

CAMPAIGN TO END SATURDAY EVE WITH BANG

Republicans Are Sure But The Democrats Plan Big Rally

When the Democrats of Plymouth start their parade Saturday night for the mass meeting to be held at Northville for William A. Constock, it will be the last event of one of the most energetic campaigns by both Democrats and Republicans ever waged in Michigan.

While there has been seemingly little activity on the surface in Plymouth, loyal supporters of both parties have been busy, exceptionally so, in behalf of their tickets.

The Republicans of Plymouth have not regarded the situation of serious enough nature about here to hold any special rallies. From a careful canvass of the voters, they believe that the Republican ticket as a whole is going to get an excellent vote. This is due to a considerable extent to the fact that Attorney General Paul Voorhies, a former Plymouth resident, is on the ticket for reelection to the attorney generalship of the state and he has a large following here. He will help the whole U. P. ticket.

However, Democrats have indicated that they intend to cut into this Republican vote if they can and the joint mass meeting arranged between Plymouth and Northville at the Northville high school Saturday night starting at 8 o'clock with their candidate for governor, William A. Constock, as the final speaker, is their answer to Republican claims.

GOVT. OFFICIAL TO TALK HERE TODAY

The Woman's Club will be addressed this evening by Colonel Heinrich Pickett, collector of customs. His subject "Women in the Government Service" is one that will be of interest to everyone, particularly at this time. Colonel Pickett is well known to many in Plymouth and the members of the club are looking forward to hearing this outstanding speaker.

Mrs. Coker will be the guest artist on this occasion, accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert Brown at the piano.

Ten will be served after the program with Mrs. E. R. Baggett and Mrs. Carmen Root presiding at the table. Members are privileged to bring guests and any men who would like to hear Colonel Pickett are most cordially invited.

The last meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the Detroit Art Museum on October 29th, at which time Mrs. Claude Beckhouse was admitted to membership. Fifty members and guests were present who most thoroughly enjoyed the lecture on "Period Furniture" given by Miss Josephine Walther, assistant Curator of the American Art. The chairman for the evening was Mrs. H. Johnson, who is to be commended for planning so interesting a program.

The committee for the program today are Mrs. Arlo A. Emery, chairman, Mrs. John T. Chapman, Mrs. George M. Chute, Mrs. E. R. Baggett, Mrs. Lynn H. Felton, Mrs. George E. Fisher, Mrs. Ray H. Mitchell, and Mrs. Carmen Root.

Keynote Speaker

George Bushnell, Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney who will be the keynote speaker at the Democratic rally to be staged by Plymouth and Northville at the Northville Saturday night.

The rally is expected to draw a large crowd from Plymouth and vicinity. M. J. Murphy of Northville will act as chairman of the meeting.

This Card Required Thirteen Years To Travel From Lansing To Plymouth

Thirteen years from Lansing to Plymouth—that is the time it has required for a Michigan automobile certificate such as the state used to issue back in 1919 under the administration of Coleman C. Vaughn, who was then secretary of state, to reach Plymouth.

Tuesday morning when Postmaster Bert Giles was sorting the mail, a card fell out of one of the sacks that had been brought to the post-office from Detroit, that looked much different than anything that passes through the office these days.

It was a secretary of state card addressed to Herbert Fizzell, R. F. D. Elm, Michigan. Mr. Fizzell had purchased a new Overland car and the license number given him by the state was 8724. While the mail for Elm passes through the Plymouth postoffice, no one associated with the postoffice at the present time ever heard of Mr. Fizzell or knows of his address.

Postmaster Giles is at a loss to know where the card has been during these thirteen years. It was mailed in Lansing April 30, 1919, reaching Plymouth November 1, 1932. It is possible that in some way it became caught inside the mail sack and did not drop out until other mail was removed at the postoffice on Tuesday morning.

DR. BRISBOIS IS NEW KIWANIS PRESIDENT

Plymouth Kiwanians Tuesday night honored Dr. Harold J. Brisbois by electing him president of the club for the ensuing year. He succeeds Sterling Eaton, whose term of office expires Jan. 1st.

Edwin A. Schrader, who has become one of the real active members of the club, was elevated from the secretaryship to the office of vice president.

Silvey Corbett was elected treasurer and Claude J. Dykhouse was made sergeant at arms.

The directors are Dr. Freeman Dwyer, Miller Ross, Ray Hill, Mark Chaffee, James Sessions, Stewart Dodge and Norman Demme.

AGREEMENT IS BELIEVED NEAR

Gas Company and Communities Making Progress On New Rates

From information given out by city officials, excellent progress is being made towards an adjusted gas rate for this city, Northville and Wayne. During the past two or three weeks the committee representing the three communities and the company have made considerable progress towards what promises to be a satisfactory adjustment of the problem.

Early in the negotiations a request for a greatly reduced rate was made to the gas company. The company responded to this request by making an offer for a reduction which amounted to approximately nine cents on the former rate of 20.00 cubic feet. The committee felt that a greater reduction should be obtained and accordingly engaged Professor John S. Worley of the University of Michigan to advise in the matter. After some correspondence and negotiations the gas company has offered a reduction of 20.00 cubic feet. Mr. and Mrs. John Rattenbury have left for Texas where they plan to spend the winter. They are driving through and expect to reach the southland the last of this week, making plenty of time along the way.

Wyman Bartlett and William Kaiser who took over the Rattenbury store on Penniman avenue, have been busy during the past few days making some alterations in the store and adding considerably to the stock that has always been carried.

ARMISTICE DAY DANCE PLANNED

Washington Bicentennial Committee Final Event On November 11

All arrangements have been completed for the Armistice Day dance to be held next Friday evening, November 11 at the Masonic Temple in Plymouth. This event is a part of the program that has been carried on during the year by the Plymouth Washington Bicentennial Commission under the direction of Supt. George Smith of the public schools.

It had at first been planned to have this affair more or less of a cultural ball but the committee at a meeting held Tuesday night decided that this would doubtless result in too great an expense and decided to make the affair a regular Armistice Day affair.

DOZEN BIDS FOR NEW P. O. SITE

Many Excellent Locations To Be Offered To The Government

From inquiries that have been received by Postmaster Bert Giles pertaining to the government's request for bids or donations of a postoffice site in Plymouth, it is probable that Plymouth will have not less than a dozen very desirable locations to present to the officials in Washington.

There is a possibility that two different sites may be offered as a donation to the government for the location of the new federal building in Plymouth. If this is done, it is pointed out by one close to the situation, that Plymouth will secure one of the finest postoffice buildings in the state. The government, in all cases where sites are donated, is thereby enabled to erect a better building than is the case where a considerable sum is necessary to expand for a site.

Red Raspberries Being Picked Here

Now raspberries in November! Nice, big berries, just the kind that one might pick late in June off the bushes.

That is what Mrs. Bonjamin Havershaw of 204 North Harvey is now picking from her bushes on the first back of their home.

One bunch is now on display in the "fair window" of the Plymouth United Savings bank. She will have additional ripe berries on the vines next week. In fact the early winter crop looks almost as promising as did the last spring crop.

She beats the report that was published a week or so ago in the Mail from Berrien county.

CONGRESSIONAL BATTLE IS OF SPECIAL INTEREST IN CITY

Next Tuesday Election Day In The Nation

Plymouth residents who will for the first time vote in a regular election in the new 17th congressional district, are greatly interested in the man who will go to Congress from this district. The Republicans have nominated George A. Dondero, prominent Royal Oak attorney, former mayor of that city and well known citizen of Oakland county.

The following statement has been prepared by Mr. Dondero for the voters of this district:

I am a candidate as the Republican candidate for Congress in the Seventeenth District of Michigan. Under the new apportionment it is a much different type of district than was any of those out of which it has been carved.

DONDERO TELLS OF HIS PLANS

Republican Candidate For Congress Discusses Nation's Needs

The district had a population in 1920 of 215,000. It was six times the population its territory had 10 years before. These figures emphasize that in the decade from 1920 to 1930, its area increased sixfold in population. This increase marked the conversion of an agricultural area into an industrial one.

This is a good example, in the south-west, of the population which has a record of achievement in political life behind him. The successful candidates for both the Republican and Democratic parties are, therefore, new men to congressional ambitions and experience.

NEXT TUESDAY ELECTION DAY IN THE NATION

Plymouth Voters Get The Largest Ballot Ever Printed

When Plymouth voters go to the polls Tuesday it will be to take part in one of the most important elections ever held in the United States. Not only is the election the most important, but the ballot they will use is the largest, the largest ballot ever used in any election.

City and township officials have made plans for one of the largest votes ever cast in a election here. Many new voters were registered both in Plymouth and Plymouth township during the last few days of the registration period. Many who had previously registered wanted to be sure that their names were on the books and as a result of this precaution, registration books have more than once been checked over to see that names were still on the poll lists.

