

Life In Prison Faces Youth For Brutal Slaying

George Evanich To Be Sentenced Soon For Killing Former Wife

Plymouth Shocked By One Of Most Brutal Crimes Ever Committed In This City

The final chapter in one of the most distressing tragedies Plymouth has ever known will probably be written within the next few days when George Evanich, youthful former husband of Mrs. Margaret E. Thumme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sackett, is taken into custody...

The deed was as cold-blooded and as premeditated as any ever committed in Wayne county. Enraged because his young wife had refused to return and live with him because of his conduct and things he had done since their marriage...

Mrs. Sackett and her daughter were upstairs in their residence on Forest street when someone walked into the kitchen. They came down stairs and saw the caller was and discovered Evanich, who stated that he had come to take his estranged wife back to Minnesota with him.

Mrs. Evanich stated that she had no intentions of going with him and asked that he please not bother her in the future as he had done in the past. When he failed to go Mrs. Sackett went to the phone and called a room M. Sackett who was on duty at that time for the local police department.

Evanich called to her and told her to cancel the call and before she could answer, she heard a shot fired and he escaped through the back door. The shot fired at close range, passed through the heart and killed Mrs. Evanich instantly. Local police went to the scene a few minutes later Police Officer Charles Thumme arrested a man in the Plymouth Hotel who answered the description given by Sackett as Evanich and identification was established and Evanich was taken to the local jail where he confessed to the crime.

Early Sunday morning acting on a tip from the Plymouth police department, sheriff's officers arrested, Simone McKean, 28 years old youth who Evanich stated brought him to Plymouth in his car. McKean stated he had no part in the affair but that he had waited out in front of the Sackett residence while Evanich was in the car and that he knew of Evanich's plans to kill his wife.

A first degree murder charge was placed against both of the men and at the arraignment held Monday afternoon at the city hall in front of Judge Perry W. Richwine, Evanich pleaded guilty and waived examination and McKean entered a plea of not guilty. His examination was set for today at 3 p. m. News of the crime was a shock to the many friends of Mrs. Evanich and her family. Long resident of Plymouth she had a wide circle of friends among the younger people of the city. She was highly respected by everyone. The funeral, held Tuesday afternoon at the Schrader funeral home was attended by a large number of floral tributes being many and beautiful. Burial took place in Riverside.

Resume Work On City Projects

Plymouth Has 34 Men On Part Time Basis For Present

Work on two CWA projects in Plymouth has resumed and some 34 men will be given part time employment in this city during the next few weeks. A release of funds has been secured for the completion of improvements on the city hall and on the over-head passage way at the high school and the work will be finished as soon as the men who are to be continued on the jobs can do the work. Men with larger families will be given 24 hours work each week. Others who do not have large families will be given 12 hours per week, according to rulings made by the government. City Manager Perry Cookingham states that probably by the end of April most of this work will be cleared away.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dunn have promised to send Blue bells of Scotland, Fox gloves, and Iris to the Flower Market, May 12.

CONGRATULATIONS

Plymouth citizens have every reason to be proud of its police department and the men that make up its force. Proud not only of the department, but they should extend to Patrolman Charles Thumme special appreciation for the splendid work he did in the quick capture and arrest of the murderer guilty of the brutal slaying of his wife last Saturday evening. Acting on the meager description given him hurriedly, Officer Thumme set out to see if he might not pick up the fellow somewhere on the streets. Possessing the "intuition" that makes an officer a good officer, he called into some of the places where one suspected of crime might be expected to drop out of sight in the moments following such a tragedy. Sitting at a table guzzling beer, sat a fellow trying to assume all the airs of a care-free drinking customer. Thumme questioned him with the usual denials but like the good officer that he is, Thumme was not to be fooled and he arrested him, with the confession coming a few minutes later. All of the officers of the department, including Chief Smith, did all of the things that veteran police officials are expected to do in such cases and the result of it is that the guilty person is now locked in jail, the county has been saved a big sum in hunting him down and in securing a conviction in such cases, which frequently run into large sums of money. Right along this line we might go one step further and say that while Plymouth has one of the best little police departments of any little city in the country, it also has one of the best managed city governments. City Manager Perry Cookingham, to whom the police department is responsible, is one of the outstanding city administrators in Michigan. Indeed Plymouth is a fortunate city in more ways than one. Its officials are entitled to the highest commendation for the splendid way they are conducting the municipal affairs of the community.

George said "Don't say Margaret, say Margaret Evanich - E-V-A-N-I-C-H. Q. After you shot Margaret, did you see her fall? A. When I shot Margaret, I saw someone fall. She fell down. Q. What did you do then? A. I don't know whether I went out of the back door or front door. Q. If you went out the back door would you have stepped over your wife, Margaret? A. "I killed her, my wife. I admit it. I loved that woman always." Q. Where did you throw your gun when you left the house? A. When I went down the street, I had a bottle and I threw the gun and bottle. Officer brought in gun which had been found in a vacant lot on Forest Avenue, four lots north of 815 Forest Avenue. Knobloch, "Is this your gun?" A. "Yes that is my gun 407."

