

SHOPLIFTERS CAUGHT IN PAUL HAYWARD STORE

Young Woman And Two Men Turned Over To Ann Arbor Officials

The alertness and suspicion of Paul Hayward last Saturday afternoon resulted in the arrest of three shoplifters and the recovery of a large amount of merchandise that had been stolen in Wayne, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor. They had just started operating in his store when he detected their sly thievery.

It was about five o'clock in the afternoon when two young men and a woman entered the store. One of the men asked Ralph Lorenz if he might try on some hats, stating that he wanted to buy a new one. As Mr. Lorenz and his prospective customer started over towards the hat case near the front of the store, the other man and woman started toward the rear of the store, looking at merchandise on the various counters.

Mr. Hayward, who had been standing in a rear room that is closed off by a curtain, watched the two as they approached the back-end of the store. He could not be observed in the place where he was standing by the couple.

His suspicions were aroused by the fact that they kept constantly watching Mr. Lorenz.

Suddenly he saw the woman pick up a sweater that laid in a pile on a counter and stuff it under her coat.

It was then that he surprised the trio by walking out of the rear room and accusing them of shoplifting.

Efforts were immediately made to appeal to Mr. Hayward's sympathies by the woman and two men. They said they had never before been in trouble and begged to be permitted to go. Chief Vaughn Smith was called, who took the three up to the city hall, where they still maintained their innocence of previous wrongdoing.

Giving their names as F. B. Higgins, age 22, 138 Parsons street, Detroit; Donald James, age 22, 229 West Canfield and Patricia Eddy, age 21, of 17567 Orleans, Detroit, Higgins explained that he worked for an automobile finance company and had come to Plymouth to repossess a car. He said the other two had come out on the bus with him and had planned to go back to Detroit in the repossessed machine.

While Chief Smith was questioning the three, Mr. Hayward and Charles Thumme went down the street looking over the out of town automobiles standing along the curbs. They took the license numbers of two machines, and returned to the city hall. They checked the license numbers, discovering that one of the machines belonged to Higgins mother. Investigation revealed this car to contain much other merchandise taken from adjoining towns.

Then it was that the three confessed Jarvis admitted that his real name was J. M. Bennett. When Chief Smith opened up the automobile, he found it filled with stolen goods, house dresses, ladies suits, sweaters, neckties and dozens of other articles. As most of the goods had been stolen in Ann Arbor, the three were turned over to officers of that city, who are holding them under $2,500 bonds each for trial in circuit court on charges of grand larceny.

March 1st Last Day To Pay City Taxes

The last day for paying the 1932 City taxes and State, County and School taxes will be March 1st, 1933. After this date the delinquent tax rolls are prepared by the City Treasurer and returned to the County Treasurer's office in Detroit.

The City Commission has extended the time for paying these taxes to as late a date as is possible under State law. The winter taxes will be received to the final date without the addition of any penalty, while the summer taxes will carry the usual percentage required by the City Charter.

The taxes have been extended by the Commission in order that every one would have as much opportunity as possible to pay the taxes before being returned delinquent to the County Treasurer, after which penalties and interest are added. A collection fee of 4 per cent is charged at the County Treasurer's office together with interest at rate of three-fourths of one per cent per month after March 1st. A considerable saving on the total tax can be made if paid to the City Treasurer's office before March 1st.

FARM RELIEF CONFERENCE

A conference will be held next week in Michigan, with farmers from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. All farmers interested in farm relief, get in touch immediately with Otto Wittrick, Route 1, Plymouth, Michigan, or a half mile west of Plymouth.

Youngsters Start West-Trip Ends in Arms of Officers

Four Brighton youngsters headed for the far west, where they said they were going to live and grow up in the land of cowboys and mountains, found the end of their journey in Plymouth. A big policeman who thought the boys would be better off back home brought to an abrupt end the ambitions of the youngsters, the oldest a lad of 11 summers.

When the boys reached Plymouth their actions aroused the suspicions of several with the result that Chief Smith was called. The youngsters were quick to tell their story and when kindly persuasion arrived, they were delighted with the opportunity to return home.

HIGH SCHOOL IN STATE DEBATING ELIMINATIONS

Plymouth High School, as usual, is in the eliminations striving its best to gain recognition through its debating efforts. The Plymouth debaters, Ernest Archer, Kenneth Greer, Odene Hill, Irene Humphries, Freda Kilmore, and Erayla Korlachner, under the leadership of debate coach, Mr. Latture, have won seven consecutive victories thus far during the league without a defeat.

The old-time spirit of hope for going far into the elimination contest is beginning to pervade both the school and community. The state management recognizes the quality of Plymouth teams because Plymouth has been intimated with Oxford, the runner-up in last year's state contest.

The important debate with Oxford is scheduled for Friday, March 3, in the Plymouth high school auditorium. There will, no doubt, be a large crowd to witness this debate because of the fact that if Plymouth wins this debate, it should be able to drive along further in the eliminations.

At the present time there are thirty-two teams in the elimination contest and as each round removes half of the contestants, there will be four elimination contests and a final contest.

It has been many years, if ever, when Plymouth had better prospects for winning debates. How far the present six debaters will go will depend upon their ability to think under new situations which are presented at each debate.

Two very evenly matched debate teams representing Oxford and Plymouth will meet in the Plymouth high school auditorium on the evening of March 3 at seven-thirty o'clock to fight for permission to proceed in the elimination series which leads to the state championship. Plymouth will defend the negative side of a question, "Resolved that Michigan should adopt a State Income Tax," against Oxford's affirmative team.

Central P.T.A. Has Interesting Speaker

Those who were present at the regular meeting of the Central Parent-Teacher Assn., held in the high school building, February 17, heard one of the most interesting talks of the season.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. M. S. Pittman of the State Normal College at Ypsilanti. Dr. Pittman spent last summer in Cuba, studying their educational system and returning in November for 2 months to help re-organize their system.

Dr. Pittman is a very able speaker and his description of the history of education in Cuba was most absorbing. He also gave many graphic pictures of Cuban life and their problems of government.

The ladies trio of the Presbyterian church, accompanied by Mrs. Robt. Shaw, sang a number, which was most appreciated.

START WORK ON NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH TO TAKE PLACE OF ONE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Displaying every confidence in the future, Rev. Father Frank A. Lefevre has let the contract for the construction of the new "Our Lady of Good Counsel Church" and workmen Monday morning will begin the erection of the beautiful new edifice.

The site has been cleared and all the refuse of the recent disastrous fire has been removed. Plans for the new church indicate that it will be of Spanish architecture and of a much more attractive appearance than the one that burned. A part of the old foundation will be utilized as well as some of the original basement.

This will somewhat reduce the cost of construction. Father Lefevre announces that local labor will be used as far as possible and the W. E. Wood Construction Company, which has the contract, has been instructed to comply with this request. Mr. B. McChiland will be superintendent of construction. A list of applicants for work on the new church has already been provided the contractor by Father Lefevre.

The church will have a seating capacity of 400 and there will be a community hall in the basement. There will be numerous improvements in arrangements and other details of the new church that did not exist in the other church.

A steam heating plant will be installed and the new church will be made as near fire proof as possible. Father Lefevre has requested the Mail to express the appreciation of the members of the church and himself to every one who so kindly assisted during the time of the fire and since. He is especially appreciative of the courtesy of Fred Schradler for the use of his funeral chapel for church services, the American Legion and the various improvement details that fought so hard to prevent the destruction of the church.

"I believe it is a civic duty to build the new church at this time. It will provide considerable labor for a large number who are badly in need of it. It will necessitate the purchase of supplies and building materials. These will be bought as far as possible in Plymouth," said Father Lefevre.

Church Centennial Celebration Will Be Outstanding Event

The Centennial celebration of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth was begun on Sunday morning, February 19. Reverend Morton C. Pearson, D. D., executive secretary of the board of church extension of the Presbytery of Detroit, was the preacher. His subject was "Abiding Faith," a very timely subject in these days of stress and doubt and one that was developed into a fine sermon. The speaker told of an American-built skyscraper standing unharmed amid the ruins of the city of Tokio, Japan, when a great earthquake shook that city a few years ago. He found in this an illustration of what has been happening in the history of America and of the other countries. God has shaken the nations of the world in order that the things which are true and abiding may be brought into relief and that the other things may perish. People are passing through some such an experience in the life of the world today. Among the things which abide are the imminence of God, the personality of Jesus Christ and immortality.