ONE LAST WORD

Doubtless everyone has their mind made up to just how they expect to vote on Tuesday, except possibly on the numerous amendments that are to be presented for your consideration. In the first place it was an exceedingly foolish thing for the legislature to submit eight different important questions at one election. If they are passed, they will become a part of the fundamental laws of the state and it will take both legislative action and another statewide action to wipe them out if they are found too undesirable.

Because of the fact that any benefit that may come from these amendments is so negligible if passed and there is so much damage that can be done if they are passed, The Mail has taken the position that the safest thing for the people of Michigan to do is vote them all down. Yes, every one. Even the so-called prohibition amendment. There is plenty of time for action on this question once that the federal government has cleaned up the mess we are now in.

Possibly the most dangerous of all the amendments is the one labeled No. 2, dealing with the tax limitation question. Following is an editorial by Emerson O. Gildart, publisher of the Utica Sentinel, who for many years was associated with the state department of education. Because of the fact that he is so well posted and knows so intimately the requirements of the educational system of the state, his opinion on amendment No. 2, is of more than ordinary value. Editor Gildart says:

"Out of the seething caldron of taxpaying discontent there have emerged this fall an unusual number of quack cures. They purport to have been framed to alleviate the financial distress, but are really of such a radical nature that it were well to study them. Our best minds should be put at work to forecast whether or not they will accomplish their purpose. As may be expected, few of them will bear the test of close scrutiny.

"Take Amendment No. 2, for a case, which will appear on the ballot in that order this fall—the one proposing to ease the load on property by limiting the tax to $15 a thousand. This is half what property is paying now. That listens awful good to the man who is struggling to keep a roof over his head, until he looks into it a little, then he finds that the outstanding result will inevitably be that the primary school money distribution will thereby be cut in half. This looks very much like a very dark-skinned Ethiopian in the fuel supply, and one wonders how much the Michigan Farmer is being underwritten by the big utilities to pull their chests out of the fire, where they have been sizzling since Pingree's heroic time. Somebody ought to write Senator Capper, away out in Kansas, who now owns the Farmer, and tell him what is going on. The Senator is a good scout, and we don't believe he would consent to lending the paper to such vicious propaganda.

"Stop and think a little what is going to happen under this amendment. First, no taxes on property above $15 a thousand. The state and county might get all of that—who knows? That would leave a goose-egg for the school districts. And then, at the same time, the primary money is cut in half. What a fine pickle for those who want to continue to educate their children on a high order of schooling! How much better off will the homeowner be, if he does cut his property tax in half, if at the same time his children are robbed of their heritage?"

"The voter had better look into this between now and November 8."

WELSH JOINS HUDSON

In last week's issue of the Plymouth Mail regret was expressed over the fact that former Congressman Grant Hudson had seen fit to write his own political obituary. Twice defeated in primary contests for the Republican nomination for the congressional place he held for a score of years, he has become a "sticker" candidate against his successful opponent. Now comes George Welsh, defeated for the Republican nomination for governor, with an open repudiation of the entire Republican state ticket. The action taken by Mr. Welsh could possibly be accepted with better grace if he had not sought a place on the ticket he now repudiates. It is the perfect right of a citizen to vote as he sees fit—but one so long identified with the Republican party as Mr. Welsh, one who has time and again been honored by it and who but recently asked that he be made its leader in the state, is in entirely a different position. There are thousands, like Mr. Welsh, who may not agree with all that his party has done in Michigan, but needless to say that does not provide a justified reason to bolt a part of the ticket. Mr. Welsh as lieutenant governor was a good public official. As city manager of Grand Rapids he made an outstanding record for himself. It is to be regretted that he has seen fit to bolt his own ticket—he knows, like every one else knows, that time will remedy any unsatisfactory condition that may exist and if he had not taken the action he did last week, he could have been a powerful force in bringing about the reformations he believes necessary. Many good men have time and again been defeated in politics. Abraham Lincoln up to the time of his election to the presidency, had suffered more political defeats than almost any other American. Friends of Mr. Welsh regret his action. He has taken himself out of Michigan politics.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

Tuesday is election day. Doubtless it will be one of the most important in the history of the United States. Every issue of the campaign has a direct bearing upon the future prosperity and welfare of every voter. It is because of this that thousands never before greatly interested in politics have this year taken a keen interest in the discussion of public questions.

We doubt if many votes will be changed between now and Tuesday. Party leaders have sought in the final issue of newspapers to emphasize the necessity of getting out to vote and in placing before the public in as prominent a way as possible their candidates and their qualifications for office. This is as it should be.

Whether you vote for the Republican ticket or the Democratic ticket is not quite so important as the fact that you VOTE. That is the one way open for you to help select the men to run the affairs of the nation and to express your ideas as to the policies you think best for the good of the nation.

Republicans! Vote!!
 Democrats! Vote!!
 It is your duty to register your opinion in the nation's greatest election on Tuesday.

If you DO NOT VOTE you have not the slightest right to condemn or criticize.

Join the great army of American patriotic citizens Tuesday and do the thing you think best for the future of your country and yourself.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

BUSINESS IMPROVES

The opinions held by leaders in industry concerning the business outlook in the United States are not received with the same confidence that was accorded these prophets some years ago.

It is interesting, however, to report that 100 executives of representative industries have expressed the almost unanimous opinion that there has been an improvement.

The New York banking house of Lehman Brothers obtained opinions in all basic lines of activity including automobiles, amusement, chemical, electrical equipment, food products, beverages, manufacturing, merchandising, metals and mining, oil, public utilities, railroads, shipping and tobacco.

Of those who replied, 42 per cent saw a definite and 35 percent a slight or promising upward trend in business. Only 13 percent saw no change for the better, while 10 percent expressed the opinion that the favorable swing was seasonal.

Asked to give a definite opinion whether "the low point of business depression has been passed?" 95 per cent of the replies were "Yes."
 —H. G. Jeffries in The Lowell Ledger.

HEAR—SOON BE OVER

Never before has the reading public been subjected to so much political baloney and reading never have they, it seems, become so thoroughly tired of our subject. Well there is relief in sight. It comes Nov. 8th and then, regardless who wins, we'll give our time to pulling together like a mighty team and doing our bit—together—for ourselves and our future.
 —Senator Chester Howell in The Chesaning Argus.

AN OPEN MIND

In the coming election of November 8th, we have one hope, and that is that every one who comes within reach of this editorial, will weigh the issues of the campaign thoroughly. We do not ask you to vote republican, democratic, socialist or what not. What we do ask, is that you give the different sides your careful consideration, listen to what they have to say, and then carefully and prayerfully vote as you honestly think is best for our country.

The Independent wants to pay respects to one of the outstanding democrats of this vicinity. He was in the office the other day and in his conversation he made the assertion that he figured Detroit would give Constock a large vote. He added that if Detroit wags Constock, the rest of the state does not want him. He vouchsafed further that he was going to vote for Brucker. This gentleman has been a conscientious democrat all his life. He has held office on the democratic ticket. He is using his influence, he does not vote from habit but from a conscientious obligation. If we were to all follow our sober reasoning as does this man, not only would our elections all be safe, but there would be little advantage in ennobling the ballots with a lot of fool amendments.—Frank Byrce in The Grand Lodge Independent.

HULLABALOO

That Roosevelt isn't everything that he claims to be at times is very apparent.
 If you will remember his recent speech in Missouri was directed at those who had been unfortunate in their investments. He said the governments should prevent the sale of unsound foreign bonds. He implied that the government in the future should try to guard the money investors against losing their money in unsound ventures.

The Republicans have an effective reply to this and it is a wonder that more has not been said on the subject. The market for practically all the securities of which Mr. Roosevelt talked about is in New York. The regulation of the sale of these securities and the correction of the abuses growing out of such sale, is purely a function by the state government.

There is no record of Roosevelt as Governor of New York, having lifted a finger to regulate the New York stock exchange and other security markets. If people would just stop and think, they would recognize this as another brand of Roosevelt's hullabaloo.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

WORK

Twenty years of "easy money," twenty years of steady jobs and high wages, twenty years of "get as much as you can and give as little in return as you can" just naturally had to lead somewhere. That somewhere is the depression we have been in for the past two or three years.

Years of easy jobs, easy money, easy come, easy go, have resulted in a large number of people believing that all of the ills and troubles of today are directly due to the policies of the government and that "politics" has the power to bring back the easy money and easy jobs of the past.

Maybe the reduction of government expenses will help materially—but many people have got to make up their minds that there is going to be no more "easy money," that there are going to be no more "snap jobs" and we will have to do real work for what we get.

