NEW VIADUCT AND BRIDGE ON SIX MILE ROAD

County Begins Important Project Just North Of Plymouth

Workmen under the direction of the Wayne county road commission this week started construction of the grade separation at the six mile road crossing of the Pere Marquette tracks two miles north of Plymouth. The roadway will be relocated about 200 feet north of the present crossing and will swing across the range river in the west where a new viaduct over the Range river and the Rouge drive will be constructed during the present winter.

This project is one of the most important pieces of construction work in connection with the new parkway project and when completed it will provide another parkway direct from Detroit to the new Rouge park system, designed to be the finest in America when fully developed.

The relocated highway will turn to the northwest at the end of the present paving at Waterford. The new right-of-way having been secured a year or so ago.

It will carry all traffic on the six mile road within sight of the Ford dam between Waterford and Cass River and which lies just east of the Pere Marquette tracks.

Merle Bennett of Plymouth, who is in charge of the Wayne county park system, states that the grade separation and viaduct will doubtless be completed early in the spring. As soon as the hills are made and properly graded, a paving will be laid from the end of the present paving on the six mile road to the top of the hill just west of the place where the six mile road crosses the Range river. It is at this point where the new viaduct will be erected. The old bridge will eventually be moved.

Practically all of this work is being done at this time to provide work for the unemployed. County road officials as well as park officials hope to carry on just as much of the park development work this winter as funds will permit. No other work being carried on at present to the benefit of the unemployed, but it is saving the taxpayers a considerable sum of money as all labor and material costs much less than at any other time.

Korte's Jersey Herd Gets Highest Rating In All Wayne County

The herd of grade Jerseys belonging to F. J. Korte of Plymouth has been blood tested and accredited by the state as free from Bangs Disease or Contagious Abortion. While there are fifteen herds now in the county being tested this is the first one to pass.

The requirements for accreditation are rigid, and indicate that the entire herd must pass three clean blood tests at intervals of not less than six months nor more than one year. Not the slightest evidence of this disease has been indicated in Mr. Korte's herd through any of the tests.

The interest in this particular work is rapidly increasing because the herd owners are realizing the importance and value of herds of finally certified as free from Bangs disease. The possession of an accredited certificate will undoubtedly place the herd owner in a position to sell his milk without question as to Bangs disease, and he will be in a much better position to sell more cattle for better prices.

The blood test is of course in addition to the tuberculin test which now marks the herd as accredited as both free from tuberculosis and contagious abortion.

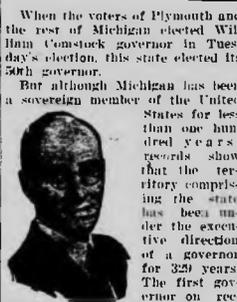

Woman's Club To See Painting Exhibit

The Woman's club will have an interesting meeting and tea November 18th, to which members and guests are invited. The speaker Daniel Rees has been engaged for this meeting presenting an exhibition of English paintings and etchings. At the last meeting, Mrs. J. C. Sessions became a new member of the club.

The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Robert D. Shaw, chairman, Mrs. Herald F. Hamill, Mrs. Robert H. Reek, Miss Nellie Riddle, Mrs. Martin S. Stricker, Mrs. L. E. Wilson, Mrs. William R. Shaw, Mrs. Edson O. Huston and Mrs. Robert Willoughby.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan and daughter, Eileen and Mr. and Mrs. James Riley and Marie spent Sunday in Detroit with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davey.

Governor-Elect Comstock Strictly A Michigan Product--The State Elects Chief Executive For The 50th Time

Wm. A. Comstock, Michigan's 50th Governor-Elect

When the voters of Plymouth and the rest of Michigan elected William Comstock governor in Tuesday's election, this state elected its 50th chief executive.

But although Michigan has been a sovereign member of the United States for less than one hundred years, records show that the territory comprising the state has been under the executive direction of a governor for 323 years.

The first governor of the territory was M. Chauvin, commander de Chastes and M. de Monts. His was a military control starting in 1603. He was the first of 27 French-Canadian governors whose regime lasted until 1700 when British-Canadian forces took control.

The British control of Michigan saw eight different men placed in charge of the territory, and during the end of the British regime Michigan also was declared to be under the Governor of the Northwest Territory. John Graves Simcoe, appointed in 1792 was the last British-appointed ruler. Archives show that General Arthur St. Clair as governor of the Northwest Territory took the reins of government from 1797 to 1800. In that year, Michigan became a part of the Indiana territory under General William Henry Harrison as governor.

Five years later Michigan became a separate territory and General William Hull took office as the first Michigan territorial governor on March 1, 1805. During the period to Nov. 3, 1835 eight govern-

Welfare Workers To Make House To House Canvass On November 19

At the last meeting of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee held Thursday evening, November 3rd, satisfactory progress was reported in connection with the work of securing and distributing clothing at the Starkweather School location. The public is reminded that volunteer workers appointed by the committee will be at this location every Monday and Thursday afternoon between the hours of 3 to 4:30 for the distribution of articles of wearing apparel.

The fact was disclosed, however, that the supply on hand of the following articles is decidedly inadequate and it is hoped that generous contributions of suits and overcoats, women's coats, underwear for children from 2 to 8 years of age, stockings for children from 2 to 6 years of age, and shoes in condition to be repaired for men, women and children. It is hoped that in as many cases as possible that the underwear and stockings offered will be new. The Ex-Servicemen's club, and the Myron H. Beal's Post of the American Legion were appealed to, and officials of both organizations responded promptly and generously with the assurance that men in uniform would be distributed to make a household appeal for the needed articles. The date set for this community-wide canvass is Saturday, November 19th. The exact hours will be announced in next Friday's issue of the Plymouth Mail.

The committee urges the public to begin to gather these articles together, and in the case of garments to see that they are clean when turned over.

It was also disclosed at this meeting of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee that Henry G. Oakes, division engineer of the state highway department, has informed secretary Moore that state highway employees connected with the Plymouth office would again contribute a substantial sum to the work of this committee. Last year their contributions totaled $287.40. The members of the committee wish to publicly thank these state highway employees for their generous cooperation in these troubled times.

PLYMOUTH WOMEN SUFFER INJURIES

Saturday was an unfortunate day for two of our Plymouth residents. Mrs. William Shaw is in the Plymouth hospital recovering from injuries sustained when hit by a motorist while crossing Main street at Dodge street. Mrs. Morton Moe is in the University hospital in Ann Arbor where she was taken after falling off the back porch of her home on Starkweather avenue. Both ladies are as comfortable as possible.

Nearly 500 Present At Art Shop Opening

Nearly five hundred men, women and children attended the opening of the new Art and Gift Shop located in the former Willoughby shoe store at 280 Main Street last Saturday. Two were given to the visitors.

The store is jointly operated by Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Anderson of Northville. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will reside in Plymouth, Mr. Anderson acting as manager of the new establishment.

The Art and Gift Shop will be a permanent business in Plymouth.

George Richardson of Northville was the guest of Chase Willett last Sunday.

Old Friends And New Come To Greet Him In New Location

"Tell our many friends that we are especially gratified at the splendid reception they gave us last Saturday in our new location. Little did we expect to see so many of our old friends and so many new ones. We like our new location very much and we want both old friends and new to make the new Walk-Over location their shoe headquarters when in Plymouth," stated "Bolt" Willoughby yesterday.

The Walk-Over store is now located at 322 South Main street, where it has more than twice the floor space it formerly had in the old location.

This location is the old Julliffe store home Mr. Willoughby has entirely redecorated the place, put in new fixtures, a new lighting system and a new floor covering.

In addition to these improvements he has greatly enlarged his stock so that his store now has the largest line of shoes for men, women and children he has ever carried.

