

TOWNSHIP AND CITY DISCUSS FUND DIVISION

City To Be Paid Many Thousands By The Township In Near Future

As the result of an understanding reached at a joint meeting of the Plymouth city commission and the Plymouth township board last week, the township treasurer will soon pay over to the city of Plymouth nearly $8,000 in cash due the city from the township, and as soon as the money is received another possible $7,000 or $8,000, which represents a balance the city claims in excess of the first $8,000.

The exact amount due the city from the township is being determined by auditors who have been engaged by the two governments, but from the discussion at the meeting, it is apparent that the amount will probably eventually total anywhere from $14,000 to $16,000. City Manager Cookingham says the total is somewhere near $15,000 although Supervisor Charles Rathburn indicated at the meeting that it would not be as high as the city officials state.

This division of funds comes as the result of Plymouth having voted last spring to become a city. The township had collected in its regular course of business a considerable portion of tax under the old system.

In order to bring about an equitable division of funds, auditors first fixed the basis of value in the city and in the township, the city being credited with 75 per cent of the total value of the township before the division of the governmental units.

Figured upon this basis the township will pay to the city as soon as the auditors have completed their work, something like $4,305 from the township general fund.

The city will pay to the township $1,400 or thereabouts as the result of a deficit in the township poor fund before Plymouth voted to become a city and for which Plymouth is responsible in proportion to the amount agreed upon.

The township will pay the city from the highway fund $146 and from the highway improvement fund $285. The amount to be paid from the library fund has not yet been determined by the auditors. The city's share from accounts receivable is around $908.

While the equipment of the highway department has not been finally appraised, the city's share from this will probably amount to something like $315, say city officials.

The city's share of delinquent taxes yet to come back to the township from the county treasurer's office is around $8,366. This amount will be paid into the city treasury as rapidly as it is received by the township from the county. There are two items that are in dispute and for which the officials will probably seek legal instruction. It is pointed out that in 1928 the township levied on the village a highway improvement tax of $1,642 and in 1929 for the township highway repair tax a sum of $3,650.

City Manager Cookingham stated at the meeting that these amounts should never have been assessed against the village, that the law provides that they shall be assessed only in that portion of the township outside the village limits.

The city is asking for the return of these two amounts but Supervisor Rathburn stated that they were levied with the knowledge and consent of the voters of the village of Plymouth who attended the town meetings and that he does not believe that the township should be asked to pay for these amounts. Members of the city commission are not fully agreed as to whether the demand for this amount should be pressed. There is another item that the auditors have not yet decided upon and that is the excess tax roll collected by the township, Supervisor Rathburn states that these amounts have each year been turned over to the general fund and should not be considered as separate items. The excess tax collected in 1931 was $1,037, in 1930 it amounted to $746 and in 1929 it was $734. These are matters that the auditors are still working on and by the end of another week or so it is probable that the township and city will have the division of funds fully worked out.

Besides members of the city commission who were present at the meeting the township was represented by Supervisor Rathburn, Township Clerk Harry Miller and Justices William Webber and Walter Poole.

About fifty Plymouth people were in Detroit Sunday evening where they attended the Whitefield Methodist church and the Methodist Choral society of the local church repeated the "Living Pictures" shown in Plymouth some time ago. Bringer was served to them following the program.

January the society will repeat their program at the Methodist church at Hartland.

Another style show in Plymouth through arrangements just made by the Esther Shoppe on Penniman avenue, there will be a showing of dinner dresses this evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. All garments will be displayed on living models.

Everyone is invited to this display tonight. For the special showing, a large number of dresses have been received direct from the factory. The shipment is one of the largest ever brought to Plymouth by a local store.

A special invitation is issued to all the ladies of Plymouth and vicinity to be present at this interesting showing this, Friday, evening, beginning at 7 o'clock.

STAMPING CO. HAS BIG GAIN IN BUSINESS

Every Month Shows Increase—Future Prospects Are Most Promising

Business gains for the Plymouth Stamping company for the month of November has been 50 percent over the month of October—and the month of October showed a gain of nearly 100 percent over September.

That in brief is the present day story of one of Plymouth's newest industries.

Not only do the past three months show a remarkable increase, but indications are that December will far exceed the records of every other month the company has been in business, according to Albert Curry, president and treasurer of the company.

This new manufacturing plant occupies the big building formerly used by the King Air Rifle company.

"We have increased our force and if business keeps on growing during the next few months as it has during the entire fall, we will be required to add more men early in the new year," stated Mr. Curry.

Metal stampings are being produced by this company for the Tinker Detroit Axle company, the Golden Patent Manufacturing company of Ypsilanti, the Geneser Manufacturing company of Detroit and several other concerns.

Over 1000 radios are being made each day, that is all the metal parts for that many machines, for the International Radio company of Ann Arbor. This concern makes the popular Kadette radio.

John C. Hooper is vice-president of this company and C. E. Moore is secretary and assistant treasurer. All of the officials are highly pleased with the development of the business especially in these times.

THREE ROOF FIRES DAMAGE RESIDENCES

Three fires, all caused by sparks falling on dry roofs, gave the fire department plenty to do during the past few days. The first call came Saturday from 677 Mill street, the roof of the house owned by William Naoum having caught fire from a spark. The damage to this place was only about $10.

A Sunday afternoon fire in a house owned by Matt Powell, 488 West Ann Arbor street, suffered the greatest loss. The damage to this place runs between $500 and $600. The fire had made considerable progress before being discovered.

On Monday the residence of Lida Hayward at 650 South Main street caught fire in the same way but was extinguished by the department before it had done much damage.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schroder spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Girwood at Henderson.

Use Western Union Telegraph Service

Use the Western Union! Help Plymouth keep its downtown office of the telegraphic service by giving it your patronage! That is the plea being made in Plymouth today. Do not telephone messages to some other company, and if you receive messages by some other telegraphic company, request that Western Union service be used.

The Western Union company is the only telegraphic organization maintaining an office in Plymouth. For that reason see to it that

BOTH LEGS BROKEN IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Harold Nage is rapidly recovering in Detroit from injuries that were received in an automobile accident last Saturday. In company with several others he was driving to Cleveland to attend a meeting of hotel managers. As they neared Cleveland their machine was wrecked when it slipped on the icy paving and crashed at the side of the windshield and besides receiving serious head injuries, both legs were broken and he is suffering from a number of broken ribs. At first it was feared his injuries would prove fatal. He was brought to the Detroit Leland hotel Wednesday, where he is assistant manager, and will probably be confined to his room there for a number of weeks.

PYTHIANS TO PRESENT FARCE

Members of the Plymouth Knights of Pythians lodge are making plans to present a snappy radio revue, the cast to be composed entirely of local residents. The dates fixed for this interesting event are December 24 and 25 and the Masonic temple has been secured for the show.

This revue will be presented in the form of a farce broadcast, the scene laid in a broadcasting station, and a real microphone. You may expect plenty of laughs; and you will see your favorite radio star horseshod by your local people.

There will be peppy choruses made up of high school girls and boys who will sing and dance the latest musical hits, blackface comedians, and oh, just wait until you see that clever sketch, "A Scene in 1930," made up of men only. It will all be staged on Dec. 14-15. Listen to your radio every day now for the director of the Revue will be in town soon, and you want to be all set with the language of radio land."

This will be a National Community Broadcasters production.

Announcement is made of the sale of the Plymouth hotel and restaurant by Mr. and Mrs. Mattison to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wallace, well known Plymouth residents. The transfer of the place took place Thursday, December 1st and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace are now in possession of the place.

Mr. Wallace, who has been associated with the Allison Automobile agency for a number of years, plans to remain with Mr. Allison, but Mrs. Wallace will be in charge of the hotel and restaurant.

They plan numerous improvements and will have an announcement to make soon about their future meals and service.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattison have not announced their plans for the future. They have been associated with the hotel for the last few years. The business is not new to either Mr. or Mrs. Wallace as they have had considerable experience in the past in this line of work.

When writing friends or concerns that you do business with, simply suggest to them that they help Plymouth by using the Western Union service.

PLAN TO BRING OLD SANTA TO EVERY CHILD

"Cheerbringers" Raising Funds For Worthy Use At Christmas Time

Christmas cheer for every home in Plymouth and vicinity is that is the exceedingly worthy objective members of the "Cheerbringers" have set as their goal.

The "Cheerbringers" are a group of service men from the Ex-Servicemen's club working with a group of public spirited citizens to bring together each Christmas in one large informal family party all the home folk of this and the surrounding community. The project has a three-fold purpose not the least of which is to re-introduce ourselves to our neighbors, and to prove to him and to ourselves that to bring cheer into other lives, our lives are made more cheerful.

The primary purpose of course is to bring a little cheer into little lives, the unfortunate children who might otherwise wake up this Christmas morn and in a tiny shivering voice reflecting a tiny quivering soul whose faith in Santa had not until now, wavered, say "Mummy is Santa forgotten?"

The third purpose is to provide a fund with which the Ex-Servicemen's club throughout the year provides aid to its own comrades' families and to meet the demands of the General Welfare Committee.

Bring a little "cheer" to yourselves and a lot of "cheer" to your less fortunate neighbors by purchasing from any Ex-Serviceman, as from any of the members of the Citizens Committee and your local merchants, one or more tickets to the "Cheerbringers" dances on Friday evening Dec. 10, 1932 at 8 p. m. at Masonic Temple, Jewell and Birch Hall and Oddfellow Temple.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH TO PRESENT PLAY

"School Daze" will be presented at St. Johns Episcopal church, Wednesday evening, December 7 at 8 o'clock.

Imagine Ruth Michell taking the part of Ella Smith, the mischievous school girl, and think of Gar Evans taking the part of Reginald Cooper, a sly.

Mrs. A. Innis assumes the name of White Rose, the colored girl, while Mrs. Stacia is just too cute as the tom-boy.

Think of Al Innis as the hard-bodded character, Steve Clark, and Mrs. Evans as the foolish school-boy, Tom Brown.