"I used to get 70 cents an hour and I am not going to go back to work for any one until I can get 70 cents an hour again," declared a shop worker a while back when offered temporary work at a less sum—a job that had been created for the one purpose of giving some one a little work.

The city of it is that the man who will work, the man who will do something towards producing in these times, will be forced to aid in the support of this individual's family.

When the public finds out that the public welfare is being over-worked, that there are many men who can do a little something to help themselves but refuse to do their bit, then and then only will a large number go back to work and do the many little things that will assist in their self-support.

TO DISCOURAGE BANDITRY

Instead of accepting what seemed the inevitable and relying wholly upon insurance to make good their growing losses by robbery, as has been done to a great extent in the past, the members of the American Bankers' Association have declared a vigorous and relentless war upon bank bandits. Having a membership of 16,000, or 70 per cent of those engaged in the business in this country, the association is strong enough to put up a sturdy and systematic resistance to bank robbers, and it can confidently count upon the co-operation of many nonmembers.

If the present plans are carried out bank banditry soon will become a hazardous and unprofitable game. A few years ago Texas bankers offered a large cash reward for the dead body of any robber who sought to loot a bank in that State or succeeded in doing so. But, like other desperate remedies, this failed of its object, and so the bankers fell back upon insurance to cover possible losses. Because of the general prevalence of crime of this sort insurance companies would have suffered had they not raised their rates, which they proceeded to do in those States where acts of banditry were most frequent. Of course the depositors paid for the rise, either in reduced interest or other ways.

Now the Bankers' Association pledges itself to "celerity of apprehension, certainty of prosecution and finality of punishment wherever possible" in its dealings with these robbers. This sounds like business, and is only fair to society, which mere reliance upon insurance is not.

HOW SIMPLE

Always when we read or hear a discussion of crime and of ways to end the crime wave of the country, we think how meaningless are the arguments and how little good they do. And always we think of an exceedingly simple and easy way to deal crooks such a crushing blow that their racket and rackets would end almost immediately.

For years and years we have advocated it—but do you suppose you can ever get action from the proper sources? No, it is seemingly impossible.

Of course you know that in the commission of every serious crime, the kind of crimes that result in bloodshed and death, that it is absolutely essential that the criminal use some sort of a firearm.

He is a miserable coward and runs like a whipped cur if not armed.

Again we suggest, again we urge the enactment of a law making it mandatory for judges to send to prison for life every person carrying or possessing unregistered firearms. You may rest assured that such a statute would do more to clean up crime conditions than any one other thing in the world—but you can feel certain that no such legislation against the crooks of the nation will be taken.

LIVING IN A GLASS HOUSE

Governor Roosevelt is throwing stones from behind a plate glass window when he charges the Hoover administration with extravagance as he did in his speech at Pittsburgh.

Roosevelt has been a lavish spender. The state expenses of New York under his administration have increased about ninety-five million dollars since he became governor and he will leave behind him a state deficit of more than one hundred million dollars. Here in brief is the Roosevelt record:

1928 (Under Smith)	$232,034,701.10
1929	264,834,110.39
1930	315,920,942.29
1931	328,140,894.91

The industrial depression hit the east in 1928 but Governor Roosevelt seemed to take no notice of it; conditions grew worse in 1929 but still the costs of his administration soared; 1930 was critical but New York's state expenses were fifty million dollars more than the year before; almost every unit of government in the United States had begun retrenchment by 1931 but in Roosevelt's New York expenditures increased twelve million dollars!

Is the above a very creditable record for a candidate to present who has the remedy to go about the country preaching economy? It certainly is not a record that inspires much confidence in Mr. Roosevelt's ability to carry out his promises.—Wm. Cook in The Hastings Banner.

"THEY COULDN'T BE WORSE:" PIFFLE

Look at your next dollar bill, and just reflect on the fact that it is the only dollar in the world that's worth 100 cents—anywhere in the world.—Joe Hass in The Holly Herald.

The Amendments

VOTE OF "NO" IS SAFE

Voters of Michigan will be called upon to decide the fate of eight proposed amendments to the state constitution and proposal to change the present restrictions concerning the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine. The Banner has already discussed these measures in some detail and have arranged a brief synopsis in this issue. We might add, however, that in our opinion voters would be about 95 per cent correct to vote "No" on every issue.—The Hastings Banner.

VOTE NO!

Don't be a fool on election day and vote yes on the third amendment on the ballot that will be given you. If you do that you just deprive northern Michigan of its representation in the state legislature and gives a couple of cities in lower Michigan control and then where would your part of our state be as regards further consideration? The real safe of all matters vote NO on every one of those amendments and then you will have nothing to be sorry for thereafter. Our only consideration in asking you to do this is for the betterment of our part of the state. We believe you are as much interested in that matter as we are, at least you should be.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

VOTERS ARE INTERESTED

There has never been a time in the history of the state when voters have so concerned themselves with constitutional amendments. With eight propositions on the amendment ballot this year it was feared that voters would be bewildered to the extent that they would not even attempt to make a study of the proposals. In some sections of the state such may be the case but in Ingham county the voters are making an honest attempt to understand the legal phraseology of the proposals.

Many of the schools of the county have been studying the proposals. The Mason high school classes have thoroughly discussed them as a part of class work. Farmers clubs, organizations of every kind and individuals have made requests for instruction bulletins and have sought advice on what the proposals actually mean.

Eight proposals are at least four too many to place before voters. But under our system of government we will probably continue to have lengthy amendment ballots. Already petitions for the next election are being circulated. The only solution is for voters throughout the state to study the proposals as have the voters of Ingham county.—Vern Brown in The Ingham County News.

GREAT GIP GAME

About the easiest money grabbing scheme we know of these days is to concoct some kind of a law amending idea and then solicit membership. At least quite a number of Durand folks have contributed to such ideas the last few months. How much per seems to depend upon who is doing the soliciting. One of the wild-cat ideas has been solicited by three different persons, the last two being within a couple of weeks of each other. The first solicitor asked for membership at one dollar; the second one asked two dollars, but accepted a dollar when jewel came; the third one made it fifty cents a throw. There is nothing original in the schemes offered, or a copy-right thereto. Doubtful too, if any law is being violated. The only promise is that they are organizing to get the law changed so that a person can secure a permanent dog catcher's license—or something.—Hurry Izor in The Durand Express.

Simplicity, quality, comfort, serviceability and suitability should be the keynote around which the wardrobe is planned. It is well to remember that it is better to be modestly dressed than to be conspicuous through overdressing.

John W. Reid Has A Worthy Record

FOR STATE SENATOR

JOHN W. REID

When you receive your ballot next Tuesday to exercise the franchise guaranteed to you by war-martyred forefathers, the integrity and character of the candidates you elect to their respective offices of trust and honor should be equal to that of the forefathers who made possible this representative form of government for the people and by the people, if this your government is to thrive. Anything less will jeopardize to a like degree, the government, your moral freedom, and the liberty of your posterity.

As never before, when afflicted inter-party bickering are clouding the true needs of a depression-burdened country and world; when the crisis of the depression is at hand and must be solved immediately and successfully; when failure will prolong untold hardship and hunger, you as voters and joint owners of your government, are faced with the problem of electing a candidate for each office who has character, foresight, integrity and ability to meet and master the problems of a vicious economic condition. Campaign promises are nothing more than working standards which may be limited, varied or eliminated by changing circumstances, even if the promises were made sincerely. Then the acute desire of having honorable and capable officials to exercise a sound discretion and effective ability becomes manifest and eminent.

To the end that even this emergency may be provided for, and in an effort to simplify and stabilize the voters' selection of officials possessing this necessary caliber, people of sound integrity in the local communities have chosen to endorse John W. Reid for State Senator of the eighteenth district, as an individual personally known to them to have character, integrity, ability and experience requisite for that position of trust and honor.

Hon. Claude H. Stevens, the retiring Senator, has endorsed him with these words: "John W. Reid, candidate for the State Senate, should receive the active support of every elector of the 18th District, who is desirous of his district being represented by a man of character and ability." Commissioner Ruth H. Huston Whipple of Plymouth has endorsed him as follows:

"It is with pleasure that I introduce John W. Reid to the women voters of Plymouth, and endorse him for State Senator from our district. He is exceptionally well qualified in character, education, training and experience for the position of State Senator." Added to the endorsements of these two conscientious citizens who have chosen to make comments, is the following list of men and organizations, equally and vitally interested in good government who endorse John W. Reid in an effort to indicate the proper successor to Hon. Claude H. Stevens:

"Civic Search Light," "Preferred Rating" (Branch of Detroit Citizens League); Safety and Traffic committee of the Automobile Club of Michigan; Postmaster Bert Giles, Dr. Luther Peck, Perry W. Richards, Attorney, Wm. T. Pettigall, Harry C. Robinson, Harmon A. Smith, F. R. Loomis, L. R. Markland, J. C. Shields, C. E. Girthis, Elton R. Eaton.