Oliver Goldsmith, candidate for re-election as a member of the city commission, and Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple were Monday elected by the voters as members of the Plymouth city commission. Mrs. Whipple fills the place vacated by the refusal of Mayor Freeman B. Hoover to seek another term. To Commissioner Goldsmith goes the distinction of getting the highest number of votes of any candidate on the ticket. There was a close fight between Ford Brooks and John Dayton for municipal justice. Attorney Dayton winning the place by just two votes over his opponent. Because of the fact that there was such a close vote on the office Mr. Brooks decided to ask for a recount and had filed his petition for it but Attorney John Crandall, appearing for Mr. Dayton, asked an injunction in circuit court in Detroit Wednesday preventing the recount. It was alleged that there had been some error made in the filing of the petition for the recount. Apparently the voters of the city were well satisfied with the city affairs as being conducted and they were satisfied with all of the candidates on the ticket, because of the fact that by far less than half of the voters of the city turned out to vote Monday. It was one of the smallest votes in recent years at a general city election. Following is the vote by precincts:

Table with 3 columns: Precinct, Pct. 1, Pct. 2. Rows include Goldsmith (289, 96), Brooks (289, 96), Mummy (244, 87), Smith (248, 83), Dayton (294, 76), Brooks (297, 71).

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Of Newburg Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Thurman of Newburg celebrated their Golden anniversary Tuesday April 3. They held open house from 2 o'clock until 9. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants presented by friends. Besides the floral offerings many beautiful and useful gifts were received. Many friends gathered to offer congratulations, and those from a distance being Mr. and Mrs. L. Rollins of Platte City, Mo., Mrs. Frankie Fry of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. G. D. Shewey of Trimble, Mo., and Mrs. May McDaniel of Kearney, Mo.

John Dayton Wins As Judge By Two Votes Over F. Brooks - Recount Fight In Sight

An order to show cause as to why the city commission of Plymouth should grant a recount as requested by Attorney Ford Brooks in his contest with John W. Dayton for municipal justice was issued in circuit court by Judge Homer Ferguson late Wednesday afternoon. It was secured by Attorney John Crandall and is to remain in place on city officials. Unless the city commission decides to contest the show cause order, there will be no recount of the ballots. It was stated Thursday that Ford Brooks, who lost the place by two votes, would not urge that the matter go to court and that he would doubtless abide by the result of the recount. Mr. Dayton to assume office.

Oliver Goldsmith, candidate for re-election as a member of the city commission, and Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple were Monday elected by the voters as members of the Plymouth city commission. Mrs. Whipple fills the place vacated by the refusal of Mayor Freeman B. Hoover to seek another term.

To Commissioner Goldsmith goes the distinction of getting the highest number of votes of any candidate on the ticket. There was a close fight between Ford Brooks and John Dayton for municipal justice. Attorney Dayton winning the place by just two votes over his opponent.

Because of the fact that there was such a close vote on the office Mr. Brooks decided to ask for a recount and had filed his petition for it but Attorney John Crandall, appearing for Mr. Dayton, asked an injunction in circuit court in Detroit Wednesday preventing the recount.

Apparently the voters of the city were well satisfied with the city affairs as being conducted and they were satisfied with all of the candidates on the ticket, because of the fact that by far less than half of the voters of the city turned out to vote Monday. It was one of the smallest votes in recent years at a general city election. Following is the vote by precincts:

Lutherans Plan Big Homecoming

Members Arrange Special Services All Day Sunday

Members of the St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church will Sunday conduct a homecoming festival for its members and friends, the event commemorating long years of diligent and faithful service to the city of Plymouth. St. Peter's Lutheran church was founded on March 5th, 1883 by the sainted missionary pastor F. Schmidt of Ann Arbor, after he had served this locality with the preaching of the Gospel for a number of years previously. The original 12 members, being both poor settlers and farmers of the community, it was impossible for them to erect a new house of worship, so the old church of the local Baptist congregation was acquired. This was but a humble shack, according to the testimony of those still living who saw it and worshipped in it, yet to those who recall the event commemorating long years of diligent and faithful service to the city of Plymouth.

Lynn Clark of Detroit was a guest Sunday and Monday at the Coello Hamilton home on Hamilton street. The Henry Baker's are improving their home on Sheridan avenue with an addition of a sun parlor. Miss Mary Ann Collinge of Lansing was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Reck from Monday until Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson O. Huston and the latter's sister, Mrs. Elmer Reichnecker, arrived home Wednesday from their sojourn in Miami, Florida.

Senator John W. Reid Coming To Talk To Women Voters League

The next meeting of the League of Women Voters will be held Monday April 9th at the home of Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple and Senator John Reid as the speaker.

Senator Reid gave a very interesting talk to this group a year ago and it is with a very friendly eagerness his coming on Monday is awaited. He will have much material to discuss after the last year of legislative controversy. Many are especially interested to hear his opinion of the "Referendum" on the $38,000,000 state building program which is to be voted on April 30.

This is an open meeting and all women of Plymouth interested are invited to be guests of the League that day. Members are urged to be present at 2 p. m. so that the business meeting may be finished by 2:30 p. m.

