THE G. O. P.

There has been some talk of the reorganization of the Republican party in Michigan. This talk comes from some who are sincerely interested in the future of Republicanism and others who have used its machinery for personal glory and profit. Our idea of the whole thing is that there can be no such thing as a reorganization of the Republican party. There are many who have believed thoroughly in the traditions and policies of Republicanism. They know that in the past the country has ordinarily been prosperous under Republican domination and that many great and really patriotic men have been raised to high office through its influence.

In the past five or six years in Michigan a condition within the Republican party has developed that is repulsive to a very large number of those who have followed Republicanism because of its past ideals and its sterling leadership. No one can look with any pride upon the leadership of the party as a whole in Michigan today. True there are some men like Senator Cozens and Senator Vandenbergh who rank high in the estimation of the rank and file of the party within the state. But these men have little to do or say about party matters within the state. It is just two or three years back when some of the self-styled party leaders of Michigan thought it was a great joke to ignore Senator Cozens and not invite him to one of its state conventions. They didn't like some of the things the senator had said and done. In spite of their snub and in spite of their opposition, Senator Cozens won a reelection by the highest vote ever given a candidate for United States senator in Michigan.

It will take men like Alex J. Groesbeck, Senator Cozens, Senator Vandenbergh, Paul W. Voorhies, Judge George Welmer, Hugh McPherson, Judge Jesse Root, Judge Sample, Former Mayor Charles Green of Battle Creek—men of this type—to lead the new Republicanism of Michigan if the party ever hopes to get anywhere.

Not only must the party accept a new leadership but it must again become the party of the people. It must typify the spirit of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is in every way a Republican of the old school, a Republican of the same type as his illustrious cousin who brought honor and glory to the Republican party, but who later deserted it for the very reasons that brought overwhelming defeat to it years after his death.

True President Franklin Roosevelt was elected president on the Democratic ticket, but compare his deeds in the brief time he has been president with those of Lincoln, McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt, all Republicans, and see how near these four great men think and act alike.

Yes, we thoroughly agree that the Republican party must be re-organized, re-organized by discarding the false leadership it has had for some half dozen years past, re-organized by the acceptance of a new leadership, re-organized by the adoption of a back-to-the-people movement. Until Republicans of Michigan do a few of these things, and as long as the Democrats permit President Franklin Roosevelt to dominate its affairs, Republicans might just as well make up their minds that they are outside and will remain there. In fact we do not know but what it is pretty good Republicanism even right now to again become Roosevelt-Republicans. At any rate the idea is well worth giving consideration.

MR. WELSH AND MR. DYKSTRA

The other day over in the state legislature "Atty" Dykstra, one of those self-advertising individuals who in some way is able to fool the voters, declared his opposition to a very worthy piece of welfare legislation basing his opposition upon the assertion that there is a possibility that George Welsh of Grand Rapids might be delegated to handle the job. Mr. Dykstra has been in the legislature for a great many years. Just why he is there no one knows, as his services to the people of Grand Rapids and the state of Michigan are absolutely worthless. His votes are always based upon personal ideas and personalities. He has never been known to put forth an original idea about a single state problem that amounted to a thinker's hurrah.

George Welsh, former lieutenant governor of Michigan and later city manager of Grand Rapids, is without much question one of the most competent officials the state or its second largest city ever had. Unfortunately for Mr. Welsh he has a way of creating enemies that do not react to his benefit, but that little thing doesn't make so much difference. During his long and honorable public career he has kept his hands clean and no one has ever been able to rightly accuse him of any wrongdoing. Last fall, like hundreds of thousands of others, Mr. Welsh saw fit to repudiate the rift-raff that was running the Republican party in Michigan. Because of his action in doing so, the blistering cat-paw of the obnoxious McKays, Quillans and McKeezans the other day saw fit to protest against the possible appointment of Mr. Welsh to some state job under the Comstock administration.

We have had our differences with Mr. Welsh, but this can be said about him, he made one of the best officials the state of Michigan ever had, he conducted the welfare of Grand Rapids honestly and beyond the reach of penny-grubbing politicians, and he has been on the square in all of his public acts. The record of some of his enemies, some of those who have continuously placed stumbling blocks in Mr. Welsh's way, is one of the nastiest, mossy looking pages of Michigan's history.

