

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE ON HIGHWAY WORK

Plymouth Road Is In Best Condition Since Construction

Excellent progress is being made on the highway improvement along Plymouth road between the city limits and the cut-off junction about two miles east of the city. Through the co-operation of the county road commission and the state highway department, a large number of Plymouth's unemployed residents have been given employment in widening the shoulders of the 20 foot concrete slab.

Efforts are being made to have the shoulder at least six or eight feet wide, the drainage ditch on both sides being uniformly shaped to help the general attractiveness of the highway.

Care is being used to save all the trees on both sides of the road. In several places extensive fills have been necessary. When the job is completed, the Plymouth road to the east will be in the best condition since its construction.

Tuesday morning the county also started work on the construction of the fence separating Riverside cemetery from the Plymouth-High School side park. The material for this improvement and Plymouth labor is being used to put up the fence. The construction is under the direction of one of the county park construction supervisors.

Anyone who visited the cemetery Sunday could easily have secured evidence of the necessity for this fence. Boxes of vills into the cemetery and picked many flowers that are near the boundary line.

As the result of the large amount of public work that is now being done there are but few men in the city who are not supported by the welfare department at the present time.

M. E. Choir to Give Concert on June 7

The membership of the Plymouth M. E. church, many of their friends from other Plymouth churches as well as many folks from nearby towns and even some from Detroit have come to look upon the spring entertainment of the Plymouth M. E. choir as an established annual event. The choir's regular work is being made as to what and when it will be this year. The choir now announces that this time it will be an all music program consisting mostly of choral numbers by the choir and soloists. Only music which is extra promised. Wednesday, June 7th, at eight o'clock instead of May 31st as previously tentatively suggested. This postponement was thought wise so there would be no conflict with the Decoration Day activities of the city. Mrs. M. J. O'Connor, director has been working diligently making plans and holding frequent rehearsals with the choir for several weeks so that the audience may be even better entertained than last year, which entertainment as many will remember, set a precedent for good entertainment.

In order that no one need feel excluded on account of the present financial unpleasantness no admission will be charged nor will there be a collection taken. The choir wants merely to give pleasure and asks only the support of an attentive audience. Only music which is extra promised will be on the program.

Federal L. Whittlesey, well known director of the Boulevard Temple choir of Detroit, is rehearsing with the choir and has promised to direct the performance. Many will remember the splendid concert he with his own choir gave here last winter and will be pleased that he has so graciously consented to direct and help make this concert a success.

Rotarians Hear Of Windsor Meeting

Members of the Rotary club last Friday heard reports of the annual district conference held the week previous in Windsor, Lynn Felton, delegate of the club, Cass Hough, incoming president of the organization, William Wood, and Floyd Eckles presented reports of the various sessions they attended. President Charles Bennett who was present during the entire conference, also briefly told of some of the matters discussed.

A letter from Leroy Felton, the Plymouth boy selected to represent the club at the Rotarian boy's conference, expressed his appreciation of the honor in being made a delegate of the club and of the good that came out of the sessions he attended. Hamtramck and Wayne clubs had one hundred per cent attendance at the Windsor meeting.

NORTHVILLE PLANS FAIR DURING AUGUST

Harry C. Robinson, member of the Northville-Windsor fair board, attended a meeting of that group in Northville Monday night. The newly fair association has decided to have a fair this year, fixing the days for August 22 to 26. There will be the same number of horse races as in past years, a horse show and a military drilling contest on the final day staged by members of the American Legion in this part of the state. The Association also voted to permit beer to be sold on the fair grounds, but it will be under the direct control of the fair association.

SHRUBS DONATED TO CITY FOR PARK USE

Through the kindly donations of many Plymouth residents, the bareness of Central park is being eliminated by the planting of attractive shrubs. Carl Greenlee gave to the city a number of ivy plants to help cover the stone wall that has been built along the north boundary of the park, but City Manager Cook (Latham) states that more plants of this kind are needed.

Mrs. Edward Lauffer, Mrs. Ruth Houston Whipple, Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, George Wilcox and the Aldrich nursery have donated the other shrubs and plants that have added greatly to this improvement.

During the past year a number of small trees have been planted in the park that are doing exceptionally well, all adding greatly to the general attractiveness of Central park.

Fix Up, Now! All Prices Are Going Up

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce compiled information Wednesday of this week from representative local dealers in lumber, paint, roofing, cement, feeds, seeds, and allied lines in an effort to determine the present price trend on these items and to advise the public of the best advice of Secretary Moore is to buy now if possible.

Mr. Moore learned that retail prices have already increased in such lines as dimension lumber, shipping, slugs, and roofing materials, cement, feeds, seeds, linoleum and that wholesalers are warning retailers of impending increases in point prices.

Mr. Moore made this survey at this particular time to the in with the city-wide clean-up paint-up campaign started this week. A Chamber of Commerce official urged the public to respond wholeheartedly to Mayor Hoover's announcement and as a matter of economy to start figuring on long desired repair, paint, home, garden and lawn beautification work.

Nursery Completes Its Second Year

Today Hilltop Nursery School, 400 Beck road, completes its second successful year of operation. The fifteen little tots now in attendance with their mothers as guests, are celebrating the close of the school year with a picnic at Cass Benton Park.

June 15th, the school is to be changed to Hilltop Country Day and Boarding school for the summer, where parents may leave the children if they are going to the World's Fair, on a vacation or on a week-end trip. A cottage for sleeping quarters is being built and everything for the children's comfort and happiness is being arranged.

Mrs. Grace E. Joffile, the director, has sent out 200 announcements, and as a matter of fact, large neighbors have been placed on the corners of Beck and Territorial, Ann Arbor and Golden roads.

Egg Laying Contest Becoming Real One

Still the records climb! And if the record laying hens that Irving Blunk has in his highly bred flock as well as those possessed by E. L. Becker, want to hold their leading positions among record laying hens, they will have to step some.

Now comes Francis Johnson from the Five mile farm with some egg laying figures for Mr. Blunk and Mr. Becker to do some figuring over.

Mr. Johnson doesn't put forth any special claims to his hens, except as to their laying ability. "They are just ordinary farm hens—just common, everyday farm Rhode Island Reds that eat the same sort of corn and worms and gravel as all other hens," says Mr. Johnson.

"But when it comes to laying eggs—well, we will let some of these other fellows try and break the record of my hens, if they can. In February 25 of these just laid, every day farm hens, laid 477 eggs. In March they laid 550 eggs and in April the total went up to 604 eggs," said Mr. Johnson.

EVERYONE TO PAY NEW TAX

Legislature Setting Up The Machinery To Collect Sales Tax

Lansing, Mich.—One of the most important and far reaching economic changes in the history of Michigan is about to be consummated as the result of pending legislation that will doubtless become law within the next two or three weeks. The taxation system of the state that has existed since the territorial days is being scrapped and a new one perfected. Real estate, which in past years has carried the burden of development and progress, will no longer be regarded as an asset worth taxing over a small per cent of its value. Voters decided this point when they passed the fifteen mill limit constitutional amendment last fall.

But to take the place of revenues the state lost as the result of this change, the legislature is now considering legislation which places the tax burden almost entirely upon residents of the cities and villages of Michigan. No, the sales tax bill that makes this change, does not say that city and village residents will pay practically all of the tax on Michigan in the future, but that is just what the measure will do.

No School Until Wednesday Morning

Happy days for the school boys and girls of Plymouth. The official day of home Friday afternoon, you won't have to go back to school until next Wednesday morning.

It's a regular vacation at a time when no one was expecting a vacation.

But you see it's this way—Memorial day falls on Tuesday and if mother and daddy decide to go away Sunday to remain over Memorial day, that would make a lot of absentees in school. So the school officials just decided that it would be better for everybody if school closed on Friday until Wednesday morning.

Young Ball Players Here is Your Chance

Amateur baseball players of Plymouth who are between the ages of 14 and 17 years of age on June 1 are acceptable to the baseball ranks of the American League Junior Baseball team that is being organized in Plymouth.

Boys that are anxious to join this team are requested to report at the old Wilcox homestead, the last house on North Hillbrook street, Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock. At that time there will be a try-out of the youngsters. All playing equipment and traveling expenses of future games will be paid by the Myron H. Beals American Legion post.

Plymouth Defeats Pontiac Ball Club

Plymouth defeated Grand Trunk of Pontiac, 4 to 2, for their second victory in three starts last Sunday at the Plymouth Riverside Ball Park.

Harold Pankow pitched a four hit game for the Schrader-Hagerly nine, but he was in trouble several times, due to the errors of his teammates.

William Barnett, Grand Trunk's star right-hander, allowed Plymouth seven scattered hits.

The locals got off to a two-run lead in the first, followed by two more in the fourth inning. Pontiac scored one in the third and one in the eighth.

Plymouth baseball players are facing a difficult game Sunday, May 28th with the Blue Star Athletics of Jackson. Ell Ward, former pitcher of the Nashville club, of the Southern Association, will oppose Schrader-Hagerly on the mound. Jackson also boasts of having a few other ex-stars that at some time or other have seen minor league experience.

