

HUNDREDS AT CHURCH RALLY

Methodists Enjoy Biggest Annual Event of Kind Ever Held

Friday, September 30, at 7:00 the M. E. church had its first annual rally supper which was attended by more than 250 members. The tables were all attractively decorated, each having to be chosen best. The boys of the junior department folk with Mrs. Ross' class. The fornice was a replica of a camp in the woods and the latter was a sea scene representing "ambition." At one end of the table was a replica of the ship. The Halfmoon made by Lynn Fraser, and at the other end was a lighthouse also made by him. Above the table hung two signs which read: "WHEN OUR SHEEP COMES IN 1933 WILL BRING US LUCK IF WE WORK AND HAVE LUCK."

After the supper was a song service preceded by a play entitled, "OUT OF THE FOG." This play which showed the effects of alcohol literature and motion pictures that glorify crime on the minds of young children was well carried out by the players. The story in brief concerns two young boys brought up in the best kind of home who get hold of a magazine in which is printed a gangster story entitled "KIDNAP COVER OF THE FOG." This story tells how two youths on a foggy night successfully carry out a holdup. The boys seeing how easy such an attempt is and how the gangsters are dealt with as heroes, decide to try it. They hold two men in the fog by means of a ray pistol. Later they learn that one of the men was their father, and the other a poor man who had saved his money to send his crippled son. At the psychological moment the minister appears and conches for the boys and gets them to promise to come to Sunday school the next day.

The cast consisted of the following: mother, Mrs. James Honey; father, Clifford Cline; the sons, Thomas Brock, Kenneth Thumme; the minister, Clarence Norton; the policeman, Lynn Fraser; a holdup victim, Clyde Upton; the janitor, Marvin Partridge.

Basket Ball Players To Form A League

The city of Plymouth and the Board of Education are going to sponsor a basket ball league here playing at the High School gymnasium two nights each week. The number of teams has to be determined so a schedule can be arranged to fit with the school activities. Any managers wishing to enter a team in this league or any fellows wishing to play on one at the City Hall next Tuesday night, October 11 at 7:30. Following teams take notice, Cities Service, Methodist, Plymouth Aces, Masons. This meeting is to determine if possible how many fellows and teams want to enter. This will then have to be passed by the Board of Education.

DeMolay To Visit DETROIT OCT. 11th

The Fellowship Chapter, Order of DeMolay is to motor to Detroit's Loyalty Chapter and have both degrees conferred on a group of candidates on the evening of Oct. 11th. This allows the local chapter to initiate the new members, while the new officers are becoming accustomed to their chairs and at the same time it offers a pleasant visit to another chapter.

It has been planned that the chapter attend church as a group, October sixteenth is the date set aside for the ten o'clock service at the Plymouth Presbyterian Church. Fellowship Chapter attended church about once a month during all last year, making such visitations in the various churches of Farmington, Northville and Plymouth.

Local Democrats Visit Roosevelt

Plymouth's two original Democrats, William Conner and Frank Learned, were guests at luncheon with other prominent Michigan Democrats at Detroit, Oct. 5, 1932. The entire day in Detroit and were highly elated over the reception tendered their candidate for the presidency.

BOOSTER CLUB MEETS OCT. 11

The Pere Marquette Booster club meeting in the Hotel Mayflower Tuesday night, October 11, at 8:00 p. m. promises to be a great success. Special invitations have been extended to the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, but all are invited who have the welfare of Plymouth and the Pere Marquette at heart.

Art Class Ready To Start Work--Details Are Given Public

Plymouth residents who may be interested in any of the various fields of art will be glad to know of the local art guild which has its opening classes in painting, studio is temporarily located in spacious quarters at 511 Holbrook Avenue. This is near the Starkweather school. There will be both morning and afternoon sessions, or from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. All persons old or young are cordially invited to attend either or both of these sessions and learn what the coming session has in store for Plymouth amateur, professional or prospective artists.

The afternoon session of the class will be under the directorship of Mrs. Hanny VanderVelde. Mrs. VanderVelde will instruct her students in oils, including landscape, portrait, and still life. She is among the foremost and best known of Michigan artists. Her pictures have been shown in many exhibitions and she has won many prizes. Mrs. VanderVelde is not only a painter but is a very competent teacher. Her training was received at the Academy of Amsterdam, Holland. She recently returned from Holland where she has studied the past summer.

The Plymouth art class is already organized and will begin regular work on the date named. Officers in charge will welcome as many more students as may come to enter. The class is not organized for profit and the price of lessons have been made very reasonable. It will be immaterial how far or how little advanced in art a pupil may be. The principal thing to be interested in art. Even though respective pupils may never before have attempted a sketch or painting this need make no difference.

DROWNED MAN IS IDENTIFIED

Phoenix Lake Victim Lived Near Northville With Daughter

The man whose body was found in Phoenix Lake on Monday, September 26 has been identified as that of Alexander Maty who lived with his daughter, Mrs. Rosa Haray on the Seven Mile road west of Northville.

The body, discovered by a Detroit resident, was drawn by the dam, was recovered from the water by Deputy Sheriff George Spelger. It was brought to Plymouth and later taken to Detroit where it was identified.

Services in memory of Mr. Maty were held at the Schrader Chapel in Northville on Monday afternoon, October 3rd, in charge of Rev. Cora Pennell, and a Hungarian priest from Detroit, the latter conducting a service in the Hungarian language.

MRS. WHIPPLE WILL DISCUSS AMENDMENTS

Mrs. Ruth E. Huston Whipple will next Thursday evening discuss the amendments to be voted upon at the November 8 election at the potluck supper to be served at the M. E. church. The dinner will begin at 7 o'clock and the discussion will take place following the dinner. Everyone is welcome to the meeting.

Ex-Service Men To Meet Monday Eve

The regular monthly meeting of the Ex-Service men's Club of Plymouth and the Club Ladies Auxiliary will be held Monday, October 10th at the Jewel-Blanch Hall. Dinner will be held as usual at 6:30 p. m. followed by the business meetings of the two organizations.

The Commander of the club requests every member possible to attend as at this meeting the petitions requested by the city council in the matter of the display of American flags will be taken up. All veterans have a vital interest in this action as it effects veterans of all wars from the Civil war down to the World war.

The Ex-Service men's club being the only veterans organization which represents veterans of the United States Wars, the task of defending the time-honored display of American flags on the graves of the nation's defenders is a duty peculiar to the club.

Plymouth Dahlia Growers See Better Business Throughout Country Through Orders Received For Spring Delivery

How is business? Better—better by far than a year ago, according to William Bartel of Bartel & Sons, growers of America's finest dahlias.

"Never have we had so many orders for spring delivery of bulbs as we have had so far this fall. Last year people would write in and make inquiry about bulbs for spring but they would come out to our place and make inquiry, but not many orders were left a year ago. People seemed somewhat afraid to leave orders for spring delivery at that time," said Mr. Bartel.

"But it is entirely different this year. We have on our books already the largest number of orders for spring delivery we ever had. Not only are these orders from Michigan, but they are from all parts of the country. To me that indicates that people are more sure about what business is going to be next year than they were a year ago. In fact there is no hesitation this year, while last year everyone seemed afraid to buy."

"From long experience we have come to the conclusion that the one best way to judge business is by future orders, and of course the very nature of our business is such that people will not buy only under favorable circumstances. Flowers are a luxury, something that people can get along without if they have to, and many did last year. A large number of old customers who did not buy last year have already placed orders for next spring, so we have every reason to believe that business is better and that it is going to be better by far than it was last spring and this summer."

STARTS BUFFALO RANCH

Two young buffalo, direct from Sterling, Colorado, were received by express Wednesday forenoon by Fred Schrader who has placed them on his farm out Pennington avenue, where he intends to establish a buffalo ranch, the first in Michigan. The buffalo reached Plymouth in excellent shape and were liberated in a forty acre field that has been fenced especially for them. Mr. Schrader states that it is his intention to create a herd of the buffalo on his place and he expects to have more shipped to him at a later date.

Voters League To Discuss Election

Monday, October 10, at 2:30, the Plymouth League of Women Voters will meet at the home of its president, Miss Lina Duffee, at 1222 Pennington avenue.

BUILDS NEW HEATING PLANT SERVICE ROOM AND GARAGE

George E. Fisher, Indoor Gardener, Plans For Future Expansion

Preparing for future business expansion, George E. Fisher who operates a large indoor garden place just east of the city on the Plymouth road, is completing the construction of a 50x100 heating plant, service room and garage.

The new structure is located just north of the big greenhouses and Mr. Fisher expects to have it completed within the next six weeks.

There is a full basement under the new building providing a large space for storage purposes.

The heating plant is of sufficient size so that when additional greenhouses are erected there will be enough heating capacity to take care of the additions, without further heating arrangements.

RATTENBURY SELLS TO TEXAS FOR WINTER

Mr. and Mrs. John Rattenbury expect to leave soon after the 15th of October for Edinburg, Texas, where they will spend the winter at their ranch. Mr. Rattenbury has sold his meat and grocery business on Pennington avenue to A. Johnson. He has twenty acres of bearing grapefruit trees and he plans to give the orchard his personal attention during the winter. His place is in the Rio Grande valley.

Federation Day To Be Observed

Ski Slides Being Built at Brighton

Steel begins to rise and is visible on the old Home farm north of Brighton where E. C. Hall, chairman of the slides, and A. G. Kraft, of Detroit are building two ski slides, a toboggan and club house in preparation for winter sports.

The 60 acre farm was purchased this summer. The steel is now on hand for the slides. Two slides will be built—a junior and senior slide, and a toboggan slide. Members are being sold, and the organization plans an opening event this winter, and a number of state tournaments, as well as local contests and sporting events. Carl Muech, Jr., architect of Howell, is supervising the work. The Michigan Ski club is located one mile north of Brighton on U. S. 23.