CONGRATULATIONS

Plymouth indeed is a fortunate community. During its long history it has always had at the head of its municipal government men of standing and worth, men who have been leaders of the community in which they live. The commission last week in the election of Dr. Freeman B. Hoyer to the mayorship of the city for the next year, placed at the head of our government a citizen well worthy of the honor that has been accorded him. Dr. Hoyer will make a good mayor. He will serve Plymouth well during the trying times that are ahead. He succeeds Mayor John W. Henderson, who retires from office with the satisfaction of knowing that he has given to his city an administration that has met with general approval.

WHY I BELONG TO MY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Because active participation in community affairs is both a personal privilege and a civic responsibility. Because it is unfair and unjust for me to derive benefits from a community-serving organization and not give it my active support. Because I consider that membership in the chamber of commerce pays a high rate of interest in community service, personal contacts, community betterment, and civic pride.

Because the chamber of commerce holds up an ideal of civic development and commercial advancement that tends to the encouragement of what is helpful and the elimination of what is harmful. Because I am selfish enough to want the greatest return for my money and the best results from my efforts, and I know these can best be secured through cooperative effort with my fellows.

Because I want to play my part in the organized development of my community and to carry my share of the public burden.

A MISTAKE

We regard the fact that the legislature left out of the new beer bill a provision which provided local control to a certain extent over the issuance and control of beer permits a serious mistake. No state commission, no matter how careful it is, can know as much about the qualifications of applicants for licenses as can exercise more complete control over these places than can the local officials. We realize that members of the commission will doubtless make a determined effort to keep the business clean. Of course anything they do will be much better than the deplorable mess the state and nation has been in during the past ten or fifteen years, but we are firmly convinced that local control would have been much better for the state than merely state control.

BRANCH BANKING

The general belief has prevailed for sometime that branch banking was a dead issue. One of its chief advocates, Robert O. Lord, whose greatest public outstanding achievement is his connection with branch banking lately. His mind has been occupied with other matters. But now comes from a propaganda publicity service a "canned" editorial advocating branch banking. Well there is this that can be said in favor of branch banking, if any small city or village in Michigan has an idea that the time has come for it to call in the undertaker and have the final rites performed, then just become an advocate of branch banking and have one established in your town. It will be the end of the rope.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

FIGHT OR RUN

The state is broke. New revenues must be had or vital functions will cease. Old habits of prognostication must be cast aside—and the legislature must re-vindict the state. Distasteful as it may be, the administration sales and income tax bill must be passed to avert governmental disaster.

The state is broke because the government in years past has refused to heed the warning of The Digest and other publications and citizens that costs must be cut. The treasury grew deeper and deeper into the red. When Governor Comstock came into office last January the greatest deficit in the state's history was his inheritance. It was allowed to grow and grow under previous administrations, even after it was apparent farm and home owners were becoming unable to pay.

Now many property owners, because of necessity, have stopped paying. Comstock, faced with the most devastating emergencies of any governor, must also meet the deficits piled to him by predecessors at a time when people cannot pay.

The governor has asked the legislature to pass his sales and gross income tax. Some members of the legislature seem to forget that an emergency exists. An emergency—whether Brucker used to say, as great as when "two boys were in the trenches." Wilber didn't do anything about it. Comstock is trying to. He has demanded that every possible cent be pared off governmental expenses. He has fired some commissions bodily and backed to places some departments. That is as far as he, personally, can go. It is up to the legislature to provide money to keep essential governmental activities going.

The state cannot allow everything to break down. That would mark the path to ruin and riot. Institutions for the care of the mentally deranged must be maintained. The prisons must be kept operating. The courts cannot be allowed to fall. But no money is coming in to keep them going. And the people who for years and years have paid the property owners—are unable to hand out the huge sums to which they have become accustomed.

There are many features of sales and gross income taxes which are objectionable. In normal times The Digest probably would be opposed to most of the measure's provisions. These are not normal times. The sales and income plan has this advantage—it will make the people who are at least taking in some money, pay.

