Daisy Business Proves A Direct Aid To Local Taxpayers

Plymouth enters on the winter season of 1933-34 with a fewer number of welfare cases than were the case a year ago.

According to City Manager Perry Cookingham there are at present 74 active cases on the welfare.

Last year at this time there were 85 active cases, a decrease of eleven.

The result has been due to the tremendous drive that the Daisy Manufacturing company has been making for business during the past year.

The Daisy company is carrying on its payroll considerably over a hundred more people than a year ago.

Last year when the company saw business slipping it put on the biggest advertising campaign in the history of the company and every one of the Daisy officials pounded the toy market for business harder than they had ever done before.

The result has been to the benefit of the hundreds of Daisy employees and now it is reacting to the benefit of the taxpayers of Plymouth as reflected in the report of the city manager.

From information that has come from Daisy officials during the past few days they are not relenting in their activities to get business and they now hope to be able to keep the plant going on a strong basis during the forthcoming winter.

Other local industries are rightly enlivened to look credit for their efforts to keep as many employees on their payroll as possible.

A recent check showed that most of the smaller plants were employing almost as many men as a year ago. In one or two, there has been a slight increase.

Welfare work is being taken over from the cities, villages and townships of the county by the Wayne County Welfare Emergency Relief Commission.

City Manager Cookingham is deputy administrator for Wayne county.

Welfare cases in the city of Plymouth, Plymouth township and Canton township have been turned over to Vincent Hackett, formerly of the Wayne county relief commission and Miss Ethel Spillbury, Detroit social worker, for investigation.

Every case is carefully checked by these workers.

Stoney Stronach, former highway department engineer, is doing special relief work for Mr. Cookingham and his duties carry him to all parts of Wayne county.

Outside the city of Plymouth, there has been a very rapid increase in welfare cases during recent weeks.

It was said of the great composer and director, George Frederick Handel that time after time he gave of his effort, money and time in conducting "The Messiah," without admiring and who haven't the benefit and pleasure it gave. In fact "Handel never realized one penny from this the premier of all his compositions."

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED BY MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH ZIELASKO

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zielasko, Sr., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Tuesday, November 7, by having an anniversary High Mass, which was sung by the Felician Sisters at their convent on the Five Mile and Newburg Roads. The Rev. Fr. Frank C. Lefevre who officiated at the mass gave a wonderful sermon complimenting the couple upon their happy and successful wedded life.

The couple were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the St. Casimir's church, Detroit, in 1883. Before her marriage Mrs. Zielasko was Miss Elizabeth Gudy. The first twenty years of their wedded life were spent in Detroit, eighteen years were spent on their farm on the Hix Road, in Nankin township, and the last twelve years with their daughter.

The couple were blessed with four children, three of whom are living: Mrs. T. J. Levandowski, and two sons, Joseph and Anthony. The anniversary breakfast which was held at their old homestead, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zielasko, Jr., was attended by their children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, and Father F. C. Lefevre, and other relatives and friends. A brother, Michael Zielasko of Detroit, would have celebrated his golden wedding jubilee on the same day, had his wife survived the last ten months, also joined in the remarkable celebration.

The guests upon leaving the breakfast congratulated the couple on their fifty years of wedded life, and extended wishes for many more years of happiness.

Clothing Class To Meet November 14

The second meeting of the Clothing Class will be held Tuesday, November 14, in the lunch room at the high school. This is the course offered by Miss Irene Taylor, state clothing specialist, cooperating with Miss Emma DuBord, Wayne county demonstration agent.

Because of such a large enrollment, two assistant leaders, Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, and Mrs. Forest Smith were chosen to help the old leaders, Mrs. Glenn Kenwick and Mrs. Willard Geer, who attended the first class at Wayne, November 7.

Demonstration in fitting the foundation garment will be given followed by individual fittings. As this is one of the most important portions of the course and due to the large enrollment the leaders request members to meet promptly at 1:30 p. m. Come equipped with your muslin cut and basted and sewing equipment.

Record Size Squash Displayed at Bank

What is believed to be the biggest squash grown in this part of Wayne county has been on display in the windows of the Plymouth United Savings bank, Walter Powell, who brought the squash to town, declares that it is one of the largest if not the largest he ever saw.

But the big squash is not all of the big things in the window at the bank. A number of pumpkins from the garden of C. H. Bennett are of exceptional size. L. H. Galpin had on display at the bank several steel red apples that were prizes.