Thousands Visit Park Last Sunday

Glen Smith who holds the concession right to Plymouth-Riverside park, opened his 1933 season Sunday, providing the hundreds of visitors with many of the little delights that such a place as his always has on hand. Mr. Smith stated that he was greatly surprised by the size of the crowd that was present at the park. The day, while a pleasant one, was rather chilly, and the birds did not keep the crowds away. Plymouth-Riverside has seen more beautiful than any other day.

Memorial Day Proclamation

Saturday, May 27th, was designated as "Poppy Day" in Plymouth in a proclamation issued today by Mayor Freeman B. Hoover. The proclamation called upon all citizens of the city to observe the day by wearing the American Legion and Ex-Service Men's Club poppy in memory of the World War dead.

The proclamation stated: "Whereas, in the great crisis of the World War the young men of Plymouth offered their services to our country with an exalted spirit of patriotism, numbers of them sacrificing their lives in that service; and Whereas, the same exalted spirit of patriotism is needed today for the service of our country in its peacetime difficulties;

"Therefore, I, Freeman B. Hoover, Mayor of the City of Plymouth, urge all citizens to recall the spirit of these gallant boys of the World War by wearing the poppy in memory of the men who gave their lives for the wearing of the Ex-Service Men's Club and American Legion memorial poppy on Saturday, May 27th; and I further urge all who can, to attend the Memorial Day services held under the auspices of the Ex-Service Men's Club and the Myron H. Beals Post, American Legion in the Pennington Allen Theatre and Riverside Cemetery on Memorial Day, Tuesday, May 30th at 9 p.m. and in honor of the gallant dead of the Civil, Spanish, American and World War, wear the memorial poppy to the Memorial Services.

County Cannot Take City Scrip For Taxes

As a service to the taxpayers of Plymouth, County Treasurer Herman B. Lan has asked The Mail to explain that his office is authorized to accept Detroit scrip for city of Detroit taxes only up to the amount of Wayne County's financial obligations to Detroit.

This scrip becomes a valid medium of exchange between the county and Detroit, but has no exchange value as a medium of exchange between the county and cities, township and villages outside of Detroit. For this reason, County Treasurer Lan is unable, with expressed regret, to accept Detroit scrip for taxes due from these sources.

This is a warning to taxpayers outside of Detroit, many of whom have given over their United States money to friends in return for scrip, with the idea that outside taxes could be met with currency that is local to Detroit. Possessors of the Detroit scrip have caused no little embarrassment to friends who have taken the scrip from them, although acting innocently in the matter in the majority of cases.

On tendering the scrip to the County Treasurer, taxpayers outside of Detroit have had to be told that it could not be accepted.

Tough Times Ahead For Drunk Drivers

No more easy fines for automobile drivers who are arrested while drunk!

As long as Judge Brooks remains in office he has let it be known that they are going to be punished and punished severely for this law violation.

The matter was brought to public attention a few days ago when Chief Vaughn Smith brought two violators before the judge.

He imposed a $50 fine on one plus the costs and the other fine was almost as severe.

The judge holds that the time has come when drunken drivers must be held in check. During the past few years a large majority of automobile accidents have been caused by this class of violators. Now that beer can be had in the home, he holds that any one caught intoxicated when on the highway should be punished and punished properly. He sees no reason why he intends to put into effect his ideas on this subject.

FEW PLYMOUTH MERCHANTS ACCEPTING DETROIT SCRIP

Four or five Plymouth merchants are accepting Detroit City Scrip in full value for merchandise if purchased to the full amount of the scrip.

One or two of the local stores accept only scrip from city employees. The stores accepting scrip report a sizeable increase in business due to this practice and they claim to have found outlets for their ever increasing supply.

Straw Hat Season Arrives on Time

The straw hat season arrived in Plymouth last Saturday when the sun rose over the Daisy plant and brought daylight to Plymouth.

A few minutes after, Paul Hayward provided additional evidence of the arrival of the straw hat season by walking down the Woodward avenue of Plymouth with one of the season's newest straw hat styles on.

HOW YOU CAN AID GOOD CAUSE

Salvation Army Is Seeking Old Clothing And Papers—To Collect

Spring housecleaning is close at hand, and it brings to light articles of clothing, furniture, old books, newspapers, magazines, and many odds and ends which have passed their usefulness to you. You can make them useful to others by calling the local branch of the Salvation Army, they will be glad to make any pick ups that you have. In connection with clean-up week, Capt. Everett has made arrangements with the Detroit Industrial truck to come in and canvass the town for the articles mentioned. All clothes and shoes and useful articles will be left in Plymouth.

Papers and magazines which the local corps cannot use will be given to the Detroit Industrial Home for the use of the truck and the men's labor. It might interest the people of Plymouth to know that the Salvation Army has distributed to these married and single workers who handle old clothing, shoes, newspapers, etc., over $12,000 the past six months in wages to support themselves and their families. In addition to the above they have given 73,500 meals to these men, apart from the 43,480 meals that were worked for.

Capt. Everett of the local corps has made arrangements for the Salvation Army truck to pick up every month, and the people of Plymouth are asked to give to this truck if you desire your used clothing, paper, etc. to go to the Salvation Army. This is the only truck that is authorized to collect for the Salvation Army in Plymouth. The truck bears the well known red shield of the Salvation Army on each side. When you see this emblem you know it is the Salvation Army.

DETROITERS COMMIT SUICIDE NEAR TOWN

Apparently a suicide, the body of Robert Kauschberger, 23 years old of Highland Park, was found last Thursday afternoon in a culvert on the north side of the Ann Arbor road one mile west of Plymouth.

The body was discovered by Max Todd of Plymouth, who notified local police. A 32 revolver was lying beside the body. Plymouth police notified the Wayne County Coroner who made an investigation and pronounced it suicide. The remains were taken to the County morgue.

Maccabees Hold Mother-Daughter Dinner Party

Nearly one hundred Maccabees and their mothers and daughters, grandmothers and granddaughters, both real and "borrowed," attended the first Mother and Daughter party ever given by the Lady Maccabees. It proved to be such a success that it may become an annual event.

The cooperative dinner was served on long tables neatly decorated with apple-blossoms and pink egg paper, the credit for which must be given to Ladies Wood, Magraw, Hicks and Algrate.

Effie Edith Honey in her usual efficient manner performed the duties of toastmistress calling first upon the commander, Dora Wood, who responded with a beautiful welcome to the members and guests.

Three charming little girls, Dorothea Haines, Lila Mumby and Myrtle Schraeder, favored the company with three well spoken recitations during intervals of the program, thereby adding the privilege to sit at the speaker's table among the other "notables."

Lady Elsa Campbell, selected to give the toast to daughters, read a poem of Edgar A. Guest's "Girls Are Best." The response was given by her daughter, Doris, who also read one of Guest's poems, "Make Every Day Mother's Day." Both poems were very good and much in keeping with the occasion.

Three young ladies from junior high school, Jewell Starkweather, Patricia Cassidy and Winifred Smith, sang the lovely song, "Mother's Day." Their young voices blended nicely together.

The principal speaker of the evening was Miss Neva Lovewell, M. A., well known by the daughters present, as she is an English instructor in our high school. Her topic was "The Forest of Vision" in which she outlined four distinct paths through life's imaginary forest that the youth of today should follow, namely: Intellectually Straight, Morally Sound, Socially Just and Spiritually Alive. Miss Lovewell's talk was very impressive and that it was interesting was manifested by the undivided attention given her throughout the entire by both the young and old present. As a token of appreciation the hive presented her with a bouquet of spring flowers.

Joan Tusef of Toledo, granddaughter of Lady Lena Willett, entertained with a cute little song and folk dance.

A humorous sketch, "A Most Obliging Little Sister," was read by Lady Elizabeth Smith.

And after honoring the oldest and youngest mother also the mother with the largest number of daughters present, with flowers and the season's newest straw hat styles on.

He was the first to sport a new 1933 straw. This week many other straw hats have appeared on the streets of Plymouth. It's straw hat time—and so far the legislature has passed no law prohibiting the wearing of last year's straw. The boys haven't got the cash to buy a new Ann Arbor street.

OUR HERO DEAD, HAIL and FAREWELL

There shall be apples in harvest still, and springtime life-soung again, Summer returning and green on the hill with the early autumn rain; But never America's fallen sons to the things they used to know While the sun goes round, or the river runs, till Gabriel's trumpets blow.

Yet, maybe, an army's ghostly drum beats up from the far-away, Unseen, unheard, where a mystic come to memory's clock today.

From alien graves afar oceans wide to their marching kith and kin, Comrade by comrade they stand beside when the bugle sounds "Fall-in."

Never at all, though April seeks where the early heat-flower starts, Or the flowering almond of August speaks to unforgetting hearts.

We read the message, we hear the call, but they their conflicts cease; They rest with God's stars over them in the dreamless halls of Peace.

