

BEER MONEY IS HOPE OF STATE

Finances Real Reason For Haste In Enacting Beer Legislation

Lansing, Mich.—Many people of Michigan have wondered why the administration in Lansing is so anxious to have the legislature pass a beer bill. They realize that the legislation is not the result of any unusual public demand, although the public is favorable to the fiscal sale of beer within the state.

The real reason of the anxiety of administrative officials in Lansing is due to the fact that the state of Michigan is without cash and officials hope that the license fees provided in the beer bill will bring some revenues into the empty state treasury and not because of any general hunger for beer.

Yes, the state is practically penniless. Employees of educational institutions were only paid half of their wages the first of this month and practically no bills have been paid by the state since the first of the year. At a time when the state treasury should be running over with cash, there is none there.

County treasurers are reporting that they have practically no tax money to send the state. That portion of the gas and weight tax not already expended for purposes specified in the state law, is being diverted to other purposes.

From the beginning of the year, state has had no money from the state source, say members of the house and senate. If its government is to continue to function, the beer bill is regarded as the one, last currency vein that can be tapped and it is for that reason that such frantic haste is being made to pass the measure.

To those who are anxious to get a license to sell beer, there will be no definite information on this subject until the bill has been placed on final reading in the house. Last week-end found the measure slowly making its way through senate hearings.

But there is this much that is sure about it, the villages, cities and counties will have nothing to do with issuing the licenses or controlling the sale of beer. It is known in some places that dozens of applications have already been filed with village and city authorities, but these applications will not count. No village or city legislation can keep the state from issuing a permit within the municipal boundaries.

One desires to get a license to sell beer, the application must be filed at Lansing with the new state beer control commission that is provided for in the bill now being considered. There can be no bars and beer will be permitted served at tables only. The schedule of prices for licenses will not be definitely known until the bill is ready for the governor's signature.

Officers Elected By the M. E. Choir

Last week the Plymouth Methodist choral society held its annual election of officers for the 1933-34 season. Mrs. E. Malcolm Norton, president; Mrs. Chauncey Carter, vice president; Miss Madeline Shingleton, secretary; Joseph Ott, treasurer; Miss Zerolpha Blunk, librarian.

This organization under the most able direction of Mrs. M. J. O'Connor has been exceptionally successful for an entirely volunteer choir in its first year. Palm Sunday over thirty voices participated in the service. For the Easter morning service it is expected that the number of singers will again be thirty.

The Hallelujah chorus from Handel's Messiah, "As It Began to Dawn," by Vincent and "Hosanna," by Granier will be the three special choir numbers. Wm. McCullough will sing the solo part in "As It Began to Dawn," and Alfred Smith will sing the solo part in "Hosanna." The offertory will be "Le Cygne," by Saint-Saens, organ and piano duo. Miss Barbara Baker will play the piano part. There will be a trio "The Empty Tomb," by Bernard Hamilton, sung by Mrs. E. M. Carter, Mrs. Clifford Cline and Mrs. Victor Sissung.

Look Out! Thieves Stealing Stickers

According to Berg Moore, Manager of the Plymouth Branch of the Department of State, complaints are being received about the theft of stickers issued on a 50-cent license plan in lieu of 1933 plates. He therefore warns motorists to make sure that these stickers are applied to windshields in accordance with instructions which appear on printed slips issued with every sticker.

Mr. Moore also takes this occasion to thank people for their good nature and patience during the rush periods when many people had to stand in line for over an hour. He states that it requires from two to three times as long to issue a sticker as it does to issue license plates, because of the many illegitimate entries on the stickers and sticker applications.

Mrs. Julia Jarskey Made President of Starkweather P. T. A.

Mrs. Julia Jarskey was elected president of the Starkweather P. T. A. Monday evening, April 10. Other officers elected were Mrs. Ed. Ebert, vice president; Miss Elizabeth DeWaele, secretary; Mrs. Harry Dahmer, treasurer; Mrs. Roy W. Eber, publicity agent.

The meeting was called to order by the acting president, Mrs. Ed. Ebert. After the business meeting a delightful children's program was given by the teachers, Miss DeWaele and Miss Stader. The fourth grade pupils of Miss DeWaele's delighted the audience with poems and songs composed entirely by themselves. The first and second B pupils of Miss Stader's room gave a play entitled, "Miss Pansy's May Party." Each child was dressed to represent either a flower, sunflower, star or bee. The costumes were beautiful and the stage setting perfect.

A delightful piano duet was given by Mrs. Geo. Trinka and Mrs. Henry Yatzick.

Welfare In Need Of Shoes and Rubbers

Housewives of Plymouth! While you are cleaning house this week or next week, if you find any old shoes for men, women or children that can be utilized for a bit of additional wear, kindly notify the Plymouth welfare department at the Starkweather school.

Not only are shoes needed, but if you have some rubbers that you have discarded, they too can be used. Shoes and rubbers are the greatest need at present and you can help a lot by not checking over discarded footwear you may find about your home.

Officers Elected By the M. E. Choir

The next regular meeting of the M. E. choir will be at the home of Lady Grace Martin on the Ann Arbor road on Wednesday, April 19th.

They are planning to leave the Mayflower Hotel at 7 p. m. and if those who can, will please arrive in time to help make other provisions for the evening.

Merchants Find It Pays To Advertise

Times are tough and money hard to get, but Plymouth merchants find that even in times like these it pays to advertise. Last week the Dodge drug store advertised in the Plymouth Mail its annual spring one-half off sale. Mr. Dodge is highly pleased with the success of the event. The sale total is not quite as high as a year ago, but it is not far from it.

The Wilson hardware on the northside last week advertised the introduction of the Coleman stoves to the Plymouth complete line of goods. Mr. Wilson not only made a number of sales but the Mail advertisement brought a large number of people to the store who had never before been in his place of business. While some of them did not buy at once, they did make other purchases. It pays to advertise in hard times as well as prosperous times, that fact has again and again been proven.

Fix Dates Of Credit Convention Here

Secretary Berg Moore of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has been advised that May 15 and 16 have been fixed as the dates for the annual spring convention of the Associated Credit Bureau of Michigan. The convention will be held in the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth and will bring something like 75 or 100 representatives from all parts of the state.

Last year's meeting was held in Traverse City. The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has been operating a credit bureau as a part of its activities.

STUDENTS WIN FIRST HONORS

Plymouth And Bartlett Schools Capture Awards In County Contests

These are happy days for the students and friends of the Bartlett school as well as the Plymouth high school—happy days because a number of students from these two schools walked away with high honors last Saturday in the 4-H Club Achievement contest held at Dearborn.

Two from the Bartlett school, John Reich and Arthur Barta, won first honors for handicraft work and will go to Lansing this summer as representatives of Wayne county to contest for state honors. Not only did two students from the Bartlett school win first honors but two others came home with honorary mention, Leonard Hook and Howard Zander having captured this distinction.

On top of all of these distinctions, John Reich Jr., of the Bartlett school won the health championship for the senior division and he will also go to Lansing to compete for additional honors. Beatrice Reich won honorary mention for style in dress making.

At the Plymouth high school Miss Yvonne Hearn, a member of the Sophomore class, was named the healthiest girl in all Wayne county and because of this distinction won by her, the 4-H clubs of Wayne county will send her to Lansing this summer to compete for higher honors.

During the five years as a member of the 4-H club, Yvonne has won in addition to the above honors, the county championship for three years for sewing and the state championship for one year. As the result of this last award she will receive a two year scholarship without cost at the Michigan State college at East Lansing upon her graduation from the Plymouth high school.

The outfit that made it possible for Yvonne to win was made of green wool and light brown accessories and cost about $15.00.

Over 100 girls took part in the style show contest, Merna Van Tassel, being the other Wayne county girl to win honors with the Plymouth outfit.

Dorothy Hearn, a sister of the champion, also is a genius at sewing and she too has won a sewing championship for four years. It is the plan of the winner to continue with the sixth and final year of 4-H club work.

The play, which was presented at Cady school some time ago, is being repeated at Newburg, half of the proceeds going to the Ladies Aid of the Newburg M. E. church.

