FREEDOM OF OPINION IN DANGER

Gen. Johnson, denying a reporter for a Washington news letter the right to be present at his newspaper conferences, said he did not object to constructive criticism but he refused to give information to a man who distorted it and engaged in sabotage against the recovery program. The reporter has denied that the accusation is true and insists on his privilege.

The general is one of a number of reasons for fearing that the constitutional guaranty protecting the freedom of the press, of opinion and criticism is in jeopardy these days. He professes his respect for the principle, but he has opposed a statement of it as a condition in the newspaper code. That opposition is remarkable inasmuch as a pledge to the principle is a part of an official's oath of office. He might as well refuse the oath and say that his intentions were well enough understood without it.

This incident in the newspaper relations with Gen. Johnson gives point to such other incidents as the punishment of the news letter reporter. The general's constructive criticism may mean to him criticizing which must be generally favorable. In the war he was administering the draft law, from which he may derive his ideas of political action.

Marion E. Faw, editor of the Editor and Publisher, has reason to say that the proposal for the licensing of the press carries with it the implication of Hitler, Stalin, and Mussolini. The government at Washington is engaged in adventures for which the authority is as uncertain as the consequences. The enterprises are mostly new to American experience and they put the citizens under compulsions with which they are unfamiliar. Administration has taken over many judicial functions and punishments may not come from the courts but from the bureaucracy. Many rights have been lost and the government seeks to make its proceedings popular not only by promises of good results but by attaching odium to criticism and opposition. The radio and the moving pictures have been made or persuaded to toe the line and many of the administrators are not in the mood to have their authority or their practices questioned. If there are fears that they would not need much encouragement to muzzle newspapers there are also reasons for the fears.

Some people with their hopes highly aroused by the government subsidies, gifts and special pleadings may forget themselves and their own real stake in the constitutional order. They may yield to a partisan hysteria and endorse in the United States such violent acts against liberty as now mark the course of Germany's internal policies and as have frightened opposition into silence in Italy and sent it to death or exile in Russia.

A German Catholic clergyman in Milwaukee found the time prohibitions to tell his congregation that Hitler was right in bringing the German press to heel and compelling the journalists to praise and endorse acts of government. Men who believe that conformity should be forced upon people in politics or religion, that one man's ideas shall be another man's code of private conduct and personal belief, readily support the doctrine of the United States. They had a dose of it under the Eighteenth amendment and it would be strange if in escaping from one dominion of tolerance it found itself imprisoned in another and larger one.

There are intelligent and cultured people who abhor the conditions forced upon them in Europe, but they do not dare protest now. They allowed the dictator to get out of hand. Now they are under his hand. It is not enough that the domestic press, in Europe should be under the command of the censor, but it is proposed that foreign correspondents shall be made agents of government or suppressed. The American newspapers may meet the situation abroad, but if Americans permit their officials to abrogate guarantees of freedom of opinion at home, it will be the end of government as they have known it and have wanted it.—Chicago Daily Tribune.

RELIEF NEEDED

The automobile has become almost a public necessity. In fact it can be rightfully stated that because of the way we have adapted ourselves to an existence built around the automobile, it is an actual necessity in our modern life.

But unfortunately tax making bodies have for some unknown reason elected the owners of automobiles as a group to be taxed and taxed without limit or reason. We are in full accord with the effort being made by the Automobile Club of Michigan to remove some of this unjust tax burden from the automobile owners of the state. The club a few days ago issued a bulletin on this subject in which it revealed some startling figures with reference to the pyramiding of motor taxes on the car owners of the state during the last three years, and at a time when motor vehicle registrations declined more than 18 per cent.

The highlights of these figures are: Motorists of the state will pay an average of $46.60 in State and Federal motor taxes this year or roughly 31 per cent more than they paid in 1929. This is exclusive of the States sales tax which has been added to the motor tax and will further the taxes on highway transportation.

The average State and Federal motor tax in 1932 was $40.10 or 20 per cent more than the average tax in the pre-depression year of 1929.

State taxes alone increased 12.7 per cent during the three-year period while the number of registered vehicles dropped 260,294 or more than 18 per cent.

"These figures speak for themselves," declared Wm. G. Bryant, president of the Automobile Club of Michigan, "and offer convincing proof that our motor tax structure—state and Federal—must be overhauled at the earliest possible moment. If this is not done, and some relief given the overtaxed motorist, we may anticipate a continued decrease in car use and the failure of owners to replace worn-out vehicles. It is unnecessary to comment on the effect this would have on our great automotive industry and the country as a whole.

The Automobile Club of Michigan has offered to the state a tax reduction program which we believe to be equitable in every respect. It provides for a 33-1/3 per cent reduction in registration fees and the scaling down of the gasoline tax from three to two cents per gallon. Even with these lower rates, motorists would still be paying the true cost of state highways and their fair share of the cost of secondary or county and local roads.

"There is ample evidence that our program is receiving whole-hearted support in all parts of the state. This aroused interest in fair motor taxation should serve notice on the members of the State Legislature that car owners will no longer sit passively by and submit to further tax exploitation of highway transportation.