There shall be honey-gold harvest wheat and glory that spring regains, Summer in shimmering vells of heat, and the misty mountain rains; But never the sons America bred to the land that was their own, Till earth gives up her glorious dead, and Gabriel's trump be blown.

EARLY COPY FOR NEXT WEEK'S PAPER

Early Copy next week. If you know Memorial day falls on Tuesday and the Plymouth Mail will not be in operation on that day. As a result it cuts the week one day short and will require considerable extra work.

If you can get your news copy and announcements in early and if you can get your ad copy in early, it will help a whole lot.

Thanks in advance for your cooperation always so pleasantly given.

MEMORIAL DAY

It is impossible to be wholly solemn on Memorial day. The time of year is against it—the soft fullness of late spring, instilling with life, and that holiday promise of long summer days, of vacation and being in the enjoyment of all the many pleasant and beautiful things which make this nation one which it is well to live in. Nor is it inappropriate that Memorial day falls when it does, for the nature of the holiday is rather against solemnity, too. It is in remembrance of young men; young men who for the greater part were not in the least solemn themselves; men who liked adventures things and were fond of being men, who when people addressed long and pompous patriotic orations to them, squirmed and probably said "Aw, h—!" but who went ahead under the rifle fire just because they were fond of living and were made that way; men who, as the soldiers and seamen in our wars, defended a nation which, one imagines, they would rather like to think of as enjoying through a pleasant holiday in the late spring.

It is a nation, at any rate, which we often say is their gift to ourselves. Perhaps that is a little inadequate to express the complex and mysterious truth. The politics and the statesmanship of it were more or less above their heads, and at times it may have been just as well. There were some who never knew what it was about and others who did not care, and still others who puzzled themselves fruitlessly over it in the long-drawn agony of hospital tents or the shambles of the surgeon's cockpit. But in the last moments they must have felt themselves parts of a great and thrilling process.

Behind the hand and mind the parades their invisible files stretch away down a long perspective—young men who were partners in terrible and agonizing experience, but who knew better than to be solemn about it. There are the men whose foot-steps left blood in the snow at Valley Forge, the men whose hands were smashed by the round shot on the gun deck of the Chesapeake, the men who died in the shanks, crossbills and scorching sunshine, under the searing bolts at Chancellorsville, the men lying wounded under the gun wheels on Seminary ridge, or choking in the soft grass of the Peach orchard or tossing in terrible rows down the Civil war hospitals.

It is a strange army, and a great one, but it's not solemn. Its ranks could stand almost anything, but they could not stand solemnity, long orations, patriotism, cant. They gave indignantly, but the suffering did not last long, and it was given because they were adventurous, courageous spirits. Lively men who could not see their country in a fight without helping out. Perhaps, in fact, the nation is their gift to us; but if so, it is a gift of so rare a quality, with so many facets, meaning so much both to those who gave and to us who have received, that one scarcely wishes to bring one's self to talk of it. New York World.

WEAR HIS FLOWER

His fixed bayonet was pointed toward the enemy. His steel helmet was tilted down over determined eyes. An unseen machine gun sprayed his path with death, but he went forward for America.

In a poppy-studded wheat field he fell. They buried him after the wave of battle had swept by, and poppies sprang up around his grave. His victorious comrades, returning to America, brought memories and the poppy.

Read the Advertisements

There is no better shopping guide than the one offered by progressive merchants in the issues of the Plymouth Mail.

This newspaper will endorse the items mentioned by your local merchants.

On Saturday, May 27, the men of the veteran's organization will ask us to wear a poppy. Ex-service men and the women of the Auxiliaries will offer us poppies on the streets and will give us an opportunity to aid the war disabled, the widows, and the fatherless children. Can there be a person in Plymouth in whom the pulse of patriotism beats so low that he will refuse? He who can so soon forget the patriotic sacrifices of the past is a person from whom friends, community and country can expect little of unselfish service today or in the future.

UNDER-CONSUMPTION

Under-consumption of the necessities of life rather than over-production is given as one of the reasons for present difficulties, according to the Trinidad Guardian, published in the British West Indies. Things which people could do without have replaced the staples of modern life to the injury of the producers of grain and wheat. The writer quoted says:

"The more I see of advertising the more I am convinced that we know nothing about it.

"We build up a world boom by advertising luxuries we could do without; then when the luxuries are doing all the business there was a slump in primary commodities. Naturally and logically, everyone was buying luxuries and was learning to do without primary products.

"The girls smoked cigarettes instead of eating sugar and chocolate; they gave up bread for rusks; they began to use artificial silk instead of wool and cotton and flannel; we used electricity instead of coal; we learned to eat canned goods instead of village produce. Thousands of people acquired a taste for canned milk instead of fresh.

"What did primary products do? Instead of advertising their way to success, they cried overproduction. Overproduction is only a child's way of saying 'no buyers.'

"Look around and see who advertises least. It is the producers 'kid' themselves that we can't. They got the idea that they were irresponsible and when they found they were not, they say down and went instead of taking a course in salesmanship.

"Fortunes used to be made out of land and farming. The farmer was the one-man shop in the one-horse town. Everybody had to go to him or starve. Nowadays instead of going to the farmer it is easier to buy canned food; luxuries advertised by middle-men or importers. The farmer sits around and wonders where his customers have gone.

"We can do without bread, eggs, sugar, potatoes and practically all of the fresh product there is. But the producers 'kid' themselves that we can't. They blame economics and overproduction for lack of sales. If they advertised and marketed like everybody else, they would not get left in the lurch.

"When the primary producers learn to keep their advertising with the producers of luxury goods, the world will get balanced again. So long as the primary producers don't get together and advertise so long will they tell a hard luck tale. And so long will the world slump, because, though we all like luxuries, we can only buy them so long as enough of us earn the right to do it by selling the fruits of the sweat of our brow. AND THOSE WHO SWEAT MUST LEARN TO SELL!" Daily News, Orange, Cal.

WHAT CANADA IS DOING

The "back-to-the-farm" movement launched in Canada a little more than two years ago by the department of colonization in cooperation with the two leading Canadian railways, has resulted in more than 75,000 persons returning to the quiet life of the farm which they had been turned to city luxuries in the boom days of 1928-29.

This number, according to Robert J. C. Stead of the department of colonization and immigration of the Dominion, is made up of 10,733 families which average five each, representing 53,000 souls, plus the 23,253 men who have gone back to the farm as laborers. These figures do not include the placements made by the provincial and city governments.

Back in 1930, the unemployed in Canada were estimated at 200,000," says Mr. Stead. "So instead of immigration being encouraged, as in previous years, it was decided to launch an effort to encourage Canadians themselves to go back to the farm.

"The whole movement is calculated to cultivate and restore the spirit of self-reliance and self-help. Not a dollar of public money or private philanthropy has been advanced either as a gift or loan. There has been no paternalism, no sapping of personal initiative. The government and the railway simply provide an escape from difficulties in the only effective way—by helping people to help themselves."

ONE YEAR A CITY

One year ago Friday, May 19, Plymouth deserted the village class and became a city.

While the year has been marked by almost a steady decline in general business, the municipal government on the other hand has enjoyed a year of exceptional progress.

Even some of those that thought it undesirable to make the change a year ago are now enthusiastic for the city way of doing things.

Not one of the serious predictions made as to what would happen to Plymouth if it became a city has become true. On the other hand all of the claims made as to the benefits to be derived from adopting the city form of government have come true.

In fact it was a fortunate thing indeed that Plymouth took the action when it did because of the many important community problems that have developed in recent months.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

WILL MICHIGAN GO THE SAME WAY

Wisconsin has already found that the legalized sale of beer only makes a bad matter much worse. The story of its immediate failure there was brought back last week by one of Michigan's best known newspaper men who spent several days in Wisconsin. He says there was a big lull for 3 days, great quantities of the new 32 being consumed. But the sale at the legalized places then almost stopped—for two weeks. The new stuff lacked the "kick" to which many had been accustomed, so they went back to the bootleggers; and it was discovered that much of the distribution was already in the hands of perfectly organized racketeers—Joe Huns in The Holly Herald.

service men. It took that position purely for reasons of economy—because the revenue of the government was running behind and we favored such economies as would make ends meet. Now however things are changed. If it's a question of spending a billion or more of inflated currency for the development of the Tennessee river, a project whose value is purely conjectural and the reason for which is purely political, or paying up the soldiers' money that will have to be paid them eventually, we favor paying the soldiers and let them have the money and get it circulating. If we're going on a spending spree, let's have a real one.—Tom Conlin in the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

SENATOR VANDENBERG

Irrespective of party affiliations we all must confess that Vandenberg is the Moses that can lead and guide the Republicans through the Red Sea of past bitter defeats, and I sincerely hope that our citizens send him a message of approval for the fine statesmanship which Vandenberg has shown in a credit to Michigan—a leader in the nation—and as we hope to elicit the support for Vandenberg for senator in 1934 we promise to support Roosevelt in '36 if he continues to make good as he has so far.—J. John Pope in Grandville Star.