Boy Scouts Plan Winter Activities

Plymouth's four Boy Scout troops have been busy during the past few days inaugurating their winter activities, one being an overnight hike seven miles south of Plymouth to a cabin by one of the troops. The drum and bugle corp that appeared in the recent parade was made up from all four of the troops. Troop No. 1 is under the direction of Sidney Strong, who is Scout master of that organization. Allen Strong is Scout master of Troop No. 4, Ferris Mathias is Scout master of Troop No. 3 and John Jacobs is Scout master of Troop No. 2. The boys that went on the overnight hike are Robert Wignard, Edward Wignard, Kenneth Kleinschmidt, Robert Beyer, Ernest Engelson, Bud Matts, Dean Vandenberg, John Moore and Dick Innis. They were under the direction of Scout Master Ferris Mathias on this trip.

Plans To Open The Northville Theatre

Harry Lush, manager of the Penniman-Allyn theatre, has announced that he will again open the Penniman-Allyn theatre in Northville and make an effort to keep it open in the future. The theatre will open Wednesday, November 15 for two nights each week, Wednesday and Saturday nights.

After operating the theatre for many months last year at a heavy loss, he was forced to close it but he hopes with slightly better conditions prevailing that he will be able to keep it open permanently from now on.

The Northville opening will make no difference with the Plymouth schedule. Ernest Miller, former cashier of the Lapham State Savings bank will manage the Northville theatre.

Will Preach Series Of Sermons Here

REV. JOHN LANTING

Pastor John Lanting, a well loved Bible teacher, of Holland, Michigan, will preach a series of five addresses entitled, "The Last Call for the Last Days," starting Monday, through Friday, Nov. 13-17, at the Church of the Open Door, Plymouth's Independent Baptist church, 104 North Main St.

Richard Neale, pastor of the church of the Open Door, says of John Lanting, "He is a man who rightly divides the Word of Truth. He seeks the power of God rather than influence and popularity. He makes Bible truths plain and easily grasped. He will solve many problems for those who hear him. Each service, Monday through Friday, will start promptly at 7:30, and will let out early. Everyone is invited to attend all the meetings; especially the first—one of the great series in order to get the most out of it."

John Lanting will speak on the old Testament book of Ruth. His subjects are as follows: Monday, "From Famine To Plenty"; Tuesday, "Grace In A Strange Land"; Wednesday, "Plucked Corn and a Bowl of Vinegar"; Thursday, "Six Measures of Barley"; Friday, "Redeemed and Delivered."

Rev. Walter Nichol states that everyone is invited to attend the meeting and hear the discussion. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. Delegates are expected from Ypsilanti, Howell, Northville, Sallie, Ann Arbor, Detroit, South Lyon, Rosedale Gardens and all the other communities in this district.

Light Fall of Snow Ends Summer Joys

Plymouth has received its first touch of winter when Monday morning people awoke to find the ground covered with a light fall of snow. The snow did not remain for long, but again on Tuesday a light flurry reminded everyone that winter is just around the corner.

While editors and others abivered, and grumbled, coal dealers smiled and said the weather was great.

Weather prophets predict that the winter is going to be long and cold. They say that generally a dry summer is followed by a disagreeable winter. But weather prophets frequently go wrong in their forecasts.

Ching Dog Wins Detroit Prizes

George Howell had his ten month old black chow, Ching Toys Black Scoundrel, benched and entered in two classes at the recent Detroit dog show. Mr. Howell disregarded the puppy class and entered Ching in the open black dog and local classes, meeting some of the best dogs in the country. Ching enabled Mr. Howell to take home his third ribbon and trophies. This is exceptionally good due to the fact that the Detroit show has a rating of the third best in the United States.

Mrs. Basil Carney of Mill street entertained the Tuesday afternoon bridge club.

MICHIGAN TEAM WILL REST HERE BEFORE GAME

Michigan's mighty football team of 1933 will this, Friday night, and Saturday morning, with Coach Kipp and all the trainers, be guests of the Mayflower hotel, coming to Plymouth Friday evening direct from Ann Arbor, the team will remain here until just before the time for the big game with Iowa Saturday afternoon.

Manager Clair Maben of the hotel when he discovered that the Huron Country club had been closed for the season, the place where the team generally goes to spend the night before home games, immediately went to Ann Arbor and contacted the officials of the football organization, extending them a cordial invitation to come to Plymouth and spend the night here before the game.

Knowing the excellence of the Hotel Mayflower, the managers and players did not hesitate to accept the hospitality of the hotel. They will also be here a week from Friday night, preceding the Minnesota game.

There will be no practicing in Plymouth, the entire squad being housed in the Mayflower during the night and Saturday afternoon, where they will rest and enjoy a few hours before each of the grilling contests remaining in the 1933 schedule.

