

LOCAL N R A COMMITTEE OFFERS HELP

Complaints Must Be Made In Writing To Be Considered

A preliminary meeting of Plymouth's official NRA committee met at a breakfast Monday of this week at which time it was decided to enlarge the committee to a seven man organization. This enlarged committee met for a breakfast meeting Wednesday of this week. The official personnel of this committee is Mayor Freeman B. Hoyer, chairman, Edward Gayde, vice chairman, W. J. Burrows, Russell Roe, E. J. Allison, Floyd Eckles, and Bert Gilles.

By unanimous action the members present resolved that the authority for any committee action comes under the direct and public announcement recommendation of the National Recovery Administration. Authority for this committee to act in the name of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has been vested in the committee by the Board of Directors of the local Chamber.

By unanimous action this committee resolved that Plymouth employers would fall under the third bracket in paragraph C of the President's Reemployment Agreement which states that employees under Section 2 of the blanket code are to be paid not less than $14.00 per week in any area of 2500 to 250,000 population, or in the immediate trade area thereof.

The committee again by unanimous action resolved that any complaint or petition to NRA through the medium of the Plymouth NRA committee must be submitted in writing. Petitions may be left at the chamber of commerce office.

Past Presidents of Rotary Are Speakers

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday held a meeting of bearing six past presidents tell what phase of Rotary appealed to them the most. George Smith, first president of the club had been selected by President Cess Hough to preside at the meeting. The speakers were Dr. B. H. Chapman, Edward C. Hough, William Wood, Carl Shear, Ed. Gayde and Mr. Smith.

Plymouth Lad On Way To National Quoit Championship

LOWELL ROBERT HITT

A student of the sixth grade of the Plymouth public schools is on his way to national honors as the greatest of all American quoit pitchers.

Lowell Robert Hitt, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Hitt, 761 South Harvey street, two or three years ago started pitching quoits out at the Plymouth-Riverside park for just the "fun of it."

Soon this little lad was beating some of the best quoit men of Plymouth. Then he met one of the few that had never been beaten and had in the contest came out an easy victor.

During the past few years he has been the best player in this part of Michigan and western Canada and he has defeated them all.

He hurls a "ringer" as easy as though he was dropping the horse shoe on his own foot. Friends of the young man predict that nothing can stop him from retaining the championship of the United States if he can maintain the same high grade pitching he has demonstrated during the past two years.

Falling to see the midnight passenger train of the Pere Marquette as it stood across Starkweather avenue at the depot, Frank Hills of Northville last Friday night crashed into the train with his automobile, badly wrecking his car and injuring Mrs. Edith Childs of Plymouth who was with him in the car.

Rubber Products Co. Starts Its Plant

Experimental work has been started at the plant of The Rubber Products Company in Plymouth. It will probably be however a few weeks before actual production can be started. Necessarily in a business of this kind considerable experimental work precedes actual production. Several men have already been given employment and more it is expected, will be taken on later. The company occupies the plant formerly used by the Peninsular company.

Harold Sage Greeted Times Screen Winner

Even though he is over one thousand miles from home where he is most successfully managing one of the great hotels of the southwest, Harold Sage cannot keep out of prominence back in the city of Detroit where he first made his successful venture in hotel management. The Detroit Sunday Times carried a two column cut of Mr. Sage who is now manager of the Hotel Texas at Fort Worth in the southwest of Oklahoma and old friends of Mr. Sage are pleased to greet him in his new location.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE EXAMPLE IGNORED BY COMMISSIONS

Accurate Comparisons Difficult Without Unlimited Time For Scrutiny Of Expenditures

Beer Commission Sets New Pace In Extravagance, Keeper Of Vault Keys Draws $2000, Commissioners $20 A Day

The opening paragraphs of this article will be devoted to consideration of a topic already discussed in these columns. This writer desires to be fair. References previously made to the payroll for the executive office at Lansing were to the effect that the payroll for the first half of the month of July showed an increase over a similar period of 1932. This statement was correct but further investigation showed that employees working on the staff of the governor in 1932 were carried on payrolls other than the regular payroll of the executive office and that when all are accounted for the total amount of checks drawn for his office in 1933 is slightly less than in 1932.

Governor Wilber M. Brucker had a secretary in Detroit whose pay check was drawn in rotation against several department budgets, none having appropriations. None of these are now employed under the office of Governor William A. Comstock, according to O. K. Fjeldland, executive secretary and business manager for the governor.

The fact, when one attempts to make accurate comparisons between the actual expense of the executive office, under the two regimes, the task soon becomes extremely difficult. For instance, the fact, when one attempts to make accurate comparisons between the actual expense of the executive office, under the two regimes, the task soon becomes extremely difficult. Does Not See Train, Car Hits It, One Is Hurt In The Crash

Falling to see the midnight passenger train of the Pere Marquette as it stood across Starkweather avenue at the depot, Frank Hills of Northville last Friday night crashed into the train with his automobile, badly wrecking his car and injuring Mrs. Edith Childs of Plymouth who was with him in the car.

The two were on their way from Northville to Plymouth. As one approaches the crossing from the north at night, the cars thoroughly obstruct all lights and it was because of this fact that Mr. Hills did not see the train until his lights flashed on the cars and then it was too late to stop to prevent the accident.

Two Girls Are Hurt When Car Hits Truck

When an automobile crashed into the rear end of a stalled truck on the Plymouth-Northville road just north of the Seven Mile road Monday night, two girls from Detroit were injured and their car badly wrecked. One girl, Joan Elbech, age 15 years, was badly cut about the face and arms. The other girl, Louise Whitbeck, was also cut by flying glass. The two boys in the car, Harry Boos and John Patterson, Detroit, were not slightly bruised. The car, owned by the Patterson family of Detroit, was badly wrecked. The stalled truck did not have a tail light burning and it was for this reason that the young people did not see it until the second before the crash. The truck is owned by Robert M. Hummel of Detroit who was taking a load of supplies to the Northville-Wayne county fair grounds.

