

TO MAKE PLEA FOR SALVATION ARMY WORK

Organization To Conduct Its Home Service Appeal Campaign Soon

At a meeting of the advisory board of the Salvation Army of Plymouth held recently at the Plymouth United Savings bank, it was unanimously decided to conduct the annual Home Service Appeal and Plans Campaign in the immediate future.

In deciding to place this appeal for help to the friends and sympathizers of the Army in Plymouth the members of the board felt sure that the community would go the limit in giving the organization aid. The Salvation Army has found that the demands made upon it this fall have increased tremendously and the officials feel that as the winter advances, it will continue to become greater. It is with the hope of being able to meet at least a greater part of the demands that the drive has been decided upon.

Captain and Mrs. Everitt who came here to continue the good work of Captain Wright, are putting forth every effort to see to it that the traditions of the Salvation Army to provide aid to those in distress be carried out to the fullest of their ability.

So that the people of Plymouth might have some idea as to the work being carried on here, the Salvation Army officials have opened their reports to the public. During the month of October alone 158 garments were given the needy. There has been given out 22 pairs of shoes and the needs of 32 different families have been investigated. A few transients have been given night lodgings and meals. This was all during the past month.

During the past year 1038 families were visited by Army officials, 2571 pieces of clothing were given out, 994 pairs of shoes provided men, women and children and five tons of coal were provided to families that were in distress. Of the 50 who made applications for work to the Salvation Army, 24 men were placed on jobs, 14 women were provided employment.

In addition to its vast amount of charity work the Salvation Army is active in carrying on its religious and character building work among the young people. The Young People's Legion of the Salvation Army hold 18 meetings last year, with a total attendance of 1425. The Band of Love, another group of young people, held 40 meetings with a total attendance of 861. The Corps Cadet Classes held 314 meetings with an attendance of 314 and the regular Bible classes held 50 meetings last year with a total attendance of 2,577.

This in brief tells of the excellent work that the Salvation Army is conducting in Plymouth and why the Advisory Committee, composed of Plymouth business men, do not hesitate to ask for public support of the excellent work that the organization is conducting here.

Linotype machines, type and printers sometimes have a habit of doing strange things. Last week by error a "five per cent discount" line got into the wrong ad. As a result the Plymouth Mail said something about the Plymouth Lumber & Coal Company which was in error. This ad read a "five percent discount" on coal in certain amounts. The discount line belonged in another ad. Coal is being sold so cheap now that dealers are unable to offer a discount even if they wanted to.

Dinner or luncheon at the Garden Tea Room is a pleasure. Our food is appetizing and well-cooked, the prices reasonable. Treat yourself and family to a meal away from home at least once a week. Make your reservations now for Thanksgiving Dinner.

Complying with an invitation of Fred H. Schrader, members of the Michigan State Board of Embalmers, of which he has been a member for a great many years, met in Plymouth Thursday at the Mayflower hotel to make plans for the next state examination to be conducted by the board. It is probable that this examination will take place in Lansing some time in December. The last examination was held in June.

Meeting with Mr. Schrader and other members of the board were the officers and directors of the Michigan Funeral Directors Association.

It is interesting to note that Mayor Stebbins of Ionia, who has just been elected lieutenant governor of Michigan, was formerly one of the active officers of this association. Mayor Stebbins who is a well known Democrat was made a member of the board at the Mayflower yesterday.

Plymouth, always charitable and willing to give to any worthy cause, will not be found wanting Saturday. The clothing that will be collected should be clean and in good condition. Unfortunately as it may seem some of those that will receive it have nothing with which to repair articles that might require attention.

His Days Are Numbered

City Commission Grants Extension of Time For Payment of Taxes As An Aid To The Property Owners of Plymouth

The city commission has authorized the treasurer to collect taxes on the summer tax roll until January 10th, 1933. This new extension has been allowed because of the fact that it is necessary to hold the state taxes in the treasurer's office until the state, county and school taxes are returned to the county treasurer, which return is made after March 1st.

In setting up the annual city budget and balancing the revenues with the anticipated expenses it was estimated that 80 per cent of the city taxes would be collected. To the present time the city treasurer has collected 75.2 per cent of the amount paid. This means that in order to balance the budget as far as the revenue from taxes are concerned, it will be necessary to receive approximately 7.2 per cent more in tax collections before the date of return.

The city treasurer is now preparing the first winter tax roll to be collected by the city of Plymouth. Heretofore the winter taxes were paid to the township treasurer but in the future those payments, including state, county and school taxes, will be made at the city treasurer's office. The tax statements will be in the mail on or before December 1st.