The legislature, if it follows true to form, will vote. Members will say "this bill would tax the pipe organ pumps. It would drive them out of business." It won't drive them out of business. The pipe organ pumps will save enough on their property taxes to let them pay the sales and gross income tax—and they won't have to pay it all in a bunch.

The sales and income tax won't drive anyone out of business. It will make some squint a little for more business. Many taxes, many laws, have been passed as members of the legislature solemnly warned "it will drive the bees wax makers out of business," but never yet has anyone been driven out of business in Michigan by any of them.

The Digest, for many years, has fought as bitterly as it could, new taxes. It believed once new taxes were enacted they simply would be an addition to present taxes. The Digest has demanded, year after year, cut in governmental costs so taxes would come down.

Every normal person is opposed to war. But when the time comes when war must be declared, none will shrink.

Such a time has arrived in regard to governmental finances. Previous administrations refused to cut costs. Many local governmental officials still are refusing. Debts have piled up. And taxes have stopped. The parting of the ways has been reached. The sales and income measure—now—will scarcely be piling new taxes on top of old, because old taxes have ceased coming in. An emergency has to be met. It is no time to be quibbling about the color of its eyes nor the shade of its hair.

The Digest believes the sales tax should be RUSHED through at once, with adjustments to come later. There may be a special session of the legislature next fall. There should be a thorough overhauling of the entire tax structure in the near future.

But all that is beside the point. These things can be settled later. Right now the state needs money or institutions must close schools must be shuttered, morale must be allowed to break—Edward A. Nowack in the Michigan State Digest.

MORE TAXES

A sales tax will find favor before the legislature adjourns, according to Rep. Brown. There's a fervent prayer that it will be hitched onto a program that will create a school fund. Relieve the school tax burden, Mister Legislators, and the 1933 legislature will go down in history as the greatest assembly in all time. Then, too, unless a tax fund is created to revert direct to the school system there will be a breaking down of the system that will be nothing short of heart-rending.—Harry Izor in the Durand Express.

MR. MURPHY AND MR. BRUCKER

You can put this down on the records: Frank Murphy, mayor of Detroit, thinks more of Frank Murphy and the Philinos than he does of a million and a half people, a majority of whom once took him at his word that he would serve them better than others. Mr. Murphy's departure from Detroit is, on the one hand, an absolute repudiation of his pre-election promise; on the other, it is proof that most people who rise in the world of politics do so through the fragrant wiles of expediency and chance.

Former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker is a typical example of a politician who rose upon the fickle whims of expediency and chance. His rapid rise to the office of Chief Executive of Michigan, from practical obscurity as a prosecuting attorney in Saginaw County, in four years was the cocoon that held within it the butterfly that stung its wings against the hot spotlight of public opinion. His consummate ambition so over-balanced his judgment that, in two short years, he couldn't calmly see the job at hand because of the distant view of some other and higher office. Nevertheless, in both Brucker's and Murphy's cases you may observe how an individual may work overtime to advance himself through the mere mastery of political expediency, rather than public good-will gained through established delivery of public service. You cannot hurry nature in the process of organic growth; neither man nor tree can add one cubit to its stature, except by a Power beyond itself. It is so in politics, too. Men and women grow enduringly by doing things, rather than by merely KNOWING things.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

How To Make Wall Paper Cleaning Supply at Home

An inexpensively prepared wall paper cleaner which will prove very effective has been suggested by the home management specialists of the home economics extension department of Michigan State College.

Ingredients required are: two cups sifted flour, one cup warm water, two tablespoons kerosene, four tablespoons ammonia, and two tablespoons salt. Stir while cooking until the mixture is stiff, then cool and work into balls with hands. The amount given will clean one small room.

For washing painted walls, a solution containing one cup of soda, one cup of ammonia, one cup of vinegar, and one gallon of warm water is suggested. The solution is applied with a sponge and is rinsed off with clear water. A sponge may be used for the rinsing of rough plaster, while a cloth is suitable on other surfaces. Equal parts of borax, gold dust, and corn meal, mixed thoroughly, and put in small amounts on a damp cloth will be found satisfactory for removing spots from a painted wall.