Mr. Willoughby's Walk-Over store can now rightly claim to be the largest one in western Wayne county outside the city of Detroit.

SALVATION ARMY LEGION IS GROWING

The Young Peoples Legion of The Salvation Army have just had some very fine meetings of late. This group of young folks, a branch of the local corps under the able leadership of Mrs. Junonia Taylor meet every Sunday night at 6:30 at The Salvation Army Hall.

Mrs. Taylor has arranged for a special speaker each Sunday evening, also special music to be rendered at each service, these services are open to all. Old and young are given a cordial invitation to attend.

NEW CHEVROLET IS ANNOUNCED

1933 Model To Be Bigger And Cheaper Says Ernest Allison

That a radically new line of Chevrolet passenger cars would be introduced next month was made known officially today by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The new series will be the fifth annual Chevrolet model to employ a six cylinder engine, the first volume Chevrolet six having been announced in November, 1928. Since that time, building sixes exclusively, the company manufactured nearly 3,000,000 units.

A larger wheelbase, extensive changes in body design, and a "price which takes account of today's incomes" are promised in the 1933 car. The extended wheelbase, coupled with many improvements in the body, in performance, economy, power, safety and other factors, indicate a model much improved over the present line, and set at rest rumors current in trade circles that the new Chevrolet would be a "stripped" model designed to meet the bare needs of transportation states Ernest Allison, Plymouth dealer.

Nearly 50,000 of the new 1933 series, valued in excess of $20,000,000 will be required for dealers' announcement purposes alone, and the manufacture of at least that number is assured within the next few weeks, Mr. Knudsen said. This output will entail the consumption of more than 50,000 tons of iron and steel and the use of large quantities of the thirty other major commodities which go into the production of a new Chevrolet Six, Mr. Knudsen stated.

Aside from economic considerations, he said that Chevrolet is embarking on its 1933 program shortly, because the company felt it was good business and that satisfactory sales volumes would reward (Continued on page 3)

LARGEST VOTE IN HISTORY OF COMMUNITY CAST TUESDAY

LOCAL VOTERS HAVE PART IN DEFEATING DRY AMENDMENT—GOVERNOR PROVES WEAKEST CANDIDATE ON TICKET

When Mr. and Mrs. Plymouth stopped voting Tuesday night, they had helped to elect Franklin D. Roosevelt president of the United States, they had aided in the defeat of Governor Wilbur M. Brucker and they had cast the greatest number of votes ever polled at an election in Plymouth. So great was the vote here that the election board of precinct number one required nearly 20 hours, lacking a few minutes, to count the ballots.

There was a total of 1704 votes cast in Plymouth, a record breaker. While Plymouth gave its majority vote to the Republicans, never before in the history of the community has it ever recorded so many Democratic votes as on Tuesday. The same is true of the various townships in this locality. Many had expected a fairly good sized Socialist vote here, but it was not as large as some had anticipated.

Plymouth was one of the very few places in Michigan to give the Republican party a majority of its vote. Many cities that have voted solid Republican for over half a century, communities that even in the Wilson landslide remained loyal to the Republican party, turned about face Tuesday and voted overwhelmingly for the Democratic ticket, both state and national.

Republican chances in Michigan were greatly lessened by Governor Brucker, conceded by prominent Republican leaders of the state as an exceedingly weak candidate. Many believe that if the Republicans had had a stronger candidate for governor, the state ticket could have been saved. This belief is strengthened by the fact that Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald and all other candidates on the state ticket ran way ahead of the candidate for governor. Ordinarily it is the governor who should lead the ticket.

It is known that many Republicans gave their support to Brucker for no other purpose than to aid the whole state ticket. They realized that his re-nomination to the governorship had weakened the Republican ticket but in the hopes of overcoming it many who had opposed him for good and sufficient reasons forgot their grievances and united in an effort to save the Republican state and county ticket out of the wreckage. But in this they failed.

Secretary of State Fitzgerald ran ahead of his ticket not only in every precinct in and around Plymouth, but in many places out state. This city also gave its native son, Paul Voorhies for attorney general the largest vote of any candidate.

Plymouth township, which is now entirely outside the city limits of Plymouth, did some cutting of its Republican ticket, but not so extensively as in some other townships. Brucker ran seven votes behind the Republican national ticket.

Both Democratic and Republican voters of the township sought to honor Supervisor Charles Rathburn. He was selected delegate to the spring conventions of both parties.

Complete returns indicate that Attorney George Dondoro of Royal Oak has been selected to congress from the new 17th district. He defeated the Democratic candidate, Mayor Mitchell of Pontiac, by nearly 2000 votes. Mr. Dondoro is one of the exceedingly few Republicans elected in the state. The vicious attack made by Mayor Mitchell on the President of the United States and his opponent lost him a large number of votes.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Republican, of Dearborn has been re-elected to his third term from this district to the state legislature. He defeated J. Frank Donner of Garden City by nearly 1500 votes.

Plymouth exceptionally interested in the success of its old congressman, Earl Michener of Adrian, was disappointed when the returns came in from the Second district to know that he had lost by a small vote, a bare hundred or so. It was Monroe county that brought about his downfall. A long, useful career in congress has been ended as the result of this landslide.

The defeat of the Republican county ticket, including Sheriff Behrendt, County Clerk Farrell, and the others, did not bring about as keen disappointment among the voters as had been anticipated. As one prominent Plymouth Republican expressed it, there were but only one or two men in the court house that really made an effort to take care of the public as they should. Not only that, but some of these officials had built up little empires composed of relatives and close friends, appointments never being made with any idea of building party strength.

Thomas Wilcox, the newly elected sheriff, was a most popular candidate in Plymouth. He was out here several times during the campaign and won for himself a lot of strong Republican support.

The new state senator from this district who will take the place made vacant by Senator Stevens will be John Reid of Highland Park. Senator-elect Reid had a narrow escape but he nosed out a close victory over his Democratic opponent.

Canton township which had gone Democratic in the spring township election, did the unusual and gave to Republican, candidates, and especially President Hoover, a most flattering vote over the Democrats.

Dry Plymouth went wet most emphatically. It gave the repeal amendment a vote of 961 for and 582 against repeal. This vote ratio ran about the same as it did throughout the state. Just as soon as the legislature can meet, such legislative action as may be needed to put the state in control of the liquor business will be passed.

It voted down the proposed tax limitation amendment and this proposition also lost throughout the state. Apparently voters thought the same everywhere on this question, as it had little support in any locality.

The community gave opposition by a small majority to the amendment which would prevent a governor from pardoning a lifer, but the rest of the state voted against this proposal.

Plymouth voters were emphatic in their opposition to the plan to tax oleomargarine. This amendment was overwhelmingly defeated.

COATS OFF!

The election is over. We have most emphatically shown to the world that we wanted a change in both national and state administrations. We are going to get what the majority of voters think is for the best interests of the country. There are no excuses to offer. People out of employment, hungry and cold, could not be induced to vote for a party they thought responsible for that condition. Their vote was not only a vote of protest but it was a vote of hope—hope that a change in both national and state administrations would brighten the clouded economic skies of America. And that HOPE is the thing we are writing about. It is the DUTY of every Republican, as well as every Democrat, to take off his coat, buckle in and work as he never worked before to aid in the restoration of prosperity to America. What should one care whether this prosperity returns under a Democratic administration or a Republican administration? We have a new generation coming on, boys and girls who will shortly be carrying the burdens of the state and nation. RIGHT NOW is the time when we should be seeing to it that the political heritage we leave to them is a CLEAN and HONORABLE one. COATS OFF, EVERYONE—let us put our shoulders to the wheel and see to it that America is soon back on the road of progress and happiness.