Others in the cast include Sidney Strong, Mrs. Parker, Ted Baughn, June Nash, Ernest Henry, Mrs. Birchall, Mr. and Mrs. Gladman and Ben Stuart.

How do you know that Mrs. Vateck is a school marm? Just look at the class she has.

The proceeds will be used for new vestments for the church choir.

BOY SCOUTS COURT OF HONOR DEC. 8

The fall Court of Honor for Plymouth district, consisting of the several Scout troops from Newburg, Rosedale Gardens, Northville, Wayne County Training School, and Plymouth will be convened promptly following the half-hour concert by the Plymouth High school and at the Plymouth High school auditorium Thursday evening, December 8th at 7:15 p. m.

This is the occasion when the parents and friends of Scouts enjoy the real satisfaction of seeing how many merit badges have been

CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CHECKS HELP PLYMOUTH BUSINESS

Sale of Christmas Seals. Seek Record

At a luncheon meeting at the Nurses Home of the Detroit Tuberculosis sanitarium Thursday, November 17th, Mrs. Charles A. Bull, local chairman of the Christmas Seal sale for the past several years, was one of the twenty-three chairmen present.

In the interest of economy the Bulletin was not published last February but a statement of the last years drive in the county was given to the chairman and is as follows:

Belleville, $35.00; Brighton, $125.18; Dearborn, $1,120.49; Ecorse, $88.02; Flat Rock, $38.40; Gibraltar, $13.32; Grosse Ile, $71.94; Grosse Pointe, $334.06; Hamtramck, $425.50; Highland Park, $489.82; Inkster, $93.75; Lincoln Park, $142.05; New Boston, $37.25; Northville, $137.31; Plymouth, $359.07; Redford, $385.93; River Rouge, $187.90; Rockwood, $60.00; Romulus, $45.55; Trenton, $148.14; Wayne, $172.72; Wyandotte, $77.24. Total, $5,254.26. Plymouth again maintained a high average of sales as in the past.

The Christmas seal sale in Plymouth will be carried out as in former years, the sale starting soon after Thanksgiving and continuing until Christmas.

Supr. George A. Smith each year carries on a splendid work when with the aid of the Plymouth teachers an intensive one day drive is arranged giving each child in the Plymouth schools an opportunity to help with the seal sale. Mr. Smith will arrange this drive again this year.

Money raised in Wayne County is used for the support of charity and part-pau patients in the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanitarium and the Leland After-Care Farm; for educational work and to run the Christmas Seal Summer Camp, to which delicate children are sent.

This year another work has been undertaken—that of examining pupils in high schools. Tuberculin tests are given, and when indicated, X-rays taken. It is among this group, according to Dr. Tanny, K. Sturdy, president of the sanitarium, that the disease is making the greatest headway.

The following committee members will assist Mrs. Bull in the work: Mrs. Alta Woodworth, Mrs. F. M. Carley, Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. George Burr, Mrs. Robert Shaw and Mrs. F. R. Hohndel.

PLAN BENEFIT FOR CHILDREN

Kiwanis Ladies Invite All To Play Bridge On Tuesday Evening

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, ladies of the Kiwanis are planning a public bridge benefit to take place at the Mayflower hotel. They are exceedingly anxious to have a large turnout as the club is in need of a considerable sum of money to take care of its Christmas plans.

The Kiwanis ladies plan to provide a dinner at the Mayflower hotel on Christmas day for all the boys and girls in Plymouth who might otherwise be overlooked.

The names of the youngsters will be provided by the welfare committee and great care will be exercised in securing the names. The club members desire to bring as much happiness at Christmas time as possible to these youngsters, and it is because of the many that the committee knows it will be necessary to take care of that it is anxious to raise as much money as possible.

The following committee of Kiwanis ladies have in charge the affair for Tuesday night: Mrs. Ernest Allison, Mrs. Harold Brisley, Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Perry Hethcote, Mrs. Miller Ross and Mrs. James Sessions.

It is their desire that as many as possible be present Tuesday evening. The invitation to the bridge party is a public one and it is hoped that a considerable sum will be raised.

William Streng was the guest of Mrs. Kate Fisher of Detroit Wednesday of last week. Thursday morning they attended the Hope Evangelical Lutheran church, later having dinner at the Fred Fisher home. On Friday and Saturday Mr. Streng visited at the homes of Mrs. Christina Streng, Rev. Kieser and family, Misses Mary and Kate Streng, Harold Fisher and family, Lawrence Oak and family and Mrs. Mary Saddock.

COOKINGHAM HEADS IMPORTANT GROUP

City Manager Perry Cookingham has been notified by the Michigan Municipal League that he has been selected as chairman of the committee on public utilities for the state. This is the most important committee of the organization as it has to do with one of the subjects that every community in the state is interested in.

Mr. Cookingham spent a part of Thursday in Lansing meeting with the committee for the purpose of outlining the work for the coming year. Other members of the group are David E. McLaughlin, city attorney, Saginaw; Charles A. Hamilton, director of public service, Grand Rapids; H. E. Allen, supt. dept. of municipal service, Wyandotte; Joseph E. Mills, general manager, Street Railway Commission, Detroit; T. Fred Older, city engineer, Ypsilanti; James R. Pollock, director of public works and utilities, Flint.

Already the two banks have opened their Christmas Savings accounts for next year and several have taken advantage of the opportunity to start their new Christmas savings.

It is interesting to note that four hundred and forty million dollars is being distributed to about ten and one half million members of the Christmas club by more than seven thousand banking institutions and organizations according to an estimate given out by Herbert E. Rawl, president of the incorporated organization, Christmas club.

The average amount received by each member amounts to $42. While this figure represents a reduction on what was compared with a year ago, the buying power of $42 this year, in the terms of Christmas spending, is greater than the average amount received by each member in 1931. Considered from another angle, if all the cash in circulation in this country last year were evenly divided among our total population of 129,000,000 people, each person would have about $40 in the pocket cash. While every member of the Christmas club, on the average, has accumulated in nickels, dimes and dollars, during this year, a sum of $42.

An optimistic expression is found in many reports from all sections of the distribution of more than one hundred million dollars in cash within the next two weeks will add a terrific impetus to a revived urge for constructive and useful purchases on the part of families that have discarded a paralyzing fear that the worst is yet to come.

Deputy Sheriff George Springer who was chief of police of Plymouth a few years ago when Officer Peter O'Rourke of New York City was shot by three thugs out on the Plymouth road, is featured in a widely read issue of Time magazine. The article is fully illustrated and has a picture of numerous prominent New York city officials and a snapshot of Deputy Springer.

The account of the crime is probably a more detailed account of it than anything ever published before. Also that he gives Deputy Springer full credit for the part he played in helping clear up this crime that will stand as one of the most brutal in the history of Michigan.

Membership declined about 12% compared with the previous year but the number of gainfully employed workers throughout the country shows even a larger decrease for the same period.

Member banks, reporting uniformly predict an increase in Christmas Club activities for 1933 as a result of greatly improved conditions in the country.

It is gratifying to the management of the Christmas Club that the distribution indicates a larger percentage of the fund will be used for constructive purposes this year than previously.

The inception of the plan and twenty-two years ago anticipated the need of providing an easy method of systematically accumulating funds for the specific purposes of Christmas requirements. Its sponsors, however, in the creation of the plan, were mindful of the need of moderate means in encouraging small weekly deposits for constructive use.

Thousands of dollars were turned into the trade channels of Plymouth last Saturday by the Plymouth United Savings bank and the First National bank of Plymouth when they mailed out hundreds of Christmas Savings club checks.

People who have kept up their weekly payments during the entire year were delighted at the receipt of their savings plus the computed interest.

Surprising as it may seem, a considerable portion of the money was returned to the regular savings funds, in fact in some cases the Christmas Savings checks were immediately deposited in regular savings. Others saved out a portion of the money with which to do their Christmas shopping.

President Charles A. Fisher of the Plymouth United Savings bank, who was most recently surprised at the total amount of savings that had been made during the last year in the Christmas savings fund, in view of prevailing conditions. A similar statement was made by President Hubert of the First National.

TRADITION

"You built it, I simply pointed it out." That was what Ralph Cannon, former Notre Dame football star wrote to Fielding H. Yost recently when Coach Yost had complimented Mr. Cannon upon an article he wrote for the Chicago News lauding the high tradition of the University of Michigan. The article, a sports commentary, appeared in The Chicago Daily News as follows:

There must be something in this tradition, at that. Two teams, Ohio and Indiana, went into the Big Ten track meet at Evanston Saturday with better prospects of winning than Michigan, yet both failed just where their greatest strength seemed to lie, while once more the Wolverines fought through. And the interesting thing about it was that it was the Michigan mediocrities and unknowns that rose to the occasion. Hill, Wolfe, Ellerby and Moiso—they were the boys who turned the trick.

Their fine feats go into the great stream of Michigan tradition. They ran not for themselves, with only their own legs and lungs, but for the great Michigan family, knowing that all had their eyes on them, expecting them to come through like brothers of a notable line.

One sees the same thing in Notre Dame football. First there is sound and complete technical training; then there is this responsibility to a great host that helps an athlete go "over his head." Rockne knew what he was talking about when he said: "Enthusiasm creates momentum."

It is not just chance that few Michigan athletes and few Michigan teams are ever really poor. They may suffer a day off form, just like Bobby Jones or Babe Ruth, but over the route, no matter it seems, who's in the lineup, they're always in there playing the game, with intelligence, with courage and with that fine resilient will to win that grows out of a long strain of winners.

We all remember the day Grange ran over Michigan; but do recall as well that the next year Michigan came back with Friedlman and whipped Grange? That has been forgotten; but it has not been lost. It counted just the same in strengthening this mystic and strange emotional current that for want of a better name we call tradition and that, like the somatic cell, persists through generations.