Training School Work Is Praised

The Wayne County Training School furnished the day's program before the Psychology and Education Section of the Southwestern Michigan Science and Mathematics Club at its recent annual meeting last week. This is an organization of school administrators and supervisory teachers from the southwestern section of the State of Michigan which meets each year at the Kalamazoo State Normal College for discussion of professional problems. Dr. Haakel presented the paper for discussion at the morning session on the subject of "The Significance of Mental Tests for the Classroom Teacher." The afternoon session was devoted to a symposium on "Stimulus in Remedial Reading among Educable Mental Defectives" under the leadership of Dr. Hegg, assisted by Dr. Sears and Mr. Kirk. The latter is a school staff, with the subdivisions of "The Diagnosis of Remedial Trainability" by Dr. Sears; "The Results of Training," by Dr. Hegg; and "The Techniques of Training," by Mr. Kirk.

The program was arranged by Dr. Charles E. Ellis who is in charge of teacher training activities at the Kalamazoo State Normal of those who are preparing to work with the mentally defective and other handicapped children in the public schools of the State.

Legion Members Attend Banquet Over at Northville

Nearly every member of the American Legion of Plymouth attended the third annual Army Day banquet of the Northville American Legion held in the Methodist church house of that place last Saturday evening. G. Braden, of the Detroit News, who keeps this part of the world informed twice daily about news events of the globe was the chief speaker.

In addition to the talk made by Mr. Braden, Mayor Frank Snow of Northville gave an interesting talk about the financial affairs of that community. He told how the city government had cut its expenses down many thousands of dollars during the past year and of the plan to make a greater reduction during the forthcoming year.

He declared that if it was not for the bonded indebtedness of the village, that the tax could be cut just a few thousand dollars per year.

Dr. Snow has given much of his time to village affairs and its favorable financial condition is due largely to his efforts.

Dr. Brennan Gets Position in East

Plymouth friends of Dr. Thomas P. Brennan, former assistant superintendent of the Wayne County Training school, will be interested in knowing that he has just been appointed as chief of the psychiatric activities in Grasslands County Hospital, Westchester county, New York and that he will assume his new duties at once. This is one of the older institutions specially maintained for the treatment of mentally sick individuals.

Dr. Brennan came to the Training school from the University of Iowa State Psychopathic hospital where he had been assistant medical director and director. It is understood that his new position pays $8,500 per year.

Since his retirement from the services of the Training school he has been making his home in Lansing.

Look Out, Fido! The City Is After You!

During the past few days several complaints have been received at the city hall relative to the number of dogs running at large and doing considerable damage to property and causing annoyance to persons.

Every effort is being made by the police department to combat this nuisance and unless owners of dogs keep them confined in order that the most outstanding complaints will be done away with it will be necessary for the police officers to take more drastic action than has been the case in the past.

It is some times very difficult to catch the dogs and bring them into the pound, therefore other measures will have to be taken. The fee for releasing a dog from the pound is one dollar and in case a license has not been purchased, it is also necessary to provide a license at the same time.

Mayor Appointed To Important Post

Mayor John Henderson was Tuesday named a member of the important ways and means committee of the Wayne county board of supervisors. The selection of the chief executive to this important post on the committee that covers all of the expenditures of the Wayne county comes as a special recognition of his services given during the brief year that he has been a member of the county board. It is the first time this place has had a member of that body in the number of years.

SEEK WORK IN FOREST ARMY

City Manager Has Not Yet Secured Data On Enlistment Plan

While Plymouth has fifteen young men registered for enlistment in the government's forest service army, up to Tuesday, City Manager Cookingham had not found out how they could be enrolled for this special employment. He stated however, when asked, that he planned to call Mr. Ballenger of Detroit by telephone and find out from him just what to do.

Monday night the welfare department of Detroit had listed and examined 6,700 men of that city who had enrolled for forestry work.

"I haven't taken the matter up as yet because I didn't know just what to call," explained Mr. Cookingham Tuesday morning. "But I will call Mr. Ballenger today and see what I can find out," he stated when asked as to what Plymouth planned to do about these young men who are so anxious to get work in the forestry units being formed by the government.

All of those who have enrolled in Plymouth are single and between the ages 18 and 25. They have been out of work for months and are anxious to turn their hand at anything. In fact some of them have become seriously depressed as a result of their long idleness.

Manager Cookingham later called Mr. Ballenger of Detroit who was unable to provide any information about what could be done with young men from the smaller communities who are anxious to get in forestry work. He said that Mr. Ballenger had advised him that the state welfare director had no information on the subject. "I don't know who to write to in Washington, but possibly Congressman Dondero can provide some of the information asked about," explained the city manager.

FIX MAY FIRST AS TENTATIVE DATE FOR RE-OPENING BANK

AN EASTER PRAYER

From the foundation of the world, blessed Lord, Thou hast been the helper of man. Through victories and defeats, through tears and gladness may we walk with Thee in hope and in aspiration. May Thy spirit, with its quickening power, abide in our midst. Make us sensitive to Thy presence, and keep us away from the things that are dark and slings, cold and hateful, and with an irresistible attraction draw us toward Thee; thus we may achieve successfully the tasks that lie before us. Cleanse us from false pride and all vanity, from blinding passions and from all babbling and self-interest, and with an imperiously controlled and a most sympathetic cooperation aid us in our problems. We pray in our Savior's name.

Ellis B. Freatman, owner of the Blue Bird restaurant, was called to Rochester, New York Monday by the death of his mother, Mrs. Barbara Fisher, a daughter, Miss Barbara, accompanied Mr. Freatman on the trip to his old home in the east. His mother was 67 years of age and had spent her entire life in that city. The funeral was held Thursday, Mr. Freatman and daughter were expected home Sunday. It was barely two weeks ago when the father of Mrs. Freatman, Frank Potts, a well known resident of this place, died.

Palestine is reached by connecting the regular trans-Atlantic radio telephone circuits with a short wave channel between London and Beirut, Egypt and land wire facilities of Cairo.

Final Meeting Of Woman's Club For Year on April 21st

Seventy-five women, members and guests of the Woman's Club of Plymouth, attended the April 7th meeting when part of the Crystal Ball room of the Hotel Mayflower was transformed into a delightful kitchen with Mrs. Sara Goodale of Detroit, its charming and capable mistress.

It takes only a half hour to set up this portable, modern kitchen fourteen feet long and seven feet high. The color scheme of the kitchen was designed by the editor of the Home Beautiful department of a Detroit newspaper. It is a complete unit containing all necessary furniture, including an electric stove, useful utensils, new labor saving devices and other furnishings.

As Mrs. Goodale prepared an oven cooked meal, simple and appetizing, containing the necessary elements for a well balanced meal, she gave an interesting talk on "Food Values," bringing out the thought of the program committee: "For the sake of health, pleasures are taken by weights and measures, so ought food to be, or by some similar rule." The lecture was replete with helpful suggestions, new ideas, and practical household help in simplifying the work of intelligently planning meals for an average family.

Music added greatly to the enjoyment of the afternoon when Mrs. James Sessions sang two charming numbers, "The April Goodgood" and "Rain," Curran, Mrs. Maxwell Moon, Mrs. Wm. W. Weller, Mrs. Homer Bangin and Mrs. Charles O. Ball, the 1st Presbyterian Church quartet, delightfully sang "In the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," and "I Love a Lassie." Mrs. Sessions was accompanied by Mrs. M. J. O'Connor and the quartet by Mrs. Robert D. Shaw, both musicians of exceptional ability. A review of important current events was given by Miss Mabel Spicer.

Following the program coffee and cakes were served from a table that was spring-like with its yellow candles and centerpiece of long-stemmed flowers for the day. The committee for the day consisted of the following members: Mrs. Myron Hughes, chairman; Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Earl W. Wellman, Miss Nettie Polham, Miss Mabel Spicer, Mrs. Melvin Partridge, Mrs. Edward Wilkie, and Mrs. Henry P. Adams.

The final meeting of the 1932-33 club year will be held on April 21st when election of officers and reports of the year will be the important business of the day. The nominating committee elected by the club consists of Miss Otto Beyer, Mrs. Nettie Polham and Miss Mabel Spicer.