The winter tax rates for 1932 are as follows: State, $3.47; County, $4.67; School, $12.90, making a total of $21.04. There will be no township tax spread inside the city, as the case before adopting the city form of government. Since the change to the city form, considerable reduction has been made in the taxes paid by property owners in the city of Plymouth. As soon as the tax roll has been completed a comparison of the taxes paid on several representative pieces of property will be made and published in the Mail in order that a direct comparison can be made with the taxes of 1932 and the taxes of previous years.

JAPANESE-KOREAN TEA HAPPY EVENT

About one hundred and fifty ladies took the opportunity Friday afternoon to attend the Japanese-Korean tea happy event given by one of the circles of the Methodist church under the chairmanship of Mrs. Miller Ross.

An attractive tea table is being planned where Mrs. Edson O. Huston and Mrs. Robert Reek will bring. Each member is privileged to pour a guest.

The joint committees are: Mrs. Robert D. Shaw, chairman; Mrs. Robert Willoughby; Mrs. Herald Hamill; Mrs. Robert Reek; Miss Nellie Giddie; Mrs. Martin Stringer; Mrs. E. E. Wilson; Mrs. Wm. R. Shaw and Mrs. Edson O. Huston; Mrs. F. E. Holbeck, chairman; Mrs. Henry Baker; Mrs. Clyde Bush and Mrs. C. E. Penney.

SNOW STORM TIES TRAFFIC

Automobiles Are Delayed By Heavy Fall Tuesday And Wednesday

Winter struck Plymouth with a vengeance Tuesday afternoon and night, and when the storm ended this entire portion of the state was buried under one of the heaviest falls of snow experienced in a year or so. Automobiles were stalled along the highway. Others slipped off by paying into ditches and it was a frequent sight to see machines being pulled out of snowbanks.

The wet, heavy snow shown packed to a starting point on the highways and it made going exceedingly dangerous. While numerous minor accidents took place, there were no reports of any serious injury.

Two nurses of the Maybury Sanitarium in driving home from Detroit, slipped over an embankment and one of the grand ladies was driven through the radiator and dash board, coming out directly between the occupants of the car. Neither were injured. The car was brought to Plymouth for repairs.

This is the third snowfall of the present year and much the heaviest. Predictions of an early and long winter by some of the weather prophets has so far been borne out.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

One of the most encouraging and satisfying things that has come out of the election that completely overthrew a national administration, has been the splendid spirit of good will and cooperation shown by business and civic leaders of the country, men who are members of the party that went down to defeat. This ideal spirit is clearly indicated in a telegram that Robert O. Lord, president of the Guardian group of banks in Michigan, wired to his executives a few days ago. There is so much good and so much inspiration in his telegram that it should be read by everyone. It follows:

"The election is behind us. It is now for each and every one of us no matter what our political party to concentrate our activities toward rebuilding the structure of industry. The foundation is already laid and the worst is unquestionably behind us. The Nation's financial institutions, including banks, for many years have supplied the motive power for industry, commerce and agriculture and are now prepared to do their part in the rebuilding. Much has been done of a constructive nature during the past year and much more will be done in the coming months toward increasing employment through the strengthening of the industrial, agricultural, financial, business and social fabric of the Nation. Economy in government whether national, state or local will help the situation in no small measure. Neither the Republican nor the Democratic nor any other party can do it all. It can only be done through the full cooperation of each and every one of us in increasing our efforts to serve the Nation, the State and the Community in which we live to the end that all shall share in the increased business which shall be brought about through their greater effort and through a united front. No nation on earth has such an opportunity as we in our wealth or in our natural resources. No nation has such man power nor such spirit to win. Let us not look back upon the three years gone by. We have learned a lot in these past years. Let us stop complaining and go forward with full confidence that the gains already made can be consolidated and carried further with the co-operation of the millions of people whose one and only aim is to pull us out of the depression and back on the highway of prosperity."

THE REPUBLICAN DEFEAT

Much has been said since election as to how and why the Republican party received the greatest defeat in its history, a defeat that can be regarded as nothing more than a public rebuke. Some have said it was the result of unrest and the dynamic campaign that the Democrats put up, that the Republican campaign amounted to nothing except the part that President Hoover himself played in it. Some editors and citizens declare that the defeat was the result of President Hoover and some of his policies.

We can agree with none of these explanations of the defeat. In the first place it was not a defeat by the Democratic party—it was a defeat of Republicans by Republicans themselves—a giant political party that went militant.

Militant because of the oil scandals that grew out of the Harding administration, militant because of the public treasons of the Albert Falls that had won high places through the Republican party long before Herbert Hoover became president of these United States, militant because of the use of high public office by Andrew Mellon to punish his enemies and reward his friends, militant because of a thousand and one other sins committed four, five, six, seven, yes eight and ten years ago. It has been a militant spirit that has been growing by leaps and bounds each year. Republican voters were out to punish some one and they have—even though it carried down to defeat President Hoover, one that did not commit any of the sins that caused the greatest uprising of voters in the history of the country.