Poultry Fans! Can You Beat This Record

Here's a record for some poultry fan to try and beat if they can.

EIGHT HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

A mishap of train signals may have been responsible for the injury of seven passengers and a conductor last Saturday, when a passenger coach was struck by a freight train near the P. M. depot.

The passenger coach last car of a train bound to Detroit from Grand Rapids, was stationary when the freight, coming from Toledo to Detroit, struck it in the middle. It was ripped open, but did not overturn. The passenger train continued its run after the crash was uncoupled.

George Hulter, of Grand Rapids, the conductor, suffered a fractured leg and was taken to Grace Hospital, where his condition is now reported as critical. Mrs. Ruth Mitchell, of Grand Rapids, suffered internal injuries and Mrs. Lucy Kostro, of the same city, was out about her head and shoulders. Five other passengers were treated for minor injuries by Dr. A. E. Patterson.

Bank Problems Of State Are At End Says Commissioner

Michigan is fast solving its bank difficulties and according to Banking Commissioner Rudolph E. Reicher, 27 banks closed last year have been reopened during recent weeks. Thirty more will be reorganized within the next few months, he states.

He pointed out that had not Gov. Wilbur M. Bricker recalled the lawmakers to Lansing and proposed legislation to unlock their doors, practically all would have gone under with permanent loss to the communities.

The commissioner revealed that the banks resumed had deposits of $24,450,755 and resources of $28,187,347. These sums are almost a third of the total deposits and resources of all the 116 institutions that have collapsed since the crash of 1929, he said. Had the banks been compelled to liquidate, the old statutes, a very large percentage of these assets would have been lost to depositors because of present low values of securities, the bank chief said.

The largest bank to reopen under the guidance of the state department was the Bay City bank, which resumed business last Monday. It had deposits of about $4,000,000 when it closed Sept. 1, 1931, but this sum was reduced by 10 per cent dividend payment three months ago.

Mr. Hetcher said the success of the reorganization scheme in this instance has convinced him that many of the other large institutions which have been closed can be saved.

Briefly, the new laws authorize a bank to reopen if the owners of 85 per cent of the total deposits agree not to withdraw their money for a certain period. In most reorganizations so far, the depositors agree to withdraw only 10 per cent of their money the first year and an increasing percentage during the next five years. The stockholders are assured of new capital, with the stipulation that their money will be returned when the institution encounters more prosperous days.

DETROIT SPEED TRAP ENRAGES AUTO DRIVERS

Plymouth Motorists Plan To Ask Local Police To Retaliate

Indignant Plymouth motorists who have been arrested for alleged traffic violations on the Plymouth road just east of Hodge park and this side of the Kewlwater plant, where the Detroit police department is operating a speed trap, are giving consideration to a plan of asking that the city officials of Plymouth start a campaign of retaliation against Detroit motorists who use any of the main thoroughfares running within the city limits of this place.

Not only are they contemplating such a procedure, but they have been discussing the advisability of asking other communities surrounding Detroit to take similar action against Detroit residents.

For weeks past Detroit police have been arresting anyone and everyone for alleged speed violations or other traffic law infractions. If you get a ticket, you are guilty, say any of those who have been arrested.

And if you get a ticket you are going to pay a specified sum, usually $36 if the police claim you were traveling over 35 miles per hour, $10 if you go under the "yellow" light before the red light goes on and $3 additional if you do not happen to have your driver's license with you.

Motorists declare that Detroit officials have apparently hit upon a plan whereby people living outside that city are going to be forced to help pay the operating costs of the city of Detroit through speed fines.

Nearly every day there is an officer on Plymouth from Detroit who is harassing local residents who have been arrested in the Detroit police department's speed trap on the Plymouth road.

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith has deemed the matter of such importance that he has issued a special warning to residents of this locality to drive their cars at a speed considerably less than that fixed by law if they find it necessary to drive into Detroit. So many local motorists have gone to him with complaints about the practice of the Detroit police department that he has deemed it advisable to issue this special warning.

Police Thursday night made three arrests of motorists who had stopped at a red light on Grand River. The motorists after they had started up their cars were crowded to the curbing by Detroit coppers who declared that they had run the stop light. All of them denied the charge, but were given tickets anyway.

At the next meeting of the Plymouth city commission, unless the Detroit practice is stopped of arresting outside motorists on the highways just at the edge of the city, where there is no traffic hazard of any kind and where the Detroit police are pretty sure that the arrested person is an outside resident, there is sure to be a request of retaliation.

Motorists say that a greater speed is permitted right in the heart of the city than in the country, but within the city limits of Detroit. They point to this fact as proof of their claim that Detroit policemen are after the cash of motorists living outside Detroit.

At any rate there is a pretty row brewing if the Detroit police department's speed trap on Plymouth road is continued.

OMIT THE OMITTING CANDIDATE.

There is not much geographical reason why the Plymouth Mail should be interested in the election of a congressman from the Eighth district as this district is located in a section of Michigan a considerable distance away from Plymouth.

But there is a reason of sufficient importance to cause the Mail to reveal to the voters of the Eighth district a rank case of political deception on the part of Congressman Hart, a case deliberate and intended misrepresentation of facts to the voters of Michigan.

Some weeks ago in delivering an address at Charlotte, Congressman Hart pointed out reasons why he said the government was building Boulder dam. In his address, which he provided the Charlotte Republican-Tribune in manuscript form, he said he was quoting from a letter he had received from the Secretary of the Interior as to why the dam is being built.

Having followed the Boulder dam question almost from the day the agitation for it started, the editor of the Plymouth Mail was somewhat astonished at the discrepancy in the Congressman's speech with the actual facts in the case.

Suspecting that Congressman Hart was not correctly quoting from the letter of the Secretary of Interior a request was made of the department in Washington to forward to the Plymouth Mail a copy of the letter that Secretary Wilbur had written Congressman Hart on this question.

For the information of the readers of the Mail and so you can see how Congressman Hart endeavored to mislead and trick the voters in his Charlotte speech, we are quoting from the Charlotte Republican-Tribune his statement about Boulder dam. Congressman Hart said:

"I wrote the Secretary of Interior inquiring why we were building Boulder Dam. His reply was:

- (1) To furnish water to the city of Los Angeles and certain districts in California.
- (2) For irrigation purposes.
- (3) For power development.
- (4) And for the control of the silt in the Colorado river."

Following is what Secretary of Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur wrote to Congressman Hart, the letter from which Hart quoted Wilbur:

"Briefly, the purpose of the project under the act of Congress approved December 21, 1928, authorizing appropriations not exceeding $165,000,000 is:

- (1) To control the floods of the Colorado River which were menacing the safety of lands in southern California, including Imperial valley.
- (2) To provide a storage supply of water for irrigation.
- (3) To control the immense amount of silt in the Colorado river.
- (4) To develop water power.
- (5) And to furnish additional domestic water supply for towns in the Metropolitan Water District, including the City of Los Angeles."

Note the cunning trickery and downright deception in Congressman Hart's speech—his omission altogether of the REAL reason why Boulder dam is being built. He said nothing of FLOOD CONTROL and instead he endeavored to lead the voters to believe that the government had been induced to appropriate millions of dollars to develop an additional water supply for irrigation and power purposes and a water supply for the city of Los Angeles. He was not misquoted as his speech was printed just as he had prepared it.

Every school boy and girl in America knows that the Colorado river flood of 1906 was one of the most damaging of any flood that America ever had, that it threatened to inundate hundreds of thousands of acres of the richest soil in America, that dozens of cities and villages were on the verge of complete annihilation. It was only the dynamic action of President Theodore Roosevelt that checked the runaway of the Colorado.

Then it was, back in 1906, over a quarter of a century ago, that agitation was started for the erection of Boulder dam, TO CONTROL THE FLOOD WATERS of the Colorado and to end the continued flood threat of a vast section of one of the richest lands of the world.

President Theodore Roosevelt was one of the early advocates of Boulder dam—and when Congressman Hart said it is "distinctly a project of the President," (meaning Hoover) he deliberately misstated a fact. Boulder dam was urged and a considerable portion of the preliminary legislation for its construction had been undertaken long before President Hoover was in the White House.

Who started the agitation for the erection of Boulder dam? People from Michigan, Ohio, New York, Iowa, Wisconsin, Georgia, in fact people from nearly every state in the nation who possessed the pioneering spirit of America, and moved from older established communities into the far west to create new homes and seek in a new country the opportunities that any new country offers to the pioneer. By their efforts they turned a desert of waste land into the richest garden spot in the nation.

When the flood of 1906 came they saw the mighty Colorado turn from its old channel that led into the Gulf of California and spread over the rich country they were developing. They saw thousands of acres washed away, a great water course, in places over 100 feet deep, cut through their virgin land. Fighting night and day, they realized that if the Colorado could not be turned back into the Gulf of California, their land was gone and all that they had created would be at the bottom of a great new sea.

Their battle was a losing one until they appealed to President Roosevelt for aid in helping check the flood of the Colorado. All of their temporary dams and dikes had been washed away. President Roosevelt was quick to grasp the situation. He immediately took steps to control the flood and through his efforts the runaway Colorado was turned back into its old channel down across Mexico and into the Gulf of California.

Following nearly twenty-five years of effort these pioneers of Imperial Valley induced the federal government to do something that only the federal government could do, dam a river that involved the interests of five different states.

Congressman Hart in his speech of deception and distortion at Charlotte tried to make it appear that the Boulder dam is being built for the purpose of developing water power and to provide water for Los Angeles and for additional irrigation only.