A committee, with Mrs. Cass Partridge as chairman, is planning the annual picnic-luncheon the nature of which will be announced later.

ALL PLEASED WITH PROGRESS

Public Good Will Has Aided Greatly in Rapid Steps Taken

Good news for Plymouth! Good news for its business men, depositors of the Plymouth United Savings bank and all others who are directly or indirectly affected by affairs of the community!

The state banking department has given its approval of May first as the opening date for the Plymouth United Savings Bank.

All that remains is the formal permission of Judge Theodore Richter and April 20 is the date which has been fixed for such legal steps as the statutes of the state require. Publication of the necessary legal notice is being made.

So that there will be no delay and that Plymouth residents may again enjoy as soon as possible the advantages of the Big Bank, every step towards the re-opening is being taken carefully and under the personal direction of Attorney Paul W. Voorhies, former attorney general of Michigan.

Under the memorandum agreement that has been worked out and because of the exceptionary precautions being made to safeguard the interests of the people of Plymouth and vicinity who have business connections with the bank, progress has necessarily been made with great care.

But to the everlasting credit of Plymouth it can be said that not a single obstruction has been placed in the way of the re-opening of the bank.

Even those who have had no business connections with the Plymouth United have been anxious to see it re-opened. There is no question but what the general good will and public support that the bank officials have had since they started working on the memorandum plan has had much to do with the steady progress they have been able to make.

Everyone associated with the bank, officers and employes alike have more than once expressed their appreciation of this ideal public support. Few communities in Michigan can point to such a fine public spirit as has been manifested during the bank re-organization steps necessary here.

What is being accomplished in Plymouth in sixty days has required a year or more in other communities. In fact in some places re-organization steps under the memorandum plan started over a year ago have not yet materialized and as a result those places are suffering severely.

While Plymouth made a desperate effort to be the one community in the metropolitan district of Detroit not to have a forced banking holiday, it can be said with credit to the community that it is going to be the first to have all of its banking facilities fully re-opened in the shortest possible time.

Back From Germany, Declares People Are Strong For Hitler

German people are enthusiastic about Hitler, business 14 better in that country than here and German bankers and business men are at a loss to understand why this commotion is making a flow of currency from America to Germany. That in brief is the observation of Allen Bernash, youthful Salasian who a few years ago adopted American citizenship and has just returned from a six months visit to his native land.

OH, MR. O'BRIEN, QUIT YOUR FOOLIN'

One of the chief human stumbling blocks to the progress of the Democratic Party in Michigan is, in our opinion, Patrick H. O'Brien, attorney-general. Mr. O'Brien, admitted by the lawyers of Michigan as a second-rate attorney, is running about Michigan with all sorts of new-fangled ideas, some of them out and out Socialism. His latest "baby" is a Bill drawn to allow the State to confiscate mines, factories, and other property, in order to provide employment for people. As a half-brained idea of the first order, Mr. O'Brien's "foolery" will win him a few news stories—but also plenty of sheer disgust. Verily, verily, Governor Comstock certainly got his share of "jokers" in the deck that he is shuffling for the "new deal."—George Averill in the Birmingham Eclectic.

A WORTHY TRIBUTE

The appointments of former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck and Judge William F. Connelly as temporary receivers of the two closed banks in Detroit has done much to improve the general banking morale in that city. Despite the fact that these men are outstanding leaders in their respective political parties, they command the unusual esteem and respect of everyone. Regardless of what is found in the way of previous management, the public is assured of every safeguard in the future handling of these institutions. In these days of confusion such news is reassuring.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

CIGARETTE SUCKING WOMEN

Betsy Barbour has finally capitulated and now the girls domiciled at the University of Michigan dormitory may smoke in peace. Girls housed within the cloistered walls of Martha Cook and Helen Newberry dormitories have been allowed to smoke for several years.

Well, let 'em smoke. There's nothing we can do about it. But the names of the dormitories should be changed. Such simple and forthright names as Betsy Barbour, Martha Cook and Helen Newberry seem out of place above the entrances to smoking dens of cigarette-sucking coeds at our state-supported university. Betsy Barbour should give way to Boxcar Annie. The name of Martha Cook should be changed to Black Meg. Some such name as the Blue Front should grace the building now known as Helen Newberry.

We dislike to see a girl or woman puffing a cigaret. There are so many other and better ways by which they can assert and use their emancipation. But we realize we are living in a new day and that if a woman wants to worship Lady Nicotine, that's her privilege. However, we should expect a little more of those who are holding down an education at so great a cost to the state. To us, and we confess to being out-of-date, the names of Martha Cook, Helen Newberry and Betsy Barbour have too honest a ring to be used in connection with such non-essentials as smoking cigarettes. If the coeds would turn to snuff or would light up pipes the names of the dormitories might remain as they are. In such efforts at maintaining a smoking cigarette seem just a little dishonest beneath such stalwart English names as Martha Cook, Helen Newberry and Betsy Barbour.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

PAT'S TROUBLES

What do you think of our socialistically inclined Attorney-General Patrick O'Brien, who would conscript the firetrucks? Apparently he is having trouble to get some one to introduce his per bill, to push it through and if the dailies are not misquoting Gov. Comstock frowns on the bill and so should you—unless a well-worked out plan for creating orders to keep the wheels grinding can be ascertained before hand with plenty of cash to meet payroll and expenses.—J. John Pope in The Grandville Star.

"DE SWEETES' MUSICK"

There was a lot of pounding going on at the Downey House in Lansing one day last week. A newspaperman asked one of the porters what he was having trouble all about. "Bessie deets' musick make ears here heard for years. Deys a puttin' the bar back in the grill room." Hotel men are looking forward to a return of the bar room which in the old days was the most profitable branch of the hotel business. We are wondering just how long after it comes back—if it does come back—that the old-fashioned bar-keeper will be up to his old tricks. Those sponsoring the wet cause and those who expect to engage in it, should not be so shortsighted as to commit the same errors that put them out of business 13 years ago.—S. L. Marshall in Clinton County Republican-News.

Half Price On All Plates Previews

Because of lack of information, many motorists have failed to take advantage of the half-price permit, allowing use of 1932 automobile plates until August 1. This is shown by the inquiries that are being received by the Department of State regarding the new law. In many communities the belief is prevalent that the half-price permits had to be secured before April 1. The law provides that the permits can be secured at any time prior to August 1, the day upon which they cease to be effective. After August, motorists, if they continue to use their vehicles, will be required to pay the second half of the weight tax and after that payment, will receive 1933 license plates.

Many letters received by the department show that many motorists believe that the half-price permits can be received only in Lansing. The permits are on sale at all of the department branch offices and it is not necessary to make application in Lansing.

One of the most frequent questions asked of the department is

THERE'S A REASON

In every crowd that congregates these days we find the self-important chap lightly tapping his forehead and with grave attempt at wisdom, telling those present "That in Canada no banks ever fail." And as a general rule that is as far as his knowledge of banking goes.

For the sake of comparison let's take a look at the Canadian banking system. To begin with, every Canadian bank must have a capital of not less than $250,000 all paid up and backed dollar for dollar with gold. There are only ten chartered banks in the Dominion, each having as many branches, the total being 4000.

What a mark such a system would have been for the anti-chain demagogues. The checks cashed at another bank of the same chain, even in an adjoining town, would cost fifteen cents. The minimum fee for drafts is fifteen cents and the interest rates are not lower than twelve per cent. Any Michigan banker will tell you his bank could get along very nicely if permitted this additional revenue.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

DOES THE HANDSOME

In this year of the great depression Cincinnati does the handsome thing by dedicating a $41,000,000 railroad station, which is evidence no matter what the motor car does the railroads vision a glorious future. When it comes to safe travel the professedly progressive nation, the minimum fee for drafts is fifteen cents and the interest rates are not lower than twelve per cent. Any Michigan banker will tell you his bank could get along very nicely if permitted this additional revenue.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

BEER DONT'S

 No free lunch.