We cannot help but believe that out of this royal house cleaning much good will come. The Republican party had become drunk with power. Some of its leaders thought it could do anything and make the public like it—but they have learned in a most emphatic way that the rank and file of the Republican party wants clean government, an economical government and one conducted for the benefit of the entire country and not the few.

The Republican party WILL return to power. Just how soon, that is another question. Much will depend upon the success of the Democrats in the handling of the problems of today. But when the Republican party DOES return to power, it has got to come back with a clean heart and a predominant spirit of public service and not of public plunder. Militant Republicans have made it clear just what they want and what they will do to get it. It is pretty clear that from now on party loyalty is going to depend almost entirely upon honorable party service to the nation. And let it be said if the new Democratic officials catch this spirit and live it, the Republicans are going to be a long time in winning back the public trust they lost because of arrogance, selfishness and greed.

THANKSGIVING AS A HOLIDAY

When thanks are offered up in countless homes throughout the country on Thanksgiving Day, the chances are remote that some small word of gratefulness will also be said for Sarah Josepha Hale.

The reason, of course, is that most people don't know it was Sarah Josepha Hale who made Thanksgiving a national holiday. This woman, who died only 52 years ago, has been forgotten by the present generation.

Everybody knows that Thanksgiving was originated by the Pilgrim Fathers in Massachusetts back in 1621. But it is not such common knowledge that the observance of the day had virtually passed out of existence at the time of the Civil War. At no time previous to this, for that matter, was the day celebrated universally.

Now Sarah Hale, who was doing some writing for the Ladies' Magazine, a Boston publication, thought her position enabled her to start a movement for the national observance of the holiday.

She was anxious to have the last Thursday in November set aside as a "common day for our whole nation to express and acknowledge that goodness beyond thought and as of power divine" which blesses the increase of the husbandmen, and keeps ward for the safety of the city.

For 20 years Mrs. Hale wrote editorials in her magazine and sent personal letters to governors and presidents with the persistence of a present-day publicity agent. Her efforts were rewarded finally when in 1863, President Lincoln decided to adopt her plan. He issued a proclamation appointing the last Thursday in November, 1863, "as the day of national thanksgiving."

Mrs. Hale took her triumph modestly. She wrote that she was "convinced that the general estimate of feminine character throughout the United States will be far from finding it an objection that this idea of American Union Thanksgiving was suggested by a woman." For, she added, "God gave to man authority; to woman, influence; she inspires and persuades. He convinces and compels. It has always been my aim to use my influence in this womanly way."

And Mrs. Hale used her womanly influence in other great causes. It was largely through her efforts that the Bunker Hill monument was elevated from a puny shaft of 40 feet to one of the most imposing war memorials in the country. She persuaded the women of New England to raise $50,000 for the purpose.

She inaugurated the plan for educating women for service in medical and missionary work in foreign lands. She also organized in Boston the Seaman's Aid Society, still going strong.

Mrs. Hale will also be remembered in connection with the popular jingle, "Mary Had a Little Lamb," which she either wrote or popularized. When the rhyme was included anonymously in an anthology of poetry she published, English critics contended it was English authorship. Mrs. Hale's son, however, said that his mother had definitely told him that she wrote the rhyme.

Born in Newport, N. H., October 24, 1788, she married when 25 David Hale, a prosperous lawyer. Nine years later she was left a widow with five children. It was then she went to work for the Ladies' Magazine which she successfully edited for nine years, when it was merged with Godey's Ladies' Book, published in Philadelphia.

It was while editing Godey's Book, the leading fashion publication of the day, that she won her fight for the establishment of Thanksgiving as a national holiday. She retired at the ripe old age of 89, and died two years later in Philadelphia.

NO TEARS SHED

When the news trickled through the mass of election returns last week that Auditor General O. B. Fuller had been defeated, as far as anyone knows, there was not a tear shed in Michigan. He had long held his job not through unusual efficiency or special ability for the place, but because of the sympathetic nature of a most benevolent people. He has by some of his political henchmen been called the "watch dog" of the treasury—about as inappropriate a misnomer in his case as ever given a public official. For years it has been the practice of the candidates of one party or faction to go to the auditor general's office and get one set of figures to prove a point. The other faction would run right to the auditor general's office and get another set of figures to make the first set appear wrong. That thing has happened time and time again, until figures from the auditor general's office became a mere laughing stock in a campaign. The scandal in connection with some of the expenditures in connection with the governor's conference a number of years ago and the sudden disappearance of certain records are all too fresh in the memory of the voters to need recalling. There is little need to say more. The militant Republicans of Michigan are to be congratulated upon retiring permanently this public official and electing John A. Stack, Jr., very worthy and honored citizen of the Upper Peninsula to take the place of one who has held public office 24 years longer than he should have been permitted to.