Another economical hint which may prove helpful during house-cleaning time is contained in the following inexpensive treatments for dust cloths: (1) Soak the dust cloths in either kerosene or ammonia for 24 hours and then let dry for 24 hours. If the day is damp, the kerosene may need to dry for a few hours longer; (2) To one pint of hot water add one tablespoon of furniture polish. Soak dust cloth in this liquid then wring dry. When thoroughly dry, it will be used on the furniture; (3) Put a little furniture polish in a tin can, preferably the can in which the dust mop came, and let it spread over the bottom. Put the dust cloths in and let them stand for about 24 hours.

Dodging to one side when a black cat crossed his path, Stevens struck his head against an iron lamp post and was knocked unconscious. At a hospital doctors took five stitches in his head.

MANY BREWERIES GIVEN PERMITS

In the last nine months, articles of incorporation have been granted 20 breweries, according to records of the Department of State. Most of the applications have been received in the last two weeks since the question of legalizing the manufacture and sale of beer has been under consideration by the legislature.

Many other corporations, licensed to manufacture or sell malt or malt products, have made application to change their charters to permit them to handle beer. While most of the applications have come from the Detroit area, the brewery applications are well scattered over both Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

The past two months also have shown a marked increase in applications for incorporation of companies seeking to conduct investment businesses, and companies seeking to sell both men's and women's clothing.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"THE BIG CAGE"

Clyde Beatty, the world's greatest wild animal trainer, will be seen on the screen of the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, April 29.

Beatty comes as the featured player in "The Big Cage," the Universal circus drama which is virtually a story of his own life. One of its sequences shows him performing in an arena with 43 jagged-toothed lions and tigers. Beatty is the only man who ever combined two savage enemies in the same cage. This unique circus act is "re-mixed" in Hollywood to be literally hair-raising when shown in close-up on the screen. Much of the action of "The Big Cage" takes place in the winter quarters of a circus and the climax of the story, made at the height of a terrific storm, finds several lions and tigers loose in the mammoth show tent during a performance.

"PICK UP"

Sylvia Sydney and George Raft are cast together for the first time in "Pick Up," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, April 30 and May 1.

"Pick Up" is the story of a girl, "framed" by her husband for a crime he has committed, who goes to prison with him. The role is played by Miss Sydney. Released after a couple of years, while her husband remains behind the bars, Sylvia finds herself back in the city, broke, cold and soaking wet in a rainstorm. She seeks shelter in an empty cab, and the driver, Raft, is convinced of the genuineness of her pleas.

"FRISCO JENNY"

Ruth Chatterton comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday, May 3 in the picture "Frisco Jenny," in which she has a typical "Diamond Lil" role.

The polished and dignified actress turns entirely away from her recent society roles in her latest starring vehicle, and reverts to a character part similar to those in which she made some of her early and most outstanding successes, such as "Madam X" and "Sarah and Son."

In "Frisco Jenny" she appears as the queen of the Demimonde, who rules her kingdom with an iron hand, a woman hard and unscrupulous, yet with an underlying tenderness and an unsurpassable love for her only son.

Miss Chatterton is supported by an exceptionally strong cast which includes Donald Cook, James Murray, Louis Calhern, Hallam Cooley, Pat O'Malley, Robert Warwick and others.

Miss June Platt of Detroit was the guest of Miss Betty Snell last week Thursday and Friday.

HOW BRANCH LIBRARY BENEFITS PLYMOUTH TOLD BY SPEAKERS

Rotarians Surprised At Amount Of Patronage Of Local Branch

Members of the Rotary club last Friday had the pleasure of hearing just how much the operation of the county branch library means to the community. They heard from one in a position to know the facts as to the many thousands of people who come to Plymouth during the course of a year to patronize the library.

Miss Dawson, the supervisor of the library, was the speaker. She was accompanied by Audrey Moore. The colorful Dutch costumes and the grace and joy expressed by the audience delighted them.

Rudolph Lodeesen, formerly of Holland, now a student at the U. of M. was the speaker. He touched on many unknown and extremely interesting aspects of Dutch life and history.