HOW THEY DO IT

School boards that are facing deficits and curtailment of expenditures may well study the conspicuous example of sound financing in effect in the school system at Ithaca, New York. There a fine new $500,000 junior high-school building has just been completed without a cent of bonded indebtedness; in addition, teachers' salaries and increments are being paid, and taxes have been reduced gradually over a period of years.

How was it done? Dr. Clyde B. Moore, professor at Cornell University and a member of the Ithaca school board, answers this question in The Rotarian for November. It is, he says, simply applying proven business principle of not spending the last cent of the yearly income before actually setting up a budget for the coming year; of building up a reserve for the unexpected or the unusual period when the receipts are not equal to the expenditures.

"Several years ago," says Dr. Moore, "the policy was formulated for Ithaca schools of anticipating future needs by conserving any surplus funds and including in the budget an item for future needs. Now, during years of somewhat decreased incomes, there is no dearth of funds for school needs."

"Basic to this situation," he contends, "is the fact that the school district of the City of Ithaca is not a city department coordinated with the departments of police, fire, street and the like. The schools are administered through a board of education consisting of nine members. Three are elected each year (at large) and serve for a period of three years. This board represents the public in fixing the tax rate and in carrying on the administrative work of the schools commonly assigned to such a body. It is independent of other city departments and must stand or fall on its own merits. It deals with schools only, and there is no opportunity to befig issues nor to confuse school expenditures in departments directly responsible to the mayor and city council."

"Each board member represents the whole city. Each year there are three candidates and the name of each appears on both the Republican and Democratic tickets. There are no party lines in the Ithaca board of education."

NEWSPAPERS BEST

Newspapers have outstanding advantages over other advertising media in speed and action and furnish the best medium for the trust company. Charles H. McMahon, assistant vice-president of the First National Bank of Detroit, told the midwinter conference of the trust company division, American Bankers' Association, in New York recently.

"The first job of the trust company, from the standpoint of public relations," he said, "is to sell the whole community on its integrity, soundness, its perpetual life and its ability to serve better than any individual trustee or executor. That involves educating the public to the idea of corporate trust service."

"For this purpose newspapers are ideal. They reach more than 95 per cent of all persons in the will making class." Mr. McMahon told the conference that daily newspaper reading is an outstanding habit of the American public.

"A financial advertiser has assurance that today he can reach the literate population of any or all communities by advertising in the newspapers," he said. "You may not have listened to a radio today, nor have received any advertising by mail, nor read any outdoor advertising, but most of you will read the newspapers. Thus newspaper advertising duplicates the influence of all other advertising and touches in addition fields that are exclusively its own."

Despite occasional statements that newspaper space is too costly to be efficient in the educational job of the trust company, Mr. McMahon said that as a matter of fact newspaper advertising enjoys the advantage of costing less than any other form of advertising. Population, wealth and buying power are concentrated about the points where daily newspapers are published, he said, and newspaper advertising "opens the doors for our representatives and saves their time once they are face to face with their prospects."

ARGUMENTS

What is an argument?

It takes two people to make an argument. If either party to an argument refuses to argue—then there is no longer an argument.

Why is there an argument in the first place? Because one person wants another person to agree with him.

But to make a person agree with you, it is not necessary to openly disagree with that person.

Suppose you were a salesman, trying to sell something. You want the prospect to agree with you, but that does not mean that you engage in an argument about it and spoil your chances of convincing him that your product is the best. You don't disagree with the prospect, but you make him agree with you.

Why not try the same methods in our daily contacts?

Argument merely antagonizes. It helps neither party to an argument. Tactful methods always win.

JUSTICE GRABS THE COAT TAIL

Some may think it just an accident; others may laugh it away as a mere foolish imagination—but don't you think there's a bit of real poetic justice in the following:

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

THE NEGRO REJECTS COMMUNISM

The report of the Commission on Interracial Cooperation to the effect that the Negro of the South has not been swayed in the slightest by Communist propaganda is gratifying. It reflects great credit upon this translated race, whose leaders surely realize that their best interests are bound up with the spirit and system of free democratic government in the land which has now been their home for almost as long as the white race that settled it.

The forefathers of Americans of today came, first, as religious refugees or as home-seeking colonists to these shores. Almost simultaneously with some groups of these settlers came Negro slaves. Others were introduced later. Some of the whites who emigrated to the plantations and wildernesses of the new land were indentured servants, with scarcely more rights than the black chattels. In time, however, these very servants became the backbone of the merchant class and, as other and more tragic years passed, the black man, too, came into political life on an equality with his former owner.

The Negroes' American citizenship antedated that of millions of others who came later in the tremendous tide of European immigration. It is among these, rather than among either the original American stock or the Negro race, that the seeds of Bolshevism have found fertile ground. For a time, Communism, fed and watered by Soviet financial agents, had its way among the Negro people of Chicago's tenement employed South Side. But even this has passed. As for the Negroes of the South, the appeal of radicalism to them fell upon deaf ears. They know on which side their pants are buttered.—Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal.

RULES OF THE GAME

'Can football tactics be applied to the game of politics? Fielding H. Yost, famous football coach, believes so. In a before-the-last-quarter or talk the other night he applied some of his brilliant theories to the national football royal now in progress.

Mr. Yost expounded many things calculated to pep up his political team but this discussion is not interesting particularly in what he said or for whom he said it.

The point is that, when Mr. Yost plays football, there are rules and regulations, umpires and referees, with the road to the goal pretty well marked out. Fumbles, blocked punts and other errors are to be expected, but any violation of the rules brings swift retribution. Backing the political line has been a free-for-all fight ever since man decided to hold his first election. The play can become quite methodical without punishment and bounds are limited only by the imagination.

Another thing, Mr. Yost never had to worry that in the middle of an important game some of his players might suddenly decide to play with the opposing team, which is common practice with political players.

Furthermore, Mr. Yost knows that when he scores in football the scoreboard will register that fact without the possibility of argument.

A Nicholas, bankrupt merchant of Yazoo City, Mississippi, was believed by his creditors to have some money—but they couldn't find it. It appeared as though Mister Nicholas would escape having to pay his losses.

But Nicholas was, at times at least, religiously inclined. Just whether or not he is a hypocrite, a Pharisee, we will leave to your own deduction. Good Reader. However, the other day Nick went to church; he even got down on his knees, while he went through the motions of praying to his God. We suppose, too, that Mister Nicholas was praying for universal justice. He was given it. Fate reached down (the newspaper dispatch said it was a projection on the pew) and lifted up Nicholas' coat tail—revealing a rather bulging money belt.

Police later discovered the belt filled with ten and twenty dollar bills, totalling $14,000.

Here, you see, is the practical way in which religion makes people honest—even if it reveals them at times as hypocrites. Mister Nicholas, poor bankrupt, becomes Mister Nicholas, dishonest religionist, apparently.

Moral: don't get down to pray in church unless you are willing to take the consequences.

THE COUNTRY WEEKLY

"The hope of the nation lies in the small town newspaper," Dr. Merton S. Rice, pastor of the Detroit Metropolitan church, said recently. All business and all newspapers, but particularly the country weekly have had a difficult problem to meet in weathering the business slump from which the Nation is beginning to emerge. But we've never heard of any of these men, who so loudly praise the small town editors, make any effort to direct business to them. Several of the biggest business men in the country, comments the Parma News, whose firms spend millions of dollars in national advertising and who are ardent dry workers, place most of their lineage with the wet metropolitan dailies they deery and reward the dry weeklies with a quotation: "The hope of the Nation lies in the small town newspapers." Where is the hope of the country newspaper editor?

WHY NOT?

In this political game he will never know whether he scored or not.—Geo. Handy in The Ypsilanti Press.