TALK OF A RECOUNT

The slight margin of a victory held by Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald over his Democratic opponent, a margin of less than 4,000 votes, has led to talk of a recount of the votes for this office. If it should take place it will not be the first time in Michigan history that there has been a recount of all state votes. The last one was in the primary election between Wilber Brucker and former Gov. Groesbeck. The margin of votes had given the former Governor a slight victory over Brucker, but announcement was made in Lansing that Brucker had won. A recount was held, a tremendous job. Votes were recounted by Brucker supporters and naturally the state election commission gave to Brucker the certificate of nomination, but even to this day there are thousands who firmly believe that Brucker never got the Republican nomination for governor in the first place. Even some of his checkers in the recount have since laughingly told about how ballots marked a certain way were counted for Brucker and ballots marked the same way for Gov. Groesbeck were thrown out. But of course no such thing will happen if a recount for the secretary of state's office should take place. Votes will be counted as they should be and there is not much question when so many thousands of people cut their ballots to support Secretary of State Fitzgerald that a recount would doubtless show a gain for him.

ELIJAH, THE PROPHET

The secret is out. Voters of Oakland county and the rest of the world now know why it was that Elijah (The Prophet) Howarth couldn't sleep nights two years ago during the Republican primary campaign. They know too why he button-holed men, women, children, the clean, unclean, half-wits and nit-wits and asked them all to vote against Alex J. Groesbeck for the Republican nomination for Governor. And they know now why he drew a long, deep breath when it was made known that the state board of canvassers had counted Groesbeck out. Why wouldn't any man who had penned checks against the pocketbooks of the taxpayers as Howarth did in the Grand Trunk deal be delighted to see the hands of one tied who would make impossible the thing that Howarth has been doing? No wonder Elijah couldn't sleep during the campaign. No wonder he was so de-lighted when the certificate of nomination was given to another.

As a prophet he knew what would happen if Alex Groesbeck returned to the governor's chair. Times and the Detroit News have revealed the fact that Elijah prophesied well. But the story is not yet ended. There is a day of reckoning coming. Elijah, and the state of Michigan is going to know the whole story you have written on the face of the taxpayer's check book.

THANKSGIVING

I thank Thee, Lord, for countless lovely things
 Tucked in each day—this very winter hour.
 Within the door, Suzanna sits at play,
 Rosy and sweet as any April flower.

And yesternight my heart was mute with thanks
 Finding no word its gratitude to say
 For just that quietness at vesper time
 When evening's curtain shuts the world away.

I thank Thee, Lord, for nameless lovely things
 Tucked in each day—for sunset and the sea
 And for that fairest thing I dreamed I lost
 But waking, found securely hid with Thee.

FEATURELAND

MEMORY TEST

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
 How we wonder who you are;
 We no sooner think we know
 Than you're off to this Ieno,
 Where the job is scarcely done
 E'er you've got another one;
 So the thrilling current news is You've gone and married Mr.
 Whoozisa.

WATCH YOUR WORDS

A careless word
 May kindle strife;
 A cruel word
 May wreck a life.

A bitter word
 May hate instill;
 A brutal word
 May smite and kill.

A gracious word
 May smooth the way;
 A jovial word
 May light the day.

A tender word
 May solace give;
 A cheering word
 May help one live.

A timely word
 May lessen stress;
 A loving word
 May heal and bless.

ON A PORTRAIT OF COLUMBUS

Was this his face and these the fading eyes
 That plucked a new world from the rolling seas?
 Who, serving Christ, whom most
 he sought to please Wielded his one thought until he saw arise
 Man's other home and earthly paradise—
 His early vision when with stalwart knees,
 He pushed the boat from his young
 olive trees,
 And sailed to wrest the secret of the skies?
 He on the waters dared to set his feet,
 And through believing planted
 earth's last race.
 What faith in man must in our
 new world beat,
 Thinking how once he saw before his face
 The west and all the host of stars retreat
 Into the silent infinite of space!

WISE OR OTHERWISE

In after years a man has a mighty poor opinion of a young man who likes to dance.
 Our idea of a real genius is one who invents a way to make a good living for his family.
 It's almost as hard for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven
 as it is for a poor man to break into the United States senate.

JUST HAVE FAITH

Though our lives seem dull and cheerless,
 Be the weather cold and gray,
 We can always find some comfort
 If we've only faith to pray.