The congregation was fortunate to have an opportunity to hear Reverend Pearson, and the service was well attended. The choir sang exceptionally well, their voices blending perfectly. The Sunday school met directly after the morning service, and the attendance reached a new record of two hundred ninety-five, an increase of thirty-one over the previous records.

In the late afternoon the young people of the church entertained the young folk of the other churches at a supper at 5:30 o'clock. As they seated their friends, they were jubilant to observe that two hundred twenty-five had responded to the invitation. The men's class served the happy crowd, and after the supper a short program was presented. Alfred Bakewell directed the singing of the hymns with Helen Ribar playing the piano. Joe Ribar entertained with a trumpet solo, playing two selections. George Chute played two banjo selections. Reverend Walter Nichol gave a word of greeting, and then the guests were invited into the church auditorium. The older folks had been gathering there, and a congregation which packed the huge room watched the presentation of the play, "The Lost Church," the cast which was selected from the young people's Westminster club of the church and was directed by Miss Neva Lovewell, gave a fine performance. The club had complete charge of the evening service. Laura Kincaid, as president of the club, was the leader, and Odene Hill read the scripture.

The music for the entertainment was provided by the high school girls' chorus, directed by Miss Marguerite Henry. Their fresh young voices rounded into a pleasing volume of harmony, and their selections gave evidence of training and perfection.

There will be numerous improvements in arrangements and other details of the new church that did not exist in the other church.

A steam heating plant will be installed and the new church will be made as near fire proof as possible. Father Lefevre has requested the Mail to express the appreciation of the members of the church and himself to every one who so kindly assisted during the time of the fire and since. He is especially appreciative of the courtesy of Fred Schradler for the use of his funeral chapel for church services, the American Legion and the various improvement details that fought so hard to prevent the destruction of the church.

"I believe it is a civic duty to build the new church at this time. It will provide considerable labor for a large number who are badly in need of it. It will necessitate the purchase of supplies and building materials. These will be bought as far as possible in Plymouth," said Father Lefevre.

STATE BANKS AGAIN OPENED

Michigan's banking holiday is over—with exactly the same conditions prevailing as did during the eight day period that came to an end Thursday morning.

With the second proclamation of the governor came the declaration that all checks written before February 11 but not cashed by that time, would have to be returned to the original sender and new checks drafted and dated after the ending of the so-called holiday period.

This is the part of the proclamation that is causing no end of discussion in Plymouth. Nearly every business man had written some checks that will come back to him if they have not already done so.

But, says the state order, if there are not sufficient funds in one's bank account in proportion to the assets of the bank, then the amount of the new checks must be limited.

President John Hubert of the First National bank that has been operating under a moratorium plan, will find under the Governor's proclamation that even this bank's restricted rules have been more restricted. All national banks are being required to adopt the state rules pending the passage of a bill in congress introduced by Senator Couzens.

Governor Comstock in explaining his order preventing the cashing of checks drawn before the holiday was declared, said:

"This prevents big depositors from post-dating checks and thus withdrawing all their money. It keeps them from collecting should they have, say, 50 per cent of their deposits out in checks.

"Some inconvenience may be caused small depositors—but not one-tenth the inconvenience they would suffer if big depositors pulled out their money.

"It is true that thousands of little checks do not exceed the restrictions, but we have to require they be withdrawn.

"Suppose big depositors started in at once, working through agents, and post-dating checks. Suppose these checks went through. It may be that they do not exceed the restrictions, but we have to require they be withdrawn.

"The governor, explaining his new proclamation, simplified its phraseology in these points:

Welfare Committee Issues Call For Aid

The work of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee, vitally important as it is in these times of stress to needy families, has been seriously curtailed for the time being due to the fact that the funds at the disposal of this committee are on deposit with the Plymouth United Savings Bank. An effort is being made to have these funds released, but pending a decision it was decided at the last meeting of the committee to make a public appeal for contributions as the committee is faced with past due bills of over $50.00 and emergency expenditures to be met.

According to Chairman Dykhouse, the need is particularly acute for children's and men's shoes. To help meet this need the Plymouth chapter of the Red Cross advanced $25.00, and while this money has made it possible for the committee to take care of some of the most needy and deserving cases where children were actually being kept out of school because they lacked shoes, there are other cases requiring immediate attention.

Every member of the committee is aware that few people, if any, can afford to make substantial cash contributions at the present time, but small contributions of 50 cents to $1.00 would all help and would be sincerely appreciated. Contributions could be made to any member of the committee whose names are listed below.

An appeal is also made for men's and children's shoes in fit condition to be repaired. Shoes will be picked up by notifying any member of the committee.

The members of the committee wish to publicly express their appreciation to the Plymouth chapter of the Red Cross for their help during the present emergency.

Felician Sisters Purchase Farms For Home Near Here

It has just become known that nearly 500 acres of land have been purchased on the Five Mile road between the Newburg road and the Laverne road by the Felician Sisters who plan to create a home for their order on this ideal location. A part of the site consists of what is known as the old Wolff farm. At the present time the homestead on this farm and the adjoining one are being used as residences by members of the order.

The Felician Sisters is a branch of the Polish Franciscan teaching order. It is the hope to eventually erect an institution on this site that will provide a home for several hundred members of the order.

LOWER GAS RATE ACCEPTED BY CITY COUNCIL

The City Commission at its meeting held on February 20th approved the new rate schedule obtained by the Gas Rate Committee representing Plymouth, Northville and Wayne. The City of Plymouth was represented on this Committee by Commissioner Frank K. Learned, who took the leading role in the negotiations with the Michigan Federated Utilities.

In recognition of the unselfish and untiring efforts which Mr. Learned put forth in bringing the rate negotiations to a successful conclusion, the City Commission adopted a resolution expressing the thanks of the Commission and citizens for his work which required many days of his time during the past seven months, and which was donated without any compensation.

"I realize that the negotiations consumed a considerable amount of time and study, but this is only one of the services which have to be rendered by a member of the City Commission if the interests of the citizens is to be protected," Mr. Learned said after the resolution was adopted.

The saving to the citizens of the three communities will total approximately $100,000.00 annually, which is a savings well worth devoting a considerable amount of time and effort to secure.

The negotiations for the new gas rate began as early as May, 1932, when the gas company protested the increased assessment on their property in Plymouth. The valuation was raised from $88,000.00 to $130,000.00 by the Board of Review, but was later reduced after a hearing before the City Commission to $100,000.00. At this hearing the matter of rates was first discussed with company officials but the matter was not definitely undertaken until July 1st, at which time the existing franchise authorized a rate conference.

Early in July the City Commission was invited to meet the gas company officials at a Detroit hotel in order to discuss the rate proposition. Mr. Learned stated to the Commission that this matter should be discussed in Plymouth and a meeting was arranged so that the officials of the gas company met the City Commission in the City Hall. It was stated by the officials that under present conditions no adjustment in rates was possible and that the other communities had agreed to drop the matter until 1933. Mr. Learned told the officials at this meeting that there was no reason why the rates should not come down at the present time and that he, for one, would not agree to any delay in securing lower rates.

After this meeting a joint conference was called in Plymouth at which the Commissioners of Wayne and Northville and the supervisors of the surrounding townships met with the Plymouth Commission. It was agreed at this meeting that the rates could and should be reduced and a committee representing the three municipalities was appointed. Mr. Learned represented Plymouth. Dr. L. W. Snow, Northville and M. H. Thinkham, Wayne. This committee was authorized to negotiate with the gas officials and report to the three commissions.

Mr. Learned immediately went to the Public Utilities Commission in Lansing and obtained the annual reports of the utilities company and other data to assist in determining whether or not the company was in a position to reduce rates. Several trips were made to Lansing to obtain facts about the company and conferences were held with members of the Public Utilities Commission on the matter.