GRAND JURY RESULTS LACKING

Another grand jury has been called into action for Oakland County. The taxpayers are becoming concerned about the results of the findings of such instrumentalities of justice. It has been said that when one grand jury is dismissed, all the evidence gathered is merely filed away, and not opened to the succeeding grand jury. That may be so, but there is no reason why the county prosecutor should not carry over from one jury to another, the necessary information to the end that the public welfare is fully protected. Perhaps this has been done. Yet, in the face of continuous lack of evidence upon which to prosecute any wrongdoers, if any, it seems to us that this grand jury system this far is a needless expense and ought to be done away with by the next State Legislature.—George Averill in The Birmingham Evening.

MR. GEORGE W. WELSH

Years ago when we started out to try to learn to write on the typewriter (and we have been pecking away with a couple fingers since) there was a sentence that has been handed down to posterity and it reads "now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party." Guess Mr. George never learned to run a typewriter.—Senator Chester Howell in the Chesaning Argus.

And he puts the elephant's trunk, sr, And he ain't a bit afraid; And he gets us kids some popcorn And colored lemonade. And he buys himself some peanuts To keep us company—see? He doesn't specially like 'em, But he's polite, you see!

He shows the naggle to us And 'splains each bird and beast; For my I guess he's seen 'em. A million times, at least. And we climb over the benches. "Look out!" he says, "don't fall!" Until he calls, "I reckon From here you'll see it all!"

GIVE ME THE LITTLE TOWN

Give me the little town; Or, the "one horse" town, if you please. The town that's not down on the maps of renown, The one with the garden and trees. The city with all its glamor and glare. With its swallow-tail coat and low gown. May appeal to the rest of you, but for my share Give me the little town.

Give me the simple life; The life that is real and sincere. The life that's not rife with battle and strife. Nor fraught with a feeling of fear. Allow me to mingle with these I respect Where every man loves his own wife. Where matrimonial burks are not wrecked; Give me the simple life.

Give me the Golden Rule To guide me over life's little span; The rule that's school for the very best man. As well as the greatest wise man. And when I am through with this life and its cares Just quietly carry me down And lay me among my departed forebears. Close by some little town. —Roy S. Layman.

A PRAYER

Glory to Thee, O Lord, most high—we praise Thee for the anticipation of Him who increases the sum of human joy and happiness. We are now in the forenoon of that day when the sound of the market will die out in the street and men will strike the trace of battle. Yes! He is coming again. The One who smiled at the lure of riches and the embarrassment of poverty. At His gentle footfall the citadels of injustice crumbled, and as He passed by He endowed the meanness thing with interest and beauty. Oh bless us, Lord God, with an impulse of a new love—to be a friend to the friendless, a benefactor to the beggar, and a refuge to those who are smitten. Let us forget past wrongs and mistakes and bless us with the golden glow of a generous mind, with the healing love of a big heart, and with the bracing energy of a courageous spirit. May we live for men for whom he died and pledge ourselves to labor for a justice-loving, a freedom-loving, and a warless world. Through Jesus Christ our Lord.

GRAY DAY IN THE CITY

The city's towers are dim and gray. Gray mists becloud my heart today. There's naught of beauty I can see, To bring one pleasant thought to me.

Yet in a dreamland far away I climb blue heights, see plums that sway. I still hear the waters in the brook That sing the songs in nature's book.

There forest ways are sweet and still, Soft shadows sleep upon the hill, While freedom bides there on the trails. With comradeship that never fails.—James B. Carrington.

CO-OPERATION

The fastest horse in the world never wins a race without a jockey to guide him—

The world's ring champion wins his belt by respecting the rules of his trainer—

Every successful football team submits to the greater knowledge and experience of its coach—

A candidate for President considers it wise to have a campaign manager—

Yet quite frequently we see a worker who dislikes to co-operate with his boss.—Grit.

ARMISTICE DAY

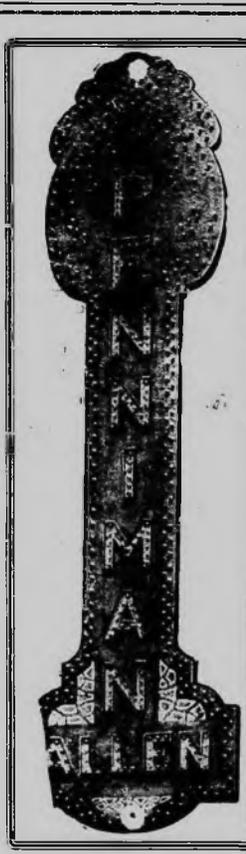

If yesterday is soon forgot—his horror, and its storm— Then what will men remember? Shall peace distort, deform, The only beautiful thing that grew in arid fields of strife. De-roy our only comfort? Shall petty schisms rife Wreck every faith, despoil the page, that was our tender keep. Ere those who wrote have yet passed on into their dreamless sleep? If so the sacrifice was naught; the altar where 'twas laid, A broken desecrated thing, the pilgrimage was vain. R. P. Perry.

NOVEMBER TWILIGHT

Peace fills my heart at twilight On November days— When distant hills stand shrouded in dusk haze; And violet are the shadows That slip across the plain, And little breezes carry scents Of pine trees after rain.

Garden City Man Tries to Kill Wife Then Ends Own Life

Ninety days of brooding in the House of Correction decided Frank Blay, 40, to kill his wife, who had sent him there, and to end his own life. He fell short on the first resolve, but died Saturday after cutting his throat.

His wife, Etha, 35, was taken to Wayne Hospital in a serious condition after a bloody struggle with her enraged husband in their home at 5350 Merriam road, Garden City. Her wrists were slashed by a razor her head had been battered by a poker, and she had been nearly strangled with picture wire.

Evidence of premeditation was given by their 8-year-old adopted son, John, who had left his parents at the breakfast table Saturday morning to go out and play.

"I guess that's what daddy meant yesterday," he said reflectively, "when he said what he did. He was taking me for an auto ride and he said it probably would be the last time he'd ever take me riding."

Blay had worked 20 years for the Ford Motor Company. He lost his job when he was sent to jail for assault and battery on complaint of his wife. He returned home last week resentful and despondent.

According to Chief Arthur Nagle of the Garden City police.

"I started divorce proceedings against him three days ago," Mrs. Blay told Deputy Fred Gipsky and John McLeod, "but two days ago I let him come back into the house."

"This morning he locked all the doors. I was afraid, because he had threatened to kill John and me. He came at me with the razor and cut my wrists. He twisted wire around my neck and tightened it with pliers. I broke away from him. I was weak, but I got to the back door and ran out."

Mrs. Blay made her way to the home of a neighbor, Charles Smith, who took her to the hospital and telephoned police. When officers reached the home, Blay was dead.

Their quarrel originated, Mrs. Blay said, over her charges he paid attention to other women. It was climaxed several months ago by the hearing which resulted in his sentence to the House of Correction.

Rosedale Gardens

Miss Marilyn Holton of 11405 Berwick Ave., entertained for the Merry Girls club with a Halloween costume party, Friday evening, October 28th. The girls present were Lona Belle Rhode, Doreen Jayner, Eleanor Boyd, Marilyn and Madeline Summerville of Detroit. The boys who attended were Harvey Conium, Donald Taylor, Stanton Burton, Wesley Hoffman and Charles McKinley. Halloween games were played and those who won prizes were Harvey, Doreen, Charles McKinley and Madeline.

Announcing A New Chevrolet

any desirable product rightly priced and only merchandised. Observance of this policy during the past three years brought Chevrolet a constantly increasing percentage of total available automobile business, and in 1932 placed it in the most favorable comparative position it has ever enjoyed in its 21-year history. He pointed out that in this three-year period the company's plants, although on curtailed schedules, never once closed for a continuous shutdown exceeding thirty days, and then only during the regular annual interval between closing out of old models and introduction of new ones.