Don F. Safford Killed In A Fire

Escape Cut Off In Hotel. He Jumps From The Third Floor

Old Plymouth school friends of Don F. Safford, who was born here and graduated from the Plymouth high school, were shocked and grieved to learn of his death last Wednesday in a hotel fire at Longview, Texas, where he had gone on business. Mr. Safford, a brother of Mrs. Alice Safford of Plymouth, was well known here. After he graduated from school, he went to Grand Rapids to work later going south in the automobile business. For many years past he had made his home in Dallas, Texas. He frequently visited Plymouth and kept his old ties with his home town community. Miss Safford lived with her brother in Dallas from 1920 to 1927, returning here to enter in business.

New dispatches state that Mr. Safford had gone to Longview with another business man of Dallas. Fire broke out during the night and trapped on the third floor Mr. Safford made an effort to save himself by jumping. He was instantly killed. One other man was burned to death and twenty injured.

Mr. Safford's funeral was held in Dallas last Saturday and because of his activities in behalf of Boy Scout work, all the pall bearers were young admirers of the Boy Scouts. Mr. Safford was a popular student and football player in the Texas City. There was a Boy Scout troop of honor in the procession.

The funeral was largely attended. Mr. Safford was a well known and prominent resident of Dallas. He was 52 years of age. Mr. Safford, a son Don, Jr., and his sisters, Miss Alice Safford of Plymouth and Mrs. Hadley Underwood of Detroit, survive.

Ice Still Covers Lake Near Here

Phoenix Lake Coated Latest Any One Ever Recalls

April 5—and Phoenix lake is still frozen over. While the ice is soft and has been raised nearly two feet by the flood waters that have been raging for the past week, the entire surface of the lake is still covered by a thick coat of ice. Not in the memory of the oldest residents in this locality has such a thing before been recalled. Phoenix lake wasn't Phoenix lake until a number of years ago when Henry Ford built the present dam and raised it many feet, but the ice is again almost the first days of settlement about here, the Phoenix mill pond located near where the present Ford Phoenix factory stands was the old White's grist mill and the mill pond covered not quite half the ground that is occupied by Phoenix lake. Harry Robinson who has spent practically his entire life in this locality and has passed the old Phoenix mill pond almost daily during all of these years, says he never recalls of seeing ice on the lake but the ice is out in February or early March, never later than the middle of March said Mr. Robinson.

How Township Elections Near Here Resulted

Plymouth Republicans Unopposed—Northville Democrats Lose Fight

Canton Names One Republican and Redford Upsets Affairs Electing Democratic Supervisor

Township elections held the center of interest in this part of the state Monday in Plymouth township because of only one ticket, there was practically no interest in the balloting. In Northville the Democrats made another terrific effort to elect their ticket but without success. In Redford township there was an upset. Supervisor Sylvester Shearer being defeated by Richard Jaynes, a Democrat. However in all other townships, including Democratic Canton, the incumbents were re-elected.

With only the Republican ticket in the field, the annual township election in Plymouth township was entirely devoid of excitement or interest. Only 37 voters, Samuel Spicer, candidate for re-election as township treasurer running off with the highest vote. He secured 37 votes, one more than did Charles Rathburn for supervisor. Mr. Rathburn received 36 votes, Norman Miller, for township clerk, received 36; George Richwine and Maude Bennett were re-elected justices of the peace. Melvin Partridge was renamed as highway commissioner; Floyd Miller as highway overseer; Ben Blunk was re-elected member of the board of review and Harry Keyes, John Calhoun, Vern Wilson and Chas. Davis were elected constables.

Urges Caution Against Trend

Judge Guy A. Miller Gives Splendid Talk To Kiwanians

One of the finest addresses ever delivered to a local service club was presented by Hon. Guy A. Miller, Circuit Judge of Wayne county at last Tuesday's Kiwanian meeting. The Judge cautioned those present as to the present trend of government toward a highly centralized government at Washington. While the name of Thomas Jefferson, the beloved third president of the United States, is lauded as the founder of true democracy still Judge Miller warns "that he is being remembered in name only." The principle that the Government governs best that governs least should sink more deeply into the hearts of the American people.

Many a man who is highly regarded in the community is sent to Washington or even Lansing as a representative of the people and become a person of no account due to his new surroundings and his separation from the close critical eyes of his fellow townsmen. The speaker stated that only by strong local government could the people ever hope to continue as a truly progressive nation. The trend of the banking in the United States was discussed in detail and the advantages of a strong system of local state banks were very clearly set forth. Judge Miller seemed to be very much in favor of the steps taken by our government in relieving unemployment but expressed his regret that the Federal Reserve finance was not being followed. The Judge stated "that the only honest way a government could set money was by the levying of taxes and the only way to maintain a sound credit system was to honor and pay its just debts, and the only way that the debts could be paid was by a balanced budget with proper provision for retirement of obligations with dollars of the same value at the time the obligation was incurred."

Sewing Machine Clinic To Be Held April 12th

In a recent report textile manufacturing companies stated their industry was rapidly increasing due to the increasing sales of yard goods. This means that more home sewing is being done.