If Congressman Hart had been the honest sort of a square-shooting citizen that ought to be in congress, he would have told the voters in his Charlotte address that the government after it had decided to build Boulder dam to CONTROL THE FLOOD WATERS of the Colorado, worked out a plan whereby the dam could pay for itself. The government decided that it could sell the water power, it could sell the surplus water and have the purchasers of these commodities that will be developed as the result of building the dam pay for the erection of the dam, and that the government has already secured enough contracts for the sale of the water and power to pay BACK every cent the government will use in building Boulder dam.

In fact the Boulder dam is one of the few projects the government has ever undertaken that will pay for itself.

But Congressman Hart has displayed clearly that he had absolutely no desire to be honest with the voters. By his trickery and deceit on this one question alone he has branded himself as one entirely unfit to hold public office of any kind and the voters of the Eighth district should overwhelmingly defeat such an unworthy candidate. America today needs men in Congress of unquestioned integrity. Our problems are of too serious a nature to trust to men who will do the thing Hart is guilty of.

—AND A PLACE TO FISH

More and more each year, Michigan hunters, as they have found themselves fenced out of choice game cover have been clamoring for more public hunting lands, and their demands have had effect. Not only has the purchase of additional lands for game refuges and public hunting grounds been given marked emphasis during recent years, but by route of tax-delinquency—lands discarded by private ownership—and exchange, additional acres are being constantly added to the public domain, declares a writer in a recent issue of The Michigan Conservation Department Bulletin.

But while this has been going on, the fishermen—and they are just as numerous as the hunters—and have been placidly watching the shore lines of their favorite lakes and streams bought up by private interests, have watched court decisions go against them and have permitted session after session of the state legislature to pass without entering an appeal for a place to fish.

While there is enough of anything to go around values are low or non-existent and property owners do not assert themselves. But as the demand begins to increase, values become tangible and owners begin to claim their rights and resent trespass. It is the old law of supply and demand.

The Conservation Commission has realized the situation for some time. The Collins-Gerhardt and the Cavanaugh cases were fought to protect the public's interest on fishing waters. Your Commission has been withholding from sale public lands having water frontage that fishermen might have further access to lakes and streams. It has been exchanging lands to get water frontage. But so far it has received but indifferent public support.

William H. Loutit, executive chairman of the Commission recently summed up the situation when he told the Commission in connection with hunting and fishing and while it may be debated how fast this has been happening and how serious it is, and what can and should be done about it, it is going on, and it is certainly time that we consider the situation and direct attention to it so that we may receive the benefit of all the constructive thought there may be available.

The Commission, by itself, can do little in the way of handling situations such as this. It will require legislative and court action, and to get adequate action there must be definite plans which have the backing of a well informed and widespread public opinion.

It is going to take a lot of cooperation between the public and the commission before a fisherman will be able to legally creep to a river bank between "no fishing" signs and before he will be able to spit from his boat to the shore without committing trespass.

A REAL CITIZEN

No one, whether Republican or Democrat, reading the speech that William Comstock made before the Democrat state convention in Lansing a few days ago, could help but admire him for the courage he displayed. Assailed by some of the opponents within his own party because of his business losses, he clearly and without reservation told the delegates the full details of his losses due to the depression. And he told it in such a way that he won friends not only within his own party but outside. The Democrats of Michigan have reason to be proud of the man they have nominated for the governorship of this state and whether you vote for him or not, you have got to admire his sterling character and citizenship.

HEALTH TIP

Dr. Donald A. Laird, director of the Colgate University Psychological Laboratory, in an interview with a Chicago newspaper reporter, said: "Quick energy foods, carbohydrates which very rapidly become glycogen or blood sugar and keep the muscles going: bread, spaghetti, malted milk, candy—any kind except that which has glycerin in it instead of sugar. For lunch, a cinnamon roll is better than an energy standpoint than a lettuce sandwich, for all the vitamins in the latter. My breakfast is a sweet roll or coffee cake." LITTLE BROWN JUG

My wife and I lived all alone
 In a little log but we called our own
 She loved gin and I loved rum—
 I tell you what we'd lots of fun.
 Ha! ha! ha! you and me,
 "Little Brown Jug," don't I love thee!
 Ha! ha! ha! you and me,
 "Little Brown Jug," don't I love thee!
 'Tis you who make my friends and foes,
 'Tis you who make me wear old clothes;
 Here you are so near my nose,
 So tip her up and down she goes.
 When I go toiling to my farm,
 I take "Little Brown Jug" under my arm,
 Place him under a shady tree,
 "Little Brown Jug," 'tis you and me.
 If all the folks in Adam's race
 Were gathered together in one place,
 Then I'd prepare to shed a tear
 Before I'd part with you, my dear.

If I'd a cow that gave such milk,
 I'd clothe her in finest silk,
 I'd feed her on the choicest hay,
 And milk her forty times a day.
 The rose is red, my nose is, too,
 The violet's blue, and so are you;
 And yet I guess before I stop,
 I'd hater take another drop.

THE CORN-STALK FIDDLE

When the corn's all cut and the bright stalks shine
 Like the burnished spears of a field of gold;
 When the field-mice rich on the nubbins dine,
 And the frost comes white and the wind blows cold,
 Then it's belgho, fellows! and
 hi-diddle-diddle,
 For the time is ripe for the cornstalk fiddle.
 "Salute your partners!" comes the call:
 "All join hands and circle around:
 "Grand chain back—balance all!"
 Footsteps lightly spurn the ground:
 "Take your ladies and balance down the aisle."
 To the merry tune of the cornstalk fiddle,
 To the screech and scrape of the
 'corn-stalk fiddle.
 You take a stalk that is straight and long,
 With an expert eye to its worthy point,
 And you think of the bubbling strains of song
 That are bound between its plthy joints:
 Then you cut out strings with a bridge in the middle,
 With a corn-stalk bow for a corn-
 stalk fiddle.
 Then the strains that grow as you draw the bow
 O'er the gilded strings with a practiced hand,
 And the music's flow, never loud,
 but low

Rambling Around with Michigan Editors

EDITORS ARE HUMAN

When a questionable situation arises in a town, it is quite the fashion to remark that the newspaper ought to say something about that.

The average citizen feels quite certain he could run a newspaper better than the editor does, and if he were publisher of that sheet he'd show 'em, you can bet. As a matter of fact, if he has horse sense, he would do just as the editor does—put the soft pedal on family troubles, church squabbles, scandals not involving major principles, and such matters of ultimately minor importance as will adjust themselves with the passing of time.

The newspaper critic ought not to expect the newspaper man to advocate or attack any proposition which he himself lacks the courage to support or assail over his own signature. The editor is willing, even eager, to push any project in the public interest, but is not willing to pull chestnuts out of the fire for individuals or minorities.

—Henry Spicer in Paw Paw Courier-Northern.

Muri DeFoe in his personal column in the Republic-Tribune says that he is personally in favor of abolishing the state utilities commission. I feel that Mr. DeFoe is on the right track and I am with him in that suggestion. The state utilities commission has long since outlived its usefulness. It has developed into a political slum, pure and simple. The control of rates in Michigan can be just as cheaply taken care of by the courts after the adoption of a fair code as is the case now under the very expensive set-up of the state utilities commission.—Thomas Conlin in Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

WHAT KIND?

Ed. Nowack, who switched from Welsh to McKelghan in the primary, has little left to console his attitude. After withdrawing as a candidate, Nowack might better have kept his fingers out of the dough and watched the parade go by.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

DON'T GET EXCITED

Ingham county residents should not become excited over the threat of grand jury proceedings for Michigan State college affairs. A grand jury investigation may be made. It may not be if it is made there may be little of value to show for it. A grand jury investigation may even handcuff the state board of agriculture, the state commission for inquiry into taxation and President Shaw in their work of finding out what is wrong, if anything is wrong, at Michigan State college.

Charges and countercharges have been made regarding Michigan State college since early in the spring. During this time President Shaw and members of the board of agriculture have been investigating. Whether or not a grand jury probe is ordered, Michigan State college affairs will be investigated. In fact, they are being investigated.

A grand jury is properly concerned only with criminal matters. Errors in judgment, mistakes in policies and other important angles of the college can not be considered by a grand jury. Really, the scope of a grand jury investigation is small compared with the authority and power vested in the state board of agriculture.

In these times we are prone to place credence in tales which would have taxed our credulity five years ago. We must remember that a man or a group of men should be considered innocent until guilt is proven. It is certainly possible that Michigan State college affairs may have been illegally handled. But a mere demand for a grand jury investigation does not prove it. We must wait for the findings of the jury before we consider college officials guilty of any wrong.

As the concert-notes of a fairy-band,
 Oh! your dainty songs are a misty riddle
 To the simple sweet of the corn-stalk fiddle.
 When the evening comes and our work is done,
 And the sun drops with a tender glance,
 With their hearts all prime for the harmless fun
 Come the neighbor girls for the evening dance,
 And they wait for the well known twist and twiddle—
 More time than time from the corn-stalk fiddle.

Then brother Jabez takes the bow,
 While Ned starts off with Susan Blane,
 And Henry steps by Milly Snow,
 And John takes Nellie Johnson's hand,
 While I pair off with 'Mandy Biddle,
 And scrape, scrape, scrape goes the corn-stalk fiddle!

Then all too soon the dance is o'er
 And the merry girls are homeward gone;
 But I see it all in my dreams once more,
 And I dream till the very break of dawn
 Of an amplex dance on the red-hot gridle
 To the screech and scrape of the corn-stalk fiddle.

Why long in vain for coolness when you can try to sell some capitalist a South American bond?