Formal announcement of a new six prior to the actual showing of the car was made possible for Chevrolet this year, Mr. Knudsen explained, because an unexpected and sustained opening in sales extending from August to October brought a depletion of field stocks much quicker than anticipated. The result is that outstanding stocks of 1932 cars in dealers' hands are less than three per dealer—the best "clean up" the company has ever had. Used car stocks also are at the lowest numerical point since 1925, when the Chevrolet dealer ordered more than 800 new dealers in the last quarter, bringing the present total to more than 10,100, a mark previously paralleled only in 1929. Since no similar extensive addition of dealers has been made at any time in the last three years, the move in view of Chevrolet's dealer policy is interpreted as an assurance that the company anticipates sufficient volume in the future to enable its dealers to conduct profitable operations.

Highlights of the formal announcement of the new car follow: "The new Chevrolet, to appear next month, advances standards in every phase of motoring—Again Chevrolet has broken boldly with the past wherever change means improvement in style, comfort, smoothness, performance, safety, economy and dependability.

Fisher body craftsmen have taken advantage of an even longer wheelbase to contribute eachwork which is unique in the low priced field; including dynamic new styling and an invention which you will immediately recognize as one of the most fundamental comfort improvements of all time.

And the experience gained in the production of more than 7,000,000 cars, together with the marked advantages that naturally accrue to the leader in sales, has made it possible to build the new Chevrolet at a price which takes account of today's incomes."

Wayne Plans Canned Food Week For The Benefit of Idle Men

Plymouth residents are greatly interested in the welfare work that is being carried on in Wayne, the nearby community where welfare work has become a real problem. The Wayne Dispatch tells of the plans for a "canned food" week in the following article:

In order that a sufficient quantity of food may be obtained for welfare purposes in Wayne and vicinity this winter, the week of Nov. 14 to 20 will be set aside as "Canned Goods Week," at which time every resident will be asked to contribute at least one jar of canned goods. It was announced this week by Mrs. A. G. Wilkinson, chairman of the new welfare committee.

Through this means of obtaining canned goods, a large quantity of food is expected to be received. Numerous households have put up many cans of fruit and vegetables. It was said, and it is believed that they willingly will contribute one or more cans to the welfare bureau for use in aiding needy families here.

For those residents who have not canned any foodstuffs, arrangements have been made to place barrels in every grocery store in Wayne so that canned goods may be purchased and dropped into these barrels. Many people undoubtedly will take advantage of this means of adding in the local welfare work.

Thus far, the response to various welfare appeals that have been made by the committee have been met with the full cooperation of everyone. Mrs. Wilkinson said. This cooperation is greatly appreciated by the committee.

Every effort is being made to provide and fulfill the welfare needs of the community, so that there will be no hungry or needy families here. The residents of Wayne can insure against the dire poverty of various unfortunate families by contributing in the small measure asked, it was said.

Any resident of the village or vicinity who desires to give canned goods for that which has been personally canned, may bring them to the Board of Commerce office, which is the headquarters for the welfare work.

Members of the committee, with the aid of members of various organizations have been busy the past two weeks making garments out of yard goods material that was received here from the American Red Cross. The Graham Paige plant has provided a large sewing machine for the purpose, and also is furnishing men to aid in the cutting of the material.

Additional stores also were added last week, when a load of potatoes was brought here from Greenville. The load, which contained approximately 335 bushels, was brought here by Harold Hilliard and Ray Carr.

Announcing A Plymouth Girl Is Active at Wooster

Wooster College students have just put over a drive for $2,340 for the support of the Big Three Student Chest.

This money is to be used to defray the expenses for this school year of the college Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., and the Christian Endeavor Society.

Wooster students are also supporting William McAfee, Wooster graduate who is now teaching at Ewing Christian College, Allahabad, India.

Exactly 70 students took part in this drive which sought pledges from Wooster's 806 students and the faculty and administrative staffs.

Miss Catherine R. Nichol, 178 South Main St., Plymouth, Mich., was one of the Wooster College student solicitors who put across the campaign so successfully.

Miss Nichol is a junior at Wooster College. She is on the Y. W. C. A. major cabinet and treasurer of the Women's Self Government Association and sings in the Westminster choir.

Why Buy New TIRES? Why Firestone

Many people are under the impression that it is cheaper to drive a car with smooth worn tires than it is to replace them with new ones. They think they must get so many miles out of the old set before buying new ones. That argument sounds logical, we all like our moneys worth but after all don't we all stretch it a point too far?

Smooth tires at this particular time of the year are a menace to the driver and are without doubt the cause of many accidents occurring every day. When it rains they slide and skid. When it snows they slide and skid and when there is ice on the pavements they do the same thing. You know, we know that we are soon to have a lot of that kind of weather. Protect yourself, your family, your friends, pedestrians and other drivers with a new set of tires.

And why not Firestones? Everyone knows the thousands of miles of service they give before they even begin to wear.

They hold the road, they wear like iron, they give complete satisfaction. Ask us today about our new low prices.

Hamill Tells Of Importance Of New Property Surveys
 If you want to keep your real estate, if you want to have it in such shape that no one can ever take it away from you—then you had better let it to something. No matter what you do it to, just let it up. That's about the only way. And there is no less an authority for that statement than Herald Hamill, well known Plymouth civil engineer who has surveyed most everything around Plymouth and western Wayne county.

In telling of some of the problems of his profession before members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday noon, Mr. Hamill stated that surveys all start from some sort of a mark. He pointed out how in the early days the county and township lines of Michigan were being run, that pioneer engineers used as locations certain trees. These trees would be marked and then the given point of beginning would be measured a certain distance from these marked trees. Mr. Hamill declared that a few years ago he had the opportunity to see in northern Michigan one of these trees that had been marked considerably over half a century ago.

In Plymouth early surveys were given most unusual starting points. He mentioned one piece of business property where the "north brick wall" of a building owned by a pioneer settler long since forgotten was the beginning point of an important property description.

Mr. Hamill traced the beginning of his profession from early history, showing pictures of engineering instruments in use before the coming of Christ.

President Charles Bennett announced that next week's meeting of the club would be the annual Thanksgiving keno party the event to be held in the evening.

In addition to the work being started this week at the Six Mile and Northville road, Road Commissioner Edward Hines declares that the commission plans to carry on just as much bridge and grade separation work in the county as possible.

Under the provisions of the McNitt act, 272 miles of township roads have been taken over by the county for improvement and maintenance and the bridges on these roads are in the main too narrow, of too light construction for present day traffic requirements and in general state of disrepair and practically every bridge needs replacement.

"We are adopting as a policy on these township roads, a 30-foot clear roadway bridge and wherever feasible building a reinforced concrete deck girder bridge, which whenever such need arises will be sacrificed to the original investment," stated Mr. Hines. The State Highway department has let a contract for widening of the bridge spanning the Huron River at Flat Rock on the Telegraph Road. Included in this contract, is the widening of Telegraph Road to 40 feet of concrete in Monroe County. Telegraph Road across Wayne County is now 40 feet of concrete, 60 feet over all. The pony truss bridge spanning the Huron River on Telegraph Road near Warren Road has been removed and will be erected on Little Road near Michigan Superhighway. A wider bridge will take its place in the old location. The grade separation carrying Airport Drive over Schaefer road adjacent to the Ford Plant in Dearborn is nearing completion as is also the grade separation project about one half mile north of the Plymouth Road near Plymouth carrying the Rouge Parkway under the P. M. R. R. This is the separation just north of the entrance to the Plymouth-Riverside park.