In the past year the almost forgotten sewing machine has been taken from an out-of-the-way place to be put to use again. The Department of many women, the machine has not run so smoothly as it once did. It has become gummed-up with dust and oil and no amount of persuasion can get it going again. Thanks to Miss Emma DuBord Wayne county home demonstration agent, she has arranged for a sewing machine clinic to be held at the school on Friday, April 13, beginning at 10 a. m. A notice will be posted at the entrance of the building designating the room. Mr. Bell, agricultural engineer, in the extension division at Michigan State College, will take charge of the clinic. There are no charges for this service. Ten sewing machines are taken care of under his supervision. Those interested in having their machine cared for at this time may have reservations made by phoning Mrs. Glenn Renwick, 558-M. The demonstration will also be beneficial to those whose machines are in good working order but who do not want to take them to the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Partridge of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Grandstaff and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grandstaff of Ortonville and Mrs. Curtis Grandstaff of Detroit were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge on North Territorial Road Sunday evening. Mrs. LeRoy Grandstaff and Mrs. Owen Partridge and Mrs. N. G. Partridge accompanied Mrs. Curtis Grandstaff to her home in Detroit where they remained until Monday and attended the Michigan State College where they had the pleasure of seeing Mary Pickford in person.

Last Thursday, March 29, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Perkins entertained twelve guests at a bridge luncheon at their home, 417 North street in honor of their daughter, Marian. At this time the announcement of the engagement of Miss Perkins to William R. Not of Ann Arbor was made. Miss Perkins and Mr. Not were honored Sunday with a dinner at the home of his sister, Mrs. Donald Forrest in Pontiac, who also announced her engagement. The wedding date has not been set.

To Repeat "Thy Kingdom Come"

Sacred Pageant At The School Auditorium Sunday Eve

"Thy Kingdom Come," a semi-sacred pageant in five acts in which nearly half a hundred local residents will appear in the various parts, many of which are musical numbers, will be repeated Sunday evening at the high school auditorium under the personal direction of Miss Florence M. Blader, a teacher of the Starkweather school.

The pageant, "Thy Kingdom Come," was written by Miss Stader, an endeavor to reveal to men why the sin of mortal belief in self blinds the soul. It will reveal to some who have not been lifted up spiritually into the glories of love and harmony with God. It attempts to answer the question for many, "Why does the Kingdom of God not come?" The prayer that everyone says when they repeat the prayer that Our Lord taught us to say.

There are forty-three characters in the pageant. Most of the characters are in costume and labeled which will assist the audience. (Continued on page four)

FORGET IT

The election is now a thing of the past. Everyone seems satisfied with it and Plymouth has nothing to fear as a result of it. The defeated candidates have no reason to feel hurt in the slightest by the verdict of the voters. Everyone who sought office was qualified and deserving of filling the position to which he aspired, but everyone cannot win and as a result of circumstances over which no one has control, the result is that some lost and some won. Plymouth would have been just as well off if the losers had won, because they were all good citizens and have the good of the community at heart. We face a new year in civic life with no critical situation confronting the community. We have our problems, it is true, and these we should take care of as soon as possible. We predict for the new city commission and the newly elected judge a most successful administration of the responsibilities which they are to assume.

SOME THINGS WE'VE FOUND OUT ABOUT TAXES

One of the strange whims of public psychology in this country is the fallacious belief that taxes are paid by the other fellow!

We read with interest in our newspaper that some millionaire had paid $500,000 in income taxes and congratulate ourselves that our own income tax bill is only a few dollars. If we would stop and figure it out, we might discover that $500,000 was only a small amount compared to that millionaire's income, while the amount we paid proportionately was much larger.

We read of high taxes in another state, and again extend congratulations to ourselves that we are getting off so cheaply. But that high tax may have represented the total, or a large part of the taxes paid, while we pay a number of taxes, each small in amount, but actually totaling more than those of our neighbors.

Then there are special levies, like the federal gasoline tax. Some of us think this is paid by the gasoline companies. It isn't; it is paid by each of us every time we buy gasoline. Perhaps we think it is small because the tax is only one cent a gallon. But that means $6 a year to the average motorist, and while $6 in itself isn't so much, it is really $6 added to an average of $24 in state gasoline taxes, plus state registration fees, drivers' licenses, property taxes, lubricating oil taxes, wheel taxes, and others.

All in one we buy our car over again in taxes about every four years! Some demon statistician has figured that in the life of the average car, seven years' taxes upon it amount to 186.9 per cent of its value. In fact, the total tax rate on the average car today is estimated at 26.7 per cent of value!

If the average taxpayer fully was aware of these facts and realized how much taxes really cost him, it is probable the would be in sympathy with this current movement to eliminate federal taxes upon gasoline. Of course, it isn't what anyone would call substantial tax reduction, but it represents a saving and it probably is the only kind of tax reduction the federal government can afford to give the people this year. This movement is interesting in another way. It is based largely upon an effort to encourage taxpayers to taking enough interest in the affairs of the government, and in tax reduction, to write a letter to their Senators and Representatives urging them to vote for the elimination of this duplicating federal tax upon gasoline. Most of the time, Congressmen at Washington say they have to guess what their constituents want. Here's a chance to tell them!—Courier, Harvard, Nebr.

SAFEGUARDING PUBLIC FUNDS

Judging by the number of investigations that are being made of the expenditures of our state and national officials there is a need for the development of an informed and intelligent citizenship.