The first discovery made after the data was assembled by Mr. Learned was that the amount transferred to the company's reserve had increased from $44,000.00 in 1929 to $96,000.00 in 1931 and

REMARKABLE PROGRESS MADE ON BANK PLAN

70 Percent Have Already Signed Moratorium—Success Near

Remarkable progress is being made by a group of Plymouth citizens who have taken it upon themselves to help get signers for the moratorium agreement of the Plymouth United Savings bank and at the present rapid progress is maintained, the required number of agreements will have been signed by the end of another week.

Thursday morning there had been signed up over 70 per cent of the required $2,000 per cent and bank committees who are working for the bank declare that it is now gratifying to find depositors of the bank so willing to cooperate.

Since the declaration of the state banking holiday and since people have had an opportunity to see how much more advantageous the agreement of the Plymouth United Savings bank is to them as compared to that prepared by the state for all the other banks in Michigan, there has been an exceptionally large number of agreements returned without even solicitation.

The new state banking legislation in no way effects banks that are operating under the moratorium agreement or that have taken steps to do so. State officials point out that it is much to the advantage of the depositors if banks continue the moratorium plan.

If you have not already signed the agreement, do so immediately. It will be for your benefit, as well as that of Plymouth and it will enable you to have the services of the Big Bank on the corner in the very near future.

Article Tells of House of Antiques

An article appeared in a recent issue of one of the Detroit newspapers telling of a home in Plymouth filled with interesting antiques and describing many of them. The article also set forth the many of the place written about it. It happens to be the old Birch homestead built in 1845 located at 1287 South Main St. and purchased by Mr. and Mrs. James Dale of Ann Arbor and Detroit from Mrs. Nellie Birch and Miss Carol Birch about a year ago.

The old house has been restored in the delightful manner described by Miss Edith B. Crimbo, editor of the "Beauty in the Home" department of a Detroit newspaper in the February 7 issue.

D.A.R. Meeting Is An Interesting One

The members of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, daughter of the American Revolution, met at the home of Mrs. Glenn Jewell on Northville road, Monday afternoon, February 20th.

During the business meeting over which the recent Mrs. Channoy E. Baker presided, Mrs. Charles Root, of the same place, presented a report what the salute to the flag really means and Mrs. Henry Baker read letters of thanks for the fruits sent to Ellis Island and for the fruits and Jellies sent by the chapter to the American Legion hospital at Middle Creek.

Mrs. J. Bennett reminded the members that the tree recently planted in Kellogg Park by the chapter as a Washington bicentennial memorial will be marked at some later date.

Plans were made also for marking the grave of a dead daughter and for the placing of a boulder, marking the grave of a Revolutionary soldier.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Carl Bryan of Northville who, in honor of the birthday anniversary of George Washington and of Abraham Lincoln, read the words, "Uncle Sam's Attie," and "We Are Alaskans," by Mrs. Mary Lee Davis. Mrs. Dubnar, a master of book reviewing, held the close attention of her audience while talking of the history of this vast territory.

Miss Ann Johnson, daughter by the U. S. from Russia during the present time, weaving through the history a bit of romance, a touch of climatic conditions also social and governmental and a light on the general condition of the state as those who have chosen Alaska for their home.

The next meeting of the chapter will be at the home of Mrs. Robert H. Beck on Penman Ave., Plymouth, March 20th.

OUR GOOD FORTUNE

It is a most fortunate thing for Michigan that we have as governor at the present time a man who is himself a victim of the depression. A few years ago Governor Constock was worth millions. He didn't have a worry in the world. Then the depression started and today Governor Constock must live on the little salary that the state of Michigan pays its chief executive. It is a deplorable thing to see a man lose his entire fortune through no fault of his own, but the people of Michigan can today congratulate themselves on having as its chief executive one who has been reduced to the ranks of the average citizen. He will better understand the problems of the masses. His official acts will be based largely upon the viewpoint of one who knows all about the suffering and uncertainty that the business man has brought about. Yes, Michigan is fortunate indeed to have as governor at this time a man who is as destitute as the most of us.

COURAGE NEEDED

This state has for nearly a century been one of the nation's most prosperous. It has been a state where radicalism never flourished, where a substantial citizenship has ruled its affairs, and where through their good judgment and their thrift we have all prospered. Few of our people have ever known want. If some have been unfortunate in life, we have seen to it that their declining years have been made as happy and as comfortable as circumstances permitted.

But over night one of the richest commonwealths in the nation has been reduced almost to destitution. There is no need to deny this fact. The banking holiday that was declared over a week ago has tied up what little cash we might have had left following three years of hard times. It has forced what little business there is left to almost a strictly cash basis. There is but one thing to do, however, in the crisis—that is upon us. We have got to go forward, courageously and hopefully. Times will be better again. There is no doubt about that. But meanwhile we must have faith, and we must meet every demand that an honest officialdom might impose. We must first and above everything else—be loyal American citizens!

CONLINE IS DEAD RIGHT

Fred S. Conline of Sault Ste. Marie, has announced that he is in favor of a "controlled" inflation of currency. Well, many bankers are. If the currency is inflated and the dollar drops to 50 cents or to any figure below the gold value at the present time, the depositors in Mr. Case's bank will get just that much less in value for their deposits. If deposits were made payable in gold instead of currency, as bonds are, bankers wouldn't be in favor of any inflation, controlled or otherwise. From the fact that they are not so, the proud father of the "gold bug" has branched. Thomas Conline in the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

THE BANKER

The Kiwanis Magazine recently published such an excellent editorial about the average banker and his problems that the Mail believes it worth passing along to its family of readers. It follows: One of the common diversions of the thoughtless is blaming all the financial ills of the present day on the banker. He is the sacrificial lamb of the times. In cartoon and private conversation, he is depicted as a heartless sinner who sits with stony face and watches mortgages foreclose on farmers and homes, sees business men fail and factories cease to operate, while he hangs on to his money bags in laughy indifference. If one of the careless people who believe this of the banker, could sit by his desk through one day's business and realize how he is torn between desire to help the borrower and to sell them out, and to conserve the money of his depositors on the other, a change would come over the mind of the thoughtless one.

A business man comes for a loan to pay for merchandise he has bought and cannot sell. Failure faces him and his life's work. The banker, realizing that the merchandise is out of style or season, shopworn and impossible to sell even at cost, must refuse to loan him the money of his depositors, no matter how optimistic or desperate the merchant. A farm owner comes in to borrow money to renew a mortgage. The banker's calm, calculating mind knows that the farm cannot be sold for the amount of the mortgage and that he cannot loan his depositors' money on such security, yet he must, for the heart-breaking story of how a farm will be lost which has been in a family for half a dozen generations.

A factory owner comes to get money for a pay roll, when the goods already manufactured are unsalable in his warehouse. A refusal will close the factory and throw hundreds out of employment; a loan means only more unsalable goods made and the same situation three months later.

Bankers who allowed their sympathies to guide them in such cases, have long since closed their doors and added further to the problems of their communities by tying up or losing the savings of their careful and frugal depositors.

In thinking of the banker, we should remember that it is not his money he loans or refuses to loan. The borrower should not expect a banker to loan the money of a depositor when he knows that the depositor would not loan the money on the security the borrower has to offer. If the borrower feels otherwise, he should ask the depositor for the loan.

Day after day the nerve wracked banker is ground between the upper millstone of his duty to his depositors and the nether millstone of his anxiety to help his neighbors who are in trouble. Sad stories of lost homes, wrecked businesses and closed factories are laid at his door. He gets much blame for his decisions, but little praise.

It is time we realized the position of those high-minded men who have fulfilled their duty to the depositors who trust them, and who have kept faith with you.

HOMESTEADS

Because of the long continued depression, because of the inability of many men who are anxious to secure work and are unable to do so, and because of the general belief that it will be a long time before jobs are again to be had, many people are thinking of establishing homes in the country. So many inquiries have come to the Plymouth Mail office about state owned lands and whether there is any that can be had for homesteading purposes, the Mail has secured from the conservation department some information on this subject. The department holds out but little encouragement for people who desire to secure state lands for homesteading purposes. In the first place, it is pointed out, there is but little of the cut-over land that is suitable for farming purposes. In the next place, the department does not believe that with conditions as they are, any one can make a living on the sandy soils of northern Michigan, especially when farmers who possess farms of fertile soil are having difficulty in making ends meet. Additional data can be secured direct from the conservation department in Lansing, but it is hardly worth while to even write for it.

double-chin. And this is no joke!—James Haskins in The Howard City Record.