A Proclamation

Whereas, a branch of the Salvation Army has been established in our city and has rendered valuable aid to both adults and children of our city during the last year, and according to the present outlook will be compelled to give valuable assistance in this respect during this fall and coming winter.

Whereas, as an overseas soldier during the late World War the work of the Salvation Army won my life long esteem and admiration and,

Whereas, I have said Salvation Army has now instituted a drive to collect funds for the purpose of feeding and clothing destitute families in the city of Plymouth.

I hereby urge upon all the citizens of Plymouth to contribute whatever they feel they can conscientiously give to this drive for the Salvation Army. It is true charity indeed.

Direct Salvation Army Campaign

MAKE APPEAL FOR SALVATION ARMY CHARITY

Plymouth Campaign Will Be Started Next Tues- day Morning

The organization for motivating the annual home service appeal for the Salvation Army in Plymouth is well under way. The purpose of the Local Advisory Board is to touch every phase of the city's life and give everyone an opportunity to make a donation to help unfortunate humanity.

The need is apparent to all and the harder the times the greater the need. It is felt that the Salvation Army does its work well and will make a dollar go farther than most organizations. This was very well demonstrated in its work in the state last year. The overhead was only six per cent.

Next Tuesday, November 14, is the day designated for the intensive work for the annual donation. A kick-off breakfast, the donation of Fred B. Schrader will be held in the Mayflower Hotel Tuesday morning, November 14, at 7:30 o'clock for all committees and workers, and if anyone who will assist falls to receive a formal invitation this is a notice to them that they are invited to attend the breakfast.

The following ministers endorse the work of the Salvation Army: St. Paul's, Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor; St. Paul's, Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor; St. Paul's, Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor.

Having had years of contact with the Salvation Army and the work they are doing I am heartily with them in the fine things they are constantly doing for the sake of humanity. I do not know a person who is not being touched that sphere, and the kind of help they give is distinctly their own. I believe most heartily in the Salvation Army and feel they are worthy of every support that the public can give them. Loyd Sutherland, pastor, First Baptist Church.

The work of the Salvation Army needs no introduction to this country, nor to this community of Plymouth. During these trying times they have accomplished much for the needy and the unfortunate. To go on and fight the problems of life with the help of God. There courage and sacrifice stamps them as an admirable organization ever giving a lifting hand to humanity and a word of consolation to the down-hearted. It is with pleasure then that I recommend the Salvation Army and trust they may carry on their work for many more years. Rev. Fr. F. Lefevre, Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

"We have come to think of the Salvation Army as a necessity in every community. It is especially needed to keep the morale of depression times. P. Ray Norton, First Methodist Church."

"The Salvation Army does a wonderful work. The accuracy of its success in my opinion is that they do their work in the Christian spirit. Harold J. Brabols, President Kiwanis Club of Plymouth."

Ruth Huston-Whipple Attends Meeting of Welfare Workers

Wednesday, welfare directors and commissioners from 70 of the 83 counties in Michigan attended an all day conference in the Hotel Olds at Lansing, Wayne county was represented by Father Stedenburg and Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, commissioners, and Benjamin Tobin, chief accountant for the Wayne county commission. The program was under the direction of the Michigan Emergency Welfare Relief Commission which consists of Mr. Bender of Grand Rapids, Mr. Norton, of Detroit, and Mr. Nixus of Bay City, all of whom serve without compensation except their transportation allowance as do the 3 members of each county commission.

Thus far 40 of the 83 counties in Michigan have appointed county welfare administrators; others will do so soon. Howard Hunter of Washington, D. C. regional welfare director for this area, stated at the morning session that Michigan is one of the best organized states in the union in welfare work.

Mr. Hunter is recovering from a long illness. He does not intend to sever his connections with the Wayne county board of supervisors of which he is a member from the city of Plymouth. After getting the affairs of the Millington bank, Mr. Learned, who is one of the well known and active Democratic leaders in this part of the Wayne county, was appointed to this position through the efforts of some of the prominent party leaders of the state. ARMISTICE DAY

Behold these pass, who lived to hear the hush of armistice, the cannon's clamor cease; Who heard above the shattered fields a thrush Pour forth the ecstasies of peace.

Here march again the heroes of the fray, The pavements sounding to their martial tread, That shakes the dusty wreaths of yesterday Above the grim dominion of the dead.

No glory passes in its brief parade Along the endless highway of the years; November's sun upon the flashing blade— November winds to dry a mother's tears.