COLLAPSE OF MIGHTY

A former prominent Republican state senator, of five terms standing, who was defeated at the last election, was visiting the scenes of his former triumphs last week. He advanced weekly to the laze doors of the senate chamber which he was wont to arrogantly thrust open, while an attendant ran to receive his coat and hat and hang them on a sacredly reserved peg in the Senate cloak room. But this time as the doors opened a strange face appeared. The senator stepped inside and looked about. The sergeant-at-arms spoke contemptuously to him, and was wont to arrogantly thrust open his coat and hat and hang them on a sacredly reserved peg in the Senate cloak room. # We invite you to see the new Super Series FRIGIDAIRE holds 1/4 more food

... freezes more ice

AND SETS NEW STANDARDS OF BEAUTY, QUALITY, CONVENIENCE AND ECONOMY

We want you to see this new Frigidaire. With its smooth flowing lines, paneled design and sparkling lifetime porcelain it introduces an entirely new trend in refrigerator style and beauty.

Never before have so many conveniences been assembled in one refrigerator—1/4 more food space with no increase in outside dimensions—automatic tray releasing that causes the ice trays to float out at the touch of a finger—shelves that are adjustable—a frozen storage compartment—double Hydrator capacity—interior light—automatic defrosting—and many other features that save time, work and trouble.

The efficiency of Frigidaire's famous two-cylinder unit has been increased twenty per cent. It uses only a small amount of electricity—no matter how hot the weather.

In its chromium fittings, porcelain cabinet and powerful mechanism, the Super Series Frigidaire reflects that quality which means inbuilt dependability and longer life in the home. Undoubtedly, these are the finest Frigidaires we ever have had on our showroom floor. Stop in and see them today.

There is a model in the Frigidaire Standard Series priced as low as $96 plus freight—installation and Federal tax paid.

May 15, 1933

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference.

I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

SENIORS WIN INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

This year's Interclass track meet, held May 17, was a very interesting one in which six Plymouth high school records were broken.

The seniors placed first with forty-eight points, the juniors second with thirty-five and one-half points, the sophomores third with thirty points, and the freshmen last with eighteen and one-half points.

Edward Gates broke the P. H. S. record in the half mile run with a time of two minutes, nineteen and two-tenths seconds. Gates ran for the sophomores, the junior, running for the juniors, placed second; and Fisher, who was very close behind him, took third for the sophomores. Lee, the senior entry, took fourth.

In the four hundred and forty yard dash, the senior, first for the seniors; Ash second for the sophomores; Ray third for the juniors, and Geer took fourth for the freshmen. Mack's time was fifty seven seconds.

In the one hundred and twenty yard hurdles, Blunk, a senior, broke the school record when he finished with a time of nineteen seconds. Champe, a junior, sophomore entry, took third; and Wagnerschnitz finished fourth for the freshmen.

Blunk finished first in the one hundred and twenty yard hurdles. Champe and Wagnerschnitz placed second and third for the sophomores, and Wagnerschnitz took third in this race also. Blunk's time was fourteen and six-tenths seconds.

Blunk finished first in the senior team consisting of Blunk, Mack, Bronson, and G. Miller. Their time was one minute and fifteen seconds. The junior team finished second, the sophomores third, and the freshmen last.

Mack threw the shotput thirty-nine feet, two and one-half inches, which gave the seniors first in the event. The freshmen entry, Kinsey, took second; W. Bassett third for the juniors; and Bronson of the senior team took fourth.

Wagnerschnitz placed first in the high jump with a leap of five feet two inches. Kinsey, also a freshman, tied Levandowski who is a junior, for second; and Champe, another junior took fourth.

In the broad jump Levandowski broke the record by one foot three inches. He jumped twenty-one feet three and one-half inches. Wagnerschnitz, freshman entry placed second; W. Bassett of the junior team third; and Bronson, who is a senior took fourth.

The pole-vault record also was broken when Blunk vaulted nine feet eight inches. Champe, Schomberger, and Roy, all juniors, placed second, third and fourth.

CLASS NOTES

Since this is the time of year for all projects to be handed in, Miss Hauf has been receiving quite a few from her History and Geography classes. In her Modern History class, Margaret Buzzard and Ruth McClure, headed in a project portraying Darwin's theory of evolution. It was a stage of several men—gorilla, Australian bush man, cave man, and modern man. These two girls also made a small globe.

In her English class, Margaret Buzzard made a history cross-word puzzle. Ruth McClure made a cartoon picture of the outcome of the World War. Besides these special projects, maps of Africa and notebooks on special topics were handed in.

Surveys made of the British Isles, graphs showing the still production in the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, and notebooks on various products were handed in to Miss Hauf by her Commercial Geography students.

The 7A History classes have finished notebooks on Indians and the type of life they lead. The 7B Geography classes have handed in booklets on industries of the United States.

The 8th hour speech class is studying salesmanship.

Each year the 8th hour speech class hears a report and discusses two important problems of the world.

The 10B English class is reading short stories and the 10A class is reading "Star Manner."

The 7B hygiene class are studying the teeth, the different kinds and the number of each. An oral exam project the girls are going to carve teeth either from soap or wax.

The 7A's have made notebooks on hygienic homes, flaring the expense of the homes in comparison with the income of the family.

The 9th hour speech class is holding an extemporaneous speaking contest.

THE ADVANTAGE OF SUMMER STUDY

America has gradually slipped into a habit so wasteful in its educational aspects that, unless something is done to remedy this situation, the results will be disastrous. While the people of our other leading nations have taken short recesses from study, in America the vacation period has been growing longer and longer each year.

What is becoming of the American reputation for hard or persistent work? Are we becoming "softies"? Our forefathers had none of this. They had a little to do with the determination to work. Cuba has a wonderful climate, but it is not generally hot, yet no student expects more than one month's vacation, and is amazed to learn that the students in the north take two, three, and even four months vacation, and ask how they get ahead when they waste so much time. The fact is that students who waste their summer vacations do not get ahead as rapidly as those who study during that period.

Let us hope that thousands of parents will realize the economy of time, labor, and money that can be effected by continuing the lessons of their children as long as possible during the summer months. Don't let the heat be an excuse. If it can be done with surprising success in tropical Cuba, it surely can be done with equal success in countries to the north.

REGIONAL MEET

There were eleven men who went to the Regional track meet last Saturday from Plymouth high school. The purpose of this meet was to determine the best men in each event and those three would go to the State Meet which is held at Lansing, Michigan. Class A, B, C and D schools were there and they held their events separate from each other. Plymouth, class school, did not place anyone in this meet, therefore no one from Plymouth goes to the State Meet.

Blunk and Champe tied for fourth place in the pole vault but this does not permit them to go to the State Meet. Elliott, a senior, took third in the pole vault. These three men were the only ones to come within the vicinity of placing.

ROCKS SHUT OUT NORTHVILLE 14 TO 0

The Rock's baseball team defeated Northville for the second time this year Tuesday afternoon at Northville by the score of 14 to 0. Bassett pitched the first four innings and in that time only twelve men faced him and out of this twelve he struck out nine. The coach then took him out to save him for the Dearborn game tonight, which will be held here. Ray Trimble had a perfect day at bat, getting four hits out of four trips to the plate. This game was very fast and almost all of the Plymouth players saw action.

The game with Dearborn will be held at Riverdale Park. The Plymouth team will be glad to gain back the defeat of 4 to 1 received from Dearborn in the earlier part of the season.

Annual Exhibit Held Last Week

The annual school exhibit took place on Thursday and Friday of last week. There was a colorful display of booklets made for history, science, civics, geometry, shorthand, typewriting and various other subjects. The exhibits were the pickled ones as well as the live ones, were on display. The alligator, snake, frog, tropical fish, and the rest of the bugs and animals of the scientific department had their share of the admiration that was being distributed among the various things of interest that were displayed in the high school auditorium. The manual training department is to be congratulated for their beautiful work. The children of the grade school had their displays in their classes. The exhibits were lined with the various phases of their work. The sewing and art exhibit were held in their respective classrooms on the second floor of the high school building. The parents eagerly surveyed the exhibit, hoping to see their own children, while on the other hand, the children were eager to have their parents see them.

Commercial Students Receive Speaker

The senior commercial students were made acquainted with the stenographic machine on Wednesday last week, when Mr. Gates, Director of the Business Department, Ann Arbor, assisted by Miss Gillman, a student of the same college, demonstrated and explained the machine to them. Stenotype is none other than shorthand written on a machine. The machine weighs about five pounds, and is noisier when being operated; it has a keyboard something like that of a typewriter; and it writes on folded paper. Any or all of the letters may be written with one stroke. Mr. Gates dictated two letters to Miss Gillman, one new material, at seventy-five words a minute, and one, familiar material, at the rate of one hundred and fifty words a minute. Mr. Gates told the students that there are two roads they may take. One to go on to college, and the other to get position in the business world. He suggested which road was taken we should work diligently and try our best to be a success.