FORGETTING THE MAN WHO PAYS

The deeper one delves into the matter of government, and state help for the fellow that has not paid his taxes, the mortgage on his farm or his property, or discharged his other financial obligations, the more one is inclined to the understanding that the dependable, the conservative, the honest and honorable citizen that has looked a little farther than today's needs and today's problem, and has built some stable protection for himself and those around and dependent upon him, is "holding the bag" and while he grits his teeth and holds on, every possible kind of rat is being made to further empty and make useless that bag and bring him down to a level with those who have not been so conservative, who have either lived for today alone, or sought to get rich quick without contributing definite returns for such a result. The person that has paid his tax, that has met his taxes, and in that way has contributed his part to keeping the public and political wheels turning, and has thrown into the hopper, that money that is now being ground out to help keep warm and fed in those who had no thought for the marrow, or were caught out on a limb when their magic dreams of easy riches vanished in thin air is not getting only a raw deal. The efforts now being put forth by politicians to scrap our present tax laws, to declare a moratorium on taxes, cancel taxes, in fact wreck the whole tax structure, fail to recognize or laud the person that has helped to preserve the structure to this point. We ask, what is there to commend and applaud in the acts of men who by force of numbers, and by threats of violence, or by strength, prevent the legal processes of law in the collection of money honestly loaned and contracted for? What does all of this contribute toward the reestablishment of soundness in the money market? The man that has a little spare change have to put that spare change into circulation? What is the reward for being thrifty and careful?—Al Weber in The Chelveygan Observer.

A SURE KICK-BACK

Any system of default whether it be individual, collective, city, national will certainly have a disastrous kick-back. The times are indeed mighty serious for any one who has to pay principal and interest on anything which was contracted during the high period of prosperity. But all attempts at default are going to make a condition already serious many times more serious. When any of us who has received credit then adopts any means whatsoever to default that one who believed in our integrity and our ability to pay, is crucifying the cardinal principal in business. When we have destroyed credit and made it impossible for those who have means to loan to us because of our disposition to default, we have taken the greatest possible step toward hindering business recovery.

If it is at all possible to devise some means or some scheme enabling those who are being closed out to retain their holding temporarily and at the same time maintain the morale of the debtor class, a fine deed will have been consummated.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Lord Independent.

LORD SAYS FIFTEEN MILLS CAN BE MADE TO SUN STATE

In Lansing this week to inspect at close range the legislative angle of Michigan's tax muddle, George Lord of Detroit, recognized tax expert and chairman of the state tax commission under the Groesbeck regime, voiced the opinion that the legislature should see how far it can go in cutting government costs before considering new forms of revenue.

Lord believes that if state, county, township, city and school district costs are cut to the bone, a sales or income tax may be avoided entirely and the tax limit of 15 mills made to pay the costs of government.

As chairman of the tax commission Lord took a number of klunks out of Michigan's tax system, made some progress toward tax equalization and had something to do with consolidating departments and bureaus. His suggestion that cost cut-

Interesting bits of news Taken from Plymouth Mail

At a meeting of the village council Monday night it was decided to submit to the voters at the spring election the question of putting macadam on Main street. If brick is used it will cost over $33,000. If macadam is used it will be a little over $20,000. The people have once rejected a brick paving so the only question will be on macadam. William Blunk has purchased the Wagonschutz farm west of the village. C. Heide took a sleigh load out to William Blunk's Tuesday evening. Harry Robinson is making some alterations in his livery office and harness room and will put in a hot water heater. John Henderson expects to move into the village next month. He will build residence on the tennis court next summer.

The baby that was left on the doorstep last week at the home of George Wiskie has been adopted by a wealthy Flint family. The council has passed a resolution discontinuing free electric wiring after March first. It will make a saving of about $350 per year. A. J. Shaw will have a public auction on the William Robinson place February 25 and E. C. Dickinson living on the Markham Briggs place north of Livonia plans an auction.

We understand that J. D. McLaren is strongly talking of heading the Workingmen's ticket at the spring election.

There will be shows every Wednesday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday evenings until further notice.

CENTRAL-GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten class has made a sibbonette of George Washington and posters of the hatchet and cherries.
 The children in Miss Mitchell's room are making booklets about the Dutch children correlating with the book "The Dutch Twins."
 The boys and girls in Miss Cranell's room have learned a new song "George Washington." The Canaries are reading a new story "Dick and Jane." The Bluebirds are reading "Something Funny." In hygiene class they are studying the various kinds of fruits and making health posters.
 In Miss Weatherhead's room the boys and girls have been studying Washington. Barbara Pond is absent because of illness. June Moore has gone up north with her parents. Mrs. Root, Mrs. Kelfer, and Mrs. McAllister visited last Friday.
 The children in Miss Rly's room are studying Eskimo land and making booklets correlating with this study.
 Mrs. Root and Mrs. McAllister called on Miss Dixon's class last Friday. The class has been telling stories about Lincoln.
 Mrs. Root visited Miss Holt's room last Friday. The boys and girls have made Lincoln booklets.
 The fourth grade language class wrote stories. The fifth grade geography class is studying South America. Harry Paulson is absent on account of scarlet fever.
 Margaret Erdelyi of Miss Erskine's room had a score of one hundred percent on the self testing drill in arithmetic. The class is making plans a well spent twenty-four hours in hygiene class.
 In Miss Fenner's room Billy McAllister's spelling test is twenty-four points ahead. The six A's are making different flags of our country. Mrs. McAllister and Mrs. Osaver called recently.

RIVER ROUGE FIVE DEFEAT ROCKS 16-17

The Varsity basketball team of Plymouth high school was defeated in a very close battle by the Crimston Five of River Rouge by the score of 12-16. Neither team was at any time three points ahead and this was a very close and exciting game. On the Plymouth team there were only two players who made points while on the Rouge team the points were divided among four of the players.
First Quarter
 Steel started the scoring with a free shot and Campbell followed with a field goal. Schmidt was put for London at forward. Williams made a basket. Schmidt then made two free shots and Williams again made a field goal. Plymouth 4, Rouge 5.
Second Quarter
 Before made a free shot and Schmidt followed with a basket. Blunk then made a field goal and Steel sunk a long shot. Near the end of the first half Blunk again made a field goal.
Third Quarter
 Blunk made a free shot and Steel followed with a free shot. Before then made a field goal and Blunk again made a free shot. Just before the hour blew to end the quarter Williams made another basket. Plymouth 12, Rouge 13.
Fourth Quarter
 River Rouge held the Rocks from getting any points in this quarter. Before made a free shot Blunk and McEllan was put in for Steel. Schmidt then made another field goal from the corner of the floor. Plymouth 12, Rouge 16.

SCORE TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Ecorse comes here tonight to compete in a basketball game with the Plymouth five. When these two teams met before at Ecorse, Plymouth was defeated in a very close battle, the score was 28-30. Plymouth should defeat Ecorse on our home floor because when we played there they had a very large floor and the Plymouth team was not used to playing on such a long and wide floor. Our regular defense can be used more effectively on a small floor. The admission is twenty-five cents, come and cheer for your team. The first game will start at seven o'clock.

GIRL RESERVE NOTES

In the Seeker's group the following were elected as officers for the ensuing semester: Elizabeth Hegge, president; Betty Griffith, vice president; Marlon Gordon, secretary; Francis Bridge, treasurer; Patricia Cassidy and Ellen Nystrom, song leaders.
 With the new officers presiding, a lovely recognition service was held Friday, fifth hour. Astri Hegge, Audrey Hartzog and Bernice Guldberg were initiated. After this service, frost bites were served. After school twenty-five of the Seekers spent an hour skating at the Wayne County Training School. Immediately afterwards they went to Esther Bichy's home where they were served hot chocolate, sandwiches and cookies. After a delightful social hour they went home.
 The tenth grade group plan a progressive dinner tonight. They are having four courses and are going to the game here afterwards. The Senior group talked about the program for this semester which are to be cut like windows. They have previously discussed the programs and the duties of the chairman.