And so that meet Saturday, while it goes up as just the Wolverines' twelfth outdoor title, and a disappointment and failure for Keller of Ohio and Beecher of Indiana, means more than merely No. 12 for Michigan. It means that the younger members of the family still have the strain of conquerors, that the faith is still being kept. It is important that this is true not only for the outstanding stars like Russell, whose stretch struggle with Fuqua in the 440 was the peak of the day, but also for the "common run" of boys, the boys like Hill, Wolfe, Ellerby and Moiso, who are able to go out there and place, when placing means winning.

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

The politically forgotten man is James J. Walker, former mayor of the city of New York now in Europe.

Chief executive of the largest metropolis in the United States and idol of a multitude of people, for seven active years no person ever stood more clearly or persistently in the spotlight. Yet now, from the windows of a suite in a Manhattan hotel, he looks down upon "the sidewalks of New York"—politically out of the picture.

Sometimes wearily he listens to those who want him to write, to broadcast, to ally himself with business enterprises. He seems tired and disillusioned.

"That's out," he says, speaking of politics. "I'm through with that forever. Over 20 years of holding public office is enough. I never realized the load I carried until I laid it down."

Mr. Walker's indifference drops from him like a cloak, however, when some one speaks of some speech he once made or some turning point of a crucial campaign. Something lights inside his eyes, and his figure straightens. Keep to the subject, and before long he is on his feet, talking and gesticulating with all his old time eloquence and with all his ancient charm.

Actively, he may or may not return to the game, but it is doubtful whether thousands of persons who are too busy working to stand around and talk really have forgotten him.

The remembered tramp of the voters' marching feet will always animate him and light, for an instant, his face with the old time glow. To a soldier whose life mainly has been amid the crash and thunder of war, peace is very restful but very tame, his friends pointed out.

GIVE US A CHANCE

Society is making a serious blunder in assuming that any one with an education should immediately step into an executive position at a large salary.

Thousands of young men and young women have graduated from our colleges and high schools within the last two years and are still unemployed. They can hardly be blamed for the economic situation as they find it. They see older men and women with years of experience walking the streets. Can we expect youth to work when there is no opening for them? They are not lazy.

Let us play fair with youth. They have ambitions and dreams. Give them a chance to make good. They are not licked before they have an opportunity. And if they don't do exactly as others think they should remember it is their own life. And please don't walk up to them and contemptuously inquire: "What are you doing these days?"

FRIENDSHIPS

Friendships today seems not to be like those of former days—they partake too much of the superficiality of modern life. Besides, we forget the admonition of the sage of old who said:

"Go often to the house of thy friend, for weeds choke up the unused path."

Yet whether the superficiality of present-day life or paths unused because of demands on our time, friendships are of no less value to all of us, for—

"A friend is a bank of credit on which we can draw supplies of confidence, counsel, sympathy, help, and love."

And without these what is life?

They are procurable not with gold nor with any other coin save that of friendship—the friendship we give.

Friendships are blessings continually enriching life and at its close bringing to us great satisfaction.

RING DOWN THE CURTAIN

Up until the time he began injecting comment about great and important public issues into his column Will Rogers' daily paragraphs were frequently funny. They contained some common sense along with the humor. But since the millionaire cowboy has started wise-cracking about national and international problems of such tremendous importance to this and all other nations, the public just naturally resents it. That this attitude is not merely local is reflected in the editorial comment of several papers throughout the state. If Mr. Rogers desires to maintain the high estimation in which he is held by the public, it would be well for him to eliminate funny comment about some of the critical issues of the times.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

KILLING THE GOOSE ETC.

East Jordan people awaking to the fact that they were about to lose their railroad, are now stirring themselves to throw all their hauling business to the railroad instead of by truck, but are imagining that awakening has come too late and the same thing will some day come true to our city. The business we are now entrusting to the trucks has already cut down our railroad employees to a very small number, and the next thing we know will be a permit issued to the railroad company to discontinue their lines in our city. Then perhaps, and not until then, will we be jarred out of our passive and selfish position. —Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

MEANING MRS. J. E?

We're wondering how it comes about that so many Michigan editors are getting religion, for the prayers some of them publish would lead us to think the millennium is drawing nigh.—J. E. McMillen in The Linden Leader.

HELPING YOUR TOWN

Your favorite daily paper does not promote the home town or your neighborhood. Your home town weekly does these things.—James Haskins in The Howard City Record.

IONIA NEWS

We just looked over the results of the voting in Westphalia township, Clinton county, last week. Some 550 ballots were cast. 185 being straight Democratic. Some burgher must have got erratic as the day wore on, for we find Mr. Hoover received 16 votes, which is too many votes for a Republican in that township. Backwards a few years in the flight of time they were counting the ballots one night following election; the election inspectors came across a second Republican ballot. "By the dom cuss must have been a repeater," said the chairman of the election board as he cast it into the discard.—Chester Howell in The Chesaning Argus.

TWO KINDS OF LOBBYING

Drew Pearson, former Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, and Bob Evans, occupying a former similar job for the Christian Science Monitor, are the now acknowledged authors of "Washington Merry Go Round" and "More Merry Go Round." Pearson was lecturing in Detroit last week and among things he discussed were two types of lobbying. One of them is the secret alliances that bankers and industrialists carry on with members of Congress, the other is the open kind resorted to by such groups as the bonus army. Pearson told his audience that the secret kind of lobbying is the most pernicious, because it is done under cover. We wonder if Pearson's convictions are not based upon his personal experiences as an anonymous co-author of the two books he and Evans wrote.—George Averill in The Birmingham Economic.

FEATURELAND

ADVENTUROUS RELIGION

And what shall I more say? for the time would fall me to tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephtha; of David also, and Samuel and the prophets; who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, waxed mighty in war, turned to fight the armies of aliens. —Hebrews 11:32-34.

MY TOWN

By Rev. Dr. Henry H. Crane, Methodist Minister

"I like my town for all the obvious reasons—and for some others not so evident, perhaps. I like this city for the problems it presents—big, real, hard, discouragingly difficult problems. In a world like this where there is so much suffering and sorrow, I don't want to live in a pretty, pluk paradise where everybody is pretending 'all's well with the world.' The life of fatty degeneration, of the soul in such a place, where there's a struggle I want to be there to do my share, no matter how paltry it may be. Where there are problems I want to take hold and wrestle my little bit, even if I can't solve them all. At least there's a mighty chance to grow—and that's what life is all about, I think.

"I like my town for the diversities there are—wide, wonderful differences everywhere. Sameness softens me. Uniformity, anaesthetizes me. Regimentation ruins me. I don't want to be with 'my kind of people' all the time! I want to be with 'all sorts and conditions of men.' Different colors, different creeds, different classes; different races, different religions; these appeal to me tremendously. They all teach me so much, and do me so much good. My pet prejudices begin to disappear. My irritated highness become ugly and make me ashamed. I can't help but be more human.

"I like my town for the vigor of the place. There's nothing anaemic, placid or mealy weak in the people. Even when they sin they do it vigorously—and that's better than being petty and pusillanimous and pussyfooting about it. There's some hope of redemption where there's vitality. But when these fellow citizens of mine are virtuous! When they set themselves to do something great and good! When they determine to work for the welfare of each other! When they tackle a job for God—I have never seen them fail!

"So I like my town for all she is—and most of all, for all she is to be!

"For here I meet my friends— My living breathing fellows— And we walk and think and work together.

And bless and hurt each other every day.

Here I see great men sometimes small

And small men sometimes great.

And out of all her ugliness Great beauty grows.

And so I live in Paradise. Right here."

THE TORCH LIGHT WITHIN

Many a tolling inventor, called impractical by his neighbors, is driven on and on by a force within himself which he can neither define nor wholly understand.

Not money, not fame, not the longing for power urge him to his task. He carries on almost without will of his own as though directed to fixed objectives. It is as necessary for him to love his experiments and researches as it is for a mother to love her child. While he develops only a thing, and she a living, pulsating being, nonetheless the devotion to the thing bears some resemblance to inspired emotions of human service because it is related to the ideal.

I think the best things that have happened in this world have been an outgrowth of the desire to do good and great work, without immediate concern for the cash involved. That desire flamed in the heart of Father Damien, who went to live and die with the lepers. It stirred in the brain of Pasteur; it dwelt with Lincoln; it fired Henry George and Gandhi, whether one looks with favor or disfavor on their visions. And someone has said that it can be seen in certain people who are manufacturing shoelaces, plumbers' supplies, peanuts, suburban plots; or in medicine, law, social service and politics. At its highest, one remarks an almost holy ardor, at its least, it gives a good show shine and a careful haircut.

This white beam of sincere doing without counting the percentage is the power luck of all progressive impulse. Without it, few who are in the swift of life, discover success or catch even a fleeting glimpse of its court falls.

A PRAYER

With the boldness of love and with humble confidence, we wait in this quiet moment. Heavenly Father, Thy chastisements have been most merciful. Come to our rescue, if we are weak and overborne; and if we are captive, release us and become our Redeemer. Be pleased, O God, to remember us, and may everything that is holy and pure rule over the world and dost spread abroad Thy wings and it is night, and let Thy face shine and it is day, make us Thy children of the morning, walking, waiting patiently for that character that shall be in us when we see Thy face to face. Let the divine impulse rest upon us this day.

DESTINY

He planted seeds unfit for sowing in the heedless hour ago. All of which he had forgotten. For the ways of growth were slow.

But the little grains thus scattered, All the seeds so widely sown, Found their way into the hopper. Of the mighty, vast unknown.

First seeds sown were tiny fuschoids, Then a maiden's broken heart. Then a friend betrayed, who trusted

All to him upon the mart.

Maddened by success, he ventured More and more, until he fell. For the structure he had built Was of sand though fashioned well.

Then he had no strength to rally. So he made the fatal leap. Never having learned the lesson, As we now we all must reap.

—Harriet Pratt Bodfield.