THE MERCHANTS OPPORTUNITY

Merchants and other business firms of this town are face to face with the opportunity of a lifetime, and we believe they realize it. The president's commodity price raising campaign has gone far beyond what he expected, and has become a matter of grave concern. It has brought the profiteers out in the open and they are gouging people to the limit, and the gouge is sinking deeper day by day. In a certain fair sized city a few weeks ago a popular brand of crackers were selling at nineteen cents a box. A few days ago the same crackers were priced at thirty-one cents a box—a price boost of more than sixty per cent.

That is just one small sample of what the profiteers are doing even in this early in the game. We believe the business firms of this town are possessed of good judgment and a desire to be fair with their customers—they must of necessity make a reasonable profit on the goods they sell—they are entitled to that.

There is no excuse or justification for the skyrocketing rise in commodity prices during the past few weeks. That is most noticeable in the cities, where merchants appear to be going mad in their insane desire to "make a killing" in price boosting.

And therein lies the golden opportunity for the country town merchant. The buying public is going to become incensed and disgusted over the greed that has forced the president's invitation to raise prices. City merchants are not merely adding the increase in wholesale cost to their own retail prices. They are greatly increasing their standard scale of profits, thereby annexing additional pounds of flesh at the expense of luckless consumers.

If our home merchants will refrain from such wild profiteering, and add only the increase in wholesale cost to their own retail prices, they will find their selling cost far below the cities. They will win the respect and gratitude of our townspeople and of the farming community adjacent to us, and that gratitude will keep trade at home that might otherwise go to some city.

Wise men take advantage of legitimate opportunities and plan for the future. Foolish ones think only of the present and the penny in hand.—Democrat-Tribune, Carmi, Illinois.

THOSE WHO BUY

The time is coming when those who buy goods over the counters of the nation will be asking some new questions. Not only will they inquire about the quality and price, which is important, but they will also want to know something about the conditions under which the goods were produced.

If an article was manufactured in a factory where working conditions were poor, where men and women were paid starvation wages, where the children wear out their lives, the consumer will know these things. If clothing was made in a sweat shop there may be some way of branding it. If the stores which sell the goods do not pay decent wages, maybe that fact will become known.

It is important that farmers get a fair price for their products. We all admit that. It is just as important that those who labor get fair wages. That is not only humane, decent, right, but it is to the advantage of every person in the nation. If people earn they can live and spend. If they do not, the depression continues. The United States will some day be upon a foundation of happiness and prosperity.—Record, Muskegon Heights, Michigan.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

ALEX GROESBECK

There is an editorial labeled "Politics" in this issue, that shows without any question of doubt the way the straws are blowing in relation to the Republican gubernatorial campaign. A campaign that is not far distant, all though the primary is not until next fall. George W. Welsh is the author of "Change of Heart." It being occasioned by an editorial in the Grand Rapids Herald showing Frank M. Sparks willing to fight for governor. There is no disputing that it is a real change of heart on the part of Mr. Sparks, but Geo. Welsh virtually says wise men may, but fools never.

There is a two-fold revelation in the article referred to, it not only showing the attitude of Mr. Sparks and the Grand Rapids Herald, but the scaling down of the gasoline tax from three to two cents per gallon. Even with these lower rates, motorists would still be paying the true cost of state highways and their fair share of the cost of secondary or county and local roads.

"There is ample evidence that our program is receiving whole-hearted support in all parts of the state. This aroused interest in fair motor taxation should serve notice on the members of the State Legislature that car owners will no longer sit passively by and submit to further tax exploitation of highway transportation.

"It will need a man who knows Michigan and Michigan's governmental machinery and how to make reforms. It will need a man as Groesbeck and I know of no other such man having those attributes and characteristics."

Mr. Sparks sounds the keynote of plain, common sense facts, but there is no denying that the narrow bridges and cutters over streams, the lack of adequate road markers on some of the corners and then compare them with what we have in northern Michigan one is inclined to return home ashamed to look any more to ask for greater improvements than we already have. One can never realize how well we have fared until he gets away from home and sees how other parts of the state get along.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

WHAT IS LAW TO THESE FELLOWS?

Just how ridiculous people have become, particularly at this time, when they seek to make the New Deal cover everything from grave robbery to bank wrecking, along comes a request to President Roosevelt that he put Thanksgiving a week ahead this year, so as to give sales organizations more time in which to promote holiday sales. It may be good politics for Superintendent of Public Instruction Wheeler to hint to school officers not to stick strictly to present school laws, and for Auditor General Stack to set aside laws governing our property taxes, as long as they affect his payment of taxes on thousands of acres of timber lands he owns in the upper peninsula, and it must be all right for Governor Comstock to ignore our election laws, and our present state administration to scoff at all laws, but we are glad that our federal government, under President Roosevelt, still shows a respect for long established laws and for those cherished things like Thanksgiving, Christmas, the Fourth of July and Labor Day and Halloween and the birthday of our national leaders.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

ONE WHO IS APPRECIATIVE

After one drives over many of southern Michigan and down state trunk line highways, notices the dangerous curves that still exist, narrow bridges and cutters over streams, the lack of adequate road markers on some of the corners and then compare them with what we have in northern Michigan one is inclined to return home ashamed to look any more to ask for greater improvements than we already have. One can never realize how well we have fared until he gets away from home and sees how other parts of the state get along.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

Penniman - Allen Enjoys Over Flows Crowds at Show

Good old days have returned to the Penniman-Allen theatre. For two nights Manager Harry Lush packed both shows until there was hardly standing room. In fact many who desired to see the high type entertainment that had been booked for the early part of the present week were unable to get admission.