DILLAR A DOLLAR
 Dillar a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar! How often have you heard the traditional remark, and how often has it proved correct? It has been handed down to us from our forefathers to be passed on to the following generations.
 Students make their appearance any time between 8:30 and 9:15 o'clock in the forenoon, and any time between 12:15 and 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Such a thing is not necessary. They are given plenty of time to eat of their lunches at noon, and return to school, therefore they should make it their duty to arrive on time in the morning. There is no need for students to drag themselves around long after the tardy bell has sounded.
 The students may be classified into three groups: the first, consisting of those who live in the rural districts; the second, those who live in town but at a far distance from the school, and third, those who live close to the school, or within a favorable distance from it. One would naturally think that a large percentage of the tardy pupils were those in the first class, but records have proved that the larger percentage is from the second and third classes. Over-confidence in their ability to reach school in a short time is the cause in some cases, and pure laziness is the cause in other cases.
 The usual punishment for tardiness is the ninth hour, which is a period of forty-five minutes after regular classes at 3:45 o'clock. In my opinion a sterner sentence should be imposed upon those who are habitually tardy. A forty-five minute period is not sufficient punishment to cause a reduction in the tardiness, because most of the late comers remain in the building after school and the sentence seems like play. I would suggest a sentence imposed on those habitually tardy students by a committee of three or five student judges, chosen from the upper grades. The project could be run on a court basis, with the court meeting the fifth hour to impose sentences or to warn offenders, who seem to be violating the laws. This project was put before Principal McNally and the Student Council of McKenzie High School, and it was heartily approved by them. The sentences imposed by the court would be rigidly enforced and those students who wished to avoid unpleasantness would be advised to be punctual.

LOCAL GIRL WINS Skating Honors

Phyllis Ratnour, a local high school student and a juvenile member of the Olympia Skating Club, received the second prize for figure skating last Sunday. Laura Jane Brown took first prize, and Dorothy Backus took third. School figures began at 9:30 a. m. and ended at 1:00 p. m. with free skating in the afternoon from 3:00 to 5:00.
 The skating figures were inside digits and outside digits, both to be started with the right foot. If the skater failed to comply with this rule the referee compelled her to start again and begin with the right foot. One and a half minutes were given to free skating, which means, skating in any figure you desire.
 A figure skating competition was held between the Olympia Skating Club and the Michigan Figure Skating Club to determine the winners of the Square Deal Miller Trophy. The trophy was awarded to the Olympia Skating Club. Next year Phyllis will be a novice in the skating club.
 The dining center in a large kitchen can be made more private and attractive by separating it from the work area. A simple screen made from light weight building board and covered with wall paper may solve your problem.

SENIOR PLAY SOON

Can you imagine seeing Odene Hitt as a young very-much-abboset brother? Can you picture Claire Scholtz, Gertrude Schmidt and June Aronson as quarrelsome daughters? Or can you ever feature Kenneth Greer and Bob Shaw as fathers. Irene Humphries in politics. Dewar Taylor as a western cultured dude. Clifford Cook as an old maid aunty. Vera Woods as a granddaddy, and Phil Dyer as a snooty boss? If you can't picture these characters or even if you can you will want to see the Senior play "Skidding," which is to be given in March. "Skidding" was played by the Bonstelle players and was the Senior play of Ypsilanti Central. Tom Matison, who played the leading part for Miss Bonstelle, played in "Skidding" in its first production in New York where it has been given several times. The play shows many domestic difficulties of married life. Married life is skidding—so they say. The cast is as follows: Aunt Miller, Vera Woods; Andy, Odene Hitt; Mrs. Hardy, Kenneth Greer and R. Shaw; Grandpa Hardy, Clifford Cook; Estelle Campbell, June Jernegan; Marlon Hardy, Irene Humphries; Myra Wilcox, Claire Scholtz; and June Aronson and Mr. Shattles, Phillip Dyer. You will get many laughs because you can see the cast's characteristics are such that will make it so. Don't forget to see "Skidding." Tickets will be on sale soon. More will be said about it next week—watch for it.

WASHINGTON NEWS FLASHES

Although the most important news of the week does not come from Washington, it is of immediate interest to the entire Nation. An attempt to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt was made at Miami, Florida, on the evening of February 15. Mr. Roosevelt had just returned from a southern cruise aboard the yacht of Vincent Astor and was addressing a crowd from his automobile in a Miami park. A few seconds after the President-elect finished speaking, five successive shots rang out. Mr. Roosevelt was unhurt, but five other persons who were standing near the automobile were injured. Physicians believe none of the shots will be fatal. The assassin, Zangara, an Italian, was immediately captured by the crowd; his only reason for attacking the President-elect was that he "hated the rich and the powerful." Zangara pleaded guilty in a Miami criminal court and was sentenced to eighty years imprisonment.
 The Blaine Resolution providing for repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution was passed by the Senate, 63, to 23, and by the House, 289 to 121. It three-fourths of the state conventions ratify the repeal act, prohibition will be abolished.
 In his special message to Congress, Monday, President Hoover asked for ratification of St. Lawrence-Great Lakes Bill and for enactment of the Glass Banking bill.
 Senator Carter Glass has refused the position of Secretary of the Treasury in the Roosevelt cabinet.
 Katherine Scholtz, Grade 10.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten class in Miss Cavannah's room Monday made raspberry jello in the school kitchen for their Valentine party, then they decorated paper napkins and paper plates with red hearts. Tuesday they had their party in one side of the room. The music teacher's office where the Valentine box was kept. Paul Miller, with a postman's cap and bag, delivered the Valentines after their lunch of jello hearts. Everyone received several pretty Valentines.
 The group of the first grade in Miss Stuker's room are reading in their Elson Primer. They talked and made pictures about Eskimo children.
 The children in Miss Stader's room have finished their booklets on the boyhood of Abraham Lincoln. The underlying thought which characterized the stories was the great love for animals and birds which Lincoln possessed. We are making Washington booklets with red, white, and blue colored covers.
 The third A and fourth B in Miss Newale's room wrote stories about their pets. The five A are waiting a play for language class. The sixth grade made special reports on China.
 The five B in Miss Hunt's room are having spell downs every day. They are getting ready for the final spell-down. The fourth A language class made some Lincoln booklets. Charles Crumm is back to school.

TORCH CLUB HAS NEW OFFICERS

On February seventeenth, after the usual business had been transacted, Mr. Child called the new officers and chairman.
 The officers for this semester are: Robert Stieloff for president, Arnold Ash for vice president, Lawrence Moe was reelected secretary, and Rex Swegles for treasurer.
 The chairman for this semester are: Darold Cline for program chairman, Jack Klusey for activity, Ellwood Elliott for membership, David Gates for food and James Livingstone for Bible Study.
 The group voted in these ten new members for this semester: Jack Blackmore, Edsel Forshee, Don Blessing, James Ledford, Harry Shoemaker, Jack Wilcox, Leonard Archer, Clinton Ledford, Richard Gregory and Clark Felton.
 The above will be formally inducted at the next home meeting, which will come sometime next week.