How To Mark Your Ballot So That The Vote Will Be Counted

Instructions to voters issued by the Department of State this year, are greatly amplified over those issued in previous years. The following instructions are being sent to county election officials and will be displayed at the polling places prior to the November election:

1. If you desire to vote a straight ticket, make a cross in the circle under the name of your party at the head of the ballot. Nothing further need be done.
2. If you desire to vote for a candidate not on your party ticket where only one candidate is to be elected to an office, make a cross in the circle under the name of your party and also make a cross in the square before the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket. In such case it shall not be necessary to strike off the name of the candidate on your party ticket.
3. Where two or more candidates are to be elected to the same or like office and you desire to vote for a candidate or candidates on one party ticket, make a cross in the circle under your party name and mark a cross in the square before the name or names of the candidate or candidates for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket or tickets, and also erase an equal number of names of the candidates for such office on your party ticket.
4. If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket, write or place the name of such candidate on your ticket, opposite the name of the office and make a cross in the circle under the party name.
5. A ticket marked with a cross under a party name shall be deemed a vote for each of the candidates named in such party column whose name is not erased or crossed off, except those candidates where a cross is placed in the square before the name of some opposing candidate on the opposing ticket, or when there is written or pasted on the party ticket a name which is not printed on the party ticket. Provided, that at the General November Election in each Presidential year the cross in the circle under the party name shall not be deemed as a direct vote for the candidates of the particular political party for President and Vice-President of the United States; but, in addition to being a vote for each of the candidates for state, congressional, legislative and county offices named in such party column shall be deemed and taken to be a vote for the entire list of electors chosen by such political party.
6. If the name of any person who is not a candidate on any ticket is written or placed on a party ticket opposite the name of the office and there is a cross in the circle under the party name, the name so written or placed shall be counted one vote for such person, whether the original name on the party ticket is erased or not, excepting cases where there is a cross in the square before the name of any candidate shall be deemed a vote for such candidate except in cases where the elector votes for more candidates for the same office than are to be elected.
7. If no cross is placed in the circle under the party name, a cross in the square before the name of any candidate shall be deemed a vote for such candidate except in cases where the elector votes for more candidates for the same office than are to be elected.
8. Such elector shall indicate his preference on any constitutional amendment or other submitted question, by making a cross in the square in front of the word "YES" or in the square in front of the word "NO" opposite or below such question on the proper ballots.

9. If you wish to vote for the electors of the President and Vice-President of the United States of a political party other than your own, make a cross in the circle under the name of your party and also make a cross in the square before the bracket embracing the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President for whose presidential electors you desire to vote.

Rambling Around

Like other state institutions, Michigan State college has probably grown too rapidly. Expansions are often made at the expense of efficiency. President Shaw of Michigan State college and some of the members of the board of agriculture probably know of mistakes. The board of agriculture and the president can force the correction of these mistakes if any have been made. They can consider errors in judgment and mistakes in policy. A grand jury can only recommend action in matters of crime.

Let us not get excited until all the evidence is in and the findings are made. We might be doing great injustice by believing rumors which are not always well founded—Vernon Brown in the Ingham County News.

GAS TAX FOR ROADS

The motorist who pays the state three cents every time a gallon of gasoline is put in his tank does so now without grumbling because he knows that the three cents will be used to make his use of the roads safer and more convenient. But he might grumble if he knew that tax money was going to be spent for an addition at Lapeer or to put in a new department at the Houghton School of Mines or add to the faculty at the university. So long as the gasoline tax is being spent on the roads it is a fair and just and painless tax because it makes a definite return and because it is collected only in proportion to the benefits enjoyed. As soon as a penny of it is diverted to any other purpose, the tax becomes discriminatory because it singles out a particular class to bear the expense that all should share.—Stuart Perry in The Adrian Telegram.

POOR COLLECTIONS

Frequently heard among business people, today, is the complaint that collections are poor. This, of course, applies to those merchants who extend credit. If ever there was a time when reasonable credit was needed it is in these times. Yet there is not as much credit being given today for the simple and very good reason that many people cannot definitely determine when they will be able to pay. One merchant told us last week that a family who has owed him a sizeable bill for some months took an expensive vacation trip this summer. The hotels and eating places did not trust them. It's all cash there. Let the poor hometown merchant who furnished them their food the rest of the year is scratching his head trying to remain in business as long as possible.

Business firms hate to extend credit and use up their own reserves if there is any prospect of getting repaid. Can you blame them? One of the most discouraging things that merchants encounter in the present day is the lack of responsibility of those who can pay. People can't remain in business and operate every day if their customers do not pay them.—Charles Seef in The Rochester Clarion.

TWO GOOD MEN

Michigan is lucky in that it will have two truly fine men from whom to select a governor. Neither are faultless but both represent the highest in decency and honesty, and where they differ in opinion it will be because of sincere conviction. One can state with assurance that while both Mr. Brucker and Mr. Comstock will be compelled to attack each other upon the relative merits of governmental opinions and methods, the campaign records of both indicate that each will credit the other with thinking to the best of his ability. Likewise, it can be expected that either might be capable of administering state government. The only difference lies in the fact that Mr. Brucker has proven himself in the last two years while even the most stalwart Democratic supporters must admit that Mr. Comstock has no such concrete record upon which to base his claims.—Flint Journal.

Don't blame the demagogue alone. He wouldn't promise the impossible if there were no fools to believe him.

Beet Sugar Just As Good As Any Other Kind Say Experts

Chemists and specialists in nutrition at Michigan State college are unable to understand where the mistaken idea originated that a difference exists between cane and beet sugar either chemically or in actual use.

Experimental work in canning, preserve making, and in the preparation of jellies shows that the edibles prepared with beet sugar and those in which cane sugar were used were identical in appearance, in taste, and in keeping qualities. Chemical tests are unable to differentiate between beet and cane sugar, and the two are identical in appearance when properly refined.

These statements should help the market for the product of the 14,000 Michigan farmers who are growing sugar beets this year. The crop will produce approximately 300,000,000 pounds of sugar but this amount is only three-fifths of the total sugar used by Michigan residents each year.

Michigan sugar factories and Michigan farmers who have produced the crop in previous years have passed through discouraging seasons. Cooperative effort by the two groups have permitted the opening of additional plants and the production of an increased acreage of beets this year.

The continuation of plant operation and the production of this cash crop will depend upon future markets. The use of Michigan sugar in Michigan homes will aid the marketing of the product.

County Takes Over 116 Miles More of Township Highways

One hundred and sixteen miles of additional township roads are being absorbed into the county road system for improvement and maintenance under the provisions of the McNitt Act which is designed to eliminate the township road system in its entirety during the next four years, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines, yesterday.

This additional mileage brings the total of township road mileage absorbed up to 272 miles. One of the first steps taken in caring for these roads is the erection of proper road and direction signs and safe-guarding the public at railroad crossings. Act No. 336 of the Public Acts of 1931, provides that the highway authorities shall, on or before January 1st, 1933, install reflectorized railroad crossing signs of a standard prescribed by the State Highway Commissioner at all crossings of railroads not now protected by flashing lights. The law is to be divided between the highway authorities and the railroad companies and in pursuance of this law we are installing 48 of these standard crossing signs, stated Mr. Hines.

The Pere Marquette Railroad leads with twelve, followed by the Wabash Railroad with eight, and Michigan Central Railroad with seven, the balance being divided among six other railroads. This is a greatly needed protection as isolated and unfamiliar crossings are always dangerous.

It won't be hard to conscript wealth in time of war. Congress has learned the technique.

Rosedale Gardens

Hot Dawgs! and otherwise a quick luncheon for foot-balers and faners were served by the ladies of St. Presbyterian church at ye old Pie Factorie place at cor. of Berwick avenue and US-13 on the opening day of the season.

This promises to be a little harvest for the funds of St. Presbyterian. And, by the way, luncheon is not necessarily confined to foot-balers, but it and us and all the rest should go and eat.

Richard's Second Annualazaar was in two weeks back, but last week it was on your late, according to the day of month.

So, now that a mis-understanding will take place, please take note it is the last Sunday this month, namely the thirteenth day of October. Most folks knew it was the last Sunday, so few did get mixt on the date.

The Repression is over, and I Joe Schroeder, to the painters and carpenters as the little house is all done and occupied and furthermore, and Chas. G. W. we have ceased to worry about where business has gone, but are getting all dolled up along the fence to welcome him back. Meaning of course, the big forest trees coming in, rain or shine, to fill in the native forest.

Roses and mock oranges are again blooming in all their glory, bigger and more beautiful than ever. The observer also notes that many holly hocks are also trying to rebloom as if in rivalry with the seasons baby mums and giant mums up Bartel's way. Perhaps we may have the ice man's prediction after all this grape winter we have been having lately.

Gunne Clubbe among some of R Clay pleon and target practice enthusiasts is coming along real lively.

More names are being added to Brother Beck's roster of small firearm experts.

Quite a nice time was had on last Sunday post meridiem to the delight of all as well as city-dwellers who are enjoying the changing colors of woodlands herabouts.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"LOVE ME TONIGHT" Maurice Chevalier's latest starring picture, "Love Me Tonight" directed by Rouben Mamoulian and featuring Jeanette MacDonald, Charles Ruggles, Charles Butterworth and Myrna Loy, comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, October 9 and 10.

Like previous pictures starring Chevalier, "Love Me Tonight" is done in a humorous and whimsical vein, and is set to music. Most of the musical numbers, all written by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart, noted song-writing combination, are sung by the French star and Miss MacDonald, but other members of the cast join in at one time or another.

"HERITAGE OF THE DESERT" Zane Grey's "Heritage of the Desert" done into movie form by a cast headed by Randolph Scott, Sally Blane and J. Farrell MacDonald, will appear at the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, October 12 and 13.

The picture, following the novel closely, is the story of the battle between a group of ranchmen and a band of outlaws who have a covetous eye on the rich territory held by the former.