For God is in His heaven,
 Ever ready to bestow
 Loving-kindness and forgiveness
 On His children here below.

If we only will be cheerful,
 Help our brother with his load,
 It will lighten many headaches
 As we walk life's winding road.

If you find some one has fallen,
 Do not spurn, but give him aid;
 Tell him of the Master's promise—
 Speak God's message, unafraid!

TRUTH IN A NUTSHELL

An honest man always keeps his credit a little better than his clothes.

A PRAYER

O Thou whose all-besetting care
 doth nourish every tender planting
 Of the love; make of us high-minded men, who know our duties and our rights as well, that, knowing both, we may rend the chain of every mocking tyranny that hinders freedom's sway. Increase in us respect for Sovereign Law,
 the constituted will of states, that
 She alone may sit enthroned, now crowning good and now repressing wrong, until dissolution at her bidding shrinks, and hiding his faint rays steals unperceived away, (give unto us these secret rewards that decorate the brave who scorn inglorious strife, that looking back at day's departing hour on every candle past we may meet life's perfect evening with a smile and hear the Lord's blessed words,
 "Well done!"

In The Wake of America's Greatest Political Storm--Republican Editors Of Michigan Offer Aid to the Victors

HAIL TO THE VICTOR! Hail to the President-Elect, Franklin D. Roosevelt!

A majority of the American people have spoken for another four years. Their collective voice may be summed up in these few words:

"We find ourselves, along with the rest of the world, paradoxically in the midst of want while in the midst of plenty. We feel that a change is imperative. If governments can do all that both major political parties declare they can, let's give the Democrats a chance to see if they cannot restore prosperity to the country."

Upon the economic issue, more than upon any other one, the election of November 8 was decided by our nation, we believe.

May President-Elect Roosevelt achieve, with the aid of a friendly Congress, every good and safe American objective he strives for. Now that the campaign is over, let us lay down the weapons of political combat and stand shoulder to shoulder in the good old American fashion of cooperation and mutual help.

To Herbert Hoover we extend our gratitude for a plucky effort to win the continued support and faith of the American people. Though he has suffered a political defeat, his devotion to his country will ever loom larger upon the pages of American history.

It is particularly fortunate for the country that both branches of the next congress are democratic. If Mr. Hoover in the estimation of the voters has failed, the whole economic problem is now squarely up to the democratic party.

The people of the United States have declared themselves for a "new deal" and they have obtained it by casting a record vote at the polls throughout the nation.

Today, when only a few curls and wisps of smoke remain from the fiery battle waged on Tuesday, it appears that only a few Republicans will be returned to office.

The Press is looking anxiously to the future with the majority of the electors. Democrats holding executive offices will have the full cooperation of legislative houses because of Democratic majorities.

There should be no alibis from the present administration. A man can always achieve more with friends working with him than he could if he had to fight troublemakers at every corner.

LET'S ALL STAND BACK OF PRESIDENT-- Election is now over and everybody should again be on the friendly best of terms. In fact, one of the characteristics of the American people is the ability to soon forget all differences, believe that what is possibly work out for good and let it go at that.

Democrats, republicans and socialists the day after election met and discussed "the day before" when the republican party went down to defeat in probably the most overwhelming vote ever cast by the American people.

It's now up to each and everyone of us to stand by President Hoover regardless of our attitude heretofore, until after he leaves office on March fourth, and with the advent of Gov. Roosevelt as president, stand back of him to the limit and assist in every way possible to accomplish the things so much desired by every American citizen--back to normalcy and prosperity.

The party split is to stand behind our President, regardless of person or politics. Remember he is our President, the one man who should be held in the highest respect, and the one whom every loyal, patriotic American citizen has elected himself to stand by and defend as far as one's conscience dictates to be right.

THE NEXT FOUR YEARS It is particularly fortunate for the country that both branches of the next congress are democratic.

Even so every true American will wish Governor Roosevelt and his party well. No living person ever faced a more crucial test. The "breaks" are more important in big politics than great issues.

Today, when only a few curls and wisps of smoke remain from the fiery battle waged on Tuesday, it appears that only a few Republicans will be returned to office.

There should be no alibis from the present administration. A man can always achieve more with friends working with him than he could if he had to fight troublemakers at every corner.

election against Republicanism, we realize that the United States is facing a serious, but not unquerable, situation, and that the cooperation of everyone is required to pull us quickly out of the rut and back on the broad highway of prosperity.

SPORTSMANSHIP We've been asked things without number "Well, how do you like it?" Like it, it's like the weather, anything we can't help, it is folly to grieve about.