SEVERAL GOOD THINGS

A GOOD sandwich to give the children for their luncheon is the following:

Bacon Peanut Sandwich.
 Fry crisp several slices of bacon. Grind half a pound of freshly roasted peanuts, mix with a good salad dressing. Spread the bread with butter or margarine, lay on the bacon and spread one slice with the ground peanuts mixed with the said dressing. Put together in pairs.

Fudge Shortcake.
 Take two-thirds of a cupful of shortening, two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, one egg, two-thirds of a cupful of milk, one and two-thirds cupfuls of flour, three and one-half tablespoons of baking powder, one half teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Mix in the order given and bake in muffin tin twenty minutes. Serve with:

Fudge.
 Take two cupfuls of sugar, four teaspoonfuls of cocoa, one cupful of milk, one-third of a cupful of sirup, one tablespoonful of butter; cook to the soft ball stage, cool and stir. Serve on the cake with a spoonful of whipped cream on top.

Orange Tea Biscuits.
 Take two cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, four tablespoonfuls of shortening, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, three-fourths of a cupful of milk. Mix as usual, roll out and cut with a small cutter. Meanwhile allow as many cubes of sugar to soak in orange juice. Press half a loaf into each biscuit before putting into the oven. Some may like the addition of a little of the grated rind to the biscuit mixture. It adds flavor.

Milk absorbs odors quickly, therefore it should not be kept in the barn in open pails or cans.

I Was Heartily Gratified at the Response!!
 Folks, the response shown on the opening days of our Sensational CASH Raising Sale was truly wonderful. The business we have had especially on our suits and overcoats has been remarkable. When I placed my entire stock in the hands of the MILLER SALES SYNDICATE to be turned into cash they said I would have to give real, honest to goodness bargains for them to accomplish their task. I gladly did this and the way people in this vicinity have bought indicates that fair and square dealing is still proving successful in business today. METHODIST QUARTERLY CONFERENCE ALSO SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION FOR REV. AND MRS. NORTON

In accordance with a call issued by Rev. Dr. Halmhuber, district superintendent of Ann Arbor district, the first quarterly conference of the present conference year was held at the M. E. church Monday evening. But it was soon evident that something more than ordinary for such an event was occurring. As is customary, a potluck supper had been announced; but instead of the usual attendance of church officials served by a committee of the Ladies Aid Society, whole families appeared with well filled baskets, extra tables had to be arranged and a general air of expectancy seemed to prevail. At the close of the supper, Frank Barrows in well chosen words explained the reason for the unusual gathering. The congregation had learned that this was the silver wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Norton, that twenty-five years ago at the home of the bride's parents in Hanover, Jackson county, had occurred the marriage of Miss Edith Hultfus and P. Ray Norton, both graduates of the Hanover High School and of the class of '07 of Albion college.

The lights in the dining room were extinguished and a huge wedding cake surrounded by twenty-five lighted candles was placed in front of the astonished couple. Mr. Barrows also presented them with a small barrel containing a token of the good will and affection in which they are held by the people of the church and community.

Dr. Halmhuber in a very pleasing address congratulated the couple on the quarter of a century of service together in the cause of the Master.

Following this the usual business of the meeting was transacted. The reports from the different departments of the church show that while the receipts, due to present financial conditions, have been less than usual, the work of the church is progressing; the attendance at the regular services has largely increased and the Sunday school has doubled in numbers in the past year. The Junior church service has brought in the children, the Epworth League has interested those of high school age, and a general forward movement all along the line is taking form in the plans for the present year.

These plans are to be more fully developed at a general "get-together" at the church on Thursday evening of this week. In spite of all obstacles this church proposes to "carry on" during the coming year, and to do its share toward bringing the kingdom of God to Plymouth.

SALVATION ARMY BUDGET AND REPORT of the Plymouth Corps.

Plymouth Salvation Army board: President, Fred D. Schrader; vice-president, Cass Hough; sec-treas., G. A. Fisher; chairman Women's division, Mrs. W. J. Burrows; Edward Gayde, George Hunter, Robert Willoughby, Arthur Blunk, Harry D. Barnes, Floyd G. Eckles, Bert Giles, Mesdames J. L. Johnson, Charles O. Ball, Floyd Eckles.

This board of local citizens for three years have shown their appreciation of the Salvation Army in our city as an agency of reconstruction and Christian service for many who would otherwise be potential or actual liabilities upon the community. They have acted in an advisory capacity to the Salvation Army officers here and have assisted with the Annual Appeals for funds.

It is the intention this year to enlarge the group and put the modest quota "over-the-top" in the fine Plymouth spirit of co-operation.

"That spirit is never defeated, especially when it is used in a constructive effort," said Mr. Schrader.

The board presents the following interesting report of Salvation activities and finance since the Appeal in 1931:

Salvation Army officers are constantly in first-hand contact with the needs of the community.

The past record of the Army causes those in trouble to trust its officers with sorrows and tragedies unknown to the public.

Encouragement, comfort and material relief are freely given, and the confidences entrusted to them are never betrayed.

That this work may continue with its increasing demands, the following report is submitted to the citizens of Plymouth. It is one method by which the Army here accounts for its stewardship for the previous year.

Relief and Constructive Work
2571 garments given away. (New and donated used articles.)
994 pairs of shoes given away.
5 tons of coal. (In small portions.)
39 applicants for work.
14 women provided with work.
24 men provided with work.

It is the aim of the Salvation Army to make people self supporting and self respecting. Every urgent need is promptly met.

1338 families have been visited; bringing cheer and comfort of heart and an urge toward God, as well as temporal aid.

1600 hours spent in visitation—equals 4 1/2 months of 12 hours a day, or 9 months of 6 hours a day. Loving care and prayerful attention is given every case.

Transients
17 free lodgings.
103 free meals.
11 cases requiring transportation.

These needs were supplied: cash is not given direct; the Salvation Army officers pay for tickets, meals, etc.

Prison Service
50 Meetings held: attendance, 10,453.
Several prisoners have been converted: their lives are changed. Personal service for the prisoners and for their families, wherever they are, is given by the Salvation Army officers. The Detroit Salvation Army Prison Fund supports the prison work of Plymouth Corps officers.

Religious Activities
Meetings held nearly every night and all day Sundays. Large attendance and many turned to better ways of living. The Salvation Army is considered an auxiliary of all churches, for it reaches those who of their own volition do not seek the churches or any inspirational influence.

157 street meetings: attendance, 1864 members and 349 non members.
310 indoor meetings: attendance, 12,400. 68 persons have been converted (God's mark of approval upon faithful work).

Character Building with Young Folks
81 meetings: attendance 2289.
51 corp cadet classes: attendance 314. One of these young people will prepare for the Salvation Army Training College.
50 bible class or Sunday school sessions: attendance 2,577.

Financial Statement
Items of past year.
Money Received
Annual Appeal totalled (cash and pledges) $747.98.
General collections (tambourine) $308.65. (Plymouth and vicinity.)
Senior Salvation Army member's support, $132.72.
Young People's Army collections, $181.87.
Profits, War Cry sales, $27.00.
Total Income $1658.00.

Expenditures
Salvation Army Officers salary, $700.00. ($13.40 per week.) Nothing is guaranteed; all bills are met before any salary can be taken.
Rentals (hall and living quarters), $420.00.
Light, heat and water, $61.02.
Stationery, printing, postage, telephone and telegraph, $49.20.
Travelling (local and visiting officers), $10.78.
Sick and Benefit fund, $52.00.
(The salaries are too small to permit any savings of funds for sickness and burial). This fund is set aside for those needing it while still active in the service; every Corps budget contributes $1.00 a week to it.
Home Service and territorial supervision $100.00. Assists in caring for free cases of unfortunates in Woman's Rescue Home and Hospital, and the Children's Home. (this county) also the Pension Fund for officers retired after 25 years of faithful service and the Training College, where young people receive their training for officership and specialize for kind of service they may choose.

Cash relief of unfortunates, local and transient, $266.00.
Total expenditures, $1658.00.

This report and budget does not include the Christmas baskets and Christmas relief. This is raised especially at that season.

Wholesome outings for children were conducted by Salvation Army officers last summer.

There were many Christmas baskets and dinners given away last Christmas, and hundreds of special "Treats" for children at the Salvation Army Christmas tree. Besides the budget asked from the citizens locally, about $40.00 a month is used for the prison work, donated by the Detroit Prison Funds of the Salvation Army. The budget is suitable for all who wish to advance and protect a Christian citizenship and relieve suffering for the less fortunate.

The Appeal has been delayed this year. The Army has no funds. The officers are without salary, but the relief work has not been denied, though the calls for help commenced to increase October 1st. Clothing, shoes, bedding and canned goods can be used, but cash is absolutely necessary. Please give liberally!

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
We have organized our citizenship club. The officers are as follows: president, Leonard Ewers; vice president, Edith Mettetal; secretary and treasurer, Lois Rowe; girls' health officer, Harriet Tillotson; boys' health officer, William Hobbins.

We have four new beginners this year. They are Nelda and Esther Mettetal, Duane Sherman and Fred Murphy. We have an enrollment of thirty-four pupils. There are five eighth graders and four seventh graders. Miss Eckhart visited our school last month. Miss Eckhart and some pupils canned thirty-two quarts of tomatoes for the school pupils. The district donated the jars and tomatoes. Miss Ictid and Dr. Hoover from Plymouth came and examined our teeth. We had ten that already had their teeth o. k. They were Alma Buehler, Hilda Huehler, Harriet Tillotson, Eleanor Traskewski, Eleanor Hobbins, Nelda Mettetal and Duane Sherman. Edward Wydka was the first one to have his teeth o. k'd after the survey. We were glad to see Miss Jameson again after our vacation. She visited us twice since school began. Our school-room looks nice and cheerful this year. It was redecorated during vacation. We had art and made many pretty posters for the room. The eighth graders are working on page twenty-six in the English note books and they are also studying about improvements of soils in agriculture. Miss Ford finished reading us a book named "Hitty," who was a real doll and told us of her first hundred years. It is a very interesting book. The author of it is Dorothy P. Lathrop.