BUY NOT, EAT NOT

By Booth Tarkington

Sometimes we have to go against our training or go broke. Sometimes what we have always believed to be a rule of virtuous conduct by our parents and teachers and enforced by our government, that we have no right to take or use the property of another person without his consent, but if the property in question happens to be a blackback that the other person is about to bring down on my head I shall have a better chance of surviving if I perceive, in time, the un wisdom of clinging unalterably to old convictions. That is, there are times of emergency when clinging to an old conviction will be ruinous. Let us consider the present time in its relation to our old conviction in favor of thrift.

COERCION BANNED—THUGGERY PERMITTED

The following is taken from a recent issue of the Detroit Free Press:

If you are an employer, the NIRA bans you from coercing your employees. If you are a union agitator, the NIRA bans nothing.

Union agitators with hired thugs break your employees' arms, heads and backs, and land them in Receiving Hospital instead of their chosen destination—your factory.

Union agitators, by intimidation and brutality, have driven at least $10,000,000 worth of work and payroll out of Detroit forever.

This brand of union agitation has permitted manufacturers and jobbers in communities out of the state to approach perfection in the tool and die business. British activities have forced tool and die purchasers to respect this out-of-state source of supply. It's an ace in the hole.

Criminals have beaten honest Detroit workmen at factory gates, have created fear in other workmen and have prevented them from supporting their impoverished families. Men with good jobs waiting for them are forced to seek welfare aid, demeaning themselves and ruining their morale.

In some cases, strike committees have met with employers; conciliatory agreements have been reached to the expressed satisfaction of all present—but the workmen, under threat of hoodlum punishment, have not returned to their waiting jobs.

The Welfare Department is paying pickets.

The Police Department has been active. Some gorillas have been jailed. Their punishment has by no means equalled that endured by their innocent victims.

If you coerce your employees, you are subject to a fine of $500.00 or six months in a Federal penitentiary for each offense, under the NIRA.

If an agitator coerces your employees, he should get the same dose. Washington should say so—quickly! Take these cases out of the hands of local police and courts. Give the NIRA a chance to prove its sincerity.

NEW SOURCES OF TAXATION

Fearing that the hungry horde of office holders in Lansing might overlook some new sources of taxation, we have a few suggestions of ways whereby these politicians might collect in a few more dollars from the people of the state.

We would suggest that each inmate of a county house be taxed not less than $10 per year, plus three per cent and the three per cent; that each legged man be taxed $25 with the same percentage added; that each blind person be taxed $25; that cripples who are unable to walk and must use wheel chairs, be required to pay $50 per year for the use of the sidewalks and highways; that all charitable institutions be required to pay a tax of fifty per cent of all donations received; and that each person on the welfare list be assessed $10 per month for the right to be on the welfare list. Now if the state will follow out these suggestions, we firmly believe that there will be a sufficient income to pay at least 150 or 200 more salaries to political job-seekers.

UNDERMINING LOCAL PRESTIGE

There is a penetration and undermining of Dowagiac's prestige in its ability to serve as a trading point of its logical area. Merchants wonder why so much business gets away from them. There are two reasons: one the oft-repeated one, that they fail to tell the people of their ability to serve them; and second, that the larger stores in the nearby centers are vigorously prosecuting a policy of advertising which is drawing thousands of dollars away from the local stores.

The Daily News has a peculiar interest in this situation because it needs local advertising and because the penetration tactics of the outside store affects it vitally.

These tactics are based on the centralization of the large city papers in the Dowagiac area. These papers have set up a daily delivery with local managers and solicitors and by use of low prices and premiums and other sales offerings, endeavor to secure the most extensive coverage possible.

That such a promotion of circulation is costly and non-productive from the standpoint of circulation receipts of course is obvious. The extra expense has to be borne by the large city advertisers who are ready and willing to do it to reach the fifteen thousand people or more in Dowagiac trading territory. Thus far they have not been able to reach them direct through The Daily News policy of refusing to print competitive advertising, which they would prefer.

There has been no letup in the quality of news service provided by The Daily News all through this depression. There has been some reduction in its value. There has been a loss of advertising all out of proportion to the character of the paper and the need of the local merchandising system. This loss of advertising revenue has forced this paper to suspend its normal effort to promote its circulation to the utmost.

The local newspaper is the one Big Bertha which is an offensive and defensive weapon by which the local merchant can combat such invasions of his territory. Failure to recognize this fact is what makes poor business in so many towns. It is what permits business to flow to the larger cities and makes the larger stores larger and the smaller ones, yet smaller.

The one dead sure way to repel this penetration is to back up your own retailing modestly, to build it, to forge it into the strongest possible weapon, both of defense and offense against a situation which can be met in no other way.