NATIONS WANT PEACE, BUT—

Most dangerous, from the viewpoint of peace, is the perpetual suggestion that there are two sorts of nations—those which want war, and those opposed to war. For the existence of nations which may be supposed to aim at war is used to justify presently prevailing national policies and preparations allegedly defensive but nevertheless provocative. Unless it is assumed that nations do not want war, it is useless to expect substantial improvement in their relations and reduction in their military establishments.

We now find the Fascist Grand Council declaring Italy's determination not to trouble the peace by collaborating in the reconstruction of Europe. This declaration is due to rumors of secret alliances and of an intention to revise the treaties by violence. There has been a strengthening of the Little Entente owing partly to suspicions of Italy. French statements have been interpreted in an anti-Italian sense. The policy of European states has been influenced by fear of Italy's designs. Yet what is believed, it would be incredibly foolish to want war, and it would be running counter to its traditions to commit itself to potential participation in war.

On its side, Italy charges Yugoslavia and France with preparing war against it. If Italian self arms to Hungary, French citizens sell arms to Yugoslavia. The Little Entente, proclaiming itself Italy's enemy, is said to be engaged in forming a bloc against Italy. France appears in Italian eyes as an "enemy." To the detached observer it would seem France has certainly no intention of initiating a war; and of the sincerity of the pacific sentiments of the people there can be no doubt. Yet French policy appears to justify Italian policy. Just as Italian policy justifies French. On the Rhine and in the Vistula there is the same spectacle of nations which assert that they are menaced but are not menacing. The Poles, for example, think the danger lies in Germany; the Germans are persuaded that the danger has been created by the Poles. For a decade and more Russia has cried that it is about to be attacked by the European countries, and the European countries have believed that East Asia constitutes a military as well as a political peril. The fact of the matter is that no country really wants war, but almost every country pursues a policy which may lead to war. It begins by fear of the neighbor, and it thus arouses fear in the neighbor. It considers that it is different from the rest: its own armaments are for its own protection, and not for aggression. But each country, believing these things of itself, refuses to believe them of other countries.

NATION'S GREATEST NEED

One scanning the headlines of the dailies and listening to the radio news reels would conclude that the return of beer by the State is the first and most important step toward prosperity.

Representative Vern Brown's bill that provides for the abolishment of the securities commission and a severe penalty for the sale of worthless securities or stocks in the state, has the approval of Governor Comstock. The bill is now well on its way to becoming a law. The measure will do away with a branch of the state government that never functioned as originally planned. Organized with the idea of providing some sort of protection to the people who had money to invest, the right to sell placed upon various bond and stock issues by the commission was paraded before investors as a guarantee by the state that the investment was O. K. Upon this assumption millions and millions of dollars were turned over to stock and bond promoters. With the Brown bill passes, this thing will be at an end in Michigan.

Senator A. L. Moore of Pontiac and Representative James Helms of Adrian were the only two members of the legislative house and senate taxation committees to refuse to sign a telegram to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Washington pledging the enactment of a bill diverting funds from the highway department to feed the starving of Michigan. The R. F. C. some weeks ago sent a telegram to Governor Comstock advising him that unless the state of Michigan used some of its own money to relieve the starving in this state, there would be no more federal money forthcoming. The R. F. C. stated that it was willing to continue its aid to Michigan if the state would do its part. Governor Comstock made it clear to the members of the legislature that the bill directing the suspended portion of the automobile weight tax money from the highway department to the welfare department must be passed.

"Michigan people will be without food during April, May and June if this money from the federal government is not forthcoming. So you must pass this bill diverting funds from the money from the automobile weight tax to welfare," Governor Comstock told the legislators.

Realizing that the bill could not be made a law in time to get the Washington allotment of money in time to prevent thousands of hungry, the Governor urged members of the taxation committee to sign a telegram to R. F. C. officials in Washington pledging their support to the weight tax diversion bill. The Governor said he had been assured that the money would be sufficient evidence of good faith on the part of the state to comply with the governmental requirements to cause the release of federal money for welfare use in Michigan. This is the telegram that Moore and Helms refused to sign. The April allotment of money for the use of Michigan in buying food for its hungry and unemployed is $3,000,000. Over half of this money is for use in Detroit.

Former Senator R. G. Davis of the Detroit Board of Education, asked the state legislature to limit the national congress for the issuance of what he terms "baby bonds." The former senator declares that U. S. bonds issued in small denominations will do more than anything else to bring the country out of the dumps it is now in. It will be recalled that it was this former senator who back in the days of Governor Sleeper strenuously opposed the issuance of the $50,000,000 bond issue for good roads. He urged the state at that time to create a sinking fund by the collection of a mill tax speciality for roads, and then spend it as needed. He pointed out that the interest charges alone on the bond issue would almost take care of needed road construction at that time. That was back in the days before a gas tax. Time has proven much that Senator Davis said was true. The money that had been set aside to pay off the road bonds has in the past few years been diverted to other purposes and the taxpayers are still paying a fixed charge of something like two million and a half per year as interest on the road bonds issued during the Sleeper administration.

Governor Comstock has just let it be known in a sort of definite way just how far he proposes to go in reducing the operating costs of the state government. With the introduction by Senator Leon Case of Watervliet and Senator Francis Kulp of Battle Creek, two Democratic leaders in the senate several administration bills, it is an unpleasant that the governor proposes to cut the operating costs of the state of Michigan to down around $2,000,000 per year. The figure is slightly under the amount that was collected during the Groesbeck administration. The governor declares that he is going to make the cut in the various state departments and the institutions and that he proposes to see to it that the proper officials live within their income. While many associated with some of the departments and institutions say the governor's proposal will bring ruin to the state, others who support the Governor point to the fact that the entire income of the state of Michigan during the administration of Governor Chase Osborn was around the figure fixed by Governor Comstock and the state flourished and did well at that time. The state has now in addition to the $12,000,000 income that the Governor proposed, the income from dozens of other sources that did not exist in the days of Osborn. There was no gas tax, weight tax, corporation tax, mortgage tax, fishing or hunting license to bring in millions and millions of dollars as there is now. Governor Comstock has made it pretty clear that heads will come off if his economy rule is not followed.

Representative Earl McNitt of Cadillac thinks it is about time that the state remove the double taxation on Michigan industries. He has introduced a bill in the house which would repeal, if passed, the corporation tax law of the state. He declares that industry can no longer pay this double burden and that if factories are to continue to operate in the state, his measure should be passed. The corporation tax law was passed back in the days of prosperity when Michigan needed many new buildings at various institutions. Although the buildings were long ago completed, the tax has been continued on from year to year and diverted to other purposes than that for which it was originally intended.

Lovelorn couples who desire to get married on the spur of the moment must wait until Indiana or Ohio. The house killed the bill that would have repealed the five day notice of intention that is now required.

The University of Michigan and the Michigan State College are battling against drastic cuts in their appropriations. The bills now in the senate cut half a million dollars from the Michigan State College and considerably over a million dollars from the University. Since the introduction of the bills a number of days ago members of both the house and senate have been flooded with requests not to make such drastic cuts as proposed. But Democratic and Republican leaders declare that these two schools as well as all the other state institutions are in for cuts that will really be reflected in the tax bills of property owners.

Reduction from $5 a day to $4 per day for the pay of supervisors while attending meetings of the county boards is provided in a bill that has met with the approval of the senate.

The legislature has made legal the issuance of serg his municipalities that desire to use it to pay their obligations. The bill which introduced primarily to help Detroit will benefit any community in Michigan that desires to print its own money instead of using currency.

The state department of education will no longer have anything to say about what kind of a school house shall be built by the people of any school district in the state. The legislature has passed a bill doing away with this state supervision that has resulted in the expenditure of vast sums for buildings in districts unable to bear the burden.

Some members of the legislature have the idea that automobile drivers are loaded down with money and can still pay a higher gas tax. Rep. Edward Brower of Holland has a bill in to raise the gas tax to four cents a gallon and cut the weight tax 25 cents a hundred. Taxpayers have been urging that the gas tax be cut in half and that the weight tax be cut in two, but so far the proposal of tax reduction on these two items have received but scant consideration.

There is a bill in the legislature which if passed would repeal the law that provides a pension for members of the supreme bench upon retirement after a certain age. There are no former members of the bench now on pension.