Donates Iris Bulbs For Central Park

The city of Plymouth has been presented with 200 Iris bulbs from the gardens of Harvey Whipple who resides near Meads Mills just west of the city. The bulbs, which were planted in the park in front of the high school and will add much to the beauty of this spot. There are 16 different color combinations and they have been set out in such a way that when they bloom in the fall, the sight will be a most attractive one.

SCULLY WINS PRIZE PLACE WITH STATE

Prominent Local Democrat With New Sales Tax Board

Edward A. Scully, active Democratic worker and leader of Plymouth who was one of the first to take up the campaign for Democracy in the last campaign in this part of Wayne county, has been rewarded for his efforts. Monday he was notified of his appointment as a deputy of the State Board of Tax Administration, the new commission that will collect the sales tax collection in the state.

While during the next few days his work will be in the Detroit office of the commission in the Griswold building, he has been informed that he will have direct supervision over the sales tax collections of Plymouth, Northville and surrounding townships.

Mr. Scully is the first Democrat in this part of Wayne county to win an award from either the national or state Democratic organizations. His appointment has brought with it much favorable local comment. Local Democrats see in it the proper reward of one deserving of the consideration that has been given him.

It was Mr. Scully who in cooperation with other Plymouth Democrats as well as a committee from Northville consisting of M. J. Murphy and Dr. E. R. Cavell that thoroughly organized western Wayne county for the Democrats last summer and fall.

It was also through his efforts that Governor Comstock was brought to Plymouth for the big Democratic mass meeting held here last winter.

The importance of the task that will be assigned Mr. Scully is evident from the fact that as far as can be learned Plymouth business men turned into the state treasury Thursday something like $2,000,000 in sales tax under the new tax law during the first month of this operation. It is conservatively estimated that this part of Wayne county will turn into the state something like $35,000 or $40,000 in sales tax during the next year.

Tempers Win 4th Playground Series

Of the best seasons of the Plymouth Playground League has just ended. The games were all played well and the attendance was even larger than it has been in the last three years.

Here's One For Local Gardeners

Ernest J. Allison, Plymouth Chevrolet dealer is justly boasting to his northside neighbors about growing the biggest tomato ever grown in these parts. Not only does he grow the biggest tomato, but it is the spiciest garden he grows here but he also states that it was his particular object early in the spring to bring this feat about.

Mrs. Hatcher, Sister of Paul Hayward, Dies

Paul Hayward was called to Royal Oak last Saturday by the death of his sister, Mrs. Harry E. Hatcher, 37 years of age. She had undergone an operation early in the week and death was its result. Besides the husband, three small children survive. She was born in Toledo and had spent the greater part of her life in this part of Michigan. The funeral was held Monday in Royal Oak, burial taking place in that city.

PLYMOUTH SALVATION ARMY LEADER NAMES CHIEFS OF NRA DRIVE

Leaders Determined To Make Plymouth 100 Percent For Recovery

Mayor Freeman B. Hoyer in cooperation with the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, has completed the organization of the Plymouth NRA committee.

To assist the mayor in this important work, the following have been selected: William J. Burrows, Postmaster, Bert Gilles, Floyd Eckles, Ed. Gayde, Russell Roe and Ernest J. Allison.

The first meeting of organization was held Monday at the Mayflower hotel at 6:30 a. m.

"Plymouth will give one hundred per cent support to President Roosevelt's blanket re-employment agreement," declared Mayor Hoyer yesterday.

"After going over the situation with members of our local committee, in addition to many enthusiastic words of encouragement that have come to me from scores of our citizens following the announcement of my selection to head the drive, I can say without equivocation that Plymouth has lined up behind the President and Recovery Administration Johnson with an ardor and conviction that could be born only of a movement of such deep patriotic significance," stated Mayor Hoyer.

"While we are going into this movement with whole-hearted enthusiasm, I want it distinctly understood, however, that we are going to carry out General Johnson's ideas to the letter in these two ways: There is going to be neither hallelujah nor attempted overkill. This is a great patriotic movement, and nothing will be done contrary to the dignity that should accompany such an exalted movement. Here is the situation in a nutshell: We are in a situation really comparable to war. In many ways it has been worse than war, because in the case of war you can see and contact your enemy but in the case of depression the enemy is intangible, invisible and inviolent. There is not an individual family circle in Plymouth that has not felt the pinch of depression in one way or another of this terrible depression.

"Now, it is the idea of the Administration at Washington and of our workers here in Plymouth that every individual has a stake in the recovery and we are trying to bring about. We are all soldiers in a common cause. We are all soldiers in a common cause. We are all soldiers in a common cause. We are all soldiers in a common cause.

"As was explained by President Roosevelt in his recent address, the steps, of course, are being taken by the whole community in being bound together in one great, sweeping movement which soon will put back to work every unemployed working man and working woman. And we can all rest assured that in Plymouth, Michigan, we are doing this here in Plymouth, Michigan, and the community in the nation will be doing the same thing."

Edwin Schrader Wins Highest Average In State Examination

Edwin A. Schrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Schrader, has been advised by the Michigan State Department of Health that he recently passed the state examination for licensed embalmers with the highest mark of the class of 77 that took the recent state examination.