In addition to a remarkably good picture, he had booked a vaudeville act that was far above the usual. This remarkably good show is but the fore-runner of a number of other high class entertainments Mr. Lush has secured for Plymouth. He has been fortunate in being able to book a number of the best pictures that motion picture producers have to offer and as a result Plymouth is assured of a continuation of high class entertainment that the Penniman-Allen has been providing.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Bible school, 10:00 a. m. Morning worship, 11:15 a. m. Young People, 6:45 p. m. Evangelistic Service, 7:30 p. m. Prayer and Praise Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.

The subject Sunday evening will be "The sin unto death." The setting for this subject is found in John 8:16. "There is a sin unto death; I do not say that he shall pray for it." And again in Luke 12:10 "And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of Man, it shall be forgiven him; but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven."

A continued refusal to accept Jesus as our personal Savior from sin; and an unwillingness to walk in the light that has been thrown across our pathway is probably what is referred to here as the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost.

"For if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." Light graduates from "sin" to "darkness." Light that is not into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil." John 3:19. Many nominal Christians today are living in darkness, because of their refusal to walk in the light.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

At ten o'clock the second of three messages on "Consecration." What can I give that God will use to His glory? These two addresses will be based upon the following definition of Consecration. "Willing to be anything or nothing, to go anywhere or everywhere at any or at all times for God."

From Greenland's icy mountains, Dr. E. Stanley Jones writes: "China is the ripest Evangelistic field in the world at the present time. The whole situation is awaiting a push, a gentle, loving Christian push." And this in spite of a century and a half of revolution upon revolution. You will want to hear this enlightening word Sunday night about China.

Our mid-week service Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. Please take note that beginning this Sunday our evening services on Sunday and week days will begin one half hour earlier than heretofore.

Full program of Bible Conference week will appear next week—the dates are Nov. 12 to 19.

God willing, our pastor will be home to conduct the mid-week prayer service: Wednesday evening at 7:30.

"For real business at the mercy seat," says Spurgeon, "give me a homemade prayer, a prayer that comes out of the depths of your heart, not because you invented it, but because the Holy Spirit put it there. Though your words are broken and your sentences disconnected, God will hear you. Perhaps you can pray better without words than with them. There are prayers that break the backs of words; they are too heavy for any human language to carry."

Our pastor will speak at both services Sunday: morning worship at 10 o'clock and for the evening message at 7:30.

The young people's service this Monday evening will be in charge of our president, Roy Tillison. All the young people are invited to attend.

Bible School meets at 11:15. "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." Romans 10:10.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 29.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Isa. 55:7): "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 238): "The pardon of divine mercy is the destruction of error. If men understood their real spiritual source to be all blessedness, they would struggle for recourse to the spiritual and be at peace; but the deeper the error into which mortal mind is plunged, the more intense the opposition to spirituality, till error yields to Truth."

Home Furnishings Class Has Session

The first regular meeting of the Household Furnishing class of Plymouth was held at the high school, Monday, October 30 at 1:30 sharp. This class as many will recall is a continuation of last year's Home Economics Extension course given through Michigan State College and taught by Miss Gertrude Huls an expert in the field of Home Furnishings.

The lessons this year are concerned with such matters as "Selecting Slip Cover Material," "Making Slip Covers," "Refinishing Furniture," "Window Treatment," "Pictures in the House," and "Flower Arrangement."

The local leaders or teachers, Mrs. Clyde Ferguson and Mrs. Bruce Woodbury have already been invited to receive the lesson, and are most anxious to impart their knowledge to a large group of Plymouth's progressive home makers. They and Mrs. Glenn Renwick, the local chairman wish to extend a sincere invitation to all the women in Plymouth who would like to become members of this class to join with their group on Monday next.

The subject for this first lesson will be the selection of materials for making slip covers and the preparation of a chair prior to the making of a slip cover.

We hope that a great many housewives will take advantage of this opportunity and be present at this meeting.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"STORM AT DAYBREAK" The attraction at the Penniman Allen Theatre for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3 and 4 is "Storm at Daybreak," a vibrant love story of three lives enmeshed in an unusual conflict. The plot centers about Kay Francis, young wife of Walter Huston, wealthy Hungarian landowner. Huston has long been worried because he suspects that his wife's affection for him is rather that of a daughter for a father.

Miss Esther, Hungarian officer, who has saved Huston's life during a mob uprising contingent upon the assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand of Austria at Sarajevo, becomes military governor of the district. Esther and Miss Francis fall in love but the man who is friend to one and husband to the other is a perpetual bar to their happiness.

"I'M NO ANGEL" Mae West picked three virtually unknown song writers to write the words and music for her latest starring picture for Paramount, "I'm No Angel," coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 5, 6 and 7, but according to Miss West, they won't be unknown long.