We learned for instance that Holland might be placed 16 times in the state of Texas or be equal to a square, one side of which stretched from Detroit to Kalamazoo. The extreme democracy of the queen was demonstrated. His remarks on our political ideas and practices in contrast to his native land were most pointed. Can you imagine covering 150 miles by bicycle in a day? Such is not an uncommon feat for either Dutch man or woman, but of course their bicycle is a totally different vehicle than our having inflated tires and many other comforts.

The next feature on the program was a musical reading by Katherine Schultz, accompanied by Miss Corina Penney. The selection read was "Wherever Man Ranges," an old Dutch ballad dating from 1616. It undoubtedly inspired many true patriots to arm and fight for deliverance from the Spanish yoke.

Last on the program were two violin solos by Mr. Lodeesen, accompanied by Miss Penney. An appreciative audience soon learned that Mr. Lodeesen was not merely a fine speaker but an artist of the bow.

Four young ladies, Miriam Joliffe, Katherine Schultz, Thelma Lundford and Phyllis Barrows, all in Dutch costume then served tea or coffee and Dutch apple cake to the guests. Mrs. Sara Ross and Mrs. W. J. Asman of Anna Arbor, mother-in-law and mother of the chairman presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Miller Ross desires to publicly thank all those who helped with this affair, especially Miss Luella Koyes who trained the dancers and helped all the Dutch costumes, and Miss Penney who so graciously took charge of the musical program at such a late date.

"So that you might have some idea of the extensiveness of the territory that the Plymouth library serves, you will be interested in knowing that people come here from Rosedale Gardens, Northville, Tinsford, South Lyon, West Point Park, Farmington, Walled Lake and all of the surrounding farming country to secure books. Employees of the Wayne County Training school lead the various institutions located here in the use of the library. The Detroit House of Correction and the Maybury Sanatorium employees are frequent patrons of the library."

Mr. Strohm, one of the leading library authorities of the country, declared that it was the purpose of librarians to be helpful to people, providing them with reading that will instruct and please in these perplexing days.

"Books are for all and at any time in life. Education is continuous. Life is changing and always challenging," he said.

He berated the book worm, declaring him to be one of the most destructive forces in the world. "We must learn to keep our heads up. The libraries help us do this. Libraries are our temples. They must be kept. They are providing their bit of relief in these times—relief from the things we do not like to think about."

The program was in charge of Sup. George Smith of the Plymouth public schools.

Plymouth Rotarians were especially pleased in meeting Mr. Strohm and Miss Dawson who came to the assistance of Mrs. Murray and citizens of the community a year or so ago in aiding this community to retain the branch library.

Church Tea Party Proves Delightful Event of the Month

On Thursday, April 20, a most unusual and delightful tea was held in the Methodist church house. The program had been arranged by Mrs. Miller Ross, whose circle sponsored the event.

The gymnasium had been converted into a living room and was profusely decorated with ferns, tulips, hydrangeas, daffodils, and primroses. On the stage were two panels depicting scenes of Dutch life loaned by their designers, Laura Kincaid and Norman Mack.

The first number on the program was a Dutch folk dance by the following girls: Muriel Kelly, Betty Mastick, Ernestine Robinson, Hech Norgrove, Genevieve Pinker, Arthur Alden, Jane Purley, Dorothy Shaw, Ellen Nystrom and Catherine Kalkisky. They were accompanied by Audrey Moore. The colorful Dutch costumes and the grace and joy expressed by the audience delighted them.

Salem Wedding Is Beautiful Affair

On Saturday evening, April twenty-second, at eight o'clock Miss Mildred Delaney became the wife of Myrland Lyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lyke of Salem. The Federated church was filled to capacity. The guests, who were shown to their seats by Burton Rich and Donald Merritt, assembled early and were entertained by Mrs. E. E. Curtis, organist. Mrs. Curtis played "In a Spring Garden" and other numbers, and also accompanied the bride and groom.

The beautiful bride wore a white tulle gown with a long train, and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Penney.

The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lyke.

The wedding was a beautiful affair, and the guests enjoyed the ceremony and the reception.