A weak local newspaper is a sorry reflection on the community that has it. A strong one is notice to the world that here is a place that believes in itself and is going to fight for what rightfully belongs to it.

We have watched this picture for years with a philosophic disposition to trust that some day, some time, some body would wake up to the situation and an aroused group of retailers would see what it is doing to them. Well, we are not going to watch much longer.—Harry Whitely in The Dowagiac Daily News.

NEW MOUTHS TO FEED

Mr. and Mrs. Innocent Bystander still pressed to "take it on the chin" or wherever they are in the habit of receiving disconcerting blows, under antics of employers, labor and the local welfare board.

Because certain automobile factories cannot agree with some of their tool makers, a strike has been called under the protection of the NIRA. The workers have slight funds. But instead of their labor organization financing them through the strike, the local welfare set-up is asked to do that. And it accepts the job.

Welfare funds are met from taxes, either local or federal so that is where Mr. and Mrs. Innocent Bystander brunt of most gruesome jokes, get it on the chin.

Because two factions cannot compose their differences, Mr. and Mrs. Bystander can themselves eat a little less, wear their clothes longer, make the old car do a couple years more and otherwise pay for the whims, programs, inhibitions, or just plain "orneryness" of the present high-powered employer-employee scrapping classes.

FORD AND JOHNSON

We profess that we know nothing of the "inside" of the Ford-Johnson row and our only information on the subject comes from utterances of General Johnson and the meager statements that have been issued by the Ford Motor company. But from this data, coupled with the knowledge of the fact that Henry Ford has for nearly a quarter of a century paid the highest wage in any industry in America and was the first to advocate shorter working hours for working men and women, it is impossible for one to find a reason for the government's bitter antagonistic attitude towards Henry Ford. Of course General Johnson must represent the attitude of the government—and why the government should desire to destroy the one great independent automobile industry of America, the one that has stood for all the ideals that the advocates of the NRA says that that stands for, is beyond the comprehension of the average citizen. Public sentiment in this part of the world is almost one hundred per cent with Henry Ford, but that does not help matters much when all the forces of the government seem determined to unite with the Wall Street enemies of Henry Ford in an effort to destroy his business.

The Plymouth Mail was from the first an enthusiastic supporter of the NRA. We believed that if rightly administered it would accomplish much good, but it is needless to say that if through the NRA the enemies of Henry Ford—the pioneer of all the good things represented in the NRA—have found a way to destroy his industry, why should any decent American continue in the laudation of something that can be used for such an unpatriotic and destructive purpose?

UNDERMINING LOCAL PRESTIGE

There is a penetration and undermining of Dowagiac's prestige in its ability to serve as a trading point of its logical area. Merchants wonder why so much business gets away from them. There are two reasons: one the oft-repeated one, that they fail to tell the people of their ability to serve them; and second, that the larger stores in the nearby centers are vigorously prosecuting a policy of advertising which is drawing thousands of dollars away from the local stores.

The Daily News has a peculiar interest in this situation because it needs local advertising and because the penetration tactics of the outside store affects it vitally.

These tactics are based on the centralization of the large city papers in the Dowagiac area. These papers have set up a daily delivery with local managers and solicitors and by use of low prices and premiums and other sales offerings, endeavor to secure the most extensive coverage possible.

That such a promotion of circulation is costly and non-productive from the standpoint of circulation receipts of course is obvious. The extra expense has to be borne by the large city advertisers who are ready and willing to do it to reach the fifteen thousand people or more in Dowagiac trading territory. Thus far they have not been able to reach them direct through The Daily News policy of refusing to print competitive advertising, which they would prefer.

There has been no letup in the quality of news service provided by The Daily News all through this depression. There has been some reduction in its value. There has been a loss of advertising all out of proportion to the character of the paper and the need of the local merchandising system. This loss of advertising revenue has forced this paper to suspend its normal effort to promote its circulation to the utmost.

The local newspaper is the one Big Bertha which is an offensive and defensive weapon by which the local merchant can combat such invasions of his territory. Failure to recognize this fact is what makes poor business in so many towns. It is what permits business to flow to the larger cities and makes the larger stores larger and the smaller ones, yet smaller.

The one dead sure way to repel this penetration is to back up your own retailing modestly, to build it, to forge it into the strongest possible weapon, both of defense and offense against a situation which can be met in no other way.

A weak local newspaper is a sorry reflection on the community that has it. A strong one is notice to the world that here is a place that believes in itself and is going to fight for what rightfully belongs to it.

We have watched this picture for years with a philosophic disposition to trust that some day, some time, some body would wake up to the situation and an aroused group of retailers would see what it is doing to them. Well, we are not going to watch much longer.—Harry Whitely in The Dowagiac Daily News.