Those she selected were Irene West, Gladys Gubins and Ben Ellinson, and tune-smith Harvey Brooks. Miss Gubins is known chiefly for Russ Colombo's famous theme song, "You Call It Madness. But I Call It Love." Messrs. Ellinson and Brooks are still amateurs in the song writing field.

But the trio have combined under Miss West's personal supervision, to capture the mood of her new picture, "I'm No Angel," and have completed several hit songs to be featured in the film.

They are fitted "No One Loves Me Like Dallas Man," "I Want You—I Need You," "I'm No Angel," and "I Found a New Way to Go to Town."

In the competition for the honor of doing the music for Miss West, some of the leading professional writers in the country were considered. Yet these newcomers won the honors.

Miss West's new picture tells the story of Tira, million dollar carnival beauty, who "shimmies" her way into the minds and hearts of the boys of the small town. She turns lion-tamer, becomes a sensation, gets offers from the big city show and breaks hearts among society playboys just as she did under the big tent in the "sticks."

"THE STRANGER'S RETURN" For every thousand Hollywood failures there is one story like Irene Herrey's.

Without any experience whatever, Irene landed an important role in "The Stranger's Return" with Lionel Barrymore and Miriam Hopkins, beginning a film career that promises to reach stellar heights.

In the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 8 and 9, the erstwhile Santa Monica schoolgirl plays the part of Françoise's wife, a part envied by many seasoned actresses.

It happened in this way: Irene, after playing in school theatricals, decided to go into pictures. She didn't have any experience and had no way of gaining entrance to a studio. For weeks she occupied a chair in the casting office waiting a room at the M-G-M studio. Finally, Ben Piazza, casting director, noticed her.

"Your face seems familiar," he said. "Who are you?" "I'm the girl who has been waiting to see you for weeks. That's why my face is familiar," she replied.

Piazza awarded her patience with a screen test, which King Vidor chanced to see. The result was the part she plays in the film version of the new Phil Stong novel of rural life.

Included in the cast are Stuart Erwin, Beulah Bondi, Grant Mitchell, Tad Alexander and Aileen Carol.

Electric cooking is NOT expensive. WE WANT YOU TO SEE JUST HOW MUCH IT REALLY COSTS. We want you to try the range for yourself, to enjoy its advantages in your own kitchen. Once you have known the delicious flavor it imparts to foods, its cleanliness, its coolness and its convenience, we are sure that you will want to continue its use.

There is no smoke or soot to blacken utensils or soil kitchen walls and curtains. WATERLESS COOKING. With your electric range you use no water for roasts and only half a cup for vegetables. MODERN. Unusually attractive in design, these modern electric ranges do much to brighten and add a feeling of newness to your entire kitchen. They are finished in smooth, lustreous porcelain and sparkling metal - features of special importance to the woman who likes to keep things clean. FULL FLAVORED. Electric cooking has a deliciously different flavor - a natural favor in foods. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices - and cakes are light and fine-grained, with a uniform, even texture. You must TASTE the golden, fluffy biscuits and flaky pastries that one can bake in an electric oven!

Organize Noon Hour At Starkweather

(Omitted from last week)
 Because of the large number of pupils carrying their lunches, Miss Sparling and Miss Kees have organized a noon hour schedule for the Starkweather school.
 Between 11:30 and 12:00 the children are required to spend the time eating their lunches. The first thing they do is wash their hands, then eat, and clean up again. At 12:00 two girls from the Leaders' Club at high school start the games for the children. One girl takes care of the first, second, and third graders, while the other has charge of the girls from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. Two high school boys have charge of the games played by the boys of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. On rainy days one group has organized games in the auditorium while the other groups play in a vacant room. When it is a nice day and the weather permits, both groups are on the playground. By this plan every child from the first through the sixth grades has an opportunity to take part in either active or passive games under the direction of the girls from the Leaders' Club. This plan, we believe, will keep the children busy and prevent any accident or injury.
 Through this plan the children are learning to cooperate with each other and in this way know each other better. It is hoped that this plan will be carried out in the Central grade school.
 The girls meet once a week with Miss Kees and discuss games to be played the following week. The leaders who are contributing their services are Dawn Jacobs, Dorothy Greenaway, Tessera Kinkadee, Irene Bauer, Isabelle Winkler, Merna VanBassel, Marian Kramm, Erance Cooper, and Florine Shoebright. In return the girls receive points toward their school letter. It also give them a chance to practice leadership and organization.