Looking For Wood, He Finds Old Book On Money Question

An interesting coincidence occurred in the life of Karl Starkweather recently. So intent was he on the final revision of his work to relieve the local money question that the fire in the room where he was working was suffered to go out. Mr. Starkweather then went outside to find new kindling. There was none. The winter's kindling material had already been exhausted. Then an interesting thing happened.

In his haste to make new kindling and to get the old fire going again Mr. Starkweather pulled off a denigrating scumpling from the inside of an old outbuilding. Down toppled something from somewhere. It looked like a book. The object was incrustured with about a quarter inch of webby dirt. The dirt was brushed off and the title page inspected. This is how it read: "The Money Question. The Legal Tender Paper and Monetary System of the United States. An Analysis of the Specie Basis or Bank Currency System. Together with an Historical Account of Money as it has been instituted in the Principal Nations of Europe and the United States."

The author of the book is Wm. A. Berkey who is named as "President of the Phoenix Furniture Co., Grand Rapids, Mich." The book itself was published in Grand Rapids by one "W. W. Hart, Steam Book and Job Printer." The volume contains 384 pages and the date is 1878. That was while the country was still suffering from the effects of the great panic of 1873.

The book contains a full account of the panic of 1873 as well as of the earlier panics. The first chapter is entitled "Why the American People do not Enjoy General Prosperity." Quoting a few lines from page 27, and dealing with the panic of 1873, are these words: "To the great mass of the people, who judge of the prosperity of the country by the activity observable in its business affairs, the panic of 1873 was wholly unexpected and seemed like a slip of thunder from a cloudless sky. The harvest of the year was about over, and the crops were good. The mining and manufacturing interests seemed to be flourishing, and to all external appearances, there was abundant evidence of general prosperity. But beneath the surface, matters presented a very different appearance. The industries of the country had been laboring from year to year since 1866 under an increasing burden imposed by the banks. Business had ceased to be done for cash, and business men everywhere were carrying a load, more or less, of credit—struggling on from year to year in the hope that the coming spring or the coming fall would in some way bring a change that would afford relief. A temporary spurt in business might relieve an individual here and there; but under such a system of money there could be no general relief. A commercial crash was inevitable." Sounds like modern times.

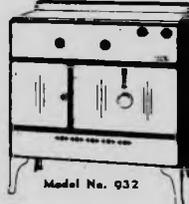

Mr. Starkweather brought the book into the Mail office. The fly leaf contains the signature of his grandfather, George A. Starkweather, who died twenty-six years ago. It is believed that the volume has reposed in the same crevice in the old wood-house for over fifty years. Mr. Starkweather explains that he had never seen the book before and that as a boy he was familiar with all his grandfather's books. The elder Starkweather, besides being a merchant, country lawyer and one time president of an early Plymouth bank, was also a gardener. One theory presented is that the grandfather, during rest periods of his work in the garden, would sit on the garden barrow and read the book, replacing it each time in the crevice of the woodshed. Anyway, whatever the theory, the present Mr. Starkweather is glad his fire went out last Saturday, causing him to find this relic of an earlier day. The book is now much warped and mildewed yet nevertheless intact and in the light of the present day makes interesting reading.

The Homecoming for Confirmations on Palm Sunday was an overwhelming success. It is estimated that over 300 people were in church from far and near for the occasion. The service was beautified by selections by the Junior choirs and the church choir. William Bartel of Plymouth Road has dedicated the entire sanctuary with a glorious array of white lilies, hyacinths, iris and tulips in a mass of green palm and fern foliage. Never did our sanctuary present such a beautiful spectacle.

The sermon was based on the words of Joshua shortly before his death to the assembled chieftains of the tribes of Israel: "Choose ye this day, whom ye will serve.— As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."—After the service Olliver Goldsmith, chairman of the confirmation committee, read the roll of all those confirmed in our church since 1878. However, there were four present, whose confirmation reaches beyond that date:
Mrs. Florence Schoof, Jake Strenz,
Wm. Strenz and Wm. Amrhein.

The latter two were confirmed in 1848, 65 years ago.

Dinner was served from 12:30
until 3:30 to well over 200 guests.
After dinner the congregation again assembled informally to discuss ways and means of enlarging our present basement. No action was taken, but the sentiment was strongly in favor of proceeding with this work soon, before prices on labor and material begin to rise.
It was also unanimously the sentiment of those present that reunions and homecomings of this kind be held annually henceforth. Thereafter the day was properly closed with prayer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death
Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science
Churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 9.

Among the Bible citations was
this passage (Jer. 17: 7, 8):
"Blessed is the man that trusteth
in the Lord, and whose hope shall be in the Lord. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat
cometh, but her leaf shall be green;
and shall not be careful in the year
of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit."

Correlative passages read from
the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker
Eddy, included the following (p.
152): "Mortal theories make friends
of sin, sickness, and death; whereas the spiritual scientific facts of existence include no member of this
dolorous and fatal triad."

Club Members Give Interesting Talks

Plymouth Rotarians last Friday heard much about the credit business and the evils of automobile retailing by two members who know much about these subjects.

Ed. Gayde was the speaker who talked about credits and allied troubles and Carl Scheer discussed the automobile selling situation.

Mr. Gayde before delving into his subject gave the club members a bit of good logic that had fallen in his hands. It recommended that everybody brag about everything these days.

"This is not the time to complain, not the time to find fault, but it is the time to brag about your business, brag about your town, brag about the people you know, in fact brag about everything," he said.

Mr. Scheer in his brief talk pointed out the steady decline in the prices of automobiles during the past half dozen years and of the evils of the used car business.

SHELL'S NEW DEAL!

Super SHELL Never before at less than a 3¢ premium
now at the price of ordinary gas

JAMES AUSTIN OIL COMPANY
WAYNE, MICH.
TODAY, Super Shell gasoline is again on sale — and it's even better than ever!
283,792,796 gallons of this famous motor fuel have been bought by motorists — every one of whom paid 3¢ per gallon extra for it.
NOW, Super Shell gasoline is offered at the regular price. This is Shell's New Deal.
You save 3¢ a Gallon Premium 112,327 of you motorists have told us that you want a gasoline that is economical to buy and to use. A gasoline that gives good mileage... power and pick-up, that starts quickly and has a high anti-knock value.
Super Shell has all of these qualities. In particular, it gives you good mileage.
By a special process, Shell has succeeded in eliminating the waste parts of a gasoline that reduce mileage.
Super Shell gives you only those parts of a gasoline which your engine needs. The parts to give you real mileage and pick-up... The quick-starting parts. The real anti-knock parts. Super Shell has a higher anti-knock rating than any gasoline to which ethyl has not been added.
Change to Super Shell. It is colored golden.
Results will prove its economy.
If you prefer an ethylized fuel, it is obtainable under the name of Super-Shell Ethyl.
This is a double premium gasoline at a single premium price.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"Are Sin, Disease, and Death
Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science
Churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 9.
Among the Bible citations was
this passage (Jer. 17: 7, 8):
"Blessed is the man that trusteth
in the Lord, and whose hope shall be in the Lord. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat
cometh, but her leaf shall be green;
and shall not be careful in the year
of drought, neither shall cease from
yielding fruit."
Correlative passages read from
the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to
the Scriptures," by Mary Baker
Eddy, included the following (p.
152): "Mortal theories make friends
of sin, sickness, and death; where-
as the spiritual scientific facts of
existence include no member of this
dolorous and fatal triad."

Says Her Husband Lost 16 Pounds In 4 Weeks

"I have never found a medicine that helps you as like Kruschen Salts and better still, leaves you 'pepped up.' I take it two or three times a week—not to reduce fat merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce his lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks." Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 23, 1932)

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spry and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

As for that last 4 weeks' cost, but a trifle at any druggist in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

New Air Cooled Gas Refrigerator Here

The new air-cooled gas refrigerator recently developed will be distributed here through the Michigan Federated Utilities. It was announced at the company offices today. Special credit plans are now being devised so that no home with gas outlets need be without automatic refrigeration during the coming summer, the announcement stated.