It's now up to each and everyone of us to stand by President Hoover regardless of our attitude heretofore, until after he leaves office on March fourth, and with the advent of Gov. THE ELECTION Tuesday's election was a riot. In every state and nearly every county and district the depression won. The highest reversal in public opinion that has ever struck our nation ran rampant Tuesday.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles and lasting 3 weeks, I had often tried to reduce by dieting, but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Manton, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast, don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs a trifle—but don't take chances, be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at Mayflower Drug Co. or any druggist in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

HOME ECONOMICS GROUP HAS MEETING

The Newburg-Stark group of the Home Economic Extension Department, met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Grimm on Ann Arbor Trail, Thursday afternoon, November 10, for the study of clothing, with eleven ladies present.
A short business meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Raymond Grimm, after which the meeting was devoted to the lesson given by the leaders, Mrs. Fred Hearn and Mrs. Raymond Grimm.
Instructions were given on how to select the correct colors for the different types of person, also what styles were the most suitable to the wearer. The drafting of our own pattern was the next subject studied. Full information was given, then the members proceeded to take each others measurements and draft their patterns. Following this they were shown how to make a collar pattern of different styles which they might see. The lesson was very ably given and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.
The next meeting will be December 8, at two-thirty o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Thompson on the Plymouth road.

Thanksgiving

Facing the rigor of a northern winter in an unconquered wilderness with Indians and predatory animals roaming the surrounding forests, our Puritan ancestors took time from their labors to give thanks for their blessings.

These hardy men and women facing conditions which we can little realize, still found something for which to render thanks. Surely you and I, though times may seem hard and conditions serious, have many things for which to be thankful on this Thanksgiving Day.

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 13.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Eph. 4:23, 24): "And be renewed in the spirit of your mind; And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following: (p. 247) "Immortality, exempt from age or decay, has a glory of its own, the radiance of Soul, immortal men and women are models of spiritual sense, drawn by perfect Mind and reflecting those higher conceptions of loveliness which transcend all material sense."

Come to church regularly. Sunday school begins every Sunday at 9:30 a. m. Be sure to send your children on time.

The first special Christmas practice will be held Sunday afternoon, from 3 until 4. Children enrolled after the 27th of this month will not be admitted to take part in the Christmas program. Enroll your child now.

Are YOU planning to begin your Thanksgiving Day with prayer and praise to your God together with the other believers at your church? The day has no meaning if this is not included in your plans. Especially in this year of our Lord 1932, we should heed the proclamation of our president, who bids us consider the blessings which are ours through the agency of our nation's first president, George Washington. The fact that we dare assemble as our faith and conscience dictate is attributable to that great clause of the Constitution, guaranteeing to every individual in our domain the boon of an absolute separation of church and state, and thus giving him security and protection in worshipping God as he feels persuaded to do. Not to assemble in gratitude and supplication on such a memorable occasion is to tempt the Grace and Mercy of our God and to despise the blessed Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ most shamefully.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

"Daring" "expose" "ruthless" "frank" "forceful" are a few of the words used by preview critics in describing Columbia's forceful political picture, "Washington Merry-Go-Round," which will be seen at the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, November 20 and 21.

The story is a screen original by Maxwell Anderson, directed by James Cruze and featuring Lee Tracy and Constance Cummings, and is said to throw a revealing spotlight on the invariable government that binds and gags our lawmakers in Washington. Alan Dinehart has received no end of praise for his strong portrayal of a difficult "heavy" character. Walter Connolly, Frank Sheridan, Ernie Woods, Clay Clement and Arthur Vinton are others in the cast.

"THE BIG BROADCAST"

The nation's leading radio stars make their bow to the movie public in company with a cast of screen favorites in "The Big Broadcast," romantic comedy set against the background of a radio studio, which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, November 23 and 24.

Bing Crosby, air ace, with Stuart Erwin and Lella Hyams, screen players, head the cast of the production. Kate Smith, the Boswell Sisters, the Mills Brothers, Cab Calloway and his Orchestra, Vincent Lopez and his Orchestra, Burns and Allen, and Arthur Tracy (The Street Singer) head the radio cast.

The picture does not depend for its effectiveness on the mere presence of names, however. A definite plot holds it together.

ence of names, however. A definite plot holds it together.

"THE NIGHT CLUB LADY"

Thatcher Colt, that suave, cultured, handsome New York police commissioner who solves baffling murder mysteries in the popular Anthony Abbot books, comes at last to the screen in the person of Adolphe Menjou. His first appearance is in "The Night Club Lady," showing at the Penniman Allen Theatre Friday and Saturday, November 25 and 26.