Work is also under way lengthening the Penn. R. R. bridge over the Outer Drive in Allen Park. This is made necessary by the paving of the dual sections of concrete on Outer Drive, bringing this road up to its maximum width of eight or way of 150 feet, stated Mr. Hines.

In addition, the present program involves construction activity during the coming season on 12 other bridges. One of the principal items being reconstruction of bridge at the Michigan Superhighway crossing of the Rouge River in Dearborn. The old arch bridge carrying the north strip of pavement will be demolished and the new deck plate girder bridge carrying the south strip will be widened to form a single bridge centrally located on the right-of-way, having an 80-foot roadway and 2 sidewalks. The bridge consists of two 75-foot deck plate girder spans on high abutments and center pier. Material is being stockpiled at the job.

The balance of the program is largely made up of bridges on township roads taken over by the County under the provisions of the McNitt act.

PLYMOUTH ELECTRIC SHOP HAS BIG OPENING
 Owners of the Plymouth Electric Shop, located in the Voorhies building on South Main street, are highly elated over the fine reception residents of Plymouth have given them upon their opening here.

Hundreds called at the store last Saturday to inspect it and see the large line of electrical goods, radios and other electrical appliances that are now carried in Plymouth.

Clifford Turnbull, owner of the store, who has a large number of friends in this section, states that it is his intention to keep on enlarging his stock of goods as business develops.

Mr. Turnbull also wishes to express his appreciation to the large number of people who have visited the store. He states that there is a most cordial welcome awaiting anyone who desires to come in and look around, whether they buy or not.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ROBERT H. K. WHITELEY
 Plymouth friends of Mrs. Robert H. K. Whiteley were shocked Monday when they learned of her death that day at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Louisa Giffel, in Birmingham. Mrs. Whiteley made many friends while residing with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. F. George, in this city, who regret her passing and extend sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. George and Mr. and Mrs. Giffel. The funeral was held Thursday morning in the St. Peter and Paul Cathedral in Detroit. Mrs. Whiteley will be buried in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. George arrived from Port Orange, Florida, Wednesday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 6.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Gen. 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him, male and female created he them."

Correlative passages read from the "Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 557): "Popular theology takes up the history of man as if he began materially right, but immediately fell into mental sin; whereas revealed religion proclaims the Science of Mind and its formations as being in accordance with the first chapter of the Old Testament, when God, Mind, spoke and it was done."

HUSBAND'S DAY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THERE'S Mother's day and Father's day. Observed and honored by the young.

And yet one fellow goes his way Unwept, unhonored and unang. There's Raisin day, to celebrate The raisin, with a reason, too; But there's a man, almost as great As raisins, who has something due

A wife should have a day she thought About him as the Scripture bids; About him as her husband, not As just the father of her kids: One day of all the year all his, When each man's wife, from sea to sea, Would love him some for what he is.

And some for what he used to be. Of course, she thought of him at first. But now she thinks about the house, The parlor rug that looks the worst.

The maid, the club, the pantry noise, The church's work, the children's play. Some other fellow's worth or wit— There ought to be a Husband's day To think of husbands just a bit.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

"NOBODY WANTS A WOMAN LAWYER"

"DEAR JEAN NEWTON: "Don't you think it an outrage the way women are discriminated against in the business and professional world? My daughter, who is a born lawyer, hesitates to enter the profession because of the fact that people tell her nobody wants a woman lawyer. It's the same thing in all the professions and business—the mere fact of being a woman is a handicap. A woman has to be twice as good at anything as a man to get any attention. In addition to other obstacles she has to overcome the barrier of this unfair prejudice; and when a woman is given a chance, when she does get anywhere, she gets about half the compensation a man would get for doing the same work. And this is the enlightened age—the age of woman's emancipation!"

On our reader's chief point, that women are discriminated against and that a woman has to be twice as good as a man, I disagree with her absolutely. My experience has been entirely to the contrary. My observation has led me to the conclusion that if a woman in business or any of the professions is as good as the really good man she becomes famous. Women in public life still retain enough of the element of novelty to give them the benefit of doubt, to act as a sort of unpaid publicity agent. If a woman is at all successful she is bound to attract more attention than a man of corresponding attainments. The measure of success which men of ability wrest from the world is dramatic in a woman. If she happens also to be young and good looking it is a riot.

On one point I agree with our reader, and that is that all other things being equal women are paid less than men. I have known girls for a salary of $2,000 a year to hold down jobs that would require a man of $5,000 caliber. I know women today, in particular one in business and one on a magazine, who are paid $5,000 or $6,000 a year for work for which a man of corresponding ability could not be procured under $10,000 or $12,000. That, of course, can be traced to several reasons, chiefly that women have always worked for less than men, and "Rome was not built in a day."

WOMAN'S DAY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

She was accompanied by her husband, Robert C. Wilcox, war flyer and former dirt track racing champion, who, she said, "has stuck by me wonderfully."

"I alone am to blame," she declared repeatedly in talking to reporters. She refused any further statement of her motives for the theft, dubbing at her eyes with her handkerchief when questioned.

Mrs. Wilcox broke down when Capt. Edward Denniston, superintendent of the House of Correction, told her that he classified her as an "accidental," and not an habitual criminal.

"I want to serve my sentence and make it right," Mrs. Wilcox, who is a regular attendant at the Owosso Congregational Church, declared, wiping her eyes. "I haven't slept much, worrying about it. I feel better now."

Her husband, according to a statement read during the trial and allegedly made by Mrs. Wilcox to Legion Auxiliary officials last June, had known of her embezzlement for a year.

"I'm not trying to shield him," she said Saturday. "He hasn't done anything wrong. Asked if her family was in debt, she said: "There was a small mortgage on our houses. That is all."

She appeared nervous during the conversation with Capt. Denniston, and played with the folds of her modestly cut black silk crepe dress. She wore also a light green coat with tan squirrel fur and a black hat trimmed with a white quill. She wore no rouge or make-up.

"But I'm well," she insisted. "Just nervous."

Her husband, who was teaching her to fly one of the two airplanes which he owns, will live in one of the apartments in a three-family house which they own, while she serves her term, she revealed.

The Wilcoxs moved into the apartment from the white frame house, which they had occupied for 19 years, following discovery of the embezzlement.

"He'll keep the dog, Spike," she said, smiling for the first time. "That is, if Spike will pay any attention to him. He's devoted to me."

She has no relatives except a brother, Hal Solleck, of Owosso, and her husband.

"They've been wonderful during this trouble," she said. "It takes something of this sort to prove people's devotion."

She was more disturbed at the thought of being behind bars than by almost anything else, she told Capt. Denniston, and seemed comforted when told that there were no bars where she would live. It has not yet been decided what work she will be given at the House of Correction.

United Air Line executives are perplexed over a problem remote from air currents, fog banks, and low ceilings about Cheyenne, Wyo. Within three months three stewardesses have been married to their pilots and hasty substitutions in the ranks of the women employes were necessary.

Capt. Denniston Has Another Famous Guest At Work Farm

Pole, and seemingly bewildered. Mrs. Edith Wilcox last Sat. arrived at the Detroit House of Correction two days ahead of schedule, by her own request, to start serving a four-to-fifteen-year sentence for embezzlement from the American Legion Auxiliary of Michigan, of which she was treasurer.

"There wasn't any use in putting it off," the forty-year-old, gentle-faced matron said, who received her sentence at Owosso Saturday morning. She pleaded guilty to embezzling $350 during the last six years, although the shortage in the books was $12,900. Scheduled to leave for Plymouth on Monday, she insisted to Sheriff J. A. Fink that she be brought immediately after receiving sentence.