The state law requires or permits county clerks, city clerks and other official tax-spending bodies to publish a statement of all claims authorized and ordered paid. The purpose of the law is to acquaint the interested citizens with the expenditures of the various units, to advise them as to just how and for what the tax money is being spent.

It was one of the wisest laws ever enacted from the standpoint of safeguarding public funds and insuring them against waste, extravagance and misuse. When the controlling body knows that it must account publicly for every cent it spends and that every citizen is to be given the opportunity of scrutinizing every item of expenditure, there is a natural tendency to be careful and cautious in the appropriation of funds.

Without any reflection upon anyone, we undertake to say that many unwise expenditures would not have been made had the governing bodies known that the full glare of publicity would be turned upon their monthly claims.

A newspaper is handicapped in advocating an extension of this policy to all tax spending bodies for the reason that it might be a beneficiary of the policy. The published exhibit of claims is paid matter and at least one newspaper should receive this business. Yet the amount of the cost is, we think, but a small insurance premium for the protection given.—News, Fairbury, Nebr.

A BLATHERSKITE

Hidden on the inside pages of some of the big metropolitan newspapers was a dispatch from Lansing last Saturday stating that the charges made by Auditor General Stack that double payments had been made for property for the Grand Trunk right of way in Oakland county were incorrect, and that the clerks in his office had erred in making the check.

His first charge that there had been graft and rottenness in these deals was carried in streaming first page headlines in the same big newspapers. This is not the first time that the Blatherskite Auditor General has been forced to correct charges of crookedness that have come out of his office.

Seemingly he and his whole staff are spending their entire time trying to find some little thing on which to base charges of wrong doing and every time he finds what appears on the face of it to be an error, he calls in the newspaper correspondents and tells them that there is a big story of crookedness and wrong doing by some one that held office before ME and my family took office.

And just as frequently as he has made these charges, just as frequently has he later had to deny them—but always in smaller type and with much less ado.

It is about time the decent people of Michigan kicked this greedy, fourflushing character assasin out of office. His vicious method of running the affairs of an important state office justifies his immediate removal from public life.

PERISH THE THOUGHT

Well, well! what's this I read about the virtuous Congress of ours? A vote on the bill to regulate the stock exchange is liable to not come up in this Congress and the reason hinted is that J. P. Morgan sold air mail stock short just before the contracts were cancelled. Can it be that someone in this virtuous administration whispered into Mr. Morgan's ear what was liable to happen or what was contemplated? Perish the thought. The rogues, the chiselers and the money changers are all of the past. The New Deal has reformed everybody and if the rogues are reformed they are consigned to the Republican party.—Thomas Conlin in the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

MICHIGAN
When we get the winter's biggest snow in the spring, well, that's Michigan—James Haskins in The Howard City Record.

SALOON RESPECTABILITY
We agree with those who, observing the present uncontrolled evils of the "beer parlors" and "gardens," suggest using instead the old-fashioned word "saloon." Indeed, for average respectability the saloon of a former day certainly held less harm for youth than many of today's dispensaries of beer and liquor do.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

We got a laugh out of reading the Hartford Day Spring last week and learning from it that Mrs. Irene Foulkes, wife of Congressman George Foulkes, is one of thirteen candidates for appointment as postmaster (or postmistress) in that village. We may be wrong, but we are almost willing to stake our reputation for truth and veracity upon a statement that this is probably the first time in the history of America when a congressman's wife had been a candidate for the home town postoffice. The Foulkes son is in the office of Attorney General Patrick H. O'Brien at Lansing. With father in congress, son in Lansing, and mother in the postoffice the family would certainly be well provided for.—Wm. H. Berkey in Cassopolis Vigilant.

SWINGING TO STATE RIGHTS

A reading of the last two decisions of the U. S. Supreme court would lead one to the opinion that the court in swinging back from the submerging of the rights of the states to run their own affairs to one of sustaining the rights of the state to such actions unless surrendered under the constitution to the federal government.

The legislation that is being ground out in Congress now and that at the special session has brought up a lot of questions that will surely go to the court for disposal. The two important decisions, that in the Minnesota mortgage case and the other the New York milk case, were brought about by a 5 to 4 count. The division is popularly supposed to be along a conservative and liberal line of thinking. It's also hinted that the court is keeping its ear to the ground.—Tom Conlin in the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

In the course of his sermon Sunday morning, Dr. A. P. Way used this significant statement recently made by one of America's religious leaders:

"We need to realize that any system which produces so much food that its people starve and so much clothing that they freeze, any system that can pass a law limiting the number of fish a man can take from a lake but cannot pass a law limiting the number of millions a man can take out of his fellow man, can make one stop expectorating in a subway for fear others will catch his disease but cannot stop another from selling arms for profit to gangsters who will shoot us down on our streets, or to other nations who will mow down our youth on the battlefield of tomorrow. any system that can protect property but seems impotent to protect folks—is a tragic reflection on our sanity and a repudiation of all the principles of religion."—Muri De Foe, Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

Newspaper Editorial Contest Has Been Decided-To Print Series

A small town barber, who spends his idle moments in writing and reading—writing of the outdoors and of similar subjects—was today announced as the winner of the Adrian Van Koevring editorial contest on the subject "Why Community Newspaper." W. G. Mills, almost a life long resident of the little country town of Hanover, way over in one corner of Jackson county, will this week receive a check for $25 for writing a few brief paragraphs declared by a committee of careful judges to be the best of many hundreds that were entered in the contest from all parts of Michigan.