Into this battle comes a young surgeon, brought by the ranchmen to check the boundaries of their land.

Scott is cast as the surgeon, Miss Blane as the girl, and MacDonald as the patriarchal old ranchman who leads his forces against the outlaws. David Landau, ace movie villain, plays the role of the bandit leader.

SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVANN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the Whitney Hotel, Ann Arbor, Tuesday and Wednesday only, October 11 and 12, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zoetic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthens the weakened parts, thereby closes the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining of any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Add. 6805 N. Tallman Ave., Chicago.

For 15 years assistant to F. H. Seeley, famous rupture expert of Chicago.

WHO SHOULD BE THE BOSS?

I wonder who should be the boss, The husband or his spouse? Which one, I ask, should have the task Of governing the house? And now, I hear some man exclaim: Why, that's as plain as day—I'll answer that right off the bat—"The MAN should have the say!"

And now, I hear the women cry: "Tut, tut—you poor old dub. Think what you wish, You poor old fish— But WE still swing the club! And finally we'll tell you this: (And please, sirs, don't you frown); We do not care if you do wear The pants. We'll wear the crown!"

PLUNGER THE FISHHAWK CATCHES A PRIZE

BILLY MNK and Little Joe Otter do most of their fishing in the Laughing Brook or the Smiling Pool and are content with rather small fish, so long as there are plenty of them. Buster Bear is another fisherman who does all his fishing in the Laughing Brook. But he, too, is content with minnows and pollywogs.

But it is not so with Plunger the Fish Hawk. No, indeed. He wastes no time on the little fish of the Laughing Brook or the Smiling Pool. Once in a while he fishes in the Smiling Pool when his keen eyes discover a fish there which is worth catching, but most of his fishing is done in the Big River. Every day he and Mrs. Plunger fly over to the Big River. One goes up the Big River and one goes down. To their broad wings miles are nothing, and so, high in the air above the shining water, they swing one. And he is like all good fishermen in another thing, the possession of patience.

On this particular morning Plunger was having no luck at all. Perhaps it was because he wasn't as patient as usual. The truth is he was rather impatient. He wanted a fish, a big fish, not for himself, but for Mrs. Plunger. Why didn't he leave it to Mrs. Plunger to catch her own breakfast? I'll tell you why. It was because Mrs. Plunger was very busy with household duties. There were three eggs in that nest over in the Green Forest, and Mrs. Plunger was sitting on them to keep them warm, so that by and by they would hatch into three little Plungers. So Plunger wanted a particularly nice fish to take to her to show her how much he thought of her.

But it seemed as if all the particularly nice fish were staying at the bottom of the Big River that morning. Several times he saw splendid fat fish almost near enough to the top, but not quite. Twice he shot down, only to spread his wings just before he reached the water and then flap back up in the air. Both times he had seen just in time that the fish were too deep in the water and he would simply scare them and get a bath for nothing. Once he had discovered a fish taking a sun bath close to the surface, but even as he had steadied himself for the long, swift plunge the fish had dived. Perhaps it had been frightened by the shadow of Plunger.

He was just about ready to think that he and Mrs. Plunger would have to breakfast that day when he saw deep down in the water the biggest, fattest fish he had yet seen. It was lazily swimming or at times remaining quite still.

"That fellow will bear watching," muttered Plunger. "He hasn't anything in particular to do, and perhaps he will come up for a sun bath. My, but he would taste good! I think I'll wait a bit."

So Plunger waited and watched. His way of waiting was to swing in little circles round and round right over the spot where the fish was, only, of course, he was high in the still, clear air. Round and round and round swung Plunger, never once taking his eyes from that fish down below. Several times he was tempted to give up and try his luck elsewhere, but he didn't. Finally patience won, as patience almost always will. Slowly the big fish came nearer and nearer to the surface. At last he was only a few inches below. Plunger steadied himself for an instant to make sure that his aim was good. Then he closed his wings and shot down like an arrow. There was a great splash as he struck the water and disappeared. A few seconds later he burst out in the shower of spray and flapped heavily up. Clutched in his great claws was the big fish, struggling helplessly.

State To Aid Turkey Growers Sell Crop

An effort to assist Michigan turkey owners to get a fair price for the birds marketed this fall will be made by the poultry department at Michigan State College which asks all growers of Thanksgiving birds to cooperate in this campaign.

The marketing plan is simple, consisting of bringing all the birds to a central point and securing bids for them from representatives of reliable firms. There will be no costs of organization and probably no other expense in this marketing plan.

The success of the marketing depends upon the willingness of growers to cooperate and to send information to the College poultry department about the number of birds owned to make the centralization and bid plan practical. Owners will bring their birds in at designated times to get the bids from poultry buyers.

Growers from Detroit, Chicago, New York and other large cities have shown interest in the plan and will send representatives to bid on the poultry if they are satisfied enough birds of good quality will be offered at central points. A representative of the Michigan Turkey Growers Association will be at the marketing points and the birds will be offered for sale on a graded basis if possible.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten children under Miss Wurster have been studying the preparations made for winter in the home. They have been cutting out pictures and making booklets showing the mothers, fathers and child's part in the home. Miss Crannell's class has been making health posters. They have started making the Halloween decorations for the room. In number class the children have learned to count to fifty.

AD. LIB.

Rumors have filtered through that Miss Wells, the honorable custodian of room 33 and instructor in the occurrence of higher mathematics, has taken up interior decorating with an aim. Ad, being of a very modern type, she of course seeks to provide a modernistic touch to the bare and grim walls of her cubicle by the tasteful arrangement of the everyday articles which she is furnishing. Her latest splurge was the purchase of various restful objects at points of vantage around the room. Those things used most are chalk boxes, erasers, and the like, which she parks atop the thermometer and the pictures, producing a very picturesque effect of an entirely new type. We can congratulate you, Miss Wells, on this your latest achievement.

7 A'S TAKE CHARGE OF MUSIC BULLETIN

Have you noticed the bulletin board in the music room? If you haven't you had better go in and look at it. The 7 A's music class is in charge of it this year, and Bruce Richard and Daniel Hale for this week's pictures and musical jokes.

SENIOR DRAMA CLUB ORGANIZED

In order to belong to the Senior Drama Club this year each member had to be tried out in a play. Thirty of the best players were picked out to form the club. Bob Shaw was selected president because of his previous work in the club. Two calls have come from the public for the play which is under Bob Shaw's direction "The Trusting Place." A typical Chinese play is being put on. The Willows class is in a Chinese fashion took place about a hundred years ago. The scene is a willow plantation. The figures of a boy, girl, and a dragon are in the scene. The boy and girl are held captive by the dragon. The drama club is making a special effort to become well acquainted with the Chinese theatre by reading material concerning it. The report at the next meeting are: Irene Humphries, costumes; Ruth McClaren, scenery; Ruth Michelin, property; Kenneth Greer, stage manager; Gladys Shetter, make-up; and Clifford Cook, lighting and curtains.

THE FOLLOWING OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Thursday: Irene Humphries, vice president; William Thams, secretary; Ruth Michelin, treasurer. The scenery for the Junior play is being made by the committee in charge. It is to be a garden. A lot of time will be needed to make it as it is a difficult task to make the garden beautiful.

GIRL RESERVES HAVE BUSY DAYS

The fourth meeting of the Girl Reserves was held at Riverside Park last Friday from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. The tables were in a triangle formation and after lunch and a short meeting, songs were sung with Helen Ribbar, Miriam Joffile, Marian Jean Squires, Anna Fran, Norma Jean Roe and Jewel Starkweather as leaders. A cabinet meeting took the officers of the Senior Girl Reserves away today from the first meeting of the new Sewing Club which the entire club is participating in. It is called the "Needle Work Guild" and is under the direction of Mrs. Cooper. They are at present making jackets for the needy families of Plymouth. So many of the regular meetings of the Girl Reserves are put aside for this guild.

WHAT NEXT?

According to a brilliant historian, Claire in the second hour American history class, the first boatload of women was brought to North America in 1916; the first boatload of slaves was brought to North America in 1916; and the first boatload of business in Virginia was organized in 1916. Laura K. believes that Pocahontas' daughter saved the life of Captain John Smith.

AD. LIB.

Upon popular request among his "victims" Bob Shaw, editor of the so-called Ad. Lib. column, is going to get his dues. In case you are interested, Bob has made up his mind to run for city dog catcher now that Plymouth is a city, that is, if some one will be so kind as to nominate him. He is taking lessons by mail on how to become a good detective as he is quite interested in Big Bertha and her latest splurge was the purchase of various restful objects at points of vantage around the room. Those things used most are chalk boxes, erasers, and the like, which she parks atop the thermometer and the pictures, producing a very picturesque effect of an entirely new type. We can congratulate you, Miss Wells, on this your latest achievement.

WHAT A MAN!

The time is going around that Claire Shontz and "Bibi" Eaton are engaged in bitter combat to determine which shall hold the much coveted position of the most original historian. The outcome at present is doubtful, but the honorable Miss Shontz is making a desperate effort to see that justice is done and the winner gets her dues. Of course, several others have entered the fray, the most noteworthy of these being Donald Brousson and Miss Geraldine Schmidt. Their efforts, however, have met with little success in the present race for such great odds, but there is possibility that one or the other of them will stage an upset, so keep your eye peeled.

P. H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM SEE NIGHT GAME

After playing with Detroit Country Day school last Friday the Plymouth gridlers witnessed a game played under a dozen or more, very powerful lights in the P. H. Stadium. This game was between Ypsilanti Normal - College and the University of Detroit. All the teams that attended this game did or should have gotten a great deal out of it. Ypsilanti, after keeping ahead of Detroit for the first half, was defeated in the second half by the score 13 to 7. Mr. Matheson and the Plymouth football team wish to thank the University of Detroit for passes to this game.