She was accompanied by her husband, Robert C. Wilcox, war flyer and former dirt track racing champion, who, she said, "has stuck by me wonderfully."

"I alone am to blame," she declared repeatedly in talking to reporters. She refused any further statement of her motives for the theft, dubbing at her eyes with her handkerchief when questioned.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"NIGHT AFTER NIGHT"
"Night After Night," screen adaptation of the Louis Bromfield novel, will appear at the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, November 13 and 14.

George Raft, Constance Cummings, Wynne Gibson, Mae West and Alison Skipworth will be seen in the leading roles.

Action of the film is set in a luxurious New York speakeasy, an old brownstone mansion rescued from decay to serve as an oasis for Manhattan's wealthy thirsty. Raft, young player who scored sensational success in minor roles in "Scarface," "Dancers in the Dark" and "Madame Racketeer," has his first leading role as proprietor of the "Joint."

"DOWNSTAIRS"
John Gilbert turns author and villain at the same time in "Downstairs," his latest starring picture showing at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, November 16 and 17.

As an author he has furnished one of the strangest and most gripping plots the screen has seen in some time. As an actor he gives the screen a debonaire, unscrupulous villain who makes up in audacity what he lacks in morals.

Gilbert proves that villains can be not only interesting but glamorous in his vivid portrayal of the astonishing character who enters a castle "downstairs" through the servants' hall as a chauffeur and spreads a web of intrigue that enmeshes cook and countess, butler and baron alike.

"THE LAST MAN"
With such dramatic elements as romance, piracy, mutiny, the lure of a million dollars in gold and comedy, Columbia's "The Last Man," which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre Friday and Saturday, November 18 and 19, should easily prove one of the most novel screen offerings of the year. The picture is a sea adventure story, with Charles Bickford in the principal male lead and Constance Cummings playing opposite him. Howard Higgin and Keene Thompson wrote the story and Higgin also directed.

Alexandria's Bathing Beach Is Very Modern

THIS doesn't look like a scene in Egypt, but it is the highly modernized Stanley bay bathing beach at Alexandria. The gay pajamas and brightly colored beach parasols make it resemble an American seaside resort, and four-fifths of the people found there are American tourists. In the background is the three-tiered crescent of bath houses.

D. 1933 at twelve o'clock noon, (Eastern Standard Time) the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder at the southerly or Congress Street entrance to the County Building in the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held), of the premises described in said mortgage or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due as aforesaid on said and any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned at

Trapping Season To Open Nov. 15

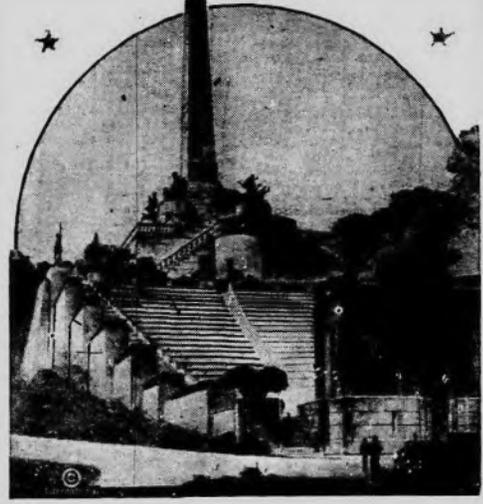

The third series of 1932 hunting and trapping seasons will open Tuesday, November 15.
Muskrat trappers may begin operations November 15 in the southern peninsula north of the north line of Townline 16. Muskrat trapping south of that line will not begin until December 1. Muskrat trapping has been permitted for the upper peninsula since November 1 and will continue there until December 1.
While musk may be hunted at any time they may be trapped only during the open season for trapping muskrats.
The upper peninsula is closed to raccoon trapping. Trapping for raccoon north of the north line of Townline 16 in the lower peninsula will start November 15 and may continue until November 30. Trapping for raccoons south of that line will begin December 1.
Muskrat trapping licenses may be secured through the local conservation officers. Raccoon trapping is permitted under the small game license.
Deer hunting licenses are now being sold by approximately 1,800 agents of the Conservation Department.
Under a law adopted by the 1931 legislature persons convicted of violating a deer hunting law within the past three years are banned from securing a deer hunting license this year. Anyone who has killed or wounded another person in a hunting accident within the past five years cannot obtain a license to hunt deer this fall.

For G. A. R. Memorial at Lincoln Tomb

HERE is the artist's drawing of a proposed G. A. R. memorial to be erected on the terrace immediately north of the tomb of Abraham Lincoln in Springfield. The structure would be in the nature of an amphitheater seating approximately 3,000 people, with a building for keeping the records and historical documents of the G. A. R. The cost of the memorial would be about $250,000.

GOOD SOUPS
A soup is always a part of the meal that we feel should never be omitted. It warms the stomach and prepares it for the heartier foods that follow and is itself a nourishment when prepared with cream and vegetables.
Squash Soup.
Mix together one cupful of boiled squash that has been mashed and put through a colander, two table-spoonfuls of minced celery, one teaspoonful of salt and sugar, one table-spoonful of onion juice, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper and a pinch of mace. Prepare two table-spoonful of butter and flour mixed together. Add a little of a quart of milk, stir until well blended, then add the remainder and heat slowly. Beat the squash until light and mix with the other ingredients. Heat very hot and serve at once.
Mock Bisque.
Scald one quart of milk with three-fourths of a cupful of bread crumbs, one small onion stuck with six cloves, a sprig of parsley and a bit of bay leaf. Remove the seasonings and rub through a sieve. Add two teaspoonfuls of sugar, two cupfuls of canned tomatoes and cook fifteen minutes. Reheat the milk and bring to the boiling point. Add the tomatoes, stirring gently. Add one-third of a cupful of butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne. Serve with croutons.
Pea Soup.
This is so simple that a child may prepare it. Take one can each of pea soup and canned milk, or rich sweet milk if at hand. Mix well, heat and serve hot with croutons.
In the making of soups as in any other food preparation much depends upon the cook. All ingredients should be carefully measured, seasoning appropriate should be added. Mace, cloves, nutmeg, thyme, bay leaf, all play an important part. The same ingredients blended with lack of care may be flat, stale and insipid, or a royal feast. A teaspoonful of sugar brings out the flavor of many of the vegetables and is an addition to most soups.

EGGS BECOME GOLD NUGGETS THESE DAYS

A dozen eggs will buy more pounds of poultry feed this year than at any other time during the past decade, according to studies made by the farm management department at Michigan State University, which indicates a definite loss in skipping the feed supplied to farm flocks.
During the past 10 years, the average price paid for a dozen eggs would buy 16.9 pounds of poultry feed. A dozen eggs during the first five months of 1932 would buy 39.5 pounds of feed. Last year, the dozen eggs would buy 17.1 pounds of feed and, in 1930, only 16.5 pounds of feed could be purchased with the money received for the eggs.
The poultryman has an investment in land buildings, birds, and equipment and he can get returns from these and his labor only by selling eggs or poultry meat. Good average production of the hens cuts the cost per dozen of producing eggs. With present feed prices, birds should be fed as heavily as possible in order to get the possible profit of turning feed into eggs.
No pronounced improvement in egg prices, other than seasonal raises, is anticipated unless there is a decided improvement in the purchasing power of consumers; but, if any increase does occur, the profit of heavy feeding will be greater.