SENIOR PROM PROVES A VERY SUCCESSFUL EVENT

With inimitable music furnished by Jimmie Aftel and his Club Hollywood orchestra, approximately two hundred beautifully garbed women with their escorts were gathered in the Plymouth high school auditorium last Friday evening as guests of the senior class at the annual Senior Prom and enjoyed a delightful evening of dancing. This was one of the most outstanding social events to take place in the high school this year.
 The stage and auditorium were transformed into a Dutch landscape the stage being the most interesting with its background decorated with a large white ship anchored in a harbor. A large windmill with revolving hands containing the class numerals was at one side of the stage next to the orchestra. At the front of the stage near the footlights, was a beautiful tulip garden surrounded by white lattice work. The ceiling was covered with a blue sky, from which hung many lamps patterned into stars, thus breaking the monotony. The street scene and canal that covered the side walls of the auditorium were very interesting with their queer Dutch characteristics. Floodlights were placed in corners to give a more pleasing effect.
 The Grand March was led by Kenneth Greer, class president, with his guest, Miss Helen Wolfram followed by the other class officers: Ernest Archer, vice-president of the class with Miss Elizabeth Nichol, the general chairman for the Prom; Robert Champe and Miss Gertrude Schmidt, secretary of the class; Vincent Forshee and Miss Laura Klacade; Norman Mack and Miss Vera Newbrough; David Mather and Miss Marjorie Edsall; Donald Bronson and Miss Beulah Sorenson; Melvin Blunk and Miss Roberta Chappel; J. D. McLaren and Miss Jane Whipple; Sheldon Baker and Miss Margaret Holcomb; Edward Murphy and Miss Miriam Joliffe; Jason Lyke and Miss Vera Woods; William Tuck and Miss Joan Joliffe; Albert Miller and Miss Eiva Hill; Van Wyck and Miss Marjorie Clay; Curtiss Ellis and Miss Eileen Jordan; with the rest of the guests following.
 Charming little Pauline Wiedman and Bobby Bachelor handed out programs from two large wooden shoes. Odene Hitt and Miss Margaret Holcomb acted as host and hostess.
 Serving as patrons and patronesses were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dykhouse; Mr. and Mrs. James Gallimore; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Buzzard; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rathburn; Mr. and Mrs. William Greer; Mr. and Mrs. James Kincaid; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Geer; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schmidt; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens.
 Receiving the guests were George A. Smith, superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Smith; Claude J. Dykhouse, principal of the high school and Mrs. Dykhouse; Mr. and Mrs. James Gallimore; Kenneth Greer, class president, and Miss Helen Wolfram; Miss Gertrude Fiegel, class adviser and Samuel Fiegel; Miss Vivian Smith, class adviser, and Arthur Hoar; Miss Sarah Lickly, class adviser, and George Felt.

Local Girl Wins Skating Honors

Phyllis Ratnour, a local high school student and a juvenile member of the Olympia Skating Club, received the second prize for figure skating last Sunday. Laura Jane Brown took first prize, and Dorothy Backus took third. School figures began at 9:30 a. m. and ended at 1:00 p. m. with free skating in the afternoon from 3:00 to 5:00.
 The skating figures were inside digits and outside digits, both to be started with the right foot. If the skater failed to comply with this rule the referee compelled her to start again and begin with the right foot. One and a half minutes were given to free skating, which means, skating in any figure you desire.
 A figure skating competition was held between the Olympia Skating Club and the Michigan Figure Skating Club to determine the winners of the Square Deal Miller Trophy. The trophy was awarded to the Olympia Skating Club. Next year Phyllis will be a novice in the skating club.
 The dining center in a large kitchen can be made more private and attractive by separating it from the work area. A simple screen made from light weight building board and covered with wall paper may solve your problem.

Earl Ryder was taken to the University hospital in Ann Arbor for sciatic nerve trouble last Thursday and will be in a cast for a month after which the doctors hope his condition will be greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Herrick and son were called to Flint the early part of last week, because of the death of Mrs. Herrick's mother, Mrs. Martha A. McCarthy, who passed away Sunday evening, February 12 at the age of eighty-two years, eleven months and three days. She was the last of a family of five children of George William and Cloab Eliza Cadwell, who came to Manchester, Michigan, from Sandy Creek, New York in 1849.

Mrs. McCarthy was married while yet in her teens and was the mother of nine children, seven surviving her. She was the mother of three grandchildren, and thirteen great grandchildren. She has been a widow for the past twenty-two years and made her home with her children. She spent several years here in Plymouth with her daughter, going from here to a son's home in Flint. For the last four years she had been unable to walk but has borne her affliction very patiently until the end came. She was laid to rest Wednesday noon, February 15, 1933 in Cronline cemetery in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Helen L. Wernett of Detroit spent a few days this week with her son William L. Wernett and family on the North road.

One of Detroit's outstanding events of the season was the festival of sacred choral music given at the Boulevard Temple last Monday evening under the direction of E. L. Whittlesey. The Plymouth M. E. church membership can feel proud that their choir participated in this outstanding musical event. Besides the Temple's own choir eight other choirs from Detroit and surrounding cities took part. Ten sacred classics were sung by the chorus of 250 voices and this was preceded by a 15 minute organ recital. A good many Plymouth folks were present and at least a fourth of the audience was from outside Detroit. Many Plymouth folks will be glad to hear that the Boulevard Temple choir will return the visit Wednesday evening March the 15th at which time they will sing for us at the M. E. Church in Blacklock in the evening. No admission charged.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fisher and children were luncheon guests Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith on Penniman avenue.

Mrs. Violet Quackenbush entertained her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Assoldt of Detroit at dinner Saturday evening at her home on Ann street.

Mrs. Stanford Hesse was hostess to the members of the Plus Ultra card club Thursday afternoon at her home on Ann street.

Here's Something For Mr. Fisherman To Know About Fish - A black bass is a white bass, a sunfish is a moonfish, and a yike is a trout. There isn't a species of fish in Michigan's waters that is not known by at least a half dozen other names in other states, according to the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation, and frequently this diversity of names causes confusion.

As an example, the Fish Division pointed out, when a Mississippi angler says that he caught a trout, the chances are it was the same fish that is known in Michigan as a smallmouth black bass, which is known in some localities as a black perch, or in other places as a longfish. The large-mouth black bass has even more designations. He is known variously as a green bass, white bass, southern chub, or he may be known as a yellow jond perch.

The "wall-eye" pike is another species gifted with a long array of names. In the Great Lakes he may be known as a pikelet, a yellow pike or pike-perch. In other localities he may be a river trout, jack fish or a lake pike.

The trout is fortunate in that almost universally he is known by that one name. However, the brook trout is sometimes a speckled or a mountain trout. The rainbow is frequently a coast range trout and a brown trout may be a You Bet trout, a stream trout or a European brook trout, depending upon the particular locality.

The regular meeting of the Plymouth Grange will be held March 2 with a potluck dinner at one. A good attendance is desired.

William Strong visited in Detroit Saturday. Lawrence Oak and family, Mrs. Mary Saultock, William Loy and family and John Strong, on Sunday he and his sister, Mrs. Kate Fisher and family attended the Hope Evangelical Lutheran church. After having dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher, they visited Rev. J. Klobner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McLeod and daughters, Janette and Ireta of this city and Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman and son, Harold, of Detroit attended a dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Heaney in Farmington, honoring Mrs. McLeod's birthday.

A party of twenty-five young people, mostly students from the University of Michigan, University of Detroit, Michigan State College, and Michigan State Normal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bronson Friday evening following the "Senior Prom" at a buffet supper honoring the birthdays of their sons, William and Milton. Mrs. Plina selections by Miss Ruth Allison of this city and Y. Geor of Ann Arbor and singing by the group made the occasion a most enjoyable one.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Walter Nichol, M. A., Pastor. Morning worship, 10:00 a. m. Sunday-school, 11:30 a. m. Evening worship, 7:30 p. m.

The Centennial celebration of the church began on Sunday last. The day was fine, the services were all of a very high order and attendance was exceptionally large. Fuller reference to this is found elsewhere. This celebration promises to be a rich blessing in inspiration and re-consecration to the entire congregation. The services next Sunday will conclude the special anniversary exercises and will be a fitting climax to the week.

The Centennial Banquet at 6:30 p. m. Friday evening will be another high light in the Anniversary. Rev. Dr. Farber with his long connection with this church and Rev. Dr. Vance with his intimate knowledge of the whole work of the church offer an evening of most extraordinary interest. And then there is the music and the dinner and the fellowship.

The Ready Service class held an enjoyable George Washington party at the home of Mrs. P. J. Westman on Tuesday of this week.

The Mission Study class will meet on Tuesday February 28th at 8:30 p. m. with the Misses Ruth and Myrtle Graham at 215 North Spring street. Cooperative supper will be followed by a fine program.