FORENSIC LEAGUE AND SPEECH CLUB COMBINE

Owing to the scarcity of students who can meet the requirements of the Forensic League, the Speech Club has combined with the former whose members will retain their League membership. At present the club is discussing the question which will be debated by Michigan high schools this year. "Resolved, that an income tax should be adopted in the state of Michigan." This club, consisting of ten members, meets on Tuesday under the guidance of Mr. Latture.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB NEWS

At the first meeting of the Home Economics Club, conducted by Miss Latture, the new Home Economics teacher, the following officers were elected: Theresa Schneider, president; June Cusick, vice president; and Ina Esch, secretary. This month the club has planned to make towels and finger-tip towels. For next week Ina Esch and Virginia Heutz are on the program committee.

CLASS RING MEASURES TAKEN

Eighty-seven juniors and seniors were measured for their class rings by the Weighing Bros. Mfg. Co. last Wednesday afternoon. The manufacturers are displaying three types of rings this year, a 10k gold ring, a silver ring, and a combination ring of silver and gold. The main decoration is the Plymouth Rock set in the center of the ring and encircled with black Plymouth High School, 1620 is engraved around the rock. The figures showing the year of graduation are engraved on the sides.

TEACHERS MAKE SUMMER TOURS

Interesting vacation trips taken this summer by several high school teachers are noted by the following brief accounts. Si Queris Peninsula - Motoring north along Lake Huron on the Eastern route to the Thumb of Michigan, Miss Hauf and several friends stopped at Port Hope. Here William Lyons Phelps, philosopher and English professor at Yale wrote "Human Behavior."

Si Queris Peninsula

Motoring north along Lake Huron on the Eastern route to the Thumb of Michigan, Miss Hauf and several friends stopped at Port Hope. Here William Lyons Phelps, philosopher and English professor at Yale wrote "Human Behavior." Miss Hauf's summer home, which Mr. Phelps frequently mentions in his book and proceeded among various geological wonders to the very tip of the thumb where there is a rock known as the "Thumb Nail Rock." Near this at Point Aux Barques, they visited Eleanor's home.

WHAT A MAN!

Continuing north she went to Alpena to visit a sorority sister. At Cheboygan they ferried across the Straits of Mackinac to St. Ignace. Here they visited the burial place of Father (Pere) Marquette. They spent the day in Mackinac Island and went on a boat-trip among the numerous small islands known as "The Snows," crossed back across the Straits to the Southern Peninsula. From Cheboygan they went directly south to Houghton Lake where they spent ten days swimming and fishing. The fishing was particularly good. Dennis Hurst caught several walleyed pike. They came home through Mt. Pleasant after a wonderful trip of Michigan.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten class in Miss Crannell's room have made a project of "Mary and Her Lamb" on their sand table. They are making doll house furniture of spoons. Miss Cavanaugh showed them the movie picture, "The Three Bears." The class in Miss Stader's room first B and second A have memorized the poem "My Shadow." They have also recited about "Golden September." Also copied the song "Golden Rods." There were twenty-three "A's" in spelling Wednesday, they are working for one hundred per cent by Friday. In language they are memorizing "May 1."

An Ideal Spot

Wouldn't you like to go off and have a nice lazy time in a log cabin all alone. That's what Miss Loveland did the latter part of August. Of course she had guests and their chief amusement was catching walleyed pike and muskellunge. The cabin is located thirty miles from the Canadian Sault in the rock country opposite a large lighthouse. It is near the channel where the large boats come in to go to the Sault.

A Trip East

Aside from seeing the Niagara Falls, one of the seven wonders of the world, last summer Miss Fry saw many hundreds of acres of vineyards in the hills and valleys between the Falls and London. When New York State was reached, Rochester, Buffalo and Syracuse were visited. The trip home was made through Erie, Pennsylvania and Cleveland, Ohio.

West Viewed by Teacher

The physical training teacher, Miss Luella Kees, spent eight weeks of the summer touring through the West with a girl friend from Lansing. They saw the Lincoln Memorial at Springfield, Illinois. Mr. Evans near Denver, Colorado 14,260 feet high, the girls climbed. There was snow on this mountain, and a frozen lake at the foot. Placer mining was, or at least seemed to be, a hobby for some people. They made on the average one dollar a day. There were many wild poppies and cactus plants along the way. Dust storms through Colorado made driving almost impossible in places. Ranges were numerous and the homes on them were very crude. The girls saw adobe houses with large bake ovens on the outside near Santa Fe. They met covered wagons driven by Mexicans. The oldest well near Santa Fe is the oldest of its kind in the United States. Santa Fe is the second oldest city in the United States. The three thousand year old Indian ruins were visited. The old Tulsa House and Kiva or Council Room was among the ruins.

INTERMEDIATE AND JUNIOR GIRL RESERVES

Because there are so many who wish to enter, changes are being made in the Intermediate and Junior groups of Girl Reserves. Miss Berg has the seventh, eighth and ninth graders (The Seekers) and Miss Lickly the tenth graders. Girls wishing to enter these groups are sent to Study Hall where they are under observation for five weeks. Jeannette Brown and her committee made song sheets which contained also the code, slogan and purpose of the groups. The officers of the Seeker's group are: Patsy McKinnon, president; Jeannette Brown, vice president; Barbara Hubbard, secretary; Marian Gorton, treasurer; Jewel Starkweather and Norma Jean Roe are song leaders. The officers of the Junior group are: Yvonne Hearn, president; Anna Urban, vice president; Vivian Towl, secretary; Mable Ritchie, treasurer.

Other Interesting Event Occurred

near Alburyque. While driving along the girls were halted by an Indian woman who had a small stand with dishes and pottery. She asked them if they had anything they wanted to trade for a dish with her daughter. The girls traded. She said cookies, candy, or gum would be all right. The girls remembered that they had some cookies which their mothers had given them before they had left. After the Indian girl had tasted the cookies she was willing to trade so the girls got a dish. The desert proved to be very hot and monotonous. No water other than salt water was obtainable. They were advised to cross the desert in Arizona at night because of the terrific heat. Even at midnight it was about one hundred degrees above zero. On the high land in California, groves of lemons, oranges and vineyards were seen. The Huntington Library which is on a two hundred seven acre estate was donated to the State of California by Henry Huntington. In the art gallery a picture of the original Blue Boy was shipped to California from Europe on a boat and guarded constantly by a group of men. It cost one million dollars to get it here. The girls saw a ten-like dots. There are many tame wild animals. The San Mateo, the longest highway bridge in the world, is seven and one-tenth miles long. Near Salt Lake City in Utah there are salt fields which look like hard concrete, but if you try to drive your car on it you almost sink to China. Miss Kees traveled a distance of nine thousand miles in the eight weeks of her trip. "After all Michigan is a beautiful state and one can appreciate it after traveling through all the other states," she said. Inaugurating a war on waste. Coolidge, Pershing, et al, urge congressional slashes. Why not start on the red tape? The honeymoon is over when he discovers she's more keen about sitting in the lap of luxury than on his knees. The Army officer who is being sued for $7,500 breach of promise damages by a Bay City girl evidently didn't execute a strategic retreat. BAPTIST CHURCH

Acres Cactus Garden with 22,000

Cor. Spring and Mill Sts. Rev. Richard Neale, Pastor Sunday services—Morning worship, 10:00 a. m. Bible school, 11:15 a. m. B. Y. P. U., 6:30 p. m. Evening service, 7:30 p. m. Prayer service, Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. The church age in which we live today is surely in the midst of great things, past and future. We now live between the cross and the great Golden Age ahead of us. There is inspiration and hope each way. What a blessed thing it is to look back at the cross where our debt of sin was paid, and to the empty tomb where the sting of death was removed for all who believe and are saved. We are also encouraged as we look back upon the lives of the followers of Jesus, who formed the early church and tarried for, and received the promised gift of the Holy Ghost, and then went out to do great things for God and his kingdom. A rich heritage is ours today through their faith and suffering in the past. As we look ahead into the future we are filled with hope and joy at what God's word points to for the saved ones of this church age. The next great event is the rapture of the church (1st Thes. 4:13-17) and then comes the celebration of the "Marriage Supper of the Lamb" in heaven. Every Christian looks forward with great anticipation to this coming festival, knowing that the wards for services are passed out at this time. We shall also be reunited at this time with our loved ones who have died in Christ. Surely the Lord has a wonderful program ahead of us, when we think of coming back to the earth to keep him reign over the nations for a thousand years. (Rev. 20:16) This is the Golden Age for which the whole world yearns and sighs. It will be a reign of righteousness and the nations will learn war no more. Even the wild beasts shall dwell together, not harming each other in that time. A beautiful word picture is given us of this age in Isaiah, chapter 11:1 to 9. No wonder we are a hopeful people as we look forward to all these things and also to the new heavens and the new earth which God will bring into existence. (2nd Peter 3:13) You are cordially invited to our church where the whole Bible is preached at both services. 10:00 a. m. "Cornelius' Conversion." 7:30 p. m. "How God Saves Men."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Walter Nichol, M. A., Pastor Morning worship, 10:00 a. m. Sunday-school, 11:30 a. m. Evening worship, 7:30 p. m. Wednesday October 12th is the date of the next meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary. There will be business meeting of the Plymouth women at 1:45 p. m. and at 2:30 p. m. the Northville Presbyterian Women's Union will meet with the Plymouth Women's Auxiliary. Northville will bring the program for the day as usual. It will be excellent. The Plymouth women will serve refreshments. These joint meetings always bring a large and enthusiastic attendance. This one is expected to be fully up to standard. A happy and interested group of young men and young women met in the church parlors Sunday, October 2nd at 5 p. m. There was good fellowship, hearty singing and when Miss Lovewell told the group some "Modern Parables" there was thoughtful attention. Later from somewhere there appeared sandwiches cake and coca and all went away refreshed in body, mind and spirits. The young people will meet again next Sunday at 5 p. m. and cordially invite other young people of high school age or older to join them. Miss Lovewell will meet with the group on Sunday and Mrs. Robert D. Shaw will assist with the music. Dame Nature did her utmost to make Rally Day a success, providing a perfect Sabbath day. And the girls and boys and women and men of the Presbyterian Church and Sunday school responded with a new high record of attendance. The teachers, officers and leaders are all happy and encouraged.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN

Spring Street Edgar Hoenecke, Pastor Regular English services next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. No German service on the 16th of October.—In the English service the pulpit will be filled by Prof. Roland Hoenecke, youngest brother of the pastor. Sunday school every Sunday at 9:30 a. m. 96 names now adorn our roll. Is YOUR child taking care of?—Are you aware of your responsibility?—Jesus said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not." and "Who shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea." The Sunday School, being cramped for room in the church, has created a new fund to be known as the Basement Fund for enlarging the present basement. Miss Sarah Gayde is custodian of the fund. Beginning with a modest one-cent contribution last Sunday, the fund now boasts of $1.16. Your early contribution, small or great will be treasured. Depression and Your Church The general slouchiness in all commercial and economic branches has been a blessing and God send in disguise for your church. Recognizing quickly and correctly the value of a solid and dependable footing and mainstay in these unstable days, people have not forsaken the church and they have more than a social club and to have no other platform than the Blood of Christ and no other program than that of proclaiming its saving virtue to a nation of sinners. Your church heretofore has been men searching for criticism and not anxious and unswerving adherents to the WHOLE BIBLE as the inspired, infallible Truth and sole guide to peace and salvation and unalterable norm for Christian faith and conduct, human judgment and expediency to the contrary notwithstanding. You church holds to the word of Paul: "I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified." We have progressed outwardly and inwardly during this past and present depression. Baptism and Sunday school enrollment have doubled and in all other branches the work has progressed. Our treasury is in good condition. This is not to boast: God forbid. To God alone be Glory. But this, to demonstrate our point, we have uttered the irrefragable truth: "If ye abide in My word, then are ye my disciples indeed: and ye shall know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you free." also provides the undeserved reward for His children on earth. We glory in His Grace. If you then seek and desire to be in this chaos and scene of man's own fashioning, from your distress, your cares and your worries, seek out the lowly Nazarene, whose precious Gospel it is ever our zealous and holy endeavor to bring to you unspiced and unal-

Hurling Brickbats At The Editor

Publication in recent issues of the Plymouth Mail of articles telling of the visit of the editor to Washington for a conference with President Hoover has brought forth a number of unusual comments, some complimentary and others otherwise. The following letter from Harrison Merrill, for years a staff writer of the Kalamazoo Gazette and now a columnist on this important Booth paper, reflects a bit of the political thought from the richly fertilized celery fields of Kalamazoo: "Presume by this time you have returned with other Republican editors from the sugar beet presentation ceremonies at Washington. D. C. I am going to watch the news reels carefully for this very touching incident in the life of the Great Engineer who at the present time appears headed for the roundhouse. "I hope the pictures will be in color and that full sound will prevail as I wish to see the crimson color that must have overpread the features of the Hon. Chester Howell as he delivered the presentation speech that will deliver the sugar beet vote solidly to the other side and Herbert. "I think that if you Republican editors would just go ahead with the idea that a large red beet could be used to adorn the top of the ticker instead of the picture of Mr. Lincoln who I should judge has somewhat wandered away from the G. O. P. confines. "Evidently Lovewell was strong for the big stick and now the Big Beet comes into evidence. Why not the slogan 'Stay Beet With Hoover?' "I am afraid, my dear Elton, that your Mr. Hoover along with your friend Mr. Brucker are due for a grand beet in November. The political winds seem to be moving in that direction. As for myself—all is well! "However if I am mistaken I do hope that my good friend Senator Howell will be made Secretary of Beets in the new cabinet and that you will be the next Postmaster at Potlunk and adjacent territory. You deserve it after hitch hikin' such a great distance. "If the Republicans go down to defeat this fall, Editor Grant Rowe of the Milford Times declares it will be because some twenty editors went to Washington to see the President. Mr. Rowe said in a recent issue of his paper: "Some months ago George Neal remarked in the Orion Review that there appeared to be three weekly newspapers of especial prominence in the Michigan Press Association, one being the Plymouth Mail and the other two the Birmingham Economic. This list would need to be enlarged since twenty of the weekly editors journeyed to Washington with supposedly sage advice to President Hoover relative to the campaign procedure. It is not known whether the President's decision to make a speaking tour in the West was fully entitled to him as he is defeated in November we will know where to lay the blame." Now comes into the picture a real Democrat, Harrison Merrill is a son of a "reformed Republican" and Editor Rowe is just a passive one. But Judge Gordon Stewart of Kalamazoo comes from a family of Democrats that were Democrats before Thomas Jefferson started the Democratic party. Following is Judge Stewart's comment: Dear Editor: "I read your editorial about Carney and also about your trip to Washington. I haven't anything to say about the Carney editorial but I got a big kick out of your comment on the trip to Washington. Your comment about the tariff and its effect on the conditions of this country are fully entitled to the braux cheer and to use your own language, it gives me a pain in the neck. Maybe I don't know much about politics, but after 24 years of campaigning if I were not broke and badly beat besides, I would bet you a quart of good Kalamazoo corn for the Republican name a copper penny that the Republican name ticket does not carry a single state in the Union. Sincerely, Judge Gordon Stewart."

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH

NEWBURG

The new pastor, Rev. Thomas Pryor, preached Sunday taking his text from Romans 7:19. Misses Anna and Ada Youngs sang "I heard the Voice of Jesus Say." Next Sunday will be Rally Day in the Sunday school. All members are requested to invite and bring someone with you, making it a real Rally Day. Epworth League at 7:30 p. m. Queen Esther Circle meets with Miss Alice Bakedwell this Friday evening. The Epworth League collected fruits and vegetables for the Chelsea Old Peoples Home Tuesday, taking them to the home Saturday. Epworth League gave a farewell party last Thursday evening for Mrs. Frank Purdy and daughter, Katherine. Mrs. Purdy was presented with a nice gift. Mrs. Purdy will be greatly missed among the young people, having been a faithful worker in the League and church choir. A delightful evening was spent Monday at the pleasant home of Miss Anna and Ada Youngs. The living room, decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, made a pretty setting for the reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. Frank Purdy on their departure from Newburg to their new charge at Vernon, Mich., also to welcome the new pastor, Rev.

Thomas Pryor. Miss Ada Youngs read a poem, "The House Beside the Road," likening the passage to the "House Beside the Road," where one went with their joys and sorrows. They were presented with a letter, containing a substantial sum to which Mr. Purdy feelingly responded. H. Gilbert, in behalf of the men's class, presented Mrs. Purdy with a fine fountain pen for her faithfulness as a teacher of their class. She thanked them in her usual gracious manner. Newton Youngs, in behalf of Newburg people, welcomed Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Pryor to this community. The pastor's response was both apt and witty. Ice cream and cake was served after a social time. All departed wishing God speed and best wishes to follow Mr. and Mrs. Purdy and family, who have endeared themselves to a large number of people in the three and a half years they have been on this charge. Rev. and Mrs. Frank Purdy were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman. Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Pryor took dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark of Highland Park were callers at the Itzder homestead Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy visited friends in Howell Sunday.

MODERN FUNERAL SERVICE REQUIRES MODERN EQUIPMENT AND UP-TO-DATE MATERIALS The people of this community are justly proud of their splendid stores, theatres, etc. Right here in Plymouth we can purchase clothing and other merchandise as stylish and up-to-date as shown anywhere. This service, rendered by our local merchants, is well appreciated by us all. In funeral requirements there also are frequent changes in style and taste. The skill of expert designers constantly is at work producing more suitable equipment and materials. Our No. 3-Way Hearse equipment is one important improvement we have added to our facilities. It has the side serving feature that now is considered essential to provide a modernly reverent and dignified atmosphere at the funeral. Our display room contains the very latest productions in the field of burial merchandise. Garments in style similar to those used by the living, caskets embodying improvements in design and material—all these are provided by our policy of keeping up with modern progress in our profession and community. MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO. The TELEPHONE is a valuable aid in SECURING WORK Persons who are hired by the day or job find their telephones invaluable as an aid in securing work. They are able to keep in close touch with employers. And, when workers are needed, employers usually call those applicants first who can be reached easily and quickly by telephone. The person who tries to get along without a telephone may miss work that would pay for the telephone many times over. IN EMERGENCIES, your telephone is priceless protection, enabling you to summon doctor, fireman or police instantly, day or night.

Proceedings of the City Commission

Plymouth, Michigan September 19, 1932. A regular meeting of the City Commission held in the Council-Studio Chamber of the City Hall on Monday evening, September 19, 1932 at 7:00 p. m.

Present: Mayor Pro-Tem Henderson, Commissioners Hoyer, Learned, and Robinson. Absent: None. The minutes of the regular meeting held September 6th were approved as read.