To Gerald Henry of Lowell, a graduate of the literary department of the University of Michigan and of the Detroit Law School and a student who has specialized in journalism, was awarded the second prize of $10 offered by the Michigan Press Association. Mr. Henry has spent much of his time in writing both news matter and fiction, numerous magazines having purchased material from him. Mr. Mills, too, the first prize winner, even though his livelihood comes from the conduct of a barbershop, has had articles accepted for publication in some well known magazines devoted to outdoor sports.

The winning article appears in this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail. The second winner's article will be published next week. Because of the excellence of so many of the articles contributed, it has been decided by The Plymouth Mail to publish a series of them. They will appear, one each week, following immediately after the publication of the first prize winners.

While the first prize winner was offered by Mr. Van Koevring, the very successful publisher of The Zeeland Record, he turned over to The Michigan Press Association the responsibility of conducting the details of the contest.

When the contest was launched, the committee in charge anticipated that there would be possibly 50 or 75 entries, but when the number ran into the hundreds every one associated with the contest in any way was amazed at the interest. It was because of the large number of entries that it has required such a long time to select the winners.

Prof. A. H. Nelson, head of the department of journalism of the Michigan State college, served as chairman of the committee and he has conducted much of the detailed work associated with the contest.

So that members of the committee might not permit names or location to in any way influence them, copies of all the entries were made, then numbered and the awards were made by number to the officials of The Michigan Press Association, who held the original copies with the numbers of each.

The articles point out very clearly the important place in community life occupied by its newspaper. When the entire series will have been published, readers of Michigan's weekly newspapers will have a fairly one year a total of $43.40 cents, according to the annual financial report of the township published in The Mail.

TRIAL ELECTRIC RANGES!

WAX string beans, for example, are cooked on your electric range with only 1/4 cup of water. Simmering over gentle electric heat, the beans are steam-cooked—not boiled!—conserving all their nourishing food values and steaming to melting tenderness. This is the result of using a minimum of water. An excess of water, afterwards poured into the sink (the cooking method ordinarily used) wastes the very things you pay for and deprives you of important minerals and natural elements.

* We want you to try this waterless electric cooking in your own kitchen—without making any investment or being under any obligation. So we have arranged a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense.

Since this trial plan was begun a short time ago, over 1500 of our customers have taken advantage of the offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!

There comes the astonishing information through the pages of the Literary Digest, that in 1932 the members of a certain church denomination spent for pleasure and amusement the vast sum of $166,000,000 itemized as follows: Tobacco, $40,000,000; movies, $25,000,000 to $40,000,000; week-end trips $21,000,000; soft drinks and gum $35,000,000; cosmetics and beauty parlor treatments $43,000,000.

Evidently in the church there are many who are "lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God. Has not the scripture said: 'Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.' 'Know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God?' 'What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have in God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit which are God's.' We see millions spent for to satisfy the lusts and desires of the flesh, but how little is given to spread the Gospel. True we can have our own way in this life and then go in eternity without hope and without a saviour, but friends let us the Gospel of Jesus Christ that gives life to the penitent sinner.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 1. Among the Bible citations was this passage: "For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him." Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 275): "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is. All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God."

THE CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR

Independent Baptist
 "There was in a certain village, a very mean man who sold wood to his neighbors, and who always took advantage of them by cutting his logs a few inches under the required four feet. One day the report was circulated that the woodchopper had been converted. Nobody believed the report, for they all declared that he was beyond being reached. One man, however, slipped quietly out of the grocery store where the "conversion" was being discussed and soon came running back in excitement and shouted: "It's so! He has been!" They all asked: "How do you know?" "Why, I have been over and measured the wood that he cut yesterday. It is good four feet long!" That testimony convinced the crowd. This is, to be sure, a very homely incident, but it brings out the important truth that THE PERSON WHO ACCEPTS CHRIST MUST FIRST BECOME A NEW MAN—HIS NEW FAITH MUST MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN HIS LIFE.—"Therefore if any man be of Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." II Corinthians 5:17.

All glory to God for another young man who has given his heart to the Lord. In these days of uncertainty it truly makes one rejoice to see a young person decide for Christ and turn from the world. "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof, but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever." 1 John 2:15-17.

Our prayer and praise service held on Wednesday evenings is surely a time of blessing and a time of drawing near unto our Lord. You cannot afford to miss the spiritual benefit derived from this meeting, if that is what you are looking for in these dark days God is answering our prayers. He is faithful to His own. Lutherans Plan Big Homecoming (Continued from page one) building, the original part of the present, remodeled structure, was erected in 1886, under the pastorate of Rev. Wm. Renz, a church bell was acquired and a Ladies Aid Society organized. During the course of the 78 years of her history, approximately 20 pastors have served this congregation, excluding the present pastor who has been with the church for five years.

In 1926 the church was entirely remodeled at a considerable expense. Last year the basement was completed, now affording a seating capacity at tables to about 150 guests. During the year previous to that the auditorium was decorated.