John W. Reid has served the taxpayers of this county for thirty-two years with a fidelity and ability that has earned for him the esteem of those he served and his associates. He was former Grade Separation Engineer, City Engineer, Commissioner of Public Works, City of Detroit; served twelve years as a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, six years as chairman of its committee on Roads and Bridges; member, American Society of Civil Engineers, Detroit and Michigan Engineering Societies; member and past president, American Society of Municipal Engineers; vice-chairman of the Safety and Traffic committee of the Automobile Club of Michigan. His service to the taxpayers is conspicuous for being unmarred by any political side-stepping, graft, logrolling or improper conduct.

The endorsements of the above well known citizens of this community and others is testimony of the esteem in which this man and his ability is held. To you who desire better government this information is undoubtedly welcome as it will enable you to make a knowing selection and wisely elect John W. Reid, a man of integrity and ability for Senator of the 18th District, a position of trust and honor. AS AN OPPOSITE HIS NAME WILL ASSIST YOUR VOTE FOR HIM.

Dr. Fisher Out To Win Re-election

Dr. Edward Fisher, of Dearborn, candidate for re-election to the state legislature from this district, was a visitor in Plymouth Saturday, consulting with a number of his strong supporters in this locality. Dr. Fisher has been a member of the legislature from this district for two terms and is now seeking his third term. He followed Lawrence Johnson of this place in Lansing.

Dr. Fisher is a native son of the Fifth district, having spent his entire life in the vicinity of Belleville, Wayne and Dearborn. Older Plymouth ball players will remember him as one of the players that used to come to Plymouth to do battle with the local team in the other days.

Made-over children's clothes are usually more successful if the material chosen is not too old in weave, color or figure. A little boy's suit will be more suitable if made from his father's light suit than a dark one, and the little girl will look better in bright colors than in brown or grey made from mother's last year's dress. Adding contrasting bright colors in trimming or re-dyeing often makes it possible to use dull colored materials for children's clothes.

Dozen Bids For New P. O. Site

Because of the large amount of ground space required, a number of various pieces are being offered as one parcel. Postmaster Gilles states that several other inquiries have been received by him pertaining to the subject and it is possible that a number of additional bids will be made within the next few days. The appropriation for the Plymouth postoffice and site is $85,000.

The treasury department has requested the Mail to publish the following data pertaining to the selection of a site which might be of aid to those contemplating offering a bid or donation of a site: The offers are opened in Washington at the time stated in the advertisement now running in The Plymouth Mail and as soon thereafter as practicable an agent of the department is sent to make a personal examination of the proposed locations and such others as he deems desirable, and to investigate the reasonableness of the prices placed on the properties as compared with recent sales of real estate in that vicinity.

It should be noted that the department is not provided with a regular force of site agents, but in the investigation of sites is obliged to depend upon those of its employees who have had experience in such work. These representatives are sent to inspect sites as soon as practicable, having due regard to the performance of their ordinary official duties.

Based on the agent's report, to gether with written representations from other sources, the department selects the site and, if the property is to be acquired by purchase, accepts the offer of the successful bidder, subject to the conditions hereinafter stated and the Attorney General's approval of the title. No intermediary between the landowner and the Government is necessary. While it is advantageous to all concerned to have proposals submitted at the date fixed in the advertisement, in those cases where it is impracticable to submit an offer then, related proposals will have due consideration if received before the department makes its selection.

Whenever the department is unable to secure from the owner a proposal to sell the site desired (or any part thereof) for a reasonable price, a resort may be had to condemnation proceedings to ascertain the valuation of the property. If the price so judicially determined is satisfactory, the award is confirmed and payment made. If the damages are deemed excessive, however, the proceedings are dismissed and some other location is taken under consideration.

Where an acceptable title to the site selected (or any part thereof) can not be secured by voluntary conveyance, an agreement may be reached with the owners as to the price to be paid and the title condemned under a consent verdict fixing the award at the agreed valuation. When condemnation is necessitated by the condition of the title, it is customary for the owner to pay the costs thereof, besides furnishing the usual surface surveys and the abstracts, evidences of title, etc., required by the Attorney General.

The buildings (if any) on the site should be removed upon 60 days' notice (usually) after payment for the land has been made. Generally, notice to clear the site is not given until the consideration of the Federal building is about to begin, if the vendor is willing, pending such removal, to pay a reasonable ground rent, the rate for which can not be made a part of the consideration for the site, but will be agreed upon after the land becomes the property of the Government. A small bond is usually required in this connection. "Clearing the site" includes the removal therefrom of all buildings, foundations, or other improvements (except retaining walls and walls supporting sidewalks) and all tracks, poles, and wires (overhead or underground); the abandonment of all gas, water, and heating pipes, ducts, etc., conduits, ditches, and sewers crossing the site, together with the satisfactory plugging of the end thereof at the lot lines (unless the requirement for the discontinuance of any such pipes, ducts, conduits, or sewers is expressly waived by the department); the safely covering over, or raising off, of any open wells, cisterns, excavations, etc., on such site, and the taking away of all debris resulting from such removal, and the leaving of the land clean; all without expense to the United States and to the satisfaction of the custodian of the site to be hereafter appointed.

There is usually a large volume of site business before the department, and while such work receives unrelenting attention until finished, it is not always practicable to dispose of a particular case as speedily as desired by the parties interested. Bidders are at liberty in case of failure of the department to make a selection within a reasonable time to withdraw their proposals, but will be expected by the department to give notice of such intention.

When the department has selected a site, such action is final unless the vendor fails to perform the conditions of the contract with him or (in case of condemnations) the property can not be acquired at a price the department would feel justified in paying. When once the title to a site is vested in the United States, a new act of Congress would be necessary to enable the department to change to some other location.

Plans for public buildings are taken up in the order in which the title to the sites therefor are vested in the United States, and the contracts for their construction are let at as early a date as practicable. No special form of proposal is required or provided, but the offer (and any accompanying documents) must be typewritten (on letter-size paper), addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, in care of the Supervising Architect, and should indicate definitely the location and dimensions of the property and the price at which it is offered. The proposal must be accompanied by a diagram, or plan, on a sheet (of tracing linen, if possible) 8 by 10 1/2 inches, on which the following data must be clearly indicated, viz:

1. The city, county, and State, and name of the owner of the site.
2. An outline map of the land offered, showing accurately its shape, grades, and the dimensions in feet and inches of each side, counting only clear building space, exclusive of all sidewalks or any other decrease. If the lands occupied are not owned by the city, the fact must be stated. Also, proponents should be careful in stating the dimensions of their properties. The later discovery of a material shortage might be deemed sufficient cause for annulling an acceptance of a site, or for requiring a proportionate deduction from the price (therefor to offset such shortage in area).

3. The names and widths (from lot line to lot line) of adjacent streets, including widths of sidewalks, and widths of roadways between curbs, and whether or not paved and the character of the paving.

4. The widths and locations of adjacent alleys, and whether public or private, paved or unpaved, and open or to be officially opened.

5. The approximate locations (in adjacent streets or alleys) of gas, water, and heating mains (noting the kind of gas and heat); conduits or overhead wires or cables; sewers, with their depths below street levels and their diameters, and whether sanitary or storm-water sewers, or both, and if public or private.

6. If no sewers are in adjacent streets, a statement from the city engineer must be secured and attached to the plat showing the distance from the property offered to the nearest sewer with which connection could be made and the fall obtainable; also, the diameter of such sewer, its depth below street level, and whether sanitary or storm-water sewer, or both, and if public or private.

7. Describe any proposed improvements or facilities (such as sewers, gas, water, or electric service) adjacent to the proposed site, and state probable date of installation.

8. The plat must have indicated thereon the approximate location of any right of way, sewer, ditch, conduit, gas, steam, or water pipes, tracks, poles, cables, or wires which may be upon, under or over the property, pursuant to any easement or permit, and whether their right to be there is subject to termination.

9. The plat must show with reasonable accuracy the "north point" of the compass and in station lines the locations of the buildings (if any) on the site.

10. If it is claimed that the nearest corner of the site offered is within 80 rods of the point where the mail is actually taken from the trains at the railroad station handling the bulk of the mail, the proposal must state the actual measured distance over the route usually traveled by wagons. (When the city is the terminus of such railroad, this paragraph should be ignored.)

11. If there is any body of water, or water course, adjacent to the site, the proposal must state the normal, minimum, and maximum levels of the water. If the site is exposed to freshets, state the essential facts as to conditions to be expected as shown by past experience.