How Home Owners Will Benefit By New Mortgage Law

Plymouth residents will be interested in some of the details of the proposal of congress to aid the small home owners that have mortgaged property. The bill for the refinancing of home mortgages will extend to the small home owner the same sort of relief from the burden of debt which the farm mortgage bill provides for the farmers.

In purpose, in organization and in method, the two measures are identical. The home owner, like the farmer, borrowed when property values, interest rates and incomes were high. Prices and incomes are now substantially lower; but charges for interest and amortization remain where they stood at the height of prosperity.

The coincidence of falling incomes and rising charges has caused the debt burden to grow continuously heavier. In consequence, the mortgagee is threatened with the loss of his investment; the mortgagor with the loss of his home. As the farm mortgage bill will operate to keep the farmer on his farm, so the present measure will serve to keep the owner in his home.

This purpose is to be accomplished by the creation of a Home Owners' Loan Corporation. This agency, like the Farm Loan Board, is authorized to issue two billion dollars in 4 per cent bonds. The interest on these obligations is to be guaranteed by the Federal Government. The corporation will exchange its bonds for mortgages, up to 80 per cent of the present value of the properties covered. Or it can sell them to the public and lend the funds so obtained on the same basis. It is empowered to pay taxes which are due and to lend money for necessary repairs. The refinancing which is thus achieved should benefit both debtor and creditor.

The creditor will surrender a 6 per cent mortgage, which is payable in 15 years, and which he cannot afford to foreclose. He will receive in return tax-free 4 per cent bonds with a Federal interest guarantee. The principal and interest due him will be reduced, but he will be certain of the value of the obligation which he holds. He will take a loss in terms of the price level of 1929, but he will enjoy a gain over reduced values of 1933. And his reduced income may buy him as much goods as did his larger receipts during the years of prosperity.

The advantages of the plan to the debtor are even more obvious. His interest will be cut to 5 per cent. His principal will be lowered. His loan will run for fifteen years. Amortization charges will be accordingly reduced. His monthly bill will be appreciably lessened. If unemployment destroys his earning power, the government will grant him a moratorium on payments for as long as three years.

Thousands of small householders can now take heart from the assurance that the government will save their homes for them.

The measure also calls for the establishment of a system of Federal savings and loan associations to provide home-financing institutions in communities where none now exist. It may be doubted whether present conditions will enable many persons of small means to avail themselves of this provision. Even so, Federal stimulation of agencies for home finance in the third of the American counties which now lack them is greatly to be desired as a matter of permanent policy.

Limitation of the proposed legislation to properties which do not exceed $10,000 in value reveals its purpose. The administration's policy, in the words of the President, "is that the broad interests of the nation require that special safeguards should be thrown around home ownership as a guarantee of social and economic stability, and that to protect home owners from inequitable enforced liquidation, in a time of general distress, is a proper concern of the Government."

Frightened by a train whistle, Russell Trump, of Yale, Okla., leaped from an automobile and fell on the track, where he was killed by a passenger train. The car safely crossed the tracks, and a companion who remained in it was uninjured.

What Farmer Must Do To Pay His Bill For Skilled Labor

"The farmer must raise sixty dozens of eggs to pay a boss carpenter for one day's work. If he wants to hire a painter for a day of eight hours he must clip the wool from the backs of not less than eight sheep to pay him and if he wants to pay a stone mason for eight hours work at the regular going wage, he must sell a 300 pound hog in order to get enough money to do it. If he hires the stone mason for two days work, then he must sell two three hundred pound hogs in order to get enough money to pay the stone mason. If this same farmer should have three days work for a carpenter he must sell 180 dozen eggs to pay his carpenter for his work."

This interesting parallel existing between production on the farm and labor was drawn in an address read at a meeting of the Northville Rotary club Tuesday noon. Recently Charles Rogers, well known resident of Northville, who has many acquaintances in Plymouth, attended a meeting of the Rotary club in Detroit. He heard an address on present day conditions and it so impressed him that he secured a copy of the talk to be read before the Northville club.

The general theme of the address was that business conditions would be better, but that before they are much different than what they are now, there must be a general acceptance of vastly different conditions and lowered prices over what has existed in the past.