HANFORD CORNERS
(Too late for last week)
The P. T. A. of the Hanford school met Wednesday evening Nov. 16th. In spite of all the snow there was a good crowd. Supt. G. A. Smith of Plymouth high was the speaker. The Friday Night Pedro club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Murdock.
Mr. and Mrs. John Hank and Loretta were Tuesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkie of Cherry Hill.
August Schultz and son, Herbert are up north deer hunting.
Mrs. Jennie Hank and Jane Oliver were Sunday afternoon callers of August Hank and family.
Miss Webster spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. McClumphia.
Clarence and Marvin Nemecheck of Royal Oak spent Friday at Waldecker Bros.
Mr. and Mrs. John Hank were Monday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gates.
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Miller were Detroit shoppers Friday.

The principle of correct feeding applies to all kinds of live stock, the same as to dairy cows.

Although he is one of the army's most important gridiron mainstays, Cadet Charles Broshous is in the anomalous position of never having played an official minute in an army game, according to the experts. Broshous, whose skillful toe is reserved to boost the pigskin over the goal posts after army has scored a touchdown, returns to his place on the bench after he has performed this duty; and since time is out while the attempt is being made to kick goal, Broshous cannot be said to have played a single official minute, at least in a major game.

Cherry Hill
(Too late for last week)
The Canton Community club will meet at the home of Arthur Huston, Canton Center road, Wednesday evening, November 30th instead of December 7th as previously announced.
Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hawker and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Hank attended a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heart in honor of their son, David's birthday.
Mrs. Jennie Hank and Jane Oliver called on Mr. and Mrs. August Hank Sunday afternoon.

Cream testing too high causes more waste by sticking to the separator bowl, buckets and cans; but may be better for special market conditions.

Investing Safely

After more than 100 years of Service, the Building and Loan plan has received the unqualified endorsement of the American Public. Here's proof—

Building and Loan Associations have grown faster during the past five years than any other investment service, and have paid larger dividends than any investment you could make.

The Standard record is 40 years of paying its Certificate Holders 5% annual dividends. Never a loss and never a miss.

Forty years through fat years and lean, a handsome earnings, and the principal kept its full value of 100 cents on the dollar. We invite your investigation.

MERCER-DOUGLAS WEDDING NOV. 23
 The home of William Grammel on Ann Arbor road was the scene of a lovely wedding on Wednesday evening, November twenty third. At that time Miss Beatrice Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas, became the bride of Wendell Mercer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mercer of Somerset Center. Rev. Nichols, of the local Presbyterian church officiated.

The various colored chrysanthemums intermingled with terracotta and orange and red flowers made an attractive and colorful setting for the occasion.

The bride wore a gown of coral crepe and a shoulder corsage of tallman roses and lilacs of the valley. She was attended by Mrs. Fraser Stamin who wore a gown of jade green crepe and a corsage of tallman roses. The groom was attended by Charles O'Dell.

The wedding party entered the room to the strain of Lohengrin's wedding march which was played by Mrs. Olive Hohenbecker. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Harold Douglas.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served to about twenty-five relatives and friends. The tables were attractively appointed with centerpieces of chrysanthemums and tall white tapers.

The happy couple left for Bay City where they will make their home. The groom is assistant manager of the Sears Roebuck and Co. store in that place.

EARLY SHOPPING PAYS

To choose carefully, leisurely from the most complete variety, shop early in the day, early in the week. For economy and satisfaction avoid the rush days of last minute shopping and avoid the rush hour of the day. For the best selection, for the attention from salespeople that means satisfactory service, and for the assurance of prompt delivery SHOP EARLY.

YOUR SHOPPING DOLLAR

Not only are the provisions for this Christmas lavish but the prices are lower than they have ever been before. . . . due to foresighted buying on the part of the stores before prices began their steady rise. Reading the advertisements in this paper is impressive of how far your gift dollars stretch this year. Take advantage of these exceptional values. It will mean finer gifts for your friends and greater economy to you.

ALL HAIL to the KING!!

Ruler in the realm of good-will, of friendliness and kindness. Ruler in the domain of the Christmas spirit. He holds court now in the stores of Plymouth and calls on you for loyalty in observance of the brotherhood of man, good fellowship to the needy and the devotion to your kinfolks that is made manifest through gifts.

Lavish has been the preparation, extensive the variety, broad in a range of choice to fit every purse, preference, and purpose.

His order goes forth. . . . spend as generously as your heart directs; spend as economically as your means dictate, spend in Plymouth but spend to bring JOY to all.to perpetuate the true CHRISTMAS SPIRIT.

The members of the September-October division of the Woman's Auxiliary invited husbands and members of their families to share in an "Experience Meeting" in the Church dining room Monday evening. After an excellent cooperative meal the women told the story of how in this year of depression they had succeeded in earning or saving money for the work of the Auxiliary. The story, varied but always interesting provided entertainment and created much enthusiasm.

The Sunday school teachers and officers met Monday evening at the home of superintendent G. A. Bakewell. It proved a fine meeting with a helpful discussion and plans for the work ahead. The Christmas Tree entertainment is to be held on Thursday evening, December 22nd and Santa Claus is expected to be on hand. The program for the evening is already well under way.

The Boy's Woman's class will meet at the manse on Tuesday, December 6th. There will be cooperative dinner at noon and the program for the day will follow. This is the Christmas meeting of the class and a Christmas pie will be on hand. Contributions to the pie are to be limited to ten cents. The Men's class have invited Mr. Dykhouse's class to a men's supper for Thursday, December 8th at 8:30 p. m. Lots of food, lots of fun, present all absent none.

We were indeed gratified to see the large number of people who were present at the Thanksgiving Day services. It has been said by an eminent authority that the best criterion for estimating the condition of a congregation is the church attendance of her members. Though we know we shall never attain to it, here we strive for perfection in our Christianity. Let us bear in mind the Word of our Savior and our God: "HE THAT IS OF GOD, HEARETH GOD'S WORDS." And let us beware of spreading that well-known, thin skinned alibi over our neglect in attending church: "I like to go to church once in a while, and I'm a good church member, and I believe that church is good for anyone, and I'd go oftener, if it were not for this and that and that and that and nausum. Nor let any man imagine that the alibi in these days holds water: "It costs money to go to church; I have no money, ergo: I can't go to church." For you who say so, KNOW THIS: This church at least, and there are others like us, did never, does not now, nor God forbid, ever will stipulate what you are to give toward her support, nor that you are to give at all to ward her sustenance. We have always welcomed with equal warmth the poor man with the well-to-do, and look not upon the sizeability of the gift as the criterion by which to measure good membership. Your Christian heart will lead you, like the widow with the mite, to do your share and your best possible toward the spiritual mother whom you call MY CHURCH. Convinced of the truth of this policy, we have done away with all and any pledges and subscriptions—and, thank God, we have succeeded in retaining this worthy ideal of Christian giving intact in theory as well as in practice.

No other season affords you greater opportunity to return and renew your church affiliation than the blessed season of Advent, in which we now find ourselves preparatory to the celebration of the great event of Christmas. "Thy KING cometh unto thee"—the King of Advent, He cometh to THREE: "Behold, I stand at thy door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I WILL COME IN TO HIM, and I will sup with him, and be with him.—TO HIM THAT OVERCOMETH WILL I GRANT TO SIT WITH ME IN MY THRONE. EVEN AS I ALSO OVERCOME, AND AM SET LOWLY WITH MY FATHER IN HIS THRONE."

How DARE you run the risk of jeopardizing your eternal welfare? ROSEDALE GARDENS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. 10:00 a. m. Bible school. 11:00 a. m. Morning worship. Subject, "The Book of Books". 11:00 a. m. Junior church. 8:30 p. m. Christian Endeavor. Monday Night—8:00 p. m. Men's Night.

Items of Interest—Beginning Sunday a nursery will be provided for the children. Junior Church services will be resumed Sunday. The pastor will preach a five minute sermon and the children will continue their service downstairs under the direction of Mrs. F. A. Amos. The Men's club have elected the following officers: president, F. H. Wagner; vice president, E. K. Kniffle; secretary-treasurer, Charles McKinney.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism. Denounced" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 27. Among the Bible citations was this passage (Matt. 7:21): "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven."

Correlatives passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 206): "Will-power is capable of all evil. It can never heal the sick, for it is the prayer of the unrighteous; while the exercise of the sentiments—hope, faith, love—is the prayer of the righteous. This prayer, governed by Science instead of the senses, heals the sick."

Presbyterians Plan Important Series Of Church Meetings

Sixty-seven churches in Detroit Presbytery are planning intensive stewardship programs to reach every member of their congregations during February. Leaders of the movement state that the necessity for "Christianizing saving and spending if world calamity is to be avoided will be brought to the attention of more than 30,000 members in 32 towns. Advance arrangements for individual church programs will be made during December, when Rev. Guy L. Morrill of Philadelphia, director of stewardship for the Presbyterians Board of Christian Education, will meet representatives of selected groups of churches to advise them in making plans for their stewardship work. Morrill touches a man's pocketbook in both the church and the Sunday school.

Dr. W. C. Brooke of Detroit, chairman of the Christian education committee of Detroit Presbytery, is working with Mr. Morrill on plans for this widespread stewardship emphasis. They are being assisted by Dr. W. C. Pearson, executive secretary of Detroit Presbytery.

Mr. Morrill will urge church executives to accentuate stewardship during February by holding a weekly "Church Night" of Stewardship, by preaching four Stewardship sermons during the month, by teaching Stewardship in the Sunday school, by discussing the part-stewardship sense of possessions in young people's societies and women's organizations, by the systematic distribution of stewardship leaflets, and by offering church members the opportunity of enrolling in the Presbyterian Fellowship of Stewardship.