Speaker Entertains Travel Club

The Travel Club was delightfully entertained by Father Lefevre, pastor of the Catholic church of St. Mary's, last Monday afternoon. He impressed upon the students the value of an education, and of being a credit and an honor to themselves and their friends. He gave an account of his trip through the Southwest. Father Lefevre went approximately 1800 miles from here. The Mt. Grande runs through New Mexico dividing the old and new sections. In New Mexico the sun shines almost every day; it is cold in winter, but the snow never lasts long. Around the city are Indian Reservations. No pictures can be taken of the Indian dances. From New Mexico, Father Lefevre went to Denver, Colorado, where he visited the Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, and the Grand Canyon. His trip to the top of Pike's Peak was interesting. He traveled a half way up the mountain, and one stop and orders his meal and gets warm clothing on the way up. One is told to reserve all his energy because he will need it when he reaches the top. Once there one can see Mexico a distance of one hundred miles, and the view is magnificent. He said that if anyone ever had a chance to travel to take a trip through the southern part of the United States. The members of the Travel Club are indeed, very grateful and wish to express their appreciation for the speaker, Father Lefevre for appearing before them and relating his experiences.

DEARBORN WINS LEAGUE MEET

In the Twin Valley Association Track Meet held last Saturday, May 13, at Ypsilanti, only three Plymouth men placed. Elliott, a Plymouth miler, took second being only a few yards behind Sanderson of Wayne. The time for the mile was four minutes, fifty three and seven-tenths seconds, a new record. The other Plymouth men who placed were: Grant Miller who took a fourth in the two hundred and twenty yard dash and Harold Wagnerschnitz who took a fourth in the broad jump.

Senior Drama Club Repeats Play

The Senior Drama Club repeated the play "The Vaillant" last week before the senior high assembly. The cast was as follows: the warden, Kenneth Greer; the priest, Ernest Archer; the convict, Max Todd; the girl, Irene Humphries; the attendant, Marvyn Partridge; the jailer, Will Thams. This tragedy was enjoyed by all, and it brought tears to the eyes of many.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten in Miss Cavanaugh's room held a Mother's Day program as follows:
The first song by morning group, Little Boy Blue, Charles.
Rock-A-Bye Baby, Beverly and Dorothy.
Granddaddy Dog, song by afternoon group.
The Rain, Charles, Roland and Vito.
Who, Oh, Where, singing game, Jack and Jill, Frances and Lawrence.
Bunny Poem, Grant.
Blue Bird, Paul.
Ride a Cock Horse, Jack and Paul.
I See the Sun, Roland and Paul.
The first dramatization, Mother Bear, Beverly Bovee.
Father Bear, Charles Wagnerschnitz.
Baby Bear, Roland Jarskey.
Goldlocks, Peggy.
Thirty mothers attended the Mother's Day program which was held Friday, May 12, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Haversham and little grandson visited Miss Cavanaugh's room Friday morning.
Mrs. Ora Glass was a visitor in Miss Stader's room last week. For exhibit the class made a scene in the forest. The class told stories about the lives of Eskimos. Norma Jean Bauman, Carl Johanson, Barbara Lilzenberger, Dorothy Fisher, Irene Engleson, Jack School, and Alfred Woodard have each received seven stars in spelling which means that they have had a perfect score.
The class in Miss De Waele's room have made a free hand drawing of a circus and are going to write a song and poems about it.
The fifth A class in Miss Farnham's class made a scene in the forest for the exhibit. The class has been collecting leaves of the different trees. In geography they made pulp maps of Australia. Charlotte Sabourin and Geraldine Schroeder received the highest score in arithmetic self-testing drill.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

In Miss Wurster's kindergarten the children have made booklets of the people whom they have studied about their father, father, Jack, Jane and baby. They have made houses and tunnels in the sandbox and have made an airplane a boat and a kite from blocks.
In Miss Mitchell's room Marilyn's class has finished the Child Library First Reader, and Harry's class has finished the Elson First Reader.
Gwendolyn Toby and Edwin Brooks of Miss Sly's room are absent on account of measles. George Shute is back in school.
The members of the Good Writers club, Miss and Miss Mitchell Moore. This will be the last class dance until next semester.

FRESHMAN DANCE

The last class dance of the season which was given by the freshmen was a great success. The music by the Music Makers was enjoyed by everyone. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Moore.
June Jernegan's name was unintentionally omitted from the Honor Roll for last marking period. She had two A's and two B's.

Omitted From Honor Roll

June Jernegan's name was unintentionally omitted from the Honor Roll for last marking period. She had two A's and two B's.

Competition Collyume

Bob Shaw's faded romances must be brightening up or dying down, because according to "Chief Stool-pigeon Dougan" he has again started up the "An. Lib." Therefore, as the cream is to the coffee, as the salt is to the stew, so in the competition collyume to the Ad. Lib. One without the other just couldn't be. Buttercup (Bob Shaw) has removed the dusty ruff from the shelf, removed the cobwebs and is again scattering everyone's reputation all over the place.

Senior Biographies

William Tack, known to his friends and enemies as Bill, is a dark curly haired mischievous lad who first made his debut in this world on the "beautiful isle of somewhere," or perhaps he is one of those despised Canadians for he seems to regard his birthplace as a secret. Bill is of German descent, but he laughingly remarks that he was born in Spain, yet he somehow resembles the natives of our darker races. He is forever tormenting someone, (even teachers get more than their share), and he seems to take a fiendish delight in it. Bill is a member of the tennis team, and he took part in class basketball. He was the secretary of his class in his junior year. Bill's ambition is somewhat uncertain; we wonder if he will follow in his father's footsteps or if he will become air-minded, (which is at present with him), and become an aeronautical engineer or something similar to it. Jean seems to be Bill's choice of the weaker sex. He probably isn't as secretive while with her as he is when confronted with a reporter. In spite of Bill's playful actions and teasing, we must admit he is a valuable member of the senior class.

PLAYS PRESENTED TO PUBLIC

Before a full house, the Senior Drama Club presented to the public three one-act plays: a tragedy, a melodrama, and a life problem. Each of the three plays had a widely different atmosphere to test the public on their reactions to different types of plays. The public, it may be stated, responded remarkably well to the efforts of the players.

Odene Hitt, master of ceremonies, announced the plays and gave the players names.

The students who took part in these plays are to be congratulated for the fine acting. They are the following: Claire Shontz, Catherine Schultz, Norma Bovee, Robert Shaw, Ruth Michellin, Kenneth Greer, Ernest Archer, Max Todd, Irene Humphries, William Thams, Marvin Partridge, Jack Wilcox, Margaret Buzzard, Randall Wright, Jack Sells, Vera Woods, and Edwina Engleson. The plays were directed by Miss Ford, and they were presented to large audiences several times.

Two Plays Given In Assembly

Two plays, "Pearls" and "The Man in the Bowler Hat," were given before the junior high assembly last week. The cast for the play "Pearls" was as follows: Peggy, Catherine Schultz, Polly Lovell, Catherine Schultz, Tad Louis, Norma Bovee; Mr. Brown, Bob Shaw; the money shop girl, Ruth Michellin. This play took place in the apartment of the two shop girls, Peggy and Polly, on the eve of Polly's birthday. She bought her a string of pearls for her birthday. That very day a string of pearls was missing from the shop. The girls suspected since a string had been stolen from the place Tad worked in, that perhaps Tad had stolen them, although they could hardly believe it. Polly even went so far as to ask Tad where he got the pearls. He, of course, would not tell her. His thought struck her as funny. But Tad only replied, "and I suppose you want me to tell you what I paid for them." Mr. Brown then came to see Tad "on personal business," he said. The girls didn't know what to make of it. They finally found out that he only wanted the last payment on the pearls, because Tad had bought them on the installment plan. The money shop girl then telephoned the apartment and said that the girl was caught, and all was well again.

Drama Club Elects Next Year's Officers

Providing that the Drama Club will still in existence next fall it will have the following set of officers: president, Max Todd; vice president, Margaret Buzzard; and secretary-treasurer, Miriam Brown. This week in club meeting a program will be worked out as a tribute to the seniors of the club. The next meeting will be a special program. The week following the seniors will recapture by offering some sort of a program in appreciation to the other club members and director, Miss Ford. June Jernegan was selected as chairman for that evening.

For the last meeting of the year, an impromptu trial will be carried out by most of the club members participating. Claire Shontz will make all arrangements for it.

Telephone company stock is owned and held more heavily by women than men, which is 100 percent consistent.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

Lansing, June 2—Annual Junior-Senior Banquet.
June 18—Baccalaureate Sermon.
June 20—Class Day.
June 22—Commencement.

Bob is a very fine fellow who has proven himself a real friend and it is the writer's belief that it is indeed an honor and privilege to be associated with him.