The Clerk read the reports of the Justice of the Peace on criminal cases from August 1st to September 1st, and civil cases from September 1st to September 15th. It was moved by Comm. Robinson seconded by Comm. Learned that the reports be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

The Clerk read a communication from the Ex-Service Men's Club requesting that the flags be replaced on the graves at Plymouth Riverside Cemetery. This matter was discussed by the Commission and it was suggested by Comm. Hoyer that the Ex-Service Men's Club present a petition from a representative number of citizens after which the matter will be further considered by the Commission. It was moved by Comm. Robinson seconded by Comm. Hoyer that the communication be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

The following resolution was offered by Comm. Learned and supported by Comm. Hoyer: WHEREAS, on May 10, 1932 the electors of the City of Plymouth adopted a City Charter, and WHEREAS, on May 19, 1932 the certificates of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State, and it was suggested by Comm. Hoyer that the City representatives have made repeated requests of Township Supervisor to fix the time and place for a meeting with a representative of the City to determine the respective rights of the City and Township, the Township Supervisor has declined to do so and has shown no desire to attempt an amicable settlement with the City, therefore be it

RESOLVED, that this matter be referred to the City Attorney with instructions to proceed in the proper course of law in order to make possible the settlement of the affairs of the Township and City at the earliest possible date.

Ayes: Commissioners Hoyer, Learned, Robinson, and Mayor Pro-Tem Henderson. Nays: None. Carried. Wayne Methodists To Celebrate 100th Birthday Oct. 16-23. During the week of Oct. 16-23, the Wayne Methodist Episcopal church will celebrate its 100th birthday anniversary, the church having been founded there thirty many years ago. A full week of observance of this notable anniversary will be made by the members of the church and guests, and as a fitting tribute for the occasion, such notable speakers as Governor Wilber M. Brucker and Dr. M. S. Hays of Detroit, will give addresses. Many from Plymouth expect to attend the service.

Through the efforts of Rev. Walter D. Heyler, pastor of the church, and other members of the church, decidedly interesting and appropriate programs are being arranged for the entire week. Hundreds of former members of the church, who are living in nearby communities, are expected to return to participate in the observance of this 100th anniversary, and hundreds of special guests also will participate in the activities. It was said.

The tentative program, as announced by Rev. Heyler, will begin with special services in the church Sunday morning, Oct. 16, and Dr. J. A. Halmhuber, who is superintendent of the Methodist Ann Arbor district, will deliver the address at that time. Dr. Halmhuber is a speaker of note, and his address undoubtedly will prove of interest to the hundreds of church members and guests who are expected to attend.

Governor Brucker will be the principal speaker at the church in the evening, the governor having accepted the invitation to speak at this memorable occasion. Monthly has been set aside for the observance of the older members of the church, for whom a special reception will be held. A large number of the older members of the church will attend this reception, many of whom will remember the earlier history of the church, shortly after its founding.

Tuesday night has been set aside for the Young People's rally, and Epworth League of churches.

throughout the county have been invited to attend. Rev. Marshall P. Reed, pastor at Ypsilanti, will give an appropriate talk at this rally. Wednesday will be ladies' day at the church, and a special program has been arranged, and on Thursday a special musical program will be held and Mrs. Florence Valance will direct this program.

Dr. Rice, prominent speaker from Detroit, will deliver the address at a men's banquet which will be held at the church Friday evening. A large number of men are expected to attend this affair.

Bishop Edgar Blake, new bishop of the Detroit area, will talk at the following Sunday morning service, and in the evening, Rev. C. E. Steadman, a former pastor of the Wayne church, will deliver the closing sermon.

Repair your Electric Appliances

This Inexpensive Way

When an electric iron, toaster, percolator or other appliance burns out (and they will after long service) this does not mean they are ready to be discarded. Such appliances still contain much potential hard usage, and often may be repaired almost as good as new. A very small expenditure will put them in excellent condition.

Bring the appliance to any Detroit Edison office. We will repair it without extra charge to you except for the necessary materials. In this way you may maintain all your electrical appliances in trim and efficient working order. (It does not matter where the appliance was purchased - we make no labor charge for repairs.)

This is part of our general customer service for which there is no extra charge

SOCIETY AFFAIRS

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Hugh Daly and Mrs. James Stull entertained sixteen guests at a delightful "miscellaneous" shower in honor of Miss Jessie Nelson of Northville, who will become the bride of John Wahn of this city on Tuesday, October 11. The afternoon quickly passed while playing keno and other games. These were followed by the opening of the many lovely gifts by the guest of honor which she appreciated greatly. The hostesses served dainty refreshments which all enjoyed. Those present at this very happy affair beside the honoree were her mother, Mrs. John K. Nelson, Mrs. Dan Martin, Mrs. Cass Bolton, Mrs.

Henry Brent, Mrs. James Black and Mrs. Edward Lockman of Northville, Mrs. Wilbur Ebersole, Mrs. Lydia Ebersole, Mrs. Karl Starkweather, Miss Evelyn Starkweather, Mrs. Archie Herrick, Mrs. Charles Weaver and Miss Elmita Mintz of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Dykhouse and Miss Vivian McLaughlin and Jay Dykhouse of Charlotte, who were their guests over the week-end, attended the Michigan-Michigan State football game at Ann Arbor Saturday. That evening the Dykhouses entertained two tables of brides in honor of their house-guests at their home on Blunk avenue. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lazole of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Cobb of Plymouth. One table had a covering in maize and yellow and the other in green and white, representing the two colleges and the prizes were daintily wrapped in the same colors. A delicious luncheon was served which carried out the same color scheme.

Members of the Baptist church and their families to the number of sixty gathered last Thursday evening in the church for the delicious supper given in honor of Mrs. R. Kenneth Thorpe of Northville, a former member. Mrs. Thorpe was Miss Gertrude Grainger until her marriage on August fifth to Mr. Thorpe. The guests were seated at an E shaped table covered with vases of gladioli and at intervals bowls of mixed garden flowers were placed. The guest of honor was presented with a table lamp, an end table and a picture as a remembrance from her friends and co-workers in the church showing their appreciation of her untiring efforts while in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Powell entertained twenty friends Saturday evening at their home in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore's birthday. Bunch was the amusement of the evening. Noel Showers and Mrs. Ross Gates, representing first honors, Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore and Claude Burroughs second, while Mrs. Harry Richards and Herald Durlinger were consolation. A delicious supper was served and at a late hour, all departed, wishing Mrs. Fillmore many more happy birthdays.

A very delightful surprise birthday dinner was given Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Karl Hillmer and Doris B. Hillmer of Detroit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Starkweather on Starkweather avenue. It being the birthday of both a delicious potluck dinner was served at a table beautifully decorated with flowers and lovely birthday cake for each of the honored guests. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Hillmer, Mr. and Mrs. George Hulstern, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olds and Mr. and Mrs. James Sessions and two sons.

A very pleasant surprise was given Claud Simmons on the Six mile road last Friday night, the occasion being his birthday. Progressive pool was the entertainment of the evening, first honors going to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atchinson, second to Mr. and Mrs. John Melow and consolation to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Schroeder. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess. The guests departed at a late hour wishing Mr. Simmons many happy returns of the day.

Miss Virginia Loftis of Ferndale, a student at Michigan State College at Lansing, accompanied Miss Janet Bickenstaff home on Friday to be her guest over the week-end. On Saturday they attended the Michigan-Michigan State football game at Ann Arbor after which Miss Bickenstaff entertained a few guests at dinner in her guest's honor, at her home on Ann Arbor street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hillmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olds, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Welcome Rosenberg of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. John Newman of Detroit pleasantly surprised Mrs. Ed Taylor Saturday evening at her home on Starkweather avenue, it being her birthday anniversary. The guests brought well filled baskets of delicious "eats" and all enjoyed the cooperative supper and evening visiting.

Mrs. Louisa Bennett was eighty-seven years old Monday and several of her friends called to see her on that day among them being Mrs. Minot S. Weed, who is eighty-four and Mrs. Thompson, who is eighty-two. Mrs. Vina Joy, who is eighty, remembered Mrs. Bennett with a birthday card. Mrs. William Farley, a niece, was a supper guest at the Bennett home that evening.

About fifty relatives and their families, gathered Sunday at the home of William Fisher near New Hudson and enjoyed the day, having a wonderful potluck dinner at noon and supper in the evening. The day was ideal for such an occasion and the guests were loth to leave, most of them remaining until a late hour. Guests were present from Detroit, Northville and Plymouth.

Mrs. Edwin Campbell and Mrs. Edward Dobbs are entertaining a few guests this evening at a "shower" and bridge in honor of Mrs. William Arscott at the home of the former on North Harvey street.

Mrs. Charles G. Draper, Miss Winifred Draper of this city and Miss Margaret Stephens of Ypsilanti attended a birthday dinner Friday at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Karl Steigler, of Grasse Pointe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Johnson and family of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nowland and family of New Boston and Mr. and Mrs. Dewight Nowland of Detroit enjoyed a picnic dinner Sunday at Riverside Park.

Mrs. W. R. Freyman most delightfully entertained the Friendly bridge club at a dessert-bridge last Thursday afternoon at her home on Ann street. On Thursday of this week the Ambassador bridge club met with Mrs. Freyman.

The Busy Woman's Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school had a most enjoyable potluck dinner Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Freyman on Ann street when Mrs. George Cramer joined Mrs. Freyman as hostess.

The sewing committee of the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church had an enjoyable potluck dinner and day of sewing Thursday at the home of Mrs. Claude J. Dykhouse on Blunk avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. McKinney and little daughter, Patricia Colleen, of Northville were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. McKinney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hillman, on Pennington avenue.

The Tuesday afternoon bridge club had its first meeting of the new year with their president, Mrs. J. W. Bickenstaff, on Ann Arbor street Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Lucy Brooks of Manhattan, Kansas, Mrs. W. A. Eckles and Mrs. M. M. Willett were dinner guests Tuesday of their cousin, Mrs. Althea Packard.

Mrs. E. C. Hough entertained a party of friends on Wednesday, Woman's Day at the Meadowbrook Country Club, Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McLaren were dinner guests Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shackleton at Dearborn.

The Monday evening "500" club will meet next week with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stever on Mill Road.