Ninth Graders Write Themes

(Omitted from last week)
 The ninth grade English classes have been writing theme assignments. The subject was the student's experience in the recent years. The following are among the best submitted.
To Camp!
 Niels Pedersen
 On one hot afternoon in July we chugged one Newburg headed for Sun Lake. The old Ford hitting on all three cylinders was loaded down with everything from our tent to our food supplies and the three of us. It looked more like a moving van than the principal's transportation for three youthful campers.
 When we were about eight miles from home the car which had not been running any too well at the start began to slow down and finally just managed to crawl along. Perplexed but not undaunted, we stopped the car and out and look about under the hood. Not one of us was much of a mechanic but the three of us combined managed a little better.
 We first looked at the wiring which happened to be all right. Our attention was then fixed on the spark plug and we decided to plug shorted themselves all right. We found that one of the coils was much weaker than the others. Earlier in the day one of our fathers had said, "The rougher you treat your coils the better they work." We also decided that it would be great fun to take our dogs along and that it would be fun for the dogs.
 We at once set forth to gain permission and to make preparations. The next morning we met at my home and set out. After some time we reached the village limits and there we jumped out of the car and while we set down to rest, for the day was hot.
 The dogs frolicked ahead leaping over puddles and having a great time. When suddenly they became angry at each other and began to fight. We jumped up quickly and shouting "Whoa, whoa" we reached them. They were rolling over and over in puddles of muddy water. After a few minutes we stopped them and then they began to shake themselves. When they finally stopped, we found ourselves covered with mud and water.
 We thought there wasn't any use going any further so we started back home to wait for another day. But we will never take our dogs along again after a rain!

Class Debate Tournament Finished Wed.

(Omitted from last week)
 The class debate tournament has just been completed. The freshmen winning their first place on the affirmative side and the seniors first on the negative side. Each class had two teams with two on a final debate in assembly last Wednesday. As a result of this the seniors won two to one. Miss Allen, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Dykhouse were the judges.
 Last week the Royals had a practice debate with Royal Oak and Ann Arbor, taking the negative side. Monday they debated with River Rouge, taking the affirmative side.
 The first league debate will take place on November 2, with Ypsilanti. Plymouth will take the negative side.

Intermediate Club Elects Officers

The officers for the coming year in the Intermediate Club Reserve Club were elected the first of the semester. Norma J. Rose is president; Mary Louisa Holsworth, vice president; Jewell Starkweather, secretary, and Patsy McKinnon, treasurer. The song leaders are Patricia Cassidy and Barbara Hubbard. Already the club has liked to Riverside park and last week they made posters for activities such as Christmas program, Thanksgiving and Halloween programs, and song meetings. These will be used to put on the bulletin board telling the type of program to be given the following week. A Halloween party is scheduled for October 30 at the home of one of the girls.
 The Junior Girl Reserves made programs last Friday while the club were held a discussion on "personality" led by Yvonne Hearn.
 Kinsey passed to Stevens who was stopped on Wayne's forty yard line. Levandowski passed to Wayne intercepted the ball on ten yard line but fumbled and Plymouth took the ball. The game ended with Wayne leading by three points. Wayne 13, Plymouth 10.

Starkweather School Notes

(Omitted from last week)
 The children have been making Halloween decorations for the rooms. As decorations wouldn't be complete without pumpkins, Heiny Hoenecker brought four which were made into Jack-O-Lanterns.
 The pupils from the kindergarten have made Rainy Day pictures, have colored and cut out old witch borders, and have drawn illustrations from the song "Pumpkin Man". The boys have been making boats, using cigar boxes for cabins and spoons for smoke stacks. Both the boys and the girls find it interesting to watch the milkweed pods open.
 Sixteen children have brought back their Bunny Club papers, and as soon as evergreen paper is back Mr. Smith will give them their "Bunny" pins.
 The first graders have made a play house, in which are a couple chairs, which will be upholstered soon, and in a short time the house will be completely furnished.
 Marjorie, Billy, and Robert Wilson have moved and will be going to the Central school in the future. They surely will be missed by their young classmates.
 Only two suns are shining on the second grader's poster "Let's make our own class newspaper". As a result of a rather difficult lesson in numbers, the two whose suns are shining are Irma Glass and Carl Johansson.
 The sunny Bunny Health Booklets, which teaches the children good eating and sleeping habits, are coming. The children are trying to live up to the various rules.
 The third and fourth graders have been studying the multiplication tables. In Nature Study they are learning all about the various kinds of nuts and trees. The boys and girls wrote letters to their mothers for a lesson in English.
 The 5th grade studying China and find it very interesting. In the Geography class each pupil is to report on a certain country of South America, giving all possible details, and drawing illustrations.
 The arguments brought to our attention by the negative team were that there are many types of programs, indirectly ruled by the people, that the advertiser is entitled to the 41 per cent of the time spent in advertising his products, and that most of the present evils can be overcome in time. They also contended that 75 per cent of the stations are individually owned, and that, by government ownership, only one side of political questions would be presented.
 The judges in favor of the senior debaters.

Seniors Win Inter-Class Tournament

(Omitted from last week)
 To finish the inter-class tournament, the senior and freshman debaters Wednesday afternoon in Assembly, argued the question, Resolved that all broadcasting should be owned and controlled by the government. Miss Waldorf, the public speaking teacher, took charge of the contest, to be judged by Miss Allen, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Dykhouse. The freshmen, Jewel Starkweather and Tommy Brock, disputed in the affirmative, and the seniors, Ruth Hadley and Evelyn Rorabacher in the negative.
 The main points contended by the affirmative were that there is too much advertising which is misleading, a tendency toward private monopoly and the programs are not what they should be. The negative contended that the present companies, and by having fewer stations, the cost of broadcasting would be smaller.