"Adam and Fallen Man," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 5.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Eph. 5: 8, 10, 14): "For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are light in the Lord: walk as children of light: Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord. Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 557): "Divine Science rolls back the clouds of error with the light of Truth, and lifts the curtain on man as never born and never dying, but as coexistent with his creator."

CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR

(Independent Baptist)
 164 N. Main St.
 Richard Neale, Pastor

Last Monday evening we had a very pleasant surprise. The young people's meeting was opened to the adults to hear Misses Bertha and Mary Miller, from the Evangelical Tribes Mission in the Belgian Congo, to show us a number of slides on the work at their field.

The territory in which they are laboring, covers an area about equal to that of Pennsylvania with a population of more than twenty-three thousand people. Before this mission was opened in 1930, the natives, for the most part, had never seen a white man. They are 250 miles from the nearest store and 300 miles from the nearest doctor. Unless the missionary is fortunate enough to own a car, one must be content to travel by being carried, seated in a chair-like affair, fastened to poles and supported by four natives. It takes 14 days walking to reach the station from the river.

To build a house or chapel, means a long tedious round of duties. First the red clay is dug from pits and made into blocks, measuring a foot long, 6 inches wide and 6 inches high; weighing about 25 pounds. The entire structure except for the roof is made of these blocks.

The roof is constructed of bamboo, overlaid with heavy grass much like our broom straw. After the house is finished except for the porch.

The tropical rains are very severe. If water comes in contact with the walls, they would surely crumble. These porches are built of bamboo around the entire building. A few flowers planted on the porches, and the dwelling is quite like home.

The native women do all the work while the men stay home and exchange the latest news. They won't even get themselves a drink of water unless their wives secure it.

Those who heard the Miller sisters received a missionary vision they will never forget.

Next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the pastor preaches on: "Whose Side are you On, Saul's or David's?"

At 7:30 p. m. you're invited to our evangelistic service.

From Monday through Friday, November 13-17, each night at 7:30. Pastor John Lanting will bring a series of messages called, "The Last Call For the Last Days."

7:00 Stereopticon Lecture. Wednesday evenings at 7 o'clock we continue our mission studies on, "The Never Fading Light."

This Wednesday afternoon the Aid Society are the guests of Mrs. Robert Todd.

This Sunday afternoon our Junior Choir will give a program of music in the Woman's department of the Detroit House of Correction.

Next week there will be held in this church a Christian Workers Conference.

On Monday evening, Rev. Wm. Shaw, pastor of First Baptist church at Ypsilanti will speak Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Dr. R. M. Traver will speak on "Steps in the Christian Life."

Friday will bring to us the Staff of the Michigan Baptist Convention, Dr. Ralph Taylor Andem, executive secretary, Dr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Sturtevant, directors of religious education and Dr. Drury Martin, convention pastor. The first session will be a conference for ministers at two o'clock, and the second session at 7:30, when the workers will conduct group conferences for Sunday school and Young People's workers. These Friday conferences will be attended by pastors and workers of the entire Wayne Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Sturtevant will conduct an assembly period at 2:45 at the Starkweather school. A great time for the children.

This will be a week of opportunity for all who hear these able men, and we urge and invite any and all to attend.

Of course every housewife wants modern cooking equipment, but the wise housewife will not discard her present equipment unless the so called "modern" equipment is IN FACT an improvement. To determine this, easily, logically, and to your own complete satisfaction ----

 Compare it for CLEANLINESS!
 Compare the MODERN gas range for KITCHEN COOLNESS!

 Compare it for ECONOMY!

Yes, compare the MODERN gas range for looks, safety, or any of the other features you might like in cooking equipment. You'll come to one conclusion --- so called modern methods, whether they be "glowing wires" or any other method --- do not yet measure up to the standard of efficient, economical service gas offers. You'll stick with gas because it is BETTER—not alone in theory—but in FACT!