According to L. J. Price, manager of the utility company, the air-cooled refrigerator is the most important development in domestic refrigeration in the past five years. By doing away with the use of running water in the operation of the gas refrigerator, an important part of the operating cost is wiped out. Mr. Price said. This also does away with the cost of water connections as well as service interruptions due to unfavorable water conditions.

A number of other important developments have been incorporated in the new gas refrigerator, including a two-temperature freezing unit which can be de-frosted without stopping the cooling process. The anti-stop de-frosting is accomplished by a simple twist of the temperature dial, which has five different variations. There is also a trigger device on each ice tray to facilitate easy removal when ice cubes are needed.

Like the previous water cooled gas refrigerator, the new unit has no moving parts and the operation is completely silent. The whole refrigerating process is accomplished by the physico-chemical action and reaction of air, ammonia, water and hydrogen in a hermetically sealed cycle, with a slight flame of gas as the only motivating agent.

The first shipment of the new refrigerators will arrive in a few days, Mr. Price stated, and the company plans a special demonstration exhibit for the general public.

Trout Season Will Be Opened Two Days Ahead of Schedule

Fifteen more days! Just 15 days between now and the day when Dr. Paul Hutz, Frank Coward, Glenn Jewell, William Pettigill, Frank Rambo, Mark Chaffee, Roy Grove and the scores and scores of other trout fishermen of Plymouth will be able to drop a nice big fat angle worm or a nymph in some trout stream up in the northern part of the state.

Wednesday morning when news of the action of the state legislature in opening the trout season this year on the morning of April 29 instead of May 1st was received in Plymouth, rubber boots came out of the attic, fly rods were dusted off and the highway maps were hunted up.

The season will be opened on Saturday morning so that trout fishermen will be able to have the week-end for their favorite sport. The law specifies that the season shall open on the 1st of May, which this year falls on Monday. But a trout fishing senator discovered that he wouldn't be able to do any fishing on the opening day unless the date was changed and as a result he introduced into the senate a resolution calling upon the conservation department to permit the opening of the season on April 29. There was not a vote against the proposal.

The Home Economics Extension group of Livonia Center held its last meeting March 30. We had check fitting for dresses and learned to make bound button holes and tailored pockets. Achievement Day will be held May 11.

Gives Old Painting of Adam's Mill to Ford's Laboratory

A couple of weeks ago, Karl Starkweather of this city presented to the Henry Ford Laboratories at Dearborn an old oil painting of the one time Adam's Mill which for many years stood at the southeast corner of Ford and Lots roads in Canton township. The old picture had been in the Starkweather attic for years without anybody paying much attention to it or without anybody being able to identify the structure.

Finally Mr. Starkweather became more interested. He took the picture to Arthur Stevens, believed to be the oldest long time citizen now living in Plymouth, for possible identification. At first Mr. Stevens was unable to identify the scene nor could he recall the name of Adam's Mill. After a time, however, and trying to recollect, he did remember.

It was a picture of the saw-mill which during Mr. Stevens' boyhood was located about three miles from his home. It was the place where his father had sometimes drawn logs. Mr. Stevens located the site but he did not know the names which had later been given to the roads in question.

Clarence Smith and Mr. Starkweather then went out on a hunt for the site. They found it. There was still an old hole and some stones where the mill had stood. Inquiry among old timers still in the neighborhood revealed the fact that what was left of the old saw-mill had burned some years before and within the next two or three years Mr. Ford himself had come out to the site to see what he could find.

The old boiler and other parts were still there, half buried in the soil. Mr. Ford purchased what was left for $75.00 and removed his findings to Greenfield Village, his new-made historic town at Dearborn. It is not known whether he intends to build a replica of Adam's Mill in the Village.

The painting was done by Miss Celestia Young, art student, daughter of Elias J. Young, who came to Canton Township from New York more than 100 years ago. The words "Adam's Mill" the date "1836" and "Celestia" appear in the lower right hand corner. It is a winter scene showing the mill in the hey-day of its time. There is smoke and steam, a big pile of saw dust, and the mill-yard filled with hundreds of logs. On the ground and on the roof of the logs is partly melted snow. In the mill-yard are two men talking and adjacent to the yard stands the mill owner's house. Back of all lies the forest. Adam's Mill was a busy place before and after the civil war. At least one accidental death is known to have occurred there.

On the day Mr. Starkweather called at the laboratory, Mr. Ford was absent, having left early in the morning to see Jack Miller and his wife. But the secretary H. R. Waddell, expressed great pleasure in receiving the picture for Mr. Ford. Not counting the original frame, the dimensions are about 12x20 inches. It is believed to be the only known picture of the old saw mill and its mill yard in existence. Incidentally Mr. Starkweather asserts that this picture is only one of varied small antique articles which he has given Mr. Ford in time past.

Village Employees Take a Second Cut

A second cut in pay for employees of the Village of Wayne is in prospect. Provisions for a cut of approximately twelve and one-half percent were tentatively ordered to be included in the 1933-34 village budget when the commission started the task on Tuesday of cutting expenditures for the coming year.

Village employees took a cut of approximately 20 percent when the 1932-33 budget was drafted. If this second contemplated cut is put in effect the total reduction in pay for the two year period will be approximately 30 percent.

Definite figures on the budget for the coming year are not yet available. The commission, however, intends to go over each item one by one in the next few weeks. A number of items were reviewed Tuesday night and some of the estimated expenditures were tentatively lowered.

A public hearing on the new budget will be held at the commission meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, May 2. At that time citizens and taxpayers of the village will be given an opportunity to present any grievances or suggestions for the consideration of the commission.

The total tax levy in 1932 was $85,264.82. Every effort will be made to lower this figure this year. It was indicated, but a great decrease is not looked for as expenditures were cut to bed-rock necessities last year.—Wayne Review.

GUARANTEE BANK DEPOSITS

I suggest that true bond values are not so dependent upon the current price as in a depressed, deflated, and often hysterical market. So far as I am concerned, as I indicated a time ago, I would have the bank of the United States work out their own valuation in this respect, because I would acknowledge every dollar of value outside of existing actual losses, and having segregated the slow assets and having trusted them to the bank, I would put that bank to work, if necessary for 50 years to pay back the face value of the certificate. Let us not wholly devalue America. Let us preserve the greatest possible measure of recovered values for the American depositor. Let us have all possible banks for the sake of their depositors. Then let us write a code of Government supervision which will permanently protect against the mistakes, the errors, and the crimes if any, of the past.

In the final analysis, as certainly as the rising of the sun, the American people are going rightfully to demand that the savings of America shall be safe, and the final steel beam that has got to be built into the banking structure when it shall be re-modeled and stabilized is the Federal deposit insurance upon the responsibility of the Government of the United States. Address of Senator A. H. Vandenberg, U. S. Senate, March 23, 1933.

Many Notables in Music World Will Attend Festival

Dr. Howard Hanson, composer, and Mr. R. L. Stokes, librettist, of the new American opera, "Merry Mount," will be present at its world premiere in concert form at Saturday night concert of the Ann Arbor May Festival, which will take place on May 17, 18, 19 and 20. In addition many distinguished music editors, musical authorities and music lovers from New York, Chicago, and other metropolitan centers, will be on hand for this important event.

The Festival will be characterized by many novel, colorful features, combined with brilliant musical values. Artists of high rank, classical works of great interest, and organizations of established reputations, under the leadership of fine-aimed conductors, will be combined into six well-balanced programs, and these varied musical spectacles are well met for a musical feast of unsurpassed excellence.

Through the courtesy of the Metropolitan Opera Association the world premiere of one of the most important operas by an American composer will take place the composer Edward Elgar in person conducting. An oratorio by one of Canada's eminent contemporary composers will receive a near American premiere. The "backstage debut" of two distinguished "first night" programs are scheduled, one by a renowned Wagnerian operatic star, and the other by an eminent Russian operatic prima donna. A "first" recovered violinist will play with orchestra, and a chorus of several hundred young people will stand out in contrast to the veteran Choral Union chorus.