Three New Stamps Placed On Sale

Welcome additions to the albums of stamp collectors, three new stamps, the Kosciuszko five cent, the Byrd issue three cent, and the Zeppelin fifty cent, have been recently placed on sale.
 Of the three, the Kosciuszko, issued in honor of the Polish patriot and soldier of the American Revolution, is the most common. It has been placed on first day sale in six cities.
 The three cent stamp, issued in conjunction with the present South Pole expedition, necessitated the establishment of a new postoffice—one in the Antarctic continent, at Byrd's settlement south to be established there. Stamps to be sent from this point, 8,000 miles away from most of the collectors who will receive them, number upward of 30,000 orders. This will add from thirty to fifty thousand dollars to the amount which supports the expedition.
 This stamp will probably be scarce, as it will not be sold at all post-offices and most of the stamps will be purchased by collectors.
 The Zeppelin stamp has had an unusually large sale in New York City and Akron. A large part of the proceeds will go to the Zeppelin company in return for the carrying of these stamps.
 All of these stamps will be eagerly purchased by United States stamp collectors, as they will be issued in much smaller quantities than ordinary commemorations or similar stamps.

Tap Dancing—Fun!

(Omitted from last week)
 If you hear a clatter of feet, or see some fancy steps being performed—either in the halls or on the sidewalk—you will have some idea that the person belongs to the Jr. Tap Dancing Club. Everytime the club meets, the tables in the cafeteria are pushed back, and then the chatter begins! The club consists of sixteen girls from the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. These girls take turns in dancing as there is a shortage of space. Up to the present time they have learned "step" dances and the first four steps of "Goodbye".
 They have elected officers as follows: Florence Norton, president; Barbara Hubbell, secretary; and Norma Jean Roe, treasurer. The treasurer is now collecting a two cent dues which is to be used to buy sheet music. Audrey Moore is their pianist. She is very capable of this honor.
 Then came the best of all. The camp was split into two parts, and the "game" capture the flag was started. All too soon taps were sounded, and a troop of tired boys turned into their bunks.
 Next morning was a free period and the boys did whatever they wanted to, provided it was reasonable. The game capture the flag was about a hour after that the cars came and took the boys back to town, but not until someone had dropped a piece of cheese on the still hot stove. Soon after that the windows were opened, and the bunkhouse atmosphere cleared until the smell cleared away.

Girl Reserve Bake Sale Proves a Success

The bake sale given by the senior girl reserves in Bartlett and Kaiser's store Saturday proved a great success. The girls cooperated splendidly as each one contributed either an article to sell or money. The profits from this sale amounted to almost ten dollars.
 The Girl Reserves wish at this time to thank Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Kaiser for allowing them to use their store for the sale.

Leaders' Club

(Omitted from last week)
 The girls in Leaders' Club are practicing the fundamentals of basketball and are contributing their time in helping the children at the playground enjoy their noon hour. Although they are only playing "Keep Away," they are anxious to start the basketball games. Yvonne Hearn will record points for those who desire to work for a letter, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, noon from 12:30 to 12:45. Joan Cassady will record points on Tuesday and Thursday at 3:45.
 The English classes of Miss Perkins have just finished their first book reports of this semester. The books for these reports had to be non-fiction and on the approved book list. After reading these, the pupils wrote a summary and gave their opinions regarding the reading. These reports were then bound in original covers which illustrated the titles. The best of the best reports are now on display in Miss Perkins room.
 Members of the Senior Drama club are preparing several tableaux on peace which are to be given at the Methodist church and at the Senior assembly next week.
 To help develop louder and clearer voices, the second graders have started broadcasting over WMX in their reading class.
 Mary Jane Thayer, a second grader, who has been living with Mrs. Christianson on Spring street, has moved to Detroit.
 The 4 B's have been writing poems on Halloween, while the 4 A's wrote descriptions of animals.
 The 5 A's have made health posters in hygiene. In the 5 A spelling test Charles Crumm received the highest mark.
 The 6 A's are working hard on their booklets of South America.

Starkweather School Notes

Pumpkins, brownies, owls, and witches! Those are just a few of the decorations made by the pupils to ornament the rooms for Halloween. Seeing that the rooms were decorated so nicely, the teachers have planned a small party for each room.
 The first graders have upholstered two chairs for their playhouse, and will now begin on the davenport.

Senior Pictures Have Been Taken

Finger waves, marceils and Sunday clothes were prominent in Plymouth high school Friday, October 20. Everyone knew that it was a special occasion, but for whom? Seniors of course. They seem to be in the spotlight at present. It was very interesting to onlookers to watch the picture takers, who were having their pictures taken. Some looked slightly uncomfortable in their stiffly starched collars, but all looked as if they had stepped out of a hand box. If one happened to pass a Senior just before he was to have his picture taken, he was probably amused to notice a bit of excitement on the latter's part. After all maybe this isn't the only group of Seniors who considered "picture day" a great occasion. It'll be able to decide next year.