Secretary Frank I. Pionta, director of the bureau in Lansing, in writing to the young man stated that he should feel mighty proud of the showing he had made in view of the fact that there were a number in the same class that ranked exceedingly high in their examinations. This is a great patriotic movement, and nothing will be done contrary to the dignity that should accompany such an exalted movement. Here is the situation in a nutshell: We are in a situation really comparable to war. In many ways it has been worse than war, because in the case of war you can see and contact your enemy but in the case of depression the enemy is intangible, invisible and inviolent. There is not an individual family circle in Plymouth that has not felt the pinch of depression in one way or another of this terrible depression.

A CORRECT UNDERSTANDING

Two recent public utterances, one by William Randolph Hearst and the other by Walter Lippman, former editor of the New York World who is now writing syndicated articles for the larger papers of the country, display that these two journalists have a correct understanding of the NRA code as it applies to America as well as the problems faced by the smaller business men of the nation.

Mr. Lippman recently wrote: "The plan is good enough for the well-to-do and powerful. They can and should be brought into it. But for the weak and helpless, it is brutal, and if carried through with martial spirit will inflict upon them wholly unwarranted humiliations and losses. There is nothing men resent so much as being compelled to do things they cannot do and being punished when they are innocent. All over the country today there are men with their shops who in the face of incredible difficulties have just managed to stay in business. Walk down Main street in most any small town and see the empty stores and you will realize how terrible has been the struggle to survive. It is intolerable to my mind that the federal government should now reach into these small towns, and without any investigation of the facts, without any knowledge of each man's circumstances, presume to make public judgments as to whether this man or that is a slacker or a patriot."

In the Hearst papers Sunday was the following interpretation of the recovery code as one of the world's greatest editors, William Randolph Hearst, sees it.

"The codes were devised to hasten this upward movement and to equalize it, compelling all phases of industry to participate equally in it.

"The codes were not exactly necessary, but they nevertheless may be advantageous.

"Whether or not, however, they shall prove to be advantageous depends entirely on the manner and on the moderation with which they are operated.

"It is easily conceivable that many of the weaker units of industry would be entirely eliminated by too severe a code.

"These units had barely managed to stagger through the depression, not entirely succumbing, but meeting their obligations only in part, piling up additional indebtedness and exhausting such resources as they had, it is quite obvious that additional burdens piled upon them now would put them out of business and eliminate whatever employment they were providing.

"It is obvious, too, that if the burdens imposed by the code become too great, even on the surviving units of industries, the prices of products will have to be raised to enable these exactions to be met; and that an excessive price of product may partly or completely offset the increased purchasing power of the community.

"Either of these conditions would not expedite the return of prosperity, but would hinder and hamper it.

"The government is entering on a new field and must proceed with the utmost care and caution.

"It is no longer carrying out the well considered and well digested provisions of the Democratic platform.

"It is initiating measures which are more socialist than democratic.

"No objection is offered by the liberal minded to the experiment, provided the government does not go so far and so fast as to defeat its own object, and to make the codes a hindrance rather than a help to returning prosperity.

"Even an administration which may attempt too much is preferable to the do-nothing administration which preceded it.

"Still we should bear in mind Aescop's fable of the frogs who prayed for a king; and the gods gave them a log in their pool to be their king.

"The log lay motionless in the pool and did nothing, so the frogs again petitioned the gods and said: 'Give us, we pray you, a king who will do something.'

"So the gods gave them a stork; and the stork very actively ate up the frogs, until the frogs again petitioned the gods and said: 'O ye gods who are wiser than we, give us back the log.'

"We do not want a log for a dictator, nor do we want a dictator who will go so far away from the Constitution and the established institutions of our government that our people in alarm and distress may conclude that even a log is better than a stork. Surely there is a happy medium and that happy medium lies with the recognized principles and established methods of American democracy."

PLAYERING MR. BRISBANE

We have admired the column that Mr. Brisbane writes each day for some of the metropolitan papers but our respect for him has been somewhat lessened by the other day when we read a lot of bosh about Mr. Mellon and his self-made fortune. Mr. Brisbane by his Mellon paragraphs has displayed how far away from the sentiment of the American people he has strayed. The mere mention of the Mellon fortune and the way it was increased by the use of his high office of public trust is nauseating to the American people and when Mr. Brisbane attempts to justify any public act of Mr. Mellon or his accumulation of such a vast fortune he is simply waving a red flag in the face of a people who feel that they have been outraged by men entrusted with important public duties.

JUST AS EXPECTED

Last week Harvey Campbell of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce declared in the Detroit News that the day of the small business man was over. To quote him directly, he said, "I think the consumer will profit tremendously in the coming order. Patronage will be concentrated in relatively few establishments in each community."

In another paragraph he said: "I can perceive no other alternative to the NRA's forcing out of the retail thousands of these little merchants. Our first impulse is to feel sorry for them. But that is not an attitude that we ought not to congratulate them. It requires no very exhaustive study to decide that many, if not most, of these shopkeepers should never have gone in business for themselves. * * * Thus there should be little difficulty in absorbing the present small store keeper into larger units."

Mr. Campbell must just one thing, that the man who now conducts a small business, should lock his doors and try and get a job with someone else.

Following the publication of his statement a storm of protest came from these thousands of small merchants and business men of Detroit and surrounding vicinity—the men who have proven the backbone of the nation during these months and months of distress, the men who have in the past been regarded as the mainstay of the nation.

Mr. Campbell after giving the statement to the News for publication left on his vacation, but so voluminous was the public disapproval of what he had said that officials of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce got in touch with him in northern Michigan and requested an explanation of his statement.

Mr. Campbell came back with the statement that the head-lines in the News made what he had said look worse than what he had really intended to say—that he didn't mean it all in just the same way.