Overlooking the beautiful, new Wayne County Parkway, the church has a truly suitable location, despite the fact that it stands at the very eastern end of Spring street. With the anticipated development of the large tract of ideally situated property just east of the church, the building will dominate one of the more beautiful sections of our attractive city.

The homecoming celebration will take the form of a Festival service at 10:30 a. m., the pastor delivering the sermon on the words of the disciples of Emmaus: "Lord, Abide With Us," and the choir rendering suitable selections. A festival dinner will be served at noon to our guests and to the people of the congregation.

After dinner an informal program will be given under the chairmanship of Oliver Goldsmith. Win. Renz, former pastor of the church, and now connected with the Toledo Court, and Fred Schrader, friend and benefactor of the congregation for many years, have kindly consented to address the afternoon audience.

Miss Alice Walker and William Wasmund will sing. The floral decorations of the church and the dining room are in the hands of William Bartel of the Bartel Greenhouses on Plymouth road. The dinner appointments are in the hands of Mrs. Oscar Frenthet. Mrs. O. Wilkison is chairman of the reception committee.

The congregation today numbers about 300 communicant members and 365 souls. One hundred are enrolled in the Sunday school.

Make Late Season Visit To Escape Changes Of Weather

By John Lodwick St. Petersburg, Fla.—Northern summer resorts can expect their tourist registrations here, providing, of course, that this city of sunshine does not fall as a barometer of twenty years standing. Tourist registrations here are 37 percent over that of last season with every state in the Union and every Canadian province represented in addition to more than 30 foreign countries.

Every hotel has been filled to capacity since early January, every apartment house and every available private room resulting in business conditions here comparable with the hectic boom days of '24-'25. Early in the unprecedented rush of the Christmas holidays, merchants found stocks running dangerously low and frantic efforts to replenish fast moving goods were made in rush calls to northern markets. In many instances shopkeepers were caught unprepared.

New fashions in the smarter gown shops disappeared as if by magic when placed on display. The social calendar for the season was the most brilliant in many years. Many of the deluxe hotels are remaining open into April to meet with the demand for extended accommodations.

St. Petersburg's winter season ends annually with its most colorful and extravagant Festival of States celebration, a week of entertainment featuring water regattas, float parades, pageants, baby shows and dinner dances, mammoth open air card parties with hundreds of beautiful prizes to winners, sport tournaments of every nature, staidstuffs, afternoon teas and dinner dances, coronation ball, major league baseball games and many other attractions.

The Festival also serves to open the spring vacation and tarpon fishing season, bringing thousands of newcomers here.

Birmingham and vicinity is represented by many late arrivals who will stay through to June among the new arrivals who are enjoying their stay in the Sunshine City from Birmingham are Mr. and Mrs. George R. Averill, Mrs. M. J. Donaldson, Stanley Peabody, Patricia Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stroup, F. J. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Westcott, and Miss Nancy Weeks.

Recent visitors from Ann Arbor who are enjoying the active rays of Old Sol are Mrs. A. R. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. L. Forsythe, Mrs. Walter R. Garth, Dr. J. H. Herrick, John Kennedy, Mr. Emmet Pool, Mrs. Earl Stewart, and Miss Helen Hathaway.

CRUMBING to ruin, this 35 room mansion on the estate of the late Harlow Higginbotham near Joliet, Ill., is haunted, according to many. Some who do not believe in spooks assert nevertheless that there are strange goings-on at night in the abandoned old house. Built at a cost of $200,000, the mansion was deserted seven months after it was completed.

WHY A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER? Contest Sponsored by Adrain Van Koeveering of Zeeland, Michigan. By W. G. MILLS, Hanover, Michigan (First Prize). Theodore Roosevelt was once asked, during a friendly discussion of relative values, to name three things which he would consider most essential to his welfare should he be marooned on an uninhabited island. His answer was most significant when he said: "First, I would most desire my family. Second, my home-town newspaper. Third, my gun."

to direct and to further the cultural, educational and spiritual life of its community, in addition to the dissemination of news. It holds as a sacred obligation the furtherance of all projects designed for public benefit, and it opposes with equal determination that which is detrimental. It is the clearing-house for opinions expressed by expert and reader alike. The community newspaper occupies a traditional place in the existence of its home town parallel in importance to the school and the church. It is an integral part of the realization of pioneer efforts to constructive living, the mouth-piece of an enterprising and progressive element of national life. The spirit of neighborliness is engendered by the familiarity with which it treats its family of readers; its flexible editorial policies permit of some reportorial treatment of the news of twin calves born to Bill Jones' cow as given to news of world-wide importance. And the same fine editorial discrimination compels the absence of news in its columns which directs unfavorable attention on a matter of its circle. By close adherence to a policy which is dictated by a philosophy peculiar to rural whites, the community newspaper has come to be regarded as an scribes enjoy seeking for the average home-town editor. It is the tie which binds the common interest of John Brown, who operates the corner store, with Jersey on his farm three miles south of town, by its influence the community spirit of interdependence is promoted. Intimate news is made available in the far removed from childhood associations, and through its sympathetic knowledge of community affairs it has become a vital necessity to all community programs of progress. Your community newspaper needs you — you need your community newspaper!