Martha Claire "Petula" Shontz who first saw the world with two pretty blue eyes in Dundee, Michigan, is Bill's charming partner in crime. This active lass is a member of the Girls' Glee Club, and like her partner, is a member of the Drama Club, having played important parts in both the junior and senior plays. She has also made numerous public appearances in one-act plays. "Petula" was active in class basketball. When she isn't being escorted around by Bob, she is seen clumming with Anne or "Chic," Claire, whose behavior are dancing, this, that, and the other, she can come to her ambition is to watch a career in pitcher in Kansas. We wonder if Bob knows of it. Since she has the ability and looks, she ought to pose for cigarette advertisements.

Officers Elected For Senior Girl Reserves

Evelyn Romabacher was elected president of the Senior Girl Reserves for next year at a meeting of the girls at the Senior Girls Reserve groups last Friday. Officers who were elected are: vice president, Coralline Rathburn; secretary, Joan Cassidy; treasurer, Rosemary West; and interclub council, Betty Suel.

The program, Foreign Windows, was carried out in a talk by Miss Lovewell in our foreign relations. Miss Lovewell has known girls in status and universities, but she talked to the Girl Reserves on "The Foreign Girls in our Universities." She gave us two ways in which foreign girls can come to America, either their father is very rich and the daughter shows signs of being unusually bright, or missionaries and other well meaning men as philanthropists give money to the foreigners with which these girls are able to come to school. They come to America in preference to England, France, Germany, etc., because here are the most democratic schools in the world. Sometimes people like Mr. Barbour go so far as to build dormitories for them.

To encourage foreigners to come to this country to study, the girls sent abroad to spread helpful propaganda. International Houses and Cosmopolitan clubs have been established and all sorts of people belong to these A great deal is made of these people and they give delightful meetings and banquets.

Miss Lovewell told of several of the foreign girls she knew and what their friendships meant to her. It was very interesting and gave the girls a broader outlook on life with foreigners.

The Speakers while not fortunate enough to be able to hear Miss Lovewell's address, had a splendid meeting of their own. Patricia Meakin was in charge with Jeanette Brown, John Curtis, Ellen Nyström, Mary Holdsworth, and Winifred Smith taking part. Their subject was "Money" which they portrayed in the Classroom Girl Reserve meetings, introductions, selecting and presenting appropriate gifts, and last courtesy toward an elder. They plan a wintery roast for today after school at Esther Bich's.

Some men seem tough enough to stand anything. Witness the case of one who was married while lying in bed with a broken leg, and it was done without administering an anesthetic, either.

The average life of a tire in the early days of automobiles was 2,000 to 5,000 miles; now most tires are good for 10,000 to 17,000, and 20,000 is not an uncommon performance record.

This "new deal" is shooting the cards at us so fast we scarcely have time to arrange them in our hand.

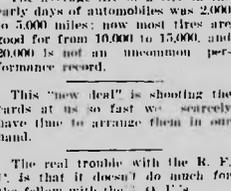

The real trouble with the K. K. C. is that it doesn't do much for the fellow with the O. O. U.

EVERYONE TO PAY NEW TAX

The house the other day passed a sales tax bill that provided a three per cent tax on nearly every thing sold, except products of the farm, dairy, orchard and garden. There were numerous other exemptions in the house bill.

When the sales tax measure reached the senate where it forms the chief subject of consideration this week, the senate decided that there should be no exemptions of any kind. The governor is contending that the house bill should be passed with all its defects that even the house admits exists in the measure.

Representative Edward Fisher, who comes from the rural section of Wayne county, is absolutely determined to vote for the bill as it passed the house.

He declared that Representative Barr, a member of the house committee on taxation who voted to report the bill out from the committee, had made the statement that there was not a single thing in the sales tax bill that was right. Even the Democratic administration floor leader, Representative Southworth, said that there was little in the bill to admire. Representative Fisher asked why he should vote for a sales tax bill that those who had a part in framing it and considering it for weeks, refused to call it a good bill.

Under the bill as it will go to consideration of conference committees, there will be no exemptions of any kind. If the measure should finally pass in this form, and there seems to be a general belief that it will, everyone will pay some form of tax under its provisions.

It is estimated that the sales tax bill will bring into the state treasury not less than $45,000,000. That is a lot of money in these days when even $45 looks like big money to most folks.

Following a careful study of this bill Representative Fern Brown was so sure that it would bring into the state treasury more than the estimated sum made by Governor C. Stock that he had an amendment added to the measure so that any excess would be impounded in the state treasury and spent only by legislative appropriation. This little amendment, if it remains in the bill during the final days of consideration, will keep the excess money, if there should be any, from being used in any old way state officials might desire.

There is this much that can be said about the enactment of a sales tax bill—legislative observers declare that the measure in its present form, will take from the people of Michigan millions of dollars more in taxes than at any time in the history of the state. The bill is going to tax practically everything bought and sold.

Representative Earl Berhans who comes from the Van Buren district, a veteran legislator who has never lost an opportunity to aid the farmers of his part of Michigan, has just won an outstanding legislative victory. He has had passed by both the house and senate a bill which will save farmers and fruit growers many thousands of dollars each year. Mr. Berhans comes from a section of Michigan where fruit growing and grape raising is one of the chief industries. Farmers in the past have seen large portions of their crops go to waste because they could not be sold before spoiling so they started to make cider out of the apples and press the juice out of the grapes, and selling the juices.

If weather conditions happened to be unfavorable and these juices were not sold within three or four days, sometimes there might be a slight fermentation. Mr. Berhans saw an opportunity to help these farmers by making it possible for them to sell their cider and grape juices in bulk and fixing a limit within the law of fifteen days. The act provides that if cider and other fruit juices is sold within fifteen days from the time it is pressed from the fruit, it shall not be declared intoxicating. This act will save a large sum to the farmers in that part of the state as well as in other Michigan localities where fruit growing is an important industry. Representative Berhans had the same kind of a bill passed two years ago but the governor vetoed it.

Representative Don Stas and Senator Lamoreaux of Kent county, who are active in the investigation of farm machinery prices in Michigan, are anxious to secure all the information they can on this subject. They have requested farmers and implement dealers as well as others to send to them any information they may have on this subject. The legislature appropriated no money for their inquiry so their activities are rather limited.

Efforts during the early part of the legislative session to close up one of the normal schools has failed. Appropriations have been made for all of them, but in greatly reduced amounts.

Jobs, jobs—hundreds of them, have been provided and are going to be created by the enactment of legislation during the present session. The beer bill has already created dozens and dozens of jobs and the sales tax bill will require a still sized army to collect the tax. In fact the measure carries an original appropriation of $100,000 for help and incidental expenses necessary to set up the organization for the collection of this money. But with an army of thousands turning to Lansing each week looking for political positions of some kind, it should be expected that some of these hordes should be taken care of.

Adjournment of the legislature is near at hand. Members are getting anxious to get home and by the end of another two weeks Lansing will doubtless be, temporarily at least, deserted by the hundreds interested in legislation and other things.

Lansing, Mich.—Not until the people of Michigan know how they are going to be taxed and what is going to be taxed. Neither will they know how much money has been appropriated for state expenditures and how much has been cut from the budgets of past years.

Seemingly all of the important tax legislation, all of the tax relief measures and many of the important appropriation bills are being turned into the legislative hogher one time at a time when representatives and senators are anxious to quit their long tedious legislative trial and get back home.

Not to this very day has there been any definite welfare legislation advanced to a point for final consideration. This is due largely to the fact that many members of the house are not in accord with the executive and senate idea of fund diversion to aid the hungry unemployed people of Michigan. This money must be diverted from one of the only sources the state is getting money from—the automobile weight tax, or the federal government will no longer give aid.

Michigan is one of the few states that has not yet complied with the demand of Washington that it must provide some state aid for the support of its unemployed people in order to get federal aid. Washington takes the position that as long as the Michigan state government has done nothing to provide funds for the hungry, the federal government cannot and will not help a state that refuses to help itself.

Upon promises of the enactment of the Kulp bill that provides funds for welfare, the state government during the past few months has been advancing money into the state, but now the federal aid has been withdrawn.

So it can readily be seen that important legislative welfare questions are going to be jammed into the final days of the session for consideration.

Bills that provide finances for the public school system of Michigan are making progress. Fears expressed a few weeks ago that almost a complete collapse of the school system of the state was an outlook for the fall, have been disappearing and it begins to look now as though the legislature will be able to get some revenue producing bills through that will keep the most of the schools open for at least a greater portion of the year.

Some progress is also being made on the Moore delinquent tax bill that has been down and out several times but in every case finds sufficient new vitality to arise again and carry on. Possibly this is due to the fact that even though the original bill wasn't all that it should have been, there is merit to the desire of some of the representatives to get the legislature to aid to property owners who are unable to pay their taxes. The one stumbling block that has stood in the way of the Moore bill, the four that it was designed to aid some of the big city real estate subdividers who in the past have milked the public has been somewhat overcome by the presentation of facts which show that most of these fellows do not own the land they originally dished out as nice, attractive homesites. House and senate committees are working on some of the bills and it is felt that there will be some strongly contested and they hope that there will be a satisfactory agreement in the near future.