Frequently you hear of yellow headlines. We wonder if Mr. Campbell isn't running over with the same color?

RING THEIR NECKS

If the administrators of the NRA act have any desire to make the campaign the success we all hope it will be, there is one thing they have got to do immediately. That one thing is to put a gag in the mouths of a lot of these radio blab-blab artists. Probably the most glaring example of what can happen to kill all the beneficial work of those working to make the NRA a success was the speech of the night of the United States Senator from Texas who charged that this entire depression was due to the administration of the past four years, but right in the next breath said that the farmer had been sinking into his present plight for over one hundred years. The NRA cannot be made a success by any one party and the minute some hair-brained jackass from Texas or anywhere else injects politics into it, the whole plan is as dead as a door nail. Let it be understood that the people of America do not look upon or regard the NRA plan as one of politics. They regard it as a great national drive, and they want good citizens to help the country out of the situation that we are in. We do not care about the causes of it because we know that the cure of this condition does not have any relation to the cause. General Johnson had better start today a campaign to straighten a lot of wit-witted senators and congressmen haven't brains enough to know what is the right thing for them to do. And in speaking of causes of the depression, we can probably lay nine-tenths of it right at the door of such fools as the senator from Texas and others of his kind who have for years been legislating the nation into its present plight. Start today applying the gag, General Johnson.

NO APOLOGIES

Governor Comstock in a speech down in Detroit defending his administration, said he had no apologies to make. As far as we know, no one expected him to make any. He isn't of that type.

It is not under the jurisdiction of the Road Commission. The cost of the widened portion of Gratiot avenue between Brush and Ripelle streets was paid for jointly by the Wayne County Road Commission and the State Highway Department, state Mr. Hines.

The section of Woodward Superhighway just north of the Six Mile Road along Palmer Park is under construction and, when completed, will relieve another bad traffic situation.

Grand River Superhighway along the western limits of the old Village of Redford is also being improved through the centering of the street car tracks and paving with concrete.

The south side of Davison avenue west of Hamilton is being so under construction at the present time. During the month of July, Henry Ford dedicated 28 acres of land for park purposes and B. E. Taylor dedicated 57 1/2 acres for the same use.

Mail Jottings

Miss Gladys Schroder has accepted a position with the Chrysler Motor Car company of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chute and sons and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Chute, Sr., will motor to Toledo, Ohio, Sunday where they will visit the latter's brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chute, Sr., will then go to their home in Babson Park, Florida.

J. D. McLaren has his cousin Wilbur McLaren of Ansh Arbor, for his guest this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lush returned Monday from a stay at their cottage at Long Lake near Alpena.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnes and daughters, Betty and Dorothy, returned home Saturday from a week's camping at Lower Straits Lake.

Miss Catherine Dunn has been spending a few days with Mrs. E. J. Dreyour and family in Detroit.

Probably never in the history of the state has there been such a widespread protest against a tax as there has been on the sales tax. If public sentiment is any judge of what might happen to the measure, the NRA is expected to be abandoned at the next session of the legislature without the slightest delay.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

A CAUSE FOR INSANITY
A Grand Rapids doctor has gone insane, and possibly for no other reason than worrying over the number of unpaid accounts his patients seem to forget about.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

TOO BAD—JIM
The always very welcome Howard City Record brought the sad news last week that genial Jim Haskins, postmaster, was no longer connected with that branch of the government at Howard City and that another, a Democrat, was on the job. Jim, he said, was put on the shelf because of political activity or something like that—well, all WE HAVE TO SAY IS THAT Uncle Sam as any of his trusted lieutenants wants to find out politically active men in Montcalm county they should look much quicker than Jim Haskins. He was and is a saint compared to some others.—Senator Chester Howell in The Chesaning Argus.

ALEX AGAIN
Thanks to the "straight-from-the-shoulder" tactics of Alex Groesbeck, considerable publicity has been thrown on the "Walrus Street" experts headed the Michigan banks. Attorney General O'Brien was ready to quit long ago. This "relentless guardian" of the state commonwealth took the attitude that although he was not satisfied there was nothing to be done and advised depositors and stockholders to take their medicine with a smile. It was Mr. Groesbeck who forced the issue and he has made himself a highly popular individual by doing so. There is no denying the fact that Mr. Groesbeck has become a gubernatorial prospect again—and a formidable one at that.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

ODE TO STATE INSPECTORS
Bill Berkeley, member of the State Board of Agriculture, the rules over the destiny of Michigan State College publishes a good newspaper at Cassopolis. When something bothers him to a point where he cannot find an outlet for his emotions in prose, he rushes up a back of flying Pegasus and comes back from his ride with a rhymed and metered version. That is why he recently commented on the increase in Michigan "inspectors" thus: "To inspect the factories. We need more state inspectors. In this grand old state of ours. We want more state inspectors. With unlimited powers. We have enough inspectors already—our 3 patrol 2, and plenty of inspectors. To watch what barbers do. Enough inspectors have we. To test the grocer's weights. Inspectors for the honey bees. Beside the garden gates. Inspectors for the factories. Inspectors for our orchards. And the hotels where we eat. Inspectors for most everything. But not enough as yet. For we are not yet satisfied. With service that we get. So now we need a few more men. To be the State's protectors. Men we can send about the state. To inspect the state inspectors.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

Flow of Sales Tax Money Into State Treasury Starts
Plymouth's flow of gold into the state treasury to help care for the Lansing politicians started Monday. Every business man in town was checking over his returns to find out how much cash he had taken away from the working men and women of the community as well as the other consumers in the form of tax on the food their families have been eating and on the clothing they have had to purchase through necessity.