On his arrival from Philadelphia Mr. Morrill will address the final group meeting for setting up plans in the Pontiac Presbyterian Church, Pontiac, Tuesday evening, December 6. Representatives of the following churches will attend: Birmingham of Birmingham; Drayton Avenue, of Ferndale; Holly, of Holly; Millard, of Millard; Troy Center, of Troy; Royal Oak, of Royal Oak; White Lake, of Davison.

The Ann Arbor Church, Ann Arbor, will be the scene of a meeting Wednesday evening, December 7, of representatives of the following churches: Brighton, of Brighton; Howell, of Howell; People's, of Milan; Northville, of Northville; Plymouth, of Plymouth; Saline, of Saline; South Lyon, of South Lyon; Unadilla, of Gregory; Ypsilanti, of Ypsilanti.

The Wyandotte Church, Wyandotte, will be the scene of a meeting December 14, when Mr. Morrill will address representatives of the following churches: Allen Park, of Detroit; Dearborn, of Dearborn; Ecorse, of Ecorse; Erie, of Erie; Garden City, of Garden City; Monroe, of Monroe; Petersburg, of Petersburg; Trenton, of Trenton.

The final conference in this series of advance sessions will be held in the Jefferson Avenue Church, Detroit, December 18, when Mr. Morrill will meet delegates from these churches: Bethany, Cadillac Boulevard, Covenant, Eastminster, Memorial, Gratiot Avenue, Grosve Point Memorial, Jefferson Avenue, and Knox, all of Detroit; Erin, of East Detroit; Lakeland, of St. Clair Shores; and Mt. Clemens, of Mt. Clemens.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH Cora M. Pennell, Pastor

Service for worship commences at 10:30 o'clock. During December the Sunday morning messages will be Christmas themes. On next Sunday, December 4, the pastor plans to speak on the fifth gospel. Bible school meets at 11:45 a. m. with Hugh Means as superintendent. Prayer meeting, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

BEECH M. E. CHURCH Thomas M. Pryor, Pastor

At Plymouth and Inkster Roads. Preaching service at 9:00 a. m. Sunday-school at 10:00 a. m. A hearty welcome awaits all.

BAPTIST NOTES

Tonight, Friday, December 2nd, D. V. the pastor invites anyone who wants to study the Bible with him in a small discussion group to meet at the parsonage, 494 N. Mill St. at 7:30. Any questions of a practical nature may be asked, and will receive their answer from the Word of God. We will begin to study one of the books of the Bible so bring a Bible with you if you have one. Bibles may be secured for all who do not have one.

Thru one of his prophets of old, God said, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge." He was speaking of his earthly people Israel. Many of them were people in name only, and not in heart; and consequently were un- saved—lost in trespasses and sins. Comparing themselves with others they looked righteous, perhaps, but they had fallen far short of the glory of God's perfect standard.

Today many call themselves Christian because of the same error. They measure themselves by their own foot rule instead of by the righteousness of God revealed in Jesus Christ. The Lord said, "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures or the power of God." To avoid the subtle power of Satan one must seek God's Word as a light that shineth in a dark place. Tonight's Bible class is your opportunity. Everyone is invited. The class will meet each Friday in one of the homes of those who attend.

Sixteen per cent profits in the grain mixture is as good as 20, 24 per cent when mixed with good quality mixed hay and corn silage.

Thousands Are Paid By Banks

Based on a direct-by-mail inquiry to a considerable number of individual members of the Christmas club, Mr. Rawlin points out that an increasing number of people are becoming tax conscious and using the facilities of the club for accumulating money for the payment of taxes falling due at the end of the year.

The estimate shows that the total distribution will be used approximately as follows: Christmas purchases, 38%; $107,500,000; permanent savings and investment, 28%; $125,500,000; year-end commitments, 11%; $48,500,000; taxes, 10%; $44,000,000; mortgage amortization and interest, 6%; $24,500,000; insurance premiums, 5%; $22,000,000; education, travel and charity, 2%; $9,000,000; 100%; $441,000,000.

In the distribution of the Christmas club for this year, New York state leads the other states with $14,710,000.00, while Pennsylvania reports $5,922,000. New York city's metropolitan area will receive approximately $2,000,000.

The Bank of American National Trust & Savings association through its 355 branches in California is distributing about $5,000,000. The Bank of Manhattan Trust Company has over $3,000,000 ready for more than 80,000 members enrolled at 72 offices in Greater New York.

The First National Bank of Detroit, reports $2,900,000.00 for 73,000 members. The Western Saving Fund Society of Philadelphia has accumulated $1,500,000.00 for members at their institution.

Bring Old Santa To Every Child

And here's another way to help! Forget all other affairs on that night. Start now and make up your own little party for this "Cheerbringer" dance.

Speak to your neighbor, your bridge partner, your merchant, your school pals, your friend beside the home, the late and the desk, and make your group the happiest and the cheeriest and the friendliest among the crowd.

The price is only a quarter for admittance to any one or all of the dance halls. If you like oyster soup, ten cents additional will buy a hot bowl and plenty of crackers. And say, can the Ex-Servicemen's Auxiliary make "zoop"—You're telling me!

And now just one thing more. With your quarter you should bring along as a "cheerful" donation a child's toy, a child's picture book, or a child's under-dress, outer-dress, pantie or romper.

These need not be expensive— from 10 cents up is enough. Help the committee below to make this 1932 "Cheerbringer" a real community festival of cheer.

Living Pictures Please Detroiters

The M. E. choral society successfully gave its entertainment of living pictures at the Whitefield M. E. church last Sunday night. The musical accompaniment to the pictures was exceptionally effective. Those who gave the musical numbers were Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Francis Carmichael, Miss Czarina Perry, Mrs. J. E. Chapman, Mrs. Clifford Cline, Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mrs. Cutler, Miss Barbara Horton, Pierre Kenyon, Alfred Smith and Miss Ruth Allison. The entertainers were served a welcome late lunch after the performance.

Next on the program of entertainments to be given by this choir will be the office for the Holy Communion in music at a midnight service Christmas eve at the church. The music for this service is by James P. Davis formerly organist of Herford Cathedral of England. The three choirs will give the Nativity Pageant Christmas night. Music for the Communion service has been procured from the State Library.

STARK SCHOOL NOTES

The bazaar held at Stark school called out a large crowd. The quilt was won by Mrs. Howard Bendy of Detroit.

The third-grade made a Pilgrim village last week. The boy and girl who sold the most quilt tickets received a prize, Beverly McKinney a box of crayons and Robert Adams two pencils, 24 per cent when mixed with good quality mixed hay and corn silage.

We also had a boy and girl who received a prize, Allen Fisher and Eugene Vantassel. Each were given a box of paints. We have five stars on our gold star card in the upper grade.

HANFORD CORNERS

Miss Webster, teacher of the Hanford school, spent Thanksgiving and the week-end with friends in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldecker were Wednesday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hank. Mr. and Mrs. John Hank and Loreta and Mr. and Mrs. August Hank, Detroit, and Veneta attend the wedding of a niece, Ernestine Hough Tworck of Dearborn.

Miss Eckhart visited our school Monday.

Charles Finnegan and Doris and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Finnegan and daughter were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richards of Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldecker and Janet were guests of friends at Royal Oak Friday evening.

Plans Complete For Visit of Club To Detroit News

Final arrangements for the trip to the Detroit News and the visit to the broadcasting station WJZL by the Woman's club of Plymouth, have been completed and a most enjoyable afternoon is assured the club members by Mrs. Mark Chaffee, chairman.

Members are asked to meet at the Hotel Mayflower promptly at 12:45 p. m. where cars will be waiting. In most instances, Committee chairmen have arranged transportation for the members of their committees, but anyone not so provided for will be taken care of, as there will be extra cars.

The Detroit News advertised as "The World's Greatest Newspaper Plant," occupies a full city block. It's great presses can print, cut, fold and deliver 300,000 48 page papers in an hour. In planning this trip the program committee felt that the club's study of "Our Newspapers—the World's Mirrors" at the plant would be unusually interesting and instructive.

A fine spirit of cooperation is being shown in planning this "out-of-town" meeting which is greatly appreciated by the Committee.

Those assisting Mrs. Chaffee are Mrs. O. B. Borck, Mrs. Claude H. Buzzard, Mrs. James Gallimore, Mrs. Earl Mastick, Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple, and Mrs. C. H. Bennett.

BOY SCOUT NEWS Troop N. B. 1—Newburg

Scout meeting was held Monday, November 28, with about twelve boys in attendance. Scoutmaster George Hallam and Jack Campbell were also in attendance.

The meeting consisted of the passing of several tests and drilling on Signaling and Compass. A short period of military drilling.

Each boy is to have his own "Fire by Friction" set at the next meeting on Monday at the usual time of 7 p. m.

The Queen Esther circle of Newburg will give their play, "It's A Mine," at the L. A. S. hall, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, December 7th and 8th at 8 o'clock. The cast of characters is as follows: Agnes, Alice Bakewell; Margaret, Mary Louise Talmage; Minerva, Lydia Joy; Phyllis, Mildred Gilbert; Marcella, Adele Carson; Millie, Eleanor Staub; Miss Jones, Hazel Lockwood; Nora, Isabel Winkler; Aunt Leninda, Henrietta Winkler; Miss Sprockette, Myrna Van Tassel.

Dec. 9—Basketball, Holy Name.

AD LIB.

Both Mr. Ernest Archer and myself made critical errors in getting up our respective columns last week, but I believe mine was the worst, so I will correct it first, then I'll tackle Daisy's. You see, I accused the little red head of being boastful. Now you all know as well as I do that such a statement was false. It should have been that for that is really Ernie's weak point, bashfulness. Why one cannot even mention such names as Big Bertha and "Genie" Neely around him without his cute little beak-flecked face turning nearly the same color as his Auburn hair. Yes, Mr. Archer, I apologize, and my readers, if any, will be witnesses to the fact.