World Day of Prayer is to be observed by the Christian Women of Plymouth. The meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, Friday, March 3rd at 1 p. m. o'clock. The women of all the churches of Plymouth are invited to share this privilege with the women of the world. An interesting program will be followed.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE. 748 Starkweather. Robert A. North, Pastor. Sunday Services: Sunday school, 10 a. m. Preaching, 11:30 a. m. Young People, 6:30 p. m. Evangelistic Hour, 7:30 p. m. Prayer and fellowship, 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

We invite all to come out to our meetings, and help us push the battle for God and righteousness. Jesus came into the world "to seek and to save that which was lost." Luke 19: 10. All are lost because "all have sinned and come short of the Glory of God." Rom. 3:23. All sinners must repent of their sins or be lost. Repentance was the first message preached by John the Baptist in Matt 3:2, and also by Jesus in Matt 4:17.

On Friday evening at 6:30 p. m. our Young People will meet at the church, and from there will go to Detroit and attend the services at the First Church of the Nazarene where Evangelists Otto and Billie Schwab are conducting a series of revival meetings.

The loss of a cow that developed a taste for whisky and drank itself to death on mash is lamented by William Bartlett, of Monroe County. Ind. Bartlett heard a calf howling and on investigation found the mother dead. Nearby were two barrels of mash, one half empty.

11:15 a. m. Bible school. The title of the lesson is "Jesus shows his power." See Mark 4, verse 35 to Mark 5, verse 20.

6:30 p. m. Young People's meeting. Come and meet with them. 7:30 p. m. Evening worship service will be again be conducted by Rev. Miles, God willing.

Wednesday, March 1st. 8:45 p. m. The regular Wednesday afternoon children's meeting. Further interesting work for the children will be given them. 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting. This is the covenant meeting of the church. It was instituted by the church last Wednesday. Read Matthew 26:40.

MAY GIVE AUTO DRIVERS MORE TIME ON PLATES. The proposal of Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald to allow continued use of automobiles until August 1 upon payment of one-half of the motor vehicle weight tax, seems likely to be enacted into law before March 1st. Plymouth auto drivers will be pleased if this action is taken.

Because of the fact that hundreds of thousands of motorists would otherwise be deprived of the use of their cars March 1, Mr. Fitzgerald proposed that motorists be allowed to pay one-half of the weight tax in return the motorists are to be provided with some suitable identification device which will be used in conjunction with the 1932 license. Cars thus equipped could be used until August 1, when the second half of the weight tax will be collected and 1933 license plates issued.

A bill providing for changes in the motor vehicle weight tax laws to conform to Mr. Fitzgerald's suggestions, was introduced in the senate by Senator Herbert P. Orr of Caro. The senate committee which had the bill under consideration, returned the measure to the floor of the senate last Friday without amendment and members of both senate and house of representatives have indicated that party lines are to be forgotten in an effort to assist motorists. Harming unforeseen legislative delays, the measure should become a law next Saturday or Monday, Feb. 27.

Under the present statute, 1932 license plates cannot be used locally after March 1, but in event the Orr bill is enacted into law by that date, the legislature will be asked to pass a resolution providing for the continued use of 1932 plates until the bill is passed and the Department of State is able to distribute the identification devices. Another advantage of the bill is that if motorists are allowed to use their cars, the state will receive the revenue from the excelling tax which otherwise would be lost.

West Plymouth. A five-year-old is reported as having said to his mother, "I do hope our teeth picks last until the banks open up."

Guests Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Carman Root's were Mrs. Gertrude Graves and daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Graves, and children, Nancy and Billy, Junior, Dr. and Mrs. Burgess and daughter from Detroit; Mrs. Kate Allen, Miss Della Entrican and Mrs. Ella Chaffee of Plymouth.

"AIR MAIL" "Air Mail," a universal picture, starring Gloria Stuart, Lillian Russell, Ralph Bellamy, "Slim" Sumnerville, Pat O'Brien and Russell Hopton, will be featured at the Pennington Allen Theatre Saturday, February 25.

"HELLO EVERYBODY" Kate Smith's first starring motion picture, "Hello, Everybody," a story written especially for her by Fannie Hurst, has been booked for the Pennington Allen Theatre Saturday, February 25.

Miss Smith is the central character in a simple, touching story. As leader of a group of farmers whose property is threatened by a power company which insists on destroying their lands to make way for a great water project she abandons her own homestead to go East and make a name for herself on the radio, in an effort to raise funds with which to battle the case in court.

"A FAREWELL TO ARMS" Ernest Hemingway's famous novel, "A Farewell to Arms," transplanted to the screen with Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper in starring roles, and with Adolphe Menjou heading the supporting cast appears at the Pennington Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, February 26 and 27.

Cooper plays the role of the young American, a lieutenant in the Italian ambulance corps during the War. Menjou is cast as Ronald, his war-brother. Miss Hayes plays the role of Catherine Barkley, the English nurse with whom Cooper falls in love.

"THE MYSTERIOUS RIDER" "The Mysterious Rider," Zane Grey's twenty-sixth stirring story of the Western plains to be brought to the screen will be shown at the Pennington Allen Theatre Wednesday, March 1.

In 240 accidents caused by drivers asleep at the wheel in Pennsylvania during the first ten months of 1932, 12 were fatal.

Mr. and Mrs. David Frey and sons of Detroit were Sunday guests at Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holcomb's. John Cool of Gales visited his brother, Lee Cool, Saturday. Miss Edith Millward went into Detroit Sunday, returning Wednesday.

Peach buds seem to be badly damaged, more than half killed, according to one observer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Root, and son, Claude, were visitors at the J. F. Root home Sunday. H. C. Root is employed at the Swisher Grocery Co. in Ann Arbor. He told of the shop's being robbed last Friday night. Between $1500 and $2000 worth of cigarettes were taken away in one of the company's trucks. The truck was recovered Saturday afternoon in Wyandotte, but no trace of the stolen tobacco was found. The loss was not covered by insurance. Several of the local groceries are supplied from this wholesale grocery company.

Rug Making Creates Much Local Interest

The home of Mrs. Howard Stark on Forest avenue was the scene of much bustle and chatter on Monday, February 6. Before 2 o'clock not only had the regular members of the Household Furnishings Club gathered but in addition four visitors were present to hear the lesson on rug making as given by Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Woodbury.

Even though the business session was a short one, time flew by and before the engrossed assemblage had realized it, supper time was almost upon them and it was found necessary to continue the instruction at an additional meeting.

That those present really enjoyed themselves and advertised the value of this lesson was apparent by the size of the group that met at the home of Mrs. Norman Potter, February 13. Twelve visitors brought the number of those seeking information on the subject of rug making to 32.

Undoubtedly a considerable amount of satisfaction and felt their afternoon well spent, for not only were they taught the art of handling 4 and 5 strands of cloth but actually had the opportunity to crocheted and hook portions of sample rugs.

The leaders again demonstrated their ability to find time for their own interests. The information from Mrs. Reis, the M. S. Extension expert in charge of this course, and the hour of the lesson to gather concrete examples of their points. Both had made small sample rugs of each type and had prevailed of friends and acquaintances to loan their treasures and had made rugs to still further aid to the enlightenment and pleasure of those gathered at their homes.

Two women in particular loaned many beautiful hooked rugs. Mrs. W. G. Holdsworth and Mrs. Charles Marble. The latter has accomplished what seemed impossible to the majority there, namely, the hooking of 10 rugs, one being a runner nine feet long. She was a past master at this art and we all enjoyed having her demonstrate her skill in hooking.

The leaders gave us a considerable amount of instruction in such matters as rug designing, laying the colors, placing the rug, choosing and preparing the materials for the various kinds of rugs. That these materials need not be expensive and still we may create rugs of beauty and durability was strikingly brought out by the braided rugs the leaders had started of burr oak, maple and birch.

The two teams are neck and neck in their punctuality race, both captains and contestants are to be congratulated. Perhaps the fact that so far our hostesses have appealed to our sweet tooth and prepared candy or other refreshment has been of some consequence in getting us out on time. Both Mrs. Stark and Mrs. Vetter had heaped up plates of delicious candy ready for those on the dot.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Laible, 425 north Harvey street, March 20. At this time the topic is to be "Planning the Background of the Home." We will be taught how to apply the principles of beautiful color harmonies to wall coverings, woodwork and floor coverings. Again we welcome visitors.