This production is one of the most satisfying of the detective mystery pictures as yet shown. Somehow, it contrives to get across all the essential elements of suspense, mystery, horror and skillful detective work, and yet it does so in a subtle manner. In short, this is no stereotyped or formula detective picture.

Columbia provides an able supporting cast along with Menjou, including Mayo Merhot, Skeets Gallagher, Ruthelma Stevens, Blanche Friderici, Albert Conti, Greta Grandstedt, Nat Pendleton, William von Bricken, Niles Welch, Ed Brady and Gerald Fielding.

Deputy Springer Once Suspected The Dillons of Thefts

The slaying of two Oakland County officials by a suspected bank robber near Clarkston two weeks ago vividly recalled to Deputy Sheriff George Springer the fact that not over a year ago he was on the trail of these same Dillons for numerous thefts reported about the country here. In fact Deputy Springer drove over to the neighborhood where the bandit family lived during his investigation but at that time was unable to secure sufficient evidence on which to hold the Dillons for the thefts from farms around Plymouth. The tragedy which cost the lives of Under Sheriff Frank Greenan and Deputy Sheriff Harvey Todder of Oakland County and the death of a confessed bank robber, Ben Dillon, was enacted at a farm house seven miles north of Lapeer shortly before noon last Wednesday. It appears that Greenan who had been investigating the robbery of the Clarkston bank, which was accomplished by two men last July 16, had received a tip that one of the robbers could be found at a certain farm house which had recently changed ownership on a cash deal. In company with Deputies Todder and Chas. Hubbell, Sheriff Courter of Lapeer County and two officers of the Clarkston bank, Greenan went to the house.

Ben Dillon, aged 29, and his brother Scott aged 26, were at work in the yard. As the officers drove up one of the bank men cried out, "There is the man." Ben hid for the house and Scott for the woodshed. Todder and Greenan rushed the house. Todder received two charges in the chest from a pump gun in the hands of Dillon and died almost instantly. Greenan tried to wrest the weapon from Dillon and his arm was shattered by a third shot from Dillon's gun. Greenan then started around the house and was shot a second time when Dillon thrust the muzzle of his gun into his breast.

Such another shot was heard inside the house and Ben Dillon was found with part of his face torn away, whether by intention or by accident is not known. He died soon after being taken to the hospital at Lapeer. Greenan died shortly before noon at Mayville.

Scott Dillon was pursued and manacled by Hubbell without serious resistance. He and two women, Mrs. Claudia Dillon aged 52 years, mother of the Dillon brothers and Miss Marlan Halliday, aged 17 years, are in custody at Pontiac. Sheriff Courter used Miss Halliday as a shield when entering the house following the shooting.

Wife Always Late? Then Get Her to Be Member of This Club

Husbands attention! Do you ever have to wait for your wives? Then here is a golden opportunity at your door to get them to practice punctuality and like it. Urge them to join the Home Furnishings Club of Plymouth. This club has divided its membership into two teams, captained by Mrs. Wm. Petz of Blank avenue and Mrs. Glenn Newkirk of Main street. These ladies are enthusiastically attempting to lead their teams in a record of perfect attendance and punctuality for the entire course. The reward for the winners will be an entertainment furnished by the losers. In addition to this competition, the chairman, Mrs. F. W. Hoheisel of Blank avenue and her assistant, Mrs. Clara M. Hylkema, also of Blank avenue are planning some interesting surprises for the "early birds" of the club.

Keeping Many Parks Open All Winter

Fourteen of Michigan's State Parks will remain open through the winter months. The number of parks to continue open remains the same as during the 1931-32 winter season. The list of parks which will not close this fall are announced today by the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation as follows:

Bay City, Burt Lake, Bojze Bros. No. 4 at Cass Lake, Hartwick Pines, W. J. Hayes, Interlochen Island Lake, Muskegon Wilderness, J. W. Wells, East Warren, Fox Wilkins, Dodge Bros. No. 10, at Highland and Hooper State Park No. 2 at Rochester. In addition to these parks, the Muskegon Park in Chippewa County, under the administration of the Game Division, will continue accessible to the public during the winter.

Eight of the parks listed are district headquarters and will remain open since the district superintendent is a year-around employee. The district superintendent also makes periodic patrols of all other parks under his supervision to protect the state property.

The Dodge Bros. No. 10 Park in Oakland County was designated as an all year park to provide a place for winter recreation for people from Detroit and nearby cities.

Many of the state parks, especially in the northern part of the state, have proved increasingly popular during the winter months. Last winter, because of unusually mild weather, campers were registered every month, and there were picnic parties as late as December.

Other than normal maintenance work in the parks before next spring, it was stated.

In the parks open during the winter sufficient equipment is available to accommodate the visitors.