Both the banks as well as the money order department of the postoffice were busy during the entire day making out drafts for the Detroit branch of the State Board of Tax Administration. The new group of politicians appointed to administer the new tax law.

It is difficult to estimate the amount of sales tax money that went out of Plymouth Monday, but from what information has been secured from the sources where money was sent, it is safe to predict that considerably over $2,000 was paid into the new state fund to help keep the office holders going.

Probably never in the history of the state has there been such a widespread protest against a tax as there has been on the sales tax. If public sentiment is any judge of what might happen to the measure, the NRA is expected to be abandoned at the next session of the legislature without the slightest delay.

Fletland has put these recommendations into effect. Only the letters dictated by the governor and those of utmost importance are written on the expensive Crane all-ink bond paper. The use of the office of the executive office, office file copies now being carboned on cheap manila paper used by commercial concerns everywhere. It's a little matter but sensibly carried out in every division of state government, would amount literally to many thousands of dollars.

Another Complaint
Another state official complains that all was not told in regard to his salary. A previous article dealt with the return to pre-depression levels by state officials in the matter of salary. Some others cited was the newly elected commissioner of highways, Mr. Van Wagoner complains that my article of August 3 did not mention the fact that he returned 10% of his $7500 statutory salary. The fact was not known when the article was written and sent out and was not available until after such mailing. The records will show that such check was not noted on the books of the auditor general until after public attention had been called to the salary filing. The records in the office of the auditor general do show now that promptly following receipt of his check drawn and delivered on August 10, Mr. Van Wagoner returned 10% to the general fund. No order had been filed with the auditor general, according to the debursing clerk whose duty it is to draw monthly pay checks, directing that official to make 10 per cent or other deductions from the pay of the highway commissioner. In the absence of such order, it was stated, the regular pay checks would be drawn at the $7500 salary. The deduction may or may not be dependent upon in the future.

Now that the subject of payrolls is again under discussion, a scrutiny of the expense vouchers and payrolls of the newly created liquor control commission might be profitable.

High Ideas
The files of the auditor general disclose a copy of a resolution early in the history of the commission setting the per diem compensation of the commissioners at $20 per day with seven dollars a day to be allowed for hotel expenses and 10 cents per mile for use of motor cars while traveling. John K. Stack, Jr., auditor general, demurred at these charges but concluded he could not legally object only to the hotel and motor car charges. The commissioners still draw their $20 per day but put in bills for actual hotel expense under limits set by the state administrative board and receive five cents instead of 10 cents per mile for the use of their automobiles.

When the budget was being prepared the liquor control commission wanted a salary of $12,000 a year fixed for the managing director. The ways and means committee recommended at $4,000. In addition, the payroll now shows a secretary at $4,000; an assistant to the managing director at $3,000; an auditor at $4,000 and numerous other high priced individuals. The wants of the commission must cover some precious stuff for Gus Janberg draws $2000 annually as its custodian.

The office payroll and salaries of inspectors for the last half of July total $1955.00. The state treasury cost $211,400 a year to run this outfit, requiring a lot of tax on a lot of 3.2 cents no leave anything over for the general fund. In fact, this sum will probably meet salaries for the time the payroll is made out. It requires more money.

Expense vouchers for employees of the liquor commission are also members of the state police of Detroit hotels and other interesting items. One in particular attracted attention. An employee of the commission made an extended trip. No matter whether he stopped at Newberry, St. Ignace, Lansing or Pontiac, his appetite showed great regularity. Every day there is a 75 cent breakfast, a dollar luncheon and a $1.25 dinner. It is hoped that when the commission has its organization better in hand some of these abuses will be cured.

Another interesting discovery, at least to members of the legislature, will be to learn that right when the legislative stenographers were drawing down six dollars per day, Sundays included, they still had time to do some transcribing for the liquor control commission. They got their extra pay too.

Easy Money
To what extent some of these commissions carry on with their new found money would be amusing if the need for revenue was not so great. While schools are closed for want of funds and while teachers in others are carrying on with little or no pay for the sake of the children, beer tax money is wasted like no need existed. For instance the beer commission pays its auditor $4000 while the chief accountant for all state funds, including that collected from the beer tax, receives only $3000. The principal clerk in the beer division gets $2400 while the chief clerk for the larger staff of the administrative board receives only $1800. Alongside this is found the cashier in the office of the state treasurer who is held accountable for all moneys from all sources who gets by with a meager $2340 per annum.

As the new deal unfolds and other new commissions come in, it is full sure there will be some more interesting disclosures. The emergency welfare commission which is charged with the distribution of $12,000,000 tax money to relieve the destitute and unemployed is unhampered in its use of the found for its own expenses. How much will be left for food and shelter of the poor is the query. Then too there is the sales tax commission, and the public trust commission, and the old age pension administration and a lot of others.

Foolish Figuring
Referring again to schools it is noted that a great cry is going up to return the legislature in special session to appropriate money for state aid for schools. That will be fine if someone will be good enough to point out some available source of revenue not already tapped. Until that is done the special session would be as futile in that respect as was the regular session. One eminent educator was quoted in Thursday's papers as demanding highway revenues for school aid. His claim is reported as being that $120,000,000 had been spent during the past two years in highway building. If the professor is no more accurate in his estimate of the needs of the schools than in the statement attributed to him, the state had best wait awhile before that extra session is called.

The last available report of the state highway commissioner shows that exactly $25,000,929.28 was spent on all types of new highway construction during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932. During the following fiscal year, just closed, for which detailed reports are not yet available, all revenues from the weight tax were returned to the counties to give employment to persons who otherwise would have been forced to live off the dole. Deducing federal funds received by the highway department and certainly not available for school aid, it is found that less than $5,000,000 was available for new work after reducing maintenance costs to the minimum. How the learned professor obtains a total of $120,000,000 from these figures is conjectural.