NEW TAXES NOW LANSING TALK

merchants who have already seen their business drop to a mere nothing.

While there was talk in the early part of the session of cutting the expenses of the state to meet its reduced income, there is no such talk now. Too many people have got to be given jobs and the influence of some of the educational institutions and departments are altogether too powerful to permit such a thing to happen. So taxpayers have got to pay, and pay plenty. Indications are that the state expenses will be somewhere near where they were some eight or ten years ago—and even then the taxpayers protested.

There is one thing that the taxpayers can make up their minds to right now, taxes in Michigan will not be decreased in proportion to their incomes. If the taxes are not collected from real estate, they are going to come from somewhere.

It is estimated that the beer bill ought to bring in two and a half million dollars, but this is only an estimate, and no one has the slightest thing upon which to base these figures. But anyway officials think it ought to be that, therefore they make an estimate that it will be that amount.

Senator Francis Kulp, one of the outstanding newer members of the legislature who came into office in the Democratic landslide last fall, is bitterly opposed to the high tax placed upon beer. Senator Kulp, a prominent Battle Creek lawyer who probably knows as much about taxation and other legislative problems as any man in the legislature, feels that the high tax imposed upon beer is a direct tax upon the poor man.

With the one or two exceptions the liquor control commission was made up of people who could well afford to pay any price for beer, but beer is the beverage of the working man, the man who is forced to count his pennies. He can pay five cents a glass for beer, but when he pays more than that, then he is paying more than he can afford, and I don't like the new bill for that very reason," stated Senator Kulp. But higher taxes on everything seem to be in the air, and higher taxes Michigan people are going to pay.

Many prominent Democrats as well as Republicans are not at all satisfied with the trend of affairs in Lansing. Democrats do not like some of the appointments that have been made. They do not like it because they have not been provided with some sort of a definite legislative program. Republicans have made similar comments. So far the only economy measure presented and acted upon are those introduced by Representative Vernon J. Brown and Representative Hartman. No other legislative economy steps have been advanced outside of what these two men have done. Maybe in the four or five weeks left there will be something of a definite nature advanced, and this is the thing that all are expectantly waiting for.

Only senate and executive approval awaits the enactment of Representative Brown's bill doing away with Michigan's obnoxious Securities commission. Worthless paper to the tune of five hundred million dollars has been passed off on the people of Michigan through permits issued by the commission during the past few years. Representative Brown declares that the state should not permit the sale of anything that tinges of such investments as have been passed upon by the commission. Not an objection to the bill has been raised in the house.

There is prospect of a constitutional amendment being placed upon the ballot at the next general election which will provide for one board of control of all state edu-national institutions. The plan, originally suggested in the senate by Senator Kulp of Battle Creek, has found much favor in both the house and senate. The new superintendent of public instruction, Mr. Volker, is known also to favor the plan.

It's going to be just too bad for the Honorable John K. Stack, Jr., of Escanaba, Michigan, U. S. A., auditor general of the great state of Michigan if the bill introduced by Representative Barber keeps on going as strong as it is up to date. The bill would prevent officials from employing relatives. About the greatest accomplishment of the administration of John K. Jr., to date has been the employment of his daughter as something or other in his office—at a salary so fancy it makes some of the old timers about the capitol a bit jealous.

The Orr insurance bill which gives to Michigan life insurance companies the same advantages that big eastern insurance companies have in making loans at present, is soon to become a law. The bill was held up in the house one day because of a slight misunderstanding as to its provisions. Insurance companies have been hit just as hard as the banks relative to loans and while the big life insurance companies under the laws of the state where they exist, have refused to permit certain loans, the Michigan companies have been forced to pay them, putting them to a great disadvantage with their powerful eastern competitors. The Orr bill puts all of them on equal footing.

The legislature hopes to complete its work by May 20th, that date having been tentatively set as the time for adjournment. There is some talk of another session in the fall to take up some of the problems that are bound not to be disposed of at the present session.

Trout Season Will Open Monday-Decide Not To Change Date

Plymouth trout fishermen take warning!