12. The proposal and plat, and any accompanying papers, must be securely fastened together.

13. Bidders should indicate whether they bid as owners or agents.

14. When two or more parcels of adjacent lands are required to make a site of the required dimensions, the department prefers that the owners join in one proposal, indicating the portions of the total price to be paid for the respective interests. The plat should show the dividing lines between the several parcels offered.

15. When an owner of a part of the site desired refuses to offer his property at a reasonable price, the government would entertain a proposal from the owner of the remainder of such site, stating a price for the whole site and undertaking that, should it be found necessary to condemn the former property, he will accept for his land whatever balance of such stated price is left after the government pays into court the award for the condemned portion.

16. The proposal must describe any existing restrictions upon the use of any part of the property offered. If the property is subject to the reservation of mineral rights, that fact must be stated, and the plat made to show approximately the depth below the street level of the top, and the location and extent of any excavation or workings under the property, together with a statement of the character of the strata from the natural surface of the site down to such excavations or workings; also state whether mining operations are still going on in the immediate vicinity of the site.

17. No title papers need be submitted with proposals; but if the title to the property is in such condition that conveyance thereof can not be made by deed, the facts should be briefly stated.

18. The owner of the site finally selected by the department will be notified in writing of the acceptance of his proposal and will be required to furnish without additional cost to the United States all requisite abstracts, official certifications, deeds of conveyance, evidences of title, maps, etc., which may be necessary, in the opinion of the Attorney General, for the proper examination of the title to the property and to vest in the United States a good and valid title thereto, free and clear of all liens and incumbrances of every kind and character, including easements, leases, judgments, taxes, and assessments, accrued or inchoate, at the date of transfer of title to the United States, and must pay the cost of bringing the abstract of title down to the date of the recording of the deed or deeds to the United States, including the notation thereon of such recordation. The deed or deeds from the grantor to the United States, unless otherwise agreed upon, will be recorded at the expense of the Government. It is not necessary to discharge liens upon the property until the transfer of the title to the Government is about to be made.

19. The vendor must furnish with the title papers an accurate survey of the site, to be made by the city engineer (unless permission is specially given to employ some other qualified engineer or surveyor). This survey must be prepared in conformity with the attached "Specification for Vendor's Survey." The vendor must have said surveyor mark each bound of the land conveyed to the United States, as required by said specification.

20. An issue of the Plymouth Mail of March 4, 1904 was found a few days ago by Jesse Haake in the old Saunders place just east of the Wilcox mill, now a Ford factory.

The paper is in excellent state of preservation although 28 years of age.

It contained an announcement of the entry of Schrader Bros. into the furniture business in Plymouth as successors to Millsapugh Bros. Located over Rauch & Sons store Schrader Bros. urges the readers of the Mail to watch its columns for special bargains that would be offered every week.

Harry Robinson prominently advertised his livery, bus and drayage business as well as did Czar Penney.

Gayle Bros. advertised 20 percent off on decorated globe lamps. Outside of Schrader Bros., the E. L. Riggs was the next largest advertiser in the paper.

R. L. Holmes has returned to his home at Tecumseh after a ten day's stay in Plymouth.

CHINESE PLAY PRESENTED

After Roman and Carol Lee had played a violin and accordion duet, the Senior Drama Club presented before the senior high assembly a one act drama entitled "The Willow Plant." It was a Chinese play of more than one hundred years ago and it was presented in a truly Chinese fashion.

The cast included the following: Irene Humphries—Ching Loy Fah; Odette Hill—Mung Chu Po; Bill Tuck—Hsuan; Norval Boree—Grandfather; Margaret Buzzard—Grandmother; Dewar Taylor—Mandarin of the Sapphire Button; Jack Wilcox—Property manager; Tom and Jack Wilcox—Mandarin—Flower girls; Herbert Burley—Bookholder; Ernest Archer—Gong singer; David Mather—Flute player.

In the plot the dragon lover hindered the marriage of Ching Loy Fah and Mung Chu Po. After some struggling with the dragon Mung Chu Po killed him. Some time later the dragon was reborn and after much difficulty the young lovers married. They then lived as human beings for before this the young lover was only part of the Willow Plant.

PRACTICE DEBATE AT FERNDALE

Two interesting non-decision practice debates were held at Ferndale high school last Wednesday afternoon. Plymouth's affirmative side was the state income tax question by Irene Humphries, first speaker; Frieda Kilgore, second speaker; and Evelyn Rorabacher, third speaker. They were opposed by Ferndale's negative team composed of Bill Burch, first speaker; Fred Johnson, second speaker; and George Walker, third speaker.

At the same time another debate was waged in another room; this time Plymouth had for its representatives on the negative side of the state income tax question. Kenneth Greer, first speaker; Ruth Hadley, second speaker; and Odette Hill, third speaker. The affirmative team of Ferndale was represented by James Crowe, first speaker; Clare Whiting, second speaker; and Bob Ashman, third speaker.

Constructive speeches lasted eight minutes and rebuttal speeches, four minutes. Benah Sorenson and Odette Hill were the winners of the latter debate. The members of the team to Ferndale were: Ernest Archer, James Livingston, and Harry Fisher accompanied the team.

CLASS NOTES

After the study of colonial life was finished, the twelfth grade American history class under Miss Fical wrote old-fashioned letters imitating the letters of certain colonies and writing to friends or relatives in the old country. The letters included things about their homes, new friends, leaders, recreation and travel.

The biology classes under Mr. Bently have completed the study of seeds and leaves and are now taking up the study of roots. The different structures and the different types of roots. As soon as this is finished they are going to study stems, flowers, and fruits which are the last three of six points of a plant. The first three are leaf, seed, and root. When they finish these six points they will have studied the external and internal structure of plants.

The eight B general science classes under Mr. Bently have recently finished the study of air, its uses, what it means to us, and what it is. They are now studying water, how it does work for us and how small towns and cities secure their water supply.

The eighth A general science classes have been studying life habits of common animals and also food and its uses.

The mechanical drawing class under Miss Fry has finished all of the preliminary plates and are now studying from the text-book, the ways of handling tools.

PREPARATION FOR A VOCATION

Prepare To Do Some Specific Thing Pick out a good vocation and then prepare yourself for it. Some people just drift through life trying one thing after another, never quite deciding what they really want to be. If you choose one vocation and then work hard at it you will probably succeed in it. But if you keep changing your vocation it is unlikely you will succeed in any way. The following poem will illustrate this point.

Don't Decide on Your Vocation Too Late in Life Don't wait until it is too late to choose your vocation, because when you are older you have not the flight and energy you had when you were young, and you need vigor and energy to overcome the difficulties. But I do not mean to rush right into any vocation without thinking. This brings us to the next point.

Make a Thorough Investigation First choose work that you like, work that you will be happy doing, then find out if it does it. Is there good money in it? Does it offer any chance for advancement? You can find the answers to these questions by asking people who have chosen that as their life work. They will tell you the good and bad points. Also you can find out about your vocation by writing to colleges for bulletins.

Self Improvement Everyone can improve themselves by studying, learning about their vocation. If you do not go to college you can go to night school or take a correspondence course. The following quotation taken from the book "Character and Career," sums up all the points. "Have a definite aim, go straight for it, master all details, always know more about your work than you are expected to know, and remember that difficulties are made to be overcome."

DUAL DEBATE WITH ANN ARBOR HELD Ann Arbor High School and Plymouth High School were engaged in two lively practice debates last Tuesday afternoon in study 3 and room 30. In study 3, Irene Humphries, Frieda Kilgore, and Evelyn Rorabacher debated on the affirmative side against Charles Dolph, Edward Donny, and Edward Holland from Ann Arbor.

AN INTERESTING WINDOW BOX

While Miss Keos was on her vacation in California she gathered a number of kinds of ever which she has planted in a window box in her class room. The box consists of five different kinds of plants that she got from San Gabriel Mission; nine kinds of each; one from Brazil, one each from Arizona, Wyoming, and Texas. There are three century plants, dream plants, a small rubber tree, and a tiny orange tree. One cactus resembles one of our common rock plants known as hen and chickens. The box also contains one snake plant, and one cactus which resembles an old barren tree; this last seems to be growing very fast.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

While walking through his garden Sunday, Mr. Cobb noticed among his flowers, something unusual in plant life. His spirea bush that had bloomed early this spring was again in blossom. Every dog has his day, but like a man he wants most of the night.

PLYMOUTH—ATTENTION!

We expect you to be at Northville when we play there this afternoon. Observe the following. It is a reprint from the Orange and Black page of the Northville Record. "Beat Plymouth" Slogan of School

The Northville high school football team, completely recovered from their defeat at the hands of Tecumseh, is after a week of strenuous practice, intently bent on the Plymouth game which is played here next Friday afternoon. Handicapped somewhat by injuries, the team under Coach Ruggles, has been practicing new plays, rehearsing old ones and is eager for the game next week.