Farmers Need Help
Nothing has made the farmer more angry than the veto of the milk commission bill. Right now when codes are being written the farmer needs just such an agency to represent him at the conference

Ask Road Officials To End Dangerous Curve West of City

Complaints from both the city government of Plymouth and the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce have been lodged with the Wayne county road commission as to the dangerous curve in the Plymouth road just west of the city. These new complaints have grown out of the accident a few days ago just east of the Lee homestead in which five Battle Creek men were injured.

A person driving an automobile from the west into Plymouth as they make the first turn on the curve get the impression that they have completed the turn and before they realize it, they are just entering into the worst part of the curve. Here it is where so many accidents have happened.

In his letter to the county road commission, Berg Moore, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce says: "The enclosed clipping from the local paper describes the latest serious accident to occur on a dangerous compound curve on a U. S. 12 cut-off just west of the Plymouth city limits. Motorists approaching Plymouth from the west notice what first appears to be a gradual curve leading into Plymouth, and not until they are rounding this curve do they see a second curve, sharply curving off to the right. It is unsafe to take this second curve at a speed in excess of 40 miles per hour, especially if traffic is approaching from the opposite direction."

"This dangerous condition was called to your attention some two or three years ago, and a marker was set up which falls in its purpose because it tries to indicate the unusual curve by a mere line imbedded with glass reflector studs. What is needed is a sign with the words 'DANGEROUS 'CURVE UNSAFE AT HIGH SPEED' or something similar."

"This dangerous unbanked curve is becoming notorious, and your prompt action to relieve the situation will be sincerely appreciated."

New Library Books At Plymouth Branch

A group of books dealing with pioneer America have just been received for the shelves of the Plymouth library and are ready for circulation. Among them are the following:

- "Wild Horses and Gold," by Elizabeth Page. A bit of lost history of the Klondike gold rush is brought to light. The tale of the eighteen months of the way after the party divided at the Peace River is a saga of men and horses the like of which would be hard to find in the chronicles of adventure anywhere. Miss Page writes with a graphic and vigorous pen. "Voyeur," by Grace L. Nute. The book will hold those who like to read of gallant care-free hardihood. As a class the voyagers are all gone now. And but for such memorials as this Miss Nute's, who has built up her splendid book out of unpublished and anonymous diaries, out of little-known or little-read stories of traders and travelers and out-of-the-way local histories, they would have perished.

ed unang, for the voyageur was an inarticulate soul. "Nurses on Horseback," by Ernest Poole. This volume will introduce many readers to a new subject that is alive with human interest, most appealing in its story of happy and willing sacrifice and beneficent results, intriguing and picturesque in its background. No one should miss it who enjoys reading about the Kentucky mountaineers, for they through the pages— quaint, unpretentious, compelling respect.

"From Here to Yonder," by Mrs. Marion Hawson. A historical record of a bygone age. Throughout, the minute detail is warmly amplified by native comment or reminiscence, evoking the life to which purples and vehicles gave social bone and substance. This recorded speech has high value; and many of the "short cuts"—proverbs and sayings—at the end are both uncommon and imaginative. The chapter on peddlers is less rich than that in Richardson Wright's "Hawkers and Walkers," but the whole book is abundantly conceived, and keeps well the unburied measure and observational tone of old journeys through quiet country.

"Road to Wildcat," by Eleanor Risley. The author and her husband, accompanied by their dog, with their small equipment in a marvellous homemade cart named Sisyphus, spent several months tramping and camping in the southern mountains of the United States. Those sketches are concerned with their experiences, both grave and gay, during the trip.

Tonight one may hear the musical messages of the Scotch Gospel Singers who are here to work with Evangelist "Bob" Inversoll, the Fere Marquette conductor who turned evangelist and who is preaching each night except Monday at the Gospel Tent erected by the Church of the Open Door at the corner of Ann Arbor street and Elizabeth street. Meetings start at 7:30 and will close early, so that you can bring the children.

Scotch Singers Will Aid Train Conductor At Revival Meeting

The Scotch Singers, Archibald Thomson, baritone, and his daughter, Margaret Thomson, pianist and contralto, came from Glasgow, Scotland, ten years ago. Upon gaining fame for their singing around their present residence in Buffalo, N. Y., they were called to travel with some of America's leading preachers. Their radio broadcasts number ten periods weekly. Miss Thomson is a pianist of great skill. It is reported.

Meetings have been held in the Gospel Tent for almost five weeks. People come from far and near to hear the Gospel message in music and word. The meetings will go right on, God willing, as long as warm weather lasts. All are invited. No collections will be taken. The work is supported entirely by those who feel a desire to contribute voluntarily.

(The Sunday morning, August 20th, a Bible study service will be held at 10 o'clock. Ralph Stoll, noted Ohio pastor, and well known by many in Plymouth, remarks in substance of the Scotch Singers, "No finer Christian musicians could be obtained to teach the Word of God in music and song." They will probably give their testimony some night during their stay this month. All are being invited to come and bring their friends to hear them.

Mrs. Frank Reynolds and family of Grand Rapids spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. P. A. Miller on east Ann Arbor trail.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Voshurgh and children spent Sunday afternoon at Holsington Lake at Fenton.

Mrs. H. Wetzel entertained her sister, Mrs. Rose Norton and friend from Detroit on Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Coward and Marion and Richard have returned from two weeks visit at Bronson and the Century of Progress in Chicago.

Miss Jean Durant is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Warrington in Fenton.

