 Pembroke Rd.

Tables
for four and six families were daintily spread and pretty vases of prettier flowers centered each of the several dozen small tables at the "Tea Party" last Sunday.

A word of thanks was and is here again extended Fr. Contway for the use of St. Michael's Hall.

and to the ladies of the Parish who so generously gave of their time and labor for the event.

Santa Claus
has radioed his probable arrival sometime the last week of December 1932.

However, it all remains with the several authorities to set the date and we feel sure he will come again, providing, of course, that all the kiddies are well behaved, and another thing, lets make it Rosedale's slogan—"Not an empty socking on Xmas 1932 in this vicinity." We are going to ask the Reverends Contway and Bennett about Santa and see if they will sorta make things easier by inviting the old gent to make a personal visit to us all at one or the other, or maybe both of the Banquet Halls, or some such thing.

And just think—Christmas three months from Sunday next.

FIRE Is Not 'Choosey'

Fire, like Death, is feared chiefly because it can descend so suddenly, without regard for persons or plans. Your house may escape even a scorched shingle for twenty-five years—and then, without warning, be burned to the ground in a couple of hours. Your only protection is insurance—and don't neglect it! Our records show a pitiable number of cases where fires have been reported a few days after a lapse of insurance—too late to benefit from last year's payments. The only sure protection is constant protection!

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"GUILTY AS HELL"
"Guilty as Hell," a murder story with a comedy twist to it, appears at the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, September 25 and 26, with Edmund Lowe, Victor McLaglen and Richard Arlen in the starring roles.

It is an adaptation of the successful stage play of the same title which enjoyed a long run on Broadway last season.

Lowe and McLaglen, the battling pals of "What Price Glory," "The Cockeyed World," and "Women of All Nations," have the same types of role in "Guilty as Hell"—but they're not in the army, this time. Lowe is cast as a police reporter and McLaglen as a detective.

"RESERVED FOR LADIES"
Movie fans have an opportunity to see how a big hotel is run in Paramount's "Reserved for Ladies," in which Leslie Howard plays the leading role, and which is the feature attraction at the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday, September 28.

In this picture Leslie Howard enacts the part of the highly efficient head waiter of one of the world's most aristocratic eating places for the wealthy and socially prominent. He demonstrates the snarvity and efficiency of popular unitites 'd'hotel and shows why it is they command such fabulous salaries.

Elizabeth Allan and Benita Hume, also have important roles.

"SPEAK EASILY"
Buster Keaton will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, October 1, in "Speak Easily," a riotous story of a college professor who inherits close to a million dollars and becomes a theatrical producer. An all-comedy cast supports the star, including the inimitable Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante, Ruth Selwyn, Thelma Todd, Heida Honper, William Pawley, Sidney Toler, Lawrence Grant, Henry Armetta and Edward Brophy.

"Speak Easily" was selected as Keaton's newest vehicle because of its unlimited opportunity for humorous gags, amusing dialogue and rapid-fire comedy action.

With the opening of the waterfowl hunting season throughout the state October 1, upper peninsula hunters will have their first opportunity in years to hunt Ruffed Grouse. The 1932 rabbit and fox squirrel hunting season also opens October 1, north of the Straits of Mackinac.

In addition to changes in the length of the waterfowl hunting season this year several changes were made in other waterfowl hunting regulations by the federal government and the Conservation Commission has acted to make state regulations conform to the federal requirements.

Hooray For The Depression! It Helps Fat People to Reduce - Thereby Aiding General Health Conditions of Country

By HENRIETTA HARRISON Or Hooray for anything that can make one boiled potato taste so good! So VERY good. It wasn't a nice potato at that. Not a tempting debutante potato, so to speak. Rather it was an old world-weary tuber that had lain too long in the bin. Nature, being intent upon propagating the species, had urged it to put forth sprouts. As all too often with motherhood, giving forth progeny had left the parent depleted. This particular martyr to maternity was wrinkled, brown and loose of skin.

But I was hungry. So into a pan of cold water I plunged the French apple of the ground. My first attempt at boiling a potato!

Last year that bit of concentrated starch and alkali would have been thrown away long before it had reached this wrinkled old age. But when I'm living upon ten to fifteen cents a day, with sometimes a reckless orgy on twenty, nothing that is edible is discarded.

Therefore, when an inquiring fork readily pierced its interior and it was withdrawn, sealed, opened and whiffed over with salt and butter, what a delicious morsel it was! My, my, I can taste it yet. Why doesn't some gifted pen write an "Ode to a Boiled Potato?"

And that forty pounds excess weight I have been carrying around! Difficult to buy bargain clothes. Giving my friends opportunity to ask why I didn't reduce. Making my ulnar a daily reproach. Where are those forty pounds going? Just cut your food allowance to ten, fifteen or even twenty cents a day. You'll never need another calory!

What a nice day this has been! For breakfast I've had a cereal that has brought such fortune to its inventor that he has been able to present whole stand-farms to the State. A small tin of canned milk that has likewise padded its proprietor with folds of soft living.

For luncheon, two tomatoes and a half pound of spaghetti and its accompanying sauce and I'm better than I was for a good eight hours. Then I awaken feeling like a million dollars and with an appetite that would be priceless in other years.

Just why lettuce has this effect upon my restless body I do not know. It may be its bulk deceives the eating vacuum that I once called my stomach, or it may be the opium in this leafy vegetable acts as nature's sedative.

Of course, like many others, I was paralyzed with terror, stark, stark-convulsing terror, when I found my income had dropped to very near the vanishing-point. Starvation lurked like a slimy octopus to gather me in and devour me. My heart almost stopped beating. My blood seemed to congeal in my veins. I staggered to my bed as though some invisible giant had dealt me a physical blow.

But, thank God, I am Irish. I began to laugh. And it wasn't hysterical either. I had thought of my excess forty pounds fat—not English money. I resolved to live off my forty pounds.

And I'm doing fine, thank you!

GIRL DIES, BLAME OFFICIAL FOR REFUSING TO AID

Refused aid last week by the medical department of the Oakland County Poor Commission after she was struck on the head by a golf ball, according to Coroner C. Dewey Kimball, five-year-old Barbara Miller, only daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Miller, of 1037 E. Jarvis Ave., Hazel Park, died in Melnick hospital following an attack of convulsions in her home.

According to Coroner Kimball, the child was discharged from the hospital when the commission refused to pay further hospital bills. Officials of the medical department, he said, told Mrs. Miller that an x-ray was unnecessary and that the young girl should be taken home and put to bed.

Barbara was playing in a swing in the yard of the United Oaks School when a golf ball hit by Howard Churchill, 19 years old, who was practicing a short distance away, struck her on the head. The girl was knocked from the swing, witnesses said.

She was immediately taken to Melnick hospital for first aid and placed under observation. Despite Mrs. Miller's plea for more thorough medical care, the child was discharged from the hospital. At 3 p. m. last Friday she was taken with convulsions and died on admittance to the hospital.

Young Churchill was released by Assistant Prosecutor Maurice F. Cole of Ferndale, after Coroner Kimball assigned him of blame in the accident.—South Lyon Herald.