Included in the list of soloists are: Nina Koshetz, spectacular Russian operatic prima donna, who has been heard in the most important of European houses; Gretchen Ostry, young next Wagnerian prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera; and Leonora Cassara, another leading Metropolitan soprano; Rose Hampton, rising contralto star of the Metropolitan; Frederick Jagel, a leading tenor of the same institution; John Charles Thomas, triumphant baritone of Covent Garden and many European operas, and the late Chicago Civic Association; Chase Baroneo, bass, renowned in the La Scala, Buenos Aires, and Chicago operas; Hellets, distinguished Russian violinist, who has lived through several careers; that of infant prodigy, boy-wonder and mature artist; Guy Water and Lee Pattison, the dual pianists, who have been personified to "combustion" in a field which they dominated for so long a time; and Palmer Christian, distinguished American organist.

In addition to the world premiere of the new form of "Merry Mount," under the baton of the composer, the "Merry Mount" program will include "The Feast," an oration by the distinguished, contemporary British composer, William Walton, will be heard; and "Hansel and Gretel," will be sung by the Young People's Festival Chorus. Additional features will be the absence for the first time of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Frederick Stock, with Eric Delamarter as assistant conductor; the University Choral Union, now to its fifty-fourth year, under the direction of Leonard Deane; and the "Festival Chorus," led by Mrs. Helen Deane. The allocations of artists, managers, and that they have been arranged as follows:

Wednesday night: Miscellaneous Artist program. Koshetz, Soloist. Thursday night: First part: "Merry Mount's Feast," Baroneo, Soloist. Second part: Hellets, Soloist. Stock, Conductor. Friday afternoon: Young People's program. Hampton, Contralto. Chrisman, Organist. DeLamar and Higbee, Conductors. Friday night: Wagnerian commemorating program. Stock, Soloist. Stock, Conductor. Saturday afternoon: First part: Symphony program. Second part: Mater and Pattison, Soloists. Stock, Conductor. Saturday night: "Merry Mount." Leonora Cassara, Rose Hampton, Frederick Jagel, John Charles Thomas, Chase Baroneo, Soloists. Howard Hanson, Guest Conductor.

Farmer Gets a New Slant on Economy

While Amos Miller, a farmer living near Bedford Valley, Md., was in the local telephone office paying his bill and expressing his intention of having the telephone removed as an economy measure one morning recently, things were happening at home which gave him a new outlook on the entire subject of economy. An outbuilding on the farm had caught fire, and the blaze, fanned by a high wind, threatened to spread to the barn and the farmhouse. Mrs. Miller called the telephone exchange at the very moment that Mr. Miller, in the telephone office, was considering the advisability of having his telephone removed. The operator on duty, Mrs. Wallace Nave, immediately spread the alarm, and within a few minutes neighboring farmers had arrived at the Miller farm and succeeded in confining the blaze to the building where it had its start.

Mr. Miller did not have his telephone removed. The one call undoubtedly had saved his farmhouse, his livestock and his barn and farm implements, and had emphasized in particular, the value of telephone service on the farm. "I'll never be without a telephone," said Mr. Miller, "and any other farmers who take my advice won't either."

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

GENERAL OFFICE
2000 SECOND AVENUE
DETROIT, MICHIGAN
April 10, 1933

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

This is the second of a string of letters intended to get some facts to your attention:

The hard times struck us in the autumn of 1929. We did not foresee the extent nor the duration of the troubles from which the nation now seems to be emerging. For the next fifteen months we continued to build new lines and install new machinery. What was started we finished. The President of the United States asked us to do this, instead of stopping suddenly. He wanted us to keep men at work. We spent on new plant and betterments:

1928—$29,900,000	1930—$21,500,000	1932—$6,700,000
1929—$36,800,000	1931—$11,200,000

Of course, we hoped all along that business would get better. So did everyone else. But all of us were disappointed. The use of our service declined for the first time in more than thirty years. Our sales of electricity were:

1929—2,287,936,540 kilowatt-hours	1931—1,888,954,503 kilowatt-hours
1930—2,063,085,722 kilowatt-hours	1932—1,596,474,389 kilowatt-hours

We did not cut down on service when business fell off. We kept it right up to quality and we intend to keep it so. It would be a saving for us to run four days or three days a week, but we cannot stop—not for a minute. Electric service must be instantly available at all times. Too much depends on it. We have as many men on operative duty as we ever did, because we never had any surplus help. We did quit construction, as building or machinery jobs became finished, and started only a few special jobs.

We have always had faith in the future of the community we serve. Through the World War the enormous demand for electricity had our designers busy trying to keep up. In no other city in the United States was the use of electricity increasing as rapidly as in Detroit in the past 30 years. Now in 1933 we have more plant than we need. Before the depression our judgment was good. We still believe that we will have to build new plants to keep up with the future of this community.

Over 300,000 Auto Owners Are Unable To Get Licenses

Despite efforts of state officials and the legislature, approximately 300,000 fewer Michigan automobiles had secured licenses on April 1, 1933 than on April 1, 1932. Records of the department of state show that on March 28, 1932, total of 798,252 motor vehicles had been given 1932 license plates. On March 28, 1933 a total of 416,690 vehicles had been given 1933 plates and stickers good until August 1, 1933, had been issued for 33,404 vehicles.

During the last three days of March, most of the branch offices of the department reported an increased sale of the half-price permits for use with 1932 plates, but accurate statistics are not available. It is believed that many motorists have been awaiting another extension of time and will secure proper license plates during the first week of April.

The act of the legislature, allowing use of 1932 plates until August 1, 1933 when accompanied by a permit fastened to the windshield showing that one-half of the weight tax had been paid, was adopted late in February. An extension of time for 15 days was granted in order that the stickers might be printed and distributed. On March 15, another extension until April 1 was granted by the Secretary of State at the request of the legislature, after innumerable citizens had informed officials that their funds were tied up in banks closed because of the state and national bank holidays.

It was thought that a large number of motorists would take advantage of the half-price permit but the number of sticker-permits on March 28, was 28,980. This is far below expectations.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"SOLDIERS OF THE STORM"
"Soldiers of the Storm," who swoop down out of the skies to "get their man," takes possession of the Penniman Allen Theatre screen, Saturday, April 14. Regis Toomey, Anita Page, Barbara Kent, and Barbara Weeks appear in the cast of this Columbia picture. From the story by Thomson Burris. It has to do with the activities of Uncle Sam's Mexican border patrol, the flying counterpart of the famous Texas Rangers, and how they handle smugglers in the clouds with convincing machine gun fire.

"DESTINATION UNKNOWN"
"Destination Unknown," said to be one of the most unusual motion pictures since the advent of the talkies, has been booked for the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, April 15.

Every scene of this remarkable drama takes place on board the ram-runner "Prince Rupert," adrift in the Pacific Ocean following a terrific storm which has severely damaged the vessel and killed its captain and mate. While the ship wallows helplessly in a dead calm, with the drinking water on board reduced to a mere ten gallons, a bitter feud develops between the remainder of the crew and the gangster liquor runners, headed by the ruthless Matt Brennan.

Pat O'Brien and Ralph Bellamy head the cast of "Destination Unknown," which also includes Tom Brown, Russell Hopton, Betty Tompson, Alan Hale, Kollo Lloyd, Stanley Fields and other screen favorites.

"THE COHENS AND KELLY'S IN TROUBLE"

HERE THEY ARE AGAIN!
Nathan Cohen and Patrick Kelly, in their seventh screaming interlude, "THE COHENS AND KELLY'S IN TROUBLE." They have been booked for this Theatre Sunday and Monday, April 16 and 17.

This time, they take you to sea in their wild wanderings and toss you into the teeth of a million-mile gale of laughter. Just imagine Cohen and Kelly, in real life the intrepid George Sidney and Charlie Murray, one a sea captain and the other a business man at sea, getting all mixed up with a boat's Kelly's ex-wife, four tough sailors, and a speedboat they don't know how to run!

"LADIES THEY TALK ABOUT"

The staging of an attempted prison "break" forms an unusually thrilling sequence in the Warner Bros. picture, "Ladies They Talk About," starring Barbara Stanwyck, which appears at the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday, April 19.