Rosedale Gardens

Armed Day is being celebrated by several Gardendale veterans, families and friends—in the big parade, their homes and about R. midst with talks over the "good old days" in France or camp or at sea.
New Snow Fall is all dolled up on the big new truck, and its Guardian, Walter Geisler, has been promptly showing it off to inquisitive youngsters and older who have admired and wondered at it.
The only thing left to say and do now is to tell the weather man to do his darndest and have it snow and Bro. Walt will clear all paths!
We R Sorry
to see all the tree-trimmers go, but they will never be forgotten in all R. lifetimes, as the trees will go on living in posterity as an everlasting living monument to the men who were responsible for the beautification of R. frontage.
However, the boys and men are promising to call again when business "gets better" and it is necessary to tree, shrub and gate the next quarter about 11:30 (the old Gen. Schmidt farm) which so many tales have been told out school. Oh the cists, the maples and evergreens, and Roses, what a display!
As Rosedale Goes
so goes the Nation? We are writing this to all R. political friends and enemies. There is no criterion hereafter, Rosedale Gardens is the political barometer of the Township, County, State and Nation.
Whatever is the consensus of voting Precinct No. 2 is always first to be counted, to spread the net more and to sit down to watchful waiting until bedtime satisfied that the aforesaid political subdivisions have gone Rosedalewise.
Which reminds us that that guy on Ardou Avenue said that that guy on Pendroke Rd.—It's a long way between the trees in the new park-way before Pendroke, or is it? It's a long way, but the new roses between the pfitizers bloom all the way.
Cousin Geo. Thompson says "some ones" harvested the fruits of the pfitizers; well it's a good thing "they ones" saw them first see a range before Pendroke, or is it? Blackburn, who told me innocents, what was whar with pfitizers' fruit.
Parliamentary
Law was the subject of the friend, Master James McNally's lecture last Whousels' Nite at R. P. T. A. meeting, Federal 31st, the parliamentarian of the Wayne County Council Parent-Teachers Association.
In his lecture several vivid descriptions of motions were the delight of all, where motions were made and amended giving and taking away Buleks, roses and thorns before the meeting of the R. P. T. A. Presid., Burr, Porteous.
Price
of the evening had to be "split 50-50" between Miss Rowe's and Mrs. Beckers' Rooms, the count of present attendance being Miss Smith 14 (rose wasn't it?) Miss Rowe 15; Mrs. Becker 15.
The question was brought up and settled by resolution that one parent counted one, as one lady mother said she ought to be counted two, as she was blessed with two kiddies under Miss Smith, whereupon another lady parent bobbed up with three blessings under one teacher, and if one counted two why not one count three, and if gentleman parent came she could then claim two parents counted six with not counted all, Navy R. Presid., Burr, Porteous said he was not at all versed in such higher mathematical calculations and in the absence of Prof. Einstein, or his theory, we would vote on it. So the vote was that one parent counted one vote regardless of the fact that that parent had been endowed with more than the customary number of kiddies in one class room.
Nothing
was when Miss Myrtle MacIver and little Miss Margaret and Miss Mary Ann gave demonstrations of the new methods of studying music. The methods used in Miss MacIver's classes appear very easy to learn, and the little six year old girls demonstrated the fact to the intense silent delight of all.
Miss MacIver is instructing some little folks of three and with wonderful success.

Then Mrs. Edwin T. Cunliffe read a beautiful poem of prayer on "Be Thankful" from the Child Welfare Library.
The ladies of the refreshment committee then spread the sandwiches, cakes for drinking and coffee, so all enjoyed one of the most delightful evenings, even if the kindergarten room was crowded to overflowing and several antofidist visitors were present, among who were Miss Welch, Romulus, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Nowell from the Detroit office friend of the Court.
Gone
and missed by their many friends are the M. J. Kaercher family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayes, who is busy preparing an up-to-the-minute luncheon emporium within the portals of the once famous Russells' playground.
Cousin Gregory and his plasterers have made over the ceiling. Carpenters have made a number of partitions and then come along all the painters to cover it all up. So we expect to have luncheons soon after Cousin Klukas fits in some pipes and more heat.
Last Tuesday
was Election Day from and to 8:00 past meridian, but after the last eight the ladies of the Clothing Group of R. gardettes met and brought and others brought clothing of all kinds of description and mostly for winter wear. The clothing is being gathered for and is being distributed among the needy without R. Gates.

HOW PLYMOUTH VOTED ON THE AMENDMENTS

It is interesting to note how Plymouth voted on the constitutional amendments. Plymouth voted for the repeal of the dry amendment by a large vote. It voted for no tax on oleomargarine and against the tax limitation plan. The vote in Plymouth on the amendments follow:

Table with 3 columns: Amendment, Yes, No. Rows include: To Repeal Dry Law, Tax Limit Plan, Reapportionment, Limitation, Exemption, Moving of Voter, No Pardon, Authority, Who to Vote, Bond Issues, Tax on Oleomargarine.

A costume party was given at the home of Mrs. Alice Evans, Ann Arbor St., Saturday evening. Those present wearing costumes were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bean, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Stogdill, Mr. and Mrs. Gar Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gladman, Miss Margaret Melow, Les Evans, Ben Stewart, Miss Dorothy Diamond of Highland Park and Gill Knott of Dearborn and Miss Mary Murray. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. John Birchall for the best colorful costume and Walter Bean for the most comical costume. Music for dancing was furnished by Mr. Birchall and Mr. Gladman.

Timely Series of Sermons is Planned

Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, pulpit minister of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Ann Arbor, will introduce a series of eight sermons on the theme, "Thinking Through to an Adequate Philosophy of Life." It is his belief that a personal philosophy of life is essential to each individual if he would live abundantly in this present day.

The troop had their regular meeting Monday, November 7, at 7 p. m. Several fire building and cooking tests were passed on the flats. A fire by friction demonstration was given by Mr. Pryor. Each boy is to try to have his own fire by friction set at the next meeting. Also first aid bandage and a rope (rope about three foot).

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Foster celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary Monday evening at their home on Sheridan avenue, Elm Heights. The house was made beautiful with many bouquets of flowers, red and white, large chrysanthemums and baby mums. The guests, who were mostly their children and grandchildren, numbered about twenty-five. Those present were Mrs. Laura A. Foster and daughter, Laura of Midland, Mrs. Fred Fritsch of Grand Rapids, Mrs. M. and Mrs. E. Merrill of Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. George Foster and son, Charles, of Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hadley and sons and Mrs. Edith Hadley and family of Plymouth.

Rosedale Gardens

The "Arts and Letters" club was entertained by Mrs. M. Stover of West Chicago Blvd., Tuesday evening. A masquerade party was the form of entertainment for the evening.

The annual bazaar of Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church is progressing splendidly. Many social teas have been held through the Gardens and useful attractive articles made. The date is Friday, December 2nd. A home-cooked dinner will be served from 9 to 8 p. m. with entertainment to follow the dinner.

Mrs. Hansen of Ingram avenue gave a tea to benefit the apron booth. Mrs. Stanley James of Ingram avenue entertained with a benefit bridge Saturday evening, November 5th. There were twenty-seven guests present. At the P. T. A. meeting held Wednesday evening, November 2nd, a very good program was presented. Mr. McCully of Romulus gave a parliamentary drill, Miss Melvior of Rosedale gave a music demonstration and Mrs. Chaffee, the treasurer, read a poem from the current issue of the Child Welfare Magazine. Miss Smith's room and Miss Rowe's room for the citizenship prize presented each month by the P. T. A.

TROUT THRIVE ON MILK DIET

Diet experimentation on 300,000 brown trout in a state hatchery at Madison, Wis., has shown that they will grow to fingerling size two months sooner on a diet of dried sweet milk than any other known food. Finely chopped beef and sheep liver is added to the diet as they grow in size.

BRIDE PAID $10 FINE Taken by a policeman who turned a deaf ear to Bert E. Stone's protest that he could not show up in traffic court on his wedding day, a bridegroom entered a court in Washington. When he explained to Judge Isaac H.