William Strong and Mrs. Barbara Kensler of Toledo, Ohio visited their sister, Mrs. Kate Fisher in Detroit Saturday. On Sunday they all attended the Hope Evangelical Lutheran church in that city.

THE ANSWER to the question... "Does it cost more to cook with Electricity?" MANY PEOPLE ask us—"Does it cost more to cook with electricity?" In general we can say: "YES, cooking with an electric range costs more in most homes—BUT WITH CARE IN USE NOT GREATLY MORE." Some families find it CHEAPER TO COOK ELECTRICALLY. We cannot say—"An Electric range will increase your bill by so many cents a month," because no two families cook alike, and families vary in size from two to ten people. But we can say—"Electric cooking costs less than a cent a meal a person," because we studied several thousand electric bills before and after an electric range was installed and found that it averaged less than that. Thus, in a family of four, a meal should cost less than four cents to cook with an electric range. Once you have enjoyed electric cooking, we believe you will never again go back to any other kind. Its many advantages—its cleanliness, coolness, convenience, healthfulness, and the delicious flavor of the electrically cooked food—outweigh its additional cost. See the new electric ranges at your dealer's or THE DETROIT EDISON CO.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO. SIX PEOPLE EXPRESS THEIR OPINIONS ON THE VALUE OF TELEPHONE SERVICE Each day, a metropolitan newspaper asks several persons a question and publishes their answers. Recently, six were asked, "Do you consider a telephone in your home a luxury or a necessity?" Each answered, "It's a necessity!" A MERCHANT said: "The other day our youngster had an accident, and my wife immediately called a doctor and me. That one call was worth the cost of the service for a year." A MUSICIAN said: "I get many contracts over my telephone that I would not get otherwise." A SALESMAN said that he could economize on many things, but not on his telephone, as in emergencies it might be worth its cost for years. ANOTHER SALESMAN replied that he and his wife cancelled their telephone service to save money, but after a month of inconvenience decided a telephone was an absolute necessity. A MANUFACTURER referred to the value of a telephone in emergencies. A MANAGER regarded the telephone as worth more to his wife than its cost, by saving her time and trouble.

HERE'S HOW TO SPEND LESS ON MOTORING! Do as over two out of every five buyers of low-priced cars are doing: SAVE WITH A NEW CHEVROLET! You'll spend less to begin with—because the Chevrolet base price of $445 is so much lower than the price of any other Fisher car! You'll make fewer stops for gas and oil, because the Chevrolet six-cylinder engine can go well over two hundred miles on a tankful! You won't have to be worrying about seeing the service man all the time, or paying a lot of repair bills because—well, Chevrolet just isn't that kind of car. It's built right and stays that way. Finally—you can look forward to getting a good price when you trade your Chevrolet in—its resale value is notably high. Can you say all these same things about any other low-priced car? Evidently America thinks not—from the way that America prefers to SAVE with a Chevrolet. CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN Prices range from $445 to $565 f.o.b. Flint, Mich. Special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy G.M.A.C. terms. A General Motors Value.

With Our Churches

CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR (Independent Baptist) 164 N. Main St. Richard Neale, Pastor

All services are being held in the Gospel Tent erected at the corner of Ann Arbor street and Elizabeth street. "Bob" Ingersoll, who was a conductor for the Pere Marquette over twenty years ago and who was saved in Mt. Trotter's mission in Grand Rapids twenty-two years ago, is preaching there nightly now. Meetings start at 7:30 and will not end early enough so that all can come. Come when you can, leave when you must.

Services will go right on six nights a week. The special purpose of the services is to reach those without a church home where they can satisfy their desire to know the Word of God. The Bible, nothing added or subtracted, is our platform, our message, and by the grace of God, our practice too.

Hear the Scottish Singers each night at the tent services. No one can afford to miss hearing this talented, spiritual duo.

"HOT SATURDAY" A credible, dramatic story of a girl who walked home from a Saturday night date and found herself condemned anyway, is told in "Hot Saturday," new picture featuring Nancy Carroll, Cary Grant and Randolph Scott, which appears at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, August 19. Directed by William Seltzer with great simplicity, enacted by the cast with intelligence and understanding, the film emerges as a truly extraordinary piece of entertainment.

"MAMA LOVES PAPA" Many Boland and Charlie Ruggles, who have been featured together in numerous recent pictures, are co-starring in "Mama Loves Papa," a comedy written especially for them, appearing at the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, August 20 and 21.

Drugless Doctor Discusses Health Dr. William F. Parsons, who centrally located in this vicinity and resides, 11307 Indian avenue, just off the Plymouth road toward De-without which the human body cannot function normally. "Vertebral Subluxation is an incomplete or partial dislocation of one spinal segment in relation to the one above and the one below. This abnormal position of the vertebra causes a pressure on the nerve that makes its exit through this vertebral foramina. Interference of nerve impulses to an area of the body inhibits nutrition to said area; hence we have an area low resistance and quite susceptible to the invasion and development of bacteria, or chemical irritability causing inflammation, swelling, softening and increased growth of tissue cells termed malignant tumors.

"Having learned the cause of the development of the malignant tumor, we now turn our attention to the most efficient and scientific method of eradicating this present day dreaded disease 'Malignant Tumors or Cancer.' "First, we make a thorough physio-chemical analysis and determine the exact percentage of sodium chloride in the blood stream.

"Second, careful food test and all necessary dietetic corrections are scientifically outlined.

"Third, scientific normalization of all vertebral subluxations.

"Fourth, a special poultice is placed on the external cancer tumor. Within ten days the tumor and its roots will have been completely drawn from the body. (The tumor and its roots resemble an octopus.)