Classroom Work

Miss Flegle's American history classes have completed Unit 11, The Period of Colonization. Tests were given over the unit this week. The classes have now begun Unit 111, The Revolutionary War and the Making of the Constitution.
 Both groups of the ten B English classes have finished studying short stories collected by Sherman. Miss Waldorf's section is making an analysis of the different stories and authors in chart form. Miss Lovell's group has written their own autobiographies.
 The commercial students show great progress in public speaking classes. The sixth hour class is studying interpretive reading and are having exercises in how to read to a group of people.
 The eighth hour class is giving talks about personal experience or any sport in which they are interested.
 The first hour English class of Miss Waldorf is studying journalism. The class is divided into two sections, each representing a staff which is to edit a school newspaper. In this way there will be involved a spirit of competition. Each staff is headed by a business manager and a literary editor. The remaining members are individually assigned different columns and articles. This will be one of the class projects for the semester.
 Miss Hanf's 7A history class are making historical notebooks dealing with colonial life in America. They have studied the colonies and their different colonies, maps showing dates settled and facts about each state.
 Miss Hanf's 7B geography class recently completed booklets dealing with New England. These have such things as stories of the Indians who lived in New England, rainfall maps, stories about the weather and other things.

Two Schools Debate Here

In practice for rapidly approaching league debates Plymouth debaters met McKenzie and Ferndale teams here Thursday and Saturday respectively.
 McKenzie was represented by a negative team composed of three boys, and debated Jewell Starkweather, Jennie Brown, and Thomas Brock, representing Plymouth. The affirmative proposed governmental ownership and control of radio, while the negative held this change unnecessary. This debate which was watched by three students was witnessed by Plymouth students and several debaters from McKenzie.
 Both affirmative and negative teams debated Saturday in rooms 13 and 14, as Ferndale met Plymouth on Thursday. McKenzie's negative was composed of Harry Fischer, Russell Kirk, and Evelyn Rorabacher, while Richard Miller and Jack Sessions upheld the affirmative. It was necessary for the latter debater to speak twice, as the other speaker had no time.
 No decision was rendered in either of these debates, but both gave Plymouth's debaters good practice.
 The first league debate in which Plymouth participates takes place here Thursday. Ypsilanti Central as the affirmative team will oppose Plymouth's negative first, second and third speakers will be, respectively, Harry Fischer, Russell Kirk and Evelyn Rorabacher. As the second first debate, Plymouth hopes to win this contest.

Junior Play Cast Entertained

At his home, Saturday evening, Lawrence Moe entertained the Junior play cast. Until all the guests had arrived, everyone stayed upstairs. Blindfolded, the girls went out through a series of alarming events which finally ended them, one at a time, in the basement, decorated in Halloween fashion. A game of pinning the tail on the donkey was played, laughter ensuing each person's punishment through a series of ways of playing peace-porridge-hot, also added to its greatest extent. Other games were played, and the refreshments of sandwiches, cider, and cookies, were received with exclamations.
 Bunny Pius were awarded by Mr. George Smith to Miss Wurster's pupils. Fifty-four of the fifty-eight enrolled in kindergarten are Bunny Club members. They were weighed and measured by the nurse for the first time since they entered school. The morning section has been busy building airplanes from cardboard. They also have visited the stores downtown to look at the Halloween decorations in the windows and have learned five Halloween songs.
 Miss Crannel's pupils had a very enjoyable party last Tuesday.
 In Miss De Waele's room the children have planned forget-me-nots, parsley, and flowers. They are also working on furniture for their doll's house.
 Miss Field's four A class have finished the cotton booklets for southern United States; her four B class have learned a Halloween poem. The boys had the highest score on the spelling test.
 Russell Wilson has been transferred from Starkweather to Miss Weatherhead's room. For the past six weeks fifteen people have been neither absent nor tardy. Edward Dely has been ill this last week.
 The five A's in Miss Erbe's room have been studying safety rules and making "Safety First" posters. Floyd Campbell has been transferred to Starkweather.
 Miss Holt is reading "The Window of Callaghan's Boys." To her fourth and fifth graders. In the softest drill Betty Shipley finished fifteen problems in fifteen minutes.
 For the five A hygiene class Mrs. Holliday's group made booklets on clothing.
 In Miss Fenner's room Richard Strong had the highest score in the geography test given last week to the six B's and in the second self testing drill. In hygiene the six B's had a posture poster; in arithmetic they are learning how to multiply decimals. The six A's are studying percentage. In art the room is making posters advertising a Colonial party. Osabel Nalin's spelling team is ahead with nine points. Lowell Hill and Dorothy Hill decorated the board with pictures of historical things that happened in October.
 Life in the Ray County Jail, at Richmond, Mont. is not so hard, especially during the fishing season. Sheriff Arch Odell, on a warm afternoon, took two carloads of prisoners to Sunshine Lake and let them fish.

Travel Club Hears From England

The Travel Club of Plymouth high school listened to an interesting description of English life, given by Mrs. Lock who is visiting her son in this city. The talk also contained very interesting facts concerning the unemployment insurance.
 Mrs. Lock will return home soon.

County Control For Township Roads

Under the provisions of the McNitt Act, all township roads are to be placed under the jurisdiction of the various county road commissions of the State at the rate of 20 per cent annually for the purpose of maintenance, betterments and reconstruction.

Wayne County has just taken over its third installment, or approximately 60 per cent of the 35 miles of township roads, stated Road Commissioner Edward X. Hines yesterday.