Prison appropriations have been cut by both senate and house committees. Much of the luxury of prison life will go out as a result of these curtailments.

Four-H club work, one of the excellent features of the work of the extension department of the Michigan State College, has met with the approval of the house, the appropriation for this work among the boys and girls of rural Michigan having been passed without difficulty. The bill is now in the senate where it doubtless will meet with the same consideration.

Villages and cities will not be able to raise property assessments if a bill pending in the house should be passed.

Another veteran state employee passed out of the picture during the past few days, Thomas Bucklugham, for nearly twenty years assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, having been retired by the state board of auditors. This position has been filled by a brother of State Treasurer Fry. Possibly this indicates that the new assistant superintendent, who has proven to be a very likable chap, will be elevated to the position that Wallace Brown has held so well and so efficiently some long period of years. Supt. Brown's term of office expires July first unless the board should decide to retain him.

A bill regulating and codifying all of the cemetery laws of Michigan is in the house. It is one of the longest bills ever presented to the legislature.

Boy Scouts are now brushing teeth. Harold J. Homans, 12, of Alton, Ill., now has a good argument against brushing his teeth. He disclosed his law recently while brushing them.

Merchandising Competition
(Dowagiac Daily News)

LOCAL MERCHANDISING is no longer in control of the local merchants. They are being together and by regulating hours, costs, practices and prices, would exercise a definite control on the business of the community. But the local market place is no longer the city or village. It has become an area known as a trading area which includes villages, small cities and large cities. Business is in competition with all of these places. Each has an advantage to offer but the combined advantages of any one will determine where the most business will go.

Refusal to advertise under the guise of an effective economy is one place where the merchant of the smaller places always goes down before the competitor in the city. The latter knows that when he quits his advertising he is cutting the throat of the store he trades with him anyhow because "they all know where his store is." Maybe, maybe.

Berg Moore To Have Information on Chicago Hotels

According to Berg D. Moore, the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce under his direction has been appointed official agent in Plymouth to represent the VISITORS TOURIST SERVICE, incorporated not for profit, the only WORLD'S FAIR TOURIST CLUB endorsed and recommended by the U. S. DEPT. OF COMMERCE, the official organization, the Chicago Association of Commerce, the Chicago City Council, the Mayor of Chicago, the Chicago Board of Health, and Representative Chicago Clergyman.

Mr. Moore states, "Last fall I was approached by a representative of another World's Fair tourist organization. I checked up on his claims and statements through the Chicago Association of Commerce and a Century of Progress, and was advised that some of the claims made amounted to misrepresentation."

"When approached by the Visitors Tourist Service, Inc., I followed the same procedure. Quoting from a letter just received from a Century of Progress, 'In reply to your inquiry concerning Visitors Tourist Service, Inc. we take pleasure in stating that the organization, I checked up on his claims and statements through the Chicago Association of Commerce and a Century of Progress, and was advised that some of the claims made amounted to misrepresentation.'

Books About Music at Plymouth Library

The following books about music and musicians can be had at the Plymouth Library:

"Music Motley," by Ernest Newman. A volume of short essays of musical criticism, written humorously and shrewdly.

"From Grieg to Brahms: Studies of Some Modern Composers," by Mason. He sums up the present day attitude towards six composers.

"Study of the History of Music," by Edward Dickinson. An excellent book which covers the entire subject from primitive music, Catholic and Protestant music, down to recent music.

"Orchestral Instruments and What They Do," by Daniel G. Mason. He calls it a primer for concert-goers and has written it in such a simple and clear style that the veriest tyro can understand and profit by it. On the other hand, there are many hints which will help even veterans by calling their attention to subtleties in orchestral coloring that may have escaped their attention.

"Frontier Ballads," by Charles J. Finger. This is Mr. Finger's own collection of favorite songs. He gives both the song and the circumstances under which he heard it. The collection includes cowboy songs, sea shanties and other ancient ballads. In each case, a sketch of the music is given as is necessary for the reader to pick up the refrain.

"Musical Tour Through the Land of the Past," by Tomah Rolland. It contains: Musical tour across Europe in the Eighteenth century; Autobiography of a forgotten master; Musical novel by an eighteenth-century novelist.

"Stories of Symphonic Music," by Lawrence Gilman. A guide to the meaning of important symphonic overtures, and tone-poems from Beethoven to the present day.

"Book of Great Musicians," by Percy A. Scholes. Three parts. Designed as a course in appreciation for young people, combining the basic facts of music (such as melody, harmony, structure) with familiar examples in composition.

"Allied in Orchestration," by La Prade.

"How Music Grew," by Bauer.

"Young Peoples Story of Music," by Whitcomb.

"Around the World in Song," by Gordon.

"New Encyclopedia of Music and Musicians," by Pratt.

"Outline of Music History," by Hamilton.

"Operas Every Child Should Know," by Bacon.

Many Ford Rumors, But All Are Denied

A fantastic lot of rumors concerning possible changes and developments in the operations of Ford Motor Company have been talked about the city of Detroit for several weeks. One of the earliest was that which appeared immediately upon the passage of the Tennessee River development program, that the Ford Motor Company would be moved back, stock and all, to the Tennessee River. The originator of this particular rumor was unimpaired by the fact that it would probably be six or seven years before any great amount of power will be available from the Tennessee River development.

Next was a persistent rumor that United States Steel Corporation was going to buy the Ford steel plant and operate it separately. Inasmuch as the steel plant is an integral part of the Ford plant it was quite impossible for industrialists to understand how the plants could be disintegrated. This rumor was also denied by the fact that Bethlehem Steel was likely to rent the Ford steel facilities, an equally unimpaired statement. This rumor has been authoritatively denied by the Ford Motor Company, the Bethlehem Steel Company and almost everybody else who has been connected with it.

A further suggestion was that the Ford Motor Company would lease its cement and glass-making plants. In the case of the latter there is nothing to be lost for the reason that the glass-making plant is being reconstructed. Both these rumors have been denied by the Ford Motor Company. A final rumor was to the effect that the Ford Motor Company would remove its plants to its old Highland Park location, being induced by proposals on the part of the Highland Park Board of Health and a plan from taxation. Inasmuch as the Highland Park Council would have no legal right to relieve any property within its jurisdiction from taxation, and as no suggestion of the kind has been made, this rumor classifies itself with the rest.

Local and Society

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Peck and her mother of Ypsilanti visited the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton (late last week Sunday).

Chamber of Commerce Column

The following ideas in the opinion of the writer are worthy of weekly repetition until the public will either accept or reject them on their merits.

1. The residential growth of this community depends to a large extent upon year-around safe, reliable, reasonably fast transportation between here and Detroit. The Pere Marquette Railroad Company will a factor in our daily economic life with the local payroll through leading officials has expressed a desire to build up daily commuter service, provided a sufficient number of local residents could use such service to pay the company to make the necessary schedule adjustments. Are YOU interested?

2. We are all proud of the physical appearance of our community—Plymouth's well kept homes, lawns, parks, public buildings, etc., but right in the heart of our community, in our main business sections located on trunk line traffic arteries carrying the touring and traveling public, week after week stands or rather blows a community eye sore.

During the hustle and bustle of Saturday afternoon and evening shopping, people perhaps do not notice or take offense at the blowing drifting pieces of wrapping paper and discarded handbills and circulars. Visit the same scene on a quiet Sunday morning. Splendid advertising for Plymouth, isn't it?

3. Motorists, hundreds by the week, thousands by the month, skirt Plymouth along U. S. 12 between Detroit and Ann Arbor without knowing that a community possessing unusual advantages for residential and industrial location lies less than five minutes ride to the right or left as the case may be.

Signs giving this information were erected some time ago along U. S. highway 12 just beyond the fork on the way to Ann Arbor and the fork on the way to Detroit. These signs have been removed because they failed in their purpose. Too much information was crowded into too little space, and they did not show up. Are those interested in a gradual steady population growth for Plymouth missing a good bet?

Berg D. Moore, Sec.-Mgr.