Central Grade School Notes Miss Wuester's kindergarten class held a Halloween party last Thursday bringing popcorn and apples from home for refreshments. They have made a large Jack-o-lantern. So far they have made an arm chair and a straight chair in their furniture making.

Science Club Entertained by Brimstone A talk on sulphur was given at the last meeting of the Junior High School Science Club by one of the members, Sulphur, a yellow powder, is the fourth of the elements to be demonstrated for the club. Such experiments as a sulfated fountain that seemed to defy all laws of gravity, making plastic sulphur, bleaching flowers in sulphur dioxide, making iron sulphide, zinc sulphide, and hydrogen sulphide, and bleaching potassium permanganate accompanied the talk.

New Girls' Choir Makes Appearance The girls' choir which has just recently been organized is making its first appearance in front of the Mass Meeting sponsored by the W. C. T. U. in the Methodist church tonight. The girls will sing "My Little Banjo," by Diamond and "Serenade" by Kjiwif. The high school trio will play two pieces.

Suggested College Course Students who plan to go to college should make definite preparation during their four years in high school. The following is a suggested program for college preparatory students: 9th Grade—English, Algebra, Civics, Latin. 10th Grade—English, Geometry, Ancient History, Latin. 11th Grade—English, Modern History, Chemistry, French. 12th Grade—English, United States History, Physics, French, Typewriting.

Social News In spite of the rainy week-end, parties were found in every part of the city almost every night of last week-end. One of them was at the home of Shirley Thatcher, Monday evening where a group of the junior high school students met for a Halloween in masquerade. Shirley and Mary Louise Holsworth acted as hostesses and delightful refreshments were served later in the evening. Doris Campbell was hostess at a Halloween in masquerade last Friday evening. Dancing and games served as entertainment to twenty-eight guests.

CROWDED HALLS

Lockers are slammed, are reopened, slammed again, boys and girls are seen hurrying here and there, pushing other hurrying figures out of their way in their haste to get to their destination, only to return again to join the wandering groups of students. Some of the younger boys, not yet accustomed to the art of pushing and shoving, stand along the walls in the hall with amused expressions just looking on, but taking up space nevertheless; others go forth and try their skill at pushing.

My dear students, this is wrong—all wrong! What is really needed is a system to do away with all this pushing and shoving in the morning, at noon, and between classes. Don't dash to the classroom and then come back out; instead, walk to them and stay there. There is no need to return to the halls and wait for the last bell to ring and then dash along, caring nothing for obstacles along the way. If everyone will please remember to walk to the left, it will eliminate all confusion of bumping into each other, and pushing others out of the way. Please cooperate in this respect and keep your friends free from bruises due to your carelessness.

Possibility for an Improvement When we, the students of Plymouth High School, see a way to improve, we are usually eager to do so, are we not? Judging by the amount of cheering at football games and at pep meetings, we are losing our school spirit. Actually losing or too lazy to show it. At recent football games when the team needed encouragement most, all they received was a few weak yells. Is this good school spirit? Do not wait until a touchdown to cheer the team. Cheer the team when it is not doing so well. Show the team we are still behind it. Do not let the cheer leaders do all the cheering, drown them out! Not only at football games are we losing our school spirit or getting lazy to show it, but when the band plays. We have a wonderful band this year and the band master and members of it are trying to keep it such. At the Ecorse football game the band did an exceptionally wonderful piece of work. But we did not appreciate it, or at least we did not show our appreciation. The next time the band plays let's applaud it! Cheer it! At the Ecorse game a small group of Plymouth girls on the Ecorse section made more noise cheering than did the entire Plymouth section. We have a lot to be proud of. Let's show it by turning out for the games, cheering the band when it plays, and turning out for activities to come.

Starkweather School News The first meeting of the Bunn Club was held last Friday in Miss Cavanaugh's room. Thirty-one received Bunn Club pins and the rest are working hard to get theirs. Mrs. Charles Boree was a visitor Tuesday afternoon. Mark Everett and Rosemary Hertz have finished their aprons to wear during their work period. Dorothy Carlson, Maxine Mithorn, Eva Wilson, and Betty Aylan have nearly finished. The children have started doing wood work. They are making furniture from orange crates for their play house. They have two chairs and a dayvenport made that are large enough for them to sit on.

Health Tips The same precaution against temperature changes taken in winter are not taken in summer. A diet rich in fruits, vegetables, and milk tends to maintain the alkalinity of all the tissues at the proper level. Statistics show that there are more than 1,125,000 strutters and stammerers in this country, and the number is increasing in proportion to the increase in population. Of this number there are four times as many male sufferers as females.

Plymouth's Grid Team Troupe Wayne Eleven

Eleven dry rocks started to play Wayne last Friday. Eleven mud baked rocks scored two touchdowns and one extra point. Four hundred wet spectators enjoyed the game thoroughly. Paragraph 2 is by James Williams. Written in English eleven. Although the Rocks are at the bottom of the Twin Valley League and Wayne was at the top, the Zebra eleven was outplayed by the Rocks eleven. The members of the Rocks team who have been out for injuries were all back Friday, and were fully aware that the team was out to win. Plymouth made their first touchdown after three minutes of play, after Plymouth had tried several dry runs. They then made their point by placement. Kick making the score seven to nothing. They made the last touchdown in the last part of the game by the only pass thrown by the Plymouth team during the whole game.

First Quarter Bannerman kicked to Moriz on the forty-yard line. Moriz returned the ball ten yards. On the next play he gained three yards through center. Steinhouer gained three yards also through center and then kicked on to the forty yard line. Champe gained five yards through center. Williams tried right end and gained four yards. Levandowski around left end gained three yards before being forced out. Williams gained three yards around right end. Pass Williams to Levandowski for seven yards. Champe to Blunk through center. Champe taking the ball on the next play gained four yards through center. Blunk trying center. Champe taking the ball gave it to Blunk to Levandowski who made a touchdown around left end. Williams kicked the extra point. Steinhouer kicked to Champe who returned the ball ten yards from the twenty yard line. Levandowski gained four yards through center. Levandowski again took the ball through center going four yards. Wayne's right tackle was off sides causing a first down for Plymouth. Time out for Plymouth with the ball on the forty-nine yard line. Champe gained four yards through center. Blunk lost ten yards after receiving the fumble. Williams kicked to the twenty-yard line to Pickard who returned the ball ten yards. Marz gained two yards through center. Carrio gained five yards around right end. Steinhouer gained five yards through center. Pickard gained five yards through center. Blunk lost ten yards after receiving the fumble. Williams kicked to the twenty-yard line to Pickard who returned the ball ten yards. Marz gained two yards through center. So while the blinding tear drops wet Her little shoes so old, I cry and think my darlings feet Are treading streets of gold. And so I lay them down again. But always turn to say, God bless the little feet That surely cannot stray. Mummy, Daddy and Billy. 5111p

VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET - Governor Brucker has produced all the way. This authentic proof of his ability to further help Wayne County is more reliable than the empty promises of Mr. Constock. A vote for Governor Brucker means a vote of thanks for Covert Relief. Covert relief for Wayne County Townships means a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars per year for the next six or seven years, or one-fifth of last year's entire tax levy. Governor Brucker gave Michigan its first real tax relief in its entire history. It was Governor Brucker who secured a three year moratorium for Wayne County taxpayers on their death taxes. Do not be misled by opponents who promise to remove the property tax and use in its stead the automobile and weight tax. Our entire state property tax amounted to less than one-half of the reduction we are now getting from the weight tax. Our state property tax will be reduced one-fifth this year. Read below the splendid showing of savings made in the various Townships as a result of Governor Brucker's warm interest and concern for the Township taxpayers of Wayne County.

Table with columns: State Tax, Covert, County, County at Large, Grand Totals, Savings. Rows include Bedford Twp, Livonia Twp, Dearborn Twp, Taylor Twp, Redtown Twp, Nankin Twp, Romulus Twp, Ecorse.

Other townships in parenthesis. Good judgment and Wayne County's best interests dictates a vote for Governor Brucker on November 8th, 1932.

EX-JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT ENDORSED FARRELL

Former Member of Supreme Court Bench Praises Candidacy of County Clerk

THOMAS F. FARRELL Clerk to the candidacy of County Clerk Thomas F. Farrell, who is running for re-election at the November election.