But now for Daisy's mistakes. First, Ernie, under a column headed "The Hot Cold Feet" accused of being the central party in a triangle in which was one M. P. S. Now Ernie, I must hereby come forth and state that I know of no party whose central appellation commences with the letter "P." It is either a gross misstatement or a typographical error, and I rather doubt that it is the latter. And secondly he made the statement, quote: "But by clever detective work this code, et al." The mistake in that statement was in using the word detective, it should have been defective as that more closely describes Ernie's efforts to decipher even the simplest of cryptograms. There now, is everything all settled.

Two prominent members of the local sub deb set were hostesses at a delightful party last Friday evening. In case you want to know who they were, both of them together total ten cents. Among these very much in evidence were Davey Mather, Kenney Greer, Ernie Archer, Mary Jane Hamilton, Box Car Bailey and about thirty-five others. Incidentally, if there is anything published in the Plymouth Prints this issue concerning me and my activities, Mr. Archer garnered it all at said party from one Mary Jane Hamilton, who is a reputed "spiller of beans."

Wanderings
There were Pres. Greer, Cross Country Mack, Clarinetter Mather, and several other local lads this Saturday past. Last week's lumberman's convention seems to be disbanded. Both Abby Partridge and Will Thoma's state organizations are very nearly unrecognizable. But practice makes perfect, they say. Boy, do the girls and boys howl when Cliff Cook and his baby-blue pants come sauntering down the hall. Bob Haskell was a member of one of Mussolini's Fascists in that black shirt he was wandering about in a few days ago. We wonder what Regs Johnson was doing when he was seen wandering about with a bow in arrow last Sunday p. m.—Don't forget the big contest closing today.—Mr. John McFarlan is very busily trotting around with a large sheet of foolscap recording the noteworthy events of the day which are to comprise the calendar appearing in the Plymouth.—The Junior Play is pretty good, let's all go to see it and thereby help the Juniors solve their knotty financial problem.—Mar McChellen and Betty Hensley look swell together. Nicht wahr?

Dwery Taylor seems to argue beautifully with a German chary wit said: "Wer nicht lacht Wein, Woll und Gesand, der blüht ein Narr sein Leben lang." It has been reported that Ken Greer gained 27 23 pounds over Thanksgiving. Whatta man! Whatta man!!—Billy Tuck still looks lonesome. So does the "skippers." The two "sons" Bron and Sara, are looking better everyday. But you know, they can't keep a good man down.—And now, I'm going to fool Ernie again by signing, of course after saying, "Good-by" Darlings," myself as—D. A. C.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The boys and girls in Miss Frantz's room have studied the pictures "Feeding Her Birds," and "Return to the Farm," in picture study. The first grade surprised the boys and girls by leaving cards on the desks saying that they would pick up all the paper each night.

The children in Miss Sly's room finished their Thanksgiving booklets last Wednesday. Clayton Cool has moved to Leroy, Michigan and Athan Trups to Detroit. Nancy Dunham won the spelling contest.

Dudley Martin of Miss Dixon's room has had his name put on the Perfect Teeth Chart.

Mrs. Butler visited Miss Holt's room last week. Andy is one point ahead of Amos in the spelling contest. Last Wednesday afternoon fifth grade were read and voted upon. Ellwood Russell's was judged the best.

The 5's in Miss Exlieben's have been studying Hiawatha. The 5 A's have been studying the picture "Return of the Mayflower." They have made cereal posters.
Last Friday Miss Fenner's room had in celebration of Book Week, impersonations of books. Live characters stepped out of "Tom Sawyer," "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and many other book favorites. Carol Campbell and Richard Delvo were chosen Perfect Teeth captains and the side which has the most perfect teeth at the end of this semester will be awarded a prize. They also have been having a contest to see which team will get the most library cards. Team 1 is ahead. Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. Fletcher Campbell were visitors. Both teams had one hundred percent in spelling last Wednesday.

Miss Weatherhead's room is divided into two teams—Packards and LaSalle's for the purpose of a spelling contest. The Packards are ahead. They enjoyed the story and colored pictures of "The Brown Bunny's Thanksgiving" sent to them by Mrs. James. Jo Ann Gordon brought some pretty shells for the fish bowl.

SOCIAL NEWS

Misses Christine and Elizabeth Nichol were hostesses to a group of thirty at their home on Main street, Friday evening. The guests were Roberta Chappell, Elva Hill, Irene Humphries, Mary Jane Hamilton, Elaine Hamilton, Virginia Woodworth, Phila Ferguson, Eileen Jordan, Buehla Sorenson, Margaret Holcomb, Doris Bridg, Helen Wolford, Geraldine Schmidt, J. D. McFarlan, Melvin Blum, Bob Shaw, Ernest Archer, John Randall, Milton Partridge, Norman Mack, Kenneth Greer, Bob Haskell, David Mather, Donald Bronson, Odene Hitt, Clyde Ferguson and Marvin Terry of Rochester. Many games were played during the evening and delightful refreshments were served.

The ten boys and girls who met at the home of Miriam and Jean Joliffe last Friday evening were Thelma Lunsford, Dolite, Taylor, Jane and Elizabeth Whipple, James Livingston, Bob Gilles, Daniel Carmichael, Bob Chayne, J. D. McFarlan and Reginald Johnson. Dancing and games were the entertainment while pop-corn, cider and apples were served later in the evening.

SENIORS HOLD CLASS MEETING
The senior class met recently to elect as athletic managers, Christine Nichol and James Williams. The class president, Kenneth Greer, made an announcement concerning name cards, and graduation invitations. The committee was chosen for the Senior Play as follows: Odene Hitt, chairman; Robert Shaw, Irene Humphries, and Kenneth Greer. These people are to read plays and make suggestions concerning them. Definite announcements of the play will be made later.

WKAR BROADCASTS SECOND OF SERIES CONCERNING BOTNY

"How Plants Obtain Their Food Supply," by R. P. Hibbard was the second of a series of twenty-three biology lectures broadcast over station WKAR by the Michigan State College on November 28 at 1:45. This lecture proved to be very interesting to Mr. Beutley's biology classes in as much as this broadcast concerned the work recently completed. There are at present over fourteen hundred students who are using these lectures as a part of their class work. The following is a part of Mr. Hibbard's lecture:

"Photosynthesis is the process by which carbon dioxide from the air and water from the soil are combined by the leaves of plants to form sugar and then starch through the action of sunlight on the green coloring matter in the leaves. Photosynthesis is of fundamental importance since it is the starting point of food manufacture. Plants and indirectly for animals. Animals depend on plant foods either directly or indirectly whereas the plants use raw materials for food such as water, carbon-dioxide, and mineral salt. Photosynthesis means 'union by means of light.' It is by the chemical power of the light rays that the water and carbon dioxide are combined. A benefit arising from photosynthesis almost as important as the production of starch itself, is the liberation of oxygen as a by-product. Every living tissue breathes in oxygen. The resulting oxidation produces the energy without which we could not live. This oxidation produces carbon dioxide which we throw off in respiration. Now we can see that the plants use this discarded carbon dioxide for making their food, and return to us the oxygen which is necessary for our life.
"Chlorophyll is the green coloring matter in plants found in the palisade cells and spongy layer, in the form of minute grains embedded in the protoplasm. Chlorophyll has the wonderful property of absorbing some of the energy of the sun's light and by the utilization of this energy is able to combine carbon dioxide and water into sugar and starch. These are primary forms of plant food. At the same time oxygen is thrown off as waste product. This replaces in the atmosphere that which is used in respiration by animals. Therefore the plants' depend on photosynthesis for both food and oxygen supply. It is evident now why so many adaptations are found for exposing leaves to light, since without light, carbohydrate-making cannot go on, and without such foods the plant cannot survive.
"Next Monday at 1:45 another lecture will be given by E. J. Bessoy concerning the classification of plants."

ATTENTION PARENTS!

Out of six hundred-fifty high school students attending Plymouth High School, there are one hundred seventy-five tuition students and one hundred other students who have to carry their lunches to school and eat at school during noon hour because of the long distance between their homes and school, making it almost impossible for them to go home at noon for a steaming, hot dinner as do the other three hundred seventy-five. Two hundred seventy-five students is a large number to entertain and take care of at noon. Sports are held in the auditorium to entertain these people, study-two is open for them to study in, and the library is open for only those who remain at school during noon hour. We may readily see that if the other three hundred seventy-five return to school before 12:30, a serious situation results inasmuch as no one is allowed to go on the third floor or loiter in the halls. Parents of students who go home at noon, you are sincerely asked to keep your children at home so that they will not arrive back at school before 12:30. Have them help with the housework, do dishes, sweep, dust, do school work, read books, especially books for book reports, anything to detain them from arriving at school too early. It would be a good idea to have your boy or girl read book reports for ten or fifteen minutes each noon and by the time the book report is due there will be no excuse for it being handed in late. Your fullest cooperation will be appreciated.