Proceedings of the City Commission

Plymouth, Michigan October 16, 1933 A regular meeting of the City Commission held in the City Hall on Monday evening, October 16, 1933 at 7:00 p. m. Present: Mayor Hoover, Commissioners Blunk, Goldsmith, Henderson and Robinson. Absent: None. The minutes of the regular meeting held October 2nd were approved as read. A petition was received from residents on N. Mill St., requesting that heavy trucks be kept from using this street. The matter was referred to the Wayne County Road Commission who has jurisdiction over this street and whose trucks are the principal users of the street. Mr. Snyder of Pontiac, Michigan appeared before the Commission and requested permission to place house numbers and street names on the curb. The permission was not granted by the informal expressions of opinion by the Commission. Mr. Russell also appeared before the Commission regarding the matter of taking over the skating rink on the corner of a public fund. The matter was taken under consideration. Reports of the Municipal Court from October 1st to October 15th were presented by the clerk. It was moved by Comm. Robinson seconded by Comm. Goldsmith that the above reports be accepted and placed on file. Carried. A communication was received from the Attorney General's office stating that the delinquent taxes held as collateral for R. F. C. warrants should be released and could be used as determined by the City Commission. It was moved by Comm. Henderson seconded by Comm. Robinson that the communication be accepted and placed on file. Carried. The Manager submitted a report on the proposed Public Works Program. It was moved by Comm. Goldsmith seconded by Comm. Robinson that the Manager continue to study the proposed Program. Carried. Mr. Harry Barnes reported to the Commission on the plans made for the parade to be held in Detroit in connection with the Deep Waterways Program. A notice was received from the Michigan Public Utilities Commission relative to the hearings on the Michigan Bell Telephone rate case. It was moved by Comm. Goldsmith seconded by Comm. Blunk that the communication be accepted and placed on file. Carried. It was moved by Comm. Blunk that the Police Department be instructed to erect a reflector stop sign on the south side of Church street near the east line of Adams St. extended in order to stop east-bound traffic at this point. Carried. It was moved by Comm. Henderson seconded by Comm. Goldsmith that the Manager be instructed to W. C. T. U. Not to Give Up Battle. Members See Need Of Work. The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Thursday, November 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Clara Todd and was well attended. The cooperative dinner was greatly enjoyed as the menu included goodies of all sorts. Rev. Loya Sutherland of Plymouth Baptist church was the speaker for the day, and gave a brief but very interesting talk about the temperance work, stressing the need for special effort at the present time. Rev. Sutherland has long been actively engaged in evangelistic and temperance work throughout the country. His talk was listened to with great interest by all present. An amusing little play was given by Mesdames Lauffer and Clemens. It was a clever satire on the politics of the present time. With Mrs. Lauffer, as Mrs. Democrat, and Mrs. Clemens as Mrs. Republican, the play was made extremely funny. A very enjoyable report of the District Convention at Pontiac, was given by Mrs. Vandy and this was supplemented by brief talks by Mesdames Todd, Clemens, and McNabb. Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd now holds the office of state treasurer and is also state flower mission superintendent in order to give the members an idea of the scope of the flower mission work. Mrs. Todd read the report she had given at the state convention at Traverse City. While the name seems to imply that the work done in this department has only to do with floral gifts, such is not the case. Gifts of every sort are listed in this department: wearing apparel, bedding, food, aid for the sick and needy, donations of every sort for the home. In some instances homes were secured for needy families and they were supported until work could be found for them. The next meeting will be a Christmas meeting and will occur Thursday, December 14th, at the home of Mrs. Mary Starkweather. A DUCK HUNTING THEY WENT, A DUCKING THEY GOT (Continued) Friends of Maurice Woodworth have been wondering about his frequent trips north with his car loaded with various contraptions which looked like seventeenth century bay rakes. One Saturday very recently Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Woodworth and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloom of Northville went to a cabin on Commerce Lake for the week-end. Although not getting up there until a very late hour, the boys decided to make an early excursion next morning for fish, ducks or what-not. They chose a canoe instead of a row boat on account of easy propelling. They crossed Commerce Lake, went up Huron river to Broad Lake near Wisnom, No. fish and no ducks. Finally up flew a flock of the coveted feathered variety. Both guns exploded at once and it is a toss-up who were more surprised the ducks or the ducked, for the next instant two young men were playing with the mystery. Maurice had his binoculars on a strap around his neck the better to study any rare specimens and his rifle in hand to protect himself against any aggressiveness by inhabitants of the unexplored regions below. After their explorations were completed they came to the top amid floating clothing and boots and the bottom-up canoe. They both had their shot guns but a rifle an about fifty dollars worth of casting rods, reels and fishing tackle were missing. The boys made about with the water and decided to establish a nudist colony. The disabled in the swamp and dried their clothing before a bonfire. Returning to the cabin about three o'clock in the afternoon very hungry and crestfallen on account of not getting any ducks. If anyone knows of a way to locate and entice to the top of the lake such articles as rifles and fishing tackle, please confer with either of the above named gentlemen. The name of Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher, of 225 North Mill street, was omitted from the list of Ball studio prize winners printed in the last issue of The Mail. She was born, February 12, 1932.