In the doubles Blunk and Luttermose defeated Bellhalls and Monroe by a score of 6-2, 6-4. In the No. 2 singles, Ferndale forfeited the match to Tuck and Barley of Plymouth. SALEM WEDDING IS ATTRACTIVE EVENT The home of A. C. Van Sickle on the Six mile road, was the scene of one of the most impressive spring weddings, when his granddaughter was united in marriage to the son of one of Salem's old families, Edward M. Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Curtis became the wife of Earl F. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Roberts on the evening of May twentieth at eight o'clock. Baskets of flowers from the garden and orchard of the beautiful country home, made an artistic setting for the bridal party. The slender little bride was very attractive in a dress of honey-colored silk with matching accessories, the only contrast being a pink corsage. Betty Jean Curtis was her sister's bridesmaid, and wore a dainty lace-trimmed printed chiffon of blonde and pink, accented by a bow of narrow pink velvet ribbon with streamers. Mr. Roberts was attended by his only brother, Clarence W. Roberts. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and Rev. Cora M. Pennell read the service. Following the ceremony a beautifully appointed table awaited the guests in the dining room. Places were marked for the bridal party, the immediate families, including Mrs. Laura Roberts Smith, grandmother of the groom. Mr. Roberts has made a home for his bride in one of the houses on the Roberts farm, where his grandmother lived as a bride fifty years ago. The entire community extends congratulations and best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. George M. Clure will entertain ten guests at bridge Saturday evening at their home on North Harvey street. The guests will be Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Graves of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Halberg of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. B. Shirley of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. C. Bailey of Birmingham. Mrs. Lonisa Bennett, who suffered injuries from a fall recently, was brought to her son, Arthur's, last week Thursday evening. Her friends extend sympathy. New Farm Act to Cut Interest to Farmers At Once

The immediate effect of the passage of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933 will be to reduce interest rates to all of our borrowers to 4 1/2 per cent. commencing 90 days hence," stated F. H. Klawon, president of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul today, while explaining the provisions of the amendments to the Federal Farm Loan Act and other changes made in farm credits facilities.

"Our bank has outstanding approximately $106,000,000 in long-term first farm mortgage loans in Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Interest rates on these loans vary from 5 to 6 per cent, the average being about 5.13 per cent. Action by the Federal Government in providing the 12 Federal Land Banks with the difference in these rates and 4 1/2 per cent makes it possible for this bank to reduce its interest rate to the lower figure for the next 5 years.

"Fully as important as the lower rate of interest to our borrowers," continued Mr. Klawon, "is the provision which permits borrowers who are temporarily unable to pay the semi-annual installment upon the principal of their loans to pay interest only for the next 5 years or whatever part of that period they find it impossible to pay on the principal. This delinquency in the payment on the principal is permitted under the law, provided the borrower shall not be in default with respect to any other condition or covenant of his mortgage, such as taxes, insurance, water or drainage assessments. It therefore will be to the distinct advantage of our borrowers to see that these are paid.

"The installments paid every six months by our borrowers include interest and a payment on the principal. That is, all of our loans are repaid in installments over a period of years. As the years pass the part of the installment required for payment of interest decreases and there is available a larger part to be applied on the loan. The bank has been in business about 16 years and the part of the installment of those who borrowed some years ago which is now applied to reduction of the loan is fairly large. The reduction in the interest rate and the temporary discontinuance of payments on the principal will reduce the amount of the borrowers' semi-annual payment to this bank by 32 to 46 per cent.

"The position of the banks with the holders of their bonds is not altered, so far as the contract with borrowers to pay on the principal is concerned. For the United States Treasury is directed by Congress to subscribe $200,000,000 to the public surplus of the banks so they may grant such extensions.

"Extensions are not to be granted to those able to pay," explained Mr. Klawon. "The Act says that the terms of any such extension shall be such as will not defer the collection of any obligation due by any borrower, after liquidation by the bank of the borrower of such borrower is shown to be within his capacity to meet. Extensions of principal cannot be granted for a period exceeding 6 years.

"In authorizing the Federal Land Banks to issue within the next two years $2,000,000,000 of their consolidated, tax-exempt bonds bearing not to exceed 4 per cent, the interest being guaranteed by the United States, it is expected that the lower rate of interest on loans made from money so obtained will be the cause of other mortgage holders to reduce their rates for the Federal Land Banks always have been the pace-makers in establishing rates of interest throughout the mortgage field. In order to reduce the rate to be charged on new loans, the United States not only guarantees the interest on $2,000,000,000 of bonds which may be issued during the next two years, but Congress made them eligible collateral for 15-day loans from which are members of the Federal Reserve System. The eligibility adds greatly to their liquidity for banks will be able readily to borrow upon them. The interest charged farmer-borrowers on funds derived from the sale of these bonds will not exceed 4 1/2 per cent.

"The Federal Land Banks will continue to make loans through national farm loan associations and, under certain conditions, directly to farmers. The provisions of the Farm Loan Act pertaining to the appraisal of farms offered as collateral for loans is unchanged. The banks may lend up to 50 per cent of the value of the land appraised for agricultural purposes, as defined in the Act, plus 20 per cent of the insured permanent improvements.

"In addition to making loans on farms the bonds of the banks may be used by these institutions to exchange for first mortgages. First mortgage holders whose farm property will be able to exchange their mortgages for Federal Land Bank bonds at a price which shall not exceed in each individual case the amount of the unpaid principal of the mortgages on the date of such purchase, or 50 per cent of the value of the land and 20 per cent of the value of the permanent, insured improvements thereon, as determined by appraisal, whichever is the smaller.

"This provision, however, is not primarily to aid the mortgage holders to their individual mortgage; it is intended mostly as an aid to the owner-operator farmers whose homes are on the mortgaged lands. Such farms must be located within the Federal Land Bank district and the mortgage executed prior to the passage of the new Act.

"It is anticipated that such exchange of bonds or purchase of first mortgages," continued Mr. Klawon, "will result in a good deal of scaling down of the amount of the mortgages offered for sale or exchange. The banks will not take over at any price mortgages upon abandoned farms or farms in areas where it has been demonstrated that farming cannot be carried on successfully. Aid is to be extended by the banks, but people or institutions expecting to unload worthless properties will be disappointed.

"Still another form of aid to farmers found in the provisions of the new Act which authorized an appropriation of $200,000,000 to be loaned by the Farm Loan Commissioner, secured by a first or second mortgage upon the whole or any part of the farm property, real or personal, including crops, of the farmer. Such loans, although made through the Federal Land Bank are not Federal Land Bank loans. They come from the special fund set up by Congress to give aid to farmers who can refinance their farms and compose and scale down their debts in such a manner that there is a chance for them to carry on successfully and pay them off.

"From this fund amounts may be loaned which, if added to all prior loans and other evidence of indebtedness against the property of the farmer, shall not exceed 75 per cent of the normal value of the property as it is appraised under the provisions of the Farm Loan Act, nor shall such a loan exceed $5,000. Such a loan will bear 5 per cent interest and must be paid back in installments over a series of years, but the interest only is required during the first three years. To obtain such a loan it is not necessary that a farmer have a loan from the Federal Land Bank.

"This fund should be particularly useful," asserted Mr. Klawon, "in aiding in the refinancing of farm properties and to some extent in assisting farmers to regain possession of farms which they have lost during the last two years through foreclosure. The Act stipulates that the money may be loaned for the following purposes: (1) Refinancing, either in connection with proceedings under the recent amendment to the bankruptcy act permitting the formation of conditional commissions, to which farmers may appeal for a composition of their debts, or otherwise, any indebtedness, secured or unsecured; (2) providing working capital for farm operations; and (3) enabling any farmer to redeem and/or repurchase farm property owned by him prior to foreclosure which had been made within two years of the passage of the Act.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY
GENERAL OFFICE...
2000 SECOND AVENUE
DETROIT MICHIGAN
May 22, 1933
TO THE CUSTOMERS OF THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY
This is the eighth of a series of weekly letters addressed to our 500,000 customers in 29 cities, 58 villages and 130 townships in the southeastern corner of the State of Michigan:
There are power houses in which electric energy is produced for us by steam power, at four different places. at Delray and at Connors Creek in Detroit; at Marysville on the St. Clair River, just south of Port Huron; and on the Trenton Channel of the Detroit River, below Trenton. The last named is the largest of the four. These are interconnected by transmission lines on high steel towers, out in the country; and by cables laid underground in the cities, so that each power plant can help out its neighbor on either side.
The electric current does not go directly from the power houses to your house connections. There are 164 switching stations and substations where the high pressure current is received and transformed to an intermediate pressure of 4800 volts, to be distributed to the transformers which serve most of you.
Too many rules are not a good thing in business. We have one that comes pretty close to being observed as if it were holy writ. It reads — "The Service Must Not Fail." That is not always as simple as it sounds. Sometimes, storm and lightning and sleet and snow make it a difficult job. And acts of God (as our legal friends call them) are not our only worries. We must keep the plants in condition. We must keep our lines in repair. We must have enough generators to meet unforeseen demands for current, no matter how sudden, and it takes two years to build and install a generator. We must ever be ready for the unexpected. Sometimes the unexpected turns out to be calamity and there is — well, you can say the rest. In that case we must be ready to clean up the mess and get service going smoothly again.
The men employed by us are thoroughly trained to control and regulate and test the lines and machines. Whether it be a 70,000 horse-power steam-turbine or a five ampere fuse plug, the Edison man assigned to see that it functions properly must know his job and must attend faithfully to his job.
The Detroit Edison Company is an important factor in the social, commercial and industrial life of Detroit and southeastern Michigan. It recognizes its unique position and fully appreciates that it could not exist except for the support of the community.
The Detroit Edison Company's interests are identical with those of its customers. We cannot succeed except through your success. Therefore, we believe that we should render adequate electric service at an acceptable price — a price that is fair. By the measure that we accomplish this, our own success will be measured.
We do an honest job because we know that is the one way that we can have a continuing successful business.