When the final installment is taken over, all the township highway commissioners and township road overseers in the county will cease functioning and no township road repair or highway improvement taxes will be levied in the townships and villages for road repair and road improvement purposes. The State pays part of the cost of maintenance and improvements from the proceeds of the gasoline tax and such additional moneys as may be required or spent, comes from the County's share of the weight tax.

These township roads previously taken into the county system by Wayne County have been graded, drained and a coating of gravel spread thereon and with the light traffic they are usually called upon to carry, are a vast improvement over past conditions, stated Mr. Hines.

One first effort is to make safe for traffic existing structures. The bridges in the poorest condition are being replaced at an accelerating rate.

Demand For Aid Takes Big Jump

the administrative side. It is the object of the Wayne County Welfare commission to have every family investigated and filed on Federal forms by the first of December; this alone is a tremendous task but a necessary one. In some of the townships and municipalities where no investigations have ever been made before, many families are found who should not be receiving aid, and there have been dropped from the rolls. On the other hand, many families have been found who need aid and have not been receiving it, so their names are added to the list. Last week in one township the families recovered that one-half of the families that are on the welfare rolls; needless to say such a condition was ended as soon as the facts were ascertained.

It is to stop just such conditions of injustice and mismanagement as these that Wayne county has its present welfare set-up under state and federal laws. The Wayne County Welfare Commission has divided the county into six districts, Detroit, Highland Park, Hamtramck, Dearborn, down-river, and the township district. The latter includes the city of Plymouth and all the township except which belong to districts one and four respectively. Supervising this set-up are three men, administrator, John Ballenger, deputy administrator Wm. Marie, and L. P. Cookingham. Mr. Ballenger and Mr. Marie are part-time employees at part-time salaries; they also work as welfare directors for the city of Detroit. Mr. Cookingham is also a part-time employee whose salary is paid directly to the city of Plymouth.

The three members of the Wayne County Emergency Welfare Relief Commission serve without any compensation whatsoever according to the state law. They were appointed by Gov. Clegg and Fred Johnson, who is state welfare administrator on a non-political basis in the hope that they will be able to see that in the future welfare aid in Wayne county is administered justly, economically, and without graft or corruption. These three members who serve without pay are chairman James Fitzgerald, who is also a member of the Detroit Welfare Commission and director of the St. Vincent De Paul Society; Father F. Splendour, executive dean of the University of Detroit and for the past twenty years a teacher of sociology, a member of the Cook County Charities Board, and a social worker in Chicago; and secretary, Mr. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple of Plymouth.

Under the provisions of the McNitt Act, all township roads are to be placed under the jurisdiction of the various county road commissions of the State at the rate of 20 per cent annually for the purpose of maintenance, betterments and reconstruction.

Wayne County has just taken over its third installment, or approximately 60 per cent of the 35 miles of township roads, stated Road Commissioner Edward X. Hines yesterday.

When the final installment is taken over, all the township highway commissioners and township road overseers in the county will cease functioning and no township road repair or highway improvement taxes will be levied in the townships and villages for road repair and road improvement purposes. The State pays part of the cost of maintenance and improvements from the proceeds of the gasoline tax and such additional moneys as may be required or spent, comes from the County's share of the weight tax.

These township roads previously taken into the county system by Wayne County have been graded, drained and a coating of gravel spread thereon and with the light traffic they are usually called upon to carry, are a vast improvement over past conditions, stated Mr. Hines.

One first effort is to make safe for traffic existing structures. The bridges in the poorest condition are being replaced at an accelerating rate.

the administrative side. It is the object of the Wayne County Welfare commission to have every family investigated and filed on Federal forms by the first of December; this alone is a tremendous task but a necessary one. In some of the townships and municipalities where no investigations have ever been made before, many families are found who should not be receiving aid, and there have been dropped from the rolls. On the other hand, many families have been found who need aid and have not been receiving it, so their names are added to the list. Last week in one township the families recovered that one-half of the families that are on the welfare rolls; needless to say such a condition was ended as soon as the facts were ascertained.

It is to stop just such conditions of injustice and mismanagement as these that Wayne county has its present welfare set-up under state and federal laws. The Wayne County Welfare Commission has divided the county into six districts, Detroit, Highland Park, Hamtramck, Dearborn, down-river, and the township district. The latter includes the city of Plymouth and all the township except which belong to districts one and four respectively. Supervising this set-up are three men, administrator, John Ballenger, deputy administrator Wm. Marie, and L. P. Cookingham. Mr. Ballenger and Mr. Marie are part-time employees at part-time salaries; they also work as welfare directors for the city of Detroit. Mr. Cookingham is also a part-time employee whose salary is paid directly to the city of Plymouth.

The three members of the Wayne County Emergency Welfare Relief Commission serve without any compensation whatsoever according to the state law. They were appointed by Gov. Clegg and Fred Johnson, who is state welfare administrator on a non-political basis in the hope that they will be able to see that in the future welfare aid in Wayne county is administered justly, economically, and without graft or corruption. These three members who serve without pay are chairman James Fitzgerald, who is also a member of the Detroit Welfare Commission and director of the St. Vincent De Paul Society; Father F. Splendour, executive dean of the University of Detroit and for the past twenty years a teacher of sociology, a member of the Cook County Charities Board, and a social worker in Chicago; and secretary, Mr. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple of Plymouth.