Prohibition At An End In Nation—To Plan Organization

Not until after the special session of the state legislature called by Governor Comstock for November 22 will residents of Plymouth have any idea as to how the liquor question will be handled in this city and state.

With final repeal having been voted by the states of the Union Tuesday, there is nothing left to be done but set up machinery for the legal handling of liquor.

Michigan's officialdom has announced no plan for the regulation of the liquor traffic in the state, but numerous suggestions have been made. Lansing officials, greedy for all the taxes they can secure, have indicated that they would like to have all the money collected from the licensing of liquor handled by the state. Comstock has stated that some of the money should be used for the support of the public school system.

Plymouth officials have given no indication as to what attitude they might assume on the question. If local control should be granted under the law that the special session of the legislature has been called to pass.

Over Hundred Rare Quilts on Exhibit

The "rare" quilt and antique exhibit Tuesday afternoon in the Methodist Community hall sponsored by the missionary society of that church was a huge success. Judging by the attendance of about two hundred guests and having on exhibition one hundred and four quilts, of all ages, everyone but one, being owned by Plymouth ladies. The oldest of these was a homespun one having been made in 1774 and was loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Ada Murray.

Tea was served the guests by Mrs. Charles Merrill and Mrs. William Smith at a table of beautiful appointments centered with a large bowl of chestnuts.

Mrs. Fred Thomas was general chairman with Mrs. Tait, Mrs. Quakenbush, Mrs. Squires, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Sara Ross and Mrs. Martie McLaren as assistants. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Luther Passage and Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. Charles Ryder of the antiques. All the quilts were costumes of different periods.

Much credit is due those who made posters and Mrs. I. N. Dickerson, president of the society, and her able assistants wish to thank all who made this delightful afternoon a success either by working, loaning quilts or antiques or by attending.

Port Question Is Carried In County; Plymouth Opposed

While this part of Wayne county did not think now the proper time to start the construction of a port along the Detroit river for ocean going vessels, Detroit and the remainder of Wayne county decided that the establishment of Wayne county as the Port of Detroit was the proper thing. As a result of the election Tuesday all of Wayne county is now in the "Port of Detroit" and sometime within the next year or so work will be started along the river front.

Meanwhile the United States government and Canada will decide whether there shall be a deep waterway canal to the ocean. Many who opposed the port question thought it best that the treaty question first be settled, but advocates of the plan said that there is little question as to ratification of the treaty by the two countries.

The vote in Plymouth: Precinct 1 was 71 no, 53 yes, in precinct 2 there were 24 no votes and 21 yes votes, a total of 95 against and 74 for. The Plymouth township had only a total of 30 votes. It voted against it and 13 voting for it. Nankin township favored the port by a vote of 184 to 122 against it.

Business Group To Extend Fiscal Year

At a meeting of the officers and a number of members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to carry on the Chamber of Commerce activities as at present until next May when the annual meeting will be held and a new program for 1934-35 set up. This action extends the fiscal year for a period of three months.

President Paul A. Nutting will be continued in office until that time and Andrew C. Dunn as vice president and Roy Fisher as treasurer, will serve in those capacities for the extended period.

Secretary Berg Moore briefly reviewed many of the new activities forced upon the Chamber of Commerce as a result of the various governmental problems that have been turned over to that body.

Directors of the organization are Paul Nutting, A. C. Dunn, Roy Fisher, Herbert Swanson, E. C. Huston, Edward Mills and Arlo Emery.

Starting Nov. 7th and continuing to the end of current season, team play scheduled at 9 p. m. will begin at 8 p. m. It is hoped this will be more satisfactory to the night bowlers. The City of Plymouth and Michigan Federated Utilities rolled closest scores to date. The Gas House boys won the first game by a margin of 20 pins, the second game by 2 pins and lost the 3rd by 30 pins. The City of Plymouth during this game suffered an accident to his trousers, and when the ladies appeared on the scene, Vaughn was forced to retire in favor of a substitute. The Kiwanis bowling committee has decided to throw a big feed for "the last roundup" for the members of the 16 bowling teams at the end time and entertainment program to be given is tentative—but the committee has promised it will be a big night and plenty of fun. The ladies are certainly taking their bowling seriously. Already there are murmurs from the men who go dinnerless on Wednesday nights. An all-star ladies team will bowl the Kiwanis in a special match Monday, November 13th, at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited to see this game, come and get your seats early. Wednesday of every week is ladies day. Prizes are given away for high scores. It is hoped that soon some ladies teams may be formed. So far, only 80 colored. Those interested in forming teams are requested to call Mrs. Perry Richwine. Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Peniman avenue entertained several guests from Detroit at supper, Saturday evening.