Crab Meat Canapes. Toast slices of bread and cut into circles, then into crescents. Cover with crab meat seasoned with lemon juice, salt, cayenne and moisten with a little thick white sauce. Cover the crescents rounding over the top. Spread with two tablespoonfuls of butter and one teaspoonful of egg white. Sprinkle with cheese and brown in a quick oven. Lobster meat may be used the same way.

Mushroom Canapes. Sauté mushrooms in butter until nicely cooked, season with salt and a dash of cayenne and place on thin rounds of toasted and buttered bread. Cover with chopped hard-cooked eggs. Garnish with curls of lettuce or sprigs of water cress.

MARITAL BRAKES A CHICAGO Judge who has had 40,000 cases of marital disputes before him and reconciled 2,000 of the couples, feels that he knows something about why people go to the divorce courts and—more important—how they can be kept out of them. At the bottom of most marital unhappiness, this Judge of Chicago finds, are trivialities. "Such a simple thing as a wife waving goodbye to her husband when he goes to work in the morning would avert a good many divorces," he says. And most important among all his conclusions, is the conviction that "most people want to do the right thing, but are the usual, trivial causes of trouble can be defeated by just observing a few simple rules. Here they are: 1. Have patience with each other. 2. Work together, play together, grow up together. 3. In all disputes avoid excited talk. 4. Do not conceal little differences until they accumulate to the breaking point; discuss them calmly. 5. Be frank with each other. 6. Sympathy and mutual understanding are the pillars of the home. 7. Good humor in parting in the morning and a cheerful greeting at night. 8. Share responsibilities. 9. Establish a home of your own. 10. Make your bedtime prayers a review of the day and never go to sleep without a clean slate. Certainly these are all very simple things, and none of the rules is startlingly new. If they are the answer to marital peace and happiness, and most of us will readily agree, why are they individually not more frequently observed? Doubtless because they are simple enough and seem easy enough, and everything is going amiss. It is when they are most needed, however, when there is resentment and dissention and botheadedness, that these simple remedies are not so easy to observe. It is like telling a vehicle that is rolling rapidly down hill to be reasonable in turning the corner. That, you may say, is what we have brakes for. And that is exactly how married people should use such a set of rules—as brakes, when they feel things going down hill. Once they stop you, the rest is simple enough. What they tell you to do is really what you want to do. It's the stopping to think about it that is the big thing.

IN MEMORIAM
In sad but loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. W. P. Beyer who passed away fifteen years ago, on April 11. As the years have passed on, our thoughts of you have been often and dear. Your eyes were closed in sleep, while in vain our hearts were grieving. Even though it was hard to give you up, we know that you have only crossed to yonder shore, where there is no Sin, Sorrow or Pain. While our life canoe of the future is waiting to sail some day to meet you again. Husband and daughter. 11pd

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Charles Wolff Sr., who passed away April 9, 1922. That loving heart, those willing hands.

Do You Know
That the most deadly of all African snakes is the Black Mamba. From its bite, death ensues in from 10 to 20 minutes. The cobra and adders are also very deadly and the python, although not venomous, crushes its prey in its powerful coils.

GOLDSMITH FRIEND OF CLUB, NOT A MEMBER
Through haste in "pulling" a line in political advertisement last week, the correction made it appear that Oliver Goldsmith was a member of the Ex-Service Men's Club. The corrected line was intended to show that he was a close friend of the club, instead of a member. There was no intent on the part of any one to convey a fact that was not correct.

ROGER J. VAUGHN, 1532 Detroit St., Flint, Mich. PROBATE NOTICE 174497

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Wayne, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for said County of Wayne, held at the Probate Court room in the City of Detroit, on the twenty-eighth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-four, Present JOSEPH A. MURPHY, Judge of Probate.

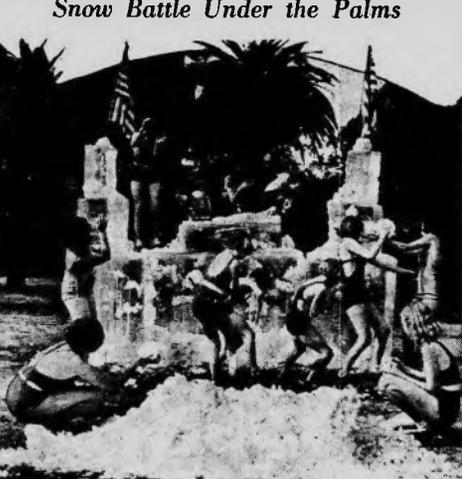

In the Matter of the Estate of EMMA PIERSON, Deceased. On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Roger J. Vaughn, administrator of said estate, praying that he be licensed to sell certain real estate of said deceased for the purpose of paying the debts of said deceased, the charges of administering said estate and taxes. It is Ordered, That the sixteenth day of May next at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Court Room be appointed for hearing said petition, and that all persons interested in said estate appear before said Court at said time and place, to show cause why a license should not be granted to said administrator to sell real estate as prayed for in said petition. And it further Ordered, That a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Plymouth Mail a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Wayne. (A true copy). JOSEPH A. MURPHY, Judge of Probate. EVERETT BRUCE, Deputy Probate Register. April 6, 1934.