Rosedale Gardens

The Art and Letter club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Leslie. A delightful humorous program which had been planned by the committee, consisted of a short sketch by Mrs. Edward Cunliffe and Mrs. Harold Church, a humorous correspondence by Mrs. Fred Weinert, a monologue by Mrs. Mason and several selections by Mrs. William Hodson. At the close of the meeting, the hostesses served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mason on Melrose avenue.

Mrs. and Mrs. Leslie Taylor entertained Camellian guests over the week-end.

William Hodson, Jr., who is attending college at Kalamazoo, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hodson, returning again Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Frank Ames entertained with number one of the Wayne Methodist church auxiliary at her home Wednesday afternoon.

The Father and Son banquet held last week at our church was most successful. The speakers on the program included Frank Wagner, toastmaster, Capt. Deniston of the House of Correction, Fred Weinert and Jack Butterick. Schaffers orchestra furnished the music. The

IF YOU GET UP NIGHTS

Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUCKETS, the bladder physic, also containing hubeu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" so back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your money also. Sold by Berco Pharmacy, Plymouth, Mich., and C. R. Horton, Druggist, Northville, Mich. say BUCKETS is a best seller.

entertainment which was much enjoyed was planned by Edward Cunliffe.

Mrs. Curtis Buft of Arden avenue entertained a few guests at bridge Wednesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday.

An important program for the next P. T. A. is being planned by the teachers of the school. Plan on being present.

STARK SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Jameson visited the upper grades Wednesday, February 15. She looked at seventh grade geography work-books and the eighth grade history note-books. We have eight of our gold stars.

We have four nature study books and a seventh grade reader for our library.

On February 12th we celebrated Lincoln's birthday by spending a study period telling stories about him.

The Stark School P. T. A. had a box social and dance Thursday night. Schaffers orchestra furnished the music. The eighth grade girls sold lunch to earn money for a trip this coming summer. They are selling candy and lunches all year.

Go To Detroit On A Visit - Give Friends In Car A Real Scare

Not until Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rose of Detroit, read this issue of The Plymouth Mail will they know that the automobile that chased them through the streets of north Detroit last Saturday evening contained friends instead of stick-up men. Mr. and Mrs. Rose were among the residents of Plymouth, Mich. Rose was formerly Mrs. Helen Passare.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Campbell, well known Plymouth residents, had driven into Detroit to call upon friends living on Tuller avenue. Finding them away from home, they decided to sit in their car and wait awhile, thinking possibly their friends would return home. After some little time they decided to wait no longer and started up their engine.

Just as they did so another car approached the same address, Mrs. Campbell immediately recognized Mr. and Mrs. Rose, who apparently intended to stop at the same place. As the Campbell car turned around, Mr. Rose hurriedly drove away, but anxious to see them, the Campbell's followed the Rose car, which kept increasing its speed, turning corners sharply and finally down an alley.

With Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were their four children and after the chase had continued for a dozen or more blocks the Campbell's stopped and enjoyed a good laugh.

counts. This new money may be withdrawn in whole or in part at any time. No restrictions apply to new deposits, and the banks are enjoined from using these new deposits.

"Even if a bank went up the flume," Comstock said, "new deposits would be safe unless there were downright stealing."

4. Withdrawals from deposits, under limitations prescribed by the governor, are only for necessary expenses—such as payrolls, checks, living expenses, tax payments, drafts or bills, drafts with bills of lading attached or Reconstruction Finance Corporation money on deposit for welfare.

5. The main object is to keep our banking services and protect small depositors from losses they would suffer if big depositors pulled out. Preference of one depositor over another is strictly enjoined.

6. A subsidiary object of the program is to keep money in Michigan.

"I intend to enforce the new holiday until legislation can be enacted," Comstock said. "I think the view this will be done by March 15 is quite optimistic.

"This executive holiday is likely to last quite some time.

"Banks will want public hearings. Committees will want to know all the facts. Any banking bill must have a two-thirds vote in both branches of the legislature.

The new order makes the banking commissioner a regular director of Michigan banking affairs. He can release deposits or he can hold them, whether the banker likes it or not.

Meanwhile folks are getting used to the limited banking operations permitted by the state.

LOWER GAS RATE

that the amount of gas sold had steadily increased during these years. This alone seemed to be evidence enough to demand a lower rate. With this information at hand the committee again met with the gas company officials. The statement was repeated by them that no reduction was possible and that their earnings were continually falling. Mr. Learned outlined the information which he had obtained which indicated that the earnings were not decreasing, but instead were very rapidly increasing. He was asked where the figures were obtained and Mr. Learned said, "from the official records of the State of Michigan filed by your company." The reply to this statement was that the figures which Mr. Learned had obtained "did not mean anything." Mr. Learned stated that the reports were filed under oath by the company and must be true. After this meeting the gas officials agreed to see if some adjustment could not be made which would be satisfactory.

At the next meeting an offer of a reduction of five cents per thousand cubic feet was made. This offer was promptly rejected by the committee because it was felt the amount was not anywhere in line with the reductions which could be made under existing conditions and in accordance with the facts which had been obtained from Lansing. A request for a rate of 600 cu. feet for 75¢ and the balance at $1.25 per thousand cu. feet had already been made to the gas company by the committee, which demand was not met with. However, the committee felt that the rate offered by the company was not satisfactory and it had plans to obtain a rate as near the rate demanded as possible.

After this meeting a study of the financial and operating data of the gas company was made and a new demand made by the committee slightly above the original demand. This rate was set at 400 cu. feet at $1.00 and the balance at $1.25 per thousand cu. ft. said rate to become effective Jan. 1, 1933. The company was advised that no rate higher than this would be considered. However, the company submitted a counter offer of 300 cu. feet at $1.00 and the balance at $1.25 per thousand cu. ft. to become effective March 1, 1933.

The committee met again after the counter proposal was submitted but again the offer was rejected.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH

Rev. James C. Hazeman, who has been serving as pastor of the Fort Street Congregational Church of Detroit, will preach at the regular service at 10:30 on February 23. He is coming to permit the pastor to conduct a service for young people in a Detroit church. Several of the Salem young folks will accompany Mrs. Pennell.

Remember the fish supper, February evening, February 24 at 6:30, followed by a program. The only really happy folks today are found in our churches. Come and see.

Our Bible school superintendent, Hugh Means, is doing splendid work in building up the school. Are you doing all that you can do to win Salem youth for Christ? Each one has his place, his work, his influence—and responsibility.

and the company advised that no agreement could be reached on any basis other than on the rate proposed by the committee. A few days later the company offered the three communities the rate which had been proposed by the committee.

This offer was accepted by the City Commission of Plymouth last Monday night and the rate will be in effect March 1st. The resolution thanking Mr. Learned for his services in successfully completing these negotiations followed the approval of the rates.

Newburg

Rev. Thomas Pryor preached a fine sermon Sunday on faith. From the book of Genesis being "And Abraham went forth not knowing whether He Was Going."

100 were present in Sunday school. The blues were winners in the contest. A short Washington Day program was given.

Next Sunday it being Longfellow's birthday, a short program will be given in his honor.

All invited to attend the church service at 10:00 a. m. Sunday school from 11 to 12.

The L. A. S. will hold their meeting at the home of Mrs. Granger next week Wednesday afternoon, March 1. All cordially invited.

A large number attended the silver tea at the M. E. parsonage last week Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Pryor's mother, Mrs. Woodford of Ann Arbor, gave a most interesting talk on her five months spent in Syria a year ago. Mrs. Pryor acted as a model for the quaint costumes her mother brought back with her from that far-off country. A delicious luncheon was served with Mrs. M. Eva Smith and Mrs. Emma L. Ryder pouring.

Mrs. Jesse Thomas' aunt is visiting here.

Glad to note that Miss Anna Youngs who has been quite ill is much improved.

Mrs. Vera Joy of Plymouth spent Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James McNabb. Miss Joy McNabb also spent Sunday at home.