After the state senate had voted for a resolution changing the date of the trout season opening to April 29 instead of May 1, the decision was reached not to make the change.

The season will open Monday, May 1, as originally provided. No be sure and do not dip your line into any trout stream previous to the time fixed by the state law. The senate resolution does not count.

Simultaneously with the opening of the trout season will reopen in all of the designated "pike" lakes.

In lakes designated by the Department of Conservation as "pike" lakes, fishing for all species except bass and bluegills will be permitted from the opening day.

Eight lakes have been added to the list of "pike" lakes by the Conservation Department this year and are as follows:

Aurum County: Lake Bellaire or Grass Lake and Round Lake. Montmorency County: Avery Lake.

Shiawassee County: Hopkins Pond and Gould's Pond. Tuscola County: Clark Lake, Bearfoot Lake.

Wexford County: Lake Mitchell. The Plymouth Mail published two weeks ago the list of pike lakes. These lakes should be added to that list.

Fishing in these lakes will be permitted May 1. Although the Department has received requests to remove Eight Point Lake in Clare County and Barnhart Lake in Presque Isle County from the list of "pike" lakes, the status of the lakes will continue with fishing in them opening May 1st.

Four lakes and ponds have been added to the list of designated "trout" lakes in which fishing is permitted May 1. These lakes are: Marquette County: Cliff Lake. Montmorency County: Fish Lakes, Seven Sage Ponds and McCormick Lake.

While fishing in "trout" lakes is permitted only from May 1 to Labor Day, fishing is legal in all "pike" lakes for eleven months being closed only during the month of April.

Several months ago the Department removed the restrictions on fishing in so-called trout "feeder" streams with the result that trout fishing will be permitted in all waters of the state during the open season which begins May 1st.

While Director George R. Harwarth has been authorized by the Conservation Commission to close such feeder streams as he decided were necessary to carry on scientific research no designations have as yet been made. It is probable, however, that a few short stretches of minor importance to trout fishermen will be posted and closed.

"I want you to meet Sophie Golden, my bride," Adam Tora, of New York City, announced upon entering into the presence of Mrs. Tora a pretty blonde. Now Tora is held for bigamy.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

GENERAL OFFICE
2000 SECOND AVENUE

DETROIT, MICHIGAN

April 24, 1933

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY in 29 cities, 58 villages, and 130 townships

This is the fourth of a series of letters to you about your electric service:

It costs too much to do business in the Big City. Years ago it was the other way around. Then it cost more to serve the sparsely settled country districts. In those days we charged higher prices to our out of town customers. When this out of town business began building up and we found it was costing us less to do business in the smaller places, we made all the rates the same.

Nowadays every time the city decides to widen a street we must spend thousands of dollars to push our poles back out of the way, or move our conduit manholes. The Big City often asks us to pull down pole lines and put the wires underground—and that costs plenty! Taxes in the city compared with the country districts are a scandal. And we have never dodged taxes—not even the personal property tax. Don't forget for a minute that YOU pay the taxes—we are only collecting them for the tax authorities. There is no place to get tax money except out of our business, and that means you.

Regarding our service: Last year we answered half a million calls, about half of them to replace blown fuses. We exchanged 5 million new lamps for burned-out and blackened lamps, and gave out 288,000 new iron cords in place of worn ones. Our repair men were ready night and day to serve you in any emergency. We have never claimed credit for free service. By handling calls in large volume, we provide these services to our customers at lowest unit cost. This cost is included in the rate you pay for current. When you have occasion for a service man, you know there is precious little waiting until an Edison man is at your door.

The average household uses about 8 cents worth of electricity a day. This lights the home, washes clothes, irons them, makes ice, furnishes entertainment through the radio set, ventilates the kitchen, makes the morning toast and coffee, curls the hair, heats the bathroom or nursery, sweeps rugs, operates clocks accurately to the split second, whips the cream or batter, and does many other jobs for which small appliances are built. And this is only part of the story. For a few cents more a day you can cook with electricity, wash the dishes, run the oil burner, cool the house on the hottest days, and do most of the toilsome jobs in the home. Few items in the daily household budget cost so little for such a variety of useful work or pleasure.