Judge William L. Carpenter, former Wayne County Circuit Court Judge, and a member of the State Supreme Court Bench, in a statement yesterday, added his endorsement to the candidacy of County Clerk Thomas F. Farrell, who is running for re-election at the November election. Judge Carpenter said, "Thomas Farrell entered my employ as an office boy when he was 15 years old in 1885, he worked for me several years, and we have been close friends since that time. Some 48 years, I therefore, have had ample opportunity to know him well. I know that he is thoroughly honest, efficient, and devoted to the discharge of his duties. He was elected as County Clerk in 1908, and has held office with the exception of two years until this time. He has been a very faithful and efficient public servant, and his tenure in office deserves highest commendation, and confidence. No whisper of scandal has ever tarnished his reputation. He has been wise in choice of assistants, and seen to it that each of them performed his duties faithfully, efficiently and courteously. I am very much concerned in Tom Farrell's campaign, because I believe he ought to be elected in the interests of efficient government. He is one office-holder who has honestly and courageously filled the duties of a responsible public position, and should not be replaced by a man who is not experienced or given any demonstration of his fitness for office." Judge William L. Carpenter is a well known figure in Detroit, and especially to members of the legal profession, because of his years on the bench. He was a judge of the Circuit Court from 1884 to 1902, and was appointed to the State Supreme Court as judge in 1902. He resigned from this position in 1908, and resumed his law practice in Detroit. Judge Carpenter has been a resident of Detroit for over 54 years.

W.C.T.U. Re-elects All Old Officers

There was an unusually large attendance of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, at the annual meeting held October 27 at the home of Mrs. Harry Mack on Mill street.

A beautiful devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Mack.

Reports of State and District Conventions given by Mesdames Vealey and Todd, were full of interest for those unable to attend the conventions and were listened to with great attention by all.

The district president, Mrs. Fawcett was present and gave a short talk.

Reports given by the president, secretary, treasurer, and the superintendents of Flower Mission and Press, showed that excellent work had been done during the year. Also officers were re-elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. E. C. Vealey; recording secretary, Mrs. Clement; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Starkweather; treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Lauffer.

A delicious potluck supper was served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

It is hoped that Mrs. George Dunfee, who has been under treatment at the Plymouth hospital, may have an early recovery. Mrs. Dunfee has been for many years a faithful member of the Plymouth Union and though unable for a long time to be present at the meetings, has always been deeply interested in the work of the W. C. T. U.

The next meeting of the Plymouth Union will be held, December 8th at the home of Mrs. Adolph Kehrl, Starkweather avenue.

The November meeting will be omitted and programs commemorative of both Thanksgiving and Christmas will be given at the December meeting. These programs will be in charge of Mrs. E. R. Duggott, and the Misses Cora and Nettie Polham.

Don't fail to hear Mrs. Dora B. Whitney of Benton Harbor, state president of Michigan W. C. T. U. who will speak tonight at the M. E. church. Mrs. Whitney is a fine speaker and no one should fail to hear her.

A short musical program will also be given. The time of meeting will be 7:30.

Spruce Trees From Northern Michigan Beautify Rosedale

How do you tell the age of trees? Up until Monday of this week the writer would have been obliged to cut the tree down to find out. Counting the rings in the stump was the only method she had ever heard about.

There is another, simpler and infinitely more desirable way to count up the years a tree has lived. First the spruce after knowledge should have information about how old a seedling is when it first puts out a set of branches. After that it is simple. Just add a year for every whorl of branches.

Take a white spruce, a lovely symmetrical tree, sturdy, graceful, beautiful. It is nine years old when the branches begin to arrive in "whorls" or sets, one above the other. For every year that the spruce has lived since then, there is a whorl of branches. The specimen in mind was just moved from somewhere around Little Traverse Bay close to the tip of the lower peninsula of Michigan. It was brought by truck to its new home on Plymouth road, just west of Merriam road, where with a number of beautiful companions it is taking root and preparing to adorn the landscape through months of winter as well as those of spring, summer and fall.

L. J. McLean told the story of this spruce. It was 21 whorls, and by adding this number to the original age which it required to graduate out of the seedling class into that of a full fledged tree, you arrive at the age of this lovely spruce.

L. J. McLean is superintending the purchase, removal and transplanting of nearly 177 such trees from the tip of the lower peninsula to Rosedale Gardens, at the behest of Henry Sheldon, president of the Sheldon Land Company.

It is Mr. Sheldon's idea that Rosedale Gardens shall become a community where the average man may live in peace and seclusion from the noise, confusion and clamor of an industrial city. It is not enough for him that the Gardens are located four miles from the city limits, and that there is the beauty and order of quiet fields and woods. There is the broad highway with its roaring freight of motor cars. Therefore, from Merriam road to Pembroke a distance of half a mile, he is having a living screen of firs and evergreens—trees brought from the north woods, some of them 40 years old, and having them planted at a distance of 125 feet from the highway.

When completed, this screen of grand trees will shield the dwellers in Rosedale Gardens more effectively than if he had a high brick wall built around his home plot. It will be a living, waving screen, green throughout the year, a sanctuary for birds in winter as well as in summer, a happy reminder of the land of Christmas trees that crosses Michigan's mittened hands between the great lakes of Michigan and Huron.

There are white pines, from 22 to 25 feet high, spruce, 18 to 20 feet high. There is the Austrian pine, the native white spruce and the larch. These are to be a part of the screen extending half a mile in length between Pembroke and Merriam roads. Entrance to the Gardens have been effectively landscaped with plantings that are beautiful the year around. Roses bloom from early spring until late fall. White and red dogwood bloom with spring and flout their scarlet berries in fall. There is the purple leaf plum and the dwarf crabapple, dwarf pines, blue spruce, Douglas fir, with its soft bark and soft twigs.

It is in addition to these permanent plantings which have been in existence for two or three years, that the screen of living trees brought a distance of 325 miles from the north woods is being constructed. Some of these trees weigh from one and a half to four tons each. Two of them occupied a big truck on the journey to Rosedale Gardens. The work began in August, and is expected to be completed in December.

Evergreens, Mr. McLean stated, may be transplanted at any time, but the deciduous trees, American elm and silver maple are to be transplanted after all leaves are fallen away and the tree is dormant for winter. Then a number of those will be added to the tree screen.

Together there are more than 1500 ornamental trees in Rosedale Gardens. Interesting to many are the double flowering cherry trees from Japan and from China, the same species made famous by the row along the Potomac in Washington, D. C. English hawthorne and roses are a charming addition to the effect of borders along the drives intersecting the Gardens.

What a tree subsists on is another question of interest to gardeners and home owners. Tons of peat moss have been purchased to place in the beds of the transplanted trees, and to cover the roots with their first new blanket after taking root in the new home. This peat moss, it is said, comes from the 25 foot deep beds in Oakland county, and is 6,000 years old. That's what a tree lives on—entire also, specialized in dairy farming. The third is the production of building material, mostly sand and gravel.

DONDERO TELLS OF HIS PLANS

The district has, in addition, suffered from the recent upset in credit with much distress to its banking institutions. During the period of "frozen assets" which forced banks to discontinue their services either temporarily or permanently, all the banks of Royal Oak suspended; all but the leading one of Pontiac were closed; both the banks of Northville went into receivership and some minor institutions either closed or had to have help. Reorganizations of the situation have left the banking and credit control of Pontiac and Royal Oak in the hands of outside bank stockholders, corporations, rather than in that of local capitalists and stockholders, which had been their historic organization.

These conditions have brought problems of national solution which in a large extent, furnish the specifications for the type of congress man which the district should select. If it expects its representative to have any important influence in congress, rather than that any man of the half-fellow, well-meaning type who is given the honor just because he is popular with his fellows.

For instance, the Seventeenth district is interested in the protective tariff, as it affects the entrance of foreign-made automobiles into this country in competition with American-made motor cars; in the tariff on rubber, as affecting a large rubber manufacturing plant at Pontiac; in the tariff on foreign gums and varnishes, as affecting the paint and varnish industry in Pontiac and Detroit; in the tariff on foreign toys, as affecting the toy-gun industry of Plymouth.

The district is interested in the tariff on sand and gravel, because Canadian materials may compete with them in the Michigan market, and affect the profits of the gravel hills of Oakland county.

The district is interested in the steel business, and the alkali and heavy chemical trades, by reason of the fact that it includes the Twenty-second ward of Detroit, whose residents earn their livings in the diversified Detroit industries. From its agricultural side it is interested in the dairy and fruit business. These are old and standard issues.

The newer issues which have grown out of depression and reconstruction affect the district as well. Its municipal governments are suffering from the results of unpaid tax income. As a consequence much a diet of leaf mold and rotted leaves which has been aging for six thousand years to meet the trees' needs.

public debt is impaired. The reconstruction programs involve some relief on these scores, but not all will be accomplished by March 1, 1933, and there will undoubtedly be new legislation on this subject for the ensuing Congress. Likewise the experiment of the Glass Act for increased circulation may need some amendment. The railroads and the banks will present some issues. While these are considered general and academic by the thoughtless, they actually affect the Seventeenth Michigan District equally with every other and its representative must be alert and competent in their discussion.