State Plans Work In State Parks and Forests For Dolers

Declaring itself as favoring "work relief" rather than "dole relief" the Michigan Department of Conservation, at the request of its committee for Trade Recovery has offered the use of $1,800,000 on construction work that would employ thousands of men.

The construction would include forest fire prevention, reforestation and state park work in 75 of the state's counties.

Of the $1,800,000 proposed to be spent, $1,417,216 would be labor compensation and $382,000 would be for equipment to be used in construction and maintenance on the various proposed projects.

"This unemployment project calling for the immediate employment of several thousand men would mean that for the first time in the history of Michigan, the State would be placed in a position to carry to completion many necessary tasks tending toward the wise rehabilitation and protection of its wild land resources," the resolution adopted by the Conservation Commission said.

The resolution pointed to the need for developing the recreational industry in the state and for preserving its natural resources; the need for an effective system of fire lines for removal of fire menace; for establishing and maintaining forest growth; and for the building up of its system of public parks, game refuges and public hunting grounds.

The Commission pointed out that the expenditure of almost two million dollars might easily save the state many times that amount in fire fighting costs. During the year 1931 the Department of Conservation had to spend $1,100,000 in fighting forest fires. Had such prevention work as is now proposed been done prior to that time, possibly hundreds of thousands of dollars would have been saved to the taxpayers for that one year.

Under its proposal the Department of Conservation would spend $874,500 on forest fire prevention construction work; $335,020 in forestry work and $267,000 on state park work and construction.

It is proposed to obtain the funds through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Former Resident of Plymouth Votes Even Though She is Blind

The many friends of Miss Louise Markham, for years a resident of Plymouth, residing on the east side of Holbrook avenue, and a sister of William Markham who had much to do with the early days of air gun manufacture, will be interested in the following item taken from a Detroit newspaper: Miss Louise Markham, who is blind, cannot hear and is 92 years old, took a taxi to the voting booth morning and cast her ballot for President Hoover.

Then, bowed up by what she had done, she dismissed the car

Little Stories for Bedtime by Thornton W. Burgess

"I suppose it must be so if you say so," replied Lightfoot, "but suppose I don't know what all this fuss is about?"

Peter grinned. Then he began at the beginning and told Lightfoot all about Mr. and Mrs. Quack and the awful dangers they must face on their long journey to the far away Southland and back again in the spring, all because of the heartless hunters with terrible guns. Lightfoot listened and his great soft eyes were filled with pity for the troubles of the Quack family.

"I hope they will get through all right," said he, "and I hope they will get back in the spring. It is bad to be hunted by men at one time of the year, as no one knows better than I do, but to be hunted in the spring as well as in the fall is more than twice as bad. Men are strange creatures. I do not understand them at all. None of the people of the Green Forest would think of doing such terrible things."

I suppose it is quite right to hunt others in order to get enough to eat, though I am thankful to say that I have never had to do that, but to hunt others just for the fun of hunting is something I cannot understand at all. And yet that is what men seem to do it for. I guess the trouble is they never have been hunted themselves and don't know how it feels. Sometimes I think I'll hunt one some day to teach him a lesson. What are you laughing at, Peter?"

"At the idea of your hunting a man," replied Peter. "Your heart is right, Lightfoot, but you are too timid and gentle to frighten any one. Big as you are, I wouldn't fear you."

With a single swift bound Lightfoot sprang out in front of Peter. He stamped his sharp hoofs, uttered his handsome hiss and sniffed the sharp points of his horns pointed straight at Peter, lifted the hair along the back of his neck, and made a motion as if to plunge at Peter. His eyes, which Peter had always thought so soft and gentle, seemed to flash fire.

"Oh!" cried Peter in a very faint, frightened-sounding voice, and leaped to one side before it entered his foolish little head that Lightfoot was just pretending.

Lightfoot chuckled. "Did you say I couldn't frighten anyone?" he demanded.

"I didn't know you could look so terribly fierce," stammered Peter. "Those horns look really dangerous when you point them that way. Why—why, what is that hanging to them? Have you been tearing somebody's coat. Lightfoot?" Peter's eyes were wide with wonder and suspicion.

"It's awful," declared Peter. "It's worse than unfair. It doesn't give them any chance at all."

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

When friends plan parties and other good times, often "on the spur of the moment", they usually turn to the telephone to invite the "crowd". For telephoning is the easiest and quickest way. As a result, those without telephones miss many good times.

A telephone costs surprisingly little... only a few cents a day. It helps in finding employment. It is a social and business aid. And it is PRICELESS PROTECTION IN EMERGENCIES, enabling you to summon doctor, fireman, or police instantly, day or night.

Just one telephone call in an emergency may be worth more than the cost of the service for a lifetime.