"This procedure is not painful and leaves practically no scarring. Results in all cases of internal malignant tumors would be more efficacious if the above methods of procedure were carefully and conscientiously adhered to until alkalosis, detoxified foods and vertebral subluxations have been corrected. Remove the cause and overcome the condition. At this stage we have what we term the Dominant Cancerous Tumor, so called because its sources of existence and development have been removed."

Treatment given in your home, whenever necessary. Consultation by appointment.

Men and women are buying more Pontiacs than any other car in Pontiac's price range! Why? Because they have found that this big, modern Straight Eight excels on all counts... as you will find when you see and drive it.

You get power in a Pontiac—more power than you'll find in any other automobile at or near its price—delivered far more smoothly by Pontiac's 77-horsepower Straight Eight engine.

You get more speed, too—78 actual miles per hour. Your Pontiac holds the road better—rides more comfortably—because it's a big car, with 115-inch wheelbase and well-distributed weight (3265 pounds, curb weight, for the 4-door Sedan). And it's the only car in its price range with the Fisher Ventilation System—greatest comfort factor since the development of the closed body.

There just isn't anything to compare with Pontiac at its price. In Fisher Body beauty—in comfort—in Straight Eight performance. That's why America is buying Pontiacs. That's why you'll prefer Pontiac, too.

Banquet For Young Folks at Salem

Young People's week at the Salem Federated church closed with a banquet on Friday evening, August 11. The mothers of the young folks provided and served the delicious supper and music was furnished by the little Sunday night orchestra. Robert Lidgard was a very efficient toastmaster and he called upon Shirley Kinde who congratulated the young people on their Christian service. Mrs. Sarah Stanbro, an honor guest, gave a humorous reading which was thoroughly enjoyed. Russell Wallace spoke earnestly on youth's views of life here and hereafter. Supt. Edward Denniston's splendid address was the closing event of a busy week, and somehow his warnings and counsel seemed to emphasize the need and importance of the work of the church.

Mr. Wendel was a World War veteran and a member of Muskegon Lodge 491, L.O.O.F.

Salvation Army Band Makes Hit

Hundreds of Plymouth residents and people from the surrounding country Saturday night heard the famous Salvation Army band from Port Huron play an open air concert in Kellogg park. Those that had the opportunity of getting near enough to the park were delighted with the program that was played. The park was packed with people who remained until the end of the concert. Besides the concert played in the park, the band played a concert at Walled Lake Saturday afternoon and on Sunday presented a program of sacred music at both services at the First Baptist church. The expenses of the band to Plymouth was met by a free will offering. Capt. Cyril Everett of the Plymouth Salvation Army has requested the Plymouth Mail to express the appreciation of the local group for the ready response of the Plymouth people for this purpose.

Templars Win 4th Playground Series

Turned in by Clarence Levandowski center fielder of the Templars, a fast running one hand catch that cut off two runs and would have been good for a home run. The league will again be going next May and it is no doubt the finest thing that Plymouth has for the fans and players. The league has just finished its fourth series. Todd's All stars won the first year's series. The Rocks (now Red & White) the second and third year and Templars this year's series. The league want to thank the school board for the use of the grounds, and Mr. Giles for his time of taking up the collections and the umpire in chief Earl Grey and all the umpires that have worked to make the league a success. The batting percentages of the play off players will be in next week's papers. Look for it.

BASE BALL RESULTS
A one run rally in the last half of the ninth inning gave the Plymouth Schrader-Haggerty's another victory in defeating the Fromm's Hardware club of Detroit. In an exciting contest that went thirteen innings. The game was played at Plymouth-Riverside Park. The final score being 13 to 12.
Anthony Kreeger started in the box for Plymouth, only to be relieved by Harry Hawkins in the fifth, who did some fine relief hurling. William Howell, Fromm's star pitcher, was driven from the mound in the fourth, and was replaced by James Norris.
Gerald Simmons connected for two circuit drives, one coming in the fourth and the other in the sixth. A double-header (two games) between the Hudson Motor Car Company will be played at Plymouth-Riverside Park Sunday, August 20th. First game starting at 1:30 p. m.
Thursday, Plymouth Day, at the Northville Wayne County Fair, the Plymouth Schrader-Haggerty's will clash with the strong Carlton club, led by Harry German, Sr. Game time at 3 o'clock.

Plymouth United Savings Scrip Accepted

Over Postoffice "The Careful Dentist" Phone 639W
Plymouth, Mich.

These too Accept Bank Scrip

Last week there was published in The Plymouth Mail, a list of merchants who had signed the petition to The Plymouth United Savings bank in which it was stated that they would accept scrip on the bank if the bank decided to issue scrip as its first pay-off under the moratorium agreement. The petition was circulated by one of the local business men and after being signed up it was posted in The Plymouth United Savings bank where depositors could see it as they did their banking business.

Two or three signers of the petition suggested to The Plymouth Mail that they thought it would be a good idea if The Mail would call upon each one who had signed the agreement and ask them to take a collective advertisement in The Mail so that those who had received the scrip from the bank would know the names of the business men who had agreed to accept the scrip.

The list of names was secured from the petition in the bank and the names appeared in the last issue of The Mail as they had been signed to the petition, all but one or two who had signed the petition entering into the agreement to let the public know of their willingness to accept scrip.

The Plymouth Mail has been advised that a number of merchants who did not sign the petition have expressed a willingness to take the scrip in payment of accounts and in the purchase of merchandise. The names of these merchants follow. If there should be others whose names are not on the list and who desire to accept Plymouth United scrip, it is the request of The Plymouth Mail that you inform the advertising manager of your intentions and if desired another list will be published next week.