These necessities of Congressional representation are enumerated that the industrial interests of the district which means both employes and employers, may consider the quality of representative chosen. The Democrats don't appear to have a great chance of success in the district, but these are times of change. The choice would naturally devolve upon the Republican, but change may affect them. While prohibition reconsideration is colloquially held out as the main issue, the attitudes of the two parties thereupon seem to be in a deadlock. The Eighteenth Amendment will get a going over, whoever wins. When I go to Congress, I shall reflect on this subject exactly what my district shows to be its view, and thereby be truly representative of its sentiment, whatever its majority may determine that to be.

This enumeration of the interests of the district should indicate what I stand for. I am for protection of all the industries, following President Hoover's speech recently at Des Moines. The world is arrayed against us now, in the making of cheap products. We must protect our home market against them. This declaration not only affects manufactured goods but farm products as well.

I am for an orderly settlement of the Soldiers' bonus, not in a way that will upset our financial condition or unbalance our budget, but in some fair way, so far unsettled, that will put our veterans on their feet.

I am for such continued and further extension of public credit as will restore the buying power of the nation, by reorganizing the building industry and making a new market for labor and materials.

I am for the largest possible application, use and extension of the Federal Home Loan Act, to provide longer periods for paying off mortgage indebtedness, so that those now burdened with periodical payments that are too great may wipe out their debts gradually and easily.

I am for the reference of the much mooted question of prohibition to the people, on the Republican platform plan of protecting such states as do wish to continue prohibition from interference from the states which declare for it.

I am for the continuance in power of the Republican party. That's a whole story in itself.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
Old time Gospel meetings in charge of the young evangelists, Joe and Helen (Kline) Floeck, are being conducted every Sunday Tuesday and Thursday evening at 7:45 p. m. with Sunday school at 10:00 a. m.

I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. The world has no joys to offer that are pure and lasting; only true pleasures in Christ abound.
We make these statements without reservation, and challenge rich and poor, the wretch smitten in unhappy shame, alike with the morally self-righteous and worldly-wise, to disprove them successfully.
Our present motto is: "Teach me how to watch and pray, and to read my Bible."

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN

Regular English services are to be held next Sunday; the German service will be omitted due to the fact that the pastor is compelled to spend more time with the Sunday school preparatory to the Christmas season.

Sunday school will begin every Sunday at 9:30. Parts have already been given out to some of the classes for the Christmas Eve celebration. Send your child to Sunday school on time; our enrollment is 110 at present with a promise of more coming. Do not hesitate to send your children to our Sunday school. Your present financial condition has nothing to do with the welcome which they shall receive indiscriminately. We do not want your purse, we want your and your children's immortal souls.

If you fail to include attendance at church in your plans for Thanksgiving, you are certainly not to be considered a true Christian who is ardently concerned about rendering thanks to His Lord for all the gifts and benefits bestowed upon you in the past year. How DARE you sit down to your table day in and day out, and especially on Thanksgiving Day, also in this precarious time, with the guilty conscience of not having shown your gratitude to your Maker and Redeemer? A Thanksgiving service in the English language has been arranged early enough, so that even the housewife may attend. The service will begin at 10 a. m.

The first in a series of southeastern Michigan Circuit Meetings of the vestries of the several churches at St. Peter's church at Plymouth on the 33th of November at 2:30 p. m. Our entire congregation is invited to attend this organization meeting. Purpose of these conventions is to stimulate better relationships and co-operation between the various churches. Laymen have raised voices of protest against the attitude of the church concerning the lack of information recorded them in the operation and condition of the synodical affairs and treasury during the past. The intention was ever there to put as much information into the hands of the laity as they would have; but perhaps the methods of a former day were inadequate. The proposed plan is designed to eliminate all future criticism on this score; thus it is up to every individual member of the church to attend these meetings faithfully.

The Adult class of Confirmation is to hold its first period of instruction on Wednesday, November 9th, at 3 p. m. Anyone desiring to learn the Lutheran faith and confirmation in the same, preparatory to admission to Holy Communion, is welcome to attend these lectures. The members of our congregation have received letters for current expenses of our congregation. Kindly supply your box with a coin a day and return it unopened at Christmas.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 30.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Isaiah 45:7): "I form the light, and create darkness; I make peace, and create evil. I the Lord do all these things." Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 260): "In Isaiah we read: 'I make peace, and create evil. I the Lord do all these things; but the prophet referred to divine law as stirring up the belief in evil to its utmost, when bringing it to its surface and reducing it to its common denominator, nothingness.'"

SALVATION ARMY

Special Revival Services are being conducted every night at the Salvation Army Hall in Plymouth. Capt. Everett has arranged for a special speaker for these services in the person of Sergt-Major A. Rowe from Alma, Michigan. Sergt-Major Rowe is a Salvationist of long standing, starting with the Army forty-eight years ago in Canada. Later coming to the U. S. he had charge of many Corps in the East, and Central States. Sergt-Major Rowe is now retired and living in Alma, Michigan. The services so far have been very interesting. The stories of Army warfare in the old days has been inspirational to all. Capt. Everett invites and urges all to attend. Services will be held every night until Nov. 6th, commencing at 8 p. m.

REV. PALMER HARTSOUGH

Rev. Palmer Hartsough was born in Bedford, Mich., May 17th, 1844. In 1856 the family came to Plymouth settling on the farm at the corner of South Main street and Golden Road. The farm has been subdivided and is now a part of the city of Plymouth, while the house is now the home of Mrs. Chas. M. Carmichael.

Here Mr. Hartsough grew to young manhood but the farm held little attraction for him. After spending some time in the Normal School at Ypsilanti, and at Kalamazoo College, where he made a reputation for himself in musical work, he started out conducting singing schools, institutions and conventions, holding concerts and festivals. His territory covering much of the lower peninsula of Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa and south to Tennessee and Kentucky. The programs were purchased by him writing the songs and composing the music. A glance through some of these impress us with the versatility of the writer as his poems, prepared his classes for their activity. During these years he became acquainted with George F. Rot, James MacGranahan, H. R. Palmer, Chas. H. Gabriel, P. P. Bliss, J. M. Gregory, and many others whose fellowships were greatly enjoyed. About 1878 he became acquainted with Mr. J. H. Fillmore of the Fillmore Bros. Music House of Cincinnati, Ohio, where he later became associated with the firm assisting in editing the "Musical Messenger" and books of Sunday school and church music. "The Children's Glee Book" published in 1880 with Mr. Fillmore as co-editor was his first publication. The following fifteen years were busy ones, his songs and hymns poured forth, while others composed the music; strange as it may seem to us the music would often be handed to Mr. Hartsough with the request that he write the words with a certain theme in mind; so carefully and prayerfully was this done that there was little correction to be made.

By full consent Mr. Fillmore secured the copyright on the songs and hymns so that they were published in their books and with few exceptions are now in the Baptist church hymnals. "I Am Resolved," written in 1898 was one of his best known hymns.

About 25 years ago he entered the ministry of the Baptist Church, 12 years being spent at Ontario, and Wisconsin. Upon his retirement in 1927 he returned to Plymouth and the home of his aged sisters. A Christmas pageant "The Dawn of Peace," published in 1928 for "school or large churches" was his last big effort. In a letter dated October 15, 1928 Mr. Fillmore says, "The Fillmores sang this on Sunday." The Dawn of Peace, we were unanimous in its praise. We said it is fine, great music and words of an easy serviceable pattern." In a short time after his Easter program, but we do not know whether it was ever published or not. Mr. Hartsough, was stricken August 24, 1929 and from the first was comparatively helpless and speechless, growing more and more feeble as the years passed until he could scarcely move, but he was most patient and ready to smile when his friends called or his attendants tried to make him comfortable. He died in the morning hours of October 24, 1932. Funeral services being held at the Baptist church October 26, at 2 p. m. Rev. Richard Neale, pastor, officiating assisted by Rev. Elmer Palmer pastor of the Baptist church of Farmington, Mich., and an associate in the Baptist work in Wisconsin, and Rev. P. Ray Norton pastor of the M. E. church, Plymouth. The quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Allenbaugh, Mrs. Richard Neale and Mr. Fletcher Campbell sang "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross," "I Am Resolved," and the "Glorious Song." He was laid to rest in the family lot in Riverside Cemetery.

We Shall Not Fail them!

Today we pay homage to those men who fought and bled upon a glorious battlefield. They were men of indomitable will and unswerving purpose and we can well cherish their memory. But let us not forget the idealism for which those men fought—they fought not to win a war but to win everlasting peace.

We must not break faith with them! In remembering and commemorating their stirring deeds let us dedicate ourselves to their ideal and pray that our youth and the youth of other nations shall never again meet upon a battlefield.