Newburg

A very good attendance at church service. All enjoyed the solo, "The Better Man," by Cowan, sung by Robert MacFarlane, accompanied by Miss Anna Young. Mrs. Hazel Lockwood and Miss Mildred Gilbert were appointed on the committee for Xmas exercises. All boys and girls are requested to meet at the church Saturday afternoon. The church was well filled Sunday evening at the Epworth League service, to see the moving pictures shown by Theodore Woulfe of Detroit, director of the Allied Youth, taken the day of the parade of the Allied Youth on their trip to Lansing. There were 1600 cars from different parts of the state with 5000 young people assembled before the capital, showing Mrs. Truman H. Newberry, chairman executive committee and J. Howard Cooley, chairman central committee. This goes to show there are a good many of our young people that don't care for booze parties.
The L. A. S. will hold their next meeting, Wednesday, December 7 at the home of Mrs. J. Gunzaly. A cooperative dinner will be served at noon. You are requested to bring plate, cup, knife, fork and spoon. Everyone most cordially invited to attend. There will also be an exchange of ten cent Xmas gifts.
New basement stairs have been built in the church, thanks to Melvin Guthrie who donated the lumber and Robert Holmes for the work. Charles Packard has a very good Sunday school room in the basement. There is room for two more.
The trees west of the bridge on Newburg road are being cut down, getting ready for the Ford dam and making quite a change in the landscape, which has been one of the beauty spots along the River Rouge.
Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell spent Thanksgiving at the parental home in Detroit.
Robert MacFarlane of Flint called on Mrs. C. E. Ryder last Thursday. He had been called to Detroit on account of the critical condition of his cousin, Miss Edith Pickett, who was operated on at Harper hospital last week for hernia.
Clyde Smith returned Sunday night from his hunting trip. He brought several rabbits but no deer.
Marshall Purdy of Albion college, Jay McNabb of Concord and Alice Gilbert of the U. of M. all attended church service at Newburg last Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. James Norris ate Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rayno of Wayne.
Clark Mackender and grandson, Walter Norris, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Norris of Detroit.
Mrs. Emma Ryder entertained at a Thanksgiving family dinner. Covers were laid for twelve.
Mrs. Onalze Colebeck, ex Hall of Beaverton, Mich. called on Mrs. Jesse Thomas last Saturday. Mrs. Ray Peeler also called on Mrs. Thomas.
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Drews motored to Sidney, Michigan, Sat-

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten in Miss Cavannah's room discussed Pilgrims and Thanksgiving Day and learned Thanksgiving songs. They started making Christmas gifts. Rosemary Miller, Eleanor Booker, and Vincono Simonetti have been ill, but are back in school. Betty Arigan has the chicken pox.
The children in Miss Stueky's room have been coloring pictures about "The Brown Bunny's Thanksgiving." For picture study they have been studying "The Boy with a Rabbit." They are learning to write numbers up to forty.
The children in Miss Studer's room made cloth-dolls and mounted them on paper. For picture work they have been studying "Feeding Her Birds," by Millet and "The Knitting Lesson," by Millet. There has been an improvement in their writing for picture study. Miss Studer has a health book for each student, "Let's Grow, Be Healthy, and Happy." Before one can have a book he must learn the school days of the week. After pupils receive the books they must record the days of the week and their health habits. They are learning "The Lord's prayer" for Bible study.
Miss Hunt invited Miss Farrand's room in for their Thanksgiving program.

REV. NICHOL SPEAKS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Because there are about fifty families on the welfare, the students of Plymouth High School contributed food which in turn was turned over to Mr. Cookingham who distributed it to those families so that they could enjoy their Thanksgiving dinner. Mr. Dykhouse announced that there would be a General Assembly next because the juniors were going to present part of their play, America was then sung by the assembly. The Girls' Chorus rendered two numbers—"By the Bend of the River" by Clara Edwards, and "Serenade" by Kjerulf.
Rev. Nichol's speech was very impressive to all. He asked, "What is Thanksgiving?" and "How can we give thanks?" He stated that the virtue of humility was very important. We should not be willing to express the goodness for what ought to be, but for what is at the present. He said that the world is facing great problems today, and we should be thankful that we have the opportunity to at least try to solve them. We should be thankful to one and only one God. The very idea of thankfulness implies someone to whom we owe something.

Hunters Back, Now Visiting The Zoo

Numerous Plymouth deer hunters are making daily pilgrimages to the Detroit zoo just at present to look over the deer park. Most of them have returned from the north woods empty handed and most of them are of the idea that maybe they saw deer, but really didn't know what they saw were deer so the check-up trips down to the zoo are being made.
One party made two different trips to the north to try and bring down some deer but their second trip was as fruitless as the first.
But it did take one new hunter, one who never boasted about the numerous times he has traupped the north woods, to bring back a buck. That hunter was Floyd Keuhl. He was with the Pettigill-Rambo party in the Upper Peninsula.
Even Mrs. Edward Denniston, wife of Capt. Denniston of the Detroit House of Correction, has been smiling at some of the old time crack deer hunters of Plymouth. Mrs. Denniston brought down a nice big buck the third day she hunted with her husband at their camp near Grand Marais in the Upper Peninsula. Capt. Denniston was also one of the lucky ones.
One party of hunters spent nearly two weeks on Bois Blanc island off the Cheboygan. From reliable sources it is said this group didn't even have one rabbit dinner during all the time they were on the island.
All of this is why you haven't heard so much about the luck of the hunters who went north.

FORM NEWBURG HOME ECONOMICS GROUP

Miss Emma DuBord, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent helped organize the Newburg Home Economics Extension Group, who are starting the first year project in home furnishing. This is one of the many extension courses offered by the Michigan State college. The meeting was held Monday, November 21 at the Newburg school with ten members in attendance. Officers elected: Mrs. E. C. Ryder, president; Mrs. E. C. Ryder, chairman; Mrs. A. Kregger, secretary-treasurer; with Mrs. Alfred Bakewell and Mrs. Geo. Hallam as group leaders.
The subject of the first lesson, "Making the Home More Home-like," was presented by Miss DuBord.
On Dec. 20 at 2:00 p. m. the group will meet at the Newburg school, for the lesson in "Color in the Home."

NEWBURG BOY SCOUT TROOP ACTIVE LOT

The regular weekly meeting was held Monday, November 21, at 7 p. m. There were twelve boys in attendance; troop committee men, Mr. Pryor, and Mr. Campbell, who is going to be of a great help in the troop.
The meeting was a very enjoyable one and a great interest was shown by all. Several tests were passed, knot drilling, signaling, and military drilling. Patrols were organized—the Beavers and the Bob Whites.
A new member, Billy Douglass, was received into the troop and others are expected to follow in the near future.
Now is every boys chance, twelve and above, to come and be one of the troop. We wish to see every boy possible at the next meeting on Monday at 7 p. m. The meetings are held each week at the Newburg school.

PLYMOUTH W. C. T. U. MEETS DECEMBER 8

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet, Thursday, December 8th with Mrs. Keuhl, 431 Starkweather avenue. The meeting will be commemorative of both Thanksgiving and Christmas. The Thanksgiving program will be in charge of Mrs. E. R. Dapsett, and the Christmas program will be arranged by the Misses Cora and Nettie Pelham, and will conclude with a short play entitled "The Christmas Expounder," written by Miss Nettie Pelham, for this occasion and presented by Mrs. E. C. Peckley and Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd.
Each one attending the meeting is asked to bring a little gift, not exceeding ten cents in value. Each member will please invite a guest.

WHO'S NEW? VITAL STISTOOSTICKS

Moving in—None.
Moving out—Marion Kilinsky has left; dear old P. H. S. Yes, she's left us cold. But the secret's out. She is married. She was a senior here.
No loss—One senior.

CLASS WORK

The 10 A geometry class is studying areas of rectilinear figures, such as rectangles, squares, parallelograms, and trapezoids.
The speech class have been studying after dinner speeches. They have planned a program for each day. Everyone has been chairman, toastmaster or toastmistress and has given toasts at least once. We feel sure that they will all become very proficient after dinner speak-

Threatens Judge, He Gets Ninety Days

It didn't pay Leonard Blair to talk back to Municipal Judge Ford Brooks the other day—in fact every time he said something saucy it added thirty days more each time to his sentence in the Detroit house of Correction.

Blair was some time ago arrested on a charge of stealing gas from the Michigan Federated Utilities.

For this offense he was placed on probation by Judge Brooks.

A few days ago Mrs. Blair came before Judge Brooks and charged that her husband had frightfully beaten her and asked for a warrant for his arrest.

When brought before the judge Blair admitted the offense and when Judge Brooks sent him to the House of Correction for 15 days, Blair declared "I'll get you good when I get out."

Then the sentence went up to sixty days—and again Blair repeated his threat. This time the number of days went up to a total of ninety. And for the next ninety days Mr. Blair will be sweeping hallways, pushing wheelbarrows and doing numerous other pleasant tasks under the direction of that eminent labor leader, Capt. Edward Demiston.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Marion Beyer was hostess to her bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Liberty street.

The Octette bridge club had a most enjoyable dessert-bridge Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Orson Kelley on Farmer street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crowe spent Thanksgiving Day with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Parker at Lansing, Mich.

Parker is a sister of Mrs. Crowe. One of the jolliest parties given for some time was that of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cutler Friday evening when they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beck, Dr. and Mrs. Freeman B. Hoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Roe, Mr. and Mrs. William Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Dodge and Mr. and Mrs. E. Malcolm Cutler at an old-fashioned dancing party at their home on the Ann Arbor Road. Miss Elizabeth Burrows and Miss Sarah Cutler served at the luncheon table.

Mrs. Nancy Holliday will entertain her bridge club this evening at her home in the Wilcox apartment on Penniman avenue.

Miss Miriam Jolliffe entertained a few friends at her home "Hilltop" on the Beck Road Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Innis will entertain their bridge club Saturday evening at their home on South Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kehrl entertained at dinner Thanksgiving Day Rev. Arnold Kehrl and family of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drows and family of Plymouth at their home on Starkweather avenue.

Mrs. Oscar Alstro entertained twenty-two members of the Gigger family at dinner Thanksgiving Day at her home on the Northville Road guests being present from Royal Oak, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Windsor, Ontario, and Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Krouse, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sandleman and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Schrieber of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mandelstamm of Saginaw were dinner guests Thanksgiving Day of Mr. and Mrs.

A. Goldstein at their home on Dewey avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bichy were hosts Sunday to a party of thirteen at dinner at their home on Penniman avenue. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. McCartney, daughter, Marion, Miss Nelda and Miss Josephine Schroder, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bichy and son Arthur of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wilson son Thomas, and daughter, Doris, and Mrs. Anna Thompson of Royal Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Gale were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon

Gale of Salem Thanksgiving Day. C. B. Dryze is critically ill in Grace hospital where he recently underwent a serious operation.

An item in last week's mail stated that Mrs. Nettie Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Springer entertained guests on Thanksgiving, whereas this should have read Mrs. Nettie Savory of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Springer entertained at dinner.