The story deals with life in the women's ward at San Quentin, where Miss Stanwyck, as a convicted bank bandit, tries to help two of her "pals" in the men's section to escape. She draws the plans of the grounds, and sits in her cell, creating a turmoil so that the men would not be heard tunnelling under the wall toward her cell.

Miss Stanwyck has a strong supporting cast which includes Preston S. Foster, Lyle Talbot, Dorothy Burgess, Lillian Roth, Maude Eburne, Harold Huber and Ruth Donnelly.

Sweet Corn Growers Told of Wilt Danger

The bacterial wilt of sweet corn often known as Stewart's disease of corn, was found first in Michigan about thirty-five years ago. Since that time it has been found in practically all of the states with the exception of certain ones in the far west.

In spite of the fact that this disease has been known in Michigan for so many years, it has never caused any serious damage until in the season of 1931 and 1932. However, during the season of 1931 very few reports came into the college with regard to this trouble. In fact, in looking over our records for the past fifteen years, we have never had more than two specimens of the sweet corn disease sent in to the department for examination.

During the past season, however, the disease broke out in great severity along about the middle of June and was first found in the southeastern part of the state. Practically all of the commercial varieties of sweet corn were badly affected. The most serious damage was caused to the earliest varieties, such as Sunshine and Golden Bantam.

The situation with regard to the bacterial wilt was complicated during the season of 1932 by the fact that much of the infected corn was also infested with larvae of certain seed corn insects. These larvae burrowed into the stalks and there was a considerable amount of stalk rot present.

It is a well-known fact now that the Stewart's disease of sweet corn is carried not only on the seed, but within the seed as well. The course of the disease is much as follows: From the infected seed the bacteria causing the disease find their way into the water bundles of the plant and gradually spread through the entire plant, affecting the stalks, the leaves, the husks and even the cob and seed of the ear. One can readily see the with such a systemic infection much of the seed corn is likely to have the bacteria within the seed itself. In this condition it is a very difficult thing to treat seed corn to kill the disease organism on the inside. Our recommendations for the coming season are as follows:

1. Soak all sweet corn seed in a solution of corrosive sublimate made up at the rate of one ounce in seven and one-half gallons of water. Soak the seed for fifteen minutes in running water and dry and plant.
2. When infected seedlings are found in the field they should be cut down to prevent insects from visiting the diseased plants and then spreading the infection over to healthy plants.
3. At harvest time when the seed is collected, each stalk should be examined and only those selected which show no signs of the wilt disease. In addition each ear which is selected for seed should be examined carefully to see that none of the kernels of cob is infected.

In this manner sweet corn seed relatively free from bacterial wilt can be secured. Weather conditions may also be in our favor during the coming season. The bacterial wilt disease is typically a southern trouble and is usually worse when sweet corn is planted during moist weather. If we have a cool spring and the sweet corn, after soaking in the corrosive sublimate solution, is planted only in all probability we will have much less of the wilt disease than we had during the past season.

Ladies, Here is Way To Prepare Bread

Several requests have been received by the home economics department of Michigan State College for methods of preparing yeasts and making bread.

The following method of making liquid yeast with potato will prove very successful with soft-wheat flours: 3 potatoes (3-4 pound), 1 1/4 cups boiling water, 1 cup yeast (1/2 ounce) in 1 1/8 cups water, 1 1/2 cups cold water, 3 3/4 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 table-spoons salt. The potatoes are pared, cut into small pieces, and cooked until tender in boiling water. Then mash them in the water in which they are cooked. Add the sugar, salt, and enough cold water to make 3 1/4 cups of liquid, allow mixture to become lukewarm (about 82° F.). Add yeast soaked in water. Let mixture stand overnight. Stir well the next morning and pour off 1 1/8 cups to save as starter for next baking, storing in clean, sealed jar, loosely covered, in cool place.

Proportions for about 3 1/2 pounds of bread, using hard-wheat flour, are: 2 1/4 pounds or 2 1/4 quarts sifted hard-wheat flour, 2 3/4 cups liquid (either milk, water, potato water or any combination of these), 4 teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons fat, yeast prepared as above. If soft-wheat flour is used the proportions are: about 2 3/4 pounds or 3 quarts, sifted soft-wheat flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 3 tablespoons fat, 3 1/4 cups liquid yeast.

Tells of Schemes Used to Get Money From Business Men

Detroit merchants are being fleeced of $2,500,000 a year by racketeers, Louis Flint, head of the Detroit Citizen's committee, an organization of business interests formed to combat upstart fraud, told the Redford Exchange club last Thursday.

Flint, in discussing rackets that run all the way from dry cleaning to advertising stunts and promotion for charity, said that the system is quite widespread throughout the United States, and cited the fact that in Los Angeles last year, the Olympic advertising racket netted $800,000 before it was stopped.

Collections business constitutes a fertile field for rackets, he said. "The breeding ground of the kidnapping ring was found to be in promoting rackets for charitable causes," he said. "It is just a step from these schemes into the kidnapping business."

In discussing the efforts of his organization, Flint said, that the kidnapping ring in Detroit was broken up. "We found that most of the checks issued from business men who paid for advertisements in the Yellow Pages or another weekly cashed in blind pigs at a heavy discount."

Recently, the speaker stated, there has been a strong effort on the part of gangsters to get into more legitimate channels of business. "We are in for gangsterized business unless we can get back to the old fashioned business ideals of principles and morals," declared Flint.

"At present our most fertile field for racketeering is in the dry cleaning business, among labor groups and in petty racketeering for charity, unemployed relief, church year books, programs, circulating political petitions and in pretended religious efforts for welfare relief."

"One of the welfare relief rackets was officiated by one of the best-known, drinking Christian women I ever knew," he declared. "In one year she collected $10,241.40. The amount of $2,280.10 was spent for food and clothing." "Quite often these racketeers work in with well known and highly respected organizations such as the Eastern Star, Knights of Columbus or some other large group. We know of an Eastern Star ball which took in $10,000. When the expenses were added up, the organization realized $88 for charity. And the amazing thing is that when the head of the racket in charge of the ball, was arrested through the efforts of the Detroit Citizen's committee, he had, in his Maroon of the Eastern Star chapter possession a letter from the Worthy Thinking him profusely for the $88."

"If at any time you are in doubt about the legitimacy of a proposition," Flint stated in closing, "just call Cadillac 8923 and we will give you the information you should have."

Shell Puts Out Improved Gasoline

A new and improved "Super Shell" gasoline, golden colored—a motor fuel which previously always sold at a 3-cent premium—is now on sale at the price of ordinary gasoline at all Shell Petroleum Corporation service stations in twenty-five Middle Western States.

This announcement was made today by Paul Ryan, manager of the sales promotion-advertising department of the corporation, at St. Louis, Mo. The offering is made in accordance with "Shell's new deal for motorists during 1933," announced in newspaper advertisements and various other media.

"To produce this gasoline, we went direct to motorists themselves to ascertain what qualities they wanted most in a motor fuel," Mr. Ryan said. "We conducted the most comprehensive survey ever made to obtain the desired information, and 112,327 motorists responded. The dominant features of the gasoline they requested were quality and mileage. Next they wanted a gasoline economical to buy as well as to use. Quick starting, instant pick-up, power and high anti-knock qualities were other demands, in the order named."

The Shell Petroleum Corporation has spent $4,000,000 in new equipment to make a superior gasoline and it made this new product to fit the exact qualities the motorists have asked for in our survey. This new "Super Shell" is the result of a revolutionary and exclusive Shell process, that eliminates from gasoline those parts which waste the consumers' dollars. By this "Shell re-forming process," we produce a balanced gasoline which contains in proper proportions the 11 qualities necessary for the completely satisfactory performance of an automobile engine. These qualities are Quick starting, short warming-up period, rapid pick-up, great power, no vapor lock, good mileage, high anti-knock, clean combustion, freedom from gum and corrosion, no crankcase dilution, and cool running. "More than $2,000,000 will be expended in newspaper, outdoor, radio, direct mail and other media to advertise "Super Shell." All Shell Petroleum Corporation service stations throughout the Middle West are elaborately decorated with vari-colored flags and banners announcing "Shell's New combination."
